Irregularities Pointed Out In Comptroller's Department; Claim $60,000 Not Accounted For

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 7. — A special report of Moore Lynn, state auditor, sent to the legislature today by Governor Moody in which charges of irregularities in the comptroller's department were charged, stirred the special session of the legislature to consider an investigation.

When the house adjourned for want of a quorum there was pending a resolution by Rep. Alfred Fitch of Fredericksburg calling for the appointment of a special committee of four members of the house and three senators to investigate what Fitch's document claimed were "serious charges of official misconduct against certain officers."

Thirteen Charges Made

The resolution named 13 charges of "specific violations of the law" against the comptroller and 11 complaints of "general inefficiency and incompetency" against the treasurer.

Lynn, appearing before the senate on invitation of that body admitted, when questioned by senators, that his report alleged that approximately $60,000 of state funds handled by the comptroller's department had not been satisfactorily accounted for.

Senator Archie Parr of Benavides said: "Mr. Lynn, I want to know if it is true, as rumored around here, that a state department is $60,000 short?" Senator Parr asked.

"This special report I have given you covers that question thoroughly," was Lynn's reply.

Pressed by Senator Parr for a

Slaton Man Held On Theft Charge

Following an attempt to rifle the contents of an auto, owned by E. R. Robertson, 3014 13th street, at about 10:30 o'clock last night, local police officers arrested a suspect who gave his name as Slaton.

The arrest was made on a complaint signed by Mrs. Robertson after the back part of the car top was found cut away. The auto was parked in front of the Robertson residence.

According to the story told officers by Mrs. Robertson, she and several children had returned to the house after attending a social meeting and saw a man standing near her husband's car. As she drove in the garage she said the man lit a cigarette and walked away. Police were summoned immediately and the arrest followed.

Verdict In Brady Case Thought Far Away Possibility

Jury Still In Disagreement After More Than Seventy Hours Of Deliberations On Fate Of Former Judge

(By The Associated Press)

COURT ROOM, AUSTIN, Feb. 7. A verdict in the John W. Brady murder trial was only a far away possibility late today, the jury still was in disagreement—after having been out more than 70 hours.

If there was any deliberation of consequence all day, it escaped notice of watchers who frequently went across the street to peer up into the jury room. Each time, four or five jurors were standing at the windows, disheveled and tired and idly looking about.

Only Judge J. D. Moore seemed to have any hope that the jury would decide whether Brady, 10 years ago a middle-aged justice of the third court of civil appeals, was sane when he fatally stabbed Miss Lehlia Highsmith, 28, with whom he had been going about for years.

Judge Moore allowed it to become known that he had no intention of discharging the jury soon, and that he did not plan to ask any questions of it for a long time yet.

Dallas Rediscount Rates Are Reduced

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (AP)—The federal reserve board late today announced that the federal reserve banks of Dallas and Minneapolis had reduced their rediscount rates to 4 1/2 per cent on all classes of papers of all maturities, effective tomorrow.

The action brought to six the number of federal reserve banks which have reduced their rates in the last two days. It also left only the St. Louis bank maintaining a 5 per cent rate.

Claim Republicans Face Destruction If Prohibition Cause Is Supported

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. — Arguing prohibition before a crowded house, Representative Beck of Pennsylvania today predicted destruction of the republican party if it continued to lend itself to the dry cause. He also asserted the constitution did not compel enforcement of the eighteenth amendment.

Wets and dry alike on both sides of the chamber stood and cheered after the Pennsylvania republican, a recognized authority on constitutional law, concluded his speech of an hour and five minutes.

Lubbock Man Held For Embezzlement

Bryan Middleton Arrested In New Mexico; Charged With Taking About $75 From Martin Baking Co.

Bryan Middleton, about 20, of Lubbock, is being held in the county jail at Silver City, N. M., following filing of embezzlement charges here the first of the week.

Local officers last night stated that, after wires had been dispatched asking his apprehension, Middleton was arrested in Hachita, N. M., and lodged in jail at Silver City.

The man was said by officers to have left Lubbock early last Sunday in company with his brother, Scott Middleton and wife, in a Ford coupe. Complaint was signed by R. H. Martin.

He will be returned to Lubbock next week, according to officers, when his case will probably be investigated by the grand jury.

Earlier reports were that nearly a score were held, and it is not known whether some were released when found not implicated. Flores, who fired the shots that wounded Ortiz Rubio and grazed his wife and niece, is in prison here, while his brothers are held in San Luis Potosi.

Police say that Flores remains an enigma. Little information can be obtained from him, except that he insists he acted independently in the shooting.

Cotton Prices To Lowest Level Of Season On Friday

Futures Tumble From Three To Three Fifty Per Bale; Demoralization Reigns In New York Exchange

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 7. —Near demoralization reigned on the New York cotton exchange today as the first price of cotton futures tumbled $3 to $3.50 a bale, sinking to the lowest levels of the season. Since mid-January when the present depression period began, cotton has declined about $12 a bale.

There was a slight show of stability at the start of the market today, attributed to steady foreign markets.

There were no new bearish developments to account for the selling. The prevailing impression was that the market was feeling the effects of factors which had been apparent since last fall, but which had not disclosed any great quantities of cotton as holders evidently felt that the market would be sustained by federal aid agencies.

Recent developments, however, apparently had completely undermined confidence and cotton came out in large volume. The demand from spinners was less active, indicating they had sufficient supplies for some time.

Cotton for March delivery sold down to 15.05 cents a pound, compared with 15.65 cents yesterday, while the July price dropped to 15.35 cents a pound, as against yesterday's final quotation of 15.05 cents.

NINE UNDER ARREST

Brothers Of Flores Held In Rubio Shooting

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 7. (AP)—Nine persons including Daniel Flores and two brothers, are under arrest in connection with the attempted assassination of President Ortiz Rubio Wednesday.

Earlier reports were that nearly a score were held, and it is not known whether some were released when found not implicated. Flores, who fired the shots that wounded Ortiz Rubio and grazed his wife and niece, is in prison here, while his brothers are held in San Luis Potosi.

Police say that Flores remains an enigma. Little information can be obtained from him, except that he insists he acted independently in the shooting.

TAFT IMPROVES

Celebrated Jurist Not Yet Out Of Danger

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (AP)—A continued improvement in the condition of William Howard Taft was reported today by his physicians, but the celebrated jurist was not regarded as entirely out of danger. Increased nourishment restored his strength a little. It was pointed out, however, that the improvement was essentially comparative. Arriving here from the south Tuesday, the former chief justice was in a very serious condition.

MacDonald Gives British Views In Naval Conference

America And England Are In Closer Accord Than Ever Before, Statement Of Prime Minister Shows

Aims Are Similar

Abolishment Of Submarine And Battleship Holiday Until 1936 Proposed In Recommendations

BY FRANK H. KING

Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 7. —Prime Minister MacDonald of England today laid his cards on the London naval conference table beside the spectacular hand that Secretary Stimson of the United States delegation uncovered last night.

Their similarity shows that Great Britain and the United States, the world's greatest naval powers, are in closer accord on the age-old question of sea armaments than ever before.

MacDonald's full statement, with facts and figures on Great Britain's policy at the London conference, backed by full authority of the domestic delegations and approved by the British cabinet, was as unexpected as Stimson's.

It definitely proposes the abolition of the submarine, a battleship holiday until 1936, with the ultimate hope that battleships may be ruled off the seas like submarines; tonnage limitation for small cruisers; combination global and category limitation to maintain equilibrium between fleets of the various nations; also further limitation of tonnage and gun calibre for aircraft carriers of the United States and Great Britain from 135,000 tons to 100,000 tons, with the maximum sizes of

San Antonio Bank Goes To Receiver

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 7. (AP)—J. E. Jarral company of San Antonio, one of the largest investment banking houses in the southwest, capitalized at $1,250,000, today was placed in the hands of a receiver by United States Judge Duval West on the application of one of the concern's officers.

R. J. McMillan was appointed receiver by the court which fixed his bond at $50,000.

Inability of the firm to liquidate so-called frozen assets prompted the legal action to protect the interests of creditors and stockholders alike, according to the petition filed and formal statements of John E. Jarral, president, and Warwick F. Field, one of the vice presidents.

The petition did not reveal the amount involved, beyond the capitalization but at the San Antonio offices of the concern it was stated that a considerable financial statement would be given the press just as soon as completed.

Announcement was made yesterday afternoon by W. M. Ross, president of the Lubbock County Farm Bureau association, that the regular meeting of the organization, scheduled for this afternoon, will be postponed until a later date.

"We have been in continuous session for three days of the week," said Mr. Ross, "and I believe that the meeting Saturday would be unnecessary."

According to Mr. Ross plans probably will be announced at the next meeting regarding the new organization of the American Cotton association and the part local farmers will play. He stated that the next meeting will be called upon receipt of information regarding the new association.

Death Toll Mounts To 20 In Utah Coal Mine Blast

Nine Are Rescued As Deadly Gas Sweeps Underground Area

(By The Associated Press)

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 7. —Twenty identified dead was the definitely established toll tonight of the mine gas explosion which swept the workings of the Standard Coal company's mine at "Standardville," Utah, in the heart of Carbon county's mining district.

The mine others of the 29 men at work when the unexplained explosion occurred last night, fled to safety or were rescued by the crews which swarmed to the scene early today from nearby mining communities.

Notes To Rescuers

Of the latter, five were rescued alive today and the other four escaped last night. The five taken out today had bratticed themselves from the deadly gas fumes, far back in the workings, and had left notes directing their rescuers where to find them. Two of the rescued, M. H. Clelland and B. A. Johnson, were in a hospital suffering from the effects of the gas, but were expected to recover.

Student Of Tech Ends Own Life By Drinking Poison

Body Of Sam Hair Will Be Sent To Home In Claude For Burial Today; Horn To Attend Services

The body of Sam R. Hair, 19-year-old Texas Tech student who yesterday was found dead in his room at Chert Casa dormitory, will be shipped this morning at 7:15 o'clock to Claude, his home, for burial today at 3 o'clock.

Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Tech, will accompany the body as representative of the school, as will A. M. McKinney, of Claude, uncle of the youth. The father drove through in an automobile.

Discovered By Maid

The young student was discovered about 10:15 o'clock yesterday morning by a negro maid who, upon entering the room and becoming frightened when he failed to answer her summons called John Wood, another student who occupied the adjoining room.

Officials were called immediately and an inquest held. Judge G. R. Scott pronounced his death due to suicide by swallowing a potion of strychnine sulphate.

A bottle of strychnine sulphate grains which contained, when full, one-eighth of an ounce, one-third of the contents of which had been emptied, was found in a toilet case.

An empty glass, revealing a pale stain, was found nearby.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hair, of Claude, and came to Lubbock on January 4 to enroll for the winter term in the school of liberal arts. He formerly was a

Jollies of 1930 Brings Over $1100 Into Coeffers of Local Kiwanis Club

REPEATING last night's performance, over 500 persons were on hand last night to see the final showing of the Lubbock Kiwanis club's "Jollies of 1930," presented at the high school auditorium.

Officials of the club announced last night after the performance that total receipts between $1,100 and $1,200 had been received.

One round of fun after another, the second night crowd was entertained as highly as were those on the first.

Added Attraction

And when the regular program of the minstrel had been completed with its prologue, first part minstrel and musical comedy — an added attraction was offered in the person of "The Man of Mystery."

He presented astounding and seemingly impossible feats to the wonder of his audience. An educational, mystifying, sensational interest, in which he demonstrated that with eyes sealed he could solve any problem.

Dr. O. C. Boone was this "man of mystery." For many years before coming to Lubbock he had made thousands marvel at his mental dexterity in exhibitions of mentalism, and was called "A Prodigy of the Twentieth Century." To appreciate the act—it had to be seen.

Officials of the club last night expressed themselves as highly satisfied with results of their show and also expressed appreciation for interest taken by Lubbock citizens.

Terry County Man Seriously Injured In Auto Collision

R. W. Scales, Aged Farmer, Suffers Concussion Of Brain And Other Injuries; Brought To Hospital

Still Unconscious

Jack Walker Painfully Hurt While Working On Tract Or Near Whiteface; Arm And Two Ribs Broken

AN AGED farmer, R. W. Scales, 65, is in the West Texas hospital, perhaps fatally injured, while a 19-year-old farmer lad, Jack Walker, is in the Lubbock sanitarium seriously hurt as result of two accidents late Friday.

Scales, who lives 13 miles southwest of Brownfield, was critically injured about 8 o'clock last evening in an automobile wreck on the highway 10 miles north of Lubbock. He was rushed to the hospital here by a companion, W. J. Baldwin, and late last night had not regained consciousness.

Found Unconscious

According to Mr. Baldwin the two were returning in a truck from Hedley and had scraped fenders with a car on the highway. Stopping the truck Baldwin went to investigate the extent of the damage to the other car. Scales stood nearby and a little to the rear of the truck. Another car, said to have been driven by two Lubbock men whose names were unknown, struck the truck and the front end was thrown into the ditch. "I do not know whether the truck hit Scales or whether the car did," said Baldwin. "I did not see the collision but someone cried out that a man was hurt. We found Scales in the ditch unconscious and rushed him as fast as possible to Lubbock."

Examination last night by physicians revealed that the injured man was suffering of concussion of the brain, a broken jaw, dislocated shoulder and hip, possible internal injuries and severe bruises.

(Special To The Avalanche)

POST, Feb. 7.—Following close on the heels of his release on bond of $7,500 after charges of theft by bailie had been filed, J. M. Pope, former manager of the now defunct bank of Southland, late Thursday was again arrested and is being held in jail on charges of alleged acceptance of deposits in a bank which he knew to be insolvent. Six such cases have been filed against Pope and bond of $10,000, aggregating $60,000, has been set in each.

The banker waived preliminary hearing and was remanded to the Garza county jail after he had failed to make bonds.

Charged on January 3 for alleged theft by bailie, Pope has been out on $7,500 bond which was signed by 34 responsible citizens of Little-

President Hoover And Senate Voice Regret For Rubio

Hope For Speedy Recovery
Of Mexico's President,
Shot By Assassin, Is Expressed By Solons.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (AP)—President Hoover and the senate expressed regret today at the attempt made upon the life of Pascual Ortiz Rubio, President of Mexico, and voiced hope for his speedy recovery from the bullet wound in his jaw.

Mr. Hoover said in a personal message that he was "deeply distressed to learn of the cowardly attack" made upon the Mexican president and his family, adding that he and Mrs. Hoover rejoiced with the American people that you and Senora De Ortiz Rubio have suffered no serious harm and that you have been spared to carry on your constructive program.

The senate expressed its sentiments in a resolution offered by Senator Herfflin, democrat, Alabama. The measure was adopted without debate and the secretary of the senate was directed to send a copy to the Mexican president. The resolution said:

"The senate has heard with deep regret and profound sorrow of the attempt to assassinate Pascual Ortiz Rubio, President of the Republic of Mexico, and wishes him a speedy recovery."

The President and Senora De Ortiz Rubio paid an official visit to Washington during the last Christmas holidays. They were received at the White House and later President Hoover paid the then President-elect of Mexico the unusual compliment of calling upon him at the Mexican Embassy, which was his official residence while in the national capital.

Unarmed in U. S.

Upon his arrival here, the noted Mexican visitor was accompanied from the train to the embassy by two of the White House secret service operatives. Before the day was over, they were back at the White House, however, and during the remainder of his stay in this country he was unguarded, except by police details in the cities which he visited.

Some of those who were with Ortiz Rubio during his tour of the United States expressed the opinion today that his dislike of armed protection made possible the attempt upon his life after his inauguration in Mexico City yesterday. It was said that when communists made a demonstration upon his arrival at Detroit, he stalked through their ranks without so much as turning his head, although bandages were visible in his face and many of the demonstrators shouted "Impudent!"

Farmer Salvation Lies in Attitude

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 7. (AP)—Salvation for the nation's farmers lies in a "collective attitude," towards cooperative organizations to stabilize prices, Alexander Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, told farmers today.

"Grain, cotton and wool now have been added," he said. "The board is working towards stabilizing the dairy man and the livestock raiser."

The weakness of the cooperative today is that it has not gone far enough, Legge said.

"Contact with the terminal markets must be made. Every well organized industry adjusts its production to the demand," he said. "The farmer, however, fails and when prices are low, he raises more to cope to tide him over until he can make more money. Thus the low price commodity has an increased production."

REGULATE GRAZING
AUSTIN, Feb. 7. (AP)—Regulation of the grazing of cattle and other domestic animals, a bill was introduced in the senate today by Senator B. F. Berkeley of Alpine, which provides that fences be erected on land adjacent to all highways. The bill is advanced as a protective measure for automobile drivers as well as cattle owners.

Military Rule In Control Of Prison

New Dictator Has Complete Control Of Guards And Prisoners At Canon City
Penitentiary

CANON CITY, Colo., Feb. 7. (AP)—Within the walls of the state penitentiary a restless population awoke today to find itself under control of a military dictator, Col. Patrick J. Hamrock.

The dictatorship was declared yesterday by the state board of correction which just had worded a public statement refusing to comply with a demand by Gov. William H. Adams that it resign. Its edict of military rule in the walled city said that, while Warden F. E. Crawford would retain his post, Colonel Hamrock would be given entire charge of the guards and prisoners.

Warden Crawford previously had received a tip that three revolutionaries and some nitro-glycerine were sequestered within the walls. Members of the state law enforcement department turned the prison topsy-turvy in an effort to locate them, but without result.

Within the last four months, 13 lives have been taken in riots among the prisoners, and numerous plots to kill, burn and escape have been frustrated.

Finance Plans of New Legion Home Formulated Here

Finance plans for the proposed new American legion home in this city are being forward and announcement will be made in the near future regarding early action, according to information given Thursday night at a meeting of local legionnaires.

Blue prints of the proposed $10,000 home were shown at the meeting by A. C. Jackson, of the building committee.

Mayor Harley D. Woods, a member of the post, said that the city commission had voted unanimously in favor of donating a 50 by 125 foot site for the home. The structure will front east and will be located on Texas avenue, immediately north of the city hall.

Because of alarmist reports from India many Indians who had long lived in Berlin recently started for home.

PROBATION FIXED

WICHITA, Feb. 7. (AP)—The operator committee for the Voshell pool of McPherson county has fixed a 75 per cent probation basis for the 15 days beginning Feb. 15. Seven new wells in the pool have a potential production of 11,000 barrels daily. At present each well is held in to 50 barrels a day.

Credit Men Meet Will Be in April

D. C. Littlepage, of Wichita Falls, member of the credit department of the Panhandle Refinery company, was a visitor in Lubbock Friday in the interest of the coming convention of All-West Texas Credit men, to be held in his city early in April.

Mr. Littlepage is chairman of the arrangements committee for the gathering which he says is to be given under auspices of the Retail Credit Grantors association, of Wichita Falls.

Though definite date for the meeting has not been announced, the representative extended an invitation to all Lubbock credit men to be present. "Inasmuch as Lubbock is making a fight for the 1931 convention of the Texas Retail Merchants association, it seems to me that this will offer a splendid opportunity to meet many of the members from this section of the state," he stated.

Farming conditions in Denmark are reported to have been greatly improved in the last 12 months.

MacDonald Seeks Six-Year Treaty

LONDON, Feb. 7. (AP)—Prime Minister MacDonald in a statement today, said the British government proposed that the naval treaty to be drawn at London should run until 1936 and that in 1935 a further conference should be called to review the existing world situation.

The statement, which followed close on the heels of Secretary Stimson's announcement regarding American suggestions, placed the attitude of the British government in public just as Secretary Stimson had made clear the American viewpoint.

"His Majesty's government believes the London conference ought not only to reduce existing fleets and building programs, but to put an end finally to competition in naval armaments and thus constitute an important step towards the ultimate elimination of the cause of war and the establishment of peace on a permanent basis," said the statement.

Lindbergh Conducts Experiments With Gliders in Aviation Mountain Camp

LINDBERGH CAMP, TEHACHA MOUNTAINS, CALIF., Feb. 7. (AP) Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, whose glider experiments have attracted the attention of aviation enthusiasts to this mountain camp, today planned to resume his tests and may attempt a brief night flight to take advantage of a breeze which apparently grows in velocity after dark.

Night flying will be necessary in connection with the proposed attempt of Hawley Bowler to better the world glider record of 14 hours, 45 minutes now held in Germany. Bowler, who with Lindbergh is engaged in the present experiments, indicated it would be better to start the record attempt in the dark, in order to have daylight at the finish. The Lindbergh camp is equipped with 20 gas lanterns to light landing fields.

Lindbergh yesterday took off in a Bowler glider and remained aloft 21 minutes, 10 seconds, when lack of a favorable breeze forced him to land in an emergency field about four miles from the point of takeoff. During the flight he circled Lebec Lake several times, and observers said he flew about 15 miles. He made a perfect landing, the glider coming to a stop within 12 feet after it hit the ground.

Japan Not Pleased By Naval Proposal

TOKYO, Feb. 7. (AP)—General reaction in Japanese naval circles today to proposals of the American delegation to the five power naval conference for immediate effectiveness of a naval limitation program did not seem to be very favorable.

It was learned authoritatively from the present form proposals of the Americans directly relating to Japan probably would be unacceptable to this government, although they represented some concessions on the part of the United States from the position taken in the Japanese-American conversations at Washington last December.

The proposals, which may be those mentioned by Colonel Stimson, in his statement suggesting an "overall" naval relation with the other powers were understood to involve every category of war vessel and to be drastic and far-reaching.

Williams Relates Needs of Farmers

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 7. (AP)—Appearing before the meeting here today of the southern agricultural workers, Carl Williams, member of the federal farm board, said: "The American cotton farmer ultimately will have to do one of two things. He will have to produce just enough cotton for domestic consumption under a high tariff wall or he will have to produce the quality and staple of cotton that he alone can and the foreigner cannot in order to maintain America supremacy in the cotton markets of the world."

He indicated a belief that the poor quality of cotton constituted one of the greatest evils in the present southern agricultural situation.

said it was the exception rather than the rule for a sheriff to so conduct his office that he would have excess fees.

Fifteen Hundred Women Attend Final Lecture Of Charm School On Friday

Marriage Is Cooperative Quest For Happiness, Says Eve VeVerka, Who Closes Series Of Addresses Friday

Attendance Quadruples That Of Monday; Every Phase Of Feminine Charm Given Consideration By Expert

CLIMAXING an eventful week for the women of Lubbock, about 1500 persons attended Eve VeVerka's closing lecture Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Up-town Dance palace. The address marked the close of the school of health, beauty, and charm which has been conducted by the Avallanche-Journal every day since Monday.

Each day showed a substantial increase in attendance, and the number present on Friday nearly quadrupled that on the opening day. There were 400 attending on Monday, 600 on Tuesday, 850 on Wednesday and 1000 on Thursday.

Question Box
A question box was placed at the front door, in order that all women having questions they did not care to state publicly might have an opportunity to obtain the desired information. Scores of questions were answered from the platform.

Each day, Eve VeVerka wore a lovely Paris frock. On Friday she had on a gown of black chiffon with rhinestone trimmings. It was cut low in the back and had an uneven hemline which barely escaped the floor in the back. A lovely corsage at the waist-line, a pearl ring and a black lace handkerchief completed the effect.

All Phases Discussed
Practically every phase of feminine charm was covered by Eve VeVerka during the series of lectures. On Monday she used as her subject "Don't Hang Your Dreams On A Rainbow," emphasizing the thought that a woman's dream of health, beauty, and charm is not beyond her reach if she is willing to work for it. Tuesday she spoke on "Home-Making and House-keeping," placing special emphasis on entertaining in the home and on gracious table service. She illustrated her suggestions with four perfectly-appointed tables. Wednesday she used as her subject, "Dressing the Show-Window of Personality," stressing the fact that the body is a means for the expression of thoughts and emotions but that the expression can best take place through a body which is well cared for. Thursday was "exercise day," and exercises were given for general health and for special purposes, who were requested through the "question box."

Friday's lecture was for women and girls over 16 years of age only, and every question of an intimate nature was answered in a whole-some and aesthetic, though frank manner.

Lingerie Showing
Preceding the lecture was a lingerie showing given by the Montgomery Ward and company with Misses Cuna Montgomery and Hortense Haisel and Cuna Montgomery as models.

"Marriage," said Eve VeVerka, "is a cooperative quest for happiness. Its success depends upon the physical well-being and understanding as well as the lasting love of both parties involved."

The lecturer discussed the things that may wreck married life, and touched on the "eternal triangle," explaining how to eliminate the "other woman."

"More important, possibly, than anything else," said Eve VeVerka, "is to keep the body in perfect condition. Internal cleanliness cannot be overestimated. The intestinal tract should be kept clean by drinking plenty of water and by eating bran."

Prevention of body odors, and all other details of personal daintiness were discussed by Eve VeVerka.

NO TROUBLE AT ALL NOW
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Has Benefited This Woman

Millions today are eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation.

The cause of constipation is the lack of roughage in food. Add sufficient roughage and constipation disappears. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is nearly all roughage.

Here is a letter from Mrs. H. Gilbert, 107 E. Knight Ave., Collingswood, N. J., which will be interesting to many sufferers:

"I had a very serious operation in October and when I came from the hospital my main trouble was constipation. One day I said to the doctor, 'I am going to eat ALL-BRAN' and since I started I have no trouble whatever. Do you see I can't praise it enough and am always telling my friends what it did for me."

You will enjoy the nut-like flavor of this delicious, ready-to-eat cereal. It is rich in iron, and when eaten with milk or fruit juice, adds important vitamins to the diet.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is an essential in any reducing diet. It means every-day health to people all over the world. Your grocer has it in the red-and-green package. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Lingerie Touches Are Logical for Newest Fashions

By JACK CHAIR

Fashion Writer for Central Press. Neck and sleeve trimmings on dresses have taken people by surprise, but it was the logical sequence to the new mode. When the greater amount of fabric it now takes to make a frock is used, darker tones come in, because otherwise the figure would appear too conspicuous.

When we use these darker tones, we find that we must, for the sake of individual becomingness, outline the neck so that the color of the frock will not dominate the face too much. This brings in the little lingerie touches at neck and wrists which invariably look so smart.

Alencon lace and fine net are used on many of the soft afternoon frocks, and the more formal Sunday night dresses. Pique in silk or cotton, or a firm lace is used for the sports dress, whether they are made of tweed, cotton or dull finish silk. An interpretation of this mode is seen in the afternoon frock sketched at the left. This is fashioned of ocrea chiffon built over a crepe slip of the same color. Note the yoke of ecru alencon lace at the neck, and the shirring which marks the normal waistline. The ocrea brown is one of the new spring colors that go so well with the shoe of burnt copper hue.

Vogue Shown in Resort Frocks. Naturally this vague for the relieving touch of white or ecru at the neck is being carried over into the southern resort frocks they are now showing. The one at the center is of yellow linen in the princess silhouette achieved through seaming. The lingerie touches are of white batiste, and there is a white binding at the hemline. This is one of the colors that calls for the new suntan beige or the white kid shoe.

Much handkerchief linen is being used for wear with the new linen suits, the collar and cuffs appearing on the coat. The mode for the dark linen suit introduced last year is being carried over into 1930. The suit sketched at the right is of black linen in straight jacket effect, with a yoked skirt achieving its fullness through gores. The collar and cuffs of the white handkerchief linen blouse are worn on the outside of the coat. Black shoes and hat are worn with this costume.

Tentative plans for opening the western division of the Safetyway system from Redwater, Texas, to Los Angeles, Cal., will go forward within the month with a survey by William B. Mayo, chief engineer for the Ford Motor company, Fritz and possibly Eric P. Halliburton, president of the Tulsa system.

Cooking Compound Under Taxing Bill
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (AP)—Proponents of the Haugen bill to place artificially colored cooking compounds under the taxing provisions of the Oleomargarine act today overwhelmed those who had assailed it as a "packers' bill" and sent it to the senate on a final vote of 245 to 74.

The bill would exact a tax of ten cents a pound on cooking compounds not naturally colored and of one-fourth of a cent a pound on those naturally colored. Those urging its passage termed it a farm relief measure in that it would increase the use of butter. Opponents characterized it as a packers' bill, inasmuch as supreme court decisions have granted that coloring matter obtained from certain cow fairs is a "natural coloring" and they contended the packers have a monopoly of this product.

Over-Production Admitted Threat

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7. (AP)—That California's petroleum industry is threatened with demoralization through over-production, it was admitted by a committee of fifteen representing the principal oil companies, organized to work out a more thorough curtailment program than any previous attempt.

The committee met after major producing companies decided the industry was faced with the immediate prospect of 20 a barrel crude oil and five cents a gallon gasoline unless daily production, now 708,000 barrels of crude oil, is limited and maintained throughout 1930 at 600,000 barrel level.

The threat of greatly reduced prices on petroleum products arose the committee said, from economic conditions within the industry.

Parade Of Defense Witnesses Starts In Liquor Trials

Seventeen Defendants Face Charges Of Conspiracy To Violate Prohibition Laws In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 7. (AP)—Parade of defense witnesses was resumed today in the federal court trial of the 17 defendants in the Pottawatomie county liquor conspiracy case, ramifications of which have included the resignation of W. Oscar Gordon as an assistant state attorney general and the filing of both state and federal charges of extortion against him.

Reprimand of a defense lawyer for referring to government witnesses as "crooks" marked the session, occupied largely with character testimony. The reference was made by A. E. Pearson, attorney for Forrest Anderson, negro, reputed oil millionaire, and Jackson Whitlow, another negro defendant, in his opening statement.

Judge Vaughn stopped the lawyer, warning him such statements were highly improper. Pearson drew another rebuke when he began an assertion that he would prove that "The government and the United States district attorney—Judge Vaughn cut him short."

"I know exactly what you have in mind," the judge admonished Pearson. "You cannot proceed along such a line."

The government alleges Anderson aided in manufacture of whiskey for the purported liquor monopoly in the Pottawatomie county oil field towns in which many officers, including Frank Fox, former sheriff, and Randall Pymen, present county attorney, have been accused.

McConnell Charge Given Reduction

FORT WORTH, Feb. 7. (AP)—Further reductions in the number of counts in the indictment brought against F. L. McConnell and Martin Carson on charges of liquor law violations were made today in United States district court, by Judge James C. Wilson. Both the government and the defense rested today, and on hearing motions of defense counsel, Judge Wilson ordered all counts except one, charging sale of liquor, quashed insofar as Carson is concerned and reduced to 13 the number of counts against McConnell.

The indictment originally named four defendants: McConnell, Carson, Bill Wilmer and Mitt Staggs. An instructed verdict in favor of Wilmer was ordered.

Staggs has been too ill to stand trial at this time. The men were charged originally with an indictment of 30 counts charging possession of liquor, sale of liquor, possession of equipment designed to manufacture liquor, possessing such equipment for sale and selling such equipment.

Wichita Falls Carpenter Highly Praises Orgatone

"I Was Unable To Work At Times And Couldn't Lie Down And Couldn't Rest"—Orgatone Relieves Me," Says Maloney

"Orgatone is certainly a wonderful medicine and I want to tell everybody what it has done for me," said J. D. Maloney, resident at Wichita Falls, Texas, P. O. Box 10, well known and prominent citizen in Wichita Falls. Mr. Maloney made this statement while talking to the Orgatone representative in Allison's Drug Store.

"For a long time I've suffered with stomach trouble and indigestion," he continued, "gas would form on my stomach and effect my heart and I could not lie down and did not get any rest at all at night. There's been many a day when I couldn't work from such misery. I was in a very nervous condition most all the time and couldn't hardly eat anything. I had to be very careful of what I ate."

"While talking with an engineer in Denison, Texas, he advised me to take Orgatone, saying that it had relieved him of a serious condition and so I decided to try it. I am sure thankful that he told me about it for I am not bothered with indigestion any more, gas does not bother me and the soreness is gone out of my stomach, and it won't be long until I can eat the things I care for. I can keep right on with my work now, and am gaining in every way. Orgatone has been a help to me and I could tell the difference after the first few doses. I am glad to recommend it to my fellow sufferers who are troubled like I was, for it does what they say it will."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Lubbock at Bowen's Drug Store.

BILIOUS COLOR AND BAD TASTE

Black-Draught Proved Just the Medicine Needed, Says North Carolina Lady.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—"I used to suffer from spells of constipation when my system would get all out of order," says Mrs. C. B. Dunningham, 422 Cleveland Avenue, this city. "I would wake up in the morning dull and aching, and would not feel like doing my work. At times I would have bilious headaches. My color would be as yellow paper. I would have a bad taste in my mouth."

"There was a girl staying with me at that time who kept after me to take Black-Draught. Finally, she gave me some that she had on hand. I found it to be the very thing for me. A few doses of the tea seemed to have cleaned out my system and made me feel fine."

"Since then, I have kept it in my house almost all the time. I've been using Black-Draught, whenever I need a laxative, for the last ten years, and I find that it answers the purpose. I have recommended Black-Draught to many of my friends for I know it to be a good medicine."

Some Cantillon Stories

Joe Cantillon died the other day in Hickman, Kentucky. Baseball men who knew him tell many tales of Joe as a player, manager, and umpire. Of all these I think I have heard only one story in which the quick-witted "Pongo Joe" came off second best in a verbal joust.

That was the story of Comiskey and Cantillon. In the days when Cantillon was an American League umpire, it was legendary that the White Sox gate was a tough portal to crash. Passes were not tossed about by Mr. Comiskey with what you would call utter abandon. Once Cantillon came to the gate with some friends and requested that he be allowed to pass. This was against the rules, and a message had to be sent to Mr. Comiskey in the club office, upstairs over the gates.

Comiskey didn't keep Joe and his friends waiting, however. Shouting down the stairway, he ordered the gatekeeper to admit Cantillon and his company. The command went something like this:

"If an umpire like Cantillon has two friends in Chicago, by all means let 'em in!"

The Reluctant Courtier
But in every other story of Cantillon, or "Cantillon" as the name was pronounced by ball players, Joe always had the last word, and often it was a word that bit.

Jack Sheridan and Billy Evans were umpiring a game in Washington when Joe was managing the Senators. Cantillon was taking quite a few winks on Mr. Sheridan's decisions. This was after Cantillon had spent some years as an umpire himself. Sheridan listened to his cracks for a while and finally

Doeg Eliminated By Bruce Barnes In Straight Sets

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 7. (AP)—Young Bruce Barnes, University of Texas tennis star, electrified the tennis Friday afternoon when he eliminated John Doeg, Santa Monica, California, in straight sets in the quarter finals of the San Antonio Country Club's first annual invitation tournament.

The youthful Barnes placed his shots and handed Doeg's serve in new style to win 9-7 in the first set. With the count in games 4-2 against him the university star in a great flash of the net game won the next four straight games, the set and the match.

Doeg Injured
In fairness to Doeg, the national third ranking tennis star, he was handicapped by a severely cut foot. While he showed no limp at all the injury slowed him down. But with the great games Barnes was playing Doeg would have needed not only two good feet but a partner to cop from the university student.

San Antonio, California, in the quarter finals of the San Antonio Country Club's first annual invitation tournament.

Berkeley Bell, University of Texas and intercollegiate singles champion, won in easy style from Joe Kaufman, San Antonio 6-1, 6-1.

Berkeley Bell Wins
In the fourth match of the day, Wilmer Allison, Davis Cup player, won from Sidney Wood, Jr., of New York, 6-1, 6-4. Wood had a 4-2 advantage in the second set, only to slip and Allison won the next four games in a row.

In the doubles, Neil and Barnes, Southwest conference champions, second ranking intercollegiate doubles team and holders of various other championships advanced to the finals by defeating Allison and Will Caswell of Austin, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1.

Doeg and Gorchakoff, who drew a bye in the first round had little difficulty in beating Jimmy Quick and Jess Sanders of Dallas, 6-1, 6-3.

In another second round doubles match, Arthur Seeligson, San Antonio and Col. W. C. Johnson, Fort Sam Houston, United States army champions, defeated Leon Walshall, San Antonio and Major Balsam, Fort Sam Houston, 6-3, 6-3.

Seeligson and Johnson will play Doeg and Gorchakoff in the morning and the winners play Neil and Barnes in the doubles finals in the afternoon following the singles matches.

Finals in singles will be played Sunday.

Kansas City After Clay Court Meet This Year

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 7. (AP)—The governing board of the Rockhill Tennis club today drew up a formal invitation asking that the National Clay Courts tennis championships next summer be held in Kansas city. The invitation will be presented next week to the United States Lawn Tennis association at its annual meeting in St. Louis.

came back with:

"Say, you were an umpire once yourself. How did you happen to quit?"

And Joe's reply was:

"I was a good umpire, too. But when I went blind I got another job."

His Advice to Ollie
When Joe was managing Washington he had an outfielder named Ollie Pickering. Ollie used to smack right-handed pitchers with equal but he was a dead loss against southpaws. Ollie once hurt his throwing hand and was out of the game for several days. During this time, Cantillon received a wire from Huntington, W. Va., telling him of a very good left-handed pitcher in those parts. Joe called Ollie.

"Hey, Ollie, go down there and look that fellow over," was Joe's instruction.

"And say, wait a minute," he called as Ollie prepared to depart. "Maybe you'd better take a bat along."

"What for?" asked Ollie.

"Well, you can go out in practice and bat against him," said Joe, "and if you can get a foul off him, leave him there."

He Had a Strike Ball
Once when Joe was managing the Senators, he told the other players that a certain rookie pitcher was coming from the west for a tryout with the club.

"Wait till you see him," said Joe. "He throws nothing but strikes."

In that case Joe hit upon a great trick. The kid from the west was Walter Johnson — and he threw nothing but strikes for twenty years.

Both Grid Stars
Both made great names for themselves last fall by flashy runs for touchdowns. So that nothing will prevent them from having it out in the same heat at 60 yards. They must finish one-two to meet again in the 50-yard final.

In the same event will be Jimmy Daley of Holy Cross; Chet Bowman, Newark A. C.; Howard Kries Cleveland, A. C.; John Fitzpatrick of the Canadian Olympic team; and Leigh Miller, another crack Canadian.

In the famous "Millrose 600" middle distance feature annually since 1915, Bernie McCafferty, winner last year, matches strides with Pete Boswell of the University of Pittsburgh, national quarter-mile champion; Eddie Roli, Newark A. C.; and Phil Edwards, New York University.

Ray Conger Entered
The mile which in 1929 saw Ray Conger beat Paavo Nurmi will bring together Conger, Joe Sivak of Butler University; Orval Martin of Purdue; and J. L. Montgomery, University of Pennsylvania.

A foreign flavor is added by the entry of Dr. Paul Emil Gswierland in the half mile and Stanislaw Petkiewicz of Poland in the two mile mile-and-out.

Both players reached the final to the tune of straight set victories. Arranged against J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., former Canadian indoor champion, Seligson, through powerful service and fierce driving off forehand and backhand won by 6-4, 7-5, 6-2.

Ten games were played yesterday and today the twelve county quintets will continue their battle for the title in this division with eleven more games scheduled in the three-way round robin program.

Mustangs Defeat Longhorns 25-22

DALLAS, Feb. 7. (AP)—Southern Methodist university reasserted its basketball supremacy over the University of Texas here tonight, defeating the Longhorns, in a fast, hard-played battle, 25 to 22.

The defeat virtually eliminates Texas as a contender against the leading University of Arkansas quintet for the conference championship.

The game was almost a repetition of the last year's upset of Texas' championship hopes by the Methodist Mustangs. Texas, seemingly bent toward at least a tie with Arkansas for the title, came to Dallas overruling favorites to beat the Ponies. Like last year, their title hopes were blasted.

It was a nip-and-tuck go from the starting whistle, the lead seeing almost to the end. A few minutes before the game ended, Texas took a four point lead and was tied as the final seconds ebbed away.

A long shot by Skeeters, high point man, in the overtime period, put the Ponies in the lead, and another basket plus a free throw, gave them a five point margin, Texas' last minute rally netted only one basket, and the game ended, 25 to 22.

Tricky Rio Rico Course Is Scene Of Texas Tourney

Great Golf Due For 72-Hole Grind Carded For Today And Sunday; Ten Teams Shoot 70 Or Better

HOUSTON, Feb. 7. (AP)—Ten teams shattered 70 over the tricky Rio Rico Country club course Friday in the pro-amateur best ball event. Friday's play marked the start of the Houston Open $2,500 tournament and judging from the way the professionals cracked par wide open some great golf will be offered during the 72-hole grind carded for Saturday and Sunday.

Craig Wood, Bloomfield, N. J., paired with Joe Greenwood, Houston, junior champion of 1928, tied with W. H. (Whiffy) Cox, Brooklyn, and A. K. Newby, Houston player. Both teams returned scores of 67 five strokes under perfect figures.

Sen Reams Down.
Friday's round was played under a burning sun that did much to bring the 6,000-yard, bayou-bound course into top shape.

Second round of medal competition starts Saturday afternoon. Trailing behind the brilliant play of the winners came five teams with 68, while two other groups turned in 69 for the day. These were three teams with 70s and no less than 10 breaking under par with cards 11.

Tony Butler of Corpus Christi, paired with John Kattman, of Houston; Herman Barron, Port Chester, N. Y., and Lew Pollok of Austin; Tom Cravy of New York and Jack Spear of Houston; Jack Burke, River Oaks, Houston, and George Rust; Young Houston and Frank Walsh, Chicago and Jack Dold, Houston, all had totals of four under perfect golf.

Fair Starts 65.
John Rogers, the lone hitter from Denver, paired with Reuben Albough, San Antonio, turned in a 69, including a brilliant 22 for Rogers on the back nine.

Low Waldron, of Boston and R. S. Bayless, Houston and Tony Manero, Elmford, N. Y., and George Rott, Houston, were the other two teams to crack 70.

Craig Wood found Joe Greenwood a very fine partner for the Rio Rico title last turned in a couple of birdies and came through with a score upon when the winner of the tournament, faltered. However, is playing a very of golf.

Robert Walsh Is Signed To Pitch For New Yorkers

Young 22-Year-Old Son Of Famous White Sox Ace Considered As Promising Major League Timber

NEW YORK, Feb. 7. (AP)—The New York Yankees today announced the signing of Robert E. Walsh, son of "Big Ed" Walsh, former ace of the White Sox pitching staff. Young Walsh, who is 22 years old, six feet four inches in height, and weighs 235 pounds, will report to Manager Shaver with the first Yankee squad.

Since his brother, Ed. Walsh Jr., left the University of Notre Dame, to join the White Sox, Robert has been a Notre Dame pitching star. Taught many of the tricks of the pitching trade by their accomplished father before they entered college, the two boys have been stars in intercollegiate baseball.

His Em Too.
Robert Walsh is said to combine ability to hit with his pitching skill and scouts have suggested that he would be a success as a major league outfielder. If his pitching should fail to meet the exacting requirements of the big time.

Ed. Walsh Sr. is now a scout for the White Sox.

The Yankees also announced Henry Johnson, a pitcher who suffered last season from an injury to his spine, had advanced the club that he had fully recovered and would leave tomorrow for Hot Springs, Ark., to take balls preparatory to reporting to St. Petersburg, Fla., where he will be working with the Yankees.

Donnie Bush, Art Shires and Mike Kelly will make a great trio as the White Sox go places and do things this season.

Petition Out For New Courts, Jail Building In City

Bonds For $250,000 Structure Sought By Lubbock Men; Jail Location Holds Up Federal Plans

Petitions were being circulated yesterday in Lubbock to vote bonds for a $250,000 jail and criminal courts building, following receipt of a telegram from Senator Tom Connally stating that building plans for the proposed $335,000 federal structure in this city had been delayed due to the location of the present jail.

Telegrams were received from Senator Connally by C. E. Maedgen, president of the Lubbock National bank and James H. Goodman, local lawyer and real estate dealer.

Two men, J. E. Garrison, local real estate man, and W. F. Bond, yesterday testified that they had signed such a petition. Names of those circulating the papers could not be learned.

Judge Chas. Nordyke told the Morning Avalanche last night that he drew up the petitions but that he did not know who was heading the movement. County Judge Robert H. Bean could throw no light on the situation yesterday afternoon.

The proposed new federal building for Lubbock is to be located at the southeast corner of the county court house square. Government officials have advised removal of the jail to a location which would not interfere with the architectural symmetry and convenience of the new federal building.

Leap Of Student Probed By Police

Four-Story Jump Follows Argument Over $10 Gold Piece; Victim Is Near Death Of Injuries

MEMPHIS, Feb. 7. (AP)—While Emil A. Fett, 23, medical student at the University of Tennessee, was near death today, police sought to learn if he leaped from a fourth story window to escape Joe Bledsoe, 29, and W. J. Lemmon, 29, or if the two men hurled him through it.

Fett, member of a prominent Port Arthur, Texas, family, formerly had roomed in Bledsoe's home.

Police said they learned Bledsoe and Lemmon called to Fett last night to discuss a $10 gold piece said to have been taken from Mr. Bledsoe. Bledsoe admitted striking Fett during an argument.

He said the student ran to the fourth floor of the building and leaped from a balcony window, intent, apparently, on grabbing a fire escape and fleeing. He missed the escape, Bledsoe said, and plunged to the ground. His skull was fractured and he suffered internal injuries.

Police checked Bledsoe's story carefully and were inclined to believe him. Bledsoe said his wife had been insulted about the gold piece, which he said was concealed in the toe of a bedroom slipper before the student left the Bledsoe home.

No charges have been placed against the men pending investigation and outcome of the student's injuries.

Police believed the gold piece was a wager the student made with Mrs. Bledsoe.

Mysterious Desert Gold Mine Is Fake According to "Death Valley Scotty"

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7. — The mysterious desert "gold mine" of fabulous wealth which western legend for years has credited to the ownership of "Death Valley Scotty," picturesque survivor of the bonanza days, floated off into the land of burst bubbles today as the result of a "confession" by Scotty himself.

At the same time Scotty admitted that the recent report that he had lost $6,000,000 in the stock market didn't have as much solid reality about it as some people thought, although he did say that he was broke, washed up and cleaned out as the result of security speculation.

Life of King

For 40 years Scotty, whose real name is Walter Scott, has lived the life of an uncrowned king in the barren Southern California desert. The story that he had a hidden gold mine in the desert gained wide credence from the spectacular fashion in which he made excursions into the outer world, spending money lavishly.

This fictitious cloud of wealth he dispelled here last night with the simple statement that "that ain't no gold mine; that never was."

At the same time he asserted his source of money had been A. M. Johnson, millionaire insurance man from Chicago, and that he was, in truth, Death Valley's press agent par excellence.

Laughs At Miners

He took occasion to laugh at jealous miners who hired Indians to track him across western waste lands in the hope of locating his fabulous gold mine.

The Chicago millionaire owns a large amount of property in Death Valley. A million dollar mansion being built in the desert and heralded as belonging to Scotty in reality is owned by Johnson, the prospector said.

of it and came home exhausted. "H—mmm!" said Dr. Shephard again.

Stethoscope in hand, he drew a chair forward and sat down. "Well now, let's just see about this!" he said cheerfully and reached for Arthur Knight's wrist.

"What've you been up to to-night?"

The sick man had opened his eyes since the doctor entered the room. He tried to respond to the greeting but his smile was feeble.

The doctor had begun counting the pulse beat.

"H—mmm!" he said again when he had finished and tucked the hand back under the covers. "Now we'll just have a look at that throat."

The examination continued 20 minutes longer. Judith was at the doctor's elbow, watching each movement, noting her husband's expression, dispatching Mrs. Wheeler on errands and waiting anxiously for the verdict.

There was none forthcoming.

"Now, Mrs. Knight," said Dr. Shephard when he arose and began packing away his instruments, "we're going to keep your husband right here in bed for a few days. We're going to watch that throat and I'll leave you a prescription to be taken. Now in order that we can be just as comfortable as we want him to be I think I'll send out a nurse."

He paused. Judith's eyes sought the doctor's appealingly but she did not interrupt.

"The nurse should be here by five o'clock. She'll have her instructions and know just what I want her to do. I think if you keep Mr. Knight quiet until she arrives everything will be all right."

He continued with minor instructions which Judith and Mrs. Wheeler both listened to carefully. Then, taking his hat and the leather medicine case, he bade them good day, promising to make another visit in the morning.

Judith walked down stairs with Dr. Shephard. When they had reached the lower floor she said contritely:

"Doctor, you're NOT keeping anything from me?"

The man denied this hastily.

"Oh, no, no, my dear lady! Nothing of the sort. Throat cases as you probably know always need watching. They need watching closely! Now when we get a nurse here who understands what to do for your husband I think we're going to find that we've checked this thing just in time. Mustn't worry now! Remember you mustn't get excited! And you'll hear from me again in the morning. Good afternoon!"

He opened the door, stepped out briskly and went down the walk.

Judith returned to the sick room. There were certain arrangements which she knew should be made with Mrs. Wheeler's assistance. She began giving Arthur Knight's bedroom the aspect of a hospital ward.

For a while Tony lingered watching and looking as though she would like to help. Presently she disappeared.

Judith lowered shades at the windows and urged Arthur to sleep. He said he thought he might. Quietly she took a seat beside the bed and waited.

An hour and a half later she heard the bell downstairs and knew that the nurse must have arrived. Judith went downstairs to meet the newcomer.

She saw a small, attractive young woman, clad in hat and coat, talking to Mrs. Wheeler. Both of them glanced up as Judith appeared.

The housekeeper introduced the stranger as Miss Mallory, the nurse who had been sent out by Dr. Shephard.

Judith welcomed her and took her upstairs to the room which had been prepared for the nurse's use. There she left her and in 10 minutes Miss Mallory appeared in crisp white linen uniform.

"Here," said Judith, drawing back the door, "is my husband—" your patient." Miss Mallory moved quickly and had an air of efficiency. She looked at the bed where Arthur Knight lay with his eyes closed, glanced about the room and walked over to the window. Then she returned to ask Judith details about the case.

Half an hour later Judith withdrew, leaving Miss Mallory in charge. She stopped and knocked at Tony's door.

The girl opened it.

"How is he?" she asked anxiously.

"About the same I guess. There doesn't seem to be any change. Miss Mallory, the nurse, has come."

"Judith isn't you don't think she's implored incoherently."

The other girl shook her head.

"I don't know how serious it's going to be," she said. "The doctor wouldn't tell me."

Tony's eyes looked as though she had been crying. Kindly impulses tugged at Judith's heart.

"We can't help matters any by worrying," she added. "Of course we'll do everything in the world to give your father the right care. Who is Dr. Shephard? Has he been here before?"

"Oh yes. Always. He's the doctor who's been having for years. Took care of me when I had scarlet fever four years ago."

"I suppose, he's considered very good?"

Tony nodded solemnly.

"There's one thing you can take care of," Judith said. "You can cancel our reservations for the trip Thursday. Of course that's out of the question."

"I'll telephone," the girl agreed and Judith continued on her way.

While the nurse busied herself upstairs charting her patient's condition, Judith paced drearily through the rooms below. She had not wept. She had not broken down, but her face showed clearly the strain of the afternoon.

Her hands were clasped together nervously. Part of the time she started straight ahead yet seemed to see nothing. She listened but there was no sound that broke the stillness.

Five o'clock. This was the hour to which Judith looked forward each day because its arrival meant Arthur would be home soon.

Five o'clock but no Arthur would arrive this evening. How feverish and unnatural he had looked lying there in bed!

Judith bit her lip. It would not do to give way to emotion at this stage.

It was so much harder to pass the long hours down here alone than if she could have remained upstairs in Arthur's room. But that, she knew, would displease Miss Mallory. Judith must manage somehow to live through these weary hours of waiting.

Mrs. Wheeler came to inquire about dinner plans and Judith told her to have the meal served for Tony and the nurse. She did not feel hungry herself, she said, and would stay with Mr. Knight while the others ate. Later, perhaps, she would have tea and ice.

At six o'clock Harriet called the nurse and Tony to the dining room. Judith went upstairs to stay with her husband.

He was restless, tossed about the bed and twice mumbled phrases which Judith could not understand. When the nurse returned she too noted the patient's unrest.

An hour later Dr. Robert Shephard, reading comfortably by his study fire, laid down the volume in his hand to answer the telephone.

"Doctor!" a woman's voice came over the wire. "Come quick—Mr. Knight is much worse!"

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 7. (P)—The fate of Mrs. Altha Harbaugh—charged with murder in the death of Sept. 24 of Captain Charles Stevens, rested with the jury at 4.30 p. m. Friday in the 96th district court. Arguments had consumed most of the afternoon session.

Judge W. W. McCrory left at 1 p. m. and said he would be available to receive a verdict after 8.30 p. m.

The indictment against the woman was returned with nine other persons after a search of the ambulance where he and two other prohibition agents were returning from a raid on a still in Atascosa county.

Williamson Bill For Pro Transfer Being Considered

Passage Virtually Assured
In House By Saturday As
Hoover Proposal Is Taken
Up By Solons

BY CECIL B. DICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (AP)—The Williamson bill to carry out the first of President Hoover's proposals to strengthen dry enforcement by transferring the prohibition unit from the treasury to the justice department today received its first consideration in the house, where its passage by Saturday virtually was assured.

An attack was launched by wets and drys against a provision to make the attorney general and secretary of the treasury jointly responsible for regulation of industrial alcohol permits. The wets agreed they want to give the drys everything they desire to enforce the law under bill, so that there will be no alibi when, as they contend, enforcement will have failed in the justice department.

Some want the attorney general to make regulations under which the secretary of the treasury may issue permits. Others believe the dual responsibility will result in a spying by justice department agents on legitimate industrial alcohol consuming concerns, and that the treasury alone should regulate the 160,000 permits.

The law enforcement commission's recommendations for legislation to relieve federal court congestion by empowering United States Commissioners to try casual offenders of the dry laws was defended today before a house judiciary subcommittee by Chairman Wickham and Roscoe Pound of the commission. Pound contended that the

Sunday-School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Warning and Promises (Temperance Lesson).

Scripture Lesson: Matt. 7:12, 15, 27.

12. All things therefore, whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them; for this is the law and the prophets.

15. Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly are ravening wolves.

16. By their fruits ye shall know them. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?

17. Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but the corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

18. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

19. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

20. Therefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

21. Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father who is in heaven.

22. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy by thy name, and by thy name cast out demons, and by thy name do many mighty works?

23. And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity.

24. Every one therefore that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them, shall be likened unto a wise man, who built his house upon the rock.

25. And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon the rock.

26. And every one that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, who built his house upon the sand.

27. And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and smote upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall thereof.

Golden Text—Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.—Matt. 7:19.

Time: Midsummer, A. D. 28, in the second year of Christ's ministry.

Place: The House of Hattin, the Mount of the Beatitudes, near Capernaum west of the Sea of Galilee.

Introduction
Lyman Beecher used to say that every sermon should end in a snapper; that is, it should close with strong personal applications of the truth that has been discussed. The sermon on the Mount certainly meets this test of a great sermon. The concluding portion of the sermon begins (Matt. 7:1-11):

First, the wooden measure with which grain is measured out to customers: make it a generous one, for they, in turn, will use it to measure their own commodities which you are purchasing. The second illustration is that of the mote and the beam. Harsh critics find fault with others for trifling faults comparable to a bit of dust in the eye, while their very harshness is an overpowering defect comparable to a great beam thrust into their own eye.

"Your Father Who Is in Heaven" Verse 11
The key-note here is the word "Father," and Christ's blessed argument is from our human fatherhood to the divine fatherhood. Earthly fathers are imperfect, and yet if a son asked a father for a flat cake of bread, the father would never think of giving him only a flat, round stone in the shape of the cake; and if the son begged for a fish to eat, the father would not give him a snake looking somewhat like the fish. Is not the God who made fathers and planted father-love in them, himself far better kinder, and more loving than the fathers he has created? Can we not trust him to give to his children fully, freely and wisely? And if there is anything which he sees is not best for us, do we really want him to give it to us?

The Golden Rule, And Temperance. Verse 12
"All things therefore," "Therefore" shows that this verse sums up what has preceded. "Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them." This is rightly called "the Golden Rule" because it is the supreme and comprehensive rule of the moral life. "Only the Golden Rule can bring the Golden Age."—Frances E.

27. And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and smote upon the house; and it fell: and great was the fall thereof.

Willard, Maxims somewhat similar to the Golden Rule are to be found in Jewish and heathen writers, but they are couched in the negative. "The grand summary of all their teachings amounts to this: 'Whosoever evil ye would not that men should do to you, do ye not such evil to them.'—Rev. Wellesley W. Bowditch, D. D.

What seller or buyer of liquor would like to have his own boy or girl make a drunkard? Yet he will do all he can to make some other father's child a drunkard. What woman who ridicules the Eighteenth Amendment would willingly see her own husband borne to a drunkard's grave? Yet she is perfectly willing that drunkards graves should be filled by other women's husbands. The Eighteenth Amendment is simply the Golden Rule put into our national constitution.

False Prophets Opposing Temperance, V. 15
"Beware of false prophets." A prophet is primarily a public teacher: the word means literally "one who speaks forth." A false prophet is a false teacher, a "blind guide" to the kingdom's entrance, leading many astray. "Who come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly are ravening wolves."

There are many false prophets among the "wets." They pretend to be greatly concerned about the purity of our national Constitution, and deeply shocked because an iniquitous "temperance law" has been forced into that noble document. They paint sad pictures of the condition of lawlessness into which the country has been plunged by the prohibition amendment. They garble statistics, falsify news, misquote and slander. They subsidize the press and corrupt all the channels of public information.

"By Their Fruits Ye Shall Know Them." V. 16
"The only test of a religion worth anything is the bringing together of the peoples that the religion has made. Somebody once said to Wendell Phillips, 'Hinduism is as good as Christianity,' and Phillips replied 'India is the answer.'"

Rev. Henry Stiles Bradley, D. D. Know alcohol and the saloon by their fruits. These fruits are sickness and disease, incompetence and unemployment, poverty and misery, idleness and insanity, licentiousness and crime, the corruption of the body politic, the destruction of the home, the death of the soul. Every kind of evil finds its rich soil in the liquor business.

"Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit." The good tree of prohibition is an outstanding example. It has brought unexampled prosperity to the United States, in spite of the World War the heavy taxes, and the loss of many foreign markets. There has been an enormous increase in savings-bank deposits, in life insurance in new buildings, in the purchase of automobiles and radio sets, in all the comforts of life. There has been a wonderful decrease in diseases due to alcoholism and in cases of destitution due to liquor. Children in the public schools are better fed and better clothed. The fruits of the tree of prohibition are so blessed that with each year the hearts of the people are more firmly bound to the reform.

A Crucial Test, vs. 21, 22
"Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven." "Not profession, not calling on the name of the Lord as an empty form not outward service, nor formal service, nor numberless prayers,—none of these is the essence of true religion."—Rev. Edwin W. Rice, D. D. "But he that doeth the will of my Father who is in heaven." "We are not all so situated that we can perform the great achievements that immortalize a few heroic characters, but there is not one of us, not the humblest, who cannot imitate Christ every day of our lives. There is not one of us who has not a brother, or a sister, a friend or a schoolmate, whom we can make better as well as happier. Every day calls upon us for sacrifices of small selfishness for forbearance under provocation, and for the subjugation of evil propensities."—Horace Mann.

"Depart From Me." v. 23
"And then will I profess unto them." In spite of all their good deeds, Christ is obliged solemnly to condemn them. "I never knew you." They, therefore, had never known Christ, in spite of all their professions of Christianity. "Depart from me, ye that work iniquity." Theirs was not merely a negative religious state but it was positively wicked. As in the parallel passage, Matt. 23:30, 46, they are punished forever from the presence of Christ. It seems indeed strange and terrible that men can have sound beliefs and lead correct and outwardly fruitful lives, and yet utterly alienated from the Father, but who has not seen illustrations of the sad truth?

The Two Builders, vs. 24-29
In closing the Sermon on the Mount our Lord gathers up all its teachings in a short and striking parable which applied to every one of his hearers, and to all readers to the end of time. "Every one therefore that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them."

The hearing is never enough. Church-going is a duty and a privilege, but church-going in itself will never save a soul. Bible-reading is a help to the spiritual life and a great joy, but Bible reading in itself does not constitute one a Christian. Religion is obedience. Religion is a life. Each one is building up his character; and the only way to build is to build upon a rock, the rock of Christ's teaching and Christ's example.

Built On The Sand, vs. 26, 27
"And every one that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man." Note that this is not a parable of two foundations, as it is often called, but a parable of two buildings, one wise and the other foolish. "Who built his house upon the sand?" A heedless man, taking no thought of the meaning of life, the revelation of God in Christ, and his eternal destiny, is building his life structure as foolishly as the man who put his house on the sand.

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and smote upon that house. Lives that go down in the world's storm do not fall until after the foundation has been settled: then a blast overthrows them, which they should have resisted with ease. Young men who come to the city and go wrong never do so until after the foundations have been cut from under their faith. It is never the final blast that explains a fall. There is a process of undermining going on long before."—Prof. Cleveland B. McAfee. "And it fell: and great was the fall thereof." In the end every character will be disclosed: the secret rottenness which the world never dreamed of, the wickedness which was concealed under the show of philanthropy; the ambition which hid behind the veil of piety; the secret things will be made manifest. He alone will stand in that day who has turned his moral and religious belief into practice."—Bishop W. Boyd Carpenter.
