TWENTY EXHIBITORS IN PERRY- TON'S THIRD ANNUAL DISPLAY

CROWD OF OVER 5,000 EXPECTED AT IMPLEMENT AND AUTOMOBILE SHOW TO BE HELD ON DISPLAY GROUNDS ON SOUTH MAIN

The stage is set and all is in readiness for the opening of Perryton's third annual power Farming Exhibition and Automobile Show on Friday and Saturday of this week. Twenty implement and automobile dealers in the city have arranged for display places and one of the largest showings of farm machinery and cars to be seen here will be exhibited.

The big display grounds are located on the second block south of the new courthouse on south Main street. The implement display will be arranged around a square in the center of the grounds.

This implement exhibition is essentially an educational event, rather than an effort to sell machinery these two days. Many of the exhibitors have arranged to have factory representatives present to explain the uses of the various implements exhibited.

All the farmers of the Perryton territory and their families are extended a cordial invitation to come to Perryton on these two days and to visit the display grounds. Exhibits for the household as well as for the farmers will be included in the show and every one is invited.

Those making displays are the Johnson Motor company, G. T. Leaverman, Plains Tractor & Implement company, T. C. Shaw, C. C. Wier, Plainview Hardware & Furniture company, Donley Motor company, G. E. Irvin & Son, Wilson-Vey Buck company, Manwarren-Hub Motor company, Stump Instrument company, Birmingham Motor company, City Electric Shop, J. B. White company, Jno. G. Cook, J. Odell, White House Lumber company, Bell & Bell, Roy Jeffrey and the Perryton Motor company. The Service Store at Farnsworth will cooperate with the Plainview Hardware & Implement company in the McCormick-Deering display.

Fire Call Wednesday

Department Makes Record Run To J. H. Shearer Residence; Stove Explodes

One of the fastest runs ever made by the Perryton fire department went on record Wednesday morning when an alarm was turned in at 11:15 o'clock following the explosion of an oil stove in a wash house in the rear of the J. H. Shearer residence.

Fourteen out of the fifteen members of the volunteer department turned out and the fire truck was in its way less than a minute after the alarm was sounded. The small blaze was quickly put out, no damage resulting.

WILSON, HORNE AND NEUFELD RE-ELECTED SCHOOL TRUSTEES

G. R. Wilson, G. I. Horne and J. H. Neufeld were re-elected as members of the board of trustees of the Perryton Independent School District at the annual school trustee election held last Saturday. The lightest vote ever cast at an election in the district was registered last Saturday. There was no opposition to any of the above men.

The name of Fred Butler had been filed by friends but Mr. Butler announced that he would not serve and asked that the people not vote for him. School conditions in the Perryton district were never brighter and the interest taken in Saturday's election is ample proof that the citizens are well satisfied with the present administration.

Special purchases of merchandise are being made by the various stores in order to have a large enough stock for the day and a real bargain event is being planned, surpassing anything undertaken heretofore in Perryton. Next weeks issue of the Herald will contain the bargain news from the various merchants and it will pay you to watch for it and examine carefully the advertising matter contained in the issue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McLarty and daughters, Charlene and Kathryn, Bill McLarty and Miss Gertrude McLarty took their lunch and enjoyed an outing at the Jins Springs Sunday.

Miss Zelma Lamar and A. H. Nichols visited Sunday with Miss Lamar's sister at Chillicothe, Texas.

PERRYTON FIRE RECORD WINS NATIONAL HONORS

Few people realize the wonderful fire waste record that has been made by the town of Perryton during the past few years. This unusually low fire record is due in a large measure to the good work of Fire Marshal Gamel and Fire Chief Lilly and the hearty cooperation of all citizens in keeping down and removing fire hazards.

Only two towns in the entire State of Texas were placed on the 1928 honor roll. Perryton won second place in Class 5, made up of towns under 20,000 population. El Paso was placed fifth in Class 2, towns of 100,000 to 500,000 population. This is an unusual distinction and honor for Perryton. Only fifty-seven cities and towns in the entire United States won honorable mention.

NEW CLOTHING STORE OPENED

CROWDS THROGGED THROUGH B. Y. C. STORE AT OPENING HELD ON LAST SATURDAY

Ray Orrill, manager of the new B. Y. C. exclusive men's clothing store, states that he was more than pleased with his opening day on last Saturday. He says that the crowds which thronged the store exceeded his expectations and also that the sales made on opening day were much larger than he had anticipated.

One of the features on opening days was the free distribution of valuable merchandise. Mrs. Fred Lewis was given a fine suit of men's clothing. H. I. Hudson was the recipient of a pair of dress shoes and a hat. The interior of the store presents a very pleasing appearance, neat arrangement of fixtures, display cases and stock.

Mr. Orrill was very sorry that they did not have a complete stock for the opening but he states that they are receiving shipments of merchandise daily and that soon they will be able to supply every wearing apparel need of the male, both large and small.

FOUR INJURED IN CAR WRECK

TOURING CAR TURNS OVER TWICE ON HIGHWAY SOUTH OF PERRYTON

Mrs. Paye Yetter and small son, Canton, Kans. and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wing of near Beaver, Okla., were injured in a car accident which happened on the state highway, seven miles south of Perryton, Saturday afternoon, when the touring car which Mrs. Yetter was driving turned over twice.

Two other children of Mrs. Yetter were in the car at the time the accident occurred but were uninjured. Mrs. Yetter was driving the car and was going about thirty miles an hour when it started off the grade, near the site of old Ochiltree. When the driver attempted to turn the car back up the steep grade it turned over twice, wrecking the car.

The party was accompanied by a truck which contained Mr. and Mrs. Albert McDowell, Strong City, Oklahoma, Ed Yetter, Clear Lake, Okla., and W. F. Yetter, Decatur, Ill., and the body of Mrs. Sallie Farmer who died recently at Strong City and was being taken to Blue Mound for burial.

The truck stopped and brought the members of the wrecked car on to Perryton where they were taken to the hospital of Dr. W. J. Brewer where they were given medical attention.

Mr. and Mrs. Wing were able to leave the hospital Sunday, but Mrs. Yetter was unable to leave until Monday, suffering with a broken arm and serious cuts and bruises.

The other members of the party continued on to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wing, Blue Mound, Ernest Wing being the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wing. Mrs. H. L. Wing, M. Yetter and W. F. Yetter were sister and brother of the deceased.

STOLEN AUTO FOUND PAMPA

BARNETT CAR FOUND AT PAMPA BY CITY POLICE; NOTHING ELSE RECOVERED

The Oakland sedan belonging to Eugene Barnett, stolen last Wednesday night from its parking place in front of the Central hotel was recovered Saturday morning in Pampa by the city police. The car was picked up for a violation of the parking law, it not being known at the time that it was a stolen car.

The car was returned to Perryton Monday evening and seemed to be uninjured. Nothing was missing and the thieves had even taken the precaution of removing the spare tire which was loose and placing it in the back seat so that it would not be lost.

None of the loot taken from the W. C. Bryan & Son store on the same night was recovered and no trace of the robbers was found.

MANY PROPERTY OWNERS ARE BUILDING SIDEWALKS THIS SPRING

Many property owners in Perryton are building sidewalks this spring and as many more are contemplating this improvement. Sidewalk building has been one improvement that has been grossly lacking in the city and the move on the part of owners is to be commended.

City mail delivery in Perryton has been practically assured on the condition that walks are laid out along the proposed routes and this movement makes the goal seem even closer.

If you want city delivery, get busy and put in your walks. Urge your neighbors to do likewise. If this sidewalk building program continues, Perryton will get city mail delivery before the summer is over.

NEW BUILDING FOR HARDWARE

LAMASTER BUILDS BRICK AND TILE STRUCTURE FOR NEW BROWNING HARDWARE COMPANY

A new brick and tile structure and a new business house have been announced this week. The building is being built by W. B. LaMaster for the Browning Hardware company, a new hardware firm of which M. P. Browning is to be the manager.

The new structure is of brick and tile construction and is to be 25 by 140 feet, to be located on the first lot south of the Champlin Filling Station. This location was recently purchased by Mr. W. B. LaMaster from Jno. N. Stump, the old sheet metal garage building that was on the lot being razed to make way for the new building.

The building will have a modern glass front and is to be piped for gas. It will have a fourteen foot ceiling with plastered walls and ceiling. The contracts for the building will be let this week and it is to be finished by June 1.

Mr. Browning is putting in a first class hardware store, buying a large stock of goods which he will have here by the time the store opens about the first of June. It will be a strictly hardware store, according to Mr. Browning.

Fifty or sixty Scouts from out of town are expected to be in Perryton Friday afternoon for a knot-tying rally which is being conducted for the Scouts of this section by the Tex-Okla Council. About twenty Scouts are expected from Spearman, fifteen from Higgins, eight or ten from Pollett, and seven from the Bison Farm Patrol at Huttoon.

The Scouts will meet at 5:30 at the Courthouse and the knot-tying will start immediately. There will be twenty individual contests, three patrol contests, and a water rescue relay race. After the contests sandwiches and cocoa will be served by the Perryton Scouts to all their guests. Out-of-town Scouts will then be given a free pass to the American Theatre by Carl Ellis.

In addition to the Scouts themselves Perryton will be host to the Executive Board of the Tex-Okla Council. The last meeting held on January 16 at Texhoma was attended by a good majority of the men on the Board. It is hoped that there will be a good representation present at the Perryton meeting.

All men interested in Scouting are invited to attend the Board meeting at the Courthouse and listen in on plans for Scouting for the boys of the Tex-Okla Area.

ANOTHER HOTEL FOR PERRYTON

NOW EXCAVATING FOR MODERN TWO STORY BRICK HOTEL OWNED BY MR. AND MRS. GEO. LILLY

Perryton is to have another modern hotel structure. A big force of men and teams started work Monday on the excavation for the new Lilly Hotel, being erected by Mr. and Mrs. George Lilly of this city. The new structure is located on Main street just across the street west from the new courthouse.

The new building will be a first class structure, in every way, steam heated. The size is thirty-six by forty-eight, two story high with a full basement. The basement will be finished and will have nine rooms. On the first floor will be the dining room, office and kitchen, eight rooms in all including a bath. The second floor will have nine bed rooms and a bath.

The exterior walls will be of brick all inside walls to be plastered. Ed Birt has the contract for the building and Howard Holt will install the heating plant and plumbing. The estimated cost is $19,000.00. Mr. and Mrs. Lilly are experienced hotel people. They operated the Perryton Hotel for a number of years and built up a large following among the traveling public.

This fine new hotel, together with the big three story hotel being put up by the Panhandle Lumber Co. will go a long way toward relieving the acute room shortage in Perryton. There is no town in the southwest that needs more hotel room as badly as Perryton. Dozens of people leave Perryton every night because they cannot find quarters.

THERMOMETER GOES TO NINETY-FOUR AT OMAHA

Texas and the Sunny South has nothing on the state of Nebraska, if one can believe the press reports emanating from Omaha about the weather in that city on April 5, which said that the mercury soared to the high mark of 94 degrees. This is a record for the Cornhuskers state for spring weather.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Enfield and children, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Sparks and grandson and Mrs. Raymond Clark and children were among the many who attended the baptismal services held at the Pala Duro creek Sunday.

ISRAEL LEADS HIS PEOPLE BACK TO GOD
Chronicles 29: 1-9, 25-27

There had been enough for individuals to get into wickedness, but the situation is far worse when a nation actually plans for wrong doing. This is the case in Judah under king Jehoshaphat. The worship of Jehovah was abandoned and the people were led into idolatry, with the immoral practices that attended such devotion. Jehoshaphat's entreaties to turn to Jehovah were ridiculed and the people were under heavy bondage to the king of Assyria. He sent the Northern Kingdom into captivity. Jehoshaphat was the good son of a king. Here is the signal in the case of a child being superior to the environment, and pure in spite of the filth in home and company. All credit to the boys and girls of today who refuse to be dragged down to the level of unworthy parents, but who makes the most of the good that is open to all, and who is good in this world of keen competition.

King Jehoshaphat learned much as he began his own reign at the age of 25. His life had been molded by great fundamental principles. Jehoshaphat was in reality king of his own life. The divine will was indicated in part in the sacred text. Then there was Isaiah the prophet, as spiritual teacher and moral conscience was to be recalled with.

In the experience of religious life the observances of ceremonies established by the Almighty had been neglected. Passover had been called on to give this meaningful feast, a month later than the usual time. Invitations were sent to the tribes of Israel as well as Judah and Benjamin. Many of the call but multitudes did not attend. The law was studied with care that the ritual might be exactly observed. Confession of sins were simultaneous with the offering of sacrifices. Worship was joy of the hour, and when the Passover had been completed, the king and people were so zealous in the observance of their new obedience to Jehovah that a second period of seven days was observed with joy and benefit. As the people returned to their homes and life they had a personal consciousness of the meaning in our text: "Jehovah your God is gracious and merciful."

King Hezekiah led his people back to God. Anyone can be a leader, in fact all are for each other, unconscious as well as conscious. There are reforms without the ability of each one and we are individually responsible for making them. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper for the Christian, replacing the Jewish Passover, the fitting place for registering purpose after new obedience, and proceed thence on the King's business.

AVERAGE CHURCH OFFERING

FLAPJACK CHAMP
Chippewa Falls, Wis.—Ralph Steele, farm hand, ate twenty-seven flapjacks in a "flapjack" eating contest and was still hungry. His diet consisted of nine sausages, a slice of cheese, a slice of pie and a cup of coffee. Steele won a sack of pancake flour for winning the contest, in which one hundred and fifty persons were entered.

WHAT A HEN
Deloit, Wis.—A hen owned by Mrs. H. B. Lattin has just laid 2,000th egg. The hen is twelve years and ten months old. A white horn, it has laid an average of eggs a year for three years. When she was one she laid 136 eggs from the 1 to September 17. Only fifty-six eggs were laid by her last year.

BEANMA LEARNS TO DRIVE
Birmingham, Eng.—Mrs. Julia James, a grandmother of 90, celebrated her 90th birthday by learning to drive a car. She learned to ride a bicycle when she was 62 and rode a till recently, when her daughter insisted she should give it up—she sold the bike and bought an automobile.

Hints for the Home
by Nancy Hart

If every one in the family would resolve to try to eat without objection all ordinary foods not highly seasoned or of unusual flavor, if well cooked and appetizingly served, many food prejudices would vanish and the housekeeper's problems would be reduced. An understanding of properly balanced diet will help dispel many prejudices and make it possible to set a varied yet economical table.

Shepherd's pie is meat, ground and seasoned with salt, pepper and stock or gravy, then covered with a layer of mashed potato and heated in the oven. A small amount of baking powder or a well-beaten egg may be added to the mashed potato to make it light. Bake until delicately browned. This is a good way to use up left-overs too small to be served alone.

Eat plenty of any kind of fish, but especially the salt-water fish and shellfish, both fresh and canned. All fish contribute to the day's supply of "efficient" protein, similar to that furnished by meat, eggs, milk, poultry, and cheese. The salt-water fish, or true "sea foods" are also the best known sources of iodine, one of the minerals needed to keep the body strong and healthy. Lack of iodine leads to disturbances of the thyroid gland, which result in goiter.

FACULTY GIVE PLAY TUESDAY

"THE PATSY", A THREE ACT COMEDY FOR BENEFIT OF PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Members of the faculty of the Perryton high school, assisted by Dave Shanks, will present "The Patsy", a three act comedy, at the school auditorium on next Tuesday evening, April 16, at eight o'clock, the entire proceeds going to the Parent-Teachers Association.

This is one of the prettiest and most popular plays of the past few years. Claborn Foster has popularized this play all over the entire country. The story concerns Patricia Harrington, a girl who "runs second" to her older sister. She is the Patsy who is blamed, whenever anything goes wrong, and is forced to remain in the background in order that her sister may be presented to advantage. Her father, a traveling man, is on her side, and finally declares his independence by putting Ma in her proper place. This brings about Patsy's ultimate triumph, and needless to say, affords her happiness as the bride of the man she loves.

The cast is as follows: Mr. Harrington..... E. E. Shupe Mrs. Harrington..... Miss Lorna Hutchinson Grace Harrington..... Miss Lois Davidson Patricia Harrington..... Miss Margaret Covert Billy Caldwell..... Oliver A. Bush Tony Anderson..... E. E. Marshall Sadie Buchanan..... Mrs. Joe Tom Jackson Mr. O'Flaherty..... Dave Shanks

RELIGION—PURE UNDETHLED

We sat in a crowded theatre this week, and witnessed there on the silver screen the picturization of the ministry of and crucifixion of the Man of Galilee, Jesus of Nazareth. We do not expect that the real picture was any more realistic—Thanks to science for the picture show machine, it's a wonderful invention, takes on the essence of divinity—Fact of the business is, man is possessed of a divine attribute, no, the faculty of the human mind is as yet, but little understood, mystery of mystery, cannot be explained—Mind, soul, spirit—Synonymous terms we take it—A trinity—Three in one—And in that skull house empires are born, political and scientific problems are solved—The lobe up there incased in its skull house is a screen on which human thought is picturized—So the picture show, the silver screen typifies this mystic scientific wonder. Thanks to Frank Whitney, manager of the Aztec Theatre, for bringing this picture to Albany—King of Kings—The Biblical story of the ministry and crucifixion of Jesus Christ, whether a fact or a symbol has covered the earth with an idealism, the worth of which cannot be estimated to the race of men—The path that He traveled from the Manger to the Cross was indeed a thorny one, and in all His struggles and persecution, punishment and defilement, He never got down off that high pedestal, never lost His bearing—His was a loving, forgiving and compassionate spirit for the human family—And in the agonies of death on the Cross of Calvary, the last sentence that fell from His lips—Father forgive them, they know not what they do—That's the spirit that has covered the earth with love—That's the spirit that has lifted man out of the jungles and quagmires of filth, ignorance, hatred, lust and envy and jealousy, and all the kindred evils which men has had to combat—Yes, religion, pure and undefiled is the most beautiful thing in the world—It's not puffed up—It vaunteth not—It thuffeth no evil—Void lust and hatred—No, none of these are in the philosophy of Christ—We would liken His religion unto that of a big rose bush—Yes, He said it with flowers, and the fragrance and beauty of the same has covered the earth, touched the hearts of men, tamed their passion and converted them into civilized beings.—Dick McCarty.

DEMONSTRATE COLD CONTROL

ABILITY TO CONTROL FREEZ-ING SPEEDS IN FRIGID-AIRES PROVING POPULAR

Interest created by the new Frigidaire cold control, an invention that opens a new realm for the housewife in menu planning, is evidenced by the large crowds that have visited T. C. Shaw, the local Frigidaire dealer's display room since the national cold control demonstration of the General Motors subsidiary opened Tuesday.

The demonstration, which is being held in all large cities throughout the country to acquaint the public with this outstanding refrigeration perfection, will close next Tuesday night, it was announced.
Many tempting frozen desserts made possible by the cold regulator are being prepared and served by domestic science experts at the demonstrations. Souvenirs, and literature of value to the hostess and housewife will be distributed to visitors during the remaining two days and nights of the demonstration the dealer said.

"The simplicity of cold control",
Mr. Shaw said, "has impressed all who have visited our show room. To operate it one merely turns a small lever around a dial. Various degrees of cold may be obtained in the Frigidaire freezing compartment without materially affecting the temperature in the food-storage cabinet. Frigidaire's self-sealing ice trays, which confine the severe cold within the freezing section, help make this possible."

Different degrees of cold, the dealer explained, are needed for freezing different desserts, just as various degrees of heat are required in baking; it was this need that led to perfection of the temperature control.

Besides making possible 115 new desserts and many salads, cold control has greatly reduced the time required for freezing ice cubes, the dealer explained. The new regulator is now a part of all household Frigidaires.

guest Sunday of Miss Mary Hibbs.

ADVANCE-RUMELY

SWATHER AND WINDROW PICK-UP FEEDER

The view above shows the attachment developed to convert the Advance-Rumely combine header into a swather or windrower. The attachment is available for use with all sizes of headers.

LET THESE ATTACHMENTS HELP SOLVE YOUR HARVESTING PROBLEMS

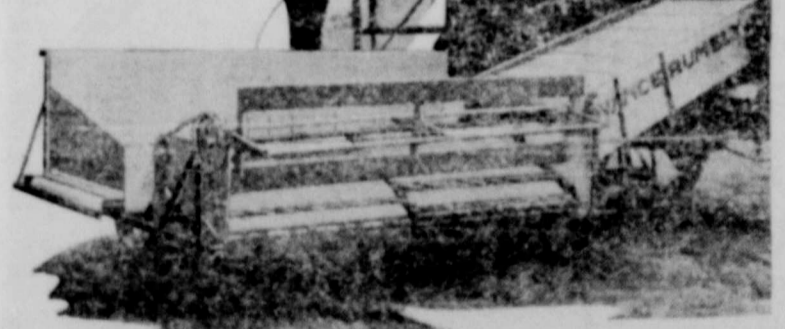

Advance-Rumely combines will handle grain that is weedy, green and unevenly ripened and will save it in a truly remarkable manner. There are many territories, however, where the farmer cannot safely handle his crop in this manner, owing to the difficulty experienced in handling the threshed grain and the lowering of the grades where it contains green kernels.

To meet these conditions Advance-Rumely engineers have developed and perfected the Swather or Windrow Harvester and the Pick-up Feeder.

The Swather attachment consists of a built-up framework and driving mechanism which utilizes the regular combine header and header wheel. These are removed from the combine and attached to the swather frame, thus making a complete Windrow Harvester.

For picking up the grain the Windrow Feeder has been developed. This is a complete unit independent of the combine, for picking up windrow grain and delivering it into the combine. It consists of a chain riddle seven feet wide mounted on a rigid yet light framework and driven by chain and sprocket on the pitman shaft. Coil spring steel fingers are so mounted on the steel riddle slats that they reach under the windrowed grain, pick it up and carry it upward in the same manner as a pitchfork, delivering it onto the canvas carrier and into the combine.

Come in and let us tell you about the Swather and Windrow Pick-up Feeder.

The Advance-Rumely Windrow Pick-up Feeder is an independent unit which attaches to the combine in the same manner as the regular header is attached.

THE DESPERATE LOVER

By E. Phillips Oppenheim
ILLUSTRATED BY FRANK BLOUEN

"I, too, had a great surprise, Margharita. You will not wonder what I mean by that when I tell you that in the light which streamed from the uncurtained window everything in the room was distinctly visible to me. Was I dreaming, child, or were you indeed assenting to the embrace of the man whose arms were surely around you? Him, I could not see, for his back was turned to the window; but will you laugh at me, I wonder, if I tell you that I felt strangely jealous of him. I am a foolish man, Margharita, but all the love of my heart is yours, and I had begun almost to look upon you—in my thoughts—as my own child. I cannot bear the thought of giving you up to any one. You will not think me very, very selfish, I have only a few more months to live, and I know that you will not grudge that much out of your future, that you will stay by me to the end. Afterwards, I have no wish save for your happiness; and although I must confess that I had hoped you might have married one of the sons of our own country, still it is you who must choose, and I owe you, or shall owe you soon, too great a debt to press upon you any desire of mine which is not at one with your wishes. But tell me this—Is he an Englishman? Alas! I fear so. Send me a word by the bearer, and tell me; tell me, tell me too, of what family he is, and whether he is noble. But of that I feel already assured, if he is indeed the man to whom your love is given.

"You must surely have sustained a shock at my sudden and rash appearance. Doubtless you wonder at seeing me here at all. I could not keep away. I must have news day by day, almost hour by hour. It is all that keeps me alive. I must be near to feel that I am breathing the same air as the woman on whom a long-delayed vengeance is about to fall.

"I have taken a furnished cottage on the outskirts of this village, and a little more than a mile from Mallory Grange. But do not come to me. Dearly as I would love to have you talk to me, and hear from your own lips that all goes well, yet at present it were better not. I will devise some means of communication, and let you know of it shortly. I am living here as Mr. Angus—Yours ever.

"My Dear Uncle,—I am a culprit—a miserable, pleading culprit. It is true that I love an Englishman—the man who was standing by my side last night; and it is true that he has asked me to marry him. But I have not told him so, and I have not promised to marry him. That is not all of my confession. Not only is he an Englishman, but his name is Lord Lumley St. Maurice, and he is—her son.

"Now you know the terrible trouble I am in. Last night he was troubling me of his love, and assuring me of his mother's sanction and approval, when your face appeared at the window. Can you wonder at my start, and that I fainted? Can you wonder that I sit here, after a sleepless night, with eyes that are dim and a heart that has become a stone? I dread to stir from the room. My position is horrible. I have tried my utmost to avoid him, to treat him with disdain, to send him away from me. I have steeled my heart and clothed my face with frowns—in vain! The bald fact remains that I love him. Do you despise me, uncle? Sometimes I feel that I deserve it; but I have suffered, I am suffering now. I am punished. Do not add your anger to my load!

"Immediately you get this, sit down and write to me. Write to me just what is in your heart. Your words I shall set before me as my law. Do not delay, and if you blame, do not fail to pity me.—Yours ever unchanged.

"Margharita.— I have received your letter, and I have pondered over it. You are young to have such a sorrow, yet I do not doubt but that you will act as becomes your race. You can never think of marriage with this man; you a Marioni, he a St. Maurice! Yet I grieve that you have let such a feeling steal into your heart. Pluck it out, Margharita, I charge you; pluck it out by the roots! Think not of the wrong done to me, or, if you do, think of me not as a man and your uncle, but as Count Leonardo di Marioni, the head of my family, the head of your family. We have been the victims, but the day of our vengeance is at hand. There is no life without its sorrows, child! In the days to come happiness will teach you to forget this one.

"Farewell, my child, I shall send you no more notes. Write or come to me the moment the deed is done! Come to me, if you can; I would hear your own lips tell me the news. Yet do as seems best to you. In sympathy and love. L. di M."

"One word more, child. Do not for a moment imagine that I blame you for what has happened. Old man though I am, I too know something of the marvels and the vagaries of this same love. Will can have little to do with its course. I, who have suffered so deeply, Margharita, can and do sympathize and feel for you."

PART IV
"Margharita! You have come at last. It is done, then. Say that it is done!"
She stood quite still in the humble red-tiled sitting-room, and looked at him with a great compassion shining out of her dark, clear eyes. He was worn almost to a shadow, and his limbs were shaking with weakness, as he half rose to greet her. Only his eyes were still alight and burning. Save for them he might have been a corpse.

"Something of the old passionate pity swept through her as she stood there, but its fierceness had died away. Her heart leaped no longer in quick response to the fire in those still undimmed eyes. She had been a girl then, a girl with all the fierce untrained nature of her mother's race; she was a woman now, a sad-faced sorrowful woman. He was quick to see the change.

"Margharita, my child, you have been ill."
Still she did not answer. Silently she knelt down by the side of his armchair and took his withered, delicate hand in hers. A great bowl of white hyacinths stood on a table by the window, and the air was faint with their perfume.

"I am not ill," she said gently. "I was frightened on my way here, and had to run. There was a fire last night at the lunatic asylum at Fritton, and some of the mad people have escaped. I saw one of them in the distance, and the keepers after him. They wanted me to go back, but I would come."

He stooped down and kissed her forehead, with cold, dry lips.

"I knew that you would be here soon," he said. "My letters reached you safely?"

"Yes."

She shuddered at the gathering strength in his tone, and the fierce face.

"It is done, child. Say that it is done!"

"No."

Something in her sad tone and subdued manner seemed to strike a note of fear in his heart. He leaned forward, grasping the sides of his chair with nervous, quivering fingers, and looked hurriedly into her face.

"No, you have had no chance, then? But you will have soon? Is it not so? Soon, very soon?"

She threw her arms around his neck. He made no response, nor did he thrust her away. He remained quite passive.

"It is not that, uncle. Oh, listen to me. Do not thrust me away. I cannot do this thing."

He sat as still as marble. There was no change, no emotion in his face. Yet her heart sank within her.

"Oh, listen to me," she pleaded passionately. "You do not know her as she is now. She is good and kind—a gentle-hearted woman. It was so long ago; and it was not out of malice to you, but to save the man she loved. You hear me, do you not? You are listening. She has not forgotten you. Often she sorrows for you. It was cruel—I know that it was cruel—but she was a woman, and she loved him. Let us steal away together and bury these dark dreams of the past. I will never leave you; I will wait upon you always; I will be your slave. Forgiveness is more sweet than vengeance. Oh, tell me that it shall be so. Why do you not speak to me?"

He sat quite still, like a man who is stunned by some sudden and unexpected blow. He seemed dazed. She wondered, even, whether he had heard her.

"Uncle, shall it not be so?" she whispered. "Let us go away from here and leave her. I am not thinking about him. I will not see him again. I will never dream of marrying him. Let us go this very day, this very hour!"

Then he turned slowly toward her, thrust her hand from around his neck and stood up.

"You have been false to me, Margharita," he said, in a slow, quiet tone. "After all, it is only natural. When you first came to me, I thought I saw your mother's spirit blazing in your dark eyes, and I trusted you. I was to blame. I forgot the tradesman's blood. I do not curse you. You do not understand that is all. Learn now that the oath of a Marioni is as deathless and unchangeable as the hills of his native land. Will you go away at once, please? I do not wish to see you again."

His speech so quiet, so self-contained, bewildered her. There was not a single trace of passion or bitterness in it. She stretched out her hands toward him, but she felt chilled.

"Uncle, you—"

"Will you go away, please?" he interrupted coldly.

She turned toward the door, weeping. She had not meant to go far—only out on the garden-seat, where she might sit and think. But he saw another purpose in her departure, and a sudden passion fired him. She heard his step as he rose hastily, and she felt his cold fingers upon her wrist.

"You would go to warn her!" he cried, his voice trembling with anger. "I read it in your face. You are as false as sin, but you shall not rob me of the crown of my life! No one shall rob me of it! Vengeance belongs to me, and by symbol of my oath I will have it!"

He snatched a handful of white blossoms from the bowl, and crushed them in his fingers. Then he threw them upon the ground and trampled upon them.

"Thus did she betray the sacred bonds of our Order when, for her lover's sake, she added treachery to cunning, and wrecked my life, made Leonardo, Count of the Marioni, the lonely inmate of prison walls, the scorn and pity of all men. Thus did she write her own fate upon a far future page of the tablets of time. Talk to me not of forgiveness or mercy, girl! My hate lives in me as the breath of my life, and with my body alone will it die!"

TOASTED SANDWICH FOR SUNDAY SUPPER

The toasted sandwich is a great favorite for Sunday night supper and it needs only a beverage to provide a complete and satisfying meal. Hot chocolate with whipped cream is especially good with the toasted sandwich as it serves as sweet and beverage.

AMERICANS ARE URGED TO HELP REBUILD THE FRIGATE CONSTITUTION

amous American Vessel Better Known as "Old Ironsides" Is Being Rebuilt at the Navy Yard In Boston, Massachusetts.

The Navy Yard at Boston is busy with the rebuilding of the famous American vessel better known as "Old Ironsides". The ship, which was once a navy, is now the proudest of the most brilliant fighting ship in any navy. She is known affectionately as "Old Ironsides"—The Constitution.

She bears the scars of the sea, her colors have faded, but she still stands as a monument to the valor of our forefathers. She was launched in 1794, and has since that time served our country with distinction. She has fought many battles, and has never been defeated. She is a living legend, and her story is one of the most inspiring in our history.

Now, after more than a century of service, she needs to be rebuilt. The Navy Department has decided to rebuild her at the Navy Yard in Boston. This is a great task, and it requires the help of all Americans. We are urged to contribute to the rebuilding fund, so that we may preserve this great ship for future generations.

OLD IRONSIDES

A, tear her tattered ensign down!
Long has it waved on high,
And many an eye has danced to see
That banner in the sky;
Beneath its ruffled folds,
I'd fain be as a hero bold,
And burst the cannon's roar—
The meteor of the ocean air Shall sweep the clouds no more.

Her deck once red with heroes' blood,
Where hark! the vanquished foe,
When winds were hurrying o'er the flood,
And waves were white below,
No more shall feel the victor's tread,
Or know the conquered knee—
The harpies of the shore shall pluck
The eagle of the sea!

Oh better that her shattered hull
Should sink beneath the wave;
Her thunders shook the mighty deep,
And there should be her grave;
Nail to her mast her holy flag,
Set every threadbare sail,
And give her to the god of storms,
The lightning and the gale!

—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

most a navy in herself. Ever invincible, she has served under every President from Washington to Coolidge, and boasts of a record that has never been equalled by any single fighting ship.

Now in the shadow of the Bunker Hill Monument, near the yard that gave her birth, "Old Ironsides" rests in the dry dock she christened. She waits, ready to be reborn, her hull, remodeled from truck to keel, exactly as she was in her days of great glory, the history-making days of 1812. No federal appropriation assures her preservation, nor is one desired. Only the generous response of a grateful nation can save her. The National Save "Old Ironsides" Committee, of which Rear Admiral Philip Andrews, U. S. Navy, is chairman, is raising sufficient funds for the work through popular subscription. Over $220,000 have already been received; less than $190,000 are still required.

The Save "Old Ironsides" Fund is being completed, principally through the sale of beautifully tinted color lithographs from the original painting by the famous marine artist, Gordon Grant, depicting the famous ship as she looked at the height of her brilliant career. These are reasonably priced at 50 cents each.

There is no relic more worthy of the affections of a Nation than is the Frigate Constitution. On her decks are enshrined the proud traditions for which America stands. She represents the ideals for which our country has always strived, the principles that give to our Nation its prestige among the nations of the world. It is a patriotic privilege to contribute to her restoration as a National Shrine. By restoring her, we honor not only "Old Ironsides," but the men, who by their bravery and skill, brought her to such renown and made such glorious history for America.

Every American knows of Independence Hall and would not think of letting it fall into decay. Loud would be the protest from every corner of our country should it be proposed to destroy Mount Vernon or the National Shrine. Like these historic relics, the Frigate Constitution belongs to every American. Rebuilt and equipped as she looked in the history-making days of 1812, a picturesque survivor of the bygone days of sail, she will again cross the sea, with proper escort, visiting the ports of our country and carrying her patriotic message to the people of our country, a lasting inspiration to future generations of Americans.

The people of America owe a debt of gratitude to this champion of our liberties and rights as a nation. This debt can only be repaid by restoration of the Constitution through popular subscription.

Every American is urged to buy a picture of "Old Ironsides" and help make possible the repayment of the debt we owe her. The pictures may be obtained for 50 cents each by writing to "Old Ironsides" Navy Yard, 421, Boston, Massachusetts.

stimulated red blood cell formation. Almost three-quarters of a century without any real progress and then a discovery that ranks in importance with the discovery of insulin.

"Since doctors are agreed that the liver treatment for anemia just as the insulin treatment for diabetes must be continued throughout the patient's lifetime," says Inez B. Wilson, nutrition specialist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, "it is necessary to make the liver diet as attractive as possible to the patient, for a lifetime is a long time to face any one article of food."

The following recipes are suggested as ways of serving liver which will make it welcome to the patient.

This recipe from the French is especially good because the liver is not cooked very long, which is an advantage.

Calf's Liver à la Maitre d'Hotel
Slice liver 1/4 inch thick, scald and wipe between towels. Turn the slices repeatedly in a little melted butter and let stand a while. Wrap each slice in a sheet of oiled paper. Arrange on a hot greased broiler and broil for four minutes on each side. When done sprinkle with salt and pepper and spread with Maitre d'Hotel Butter, which is made by creaming 4 tablespoons of butter with 1 teaspoon of dry mustard, a few grains of cayenne, 1 tablespoon of lemon juice.

Liver Goulash
Stew a finely chopped onion in some chicken fat or butter, sprinkle 1/2 teaspoon of paprika, add a lump of sugar, and then the liver cut in very thin slices, stirring carefully so that it does not burn. Add a little beef broth now and then and salt just before serving. The liver should not be allowed to cook more than 8 or 10 minutes, just long enough so that it has no reddish tinge. Serve at once.

and palatability of meat. Much of the cooking of the cuts from the experimental animals is done at the Bureau of Home Economics in Washington.

Dr. Louise Stanley, Chief of the Bureau, gives the following rule for broiling steak.

Broiled Steak
The first requirement of a good broiled steak lies in the selection of the meat. A choice porterhouse or sirloin should have bright red lean, five-grained and somewhat marbled with fat, and the outside fat should be creamy white. A cut for broiling should be more than an inch thick. True broiled steak is cooked over red hot coals or in a broiler under gas flame or electric coils. The meat is placed near enough to the fire to sear a crust quickly, care being taken that it does not burn. As soon as one side is thoroughly seared the steak is turned between two knives or spatulas so as not to pierce the crust. The searing will probably take about three or four minutes to each side. In order to cook the steak through, the heat is then reduced and the steak left in the broiling oven for a few minutes, depending upon the doneness desired. A steak about an inch and a quarter thick is cooked rare at this stage in about twelve or fifteen minutes. Sometimes a steak comes to the table tough because it is not served promptly after it is cooked. A warm platter sprinkled with salt and pepper and dotted with butter should be ready and the steak should be served immediately. It is not well to season the steak before cooking because the salt tends to draw out the juices.

In pan broiling a steak, the method is very similar. The pan is heated very hot and is greased over lightly by wiping with a piece of wet so that the meat will not stick. Using a large amount of grease toughens the outside of the steak and does not increase the juiciness of the inside. The steak is placed in the hot pan and seared first on one side, and then on the other quickly. The heat is then reduced and the broiling proceeds more slowly. The meat must be turned frequently to prevent burning. Care should be taken not to pierce the crust which has formed lest the juice leak out.

An Airplane Oil For Tractor Use

A Group of Satisfied Users of Phillips Products

IMAGINE driving your automobile 100 miles in an hour for 16 hours without stopping. That's what an airplane engine must do. Only the finest oil can be used or the motor will go to pieces quickly.

The Phillips Petroleum Company uses Phillips tractor oil in their own airplanes which are used by Mr. A. M. Hughes and other company officials. These men have the same confidence in this oil that they want you to have. It's exactly the same oil that is ready for your car or tractor at any Phillips station. It warms up quickly, and fully lubricates in both hot and cold weather.

The picture at the top shows E. H. Simpson, H. D. Hill, O. D. Frazier, Geo. J. Rempel and their boys all seated on their farm machinery. These men all live in the neighborhood of Vega and Hereford, Texas. All of them use Phillips products.

This spring E. H. Simpson broke 220 acres of land with a gang plow. All of this land was worked over 3 times and 80 acres 4 times, ready for the drill. His total fuel and lubricating cost was 30c an acre. He used Phillips kerosene and oil. Many other west Texas farmers report great savings and complete satisfaction in using Phillips products. Write or talk to the Phillips agent when you need oil, kerosene or gasoline. They are quality products.
