TDCJ personnel to be in Colorado City Tuesday to discuss career opportunities.

Contractor for 1000-bed unit in Colorado City to be selected this week.

TDCJ board to select private prison locations Friday in Houston.

Contractors, site selection set for this week

The word "prison" will be repeated many times this week in Colorado City and Houston as the Texas Department of Corrections is expected to name the contractor for the 1,000-bed unit to be built here and to release the list of contractors they have selected to build the private prisons in the state.

Nancy Sullivan, Mitchell County Economic Development director, said a TDCJ committee opened bids on the local prison construction on Wednesday, March 10 and will make their recommendations on bidders to the full board on Friday, March 19.

While a list of bidders was not released by the TDCJ, one company that is expected to bid is Herbert Construction of South Carolina. This company served as the general contractor on the Preston Smith Unit at Lamesa and the business community there has reported that they were excellent to do business with.

One company that will not be bidding on the project is the Argee Corporation of Denver, Colorado.

Argee served as the general contractor on the Snyder, Dayton and Woodville units and those three projects are still plagued by lawsuits.

Work is expected to commence on the site here in Colorado City soon after the awarding of the bids and trailers could be on site as early as April 1.

The site selection committee will also meet on the 17th to make recommendations on the private prisons to be built in Texas also.

Their recommendations will also be considered by the full board on Friday.

The Midland firm of Technical Approach to Secure Confinement (TASC) has submitted a bid and are hoping for at least one of the 500-bed units to be awarded. They submitted bids for all 2000 beds.

Other communities trying to land at least one of the units include Snyder, Sweetwater and Big Spring. Each 500-bed unit could employ upwards of 300 people also.

People who wish to go to work for the Texas Department of Corrections are reminded of the meeting Tuesday, March 16 at the Colorado High Auditorium.

Officials from the TDCJ will provide employment information on career opportunities with the Department.

The meeting will get underway at 7 p.m.

Information to be presented will include the types of jobs available, qualifications and how and where to apply for them. According to prison officials, some 325 full-time jobs will be filled when the unit opens. They said most would be correctional officers jobs but there will be a wide range of non-correctional jobs available also.

NEITHER SLEET NOR SNOW: Workers with Rhode Construction work through the sleet and snow Friday on the water line project. Humberto Chavez serves as foreman on the project. Springtime temperatures took a nose-dive Thursday and Friday and light snow fell throughout the morning. A gusty north wind dropped the wind chill down to double digits.

TWC sets stringent guidelines

The construction of a lateral water line to replace an existing one serving the area around Browne Bros. will apparently come under the close scrutiny of the Texas Water Commission (TWC).

The city received a letter this week from Diane Potet, who is the Project Manager for the Pollution Cleanup Division of the TWC outlining steps the City must take in installing a new water line.

The site is in the area of the old Col-Tex Refinery and has been designated a Superfund site for pollution cleanup efforts.

Potet told the City that "the placement of a public water-supply lateral at the site may cause humans to be exposed to hazardous substances. Since the extent of contamination at the site is not known, a soils investigation along the area where the water lines will be installed must be completed."

The TWC sent along a detailed description of procedures for this type of sampling investigation. Approval for the construction of a water-supply line within the boundaries of a Superfund site is only given after the construction area is determined to be safe for the workers.

The TWC also urged the city to complete their investigation "within ten working day of receipt of this letter (March 9) so that Fina may complete the construction of the Col-Tex Refinery Hydrocarbon Abatement System (HAS) at the old refinery site."

The commission also stated if contamination is found to be more extensive than now thought, the TWC may require additional action.

The TWC recommended that the city consider the temporary use of a portion of the existing water transmission main line along old Highway 80 to continue supplying water to those residents living on the subject site. This portion of the existing water main could be plugged before it reaches the Colorado River and then connected to the new water supply main.

List being made for trash pick up

The annual city-wide cleanup week has been set this year for May 3-8.

While the event is still several weeks off, citizens may call City Hall now at 728-3464 to get your name and address on the list. You must notify the city if you will have extra trash to pick up that week.

The city will pick up old

Once the soil investigation is complete and the new lateral line installed, the existing water line would no longer be used.

The price of materials may increase drastically for this line also as the TWC stated they would not approve the use of PVC pipe with rubber gaskets in this area.

They stated this type of material would break down when in contact with hydrocarbon or solvent type contaminants. If contaminants are not found at the present, they are concerned that harmful materials could migrate to the water line in the future.

Ceremony set

City officials invite everyone to a "valve opening" ceremony this Monday, March 15 at 4 p.m.

The occasion is the switch over from the old main water line to the new one installed by Rhode Construction to provide water to the new prison.

The brief ceremony will be at the water treatment plant.

Wednesday is last day to file for elections

This Wednesday, March 17 is the last day to get on the ballot for the May 1 election and the number of candidates for the various boards and councils is growing - slowly.

As of Friday afternoon, the Colorado City Council has five candidates for the election - three incumbents and two newcomers.

Mayor Jim Baum and councilmen Bob Reily and Sammy Contreras have all filed for re-election while Walter Staats and J. "Lucky" Beason have filed for the post currently held by Rex Thackerson. Thackerson has said he would not run due to plans to move out of his present district.

The city of Loraine has three positions open and they include the posts held by mayor Catarino Martinez and council members Chrystene Hall and Bessie Vaughan. Martinez, Vaughan and Hall have signed up to run for another term and Woodrow Hill and Ricky Bailey have also signed up for council spots.

The city of Westbrook will have their city election in 1994. Two incumbents have filed for the Colorado ISD school board - Jesse Munoz and Larry Blasingame. The term of trustee Billy Bridgford is also up for re-election.

All the incumbents have filed at Westbrook ISD. Clyde Gregory, Elton Carlisle and Walter E. Smith, Jr. will all be on the ballot May 1.

Mike Gage and Mary Helen Gomez have signed up to run again for the Loraine school board. The term of Linton Ray Webb also expires.

Four terms are up for election on the Mitchell County Hospital Board - Marion Bassham, Jay Craddock, Walter E. Smith, Jr. and Sybil Stevens.

As of Friday, only Smith had not filed for re-election.

Filing for all these posts began on Feb. 15.

Early voting in these elections will begin on April 12 and run through the 27.

Mitchell County voters will also have the opportunity to decide whether the Texas Constitution should require wealth school districts to share part of their local property tax money with poorer districts throughout the state.

THIS OLD HOUSE ... HAS GOT TO GO

Cleanup underway in Loraine

Charles Bowen has recently been appointed as building inspector of Loraine by mayor Catarino Martinez.

Bowen's duties will include the inspection and condemnation of old, abandoned houses within the city limits. Such structures are health, safety and fire hazards said Bowen and must be repaired or destroyed.

Owners of such structures will be notified by the city of the situation and given a reasonable amount of time to make corrections. If the owners fail to comply with the ordinances, the city will destroy the structures and bill the owners for the costs involved.

The city urges all residents to cooperate with the effort to clean up the town. Citizens are reminded also that it is unlawful to permit grass and weeds to grow unchecked on one's property. Also, having unregistered, uninspected vehicles left on the premises is an offense also.

Public hearing will address abuse funds

The Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse (TCADA), the state agency mandated by law to coordinate and implement programs to prevent and treat chemical dependency and compulsive gambling, wants Texans to have a voice in how federal substance abuse funds should be spent. As a result, a series of public hearings will be held throughout the state to hear testimony regarding the Commission's intended use of federal funds allocated under the Substance Abuse Prevention and Treatment Block Grant.

Representatives from the Commission will be present to explain the planning process and to consult with and receive comments from interested citizens and groups. All written and oral comments will be considered in the preparation of the final plan.

In addition, at four of the six hearings, Commission staff will present an overview of the new in-prison substance abuse treatment initiative, which is designed to treat the addictions of chemically dependent inmates and, as a result, lower the recidivism rate. As many as 85 percent of Texas inmates are incarcerated due to alcohol or drug-related crimes. Six in 10 inmates released from Texas prisons are rearrested within three years; the rates for drug offender recidivism are 25 percent higher.

A study conducted at a TCADA-funded treatment center, however, found that of those clients who had been arrested in the year prior to receiving treatment for chemical dependency, 75 percent were not arrested during the six months following treatment.

The public hearings have been scheduled for the following locations: Corpus Christi-March 15, 9 to 11 a.m., Coastal Bend Council of Governments, 2910 Leopard. Lufkin: March 19, 9 a.m. to noon, City Council Chambers, Room 202, 300 East Shepherd. Arlington: March 26, 1 to 4 p.m., North Central Texas Council of Governments, 616 Six Flags Drive. Lubbock: March 29, 9 a.m. to noon; South Plains Association of Governments, 1323 58th Street.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor:

I am writing and asking for your and your readers' assistance in solving a very old question.

I was reading a magazine in a doctor's waiting room—a new one, believe it or not—when I came upon a picture of dinosaur tracks in a Utah sandstone. My mind did a 50-year flashback and said, "Those prints look a lot like the 'buffalo tracks' at Seven Wells."

It would be a little hard to take another look at the Seven Wells location today, wouldn't it? But I'm still pursuing the question. So, do any of your readers have pictures of those tracks that they would send to me for copying and then returning? I promise to take good care of them and also repay for postage involved. My MAIN interest is in the tracks that were present on the large flat sandstone area to the north of the creek proper, as I already have pictures of the four-track slab at the old Museum site. I also have copies of those pictures at the Heart of West Texas Museum; thanks to Liz Connell for her fast-locating them.

One more question. do I really remember some rough planking picnic tables out there on the sandstone flat, or is my aging mind playing tricks again? The date would have to have been in the late 1920's or the early 1930's.

My address for receiving pictures—hopefully—is 4217 Brookdale Street, Jackson MS 39206.

And my thanks to you for printing this letter.

Lemons presents program to C-City Garden Club

The Colorado City Garden Club met for a Dutch Treat luncheon at the Villa Restaurant on Tuesday, March 2.

President Peggy Ratliff presided and Sister Guadalupe Rodriguez gave the invocation. Marge Kolman read the poem "Daffodils" by William Wordsworth, which was very appropriate for the season. Dorothy Johnson displayed an arrangement of daffodils in which she used several varieties of the flowers. Her horticulture hint was on conditioning cut plants before they are used in arrangements. She brought the tools and supplies to demonstrate step by step how to prepare them so the arrangement will remain fresh for a long period of time.

Ray Anne Carlock introduced Mr. Bobby Lemons, formerly Mitchell County Agent and now a successful farmer, as his avocation. He made a presentation on grafting trees. He brought graft sticks, tree branches plus all supplies he needed to demonstrate the grafting process. He demonstrated a straight graft and a four flap or "banana" graft. The grafts require two years to completely become part of the tree.

The following officers were elected for 1993-1994, Brenda Aguillon, president; Peggy Ratliff, first vice president; Dovie Brownfield, second vice president; Sister Guadalupe Rodriguez, secretary; Frances Myers, treasurer.

The next meeting will be April

6 at the Villa Restaurant.

Frank Brownfield, Bobby Lemons, Terry Anne McAdams, Susan Woodward and Nell Holman were welcomed as visitors and the following members were present: Carolyn Witten, Ray Anne Carlock, Marjorie Kolman, Dovie Brownfield, Frances Myers, Catharine Bell, Genivieve Moore, Alice Coles, Mary Ellis, Peggy Ratliff, Kathy Watson, Glenda Alford, Rachel Singleton, Dorothy Johnson, Sister Guadalupe Rodriguez, Sarah Scott, Sally Neff, Mary Margaret Cox, Sharon McAnally and Betsy Aycock.

Communication is key to good doctor visit

Have you ever left your doctor's office wondering whether you should have asked that important question that's been on your mind. Worse yet, have you ever left feeling a little confused about the doctor's recommended treatment plan?

If you answered yes to the above questions, you're not alone. The fact is, doctor visits can sometimes be stressful, and forgetting to ask questions about a diagnosis or treatment is common.

To make your next doctor's appointment go more smoothly, Lowell Johnson, M.D., family physician on staff at Methodist Hospital, recommends the following:

*Be prepared ahead of time. Before your appointment, make a list of topics you want to discuss. If you feel embarrassed about discussing certain issues, reading them aloud to your physician may help ease your mind.

*Be specific about symptoms you are experiencing, listing the most important or painful symptom first. Write down the time of day they occur and what they feel like.

*Inform your doctor of all medications (including over-the-counter medications) you're currently taking.

*If you don't understand something, don't be afraid to ask questions until you understand it fully. If your physician starts speaking in medical terms, ask for an explanation in layman's terms. Be sure to jot down any advice or instructions your physician gives.

*Ask for printed information that addresses your health concerns.

*At the end of the visit, review with your doctor any instructions or information given. Keep in mind that communication is a two-way street. Your doctor should be someone who you can talk with easily, without feeling intimidated. Do your part by trying to communicate clearly to your physician.

Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Inc., on the 12th day of April, 1993, and pursuant to Sections 16, 17, 37 and 43 of the Public Regulatory Act (Article 1446 (c), V.A.C.S.) and the Public Utility Commission of Texas Substantive Rule 23.23 (c) will file a Statement of Intent and Petition for Authority to Change Rates effective June 12, 1993, with the Public Utility Commission of Texas and all cities exercising original jurisdiction over its rates and tariffs.

Prior to filing, copies of the proposed revised tariffs and other pertinent data may be inspected at the office of Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Inc., P.O. Box 700, Loop 214, Stanton, Texas 79782. Telephone (915) 756-3381. Upon filing, copies of the proposed tariffs and supporting testimony and other pertinent data may be inspected in the office of the Cooperative.

A Member Rate Advisory Committee, made up of customer representatives of different rate categories are participating with the Cap Rock board in making this announcement. Cap Rock Electric has had no rate change since 1991 and the proposed 5% increase will align revenues more closely with rising inflation. Streamlining this rate filing process and addressing all intervening parties through the staff of Cap Rock will save you, the Cap Rock member, approximately $100,000, compared to traditional rate filing procedures.

All of Cap Rock's customers will be affected by the proposed change. The proposed change will increase Cap Rock's test year revenues for that class. The expected dollar increase by class is: General Service, $737,266; Small Commercial, $782,942; Irrigation, $121,947; Industrial Service, $123,266; Large Commercial, $6,735; Cotton Gins, $84,316; and Security Lights, $6,598.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify Cap Rock immediately at the above listed address and telephone number. Inquiries should be directed to Mr. John Parker.

SBA 504 program creates more than 314,000 jobs

Thanks to loans made by the Big Country Development Corporation, an independent arm of the West Central Texas Council of Governments, the dollar volume of the Small Business Administration's 504 program-small business's "window to Wall Street"-recently exceeded $2 billion in private funding through the bond market. The program also has leveraged more than $2.5 billion in first mortgage loans from commercial banks.

"SBA 504 is the way small businesses get Fortune 500 interest rates," said Scott Davis, president of the Nation Association of Development Companies, the trade group for SBA Certified Development Companies which includes the Big Country Development Corporation. "Because of the participation of the New York bond market, businesses with net worth of less than $6 million get interest rates and terms that banks don't tend to offer to small firms. Also, participating in 504 gives banks incentive to make medium-to long-term commercial loans."

Rona Scott, representative of the Big Country Development Corporation states, "The 504 program has helped more than 10 businesses in the West Texas region expand and create approximately 500 new jobs-jobs which are vital to our region during these difficult economic times. As small businesses are recognized as the major creator of jobs and a major stimulus to the economy, we expect to help even more businesses grown with 504 loans."

The Big Country Development Corporation makes SBA 504 loans according to a formula involving long-term fixed rate financing that is guaranteed by SBA, a first lien loan from a bank or other private commercial lender, and at least 10 percent capital contribution from the borrower. This loan-to-cost ratio of up to 90 percent and the low, fixed interest rate make 504 loans attractive for small business owners who want to expand but need to conserve cash for expenses.

The SBA-guaranteed portion of a 504 loan-up to 40 percent of the total loan amount-is funded through the sale of debentures on the private market. As of the February funding, $2,025,634,000 in 504 debentures have been sold. The February debentures were sold at an interest rate of 7.00%, which made the rate to borrowers for a 20-year loan less than 8 percent.

More information about SBA 504 loans and other small business assistance programs is available by contacting Rona Scott at the Big Country Development corporation, 1025 E.N. 10th, Abilene, (915) 672-8544.
