On The BEAM

By J. W. King, Sr.

Right now The Mitchell County News has a campaign on for new subscribers. We have a double purpose in the campaign, getting new subscribers and also getting in some cash that is needed for some major repairs we are doing to our equipment.

Though our subscription list is not as big as some papers claim they have on theirs we cover the territory rather thoroughly for it is difficult to find more than 100 people in the area who are not already subscribers.

The News has always tried to publish a paper that is both interesting and informative. How well we do, of course, depends upon the cooperation we get from people who make the news. It is not possible for us to have a reporter everywhere at the same time so we have to depend a great deal on people calling us to report news. We are grateful for that and wish that more wou'd do so.

I think that every family who lives in the Loraine area should subscribe for the home-town paper. Anyone who lives in a community and makes his living in it should be interested enough in the welfare of the community to subscribe for the home paper. There is no need for me to tell you that the home paper is the only one published anywhere in the world that cares whether or not Loraine has a post office, railroad depot, bank, hospital, school or churches--all the things that make your property more valuable.

FIELD DEMONSTRATIONS PROVE VALUE OF SOIL TESTING

College Station, Feb. 6 A group of Cherokee county corn growers know that fertilizing according to soil test recommendations doesn't cost but pays. The farmers, cooperating with County Agricultural Agent Steve Lilly, conducted demonstrations last year on their farms to compare yields from plots fertilized according to soil test recommendations and from others where usual rates of fertilizer were used.

In a summary report from Lilly to W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, the value of soil testing for determining fertilizer needs was definitely proven. From the plots which were fertilized according to the farmer's choice, an average of 48.7 bushels of corn an acre was harvested at a cost of $8.40 an acre for plant food. Corn fertilized according to soil test recommendations produced at the rate of 63.4 bushels and fertilizer costs averaged $14.70 an acre.

By Following the soil tests recommendations, the demonstrators produced an extra 14.7 bushels of corn from the additional $5.77 an acre spent for fertilizer above their usual rate of application.

With corn figured at $1.25 a bushel, Bennett said the extra corn meant an additional $18.38 an acre income. Since the soil test cost $2.00 and the extra fertilizer $5.77, they should be deducted, Bennett said. The result a nice profit of $12.61 an acre in favor of the soil test.

On a 20-acre corn crop, the chemist pointed out, the use of soil test recommendations could mean an additional $250 profit, a significant sum in these days of the ever-tightening cost-price squeeze.

Senior Class Will Present The Skeleton Walks February 17

The seniors are working hard on their play, with the time set for presentation of the play "The Skeleton Walks", on February 17.

Last week in these columns you read a beginning of the summary of the play, today we add part of the story to the plot which we hope will make you want to attend the production, without fail.

Remember the plot is laid in a lonely old house situated on a small island connected to the mainland by only one bridge. To this deserted place come Elaine Blair, (Gala Liles) her lawyer-fiance (Jackie Narrell) and her mother, Mrs. Madge Embrey (Glenda Richard), to look over the property which Elaine has inherited at her uncle's death. To their surprise they find the house in the posession of a suave and mysterious physician, Dr. Fersig (Larry Young) by name his sinister housekeeper (Glenda Richard) and her deaf-mute son, Ollie Hubbard (Dora Griffin.)

The old house is worthless, but both Elaine and Dr. Fersig know that a large sum of money is secreted somewhere on the premises. Thinking the visitors have left the island, and wanting to search for the money unmolested Dr. Fersig directs the deaf-mute to blow up the bridge. But to his chagrin they return, having stopped at an old well on the island to eat a picnic supper. Because the bridge is destroyed, they decide to spend the night in the old house.

Next week in this column you may read the last of the summary of the play, "The Skeleton Walks," and that night go to the school cafetorium and attend the production. The class assure's you that you will not be disappointed.

Ten calves will be turned into the arena for each go- round. Boys must catch and halter the calves and lead across the finish line. Purchase certificates to be used to purchase livestock for 4-H and FFA projects will be awarded winners in the Scramble.

Loraine F. F. A. Will Exhibit At Houston

The Loraine Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, will exhibit 12 fat lambs in the Junior Division of the 1961 Houston Fat Stock Show, February 22 through March 5.

New records have already been established for this year's show, the 29th annual event.

Houstton will have the largest steer show and the largest junior livestock show in the nation. It also boasts the largest amount of premium monies paid anywhere, more than $160,000 to livestock alone.

On a national basis, it will also have the most teams in judging contests and will present the most trophies (over 300 trophies valued in excess of $7,000.) Houston has long held the title of having the World's Largest Calf Scramble.

New to the show will be a sale of Santa Gertrudis cattle. Other breeds sales include those of Herefords, Aberdeen-Angus, Charolais, Shorthorns and Quarter Horses.

There will be eleven breeds of cattle, eleven breeds of sheep and four breeds of horses shown.

The unique Salt Grass Trail ride will again lead the way to the show from Brenham, Texas. The ride, which will consist of approximately 2,000 horseback riders and 65 chuck-wagons has been extended to a four-day trip beginning on Saturday, February 18.

The parade, a pageant of the old west, will consist of an estimated 10,000 persons (about 4,000 on horeback) and 150 chuck wagons.

Reservations can be made by writing the Ticket Director, Houston Fat Stock Show & Rodeo, 3005 Louisiana, Houston 6, Texas or calling Capitol 4-6075.

Snow which began falling here last Saturday night following a late afternoon thunder shower that preceded a cold front continued through Monday and into the night.

Residents who have lived here a long time say this was the heaviest snow and continued longer than any they can remember.

Snow is difficult to measure accurately but this one was in the neighborhood of seven, eight or nine inches. A strong wind Saturday night drifted the snow but after that the wind was calm most of the time. Tuesday morning the editor selected a level place in his yard and the snow measured 6 inches there. Some of the snow had melted Monday however.

The rain gauge kept by volunteer weather observer J. W. King has a three gallon bucket in which to catch rain and of course it caught the snow, a bucket level full, which measured 8 inches and some had spilled over the sides of the bucket.

The snow with the little shower Saturday left .85 moisture.

Traffic has been slowed down to a crawl. Cars had difficulty traveling where there was even a little incline but so far we have heard of no wrecks that caused injury or damage in this immediate area. Except that one truck turned over on Highway 80 Saturday night. The accident was not caused by slick roads however. The driver of the truck was not hurt badly but he lost a load of gasoline.

Tuesday morning after a fog held on for a while the sun came out and the thaw was started.

Farmers say that the soil is wet deeper now than it has been at this time of the year for a long time. It has been a cold winter and with moisture the ground has been frozen several inches deep on several occasions. This process loosened the soil and the moisture has penetrated to a great depth.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Compton are announcing the birth of a baby boy born at 12:15 a. m. Feb. 3, at the Simmons Hospital in Sweetwater.

Contributions to the Lions Club Cemetery Fund during 1960 (including sale of lots) amounted to approximately $656.50, according to J. W. King who collects and spends the money for the upkeep of the cemetery.

The cemetery now is in very good shape but unless contributions in 1961 are more generous then they were in 1960 and previous years it cannot be kept that way.

It is time now to make 1961 contributions but up to now only a very few have contributed. In only a short time weeds will begin to grow and if more contributions are not made no funds will be available to combat them. Perhaps you think keeping down the weeds is the only thing done in the cemetery, but that isn't true for one of the biggest jobs the workers do is to keep graves filled when they settle, haul the rocks out, trim trees and other things that make a cemetery look well-kept. Keeping the weeds down, however, is a major task especially in a seasonable year.

If the new weed burner recently given to the cemetery by Mrs. V. H. Wimberley can be used successfuily the problem of keeping down the weeds will be somewhat lessened. That does not mean, however, that more contributions are not needed for all that can be expected of it is that the ground can be covered more rapidly and more often.

Contributions will be gratefully received any time now. During the past week contributions included Mrs. J. C. Hall, Sr., $5.00, Mrs. Mollie Lindsey, $5.00.

Mrs. Lester Webb returned home Saturday from Wink where she had visited since Wednesday with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Nix while Mr. Webb and Linton Ray attended the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth.

Today's MEDITATION
from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room
© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Ephesians 2:1-10

By grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God. Ephesians 2:8.

While I was conducting a preaching mission in a village in the United Arab Republic, a man called Yassa invited three others and me for lunch. He prepared us a rich banquet at his house. He greeted us so nicely, saying, "We are greatly honored. Feel at home and help yourselves." Suddenly, his eyes were moist with tears. He hurried at once to another room and shut himself in. As his wife saw my surprise, she stepped in and said, "I am sorry My husband is a drunkard. He can't enjoy a meal unless he drinks. He wept because he couldn't eat with you"

A few minutes later, our host came back. He looked at me and said: ,'Please don't preach at me. I know more than you do what wine is. I have tried all means to overcome it, but in vain."

I replied: "I am not going to preach at you. I believe every word you say. But may I just add a word, There is a power that can save you. You need not try it; just trust it. It is the grace of Jesus the Saviour. Take hold of it through faith."

He did, and won a victory..

Prayer: Our loving Father, source of every good gift, grant us Thy gift of faith that links us with our all-powerful Saviour, through whom we become more than conquerors. In His name. Amen.

Thought for the day: Faith displaces our weakness with God's Power.

By Vern Sanford

Warsaw is a city in Poland. Warsaw also is the name of a fish— a huge deep-sea fish that moves in, around the offshore banks, during January, February and March.

A member of the giant sea bass family, this fish will range from "babies" of 30 to 40 pounds, to "gramps" of 200 to 300 pounds.

These fish are the "extra added attractions" to the Texas Gulf coast's red snapper fishing during the cold weather months.

Actually warsaw can be caught the year around, but getting to them in the summer means a long, long boat ride. The fish move to the banks near shore only in the winter.

Close banks are those 20 to 40 miles offshore. During the summer the fish are caught in much deeper water at the banks 70 to 150 miles out.

The warsaw doesn't have game-fish qualities. No leaping or surface cavorting like a tarpon or sailfish; no reel-singing runs of a kingfish.

But the warsaw appeals to thousands of fishermen—sports and professionals alike. It's a fish that will stock your freezer with choice eating for months to come.

Commercial fishermen go after the big warsaw with nylon hand-lines testing 200-pounds. They're in the business of selling fish and aren't concerned with fighting the fish. They're in a hurry to deck the brute and then try for a second, third and so forth.

Some commerical fishermen have regular warsaw reels which they slip into sockets on the boat's rails. They call them "bicycle reels," That is exactly what they resemble — crank handles, sprocket, chain drive and all. Other fishermen use small deck winches to do the job.

Most sports fishermen, however, prefer to battle the warsaw with rod and reel. They may miss the leaps and long runs of game-fish, but they can count on a warsaw giving them a real tug-of war.

Most popular warsaw bait is a big sand trout, or a small red snapper—a two or three pounder. The sinker usually weighs a pound. You need that much weight to reach bottom in 50 or 60 feet of water if there is any kind of current running.

Warsaws don't make sudden strikes, so you don't have to be prepared for a sudden jolt. Instead the fish sort of "inhales" the bait, and then starts to swim back toward its den or hole in the coral formations.

Your first job is to turn the fish, keep it from getting back into the hole. It means putting a tremendous strain on the rod. If the fish gets back in the hole, you'll probably lose it since the sharp coral will cut the line.

A warsaw is strictly a bottom fish. That's where he does all his fighting.

Once you get the fish moving up, he's yours unless you goof and give him sufficient slack line to dive.

If you get the fish halfway up, he's generally licked for the change in water pressure will cause his stomack to burst and render him helpless. He'll come up quick then. All that remains is to slip a rope through his mouth and gills and haul him aboard.

You need large hooks and a long wire lead as terminal tackle. Your rod and reel should be of the big game variety. Some sportsmen beat the work of having to reel in the fish by using electric reels, Most charter boats running bank trips have electrical outlets for such reels.

Warsaw runs usually start in January, although if the weather is unusually cold they are often cought in December. Most consistent warsaw catches are made in February and March The runs taper off after that.

Earlier I referred to the fish as an "extra added attraction" to winter snapper fishing. Actually not many sportsmen go out solely for warsaw. They go out after the big sow red snappers. Then if they find warsaw around, they try for them.

Usually the fishermen put one line over the side of the boat for snappers and a second one for warsaw. That way they're sure of bringing home some kind of meat.

Speaking of meat, warsaw flesh is delicious. It's white and firm. It can be fried, baked or broiled in a chowder.

But dressing out a warsaw is no job for the amateur. The fish has to be skinned and you need a saw to cut off the head.

Most fish markets will dress out warsaw, cut the meat into steaks and package it for freezing, for prices ranging from seven to 10 cents a pound. It's worth it. An amateur would need a day to do the job properly.

If you take a 100-pound warsaw in for dressing, don't expect to get back much more than 70 pounds of meat. There's a huge weight loss in the dressing process. You won't be far off if you figure the weight loss at 30 percent.

Warsaw hide can be cured and tanned for making such items as briefcases, billfolds and purses. There are several such businesses in Florida.

If you're interested in catching a big warsaw, remember that the first three months of the year are the best.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I am receiving railroad retirement payments and also veterans' pension. In filling out the income questionaire received from VA, do I report my railroad retirement payments as "annual income" anticipated for 1961, or is this exempted:

A. If you are receiving pension under the old pension law, do not count your railroad retirement as income. If you came on the pension rolls after June 30, 1960, or changed from the old to the new law after that date, you must report as income all railroad retirement payments above the amount you contributed the railroad retirement fund.

Q. What is the difference between Death Compensation and Dependency and Indemnity Compensation?

A. Death Compensation is paid to eligible survivors of servicemen and veterans whose death, due to service, occurred before January 1, 1957. Dependency and Indemnity Compensation is paid to survivors of servicemen and veterans who die in service or from a service-incurred disability after that date. Death compensation rates are set by law and vary only according to the number of dependents. Dependency and Indemnity Compensation rates are based partially on the serviceman's or veteran's rank in service at time of death.

Q. Where can I apply for VA domiciliary care?

A. Applications for domiciliary care may be made by the veteran or by his guardian or representative at any VA office.

Q. Do VA offices and hospitals exist in the new states, Alaska and Hawaii?

A. There are VA offices in both Hawaii and Alaska. However, the VA has no hosptals in either one of the new states. Veterans are given care through contract beds in private hospitals.

AUTO LICENSE PLATES ARE NOW ON SALE

Austin, Texas - February 1 - February-March is the renewal period for motor vehicle license plates in Texas, announced State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer today.

Texans will notice a newly designed license plate for 1961. A different style of letters and numerals have been used to make the plate more readable from a distance. Black letters and numerals on a white background is the color scheme for 1961.

A new numbering system will be used for some classifications such as trailers, truck tractors and buses. These classifcations will have a one-letter prefix with from two to five digit numerals. For example: A trailer number could be A-10 or A-12345. The numbering system for other classifications will remain the same as 1960. The change in the system was brought about by the ever increasing number of registered vehicles in Texas.

The Texas Highway Department estimated that vehicle registration in Texas for 1960 will total 4,800,000. This places Texas third in the nation in registered vehicles following California and New York.

"Texas should reach the seven-million mark by the end of this decade," Greer said. "There are more vehicles in Texas today than there were Texans in 1920 and the percent of increase in motor vehicles in Texas in the last four decades is twenty times the percent of increase in population. There are two Texans for every Texas-registered motor vehicle."

Greer stressed the importance of registering all automobiles and trucks in the county of the vehicle owner's residence.

"Do not ask the County Tax Collector to violate the law. He is required to demand to see your certificate of title and 1960 license receipt before he can issue your 1961 plates."

The penalty for operating a vehicle without home-county license plates is the same as operating a vehicle with no plates at all. Court fine can be as much as $200, plus being required to register in the home county with a 20 pecent penalty of the annual fee. Refunds cannot be granted for the illegl plates.

Owners registering illegally in 1961 can expect to face court charges.

"Don't risk an illegal registration," Greer urged. "Remember, too, that a portion of all registration fees stays in your home county to benefit your local community."

PONTIAC EMPHASIZES PASSENGER COMFORT IN 1961 MODELS

The engineering attention focused on improved passenger compartment design in the 1961 Pontiac is unparalleled in our history, says S. E. Knudsen, vice president of General Motors and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

"The various comfort and safety advances within the new compartment are tailored to satisfy even the most exacting demands reflected in customer research surveys over the past three years," he points out.

Knudsen lists improved head room, increased seat height, easier entrance and exit, and a new anti-glare instrument panel as the most significant interior innovations.

"Substantially more compartment space is realized from Pontiac's lowering of the floor in the passenger area-a change made possible by our adoption of a perimeter-type frame," he explains. "The immediate benefits is an increase in head room by as much as two inches in some models. In addition, the lower floor enables a better than two-inch increase in front seat height with respect to the car floor and controls. This gives both the driver and passengers added support under the upper leg area and, a natural more comfortable, relaxed sitting position may be assumed. And, by increasing the front seat bottom clearance over the floor, we provide rear seat occupants with greater leg room and a better flow of heater air.

"Also contributing to greater passenger comfort, according to Knudsen, is a pad of one-inch foam which cushions front seat on all new Pontiacs and rear seats on most models.

"Passengers will find it much easier to get in and out of the new Pontiac," he continues. Doors open as much as five inches wider due to a new hinge design and the windshield corner or "dog-leg" has been virtually eliminated. Also enhancing driver entry and exit is a 12 per cent improvement in front seat to steering wheel clearance.

Pontiac's new instrument panel features a cove shape and lucite face for optimum glare resistance. A safety cushion completely encircles the face of the panel. New instrument clusters, gages, control knobs, and panel lighting are designed for the ultimate in driver and passenger convenience.

(Motor Trend CAR OF THE YEAR Award goes to Tempest!)

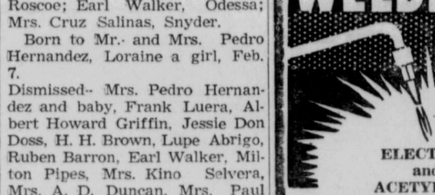

The editors of this top-flight magazine voted solidly for Pontiac's newcomer—the Tempest. Here's what they said: "We studied 28 American cars. The Tempest flexible drive-shaft is the most sensible, dependable power train we've seen!" "Equalizing the weight on the front and rear wheels gives the Tempest great traction and ride." "The Tempest 4-cylinder engine should do wonders for gas economy." Take it from these car experts. See your Pontiac dealer.
