VIOLENT STORMS CONTINUE OFF PACIFIC COAST

Entire Midwest Expected To Be Covered By Snow Tonight

(By The United Press)

The weatherman predicted snow for the entire midwest tonight, and said that violent storms will continue off Oregon and Prince Rupert, B. C., where a tug and a cargo vessel carrying 34 crewmen were reported in distress.

An "extensive" storm was reported in Kansas, and the federal weather bureau here said that snow had been sweeping across Colorado, Nebraska, and Wyoming since yesterday afternoon.

The forecast for the midwest was for rain today, becoming mixed with snow tonight.

The weather bureau also said that a Pacific storm was churning eastward from south of the Aleutians, puffing winds of up to 50 miles an hour along a 1,200-mile front. Observers expected the storm to hit the Pacific northwest tonight with full force.

The two distressed ships were caught by a preceding storm which swooped from the Alaskan gulf in the wake of fierce gales that claimed four lives, sank or damaged four ships, and left three persons missing.

The 116-foot tug Monarch, towing two log cribs to Seattle, flashed a distress signal reporting that its rudder was gone and it was drifting helplessly with 14 aboard 30 miles northwest of Prince Rupert.

The converted freighter Herald of the Morning, an 8,000-ton vessel with 20 aboard, was buffeted by high waves off Oregon after becoming a battering ram that stove in the hull of an escorting tug, killing a man. It was feared that the ship might come ashore along South Beach, Wash., and smash against the jetty there.

A weathership 540 miles south of Kodiak, Alaska, reported that 50-mile-an-hour winds had dumped high seas over her decks.

Light Snow Falls During Day; More Said In Prospect

Following arrival of two cold fronts, snow began falling in Lubbock about 10:30 o'clock this morning and was continuing in intermittent light flurries early this afternoon.

Temperature was only 38 degrees at 1:10 o'clock this afternoon and was about 35 degrees lower than at the same time Wednesday. Lubbock's minimum temperature this morning was 36 degrees.

SIX HURT IN STORM

MONROE, La., Nov. 18 (AP)—Six persons were injured in a small tornado which struck in two places near Delhi, La., about 8 a. m. today, Delhi Town Marshal H. F. Morris reported to radio station KNOE here.

Bob Dumm of KNOE quoted Morris as saying two of the six persons required hospital attention. They were Cleis Ray, who suffered a hip injury, and Mattie Jones, knee injury. They are being brought to the Monroe hospital.

The other injured were Ray's wife and eight-year-old daughter, and Ethel Gray and Ernestine Carter. All suffered cuts and bruises.

The U. S. Weather bureau station north of Lubbock forecast a drop in temperature to the lower 20's early Friday morning.

Flurries To Continue

Snow had not fallen in sufficient quantity to cover the ground in this immediate area. Snow flurries were expected to continue for remainder of the afternoon, the weather station reported.

At Amarillo, a thin blanket of snow was on the ground and snow still was falling at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Cold Fronts Arrive

A cold front which had developed Wednesday afternoon along the eastern slopes of the Rockies passed through Lubbock about 11 o'clock Wednesday night and a secondary cold front, which had originated in the Pacific Northwest, passed through Lubbock at 6 o'clock this morning, according to the weather station.

Wind, while only slightly stronger than Wednesday's wind from the south, was variable from north and northwest this morning. Sustained velocity was 34 miles per hour at 1:10 p. m. today. Wednesday's wind, which whipped up dust clouds over the South Plains, reached a sustained high of 28 miles per hour.

Forecast For Area

The forecast for this immediate area calls for a maximum of near 40 degrees Friday.

Clarendon's minimum temperature was 37 degrees this morning and Amarillo's low was 32 degrees.

Snow was reported at Amarillo, Borger, Pampa and most other north Panhandle points, the Associated Press reported. A 40-mile-

Uncle Sam To Bolster Marine Force In China

Possibility Of Conflict With Reds Is Seen

Reinforcements To Aid In Evacuation; To Sail From Guam

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—The United States, bolstering its marine force in China, left open today the question of whether "circumstances" might lead to armed conflict with Communist troops.

The Navy said 1,250 leathernecks will sail from Guam next Tuesday to reinforce the 3,600-man marine garrison at Tsingtao.

Assist In Evacuation

This force, said the Navy in adding details to a surprise news conference announced by Secretary of Defense Forrestal, "will assist in the orderly evacuation of United States nationals through the port of Tsingtao."

Forrestal was asked by reporters whether the marines will fight if the Communist armies attack Tsingtao. That, replied Forrestal, is a matter for the State department to decide.

At the State department, Press Officer Michael J. McDermott took this position:

"The answer is that it all depends on circumstances and there is no answer now. I don't know what the answer will be. I can't pretend to say now what they will do in certain circumstances."

On the basis of information available here, the circumstances at this time are these:

Victory Over Reds Claimed

NANKING, Nov. 18. (AP)—The government claimed complete victory in the Suchow battle today.

Gen. Chang Liu-Shih, official military spokesman, told his weekly press conference:

Casualties Asserted

The spokesman asserted 130,000 casualties were inflicted on the Reds against 40,000 suffered by Nationalists.

Other government sources said the government won at least the opening phase of the Suchow battle against 300,000 veteran troops. This victory, they added, means Nanking is safe at least for a month or longer.

Air Power Furnished

Gen. Chow Chih-Jou's rejuvenated air force furnished the balance of power which apparently threw back Red Gen. Chen Yi's troops.

Favored with a perfect combination of clear, excellent weather, bright moonlight nights, and an enemy carelessly concentrated in the open plains around Suchow, Chou's warplanes made the Communist positions untenable by around-the-clock bombing and strafing.

Marshall Will Review World Crisis Monday

Defense Steps In Emergency Period Mapped By Leaders

(By The Associated Press)

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 18—President Truman today designated John Foster Dulles as acting chairman of the United States delegation to the United Nations in his first official post-election endorsement of this country's bi-partisan foreign policy.

Dulles will be acting chairman during the absence of Secretary of State Marshall, who will be in Washington Monday for conferences with Mr. Truman.

The President at the same time appointed Benjamin Cohen as as chief United States delegate to the UN general assembly in Paris to replace Republican Warren Austin, who has returned to the United States because of illness.

Marshall To Report

During Austin's illness, Dean Rusk, a State department official, will serve in Cohen's place as alternate delegate.

Dulles served as foreign policy adviser to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, GOP presidential nominee, whom Mr. Truman defeated in the November election.

Secretary Marshall is returning to the United States for a full scale review of the peace outlook with President Truman at the White House Monday.

Meanwhile, Secretary of Defense Forrestal flew here for a talk foreshadowing possibly historic diplomatic and defense steps to preserve the precarious peace.

The ominous march of events in China and the threat of further trouble in Europe and elsewhere furnished a backdrop for his talk with President Truman at the temporary "White House."

Forrestal had lunch with the

Hoffman Removal Would Bring Fight

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—Any administration move to dislodge Paul G. Hoffman as chief of the European recovery program seems likely to provoke a fight in Congress.

President Truman recently took issue with a Hoffman policy decision to turn grain export dealings over to private traders December 1.

This, combined with scheduled conferences here next week between W. Averell Harriman, Marshall plan ambassador at large, the President and Secretary of State Marshall, spawned a crop of rumors that Hoffman might be on the way out.

If he is, Republicans and some Democrats in Congress may voice vigorous protests.

Effective In Senate

One influential Republican senator, who declined use of his name, told a reporter today he and most of his colleagues would fight any change on the grounds that Hoffman has done a good job.

Their protests could be effective, however, only in voting on Senate confirmation of any successor Mr. Truman might pick.

Hoffman, an automobile manufacturer and a Republican, was reported to have been chosen to head the recovery administration at the insistence of Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich).

While Vandenberg will step down as chairman of the foreign relations committee when the Democrats take over the new Congress in January, he will remain as Republican spokesman on foreign policy.

Thus few in Congress think the administration would affront him deliberately, in view of Mr. Truman's indications that he wants to keep major foreign policy moves on a bipartisan basis.

Sentence Given Here In Theft

Judge G. V. Pardue of the 99th district court this morning allowed suspension of a five-year sentence pronounced after Johnnie Johnson, 44, of Big Spring had waived a jury and pleaded guilty of felony theft.

Assistant District Attorney A. W. Salyars represented to the court that Johnson had stolen parts off a truck Aug. 10 on the L. A. Howard farm nine miles northeast of Lubbock. The defendant, it was brought out, served 90 days in jail before the trial, and had made restitution of the automotive parts.

Roy Carpenter and Byron Chappell represented the defendant.

The sheriff's department was informed of a burglary of the residence of G. R. Bufe two miles south of Woodrow. A woman's coat, a man's leather jacket, khaki trousers and a pair of gloves were taken.

Auto Is Recovered

An automobile reported stolen a day earlier from R. G. Snodgrass of Lubbock was recovered by the Texas Highway patrol at Anton.

George W. Daniel, 38, a negro, was placed under $1,000 bond to appear before a Nov. 29 grand jury on a charge of felony theft by bailee. The case was filed by Salyars, upon oath of M. E. Carver, in the court of D. W. Robertson, justice of peace. The defendant was arrested by Frank Mitchell, a deputy sheriff, and Razz Renfrow, a Texas Ranger,

Three Are Injured In Fire At Quanah

QUANAH, Nov. 18 (AP) — Fire swept the two-story Willis rooming house here last night, seriously burning three persons.

The second story of the rooming house, long a landmark here, was burned out by the blaze, which was brought under control in a half hour.

ROBSTOWN, Nov. 18 (AP) — Two King Bros. circus equipment trucks collided here at 1.30 a. m. today, caught fire and blazed furiously for more than eight hours. The loss was estimated at $30,000.

Lynwood Smith of Emporia, Va., circus employe, suffered third-degree burns.

Armed Pair Captured In Kansas Shooting

WELLINGTON, Kas., Nov. 18 (AP)—Two armed men sought by Oklahoma authorities were wounded and captured in an exchange of shots with a Wellington policeman today, Chief of Police Jimmie Little reported.

They were identified by Little as A. D. Pitt, 25, and Ray Dee Smith, 16. Their arrest about 7:26 a. m., he said, followed a pickup order broadcast by Oklahoma highway patrol radio from near Enid at 6 a. m. The report, he said, was that two men had just been seen in a car leaving Pond Creek, Okla., after a series of robberies.

Man Sought Water, But Got Only Gas

MINOT, N. D., Nov. 18. (AP)—George Adams, farmer near Lansford, dug a deep well for water but instead will cook and heat and light his home with the natural gas he struck at 297 feet.

The driller, certain he had hit water at that depth, put down the casing.

"All of a sudden—whoosh—and the shaft let loose with the gas," explained Adams. He is optimistic about the supply because his well lies between two other natural gas producers that have been serving several farm homes for many years.

"Now all we gotta do is find water," he concluded.

Houston University Buildings Planned

HOUSTON, Nov. 18. (U.P.)—An $8,000,000 building program for 1949 was announced today by the University of Houston.

President E. E. Oberholtzer said the board of regents would ask for bids next summer on five new buildings, including a library, an engineering building, a junior college building, physical education building and a religious center.

The physical education building, according to current plans, would also house a gymnasium accommodating between 6,000 and 7,000 persons.

New Tax Talk Heard

Knutson Says Corporations Levy Too Low

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—Rep. Knutson (R-Minn), author of the law that cut individuals' taxes, said today the corporation income tax ought to be boosted.

"A number of large corporations," Knutson told reporters, "are making too much money."

He said he has 'given up any thought" of further slashes in taxes for the individual.

Hike Is Mentioned

Knutson said he is going to leave those ideas with the new chairman of the congressional committee that writes tax bills.

For corporations, he mentioned a 4 per cent tax hike that would bring in about $1,100,000. The rate now is 38 per cent on income over $50,000, after the usual deductions are allowed.

Knutson pointed to the steel industry as an example of companies he said are making too much money.

"It should be siphoned off in the form of increased taxes," he said, "but not in the form of excess profits taxes in peacetime."

Retired By Voters

Knutson can't do anything about it himself. Minnesota voters retired him after 32 years in Congress—the last two years as chairman of the tax-drafting House ways and means committee.

The former chairman, Rep. Doughton (D-NC), will take over again when the Democrats start running the new Congress in January.

Knutson said he had been thinking about a higher corporate income tax ever since President Truman indicated next year's budget might go beyond $42,000,000,000.

Mr. Truman and the administration at various times have backed a plan for reviving an excess profits tax on corporations. Such a tax was imposed during the war and repealed in 1945 .

Rep. Dingell (D-Mich) last year introduced an administration bill that would have revived the profits tax in modified form.

Knutson said his objection to that kind of levy is that it "dis-

Shipments Of Grain To Houston Stopped

HOUSTON, Nov. 18, (AP)—Grain shipments to Port Houston were under embargo today except where special permits are issued.

The embargo, requested Tuesday night by Port Director William F. Heavey, became effective at 3:46 p. m. yesterday on order of the car service division of the American Railroads association.

Heavey had asked the action after receiving information that approximately 1,200 freight cars of grain were being diverted to Houston because of the longshoremen's strike in North Atlantic ports.

Liquid Diet To Last Through Thanksgiving

Sunday Morning Yawn Costs Lubbock Woman Use Of Jaw

Mrs. Leonard V. Gill, a young housewife of 2019 Main, today had her jaw bandaged tightly shut and was beginning a three-week, all-liquid diet—just because of a yawn.

Mrs. Gill awoke early Sunday morning, yawned widely, and felt a painful snap in her left jaw.

When pain from the injury continued, she went to a local dentist for an examination. A preliminary check showed no dislocation of the jaw, and Mrs. Gill was told that the pain probably would soon subside.

It did not, however, so Wednesday morning she returned for a second examination. Two X-rays were taken, and showed that the left jawbone definitely was cracked. A bandage was placed about her head, to keep the jaw tightly closed.

Now Mrs. Gill is on the injury-imposed diet, as she cannot chew until the broken bone mends.

ALL POST-SEASON TILTS ARE "OUT"

Bid To Sun Bowl Declined By Tech

Texas Tech athletic officials today declined "with thanks" a bid to the New Year's Sun Bowl football classic, and at the same time shut the gate on the possibility of Tech's appearance in any other post-season grid classic this season.

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of the college, announced the athletic council's decision immediately after a meeting to consider a bid to appear as host team in the Sun bowl at El Paso.

"Texas Tech has carefully considered the invitation for the college to represent the Border conference in the annual Sun bowl game in El Paso," Dr. Wiggins' announcement stated. "Officials of the college feel that the 1948 season will have extended far enough at the conclusion of scheduled games. Therefore, the Sun Bowl carnival invitation is being declined with thanks."

TEXAS MINES INVITED

EL PASO, Nov. 18 (AP)—The Sun bowl game selection committee today asked Texas College of Mines to represent the Border conference in El Paso's New Year day gridiron contest.

Dee Belding, chairman of the committee extended the invitation to the local school after Texas Tech declined a bid to the post-season game.

Members of the school's athletic council will meet Saturday to consider the invitation. There were indications the Miners will accept. They apparently will wind up in second place in the conference standings, behind Texas Tech, defending champion.

The reference to the length of the 1948 season precluded the possibility that Tech will accept any bowl invitation this season, a college spokesman said.

An invitation to play in the newly-established Permian bowl at Odessa, received by President Wiggins only last night, was also considered at the meeting, and similarly declined.

Players Oppose Games

The attitude of Raider players toward a post-season game was a factor in the council's decision, the college spokesman said. Coach Dell Morgan had discussed the matter with players earlier this week, after receipt of the Sun bowl invitation Monday, and the players expressed a general desire not to engage in any post-season

Jester To Ask Change In Law

DALLAS, Nov. 18 (U.P.)—Gov Beauford Jester told reporters in an impromptu interview today that he would propose a four-year-term for Texas governors when the legislature convenes in January.

He made the statement as the third annual meeting of the Texas Association of Democratic Chairmen opened here today.

The state's chief executive said he first would make his proposal to the legislature but that it eventually would have to be presented to the people as a constitutional amendment and would be subject to the voters approval.

Does Not Have Time

He said his reasons for advocating the change in the length of the governor's term was that in two years, a statesman does not have time to do proper justice to the office.

"When a governor enters office and the legislature already has been in session about two weeks," he interposed; "it is like a pitcher going into a ball game with no outs, three men on base and a three-two count on the batter."

He added that during the first six months of the legislative term, the governor is swamped with legislative matters for at least four months.

He's Always Busy

This situation, the governor pointed out, does not give a chief executive of the state time for

Health Plan To Be Asked

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Nov. 18 (AP)—A plan for government health insurance "for everybody" will be recommended to the next Congress, a high government official disclosed here.

Arthur J. Altmeyer of Washington, Social Security administrator, emphasized the program will call for health insurance and not "socialized medicine."

Altmeyer yesterday told 100 regional and national officials of the Social Security administration that the proposal, which would be operated similar to the way workers and employers pay for social security, will be recommended as part of an improved social security program.

Disagrees With AMA'

He disagreed with the American Medical association which has constantly opposed health insurance as "socialized medicine" and defined health insurance as "a system of spreading the cost of medical care."

"Health insurance won't do away with private hospitals, private doctors or private nurses," he declared.

"Persons having the insurance will be able to pay hospital and medical bills, choosing his own hospital and doctor," he said. "Such insurance will protect people who are caught short of funds or who could not afford the medical care they need."

Unified Western Europe Is Urged By American Delegate

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Nov. 18. — John Foster Dulles said today Americans want a strong and unified western Europe capable of standing up for itself.

In a prepared speech to the American Club of Paris, Dulles denounced as "ignoble" any charge that the United States wants to use Europe merely as a base for achieving world mastery. He said it was absurd for some to claim that the United States wants to dump its surplus goods in Europe.

Dulles, an American delegate to the United Nations assembly, warned that if western Europe chooses to remain feeble and disunited, its separate pieces may be drawn, one at a time, "into the orbit of the east."

Americans will not tie their fate indefinitely to a western Europe that insists on disunity, he said.

He emphasized that his speech was not an expression of an official American position.

Abilene Housewife, After Mercy Course, Has Great Responsibility As Polio Hits In Texas

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Mrs. R. O. Pearson, a tall, blue-eyed 40-year-old housewife from Abilene, Tex., with a tight coil of blonde braid around her head, took a course in mercy.

She learned how to administer hot packs to children suffering from poliomyelitis, how to feed them and take their temperatures, and when to call a nurse.

"But it was always something that happened to somebody else," Mrs. Pearson said today.

Polio Comes To Texas

Then infantile paralysis came to Texas—1,612 cases where there had been 185 the year before, and to Abilene—49 children hospitalized at one time where there had been six at the height of last year's "season."

"We had a very sinking feeling," Mrs. Pearson said of herself and the 23 other polio emergency volunteers in her community.

"Seven suddenly developed colds," she said. "Or their grandchildren came for visits, or they just had to go out of town."

The other 16 women just gritted their teeth and went to work, Mrs. Pearson said.

Not Romantic

"When something holds on all year, it's not romantic or exciting, it's just hard work. But it had to be done."

Mrs. Pearson and hundreds of other women in Texas and in other epidemic areas around the country did it.

"It was a frightening responsibility," she said. "At first you're afraid to do even the simplest pack without asking the physical therapist if it's right. Then after a while the children get so they can tell you if you're getting it in the right place. And you get to know."

One Of Four Advisers

Mrs. Pearson is one of Texas' four advisers on women's activities to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. She and the other women—the ones who told mothers not to worry, who opened their homes to the nurses rushed to epidemic areas, who drove automobiles and answered telephones and worked in the hospitals—learned another thing about polio this year, she said.

Of the funds states have sent to the foundation—50 per cent of all march of dimes contributions—in the past 11 years, 70 per cent has come back to Texas, Mrs. Pearson said. "And it's still coming."

AIRLIFT GETS A LIFT—Another airfield in the western part of Berlin is ready to help out the Allied airlift. A French guard of honor watches the first plane land on Tegel Airfield, in the French sector. The plane, an American Skymaster, dropped onto the runway of the field, built by 15,000 Germans almost by hand.

Labor Disputes In Texas Are At Low

AUSTIN, Nov. 18.(AP) — Texas labor disputes were at their lowest level of the year in October, only two new cases occuring during the month, the Texas Employment commission reported today.

One of the two disputes involved 1,200 workers and was settled 11 days after it began. The other affected 57 workers and is still in progress. Four other controversies which had originated in April, June, August and September were settled. They had involved 146 workers.

Twenty-one labor disputes involving 1,434 workers continued at the end of October, said R. M. McKinley, a member of the TEC.

Dallas had four controversies during October. Houston, Port Arthur and San Antonio had three each, and Banquette, Beaumont, Bridgeport, Corpus Christi, Dumas, Elgin, Fort Worth, Gainsville, Galveston, Greenville, Katy, Odessa and Pasadena one each.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.(AP)—Henry A. Wallace, Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin and the very Rev. Hewlett Johnson, so-called "Red" Dean of Canterbury, will speak at a rally in Madison Square Garden Dec. 13.

Plans for the rally were announced yesterday by the National Council of American-Soviet friendship, sponsor of the event.

Complicated Loan Method Abandoned

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (INS)—A young man asked at the personal loan company in New York today how to go about getting a loan—but apparently thought the method too complicated.

Clerk Lillian Zimmer, 20, said the applicant pulled a gun, lined up several other workers in the office, and departed with $700 cash.

As he left, the unorthodox borrower patted Miss Zimmer on the shoulder and remarked: "Don't worry, I wouldn't take the money if I didn't need it."

Russian Identification Plan May Seal Off Eastern Berlin

BERLIN, Nov. 18 (AP)—A new Russian system of uniform passes that may seal off Berlin's Soviet sector from the west takes effect today.

A Russian announcement, made last night over the radio and through the Soviet-licensed news agency ADN, said the new system will apply to the entire Soviet occupation zone and the Russian-controlled area of Berlin.

The Russians said that starting today three kinds of identity cards will be in use: For Germans, for those without nationality and for "foreigners."

Col. Frank S. Howley, U. S. commandant in Berlin, said the Russians had not notified the other powers of the move. He said the action appeared to him to be "more hocus pocus," but added that, if enforced, it could block off the Russian sector.

Howley said he believed strict enforcement of the uniform pass requirement would be next to impossible.

He said the Western powers would not go along with the idea because they had not been consulted.

American officials meanwhile announced that a British C-47 airlift plane crashed last night in the Soviet zone, killing the pilot and seriously injuring two crewmen. The crash occurred three miles west of Schoenberg.

Germany sent 500 student volunteers to help harvest Britain's crops this fall.

Round-The-World Flier Pays Short Visit To Lubbock

George Truman, the man who, with his partner, Cliff Evans, flew Piper Cub super cruisers around the world last year, dropped into Lubbock late Wednesday in the same around - the - world, flag bedecked plane.

The modern-day adventurer is now engaged in a series of lectures connected with an aviation educational program, and says emphatically that he will never attempt another trip around the globe, at least not in a small plane. The educational lectures he is now giving all over the country are sponsored by various groups where he appears, such as high schools, flight schools, clubs and the like.

Truman is now on his way back to Washington, D. C., his present home, from Douglas, Ariz., where he made his last appearance. He stopped for the night in Lubbock to visit a friend, Roy Neal, Piper Cub distributor for the West Texas area, who also operates a flight school here. The flight from Lubbock this morning will probably be made around 10 a. m., when he warms up the engine on the famous plane, which is now plastered with flags from almost every country of the world.

Truman and Evans, each flying their own small planes, took off for their dual round-the-world trip on Aug. 9, 1947, from New York City, and between then and Dec. 10 of the same year, when they landed at the same field, they spent 265 hours in the air.

Truman was born in Saskatchewan, Canada, but has spent the greater part of his eventful life in Los Angeles. Taking up flying as a hobby, he soloed in 1928, and when he entered the Army Air Forces during the recent war, he was made a primary aviation instructor and later was transferred to an Air Transport Command unit operating from the west coast. After three and a half years in the Air Corps, he was discharged and began making plans for the flight around the world which was to make him famous.

Group Installs New Officers

New officers of the Lubbock district of the Texas Retail Grocers association were installed at that organization's annual installation banquet Wednesday night at Hilton hotel. Herb Teal, retiring president, introduced new officers and Rufus Starnes of Abilene, state representative of the association, presided at the installation.

Approximately 125 members and guests attended.

Co-Operation Is Urged

"America today is a great country because we, its citizens, have had the right to operate our own businesses. When we no longer are permitted to run our businesses, we no longer will be the same America" he declared.

"We need to work together wholeheartedly for the preservation of our businesses. We need to join hands to promote and preserve them," he added.

Starnes then introduced Miss Jerry Johnson of Waco, secretary-manager of the Texas Retail Grocers association.

Miss Johnson said that the success of the local and state organizations have been due primarily to the members themselves.

Miss Johnson also urged that grocers trade through their wholesalers rather than buying "drop shipments" directly from manufacturers, as has frequently been done, declaring that the "wholesaler is vital to the retail business," and that "all distribution has a place in the lifeline of America."

Following Miss Johnson's address, Teal called officers and directors of the local association for the forthcoming year, including: Clyde A. Stovall, president; B. W. Crawford, first vice president; Ray Sandlin, second vice president; Homer Hill, secretary-treasurer; and T. O. Petty, Levelland; Raymond Young, Post; S. K. Ardis, Ropesville; Arvil Dean, Plainview; and W. L. Wallace, Kirby Nutt, June Roberts, Harry Burrus, Fay Holt, and Joe French, all of Lubbock, members of the board of directors.

Teal, outgoing president, acknowledged the co-operation he received during his tenure, and Stovall, new president, thanked members for the honor of the presidency.

Members attending, in addition to those from Lubbock, were from Ralls, Levelland, Slaton, Tahoka, Brownfield, Ropesville, Idalou, O'Donnell, and Anton.

Continental Plans New Family Fares

Under a new family fare plan placed into effect Tuesday, Continental airlines now offer half fare rates to teen-age boys and girls and spouses when accompanied by a full paying head of the family for air travel on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, B. R. Mills, Lubbock traffic manager for the airlines, announced today.

The only exception to the plan is that half fares may not be given on a portion of the itinerary on the Wednesday before Thanksgiving, except on a connecting flight. That exception, it was stated, has been made because of congestion at airports during the holiday.

Purpose of the new family plan is to fill in low traffic in the middle of the week and to encourage more family travel by air, according to Mills' announcement.

The "head of the family" may be either husband or wife and that one person must pay the full adult fare, it was stated. When the head of the family purchases a ticket, the other spouse and children 12 through 21 years of age each pay 50 per cent of the adult one-way fare. Children from two to 12 years previously have been charged half fare, and the "family fare" plan extends half fare privilege to those between 12 and 21, when accompanied by a parent paying full fare. Fare is not charged for children under two accompanied by a paying adult.

Mary Haworth's Mail . . .

Man, 58, Thinking Of Divorcing His Wife To Marry Younger, Congenial Widow

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Alice and I have been married 28 years and we have no children. During this period Alice has been a faithful and helpful spouse, and as a result of her helpfulness we own a home that would sell for about $15,000 in the present market.

However, we have grown steadily apart in our social activities, so that our marriage seems devoid of real companionship. Alice has her church work, a rather full program, in a different faith from mine; and I have my professional occupation to take up my days and various recreations for my leisure hours.

Neither of us has even complained about the other's activities, nor has either tried to influence the other to participate in his.

BEARS NO GRUDGE AGAINST HIS WIFE

ABOUT six years ago I met Letty, a widow who is now 45—I am 58—and we began a relationship that exists to this date. Our tastes in recreation and enjoyment of life are identical; and furthermore we seem to enjoy doing those things which add to the happiness of the other.

My wife doesn't know about Letty, but I am becoming more and more disgusted with the double-standard situation, which I find very burdensome, both mentally and financially. What I want to do is give Alice all our financial assets, plus an allotment of $50 a month, in exchange for a divorce.

My highest hope is to marry Letty and spend my remaining years with her; and this is not due to any hatred of Alice—I don't hate her—but because of my love and desire for the other woman. And now for the question: is there legal procedure whereby I could take the initiative in getting a divorce, by fulfilling the terms of settlement outlined above?

Signed: A. B.

MAN CAN'T MAKE MUCH OF A CASE

DEAR A. B.: Only a lawyer is qualified to dispense information on legal procedure or legal alternatives in specific cases; but in my opinion, it is highly improbable that you could divorce Alice against her wishes, and make it stick, in any jurisdiction where law and order are held in respect.

My reason for thinking so is simply this: It is the plaintiff, the person with a grievance (real or imaginary), who takes the initiative in divorce action. And to establish grounds for divorce, the plaintiff must prove to the court's satisfaction — with factual evidence sustained by witnesses— that the defendant, let's say Alice, has been guilty of willfully nefarious or destructive behavior, injurious to the plaintiff's welfare, in the relationship.

And according to information given in your letter, one would think that you can't swear to such charges against Alice without making yourself criminally liable for perjury, i. e., falsifying under oath; nor could you, I daresay, induce any mutual acquaintance to testify ill of Alice's character, merely to oblige your desire to be rid of her.

CAN'T OUST WIFE AGAINST HER WILL

MOREOVER, in view of your longstanding liaison with Letty, your wife would have ample evidence, if she saw fit to assemble and exploit it, to nullify such a suit and force its withdrawal; and constitute herself successful plaintiff in a counterpetition for separate maintenance that would keep you legally tied and obliged to support her if she chose to punish you to that extent.

This I predict because, in general, the aims and ends of common law, at least as applied to ordinary folk, correspond pretty closely to accepted standards of common decency; and these are usually militantly protective of a "blameless" helpmeet's security-claims, rather than sympathetic to the emotional frustrations of an errant spouse, when triangle conflicts are aired in court.

So, for advice, it seems to me your only "out" is to reach a meeting of minds with Alice, if possible, that says divorce on your terms may proceed without contest. But it's up to you to decide whether the game is worth the risk of opening the subject with her. M. H.

Wildcat Is Staked In Terry County For San Andres Test

A wildcat was staked in southeast Terry county by York & Harper, Inc., of Midland, for a test into the San Andres pay of the upper Permian.

It is to be that concern's No. 1 W. M. Sleeper, located 660 feet from north, and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 7, block C-38, psl survey. That puts it approximately 5½ miles northwest of the town of Welch.

A number of ventures have been drilled in the area adjacent to this location, but although some developed fair signs of oil, none were sufficient to make an oil well.

This new prospector is projected to 5,500 feet with rotary tools. Operations were scheduled to begin November 18.

Scurry Test Planned

Standard Oil company of Texas No. 1 Jessie Brown, northwest Scurry county discovery for a large flowing production from a Pennsylvanian lime, has drilled the plug on seven-inch casing, which had been cemented at 6,333 feet, over total depth of 6,444 feet, and is taking gamma ray surveys.

When that is completed operator is to make a production test on the open hole.

This important development is nine miles northwest of Snyder, and 1,880 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 440, block 97, H&TC survey.

It has shown for a possible production of 130 to 150 barrels of oil per hour, flowing natural, from the section at 6,333-6,414 feet. No formation water has been developed.

Producer Extension Talked

A three-quarter mile north extension to the Shafter Lake-Devonian field of northwest Andrews county is a probability at Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 1-BG University which developed oil on a drillstem test.

The tool was open two hours and 27 minutes on the Devonian section at 9,932-10,000 feet. A 2,000-foot water blanket was used. Recovery was the water blanket plus 6,760 feet of fluid. As the fluid was circulated out, an accurate report on the shakeout was not obtainable. It was estimated by informed observers that the breakdown showed approximately 75 per cent oil.

Still bottomed on 10,000 feet, operator was preparing to run pipe and make production tests.

This development has already shown as an extension to the pool from the Wolfcamp pay.

It is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 21, block 14, University lands, about 12 miles northwest of the town of Andrews.

A new pumping discovery from the San Andres-Permian lime is in prospect for northwest Dawson county.

Tide Water Associated Oil company No. 1 Turner, northwest of the Welch field, the nearest proven producing area, and 660 feet from north and east lines of south half of section 2, block C-29, psl survey, is installing a pump, to test and complete.

This development is on a drilled out total depth of 4,950 feet. The 5½-inch casing had been set at 4,959 feet.

The section at 4,915-21 feet was perforated with six holes to the foot. That zone swabbed dry natural. The section at 4,880-4,913 feet was then perforated with six holes to the foot.

Amount Not Estimated

A small amount of oil was swabbed out from that interval, natural.

Both sets of perforations were then treated with a total of 1,000 gallons of acid. After the load and residue was swabbed out, some oil was swabbed to pits.

That was followed by a 5,000-gallon acid injection into both perforated horizons. A large amount of free oil was swabbed out. No gauges or estimates are available on the amount of oil which has so far been produced from the wildcat.

Informed sources say that the project will be completed as a pumping well and as a new discovery.

Parts Being Flown To Crippled Vessel

ARGENTIA, Nfld., Nov. 18. (AP) —An American airforce rescue plane, flying engine equipment to the crippled army transport "Comfort," prepared to take off from this base today.

The vessel, en route from New York to Bremerhaven, Germany, with 376 army personnel, was last reported drifting 500 miles off this port after burning out bearings.

The plane, a B-17 Flying Fortress, piloted by Lt. William P. Price of Hartford, Conn., left Westover Airforce Base, Mass., yesterday for this base with the needed parts.

The aircraft planned to drop the equipment by parachute to the ship which reported she was not in serious trouble. The "Comfort" is a former Navy hospital vessel.

It would have required Coast Guard cutters four days to reach the transport.

Another In Series Of Incidents Reported

Shotgun Is Fired At Persons Molesting Farmer Near Here

Another shotgun blast on the T. A. Holeman farm on East Nineteenth, about three and a half miles from Lubbock, was reported to officers early today—to extend a series of incidents that commenced several weeks ago.

Holeman informed the sheriff's department at 12:30 a. m. that someone had attempted to break into his back door.

Awakened, he said he called out to ask what was wanted.

When several persons ran, he said, he fired at them with a shotgun.

Someone Believed Hit

Holeman told officials he believed he had "hit some of them."

Officials said, however, they had been unable to find evidence that anyone had been treated for shotgun injuries. Evening Journal reporters found no hospital reports of such injuries.

The incident, like another several weeks ago when Holeman fired his gun into the air in an attempt to chase away a gang of juveniles at his place, failed to uncap any motive for a series of trespasses that have produced several instances of theft and at least one burglary, officials said.

Juveniles Arrested

After Holeman fired his gun into the air, according to what investigators were told, he left home and spent the night with a son so that he would not be forced to "hurt somebody."

Within the next two days juvenile gangs returned several times, and his door was battered in and several properties removed fgrom his house, he said.

Juveniles were arrested on two separate occasions, and young adults once, in connection with incidents on the farm.

Much gasoline, quantities of clothing and an old telephone were taken from Holeman's property over a several-weeks period, Holeman earlier had informed investigators.

Officers frankly cautioned that "someone is going to get hurt out there if these shenanigans don't stop."

Southern Company Takes Bite At New England Shoe Industry

BOSTON, Nov. 18 (U.P.)—Southern competition, long the bugaboo of New England's textile business, is the latest headache of this region's inflation-troubled shoe industry.

New England now is the nation's largest footwear-manufacturing area, producing a third of the shoes worn in the United States. But some men in the industry fear footwear's future might be below the Mason-Dixon line.

One of them is a Maine manufacturer, Henry G. Lumbard, who testified at a wage arbitration hearing in Auburn, Me., that he visited a Kentucky factory and found shoes being manufactured "much more cheaply than anywhere in New England."

His testimony was confirmed by a Boston attorney, Benjamin A. Gordon, counsel for a Maine manufacturers' association. Gordon said the wages of Maine shoeworkers are "substantially" higher than those paid to employes of competing southern firms.

Conditions Changed

New England manufacturers long have been used to such low-overhead competition. Their defense has been to specialize in "quality at a price." But most shoe men agree present conditions prevent their industry from employing that method now.

Price, they say, is the problem.

Most spokesmen for the industry admit they are plagued by "spotty" overproduction. Many however, don't agree with the pessimists who say it's because the nation's shoe factories each year can produce 1,500,000 more pairs than Americans can wear out.

It's more a question of inflation, they say, with shoe manufacturers priced out of their market by rising costs.

Retail prices now run 25 to 50 per cent above pre-war levels, and that is causing buyer resistance, they say.

Sales of low-priced footwear and currently stylish models like the "new look" for women and the "bold look" for men are holding up.

Makers Cautious

Thus the "spotty" picture, with production—and employment—up at one plant and down at the factory across the street.

Union and management officials generally agree there's no critical unemployment problem. But they admit reduced work weeks are prevalent as cautious manufacturers reduce production until they learn if demand will pick up.

There is general agreement, again, that lower retail prices would stimulate shoe sales and steady the industry.

But industry spokesmen see no dramatic price drops in the immediate future. Expensive leather, labor and overhead accounts for too much of the cost of a pair of shoes, they say.

How or when shoemaking costs can be reduced, nobody will predict.

And by then, the pessimists add, the shoe may be on the other foot—a southern foot.

Bob Polidor and Bob Riley, Villanova football players, are doing practice teaching at Radnor (Pa.) high school. Polidor is teaching social studies and Riley English.

County-Wide Meet Of CROP Organization Slated Monday

The second county-wide meeting of CROP—Christian Rural Overseas Program—will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the office of the county agent, Fourteenth and Ave. Q, Rev. Fred McPherson, chairman of the county steering committee of the organization, announced Wednesday.

CROP, as the program is known, is sponsored by Church World Service and Lutheran World Relief, and is a program for relief of starving peoples overseas. It is not, however, in competition or duplication with any other relief activity.

Drive Planning Slated

The Lubbock county organization of CROP, designed so that rural and townpeople may contribute of their products for relief of needy peoples throughout the world, was set up at an Oct. 25 meeting in the courthouse. The steering committee was named at that time.

Rev. McPherson said that at Monday's meeting, final plans will be made for the county-wide drive, and a date will be set for the collection of commodities. Steps also will be taken to designate points of collection throughout the county, he said.

Every church and civic club in Lubbock county has been urged to send a representative to the meeting. Committees in every participating church will be set up, it was announced.

T. H. Holmes of Ralls, assistant field director of CROP in this area, will be present at the meeting in an advisory capacity.

The steering committee met last Saturday at the county agent's office, and plans were made for the forthcoming meeting. The committee asked Rev. McPherson to serve as chairman, and Mrs. John Redwine of Shallowater as secretary-treasurer.

Bus Line Named In $10,700 Damage Suit

Judgment of $10,700 in damages was asked in a suit filed Wednesday by Jack Grimes, a Lubbock county farmer, in the 72nd district court of Judge Dan Blair.

The action named as defendant Texas, New Mexico & Oklahoma Coaches, Inc., and claimed that Grimes was injured the afternoon of Nov. 2 when a bus struck his parked car after swerving to avoid another machine that was represented to have attempted a sudden left turn in the path of the bus.

The petition was filed by the law firm of Brummett and Brummett.

Large Crowd Sees 20-30 Production

A large crowd attended the production of "Voice of the Turtle" in Senior High school auditorium Wednesday night under sponsorship of the Lubbock 20-30 club, club officials announced last night.

Proceeds from the play will be used by the local club to provide seats at the city bus stops.

The play, with a California cast, was produced by John O'Harris of Hollywood.

Court Order Issued In Paving Dispute

Fronia S. Johnston, an elderly single woman living on the North end of Ave. A between Fourth and Sixth, was placed under temporary restraining order of 99th district court Wednesday afternoon, after a petition filed by the City of Lubbock, charged she had threatened to stop a paving project in that vicinity by use of a shotgun.

The petition, filed by Vaughn E. Wilson, city attorney, informed the court the woman had placed signs or obstructions warning all doing the actual construction to desist, or else be injured.

It asked the court to issue a restraining order enjoining her from threatening or otherwise abusing all concerned in the project, on any part of Fourth. It asked also that she be enjoined from carrying weapons near Fourth lying west of the east boundry of section 1, block 0, or in the vicinity of where workmen are constructing a highway extending from the center of the intersection of Sixth and Ave. A northwestward and across Fourth and beyond the north boundry line of section 1, block 0.

The petitioner further asked that Miss Johnston be cited to appear and answer, and show cause why the temporary injunction should not issue and that, on final hearing, the injunction be made permanent.

Judge Pardue ordered that a hearing be held at 10 a. m. Nov. 27.

Service of the court's order was made by Dep. Sheriff Earl Horton.

The woman, according to the petition, has claimed some interest in a portion of the right-of-way route affected.

McElroy, executive secretary, announced Wednesday.

The meeting will be held in the Wooten hotel, and the group of nine board members will attend the Tech-Hardin Simmons football game in the afternoon. Members of the board are McElroy, of Lubbock; Hurley Carpenter, of Lubbock, president of the board; E. A. McCullough, of Midland; Wayne Sellers, of Fort Worth; Vestal Askew, of Sonora; Fred Rollins, of El Paso; O. R. "Chick" McElya, of Dallas; Guy Carter, of Dallas; and George Langford, of Lubbock.

Littlefield's Wildcats and the Post Antelopes will clash at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at Post for the championship of District 4-A and the right to represent the loop in bi-district competition.

The Wildcats were voted as the representative of the north 4-A circuit following their 7-6 upset win over Levelland last weekend. The Littlefield victory threw the north braeket into a three-way tie between Littlefield, Sundown and Levelland, since each team had been defeated once in conference play. A meeting of north 4-A officials resulted in the selection of Littlefield as the district representative.

Post's Antelopes chalked up an impressive record in moving to the south 4-A crown, with a record of nine consecutive wins this season. The Antelopes topped the barrier to a south bracket title last weekend, with a 12-6 win over Slaton.

5000 Attendance Seen

An overflow crowd of more than 5,000 persons is expected to jam Antelope field for the crucial setto, Post officials reported last night, and the attendance may be boosted still higher. All regular tickets for the game have been sold, but officials reported last night that another 1,000 bleacher seats will be erected in the end zone in order to provide more space for the fans.

An extremely close game is predicted when the two teams clash, since both elevens boast strong defenses and dangerous offenses. Post has an edge in scoring punch, with speedsters Junior Malouf and Ronnie Boucher in the secondary, but the Wildcats have a heavier, more impressive forward wall.

The difference in the two teams is shown by the statistics for the season. Littlefield has won a total of five games this season, while losing two games and deadlocking two tilts. Only one of the losses was in district play, however. The Wildcats have tallied a total of 100 points this season, against 49 for their nine opponents.

Post Has Won Nine

Post has chalked up a total of 212 points in winning nine straight games this year, against 32 for the opposition.

Littlefield's Wildcats are not strangers to playoff competition, since Wildcat elevens reached bi-district play the first three years that Coach Jay Fikes took over the duties as head mentor. The Wildcats won a bi-district title in 1944, copped the regional crown in '45, then took bi-district honors in 1946. Last year, the Wildcats were defeated by Levelland for the district crown.

Post was edged out by Tahoka for their district championship last year, as Coach Bing Bingham's eleven chalked up a fine record, then surged back this year to gain the playoff berth.

Both squads will be in near-top physical condition for the battle, mentors reported Wednesday night, although several key players will be slowed by injuries. Littlefield's Jiggs Walker, ace fullback who has been out of action for several weeks, will probably see little action. Several of the Post players are hampered by bruised and pulled muscles.

Probable Starters

Probable starters for Littlefield will include Bill Currin and Billy Perkins, ends; Jerry Cotter and John Fowler, tackles; Freddie Dirickson and Bill Renfro, guards; George Kirk, center; John Srygley, quarterback; Frank Gage, right half; Lilburn Bales, left half; and Tommy Bailes, fullback.

Floydada And Spur To Meet

Spur invades Floydada tomorrow night for the game which will decide second place in District 3-A, with the other games in the conference ending the regular season.

If the Bulldogs make their invasion successful, they will clinch second spot, but if the Whirlwinds triumph, they will go into a tie with Spur. Crosbyton goes to Ralls and a Spur triumph, along with one by the Chiefs, would send the latter ahead of Floydada. But if both Crosbyton and Floydada lose, the Chiefs will hold onto third place.

In the only other game, Matador visits Paducah in a tilt that means little to the final standings, but is important to both those schools. Matador is winless.

Bulldogs Slight Favorite

Coach Sam Hawks' Bulldogs reign a slight favorite to down the Whirlwinds, although the latter eleven has shown a great deal of improvement lately. On comparative scores, Spur has run up bigger point edges in most cases, but Floydada beat Crosbyton 25-13, while Spur could eke out only a 13-8 victory. The only vast difference is in the Paducah game, the Dragons beating Floydada 20-19 and Spur winning from the Dragons 40-6.

The clash between Crosbyton and Ralls appears to be a relatively easy victory for the Chiefs. They beat Tahoka 13-0, while the Jackrabbits lost 19-6. Crosbyton beat Paducah and Abernathy, teams that, in turn, beat Ralls. And all the other games also point to at least a two-touchdown spread in favor of Crosbyton.

Game Is Toss-Up

The Paducah-Matador game can be regarded as a toss-up, Lockney beat Matador 39-0 and Paducah 48-0. Paducah beat Floydada, but the Whirlwinds beat Matador. The Matadors haven't won a conference game yet, while Paducah has two loop victories. The edge appears to lie with the Dragons by about a touchdown or two margin.

Lockney and Abernathy have finished their seasons and the Longhorns now are drilling for their bi-district meeting against the winner of the Post-Littlefield encounter Friday.

Old Rivals To Tangle Friday

Runner-up position in the District 5-A grid race will be determined Friday afternoon when the Seminole Indians and the Andrews Mustangs, traditional rivals in the "oil belt" region, battle in a crucial conference tilt at Andrews.

Monahans' powerful Lobos have already clinched the 5-A crown, but the annual meeting of the Indians and the Mustangs will hold plenty of interest for West Texas sports fans. Both Seminole and Andrews have chalked up five district victories this season, against two defeats.

Seminole's eleven will be slightly favored in the important encounter, but the dangerous Mustangs are slated to give their rivals one of their toughest battles of the season. Seminole's chances for a victory were dimmed Wednesday night, when Coach Gordon Wood reported that Fullback Ira Bobo and Guard Wesley Patton would probably be out of action Friday as a result of injuries.

Two other District 5-A games will be unreeled Friday, with Monahans invading Pecos and McCamey journeying to Fort Stockton.

Monahans will be a top-heavy favorite over the Pecos eleven, upset last week by Fort Stockton, and McCamey rates a definite edge over the lowly Panthers.

Saturday Kermit will play host to Hobbs, N.M., in a non-title encounter.

Texas, Aggie Frosh See Action Saturday

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 18 (AP)—Texas and Texas A. and M. varsities won't play their big game until Thanksgiving day but the freshman teams will settle their rivalry for the season here next Saturday afternoon .

Sponsored by the Ben-Hur Shrine temple of Austin, the game is expected to attract upwards of 11,000 fans. Given a break from the weather man, the turnout may go to 15,000.

Chief topic of conversation regarding the battle centers around the anticipated individual duel between the Shorthorns' Byron Townsend and the Aggies' Glenn Lippman.

Tickets For Texoma Game To Go On Sale

DENISON, Nov. 17 (U.P.)—Tickets for the Texoma bowl game in Munson stadium Dec. 10 will go on sale Nov. 20.

Four Men Purchase Abilene Blue Sox

ABILENE, Nov. 18 (AP)—Four Abilene businessmen have taken over the Abilene Blue Sox of the West Texas-New Mexico baseball league .They assured fans that the team will play in 1949.

The four bought the grounds, grandstand and other properties from Howard Green and Dr. James P. Bridges—but the deal does not include any players or player contracts.

Three of the buyers were identified last night as W. V. Young, Bud Mills and Mack Eplen. The fourth was not named.

Green and Bridges had asked $30,000 for their baseball holdings here. Abilene was operated last year under Green's business managership as a Brooklyn farm club.

Hayden Greer, who managed Abilene in 1946 and '47, is expected to be manager again in 1949.

Blue Jays And Devils Win Boys Club Tilts

A pair of games were played yesterday afternoon at the Lubbock Boys club with the Blue Jays turning back the Wildcats 15-3 in a Pee Wee league game and the Little Devils taking the Fighting Irish 62-4 in a Midget loop encounter.

Dean Fawcett paced the Blue Jays in the opener with seven points, while Bobby Tyner scored the only field goal for the losers.

In the nightcap, Glen Akin and Jimmy Martin each scored 22 points for the winners, with two boys each getting a field goal for the losers.

Today's schedule will bring together the Hellcats and Wolverines in the Pee Wee league, the Fighting Irish and Mustangs in the Midgets, the Dirty Five and Hotshots and Roughies and Alley Rat Five in the Juniors and the Hardwood Five and Bombers in the Senior loop.

Strong Defense Gets Results For Top Grid Teams Of 1948

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL
SPORTS
PAGE EIGHT, LUBBOCK, TEX. THURSDAY, NOV. 18, 1948

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP) — When all the returns are in this fall, some college coaches who stress football offense over defense might well sit down and reconsider.

Prime examples of the strong defense theory are Michigan and Clemson, two of the nation's remaining undefeated and untied major teams.

Best In Country

Rugged line work is Michigan's answer to high scoring football opponents, and the Wolverine forwards might be classed as the best in the country. The Michigan opposition has scored just 41 points in eight games.

Clemson is right behind in the tight defense category, for the Tigers have yielded only 47 points in seven games.

Latest figures from the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau showed today that Michigan was fourth in rushing defense, having given up an average of 82.4 yards per game. Clemson is 13th, holding opponents to a 106.0 average on the ground.

Two Others Rank High

Two other major unbeaten outfits, Army and North Carolina, rank third and fourth in total defense against both rushing and passing. Both have allowed only 167.1 yards per game.

Michigan opponents have completed 40 per cent of their passes, for 123.3 yards per game, but only three have been for touchdowns.

After leading for five straight weeks, eGorgia Tech seems a safe bet to capture honors for the best total defense.

Tech is first in rushing defense, having given up only 56.8 yards per game on the ground. In eight games, the Engineers have a 137.6 yard average total defense figure.

Figures For Defense

Following are the defensive figures:

Total defense—(average yards yielded per game to opponents' passing and running) Georgia Tech, 137.6; Maryland, 165.3; Army, 167.1; North Carolina, 167.1; Penn State, 178.0; North Carolina State, 183.3; Villanova, 184.3; Ohio State, 190.0; Oklahoma, 191.0; Vanderbilt, 191.0.

Rushing defense—Georgia Tech, 56.8 yards per game, Pennsylvania, 75.3; North Carolina, 79.6; Michigan, 82.4; Vanderbilt, 86.5; Penn State, 88.1; Minnesota, 90.6; California, 96.9; Army, 96.9; Georgia, 98.9

Passing defense—Richmond, 49 yards per game; Northwestern, 52.8; Brigham Young, 53.1; Maryland, 53.4; Brown, 57.1; Hardin-Simmons, 57.6; Rice, 63.5; Utah, 63.9; Texas Christian, 64.5; Arizona, 65.8.

Meadow Engages New Deal And Ropesville Tackles Whiteface

Meadow goes to New Deal and Ropesville goes to Whiteface tomorrow night in what will be the final games of the District 4-B football schedule.

The only game left involving a District 4-B school is the bi-district game next week, when Idalou, which won the championship Nov. 6 without a defeat on the record, plays Hale Center, winner of District 3-B.

Meadow currently is tied for third place with Whiteface and faces the second-place New Deal Lions on their gridiron. A Lion victory would send the Broncs down to fourth, or give them no better than a tie for third.

Whiteface must win if it is to finish as high as third and a defeat would send the Antelopes down to a tie with Ropes for fourth.

The Lions appear to have an edge on the Broncs, who were picked as one of the strongest elevens in the conference before the season opened. The New Deal team has compiled a good record in and out of conference play, although losing Friday to Eunice, N.M.

Whiteface might have an edge on Ropesville's Eagles, but it is only a slight one at best. Both teams, according to comparative scores, have shown a weak offense, but the Antelopes have shown a better defense. It should be a close game, with the Antelopes having a slight edge, especially at home.

Full Schedule Of Games Is To Be Reeled Off In District 3-B

The only conference to card a full slate of games this Friday will be District 3-B, where Hale Center, the newly crowned champion, has an opportunity to win undisputed possession of first place.

The Owls already have the championship tucked away, but they would like to end their season without a defeat and with no one else sharing first place. They can do that by beating Olton tomorrow, while Dimmitt is going to Petersburg for its concluding battle.

Last week's upset of the Bobcats by Hale Center was a stunning one. The two teams tied 6-6, but with penetrations all even, the Owls were given the nod on first downs. Even if they lose and Dimmitt wins, the Owls cannot be deprived of the title. But both teams are expected to win and finish the season one-two.

Friona Meets Anton

In other games on the schedule, Friona goes to Anton and Whitharral visits Amherst to close out the conference schedule. Springlake concluded its schedule last week and might tie for second place, or be tied for third by Olton.

Hale Center has a slight edge on Olton according to comparative scores, although in games against Whitharral, Amherst, Friona and Anton, scores indicate a close game. The only two wide divergences are in games against Dimmitt and Petersburg, games that Hale Center won and Olton lost.

Dimmitt shouldn't have too much trouble running over the Golden Buffaloes, having a wide edge on the basis of comparative scores. The Bobcats have run over every opponent save Hale Center by nearly astronomical scores and rate at least a five-touchdown margin over Petersburg.

Amherst Has Edge

Friona has been playing Anton's opponents one week later all season and has been making a better showing. Whether it is because Anton wore the opponents down to the Chief's size, or whether the Chiefs really are that much better will be shown Friday. It would appear, from comparative scores, that Friona is two touchdowns better.

Whitharral, in the cellar without a conference victory, meets Amherst, next to last with only one victory, and the edge apparently lies with Amherst, but by a slim margin. Neither team has made an impressive record and the game could be rated as even without trouble. By the same token, Whitharral might end its season with a victory.

Powder Puff Grid Tilt Set At Olton

OLTON, Nov. 18. (Special) The Senior girls and the Sophomore girls at Olton High school are stirring up quite a cloud of powder over the impending football game tonight, when the two classes will meet in what will be the first all-girl grid battle.

The game will be played in Memorial stadium beginning at 7 p. m., with sponsorship by the Senior class. Admission will be 25 and 50 cents.

Although another Frankie Groves of last year's Stinnett High school grid fame may not develop, some real football is expected to take place, coaches of both teams say. High school athletes have been coaching the two teams.

Senior girl players are: Dorothy Green, Elouise Williams, Jerry Robason, Maxine Brittain, Nadine Allen, Edna Hamby, Betty Hall, Frances Williams, Betty Gray, Mary Nell Duke and Dorothy Ivins.

Winners Named In Women's Golf Match

Seven winners were named yesterday from a field of 36 as the women of Meadowbrook Golf association played hostess in a match with the ladies of Country club.

First flight victors were Mrs. George Soash, who took low gross score, and Mrs. T. E. Patterson and Mrs. C. M. Hitchcock, who tied for low net score.

In the second flight Mrs. K. L. Riggs won the low gross, and Mrs. Tabe Foster low net.

BOWLING SCORES

Russedd-Hardin Cleaners retained the lead position in the Commercial Bowling league with a three-game sweep against Lubbock Tailoring Wednesday night. Polly Buckner paced the winners with a high series of 170-484, while Vera Cleary tallied a 182-381 for the Tailoring crew.

Hemphill-Wells' keglers dropped two of three games to the Glassman's five, but still held a deadlock for second place in the loop standings. Ruth Vautilburgh chalked up a 201-500 series for Glassman's, while Artie Reed scored a 194-521 for the Hemphill-Wells representatives.

Home Lumber and Supply, paced by Helen Wootton's 152-423 series, won two of three games from Southwestern Public Service. Norma Crossland topped the losers with a 201-487.

Silver Behrens scored a 199-489 to lead the Bluebonnet-Sunbeam pin-topplers to a two game victory over the Penrod's crew. Flo Christensen notched a 178-449 for Penrod's.

The league standings:

TEAMS	W	L
Russell-Hardin	22	11
Hemphill-Wells	19	13
Glassman's	19	13
Bluebonnet	17	16
Penrod's	16	17
Southwestern P. S.	14	19
Lubbock Tailoring	13	20
Home Lumber	12	21

Raiders Taper Off For Game

Today is the last chance for intensive work on the gridiron by Texas Tech before the New Mexico game Saturday and, with some of the cockiness cooled down yesterday, possibly the Red Raiders will make good use of the session slated.

The players had quieted down considerably yesterday and the horseplay so noticeable on Tuesday had faded away to a large extent in Wednesday's drill. But enough light-heartedness remained to show that the players were not yet in the mood to play a hard ball game. On the other hand, several players took stories of overconfidence seriously and desired an opportunity to show just how serious they were.

To all of which the coaches opined "fine, but let's not play Hardin-Simmons Saturday. We're playing New Mexico." Coach Dell Morgan was in a more mellow mood yesterday and sent the Raiders through intensive work on defensive plays, then ended up with another intensive drill of offense. Physically, the Raiders are at top strength. The question of mentally is another thing.

Meanwhile, indications from Albuquerque are that Jerry McKown of Ft. Worth may see limited action due to a leg injury. McKown played only a quarter against Drake last week, with Joe Stell, alternating between halfback and quarterback, stepping in to take over. Stell also has an injured knee.

The following is from a university press release: "The Cherry and Silver attack suffered the same trouble that has jinxed the team all season. They were able to gain consistently on the ground near the mid-field stripe, but seemed to bog down just before they seriously threatened the Bulldog goal line. A team that could conceivably have beaten any of their opponents with the exception of Texas University, the Hilltoppers have thus far turned in an unhappy season that defies analysis.

"The Lobo line features two of the best guards in the Border Conference in Moffa and Lyden, and they are backed in that position by Gentry, Pharr and Fierino, who leave little to be desired. Center is capably handled by Virgil Boteler and Gene Loury and few experts have been able to find fault with the tackle play of Hart, Williford, Delayo and Milton. The flanks are well guarded by Willis and Speer on the offense and Charlton and Knapp defensively, giving the Lobos one of the best and deepest forward walls to appear on Zimmerman Field for several years."

BLUE-GRAY ADDITIONS

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 18 (AP)—Nine more players were added today to the Southern squad for the Blue-Gray football game December 25th. Blue-Gray manager Champ Pickens announced the signing of two linemen from Texas. They are Center Dick Harris and Tackle George Petrovich of the Longhorns.

Red Raider Cagers Cop 102-46 Victory Over Wayland College

The Red Raider basketball team at Texas Tech scored an easy 102-46 victory over the Wayland college five yesterday afternoon in Tech gym, with Don Grove scoring 20 of the points for high honors.

The game was played in three 20-minutes halves and Grove scored his points during the first half and the initial part of the second. Charley Pinnell pitched in 12 points on six field goals, while Chet Jackson had the same total.

Robison Sees Mistakes

But Coach Polk Robison wasn't too pleased with the way the court fives looked. He noticed many troubles, many errors, and set a lot of hard work in store for the Raiders as a result. Thev play their first game here Nov. 30 and time is growing short.

The Raider varsity was able to take only a 22-20 lead at the end of the first 20-minute half, but they came back to run up a staggering score. Coach Robison used three combinations during the first half and cleared the bench during the other day halves.

Harry Burch, the hefty Wayland center, led the visitors with seven field goals, receiving help from D. W. Harkins and other players. But Wayland couldn't keep up its early pace when they had to use second and third stringers.

Some Looked Good

Several Raider players looked well on the court, with consistent play turned in by Bill Edins and George Belchef. Center Durwood Patterson also showed signs of developing into a capable reserve, while C. W. Dukes had occasional moments of showing great ability.

But Coach Robison didn't like the way the Raider first string looked. They appeared slow and sluggish, failing to cover the way they should and losing backboard shots. Their timing was off and they lacked coordination in their attack.

— By JOE KELLY —

Confirmation of the information given at the recent West Texas-New Mexico League baseball meeting, that Abilene would operate for sure, was given yesterday. An announcement from Abilene says that a group of four businessmen have purchased the Blue Sox grounds, grandstand and other properties from Howard Green and Dr. James P. Bridges. The word at the recent meeting here was that the group would buy the club if they could get Hayden "Stubby" Greer as manager. Apparently they are certain that they will.

• • •

About Dr. Bridges we know little. About Howard Green we know slightly more. The affable young part owner of the Sox also is president of the Longhorn League, a Class D loop. Many persons in Abilene resented Green's domination, or alleged domination of baseball in that area. They also disliked the way he operated and they weren't crazy about the tie up with the Brooklyn Dodgers, who didn't do much for the Sox. They showed their resentment by staying away from a club that might have gone somewhere, but didn't.

• • •

Howard has always been decent to us, has always been perfectly frank and honest. Possibly that is one reason he wasn't too popular. He seldom pulled his punches. He usually said what was on his mind. Most people resent that, although we'd far rather be told what people think of us, than have the diplomatic smiling face and the sneer behind the hand. Howard was that way, too. He never exuded happiness, but that didn't mean he wasn't happy. We wouldn't be surprised to see him pull out of the Longhorn loop. No matter where he goes, we wish him well.

• • •

Things are bowling along in this nation, meaning that there is all kind of bowl talk for football powers. Last year we just happened to call the turn on Penn State in the Cotton Bowl, a happenstance that would not occur for us again. Leading contenders now spoken of include Oklahoma, Clemson, Penn State, Utah, California, Oregon, Wake Forest, William and Mary, SMU, Oklahoma A and M, Army, Nevada—aw shucks, what's the use. There are more teams than there are bowls, more rumors than there are teams. We'll be glad when all the bowls make final selections and get it over with.

• • •

We spoke of Earl Whitehill, the former major league hurler, recently and we became interested in his record. It's an impressive one. Earl first played organized ball with Des Moines, Iowa, in 1919. He was with the Detroit Tigers from 1923 through 1932, where he won most of his fame. In the twilight, allegedly, of his career he went to Washington, spending the seasons from 1933 through 1936 with the Nats. He was the only Washington hurler to win a game in the 1933 World Series, shutting out the Giants in the third game. He was with Cleveland from 1937 through 1938 and ended his career with the Chicago Cubs in 1939. During his playing years he won 218 games. Now he sells for Spalding.

• • •

Golden Gloves time isn't far away, although it will be a couple of months before anything takes place. In the meantime, a lot of prospective fighters are working out. Probably the biggest group is at Foster's Gym, which is run by O. C. Foster and Billy Henderson. They are getting some boys ready for the Lubbock bouts and their aspirants look good. Which reminds us that we ran across an AP story yesterday telling of bouts staged between Cameron Aggies and NTSTC. On the Denton team are such familiar names to former Lubbock Golden Glove battlers as Featherweight James Taylor, Lightweights Jackie Gunter and Johnny O'Glee, Welterweight Jack Woodruff and Everett Spears.

• • •

RANDOM THOUGHTS: Stumpy Hamilton says that he has given up refereeing Texas Tech basketball games. . . If you haven't tried shuffleboard, you've missed some fun. You can try it at the Sportsman, 805 College avenue. . Ty Cobb says in Sport magazine that the lively ball has killed baseball. . . Royce "Rooster" Mills, now working for the Lubbock Meat and Provision company, still doesn't have a place to live. . . Rooster also says that a brother-in-law, Mack Peyton of Wyoming, is a great prospect for the Hubbers. . . We have a mess of letters, some good and some nasty, to acknowledge, all of which were read through entirely, thanks. Writers included M. Lee, R. R. Walker, Erle Cato, Joe D. Thompson, F. L. Evans, and John F. Andrews, who predicts that Oregon will get the Rose Bowl bid, not California. To all of you, thanks a lot.

• • •

We should have added R. L. Willis. He wrote to snap us up about comparative scores making Nevada a fit for Oklahoma, using the Santa Clara-SMU, Santa Clara-Nevada scores to show that any good Texas team would give Nevada a good fight. We could cite Nevada 61, Tulsa 14; Tech 41, Tulsa 20, to show that Nevada is 26 points better than the Raiders, but we won't. . . We predict (shades of Droop Pearson) that Odessa won't get a re-match of Mines and Hardin-Simmons. . . We erred in saying that there weren't such schools as Arkansas Tech and Arkansas A&M. There are, but they don't play the schedule to compete with the big teams. . . . Look for the "injured" Jerry McKown to fill the air with passes Saturday. . . Chick Fowler and Bob Clodfelter, both of the Hubbers, are playing basketball with Sanders Motor company. . . See you Friday.

Raiders Are Given A 22-Point Margin

By DR. E. E. LITKENHOUS

The outcome probably won't cause any great commotion in the standings but when Harvard and Yale meet it's still one of the nation's outstanding football attractions.

Neither the Crimson nor the Eli is ranked in the top 25 of the Litkenhous Difference by Score System so it will be a battle for tradition only. The System sees an extremely close contest between these hoary rivals with Harvard winning out by 1.7 points.

In another Ivy League encounter that promises to be close Dartmouth is given a 2.0 edge over Princeton. An intra-Pennsylvania scramble will find Penn State taking a 11.3 decision from Pittsburgh.

California will close its case for a Rose Bowl invitation by drubbing Stanford by 20.6. In consolation tilts Southern California is a 17.3 choice over U. C. L. A. and Oregon a 10.5 one over Oregon State.

Michigan, Northwestern, Minnesota and Purdue should return winners from almost a full Big Nine card. The Wolverines, No. 1 in the Litkenhouse System, will paste Ohio State by 16.2, Northwestern will trip Illinois by 8.7 and Minnesota should down Wisconsin by 10.1 In the Old Oaken Bucket battle the Boilermakers are figured 1.0 better than Indiana.

In the Southwest Conference look for T. C. U. and S. M. U. to be victorious. The Horned Frogs should sneak past Rice by 2.6 points while the Mustangs are 14.9 choices over Baylor. North Carolina should measure Duke by 16.4 in the Southern Conference's top battle.

Tennessee and Kentucky will wage a bitter battle but the Vols will come out best by 2.8 points.

Following is the week-end schedule of college football games with Litkenhous Difference by Score predictions. The figure after the name of each team is its power-point rating. The figure in the last column is the difference between the ratings and therefore the approximate probable difference between the scores they will make in the games. The names of the probable winners are set in boldface type. The N. R. in the tables means that a team has not played enough to have a rating.

Louis Labels Bivins Tough

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18. (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis labels Jimmy Bivins the toughest opponent he has faced so far on his exhibition tour.

"I don't know why he shouldn't be a contender if he gets serious about his training," Louis said in his dressing room last night after engaging in a six-round no-decision affair with the Cleveland negro.

"He threw two good right hand punches and I knew I was hit, but they weren't hard enough to bother me," the champion added. "Anyone who fights him has to be very careful."

Opened Cut Over Eye

With both fighters using 12-ounce gloves instead of the regulation eight, Bivens opened a cut above Louis' left eye in the second round. Joe received the wound originally Nov. 8 when he accidentally bumped heads with Johnny Shkor in an exhibition at Boston.

The cut bled only slightly, but Bivins opened it up again in the fourth.

Bivins did most of the leading, while Louis opened up only sporadically. He almost dropped Bivins with a right in the second when the two were in a neutral corner.

He Took It Easy

The champion jabbed most of the time and seemed content to take it easy, but opened up suddenly at one point in the fifth and drove Bivins to cover with a flurry of rights and lefts.

Although the exhibition was a no-decision affair, matchmaker Larry Atkins conducted a poll among newsmen at ringside and reported the writers favored Bivins by a 9 to 5 vote. However, most everyone agreed that Louis had plenty in reserve.

Louis weighed 220 and had a 40-pound edge over Bivins, who appeared to be in extra good shape. A crowd of 10,086 saw the bout, which produced a gross gate of $47,591. Louis received 35 per cent.

Getz, Fenton Win In Wrestling Bout

The Australian tag team match last night almost turned into a riot as Al Getz, generally the villain, continued to remain unpopular by throwing a bloody Dory Funk out of the ring in the third fall to bring victory to the Rod Fenton-Getz duo.

Bennie Trudell opened the night's festivities by pinnnig Vic Weber in two out of three falls of the semi-final main event, after which Dick Trout and Funk stepped in for their crack at Getz-Fenton. It also went three falls.

Getz took the first fall of the feature with a rope rebound and body smother at the expense of Trout, using up 17 minutes. During this time both Fenton and Funk were active in the ring also.

The second fall went to Funk over Fenton, with both members of the winning team knocking their opponents down. The decision went to Funk, although Getz wasn't in good shape at the end. It took 11 minutes, with Funk winning on an inside stepover toehold.

The final fall went to Getz, when Funk couldn't get back into the ring. Up until that point he had taken a severe pounding and had gone out of the ring on two of its four sides. The bout lasted six minutes.

Trudell won the first fall from Weber in 12 minutes with a half crab, but the New Yorker came back with a fast start to win the second with an Irish whip in one minute flat.

The deciding tumble went to Trudell, again in 12 minutes, when the Canadian used a rope rebound and body smother to end the match.

Deer Bagging In State During First Day Of Season Is Heavy

AUSTIN, Nov. 18 (AP)—The deer kill on the first day of the season was good despite warm weather, reports from points throughout the hill country of central Texas indicated today.

Marble Falls, San Saba, Llano, Kerrville, Fredericksburg and Austin sources reported a total bag of more than 1,000 deer.

Limit Taken Easy

An estimated 75 to 100 thousand hunters are expected to go after the white tail deer in the hill country. H. B. DeBerry stayed in home county, Travis, and completed his deer season hunting within five seconds. On a ranch just outside the Austin city limits, DeBerry waited with a double-barreled shotgun with a rifle barrel underneath. Two eight-point bucks ran into a clearing. DeBerry cut down one with his shotgun, then pulled the rifle trigger to fell the other. The season bag limit is two deer.

Two ice storage vaults at Fredericksburg had 515 deer and "a goodly number of turkey gobblers" by 10 p. m. Tuesday night. The deer were reported in excellent shape and averaged eight points.

Hunters Swamp Llano

Llano was swamped with hunters seeking day leases after 303 bucks were placed on cold storage there the first day. The largest dressed at 127 pounds.

Llano County Agent C. V. Robinson said Monday night was clear and moonlight, resulting in extensive feeding by the deer. The animals bedded down during the daytime heat of Tuesday, he explained. Similar conditions prevailed in other areas.

No specific figures were reported from San Saba, but ranchers reported a better than average crop of fat deer. Several hunters brought in deer the first day.

Largest Ten-Pointer

More than 100 deer were placed on cold storage at Marble Falls.

Fifty-five deer and seven turkeys were brought into Kerrville, where hunting was said to be off to a slow start. Mrs. J. A. Motte of Orangegrove shot a 10-pointer, the largest number of points reported at Kerrville.

Mrs. Walter Lehrer, Llano ranchwoman, made the first kill reported at Llano. She bagged an eight-pointer shortly after sun-up on her ranch a few miles north of Llano.

Leslie B. Toungate, an Austin city employe, was first to bring in a Travis county deer, a nine-point buck.

No game law violations were reported by the game, fish and oyster commission.

Kilgore Is Sought For Several Bowls

GALVESTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Kilgore and Wharton Junior colleges are among those being considered for the Oleander bowl game to be played in Galveston probably Christmas day.

Homer Norton, former Texas A. and M. coach who now is coach of Kirwin high school here and is constructing a beachfront hotel in Galveston, was named by the Greater Galveston Beach association to line up teams for the game.

Norton said Kilgore officials were favorable toward playing in Galveston but that they had two other bids—the Little Rose bowl in Pasadena, Calif., and the Little Sugar bowl at Monroe, La. Kilgore also is being sought for the Texas Rose bowl at Tyler.

Wharton college leads the south zone of the Texas junior college conference. It has lost one game this season—that to McNeese college of Louisiana.

Girls Cage Tourney Might Be In Dallas

GATESVILLE, Nov. 18 (AP)—The Texas high school girls basketball tournament may be held in Dallas, L. C. McKamie, director general, said today.

Mckamie and directors of the league will go to Dallas Friday to confer with officials regarding holding the tournament in the new Dallas park department gym.

There are 350 teams in the girls league. Elimination is by districts with some 18 teams in the state tournament.

Independent Cagers' Roster Deadline Set

Curtis Barrett, City Recreation Department director, announced yesterday that rosters of all teams planning to enter independent basketball teams in the league sponsored by the city must be in his hands not later than 5 p. m. Friday.

Barrett said yesterday that each team would be allowed 12 players, with final deadline for signing players set at Jan. 1. All roster changes must be reported to the league chairman before the players are eligible to play.

An entry fee of $25 is being charged and should be paid to Barrett not later than Nov. 23. The money will be used to pay for lights, janitor fees, referees and incidentals. Any money left over will be returned.

Team trophies will be awarded to the champions and runners-up and there will be two divisions, the City League and the Industrial League. Games will be played Monday and Thursday nights.

Eligible players will be those high school boys with no eligibility left, graduates of high school, junior college or college and others. No man who has played as a member of a freshman or varsity team of a college, junior college or university—and still enrolled—shall be eligible.

Racing Circles Eye Texas-Born Jockey

BOWIE, Md., Nov. -2 (AP) — Racing circles have their eyes on a Texas-born, Texas-trained youngster whose performance as a jockey is crowding the experts.

He is 17-year-old Clarence Emile Picou, an apprentice jockey born near Beaumont, Tex., where he started racing quarter horses at the age of 10.

Since his first race in New Orleans last January he has taken 232 horses home in front. He trails only the veteran jockeys Johnny Longden and Ted Atkinson.

Fischer Is Chosen Lineman Of Week

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 18 (AP)—Capt. Bill Fischer, Notre Dame guard played bruising football for 58 minutes against Northwestern last week and his thorough effectiveness won him the lineman of the week honor in the current Associated Press poll.

The 21-year-old senior from Chicago is the first guard to win an award this season and the honor came as the fruit of what probably was his finest performance of the season.

Fischer never let up. Late in the game he spilled Don Burson, Northwestern quarterback for a 26 yard loss as the Wildcat quarterback went back to pass. On the play Burson fumbled and Fischer recovered.

Fischer started the last game of the season in 1945 as a freshman against Great Lakes. He has been a starter ever since. He was a tackle as a freshman under Hugh Devore, but was moved to left guard by Frank Leahy during spring practice of his sophomore year. He has played at left tackle as well as left guard under Leahy. Against the Wildcats last Saturday he played guard on both offense and defense.

Last year Fischer tied with center Bill Walsh for the "iron man" title for the Irish with 300 minutes of playing time out of a possible 540.

Tech Frosh To Meet Cameron Aggies In Friday Night Game

The freshman football team at Texas Tech is scheduled to leave early this afternoon for Cameron, Okla., where they will play the Cameron Aggies tomorrow night in a return game for one played here last year.

Coach Maxey McKnight is taking 35 young Red Raiders on the trip, the final football game of the year for the first year men. The Aggies were rated as one of the best junior college teams in the nation last season and took home a 33-6 victory, when they played the Tech frosh here.

That was last year and since then there have been changes. The vaunted Aggies, who went to the Little Rose Bowl, have lost a lot of their topnotch men and the Raider freshmen have gained in prominence.

Coach McKnight's crew has won two and lost two for the season and they will be looking for another victory Friday night to end the season with a plus record. They have a good chance, for the fish have a good defensive team and, of late, they have shown signs of producing an offensive.

Texas League Rebels Draft Four Players

DALLAS, Nov. 18. (AP)—The Dallas Rebels of the Texas league yesterday drafted four players for a total of $13,500.

U. S. Soldier Saves Four Jap Miners And Becomes Big Hero

SENDAI, Japan, Nov. 18. (AP)—Pvt. Salvatore Forte of Hatboro, Pa., was almost as big a hero in Japan today as Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Private Forte saved the lives of four Japanese miners buried in a cave for 12 days.

Their families and friends had given them up for dead. But not Private Forte. He was once a miner, himself.

He kept digging doggedly. And he kept a crew of Japanese digging, down through a 100 foot high hill, to reach the imprisoned men.

Dragged Out Alive

They were dragged alive from their dank, dark prison today. All were exhausted and were rushed to an emergency hospital set up in a tent at the mine's mouth.

Doctors said they would live.

When the cave in came the miners were near an underground fresh water spring. Its waters and 10 pebble sized pieces of candy one of them had in his bocket kept them alive.

The Japanese, who admire courage and know-how, bowed low today to Private Forte.

Woman Apparently Victim Of Bludgeoning

Police Find Body Believed To Be Missing Child Nurse

(By The Associated Press)

OSSIPEE, N. H., Nov. 18—The badly decomposed and apparently bludgeoned body of a young woman believed by police to be Ruth Eisenberg, missing Newark, N. J., nurse, was found last night in a shallow grave.

State police said clothing discovered near the body matched that worn by the attractive 22-year-old nurse when she left a Newton, Conn., home July 20 for a five-day vacation in New Hampshire and Maine. She was employed at the Newtown home as a child nurse.

Medical referee Francis Dube reported a preliminary examination indicated she suffered a crushed skull. The official cause of death and other details were withheld, however, pending further examination.

Dr. Dube said the skull and upper portion of the body were found in the grave and the lower section nearby. Police theorized bones of the lower part of the body had been dragged from the grave by animals.

State Police Major Dwight Comstock asked the girl's uncle, Jerome Eisenberg, a Newark lawyer, to forward her dental chart for purposes of identification.

The lawyer and the girl's father, Ephriam Eisenberg, vice principal of the East Side school annex in Newark, planned to come here today to assist authorities.

The girl was reported missing when she did not reappear at the home of her employers, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Drury, at the close of her vacation.

Talmadge Becomes Georgia Governor

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 18 (INS)—Thirty-five-year-old Herman Talmadge was inaugurated yesterday as the nation's youngest governor in ceremonies on the Georgia capitol lawn in Atlanta.

Nearly ten thousand persons, the largest crowd ever to witness the inauguration of a Georgia governor, stood with uncovered heads while Talmadge took the oath of office.

The young executive, who will fill the unexpired term of his father, the late Eugene Talmadge, declared in his inauguration address that Georgians can expect two years of "retrenchment and economy."

Retiring acting Governor M. E. Thompson stood by with a drawn expression throughout the ceremony. His presence was not acknowledged, and no reference was made to him.

Thus ended the latest chapter in a two-year political feud between Thompson and Talmadge.

Lieut. Gov. Marvin Griffin was sworn in immediately after Talmadge.

President. While others were in on the luncheon, the two were to confer separately.

The luncheon guests included Paul Fitzpatrick, Democratic state chairman for New York; Senator Pepper (D-Fla); Florida Governor-Elect Fuller Warren; Rep. George Smathers (D-Fla) and Leonard Hicks, Chicago hotel man.

The developing diplomatic crisis transformed this naval submarine base from a presidential vacation retreat into a conference site upon which the basis for a restatement of American international policy may be laid.

To Fly Back Sunday

Mr. Truman is flying back to Washington Sunday for a full-scale review of the peace outlook with Secretary of State Marshall and roving ECA Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

His conference today with Forrestal is expected to be preliminary to his White House survey of the entire diplomatic picture.

1. Marine forces are to be increased by 1,250 men at Tsingtao, China where 3,600 are now stationed.

2. Two transports are going into Chinese ports to remove Americans from the path of advancing Communist forces.

3. He assumed the question of rearming western Europe "will come under a series of things I will take up with the President."

4. He will remain at his post as long as the President wants him, and that he is "at the service of the President."

Budget Prepared

Forrestal, just returned from an inspection of European trouble areas, said his department has prepared a budget for the three armed services within the fifteen billion dollar limit set by Mr. Truman and the Budget Bureau.

Asked whether it would mean any serious change in the Navy's big carrier program or Air Forces expansion to 70-group strength, he replied:

"Well, there will be adjustments. All of these programs, of course, have to be fitted economically to a fiscal pattern. The precise details of the results of this budget I haven't yet fully examined but that will be available."

games.

Tech currently is leading the Border conference race, and needs only a victory in either of two remaining games—with New Mexico and Hardin-Simmons—to sew up the title. The Raiders are solid favorites in both these contests. The athletic officials, however, acted on the Sun bowl invitation in full realization that the Raiders have not yet won the title, the school spokesman said.

Five members of the athletic council attended the meeting with President Wiggins. They were Dr. J. William Davis, chairman, Dr. Fred W. Sparks, Prof. H. N. Godeke, George Langford and George Wilmoth. Athletic Director Morley Jennings and Coach Morgan also were present, but did not vote on the matter.

United Europe

Europe:

"We want Europe to have so much political strength that neither the United States nor any other power whatsoever will ever be able to use Europe for purposes alien to the free development of Europe itself.

"We want Europe to have such economic strength that it will be prosperous in its own right and not be dependent on economic grants from others.

"We want Europe to be sufficiently unified so that, practically, we can work with it.

"We want a Europe that has so much moral and intellectual dynamism that, in the tradition of the magna charta and the declaration of the rights of man, it will continue to arouse men everywhere to strike off the shackles that curtail their self-development.

"We want a Europe capable of inventing a new industrial revolution that will continue to multiply the productivity of human labor.

"We want a Europe which will again produce great literature, music and art, and such deligious movements as have, in the past, inspired and enriched the world."

U. S. Marines

sula, is close to Communist-controlled areas—so close that the water supply for the city is within Communist-held territory. Some experts believe the Communists can take the city any time they choose, without much opposition from Nationalist forces.

2. In the Shanghai-Nanking areas there are about 3,050 Americans. In other sections, including the evacuation port of Tsingtao, there are 1,574 others. These figures do not include military people such as those on the American advisory missions to Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist government.

Protection Top Purpose

3. The primary reason for the presence of the marines in China is to protect American lives and property. It is to be assumed that if shooting between marines and Communists should occur it would be in defense of these lives and the property they represent.

The current marine force of 3,600 men at Tsingtao has what is described in the Navy announcement as "supporting aircraft," probably some fighters and a few aerial transports.

The Navy already has ample facilities in the area to hurry Americans out of Tsingtao, if that becomes urgent. Its task force 38—made up of two carriers, two cruisers and eight destroyers—has been in that vicinity for more than a month on a training cruise from the United States.

Meanwhile, two Navy ships will stand by to take Americans out of Shanghai.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

MARKET IS IRREGULAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—The stock market was irregular today, despite numerous good dividend actions and the announcement of a sharp rise in earnings of the Standard Oil Co. (N.J.).

Individual stocks were outstanding, particularly National Lead, which held a gain of more than 3 points near the close. In response to good dividends, International Minerals and Oil Manufacturing were both up substantially.

Wall street quarters, explaining the market's failure to react to the good business news, pointed out that uncertainties over future U. S. policy with regard to China and the still pertinent question of the Berlin airlift tend to overcloud any domestic news of a bullish nature.

Best news of the day was the nine-month earnings statement of Standard (N.J.)—the first ever issued—which showed a $90,000,000 rise in net to $7.50 a share on capital stock, from $5.12 last year. For all of 1947, net was equal to $9.83 a share.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—Cotton futures were easy today on scattered liquidation and hedging which met only scale-down trade support. Selling was prompted partly by an unfavorable bureau of census report on cotton consumption.

The Census Bureau reported October use at 680,887 bales. The trade looked for a figure of around 720,000 bales.

There was further liquidation in nearby December, prior to first notice next Wednesday. Shippers covered futures against cotton sold to Europe.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (AP)—All grains retreated on the board of trade today, knocked down by a group of mildly bearish items hitting a market which traders thought was ripe for a tumble. Losses ran to around 2 cents at times in wheat and corn.

Among the bearish items was an embargo on shipments of bulk grain to Houston, which had become an important export port for grains since the start of the longshoremen's strike on the North Atlantic coast. Another was receipt of heavy snows in parts of the winter wheat territory.

Wheat closed 1 ¾ lower to ⅛ higher, December 83.37 ⅛-⅜; corn was 1 ⅛ to 2 cents lower, December $1.42 ½-⅝; oats were ⅜-¾ lower, December 83 ⅜-½.

33 Injured In Train Wreck

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (AP)—Thirty-three persons were injured, none reported critical, last night when a Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad streamliner rammed into the rear of a three-coach commuter train near suburban Dolton.

The injured were removed in ambulances to a Dolton clinic and to St. Francis hospital in suburban Blue Island. Thirteen of the injured, including the engineer and fireman of the streamliner, remained in the hospital overnight. The others were released after treatment of cuts and bruises.

Two Men Trapped

The diesel engine of the five-car streamliner, the "Meadowlark," and the baggage car of the commuter train of the Chicago Western Indiana railroad were directly involved in the wreck. The baggage car telescoped over the C. & E. I. engine, trapping engineer Fred Bowling, 63, and fireman Stephen Hannawalt, 59, in the cab. Firemen and policemen freed them.

The coaches of the streamliner, which was behind schedule on a run from Chicago to Cypress in southern Illinois, did not leave the rails. The commuter train consisted of an engine, two passenger cars and a baggage car. Passengers had been discharged from the coaches about 10 minutes before the crash. The engine and coaches were not derailed.

Okinawa Expecting Typhoon Sideswipe

TOKYO, Nov. 18 (AP)—A typhoon with winds up to 100 miles an hour at its center is expected to sideswipe Okinawa this afternoon.

Theft Is Reported

Mrs. J. M. Marshall informed police Tuesday night that her residence at 1208 Ave. U. had been entered between 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. and two watches, valued at $20 each, and a $35 rifle removed by the intruder.

The watches, one a 17-jewel and the other a 7-jewel, were taken from a bureau drawer. The rifle, a .32 caliber Winchester, was disassembled for cleaning and was carried away in parts, Mrs. Marshall said.

Marvin Charles Wilson was fined $50 and county court costs on a plea of guilty to driving a motor vehicle without a driver's license, County Attorney John Steele's records showed.

James A. Dougherty, 18, of Branery, Minn., was placed in Lubbock county jail Wednesday afternoon by federal officials for trial of a charge that on Feb. 5 he transported a stolen motor vehicle in interstate commerce.

He was arrested in San Antonio, where bond of $1,500 was set by P. A. Lockart of the western federal district of Texas conditioning his appearance for trial here. In lieu of bail, he was removed here under custody. The charge was sworn to by Curtis L. Perryman, resident agent of the FBI in Lubbock.

Police said a car stolen early today from Chester McGee of 1916 Ave. E had been recovered by police within a block of where it was taken, in 200-block Ave. H.

He said at least one year out of the two year term, under the present setup, the governor must pay strict attention to politics—if he expects another term in office.

Because of that, he will not advocate under his new proposal, that a Texas governor succeed himself, Governor Jester said.

The governor declined comment on whether he would call a special session of the legislature to act on the Gilmer-Aiken school plan.

Two Ten-Year-Old Boys Decide School Fit Only For Firemen

HAMMOND, Ind., Nov. 18. (INS)—Two ten-year-old Hammond, Ind., boys "didn't like to go to school"—so they tried to burn the schoolhouse down.

The boys—whose names were withheld because of their youth—said they first tried lighter fluid on the Lafayette grade school's wooden steps.

The blaze was discovered before damage was caused.

Then they tried igniting kerosene they had poured over a classroom floor.

This attempt failed also.

Their third effort was to set fire to a wastebasket, but a janitor discovered it and extinguished the blaze.

Police officials said the admission came after they had questioned 50 other boys in a lengthy probe of the fires.

The two youths have been turned over to Juvenile authorities.

Prof Gives Word To Future Songsmiths

CHICAGO, Nov. 18. (INS)—Professor John Toms, of the Northwestern university music school today passed out a few "helpful hints" to would-be songsmiths.

All you have to do to be a success is:

"Put yourself in the shoes of the listener, the English professor, the singer and the musical analyst, all at the same time."

The listener—because they will like the song if the melody is striking and easy to remember.

The English professor—because they are likely to criticize the lyrics. He added that many a composer's effort is wasted on shoddy words.

The singer—because if the range is too great, singers won't like it.

The critic—because he is the gent that puts the stamp of approval on the song for the general public.

Aircraft Of Flying Farmers Are Safe

DODGE CITY, Kans., Nov. 18 (U.P.)—All 94 planes of a flying farmer flight along the historic Chisholm trail were reported safe today, but only 70 in the group had reached their destination here.

Dust storms, extending over a 100-mile area near Wichita, obstructed vision up to 6,000 feet and forced the other 24 planes to land at scattered Kansas and Oklahoma points.

The flight, sponsored by the National Farmer's magazine to illustrate southwestern progress, traced the Chisholm cattle trail from Gainesville, Tex., to Dodge City.

The Farmers' prize passenger was a three-weeks-old bull calf, which made the historic journey in two hours and 10 minutes. Old timers who once drove cattle here from Texas said the trip took them four or five months.

Weather

per-hour wind and light snow hit Clayton, N. M., just across the state line.

The new cold front had reached as far south and east as Abilene and Wichita Falls by 7 a. m. today, and was due in the Dallas-Fort Worth area some time this afternoon, the Associated Press reported.

Low temperatures from 30 to 34 degrees are forecast for the northwest portion of East Texas tonight. Forecast of subfreezing temperatures was given for both the Panhandle and South Plains areas.

Snow at Dalhart

The United Press reported that at Dalhart, where a maximum of 72 degrees was recorded Wednesday, the temperature plummeted to 29 this morning and a fine snow was coming in on a high north wind.

Generally cloudy skies moved ahead of the cold front, with precipitation on the upper coast. Galveston recorded .06 inch and Beaumont, .05 inch of rain.

A howling northwest wind, with velocities up to 40 and 50 miles an hour, hurled snow across northwest Kansas today, cutting visibility and endangering traffic.

The worst weather of fall was due to spread across Kansas eastward, with temperatures sharply below freezing forecast for tonight. The mercury may dip to 10 above zero.

Four Inches of Snow

Four inches of snow lay on the ground at Goodland at dawn, and the fall continued on into the day.

Highway patrol and road maintenance headquarters at Topeka reported visibility "very bad" at many points in the western third of the state.

As yet, however, the near-blizzard had blocked no roads.

The area of blowing snow also extended over western Nebraska, eastern Colorado and parts of the Panhandles of Oklahoma and Texas, the U. S. weather service disclosed.

School busses on the back country roads and motor vehicle traffic on the main federal highways were having difficulties making progress through the storm.

The crash occurred three miles west of Schoenberg. The plane was returning to Luebeck, near Schoenberg, from a regular flight to Berlin's Gatow airport.

It was the second fatal accident to a British airlift plane and brought the toll of British lives lost in the airlift to six. Four persons were killed in the crash of an RAF plane near Wunstorf Sept. 20.

Thirteen Americans have been killed in airlift accidents.

The airlift was operating at near normal rate this morning after several days of fog interference.

done a good job as recovery administrator and ought to be kept.

Senator Murray (D-Mont) said that while he knows nothing of any possible policy differences between Hoffman and the President, it is his general impression that the program is working out very well in Europe. He added that he thinks highly of Hoffman.

There has been some speculation that Mr. Truman might ask Harriman to take over the top job in the aid setup.

But many lawmakers believe that if the President has some new place in mind for Harriman, it might be in the State department.

The President has made it plain he wants Marshall to stay on as long as he can. Mr. Truman has appeared less enthusiastic about keeping Robert A. Lovett as undersecretary.

The betting on Capitol Hill, however, is that Marshall will demand that Lovett stay on as his chief aide as long as the secretary remains in the cabinet.

Home Construction Shows Sharp Drop

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP)—The number of new homes on which construction work started dropped sharply last month from the September total. But the 10-month total for 1948 still is well ahead of the same period a year ago.

The Labor department today reported the October figure was only 72,000 compared with 80,000 in September, 94,000 in October, 1947. However 1947 saw an autumn building boom contrary to the usual seasonal decline.

So far this year, the department said, there have been 803,000 new permanent non-farm dwelling units started compared with 710,500 for the same January-through October period last year. The 1947 total was 849,000.

Duties Of Engineer Corps Told At Meet

Responsibilities and activities of the Corps of Engineers, a government organization that serves both military and civilian needs, were outlined at the luncheon of the Kiwanis club today at Hotel Lubbock by Lt. Col. Ivan C. Rumsey, of the Albuquerque district office of the corps.

Founded in June, 1775 at the request of President Geo. Washington, the corps reached a strength of nearly three-fourths of a million men during World war 2, Col. Rumsey said. The corps is manned largely by civilians, he said, and is active in peace as well as war.

During the last five years, the corps constructed about 3,000 command installations, and about 300 major installations, at a total cost of approximately 11 billion dollars. Many of them were military installations in West Texas and New Mexico.

Civilian responsibility includes construction and maintenance of inland waterways and flood control projects throughout the nation, and for research and development that will add to general safety and comfort of the people, Col. Rumsey said.

The speaker was introduced by Col. Ludlow Adams, of the ROTC staff at Texas Tech college, who was program chairman.

Club President L. E. Davis announced that, according to custom, next week's meeting will be held on Wednesday, instead of Thursday, due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Invocation was by Rev. Hubert H. Bratcher.

Rep. Thomas Speaks At South Texas Meet

PASADENA, Tex., Nov. 18 (AP)—Russia has five times as many planes and armed men as the United States, Rep. Albert Thomas (D-Tex) told guests at barbecue in his honor last night.

Approximately 2,500 persons took part in the eighth annual Pasadena celebration in honor of the eighth district congressman.

Reluctant "to be serious on such a joyous occasion," the congressman said nevertheless "I cannot miss the opportunity of reminding the people to remain ever vigilant.

"Our peace may be endangered at any moment by the least mistake on the part of the United States or Russia. The only way in which we can maintain peace is by a show of strength of arms. Money must be spent for mobilization to demonstrate that strength."

Henry Ford II Predicts Fourth Wage Boost, Increased Prices

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18. (AP) Henry Ford II predicted yesterday the nation's workers will get a fourth round wage increase and prices will go up.

"A new pay boost is inevitable," the president of the Ford Motor co., told a news conference. "I don't think anything can prevent it."

"Prices too must go up. There is no place else for them to go."

Ford admitted that production has improved "but we haven't got sufficient productivity to reduce prices."

"Prices are high today," Ford said, "maybe too high—but we can't lower them without lowering wages and material costs.

Price Control Attacked

"I wish we had a buyer's market today. We're living in a fool's paradise. Unquestionably, prices will go down in a buyer's market."

Price control?

"That won't help. Price control would wreck the nation—the auto industry included— and ruin the economy.

"It is ridiculous to think that any person sitting in Washington can tell a company how much to charge for its product.

"We still have to make profits to go any place in this country."

Ford declared the workingman —"relatively speaking"—is better off today than in 1939 or 1940.

Labor is "hurting itself" by demanding price control, Ford said, adding:

"Not only would it turn the nation's progress backward, but it is a trend toward Socialism. And such a system would be despicable for the United States."

Plans Are Made To Blast Atom Nucleus

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (U.P.) — The University of Chicago, armed with its new synchro-cyclotron, hopes to blast the nucleus of the atom into its constituent parts by early 1950.

Dr. Samuel K. Allison, noted nuclear physicist and head of the University's institute for nuclear studies, said the huge synchro-cyclotron being built at the university will cost $2,200,000, and will be one of the three largest in the world.

The University of California's cyclotron, which has a 184-inch magnetic pole face diameter, is the largest. Columbia University har an instrument with a diameter of 170 inches, the same as Chicago's will have.

But Allison said the California instrument has not yet produced a beam in excess of the 430,000,000 electron-volts which scale model tests indicate the Chicago machine will be able to produce.

Eventually, Allison said, University of Chicago scientists hope to learn what holds the nucleus of the atom together with the aid of the synchro-cyclotron.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (INS)—Vice President-Elect Barkley, a 71-year-old widower, said today that he has been "besieged" with applications from women wanting to serve as his hostess.

But the vice-president-elect said he is rejecting all offers, because Mrs. Max Truitt, his daughter, will be his official hostess.

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Japs Will Ask For Leniency

TOKYO, Nov. 18 (AP)—All of Japan's top 25 war criminals are expected tomorrow to ask Gen. Douglas MacArthur for some form of leniency.

American defense attorneys have indicated they will offer petitions in the cases of each, even though some have professed not to want clemency.

The 25 were convicted and sentenced last Friday. Tomorrow is the deadline set by MacArthur for petitions in their behalf. On Monday MacArthur has invited representatives of the 11 nations that made up the international war crimes tribunal to meet with him to consider the court's judgment.

One Has Hope

Seven of the 25—including Hideki Tojo, Pearl Harbor premier—were sentenced to the gallows. Sixteen others were sentenced to life imprisonment and two to shorter prison terms.

Tojo's plea will be based on his defense—that Japan fought a war of defense.

At least one, Gen. Heitaro Kimura, Burma commander, hopes to escape the gallows. Kimura's attorney, J. C. Howard of Childress, Tex., said the Japanese hoped MacArthur's understanding of military field operations would save him.

Californians Are Killed In Wreck

CAPITAN, N. M., Nov. 18 (AP)—Two San Diego, Calif., men were killed yesterday in a crash of their light plane a mile east of Capitan and a short distance from U. S. highway 380.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Wigley identified the dead as Ollie B. Johnson, sr., 54, a student pilot, and Spencer R. Raylor, 31.

Wigley said two Roswell, N. M., motorists saw the two-place Taylorcraft smash in a high wind.

Cause of the crash was not determined immediately. Wigley reported the plane was almost out of gas and Capitan residents said it circled low over the town several times as if seeking to land.

The crash was about three-fourths mle from the Capitan airport. The plane hit on the nose and turned over.

The log and maps in the plane showed the men left Ranch, N. M., near Las Cruces, 100 miles away, at 7:15 a.m. bound for Tucumcari.

Federal Court Will Open Term In City

Federal district court for the Lubbock division Monday will commence a fall term that may require six weeks for clearing the docket.

Ninety-one civil cases, making that docket the longest in the history of the division, are to be disposed of. Jury demands have been made in most.

In addition, there is a light criminal docket, a naturalization class and several motions to be heard.

Officials To Arrive Monday

Judge Joseph B. Dooley of the northern district of Texas; George W. Parker, district clerk, and Miss Elizabeth Hall, deputy clerk, are expected here early Monday. Judge Dooley lives in Amarillo, the clerks in Fort Worth.

The court is expected to commence setting civil cases at 10 a. m., for the entire term, except for 15 cases he has specifically set, then to take up criminal action. He also will probably hear motions.

Under his expected schedule, he would go into trial of civil jury cases Tuesday after lecturing a naturalization class at 9:30 a. m. A jury reports to him at that time.

The jury is composed of Clarence Giffith of Brownfield, Otis Burson of Levelland, Sam Murphy of Brownfield, L. P. Smallen of Seminole, W. H. Mason of Snyder, L. C. Harp of Matador, M. L. Loyal Texas Democrats Expected To Have "Warm" Session Of Executive Committee

DALLAS, Nov. 18 (U.P.)—Loyal Texas Democrats today were expected to flex their political biceps at a closed meeting of the new Democratic state executive committee.

Those who refused to desert President Truman showed up in large numbers at the party get-togethers last night.

Loyal members of the party asked removal of national committmen Wright Morrow of Houston at the recent Fort Worth convention, but what their stand would be today was still a matter of speculation.

The Fort Worth convention urged the appointment of Byron Skelton of Temple as national committeeman, but Washington Democrats took no steps to make a change.

Morrow, a good friend of Gov. Beauford Jester and state chairman John C. Calhoun of Corsicana, drew criticism from pro-Truman Democrats when he suggested a referendum last summer on whether Mr. Truman or States' Rights candidate J. Strom Thurmond should go on the Texas ballot under the regular Democratic banner.

The new committee scheduled its meeting for 2 p. m.

Sen. Tom Connally keynoted a session of the Texas Association of Democratic chairmen early today.

Rally Scheduled

Some 700 Democrats are expected to attend a rally and banquet Saturday night, when most of the top party leaders in the state will speak. The rally and banquet are sponsored by loyal

Eight South Plains and area servicemen and a number from the area and the Panhandle are among the 7,572 remains of Americans who lost their lives during World War II who have been returned to the United States from Europe aboard the United States Army Transport Carroll Victory, the Army department announced Wednesday.

The Army further stated that armed forces dead originally interred in temporary military cemeteries in France, Belgium, and Holland are among those brought back to this country, and that next of kin were notified in advance of the vessel's arrival and would be notified again after arrival of the remains at the regional distribution centers of the American Graves Registration service.

Texan Makes Fifth Escape From Prison

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 18. (AP)—Howard Nunn, apparently bent on a Texas prison system record as an in-and-outer, is out again.

The 26-year-old convict has escaped from Eastham farm while assigned to a wood cutting detail.

It was Nunn's fifth successful escape in six attempts since entering the prison system in March, 1943. He is serving a nine-year sentence for theft and forgery from Dawson, Tom Green, Comanche and Harris counties.

"He's never been gone very long at any one time," said J. C. Roberts, chief of the prison system's record bureau. "It is difficult to make much speed once you escape from Eastham."

Smog Sufferers Prepared For North Carolina Vacation Trip

DONORA, Pa., Nov. 18 (AP) — Fifty persons who suffered from the recent smothering fog prepared to wing their way to North Carolina for a weeks' free vacation.

The travelers, all cardiac and asthma sufferers, 31 to 71 years old, were chosen by Donora health officials. Twenty such sufferers died during four days of lethal fog.

Most of those selected for the trip were eager to go although a few refused because they were afraid to ride in airplanes.

Trips Are Gift

The jaycees are paying $2,000 in airplane fares, in addition to all other expenses. They had been promised free transportation by airlines but the civil aeronautics commission vetoed the plan. Only "emergency" flights can be made without payment, the CAB ruled.

"It's mighty nice of the people in North Carolina to do this for us," declared Edward Zimmerman, 61-year-old retired steelworker. "I think I'm going to have a mighty good time down there. I'm just going to rest and enjoy the fresh air."

It'll be Zimmerman's first trip in a plane but "I don't think I'll be afraid."

Donora townsfolk generally joined in approval of the southern offer.

"The people down there certainly deserve a lot of credit," declared Town Burgess August Chambon. "I don't know how we'll ever be able to thank them."

A trained nurse from Donora will accompany the group on the plane, and J. R. Benson, Wilmington city manager, has assured medical care during the entire stay.

Greek Cabinet Is Organized

ATHENS, Nov. 18. (AP)—A new coalition government of Populists and Liberals was sworn in today to replace a similar cabinet combination which resigned six days ago under the fire of dissident Liberals.

The cabinet again is headed by 88-year-old Premier Themistokles Sophoulis, leader of the Liberals. Populist (royalist) leader Constantin Tsaldaris also retains the posts of deputy premier and foreign minister.

The new cabinet went into its first informal meeting immediately after being sworn in.

The liberals took over the key position of war, which formerly had been filled by Populist George Stratos. Constantine Rentis, former minister of public order, was given the job, with Populist undersecretary.

Several former ministers took over new posts in a reshuffle aimed at strengthening the prosecution of the war against the Communist rebels. Criticism of the conduct of war was one of the reasons for the fall of the old coalition government six days ago.

George Brown, place-kicking specialist of the Syracuse University team, booted 27 straight conversions last year before missing his opening kick of this season.

Man's Sentence For Murder Suspended

HILLSBORO, Nov. 17 (AP)—Joe Melvin, Waxahachie, was free today on a five-year suspended sentence after a jury found him guilty of a murder without malice charge.

Melvin's trial, which ended yesterday, resulted from the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Scott of Kansas City, Mo., in an automobile wreck near Hillsboro last June 23.

He pleaded innocent before Judge Frank McDonald in 66th district court but asked for a suspension on good behavior if found guilty.

Britain Makes Appeal To Put Bernadotte Plan Into Effect

By ROBERT MANNING
United Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Nov. 18.—Great Britain appealed to the United Nations today to put into effect the Bernadotte plan for Palestine, calling for the Jews to give up the Negev, as the only way to prevent a war to the finish between Israeli and Arab armies.

The British appeal for the revision of the original Palestine partition plan approved by the UN last Nov. 29 was made in the political committee by Hector McNeil.

The United States, it was learned, refused to join Britain as co-sponsor of a resolution calling for assembly approval of the Bernadotte recommendations. That probably killed the resolution in the assembly, where a two-thirds majority is required.

U. S. Statement Due

The long awaited statement on the American position, it was understood, will not be given to the committee until next week, probably after Secretary of State George C. Marshall confers with President Truman Monday.

The plan was drafted by Count Folke Bernadotte, UN mediator for Palestine, just before he was assassinated in Jerusalem.

McNeil warned the UN that it could not step aside now and let the Arabs and Jews seek peace through direct negotiations.

"There are only two ways by which a definite political settlement can be reached in Palestine," he said. "One is by force of arms and the other is by the authority and influence of the United Nations.

Would Open Way

"If the United Nations steps aside and invites the two parties to reach a settlement by direct negotiations, it will in fact be opening the way to a settlement imposed by the stronger party upon the weaker."

McNeil said Britain would introduce a formal resolution calling for the adoption of all Bernadotte's recommendations in the modified partition plan, which is opposed by both Jews and Arabs.

McNeil demanded that the Jews give up the Negev desert in south Palestine in return for western Galilee, which the original partition plan gave to the Arabs. He conceded that the Negev was the core of the problem.

Provisions Outlined

The Bernadotte plan endorsed by McNeil also contained the following provisions:

1. International rule over Jerusalem.
2. Recognition of the state of Israel as a reality.
3. A UN conciliation commission to facilitate Arab-Jewish acceptance of a final settlement.
4. Arrangements whereby Israel would repatriate or reimburse an estimated 500,000 Arabs driven from Israeli territory.

McNeil said the plan represents "not a starting point but the final results of a long process" starting with Britain's appeal to the assembly in early 1947 for recommendations on the future of Palestine.

500 FEARED DROWNED

BOMBAY, Nov. 18 (U.P.)—Reports reached Bombay today that an estimated 500 persons were drowned when a steamer capsized in the Ganges river at Patna in Bihar province.

HEY, IT'S AUTUMN! — It may be leaf-falling season, but these won't. They're hung securely on the decorative Barbara Nichols who, for reasons unknown, was an exhibit at New York's National Hotel Expositon. Barbara and her fig leaves were the hit of the show.

EMBELLISHED IVORY

Pure ivory was considered so unattractive by ancient and medieval persons that they colored and gilded it, and frequently enriched it with jewels.

Crippled Children Should Be Spanked If They Need It, Handicapped Author Says

CHICAGO, Nov. 18. (AP)—Spank a crippled child? Yes, if he needs it, says Author Louise Baker.

Miss Baker lost a leg in a traffic accident when she was eight years old. A few months later, she said, her father spanked her for trying to boss the household.

"I had learned lesson number one, that I was going to have to live with my handicap, but not off it," Miss Baker told the annual convention for the National Society for Crippled Children.

Was That Type

"Not that all crippled children should be spanked," she said in her prepared talk. "I just happened to be that type."

Author of two books, "Out On The Limb" and "Party Line," Miss Baker, of Williams, Ariz., said she didn't learn her lesson all at once. More spankings followed. She got them whenever she needed them just as her unhandicapped sister did. And other things happened:

"I got crutches. I learned to walk, then run. I was fine. I was okay. I learned to roller skate. I learned to play baseball. I had fun.

"I hit kids and they hit me back —and don't think that isn't symptomatic—of the normal adjustment of a crippled child's playmates at least."

MISSISSIPPI DRAINAGE

The Mississippi River has 250 tributaries and drains 31 states and two Canadian provinces. Fifty of the tributaries are navigable streams.

Pennsylvania May Have Huge Surplus

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 18. (U.P.)—Pennsylvania expects a $30,000,000 tax surplus for the two years ending next May 31, if business operations continue at present levels.

Collections already are $35,000,000 above budget estimates. All state levies contributed except those on gasoline, beer and soft drinks, which are yielding slightly below the returns expected.

Taxes providing the bulk of the surplus are on cigarettes, corporate net income, liquor, capital stock, inheritances and motor licenses.

Sharmon Douglas May Have "Poached" On Princess' Preserves

U. S. Ambassador's Daughter Keeps Mum On Rumors Regarding Romances With Royalty

By INEZ ROBB
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Sharman Douglas, living proof that British gentlemen prefer blondes, preserved a lady-like silence concerning her social and romantic triumphs in London when she arrived in New York from the British capital.

The 20-year-old daughter of Lewis W. Douglas, American ambassador to the court of St. James's, paused only long enough after her arrival at Laguardia field to label as "a rumor" the report that she is to be one of the godmothers of Princess Elizabeth's new-born son.

Then Miss Douglas, who doesn't look like the kind of girl who steals other girls' beaux, was whisked away in a big black limousine so quickly that newsmen had time to ask her about only one of the young British noblemen she is alleged to have charmed away from Princess Margaret Rose.

Wants To See Marquess

She was asked if she knew that the Marquess of Milford-Haven, with whom her name and that of the princess have been romantically linked, was in New York. Miss Douglas, with a diplomatic finesse which is probably catching in ambassadorial families, said:

"I had no idea he was here. But I do hope to see him. He is a friend of mine."

When asked if it was true that she would return to London to attend the christening of the newborn prince as one of his godmothers, the ambassador's daughter replied emphatically:

"That's not true. Certainly, not that I know of. It's a rumor. Just that."

This young girl, who has set London's Mayfair by its ears in the last twelve months, has the healthy, scrubbed look of an American school girl.

Irresistable Beauty

In truth, Miss Douglas just manages to be pretty. She has lovely golden hair, worn in a shoulder length page-boy bob. She has peaches and cream complexion and skin, nice eyes, regular features and a friendly smile.

Whether she likes it or not, and truth or no, the lady is already a legend. If Miss Douglas lives to be 110 in the shade, she will still be pointed out as the irresistible American beauty who stole beaux from a British royal princess.

The basis for the legend—and it is a nice one—is the fact that two young gentlemen of the peerage have had the good taste and luck to date both Princess Margaret Rose and Miss Douglas.

These two are Lord Milford-Haven, best man at the wedding of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh a year ago, and the Marquess of Blandford, who is known for short as John George Vanderbilt Henry Spencer-Churchill.

Rumors Not Discussed

The press has never been quite certain whether Miss Douglas (1) poached on the princess's preserves or (2) merely kept her beaux from being lonely while the princess vacationed in Scotland in the late summer and early autumn.

This was a subject Miss Douglas would not discuss. She said: "Princess Margaret Rose and I are friends, but naturally I do not talk about personal matters with her."

As for the various "speculations" about Margaret Rose, the diplomat's daughter said "possibly the romantic atmosphere of Princess Elizabeth's marriage prompted them."

The royal family has looked with favor upon Miss Douglas, whose social success in the British capital has been monumental. She has spent a week-end at Windsor castle, attended cricket matches with the royal family and gone to many parties attended by the two princesses.

Miss Douglas arrived in New York in the company of her brother, Lewis, 26. It is understood she will remain here until after the Christmas holidays, which the whole Douglas family will spend—as is its custom—at the family home in Sonoita, Ariz.

Splicing telephone cable
TO SERVE WAITING CUSTOMERS

"I'm a cable splicer for the telephone company.

"I splice every one of the hundreds of wires in one section of telephone cable to its mate in the next section.

"All of us cable splicers are busy these days helping put new cables into service so that people waiting can get telephones.

"Cable and wire tie together the parts of the telephone system. To serve a new customer we need not only a telephone instrument and room on the switchboard, but also there must be a pair of wires to connect the two. Right now, most of the wires in telephone cables are in use.

"That's why we're putting in new cables as fast as the factories can deliver them—and the factories are turning out twice as much as they did before the war.

"To you people waiting: We want you to know that we're doing everything we can to get you a telephone—just as soon as we can."

Purchase Of Cheaper Argentine Beef For U. S. Tough Problem

(By Special Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 — There'd be more and cheaper steaks on American tables if we could buy beef from Argentina.

Then again, maybe there would not.

It's a complicated problem when we try to increase the nation's beef supply by shopping abroad.

In the first place, we can't shop in Argentina because of the foot-and-mouth disease there. A federal law prohibits importing any fresh or frozen beef from a country so afflicted.

U. S. Business Affected

But even if we could—and a U. S. project is having some success with a new vaccine in Mexico—it might not be a good thing for the country's pocketbook.

The immediate results, according to Floyd Davis of the department of agriculture's office of foreign agricultural relations, would be good. Prices would tumble as the supply was increased and there would be more beef for everyone. In addition, Argentina would have extra dollars with which to buy machinery from us.

But in the long run, said Mr. Davis, there would be complications.

First, he said, some American cattlemen might be driven out of business because they could not compete with the cheaper foreign beef. This would reduce the supply to a point where it might not be any larger than it is today, which in turn might boost prices again. It also would mean abandoning cattle lands which are not much good for anything else.

Price Bidding Possible

Second, other countries in need of Argentine beef might bid up the prices in a race to get their share. This not only would force us to pay more, but it would make those poor countries poorer and more dependent on help from the U. S.

Third, we'd be cutting into the supply which ordinarily goes to beef-hungry Europe—the United Kingdom alone buys 80 to 90 per cent of the Argentine surplus. So, probably, we'd end up by having to send Europe some of our own beef.

Fourth, we might become too dependent on a foreign country for our beef supply in time of war.

Mr. Davis pointed out that the beef supply in the U. S. is now above the pre-war figure—140 pounds per person to 126 pounds before the war. And only small amounts are being shipped abroad, mostly to such countries as Cuba and Venezuela, which he described as "normal" customers.

Beef Supply Smaller

But the fact remains that the demand is greater—more people can afford to eat meat and they'd eat it more often if the prices came down. And America's cattle population in the last four years has shrunk by nearly 7,000,000—from 85,334,000 to 78,564,000.

Imports of canned beef from Argentina help a little—we bought 19,547,622 pounds last year and we might buy more if it were not for the fact that we have to buy it through the Argentine government, which tacks a 20 per cent state profit on the packer's price.

A close watch is kept on countries on the banned list because of foot-and-mouth disease and they are removed from the list whenever they can satisfy the agriculture department that they've eliminated the disease. But the situation in Argentina is still endemic—cases keep cropping up.

Foot-and-mouth disease rarely kills cattle but it causes steers to lose so much flesh they're not worth marketing.

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there has been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Texas druggist for four ounces of Barcentrate. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonsful twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Barcentrate is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Barcentrate.

American Accused Of Talking About Rights, Ignoring Duties

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 — A friend said "I want to say something I wish you'd write." So he told me. And this is it.

I'm writing it because it affects all of us in one way or another. He said all that follows:

We talk a lot about our rights. But what about our duties? A duty like voting.

I know people who look up the stock market page every day to see how they're doing because they have ten shares of something.

But they don't vote. They don't have enough interest in their government to vote.

Yet they have their lives and their future invested in the government, a far bigger investment than they have in stocks and bonds.

Recent Election Cited

People in this country scream that they don't want any interference with their rights, like freedom.

But they can keep those rights only so long as this democracy, which guarantees the rights, works.

Since we are all citizens enjoying those rights, then it is our duty as citizens to see that this democracy works at its best.

And it works best when everyone does his duty as a citizen by voting.

That means voting for our officials, but particularly for our President and the Congress members who, we hope, will do their best to preserve our rights.

The last election shows pretty well what I mean. Only 47,000,000 out of 94,000,000 people of voting age had enough interest to vote.

So one-half the people of voting age left it up to the other half to make the decision for all and do the duty all should have carried out.

Vote No Guarantee

Let's use the newly elected Congress as an example although the same thing might happen with any congress.

If Congress or the President makes a bad mistake which could ruin this country in foreign affairs or something at home, then congress in desperation might think it necessary to curb some of our freedoms or wipe them out.

If that happened we no longer would have the same democracy we had before. Once the change started, no one could say where it would stop.

The change might not come about suddenly. It probably wouldn't. It might come about gradually, a little chipping away here and there.

Sure the same thing might happen even if all the people of voting age voted. A full vote is no absolute guarantee against mistakes.

But if democracy broke down after a full vote of the people, then it would be a failure of a democracy which had had a full chance to work.

Education One Solution

It wouldn't be a failure because half the people, failing to appreciate what they had, left it up to the other half to make the decisions for them.

I know it's a tough job, and a never-ending job, to get people to take enough interest in democracy and their own future and welfare to vote.

Education is one way of doing it. And I don't mean just education in schools. I mean education in the responsibility of citizenship, like voting.

Active-minded people can help by talking to their neighbors or getting up discussion groups in their neighborhood where the issues and the candidates can be talked over.

A lot of people, I think, would vote if they were reminded to register and where to do it and when and things like that. I know people ought to take care of those things themselves. The fact is, many don't.

Right now the job, more or less depending on where you live, is being done by politicians, big and little, and labor union people. I know a lot of people look down on politicians.

But the union people and the precinct workers and ward-heelers go around and ring bells and talk to might-be-voters. You may argue that they're doing all that for selfish reasons.

Whatever their reasons, they're doing the basic job of trying to get democracy to work.

Just because democracy has worked pretty well so far is no assurance it always will. The times are getting more dangerous, not safer, for democracy.

Gold Coins Again Land In Mexico After Long Trip

LAREDO, Nov. 18 (AP) — Mexican gold coins with an inflated value on the black market crossed the border into Mexico yesterday.

But both United States and Mexican customs officials watched carefully as the 350 Mexican 50-pesos pieces were taken over the international bridge.

The story of the gold pieces goes back to last year and involves a man's jacket made especially to carry the precious metal, and a plane bound from Mexico to Havana, Cuba—but forced by a storm to land in Miami, Florida.

The 350 gold pieces are $75 each on the black market in Havana.

When the plane was forced to land at Miami, U.S. customs officials seized the gold coin. The owner of the gold—not identified—had not declared it for customs.

Eventually U. S. customs released the gold on condition the coins be sent to Mexico under customs exportation.

That's what happened yesterday. Assistant Chief U. S. customs Inspector H. P. Barnes delivered the gold to Mexican customs officials in the presence of assistant U. S. Customs Collector A. R. Kahn, Mexican Vice Consul Hector Jara, and Mexican Chief Customs Inspector Miguel Bernal.

The man who intended to fly the gold to Cuba last year won't get his hands on it immediately. Mexican officials have taken possession of the gold, which cannot be exported from Mexico without a special permit. The owner has obtained a court order restraining authorities from molesting or seizing the gold but he hasn't won his own right to it.

Comic Books Are On Hand But Congress Does Not Use Them

By GORDON BROWN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 — Know where one of the country's biggest comic book collections is located?

It's in the Library of Congress.

This is not to imply that the country's senators and representatives spend their time perusing the comic books.

In fact, quite the contrary. Archibald Evans, chief of the serial section, says that so far as he knows, no member of Congress ever has called for a single comic book.

Filed For Copyrights

This collection comes about through a law which requires a publisher to file a copy of his magazines with the Library of Congress if he wishes them copyrighted.

Thus most comic magazine publishers at one time or another have filed copies with the library. Most of them send copies regularly.

Right now, by actual count, the current file of comic magazines show 315 different titles—which means there are at least that many different ones available for junior to buy.

That number doesn't include dozens, possibly hundreds, that may have bloomed and died after a few months.

Available To Anyone

The library's comic magazines aren't out where the public can lay hands on them, but they are available to anyone who asks—just like any other reading material.

Evans said the comics used to be put out for anyone to look at. But they disappeared frequently so now they are kept under lock and key.

Congressmen may not read them but somebody does.

Portable Ice-Skating Rink To Bring Sport To Small Cities

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 18 (AP)—Artie Nickolas, veteran Ice Follies performer, is ready to cash in on a 10-year-old dream of bringing good skating shows to communities lacking commercial rinks.

The 29-year-old member of a family that has provided three members of Ice Follies and Ice-Capades casts from 1938 until the current season found the idea couldn't be translated into reality without a vastly improved portable rink.

He gave the problem a lot of thought while serving 50 months as an Army Air Force engineer in the South Pacific. Existing portable rinks were giving small ice shows a reputation that threatened development of the form of entertainment envisioned by Artie.

GI Loan Helps

Luckily for him, the same idea was in the mind of Johnny Williams, Fair Haven, N. J., Follies refrigeration engineer. They joined forces and tackled the portable rink problem, aided by a GI loan Artie got.

Months after Artie chucked his feature role with the Ice Follies and Williams left the same show to build a portable rink without a dozen defects defying solution, they completed the "Alum-N-Ice Stage."

The basic tank is made of aluminum. The units can be assembled to fit any size performance space, leaving no ice seams or cracks. The compact unit uses no sand, coils, headers or valves. No spraying is required to resurface the ice. Ice is made quickly without salt or calcium chloride and there is no seepage from the tanks.

Sun No Handicap

The stage has operated successfully outdoors under a blazing sun, according to the inventors. Water in the tank units is quickly frozen by a 15-horsepower Freon refrigerator unit. All stage equipment, show props and costumes are carried in a specially constructed trailer which has a repair shop and office.

Adaptability of the outfit to swift changes in show sites was demonstrated at the initial engagements of Artie's "Ice Delights," an 11-member cast of skaters using the "Alum-N-Ice Stage." The show closed at the Hagerstown, Md., fair near midnight and opened the next afternoon at Trenton, N. J.

The cast is in training here for winter bookings. Artie, who skated

U. S. Radio Set-Up In Berlin Powerful Weapon In Cold War

By DAVID LOEHWING
United Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Nov. 18.—The American-operated broadcasting station RIAS beamed to the Soviet zone, has become a powerful weapon in the Berlin cold war.

Transmitting straight news reports and "Voice of America" casts, RIAS has taken 80 per cent of the Berlin listening public away from Soviet-operated Radio Berlin, a military government analysis claimed.

In addition to its blanket Berlin coverage, RIAS operates a 75,000-watt short wave transmitter located in the U. S. zone and beamed toward eastern Europe.

Reaches 22,000,000

Military government officials estimated RIAS reaches 22,000,000 persons in Germany with news about the policies and aims of the United States counteracting Soviet propaganda.

The RIAS listening public has been built up in the past year by William F. Heimlich of Columbus, O., former chief of U. S. Army Intelligence in Berlin.

The station first went on the air Sept. 5, 1946, after the Soviets had refused persistently to allow four-power control of Radio Berlin, which they took over from the Germans when the city fell.

The first broadcasts were made over a mobile 1,000-watt transmitter, on a nine-hour a day basis, with a staff of four American officers and 200 Germans. Its power gradually has been brought up to 20,000 watts on medium wave lengths. It broadcasts 22 hours a day, employs 600 Germans and moved recently into a new building with eight modern studios.

Propaganda Met

More than 200 broadcasts have been devoted to the western Allied airlift. RIAS announcers gave an on the spot broadcasts of the Communist riots at the city hall on Sept. 6 and similarly covered the 9th Reichstag rally during which Soviet troops fired into the crowd.

As the result of electric power restrictions in the western sectors, Berliners are unable to hear their radios more than a few hours a day. RIAS met the situation by installing 72 loud speakers in traditional gathering places throughout Berlin, along with four loudspeaker trucks. It is estimated 150,000 Berliners hear RIAS news reports by that means every day.

Britain Is Preparing For Red Hot Fight In Local Elections

LONDON, Nov. 18 (U.P.) — The American elections reminded both Laborites and Conservatives of the British elections to start within a few months.

The entire British people will take part in the elections and most voters will be able to vote twice within six weeks. The first time will be for the county councils between April 5 and April 9 and the second for the borough councils between May 9 and May 14.

Optimists in the British Labor Party believe the "trend towards the moderate left" in the United States will be followed by a similar tendency in the British elections. According to a more generally held view, however, there is no inter-dependence between American and British internal developments.

Both Parties Active

Both Abbey House, the Conservative Party headquarters, and Transport House, the Labor Party headquarters, are working at high pressure to prepare for the local elections. Both sides realize that the party which wins has a good chance of carrying the general elections of 1950.

The two party headquarters are compiling propaganda material, issuing instruction to their propagandists and reorganizing their local party organizations in accordance with the new boundaries of the parliamentary constituencies.

Although the forthcoming elections are described as "local" ones, it is clear that the electoral propaganda will turn around such big national issues as nationalization and the national health act. Both parties are accusing each other already in the present preliminary stage of the campaign of dragging national problems into the elections and thus showing contempt of local government.

Issues Set Forth

The Conservative Party will challenge the Labor Party over the alleged "centralization of local government functions" which, in the Conservative view, is implied in the Socialist legislation.

Labor propaganda, on the other hand, will make great play of a new bill submitted to parliament during the present session and destined to strengthen the hand of the local government in housing questions. Both sides will make a particularly pressing appeal to Britain's housewives, who in the recent past have suffered under food rationing, electricity cuts and other symptoms of the post-war crisis.

Labor Party circles are aware that a defeat of Labor in the local elections would reduce greatly the prestige of the government in the last year prior to the general elections.

Work Would Be Plentiful With Labor Secretary Manville

President's Problem Of Building Cabinet Solved As Qualified Choices Hammered Out

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK—President Truman is finding no shortage of volunteer carpenters in his task of building his 1949 cabinet.

Everybody is lumbering up with a new idea. If all who have been suggested for a place were included, the cabinet would have to have more posts than a fence around Texas.

I have compiled a tentative list of appointees, which is being forwarded to Key West by the next passenger pigeon that flies this way. Here it is:

For secretary of agriculture—Milton Berle, who has run the price of corn up to the highest peak in history. Or Fred Allen, who gets about as much for chaff.

Secretary of labor — Tommie Manville, who makes work out of play.

Secretary of the interior—Sherman Billingsley of the Stork club, who has made a career out of satisfying the inner man.

Leo's Lingo Has Place

Secretary of state — Barbara Hutton. As chief of foreign affairs, she'd have the experience to keep us out of entangling alliances.

And for U. S. representative to the United Nations, nobody but that arch diplomat of the diamond —Leo Durocher. Whenever Vishinsky rose to voice his perennial charge that the U. S. is trying to build an empire, Leo would have his answer ready:

Nine Survivors From Plane Are Picked Up

TOKYO, Nov. 18 (INS) — Nine survivors of a crash landing of a B-17 photo-reconnaisance plane in Ragay gulf off the Philippine coast two days ago arrived in Manila today.

Two of the group were treated for slight injuries.

Included among the passengers was Walter S. Sullivan, Jr., who is enroute to cover the Chinese war for The New York Times.

Survivors said the plane met strong head winds while on a routine training flight out of Port Moresby in New Guinea. Wind and low visibility forced the pilot to cut his speed and fly low.

He pancaked the plane in ten feet of water 45 feet off the shore of Alibijaban island. The bomber was sighted the following day and a helicopter picked up survivors.

Survivors included Capt. Henry L. Choate, pilot; First Lt. P. K. Smith, instructor pilot; Capt. Charles M. Van Dusen, co-pilot; Lieuts. J. C. Loggins and W. N. Blackman, navigators; Staff Sgt. Eugen Gregory, radio operator; Staff Sgt. Lyle D. Kirk, Sgt. Robert B. Thomas, Maj. A. C. Forbes and staff Sgt. B. C. Pepoff.

Man Sentenced For Killing Young Girl

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 18 (AP) —Elmer L. Paul, 28, was sentenced today to serve from 15 to 30 years at hard labor for the fatal beating of a two-year-old girl while he was acting as a baby sitter.

He was accused of beating Doreen Fielder last June 24. Police said Paul had admitted in a signed statement that he lost his head when the child "messed a couple of times" and that he struck her "50 or 60 times" with his fist.

Federation Of Labor Approves Political Education Campaign

CINCINNATI, Nov. 18 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor has entered politics on a permanent basis.

Delegates to the federation's 67th annual convention voted yesterday to collect 10 cents from each of its nearly 7,500,000 members to finance a propaganda and education drive of "labor's league for political education." The delegates acted as league members because the Taft-Hartley act forbids direct contributions.

The drive, with $750,000 working capital, will be centered in the nation's 110,000 polling precincts during the next 14 months.

The move was approved unanimously after Secretary-Treasurer George Meany told the delegates that 172 league-backed candidates had been elected to the House of Representatives, Nov. 2, and 106 classed as "unfriendly" were defeated.

Meany said it was "a tremendous victory" and the "tide of reaction has been decisively turned." He cautioned, however, that "we should no: become overconfident . . . and forget our political responsibilities."

In other action of the day, a new move for merger with the CIO was approved. A report of the convention organization committee proposed that the door not nly should be opened to the CIO but the AFL "should now reach out and grasp them by the hand and urge them to come back into the AFL." The CIO was formed by AFL unions in 1936.

New Dollar Diplomacy

The convention heard Marshall plan Director Paul Hoffman describe the new goal of the economic cooperation administration as one to boost the standard of living in Europe by one-third.

The U. S. is following "an enlightened form of dollar diplomacy" through the Marshall plan, he said, and the spirit of recovery in western Europe has been greatly improved since 1946.

Earlier, Cyrus S. Ching, federal conciliation director, pleaded for use of strikes only as a last resort. He said strikes should be used to "persuade an employer to settle, not to bring the public to its knees."

America Ought To Keep Watchful Eye On Political Changes Abroad, Expert Says

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 18. (U.P.)—The United States would do well to keep a more watchful eye on important constitutional experiments taking place today in Europe, Asia and South America, one expert believes.

The advice comes from Dr. Harrop A. Freeman, Cornell University authority on constitutional government.

"It is utopian to expect that all of the new constitutions will survive these turbulent times or be fully carried out," he said, but they are extremely important "as formulations of changing concepts of government."

Basic changes in fundamental political documents are being dictated by "adjustments to a new order," he said.

Rights Stressed

Writing in an issue of the Cornell Law Quarterly, Freeman said evidence of changing governmental conceptions was to be found in the new documents in the inclusion of economic and social rights in the areas of work, education, health, housing, social security, recreation, cultural opportunity and a "fair share in the gains of civilization."

Those, he added, are in addition to "rights" provided after the American pattern, such as equality before the law, due process and freedom of election, assembly, speech, press, communication and association.

From studies of the new constitutions of France, Japan, Italy, Bavaria, Hesse, Wuerttenberg-Baden, Indonesia, Brazil, Venezuela, China and the Soviet-satellite countries, Freeman drew a series of 13 "tentative conclusions."

"Political" rights are, if anything, considered secondary and are supplemented by a long list of equally or more important "economic rights," he said.

Leftist Trend Noted

The constitutions are "frankly socialist and collectivist in philosophy," he added, and even in those countries where Americans had a sizeable hand in forming them, the constitutions are "more leftist and advanced than the parent model."

"It would seem that the Russian constitution at the point of 'rights' and the British unwritten constitution at the point of structure have had the greatest influence," he also believes. Freeman said the English parliamentary system, with the executive chosen from and responsible to the legislative body, is more consistently followed than the American system.

Another important development, Freeman said, was a new doctrine of the state and war, "with most of the constitutions denying or limiting the state's war-making function."

The new constitutions are in great detail and contain much that Americans would leave to statute or court decision, he said.

Solon Defends Farm Program

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 18. (AP)—Major provisions of the agricultural act of 1948 will be retained by the Democratic-controlled 81st Congress, in the opinion of Senator Aiken (R-Vermont).

Aiken, chairman of the Senate agriculture committee of the 80th Congress which passed the long-range farm bill, told the Iowa Farm Bureau federation yesterday that repeal of any of the major provisions of the act "would indicate a complete reversal of the policies of the (Truman) administration."

Aiken, chiefly responsible for writing the bill, said "our aim was to provide a 75 per cent of parity income guarantee to the nation's agriculture."

Chief opposition to the long-range farm program, he told the federation, "came from those who believed in continuing a 90 per cent support of basic commodities permanently."

Level Would Vary

Under the long-range features of the measure, scheduled to go into effect in 1950, the support price level on corn, wheat, cotton, peanuts and rice would vary from 60 to 90 per cent of parity depending upon supply.

Under the present bill these crops are supported at 90 per cent of parity. Tobacco, now supported at 90 per cent, would be pegged at 90 under the long-range section.

Parity is calculated to provide the farmer the same purchasing power, in relation to the nation's economy generally, that he had in a previous base period.

Aiken declared that if those who wished to continue 90 per cent of parity had their way, "we would see production of wheat, cotton and possibly other commodities increase to the point where billions of dollars would be required to maintain prices and the accumulation of surpluses would become embarrassing.

Truman Is Offered Free Piano Tuning

CHAROTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 18 (U.P.)—While the White House undergoes repairs, Owen E. Driscoll wants to tune President Truman's piano free of charge.

Driscoll, a piano turner, won a 1 to 10 election bet on the President.

About the piano, "I'd consider it an honored privilege to tune yours free of charge," he wrote the President.

Film Star Sues For Alleged Back Salary

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (INS)—Frances Langford, movie star and vocalist, has filed suit in federal court against the Mercury Record Corp. for $5,100 back salary, allegedly owed her under a contract made in 1946.

The complaint charges she was to receive royalties amounting to five per cent of the retail prices her records sold for, and that she was guaranteed a minimum of $7,500 a year.

Truman Reported Planning To Make Vigorous Renewal Of His Plea For Postal Rate Boost

By CHARLES MOLONY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—President Truman will renew with vigor next year his plea for higher postal rates to help balance the budget, those in the know said today.

The Postoffice department now seems likely to wind up $500,000,000 in the red next June 30—an unprecedented loss which would account for more than a third of the deficit forecast for the entire government's operation this fiscal year.

Officials told a reporter privately the increases most certain to be proposed will involve second class mail—made up chiefly of newspapers and magazines.

Is Biggest Loser

The said the reason is that the Postoffice department rates that category as its biggest money-loser. They insisted the fact that a majority of the nation's press opposed Mr. Truman's election is beside the point.

To emphasize their no-retaliation contention, they recalled that the President recommended postal rate boosts in each of the last two years and followed up the first suggestion with a specific bill drafted by the Postmaster general.

A feature of that bill was sharply boosted rates for second class matter.

Stayed In Committee

The President spoke out again, but less emphatically, for higher postal rates in his budget message last year—again to the Republican-dominated 80th Congress.

Next January, however, the President will have a Democrat-dominated Congress containing a number of new faces. And, administration sources say, he will "strongly urge" the rates boosts.

Some increases were voted by the 80th Congress to go into effect on January 1. They will raise airmail stamps from five cents to six, make varying hikes in third and fourth class mail, and up rates on money orders and registered mail.

Classes Explained

(Third class mail is made up of circulars, catalogues and other printed matter or merchandise weighing under eight ounces. Fourth class mail is parcel post—packages between eight ounces and 70 pounds in weight.) Those increases were voted by Congress for the specific purpose of offsetting part of the costs of a pay raise given to the 500,000 Postoffice department employes.

Those employes—who make up one fourth of all civilian employes of the government—got a $50 a year raise compared with the $330 raise voted for other federal workers.

Up To Department

Officials said Mr. Truman will leave it to the Postoffice department to specify again the precise rate raises it wants. They added that in addition to a jump in second class rates another hike in third and fourth class rates also probably will be sought.

First class (letter) mail rates—unchanged since 1939—have been the only profit-making operation of the department except for the money it makes by banking postal savings.

While that makes the three cent stamp likely to stay, the "penny postcard" looks like a probable target for a boost. Postmaster General Donaldson said recently it is a big money loser for the government.

Figures Available

Specific figures assessing gains or losses on the various types of mail are available only through fiscal year 1947. The department that year netted $131,000,000 on first class mail and $25,000,000 on postal savings while losing $148,000,000 on second class and $74,000,000 on third class mail.

It figures to take in $1,500,000,000 this fiscal year, while paying out $2,000,000,000 in operating expenses.

Language Is Touchy Issue In Switzerland

BASEL, Switzerland, Nov. 18 (AP)—German-speaking Swiss are still extremely touchy about foreigners who look down their noses at them because they speak the same language Adolf Hitler and Heinrich Himmler spoke. Recently, a Dutch lecturer who spoke good German, chose to deliver his speech to a German-speaking Swiss audience here in English. The result of this "comedy," said the National Zeitung, was that practically nobody understood what he was saying since his English was very labored.

"We would like to recall to our Dutch friends," the newspaper said tartly, "that the Dutch language developed from the "Dietsch" of the middle ages and the "Low German" of the 16th and 17th Centuries and is approximately just as much and just as little German as our Swiss German dialect. For three million Swiss, high German is the school and written language, the most widely used of the four official languages of our country."

Police Study Clues In Attack On 62-Year-Old Ohio Woman

Cleveland, Nov. 18. (AP)—Whoever murdered and sexually attacked Mrs. Helen Takacy, 62, left police in suburban Shaker Heights today a strange pair of clues to ponder.

The evidence of murder and at least attempted rape, said Coroner S. R. Gerber, were unmistakable. Someone, he said, choked her with a necktie and assaulted her late Tuesday night in a dark field.

But what happened after that was not so clear.

Arthur Smullen, a janitor at Ludlow grade school, said a tall, slender man approached him and said:

"There must be something wrong over there." Then he pointed at the lawn where Mrs. Takacy's body was found.

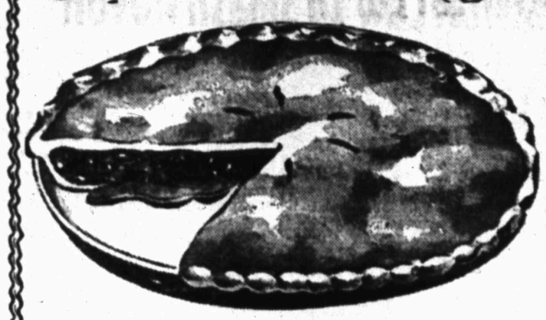

On the other hand, Leo G. Gorman, a next-door neighbor, said a man of different description rang his doorbell and reported a woman's body was on that lawn.

Without elaborating, Shaker Police Chief Bert Tilson said he had a "hunch" who the man is.

Korean Province Placed Under Martial Law To Smash Revolt

SEOUL, Korea, Nov. 18. (U.P.)—President Syngman Rhee today proclaimed martial law in the province of Cheju Island, 70 miles off the coast of Korea, to suppress a revolt there "at the earliest possible time."

By presidential ordinance Rhee appointed the commander of the seventh regiment stationed in Cheju to enforce martial law.

Fighting Reported

Meanwhile, government spokesman Kim Dong Sung said the withdrawal of American troops from South Korea would be disastrous and would give the "Communist army a free hand over the country."

Occupation Permitted

He said that "originally the Soviets were permitted to occupy the northern half of the country, whereupon they organized a strong Communist army. In the south the defense problem had not been allowed on a similar level."

The spokesman said that "rumors" of impending U. S. withdrawal apparently were grounded to a large extent in attempts to create unrest among the south Koreans.

Hirohito Welcomes U. S. Help In Task Of Educating Japan

TOKYO, Nov. 18 (AP)—Emperor Hirohito said today a Christian university in Tokyo will be an "important moral rearmament of Japan and the world."

The emperor's statement was made in a 40 minute interview with James L. Fieser of New York, executive director of the American Committee for a Christian University in Japan.

Fieser said Hirohito remarked that Japan is greatly in need of American help in the field of education.

The committee is planning a $10,000,000 fund raising campaign in the United States from April 8 to June 8. A Japanese group has promised to raise 105,000,000 yen ($855,855 U. S.) with which it hopes to provide a site and building for the proposed university.

The university would be designed as a graduate school to teach in fields in which the Japanese have not been educated.

Interviews Too Much, Movie Couple Breaks Under Strain

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 18. (AP) — Film stars are the most interviewed people in the world. So I guess it was inevitable that a couple would break under the strain.

When Ida Lupino and Glenn Ford were approached on the "Bonanza" set, they broke into the open field and started interviewing each other—with the expert touch on the cliche born of long practice. Here's the result:

Ford Asks Question

Lupino: 'Right. It takes many years and hard work before you're an actor. You know ,the two actors I've really enjoyed working with are you and Richard Widmark."

Ford: 'I'm probably sticking my neck out, but the only two really fine actresses I've worked with are you and Bettie Davis. This sounds like a mutual admiration society. Would you like to work for a woman director?"

Rather Work For Man

Lupino: "No, I'd rather work for a man. I like the directness of a man. Women are indirect creatures. What do you like most in women?"

Ford: "I don't know. I guess it's a sense of humor. What do you like most in a man?"

Lupino: "Tenderness."

Scrounging for news . . . Gregory Peck reports he won a $5 bet on the election. Greg was for Truman, but he admits the bet was more out of a bravado than confidence . . . Good to see Buster Keaton in makeup again. He'll be with Van Johnson and Judy Garland in "The Good Old Summertime."

A. & M. Gets New President

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 18 (AP)—Texas A. & M. college today inaugurates Dr. Frank C. Bolton as it 18th president.

A familiar figure to three generations of Aggie students, Dr. Bolton came here nearly 40 years ago as a young professor. In 1937 he was named college dean and executive vice president.

Hundreds of his former students, as well as leading educators from several states, were expected here for the 2 p. m. ceremony in Kyle field stadium. Twenty-two presidents of colleges and universities were on the guest list.

Succeeds Gilchrist

Dr. Bolton was named last July 10 to succeed Gibb Gilchrist, now chancellor of the Texas A. & M. system. Gilchrist was to make the formal installation. Dr. Charles E. Friley, an A. &. M. graduate who now is president of Iowa State college, was scheduled as speaker.

A leading electrical engineer, Dr. Bolton did graduate work at Cornell university, the University of Chicago and Ohio State university. Until he was named dean and executive vice president he was head of A. & M.'s electric engineering department. In 1922 he was named dean of engineering.

During world war one Dr. Bolton was head of military education at A. & M. He was offered the post of head of the national education, science and management training program during World war two. At the request of the college board he turned down the offer.

Argentina is planning its Second Movie Festival, to choose the year's best film.

Argentine Delegate Seeks To Mediate Berlin Crisis Again

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Nov. 18.—Western powers' insistence that the Berlin deadlock must be settled within the U. N. security council pushed Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina back into the role of leading "peace maker" today.

Bramuglia, November president of the council, has been working behind the scenes on a new formula for resolving the Berlin dispute.

His hand strengthened by yesterday's Western power notes, Bramuglia conferred again with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky. They talked for nearly an hour, reportedly discussing a new formula for ending the crisis.

Details of the plan were not disclosed, but it is believed to involve some form of gradual lifting of the Berlin blockade along with a similar process of instituting the Russian zone mark as Berlin's currency.

The separate American, British and French answers yesterday to U. N. leaders Herbert V. Evatt and Trygve Lie, made lifting of the blockade a prerequisite to direct four-power negotiations.

Under the present circumstances, the Western powers said, the Berlin situation is a threat to peace and must remain in the security council.

Evatt and Lie, assembly president and U. N. secretary-general, renewed their plea after receiving the Western answers. The new plea, however, carried a shift in emphasis.

Cooperation Asked

An apparent indication that the two leaders had accepted the Western view was seen in the stress they laid on a part of their first letter calling on the Big Four to "lend their full and active support to the efforts at mediation of the Berlin dispute by the president of the security council."

The Russian reply to the Evatt-Lie note made no mention of the security council. The note indicated the Soviets would be willing to discuss the dispute either in the big four council of foreign ministers or possibly in a meeting of the four chiefs of state.

It is assumed he will convene a meeting of the security council on the Berlin issue if the answers to his questions warrant introduction of a new compromise resolution.

Bramuglia has only two weeks to go as council president, but some diplomats consider it possible the council neutrals will ask the Argentine to continue as unofficial mediator.

CIO Federal Worker Suspended From Job

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—A top official of the CIO's government workers union has been suspended from her $8,000-a-year federal job on the recommendation of a loyalty board.

The action was taken November 3 against Dorothy Bailey, an employe of the United States employment service who also is a member of the executive board of the United Public Workers of America. She formerly was president of its local No. 10.

Her attorney, Milton Freeman, said yesterday he is appealing the decision of the Civil Service commission's fourth regional loyalty board to the loyalty review board.

School Plan Seen As Political Issue

BROWNSVILLE, Nov. 18 (AP) — John Barron, city superintendent of Brownsville schools and influential political figure in the lower Rio Grande valley, today injected the Gilmer-Aiken school report into the 1950 race for governor.

Barron spoke late yesterday at a meeting of Cameron and Willacy county school officials, one of a series of meetings in the valley. He will speak tonight at a meeting in Brownsville.

Barron said: "It will be interesting and we are watching to see who will pick up this Texas Manufacturers association ball and carry it. That will be the tip-off as to which campaign war chest is swelled in the 1950 governor's race by contributions from the big businesses that control Texas' natural resources.

"Under this proposal at least forty-five millions to be distributed by the state during 1949-1950 as state aid to education will be raised not at the state level with natural resources taxes but at the school district level with ad valorem taxes."

He added: "We're not in this scrap for ourselves as school officials. We are fighting the local taxpayers fight."

Barron has been leading a vigorous fight on the proposed terms of the Gilmer-Aiken report, which would change the scholastic basis of state aid.

Rent Ceilings May Be Lifted

NEW YOR, Nov. 18. (AP)—Tighe E. Woods, national housing expediter, said last night that rent ceilings in "quite a number of areas" now under federal control soon may be lifted.

He said in an interview that his office is completing a national survey with a view of removing controls in areas where it is found that the residential housing crisis has passed.

Preliminary findings, he said, indicate that ceilings may be lifted in several areas throughout the country without serious effects. He said he will order an end of restrictions in such cases.

Cities Must Remain

However, he said, New York City and "every other large center of population" must remain subject to regulations for some time.

There are about 700 areas in the country still under federal rent control.

In large cities, Woods said, the housing shortage still remains critical for the average family, despite reports of slow rentals in higher-priced, luxury dwellings recently erected and therefore not subject to control.

To Be Completed

He said his survey will be completed before Jan. 1, and controls may be ended in some communities about that time.

He said the survey also may be used as a basis for recommendation to Congress for strengthening the rent-control law, which expires March 31, 1949.

Woods said tighter controls over evictions, and re-establishment of controls over hotel rentals probably would be among the recommendations.

Famous Multi-Millionaire's Former Wife Seeks Divorce From Her Second Husband

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 18 — The former Mrs. Harold McCormick filed suit for divorce late today from George Tait II whom she married a year after the death of the multi-millionaire McCormick.

The suit was filed in Santa Monica by Mrs. Tait's attorney, William V. O'Connor.

Wife Is Nurse

Mrs. Tait, who inherited $3,000,000 at the time of McCormick's death, is the former Ada Wilson. A nurse, she met McCormick when she went to care for him during an illness. The wealthy head of the International Harvester company married her on May 31, 1938. They lived quietly in Beverly Hills until he died October 16, 1941.

The romance of the Chicago multi-millionaire, a member of one of Chicago's most aristocratic families, and his nurse was front paged as a Cinderella story. McCormick had a fabulous career. His first wife was Edith Rockefeller, daughter of John D. Rockefeller. He was divorced from her after their children were grown.

Marries Prima Donna

Later he married Ganna Walska, the world-famous prima donna. He spent a fortune on Walska in an endeavor to give her a grand opera career and another fortune on a gland operation in an effort to restore his youth.

The parties he gave at their lakeshore-front mansion when he was married to Edith Rockefeller filled the Chicago society columns. During his marriage to the last Mrs. McCormick, she devoted herself to caring for him.

Smuggling Plot In Pork Is Said Foiled

BONN, Germany, Nov. 18 (U.P.)—Customs officers at the Belgian-German border reported today that they had foiled a pork smuggling scheme involving drunken pigs.

For some time the guards have checked trucks bound for Belgium by poking sharp sticks into the cargo. Answering "oinks" betrayed any contraband hogs.

The last few days all was quiet along the pig-smuggling front. Today the guards found that three hogs didn't even flinch when prodded. The smugglers confessed that the pigs had been lulled into silence with alcohol.

"Say, Pop," asked a 12-year old the other evening, "what's 'ignorance'?"

"'Ignorance'," said the Old Man, "is when you don't know something and are found out!"

SPEAKING of good stories, Mrs. Robert T. Canon is doing pretty well telling this one around and about.

It seems there was a Little Rabbit living in an Animal Fairyland where everything was supposed to be perfect for the inhabitants. And it was a real animal Utopia, too, except for one thing. The Little Rabbit simply couldn't refrain from tying knots in the tails of the squirrels.

Finally, the squirrels got together and elected a committee to go to the Chief of Fairyland to lodge a complaint. The complaint was lodged, the Chief understood its fairness, so he called the Little Rabbit before his throne.

"Rabbit," he said, "you have made your little friends, the squirrels, very unhappy by tying knots in their tails. There should be—there must be—no unnappiness in Animal Fairyland and you must desist in this practice.

"I am sure that you do not mean to cause unhappiness; that you merely have given 'way to a temptation. So I will not punish you for your actions here-to-fore. But I must say this: If ever again you so far forget yourself as to humiliate our squirrel friends by tying knots in their tails, I shall wave my Magic Wand and turn you into a goon."

The Little Rabbit was very much ashamed of himself, as well as sorry for his unkindness toward the squirrels. So he crossed his heart that he'd never, never tie a knot in a squirrel's tail any more.

He kept his word—for three long months. Then he happened to see, under his very nose, a squirrel's tail.

It was a long, silky tail; it would lend itself beautifully to a knot. So the Little Rabbit yielded to temptation and, quick as a flash, tied a bow-knot in the tail.

A few minutes later he was called again before the throne of the Chief Fairy.

"Rabbit," intoned the Mighty One, "you broke your promise. Again you tied a knot in a squirrel's tail. Do you remember that I said I would turn you into a goon if you ever again tied a squirrel's tail in a knot?"

"Yes, O Wise One," answered the Little Rabbit. "Hare today—and goon tomorrow!"

SEN. John W. Bricker, of Ohio, says "the time has come when we should kick out of schools and colleges everyone who does not believe in the Constitution and who does not pledge allegiance to the Flag."

We agree.

But we think the same kind of people should be kicked out of the government, too; and out of all private employment, as well.

The enemies of our country can do great harm in the classroom, as Senator Bricker indicates. But they also can do great harm everywhere else.

We get a little weary, sometimes, at the implications that about 99 per cent of our school teachers and college professors are devotees of the Kremlin. The truth is, there is probably no other group of people more American, more decent, more honest and more unselfish than those in the teaching profession. Nobody who knows many of them will disagree.

"Oh, yes," said the permanent resident. "They had a nice rain northwest of Littlefield last August, but I was busy and couldn't go!"

* * *

WHILE there still is room for improvement, the Democrats and Republicans have done fairly well in making and keeping our foreign policy a non-partisan affair.

That was and is good sense and it has the overwhelming approval of the people.

Everybody agrees that it's all right to stage rousing family fights over domestic affairs, but when it comes to dealing with the rest of the world, Democrats and Republicans should close ranks and be as one for the nation's good.

* * *

Since both parties have learned to work fairly well together in the matter of foreign policy, it occurs to us that they can and should pursue a similar course in dealing with enemies within: mainly with the Communists but also, when the need arises, with fascists, or the practitioners of any other "ism" which has as its goal the overthrow of our government.

We think Americans would cheer mightily if a strictly non-partisan, non-political board were appointed to take the place of the House Un-American Activities committee — a board made up of men whose records show that they have no personal interest in partisan politics and who will agree, upon accepting appointment, to keep clear of same.

* * *

WE GOT this idea during a chat here the other day with Martin Dies, the former Texas congressman who headed up the very first Un-American Activities committee and who presided over that group during the first half-dozen years of its existence.

Mr. Dies told us first hand, about how politics interfered with his committee's efforts to unmask the enemies within our gates.

He ran the Un-American group during the latter years of the Roosevelt administration which, to say the least, was jampacked with "pinks" who were very tolerant of, if not actually friendly to the Kremlin and its philosophies. Hence everything was done that could be done to hammer the committee's actions.

* * *

Ever since the Un-American Activities committee has been a part of the Congress, politics has interfered.

In the recent furore over Rep. Parnell Thomas, present committee head, there are good grounds to suspect that much of the noise, as well as many of the charges, stem directly from partisan politics.

It is logical to suspect, then, that this sort of thing will continue; that any Congressional committee named to the work will be pushed, shoved and villified by members of one party, or the other, who seek to make political capital out the situation.

* * *

SINCE everybody knows that the Red underground is firmly entrenched here and seeks to enslave us whenever and however it can, it seems to the writer that taking the job of defeating those enemies may best be done by assigning it to a non-partisan, non-political board and by givng that board everything it needs to do its important job.

Politics is all right, in its place

It's good to have two parties, each watching the other and spotlighting the faults of the other.

But the job of uncovering any sort of subversion in this country is not a political job. It is just as much of an unpartisan, non-partisan job as winning a shooting war against a foreign foe.

BY DREW PEARSON: BIG BUSINESS MOGULS HAVE REDDER FACES THAN POLLSTERS

All American Ambassadors Are Asked To Resign

WASHINGTON—Only one group of people since Nov. 2 have redder faces than the pollsters—the big businessmen who had feathered their nests with Dewey's friends.

PEARSON

Take, for instance, the sad case of delightful Lewis Rosenstiel, head of Schenley's giant distilling company. As one of the leading whiskey and wine producers in the U. S. A., Mr. Rosenstiel was interested in having an "in" with the new administration. It was not unnatural therefore that he should busy himself before election in wining and dining various prospective members of the Dewey cabinet.

Mr. Rosenstiel's motto is to leave no stone unturned. He is a successful businessman and he did not become one by accident. He believes in looking ahead. Therefore, not long before election, he looked ahead and retained Herbert Brownell, campaign manager for Mr. Dewey, as his attorney.

Looking still further ahead, he also retained as his public relations counsellor Carl Byoir, a pro-Republican gentleman with pipelines into the Deweyites.

Then to make sure his position with the new administration was secure he invited Dewey to go yachting with him right after the election to get a little post-election rest. Dewey was dated up for a vacation with Roger Strauss of American Smelting and Refining, so Rosenstiel took the next best. He invited Dewey's right-hand man, Paul Lockwood, to go yachting.

Paul accepted. Both Rosenstiel and Lockwood are entertaining gentlemen, but neither felt much like entertaining the other on that post-election trip.

Inside The Cabinet

Various cabinet members, all set to resign, are now angling to remain. One is Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, who gave only $1,000 to the Truman campaign — though one of the wealthiest men in Ohio . . . Averell Harriman, Marshall plan ambassador in Europe, has sent an urgent cable to President Truman asking permission to come home to discuss a wide range of subjects. (Friends say he wants to be secretary of state) . . . If Attorney General Tom Clark is elevated to the Supreme Court, the next attorney general will be either Clark Clifford or Alex Campbell, hard-hitting head of the criminal division . . . Here's one cabinet revision being discussed by the dopesters: Chief Justice Fred Vinson to be secretary of state; Attorney General Tom Clark to the Supreme Court as associate justice; William O. Douglas to be chief justice. (Wouldn't that burn Felix Frankfurter up?) . . . Albert Greenfield, the big Philadelphia real estate man, is in line for either the Truman cabinet or an embassy.

CAPITAL hostesses, who haven't enjoyed a good social row since the days of Dolly Gann and Alice Longworth's spat over who should sit where at dinner, have been glowing with anticipation over the problem of who will be Vice President Barkley's official hostess, and where she will rank at official dinners.

Vice President Barkley, like Vice President Charlie Curtis, is a widower. That was why Curtis's half-sister, Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, was made his official hostess. And it was the question of whether the vice president's sister or the wife of Speaker Longworth preceded the other at dinner which threw social Washington into such a hubbub during the Hoover administration.

However, it looks as if Alben Barkley would disappoint the ladies. Alben is not averse to going out to dinner. In fact, he is in great demand. But he doesn't relish social rows.

Furthermore, his counterpart is also single — speaker-to-be Sam Rayburn. Close friends, Sam and Alben have been going out together as widowers fo rso long that the idea of their rowing over protocol brings smiles to those who know them.

Sam was married once, so long ago that most people think he was always a bachelor. He has no official hostess and doesn't intend to have one.

Barkley, whose wife was an invalid for many years before she died, also goes to dinner on his own. Barkley says he's had a "number of applicants" for the job, but if he needs an official hostess, he will draft his daughter, gracious Mrs. Max Truitt.

* * *

Merry-Go-Round

All American ambassadors have received cables from the State department reminding them that it's customary to submit their resignations. Truman wats a free hand to select new diplomats . . . U. S. Ambassador to Moscow Bedell Smith has been pulling wires to get General Clay's job as commander in Berlin. He's not likely to succeed . . . Not all of President Truman's callers get into the newspapers. One significant secret caller was Chicago's Democratic boss, Jake Arvey, the man who helped Truman carry the surprise state — Illinois . . . John Maragon, President Truman's old bootblack friend from the Kansas City union station, feels that the election guarantees his future. Maragon is trying to hire one of the fanciest office suites in Washington for William Helis, the New Orleans oil man. (Maragon is supposed to run the Helis office in Washington).

* * *

SENATOR McClellan of Arkansas, one of the most reactionary diehards on Capitol Hill, is slated to take over Senator Ferguson's investigating committee. McClellan is sore at Truman for ousting his friend Nat Dyke from the Home Loan Bank board and friends say the senator is planning to smear any government department that backs major legislation he doesn't happen to like — especially civil rights . . . Phil Murray and William Green of the CIO-AFL have sent a stiff protest to President Truman against making Senator Lucas of Illinois majority leader of the Senate. (Lucas voted for the Taft-Hartley act). However, Lucas will probably get the job just the same. He faces a re-election battle in 1950 — an off-year which makes for strong Republican showings and the Democrats want to give him plenty of help . . . Gerald B. Winrod of Wichita, Kansas, formerly indicted for sedition against his country, has been trying to buy time once a week on Washington radio stations. His agent tells station managers this is a "program I believe your station will be proud to have" . . . Gov. Earl Long of Louisiana has padded the Louisiana state mineral board with ten new members in a move calculated to let the political hacks and the party favorites in on juicy oil concessions. . . B. A. Hardey of Shreveport, now chucked out, had operated the board too conscientiously for the Long machine.

Plot To Assassinate American Ambassador To Cuba Rumored

TYPEWRITER Doodling — The pollsters should memorize Truman's pet motto: "It's what you learn after you know it all that counts" . . . You've never viewed a more engrossing thrilluloid than "Snake Pit." But why the eardrum-shattering background music? . . . The Buddy Clark-Doris Day version of "My Darling, My Darling!" (from "Where's Cholly?") is a darling. . . One revelation in Champ Joe Louis' mag biog puts your eyebrows on stilts: Some fight training camps rent concessions to pick-pockets! . . .

WINCHELL

Love this item about the Gene Kellys, who were practicing nursery songs with their young daughter. Asked to sing "Rockabye Baby" she warbled: "Rockabye baby on the tree top. When the wind blows the cradle will rock. When the bough breaks the cradle will fall. Down will come baby, cradle and all. . . . BOINGGGG"

ONOWLOOKAHERE! The latest silly for milady is a fur-lined bra. Doesn't it tickle? . . . "Hamlet" is a flicker-diller, but $2.40 is too tall a fee for any movie. . . Laurence Olivier's recorded album of excerpts from that hit is sure to become a collector's item. . . Broadway marqueees are dripping with gore: "Kiss the Blood Off My Hands" is one. Another is "Blood on the Moon." Then there are the current films that deal with blindness, deafness and whax. . . Several critics used the Gallup-Roper fizzle as a springboard for pouncing on the Hopper radio surveys. But Hooper noted in the N. Y. Times that his cannot be compared with the other polls, because the Hooper is based on what a listener heard—not a forecast of what he might do.

MIAMI BEACH is fine. Like a country town. None of the congestion caused by those Northerners. But that won't last much longer. . . The famed 5 o'Clock spot (on the site of the former Blackamoor) is alive with nimble talent in Mickey O'Shaughnessy and Marie (Butch) Austin. He's a funny fellow whose billing is "Nothing to Laugh At." Miss Austin sings songs the way the Palace headliners did to stop shows. . . At the newly appointed Club 22 Luis Del Campo (once with Cugat) has an engaging way with his Latin lilts; the show gals are attractive; Nino, the Great Yacovino, is the affable Ham-C; and Harry Candullo's crew is expert. But a ganced named Rosanne, blessed with a Venus figure, belongs in Minnie Astor's Maisonette Room at the St. Regis, The Blue Angel, Le Directoire or at Mocambo, Ciro's or Le Pappillon in Hollywood or in Mr. Kirkeby's Blackstone in Chi. She is big-time, and I hope I do not have to warn them all again.

Joe E. Lewis' opening quip to his Copa audience: "It's my financial pleasure to be here." They rolled into the aisles. . . Have another illusion shattered: Paris-Soir (a Paris gazette) straight-faces the opinion that 20 million Frenchmen have lost interest in ess-éee-ex. They must, of course, mean dead Frenchmen. . . G-Man Hoover has survived nine elections in 31 years. That's six Presidents. The rumors about that murdered man in the Waldorf are not true, we hear. He was a respectable Canadian, father and husband. His alleged killer has a police record for other crimes, according to dossiers. . . Does the American Ambassador to Cuba know that paid assassins are trying to knock him off? The idea is to cause unrest in Cuba, the underworlders say. We relayed the tip to the proper authorities. . . In H'wood they get the correct time by dialing ULCERS.

OFERHEVVENSAKES! On Television now they screen the lyrics (the what?) of commershiels! So the audience in homes can sing along. Most impressive name in the fancy-monicker division: A Hollywood composer's tag is Daniele Amfitheatrof. . . Kiplinger, the famed newsletter editor, is also high on the List of Experts who predicted Dewey. . . The plot of the "new" film, "You Gotta Stay Happy," is the latest echo of "It Happened One Night." The runaway heiress used a bus in the original. This one has a switch; she uses a plane. . . Item: "Truman and Stalin may meet at a neutral place." Where are they gonna find one? . . . Add nonsensorship: The movie censor nixed a plot involving a romance between a 35-year-old woman and a 20-year-old lad. Called it "indecent." Romeo & Juliet (also screened) were 16 and 14. . . . Dave Browne's wordwedding: "Trumendous."

NEXT to Truman's last laugh, the week's best chuckle was in the H-T's book dept. Reviewing irascible John T. Flynn's anti-FDR diatribe, historian Arthur Schleisinger, jr., fang'd: "If Franklin Roosevelt at some point in his career had chosen to go up in a balloon, John T. Flynn would have called him an exhibitionist. If Roosevelt had refused to go up, Flynn would have called him a coward'" (Oh, thank you very much, dear critic) . . . Walter Thornton's logic:: . . . That couldn't be Harry Truman. It musta been Harry Houdini!" . . . Item that made me sick: "The Republican party poured a few million dollars into their losing battle." What the Runyon Cancer Fund could have done with any part of that money in their winning one . . . Suggested title for the chapter on the history of the 1948 election: "Truman is Stranger Than Fiction."

"Well, I Can Use It Here At Home Anyhow"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

Today's Thought

Now these are the commandments, the statutes, and the judgments, which the Lord your God commanded to teach you, that ye might do them in the land whither ye go to possess it . . .—Deuteronomy 6:1.

* * *

The history of all the great characters of the Bible is summed up in this one sentence: They acquainted themselves with God, and acquiesced in His will in all things.—Richard Cecil.

"BY 60 every other wife is a widow." Mull that over, women, and see if you don't think we need a new woman's organization — somethink like a "league of women who don't want to be widows," or a national "I-don't-want-to-be-a-widow" club.

MILLETT

Business and professional women have gotten together to protect their rights. Women voters have joined together to study how to best exercise the voting privilege. The country is full of clubs studying child care. Why not an organization to make a study of how to make husbands live longer?

* * *

IT MIGHT WORK

It might be possible for the women of the country to cut down those depressing figures if they really put their minds to it.

Their devotion to the study of infant and child care has certainly had a marked effect on the health of the country's children. Why can't they do the same thing for their husbands?

* * *

THEY might work wonders if they just did a few simple things like cutting down on social life so their husbands could get more sleep, watching their husbands' diets as carefully as they watch the diets of their children seeing that their husbands get more relaxation at home, not demanding so many "advantages" for the children and so many gadgets and possessions that their husbands work themselves to death.

The care and feeding of husbands ought to be just as challenging and worthwhile a study as the care and feeding of infants.

War Narratives Raise Issue Of Censorship In Peace Time

WASHINGTON.—Like the flow of lava from a bottomless volcano, the flood of personal reminiscences about the war continues. Far from abating, it promises to grow in volume.

The personal story of Marine Corps Lt. Gen. Holland M. Smith now appearing serially has stirred a hornet's nest of controversy. Smith revives the dispute over the conduct of the battle for Saipan when he removed the Army command.

CHILDS

To answer the Marine corps version of the battle, Secretary of Army Kenneth Royall opened secret files. The Army defends its commander at Saipan, Maj. Gen. Ralph Smith, pointing to two official judgments upholding the Army Smith over the Marine Corps Smith.

Plainly here is another place where unification has worked not at all. This battle of the memoirs has in fact caused Secretary of Defense James Forrestal a lot of worry.

For weeks prior to publication, the Holland Smith story stirred a mimic warfare in the Pentagon. Aware of the storm it would stir, Forrestal seriously considered ways and means of censoring the memoir. Smith is on the retired list.

* * *

Approval Not Necessary

What he came up against, however, is a major discrepancy between the services in this matter. A long standing Army regulation provides that anything written by an officer, whether retired or not must be submitted for approval.

Thus Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, whose story of the allied command in the battle for Europe is also appearing serially, submitted his manuscript to the department for clearance. So have all other army officers writing for publication.

But Navy and Air Force have no such regulation covering retired officers. So there was nothing Forrestal could do about the Holland (nickname: Howling Mad) Smith story.

Discussing the implications of censorship both with officers and with civilians, Forrestal has contemplated an overall rule applying to the three services. To restrict one and not the others is clearly unfair.

* * *

WHETHER the kind of censorship aimed at eliminating frictions between services and between allies is permissible in peace time is the question troubling the secretary of defense. The reading public does not distinguish between retired officers and those on active duty. Sensational articles by retired air officers are mistaken for official policy.

It is a troublesome business and bound to cause unhappiness until it is resolved at the top. So long as the market remains good for this kind of personal narrative, so long will the principals be eager to tell all or nearly all.

Several principals are still to be heard from. Gen. Omar N. Bradley has tentatively begun his story of the European war, but he will be unable to publish until his four years tour of duty as chief of staff is ended. Admiral Ernest King, chief of naval operations throughout the global conflict, has not yet given us his version nor has Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of staff to Roosevelt and Truman and a participant in every high-level conference.

* * *

Bohlen Heard Talks

Charles Bohlen, counsellor of the State department, is the only living American who knows exactly what Roosevelt and Stalin said to each other at Teheran and Yalta since he was interpreter for the president. Some time ago a magazine offered him a large sum for his story, but fortunately Bohlen, just about the ablest career officer in the department, said no.

One of the most fascinating narratives to appear thus far is Robert Sherwood's book about Harry L. Hopkins, based on the Hopkins papers. It contains more hitherto secret documents than anything yet published. While he frankly admires Hopkins, Sherwood is nevertheless, remarkably fair in his judgments, unlike the haters and villifiers who seem determined to prove that every American involved in the conduct of the war was wicked and traitorous.

A wisecrack in a current musical revue in New York has a hot number on the best seller list called "I typed The Atlantic Charter." It may get down to that if the appetite for the "inside" story of the war continues. After all, it was the biggest war in history and some 12,000,000 Americans were directly involved most of whom felt themselves to be pretty small pieces in the puzzle. Now they want to try to catch up with what happened.

Today's Journal Editorial

THE SOUTHWEST'S OPPORTUNITY

Realism among those charged with the chief responsibility for the national defense was attested by a comment in Fort Worth by LaMotte T. Cohu, president of Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp.

Mr. Cohu said the "most important aircraft production in the world" is centered in Fort Worth. He referred to B-36 Superbombers now in production there, and to B-49 Flying Wing jet bombers, which are to be manufactured soon. Each is the biggest and best craft of its kind thus far developed.

Fort Worth, Texas and the Southwest have obvious reasons for pride in this distinction. But it is a condition which also should provide satisfaction and reassurance to all Americans. No place is less exposed to the danger of surprise attacks than our own Southwest. If there is any place where vital industry might be safe from a sudden knockout—even by the Russians striking across the Arctic—it is this region.

The fortunate circumstance offers an opportunity which many Southwestern localities—including Lubbock—might explore and exploit in their search for payrolls serving the two-fold purpose of building communities and providing the safest possible arsenal for national defense.

Question Of Birth Control In Catholic Italy Vital Problem

ROME, Nov. 18 (U.P.)—Birth control, always outlawed in Catholic Italy, has bobbed up as a real post-war question.

It came up with arguments about the peninsula's overpopulation and what to do about it. Matters haven't gone beyond the stage of general argument yet. But the powerful Catholic Action organization deemed it serious enough to state, in its official newspaper:

"No one speaks explicitly yet of instituting birth control. But it is probable that sooner or later the proposal will be made by someone. Faced with this possibility, we have to remind Catholics that they could not accept in any manner provisions which would go against Christian moral laws."

Battle Of Words

Catholic Action's newspaper, Il Quotidiano, since has been engaged in a running battle of words against some of Italy's most influential newspapers, who first came out in the open with talk about control on population: La Stampa of Turin, Corriere della Sera of Milan and Il Tempo of Rome.

Over-population, an Italian problem for generations, has been a post-war political curse. When the former African colonies are mentioned as a solution to the crowding of the country, political tempers rise—but even those who see emigration as the cure-all admit that departures from Italy even in the best years never matched the booming birth rate.

Birth Rate Mounts

Italy's birth rate at present is around 1,200,000 a year—a little less than half the 1945 birth rate in the United States, which has more than three times as many people.

Italy's population today has gone up to around 47,000,00. Experts estimate that it will reach 56,000,000 in another ten years. Rome's 1,551,520 inhabitants last year recorded at least 50,000 births more than a third as many as the 8,000,000 residents of Illinois produced.

The marriage rate is going up, too. In October, Rome alone the first 15 days saw a record of 1,500 marriages. There were 533 marriages in the first five days and 886 births. In the same period, there were only 199 deaths in the capital, a net gain of 687 persons.

Faced with those statistics, large circles of the Italian population have been talking more and more about the situation—but "birth control" was never mentioned until the Catholic Action newspaper took up the issue.

College Raises Fund For New Baby Crop

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (U.P.)—Notre Dame thinks it has the first "maternity fund" ever raised at a men's college.

The campaign has a goal of $5,000 to be used to defray expenses of married veterans attending the college.

Demos To Be Roman In Directory Type

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP) — The new Congress already is typed.

It'll be Roman for Democrats and Italics for Republicans.

In the Congressional Directory it is customary, in listing senators and representatives, to print names of the controlling or majority party in Roman type, and those of the minority party in Italics.

But an unofficial list of members of the new Congress, just issued by the house clerk, puts Democrats back in the straight up and down Roman type, Republicans in the slanting Italics, which is the way they are due to appear in the new directory.

There's no type change for Rep. Marcantonio of New York. As the lone American Labor representative, he'll continue to be listed in small capital letters.

Greek King Obtains American Spectacles

SOUTHBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 18 (U.P.)—King Paul 1 of Greece is looking at life through American eyeglasses.

He and Queen Frederika Louise have received a dozen pair of spectacles, made here on prescriptions supplied by the royal physician. C. E. Hart, assistant export manager of the American Optical Co., cited the incident as evidence of "growing United States supremacy in optical craftsmanship."

Greek-born employees of the firm included in the shipment spectacle cases with the regal coat of arms embossed in gold leaf, and a quantity of lens cleaners containing the king's crest.
