

Congress Orders Probe Of 'Voice'

Outraged Solons Charge Libel And Misrepresentation

WASHINGTON—(P)—Angered congressmen ordered a double-barreled investigation Thursday into Voice of America broadcasts they say have libeled and misrepresented the United States.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), the Republicans' top investigator, will head one by the Senate.

Representative Chenoweth (R-Colo.) will direct one for the House.

Indignation, anger and amazement were mixed in the congressional reaction to disclosure that the broadcasts have told the world such things as—"New England was founded by hypocrisy and Texas by sin."

The importance attached to the matter was emphasized by the fact that Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), the Senate's presiding officer and chairman of its Foreign Relations Committee, announced plans for the Senate investigation.

Sample broadcast excerpts: "New England was founded by hypocrisy and Texas by sin."

Drivel, Nonsense

"Nevada's two main cities compete with each other because people get married in Las Vegas and divorced in Reno."

Sample reaction:

From Senator Hatch (D-NM): "Drivel, nonsense and downright falsehoods."

From Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.): "A demand that Congress rescind the $7,000,000 appropriation it voted for next year to finance the worldwide radio programs intended to portray the Democratic way of life in this country."

From Senator Capewell (R-Ind.): "A promise to introduce a resolution calling for a top-to-bottom congressional inquiry into the State Department's operation of the information program."

Script Writer Fired

From the National Broadcasting Company, which handled the programs under contract with the department: "The writer who turned out the scripts has been fired and the supervisor who reviewed them has been 'relieved of his post.'"

This, however, failed to dispel the storm.

It broke in the Senate late Wednesday when Capewell read excerpts from a series of programs broadcast late in 1947 and early this year to South America.

The Indiana senator said they purported to deal with life and history in the 48 states as seen through the eyes of two travelers.

One said he had referred to Brigham Young, the Mormon leader, as "carrying a bottle of whiskey in one pocket and a cud of chewing tobacco in the other."

But, said the script, Young used neither.

Quoting further, Capewell said that Alabama's Birmingham was "constructed in a hurry and they have not had time to improve it."

"This whole thing is saturated with malice," shouted Senator Connally.

They are traitors to their country."

Senator H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said he had been in touch with the State Department and was told a preliminary report would be submitted to the Senate Thursday.

It was Smith who led the winning battle earlier this year for full authorization of the voice programs, previously carried out under wartime White House authority.

Smith said the department told him the series had been "fanned out" to NBC. The programs were neither written nor supervised by the department. But Smith added that this is "no justification" and the State Department will have to shoulder the responsibility.

MacArthur's Return To U. S. Asked

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Senate Appropriations Committee Thursday voted to request Gen. Douglas MacArthur to return to the United States to testify on the Far Eastern situation.

Chairman Bridges (R-NH) announced the committee's action at the end of a short closed-door session. The vote was 17 to 2.

Senator Wherry (Neb.), acting Republican leader and a committee member, offered the motion to request MacArthur to return. Wherry said politics wasn't involved so far as he was concerned.

Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, MacArthur's successor in command of the Philippine area at the start of the Pacific war, petitioned Congress to seek MacArthur's views. Wainwright had been a veterans' group boosting the supreme Allied commander for the GOP presidential nomination.

First Hand Report

The Nebraska senator said the Japanese occupation "has been the one bright spot" in United States postwar policy, and he thinks MacArthur should be recalled to give Congress a first-hand report.

Another committee member, Senator Dworth (R-Iowa), said, "I don't know anything it would accomplish, and I don't know of any harm it could do."

"If General MacArthur has any information of value to this country," he said, "we should know it. If we can't get it, how to make the European occupation successful, it might be worthwhile."

MacArthur has not been back in this country since before Pearl Harbor. He has said he intends to stay in Tokyo until his job is finished there.

Bitter debate preceded the House roll call. It ranged all the way from Secretary of State Marshall's whereabouts the night before Pearl Harbor to Alf M. Landon's plea last weekend for his fellow Republicans to abandon their own bill.

But the outcome was never in doubt. The GOP leadership was in full control.

Administration supporters were more hopeful in the Senate.

Under the House extension, the President would have to ask the Tariff Commission how far duties could be lowered without injuring the domestic economy or endangering the national security.

If the President went beyond the Tariff Commission's recommendations—a body composed of three Democrats and three Republicans—either the Senate or House could veto the agreement by voting disapproval within 60 days.

Plans For New T&P Station Here Will Be Ready By July 1

L. C. Porter of Dallas, assistant to the president of the Texas and Pacific Railway, said here Wednesday afternoon plans and specifications for the new T&P depot here are nearing completion and will be in the hands of contractors by July 1. Construction bids will be opened and a contract let within 30 days after that time, he said.

The new station will be erected on railroad right-of-way between Lorraine and Colorado streets. Porter said it will be the finest and most attractive depot in the Permian Basin.

When the new station is occupied, the Baird Street crossing will be closed and the signal lights there will be moved to Terrell Street.

Russian Protests Rejected

WASHINGTON—(P)—The United States has flatly rejected Russian protests claiming American airplanes have interfered with Soviet shipping in the vicinity of Japan.

The State Department said Thursday the U. S. reply to various Soviet notes of protest was delivered to the Russians by the American embassy in Moscow Tuesday.

A statement released by the department said the Soviet had objected to more than 50 cases of alleged interference with their commercial shipping. The department said that neither in the Russian notes nor in direct investigation by American authorities has there been evidence of such interference.

U. S. Methods Necessary
The American reply was not given out in text form here but was summarized in the statement. It said Gen. Douglas MacArthur, as supreme Allied commander in Japan, uses Air, Army and Naval forces "to prevent smuggling and illegal entry into Japan."

Low flying within the limits of safety in conducting this off-shore patrol is absolutely necessary for recognition purposes," the State Department said in reporting on the note to Russia.

"These activities serve the interests of the Soviet government, as well as of other nations concerned with the occupation and control of Japan," the department contended.

Prominent West Texans Injured In Auto Crash

E. R. Osburn of Houston, formerly of Midland; A. B. Knickerbocker, also of Houston and formerly of Odessa; and Mr. and Mrs. George H. McIntire of Sterling City, parents of Mr. Jack Wilkinson of Midland, and "Little George" McIntire of Midland and Los Angeles, are in a San Angelo hospital suffering from injuries received Wednesday afternoon in a head-on collision on the highway between Sterling City and Water Valley.

Osburn, the most critically injured, was in a serious condition Thursday morning, although his general condition was improved, according to reports from San Angelo. He was said to be unconscious. Blood plasma was administered Wednesday night. He suffered fractures of the right leg and left elbow, shock and lacerations of the head and face.

Osburn is assistant general manager of the Texas Pipe Line Company. He moved from Midland to Houston about two years ago.

The condition of Knickerbocker, a former state adjutant general, was described Thursday morning as "good." He suffered a chest injury and laceration of the knee. He is an oilfield construction contractor, and is well-known throughout the Permian Basin area.

McIntire, 66, was reported to have received a fractured right wrist and right leg and lacerations on the left hand. Mrs. McIntire suffered injuries of the right wrist, right shoulder, chest and back. Their conditions were described as "good."

The McIntires own and operate the U Ranch near Sterling City. A state patrolman reported the McIntire car was headed toward Sterling City when the south bound car driven by Knickerbocker crossed to the north-bound lane in an effort to pass a truck. Osburn was riding with Knickerbocker.

Mrs. Osburn and Mrs. Knickerbocker arrived in San Angelo from Houston Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson went to San Angelo Wednesday afternoon after being advised of the accident.

Although little additional rainfall was reported over the Midland area Wednesday night, the cloudy weather continued Thursday morning, with good prospects for more moisture.

The rain reports range from 1.28 inches in Midland to more than eight inches on the Arch Bergs, halfway between Midland and Rankin. Heavy rains fell over most of Ector county, with high water reported in some sections of Odessa.

Most of the ranch and farm country surrounding Midland has had beneficial moisture of from one to three inches. Good rains were reported from Kermik, Pecos, Monahans, Fort Stockton, McCamey, Rankin, Big Lake, Garden City, Stanton, Big Spring and La Mesa. A tourist reported heavy rains all the way from Lovington, N. M., to Midland.

Indications are the drought definitely has been broken over most of West Texas.

All-baseball games in the Longhorn League Wednesday night were rained out.

It was a complete day and night, but the Midlanders were up bright and early Thursday morning to continue their goodwill chores on a

A one-day booster trip is scheduled Friday, with the chartered bus, sound truck and police car to leave Hotel Scharbauer at 8 a. m. for a swing through the South Plains country. The boosters are urged to be on hand and ready to ride not later than 7:45 a. m.

Arriving in San Angelo late Wednesday, the Midland boys were met at the city limits by a delegation of San Angelenos, including peace officers, and escorted to their hotel. They lunched with the Pecos Lions Club, and were heartily welcomed at other points along the route during the first lap of their two-day junket.

West Texans are hearing about Midland's World Championship Rodeo, and many say they plan to attend.

MIDLAND OPERATORS TO DIG PROSPECTOR IN STERLING
Cole-Darwin Oil Company, and Westland & Johnson, Inc., both of Midland, are to start drilling soon on their No. 1 R. T. Foster, as a 5,000-foot wildcat in Southeast Sterling County.

It will be 600 feet from south and 1,500 feet from west lines of section 26, block 13, SPRR survey. That puts it two and one half miles northwest of the Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation and The Vickers Petroleum Co., Inc., No. 1 McFadden Foster, recently completed flowing producer from the Wichita-Albany to open a new field in Southwest Sterling County.

Rotary rig will be moved to the new venture in a few days. It is understood that the operators have recently sold a lease on half of section 26, block 13, SPRR survey to Phillips Petroleum Company. Consideration involved in that transaction was not learned.

GULF TAKES ANOTHER DST AT DEEP MIDLAND VENTURE
Gulf Oil Corporation, 1-E Wilson Bryant, wildcat 14 miles south of the city of Midland, in Central Midland County, was taking a second drillstem test to total depth of 9,410 feet in an unidentified line section in the Pennsylvanian. The packer for this investigation was due to have been set at about 9,200 feet.

A test on this prospect at 9,324-9,410 feet, was open four hours. It had a small amount of gas at the surface in 13 minutes and recovered 315 feet of drilling fluid and 722 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling fluid.

It is probable that after the current test is finished operator will elect to drill deeper.

HONOLULU RE-TEARS NEW DISCOVERY IN HAWAII
Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1-13 Ellwood estate, in East-Central Hoolah County, three and one half miles north of Smyer, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 13, block A, R. M. Thompson survey, had treated the open hole at 5,917-6,014 feet, in the middle Permian lime, with 3,000 gallons of acid.

After the load and residue from the injection had been washed off the well swabbed between four and five barrels of new oil per hour, with a small shakeout of acid water.

Operator was to re-treat the pay section with 6,000 gallons of acid. This venture is due to be completed as a producer and the operator of a new producing area. It is several miles west of the nearest production, which is in a few small wells in the Smyer field.

SHELL GETS BASEMENT IN W. C. ANDREWS DEVELOPMENT
Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Little Collins, steepout from Ellenburger producers in the Nelson field in extreme West-Central Andrews County, and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 4, block A-40, psi survey, was bottomed at 10,380 feet, in the pre-Cambrian complex.

This project has a string of 51/2 inch casing cemented at 9,000 feet. It is presumed that the uncased section of the hole will shortly be tested.

Demonstration 'Sho' At MGC

Ken Beagle of Remington Arms, assisted by his wife Blanche, conducted a demonstration at the Midland Gun Club Wednesday. Two representatives of Remington Arms, in addition to Beagle, were present.

Bad weather cut the crowd but a good shoot and talk were held, according to Bill Epley of the club. As he demonstrated shooting of various guns, Beagle said: "Proper timing is the essence of all shooting at moving targets. Once the shooter learns to make the gun practically a part of himself, learning to shoot with efficiency becomes comparatively easy. Good shooting is not beyond the reach of anyone who has a healthy body, steady nerves or nerves which can be controlled and fairly good eyesight. Once the fundamentals of shooting become so firmly entrenched in the mind of an individual that they are a sort of second nature, it is easy for him to graduate from the status of a mediocre shot to that of an excellent marksman. No shot one person can do it impossible for the other fellow if he will only master the problems of timing and proper gun sighting or pointing. It just takes a little patience and a lot of practice."

The opinion sampling was conducted by AMG's information control division in the three western sectors of Berlin—occupied by the U. S., Britain and France—which contain two-thirds of the city's three and one-quarter million population.

In October, 1947, 74 per cent believed the Western Powers would not withdraw. Later a Russian propaganda barrage attempted to convince Berliners that the Western Powers were the "splitters" of Germany and had forfeited their right to remain here. To test the effect of this propaganda, the American agency again asked Berliners this Spring whether they believed the Western occupiers would withdraw. Seventy-six per cent of those questioned said they believed they would not.

Pioneer Air Lines Head Declines Post Under Air Secretary

DALLAS—(AP)—Secretary for Air W. Stuart Symington said Tuesday night that "planned Air Force can and will provide against sudden and stunning defeat."

Symington said the Air Force was working on a plan to enlist industry's equipment and skilled instructors in the reserve program.

Symington said the 70-group Air Force will not be an actuality before five years, pointing out that under the present plan only 1,500 planes will be delivered next year.

Symington revealed he had offered the post of assistant secretary for Air to Robert J. Smith of Dallas, brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve and president of Pioneer Air Lines. "Unfortunately Bob had spent so much time in the war that he couldn't arrange his personal affairs so that he could leave," Symington said.

Philippine First Lady Is 17-Year-Old Vicky Quirino

MANILA (AP)—Just one day after official mourning for the late president Manuel A. Roxas ended, the new first lady of the Philippines became 17 years old.

Barely out of bobby socks, short, slim, vivacious Victoria (Vicky) Quirino became official hostess for her widowed father, Elpidio Quirino, when the family moved into the presidential palace.

That is, until the president should decide to alter his present unattached status. Rumor is that he is interested in an attractive widow.

Mrs. Nila Mendocino, a younger sister of his late wife who died at the hands of the Japanese in January, 1945.

Vicky is the only living daughter of the president. Her two sisters died with her mother and a brother during the liberation. Now that fate has catapulted her father into the presidential chair, teen-aged Vicky has a task which might shake a woman twice her age.

How Does It Feel? How does it feel to be the daughter of the president of the Philippines? Well, Vicky can tell you: "It's just like a dream to me. I can't believe that I am the president's daughter. Maybe one day I'll wake up and realize that I really am the daughter of the president of the Philippines."

Vicky's interests appear to parallel those of her mother, a girl who was English. She likes movies, roller skating and a good time with people her own age.

She has just graduated from high school where favorite subject was English. If she goes on to college, the chances are she'll major in this subject.

Her closest friends are the teen-aged daughters of neighbors with whom she has grown up. Five of the girls are now living with her in the Quirino family home on Dewey boulevard. When she enters Malacanang Palace, Vicky says she hopes to take them along.

Is there a boy friend? Some say yes. Some say no. There was general agreement on one point: "Vicky has many admirers."

When she stands first in the receiving line at Malacanang, the dignity and poise of the pretty oval-faced first lady undoubtedly will win her many more.

Fine Arts Club Gets Award For Best City-County Federation Attendance

The Fine Arts Club, at its final meeting of the season Wednesday, was feted by Mrs. Harvey Sloan in the Private Dining Room of Hotel Schlarbaum. Featured speakers included Mrs. E. R. Schlarbaum, Mrs. Wilson Bryant and Mrs. Tom Bobo.

Highlight of the business session was the announcement of an award to the Fine Arts Club for the best yearly attendance at City-County Federation meetings here.

Mrs. Schlarbaum, addressing the group on "Fashions," told how dress effects the world and how, in turn, world conditions affect fashions. "It is really the spirit of life," quoted Mrs. Schlarbaum, "we must admit that the world of today is well-seasoned. It never has costume been so varied and fashions so experimental as now, though only a few centuries have passed, so numerous have been the modes, that only one conclusion may be drawn—Dress Fashion rules the world."

In conclusion, the speaker contrasted "fashion" and "style," the former which she described as "superficial," the latter, "a solid citizen with individuality and charm."

Mrs. Bryant's discussion of "Social Graces," which she defined as etiquette, was highlighted by the "dos and don'ts" of society. "Though good manners mean many things," Mrs. Bryant summarized, "it is basically that one must first of all be free of affectation and pose. All etiquette or social grace is founded on an awareness of beauty, good taste, (or the fitness of things), common consideration for others and the ability to adapt oneself to other personalities and environments."

Mrs. Tom Bobo, in her discussion of "Localisms," pointed out that "Texans aren't aware of their peculiar expressions until they visit other parts of the country." Quoting poems by the noted Texas writer, J. Frank Dobie, the speaker presented the group with a number of local expressions such as "rinsing" for washing, "peaked" for sick, "goober" for peanut, "right smart meal," "batter cakes" for hot cakes.

"It's a real thing," she said, "I'm fixin' to," and "I reckon."

Those attending the session were Mrs. Bobo, Mrs. L. G. Byerley, Mrs. J. G. Carner, Mrs. Bryant, Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, Mrs. O. J. Hubbard, Mrs. D. C. Haskins, Mrs. George Kidd, Mrs. Selman Lones, Mrs. Henry Murphy, Mrs. Ralph Oberholzer, Mrs. Puett, Mrs. Merrill Patton, Mrs. Roy Parks, Mrs. Schlarbaum, Mrs. Sloan, Mrs. Pay Proctor, Mrs. Clifford Hall, and a guest, Mrs. E. E. Gray of San Diego, Calif.

Stalin-Wallace Prescription

Premier Stalin has added his personal influence to that of his American Communist Party in support of Henry A. Wallace for President. At least that seems the most logical explanation of his announcement that he is willing to talk over international differences along the lines laid down by a candidate who is still a private citizen totally unconnected with this government.

But before Wallace gets too choked up with emotion and humbleness over his solution of the crisis, he might remember that many of the remedies in his prescription for curing the cold war have already been tried.

Wallace calls for general reduction of armaments and the outlawing of all methods of mass destruction.

That is an excellent suggestion, but not an original one. It is contained in the United Nations Charter. Wallace should know why the efforts to carry it out have failed. If he doesn't, he might read the recent report of the UN Atomic Energy Commission.

Wallace urges a speedy peace with Germany and Japan.

He might recall that the victorious powers have tried to draft peace treaties for Austria and Germany and have got nowhere, largely because of Russian reparation demands.

Russia clings to a plan for Germany whereby the United States would, in effect, be paying for reparations by pouring millions in goods and money into the western zone, while Russia took out millions in German production from the east. When these difficulties are settled any American government, Wallace or non-Wallace, will be more than willing to close out the books in Japan.

Wallace wants to see the resumption of unrestricted trade, except for goods related to war, between the United States and Russia.

We seem to recall that this country was shipping Russian goods quite closely related to war until a howl from Congress put a stop to it. Non-military trade continues.

Wallace says that neither America nor the Soviet Union should interfere in the internal affairs of other nations, or maintain military bases in UN nations, or terrorize the citizens of member states.

The present American government has protested the interference and terrorism of Moscow-directed Communists which resulted in the enslavement of neighboring countries by Communist minorities backed by Soviet might.

The charges of American "interference" which Wallace and the Soviet government have made have in every case related to instances where Communist aggression has threatened the imminent overthrow of existing governments and their replacement by imposed dictatorships.

Wallace wants a re-established and re-invigorated UN agency for international relief.

That, too, is not a new idea. One important reason why UNRRA was not renewed was the Communist insistence on handling relief supplies in the countries under Red control and using them for political purposes.

Examination of Wallace's other recommendations would show that most of them had also been tried. This is not to say that they are not good recommendations, or that some past efforts to fulfill them have not been marred by bad judgment.

But Wallace seems trying to give the impression that he has had a revelation of the way to enduring peace. And Stalin has played up to him by implying that he never heard such good suggestions before. When one thinks how Moscow has treated the same proposals in the past Stalin's conciliatory reply to the Wallace program sounds doubly cynical.

Russia Pursues Policy Of Obstruction And Propaganda

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The list of acts by which the United States has indicated a desire to co-operate with Soviet Russia is as long as your arm. The list of acts in response, by which the Russians have indicated they have no desire to co-operate, is even longer.

The Russians continually use the United Nations to further their propaganda, instead of trying to promote the UN aims of achieving world peace and security.

The Soviet has used the veto 23 times in the Security Council. Eleven of those vetoes have been used to block UN action aimed to stop the civil war in Greece. Four vetoes have been used to block action on Spain. Once the veto was used on the Syrian and Lebanon case, and once on British charges against Albania.

In the UN General Assembly where there is no veto, the Russians have resorted to the use of boycotts to obstruct action and show their unwillingness to co-operate with other nations.

In this manner Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko has refused to take part in the work of the "Lithuanian Assembly." This is the 57-man interim committee set up to consider any matter before the Assembly, including possible revision of the UN Charter to limit use of the veto. Not only has Russia boycotted this committee, but she has persuaded five of her satellite nations to boycott it.

RUSSIA has also boycotted the UN Temporary Commission for Korea and the UN Special Balkan Commission created by the Assembly to investigate and try to bring peace to those troubled areas. Instead of promoting peace in Greece and Korea, from within Russian-controlled areas have come concerted moves to cause discord and revolution against established governments.

Similar pressure has been exerted against Iran, China and Turkey. While the Russians have waged a great propaganda campaign for reduction of armaments, as a matter of record the work of the UN Commission on Conventional Armaments has been at a standstill for two years, due to Russian obstruction.

After more than 200 meetings, the work of the UN Atomic Energy Commission has come to a standstill, solely because the Russians have refused to accept American offers to share the benefits from

Backaches May Be Caused By Many Different Conditions

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

THERE is no one prescription which will invariably bring relief for all backaches. This is because there are many possible causes of a backache.

Arthritis, various anemias, and conditions within the abdomen, rather than the back itself, may be responsible. A backache is also a common symptom of some of the acute fevers, particularly smallpox. It is common during pregnancy and frequently results from poor posture.

Bone diseases, such as tuberculosis or tumors of the bone, produce backache. Fractures in or near the backbone are sometimes responsible. Kidney stones, a misplaced uterus or womb, injuries and nerve diseases, are among many other possible causes.

CHECK-UP ESSENTIAL
TO best determine the actual cause, a careful history of the symptoms must be obtained from each patient. Efforts must be made to carry out a thorough physical examination of the entire body. Laboratory tests, including blood and urine examinations, are important.

If the difficulty is found to be in the back itself, a number of possible treatments are available. Braces or specially designed corsets or supports are commonly used. Physical therapy, such as the application of heat, or electric treatments may be helpful. Massage or manipulation is valuable in some cases, but can be seriously harmful if the backache is due to such diseases as tuberculosis of the bone.

Pain in the back is one of the most difficult symptoms on which to base a correct diagnosis. The cause is also, in many cases, difficult to cure. However, by careful diagnosis which, of course, includes an X-ray, and properly selected treatment, most patients with backache eventually can be relieved.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

Question: How long do scarlet fever germs live in books and clothing?

Answer: The germ causing scarlet fever is a streptococcus. Germs of this kind do not live long in the absence of heat and moisture. Ordinarily, they would not live more than a few hours in books or clothing.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh.

It's Leap Year, Girls!

First girl in our town to "get her man" on Leap Year was the Cupper's daughter, Jane, who wed Bill Webster's boy last Saturday.

When I asked Bill Jr. if it was true that Jane really did the proposing, Bill said: No, but she made it plain she'd make an ideal wife. Instead of looking for diversion or excitement every evening, she was content to chat beside the fire.

"I could plainly see," says Bill, "that we'd really have a happy home life—which is just exactly what I want from marriage."

I know it's usual for older folks to shake their heads over the younger generation. (It's gone on for hundreds of years, now.)

But from where I sit, young people of marrying-age today are every bit as commendable as their elders were—in their temperance (a glass of beer for instance), tolerance, and common sense. So to Jane and Bill—the best of luck!

A Cinch To Remember This Number

What system do you use to help you remember telephone numbers? The directory? Ah, yes, but sometimes you're in a terrific hurry, or the directory's missing, or there's not enough light to read it.

You can improve your memory, psychologists say, by associating whatever it is you want to remember with something familiar and likely to stick in your consciousness.

Like the number 80. That's the way to get a taxi cab in a very short time. If you're a golfer, you can think of "a tee." If there are any Brits in your ancestry, you might take "a tea" as your memory aid. If you're a deer hunter, "a doe" will quickly come to mind; say it, the operator will merely think you have a cold. If your corn hurts, "a toe" is a natural.

Quick Answer
Suppose you're an arithmetic teacher. "Four times 20 equal what?" comes easily.

When you call 80 you're sure to get a quick answer from City Cab. If somebody answers "City Cab" at the other end of the line, just ask to have one sent after you, and it won't be long till you're back on wheels again. City Cab is the oldest taxi institution in Midland, but it is also one of the most modern. During its 20 years or more of operation here it has kept up with the times. Late-model cars, two-way radio, and courteous drivers are features of its fast service. Owners Horace Newton and C. A. Brown have lived here more than 20 years and are well known in the city.

So, when the operator inquires what number you want, say it: "Eight-Oh," or "A Toe."

Specializing in new construction, Heath and Templeton Plumbing Company, 119 North Weatherford Street in Midland, offers a complete line of nationally-known plumbing merchandise plus highest-quality workmanship.

One of the items the company features for builders who want "the best" is an entire copper plumbing system which is the ultimate in durability and dependability. The firm also handles automatic water softeners, water heaters, floor furnaces, kitchen and bathroom fixtures carrying trade names recognized everywhere as representing the world's best plumbing manufacturers.

Sprinkler Systems
Heath and Templeton sell and install sprinkler systems for lawns. They also sell small accessories.

Anything in the plumbing line, from a complete system for a new home to a soap dish for the kitchen sink is available here.

If you're building a new home or office the company is equipped, from standpoints of merchandise and qualified personnel, to do the complete job of installing gas and water pipe and all fixtures.

Seal fur is not black, but brown. The glossy black seal skin of commerce has been plucked of its coarse outer hairs, and dyed.

Tom E. Acker, chairman of the board of the Texas State Bank, Jacksonville, was elected vice president and G. W. Barnes, vice president of the First National Bank of Alpine, was elected treasurer.

HINT TO MOTORISTS
When auto hose connections are renewed, a tight-fitting job can be had by getting hose a bit too small to be forced over the nipples of the tank and block. The ends of the hose should then be soaked in gasoline for an hour, causing them to swell enough to be slipped into place.

Texas League— Tulsa Nips Rebs In Only Contest.

By The Associated Press
Tulsa gained ground Wednesday night but the rest of the Texas League found it too wet to play. Harry Perkowski notched his seventh victory of the season and equalled a Tulsa strikeout record in humbling Dallas 6-2.
Rain postponed the Port Worth-Oklahoma City, Shreveport - Beaumont and San Antonio - Houston games.
Perkowski struck out 12 Rebels to tie the mark set by Mace Brown in 1934. He gave up but two hits in the first seven innings and limited Dallas to a total of six.
Russell Burns knocked his ninth home run of the season in the second inning with none aboard. Tulsa went ahead with two runs in the second and added four more in the fifth inning. Dallas' two runs came in the seventh.

Article Lauds Melvin Haney

The May 20 issue of Humble Sales Lubricator carries an article about a well known Midland sports fan, Melvin Haney.
Says the article:
"Melvin Haney, agent at Midland, is one of the leading agents in West Texas because of the interest he takes in community affairs and a lot of hard-work in his station. Since taking over as agent in June, 1945, Haney has increased his gallopation 60 per cent.
"During this time Haney has had 18 all time highs and expects to set another all time high in May. Haney was made agent on a temporary appointment June 1, 1945. He immediately went to work and hit the driveway with speed and service. In four months he had set his first all time high and went on to make four in a row.
"Haney has taken an active part in sports and civic affairs. He has tied many of his interest in with his advertising. His latest idea is in the form of a schedule for the Longhorn Baseball League. These printed schedules were given away to his customers. When others heard of the schedule, the demand increased. That meant more cars on the driveway and it resulted in more sales for Haney."

8—THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, MAY 27, 1948

COMPARED WITH AVERAGE—

Midlanders Rank Well In PT Tests

Physical efficiency tests, made up of seven national standards, were completed by the boys' physical education department of Midland High School with the closing of school.

These tests are given each year to draw a comparison between the average Midland boy and the average physical education student over the entire United States. The seven tests given were: softball throw for distance, standing broad jump for distance, 300-yard run for time, sit-ups, push-ups, and chin-ups for strength and endurance, and the rope climb for speed.

A comparison of the national average, the 1946-47 results and the 1947-48 results are shown below:

DOWNS Lane with TANNER LAINE

Bobby Layne has thrown his last strike—either with a football or a baseball—in the Southwest Conference. But an argument lingers on.

There still are those who don't think Layne is a top-flight baseball player. And there even are some who are critical of his ability as a footballer.

One part of the argument will be settled and quickly. Next Fall he will play professional football with the Chicago Bears. That will show in a hurry just what the fellow with the greatest passing record in Southwest Conference history has on the ball.

No one is going to know about his baseball ability. All he has back of him is the greatest winning streak in conference annals. In fact, it couldn't be better because he's perfect. He won 28 pitching victories in four years of competition and didn't suffer a loss. He went the route in 20 of those games. In no game did he leave with his team behind.

Layne wound up his athletic career at Texas on May 14 when he beat Texas A&M.

Layne's all-time record in baseball at Texas, this including appearances against colleges, semiprofessional outfits, was 39 victories against seven defeats. He pitched 378 2/3 innings, allowed 273 hits and struck out 381. In conference games he hurled 241 1/3 innings, gave up 66 hits and fanned 241.

But Bobby isn't going to try professional baseball. He says pro football will take up the time, he isn't putting into private business.

Conference opponents said he did not have a thing on the ball; some called him a "Layne complex." They got so accustomed to taking kickings from him they just could not take advantage of any deficiency in his pitching.

It all sounds pretty hollow—this belittling the ability of the fellow many consider as the greatest athlete the University of Texas ever had.

In the 1946 Cotton Bowl football game Layne was doing the pitching and Hub Bechtel the catching. Layne completed 11 out of 12 passes as Texas licked Missouri.

In the Sugar Bowl game of January 1, 1948, Layne passed a fine Alabama team into defeat.

Layne was named the outstanding performer in both those major bowl battles.

Think of his baseball playing. There was the afternoon at College Station when he was pitching a no-hit game. The Aggie band played in loud, ear-shattering tempo. But the Texas bouncers, Herman Wehmer, who pitched five innings, was credited with his second straight win.

The Pittsburgh - Philadelphia night game was postponed because of threatening weather.

Once again the American League race is all snarled up in percentages. Cleveland, actually trailing Philadelphia by a half game in a strict application of the won and lost principle, still holds first place by two percentage points.

It's the same old story of a difference in games played.

Cleveland was shutout for the first time this season—but it took two pitchers to do it—Sid Hudson and Tom Ferrick.

The Indians collected only three hits in bowing to Washington 2-0 for Gene Bearden's first setback after three straight wins.

Philadelphia combed the Chicago White Sox 7-1 in the afternoon behind Joe Coleman's five-hit pitching. It was the fourth straight victory for the rebounding A's, who broke loose with five runs in the seventh inning.

Det. "walked" to a 7-3 nod over the New York Yankees when the Yank pitchers passed 10 men. Although touched for 12 hits, Dizzy Trout took the decision from Spec Shea.

It took a double error in the tenth by catcher Les Moss to enable Boston's Red Sox to down the St. Louis Browns 5-3.

The hunt for that fuse that just blew out is eliminated by one of those simple twists of electrical science. A tiny incandescent lamp has been added to the fuse. Now, when the fuse goes out, the lamp goes on.

Major Leagues—

Giants Maul Card Hurlers In 10-7 Win

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Life in the polo grounds is just a series of nightmares for Manager Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cards. As far as he's concerned they can bring back polo any day.

All last year his favored Redbirds fluttered and played dead when they hit New York. It looks like more of the same in 1948.

Dyer's latest experience was enough to try the patience of a saint. His league leaders were rolling along Wednesday night behind a nice 7-2 lead with Howie Pollet, the unbeaten star of both leagues, doing the pitching. It looked like money in the bank.

Then the Giants started to break out of their hitting slump. They hit and hit and hit some more. Before the eighth inning was over, eight runs had crossed the plate and the 7-2 lead had changed to a 10-7 deficit.

Bobby Thompson doubled and singled for two hits in the big inning as the Giants chased Pollet, George Munger and Gerry Staley before coasting to a halt for Ken Burkhardt. Pollet escaped his first defeat because Dyer called in Munger at the first sign of serious trouble. Munger was felled for his second loss.

Burns Stumble Again
"Those Giants," said Dyer the other day, "they beat us like they own us."

Still the Cards show the way with a 1 1/2-game lead over New York, despite Wednesday night's disaster.

This turn of events sent a crowd of 44,128 into the subway with visions of another all-New York world series. Across the river in Flatbush, Brooklyn customers were more concerned with immediate problems. Outfielder Pete Reiser and catcher Bruce Edwards were lost for an indefinite period and the club blew another.

Shortly before midnight the Dodgers again plunged into the cellar as the result of their 4-1 loss to Chicago and Cincinnati's 8-5 win over Boston.

Hank Sauer's 10th homer helped Cincinnati sneak out of last place. The Reds routed Warren Spahn, Boston's southpaw ace, to come from behind, 11 out of 12 passes as Texas licked Missouri.

In the Sugar Bowl game of January 1, 1948, Layne passed a fine Alabama team into defeat.

Layne was named the outstanding performer in both those major bowl battles.

Hogan Favored At Fort Worth

PORT WORTH—(AP)—The Colonial National Invitation, golf's all-expenses paid junket for the stars, opens its third annual showing Thursday with Ben Hogan, the game's fabulous pine knot, a weary but determined favorite.

Hogan, who played 212 holes at St. Louis in capturing the National PGA, was considered the man to beat as a field of 29 professionals and three amateurs moved out in the first 18 holes of the 72-hole tournament that reaches its close Sunday.

Hogan, who has put $13,897.50 in to the old sock this year to make him the runner-up in money, will be after the $3,500 first prize for the third time. He won the other two tournaments with a one-under-par 279.

MEET THE CANDIDATES—Robert Taft And Wife Compose Active Political Campaign Unit

By FRED C. ZUST

WASHINGTON—(AP)—When Bob and Martha Taft were campaigning recently in Bloomington, Ill., Mrs. Taft received a vacuum cleaner as a gift.

"The administration will quake in its boots when it sees Bob and me coming back to Washington with this," she quipped.

Everybody roared.

Her senator-husband got up and made a carefully studied speech demanding heavy cuts in federal spending and taxes. He too was applauded.

Robert A. Taft

When Taft first came to Washington in 1923, one home state paper in Ohio started off its story: "Martha and Bob Taft were elected to the Senate yesterday."

Now a leading Republican figure, it is only 10 years ago that Taft still was tagged "the son of the late president."

He has gained tremendously in stature in the last decade.

Included work intelligence and a vast capacity for absorbing facts.

New House Committee Plan Would Give Farmers Tax Break

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House ways and means committee has approved a plan to give farmers a better income tax break if they spend money on soil and water conservation.

The plan will be incorporated in the committee's general tax revision bill.

Under present law, most outlays for soil and water conserving land improvements are rated "capital expenditures." Farmers may take income tax deduction for them only gradually over a period of years.

The approved plan would allow farmers to deduct these expenses from their gross income when figuring their tax for the year in which the outlays were made.

For Conservation. The provision specifies that the expenditures must be for soil and water conservation and the prevention of erosion.

Included would be leveling, terracing, contour furrowing, construction of diversion channels and drainage ditches, control and protection of water courses, outlets and ponds, planting of cover crops and windbreaks and other special or emergency practices.

Still left in the category of capital expenditures would be the purchase, construction, installation or improvement of structures and facilities made of masonry, concrete, tile, metal or wood, such as tanks, reservoirs, pipes, conduits, canals, dams, wells and pumps.

The proposed changes in the revenue law would apply to the current calendar year as well as future tax periods.

CHANGEABLE

The loon can change its specific gravity at will. It can float high out of the water, or so low that only its head and neck protrude.

Delayed Enemy Action Hurts English Fishers

RAMSGATE, ENGLAND—(AP)—Delayed enemy action is costing Ramsgate trawlermen a big slice of the profits from the big catches they are landing this year.

Recent trawl damaging catches include a 250 pound bomb head, a phosphorus bomb, smoke canisters and aircraft wreckage.

"The waters in which my trawlers fish regularly are always providing unpleasant surprises for trawlermen," complains one fleet owner. "A lost trawl means a $200 outlay."

Taft walks fast and talks deliberately. Invariably he is calm and self-controlled.

Taft's adherence to principles has sometimes made him a lone wolf.

He was widely criticized, for example, for declaring that the Nuremberg trials violated fundamental principles of American law and that the hanging of the 12 Nazi big shots would be "a blot on the American record."

The Tafts mix in Washington social life but they're not "regulars" at all the parties. Taft works too hard for that. Almost invariably he takes home from the office a big oversize brief case that carries 30 pounds of reading matter.

HAVANA, CUBA. — (NEA) — The Soviet legation in Cuba has become the nerve center for Communist intrigue throughout Latin America.

It has taken over the role of "switchboard" for all Red operations in the Caribbean, Central and South America since Constantin Oumansky, Russian ambassador to Mexico who created the Soviet spy ring for Latin America, was killed in a plane crash in 1945.

That is the considered opinion of Dr. Carlos Prio Socarras, "government" candidate for president in the June election. Prio is a long-time associate of President Ramon Grau San Martin; he has served as minister for foreign affairs, as minister of labor and as minister without portfolio. He is the man who, last Summer, took the Cuban Confederation of Labor away from the Reds and turned it over to non-Communist leaders.

From all I can learn, Havana does not provide the brains for Soviet intrigue. It is merely a sort of switchboard, conveniently located, through which information and instructions are routed back and forth.

Instructions comes from Moscow by way of New York, Prio says. He did not comment on the fact that Andrei Gromyko, minister to Cuba, lives and works in New York, where he is ambassador to the United Nations.

Hard To Prove

The Soviet legation's resident head is Nicolai Andreev. Only four persons are credited to it in the Cuban diplomatic directory, aside from the absent Gromyko. Close observers say it would be hard to prove that more than a dozen are on the legation's payroll.

But Prio says that until recently from 80 to 100 persons actually worked under its direction, and that at present the number appears to be between 35 and 40. It is impossible to be exact, he says, because most of the workers did not come from Russia on diplomatic credentials, and many are not Russian at all. They are Czechs, Yugoslavs, Poles, even Cuban Communists.

There was much furor recently when Pablo Grobart, organization secretary of the Community party, was seen entering the Soviet legation early one morning. Unusually well informed observers believe that Grobart hid there while Cuban police tried to arrest him in connection with an abortive general strike plan.

Lecture Trips

"One of the highest Cuban Communist leaders made regular lecture trips to Chile, Bolivia, Colombia, Venezuela, Puerto Rico and other Latin American countries. There is reason to believe that they carried instructions to the Reds in those countries."

Earlier this year Cuba, was used as a base by a delegation on its way to the World Federation of Democratic Youth's session that opened recently in Mexico City. The group was publicized extensively by Hoy, Cuban Communist daily paper, and spent most of its time with known or suspected Communists. Hoy quoted Miss Frances Damon, U. S. member of the party, as saying that the United States is trying to lead the world's youth into another imperialist war.

From here the Federation delegates visited a number of Latin American countries. A Czech named Boucek failed to return from the trip to Venezuela. Other members included Eugene Kerbaul, of France; Vasily Bogatyrev and Ivan Michine of the U.S.S.R.; Milorad Peschi of Yugoslavia, and Luis Fernandez, general in the Republican army in Spain's civil war.

The Communists have a long wave radio station here, and also the best of the short wave channels.

Clearing House

Hoy, Communist daily, serves as a clearing house for party news for the Latin American Red press. Communist papers in other countries send Hoy their general "news," which then is edited, condensed, mimeographed, and dispatched all over Latin America. Until recently, at least, it has been identified by the credit line "Prensa Continental."

The size of the legation here is argued by observers as proof that it has undercover duties to perform.

With a total of 131 employees, the U. S. Embassy and consulate handle more than $1,000,000,000 a year in trade, plus a horde of American visitors here and Cubans running back and forth to the States.

With a dozen employees, the British legation handles $200,000,000 a year in trade between Cuba and most of the British Empire, plus thousands of travelers.

Last year Russia bought only $5,752 worth of goods from Cuba, and sold only $900 worth—a few barrels of caviar and a few bottles of vodka. There is almost no personal travel between the two countries. This, it is argued, could not possibly justify even the dozen employees who are quite openly on the Soviet staff.

Chinese Thieves Catch Jailers Thieving Funds

NANKING — (AP) — Two thieves serving terms in a police reform institute complained in court that their jailers were not setting a good example for honesty.

They charged the jailers with building private homes with prison labor and government funds.

The court sent the jailers to jail and praised the two thieves for their honesty.

Foundation Saves Millions Of Lives By 'Investments'

NEW YORK — (AP) — Thirty-five years ago John D. Rockefeller set out to improve the "well-being of mankind" through the Rockefeller Foundation.

Since then, the foundation has grown into a global giant with cash in every pocket. It has spent $413,907,068 in every country of the world and in virtually every type of effort to improve human life.

It has spent twice as much as it started with and still has almost as much as Rockefeller put into it. And with what's left, says President Raymond B. Fosdick, the foundation can go on spending for "perhaps another two generations" before running dry.

Lives Saved

Just how much man's well-being has been advanced by this money is incalculable, but the score in lives saved might be measured in millions. The contribution to man's knowledge also has been great, also incalculable. Among its achievements, money or men supplied by the foundation have:

Developed the vaccine which brought yellow fever under control; sharply reduced deaths caused by malaria and hookworm and acquainted much of the world with methods of fighting these diseases; built the world's first big atom-smasher at the University of California; built the 200-inch Mt. Palomar telescope, which will project man's sight into the universe two times farther than was possible before; helped improve scores of public schools around the world as well as start twenty-five nursing schools in 14 countries; trained more than 9,000 men in all branches of science, including some of the top men now in nuclear physics and the scientist who discovered the medical uses of penicillin.

World Benefits

The foundation began spending money on May 22, 1913, shortly after Rockefeller told his aids:

"I know now what I want to do with my money. I made it all over the world and will spend it there. Get the people interested in their diseases. Get knowledge into the minds of the people."

The foundation is still spending money all over the world and for a breathtaking variety of reasons. Right now, more than ninety different institutions and a half dozen foreign governments are working with foundation funds appropriated in 1947—a record year when 23 million dollars was allocated.

Over the years, the foundation has spent more than 23 million dollars on its "investments in men." It has supported approximately 9,000 fellowships in all countries of the world and in practically all fields, from sanitary engineering to Shakespearean studies. The fellows have gone on to teach countless thousands of others.

United Nations Seeks Homes For Refugees

SALONIKA — (AP) — To help relieve Greece of the burden of supporting more than 1200 political refugees, the United Nations Special Committee on the Balkans will ask the governments of countries to which the refugees have expressed a desire to migrate if they will admit some of the refugees as immigrants. These countries include Australia, France, Syria, Turkey, Great Britain and the United States.

Assigned last October to assist Greece, Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia in repatriating their refugees, UNSCOB recently admitted it could not accomplish the task because the satellite states refused to cooperate.

Company Declines To Accept Bill Payment

BOSTON—(AP)—The A. R. Rich Company, Boston fish dealers, recently received payment for a bill of $9.94 contracted more than 38 years ago.

A money order for that amount was sent by Mrs. Jennie S. Wright of Brookfield, Mass., who said she found the bill while going through some papers kept by her husband before he died.

Frank Shinnery, company treasurer, returned the money order with an explanation that accounts of that date had been closed out.

The company has changed hands three times since the bill was sent Wright on Dec. 1, 1909.

Aggie Hitchhiking Falls Victim To Veterans' Autos

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff

Hitchhiking as an art is passing at Texas A&M College. Once practiced as a ritual, mass hitchhiking by the Aggies was a casualty of the war.

No longer do men of A&M seek rides from the squares of every Texas town on weekends. The entreaty "thumb up" has been displaced by a beautiful chromium plated bulletin board.

Today there are Aggie sophomores who have not learned the meaning of "upstreaming," a campus crime during the nineteen thirties and before.

To upstream was to break a cardinal rule of hitchhiking, and there used to be many such rules at A&M. If a group of cadets arrayed themselves along a highway, seeking rides, and a newcomer walked up the highway so as to be the first to meet oncoming traffic, he would be guilty of upstreaming.

In the old days this was actually an offense punishable by demerits. Today it is rarely mentioned and almost forgotten.

Only Half In Corps
A faculty member said that a few years ago, eighty-five to ninety per cent of the students were members of the cadet corps and in uniform. Today little more than half the students are in the corps. That is another reason why the rules of A&M are less frequently noticed traveling about the state.

And Vick Lindley, student veteran, explained:

"Once, few cadets at A&M had their own cars. Then came the war and afterwards the invasion of the campus by student veterans. Such a large number of these veterans brought their own automobiles that it no longer became difficult to obtain rides. The veterans offered space in their cars on a share-expense basis and cadets quickly accepted. It made getting around on weekend much easier and you can be certain that Aggies still travel as much as they ever did. They leave College Station and Bryan in a car for weekend dates. There are not enough girls in close range of the campus to meet the date situation.

Ride Getting Refined
Now, the process of getting weekend rides has become greatly refined. Students waiting for a ride and students offering rides began posting notices on the college bulletin board. So popular did this practice become that the college had to install a new bulletin board, dedicated entirely to Aggie travel."

Lindley took us over to see the chromium bordered board. About 65 ride-notices had been tacked up. Some were elaborate, penned by artists. Riders were sought, or offered, to such points as New York, Boston, Philadelphia and San Francisco. A student advertised space in his car to Amarillo or Brownsville and another comes along and pencils on the corner of the card that he wants the space.

Famous Jap Dog To Have New Memorial
TOKYO—(AP)—Dog lovers have arranged for a new statue of Hachiko, Japan's most famous dog.

Hachiko became famous in the '20s. Each night he met his master at the busy Shibuya railway station here. When the master died, Hachiko did not understand. Nightly he met the commuter trains for 11 years looking for his master.

After he died in 1934, a statue was raised by commuters to his memory. They grew accustomed to meet "in front of Hachiko."

During the war the statue was melted down for the army. People made much ado over Hachiko going to war and a farewell ceremony was held.

Now they are bringing him back.

Worst School Shortage In U. S. History Will Face American Children Next Fall

Empty desks in this Ohio school belong to the pupils on the bench in background. Only heat for the school comes from the old-fashioned, pot-bellied stove at left; in winter, front desks are vacated to keep youngsters from being scorched by the stove.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Millions of U. S. kids are eagerly beginning summer vacation. School officials are dreading it. They know that next fall they will face the worst shortage of school buildings and facilities that America has ever experienced.

They know that this summer isn't going to be long enough for them to do much about the situation. It will just mean three hectic months of trying to line up more churches, private homes, public buildings and warehouses—anything which will substitute for a classroom. It will mean planning to put thousands of more schools on double shifts.

That's the outlook described by Ray L. Hamon, school building expert of the U. S. Office of Education.

Several factors have combined during the last few years to create this bad situation. Normal school construction was stopped during the war. Shortages of materials and the high cost of construction during the war have kept the building of new schools and their repair to about half the normal level since the war. And even before the war, surveys revealed that in many sections of the country school facilities weren't adequate.

Increasing Number

Added to that is the increasing number of children entering schools as a result of the war baby boom. Before and during the war the average number of children reaching school age each year was a little more than two million. Next fall it is estimated that very close to three million will show up at school after Labor Day to start their formal education.

According to the latest study of the USOE, the nation needs about $6.6 billion worth of new schools and repairs on old schools. That does not include the need for colleges and universities.

Where the money will come from

An old residence is a make-shift school building for these Alabama children. Stairways are narrow and inadequate; crumbling plaster (upper right) is an ever-present danger.

to pay for this giant building program is the big problem. Most local communities are straining their tax sources to pay for running expenses. There have been 18 states which have recently appropriated limited funds to pay for a fraction of the most essential construction and repair which was necessary. But most state legislatures have avoided facing the problem.

Most experts believe the federal government will have to foot the bill if the job is ever going to be done adequately. During the 79th Congress a bill to finance this was introduced but was never passed. During this Congress educators have concentrated all their time on the federal aid to education bill which will help teachers' pay but won't provide for new construction. They felt that the teacher problem was the most important and they didn't want to ask an economy-minded Congress for both measures.

The greatest lack of school facilities exists in the South. This was true even before the war. But the communities which are most concerned with the problem are the ones which grew suddenly as a result of the war. Double shifts classrooms in churches and other public buildings and general crowding have existed in these cities almost since the start of the war. And the few temporary schools which the government built are now falling apart.

General Postponement

Of Income Returns

Terminates June 15

WASHINGTON (AP)—George J. Schoeneman, commissioner of internal revenue, reminds taxpayers of the termination, effective June 15, of the wartime provisions which allowed general postponement of income tax returns of persons who were out of the country.

The general postponement provisions were of particular benefit to members of the armed forces, but most of these men and women have long since returned home and have filed whatever returns were necessary. Public Law 384, enacted August 8, 1947, accordingly terminated the wartime postponements as of December 31, 1947, but authorized the commissioner to make other provisions to avoid hardship. Under this authority, Commissioner Schoeneman set the termination date at June 15, 1948, for persons still abroad at the beginning of the year, and fixed slightly earlier dates for persons who came back earlier. Further extensions will be allowed only when necessary to avoid hardship in individual cases. An individual needing additional time should write the office of the collector of internal revenue for the district where he maintains his legal residence or where he normally files his returns.

Civilians Affected
The June 15 deadline is primarily for the filing of returns for those years from 1941 to 1947, inclusive, during which the individual's income was sufficient to require a return. In the case of the armed services, the income of officers was usually sufficient to require a return, but enlisted men's active service pay was completely exempt. A twelve-quarterly installment plan for paying the tax is available to service-

Civilians who have been working abroad also are affected by the deadline.

Commissioner Schoeneman also reminded families of deceased servicemen that December 31, 1948, will be the deadline for filing claims for the refund of 1941-1944 taxes paid by men who died while in active service in the armed forces between December 7, 1941, and December 31, 1947, inclusive. Claims for later years may be made within three years after the return was filed or two years after the tax was paid, whichever is later. Claims should be filed on Form 943 with the Collector of Internal Revenue to whom the tax was paid. The collectors' offices will be glad to help next-of-kin relatives prepare these claims.

Coconut Growing Island Has 1,000 People Too Many

SINGAPORE (AP)—One of the smallest units in Britain's empire, the Cocos Islands, today has 1,000 more people than it needs. This was the estimate of Sir Franklin Gimson, governor of Singapore, after a recent visit to the coral islands 1,100 miles southeast of Singapore.

Also known as the Keelings, the islands have been leased for the past 120 years to the Clunies-Ross family, a member of which originally discovered and settled them. The crop from about one million coconut trees is the only commercial product of the little islands, although an important cable and wireless relay station is located there, and the Royal Air Force built a landing strip which was abandoned after the war.

The governor said the islanders total about 1,800, mostly of Malay stock, but the coconut industry as now operated requires only about 800. There are no educational facilities, the food supply is "extraordinarily limited," and the community has "no hopes of advancement or improvement in the standard of living" or of obtaining a wider educational and political outlook, the governor said.

Simple People
"The people are simple, very happy, and extraordinarily reluctant to leave Cocos," he continued, "but however contented they are, they cannot be deprived of the chance to fit themselves into the present-day world."

Emigration, the governor observed, offers several problems other than financial. The islanders have no desire to leave the home where they have been happy under the paternal wing of the proprietary family; wherever they go they must settle close to the sea or "they will die of melancholia," and they are untrained in any except the simplest handicrafts, making employment limited. In addition, he said, the islands are so "very healthy" that the emigrants would be unusually susceptible to diseases of the outside world.

"Work" for the islanders consists of picking up coconuts (they don't even climb the trees to shake them down) and delivering them to the copra center. The people keep one-fourth of the coconuts for their own use and are credited at the island commissary with the equivalent of about 25 U. S. cents a day as wages.

Caste Held Down
The Clunies-Ross family has subsidized food prices, so that coconuts are held down, and many islanders have good credit balances at the commissary. They hope to buy consumer goods in Singapore when present high prices drop.

The governor said an agricultural expert who accompanied him found the soil very poor, suitable only for coconuts, so crop diversification will not solve the problem.

One answer, he said, may be development of coconut by-products, as the usable husks and fibres now are discarded. He hopes to interest trustees of the Clunies-Ross estate in this possibility.

Nobody Loves Forever

By Margaretta Brucker

THE STORY: Doris tells Jessica that very strange David Gregory is right-hand man to Hugh Linton, the boss Lucy likes. Jessica decides to tell her ring, is astonished to learn from the jeweler that the man who was so interested in buying it is the same Hugh Linton.

JESSICA debated ways and means of using the money from the sale of her ring to further her plan to take a business training. But Lucy discouraged the idea. "It will place an added burden upon mother," she hinted, "and she has quite enough to do already."

This was the Lucy Jessica disliked. The martyred Lucy who refused to have fun like other girls and constantly flaunted her rigid adherence to home obligations. Duty—Lucy was a slave to duty, her home and her work. The latter claimed more and more of her time and energy, until one evening in late September, when she dragged about the house completely exhausted, Jessica asked her, "Why are you such a complete idiot, Lucy? A man like Hugh Linton doesn't appreciate all this self-sacrifice in the line of duty."

"What do you know about Hugh Linton?" Jessica wasn't too sure just how to explain. She said lamely, "Doris works at the same plant. She's told me about him."

"Mr. Linton doesn't know that Doris exists."

"Probably not, but that doesn't alter the fact that she has seen him and hears—"

"What does she hear?" demanded Lucy, her eyes flashing.

"How should I know, but I judge he might be the type—"

"What do you mean?" Lucy's thin cheeks were flaming red with anger. She tossed aside the evening paper she had been reading and left the room.

WHAT did I mean? puzzled Jessica. Exactly nothing. In fact she had fibbed when she mentioned Doris, for Doris had never spoken to her about Hugh Linton.

Now her curiosity was aroused, and the next time she saw Doris Jessica asked her, "Tell me something about Hugh Linton. What is he like?"

"Why do you want to know?" Doris stooped to stuff leaves deeper into the bushel basket she was filling. The scent of burning leaves was in the air.

"Because I'm curious," Jessica moved a swirl of leaves closer to Doris' basket with her shoe. "Because Lucy goes into hysterics whenever his name is mentioned. He must be a saint."

"Quite the contrary," said Doris dryly. She paused to dump the leaves from her basket on the heap outside the curb. When she returned she and Jessica sat on the steps and watched the pile of leaves go up in flames.

Jessica said, "He has my ring—at least I'm quite certain Mr. Linton bought my mother's ring."

"Your mother's ring?" Jessica shrugged. "Probably a present for some sweetie," she said briefly.

"Let's go in, it's getting cold," Jessica refused and went back across the street remembering that Lucy was alone working on a piece of needlepoint.

But Lucy left the house as she came in, explaining that she was worried about her mother. The bonfire might easily start a fire and her mother worried about fires.

"That's ridiculous," Jessica said. Lucy stood shrugging into her coat. "No," she said, "not if you understand Mother. She always went to fires as far back as I can remember."

Jessica said, "I can understand your mother's anxiety when your father was a fireman, but why should she worry now?"

"You can't change Mother,"

LUCY stated flatly as she left Jessica and hurried off down the smoke-fogged street.

IT rained that night and the fallen leaves lay damp and sodden on the walks the next morning. Betsy escaped from the house and played outside for a half hour before Jessica discovered her absence. She caught a dreadful cold. Several terrifying days and nights followed for Jessica until the baby's fever broke and she was out of danger.

Then Betsy was up again and able to be bundled up in her new coat, and in spite of Mrs. Blake's dark forebodings that fresh air would bring a return of her illness, Jessica took her out one bright, unusually warm October afternoon and went to the park half way across the city.

The afternoon sun was as hot as August and Betsy ran up and down on the grass and squealed and laughed and looked more like herself than at any time since her illness.

Jessica whipped off her hat and felt the sun warm and welcome on her own face after the long weary days in a sickroom. There was a tang in the air, the stir of drifting leaves overhead. She watched the cars circle past in a constant stream. Then suddenly she straightened up and called sharply to Betsy who ran about a little distance away, "Come, Betsy, we must go."

She was too late. The driver of the big red car moving along the drive slowed and halted; the car swung open and David Gregory leaped down and strode toward her.

"Jessica!" He seized her hands and held them tightly in his own firm hands. Betsy raced toward them, stopped, smiled, and said, "Mama."

David dropped Jessica's hands and lifted the baby and sat down beside Jessica with Betsy on his knees.

Jessica's heart raced. She had almost forgotten him—No, that was not true, she had kept the thought of David hidden, only to revive it now as her thoughts whirled and she felt tongue-tied and self-conscious.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

America's Card Authority Gerald S. Nagler, young, promising publicity man of New York, says there is a great deal of confusion in the minds of beginners at bridge concerning the one no trump response.

If your partner makes an opening bid, and you have nothing, the correct thing to do is pass. However, if you have as much as a trick, you probably should make a response of some kind, and the weakest of all responses is one no trump.

To raise your partner to two of his suit shows a "little" stronger hand than one no trump. For this proper response is one no trump. South has a very good hand with a six-card suit, but knowing that his partner does not have a good hand, he bids two spades.

This gives North another opportunity to bid, in case he has the type of hand on which he has to bid one no trump regardless of greater strength; but in this case North correctly passes.

West opens the Jack of diamonds, but South cannot be prevented from making two spades. He must either make a heart trick or get a discard of a heart on the king of clubs. Thus, he loses two hearts, two diamonds and a club.

You should have nearly normal trump support and at least a side king.

You should not show a new suit at the two level unless you have a trick and a half. With approximately one trick you may bid one of a suit; for example, one diamond or one heart over a one club bid by your partner.

However, remember that even if you are void of your partner's suit, if you have no strength in your hand, you always should give consideration to a pass rather than making an artificial response of any kind.

In today's hand South makes a normal bid of one spade. North has a five-card club suit but does not have a trick and a half. He has a count of seven, divided between two suits. Therefore, the

Boyle Demands Answer To Who Bumped Off Cock Robin

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK —(P)—What kind of a figure did the face on the barroom floor have?

Who really put pussy in the well? Who mowed down Cock Robin and why? Where's Elmer?

These are the questions that still left unsolved by the reported discovery of Jesse James alive and well in Oklahoma at the age of 100—and drawing more interest than he ever got from a bank.

It is a dull year indeed when somebody doesn't revive the famous Missouri outlaw, and it is only recently that doubles for John Wilkes Booth, the man who shot Lincoln, quit reappearing. Booth would be 110 years old now and entitled to a lot of back payments on his old age pension.

The time is ripe for Congress to set up a permanent commission to investigate all the popular puzzles that rise again and again to worry a peaceful people.

Let's get rid of these uncertainties. Where is Elmer indeed? Did the face on the barroom floor have piano legs? Why do we have to go on wondering what became of Sally?

Who really did pay the rent for Mrs. Rip Van Winkle while her husband was grabbing his long shut-eye? Let's don't just jest about why the chicken crossed the road. Let's find out.

There are enough of these unsolved, vexing problems to keep a congressional investigating committee busy forever. An ideal counsel for the committee would be Jim Moran, the first man in history to sit on an ostrich egg and hatch it single-handed by the warmth of his own personality. Moran boasts he also is the first man to sell an icebox to an Eskimo and find a needle in a haystack.

Let's put him in charge of the committee's "lost and found" department and send him off in Rudyard Kipling's phantom rickshaw to get the real lowdown on what happened to Charley Ross, the kidnapped Philadelphia boy. He could also take sidetraps, expenses paid, looking for Ambrose Bierce, Justice Joseph Force Crater, Adolph Hitler, and the cigar store Indian.

Solving Irish Vote
That still leaves plenty of problems for the committee members themselves.

Why has the fiend who put the overalls in Mrs. Murphy's chowder never been brought to justice? His capture might swing the Irish vote in an election year.

Can't Congress find out after all these years who broke the lock on the hen house door? What about the lost Atlantis, the lost chord and the lost weekend? Can the FBI say for certain they weren't stolen? Can't it do anything about getting them back?

That goes for the missing link, too. Who misses it anyway? Do you? Maybe it's a dead issue now. Let's get the facts and tell the people.

Isn't it important in these dangerous times also to check into the identity of the little man that wasn't there? Where really was he then?

Round-Up By Airplane Brings Cattle Home
CORNELL, ILL.—(P)—A round-up by the sky brought errant cattle home. Fred Greenman, farmer near here, discovered the cattle missing and suspected rustlers. He searched, sent a general alarm over Cornell rural phones, and notified the sheriff at Pontiac.

Meantime, Greenman's son rented an airplane in Streator and flew over the Cornell area. He spotted the cattle about three miles from the Greenman farm.

There's Something About A Picnic

Patio franks and carbonated beverages for Decoration Day picnics.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

In the woods, on the lawn, even on the porch, there's something about a picnic supper that brightens the spirit. For the Decoration Day picnic, at home or afield, try patio franks and corn cobs—different, fine food, economical.

Patio Franks

(Serves Six)
Six frankfurters, 1/4 pound Swiss cheese, cut in thin wedges; 6 narrow strips of bacon, toothpicks, 6 frankfurter rolls, lightly toasted.

Simmer frankfurters in boiling water to cover for 5 minutes, then drain. Split each frankfurter, lengthwise, almost all the way through; fill with Swiss cheese wedges that have again been cut in half. Wind bacon around stuffed frankfurter, securing at each end with toothpicks. Broil over coals or in oven. To oven broil—turn broiler heat to medium. Place frankfurters on broiler rack about 4 inches from heat. Cook, turning occasionally, until bacon is done and frankfurters are sizzling hot. Serve on toasted split frankfurter rolls. Serve with iced carbonated drinks.

Corn Cobs

(Serves 6)
Three tablespoons minced onion, 1/2 green pepper, chopped, 3 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 2 tablespoons minced pimiento, dried, 2 cans (12-ounce size) whole kernel corn or 3 cups cooked corn, 3 tablespoons light cream or top milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Cook onion and green pepper in butter or margarine in saucepan over low heat, until tender. Combine with remaining ingredients. Place in individual greased casseroles and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes or until piping hot. (May be baked in large casserole, if desired.)

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON—

Texan Is Among Strongest Supporters Of National Guard And Reserve Units

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A Temple boy who lost both arms above the elbow in combat has been here demonstrating the latest development in artificial limbs for amputees.

Iowa Housewife Also Exhibits Prize Hogs

MARSHALLTOWN, IOWA—(AP)—Mrs. Elmer Hatten is one Iowa housewife who thinks of blue ribbons and not pork chops when hogs are mentioned. The Marshalltown, Iowa, woman, in partnership with her husband, is one of the nation's leading Hereford hog producers. After Hatten entered military service in 1942 she took charge of the hogs and began showing them. Prior to this she had assisted in their care but never had shown.

Upon returning from service, Hatten, an electrical engineer, backed out and let her have complete control. At the recent Mid-west Hereford Hog sale at Hutchinson, Kan., a top of $855 was paid for a gilt sired by Prize Goods, the 1946 national grand champion owned by the Hattens. The top animal now owned by the Hattens is Prize Goods, Jr., who was sired by Prize Goods. The younger boar, now 17 months old, weighing 840 pounds, has been grand champion at every show where it has been exhibited. No Club Woman

A first look at Mrs. Hatten, a slight, vivacious, attractive woman, would lead the observer to believe she was a club woman—and not one of the leading hog show women in the United States. She says she loves her work. Clubs and hog raising don't mix so the Hattens dropped the former when the latter became more of a business and less of a hobby. Mrs. Hatten says that she has never yet entered a large show where another woman is showing.

She is a former 4-H club girl. The Hattens have 64 purebred Hereford hogs on their farm. Many tedious hours are spent preparing them for shows. Her motto, as she calls them, know her and she spends several hours every day training, feeding and grooming them.

While recovering from a recent injury, she says, "I spent more time in the hospital worrying about my pets back on the farm than I did about my own condition."

Boy Takes Steps To Avoid Dental Work

COALVILLE, ENGLAND—(AP)—A 14-year-old boy was fined 15 shillings ($3) for stealing part of the school dentist's equipment. He threw it into a pond. "I thought the dentist would not have any more tools," the boy explained to the juvenile court. "Be a little man," advised the court. "Have your tooth filled."

He is Lonnie Carberry, formerly a patient at McCloskey Hospital in Temple. He and other amputees appeared before the House Veterans Committee.

The U. S. Public Health Service, in a letter to Rep. Lindsey Beckworth of Gladewater, says it has no fly-control program but that in fighting malaria-carrying mosquitoes it has made "incidental" progress in combating flies.

In recent years where the use of modern insecticides has been aimed chiefly against malaria-carrying mosquitoes, the Health Service said, "a by-product has been a material decrease in the number of deaths, especially in infants, due to diarrhea and dysentery."

It said flies were largely responsible for the spread of these diseases and that if sufficient funds were made available between 3,000 and 5,000 infant deaths could be prevented next year.

Excerpts from recent Agriculture Department bulletins:

The number of persons at work on farms increased 12 per cent from April 1 to May 1, about the usual increase for the season. A total of 10,368,000 hired and family workers were engaged.

For the first five months of 1948, cash receipts to farmers from the sale of farm products are likely to total about $10,300,000,000—$6,000,000 from livestock and the rest from crops. This is slightly more than for the same period in 1947.

The 1947 cotton crop for the U. S. was 11,851,000 bales of 500 pounds each. This was 3,200,000 bales more than the small 1946 crop, but 539,000 bales less than the 1936-45 average. The combined value of 1947 cotton and cottonseed was computed at $2,291,202,000.

It is estimated the recent income tax reduction will add about $5,000,000,000 to the incomes of consumers, thus tending to make the demand for farm products strong. The Foreign Aid program also is expected to maintain food prices at their present high level.

Young Polish Political Groups Plan To Unite

WARSAW—(AP)—All of Poland's youth organizations are planning to merge into a single unit. The move is led by the Communist Fighting Youth Association and the leftwing Socialists. It will also include peasant and so-called "intelligence" youth groups. A national council has been scheduled to complete the unification. The impending consolidation of the Communist Workers and Socialist political parties into a single workers party is expected by early Fall. The leftist Peasant Party and the Polish Peasants formerly headed by self-exiled opposition leader Stanislaw Mikolajczyk also plan unification.

They've Carried Him Many a Mile

Gene Sarazen cools his weary feet while admiring a scorecard showing 67, four under par, for St. Louis' Norwood Hills Country Club course. Sarazen has won every major professional tournament, the PGA three times and has been a front-rank competitive golfer for 26 years.

Prospects Of Playing Tennis Drop 5,000 Feet

COPENHAGEN—(AP)—Although a Danish airline radio operator, Erik Mathiesen, has 12 brand new tennis balls—a thing practically not seen in Denmark since before the war—he will not be able to play tennis for the time being. He bought them in Johannesburg. They were 12 hard-pumped, unused balls when he bought them. When he arrived in Copenhagen two days later they were as flabby as old apples. Johannesburg is some 5,000 feet above sea level, while Copenhagen is only a few feet above the sea. The pressure in the tennis balls was fitted to the atmospheric conditions in Johannesburg.

Fish are not mute. They grunt, toot, chirp, click, rattle, hum, and drum.

AUTOMOTIVE HINT
Headlight reflectors should be cleaned with dry jewelry's rouge; and, if tarnished, with a little alcohol. The rouge should be applied very lightly with a chamois.
