BANK ANNOUNCES COMPLETION OF 8-STORY OFFICE BUILDING, OPEN HOUSE THURSDAY

Public Invited To Inspect New Bank Offices

Fiftieth Birthday Of Institution Is Coupled With Fete

Offices and ground floor space of First National Bank today are extending invitation to the public to attend an open house Thursday, from 2 to 10 o'clock p. m., at which time the newly completed bank and office building will be exhibited.

Completion of the building has just been announced with the accompanying encouraging news that all space in the eight story structure has been leased. Officers and ground floor spaces are being occupied rapidly, but many will be available for inspection on the various floors Thursday when the public attends the open house.

Erected at a cost of approximately $300,000, including the complete exterior and interior of the bank proper, contract for the edifice was let last April 30 and construction was started on May 16. Rapid progress has been made on the edifice, considering the high type of construction and the nature of materials used.

Handsome Edifice. One of the show places of the southwest, the building is finished in white stonework and glass, with black granite trim, facing Wall Street, just east of Hotel Scharbauer. Air-conditioned throughout, modern features and novel architecture are employed. Wyatt C. Hedrick, Fort Worth architect, designed the building and supervised its construction, the R. F. Ball Construction Co., of Fort Worth being the builders.

Signing of lease contract for the entire third floor by the Texas Company, for location of its land and geological offices, for several years, and its production department to move over from Wink at an early date, was announced by M. C. Ulmer, executive cashier of the bank, and Barron Kidd, building manager Saturday, completely filling the structure.

In holding open house for the public Thursday, the bank also is observing its fiftieth anniversary, the event having been postponed for a few weeks to make possible completion of the building. Founded 1888 as a private bank, by John Scharbauer and Connell Bros., the institution was incorporated with national charter in 1890. Scharbauer still is vice-president of the institution and will be present for the celebration Thursday.

Stockholders of the bank, their wives and a group of out-of-town bankers here for the occasion, will hold an informal banquet at seven o'clock Thursday evening, in the Crystal ball room of Hotel Scharbauer.

Thursday a bank holiday, the anniversary of Robert E. Lee's birth, officers and employees of the institution will give full time Thursday afternoon and evening to greeting the public, showing the various departments of the bank itself and of the office building. During the time of the stockholders' banquet, civic leaders will assist crowds visiting the building.

The building manager, Mr. Kidd, said that many offices not hitherto operated will be opened in the new building, with the moving in of the Texas Co. production department and a drilling contractor from elsewhere, detailed announcements to appear elsewhere. Demand for office space had existed for several months, due to the fact that two other major office buildings here had been filled, and numerous applications were on file immediately after construction of the bank's edifice was announced.

Former Missionary To Brazil Will Preach Here Today

For 29 years a missionary to Brazil, Dr. H. H. Muirhead, now field secretary of the foreign mission board of the Southern Baptist church, will fill the pulpit at the First Baptist church this morning at 11 o'clock.

Dr. Muirhead is here for a brief visit with his daughter, Miss Sudie Pearl Muirhead, member of the high school faculty, and is preaching at the invitation of Rev. H. D. Bruce, Baptist pastor.

Physician Announces Office Removal

Dr. I. Sellers Moore has announced removal of his office from the Western Clinic hospital to the First National Bank building. Assisting him in the new offices will be Mrs. Nita Stoval, formerly with the Western Clinic hospital. Dr. Moore will engage in general medical practice and surgery.

New Addition to Skyline Is Completed

Completion of the First National Bank's new eight story office building and bank home, costing $300,000, has been announced, with invitation to the public to attend an open house Thursday, January 19, from 2 to 10 o'clock p. m. All departments of the building may be inspected by the public at that time. The bank stockholders and officers, that evening, will observe the fiftieth anniversary of the institution with a banquet at Hotel Scharbauer.

Democratic Revolt Spreads to Senate

Rebellious House Lops 150 Million Off Relief Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP).—Democratic insurgency against the administration's relief program spread to the senate today after the rebellious house had lopped $150,000,000 from the appropriation asked by President Roosevelt to finance the WPA for the next five months.

Leaders of the senate's economy bloc predicted that the $725,000,000 fund voted by the house would win senate approval, probably late next week, despite the president's request for $875,000,000.

The house passed the relief bill last night, 397 to 16, after an informal coalition of republicans and many democrats had reduced its amount and incorporated prohibitions against political activities in the WPA.

The first major legislative action in the new congress was interpreted widely as evidence that the election-strengthened republicans, working with a substantial bloc of democrats, might curtail other phases of the president's spending program. Leaders awaited signs of the country's reaction, however, before venturing definite predictions.

Mr. Roosevelt had advocated that the appropriation be made without strings and that congress take further time in which to work out legislation against politics in relief.

House Restrictions. Instead of the house wrote these provisions into the measure:

That none of the money should be used to pay WPA officials and administrative employees under the civil service—this to forestall a presidential order blanketing thousands of them into the civil service February 1.

That for the same or comparable work in different states the WPA could not vary relief wages more than 25 per cent.

That none of the money could be used to pay salaries or benefits to any official or beneficiary who tried to influence the vote of a WPA worker. This amounted to a statement of policy, since no elections are scheduled in the five-month period.

That no relief funds be paid to aliens.

That the WPA reverse a recent order and continue on work relief men and women over 65, all of whom the WPA had classified as unemployable and ordered turned over to local relief agencies. This order was to be effective January 31.

That the Farm Security administration be prevented from using any of the money to establish hostelry mills on federal homesteads.

Hearings Monday.

Chairman Adams (D-Colo.), announced a senate appropriations subcommittee would begin hearings on the bill Monday morning. He predicted that both his committee and the full appropriations committee would approve the house figure, at the most, and said some effort might be made to reduce it.

There are some indications that senators would go even farther than house members in writing restrictions on WPA policies.

Chairman Byrnes (D-Sc) and his unemployment committee have worked out a program for distributing WPA funds under rules laid down by congress instead of authority delegated, as for the last six years (See REVOLT, page 8).

Midland Fair Stockholders Name Officers, Set 1939 Rodeo Dates

Stockholders of Midland Fair, Inc., in annual meeting Saturday afternoon, elected officers and directors, set dates for the mammoth 1939 rodeo, appointed a grounds committee to have charge of maintenance of the property for the next twelve months and heard the financial report of Secretary J. Homer Epley.

Clarence Scharbauer was re-elected to his third term as president, and Roy Parks and Foy Proctor were named vice-presidents, after the stockholders had named a slate of seventeen directors. President Scharbauer appointed a grounds committee composed of Marion Flynn, J. E. Hill and John Dublin to have full authority in handling the $60,000 plant during the year.

Rodeo dates were set for September 2, 3 and 4, comprising the Saturday, Sunday and Monday week end and holiday culminating with Labor day, as has been the custom for the past two years. President Scharbauer said he would announce the rodeo committee within a few days, so that actual preparations may be under way for the big event.

Secretary Epley's financial report showed that a substantial profit was made by the last rodeo, although maintenance expenses of the plant is a major item. However, the corporation has a cash balance, with all bills paid, and is on a solid footing for the next show.

Directors elected included George W. Glass, Marion Flynn, J. E. Hill, H. G. Bedford, E. B. Dickenson, Fred Fuhrman, D. L. Hutt, J. R. Matrin, Tom Nance, Roy Parks, W. M. Pyle, Foy Proctor, Clarence Scharbauer, Fred Turner, Leonard Proctor, John Dublin and A. C. Francis.

Insurgent Forces Storm Defenses of Loyalist Troops. HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier)—Jan. 14. (AP).—Generalissimo Franco's insurgent forces today stormed hastily constructed government defenses within 12 miles of the important Catalan city of Tarragona.

Three insurgent columns were rapidly converging to the key Mediterranean port, focal point of the smashing offensive which in 23 days has razed government fortifications all along the Catalonia front to open a gateway to Barcelona.

Apparently the nearest column was a Navarrese corps which reported it had captured Valls, government air base twelve miles north of Tarragona.

The government, meanwhile, was employing all its military strategy to halt the insurgent steamroller.

With the diversion campaign in far western Cordoba province apparently stalemated by insurgent reinforcements, General Jose Miaja launched a new series of attacks along the Perales river east and south of Madrid.

Insurgents admitted the attacks, but said they were all repulsed.

GO TO INAUGURAL. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer and Mr. and Mrs. Ed M. Whitaker will leave today for Austin to attend the inauguration of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel.

Snow Covers Most Of Country After Year's Worst Storm

By Associated Press.

The worst storm of the new year spread over the nation today (Saturday) with snow and sub-freezing temperatures general from the Atlantic coast to the Rocky mountains.

Sleet, rain and snow caused many traffic fatalities. Four persons died when a Northwest airlines plane crashed in flames in a snow-covered coulee near Miles City, Mont.

A blizzard, sweeping through New England, buffeted New York and Rhode Island with particular fury, although all the North-Atlantic states suffered.

A ten-hour snowfall covered New York City's streets to a depth of eight inches and jammed traffic so badly in Manhattan that police asked radio stations to broadcast appeals to out-of-town residents not (See STORM, page 8).

Former Resident of Midland Succumbs To Wreck Injuries

BIG SPRING, Jan. 14. (Special).—Funeral services will be held at three o'clock this afternoon at the First Christian church here for Mrs. Alma Baker, about 42, who died in a local hospital early today of injuries suffered in a traffic accident Thursday night.

Mrs. Baker suffered head and back injuries that, not considered serious at first, proved fatal. Her husband was given emergency treatment for a nose fracture and face lacerations and W. M. Green and Miss Jimmy Lou Goldman were hurt, Green receiving a head injury and Miss Goldman body bruises.

It was understood that the car in which the four were riding got out of control as Baker, driving, swerved to avoid hitting a bridge abutment after passing another car, his car overturning. His vision was obscured by weather conditions.

Mrs. Baker had lived here since 1918, having moved here with her husband from Odessa. Previous to that time, she had lived in and around Midland.

Rev. G. C. Schurman, pastor of the First Christian church, will officiate. Eastern Star rites will be held at the graveside. Mrs. Baker had been active in the organization for several years, serving as worthy matron in 1932.

The deceased is survived by her husband, Steve Baker, one son, Steve Baker, Jr., four sisters, Mrs. E. N. Snodgrass and Mrs. F. B. Armstrong of Midland; Mrs. Dora Pike, Big Spring; Mrs. P. C. Love, Cap Rock, N. M.; three brothers, Ed Ratliff, El Dorado; Jim Ratliff and Fred Ratliff of Garden City.

Fears of a New European Crisis Trouble Nations

Chamberlain Starts Home After Futile Talks With Il Duce

By Associated Press.

Fears of a new European crisis troubled France today (Saturday) as British Prime Minister Chamberlain started home from his "appeasement talks" in Rome apparently without having reached any important agreement with Premier Mussolini.

France, at odds with Italy over fascist colonial demands, was anxious over the increasing danger of Italian influence on her southern border as the Spanish insurgents' drive forged steadily closer to Barcelona. Also alarming to Paris were unconfirmed reports of new Italian troop concentrations in East Africa.

British circles in Rome disclosed that Il Duce had agreed to help efforts to solve the perplexing problem of finding homes for Europe's unwelcome Jews. This was seen as the sole concrete achievement of the visit. Discussions of the French-Italian strife, Spain, Italy's interest in the Mediterranean, disarmament and economic questions evidently produced no substantial decisions.

In Spain, Generalissimo Francisco Franco's armies reported they had stormed hastily constructed government defenses within 12 miles of Tarragona, important Catalan seaport, and pressed relentlessly toward Tarragona and Barcelona. They reported the capture of Valls, government airbase north of Tarragona.

The government, trying to halt the insurgent steamroller, launched a counteroffensive in the Madrid sector to divert some of Franco's power from Catalonia and mustered men and material for a new defense line shielding Barcelona should Tarragona fall.

In Berlin, Nazi newspapers jubilantly welcomed Hungary in the German-Italian-Japanese anti-communist pact while the semi-official mouthpiece of the German foreign office took a thrust at the United States.

The Deutsche Diplomatische-Politische Korrespondenz said "the communist menace in the United States is one of the major perils threatening the world today."

It declared "harmful influences of the friends of Moscow in the United States, which assert themselves even in speeches by members of its government, show in what great danger the world is standing."

A week's fighting in China produced no material changes in the war picture. Japanese, after a general retreat, were reported today to have launched offensives, however, both in South and North China. Chinese guerrillas apparently have become active again, particularly in North China, where they destroyed tracks and interrupted service on Japanese-held railroads.

Present System of Administering Old Age Pensions Hit

A group of Midland residents, all of them over 65, have prepared and mailed to Governor-Elect W. Lee O'Daniel a petition protesting the present set-up under which old age pensions are administered and cuts in the benefits derived by some of the needy aged.

Declaring administration of the act in these strict costs $500,000, sponsors of the petition here request that administration of the act be placed in the hands of commissioners of each county.

The petition asked changes in the administration of the act whereby it would be in the hands of county commissioners was signed by a total of 15 persons more than 65 years of age.

A second petition, admitting sympathy for the worthy old people who are either partially or completely cut off from benefits of the act was signed by a total of 782 citizens of Midland or Midland county.

Petitions as addressed by the sponsors here follow:

To the Governor of the State of Texas, W. Lee O'Daniel:

You have held yourself out as the Champion of the rights of the people, and we, the undersigned persons above the age of 65, living in the County of Midland, Texas, have been either cut off from all benefits due us under the Old Age Assistance Law of the State of Texas, or have had former benefits materially reduced.

We are informed that the expenses of administering the office for supervising Old Age Assistance in this District, located at Big Spring, Texas, exceeds $50,000. This costly system is directly responsible for many worthy old people being completely or partially cut off from benefits justly due them.

We protest against the effect upon old people of this costly system of administering Old Age Assistance, and recommend that the administration be placed in the hands of some local organization already drawing compensation for its services to the public, such as the County Commissioner's Court, or other competent body.

The other petition read:

We, the undersigned, are in sympathy with the worthy old people of this county who are being cut off from their benefits by the present system of administering Old Age Assistance.

We, the undersigned, are in sympathy with the worthy old people of this county who are being cut off from their benefits by the present system of administering Old Age Assistance.

We, the undersigned, are in sympathy with the worthy old people of this county who are being cut off from their benefits by the present system of administering Old Age Assistance.

We, the undersigned, are in sympathy with the worthy old people of this county who are being cut off from their benefits by the present system of administering Old Age Assistance.

We, the undersigned, are in sympathy with the worthy old people of this county who are being cut off from their benefits by the present system of administering Old Age Assistance.

Skelly Lovington Discovery Well Flows 102 Barrels First 20 Hours

BY FRANK GARDNER.

The discovery oil well of the Lovington pool of Lea county, N. M., Skelly Oil Company No. 1-N State, held the spotlight at the week-end as it gushed flow of 102 barrels in 20 hours when opened following a three-day shut-in.

The well had built up 660 pounds pressure on casing up to the time it was opened at 10:30 Friday morning. It failed to flow when tubing was opened, so swab was run. The well kicked off on third run of swab. During the flow period, it was tested through various tubing chokes, ranging in size from 7/64 to 18/64-inches. At the end of the 20th hour, the well had 590 pounds casing pressure and 75 pounds on tubing. Gravity of oil ranged from 32 to 37 but averaged 36.1 degrees, corrected.

No. 1-N State is bottomed at 5,012 feet in hard lime, where it has been acidized with 2,000 and 5,000 gallons. It is located in the center of the northward extension of the section 36-16S-36E, two miles north of the discovery gasser drilled by Westmount Oil Company which first focused attention on the area.

Second well in the pool to reach the pay horizon, Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 State yesterday had stopped drilling at 4,980 feet in lime and was running tubing for test, preliminary to acidizing. An unconfirmed report stated that the well had shown oil-stained and porous lime cuttings from 4,912 to total depth. Only other show was logged from 4,850-55 feet. The Stanolind test is a direct north offset to the Westmount gasser.

One location (1,320 feet) to the west, Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-LA State halted drilling at 4,815 feet in lime and is preparing (See OIL NEWS, page 8).

Mystery Surrounds Crash of Airliner That Costs 4 Lives

MILES CITY, Mont., Jan. 14. (AP).—The blackened wreckage of a Northwest Airlines plane still held today the body of one of its four victims when investigators arrived to seek clues to the cause of the plane's flaming crash two miles west of Miles City last night.

Coroner Ralph H. Bray of Custer county said the body of Mrs. Morgan Morris of Mandan, N. D., was so horribly burned it was not removed when the bodies of the other victims, all men, were taken out last midnight. One body was hurled 100 feet from the wreckage.

Clinton M. Hester of Washington, D. C., administrator for the civil test, preliminary to acidizing. An unconfirmed report stated that the well had shown oil-stained and porous lime cuttings from 4,912 to total depth. Only other show was logged from 4,850-55 feet. The Stanolind test is a direct north offset to the Westmount gasser.

Such topics as "Are our American people improving or deteriorating in their heredity, their inborn intelligence, health and character?" and "How we can raise the human level, the inborn qualities of the American people" will be explained by Dr. Wiggam in his talk.

When he published his "The New Decalogue of Science" with its startling statements and smugness-shattering conclusions in 1923, Dr. Wiggam sprang overnight into fame and a great demand for him as a lecturer arose. This first volume was followed by "The Fruit of the Family Tree" which was so popular that the two books gave him the distinction being the first writer to have two non-fiction "best-sellers" running at the same time.

Since he has written numerous other books and in collaboration with Mrs. Wiggam he writes a daily, illustrated popular science newspaper feature, "Let's Explore Your Mind," which reaches a circulation of ten million every day throughout the United States and Canada. He also contributes constantly to popular magazines such as "Good Housekeeping," "The American Magazine," "Cosmopolitan," "Readers Digest," and others.

The county library announces that (See DR. WIGGAM, page 8).

Company Has Third Floor New Building

Further Centralizes Major Operations of Oil Business Here

Further solidifying Midland's position as headquarters city of the West Texas oil field was the announcement yesterday that the Wink personnel of the production, engineering, account and warehouse departments of the Texas Company will move here shortly.

The Texas Company's Wink departments will join the land and geological forces of the company, which have been located here for the past ten years. Texaco's office will occupy the entire third floor of the new First National Bank Building. Moving from Wink will be started late next week.

John A. Nichols, Jr., one of the first Texaco men to come to the Permian Basin, is in charge of the land and lease department, with six assistants employed under him. Leonard C. Thomas, with seven assistants, is head of the geological department. Superintendent of production is L. F. Shiplet, late of Wink. E. W. Chapman, chief clerk, is in charge of the accounting department, with four assistants, and Bert Warner, with one assistant, is head of the warehouse and purchasing department. A Mr. Grommon is chief engineer, and he has one assistant.

The Texas Company holds the distinction of being the first major oil company to explore the West Texas area, having drilled several tests near Toyah, in Reeves county, in 1911. Since that time, it has obtained production in virtually every important pool in West Texas and New Mexico.

Rites to Be Read Today for Former Midland Resident

Funeral services will be held this morning at 11 o'clock at Kirbyville, Texas, for Mrs. Jennie B. Wallace, 82, former Midland resident, who died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Chas. Martin, in Kirbyville Friday afternoon. Burial will be in Hollywood cemetery at Houston this afternoon at 4 o'clock, friends here have been informed.

Mrs. Wallace, mother of Mrs. John P. Butler, had made her home here with Mrs. Butler much of the time for several years until several months ago when her health failed. She had been seriously ill for some time, and Mrs. Butler had been with her since before Christmas. Mr. Butler left last Monday for Kirbyville to be at her bedside.

Mrs. Wallace is survived by her daughters, Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Martin, and other relatives including three sisters and a brother.

Dr. A. E. Wiggam Will Speak Here Friday Night

Such topics as "Are our American people improving or deteriorating in their heredity, their inborn intelligence, health and character?" and "How we can raise the human level, the inborn qualities of the American people" will be explained by Dr. Wiggam in his talk.

Treat in Store for Public as New Bank Office Building Opens

Invitation is being extended by officers of the First National Bank of Midland to attend the open house Thursday, at which time the new eight story office building will be exhibited, inside and out, and the remodeled bank interior will be shown the public.

A legal holiday, employees will give full time to entertaining the public and exhibiting the various departments which have placed the institution on a par with the bigger city banks for service, convenience and architectural attractiveness.

Opening of the new office structure should be a source of pride to every Midland citizen. Step by step, civic leaders have provided the facilities for establishing Midland as the permanent business metropolis of the Permian Basin oil area. But the erection of this office building, at the time it was built, has done more to stabilize Midland's future and to centralize the oil business here than any one thing.

Without the Llano hotel, the oil men probably would not have started operations here. Without the six-story John B. Thomas building, with its office space and hospital, the companies might not have started the trek toward Midland. Without the 250-room Hotel Scharbauer, traffic of oil men might not have been centralized here to the extent that Midland in 1928 had become the headquarters. Without the 12-story Petroleum Building, built by T. S. Hogan, facilities would not have been adequate for establishing the large number of companies and independent operators which have turned Midland from a cowtown to one of the busiest little cities of Texas.

Without the new eight story First National Bank Office Building, Midland stood a good chance to see many of the oil companies and men start a movement toward western or northern towns and cities.

With it, the expansion of the oil business center has been made possible. How effective the new building has been in this process already has been demonstrated. Several new companies have established offices here, departments have moved over from other towns and cities. Office staffs have been increased. New independent operators have moved in.

As a result, three office structures here are practically filled, vacancies in store buildings barely exist, hundreds of new homes have been constructed and are now being built, downtown store buildings are being brightened up to correspond with the new architectural spectacle located in the heart of the business section, property values have been stabilized, new capital is being attracted to Midland and the greatest year of the little city's history apparently is in the offing.

Officers and stockholders of the First National Bank, for their demonstration of optimism, confidence and progressiveness, deserve the heartiest ovation from the citizens and property owners of Midland. A big turnout at the opening Thursday will be a token of appreciation of the general public.

Hardware Entered But No Loss Found After a Check-up

Burglary of the Wilcox Hardware was attempted Friday night, the culprit entering through a back window, but leaving, apparently, without securing money or merchandise.

D. C. Wilcox, proprietor, discovered traces of the entry as he was cleaning up the store early Saturday. A glass cutter had been used to cut through the heavy wire-glass window, around the latch, a bolt having to be removed before the swinging pane could be opened, then leaving only a narrow aperture through which entry could be made. Due to the system of locks on front and rear doors, it was necessary for the person to make his exit the same way.

The cash register, left open, contained no money and the safe apparently had not been bothered. A check-up of knives, guns, brass fittings and other merchandise failed to reveal any losses.

Several nights previous, burglars had entered the office of Burton-Lingo Lumber Co., obtaining a small amount of cash and damaging the knob on one safe.

Experiment Station Superintendent Is Honored at Agricultural Workers Meet

FORT WORTH, Jan. 14.—At a banquet held Friday night in his honor at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth, R. E. Dickson of Spur was presented the 1939 Merit Award of the Texas Agricultural Workers' Association for distinguished service to Texas agriculture. As superintendent of the station of the Texas Experiment Station at Spur for twenty-four years, Mr. Dickson has served Texas agriculture with fidelity and distinction.

While his accomplishments in grain sorghum improvement and with livestock feeds and feeding have been significant, it is as a pioneer in the investigation of soil and water conservation problems that he is best known, and perhaps it is in this field of agricultural research that he has made his most notable contribution.

In his work on the Spur Station, Dickson plowed a virgin field in unearthing many of the principles and practices of soil and water conservation that today are part and parcel of the broad and comprehensive national program with which the nation is seeking to protect and to restore its most important natural resource—the soil.

It is in recognition of these distinguished services, which have contributed to the agricultural welfare of not only Texas but the entire nation, that the Texas Agricultural Workers' Association is awarding its Distinguished Service Plaque of 1939 to Mr. Dickson.

Mr. Dickson, a native of Hunt county and a graduate of A. and M. College, is the third distinguished Texan to receive the Association's Merit Award. In 1937, the late J. W. Stubbenauch of Mexia was honored for his distinguished services in the development of the fruit industry of the State. Last year the Award was made to W. W. Cole of Chillicothe, father of the cooperative cotton gin, in recognition of his long service in the field of agricultural organization.

Preceding the presentation of the

R. E. DICKSON

Merit Award plaque to Mr. Dickson by Eugene Butler, Chairman of the Merit Award Committee of the Association, A. D. Jackson, Chief, Division of Publications, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, discussed the "History of Agricultural Research in Texas." Victor Schoffelmeyer, Agricultural Editor of the Dallas News, spoke on "R. E. Dickson—His Contribution to Texas Agriculture." The Merit Award banquet program, which is featured each year at the annual meeting of the Association, was broadcast over KTAT.

Meeting in Fort Worth for its twelfth annual convention, the Association, which is composed of workers in all phases of agricultural endeavor, was presided over by President Louis P. Merrill, Regional Conservator, Soil Conservation Service, Fort Worth. Miss Maurine Hearn, District Agent of the Texas organization.

Junior Music Club Has Program

Eleven members were present for the meeting of the Junior Music club, at the Cornelius studio recently.

The secretary, Bobbie Jean Gibbins, read a letter from the state Junior council.

The following program was presented.

Poem—"When Music Speaks"—Belva Jo Knight.

Piano solo—"The Singing Girl of Antrim"—Betty Ruth Pickering.

Clipping reading—Virginia Ann Duncan.

Piano solo—"Cradle Song"—Mary Nell Casselman.

Piano solo—"Three Blind Mice"—Norma Jean Slick.

A Story of Mozart—Mrs. Cornelius.

After the last number, the members held a question discussion on Mozart and the stories preceding.

According to the latest statistics, there are 3,109,508 truck drivers in the United States.

Child Study Club Holds Business, Program Meeting

Further plans for the toy lending library soon to be opened here were discussed by the Child Study club meeting with Mrs. P. A. Nelson, 805 W. Louisiana, Friday morning at ten o'clock. It was decided to have the next meeting in the form of an all-day session to sterilize and prepare toys for the library.

Mrs. Jack Rankin presided at the meeting.

The program for the morning consisting of two papers, was on the general subject, "Children Have Two Parents."

Mrs. R. S. Anderson read a paper on "The Father and the Family" and Mrs. S. P. Hazlip discussed "Father and Son."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

January 15, 1939

PETER SEES CHRIST'S GLORY. Matt. 17:1-18; Mark 9:2-13; Lu. 9:28-36; Peter 1:16-18; Matt. 14:22-32; John 8:12-20; Rev. 1:9-18. Lesson Outline by W. W. Lackey, Teacher.

I. THE OCCASION, SEVEN FACTS (Carroll):

1. The disciples convinced, and publicly confessed Jesus as divine Messiah.
2. Jesus, on their confession, openly declared he must suffer and die.
3. The disciples repudiate thought, are rebuked, and attributed to the devil.
4. Law of discipleship, personal effort, final coming; "shall not see death."

II. VARIOUSLY INTERPRETED:

1. A Christian symbol of testimony, Jewish law and prophets, Moses and Elijah.
2. Seance, legend, or vision that came to Peter of Jesus' Messiahship.
3. Subjective vision by Jesus and disciples, result of earnest prayer.
4. Real significance; Peter's confession, Jesus' mission, sacrificial service.

III. ON THE MOUNT OF PRIVILEGE: (Robertson):

1. Improbability of invention; Peter's opportunity; asleep midst glory.
2. Peter's impulsive proposal; the voice out of the cloud.
3. Forbidden to tell the vision as yet; the coming of Elijah and of Christ.
4. The failure of the nine at the foot of the Mountain.

IV. VOICES FOR THE TRANSFIGURATION:

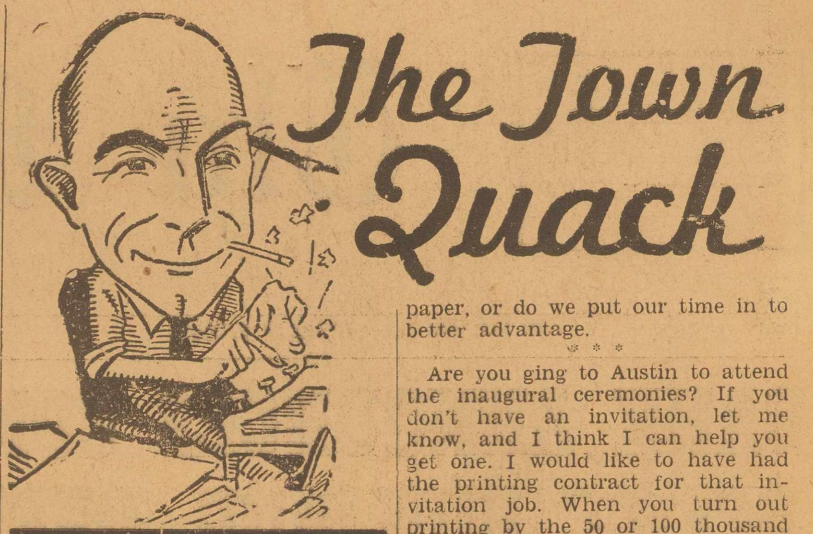

1. Divine empowerment for human service; three disciples, one more effort.
2. Laws of the spiritual: We build the ladder, Jesus prayed transfigured.
3. The will of God is our own strength; reality more than we see and touch.
4. Forget not the demands of the commonplace in the rapture of the spiritual.

V. VOICES IN CLOUDS:

1. The quiet call of the inner voice; no power without privacy.
2. Every great soul, and the hours of recuperation and in-filling.
3. Conserving high moments; a-fraid of divinity; voices in clouds; Jesus only.
4. Storing up spiritual reserves.

Sunday School Lesson Outlined

Editor's Note: The following outline of today's Sunday School lesson is presented through courtesy of J. Fred Cooke, teacher of the Business Men's class of the Methodist church.

Two horse traders with reputations for never giving any difference locked horns the other day. One was Forrest King of Stanton, Midland and No. 9, out northwest of town, and the other was Big Boy Whately, farmer, rancher, Fresnoer, swapper etc. Neither of them ever give up any cash in a horse trade, that I know of. When they got to trading with each other, it was a regular side show. Forrest had a Percheron colt and a couple of coming yearling pony colts to trade. Big Bob had a couple of mule colts and a coming three year old filly. Each one could use the other's stuff, but neither would admit it, not wanting to appear too anxious I won't give the details, but when they got through they had swapped the three head of stock each, and Forrest threw in four roosters.

A newspaper which wants to work for the good side of things, hoping to help accomplish a definite goal of progress, must not go too heavily on something which is sort of a temporary setback, so I won't say anything about a traffic officer having an auto accident.

However, that isn't any worse than what happened a while back, when somebody tried to swipe a deputy sheriff's car.

John Edwards, over from Monahans, asked us if we read our own and passing from communion to community.

VI. ON TRIAL:

1. The rule of life: A crucial test follows every transfiguration: SERVE.
2. People will still leave scribes to listen to prophets. Argument vs. faith.
3. Purpose of the Transfiguration for Jesus: Strength, sympathy, approval.
4. Purpose of the Transfiguration for the disciples: reconcile and reveal.

VII. SENTENCE SERMONS:

1. "If we are to see anything of

Are you going to Austin to attend the inaugural ceremonies? If you don't have an invitation, let me know, and I think I can help you get one. I would like to have had the printing contract for that invitation job. When you turn out printing by the 50 or 100 thousand lot, you stand a chance to make a profit.

One man who didn't sign the petition being circulated, to ask the new governor to get the bill passed paying everybody 65 or over a pension, said he didn't think people ought to be paid just because they had reached the age of 65.

So he will enjoy reading this joke, clipped from the Texas Outlook:

Methuselah is often overrated. He lived nearly one thousand years but evidently did not do or say anything worth recording. He was merely a biological link between Adam and Noah and gained fame by not dying at the usual age.

If there were any merit in living a long time the average snapping turtle should have a bigger place in history than Shakespeare.

Firemen Quench Blazes Then Double as Roofers

PALMER, Mass. (UP)—"Service plus" is the motto of local firemen. When they respond to calls for house fires in the future, they will carry axes, hammers and rolls of roofing paper with them.

In case of necessity, they will double as carpenters and roofers once they quell the flames.

the glory of Christ, we must go apart with Christ."—A. B. Davidson.

2. "But shapes that come not at an earthly call, will not depart when moral voices bid."—Wordsworth.

3. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of. Wherefore let thy voice rise like a fountain for me night and day."—Tennyson. Morte d' Arthur.

4. "They also serve who only stand and wait."—Milton. Sonnet on His Blindness.

3. His power of forgiveness manifested.

Coloratura Soprano Will Be Presented Here Monday

Miss Alice Mock, brilliant coloratura soprano, is an American, born in Oakland, California. After several years of study in this country and in Europe, she made her operatic debut, as Mimi in "La Boheme," in Montecatini, Italy. It is interesting to note that Miss Mock has programmed one of the arias from the opera in which she made her first operatic success.

Following her debut in Italy, Miss Mock appeared successfully in the leading musical centers of Europe, including Paris, Geneva, Brussels, Milan, Marseilles. She also gave two command performances at the Royal Opera in Madrid before the King and Queen of Spain.

Miss Mock then returned to her native country as the leading coloratura of the Chicago Civic Opera Company with Tito Schipa, Richard Bonelli, and others. Appearances with the Philadelphia Opera Company, Cosmopolitan, and Stadium Operas in New York later added to the fame of this artist, who is also noted for her charm and beauty.

Miss Mock and Miss Shibley Boyes, accompanist, will appear in concert at the high school auditorium Monday evening at eight o'clock. The senior class is sponsoring the "Musical Arts Series" and invite the public to this program, which is the second in the group. The prices of admission are fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for students.

Following is the concert program:

- I. a. Alleluiah, Mozart

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Life" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 15.

The Golden Text is: "In the way of righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof there is no death" (Proverbs 12:28).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night" (Psalms 90:1, 4).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The days of our pilgrimage will multiply instead of diminish, when God's kingdom comes on earth; for the true way leads to Life instead of to death, and earthly experience discloses the finity of error and the infinite capacities of Truth, in which God gives man dominion over all the earth" (page 202).

Sewing Club Meets at Home Of Mrs. Ramsey

Stitch and Chatter club met with Mrs. Claude Ramsey, 1400 N. Marjinfeld, Friday afternoon.

Members brought patterns and exchanged these with others. Eight members were present, Mrs. Ben Biggs being absent on account of illness.

Refreshments were served to: Mmes. W. P. Hedges, F. D. Reven, A. E. Dixon, Fred Klatt, E. L. Reagan, L. M. Hedges, Chas. Ward, and the hostess.

The club will meet next Friday with Mrs. F. D. Reven, 809 N. Weatherford, at the usual hour.

Mrs. Stevens Is Honoree at Party Luncheon Friday

Mrs. B. W. Stevens who has been complimented by friends at farewell affairs the past week, was honor guest for an attractively-appointed luncheon for which Mrs. L. B. Pemberton was hostess at her home, 1108 W. Illinois, Friday afternoon at one o'clock. Mrs. Stevens is leaving Midland to make her home in Wichita Falls.

The luncheon Friday dramatized a gold and red color theme. The large table, where covers were laid for eight, was spread with Venetian lace over red and centered with a gold bowl of red ranunculus. Gilded candles in golden holders and gold dishes emphasized the color motif.

Tiny scrolls tied with gold ribbon served as place cards. During the luncheon hour, these were opened and guests amused themselves by doing the things indicated in the scroll, for example, naming the honoree's most enviable trait or making a farewell wish for her. A three-course luncheon was served.

Treble Clef Club Hears Quartet of Musical Numbers

Answering of roll call with musical expressions and their definitions opened the program of the Treble Clef club, junior organization of the Watson school of music, in its regular Saturday morning meeting at the Watson studio, 210 W. Ohio. Fourteen children were present.

Birthday greetings were given by the group to Jean Devereux.

Miss Lydia G. Watson conducted a blackboard review.

Shirley Cooper played a piano number, "Dripping" by Williams.

The remaining three musical selections were all presented by boys. They included:

"The Sleigh Ride" (Don Santos)—mandolin and guitar duet by Claude Ramsey and Bob Ward.
"March"—Piano selection—John Harward.

"Old Black Joe"—violin number—Bobby Daise.

The meeting closed with repetition of the Lord's Prayer.

REPORTER-TELEGRAM GOLDEN GLOVES TOURNNEY SLATED JAN. 19-20

At Least 50 Boys Expected to Enter First Tournament Here

A City-County boxing tournament under the auspices of The Reporter-Telegram-Golden Gloves will be held in the High School Gymnasium here Thursday and Friday nights of this week.

Designation of Midland as a site for a city-county tournament came only after efforts of several months. In fact, Midland is one of the few cities granted the right to hold a city tournament.

The Golden Gloves tournaments are recognized as one of the outstanding sports events of the state each year and almost every city attempts to be designated as the site of one.

A field of at least 50 boys is expected to enter the tournament here.

Champions in eight divisions will be decided and winners will be taken to the district tournament in Big Spring, January 25. Several boys have already signified their intentions of entering the tournament and entries are expected to pour in between now and Thursday at noon—deadline for filing.

All persons desiring to enter the tournament are requested to fill out the blank appearing elsewhere on this page and mail it to the Golden Gloves Editor, Reporter-Telegram.

The tournament here will be carried out under rules regulating all Golden Gloves tournaments. All officials of the tournament—seconds, referees and judges—will be experienced through professional practice of the pugilistic game.

A physician will be on hand at all matches and all boys who enter the ring first will be examined by the physician. Any boy he deems unfit to enter the ring will be barred from participating.

Boys under 16 years of age will not be permitted to enter the tournament, but there is no maximum age limit. However, any person who has fought for money will be barred from participating.

Medals will be awarded winners of each division here and all expenses of the winners will be paid to the district tournament in Big Spring. All expenses for winners at the district tournament will be paid to the state tournament in Fort Worth.

Bob Royall, connected with the WPA recreational program here, formerly a professional fighter, will work out with the various entrants at the old North Ward school building this week. He has agreed to assist the boys each day after three o'clock, and a ring will be constructed for practice by Monday afternoon. Other men who have had professional experience will also devote time to getting the entries into shape.

Of the four Midland entries in the district tournament last year, one came through with a championship. E. P. Lawson, who will be entered from Lamesa this year, copped the lightweight award and went to the state tournament in Fort Worth.

Ray Simmons, promoter of the district tournament, has announced that a record number of entries has filed this year, and said entrants from Midland would be limited to champions of the tournament here.

Should the number of entries in the tournament here be so large that champions cannot be decided in two nights of fighting, finals will be fought off on the night of January 24.

The PAYOFF

By JESS RODGERS

For boys who like to fight just for the fun of it, the Golden Gloves tournament here next Thursday and Friday nights is the chance of a lifetime.

The tournament here means more than just a city-county tournament for this year. If it is a success, there is a good chance of Midland landing a district tournament next year.

The district tournament at Big Spring, where winners here will fight next week, is one of the largest districts in the state, reaching from Sweetwater to Hobbs, N. M. It is quite conceivable that the territory will be split up next year and Midland would make a logical site for another district headquarters.

Boxing fans here—and there are more than a few—will agree that the district tournament in Big Spring last winter was just about the class of any sporting program offered in West Texas.

Ray Simmons, district commissioner, says that easily 100 persons attended the fights in Big Spring each night from Midland last winter and that he expects more this time.

For the money paid out, the customers get more value than on any sports event. There is no such thing as a "fixed" fight in Golden Gloves competitions—all the boys fighting solely for the glory of winning.

Many fans probably think there is no talent here to put on a tournament. But they will be surprised. There are several boys who handle their mitts quite capably and it is altogether probable Midland will win some of the district titles. Last year, without any previous practice, several Midland boys entered the district tournament and several put on good fights before losing out. One Midland entry, E. P. Lawson, was the winner in the light heavyweight division, advancing to the state tournament at Fort Worth.

Several high school boys have indicated they would like to enter the tournament here, with a chance of going to Big Spring and then to Fort Worth if successful. Winners at Fort Worth are taken to the national tournament in Chicago.

There is no need to tell the Midland persons who saw the district tournament in Big Spring last year what they will be missing if they fail to show up at the matches here. For those who haven't seen Golden Gloves tournaments, you will have to take our word for it that they are always worth more by far than they cost.

Owing to circumstances that could not be prevented, the tournament could not be announced earlier although plans have been in the making for several days. Authority to conduct the tournament under the auspices of the Golden Gloves was not received until Friday, thereby holding up the announcement.

Entrants won't have much time in which to prepare for the tournament here but they will have an additional week in which to get ready for the district tournament. The district tournament will open January 25.

It is interesting to note that only two of last year's district champions will be back at Big Spring. That throws the field wide open in six divisions.

Bob Royall, who has had a lot of experience as a professional fighter, has agreed to work with all entrants in the tournament here, aiding them as much as possible in getting into shape. Efforts are being made to get another one or two men who have had professional experience to aid in conditioning the boys.

There are absolutely no strings attached to entering the tournament. Any boy over 16 years of age who has not had professional experience may enter. If he wins here, he will be taken to Big Spring to the district tournament.

If he wins there, he will be taken to the state tournament. All expenses for the entrants will be paid by tournament sponsors.

Interest in holding a tournament here has been increasing steadily since the district tournament at Big Spring last year and hopes had been held that a district tournament might be scheduled here. However, it was impossible to land the district tournament this year.

Boys of junior high and high school age have been inquiring anxiously for the past couple of weeks regarding chances of entering. It is interesting to note that boys out of school will not be restricted from entering. Age is no bar, just so the entry is over 16.

There should be several young fellows here out of high school who should be able to make a good showing.

Right now, it appears that a couple of dozen or more boys in the featherweight, lightweight and middleweight classes are ready to enter.

There is going to be a heavy demand for light, feather and middleweight classes for the tournament and any desiring to do so are urged to file their entry as soon as possible.

Note: Mexican boys will be eligible to enter but negroes will not be allowed. State laws prohibit fights between negroes and whites. However, an exhibition between a couple of negro youngsters may be arranged for one night.

Aggies Complete 10 Game Grid Schedule For Next Season

COLLEGE STATION, (A&M)—A ten-game football schedule for 1939 was announced by the Texas A. & M. athletic department Saturday and disclosed the fact that the Aggies and Villanova will meet in the annual Tyler Rose Festival football game in Tyler, Saturday, Oct. 14.

Two other schools are back on the Aggie schedule after a lapse of several years. Oklahoma A. & M. and Centenary College being the two returning this season.

While in Chicago for the annual coaches meeting in December, Coach Homer Norton, of the Aggies, and Coach M. J. (Clipper) Smith, of the Wildcats worked out the details for a game all except the location, which was settled this week when they signed to play the game in Tyler. The contract between the schools is for one year only.

Villanova has had one of the outstanding teams in the country for the past two seasons, ranking among the top teams. Smith was a star at Notre Dame, graduating in 1921. He employs the Rockne system of play. He succeeded Elmer Layden who is now at Notre Dame as head coach and since his appointment, the team has gone on to greater heights than it did under the former member of the "Four Horsemen."

In 1937 they defeated Kentucky in a bowl game at Havana, Cuba.

Scheduling of Centenary for a game at College Station, Sept. 30 necessitated the advancing of the Oklahoma A. & M. game at Oklahoma City, Okla., from the original date of Sept. 30 to one week earlier, Sept. 23, with the location of the game remaining the same. Centenary and the Aggies have not met since 1936.

The game with Santa Clara University scheduled to be played in Kezar Stadium, San Francisco, Cal., Saturday, Oct. 7, may be moved up and played under the lights Friday night, Oct. 6. The change has been suggested by Santa Clara but has not been acted upon by the Aggie athletic council.

Comes with the other six Southwest Conference teams will complete the Aggies 1939 schedule, which is as follows:

Sept. 23—Oklahoma A&M at Oklahoma City, Okla.

Sept. 30—Centenary at College Station, Texas.

Oct. 7—Santa Clara at San Francisco, Cal.

Oct. 14—Villanova at Tyler, Texas.

Oct. 21—Texas Christian at Fort Worth, Texas.

Oct. 28—Baylor at College Station, Texas.

Nov. 4—Arkansas at Fayetteville, Ark.

Nov. 11—Southern Methodist at College Station, Texas.

Nov. 18—Rice at Houston.

Nov. 30—Texas at College Station, Tex. (Thanksgiving).

All are daylight games with the possible exception of the Santa Clara game which may be played Friday, Oct. 6 as a night game.

Prominent Golfer Is Visitor Here

The Midland Country Club had a prominent golfer as a visitor this weekend, Clifford Mooers, of Houston.

In a recent Open Tournament at The Elver Oaks Club in Houston, Mooers paired with Dick Metz, shot a record breaking round in the pro-amateur team play, and according to the officials, a world's record 60 for best ball. Mooers' handicap pulled that down to an even 57 for the other teams to shoot at. The remarkable part of this feat is that while Metz was shooting a record breaking 64, Mooers helped on four holes and turned in a nice 73 of his own. That 60 best ball is a world's record for such competition.

Mooers commented very favorably on the work that has been done and is being done at the Country Club, and John Bredemus, the architect and builder of the new grass greens is an old acquaintance of Mooers, and his work is known by Mooers to be the best that can be secured.

Mooers is president of Shasta Oil Company and often visits in Midland, and he will likely stay longer when the course is completed as he is one of the best golf fans in the state.

Announcements

Midland county public health board will hold its annual meeting in the district courtroom at the courthouse Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Dr. H. H. Puckett of San Angelo will speak. The public is invited.

Second in a series of the artists' programs being sponsored this year by the senior class of Midland high school will be presented in the high school auditorium Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Alice Mock, coloratura soprano and Miss Shirley Boyes, accompanist, will present a musical program.

Circles of the Methodist WMS will have a social meeting at the parsonage Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Mary Schabauer circle will be in charge of the program and Laura Haygood circle will be in charge of the refreshments.

Presbyterian auxiliary will meet at the church Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock for Bible study.

Episcopal auxiliary will meet with Mrs. Chas. Reed, 1007 W. Michigan, Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Circles of the Baptist missionary society will meet with Mrs. W. D. Brunson on the Lamesa road Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the regular monthly missionary meeting. Kara Scarborough circle will be in charge of the program.

Compulsory Cutting Of Ragweed Favored

DALLAS, (P).—Members of the legislature from Dallas may carry to Austin an anti-ragweed bill in the form of a proposal to make compulsory cutting of ragweed within the limits of large cities in the hayfever belt.

Henry Tiley, president of the Dallas Hayfever Sufferers Association, said he would call into conference soon the organization to consider bringing pressure for such legislation.

When hayfever was at its worst last summer the association to combat ragweed was active, but after cool weather brought relief agitation for preventive action subsided.

Scientists warned sufferers at last summer's meetings that no regional campaign to eradicate the weed, believed the cause of 90 per cent of hayfever, would be effective. Pollen formation must be halted in large areas around a city to prevent it taking to the air in late August, they said.

Cincinnati, O. (U.P.)—Tommy Fibbs, a Western Union messenger, today is a firm believer in that Biblical axiom about bread being cast upon the waters.

Tommy contributed his last dime to a collection at Latonia race track toward the burial of a man he never knew. Later, he found a mutual ticket in the grandstand worth $5.20.

First Half Lead Gives Austin High Quintet Victory Over Bulldogs

For one half during last night's basketball game, the Midland Bulldogs were a good team. Unfortunately for local supporters, the Bulldogs were not good until the last half.

It was a stage-frightened team of Bulldogs that took the court for Midland at the start of the game and they did not recover until after a half-time talk by Coach Boy Myer. Whether it was the reputation of the Austin High team of El Paso—the opposition—or the crowd that overflowed all available benches on to the playing field is something that is unknown. Regardless, the local boys could seldom make a good pass during the first half and when they did mates could not handle the ball. The final score was 42-19.

The first period ended with the score 8-0 in favor of the El Paso boys and at the end of the half the visitors were leading by a 25-7 score.

In the second half, the Bulldogs settled down and played practically even with the Panthers but the damage was done.

In the second game of the evening, the Midland second team defeated the Andrews team by a score of 27-15. Davis was high point man for Midland with 9 points.

Raymond Gee, Bulldog forward, was the outstanding man on the court, not only because of offensive play, but because of his outstanding work on the defense. Time after time he took the ball off the backboard to save Austin scores and contributes three dazzling field goals despite being closely guarded.

The visitors were never in danger of having their lead overtaken all night and substitutes were used frequently in the Panther line-up. Macias, a stockily built Mexican youth, was high point man of the game with 11 points.

Brothers Surrender After Farmer, Wife Are Discovered Dead

ENID, Okla., Jan. 14 (P)—Two brothers of a farmer found slain with his wife in their home near here surrendered today to Sheriff Dudley Branom.

Branom said Roy Murphy, younger brother of slain Harry Murphy, 44, declared he fired in self-defense at Harry and that the latter's wife, Sarah, was accidentally killed.

Branom said that Bill Murphy, older brother of Harry, had surrendered and corroborated Roy's story.

No charges have been filed.

150 Bills Filed by Legislators During First Week of Work

AUSTIN, Jan. 14 (P)—About 150 bills, including two which would appropriate over $1,000,000 to supplement the $5,000,000 rural school aid the last legislature allocated, were being filed by legislative employees today.

The proposals, the first of more than 1,500 that will be submitted during the session, are expected to be drastically amended.

Others included suggested the unemployment compensation act be amended to cover employees of six instead of eight employees.

Rehearsals Begun on Junior Class Play, "Seven Chances;" Sixteen Characters in Cast

From the talented Junior class of '39-'39, sixteen prominent members have been selected as the cast for the Junior play, "Seven Chances."

The play will be under the direction of our former Miss Agatha Brumer who is Mrs. Bob Johnston. The assistant director will be Ann Blackburn, the stage manager, Merle Scott, and the property manager, Helen Connor.

"Jimmie Shannon," Bobbie York, is quite a girl hater, but oh, how he does change, especially when twelve million dollars is involved.

"Earl Goodard," J. M. White, is a promising young lawyer, who aids in throwing girls at Jimmie's head!

"Ralph," Truman Whiteaker, always has a little story he wants to tell—just anyone.

"Joe Spence," Thomas Wright, is in love, and believes that everyone should be, especially Jimmie!

"Billy Mokin," James Frank Johnson, is Jimmie's true friend, but oh, the woe and misery he goes through in helping Jimmie find a suitable wife!

"Henry Garrison," Bill Kimbrough is truly a hen-pecked husband! And I don't mean maybe! How about it.

"George," Billy McGrew is the silent butler. Can you imagine Billy being silent?

"Bob Jones," Johnny Pickering, is just one of the boys.

"Mrs. Garrison," Jacqueline Campbell, is the so-called modern wife, or is she, Miss Brumer, pardon, Mrs. Johnston?

"Anne Windson," Mary Jane Harper, is a charming little girl, and finally Jimmie realizes it, too!

"Trene Trevor," Joyce Saunders, is really a peach, and has just blown home from college.

"Georgina Garrison," Eddy Gene Cole, has gorgeous dark brown hair, and Jimmie says he likes the way it sorta curls 'round her shell-like ears!

"Lilly Trevor," Virginia Ford, a most romantic girl, believes in medieval knights and embattled fortresses, but Mokin thinks she's nuts.

"Peggy Wood," Lois Mae Lynch, tries so hard to impress Jimmie that she even changes her voice for him to a low husky voice that is so much like Ethel Barrymore. Wait 'till you hear it!

"Florence Jones," Frances Guffey, wants a cave man, so Jimmie

Midland High Day by Day By Ben

Greetings, fellow sufferers, you who to the slaughterhouse, horrible is the word, of examination will be sent with defenseless countenances, etc., etc., next week. Throughout our vast corridors, as in one shout, will go up the tragic syllables to those who have brought this scourge upon us, "We, who are about to die, salute you!"

But perhaps it is not so bad as all that. After all, we do not have the job (or is it privilege) of making out test questions for classes, or of grading several hundred papers. But that is the only consolation we have.

These little freshmen! Problem children no end!

Ode Haygood openly expressed his opinion of dancing—at least with taller girls. He said he would never dance with a tall girl again after he got that atrocious back-ache at the last frosh hop while dancing with a lanky co-ed, I suppose he just HAD to look up at them. (The above is probably bad news to Fredda Fae, Barbara Jean, and Jeanne.)

It was officially disclosed last week that certain boys of the lower register (sophomores) have their troubles, too. Jack (Andy Hardy) Sappington lamented the fact that Joan Proctor was much too interested in a current magazine to talk to him when he came over to see her. The village wit said she must have been reading a peroxide advertisement.

Just to be frank with you, these candid camera fiends are certainly giving the peace in this high school a definite run for its money. There are as many clicks in the halls and class rooms as in the typing room, if any, (so to speak). However, since the annual this year is going to feature the candid existence of the students of this Alma Mater, those cute little gadgets certainly come in handy.

Jack Sappington (how he is breaking into this column!) even prints his own pictures. He has some good ones in store, but few surpass the highly candid photos made by Barbara Jean. Her group of prints caused quite a commotion in classes and not a few reprimands from indignant teachers.

Our only hope (prayer) is that the fiends don't get us in too candid a position.

With Fred Gordon sporting the latest thing in head bandages, the question, or should I say, suspicion, arises as to the why and wherefore. He plainly asserts that he received the injury when the chair in which he was sitting—and leaning against the radiator, slipped and caused his head to strike the metal with remarkable force. Fred, however, sustained the mishap, he even seems pleased with himself.

Bobby Walker really talks a lot about his girl in Dallas. It is getting to the point that even living near him is a misfortune. We will wager that Fredda feels left out—or does she?

Have Jack and Jeanne really broken up? If so, let's see what Johnny and Bodjie will do. Any wagers?

This is the last until after exams—need you ask why...

gives up!

"Betty Willoughby," Nell Ruth Bedford, finally decides to listen to Ralph's (Truman Whiteaker) story! Be careful, little Nell!

Miss Kirby, Mrs. Jones Principal Speakers At Home-Ec. Meeting

Miss Norene Kirby, at the regular meeting of the Home Economics club, gave an inspiring talk on "How to create a pleasing Personality," in which she stressed the fact that personality must come from the inside, then radiate on the outside. Things that help to form a personality are: thoughtfulness of others, a pleasant smile, careful personal grooming, and a personal interest in others.

Also appearing on the program was Mrs. Ollie Jones, a beauty culturist, who, after a brief explanation of the part make-up plays and the chief purpose for it, gave a demonstration, using Ann Blackburn for a model. First, she applied a honey cleansing and lubricating cream that is especially advised for use at night. After removing this, Mrs. Jones administered a beauty pack—a thick white cream—that she recommended for weekly use. The pack was followed by an astringent, then a thin lotion powder base. The powder was then patted on with fluffy cotton, smoothed on, with the rouge sandwiched in between another layer of powder.

Eye shadow, Mrs. Jones explained, was for night use only; however, she advised an oily pencil for day-time use.

Mrs. Jones gave helpful hints on the correct shades to use for different types of girls, and said she would be glad to assist any girl desiring help with a personal grooming problem.

Spring Training Started for Grid Team

Spring training started a bit early this year for some twenty-five boys who began practice last Tuesday afternoon the Bulldogs started early this year trying to get ready for class AA next season. The boys had a good workout on the school yard Tuesday and practiced catching passes in the gym Wednesday because of the rain. The following boys are practicing football under Coach Taylor's direction hoping to make the team next season:

Louis Wingo, Henry Roy, Don Bishop, Herbert Rhedder, Odie Kelly, Charles Sapp, Bob Eldson, Paul Klatt, Noble Van Dyke, David Bizzell, Ivan Hall, Henry Scott, E. J. Ragsdale, Doyle Cobb, Buddy Davidson, Calvin Campbell, Gene Estes, Roby Smith, Bobby Smith, L. C. Hobbs, and Wilford Lester.

WEATHER REPORT.

It was much warmer down in the eastern part of the hall when Jack Nobles and Kitty Gene were hand in hand, but we expect a cold wave when Jeanne finds out about it.

"Fairer and warmer," were the thoughts of Gordon on his last date with Jacqueline.

Extremely colder in the "Rocky" section. This change came about when John Turner asked Jackie for a date.

North A street is kept hot by Jane Bounds.

Hugh Corrigan's trail is really getting hot, with some of these senior girls after him. He is "kinda" cute, isn't he girls?

Cloudy days are here again—cramping for exams.

Coloratura Soprano,
Miss Alice Mock,
Here in Art Series

In the second of a series of concerts, presented by the Senior class of Midland high school, Miss Alice Mock, coloratura soprano, and Miss Shibley Boyes, accompanist, will appear Monday night, January 16, at 8 o'clock. These artists have been secured in place of Maryse Conde, who was originally scheduled, but could not be here because of illness, and Miss Mae Gilbert Reese, pianist whom we enjoyed last year, who was detained because of illness of her daughter.

However, Midland is very fortunate to hear Miss Mock, who is widely known.

A member of the Chicago Civic Opera Company and a radio star of importance, Miss Mock is a featured soloist in many recent Hollywood screen productions. With Miss Mock is the same pianist, Shibley Boyes, who was in the ballroom scene from the picture success, "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse," which starred Edward G. Robinson. She will sing the same aria, "Oh, Fors' the lue" from the opera, "La Traviata" by Verdi, that she sang in that picture.

Miss Mock, having sung in both Europe and America, has received many compliments by foreign and American presses.

Le Matin of Paris says of her, "We cannot say enough of the voice, warm and vibrant. . . La Suisse,

Topics Received
By Extemporaneous
Speakers

Instructions are being given to Cedric Ferguson and Margaret Watford for extemporaneous speech contests.

Mrs. Bob Johnston, instructor, reports some of the topics to be spoken on. Some of these are static, that is, they pertain to one definite period of time, others are involving or pertaining to news from day to day.

A few of the topics are:

1. Present status of the war in Spain.
2. Germany's next reach for territory.
3. Economic strain in Japan.
4. The plight of European Jews.
5. "Isolationism" vs. "Collective Security."
6. Thomas E. Dewey: Racket bust-er.
7. Mexico's expropriation of oil properties.
8. The President's visit to Canada.
9. The Pan-American conference in Lima, Peru.
10. Sir Anthony Eden's visit to America.

Geneva newspaper said, "She triumphed as 'Gilda'. Her interpretation of 'Caro Nome' won her an ovation. . . ."

The United States press praised her highly.

Clara Dillard Gunn of Chicago in the Herald and Examiner, wrote, "Miss Mock is one of those rare artists who achieve technical perfection. Every tone was flawless as to pitch, was delivered with exactly the right amount of power, had exactly the quality intended. . . ."

Cheerful Cherubs

1. Because junior and senior boys are going with freshman girls, the junior and senior girls have decided to show them a thing or two and go with freshman boys.

2. What's this I hear about Billy Summy going with Margie Jordan? But he's sweet on Elma Jean.

3. Virginia Ford, do you have a date with Buddy Hewitt Friday night, and what does Eddy Gene think?

4. Those certain freshman girls who keep their eyes on senior boys in assembly are certainly being laughed about, and Patty Griswold if you aren't more careful you may fall over the banisters and hurt yourself.

5. The excuse, "Mother, we got stuck in the mud," is getting to be old, so you football boys please think up another one or take your girl friends home sooner.

6. Have you noticed Joan Proctor's liping?

7. It seems that Mary Jane and Bobbie York are going back together, due to the junior play. Well, congratulations, M. J. I didn't think you could do it.

8. Miss Kirby seems to think that James Frank Johnson is a lot like Paul H. Jones. Well, Miss Kirby, you aren't the only one.

9. Virginia Drempleman seems to have a secret love affair, we wonder if it could be Jack Nobles?

Address, New Songs
Fill Assembly Programs

A light, humorous address was made in assembly, Monday morning, by Rev. J. E. Pickering. Rev. Pickering commented on the fact that he felt sorry for the stronger sex: "The poor boys: they spend their money, burn up their pop's gasoline and where does it get them? The girls turn them down and there they are—broke and out of gasoline!"

Also included in the student activity in assembly is the learning of a new hymn "Rock of Ages," arranged by E. O. Excell.

Band Program, Jan. 24, Filled With Many Familiar Overtures

The Midland high school band, for its approaching program in the high school auditorium, Monday night, Jan. 23, has chosen not only difficult, but also interesting numbers from its repertoire. Most of the selections are overtures familiar to the majority of people.

Included in the tentative arrangement is "In a Persian Market," an intermezzo scene by Albert Ketelbey, a favorite of many. There is a vivid picture which this composition attempts to describe—and the story is familiar to many.

As the music starts camel-drivers approach from the distance; the cries of beggars for "bach-sheesh" are heard. Then the beautiful princess enters carried by her servants (she is represented by a theme, at first given by bassoon, clarinet, and saxophone, then repeated by full band); she stays to watch the jugglers and snake charmer. The Caliph now passes through the market and interrupts the entertainment. The beggars are heard again; the princess prepares to depart; and the caravan resumes its journey. The themes of the camel-drivers and the princess are heard faintly in the distance and the marketplace becomes deserted.

Also included in the group are the Russian "Flight of the Bumble Bee," from "The Legend of the Tsar Saltan" by Rimsky Korsahow, and the Italian "Ciribiribin," a paraphrase arrangement of the melody.

Mr. Armstrong has also made elaborate preparations on the bass and as well as the musical. There will be 100 posters printed and placed in business houses throughout the city; eight hundred tickets, for students and adults, will be printed in anticipation of a large crowd.

Tickets for adults, including high school students, will be 25 cents; from grammar school students, the price of admission is ten cents.

The whole-hearted support of the public is anticipated.

Basketball News

On Monday, January 9, the Midland Bulldogs basketball team engaged the Atlantic team of the industrial league in the second game for both clubs on the local gymnasium floor. The two teams were on top of the league standings prior to the battle but after the game the Bulldogs came out somewhat victorious on the long end of a 34-10 score. The win put the Bulldogs on top position of the league. All the team and substitutes got to take part in the fray. Players for the two teams were as follows:

Tuesday night the Bulldog aggregation journeyed to Garden City to play the Garden City team and also to watch an all-American team of red-headed girls play an exhibition game with an all-star team. In the last fifty seconds of the game the Bulldogs were trailing the Garden City boys 20-19 when Raymond Gee, star forward, made a long two handed shot and hit pay. This put the Bulldogs in the lead by a score of 21-20 and they froze the ball for the rest of the game to clinch the win. The players for the two teams were:

THREE ONE-ACT PLAYS
SCHEDULED FOR ASSEMBLY.

Three one-act plays are being rehearsed by the actors under the direction of Mrs. Bob Johnston. One of the plays, "Tangled Web" was written up in this paper last week.

The second of the plays is "Neighbors." The cast including, Nell Ruth Bedford, Geraldine Griffith, Cleo Tidwell, Elinor Hedrick, Helen Armstrong, Wallace Jackson, and Darrell Johnson.

The last of the plays is a drama in which much of the real benefit will come from the audience's paying close attention. In this manner the actors will be able to convey much easier the fullest meanings of the lines. This play is titled "Finger of God," and the parts in the play will be most difficult to act. Hence we are pleading for closest attention for benefit of those most interested in the drama. The actors will be John Turner, Dorothy Sue Miles, and Buddy Hewitt.

day morning, when a number of seniors came to school sporting their rings.

Here is a situation both conclusive and deplorable—most of the boy's rings are too large! Either they have joined in a strike against the girls (who by the way could use adhesive tape!) or they expect to someday become a man—with large, muscular fingers! This is left to your imagination.

Only forty-two rings arrived in the first order Wednesday afternoon, the second order will probably arrive in about two weeks. The rings are being handled by Mr. and Mrs. Barney Greathouse, of the Midland Drug Company.

Definite pleasure has been shown by all seniors on receiving their rings; therefore, the standardized ring is evidently a huge success.

This Week's Special

Some of our football heroes have made the statement that basketball is a sissy's game but to my opinion they are far from right. I think there is more action in five minutes of basketball than there is in fifteen minutes of football. Well, it is great to be living in the United States where we can express our opinions freely.

Here is the once over of our present hero of M. H. S., Raymond Gee. He observes all the rules that Coach Myer requires. Yes! all of them. His bedtime is 10:30 flat. His conscience never bothers him and he sleeps soundly (except during exam week). He rises at 7:00 sharp (with the assistance of a boot or a broom). His favorite breakfast cereal is shredded wheat and at no time does he drink coffee or tea. He takes on a light lunch due to afternoon practice and the least thing he ever cares for is dessert for the evening meal. Smoking is one thing he despises, however, his girl friend, not knowing him very well, gave him a carton of "Lucky Strikes" for Christmas and to show his appreciation he smokes them when he is around her. I do not know how often he is with her.

His favorite hobby is photography. For protection against enthusiastic fans after a game, he uses a nigger shooter.

We all love Raymond for what he is; not what we would have him to be. He is not perfect but a jolly, clever chap to know.

He is one of the best basketball players we have and he has a habit of scoring when it is most needed and least expected. Some are jealous of his ability to play basketball, but I say, "More power to you Raymond."

POSTERS ARE MADE FOR ENGLISH IV.

Posters, posters, and more posters!

The English IV classes have been making their term projects, to show the development of English literature. Milton's "Lycidas" and Shakespeare's immortal plays have appeared in many and varied forms—as rays of a sun, as stars, as flowers, as windows, trains, and even as a mouse.

Many of the posters have shown lots of work on the part of the students and are really very clever. For instance, the English literature building made by Paul Anderson, in which the works and their authors are printed on the windows. Billy Noble made a clever poster with 19 cartoons, each illustrating a period, author, or work.

In Freda Pae Turner's "Bowl of English literature" there are nine flowers each flower characteristic of a period. And old fashioned girl dressed in hoop skirt is Geraldine Griffith's contribution. The names of authors are printed to look like a necklace, ruffles, bracelets, etc. A lot of work was shown in Alfred Vogel's book in which there were many pictures or cartoons representing various authors or their works. A very different idea was worked out in Jessa Lynn Tuttle's music scale—the notes contained the names of some of the prose and poetry studied this year.

But, there are so many exceptions.

ally good posters why don't all the rest of the classes come up and see them? They are worth your time.

CRAM TIME IS HERE.

With a "cram, cram here," and a "cram, cram there," "here a cram, there a cram, everywhere a cram, cram." Thus we know mid-term exams are close at hand, very close at hand in fact, for they are scheduled for this week, beginning Wednesday, January 17, at 9:00 and ending Friday, January 20, at 3:00 o'clock.

Those who are working hard for examinations are always a little worried about this time for fear they won't make exemptions and then where would they be after they have failed to review? Dear me, it is a puzzling world, no?

Could we offer a little poem dedicated to the occasion? Thank you! Mid-term exams are worse than a head-ache.

For just before them we cram

and rake

All the knowledge into our brain

That we should know and try to maintain.

But I guess they are good for us.

At least, they make us learn.

For one solid week we study

When before, the books we spurn.

THE CHEMIST'S ANALYSIS:

WEBB MANUFACTURING COMPANY

BALTIMORE AVENUE

KANSAS CITY, MO.

January 10, 1939

Midland Bottling Company,
Midland, Texas

Dear Sirs:

The samples of water have been received and the latter one analyzed. Copy of the analysis is attached.

This is, indeed, a most excellent and healthful drinking water, meeting definitely public health standards for such. Apparently in your treatment of it, which of course we know is the last word in water preparation, you have removed all harmful chemical salts, replacing such salts with harmless salts and thereby affording your community and your customers a drinking water service that is most difficult to improve.

Respectfully yours,
Webb Manufacturing Co.

Small Midland Boy
Is Drowning Victim
The body of Floyd Edwidge Perry, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Perry of Midland, will arrive here tonight for funeral services Monday. The small boy was drowned Friday, but relatives here have not been acquainted with details of the tragedy.

The boy had spent most of his life in Midland at the time of his death. Funeral services will be held at the Ellis Funeral Home tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 with the Rev. H. D. Bruce in charge. Interment rites will be held at Fairview cemetery.

Annual Convention
Of Scouters Slated
For Big Spring
A large number of Midland residents are expected to attend the annual meeting and scouters convention of the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, to be held at the Settles Hotel in Big Spring Tuesday.

Midland won the award last year for having the largest number of persons present at the convention and officials here are anxious to retain possession of the trophy. Last year, 54 Midland men and women attended the convention.

Dr. Tom Taylor, president of Howard Payne college, of Brownwood, will deliver the principal address of the evening, following a banquet that will be served those present.

Registration at the convention starts at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon with opening assembly being scheduled for 15 minutes later. Following group discussions by several scouters, including Jno. P. Howe and Claude Crane of Midland, recess will be called for 15 minutes at 4:45.

A business meeting of the council will be held from five until six, with another recess until 6:30, at which time the banquet is scheduled.

Women especially are invited to the convention. Reports will be made by most of the scouters of the Buffalo Trails council preceding the speech by Dr. Taylor.

Persons desiring to attend the convention are urged to contact either Claude Crane, Jno. P. Howe or Guy E. Breenman here.

Health Director to Give Address Here
Dr. H. H. Puckett, new director of district six health unit with headquarters at San Angelo, will be guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Midland county public health board in the district court-room Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Dr. Puckett, who takes the position made vacant by the death of Dr. Thomas Wagner several weeks ago, came to San Angelo from Floydada where he was director of district one health unit.

He spent 10 years in health work in West Virginia and also engaged in general practice at Celeste, Hunt county, his native town for 18 years. He studied medicine for two years at the University of Texas before taking his degree in the work at the University of Tennessee.

The annual meeting of the health board is open to the public and all citizens interested in hearing Dr. Puckett speak are invited to attend.

ing to run 5 1/2-inch casing. Despite the fact that it was 44 feet low to the Stanolind's offset on San Andres line, topped at 4,652, the Amerada test has shown far more oil-bearing line section, having logged stains and porosity from 4,664 to 4,752
and from 4,760 to 4,772. Best pay was evident from 4,700-10.

Over a mile to the northeast, Re-
pollo Oil Company No. 1 State, Lease No. 182, is fishing for cones, bottomed at 4,264 feet in lime and anhydrite. The wildcard is in section 31-168-37c.

Record Pecos Valley Well.
Record natural producer for the Pecos Valley pool was gauged yesterday by Lloyd E. Edwards, Moore and Walter J. Donnelly in their No.
1 Kugel-J. S. Reynolds, which flowed 788.30 barrels of 38-gravity oil on 24-hour test through open 2-inch tubing, with gas-oil ratio of 1,000-1.

The well is on the Ward county side of the pool, 6,572 feet from the northeast, 1,201 from the northwest line of section 34, block 1, H. & G.
N. survey. It topped pay sand at 1-829 and is bottomed at 1,839, having drilled itself several feet deeper.
Magnolia has completed another producer from the Colby sand horizon
of the Keystone pool in Winkler, its No. 207 Walton. The well flowed 482.23 barrels a day through 1-inch choke on 2-inch tubing, bottomed at 3,277 feet. Pay was entered at 3,175. It has gas-oil ratio of 887-1, and oil tests 34.8 gravity.

In the Snyder pool of eastern
Howard, Moore Brothers No. 8-A Snyder flowed 1,031.73 barrels of 30-gravity oil following 600-quart
ntro shot. It topped pay at 2,643, reached total depth of 2,864, and has
gas-oil ratio of 475-1.

Heads After Shot.
Standard Oil Company of Texas
No. 1-5 University, providing quarter-mile east extension to the northwest end of the Dunes pool in eastern Crane, headed oil 100 feet over the most while cleaning itself following shot with 750 quarts from 3-139 to 3,302, the total depth. After being allowed to clean itself for 15 minutes, it was turned into tanks, gauging 60 barrels of oil the first hour. The well topped pay at 3,167-85.

Farther northeast, Standard No.
1-4 University is drilling below 2-200 feet in anhydrite. Magnolia No.
1-18 University, southwest, outpost to the pool, had drilled to 850 feet
in red rock. In the pool, Wasomes
No. 1 Standard-University is drilling past 850 in red rock; Magnolia
No. 2-6 University had reached 1-515 in anhydrite.

Magnolia No. 12 W. P. Edwards, one-mile southeast extension test
to the Waddell pool in northeastern Crane, is drilling at 1,420 in salt and anhydrite.

Gulf No. 10 Waddell estate et al.
new Ordovician test in the Sand-hills pool of western Crane, is moving in derrick material.

Denver "Re-Tests" Numerous.

Since the inauguration of the new method of establishing potentials in the Denver pool of southern Yoakum, many operators have seen fit to take "re-tests" on their wells to boost their ratings. The field originally employed the full 24-hour gauge, but potentials now are arriving at by multiplying by eight the production during the second three hours of six-hour test.

Toddie Lee Wynne and Shell
Petroleum Corporation Saturday
filed "re-tests" on several of their old producers. Wynne No. 3 Walter Fairman, which had potential of 210 barrels a day after acidizing with 9,000 gallons in pay lime between 4,617 and 5,071, total depth, set new potential of 670.88 barrels of 34.2-gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 657-1, when new test was made.

Another Wynne re-completion is
No. 2 Thomas, which increased original rating of 216.64 barrels a day to 886.56. It had been acidized with 9,000 gallons when completed some weeks ago. Pay was topped at 4,770, and bottom of the hole is at 5,141.
The well now has ratio of 775-1, and oil is 33.7-gravity.

Shell No. 1-A George Baumgart, one of the first east extenders of the pool, now has potential of 552 barrels a day, a slight increase over its old initial production of 486 barrels. It topped pay at 4,875, is bottomed at 5,000, and was treated with 10,000 gallons. Gas-oil ratio now is 451-1, and oil tests 34.6-gravity.

Shell No. 1-B Baumgart hiked potential from 492 to 688 barrels a day on re-test. Oil is 34.8-gravity, and gas is in the ratio of 2,144-1.
The well had been completed several months ago. It was treated with 5-000 gallons in pay from 4,855 to 5-010, total depth.

Honolulu and Cascade No. 1-741
N. W. Willard, in the southwest extension to the Bennett pool of Yoakum, is drilling below 4,050 feet in anhydrite. Honolulu No. 10-695
Bennett is rigging up rotary; Honolulu No. 9-677 Bennett is swabbing
after initial treatment with 1,500 gallons, bottomed at 5,280 feet in lime. Magnolia No. 6 Bennett is drilling at 5,100 in lime, while Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company is drilling at 3,100 feet in second hole.

Honolulu Parker Unchanged.
Honolulu No. 1-18 J. E. Parker, central Andrews wildcard, yesterday was drilling unchanged at 4,544 feet in lime. It has logged several slight shows, but main pay is not expected before 4,615.

Richmond Drilling Company and Wright & McMillen No. 1 Bryant-Link Company, in western Andrews, drilled plug from 8 5/8-inch pipe
set on bottom at 1,722 in anhydrite
and is making new hole.

In the Hanna pool of southern Andrews, Anderson-Pritchard No. 3 W.
F. Cowden estate is running 9 5/8-inch casing at 1,815 feet in anhydrite. Two miles south of the pool, Atlantic and Standard No. 1-B Cowden is drilling anhydrite below 3-140 feet.

aeronautics authority, said at Missoula, Mont., where he had a speaking engagement, he would not come here to join the authority's investigators from Minneapolis.

The St. Paul-to-Seattle plane burst into flames and crashed in a creeper in the Sunday creek bottomlands, a mile west of the Miles City airport just after its takeoff at 1:15
p. m. (CST).

L. H. Bliven, airport manager, and several Miles City residents reported the explosion flashed a bright white light across an overcast sky. A light rain had been falling in a near-freezing temperature.

The three men victims were:
Pilot C. B. (Cash) Chamberlain, of Minneapolis, a pioneering pilot
trained by the late Frank Hawks.
He had flown the first ship for Universal Air Lines between Chicago and Cleveland in 1928, and two years later opened the Dallas-Los Angeles run for American Airways. He joined Northwest in 1931.

Co-Pilot Raymond B. Norby of Minneapolis, who had flown for Northwest since 1936.

Richard S. Zahniser, about 52, connected with the Consolidated
motor freight service of Billings, Mont.

Mrs. Morris, wife of a Northern Pacific railway conductor, was widely known in North Dakota music circles.

years, to the administration.

Byrnes was expected to announce details of the proposal late today.
Some persons understood that he had in mind, possibly as a long range objective, ultimate replacement of the present relief system
by a new one based on the idea of tying together the United States
unemployment service and the unemployment compensation work of the social security board.

Senate Card Full.
Passage of the relief bill cleared
the house decks of legislation ready for immediate action, and leaders expected only routine meetings the first half of next week.

The senate faced a busy schedule, however, having yet to act upon the nominations of Harry L.
Hopkins to be secretary of commerce, Prof. Felix Frankfurter to be a member of the supreme court,
and Frank Murphy to be attorney general.

Many members of both major parties predicted all three nominations would be confirmed.

City Patrolman Is Hurt in Collision

City Patrolman Franklin Manning was released from a local hospital Saturday after being kept over night for treatment of minor cuts and bruises sustained when the motorcycle he was riding collided
with a car being driven by Claude
Thompson Friday night.

Manning was reported to have been chasing an alleged speeder,
when his motor sideswiped a back fender of the Thompson car. He was rushed to a hospital, where it was found he was not seriously hurt.

urday morning.

Storm—

to attempt to drive their cars into the city.

The tieup was described by traffic patrolmen as the worst in years.
The department of sanitation mustered an emergency brigade of 32-073 men to clear the streets.
In the wake of the snow, a 40-mile an hour gale roared up the coast. The weather bureau ordered storm warnings posted from Cape Hatteras to Eastport, Me.

Transportation was retarded by ice-glazed highways in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Iowa and Illinois. Most roads remained open but buses were running up to 80 minutes late in Pennsylvania. Low visibility tied up shipping on the Delaware at Philadelphia and grounded commercial planes at the Newark, N. J., airport.

The wintry onslaught followed days of springlike weather in many sections. The temperature at New Orleans dropped from a balmy 76
Thursday to 49 yesterday. Elsewhere through the deep south seasonal temperatures prevailed. California—
like Florida—maintained its reputation. The mercury reached 69 degrees at Los Angeles.

Heavy rain or snow fell in positions of Kentucky, Tennessee and the east gulf states, but slowly rising temperatures were forecast.

Maryland, Iowa, Illinois, Missouri,
Idaho, Utah and Washington, D. C.,
also reported snow or snow flurries.
Kansas and Oklahoma drew rain and sleet. It was so unseasonably warm in Oregon that farmers—
missing snow—expressed fear crops would suffer from a lack of moisture.

while Mrs. Desmond suffered a broken wrist in addition to cuts and bruises.

Airplanes in Canada fly six times
as much freight as the United States.

Order Sharecroppers Encamped on Roads Return to Homes

NEW MADRID, Mo., Jan. 14 (AP)—
An army of ragged and shivering sharecroppers encamped along highway 60 and 61 were ordered today to return to their homes they left four days ago when their demonstration to draw attention to their economic plight started.

Dr. Harry Parker, state health commissioner, pronounced the situation a "serious menace to public health."

ATTENDED MEETING
Roy Parks, member of the executive board of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, attended the annual meeting of the organization at Fort Worth Friday.

GO TO TEMPLE
Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Simpson left yesterday for Temple where they will spend several days.

Officer and Miner Are Slain in Duel

HARLAN, Ky., Jan. 14 (AP)—John D. Gilliam, 40, night chief of police at Cumberland, and Marvin Shepherd, miner, were shot to death
here last night.

Sheriff Herbert Caywood said the duel was the first in the state since
here last night.

The Italian seaplane that set the official speed record of 440 miles an hour, cost more than $1,000,000.

Today, it is reported, a plane that could exceed speeds of 500 miles an hour, could be built for $60,000.
