

Farmers Warned to Poison Now for Hopper Control

"If you don't hit the grasshoppers by the time they are two weeks old, none of your control measures will be too effective," W. J. Spicer of the Bureau of Entomology, Waco, told a group of area farmers Friday, June 4, at a hopper control demonstration at the Sebern Wade farm southeast of Wellington. The demonstration was sponsored by J. W. Thomas, county agent, and Jones Singley of Singley Brothers Feed Mill.

Mr. Spicer explained to the group the use of chlordane and poison bait material in destroying the hoppers. He said that chlordane should be used where there is heavy vegetation, and baits are best used where there is no vegetation or where it is scarce.

He pointed out that for effective use of bait, the material should be mixed well and put out in the fields only from 4:00 a.m. until sunup, and broadcast, not put in piles. Strips should be an average of 30 feet wide around the field.

Where chlordane is the poison chosen, it should be used at the rate of two pounds per acre, and it can be used at any time of the day.

Full effects of the chlordane poisoning are not to be expected until after it has been out 72 hours. The Bureau of Entomology suggests that the spray is effective for only 14 days.

A portion of a field on the Wade farm had been sprayed with chlordane the day preceding the demonstration, and those attending found a number of dead hoppers in the sprayed area and many others that were sick. Mr. Spicer told the group that after 72 hours had elapsed, the kill would be much heavier.

Two types of spraying machines were demonstrated for the cotton growers. Mr. Singley showed a spraying machine adapted to chlordane. Matt Johnson and Mr. Foster of Amarillo exhibited a combined duster-sprayer mounted on a jeep. Approximately 35 men attended.

"Zero-Zero" to "CAVU"

By BILL HUGHES

The City forces headed by Bura (Prometheus) Handley are really straining everything to complete the swimming pool just as shortly as possible. It won't be long now. Anything less than the really strong desire and determination on the part of Bura and his crew, however, the end would not be in sight. The six weeks bad weather this winter was really like giving a fellow a half mile start in a mile race, and there are plenty of construction crews to whom September would have been an unreasonable demand. I hope not many are just taking the achievement for granted, not only from the point of view of time but of savings as well. Wellington is very fortunate indeed to have so strong a heart truly beating, a mind so inventive and keen thinking, a hand so loyal and capable working for it. Sure he ought to do this and that, and this isn't done, and that needs fixing, but I'll bet none of you Monday quarterbacks can come as close as he and his crew does to building a wall in your front yard, fix the plumbing in your tub and dig a well in your back yard all at the same time and at once and by yourself. More men cost more money and the city does not have it.

And while I am on the subject of things pertaining to the city, Wellington not so long ago hired a Chamber of Commerce. In passing along our streets, if you ever hear it mentioned, it is always in the form of "How's your Chamber of Commerce?"—never are the passive pronouns my or our ever used. There is no denying the fact that our individual business produces in proportion to the effort and personal attention we put into it. The Chamber of Commerce, of course, is outside this maxim of life! Like Orphan Annie, it belongs to no one! Tommy Tomlinson is proving a dang good "Daddy War-buck" but what is a "Daddy War-buck" without his "Asp and Pun-jab," who in this life are you and me and all the other "Joe Citizens?" When will we learn that the power of our dollars is completely dependent on the power of our brains, hearts and hands, and that by itself money can produce nothing; nor can one man hired or serving for free carry 4000 on his back let alone do something—no matter how many bags of gold we have planted beneath his feet.

Some Trees May Be Pruned Now

COLLEGE STATION — "Some kinds of pruning may be done at any time," Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. & M. College, said recently. "Remove dead limbs, diseased limbs and limbs that injure each other regardless of season."

Some plants need pruning all during the growing season. Among these shrubs are abelia and Florida jasmine which have a tendency to send out long awkward shoots. If the buds at the tips of branches are cut off the plant will grow into a compact form which generally is liked better than a shrub with a few long sprouts. Hardy sprouts which grow fast such as amur river privet or Japanese ligustrum, may be pruned safely during the growing season.

Miss Hatfield says, prune shrubs which bloom in the spring or early summer just as soon as the blooming season is over for it is then they begin forming bloom buds for the next year. Among these are such plants as bridal wreath and flowering peach. If you wait until late summer or winter, pruning lessens the amount of blooms as it destroys bloom buds.

Among flowering shrubs to be pruned as soon as they have bloomed and before they form bloom buds for the next year's flowers are: azaleas, butterfly bush (buddleia), redbud, flowering quince, flowering dogwood, catenaster, poinsettia, philadelphus (English dogwood, mock orange), photinia, flowering plums, spirea, viburnums (haws and snowballs), primrose, jasmine, winter blooming jasmine, and wisteria.

Useless Saving Habit May Mean Costly Fire Loss

AUSTIN — Texans have a dangerous habit which is fire hazardous, claims Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner.

He calls this habit the useless saving habit: "We save everything from old, moldy newspapers to broken-up furniture. Although we know we won't have use for these discarded items, we just can't bring ourselves to throwing them away."

Hall hopes that Texans will part with their sentiment and the fire hazards in their attics, basements, closets and garages.

$300,000 is sacrificed in fires every year by Texans who had rather save picture frames and magazines than their homes and usable household goods. Rubbish and spontaneous ignition rate number 5 as a cause of insured fire of Hollis.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cayton and daughters of Vega visited in the G. W. Adkins home Friday.

W. D. Durfey and Bill Durfey made a business trip to Fort Worth Tuesday.

losses in this State.

"First of all old paper, boxes, bottles and rags should be taken out and burned," Hall recommended, "or they could be sold or given to places of business that have use for items such as these."

"Discarded clothes and furniture should be removed and given to charitable organizations or sold to second-hand dealers, he suggested.

"These items in accumulation in homes furnish excellent fodder for the firebug. Should a chance match or electric wiring catch fire and ignite some of these nearby things, a fire could gain great headway before discovered in such an unfrequented place as an attic."

Oil or paint-soaked rags should be kept only in tight metal containers due to their ability for self-ignition, he stated.

"A spacious new-look will appear in the dark corners of a home if storage spaces are used correctly for seasonally used items," Hall pointed out.

He concluded: "The best things to save are the lives of your family and your home."

DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Have just returned from a trip to Kerrville, Fredericksburg, Austin and other points south and east. It was good to get back to a place as green as the Wellington area. The country from Abilene through Menard and Junction looks distressingly dry and they told me in Abilene that the part of the state toward San Angelo was in worse shape. Around Austin the crops looked pretty good.

Saturday night Prof. Paul J. Thompson of the Department of Journalism took us to a barbecue at the lost pines park near Bastrop. This park is located in a forest of tall pines. It is unique in that this forest, about twenty-five miles long, is 150 miles farther west than the next nearest pine forest in East Texas. I asked the head of the State Parks Board if he could explain why the isolated forest happened to flourish that far from the piney woods section of Texas. He did not know for sure; but Prof. Thompson's theory is that the soil is very rich in iron and other minerals that are conducive to the growth of pine trees.

Prof. Thompson is noted for the interest he takes in his former journalism students after they leave school and for the practical help he gives them. He is so exacting in his classes and such a stickler for getting everything just right that he is not a great favorite with the majority of his students at the time they are in school. But what he teaches comes in so handy in later years, especially for those who have to manage a newspaper or serve in some executive capacity, that their respect mounts and mounts with the passing of the years. There are practically none that he has not helped materially on more than one occasion, and he does it with an eagerness and a graciousness that is remarkable. Among his own ex-students he is one of the best loved men on the campus.

As I went along on my trip I asked about politics from time to time. In Austin I found considerable support for Lyndon B. Johnson among a certain element of newspaper writers. They call themselves liberals; but I could not measure them out as true liberals by such a yardstick as that used by Thomas Jefferson.

On the other hand I ran into something that was quite interesting to me. In the towns founded on agriculture and ranching, I found that Coke Stevenson was as solid in the esteem of the people as he had ever been in his entire career. One man in Fredericksburg told me that Coke had saved the millions of dollars. One fill-station operator in Coleman said: "Coke Stevenson is Mr. Texas me."

Polio is spreading in South Texas. Shouldn't we get busy and have a genuine clean-up campaign in Wellington? Not just a token affair as we have had in some years; but one that will really clean up the town.

Mrs. J. B. Stevenson phoned me to report the killing of her favorite mocking bird. Boys with air guns had shot the sweet singer down. Mrs. Stevenson went out to protest and the boys were apologetic. They did not know that they had shot a songbird—they were hunting for sparrows. That is either an abysmal ignorance or colossal lying. Even the dumbest city boys ought to know the difference between a bothersome sparrow and the valuable birds.

Boys should be instructed. The trouble with some is that their parents do not make them work in the summer. They have too much idle time. Some years hence these boys will wake up and realize that they have a living to make, debts to pay and that to have a pleasant life you must earn it.

It is a heart-comforting sight to see young children riding on their bicycles in the evening in Wellington—that is it would be if that were all there were to it. It is nerve wracking to sit on your lawn and watch the aimless pattern as these beautiful young ones pump their machines sedately along the street and then see three or more cars converging in excess of the speed limits. Car drivers should be careful—tremendously careful—at dusk.

A child on a bicycle is going to be killed if the present system is allowed to continue. It may be the child's fault; it may be the driver's fault; but the final answer is that there will be heart-break for someone if corrections are not made in the traffic regulations in Wellington. I do not know the answer, but I do consider it worthy of serious study on the part of parents and officials.

Louise and I have a notion about all the pie suppers, auctions, benefits etc., that the candidates for office have to undergo. We may or may not be able to do it; but we have the idea of giving all of the candidates a free barbecue. I told her that it seemed like a wonderful idea; but it was my notion that we hold it as soon as possible. Otherwise we might have to call on Hiram Cudd, James Sullivan, Guy Bell, and a number of others of this size to referee the barbecue.

Sadness came to our home again this week. F. E. Cave of Plainview died suddenly last week. His heart failed. He was the father of Mary Cave, the charming lass who visited with us in Wellington in other days. Mr. Cave was a gracious man who made friends and kept them and his charm was a simple as that of his lovely daughter. He was a public spirited man and he devoted a lot of time to the betterment of the community in which he lived. He had a number of stores and he had to run them during the war years without much help. It may have been too much of a strain. Last summer he told me of what he had to go through and the hours he had to spend in doing what he considered his duty. Not all of the war casualties died on the battlefield. He is gone; but his wife and son and daughter can remember a kindly, devoted husband and father and Plainview will remember a man who helped make a better and a more friendly place in which others will live in the days to come.

A very pistol is one used to fire illuminating rockets. Walter Camp is regarded as the father of American football.

Between-Meal Snacks Alright For Some

Eating between meals is not always a bad habit, says Joy Riley, county home demonstration agent. Some people do better by eating frequently, but lightly, during the day rather than sticking to the three-meal-a-day fashion.

There are three things involved in the matter, Miss Riley stresses; they are the food, the time and the person doing the eating.

Between-meal snacks may be used to supplement the regular meals and to help provide an adequate diet. Growing children, persons who are underweight and active workers often need more food than they can eat comfortably at a meal so they turn to snacks. For them a light fill-in at the midpoint between meals keeps them from getting tired and too hungry before the next meal.

school is recommended for giving children plenty of energy for active play without spoiling their appetite for the supper meal. However, candy, cake, or sweet drinks shortly before a meal usually spoil the child's appetite for such essential things as vegetables, Miss Riley points out.

Eating the right food at the right time is a good, healthy habit, but constant nibbling on everything between meals is something else again, and may mean spoiling the enjoyment of the main meals, overweight and bad health, Miss Riley emphasizes.

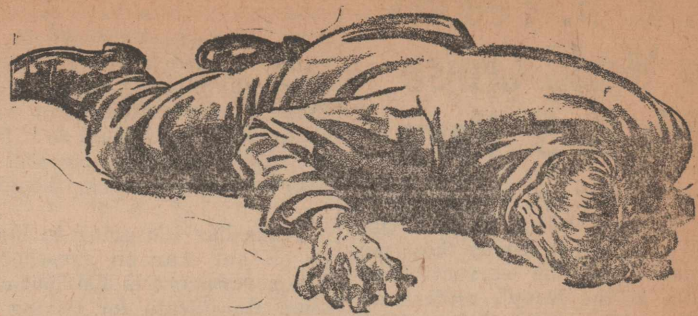

Kenneth Hodge Weds Miss Louise Sasser

Miss Louise Sasser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Sasser of Wellington, and Kenneth Hodge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hodge of Quail, were married in a ceremony in Wellington Saturday, June 5.

Mrs. Hodge attended the Wellington schools and Mr. Hodge received his education in Quail. The couple will live in Wellington where Mr. Hodge is employed at H&H Furniture Store.

(Rom. 1:16)

THE WORD OF HIS GRACE
"And now I commend you to God, and to the word of His grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you the inheritance among all them that are sanctified." (Acts 20:32).

The Bible differs from other books in its perpetual freshness. It is like a fountain of living water, always fresh and always refreshing. From the most familiar passage, there comes again and again a new message. It adapts itself to every new phase of our experience. This is not true of any book of man.

The difference is between the living and the dead, for the Bible is a living word. "For the word of God is living and active, and sharper than any two-edged sword" (Heb. 4:12). "It is the spirit that giveth life; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I have spoken unto you are spirit, and are life" (John 6:63). This Word of Life, if received and obeyed, shall one day bring the soul still alive into eternal glory.

Lt. E. B. Peeples On World Cruise With U. S. Navy

Lt. (jg) E. B. Peeples, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Peeples of Wellington, is among those participating in the current World Cruise of the Navy's modern aircraft carrier, USS Valley Forge (CV-45).

The voyage, first planned only as a Pacific cruise, has sent the 888 foot carrier around the world in a westerly direction.

Since leaving Hawaii in January, the Valley Forge has visited Sydney, Australia; Hong Kong; Tsingtao, China; Singapore; Trincomalee, Ceylon; Ras Tanura, Saudi Arabia; Gibraltar; and Bergen, Norway.

The cruise is climaxing with a week's stay at Portsmouth, big British naval base near London. The ship is scheduled to return to San Diego, Calif. via the Panama Canal, ending its global voyage early in June.

The good will mission took the carrier through the Suez Canal, making it the longest vessel ever to transit the 100-mile waterway.

A diplomatic highlight of the cruise was the official visit of Crown Prince Saud of Saudi Arabia, who was guest of honor on a half-day's operational cruise in the Persian Gulf.

Capt. Richard W. Ruble, USN, is the commanding officer of the Valley Forge, which flies the two-star flag of Rear Admiral Harold M. Martin, USN, Commander Carrier Division Five.

6:30 AM Week Days - 10:15 AM Sundays

Trying to keep up with things all over Texas, as we do, sometimes we overlook good folks in our own front yard. Just today, for instance, we get acquainted with Harlan McLean, who lives about two whoops and a holler north of the Tarrant County courthouse, on one of the nicest little farms around here.

Something of an amateur inventor, Harlan has all sorts of labor saving gadgets around that he thought up and built. One is a little derrick enabling him to load and handle his grain auger by himself. Another is a whetstone attachment to his tractor power take off, with which he sharpens plow discs without taking them off and rolling them.

Harlan says during the war, when meat was mighty scarce, he harvested a whole group of oats singlehanded, and did it on turnip greens.

The Lions club at Lewisville is outstanding in several ways. One is the victuals, of which there are always seconds. Another is that a good many of the members are farmers, and so the regular meetings take place in the evening. Tom Kirkpatrick, who is the third generation on his good farm there, was our host.

Charles F. Brannan, the new secretary of agriculture, says he will carry out the policies of his predecessor, Clinton P. Anderson. He is qualified to do it, having been so-called "trouble-shooter" in the U.S.D.A. for several years. He's from Denver. Used to be a lawyer.

of concentrated grass pills and roughage, letters have poured in from women wanting to lose weight. Elmore lost several pounds, under surveillance of his doctor. Purpose of the experiment was to show what people could do if forced to subsist on grass. He still is a believer in beef steak, though.

Looks like it's going to have to be all out war on grasshoppers. The government is distributing sodium fluosilicate for mixing with bran and other roughage again to use as poison bait for the hoppers. This program has done lots of good in the past and is sorely needed now.

Some experts think, however, that the newer insecticides like chlordane, chlorinated camphene, and benzene hexachloride are better.

Up in Oklahoma, someone has been promoting watermelon sorghum. Okay, just so you don't have to cope with the seeds in the syrup.

Nored Graduates From Game Warden School at A&M

Donald E. Nored of Wellington was one of 15 men to receive a certificate and commission at the close of the third Game Warden School at College Station June 1. Nored is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Nored of Wellington. His wife and children have been with him at College Station.

The training school is conducted as part of the program of the Department of Wildlife Management under the general supervision of Dr. W. B. Davis, head of the wildlife department of Texas A. and M. College.

This school is unique in the annals of wildlife conservation and is leading the way in the training of conservation officers at an institution of higher learning. Inaugurated in 1946 by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission and the Texas A. and M. College as a cooperative training program, the school has trained and placed on the job as game wardens nearly fifty ex-service men.

Dean Charles N. Shepardson, School of Agriculture, in presenting certificates to the graduating class pointed out the increased responsibilities and opportunities lying ahead for these men to help in the conservation of basic natural resources, including soils, waters, range, forests, and wildlife.

Howard D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission addressed the group and commissioned the new game and fish wardens. Grover Simpson, one of the newly commissioned men, represented the graduating class in his response of appreciation.

Those attending the warden school are first selected by Game, Fish and Oyster Commission personnel. At the college they receive training for one semester (February to June) in wildlife conservation and management, fisheries management, natural history, pollution problems, public speaking, public relations, game and fish laws, law enforcement and reports and records.

Assisting with the school this year were James S. Smith and Everett T. Dawson of the Game Commission, and Professor Joe Sorrells, Department of Municipal and Sanitary Engineering, Dr. A. L. Schipper, Biology Department, Professor C. O. Spriggs, English Department, Frank Knapp, Professor of Fisheries, and Dr. W. B. Davis.

Buoyant answer to Back Road and Boulevard

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

REMEMBER that rough patch of road up yonder where the ruts and ridges make a washboard seem smooth?

Recall the tiring tenseness brought on by the drum and hum of road noise and tremor even over smooth concrete highways?

Well, clock away the miles in this stunningly styled Buick — and meet up with the sweetest answer to such matters this side of cloud cruising.

"It's a ride that's soft and smooth as velvet," folks tell us. And we tell them it comes from a host of things.

It comes from the ample road-weight of a two-ton car built low and wide — and so beautifully balanced it handles light as a baton.

It comes from the leveling buoyancy of Buick's all-coil springing which puts a pillow of deeply coiled steel at each wheel to soak up the bumps and ripples.

It comes from the softness of bigger, lower-pressure tires that cushion away road tremors and roughness — from the sure-footed, swerve-free steadiness of Buick's extra wide Safety-Ride rims, widest in the industry.

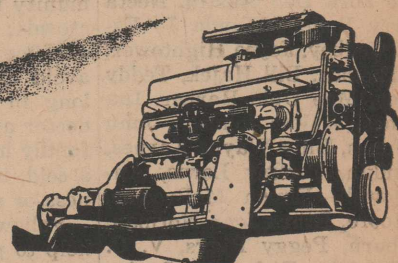

And it comes in special measure from a brand-new engineering gem we call Vibra-Shielding which banishes vibration build-up.

Here for the first time you're freed from the motoring fatigue brought on by tiny tremors piling up into bigger ones. Here your miles are made moss-smooth and quiet — long journeys become mere jaunts.

So why delay knowing the most buoyant answer to any road you ever traveled?

Come visit us now. Know at first hand the distinctive styling, the flashing action, the velvety ride over highway and byway that are Buick's and Buick's alone.

Then follow your heart's desire and get your order in promptly. We'll take it in proper sequence whether or not you have a car to trade.

REASON FOR THE VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE

Placed with scientific exactness, 3 fat cushions of special composition cradle the engine so as to control its vibration frequency. Engine vibration is thus kept "out of tune" with those that might come from other parts of the car. The result is to shield car occupants against tiring pulsations, cut road noise, make engine sensation almost imperceptible and motoring practically fatigue-free.

Sisters Located In Amarillo

Two sisters living near Wellington, whom relatives near Hillsboro reported as missing since June 3, when they left here, walked into Amarillo police headquarters Tuesday, June 8, after they heard their whereabouts had become a matter of concern. They wanted to know what all the shouting was about, they said. Stories that they were missing had been carried by the Associated Press wire service after their parents had asked the help of Hillsboro officers in locating them.

The girls, Mrs. Juanita Wauer, 22, and her sister, Miss Janey E. Pruitt, 16, told officers they had been living in Amarillo for a short time, renting a room in South Amarillo.

Wheat Harvest -

tions now harvesting, it is several bushels per acre better than was expected.

A major portion of the wheat is coming from the south and southeast portions of the county, but there is more from the west part of the county than in former years.

Mr. Barjenbruch arrived with his load of wheat about 10:00 a.m. Thursday, selling it to the J. E. Warrick Co. He had 155 bushels in this load, which tested 60 and sold for $2.08 per bushel.

Mr. Barjenbruch has completed harvesting an 80 acre tract, which yielded 1624 bushels and 10 pounds, or slightly more than 20 bushels per acre.

Mr. White brought in a load of 100 bushels which tested 59 and was sold to Singley Brothers for $2.15 per bushel. Mr. White reported that he was getting from seven to eight bushels per acre.

Mr. McClendon brought in 120 bushels, harvested from a strip of volunteer wheat, and sold it to R. C. Stephenson for $2.07. This was grown on the Pink Sullivan farm and hauled to town by T. H. Rainier. Mr. Stephenson said this was 10 days earlier than he received his first load last year.

The first load was sold at Dodson Friday by Mrs. T. R. Whisenant to the Adair Grain company, which has electric loading plants at that town and in Wellington. She brought in a load of 42 bushels.

The best yield of the county has been reported from the Dodson area, where several have reported harvesting as much as 28 bushels per acre. Even in this section, however, the yield varies from 12 bushels up, with an average of around 18 bushels. The peak of the harvest will be reached around the last of this week or the first of next around Dodson.

E. A. Singley, veteran Wellington grain dealer, said he considered this a good average crop, and around one-third better than was expected.

In addition to the six cars of wheat already shipped from the county, Adair Grain Company in Wellington reported that they would have one to go out Wednesday and Mr. Stephenson said he would have two.

All grain dealers in Wellington say their customers report yields varying from 10 to 18 bushels. Practically all the wheat is testing 60 pounds, although there has been some 59 and other that tested 61.

Polio Threat Real in Texas

AUSTIN — The danger of crippling and death from poliomyelitis is very real and should not be minimized, but according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, a knowledge of the facts about this disease will help fight the fear of it, and aid in preventing the panic that is usually associated with the appearance of polio.

The facts about polio are these: It attacks so few people that 20 cases per 100,000 population is considered an epidemic. Half of those who get the disease recover without crippling; another fourth, with good care, recover with only slight crippling. Deformities can be prevented and crippling lessened in many cases, by prompt, complete and sometimes prolonged medical care.

Even though these encouraging facts have been established, still with polio as with any other disease prevention is better than cure. Summer is the chief danger period, and to avoid the risk of contracting this disease, it is well to observe the following health suggestions, especially with regard to children: practice absolute cleanliness in personal, home and community life. try not to mingle with crowds; don't get over-tired since extreme fatigue lowers resistance; avoid chilling by swimming over-long in cold water; consult your doctor at once if a member of your family has fever, headache, nausea, a cold, upset stomach, muscle soreness or stiffness.

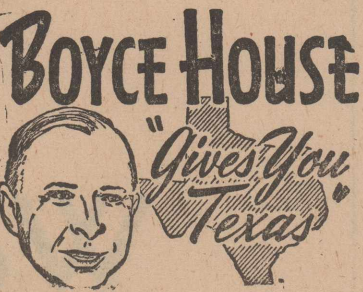

Following these suggestions will help to prevent the spread of polio but if you do have a case in your family, remember that the majority of patients with good care recover without crippling. Your fear or panic will only make it harder for you and your child.

FISH STORY—BUT HERE'S PROOF

Knowing that seeing is believing, this Utica, N. Y., trio can use this photograph as pictorial proof of their latest fish story. Joe Rubin, Moe Goldman and Ted Berkely, left to right, pulled this catch, more than 100 speckled trout, from an unnamed lake 300 miles north of Ottawa using flies and worms as bait.

Back in 1916 when your columnist was "cub reporter" on the Memphis Commercial Appeal, Vincent M. Carroll was one of the ace members of the staff.

Years went by—and I was editor of the Ranger Times.

One day, the phone rang and it was the advertising manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, speaking in his office in Dallas. He said, "Are you the same Boyce House who used to work on the Commercial Appeal in Memphis, Tenn.?" "Yes," "Well, do you remember a man who was a reporter, by the name of Carroll?"

"You mean Vince Carroll? Yes, I remember him very well."

It flashed through my mind that Carroll was in Dallas, wanted to get a check cashed and had given me as reference. I hoped the check wasn't a very large one. Of course, I didn't say any of this, just thought it.

The phone company official said, "Just a moment; he's here in the office and wants to speak to you." So we had a little chat and then the original caller came back and I asked, "What is Vince doing now?"

"Oh, he's got a job with the phone company; he's our vice president!"

Yes, the years bring changes. Awhile back, the news came that life's chapter had closed for Vince Carroll. He was a fine chap.

Intestinal Diseases Due for Increase

AUSTIN — Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued a warning to parents that this is the season for an increase in dysentery, diarrhea and "summer complaint."

"The chief cause of these intestinal diseases are contaminated milk; water or food; allowing the child to get overheated or exhausted; excessive sugar in the babies formula; and improper amount of food," Dr. Cox said. "All foods should be fresh and clean, and left-overs should be properly refrigerated to prevent spoilage."

Dr. Cox urged extreme care in the preparation of a feeding formula for infants. He said it should be prescribed by a physician, and that cleanliness and refrigeration were absolute essentials. Babies should be fed at regular intervals and on a definite schedule, since their stomach and bowels can be easily upset if fed irregularly or whenever they are fretful or restless.

The State Health Officer declared that dysentery is transmitted by flies and said every home should be well-screened and free of flies.

"If dysentery or diarrhea develop, consult your physician at once," Dr. Cox advised. "This so-called 'summer complaint' can be a very serious menace to your baby's health, if not an actual threat to his life."

And when somebody asked Mark Twain how the million people packed into the tenements of Naples made a living, he replied, "Oh, they take in each other's washing."

From where I sit... by Joe Marshall

Who is this Man?

Now and then, in the pages of the Clarion, I run a biographical quiz, under the heading of "Who Is This Man?" For instance...

"He was one of the earliest lovers in American history..."

"And yet he was too shy to court a woman outright..."

"He came to the New World on the Mayflower..."

"A cooper to repair the beer barrels accompanying the Pilgrims..."

"Who is this man?"

I thought that everybody was stumped. But not Ma Hoskins, who returned the clipping to me with "John Alden" on it. She recognized all the clues—including that reference to "beer" and "cooper."

For Ma—who's read her history, knows that beer as the beverage of moderation, is as old in this land of ours as the never-ending American search for tolerance which brought the Pilgrims over to this country in the first place.

Blue panic grass, new to this county, has been planted on two farms and will be planted on another on an experimental basis, William J. Grigg, who is in charge of the soil conservation work for the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District, said Monday.

John Brim, who lives south of Wellington, has planted five acres and Wood Coleman of Dozier 10 acres. B. F. Gulley of Lutie will plant five acres.

This grass is especially suitable for planting on thin, tight soil, Mr. Grigg said, although it will also do well on mixed or fairly sandy land.

"Blue panic grass does for the tight land what love grasses do for the sandy land in soil building," Mr. Grigg explained.

"It is a perennial, and therefore does not have to be planted each year. It is highly palatable to livestock and besides this, it produces more foliage than sudan grass," he continued.

"It has a good root system and will grow from three to six and seven feet tall, depending on the type of land and the season. It is more drought resistant than sudan."

"It has been tried with much success in Childress, Cottle and Hall counties, and we are anxious to get it established here."

At present the seed cost is fairly expensive, though not as costly as love grass, the price ranging from $1.00 to $1.50 from commercial buyers.

Blue panic grass is especially good as a soil builder, it makes a heavy seed crop, and has a high protein content for grazing, Mr. Grigg said.

The acreage now being planted will be used by the owners as seed plots, and when they have grown sufficient seed, they plan to retire other land to blue panic grass pastures, the conservationist explained.

There are five athletic events in a pentathlon.

STILL IN THE RACE AND GOING STRONG

Because I have been busy the last few weeks getting in my crops and knowing that I would continue to be very busy for a while yet, certain parties have seen fit to circulate the false report that I had withdrawn from the race for commissioner of Precinct 1.

I did not enter this race with the intention of quitting any more than I intend to quit my duties if you see fit to elect me to this important office. Perhaps there are some who would like to see me withdraw; but this is to inform the public in general that I will be in this race to the very end.

As I told you when I announced, I will do my best to give you a sound county administration and will work steadfastly to that end. Your vote and consideration will be appreciated.

Questions on Veterans Aid

Q. How many persons in the United States are eligible for Veterans Administration benefits?

A. It is estimated that more than 46,000,000 persons (living veterans and their dependents) may become eligible for VA benefits under present laws. By 1962, the figure is expected to rise to 62,300,000.

Q. What is vocational advisement and why is it required under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act?

A. The main purpose of vocational advisement is to determine whether a disabled veteran should train for a profession or for a particular trade or occupation based on his previous education, experience, personal desires and ability. He is required to take a series of aptitude tests at a VA guidance center where he is interviewed and counseled by a group of highly trained specialists. This advisement is required under the program to insure the disabled veteran's proper rehabilitation.

Q. I am the beneficiary of a $10,000 National Service Life Insurance policy. Are the payments I am receiving subject to taxation?

A. No. National Service Life Insurance as much, is exempted from taxation, except for Federal Estate Tax purposes.

Q. I am going to school under the educational provisions of the G-I Bill and would like to know whether I have to get prior approval from VA if I wish to change my course?

A. If you are studying in a public high school or college, you no longer will need prior approval from VA before changing your course. The change now may be approved by your school.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Goodnight returned Thursday from Fort Worth, where they had visited for two weeks with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Vince Thompson and daughters. Judith Thompson, older of the two girls, returned for an extended visit with her grandparents.

The Buck Creek Philosopher

J. A Intends to Put Road Building Candidates on the Spot

Editor's note: The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek has a pretty good plan, but we doubt if he gets anywhere with it.

I been notice in the copies of the newspapers I've picked up lately out here that the state candidates are busy again and the promisin business is boom.

Now there ain't nothin' wrong with promisin, done a lot of it myself, I'm in favor of it, keeps a man lookin' to the future and a woman from throwin a skillet in lots of instances, but I have been thinkin.

I remember as plain as if it was yesterday that two years ago every candidate for office was gonna pave thousands of miles of country roads, but I can't get to town any better now when it rains than my grandfather could. And since I notice the candidates are promisin more roads again this year, I have hit on a plan, and will appreciate you joinin me.

When a candidate tells me he's gonna gravel so many miles of country roads in the state and pave so many others, I intend to compliment him and then pin him down.

"WHERE you gonna build them roads?" is gonna be my next question.

When he starts to say he will consult with the engineers and draw up plans and map out the details and point a special committee, I'm gonna pull out a map right then and invite him to sit down on a rock and take a pencil and draw off just exactly where he's gonna build them roads.

I'd rather have the promise of a road than no promise, I reckon, don't make no difference if the mud is just as deep either way, but I'm sort of tired of them vague, over-all promises that gets everybody to believin a road is gonna come by their mail box and it winds up bein built in the north end of some county 200 miles away.

What I want to know of all the promisin candidates from now on is just one thing, WHERE you gonna build them roads, after which I can do some intelligent rovin.

And if everybody else in the country would join me, we might get the candidates pinned down to committin themselves to a definite, down-in-black-and-white set of roads just roads implied with a sweep of the hand and a thrust-out jaw. There just ain't no satisfaction left in hearin a candidate promise thousands of miles of roads and millions of dollars. All I want to know is he gonna pave my road from my mail box to the highway.

Sweet Sudan Ideal Summer Pasture

COLLEGE STATION — Permanent pastures change from cool, fresh, dark green grazing in the spring to a dry, stemmy, dormant condition in the summer. It's fine today, but tomorrow or the next day or some time next summer, it will be a different story. In the late summer the permanent pasture grasses are not as good eating for the livestock as they are now. Then is the time the cattle want something besides the dry, brittle grass. Then is the time for sweet sudan, says E. A. Miller, extension agronomist of Texas A. & M. College.

Sweet sudan is the ideal grass for temporary summer pasture. It is adapted generally throughout the Texas croplands, and can be planted from spring to early summer, depending upon the moisture. Cross-fencing for rotation grazing and for cutting any surplus for hay or silage is well worth while.

Johnson grass, even though it lives from year to year, grows better if it is cultivated, fertilized and has good grazing management. A good grazing combination is Johnson grass and sweet clover.

There are four general steps in growing sweet sudan: (1) prepare your land the same as for other crops, (2) apply 200 to 300 pounds per acre of 5-10-5 commercial fertilizer before or at planting time in the humid sections of Texas. In addition to the 5-10-5 it is well to make one or two top dressings of ammonium nitrate or other good nitrogen fertilizer. (3) plant about 10 pounds of seed per acre in rows and (4) cultivate as other row crops.

When the pastures are at their best, that is the time to plant more. The best way to have high producing, year-round grazing is to plan ahead, so that new grasses are ready for grazing when today's grasses in permanent pastures are passing on beyond their peak production.

The permanent pastures and native grasses furnish the best grazing about this time of year. With the coming of the drier, hotter summer months, the present pastures will begin to fade and will need a rest from grazing. If planted now, sweet sudan will keep the livestock on their upward swing of gains.

Sweet sudan is one of the most practical temporary summer pasture crops in the South. Planted at this season, it can be grazed when the sod pastures are on their way out. And it often gives fresh grazing until late fall. Sweet sudan grass is leafier, heavier yielding, more palatable and the livestock like it better than common sudan. Another good point in favor of sweet sudan is that it is more resistant to leaf diseases, and therefore stays greener longer than common sudan.

Sudan is popular because it will

People do a lot of talking about the "standard of living" making comparisons with other parts of the world, as well as of the present compared with the past.

Any standard of living is geared directly to the efficiency of the workers of the nation, whether the work is done by brawn or brains, by hand or machinery. If with machinery, then the matter of "capital," or more properly, money invested in tools and machines, is involved.

The first place to look for a comparable standard is on the farms of a country, for there is the source of food and of some of the essential raw materials of other phases of living—fiber for clothing, for example.

So we'll take a look at the "standard of living" on Texas farms. Texas farmers own and use 180,000 tractors for pulling their plows, planters, tillage and harvesting tools. As of 1945, the last official farm census, Texas farmers had 261,725 radios, and 141,815 of them had modern plumbing in their homes. Along with the "running water," most of their wives had home laundry equipment, and 157,383 used electricity for operating their gadgets.

Since the last census, Texas farmers have had two very fine crop years, with farm products selling at all time highs. It's any-

The door of hospitality stood open in one of the loveliest homes in Hereford Sunday afternoon when Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Cagle held open house in the recently purchased parsonage for the First Baptist Church.

A galaxy of flowers in all types and colors were arranged to blend with colors and furnishings in the various rooms. Rev. and Mrs. Cagle and their daughter, Nancy received their guests and escorted them about the house and last to the dining room, where Bob Lawrence, educational director of the church, presided at the guest register—Jimmie Gillentine in The Hereford Brand.

• Shamrock Church Builds

Down goes the old parsonage and up comes the new one, stated an article in last Sunday's mimeographed bulletin of the First Methodist Church.

Fourteen preachers and their families have lived in the Methodist parsonage, located just north of the church building in the 500 block of North Madden Street.

Plans for the old parsonage were drawn by Mrs. E. L. Woodley in 1911. At first the structure consisted of only four rooms, but as the years went by, it took on a different appearance as additions were made—Arval Montgomery in The Shamrock Texan.

Double Wedding Vows Unite Couples

Double wedding vows were read in Wellington by Judge Hite Sunday morning, June 6, uniting in marriage Enoice Winders, Childress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Evans of Wellington, and James L. Madison of Childress, and Ruby Hendricks of Childress to James L. Allison also of that city. Witnesses to the ceremony were Virginia Evans and Kinyard Pooteet of Wellington and Olan Brown and Vertie Mae Gurley of Childress.

Former Local Resident Marries in Midland

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cooper Sr., Midland, formerly of Wellington, announce the marriage of their daughter, Lois, to Paul A. Prothro, son of the Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Prothro, Robeline, La. The Rev. A. L. Teaff, pastor of Midland's Calvary Baptist Church, read the double-ring ceremony recently in the home of the bride's parents.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a grey crepe dress fashioned with French lace trim and rose accessories, accented with an orchid corsage.

Her sister, Mrs. Frank Reynolds, the bride's only attendant, was attired in a pink linen dress with white embroidery and a corsage of yellow rosebuds. Johnny Cooper, brother of the bride, attended as best man.

The ceremony was performed before an improvised altar banked with pink carnations and white gladioli, accented with fern.

A reception was held in the home immediately following the ceremony. The bride's mother, attired in a pink crepe dress with a white and blue iris corsage, assisted at the lace-covered dining table which was centered with a two-tiered wedding cake flanked with pink rosebud arrangements. Mrs. A. B. Cooper Jr., served the cake.

The bride, a graduate of Wellington High School, was employed at the time of her marriage by Dr. H. Glen Walker, Midland. Mrs. Prothro is a former employee of the Jones-Watkins Clinic in Wellington.

The bridegroom, an employee of The Texas Oil Company, is a graduate of Robeline High School, and served three years in the Army as a staff sergeant.

Barbara Brickey, Honoree At Farwell Party Recently

Your International Harvester Dealer

Wellington, Texas

Howdy, folks.

Last Friday, W. E. Smith, International Harvester representative, and I went out to Floyd McIntush's place for a short visit. Floyd bought a big 8-can International milk cooler from us to get us to go home so he could start milking his 30-cow herd. This cooler will be delivered in a few days, and Floyd is planning to build a new dairy barn around it and the McCormick-Deering milking machine he has been using for the last three or four years.

Lester Harwell took out a new Dempster 8-foot field cultivator Saturday. We just got these in last week, but I sold a number of them around Dodson when I was International dealer there, and know they're all right. The 8-foot size has seven spring shanks for chisels or 16-inch sweeps, and the plow is so built, and such light draft, that it does a good job in wheat stubble behind a Model H or similar size tractor. Mounted on rubber tires, and with its own power lift, it sells at $257.50, and can be made into a 10-foot size for only $30 extra.

The new INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER HOME REFRIGERATOR is here NOW. Don't buy any electric refrigerator until you've seen it, and given us a chance to show you why it's a better buy.

It's been a busy week for most folks. We sold planter parts—all the way from a seed spring to complete boxes to Cecil Shanks, Clyde Emmert, Doyle Cochran, J. P. Sullivan, Jack Phipps, Fred Boyd, E. W. Bennett, S. I. Beattie, A. V. Cooke, Billie Ueslton, Homer C. Norman, George Howard, J. L. Sanders, B. Hamman, Fred Covey, L. F. Watts, W. E. Somerville, Herbert Bearden, D. B. Vaughan, G. E. Van Pelt, Joe Amerson, Roy Thomason, Ernest Nunneley, A. M. Oldham, Zook Thomas, Robert Johnson, Jake Tarter, Z. J. Neeley, Austin White, Lee Roark, V. K. Orr, Fred Yarbrough, Frank Coleman Jr., E. W. Carter, A. L. Duncan, Steve Gaither, Harold Keller, T. D. Nored, J. C. East.

Very SHORT delays when breakdowns occur on Farmall tractors—as they will on ANY brand of tractor—have saved Collingsworth County farmers a lot of money and grief. Some who last week had tractor trouble, came here and found the parts they needed, and got back into the field in a short time are A. C. Shipley, V. B. Allred, Joe Baumgardner, W. W. Oldham, B. M. Shields, Lee Roark, G. C. Pettitt, Lee Minyard, Harve Taylor, Jim Woods, Sid Rogers, W. C. Roberson, R. D. Jones, Horace Small, J. V. Emmert, Barney Cook, G. E. Van Pelt, Hayden Williams, Barney Glenn, Gilroy Rummell, Cecil Lockhart, Kelley White, Loal King, Fred Braxton, Loren Thompson, Lester Harwell, J. L. Dangley, Osa Black, J. P. Sullivan, A. L. Duncan and others.

J. P. Guthrie bought some International parts to go on his Ford cultivator the other day.

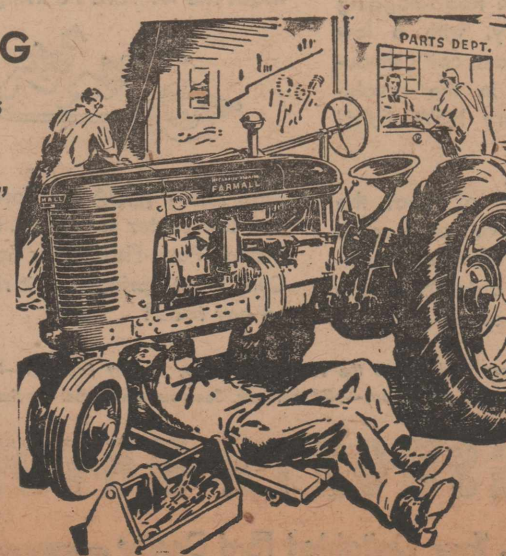

ANYTHING

from a Set of Plugs

"Major Operation"

AT THE first sign of an ailing tractor, call on us and get expert, professional care. Farm machines are our business and we do our best to keep the greatest possible number of them in good running condition. Call on us—for anything from a set of plugs to a "major operation."

More and more tractor owners are finding our shop the best place to get Farmall service, with Genuine Farmall parts put on and adjusted by mechanics who are Farmall specialists. In the shop these last few days for jobs from minor to major were J. F. Moody, Floyd Duke, John Jones, Elvis Crawley, R. B. Scott, Tom Butler, W. H. Kutch, Willie West, J. A. Coleman, Fred Covey, H. P. Forbis, Three Cookes, H. A. Painter, Jake Tarter, Alvin Horton, Sam Berryman.

W. L. Needham bought two tractor umbrellas last week, Loren Thompson one, and W. F. Vaughan one. The sun is bearing down these days—a shady spot that follows you right up and down the rows is worth a lot more than it costs. Let's fix you up, too.

Spent a very pleasant half hour or so with Al Thomas the other morning when he came in after some parts. I don't believe there is a place in the world where you can meet so many fine, level-headed, straight-thinking people as Collingsworth County.

A few gentle hints last week brought me an invitation from John Jones to come out and visit him at his place. I found out a long time ago the best way to learn things was to talk to men who are smarter than I am. It is both pleasant and profitable to talk to John.

Willie Smith was in after some combine parts the other morning. Combines do not make money while their owners are phoning around over the country hunting parts. Come here first—we're liable to have what you need.

When a farmer is right in the middle of one of his rush seasons, and something breaks, he is in trouble. We have gathered up about $45,000 worth of repair parts in this store to help get him out of that trouble—IF he farms with International Harvester machinery or drives an International truck. For two or three reasons, it makes me feel mighty bad when a man using some OTHER brand of machinery comes here to see if maybe we have something he can use to replace a broken or worn part, because IHC parts seldom fit any other brand of machine, and I have to watch him walk off dejectedly to try somewhere else. It doesn't do me any good, but it's harder on him.

It is no reflection on the quality of the less well-known brands of farm machinery when parts are hard to find for them. There is probably no better automobile man than the Rolls-Royce, but I doubt if you could buy parts for one closer than New York. There just isn't enough of them used to justify anybody to stock parts for them. And you are in the same boat when you buy some piece of farm machinery of a different brand from any of your neighbors.

The point I am trying to make is that the time to avoid this kind of trouble is BEFORE you buy machine. And don't buy it unless somebody near you has parts in STOCK for it—because there never was a machine made that would need parts sooner or later than you use it. You use it, you need it, you need parts, you need them. The best way to be sure is to buy INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER farm machinery. We don't just PROMISE to keep parts if you'll buy your machine from us—WE ALREADY HAVE THEM.

Barney Glenn was in the store the other day to get some parts for his International side-delivery hay rake.

C. A. Amerson, A. L. Dun Frank Fuson, Floyd McIntush, L. O'Hair, Travis McGuire, Tyson, Sid Rogers and several others were in the store after tractor sweeps, lister shanks last week.

F. C. Fike, hunting International plow, for them in our stock. We got all the other things less than two hours. WAYS do that, TRY.

Lots o'fellers is as broke the day after payday as they wuz th' day before!
