Annual Farm Bureau Chicken Barbecue Set for Sept. 8

The Donley County Farm Bureau will hold its annual chicken barbecue on the evening of September 8 at 6:30 p.m. at the school house at Lelia Lake.

Holly Wood, president of the county organization says that a big crowd is expected and a good program with Senator Andy Rogers and Rep. Will Ehrlie, as the speakers will be the highlight of the evening.

Mr. Wood says that the only requirement for the barbecue is for everyone attending to leave half a chicken per person in your party at the Home Meat Lockers in Clarendon or the Moreman Locker at Hedley. The closing date for receiving chicken halves will be at 6:00 p.m. on Sept. 7. Chickens are to be cut in half and not frozen.

County Agent Flip Breedlove and his crew will start barbecuing the chickens on the morning of Sept. 8 so they will be ready for the evening meal. Everyone is invited whether you are a member of Farm Bureau or not. Just leave one half chicken per person for your party at the designated place before the closing time.

Two Per Cent Sales Tax Effective Friday

The new state 2 per cent sales tax will go into effect Friday, September 1. Right now it is a big mess to figure out just exactly what items are to be taxed and we would be sticking our neck out to list items that are supposed to be taxed.

Most local merchants have a pretty good idea of what they should collect on and until a definite list is published, customers will pay the tax on the items the merchant has listed.

The tax will be collected on the following method:

Amount	Tax
$0.01 to $24	No tax
.25 to .74	.01
.75 to 1.24	.02
1.25 to 1.74	.03
1.75 to 2.24	.04

For each additional 50c of purchase, or fraction, there is an additional 1c tax.

Another big problem for merchants is the added bookkeeping that the tax will require as the law says you must collect the tax or be responsible for same out of your own pocket.

REBEKAH POT LUCK SUPPER SLATED FOR TUESDAY

Members of the Rebekah Lodge will hold their usual Pot Luck Supper at the Lodge Hall Tuesday evening, September 5. Serving time will be 6:30 p.m. with the usual charge of 75c per plate.

Dove Season to Open Friday Noon

Nimrods of the area will be polishing up their guns in preparation of the fall hunting season which will get under way Friday noon with the opening of Dove season.

Walter D. Hicks, state game warden for Donley, Hall and Childress counties, reported that the bag limit would be 15 with 30 as the possession limit. Hunting hours will be from 12 noon 'til sunset. All shotguns must be plugged to hold not over 3 shells.

A hunting license is not required of anyone under 17 or over 65 years of age if they hunt inside their home county, otherwise hunters who are in the 17 to 65 bracket who venture away from home should have their state license. Hunters are warned to have permission to hunt on any piece of property other than self-owned. Shooting from public roads is not permitted and will draw a heavy fine if the hunter is caught.

Bronchos Open Football Season With Stinnett Rattlers Here Friday

The 1961 edition of the Clarendon High School Broncho Football team will come out in full dress review at 8:00 o'clock Friday night when the always powerful Stinnett Rattlers invade Broncho Stadium for the opening game of the new season.

Head Coach Tom Jinks and his new assistant, Fred Hedgecoke, have been working with a spirited squad of 36 boys since the opening of fall practice on August 14. They have looked as well as could be expected in two scrimmage sessions with White Deer and Turkey and the coach is a bit more optimistic than usual about his boys this season. Although making no predictions, Coach Jinks stated that all the boys are working hard and each boy, even down to the lightest freshman, is putting out his best in an effort to win a place on the team.

Assistant Coach Hedgecoke will be facing Stinnett as an opponent for the first time. He is a former Rattler himself and was a regular on the 1956 Stinnett team that rolled over 15 opponents in winning the State Class A Championship. That was the year that the Rattlers defeated the Bronchos twice; in the opening game of the season and in the bi-district game when the teams met after winning their respective district crowns. He went on to become a star end at West Texas State College and was a regular during the seasons of 1958, 1959 and 1960. He was selected on the All Border Conference second team in 1959. The popular athlete graduated this past spring with a physical education major. He is married to the former Miss Connie Head of Pampa.

Public Schools Enroll 640

As of Tuesday of this week the local schools had enrolled a total of 640 students in the white schools. Enrollment figures were not available as yet for the colored school.

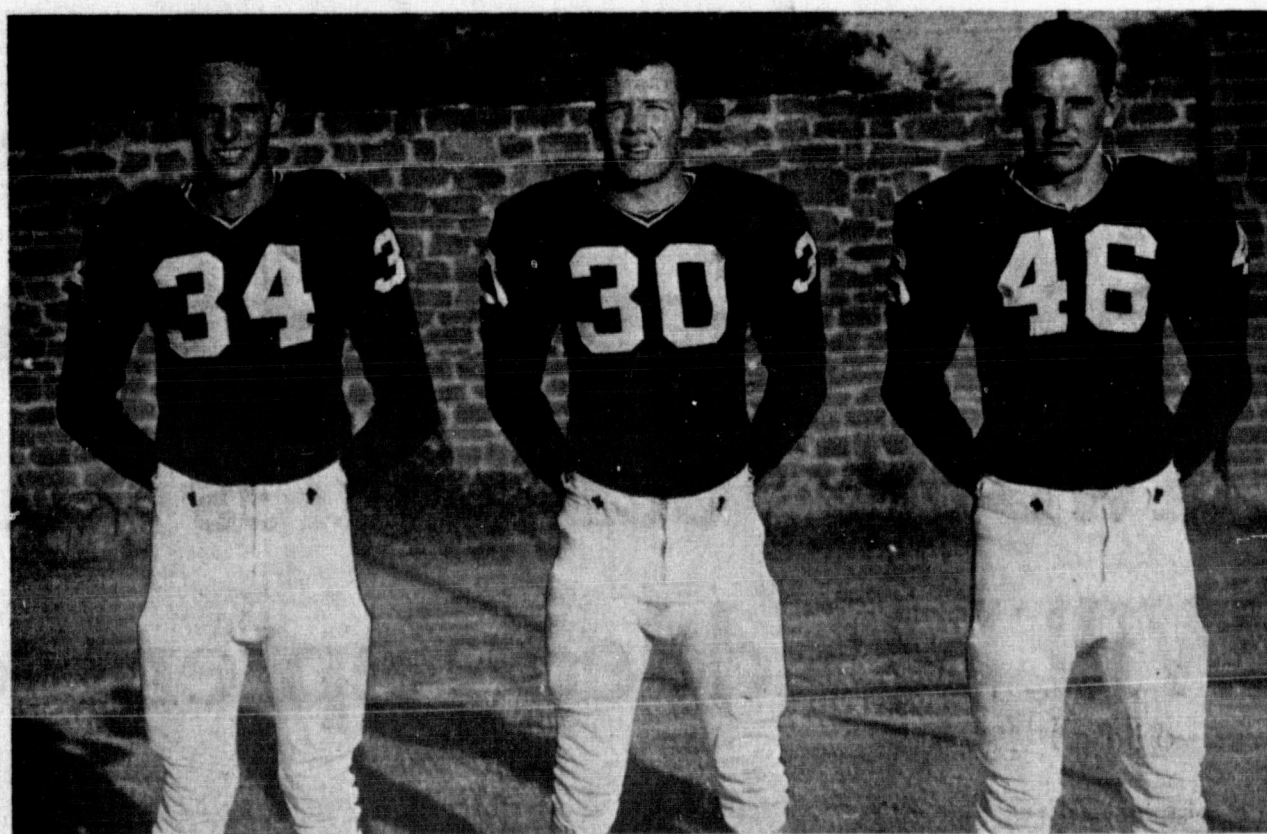

Enrollment in the elementary school was slightly down from last year, according to Principal Stina Cain. The figure this year at present is 440 as compared to 446 at the end of the term last year. Enrollment in the high school is up some this year as a total of 200 students enrolled in high school according to High School Principal Morris Ledger.

The figures by grades are as follows: in the elementary school, first grade, 49; second grade, 63; third grade, 55; fourth grade, 60; fifth grade, 64; sixth grade, 50; seventh grade, 38, and eighth grade, 61. In the high school there were 70 freshmen, 35 sophomores, 42 juniors and 53 seniors.

LELIA LAKE EX-STUDENTS AND TEACHERS TO MEET SAT.

Ex-students and teachers of the Lelia Lake School will gather for Homecoming Saturday, September 2. Richard Finch, president, has announced that a good time has been planned for everyone, including food, entertainment, and games (as well as a real get-together visit for talking over old times.) We are looking for you and your family at 6 p.m. Saturday evening, September 2, this Saturday evening.

BRONCHO TRI-CAPTAINS READY FOR STINETT

Coach Jinks is beginning his sixth year as head man of the Bronchos. He came here as assistant to Ray Moore in 1955 and took over the head coaching job the next year when Moore resigned to go into the local Post Office. Jinks has fielded a fighting team each year but his only district championship came in his first year as head coach, 1956.

The Bronchos will have to be labeled as definite underdogs in this first game with Stinnett. The Rattlers fashioned a 13-1 season last year, losing to Albany by a score of 9 to 6 in the semi-finals of the state play-offs. Albany went on to win the state title the next game. Coach Don Light of the Rattlers has 14 returning lettermen from last year's team including 195 pound fullback Mayness Gibson who is recognized as one of the best backs in the state. The Rattlers have been tabbed as heavy favorites to win their district again this year, and in a recent poll by the Fort Worth Star Telegram, were picked as the 10th strongest Class A team in the state.

Coach Jinks has listed his probable starting lineup as follows: Ends will be Bill Hermesmyer, 160 pound senior letterman, and John Cearley, 140 pound junior letterman; tackles, Charles Stout, 195 pound junior letterman and Leon Gibbs, 160 pound senior letterman; guards, Billy Hearne, 135 pound junior letterman and Frank Hermesmyer, 145 pound senior letterman. At center will probably be Mike Heath, 220 pound junior who played on the B team during his freshman season but did not play last year. At quarterback will be Dwight McAnear, 145 pound junior letterman; halfbacks are Jim Robinson, 150 pound senior letterman and Garry Campbell, 135 pound junior letterman and at fullback will be Jerry Elmore, 150 pound junior letterman.

Other boys who are being counted upon heavily to see action, and some of them may break into the starting lineup by Friday night, are Danny Ray, Robin Green, Ted Shaller, David Hudgins, Steve Richerson, Steve Shelton, Charlie Slavin, Larry Gray, David McBrayer, Rocky Carter, Johnny Longan and Shelby Bell.

The Bronchos of Clarendon have yet to defeat a Stinnett team. They have been playing each year since 1955. They have met on the gridiron seven times during the past six years and the Rattlers hold all the victories. However, during that six year span, the Rattlers have perhaps the most impressive won-lost record of any team in the state.

Coach Jinks stated that he feels that his boys are ready to play a fine game and that he hopes the fans will come out and support the team.

LITTERING OF HIGHWAYS TERMED THOUGHTLESS

"You can't take it with you." That's the thoughtless attitude of the "litterbug," who leaves a trail of trash behind on Texas highways and Roadside Parks.

The Texas Highway Dept. asks that you do "take it with you" when traveling, said State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer.

"Summer is the time of year when Texans and their families enjoy the outdoors to the fullest," Greer noted. "We encourage motorists to enjoy using our highways and Roadside Parks — but please leave them clean for the enjoyment of others."

Greer urged motorists to follow these simple rules to stamp out litter:

—Set a good example for your children and neighbors by always disposing of trash in a proper receptacle and carrying a litter-bag in your car.

—Aid your local civic organizations in making people aware of the need to keep Texas highways beautiful by "stowing" trash, not throwing it.

—Enjoy the picnicking facilities of Roadside Parks but leave them clean for the next visitor.

Greer commented that a large percentage of the litterbugs are not out-of-state tourists but are Texas residents. "I am afraid that many of our litterbugs are local citizens," he said. "They simply do not think of the consequences of throwing out an empty pack of cigarettes, a napkin, or a bottle and how these items, multiplied by the thousands of motorists who use our highways each day, can destroy the scenic qualities of our highway network."

He pinpointed bottles as the "triple threat" of highway litter. "First, they are the hardest items to pick up among the litter; second, they often break when thrown from a car window and can cause slashed automobile tires or injuries to people who step on them; third, they can be the origin of grass fires caused by the summer sun's rays."

He said the litter problem is especially acute in Texas' 1,000 Roadside Parks during the summer months when they are heavily used. "We provide disposal units at these parks and ask that they be used."

BLWIN' Out the CORNERS by Uncle Zeb

"A Shittail To Hang To" was the perfect title to the book about Cal Farley and Boys Ranch. It seemed equally as appropriate for a slogan to advertise the annual rodeo coming up on the Labor Day week-end. It would take a lot more than just a shittail for me to stay on even a pretty weak little yearling. But we have talked with the boys and there is no greater thrill which comes to them than this opportunity to prove to the people that their home has the makings of a full-fledged ranch. It seems to hold the keynote to their interest from one year until the next.

It may take more than a shit-tail to hold to in the case of wild yearlings and bucking horses, but this shittail has been enough to keep the hundreds of boys who have been passed through some years at the ranch on the straight and narrow path. They have been trained in how to take a fall with the least amount of danger. Most of them have taken a fall along the path-way of life and have been shown the way to ride on top again. All this because someone helped give them a shittail to hang to. First there was a person, then an idea, then a plan, then folks everywhere to help furnish the shittail.

We remember a conversation with Mr. Farley in which he made a statement something like the following, "When a boy fails to make the grade, I never feel that he has failed, but that myself and the staff has. When you are breaking a horse, you don't quit because he throws you once. You keep on until you find a way to do the job. It's the same with a boy." We believe that this attitude toward the job to be done, has been the greatest single factor in making the Ranch one of the best "shittails to hang to" that we know anything about. Hold on tight Little Cowboys.

Good Neighbors are just about the best thing which can happen to any neighborhood. To know that they are there in case you need them is pretty wonderful. But, when you do need help and they come in bunches to do their bit then we really know their worth.

When sickness and death comes to one home in the neighborhood it seems to touch off a flood of kind deeds. Even though most members of the family may not be in the mood for eating each dish of food brought in by the neighbors carries with it a wealth of meaning and understanding.

Speaking of "being neighbors" we have a request from a shut-in friend for a copy of the poem entitled, "Myself." It begins something like this: I don't want to live with myself and so, I don't want to hide on a closet shelf.

A lot of secrets about myself, And fool myself as I come and go Into thinking no one will ever know.

If you have a copy of the above poem, please send it to me and we will send it along to this kind neighbor hundreds of miles away. The above quote may not be entirely correct.

We wouldn't tell the following on one of my uncles, except for the fact that he lives 'way down in eastern Oklahoma, and no one can likely tell him off. He pre-tends to know a lot about women which we doubt. He says, "No matter how large a woman gets, she never weighs very much; and no matter how long she has lived, she is never very old." I'm glad that he said that, and not me.

WORK makes life worthwhile. This is certainly true when we are doing a job we love. The personal satisfaction of doing a good job at our vocation is a joy hard to equal. To provide for our family by our labors lends that touch of importance to living which any man needs.

The other day we received a letter from some young friends who are operating a vacation lodge. Their love was in the work they were doing. We thought about how that being in love with our work could almost make a vacation out of working days. One paragraph from their letter read as follows:

"We have been busy as bees which is exactly what we want. Are having a wonderful time. I can't really believe what we are doing comes under the heading of work. We love it so." We happened to know that this young couple work long hours at the job of taking care of their guests. But the love for that work took out all the drudgery from the job.

We remember a little old lady who lived neighbors to us back in South Texas. All the day and into the night she would work at something. She lived by the saying that "work never hurt anyone." If she sat down for a visit she would perhaps be knitting a pair of socks. She would pick little spots of cotton which had been left and separate the lint from the seed by hand. The lint she would use in a quilt. She would follow the peanut thresher and get the waste. Many pioneer ladies likely done the same and seemingly loved every minute of life.

We have heard that more machinery ruins from rust than from use. This can be true with life. And honest labor at a job we like will make our role in life more important and meaningful.

SNAGGING AND JERKING FISH NOW FORBIDDEN

House Simple Resolution No. 69, passed by the First Called Session of the 57th Legislature, calls for arrest and prosecution of anyone caught taking fish by means of snagging or jerking.

Notice of this resolution has been sent out to all game wardens by Captain E. M. Spott, director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

"It is our duty to carry out the will of the Legislature, in strictly enforcing the law providing such methods to be illegal," he says.

The taking of fish by snagging has been prevalent in the tail race waters below many of the major impoundments of the state.

OF DEVELOPMENT STARTED

In line with Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman's recent announcement that the Rural Areas Development program had reached the operational stage, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service has held orientation meetings on the program in east and northeast districts of the state.

It is in this section of Texas, said Frank Sheppard, extension resource development specialist, that most of the announced eligible counties are located. He pointed out that some 40 of these counties were listed because they had either been participating since 1950 in the rural development program or had indicated a desire to do so. Other counties were added to the state list on the basis of farm income figures. He said other counties may be added to the eligible list and some of those now on the list may not be able to qualify for federal grants and loans under the program.

Sheppard said the new program as outlined under Public Law 87-27 is not a give-away deal and that it was hoped that local and private funds would be used extensively to supplement any loans or grants.

He emphasized that the program is strictly up to local leaders and interest. It is, he said, the responsibility of the State Agricultural Extension Services to provide the organizational and educational leadership in setting up development committees to handle the program from the local to the state level. Also, provide educational assistance, local leaders and private groups with regards to total economic development programs with counties or areas.

Much progress, he concluded, has been made under the rural development program and projects now ready for operation may be able to qualify for loans or grants.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

There has been an awful lot said and written about William T. Smith and his Cadillac paid for by the government for doing nothing, he says.

The letters-to-the-editor in most of the farm magazines we read are with him nine-to-one. Not so much for him taking the money and buying a Cadillac, as using that means to show up this whole fantastic farm program. It continues to make the rich man richer and the poor man poorer.

When I was a child it was hampered into our head that the Republicans were the ones that were for the rich, and the Democrats were the poor man's party.

One irate farmer from Sandusky, Mich., says, a lot of the land in the Soil Bank is land on which we couldn't raise a disturbance, much less a good crop of corn.

Others are using their feed grain money for roofing, building, fencing, year-old feed bills, but no Cadillacs.

There's trouble everywhere though, Orville Freeman has "lost" 4 1/2 million acres of land and the fiasco is costing you and me $150 million.

In explaining the deal to the Senate, Senator John Williams (R-Del.) compared the transaction to the standard joke about slickers selling the Brooklyn Bridge. "But at least there was a bridge, he says.

Seems as the Secretary of Agriculture has paid for the retirement of 20 million acres of corn-producing land from this year's production, he has actually obtained a reduction of only 15,379,000 acres. There are 4 1/2 million phantom acres from 1961 corn production already paid for.

Who are these people, and why is this system of bookkeeping all right for the government and not for the ones who have to pay it?

Just to show you how big a piece of real estate this is, it represents an area larger than the combined total of all the harvested cropland (corn acreage as well as acreage of all other types of crops) in the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, Delaware and West Virginia.

We haven't read very much about this, but then guess we were not supposed to know it. If we fail to send in $1.98 in income tax, a reminder with interest is always right behind.

Miss Marjory Marr played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. William Owsley, Jr., and Mrs. David Yoltan, who gave vocal selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candelight peau de soie with a tiered illusion veil held by a filigreed tiara of pearls and brilliants. The fitted princess bodice was finished with a decollete neckline enhanced by scalloped appliques of alencon lace and long petal point sleeves. Garland appliques of lace on the front of the bodice extended down the sides of the bell-shaped skirt and accented the cathedral length train. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley on a white Bible.

Mrs. Thomas Cook of San Antonio was matron of honor and Mr. Knorpp attended his son as best man.

Bridesmaids were Miss Do Anna Elkins of New Orleans, Miss Mary Pat Moffitt of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Gene Earl Alderson of Clarendon.

PATROL TO CONCENTRATE EFFORT ON LABOR DAY WEEKEND HOLIDAYS

Captain J. W. Blackwell, Highway Patrol Commander in this area, today announced that traffic law violators will be severely dealt with during the Labor Day weekend.

Captain Blackwell said, "The regular Highway Patrol service will be augmented with Patrolmen from the License and Weight and Motor Vehicle Inspection services. All days off and holiday leaves have been canceled for this period enabling a concentrated effort by the Patrolmen to be watchful for violations that contribute to accidents."

Operation Motorcade, from 12:01 a.m. Saturday, September 2, through 11:59 p.m. Monday, September 4, 1961, will be in effect. "During this 72 hour period an all out effort will be made by our enforcement personnel to hold the official traffic death prediction of 30 persons to a minimum. All available radar units will be in operation, with instructions being given to our Patrolmen to be particularly watchful for the speeder and the drinking driver," Blackwell stated.

Captain Blackwell advised all motorists to take plenty of time, rest, and use defensive driving practices, regardless of the length of your trip. Do not forget that fatigue is a resulting factor from long trips without proper rest and contributes to accidents. A tired driver may wake up "dead tired," Blackwell cautioned.

LOCAL GROCERYMEN TAKE PART IN LUCKY STRIKE ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN

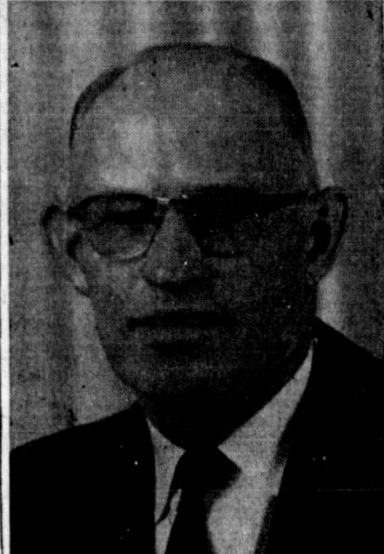

Special displays were set up last week by local grocerymen, tying in with the Advertising Campaign in Texas Weekly Newspapers by the American Tobacco Company. This advertising campaign is featuring the famous Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The slogan in the advertisements is "Get Texas-size taste — Get Luckies today! A report from the distributor of this area shows a sharp increase in Lucky Strike sales which can certainly be attributed to the advertising campaign in Texas Weekly News-

NIGHT SCHOOL SCHEDULES ADDITIONAL COURSES

In the fall of 1958, Clarendon Junior College established an Adult Education Program as a branch of the College. This program carries the label of Night School.

The installation of the Night School program was a bold and courageous effort on the part of the college administration to serve the youth and adults of this area with the following three types of courses.

The Night School Program is designed: (1) To offer courses required of those who seek a college degree, teacher certification, or vocational competency. (2) To offer courses that will aid the adult in achieving the cultural, social, artistic, and religious desires and goals they have hoped many times they could pursue. (3) To offer vocational courses which improve the individual's ability on the job he or she now holds; which will aid the individual in choosing a field of employment that will be satisfying; which will prepare the adult (who has been denied educational opportunities) for an employable future in a chosen field.

Each year since the installation of this program the enrollment has shown increases and Dean Abel reports that more inquiries, demands and applications have been received to date than any previous term or summer.

In order to meet these demands, the Dean has scheduled more course offerings for the first semester than any previous term.

The Dean of the College and the Director of the Night School urges you to study the following list of course offerings which will be staffed and taught if a minimum of 10 students or more register for the course.

Gov. Price Daniel, pointing to the record of most other states that have a general sales tax, warns Texans that without concerted efforts to shave state spending the Texas tax could grow to three or four per cent in the future.

More than that, he said, unless there is "prudent economy and reorganization of state funds and services," a state income tax might become law.

To make his point, Governor Daniel reported that two-thirds of the 34 states that have general sales taxes have increased the rate to three per cent or more, and there are now four states charging a four per cent sales tax.

He again made clear his dislike for the two per cent Texas tax, but added:

"So much for the good and bad which will result from the new tax bill. On September 1, it will be the law of our state, and as long as the law is in effect, it behooves all of us, whether we like it or not, to cooperate in its enforcement. This I shall do, and I believe every good citizen will do likewise."

Meanwhile State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert is being swamped with questions about the new tax. After checking with other states which have pioneered in this field, he has become reconciled to the likelihood that confusion will reign for some time to come. A spokesman for his office pointed out that "California and Illinois got a sales tax in 1933, and they're still issuing rulings."

The Texas Research League has noted that the tax exempts sales of animals ordinarily eaten by humans. Also feed for such animals. Exempt too are seeds and plants edible by humans and raised for sale, fungicides and insecticides for such plants, and fertilizer used on lands where such food is grown.

MORE WORK FOR NEXT SESSION — Governor Daniel has found several more items to be submitted to the next special session of the Legislature. He plans to call the lawmakers back to Austin again before the end of the year.

Daniel's expanding package now includes maintenance funds for farm roads, loan shark control, municipal annexation, tourist attraction, lobbyist controls, adding banks to the abandoned property seizure law, improved law enforcement measures, and action on juvenile crime.

"As long as Texas continues to grow," he said, "there will be more problems to solve, but there are some which should not be delayed. It will be my aim to meet the most urgent of these later this year or in January of next year."

Governor Daniel vetoed the second year appropriation of $15,000,000 for construction of new farm-to-market roads, in an effort to free these funds for maintenance. The $15,000,000 for this purpose for the first year of the second biennium was not affected.

A law passed in 1949 provides for the use of this yearly amount for new construction. But the Governor insists, "It is just as important to maintain our vast and important 33,000 mile farm road system as it is to build new roads. Maintenance costs, now amounting to $18,000,000 annually, are taken from the basic intrastate highway fund which is the poorest of all department programs."

BLUE LAW CONFUSION — Under the new Texas "Blue Law," shopping for certain items on Saturday or Sunday may prove a chore.

The law that started out as a device to hit the discount houses operating on Sunday was changed to include Saturday as an alternate because the lawmakers felt a straight Sunday closing law might appear discriminatory to some religious groups who observe the Sabbath on other days.

Included in the list of items merchants are not allowed to sell on one of the two weekend days are lawn mowers, toys, motor vehicles, clothing, furniture, kitchen utensils, air conditioners, home appliances, jewelry, cameras, radios and television sets.

The law has teeth — a fine of $100 is provided for the first conviction, going up to $500 and six months in jail for subsequent convictions.

SELLING TEXAS IS BIG JOB — The State Industrial Commission, given $100,000 by the Legislature and charged with the duty of selling Texas as the place for industries to locate, faces a challenge.

Chairman E. B. Germany told the commission, "It is a challenge to make that $100,000 do what it is supposed to do even though it is not enough to do what we want to do."

Executive Director Walter Dickerson reported 3,000 copies of a brochure entitled "Texas: A Strategic Location" have been printed. Brochure will be distributed to a "very carefully selected group of people who have responsibility for making decisions," says Dickerson.

He appealed to Texas cities to contribute information for the commission's industrial surveys. Such information would be kept on file for the use of industrialists considering Texas sites. This would make it possible for industrialists to choose an area without it being known in advance.

ATHLETICS NOT SELF-SUPPORTING — State college and university athletic programs, with few exceptions, are not self-supporting, says State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

He made the statement in connection with a report on the operations of Sul Ross State College at Alpine where the athletic program showed a $26,357 loss for the year. Income was $56,245, while expenditures amounted to $80,136.

Cavness noted that athletic scholarships and coaching salaries have been paid from educational and general funds.

HIKED TRAIN FARES ASKED — On September 6 the Texas Railroad Commission will consider the request for increased passenger rail coach fares of five railway companies operating in Texas.

Companies asking for the hike in fare included Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company, Fort Worth and Denver Railway Company, Gulf, Colerado and Santa Fe Railway Company, Missouri - Kansas - Texas Railroad Company, and Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Company.

DUCK HUNTING SEASON SET — Ducks will be fair game in Texas beginning at noon on November 18 and ending at sundown December 27, says Howard Dodgen, Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

Bag limit will be three ducks per day and six in possession. There will be no open season on redheads, canvasbacks and black belly tree ducks.

Open season on geese will be from sunrise to sunset from November 3 to January 1. Bag limit is five, restricted to one speckled goose and one honker; or two honkers and no specs; plus an aggregate of three snows and/or blue.

LABOR DAY TRAFFIC DANGEROUS — Governor Daniel has called for an all-out effort to make this Labor Day weekend the safest ever recorded in Texas.

He has issued a special appeal to sheriffs and police chiefs across the state to join with the Texas Department of Public Safety in a special emphasis program designed to remove law violators from the highways.

Statistics indicate most fatal accidents involve at least one violation of the law, with excessive speed and driving while drinking the leading causative factors.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS Director, earlier announced that some 150 extra patrolmen from the department's other uniformed services will join the regular Highway Patrol force for the three-day holiday during which, it is predicted, 30 Texans will be killed in traffic crashes.

DAIRY MERIT EXPRESSES EFFICIENCY OF COW

The real efficiency of a dairy cow can be expressed as the percentage of digested feed nutrients which appears in the milk pail. This method of expressing dairy cow efficiency is often referred to as dairy merit.

A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman, says there is no question that, other conditions being equal, the larger cow will produce more total milk than the smaller one. A practical question is whether, on the average, enough more yield is realized per unit increase in weight to increase profits in dairying. A recent study by researchers at Washington State University found that regardless of which breed of dairy cattle is involved, individual cows of the same breed vary more in size than the average differences between breeds.

The crucial question is whether or not we are actually going to increase dairy merit of any breed by merely increasing size. Average total yield will undoubtedly increase, but will this be enough to give a greater profit after the extra feed for maintenance and the extra feed for growing to the larger size is accounted for?

Based on the Washington study when only size was considered there was an average increase of 824 lbs. of FCM for each 100-lb. increase in size. When differences due to breed and age of the cow were removed, there was only a 236-lb. increase for each 100-lb. increase in weight. It is very questionable that this amount of increase is enough, on the average, for a larger to prove more profitable than a smaller cow of the same breed, says Meekma.

Several important considerations are apparent from this study; too much attention to increasing size in dairy cows may well result in decreased efficiency; in a given herd the smaller cow may well be the most profitable; and some sires, particularly those in commercial breeding, may be proven and retained for extensive use in favor of other bulls because of superior transmittance of higher production when, in reality, they are only only transmitting increased size and thus the dairy merit of their daughters may well be inferior to smaller daughters of other bulls of the same breed.

Local Telephone to Start New Numbering System Beginning Sept. 16

Local telephone customers will be using a new numbering system beginning Sept. 16, 1961, the date set for distribution of General Telephone Company of the Southwest's 1961 directory.

Known as the All Numerical Calling Plan (ANC), each telephone number will be composed of seven digits. R. L. Brewer, district manager, explained that the new system will replace the more familiar two letter-five number (2L5N) system inaugurated when the telephone industry first launched its long-range program to permit operators and/or customers to dial direct from one city to another.

The present Clarendon prefix is "Triangle." Under the new ANC plan, the "TR" will be replaced by "87." For instance, the Leader's number, which is now TR 4-2043, will become 874-2043.

Brewer pointed out that the 2L5N system is being replaced as rapidly as possible in order that all number combinations appearing on the telephone dial can be utilized.

"The old 2L5N system requires a prefix such as Porter or Cherry," Brewer stated, "however, because no words in the English language begin with the letter combination WG or WY or JK or JL, telephone numbers beginning with 39 or 55 could not be utilized, thereby limiting number assignments."

As the number of customers being assigned 2L5N numbers throughout the nation increased, the necessity of using all possible number combinations on the dial also increased.

"In some areas," Brewer said, "we are running out of possible letter prefixes."

As a result of this realization, a study was undertaken in Wichita Falls, Texas, to determine whether assigning seven-digit telephone numbers proved satisfactory to customers and operators. Conclusion of the extensive study was that the ANC plan not only was satisfactory, but even eliminated some previous dialing errors resulting from confusion between the numeral "1" and the letter "I" and numeral "zero" and the letter "O."

Brewer emphasized that the new numbers represented a "paper-work" change in most instances, since the old "TR" prefix and the new "87" numbers require identical pulls of the dial.

LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

The following is quoted from the Star Telegram. Sale of his latest novel to the Book-of-the-Month Club has placed Al Dewlen of Amarillo in the ranks of the nation's rising young authors. The 39-year-old Dewlen, an ex-newspaperman and former wire service staffer, received word last month that his book, "Twilight of Honor," has been chosen by the Book-of-the-Month Club as its December selection.

Shortly thereafter McGraw-Hill, publisher of the book, announced Dewlen would receive its second annual $10,000 fiction award for the best novel of the year.

The McGraw-Hill editors hailed "Twilight of Honor" as a "powerful and gripping novel" which invites comparison with the best-selling "Anatomy of a Murder." The Texas Panhandle is the locale of the action, as it was in Dewlen's previously published books, "Night of the Tiger" and "The Bonepickers."

"I chose Amarillo as the locale because I lived here," Dewlen said recently in an interview.

"Research time is saved if you know your setting. I wondered if Amarillo was as grown up as its people feel it is."

Today, Dewlen, his pretty wife, Jean, and 17-year-old son, Mike, live in a modest rent house, where the author devotes at least 40 hours a week to writing.

Dewlen was born and grew up in Memphis, Texas. He and his wife, to whom the book is dedicated, were childhood sweethearts.

Dewlen joined the Marines during World War II, serving as a gunner in the 1st Air Wing and seeing action at Okinawa, Bougainville and the Philippines. "It was limited action — the Japs didn't have many planes left," he says.

Author Dewlen worked for the Memphis Democrat, the Amarillo Times, the Amarillo Daily News. He was working for the United Press in Dallas when he quit to devote full time to creative writing.

Dewlen's "Twilight of Honor," laid against the background of a trial, deals with ethics and morality in law practice.

"I have seen books, movies, and television shows, not a one of which treated the subject of law with feeling or reality," the novelist said.

There is a lot more in the article about him and it is in the library for those who want to read it.

Three memorial gifts have been given to the library, dedicated to the memory of Miss Anna Moores.

POND WEEDS CAN BE CONTROLLED

Pond weeds have ruined many a good fishing spot. A heavy growth of annoying weeds can be a real headache, but there are methods of solving such problems, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist.

Careful planning before building a pond can help prevent such a problem. Large areas of shallow water should be avoided because weeds nearly always become a problem in areas where the water is less than about three feet deep. Deeper water reduces the amount of sunlight penetration and thus helps prevent excessive plant growth, Cooper explains.

Weeds that grow beneath the water surface often can be controlled through the use of fertilizers. The fertilizer acts as a stimulant for the growth of microscopic plant and animal life which, in turn, reduces sunlight penetration. Fertilization also helps the fish because they benefit from the increased food production.

If you see that weeds are beginning to infest your pond, act quickly, continues Cooper. If the weeds are considered to be of an undesirable type, they can often be removed mechanically. This includes cutting, pulling, raking and other inexpensive methods. The methods should be employed before the weeds become too well established.

In recent years, chemicals which can be used to control many types of pond weeds have been developed. When properly used, they can be effective and safe. Improper use, however, can be dangerous to fish, other wild animals, livestock and humans using the pond water. Since there is no single chemical which is safe and effective in the control of all pond weeds, you must first have the troublesome weed identified. If a chemical can be used, you should follow the instructions very carefully. It is important that you properly apply the right chemical at the correct stage of plant growth, points out Cooper.

Your local county agent can help identify those troublesome weeds, and he can also recommend the proper control measures.

FARM NEWS

From the County ASC Committee

THE BARLEY BED BRAIN PROGRAM

To be eligible for price support for barley, a producer must divert from barley production a part of his barley acreage and use that diverted acreage for conservation. In addition to being eligible for price supports the program provides for payments on the diverted acreage.

The barley base for a farm is the average acreage of barley produced on the farm in 1950 and 1960. Diversion of acreage from barley production to conservation uses will be calculated from the farm barley base.

The smallest number of acres that will qualify a farm as participating is 20 per cent of the farm barley base.

The largest number of acres on a farm that can be diverted from barley production to conservation for payment is the larger of 20 percent of the base or 20 acres plus 20 percent of the base.

If the barley base for a farm is 100 acres or more, the maximum diversion that could be made for payment would be 40 percent of the base.

Payment for diversion of acreage from the farm barley base is based on a percentage of the normal barley yield for the farm, whether the acreage is the minimum or more than the minimum, and the number of acres diverted. For the diverted acres represented by the minimum — the first 20 percent of the base. The payment is figured on 50 percent of the normal yield. For acres representing diversion between 20 percent of the base and 40 percent of the base, 6 percent of the normal yield is used.

All acreages diverted from the farm barley base must be devoted to an approved conservation use. In addition there must be maintained on the farm an acreage in conservation use, including summer fallow and idle cropland, equal to the average acreage of such conservation use on the farm in 1950 or 1960.

COMMUNITY COMMITTEE ELECTION

The community committee election will be held by mail, with the ballots being mailed Sept. 5 and the final date for return being Sept. 15. ASCS committees have charge in administering acreage allotments, marketing quotas, commodity loans, the feed grain program, the Conservation Reserve program, farm storage facility loans and others as assigned by the Secretary of Agriculture. The elections will choose three community committeemen and two alternates. The chairman and vice chairman of the elected ASCS committee will also serve as delegate and alternate to the county convention to be held soon thereafter, where the ASCS county committee will be chosen.

This makes it all the more important that representative farmers be elected to the job.

CONSERVATION RESERVE PROGRAM

Forms CSS-820, Application for Annual Payment, are ready for your signature. At your earliest convenience, please come by the office and sign for payment. If your conservation reserve contract expires December 31, 1961, you may prepare the land at any time and seed to small grains crops to be harvested in 1962. You must have prior approval by the county committee.
