Rousing Call For Hoover Impeachment Smothered

Bombshell Is Dropped Into House Routine

McFadden Charges Executive With High Crimes And Misdemeanors; Persistent Foe Of Administration

Motion Is Tabled

Colleagues Move Quickly To Exact Penalty For Outburst Against President; House Roused From Lethargy

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—A rousing call for impeachment of President Hoover was promptly and emphatically smothered today by a startled house of representatives.

Hardly had Representative McFadden (R., Pa.) severe and persistent critic of the administration, charged the chief executive with high crimes and misdemeanors before the chamber, voting 361 to 8, tabled his motion for impeachment proceedings.

Members Aroused

The Pennsylvanian's move came with an astonishing abruptness that quickly aroused the membership from its lethargic consideration of routine appropriations.

A hum of conversation that filled the chamber subsided as McFadden strode down the center aisle and addressed the chair.

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of constitutional privilege," he said. "On my own responsibility as a member of the house of representatives, I impeach Herbert Hoover president of the United States, for high crimes and misdemeanors."

Offers Resolution

He proceeded to offer a resolution calling for an investigation by the judiciary committee.

The charges on which he would have based the investigation ranged from usurpation of congressional powers in negotiations with foreign countries to an accusation that the chief executive "treated with contumely" the bonus marchers who were in the capital last summer.

Just a year ago, the Republican leadership deprived McFadden of his patronage privileges as punishment for an attack upon the president, his colleagues moved quickly

Texas Leader Dies Tuesday

Daniel E. Garrett Succumbs To Heart Attack; Had Been In Congress 18 Years; Was Elected In 1912

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Representative Daniel E. Garrett of Texas, ranked high by the Democratic party in the house, died in his apartment here today of heart disease.

He had been ill several months, but just had returned from Houston, where he conducted a successful campaign for reelection. Had he been able to serve another term, he would have had 18 years of service in the national legislative branch to his credit. He was 63 years old.

Elected In 1912

Garrett first was elected to congress in 1912, as a member at large from Texas. He was defeated for re-election in 1914, but two years later became the representative of the Houston district.

In the years he had been in congress he advanced to a post on the powerful rules committee that has the final say as to whether much legislation shall be brought before the house. His brother-in-law, Jesse H. Jones, Houston, is a director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Garrett married Jones' sister, Ida, in Tennessee, their native state, before moving to Texas in 1905.

Officers Seeking To Shatter Alibi Set Up By Defendant

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—A complaint charging William James (Curly) Guy, 24, Welsh adventurer, with killing Captain Walter Wanderwell, globe trotter, aboard Wanderwell's yacht, Carma, at Long Beach Monday night, Dec. 4, was issued late today by William Brayton, district attorneys deputy.

Filing of the complaint followed a final conference of Los Angeles and Long Beath authorities and a further check on details of Guy's alibi for the night of December 5 when Wanderwell was shot in the back.

Release Is Blocked

The filing of the charge ended attempts of Guy's attorneys to obtain his release from jail on a writ of habeas corpus which was obtained during the afternoon. It was made returnable tomorrow. A similar writ was obtained for Edward De Larm, friend of Guy, who was detained as material witness.

The district attorney's office said search is being conducted for a new witness reported to have seen Guy at Long Beach the night Wanderwell was killed.

"If we can find this witness, we hope to shatter Guy's alibi," said Deputy District Attorney William H. Brayton. "We also have clues leading to possible discovery of the gun used in the shooting."

Witnesses Called

District Attorney Buron Fitts, who yesterday entered the investigation personally, said he was not convinced one man only was concerned in the shooting, and called all witnesses to his office for another of a long series of interrogations.

De Larm originally told investigators that Guy spent the entire night of December 5 in the De Larm home at Glendale, thirty miles from the pier to which the Carma was moored.

Officers have devoted themselves largely to attacking the story, producing one witness, Ralph Dunlap, De Larm's mechanic, who was quoted as saying Guy left the house "about 9 o'clock." Wanderwell was shot about 9:10 p. m.

Police said they also had state-

Lubbock Seeks Rate Equality With Amarillo

George Roach Appears Before Examiners At Hearing Being Held In Fort Worth; Proposal Draws Fire

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Dec. 13—Equality of Lubbock with Amarillo in specific cases was requested by George M. Roach, president of the Lubbock grain exchange, at the grain rate hearing Tuesday here. The hearing is before two interstate commerce commission examiners and a rate advisor of the Texas railroad commission.

Roach said the Lubbock exchange objects to the five-group division proposed by the Amarillo board of trade because such a set-up would give Amarillo an advantage in trade with Kansas City.

Gives An Advantage

He also objected to the five-group plan because it would give Amarillo a rate advantage in shipping grain sorghums to California, whereas Lubbock is in the center of the largest grain sorghum producing section in Texas.

Roach favors a reduction of 20 to 25 per cent in grain rates and an equalized rate from the Texas Panhandle to Kansas City or gulf points. He wants export and domestic rates kept equal and said he would favor having all of the Texas Panhandle placed in one group, instead of the five groups proposed by the Amarillo board.

O. N. Hughston of the Hughston Grain company, Plano, testified that competition of trucks with railroads is hurting his business. He explained that grain is shipped directly to Dallas by truck instead of being handled through his mill and to Dallas by train.

Abolishment Of Fee System In Texas Is To Be Sought

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 (AP)—The Texas senate fee investigating committee, preparing its report for submission to the 43rd legislature next month, announced today it would recommend a constitutional amendment to abolish the fee system of compensating public officials.

The committee also said that at the same time it would ask enactment of a number of laws to remedy temporarily "the more glaring defects" through which the state treasury is being imposed on.

Bank Payment Will Be Made

Good Christmas News Given To Slaton Bank Depositors As Dividend Is Announced For Closed Institution

Here's good Christmas news for depositors of the closed First State bank at Slaton. Documents, in which an 8 per cent dividend for commercial depositors and a 60 per cent distribution for the savings department were authorized, were filed Tuesday in district court here. Checks will be mailed within a few days.

The 8 per cent settlement will approximate $5,600, the total deposits having been about $70,000. Savings depositors will realize between $1,100 and $1,200, there having been about $2,000 in this department when the bank closed early last year. This is the first settlement, W. R. Chancellor, special agent of James Shaw, banking commissioner, in charge of liquidation of the First State and Slaton State banks, said yesterday.

First settlement from the Slaton State bank was 10 per cent.

Banking Structure Said To Be Much Sounder At End Of '32 Than At Start; Factors For Recovery Are Shown

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—Commanders in the industrial, financial, business and transportation worlds were told tonight by the president of the American Bankers association that the nation's financial outlook has been unmistakably improved.

FRANCIS H SISSON

In addition said Francis H Sisson, head of the bankers organization, there existed the most favorable factors for business recuperation since the boom days of '28.

Sisson spoke at the 35th annual banquet of the Illinois Manufacturers association, the world's largest organization of its kind. In a speech prepared for delivery at the banquet, he analyzed the influences on business and declared the good outweighed the bad.

Banking Structure Sound

"Our banking structure is very much sounder at the close of this year than it was at the beginning of 1932," Sisson said. "It is apparent that the federal reserve banks have successfully withstood the severest test since their creation.

"There is a general appreciation of how thoroughly business and

Winter Eases Its Grip Over Plains

Winter eased its grip on the South Plains Monday only to obtain a firmer hold, it seemed last night, as this section again was sheathed in ice. Temperatures, however, continued in a higher range.

Dropping to 18 degrees early Tuesday morning at the experiment substation, the mercury climbed to a high of 24 degrees in the afternoon. Temperatures ranged evenly last night, Municipal airport reporting the mercury standing at 22 degrees at 7:30 o'clock and again at 10 o'clock.

Sleet began falling here about 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and at times snow and sleet were intermingled and at other times sleet and rain fell. The precipitation stopped soon after nightfall, but the clouds continued to cover the section. An easy northwest wind was blowing.

Snow and rain again are billed for this section today.

Eight Persons Dead After A Night Of Crime In City

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—It was moving day for Chicago's gambling houses and speakeasies today as police, pricked into activity by a night of violent deaths, started to carry out Mayor Anton Cermak's order to close all undesirable places.

Eight persons had been killed in a single night of crime—unfortunate coincidence, Commissioner James P. Allman of the police department called it — blaming the combined miseries of a zero cold wave and widespread unemployment.

Policeman Is Dead

One of the dead was a policeman, shot in an apartment where Mayor Cermak said he understood "an unemployed painter was just trying to make both ends meet by selling home-brew . . . whatever he is, he was running a beer flat."

"It's about time the police themselves start some shooting," Cermak said. "I told the captains there was not one speakeasy in town that they or their men didn't know about. But they had to have a policeman killed to prove what I said was true, that such resorts harbor the worst type of criminals."

While he was directing a tirade against beer flats, the slain policeman's widow herself was testifying at an inquest that it was no speakeasy where her husband was killed and that he was a friend of the unemployed painter.

Most heinous crime of Monday night, perhaps, was the killing of Miss Gertrude Prish, 49, bound and helpless. She was left to suffocate with a gag stuffed in her mouth, and police said they had hopes the pair of young hoodlums who trussed her and her father and robbed them of $3 would be found in the neighborhood.

Fall Before Bullets

Two of the night's dead fell as they fled before police bullets.

Two others were Berwyn policemen, shot dead as they called to serve a warrant on Arthur Lavac charging failure to send his son and daughter to grammar school in the suburb.

This was one of two killings near a solution. Lavac surrendered to the

Unemployed Of Lubbock Hang Around Welfare Hall Just So They Will Be On Hand When Time Comes For Work

BY EVELYN BABB
Avalanche Staff Writer

"WE ARE just hanging around so as to be on hand when they start handing out those work cards," was the general answer coming from the group of 15 or 20 men standing in the hall outside the office of the City-County Welfare association, 1312 Avenue G, Tuesday afternoon.

"Besides, we can get warm in here," one of them explained "Might as well stand in here as out in the snow," another one offered. "I hate to go home cause th' ole lady will be disappointed that I can't start workin' tomorrow."

Lucky To Have Home

"You're lucky you have a home and an ol' lady to go to. Mine left me, th' woman, I mean, when I couldn't get a job last winter." And so the conversation drifted from domestic troubles and the sick babies at home to the free flour the Red Cross is giving away and then to politics and social conditions in general.

Few of the men, shivering in their loose-fitting, moth-ventilated overcoats, realized from where their jobs were coming, nor did they care just so they got work that paid cash. One man suggested that Hoover might be donating the money to the welfare association, only to be squelched with a roar of guffaws.

Clear Weather Awaited

The 'money' is to be provided by the Reconstruction Finance corporation and the work to be done is being planned by the Relief Workers committee. The original announcement was that registration should end Monday and work start Tuesday. Since the work is to be done outdoors it can not start until the weather will permit. Consequently, registration will continue during the next few days after

Here's New Fad In Record Seeking; You'd Better Be Careful In Attempting It

NEW YORK, Dec. 13. (AP)—An open safety pin—the third he has swallowed within a month—was removed today from the throat of Samuel Schwartz, 17.

Schwartz's record of safety pin swallowing began on Nov. 11, when he was attended at the hospital for joint diseases. Six days later he appeared at Lenox Hill hospital and a second pin was removed.

Yesterday he was found lying on a sidewalk and taken to Flower hospital, where examination disclosed the third safety pin. It was lodged, point upward, just below the Adam's apple.

Slaying And Suicide Brought To Light In Finding Of Pair

Sweetheart Of Long Standing Takes Woman's Life And His Own; Both Had Been Missing Since Last Friday

(By The Associated Press)

ORANGE, Tex., Dec. 13.—A slaying and suicide—so styled by a justice of the peace—came to light today with the discovery of the bodies of Miss Lilly Gholson, 29, and Henry Pachar, Jr., 34, her sweetheart of long standing.

Justice L. J. Paul Miller, after the bodies had been found in the under brush off the highway some 12 miles from here, decided Pachar had shot the young woman to death and then had taken his own life. Pachar suffered a nervous breakdown last summer, and the justice presumed a recurrence of the trouble had led to the act.

Pachar and Miss Gholson had been unaccountably missing since last Friday, when he took her into his automobile with the announced intention of teaching her to drive it. Their failure to return led to a widespread search.

Miss Gholson's body was in the rear seat of the machine, and Pachar's was sprawled on the front bumper. Both victims were members of well known Orange families.

Plucky Spider Is Clock's Master

(By The Associated Press)

AKRON, O., Dec. 13.—A small black spider which for three weeks tried to enmesh the hands of an alarm clock in its web was victorious today but at the cost of its own life.

The contest began in C. C. Thompson's home in Barberton, a suburb. The Thompsons discovered the spider between the dial and the face of the clock trying and trying to spin a web around the hands. For three weeks the insect worked at the apparently hopeless task. Each time it spun a strand between the hands, the slowly increasing pressure as the hands moved apart would break the contact.

Today, as the clock was taken apart, the body of the spider rolled out and the clock started ticking again.

Pale But Determined, Man Is Forced To Give Up His Gun And Is Arrested; Page Boy Shouts Warning

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Brandishing a loaded gun, a youthful zealot stood in the house gallery today and terrorized a crowded chamber until disarmed through the calm approach of one of its members.

Bullets were not the only resource in his determination to deliver a speech to the house. After he had been identified as Marlin R. M. Kemmerer, Allentown, Pa., police found two sticks of dynamite in the rooms he occupied here.

First Planned Suicide

Before the 25-year-old department store worker was taken to Gallinger hospital for mental observation, he told police questioners his first intention had been to speak from the gallery and then blow himself up with the dynamite. But for fear of hurting someone else, he decided to hold the house at the point of his gun while speaking.

Had Kemmerer succeeded, not many members would have been there to hear him. A few minutes after a page boy first shouted "look out for the man with the gun" a majority had deserted the floor for the more protected cloakrooms.

Pale But Determined

Kemmerer chose the hour of 4 o'clock to make his attempted speech. Pale but determined, he arose in the gallery to the left of the speaker's dais, then occupied by Representative McMillan (D., S. C.). More than a hundred representatives were filing past tellers taking a vote.

Suddenly there was a rush for the

Italian Steamship Head Is Dead; Heart Attack Is Cause

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 13. (AP) — Arturo Dell 'Orto, head of the Italian Line Steamship company here and widely known in Gulf shipping circles, dropped dead on a downtown street this afternoon while on his way to luncheon. He had left his offices a few minutes before in apparently good health.

A native of Turin, Italy, Dell 'Orto came to New Orleans while still a young man and with his brother, Luigi, established a far-flung shipping business. His widow and the brother survive.

French Cabinet Resigns When Deputies Refuse To Accept Herriot's Plan For Debt Payment Thursday; Premier Sounds A Warning Of "Great Peril"

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Wednesday, Dec. 14. The chamber of deputies refused this morning to authorize the $19,261,432.50 war debt interest payment due the United States tomorrow, defeating Premier Herriot's plans to pay with reservations. The cabinet was overthrown and the government's resignation was expected to be presented to President Albert Lebrun momentarily.

The vote on the question of confidence was 402 against the government to 187 for it.

Thus registering its opposition to the December payment, the chamber left the situation for the present in the air, with no government with a mandate to take any action when the payment is due tomorrow.

The cabinet, it was announced, will present its resignation to President Lebrun at 6:15 a. m., (12:15 a. m. C. S. T.)

By the action of the chamber the entire relations built up between the United States and France were thrown into confusion. Premier Herriot will handle current affairs until a new government is formed and it is not beyond the bounds of possibility that some new initiative may be forthcoming, but for the moment this appears doubtful.

Mounting the tribune before the chamber of deputies to make his final plea for his plan to pay with reservations Premier Herriot told the chamber that a vote against payment would constitute a "great peril."

The premier made a strong criticism of the right and then, turning toward the socialists, he said:

"You are going to isolate France in throwing me out. Italy has declared that she will pay. Belgium has invoked her capacity of payment for not being able to pay.

"France cannot invoke her capacity of payment for 480,000,000 francs (more than $19,000,000.)"

Then raising his hands in a gesture, he added: "Gentlemen, you are going to upset our solidarity with England."

"That which is admirable about the English is that the longer the discussion, the nearer one gets to them, and during the last fortnight our cordiality has become a veritable fraternity.

"For 480,000,000 you are going to break that."

"If the government is overthrown" the premier continued, "we revert to the system of separate accords with America, and you will be responsible." He said that in the case of another conflict America would not furnish France with supplies, and he concluded by appealing to public opinion, declaring that France could not repudiate her signature.

The speech was received with applause by about half of the premier's radical socialist party. The rest of the chamber re-

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

THERE is a Polish sociologist who probably isn't so popular with the men. And all because he thinks women could do man's traditional work better than the men do it.

These men who believe that woman's work should consist exclusively in washing, ironing, rocking cradles and preparing three square meals a day are probably vexed at Dr. Florian Znaniecki for the ideas he is putting in women's heads. Dr. Znaniecki has been visiting here from Poland where he is a sociologist at the University of Poznan. And, while he believes that men have a place in the world, he thinks women could do some of this traditional man's work better than the men do it.

"It is no more woman's work, exclusively, to make the home than it is man's work," he believes. "In fact, it might be better these days if man would leave industry and government, do the work of the home, and let woman make a real try at public affairs." These statements and others were made in an interview for Independent Woman, the organ of the National Business and Professional Women's club, after they had been expressed before a class at Columbia University.

"If woman had been operating the civilization of America for the last fifty years, we would not see this terrible waste of natural resources, forces—for woman abhors waste in any form. Knowing the price of creation, she is a natural conservator of all energies . . . . The world today," he continues, "needs woman's peculiar creative talent. Men have succeeded in science, in mechanical invention, in literature and in art. But they have failed in social, political and economic phases of modern civilization, and we cannot say they have been extraordinarily successful in the religious phase. Women are natural creators—so let woman become the creator of new forms of social, political and economic life. Here she has real power."

Dr. Znaniecki does not attempt to tell how women should go about the revolution of which he believes them capable. "It is not my idea that woman should follow any of the lines men have laid down," he says. "My belief is that the social order, nations, races, civilization as a whole would benefit with woman in command."

While such statements as these probably won't go over so big with the men—most of whom believe that they are superior to women when it comes to political and economic phases of civilization—they serve as a pretty big challenge to the women. For, it seems to me, if the women could manage to help the men to get civilization out of a pretty big mess right now they might be willing to grant the women the right to run things hereafter—and not from behind the throne.

That "might" is purely speculation, however, and should be stressed. For even if they knew women could run governmental affairs better and could be more successful as economists, most men would be mighty reluctant to make any admissions. They are naturally jealous of the power they have and would be reluctant to hand it over to women.

Dr. Znaniecki might be pretty popular with the ladies if he keeps on with such interviews. But, according to my opinion, his popularity with the men probably won't be a thing in which he can take a great deal of pride.

THE NEW DIRECTORY

THE publication of a new city directory may not mean much to you. But it is as good as a visit from Santa Claus down here where it is necessary for us to know the initials of people, their addresses and occupations.

In case you have only a vague idea of how often people move, of how many people leave town or move in within a period of two years, or of how many people there are in town having the same last name, we can tell you that there are plenty of each. The city directory is our greatest help in promoting that accuracy for which we strive in news stories.

If newspaper reporters should make a list of wants for Christmas, the chances are that accurate directories, published at least monthly, would be near the head of the list. Discovering who people are is one of our biggest problems.

Beware of Colds NOW!

With Flu in the Air Colds Are Doubly Dangerous

Colds—always treacherous—are doubly dangerous now, with flu reported in many sections. They lower body strength and pave the way for flu and all its serious complications. Heed even the slightest sniffle as a danger signal. It's no time to take chances.

The safest course to follow is that outlined in Vicks Plan for better Control-of-Colds. In clinical tests last winter, Vicks Plan reduced the number and spread of colds by half!—cut their dangers and costs more than half! Full details of the plan are in each Vicks package. Briefly, it is this:

TO PREVENT MANY COLDS: At that first feeling of stuffiness or nasal irritation, sniffle or sneeze—Nature's usual warning that a cold is coming on—use Vicks Nose & Throat Drops, the new aid in preventing colds. Vicks Drops aid Nature in throwing off the infection that threatens. They prevent development of many colds.

TO END A COLD SOONER: If a cold has developed or strikes without warning, vigorous measures are necessary. At bedtime, apply Vicks VapoRub. Its direct double action—continuing through the night—brings quicker relief. During the day, use the convenient Vicks Nose Drops every few hours as needed. They add to comfort—help shorten the cold.

Follow Vicks Plan for Better CONTROL of Colds

She may not ask for a new gas range. There are so many other things she wants—for the children and you. But a Modern Gas Range would mean a lot to her—in time and labor saved. More than likely, her cooking equipment is sadly out of date. Modern Gas Ranges have oven heat control — oven insulation — smokeless broilers — a wealth of improvements that make cooking quicker, easier and more economical.

A radiant, white enamel Gas Range fits in perfectly with the modern and practical idea of a Christmas gift that will be of lasting service to the entire household. Why not replace that old stove with a 1933 model Gas Range this Christmas?

Deets Pickett Upholds Drys

Methodist Leader States Wets Will Seek To Expand Their Traffic To Children After Repeal Of Dry Law

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP) — Deets Pickett, research secretary of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, today told the house ways and means committee that his church was opposed to the licensed liquor traffic, whether that traffic consist of beer, wine or stronger liquors.".

Testifying on the proposal to legalize the sale of beer, Pickett said:

"We believe the reestablishment of a vast legalized trade in beer with an alcohol content in excess of that now permitted will decrease the revenue of the country."

He added that "while a portion of the receipts of that trade will be paid into the treasury, vast sums now expended in the purchase of other commodities will be diverted to the liquor traffic, and consequently the revenue for income and corporation taxes, originating elsewhere, will decline."

"The liquor interests, like the old French regime of France, have learned nothing and forgotten nothing," he said. "They want liquor back; they want it sold on every corner; they want to advertise it over the radio, in the newspapers, and with flaming electric signs, they want no federal control whatever, so that they can etxend their traffic to the uttermost limits of the land. They are planning to expand their trade by exploiting the boys and girls, particularly the girls, as 'they were never exploited before."

Pickett told the commitfee that:

"I want to confess most humbly that while we urge you now not to fail us, we must admit to a certain extent that we have failed you. Our people have been asleep while heavily financed wet propaganda has undermined sentiment. x x May I say that confession will in this case be followed by the bringing forth of works meet for repentance."

Referring specifically to the Collier bill before the committee which would legalize the sale of 2.75 beer, Pickett said as it was drawn it "fatally limits court action to prevent the manufacture of beer exceeding 2.75 by weight of alcoholic content."

"As written," he said, "the bill will insure the sale of beer containing much more than 2.75 of alcohol by weight."

He said the fact that there "is nothing in this proposed legislation to prohibit the advertising of beer by radio, in the press, or otherwise, to my mind presents an appalling prospect."

Pickett told the committee that he was not convinced that the provisions to protect the dry states were sufficient and said "the failure to propose a definite precentage of wine content will certainly insure that it would be impossible for the United States government to prosecute successfully any case involving the manufacture or sale of wine, no matter how great the intoxicating percentage."

He said he believed the sale of beer would increase unemployment and the problems of the farmer and that before prohibition "the courts were filled with drunks who became intoxicated on beer."

Young Farmer Has Made A Discovery In A New Crop

WEIMAR, Tex., Dec. 13. (AP) — Hubert Heller, young farmer, has made a discovery. He has found a crop that pays right now, lowered commodity markets notwithstanding.

Heller, weary of seeing the cotton and corn markets sink, decided to plant five-sixths of one acre in sorghum cane. He produced two crops, which made 250 gallons of molasses he sells at 50 cents per gallon.

If all the sugar consumed in Ohio were produced by sugar beets a total of 48,000,000 hours of employment annually would result to residents of the state, it has been estimated.

To Stop A Cough That Hangs On

Take a teaspoonful of Bronchuline Emulsion. Never mind the taste nor the smell—it's not half as bad as you think it is going to be. If your cough hasn't stopped, take another dose in three or four hours.

Two doses is usually enough to kill the most stubborn, hang-on cough. A bottle surely does it or you get your money back.

Of course if you want a sweet, sugary sedative Bronchuline Emulsion is not the cough medicine for you. Bronchuline contains no habit-forming drugs of any kind.

But it certainly kills a cough! No doubt about it. Or Mark Halsey Drug and all other good druggists guarantee to give your money back. —Adv.

Strengthening Of West Coast Aerial Defenses Centered In Three Bases Near San Francisco; New Dirigible Is To Have Base Port At Sunnyvale, Calif.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 13. (AP) — Strengthening of aerial defenses of the west coast is taking tangible form in the San Francisco bay area where work is progressing on three new bases within a 75-mile radius.

The 1,117-foot-long dirigible dock at Sunnyvale is half completed.

At Hamilton Field 12 miles north on the northern peninsula of the bay, 250 men are constructing the first units of the new army airplane bombing concentration point while at Alameda on the east side a hydraulic fill of 1,250,000 cubic yards is shaping the boundaries of Benton Field, destined to become the west coast supply depot and testing ground of the army air corps.

To Be Protected

When the war and navy departments complete their program of concentrating their defense on the coast San Francisco bay will be ringed with flying fields behind the coast range that forms a protective barrier against heavy gunfire.

The $5,000,000 base at Sunnyvale which will house the dirigible Macon forms the southern tip of the defensive scheme while Hamilton Field is the northern post with Benton field and Crissy field in the center and the just a few miles apart.

Ready In 1933

Sunnyvale will be the first of the projects completed. The 1,000-acre home port of the Macon and its brood of fighting ships will be ready for occupancy early in 1933.

Industrial buildings, barracks, storehouses, commissary and administration building are rapidly taking shape while the hospital and aerological structures will be ready Dec. 1.

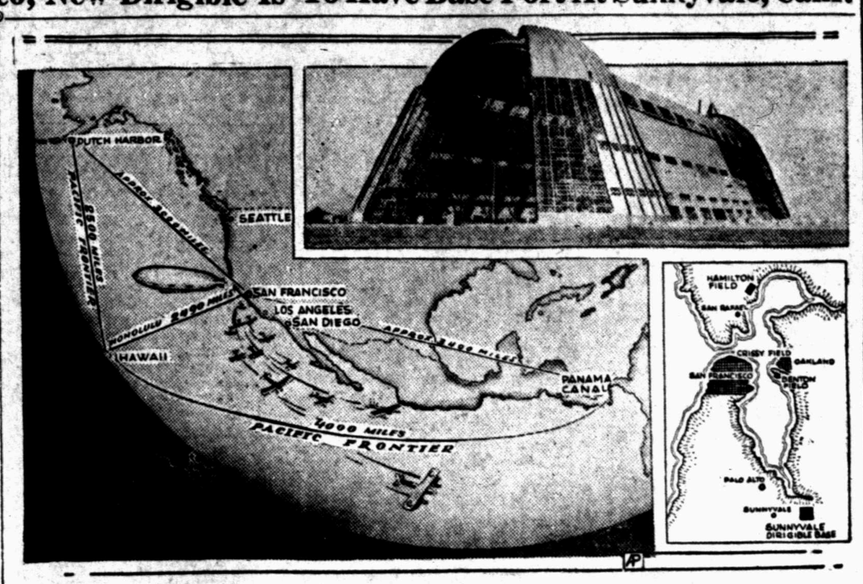

Benton field, a 1,075-acre reservation, is now in the final phases of drainage and water system construction. Eventually the field will be the central depot of the west for all supplies to the air corps.

At Hamilton field, construction is well under way. The 924-acres bombing base is in a natural depression screened by forests and hills. The first series of buildings will be completed by July 1933.

Funds Authorized

The war department authorized the expenditure of $6,500,000 to group its major air defenses in this area.

The Macon, sister ship of the Akron, will be ready next summer. It will have a cruising range of 10,500 miles. Stationed at Sunnyvale it will be about equi-distant from the three outposts of the Pacific frontier—Dutch Harbor, Alaska; Hawaiian Islands and the Panama Canal Zone. Air distance from San Francisco bay to Honolulu is 2,490 miles with the other two points several hundred miles farther away.

Three new aerial bases in the San Francisco bay area are expected to form important links in Uncle Sam's plans for defense of the west coast. They are Sunnyvale, home port of the new dirigible Macon now under construction, Hamilton field, the new airplane bombing concentration point, and Benton field, west coast supply depot. The smaller map shows location of the new fields and others in the bay area, while the larger indicates the strategic importance of the defenses with respect to outlying American possessions. The photo shows the Macon's dock at Sunnyvale.

Recall Election To Higher Court

AMARILLO, Dec. 13. (AP)— Borger's city commission recall election fight has been taken to the state supreme court.

Joseph B. Aynesworth, city attorney, has filed a petition for writ of error in the decision of the seventh court of civil appeals, Amarillo. Starting in 84th district court last February, the city commission thus far has lost every move in its fight to avoid the recall.

The commissioners refused to act on the recall petition, on the grounds that they would be passing on ouster proceedings against themselves. A mandamus from District Judge E. J. Pickens later ordered the call, but the commission appealed to the higher court in Amarillo

The terms of Mayor John R. Miller and the five commissioners will expire next April.

Stubbs Funeral Services To Be Held Wednesday

Funeral services for Fred Stubbs, 61, a Lubbock pioneer, who died here early Tuesday, will be conducted at the Stubbs home on Avenue Q, south of Thirty-Fourth street, at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Sanders funeral home will direct burial in Lubbock cemetery.

Southern AAU Definitely Suspends Star Girl Athlete

Basketball Rules Meet Held Here Saturday; To Discuss New System

Action Taken Following An Investigation

abe Didrikson Relieved Of Amateur Status As Result Of Looking At New Car; May Turn Professional Now

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 13. — The outhern Amateur Athletic union oday suspended Mildred Babe Didikson, famous athlete, from amaeur competition because of an utomobile advertisement in which er name and picture appeared recently.

Action was taken after investigaion by the union's registration ommittee, which today said certain oints had not been cleared up, and placed upon the principals in the ase the responsibility for straightning the matter out.

Miss Didrikson has denied she uthorized an automobile company Dallas, her home town, to use er endorsement on the product.

Agency Refuses Copy

On the other hand, Lawrence Di enedetto, chairman of the registation committee, said the investiators had been told an advertisement release signed by Miss Didrikon is held by the company's New ork advertising agency. The gency, however, has refused to urnish the committee with a photostatic copy of the release, Di Benedetto said.

Until the release can be produced, or it can be shown it does not ear her signature, the committee s withholding final action on Miss Didrikson's amateur status.

In suspending Miss Didrikson, he committee directed her to produce either the original or a photostatic copy of the so-called release.

It was believed here the suspension might result in the automobile ompany offering to assist in producing the purported release.

When the National Amateur Athetic union recommended the southrn union investigate the advertisement, Miss Didrikson was reported o have been contemplating court ction in defense of her amateur tatus.

Col. E. J. McCombs, manager of he basketball team of which Miss Didrikson is a member, said at ouston today that the last time he ad talked with her, she had said he "did not want to go in court bout the matter if she could help ."

HOUSTON, Dec. 13. (AP)—Mildred Babe Didrikson, brilliant young Texas athlete suspended today by the Southern A. A. U. from further competition as an amateur, tonight decided to discuss the A. A. U.'s action and said her course in the matter was undetermined.

"I won't decide until after I get back to Dallas and talk to Foster Jacoby (A. A. U. commissioner there) whether I will appeal the decision or turn professional from now on," she told The Associated Press. "Further than that I have nothing to say." She seemed slightly downcast.

Miss Didrikson came here with a Dallas basketball team.

Babe Not Eligible For Sullivan Award

NEW YORK, Dec. 13. (AP)—If the suspension of Mildred Babe Didrikson of the Amateur Athletic union is made permanent it will automatically disqualify her from consideration for the James E. Sullivan memorial award, said Daniel J. Ferris, secretary of the A. A. U.

The winner of the Sullivan medal is acclaimed the country's outstanding amateur athlete.

Eddie Tolan Scratched

The precedent for scratching Miss Didrikson's name, in case the suspension is upheld, is well established. Eddie Tolan, double sprint winner in the Olympics, was not included in the list on which 600 sports writers and officials will ballot this year because he has turned professional and gone on the stage. Eleanor Holm and Helene Madison also were excluded.

Ferris said no other name would be substituted for that of Miss Didrikson, the choice being among the nine remaining on the list. They are Miss Helen Wills Moody, James Bausch, Ralph Metcalfe, Bill Carr, Lieut. George C. Calnan, Leo Sexton, Jack Shea, Ralph Hill and Larry Wood.

George Kelly Returns To Form And Defeats Chicago Billiard Ace In Tourney

NEW YORK, Dec. 13. (AP) — The ranks of the undefeated in the national pocket billiard championship were further depleted today when Pasquale Natalle, Chicago, winner of his first three games, fell victims to George Kelly's return to the form that carried the Philadelphia player to runner-up honors in last year's tournament.

Kelly, scoring his first triumph in five starts, turned back Natalle 125 to 61, in 26 innings of defensive billiards. At the same time, Andrew Ponzi, also of Philadelphia, who dropped his only game to Bennie Allen Sunday, returned to his winning ways with a 125 to 69 victory over young James Mills, San Jose, California; Ponzi ran out in eight innings.

Natalle's downfall left the defending champions, Ralph Greenleaf, and Young Jimmy Caras, Wilmington, Del., tied for the lead with victories each with Erwin Rudolph only a notch below with three

Major Leagues Elect To Trim Clubs To Player Limit Month Earlier But Kill Proposal To Cut Player Limit

Heydler Is Elected President Senior League Again

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Club owners of the American and National Leagues, meeting separately today to inaugurate their annual three-day pow-wow, struck only one major blow for 1933 retrenchment while in the process of killing off any proposals for reduction of the player limit, establishment of a salary limit or abolishment of the radio from baseball parks.

While deciding to retain the present limit of 23 players for each club, exclusive of coaches and managers, the magnates agreed to advance from June 15 to May 15, next year, the "deadline" for trimming to the player limit as well as for all player dealings among the clubs, except on the usual waiver basis.

Cuts Month From Time

The effect of this move, which will be approved formally at the joint major league meeting Thursday, not only will be to trim the payrolls but to cut exactly a month from the time managers have had previously to maneuver their forces, by sale or trade. It strikes primarily at the wealthier clubs, such as the world champion Yankees, who can well afford to keep an abundant roster of talent until the last possible date. At the same time, the magnates expect the move to aid the weaker teams by giving them access to the surplus material of other teams earlier and, presumably, on reasonable terms.

Although accepting a policy of economy as essential, club owners of neither league adopted any other drastic measures. A proposal of the St. Louis Cardinals that coaches be included in the player limit was turned down.

Heydler Takes Cut

John Arnold Heydler, in being re-elected president of the national League for another four-year term of office, voluntarily proposed and accepted a reduction in salary. The veteran executive declared he thought it was "the thing to do" in these times and promised the club owners he would put rigid economy into practice in administration of his office.

Heydler has been president of the league since August, 1918. This is the fifth term for which he has been elected. He has been associated with the league nearly 30 years altogether.

Debate Broadcasting

The controversial subject of broadcasting regular season ball games was debated by both leagues, without reaching a definite decision, although five of the eight club owners of the National League informally put themselves on record as opposed to putting anything but World Series games on the air. These five clubs were New York, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Brooklyn and St. Louis, but at the same time they agreed generally to a policy of permitting all clubs to exercise their own judgment in the use of the radio, "so long as it did not materially injure anyone else."

This action was in accordance with the views of clubs like the Chicago Cubs and Boston Braves, which favor broadcasting of their home games. Its effect, in view of an American League situation where four clubs each are for or against radio, will be to create a "status quo" on the subject for 1933.

The joint meeting, Thursday, will go into the radio situation further but club owners pointed out tonight the sharp differences of opinion absolutely precluded any action or adoption of new policy. It takes a unanimous front by either league to effect legislation, for or against radio, and no unanimity exists in either league.

International Cage League Is Organized At Eagle Pass

—EAGLE PASS, Dec. 13. (AP)—The organization of an international basketball league, comprising teams from Eagle Pass, Piedras Negras and Allende, Coahuila, was completed recently at a meeting in Piedras Negras.

The gathering, besides drawing up plans for competition and arranging for a silver cup to be given to the winner, elected the following officers: Rogelio Rivera, editor of "El Bravo" in Piedras Negras, president; Ramon Vela, treasurer, and Enrique Rodriguez, Eagle Pass, secretary. The directors are Raymundo Gutierrez, Emilio Sandoval, and Manuel Villegas, the latter being from Allende.

Three teams from Piedras Negras, one from Allende, and two from Eagle Pass were represented. Another meeting will be held soon to arrange the schedule and to approve a list of official referees.

Trainer Of Race Horses Is Latest Job Filled By Girl

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—If the plans of Mary Elizabeth Hirsch go through you can add to the list of jobs filled by women that of trainer of race horses.

The daughter of Max, famous trainer, is applying to the jockey club stewards for a license to train and race her own string and if her application is granted she will be the first woman to hold such a certificate.

Since she was a baby, Miss Hirsch, 20 and weighing 95 pounds, has been around horses and since last spring she has been stable manager for her father's string, which includes the horses of Cary T. Grayson, M. L. and A. C. Schwartz and B. M. Baruch. She supervises office details, training ballons and all the other routine of a big stable. She can discuss the fine points of a horse with the best of them.

New Plan May Be Adopted In This District

All Cage Coaches, Officials Of West Texas Invited For Interpretation Meeting At Tech Gym On Saturday

A basketball rules interpretation meeting for all college and high school coaches and officials of the South Plains and West Texas will be held at the Texas Tech gymnasium Saturday, December 17, J. O. (Del) Morgan, head coach of basketball at Texas Tech, announced yesterday.

In conjunction with the rules meeting, representatives of high schools in basketball District 2, which comprises seventeen South Plains counties, are to meet for the purpose of accepting or rejecting a new play of elimination for high school basketball teams leading up to the district tournament.

Representative Is Necessary

Coach Morgan, chairman of the district athletic executive committee, said that it was urgent that each school have a representative at the meeting. A plan calling for the "quadrant" system of determining basketball champions, similar to that used in Class B football, will be introduced. Counties of this district are divided into four sub-districts. The winners in each sub-district will meet in the district tournament, under the proposed plan.

Morgan will supervise the rules interpretation meeting, but will introduce Pete Cawthon, head coach at Texas Tech and a prominent basketball official of the Southwest, who will take a part in discussing the new basketball rules and amendments to the old rules.

Important Changes Made

Several important changes have been made by the national rules committee for the 1933 season — changes which may not be entirely clear to all coaches and officials. For this reason, all coaches are invited to participate in the meeting here Saturday.

The rules meeting will be called to order at approximately 9 o'clock, Saturday morning. The special convocation of high school representatives will be held sometime during the day, it was said.

District 2, as regards high school basketball, is composed of the fol-

Alabama Declines To Meet Frogs In Post-Season Tilt

DALLAS, Dec. 13. (AP) — Unless a post-season game drops out of a clear sky, the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs, Southwest conference football champions, will not play another game this season. Dan D. Rogers, Dallas banker and board representative of the school athletic council, said tonight that following word Saturday that the University of Tennessee had turned down an invitation to play the Christians December 31 at New Orleans, La., he suggested to the winter sports committee of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce that Alabama be sought as the south's representative. Today, he received a telegram stating that Alabama had declined to play and no other worthy opponent was in sight, thus bringing to a close negotiations for a game at New Orleans.

Rogers said the Horned Frogs would keep intact through Saturday, and if no opponent was found by that time, the post-season idea would be discarded and the Frogs would call it a season.

House Of David Quintet Plays Matadors On Tech Court Early In Januar

Randolph Field And O. C. U. Also To Appear Here

The long-whiskered men of the House of David, Ann Arbor, Mich., will meet the Texas Tech basketball team in a two-game series here on the nights of January 5 and 6, Coach Del Morgan of Tech announced yesterday.

Famous throughout the entire country as the greatest traveling bunch of athletes, the House of David basketball team will be playing its first engagement here. The House of David baseball team, managed by the one and only Grover Cleveland Alexander, former star National League pitcher, appeared here over a year ago in a baseball game which brought out the largest attendance on record. The whiskered boys turn their attention to basketball in the proper season and schedule games with outstanding college and semi-proteams of the country.

A series between Tech and the Randolph Field quintet of San Antonio is scheduled for January, it was announced. Ray Stecker, former star athlete for Army, is a member of the Randolph Field team and will be here with the team.

The Oklahoma City university Goldbugs are scheduled to meet the Matadors here early in February, it was announced.

ATTENDANCE IS CUT

ABERNATHY, Dec. 13. (Special) Severe cold weather the last few days has cut attendance considerable for Dr. W. F. Fry's Bible lectures, being given each evening in the Baptist church here. Dr. Fry, a Texas Tech professor of Lubbock, is giving a series of ten lectures on different chapters in the Bible.

School Saving Need In Texas

Midland Representative Has Reply To Resolutions Made By Odessa C Of C On Tech Change Proposal

(Special To The Avalanche)

MIDLAND, Dec. 13.—Need for readjustments in the educational system to effect economies, but opposition to the discontinuance of Texas Tech as a technological college, summarizes the view of Judge B Frank Haag of Midland, representative-elect from the largest district, the largest in the state.

The Odessa Chamber of Commerce adopted resolutions opposing the elimination of the technological courses and opposing the proposal of the efficiency committee to turn various of the colleges back to the communities in which they are located. The Midland man's reply to these resolutions follows:

Not In Full Accord

"Assuredly, I am not in full accord with the views of the efficiency committee as reported in the press. I do feel, however, that our educational set-up is due for some changes and some economy will have to be injected into the system as well as elsewhere. I am sure we have too much duplication.

"Take West Texas alone. It seems that two schools of pedagogy are sufficient. These are properly distributed at Alpine and Canyon. Texas Tech was not organized to teach pedagogy. I think this course in Texas Tech is an unnecessary duplication and is an expense that should be eliminated I think further that Texas Tech should be used exclusively for technical and scientific training and that any other department which it fosters ought to be self sustaining. I should like to have your views on these questions.

Too Many Normal Schools

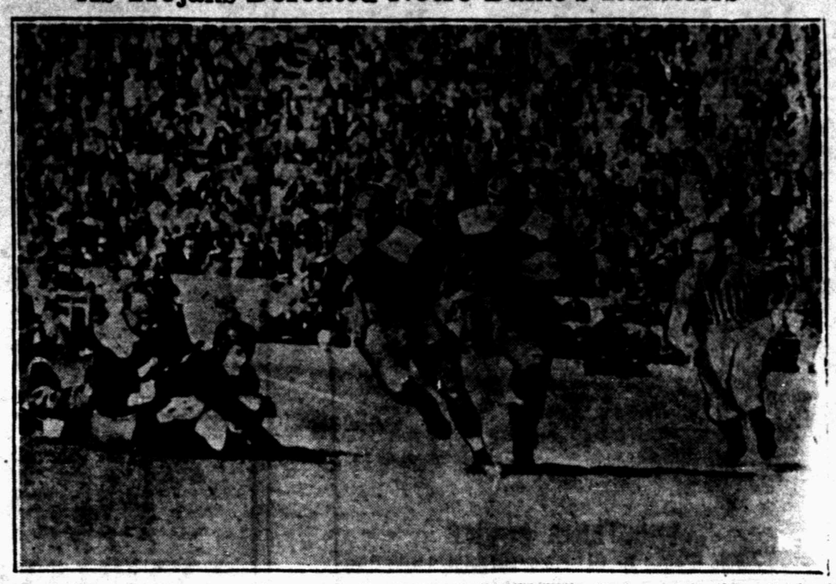

"Candidly I think we have too many normal schools. But what is the best thing to do with some of them, I am not prepared to say at this time. I do think, however, that the two schools at Denton would be consolidated and put under one administrative head. It occurs to me that these two institutions should be so organized as to give to the girls of Texas a training equivalent to that which A. and M. gives to the boys of Texas.

"These are some views poorly collected and roughly stated. I am not too deeply rooted in my conclusions to be jarred from them if shown that I am wrong or that some other method is more desirable and profitable."

A TOUCH OF REALTY

MIAMI, Fla.—An amusing touch of realty was added to a Boy Scout first-aid demonstration recently. The boys were enacting an automobile accident as an example of team work. One of the boys was told to go get an ambulance. He had hardly returned to report his job complete when the ambulance arrived and demanded the patient. Nothing half way about that scout.

lowing quadrants and counties.

Quadrant No. 1—Bailey, Hockley, Lamb, Cochran and Hale.

Quadrant No. 2 — Floyd, Motley, Cottle.

Quadrant No. 3—Crosby, Dickens, Garza and Lubbock.

Quadrant No. 4—Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Gaines, Dawson and Borden.

Under the proposed plan, each county will determine its county champion by a certain date, after which these champions will arrange a schedule with each other in their respective quadrants. Winners of the quadrants, four in all, will come to the district tournament.

Under the present arrangement, Lubbock and Plainview high schools are not required to play in county tournaments, but are automatically eligible for competition in district tournaments. This would make a total of six teams in the district tournament.

Check Ordered On Gas Waste

Conservation Rules For Gas In West Panhandle Field Of Texas Sought; Thompson In Charge Of Hearing

AMARILLO, Dec. 13. (AP)—A short time after a hearing on gas conservation rules for the West Panhandle field opened here today, the Texas railroad commission had ordered checked immediately what it termed was wastage of 24,000,000 cubic feet a day.

Testimony offered in the course of the hearing brought out that 20 wells producing "dry" gas had been connected with casinghead gasoline and carbon black plants.

Ernest O. Thompson, Texas railroad commission member in charge of the hearing, turned to R. D. Parker, supervisor of the oil and gas division, and asked:

"Is it not a violation of the law to use dry gas for such purposes?"

"It certainly is," replied the supervisor.

"Then order those wells disconnected and shut in immediately," Thompson said. He explained that "dry" gas could be used only for fuel and light. Attorneys said the alleged violation carried no penalty.

With most of the major gas producers of the area represented, the commission introduced proposed rules for more stringent, conservation, which had been drawn up by engineers for the railroad commission.

"We do not mean that these rules are going to be arbitrarily adopted without modification," Thompson said. "But we consider the introduction of a plan the best way to arrive at an understanding. We are here to get your opinions and a discussion of these rules will obtain that end."

Prior to the introduction of the commission's rules which were being read at the time of noon adjournment, the commission and producers heard a report from the engineers on the amount of gas taken by casinghead plants, the amount wasted, and what disposition was made of the residue during October.

This report showed that of a daily consumption of 716,538,000 cubic feet, 234,536,000 cubic feet, or almost one-third of the total, was being permitted to escape into the air during the process of handling. It is this wastage with which the commission is primarily concerned now.

Testimony offered by the commission's engineers, under the questioning of attorneys for the producers, showed that conservation has been more effectively enforced under regulations adopted last spring. Since March the waste already had been decreased by 274,000,000 cubic feet a day, before the slash of 24,000,000 cubic feet at today's hearing.

AN EFFICIENT GUARD

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—"Never mind the food. It's money I want," said the man who had begged his way into the home of Mrs. Jessie Hemp, where Corwin Ecks is caretaker. "All right, I'll give you more than you expect," said Ecks as he flung open the pantry door. "Sic 'em," said Ecks, and Mrs. Hemp's police dog leaped from the pantry and attacked the man. Fearing the man might be killed, Ecks called the dog off while the culprit fled with a torn and bleeding wrist.

How To Be Happy—Though Married

Pope's Chamberlain Lists 17 Marital Commandments—Ten For The Wife And Seven For Husband; Just Follow Them

CREMONIA, Italy (AP)—Every married couple, says Monsignor Giovanna Varischi, honarary chamberlain of Pope Pius, will live in peace and happiness if they follow the commandments he has laid down, ten for the wife, and seven for the husband.

The commandments have already aroused considerable comment throughout Italy. Here they are:

FOR THE WIFE

1—Thou shalt not speak eternally Thy husband must also be listened to.

2—Thou shalt lovingly prepare good food and keep thy house in order.

3—Thou shalt not embarrass thy husband in business.

4—Thou shalt not amuse thy self spreading unfounded gossip about thy neighbors.

5—Thou shalt not boast of thy husband before other men, but respect him silently.

6—When it is necessary to reprove him thou shalt do it immediately and then forget it.

7—Thou shalt be patient over thy husband's defects, and occasionally exalt his good qualities.

8—Thou shalt not make of thy husband a housemaid.

9—Thou shalt not give all thy thoughts to clothes, since thy first duty is to thy house.

10—Thou shalt remember that sometimes it is good for thy husband to be alone. On those occasions thou absolutely shalt not disturb him.

FOR THE HUSBAND

1—Thou shalt show thy wife today the same courtesy thou showed her the day of thy wedding.

2—Thou shalt express, by word or gesture, thy approval for the dinner that is brought before thee since it did not come to the table by itself.

3—Thou shalt remember thy wife, consult her about thy problems, speak to her of thy work.

4—Thou shalt always avoid the appearance of evil, observing the same conduct thou believest reasonable for thy wife.

5—Thou shalt not lie about thy income, because God deems the man culpable who keeps his wife in the dark about domestic finances.

6—Thou shalt remember the birthday of thy wife and of thy children, and thy wedding anniversary.

7—Thou shalt not indulge in heated arguments with thy wife, since thou well knowest that the woman has the last word.

The name "Spanish elm" is given in the West Indies to a tree also called Bois-de-Chrypre.

We Must Stand Together

IT is often said that members of the same family may fuss and fight among themselves as much as they choose but when an outsider comes in they band together to attack the common enemy. That, apparently, is the position of Lubbock and Canyon in the face of the recommendation that West Texas State Teachers college be made a junior institution and about half of Tech eliminated for the benefit of Texas A. & M. and the University.

Speaking frankly, there has been considerable petty jealousy between Tech and Canyon ever since the state school was established in Lubbock.

Whether most of the jealousy was on Canyon's side or Lubbock's side makes no difference. The fact remains that childish envy did exist when it should not have.

But now Tech and WTSTC are facing a common foe in the so-called "efficiency" commitee of the Texas legislature and it's high time we were banding together, like members of the same family, to fight shoulder to shoulder.

After all, both colleges are part and parcel of West Texas. Their people have plenty in common and their cause, in this regard at least, is identical.

Let's forget our petty jealousies in Lubbock and Canyon and go out and tack the Goliath together!

UNBALANCED BUDGET

When Congress adjourned last June its members left Washington satisfied that they had balanced the national budget through departmental economies and a number of new tax levies and increases. It is in session again with the job to do all over again.

Public opinion and the welfare of the nation demand that if possible the budget must be balanced by cutting government costs. The taxpayers have turned thumbs down on new taxes or increases in old ones.

Should Congress find additions to the tax burden unavoidable, it undoubtedly will turn to the sales tax to save the day. President Hoover favors it and it has its advocates in both houses of Congress.

The billion-dollar revenue act passed last spring as a dismal failure. Although the deficit to date this year is less than that for the corresponding period of the last fiscal year, it is running at the rate of nearly $2,000,000,000 a year without showing any signs of a swing in the opposite direction.

Every source of revenue is less productive this year than last, and last year was far below normal. In some instances less revenue was collected this year under a heavy levy than was collected last year under the lower tax. Nothing will come in from the higher income taxes until next March but the treasury expects this revenue to fall far below its expectations at the time the rates were changed.

Higher taxes must be avoided if possible. Congress should resolve to consider them only as a last resort.

THE DEMAND FOR ECONOMY

Judging from the vast sums Washington is expending on public works and public biuldings, America is striving to surpass the grandeur that was Rome's. And the rate the country is rushing down the hill of public extravagance and waste there will shortly be a job for some modern Gibbon to write the Decline and Fall of the American Empire.

Andrew Jackson would never have introduced the spoils system in American politics had he had the vision to foresee the extremes to which it was destined to be carried. For his times he was no mean dispenser of public dollars, but compared with his modern successors he was a piker.

During the Jackson administration the per capita cost of the federal government was $2.10. Today it is $38.65. When the country had a population of six millions it cost $12,500,000 to run the national government. Today the population is only 20 times larger while the federal budget is 400 times greater.

Economists and statisticians have figured it out that at the present rate of increase of public expenditures it will take every cent of national income to run the government in 1957.

Awake to the danger, the American people are demanding a turn-about-face. That was the mandate of the last national election. Congress must turn a deaf ear to the selfish demands of special interests and cup both ears to the cries of the taxpaying multitudes for economy and tax relief.

There will be no decline and fall of the United States because of public extravagance and waste. The saturnalia of spending is over.

About May next we look for one of those sensational confession novels, "Ex-Postmaster," to appear on the stands.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

The Lord upholdeth all that fall, and raiseth up all those that he bowed down. Psalm 145:14.

Carelessness In Evidence

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—How carelessly American public men have expressed themselves relative to everything connected with the World war—even dating back to the period before Uncle Sam broke into it—is surprising.

For example:

It assuredly was as early as April, 1916 (for I left the British isles soon after that) that I had a certain interview with President Walter Runciman of the English board of trade.

The allies were not admitting then that they wanted the United States to join them actively against Germany, but that was what they really did want and were hinting at, at every opportunity; and in the course of my talk with him, the Hon. Walter evidently thought he saw a chance to slip such a hint into my story, in a fashion which would make it necessary to cable it to this side of the Atlantic.

"GREAT BRITAIN," he observed, "was forced to fight, in defense of Belgium's neutrality — guaranteed," he added significantly, "under a treaty to which America was signatory."

"Oh, no," I exclaimed hastily, "America never signed it."

The Hon. Walter's astonishment manifestly was perfectly genuine.

"Why!" he countered, "your own ex-President Roosevelt says you signed it."

It now was my own turn to be somewhat embarrassed. In his desire to make out an overwhelming case in favor of an American policy of belligerency against the kaiser, it was true that "T. R." had vociferously referred to Uncle Sam as a Belgian neutrality guarantor—and the Hon. Walter, doubtless in all honesty, had accepted his statement at face value, without further investigation.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT'S inaccuracy, with whatever effect it may have had, has been water over the dam for this decade and a half, however.

The remarks which many Americans of today are wishing could be expunged from the record are those attributed to President Wilson, in recognition (as interpreted abroad) of the allies' claim that they defended the United States against Germany for 15 months during 1917 and 1918—remarks upon which these same allies base their present contention that Uncle Sam ought to cancel the war debts that they owe to him.

In short, England, France & Co. argue that the loans Uncle Sam made to them simply were their pay for more than a year of their protection.

Congress may answer, "Pooh, pooh!" to this reasoning all it pleases, but it is not so easy to get around quotations of the European debtor powers from Woodrow Wilson.

VISCOUNT PHILIP SNOWDEN (England's "labor nobleman" and ex-chancellor of the exchequer) puts it that:

"America declared war on Germany . . . on the declaration of President Wilson and others . . . not to make the world safe for democracy, but to make American trading safe.

"It was pointed out . . . that it would be a long time," continued the ex-chancellor, "before America would be ready to take any effective part in the fighting and that . . . the most useful way in which she could help . . . was to give money. For 15 months that was America's contribution."

PERHAPS the average American will refuse to agree that President Wilson intended to recognize 12 billions in loans as a payment by Uncle Sam to the allies to protect him.

Viscount Snowden makes out an arguable case, for all that—sufficiently so to satisfy America's debtors, anyway.

When the Hon. Walter Runciman cited Colonel Roosevelt to me as his authority for asserting that Uncle Sam was a Belgian neutrality guarantor, the awkward feature of the situation was that it was an American whom he cited. I was conscious, too, that the Hon. Walter remained wholly unconvinced when I disputed the colonel.

It probably will be harder yet (there is so much more at stake) to convince Viscount Snowden that he has misconstrued President Wilson.

AND NOW, a controversy has arisen over the pledges which Premiers Ramsay MacDonald of England and Laval of France appear to think were given to them by President Hoover, in connection with the obligations of their respective countries to the United States.

The fact that President Hoover's conversations with Mr. MacDonald and M. Laval were confidential may make the affair less difficult or it may make it more so.

On the one hand, both chats having been on the "q. t.", it will be impossible for either the British or the French statesman to prove exactly what President did say to him. On the opposite hand, it will be equally impossible for future American negotiators to prove that he did not say whatever Mr. MacDonald and M. Laval may deem it expedient to say he said.

It certainly is not exaggerating to speak of American statesmanship as having discussed war problems with extraordinary casualness and ambiguity.

Not all the Santa Claus letters appearing in the papers ask for dolls and red wagons. A good many of them bear broads hints for war debt cancellation.

There are stranger fish in the sea than have ever been caught.—Zane Grey, author and sportsman.

What Other People Think

Of these three things—wine, women and song—I place first song, my work. But women and wine—they are the furniture of the house.—Feodore Chaliapin, Russian basso.

The ability of the press to inform and educate the people is one of the safeguards of the democratic form of government.—Louis Wiley, business manager, The New York Times.

If parents taught children nothing worse than the story of Santa Claus, we would have an ideal civilization. — Dr. Max Schoen, department of psychology, Carnegie Institute of Technology.

Here I am, out of a job, and you folks are all celebrating. — Walter Johnson, former star pitcher and manager of the Washington Senators, at testimonial dinner marking his retirement.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

24 YEARS IN THE DEATH HOUSE:

Archibald Herron, convicted of murdering the Rev. Samuel B. D. Brickett of Metuchen, N. J. in the summer of 1908, was sentenced to death by County Court Justice James J. Bergen, of Middlesex County on July 28, 1908. He was scheduled to die during the week of Sept. 7, 1908. A writ of error resulted in a postponement to January, 1909. It was followed by an executive reprieve on the question of insanity, and Justice Bergen subsequently suspended the execution until "further orders" pending a final determination of Herron's sanity. Through this loophole Herron escaped death. Justice Bergan died in 1923 without issuing "further orders".

The 73-year-old prisoner became a permanent inmate of the Death House of the Trenton, N. J. State Prison, and although he has dwelt in the valley of Death for 24 years, he may look forward to a serene natural death, at the end of his days.

WHAT THE U. S. PAYS ITS PRESIDENT:

The total of $457,380.00 is based upon the U. S. Budget appropriation for the fiscal year ending June, 1933. In addition, the United States provides protection costing $80,000 a year, this sum being charged to the appropriations for the Treasury Department.

Besides, the occupancy of the White House is held to have a value of $880,000 a year, based on an estimated value of the White House and site of $21,935,975.

TOMORROW: "THE OLDEST TRIPLETS."

Depression Brings In A New Custom And School Children Are The Goats

The depression has introduced a new custom on the South Plains among rural sections which has made students the proverbial "goat." Attending school on Thanksgiving, and having one or two or no holidays for Christmas is the result of the new custom; that of declaring one month holidays during the rush cotton harvest season.

Some rural schools have observed six-week holidays during the fall so that the children may assist their fathers in harvesting the crop.

With the cotton market low, farmers can save money on gathering by using their children, cutting down on the number of outside pickers to be hired.

Speed has also played its part in bringing about the new custom, since farmers are anxious to get their crop picked as soon as possible and get it to the gins, where it will be turned out sooner. Here again, their children are needed.

To make up for the lost time during the harvest holidays, school officials require pupils to attend on days that would otherwise be traditional holidays, such as Thanksgiving. Dozens of country schools, and some in towns with populations of 500 or more, held sessions on Thanksgiving this year. They are also allowing no time off for Christmas, since the Natal day occurs on Sunday this year. Some officials have been lenient, however, and are giving Fridays before Christmas, or Mondays after Christmas as holidays. A few of the schools will make up the Yuletide vacant days on Saturdays later.

Making up the time lost during the cotton harvest season is necessary, school officials state, to keep credit affiliations, since full nine months of school is required.

There are approximately 75 independent schools on the Plains observing the cotton holidays, and from 10 to 20 rural schools in each county doing the same.

The Irish Free State is warring on those who do not report their full income to tax collectors.

Severe Cases Of Flu Are Reported

POST, Dec. 13 (Special)—Severe cases of influenza and pneumonia are being suffered by 15 itinerant cotton pickers who are camped in two tents east of the city limits, Dr. A. C. Surman, physician, said today.

The two families came here several days ago and had hardly found work before the inclement weather set in, to stop further cotton gathering. Exposure and poor nourishment have been aggravating factors in the spread of the disease to every member of the group, it is believed.

One family of eight children and two adults is confined to a single small tent. The other family consists of two adults and three young children.

The influenza epidemic has been widespread here, reaching a majority of the homes, Dr. Surman said. Five persons, three of whom were local youths, died of pneumonia here during four days last week. The deceased were Forest (Blondy) Tucker, a senior in the high school, Jack Ray, younger brother of a local dentist, Truman Puckett, and two transients whose names were not announced.

The number of cases has not increased since the recent cold weather although those who are ill have not been improved by the freezing temperature, the physician explained. He estimated that the number of influenza or pneumonia cases in town was slightly more than 100.

In Massawa, on the Red Sea, 120 degrees in the shade was registered recently.

Vote On Philippine Measure Is Expected By Wednesday

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (AP) — Driving toward a vote on Philippine independence, the senate today became involved in a heated argument over American sovereignty and deferred a decision on this point until tomorrow.

Indications pointed to a final vote on the Hawes-Cutting measure, granting full freedom to America's possessions in the Pacific, by Wednesday, if not late tomorrow.

Edna Ferber Is Barred From Mexico Because Of Writings

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 13. (AP) — The department of immigration announced today orders have been telegraphed to the frontier not to permit Edna Ferber, American writer, ever to re-enter Mexico because of statements she made in an article in the July issue of Cosmopolitan magazine.

"Miss Ferber was given every class of facilities when she came to Mexico last spring," said Rafael Perez Taylor, chief administration official of the department of interior, "despite the fact that she was treated courteously and well, she wrote that Mexico was a dirty country of dogs and fleas, without good hotels or restaurants."

Officers Seek Missing Man

Tom Gilliam Is Being Hunted By Local Officers After He Leaves Town Before Trial Here Tuesday

Federal authorities late yesterday were engaged in a diligent search for Tom Gilliam, alias Alfred Gilliam, who was said to have skipped $7,500 bond in federal court here on a charge of illegal transportation of stolen automobiles and whose arrest was ordered Tuesday by Judge W. H. Atwell. The court ordered the bond forfeited and a new one set for $10,000.

Judge Atwell dismissed the jury yesterday afternoon until 10 o'clock this morning. Civil cases are to come up today.

Today's cases are: Ruben L. Price vs. U. S. A., and Willie de Witt Hart vs. U. S. A., both cases of World war veterans.

Another Charged

Gilliam and Bert T. Ditmore were jointly charged with the transportation of five stolen automobiles from Oklahoma points to Lubbock. A sixth charge was for alleged conspiracy. The counts charge that cars were brought to Texas from Ada, Anadarko, Seminole, Calumet and El Reno, all in Oklahoma. The sixth charge was "conspiracy to steal, sell, transport and conceal and handle stolen motor cars."

Ditmore told Alfred Crager, assistant U. S. district attorney, that he wanted to change his plea of "not guilty" to "guilty," to two counts, transportation of a car from Seminole to Lubbock and to the conspiracy charge. Other charges were dismissed on his change of plea.

Elmer E. Combs, charged with passing a counterfeit bill, changed his plea from not guilty to guilty. At the request of the assistant U. S. district attorney, the case against Ben F. Overstreet on a similar charge was dismissed.

Charles Hall and Rolly Barnett, charged with possession and passing of $10 counterfeit notes, entered pleas of guilty.

Judgments Granted

Default judgments amounting to slightly over $100,000, were granted by Judge Atwell to receivers of the Plainview National bank and the Floyd County National bank at the morning session.

W. D. Girand, Lubbock referee in bankruptcy, represented F. A. Blankenbeckler, received for the Plainview National bank, and G. E. Hamilton, Matador, represented L. B. Withers, receiver of the Floyd County National bank at Floydada.

Following were the judgments announced:

For Receiver Blankenbeckler: J. C. Pyeatt, et al, $6,070.40; L. J. Halbert, $2,914.30, dismissed as to W. M. Lunday; J. C. Pyeatt, $1,285.36; H. B. Krohn, $131.37, dismissed as to Stephens and Thresher; M. G. Harrison, et al $6,549.50; E. T. White, $2,100; Roy Irick and Irick Construction company, $34,000 in stock; Dave Collier, $13,076.80, including a stock assessment; T. J. Edelman and T. C. Shepard, $377.50; W. P. Sampler and T. C. Shepard, $243.41 and dismissed as to Shepard, with foreclosure of lien; C. H. Harp, et al, $488.90 with no-prejudice as to T. C. Shepard, dismissed as to other defendants; W. L. Brasher, $261.15 on a mortgage with dismissal without prejudice as to T. C. Shepard; J. G. Logsden, $741.22 with foreclosure; L. L. George, $14,018.66; Gaston and Earl Patterson, $556.07; A. H. Morrison and Ted Andrews, $1,087.24;

For Receiver Withers: Olin S. Miller, $692.87; R. W. Watson, $398.29; O. W. Lawrance, $1,506.91; R. Stovall, $921.71; Elmer Kelley, $1,689.54.

Judgments for the Plainview receiver amounted to $95,051.98 and for the Floydada receiver $5,209.32.

Gangster War

detachment of police rushed to the home, and said he shot them in the belief they were robbers. They had called at the back door. He had not sent his children to school, he explained, because he did not believe in vaccination.

Tried To Rob Shop

The other death solved was that of Frank Schaeffer, 30, former light heavyweight boxer. Stokely Roans, operator of a tailor shop where Schaeffer was found shot dead, told the police he had wrested a pistol from a companion of Schaeffer and shot him when Schaeffer and his confederate tried to rob the shop.

Mayor Cermak had promulgated his drive on hoodlum hangouts and beer joints yesterday, announcing he wanted the city purged of gang-controlled alcohol syndicates and their retail outlets against the coming of legal beer. And so one of Chicago's periodic "sweep the city clean of gangsters and hoodlums, clamp the lid on" campaigns was heralded.

Mayor Goes Wild

Today, as he read of the epidemic of shooting that followed his clean-up proclamation, the mayor railed at gangsters and police captains.

"As I said yesterday," he asserted, "if they are unable to cope with the conditions, and I include myself in this statement, then they had better get out. Either the gangsters or we are running the city . . .

"No one can tell me that it is possible for gangsters to drive around the city with alcohol in their cars and beer barrels on their trucks and the police be ignorant of it. I told the captains this is not a spasmodic drive. It must be a constant battle to keep the hoodlums on the run. Put them in jail, kill them or drive them out."

RANCHER IS DEAD

Moderate Trade Seen For Cotton — Higher Trend Seen In Trade — Grain Markets Drop Downward

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 13. (AP)—Very moderate trading featured the cotton market today and prices fluctuated within a narrow range, closing steady with the active months showing net declines for the day of 3 to 6 points.

The market opened rather easy although Liverpool cables came in about as due with lower Sterling. Private cables said the market was quiet and featureless; hedging met trade calling. Manchester cabled trade was also quiet and featureless with small business in cloths and yarns dull. First trades here showed losses of 2 to 4 points and prices continued to ease after the start on the absence of buying orders and a very little hedge selling. Near the end of the first hour March traded down to 5.87 and May to 5.97 or 5 to 6 points below yesterday's close.

Trading was very light for the rest of the morning but owing to the absence of all selling pressure prices improved slowly on a little trade buying and before noon March had advanced to 5.94 and May to 6.05, up 7 to 8 points from the early lows and 2 points above the previous close.

The market was easier again during the afternoon in sympathy with a lower stock market and some hedge sales in a narrow market and prices dropped to new lows for the day at 5.82 for March and 5.94 for May or 11 points down from the highs and 9 points under yesterday's close. Prices rallied 3 to 4 points at the end on covering. May closing at 5.87 and May at 5.98, down 5 points net for the day on both these active months.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 1 penny point down to 2 up.

Port receipts 55,646, for week 152,745, for season 5,322,103, last season 5,714,272. Exports 31,423, for week 87,129, for season 3,592,242, last season 3,337,948. Port stock 4,808,855, last year 4,779,294. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 173,693, last year 194,425. Spot sales at southern markets 16,794, last year 26,875.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Dec. 13. (AP)—Cotton today was quiet and prices fluctuated within a range of 10 or 12 points.

Slight opening losses were followed by rallies on reports of continued light offerings from the south, but later the market eased under local selling or liquidation.

March contracts after selling up from 5.90@5.97 broke to 5.86 in the late trading, then steadied in the last few minutes closing at 5.92. The final tone was steady with prices net unchanged to 2 points lower.

The opening was unchanged to 5 points lower. There was some southern selling and near month liquidation and local selling on the rather disappointing Liverpool cables.

The comparatively light offerings were absorbed by trade buying or covering, however, while there was also a little buying here through brokers with Japanese connections.

The market turned heavy in the late trading on local selling or liquidation. January declined to 5.73 and May to 5.97, making net losses of 6 to 8 points, but the close was 4 to 6 points up from the lowest on renewed covering.

There was considerable switching from January to later deliveries. The absence of southern selling or hedging in any appreciable volume gave the market a fairly steady undertone. There were reports of a steady tone in the cotton goods market.

Liverpool cables reported a quiet market with hedging absorbed by trade calling and said the Manchester goods market was quiet with only a small business in cloths and yarns. Exports today 31,925, making 3,610,912 so far this season. Port receipts 65,640; U. S. port stocks 4,857,166.

Unemployed

which period the cards will be issued, so the unemployed men have been advised by Joe Wilson, secretary of the welfare association.

"It's these mechanical cotton pickers and machinery such as the highway builders employ for work, that used to be done by hand, that's got us men standing in here begging for anything we can do," said one of the group who seemed to be in a preaching mood. Conversation revealed that most of the men were laborers who used to work for the railroad, the highway department, the oil fields and any number of professions where skilled men were used.

Machines Beat Men

"They got machinery now that one or two men can operate and for everyone of the danged things thirty or forty men were thrown out of wor," the "preacher" continued.

One of the group had been an employe of a railroad for many years until he walked out one day more than two years ago on a strike. Since then he has never had a steady job although there has been very little of the time he hasn't had work, he says.

"I pick cotton a little while; when that is over I work in the compresses. Recently I have been working on the highway. My contract there is about up and with all the trouble they been having over the construction I don't figure I will be able to work there much longer. So I'm camping here until I get a card."

Must Look Ahead

"You gotta be always looking ahead," he advised. "That's the only way to get a job. When you hear of something just sit on the front door step of that place until you are hired. This idea of leaving your name doesn't get you anywhere. I never would have got on the highway if I hadn't stayed around ever day asking the boss when he thought he could take me on," and thus he continued until another philosopher changed the subject.

The number of applicants for work have not been announced. Registrations Tuesday were numerous, although many of the men in the hall said that they have been enrolled since last week.

The first projects mapped out by the committee will include cleaning up the dump ground on the northeast edge of the city, street and alley work, and park improvement. Persons who can prove their need for unemployment aid and who have resided in this county a year or longer will be given jobs, the committee announced.

Stocks Sell Off Tuesday In Market Just As Dull As Its Predecessors

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 13. (AP)—Stocks sold off today in a market that was just as dull as its immediate predecessors.

The reversal of recent trends was not sufficiently pronounced to suggest that speculative opinion had undergone a marked change; rather traders appeared to be merely waiting for final word on the debt payments.

Quotations ranged slightly lower throughout the session. Doubtless professionals had been discouraged by absence of any follow-through support for the past week's advance and decided to lighten holdings. Few shares lost as much as a point net, though a number of leaders fell in that group, among them American Telephone, Case, American Tobacco "B," Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Harvester, Allied Chemical and U. S. Steel preferred. Steel common, American Can, Du Pont, Woolworth, North American, New York Central and Southern Pacific yielded major fractions. Business aggregated 733,948 shares.

Thus the market received calmly news on the progress of the debt debate in the French chamber of deputies, though during trading hours it learned that the foreign affairs and finance committees opposed Premier Herriot's proposals. Wall street went home without final word as to what France would do on Thursday of this week.

Debt uncertainty, dragging along until almost the last minute, has overshadowed developments in the strictly domestic sector where industry is suffering from seasonal sluggishness. In this connection, however, it is being pointed out that banks do not desire to assume an aggressive attitude until the government financial pictures becomes clearer and congressional programs are more fully revealed. The current weekly statement of reporting reserve member banks discloses a sharp contraction in loans and investments due, presumably, to preparations for treasury financing and in some measure to last week's reduction in yield rates on acceptances.

mained silent and the sitting was suspended.

In his speech M. Herriot called attention to the danger of disorder in Europe.

"The plague of dictatorship is extending everywhere," he said. "It is a formidable danger. It is impossible to disregard eventualities perhaps imminent—for example, the disappearance in the course of nature of some head of a state and a return to the pre-war regime."

His hearers generally took this as an allusion to Germany.

"At the moment when negotiations are offered you, when the legitimacy of revision is recognized, you who condemned forcible methods, you pronounce for refusal of payment," the premier declared.

"Whatever be the disputes, passions, quarrels, the signature must be honored so that the document signed may not be a scrap of paper."

Husband Of Ruth Judd Says That He's Ready To Tell All

PRESCOTT, Ariz., Dec. 13 (AP) — Disappointed in the action of the Arizona supreme court in refusing Winnie Ruth Judd a new trial, Dr. W. C. Judd, the condemned woman's husband, said he would leave here for Phoenix tonight to "tell all" to Sheriff J. R. McFadden of Maricopa county.

"I am going to do now what I should have done months ago," Dr. Judd said. "That is to tell all the truth of this case and when I do there will be another person in a prison cell and Ruth Judd will stand exonerated of this crime of which she has been accused and convicted."

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 13. (AP) — Light steers, yearlings and mixed yearlings held about steady at most markets with some sales showing a 25 higher trend, but steers with weight again found a slow, dull outlet at generally 25 lower prices. Several centers reported a sizeable holdover of weighty steers from Monday's market and this number is likely to be increased with today's slow demand. Yearling steers and mixed yearlings in Chicago sold up to 7.00 while best 1362 lb. steers at this market brought 6.50. The general bulk of steers and yearlings were eligible to sell in a spread of 3.75@6.00 with a few loads at 5.25@6.65. Stockers and feeders were steady to weak under a limited supply with a few sales included at 3.25@4.75. Receipts of 89,800 for the to date at eleven markets shows a decrease of about 19,000 from the same period last week and around 31,000 less than a year ago.

Some markets reported new low levels for best hogs with values quoted unevenly 5 to 15 lower than Monday's average trade. A few sales were as much as 25 off. St. Louis listed an early top of 3.25.

Fat lambs carried a steady to 25 lower trend with desirabel fat kinds selling largely in a spread of 5.25@6.00 and a few loads and odd lots at 6.15@6.25.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Dec. 13. (AP) — Hogs 400, including 225 directs; truck hogs to small killers steady; few sales to packers 10 to 15 lower; no rail hogs offered; truck top 3.50; bulk better grades 185-250 lb. truck hogs 3.40@3.50; few good light weight truck hogs to packers 3.30; packing sows 2.25@2.50 or steady to 25 lower.

Cattle, 2,200, including 1,000 calves; slaughter steers scarce, steady to slightly lower. Fed loads around 2.85@3.50; receipts mostly slaughter yearlings; trade fairly active and fully steady; other classes cattle unchanged; better grades fed yearlings 4.25@5.00; other slaughter yearlings 4.00 down; few good fat cows up to 2.50; butcher sorts around 1.75; several cars good stock steer calves 4.25@2.50 and well bred stock heifer calves 3.75, steady; slaughter calves firm to 25 higher; few good heavies up to 3.75; other weighty averages around 3.00 down.

Sheep, 800, fat truck lambs 3.75a@4.00 or steady; the bulk of receipts late in arriving.

Young Zealot

gallery doors as those about Kemmerer sought safety. Members looked up, startled. Kemmerer threw one leg over the gallery railing, waving his .38 caliber revolver with sweeping gestures.

"I Want The Floor"

"I want the floor for a few minutes," he shouted.

At about the same time, the page boy shouted his warning, members forgot the vote and some of their dignity and started for the exits.

McMillan remained in the chair rapping for order. Then Representative Maas (R., Minn.), who saw air service during the war, walked over to a spot directly under Kemmerer.

"I want the floor," Kemmerer was saying.

"All right, son," Maas told the excited disturber, "but before you get the floor just give me the gun."

Gun Is Dropped

Kemmerer dropped the gun to Maas. A moment later Representative La Guardia (R., N. Y.), who had rushed from the floor to the gallery as soon as Kemmerer stood up, reached his side. Police were on his heels, and Kemmerer was taken to headquarters for questioning.

"As he was led from the chamber, Kemmerer told newspapermen:

"I do not represent any organization, but I am for all the people. I had the gun so I could assure myself an opportunity to speak."

Find Opening Speech

Later, in the pocket of his brown suit, police found the opening paragraph of his intended speech. It began:

"Okay America! For the next twenty minutes you will listen to a speech which has the interest of the American people. The first man that tries to stop me will die. Is that understood?"

When seized by police, Kemmerer was shaking. His naturally pale face was colorless.

"I first went to the house one day last week," Kemmerer told police.

"Did you consider the consequences of such action as you took today?" police asked.

"I didn't care, so long as I achieved my objective."

Was Least Excited

Maas probably was the least excited of all those who witnessed the scene in the house. Laughingly, he told newspapermen 10 minutes afterward:

"I didn't think about it particularly at the time. I was afraid he might get excited and shoot somebody so I just walked across the chamber and talked to him quietly. The man stood wavering for a moment or so and then decided to throw down the gun.

"When the gun came down it was loaded and cocked."

From his home town came word that Kemmerer had been employed at the Sears-Roebuck store two years as a clerk. He was described as "courteous, level-headed and sensible—a nice young fellow."

Home-town police described him as a "dead shot."

Phoenix Judge Is Killed In Auto Mishap Near Van Horn

EL PASO, Dec. 13 (AP)—Judge Edwin Flannigan of Phoenix was killed instantly at 11:30 a. m. today when the car in which he was riding with W. O. Bradshaw of San Antonio turned over 18 miles south of Van Horn.

Judge Flannigan's body was brought to El Paso tonight.

Sheriff A. A. Anderson, Culberson county, said the car turned over when a rear tire blew out and the car rolled on to a shoulder of the highway which was soft.

The driver of the car, Bradshaw, was uninjured.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Dec. 13. (AP)—Wheat was in fair demand on the Fort Worth cash grain market but other offerings were slow.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid to destination, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard according to protein and billing $1 1-2@$3 1-2; Barley No. 2 nominally 31@32; No. 3 nominally 30@31.

Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 lbs. 65@67; No. 2 kaffir 54@55.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn, No. 2 mixed 39@41; No. 2 white or yellow 41@43.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 23@24; No. 3 red 22@23.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 13. (AP)—Fresh tangles regarding international debt payments did much to pull grain markets unceasingly downward today.

Particular attention was given to record low wheat values at Liverpool and to a late sinking spell of the wheat market at Winnipeg. Pressure of cut-price offerings of Argentine and Australian wheat to importing countries was generally taken to indicate a period of keen competition ahead in the world breadstuff trade.

Wheat in Chicago closed unsteady at the day's bottom figures, 3-4 to 1 1-2 under yesterday's finish, corn 5-8 to 1 1-8 down, oats 1-4 to 1-2 off, and provisions unchanged to 7 cents decline.

Impeachment

today to exact a penalty for his latest outbreak.

Request Resignation

The Pennsylvania Republican delegation met immediately after the house action and voted to request McFadden's resignation as its chairman. McFadden declined to comment.

It was the first time, said William Tyler Page, that anyone has impeached the president on the house floor since the attempt to oust President Andrew Johnson. Although in that case the house approved the impeachment resolution—equivalent to an indictment—the senate, sitting as a court, refused to find Johnson guilty on any of the counts.

Representative Snell told newspapermen he thought McFadden "on the roll call vote got about as hard a spanking as a grown man could get" and consequently did not think a Republican caucus would be called to punish the Pennsylvanian.

Japan Is Displeased With New Russo-Chinese Accord

TOKYO, Dec. 13 (AP)—Japan, displeased at the prospect of a new alignment of powers in the orient, emphatically dissented today from the assertion of Maxim Litvinoff, Russian foreign commissar, that "all sincere friends of peace" will welcome the resumption of Russo-Chinese relations.

A governmental spokesman characterized the accord reached yesterday between Commissar Litvinoff and Dr. W. W. Yen, China's spokesman at the League of Nations, as "a reunion of forces of destruction."

Two Fail In Their Attempt To Loot Heidenheimer Bank

TEMPLE, Dec. 13 (AP)—Two men failed in their attempt to rob the Heidenheimer bank at Heidenheimer today when the president gave an alarm.

The men had just forced two employes to raise their hands and face the wall when Tom Heard, the president, came in a back door, saw what was going on and ran for aid. The men, who were unmasked, escaped.

Appearance Of Players At High School Is Cancelled

Because of the influenza epidemic, weather conditions, and "dead" week at Texas Technological college, appearance of the Hendrickson-Bruce Shakespearan players at high school auditorium was cancelled Tuesday night, Prof. W. R. Waghorne of Texas Tech said.

Fourteen tickets were sold at the college and six at high school. "The company was quite prepared to give their program, which would have been a presentation of the "Merchant of Venice," but I insisted against it," Mr. Waghorne said. "I hope that we will be able to bring them back."

As the most serious unsettling influence on business, Sisson spoke of "acute political and financial unsettlemen: existing abroad."

Factors Are Discussed

He urged immediate steps toward "strengthening economic fundamentals through international action on war debts, armaments, trade barriers, monetary stabilization and other questions that have created or aggravated the world depression."

Discussing domestic business factors, Sisson listed an improved bond market, credit relief measures, steadiness in electric power consumption, inflow of gold into the United States, low inventories, decline in banking and commercial failures, increases in factory employment, excess bank reserves, decline in money hoarding and the reparations compromise at Lausanne.

Withdrawal Of Troops From East Texas Being Expected

The governor seemed to have his mind made up that, in face of yesterday's United States supreme court decision holding he had exceeded his authority in directing the operation of state troops to enforce oil proration there, the thing to do was to act immediately to withdraw the militiamen.

High Court Upholds Decision Which Says Person Is Dead By Absence Of 7 Years Without Reason From Family

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 13 (AP)—The United States fifth circuit court of appeals in an opinion today upheld the federal district court in Denton county, Texas, in granting Mrs. Sallie Hayman government compensation, holding that a "person who is absent from his relatives and friends, without apparent reason, for seven years or longer, may be considered dead."

Mrs. Hayman contended her son, Madie Hayman, made her beneficiary in a $10,000 government life insurance policy which he took out in 1918 while a member of battery B, 20th field artillery. Discharged from the army the same year because of disability, she said her son then became employed in government work at Muscle Shoals, Ala., and subsequently disappeared.

The appellate court remanded for further proceedings, the case of James Shaw, banking commissioner of Texas, in which the latter is seeking to collect $30,000 from the Metropolitan Casualty Insurance company, of New York, as surety bond on two employes of the state bank at Blum, Texas, which became insolvent.

The employes, Ellis Taylor, cashier, and Beatrice Wheat, bookkeeper, each under $15,000 surety bond, were alleged to have between them embezzled funds of the bank in excess of $30,000. The casualty company was upheld by the district court in its contention that it was not liable for any funds loss in excess of $15,000, the amount of bond carried upon each employe, "no matter if two or more are responsible for a shortage."

Oil Price Cut In East Texas Looms

DALLAS, Dec. 13 (AP)—Carl Estes, Tyler newspaper publisher, here today issued a call for a meeting of indipendent oil producers and royalty owners of East Texas for "the day following the price cut" which, he said, would "come some time this week."

Estes said the price cut of crude oil would be forced by "refusal of two companies to meet the $1.12 a barrel figure posted by eighty per cent of the major operators." In his written statement, Mr. Estes named the companies.

In the meantime, the Tyler publisher stated that he had advised East Texas independents to "sit steady until after the price cut, and by so doing we can place the responsibility for that action where it rightfully belongs."

"No well in East Texas or anywhere else should be allowed to produce more oil than its offset and that's exactly what's happening in the Etex field under the commission's acreage basis order now in effect," Estes said in his written statement.

Estes stated that major oil companies are allowed to take as high as 42 barrels a day from wells just across a wire fence from offset wells of independent producers, some of whom can only run 28 barrels.

Citizens Uncomfortable As Cold Weather Strikes Water

ABERNATHY, Dec. 13 (Special)—Abernathy folks are finding the present cold spell very uncomfortable. Without a city water works in the residence section, local residents are having trouble keeping enough water in their homes for their needs. All water is supplied here by windmill, and when freezing weather strikes, the home water systems are rendered useless. The few who are fortunate enough to have electric or gasoline pumps on their wells furnish their neighbors water during the freezing spells.

Nine Sentenced In Local Court

Nine persons, found guilty of violation of federal statutes or who entered pleas of guilty, were sentenced Tuesday noon in United States District court by Judge William H. Atwell. Following passing of sentence the prisoners were remanded to custody of the U. S. marshal.

It had not been determined late yesterday whether the nine, which included one woman, would be sent to federal prisons directly from Lubbock or concentrated at Fort Worth. Alfred Crager, assistant U. S. attorney, said he expected next week to have a heavy docket in Fort Worth and that probably the government would bring all prisoners for Leavenworth there and charter a special car.

"All law violations are serious," Judge Atwell said before he pronounced sentence on the prisoners. "We have a habit of thinking too loosely about laws. The government has not power to do anything unless the people vote it the power to do it.

"I like to think of our great nation as a plan owned by all the people and not only owned by all but loved by all the people."

Following were the sentences:

J. W. Johnston, Spur, and C. C. Stephenson, Ralls, 13 months at Leavenworth, Kas.; Alfred O. Bybee, Ralls, 18 months at Leavenworth; Elmer E. Combs, Dickens, 15 months at Leavenworth, and Worth E. Combs, Dickens, two years at Leavenworth; Mrs. Rena Massey, Abernathy, 13 months at the federal woman's prison, Alderson, West Va.

Charlie H. Hall and Rolly Barnett, Brownwood, a year and a day each at Leavenworth, for passing alleged $10 counterfeit bills.

Bert T. Ditmore, Choctaw, Okla., 15 months at Leavenworth, for transportation of a stolen automobile.
