27 Freedom Riders Go On Trial Today

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Segregation-defying "Freedom Riders" were scheduled to go on trial in Jackson City Court today as integrationists continued their massive assault on "Jim Crow" barriers throughout the Deep South.

Trial of the 27 Freedom Riders—25 Negroes and two whites—is set for 5 p.m. in the same courtroom where earlier this year other Negroes were convicted for attempts to integrate Jackson's main public library and city bus system.

At the trial of the library integrationists, club-swinging policemen using trained dogs dispatched a large crowd of hymn-singing Negroes outside the court building.

The 27 Freedom Riders were arrested Wednesday after their arrival on two separate buses from Montgomery.

They were charged under the same breach of peace statute used in the previous integration attempts here. They also face an additional charge of disobeying an officer. If convicted of both charges, they face a maximum six-month jail term and $500 fines.

In New Orleans—the announced destination of all previous "Freedom Rides" — the City Council adopted a resolution urging police to escort the integrationists and other "agitators" nonstop through the city. Dist. Atty. Richard Dowling said he would charge any such traveling groups with violation of a state law similar to the Mississippi anti-integration breach of peace law.

Thursday, Dowling accepted charges under that law against George Lincoln Rockwell and nine of his anti-integration right-wing American Nazi party followers. They were jailed for picketing the movie "Exodus" and a National Association for the Advancement of Colored People rally.

In yet another development, the Florida NAACP president ordered a segregation test of all rail and bus lines and terminals in Florida. The Rev. Leon Lowrey of Tampa instructed all NAACP chapters to seek service in terminal restaurants, take front seats on trains and buses and use white only restroom facilities.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy ordered withdrawal of all but 100 of the 600 federal marshals sent into Montgomery, Ala., during last weekend's rioting.

Kennedy's action was protested by Negro integration leader Martin Luther King Jr. In a telegram from Atlanta, the Rev. Mr. King urged that the federal marshals remain in Montgomery "at this crucial moment." He also warned that "a potential reign of terror still exists" in the Alabama capital.

Eight Persons Die In Fire

LOWER BRULE, S.D. (AP)—Eight persons, including seven members of one family, burned to death early today in a fire which destroyed a small home on the Lower Brule Indian Reservation.

Authorities had recovered four bodies about five hours after the blaze swept through the five-room house. They said there were at least four others known to have been trapped.

Lonnie Ray Good Low, 8, ran from the burning house and gave the alarm to his grandmother in a nearby home.

There was no official word on the cause of the fire, but the Rev. Clyde Estes, Episcopal minister for the reservation, said he believed it resulted from an explosion in a petroleum stove.

The known victims were Irene Johnson, 19; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Good Low, both in their early 30s, and five of their six children—Reba, 12, Anthony, 10, Jerry, 5, Gene, 4, and Beverly, 2.

Magruder, Koreans Reach Compromise

By ALAN CLINE

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korea's military rulers and U.S. Gen. Carter B. Magruder agreed today on a compromise restoring to Magruder most of the operational control he exercised over the 525,000-man Korean armed forces before the coup last week.

Magruder said he was not completely satisfied, that he considered his authority as U.N. commander in Korea had been "restored to a considerable degree, rather than fully."

"Once authority has been flouted, it can only be re-established by its implicit observance over a long period," said Magruder, who had unsuccessfully called on the armed forces to withhold support from the rebels.

The junta headed by Lt. Gen. Chang Do-young agreed to return to the front 3,800 of the 7,000 troops who seized Seoul on May 16 and overthrew the elected government of Premier John M. Chang.

Magruder released to the control of the junta two understrength army reserve divisions totaling only a few thousand men, a paratroop combat team of 2,000 to 3,000 men and about 700 military policemen to garrison Seoul against any challenge to the military regime.

It was understood that Magruder failed to win out in his demand that he once more approve changes in Korean command appointments, an authority U.N. commanders exercised before the coup. The junta leaders have replaced—without Magruder's approval—several top commanders who refused to back their rebellion.

Texans To Choose A Senator

Texas voters will go to the polls tomorrow to elect a U. S. Senator to fill the vacancy created when Lyndon B. Johnson was elected Vice President of the United States.

Selections will be made from two candidates who survived from a field of 71 in an April 4 election, and the division in the run-off is largely on party lines.

William Blakley, serving by appointment as interim senator, is an avowed Democrat, while John Tower, his opponent, ran on the Republican ticket in the general election last fall.

A fairly heavy turnout of voters is expected over the state tomorrow.

In Scurry County, voters will cast their ballots at the regular polling places. Voting boxes are located in the courthouse in Snyder, and at their regular sites in other communities of the county.

The polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

A slightly heavier turnout is expected in the county than the 1,914 logged in the April 4 election. The earlier balloting was held on Tuesday, and normally a Saturday election draws more to the polls here than an earlier week day.

Absentee balloting also indicated a slight increase, with 37 ballots issued for the runoff, 10 more than were cast on April 4.

Meanwhile, both candidates were making last-minute appeals for support in the race.

Both will close their bids in television addresses.

Blakley will speak from Dallas and Tower from Fort Worth Friday night.

Ten members of the Texas House of Representatives planned to move through Fort Worth Friday on what they called a "victory march for Blakley."

Gov. Price Daniel said at Austin that if there is a large turnout of voters Saturday that Blakley will win the election by 55 per cent of the votes. The governor said that Blakley could lose to Tower if the Democrats become "overconfident and indifferent."

The Republican state chairman, Tad Smith of El Paso, had praise for a group of Harlingen conservative Democrats who said they "planned to participate actively in the Republican Party."

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram, an independent Democratic newspaper, came out Thursday in support of Blakley.

The newspaper said editorially that Blakley, "by virtue of two short periods as interim senator, has the edge in senatorial experience over Republican Tower . . . and that edge is important."

No-Strike Pact Hailed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government announced today a labor-management pledge against any further strikes or other labor problem delays on the nation's missile-space sites.

President Kennedy hailed the commitment by the AFL-CIO and leading missile-space contractors and manufacturers as signaling full speed ahead on the programs.

Kennedy issued an executive order establishing an 11-man "Missile Sites Labor Commission," made up of representatives of the government, labor unions, and management.

"This action," Kennedy said, "will have a most salutary effect upon our effort to move forward quickly in these fields so imperative to the national interest.

"Avoidable delays in these programs are too expensive a luxury for this country to afford."

The labor-management pledge was announced at a news conference by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg on his return from the White House where Kennedy signed the executive order.

New Agency Is Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy asked Congress today for a drastic overhaul of the foreign aid program, a $4.75 billion aid effort for next year and a multibillion loan system for future years.

Kennedy said the proposed long-range program is of "paramount importance" for protection of the free world against the Communist threat.

The President made his proposal in a letter to Congress transmitting the legislation he wants enacted.

A number of influential legislators have shown coolness to parts of the Kennedy package, however, and what type of bill Congress will finally approve remains uncertain.

In what would be the most drastic shakeup since the aid program got under way on a large scale after World War II, Kennedy proposed establishment of a single aid organization combining previously separate units.

The new master aid agency would be called A.I.D. (The Agency for International Development). Its head would have undersecretary of state rank and would report to the secretary of state and the President.

Under Kennedy's bill arms aid would be separated from economic aid in the future, and would be treated as part of the regular U.S. defense budget.

Kennedy set out these figures for the program in the fiscal year starting July 1:

$1.69 billion for economic aid to countries around the world. The sum includes $500 million for a presidential contingency fund for flexible use in emergencies such as recent developments in Southeast Asia, twice the amount Kennedy estimated for that purpose earlier.

$1,885,000,000 for arms assistance. This is the amount Kennedy mentioned in Thursday's message which outlined much of the program presented today.

$900 million in borrowing authority for funds to make long-term loans for overseas economic development projects.

$300 million additional, to come from repayments by foreign countries on previous loan-aid programs and to be reused for new projects. Kennedy also asked for authority to use such funds for the same purpose in future years, estimating them at about $300 million annually.

Light Rains Fall Third Day In Row

Light rains peppered the Snyder area late Thursday afternoon for the third day in a row.

Fast - moving clouds dropped only a small amount of moisture, however, and north winds were clearing skies today. Snyder had an official .03 of an inch of rain. Heavier showers were logged in some areas, particularly to the west of town, and hail was reported in an area north of Union. Apparently there was little damage from the small hailstones.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms skipped over most of the state during the night, but cool, drier air and northerly winds were clearing Northwest Texas this morning.

Robert Courtney White, 12, died early Friday of injuries suffered when he and a friend were struck by lightning from a severe thunderstorm which swept over Austin Thursday. Doctors worked for hours trying to save him. His companion, Blan Dysart, 11, was knocked to the ground by the bolt but suffered only loosened front teeth.

The violent weather caused widespread damage in South Fort Worth. Winds, clocked at 80 miles per hour, tore the roof off the Travelite Trailer Co. at Fort Worth and sent it crashing into parked cars.

Police reported limbs torn from trees blocked traffic in some Fort Worth streets during the violent storm. However, no injuries were reported.

The most violent thunderstorm activity in North Texas was centered along and east of Paris, Greenville, Lancaster, Hillsboro and Gatesville.

Lightning destroyed a tank and 600 barrels of oil six miles west of Abilene but firemen prevented the flames from spreading to four other tanks.

Tornado forecasts expired early in the day over widespread areas of the state without further reports of turbulent weather.

In the southeast corner of the state, Port Arthur was deluged by a 4.5 inch cloudburst that fell in less than four hours. Little damage was reported.

Publisher At Levelland Dies

LEVELLAND, Tex. (AP)—Forrest Weimhold, 52, owner and publisher of the Levelland Daily Sun News, died early today.

Cause of death was not known immediately. Associates said Weimhold had attended a political meeting in Lubbock Thursday night and had returned home at a late hour. He died in his sleep.

He suffered heart attacks in 1952 and last October.

Weimhold started his newspaper work in Levelland in 1939 and had owned several small newspapers in the South Plains. In Levelland he had backed numerous civic projects.

Tax Bill Takes Back Seat As Solons Near End Of Session

AUSTIN (AP)—House tax compromisers tried selling senators again Friday a multimillion dollar tax package containing a sales tax similar to a Pennsylvania levy.

All efforts so far have failed.

Tax talk took a back seat at times as legislators tried to push through hundreds of special interest bills before special end-of-the-season rules take effect at midnight.

After Friday only legislative measures well along the way toward completion or measures attractive enough to get top-heavy votes for suspension of rules can be considered.

The regular session ends at midnight Monday.

Late Thursday House members got a progress report on the tax bill negotiations between Senate and House experts. "No progress" was the report.

"We have reached no final conclusions as of this moment," said Rep. Charles Ballman, Borger, head of the House conferees. "However the spade work is done. We are too close to adding the roof to topple the foundation."

The House then wound itself into a complex argument over Ballman's report and came up with no definite decision.

"I consider my committee is still uninstructed," Ballman said later. "I don't know what the next step is. I guess we just wait until we get the word from someone."

There were no signs of the committee meeting again at the capitol Thursday night.

The House refused, 88-51, to discharge Ballman and his four colleagues. At the same time, representatives could not agree on what Ballman's next step should be.

A resolution that was at least inspired if not sponsored by the governor tried to bind the house conferees to:

1. A Pennsylvania-type sales tax.

2. A permanent increase in state franchise taxes based on capital and receipts of a corporation.

3. "Such additional taxes to finance House-approved spending."

The resolution, offered by Rep. Tom James, Dallas, got caught in a flurry of parliamentary protests and ended up in a committee.

The resolution spoke favorably of the Pennsylvania sales tax, saying it was accepted and signed into law by a governor who had been bitterly opposed to a general retail sales tax.

The Pennsylvania law levies an excise tax on the sale of hundreds of items, with the tax on each item specifically named in the law along with the naming of each specific exemption. Daniel has said previously such levies are selective sales taxes and are different from general retail sales taxes.

"I know about the resolution," Daniel told The Associated Press, "and think it offers the best basis for a compromise that I have heard advocated thus far. Since the proposal would not tax food, medicine, items of clothing under $10, farm supplies or any purchases under 50 cents, it is far better than the general retail sales tax bills."

Daniel has threatened to veto both the House-approved sales tax bill (HB727) and the Senate version (HB334).

Several House conferees said later that the Senate group has twice rejected plans similar to the proposals in Daniel's resolution. They added that the house group probably would offer the plan a third time probably Friday.

School Aid Bill Heads For Bitter Showdown In House

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's $2.55 billion public school aid bill, having vaulted the Senate handily, heads today into an expected bitter showdown in the House.

The Senate passed the measure Thursday night 49 to 34, climaxing eight days of debate. It is one of the "big five" bills in Kennedy's 1961 legislative program.

Its supporters said today they expect the school bill will clear the House by a slim margin, although it may be trimmed before it passes.

All in all, federal aid to education advocates believe this is the best chance they have ever had to get such legislation enacted.

The bill's Senate sponsors were a little disappointed in the final vote. It was lower than they had expected because of many absentees.

The tally would have been 59-41 if all 100 senators had been present to vote their announced positions. As it was 41 Democrats and 14 Republicans voted for it, 22 Republicans and 12 Democrats against it.

A similar bill has been approved by the House Education and Labor Committee. It may reach the floor in the week of June 4.

Even if the bill gets through the House, its sponsors concede that the funds for teacher salaries provision may be knocked out.

If this should happen, the basis for a possible compromise was laid in Senate debate. The bill, as it reached the Senate floor, made the grants available for teacher salaries or school construction.

A floor amendment, accepted by the administration, broadened this to include spending for such operating expenses as school buses, textbooks and libraries.

The bill passed by the Senate authorized $850 million a year in grants for the next three years to try to help states equalize educational opportunities.

It also extends for three more years the impacted area program of aid to school districts with enrollments swollen because of nearby federal installations. Payments under this program next year are estimated at $10 million.

The grants in the general school aid bill would be paid on a sliding scale, the poorest state getting three times as much as the richest.

Texas would get the largest amount of annual aid, $57,967,084, Nevada the smallest, $1,038,379. The largest per pupil allotment would be $27.74 for Arkansas, Mississippi and South Carolina, the smallest $9.25 for Connecticut.

Sen. Blakley Is Endorsed

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Morning News today editorially endorsed interim-Sen. William A. Blakley for election to the Senate.

Blakley, who has been serving by appointment of Gov. Price Daniel, is opposed by John G. Tower, a Republican, in a run-off special election Saturday. The News also supported Blakley in the first election.

In a front page editorial, the News, which calls itself an independent Democrat, noted that Blakley is "largely a self-schooled man" and added:

"Yet so wide has been his reading; so profound his study, so varied his experience, that there is scarcely a major educational, charitable, financial or industrial enterprise in this whole area that has not sought his advice and obtained his support.

"Senator Blakley stepped on the floor of the United States Senate as the full equal of anybody in that chamber."

Of Tower the News said: "In public service his record is as yet a blank page. The public has not up to this time had his service in political office. As a professor (of government at Midwestern University, Wichita Falls) he has been acceptable; as a candidate he has been clean; as an individual he has been a gentleman.

ALL AMERICAN ROSE

1962 All-American Rose Is Of Grandiflora Class

"John S. Armstrong," dark, velvety-red All America Rose Selections' Grandiflora Winner for 1962, appears destined for the same immortality in its class as that achieved by its proud parent, Charlotte Armstrong, "First Lady" of Hybrid Teas.

The introduction of this exquisitely flowering, unusually vigorous new champion climaxes 20 years of scientific research by Armstrong Nurseries, Inc., Ontario, Calif., to develop "the complete Grandiflora"—a hybrid that embraces all the qualities and characteristics one could reasonably desire in a rose.

The second consecutive All-America Rose Selections Grandiflora introduction (Pink Parfait, 1961) by Armstrong Nurseries, the new winner is named in honor of the 95-year-old founder and chairman of the board of the famed California rose breeding firm.

Charlotte Armstrong, 1941 AARS Winner, which has sold more than 3,000,000 plants since its introduction, was crossed with an unnamed seedling in creating the new hybrid. The Rose Charlotte Armstrong was named by Mr. Armstrong in memory of his late wife. It was the second of 17 All-America roses created by his firm since 1940.

The "living," vivid red quality of "John S. Armstrong's" flowers adds a new color to the universal rose spectrum. And the color never varies in its intensity from the bud stage to open flower.

The "John S. Armstrong" will not fade. Its deep red color is absolutely color fast, regardless of what stage the flower is in.

Exhaustive tests in gardens throughout the entire U. S. have found that this new AARS Grandiflora, unlike most dark red roses, will not burn or take on a bluish hue. Under extreme weather conditions, small maroon accents appear on the tips of the petals, a touch by Nature that further enhances the character and distinctiveness of "John S. Armstrong."

Upright and free-branching, it is a self-proportioning plant, growing to a height of 4 to 5½ feet, and fills out to approximately the same size in width. "John S. Armstrong" produces an abundance of basal canes, which keep it well foliaged from the ground up.

The bud form and flowering habits of "John S. Armstrong" are an adventure in color and symmetry. The flowers are borne in clusters, in true Grandiflora style, but the individual stems in the cluster are of ample length for cutting. The straight necks hold the medium to large flowers securely upright.

The distinctive, medium - sized buds open into multi-pleated flowers ranging up to 4 inches across. Rosarians have difficulty deciding which stage of the flower "John S. Armstrong" is most beautiful as they pass from the bud to the half - open and the fully - opened stage.

The fully-opened flowers on the plant maintain their attractive color and form appeal for up to two weeks, while cut flowers of the new AARS Grandiflora will highlight rooms well over a week under ordinary household conditions.

"Tests from all over the country," explains Dr. David L. Armstrong, director of research, "indicate that 'John S. Armstrong' is extremely resistant to disease. Mildew is no significant problem with this new variety, nor is black-spot."

Dr. Armstrong outlined what a "complete" Grandiflora is:

"1. An attractive, vigorous, easy to-grow plant that is amply foliaged and well-balanced.

"2. The finest, large-size flowers in a non-fading, distinctive color.

"3. Flowers that last for exceptionally long periods, whether in bloom on the plant or as cut flowers, and with a good cutting stem."

These are the features, Dr. Armstrong says, that make up a rose that "has everything a person could reasonably desire."

"John S. Armstrong" is the fourth Grandiflora ever to win the coveted AARS Award, and it is the fifth outstanding Grandiflora introduced by Armstrong Nurseries. The others are Pink Parfait, El Capitan, Roundelay, and Montezuma.

Teens On The Go

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Time was when teen-agers could see Europe only through history books, unless they were well-heeled.

But in recent years summer student tours have made it possible for thousands of young people to see Europe on a budget. Baby sitting earnings can do it.

Should you feel guilty though, if you don't spend the entire time abroad soaking up culture? It's a thought that bothers many girls, and one of the best known travel advisers to young girls, Lucie Lee Kinsolving, answers the question:

"American girls are early for fun and late for cultural activities when we go on tour. But, why not? You can't see a city in a museum, anyway. I give my culture tour in the morning, and the girls have the rest of the day to do as they please," she explains.

Guide Doesn't Overprotect

World-traveling Miss Lucie, as she is known to the teen-agers she has accompanied abroad for 25 years, was born in Brazil, the daughter of an Episcopalian bishop. She got used to travel early—on muleback to the missions with her father. She has worked with Dr. Grenfeld's mission for fishermen in Labrador. In between summer tours for the House of Travel, she teaches nursing arts and heads up 400 volunteers at a New York hospital.

She isn't overprotective of the 16 to 20 teen-agers she accompanies on tour, but she knows the pitfalls as well as the pleasures of travel. Here are some pointers:

"It is best that girls go off in fours to see a city when not accompanied by their tour leader.

"American girls have good table manners and try to be courteous. But they are too NOISY. European men do not understand this freedom. They think it has other meanings.

"Our girls are too casual. Europeans do not understand our relaxed manners: why we say 'hi' when they bow.

"Some customs are bothersome, so it is best not to walk alone. Italian men pinch girls even on the street, and they do not understand we resent it."

A bird's-eye view of Europe is best on the first trip, she explains. "But you should consider the countries you would enjoy seeing, if you'd invest your money wisely," she says.

What They Bring Back

If you have a little money to spend after your tour fees are paid, better prepare Mom for the worst, Miss Lucie says.

"A typical American girl buys WILD clothes when she goes abroad. She'll bring back tyrolean and gondolier hats, gay colored dirdls. One girl tried to bring a lemming home for Norway. She's named it after a prince she met abroad. Another girl pleaded to bring home a fawn."

Does she approve of dates?

"Why not, if the young man is known to the tour leader," she says, "and even then, he will no doubt try to impress my old gray head with his genuine intentions, like 'could you suggest something lovely that I can buy for my sister?'"

Flirting Doesn't Hurt

One of her girls had a tendency to be a little too romantic, she says. When reminded that she had said she was in love with four different men on the trip, she explained that "to love a man for two weeks is a long time."

"That these harmless flirtations didn't scar her permanently," Miss Lucie emphasizes, "is evident in her happy marriage and six children."

Water Goes Up

AP Newsfeatures

Water goes up in buckets to the second floor apartment of Hal and Sally Berrean in Seoul, Korea.

It is a part of the price they pay, gladly, for a Saturday night bath in a wash tub on the kitchen floor.

Inconveniences such as lack of plumbing, however, are worth it to the Berreans to be working once again in a country they both love.

In 1946 after Berrean had retired from the Pennsylvania State Police, they went to Korea so that he could become an adviser to the military police there. There were also two years of work for Hal Berrean at the American Embassy while Mrs. Berrean went around Seoul as "a private dogooder" before the Korean war returned them to the United States.

Their son, Dennis, has remained behind at Lehigh University in Pennsylvania to major in Far Eastern affairs. But Mr. and Mrs. Berrean are heading up the Save The Children Federation in Korea.

Mrs. Berrean handles the federation's largest program, the direct sponsorship of 3,000 Korean children. When an American individual or organization agrees to donate $150 each year to one child, Mrs. Berrean makes the selection. The child must be needy, of school age, and living with at least one parent. She distributes clothing, household articles, food, and money for schooling for the child.

Last year her assistants translated 22,000 letters between sponsors and children.

Her husband, meanwhile heads two federation projects. One enables parents to obtain loans and grants to buy such things as chickens, roadside stands and rope-making machines.

The other project helps communities plant trees, build schools, construct ditches and dikes to improve irrigation, and plant improved strains of rice.

"We feel this a good way to help people—so they can help themselves and help their children," Mrs. Berrean says.

Doomed Heroes Of Warsaw

MILA 18. By Leon Uris.

When Uris wrote "Exodus," he incorporated a brief episode about the uprising in the Warsaw ghetto during World War II. This novel is a tense narrative of a doomed, desperately heroic group of men and women who fought that battle.

The story begins in August, 1939, on the eve of war. Gradually the terrifying blows of fate fell—the German occupation, the creation 100 city blocks of walled ghetto, the brutalities, the extortions, starvation, the dumping of uprooted Jews into the ghetto until there were half a million, the shipments to the death camps.

Finally when the gruesome shipments had removed all but a tenth of the ghetto's humanity, the Jewish leaders decided to fight back with smuggled and homemade weapons. About a thousand of them held off Nazi soldiers, bombs, tanks and places for a month and a half. Only a few score crawled through the sewers for a final escape. The book takes its title from the street address of the bunker that served as headquarters for the revolt.

Uris had made the story memorable because he has succeeded in combining dramatic action with the whole wide gamut of his characters' ideas and emotions. There are two principal heroes, in the individual sense—Andrei Androfski, the Uhlan officer who always demands violent action, and Alex Brandel, the scholar and pacifist.

Brandel eventually agrees to the use of violence, and symbolically hurls the first gasoline bomb at the advancing Germans. Androfski serves as military leader of the doomed battalion. But more important than either of them is the journal which Brandel has been keeping, to be smuggled out later for the world to see.

There are sharp characterizations in this novel, such as the Italian journalist who goes into the ghetto because of another man's wife; the corrupt Nazi officials; and the teenagers who fall in love amid all the horrors.

Some readers may compare this book with John Hersey's "The Wall," but the criteria are different. Uris has written a first rate novel, vivid and moving, about heroic figures. Because he has given it the dramatic effect of fiction it carries a strong, personal impact.

Paper Dolls Visit

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Six Nelly Blys of tomorrow earned their way to New York City and back to Lakeland, Fla. recently to see how women fare in the newspaper field in the big town.

The girls— Susan Taylor, Penny Howell, Jane Ward, Miriam Yates, Betsy Cox and Pam Pate—also attended the Scholastic Press Association meetings at Columbia University.

But each mile came the hard way.

The half dozen 17-year-olds first attacked 113 of Lakeland's dusty autos with buckets of soap and water, and banked the fees for their shined-up finished products.

By "talking real sweet to men's civic clubs," they raised $550. And Jane Ward, editor of the "Bagpipe," the school paper, earned more money by conducting a children's party, making her own refreshments.

In the Pate kitchen Pam raised dough literally, shaped it and sold her loaves of bread at 60 cents a piece. The profit, of course, went into the mutual travel kitty.

The other girls also kept their ovens hot baking cookies and cakes for sale. Then the Lakeland Ledger, the local newspaper, and some of its readers contributed to their fund.

At last the girls could pack their bags. Part of the fun of the trip took place even before they left home. The 18 others on the Bagpipe staff gave them a gift and goodies to eat on the way.

Did they get their hard-earned money's worth in experience?

"At the United Nations we came face to face with Adlai Stevenson and Eleanor Roosevelt," Susan says, wide-eyed.

Yes, and they did learn about newspaper offices. The six made their ways through the complex corridors of the New York Times, and the Associated Press, counted linotype machines, learned the intricacies of wirephoto machines, noted how many desks were clean, and inquired about the ratio of women writers to men.

Men were always way ahead on the count. However, Virginia Davis, their journalism teacher who accompanied the teen-agers on the trip, was confident the girls would not desert their careers in journalism because of the bleak women-in-the-news picture.

"A first-hand trip like this is worth more than dozens of classroom lectures," their teacher summed up.

If no sterile gauze compresses are available for emergency treatment of small wounds and cuts, quickly wash a handkerchief or other cloth in hot soap or detergent suds and rinses. If possible, sterilize it further by pressing it with a very hot iron.

Naughty Italian Film Makes Sin Appear Unattractive

By INEZ ROBB

When I was in Italy last autumn, my friends said the one MUST was not the Forum or the fountains or the Coliseum or Hadrian's Villa or St. Peter's.

I could even skip the fettucini at Alfredo's, they intimated (so you want to ruin your waistline? Frankly, yes!), the Appian Way (talk about potholes in the pavement!), the catacombs and the knit suits without too much loss.

The one positive, absolute, essential MUST, they insisted, was to see a filming of "La Dolce Vita". Without seeing it, how could I hold up my end of the conversation, much less my head?

The long and short of it is that I resisted all efforts to get me into the movie theatre to se "La Dolce Vita". Rumors had already reached the U. S. A., before I left home, that this non-stop picture was a naughty hymn to vice in the live-it-up circles of Rome where better-informed observers than I say anything goes. You know: What's a little marijuana between friends?

It sounded to me like just another dirty picture in a long, dull line fro mthe projection room that glorified vice to pull the suckers into the box office.

I figured, after I came back to New York, that even with my conversational back to the wall, I would be able to think up something else to enliven the after-dinner hour than chit-chat about "La Dolce Vita" — such as, "Where were you the night Kennedy was elected?", "Who do you think presses Nixon's pants now?" and "Do you think the White House is a suitable place to raise adults?"

So I got out of Europe without ever seeing "La Dolce Vita". And still was able to hold up my end of the gabble at social gatherings.

But the other night I was mouse-trapped. About a month after this picture opened in New York I was euchred, protesting, into the theatre. I carried with me all my ingrained bias against dirty, degenerate, sensational entertainment on screen, stage or radio.

After a thre-hour hitch in the theatre—this is a long film— I came out eating my preconceptions and convinced that I had never before seen anything that made sin so unattractive. It may not inspire anyone to hie to a nunnery or make off for a monastery, but it certainly isn't going to send anyone posthaste to the flesh pots.

I am not at all certain that after 50 years the movies haven't produced their first real Sunday School tract in "The Sweet Life". Its condemnation of the degradation and degeneracy of the Roman upper-class would blister the hide of a rhino.

Scant wonder that all of Italy has been up in arms about this biting picture of the sweet life of a bored and debased aristocracy. The picture mercilessly exposes that class and its hangers-on in a visual statement that revolts the soul and the stomach of man.

But it would be stupid and arrogant to believe that director Frederico Fellini's savage indictment of modern society, its dedication to hedonism and its lack of basic moral values, stops at the Alps. He aims at me and thee, and he hits the mark.

Throughout the film I kept thinking, oddly enough, of Calvin Coolidge and the sermon on sin he heard in church. When asked for a reprise of the pastor's thesis, Coolidge said, "He was agin it."

Fellini is agin sin, too. He has produced a modern morality play that makes sin as ugly as — sin.

Deficit Up This Month

AUSTIN (AP)—The state treasurer reports that the general revenue fund deficit has gone up more than $5.5 million since May 8.

At the close of business Wednesday the deficit stood at $75,342,864, compared to $69,641,536 15 days ago, treasurer Jesse James said.

A new call for $2,919,188 in warrants on the fund was issued. Since the May 9 call $8,773,491 in general revenue fund warrants were issued.

The treasury is now paying warrants up to and including 221,258 and all warrants issued through Jan. 11 and parts of those dated Jan. 12 and 13, 1961, James said.

Prank Call Opens Door To Quartet

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Somebody should play a joke on you and make you rich.

It can happen.

A prank phone call by a coed two years ago has led to a million-dollar-plus career for four musical-minded members of the Phi Delta Gamma fraternity at the University of Seattle.

Now internationally famous in the younger folk-song set, "The Brothers Four" are a bit bedazzled by a quick success, but aren't swept off their feet by it. Right now, as perhaps the hottest and newest group of performers in the college entertainment circuit, they are eternally grateful to Alexander Graham Bell.

The four, all between the ages of 21 and 23, are Dick Foley, Mike Kirkland, John Paine, and Bob Flick.

In 1959, they were Seattle campus favorites when a phone call changed their lives. A joking coed called, said she was the secretary of a Seattle club, and invited them to show up for an audition.

They did. The kind-hearted club manager, who had never heard of them, listened to them and gave them their first break.

"We got dinner for ourselves and our dates, plus a lot of encouragement—mostly from our dates," said Mike.

The boys then got an engagement at the well known "hungry i" club in San Francisco at $50 a night for the group. That was their springboard to national attention.

Since then they have made four albums and a single recording that has sold a million platters. They have appeared on a dozen top television shows, traveled nearly half a million miles to perform at 300 colleges in all the states of the Union except Alaska and Hawaii.

They made from $2,500 a concert on up.

Resting now from their long strain, the four are vacationing, assembling new material, taking summer courses to gain college degrees, and planning an international tour.

The boys work together to write the word and music of old folk tunes in their own style.

Cabin Cruiser Is Found In Pasture

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — John B. Webb blinked a couple of times when he awoke Thursday and saw a 22-foot cabin cruiser in his pasture.

The state highway patrol came up with the answer a few hours later.

Ray Hopkins of San Antonio reported a trailer carrying the boat, "Phil's Little Toy," broke loose from his truck and rolled through a fence. He repaired the fence because there were cattle in the pasture, then took the boat.

Two Gibbon Apes Become Parents

FORT WORTH (AP) — Two gibbon apes, Jack and Jackie, became the parents of a bouncing baby in the Forest Park Zoo Thursday.

But the gibbon apes won't permit the superintendent to get near their baby, so no one knows if it's a boy or a girl.

It is extremely rare for a baby to be born to gibbon apes in captivity.

It begins to look like the preseason favorites finally are on the move in pursuit of Detroit's front-running Tigers in that American League pennant race.

While the Tigers still are 15 games over .500, the second place Cleveland Indians now have won eight of their last nine, the defending champion New York Yankees have won four of five and the Baltimore Orioles have won four straight.

The injuns walloped four home runs and whipped the Los Angeles Angels 13-5 Thursday trimming Detroit's lead to 3½ games after the Tigers lost 7-6 in 11 innings at Minnesota. New York defeated Boston 6-4, and Baltimore sent the Chicago White Sox skidding to their sixth straight loss 6-4. Kansas City knocked off Washington 4-3, handing winless Dick Donovan his fifth one-run defeat.

In the National League, a seventh-inning home run by Tommy Davis backed the three-hit pitching of Sandy Koufax and gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 1-0 victory at St. Louis. The only other games scheduled—Pittsburgh at Chicago and Philadelphia at Milwaukee—were rained out.

Koufax, now 5-2, struck out eight, walked but three and allowed nothing but singles. Bob Gibson (2-1) was the loser.

The Yankees took a 5-0 lead in two innings against Billy Muffett as Johnny Blanchard and Tony Kubek belted two-run homers. Whitey Ford gave up only five hits, but needed relief help from Luis Arroyo.

The Orioles got all six runs in the first two innings off loser Herb Score (1-2) and relievers Juan Pizarro and Frank Bauman. Steve Barber (6-2) was the winner, but needed reliever Hoyt Wilhelm to nail it.

Johnny Romano, Woody Held, Willie Kirkland and Bubba Phillips rapped the homers for the Indians, who had 17 hits against loser Ron Moeller (0-4) and five relievers. Mudcat Grant (4-0) won it with relief from Barry Latman.

A double by Lennie Green and a single by Jim Lemon won it for the Twins and beat Tiger reliever Jim Donohue (1-1). Detroit scored five in the first on homers by Al Kaline and Norm Cash and got the other run in the 10th on Billy Bruton's homer. Reliever Paul Giel won his first for the Twins.

Al Pilarcik's two-run single sewed it up for the A's in a three-run fifth off Donovan. Willie Tasby and Gene Green homered for the Senators' runs off Joe Nuxhall (2-1). Leo Posada of the A's was struck in the face by a Donovan pitch and was taken to a hospital for examination.

Tors Blank Dumas, 3-0, In Regional

LAMESA — Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes continued their domination of the playoff picture here yesterday by shutting out the Dumas Demons, 3-0, in the first game of the Region I baseball series between the two teams.

The win was the fifth playoff victory in a row for the rampaging Whirlwinds, who had previously swept a pair of best-of-three games series. The first came at the expense of Snyder in a special playoff for the district title, while the second was a bi-district romp over Mineral Wells.

Southpaw control artist Donnie Lybrand hurled the victory, allowing seven hits over the span. He struck out two and walked none, also.

Travis Thompson was tagged with the loss. He gave up six hits, issued passes to three, and whiffed seven.

The second game of the series, the victor of which will advance to Austin and the state tournament of June 7-8, is to be played Saturday in Dumas beginning at 3:30 p. m. Plans are still incomplete as far as the date and site for a third game, should it be necessary.

The state tournament had originally been scheduled for June 5-6, but has been switched to the aforementioned date instead. Those Class AAA teams competing for the four berths in addition to Lamesa and Dumas include Paris, Waxahachie, Jasper, Brenham, South San Antonio, and Kingsville.

Defending champion Seguin failed to survive district warfare.

Yesterday's line score follows:

DUMAS	000	000	0—0	7	2
LAMESA	001	200	x—3	6	1

Travis Thompson and Mike Mulligan; Donnie Lybrand and Harvey Everheart.

California, Here I Come!

Early unofficial response for the financing of Tiger track prodigy Jesse Crawford's and Coach Dutch Stehley's trip to California and the Golden West Invitational Track and Field Meet of June 17 has been nothing short of overwhelming, reports Snyder Jaycee president Doug McGlaun.

The meet, a Monterey Park (California) Jaycee project, attracts the topflight graduating senior track and field performers from over the entire nation. Crawford received his coveted calling in the low hurdles, and from all indications it appears that he will be able to make the trip to Los Angeles without a "hitch" in view of the quick and encouraging response from local civic organizations and other interested groups.

His meals and housing will be furnished him during his stay there, but all entrants are required to see to their own transportation to and from the meet.

Pee Wee Program To Get Underway

The kickoff planning session for Pee Wee baseball will be held here Monday, announces Mutt Herod, and all mothers, fathers, managers and workers concerned are urged to be in attendance.

Rain Halts Action In Little, Farm Leagues

Last night's scheduled Little League and Farm League encounters were washed out by a late afternoon rain that descended on the city.

The Farm League Cubs and Cardinals got through an inning and a half before the deluge hit, however, with the score reading 12-1 for the Cubs at that point.

The Detroit Tigers have trained at Henley Field in Lakeland, Fla., every year except three since 1934. During the war years, 1943-45, the team trained at Evansville, Ind.

To Play Or Not To Play Is Question

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Gary Player of South Africa and the U.S. Open champion, Arnold Palmer, who have won almost $100,000 between them on the American pro circuit this year, indicated they would make a decision today on whether to court a six-month suspension by the Professional Golfers Association.

The question was whether they would play June 1-4 in the Canada Cup international matches at Dorado Beach, Puerto Rico. They could perform unpenalized in this event only if sponsors of the $30,000 Memphis Open, a PGA event on the same dates, gave permission—and they hadn't.

Palmer could defend his Open title even under PGA suspension but he admittedly is eager to play in the Ryder Cup matches in England, in November. Player has said that a golf ball manufacturer has offered him a $10,000 bonus if he finishes the season as the top money winner on the circuit.

In view of the direct and incidental penalties, which include $500 fines, it seemed likely that Player and Palmer would pass up the Canada Cup competition.

Meanwhile, they moved today into the second round of the $50,000 "500 Festival" open tourney with Palmer in a three-way tie for the lead at 67—4 under par. He was matched Thursday over the flat 6,605-yard course by Jim Ferree, winner of one PGA event in five years, and Johnny Pott, third-money winner in the Baton Rouge Open.

Most of the 143 pros turned in sparkling scores on the course, bisected by the Indianapolis motor speedway track. Doug Ford won the inaugural "500 Festival" tourney last year with a 14-under-par 270.

Jerry Barber settled for a 70. That matched the score of Player, who missed six putts under six feet.

5-Day Racing Weekend On Tap At Downs

The Memorial Day Handicap, seven furlong event for three-year-olds and upward, will highlight the Memorial Holiday at Rudioso Downs. The $3,000 race will be held Tuesday, May 30, concluding five consecutive days of racing.

This is the first of three "long weekends" of racing featured this season at the Downs.

A total of 15,400 persons passed through the gates during last year's Memorial Holiday, which was only four days in duration. They wagered $757,279 during the four days.

Little Eddie, owned by Bill Luke of Phoenix, Arizona, covered the seven furlongs in 1:27 with Robert Ford in the saddle to win the Memorial Day Handicap.

Officials expect even greater attendance this year.

Harlin And Devers Win

Harlin's Oilers eased into second place in the City Softball League standings behind front-running Denson Gulf here last night with a 10-0 whitewashing of Mixon Tires.

Von Roeder Seed Farms, tied for the second spot going into last night's games, was idle.

Guy Sullivan kept the Mixon batsmen in control throughout, giving up only two hits in going the route for the win. Skipper Moore, the first man to face him, landed a triple, and Dean Knight came through with a third-inning single for the only Mixon base knocks of the game.

Bob O'Day lofted a three-run four-bagger in the first frame for Harlin, and Sullivan boosted his own cause by doubling in the third with the bases loaded.

Harve Tatom was the losing hurler.

In other action, Devers Mobil outslugged Greenhill Baptist to the tune of 12-8, with James Cantwell marking up the victory.

A fifth inning eruption in which the Mobilmen chased over five tallies proved to be the margin of difference. Jack Hoffman unloaded with a three-run double for the big blow of the frame.

Orville Ham delivered back-to-back extra-base hits in the sixth and seventh — a homer and a triple—to complete the Devers platter onslaught.

Eubanks and Waggoner also came through with run-producing doubles to aid the winning attack.

Greenhill's Greer powered a solo circuit smash in the sixth for their big hit of the game. James Vincent tripled to score a run for Greenhill the same inning, which saw the losers tallying all their runs.

Lacing two-baggers for Greenhill were Rinehart, Wells, and losing hurler Bill Hallmark.

Variety Of Records Could Fall

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

MODESTO, Calif. (AP)—World records ranging from the 100-yard dash to the four-mile relay go under fire Saturday night in the California Relays.

Dennis Johnson of San Jose State and Stone Johnson of Grambling hold the top hopes of lowering the 100-yard dash record shared by many at 9.3 seconds. Both have run wind-aided 9.2's already this year.

The hard clay track at the Modesto Junior College stadium, site of the relays, is rated one of the fastest in the nation, and it was here two years ago that Oregon's Roscoe Cook ran his 9.3.

Cook and his teammate, Canadian Harry Jerome, are expected to challenge the Johnsons in the century run.

Oregon's mile quartet of Dyrol Burleson, Keith Forman, Vice Reeve and George Larson goes after the world record in the four-mile relay.

Western Michigan furnishes competition along with the Southern California striders.

America's track queen, Wilma Rudolph, makes her first Northern California appearance. The triple Olympic gold medal winner from Tennessee A&I competes in two special races, women's 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Says Soviet Union Stifling Religion

IRA — There are 230 million people in the Soviet Union who have no Christ, Dr. Floyd Golden told members of the Ira Baptist Church in an address here.

Dr. Golden, a native of Scurry County and president emeritus of Eastern New Mexico University, spoke at the Ira Church for Sunday morning services, and at Union Baptist Church for evening services. He was introduced to the Ira congregation by Mrs. Ed Taylor.

He said human life in Russia is as cheap as animal life in America, because they have no soul, and when the soul is taken away only the animal is left. The Russians have no freedom, they cannot believe in a Supreme being because atheism is the first step to communism, Dr. Golden declared. There are no Masons, no Rotary clubs, etc., and no freedom of the press. After reading the Russian press a person would think that every young person in the United States is a criminal, Dr. Golden declared.

In Leningrad he said there are 19 churches for 3,200,000 people. Sixteen are Russian Orthodox churches that have been closed as churches but are open as museums. There is a Jewish Synagogue, one Catholic and one Baptist Church.

All people who attend the Baptist Church are not Baptists. After the revolution authorities realized that religions were strong and gave permission for a church and called it Baptist, Dr. Golden said. Therefore, all attending there are worshiping under the Baptist name. They have six services per week — one each on Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday, and three on Sunday. Dr. Golden said the church was built to seat about 400, but over 1,000 were present when he attended. About one Russian in 100 has a Bible, he said, and many take notes at the worship services.

Dr. Golden said Moscow has 55 churches for 7 million people, including 52 Russian Orthodox, one Catholic, one Baptist and one Jewish. Pastors said they were allowed to preach without fear of interference, but they have no seminaries for training young preachers to take their places.

Soviet people may join churches at 18 years of age, but are on probation for two years because the churches want to be certain that they are not being filled with communists.

Dr. Golden said Americans are not nearly so dedicated to Americanism and Christianity as Russians are to communism and atheism. He said Russia originally planned to take America by 1977, then 1973, but now have moved the goal to 1968. He said lawyers head the list in their plans to conquer, then ministers and officials of churches.

Dr. Golden was one of 30 education administrators who made a tour of the Soviet Union to study the education system. They visited homes, schools farms and churches gathering information on the communist system.

Eichmann's Slaying Role Is Described

By THOMAS A. REEDY

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — A Hungarian Jew pressed into slave labor testified today that he saw Adolf Eichmann take part in the murder of a Jewish boy accused of stealing cherries from the Gestapo chief's garden.

The eyewitness account had the impact of a thunderclap on the packed courtroom, where in the six weeks since the trial started Eichmann has been accused mainly of high-level direction of the Nazi slaughter of six million Jews.

Avraham Gordon, 35, now a guard at a copper processing plant in Israel, was a boy of 16 to 17 when he worked on tank traps and gun emplacements in the gardens of the villa Eichmann conscripted for his Budapest headquarters in 1944.

"It was the first murder I ever saw," Gordon said. "Later I saw many."

The witness said Eichmann and his bodyguard, Slavek, beat a Jewish boy of 16 or 17, named Shalomon, to death for stealing cherries from the orchard nearby.

"We never believed he did steal any," Gordon said.

Cross-examined by defense counsel Robert Servatius, Gordon refused to budge from his story.

Gordon's story drew the prosecution case against Eichmann in Hungary near a close—the climax point for both the state and the defense—because it was in Hungary that the Gestapo bureaucrat took personal command in the field of "Jewish affairs". While Eichmann was there in the summer of 1944, Hungary's 600,000 Jews, the last big group left in Europe, were deported to the death camps.

Rev. Lentz To Be On Morning Devotions

Speaker on the "Morning Devotions" radio program next week will be the Rev. Walter L. Lentz, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church.

The program is presented at 9:15 a. m. daily, Monday through Friday, over KSNY. It is scheduled by the radio committee of the Snyder and Scurry County Ministerial Alliance.

Action Due On Resolution Today At Baptist Session

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Southern Baptists Convention action is expected today on a resolution urging the United States to withhold military and economic aid from nations denying "full freedom of conscience and worship."

The resolution, introduced Thursday by Rev. J. Edwin Hewlett of St. Louis, asks President Kennedy to use his influence and the power of his office to "help end Catholic harrassment and persecution" in Spain and other countries "including the opening of Baptist and other non-Catholic churches closed by Catholic action."

The Rev. Mr. Hewlett is pastor of Southwest Baptist Church here and secretary of the St. Louis Chapter of Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State.

More than 15,000 messengers (delegates) are attending the four-day convention, which ends tonight. They represent 9.7 million church members.

Thursday the group passed a resolution praising President Kennedy's stand against aid to church schools.

A plea for the SBC to "study the possibilities of closer fellowship and eventual unity with fellow Baptists in our country" was rejected when messengers approved a resolutions committee report saying that objective is "already being accomplished."

Foy Valentine, Nashville, Tenn., executive secretary of the Christian Life Commission, called on Southern Baptists to "show Christian love instead of racist hate and Christian courage instead of cowardly conformity."

"We Christians can not call all the plays in this kind of world but we can call enough of them to change the current pattern of tense, bitter, fruitless, antagonistic, sinful relationships between Negroes and whites to a pattern of positive Christian love and genuine Christian brotherhood," he said.

"We can be the salt of the earth where racial pride and prejudice have become an awful stench in the nostrils of God. We can be the light of the world in a social order hamstrung by segregation."

The resolution committee's report on race relations said ". . . We reject mob violence as an attempted means of solving this problem. We believe that both lawless violence and unwarranted provocation are outside the demands of Christ upon us all."

Rev. Roland Q. Leavell of Jackson, Miss., was elected first vice president of the convention.

The convention's Sunday School Board, largest agency of the church, reported that total enrollment in its schools has reached 7,382,550—biggest of any denomination in the nation.

The board also serves as publishing house of the convention and reported that its 1960 publishing and book store operations hit record total sales of $25,246,000.

Methodists Propose To Desegregate

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A proposal to desegregate Protestant denomination administrations at the regional level was approved Thursday by the Southwest Texas Methodist Conference.

By a vote of, 289-8, ministers and laymen asked 17 other Methodist conferences in eight states to join in inviting five Negro conferences to join them in the South Central Jurisdiction of the church.

Rev. R. F. Curl of Dallas said the five Negro conferences have about 75,000 members in the eight states.

Offering the resolution, the Rev. Mr. Curl said it will not result in integration of local churches. Some of them already have Negroes in their congregations.

He said all-Negro churches would continue to belong to the Negro conferences within the jurisdiction.

He added that it would require a two-thirds vote of about 6,000 delegates in the conferences in Texas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas.

Central Texas approved long lists of new ministers and supply pastors.

The Rev. Ellis Thomas of Alice outlined plans for six teen-agers and two adults to spend five weeks in Bolivia this summer setting up a Methodist Student Movement.

Marilyn Monroe Has Operation

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A spokesman at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital says Marilyn Monroe, who underwent minor surgery Thursday, probably will go home today.

The actress was admitted to the hospital Wednesday.

Details of the operation were not disclosed.

Actor Says He Is No Punching Bag

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Harry Jackson says he warned his wife, actress Kathy Marlowe: "You can't use me for a punching bag. Slap me an eighth time and I'll slap you."

His wife whacked him again, so he hit her, Jackson, 38, told a Superior Court commissioner at a predivorce hearing Thursday. Miss Marlowe, 26, denied slapping him at all—and said there was no justification for his striking her.

The commissioner ordered Jackson to leave the family home and not to molest his wife.

She was the school's only eighth-grade graduate Wednesday night.

Junior Editors Quiz on SPORTS

QUESTION: Where did boat races originate?

• • •

ANSWER: A regatta originally was a race for gondolas, the long, slender boats which float along the canals of Venice, Italy. Today the sailing of many kinds of vessels has become a popular sport in many countries of the world. There are more than 500 yacht clubs just in the United States and Canada. With the increase in sailing and sailing competition, the word regatta has come to mean any kind of rowing or sailing race or an organized series of such races. One of the most famous is the international race for the America's cup. This trophy was won in England by the yacht America in 1850 and has been defended by the New York Yacht Club ever since.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: If you and your friends have small boats that will float in a pond or stream, trim them up with flags, take them out on a day when there is a gentle wind, and try having your own regatta.

Kennedy Is Still Moving Cautiously

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy — while walking a cautious military path — acknowledged in his talk to Congress the need for a bold dash down the social and economic road around the world.

But he still has to show by performance how far and how fast he intends to go.

His caution on the military side shows up in instances such as these: When Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson returned from Southeast Asia he said, in Kennedy's name, he had promised the backward nations there this country would make "any sacrifices" in the fight against communism.

But—he said there are no plans to send U.S. troops.

Kennedy could have sent troops into Laos to try to stop the Communist push there, but he didn't. If he had, the Red Chinese undoubtedly would have moved in, thus creating another Korea.

American-backed South Viet Nam is plagued by Communist guerrillas. The United States will help the Vietnamese with military supplies and training and with economic aid. But there has been no public promise American troops will be sent in.

In short: Although Kennedy talked Thursday of increasing and streamlining America's non-nuclear fighting forces, he mentioned no specific place where he intended using them.

His whole talk was anti-Communist. It was also non-belligerent, which is perhaps a requirement if his meeting with Premier Khrushchev in Vienna in June is to have any success.

But Kennedy sounded more active, imaginative and determined when he spoke of filling the needs of the masses in the backward countries in order to make communism unnecessary or unattractive.

There has been—so far as this writer knows—no concentrated effort, as a policy, to compel the leaders of the backward nations receiving American help to make sure the masses receive the benefits.

In a number of places receiving such help there has been corruption while the gap between the very rich and the very poor was intense and deep.

You might read into Kennedy's words that a continuing effort will be made in the future to see that the needs of the masses are filled. But he didn't say that in so many words.

He did express awareness of the need for such a policy by saying of the worldwide revolution by people seeking independence and a good life:

"They seek an end to injustice, tyranny and exploitation. They seek a beginning—a jungle road to bring a doctor when a child is ill—a schoolhouse to unlock the mysteries of knowledge—seed and fertilizer, jobs and food, a chance to live and be more than just alive. Those are the aims of their revolution."

Then the President did a remarkable thing when it is remembered the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles sought to make the expense of foreign aid palatable to Americans by saying it was being given in "enlightened self-interest."

Kennedy — at least verbally — cast out that philosophy by saying:

The revolutions of the backward peoples in search of a fuller life is one "which we would support regardless of the cold war, and regardless of which political or economic route they choose to freedom."

Since he considers communism the negation of freedom, it can be assumed he meant a country choosing communism would be excluded from his wide-ranging promise of help.

But he left the door open for American aid to a variety of social and political systems: democratic, socialistic, capitalistic, or even strong-man governments.

He added: "Too often we have let ourselves appear as friends of the status quo — and the status quo may be $50 a year."

But what is he going to do so that America will no longer be the friend of such a status quo?

For instance: Will he insist the rich in a Latin-American country getting U.S. aid must divest themselves of enormous land holdings so more of the poor people can own their own land? He didn't say.

This new program of Kennedy's —if he tries to make it a reality in the years ahead—will have to take many forms and need a lot of explaining. He didn't explain it in his talk to Congress.

Say Cooley Sane When Wife Slain

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Three psychiatrists who examined Spade Cooley told a Superior Court judge the ex-bandleader was sane when his wife was murdered.

Cooley, 50, has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to charges he beat Ella Mae Cooley, 37, to death at their ranch home in nearby Willow Springs last April 3.

Judge William Bradshaw announced the findings of the psychiatrists Thursday. A sanity hearing is scheduled Wednesday.

Seven Lucky For X15's Test Pilot

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Technical delays had begun to bother test pilot Joe Walker. Then finally, on his seventh flight in the X15, he flew the rocket ship to a winged record of 3,370 miles per hour.

"I almost had a phobia about it," Walker, 40, told his wife later.

Grace Walker said her husband was referring to long periods of waiting in the cockpit of the stubby-winged craft, sometimes only to have the flight called off at the last moment.

But the test came off as planned Thursday. Walker's new mark is 296 m.p.h. faster than an X15 flight last April 21 by Air Force Maj. Bob White.

Only space men Yuri Gagarin and Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. have traveled at greater speeds.

Walker, veteran of fighter pilot service with the 15th Air Force in World War II, was dropped from a B52 mother ship at 45,000 feet Thursday. For 73 seconds he held the X15's throttle wide open.

His peak speed—nearly a mile a second—came during a steep climb at 90,000 feet. Then he switched off the powerful engine and coasted to 110,000 feet before nosing over and gliding back to base.

By comparison, Gagarin hit 17,000 m.p.h. during his orbit around the earth April 12 and Shepard sped 5,100 m.p.h. during his 115-mile rocket climb May 5.

Walker, who earned the Distinguished Flying Cross during his wartime service in Europe, now works for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. He's a native of Washington.

You Are Cordially Invited by Every Pastor of This Area to Attend Church This Week

Sponsors Below Share the Invitation and Cost of This Page. Support God's Cause—Attend His Church Regularly die to live

The Book says this earthy body must die IF it is to live. How cheerfully the farmer plants his corn! He knows it must die, but he also knows that 'death' is part of the process of life. Immediately after the seed is buried in mother earth, all the ministries of God are set in motion to work a miracle. For it is said, that to make one little yellow grain, requires the sunshine and the rain, the hoarded riches of the sod — and God. It is all the miracle of Life. The hull rots and falls away much like the sins of a man being reborn of God. It is the Lord's way of carrying on His creative process to multiply the sustenance of both man and beast. Then thank God for life that is born of death. The fruit of summer and of autumn waits upon this death-to-life miracle of a good God, as a reborn soul waits to be used of his Lord. Then, there is no death . . . what seems so is transition. Come with me to church this week.

You In The Church The Church In You — form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

HAVE FAITH IN GOD

TRUST ONLY IN HIM

Ministers of all faiths and the community-minded firms below persuade you to read the above and make it a part of your life . . . it is your heritage.
