FRICK LOSES COURAGEOUS FIGHT FOR LIFE

LIVED 108 HOURS ALTHOUGH LUNGS WERE PARALYZED

ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION PROVIDED HIM WITH NEEDED OXYGEN

DOCTORS MARVELED

FELLOW WORKERS WEPT AS QUEER DISEASE OVERCAME HIM

CHICAGO, March 10.—Albert Frick, the 22-year-old youth, who lived for four and one-half days although powerless to breathe last his game battle for life tonight.

The boy who was kept alive through the efforts of three score fellow employees who breathed for him with their hands through artificial respiration, died tonight at an Evanston hospital at 10:12 p. m. 108 hours after artificial respiration had been started last Sunday morning.

He, a victim of Landry's paralysis—a form of creeping paralysis which nearly always has proved fatal, amass of medical science by lingering for four and one-half days while his friends, working in pairs for fifteen minutes each, induced respiration by compressing and relaxing pressure on his paralyzed diaphragm.

He died after a valiant fight for life and with many of the three score men who had worked over him in Texas as they made their efforts known early today after a pitched battle between the two sides.

While the youth gasped out encouragement or a just to his friends working in pairs, one on each side of the paralyzed boy compressed his diaphragm. Then they relaxed. They then compressed. Thus they produced the same effect as though Frick himself were breathing.

Tarrango Slain in Battle on Border

EL PASO, Tex., March 10.—The body of Angel Tarrango, was found on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande early today after a pitched battle between Mexican patrolmen and persons believed to have been Americans. A horse belonging to Jorge Carrasco, Mexican General guard, was wounded.

The border patrolmen reported that they had been fired on from the Mexican side of the Rio Grande and at about the same time from behind, from the American side. Taking shelter behind a sand bank the officers returned the fire in both directions.

The commander of the Juarez fiscal guards and chief of police Carlos E. Anstis of Juarez indicated that no shooting had been done from the Mexican side.

Tarrango is said to be an American citizen.

OILMEN CRITICISM DEFIED BY BORAH

TO PURSUE OWN COURSE WITH MEXICAN NEGOTIATIONS DESPITE TALK

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Oil operators were given notice today by Chairman Borah of the senate floor relations committee that "no amount of criticism" would keep him from his course with regard to the Mexican situation.

Replying to a letter from Guy Stearns, director of the Association of Petroleum Producers in Mexico, who had questioned his course in communicating directly with President Calles recently, Senator Borah described criticism of this action as "an expression of that apathy which comes to the oilmen."

"I have the slightest doubt," the Idaho senator said, "but what there are powerful interests which would like to see a complete break in Mexico and as a deluged representative of the oil interests has declared, 'we are Mexico's enemies.'"

"I have no desire in the world to see the oil companies or interests deprived of their legitimate rights or to see their legitimate interests unprotected. But I utterly disagree with the policy which would seek that protection by a break with Mexico."

MILE A MINUTE TO FIRE

Seven Sales of Cotton Burn Before Local Fire Truck Arrives at Blaze in Monroe

Number two truck of the Lubbock fire department made a record run shortly after six o'clock yesterday when it covered the 12 miles from Lubbock to Monroe in 12 minutes to extinguish a fire which had started in six yards of the Newby gin there.

Seven bales of cotton were damaged but the blaze was soon under control. The fire started from carbon sparks from the gin engine, employees said.

COTTON CLASSES ARE ADDED TECH SUMMER SCHOOL

TEXTILE DEPARTMENT OF ENGINEERING SCHOOL TO HAVE CHARGE

MORE FABRIC WORK

E. W. CAMP WILL VISIT FACTORIES TO SECURE LATEST METHODS

Continuing their policy of offering the youth of the Southwest all possible instruction in the textile work, officials of the Texas Technological College announced yesterday the addition of a six-week cotton classing school to their regular summer school curriculum. The session will open June 1 and close July 1.

The school will be under the supervision of the textile department of the school of engineering and is to have charge of the classing school, the regular cotton classing and study work, there will be given special emphasis on the testing of textiles which are made in the school.

Regular courses in textile work will be offered also, the officials say, provided there are enough advanced students to take the work. Prof. Camp, head of the department, who is to have charge of the school, also was in charge of the classing and study work, there will be given special emphasis on the testing of textiles which are made in the school.

Lashing Is Sentence Given Wife Beaters

BALTIMORE, March 10.—Kent county, Maryland, will whip a man for the first time in its history, and Talbot county for the first time since the civil war days, if two sentences of ten lashes for wife beating are allowed to stand.

In one case, that of Alfred L. Donnelly, of Talbot's Island, Magistrate Frank S. Orm, of Talbot county, attempted to rescind the sentence he had imposed after, as he said, sleeping over it. State's Attorney Thomas H. Robinson has ruled, however, that the magistrate having once imposed a sentence, he can not rescind it. Donnelly, 35, is a 15-year-old wife.

Henry Newhouse of Rockhill, Kent county, married, his housekeeper just summer a few hours after he had been hit by means of a newspaper advertisement. It was testified before Magistrate Olin H. Stafford, who sentenced Newhouse, that they had quarreled frequently, their difficulties culminating last night in a domestic battle which sent Mrs. Newhouse to hospital with a dislocated shoulder.

No date has been set for either of the lashings. It has been indicated that both men will appeal. Sheriff Hargrave of Kent county has suggested that the county jailer, J. P. Smith, be whipped. Newhouse will be carried out in public, with the prisoner tied to a tree.

Officers Under Bond

Man Slaughtered Charged to Oklahoma in Connection With Death of Texas Youth

MINNICOKE, Okla., March 10.—Walter Price and George Flagg, plain clothmen charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of the veteran, bureau hospital here, March 2, of Ernest J. Cripp, of El Paso, Texas, charged with robbery, in city court here today.

They were released on $1,500 bonds each and their preliminary hearing set for March 11.

The charges were filed following the publication of an autopsy report which showed Cripp came to his death from concussion of the brain.

Price and Flagg took Cripp to the city jail after they had answered a call from hospital authorities on the night of March 1, when Cripp, apparently intoxicated, became unmanageable.

State May Recover Old Remitted Taxes

AUSTIN, Tex., March 10.—Tax remission measures enacted in the past by the legislature may be ruled unconstitutional and suits brought to recover back revenue, Attorney General Claude Pollard said today in a letter to members of the Dallas house delegation defending his action yesterday in holding pending tax remission bills invalid.

Pollard today was charged in a letter signed by Representative Jackes, Carl and Holder of Dallas county of attempting to "usurp" the province of the legislature and an attack by questions was made on the validity of his opinion which held the legislature can not legally pass measures designed to divert or remit taxes in Dallas, Tarrant and other counties where recalculation work is proposed.

The attorney general made his ruling, requested by several legislators, on ground that the alleged "public calamity" in the counties involved does not exist.

Answering the questions put to him, Pollard denied that his opinion contradicted one by former Attorney General Dan Moody, now governor, in 1925.

U. S. STATESMEN SLANDER VICTIMS

MEXICO SPENDS TO DISCREDIT AMERICAN LEADERS, CLAIM OF CONGRESSMAN

WASHINGTON, March 10.—An issue of congressional record which came from the printer, today contained a charge of Representative Gallinger, Democrat, Massachusetts, that the Mexican government had "expended about $2,000,000" in a campaign to discredit President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg.

The fund, which Gallinger charged was spent by the Mexican Ambassador at the New York office, was used, he added, to subsidize peddlers and professors to attack the president of the United States.

They have financed back writers to attack the president, the Massachusetts representative declared. They have underwritten radical, religious and uplift organizations of all varieties to vilify the country in a defamation of our country.

They have made a flimsy alliance with the Ku Klux Klan to instill bigotry into the controversy between this country and Mexico. In general they have done nothing that the corrupt use of money would assist them in doing to spread falsehoods in the hope of confusing public opinion to the end that President Coolidge should be impeached.

The identical policy initiated by Woodrow Wilson in protection of the rights of American citizens.

Gallinger charged that printed statements derogatory to American officials could be had by application at the Mexican consulate in New York.

Bandits Loot Bank

Unmanned Men Get 70,000 Dollars in Loot from Maudslow House and Then Escape

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., March 10.—Four masked men entered the bank of Maudslow, a station, a post town at the foot of Pike's Peak today and carried off $70,000 in currency and a substantial amount of travelers' checks after locking the bank officials in the vault.

The officers were held in the vault for several hours. Major Larrabee, who had been on duty at the bank, was found by the officers, but he had escaped.

MOODY CENSURED AS SENATE HEEDS REQUEST FOR LAW

REORGANIZATION BILL FOR TAX REVISION PASSED BY SENATE

GOVERNOR CHEERED

BILL TO RESCIND AMNESTY TO FERGUSON LOST IN HOUSE

AUSTIN, March 10.—Sharp criticism of the senate and of the administration's methods in pushing legislation was voiced on the senate floor today by Senator Eugene Miller after the upper house had heeded Governor Moody's request that the Stevenson tax resolution be passed.

Governor Moody, who was in the chamber during Senator Miller's address, had just finished a personal plea to the senate on the resolution his second appearance in the senate in two days and his fourth address to the legislature in three days.

The address included a reference to the legislative inclusion of the measure in which he intimated that the senate opposing the resolution were not serving the best interests of their constituents.

Miller Speaks Earlier in the day Lieutenant Governor Harry Miller had broken conference to take the senate floor and deliver an address in favor of the measure in which he intimated that large expenditures were responsible for a sudden swing in sentiment which endangered the resolution for a limited time.

Moody Applauded A burst of applause concluded Moody's address and the roll call which showed 27 ayes and 3 nays was also greeted with applause.

The resolution as explained by its sponsors, is designed to give the voters an opportunity, through a referendum, to empower the legislature to make sweeping changes in tax legislation.

Senator Bailey explained the proposition as an effort to empower the legislature to find new sources of income in franchise, and occupation taxes and other taxes on intangible resources. This would be done, proponents of the resolution said, to enable the state to turn the present aid.

Bandit Gets 5 Years

Jury Says Collins Guilty After Being Out Twenty Hours in Bank Robbery Trial

SAN ANTONIO, March 10.—After deliberating more than 20 hours today in the 17th district court, today sentenced Earl Collins to five years in the penitentiary on charges of robbery by assault with firearms in connection with the robbery of the San Antonio National bank, March 26, 1924, when $19,138 was taken in a daring noon-hour heist.

It was Collins' third trial on the same charge, the jury in his first trial failed to agree.

Jack Smith also charged with robbery was scheduled to go to trial today but attorneys filed a motion for delay which was overruled by Judge Anderson. Smith's attorneys then tried to procure a motion for continuance on the grounds of absence of material witnesses.

ACCEPTS REQUEST TO TAKE PART IN TREATY ATTEMPT

PLAN TO CURB NAVAL COMPETITION IS GIVEN FRESH IMPETUS

JAPAN WILL ASSENT

NO FORMULAE WILL BE ADVANCED UNTIL THE MEETING OPENS

WASHINGTON, March 10.—American hopes for further curbing competitive naval building advanced a long stride today when British acceptance of the three-power conference plan was received at the state department.

Word from Japan is still awaited, but with acceptance assured preparation of formal notes of invitation to ratify verbal agreements for a meeting at Geneva this summer has already begun.

Paralleling these definite steps toward a three power conference, runs the strong hope of Washington authorities that France and Italy ultimately will find it possible to participate in some degree.

The British acceptance was delivered verbally by Ambassador Howard to acting secretary Grew. Ambassador Matsudaira is expected to communicate Japanese acceptance as soon as he hears from Tokyo.

It is already certain that the formal invitations will contain no American formulae for extending the principles of the Washington treaty to auxiliary craft nor any other declarations that will prevent the free and open consideration of every aspect of the question at Geneva.

Poisons Self After Slaying of Family

TACOMA, Wash., March 10.—Reaching into insanity, it is believed, Harold Jensen, 38, obliterated his entire family in a few minutes by crushing the skulls of his wife and three children with a hammer and then drank poison.

Police responding to a telephone call from the Jensen home, found Jensen, his wife, Helga, and one child, Dale, aged 16 months dead. Eric, twelve, and Richard 5, were still alive, though their heads were crushed in.

DAILEY GETS 99 YEARS

Takes Sentence Calmly When Verdict Reached by Jury After 24 Hours on Case

DALLAS, March 10.—Joseph L. Dailey, 22, was sentenced to 99 years imprisonment today for the robbery of Allen Pennington and Miss Frances States, now Mrs. Pennington, two years ago. He drew the death penalty as his first trial but obtained a reversal on appeal. The first trial was eight to four for death. The jury was not ready in 24 hours.

Dailey appeared rather unshaken as the jury filed into the court room, but the frown on his face slowly relaxed after the verdict had been read, and he spoke a few words to his mother, then lighted a cigarette. He made no comment on the verdict before he was led away.

Mr. and Mrs. Pennington were the principal witnesses against Dailey in the trial just concluded as in the former trial. Pennington was shot and seriously wounded in the robbery, but recovered after several weeks in the hospital.

Despite Yearly Salary of $100,000 Work Failed to Attract Her

By VIRGINIA SWAIN
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, March 10.—The highest-salaried woman in commercial New York is a woman who never wanted to work.

Mrs. Blanche R. Green, whose earnings as vice-president of a corner company amounted to about $100,000 last year, admits that, barely necessary and not an incentive for business sent her into the ranks of wage-earners fifteen years ago.

Doesn't Preach

Mrs. Green is an successful woman who does not preach of "women's right to self-expression," the "waste of women's talents in the home" or the "liberation of women from the kitchen range."

There was nothing she wanted less than liberation from her Michigan range when she got it. Born and bred in Virginia, where women are ladies and husbands are good providers, she expected to spend her life in the housewife arts her mother taught her.

At eighteen, she married and moved to New York state with her husband. Four years later, when her daughter was just learning to toddle, the husband met with an accident which paralyzed him for life. He is still a helpless invalid.

And so Mrs. Green took off her apron and put on the blue serge suit of business and went to it.

An interlude of furling on a Berkshire spruce proved that, unfortunately without a man to boss the job was not a success.

Now Green brought her little family to Poughkeepsie, N. Y., intending to find some way of providing a living and eventually to send her daughter through Vassar College.

Without any business training, she without capital, she established a corner shop in which women could be fitted for tailor-made costumes. Mrs. Green took courses in anatomy, studied sculpture and worked with doctors until she thought she knew the ideal human figure and also the remedies for the defective figure.

She also made dresses, making her business dollars in commissions. But she wanted a wider field. So when the largest firm that had been making her garments offered her $25 a week as a traveling saleswoman, she took it and trusted heaven to help her pay the expenses of her family.

Those first days on the road were still a horrible memory, she says. "I don't think a traveling salesman has a hard life, because the traveling saleswoman, especially of fifteen years ago, she had very few colleagues. Business men were not cordial to women drummers. The discomforts of train and hotel life are harder on a woman of fastidious taste than on the average traveling man.

Discovered Life

She discovered had my life been that when I started on the road I had never before slept in a Pullman. During our four years in the Berkshire I had seen a train only twice."

Opportunity School Stands An Monument

DENVER, March 5.—Denver's Opportunity School stands as a monument to the lifetime effort of Miss Grifflith, whose work as a teacher has carried her name abroad.

The Opportunity School is a day and night school, where students ranging in age from 15 years to a century, if they want to enroll, can learn those basic trades and professions not requiring a university education. The school is under the direct supervision of Miss Grifflith, although it is a part of the school district here women may learn the elements of housekeeping, the intricacies of making hats or the reworking of furs, while men may study anything from "the 'V's'" to bricklaying and assembling a locomotive. The school has become so famous that Miss Grifflith was requested by the British government to visit England and start a similar institution.

LUNCHEON—Macaroni and cheese baked with tomatoes, broiled beef and butter, maple gelatine, milk, tea.

DINNER—Baked meat loaf, scalloped potatoes, buttered peas, grape fruit and orange salad, date and nut toast, crisp Graham toast, milk, coffee.

Very often a meat dish is vastly improved by the contrasting flavor of a tart jelly or spiced preserves. In this particular dinner the meat loaf, which is made of veal and ham, gains much if spiced grapes or red raspberry jelly accompanies it. The small dish of jelly adds an attractive bit of color to the dinner table, too, which is worth trying.

Maple Gelatine

One tablespoon granulated gelatine, 4 tablespoons cold water, 1-1/2 cup boiling water, 1 cup maple syrup, 1/2 cup (white), 1-1/2 teaspoon salt.

Soften gelatine in cold water. Let stand ten minutes, add boiling water and stir until dissolved. Let stand until cold. Put unseasoned whites of eggs, salt, maple syrup and tepid water into a deep bowl and beat with a Dover beater until stiff. Turn into a mold first dipped in cold water to chill. Serve with a boiled custard made with the yolks of the eggs.

STATE DEPARTMENT MAN VISITS TECH

J. R. Todd, of the state department of education, was a visitor at the college Thursday and made an inspection tour of the school. He was here for the purpose of checking up on the department regarding the giving of certificates. He stated upon his arrival that he had not anticipated anything out of time at the Tech but was merely complying with the statute by making the visit.

the campus and a down-town place. The affair was held at the cafeteria last year. At the last meetings of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs of Lubbock, members of the committees for arrangements were appointed and President Horn has appointed Dean James M. Gordon, Dean W. J. Miller and Coach E. Y. Freeland as the committee for the college.

ALL-FOOLS JAMBOREE TO BE GALA AFFAIR

Plans are going forward for the second annual All-Fools Jamboree for Tech and Town which will be held at the Lubbock Hotel on the night of April 1. The affair was staged last year to create a friendlier feeling between the Tech faculty members and the citizens of Lubbock. More than 200 plates were sold and one of the best times of the year was enjoyed.

WAGHORN WINS SONG PRIZE

Professor S. R. Waghorn, head of the department of music, received a letter the first of the week following a wire that he had won the prize on a song "The Lord Shall Comfort Zion" over an entry of 500 contestants. This contest was held at Dayton, Ohio, by the Conservatory of Music.

Rare Jewelry

One of the rarest ensembles of jewelry in the world is worn in this portrait by Mrs. E. T. Stotenburg, wife of the Philadelphia financier. Experts are authority for the statement that among the proudest gems of royalty there are few comparable to her matching tarsi, necklace, pendant and earrings, all of diamond-framed emeralds. Some of the priceless larger stones are more than an inch in diameter.

Peonage Sentences Due for Saturday

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, March 10 (AP)—Judge J. C. Hutchinson, Jr. expects to sentence five Willacy county men, convicted of peonage and conspiracy here Saturday, according to a telegram received from him today by Judge Gordon Boone, one of the defense counsel. A jury in federal court found the men guilty at the January term and sentence was deferred until the department of justice could gather more data in Willacy county.

Those found guilty were Raymond Teller, sheriff of Willacy county; Frank Brant; Tolmie Dooly; Carl Brant; and... The jury recommended leniency for Carl Brant and Justice Dooly. The offenses were committed last August when, according to witnesses placed on the stand during the five-day trial here in January, officers and farmers of the county cooperated in detaining cotton pickers on cotton farms until fines were worked out.

Capon Banquet Made Show Feature

Special to The Avalanche. FORT WORTH, March 10—What is thought to be the first capon banquet ever served in this part of the country and in Texas will be enjoyed by East March Fat Stock show exhibitors and directors, state county agents, and West Texas guests Friday evening when the West Texas chamber of commerce offers its annual entertainment to those taking part in the big Southwestern Exposition.

The capon chickens for the occasion are to be furnished by Spearman, Texas. Spearman is leading the state at this time in the new industry, having recently celebrated "Capon Day" in the interest of developing the line of profit. Pecans for the banquet will be furnished by Ballinger. Other West Texas towns will offer products to make up the West Texas menu.

Big Spring Oilwell Bails Fifty Barrels

Special to The Avalanche. BIG SPRING, Mar. 10.—The Settles well, located on section 159, block 29 W. & N. W. survey, six miles from the Clay field which was drilled in Sunday has bailed 58 barrels of oil today. It is reported that this well will be drilled deeper. The sand now producing being found at 1,240 feet, which is 500 feet shallower than the pay sand in both the Clay and Chalk fields.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Settles sold one-half of their royalty on section 159, one mile east of well on a 5% basis, this royalty being purchased by Mr. Northrup representing the Abrams interest. Leasing has been active in this territory some of the Roberts land being leased for $100 per acre. This land is located between the Clay and Settles fields.

TWELVE WILL COMPETE FOR SPEAKING CONTEST PRIZES

Special to The Avalanche. STAMFORD, March 10.—Twelve contestants will enter the final competition for the cash and scholarship awards to be made in the annual Home Town Speaking contest of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. These twelve competitors will be high school boys and girls who are successful in the preliminaries to be held in Wichita Falls, time and place to be announced later.

A big silver loving cup provided by Thomas Elberidge of San Antonio, and $100 in gold, provided by Col. C. C. Walsh of Dallas, will go to winner of the first prize. Scholarships from the West Texas State Teachers College, Texas Technological College, and others, and additional cash awards will go to other winning contestants.

TALKING TURKEY TO MAKE THEIR CITY GROW

Special to The Avalanche. TURKEY, March 10.—Talking Turkey is a favorite pastime of Turkey citizens here who make their talk more than a mere topic of conversation. The town has adopted as their motto, "Population of 3,000 by Christening 200," and are doing the proverbial amount of "tall talking" to bring about the desired result, according to word sent in to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The town was incorporated last summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Akers and children returned yesterday from a visit in Cameron, Fort Worth, Dallas and Cross Plains.

SINCLAIR CASE IS RECESSED 3 DAYS

ADMISSIBILITY OF EVIDENCE STILL IN DOUBT WITH DELAY ORDERED

(By the Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—A halt was called today until Monday in the contempt trial of Harry F. Sinclair with the admissibility of the defense evidence still undetermined.

During the brief time the trial proceeded today, Justice Hitz reversed the usual court procedure by examining the jurymen and hearing himself the evidence which the defense wants to see before the twelve men selected to try the multi-millionaire lease of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve in Wyoming.

The defense then changed the ordinary court room scene by calling as its only witness Martin W. Littleton of counsel for Sinclair, who testified that it was upon his advice that the oil operator refused to answer ten questions upon his sixth appearance before the senate oil investigating committee.

Besides calling Littleton to the stand the defense lawyers placed into the record before Justice Hitz, that the government suit to recover the Teapot Dome reserve was filed nine days before Sinclair last was called by the senate committee and that in declining to answer questions regarding the lease of that reserve the defendant explained to the committee that he did so because the case had been transferred to the courts.

Good Formation in Boles Test Found

Structure being encountered in the No. 1 Boles well of the Talbot-Kilgore company, drilling six miles southeast of this city, is highly favorable and indicates that the oil bearing strata should be encountered at a shallower depth than has been reported from any other holes drilled in this section. R. W. Talbot, Tulsa, member of the firm, announced after an examination of the log by E. C. West, also of Tulsa.

The bit is now in the Comanche-Texas formation, at a depth of approximately 300 feet, reaching this strata at an unusually high mark. Twenty inch casing has been set to shut off water pressure, and two towers of workers are being run in order to complete it as quickly as possible.

Shannon Layne, member of the local police force, visited with his family in Lamesa yesterday.

GIVING GIFTS:—There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than he meet, but it tendeth to poverty.—Proverbs 11:24.

NO ROMAN CATHOLIC WANTED FOR PRESIDENT

Wishing to ascertain the state of the public mind on the question of religious issue politics, and particularly desiring to know if a majority of voters would support a candidate for the Presidency who is a member of the Roman Catholic church, especially if they believed his nomination would throw the religious issue into politics, and if they feared in the event of his election, he might permit his allegiance to a foreign ecclesiastical authority to take priority over his duty to his country under the Constitution.

Almost with unanimity, those who have replied to the questionnaire have expressed the fear that the nomination of a Roman Catholic for the Presidency would precipitate the religious issue, with all that would mean in the arousing of passions and dissensions, and would be fatal to the prospects of the party nominating such a candidate.

Mailing out of the questionnaires began but a few days ago, and just as soon as the mails bring them back, they began to return, with clear and emphatic statements of opinion on the question asked.

The first question asked was in substance whether the person to whom the questionnaire was addressed believed religious issues should have any place in the field of National politics. "No" was the answer to this question, without exception.

The second question plainly asks if it is the opinion of the person to whom the questionnaire was addressed that the nomination of Governor Alfred Smith, of New York, "or any other Roman Catholic," with the collective support of the Roman Catholic element of the population, would inject the religious issue into a National campaign. More than 90 per cent of the answers are an emphatic "yes." Only four replied they did not believe it would. Two were "afraid it would," and two other replies were evasive.

The third question asked whether it was believed the injection of the religious issue into a political campaign would arouse prejudice, promote passions and destroy National good feeling. Substantially every answer was "yes." These replies are extremely significant in the light of the unanimity of opinion that the nomination of Smith or any other Roman Catholic candidate, supported by that element of population as such, would precipitate the religious issue. In other words, almost unanimously questionnaire replies said that Smith's nomination would precipitate the religious issue, and with substantial unanimity they declared such an issue would excite passion, arouse prejudice and destroy National good feeling.

The large majority of correspondents asserted that even in the event of the election of Smith, or another Roman Catholic openly professing allegiance to the Roman pontiff, they could not have "confidence in his Presidential oath to uphold the Constitution" because of the allegiance of Roman Catholics to a foreign church authority. Some of the correspondents indicated they held this opinion regretfully, but entertained it nevertheless, proving very conclusively that a man in the situation of Al Smith could not serve the country as President as well as another, even though he might strive diligently to put any foreign allegiance aside and to support only the Constitution, because he would not have the full confidence of the people. There would always be suspicion. Clearly, from the replies, no Roman Catholic, faithful to the Roman hierarchy, can serve the interests of all the American people to the fullest degree, for he could not have the full confidence of the people.

THE DENVER BONUS NOTES

Back a few months ago in May, 1925, a proposition was made to the people of Lubbock by the Denver railroad company to build a line into Lubbock under certain conditions, one of which was that the Inter-State Commerce Commission would grant that road the authority to build on state lines, and into certain towns. This permit was finally granted not long since, and the Denver people are now ready to carry out their part of the contract.

A big campaign was put on in May, and the amount of money subscribed and signed into a note that was due in November and December of 1925, but as there was nothing definitely known of the outcome in the matter, and the indications were that the delay might be for some time, the collection of the notes were not insisted on, only in amounts sufficient to take care of the immediate needs of the committee, but the time has now arrived when the money will be needed, and the committee is making every honest effort to collect the amounts you agreed to pay at that time, and the following letter from the chairman of the railroad committee is being sent to all who have signed pledges or notes in this connection Mr. Slaton says:

"Dear Sir: "Fort Worth and Denver officials have advised that they will deliver right-of-way description and maps to us within a week, at which time they will request that we deliver right-of-way deeds to them in fulfillment of our contract to furnish right of way and terminal facilities.

"This contract with the Fort Worth and Denver to furnish right of way and terminal facilities is based on the notes given by yourself and others for this purpose, in May, 1925. These notes were made payable in November and December, 1925, but we have waited until this time to insist on payment that you might have the use of the money until it was actually needed.

"It is now imperative that we collect all the notes at once that we may purchase right of way and terminal facilities, which we can not do without the collection of your note.

"Work has already started between here and Estelline on the construction of the road into Lubbock and work will start in Lubbock County just as soon as we secure all the right-of-way facilities. This work will mean the employment of a large number of men, and the expenditure of a large sum of money locally.

"It is our belief that this work, together with the large amount of paving already contracted for, the probability of work starting on a gas line in the near future, and other work being carried on and to be started at once, will begin a new era of prosperity in Lubbock from which we will all benefit.

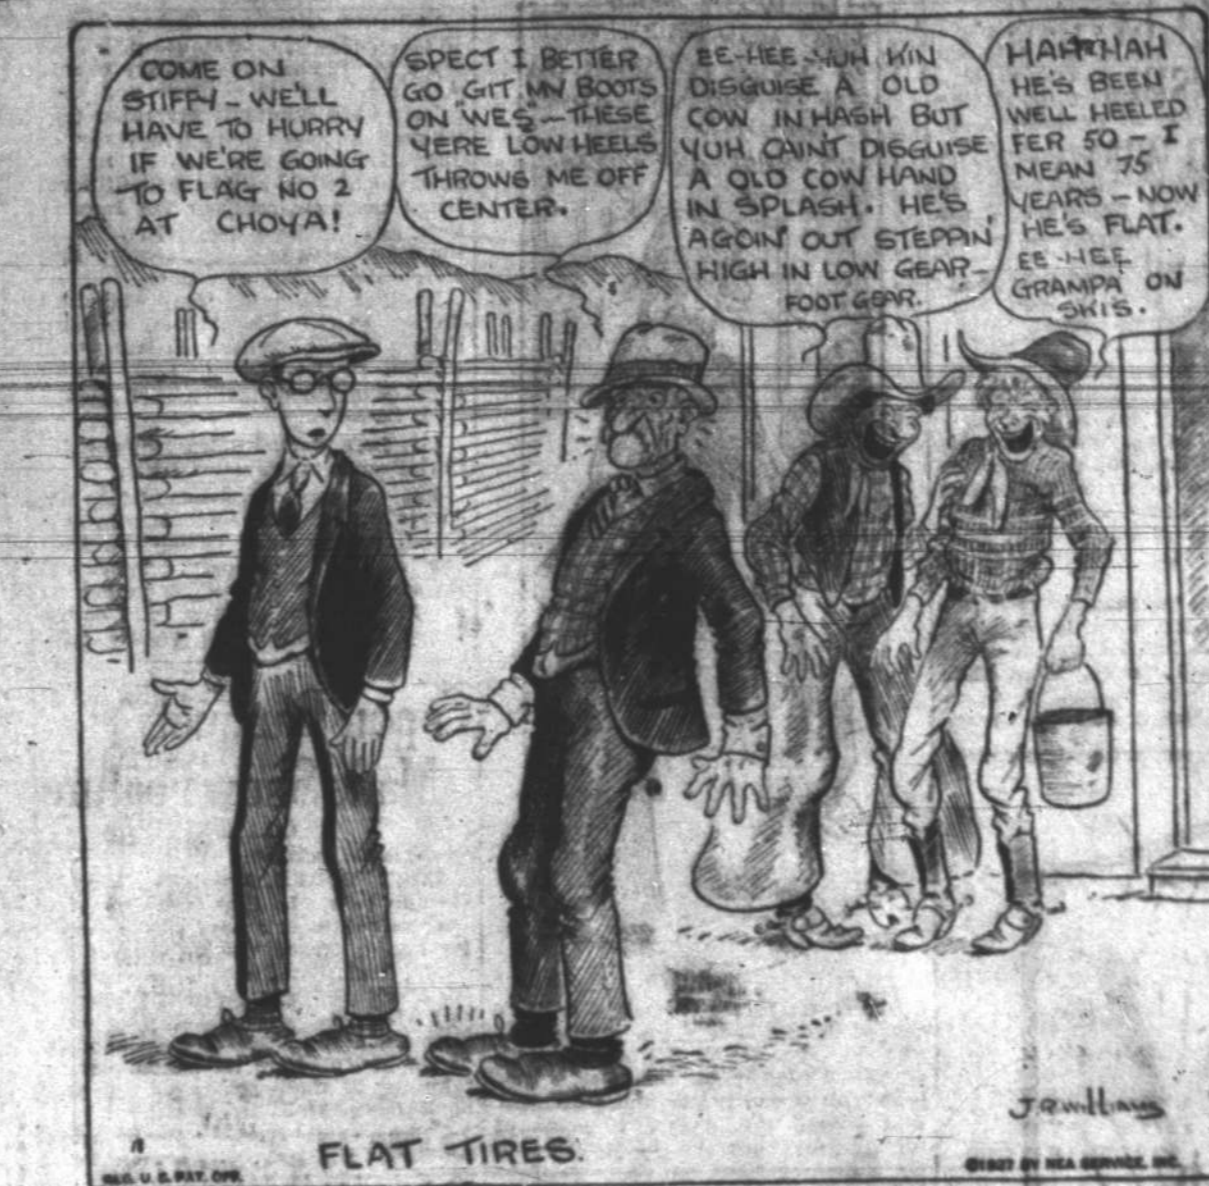

"But before railroad work can start we must collect these notes, and will appreciate your letting us have remittance for the face of your note at once."

This appeal is made in all kindness, but it is based on a purely business matter, and should be taken care of in a business way. The time when this work will begin and when the road is completed and operated into Lubbock has now been passed to the people of Lubbock. It is our move, and we certainly should not block the game at this stage. We are all anxious that the road be built. We believe it will help the town, and every one in the city, and this is a matter of helping ourselves. It is necessary that we put into this proposition something before we can get anything out of it. This is true in everything that we undertake, and this is one of the big propositions, and one of the things that we are all interested in. The man who has a business, the man who has business houses to rent or dwelling houses, the man who has vacant lots, the man who has money out on interest are all vitally interested in this proposition, so then the sooner the right of way is given the Denver people the sooner all of this activity will begin, and the sooner the town will begin to get returns on this investment, for after all that is what it is."

TOO MANY COLLEGES

President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale has recently made a valuable contribution to the current discussion concerning the advisability of trying to make "college men" out of unsuitable material. It would naturally be supposed that the head of a great university would stress the importance of a college education regardless, but it is an encouraging sign that leading educators are coming to realize that for the vast majority of young people the four years required by a college course is largely a waste of time, money and effort. We quote Dr. Hadley in part: "People engaged in public instruction are inclined to go too far in thinking that everyone should be encouraged to pursue his schooling to the furthest possible degree. They lament what seems to them the highly inadequate proportion of elementary school children who go to the high schools, and of high school pupils who proceed to college; and they glory in any increase of those proportions. They seem to forget that the classroom is not the only means of education; that a youth may get more intellectual and moral training from practical work that he likes, than from formal lessons that he loathes." Now, this does not mean to depreciate in the least the value of higher education to those who by intellect, temperament and inclination are capable of acquiring it and putting it to practical use. It simply means that unless a young person has the native ability to work with his brains, he had better be taught to work with his hands.

OUT OUR WAY

MEMORIES

"On Monday night of last week, a very fashionable and much enjoyed party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. McGee. It was a happy occasion, and was under the management of Misses McGee and Misses Wilkinson's. Those present were Misses Sallie Wilkinson, Margie Young, Doris Lee, Mabel Deany, Nettie and Della Williamson, and Messrs. O. L. Slaton, W. O. Tubbs, Jinks Penny, Lee Tabler, Earl Smith, J. L. Lankin, D. D. Reynolds, John Young, Miss Bonner, W. D. Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Edger Penny."

"Rev. R. H. Sawyer left this week for the Annual Conference, Methodist church. His wife accompanied him as far as Clarendon where she will visit with her daughter during the duration of the conference. Mr. Sawyer carries with him a great amount of work here. It is generally supposed that a new presiding elder's district will be formed out of the old Clarendon district, to be known as the Ashlee district."

"Born to Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Overton on November 7th, a boy, Doctee Overton is very greatly disappointed that the young voter had not been in the election on the 28th of this month, so that he could have cast his first vote against the wild and woolly 'Teddy' Roosevelt."

"Lillian Paul will preach at the courthouse Sunday. She is known as the girl preacher, and the public is invited to hear her discourse."

SO THINK WE

We think the people of Lubbock should line up in strict co-operation with the state board of health and put over a cleaning campaign in April that will mean something worth while in this city. There is much need of it.

We think it is now up to the people of Lubbock to say just when the work on the Denver road will start. It will not start till after the right-of-way is procured and delivered to them by the people of Lubbock, and this will not be done till after the notes have been paid. There is need for immediate action, and everybody will have to do their part.

We think that a clean city has but few fires and we know that it has fewer flies.

We think that Lubbock has the good will of the people in more of the smaller towns in this section of the country than any other town, and that is made possible by the broad minded programs that are continually making out and putting over. The contest that will be staged soon by the chamber of commerce to pay a few dollars for the best letter about the South Plains and printed in some eastern, southern or northern paper is open to the entire South Plains, hence there is nothing selfish about it, and it is worth while.

We think the people on Broadway are showing a spirit of progress by having several blocks of cement pavement put down. That shows loyalty and progress and faith in the town.

We think that we too often forget and fail to appreciate properly some of the work of the pioneers of the community, and with the passing of good sturdy men who have suffered the privations of pioneering we often fail to realize how much they have done for the community.

We think that Dorothy Dix was possibly right when she said: "If you find certain qualities in a girl objectionable before your marriage they will likely become intolerable after the marriage." Then in the United States it's divorce week.

We think that Lubbock should observe the State Cleanup and fire prevention campaign that will be put on in April. There are many ways in which improvement might be made in Lubbock.

We think it will possibly be interesting about letting the rural folks vote in the Democratic primary, for there are not many of them anyway. They are all republicans since Roosevelt's time.

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that the Chinese have not taken very kindly to the teachings of the missionaries over there, to turn the other cheek.

It is reported that Jay-walkers do not like to be called down. But it seems to be a thing, having being called down and knocked down, or a difference between the jail house and the morgue.

It is reported that a certain young man of this city while joy riding a few days ago undertook to drive on the tall hill on the east side of the canyon, but his car failed to make the grade and the steech he went it usually takes both hands on the wheel and a clear mind to get up one of those hills.

It is reported that there is still much milk being stolen from the porches of the homes in Lubbock.

It is reported that more sidewalks are being built in Lubbock than for many years.

It is reported that there is not one man in a thousand that can guess within twenty thousand dollars of the amount of eggs and butter sold in

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

Hankins Brothers sold their ranch in Hockley county. Consideration, $25,000.

The Methodist Sunday School was carrying on a Teacher's Training School with a splendid attendance.

Postmaster Vaughn was offering cash prizes for the best story written about the work in the Lubbock post-office.

The Local Salvation army officials were calling for more clothes for the poor of the community. That call is still out.

Mayor Pink Parish addressed the Rotary Club on "Citizenship." The meeting was held in the basement of the Lessor building.

DIVERSIFICATION BEING PROVEN

Eight Dollars a Ton for Lower Rio Grande Valley cabbage again serves to emphasize the words of the late President Scott of the Southern Pacific, who bluntly said that if the Valley had more canning factories it would be better off. There is a national campaign to promote eating sweetcorn and drinking the liquor produced in it fermentation, as an all day digestion. The Valley could lead by it.

Del Rio neighborhood farmers sell $2,250 worth of eggs in one week, to supplement the milk and cream checks they gather on six routes. And with the plant industry headquarters working at top speed, there is no shortage of sweetcorn. Del Rio is pleased all excuse for either illness or want.

Regin is another Southwest Texas city which has found a creamery one of the surest sources of a steady income. Although only two regular milk routes have been established from the Regin creamery. It is paying farmers $10.00 monthly for their share of its operations.

"One of my customers has three cows," said a banker of a small city near San Antonio, the other day, "and he deposits his cream checks. For months they have averaged $50, or better than $16 a cow. If he wants money to buy another cow he can have it any time he makes for he has showed that he knows how to use the capital he has." And that, briefly expressed, is the only mystery or secret as to why some men get credit and others don't. It is a matter of corporations as of cows.

Macao Is Oldest-and "Wickedest"-European City in China

BY W. H. PORTERFIELD

NEA Service Writer

MACAEO, Asia, March 10.—This is the oldest European possession on the Asiatic continent, owing its existence to the adventurous explorer, Henry the Navigator, Vasco de Gama and assistants.

Macao the Mysterious, a little Portugal, founded upon a narrow spit of land, just into the sea on the extreme southern Chinese coast, about 40 miles by sea from Hongkong.

To reach Macao it is necessary to come to Hongkong first, and embark on a small and uncomfortable British steamer. The fare for the round trip to Macao being five Hongkong dollars.

It is reported that some of the lawmakers of the State will very soon work up some kind of loop hole for the negroes to get out of the Democratic party. This will possibly all be arranged before the next primary election time rolls around.

Their method is simplicity itself. A number of black-eyed Chinese, though in the clothing of the ship, under-neath their innocent appearing, long loose robe several layers of automatic revolvers and a box or two of first-class ammunition.

At the proper moment when well at sea, the Chinese passenger has turned pirate gives the signal a down or more automatic belt forth a language understood in all languages—"come through with the coin"—and the passengers, Chinese and foreign, "come through." Meanwhile, a well-aimed bullet is pressed against the abdomen of captain and chief engineer cause the ship to be stopped until all valuables are put over the side into a waiting junk or sampan, after which the ship may proceed to its destination.

Just as Tin Juma, lower California, enjoys the reputation of being the wickedest town in North America, so does Macao hold the doubtful honors for supreme wickedness in the Far East.

The "wickedness" of Macao includes or $2.50 of our own precious standard. You will note that the owners are not philanthropists but business men, with an eye to dividends.

Old Yims Pirates. The business in these waters, however, is not all beer and skittles, the fly in the ointment, so to speak, being pirates. For several thousand years, since or less, the gentle Chinese have followed the profession of piracy with unwavering success.

the great "tax tax" monopoly, under the terms of which the government draws a percentage on the winners of all stakes of this ancient Chinese game. All tax tax games are concentrated in one part of the city and the playing privileges are farmed out to one monopoly.

We visited one tax tax house and noticed the opium smoking benches and lighted lamps about the right wall, looking down on the gambling tables below. While we were there a handsome young Chinese, modestly dressed, came in stretched himself out on the divan and lighted his "roll" of opium over the lamp as he lay down to smoke. No one paid any attention to

THE PRIZE

He only knew that finally he had won. And now the prize was his, and how he cheered. Of all the things was ringing in his ears. The public praised him for the thing he'd done. To do his right to glory there was his name. A silver cup was his for all the years. Beyond suspicion or a rival's sneer, A cup forever he could look upon.

"Our boy won this," his parents proudly said. Time was when he thought such battery sweet. But that that cup he never turned his head. But what it whispered to him "You're a cheat!" And then one day he dropped it from the shelf. He couldn't stand the sight of it himself.

NO WORRIES FOR JACK IN FIGHTING COME BACK

DEMPSEY'S PEACE OF MIND WILL BE GUARDED BY RICKARD TO INSURE HIM A FAIR OPPORTUNITY TO WIN CROWN

(By the Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, March 10 (AP)—If Tex Rickard has his way about it, he usually does when it comes to dealing the heavyweight pugilistic cards, Jack Dempsey's attempted comeback will not be hampered by prominent business "phoney" crowd in financial law suit over overtures of advice. Separately or collectively, all of these items have figured in published demonstrations of Dempsey's defeat by Mike Tunney in the historic battle of the Second Continental.

Rickard's attitude after "phoney" financial law suit over overtures of advice. Separately or collectively, all of these items have figured in published demonstrations of Dempsey's defeat by Mike Tunney in the historic battle of the Second Continental.

"I intend to see that Dempsey is free from all outside concerns this time," Rickard told the Associated Press.

"His handlers will be carefully chosen and he will be able to put his mind exclusively on business of fighting."

Dempsey can comeback only by actual fighting, bouts that will give him real tests, the promoter went on. "If he doesn't survive the preliminaries, we will know that the comeback theory advanced after the Tunney fight was correct, if he gets a return fight with the champion he must earn it."

Sheriff H. L. Johnston is in F. Worth on business to several days.

Texan After Champion Pete Latzo's Crown CLYDE HULL GETS TITLE CLASH WITH WELTER BECAUSE OF "NO DECISION" WIN

DALLAS, Texas, March 10—Down here where men take orders from men once more, the natives are halting Clyde Hull as a future wearer of Pete Latzo's crown.

Hull as the last who trounced the welterweight champion in a ten-round no-decision battle here a few weeks ago.

Latzo was so badly punished by the Texan that he was forced to cancel a fight in another Texas town two nights later.

The only thing that saved him his crown was, as said before, the fact that no decision was given. Newspapers awarded Hull the decision as a prize.

But they're going to fight again.

With the title at stake.

That should be the rest of the world, know whether Hull is the fighter that he is said to be. The Texan may be the champion after that battle.

They say he will wear Latzo's again, just as he beat him here before, 4,000 home-folks.

Hull's danger is in his left. He has a sock in both hands, but the dynamite is in his left mitt.

He used his left hand so often and so fast that most folks forget Latzo had one.

Latzo and his brother-manager, Mike, sang sweet praise of Hull's ability.

"He deserves a chance at the crown and we'll give it to him," said Mike.

"That fight the other night was a mistake. Mike and I would have given him the title every time."

Hull built his back in the wheat fields of South Dakota, which is as good as the way Latzo built his in the coal mines of Pennsylvania.

Perhaps he will be the next welterweight champion. No one knows. At any rate he is stabilizing now on the threshold of fame and big money because he beat Latzo in Texas.

Speed and Deception New Football Hopes

BIRMINGHAM, Calif., Mar. 10—Speed and deception is the Pol Warner and Kip Rice formula will replace the football style of the late Andy Smith at California next fall.

One can look for the change in the style of play of the Golden Bear eleven if the descriptions of "Cubs" Peter, youthful California mentor, materialize.

The Smith style of play, which already had started on the downward path before the untimely death of Smith, failed to achieve any success for Price this past fall.

The Golden Bears were defeated six times.

Price says it will be different next fall. Most of the football players schooled in the Smith style of play are gone. In their places are youthful aspirants willing to partake of whatever style Price touches.

They are good prospects too, those youngsters from whom will come the 1927 eleven. Only a few of them have any varsity experience, but Price feels they will come through satisfactorily.

California schedule makers apparently agree with him.

The Golden Bears planning to have the Golden Bear outfit take part in a post-season game next fall against a strong eastern eleven. To do that, California must rate high.

LEVELLAD TRIALS SCHEDULED FOR LUBBOCK HEARING

Transfer of six civil cases from the Hockley county court to the District court here was reported here today.

The change of venue was made by order of Judge Homer L. Barr, of the Hockley court upon agreement of all parties concerned.

Three of the cases concern the Hopes school district squabble, it was stated.

HOMER SMITH, BATTLEAXE, VETERAN OF HEAVYWEIGHT RING HISTORY, LIVING TO TELL TALE OF HIS MANY DEFEATS

(By T. S. GARRETT)
KALAMAZOO, Mich., March 10—(AP)—Also defied the lightning and Hercules was rated tough, too, but they never knew Homer Smith, secretary-treasurer of a company manufacturing slabs at Kalamazoo.

In addition to being a manufacturer he is a pugilist. He has fought Dempsey, Willie Frippe, Bennett, Brennan, Mottish, Shurkey, Paulina, Johnson and more than 100 other selected bone-crushers, and still lives to fight another day.

Homer Smith did not stop any of these men, but he fought them, cupping stopped in round, while in two, and finally in seven, Smith lost decisions to Jack Johnson, Battling Levinsky, Jack Sharkey and Jack Randall. He boxed no-decision bouts against Frippe, Mottish and Brennan.

If a belt should be awarded for the longest continuous loss record in horizontal contact with the canvas, Homer would be a contender. Reports differ as to the number of times Frippe floored him. Smith says it was "something over ten times. I lost count."

"I've fought the leader bunch of my men in the ring today," declared Smith. "And nobody got his trade mark on me either. The only boxer I've been getting broken in the ring are in my right hand. He been broken some in a while."

"The hardest hitter I ever fought? That hit between Dempsey and Frippe. They hit differently. You might say like the kick of a mule and the kick of a dead horse. Dempsey had the mule kick, his punches are short, sharp and quick and he you come."

"The hardest man for me to hit was Jack Johnson. He knew more ways to keep from being hit than anybody I ever boxed with. The most awkward man to box with was Willie Mottish. He is short and fat and was hard to get at. He has a big jaw, but you can't reach it. And besides that he clinched all the time."

"The punch that hurt me most was hit by Bob Foner. He sent an upper cut to the ribs that I wasn't looking for. My head hurt for four days."

"Most punches on the head, though don't bother long. Body punches make you sore the next day. I think better punches are best, but you know they don't hurt me. I have thick muscles on my back and whenever a fellow reaches round to hit me there, I just burden the muscles and he can't beat me all night if he wants to."

"I believe I came close to beating Dempsey when I fought him. Soon after the fight started I ran him on the chin so hard his hands dropped. But I was too slow about following it up. And the next thing I knew his left caught me on the chin and floored me. I got up and he kept knocking me. With me went up at it until just before the round was to end and the referee stopped the fight. I didn't like it and wanted to go on. Floyd Fitzsimmons—his promoter now you know, but he was my manager then—he was mad about it too."

Smith is willing to go on taking a chance at being knocked down some more and when he finally gets tired he says he can always build it up.

Hagan III in the Charleston, Mo. jail, confessed Wednesday that he had killed her when she threatened to leave him. He believed his illness would be fatal before he could be brought to trial, but Nelson county officials made arrangements today to send deputies from here tomorrow to return him for trial.

THEVENOW HOLDS OUT FOR A BIGGER SALARY REFUSING TO ACCEPT OFFER TENDERED EXCEPT FOR ONE SEASON

(By the Associated Press.)
ST. LOUIS, March 10 (AP)—Tommy Thevenow, star short stop at the champion St. Louis Cardinals, declared today he would refuse to sign a contract for more than one year at the terms offered. The management proposed a three year contract. Thevenow's statement was made to a staff correspondent of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch at the players home at Midland, Ind.

Thevenow, who was considered the best fielding short stop in the National league last year, said the club had offered him $5,500 for the first year, $5,500 for the second and $7,500 for the third, with a bonus of $500 for signing. He said he thought the bonus was intended to meet his demand for $8,000 for the first year, but he felt that after another year's experience he would be worth more than the amounts offered.

The player said if it appeared impossible to reach an agreement, he would ask to be traded, and if this was refused he would stay out of the game until an arrangement satisfactory to him could be made.

Thevenow denied the charge of Branch Rickey, Cardinal business manager, that he had a "manager" but he said O. L. Head, manager of a Tinoco warehouse at Madison, was advising him.

Risiko Matched with Jack DeMave Again

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP)—Johnny Risiko, the Cleveland rubber man, has been matched for a return bout with Jack DeMave of Hoboken, N. Y., to be staged either in New York or Cleveland. Several metropolitan clubs are bidding for it, but Danay Dana, Risiko's manager, expressed a desire today to hold the fight in Cleveland, April 12, the date on which Risiko's match with Jim Maloney was to have taken place.

Risiko and DeMave fought a slashing draw in Grand Rapids, Mich., recently. Risiko's knockout of Eddie Huffman here Tuesday night has put him back in the heavyweight spotlight.

STORM SWEEPING JAPAN

OSAKA, Japan, March 11 (AP)—(Priority)—A terrific gale was sweeping central Japan early today, demolishing many refugee shelters in the Tansu earthquake district and adding to the misery of the thousands of homeless in the devastated region. The storm started last night.

HEAVY RAINS HALT SHANGHAI FIGHTING

CHINESE TAKE GOOD CARE OF RUSSIAN PRISONERS WHO WERE SEIZED

SHANGHAI, March 10—Heavy rains have converted all the Shanghai fighting fronts into Lake-Studded morasses, effectively stopping all military operations. Any consequences, Shanghai troops continued to arrive at Nanking, however, where they took up positions to defend the Nanking-Shanghai line of communication.

The Soviet consul general went to Nanking this morning in an effort to hasten the release of Miss Borodin, wife of the Cantonese adviser, and the three Russian couriers who were arrested last Saturday aboard the Soviet vessel, Pamiat Lenina. He was met with the answer that the entire matter lay solely with the government at Peking.

Ship Was Blameless
The consul asserted that the Chinese military search of the Pamiat Lenina had revealed nothing objectionable aboard and that the ship's captain was making a deposition which would be used in further protests by the Soviet government against the vessel's seizure and detention of the Russians.

Reports current yesterday that the three Russian couriers had been executed were emphatically denied by the Chinese authorities today who said that the three Chinese captives were being well treated. A close investigation is being conducted by the Chinese officials to determine the accuracy of the reports made by the arresting officers that a mass of propaganda had been found aboard the Pamiat Lenina and very little tea.

Prisoners Entertained
Meanwhile reports received here indicate that Miss Borodin and the three couriers, although detained as prisoners, are being "lavishly" entertained by their Chinese captors.

The Chinese authorities have begun to take action against strike agitators, many of whom have been arrested and remanded pending an investigation into the ratification of the strike movement. The headquarters of the postal workers union was raided and 19 men were arrested including a representative of the general labor union and the secretary of the postal union. All by these two officials later were released.

During the raid police seized pamphlets advocating a general strike and having the republican revolutionary party which is affiliated with the Cantonese.

Hand bills printed in Hindustani urging the Indian troops of the Shanghai defense force not to shoot Chinese, have been found near the Pankaj billets on the Yangtze.

JOHNSON BREAKS SMALL BONE IN HIS ANKLE

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—Walter Johnson, star pitcher of the Washington Senators, has broken a small bone in his ankle and will be delayed in his spring training approximately three weeks, Clark Griffith, president of the club, reported tonight to the Washington Post.

The injury occurred yesterday when a hot liner from Joe Judge's bat caught the hurler squarely in the ankle and the fracture was revealed in an X-ray photograph taken today. The break has been set and the leg is in a plaster cast, the manager said. Johnson will return to Washington Sunday to remain while the limb mends.

AMARILLO WHEAT GROWERS SMILE AS RAINFALL STARTS

AMARILLO, March 10 (AP)—Pamphlet wheat growers were wreathed in smiles as rain which threatened all last night, set in soon after dusk. With a record wheat crop in prospect only the addition of a general rain was needed to assure a bumper yield.

Alonzo and Tilden to Meet in Finals

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 10 (AP)—William Tilden, II and Manuel Alonzo, the nation's two biggest ranking tennis players, meet tomorrow with the Florida state singles crown as the coveted award.

Today in a spectacular match Tilden won from Francis T. Hunter Olympic doubles champion, and Alonzo won from George M. Lott, Jr.

AN OPEN LETTER

Dear Friends:

We feel that we are privileged to address the people of the South Plains in the above manner; the thousands who have made the ten years of our business life a success; who have encouraged us from the beginning by your patronage, and on to the present time, where the "Silver Lining" shines most brightly.

We are now entering the eleventh year of service to you folks, and are celebrating our tenth Anniversary. This celebration is made in a manner of price concessions on New, Bright, Spring merchandise. We feel in that way we can best express our true appreciation for the patronage that has sustained us to this event.

Looking back ten years to that time when we entered into the business life in a small way in Lubbock and the South Plains, we realize the many great things for which we should be thankful; for friends whose value cannot be appraised; for public response to our efforts that have made it possible to continue a growth and in broadening our services. Our store has had a continual growth, as well as the country we serve. Many things have come and gone into History since our establishment opened in Lubbock. At the tenth milestone of our business life we find the year just closing has been the biggest and most successful year of any. And in recognition of that fact we feel a humbleness, knowing that it's cause was the faithful patronage of our friends, that we may commemorate this milestone fittingly; that we may extend our acquaintance and usefulness; our celebration sale is announced. We hope that you read of it and share with us, an event, which we believe you alone, made possible. It is our thanks to you, and an expression of our desire to grow more, and a renewal of our determination to never arrive at a period of "Satisfaction" with past achievements.

Increase the profits from your dairy herd—by reducing feed costs

The feeding of Cottonseed Meal with homegrown grains does two things. It leaves your feed costs on one side and adds to your profits on the other. One hundred pounds of Cottonseed Meal offers more digestible protein per dollar invested than any other concentrate. It increases the milk flow thereby adding those extra dollars to your creamery check that pays you more than a mere living. Cottonseed Meal is the South's most valuable concentrate. It maintains the cow in good health and vigor. Are you fully informed on its feeding qualities? Do you know how to balance it for practical feeding with your homegrown grains? Write this department for authentic feeding information for dairy cattle and other classes of live stock.

valorem taxes over to the counties. Opponents of the proposal, however, have asserted that no one can tell exactly what the measure would do. Senator Moore declared that it is destined to do away with the present school levy and tax for the support of Confederate veterans and Senator Stuart insisted that it meant an income tax.

Standardization
Provisions for the standardization of hose couplings in fire departments throughout Texas were approved in the senate today and a bill to prohibit the sale of diseased, immature or over-ripe citrus fruits in the state was sent to the house.

The local senate bills included by McFarlane to increase the salary of the superintendent of public instruction in Abilene $1,000; by Pollock to provide a district attorney for Deek, Okla.; by Pace, authorizing one district in Hidalgo county to sell water to another water district; by Reid, to create road district number 5 in Deke county; by Reid, changing the time of district court in 49th district.

Ferguson Amnesty
Tents of house strength today on the tobacco tax bill, and the senate bill to rescind former Governor James E. Ferguson's amnesty, two high lights on the fortyth legislature's calendar.

Left considerable doubt as to whether either can be finally passed this session. The vote against the amnesty repealer was 56 to 48.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE
Death strikes GARRETT FOLSOM while bathing at Ocean Town, N. J. After being perfunctorily examined by a doctor, the body is brought to the Hotel Massachusetts, where an inquiry is started.

Folsom's bathing companions had been ROGER NEVILLE, MRS. HELEN BARNABY, and CARMELITA VALDON. It is established that Folsom, just before his death, had been conversing with NED BARRON, known as the copper king.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXIII
Anastasia Folsom was not at all unkindly, but she was straightforward and direct of speech and her eyes flashed with a sort of cold warning.

"Your father bought several daggers at that auction?"
"Yes, madam," said Robin, quietly.
"What for?"
"As he stated at the inquest, to add to his collection."

"Yes, I heard him. Why did he go out late, on a stormy night, to buy daggers for his collection?"
"Because that was the night on which the auction was held. Mr. Meeke also bought daggers at that sale."

"I know that. But Mr. Meeke was not acquainted with my brother. Your father was."
"I don't think he was, Miss Folsom, though I am not sure. But, even so, he had a perfect right to buy antique curios, if he chose."

"Oh, yes, a perfect right. That is, if he bought them for antique curiosities or if he bought them for use as deadly weapons. His right is not so unquestionable."

Robin had said about all he could stand. Naturally courteous, he hesitated to speak sternly to a woman; yet he felt the time had come.

The Riggs was watching him closely, as was Folsom.
Neville and the two women with him had taken chairs nearby, and were curiously listening to this dialogue.

Anastasia Folsom was regarding Robin with an eager gaze that told in itself so much of anxiety as to know how she should proceed for your pleasure and satisfactory explanation.

But Robin was at the end of his rope. The words "deadly weapons" had so roused his ire that he felt a direct response was called for.

Croydon Sears was what is often called a gentleman of the old school. He had a fine old-fashioned courtesy, and though not an old man, he showed a polite deference in conversation not generally seen in today's social intercourse.

"You bought two, that were among the finer specimens of the lot, I understand."
"You have been correctly informed, I did."
"Then you left the sale room, in company with Mr. Meeke?"
"Yes, I did."

"Then where did you go?"
"I walked a bit on the boardwalk. 'Up and down'—"
"Oh, both ways. Just a stroll back and forth. Then home to my hotel."

"Not going into the sale room again?"
"No, Miss Folsom."
The quiet tone carried an impression of reserve and composure, but a close observer might have seen a slight quiver of Sears' lips, a slight throbbing of a pulse in his cheek, and a nervous movement of his hands.

At any rate, his soft saw these things and was surprised for he knew they meant his father was disturbed in some way, and he failed to connect it with Miss Folsom's causticity.

"Mr. Sears," the insistent lady went on, "I have no reason to suspect you of any complicity in my brother's death. I have no motive to attribute to you, no evidence to point your way, and no clue that suggests you. But I am investigating every possible avenue of inquiry, and so, since you can have no objection in refusing to answer, I ask you where you were in the ocean at the time my brother met his death."

"Croydon Sears looked at her calmly. "My dear madam," he said, "I am truly sorry for you. I know how anxious you are to learn the slayer of your brother, and I am glad to be of any help I can. I do not resent your questions, for I know they are the desperate efforts of an anguished heart. As to my position in the ocean that morning, I can only say I was bathing in the midst of a crowd of people a long distance away from the spot where your brother met his death. As many near me can testify, I was standing near the next rope, fully fifty feet away from the rope at which Mr. Folsom was standing. It would therefore be impossible for me to connect that crime, even if I had knowledge of my daggers which was used—and, as you know, it was not mine."

"At that moment, Ned Barron, in search of his friend, Croydon Sears, came up to the group.
Seeing the earnest discussion in progress, he paused, uncertain whether to interrupt.

Then he gathered a few words that told him of Miss Folsom's attitude toward Sears, and catching sight of Robin's anxious face, he stepped forward.
"Can I help?" he said, pleasantly.

"Is this another inquest?"
"No, Ned," Sears said, soberly, "but you may as well corroborate my statement that I was fifty feet or more away down the beach from Mr. Folsom at the time he was stabbed with the dagger."
"Why—were you? Yes, so you were."

Clearly Ned Barron had no recollection of Sears' whereabouts at the moment in question, but he was quite evidently willing and anxious to assist his friend, and ready to back up his word.

"You remember, then, Miss Folsom said, "that Mr. Sears was some distance up the beach when my brother fell under the water?"
"Yes, yes—I remember perfectly."
"By the next rope, up the beach that he stood, I remember a man in a bright green bathing suit, shirt and trunks, both of bright, grass green. It struck me as unusual, and so I noticed it."

Those mysterious French dolls of Garrett Folsom's again are thrust into the foreground in the next chapter.

"That's all right," said Miss Folsom, impatiently; "we're not concerned with Mr. Robin Sears or the girl he's engaged to. It's Mr. Croydon Sears who interests me, and I want someone who will verify his statement that he was no nearer my brother when he died. Surely that is not too much to ask when I am so deeply concerned in my quest for the truth."
"No, Miss Folsom, that is not too much to ask," and Tite Riggs lips shut tight, longingly, as he felt of his pocket for the key to the door.

"But, of course, Mr. Sears, you can satisfy the lady's requirement. There must have been someone about whom you knew. Or some one you can describe, even if you are unacquainted with his name."
"Oh, yes," cried Croydon Sears, at that. "I distinctly remember a man in a bright green bathing suit, shirt and trunks, both of bright, grass green. It struck me as unusual, and so I noticed it."

"I think your corroboration is worthless," Miss Folsom said, contemptuously.
"And I think we are on the verge of a revelation," said Dan Pelton, taking up the gauntlet. "Mr. Sears, I am here to help my aunt in her endeavors to find the man who stabbed my uncle. Like her, I have no reason to suspect you of any hand in the crime. But I am ready to say that your answers to her questions just now have not been very satisfactory, and your friend's backing up, though nobly attempted, fell down badly."

"Let me in on this," said Tite Riggs, in his suave fashion. "I make no doubt, Mr. Sears, that you can prove an alibi and do not let that phrase frighten you. Any innocent person can prove an alibi; it is the guilty man who makes up one that he can't prove. Now, will you tell us who were near you, as you were in the ocean at a point, say, about fifty feet away from Mr. Folsom, in the south?"
"Why, yes, certainly. Let me see, there was—it's strange, but I can't for the moment think of anyone I know. You see, I know so few people down here, and my son had just left me to swim far out into the breakers, with—"
"Yes, with whom?"
"I should prefer to leave the lady's name out of it, but it was his fiancée."

Paris had a feather-bouquet faded.

C. I. A. Studes Say Farm Is Monotonous

Special to The Avalanche
DENTON, March 10.—C. I. A. students in general agree with Miss Elgar Daniels who calls farm life monotonous. Miss Daniels, Texas champion cotton grower, in a recent interview expressed admiration for some features of life in the country, but wound up with "for real enjoyment and a taste of life, I like the city."
Well, so does C. I. A., even though a majority of its students come from the farms or towns of less than 4,000 residents.

Most of them agree that a home with all modern conveniences, plenty of help, good roads to the city, and a car or two in the bargain are all that is necessary for a proper enjoyment of country life.

Most of them express a preference for the city because "there is so much more going on there."
The ideal state, though, as hinted above, seems to center in one where a person can have all the comforts of the city together with the freedom and openness of the country. It is one which all seem to realize belongs to the nebulous future after the "first million" has been made.

CITY MANAGER SELECTED
BIG SPRING, March 10.—At a meeting of the Big Spring city commission on March 8, Mr. Will V. Montin was elected city manager. Mr. Montin took over the duties of his newly acquired office today. He was formerly with the Marland Oil company of Texas.

FIRE DOES SMALL DAMAGE
Fire originating in the J. H. Holmer home on 1212 6th street was extinguished by the family and neighbors before the city fire department arrived, Thursday morning.
Only a small amount of damage was done.

Texas Pioneer Praises Tanlac Brought Back Lost Health

W. S. Wells, well known grocer of 914 West Myrtle St., San Antonio, tells of breakdown. Tanlac built him up again and earns his praise.

Mr. Wells comes of old hardy stock, having entered Texas in 1876 via his father's mule team. His health remained perfect all through those years till at last hard work took its toll. "Stomach and liver disorders set in," said Mr. Wells, "and a general run-down condition resulted. I could not rest at night, had neither appetite nor energy, and lost weight steadily. I read what Tanlac had done for others under similar conditions and decided to try it. But, frankly, I was skeptical. But a couple of bottles convinced me, for I noticed a great improvement. I kept on till ten or eleven bottles were finished and I can honestly say they put me in an entirely different condition. Tanlac gave me a ravenous appetite, put my stomach and liver in normal condition again and steadied my nerves. I sleep regularly, too. I'm in splendid health now, and as I took no other remedy, the whole credit belongs to Tanlac."

If overwork or neglect have run you down, try Tanlac. It is nature's own tonic, made of herbs, barks and roots. Your druggist has it. Over 85 million bottles sold.

Girl Employees Are Favored in School

Special to The Avalanche
DENTON, March 10.—Every position that can be filled by a student without loss to the college is given to girls to permit them to earn part of their expenses while attending the College of Industrial Arts. The payroll for the student help runs about $26,000 for each regular session.

There are now 135 students earning from $19 to 25 a month for part-time services, and 150 on the waiting list. Students work only a few hours a day at the same time carry full college courses.

RIGHT now you can probably think of a hill that's been making your motor knock every time you've climbed it. And that's easily explained.

Your motor is designed to deliver a certain number of revolutions per minute to give maximum power and response under all conditions. But after a while carbon forms, that knock develops, the motor revolutions drop and you lose power on the hills and a quick response in traffic.

That's when you need Conoco Ethyl Gasoline—because this new fuel works at maximum efficiency in a carbon-choked motor. It absolutely eliminates knocks—and the carbon formations which increase the pressure in the cylinders are actually a benefit because Conoco Ethyl Gasoline performs perfectly under this high pressure—which means that it delivers more power to the pistons.

Conoco Ethyl Gasoline has no substitute. Don't confuse it with other "anti-knock" fuels. It is the result of years of research. A tankful will deliver extra knockless miles under practically all operating conditions. Get it at the sign of the Continental Soldier.

DAILY MARKET

COTTON OIL INACTIVE: NEW YORK, March 10 (AP)—Cottonseed oil was inactive but steady today on covering and commission house buying; in anticipation of a bullish consumption report for February.

Prices advanced 7 to 13 points, but reacted partially near the close under realizing, and were finally unchanged to 7 points net higher. Sales 7,000 barrels. Prime crude 7.75; prime summer spot, March and May 8.50; July 8.80; September 9.75; October 9.25.

COTTON FABRICS STRONG: NEW YORK, March 10 (AP)—Demand for silk and cottons, rayon and cottons and soft finished cottons, printed and unprinted, was unusually active today for wash fabrics sales.

Printed lines were so much sought after that most mills were running overtime to meet orders. Cray cloth was firm. Burmese were higher and more active. Silk was slightly easier, but trade was fair. Soft goods in sheer weaves were much sought after, crepes, printed and plain being especially active.

COTTON SELLS LOWER: NEW YORK, March 10 (AP)—The cotton market showed further slight declines today. A lower opening was followed by rallies in covering and trade buying, but the advance met by increased offerings and prices sold off from 14.15 to 13.95 for May in late trading. May closed at that level, the general market closing very steady, at net declines of 2 to 13 points.

The opening decline of 3 to 7 points reflected continuation of yesterday's selling movement by relatively easy Liverpool cables and better weather news from the south. Initial offerings were readily absorbed, trade interests buying old crop months while they seemed to be local buying of new crop deliveries.

Failure of southern advices to show any easing of the spot situation, following yesterday's report of a less active demand, probably led to considerable covering. This was promoted by rumors that trade buying orders were in the market for execution at slightly lower prices. The tone was very steady in the forenoon, prices working up to 14.25 for March and 14.45 for October, or about 3 to 4 points net higher.

Buyers did not show much disposition to follow up the advances to purchases, however, and the market worked over again in the afternoon under renewed liquidation of new crop months. There also seemed to be a little hedge selling here in late trading. Prices broke back to 14.15 in the afternoon to close with net losses for the day of 3 to 4 points.

Easy cables caused first trades to show losses of 2 to 4 points and further losses in early trading carried all active positions down to loss of 1 point from the previous close with May trading at 14.65, July 14.21 and October 14.75.

Trade buying, unfavorable weather prospects, good spot demand and fresh and outside buying induced a rally which before mid-session had carried May to 14.18, July to 14.31 and October to 14.40, 9 to 12 points above the early loss and 1 to 6 points above the previous close.

Weakness in the late trading was July to 14.18 and October to 14.28, 11 points under the high and 4 1/2 to 10 points under the previous close. The close was a shade above the lowest.

Exports were 25,463 bales, making 1,512,905 so far this season. Port receipts 19,922 U. S. port afloat 2,720,251.

COTTON DECLINES: NEW ORLEANS, March 10 (AP)—Despite an upward movement in mid session which carried price levels 2 to 12 points above the early loss, lack of support to the move allowed the cotton market to ease off in the afternoon to close with net losses for the day of 3 to 4 points.

Easy cables caused first trades to show losses of 2 to 4 points and further losses in early trading carried all active positions down to loss of 1 point from the previous close with May trading at 14.65, July 14.21 and October 14.75.

Trade buying, unfavorable weather prospects, good spot demand and fresh and outside buying induced a rally which before mid-session had carried May to 14.18, July to 14.31 and October to 14.40, 9 to 12 points above the early loss and 1 to 6 points above the previous close.

COFFEE FUTURES CLIMB: NEW YORK, March 10 (AP)—Coffee futures opened today at a decline of about 3 points under selling probably prompted by reports of easier Brazilian exchange rates but after a rally of 10 1/2 points, rallied to 1.37 1/2 for that delivery on covering and commodity buy orders of a Brazilian loan. The close was steady at a net advance of 3 to 17 points. Estimated sales 15,000 bags. Closing quotations: March 1.42 1/2, May 1.50, July 1.57, September 1.65, December 1.74, January 1.77, March 1.82 1/2, May 1.89, July 1.96, September 2.04, December 2.13, January 2.16, March 2.21, May 2.28, July 2.35, September 2.43, December 2.52, March 1928

TEXAS UNIVERSITY SECOND IN SOUTH

JOHN HOPKINS ONLY SCHOOL IN REGION HAVING A LARGER GRADUATE COURSE

Special to The Avalanche
AUSTIN, March 10.—A comparison of enrollment figures reveals that the graduate school of the University of Texas is larger in attendance than that of any other institution south of the Mason-Dixon line, John Hopkins University excepted.

At present there are enrolled in the graduate school 374 students, and approximately one hundred of that number are applicants for degrees in June. During the twelve months from September 1, 1925, to September 1, 1926, there were 322 graduate students enrolled. During the same period 132 degrees were conferred and 125 were pursuing work beyond the masters degree and some were then completing the work necessary for a doctors degree.

In the summer of 1926 an unusually strong group of visiting professors in the graduate school were assembled here. These professors were selected from the larger universities in every section of the country.

"Arrangements are being perfected to carry out the same plan for summer school of 1927," stated Dr. H. W. Harper, dean of the graduate school. "Appropriations have been made by the legislature for the summer session and an unusually strong graduate faculty and a larger number of graduate students are expected."

Girls Quit School for Lack of Dress

HOUSTON, March 10 (AP)—Many girls do not finish high school courses because they can not afford to dress like other girls, Dr. William F. Russell, dean of Teachers College, Columbia University, told gathering here at one of the junior high schools here during the educational rally.

"I do not like the high school uniform," he said, "but I favor them if they will aid in securing equal opportunity."

Previously he had said that "the rich child gets the greatest benefit from his education. He has the proper food, home environment and proper clothes. The clothes problem is especially evident in high school."

"If the Parent-Teachers association," he said in suggesting a remedy, "wants to aid education, let them investigate high school graduates who can not afford to go to college and aid them. I should like to see Texas award about 2,500 scholarships of approximately $125 a year and at least 2,000 of $350 each to students who desire to pursue higher education."

FUN KING TO RULE TULSA CARNIVAL

Special to The Avalanche
TULSA, March 10.—A new ruler will reign for a night over the annual Tulsa New Carnival this year. He will be King Funiculous, ruler of Revelry Night, which will be staged on the last night of the two-day festival, May 18 and 19. This will be an annual event in the future.

King Funiculous, in a gaily colored marquette, will descend grotesquely costumed, upon one of the principal business streets of the city to lead his merry cohorts and the thousands of visitors in a night of happy revelry, blaring horns, brilliant lights, flying confetti, crashing bombs, roguish pranks and all the stirring concomitants of a fun-quad, swirling mob will not only be permitted but encouraged.

Fully 5,000 people in costumes and masks are expected to take part, in addition to the thousands who come to look on at the fun. An old-fashioned carnival, staged by one of the leading civic clubs of the city, with society people taking the parts of performers and masquerading as animals and showmen, will add to the enjoy.

MYSTERY ENSHROUDS THE DEATH OF YOUNG MAN

COPPERAS COVE, March 10 (AP)—Mystery attends the finding of the body of T. S. Cox, 18, son of Mrs. Tom Cox of Teague, and nephew of P. S. Clark, below a railroad bridge of the Santa Fe near here Wednesday.

A watch and money which he is known to have had in his possession when he left Teague Tuesday night were missing. There were severe bruises on his head and his right arm was broken.

National mourning for the late Mikado was so intense in Japan that merchants have been complaining that it has curtailed buying.

Rub Rheumatic Pain From Aching Joints

Stop "Soiling" Rheumatism. It's pain isn't, not one case in fifty requires intensive treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never discolors and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia. Lumber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time liniment "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment, you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

Cities, Beware!

Some streets in downtown New York like Nassau street shown here, have become so congested with pedestrians at busy hours, that automobiles are entirely excluded then and permitted only one-way thoroughfare at other times.

BLONDES VS. BRUNETTES Fair and Dark Cagers Work Out in Preparation For Tilt To Determine Winner

Special to The Avalanche
DENTON, Texas, March 10.—Blondes and brunettes will vie for championship in basketball at the College of Industrial Arts soon, according to plans laid by Miss Eddie Parks of Clifton, basketball manager. Teams of both complexions are practicing and there will be an elimination of all but the best players. The dark skinned team members are determined that they shall demonstrate one reason why gentlemen should not prefer blondes.

LASITER NEW DIRECTOR OF CHAMBER COMMERCE

Special to The Avalanche
BIG LAKE, Texas, March 10.—O. A. Lasiter, manager of the South Texas Lumber company, was added to the board of directors of the Big Lake Chamber of Commerce at the Monday meeting, to fill a vacancy made by the resignation of Paul Doran. J. P. Kittrell of the Big Lake Utilities company, was elected first vice-president, with Antonio Thies as second vice-president, these men being recognized as among the town's most aggressive citizens and boosters. Selection of finance committee, committee on new members and other important committees was referred to the board of directors.

Plainview Plans to Install White Way

Special to The Avalanche
PLAINVIEW, March 10.—The city council of Plainview entered a contract Monday night with the Texas Utilities company to furnish a white-way for Plainview to cover the entire business section of the city. One hundred and forty one-light standards will be placed on the three principal business streets of the city and extended on lateral streets east and west from the business section for several blocks according to Mayor W. E. Risser, Judge I. R. Kelso, president of the Texas Utilities company, E. S. Billings its chief engineer, and General Manager Joe R. Scott, of Plainview, were present at the council meeting when the contract was signed.

A new pumping contract for furnishing city water was signed with the Utilities company at the same meeting reducing the charge for pumping to five cents per thousand gallons for the first fifteen million gallons per month and four cents per thousand over that on a contract covering twenty years with the provision that the site of the pumps and wells might be changed at the option of the city should the present wells prove inadequate.

To Insure Safety for Candy Gifts

Special to The Avalanche
DENTON, Texas, March 10.—The danger of candy being opened by anyone other than rightful owners will shortly be eliminated at the College of Industrial Arts when the new post-office building is completed. It will be located just north of the parking space between Stoddard Hall and the administration building. Each two students will be given a locked box where love letters, boxes from home and all bilious may be received without the world in general being any the wiser.

Beats Way

Carl W. Wilson, of the Kalamazoo, Mich., police force is beating his way through school. Patrolman Wilson walks his beat in the afternoon and evening, and attends classes at Western State Normal school in the morning.

C. I. A. NOW PLANNING A ZOOLOGICAL MUSEUM

Special to The Avalanche
DENTON, Texas, Mar. 10.—A zoological museum and an arboretum are being suggested as an adjunct of the College of Industrial Arts by the biology department. Specimens now possessed by the biology department include the tooth of a mastodon, a tooth of a sea cow, and one from prehistoric horse. The collection also includes fine museum specimens of sponge and coral.

London has a new craze for tennis.

Big Lake Bonds Are Approved by State

Special to The Avalanche
BIG LAKE, Texas, March 10.—Having been officially advised from Austin that the Attorney-General's department had approved the recently-voted issue of $20,000 street improvement bonds, for Big Lake, Mayor J. Milton Moore leaves this morning for Dallas to consult with the firm of Brown & Crummer, in reference to the sale of the bonds at par.

This is the first potential accomplishment of the Big Lake Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants Association on the 1927 working schedule, and assures that the town will have at least three blocks of street pavement before the year ends. Under the plan prepared by Mayor Moore the city will pave the streets and the property owners will take care of the sidewalks on each side.

MEXICANS ARE ARRESTED FOR UNLAWFUL WORSHIP

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 10 (AP)—Charged with unlawfully meeting in private residences and with uttering sedition expressions in connection therewith, thirty women and six men were assessed fines ranging from twenty to five hundred pesos in police court yesterday.

Arrests of priests who may have conducted masses at this meeting were not reported.

The Merchandise, The Time of the Year, and the Values Combine to make this an Unusual Occasion

SALE BEGINS
FRIDAY, MARCH 11th

Barrier Bros.

DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE

SALE CLOSSES
SATURDAY NIGHT, MARCH 19

:: 10th Anniversary Celebration ::

MAKING FRIENDS

is a fundamental thing with us in this store. Every department of the store will aim toward record accomplishments. It is with enthusiasm of a vigorous nature we start to celebrate our Tenth Birthday in business in Lubbock, and we will roll up a new record for this store, already famous the city over and for over one hundred miles about for merchandise values.

BROWN DOMESTIC

Extra good heavy quality, when you consider the price. Extra fine finish, 36 inches wide. This is the best value we have ever had the pleasure to offer, per yard 9c

PEPPERELL PILLOW CASES

Pillow Cases that are known every where for fine quality in two sizes, 42x36 and 36x36, which is a new size for us and you may have either size at the same price each 25c

BROWN SHEETING

9-4 unbleached good quality, Trinity Sheeting, very serviceable and exceptionally low priced for this occasion 28c

BLEACHED SHEETING

9-4 bleached Pullaway sheeting, a brand that we have sold for many years. It is free from starch and we have always found it to give real good service, and to laundry well. Special purchase for this event makes possible this low price. Per yard 32c

PERCALE

We are now showing the biggest variety of new spring patterns in 36 inch fast color percale that we have had for many seasons. Dainty small designs and solid colors are included at this low price per yard 15c

RED SEAL GINGHAMS

This has been our regular 25c seller for many years but owing to a special purchase for this sale we bought a quantity at a low figure. It is 27 inches wide in pretty fancy patterns and some solid colors 10c

FEATHER TICKING

Amongek ACA Ticking in a weight that is guaranteed full 8 oz. in staple white and blue narrow stripes. This sells regular for 35c but during this sale you can buy it 20c

IT IS SALES LIKE THIS THAT KEEP OUR STORE IN THE PUBLIC'S EYE WE CONTINUE TO GROW

Even the last year conditions on the Plains were perhaps as bad as any year since we started in business in Lubbock, 10 years ago, 1926 was the most profitable one in our history. We had a bigger gain than in any previous year. There is a reason for our continuous fast growth. It is not because we get the most profit on the goods we sell, but because of the quick turnover that we get. The people are satisfied with BARRIER BROS. straight forward method of doing business, and with BARRIER BROS. unusually low prices and extremely wonderful quality and the wide variety to always be found here.

This is an event to celebrate the culmination of ten years of continued progress in Lubbock. Our growth stands as a testimonial to the integrity of this institution. It is due to one thing alone—SATISFACTION. This is not an end of the season sale but is an event to show to the public our appreciation of their making possible our success. We make these low prices just at the beginning of the season on new Spring merchandise and just before Easter.

SPECIAL FOR FRIDAY - OPENING DAY

GINGHAM SPECIAL

You will hardly think it possible to sell such high grade gingham at so low a price, but we are going to give you values that you will remember for years. This is the well known gingham—Red Seal and Kalburnie, 32 inches wide and fast colors and has been our 35c seller for years. The patterns are all new—several hundred bolts just unpacked are here for your selection. We limit each customer to 20 yards so that all can share in this 15c Yd. Main Floor

FOR SATURDAY MARCH 12th PETER PAN AND WENDOVER PRINTS 32c YD.

For one day only we will sell these well known dress prints at this ridiculously low price. We have prepared for this occasion with the biggest quantity of pretty patterns that it has ever been our pleasure to show. Prints are more popular than ever before and is the most practical material for ladies and childrens dresses known. This comes at a time when you will want to stock up for the spring and summer needs.

WARNING—DON'T BE MISLEAD

Knowing that this Sale will overshadow anything ever attempted in Lubbock, other bids will go out for your business, but there will be only one bonafide Sale. Be sure to find the Barrier Bros.'s sign on Broadway.
