Churchgoers In Vermont Tote Guns To Protect Women From 'Redskins'

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt., Dec. 6 (AP)—The "sins" of their forefathers today weighed heavily upon the shoulders of Windham county residents.

A blue Monday found at least 100 persons caught in the toils of a law laid down by Vermont early settlers to ward off the "skulking redskin" and the "devil."

Investigators yesterday scribbled down their names as they went about the grim task of enforcing a blue law banning on the Sabbath Day "any secular business or employment except works of charity."

More might have joined those against whom State's Attorney Ernest F. Berry said he would seek warrants today in the "Blue Law Crime Wave." But weary police suffered an attack of writer's cramp as the day wore on.

Golfers Arrested

Here's how enforcement of the ancient statute worked:

There may be no argument about it among the duffers, but golf in this hilly state is a form of work. A foursome found that out when it ventured forth on a bleak course and was neatly stymied by officers who read them the blue law.

Enforcement of the law revived memories of prohibition days.

"P-sst," hissed ice cream addicts to the drug store girls, "can I buy a cone here?"

"Is it a necessity," whispered the girls, "can you get along without it?"

"Won't last a day unless I get it" came the answer.

Said a physician to a soda clerk: "So I can't get a milk shake, hey?"—and then promptly wrote himself a prescription for one and sipped with a smile of satisfaction. Milk shakes became medicine.

Theatres Close

Here and there in the county, churchgoers toted guns, heeding Berry's warning that under the old law "menfolk" were required to carry guns to protect the women from the Indians.

Theatre Manager Raymond A. Kiniry shut down his two theatres last night for the first Sunday since his fight against the blue law began a month ago.

With two charges of violating the blue laws hanging over the head of himself and four of his employes, Kiniry turned away hundreds

WEALTHY NEW YORKER HELD FOR RANSOM

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Dec. 6 (AP)—Reports that Arthur Fried, 32, member of wealthy sand and gravel family had been kidnapped and was being held for $100,000 ransom, brought federal agents to White Plains today. Fried vanished Saturday.

The reports said that Fried's five brothers had made contact with a gang, believed holding the young man, and were trying to argue them into reducing the amount of ransom.

Telephone calls to the home of Fried's mother, Mrs. Emma Fried, who lives in a palatial house in Soundview Ave., were being intercepted at the central telephone exchange and the caller's numbers relayed to police headquarters.

Fried attended a motion picture show Saturday night with his wife, a brother-in-law, and the latter's wife. On the way home they dropped him at his mother's house to get his automobile, which he had parked there. The others went on to Fried's own apartment.

His relatives waited for him and when he did not return they became anxious. At 1:30 a. m. Sunday an alarm that he was missing was flashed over the police wires and two hours later his car was found at Rosedale Gardens, in Mamaroneck avenue, at the edge of the city.

Harold Daniels, Fried's brother-in-law and a New York building financier, denied today a ransom note had been received so far as he knew, but the report was confirmed in county police headquarters.

Fried lives at Briarview manor in Mamaroneck road with his wife and 8-year-old son, Arlen. He is a son of the late Joseph Fried, head of the Empire Sand and Gravel company and of Joseph Fried and Son, Bronx Cinder company. Fried is manager of the Bronx office of the Colonial Sand and Stone company.

CHINA LEADS LIST AS WAR MATERIALS BUYER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—The state department anounced today that export licenses for shipment to China of $1,702,370 in war materials were granted during November.

Virtually all this amount was devoted to military airplanes.

The licenses granted China represented the largest item of the total of $5,746,939 alloted to all countries during the month.

Soviet Russia received the next highest allotment of $805,613, chiefly for rifles, carbines, machine guns, automatic rifles and pistols.

Licenses totaling $638,579 were issued during the month to Canada, mainly airplane propellors and equipment.

'Husband' Takes Wife's Clothing, Lands in Jail

PORT ARTHUR, Dec. 6 (AP)—Motorcycle Officer A. C. Welch is thinking of opening a court of domeestic relations. He recently smoothed over his first case—almost.

Spying a small, red-headed man carrying nine dresses and a fur coat, Officer Welch asked "how come?"

"I've just had a spat with my wife," the man explained. "She took my clothes, so I'm taking hers." He pointed to an apartment house across the street.

Officer Welch dismounted and suggested they go back and settle the spat.

The man was willing. As they met the lady of the house, Officer Welch began tactfully.

"Now, your husband here—"

"Husband?" asked the surprised woman, "why I never saw him before."

The clothes were hers—but not the man.

Officer Welch and the stranger walked to the city jail. The stranger stayed.

2 LOST DUCK HUNTERS SOUGHT AT BEAUMONT

BEAUMONT, Dec. 6 (AP)—The marshlands of the coastal country were scanned from the air and ground today for two lost duck hunters.

Since Saturday searchers have sought M. M. Cook, Dallas civil engineer. Today another group set out in search o Frank Thomason, 27-year-old sporting goods firm employe missing since yesterday. He was apparently lost in the marshes near Oyster Bayou, near East Galveston Bay.

Pilots of three army planes vainly covered marshy sections of Jefferson county looking for Cook this morning.

The planes, from Barksdale Field, La., returned to their base here. Lieut. E. H. Hawes, commander, said the plane hunt would be resumed late today in another area. The ships covered 15 square miles in their first flight.

Lindbergh's Visit in America to be Brief

By ROBERT D. PRICE

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Dec. 6 (AP)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh are at home from a two-year exile abroad but the guarded acres of the Morrow estate close by the rim of the Hudson river's palisades hold the secret of why they have come and how long they will stay.

The hero of American aviation and his wife, Anne, who has shared many notable flights with him, slipped unheralded into New York yesterday morning aboard the United States liner President Harding.

They had sailed from Southampton November 27 under the incognito of "Mr. and Mrs. Gregory," for their first trip to their native land since they went to England in desperate search of the seclusion they felt they could not find here—just 16 days short of two years ago.

A waiting car whisked them from the Manhattan dock to the 52-acre estate of Mrs. Dwight Morrow, Mrs. Lindbergh's 64-year old mother, and the only word of authoritative status concerning their plans came from a ship's officer who said: "Their visit will be brief. They plan to return abroad immediately after Christmas."

Theories of Visit

Other than that, there was a bubbling spring of conjecture in a desert of fact: Opinions that the Lindbergh's trip might be a prelude to ending the exile self-imposed in an effort to rebuild the lives shattered by the kidnaping and death of their first born son, Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.; theories that he might have come on a mission connected with the expansion of American aviation; even suggestion that he might be on an errand of science connected with development of the artificial heart of which he is co-inventor.

Whatever the purpose that impelled them to return, their secret was well kept. Telephone inquiries at Next Day Hill, the Morrow estate, brought not even an acknowledgement that the Colonel and his wife were there.

Bushels of Telegrams

FARMER WILL BE CANDIDATE

AUSTIN, Dec. 6 (AP)—The 1938 Governor's race was on in Texas today, with the hat of Rep. Clarence E. Farmer of Fort Worth already in the ring and developments expected virtually every week from now on until late next July.

Farmer, champion of liberal old age pensions, made his announcement at a pension meeting Saturday in Wichita Falls.

The chief unanswered questions were whether James V. Allred, the incumbent, or former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson would seek a third term. Nearly everyone took it for granted that Attorney General William McCraw and Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson would get in.

One opinion here was that Mrs Ferguson would not run unless Allred did but there was a good chance

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 6 (AP)—"Rock of Ages, Cleft for Me," sang the police quartet, practicing for a church appearance.

"Be of Sin the Double Cure.

"Cleanse Me from its Guilt and Power"—

The youth was in tears.

"I'll tell you all about it," he sobbed.

Kemp said the boy admitted four grocery burglaries and an auto theft.

MERCURY HITS 19 IN PAMPA

Pampa and its environs climbed out of the sub-freezing bracket shortly after noon today, while winter's latest thrust at Texas left its marks in below freezing temperatures extending to the coast, and in scattered touches of frost.

The coldest weather in many months tingled Gulf Coast citizens. Port Arthur's 22 degrees was the coldest in 22 months. Beaumont, also in the usually-warm seacoast area, reported 25 degrees. Over most of the state the weather was pleasantly clear, however, and temperatures were moderating.

Japs Outside Walls Of Chinese Capital

SHANGHAI, Dec. 6 (AP)—Japanese said today the vanguard of their forces was within sight of the ancient walls of Nanking and had occupied the country home of Generalissmo Chiang Kai-Shek in the hills outside the capital.

They also announced capture of the village of Kaochiaomen, two and a half miles southeast of Nanking, toward which they were driving on a wide front.

Japanese correspondents with the forces reported Japanese troops had entered the spacious park surrounding the Mausoleum of Sun Yatsen, father of the Chinese republic.

Dr. Sun, who died in 1925 after launching the Nationalist revolution, was buried in a magnificent tomb on the slopes of the purple mountains just outside Nanking.

A Japanese army spokesman announced the advance tonight. He declared there probably would be fighting within the city tomorrow.

The force, he said, carried Japan's rising sun banner to within three miles of Nanking. He said the unit was advancing from Tanyang, on the Grand canal about 45 miles east of Nanking.

He announced also that Japanese had advanced toward Wuhu, Yangtze river port about 60 miles southscuthwest of Nanking, and toward Chinkiang, where the Grand canal and Yangtze merge about 40 miles east of Nanking.

Planes Make Attack

Japanese planes, meanwhile, were reported making heavy attacks on an allegedly bewildered Chinese retreat both from Nanking and Wuhu.

Chinese sources reported the 32,720-ton Japanese battleship Nagato sunk by aerial bombs. Japanese discounted the report.

Japanese embassy spokesman acknowledged that British consular authorities had made a telephonic report of the bombing of a British warship and two British merchantmen yesterday at Wuhu.

He said, however, no question of

YOUTH FOUND HANGING FROM CEDAR TREE LIMB

GUTHRIE, Dec. 6 (AP)—Death from causes unknown was the coroner's verdict returned by County Judge Ross K. Wideman Sunday in the death of George Moore, 19, Plainview youth, whose body was found hanging from the limb of a cedar tree in a pasture of the 6666 ranch near here Saturday.

Sheriff George P. Humphrey of Guthrie said the official investigation into the case was complete and that authorities were convinced no foul play was involved.

The noose about Moore's neck was fashioned by knotting the legs of a pair of khaki trousers. Heavy wire secured the garment to the limb, the sheriff said.

Moore was last seen Thanksgiving day and search for him had been in progress since the automobile he was driving was found abandoned Nov. 26 not far from the tree where he was found hanged. He presumably was returning from a visit in the vicinity of Wichita Falls, authorities were informed.

The body was taken to Plainview for funeral services and burial.

Assisting in the investigation were officers from Lubbock, Plainview and Benjamin.

BRITISH BUY FAMED LINER

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—The mighty steamship Leviathan was headed for the junkyards today to provide scrap iron for British armament after the United States lines refused to sell her to Japanese interests.

Basil Harris, a vice president who announced sale of "Old Levi" to Metal Industries, Ltd., of London, for "more than $800,000," said offers of Japanese interests which have outbid British and Italian firms in the world's metal markets, were rejected.

"We did not consider it advisable at this time to consider an offer from Japan," he said.

The Leviathan, which carried 200,000 doughboys to France, will have one last fling of the glory she knew briefly before the World war.

The 23-year-old liner, once speed queen of the Atlantic, will sail to England under her own power. A week will be required, Harris estimated, to commission her.

MAYOR ESTIMATES HOW LONG CANDLE'LL BURN

Determining how long a five-foot candle will burn is providing plenty of Christmas holiday sport for Pampans. The candle is five inches in diameter.

The candle is on display in the lobby window of the Adams hotel, and it will be lighted on New Year's eve.

From now until then everybody has an opportunity to estimate the number of days, hours and minutes the candle will burn.

To make an estimate you must deposit at the hotel some article of wearing apparel or a nickel. Entire proceeds will go to charity.

Mayor W. A. Bratton, Fire Chief Ben White, Police Chief Art Hurst, and Postmaster C. H. Walker were among the first to hazard an estimate today.

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART.

It might be fun to:

GO to a Christmas tea with black lacquer on your nails. See that it covers tips and moons.

GO to a hairdresser who has some of the new stardust powder, have him arrange a new hairdess, then sprinkle it with the little gold stars. You'll need a shampoo the very next morning, but what of it?

TRY two shades of powder, one atop the other. Smooth foundation lotion and cream rouge on carefully, apply your regular powder which matches skin tones, let it set, brush off the excess, then (with a down puff) apply a fine coat of pale lavender of pale green powder. Only for evening, of course.

APPEAR at the biggest holiday party with coiffure which is entirely different from any you've ever worn. If you have worn a long bob for months and months, brush your hair upward all the way around and use a slender circlet of rhinestones to hold ringlet ends in place on top of your head.

DO every exercise you ever read about several times until you find three routines which do not bore you.

STOP eating man-sized luncheons and go in for salad and stewed fruit repasts. We think this would be fun because you'd begin to feel younger and lighter on your feet within a week.

PUT on evening makeup and wear a tiny black cire satin bow in your hair for dinner some night when you are NOT having guests or going out.

WEAR with an all-black dress garnet bracelets and earrings which match perfectly your lipstick. Or, if you are wearing shell pink lipstick with a dark green dress, hunt around and find some beads and a bracelet or two in matching shell pink.

KEEP hand lotion in your office desk, in the bathroom and in the kitchen as well as on your dressing table.

WRITE Santa Claus a letter asking for all kinds of bath accessories, including soap, powder, cologne, and body lotion, in the scent of your favorite perfume.

PUT a postscript on that letter asking for an atomizer (for travel) that is one hundred per cent leakproof. Also for a very tall crystal atomizer to hold toilet water.

NURSE'S MAGAZINE RUBS SOME OF GLAMOUR OFF FILM HOSPITALS

Pampa nurses joined with Roxann, writer in the November issue of R. N., a journal for nurses, in kidding some of the glamour off films that have a hospital background, including "Wife, Doctor and Nurse," which opened yesterday for a three-day run at a local theater.

Roxann asks: when do Hollywood nurses sleep? In "Between Two Women," Maureen O'Sullivan was on deck at all hours of the day and night in the operating room, and in addition did private duty for one of Dr. Franchot Tone's patients.

Other things that amaze nurses is the way the Hollywood type, as shown in the films, can afford little Patou and Chanel models on $75 and $100 a month; and why the film nurses haul out a watch as big as an alarm clock with which to take a patient's pulse.

Radio emergency calls that blast through the hospitals at all hours, as shown in the films, also gets a good share of the kidding.

Roxann calls attention to the film reporter who hung around the hospital in "Between Two Women." "No hospital, regardless of its size, rates a resident reporter, particularly since all hospital news is given out by a designated authority."

Well, the resident reporter idea might not be such a bad one, Roxann, even if "Somebody Ought To Tell Hollywood" that it's not done that way.

MYSTERIOUS EPIDEMIC TAKES ELEVEN BABIES

CHICAGO, Dec. 6 (AP)—The death toll in the mysterious baby epidemic at St. Elizabeth's Hospital stood at 11 today.

The latest victim was 12-day-old Daniel Ennesser, who died last night while medical science marshaled its forces to save seven other infants afflicted with an intestinal malady.

Nineteen babies have been stricken with the disease, diagnosed as enteritis, or acute epidemic diarrhea, since Nov. 23 when the first death occurred. One infant, Snadtra Traska, six weeks old, was taken home, apparently cured, but will be kept under care of health department doctors.

Hospital physicians, eight baby specialists and health officers were concentrating their efforts in saving the lives of two infants reported in critical condition.

Death of the Ennesser baby came at a time scientists worked desperately to find the exact cause of the malady which has puzzled medical men for years.

Exhaustive laboratory tests were made to discover the source of the scourge.

Today, physicians from the health department started daily visits to the homes of each of the 155 babies born at the hospital during October and November and will report any symptoms of the disease.

17 KILLED IN TEXAS WRECKS IN WEEK-END

(By The Associated Press)

A week-end dance with death on the highways left seventeen Texans clutched firmly in his embrace today.

Among them were four companions in an automobile—in collision with a truck near Sweetwater. Bill Ward, 30, Kenneth Charles, about 17; Nolan Jean, 28, and Roy Smith, 22, all of Inadale, died when their light roadster was in collision with the truck as it attempted to pass another automobile.

Another auto-truck collision claimed Roy Brawner, 43, and Bribben Rollings, about 38, both of Houston, as they drove toward Dallas near Ennis; an overturned car on the highway near Newcastle killed Martha Williams of Newcastle instantly, and critically injured her companion, Dick Chestnutt, of Olney.

At Galveston, Mrs. Amanda Pike, 52-year-old Texas City pioneer, and aunt of the late speed flier, Jimmy Wedell, died from injuries received when she was struck by a car in Saturday night's rain.

Paul Hutka, 38, was fatally injured in what police called an unavoidable accident at Temple, when hit by a car. W. L. Summers, 65, Hale county farmer, was killed when two cars collided at a cross roads east of Hale Center near Plainview.

Willard Lunsford, 18, died at Mt. Pleasant when struck by an automobile, and injuries received twenty miles south of Texarkana were fatal to Deputy Sheriff H. L. Alexander of Atlana, Texas, involved in a truck-car collision.

Automobile accidents in the Brady area killed two: Bryan Rolston, 25, of Erna, Mason county, and Lenora Dalphine McWilliams, 16, of Mason.

TEXAS SENDS GREATEST NUMBER TO CCC CAMPS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—That complete catalague for employers—the annual report of the Civilian Conservation Corps—came out today with the dimensions of 350,000 men.

Anybody wanting to hire a man can find just about every kind from authors to big-chested boys ready to pound a police beat.

For instance:

The corps has three men over seven feet tall, and 19 who are four feet high.

There are 37 of the enrollees who can expand their chest 8 inches.

Director Robert Fechner's got 70 lads who weigh 270 pounds or over.

That's six teams and four subs!

Sixteen authors, the report states, are ready for the waiting world, as are 10,342 cooks and 130 reporters.

The CCC also has 80 men ready to slide down the brass poles of fire departments, and if any city wants some more policemen the corps has 60 itching to get their hands on a night stick.

There are 140 musicians—what a band!

The report also shows that the CCC has 426 men 65 years old or older, that Texas has the biggest contingent of native sons, 21,992.

OKLAHOMA CITY—Pluto, the German shepherd dog, raced with distended nostrils hugging the ground. He whined impatiently—the scent of rabbit was hot. Then, bam!

It took firemen two hours to remove the small length of six-inch pipe into which Pluto had jammed his head.

Relieve Their Misery This Proved Way

WHEN your child comes down with a cold, you can't afford to take needless risks. Use the treatment that has been doubly proved for you—Vicks VapoRub.

It has been proved by everyday use in more homes than any other medication of its kind—further proved by the largest clinical tests ever made on colds. (Full details in every VapoRub package.) Only Vicks give you proof like this.

Vicks VapoRub is direct external treatment. There's no dosing—no risk of spoiling appetite, or disturbing a delicate digestion. VapoRub can be used freely, as often as needed, even on the youngest child.

You simply massage VapoRub on throat, chest, and back (as illustrated). Then—to make its long-continued double action last even longer—spread a thick layer on the chest and cover with a warmed cloth.

No Long Waiting for Relief to begin . . .

Almost before you finish rubbing, the youngster begins to feel warm and comfortable as VapoRub goes to work direct through the skin like a poultice. At the same time its medicated vapors, released by the warmth of the body, are carried direct to the irritated air-passages with every breath.

This double action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation and coughing—helps break up local congestion. And long after the little one relaxes into restful sleep, VapoRub keeps right on working—hour after hour. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

School Minus "It"

Teachers rave about "it", students simply love "it", the more the teachers rave the more the students stick "it." Here and there they mar the underside of a poor little desk. (Much has been said concerning "it", but everyone seems to keep on having to do away with "it.") Then the teachers must sign a 200 word theme on the art of doing "it." When the student has handed "it" in, teacher not only receives 200 words of art but also a delicious stick of chewing gum. However, gum chewing does not mix with everyday education.

Time Marches on

"Better late than never" is an old saying. Some students have been living by that code prior to the change in time when morning classes begin. Those same students who lived so faithfully by the old one had better accept a new one--"Better early than late."

Students late to school are going to have a most difficult time connecting excuses which are "fool-proof" for Mr. Osborne's unsympathetic ear. The major difficulty is that no excuse exists. Forty-five extra minutes should make it possible for every student to be punctual every morning.

This should be the time of a crusade to banish tardiness forever and bring punctuality to its rightful place. Students must bear in mind that "time marches on" and the parade waits for no one.

Student Opinion

The students of high school have been needlessly destroying school property. The students don't realize that they are destroying the property of their own, because after all their parents are tax-payers.

A large scratch has been dug out of the wall in the back hall, ink spots can be seen around the walls of the different class rooms. The books belong to the state, yet students write in them and are continually destroying them, and the desks are deeply carved with initials and drawings.

Students, let's have a little more consideration for our buildings.

Our homes leave impressions on visitors. Our school makes the same impression. It seems that at the present the impression wouldn't be so good. Let's make a better reputation for our school and students.

T. L. C.

Despite the fact that all members of the masculine sex are privileged characters, we girls are getting sick and tired of the treatment we are getting. When any social affair comes up, school or otherwise, there are always a bunch of wet blankets who ask us for dates before the ink on the invitations are dry. In order to preserve their masculine vanity, we tell them we already have dates instead of point-blankedly saying "No."

Then our current heart throbs hold us in suspense until ten minutes before time to go and call up and say, "Be by in ten minutes, Toots--so long." A dash of powder, a couple of curls combed out; three or four unsnapped snaps or unzipped zippers and we're off!

They seem to take it for granted that we can read their minds. Please gallant sirs, give us a litle warning.

A Disgusted Senior

What a boy has to be in P. H. S. to go with the girls! He must be the Robert Taylor or Clark Gable type. He must have money to take the girl wherever she pleases and buy her what she wants.

If a boy goes with a girl two or three times, she thinks she has him all for her own; and if he goes with some other girl there is fire in camp and she won't speak to him for a week.

The boy must go well-dressed, be neat in his dress, bow to the girl every time he meets her, carry her books to class and go to her locker with her after classes. In other words he must be a public hero!

A Senior

Ex-Student Visitor

Bob Kilgore, ex-student of senior high, visited home during the Thanksgiving holidays. He took part in the assembly and also in the parade at the half of the Borger-Pampa game. He is attending Hardin-Simmons college.

Harry Kelly was absent two days last week because of illness.

FISHER ATTENDS HOUSTON MEET DURING HOLIDAY

"Looking Forward" Theme in Main Speech

"The Texas State Teachers association gives opportunity to have fellowship with our leaders in the state and gives us opportunity to keep up on modern ideas and the general trends in education. Teachers get better acquainted with the state and how it functions and I'm very sure every teacher comes back with new energy and inspired thought for the purpose of doing a better piece of work," are the words of Supt. R. B. Fisher when asked his opinion on the convention that was recently held in Houston.

The general convention was held in the new Coliseum which is not quite completed. While there, Mr. Fisher attended the general meetings, sectional meetings and school superintendents, the university-college dinner, the scholastic breakfast and the superintendent's dinner which was on the San Jacinto battle field.

About 15,000 teachers, principals and superintendents attended. Mr. Fisher saw the monument on the San Jacinto battle field which is very near completion. It is 574 feet high.

The theme of the assembly was "Looking forward, the practical next step." Some thoughts of Dr. McKoun's speech, which Mr. Fisher praised, were: that the assembly was for the purpose of becoming more educational; that self government was very helpful in later life for students; that home rooms should be social settings; that teachers should be student's friends and that demonstration and visiting days should be held.

Some very interesting information to students as well as the public in general is that our school is in the upper five percent if schools in Texas ranking seventeenth in valuation and nineteenth in enrollment.

These conventions are held annually during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Senior Preview Of Attractions

The senior activities started out with a bang Friday night, December 3, with an apron-overall party in the Red Brick building. There seemed to be a general hill-billy air present. Ice cream was served and a clever floor show was given. The cloud walkers attended the La-Nora theatre at 9:15.

At present, the biggest function of the senior class is to put the annual over. This is their big year and naturally they are anxious to see the year-book a big success. And besides, don't their beaming faces occupy individual frames this year?

On April 1 comes the biggest, most humorous sight of the year. The sophisticated ones will stage their annual "Kid Day." All seniors are supposed to come to school that day dressed as "kids." (That shouldn't be hard!) For a preview of this outstanding event, try to remember how Rex Rose and Mickey Ledrick looked when they suddenly made their appearance on the campus last April.

The following week, the senior play will be given. Seniors who are "fizzed" out on the all-school play will get their chance to try once more to demonstrate their "Taylor" and "Garbo" abilities. Seniors are given the opportunity to earn the money for their Carlsbad trip by selling tickets to this play.

The Junior-Senior banquet comes on the first of May. It is a popular occasion for both classes.

Probably the most outstanding activity of the senior class--the Carlsbad trip--comes the first week in May. Students look forward to this event from the moment they enter high school as freshmen. That is one time when the seniors really "get together." Their ability to "get together" was illustrated in their effort to compromise on what kind of party was to be given Friday.

The "beginning or the end" comes on May 27. Seniors either say Hello or goodbye to P. H. S. They had better start bribing the teachers early and avoid the rush on the teachers of 170 Seniors at the end of the year.

Miss Mary Idelle Cox plans to be absent from school for two weeks; and Mrs. J. B. Austin will substitute for her.

SHRINE GIVEN TO PAMPA HIGH IN ASSEMBLY HOUR

McColm Awards Gift To Reynolds, President

Shrine of the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence was presented to the student body in assembly Wednesday, November 24, by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The shrine was presented by L. L. McColm and accepted by Toppy Reynolds, student president, on behalf of the student body.

Following the presentation of the colors and the pledge of allegiance, the Harvester band played the "Star Spangled Banner." Jimmy Mosley, program chairman, then took charge, first introducing the guests present. They were H. A. Neath, D. E. Cecil, Paul Hill, O. K. Gaylor and L. L. McColm. After the presentation and acceptance of the shrine, Arvo Goddard gave George Washington's farewell address.

Katherine Barrett, secretary of the student council, spoke on the significance of the constitution. Noble Lane, vice-president of the student council, led the entire audience in the president's pledge to support the constitution. The band played the "Green and Gold" march by F. W. Savage and the program was turned over to Ernest Cabe.

Mr. Cabe introduced Reverend Bayless of the First Baptist church who made a short and, according to the student body, very effective speech.

The shrine was on display in the main hall for the day and was examined and admired by the students and faculty. Pampa High school wishes to express its appreciation to the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Set for Play To Be Realistic

Here is some news what "am" news! Arrangements are being made whereby the heavy kitchen stove and some other "props" used in the play, "Come Out of the kitchen," will be on wheels (rollers) so that they can be rolled onto the stage. Time is an important element in the changing of scenery because all three scenes of the play require different settings.

The actresses will be given an opportunity to prove the worth of their culinary accomplishments for they are to cook on the stage. Provisions are being made to have running water and gas on the stage assuring the audience of true realism.

Only two of the cast have had previous experience in school plays. Betty Rains, the lead, is a senior. She played last year in the senior play and in the all-school one act play which won the state award for 1936. Colleen McMahon, also a senior has an important part. She had the honor of winning the Samuel French award for the state of Texas for her talent shown in the one act play.

The other players have had no previous experience of this kind. The following list gives the players' names and year classifications: Howard Jenson, Kelton Miller, Jack Cunningham, Edith Beckham, seniors; Annabelle Holloway, Jimmie Mosley, Mary Jean Hill, juniors; Bill Kelly and Aubrey Green, sophomores. Rita Holmes is the prompter.

Sagebrush- By The Sage

Hello again from the Sage, this week's column will be designed as last week's, for the fun of the student body.

The Sage learned that Mr. Cabe had his hair fixed in a beauty parlor. Mr. Cabe, is it a new girl?

The Sage learned from a party who learned from another party who saw Gene Finkbeiner and Helen Poolos chasing turkeys in their pajamas. Tut, Tut children.

Alberteen says that her mother's biscuits are not so good.

Someone told Jack Hessey that a township over 6 miles square is not a cityship.

Grover Foster has a very special reason for wanting to go to Denton. She is a freshman and her name is Helen.

Last issue of the Little Harvester carried an all-girls football team. In order, the Sage picks an all-boys tapping class, coached by J. L. Lester:

A. J. Organ, Carl Brown, Jack Hessey and W. L. Davis.

Meek, Latimer Talk at P. T. A.

High school had its third P. T. A. meeting of the year in the school auditorium Thursday, December 2. The program theme for the evening was 'Your Child in his spiritual Growth."

Katherine Barrett, senior, gave the devotional and music was furnished by the high school A Capella Choir, who sang a Christmas carol.

Speakers for the evening were Miss Gracie Fern Latimer, librarian, whose subject was "Your Child's Reading Diet," and J. A. Meek, Baker school principal, whose talk was "Your Child and His Religion."

Latimer Presides At Houston Meet

The library section of the Texas State Teachers association met at the Houston Public library Friday, November 26, with Miss Gracie Fern Latimer, vice-chairman, presiding in place of the chairman, Miss Edith Carroll Schneider, of San Antonio, who is now attending the University of Chicago. Among the speakers was Miss Margaret Sheers, formerly librarian of Panhandle High school, now of Austin High school, El Paso.

A speaker at both the sectional meeting and the luncheon which followed at the Rice hotel was Dr. Louis Shores, director of the library school, George Peabody college, Nashville. With his progressive views on the importance of library instruction, Dr. Shores thinks the twelve lessons in the use of the library, as prescribed by the Southern association, merely as a beginning. Students should get the substance of the lessons not in twelve days but gradually and effectively through all their classes while using the library materials with increasing efficiency and enjoyment. It follows that the library should be large enough that the teacher may bring an entire class at the same time that other students are coming to the library in place of the study hall.

A tour of five Houston school libraries followed the luncheon. Especially interesting was the new Lamar Senior High school, which is modern throughout.

FATHER DIES

Mrs. C. H. Schulkey, president of the high school P. T. A., and daughter, Alberteen, left for Decatur last week due to the death of Dr. Schulkey's father. He was the father also of Miss Alma Ruth Schulkey, former teacher in Senior High. Pampa High school wishes to express their sincere sympathy.

Chalk talks given by members of Harry Kelly's art class, who entertained the P. T. A. at their National Education program, were given at the Lions' club weekly luncheon December 2.

14 Harvesters Play Last Game for Pampa

Taking second place in the conference, the Harvester football squad has had one of the most successful seasons since it has been in Class A competition.

The first three games (against Childress, Oklahoma City and Panhandle respectively) merely served as a whet stone for the Harvester ax. Then fun began as the Greenville team served as tackling dummies for the local team in a 25-0 scrimmage.

Following that game, Port Arthur, at Port Arthur, managed to keep the Pampa score at 0 while their team ran the score up to 14. Lubbock, at Lubbock, retired from the game with a scoring of eight, while the Harvesters had high cards with the sum of three touchdowns and extra points. Little Bo Peep and most of the Pampa fans found a black sheep, November 5, as Clovis did a 33-0 act on the football stage.

Too many people already know that the Sandies licked the Harvesters again.

At the Plainview game, at Plainview, the local eleven managed to keep the final scoring in their favor at 6-0.

The Borger game score was; Pampa 34, Borger 0.

Harvester injuries were light this year, although two or three players were kept out of the minor games.

Fourteen players completed their last season on the squad.

The foollowing roster was found on the football programs:

Junior Williams

Junior Williams, retiring Junior Rotarian, states that he thinks the Rotary club is "swell." The Rotarians reply by saying, "The next Junior Rotarian will have something to live up to."

There are about 50 members in the Rotary club and Williams can call them all by name. The coming Junior Rotarians are going to have to polish up their memories.

Williams says: "I appreciate very much what Rotary has done for me. I hope that the next Junior Rotarian enjoys himself as much as I did."

According to Odus Mitchell, Junior Williams made quite a hit with the Rotarians.

Pampa High regrets very much that Williams has lately been confined to bed with a hip and back injury.

Late Sleepers Come on Time

Students are again attending their first hour class at 8:45 every morning. This started last Monday. The end of football season has helped to make this possible.

Up until now the last hour was used for activity period, but since football season is over and there is no need for a pep squad or football team, the last period is being cut out. This has changed the schedule of a few students, but as a whole the students' schedules are running along as smoothly as ever.

Those students who ride the bus and have been coming to school at 8:30 are using their first hour for a study hall. All seniors go to room 205, juniors to room 208 and sophomores to room 309.

Schol dismisses at four.

High School Takes Part in Red Cross

The goal set for high school was one hundred percent.

Band Activities

The Harvester band participated Saturday morning, December 4, in the Chamber of Commerce sponsored Santa Day parade.

Some of the members are composing arrangements which are to be played in a Christmas concert which the band is planning to render in the near future. These arrangements are to be that kind of music which the members are most interested in.

Director Savage received a request for a photograph of the band from the Craddock Uniform company of Kansas City, Mo., which they wish to publish in their advertising manuel. This manuel is published once every three months and is sent to all parts of the United States and Canada. It contains pictures of the outstanding bands to whom Craddock has sold uniforms. Taking into consideration that they have sold uniforms to over 1,000 bands and only about 12 pictures appear in each issue, this is quite a boost for the Harvester band.

Acappella Choir Plans Sing-song

The A Capella Choir is working on a program to be presented Sunday afternoon, December 19. There will be no charge and the public is invited. There will be more announcements concerning this "program if the year" as the time draws nearer.

Sunday night, November 28, the Choir sang at the First Baptist Church. The numbers were: Day is Dying in the West, Prayer Perfect, Round-up in Glory and two negro spirituals. The Choir also sang at P. T. A. Thursday night.

SONE FORESEES GREAT SUCCESS FOR '38 ANNUAL

All-School Play Will Aid in Securing Annual

"The selling of the high school annual is going to be a big success this year," says Mr. Sone, principal. His aim is to have every single student owning an annual at the end of this year.

In answer to the scarce money problem, the opportunity to earn an annual by selling tickets to the all-school play, "Come Out of the Kitchen" is going to be given the students. By selling $2.00 worth of tickets, one gets one dollar deposited on his annual. By selling $4.00 worth of them he earns the full price of his annual. The remainder of the money from the sale will also go to the annual staff for the expenses of the annual.

"The annual staff is working very hard to make their annual the best ever made for the money and looks,' says Mrs. Hol Wagner, one of the annual sponsors. They are making many changes in the pictures and the arrangement of them so as to make them more life like and less posed.

A special chapel was called last Tuesday so that the annual staff members and Mr. Sone could tell the students about the new money proposition and discuss the importance of everyone buying an annual. Every individual was challenged by the annual staff to sell as many tickets as any one of them.

Journalists to Meet in Denton

"Denton, here we come!" is the motto of the Little Harvester and the '38 annual. The Little Harvester will send three representatives and the annual staff two to the Texas High School Press association convention to be held in that city December 10-11. Approximately 75 high school papers are to be represented there. The purpose of the trip is to improve the school paper and annual. Vera Dowell, Dorothy Jane Day and Grover Foster will represent the Little Harvester and Betty Shryock and Leona Hurst will represent the annual.

Eugene Mann, journalism faculty advisor, will accompany the group.

Harvester Cagers Down McLean 23-10

The ball was on the forty-yard line, fourth down and seventy-five yards to go. The ball is snapped and someone starts down the field at a pace. Whoa, let's start over, this isn't football season, but rather basketball, but it is the same principal, for the green and gold lads defeated the fighting McLean Tigers 23-10. Although the Harvesters had not been working out but a week, they showed power and lightning speed in downing the tigers, who had been trained for two weeks. Heiskell, veteran from last year, was high point man for the game with eight points. The game was very fast as far as both teams were concerned.

The starting lineups were: Pampa: Heiskell, Cunningham, Cox Reynolds and Foster. Substitutes for Pampa: Andis, Dunaway, Coshow and Miller. For McLean; Floyd, Patrick, Trimble, Overton, Lee, Humphreys, Homes, Bogan and Bones.

The second teams of the two schools battled to an 18-10 victory for the Harvester subs. Harrell was high point man. The starting lineup for the Harvesters was: Harrell, Coshow Miller, Dull, Brown. Tidwell substituted for Pampa. For McLean: Carpenter, Patrick, Wilkerson, Homes, Doolen, Bond, Sorona and Lee.

Students, Parents See Picture Show

The Parent-Teacher association, sponsored a picture show last Tuesday evening, November 30, at 7:30 p. m. The picture was "The Girl of the Limberlost," taken from Gene Stratton Porter's book of the same name. Admission prices were five cents for ward school children, 10 cents for high school students and 15 cents for adults. Students were given a second opportunity to see the picture on Wednesday afternoon at 4:00 p. m.

"The Keeper of the Bees" will be the next picture and will be shown December 15.

Fisher Will Speak Over KGNC Tuesday

Superintendent R. B. Fisher will be the principal speaker on the eighth district P. T. A. regular monthly broadcast. He will speak from the studios of K. G. N. C., Amarillo, next Tuesday afternoon at 3:45. His subject will be "Correlation of Activities in the Organizations to Which Parents and Teachers belong." The program chairman is Mrs. F. A. Render of Panhandle.

The local Lions club will present a negro minstrel in the high school auditorium December 21-22. The cast, directed by John Sturgeon, is composed of 30 Lions and 20 young ladies. There will be lots of singing and jokes. All proceeds will go for the benefit of the crippled children in Pampa.

Harvesters Elect J. W. Graham For 1938 Captain

The food, last Tuesday evening, at the banquet given by the Harvester mothers must have "agreed" with the players for they elected J. W. Graham for his second year as captain. Every vote was cast for J. W. except one and that was his own.

At the banquet, featuring Toppy Reynolds as toastmaster, little as possible was said because the boys were enjoying the food so well. However, Odus Mitchell, J. C. Prejean, L. L. Sone, R. B. Fisher, Graham John Henry Nelson, C. T. Hunkapillar and C. E. (Dan) McGrew all expressed their appreciation of the banquet and regret that the season was over. Coach Mitchell and Mr. Fisher spoke of the great spirit of this year's team and wished that the same spirit might be revived again next year. Also, each boy introduced his parents.

Every year the football team is given several nice banquets but they all lead to the climax one given by the Harvester Mothers Club all of which proves what a grand club it is. Each football special that was run this year was given the wholehearted support of these mothers. In fact, they were the ones who interested the city in running the special to Port Arthur.

The boys can never repay their mothers for the things that have been done for them but they and the entire school do wish very gratefully to thank them for their attention and cooperation.

McMahan Elected Junior Rotarian For This Month

After he graduates, he plans to attend the Diesel Engine school in Detroit, Michigan.

The fourth week that the Junior Rotarian attends, he is expected to give a speech on how he likes the club and what he has gained during his month of membership. The Junior Rotarian is selected on the way he fills the position of a good student and citizen in the school and community.

TODAY'S SERMONETTE

Before man can accomplish much for others, before he can receive the great joy from giving of his funds for the relief of the needy, he must first give himself to God. When that is done, sacrificing self for others brings happiness. Paul, writing of the church at Macedonia, said: "And this they did, not as we hoped, but first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us by the will of God."—Chivers.

FATED CHINA

For quite a time it looked as if determination and numbers might outweigh training and equipment, in the war in China. Certainly the Chinese armies gave the Japanese invaders far more of a struggle than the high command at Tokio had counted on; the struggle at Shanghai alone was one of the most stubbornly-contested engagements in the annals of modern warfare.

But now it begins to appear that modern wars cannot, after all, be won without complete modern equipment and training, no matter how heroic the soldiers themselves may be. Recent dispatches from China show the Japanese to be victorious everywhere. Shanghai has fallen, Nanking itself is being deserted; complete victory for the Japanese is at last in sight.

This was only to be expected. The sole surprise is that the Japanese victory has been so long delayed.

CRUSADE AGAINST DEATH

A conference high important to the well-being of the nation is the one which Katharine F. Lenroot, chief of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor, has summoned to meet in Washington on Jan. 17 and 18.

This conference is called to discuss ways and means of reducing America's distressingly high maternal death rate. Despite our high level of civilization, we have a maternal death rate which is shockingly high in comparison with rates for European countries. Last year 147,677 lives were lost from this cause; and medical men estimate that from half to three-fourths of these deaths could and should have been prevented.

It is perfectly possible to reduce this disgraceful and tragic toll; Miss Lenroot's conference should help to focus our attention on the ways in which it can be done.

SLEEP FOR DRIVERS

The German government is applying to motorists the railroad rule which forbids an engineering staying at the throttle continuously for more than a certain number of hours. Rest houses are to be biult along the highways and drivers will be required to drive no more than eight hours without stopping for several hours of rest.

It is said that the only serious cause of highway accidents remaining in Germany today is fatigue. The new highways are nearly accident-proof. On them traffic lanes are separated and grade crossings eliminated, so that collisions of any sort are almost impossible. The sleepy driver, however, is still able to make things dangerous for himself and others.

There is no law about this matter in America, altho rules for safe driving include the suggestion that a tired or sleepy driver pull up at the side of the road and take a nap when he feels his attention slipping.

FASHION VS. TASTE

Many had suspected the fact, but are none the less surprised to read the statement of a fashion authority that taste no longer dictates styles in women's clothes. Fashion alone is the rule. Said the authority:

"The thing to do is not to worry about good taste in clothes and jewelry, but to give every consideration to fashion."

This will encourage many women and girls to deck themselves out in the ultra-fashionable regardless of whether the lines, color, and trimming of a hat or gown are becoming to them.

Tex's Topics

I watched Saturday's Santa Day parade from a downtown theater marquee and I got quite a kick out of the beaming countenance of Jaycee Prexy Dick Hughes who was up there, too, watching what kind of a job his Junior Chamber of Commerce committeemen were turning out. . . You had only to observe the Hughesian smile to know that everything was just a bit more than dandy. . . And, the Junior Chamber of Commerce really can thank Supt. R. B. Fisher, of the public schools, and the Rev. Fr. Joseph Wonderly of Holy Souls' parish, as well as the out-of-town school participants, for directing such a thorough job in producing that splendid school-child pageant.

Old Tack may be able to peg the weather all right but he's just a little sour on predicting a football score. . . That Hay Hook Ranch cowboy's recipe for cooking jack-rabbit bears repetition. . . It goes like this: "Put jack-rabbit in a pot with a brick and boil four hours. Remove jack-rabbit. Then eat brick."

Best news Pampa and Borger and the people in between have had for many a moon was the Sunday story about work on the Pampa-Borger Highway being started tomorrow. It has taken a long time to come to this realization, but they say everything comes to him who waits—providing you wait long enough.

Now that the tuxedo season is fully in, clothes will make many a Pampa man long for the tie that doesn't bind. . . It just occurred to me that after Santa Claus uses the chimney for 12 consecutive years in a child's life, the jolly old fellow just seems to go up in smoke. . . The handwriting apparently is on the Chinese Wall—inscribed with late caliber, water-cooled Japanese typewriters. . . A New York casino, featuring nudes, has closed shop, evidently because somebody was losing his shirt.

One suspects that in Russia's first popular election, coming up next week, the political football coaches will be assembled from among the most prominent old Lenin-grads. . . a tour through Pampa stores has just convinced me that there isn't a single Christmas desire that can't be gratified right off hometown shelves. . . I get plenty burned up when I hear about people going to Oklahoma City or Dallas to do their Christmas shopping. . . Of course, there are just so many persons out of every thousand that you can't keep from making suckers out of themselves. . . If they couldn't do just as well at home, and were convinced of it, then it would be an altogether different question.

Washington Daybook

By PRESTON GROVER

This is the second of two articles in which Preston Grover, himself a reserve officer and student of military tactics, explains the how and why of the U. S. army's new mechanized division.

WASHINGTON—Imagine some well-prepared enemy is landing an invading force on one of our shores. His attack is expected but where he will attack is not exactly known until he hits.

Instantly a half dozen mechanized U. S. divisions take to the highway at 60 miles an hour. With 13,000 fighting men, light and medium artillery, armored cars and machine guns in each division, they smash at him in front, on the flanks and perhaps dash behind him to cut him off from his boats. The country is safe again to enjoy its prosperity and depressions in peace.

That is the ideal behind the development of the test-tube division that performed wonders of maneuver and attack in a simulated war in Texas recently.

With hard-hitting, fast-moving battalions to attack the enemy before he has time to land a large force, the army plans to hold him at bay until a drafted or recruited army can be trained and equipped.

Soldiers who have done all their fighting on maps were prone to look upon the speedy work of the taxi-and-tank division in Texas as the answer to a warriors prayer. It had speed, tremendous fire power—and no horses to curry and feed.

Veteran officers who had fought in the Philippines and in France like the performance too. To them it was clear as day that the old 18-mile-a-day-foot-soldier, horse-artillery division was almost as obsolete as a wooden battle ship. But they saw two problems not solved entirely to their satisfaction by the demonstration in Texas.

The first reconnaissance, the business of scouting the battle area to find where to put troops and artillery and to find where the enemy has put or likely will put his troops and guns.

The second was supply.

Reconnaissance and supply are the part of war easiest handled on map but hardest in actual fighting.

In the fast-moving mechanized division in Texas, scout cars were used where highways were available. With a net of good highways available nothing more is needed. For scouting where no highways were available, a 35-mile-an-hour armored car with belt-tread took over the job.

They were much faster than horse and foot reconnoitering but . . they can't operate among trees. Horses can. Bogs, streams and excessively rough country stop the cars, but not horses or men. The question is: Of how much value is the speed, if the army loses the horses—its "seeing eye?"

The design of the motorized division, which is barely half the World war size, was worked over for two years by the army general staff and all its special schools before being put to actual test. It will be further studied before the army takes the final step of putting itself on wheels. But best authorities know the change is coming.

The Neighborhood Tough Boy

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Angelos Metaxas, the Greek brandy king, was trying to scare up a ticket to the opera! It was just a few days before the opening, and the man whose family has dominated Athenian distilleries for 50 years was determined, if possible, to obtain one of those little squares of cardboard which admit the bearer to the sanctum of the Golden Horseshoe.

"I have never missed an opening while n New York," he explained, "and I don't want to begin now. But I don't know what luck I shall have about those tickets. I have been telephoning friends since my boat got in, which was only a short while ago, but as yet I haven't had much luck."

M. Metaxas clamped an implacable hold on his monocle and sank back into an ivory-colored upholstered chair. He had been in his suite at the Ambassador less than four hours but he was as thoroughly at home as he could ever be anywhere—even by his fireside on the Hellenic peninsula. For his has been a career of crossing oceans, and getting on planes and trains. The habit of travel sits on him as comfortably and as cocksurely as a snap-brim felt. He knows intimately ship skippers, stewards, travel-agency chiefs, pullman porters, rickshaw coolies and bus drivers in most of the cities of the world, and can converse with them in their native tongues.

"But I've got to get to the opera," he reiterated.

There are several reasons why M. Metaxas was anxious to attend that ebullient opening. He is himself a patron of opera and has indulged this happy diversion in many old world cities. Then, too, there is the matter of a new Greek baritone which the Met has acquired this season, and M. Metaxas wanted to be on hand to cheer his countryman. Too, he had a certain altruistic reason for wanting to become a part of the occasion.

M. Metaxas is vice-president of the Greek national committee of the International Chamber of Commerce. His mission in America this time will occupy some six months, as it does every year, but before he leaves he will thoroughly investigate the possibilities of displays for his brandies at the New York World's Fair in 1939.

"Greece, she is poor," explained M. Metaxas, "but she is flowing with milk and honey—the milk of human kindness for everybody, including our ancient enemies, the Turks. As for the honey, we have adopted the bee as our guide—all Greeks everywhere are busy."

A jangling telephone cut him off. He seized the receiver and spoke hopefully into the mouthpiece: "Hello? Yes? . . . There was a pause, and M. Metaxas shoulders sagged, as if he had been dealt a body blow. He replaced the receiver and turned with a sadly resigned expression on his once jovial countenance.

"It is the bad news, but definitely," he sighed. "My friend tells me there is no opera ticket!"

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M.D.

As many of us are potential victims of nervous exhaustion, it is good to note closely those personality and behavior patterns which help to develop the exhaustion state.

To begin with, what may cause nervous exhaustion? One evident condition is some organic disease which slowly or acutely saps the patient's vitality, and which may also interfere with his energy-generation mechanism.

Another possible cause is the excessive (functional) drain of energy, the unreasonable and unbalanced expenditure of energy during everyday life and activity. In a word, "spending beyond income."

Frequently, of course, both of these conditions operate together so that the patient suffering from nervous exhaustion may be found, upon examination, to suffer from a variety of physical ailments, as well as a multitude of unwise behavior practices which dissipate his nervous energy.

It is no small task to determine to what extent nervous exhaustion is to be charged to each of these two causes. However, as Dr. Charles L. Hartsock observes in a recent paper in the Cleveland Clinical Quarterly, many of the symptoms that point indefinitely to organic disease are a result, rather than a cause, of the exhausted state.

But then, nervous exhaustion is a none-to-well-defined complex of symptoms.

A person in the early stages of nervous exhaustion is likely to feel markedly fatigued and to show increasing irritability, as well as a distinct change in disposition. Toward the end of the day, he frequently feels an urgent need for a stimulant to help him keep up his usual pace.

Noting that he is slipping somewhat, he tends to drive himself harder. In consequence, he soon becomes even more irritable. He finds it difficult to fall asleep. He notices a marked inability to concentrate and to make decisions with his customary promptness.

Later, he may develop digestive disturbances, and if he is foolish enough to experiment with his diet, he is likely to lose weight.

"Peculiar feelings in his head,' and occasional crying spells may finally induce him to see his physician.

Around Hollywood

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Movie myths — and how they miss.

1. Child stars never, never become successes when they grow up. (Madge Evans, Johnny Downs, Mitzi Green have done right well—and even Jackie Coogan's signed a contract).

2. The waitresses in movietown restaurants are uniformly beautiful girls who tried to crash the movies and failed. (They are not uniformly beautiful, and most of them never tried to crash the movies).

3. All jokes involving the befuddled producer happened to Sam Goldwyn. (A few of them did—but many of them happened to nobody.)

4. Pictures with a religious angle are taboo, dangerous, sure failures. (One of DeMille's biggest was "The King of Kings." Another was "The Ten Commandments," still another "The Crusades." And a new version of "Joan of Arc" is on the way.)

5. Costume pictures are taboo, dangerous, sure failures. (But since "Little Women" and before, good costume pictures have minted money. The screen's biggest moneymaker, "The Birth of a Nation," didn't wear the latest from Paris.)

6. Glamor girls can't be funny. (Ask Carole Lombard, Claudette Colbert, Irene Dunne, Gladys Swarthout—and don't be surprised if the next tomato barrage is for Dietrich, although this is just a hope, not a promise.)

7. All comedians want to play Hamlet, or Napoleon. (Chaplin did once, but he never tried, did he? Comedians like butter on their bread, and know how to get it.)

8. The "average life" of a star is five years. (Once, maybe, but now it's nearer 10.)

9. Once "washed up" in pictures, a star can't come back. (Will Rogers, Marie Dressler, and lately John Barrymore, all heard Hollywood say they were finished).

10. Man and wife shouldn't play opposite each other in romantic roles. (Joel McCrea and Frances Dee are in "Wells Fargo," Franchot Tone and Joan Crawford habitually act together, Alice Faye and Tony Martin are in "Sally, Irene and Mary).

11. The public want to laugh, serious stuff is "out." (So the public went for "Stella Dallas" and had a very nice cry.)

12. The public is fed up with this slapstick stuff, it wants good, serious dramatics for a change. (So the public stayed away from one of the year's prize movies, "Make Way for Tomorrow," which was too honest, maybe.)

Robert North, the Columbia producer, announced a new film for Walter Connolly, Jean Parker, John Howard—"Penitentiary."

A week later he had 60-odd letters from ex-convicts offering services as technical adviser. Many enclosed pictures of themselves in convict garb, together with "references" in the form on penal records.

Wrote one: "I ought to know a lot about prisons because I spent 14 years in one. . . Better take me for the job because some of those other boys are going right back in again."

STARE FOR STARE

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 6 (AP)—(Canadian Press)—The Dionne Quintuplets are to be trained to withstand the public stare like a "royal family," it was disclosed today.

Dr. A. R. Dafoe, physician to the five famous sisters, said they would be educated to understand they are unique—yet to grow normally notwithstanding, just as children of royal families.

Lobbies Chief Threat To Treasury Efforts To Reduce Expenses

By RODNEY DUTCHER, Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Plain, ordinary inertia, plus the natural reluctance of Congress to forego patronage by blanketing hordes of federal employes under civil service, call two strikes at the start on any program to reorganize the executive branch of government.

Then along comes the Forest Service lobby, which appears to be a very formidable lobby indeed, and threatens to call "Strike three!" There are inside lobbies and outside lobbies. But there's nothing so effective as an inside-outside lobby, and the Forest Service lobby is exactly that.

The Forest Service doesn't want to be transferred from the Department of Agriculture to the proposed Department of Conservation which the administration reorganization bill would create from the Department of Interior. So the lobby mainly opposes the section which would change the name of Interior to Conservation, but is aiming fire at the entire Byrnes bill to jeopardize that measure seriously.

Conservation Groups Hostile.

Genuine conservationists, lumber interests and conservative farm organization lobbyists are included in hostile group. The Society of American Foresters—its members mostly Forest Service employes—is conspicuous in the fight.

Roosevelt seems determined to move the Forest Service if he can get authority from Congress, and is sore about activities of an "employes' lobby." He would like to outdo his relatives, the late President Theodore Roosevelt, as a conservationist. He believes a "Department of Conservation" would promote conservation of natural resources and that this would lead future presidents to appoint real conservationists to this cabinet post.

Bureaucrats of the Forest Service say a splendid government service would be ruined and the cause of conservation imperiled if they were placed with the bureaucrats of what is now the Interior Department.

Every Effort to Save Is Fought.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, who recently told the country how he thought the government might save $700,000,000, is finding an active lobby on each of the fronts where he proposed an economy attack. He suggested reductions of federal expenditures for highways, relief, public works, agriculture and the CCC.

Congressional protest broke out as soon as Roosevelt formally asked for curtailment of the federal-state road building program. Active against any such curtailment is the American Road Builders' Association, which is plugging the interesting arguments that it would increase "the 35,000 and more highway accident fatalities each year."

Painting pictures of families and friends killed and maimed as a result of the proposed economy, the association also suggests that some European nation next year may attack the United States and find us ill prepared because of inadequate highway facilities.

Mayors Fight Relief Cut.

The chief drive against cuts in relief appropriations is furnished by the U. S. Conference of Mayors. The mayors' lobby says the cities can't get through winter and spring without appropriations additional to the $1,500,000,000 appropriated for WPA, and the question is raised whether Congress won't be spending more for relief instead of less, as urged by Morgenthau.

Every town with a CCC camp provides a lobby when there's any talk of abolishing that camp. Proposals to cut off about a hundred camps to reduce the number to 1,500 as provided by law are met by a decision of the House Democratic steering committee to urge Roosevelt not to permit any such cuts.

The prospect is that more and not less will be spent on agriculture and that the money will be raised in processing taxes to be paid by consumers—who have no lobby.

Book A Day

—By BRUCE CATTON

If the world nowadays seems to be composed largely of fools following megalomaniacs down a steep place into the sea, there is still reassurance to be had. You can get a lot of it from "Madame Curie," an exceedingly fine biography of the great scientist written by her daughter, Eve Curie. (Doubleday, Doran: $3.50).

For this book shows what the race can produce. It shows that greed is not, after all, necessarily the mainspring of human activity; that there can be people who live magnificently for the race, instead of for themselves, and that the race responds to them when they do appear.

Eve Curie depicts her mother's life as one struggle—against poverty, loneliness; heartbreak, physical weakness, discouragement and plain human weariness. From its beginning in Warsaw to its climax in Paris, Marie Curie had to fight—never once for herself, always for an ideal.

She and her husband revolutionized science. They gave the fruits of their discoveries to the world, scorning the suggestion that they patent their process and become rich. France, which had millions to spend on armaments, could not even spare the few francs to give these two geniuses a decent laboratory, leave alone a decent personal income.

Pierre Curie died before the nation finally got around to smoothing the path a little. Marie Curie lived on—but even she at last came into possession of a gram of radium, the element she herself had discovered, only through the generosity of American women. The way led uphill almost to the last footstep.

There have ben few more brilliant women and few more completely noble human beings. Reading this biography is like having the dark fog lift for a moment, so that one can get a dazzling glimpse of what humanity is capable of in its finest moments.

OFFICIALS PROTEST HIGHWAY AID SLASH

FORT WORTH, Dec. 6 (AP)—County and municipal officials from virtually every section of Texas gathered here Saturday to voice strong protest against the proposed curtailment of federal highway aid to the States.

Called together on short notice by the county judges and commissioners association of Texas, the city and county representatives took steps to launch a statewide movement to arouse sentiment against what was termed "unfair diversion of highway revenue." Between 75 and 100 attended the meeting.

Members of the county officials' association voted to send the president, vice president and secretary treasurer of the organization to Washington to actively oppose the adoption of any retrenchment program.

INFANTRY STILL NEEDED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—General Malin Craig, army chief of staff, said in his annual report today that war in China and Spain had demonstrated airplanes and tanks were only "valuable auxiliaries to the infantry.

"For a decision we must still look to the man on foot," he said.

A city ordinance was passed in Houston in 1893 requiring all trains to whistle four times at each crossing. The ordinance never has been repealed.

HARVESTER CAGERS WILL ENTER PERRYTON TOURNAMENT THIS WEEK END

RANGERS AGAIN FAVORITES TO WIN TOURNEY

The Harvesters will take the bull by the horns this week-end when Coach Odus Mitchell takes them to Perryton to enter the tournament there.

If they haven't got over any stage-fright they might have by then, they will at the tournament. It is likely that before the meet is over Saturday night they will face the quintet that handed them a defeat in the finals of the district tournamen last year—Perryton's Rangers, favorites to win their own tourney.

If the Harvesters improve this week as they did last week they should win the tournament, unless of course the competition proves to be unusually keen. Although most of the teams in this area will enter the tournament, it is not known whether Catfish Smith's Borger Bulldogs have entered the meet.

Catfish coached the Carey Cardinals who beat out Pampa's best basketfall team in 1936 in the regional and won third in the state. Last year his Carey team won the state title at Austin. The Catfish is reported to be enthusiastic over his prospects at Borger. The Bulldogs swamped in the district tourney last year in the first games, also has several regulars and lettermen back. So it may be that Borger will be the team to beat this year. At any rate, basketball fans can estimate whether he is a super-coach of basketball or whether he merely had super material at Carey in Foust and the others.

The Harvesters had intended to play a return game at McLean this week, but they were cancelled this morning. It is possible that the Harvesters will play a game here this week before Friday, but Coach Odus Mitchell had no announcement to make.

The Harvesters showed great promise in the first game Friday night when they beat McLean 23 to 10, but they looked crude, awkward and their inexperience stood out like a sore thumb.

By entering the team in the Perryton tournament, Coach Mitchell figures that the boys may acquire a certain polish and also valuable experience. Also they will have a chance to avenge that defeat last year.

Meanwhile the battle for two regular positions continues among Junior Foster, Pete Dunaway, Bob Andis, Jack Cunningham, with Foster and Andis holding a slight edge over the others by reason of their performances against McLean Friday night. Many mistakes of the returning regulars are being overlooked because they can't be expected to be perfect after the first week, so for the time being Heiskell, Reynolds and Cox apparently have three regular berths cinched However, if they should show the slightest disposition to falter or stop improving, any one of those four boys, Foster, Dunaway, Andis or Cunningham, would be ready and anxious to take their places.

Football Taxes Challenged By Four Colleges

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Supreme Court may be asked to decide whether football is an "essential state function."

The question arose in connection with federal taxes on tickets of admission to college football games.

Four state universities—Iowa, West Virginia, Minnesota, and Georgia—have challenged the government's right to force them to collect the tax.

Amusement tax laws levy ten percent on all admissions of more than 40 cents. The government has ruled that the state universities must colect the tax and pay it to the collector of internal revenue.

But, the universities contend the government is without authority to tax a state institution performing an essential state function—football is essential, they say.

The internal revenue bureau disagrees.

The bureau sued the University of Minnesota for $108,157; West Virginia for $2,209, and Iowa for $4,335, while Georgia sought to avoid paying $4,810.

COLORADO TO EXECUTE SEX SLAYER DEC. 24

CANON CITY, Colo., Dec. 6 (AP)—On Christmas eve Colorado will execute Joseph Arridy, 22, with gas, for the sex-slaying of a schoolgirl, unless he wins a fourth reprieve or prison routine is changed.

Before he was to die Nov. 19, the Supreme Court granted Arridy a two-week stay, his second. The request for it was made by Dr. B. L. Jefferson, superintendent of the State Home for Mental Defectives, from which Arridy was an escapee when Dorothy Drain, 15, was bludgeoned with an axe and ravished.

A third stay, to the week of Dec. 20, was given Arridy to allow time for preparing a transcript of the trial testimony.

If custom at the state penitentiary is followed, Arridy will be led into the gas chamber Christmas Eve, for that is a Friday night, execution night.

El Paso Eleven Will Go To Wichita Falls

DALLAS, Dec. 6 (AP)—Eight teams, only three of them with unblemished records, remained in the Texas Interscholastic League football race today, each glancing fearfully at wreckage wrought by startling upsets along the title trail.

Austin (El Paso.) Longview and Conroe were undefeated and untied but their positions were precarious in the quarter-final round that has more than its share of unexpected contenders.

Gone from the list were Amarillo's Golden Sandies, who had hoped for a fourth straight championship. The Sandies fell before twice-beaten, twice-tied Wichita Falls, probably the most improved team remaining in the race.

Also absent were Highland Park's Highlanders, long favorites to reach the semi-finals. The Scotties were defeated by Sherman 7-6 in a wholly unexpected turn of events.

Longview meets the up-and-coming Temple Wildcats, once defeated, and tied for their own district championship, but who smashed a fine Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) team out of the race last week. Longview entertains Temple Saturday afternoon.

Wichita Falls draws the surprising Austin team at Wichita Falls Saturday. Austin commanded much respect in shoving Abilene, champion of the topsy-turvy Oil Belt, out of the race, 3-0.

North Side (Ft. Worth.) semi-finalist last season and winner over Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) last week in another upset, plays Sherman at Fort Worth Saturday.

Conroe tackles Robstown at Conroe Friday afternoon. It will be the strongest test of the season for the Tigers, holders of the campaign's scoring record to date. Robstown upset a highly-favored Corpus Christi team to win the district title, then nosed out a fast-improving Mission team in the first round of state play.

FIREMEN ON SCENE AS CUYLER-ST FIRE STARTS

Fireman Tommy Haggard was "on the spot" before the fire truck Friday night and had the fire out when the department arrived at 817 South Cuyler street, where an ironing board had caught fire.

The fireman happened to be eating a "10 o'clock" lunch across the street from the address and immediately went into action with a bucket.

An iron left connected caused the blaze, the first of the month.

JAPS RAISE SCORE IN DRIVE TO KILL 100

TOKYO, Dec. 6 (AP)—The score was 89 to 78 today in the race between two Japanese sub-Lieutenants to see which would be the first to kill 100 Chinese soldiers, the newspaper Nichi Nichi reported from Kuyung, China.

The rivals had raised their scores within a week from 56 and 26 respectively.

SOPHS BLAMED.

TROY, N. Y., Dec. 6 (AP)—The sophomore, a school official said today, is the chief offender in college "class cutting." Dr. Ray Palmer, assistant director of Rensselaer Polythechnic Institute, attributed this tendency on the part of the second-year student to becoming "suddenly bold with knowing the ropes."

Harris county, of which Houston is the county seat, is one of the state's largest cattle producing areas.

WILSON PROMISES TO STOP HIGAMI'S JUI JITSU TRICKS

Humming "I'm an ole cowhand," Benny Wilson, Fort Worth cowboy, arrived in town this morning cocked and primed for his finish wrestling match with Tsutao Higami, little Jap, at the Pampa Athletic Arena tonight. First gong will sound at 8 o'clock sharp with Jack Hagen, Louisiana favorite, tangling with Cyclone Mackie, another well-liked mauler. The arena will be well-heated for the battle.

A "main event" semi-final will pit Sailor Jack Moran against Andy Tremaine in what is doped to be one of the best matches of the year. Both are lightning fast and both can give and take if the necessity should arise.

The yodeling cowboy apparently had nothing on his mind. He didn't seem to be aware of the fact that Higami can press buttons or put the opposition to sleep should the occasion demand. And it only demands when the other fellow goes rough. At other times Higami will handle them in American fashion.

"This so-called button pressing and sleep holds are a lot of hooey," remarked cocky Mr. Wilson of Ft. Worth. "If that little Jap starts using his Jui Jitsu. I'll forget myself and treat him like I would a bull in the arena."

The Tremaine-Moran match is holding the spotlight for many fans. While Moran leans to the gob style of wrestling, it is known that he can stay within bounds and put up a real battle. Tremaine is primarily a scientific grappler.

Jack Doyle to Quit His Pool Hall Business

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—Most of the landmarks of the New York of 30 years are gone. They pulled down the old Garden. St. Nick's, hallowed by the skates of Hobey Baker, is a fight club. And now Jack Doyle is stepping out of the pool hall business.

Jack, who made his billiard parlar a national institution, announced last night his health would not permit him to continue in full charge any longer. And, though he will continue his activities as one of the nation's best known betting commissioners, the picture rimmed rooms that have welcomed sports leaders for three decades will see him infrequently in the future.

BAD WEATHER CHARACTERIZED GRID SEASON

By HERBERT W. BARKER.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—Despite an almost unprecedented siege of bad weather and the effects of a business recession, college football moved along on slightly higher levels for attendance and receipts during the 1937 campaign.

An Associated Press survey based on returns from major colleges in every section of the country today revealed an increase of approximately four per cent in attendance over last year's figures. This failed to approach the 15 per cent gain 1936 had shown over 1935 but served nevertheless, to maintain unbroken football's consistent forward march since the dreary days of the 1929-32 depression era.

The survey, based on a home game attendance only, revealed that 7,744,803 fans witnessed the 387 home games of 75 representative schools. This compared with the 1936 figure of 7,613,768 for 397 games. Average attendance per game this year thus was 20,010 compared with 19,178 a year ago.

The Southwest and South led all the rest in percentage of increase, roughly 16 per cent in each case. The Rocky Mountain sector followed with 14 per cent, the midwest with six per cent, the far west with five per cent and the east with one per cent.

Following are the comparative attendance records for 1937 and 1936 in the Southwest conference: (Number of home games in each year in brackets):

| School— | 1937 | | 1936 | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| S. M. U. | (6) | 73,000 | (6) | 94,000 |
| Rice | (6) | 109,000 | (5) | 65,000 |
| T. C. U. | (4) | 58,000 | (4) | 36,496 |
| A. & M. | (3) | 53,000 | (3) | 25,000 |
| Arkansas | (5) | 40,000 | (4) | 25,000 |
| Texas | (4) | 66,000 | (4) | 72,000 |

GOVERNOR OF VERMONT HITS SOUTHERN GOPS

MONTPELIER, Vt., Dec. 6 (AP)—Governor George D. Aiken of Vermont joined the controversy over the future of the Republican party today with a demand that the national committee "be purged of the baneful influence of the Southern committeemen." and a broad "affirmative" program adopted.

Aiken, speaking as the elected leader of one of the two states to vote Republican in the 1936 election, addressed to the committee an open letter that called for revitalizing a party that is in "a nearly complete state of demoralization."

"We have become a party of old men," he argued. "Unless we can become also a party for young men and young women, the party will die—the processes of dissolution have already begun."

Concerning the "purge," he said the Southern committeemen, "nourished on political patronage alone and used as a tool for controlling the party," constitute the party's "greates liability."

Flashes of LIFE

(By The Associated Press)

GOT HIS WISH.

COLUMBIA, S. C.—Frank P. McGowan Jr. told his parents he wanted to entertain a fire chief, a police chief and a railroad conductor at his third birthday party.

The desired guests, Fire Chief A. McC. Marsh, Police Chief H. W. Rawlinson, and Captain J. E. Cleston, conductor on the Southern railway, walked in, attired in uniforms aglitter with brass buttons, just as the cake was cut.

HANDICAPPED.

NEW YORK — Someone cracked open packing case on a New York pier last week and stole its contents—2,000 Chinese silver dollars.

Not a policeman could be found at the 20th street station who ever had seen a Chinese dollar. But they started a hunt anyhow, pinning their hopes on circulars to silver and gold merchants in the thought that the thief might try to dispose of the dollars as old metal.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS NOTE.

CAINESVILLE, Mo.—Olin Booth is doing his best to build better mousetraps, but one path may be taken from his door.

A (Burlington) railroad asked permission to abandon a 20.5-mile branch to Booth's mousetrap factory. Booth said the road carried only about a third of his product, anyway.

Houston has a city ordinance forbidding unnecessary noises, including the honking of automobile horns.

Panhandle To Play At Wellington On Friday

"The Panhandle Panthers and the Wellington Skyrockets will meet on Wellington field Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock," was the word sent from conference headquarters at McLean at 2:15 a. m. Sunday after officials of the two schools had been in session for five hours trying to decide on the site for the championship game of Region I, Class B, football.

Invitations had been extended for the teams to use fields at Pampa, McLean, Shamrock, Borger and Amarillo. While delegations from each city waited, officials of the two schools debated but could reach no agreement. Finally, Panhandle announced they would go to Wellington.

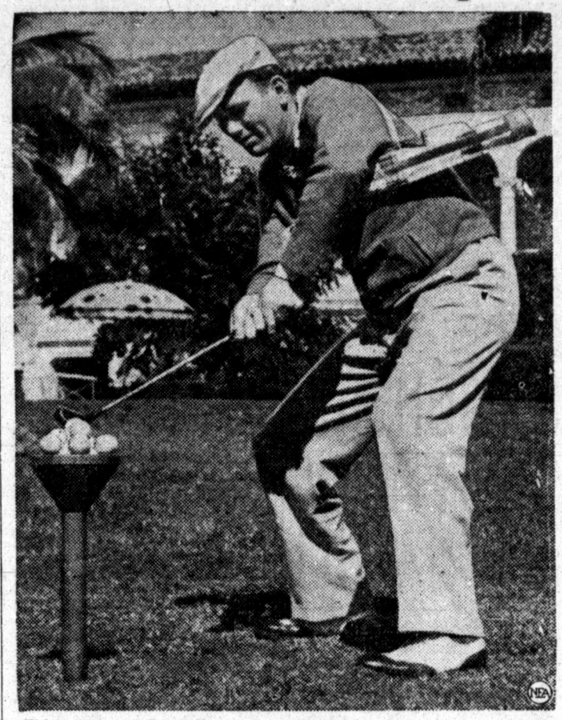

Panhandle's mighty Panthers, coached by Winford "Lefty" Fowler, reached the top of the heap from the underdog position while the Wellington Skyrockets of Joe Coleman was on the pinnacle of the dope bucket all season.

Friday's battle will be watched by fans from over the entire Panhandle. The battle of sensational ball-toting backs is expected to be even greater than when Webster of Lubbock and Thompson of Amarillo clashed in a Class A final game.

In Austin, Wellington has one of the greatest ball toting backs in the state. Panhandle's Sparks and Crawford, however, are equally as good in the opinion of fans and if the Panther line can meet the Skyrocket forward on even terms. Panhandle should give the high-flying Skyrockets their first loss of the season.

Officials for the game will be: Referee, Carl Mouldin (Texas A. & M.); headlinesman, Bryan Hooks, (Baylor); umpire, Charles Damron (A. C. C.); field judge, Cagle Teague (W. T. S. T. C.).

Herman Refuses To Sign Up for Siege on Farm

CHICAGO, Dec. 6 (AP)—If no news is good news there's bound to be a lot of happiness the paying baseball customers before the three-day meeting of the diamond traders is over Wednesday night.

Nothing of importance happened in the major league playing mart over the week-end except maybe that the traders developed flat feet and bunions from standing around hotel lobbies waiting for the others to surrender a million dollar player for an autograph and some buttons. In fact, Babe Herman of Brooklyn outfield game turned in the only business by signing to play for the New York Giant farm in Jersey City.

Beginning today some definite news is inevitable because club owners of the American and National leagues convene in different hotels to discuss schedules and affairs of state. Wednesday, they meet in a joint session to hold their annual clinic over the baseball. Some want the horsehide deader and some want it to stay lively. Indications are the ball will be a bit deader when the 16 major league clubs go postward next April.

As the managers again took up their vigil behind potted palms and in telephone booths today, there was a growing suspicion that Brooklyn, after all, had Mungo and was stuck with him. The Doggers want far too much money for their runaway star of the hill and the would-be buyers are all but picketing salesmen, Burleigh Grimes. They reason Brooklyn soon will be ready to sell Mungo for a song, so they're waiting the stubble-bearded Burleigh out.

'SANTA' WILL SEND 21 COUSINS $5,000 EACH

LISBON, O., Dec. 6 (AP)—Twenty-one persons felt like pinching themselves today as they figured out real answers to the question—"What would you do with $5,000 from Santa Claus."

"Santa Claus" in this case is an 84-year-old Ohioan.

The 21 persons over the country to whom he is sending $5,000 each are second cousins.

James A. Costello is the survivor of three brothers and two sisters. When the others died he became manager of their fortunes.

Included was Brother Charles' estate of $500,000. To Charles he made the death-bed promise to take care of the cousins.

Costello was quite disconcerted over notice given him. He said politely but firmly that he "didn't send the checks for publicity and it is nobody's business."

"Letters of thanks alone well repay me," he said.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—Those Chicago pictures showing Burleigh Grimes smoking a pipe with a regulation bowl didn't make a hit with Brooklyn fans . . . They fear it indicates the Dodgers are slowly returning to normalcy . . . The North Dakota school which fired Stub Allison, California's Rose Bowl coach, doesn't know what it is to have a real red face . . . The University of Nevada gave the air to Buck Shaw, coach of Santa Clara's unbeaten Sugar Bowl team, not once, but twice—once as freshman and once as varsity coach . . . Some of the alumni out there still are looking for the guy who fired Buck.

Little Davey O'Brien, Texas Christian's spark plug, may not be the best back in the Southwest conference, but he certainly was the busiest . . . In their ten games, the Frogs ran 730 plays from scrimmage . . . O'Brien was either the ball carrier, passer or kicker on 486 . . . He lugged the ball 166 times, passed 234 times and kicked 83 times, besides attempting three field goals . . . Nice going, Dave.

Wonder where George Preston Marshall got those real Injuns he lugs around as part of the Redskins' side show?

The camel was not the first pack animal of the Sahara. Elephants were used for this purpose in the days of Carthage.

Red Skins and Baugh Capture Eastern Title

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—What possibly is the most effective scoring combination in football history—Cliff Battles, the ball-carrying will o' the wisp, and Sammy Baugh, the peerless passer—has shot the surprising Washington Redskins through to the championship of the eastern division of the National Professional football league.

Sammy and Cliff and the rest of the remarkable Redskins did it the terrific way yesterday, terrorizing the New York Giants, 49 to 14, before 58,000 enthralled fans at the Polo Gorunds.

The way Cliff and Sammy cut didoes behind their savagely thrusting forward wall, it is difficult to picture them as losers next Sunday, when they meet the Chicago Bears, champions of the western division, at Chicago's Wrigley field in their play-off for the league title. The Bears, with nothing at stake, steamrollered the Chicago Cardinals, 42 to 28, in the final yesterday.

PURSE BAIT WORKS.

SAN JOSE, Calif., Dec. 6 (AP)—The ingenuity of two policemen who smeared a purse with oil of wintergreen and left it as "bait" in the gymnasium at the San Jose State Teachers college resulted in the arrest of a youth police said confessed a score of purse thefts.

LOST KINGDOM

by OREN ARNOLD, Copyright 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

Yesterday: Lost in the underground cavern, Bob and Melissa suffer of thirst and hunger. Then they see a light, hear a voice echo. Are they losing their minds, they wonder.

CHAPTER XVI

For all of man's genious, one great mystery of life has never been even partly solved.

It is the strange fusion of souls, of spiritual entilities in man and woman, when consciousness of love is declared, mutual and sincere.

It grows with a sudden ecstatic surge, thence in a gentle and somehow staccto harmony, ever increasing, never reaching an end of its own accord. It is as old as Adam, but each man must discover it for himself. Robert Barry discovered it there when death was hovering, when he fully believed that both he and Melissa were losing their minds.

They had been lost in utter darkness for many hours, perhaps several days. They could not even guess how long. They had slept at times, fitfully. Embracing each other now, in the most sacred of moments, they remained silent and very still. Seconds passed—Bob knew not how many—and then Bob got a grip on himself. He saw himself as a whimpering baby afraid of the dark. Anger replaced fear. Then his trained mind took command.

"Why, I'm not hysterical!" He murmured it to himself, even as he held Mary Melissa there. "On the contrary, I feel remarkably calm."

He shook his head, as if to clear his eyes of the darkness. He looked behind him again, which would be down.

"'LISSA!" He almost shrieked it. "'Lissa;"

He was tense with excitement again. But he forced himself to be analytical, critical of his own reactions. No, this was not hysteria.

"'LISSA! That IS a light! Look—HEY! HEY! HELP!"

Thirst had muted his voice terribly, but he made all the noise he could. He threw rocks. 'Lissa yelled too, and between them, they made a din of it.

Voices answered, from far below. The two understood no words, but they were suffused with happiness. Salvation seemed at hand. They were almost hysterical with anticipation now.

"It's Hades Jones! It's Jones! And Holliman! They must have found an outlet hole below somewhere. They're coming. Oh, 'Lissa they've found us! They—"

She too was talking, jabbering. They called and hallowed, and hugged each other as the lights grew stronger. They dared not move much, lest they fall over the ledge, but they squirmed in righteous glee.

The rescue party was slow in approaching. It had been far below, and the light disappeared frequently as the men moved around rock formations. They flickered, too, Bob saw. He began to wonder. Why in the name of goodness hadn't Hades used one of the lanterns, instead of torches.

"Hello, HADES? HOLLIMAN?" Bob yelled, when he knew they were within 30 yards or so.

The lights stopped instantly. No answer came. Progress of the rescuers seemed very strange, then. Bob and 'Lissa peered at them intently.

"Hey, what's the matter? Can't you see us?. Bob was impatient.

OTHER lights were ignited then, and the group separated. Bob and 'Lissa could distinguish the approaching men clearly, but he began to think he saw a dozen or more forms. Moreover, there was a new and absolutely strange murmur of voices.

"Bob!" 'Lissa whispered. "Are you—all right? Do you see what I do? I mean, are we out of our minds? Is this another nightmare after all?"

"No! No, I'm sure! but I don't know what. It's not our party, that's certain. Stand still, and watch. HELLO THERE! WHO IS IT? WE NEED HELP!"

Somebody answered immediately, but— in a strange tongue!

Bob was utterly amazed. He was a linguist. He spoke Spanish, the Mexican dialects of it, not to mention the ordinary Indian languages of Southwestern tribes. But this garble was foreign to him. And the men themselves, slowly approaching, were foreign.

The whole thing was impossible. It was a scene from some weird, imaginative fairy tale, a bit of stage imaginary, theatrical and impressive and almost devilish. Bob was breathing hard, and he could feel 'Lissa trembling.

"Good Lord!" He mumbled it. "I never knew it would be this way."

But in the same moment he knew it was real!

The light was visible. The men were tangible. They were brown men, he could see now, which would likely make them Indians. But the setting, the utterly fantastic circumstance—it was something to read by a fireside and scoff at, or a bit of trickery from Hollywood, except for the salient fact that the brown people were absolutely alive, and that his own mind was now as clear and alert as he had ever known it to be.

The strangers spoke repeatedly to him. Some of them, he noted, held weapons; rather well made weapons of natural sticks and stones. They wore scant clothing, mostly loin cloths and a crude sort of sandals. They were muscular men, and they were graceful, but they were not menacing.

They tried time and time again to communicate with Bob and Melissa, one man especially doing the talking. Bob talked back, in all the dialects he knew, but in vain.

Then he motioned for water—and got it.

Some man had brought a skin container, from which Melissa then Bob drank and asked no questions. Bob forced her to take a swallow at a time, with long waits between, lest she suffer spasms of sickness and pain. Somewhere he had fortunately heard this warning, probably from old Hades.

They got food, too, a dried meat. It was hard, and unsalted, but it was an ambrosia. Bob then thought to divide the last small piece of chocolate candy with 'Lissa, but suddenly thrust it at the man who appeared to be leader. The brown man sniffed it, tasted it, ate it then with childish glee. All the brown men had been staring with a consuming curiosity, at white skin, at clothing, at Mary Melissa's especially. Finally they signalled to the two to come, heading back down the trail.

"I supose we'll awaken after a while, honey," Bob grinned and held her as they walked. "But whatever this is, it's one to write down in the books!"

She gave no answer. She was too overwhelmed.

SENATE LIMITS SPEECH-MAKING ON FARM BILL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—The senate wound up two weeks of wordy debate on the farm bill Saturday by agreeing to limit future speech-making on the measure.

On motion of Senator Barkley, majority leader, a unanimous consent agreement was reached to cut debate on amendments to the bill to 15 minutes for each speaker, with 20 minutes allowed on the bill itself.

Senators will be permitted to speak only once on each amendment and only once on the bill.

Barkley told the senate the two weeks of debate had given full opportunity for discussion and it was desirable to avoid any unnecessary further delay.

A substitute farm program proposed by senator Lee (D, Okla.), was exempted from the debate limitation agreement, after Lee had protested he had no opportunity for a full discussion of his measure.

Lee's bill differs from the pending agriculture committee measure in that it would be entirely voluntary.

In addition, Barkley agreed to exempt any other substitutes that may be offered. He also said the limitation would not apply to any motion to send the pending farm measure back to the agriculture committee.

The agreement will go into effect Monday afternoon.

Democratic leaders expressed hope the bill would pass the senate next week.

There was sentiment, however, for recommitting the bill to committee for further study. Some senators argued objections to the legislation raised by Secretary Wallace could be more expeditiously met by committee action.

With the house in recess until Monday, the senate heard Senator King (D-Utah) denounce the pending farm bill as a "monstrous measure" which "will make the secretary of agriculture a dictator over the farmers."

YOUTH'S BODY FOUND HANGING FROM TREE

LUBBOCK, Dec. 6 (AP)—A body of a youth identified from papers in his pockets as George Moore, 19, of Plainview, who had been missing since Thanksgiving day, was found hanging from a cedar tree in a pasture of the Four Six Ranch 20 miles west of Benjamin in Knox county about noon today, according to Sheriff George P. Humphrey of Guthrie, King county.

Discovery was made by Togo Moorehouse of Benjamin, who advised Knox county officials at Benjamin. They called Sheriff Humphrey.

The youth was quoted by the sheriff as having told persons who talked with him Thanksgiving day he was en route to Plainview. The automobile he then was driving was found abandoned the following day on the highway near the tree where he was hanged.

Sheriff Humphrey said the youth apparently had been dead about ten days. He added that $14 was found in his pockets. His body was taken to Guthrie.

THOMPSON OPTIMISTIC OVER '38 OIL OUTLOOK

ABILENE, Dec. 5 (AP)—Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the interstate oil compact commission, said tonight that if the present level of production is maintained through the winter, "the oil people of Texas and the nation will have a prosperous year."

Thompson's statement was in an address prepared for delivery to the west-central Texas oil and gas association meeting here.

The Texas railroad commission member said that the oil usiness had almost equaled this year the peak prosperity in 1929.

ZUNI INDIAN KIDDIES GREET 'SANTA' TONIGHT

ZUNI, N. M., Dec. 6 (AP)—While white youngsters are counting the days until Christmas, the brown-skinned papooses of ancient Zuni awoke today in anticipation of an event as thrilling to them as is the arrival of Santa Claus to their pale-face brothers and sisters.

It is the dance of the Shalako tonight—a celebration combining the Indian counterparts of the white man's Christmas, Thanksgiving, New Year's and Easter in complex symbolism which few Zunis, even, can comprehend.

Coinciding roughly with the winter solstice, it marks the end of the Zuni year.

The gods themselves, the Zunis believe, will come to the ceremonial tonight, reincarnated temporarily in the bodies of men picked from the village.

DUST BOWL REDUCED TO TWO-THIRDS IN YEAR

AMARILLO, Dec. 6 (AP)—H. H. Finnell, regional conservator of the Soil Conservation Service, said here today a survey had disclosed the area of the nation's "dust bowl" included in the 26 demonstration areas of the service had been reduced almost two-thirds within the last year.

Finnell said of the ninety-five million acres included in the wind erosion region in portions of Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, New Mexico, and Kansas, one per cent approximately, or 956,573 acres, were under agreement for soil and moisture conservation treatment.

During the blowing season of last year 300,363 acres of demonstration area were subject to wind erosion damage. This year only 101,929 acres were reported subject to erosion of this type, Finnell said.

He said 1,486 farms were reported subject to erosion of this type, Finnell said.

He said 1,486 farms were under agreements in the demonstration area of the five states, 1,032 of which were now classed as stabilized against blowing.

"Under normal conditions we can expect dust storms this winter, though," Finnell said. "Dust storms can be expected to originate in those areas where there is insufficient vegetation cover."

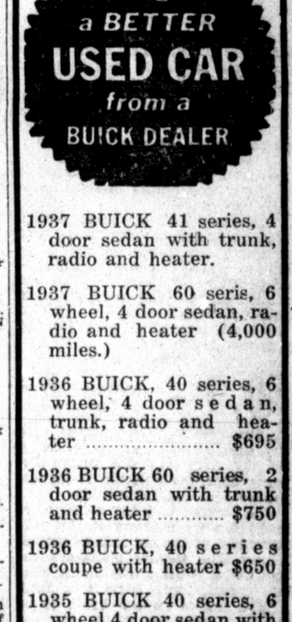

He said he believed the future of the wind erosion region depended upon spread of soil and moisture conservation practices.

CUT IN FEED RATES ASKED BY CATTLEMEN

AUSTIN, Dec. 6 (AP)—H. F. McGill of Alice, president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association, said here today drouth conditions in certain Texas counties justified extension of emergency railroad freight rates on feed.

McGill and other cattlemen came to Austin for a hearing on the situation before the railroad commission.

"Conditions in nearly 40 counties continue very bad," McGill said. "In places cattlemen are wholly dependent on feed shipped in. Small operators and dairymen especially are in tight circumstances.

"The reduction already experienced has been very helpful and ought to be continued until spring grass is available.

In the country about Alice, McGill said, the last effective rain was in November last year.

Regular rates were slashed 25 per cent last fall after a sharp tilt between cattle raisers and the railroad commission on one side and the railroads on the other.

The railroads sought to enjoin a reduction of 33 1/3 per cent ordered by the commission, but, after a long hearing in Travis county court, agreed to the 25 per cent cut, which was to expire Nov. 30. There was no court decision at the time on merits of the case.

Recently the cattle raisers asked the railroads to extend the emergency rates, which the railroads refused. Thereupon the commission entered a temporary order extending them until Dec. 30, this order being subject to evidence produced at a hearing.

The railroads sought to enjoin the temporary order and a hearing on their petition has been set for tomorrow in Travis county district court.

All members of the commission, C. V. Terrell, chairman, Ernest O. Thompson and Lon Smith, were present when the case was called.

A short recess was had on suggestion of Thompson in an effort to effect a compromise between shippers and carriers.

Previously a letter dated Nov. 3 from officials of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association asking railroads to add Medina county to those receiving the reductions was read along with the railroads reply stating extension of the lowered schedules after Nov. 20 was not contemplated.

of disappointed theatre-goers with the explanation that operation of Sunday shows in the future depends upon the outcome of his appearance in court Thursday.

The current blue law crime wave broke out when Berry started enforcement of the old statute against Kiniry. The theatre manager's retort was a petition demanding general enforcement. Berry took heed.

"The law is on the books to be enforced," said the state's attorney.

"I know it's ridiculous. But it's the best way I know to remove these antiquated laws from the books."

"It looks," he reflected, "like I'm the goat."

of her making the race if Allred tried for a third term. The position of Mrs. Ferguson and her husband, former Governor James E. Ferguson, might be clarified in the weekly Ferguson Forum, scheduled to resume publication Thursday.

Capitol indications were that Allred, Thompson and McCraw probably would not announce until after January 1. Close friends of Thompson believed he would make his formal announcement in early January or late February.

Regardless of whether Allred runs, he likely will oppose McCraw. Some observers thought they saw political significance in a letter from the Governor to the Attorney General last week requesting him to institute suit seeking to recover Padre Island for the state.

In that letter, Allred said he asked McCraw last May 25 to investigate the Padre Island situation.

"To this date," he said, "I have had no report whatever from you, and so far as I know no action has been taken by your department."

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—Selling in steels sapped the starch from today's market and a wide assortment of leaders retreated fractions to 2 points.

Dealings were quiet throughout and a few aircrafts and specialties managed to cor/est the trend.

Further question marks were pinned on the steel group as the American Iron and Steel Institute estimated the current week's mill operations were off 2.1 points from the preceding week at 37.5 per cent of capacity, the lowest production rate since early November, 1934.

Brokers said some traders cashed part of their profits in view of the three successive advancing sessions last week.

Transfers approximated 800,000 shares.

PANHANDLE PIONEER TELLS OF ROPING HUGE MOUNTAIN LION ON SOUTH CANADIAN IN 1890

Memories of the days when he worked for the N-Bar-N were recalled to a Californian recently when friends told him of the Fiesta Edition of the Pampa Daily NEWS which the Californian said contained an article about "a little feat" participated in by the former Texan.

In a letter, dated Chowchilla, Calif., December 2, 1937, and addressed to the Pampa Daily NEWS editor, R. E. Mayfield writes:

"I am a native of Texas—have wandered astray, to where the west ends as far as I know, this is as far as I have been in this directoon.

Raised on Plains.

"I was raised on the plains and up and down the south Canadian. I was raised as cowhand, or cow peeler, as the cowboys used to say. I worked for the N—N. The headquarters ranch was located at White Deer.

"I worked for them the year they closed out, in spring, 1893, and the Matadors took that range. That was before there was any Pampa.

'I heard you had an old-timers' celebration on or about last June, '37, and you had quite a lot of articles of the past. Some friends of mine told me you had an article a little feat I, in my ignorance, did. It was the most embarrassing moment of my life.

"I got myself into the middle of a bad fix. Being pretty handy with the rope I usually tied on to most anything that my loop would go around. I was working for Mr. White on the South Canadian in the winter of 1890.

"I had been on the plains looking for their cattle, and as I returned I came down what is known as a sour-dough canyon. As I came to the narrowing mouth of the canyon, there was a spring of water between some very large rocks.

Roped Mountain Lion.

"As I turned to go around I saw a very large animal of some sort, the kind I never saw before. He seemed gentle, so I decided he might make a very nice playmate. I took down my little saddle rope and made a loop large enough to go around his neck. I made a good catch, throwing the rope around his neck and dragged him to death.

"I put him behind my saddle and took him to the ranch. After I got there I found out I had brought in one of the largest mountain lions that ever roamed those parts. I got $10 for his scalp.

"Parnell, a little inland town near the South Canadian was the county seat of Gray, Hutchinson, and Roberts.

"Judge Jack Meade of Miami was there when I roped the lion. He was at the ranch. I attended the judge's wedding the same winter. He married a daughter of the man I worked for, as fine a people as ever lived.

"Now what I would like to have is a copy of your paper that has all the timers' writer-ups in it. I was told it was published the last of May or June of this year.

Would Reverse Time.

'I will enclose pay for your paper.

"I am getting along in years but glad I am still on earth. I long for the old days—if I could only reverse time. I would roundup cow hands instead of cattle, what a roundup that would be.

"I am one of the last of the old-time cowhands, I guess.

"Sincerely,

"R. E. MAYFIELD."

P. S.—I also went up the trail in 1893-1894 for Phillips Land and Cattle Co., of Miles City, Mont. I could go on writing to eternity but perhaps of no interest; it is only bygone pleasant memories in most part; there were lots of dangers, hardships, and thrills. However, I figure they were repaid for each day brought new scenes and thrills that kept the cowboys life filled with high spirit, a happy-go-lucky set. Excuse my mistakes and disconnected sentences.—R. E. M.

PARENTS GIVE BABY'S BODY TO SCIENTISTS

CHICAGO, Dec. 6 (AP)—The young parents of 12 day old Daniel Ennesser, eleventh victim of a mysterious malady in St. Elizabeth's hospital offered the body of their first born today that medical science might seek the cause of the intestinal disease.

John G. Ennesser, the father, said he and his wife, Angeline, 26, "thought it would help the other little babies" if doctors performed an autopsy of their child.

Dr. Herman Bundesen, president of the board of health, said the autopsy would be performed.

62-YARD PASS.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6 (AP)—Kenny Washington's sensational forward pass, the motion picture camera shows, sailed 62 yards through the air before Teammate Hal Hirshon tucked it in and went for a touchdown. Washington, U. C. L. A. negro back, hurled the pass in the final quarter of the Bruins' football game with Southern California Saturday. Local football observers consider it the longest touchdown forward pass in college history.

caller was stopped, turned back. Messenger boys delivered literally bushels of telegrams, went away without replies.

The Lindberghs' two children did not accompany them and it was assumed that they were either at their parents' home in England or in Wales with their aunt, Mrs. Aubrey Morgan.

Their departure two years ago was not known until the Lindberghs were at sea, when it was "broken" by an alert newspaperman, and there was not a hint of their return, so successfully did they guard their plans, until they disembarked.

Reporters and photographers met the President Harding expecting to find nothing more exciting than the members of the Czechoslovakian trade treaty commission. A photographer recognized them as they walked down the third class gangplank.

The Colonel turned his slim back on newspaper men and ignored all questions as he and his wife hurried toward a car waiting at the curb.

LONDON, Dec. 6 (AP)—British newspapers broke their months of comparative silence on the doings of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh today in New York dispatches announcing their arrival in America.

Some of the newspapers expressed pride that the Lindberghs had found in England the peace and seclusion they had been "unable to find" in their native land.

They displayed prominently New York accounts asserting that "scenes of enthusiasm like those when Lindbergh returned after his Atlantic flight" marked the arrival of the lone eagle and his wife. These dispatches added that hundreds of automobiles blocked roads about Englewood, N. J., where the Lindberghs were staying, and that special police were posted about the Morrow estate.

There were confident predictions that the couple would return shortly to the country which had been their unobtrusive host for nearly two years in order to take up again their secluded life with their children.

BAN ON MOVIES ALSO BARS VOLVIA'S FILMS

ZION, Ill., Dec. 6 (AP)—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of the Christian Catholic Church and former "Czar of Zion," today found he had an empty victory in a war against Sunday movies.

He urged his faithful followers to defeat an ordinance last Saturday permitting Sunday movies and bowling. They did by an almost two to one margin.

Today Mayor Richard F. Hire remarked, "the people have spoken. There will be no movies of any kind."

Thus the election acted as a boomerang, for Voliva himself has been showing motion pictures "of an uplifting character, not exhibited for commercial profit." In his campaign, he said he would not object to pictures "if they were shown by a Christian man."

But the mayor added, "we will carry out the wishes of the people to the letter. The city council will pass an ordinance to stop Voliva's shows."

HELIUM GAS WILL BE EXPORTED TO GERMANY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—The state department authorized an agent of the German Zeppelin company today to export 17,900,000 cubic feet of non-inflammable helium gas.

The authorization, paving the way for resumption of experimental dirigible flights between Germany and the United States next spring, recalled the explosion of the German airship Hindenburg at Lakehurst, N. J., last May.

The Hindenburg was inflated with hydrogen, a highly explosive gas, and immediately after the tragedy, Dr. Hugo Eckener, the German Zeppelin builder, urged this country to release some of its helium supply. The United States has a virtual monopoly on the non-inflammable gas.

The authorization was granted to the American Zeppelin Transport, Inc., of New York, which listed itself as agent for the German company. The gas is wanted by Germany for use in a new Zeppelin, the LZ-130.

UNIONS FORM NEW JERSEY LABOR PARTY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—Establishment of a New Jersey labor party and steps toward a similar organization in Michigan occasioned new speculation today on the possibility of a national labor tickets in the 1940 Presidential election.

Both C. I. O. and American Federation of labor representatives took part in the founding of the American labor part of New Jersey yesterday at Newark. The delegates to the founding convention declared they represented 150,000 organized workers.

No action was taken on the question whether the new party should back its own candidates in elections or endorse those of other parties.

Preliminary to establishing a Michigan labor party, 250 union members formed at Detroit yesterday labor's non-partisan league of greater Detroit.

Organized labor, long important in politics, already has established itself as dominant in some localities.

The American labor party, casting 482,459 votes, was a factor in the re-election this fall of Fiorello H. La Guardia as Mayor of New York.

Speculation on the possibility of a national labor party in 1940 has revolved chiefly about the future of the Democratic party.

Some observers have expressed the opinion that if the Democratic element which has been favorable to legislation backed by organized labor retains control of the party in 1940, there is little likelihood of a labor party candidate for President.

La Guardia has been talked of by some as the possible Presidential candidate of a labor party, if one is formed.

Others have suggested that a labor-farmer party might develop from the progressive party of Wisconsin.

a British protest or of demands for compensation had arisen.

Japan's airforce spread its wings over a broad area of the Central China front today, apparently in preparation for a swift attack on Nanking.

A Japanese spokesman said air raiders bombed and set fire to fuel tanks, airdromes and Chinese defense positions in the vicinity of Nanking.

He said Japanese planes stabbed deep into China's interior and destroyed four large bombers and ten smaller planes, all allegedly of Russian manufacture. Two Chinese pursuit ships also were reported shot down.

Two British steamers were hit.

Several civilians aboard a launch belonging to the British Asiatic Petroleum (Shell) company were reported wounded by bomb fragments. Belief that some Britons were aboard was not confirmed.

Although 24 Americans still were at Wuhu, none was injured.

Japanese plans to set up a new, autonomous government for Shanghai were seen in the proclamation issued by Su Hsi-Wen announcing his assumption of the duties of mayor of "the great way." Observers interpreted "the great way" to mean the Shanghai area outside the foreign settlements and the proclamation to mean that O. K. Yui, the native mayor, had been replaced.

INFECTED TOOTH SACK FORCES FDR'S RETURN

ABOARD ROOSEVELT TRAIN EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt, returning from a curtailed southern vacation for possible surgical treatment of an infected tooth pocket, traveled across the Carolinas and Virginia today on a schedule arranged to place him at the White House about 4:30 p. m.

Capt. Ross T. McIntire, his naval physician, told reporters the president's general physical condition was "excellent." "Fishing and sunshine have benefitted him greatly."

The president said he would have no more messages for the special session of congress, but expected to confer with Democratic leaders soon after reaching Washington. No times had been set, though, he added.

FILIPINO PRESIDENT BRANDED "DICTATOR"

MANILA, Dec. 6 (AP)—Manuel Quezon, the Filipino country boy who rose from provincial governor to commonwealth president during 30 years of political give-and-take, heard himself branded a dictator "drunk with power" by an American clergyman today.

The Rev. Samuel W. Stagg, who left the Methodist church rather than return to the United States to another pulpit, delivered a scathing denunciation of the commonwealth executive at his cosmopolitan students church Sunday. He declared forces from within and without were working to undermine the Filipino's right to human freedom.

President Quezon, recovering from an operation, made no immediate answer to the pastor's accusations.

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your common cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many cough remedies, such as Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, and fluid extract of Licorice Root, but it also has fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect, and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote, perfectly blended with all of these so that it will reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by both adults and children with remarkable results.

Thousands of people, who really know their drugs, use Creomulsion in their own families, realizing that this excellent preparation aids nature to soothe the inflamed mucous membranes, to heal the irritated tissues, and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion "tops" for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible, and active in going to the very seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is generally found satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritation, especially those stubborn ones that start as just a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained from the very first bottle of Creomulsion. Don't worry through another sleepless night—use Creomulsion.

Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product, and the relief that you want. (Adv.)
