France Sends Protest Note to Berlin

FRANCE, ENGLAND AND ITALY AGREE ON A CONFERENCE To Raise Question Of Peace Treaty Violation

PARIS, Mar. 20. (AP)—France today sent a note to Berlin protesting the rearmament of that country.

The French government also announced that they had arranged a conference between France, Great Britain and Italy regarding the armament situation.

The French note protested the rearmament of Germany and the violation of the Versailles treaty before the league council.

The meeting of French, Italian and British representatives will be held either in Southern France or Northern Italy it was said to harmonize diverging views before Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary, goes to Berlin to talk arms with Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler.

An authoritative source said Britain may delay discussions with Washington until Simon returns from Berlin. This Government has received no intimation that the United States contemplates any immediate action of its own.

Million Soldiers Ready

At Berlin, bustling with activity as the conscription move got under way, neutral observers made the startling prediction that the Reich already is capable of putting 1,000,000 men in the field on short notice.

With the aid of highly mechanized transport units, an expeditionary force could reach Moscow within two days, the source asserted.

Moscow shared the dislike of Rome and Paris for the weak British note. Authorized Russian quarters asserted that Soviet patriots, an even greater capitulation than could have been expected.

The Communist party organ Pravda warned that Soviet patriots "is ever alert at our frontiers where enemies threaten."

Midland Yearlings Topped Market, So Came After More

Successfully topping the Chicago market last year with feed steers which he had bought at Midland, E. B. Ioder of Princeton, Ill., prominent feeder, returned here this week and bought from Andrew Fasken 200 head of steer yearlings for May 1 delivery, it was reported today.

The cattle were said to be the B. N. Aycock calves bought by Fasken last fall.

Ioder last year bought from Foy Proctor and Roy Parks a string of steers they had bought reportedly from the Ratliff and McKnight ranches. The cattle weighed about 475 pounds here and were fed to reach an average weight of 1,100 pounds. They sold at the top price of 14 cents per pound.

Ioder told Midland men that his calves at putting the weight on the calves bought from here last year, and the quality they possessed in getting him the market's top price, caused him to come back here for steers this year. It was reported that he paid a top price locally for the yearlings this week.

ATTEMPT TO CURB SUP'T DEFEATED

AUSTIN, Mar. 20. (AP)—Representative Alfred Petch of Fredericksburg charged in the house today that L. A. #### TO CARRY DAWSON TEST BELOW 4500

By PAUL OSBORNE

Further exploration in the Dawson county wildcat, Ray Albright No. 1 Robinson, was assured yesterday when parties interested in the test agreed to support drilling below the original contract depth of 4,500 feet which was reached Sunday.

With the true nature of the lime section debated, many are of opinion that a few hundred feet of additional drilling will definitely establish the structural position of the well. The Robinson test was started in 1933, and was taken over at 3,300 feet for deepening by Harry Adams Corporation and Fred Turner, present operators. Deepening is on a day to day drilling cost basis.

CLYDE BRADFORD SEES DANGER, CALLS FOR EXPRESSION OF COMMISSIONERS ON CENT-A-GALLON INCREASE IN GAS TAX

Representative Clyde Bradford of the 88th legislative district has written a letter to the county commissioners court here, asking for an expression as to favoring or disapproving the bill to increase the gasoline tax one cent a gallon.

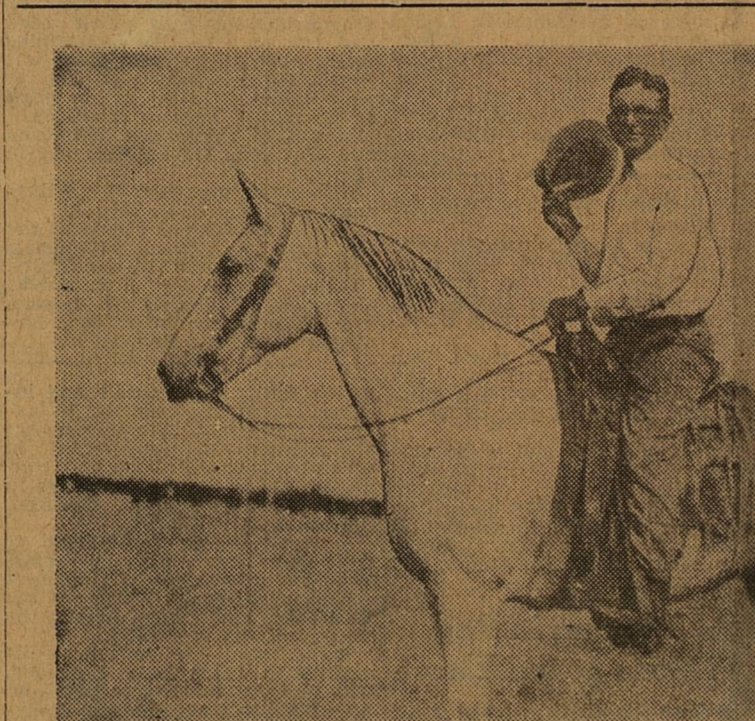

The representative in analyzing the bill, believes it will be a detriment to many West Texas counties, and sets forth his views in the following letter:

"In regard to the bill which increases the gasoline tax 1 cent per gallon, or in other words, from the 4 cent State tax we have now to 5 cents, with forty per cent of the total tax going to the State Highway Department, twenty-five per cent to the schools, and thirty-five per cent to take up bonded indebtedness of State Highways and lateral roads, it is my opinion that this bill will not lower the ad valorem tax in regard to the road bond issues that the State has assumed the past two years in reference to taking over the roads in your county.

"From what I can find out, apparently this bill will take over other roads, or in other words, lateral roads of the counties and I am of the opinion that this bill will not greatly benefit us, but will benefit those counties who have recklessly voted big bond issues and built good roads and we have been more conservative out in that part of the State. Now they are able to pay their bonded indebtedness, and are wanting us to help pay for same, therefore I think we would be paying for the building of their roads and do not have any and will not get any of this amount compared to the amount we have to pay.

"My impression of this bill was that it was just assumed the balance of the bonded indebtedness on those roads that the State took over a

PIONEER RANCH WOMAN DIES AT LOVINGTON HOME

Mrs. G. W. McGonagill, about 97 years old, widow of the late George McGonagill who operated the old "Apple" ranch, died at the ranch home near Lovington, N. M., Monday night, it was learned this morning by Johnson Graham of Midland who received a letter from his sister, Miss Eliza Graham of Lovington.

Mrs. McGonagill, whose husband died about ten years ago, moved to the ranch, about 12 miles from Lovington, in 1898. Later, she and her husband lived at Midland, but had been back at the ranch for several years.

Her daughters, Mrs. L. M. Murphy and Miss Anna McGonagill, lived with her. Other survivors are Mrs. Sid Kyle of Pecos, Mrs. A. I. Boyd of Hachita, N. M., and Mrs. Josie Quebedeaux of Phoenix, Ariz., daughters; and Charles McGonagill, son, of Toas, N. M.

Funeral services were to be held today, the letter to Mrs. Graham said.

The McGonagill ranch long had been famous for its fine horses. The animals bearing the Apple brand, were in demand for polo, ranch work or on race tracks as far back as 25 years ago. Many descendants of the famous string are still in use in the Midland county.

Lea, with her wildness, Bleinda and Bobby Smith with their bashfulness, and Granny with her philosophy will all contribute their share of comedy to the situations, along with the other characters who offer their own peculiar laugh-provoking antics and speeches.

The play which is under the auspices of the American Legion and is directed by Miss ZeDeane Horne will include 15 principal characters besides several choruses.

Admission will be 20 and 40 cents.

RANCH BRINGS $11,000

Entries for Saturday's Trades Day And Stock Show Growing; Hitching Rack to Be Made Half Block Long

The list of animals to be exhibited at Midland's trades day and stock show, scheduled for 1:30 Saturday afternoon on the lots south of The Reporter-Telegram, was growing rapidly today as W. T. Blakeway contacted owners of high grade livestock.

Work stock including several Percheron stallions and some jacks, as well as outstanding colts, will be exhibited.

Dairy bulls, cows and calves, also range bulls, are to be shown.

In the work horse division, S. O. Golladay will exhibit a Percheron stallion and two jacks, one his own property and the other one used through the A. & M. college extension service.

W. E. Wallace will show his Percheron stallion and some promising colts.

Slim O'Neal will exhibit a Percheron stallion and some of his colts.

Phil Brooks, also Lauder of Stanton, will show Percheron stallions and a number of colts.

Floyd Cottrell will bring in four coming two year old Percheron fillies.

Elmer Bizzell will display "the old family milk cow" a jersey which has mothered eighteen calves and still is a useful milk cow. He also has a roan Durham dairy bull and some calves of dairy stock to be shown.

Two pure bred Hereford bulls will be shown by E. B. Dickenson, from his ranch northwest of Stanton; a roan Durham bull from the Herman Blibrey place will be exhibited. R. O. Brooks will bring in his registered jersey bull and Boyce Eidson will show a jersey dairy cow.

F. F. Elkin will show two fed lambs from his farm and W. T. Blakeway will exhibit a pair of Angora goats. Floyd Cottrell plans to show some Poland China pigs.

One of the most unusual features of the show will be Fletcher Currie's string of Walker hounds, used for wolf hunts in this section.

Extension of the Town Quack hitching rack to a half block in length will be completed Friday, preparing for handling the horses, cattle, sheep, goats and pigs to be exhibited Saturday afternoon at Midland's opening trades day and fat stock show.

Material being donated by the city and by individuals for the job and labor will be used, with expenses for "odds and ends" met by the chamber of commerce.

The hitching rack was erected on the lots south of The Reporter-Telegram through a campaign conducted by the Town Quack column of the newspaper in 1931, in the interest of encouraging use of saddle horses and to provide a place to "hitch" for cowboys riding to town.

Long pipes, mounted on heavy cedar posts which are set in concrete, forming a series of arches, to which the wildest stock may be tethered.

FUTURE BECKONS TO THREE MEN WHO SEEK TO MOLD U. S. TO THEIR VIEWS ON HOW TO RUN THE COUNTRY, PEOPLE

Huey Long is all things to all men. To the conservative, he is an irresponsible radical, ready to bring the country down in ruin for the sake of his own ruthless career.

To the radical, he is the forerunner of American Fascism, without a political philosophy, ready to wage war on the people with fair promises and then enslave them in a dictatorship.

To thousands of submerged men and women he is a savior, promising to deliver them from the oppression of a vague "Wall Street" which has made and kept them what they are today.

To the Roosevelt administration he is a perpetual thorn in the side, who has seized for himself 12 lines out of every 100 in the year's record of Senate proceedings to voice himself through the Senate's sound-board.

To a few people in Louisiana whom he has broken and insulted, he is a mad dog.

To thousands of others, he is an unreal dream.

Such is his presidential aspirations seriously. He has begun to temper his profane manner of speech. He uses every public speaking opportunity, not to reply to attacks, but to publicize his "Every Man a King" program.

His signature has secured him a $500,000 radio station at Louisiana State University, which will soon be available to him at all times.

He has made a public speech before a Philadelphia Republican Club, he plainly indicated that if the Democrats didn't nominate him in 1936, he would head a third party.

Radio Priest is Prepared, and here the affairs of the National Union for Social Justice are administered.

Membership of the NUSJ has been estimated as high as 6,000,000. Figures, however, mean little in the case of loose organizations of this type, when the only requirement for membership is to send in a postcard. The man who sends his card today may not think of himself as a member tomorrow.

Such an organization is best judged by its effectiveness as a lobby, its apparent purpose. When the World Court recently, a flood of 40,000 telegrams descended on it, all demanding that the court be reformed, the night before, Father Coughlin had asked his listeners to so protest.

Other appeals for such protests had also been made by a large number of legal advisers, and again no one can measure exactly the influence either of the Radio Priest or of his NUSJ. But it is clearly a powerful force.

Future of the NUSJ as an organization is up in the air. As at first announced, included: nationalization of banking and money and of other national resources, anti-trust laws, a new social program for the public good, cost of production for agriculture, government protection for labor unions, and a number of other proposals.

The appeal for membership was on the basis of a non-partisan, non-sectarian organization, and there was a large number of legal advisers consisting of Catholic, Protestant, Jew and non-conformist, to help draw legislation to be lobbied.

Such a board of advisers appointed, public announcement was not made. Up to now, the NUSJ is Father Coughlin, backed by the names on file in the Crucifixion Tower.

Though radicals freely accuse Father Coughlin of being the pinnacle of an active fascist movement, he has never given any indication that he wishes executive position for himself.

Nevertheless, Roy M. Harrop, national chairman of the Farmer-Labor party, is quoted as saying that Father Coughlin is the leading candidate for the presidential nomination by a third party which is to hold a national convention in Omaha next July.

In his most recent talk, Father Coughlin again praised President Roosevelt (while Long continues to attack him bitterly). The recent move of the U. S. treasury in taking from national banks most of their power to issue currency is thought to have mollified the priest somewhat.

For the future, Father Coughlin and his National Union will be whatever his radio listeners (and their contributions) choose to make them.

High Johnson is just a private citizen today.

He has no public office and political machine behind him, like Long. He has no organized radio network, like Father Coughlin, and his NUSJ. He hasn't even a job, except writing.

But none of those things means that the former general is all through as a public force. In fact in the letter in which President Roosevelt accepted Johnson's resignation from NRA last September 25, there was a definite hint that there might be work still ahead for Johnson within the New Deal. The letter, after extending thanks and gratitude for Johnson's work with NRA, concluded:

"I hope that during these next (see NOTABLES, page 4)

BROWNWOOD AND CHICAGO MEN ARE VICTIMS OF CRASH

Accident Occurred 1 Mile West of Town

R. A. Bagley, 38, of Brownwood, and E. Frank Ehrenheim, about 25, Chicago, are both dead as the result of a wreck when their cars crashed together about one mile west of town at four o'clock this morning.

Bagley was driving a truck load of oranges, enroute from Phoenix, Brownwood, while Ehrenheim was driving a small roadster headed west when the wreck occurred at the west-end of the old highway intersection.

Bagley was driving far on the inside of the road when the two cars met and as there were no eye witnesses opinion is divided as to whether he had gone to sleep while driving or whether the smaller car, driven by Ehrenheim suddenly darted out from the old highway in front of the truck. After crashing together the truck veered across the road, tore down a highway marker and rolled over several times before finally stopping upside down.

Bagley was pinned under the truck when it stopped rolling and was still conscious when his brother, L. B. Bagley, trailing him in another truck, reached the scene of the wreck. The brother was unable to raise the truck off him and he was dead before enough help arrived to get him out from under the wrecked truck.

Stock was in the car with Ehrenheim at the time of the wreck and apparently was unhurt except for the nervous shock sustained but early this morning he went to the remains of the car, which belonged to him, and taking his bag he started walking toward the west. Officers found this unit in the morning when they were told that he had been seen walking out the west highway attempting to catch a ride. Officers immediately started a search in that direction for him but so far no news of him has been found. It was feared that he might have been killed.

Parents of Ehrenheim in Chicago were notified of his death early this morning and later in the day wired to Stock asking for more details and also asked him if he were able to catch a ride. Officers immediately had disappeared and funeral arrangements are being held up on Ehrenheim pending further word from his parents and the discovery of the missing youth.

Bagley is survived by a wife and two children, ages 18 and 15. He was notified of his death this morning and funeral arrangements are being held up pending their arrival today.

Flyer Forced Down By Dust Storm

Capt. W. A. Maxwell, flying a P-21, was forced down on the Hutt ranch about 25 miles southeast of town this morning because of a dust storm. The flyer was able to reach a Midland airport, however, and continued on his way to El Paso. He came from Randolph field at San Antonio.

Another arrival this morning was an O-43A in command of Lieut. R. Tyle enroute from El Paso to Hensley field at Dallas. He carried as passenger Col. Egan from Fort Bliss, and Cade W. R. Boutz enroute from Brooks field at San Antonio to El Paso by way of Roswell, N. M., made a third landing at the airport today. He was flying an O-43A.

BULLETIN Reports circulated on the streets of Midland today that Gordon Jones and B. Rutherford both former residents of the city were shot to death in Wink or Jal last night were not verified by either officers or this news- paper at the time of going to press.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

Ye old Tyme contributor, to whom I allotted too much space the other day in relating a nightmare referring to an Oscar Wilde story about slaying women with fat ankles, comes back with ten more reams, half of which are devoted to criticizing me personally for not laughing at his alleged humor, and the other half to explaining the point of the joke.

I got the point the first time. I just didn't laugh at it. And now to be mean—not knowing who the author of the Wilde joke is, my hint to him is that "brevity is the soul of wit." This column, day by day, probably lacks a lot of wit, but it seldom lacks brevity. This day, however, it does. I apologize for its length but I can't throw down this worthy effort. (P. S. If we don't get it all printed today, watch this space of our next issue.)

It seems that this contributor, after handing what was intended to be a little joke to the Town Quack, is going to have to re-tell the thing and say to his readers "now I am ready for you to laugh." He was glad to have it called "highly literary" etc., but does not feel complimented to have it said that his work was so literary no one could understand it. He warrants that this is, or seems to be, the ambition of a great many writers, but it is not his.

Even though he feels that it is not his fault if so many people cannot understand a joke unless it begins there were once two Irishmen and is contained in a dozen lines, or less, the original contributor, in the interest of general erudition, offers to simplify his former effort if the Quack will be so indulgent as to allow him space again. And after he has done this he invites those puzzled readers to examine the original article to see whether it is capable of this simpler statement, or rather to see if it is capable of any other.

"Lest we forget, the contributor refers to the article in which a story written by Oscar Wilde was mentioned.

"In that story Wilde made the strange statement 'there is no essential incongruity between culture and crime.' Strange argument was, and still is, necessary to uphold such an assertion, and strange characters are necessary to a story having such a theme. Mr. W. was the strange character in this one. Your contributor went into all that 'rigmarole' at the first of his article for the purpose of delineating a character (the one as briefly as he could) who could believe there is no incongruity between culture and crime. That is, that a person may be highly cultured and yet indulge in criminal practices. All that is ridiculousness of the thought that the Legislature might pass a law saying women with thick ankles must be hanged, even though they sometimes do things that do not suit all of us. But she was only half awake: I think the thought was rational enough for one in that state.

"Why that would decimate the population of the country," the poor thing thought.
"Perhaps it was all too pathetic to my reader to be funny. Sorry. Your contributor has such a twisted sense of humor."

And then I always enjoyed the old joke about the Reisterman. But, did you ever hear the one about the farmer who spent the night with the traveling salesman? Ho! Ho! Ho!

A society horse show, staged at the famous Los Angeles Breakfast Club, and with some of the finest and bluest blooded horses of the West Coast taking part, adds to the interest of the production.
There also are exciting polo matches in which Gene Raymond, Miss Stanwyck's romantic lead, and one of the best horsemen in Hollywood, takes active part. This is the first time Miss Stanwyck and Raymond have been cast together and the couple are said to make an ideal pair of screen lovers.

— so far as we know tobacco was first used about 400 years ago — throughout the years what one thing has given so much pleasure.. so much satisfaction Today the Governor of North Carolina says to the Governor of South Carolina— "Have a cigarette" TODAY people all over the world use tobacco in one form or another. They chew it, they smoke it in pipes, they smoke cigars and cigarettes, and here is what an eminent physician said about cigarettes: "I have been something of a student of cigarettes, and it is my belief that they offer the mildest and purest form in which tobacco is used." Yes, nowadays the cigarette is the most popular form in which tobacco is used. A good cigarette certainly gives men and women a lot of pleasure. Have a Chesterfield— For one thing—they're milder. For another thing—they taste better.

Notables--

few months you will get a thoroughly deserved rest, and that then you will be able to help me further in new duties and new tasks of public service. . . . There is no reason to think that the general's recent radio attack on the Longs and Coughlins is the result of this hint. In fact, there is every reason to believe that high administration leaders tried to keep Johnson from making the speech, or tried to get him to tone it down.

But it is plain that the general has had his rest, and itches to get back into the fight. His name has been suggested in connection with administration of several of the big public works projects planned for the coming year, but never with authority.

The best bet is the possibility, already referred to by Long, of running Johnson for the Senate from Oklahoma next year, when the term of Senator Gore expires. The matter of Johnson's residence is somewhat obscure, but it is believed he could establish unquestioned residence by next year. He lived in Oklahoma for many years as a boy, and his mother still lives in Oklahoma.

Long has already indicated that he will jump in to help Gore in that case. Which would be a curious sight; Long, who has split from the president because he doesn't consider Roosevelt radical enough, helping out Gore, who has already flayed the president as too radical. For such contradictions Huey cares nothing.

No greater pleasure could come to Jim Farley than thus to support Johnson in a Senate campaign against the conservative Gore, especially if the latter were actively backed up by Huey Long.

Regardless of his recent attacks on the scuttling of NRA, Johnson has never wavered in his faith in, and loyalty to, Roosevelt. And the president, though he was probably glad to see Johnson leave NRA, is personally fond of him and admires his fighting abilities.

The administration would naturally welcome in the Senate a defender who can match epithet for epithet with Long, and who would probably wield more influence than Huey with other senators.

But whether Roosevelt plans another executive job for Johnson, or whether plans are really afoot to place him in the Senate, it seems certain that some use will be found for his unique experience and the knowledge it has given him of today's problems.

And the general has apparently served notice that even if no such place is found for him, he's going to find it himself.

Long Is Piker! See "Galloway Plan"

By CLARENCE M. WRIGHT
WASHINGTON, Mar. 20, (AP)—A challenge to "stop being a piker and a tool of international bankers" and instead "get behind a real share-the-wealth program" was flung at Senator Huey Long yesterday by Rep. Gassaway (D-Okla.).

The man from the Southwest had a twinkle in his eyes and a smile on his face which hinted that maybe he wasn't completely serious after all. But he envisioned a nationwide chain of "Gassaway Plan Clubs" that would "back reactionary Huey into his rightful hole" and expound the Gassaway philosophy.

"If Huey is right that the government should just go ahead and print enough money for everybody, why stop at a lousy $5,000?" he asked.

"I don't have any use for that kind of cattle. Why, Huey would hammer the common folks down to $5,000 a year and let the Wall Street folks have an income of $1,000,000.

Shifting his booted foot so that the high heels clicked on the tiled floor, Gassaway remarked: "Long's theory is rotten. If he won't accept my plan to give the head of every family a $10,000-a-year income and limit any man's income to $100,000, then it just shows that he is a tool of the Rockefeller, Morgan, Mellon and the rest of them."

"Where's his money coming from anyhow? Why does he want to let some folks make as much as $6,000,000? Because he thinks he'll be in that income class some day?"

"He's got more than his lousy $5,000 he proposes to let the common folks have. If he didn't have, he couldn't have a standing army just between us fellows. I have not got a bodyguard, and I'd like to get a chance to whip hell out of Huey. But I haven't had a challenge from him yet."

He added that as soon as he could arrange for radio time, he would outline in detail the "Gassaway plan" and suggest the organization of clubs that will do some real good for the sweated worker."

We are in A New Automobile Era!

Cars built since 1931 have twice the power and speed of ten years ago!

Continental offers you better lubrication for modern cars —an *Alloyed Oil with twice the film strength of other oils!

IT'S hard to realize how improved cars of the '30s are over those we drove ten years ago. We are in a new automobile era! Power and speed have almost doubled in a decade, with little increase in motor size. Increased power has brought enormous increases in bearing pressures and crankcase temperatures. In making motor parts that will stand up under these severe conditions, car manufacturers have turned to new alloy metals of extra strength and durability. For the same reason, you must have oil with enough extra oiliness and film strength to protect your motor under extreme pressures!

Yet motor oils generally have no more oiliness and film strength now than they had ten years ago. New refining methods have recently come into use to make oils free from carbon and sludge. But these new refining processes have actually lowered instead of increased oiliness and film strength!

There is one exception—Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil.

Just as the metallurgist adds small amounts of other metals to make special alloy steels, so we add small quantities of concentrated oily essence to highly-refined, paraffin-base motor oil. This Germ Processing, discovered and patented by Continental scientists, gives Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil lubricating qualities no other oil has.

cessed Motor Oil. It, too, is free from carbon and sludge troubles, as its users know after millions of trouble-free miles of driving. But more important, Timken machine tests prove that the new Germ Process* puts into this oil 2 to 4 times the film strength of any straight mineral oil! That extra film strength protects your motor under the most extreme pressures and heat. Germ Processing gives other valuable advantages. Because Germ Processed Oil penetrates and combines with metal surfaces, a "Hidden Quart" stays up in your motor and cuts down starting wear. Germ Processed Oil gives longer mileage with greater motor protection, as proved by the famous Indianapolis Destruction Test. Plain mineral oils were all right ten years ago—today they are becoming obsolete. Say "O.K.—Drain"—fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil and drive with the comfortable assurance that your oil meets your motor's needs!
