Wellington Little League began play Monday evening, May 16, at a new location, the VFW-Little League ball park, located on the Veterans of Foreign Wars grounds, on FM highway 338 adjacent to the airport.

Billy Wilkerson, president, announced plans.

Four Little League teams were organized, the Astros, A's, Athletics and Braves.

New uniforms were bought and are due to arrive this week, Wilkerson said.

All make-up games will be played on Saturdays.

The largest crowd to watch a game in several years came out for the opening game, and Wilkerson urged that parents come to all games. "These are very important to your child. Please make every effort to be there," he said.

Ray Cozad will serve as Little League umpire.

Wellington summer youth baseball operates under official Little League rules. There is also a division for younger boys, T-Ball, and two Senior League teams to play in that division. Tony Stephens and Maxie Tarver are the Senior League Coaches.

Mrs. Christeen Jolley of LaHabra, Calif., a sister of Mrs. Peters, assisted in serving.

The anniversary table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with red roses to denote the ruby wedding anniversary. Crystal appointments were used.

Approximately 160 signed the guest register.

David Peters married the former Trudie Ogletree on May 13, 1943 in the Church of Christ.

Mrs. Peters tells with pride that she is one of the few people living in Collingsworth County who came here in a covered wagon. Although she was quite small, she recalls that as the family moved from Littlefield they camped at Quitaque overnight, sleeping on the ground. Next morning their beds were covered with snow. They reached the Marella community in December 1928.

Both are devoted community workers.

Peters has been a member of Wellington Volunteer Fire Department 17 years and fire chief 10.

He holds the distinction of the top blood donor in Wellington to the Red Cross Bloodmobile, lacking only two pints of having given 9 gallons.

He belongs to Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service.

They are members of the Church of Christ and both taught Sunday School class several years. He is a past deacon.

Mrs. Peters is known for her work with the Extension Service, having been a member of Midway Home Demonstration Club, now Extension Homemakers, many years one of the organizers of the Homemakers Club, and a former THDA chairman.

She helped to organize the volunteers who work with Thomas Nursing Center, is a long-active member and now vice president of Quail Ex-Students Association.

Peters is a partner in Southside Salvage.

Mrs. Peters formerly worked for Montgomery Ward, Raburn Grocery and Hatch Dry Goods. She operated a wedding catering service from 1958 to 1973.

The occasion was the celebration of their 60th wedding anniversary.

Hosts were their two sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gooch of Darrouzett and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Gooch of Lubbock.

An ecru lace cloth covered the refreshment table, which was centered with a springtime arrangement of silk flowers. Granddaughters of the couple, assisted by Mrs. James Kingston, served approximately 80 guests who called to honor Mr. and Mrs. Gooch.

Hosts alternated in receiving the guests and presiding at the guest book.

All the children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren were among those who attended.

Also present was Mrs. Gooch sister, Kathleen Leggitt Kelley of Roswell, N.M. Only the two survive from a family of 8 brothers and sisters.

Mr. Gooch's only surviving sister, Mrs. W.W. Beach of Las Cruces, N.M., is 98 years of age and unable to attend.

Guss Gooch and Bess Leggitt were married in the Methodist parsonage in Wellington May 16, 1923.

She was born in Clay County, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Leggitt. The family came to the Plymouth community (southwest of the present Samnorwood) when she was 6 weeks old. Her mother, Mrs. Leggitt, was an early postmaster at Plymouth. Mrs. Gooch was graduated from Wellington High School and West Texas State University. She taught for 8 years in the Aberdeen, Abra and Samnorwood Schools and was a substitute teacher at Wellington.

At Dozier, she was active in Home Demonstration Club now the Extension Homemaker Club work. She served as county president of the Texas Home Demonstration Association and worked with the Red Cross. The club was evolved into a crafts club, of which she is still a member.

Mr. Gooch was born in Hamilton County and came to Dozier in 1921, after he had graduated from high school at Indian Gap and attended Meridian College.

He began farming in 1922 and farmed continuously at Dozier until 1976, the year the couple moved into Shamrock.

To those who wonder at the many years he farmed, he replies: "I started young."

His brother, Dr. J.W. Gooch, had come to Shamrock in 1918 and practiced medicine there many years.

Their mother, Mrs. A.A. Gooch, moved to Shamrock in 1931 after the death of her husband.

His sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Beach, lived in Wellington while he practiced here.

Mr. Gooch worked as county and community committeeman with the AAA and its successor, the ASC farm programs. He notes he did a lot of chain carrying in the measurement phase of the program.

He served on the Samnorwood School Board in the late 1930s and early 1940s and is a 25-year member and former secretary-treasurer of Samnorwood Lions Club. He still attends the meetings.

Letters From The People

Dear Editor,

A problem of pornographic long distance calls billed to both public and private phones has recently come to our attention. Both youth and prankster adults are placing these calls (usually to a New York number) on some Wellington phones without owner permission. As interested educators, we would like to inform you and the parents of our local school children concerning this problem. Parents might want to check past or future phone bills.

This is not a major problem. Wellington students are fine young Americans who have too much pride to mess with pornography in any form. We just need to work together to stop these problems before they start.

Sincerely,
Wellington Jr. High Faculty

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY AGENT REPORT

by DON REEVES

WHEN BUYING AN INSECTICIDE

When choosing an all-purpose insecticide, check the product label. Verify that the active ingredients listed are of low toxicity and are recommended specifcally for the plants, fruit or vegetables you have in your own garden. One additional advantage malathion provides home vegetable growers is insect protection that extends close to harvest. This means the interval between last spray and picking is very short. The permitted time interval is shown on the label.

Most insecticides are available as emulsifiable concentrates, wettable powders, or dusts. Follow label directions exactly, mix only the amount you need, and spray at the first sign of insect trouble. Make sure you get good overall coverage and pay particular attention to leaf undersides, which are often neglected. Other tips for best results: don't spray in hot sun, or on a windy day. The best time to apply your insecticide is early morning or late afternoon.

To sum it all up - unless you plan to develop enough expertise to use special-purpose insecticides, your best bet is to choose a good all-purpose product. Those available today are tried and true, and they do a good job. Use only when necessary, but use your general-purpose insecticide exactly as described on the label. You should get very good results.

Go placidly amid the noise and haste and remember what peace there may be in silence.

As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons.

Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they, too have their story.

Avoid loud and agressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit.

If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself.

Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans.
