Mrs. Babe Hickman Tells Of Threat Against Husband's Life

CLAY COUNTY WOMAN WOOED, SHE TESTIFIES

Defendant's Wife Recites Attentions Paid Her By Duncan

MEETING AVOIDED

Mrs. Hickman Stayed Away From Christmas Tree At Church

By LOUIS T. HAMLETT
Staff Correspondent

HENRIETTA, Texas, March 7.—"Bill said he was going to get me if he had to kill Babe," Mrs. Eula Hickman testified in the trial of her husband, Babe Hickman, in the 97th district court here Thursday on a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of Will Duncan at the Stanfield ranch north of Henrietta last Christmas day.

Mrs. Babe Hickman, first witness for the defense, stated that Duncan had been making improper advances toward her for the last five years. She said that her husband and Duncan had quarreled over this matter five years ago and that she had not told Babe Hickman of Duncan's advances since that time for fear of causing trouble.

Gift Promised

She said that on Christmas eve afternoon Duncan told her he was going to put a present for her on the Christmas tree at the Stanfield church scheduled to be held that evening.

Mrs. Hickman further testified that she did not go to the church Christmas tree and that Duncan came to the Hickman home the following morning and told her he had the present for her and was going to leave the country and wanted her to go with him.

He then told her that he was going to "get her if he had to kill Babe," she said.

Death Warning

Mrs. Hickman told the jury that her sister, Mildred, came to the Hickman home with a message from Mrs. Duncan that if she "took the present there would be a death before night."

Mrs. Hickman maintained a calm attitude while on the stand and answered all questions in a clear, firm voice.

The next witness for the defense was Mrs. Will Duncan, wife of the slain man and sister of the defendant. Mrs. Duncan is an invalid and was assisted to the witness stand by two men, one of whom remained by her side and held a bottle, containing a restorative, to her nose while she testified.

Mrs. Duncan testified that her husband was "overbearing when he was drinking" and that he was drinking on Christmas eve. She

$150,000 Rickard Hall Planned At Henrietta

Pioneer of Town in Which 'Tex' Was Marshall Heads Association to Promote Memorial Building

Special to The Record News

HENRIETTA, Texas, March 7.—Friends and old-time pals of the late Tex Rickard, premier sports promoter, have laid plans for a memorial auditorium, to be erected as a tribute to the hardy youngster who once was city marshal here, it was made known today.

The auditorium, it is planned, will cost approximately $150,000, and will seat about 2,500 people. The firm of Voelcker & Dixon, Wichita Falls architects, are now drawing plans for the structure.

Behind the move is an organization known as the Tex Rickard Memorial association, formed Wednesday night, A. H. Bevering, pioneer Clay county resident, and said to be the oldest living friend of the late promoter, was named president of the association. Three active vice presidents were named. The first is Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion of the world and successor to Rickard in the promoting field. The other two are C. G. McKinney, president of the Henrietta Chamber of Commerce, and Frank Holaday.

Mrs. Tex Rickard was named treasurer and sole trustee of the funds to be used in building the auditorium.

A board of directors composed of 42 members was also named.

Impetus was lent to the move through the report of Mr. McKinney, Professor C. F. Bullivan, principal of the high school and Mr. Holaday, that Mrs. Rickard and Mr. Dempsey are heartily in favor of the plan. These three, representing business men and friends of Tex Rickard in Henrietta, recently made a special trip to Miami, Fla., to present the plan to Rickard's widow and Dempsey.

It is planned that Mrs. Rickard shall appoint a financial committee to lay plans for obtaining funds. The board of directors, it was said, is to create districts, each director having charge of activities in a set district. Plans are, it was said, for the funds to be raised through subscriptions by those interested in Rickard and in things of the sporting world.

As the move progresses, it is planned to name more directors in Texas and in New York City.

Johnston Declares He'll Not Employ Mrs. Hammonds Again if Acquitted

Suspended Governor Reviews His Stormy Political Career In Long Stay on Witness Stand

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., March 7. (AP)—Governor Henry S. Johnston told the senate impeachment court today that he would not reinstate Mrs. O. O. Hammonds as his confidential secretary if he is returned to office at the conclusion of his impeachment trial.

The suspended governor made the statement in reply to a question by J. B. Dudley, of his defense counsel.

Occupying the stand in his own defense at the afternoon session of the court, Johnston reviewed his administration and the efforts of his friends to dislodge Mrs. Hammonds because of rumors that his relations with her were improper.

"I told them there was nothing to it and I would not and could not discharge Mrs. Hammonds on such excuses," the suspended governor said.

Testifying in rebuttal to prosecution evidence that Mrs. Hammonds had dictated the affairs of the executive office, Johnston said:

"Contrary to an apparent public belief, I could control what was going on in my office."

FRITTS CALLED IRRESPONSIBLE

Relatives Further Insanity Claim of Slayer

ANSON, Texas, March 7. (AP)—Testimony by relatives of Bill Fritts that he had been "irresponsible" at periods in his life, had attempted suicide several times, and had "acted insanely", featured Thursday's hearing of Fritts' trial for the murder of Earl Hamilton, 17, son of a prominent Haskell county family, last fall near Rochester.

Defense efforts to substantiate the insanity plea began only an hour before court adjourney, after the state had spent most of the day introducing witnesses to the shooting and entering statements Fritts was alleged to have made two days after the slaying. Fritts, in the statements, said he shot D. W. Hamilton and his son, Earl, because Earl "had sworn falsely against him."

Testimony was introduced to show that Earl had appeared before a Haskell county grand jury and told of buying whisky from Fritts.

Mrs. D. W. Hamilton, widow and mother of the slain men, told of the shooting, which took place in the front yard of the Hamilton home. She said the two men were summoned into the front yard by Fritts and that a moment later there was a succession of shots. Her son, Earl, fell inside the door, she said. Fay Hamilton, a sister of Earl, also described the shooting.

Argument Over Cow Causes Fatal Shooting of Duke, Okla., Farmer

Special to The Record News

ALTUS, Okla., March 7.—An argument over the ownership of a cow was the only cause apparent today for the slaying late Wednesday of Hayes Wampler, 38, who was shot to death on a highway near the W. E. Taylor farm, four miles east and two miles north of Duke, Okla.

The argument is said to have involved W. E. Taylor and Charles Blair, an employe on the farm. Taylor and Wampler, who had driven to the Taylor farm, were involved in the alleged dispute when Blair, who had until then remained in the house, approached. When Wampler was believed to have reached for a weapon, a shot from a shotgun was fired, virtually decapitating Wampler.

This was the information in the hands of L. B. Yates, county attorney, late today, after he had visited the scene and conducted an investigation.

Blair came to Altus and surrendered late Wednesday night, and today a charge of murder was filed against him, County Attorney Yates said.

Examining trial has been called for 10 a. m. Friday.

Blair gave his age as 44, and said his home was in Laredo, Texas.

COL. STEWART DEFEATED ON 'MORAL' ISSUE

Rockefeller Forces Succeed In Ousting Standard Oil Chairman

Close Friend of Defeated Oil Magnate Takes Place as Director

WHITING, Ind., March 7. (AP)—Col. Robert W. Stewart lost his long battle today with John D. Rockefeller Jr. to retain his $125,000-a-year position as chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

Mr. Stewart went down to a defeat more decisive than had been predicted by the Rockefeller group, which had demanded his resignation because of alleged "moral unfitness," but he left the annual stockholders' meeting with the plaudits of the record gathering ringing in his ears.

Position Abolished

The position of chairman, from which Stewart was ousted by more than 2,500,000 votes, was abandoned by the new board of directors which met immediately after being elected.

Edward G. Seubert, president of the corporation, was re-elected and made chief executive officer. He will take over the duties of Stewart, whose successor on the board is William M. Burton, former president of the concern.

The new board of 11 has three additions, Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National bank of Chicago; Gentry Cash, manager of the Whiting refinery, and Thomas S. Cooke, former superintendent of the Whiting plant, and now a vice president of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport corporation.

Slates Are Similar

Slates presented by the Rockefeller faction and Stewart supporters were identical with the exception of Stewart, Mr. Burton and Mr. Traylor. Traylor was named to succeed Louis L. Stephens, who, although defeated as a director, was retained as general counsel.

Election of officers by the board was done without suggestion from the Rockefeller group, Rockefeller men said, adding that this bore out Rockefeller's statement that he was interested only in outsting Stewart.

The board of election inspectors reported that a total of 8,646,120 votes had been cast. Of these, 817,410 were presented in person and 7,628,710 by proxies.

Stewart Cheered

When Stewart completed reading of the company's annual business statement, which showed net earnings for 1928, without allowing for taxes, as $83,437,166, an increase over the preceding year of $50,239,170, the cheers and applause were deafening. The crowd rose to its

Road Bond Issue Bill Engrossed

AUSTIN, March 7. (AP)—Sagging hopes of house passage of a constitutional amendment for submission of a $175,000,000 highway bond issue in September were bolstered tonight through engrossment of the resolution by a 94-41 vote.

The ballot, taken after hours of debate, revealed only six votes needed to reach the two-thirds majority for final sanction before the amendment can be acted on at the polls.

Towle of Snyder was confirmed for reappointment to the board.

MOODY VETOES SCHOOL FUNDS

Governor Slashes Emergency Appropriation

AUSTIN, March 7. (AP)—Governor Moody late today vetoed all of the items carried in the $1,447,607.17 emergency educational appropriation bill, except the 1928 summer school provisions, the $175,000 rural aid and a few other items. Items untouched by the blue pencil aggregate less than $300,000.

The depleted condition of the general revenue fund as of next Sept. 1, was given at his reason for whittling the bill.

"There are but two things that can be done, either these appropriations must be cut down, or you must find other sources of revenue to meet the payment of your appropriations," the governor said in his message. "The latter can be done alone by you, but I can undertake, in co-operation with you, to reduce these appropriations."

Senator Pollard, chairman of the senate finance committee and author of the bill, said the bill would be set for consideration as special order tomorrow afternoon.

Bull Fights And Siestas Are Held Despite Uprising

MEXICO CITY, March 7. (AP)—Bull fights, theaters and cabarets continue to do business in Mexico City in spite of the revolution and even the national custom of taking a siesta every day has not been disturbed by the rebellion.

Crowds go about apparently unaware that fighting is in progress and all business houses are going ahead with the projects they were pushing before the revolt. For next Sunday the bull ring is advertising a big spectacle, a fight between a lion and a bull.

About the only signs of the military situation that can be noted are the frequent meetings at Chapultepec palace, the president's home, where war councils are in progress, and the occasional movement of troops through the streets.

The night train to Laredo, via Tampico, is to be restored tonight and air mail to Tampico has been resumed.

Former President Calles still is in Mexico City directing military operations. Dressed in civilian clothes he goes about his duties cheerfully, apparently unworried by the situation.

Prices on some food stuffs jumped sharply during the first two days of the revolution when it appeared that Mexico City might be cut off from the world for sometime, but this situation began to adjust itself as communications were restored and a committee of the government has been appointed to regulate prices from now on.

Hoover Calls Extra Session for April 15

WASHINGTON, March 7. (UP)—The 71st congress was called to meet in extra session on April 15 in a proclamation issued by President Hoover today. The purpose of the session, the proclamation said, is to "effect further agricultural relief and legislation for limited changes of the tariff."

GUSHER OPENS NEW OIL FIELD

Continental Brings in Huge California Well

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., March 7. (AP)—A test well of the Continental Oil company blew in 12 miles east of here today, injuring eight oil workers. The gusher spouted in a virgin field. The extent of injuries received by the workers could not be learned, although two were reported hurt seriously.

Reports here said the gusher was "running wild" and throwing a column of gas and oil high in the air. No fire danger was imminent, reports said. Control of the well was expected within several hours.

The well came in near Carpenteria, Calif. The field never had been drilled before, it was understood, and oil men viewed the gusher as opening a new territory.

McDonald Will Case Is Again Postponed

PARIS, Texas, March 7. (AP)—Illness and the necessity for farm work again caused postponement of the McDonald will case, in which relatives seek to break the will of W. J. McDonald, who left $1,250,000 to Texas university for an observatory.

The jury panel was excused today by Judge Newman Phillips who said he believed it impracticable to hold sessions this week.

The judge said the case would be reset for Monday.

Court Holds Special Session at Liberty

LIBERTY, Texas, March 7. (AP)—A special session of court was ordered by Judge Thomas B. Coe tonight to hear closing arguments in the trial of John Swilley, 66, farmer, charged with the murder of H. J. Hendrix, 34, Houston carpenter, last November.

Hendrix was shot to death at Swilley's home after Hendrix and his wife had gone to the house to get out of a storm.

Lindbergh to Make Dangerous Air Trip Over War Torn Mexican Area

MEXICO CITY, March 7. (US)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will leave Mexico City bound for the United States over the heads of the revolutionists, early Saturday morning, according to plans announced today.

It was not declared what plane Colonel Lindbergh would fly, but he will not be able to use his own plane because the repairs made necessary by the crash when he overturned a week ago with his fiancee, Miss Anne Morrow, have not yet been made. Mechanics at Val Buena, flying field informed Colonel Lindbergh this week that they would be unable to make the repairs until special parts arrived from the United States.

It is considered that the revolution, which has unsettled commercial conditions at some ports of entry, makes it difficult to figure on prompt delivery of freight or express from over the border.

It became apparent today that there was no basis for the rumors which have had it that Colonel Lindbergh and Miss Anne would marry before the Lone Eagle left Mexico.

The names of any passengers, if there are to be any, who will accompany Colonel Lindbergh on his dangerous flight over parts of the country held by the rebels on Saturday, were not made public.

FIGHT PLANS READY

Texans Line Rio Grande To Watch Expected Battle For City

MEXICO CITY, March 7. (US)—Gen. Jesus Palomera Lopez, military commander of the state of Michoacan, was executed after courtmartial in that state today. He was charged with inciting rebellion.

EL PASO, March 7. (AP)—General Miguel Valle, commanding revolutionary forces of the General Marcelo Caraveo faction, told two El Continental newspaper reporters this afternoon they would attack Juarez before Friday morning.

General Valle informed the reporters they would not fire one shot onto American soil but that they would rely on superior numbers in a hand to hand combat.

General Interviewed

The interview took place aboard the rebel trains a few miles south of Juarez this afternoon. The newspaper men reported that there are 54 cars in the train and that the rebel force numbers 1,600 men.

These trains, on the Mexican national railway lines, will be joined near Juarez by a Mexico Northwestern train with other revolutionary forces, it is reported. The newspaper men estimated that at least 2,000 rebels will attack Juarez. General Miguel Valle is said to be in supreme command as General Caraveo is not with the rebel troops. He is dynamiting federal troop trains in other parts of the country General Valle announced.

Other generals commanding detachments with the attacking party are Marcello Murieta, Bernave Gonzales and Augustin de la Vega, El Continental learns.

Bridges Repaired

The rebel troops are reported as equipped with army engineering facilities. General Valle declared that in 45 minutes his engineers had thrown a makeshift bridge across an arroyo to replace a burned bridge. It had been estimated in Juarez that the repair of the bridge would take at least four hours.

Late this afternoon the rebel trains were reported as nine miles south of Juarez where a bridge was being repaired before proceeding on the border city.

FEDERALS DELAY ATTACK ON CITY

EL PASO, March 7. (US)—Approach of Mexican revolutionists on Juarez, Mexico, across the Rio Grande from here, had apparently been delayed tonight.

Mexican federal scouts burned railroad bridges 10 miles to the south to prevent the movement into Juarez and three trains, said to be carrying Governor Topete of Chihuahua and several hundred of his revolting troops.

City Fortified

The federal garrison at Juarez, under command of Gen. Mathias Ramos, was working feverishly to fortify the city.

Earlier in the day it had been reported the federals and rebels had made contact five miles south of Juarez but this report was later denied. Troops observed in that region were Mexican federals engaged in blocking the railroad, and dynamiting bridges. The dynamiting was mistaken for gunfire.

Hundreds of sight seeing Americans lined the American side of the Rio Grande to observe the expected battle. Many crossed the river and entered Juarez without hinderance from either the American or Mexican officials.

Armored Car Ready

Street car traffic across the international bridge is uninterrupted.

United States army observation planes droned over El Paso, while an armored machine gun squadron stands in readiness to cross into Juarez if the Mexicans open an engagement and permit bullets to fly

MRS. HICKMAN TELLS THREAT

Defendant's Wife Tells Of Duncan's Actions

said that a present for Mrs. Eula Hickman which was on the Christmas tree was given to her (Mrs. Duncan) when Mrs. Hickman did not attend the fete and that she took it home and hid it.

Duncan found the present the next morning and took it, she said. Mrs. Duncan testified that she asked Mrs. Babe Hickman's sister, Mildred, to tell Mrs. Hickman to refuse the present that Will had.

Ben Hickman, brother of Babe who was present at the time of the slaying, was the last witness called during the afternoon session. He testified that Babe told him he was going squirrel hunting Christmas morning but that he was going to stop at Duncan's house and ask Mrs. Duncan what she meant by the message she sent Mrs. Hickman about "not accepting the present."

Ben Hickman said that when he and Babe reached the Duncan home that Duncan and an employe of his, Pem Barron, were sitting on the well curb.

"What about the present you bought my wife," he quoted Babe as saying. Duncan then started to rise with an open knife in one hand, he testified, and Babe Hickman shot him in the eye with a shotgun.

The defendant, Babe Hickman, will take the stand Friday, according to defense attorneys, and the case is expected to go to the jury Friday afternoon.

The trial opened before Judge Vincent Stine Thursday morning. The defense refused to plead on the ground that the indictment was defective and the court entered a plea of "not guilty" before the defendant.

The special venire of 80 men called in the case were examined collectively and the jury had been selected by 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

Pem Barron, first witness called by the state, took the stand at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. He said that Babe Hickman said "what about that present you bought my wife," and "I am going to kill you." Duncan cried, "Wait," three times and was adjusting his hat when the shot was fired, he testified. He said that Duncan had been whittling and held an open knife in the hand with which he grasped his hat.

E. Moore, the only other witness called by the state, told the jury that Babe and Ben Hickman passed his place on the way to the Duncan home and that Babe said he was going squirrel hunting.

Taylor, Muse and Taylor are representing the defendant while the prosecution is in the hands of Clay County Attorney W. J. Glasgow and Montage County Attorney T. H. Yarbrough.

Judge Stine refused "for the present" to allow the state to present in evidence a statement alleged to have been made by Mrs. Babe Hickman soon after the slaying.

Needy Mother "Climbs Hill" to Pay Her Chest Dues

More in need of charity than in a position to give it, one elderly woman who lacked sufficient clothing and who had an undernourished appearance climbed the auditorium hill Thursday afternoon to pay off a 25-cent subscription which she promised to the Community Chest last fall.

According to Miss Myrle Neely, executive secretary of the Community Chest, the woman and her small child were from one of the poorest districts of the city and how they raised money to pay off the first quarterly payment on their chest subscription was almost a miracle.

Most of the people in that vicinity are now being supported by relief associations and by the chest fund.

COL. STEWART LOSES FIGHT

Rockefeller Victor in Standard Battle

feet, whistling and stamping its feet, continuing for some minutes while the colonel stood with flushed face.

"It would be idle for me to say that I leave the Standard Oil company without regret," he said after the balloting. "For years its welfare has been my deepest concern. Its affairs have been my very life. I have seen it grow under the present administration from a $167,000,000 corporation with 4,620 stockholders to practically a billion-dollar corporation with 56,293 stockholders.

"One can not disassociate himself from such an intimacy without a wrench."

Thanks Stockholders

Stewart said he thanked the 7,901 of the 7,918 employe stockholders who voted for him and the 31,337 stockholders of the company who executed proxies in his favor or voted personally for him.

The final check showed that 15,204 gave proxies to the Rockefeller group, the big margin in favor of John D. Jr. being due to the large blocks of stock represented.

The fight against Stewart had been carried on through the nation while John D. Jr. traveled in Egypt and the Holy Land.

The trouble dated back to more than a year ago, when Stewart was summoned before the senate committee investigating what happened to the remainder of the bonds representing the profit of the Continental Trading, Ltd., part of which were proved to have been given former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall for his part in granting the Teapot Dome oil lease.

Stewart Organizer

Stewart was one of the organizers of the Continental company, a Canadian corporation. His associates were James O'Neil, Harry Sinclair and Harry M. Blackmer, then president of the Midwest Refining company, a Standard Oil subsidiary.

W. A. Humphreys, a Texas oil man, had a quantity of oil which he was willing to sell for $1.50 a barrel. The Continental Trading company was formed, purchased the oil for $1.50 a barrel and immediately resold it to the companies represented by Stewart, Sinclair and O'Neil at $1.75 a barrel. Profit from this transaction was reported to have been close to $3,000,000.

That was invested in Liberty bonds and is thought to have been distributed among the organizers of the company.

Indicted for Contempt

Stewart was called before the committee Feb. 2, 1928. He said he never got any of the bonds himself and refused to tell whether he knew who did. This refusal aroused the ire of John D. Rockefeller Jr., who demanded Stewart's resignation.

Stewart was indicted in Washington for contempt on April 21. He later was acquitted. He admitted, however, that he had received $750,000 worth of the Continental Trading, Ltd., company bonds, which he kept in trust for his company in a safe in his office. He then was indicted by a District of Columbia grand jury for perjury, but later was acquitted on this charge also.

JUAREZ HELD BY FEDERALS

Attack on Border City Meets Delay

across the river. Cavalry detachments are also ready for action.

Gen. George Van Horn Mosely, commander at Fort Bliss, entered Juarez shortly before noon and warned Gen. Mathias Ramos, Mexican commander, that the United States would not permit border fighting that would endanger American lives and property.

Caraveo Force Weak

The Caraveo forces were said to be weak, due to dissention in the ranks. At Chihuahua City yesterday when Governor Caraveo decided to join the uprising, units of his military force elected to remain loyal to the federal government. Caraveo is then said to have started for the border. He had two objectives, first to be in a position to escape to the United States if the revolution fails, and second, to take Juarez and hold it if the revolution is successful.

Reports were also received here during the day that the army of Gen. Gonzales Escobar who captured Monterey and later evacuated the city at the approach of federal forces, is moving through Torreon toward either Piedras Negras or Juarez to make contact with revolutionists of Juarez and Sonora.

MONTERREY FRONT CLEARED OF REBELS

SAN ANTONIO, March 7. (US)—Complete elimination of the Monterey "front" was reported in despatches reaching here late today.

The rebel column under the command of Gen. Gonzales Escobar still is in full flight beyond Saltillo. Gen. Juan Andres Almazan is reported to be steadily advancing on the rebel stronghold between Saltillo and Torreon.

Two other federal columns are said to be closing in on Gen. Escobar's army from the north and east.

Heavy fighting at Sabinas, 80 miles south of Del Rio, Texas, was described in a message received by Mexican consular officials.

HUERTA ACTIVE

LOS ANGELES, March 7. (AP)—Adolfo de la Huerta, former Mexican rebel leader, who last night declared he would not participate in the present revolution in his country, said tonight in a signed statement that he was "participating in the problems of my country in a manner which I consider most humane and patriotic. In a few days my efforts will be known."

How To Get HEALTH and How To Keep It

If the reading of this article teaches you only this one lesson about your own body it may be worth more than millions of dollars to you; for of what use is money without health, or after you are dead?

The lesson is this:—"Keep your system pure and you will have health and strength to gain and enjoy happiness, success and length of years."

But you may ask:—

How Can I Keep My System Pure?

That is not a hard question to answer, for physiology plainly teaches you that your liver, which is larger than any of your other vital organs, has the special work of purifying your blood and thereby your entire system and of keeping it pure and healthy.

How Does the Liver Purify?

Physicians tell us that the liver has several functions, one of which is to manufacture a greenish-yellow, bitter fluid called the bile, which, between meals, is stored up in the gall-bladder, but after each meal is poured out into the intestines. The bile is purgative and antiseptic or prophylactic. In health, it is your bile that makes your bowels act regularly and freely every day,—it is Nature's only purgative. It is your bile that keeps your bowels pure, sweet, clean and free from fermentation (gas) putrefaction and decay. Remember that germs do not thrive where there is fresh bile and there can therefore be no fermentation to cause gas, nor putrefaction or decay to produce poisons or toxines. Also, as bile is Nature's purgative, there can be no constipation if the bile is flowing naturally and freely from the gall-bladder into the bowels after each meal.

But when the bile becomes stagnant and stops flowing freely, your bowels stop acting regularly and the contents become a foul, stagnant breeding bed for the germs of fermentation (gas) decay and disease. These poisons, (called toxines) are gradually absorbed into your blood and circulate all over your body, poisoning, irritating or inflaming your brain and nerves, your muscles and joints, your heart, lungs, skin, kidneys, bladder, spleen and every vital organ of your body, including your liver, stomach and bowels. Your doctor calls this "intestinal toxaemia."

Functions of Gall-Bladder

In 24 hours your liver secretes about 25 to 30 ounces (5 to 6 teacupsful) of bile, which flows through millions of minute canals, or ducts, uniting to make a large tube which empties into the gall-bladder, as creeks and rivulets unite to form a rives that flows into a lake. Your gall-bladder is a hollow muscle that serves the double purpose of a reservoir and a pump. Its functions are similar to those of the urinary bladder. About two hours after eating, when the food is passing from the stomach into the intestine, your gall-bladder should begin its peristaltic contractions, thus pumping the bile into the small intestine where it is mixed with your food. Bile is also a very important digestive fluid, aiding in the digestion and absorption of fats and oils. But that is too long a story to relate here.

Nature's Danger Signals

When your car gets out of fix you can tell it. It is the same way with your bile. Nature gives you warning—not by words, but by signals or symptoms. Your doctor recognizes these danger signals and you also should know them and instantly head them. It may save you much pain, serious illness and perhaps, big repair bills.

When the bile becomes stagnant in your gall-bladder and is dammed back into your liver instead of flowing freely into your bowels you, sooner or later, begin to feel some of the following symptoms:—Your breath may become heavy or foul, your tongue coated, a bad taste in your mouth, your food (and tobacco) lose their natural flavor, your food does not agree with you; you may have heartburn, gas, or fluttering around the heart, dizziness or blind spells; you may be troubled with belching or frequent passages of gas from the bowels; the gas "balloons" your bowels and presses so hard on the kidneys that it gives you pain, soreness, stiffness in the small of your back over your kidneys, making you think you have kidney trouble; at night the gas in your bowels presses upon your bladder making you get up frequently, thus breaking into your sleep. In the morning you are tired instead of refreshed. Gradually your health is injured. Your complexion becomes sallow, muddy or yellow—your skin may be disfigured with liver spots or pimples; dark rings may appear under your eyes, you may become sleepless, restless and irritable or blue and melancholic. You may have frequent colds or dull headache; your bowels stop their free, full and natural action; you have constipation, fermentation, gas, putrefaction and self-poisoning or "intestinal toxaemia," as the doctors call it. High blood pressure, with headache and swooning spells, may result from continued neglect.

How to Make the Bile Flow

But when the bile stops flowing freely, how can we start it up again? The answer is: Take Calotabs at bedtime and drink water freely the next day. This formula represents the best thought and experience of the best physicians in every civilized country in the world. No other purgative will do. If you take oils, salts, cascara, or the many other simple-laxative syrups, powders and candy laxatives, you are merely wasting valuable time. They only make you feel better for a day or two. They do not remove the cause, for they do not promote the flow of the bile which is Nature's only purgative and intestinal antiseptic. When you take Calotabs you know that you have taken a real, doctor's medicine. It cleans you out thoroughly. Every inch of your twenty-five foot canal, including your stomach, small intestines and large intestines, is thoroughly cleared and washed clean and pure and your bile is flowing freely. Next morning your system feels purified and refreshed and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please and go about your work;—there is no danger, for Calotabs are perfectly safe and create no habit except the habit of healthy bowel actions.

What are Calotabs—How do They Act?

Calotabs are composed of a thoroughly purified and refined calomel combined with assistants and correctives. The calomel increases the flow of the bile from the gall-bladder into the intestines, and also serves as an intestinal antiseptic. Every physician knows that no other medicine can take its place; there is no such thing as a substitute for calomel. The assistants act like salts, washing the calomel out of the system and preventing its accumulation and any possibility of danger. The correctives settle the stomach and bowels, preventing nausea, sickening and griping effects. Calotabs, (and water) therefore, give you the combined effects of calomel and salts without the nauseating, sickening, griping and dangerous effects of either.

The medicine chest of every home should be supplied with Calotabs, one of the most important of all family medicines, for it is needed in many cases of sickness, and, if used promptly, may prevent many cases of serious illness.

Avoid disappointment by refusing imitations and substitutes. Your druggist can supply you with genuine Calotabs if you insist. For your protection, Calotabs are marketed in original packages only, having the copyrighted trademark shown above. Family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents.

WATSON WINS BY DEFT WAYS

New Senate Spokesman Is Strange Leader

By KENNETH G. CRAWFORD

WASHINGTON, March 7. (UP)—Senator James Watson of Indiana as Republican leader and White House spokesman in the new senate will be one of the strangest phenomena of the Hoover administration.

He was elected to the position Tuesday at a caucus of Republican senators, succeeding Vice President Charles Curtis of Kansas, who spoke the will of the Coolidge administration in the last senate.

No Opposition

There was no opposition to Watson at the party meeting but an intensive campaign had paved the way for his election. Senator Jones of Washington, Watson's strongest opponent, quit the race when it became apparent the Indiana senator had majority support for the leadership.

So it was that Watson, old school political war horse, became official senatorial spokesman for President Hoover, the product of a new and totally different school. Watson was prominent among the group of native son presidential candidates who fought Hoover most bitterly in the pre-convention campaign.

With the election over and Hoover in the saddle, however, Watson set out undaunted and unabashed to win a place in the new administration. The senate leadership, a position of prestige and power, presented itself and he took it.

Deft Maneuvering

His magical shift overnight from the weak side to the strong was typical of the jovial Hoosier's career. Several times before he has turned defeat into victory by deft political maneuvering. A few slaps on the back, some anecdotes and everything turns out well for Watson. His astonishing candor is illustrated by scores of anecdotes, some undoubtedly authentic and some mythical.

It is related, for example, that Watson conferred with President Hoover about the possible difficulty of securing confirmation of Attorney General Mitchell because he lays claim to membership in the Democratic party.

Defeated Taggart

"But," protested the president, "he voted for Harding, Coolidge and me."

"In that case," replied Watson, "he'd more of a Republican than you are."

Watson has been in the senate continuously since 1916, when he defeated Thomas Taggart, famous Indiana Democrat who died yesterday. Prior to that time he was a member of the house.

Smith Denies He'll Run For Mayor of New York

NEW YORK, March 7. (US)—Alfred E. Smith will not be a candidate for mayor of New York this year.

The announcement is made upon highest authority. The former governor, and candidate for president, soon after his return today from a six weeks' vacation in Florida and Cuba, rebuked certain promoters of a movement, inaugurated during his absence, to make him head of the city ticket. To intimate friends who conferred with him Smith vehemently protested that the campaign in his name had been begun without any encouragement from him, and that it would be useless to push it.

Friends of Mayor Walker count upon the same support from Mr. Smith he gave Walker in 1925.

GIRL ATTACK VICTIM DYING

Church Basement Assault To Prove Fatal

STOCKTON, Calif., March 7. (INS)—Death will probably thwart secret investigations which Stockton police today hinted have been expected to result in a number of more sensational arrests revolving around the attacking of a 16-year-old girl of prominent family in a Stockton church basement.

Unable to recognize her own mother today, the girl had lapsed into total unconsciousness last night from a gangrene condition at a private hospital here, police said, adding that doctors in the case regard the unconscious state as preluding death.

John Paunier, 28, the Central Methodist church janitor, who was arrested on a statutory charge in connection with the case, is to be arraigned before Justice Cyril E. Kenhon and police stated this morning that he has declined intention to plead guilty and have his case rushed through the superior courts later in the day.

Should the girl die, Paunier will face probable prosecution for first degree murder, police stated.

Paunier was appointed janitor at the local church two months ago. He has been a resident here only five months. He is a native of Massachusetts.

Big Spring Moves To Better Water Supply

BIG SPRING, Texas, March 7. (AP)—Contract has been signed here for the purchase of 640 acres of land to protect Big Spring's water supply.

With the addition of the 640 acres, Big Spring will have a daily potential water supply of 4,000,000 gallons. The new field, experts said, should produce 3,000,000 gallons daily.

Zoological Club To Meet Friday

A meeting of the Wichita Falls Zoological society will be held at the Wichita club Friday noon for the purpose of electing officers, selecting additional directors, and completing plans for a permanent organization for the further development of the local zoo.

The movement was inaugurated last Tuesday at a luncheon, Dr. R. H. Graham being elected temporary chairman. A number of prominent business and professional men of the city were announced following the meeting as comprising a partial list of directors. The purpose of the organization is to obtain the support of the entire citizenship, in cooperation with city officials, in developing a much larger collection of animals and birds, and to provide adequate and permanent quarters for the zoo.

At the formal opening of the zoo

Short Breath Foretells High Blood Pressure

Don't neglect to give prompt attention to shortness of breath which is one of the first signs of high blood pressure. Insurance companies report that the numbers of those afflicted with this dangerous condition are increasing altogether too rapidly.

Other symptoms of high blood pressure are dizzy spells, palpitation of the heart, ringing in the ears and frequent headaches.

The best thing to do if you experience any of these symptoms or feel that your blood pressure is too high is to take a few bottles of Bi-a-lin, a noted doctor's prescription. Bi-a-lin exerts a quick cleansing action on the poisons that clog the blood vessels and overtax the heart. Guaranteed to satisfy you or money refunded. Sold by leading druggists.

Atlanta Closes All Golf Courses on Sundays

ATLANTA, March 7. (AP)—Invoking a law that makes it illegal for the city to engage in business on the Sabbath, the parks committee of city council today ordered all municipal golf courses, swimming pools, tennis courts, other recreational facilities and park concession stands closed on Sunday.

No Sunday amusements, such as motion picture theaters, play houses and dance halls have been operated here in years.

Armour's STAR HAM

Now!—An Utterly New Way in Home Washing

That Ends Both Soap Fade—"Soap Eat" of Fine Things Regardless of How Often Washed

We washed one of these colorably chiffon stockings 31 times, with ordinary soap and found that its color still matched that of its mate.

Gold encrusted chinaware washed 384 times with ordinary soap, without trace of dishpan wear or fade.

Stops Ruining Fine Things—Cuts Washing Time One-Half or More

NEW light has been thrown on saving fine fabrics from ruin and fade and fine china from dishpan wear, that often saves the average family hundreds of dollars yearly, and the housewife countless heartaches.

A fadeless way of heavy washing has been found. A way that makes the worst "hard" water and ordinary household soap into a perfect NO-FADE cleanser.

Fine lingerie is washed 50 times or more—without noticeable fade. Expensive hosiery saved from fade and wear almost unbelievably. And results are proved before this new way goes to you.

What It Is

It is a preparation called Climalene that you add to your washing water. Just a tablespoon or two.

Instantly, it takes all the harshness out of that water. Makes it soft as rain water. So soft that it does the work with ONE-FOURTH the soap you use now. And thus ends danger of "soap eat" to fragile things.

At the same time, due to certain bland cleansing agents, it instantly DISSOLVES all dirt, stains and grime. And thus cuts washing time, too—in either dishpan or washing machine—ONE-HALF or more.

Use the soap or soap flakes you ordinarily do. Then see for yourself the amazing results. Some 2 million women now are using Climalene—for washing, for cleaning and in the dishpan.

Laboratory Proved

To assure results to you, we buy fine things, lingerie and delicate fabrics. Then by repeated washings, try to spoil or fade them.

We wash delicate lingerie, often 50 times—without perceptible fade. Children's rompers, 60 to 90 times. That's over a year's home washing.

We wash gold encrusted china hundreds of times—without a trace of gold gone. And thus prove the blandness of this way.

Consider, please, what those things mean to you. Consider, too, that the minute you put this creation into water, all harshness is taken away—your hands protected from roughness, made soft, smooth and white. Then try it.

Remember the name—Climalene. Your grocer has it in 10c and 25c packages.

Noted Players to Appear Tonight In Production at Woman's Forum

The Life of Joseph, the Virgin Mary, and Jesus, is the theme of "The Chastening" which will be presented Friday night at 8 o'clock at the Woman's Forum by Charles Rann Kennedy, Edith Wynne, Matheson and Elizabeth Gage.

The scene of the play is by the roadside when Joseph and his family are returning from Jerusalem to Nazareth. Joseph is in ill humor with Jesus for having made a spectacle of himself by bandying words with the doctors in the temple.

Fearing that the family would become the laughing stock of the village, Joseph tries to influence Jesus toward the trade of carpentry while Mary advocates priesthood. Jesus settles the question by saying "I must be about my father's business."

In the last scene of the play Joseph has a vision and makes a full confession of his son's divinity. The play is highly praised by critics for its brilliancy and the wholesome quality of religious and educational entertainment that it presents.

Charles Rann Kennedy will have the leading role in "The Chastening," an educational and religious play to be presented at the Woman's Forum Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Oh, These Women

By LEOLA ALLARD

NEW YORK, March 7. (US)—Chicago paper tells us "woman hates all men and lives to be 100."

Unless it's a poor rule and works only one way, I know some women who should have died in infancy.

It isn't as if Ganna Walska had to make music to make the grade. Men don't marry the lovely Ganna because she can sing, but in spite of it. While there may be some doubt as to whether or not she makes real music, there is no doubt about one thing. No husband of her's ever will look at her lovely face as she sleeps and remark, "I wish she would wake up and sing."

"At 2," says a Seattle paper, "Mrs. Reed had been married three times and it is rumored that her stay in Reno means another marriage."

If the paper meant 20 Mrs. Reed is working rapidly. If it meant 2 Mrs. Reed has crowded the years a bit. But if it meant what it said, and sometimes newspapers do, Mrs. Reed's first suitor must have climbed in through the nursery and said it with pink and blue rattles.

Pickle packers in convention say that it is essential to have food beautiful and that they have grown a cucumber that will make a beautiful pickle.

For particular people, a pretty pickle!

An old man who lost his wife to a baritone, years and years ago, was giving his grandson a lecture on the eve of his marriage.

"And another thing I want to say to you son," said the grey-haired gentleman, "never invite a singing so-and-so to your home."

In Malaketrs, near Valona, in Jugoslavia, a girl of 20 was maried to the oldest man in Albania. He was 130.

When the girl was born, the husband was 110. The great-great-great-grandchildren tried to prevent the marriage.

No woman ever bet on a surer thing.

A string of pearls worth $50,000 dropped or was taken from the neck of a New York woman. The police say maybe a thief removed it.

But seems like a woman would have to be unconscious to have that happen and not notice it. And can you imagine a woman not being conscious wearing a $50,000 string of pearls?

The Perfect Husband, Says Londoner, 'Would Be Immeasurably Boring'

Most Families Take Advantage of Their Close Relation to Invade Each Other's Privacy, Give Unsought Advice, Damp Enthusiasms and Bring Carefully Hidden Blemishes Into the Limelight.

What are the chief family faults? One woman to whom I put this question answers emphatically: "Family curiosity. The eternal family questionnaire. Being put through the everlasting family third degree about everything you do or don't do. That is the thing that breaks up families and sends the different members scurrying to the four corners of the earth in search of some place where they can have a little privacy of thought and action. Why we should all hate to be questioned so I don't know. I have never yet met an individual who did not resent having his or her private affairs pried into. It isn't because we are trying to hide something. It is just that we feel that our secrets are our own secrets and when they are dragged out of us against our will it hurts like having a tooth pulled and leaves us just as sore in the mouth. Left to ourselves we would voluntarily tell the things that it makes us so furious to have wormed out of us.

"But you haven't the ghost of a show of keeping anything to yourself as long as you live at home. You can't get a letter without every member of the family turning it over and reading the postmark and wanting to know who it is from and what it is about and why he or she should be writing from that particular place, and mother feels hurt if you don't turn it over to her and let her read it herself.

"You can't get a telephone call without the dear family listening in and demanding to know who was speaking to you and asking what they said that made you say what you replied. You can't step out for a call or go to a party without being asked: 'Where are you going? Why are you going? Who are you going with? Why are you going with that particular individual? How long are you going to stay? When will you be back? Whom do you expect to see?'

"And so on and on and on and on like gadflies and that irritate you until you are willing to do anything in the world to get away from them.

"It is family curiosity, vulgar snooping that makes us break away from home and get among strangers who don't take enough interest in us to care what we do.

"I think the chief family fault is giving upsought advice. No matter how great a success you may achieve in the outside world nor how highly strangers may value your judgment, your own family always regard you as a low-grade imbecile entirely incapable of deciding the simplest matter for yourself.

"Therefore, they feel that it is their sacred duty to regulate your entire life for you. They tell you just how you should manage your business, although they have failed in everything they ever tried themselves. When you are sick they prescribe for you, though they never saw even the outside of a medical book. They tell you how to manage your wife or husband and raise your children, though they have made messes of their own domestic affairs.

"They try to settle your religion and your politics and pick out your friends for you and are generally Solomon on the spot so far as you are concerned. You rise up and lie down to the continual admonition: 'Don't eat that, it is bad for your stomach.' Or, 'Do eat this, it is so good for you.' And, 'Don't sit up at night and read.' 'Don't get your feet wet.' 'Don't get run over by an automobile,' until it gets on your nerves so you are ready to scream.

"Of course, you know that it is because your family loves you that they badger you to death with their advice, but it makes living among your enemies, who don't feel called upon to supply you with gratuitous advice, mighty comfortable and peaceful.

"I think the chief family vice is wet-blanketing every enthusiasm. Leave it to your family to take the joy out of everything and, believe me, when the Amalgamated Order of Domestic Cold-Water Throwers are done with a hope or plan or ambition it is as limp and pepless as a drowned rat.

"Father is all on fire with his plans about a new departure he is going to make in his business. Mother put on the extinguisher by reminding him of all the blunders and mistakes he has ever made and by prophesying that he will fail in this also. Mother is filled with joy over her new dining room set. Father takes all of her pleasure out of it by proving to her that it is an imitation antique and that she paid three times too much for it.

"Johnny is on his tiptoes with ambition to be a doctor. The family snuff out the flame by telling him that he has just mediocre ability and only men of genius succeed. You are crazy over your new automobile until the family literally pull it to pieces and convince you that you are a fool not to have bought any other make except the one you did.

"I think the chief family fault is telling home truths," said another woman. "Your family are the only ones who ever feel called upon to tell you the things that you would rather die than hear. This may be good for our souls, but it isn't soothing to our vanity.

"It is only your own family that tells you that your new hat is too young for you and that you look like a figure of fun dressing like a flapper at your age and that you have put on 20 pounds in weight or that you look as if you might be going into tuberculosis and that you ought to do something for your complexion, it is getting so sallow. It is only your family that interrupts your pet story to remark that they have heard it before and that invariably get you with their criticisms because they know so well your weak spots. For none of our blemishes are hidden from our family and they don't pretend that they are. On the contrary, they turn the spotlight on them."

It is because our families are too nosey and too naggy and because there is nothing as cruel as the candor of a near-relation that makes us love our families, even our parents, better when we get far enough away from them to get a perspective on their virtues.

INTERNATIONAL BANK PLANNED

Would Act as Trustee For Reparation Funds

By GEORGE W. HINMAN JR.

PARIS, March 7. (UE)—An embryonic international bank which has been developing under cover ever since the experts committee on reparations first met three weeks ago finally took definite form this afternoon an appeared at the conference table in the full plenary session.

While the institution's parentage is being made a matter of mystery, it is generally regarded as the incarnation of an idea which J. P. Morgan has lon gsponsored, namely an international bank with an international directorate for handling international finance.

In Skeleton Form

It is an international banking conception believed by many to be of Anglo-American inspiration, and was undoubtedly discussed in the latest outline while Morgan, Sir Josiah Stamp and others were in London over last week-end.

While the project is as yet in a tentative, or skeleton, form, it is intended that the bank shall take over functions as trustee in connection with the execution of the German reparations plan. This would include the handling of reparations bonds as well as the transfer of cash reprations payments from Germany to the allies.

In its oneration the institution might take on such banking functions as international exchange, and also the possible temporary investment of funds received from Germany until they could be conveniently converted into other currencies. It is believed the institution might become an important factor in international trade.

The bank's directorate would be composed of conspicuous financial figures from all principal countries. While regarded as pre-eminently a European institution for European international finance, it is thought likely American participation in the directorate may be sought.

The skeleton project is being studied by all experts prior to the next plenary session of the experts, which will be held Friday.

Weeks to Tell How to Supply Needs of Family From One Acre

The story of abundant growth of vegetables, chickens, eggs, flowers and fruit for a large family from no more than one acre of ground will be the theme of an illustrated lecture to be given Friday night at 8 o'clock in the Memorial auditorium by Charles Weeks, California intensive farming expert.

Mr. Weeks is the author of many books and pamphlets dealing with scientific and continuous production of income from small tracts, and has lectured extensively throughout the Pacific coast region as the originator of the little farm colony idea. The small farm community under development here is the third such project undertaken by Mr. Weeks. The first two colonies are active at Palo Alto and Owensmouth, Calif., and are said to be highly successful in quantity production and marketing.

His lecture Friday night will be illustrated with colored slides showing how vegetables are grown by the mulch paper method, fruit trees and vines trained on fences, with multiplied yield, and feed for 600 chickens raised on one acre of ground.

Mr. Coolidge's Own Story

In April Cosmopolitan he Breaks his Silence and tells

THE PRICE in HEARTACHES of BEING PRESIDENT

Now and then a President of the United States has written something which became historical as a human document rather than as a state paper. Washington's farewell address, Lincoln's letter to a mother; these were the thoughts of great men written in a manner so human that none could fail to feel the heart behind them.

In April Cosmopolitan Calvin Coolidge begins his account to the American people of his years in the White House. We believe he has written a human document as fine as those by Washington and Lincoln.

WITH such an outstanding feature as keystone of a superb issue, Cosmopolitan could well have postponed starting a new serial by an author as distinguished as Fannie Hurst. However, here it is—the finest novel ever written by the author of "Humoresque."

"RED LIKKER"

by

Irvin S. Cobb

In April Cosmopolitan

We put especial emphasis on that word "human." You, of course, have heard that Calvin Coolidge was a sphinx. That he had ice-water in his veins. That he never smiled.

Bosh! Calvin Coolidge enjoys a joke as much as you do. He can tell as entertaining an anecdote as you can. He's no hail-fellow-well-met—thank heaven—but he's a very human being.

Those who thought they were smart in calling him a sphinx seemed to resent the reserve of their President. That never worried him. He believed the words of the President were important; that they should be chosen carefully and used sparingly. But Calvin Coolidge, the man—that's a different matter. And it's the man who talks to you in his own story.

In Part One, in April Cosmopolitan, he tells you the human reasons why he did not choose to run in 1928. They are reasons which will touch the heart of every American; reasons which will make you understand when he says, "It costs a lot to be President."

We may exceed our province as prophets when we say that we believe these words by Mr. Coolidge will become historical, but we are within our province as editors when we say that his is the most warmly human document it ever has been our good fortune to publish.

STAMFORD CLUB PLANS BANQUET

Women to Review Progress Of First Year

STAMFORD, Texas, March 7.—On March 12 when the Stamford Business and Professional Women's club will celebrate its first birthday with a banquet at the Stamford Inn, a year of unusual success with a number of worthwhile accomplishments will be reviewed.

The club was organized for the purpose of elevating the standards for women in business and in the professions in Stamford. It was the aim of the club to promote the interests of business and professional women and to bring about a spirit of co-operation among them. To extend opportunities to these women through education along lines of industrial, scientific and vocational activities, and to create fellowship and friendship among its members were some of the ideals the club hoped to reach.

Has Clubroom

To what extent these ends have been accomplished may best be told by enumerating its year's activities. Sixty charter members paid dues into the National Federation of Business and Professional Women the first month of the Stamford club's existence. Before the resultant 60 subscriptions to Independent Woman, official magazine of the federation, arrived, the club had secured a conveniently located downstairs room at the Auditorium to be used as a clubroom. This was supplied with telephone, and furnished in attractive style with such accessories as lamps, silk pillows, tapestries, lounges, Victrola, pictures, screens and magazines, and made available for use at any time for recreation or the meeting of the club.

Since the meeting of the state convention of B. P. W. clubs in Abilene in July the carved bronze dinner gong which the Stamford club won for presenting the most original stunt before the assembly adds another feminine touch to the appointments of the clubroom. The gong is used to call meetings to order, and during socials, banquets and games.

Wichitan Gives Concert

Because Stamford, being located between the larger towns of Wichita Falls and Abilene, does not get some of the major attractions in entertainments, the club thought it would be a worthwhile project to bring a well known singer to town, and sponsored the operatic concert of Dorothy Greathouse of Wichita Falls in September. The appreciativeness of the citizens of the town was shown in the financial returns of the venture, and the business women were encouraged to try their hand at this sort of endeavor again.

As a result J. W. Zollner, noted characterist, was signed up by the club to come to Stamford on March 15, and give his famous impersonations of Robert E. Lee, Faust, Huckleberry Finn, King Leer, Roosevelt and others. This bids fair to be an educational and financial success, with a great number of tickets already sold.

Give to Charity

As the personnel of the club includes women doctors, nurses and professional nutritionists, the money which it gives to charity is placed where it will do the most good under the direction of these competent women. The charity project for the last two months has been the buying of milk to supplement the lunch of undernourished children attending grammar school. During the month of December when most of the women were spending all of their spare time shopping or making preparations to take short Christmas vacations, a lump sum of money was given to the United Charities instead of the usual contributions in the name of the club.

Mrs. Dorothy Middleton has been president of the club during its first fiscal year and Mrs. Agnes Daniel vice president, Ines Lively has been treasurer.

Childress Telephone System to Be Rebuilt

CHILDRESS, Texas, March 7.—Reconstruction of the Childress system of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company will begin next week, it has been announced by R. S. Williams, local manager. Old cables will be replaced with others designed to provide for expected growth during the next 10 years. It is said that approximately $40,000 will be expended on the work, which will require about 90 days to complete.

When the Bell company took over the local plant in 1917, improvements were made that were expected to take care of normal growth for the following 20 years. Growth has been greater than anticipated. The increase in number of telephone connections since 1917 has been more than 300 per cent.

Had the motions, read between 9 and 10 o'clock at night, not been filed by midnight, the court would have been forced to dismiss the cases for lack of jurisdiction.

LIBERAL PARTY REGAINS HOPE

Lloyd George Gains Ground With Yankee Methods

LONDON, March 7. (UP)—The magnetic personality of David Lloyd George, war-time premier of Great Britain and master politician, has brought new hope to the apparently dormant Liberal party of great Britain.

Lloyd George has introduced American political methods to British voters for first time, and their awakening interest has caused concern in the ranks of the Conservatives and Laborites alike. The Conservatives, far from being entrenched behind a mass of votes such as induced the Harding, Coolidge and Hoover landslides in the United States, apparently have begun to fear for their majority.

Lloyd George made his opening speech to a Liberal gathering in London last Friday, arousing intense enthusiasm, and has been asked to repeat it before a gathering of 10,000 at Albert hall on March 26. Lloyd George also has promised to publish next Wednesday the details of his scheme which he promised would end the unemployment situation, Britain's greatest domestic problem. The two developments have caused Coservative and Labor camps to fear that the Liberal revival must be reckoned with.

The Liberals have determined to make a picturesque whirlwind campaign, making full use of American methods, such as broadcasting of speeches and use of the talking movies, which are calculated to bring home to the voters the persuasive personality of Lloyd George.

Meanwhile, the promise of Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, to have a full discussion in the house of commons on Thursday of the recent Anglo-Russian oil agreement, and the simultaneous advance in gasoline prices, have allayed Conservative fears to some extent.

A government decree, establishing compulsory insurance for travelers and livestock carried on Spanish railways, became effective Nov. 1. 1928.

Judge Refuses To 'Lecture' Youth

FORT WORTH, March 7. (AP)—Judge George E. Hosey today refused a jury's request that he "give the young man a lecture on keeping bad company" after a verdict of acquittal had been voted for Elmer Watkins, 23, tried on a charge of attempted burglary. The request came after the jury had learned a suspended sentence could not be given.

Judge Hosey informed the jury that he was sorry he could not warn Watkins about his associates, "because it wouldn't do any good," and that he was already under one suspended sentence and is facing indictments for burglary, forgery and theft over $50.

Watkins was convicted of robbery and sentenced to five years last May in the looting of the Natatorium laundry safe after his uncle, R. N. Howell, 68, night watchman, had been bound, gagged and placed in a laundry basket. The defendant appealed and is awaiting retrial.

CAPITAL BOOZE HAULERS QUIT

Diplomats Have No Way Of Shipping Supplies

By LOUIS JAY HEATH

WASHINGTON, March 7. (UP)—If foreign diplomats accredited to Washington wish to replenish their liquor supplies within the near future they may have to don overalls, climb on a truck, drive to Baltimore, load their own liquor and drive the load back from Baltimore to the capitol themselves.

This appeared to be the effect of an edict which went out from the state department by the telephone to inquiring embassies and legations today.

Heavier Penalties

The usual method has been for diplomats to order their liquor from abroad sent to Baltimore nearest port to the capitol, then hire a truck from a local drayman to transport the load to Washington.

The Jones bill, signed by President Coolidge just before he left office places obstacles in the way of this simple procedure. It increases the penalty for possession and transportation of liquor to a minimum fine of $10,000 and five years in jail.

The word has gone out from local headquarters that the law will be rigidly enforced and that any American citizen driver or owner of a truck caught in the act of transporting liquor even though it be destined for a foreign embassy or legation and accompanied by a diplomatic permit, will be subject to prosecution under the Jones law.

Only diplomats themselves and their own automobiles are immune from the operations of the law. The hitch in the new arrangement is that Washington boasts no commercial truck drivers who are qualified as full-fledged duly accredited diplomats.

Diplomats Perplexed

"How are we going to get our liquor from Baltimore to Washington then if we cannot hire transportation?" dipolmats are reported to be asking the state department today.

Buy a truck and drive it yourself was the state department's reply in effect, couched, of course in soft diplomatic language.

At least two embassies here are known to have large consignments of liquor now in Baltimore awaiting transfer to Washington for use in part at social functions already scheduled and imminent.

It is safe to say that no edict in recent years has caused so much disturbance to diplomatic calm as this. Diplomats were frankly undiplomatic in their comments today and a movement is on foot to appeal to Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps to lodge vigorous protest with the state department.

Freedom Relished

"The noble experiment loses many of its qualities of nobility," one ambassador declared, "when it interferes with the freedom and personal liberty of foreign envoys duly accredited to this country in limiting the type of services they may require of their chauffeurs."

The majority objected less to the requirement that they must buy their own trucks than to the inference that they might be forced to don overalls and do their own "liquor baggage smashing" or assign the task to some under official such as a first secretary of counselor of embassy.

U.-T. Museum Gets Confederate Relics

AUSTIN, March 7. (AP)—A pen with which the ordinance of secession of Virginia was signed and a candle Gen. Robert E. Lee used the night before his surrender at Appomattox court house are the latest exhibitions loaned to the University of Texas for display in its library.

The pen is said to have been fashioned from the gun carriage which fired the first shot of the civil war.

The relics are the property of Dr. Charles S. Venable of San Antonio, who also possesses a general order addressed to Confederate soldiers relative to the death of Gen. Stonewall Jackson, by General Lee, and a photograph of the last dispatch of General Jackson. The original letter was given by Dr. Venable to the Virginia Historic society, and is on display at its museum.

PROPOSED REPEAL OF PARKING LAW DRAWS VARIETY OF OPINION

MERCHANTS OF CITY DIVIDED

Many Changes in Law Urged by Wichitans

Merchants in the principal business section of the city as well as others appear to be evenly divided in their attitudes toward the proposed repealing of the city's two-hour parking ordinance, according to a brief canvass of opinions by The Record News.

No definite influence of location upon the alignment of different business houses on the question could be noted, but in a general way the present restriction of parking finds its strongest support among those firms which are located nearest the center of the retail business activity.

Howard for Repeal

Various suggestions were made in qualification of definite statement of position, including a proposal to grant immunity to out-of-town automobile owners whose cars are "tagged" by officers, another to substitute a five or six-hour clause in the restricting ordinance, in place of two hours. Another urged the importance of persons engaged in business or professions in the down town district committing themselves definitely to a practice of leaving their cars outside the usually congested areas.

"I am in favor of repealing the ordinance," said A. M. Howard, manager of the Sherwin-Williams paint store. "During the periods when the ordinance has been suspended, there has been more opportunity to park, and less traffic congestion on our street, than when the restriction is kept in effect."

Marvin Smith, of the W. B. McClurkan company, also on Scott avenue, said: "We are very much pleased with the present ordinance, and should not want to see any change made in its provisions."

Joe Collier, manager of Renfro Drug Store No. 2, at Seventh and Indiana, stated that curb trade had fallen off sharply when the restriction was imposed, and upon its reinstatement following temporary suspensions. "We should like to see the ordinance repealed," he said.

Noble-Little Hardware company, located near the intersection of Eighth and Indiana, favors the retention of the present ordinance, according to Thomas E. Noble, manager, but think that it should be enforced regularly without any recurring periods of laxity.

"Gentleman's Agreement"

Walter E. Guebert, manager of the Nathan Lynch store, would repeal the ordinance because shoppers frequently are compelled to defer inspection and purchase of goods by the expiration of the time limit on their cars, he said. The irritation imposed on customers, and the handicap imposed upon business houses, according to his statement, more than offset the advantage gained by parking restrictions. He would have all business men and employees observe a "gentleman's agreement" to park their cars outside of the congested areas.

The Miller-Ferguson company, at Tenth and Indiana, desires the immediate repeal of the ordinance. "The restriction irritates visiting shoppers, drives customers out before they can finish their shopping, and imposes an appearance of stagnation on our streets," Mr. Miller said.

F. E. McConnell, manager of the McConnell Bros. furniture store, said: "I think we have about as good an arrangement now as we could get. The traffic congestion is bad, but it would be worse without the restricting ordinance."

"I am strongly in favor of retaining the two hour parking limit, and enforcing it strictly," declared J. C. Bernard, manager of P. B. M. "It is ridiculous to think of throwing the streets open to unrestricted parking. The shoppers would have no chance to stop near the store where they wish to trade. The all-day parker would monopolize the space most needed for accommodation of customers."

Other comments follow:

"COUNTRY TOWN STUFF" SAYS HALEY.

"If they're planning to make a country town out of Wichita Falls they might as well take off the lights and let motorists turn around in the street," was the expression of Morrison Haley, manager of the Zale radio and record department, on the proposed repeal of the overtime parking law.

"In accordance with the other cities we certainly should maintain a parking limit here. It is inconvenient at times to move one's car to avoid paying an overtime fine but without a parking limit the business section would be encumbered with cars parked in one space for a whole day and shoppers would frequently be unable to park within several blocks of the store in which they wish to purchase goods."

WORKERS WOULD TAKE PARKING SPACE

Mrs. Amelia Taylor, manager of the Cinderella Hat shop, who also opposed the movement to repeal the parking limit, declared, "If the time limit were repealed workers in business houses and offices here would park their cars on the streets all day while they are at work instead of storing them in a garage. In this case ladies who are shopping probably would have to park their cars blocks away from where they want to shop and be burdened with carrying parcels for a long distance."

HANDICAP TO SHOPPERS HE DECLARES

"Too many motorists would abuse the privilege of parking their cars in the downtown section of the city and block up the parking space that should really be used for shoppers. This would keep many people from shopping, because of not having space to park. A repeal of the overtime parking law would congest the movement of traffic considerably as persons would double park to go into a store when they were unable to find a parking space," J. H. Ichehart, manager of Mangels Ready-to-wear shop, said.

JUNIOR FORUM PRESIDENT SUGGESTS CHANGE

Miss Mary Tunnell, president of the Junior Forum, is in favor of a number of changes in the parking law, but does not believe it should be completely done away with.

"There are a few blocks right in the heart of town where the law is needed," she said, "but I do not think we need to have it extend nearly as far as it does. There are many blocks, not in the center of the shopping district, where the law hinders instead of helps.

"I would suggest that in those blocks where the feminine shoppers go most frequently the limit be cut down to one hour instead of two, and that in other places more time be allowed."

MODIFICATION URGED BY MRS. BURTON

Modification instead of repeal is the course suggested by Mrs. C. P. Burton, newly elected president of the Woman's Forum.

"I have given up trying to park on the down town streets," Mrs. Burton said, "and have rented regular space in a storage garage because parking space is almost impossible to find. I am afraid there are still too many "piggish" people in the world for us to do away with the law. A few people would simply preempt the use of the streets all day every day, disregarding the needs of other people.

"At the same time I think a citizen ought to be allowed to leave his car on the street long enough to accomplish something. I would like to see all these big "reserved" spaces cut down some. Some loading space at certain stores and buildings is necessary of course, but it doesn't seem reasonable to cut off parking space for about 10 cars to accommodate one firm. That's one reason we have so much congestion."

LAW AIDS RURAL PEOPLE, SAYS BRYANT

Burl Bryant, county superintendent, who parks his car near his office at the court house almost every day thinks the law should stand as it is.

"For the people in the rural communities, the repeal of the two-hour regulation would mean great inconvenience," he explained. "Down town workers in the city who go to work at 8 o'clock or soon after would have all the available space filled for the entire day before the country people could possibly get to town."

SPECIAL PRIVILEGES FOR PHYSICIANS, SAYS JUDGE

Judge F. A. Martin expressed whole-hearted support of the law as it stands, except where it might interfere with the convenience of physicians. Judge Martin parks his car in a storage garage every day.

"If the law were repealed, the business and professional men and their employes would keep all the space down town filled all the time," the judge declared. "The country man and the man from out of town would never get a chance to stop near the business district. These same cars, arriving early every morning, would stay in the same spot all through the day.

"Down town business hours would suffer. Shoppers would be forced more and more to use the neighborhood drug and grocery stores. It wouldn't be fair to the shoppers, the stores, or the out-of-town visitors.

"At the same time, I believe the law should be modified to give a physician the right to special privileges because of the nature of his work."

"DOCTORS DON'T CALL ON PATIENTS DOWN TOWN"

"I believe the law is needed, and I am opposed to its repeal, but it can be enforced with discretion," in the opinion of John F. O'Donohoe, oil operator, who was emphatically opposed to making any special exceptions in the case of physicians.

"When a doctor is downtown he isn't calling on patients," he explained. "He doesn't need special privileges in the business section. In emergencies he could explain to officials and be excused from a fine. But ordinarily a doctor has no more right to park overtime downtown than I have."

"The parking law should not be repealed altogether, I'm sure, though it might possibly be modified. And it should not be enforced with such rigidity as to work a hardship on anyone. Special consideration should be out-of-town visitors unacquainted with the town and its laws."

The 18-odd sawmills in Singapore and three in other British Malaya use no machinery other than circular saws, as their work is entirely that of cutting up logs for dimension stock.

Houston Man Suicides After Estrangement

HOUSTON, March 7. (AP)—When his estranged wife refused to talk to him last night, Rudolph H. Klieber, 41, took a glass of water from his 11-year-old daughter, dropped some tablets in it, drank the contents, walked to a clinic two blocks away, and died a few moments later.

The coroner's verdict was "suicide by poisoning."

DANDRUFF

A Sure Way to End It

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just moisten a few drops of plain, ordinary liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

Vaudeville Bill Offers Variety

Pleasing Program Presented In Final Showing

By the Record News Critic

As a closing bill for the interstate vaudeville season at the Majestic, local theater-goers are offered this week a five-act entertainment which ought to leave a pleasant taste as a reminder of the winter's offering.

The program is full of merit from the standpoint of excellence in putting over what each performer attempts to put over, has a variety of theme, and has been thoroughly disinfected throughout to meet the demands of the most fastidious.

The show drags during the two opening acts because the crowd won't let them go—the "Three Golfers" and Ewing Eaton. Miss Eaton demonstrates gracefully and musically much more pleasant methods of retaining that charming slenderness than abstinence from chocolates and desserts at dinner.

Teck Murdock loads in more pleasing nonsense than any other Tom, Dick and Harry trio extant, against an enticing background of three lovely cottages with three lovely girls. Jack Smith, whispering baritone, cropped the other whispering in the house—they listened.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

THE HEN that abandons her nest can't lay claim to the chicks another hatches.

Starters aren't nearly so important as finishers. Targets don't record the shots that went wide of the mark. Nor does history carry them on her score-cards.

Few of the ideas which made men illustrious are entirely original.

Inventors toyed with the telegraph years before Morse made it work.

Steam navigation was discussed by the ancients, but Fulton's Clermont was the first boat to ride without sail or oars.

Bell never posed as an explorer into unknown realms when he produced the telephone. He merely asserted priority in constructing a voice-bridge across distance.

Almost every link in the chain of power-weaving was a deserted orphan which the ultimate patentees adopted and perfected.

Trails to yesterday are cluttered with projects that didn't fit given possibilities and periods.

Some of 'em weren't properly designed. Many couldn't be executed because there weren't available tools or rules to serve parent imaginations.

The ancient Greeks disclosed the atom, but had no resources to deal with it.

Franklin caught electricity and died without finding a cage to hold his capture.

MENTION of horseless carriages occurs throughout the 18th century literature. There's no evidence, though, that anybody ever put the notion into motion.

Sir John Franklin, General Greely, and a score of brave hearts led expeditions toward the north pole. The glory of reaching it belongs, however, to Admiral Peary.

Gestures aren't achievements. The partly-baked loaf is just spoiled dough. Rewards are paid at the goal, with no credit for bungles or intermediate surrenders.

That's why the Wright brothers are eternal words of Fame—and Santos Dumont's name is forgotten.

Edison won't be remembered for experiments he didn't complete. His distinction is vested solely in the jobs he carried through.

The wizard of Menlo park held the secret of artificial silk in his test-tubes, and let it slip through his fingers. Nobody, though, sees him snatching at a share of the profits from rayon or gloss.

Progress, unlike Hell, can't make pavements out of intentions.

Only delivery men are listed on the payrolls of success.

It isn't what you mean to do, but what you accomplish that decides your wage and place.

The folks who hire and fire you may not have intrinsically superior minds or capacities. Brains, organically, are pretty much alike.

But thoroughness and invincible determination are such unique qualities, that all the great things of earth are reserved for those who can elect a task and stay with it, until the last "i" and final "t" of achievement are doggedly dotted and crossed.

A Lie That Helped

NOT ALL LIES are bad ones. Nor all people who are lied to in need of pity. The death of an aged woman in New Jersey the other day ended a lie of nearly 11 years' standing. It was a good lie, if there ever was one; and the old woman to whom it was told was saved by it from a great deal of misery.

In 1918 a young man named Robert Preiskai was serving with the A. E. F. in France. To his home in New Jersey one day came a war department telegram announcing he had been killed in action. His mother, Mrs. Mina Prieskai, was very ill.

The other members of the family did not tell her about the telegram. Later, when she recovered, they still kept it a secret. They made her believe that Robert was alive and well; and they continued to make her believe it until her death, which came just a few days ago.

It took a lot of scheming. They had to invent adventures for him, to explain why he did not come home. They had to learn how to imitate his handwriting, so that they could write letters to her and pretend that they came from him. Every day, for more than 10 years, they had to do something to carry the deceit along.

But it worked. The old lady never knew that her son was dead. To the very end she was buoyed up by the thought that he was alive and happy, having pleasant adventures and attaining success.

That's a touching little tale to read, somehow. We sympathize and admire the people who invented and maintained the lie. We feel vaguely sorry for the old lady who was deceived—as if the happiness that she clutched so tightly were spurious and counterfeit.

Yet, after all, her plight wasn't so out of the ordinary. Nearly all of us are helped on our way through life by the fact that we believe some things are not so.

Perhaps it is a belief in our own importance that sustains us; or a simple faith in the kindness of people who are really mean and selfish; or a trust that in some tomorrow we shall rise above all our present ills and do some of the brave things we have always dreamed about. It doesn't matter. The point is that most of us, in some way or another, are fooled just as completely as the old lady in New Jersey.

But it's what keeps us going. Few men or women are strong enough and clear-eyed enough to know the worst there is to be known about life and maintain their poise. The real facts of the world are, usually, too harsh. We let ourselves be deceived—and, as a result, get something like happiness and content.

The New Jersey mother, deceived for more than 10 years, and happy in consequence, symbolizes what happens to the whole race. We are incurable romanticists. We must have our happy endings.

Anger Carries Far

A SMALL ACT may have far-reaching consequences. Forty-five years ago there was a strike in an Ohio coal mine. A group of enraged strikers took a car of coal, set it afire, and pushed it down into the mine.

That fire is still burning. For 45 years it has been smoldering under ground, spreading many miles from its starting place, destroying valuable coal deposits and rendering hundreds of acres of surface ground sterile.

Today it threatens to destroy a school building and some homes in a village. Burning beneath them, it is undermining the ground and may cause them to collapse.

The fire that a moment's anger started 45 years ago certainly turned out to be a bigger thing than the men who started it ever imagined.

A Famous Widow

IT IS ENCOURAGING to read that congress finally decided to vote an annuity of $5,000 to Mrs. Leopard Wood. For a time certain of our noble statesmen were demanding, in the interests of economy, that this pension be cut to $1,800 a year. Nothing more shameful and cheap could have been done; the congressmen who advocated these reductions stand revealed as men of remarkably small stature.

General Wood served his country well. At a time when government expenditures are numbered in hundred million dollar lumps, try to save a few thousand dollars on the pension to the widow of this man would have been penny-pinching of the most disgraceful kind.

It is hard to have any patience whatever with the master minds that suggested it. Fortunately, congress as a whole refused to make the reduction.

Reducing Rail Casualties

IN 1923 the railroads of the country surveyed their employe casualty record and resolved to cut it by at least 35 per cent by 1930.

As a result, various safety campaigns were inaugurated, old hazards were eliminated, and employers and employes cooperated to take the element of danger out of the railroad worker's job.

A bulletin from the committee on public relations of the eastern railroads shows how well the job has been done. With 1930 nearly a year away, the railroads have already passed their own goal. They have reduced employe casualties by more than 47 per cent since 1923.

Nothing that the railroad men have done in recent years is much more to their credit than this.

MORE JUNIOR COLLEGES

Twelve municipal junior colleges now are in operation in Texas. Two are maintained by the state, while a number of others are maintained by private individuals or by denominations. There is considerable agitation for the discontinuance of the freshman and sophomore years in our larger universities and permit these courses to be taught in junior colleges maintained in the cities or country districts of the state. When this plan shall have been worked out it will enable thousands of our brightest boy and girl high school graduates to get at least two years of college training, whereas, under the present conditions such training is not open to them all on account of its cost.

MARRIAGE LICENSE LAW "SILLY"

Under a new law passed by the present legislature of Texas, three days' notice must be given the county clerk before he can issue a marriage license, and moreover the groom must exhibit a certificate from a doctor that he is in good health. This is a radically new deal in this state, though we understand they have things like this in some other states. The lawmakers say the purpose of it is to reduce the number of divorces, but to us it appears that they have taken advantage of a serious situation to make an excuse for a silly action.

The Day Book of a New Yorker
Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, March 7.—There is something remarkable, if not mysterious, in the way prominent men have a habit of appearing before you in New York under the most unostentatious circumstances. The other night some friends of mine were having a party and were raising, I regret to report, considerable noise. There was a knock at the door. A gentleman, with a kind but firm face, greeted me and asked if we would—er—desist from such activities as would tend to weaken the plaster in the ceiling just below us.

He seemed so forlorn, so humble in his request, that I readily assured him we would quiet down. It was not until a few hours later that my host explained to me casually enough that the fellow who lives below him is no other than Vilhajalmar Stefansson, the arctic explorer.

Down in the depths, far below the roaring and bellowing forties of New York, there is another world, a dimly lighted one—forgotten and, in fact, a world that has been known only to a comparative few. Its center is exactly 90 feet below the lower level of the Grand Central station. And the so-called "lower-level," as travelers know it, is quite a few feet below the level of the street.

But this other level—this forgotten world—is composed of many miles of narrow alleys, through which runs the pipes that heat plants for hotels, office buildings and other structures in the vicinity of the station. To reach this half world, partly reminiscent of the old French underground places for crooks and also recalling to mind the hidden world in H. G. Wells' "The Time Machine," it is necessary to descend a ladder of many, many steps.

This strange place actually was not brought to the attention of police until recently when a man was arrested upon emerging from a manhole in a dark alley in back of the Ritz hotel. The papers gave little attention to it, for newspapers are not interested in vagrancy cases. But investigation later revealed that he was but one of hundreds of men who know little of the light of day; who spend their lives far down in the warm, dimly lighted "alleys" and who come up, like the mythical Pluto, to steal from the earth what they can find and then descend to their dark world, safe from the law and the curious.

Even the police admit that to arrest all the men who live in this hidden world is impossible, for there is a labyrinth of confusing alleys below the Grand Central station district, with many dark nooks, stretching for miles, defying those who would descend into their mysteries. All the police can do is to wait for the men who live below the earth to come out of the manholes for a brief glimpse of the skyscrapers and sky above them—and for more practical things, also.

With television in the offing they are talking, these days, about movies in the home. It will be nothing new, except, of course, for the fact that movies eventually will be broadcast from central stations as sound is today. At the present time, there are many wealthy New Yorkers who are going in for "home movies."

Prominent among them is Clarence Mackay, head of the Postal Telegraph company. Although he is an inveterate enthusiast of the movies, you will never find him in any of the grand places on and off Broadway. The very latest—latest and most artistic movies—are produced regularly in his home. He has, usually, a secretary to decide upon the most tasteful. He invites many guests. A private orchestra provides the incidental music.

Thus far, however, no millionaire in these parts has thought of equipping his home with sound apparatus in order to make possible the reproduction of sound or "talking" pictures. But that will come about, later, undoubtedly.

And it is a game, every day, between celebrities on the one hand and ship news reporters and photographers on the other. In spite of the pre-announcement of arrivals, which come into the newspaper offices before the ships, the news hounds quite often are kept guessing as to which incoming ship to choose for the most important news sources.

For that matter, prominent persons also are engaged in a game. They must try to dodge the cameras and the reporters. Once, when Lord and Lady Mountebatten were on their way to America, they wanted to know all about "The Battery," among other places. A wise traveler told them they would get enough of a sight of the "battery" long before they reached shore. And, certainly enough, the inevitable battery of cameras met them as their boat passed through quarantine. Try as they did to evade the news men, their features were captured by ready photographic plates.

Later, at a party, when many guests had been pressing them to tell what they thought of New York, someone asked what impressed them the most.

"The battery," answered the charming Lady Mountebatten. "It is so persistent."

New York first night audiences can be particularly harsh or cynical or overwhelmingly enthusiastic, as is the case with no other audience in the country. They have a vivid way of expressing their emotions and reactions in a new production or performance or work of art. When a recent old-time melo-drama was produced in a Broadway theater, the first night audience stepped right out of its conservative role and, adopting the picturesque tactics of our expressive forefather, hissed the villain, cheered the hero and ah-ahed the heroine.

Perhaps that accounts for the fact that it just as readily is prepared to make fun of its idols. Theodore Dreiser, for instance, is quite an idol of the New York intelligensia. But, at the opening of the Film Arts guild cinema here the other night, he encountered an embarrassing situation. Dreiser, it seems, is a great admirer of the Greenwich Village idea of "expression of freedom" in works of art. So, in view of the fact that the Film Arts guild is out to produce the most startling in futuristic motion picture art, he endorsed the idea on the screen. He was frankly baffled that night, at the opening, when he found himself and his endorsement jeered and laughed at by the very people he thought would applaud him.

Even Mr. Dreiser, it seems, had not learned to beware of first-night audiences!

FAVORITE JOKES OF FAMOUS FOLKS
As Told by Them to FRANK E. NICHOLSON

By C. H. CAGLE

C. H. CAGLE

In case you don't know, this mass of muscle is the star halfback of the Army football team, and he tells a gag as good as he kicks a goal.

"I suppose," he told me, "that nothing is great, grand or glorious enough to meet the expectations of some people. If they ever got to heaven they would find fault with something and it is dead certain that they would find fault with the other place, where, possibly, such folk befong.

It is said that the mother of a certain gentleman, never having seen the ocean, went on an excursion to the seaside with her son expressly for that purpose.

"Eventually they arrived, and the son treated his mother to a splendid meal in the best hotel at Atlantic City. Then they walked down on the pier. They stood on one end, and the son pointed out over the briny Atlantic.

"'There mother,' he cried exuberantly, 'tell me, what do you think of it?'

"'Humph!' humphed the old lady, 'I always thought it was bigger!'"

A mother's first duty is to her children, then her husband, an' then her home. Then if she wants to git out an' whisper fer some political party, or risk a little money at cards, that's her business. "I'm so sorry, an' to think he's jest got safely through the bandit age," said Mrs. Joe Kite today, when she heard o' the death o' Stanley Lark, who wuz born in 1906.

Acid Stomach Ruins Appetite

Thin, pale people—the despondent sort who never have an appetite, and complain of headaches, indigestion, dizziness, biliousness, usually have too much acid in their stomach. And unless they displace it, any food they eat turns into sour bile and foul gases, which poison their system.

Pape's Diapepsin dissolves that poisonous acid, sweetens the stomach and digests your meals. Many thousands of people have brought back the appetite of their youth and gained weight simply by chewing one of the pleasant tablets of Pape's Diapepsin after meals.

It does what it promises. That's the reason 5 million packages are used a year—ask your nearest druggist for it.—Adv.

Health And Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper

(Copyright 1929 by The Bell Syndicate Inc.)

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, March 10:

Sunday — Breakfast: Waffles, with a small amount of maple syrup, stewed figs. Lunch: Baked egg plant, string beans, celery and ripe olives. Dinner: Roast veal, cooked spinach and parsley, salad of sliced tomatoes, ice cream.

Monday — Breakfast: Poached eggs on Melba toast, stewed prunes. Lunch: Baked ground beets, head lettuce with cream cheese dressing. Dinner: Broiled lamb chops, asparagus, salad of shredded raw cabbage, grapejuice whip.

Tuesday — Breakfast: Whole-wheat mush with milk or cream, stewed raisins. Lunch: Eight-ounce glass of orange juice. Dinner: Vegetable soup, salisbury steak, cooked celery, buttered carrots, lettuce, baked pears.

Wednesday—Breakfast: French omelet, toasted cereal biscuit, stewed apples. Lunch: Baked potato, salad of molded vegetables in gelatin, beets, carrots, celery. Dinner: Roast of mutton, baked parsnips, cauliflower salad.

Thursday—Breakfast: Cornmeal mush with milk. Lunch: Baked squash, cooked lettuce, salad of grated raw carrots. Dinner: Celery soup, roast pork, stewed tomatoes, baked egg plant, salad of raw spinach leaves, plain jell-o or jell-well (no cream).

Friday—Breakfast: As many oranges as desired. Lunch: Spinach and cheese en casserole, shredded lettuce. Dinner: Tomato and celery vegetable broth, broiled white fish, mashed turnips, combination salad of raw cabbage, tomatoes and celery, stewed apricots.

Saturday—Breakfast: Cottage cheese, baked apple, melba toast. Lunch—Baked egg plant, string beans, lettuce. Dinner: Roast pork, spinach, salad of celery and tomatoes, prune whip.

Spinach and cheese en casserole: If the fresh spinach is available, wash thoroughly in several waters to remove all traces of grit. The water that clings to the leaves after the final washing affords enough moisture for cooking in one of the heavy aluminum pans tightly covered. After about 10 minutes' cooking, fill the bottom of a casserole with the finely chopped hot spinach, (if canned, heat before putting into casserole) and add a generous sprinkle of grated cheese. Add more spinach, another layer of grated cheese, and so on until the casserole is filled, covering the top with the grated cheese. Place in the oven until the cheese begins to melt, but do not allow it to brown, or to even become tough through actual cooking. Serve immediately, while hot.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Straightening Toes

Question—Pat asks: "Will you tell me how I can straighten my feet? The great toe on each foot has grown toward the other toes until the large joint below protrudes out in a great bump. I thought of putting a non-flexible rod inside my shoe and bending large toes with rod, but wanted to ask your advice first.

Answer—Most chiropodists will be able to fit you with a brace similar to the one you describe. You can wear these braces at night, and if you wear sensible shoes, there is a chance for you to return your toes to their natural shape.

Shampoos

Question—F. B. asks: "Would egg be a good shampoo?"

Answer—There is nothing harmful about the use of eggs as a material for shampoos and many people claim that such a shampoo keeps the hair in excellent condition.

Iodine

Question—G. M. M. asks: "Is it all right to use iodized salt in our food?"

Answer—It is unwise to use iodine in any form except through a physician's advice.

Water on Knee

Question: R. K. L. writes: "My mother is 48 years old and there seems to be a swelling on her knee. Is this 'water on the knee' and if so what is this the indication of? Is it very serious? She says it does not bother her at all."

Answer—Of course, I cannot diagnose your mother's case through this column, but it is more than likely that she is developing a form of arthritis, one type of which is not painful.

GOTTA STOP THAT

LONDON.—Dance teachers have passed the word that certain manners of dancing are to be barred henceforth. Affectionate holds are to go, they say, as are animal imitations such as wriggling and risky side-kicking. The "Camel Walk," the "Cat-On-Hot-Bricks Trot," the "Goose Step" and the "Bunny Hug" are put on the shelf in this dance clean-up.

$300,000 HEAD MONEY

LONDON.—The will of the late Ernest Ravenscroft, of the firm of Ede and Ravenscroft, revealed he had made $300,000 from the manufacture of wigs. It is said that once the firm was near a financial break because the wigs they made would not wear out. One Australian judge had his for 40 years and his son is now wearing it.

Charles Goodyear, in 1839, was granted a patent for vulcanizing India rubber.

Two Black Crows

MORAN AND MACK

MORAN: Is yo' got an appointment with Mr. Hoovah?

MACK: Did yo' ever hear about a White House spokesman?

MORAN: Sure.

MACK: Well, Mr. Hoovah wants me to do th' same thing in Union Station.

MORAN: What does yo' do?

MACK: When a train pulls out on time, I explains what's th' matter with it.

MORAN: Can yo' get me a job as spokesman somewhere?

MACK: I kin get yo' a lucrative position as master of ceremonies on a sightseein' bus.

MORAN: Say, Big Boy, ain't there no other jobs for an ambitious man?

MACK: Yo' means an ambitious man with hook-worms.

MORAN: How about Mr. Hoovah's kitchen cabinet?

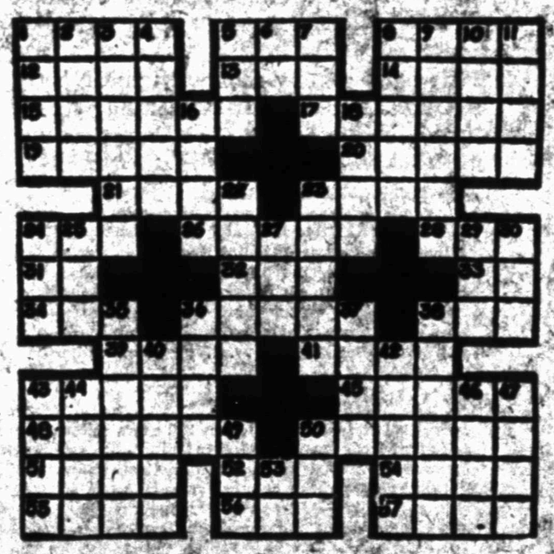

MACK: Don't menshun th' cabinet. Jus' show me th' kitchen.

MORAN: What does a man do in a kitchin cabinet?

MACK: I ain't never bin in a cabinet.

Big Boy has never been in a cabinet. But he sure can spradle distance in a kitchen. At present, the two office-seekers are still in the seeking business.

MOVIE CAMERAMAN CATCHES SPUDDERS AND ACES IN TRAINING

GEORGE PAYNE NEW ARRIVAL

Regulars Excused And Yannigans Play

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

The Spudders and Abilene Aces training out at Athletic park have been immortalized for posterity for the so-called silver sheet. Movies of the athletes were taken yesterday afternoon by a cameraman for Pathe News. The many and various rookies may be expected to write back home and tell the folks to be sure and see them in action as Spudders.

A group picture of the squad and views of the athletes skipping rope, running and playing leap frog were made. A close-up was made of Foreman Jim Galloway. The skipper must have been posing in front of a mirror, as he was very natural and didn't look at the camera once.

The pictures will be of particular interest in that they will show the huge squad in camp here. There were about 60 athletes in the picture, several of them already having been excused from work before the camera man got into action.

George Out Today

George Payne, the eminent master of the screw ball, arrived yesterday and will be out for work this morning. Payne drove here from his winter home at Indianapolis. Illness of Mrs. Payne and their little daughter prevented George from reporting sooner. Mrs. Payne and the little girl accompanied George and have recovered from their illness, their many friends here will be pleased to learn.

Arrival of Payne leaves Milt Steengrafe, with George the only vet Spud righthander on the roster, and Rabbit Benton, shortstop, as the only remaining Wichita Falls holdovers who have not reported.

A cold snap following the balmy weather of Wednesday caused Jim to keep his regulars out of action yesterday in the afternoon practice game. Teams composed mainly of Abilene Aces and sandlotters went through a five-inning contest, with the goofs beating the colts, 2 to 1.

Ed Ellis, a bespectacled lefthander, worked easily for three innings for the Colts, and Buster Jackson, Abilene righthander, finished on the hill for that team. Both are experienced pitchers.

Eull Moore, the Oklahoma Indian, and Meurer, a local youngster, chucked for the goofs. Moore had his usual speed and was difficult for the Colts to hit, though he was wild.

Ace Gardeners Star

Abilene outfielders distinguished themselves, Best and Orr each making two-base knocks and Dick Sullivan making a running-one snatch of a liner. Gordon and Schrimsher came up with some fast fielding. They lined up as follows:

Goofs—Norek, ss; Anderson, cf; Allday, 2b; Sullivan, lf; Gordon, 3b; Orr, rf; Beck, 1b; Cox, 1b; Winsinger, c; Moore, p; Meurer, p.

Colts—Thompson, 3b; Long, cf; Best, lf; Hooten, rf; Schrimsher, 1b; Roberts, 2b; McMahan, ss; Bradbury, c; Ellis, p; Jackson, 6.

The first week of practice was finished yesterday and the athletes are amazingly along in their work. Galloway has a very good idea on the capabilities of all the athletes, though of course it will require several days more of work before definite line on them can be had. Galloway's direction of such a large squad, with 70 ball players to handle, has again shown the managerial genius of the skipper. He not only knows how to run a ball club in the championship season when it is assembled, but he is a past master in developing and coaching young ball players.

Jim Has Efficient Aides

Galloway is receiving lots of help from Buddy Tanner, his first aide, and Pete Lapan has taken several young pitchers in hand to instruct them on the art of their craft.

Two chuckers who are particularly deriving benefit from Lapan's coaching are Roland Roberts and Lester White, the big righthanders back for trial here. Both are youngsters of no little possibilities.

White's fault in the past has been a tendency to take it easy, but under the urging of Lapan he is bearing down. Roberts, in a workout yesterday, showed lots of stuff. He is absorbing knowledge on how to work a change of pace; that is, mix a slow ball with his fast one.

They're still checking in—and out—at the clubhouse. Included in the arrivals yesterday was Martin, a pitcher; W. S. Bell, an outfielder from Crowell; Brown, an outfielder from Hedley, and W. H. Addington, a pitcher.

Waners Refuse Pirate Offers

Buds' Demands $6,000 Too High, Dreyfuss Says

PASO ROBLES, Calif., March 7. (AP)—The salary dispute between Paul and Lloyd Waner, star outfielders, and Sam Dreyfuss, secretary of the Pittsburgh club, which looked close to settlement recently when the brothers reduced their demands to $30,000, still is up in the air as far as the Pirate mentor is concerned.

Dreyfuss today said the demands of the Ada, Okla., holdouts still were too high—at least $6,000 worth—and that they could accept the club offer, reported to be $24,000, or none at all.

Ladies' Spudder Season Tickets Placed on Sale

Women's season tickets to Spudder baseball games at Athletic park have been placed on sale at Renfro's drug store. The tickets are $5, and are good for all games except opening day and Saturdays and Sundays. That is an admission charge of less than 10 cents a game.

There will be no more ladies' days at Athletic park, the low-priced tickets being placed on sale to permit fair fans to see the games for a few cents, instead of granting them free admission twice a week and charging them the regular price for tickets on other days.

Braves' Strategy Board

Training Camp Chatter

AVON PARK, Fla., March 7. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals drew first blood in prying off the lid of the 1929 major league baseball season by blanking the Philadelphia Athletics here this afternoon, 2 to 0, in an exhibition game.

Philadelphia	000	000	000—0 3 0
St. Louis	001	000	01x—2 7 1

Batteries—Yerkes, Breckenridge, Walberg and Cochrane; Bysco, Heise, Boykin and Wilson.

SOX COLT IMPRESSES

DALLAS, March 7. (AP)—Elgin Wilson, a tall young semipro hurler from Milford, Texas, dropped unheralded into the Chicago White Sox training camp here today and made an impression on Manager Lena Blackburne by pitching his regulars to a 6 to 2 victory over the goofs in a seven-inning game.

Wilson was not supposed to go the route, but Blackburne never had a chance to take him out.

OTT HITS HOMER

SAN ANTONIO, March 7. (AP)—Eleven hits, two because of too much sun, was the batting output of the New York Giants today, with the Grays defeating the Whites, 2 to 0.

Melvin Ott made the prize drive. After Welsh had hit to center for three bases he sent the ball down the first base line and into the southeast corner of the right field fence for a home run, the first chalked up in spring training.

DOUG M'WEENY SIGNS

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 7. (UP)—Doug McWeeny, pitcher, signed a one-year contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers today at a salary of $12,000, leaving Dazzy Vance who is asking $25,000 for the present season, as the only holdout. Vance appeared at the park after McWeeny had signed but refused to alter his demands. An offer of $22,500 has been made to him. He left this evening for Homassasa, Fla., to resume work on a hunting lodge there.

2 PHILS MISSING

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 7. (UP)—Only three players were absent tonight as the Phillies prepared to get down to hard work. Bob McGraw, who is a holdout, Lefty O'Doul, and Bernie Friberg have not yet checked in.

RED SOX WORK HARD

BRADENTON, Fla., March 7. (UP)—Two workouts a day will be the rule with the Red Sox starting tomorrow, although each man will only work once. Manager Bill Carrigan has so many men in his squad here that he has decided the only way to give all a fair chance is to divide the squad.

The Sox have advanced rapidly in their conditioning. Not a man in the squad has complained of an injury.

DURST BATS HARD

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 7. (UP)—The second intra-club game of the New York Yankees today resulted in a rout for the rookies. The regulars, led by Lou Gehrig, beat the Yannigans, 7 to 2 in a six inning contest.

Cedric Durst, in the Yannigan outfield, was the batting star, with two doubles and a single but could not score a run, as Henry Johnson, Floyd Van Pelt and Cy Moore kept the recruits pretty well in check. Johnson gave only one hit in the first three innings.

SOLONS NEED CATCHERS

TAMPA, Fla., March 7. (UP)—Catchers were at a premium in the camp of the Washington Senators today, with only three receivers on hand to warm up the hurlers and go behind the plate during a long afternoon batting drill.

CUBS PLAY ANGELS

AVALON, Catalina Island, Calif., March 7. (UP)—After a light workout, the Chicago Cubs late today boarded a boat for the mainland, where they will play a three-game series with the Los Angeles team of the Pacific coast league. The lineup for Friday announced by Manager McCarthy, will be:

English, shortstop; Beck or McMillan, third base; Cuyler, right field; Hornsby, second base; Wilson center field; Stephenson, left field; Grimm, first base; Gonzales, Grace or Angley, catcher; Horne, Lautenbacher and Holley, pitchers.

REDS ON TOUR

ORLANDO, Fla., March 7. (UP)—All but seven members of the Cincinnati Reds will leave here Friday for Miami on the first leg of a 10-day exhibition tour. They meet the Philadelphia Athletics Saturday and Sunday in the opening games. The program calls for three games with the Athletics, and one each with the Boston Red Sox, New York Yanks, and Indianapolis Indians.

JACK PONDERS OVER FUTURE

Dempsey Arrives in Gotham to Consider Offers

By WILLIAM J. DUNN

NEW YORK, March 7. (UP)—Jack Dempsey, sun bronzed and happy over the success of his first venture as a promoter, arrived in New York today to consider offers which may have an important bearing on his future in the fight promotion game.

That the former champion is satisfied with the financial results of the Miami Beach fight is evident, but Dempsey is not so sure of just what he may do in the future.

Officials of Madison Square garden, who backed Dempsey at Miami Beach, are expected to approach him with an offer which may result in his permanent connection with the garden. Then, too, Humbert Fugazy, New York promoter, has indicated he will make Dempsey an interesting offer.

Fugazy Plans Arena

Fugazy has been planning to erect a large sports arena here and is said to be dickering for one of the ball parks for outdoor fights. The name of Dempsey should prove a valuable asset in these projects.

Dempsey is not relying entirely upon the possibility of making lucrative connections in this city, however. He has determined to be a promoter regardless of the odds and declared he would set himself up in the game if unable to locate in New York.

Detroit will be the first town considered by the former champion, he said, and he plans to leave New York late next week to scout the field there. His sketchy plans call for the erection of a large outdoor arena and the promotion of regular open air fight programs.

Jack May Go It Alone

If he decides to do this he will undertake the task without outside assistance, he said. He has the ready cash to back such a proposition and he feels he can work better alone than with outside aid. If successful he might form a corporation and sell a minority interest, retaining complete control of himself.

Dempsey believes Miami is the logical winter fight center but doubts the advisability of going on with future plans until the state laws governing boxing in Florida are revised.

"They had me worried a number of times down there," he admitted. "Any one could have stopped the fight if he had tried—or at least made us plenty of trouble—and I was always afraid someone would try it."

Dempsey will leave for Boston Friday with W. F. Carey, with whom he worked in Miami Beach, to attend a benefit fight program at the Boston garden. He will return Saturday when he will be ready to listen to all reasonable offers and to begin the formulation of his actual plans for the future.

Florida Speed Record Trials Are Postponed

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 7. (UP)—Major H. O. D. Segrave and J. M. White, who will attempt to set a new world's record for speed in their special automobiles here, were kept idle today because the beach was not fit for action. They are awaiting a strong northeast wind to smooth the sand.

Segrave ran his Irving-Napier "Golden Arrow" down the beach a way for the benefit of photographers.

BURRUS JOINS CHAMP BUFFS

Vet First Baseman Reports In Fine Condition

HOUSTON, March 7. (AP)—Apparently in splendid condition, Dick Burrus, former Boston Brave first sacker, worked out today with the Houston Buffs. A short time ago Burrus underwent an operation which, he says, has removed a handicap that held him back in 1927 and 1928.

With arrival of Burrus and Lynn Griffiths, southpaw from Allen academy, Bryan, the number of performers in camp was boosted to 45.

The Buff squad has become too large and some of the aspirants will be released Friday or Saturday.

FAY PIERCE, CAT INFIELDER, HURT

MINERAL WELLS, Texas, March 7. (AP)—The first casualty in the Fort Worth Cats' camp occurred today when Fay Pierce, shortstop, threw his left shoulder out of joint. It snapped back immediately and he expects to be able to perform Saturday when the Cats and Oklahoma City of the Western league play a two-game series in Fort Worth.

STEERS-WHITE SOX SERIES ON TODAY

CORSICANA, Texas, March 7. (AP)—Things looked brighter in the Dallas Steers camp tonight than at any time since spring practice began.

Manager Milton Stock was chirked up considerably by the arrival of Ray Flaskamper, brilliant shortstop, and Jimmy Moore, young outfielder purchased from Kansas City.

Both Flaskamper and Moore are slated for regular berths.

Stock announced tonight that Flaskamper, Bill Huber, Dick Schuman and several ailing pitchers would be left here to workout while the rest of the Herd engages the Chicago White Sox in a three-game series Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Dallas.

The SPORTLIGHT

By GRANTLAND RICE

(Copyright, 1929, New York Tribune Inc.; Trademark Registered U. S. Patent Office)

Upon his return to Germany, Max Schmeling announced that he had quit trying to box and had gone in for fighting, adopting the American method of aggression.

Far be it from a home-born product to take issue against one of the home boys, but the case doesn't seem to work just that way. Most of the aggressive stuff has come from the foreign delegation since Dempsey passed out of the picture.

For example, there was Luis Firpo. If he wasn't aggressive, neither is a wild bull. Firpo's idea of a boxing match was to wade in and knock somebody's head off with a right hand.

Then Paulino came over. He was not a fancy boxer, and he isn't now, but he is still willing to wade in and fight. No one ever accused Tom Heeney of backing away. He is no great fighter, but at least he has always been willing to mix it and to fight.

To this list one might add Max Schmeling, probably the most aggressive of the lot. Schmeling does not go in for holding, clinching and wrestling, with a flurry of dancing thrown in. Schmeling wades in winging with either hand.

How many heavyweights of standing have we around at this moment who are as aggressive as Firpo, Paulino, Heeney and Schmeling?

Those who saw the Sharkey-Stribling fight might return part of the answer. And they were collecting $163,000 for their stuff.

Gene Tunney was far from being aggressive fighter. George Godfrey is even less aggressive. Stribling has been the last word in non-aggressiveness against a first-class opponent. Sharkey has had spells of offensive outbreaks, but they have been consistently carried through.

When you check up on the returns for the last few years the foreign entries have done most of the real fighting. At least they have tried to fight when not entwined in the pythonic grips of some of our leading heavyweight ringmen whose slogan has turned into "Safety First."

Can, But Won't

Several of our heavyweights can fight—but they won't—as long as the golden harvest is at hand without having to take a chance.

The invader seems to feel that he has to show something to get a chance, so he gives about all he has, even when it isn't a lot.

Max Schmeling has had few fights on this side, yet today he will outdraw any heavyweight we have. Which is quite enough to show the status of our heavyweights.

K. O. Christner is one of the willing, aggressive types, but the Akron entry broke into the game just a trifle too late to have any chance of reaching the top.

Yet as long as the boys can bank away big money year after year without having to fight for it or to take any sporting chances, they may be entirely within their rights as keen business men.

Several of them have accumulated more than $500,000, each without taking a chance, and at least no one can call them dumb as long as the public is still willing to pay when they appear on some bill.

The fighter can develop his own protection by trailing those who are willing to give him some action.

"Just how still do you keep your body in putting?" asks a reader.

As still as you can keep it without turning into a post or thinking too hard about it. Which is to say, it should be a still body that isn't rigid.

When one blows back in from some crowded winter resort down south it is always a surprise to find the city back home more crowded than ever.

Lou Gehrig says he prefers to fish for a pastime and leave golf to an old man like Babe Ruth. It so happens that golf and fishing are the only two sports that run the gamut of the Seven Ages—covering the span from 10 years old up to 90. And when you see a worked-up party measuring space with his two hands apart you don't know whether he is describing the length of the fish he just missed or the length of the putt he just failed to hole.

Dan Howley, of the St. Louis Browns, asked for three years in which to build up a ball club and his advice to the rest of the American league today is to clear the road when his youngsters hit the pike. The Yankees and Athletics are hereby warned to take notice.

THE BATTLE for Spudder berths that has been noted in the battery and infield in this column, extends to the outfield. Though the contention of the gardeners for Spudder retention concerns the rookies themselves and is not directed against the veterans. This is on the assumption that four gardeners are to be retained throughout the season.

Red Bennett, Howard Fitzgerald and Brick Elred, reading from left to right, of course are practically certain to be the three starting outfielders. The scramble for the fourth place then, is resolved into a merry war between several yannigans.

J. ALVIN Gardner, owner of the Spudders and the ranch at Abilene, called in all his garden farm hands from the latter club for trials here this spring with the Spudders. And a likely-looking trio, they are, too.

They are Cameron Best, Dick Sullivan and Garland Orr, with an attempt at classification according to their baseball worth. It isn't often that you see three outfielders of such class on a class D ball club. They all look good.

◆ ◆ ◆

BILL HOGTEN, the youngster from one of Billy Disch's University of Texas famous teams, is another promising outfielder. Bill had trials last year with Waco and Dallas and while he didn't show a great deal at either place, he impressed Owner Gardner so favorably that he was signed for the Spudders—or Aces.

Hooten is following in the footsteps of Howard Fitzgerald, the greyhound of center field, a noted Longhorn athlete of a decade ago.

◆ ◆ ◆

COMING into camp unheralded, Red Anderson, from the sandlots of California, has indicated he is in the fight for some place, some where. Red has been banging the ball in practice games and while there may be something to the fact that he played winter ball out on the west coast and therefore has the jump on most of the other athletes, there is no getting around the fact that Anderson takes a nice cut at the ball and LOOKS like a hitter. He seems to be a pretty able fielder, too.

New York Solons Plan Measure To Bar Punch Drunk Pugilists

It Is Worthy Idea, Runyon Says, But Who Shall Be Judge of What Constitutes That Boxing Malady?

By DAMON RUNYON
(Copyright, 1929, by Universal Service, Inc.)

NEW YORK, March 7.—I note in the public prints a legislative effort to bar from the arenas of New York state devoted to the sour science, all boxers regarded as chronically punch-drunk.

A meritorious measure, my comrades, but I rise at this moment to address the chair on the following question:

Who is to decide when a boxer is punch-drunk, chronically, or otherwise, and what specific symptoms shall be deemed evidence of punch-drunkenness?

And to this puzzler I might add the interrogation as to what degree of punch-drunkenness shall be deemed a definite bar to the New York activities of a sour scientist? If a gentleman is just bobbing a bit as he walks, or mumbling somewhat as he converses, shall he be adjudged so slug-nutty that he cannot participate in our local ear scrambling?

You know punch-drunkenness manifest itself in myriad forms aside from walking on the heels or talking as if the mouth were filled with a hot potato, and any legislation on the subject must be very explicit. In fact, I contend that it ought to take cognizance of the punch-drunkenness that arises from other occupations besides the sour science.

I have known legislators to wind up a little punch-drunk from the reverberation of their own voices raised in behalf of daffy legislation.

Nature Exacts Its Toll

I think there can be little doubt that the constant beat of blows against a human bean, none too carefully executed by nature in the beginning, eventually produces a certain grogginess of the mental processes that we discribe as punch-drunkenness.

The brain gets to rattling around inside the old noggin, and presently the sour scientist is about 50 cents short in a $5 note, as the boys say. Meaning that he is a trifle screwy.

Yet he may not exhibit his mental tipsiness to the naked eye. I know several sour scientists who walk without bouncing, but who suffer from delusions of grandeur. It is nothing serious, yet these delusions are undoubtedly the result of punch-drunkenness.

But it is only fair to the sour science to say that punches alone do not always produce punch-drunkenness. Booze and disease often help the case along. In fact, I am inclined to think that in at least 75 per cent of the cases of punch-drunkenness, it will be found that booze and disease had more to do with it than the punishment assimilated in pursuit of the sour science.

Yet it must be obvious to anyone that a blow of sufficient force to render a man unconscious, and this sort of blow repeated time and again, cannot fail to addle an organ as delicate as the human brain to some extent, regardless of the owner's habits or customs.

Little Ad Wolgast, a great lightweight champion in his day, died out on the Pacific coast not long ago. For several years he went on the road and trained conscientiously for a fight with Joe Gans, the Baltimore negro who also once held the lightweight title, though Gans had been dead a long time, and Wolgast's fighting days were far behind him.

Poor Wolgast was plenty punch-drunk in the later years of his life. And it was divided about 50-50 between punches and dissipation. But oddly enough, punch-drunkenness isn't as common among champions, as among the lesser sour scientists, probably because the champions are usually such good fighters they don't take much punishment.

However, one of the cleverest men that ever put up his hands in the prize ring, a master-boxer of all time, was one of the most beat-up looking specimens I have ever seen, and undeniably a little bit punch-drunk. He was Young Griffo. It was said of him that he was so clever he could stand on a handkerchief and defy anyone to knock him off it, a statement I have always been inclined to doubt.

The World's Quality Oil made still better!

Leading lubrication specialists improve the quality of Mobiloil to meet today's demand for a superior lubricating oil

Today's high-speed driving conditions place a new burden upon lubrition. Your engine requires a better oil, especially adapted to these conditions.

This need is now met with the New Mobiloil, superior to anything produced before. At 35c a quart, you will find this Mobiloil the most economical oil you ever used.

MAKE THIS TEST

Drive to the nearest Mobiloil dealer . . . have him drain all the old oil from your crankcase and . . . fill it up with the correct grade of the New Mobiloil. You know from experience how your engine ran the last time fresh oil was put in the crankcase . . . Now—notice the difference!

Look for these results—

Increased Oil Mileage: Often 100 extra miles per quart from the New Mobiloil.
Increased Gasoline Mileage: Many tests show gasoline consumption reduced as much as 16%.
Faster Pick-Up—More Power: Quicker get-away, more "pep" on the road, less labor on the hills.
Smoother Operation: A quieter motor; a velvety smoothness of acceleration, less vibration when speeding.

New Mobiloil 35c a quart

The dealer who sells a quart of the New Mobiloil for less than 35c (except Mobiloil "E" the chatterproof oil for Model "A" Fords, at 30c) is not making his fair reasonable profit. Lower prices often accompany substitution.

KEEN COMPETITION FORECAST IN STATE PREP CAGE TOURNEY

BRYAN IS FOE OF ESTELLINE

Parrish's Basketeers Play This Afternoon

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, March 7. (AP)—Fourteen of the strongest teams ever entered since the meet first was held in 1921 are to participate in the annual interscholastic league basket ball tournament here Friday and Saturday.

Pre-tournament dope fails to give any entry an outstanding chance for the high school title of the state, but at least four entries seem to have a good chance. Athens, 1927 winner; Denton, runnerup in 1927; El Paso, 1921 champs; Corsicana and San Jacinto high of Houston are among the leaders.

As a result of the draw for places, San Jacinto and Knippa advanced to the second round with byes. In the morning play Friday Athens meets May, El Paso is to play Denison and Main Avenue High of San Antonio will battle Cisco. Athens, El Paso and Main should come through.

In the afternoon, Corsicana will play Perryton, Denton will meet McAllen and Estelline will play Bryan. Dope favors Corsicana, Denton and Bryan.

Only once since the first tournament was held has one school won the championship twice, Oak Cliff high of Dallas took the laurels in 1923-24. Other winners: Lindale (later disqualified), 1922; Beaumont, 1925; Brackenridge (San Antonio), 1926; Austin, 1928, (disqualified).

'NEVER FELT BETTER IN MY LIFE,' HE SAYS

Wichita Man Says Didn't Feel Like Working But Orgatone Gives Him Strength and Energy

"I honestly never felt better in my life," said Marvin McClendon, of 311 Lee street, Wichita Falls, Texas, while in Allison's Drug store recently. Mr. McClendon is employed at the Albright Transfer Co.

"I've had stomach trouble for some time," he continued, "and always felt tired and worn out and no-account and never felt like doing my work. Sometimes when I had to make a long run, driving a truck, I would feel so bad, it would nearly kill me and I couldn't hardly make it. I didn't have any appetite and what food I ate didn't digest and I was awfully constipated. I was quite nervous and restless and never got a good night's sleep.

"I saw where Orgatone was advertised so highly for just such troubles as mine and began taking it. I haven't taken one bottle and certainly feel like a different person. I am also taking the iron for my blood and it, too, is helping me. I eat anything I want now and it doesn't bother me at all. I'm not nervous and sleep fine every night. My constipation has been relieved, and in fact, I feel better and stronger in every way. Now, I can make a long drive and it doesn't even make me tired out as it used to. I am glad to recommend Orgatone for I know it is a good medicine."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called secret or patent remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by the Allison's Drug store under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative. Out-of-town customers are being supplied promptly by mail upon receipt of price. One bottle $1.25 or six bottles for $6.25.—Adv.

CAREY SLATED FOR TEX'S JOB

Bill to Put Garden on Businesslike Basis

By FRANK GETTY

NEW YORK, March 7. (UP)—The first direct move to decide upon a successor to Tex Rickard as president of Madison Square garden, has been made.

There was only one name in the minds of the little group of millionaire sportsmen who met privately in the offices of Hayden, Stone & Co., 25 Broad street, the other day.

It was the name of the sunburned, tousle-haired, slightly stooped but stocky man who was making a report upon the success of the garden's amazing Miami Beach venture—William F. Carey.

Tells of Miami Fight

To the executive committee of the board of directors of the Madison Square Garden corporation, Carey rendered an accounting of his stewardship in Florida, an accounting of the most extraordinary experiment in fight promotion ever undertaken.

While Bill talked, the others in the board room were visualizing him as their next president, as the man to carry on in succession to Tex Rickard, but in a way vastly different from that of the haphazard gambling man from the West.

A business administration, in addition to one involving that contact with the press and public which is the sine qua non of success in cauliflower gardening, is what the men who control the destinies and own the stock of the garden desire.

Carey Big Business Head

It no longer is a secret that Rickard, had he lived, would have been driven from the garden presidency by his own slip-shod business methods. The directors admired Rickard's genius as a promoter, but they were frankly horrified by his indifference toward the orderly ways of big business.

Carey, builder of railroads the world over, head of a dozen concerns representing hundreds of millions of capital, is as sound a business man as any of them. And Bill has a personal charm, an infectious smile that Rickard lacked, a straightforwardness that inspires the confidence of newspaper men who never altogether trusted Tex because Tex didn't trust them.

The meeting was attended by Richard F. Hoyt, chairman of the garden board of directors; Carey, Matt Brush and Walter Camp.

If these men decide they want Carey, it is just a question of whether Bill will take the job.

Baseball Rules Changes Loom

McGraw Experiment Leads To Speculation

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, March 7. (UP)—From all sides comes evidence that the official baseball rules are quite likely to see a radical change within the next few years.

Quite innocently enough, John J. McGraw tried a new experiment at San Antonio when he had the Giants play a practice game cricket fashion, each side staying at bat until 27 outs had been made.

Heydler's Bombshell

President John Heydler burst a bombshell at the National league schedule meeting this winter when he proposed that teams be composed of 10 men, the tenth man to bat and run for the pitcher. The National league discussed the plan favorably, but the American league turned a cold shoulder to the idea.

For one thing, Heydler's suggestion started baseball men to thinking and a change in the rules may result from the stimulus given by the National league prexy. Heydler has not given up his 10 man plan and is working on an improvement of the original suggestion. That the plan is being considered by the major leagues is shown by the fact that several teams are trying the scheme at the training camps. The Philadelphia Athletics played a practice game the other day in which the pitchers did no batting.

McGraw's Idea

McGraw's plan to have each team stay at bat for 27 outs was tried in order to save time. The element of time also entered into Heydler's plan. It is the National league prexy's contention that the majority of pitchers slow up the game when their side is at bat. According to Heydler, pitchers are never ready to take their turn at the plate and, if they get on base, they slow up play considerably.

For some years, there has been a constant cry against long-drawn out games, stalling and everything that tends to slow up the action of the game. The American league had a campaign on last season to attempt to speed up play, but got no great results from it.

A change in baseball rules to do what the forward pass did for football is what the major league officials appear to be striving for.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 7. (US)—Although displaced as captain of the Robins, Max Carey still has a job on the team.

Garden Approves Carey Plan for Miami Fights

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—The executive committee of the Madison Square Garden corporation today gave its approval to the agreement negotiated by W. F. Carey for five winter fights in Miami, Fla., in the next five years.

GRID SQUADS WORKING OUT

Georgia Tech and New York Start Spring Drills

By ALAN J. GOULD

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—Spring training isn't confined to baseball. Footballs—not the rules committee hopes, of the "bootleg" variety—will be flying about shortly on many a college gridiron while coaches scan the prospects and erect the framework for next fall's campaign.

Along the Atlantic seaboard, camps of at least two outfits, Georgia Tech and New York university, will be worth noting. Both came out of the 1928 season in the spotlight, N. Y. U. for a variety of reasons and Tech with an outstanding claim to national championship honors.

At Atlanta, Head Coach "Bill" Alexander, sounding the roll call this week, has his problems, but they are not connected with the backfield. With Thomason, Mizell and Lumpkin, among other veteran ball carriers, available for the 1929 campaign, Tech has no reason to fear a lack of punch or skill in its running, passing and kicking game. The Tornado line is something else. With Captain Pund, Speer, Thrash and Drennon lost from the forward wall that performed so brilliantly all last season, Alexander has big gaps to fill up front.

Chick Meehan starts spring work with his two outstanding stars of 1928, Halfback Ken Strong and Captain Al Lassman, gone from the playing field. Both may be on the field but only in the capacity of assistant coaches.

BUTLER FIVE WINS

BRIDWELL-PETROLEUM PRODUCERS

The Bridwell Oil and Petroleum Producers companies No. 1 J. Sampley, located in the J. Sanders survey, north of Bryson in Jack county, is drilling at 3186 feet. This test which for the past few days has been watched with interest by the operators in the field, topped the sand at 3115 feet, where casing was set and cemented. Tuesday the plug was drilled out and the sand penetrated to 3147 feet, showing some oil and plenty of gas. The hole was cleaned out and more sand was taken when a shale break was encountered mixed with sandy lime. So far the showing is disappointing to the owners but hopes are held that the regular Liedecker pay will be picked up in the next few feet.

THE HOLLIDAY AREA

The Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Mrs. Wallace, located 900 feet east and 150 feet south of the northwest corner of section 11, Denton county school lands in the Holliday field of north Archer county, is running casing to set on the sand picked up at 1790 feet.

STOCK-A-DAY

LEHIGH PORTLAND CEMENT COMPANY

Five-Year Record

Twelve per cent of the total cement output of the country is accounted for by the Lehigh Portland Cement company. It was formed 32 years ago and controls seven subsidiaries including lighterage, railway and transportation companies. The company operates 20 miles in Pennsylvania, Indiana, Kansas, New York, Maryland, Washington, Iowa, Virginia and Alabama. Limestone reserves are located near all these plants. The annual capacity of the plants totals 23,400,000 barrels. In addition, the concern owns property containing material suitable for cement manufacture in Florida, Alabama, New York, Oklahoma, Ohio, New Jersey, Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Gross sales in recent years have been fairly stable around $31,000,000 but net earnings have tended to decline. Earnings for the fiscal year ended Nov. 30, 1928, totaled $4,124,391, however, comparing with $4,118,844 for the previous fiscal period. This was equivalent to $5 a share on the common stock.

There is no funded debt. Capital stock includes $21,696,700 in 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock of $100 par and $22,517,400 in common stock of $50 par. The preferred was issued as a 100 per cent stock dividend on the common in February, 1928. Dividends have been paid on the preferred at the required rate since issue. On the common, payments have been at varying rates. The present rate is 1¼ per cent a quarter or 5 per cent annually.

As of Nov. 30, 1928, total current assets amounted to $19,272,805, current liabilities totaled $2,310,467 and net working capital was $16,962,338. Book value applicable to the common stock was $70.62 a share. The company will double the capacity of the Sandt's Eddy plant in 1929 bringing it to 2,000,000 barrels annually.

STRAIGHT HOLE MADE POSSIBLE

New Type Equipment Used By Corsicana Man

CORSICANA, Texas, March 7. (AP)—Honor of drilling the first 100 per cent "straight" hole on record in the state of Oklahoma is the distinction that has been bestowed on Fred M. Allison, Corsicana drilling operator, after completion of a well for the Barnsdall Oil corporation near the Mission pool, Maude, Okla.

The test was drilled to a depth of 4280 feet and is estimated 8,000-barrel producer, according to advice received from the Barnsdall officials. It was one of four tests put down on the same track by four different contractors, and the other three tests showed a variance of from 130 to 180 degrees when "bottled" from a straight test.

Among the most important innovations tested in the well were new type slips and new style tool joints perfected and patented by a Corsicana contractor.

The slips are composed of two interlocking segments with smooth surface instead of the old four-piece equipment, with toothed surfaces. A machined and beveled surface at the top of the slips support the weight while the weight is supported by pressure on the pipe when the old equipment is used. The new tool joints are so constructed that old type standard make boxes may be used, but contain many radical changes.

With all the machinery designed by Mr. Allison, it is possible to secure from 40 inches to 46 feet of rigid connection from the drill stem to the tip of the bit, enabling the drilling of a much straighter hole.

The straightness of a hole is determined by lowering of a bottle containing acid into the hole in a bailer, and as the bailer descends each variation is etched on the bottle. Many wells have shown extreme variations from normal ranging from a few degrees to 180, and considerable litigation has resulted from misplaced shots, and rival corporations drilling into each other.

Additional tests of the new equipment are planned.

Refiners Show More Optimism

Special to The Record News

TULSA, Okla., March 7.—While the Oklahoma gasoline situation remains unchanged, with U. S. motor grade holding at 6¾ to 7 cents a gallon in tank car lots, and with many refiners feeling more optimistic of the spring and summer demand, the eastern market softened. This was indicated by Standard Oil Company of New Jersey reducing U. S. motor grade there one-fourth of a cent a gallon in tank car lots to 9¾ cents a gallon.

The 60-62, 400 endpoint gasoline grade is holding at 7 cents, with 64-66, 390 endpoint around 7½ cents and the 375 endpoint material at 7¾ cents.

Kerosene is in good demand, the 41-43 grade holding at 5½ to 5¾ cents, and it is reported that a big purchase has been made in North Texas that should strengthen the Oklahoma situation. Straw-colored gas oil of 32-36 grade is strong at 3½ cents, and straw-colored distillate of 38-40 grade is at 4½ cents. No change is seen in fuel oils.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—Cotton was higher today on a renewal of the recent buying movement, promoted by relatively steady Liverpool cables and continued favorable reports from the cotton goods trade. After selling up to 21.07 at the start, May reacted to 20.97, but advanced to 21.20 in the late trading, or 26 points net higher and even with the high price of yesterday morning. May closed at 21.16. The general market closed very steady at net advances of 17 to 24 points.

The market opened at an advance of 9 to 14 points in response to higher Liverpool cables.

As soon as the initial demand had been supplied, prices reacted 5 or 10 points from the best under some southern selling and realizing.

Trade interests were credited with buying on the setback. Offerings soon tapered off, however, and the market firmed up again during the afternoon. The advance met further realizing and was interrupted by moderate setbacks from time to time.

Best prices of the day were reached during the last hour. March sold at 21.16 and the new October contract at 20.33, making net advances of about 22 to 26 points on active positions. Closing quotations were a few points off under realizing.

There were reports of continued good business in the local cloth market. Private cables said recent business in Manchester had been the largest for some time. There were rumors that several thousand bales of certified cotton were to be shipped here from the Southwest, possibly for delivery during the current month, but they were not confirmed and were without any appreciable influence on the market.

Brokers with Wall street and western connections were among the buyers on the advance again today.

Private cables from Liverpool said Bombay liquidation and hedge selling there had been absorbed by trade calling and continental buying.

Exports today, 21,033 bales, making 6,431,012 this season. Port receipts, 19,321. United States port stocks, 1,921,564.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 7. (AP)—Varied bullish influences kept cotton prices on the upgrade today despite flurries of realizing and hedge selling which were absorbed at small reactions. After opening steady and advancing in early trading, the market eased off under realizing, but firmed up later and made new highs for the day. May contracts traded up from 20.26 to 20.45 and closed at 20.42, or 20 points net higher. The general market closed very steady at net advances of 19 to 21 points.

Liverpool cables were relatively steady and were reflected in an opening gain of 8 to 11 points. A report from a foreign bureau making the world's consumption of American cotton for the first six months of the season 7,613,000 bales was construed as bullish and soon after the start all active positions showed advances of 11 points from yesterday's close.

At these levels traders took profits and May sold down to 20.26, July 20.28 and October 19.98, or 7 to 9 points under the highs. The offerings were absorbed by trade and speculative buying, said to be induced by map indications for a return of unfavorable weather in the belt. Although there was realizing, it was confined to a few points, and prices made new highs for the day in early afternoon trading with May at 20.45 and July 20.46, or 20 to 23 points above the previous close.

In the late trading old crop positions sold up to new high levels for the day under some additional buying, and although new crop months did not duplicate their earlier highs, October traded to 20.16 and December 20.18 or 20 to 21 points net up. Final prices were a few points under the highs but showed a net advance for the day of practically $1 a bale.

Radio Is Leading Bull Feature As Stocks Rally and Close Higher

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, March 7. (US)—Stocks rallied and closed higher after an irregular session today, in which call money again rose to 12 per cent from renewal of 10 per cent. Short covering was responsible for the closing advance as there was rather surprisingly widespread report that there would be no change in the rediscount rate this week. Even when the rally progressed, however, there was concern about higher call rates due to the absence of funds.

Radio was the outstanding bull feature with its main sponsor back on the job. The new stock gained 7¾ for the day while steel recovered 1¾, Anaconda 2, Westinghouse 2¾ and other active issues closed from 1 to 4 points higher.

Railroads moved higher with the rest of the list with Central and Missouri Pacific enjoying the best demand. Oils were quiet and somewhat steadier. Continued nervousness was reflected in smaller dealings so that turnover dropped below the 4,000,000 share level.

The treasury pays 4¾ per cent for its money while common stocks yield 4 per cent and less. Federal reserve supporters blame the stock market but the reason for investment conditions that made necessary the high interest rate on the treasury offering was the activity of the federal reserve. The reserve is in such condition now that it can ease money conditions whenever it sees fit. The last two days have made it obvious that it will not do so until material reduction in brokers' loans is effected. It seems certain also that the reserve has scared the life out of all member banks and as a result they will cooperate fully in its corrective campaign.

It seems almost absurd that the government of the most prosperous country in history must pay such record high charge for a loan but no matter how it seems the reserve cannot quit now, so that the wise traders are standing aside.

There was further selling of Johns Manville following announcement of the death of President Merseles. Recognized as the representative of the powerful bankers who first took an interest in the company two years ago, his death caused quite heavy profit-taking. However, scale support was in the market with buying orders executed by brokers who usually act for the banking interests. They are reported confident that the policies of Mr. Merseles will be continued and further improvement in earnings recorded during coming months. Not alone is Johns Manville one of the favored stocks of these banking interests but it stands high in the opinion of the most important individuals in the "Big Ten." These operators are standing aside now but when the reserve board's corrective campaign is concluded, will take an important part in the market for the stock.

Another reason for the recent weakness throughout the list, it is learned, is that W. C. Durant has stayed at home for the last few days nursing a cold. His brokers have been less active as result although keeping in touch with Mr. Durant most of the time, it is claimed.

Chrysler, Anaconda, Combustion and other Durant favorites have shown the effect of his lessened activity.

Increase of $140,000,000 in brokers loans entirely offsets the maintenance of the rediscount rate of 5 per cent and is likely to influence further unsettlement tomorrow. It was generally expected that loans would show only a slight change and the big gain reported indicates the public participation late last week was even larger than expected.

A 15 per cent call money rate tomorrow would be fully as warranted as was the 12 per cent charge today as the banks have to make their adjustment with the reserve tomorrow afternoon. None knows just what money will do tomorrow for rates now are the result of artificial control and will remain so until the federal reserve completes its corrective campaign.

Livestock

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, March 7. (AP)—All classes of cattle and calves sold about steady on the livestock market here today. Except for slaughter yearlings, other classes consisted mostly of mixed loads of varying quality.

The supply of steers very light with a few part loads in the receipts and due to sell at $11.00 and less. Values about steady.

One car of bulls with the usual supply of package lots went to the scales on steady bids with the better heavy bulls around $8.25 and the common light bulls around $6.50.

Yearlings made up a good portion of the grown cattle supply and buyers were taking them during the early part of the session at steady prices at $12.25 and on down, but the bulk of the better kind sold in the $11.60 notch.

No very good carloads of cows on hand, bulk of butcher and beef cows selling at $7.00 to $7.50 and canners and cutters at $5.00 to $6.00.

Trading in calves fairly active at fully steady values with no straight carloads offered. Packages sold up to $11.75, but the bulk of receipts sold at $10.50 to $11.25, cull calves around $7.00.

The stocker demand for all classes of cattle about the same as on yesterday with steady values being paid. Some stocker steers sold during the morning at $9.75.

Sheep considered steady, wooled fat lambs at $15.00 to $15.75.

Another slow session in prospect in the hog yards here is apparent. Few morning sales in the stock division, mostly fifteen cents to a quarter low, with a few sales up to $10.25. Practically no early sales in the rail section with packers bidding around a quarter lower. Carload of 100 pound feeder pigs sold at $7.50.

MIDWESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, March 7. (AP)—(United States Department of Agriculture)—Trade on hogs around the 11-market circuit was very uneven. Opening trade to shippers was fairly active at steady to 10c higher prices, but packers were bearish and closing trade was dull at unevenly lower values. Extreme declines of 25@30c were reported at some of the river markets. The day's extreme top of $12.10 was paid early at Chicago. Total offerings were around 87,700, a decrease of 11,500 from a week ago and 49,999 short of the corresponding day last year.

Fat lambs were generally steady to strong with a few centers showing a slight to moderate advance. Aged stock was scarce and unchanged. Choice lambs in Chicago reached $17.65, and $16.90 was secured for best offerings at Kansas City. The supply approximated 50,300, against 69,470 last Thursday and 47,334 the same day a year ago.

Aggregate receipts of cattle were estimated at 22,800, a decrease of 2,000 from a week ago, but slightly larger than a year ago. Most killing classes, with the exception of weighty fed steers, found a fairly broad outlet at steady to strong prices. Weighty steers at most points were sluggish at the week's decline. Chicago reported considerable activity on fed steers and yearlings with buyers, on the close, scrambling for numbers at 25@40c higher figures. Stocker and feeder steers were on a firm basis. Choice 804-pound white-faced feeders at Kansas City scored $12.60 and on the same market $13.50 was realized on a load of fleshy steer calves.

FORT WORTH, Texas, March 7. (UP)—Hogs—Receipts 2,000; market very slow, practically no forenoon sales on rail hogs, packers bidding around 25c lower; truck hogs mostly 15 to 25c lower; truck top $10.25; bulk desirable 175 to 240-pound truck hogs $9.90@10.10.

Cattle—Receipts 1,500; all classes cattle and calves, about steady. Trade poorly tested except in slaughter yearlings; few slaughter steers around $11 down; car lots good to choice fat yearlings up to $12.25; small low $12.50.

Sheep—Receipts 1,100; all classes steady; wooled fat lambs $15@15.75; two decks fleshy wooled feeder lambs $14.50; wooled feeder lambs $14; wooled feeder yearlings $12; wooled feeder wethers $9; few fat wooled wethers $10.

CHICAGO, March 7. (AP)—Hogs—Receipts 27,000; 10 to 15c lower; top $12.10 for 222 pounds; packing sows $10.50@11.10.

Cattle—Receipts 7,000; calves 2,000; strong to 25c higher on steers, yearlings and fat she stock; slaughter steers, good and choice 950 to 1,500 pounds $12.50@14.75; cows, good and choice $8.90@10.75; vealers (milk-fed) good and choice $14.50@17.00.

Sheep—Receipts 10,000; steady to strong; lambs, good and choice, 92 pounds down, $16.15@17.60; ewes, medium to choice, 150 pounds down, $8.25@10.00.

KANSAS CITY, March 7. (AP)—Hogs—Receipts 7,000; opened steady to 10c higher; closing dull; top $11.70 on 190 to 240 pounds; packing sows $9.25@10.35.

Cattle—Receipts 3,000; calves 500; steady; slaughter steers, good and choice 950 to 1,500 pounds $11.65@14.35; fed yearlings, good-choice 750 to 950 pounds $12@14.50; cows, good and choice $8.50@10.25; vealers (milk-fed) medium to choice $11@16.00.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

CHICAGO, March 7. (AP)—Abrupt reversals of temperature, with widespread gales and crop damage reports from domestic winter wheat territory, gave the wheat market a quick lift today. Apparently helped by announcement that congress would meet in extra session April 15 to consider farm relief, other cereals as well as wheat advanced and the day's gains in price were held better than for some time.

Closing quotations on wheat were firm, ⅛c to 1⅛c net higher. Corn finished ⅝c to 1⅛c up, oats ⅛c to ⅜c advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 25c.

Today's upturns in wheat values were in the face of continued slackness of export demand from North America and despite news that Argentine exports for the week were much the largest yet this season, 9,455,000 bushels against 7,303,000 bushels the previous week and 7,307,000 bushels last year.

Corn and oats ranged higher, largely as a result of upturns in wheat.

Provisions owed their strength chiefly to a new top price on hogs, $12.10 a hundredweight, and to evidence that packers were buying lard against sales abroad.

Winter's Worst Blizzard Unleashed on Buffalo

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 7. (AP)—Buffalo today was in the grip of the winter's worst blizzard, a 74-mile an hour gale roaring in out of the west this morning, accompanied by blinding snow, lashing the water front into a fury that steamers and tugs sank or drifted dangerously along the Buffalo river.

The toll of injured in the city had mounted to five, windows were shattered, several roofs blown in, and thousands of dollars worth of damage caused.

Receipts of Poultry and Eggs Hold Steady Here

Cotton took still another advance on Thursday's market, going up 15 to 20 points to offer 19.20 cents per pound, middling basis, with local buyers.

Miss Doris Shelton, former missionary in Tibet, now of Dallas, addressed the general assembly Thursday morning on the customs of the native of Tibet. Dr. Shelton, was a noted physician in that region before his death, and spent many years among the people of that country.

The three types of marriage ceremonies, practiced by the natives brought much laughter from the assembly. According to Miss Shelton, the three common types are: polyandry, polygamy, and monogamy, which premits a husband to have but one wife at a time, and vice versa. An interesting fact brought out by the speaker was that the husbands of the native women will permit almost anything but the stealing of his wife by another man. "If the deserted husband ever meets his former wife he will bite her nose completely off: thus signifying that he has divorced her," she said.

"The natives never forget a good deed," Miss Shelton continued. In an example of her point, she told of an incident when her father saved the life of a youth who was but 10 years of age. Her father was approached by one of the natives after the youth had been crushed by a huge bolder and asked if he couldn't do something for the unfortunate youth. Fearing that the victim would die, Dr. Shelton at first declined, because he feared that if the youth died, the country would be forever closed to missionary workers. He finally consented, after much thought, and removed seven bones from the brain of the boy. That night he went home and prayed that the unfortunate one might live, and when he visited the temporary hospital that he had erected, he found the youth had regained consciousness and was well on the road to recovery. Dr. Shelton was approached several years later by an aged couple who offered thanks to him for saving their son and was presented with a gift, small itself in a material way, but the manner in which it was presented, deeply affected the doctor.

Miss Shelton is teaching a study course this week at the First Christian church in this city.

Rob Roy Tankard Is on Exhibit

By MALCOLM VAUGHAN

NEW YORK, March 7. (US)—A wooden tankard, said to be a relic of Rob Roy, the romantic 17th century Scotch freebooter, today was placed on exhibition at the galleries of James Robinson, 727 Fifth avenue. So far as is known, this is the first relic of the famous outlaw to reach this country.

Made of Swedish maplewood of dark red tinge, the tankard is mounted with a silver equestrian relief. Its appearance in America recalls the fact that owing to "Rob Roy" MacGregor's banditry in the Scotch highlands, the name of MacGregor was by special act of parliament, in 1603, abolished under penalty of death. The death penalty was also ordered if more than 14 members of the clan assembled.

A century later, Sir Walter Scott made the picturesque outlaw the hero of his novel, Rob Roy, the scene of which was laid in the hills east of Loch Lomond, Scotland, since called Rob Roy's country.

Caldwell, Abilene, who will discuss "Schools as Viewed by Business Man."

Many sectional meetings are to be held during the two-day session. J. C. Scarborough of Santa Anna is president of the association.

Criminal Charges May Follow Row Over Condition of Garbage Dump

Recourse to the statute naming pollution of a water course as a fineable criminal offense may follow a ruling in the 89th district court Thursday morning, in which Judge P. A. Martin again declined to cite George D. Fairtrace, city manager, on contempt charges for alleged violation of an injunction forbidding the bestowal of organic matter on the city dump.

Joe B. Hatchitt, attorney for D. G. Whitney, who sought the injunction and Wednesday made affidavit to its violation, announced after the ruling of the court that he is prepared to file criminal charges in the county court at law if civil action is denied him. He cited the statute in which the pollution is named unlawful and made punishable by a fine of from $100 to $1,000 for each day of the offense. In a municipal corporation, according to the statute, the mayor and each member of the board of aldermen, having knowledge of the offense, can be held guilty. He announced that he would send each of the officials involved a warning of his action through registered mail as soon as his plans are matured.

The threat of action through the criminal courts followed a second effort on the part of D. G. Whitney to have the city manager cited for contempt for alleged violation of an injunction, recently made permanent, in which the city is forbidden to pollute the waters of the river or to dump organic matter on its dumping grounds.

Judge Martin held against a rehearing of testimony on the charge after he had personally inspected the condition of the dump at the request of the attorneys in the case. He reported to the litigants Thursday morning that he had walked up and down the dump Wednesday afternoon and had seen no evidence of the violation of the injunction.

When Mr. Hatchitt insisted on a hearing, Judge Martin explained that his docket was crowded until April, but said he would be willing to consider the matter again at that time. He told counsel that he had made the inspection with the understanding that the attorneys had agreed to allow his decision to settle the immediate question without the introduction of further testimony.

Three Given Prison Terms Here To Seek New Trials in Pleas Today

Judge P. A. Martin Friday morning will hear arguments on three motions for new trials involving criminal cases heard in the 89th district court early in February.

Counsel for J. Frank Reynolds, given a two year sentence for posession and transportation of whisky, will offer a motion demanding a new trial on the grounds that the defendant did not "plead to the indictment" at the time the case was called.

Sam Spence, district attorney, indicated Thursday afternoon that the state would not contest the testimony to be offered by the defense, but would contend against the motion on the grounds that the objection should have been raised in the course of the trial proper if it were to be held valid.

F. L. (Chief) Eaves, given seven years for assault to rob, will ask for a new trial on the grounds of misconduct of the jry, his petition charging that one member of the jury, a citizen of Electra, talked to his fellow jurymen about matters not included in the testimony and to the detriment of the plaintiff, after swearing that he had not formed any opinion on the case.

Misconduct on the part of a jury will also be claimed in the motion for Rudy Pettiett, indicted with Eaves on a similar charge, the petition alleging that before the trial one of the jurors had asserted that "he would stick them" if he were put on the jury. Both Eaves and Pettiett were indicted after an attempted holdup of the Duke Martin garage in Electra last December. Pettiett was given a six-year sentence by the trial jury.

Cantwell and Allison Give Talks At Meeting of Teachers Association

Dr. J. W. Cantwell, city superintendent of schools, and J. H. Allison were the principal speakers at the monthly meeting of the Wichita Falls City Teachers association Thursday afternoon at the Reagan Junior high school.

Dr. Cantwell gave the high spots of the National Educational association conference at Cleveland which he attended recently. Dr Cantwell said that although schools in the north were well developed, he felt as though as much progress in education was being made in Wichita Falls.

Mr. Allison gave a lecture on the operation of the Panama canal and of his recent travels through Cuba and Panama.

Plans to attempt to secure J. F. Hosic of Columbia university, national lecturer, for an address in Wichita Falls were formed by the program committee.

A committee composed of Miss Eva Weber of the Junior college faculty; Miss Zoie Lyle of the Austin school, and Mrs. E. J. DeMontel, of Crockett school, was appointed by Miss Elsie Savage, president of the association, to nominate officers for next year.

GAS COMPANY REPAIRS LINE

Work of Replacing 'Feeder' Completed Thursday

Repair work on the gas line which blew out on the main feeder northeast of the city early Thursday morning and caused an interruption in the service here for about 45 minutes was completed by noon Thursday, Jacob E. Price, local manager of the Municipal company, asserted Thursday night.

The cause of the blast in the line had not been ascertained Thursday night. One joint was blown completely out and two others were thrown out of position, Mr. Price said.

The line was owned by the Lone Star Gas company, producing company for the Municipal Gas company, distributor here. The line brings the city's gas from the Shamrock fields and the section which blew out was about 20 feet of 18-inch pipe which is located on the river bank a short distance past the northeastern boundary of the city limits.

Pressure was restored about 45 minutes after the break and the broken places were fully repaired before afternoon, Mr. Price declared.

County Court To Award Contracts

The county commissioners court will buy county supplies valued at $20,000 through the acceptance of bids to be presented in tabulated form at a special meeting of the court Friday morning. The bids were opened last Monday, but action was delayed to allow for tabulation. Oil and gas supplies for three of the four precincts are among the purchases to be made.

The commissioners will also approve the bond for the City National bank, county depository, whose 3 per cent bid was accepted at the Monday afternoon meeting.

The question of what the county will do toward meeting the extra expense of raising the Lake Wichita spillway two feet in order to meet requirements for federal aid in completing the Archer county paving may be discussed, but M. A. Bundy, commissioner from precinct 1, said Thursday night that he did not expect any definite action.

Auto Crash Victim In Critical Condition

Mrs. Joe Harvey, 3113 Milby street, who was injured in an automobile accident on the K. M. A. road Tuesday, was reported in a critical condition Thursday night by attendants at the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital.

Mrs. Harvey and her three year old son, Joe Jr., were returning from a visit to her brother at K. M. A. when the automobile in which she was riding overturned. Mrs. Harvey suffered a fractured skull while the little boy escaped uninjured.

A resolution commending action of merchants who have decided to close their stores at 7 o'clock was adopted by the directors in accordance with the policy of the Young Women's Christian association to support any movement favorably affecting the welfare of girls and women.

Criminal Charges May Follow Row Over Condition of Garbage Dump

Recourse to the statute naming pollution of a water course as a fineable criminal offense may follow a ruling in the 89th district court Thursday morning, in which Judge P. A. Martin again declined to cite George D. Fairtrace, city manager, on contempt charges for alleged violation of an injunction forbidding the bestowal of organic matter on the city dump.

Joe B. Hatchitt, attorney for D. G. Whitney, who sought the injunction and Wednesday made affidavit to its violation, announced after the ruling of the court that he is prepared to file criminal charges in the county court at law if civil action is denied him. He cited the statute in which the pollution is named unlawful and made punishable by a fine of from $100 to $1,000 for each day of the offense. In a municipal corporation, according to the statute, the mayor and each member of the board of aldermen, having knowledge of the offense, can be held guilty. He announced that he would send each of the officials involved a warning of his action through registered mail as soon as his plans are matured.

The threat of action through the criminal courts followed a second effort on the part of D. G. Whitney to have the city manager cited for contempt for alleged violation of an injunction, recently made permanent, in which the city is forbidden to pollute the waters of the river or to dump organic matter on its dumping grounds.

Judge Martin held against a rehearing of testimony on the charge after he had personally inspected the condition of the dump at the request of the attorneys in the case. He reported to the litigants Thursday morning that he had walked up and down the dump Wednesday afternoon and had seen no evidence of the violation of the injunction.

When Mr. Hatchitt insisted on a hearing, Judge Martin explained that his docket was crowded until April, but said he would be willing to consider the matter again at that time. He told counsel that he had made the inspection with the understanding that the attorneys had agreed to allow his decision to settle the immediate question without the introduction of further testimony.

Three Given Prison Terms Here To Seek New Trials in Pleas Today

Judge P. A. Martin Friday morning will hear arguments on three motions for new trials involving criminal cases heard in the 89th district court early in February.

Counsel for J. Frank Reynolds, given a two year sentence for posession and transportation of whisky, will offer a motion demanding a new trial on the grounds that the defendant did not "plead to the indictment" at the time the case was called.

Sam Spence, district attorney, indicated Thursday afternoon that the state would not contest the testimony to be offered by the defense, but would contend against the motion on the grounds that the objection should have been raised in the course of the trial proper if it were to be held valid.

F. L. (Chief) Eaves, given seven years for assault to rob, will ask for a new trial on the grounds of misconduct of the jry, his petition charging that one member of the jury, a citizen of Electra, talked to his fellow jurymen about matters not included in the testimony and to the detriment of the plaintiff, after swearing that he had not formed any opinion on the case.

Misconduct on the part of a jury will also be claimed in the motion for Rudy Pettiett, indicted with Eaves on a similar charge, the petition alleging that before the trial one of the jurors had asserted that "he would stick them" if he were put on the jury. Both Eaves and Pettiett were indicted after an attempted holdup of the Duke Martin garage in Electra last December. Pettiett was given a six-year sentence by the trial jury.

Mayor J. W. Akin and a special presentation committee Thursday afternoon visited the Mexican school, "Nuestra Senora de Guadalupe," to formally present to the school a set of Spanish books, the gift of the Mexican secretary of education.

The speakers included Ben Allred, who spoke to the student body in their native tongue; Migiel R. Ordonez, who also spoke in Spanish, and J. B. Marlow.

The books are a part of a large gift from the Mexican government to the schools of Wichita Falls, the others to be divided among the several city schools.

Cantwell and Allison Give Talks At Meeting of Teachers Association

Dr. J. W. Cantwell, city superintendent of schools, and J. H. Allison were the principal speakers at the monthly meeting of the Wichita Falls City Teachers association Thursday afternoon at the Reagan Junior high school.

Dr. Cantwell gave the high spots of the National Educational association conference at Cleveland which he attended recently. Dr Cantwell said that although schools in the north were well developed, he felt as though as much progress in education was being made in Wichita Falls.

Mr. Allison gave a lecture on the operation of the Panama canal and of his recent travels through Cuba and Panama.

Plans to attempt to secure J. F. Hosic of Columbia university, national lecturer, for an address in Wichita Falls were formed by the program committee.

A committee composed of Miss Eva Weber of the Junior college faculty; Miss Zoie Lyle of the Austin school, and Mrs. E. J. DeMontel, of Crockett school, was appointed by Miss Elsie Savage, president of the association, to nominate officers for next year.

GAS COMPANY REPAIRS LINE

Work of Replacing 'Feeder' Completed Thursday

Repair work on the gas line which blew out on the main feeder northeast of the city early Thursday morning and caused an interruption in the service here for about 45 minutes was completed by noon Thursday, Jacob E. Price, local manager of the Municipal company, asserted Thursday night.

The cause of the blast in the line had not been ascertained Thursday night. One joint was blown completely out and two others were thrown out of position, Mr. Price said.

The line was owned by the Lone Star Gas company, producing company for the Municipal Gas company, distributor here. The line brings the city's gas from the Shamrock fields and the section which blew out was about 20 feet of 18-inch pipe which is located on the river bank a short distance past the northeastern boundary of the city limits.

Pressure was restored about 45 minutes after the break and the broken places were fully repaired before afternoon, Mr. Price declared.

County Court To Award Contracts

The county commissioners court will buy county supplies valued at $20,000 through the acceptance of bids to be presented in tabulated form at a special meeting of the court Friday morning. The bids were opened last Monday, but action was delayed to allow for tabulation. Oil and gas supplies for three of the four precincts are among the purchases to be made.

The commissioners will also approve the bond for the City National bank, county depository, whose 3 per cent bid was accepted at the Monday afternoon meeting.

The question of what the county will do toward meeting the extra expense of raising the Lake Wichita spillway two feet in order to meet requirements for federal aid in completing the Archer county paving may be discussed, but M. A. Bundy, commissioner from precinct 1, said Thursday night that he did not expect any definite action.

Auto Crash Victim In Critical Condition

Mrs. Joe Harvey, 3113 Milby street, who was injured in an automobile accident on the K. M. A. road Tuesday, was reported in a critical condition Thursday night by attendants at the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital.

Mrs. Harvey and her three year old son, Joe Jr., were returning from a visit to her brother at K. M. A. when the automobile in which she was riding overturned. Mrs. Harvey suffered a fractured skull while the little boy escaped uninjured.

Six Men and Two Women Reelected YWCA Trustees

Six men, two women were reelected to serve as trustees and advisory board to the Young Women's Christian association Thursday morning at the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of that organization. Those elected were Walter Cline, R. O. Harvey, Walter Priddy, H. L. Hunter, J. W. Culbertson, Fred Weeks, Mrs. Reece Allen and Mrs. J. A. Richolt. These officers will hold title to the property and all trust funds of the association.

Reports on activities and statistics of the association were given by representatives from 13 departments of the organization, and the resignation of Mrs. Knox Finley, employment chairman, was accepted. Miss Zula McKay gave the report for the Business and Professional Women's club and Miss Gertrude Klass gave the report from the Junior College Girl Reserves club.

A resolution commending action of merchants who have decided to close their stores at 7 o'clock was adopted by the directors in accordance with the policy of the Young Women's Christian association to support any movement favorably affecting the welfare of girls and women.

New committee chairmen appointed by the president, Mrs. Glen Laskey, to serve for the year 1929 were announced as follows: Mrs. B. L. Fain, finance; Mrs. T. A. Hicks, business girls department; Mrs. E. W. Nicholson, decoration; Mrs. Charles Pogenpohl, room registry; Mrs. H. S. Davis, house and hospitality; Mrs. Sharpe, cafeteria director; Mrs. E. B. Gorsline, education; Miss Annetee Coffield, publicity and legislation; Miss Juanita Kinsey, Girl Reserves; Mrs. G. C. Raley, membership; Mrs. C. W. Gilliland, cafeteria; Mrs. C. W.
