PENN DEFENDS MAJORS AFTER HUNTER'S ATTACK

Fort Worth Votes For Municipal Ownership Of Gas Distributing Lines

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

A two-inch rain and a substantial raise by one of the large purchasing companies in the posted price of crude oil has lightened up many countenances hereabouts which have been dark and sober.

A soaking rain after a period of dry weather is always a cause for rejoicing. This rain assures bountiful crops and plenty of feed for the winter which is ahead. The Red Cross will not be called upon to feed West Texas farmers next winter. That much is certain.

While the raise in the price of oil is substantial, it is not so much the increase that has brought an optimistic feeling as the belief that a turn has come in the oil industry, and that after the depths of depression have been reached an upward trend can now be expected.

The two leading industries of this section are oil and agriculture. Within 48 hours the prospects of both have grown brighter. And while the posted price of crude oil was being advanced prices of oil stocks were going up.

These are only a few of the favorable items in the day's news. Perhaps more important than any of these is the bulletin from London saying that an agreement has been reached by the conference of ministers on the German debt problem. And important as such an agreement would be as offsetting the immediate problem, it is as a symptom of a new spirit and understanding that is more far reaching.

Here in Wichita Falls, throughout the country and throughout the world, the people are "all set" to receive hopeful, encouraging news. That is a good psychological condition and with such an universal will for better conditions, not only in business and industry, but in the relations of peoples we cannot but believe better days are ahead. How short a time is a forty-eight hours? And yet how much of hope and confidence it can bring us.

The Wichita Valley Growers association will market its product under the trade name "Lake Kemp Brand." Attractive labels are now being printed. Labeled goods usually sell better than those that are offered without label. The buyer reasons correctly that the seller who puts his name on his product thinks well of it. And it identifies a good product for future orders. And a trade name once having established a good reputation ought to be an incentive for those who use it to maintain the standard the name implies.

We received the right turn rule on a red signal with some misgivings but it seems to be working out very satisfactorily—a great convenience for those who drive cars and little, if any, added danger to pedestrians. What we would like to see now is traffic lights removed from intersections where they are no longer needed. We are certain that a survey would show there are several such lights.

Here's something from the New York Times that swells our home pride. "Wichita Falls, which is in Texas, in case you don't know, has an auditorium which New York has nothing to equal." The sentence is from an article on the prospects of the "legitimate" stage in the one night stand and was inspired by the success of a recent road tour made by a company of players with Ethel Barrymore in the lead.

"The 'sticks' are gone," says this writer. 'One is impressed over and over again by the metropolitan spirit prevading the larger number of the cities visited. Unlike the melting pot which thaws but does not amalgamate, there is something thoroughly American in most of the smaller towns. Cities which 25 years ago barely existed are fine, upstanding, handsome towns today, with streets full of modishly dressed people, skyscrapers that swagger magnificently and assuredly, bookstores with all the new and ancient books and hordes of magazines, newspapers generally well edited, carrying all the features originating in the metropoli. There is nothing provincial about hundreds of these places. The 'wise guys' on Broadway would seek long to find a yokel there. When this is realized and is met, there will be profit for the theater. Broadway will have to come to the road's terms this time.

"Barrymore is not merely being politic when she declares that some of the best audiences she ever has played to have been in the one-night stands. She is stating a fact."

CITY SYSTEM APPROVED BY GOOD MAJORITY

Contract With Shamrock Gas Company Adopted In Election

GAS MEETING HERE

Advisory Committee Named By City Council to Meet Thursday

FORT WORTH, July 21. (AP)—Municipal ownership of the gas system carried in Fort Worth by a vote of 8,480 to 6,177, official returns from all 64 boxies in the city revealed late tonight.

The vote by which the electorate sanctioned the city entering the gas business with the Shamrock Oil and Gas company, was one of the heaviest municipal votes in history.

The present gas system is owned by the Lone Star Gas company.

Two bond issues were voted on at the same time and both apparently lost. One was for a issue of $100,000 for improvements to the municipal airport and the other was for an issue of $250,000 for a city jail and police station.

Four-Year Controversy

The municipal ownership movement was the outgrowth of the gas rate controversy which began in August, 1927, when the Fort Worth Gas company, recently merged with the Lone Star Gas company, asked the city council for authority to increase the domestic rate for the first 1,000 cubic feet only, from 68½ cents net to $1.50 net, with no change asked in the rate for additional domestic consumption which was 67½ cents net per 1,000 cubic feet.

Although a number of conferences were held by city and gas company officials, the city council never acted on the request of the utility, which early in 1928 appealed to the Texas Railroad commission.

Increase Denied

After hearing experts imported by the city and similar witnesses for the company, the railroad commission denied the increase asked. The company appealed to the United States district court for the appointment of a three-judge federal court to hear an application for an injunction to restrain the council and the commission from interfering with the company in raising its rates.

The court, composed of United States Circuit Court Judge William Foster, New Orleans, and United States District Judge Ben Dawkins, Shreveport, and W. H. Atwell, Dallas, appointed W. H. Sanford, Wichita Falls attorney, master in chancery.

Rate experts were again presented by the city and utility and Sanford made a report recommending

Thrift Man Hurt In Auto Crash

Hershel (Speedy) Pierce, 21, of Thrift, Texas, was in a critical condition with a fracture at the base of the skull at the Wichita General hospital here Tuesday night following an automobile crash two miles west of Burkburnett late Tuesday afternoon.

Pierce's automobile was being driven from an intersecting road into the main highway when it collided with a machine driven on the main road by Reed Gillingham. Pierce's car was carried about 50 feet after being side-swiped by the other machine, it was said.

Pierce was thrown to the pavement. After being attended at Burkburnett shortly after the accident, he was brought in a Burkburnett ambulance to the hospital here.

He operates an ice house at Thrift.

Companions Set Fire To Youthful Playmate

HAMILTON, Ont., July 21. (AP)—A small boy, set afire by his companions, saved his life by quick thinking last night.

Youngsters playing with Fred Day poured gasoline on his legs and then touched a match to them, he said. The lad buried himself quickly in damp sand nearby.

His condition today was reported as fair.

Moscow Acclaims Shaw While Peers Stay in Background

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW

LADY ASTOR

LORD ASTOR

RUSSIANS HAIL BERNARD SHAW

Great Individualist 'Hogs Show at Moscow'

By ROBERT J. BENDER
(Copyright, 1931, by United Press)

MOSCOW, July 21.—George Bernard Shaw, perhaps the greatest modern individualist, strutted into Moscow today with his beard bristling and his keen eyes gleaming, to be received by Communist Russia with cheers, bands and soldiers on parade.

With him came Lord and Lady Astor and their son, and Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar of foreign affairs, all having made the journey from Berlin on the same train.

"Hail Bernard Shaw," shouted the crowd of several thousand, waving red banners and cheering wildly. The others were ignored. A brass band broke into a march and Shaw, grinning and waving his hat, passed through the lines of troops, escorted by Anatole Lunacharsky, Karl Padek and other officials.

Lady Astor "Out of It"

Lady Astor, seldom so much out of the picture, patted a baby on the outskirts of the crowd.

Anatole Lunacharsky, long head of the educational department, and Karl Radek, Communist editor, were among the official government party, with Artemio Helatov, president of the state publishing house, acting as Moscow's "Grover Whalen."

As Shaw passed out of the station between lines of Red soldiers there were cheers. The Soviet press today offers a warm and enthusiastic welcome to the British party.

Shaw was astonished to learn that his play, "The Applecart," had been banned.

"What can I say to the Soviets after that," whimsically asked Shaw.

Intellectual Trip

The trip of the party from Berlin was marked by a series of questions and answers and interchanges of banter, in which Shaw, Litvinoff and the keen-tongued Virginia peeress figured repeatedly, at mealtime station halts and in the compartments of the train.

On one occasion, when Litvinoff was holding impromptu court, surrounded by such "proletarians" as Lord and Lady Astor and their son, who is entering Oxford in the autumn, and several other British

Spider's Bite Claims Life of Oklahoman

LAWTON, Okla., July 21.—A spider bite, suffered 10 days ago while he was working in the harvest fields near Kingfisher, caused the death here today of Walter Hunter, 25.

When infection developed in his toe as a result of the spider bite, Hunter came to the home of his sister, Mrs. Leo Duncan, for treatment.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunter of Direct, Texas, a brother, Ernest Hunter of Oklahoma City, and two sisters who reside in Lawton. Funeral services have not been announced.

Strife Prevails in Three States' Mining Areas; Senator Davis Gassed

James J. Davis Trapped in Fumes of Bombs Thrown By Police to Break up Disorder at Scranton

PITTSBURGH, July 21. (AP)—The mining districts of West Virginia, Ohio and Pennsylvania were the scenes of strife today.

At Scranton, in the anthracite area of Pennsylvania, United States Senator James J. Davis was slightly gassed when state policemen and other officers hurled tear gas bombs to break up disorder at the biennial convention of the United Mine Workers of America. The senator was present to make an address.

Miners working in the strike-harassed bituminous coal fields were ambushed for the second time in two days and one man was wounded seriously.

Miner Wounded

A fusillade of bullets fell among a group of 50 miners at the McKinleyville mine of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia Coal company near Wellsburg, W. Va. One of them, William Thompson, was shot through the shoulder.

About two score shots were fired from a wooded hillside. Officers found no trace of the attackers. Members of the National Miners' union have picketed the mine.

The first instance of sniping reported in the coal fields since the strikes began more than two months ago, occurred yesterday in Southern West Virginia where two men were killed by bullets fired similarly from ambush. Five men are under arrest in connection with the shooting.

Suspect Held

Ohio authorities were guarding a suspect held in the killing of a youthful picket near Martin's Ferry last night, fearing a mob would wreak vengeance on the man. The youth was shot when pickets and working miners who declined to join the strikers clashed at the Gaylord mine.

The Pennsylvania coal fields were quiet, violence having subsided since a fight between followers of the National Miners union and the United Mine Workers of America at Canonsburg Sunday.

The National Miners union held a "hunger march" in Steubenville, Ohio, today although city officials refused to grant a permit for the demonstration.

Rewards totalling $275 have been offered for his recapture. Peddy was awaiting a new trial on charges of robbing the Timpson bank of several thousand dollars.

France Rumored Planning To Bolt Conference

By ROBERT WELLES RITCHIE
(Copyright, 1931, Universal Service, Inc.)

LONDON, July 21.—After a six-hour session as a finance committee of the seven-power conference on the German financial crisis, representatives of the United States, France, Italy, Great Britain, Germany and Belgium tonight found themselves still at odds on the question of how to bring about concerted action to halt gold withdrawals from Germany.

At the same time, diplomatic circles discussed rumors that France planned to bolt the conference unless French demands for political guarantees on a long-term loan prevail over the Anglo-American suggestions to renew existing short-term credits without political strings. Half of the $1,200,000,000 short-term credits in Germany is held by American institutions.

Premier Laval, insisting that Germany herself could overcome her financial crisis, is said to have told the finance committee:

"France saved herself in 1926. She provides an example upon which Germany should meditate."

Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon was the American representative on the finance committee, which attempted to cover the futility of its session in a communique declaring:

"The results of the committee's deliberations will be laid before the plenary session of the conference at 10 a. m. tomorrow."

This part of the communique was interpreted in some quarters to mean that a plan had been reached, but from an excellent and authoritative source, Universal Service learns that today's session may be

Funeral arrangements for their wives, both burned to death in the fire, had not been made Tuesday. The wife of Robert Guy was the former Miss Helen Bittick of Wichita Falls.

WASHINGTON, July 21. (INS)—Reports of the bureau of labor statistics today from 344 identical cities having a population of 24,000 or over, indicate there was a decrease of 19.2 per cent in the estimated cost of buildings for which permits were issued in June as compared with May.

MURRAY FLINGS NEW CHALLENGE IN BRIDGE ROW

'Alfalfa Bill' Orders Last Toll Bridge Outlet Blockaded

CITES OLD TREATIES

Sterling Frowns on Murray's Idea of Having Women Open Spans

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 21. (AP)—Gov. W. H. Murray renewed his fight for free passage across the Red river today with an order for a blockade of the last remaining north outlet of the Durant-Denison toll bridge and another challenge to Texas.

Asserting that Oklahoma has jurisdiction over the Texas, or south banks of the Red river, by virtue of old Spanish treaties, Murray said "if they put anything else in the way of an obstruction of the bridge, I will remove it in the face of the Texas rangers and other military authority of the state."

Courts Uphold Treaties

Murray stated that state and federal courts have upheld the precedent of the old Spanish treaties in numerous instances and that the supreme court of the United States has upheld this same authority.

"So I wasn't exceeding my authority after all," said the governor, referring to criticism by Gov. Ross Sterling of Texas, that in ordering the free bridges opened, Governor Murray had exceeded his authority "beyond all reason."

Murray's move today blocked a detour around the blockades on highway 75 approaching the north end of the Durant-Denison toll bridge, which had been used by some motorists since the original barriers were erected.

Rangers Stand Guard

Texas rangers still bar the Texas approach to the free bridge, paralleling the toll structure and travel across the river is being directed across the Preston bridge, a free structure about eight miles down the river.

An excellent solution, Governor

Jack McGurn, Ace Of Capone Gunmen, Given Two Years

CHICAGO, July 21. (AP)—The government took another Capone gunner off the firing line today—"Machine Gun Jack" McGurn, consigned to Leavenworth prison for two years because he and his "blonde alibi," now his wife, allegedly violated the Mann act on journeys to Florida.

Vincent Gebardi, alias McGurn and Demory, will not be lonesome at Leavenworth for others of the Capone forces already are there and more are awaiting or fighting commitment, but Mrs. Gebardi will be separated from her husband, for the former Louise Boex, alias Rolfe, was sentenced on the same charge to four months in Cook county jail.

Their counsel said the couple would appeal the conviction by Judge Walter C. Lindley, but McGurn showed little emotion over the verdict.

"It's not so bad for me," he said, "but I feel awfully sorry for Louise." And Louise observed: "If we were guilty we were equally guilty. If I were free I would certainly ask the judge why Jack got more time than I did."

Defense counsel argued it was just a "plain, ordinary love affair, and the government chose this one couple out of a thousand for prosecution."

Oil Worker Injured Under Derrick 'Jim-Pole'

LAREDO, Texas, July 21. (AP)—Charles Wilkens, 25, oil field worker, was under treatment at a Laredo hospital today for injuries received when a "jim-pole" fell on him from a derrick yesterday. He was working near the Gulf Utilities-Sterling well in the Carolina, Texas field, when injured. He was expected to recover.

Conoco Hike Gives Hope For Revival

The Continental Oil company's announcement Tuesday posting oil at 40 cents per barrel for all gravities in the Oklahoma, Kansas, Louisiana and North Texas fields may mean the first shot fired in what is hoped to be the stabilization of the crude market throughout the Midcontinent area.

Voluntary shutting down of hundreds of wells throughout Kansas, Oklahoma and in the northern portion of Texas (East Texas excluded) coupled with a strict adherence to the proration laws in effect, was the prime factor in creating a shortage of the commodity in these areas. With a scarcity of crude to meet refining requirements, and an oil famine threatening it became imperative to boost the prices in order to secure movements sufficient to meet the demands.

The new price issued by the Continental company means an increase of 18 to 22 cents per barrel for the 40 to 39 gracity, this including the bulk of oil produced in the Wichita Falls district.

Late Tuesday evening none of the major purchasing concerns had met the new Continental price but these buyers will probably fall in line with the new price before the next 24 hours pass.

Refiners in the district have continued to pay the old price of 37 cents per barrel irrespective of the drop made to 22 cents by the major purchasers on July 8.

HAMMON TEST MAY HAVE OIL

Wichita Well Promises to Extend Deep Pay

Possible extension of two miles to the new 3800-foot horizon in the southwest portion of Wichita county is looked for in the Wayne Hammon No. 3 J. H. Bradley deep test located in the S. Holloway survey.

The test, an absolute wildcat, is located one and a half miles northwest of the Deep Oil Development company's No. 1 Munger producer, and two and a quarter miles northwest of the Jack Martin No. 1 in Kemp townsite.

Monday afternoon the lime was topped at 3694 feet, at about the same depth it was encountered in the Munger producer to the east. This was penetrated 32 feet when the saturated formation was encountered. This was drilled four feet. Preparations were made to take a core when the pipe dropped about 15 feet. Late Tuesday night this trouble was remedied and further coring will probably start some time Wednesday morning.

In the Kemp City townsite Jack Martin and others No. 1 townsite, one mile south of the Munger producer which has been delayed by weather conditions in bailing and drilling out the plug from the saturated lime at 3855 feet, late Tuesday was about ready to start operations. The well will be bailed dry and then the mud will be poured back into the hole and again bailed out to assure that the pipe and hole are in perfect condition before the task of drilling out the ce-

California Rules Reno Divorce Is Invalid

Judge Keetch based his ruling upon an opinion rendered by the New York court of appeals that the Reno divorce was a nullity.

ESTES GROUP IS BLAMED FOR MARKET DROP

Committee Chairman Holds Anti-Prorationists Responsible

THIRD QUIZ VOTED

State Affairs Group Given Broad Powers to Probe Oil Industry

AUSTIN, July 21. (AP)—Collapse of the Texas and national oil structures was caused by "unwise and short-sighted advisors," in the East Texas field, Robert R. Penn, chairman of the Texas central proration committee testified before the house of representatives today in its investigations of the oil industry. Penn had reference to Carl Estes, Tyler editor and other leaders in the movement against the railroad commission's proration orders.

Penn denied statements made at the morning session that the oil market had been demoralized by the majors who had forced the price down to run the independents out of business. The allegations were made by T. F. Hunter, independent oil operator of Wichita Falls.

The senate will start a separate investigation of the oil industry tomorrow. A resolution was adopted today giving the state affairs committee broad powers to subpoena witnesses and records. Lack of information on which to base legislative action was given as the cause of the senate inquiry. The house investigation was undertaken to determine the truth of charges the oil industry was controlled by monopolies and trusts and the price of oil forced down by agreements in restraint of trade.

Third Inquiry

The senate investigation was the third to be authorized, the house several days ago having instructed the attorney general to investigate the industry and file suits if any violations of anti-trust laws were uncovered.

Penn claimed proration was not a failure in Texas because it never had been given a fair trial. In the instances where proration has been followed in a pool it has resulted to the advantage of the state, the operators and the public generally, Penn said, estimating the uncontrolled production in East Texas would ultimately cost the state $200,000,000 in property and production taxes; was costing Texas operators $600,000 per day and the industry nationally $2,000,000 per day.

Blames East Texas

The gigantic East Texas field, with a proven area of 120,000 acres and a potential production second only to the Kettleman Hills, California, field, was claimed by Penn to be the major cause of the demoralization. He estimated the potential of the field to be in excess of 1,500,000,000 barrels.

The political pandemonium raised by a minority of the East Texas operators caused the railroad commission, an elective body, to hesitate in taking action, Penn said.

Penn defended the major oil companies and claimed East Texas operators had caused the chaos by underselling the market on the theory they would make more money selling oil in large amounts at low prices than they would by selling small amounts at higher prices.

Oil at Two and One-Half Cents

Penn stated proration was effective before the East Texas field came in and a minority of the operators "bucked over the traces." The first posted price for oil in East Texas was 67 cents a barrel and Penn said he had been informed by a banker in the field a contract recently was signed for 100,000 barrels at 2½ cents per barrel.

He advocated a law whereby the state would be empowered to enjoin an operator from taking more than his allotted production and collect penalties, strengthening of the conservation laws by giving the enforcement agency more specific powers and a law whereby operators could unitize their interests without fear of prosecution under anti-trust laws. Machinery to enforce the common carrier pipe line law and require pipe lines and purchasing companies to take ratably from all producers whose operations were in accord with proration orders was recommended. Ratable takings and proration go hand in hand, Peen said.

Belief was expressed by Penn that if operators in East Texas

I. C. C. Calls Halt in Rate Hearings To Allow Shippers to Prepare Reply

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP)—The first pause in hearings on the plea of railroads for increased freight rates was reached today with an adjournment designed to enable the opposition to prepare its case.

The recess was announced by the Interstate Commerce commission after attorneys spent most of the day in arguing whether the hearings should continue uninterrupted or be adjourned until Aug. 31, as was the original plan.

Commissioner Meyer, presiding, said he and his colleagues would take under advisement a motion of the roads to resume testimony before that date.

During the day there came from Chairman Brainered a declaration the commission would proceed to its decision on the petition for a 15 per cent freight rate increase undisturbed by outside influences.

Writing to Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, the chairman said the commission would not be stampeded into granting the increase but "will continue as it has in the past to render its decisions based upon 'the record as made' undisturbed by all the winds that blow."

The Capper telegram and Brainerd's reply became public as the commission was concluding the first series of hearings on an appeal

Four Teams Sign Up 70 for Valley Tour; Record Attendance Expected

Seventeen teams started work here Tuesday to secure a record attendance for the third tour of the irrigated valley Friday. At the close of the day only four of the teams had reported but had secured more than 70 signatures of persons proposing to make the trip.

The goal for the event is at least 200 persons in the touring party that will leave the courthouse here at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon. Teams will continue through Wednesday and, according to Oral Jones, chairman in charge of attendance, when the final report is received from all teams, names of the trippers are expected to well exceed the 200 mark.

Two previous trips over the valley have been made here during the summer, one in May, the other in June. Approximately 50 persons attended each. The first tours were extensive trips over the agricultural section of the county, requiring a full day.

The third trip, planned especially to appeal to business men, will require only half a day, it was said. Only the major points of interest will be inspected, allowing trippers to miss only a few hours from their business affairs.

considered a fair test indicative of the fruitlessness of these early meetings.

It was also reported tonight in authoritative quarters that President Hoover's proposals, which Secretary of State Stimson vigorously and consistently denies introducing, are unknown to any member of the finance committee officially and did not appear at their discussions.

Thus were matters further complicated, after a day of utmost confusion in which there were rumors that the conference was breaking up because agreement appeared impossible.

In as much as the conferees were unable to reach accord on such a minor point as how to stop the gold drain from Germany, it was pointed out that this makes the larger question of how to supply the depleted German monetary reservoir almost beyond the possibility of agreement.

HITLER'S PARTY CONDEMNS ACTION

BERLIN, July 21. (AP)—A strongly worded resolution adopted by the Nationalist reichstag party meeting today condemns German efforts at London to solve the economic crisis, for which Chancellor Bruening's government is held solely responsible.

Alfred Hugenberg, the party's chairman read a telegram from Adolf Hitler and other party leaders to Chancellor Bruening, warning that the Nationalist opposition will not consider itself bound by "any further conditions entered into with France."

"The most devastating feature of the situation is the helplessness and planlessness with which the outbreak of the crisis has been faced," says the resolution adopted afterward.

"Everything was done too late, mostly wrongly and the most important left undone."

U. S. OFFICIALDOM STILL HOPEFUL

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP)—A hopeful attitude that the London conference of ministers would conclude successfully within a few days its work for economic relief to Germany was expressed tonight by a high administration authority. Acting Secretary Castle of the state department made public today the American proposal to provide financial relief to the reich. The plan first was talked over with Secretaries Stimson and Mellon by transatlantic telephone last Friday, Mr. Castle said.

The two secretaries spoke to the French and German officials about it Saturday, he said, adding that Mr. Stimson had discussed it in the ministers' meeting early today in London.

The acting secretary said he did not know if the secretary had read to the delegates exactly what was made public by the Washington government but that he had put forward the idea.

In simple language, the American proposal was:

That world bankers should maintain the present volume of $1,200,000,000 in credits to Germany.

That the German government should strictly enforce complete control of foreign exchange to prevent preferential or arbitrary withdrawals.

That a committee selected by the Bank for International Settlements or another authority consult with bankers for renewal of outstanding credits, inquiry into Germany's immediate needs for further credit and plan the conversion of short term credits into long term credits during the next six or eight months.

America's share in the credit volume is $600,000,000. France's share is about $60,000,000.

ment plug is commenced. Importance of this test is due to the fact that a commercial producer will add a good stretch of productive territory to the south, and the outcome of bailing is being watched with the keenest of interest.

One mile east of the Martin test in block 31, W. V. F. L., Munger tract, repairs are under way on the Consolidated Oil company No. 1 test which has been shut down for the past two months. This test, which has reached a depth of 2279 feet, will be completed to the 4,000 foot depth under the name of Primrose Refining-Consolidated No. 1 Munger, the former company having purchased a one-half interest in the holdings of the Consolidated.

Shappell Oil company No. 1 W. P. Ferguson, another deep test in the E. Patterson survey, north Archer county, and two miles south of the Jack Martin test, is still trying to get back in the hole after several attempts with a collapsed joint at 2430 feet. This test also picked up the saturated lime sand at 3815 feet but had the misfortune to develop water trouble from the pipe above.

MELON FLOOD

Heavy Rains Wash Fields Between Alvord and Bowie

Melons were strewn on the highway between Alvord and Bowie Monday and Tuesday, as a result of having been washed out of the fields by the coursing waters from creek overflows caused by recent rains.

Cantaloupes by the scores and many watermelons filled ditches and lodged in fences along the highway after flood waters had receded, according to motorists.

Estimates of damage to melon crops around Alvord, the melon belt of North Texas, place the loss at about 15 per cent. However, it is reported that an exceptionally large melon crop is yet promised. "There are plenty of melons left," The Record News was told.

of the railroads for a blanket 15 per cent freight rate increase.

Senator Capper's telegram to Chairman Brainerd was prompted by news stories telling of a threat by Representative Beck to urge congressional action if the commission does not act quickly and favorably on the railroads' plea.

The senator said Beck's threat was "even more short-sighted and more inopportune than the application of the railroads for this increase." He expressed astonishment that "as great a constitutional lawyer as Congressman Beck is reputed to be should wave a threat of congressional action over the heads of a governmental tribunal created for the purpose of substituting the rule of reasonableness for arbitrary action."

At the hearing today, Grenville Clark, attorney for railroad security holders, said that because of the emergency confronting carriers, the commission should make a final decision on the rate increase before Sept. 1. He suggested opponents to the petition be asked to present their case sooner than Aug. 31, the day the commission had announced it would hear them.

Henry Wolf Bikle, attorney for the carriers, said later, however, that the railroads would not object to an adjournment of approximately ten days before the opponents began presentation of their testimony.

Charles E. Elmquest, Minneapolis, speaking for the shippers, told the commission the opposition could not prepare its case properly for hearings earlier than Aug. 31.

Elmquist added the argument of the debacle confronting railroads was "piffle."

the injunction asked be denied. The three-judge court adopted the finding of the master in all respects except in his allowance for depreciation which the court increased from 2 to 3½ per cent and granted the injunction asked with the understanding that after a 10-month trial period, the city or the commission could again examine the rates of the company.

COUNCIL ANNOUNCES ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Judge J. T. Montgomery, Burton Stayton, Luke McCrory, Homer Lee and Ed Howard were named by members of the city council and Acting Manager W. E. McBroom Tuesday as members of an advisory committee to assist the council in its campaign for lower domestic gas rates in Wichita Falls.

A motion passed by the council in its meeting on July 13 provided for appointment of the citizens' committee in anticipation of the early arrival here of V. R. Smitham, city manager-elect. A letter received by Mayor Walter Nelson Jr. Tuesday from Mr. Smitham stated that the new manager will take up his duties here on Aug. 1.

A meeting of the citizens' advisory committee is to be held on Thursday of this week, Mayor Nelson said, in order to perfect its organization, and familiarize its members with details of the situation relative to local gas rates. By telephone, Mr. Smitham also reported that he will be willing to attend a conference with the committee here next Saturday if such a meeting is desired by the committeemen.

bluebloods, Lady Astor addressed Litvinoff:

"Russia is getting into the same position as Germany before the war, with your big army and preparations."

"No, our position is entirely different," Litvinoff retorted. "We are maintaining an army entirely for defense, whereas Germany was building a great armed force with a definite program of offense."

Germans Cited

After Russia's precautions against a concerted war by capitalistic nations had drawn comment, young Astor remarked:

"That's just what all the Germans talk of today. They say they all thought when they went to war they were forced to attack because they were threatened with attack on all sides."

At Nigoroyle, which is the customs station at the entrance to Russia, Shaw and Lady Astor, walking on the platform with the others, noticed women railroad workers with heavy spades resting on the steps of a warehouse. Lady Astor ran to them, calling to the others and the Russian interpreter to follow. She asked the girls if they had ever heard of Shaw.

Shaw Perplexed

"No, we never heard of him," said one of the girls.

"What, never heard of me?" asked Shaw laughingly.

The girls explained that they knew only three names, all Russian and including, of course, Stalin.

"Nancy," said Lord Astor, "tell them you were the first woman ever elected to parliament." Lady Astor did and the girls looked blank.

"That doesn't mean anything to them," explained the interpreter.

Shaw, looking young, tall and erect, with smiling Irish eyes and fresh complexion despite his 75 years, walked at each station, usually with Lady Astor. He did stretching exercises while she practiced jumping, running and vigorous calisthenics, all of which was a source of interest and grinning amusement to the on-looking Russian men, boys and girls.

Ryan's Entire Population Pays Tribute To Officer, Killed in Pistol Battle

Special to The Record News

WAURIKA, Okla., July 21.—Funeral services for J. W. Browning, 42, Ryan city marshal who was killed in a gun battle there early Monday night with John Arner, Waurika contractor, were held at Ryan Tuesday afternoon from the Ryan tabernacle.

Services were said to be the largest ever held in Ryan, with almost the entire population attending. The Rev. R. M. Holland, pastor of the Methodist church officiated, assisted by Mrs. Cassie Brown of the Nazarene congregation.

Meanwhile Arner is held in Jefferson county jail here, where he was returned Tuesday morning from Ryan, after he had spent the night in a hospital there with a bullet wound in the side.

No charges had been filed Tuesday in connection with the slaying of Browning. Earle Pruitt, Jefferson county attorney, said that complaints were being prepared by his office and that charges in connection with the gun duel would be filed against Arner Wednesday morning. Arner has made no statement about the killing, Mr. Pruitt said.

No cause for the shooting had been uncovered Tuesday. Investigations by officers, however, revealed that Arner called the marshall to his automobile after parking it at the curb on Ryan's principal business street. After a brief conversation between the two, the exchange of shots followed. Arner used a .45 caliber pistol, and according to witnesses, followed Browning into a cafe. Several shots, it was said, were fired after the marshall had entered the cafe. A small pistol was used by Browning, and a shot from this gun struck the contractor in the right side, below the arm pit, but failed to do serious damage.

Shots that struck the city marshall entered the heart and legs.

Before becoming city marshall 30 days ago, Browning had served as a deputy under Sheriff Frank Driskill.

Arner is a pioneer resident of Jefferson county, and resided for a number of years in Ryan before removing to Waurika.

RAIL CREWS GUARD BRIDGE

Traffic Halted on Valley's Waurika Branch

Danger of the bridge near Byers being washed out by the heavy drift brought down by rising waters of Red river caused a halt of service on the Waurika branch of the Wichita Valley railroad Tuesday night, according to road officials.

No trains crossed the bridge Tuesday night. A crew of men were placed at the bridge Tuesday morning in an effort to avert the impending washout by clearing away the collection of drift. The crew remained at the bridge Tuesday night, but will be unable to resume work before Wednesday morning.

The river was rising slowly during the day Tuesday, and although no immediate danger threatened, it was believed that if an unusually large flow of drift occurred during the night, it would carry the bridge out. Only freight trains run on the line at night.

Washouts of track on the Missouri-Kansas-Texas between Frederick and Altus will be repaired in sufficient time to resume service over the line by 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, according to the M-K-T dispatcher here. Until service is resumed Wednesday Waurika will be the terminus of the line.

Dallas Man Hurt as Lightning Hits Car

DALLAS, July 21. (AP)—A bolt of lightning struck the trolley of a street car which E. C. Courtney was boarding here today, severely shocking him.

The lightning blew out all safety fuses in the car, but did not injure any of the 15 passengers. Courtney had one foot on the street and the other on the car step when the flash came.

He was knocked down and stunned for several minutes, but apparently suffered no serious injury.

TOO FAR EAST

WASHINGTON, July 21. (US)—Economic conditions in the far east are showing an improved trend, according to reports to the department of commerce.

SPRINGFIELD, Tenn., July 21. (AP)—Pushing their way with bayonets, national guardsmen tonight made their way through a crowd estimated by them at 5,000 and started for Nashville with Everett Holloway, whom they were called to protect after his arrest yesterday for seriously wounding Sheriff Lockart Murphy.

Holloway was removed in a car with five guardsmen followed by another car of troops, shortly after 40 guardsmen had arrived to reinforce 13 who had guarded the jail since early afternoon.

Maj. C. C. Robinson said the crowds jammed the sidewalks near the jail as Holloway was brought out and that the troops cleared a path to the waiting cars with their bayonets.

The situation became tense this afternoon when the 12 guardsmen under command of Major Robinson were deterred from taking Holloway out of the county by James Murphy, brother of the wounded sheriff.

Sheriff Murphy was wounded by a shotgun charge when he attempted to arrest Holloway after the latter was accused of chasing his wife with a butcher knife.

After the shooting another officer arrested Holloway and brought him to the jail while Sheriff Murphy was taken to a Nashville hospital, where doctors expressed little hope he could recover.

800 ATTEND SINGSONG

PENN TESTIFIES IN OIL INQUIRY

Proration Chairman Denies Hunter's Charges

would abide by an agreement to hold production to 300,000 barrels daily, the price of oil would rebound to near $1 if marketed orderly.

Umpire on Stand

Unitization of a field would eliminate drilling offset wells, increase the life of the field and result in orderly marketing, according to Penn.

Penn said he did not know who was profiting from the East Texas disorder but expressed the opinion major companies could not make money on low price oil because it disrupted their transportation, refining and marketing systems.

Ray W. Richmond, umpire in chief of the East Texas field, was placed on the stand shortly before adjournment. He testified his umpires had experienced considerable difficulty in obtaining information from several of the operators relative to production and that in some instances it had been denied.

Richmond said he doubted authority of the umpires to make arbitrary tests of the wells.

The senate authorized its committee to make a week's investigation only after several hours of debate. Opponents claimed it would be duplication of effort as the house investigation was already functioning.

Proponents contended the senate should do something, pointing out the legislature had been in session a week and the upper house had done nothing. Some of them said the senate would be better off if they were home but added they should work since they were here.

One opponent of the investigation admitted the price of oil was fixed by the major companies but he wanted to know what the legislature could do about it. A supporter replied that it could do no harm to "turn on the light."

The investigation must be concluded by July 29.

YOUNG PREPARES DIVORCEMENT BILL

AUSTIN, July 21.—Representative Dewey Young, Wellington, Tuesday night was preparing to introduce as a conservation bill his measure that died in the regular session to divorce the oil producers and refiners from the gasoline retail business. Several other members will join him in its introduction, he said. It would require the separation within one year.

Robert R. Penn, central proration chairman, testified that such a separation, or the separation of pipe line and producing and refining operations would work an injury rather than a benefit to the industry and raise costs.

All Ready to Extinguish Burning Overton Well

OVERTON, Texas, July 21. (AP)—B. F. DeLong and his associates tonight contemplated using lux gas instead of other chemicals when they make their attempt to smother out the flames in the Vitek No. 5 Eaton tomorrow.

Other plans remained unaltered. The change in chemicals was suggested by Daniel Maples, technical advisor to DeLong.

Earl Mayfield and other receivers for the Vitek company, and representatives of the railroad commission, were expected to witness a test of the water system early tomorrow preparatory to extinguishing the burning well.

State to Investigate Offer for Oyster Shells

AUSTIN, July 21. (AP)—The game commission will investigate extensive oyster shell deposits in Laguna Madre and Baffin bay, between Corpus Christi and Brownsville, to decide its action upon an offer of Dr. Livingston Anderson and others for the purchase of the shells for prosphorus extraction, it decided at its session here Tuesday.

MURRAY FLINGS NEW CHALLENGE

Oklahoma Governor Cites Old Spanish Treaties

Murray suggested, would be a quilting bee on the banks of the Red river with women from Oklahoma and Texas meeting at the new free bridge and "removing anything that prevents their getting together."

"The national guard wouldn't shoot a woman if she came along and took a few barricades out of the way—neither would a Texas ranger," the governor added with a smile.

STERLING FROWNS ON QUILTING BEE IDEA

AUSTIN, July 21. (AP)—Suggestion of Gov. W. H. Murray of Oklahoma that Texas and Oklahoma women meet on the Denison-Durant free bridge to hold a quilting and gossiping bee was received with distaste by Gov. Ross S. Sterling today. The object would be to open the bridge under the protection of masculine chivalry.

The bridge has been closed by federal injunction pending settlement of a controversy between Texas and owners of a parallel toll bridge.

"I do not think the good women of the two sister states will permit themselves to become incited by such tomfoolery, but rather think they will be amazed at the implied reflection upon their integrity, coming from the chief executive of a sovereign state," Governor Sterling stated.

"Texas believes in law and order and the womanhood of the state has shown itself to be the foremost exponent of that principle. As governor of Texas, I hope they will not be led astray by such a questionable proposal," he added.

Every effort is being made by Texas to have the injunction dissolved and open the bridge according to law, the governor said.

RED CROSS TO AID HENRYETTA

Official Arrives to Map Relief Plans

HENRYETTA, Okla., July 21. (AP)—With the arrival here today of Henry Baker, Red Cross representative from the division headquarters at St. Louis, plans for relieving the needs of destitute persons living in this vicinity were formulated.

Baker said that a trained Red Cross worker would come here to handle the situation. Only those unable to work and needy women and children will be given food, he said. The organization will join the local committee of citizens in seeing that every one who wants work will be employed, but it was specifically stated that there would be no handouts as during the emergency several months ago.

GOVERNOR AND MAYOR CONFER

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 21. (UP)—Gov. W. H. Murray and Barclay Morgan, mayor of Henryetta, met in conference here this afternoon to discuss relief measures for the povery-stricken mining and farming section.

Ben Furr, Okmulgee county official, said the county had $1,000 to spend immediately for relief of unemployed there. The state will be asked to provide additional funds, he said.

Furr estimated 6,000 men in the Henryetta district are out of work.

The district office of the Red Cross at St. Louis today assured Governor Murray that the organization would supply $3,000 for relief work in the section.

Murray gave $300 to Mayor Morgan, the last of a fund the governor had raised for Henryetta sufferers several months ago.

Murray asked Morgan for a complete list of all needy families in Henryetta.

A temporary program of public improvements was outlined to take care of the needy. It included:

Construction of a road from Henryetta to Lake Henryetta, cleaning up Coal creek near Henryetta, cleaning up of all streets and alleys in the city, placing chat on all Okmulgee county roads around Henryetta.

Expense of improvements outlined will be borne by Henryetta and Okmulgee county. No state improvement projects were included.

Co-Op Head Urges Fund of $5,000,000

U. B. BLALOCK

NEW ORLEANS, July 21. (UP)—U. B. Blalock, Raleigh, N. C., newly elected president of the American Cotton Cooperative association, said today he favored a $5,000,000 fund to carry on an extensive program designed to better quality of cotton seed.

"The money is needed to distribute several hundred thousand bushels of pedigreed seed each season, if America is to regain her former dominance of the world's cotton markets," he said.

Headquarters of the association announced it would oppose the 15 per cent increase in rates which is being asked by railroads and will immediately petition for a lower rate on cotton.

Methodist Pastor Sues for $25,000

DECATUR, Ga., July 21. (AP)—Dr. Rembert G. Smith, Methodist minister of Sparta, Ga., entered suit in Dekalb county superior court today against Dr. John S. Jenkins, presiding elder of the South Atlanta district of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, for $25,000 damages.

The suit said that on July 23, 1930, the presiding elder "maliciously composed and sent through the mail a letter containing false, scandalous and defamatory words," aimed at Dr. Smith.

Dr. Smith has similar suits pending against Bishop Edwin D. Mouzon of Charlotte, N. C., and Bishop John M. Moore of Dallas, Texas.

U. S. TO DEPORT WOMAN ALIEN

Polish Labor Organizer Must Leave Country

BOSTON, July 21. (AP)—The deportation to Poland of Miss Edith Berkman, young organizer for the National Textile Workers union, a Communist body, today was ordered by the department of labor, Mrs. Anna C. M. Tillinghast, immigration commissioner, announced. Miss Berkman was arrested during a recent textile strike in Lawrence and more recently has been active in labor affairs in Maynard.

The charge upon which the deportation order was issued was that Miss Berkman was an alien affiliated with an organization which advocates, teaches or believes in the overthrow of the federal government by force or violence.

Miss Berkman's attorney said he would apply for a writ tomorrow to stay proceedings. She is at liberty under $5,000 bonds.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas development along dairy industry lines is reflected in the U. S. census figures. It had 833,586 milch cows in 1920 and 1,093,061 in 1930, although general livestock on the farms in the same period decreased from 6,156,715 in 1920 to 5,567,175 in 1930. Increased interest in the poultry industry is shown by the figures—18,072,744 chickens on farms in 1920, 21,594,539 in 1930. The farm work animal, the mule, increased from 845,982 in 1920 to 1,032,993 in 1930 while horses were decreasing from 991,362 to 746,688.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

One of the biggest reclamation projects ever attempted in the United States, reclaiming of the Trinity bottoms in Dallas, is nearing completion, is expected to be complete by early fall. It represents an outlay of $20,000,000. Begun in a small way with a $250,000 bond issue by the levee district in 1912, the district voted another $500,000 in 1926. Then the city and county of Dallas levee district voted $6,000,000, the city supplied $3,270,000 for revision of streets, sewers, underpasses and other improvements in and around the levee district. Dallas county issued $3,339,500 bonds for viaducts, road work and paving within the district. Utilities are spending $5,405,000 for revising tracks and transmission lines and other structures necessitated by the reclamation work. Approximately 10,000 acres, previously subject to overflow, will be reclaimed, a very large part of it in between thickly built up sections of the city.

Stephens County Prize Dairy Herd To Be Exhibited

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., July 21.—Another parade of Stephens county dairy cattle across the Middle West is to be under way again this year, with an ambitious program for exhibiting at major fairs outlined.

Last year a county dairy exhibit was shown in half a dozen state fairs and the national dairy show at St. Louis, winning prize money enough to pay expenses. This year it is planned to exhibit six animals owned by 4-H club boys at the following state fairs: Oklahoma, Tulsa, Muskogee, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and the national shok.

The county exhibit has been sent to Edwond, Okla., and will be shipped out of there in time to show at a district fair in Burlington, Iowa, Aug. 1. The herd will be accompanied by Gene Ely of Gatlin, who owns two of the animals. Owners of the other animals are Paul Thompson, Moran; Jim Sharp, Gatlin; Carrol Wilson, Central High; and Wayland Pearson, Velma.

No animal in the exhibit has ever failed to place at any fair it has been shown, according to County Agent J. A. Killough, sponsor of the trip. Killough expects the herd to win enough prize money to pay expenses of the trip. Each ribbon won will increase the market value of the winning animal, he pointed out.

The Price of War

THE economic troubles that beset the world today are not the result of some hitherto unsuspected weakness in the social system, and no five-year, 10-year or 20-year industrial plan will cure them.

This is the statement of Leonard P. Ayres, Cleveland banker, who ranks as one of the nation's soundest economists.

On the other hand, says Colonel Ayres, "the true lesson of this depression is that we cannot afford any more great wars."

It would be impossible to sum the whole matter up better.

We are paying, right now, for the world war. Germany, struggling on the edge of revolution, is paying the heaviest price, having lost the war. But are the victors much better off?

England, with millions unemployed and industry stagnant, is also paying. The United States, which made billions out of the war and escaped much of the fighting, is paying likewise—paying through the nose, with 5,000,000 men out of work and long breadlines in the cities. Everyone is paying, with suffering and privation; and the payment is not yet complete.

As Colonel Ayres says, this simply means that we must not blow ourselves to any more big wars. They are too expensive. They cost more than any results can possibly be worth. If the cost that we are now paying were only a trifle higher it might wreck civilization and mean universal Bolshevism.

This is something to keep in mind when disarmament conferences, preparedness measures and such issues come up for discussion. We can keep a big army and navy if we like, we can thumb our noses at schemes for international cooperation; but we ought to remember that neither we nor anyone else can ever afford to indulge in another big war.

A 30-Per Cent Cut

WITH wheat dropping to an all-time low, the situation in the farm belt becomes more critical than ever. Fifty-cent wheat in Chicago often means 25-cent wheat to the farmer; in many cases wheat is being plowed under, since it would cost far more to harvest and market it than it would be worth.

What this means to national prosperity is evident in estimates recently made by the department of agriculture, which finds that the farmers' income has declined 30 per cent since July, 1929. The decline, far from being over, has knocked another 10 per cent off this reduced figure since the first of the year.

Admittedly, the finding of a solution for this situation is not going to be easy. As a starter, it might help if farmers would plant about half as much wheat next year as usual.

Working on Part Time

FIGURES just issued by Fred C. Croxton, acting chairman of the president's emergency committee for employment, indicates that industry has put an enormous number of workers on part-time jobs recently. At present, Mr. Croxton says, the number of men working part time probably exceeds the number of unemployed.

In a way this is a good sign, for it indicates that an effort has been made to spread work out and provide a living for as many workers as possible. In another way, however, it is less encouraging. The purchasing power of a tremendous number of people has been slashed materially by this step. This, in itself, explains a large part of the falling off in demand for manufactured products.

Mussolini for Disarmament

MUSSOLINI'S declaration that Italy will support "whatever program for disarmament the United States may advance," is highly gratifying. During the last few years it is only fair to say that Italy has not always been disposed to give disarmament schemes a helping hand. If Il Duce is ready to start on a new tack the whole world will rejoice.

Meanwhile, it would not hurt anything if the promises of the Versailles treaty were recalled again. That treaty, imposing disarmament on Germany, pledged the allied nations to reduce their own armaments. To date they have not done so. To work for a disarmament program at the 1932 conference is only to work for a fulfillment of the solemn pledges in the Versailles treaty.

Callous

Well, run along, the world holds many men—
And, after all, you're over 21;
You say I'm too possessive—that my yen
For faithfulness is spoiling all your fun;
I realize that you are very fair,
That countless lads are tagging at your heels,
So, doubtless, it is best I take the air
And cut the cards, again, for future deals.

I love the chase—the vague uncertain bliss
That lends a freshness to a new affair
That second, dear, before the first gay kiss
When two with eager eyes confess they care.

Too bad the routine after—is so bitter,
But then I've learned to live and love—and titter.

—KID KAZANOVA.

Gag

Tom Mix bought a very costly yacht and joined one of the snootier yacht clubs on the coast. The commodore of the club scolded Mix for wearing the wrong yachting attire and told him it was too loud.

"Mr. Mix," he said, "it is customary for the crew to wear uniforms, but the owners wear white flannels and blue sport coats."

"Well," asked Tom, "what's wrong with this outfit?"

"Oh," groaned the commodore, "those brass buttons!"

"Brass hell!" howled Mix, "them's gold!"

The Retort Proper

They credit it to Merle Thorpe, editor of Nation's Business, and it is called the best depression story.

A school boy in the lumbering district was being catechized by his teacher and was getting along fairly well.

"Now, Johnny," she said, "tell me, how many mills make a cent?"

"Not a damn one!"

Merciless Truth

Another reason for the depression, observes George White, the producer, is that too many people overwork themselves looking for soft jobs.

Pepigrams

Dana L. Cotie observes that enough has been said and written about business recovery to fill almost every kind of a book—except a bank book.

He also tells of the gigolo who went on his vacation by going around with a Scotsman's daughter.

Of All Answers!

From M. H. Nelson comes the repartee he asserts he overheard between a salesman and his prospect, to wit:

Prospect: Why should I advertise? Everybody knows me?"

Salesman: "Everybody knows where the church is—but they ring the bell every Sunday just the same!"

Prospect: "That settles it. I'll have to get me a bell."

What Depression?

They were chinning about some locally known money men, and their respective methods of "making an impression" on the girls.

One of the coin-givers gets his heaviest kick out of inviting four or five good lookers to dine at his elegant apartment. They leave their wraps in his bedroom, primp a little, and then go to the dining room.

The host excuses himself for a few moments to do his trick. Later, when the ladies make ready to depart they discover brand new $1,000 bills pinned to their wraps.

Another lad plays bridge, poker or rummy with girl guests—and purposely loses at least $500 to each of them, which naturally prompts them to break any date.

Anything for a Laugh

It was on the pavement outside the Temple Emanu-El just before the services commenced for the late Harry Reichenbach, who was one of the more devastating wits.

Such wags as the mayor, Harry Hershfield, Walter Wanger and another W. W. were swapping yarns and gags about Reichenbach.

"Gee," whispered Hershfield, "I imagine people think we're terrible for cracking jokes at a funeral."

"If they knew him the way we knew him," one of us replied, "Reichenbach is only sore because he can't be here trying to top us!"

How to Get Gray Young

"Dear Sir: You are becoming the best hated scribe on Broadway. Does the security of your contract entitle you to hurt people? That was such a contemptible headline on your column about the Follies girls—'The Ziegfeld Zoo.'

"Without elaborate trimmings, we understand a 'zoo' to be a collection of beasts and animals, etc. In your opinion, are these girls just a mere collection of beasts? You may not mean to be offensive, Walter, but you are lately becoming damnably so.—P. V. Fitzpatrick, 2133 Wallace Ave., Bronx."

And there are people who read that column and hissed: "You're on Ziegfeld's pay roll, aren't you?"

Oop!

"Dear Winchell," affectionately writes Billy Rose, producer of "Crazy Quilt," the revusical hit at the 44th Street theater, "you have disappointed me greatly lately. Everything you say nowadays is a compliment for somebody. My goodness, Walter! That isn't you! Leave the saccharine and posies to the other fellows. When I want vitriol I read Winchell! Where's that hammer of yours, anyhow?"

"Crazy Quilt" is the show which stars Fannie Brice, Mr. Rose's wife. It also features Lew Brice, her brother.

John Decker, a wag, is credited with suggesting that the show be re-christened "Brice Disease."

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

"CALIFORNIA" TAYLOR'S BEARD—William Taylor, an American Methodist Bishop, (1821-1902) who was later elected Bishop of Africa, is described as the greatest missionary of modern times. He carried the cross to every part of the inhabited globe. Both physically and spiritually he was a giant among his associates. His cognomen of "California" refers to his missionary activities in that state. There was a note of religious humility in his personal attire, and he was wont to refer to his luxurious beard as his substitute for a shirt.

"MARY FAITH"
by Beatrice Burton

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

Mary Faith, young and comely fiancee of Kimberly Farrell, handsome blond youth just out of law school, leaves her position as secretary to the wealthy Mark Nesbit to marry "Kim."

Mary Faith receives a note from Kim's mother inviting her to dinner.

CHAPTER III

Kim and his mother lived on the ground floor of an old-fashioned apartment in Wilton street.

Mary Faith always enjoyed her visits there because it was Kim's home; but it was a depressing sort of place.

The living room was crowded with upholstered furniture. All of the chairs had little lace doilies on their backs. A big brown crock filled with pampas grass stood in front of the fireplace. On a shelf above it stood a cupid clock made of silver gilt. The cupid was much too fat, and he smirked.

Over the whole flat hung the smell of dusty carpets, coffee and meals cooked in grease long ago.

Mrs. Farrell was sitting beside the window, reading the evening paper, when Mary Faith and Kim walked into the room at 15 minutes after 7 o'clock. She glanced up at the cupid and Mary Faith saw that she had been crying.

"I had dinner ready 45 minutes ago," she said, getting slowly to her feet. "I made a cheese souffle. It's ruined by this time, but if you don't care I'm sure I don't . . . . Would you like to put your things in my room, Mary Faith?"

Mary Faith followed her down the dark narrow hall to her bedroom. She took off her hat and coat and smoothed her hair back from her forehead.

Mrs. Farrell stood watching her for a second or two with her reddened eyes. Then she muttered something about the souffle and went hurrying out of the room. She bumped against the door as she went. She was the awkward kind of stout woman who is always bumping into doors or dropping dishes.

Mary Faith hurried after her.

"Can't I help you with dinner?" she asked. "You know what a treat it is to me to help around a kitchen."

She had always had a mortal longing for a kitchen of her own. A bright new little kitchen, all colored tiles and shiny pans and white dotted curtains with sunshine and wind coming through them.

"You know I learned quite a lot about cooking when I took that course at the Business Woman's club last winter," she went on, looking round for an apron. "What can I do to help?"

Kim's mother didn't answer her question. A smile flickered in her plump face for an instant. A tight-lipped smile.

"I guess you didn't learn to keep a souffle from going to nothing an hour after it was made, did you?" she asked as she pulled a baking dish from the oven of the gas range. "Just look at that thing!"

The souffle lay flat as a pancake in the bottom of the dish. It was plain to see that all the life and soul had gone out of it.

"It's only fit to be thrown out," she said. "There are eggs in the icebox. How would you like to fry some the way you learned to fry them at your wonderful woman's club last winter? There's dripping in that bowl on the stove and the frying pan's hanging under the sink."

She began to scrape souffle into a bowl on the drain board.

"This is the sort of thing you'll have to learn to expect when you're married to Kimberley," she said presently. "Meals spoiled because he's not here to eat them on time! Whole dinners put away untouched sometimes because he doesn't show up at all! But I suppose I should not complain, because it's all my fault. I've spoiled him all his life. I've made a rod for my own back!"

"I don't know why he wants to get married anyway," Kim's mother went on.

There was bitterness in her voice and in her face. Bitterness that narrowed her eyes and drew down the corners of her mouth. And yet it was apparent that she had once been very handsome. There was still a kind of beauty in her straight features and the poise of her head with its bright brown hair.

"What time did he get to your place tonight?" she asked suddenly.

"Around seven."

"Did you ask him where he had been until that time?" Kim's mother was lighting the gas ring under the coffee pot now.

"He said he had been delayed at the office."

"Did you see him last Sunday night. He spent the whole evening with me," said Mary Faith, turning to look at her with puzzled eyes. What was Kim's mother getting at anyway, she wondered.

"Well, he was gone all day, Mary Faith. He got up early in the morning and drove the car out of the yard before I was really awake. Why don't you ask him where he was all day and who was with him? —I'm only his mother, of course; but you have a right to know what he does with his time."

Mary Faith shook here head.

She had a fine contempt for women who did not trust the men they loved—women like Mrs. Dan Bassett whose husband was shipping clerk at Nesbit's . . . Dan Bassett never looked twice at any of the girls who worked in the building, but Mrs. Bassett gave him no peace. She was always popping in unexpectedly to see what he was doing and she kept the telephone wires hot on the nights when he worked late.

"I'll be no Mrs. Dan Bassett," thought Mary Faith firmly.

"I wouldn't want Kim to think I didn't trust him, Mrs. Farrell," she said. "And that's just what he would think if I started to cross-question him about things like that. I know he wants to marry me, and that's enough for me."

Mrs. Farrell blew out the match she held and tossed it under the stove where there were a dozen or so burnt matches. It flashed up and she set her foot on it.

"He hasn't any business wanting to marry you or any other girl just yet!" she said violently. "He owes me a little comfort. Here we are, struggling to get along on what he makes down in that law office—and lo and behold! he waltzes in and says he's going to get married in two weeks! On what, I'd like to know! On what?"

"On his salary?" Mary Faith replied, breaking eggs into the sizzling pan. "Sixty dollars a week is plenty of money for three people to live on comfortably. You and I can do every bit of the work around in this flat. We won't even send laundry out—"

"I don't know why he wants to get married anyway," Kim's mother went on, paying no attention to her. "I'm sure I don't."

"Everybody wants to get married sooner or later, I suppose," Mary Faith spoke as gently as she could.

"You want to, you mean!" Mrs. Farrell turned on her suddenly, her plump face full of color. "Kimberley doesn't want to get married. He knows he isn't making enough

A.—The office of education says that the degree of B. Litt. is undoubtedly equal to the doctor of philosophy degree in the universities of the United States. A thesis is required and considerable research work and methods of study. the word "Oxon" indicates a mark of distribution has been obtained in some line of work.

Q.—How many pounds pressure does it take to hit a golf ball hard enough to drive it 250 yards?—A. C.

A.—A. G. Spalding & Bros. says that this question cannot be answered with technical accuracy because "pounds pressure" is a concept dealing with stationary objects; a golf ball cannot be hit with a pound weight which is at rest. However, the pounds required to flatten a ball as much as it is flattened when hit 250 yards is about 2,000 pounds. This isn't exact either because when hit with a golf club the ball flattens only on one side while it is flattened on both sides when it is squeezed in a testing machine to get at the 2,000 pounds mentioned. The exact concept is the energy required to hit a ball 250 yards and the figure for this is 193 foot-pounds in English gravitational units; that is, the energy required to lift a pound weight 193 feet or to lift 193 pounds one foot.

SOCIETY and CHURCH NEWS

Beautiful Setting Planned For Fellowship Operetta

One of the prettiest backgrounds to be found is being arranged for the presentation of "The Gypsy Lover," which is sponsored by the Fellowship of the Church of the Good Shepherd and directed by Mrs. Lois Parker. The operetta will be given at the office of the Country Club estates beginning at 8 o'clock Thursday evening.

Three fully prepared scenes are to be given. To the west, an English terrace and garden with deep cushioned chairs, piano, music books and tables will be featured. A tea table drawn up to the white stone garden seat against the creamy brick walls will hold a handsome silver tea service.

To the east of the garden wall, the gypsies live. The low couch against the wall piled high with vari-colored cushions; the oriental colors in blankets and cushions spread about and the fortune telling tent with the vividly dressed fortune teller, are all beautifully lighted by a glowing gypsy fire. Here is the spot where gypsy children ask "Rob" for a story, he tells them a beautiful fairy tale and after his theme song, when one of the sweet voiced girls is singing, the flare of gleaming light is thrown directly on fairyland, a nook in a green corner where lacy boughs have made a fairy home. In bright relief one sees the queen of the fairies then the dancer and finally the little gnomes and sprites.

Brilliant Cast

Not more beautiful than the ivied English walls as a background for the pretty garden scenes: nor than the oriental setting for the gypsies and the brilliancy and verve of fairyland, are the characters in the leading parts.

Sarah Elizabeth Bancroft is a fascinating and demure Lady Constance. Mrs. George Napier, leading with her as "Rob," is the light-hearted popular gypsy lover; Wilbur Cyr has the commanding dignity of the hero's father, Sir George Martindale, and Joe Witherspoon who wears a monocle as well as carrying a broad English accent is the perfect type to play Lord Craven, disgusted with life.

William Hull as Marto Pierce as Sinfo are two gypsy ruffians who are the plague of Lord Craven's life and the pest of the camp.

The pretty stair that leads up to the balcony on the office will be attractive at all moments for dainty girls in pretty frocks will be walking up and down them and hanging over the balcony all through the scene.

The lawn to the south of the land office, where the entertainment is to be given, will be fenced off from the street. A very nominal charge will be made and cars will not be allowed to stay on the street.

The seats arranged for the audience will be in a semicircle so that all scenes will be in full view.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

Even the man who left home and family to search for some intangible freedom for which he did not know the name, was pathetic in his visionary longing and his listless impatience.

The single standard and the search for freedom are the themes of the play. Men must go about and women must wait and watch at home.

This freedom of which they talk does it bring happiness? Must one not wear a yoke; must not one feel needed in the world and have some sense of responsibility before he can be happy?

A man or a woman is happy only when the soul looks outside its body and sees the beauty that life may become. Happiness is not getting; it is giving.

When I say or think such things as I have just expressed, I wonder to myself who I am to say what is the right and correct thing by a train of reasoning.

Goethe, however, said, "To say a thing that everybody else has said before, as quietly as if no one had said it, that is originality."

And it was Goethe who said, "There is nothing worth thinking but that it has been thought before; we must only try to think again."

Lovely Luncheon Honors Charming Dallas Visitors

Following the dainty luncheon, tables were put up and numerous games were played. The girls finished the pleasant afternoon with a singsong.

With the two charming honorees, Misses Chambers and McQueen, guests were Misses Helen Hartman, Mary Brown Basham, Addilee Biendeharn, LaRue Simmons, Ellen Newby, Joan Burlew and Mesdames Dan Hardy and the hostess, Mrs. Hartsook.

Injunction Plea Argued in Childress

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, July 21.—A special term of the Childress district court met Monday with Judge A. J. Fires presiding, for the purpose of hearing the injunction case brought against the commissioners court over the location of highway four from Childress to the north line of the county. The forenoon Monday was taken up with hearing motions, the jury being empaneled that afternoon and the hearing of testimony begun. As there are about 60 witnesses and several important questions to be argued it is believed the case will not get to the jury before late Wednesday or Thursday.

An injunction was refused by Judge Fires about a year ago, but the supreme court reversed his ruling and instructed Judge Fires to hear the case on its merits. As there are points in the case which are arising in every section of the state attorneys believe the supreme court will pass upon the case making the points clear.

In the meantime the state highway commission has asked for bids to grade highway four over the route selected, and not the route sought by those seeking the injunction. It is expected the grading contract will be let at the next meeting of the highway commission.

Scientist Back From Sahara Expedition

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 21. (INS)—Picturing the shore of an ancient lake now occupied by the Sahara desert, as the original abode of mankind, Dr. Arthur Torrance, California scientist, was back today from a year's exploration in Africa.

Dr. Torrance's theory that man originated on the southern boundary of the Sahara, conflicts with the belief of another noted American archeologist, Roy Chapman Andrews of New York. Andrews for many years has sought the fountain of humanity in the Gobi desert of central Asia.

Living tribes and skeleton remains were studied in Africa by Torrance and his party, during their search for the well-springs of the human race.

Society Dowager's Will Leaves Jap $200,000 but Ignores Adopted Girl

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP)—A will by the late Mrs. Mary E. Henderson specifically cutting off her foster granddaughter and leaving the bulk of her large estate to Frances and Henry N. Arnold of New York, her niece and nephew, was filed today in the District of Columbia supreme court.

The will did not mention the amount. It was signed by the 90-year-old widow of Senator Henderson of Missouri and Theodore E. Peyser, her attorney, last April 8.

It bequeathed $100,000 to Jesse Shima, Japanese private secretary to Mrs. Henderson. Mrs. Henderson died last week at her summer home in Bar Harbor, Maine.

In addition to the $100,000 bequest to Shima, the Japanese secretary was left a $100,000 trust fund.

The 26-year-old Japanese secretary professed bewilderment over the $200,000 left to him. He could not decide whether he would study medicine or complete a law course which he abandoned in 1928 because of Mrs. Henderson's failing health.

"Have you ever been in love," a reporter asked Shima while he posed for photographs.

"Sure," he answered.

The Japanese came to the United States in 1924 and went to work for Mrs. Henderson almost immediately. He was her confidant and advisor, virtually ruling the great brownstone "boundary castle" in which, he said, they often read and talked together.

"I will miss Mrs. Henderson like a mother," the secretary said. "She treated me like a son. She was very kind to have been so generous."

Collingsworth Teacher Marks 50th Year in School Work

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, July 21.—When schools open in Collingsworth county in September, one of this county's teachers will begin his fiftieth year in the teaching profession. This is the record of N. C. Duggins, principal of the Pleasant Hill school, who gained his first teaching experience in 1881, when, at the age of 18, he taught the school of Mourt Moriah, Ky., and who has continued in this work since that time, remaining out of the schoolroom only one year.

Duggins first taught in Collingsworth county 21 years ago. Since then he has been employed in schools in several other counties, including Lamar, Denton, Armstrong, Carson, Donley, Wheeler and Gray.

This year will mark his eighth in Collingsworth county, his fourth year at the Pleasant Hill school, and his fiftieth year in the teaching field. Douglas makes his home with his family near Quail, where he owns a farm.

He was born in Kentucky in 1863, moving to Texas in 1886. During summer months of several past years he has attended school at West Texas State Teachers college in Canyon and at Clarendon college.

Mexican Consul At Oklahoma City Named in Divorce

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 21. (AP)—H. Valdez, Mexican consul who was booked at police headquarters here Friday on a charge of possessing and manufacturing beer, has been named co-respondent in a divorce suit filed by Leslie Barrett against Mer Lee Barrett.

Police asserted they found beer at the home of "Miss Kay Barrett," where Valdez was visiting, and she was booked on similar charges. The records in both cases were voided, however, after a conference of city officials.

At the time Miss Barrett described herself as a sister-in-law of Valdez. While none of the principals in the divorce could be reached immediately, Barrett's attorney said the defendant in the divorce action was a sister-in-law of Valdez, whose wife died two years ago.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

The Cure of Neuritis

If one remembers that the usual cause of neuritis is a toxic or poisonous substance which has been circulating in the blood and becomes accumulated around the nerve, irritating it and causing it to become inflamed, it is easier to discover the cure. The treatment should aim at removing this toxic cause and it should be begun as early as possible to prevent the nerve degeneration which is apt to result from a prolonged inflammation.

The best method of eliminating any toxins which may be present is undoubtedly some type of fasting regimen. The fast also assists in the elimination of toxins from pus pockets which may exist. Since orange juice, grapefruit and tomatoes contain large amounts of vitamin B, I would suggest that a fast on one of these fruits proves the most satisfactory. They not only provide the body with vitamins and mineral elements but have a beneficial effect in overcoming the acidosis which is found in neuritis.

The famous author on food subjects, McCann, has written: "In certain forms of neuritis in which the tissues are irritated by acid secretions, the alkaline mineral elements of fresh fruits invariably prove of great benefit."

Following the fast, one must make it a point of including plenty of raw and cooked vegetables in the diet, as these will assist in overcoming constipation and thus lessen the intestinal toxemia. Also use one or two enemas every day for some time in order to reduce the amount of self poisoning from the colon.

Sometimes neuritis is due to what might be termed mechanical causes. If a spinal vertebra is, slightly out of place, or if muscles, ligaments or adhesions are pressing on the nerve a definite neuritis often results which can only be cured by the right kind of treatments, such as could be given by an osteopah, chiropractor, naturopath, etc. If the neuritis occurs as a result of local pus pockets, it is usually necessary to have special care.

A temporary relief from the pain may be had by using hot applications or electrical treatments. The patient should rest and keep the part warm. Sometimes relief may be had by rubbing on capsicum vaseline which is rubbed into the skin over the inflamed area and then covered with a hot water bottle or hot towel. This is simply a counter-irritant which relieves the pain, but for a permanent cure of neuritis you should rely on the right diet, keeping the intestines clean, and the proper manipulative treatment. Not only have I seen this type of treatment successful in my office, but I have received hundreds of letters from readers who have followed these instructions who write in to tell me of the good results they have obtained in curing themselves of neuritis through following my instructions by mail. It is the thankful letters of this kind which encourage me to keep on writing these articles which I try to make as simple and helpful as I possibly can.

I have articles on tonsil trouble, sinus trouble and abscessed teeth which I will be glad to send you if you will write to me in care of this newspaper and enclose a two-cent stamp for each one you desire. I also have other articles on the cause and cure of neuritis.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Head Pains

Question—L. D. N. asks: "Will you please state the probable causes of such head pains as over the eyes, top and back, also side of head?"

Answer—Pain over the eyes indicates eye trouble, sinus inflammation or constipation. Pain on top or in back of head often indicates pelvic congestion or bladder inflammation. Pain at the side of the head usually indicates neuralgia. I am only giving these symtoms because I believe they will be interesting, and not with any intention that you should attempt to diagnose your own condition. Diagnosis of disease is something that should only be attempted by a doctor who has come in contact with a large number of patients afflicted with a great variety of disorders.

Potassium

Question—W. O. R. asks: "Of what importance is potassium in the body, and what are some of the foods which contain it?"

Answer—Potassium forms the most important salt found in the muscle structures. A lack of it prevents them from being strong and pliable. It is needed by the liver, spleen and red corpuscles. A lack of potassium and iron produces anemia, underweight, and a lowered nervous and mental vitality. It assists in the assimilation of digested foods. Without it our tissues could not store fats, or store sugar in the form of glycogen, or convert peptones and proteoses which are protein after being acted upon in the stomach, into forms that our bodies can use. Potassium is found in lettuce, kale, tomatoes, celery, cucumbers, cress, turnips, eggplant, lemons, oranges, milk, cottage cheese, asparagus and strawberries.

"Bay Window"

Question—M. V. asks: "How may a man just past 30 control what appears to be a fast-developing bay window?"

Answer—Cut down the quantity of food to about half, eliminating entirely all starches, sugars and fats for the present. Also, take plenty of "setting-up" exercises each day, as well as long walks.

SPUDS GET ONLY THREE HITS, BUT BEAT SHIPPERS, 3 TO 2

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

The lack of base hits, one of the reasons for the Spudders' mournful showing on the present road trip, has cast bad reflections on the pitchers, and the hurler to suffer most, it appears to this observer, is old Milton Steengrafe.

In the three games Milton had worked on the road up to Tuesday, he allowed the grand total of two (2) earned runs, and yet he could win only one out of the three contests.

Lack of hits, coupled with a flock of errors, cost him a 7 to 6 decision to Fort Worth. In that game Milt allowed one earned run, but nine errors helped the Cats get the winning margin. Later Milt slammed the door in Shreveport's face, 8 to 0. But in the opening game of the Beaumont series Steengrafe lost, 1 to 0, the Beaumont tally being his second earned run in three games. And the Spudder bat wielders couldn't match it, or better it.

Steengrafe is coming through, all right, and in a big way. It is the hitters and fielders who are failing. Steengrafe is the one "tough luck" pitcher of this road trip.

Dreaming in the Rain

Benny Withrow was charging through right tackle, with only three feet to go for the winning touchdown, when in my excited sleep I lurched over the right side of the bed and lacerated the window sill with my bean. The rain, and the consequent cool spell, has not only given the crops a new start, but has stirred thoughts of the football season.

The headgear season is not very far off, but many things are due to happen before the boys invade the gridiron. The Buffs have got to win the Texas league and Dixie championships, first; and the Spudders have got to put up a mighty fight to finish the season in fourth place.

The Spudders might finish in third place, if George Gerkin is all that he is said to be at bat, and if he can field even half as good as Gulic. The way we see it, Houston will finish first, Beaumont second, while it will be a race between Wichita Falls, Dallas and Fort Worth for third place in the second half.

Buffs Will Win

The Buffs will win the first half play-off starting next Saturday, with ease, provided Dizzy Dean doesn't have another attack of appendicitis. The team could also win the second half, but that would not—ahem—be good business.

There is the possibility that Houston sports writers exaggerated Dean's recent indisposition. Of course we all love one another, but I bet the boys down at Beaumont uttered a surreptitious cheer when they read in last Sunday's paper that Dean had appendicitis.

Maybe the Houston scribes described a simple tummy ache as appendicitis in order to get the Bakermen hopped up over their chances to win the first half play-off.

If Dean is the iron man he appears to be, even a fashionable case of appendicitis shouldn't stop him. In fact, an undoctored rattlesnake bite probably would merely make him a little more poisonous to the Beaumont batters.

Don't Cuss, D—— It!

Goodness what a good world this would be if nobody cussed! Also what a colorless world.

John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, was suspended for three days for "using abusive language on Umpire Clarke." Possibly he should have used a baseball bat.

McGraw went to President Heydler of the National league and likewise abused that official for "protecting an incompetent umpire," but Heydler refused to annul the suspension.

We read in the Chicago Tribune that George Washington, according to an orderly book kept by a sergeant major at Washington's headquarters, issued an order to "unite with him to discontinue and banish the odious and sinful practice of swearing, so unbecoming a soldier and a Christian."

The Tribune continues that the sergeant major "doesn't touch on the few burning words that the general is said to have addressed to Gen. Charles Lee at the battle of Monmouth. We have read the exact words in the library of congress, but for obvious reasons we will not repeat them here but say they were somewhat to this effect: 'You blankety-blank-blank son of a cross-eyed banana, what the blankety-blank-blank do you think you are doing with this most reprehensible and cock-eyed bunch of birds what call themselves an army?'"

Mangum Church Head Moves to Elk City

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., July 21.—Rev. E. A. Reed, presiding elder of the Mangum district of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, moved his family to Elk City this week as a result of action taken at a recent district meeting to station the headquarters at a point more centrally located.

Reverend Reed came here last fall following his appointment at the last state conference, succeeding Rev. R. O. Callahan, with whom he exchanged places at Durant.

Reverend Reed and his wife and son, Twitchell, made many friends during their short residence here.

Mr. Reed said he was to meet a group of Kansas City men at Fort Francis, Ont. He did not state how long he was to remain on the fishing trip.

Mr. Reed suffered a slight attack of indigestion Saturday, his physician said.

HAMLIN WILD IN SEVENTH

Shippers Bang Nine Hits Off Vincent

Special to The Record News

BEAUMONT, July 21.—Although they made only three hits while the Exporters were making nine the Spudders took the series final from the Baker boys today by the score of 3 to 2, capitalizing on the seventh inning wildness of Luke Hamlin. The Spuds went hitless until the seventh although they scored a run in the second as a result of Fritz' error, a walk to Hungling, Fuss' sacrifice and Scharein's fly to center.

The Exporters tied it in the same inning when Fritz tripled to right and Lorbeer dropped a Texas leaguer back of first. In the sixth Beaumont went one run in front when Fritz slammed one of Vincent's fast balls over right field fence.

Stanton opened the seventh by flying out. Badgro walked and went all the way to third as Schuble was tossing out Hungling. Fuss tripled to right center and Scharein, though two were out, put on a squeeze and beat out a bunt to first, Fuss scoring. Euller and Vincent walked to fill the bases and Garms grounded out to first.

Fritz hit another triple in the eighth but two were down and Holley popped up to the catcher. Two pinch batters and Taylor went out in order in the ninth.

Presbyterians Down Empire Nine, 6 to 2

Willard Hillin, youthful mound star of the Presbyterians, cut short the Empire Paper company winning streak at four games Tuesday afternoon on Debus field and pitched the Presbyterians to a 6 to 2 win. Hillin had his fast ball working perfectly with his curves and an even dozen of the Papermen went down by the strikeout route while only five hits were combed from his delivery. Gib Lowery hurled a nice game, giving up only six hits, but they were bunched in two of the innings and four errors proved costly. Score:

Success Of Sharkey's Career Hinges On Bout Tonight

WALKER GIVEN LITTLE CHANCE

Fight Details Will Not Be Broadcast Over Radio

By EDWARD J. NEIL

NEW YORK, July 21. (AP)—Eight years of gloved warfare, success, failures and disappointments, converge tomorrow night for Jack Sharkey in the same ring in Ebbetts field where he jumped into fame over night in 1926.

And if by any chance the bellicose sailorman from Boston should fail to whip Mickey Walker, the overstuffed middleweight who aspires to be a giant killer, he will be right back where he was before he conquered Harry Wills, the old black menace, that October night in the Brooklyn National league ball park five years ago.

The fight experts, after peering at the two warriors in training for several weeks, can see little reason why Walker should win the 15-round duel for the benefit of the New York milk fund.

Sharkey will have about 30 pounds advantage over the barrel-chested, thick legged Walker. He is a head taller, has a longer reach, and more strength, skill and socking power on his side. Mickey hits hard with a left hook to the body—for a middleweight. He still has remarkable powers of endurance despite a dozen years of lusty warfare. The betting is light but what there is favors Sharkey at 2½ and 3 to 1. The match will not be broadcast.

The advance sale was around the $100,000 mark and the last day's rush for cheaper seats tomorrow may shove the receipts up above the $200,000 mark. The attendance may reach 25,000.

Mrs. Moody Favored To Win Essex Title

MANCHESTER, Mass., July 21. (AP)—Seven of the nation's first 10 women tennis players and the unranked Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, who, in other years, topped them all, today gained the quarter-finals in the Essex Country club's brilliant tourney.

Rankings, however, probably will mean but little during the remaining brackets for none of the seven appear to have any chance of halting the former Helen Wills' sweep to her fourth victory in this annual competition.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, July 21. (AP)—Cotton today lost most of yesterday's advance.

The October position sold down to 9.53, closing at that figure, and showing net loss of 27 points, while the general list closed barely steady at 24 to 29 points net lower.

The opening was steady 7 to 10 points lower in response to easier Liverpool cables than expected and except for several small rallies on local and trade buying during the day, prices were generally heavy and the close as at the low of the session.

The weather was again showery over a considerable portion of the belt, with the forecast for continued thundershowers over practically the entire belt with the exception of Oklahoma. There were a few complaints of the increased activity of boll weevil and it was believed to be entirely probable that more complaints will be received which some observers predicted may be the basis for a crop scarce. On the whole, however, crop accounts were of a satisfactory nature and it was believed that the weekly weather and crop bulletin tomorrow will again indicate favorable progress.

The trade continued to buy rather moderately. New interest in the market was limited and on the whole the volume of business of the day was comparatively small, with traders awaiting more definite developments in Europe in connection with the conference now being held in London over the German situation.

Liverpool cabled that the market there had advanced on continental buying but met profit-taking and that sales of cloths to India and China were restricted, with yarns slow.

Exports today 8,182, making 6,855,337 so far this season; port receipts 4,241; U. S. port stocks 2,838,597.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, July 21. (AP)—Cotton was generally quiet today and prices slipped down 22@26 points, or about $1.25 a bale, as traders displayed a waiting attitude. The easing tendency prevailed for most of the session, except for brief rallies on some talk of boll weevils in the belt. Poor cables and a less optimistic view of the London conference were depressing factors.

Liverpool came in 3@4 penny points worse than due and private cables stated that the continent bought and longs took profits. Manchester cabled that the cloth business with India and China is restricted and yarns are slow.

Active months made new lows with October at 9.52 and December at 9.75 or 28 points below the highs. The close was easy a point or two above the lowest with October and December showing net losses for the day of 24 points.

Oil Stocks Gain General Market Advance on World News

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, July 21. (US)—Further modest improvement was recorded in stock prices today, although the extent of the advance itself established that the speculative fraternity is proceeding exceedingly cautiously at present. The occasion for whatever betterment in quotations was scored today seemingly existed in the United States to the seven-power gathering at London that existing credits to Germany be extended. That no new funds are made available to that country was ignored in the general desire to accept all foreign developments in constructive manner, even if this calls for some exaggeration of facts.

Nevertheless, the market is disposed to feel kindly toward the present conference until actually adverse developments are disclosed. As a matter of fact, that seems to be the attitude of the market with respect to most developments; unless they are of unusually unfavorable nature they are passed over or completely ignored. At least the market has not gone into repeated spasms of fright over the obviously delicate negotiations abroad.

Trading volume was expanded to above the million-share mark but no enthusiasm was inspired by the fractional gains registered throughout the list.

Steel common was boosted well over a point in the hope of stimulating bullish interest but only truly professional interest was aroused. News that steel operations had been expanded 2 per cent in the past week aroused little response. Most active discussion regarding steel activities currently centers around prospects for maintenance of the $7 U. S. Steel dividend at the directors' meeting next Tuesday, and at present there is every reason for believing that no definite decision has been reached by the directors, so that all current prognostications are mere guesswork.

Radio came in for more aggressive sponsorship and the issue closed with a modest gain. The stock, obviously speculative, nevertheless is certain to enjoy continued active sponsorship whenever the general market permits.

Railroad shares enjoyed general strength, on rumors that strong political pressure is being brought at Washington to force the Interstate Commerce commission to order an immediate rate increase to tide the roads over their present emergency. There was also a report, Washington-originated, that the roads are seriously considering a plan whereby they would acquire the principal bus and truck lines. Creation of half a dozen huge bus and truck companies, to be controlled by the railroads, is suggested as a solution of this serious competition to the railroads.

Most of the bull pools maintained activity in their pets without attracting much following. Bear pressure of concentrated nature is almost entirely lacking, partly because of the subtle suggestions to big bear operators that they desist from market-distributing activities and also because many of the former big bears are decidedly confused over the situation. Most of the short interest in the market is made up of small-fry, day-to-day traders.

Timken Roller Bearing was a noticeable weak feature, weakness being especially apparent because of the general firmness. On various occasions over the last two years Timken has been subjected to heavy bear attack which sometimes ended unprofitably as the bears were temporarily defeated. Nevertheless the stock has declined steadily and today closed within three points of its lowest price at 32, where the yield on the dividend is almost 10 per cent, evidencing some doubt concerning maintenance of distributions at this rate.

Oil stocks as a group advanced, buying being influenced by knowledge of a huge decline in production during the past week, amounting to over 100,000 barrels. This, of course, reflects the decision of many mid-continent producers to suspend operations in a strike against the abnormally low and unprofitable prices now prevailing for oil. It also represents, however, the inescapable workings of the economic laws, with supply and demand dominating influences. Various industries, confronted with the problem of overproduction and less-than-production-cost prices, are gradually being forced to the same drastic steps. The very severity of the curtailment measures, however, assures attainment of the balance between production and consumption which will bring a return to normal conditions.

The President Hoover proposal on the German credits is completely in line with the views expressed here that no additional financial assistance will be forthcoming until Germany has demonstrated her economic stability over a period of several months.

Wheat and sugar were higher, the latter touching a new high on the present recovery.

Oats—No. 2 red 26½@27½c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 21. (AP)—Plans approved by President Hoover whereby American banks would maintain credits in Germany, provided other countries' banks did likewise, helped to lift grain prices today. A substantial falling-off in receipts of domestic winter wheat, together with adverse reports of the spring crop in Canada and North Dakota, were also bullish factors. Curtailing of the movement of United States winter wheat was ascribed largely to a widespread holding tendency by farmers in the Southwest because of low prices.

Wheat closed unsettled ⅜@1⅛ cents higher, corn ⅛@½c advanced, oats ⅛@¼c up, and provisions varying from 32 cents decline to a rise of 2 cents.

North American wheat export business lacked volume, except 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat taken yesterday for shipment overseas. Corn and oats followed wheat.

Provisions were responsive to downturns of hog values.

Closing indemnities—Wheat: July 53⅝@½c, 54½c; Sept. 53⅝c, 54⅝@½c; Dec. 57⅝c bids. Corn: July 57, 58c; Sept. 51⅝c, 52⅞c; Dec. 45@45½c, 46@46½c.

TRADE TRENDS

(By the Associated Press)

AIRCRAFT—In the opinion of F. B. Rentschler, president of United Aircraft & Transport Corp., a general replacement program by practically all lines of the United States can hardly be delayed longer than the early part of next year. For his own company, he said that a large part of the planes and engines on United Aircraft lines shortly will be completed, amortized and ready for replacement. He added that in May of this year planes of United Airlines, the company's transport subsidiary, carried 3,228 passengers, a new high record.

COTTON—A striking development in the statistical situation on American cotton in recent months has been the heavy exports by the United States to Japan, China and India, the New York cotton exchange service reports. In the five and a half months since the end of January, exports to the Orient have aggregated 837,000 bales, compared with 357,000 bales in the corresponding period last year and 467,000 bales two seasons ago. "One has to go back to 1927, the service says, "when rising prices were stimulating heavy forward buying to find larger exports of cotton from this country to the Orient in the same five and a half months."

SILVER—Bar silver was easier in both New York and London Tuesday. The metal sagged a quarter of a cent in New York to 27⅞ cents an ounce, and dropped an eighth of a penny in London to 13 pence.

STEEL—The American metal market, in its weekly iron and steel review, says: "Volume of steel business shows no change in the week, ingot production being maintained at approximately 32 per cent. Chances are this will prove to be the low rate of the year, but that is by no means certain, as mills have almost no backlogs and are maintaining their operations with difficulty, making strenuous efforts to obtain all orders possible.

CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, July 21. (AP)—Cotton prices broke about $1.25 per bale, and closed barely steady, 22 to 26 points net lower, with cables 3 to 4 penny points lower than due, the market opened 9 to 12 points down. Early losses were soon recovered on private reports of too much rain, especially in South Texas and the Carolinas. The market eased again on profit taking and prospects of clearing weather in the western part of the belt.

BOSTON, July 21. (AP)—Inquiries are being received on 56's of both fleece and territory lines and occasional sales are being closed. Prices are firm at 22 to 23 cents in the grease or 41c to 43c scoured basis, on strictly combing 56's fleeces, and at 47 to 51c scoured basis on strictly combing 56's territory wools. Many current inquiries are accompanied by requests for immediate delivery which tend to hamper trade especially graded lines, as a number of houses have recently sold about all wool or certain qualities that they can grade for several weeks.

Allred Denies Pact In Utility Suit

SAN ANTONIO, July 21. (AP)—Presence here today of Attorney General Allred, who held an all-day conference with officials and attorneys of the San Antonio Public Service company, can in no wise be interpreted as a possible compromise in the suit brought by the state to annual the charter of the public service company, Allred declared.

Dan Moody, former governor, representing the Public Service company, also is here.

"I'm here to get depositions from heads of the Public Service company," Allred declared. "This is a civil case and we can not compel these officials to come to Austin to the hearing. We want to be sure that we have our testimony," he said.

Galveston's Plan For Cotton Money Found Unfeasible

WASHINGTON, July 21. (INS)—Stimulation of the cotton market through the use of this material in the production of the billions of dollars worth of paper money produced annually has been suggested to the treasury department by the Galveston Chamber of Commerce.

However, under present processes of paper manufacture, cotton can not be used for the paper money and the government will continue to use 75 per cent linen and 25 per cent cotton until a more effective currency material is developed at the bureau of standards or other laboratory.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills notified F. Leslie Body, general manager of the Galveston commercial organization, that cotton paper once had been used in the production of currency, but it was not sufficiently durable for the purpose, it was learned today.

The Galveston Chamber of Commerce had adopted resolutions urging the treasury to consider the use of cotton for paper money in order to assist in the recovery of one of the agricultural industries which has been adversely affected by price reductions.

Dry Executive Fired For Failure to Report

WASHINGTON, July 21. (UP)—John B. Madden, formerly assistant prohibition administrator at Kansas City, who was transferred to Seattle, has been suspended indefinitely because of failure to report at his new post, it was announced today by the federal prohibition bureau.

Officials said Madden had been given his regular annual leave and an additional leave without pay, but when that expired still did not report at Seattle, where he was to be special assistant to the administrator.

It was explained he would be permitted to take his new post at Seattle when he reports there, but meanwhile has been suspended.

Arson Suspect Lodged In Wheeler County Jail

Special to The Record News.

SHAMROCK, Texas, July 21.—Sheriff John Porter has returned today from Rawlins, Wyo., where officers held Tom Burks of this city who is wanted on an arson charge growing out of the burning of his house in north Shamrock several weeks ago. Burks was taken to the county jail at Wheeler.

POSSE HUNTS BOY'S SLAYER

Fiend Shoots Youth and Assaults Girl

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 21. (INS)—Scores of possemen aided police today in a search for an asserted fiend who late last night killed Louis J. (Buddy) Palmer, 19, and assaulted his girl companion, Glenda King, 19.

The girl told police that she and Palmer, son of a local business man, were seated in an automobile in Prospect park, on the outskirts of the city, when a roughly dressed man appeared suddenly and covered them with a revolver.

"Get out of there, and be quick about it," he ordered.

The girl, according to police, stepped from the car with Palmer, both raising their arms. Without warning, the holdup opened fire, shooting Palmer through the body. He then assaulted the girl, and afterward forced her to drive him around for nearly two hours before releasing her. Miss King was in a hysterical condition when she reached her home and was rushed to a hospital. She was able to give a good description of her assailant.

Stringent Rules For Night Clubs Put Into Effect

NEW YORK, July 21. (INS)—Night life in New York today was preparing for a considerable of a dimming.

Police Commissioner Mulrooney told a gathering of 300 proprietors of dance halls, night clubs and cabarets they would be "cleaned up or closed up."

Under new regulations all owners must be fingerprinted and photographed, employes registered, gangsters excluded from night clubs and doors closed at 3 a. m.

Mulrooney also ordered that no ink eradicators be kept in the resorts, preventing raising of patrons' checks.

Hostesses must not mingle with patrons.

Mulrooney, who denied there was an increase of vice in New York, was given authority to act in night club regulations by a new law passed on June 30 by the municipal assembly.

Visitors to New York will be better protected under the new rules, Mulrooney said. "Sucker joints" with over charges, raised checks, bouncers and others rackets will be closed, he said.

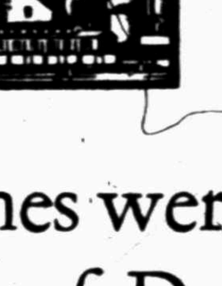

Little Bandit With Big Gun Put to Rout

HOUSTON, July 21. (AP)—A bandit described as "a little man with a big gun" was routed today from a confectionery operated by H. E. Trenton when Trenton opened fire with his own pistol.

Trenton told officers when the man entered and demanded money, he reached back of the counter as if for a money drawer and came up with his own pistol.

DEATH CLAIMS RAIL WORKER

Injured Man Succumbs at Hospital Here

Injuries sustained by R. Rogers of Dallas, construction gang workman for the Fort Worth and Denver, while he assisted with the unloading of bridge stringers from a freight car near Iowa Park Friday, proved fatal at a hospital here Tuesday morning.

The body was taken in charge by the Merkle Undertaking company, which will foward it Wednesday to Dallas, where funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the Temple Baptist church.

Rogers and the construction crew were engaged in unloading the stringers, heavy bridge building timbers, when the accident occurred. He was attending to the ground work of the unloading, when one of the huge timbers struck him in the back after rolling down the runway.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Leonora Rogers of Dallas; three sisters, Alice Rogers and Mrs. Clara Day, both of Dallas, and Mrs. R. B. Rogers of Dawson, Texas; and three brothers, R. Rogers of Fort Worth, Eugene Rogers of Whitney, Texas, and Allie Rogers of O'Donnell, Texas.

COW'S HORN PIERCES FARMER'S EYE

The loss of an eye probably will result from an injury sustained Tuesday afternoon by Louie Sternberger, 59, when the horn of a cow on his farm near Windthorst caught him in the eye, according to physicians at the Hargrave-Walker hospital here.

Sternberger was working with his stock, and was standing near the animal as she tossed her head, the point of the horn striking his eye.

He was brought to the hospital here, where it is expected that it will be necessary to remove the eye Wednesday.

INJURED CHILD BROUGHT TO HOSPITAL HERE

Mabel Voelter, 10-month-old daughter of Mrs. Hettie Voelter, who sustained a fractured skull in an automobile accident near Rhome, Texas, Monday, rested well Tuesday at the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital, although in a critical condition, attendants said.

The automobile in which the child was riding with her mother and Clarence Best, George Voelter and Mrs. Fritz Voelter, all of Anderson, Texas, was said to have crashed into a curbing on the highway after it had gone out of control of the driver due to slippery roads.

Other occupants of the car were less seriously injured. Best's tongue was mangled and almost severed. George Voelter and Mrs. Fritz Voelter sustained bruises and lacerations.

They were en route from Anderson to visit Mrs. Fritz Voelter's husband who is a patient at a hospital here.

The injured were first attended at Decatur before the child was removed to the hospital here by Miss Esther Voelter, a relative and nurse in the clinic here, who left for the scene immediately upon receipt of word of the accident.

MRS. ARMILDA ROBERTS

Mrs. Armilda Roberts, 78, mother of Warner Roberts, 108 San Antonia street, died Tuesday at her home in Gridley, Calif., according to wor dreceived here. Death followed a lingering illness, it was said. Mrs. Roberts had been a visitor in Wichita Falls on several occasions. Funeral services will be held in Sacramento, Calif., at a date as yet unset.

A Junior chamber of commerce committee, recently selected to assist with plans for the Wichita County Fair Oct. 8-10, met Tuesday afternoon and selected William McKemie Jr. as chairman.

Members of the committee were exceptionally enthusiastic over the prospects for the fair this fall, and pledged their efforts toward making it the most successful ever held.

money to keep up two homes and he knows I won't be happy when he brings you here to mine. Besides that, he's running around—"

She stopped as Kim pushed the door open and stepped into the kitchen. He had changed his coat for a brown velveteen smoking jacket and a pipe was gripped between his teeth.

"What's all the row about?" he asked mildly. "And how about a little chow for a hungry man instead of all this talk?"

His mother took a pitcher of cream from the top of the icebox and thrust it into Mary Faith's hands.

Put that on the table. I'll watch the eggs, Mary Faith. And pour the water. The pitcher's on the sideboard."

Mary Faith carried the pitcher into the dining room where a drop light with a yellow glass shade hung over the table. She set it down on a German silver tray that was flanked by a cut-glass vinegar cruet and a bottle of meat sauce.

"People can't call themselves poor who live as comfortably as this," she thought, glancing around the room. "Sixty dollars a week is a lot of money, if it's properly handled."

A German silver pitcher of water stood on the sideboard. When she picked it up she saw that it left a wet white ring on the polished wood. There were other faint white rings near it. No one could call Kim's mother a careful housekeeper, she found herself thinking as she began to fill the water glasses.

Suddenly there was a crash and a loud scream from the kitchen. After that there was a second of dead silence. And then Kim's voice calling her: "Mary Faith! Come here—hurry!"

Commencement exercises to be held in the Junior college auditorium Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock for six college, 27 high school and 22 junior high school graduates will conclude the nine-week summer term which opened on May 25.

The term which closes Wednesday was marked by the largest summer school enrollment ever attained by the Junior college division, according to school officials. Seventy-eight persons enrolled for college work, 27 of them being public school teachers from nearby towns and cities who were working toward renewal of teaching certificates or advanced credits. A total of 17 students in various universities and colleges in other cities also registered here for the summer college term.

Graduating students will fill leading roles in the commencement program scheduled for Wednesday morning. Insurance Companies Named in Three Suits

Insurance companies were made defendants in three compensation and damage suits filed in district court here Tuesday.

Damages amounting to $8,020 are asked by D. P. Mann from the Texas Employers Insurance association as a result of injuries alleged to have been received by the plaintiff on Dec. 23, 1930, when a tool house which he was helping to load upon a truck fell upon him.

Alleging that $650 is still due him as compensation for injuries received Oct. 30, 1930, while in the employ of Dixon Motor company, Curley Davis also brought suit against the Texas Employers Insurance association. The petition charges that Davis was caught between a moving automobile and an iron railing, and protests against the defendant's alleged position that payments already made constitute full settlement of the plaintiff's claim.

The third suit was brought by G. L. Boyd against the Universal Automobile Insurance company for $600 for loss said to have been suffered by the plaintiff through the destruction by fire of a truck in August, 1929.

Boswell and Page to Attend C-C Institute

Wilburn Page, secretary of the Junior chamber of commerce here, will attend classes of the National Institute for Commercial Organization Secretaries at Chicago for the two weeks beginning Aug. 3, it was announced Tuesday.

The board of directors of the Junior chamber authorized at a meeting Monday that he attend the classes. The current term of the institute will be the second that Mr. Page has attended. Satisfactory completion of work for three years entitles the attending secretary to a diploma.

John Boswell, manager of the senior chamber, also will attend the institute for post graduate work. He will also conduct several classes for the institute during the term.

Sam B. Spence, district attorney, L. V. Abernathy, county attorney, and Wayne Somerville, former county attorney, will attend the two-day convention of the Texas District and County Attorneys association at Houston Friday and Saturday of this week, it was learned Tuesday.

Aimee and Ma Again Feel Strained Relations

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 21. (INS)—Relations between Aimee Semple McPherson, dynamic blond evangelist, and her mother, Mrs. Minnie "Ma" Kennedy, were rather strained today, Mrs. Kennedy demanding a "showdown" as the result of attempts to place her in a psychopathic ward, made by B. F. Clearwater, night watchman at Angelus temple, where Aimee presides, according to reports.

Declining to offer any further comment on the marriage of Mrs. Kennedy to Rev. G. Edward "What-a-Man" Hudson and the subsequent proceedings, other than that it was "an unfortunate affair," Aimee prepared to officiate tonight at the wedding of her son, Rolf, 18, to Miss Lorna Dee Smith, 20, at the temple.

All Wichita Swimming Pools Given Approval by City Inspector

Dr. J. M. Farrell, chief inspector of the city health department, has recently completed a careful analysis of the waters of the various swimming pools in the vicinity of Wichita Falls. This action is taken annually to protect the thousands of people who enjoy this type of recreation during the summer months.

In tests made of all the swimming pools in and around Wichita Falls, Doctor Farrell found the water to test as low in bacteria count as any of the elaborate and costly swimming pools throughout the state. These pools were also found to be free of disease producing germs.

In commenting on this fact, Doctor Farrell said, "The results of the tests made in the swimming pools of Wichita Falls are most gratifying. False rumors concerning the purity of the waters of these pools are started every year, which rumors naturally tend to discredit these institutions which provide real healthful entertainment for the public.

"Fortunately, however, the public no longer accepts these rumors as facts without further investigation. This is attested to by the fact that there is greater interest in swimming as a sport during the present summer than ever before. As an example I saw a class of 216 pupils take the free lessons afforded by the Westmoreland pool just this past Thursday."

Doctor Farrell will continue these periodic tests all through the swimming season so that any possible contamination in the waters of these pools can be promptly checked and eliminated. All pools are treated frequently with chlorine and copper sulphate for the public's safety and the water is also changed at regular intervals.

JURY ACQUITS BUCK MICHNA

Prison Terms Given Three Others in Trials

Prison terms totalling six years and one suspended sentence for three years were doled out Tuesday by a jury before Judge Allan D. Montgomery in the 30th district court to three defendants in felony cases. Two additional defendants were given their freedom, one by acquittal, and one by dismissal.

Ralph Richardson drew a three-year penalty following his plea of guilty to a charge of forgery. It was brought out by the state that he had served terms both in federal and state penitentiaries, and was recently given 10 years in Wise county for robbery. He also is under indictment at Fort Worth for kidnaping.

Jesse Taylor, negro, pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary in connection with the theft of rugs from an unoccupied house belonging to M. D. Bolton, about two months ago. His penalty was fixed at three years in the penitentiary.

AIR OFFICIALS ATTEND MEET

Special Envelopes Printed For First Mail Plane

Plans for the inauguration of air mail through Wichita Falls Aug. 1, were discussed here Tuesday morning by officials of the American Airways and members of the chamber of commerce aviation committee.

Officials of the air line, C. R. Smith, vice president and general manager; Jack Beachamp, general agent; Silliman Evans, director of public relations, and J. H. Frye, pilot, arrived here from Dallas by plane, landing at Kell field at 10 o'clock. The conference followed immediately in the administration building at the airport.

Support Pledged

Representatives of the air line and local citizens pledged their efforts toward making Wichita Falls' first air mail line successful from every standpoint.

A celebration of the event is planned, and John Boswell, manager of the chamber of commerce here, explained that although great interest will be displayed in the coming of air mail, no elaborate celebration will be held. Brief talks will be made at the port with the arrival of the first mail plane, he said.

A second ship will follow close behind the mail plane on the inaugural flight, it was announced. The second ship will bear officials of the American Airways, postal authorities and newspaper representatives. Invitations have been extended to S. M. Gaines, Fort Worth, superintendent of railway mail service; A. P. Barrett, vice president of the Aviation corporation, and George Young, Dallas postmaster, to be aboard the plane.

Wichitans attending the conference Tuesday were J. L. Jackson Jr., president of the chamber of commerce; O. P. Maricle, postmaster; Jack Barnard, J. Paul Montgomery, T. J. Waggoner Jr., John Boswell, Wilburn Page, Dudley B. Foy, Fulcher Armstrong, J. Glenn Groves, and J. H. Allison.

Special Envelopes

In preparation for the air mail celebration the Junior chamber of commerce is having printed a large number of envelopes to be distributed free of charge for use on the inaugural flight. The envelopes bear a sky-line picture of Wichita Falls, and printing appropriate to the occasion. The envelopes are expected to be distributed to banks Thursday, where they may be obtained. Any person, it was said, will be allowed as many as five of the envelopes without cost.

Five Numbers Added To Vaudeville Bill

Five additional local artists who will appear on the park department's weekly free vaudeville program next Thursday night were announced Tuesday by C. C. Bunnenberg, city park superintendent.

Musical entertainment also will be contributed by George Taylor and Guy Rogers Jr. Mr. Taylor will sing ballads, to the accompaniment of his own guitar, while Mr. Rogers' numbers will be on the harmonica.

A program of about 10 numbers is being prepared for the event, it was announced. The vaudeville bills are presented on the west lawn of the Memorial auditorium, and are given free of charge to the entire public.

U. S. LINES TO WITHDRAW SHIP

Shipping Board Allows Retrenchment

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP)—The shipping board has granted the United States lines permission to withdraw the transatlantic liner Republic from service as a move to lessen the lines' financial difficulties.

The Republic is one of four vessels operated by the United States lines. She was built in 1907 in Germany and is the slowest vessel in the United States fleet.

The lines were authorized by the board to lay up the Republic upon her return to New York on July 28 to await the outcome of negotiations to determine other methods of aiding the lines which have asked the board to help them weather the depression.

The Republic, now operating in the New York-Hamburg service, has been sought by the war department for use as a transport, but no decision on this has been announced.
