MAN INDICTED FOR MURDER FLORENCE BROWN

DALLAS COUNTY GRAND JURY RETURNS AN INDICTMENT AGAINST FELIX JONES

MURDER FOUR YEARS OLD

Killing of Pretty Stenographer Stirred People of Whole State—But Death Remained Mystery

By Associated Press. Dallas, Texas, June 30.—Felix Jones of El Paso was indicted today by the Dallas county grand jury in connection with the mysterious murder of Florence Brown in a Dallas real estate office in July, 1913. The case attracted much attention throughout the South-west.

Jones now is in jail in El Paso on another charge. The county attorney will send an officer to that place to bring him back to Dallas. The grand jury has been working on the case several weeks. It is said there will be other important developments in the case.

Florence Brown was a stenographer, young and pretty, employed in the offices of Robinson and Styrum at the time of her death. Employees of the firm found her body in the office on Field street in Dallas on the morning of July 25, 1913, her throat had been cut from ear to ear. She had also received a blow over the right eye and the fingers of her right hand were cut to the bone, showing that she had fought desperately.

Several grand juries investigated the crime. There was one arrest, Meade Barr a prisoner in the Indiana State Reformatory was brought to Dallas and charged with the killing. He admitted the crime but on investigation it was found that he could not possibly have killed the girl. The local authorities are reticent as to the testimony advanced before the grand jury which connects Jones with the case. It is said to be largely circumstantial.

Jones has claimed Fort Worth, Wash. as his home, but it is said that the latter place has the most claim to his residence. He is being held at El Paso in connection with the killing of Thomas Lyons of Silver City, N. M., millionaire cattleman whose lifeless body was found in El Paso last May. He is about 40 years old and married.

The body of Miss Brown was found only 10 minutes had elapsed since commission of the murder. There was delay in notifying the police and she did not arrive until after the body had been taken away in an undertaker's wagon.

The killing occurred in the wash-room attached to the real estate office at that time when scores of persons were not far away. The last person to have seen Miss Brown alive was B. Cuthbertson, who was employed by the firm for which she was stenographer. He drove her to the office in a company automobile on the morning of the crime and after leaving the office and turning on the electric lights left the office in her charge while he went to the courthouse. The crime was exceedingly brutal. In addition to having her throat cut from ear to ear the girl had received a blow over the right eye and the fingers of the right hand were cut to the bone, showing that she had made a desperate struggle with her assailant.

After committing the murder her assailant apparently sought to destroy all evidence that might incriminate him. The wash basin was found to be streaked with bloody water where he had washed his hands. A towel also was bloodstained. No knife or other weapon was found in the office. The only cle left behind was a pearl button.

ANOTHER MOOSTER FIGHTING SHIP GOES INTO WATER

By Associated Press. Camden, N. J., June 30.—Another mooster fighting machine for the navy took the water here today from the yards of the New York Shipbuilding Co., when the dreadnaught Idaho, sister ship of the Pennsylvania, flagship of the Atlantic fleet, was formally launched. Henrietta Aurelia Simmons, granddaughter of Governor Alexander of Idaho, was sponsor for the ship and because of war conditions the general public was not admitted to the ceremony which was witnessed by a small group of navy, congressional and company officials. The Idaho will carry round guns 14-inch, 50 calibre rifles mounted in turrets, in four turrets, two forward and two aft, in size, armament, equipment, speed and all but minor details the Pennsylvania and of the Mississippi.

There are no secrets about the Idaho's construction except modifications made after her hull had been laid down to give greater security against submarine attacks. The designers believe the vessel will be a hard problem for a submarine and she cannot be sunk with a single torpedo.

FEELING AGAINST GERMANY GROWING THROUGH AUSTRIA

By Associated Press. Copenhagen, June 30.—The East German Rundschau of Vienna, the organ of the German Nationalists, complains in a recent issue, of machinations in certain circles within the empire in favor of an Austrian endeavor for a separate peace with the entente and tending to destroy good relations with Germany. The report is prevalent in these circles, particularly in the industrial districts, the Rundschau asserts. It is feared that Austria-Hungary could long before this have had peace with her enemies if she had not been bound by the German alliance and that Prussia alone is responsible for the continuance of the war.

Beals of dissonance between Austria-Hungary and Germany also are in circulation and are being spread by the press. The Rundschau says that the Austrians are being ruthlessly exploited by Germany and required to export quantities of grain to Austria's allies. Officials of the Austrian food bureau recently were compelled to take notice of these reports.

The Rundschau believes that energetic measures by the government are necessary to check the spread of ill will which, of course, is attributed to the insidious work of enemy agents. That Community Furnishes 54 Recruits 225 Recruited From Wichita County

Bringing to a close one of the most successful recruiting campaigns, it is believed, ever conducted for the Texas National Guard, two companies of that organization had been recruited practically to full strength here Saturday night at midnight. Complete reports of the recruiting were not available at that hour, but reports received showed that 310 men had volunteered for the two companies of the Guard here.

These men have been recruited from Seneca, Archer, Clay and Knox counties. The two companies are now being organized at the headquarters of the Texas National Guard at Fort Worth. The Burk Burnett community made the best record in proportion to its population of any community in the five counties. Burk Burnett furnished 54 volunteers and those who examined them say that as a body of men they are without equal. Men making $7 and $8 a day in the oil fields volunteered for their country, and their employers, many of them who did not know where they could find men to take their places, encouraged these men to enlist. Electra furnished 34 volunteers, Henrietta 23 and Seymour 22.

After progressing slowly for the week or ten days recruiting has been in progress, men began to enlist in droves Friday afternoon and Saturday the recruiting office here was thronged almost continuously until a late hour last night. PROGRESS MADE FOR COMPROMISE ON PROHIBITION

By Associated Press. Washington, June 30.—Much progress toward a compromise on prohibition in the food control bill was made today by the Senate.

The Senate approved a substitute prohibition section following the lines of President Wilson's suggestion to prohibition leaders to drop the fight against the manufacture of beer and wine.

Senator Chamberlain drafted a tentative section which would stop manufacture of distilled beverages, only without giving the president any authority over malt and vinous beverages. This draft will be considered tomorrow at a special meeting of the Senate agricultural committee.

Administrators plan to eliminate the provision giving the president authority to commandeer existing stocks of distilled spirits. Senator Chamberlain said tonight it was not probable that the bill would be passed before the Fourth of July recess.

Whether it will supplement her action by a formal declaration of war is not clear. The bill would give the president authority to commandeer existing stocks of distilled spirits. Senator Chamberlain said tonight it was not probable that the bill would be passed before the Fourth of July recess.

NEW FEDERAL LAW MAKES 23 STATES AS DRY AS DESERT

PROHIBITION TERRITORY IN ELEVEN OTHER STATES IS MADE BONE DRY

LAW IS NOW EFFECTIVE

Advertisements of Liquors Cannot Now Go Through Mails Into Dry Territory

By Associated Press. Washington, June 30.—Twenty-three states will be bone dry after midnight tonight, the effective hour of the Reed amendment prohibiting shipment of liquor into any territory where its manufacture or sale is prohibited. Eleven other states are partially affected by the legislation which has been hailed by temperance advocates as the greatest single step toward abolition of the liquor traffic taken in the nation's history.

The law bars from prohibition areas, whether states or smaller corporations, all mail matter containing advertisements or solicitation for orders for intoxicants, a provision designed to aid in enforcing the anti-shipment feature by suppressing the activities of mail order houses in dry territories.

Justice and postoffice department officials have made extensive preparation for its enforcement. United States marshals and postal inspectors everywhere have been instructed to be on the look-out for violations. There are heavy penalties for violations.

The language of the anti-shipment section is very comprehensive, imposing a fine of $500 and imprisonment for six months or both on any person who shall order, purchase or cause intoxicating liquors to be transported in interstate commerce except for scientific, sacramental, medicinal or mechanical purposes in any state or territory. The laws of which state or territory prohibits the manufacture or sale thereof of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes.

The same penalties are prescribed for violators of the anti-advertising section. For a second offense going into effect tomorrow is made one year's imprisonment.

Following are the states wholly affected by the act: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Georgia, Idaho, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Dakota, South Carolina, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia, Washington and West Virginia.

Those partially affected are: California, Connecticut, Delaware, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio and Texas.

BRAZIL'S NAVY IS CO-OPERATING WITH AMERICAN

JOINS UNITED STATES IN HUNTING DOWN SEA RAIDERS AND WATCHING FOR SUBS.

By Associated Press. Washington, June 30.—Brazil's navy has begun co-operating with the American fleet in South American waters in hunting down German raiders and watching for German submarines.

Sending of a special diplomatic mission to Brazil to arrange a greater coordination of forces and the closest possible co-operation of the two governments is under consideration by the United States.

Without formal declaration of war Brazil thus practically joins the United States against Germany. Coincident with the inauguration of Brazil's naval operations a plan for protecting merchant ships in their voyages to allied ports has been put into effect.

Whether it will supplement her action by a formal declaration of war is not clear. The bill would give the president authority to commandeer existing stocks of distilled spirits. Senator Chamberlain said tonight it was not probable that the bill would be passed before the Fourth of July recess.

The percentage of the advance had not been determined upon a first conference. Five or three groups decided that a fifteen per cent advance was needed to enable them to meet new conditions. This, it was seriously estimated, would yield from three hundred to four hundred million annual revenue.

Meanwhile the shipping interests of the country met at Chicago and made plans to fight the increased cost of freight. The hearing of the bill was held in May, before the Interstate Commerce Commission, the National Shippers' Conference was represented by a number of shippers, chief among them Clifford Thorne, of Iowa an expert on rates and transportation.

The attitude of the shippers was to some extent divided. Some thought that the railroads should have the increase, while others favored some increase, and others contended that if the railroads were entitled to any rate increase at all, it was much less than the fifteen per cent they asked. The railroads contended that instead of being a fifteen per cent, advance, they were asking would result in a much smaller return. The "portion of shippers which opposed the increase most vigorously was headed by Mr. Thorne.

PROHIBITION GOES INTO EFFECT IN SOUTH DAKOTA

By Associated Press.
SIOUX FALLS, S. D., June 30.—With the closing of saloons throughout the state at 5 o'clock tonight, South Dakota for the second time entered the column of prohibition states of the nation. It is estimated that approximately 225 saloons, as well as numerous wholesale liquor houses and breweries suspended business.

Under a constitutional amendment adopted in the election of November 7, and with the subsequent enactment of legislation by the 1917 legislature for its enforcement at spring elections, the state tonight will enter upon an era of absolute prohibition. The South Dakota prohibition law, it is claimed, is probably the most drastic in the country.

The action of the electorate in adopting constitutional prohibition marked the second time in the state's history when statewide prohibition was adopted. In 1889, when South Dakota was admitted to the Union a prohibition clause was included in the constitution. However, seven years later the law was repealed, largely because law enforcement had turned sentiment against it. While the fundamental law of the state provided that should remain under a limited prohibition, a local option feature was introduced which permitted communities to vote on the question at spring elections and if a majority were returned in favor of license, saloons might operate for one year. Unless another election was held after wet elections and if a majority were returned in favor of license, saloons again became dry.

The attainment of statewide prohibition and a long campaign waged by dry forces and is the climax of a series of legislative steps which paved the way for the ultimate "bone-dry" measure.

In 1908 and again in 1910, county option was submitted to the voters and defeated both times. When the 3 o'clock closing law and additional measures regulating the liquor traffic or limiting some of its privileges were obtained, in 1914 the people defeated an initiative law of the liquor interests which would have reversed the constitutional law by permitting a town which voted "wet" to remain so until the "dry" forces brought about an election.

Five prohibition laws were passed by the 1913 legislature which curtailed to a great extent the sale of liquor in South Dakota. One limited the number of saloons to one for each 900 or major fraction of the population; a second created a dry zone of five miles around every municipality which enjoyed prohibition; a third forbade the sale of liquor to minors; another made it a misdemeanor for any intoxicated person to drive a motor vehicle, within the so-called freeholders law, defined the qualifications of freeholders who might petition for license election. The operation of these laws, it is said, drove 125 saloons out of business. Only in 1915, railroads operating in the state prohibited the sale of liquor on trains.

Under all these restrictive measures, statistics show a substantial growth in the prohibition movement. In 1913 there were 179 towns which licensed the sale of liquor. In 1914 this number decreased to 132, in 1915 to 97, and in 1916 to 73.

Steps to compel submission of the prohibition issue to the voters of the state were taken in 1914 by the Anti-Saloon League. Initiative petitions were circulated and 8,000 signatures were obtained in favor of the proposition. A bill to submit a constitutional amendment to the people was then brought before the 1915 legislature and passed. The amendment subsequently was adopted in the last election and a law passed by the legislature put the measure into effect. Provisions of the prohibition act make it unlawful to manufacture, sell, give away or import intoxicating liquors in the state under a penalty of a fine of from $250 to $1,000 and imprisonment in a county jail from 30 days to six months for the first offense. For a second offense and every succeeding offense the violator would be deemed guilty of a felony and liable to a sentence of not less than 90 days or more than two years in the state penitentiary. In case of a second offense the judge may, in his discretion, impose a fine not to exceed $3,000, in addition to imprisonment. Druggists convicted of illegal sale of liquor under the law, in addition to being subject to fine and imprisonment, would be deprived of their licenses.

The law prescribes that intoxicating liquors may be secured only for scientific, medical and sacramental purposes.

A state sheriff is designated to enforce the provisions of the act and power is granted to the governor to remove any state officers who fail to carry out its regulations.

How to Choose Your Drug Store

Select your drug store with the same care that you select your doctor. Trade at a drug store that pays more attention to making a customer than to making a sale.

Trade at the drug store where you can be sure that you are getting the most and the best for your money.

Trade at the drug store where you can "feel at home." Where you feel at liberty to make use of all the resources a real drug store peculiarly has for your help, convenience and accommodation.

IT IS THAT KIND OF A DRUG STORE WE TAKE PRIDE IN RUNNING.

The relations between a druggist and his customers are akin to those between a doctor and his patients. The moment a druggist forgets this fact, he ceases to be a real druggist. We want you to make use of all the advantages our Service holds out to you.

We are always ready to refund your money without question or quibble on any purchase you make here that is not perfectly satisfactory to you in every respect.

NORTH DAKOTA BECOMES BONE DRY TERRITORY

By Associated Press.
FARGO, N. D., June 30.—Through the joint operation of a state law and the state prohibition law, North Dakota will become "bone dry" after midnight tonight.

This state never has been "wet" legally although for many years the open saloon was countenanced. Within the past ten years, however, vigorous efforts to make prohibition effective have been made with considerable results. It was not the intention, however, of the last legislature which enacted the "bone dry" measure, to take such a firm stand against the importation of liquor. The effect is declared to be a fluke of legislation.

A bill was introduced in the lower house which was aimed at curbing "blind-pigging" in the state. When submitted to the senate the temperance committee of that body made two amendments, one designating the amount of liquor which might be kept for personal use, the other stipulating that registered pharmacists might import intoxicants for medicinal purposes. The bill as amended was accepted by the senate and sent to the lower house for concurrence.

In the hurry of passing the measure the amendment providing for liquor for personal use was omitted and the bill as finally passed and signed by the governor allowed importation for medicinal and sacramental purposes only. The error was not discovered until the bill had become a law.

ferences would be restored as soon as possible.

Shippers declared thousands of carloads of lumber and other commodities had been held up by the roads by shortage of rolling stock. They insisted they would be unable to ship a great number of orders before July 1, which they had contracted to sell at a price based on freight rates prevailing in January and February. The carriers of the South offered as a compromise to lumber dealers of that section, for the carriers, and a hundred pounds for freight from the Mississippi Valley and southeastern points to the Ohio river.

The railroads introduced masses of statistical data, showing in detail the immense increases in operating expenses. They contended that revenues would not increase in proportion to the added costs of transportation, and that in the new era of industrial prosperity the shippers could well afford to pay higher freight rates. Railroad credit, they declared, in some of the least stable systems might suffer unless the increases were granted. An organization of railway security holders, consisting of bankers and heads of insurance companies, urged the commission to grant an increase in order to stabilize securities.

The Shippers' Conference contended that the early months of 1917 showed a constant increase in operating revenue for the carriers, and insisted that they would receive reasonable earnings despite their heavy expenses. They also told the commission that railway securities were stronger than any other class except government and municipal bonds raised by taxation.

The railroads, they sought to show, have large surpluses on hand in cash, time deposits and interests in unaf-

PARTIAL ENFRANCHISEMENT NORTH DAKOTA WOMEN
Bismarck, N. D., June 30.—Partial enfranchisement of women in North Dakota will be effective at midnight tonight although there are indications that the legality of the law giving this right will be tested in the courts. The last session of the state legislature passed a bill which was the first big victory for the suffragists in the state. Governor Frazier, as one of the first official acts of his administration, signed the measure on January 23.

Immediately several organizations began a determined effort to defeat enforcement of the law. The North Dakota Referendum Association and the Anti-Suffragist Association circulated petitions for a referendum. Eleven thousand names were required to call such an election, and according to Secretary of State Hall, this number was not obtained. The "anti"-asseri, however, that a test case will be brought on once to prove the unconstitutionality of the act. They assert that a measure granting franchise must be submitted to the people before it can become operative. The law provides: "All women citizens of the United States of the age of 21 years and upwards, who shall have resided in the state one year and in the county six months and in the precinct 90 days, shall be allowed to vote for presidential electors, county supervisors, county constables and for all offices of cities, villages and towns except police magistrates and city justices of the peace, and upon all questions or propositions submitted to a vote of the electors of such municipalities as are provided in following township officers: township clerk, assessor, treasurer, overseer of highways and assessors. Separate ballot and ballot boxes must be provided for women."

ZUBARAN AND UERTA EXPELLED FROM PARTY
By Associated Press. Mexico City, June 30.—Rafael Zubaran, former Mexican minister to Germany and former representative of the constitutional government in Washington, now a leader of the Mexican senate and Jesus Uerta, were tonight expelled from the constitutionalists liberal party which has a majority in congress. The session was secret but it was announced that the reason was that the presence of these men within the ranks was detrimental to the party and was causing defection. Zubaran is widely known for his pro-German sympathies and Uerta as one of the leaders of the opposition to President Carranza.

MORE MEMBERS TO BE SOUGHT FOR THE RED CROSS

CAMPAIN WILL BE INAUGURATED THURSDAY—THOUSANDS OF MEMBERS WANTED

Now that Wichita Falls citizenship has done its part in the Liberty Loan, the Red Cross war fund, and in raising two companies of the Texas National Guard, another campaign will be opened on Thursday, July 1. This will be a Red Cross membership campaign, and recruits will be secured from the ranks of those who will not be permitted to serve their country on the battlefield, from those whose funds did not permit of subscription to the Liberty Loan from all men, women and children. The campaign will continue for three days and during that time it is hoped to increase the present membership of about 200, to many thousands, a representative number for the chapter in this thriving and progressive city.

As a usual rule when a Red Cross chapter is organized a membership campaign is put on immediately. But such were conditions under which the Wichita Falls chapter was organized and so had were supplies needed there has been no time for a membership campaign until the present.

Through the co-operation of the Civic League, the residence district will be divided into house to house canvases by the district chairman of the district, assisting the Red Cross executive committee and it is hoped that a large number of members will be secured in this manner. The membership fee will be $1, a large part of which will go to the National Red Cross. Jointly with the obligation for service on any member, the committee wishes it understood. The enrolling member simply pays his dollar fee and receives his button and he will feel that he has an active interest in the noble work the Red Cross is doing on the battlefields of France and Belgium and in the interest of suffering humanity everywhere. One glance at the Red Cross button will remind him that he is a member of that great army who are doing their share at home.

Plans for the campaign were made at a meeting of the executive committee of the local chapter with the district chairman of the Civic League, the meeting being called by Mrs. B. Smock, the League president. A second meeting will be held Tuesday to perfect the campaign methods.

WHEELER-DODGE WEDDING THURSDAY EVENING

Thursday evening at the Church of the Sacred Heart Miss Maude Wheeler, daughter of Mrs. W. C. Wheeler, was united in marriage to Ed C. Dodge, the Rev. Father Boniface officiating. The young people were accompanied by the bride's mother, as the bride's attendant. Following the marriage ceremony a wedding supper and informal reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. A number of friends attending to extend their congratulations to the popular young people. Mr. and Mrs. Dodge's wedding night for a wedding trip to include California and Colorado points. The bride wore a traveling suit of dark blue tailored fall model. Boots, shoes and all accessories were in ivory and her hat was a white milan. She carried bride's roses. Both young people are well known here, having lived in Wichita Falls since childhood and are very popular in their circle of friends. They will continue to make their home in Wichita Falls on return from their wedding tour. Dodge is in the employ of the Katy railroad here.

CIVIC LEAGUE AWARDS PRIZES FOR GARDENS

Awards of the $5 cash prizes in each district have been announced by the Civic League, for the young people's gardens. There were in several districts no competitors for the prize, but the committee, composed of a representative from the Chamber of Commerce, one from the Rotary Club and the president and secretary of the Civic League, was delighted to find so many excellent gardens all over the city, even though not entered for the prizes.

There will be no prizes given for fall gardens, but the league feels that the people are awake to the necessity of raising much food stuffs as possible and will be ready to plant fall gardens without any inducement save the food that is to be gained. With reasonable weather fall gardens can be made more productive than were the spring and summer gardens, and even with the little rainfall of this season the results with the gardens here in most cases have exceeded expectations. The Civic League and the other civic bodies are very much pleased with the response of Wichita Falls to the plea for greater home production.

The prize awards were for children and young people's gardens. In one district the garden of Master Cox was the first prize. The garden of Master Moran was so splendidly kept that a special second prize of $5 was given by the Chamber of Commerce. There had been no second prizes given but an exception was made in this case.

The prize winners follow: District No. 3, Nelson Cohen; No. 7, Walter Soleman; No. 8, Mina Everet; No. 9, Lisle Goodale; No. 10, Everet Blue; No. 11, Wright and Sewell Cox.

men. In order to fully test the matter before commencing to draft men into the service an opportunity was given to every man who preferred to volunteer rather than be drafted, and the result of that test is almost too pitiful to be published. All of which goes to prove beyond a question of doubt that President Wilson was better informed of that matter than were his critics. For this country had failed to adopt drafting or conscription it now seems almost certain that an attempt to raise an army of a million or more to go to Europe and fight the Germans would have proven a failure, or at least would have required more time and hard work than the best interests of the United States could possibly afford to spare in a great emergency like the present. Doubtless, if every man could have been made an officer, the volunteer system of raising an army would be successful, but it is impossible to make officers of all, and yet an officer if any army takes greater risks of being killed or injured than does a soldier in the ranks.

THE WEALTH THAT WAS THEIRS It would appear that Nicholas of Russia lost far more than a throne when he was deposed. ... The wealth that was theirs is estimated that the property "owned" by the former emperor and members of the royal family had a total value of $955,000,000. ... The latter was obtained by a former emperor by the liberation of 4,000,000 serfs—each of whom received an income, when deposed, of $5,000,000 a year beside the $5,000,000 allowed by the duma for household expenses.

Postmaster General Burleson, has issued an order to the effect that letters, post cards and printed matter originating in the United States or any of its possessions for transmission to the United States expeditionary forces in Europe are subject to the United States domestic classification, and the same applies to the same class of mail originating at points in Europe where the American troops are located for transmission to the United States, except as modified by the provisions covering letters in deposed "Soldier's letter," and more fully explained in Section 406 Postal Laws and Regulations, which reads: "The Postmaster General may provide, by regulation, for transmitting unpaid and duly certified letters of soldiers, sailors, and marines in the service of the United States to their destination, to be paid on delivery." Mail addressed to members of the expeditionary forces should bear the complete designation of the division, regiment, company and organization to which the addressee belongs, as well as the name and address of the sender, and be fully prepaid by postage stamps affixed on the upper right hand corner of the letter, card or printed matter. The senders of such mail should, under no circumstances, attempt to designate on the addressed mail the location of the unit. The correct manner of addressing such a letter is as follows:

COCCHI'S WIFE WAS RIGHTFULLY JEALOUS Bologna, Italy, June 27.—Police authorities investigating Alfredo Cocchi, slayer of Ruth Cruger, New York, have brought to light the following facts: When Cocchi left Italy for the United States he was in love with Maria Magrina, servant in the Cocchi family, according to the police. Shortly after his arrival in New York, Cocchi wrote her that business was good and promising to marry her immediately if she would come to the United States. The girl insisted on going to New York and was accompanied by a woman friend. A few weeks after her arrival, according to the police, Cocchi's wife wrote home, charging Cocchi with unfaithfulness. She reported that the husband of a woman with whom he had been going had had Cocchi arrested, but that the man later obtained Cocchi's release when he gave a promise to reform. Cocchi was upbraided by his relatives and those of his wife for failure to reform. He wrote home a confession of his wrong-doings, but urged his people to endeavor to induce his wife to be less jealous of him. He even suggested that they come to the United States and endeavor to restore peace in his family. When Cocchi returned recently to Bologna, the police say, his relatives were surprised and even shocked, in reply to questions Cocchi said he had left New York because of the jealousy of his wife, and also that he desired to join the colors. Shortly afterward a letter arrived from Cocchi's wife in which she is said to have asserted that Cocchi had eloped with a girl 15 years old, after taking $15 from Mrs. Cocchi. Cocchi denied the allegation, asserting that the charge was due to the "usual imagination" of his wife. He told about Miss Cruger going to his shop to have her skates sharpened. When further particulars arrived from the United States Cocchi wept, declaring he was a victim of persecution. He did not contest, however, that the husband of a woman with whom he had been going had had Cocchi arrested, but that the man later obtained Cocchi's release when he gave a promise to reform. Shortly afterward a letter arrived from Cocchi's wife in which she is said to have asserted that Cocchi had eloped with a girl 15 years old, after taking $15 from Mrs. Cocchi. Cocchi denied the allegation, asserting that the charge was due to the "usual imagination" of his wife. He told about Miss Cruger going to his shop to have her skates sharpened. When further particulars arrived from the United States Cocchi wept, declaring he was a victim of persecution. He did not contest, however, that the husband of a woman with whom he had been going had had Cocchi arrested, but that the man later obtained Cocchi's release when he gave a promise to reform. Cocchi was upbraided by his relatives and those of his wife for failure to reform. He wrote home a confession of his wrong-doings, but urged his people to endeavor to induce his wife to be less jealous of him. Abilene landed the West Texas A. & M. College. The legislature has appropriated the sum of $500,000 for the construction of the necessary buildings. Abilene is to be congratulated on her good fortune.

Here's hoping that when the State University opens it will be completely divorced from politics and politicians of every brand. There is no other way of bringing this about than by the complete destruction of Governor Ferguson's political hopes and aspirations. This newspaper is perfectly willing that the sacrifice shall not be delayed any longer than possible.

Will Hoge, a son of the late ex-Governor Hogg, who was by far the best governor Texas has had in the past thirty years, is being urged to make the race for governor next year. Not a great deal is known of the son except that he is a graduate of the State University and looked upon generally as its chief champion. In his present difficulties, he is wealthy, reputed to be worth a million dollars, which wealth was accumulated largely through speculations in oil. There will, in all probability, be as many as a half dozen aspirants for the gubernatorial nomination next year. Charlie Morris and Earl B. Mayfield being among the number.

What's the matter with the red-blooded young fighting men of Texas? asks the Wise County Messenger. We don't know. Have not been able to figure it out. In 1898 when volunteers were called for the Spanish-American war in less than five days there were more volunteers than could be accepted, and then the pay of a soldier was only about half what it is now. It surely can't be a lack of patriotism, but if so, then what is it?

The Times cannot figure it out, and must therefore pass it up to some one who may think he has the correct solution.

HOW TO ADDRESS SOLDIERS IN EUROPE.
 Postmaster General Burleson has issued an order to the effect that letters, post cards and printed matter originating in the United States or any of its possessions for transmission to the United States expeditionary forces in Europe are subject to the United States domestic classification, and the same applies to the same class of mail originating at points in Europe where the American troops are located for transmission to the United States, except as modified by the provisions covering letters indorsed "Soldier's letter," and more fully explained in Section 406 Postal Laws and Regulations, which reads: "The Postmaster General may provide, by regulation, for transmitting unpaid and duly certified letters of soldiers, sailors, and marines in the service of the United States to their destination, to be paid on delivery." Mail addressed to members of the expeditionary forces should bear the complete designation of the division, regiment, company and organization to which the addressee belongs, as well as the name and address of the sender, and be fully prepaid by postage stamps affixed on the upper right hand corner of the letter, card or printed matter. The sender of such mail should, under no circumstances, attempt to designate on the addressed mail the location of the unit. The correct manner of addressing such a letter is as follows:

(Stamp)
 Return to
 Mrs. John Smith
 Blank Street,
 Wichita Falls, Tex.
 JOHN SMITH, JR.
 Co. X—Infantry
 American Expeditionary Forces

The above will be all the address necessary, and postmasters through out the United States will forward all such addressed mail to New York, where it will receive proper attention and go forward to Bordeaux, France, or some other foreign port where it would be more convenient to deliver to the addressee.

Before the conscription or drafting act was adopted there were statesmen who never tired of making the assertion that an American army of a million or more could be raised within a week by the volunteer system.

In order to fully test the matter before commencing to draft men into the service an opportunity was given to every man who preferred to volunteer rather than be drafted, and the result of that test is almost too pitiful to be published. All of which goes to prove beyond a question of doubt that President Wilson was better informed on that matter than were his critics. If this country had failed to adopt drafting or conscription it now seems almost certain that an attempt to raise an army of a million or more to go to Europe and fight the Germans would have proven a failure, or at least would have required more time and hard work than the best interests of the United States could possibly afford to spare in a great emergency like the present. Doubtless, if every man could have been made an officer, the volunteer system of raising an army would be successful, but it is impossible to make officers of all, and yet an officer in any army takes greater risks of being killed or injured than does a soldier in the ranks.

THE WEALTH THAT WAS THEIRS
 It would appear that Nicholas of Russia lost far more than a throne when he was deposed. He has lost an estate of a value of $700,000,000 from which he enjoyed the income. Now a special commission has been appointed to consider whether other estates of a value of $48,000,000 and owned by him in fee shall be sequestered. At the same time it will be decided whether the estates of the grand dukes and duchesses amounting to $210,000,000 shall be taken from them. It is estimated that the property "owned" by the former emperor and members of the royal family had a total value of $958,000,000. In addition to this the emperor is said still to have on deposit in the Bank of England $25,000,000. There are also two trust funds, one of $7,500,000 which is within reach of the revolutionary government, and the other of $24,000,000. The latter was obtained by a former emperor by the liberation of 4,000,000 serfs for which he received $6 each. Nicholas had an income, when deposed, of $5,000,000 a year beside the $5,000,000 allowed him by the duma for household expenses. And Russia was the poorest nation in the world with more hungry people and more starving children. If this war shall accomplish nothing but the bringing of liberty to such a country, it will have been worth all the treasure and all the blood that has been poured out.—Houston Post.

TO KILLED, MANY HURT IN STEAMER ACCIDENT
SHIP CRASHED INTO DOCK AT MILWAUKEE PRECIPITATING TANK ONTO DECK
 Associated Press
 Milwaukee, Wis., June 30.—Eleven persons were killed and at least thirty others were injured here today this afternoon when the whaler steamer, Christopher Columbus, in swinging away for Chicago, crashed into the Milwaukee river, causing a water tank to fall from the top of the five story Yahr and Lang warehouse onto the deck of the vessel. The water tank tore through the bridge pilot house, two decks and slid into the river. Cecil Nett 49 Billings Okla. Eva Kasman, 24, Chicago. Officers could give no explanation of the tragedy beyond saying that James Brodie was at the wheel at the time of the accident and that the ship failed apparently, to respond promptly enough to his efforts. The impact of the vessel at the dock knocked the 50 ton water tank and it crashed down on top of the steamer, crashing the pilot house and three lower decks into kindling wood. There were said to be approximately 400 passengers on the whalerback. As fast as bodies of the dead could be recovered they were taken to the morgue. Every ambulance in the city was called into service and the injured are scattered in hospitals throughout the city. Some of the dead are said to be named beyond identification. One limb of a human being was taken out of the river near the scene of the accident. The thick forest which makes the district round about the station one of the most beautiful in America hides, for the time being, a treacherous hole in the forest which makes the hills in fine order, then made an orderly retreat after the objectives had been gained. Adding to the reality of the games are sentries patrolling the lake shore, armed with signal flags and spy glasses in addition to appliances for taking care of any hostile visitor. In times past, these apprentice seamen, keeping watch on an inland shore, have given fire aid to like steamers which hoisted distress flags. "Target practice is a prime necessity in the training of a sailor and the bluffs make a fine natural range. Self-registering targets, operated by electricity, are mounted on shore the hits made on the bulls eye out in the water. While the government has been building it has not forgotten that other sailors of the men who answer the call to the colors are still youths. Recreation of every clean and healthful kind is encouraged. Besides the main deck there is a fully equipped atrium, where the sailors produce and act anything from a three-act farce to a five-act drama which is at times served as a concert hall next is available as a dancing pavilion, and on Sundays is commended by the chaplains for religious services. Marine decorations of various colored signal flags enliven the place. Bowling alleys, billiard rooms and a library also are open to the men. It is perhaps in the mess hall of the station that the visitors see the station at its best. While he may have been impressed by the sports, barracks, or the orderly streets, it is the mess which shows the overflow population since the station has grown overnight from 1500 to 9000 men. It is the task of providing sustenance, three

REVENTLOW DISCUSSES AUSTRIAN SITUATION
 Associated Press
 Amherst, Mass., June 30.—Discussing the future of a large American loan to Austria-Hungary and a separate peace Count Von Reventlow writes in the Tageszeitung of Berlin: "What lively communication and very active cooperation exists today between the Polish element in the United States and Europe is well known. Neither is it chance that just as the Poles and Slavs in Austria have effected the fall of the Clemens cabinet, rumors of a separate peace offer and negotiations appear."

MAKE-BELIEVE IS BEING PLAYED AT GREAT LAKES CAMP

A PICTURE OF LIFE AT NAVAL STATION WHERE 9,000 YOUTHS ARE TRAINING
 Great Lakes, Ill., June 30.—It's a great game they play out here at the United States Naval Training Station. A glorified sort of "let's make believe" of childhood days, with the difference that in this case the entire proceeding is already earnest and fraught with tremendous possibilities to a nation. For players there are 9,000 men and for toys they have all the devices of modern sea-warfare—guns, boats, a radio station. The hundreds of acres in the reservation are the ship and reveille is at two bells instead of 6 o'clock. "Not many of the men are around today, all of them have gone ashore," said an officer recently to a visitor inspecting the station. "Ashore?" was the gasping reply. For miles around there was nothing in sight but prairie. "On leave, that is," was the explanation. "When they leave the station, they go ashore, for we are living under the same conditions as if we were at sea." Life in the station provides the recruit everything he would get at sea except sea-sickness. He scrubs his barracks or deck floor under a deck, but he calls it "scrubbing deck." And the time-honored salt-water custom which decrees that the bluejackets must be his own laundress prevails on this aquatic island warship. Every day is a busy day, but the men thrive on it. One of them outlined a typical 24 hours of routine as follows:
 5 a. m.—Reveille.
 5:15 a. m.—Fall in for setting up exercises and bath.
 6:30 a. m.—Toss up quarters, scrub "decks," roll up tent to let in sun and air and place out on outside after rolling up bedding.
 6:30—Mess, which is "navy" for any meal.
 8 a. m.—Drill until 11 p. m.
 Noon—Mess.
 1 p. m.—Drill until 3 p. m.
 2 p. m.—Three hours of recreation, study and washing clothes.
 6 p. m.—Mess.
 8:30 p. m.—Muster in for inspection, after which there is two hours for recreation or study.
 8:30 p. m.—Signal for all to be in tent.
 8:45 p. m.—Final gun, all quiet on board.
 9 p. m.—Taps.
 Such an arbitrary outline, however, necessarily varies from day to day and fails to include many of the most interesting features of the life of a recruit in the American navy. The station which must be performed, the sailor manages to sandwich minutes that keep his dunnage bag in ship-shape, make him to quite real reality in a proper state of mind to appreciate the heaping plates of substantial and thoroughly cooked food before which 3000 men stand at one time until the officer in command gives the word to "fall to." There is ice cream or a brilliant-hued piece of watermelon to top off the repast, which no visitor ever has been able to remain through watching the gustatory satisfaction in which he has not part. Unfortunately, dinner is not served for persons "from ashore."

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR AMERICAN BUSINESS MEN
 Associated Press Mail Correspondence
 Rome.—Talk, words, won't help Germany in either a military sense or in a commercial sense after the war," said Edouard Herriot, Senator of France, war Mayor of Lyons, member of the French Economic Council and a delegate here to the International Commercial Conference.
 "So far as concerns France and the United States, I want to see the business men of the two nations get together and talk over the business in a big way. I have been invited to the United States and may go there in August or September. I have never been to America, but I want to meet people and understand the country better. In the Lyons Fair which we have now held for two years and which will again hold next March, there will be an special branch for business men."

HOTELS AND RESTAURANTS ARE CONSERVING BREAD
 (Kansas City Star.)
 Urged to a degree of economy never before practiced, Kansas City hotels and restaurants today are setting an example in bread conservation that might well be followed in private households.
 In fact, a thorough investigation yields convincing evidence that if 15-cent bread is finding its way to the garbage can, it is through the carelessness of private homes. The crust of the bread, said by physicians to be a loaf's most wholesome part, is too much for delicate tastes.
 Few restaurants and cafes, it is true, serve "heels" of the bread of their tables. But bread puddings, meat dressings and numerous uses for "cracker crumbs" are being provided a place for great quantities of bread ends, stale bread and unused loaves that otherwise might be wasted. So large is the demand for this sort of bread that many of the city's bakeries have to buy stale bread from other sources of supply when their own supplies run low.
 The housewife who throws old bread into the garbage can and at the same time expresses a desire to serve "something new" to her family, evidently is unconquainted with the wise uses that may be made of bread. Her surplus would be increased if she could go into the kitchen of well regulated restaurants and see the process of soaking stale bread into a batter for

COCCHI'S WIFE WAS RIGHTFULLY JEALOUS

Bologna, Italy, June 27.—Police authorities investigating Alfredo Cocchi, slayer of Ruth Cruzer, New York, have brought to light the following facts:
 When Cocchi left Italy for the United States he was in love with Maria Magrina, servant in the Cocchi family, according to the police. Shortly after his arrival in New York, Cocchi wrote her that business was good and promising to marry her immediately if she would come to the United States.
 The girl insisted on going to New York and was accompanied by a woman friend. A few weeks after her arrival, according to the police, Cocchi's wife wrote home, charging Cocchi with unfaithfulness. She reported that the husband of a woman with whom he had been going had, and Cocchi arrested, but that the man later obtained Cocchi's release when he gave a promise to reform.
 Cocchi was upbraided by his relatives because of his wife's failure to reform. He wrote home a confession of his wrong-doings, but urged his people to endeavor to induce his wife to be less jealous of him. He even suggested that they come to the United States and endeavor to restore peace in his family.
 When Cocchi returned recently to Bologna, the police say, his relatives were surprised and even fearful that something serious had occurred. In reply to questions Cocchi said he had left New York because of the jealousy of his wife, and also that he desired to join the colors. Shortly afterward a letter arrived from Cocchi's wife in which she stated that she was a victim of persecution. Cocchi must have struck some vital spot, because he suddenly discovered that she was dead. He carried the body into the cellar and buried it in a hole that had been used to store gasoline.

GENERAL HULEN ISSUES WARNING TO EMPLOYERS

Associated Press
 Houston, Texas, June 30.—Warning was given Texas employers today by Brigadier General John A. Hulen of the Texas National Guard, that any attempts to persuade workmen not to enlist would meet with prompt attention. The warning was given after reports had reached general Hulen that employers of large numbers of workmen were promising their workmen exemption from draft. "A messenger from Provost Marshal General Crowder says no person has authority to promise exemption to draft eligibles and that no class exemptions have been provided.
 "If you are going to build a house or garage, why not build it to be everlasting? Interlocking tile and stucco houses are given up to be coming houses, on account of their durability and their beauty. No dust, less heat in summer, more warmth in winter, no painting, no repairs, and fire-proof.
 "I have just completed three houses of these materials in Wichita Falls, and they are open for inspection.
 "See George H. Kersting, designer and builder of these artistic houses at 1006 North Commercial. Office hours 7 to 5 p. m. Phone 2236."

MINISTER EAGAN FILES PROTEST WITH DENMARK

By Associated Press.
London, June 30.—Reliable information reached London today to the effect that Maurice Eagan, American minister at Copenhagen has delivered a protest to the Danish foreign office against anti-American utterances of M. Stauning, socialist member of the Danish cabinet at the Stockholm peace conference.

Little information in regard to Stauning's reference to the United States has reached this country. In an interview published in the Tageblatt of Berlin he was quoted as having said the United States was vainly publishing its peace aims and that its war was a war of capitalism, regarding peace instead of hastening it.

Before You Buy a Battery

—learn why USL Storage Batteries are selling four times greater than last year.

When we announced that we had the agency for USL Batteries with Machine-Pasted Plates, most of our friends already were equipped, but since then, as fast as other batteries went wrong and stayed wrong, we've had the time of our lives getting enough batteries from the USL plant to meet the demand.

Now they've increased their plant, they tell us, and we can get all the USL Batteries we want for all kinds of cars.

We've never known a USL Battery to lose out in any kind of a test—it's simply walking away on its merits.

Before you buy another battery let us tell you our little USL story—it will save you dollars.

We sell all sizes for all cars.

MAYO PRAISES NAVY'S SHOOTING RECRUITS LEARN TO HANDLE GUNS

NAVAL 'ROOKIES' LEARNING HOW TO USE RAPID FIRE GUN

While the men in the destroyer squadron in British waters tell in letters home of their experiences in actual warfare, no efforts are spared with the newer recruits for the navy to fit them for the work of war. Admiral Mayo, commander of the Atlantic fleet reported, recently to Secretary Daniels that he was pleased with the ships' target practice records. The picture shows some of the "rookies" being instructed by an officer in the handling of the rapid fire guns.

WAR TAX BILL REVISED BY SENATE COMMITTEE

SENTIMENT FAVORS WILSON'S SUGGESTION FOR DROPPING FIGHT ON WINES

By Associated Press. Washington, June 30.—Revision of the $1,800,000,000 war tax bill passed by the House five weeks ago was completed today by the Senate finance committee. The measure virtually was rewritten and reduced to $1,652,170,000 with no authorization of additional bonds. The final draft was sent to the printers tonight and will be given formal approval Monday and reported to the Senate by Chairman Simmons early next week.

Incomes and excess profits will be about two-thirds of the new tax burden under the revised bill, about a half billion dollars each, with a large share of the remainder secured from liquors and tobacco. Many House taxes were entirely eliminated by the committee and others added.

Radical increase of taxes on war excess profits and individuals decided upon today enabled the committee to displace the suggestion made of additional bond issues of from $500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000. As finally drafted the much debated publisher's tax proposes a 5 per cent tax on publishers' profits over $4,000, yielding $7,500,000 revenue, and an increase of 1 cent a pound in second class postage rates yielding $3,000,000.

Old Standard Finance taxes would be virtually reimposed under the bill, the committee adding a new tax of one cent each on bank checks over $5.

PROMISES PRICE OF BREAD WILL BE KEPT DOWN

By Associated Press. London, June 30.—In a speech today at Dundee, Premier Lloyd George said that if necessary the government would resort to the exchequer in order that the price of bread should be within the compass of the bulk of the people.

Judge W. N. Bonner who left Friday night for Vernon and Medicine Park is expected to return early this week to pass sentence on a number of prisoners convicted last week. It is very persistently rumored around the court house that Judge Bonner himself will receive a life sentence before he returns to Wichita Falls. He is known to be planning a trip to Boston after his return here and it is generally believed that he will not make the trip alone.

ONLY 45 ERRORS IN THIS BASEBALL GAME

Washington, June 30.—In the presence of President Wilson, members of the cabinet and other high officials, the House of Representatives democratic baseball team today defeated the republican team 22 to 21 in a benefit baseball game for the Red Cross. The game lasted three hours and 23 minutes and netted about $3,000 in cash and many thousands of laughs. Only 45 errors were made by the two teams leaving the old record of 56 undisturbed, but leaders of both sides pointed out that not a ball was caught by an outfielder on either team a showing never duplicated in any House baseball contest.

ELECTRICIAN SURVIVES HIGH VOLTAGE SHOCK

From the New York Herald. Ezra Hull of West Orange, an electrician in the power house of the public service corporation, tumbled a wire carrying 13,200 volts recently and fell over unconscious. When an ambulance arrived his body was black and the ambulance surgeon said he had been killed instantly.

The ambulance was backing into the garage when one of Hull's feet suddenly kicked the wire in the back. The sheet was pulled off the stretcher and Hull, rubbing his eyes, demanded: "What hell's the matter here?" "Fall asleep ahead," shouted the surgeon to the ambulance driver. The vehicle left the morgue in the distance, crossed the Lackawanna Railroad at furious speed. Just in time to miss an express, and reached the hospital with Hull sitting up and asking if the kidnapers thought he was Charles Ross.

He was induced to become a patient, with the assurance that he soon would recover.

GERMANS DRIVEN UNDER GROUND SAYS PREMIER

By Associated Press. Dundee, June 30.—"We have driven the great army of Germany under ground," said Premier Lloyd George in a speech here today. "When a great army is driven to these tactics it is the beginning of the end; it means that we are pushing a wedge of inferiority into every pore of the German military mind."

"It is good for the war, it is even better after the war. As long as the Prussians have an idea of superiority in their minds Europe will not be a decent place for people to live in peace. It will be easier after this. The Prussians," said Lloyd George, "have many virtues but a sense of humility has never been known among them."

Lloyd George said that if necessary the government would resort to the exchequer in order that the price of bread should be within the compass of the bulk of the people.

TRANS-ATLANTIC LINE OF AIRPLANES FORECAST

Associated Press Mail Correspondence. London.—A trans-Atlantic line of airplanes carrying passengers between New York and London in two days, at a total cost of about $1 a mile was predicted by G. Holt Thomas in an address which he delivered before the Aeronautical Society of Great Britain. To complete the rosy forecast, prophetic flights were depicted showing the departure and voyage of a transatlantic airplane and also the dropping of mail pouches at postal air stations between London and the North of England.

Mr. Thomas, who has had large experience in flying and building aircraft, said that airplanes of this class could be established commercially. "A special aeroplane will enable the business man to leave London in the morning, transmit his business in Paris, and be home to dinner again," he said. "It will take him to Baghdad in a day and a half or New York in two days. The cost from London to Paris, he added, would be just over a dollar, the mile running one machine each way and with four machines it would work out at 75 cents. A profitable charge for passengers would be $20 dollars. A mail letter of one ounce could be profitably carried for one cent and three pound parcels for 75 cents. A passenger could go from London to Marseilles in eight hours instead of twenty-three, at a cost of 50¢ or mails could be carried for two cents an ounce."

Constantinople could be reached in twenty hours for $125 a passenger and mails at five cents an ounce. Dealing with further details of his service, he said as being only two and three-quarter days from London, Tokyo four and a half days, Sydney, five days, and Cape Town three and a half days and Vancouver three days.

Lord Cowdrey, the chairman of the meeting said he believed Mr. Thomas' estimate of costs to be near the mark and that it would not exceed a dollar per mile. In his opinion commercial flying was bound to come and come quickly and would be a great benefit to the government in order to regulate supplies and prices to retailers and to conserve a full supply for the army. The consumer is likely to be rationed in the near future as all stocks in the country have been taken over by the controller.

There are now seven controllers: of Shipping, Drink, Food, Coal, Mines, Railways, Potatoes and Tobacco.

LACK OF SODA HINDERS SWEDISH GLASS INDUSTRY

Stockholm.—Lack of raw materials, principally soda, already has compelled Swedish glass manufacturers to restrict production, and it is feared that it will have to cease altogether in two or three months more unless import conditions change. The Swedish glass industry, which is considerably more than 200 years old, is one of the country's most important industries, employing nearly 6,000 persons and having an annual output around $3,500,000 of which more than one third is exported.

REGISTRATION UP TO THE ESTIMATE DIRECTOR SAYS

Washington, D. C., June 29.—Director Sam L. Rogers, of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce, has authorized the following announcement:

Returns from every state in the Union, with Niagara county, N. Y., and three precincts in Wyoming missing, show a total registration of 9,659,382, or 96.9 per cent of the Census Bureau estimate, allowance being made for the missing territory. The apparent shortage, about 415,000, is considerably less than the number of men 21 to 30 years of age, inclusive, who are estimated by the War Department to have been in the various branches of the military and the requirement of registration. This number is 600,000. On the face of these figures therefore it appears that the number of men between the ages of 21 and 31 in the United States is slightly in excess of the number estimated by the Census Bureau on May 12—10,079,000.

Of the 9,659,382 registrants reported, 7,347,794 are white citizens; 953,899 are colored citizens; 1,239,865 are un-naturalized foreigners from countries other than Germany; 111,823 are un-naturalized Germans, including "de-clarants," that is, persons having de-clared their intention to become citizens but not having received their final naturalization papers; and 6,001 are Indians. The registrars were in-structed by the War Department to include with white citizens all de-clarants from countries with which the United States was not at war, but a comparison of the registration figures with the reports of the Census Bureau and the bureau of immigration and naturalization indicates that most of the declarants registered as aliens.

There is nothing in the returns to indicate that there has been any general attempt at evasion of registration by any important element of the population. In a few states the registration was far below the estimates; but this shortage was offset by registration in excess of the estimates in other states. This is because the last Federal Cen-sus was taken in 1910 and only a few states have enumerated their inhab-itants since that year. So that the Cen-sus Bureau had few reliable data as to the abnormal shiftings of population which have taken place between cer-tain parts of the country in recent years, and particularly since the out-break of the war gave so great an im-petus to the manufacture of munitions and other commodities needed by the belligerents. The manufacturing indus-tries thus affected are located mainly in the northeastern states, and as a result the population of these states has increased with abnormal rapidity at the expense of other parts of the country. Furthermore, the increases and decreases have been very largely in the very class covered by the regis-tration—that is, men between the ages of 21 and 31.

It was expected, therefore, that for certain states the estimates—which, in the absence of definite information as to the extent of the abnormal move-ment of population, and particularly of the male population between the ages of 21 and 31, just referred to, were necessarily based on the assumption that the increase in population which took place in each state between 1900 and 1910 has continued since the lat-ter year and that the proportion of males between 21 and 31 years of age has remained unchanged—would be wide of the mark.

The most pronounced discrepancies appear for Washington, in which the registration amounted to 49.8 per cent of the estimate; for Oregon, in which it was 57.5 per cent; for North Dakota, with 75 per cent; for Wyoming, for which the report with three precincts missing, indicates a registration of about 65 per cent of the estimate; for Nevada, with 71.6 per cent and for South Dakota, with 71.1 per cent. In no other state was the registration less than 75 per cent of the estimate. On the other hand, 14 states—Arizona, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indi-ana, Iowa, Massachusetts, Michigan, Montana, New Hampshire, New Jer-sey, North Carolina, Ohio, and Wis-consin—exceeded their estimates, the greatest percentage of excess being those for Michigan, 29.4; Connecticut, 29.3; Montana, 29.4; and Ohio, 14.4.

It is probable that the population of certain states—particularly Washing-ton and Oregon—has not declined to so great an extent as would be in-dicated by the registration figures, since a very considerable proportion of the persons migrating from them has con-sisted of young men between the ages of 21 and 31.

The original census estimates are smaller for some states than those which have been used by the War de-partment. This is because in the com-pilation of the War Department esti-mates, which were originally prepared for use in apportioning supplies of registration cards to each county sheriff, throughout the country liberal additions were made to the official census estimates for places—especially those in which munitions plants are lo-cated—that were believed to have grown at abnormal rates during recent years, whereas no corresponding ad-ditions could be made for the localities from which these abnormal rates of population were drawn. This did not particularly matter, since the main object in view was to insure the sending of an adequate supply of reg-istration cards to each county sheriff, but when the city and county figures were totaled the result was an aggregation of the estimates for the United States as a whole and for certain of the states.

The following table shows, by states, the total registration, the number of un-naturalized Germans, including those who have declared their inten-tion to become citizens, and the per-centage which the total represents of the census estimates.

O'CONNOR HEADS IRISH COMING HERE TO TELL HOW IRELAND STANDS

It was announced in Washington that T. P. O'Connor, one of the leaders of the Irish Nationalist party, would soon arrive in this country on an important mission, and it was be-lieved that he headed a delegation composed of members of the Irish Parliamentary party, which intends, it is understood, to make known to the people of America the status of the extremely complicated Irish question. Announcement had already been made that leaders of the Sinn Fein party would demand passports from the British government for three of their members, who would proceed to the United States to oppose the objects of the mission of the Irish Parliamentary party.

It was suggested in Washington that one of the objects of the British gov-ernment in sending Lord Northcliffe to the United States may have been to lay the Irish situation before Pres-ident Wilson, as Prime Minister Lloyd George and his associates in the gov-erning council want it understood by the United States government.

NO BALM IN GILEAD FOR OKLAHOMA THIRSTY
(Grandfield Enterprise.)
As the Oklahoma "Bone Dry" law went into effect at midnight on the 14th, what booze was on hand in any express office after that hour was returned to shipper on the next reg- ular train. This order was from the headquarters of all express and rail- way companies, and from this station the morning after were sent 240 bot- tles of beer and 28 quarts of whiskey. Many were the hearts that were weary Saturday night stamping around on the dry, dusty ground, but to no pur- pose for there was no Balm in Gilead for the thirsty ones, although some have an abiding faith in the referen- dum vote and claiming that this por- tion of Oklahoma will be made wet again.

The Miller Carburetor

The MILLER carburetor is entirely automatic in its action, and under all conditions will give a uniform and perfect mixture at any engine speed. There are absolutely no adjustments to be made, and no springs or complicated parts to get out of working order.

ADVANTAGES
A multiple jet carburetor, automatic in its action, without springs or adjustments. Air and gasoline always in true proportion insures a perfect mixture at all engine speeds, and means:

FLEXIBILITY, POWER, ECONOMY, EASY STARTING, INSTANT ACCELERATION, CHOKING OR LOADING IMPOSSIBLE.

A MILLER carburetor's good accident insurance on any car; a large percentage of the collisions, in which automobiles figure, with street cars, trains etc., are due to the fact that the motor is staled when the throttle is thrown open too quickly by a confused operator. With our design this cannot happen; instant acceleration is certain, no matter how suddenly the throttle is opened.

The MILLER carburetor adapts itself to all varying fuel conditions of temperature and viscosity. The plunger weight actuated by the suction automatically holds the sieve in a position where it supplies the correct proportions of air and gasoline at all times.

The MILLER carburetor is light in weight and very compact, making it easy to install. With the heavy fuel attachment, the carburetor will handle all grades of heavy fuel without any change, making it ideal for commercial use.

GUARANTEE
Our carburetors are sold under a positive guar-antee covering material and workmanship. Any defective parts will be replaced by return- ing to the Factory.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. There was a splendid attendance.

Satisfaction in Glasses

is a relative term and many wearers never know the full degree of comfort to be desired from correctly fitted eyeglasses or spectacles.

Unless your glasses are wholly comfortable, giving you perfect vision, they are not optically correct and the error should be remedied at once.

Our Optometrist uses every scientific method of value to determine your defects of vision. Then we use every precaution to see that you are fitted with glasses that conform exactly to his prescription.

ONE FIRM BUYS THIRTY RIFLES TO KILL RABBITS

Curlee and Nussbaum last week bought one order of thirty 22 rifles from Wilfong and Woods. They are neither organizing an insurrection or a company to go to Europe. They are organizing the farmers on the Dale ranch in unrelenting warfare against jack rabbits.

This pest annually causes the loss of thousands of dollars worth of crops on the ranch. Despite the fact that hundreds were destroyed in his drives last winter, they appear as thick as ever this summer. Messrs. Curlee and Nussbaum, agents for the owners of the ranch, are now providing every farmer with rifles and ammunition and the farmers carry these guns on their plows and shoot at every rabbit they see. A bonus has been offered for every rabbit killed.

WATER SCARCITY SERIOUSLY CHECKS OIL OPERATIONS

IN BOTH ELECTRA AND BURK-BURNETT FIELDS MANY RIGS ARE NOT RUNNING

There is very little doing in Electra oil fields, so many wells being shut down on account of water scarcity. Only three completions were reported last week, two being small wells and the other a dry hole. The Southland Oil Co. got a 20-barrel well with its Granger No. 1 at 1944 feet. Prince and others completed Zient No. 1 at 1106 feet, the well being 10 or 15 barrels with 14 feet of oil.

Producers Oil Co. No. 132 Waggoner was abandoned at 2000 feet, a disaster. In the Colleton district there was only one completion and that a dry one. The Production Co. Hurston-Burnett No. 1 having been abandoned at 2942.

Interesting developments are looked for within the next few days, however, as Morrissey and Jones, Burnett No. 1 is in a sand at 1500 feet, that, from appearances indicate a paying well. The 6600 Oil Company also encountered the sand on its Burnett No. 1 at 1411 feet, which has been penetrated nine feet and the casing is now being set to ball. C. B. Foreman's Burnett No. 1 passed up the sand found at 1652 feet and is now drilling 25 feet deeper.

In Archer county south of Holliday, the 64 Oil Co. Wilson No. 2 has finally been abandoned at 1679 feet, a dry hole. The Developers Oil Co. has finally decided to drill another well east of Panther wells, and has started No. 2 and is now drilling at 300 feet.

The Dallas-Wichita Oil Company formerly the Horseshoe Bend Oil Co. north of Dundee is drilling at 600 feet. The Inspiration Oil and Gas Company has started its No. 1 Hatfield and is now drilling at 290 feet. Foreman and Hochstetter has built a rig for Burnett No. 1.

In the Burk Burnett pool the Brown and Jones Heiseran reported as a 20-barrel last week at 1500 feet was drilled deeper to the 1630 foot sand and is now flowing 100 barrels natural.

NAVY TAKING NO MORE SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD RECRUITS

Beginning today no more recruits of seventeen years of age and under will be accepted for the navy. The Wichita Falls naval recruiting station received instructions yesterday to stop recruiting youths under eighteen.

A fairly good record in recruiting was made last week. Twenty-eight were accepted. Those accepted include the following: B. E. Smith of Swearingin, Fred Gordon Taylor of Wichita Falls, Roy Hutchinson of Archer City, Robert Ray Storgan of Wichita Falls, Roy Bates of Ryan, Okla., Earl E. Owens of Laverne, Okla., Thomas C. Sibella of Swearingin, William W. Madden of Swearingin, Walter Parr of Carter, Okla., James Strain of Wichita Falls, Hiram Stroud of Thornberry, Andrew Montgomery of Knox City.

JURY ANSWERS SPECIAL ISSUES IN BLAGG CASE

FINDING APPARENTLY FAVORS THE PLAINTIFF BUT COURT NOT ANNOUNCED FINDING

The jury in the Seventy-Eighth District Court, Swearingin, returned answers to the special issues in the J. C. Blagg vs. W. A. Blagg et al case in which the plaintiff was suing for an estate left by his father in 1854. While Judge Scurry has not announced his finding on the answers they apparently give the plaintiff about $22,000, which if counted with interest at six per cent since 1855 would amount to several times that sum.

MAGNOLIA COMP'Y. PLACES ORDER FOR 22 WICHITA TRUCKS

The "Buy it Made in Texas" collection here is indirectly resulting in an order for 22 Wichita Falls Motor Company of 22 Wichita trucks. J. G. Culbertson accompanied "buyers" of Texas manufacturers to Tulsa when they left here. While there he improved the opportunity to negotiate with the Magnolia Petroleum Company with the result that he landed an order for 22 trucks. When these trucks are delivered the Magnolia Company will have nearly 100 Wichita trucks in use, the Magnolia company having been purchasing Wichita trucks for the past four years. Nobody ever heard of one of these trucks wearing out and it is assumed that they are all in use today. The new trucks will be for use in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas.

What Is the Style in Corsets?

Many letters are received by us from women, asking "the new style in corsets." Until the H. W. Gossard Co. discovered the 9 Ideal Figure Types, we were sometimes puzzled in answering this question, but now the answer is simple. To each inquirer we send the Gossard style book, issued twice a year, showing the 9 Ideal Figure Types and corsets designed for them, which form the foundation of the silhouette for the season.

Almost every woman knows that each year brings some change in her figure line and it is only by studying her own figure type and adapting a new corset to her figure that she will always be in perfect corset style. So, if you would always be in style, remember to learn first to what Ideal Figure Type you belong, then select one of the many Gossards designed for your ideal figure, at the price you wish to pay.

ODD FELLOWS TO INSTALL OFFICERS MONDAY NIGHT

The Odd Fellows expect to install officers at their hall Monday night. The district deputy Grand Master is expected to come from Electra for that occasion, and A. S. Eads as Noble Grand and C. B. McConnell as Vice Grand together with their many appointees will be installed into their respective offices. The secretary, treasurer and trustees are not installed at the mid-term, as they hold their offices during the period of the whole year. All members are expected out tomorrow night, in order that they may lend every encouragement to the new officers.

On next Saturday night, July 7th, the Ingham lodge of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will entertain the county association of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, and it is thought that from twenty-five to fifty members of the order together with their families from Wichita Falls will attend. It is the intention of leaving the hall at that evening at 7 p. m. Quite a large number have expressed themselves as going and taking their cars, and many are looking forward to it as quite an outing. All those who intend going or can attend are expected to get in touch with the secretaries of these two orders.

MINISTERS THIS SECTION TO SPEAK ON CONSERVATION

More than seventy ministers in the Wichita Falls district of the Southwestern Telephone Co. have had their attention called to the desire of President Wilson that they emphasize conservation of food and materials from their pulpits today. Practically every one of the seventy ministers will have something to say on the subject.

These ministers were called over the telephones and their attention called to "conservation" Sunday by the telephone exchanges. This has been done throughout the entire country.

SIGNAL CORPS RECRUITS CAN BE RECEIVED HERE

The army recruiting office in Wichita Falls has received instructions to recruit for the signal corps. Those eligible for this service include cable and radio operators, inside and outside wiremen, electricians, machinists, photographers, and men with general telephone experience.

Recruiting week brought no increase in the number of recruits here last week. In fact the record for that week was very poor only five recruits were secured. Saturday there was only one recruit, Oliver B. Maricle, who was accepted.

MANY FARMERS BUYING OATS AT ACTUAL COST. County Demonstration Agent J. W. Campbell has been busy during the past week making arrangements for the purchase of feed oats for farmers for their work horses while they are putting in feed crops and plowing their land for wheat.

He has made arrangements for shipping in oats in carload lots and getting the farmers to have them at a low cost. At Iowa Park he has made arrangements to have the oats shipped in through the Farmers Elevator Co., and also through the Farmers Elevator Co. at Electra. Shipments are being made here through the Wichita Falls Mill and Elevator Co., and through the Farmers Elevator Co. but for these two points orders must be given to Mr. Campbell direct.

FEATURE FILMS OF THE WEEK

Ibsen's in the movies now and there's no earthly reason why the last one of us can not become highbrows and followers of the famous Henrik who was the early inspiration of Betty Nansan, who has lately been putting it all over the regular movie queens when she takes a little vacation from the tragic stage to immortalize her tears and smiles on the film. Monday Wichita Falls fans will have an opportunity of viewing "The Dolls House." Ibsen's best known play, at the Plaza. Dorothy Phillips is the star of this Bluebird production.

MEN, MATERIAL AND MONEY DISCUSSED IN NATIONAL BANK COMMERCE MONTHLY LETTER

The National Bank of Commerce monthly business letter for July discusses the problem of money, material and men.

The Liberty Loan. The overwhelming success of the Liberty Loan is the best possible indication of the determination of the people of this country to stand by the government. Apart from the enormous amount of money raised, the most satisfactory feature of the loan is the immense number of individual subscriptions received, indicating that the small investor is always willing and anxious to do his share when he is satisfied of the safety and desirability of the investment offered. Incidentally, the success of the Liberty Loan is a great tribute to the power of intelligent and scientific methods of publicity.

Our Billion-Dollar Country. It is not so many years ago that in answer to the complaint that Congress had appropriated over a billion dollars for government expenses during the two years of existence, Speaker Reed said: "The United States has become a Billion-Dollar country."

Now not a single year passes in which appropriations do not exceed a billion dollars.

With regard to the growth of the country's business, it is interesting to note that in 1892 exports from the United States first crossed the billion-dollar line. By 1917 they exceeded two billions; in 1914 they were three billions; in 1915 nearly five and one-half billions; in 1916 nearly five and one-half billions. The money in circulation in the United States first exceeded a billion dollars in 1881, was two billions in 1908, four billions in 1915 and $4,415,000,000 on May 1, 1917.

Wheat. The latest forecast issued by the Department of Agriculture, covering the 1917 wheat crop, shows a total yield estimated at 6,500,000 bushels or 15,000,000 bushels more than last year's crop. The spring crop forecast indicates a yield of 25,000,000 bushels which helps to offset the winter yield now estimated at 375,000,000 bushels, considerably below normal.

Considering that the regular wheat demand of the United States is 600,000,000 bushels, this yield does not leave any great quantity for export and, of course, very large exports will be called for this year. However, some relief is seen in the good showing of the forecast for rice, oats and barley, which indicate record or close to record crops and, too, undoubtedly the corn yield will be immense.

Spring wheat was planted on an area almost as large as that of 1917.

When a record crop of 1917 is harvested, it is favorable weather conditions prevail, the production will naturally improve by harvest time.

Waste Materials. In connection with the nationwide campaign for sensible economy there is one way in which every citizen can definitely help the government and that is by taking heed of what are ordinarily classed as waste materials. Never before have scrap articles of all kinds commanded such high prices and the housewife as well as the business man can turn many an honest penny by keeping a sharp lookout to avoid the throwing away of such things as waste paper, bottles, rubber and metal articles of all kinds. These should be carefully sorted and accumulations disposed of from time to time to the scrap material man. It is surprising how much good money can be derived from these seemingly valueless articles by the ordinary family in the course of a year.

Herbert C. Hoover. No one is better qualified to speak on the food problems of the United States than Herbert C. Hoover, formerly head of the Belgian Relief Committee who has been called upon to cooperate with the Council of National Defense in handling the gigantic task of feeding ourselves and our allies during the war.

In his first appeal to the nation Mr. Hoover says: "I feel it my duty to emphasize that the present food situation is one of it most gravest which, unless it is solved, may possibly result in the collapse of everything we hold dear in civilization. England, France, and Italy must have food as during the next three months more than twice as much food as we can send if we consume as usual. The only hope of providing them is by the elimination of waste and by rigorous self-sacrifice. We can not allow speculation or profiteering to burden us with high prices. And we must also plant everything, and everywhere that it will grow, or next year this time the food problem will be unobtainable and the world will face a terrible starvation. Every shaded or earth turned up by our farmer, every seed we plant, every ounce of waste we eliminate, it is just as much a contribution to the joint cause of that of a man in the trench."

FATAL COLLISION ON SEABOARD AIRLINE SATURDAY. By Associated Press. Raleigh, N. C., June 30.—Four trainmen were killed and a fifth seriously injured in a head-on collision between two fast freight trains on the Seaboard Airline railway near Washington, N. C., 20 miles north of here early today according to reports from Franklinton. The bodies of the dead were said to have been burned under the debris. Both locomotives were demolished and 27 cars of vegetables, feedstuffs and other commodities destroyed.

RUINS OF TOWNS USED IN ROAD BUILDING
 Associated Press Mail Correspondence.
 Behind the British Lines in France—Hundred miles of the smooth white macadam roads of Northern France will remain for many years after the war as a real memorial to the devastated towns which the Germans left in ruins after their retreat this spring.
 All over Northern France the roads are being widened and resurfaced with stone and rubble taken from the wrecked houses of Peronne, Albert, Arras, and countless other ruined towns and villages. As fast as the British soldiers clear away the debris of the towns, it is hauled into lorries and distributed in heaps along the main roads. There German prisoners toil the day long pounding it into level patches which the great steam rollers, many of them bearing familiar American names, grind quickly into smooth macadam for the business of transportation.
 The best and sturdiest of these old buildings makes as good road material as could be obtained anywhere, and the work of the German dynamiter has been so thorough that much of it is crushed fine enough to need no further preparation.
 The roads of Northern France were always excellent, but they were never better than today. The only complaint travelers had against them in the old days was that the paved strip in the center was too narrow. The complaint cannot be made after the British highway plans have been completed, for all the main highways will be macadamized to a width permitting three broad-gauge lorries to run abreast, and even the byways will have a paved surface wide enough to allow traffic to pass easily at any point.
 Excessive dustiness is the only fault of the roads today, for war economies will not permit the use of precious oil on roadways.
 There is little need anywhere in this district for straightening roads or altering routes, because the roads of Northern France, mostly run straight as an arrow's flight. Most of the great highways were laid out in Napoleon's time by military surveyors and their strategic value and importance has always been kept primarily in mind by the French government.

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

July 15th—On This Date Paige Prices Will Be Advanced

We have formally announced that the list price of every car in the Paige line will be very substantially increased on July 15th.

We have explained that this step is unavoidable because of the steadily advancing costs of manufacturing materials, labor and all elements entering into the production of a quality product.

In making this advance announcement, we feel that we have done complete justice to the many hundreds of people who have been planning to purchase one of our cars. They now know definitely when the increased prices are scheduled to take effect, and will be guided accordingly.

There is one very important point, though, that we would like to emphasize at this time.

Owing to the scarcity of materials, our production between now and July 15th will necessarily be limited. We are doing all that we possibly can to keep step with public demand, but it is a foregone conclusion that there will not be enough Paiges to go round.

As a last thought in regard to this matter of price, please remember that the Paige has long since demonstrated its independence of all "price fields." American men and women now buy a Paige—not because of the price tag which is attached to it—but because of its well established reputation as a fine mechanical product.

John Purroy Mitchell, Mayor of New York, Said in a public letter to the members of the New York State Legislature,

"The 12,000 miles of State and County Highways apportioned to the counties outside of New York City must be maintained when completed at a cost which will approximate $1,000 a mile per year, or $12,000,000 per year in all."

This startling prediction by one of the most businesslike of American Mayors is backed by road experience all over the Empire State and it echoes the warning statements of the State authorities themselves. Read what Ex-Gov. Glynn said in his annual message to the New York State Legislature two years ago:—

"A macadam road in New York costs approximately $12,000 per mile to build and lasts less than ten years. It costs $1,000 a year per mile to maintain. At the end of ten years it will cost $6,000 a mile to rebuild.

"Macadam roads are utterly unsuited to the wear and tear of automobile traffic. Motor traffic is on the increase and is pounding the roads of New York State to destruction faster than they can be built.

"Instead of building highways that cost $1,000 a year per mile to maintain, New York must construct roads that can be maintained at a moderate cost. Two types of highway answer modern requirements. One is the concrete road; the other, the brick road with the concrete foundation.

"A concrete road costs from $12,000 to $16,000 a mile and a brick road costs from $20,000 to $25,000."

REPORT OF STATE ROADS COMMISSION—MARYLAND—1912-1913

"The cost of maintaining macadam roads under the ever increasing strain of heavy and fast automobile motor truck and steel tire traffic early prompted Chairman Weller and Chief Engineer Shirley to make a careful study and investigation of concrete roads, this including a personal examination of those in Wayne county, Michigan, in which the city of Detroit is situated. This led to the laying of several sections of concrete in the summer of 1912.

"These roads have now been under heavy traffic for more than a year and are practically as good as when laid, with no maintenance on them, except for shoulder work. Encouraged by this, the Commission in 1913 added 55 miles of concrete to its construction."

Since 1912 the small State of Maryland has constructed over 180 miles of concrete roads, that are satisfactorily withstanding the hardest motor traffic.

What more eloquent plea could be made for the economy of concrete roads, than the comparison of these two authoritative statements? The situations are parallel. On both the highway of New York and Maryland motor travel is unusually heavy, and drastic test has made the verdict conclusive.

If a good macadam road costs $12,000 a mile to build and $1,000 a year to maintain, its capital cost to the community is $12,000 plus $20,000 (a sum which at 5 per cent would earn $1,000 interest), or $32,000 per mile. Contrast this figure with the capital cost of a concrete road, costing $15,000 to build and say $50 to maintain—$15,000 plus $1,000, or $16,000 per mile.

If motor car traffic makes such a difference in the life of highways today and is growing in volume—what will happen next year and the year after? There are over 2,000,000 motor cars registered now; by the end of 1916 it is expected by manufacturers that there will be over 3,000,000 in actual service. When our highways are subjected to the wear and tear of these 12,000,000 rubber-tired wheels for a single season the need of concrete surface will become imperative. An illustrated booklet, "Concrete Facts About Concrete Roads," will be sent free to anyone requesting it.

WHEN you buy the GRANT SIX at $875 you know that you have bought the utmost possible at anywhere near the price, that you have obtained all of the advantages of modern, large scale production, and that you have not paid one cent for past mistakes, experiments or high financing.

And your everyday experience with the GRANT SIX will be satisfying, first, because no other cars so economical to run, and second because GRANT power, flexibility, responsiveness and comfort are unequalled by those of any car at anywhere near its price.

If you want to be satisfied with the car you buy, investigate the GRANT SIX.
