Japan And China Repudiate Purported Agreement For Manchurian Peace

JAPAN MUST LEAVE FIRST, SAYS ENVOY

League Delegate Upsets Earlier Hope for World Inquiry

DAWES A FACTOR

Commission Plan Offered After Conference With Diplomat

TOKYO, Nov. 21, (Saturday) (AP)—The Tokyo government today instructed Kenkichi Yoshizawa, its delegate at the League of Nations council meeting in Paris, that the so-called Manchurian armistice with China is unacceptable.

PARIS, Nov. 20. (AP)—The Chinese delegation to the League of Nations received a telegram from Nanking tonight saying the Japanese army at Tsitsihar, Manchuria, was organizing a military advance into inner Mongolia.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese delegate to the League of Nations, emphatically declared tonight that he had not agreed to an armistice in Manchuria as the league secretariat had announced earlier in the day.

His declaration upset belief that both China and Japan had accepted a proposal to create an international commission to investigate the whole Manchurian problem, and that meanwhile hostilities would cease.

Dr. Sze said he had not accepted and could not accept, even in principle, any proposal for a commission of inquiry without provision for Japanese evacuation.

Prepares Plan

Under his instructions from Nanking, the Chinese delegate said, he is quite unable to take any such step. He explained he was working on a plan of his own which he hoped to present to the council tomorrow.

Officials of the league secretariat told newspapermen after today's secret council session that the Chinese delegate had agreed in principle, to the council's scheme of procedure.

Tonight's announcement from Dr. Sze placed him in apparent contradiction to secretariat officials.

Attitude Misinterpreted

It was explained in authoritative quarters that the misunderstanding arose through misinterpretation by some members of the secretariat of the Chinese attitude.

China has a plan which includes both armistice and a commission of inquiry but does not assent to continued occupation. Japan has a plan, to which 12 members of the council agreed in principle, which apparently makes no reference to evacuation and it is understood the Japanese have no intention of evacuating under present circumstances.

The vagueness of this scheme and the fact it has not been put in writing were advanced as reasons for the misunderstanding and it was explained officials were anxious to announce an agreement, even if it were of the most general and most undefined character.

Negotiations Secret

The secret nature of all negotiations also was cited as providing opportunity for misunderstanding and confusion. Secritariat officials themselves often have been in the dark as to the actual state of affairs.

Earlier in the day it was said the terms of armistic and the conditions under which the investigating commission would carry on its work were to be considered at tomorrow's open meeting of the council. This information came from secritariat officials.

League authorities were unable to clear up the conflict. The theory was advanced that its explanation might lie in the vague undefined state of the council's proposal.

Benefit Hoped

The terms of armistice and the conditions under which the investigating commission would investigate were left to tomorrow's open meeting of the council, according to secretariat officials who told of the supposed agreement.

The armistice decision, as they reported it, was regarded in some circles as a victory for Japan. In other quarters there was a tendency to look upon it as a far-sighted move from which tremendous good for the whole world might issue if the inquiry succeeds in restoring good feeling between the two far eastern peoples.

Thus Japan has maintained her original position and the league council, which requested last month that Japanese troops be withdrawn into the railway zone in Manchuria has reconsidered the stand it took when it first began consideration of the Manchurian problem.

Armistice Indefinite

In broad lines, and with the details entirely undefined as yet, the proposed plan calls for acceptance of a military armistice to be indefinite in duration, and the creation of the investigating commission as quickly as possible to examine the Manchurian dispute in all its aspects.

Already there has been much speculation regarding the personnel of the commission, which, some authorities suggested, should con-

Men Die In Flames As Blasts Follow Gas Leak In Oil Tanker

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20. (US)—Gasoline spurted from a broken pump line and a tiny spark leaped from some unknown source today to cause one of San Francisco's major waterfront disasters.

Spreading death, injury and destruction, a series of explosions rocked the Standard Oil tanker Charlie Watson and wrapped her in fierce flames as she lay at a pier.

Three men are known to have perished in the terrific holocaust. Ten suffered burns and other injuries. One—Capt. Oscar Landahl of the Charlie Watson—was so severely burned that he has slight chance for recovery.

The three explosions followed each other at short intervals. Witnesses, some of whom were thrown from their feet by the concussion, reported that at least one body was lifted with the mass of debris that the blasts hurled through the air.

PROHI AGENT OUSTED AFTER DEATH CHARGE

Woodcock Flays Sleuth Accused of Colorado Murder

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. (US)—Henry Dierks, a prohibition agent accused of killing Milford G. Smith in a raid at Englewood, Colo., was suspended today by Prohibition Director Amos W. W. Woodcock, who took steps to bring about the agent's permanent dismissal.

Dierks, characterized by Woodcock as a "brute," will be left to face charges of murder in the Colorado courts without hope of federal aid. Woodcock bitterly criticized Dierks, who is said to have struck Smith down in a restaurant, and added:

"I hope every agent who reads this will take solemn warning that we will not tolerate this type of activity.

"It is just a case of brute force and no brains. We have been paying and training Dierks to be a skilled investigator. Actually he acted like a stupid and brutal peace officer.

"I will not have the energies of the bureau dissipated in this manner."

Woodcock pointed out that Dierks was attempting to arrest Smith for a small non-commercial violation of the prohibition laws without making any investigation as to the source of the liquor.

Frank Kell Says Wheat 'Good Buy' At Present Price

AMARILLO, Texas, Nov. 20. (AP)—Frank Kell of Wichita Falls, one of the Southwest's leading millers, said in an address before 250 Amarillo business men today that "wheat is a good buy at present prices, and there is every indication that prices will go higher."

"Russia is almost entirely out of the market," Kell said. "Reports from the southern hemisphere indicated that the wheat export will not be as large as last year. There will be a reduction of 7,000,000 acres in our crop in 1932."

Kell cited many upward trends in business to substantitate his statement that conditions were improving.

$1,000-a-Year Is Limit For Dress, Says Judge

LONDON, Nov. 20. (US)—Gilbert Frankau, the author, does not have to pay his wife's $1,500 dressmaking bill.

Justice McCardie so ruled here today. In his verbal decision, he said:

"The perils of being a husband do not grow less as the years roll slowly by. The function of women in modern society is largely utilitarian. Nature decreed that in leadership in physical traits, intellectual achievement, women should be below man. But women are the chief decorations of social life."

The judge set $1,000 a year as the maximum which a woman should spend on her clothes.

JURORS CALL KELLY HUNT

Investigators Recess After Quizzing Witness

Kelly Hunt, who charged two federal prohibition officers last Monday with having accepted money from him for protection during the past several months, was observed Friday afternoon to have been called before the federal grand jury for a prolonged examination.

Members of the federal district attorney's staff present for the current term of court state that no further reports of the grand jury's action will be made until next week when it will make its final returns before Judge W. H. Atwell.

While testifying last Monday in a hearing on an application of the government to have his house permanently padlocked as a public nuisance, Hunt declared that he had paid one prohibition offcier here $50 a month for several months and that he paid another $100 for the return of "evidence" seized at the Hunt home in July. The officers denied the charges.

The grand jury recessed Friday evening at 5:30 p. m. until next Monday morning, when its investigations will be resumed.

Defendants in liquor indictments returned by the jury in its partial report Thursday may have their cases disposed of Saturday morning, in the event that pleas of guilty are to be entered, according to Assistant District Attorney E. Crippen. Several such cases were handled by the court Friday. The trial of criminal cases has been set for the week of Nov. 23, Mr. Crippen pointed out, but the court calendar for Saturday morning, it was said, will permit Judge Atwell to hear a number of defendants in liquor indictments.

POLICE ARMY GUARDS GRANDI IN NEW YORK

Italian Minister Makes Traditional Parade Through Gotham

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. (UP)—Guarded by the largest body of Manhattan police ever called out for the protection of a single individual, Signor Dino Grandi, Italy's spade-bearded foreign minister, came to New York today for the traditional Battery-to-City Hall reception.

Uniformed officers stood arm-to-arm along the route of the parade which carried the visiting diplomat; members of the bomb squad, each acquainted with the faces of most of New York's anti-Fascists, mixed detectives from the city force and special agents of the state department formed a seemingly impenetrable cordon around Signor Grandi during every moment of his stay.

Morgan Threat

A special detail of police stayed on duty at the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co., a post they had maintained all last night as a result of bomb plot threats.

The Italian statesman's two-hour stay in the city, however, was not marred by any serious disturbance, though several incidents gave the army of policemen an opportunity to display their force.

One man shouted, "Assassin! Assassin!" as Grandi passed up Broadway in the parade. He was in the midst of a group of Fascists who leaped upon him, knocked him down and were beating him when a squad of police closed in and rescued him.

Windows Watched

More than 2,000 uniformed officers stood along the route of the procession from the Battery to City Hall. They faced the sidewalk crowds, their backs to the parade, in order that they might watch every move on the part of spectators. It was noted they also kept close watch on the windows of office buildings above the street. Armed men were placed at vantage points on top of many of the buildings.

A number of posters declaring that Grandi is "wanted for arson and murder" were stuck up along the route.

On several occasions jeers were heard, though for the most part they were drowned out by the shouts of acclaim.

After the speeches were over at City Hall, where Mayor Walker reassured Grandi that "If you're not safe in this city, I'm going to move," the diplomat was escorted back to the Battery, to the municipal tug Macom, which carried him to his train at Jersey City. He left immediately for Philadelphia.

Earl Quinn's Execution Postponed Until Jan. 10

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 20. (AP)—Governor Murray today postponed the scheduled execution of Earl Quinn from Jan. 10 to May 6 in order to allow the condemned man time for an appeal to the criminal court of appeals.

Quinn, now in the death row at McAlester prison, was convicted in Kay county district court several weeks ago of murder in the death of Miss Jessie Griffith, slain with her sister, Zexia, on a lonely road near Tonkawa last December.

Prosecution Indicates Officer 'Planted' Gun in Youths' Deaths

ARDMORE, Okla., Nov. 20. (UP)—A hint that W. E. Guess might have "planted" the gun found under the body of Manuel Garcia Gomez after the Mexican youth had been slain here the night of June 7, this year, constituted the state's principal testimony late today before it rested its case against Guess and Cecil Crosby, former deputy sheriffs, charged with murder. The defense presented one witness.

Salvador Cortes Rubio, survivor of the tragedy, in which young Gomez and Emilio Cortes Rubio were killed as they sat in their parked car here, testified he saw Guess search the car after the shooting and then bend over Gomez' prostrate body for an instant. Salvador Rubio came here from St. Mary's college, Atchison, Kan., at the request of Gov. W. H. Murray to testify for the state. Both Rubios are cousins of the president of Mexico.

On cross-examination, defense attorneys asked Rubio if he had offered the same testimony last June when Guess was acquitted of a murder charge in connection with the other Rubio's death.

"If I was asked, I did," the Mexican student replied.

Seven witnesses were presented by the state.

Only one defense witness, Crosby, had testified when court was recessed until tomorrow. The case was expected to go to the jury around noon, following completion of closing arguments.

Guess admitted shooting the two youths, testifying he shot Gomez when the student stepped from his car with a gun in his hand. Guess said he and Crosby attempted to question the youths, driving from this country to their homes in Mexico City, and that he fired on them when they attempted to resist them.

The gun, Salvador Rubio replied, had been placed in a pocket of the car before the trio left on their trip.

A split in the ranks of the prosecuting attorneys became more apparent this afternoon. Marvin Shilling, county attorney, was deposed as chief prosecutor by Governor Murray. He took no part in the proceedings, although he sat at the counsel table. Governor Murray appointed a special attorney to conduct the prosecution.

First Automobile License Was Issued in Indiana

THE first automobile license on record in the United States was issued to Elwood Hayes, of Kokomo, Ind., in the year of 1893. That he was the only driver at that time, however, is not authentic, but we do know the number of motorists was very small. TODAY, there are 23,000,000 drivers in the United States of America. The total of drivers exceeds the number of registered cars by over 5,000,000.

Many of these people who do not own a car NOW, are planning to buy one, in the near future, perhaps. Many of those who have cars NOW, are in need of repair service, and it always pays the auto owner, in the LONG RUN, to keep his car in FIRST CLASS, mechanical condition.

GIANT FIRMS BATTLE FOR WIRE CONTROL

New Electric Typewriters Transmit Messages To Any Point

SERVICE OPENS TODAY

Western Union and Postal End 40 Years War To Fight A. T. & T.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. (UP)—A battle for supremacy in the communications filed was revealed tonight with announcement of a new service by the American Telephone & Telegraph company, which was closely followed by an announcement of similar service offered jointly by the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies.

Electric Typewriters

The fight will be waged over automatic printer telegraph circuits which are comparatively new in the communications field and which, roughly, operate much as does a typewriter. An operator in New York writes on a typewriter, his message is automatically printed out by a typewriter in San Francisco or any other city.

The new services offered by A. T. & T. and jointly by Western Union and Postal were practically identifical. A business house with an A. T. & T. printer in its office may have that machine directly connected to any other printer on an A. T. & T. circuit in any part of the country. The telegraph companies, competing with this service, announced that any printer on a Western Union circuit would be connected directly with any other on either a Western Union or Postal circuit. A printer on a Postal circuit will be connected with any Western Union printer.

W. U. and Postal Join

The joint announcement of Western Union and Postal represented submergence of 40 years of intense competition to meet the competition of A. T. & T. First the growing tendency of American business to use the long distance telephone hit the telegraph companies. Then the innovation of the automatic printer, pushed energetically by A. T. & T. as the means of communication between companies using telegraph extensively, added a new threat. Separately, neither Western Union nor Postal could offer as large a printer circuit as A. T. & T. Thus old rivalry was pushed aside to meet a common competitor.

The Postal-Western Union service will not be inaugurated until Dec. 1 when trunk wire installation between the main offices of the two companies in various cities will be completed. They will charge on a basis of time the circuit is in use, a three-minute minimum being required.

A. T. & T. service will begin tomorrow. Charges will be made on the same basis.

NEW EQUIPMENT INSTALLED HERE

Work of installing teletywriter equipment at the Wichita Falls district office of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company was underway Friday night, and the company will be ready to offer the new service here Saturday morning, C. C. Kirby, district manager, told The Record News.

Service in Wichita Falls will be started simultaneously with service in other leading cities of the nation, Mr. Kirby said. A message from Vincent M. Carroll, assistant to the president of the company, explaining the uses of the teletypewriter, follows:

"A new communication service is made available today by the American Telephone and Telegraph company and its associated companies in the Bell system of which the Southwestern Bell Telephone company is one. This new service con-

Strange Shamrock Electrocution Believed to Have Been Accidental

Felonious Conspiracy Charge Filed After Circumstances of Death From Electric Shock Remain Mystery

SHAMROCK, Texas, Nov. 20. (AP)—Wheeler county officers said today they were ready to accept as accidental the electrocution of Dave Bowers, 30, whose body was found in the Red river north of Shamrock Sunday.

Who removed the body from where the electrocution occurred half a mile south of Twitty and threw it from the highway bridge into the river, however, was still a mystery, they said.

County Attorney Clyde Fillmore said officers were working on the theory that Bowers was electrocuted while a group of men were trying to cut off electric service from the little town of Twitty, six miles north of Shamrock. Telephone wires had been cut on both sides of the town.

Site Found

Officials of the West Texas Utilities company, seeking the source of the volt that passed through Bowers' body, as evidenced by burns on his hands and feet, found a spot half a mile from the Twitty post-office where they said Bowers had been killed. A piece of telephone wire, about 25 feet long, had been thrown across a line that carried

IRA M'KEE PENS PROTEST POEM

Condemned Man Expresses Views in Verse

LAMESA, Texas, Nov. 20. (UP)—Ira McKee, who killed a man and thereby made of him a Carnegie hero, turned poet in the jail here today. In blank verse he deplored the sentence of death imposed on him yesterday for the shooting of W. R. Billingsley, at Sparenburg last year.

One verse read:

"O, Lord, I'm not a murderer,
My God, the life of man—
How can they break the ten commandments
Just to carry out their plans?
If their object in this killing
Is to teach a lesson stern
Why not have their killings public
So the whole wide world can learn?
Bring your mothers, bring your sisters,
Bring your women folks to see
How this so-called Christian nation
Shames our Lord from Galilee."

McKee was found guilty of murdering Billingsley when the latter intervened to prevent a holdup. A man for whose protection Billingsley intervened escaped unhurt but the would-be rescuer was shot several times. His widow was awarded a bronze Carnegie hero medal last month.

BROCK-LEE CO. LAUNCHES NEW PRORATION WAR

Second Injunction Plea Says Two Conspired To Fix Cost

OIL HOLDINGS CITED

Governor's Interest in Humble Company Held To Disqualify

SHERMAN, Texas, Nov. 20. (AP)—Charges against Gov. R. S. Sterling and Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters of conspiracy to restrict oil production in East Texas as a price-fixing measure, in restraint of trade, were contained in an amended petition for injunction filed today by counsel for E. Constantin, the Brock-Lee Oil company and others with Federal Judge Randolph Bryant.

The petition attacked proration orders promulgated by Governor Sterling and General Wolters under martial law regime in the East Texas oil field as well as the new Texas conservation law, as being unconstitutional because they deprive the plaintiffs of their property "without due process of law."

Grievances Set Out

Judge Bryant received the amended petition by mail from Joseph W. Bailey Jr., of Dallas, attorney for the Brock-Lee company, and immediately forwarded it to Tyler to the court clerk.

In a lengthy exposition of alleged grievances, the petition recited that Governor Sterling's personal representative, Cullen F. Thomas, signed the "world oil stabilization program" drafted at the oil stabilization conference in Oklahoma City Sept. 11; that the announced purpose of that program was to curtail oil production to a figure within the market demand "to secure for producers a fair price for crude oil, for refiners and distributors a reasonable return and to produce more royalty and rentals for farmers and steady revenue for the states" of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Plot Claimed

It alleged that at this conference representatives of the governors of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas and the regulatory commissions of those states agreed to limit Texas oil production to 902,000 barrels daily, Oklahoma production to 546,000 barrels daily and Kansas, 110,000 barrels daily.

Alleging an agreement, combination and conspiracy between Governor Sterling and General Wolters with the Humble Oil & Refining company and the Texas company, the petition recited that Governor Sterling formerly was a stockholder and director of the Humble company; that he now owes the Humble company "in excess of $400,000 and less than $1,000,000, the exact amount unknown;" and that General Wolters is a regularly employed attorney for the Texas company. This circumstance, it asserted, placed Governor Sterling and General Wolters in such close and intimate relation with the two companies that they were disqualified from action and judgment in matters of oil field administration.

Martial Law Attacked

Governor Sterling was charged with exceeding his authority in de-

Coroner Not Sure Whether Man Shot Wife Accidentally

DENVER, Nov. 20. (AP)—Whether the fatal shooting of Mrs. Marjorie Carrington by her husband, Paul Carrington, was accidental or intentional was left an open question by a coroner's jury today.

After an inquest into her death the coroner's jury held that "Carrington fired the shot that caused the death of Mrs. Carrington but we are unable to determine whether it was accidental or homicide."

Mrs. Carrington was shot Tuesday while visiting her husband in a bus depot here. Carrington told police he was cleaning a revolver which he accidentally discharged. Carrington's home town is Austin, Texas.

CHINA DENIES PEACE PACT

War Halt to Allow Probe Meets Objection

sist of six members—two political, two legal and two military experts—headed by an American. It was believed that the commission would have almost unlimited powers to investigate the far eastern problem and to report recommendations.

Ambassador Charles G. Dawes was suggested as chairman as soon as it became known that the council had agreed in principle to form the commission.

Pershing Mentioned

The names of General Pershing, Thomas Lamont, Silas Strawn, Roland Morris and Marshal Petain also were brought forward, and it was agreed that the commission must be composed of the most distinguished men available.

The part which General Dawes played in bringing about this decision also was the subject of much speculation.

It was known that leaders of the council had discussed the proposal with him, and the decision came a few hours after the ambassador had talked with Aristide Briand, president of the council.

Before that meeting the ambassador issued a statement clarifying the attitude of his government toward the league's effort to restore peace.

U. S. Interested

As a signatory of the pact of Paris and to the nine-power treaty, he said, the United States is interested in seeing that the "lofty purpose" of those treaties is fulfilled, and General Dawes was sent to Paris in the hope that he might contribute to bring about a solution of the Manchurian troubles in accordance with principles of those treaties.

"The United States is, of course, not a member of the League of Nations," the ambassador said, "and therefore it cannot take part in discussions bearing upon the application of the machinery of the league covenant."

While there was general agreement that the ambassador had had a hand in private discussion of the proposal, some observers were inclined to regard it as a joint Japanese and French proposal. it was suggested that Dr. Alfred Sze, the Chinese representative on the council must have been subjected to very persuasive arguments to win his acceptance of a plan which leaves the Japanese army occupying the capitals of three Manchurian provinces—Mukden, Kirin and Tsitihar, but it seemed obvious that the had been informed that the big powers were not ready to take any stronger action.

MOSCOW "SUGGESTS" TROOP WITHDRAWAL

MOSCOW, Nov. 20. (US)—The "suggestion" that Japan will probably withdraw her troops southward out of the Russian sphere of influence in Manchuria was contained in a note dispatched to Tokyo tonight by Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff.

The "suggestion" was carefully veiled in politest diplomatic language but Litvinoff's additional assertion that Soviet Russia feels "grave alarm" at the extent of Japan's military occupation of North Manchuria left no doubt that Moscow wished to impress the desirability of its being carried out.

At the same time, Litvinoff reiterated that Russia will maintain strict neutrality and does not plan intervention in the Manchurian conflict.

The note was in answer to Japan's declaration of yesterday that Tokyo would regard dispatch of Soviet troops into Manchuria to protect the Chinese Eastern as likely to lead to "serious consequences."

Litvinoff said that statements made to the Soviet charge d'affaires in Tokyo by Japanese Vice Foreign Minister Nagi led him to hope that Japan would withdraw from the northern zone so jealously watched by Russia.

The texts of both notes were published here tonight.

In reply to Tokyo's assertion that Japanese troops planned no damage to the Soviet-Chinese controlled Chinese Eastern and that, should such damage occur it would be because the railway carried Chinese troops, Litvinoff expressed satisfaction with promises of Japanese respect for Russian interests, but added:

"Since the first Japanese communication, which outlined the utmost limits of Japan's military occupation, those limits have been so greatly extended that the Soviets cannot avoid feeling grave alarm.

"However, the Soviets remain strictly peaceful. They attach great importance to the maintenance of friendly relations with Japan and assume that the Japanese government is striving in the same direction."

Litvinoff expressed "satisfaction" with that part of the Japanese note in which the Japanese government disassociates itself with those declarations of Japanese officials who apparently spoke without the sanction of the government" in accusing Moscow of aiding the Chinese forces opposing Japan.

The Japanese note pointed out that Japan remained neutral in the Russo-Chinese conflict of 1928-29, refusing to transport Chinese troops along the South Manchurian railway and asked Russia to likewise close the Chinese Eastern to Chinese troops now. To this analogy, Litvinoff answered that Russia controlled but half of the Chinese eastern and that the Russian half had already been instructed to remain neutral. Furthermore, he asserted, Russia had not in 1929 occupied foreign territory, as Japan does now.

JAPS IN POSITION TO KEEP ARMISTICE

(Copyright, 1931, Universial Service, Inc.)

MUKDEN, Nov. 20.—The Japanese forces in Manchuria tonight are in a position to maintain peace and administer the territory under orders from Tokyo should the League of Nations and the United States bring about an armistice through a league observers' commission.

Reports from Tsitsihar state that the Japanese military there are in complete control and have prepared for the establishment of a new civil government for Heilungkiang province, although Gen Chang Ching-Hui, Chinese administrator of the Harbin district, is reported to have declined the governorship.

Japan in Control

With Kirin, capital of that province and Mukden, capital of Fengtien province, and all railroads save the Sino-Soviet Chinese eastern and a few narrow-gauge Chinese roads in Japanese hands, the entire Manchurian area except parts dominated by roving bandits and the remnants of Gen. Ma Chan-Shan's army is in Tokyo's hands.

Dispatches received here state that General Ma, after reaching the end of the Koshan railroad, drove by automobile to Hailun, north of Harbin, the end of another Chinese railway. Japanese troops are quartered in the Tsitsihar barracks used by Ma's forces before their inglorious defeat.

It was reported without confirmation that a Japanese airplane bombing squadron, sent in pursuit of Ma's forces, had wiped out 3,000 Chinese at Hailun. Headquarters here discounted the large number.

Raids Continue

Chinese raiders are still cutting the telegraph lines between Tsitsihar, Taonan and Mukden, and communication is intermittent. There has been no full report of either Chinese or Japanese casualties in the Tsitihar operation, but the first ambulance train which arrived here from the front today had aboard 19 Japanese killed and 81 wounded. It is believed Japanese slain will total 100 and wounded 300.

Henry Pu-Yi, deposed boy emperor of China who had imperial aspirations with Japanese support in Manchuria, today has become a fleeting commuter between south Manchurian points because his plans have been constantly exposed. Today he left the Tangkantze hot springs for Dairen, due to the increase of banditry at the resort.

General Tamon, at Tsitihar, wired General Honjo today that his air froces played a large part in the final surrender of Tsitihar.

'Long Distance' Typewriting Machines Start War for Control of Wires

sists in the establisnment and operation of central switching exchanges for tellotypewriter machines that typewrite elctrically over the wire to a distant teletypewriter. Any subscriber to this service can obtain connection with a teletypewriter of any other subscriber to the service within the same city or in a distant city and this will permit immediate transmission of letters, typewritten statements or other information between the two subscribers. In effect the methods used are interconnection of the instruments the same as now employed in the telephone system.

"The present teletypewriter service of the Bell system is furnished only in connection with private wires which are not connected to central switching points. This private wire service, now widely used, for interoffice communication, will be continued as heretofore. The new switching service to teletypewriter exchanges is now possible because of developments in apparatus and operation. These permit intercommunications by teletypewriter on a nationwide basis just as the development of the telephone switchboard made possible the interconnection of telephone instruments.

"The new teletypewriter service will thus have the flexibility that characterizes the regular telephone service of the Bell companies. The establishment of the switching offices similar to the telephone exchanges enables subscribers to the new service to call and receive connections just as they do for local or long distance telephone conversations. While their teletypewriter lines are connected they may send or receive typed messages as desired.

"Soon after the American Telephone and Telegraph company was organized to develop long distance service it became apparent that the telephone wires system could be adapted to provide circuits to concerns needing private wire facilities. The first line furnished connected the New York and Boston office of S. M. Weld & Co. and was put in service on Dec. 9, 1887. After the long distance circuits were extended the private wire service grew rapidly among those having need for constant communication with distant branches or correspondents, such as banks, brokers or press associations. The scope of the service was immediately widened when the teletypewriter began to be used in 1915. Within the past five years there has been a marked increase in the number of industrial concerns using them due to the variety of uses they have found for them at the beginning of 1931 the Bell system was furnishing 10,500 teletypwriter machines, utilizing 48 per cent of its private line wire mileage in their service."

Model Steno Doesn't Date the Boss

And Makes Drinks and Smokes Occasional

DES MOINES, Nov. 20. (AP)—Dates with the boss are taboo for the ideal secretary and necking is not condoned—but occasionally there's a "time, a place and a boy."

Thus speaks Miss Katherine L. Kramer, stenographer in the American Nautical academy at Washington, selected as the ideal secretary by Harry Krusz, national secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Kramer lists as precepts for the secretary:

"She should take pride in her work, her appearance and her boss.

"She must be efficient, but not a grind.

"An occasional cigaret or cocktail will not ruin a girl's reputation, but there are limits.

"Dress is an important factor in office life.

"And even if grandma doesn't like the lipstick and the compact, just remember she was the belle of another day. The skillful use of both will go a long way toward eradicating the ravages of a tough day in the office—the kind of day grandma never experienced."

Prohibition Group Gives Backing To Both San Antonio Candidates

MEMBERS OF COUNCIL NAMED

Athletic Board Holds Its First Meeting

Announcement of the complete membership of the Athletic council of Wichita Falls High school was made Friday afternoon after the first meeting of the new organization.

The three members of the council from the citizenship at large were named as Grover Bullington, representing the Kiwanis club which successfully pushed to conclusion the drive for the new stadium and athletic field; William E. Huff and Dr. O. T. Kimbrough. Others on the board are C. H. Clark, chairman, as president of the board of education; Carter McGregor, as chairman of the athletic committee of the board of education; Barry Holton, coach, and H. D. Fillers, superintendent of schools.

Committees to adopt by-laws for the council and to handle other preliminary work were named at the meeting Friday.

The council was recently created by the board of education to supervise the completion of the athletic field and stadium, and to manage its affairs after completion. The council will act under the supervision of the school board.

Slain Man's Relatives Win Double Insurance

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20. (AP)—The U. S. circuit court of appeals today upheld the eastern Texas district court in ordering double indemnity payment on a life insurance policy held by Ike Killingsworth, killed by his nephew, Wiley Page.

Mrs. Ethel V. Hagemyer (nee Killingsworth) and her husband, George Hagemyer, sought the double indemnity on grounds of accidental death. The defense of the Aetna Life Insurance company was testimony offered by Wiley Page that he shot and killed his uncle in self-defense, after being threatened, and that the death could not therefore be considered as accidental under the policy.

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 20. (AP)—The stand of both Carl Wright Johnson and Richard M. Kleberg, Democratic candidates for congress in the 14th district, is satisfactory to the crusaders, anti-prohibition organization, a telegram made public at Kleberg headquarters tonight said.

The telegram said that "our support is being given impartially to Kleberg and Johnson" as the "stand taken by both relative to prohibition is entirely satisfactory to this organization."

Kleberg spoke during the day at Kenedy, Karnes City and Runge. He will speak here tomorrow night.

In a statement issued today Johnson charged the "sulphur interests" were seeking the election of Kleberg.

"The lobbyists of the Gulf Sulphur company which controls 98 per cent of the sulphur of the world," the statement said, "and which is controlled and dominated by Andrew J. Mellon, have been called to San Antonio by Roy Miller, their Texas representative, to devise means to capture the 14th congressional district at any price."

Campaign headquarters for Chas. W. Anderson, single Republican candidate, claimed tonight he had added to his strength by his stand on the prohibition question. Anderson had announced he favored upholding the constitution and was for law enforcement.

Memphis Boy Hurt As Truck Overturns

Special to The Record News

MEMPHIS, Texas, Nov. 20.—Delmar Starky, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Starky, is in a critical condition in the Memphis hospital as the result of an accident on Lakeview road Thursday noon.

Starky was driving a truck for the Ralph Pleasant Construction company on the Memphis-Mulberry bridge highway. About two miles west of Lakeview a blowout on a front tire of the truck threw the machine into a ditch, turning it over. Starky sustained a broken hip, crushed ribs, and internal injuries.

Hurley's Daughter Ill After Swallowing Button

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. (US)—Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley sped back from New York by airplane today to be with his daughter, Ruth, 9, reported to be seriously ill after swallowing a Red Cross button.

The child swallowed the button last night and was taken to Walter Reed hospital here. Doctors were unable to remove it and Secretary Hurley was communicated with. He cancelled all engagements and ordered a plane made ready at once. It was said an operation may be necessary.

80-Year-Old Husband Welcomes First Child

GREAT BEND, Kan., Nov. 20. (UP)—Charles "Uncle" Andress, 80-year-old retired magician, is the "happiest man in America" today. He is the father of an eight-pound baby. His wife is 27 years old. "Uncle Charley" issued a formal statement: "Only one man out of 65 of 80 years of age marry women 27 years old and live happily. Not one out of 200 of such marriages are blessed with children. My wife and I shattered both records, notwithstanding wisecracks and predictions of gabfesters."

PLOT CHARGED IN OIL BATTLE

Sterling-Wolters Accused of Price-Fixing

claring martial law Aug. 17 in the East Texas oil field, the petition denying that a "state of insurrection, riot and tumult" existed.

Further, it alleged that no efforts were made by military authorities to "suppress riot, turmoil, civil commotion, bloodshed, uprising, destruction of property or any other form of violence" but that they sought only to restrict the production of oil wells.

This, the petition claimed was "a sham to cloak an attempt to exercise arbitrary executive power." Damages totaling $100,000 were asked.

New Defendants

The amended petition, in addition to making Governor Sterling and General Wolters defendants, named Adj. Gen. W. W. Sterling, Atty. Gen. James V. Allred and the three members of the Texas railroad commission, Pat M. Neff, Lon A. Smith and C. V. Terrell.

The original injunction petition, under which Judge Bryant granted a temporary decree on Oct. 13, did not make Governor Sterling a defendant. That suit was set for hearing Oct. 29 at Tyler, then was postponed until Jan. 4 at Tyler, for hearing before a three-judge federal court.

General Wolters was cited to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court for failing to heed the injunction, but his case was set for hearing in connection with the injunction plea itself.

The Brock-Lee company sought permission to produce oil in amounts up to 5,000 barrels daily from each of five wells in the East Texas field.

Strange Death Called Accident

13,000 volts of electricity. To one end was attached a pair of 12-inch pliers.

There were marks on the ground where the victim was thrown by the shock, and later dragged by his companions to a car on the high way. Officers said they found the tracks of three men.

C. Hallmark, local manager of the Utilities company said four power lines paralleled each other at Twitty. If the wire had been thrown across all of the power lines, he said, the lights at Twitty would have been cut off. Since the wire looped only one line, he said it became charged with 13,000 volts. He expressed the belief that Bowers had picked up the pliers.

Lights Flicker

Melvin Braxton, Twitty storekeeper, said his lights flickered twice and then went off for one or two minutes about 11:30 Saturday night.

Officers have filed charges of conspiracy to commit a felony against Frank Copeland, who made bond of $2,500. Fillmore said the evidence was circumstantial.

Bowers, who was the son of I. N. Bowers, former Wheeler county sheriff had not lived in this section for several years. Friends said they last heard of him in Chicago.

Texas-Empire Plans Lima-Etex Pipe Line

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 20. (AP)—It was learned here today that the Texas-Empire Pipe Line corporation plans to build a 300-mile 12-inch line from Lima Station, near Seminole, Okla., to connect with its East Texas line to the gulf of Mexico.

Completion of the project will give the company a continuous line from the Great lakes to the gulf. It now has a line from Lima Station to Chicago, and the gulf line.

New Movement Starts For State Bond Issue

DALLAS, Nov. 20. (AP)—Meeting at the behest of William T. Wheeler of Fort Worth, manager of the Texas Highway association, persons from several sections of Texas today launched a non-political movement seeking a state bond issue for highway construction.

The issue would be about $300,000,000 about $112,000,000 of which would be used in taking up county bonds.

The bond issue, the delegates explained, would be sought also as a tax reduction measure. The bonds would be paid from the present four-cent gasoline tax, under the groups plan.

The group planned to start its campaign immediately. Another state-wide meeting was called for Dec. 10.

What was thought to be the fossil of a prehistoric reptile, found near Baguio, P. I., has been reported by the University of the Philippines to be only a boulder shaped like a reptile's head.

Farm Programs Mapped in Short Courses Conducted at Eldorado

Special to The Record News.

ELDORADO, Okla., Nov. 20.—The first of a series of farmers short courses to be held in Eldorado this week was given at the Eldorado High school auditorium Tuesday afternoon, beginning at 1:30 by specialists from the A. & M. university at Stillwater. Similar program were held at the same time at Lincoln and Midway schools by other specialists of the extension department of A. & M. college.

Ira Holler, extension poultry man, discussed feed and methods of feeding for winter egg production. He declared that for highest egg production a balanced ration is essential. He also gave suggestions as to how farmers might use their surplus grain to best advantage in feeding their flocks by adding bone meat, meat scraps and oyster shell at small additional expense which would be more than offset by increased egg production.

Balance Urged

Dan Diehl, district agricultural agent, in discussing the subject of the economic problems of farmers, stressed the importance of a balanced farm program. He said that under present economic conditions any one crop system of farming can but fail from the start and that the successful farmer's program will embrace production of his living at home, also all food for flocks and livestock, and after having provided these essentials, then to consider what acreage to devote to cotton or wheat for a money crop. He also stressed the advantage of planting Austrian winter peas both as a forage crop and for enriching the soil, and urged that more attention be given this legume which is gaining so rapidly in popular favor.

The night program, which began at 7:45 Tuesday, consisted of talks by Miss Ester Martin, district home demonstration agent; Miss Martha McPheter, nutrition specialist and Ira J. Holler, poultry specialist.

Miss Martin stressed the importance of "limiting the family yearnings to the family earnings." Conservation of surplus garden products, and the canning of meats and fruits for use throughout the year she said should be included in the program of every farm home.

Miss McPheter's talk on nutrition covered many phases of the subject. Proper food habits for children are most essential, she said, for proper bone development and body growth. The importance of milk in the diet of old and young was emphasized. Other essential foods, she said, are green leaf vegetables, fruits and dairy products such as butter and eggs.

Ira J. Holler, in a discussion of proper housing for poultry, projected film pictures of the most approved plans, showing proper methods of ventillation, placing of mash hoppers, perches, nests, etc. He also explained need of frequent painting of perches and nests with mite and lice destroying preparations.

Wednesday morning an interesting demonstration on cheese making in the home was given by Miss Ruth Huffer, Jackson county home demonstration agent. Another interesting feature of the morning program was a talk on pastures and feeding of dairy cows by H. P. Moffitt, dairy specialist from A. & M. college.

The afternoon session Wednesday was called to order by Mrs. Raymond Leese, president of the Eldorado Farm Women's club.

A demonstration of the most approved methods of meat canning for the conservation of farm food resources was given by Miss Martha McPherter, extension food and nutrition specialist.

Miss Ester Martin discussed problems of farm women's organizations.

Feeding of sheep and beef cattle on winter pasture was the subject of a discussion by W. B. Forrester, Jackson county farm agent, who had discussed the same subject at Midway Tuesday night and at Midway Tuesday morning.

Fire Destroys Home On Iowa Park Road

Fire Friday night destroyed a five-room home, located about four miles out on the Iowa Park road, while members of the family were away, according to the report of city fire officials. Origin of the blaze was undetermined. Water was not available at the location. The home is said to be owned by a family by the name of Rone. Damage was estimated at $3,000.

CROWD ENJOYS THEATER PLAY

P.-T. A. Benefit Production Proves Success

By The Record News Critic

Before a highly appreciative audience which nearly filled the entire floor of the Memorial auditorium last night the Civic Theater Players gave Clare Kummer's "A Successful Calamity" for the benefit of the P.-T. A. lunch fund.

J. C. Straus Jr. proved himself again an able director. An able director is one who unfailingly picks the true type for the part and can drill his actors so that the whole performance clicks without a hitch and thereby becomes life-like.

Mr. Straus could not have chosen a better railroad magnate than H. H. Ferrell in the role of Henry Wilton. Mr. Ferrell registered Wilson's every mood with great artistry, his tiredness, his cheery moments and above all his coming out of a drugged daze. Harold White made a thoroughly respectful and sympathetic butler and friend. In Jennie Louise Hindman we have at last met the prototype of all French lady's maids, she was a charming vixen. Mary Virginia Barron's appealing voice and surprising sophistication made her ring true in her position as the young second wife of Henry Wilton. Drew McCulley convincingly portrayed an Italian artist, accent, gesticulation and all.

Golda Davis and Joan Fox were charming young society girls, Miss Davis having quite a hard time of it, as Marguerite Wilton, the girl with two fiances. From the choice of Paul Barnett Jr., who handled his part well as Eddie, the spoiled scion of the Wiltons' it is manifest that Mr. Straus pays great attention to detail, because on the stage he resembled his sister.

Ridley Maples, as the erratic fiance and Arvil Davis as the favored fiance were quite amusing. Gerald Coffey's second medical role within the year again gave him the opportunity to show how dignified a successful medico must be. A. F. Edwards as Wilton's partner in wealth was particularly good when in a perturbed mood, his "icebearing" was very amusing.

During the intermission little Peggy Jean Kimbrough gave a clever tap-dance, followed by two charming song numbers by another diminutive miss, Letitia Rose Keith, who has a surprisingly well-pitched and clear voice for one so small.

J. H. Allison thanked all those present for their support in buying tickets for this worthy cause, while H. D. Fillers expressed his gratitude to Tom Burnett for his generous assistance.

BENEFIT SHOWS TO AID NEEDY

Legion Members to Sell Tickets Today

Theaters in Wichita Falls are joining with theaters all over the United States Saturday in doing their bit for the unemployed. Funds taken in at the midnight matinees at the State and Majestic Saturday night at 11:30 and at the Gem matinee at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, will be turned over to the community chest fund to be used for relief of needy families and for the unemployed. Theater managers, operators and all persons connected with the movement are donating their services.

Special advance tickets may be purchased. The drive in Wichita Falls is part of the national committee working for unemployment relief.

Will Rogers will be shown in what is claimed to be his best show, "Ambassador Bill," at the Majestic. An added attraction will be a big stage show. The regular Majestic prices will prevail.

At the State, Ken Maynard will be shown in "Range Law," with special short features to add to the attraction. The regular Saturday price will prevail there. The Gem will have a morning matinee at 10 a. m., featuring Tim McCoy in "Shotgun Pass," where admission will be 20 cents.

The biggest money contribution naturally, is the show itself. It is difficult to find a feature picture that costs less than a million dollars. In addition to the shows, every theater is contributing its full facilities to the local relief fund.

A group of American Legion members will sell tickets on the streets today.

O'Conner Predicts House Leadership

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. (AP)—New York's candidate for the Democratic leadership in the house today expressed confidence he would win and saw his election as a step toward victory for the party's 1932 presidential nominee.

Representative John J. O'Connor, of the powerful Tammany delegation, said he had sufficient support throughout the border and northern states to assure him the important post should the Democrats organize the house and name John Garner, of Texas, speaker.

Although the red-haired, stocky-built New Yorker declined to discuss prohibition, he declared since the speakership would go to Garner, the leadership "should go to a northern liberal, if I might say.

"If the Democratic party is going to win the nation in the presidential election in 1932, they can't win without the North," O'Connor said.

BEAUTY IS NOT JUST A GIFT

For every woman who inherits beauty, there are five who win charm and good looks. Without health, there can be little natural beauty. And a serious handicap to health is constipation.

This widespread ailment often causes headaches, listlessness, sallow skins, pimples—undermining both health and beauty.

Yet constipation can be overcome by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. This delicious cereal provides "bulk," which gently clears out the wastes. And Vitamin B to tone up the intestinal tract. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in lettuce.

Try two tablespoonfuls daily—usually sufficient for most types of constipation. If you suffer from intestinal trouble not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

ALL-BRAN supplies iron for the blood. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Q.—What kind of a signal is used in motion picture studios to warn people that a sound picture is being taken?—P. R.

A.—In most of the studios there is on the walls near to the stage whereon the sound pictures are made, a flashing signal of a red light the purpose being to notify all within sight that the sound camera is in operation. On the jamb of many of the doors leading into the sound stages are signs somewhat resembling the exit signs in theaters, on which the word "Silence" is made to stand out. When the sound camera is in operation, these signs on the doors flash red.

Q.—How many companies are operating airplane service in this country?—G. P.

A.—On July 1, 1931, there were 42 companies engaged in the transportation of mail, passengers and express in the United States and to foreign countries in the western hemisphere. They operated 73 mail, 98 passenger, and 68 express routes, their planes flying about 140,000 miles every 24 hours.

Q.—Is Canada on a gold standard or did she change with England?—L. H. D.

A.—The change in the status of the British monetary system makes no difference to Canada's system because Canada still maintains the gold standard. The British unit is the pound; the Canadian unit the dollar. The Bank of England no longer is able to redeem pound notes at full face in gold; the Canadian treasury so far has been able to redeem its dollar currency at par. Canada has a separate government and a separate treasury, a separate coinage and a separate currency and a separate gold reserve.

Q.—Please explain the phenomenon of automobiles coasting up Magnetic hill near Los Angeles.—B. E. R.

A.—Automobiles do not coast uphill. The fact that they seem to is the result of an optical illusion produced by contrast in two grades. Such hills may be found wherever roads curve around large hills or mountains. The sharp contrast of two grades or two declines produces the illusion.

Q.—What is the easiest way to tell a goat from a sheep?—F. D. C.

A.—It is usually easy to distinguish them, but certain hair breeds of sheep are to the layman only distinguishable from goats by the direction of the tail, which is upward in goats and downward in sheep.

Q.—How was the Maine desert formed?—L. M. T.

A.—It was formed by a glacial lake or pool. Such a mass as this must have been deposited in a gradually enlarging pool or lake within the ice sheet. The Maine desert is solid and rather level on top. The smoothness of the surface may be in part due to the waves of the sea sweeping over it, since it occupies a position where it would be much exposed to the waves of the broad bay which then covered the valley of the Royal river to the south of it.

Q.—Do many people visit the Shrine of St. Ann de Beaupre?—F. W.

A.—This shrine in Quebec is visited yearly by many pilgrims seeking spiritual, mental, and bodily healing. The cathedral was destroyed by fire in 1922 but has been rebuilt on the same site.

Q.—What cities in China have more than a million population?—C. L. W.

A.—Hangchow, Hankow, Peiping, Hongkong and Shanghai.

The Record News Offers A Booklet on Fish And Seafoods

Twenty billion pounds of fish are taken from the sea every year and many more millions of pounds from rivers, creeks, lakes and ponds. The annual take for the United States and Alaska is estimated at three billion pounds, so it is seen that this country has proportionately its full share of this delicious and healthful food supply. However, more Americans would eat more fish if they knew more about the food, and to this end the Record News is offering its readers an illustrated booklet that contains a wealth of information.

A copy of this booklet will be sent to any address: Fill out the coupon below and enclose 10 cents in coin or stamps to cover cost and postage.

Transcontinental Road

A WEALTHY New Yorker the other day suggested the construction of an eight-billion-dollar toll highway across the United States; and while the nation could do with an addition to its network of good roads, the one proposed by this gentleman is a little appalling.

His highway would be 500 feet wide, from coast to coast. It would have 10 traffic lanes in each direction, with the speed limits on certain lanes ranging up to 100 miles an hour. It would be lined with 300 modern hotels and tourist camps, and what with one thing and another it would be quite a roadway.

Of course, an affair like this would make transcontinental motoring a swift and easy procedure. But there can be too much of a good thing. The law of diminishing returns can apply to roads as well as to anything else.

What motorist, desiring to drive across the country, would care to hit a 100-mile clip? What motorist, in his senses or out of them, would care to travel from one ocean to another on a strip of concrete 500 feet wide? What citizen, whether he drives an auto or not, can contemplate a highway like this without feeling a little bit dizzy?

The joys of touring do not arise solely from a smooth pavement and high speed. In constantly-increasing numbers, automobile owners are beginning to discover that a trip can be made much more enjoyable if the broad, well-paved and heavily-traveled main highways are dodged altogether. To stick to the back roads, taking stretches of gravel, worn-out macadam and plain dirt as they come, may be to travel slowly and to get a bit of a jolting; but it is also a fine way to enjoy the open country and making the trip mean something more than a mere progression from one spot to another.

Already the craze for rapid travel is beginning to diminish. The novelty of the automobile has worn off, and people are realizing that the pleasure of a cross-country drive is usually in inverse ratio to its speed. The man who sets out to drive from New York to San Francisco, and plans to rival the speed of the transcontinental trains, might better stay at home. The loafer, who doesn't care how long it takes him, has an infinitely better time.

College "Professionalism"

HARVARD UNIVERSITY athletic authorities have barred from Harvard stadium a radio announcer who recently referred to the playing of a Harvard football star as "putrid." In making public this action, the authorities pointed out that college football players, after all are young amateurs, and that it is quite out of place to comment on their performances as one would in the case of professionals.

This is quite true; and yet the growing tendency on the part of announcers, sports writers and the general public to treat college football players as professionals seems to us to be at least as much the colleges' fault as anyone's. No law compels any college to build a million-dollar stadium, to retain a dozen coaches on its staff or to hire a press agent to get news about its team in the papers. When a college does these things, can it really protest very convincingly when an unfeeling world applies the standards of professionalism in judging the work of its athletes?

What Is Moral?

NOTIONS of what is liberal in governmental supervision of community affairs differ. If you take the traffic in intoxicating liquor as a standard, the states below the Canadian border are exceedingly strict and the province of Ontario is very liberal.

But a magazine recently reported that Ontario has barred Greta Garbo's latest film, "Susan Lenox," as immoral; and that fact puts another aspect on the comparison. Few, if any, American states have turned thumbs down on the picture—although some of the state censorship boards, in the past, have certainly seemed to be strict enough for any one. Ontario, however, takes the opposite view.

Below the border, possibly, it is believed that a man is more easily ruined by what he drinks than by what he sees. North of the border the reverse is true. Is that the answer?

Let Warriors War

DR. WILLIAM MATHER LEWIS, president of Lafayette college, proposed the other day that if we ever have another war the draft should apply only to men between 40 and 60 years of age, and that members of cabinets, parliaments and congresses who brought about the war should be the first to be called; and whatever objections there might be from a military standpoint, this at least expresses a thought that a lot of people have been nourishing recently.

As Dr. Lewis points out, the men who make war never fight in it. That job is reserved for the youngsters. The older ones sit safely at home and talk about "fighting the war to the last man." Whatever else you can say about it, his plan would at least make the distribution of burdens a little more equitable.

Speakeasy Satyr

Old man Costello enters with an air,
He wears his shabby garments like a king;
His step is firm—the whiteness of his hair
Sets off the glowing eyes, still questioning;
Three drinks or four and he begins to spin
Fantastic tales of Ireland, long ago
Remembering the girls who loved him so.

One night he brought a slender book to me—
His name inscribed—I read the flowing rhyme
And gasped, "Ah, yes," he said, "I used to be
A writing fellow once upon a time."
Old man Costello will not want for drink—
While I have coins to spend, or brains to think!

Self-Preservation

When the Ziegfeld "Follies" decided to go on tour, four of the pretty unknowns who had been discovered and glorified by Ziegfeld, jumped over to another call for a new musical show.

Bobby Connolly, the dance master, heard of it—so the next day he called the entire ensemble on the stage of the Ziegfeld to offset the foursome attending the call.

Connolly then gave them a lecture on loyalty, and told them how ungrateful they were to the producer and his investment, and the publicity, and help he had given them. He told how unfair it was to desert a man and his investment, after they had been paid handsome wages during a depressing year.

Then four more jumped.

The Yidiom

In their current act Eddie Cantor calls George Jessell a Jewish gigolo, and one reader wonders why George doesn't call Eddie a Yidolo?

Oop!

"Whatever became of that cartoon gag by Don Walling which appeared in the Xmas number of last year's Judge? You know the gag I mean—where one guy is leaning over a sign which ends in 'men.'"

"Oh, that one! It's in the Marx Brothers' very funny movie 'Monkey Busines'—it's a panic!"

Hehehch

Fred Meier of the Cleveland News carried on a telegraph chat with Herb Jennings of the Loew's chain at Memphis.

"How many stage hands," wired Jennings, "did Maude Adams use at the Ohio theater?"

"Twenty-nine," replied Fred.

"Why did they have to use so many?"

"To carry Maude Adams and Otis Skinner on and off the stage!"

Newspaper Man Stuff

Gilbert Seldes, one of the better commentators, says he began his writing career with the "Get the punch in the first line!" slogan. He says that he fought against it and wasn't a good reporter.

Mr. Seldes then discusses "Schwanda," the new opera at the Met, "which shows," reports Mr. Seldes, "the devil in his business office in Hell—reading a gossip column."

But who's gossip col'm, Mr. Seldes—Beatrice Fairfax's?

Things That Burn Me Up And Knock Me Cold!

"Dear Mr. Winchell: On Nov. 6, 1931, I picked up a girl in B'klyn and was directed to drive to No. 14 E. 60th St.—which I was told was your apartment. The amount of the ride was $2.40. I am still waiting for my money. The girl who rode in my cab is the same who was arrested for trying to beat a taxi driver out of his money when she chased a well known actor. I work for a cab system which requires every driver to turn over every nickel that the meter registers.

"I'm writing this to you because—you're the only one who knows her, as she claimed. She gave me the name of Miss Irene Vanity, Piccadilly hotel, room 833, but she checked out there. Respectfully yours, Abraham Turetsky, No. 50 Clinton St., N. Y. C."

"P. S.—I've got three kiddies who can use that $2.40 as well."

Dear Mr. Turetsky: Thanks for your letter. I do not know the person you name nor do I live at that address.

Miss Vanity may now be reached, however, at the psycopathic ward of Bellevue hospital.

Merciless Truth

A headache and a heartache, observes L. Meltzer, are two things—only the stock market and a woman can give you at the same time.

The Win-nah!

Melville Hammett, of the City Club of New York, offers the ace simile of the year: "As cheerful as Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., when he learned of the abrupt closing (after one week) of Peter Arno's show 'Here Goes the Bride!'"

Ouch!

Before Billy Rose's musical show went on the road, the producer hired legal aid to keep exclusive his new numbers, such as "I Found a Million Dollar Baby," etc. They were off the market for fear the constant plugging would hurt the value of the song before the revue hit Chicago.

Only one artist bootlegged "Million Dollar Baby." He was James Hall, ex-movie actor, who was doing MC work in a Chicago picture palace before the show "Crazy Quilt" hit the Windy City.

Rose and Hall met for the first time at a party the other evening and Rose was quick to advise Hall that his use of the number was not only unethical and unprofessional, but pediculous!

Hall became furious. He stood up and shook a finger at Rose:

"How dare you say that to me," the wired-for-sound-man yelled at Rose, "I had intended sending you a bill for the good I did the number when I sang it!"

The Retort Proper

It was one of those apartment parties and Harry Green, the chinema actor, found a party-pest in his hair.

He finally rebuked the annoyer. "Go away!" screamed Harry, "you distress me!"

"I'll have you understand," replied the pest, "that I'm in the Social Register!"

That makes rotten reading, too!" Green groaned.

MONDAY: "The Girl Who Roller Skates on Her Hands."

"A FREE SOUL" By ADELA ROGERS ST. JOHN

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY INTERNATIONAL MAGAZINE CO. INC. — DISTRIBUTED BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

SYNOPSIS

Stephen Ashe is one of the greatest lawyers in the West. He puts his heart and soul into every case he fights and never rests until it is over. He adores his motherless daughter, Jan, and prefers living with her at the St. Francis hotel to sharing the Ashe mansion with his austere old mother. Jan is in love with Ace Wilfong. The couple had met years before when the boy, a barefoot urchin of 12, sold flowers at the entrance to the Ashes' private dining room at Tait's. Jan was only 7 then, but years after she never saw violets without thinking of him. Ace, then called Jack, sold papers and flowers to help his mother when her husband deserted her and her five children. Six years later, Jan arrives at her father's suite at the St. Francis in a fit of anger. There she finds three men. Two of them are Dwight Sutro, a young lawyer in her father's employ, whom Aunt Dorothea looks upon with favor as a match for Jan, and Mac, Stephen's bodyguard. The third man, Mr. Channing, Republican candidate for governor of California, is anxiously waiting for Stephen. He faces a scandal which threatens his political career. Jan asks them to leave and return later. Then she enters her father's room and finds him fresh and immaculate in spite of a night of dissipation. She is furious with him for getting intoxicated and leaving her at a roadhouse the night before. Stephen's weakness is liquor which he takes to alleviate his mental strain.

CHAPTER VI

A man's life. His responsibility—a man's life, innocent or guilty. No surgeon ever strained so beneath that load. For a surgeon fights against nature itself. But Stephen Ashe, so he thought, fought only against human beings for the life of a fellow man.

But they had acquitted in the end. The accused man, a thin little man grown thinner in jail, had wept, and his wife kissed Stephen Ashe's hands in the courtroom.

No wonder, when it was all over, that Stephen Ashe began to drink. Never drank while he was trying a case. Afterwards, he had to let down. It was so darn difficult, Jan reflected, curling her knees up under her chin, for dad to relax. Too tensely constructed, that man. Geared too high. He couldn't turn his brain on and off like an electric current. When it had been keyed up like that for a long time, he had to slide down the easy stream of alcohol into a golden tranquility, before he could rest.

There was a knock. Mac stood in the doorway. "Everything all right?" he asked briefly.

"Hell's bells!" said Jan. "Why shouldn't it be? Get out of here and let me sleep."

Defiance tinged her stare. Not even to Mac would she confide the happenings of the night before. Not even with him would she discuss her fear.

"Do you think we'll go down to L. A. to try this Channing case?" she asked suddenly.

"Shouldn't be surprised."

Jan considered. "That'll be fun," she said.

Mac nodded, went out, shutting the door with ponderous quietness. And instantly Jan was fast asleep, her head so bright in the darkened room that it looked more like the sun reflected in a mirror and thrown upon the pillow, than just a head of boy-girl hair.

Dorothea Joliffe, having come to San Francisco from her home in Burlingame for some shopping, decided to stop at her mother's for tea.

As her limousine swung up Geary toward Van Ness, Mrs. Joliffe realized that she was in a state of exasperation that would probably undo all the good her facial had done, and that the cause of it was, as usual, her niece Jan Ashe. But really it was too much. A girl of 13 roaming about free on a school day and lunching in public with a notorious actress like Madame Kirchner was bad enough. But, when she revealed to her aunt her disgraceful plan for accompanying her father to Los Angeles for the trial of this filthy Channing case, it was too much.

Mrs. Joliffe crystallized her determination to make her mother see the necessity for some immediate action, and once within the Ashe mansion she wasted no time.

"Mama, I've come to talk to you about Jan," said Dorothea.

They were in Mrs. Ashe's sitting room, upstairs, the heavy silver tea service between them. Mrs. Joliffe had found Grace with her mother and decided that it was a fortunate circumstance. Grace lived across the bay in San Rafael and seldom came into San Francisco, and when she did come held aloof from worldly matters; but Dorothea felt sure she would be on her side in this manner. A preacher's wife could scarcely be anywhere else.

Mrs. Ashe looked at Dorothea haughtily. The only sign of the agitation produced in her by the mention of Jan's name showed in the slight clatter of the tea cup as she put it back in its saucer. Old hands betray the strongest will.

"What is it, Dorothea?" she said, in her thin, concise voice.

Dorothea's story, which began with the doorman at the St. Francis and ended with Madame Kirchner and the Channing case, lost nothing in the telling.

"I do not see—" began Mrs. Ashe, pressing her delicate odd finger-tips together.

But Dorothea broke in upon her, exasperation overcoming her common sense. "You must see, mama. It's a family disgrace. Jan has the manners of a barmaid and if things go on like this she'll have the morals of one. She's not only spoiled and impudent, she's entirely wild, and if she isn't sent to a good school pretty soon where they'll take that out of her we'll all suffer for it."

Mrs. Ashe stiffened perceptibly. "You interrupted me, Dorothea," she said, "and I do not like to be interrupted. I do not see how any harm can come to a girl who has such a devoted father. Surely it is a great privilege for a girl to be associated with a mind like that. Her manner to me has always been—passable. I think you exaggerate, Dorothea. You have always been given to exaggeration."

Dorothea looked upon the small, stiff figure and became speechless. As usual mama was simply going to ignore the thing. Nobody could make mama see what she didn't want to see or believe what she didn't want to believe. Facts were powerless before that will of hers to avoid the unpleasant.

Suddenly Grace leaned forward, bringing her kind, sincere face before the frozen old eyes. "Mama, darling," she said gently, "Stephen is a wonderful man, but he is only a man and he can't realize what a little girl needs. I believe he would be grateful to us if we saved him from letting Jan grow up a wild, undisciplined little tomboy, and made her instead a lady, like you, mama."

A delicate flush touched the wrinkled cheek. "Naturally," said Deborah Ashe, "my granddaughter must be a lady. Do—do you really think she is in any danger, Grace?"

She paused uncertainly and Grace thought for the first time that she was beginning to break ever so little.

"Yes, I do, mama," she said. "It is a criminal atmosphere in which she is being brought up."

"Criminal?" The old voice froze again.

"Mary, darling, you remember what Pope says in his essay on Man, 'Vice is a monster of so frightful mien, as to be hated needs but to be seen. But seen too oft, familiar with her face, we first endure, then pity, then embrace.' My James thinks that people who are continually in sympathy with those who are fighting the law or have broken it are apt to become enemies of the law themselves."

"The law has always been considered an honorable profession in my experience," said Mrs. Ashe bitterly. "Your father was a lawyer."

"But not a criminal lawyer." Grace was trembling now, but she stuck to her guns.

"Everyone," said Mrs. Ashe, "is entitled to an adequate defense, under the laws of our land."

"I'm afraid"—Grace laughed ruefully—"I'm afraid Stephen's defenses are a little more than adequate. At any rate, dear little Jan is at an age when her whole character will be molded by the things she sees and hears, and I cannot feel that she has the right thought around her."

Dorothea shrugged her handsome shoulders. "She'll be debassee before she's a debutante," she said, "and the family name, that mama has always been so proud of, will be dragged through some terrible scandal. You were always so strict with Grace and me, mama. It didn't matter that you ever could and still can't see that anything Stephen does is wrong. He's a man. But Jan's a girl."

The old lady looked at them in the gathering darkness, recharging her courage between pressed finger tips. "Perhaps we had better talk to Stephen," she said.

Stephen Ashe was commanded to his mother's for a family dinner.

"And me thinks," said he to Jan, "that you are the thorn in the family side. I was requested not to bring you. Your Aunt Dorothea has invited you to spend the night with her two little darlings."

"I shan't," said Jan, who, having decided that her life would be incomplete unless she could play the saxophone, was deep in strange and futile noises. "Beastly little worms they are. I wonder they have the courage to go on living."

So upon the evening of the dinner he found her curled among heaps of pillows in her bed, surrounded by the saxophone, a basket of figs, Masefield's poems, and Carlyle's "French Revolution."

He bent and kissed her. "Don't forget your dinner," he said.

She gazed up at him over a large, purple fig. "You look grand. I'm glad I'm not going. There will probably be a fearful row."

But there was nothing even resembling a row until they gathered in the drawing room after dinner.

Stephen Ashe went to stand with his back toward the fire and the old lady's heart swelled with pride at sight of him there, her only son. Though she had never realized the idealism of the face, she did not miss the pure brightness of its flame.

He listened quietly while they spoke of Jan.

When she finished with, "Stephen, you must put the child in a good school," he only smiled at her.

"You must think of her good, dear," said Grace, looking for inspiration toward her quiet husband. "She needs a woman's care."

"I can't see that her good would be served," said Stephen Ashe dangerously, "by turning her over to some narrow-minded female."

LIONS PLAN YULE PARTY

Arrangements Start for Children's Festival

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Nov. 20.—At the Lions club luncheon Thursday a committee composed of J. M. Hemby, E. D. Kelly, H. S. Stewart and Dr. P. E. Fish was appointed to make arrangements for the annual Christmas party the club gives for the children.

E. E. Rogers announced that arrangements had been made for the club to assist in selling tickets for the show, "Alexander Hamilton," to be presented at the Grand theater, Nov. 24-25. The club will share in the proceeds, it was announced. A. I. Glassman, O. M. Lambert, J. P. Doherty, and E. E. Rogers were appointed to be in charge of the ticket sale.

H. T. S. Totten announced that the Lions signs of "Don't Kill a School Child" which appear near the schools should be repainted in view of the accident Wednesday that took the life of a small schoolboy. Dr. R. R. Ramey, C. W. Scheurer and E. D. Kelly were appointed to arrange for the repainting.

Julien C. Hyer, Fort Worth, president of Lions International, has been secured to give the principal address at the Lions-seniors banquet to be given next March. In observance of "Old Monarch Week" a number of former memebers were present Thursday and will be reinstated in the club. They were T. E. Shaw, W. C. P'Pool, J. H. Harris, Clifford Dodson, R. D. Cunningham, T. B. Gilbert, Roy LeBus and H. S. Stewart. Dr. F. R. Collard of Wichita Falls discussed the sale of Christmas sales for the benefit of the tuberculosis association. A poem written by C. C. Hudson of Iowa Park dedicated to Rev. Clark Russell who is transferring his membership from the Iowa Park club to Electra was read. Miss Lucille Hodge was presented in tap dance numbers and Misses Letrice Wofford, Frances McDannald, Faye Andrews and Veta Catherine Hopkins in popular song numbers.

Awards Made in Pantry Contest

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Nov. 20.—The 4-H pantry contest as conducted in the home demonstration clubs throughout the country, through ehe extension service of the Texas A. & M. college, ended Tuesday, Nov. 17, with the judging of eight demonstrations. This contest, including food production, food preservation and food preparation, closed a collection of these products over a period of 12 months. The project was under the supervision of Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent.

The winning pantry was prepared by Mrs. M. C. Martin of the Salisberry club, who won by a small margin over Mrs. A. Gidden of the Lodge club. Mrs. J. A. Clemment of the Purple Hill club won third place.

Before beginning on the pantry the club women had to prepare a canning budget for the family for the non-productive months in order that a balanced diet would be assured throughout the year. In order to meet the requirements of the budget, at least a half-acre garden had to be planted and crop rotation carefully planned; at least 60 pullets for the egg supply, and hogs, beef and mutton for the meat supply for the canning to be provided.

Sunset News

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, Nov. 20.—Orth Yowell of Stoneburg, a 4-H club member, is making a fine record as a young farmer. In the beginning, he is laying the kind of a foundation that every farmer ought to have. He is carefully studying the cost of production, the most profitable kinds of feeds for livestock and poultry, and the best economical methods of feeding them. He is giving close attention to the growing and fattening qualities of different breeds and grades of livestock and poultry, and he is keeping record of all expenses and profits. By referring to his record, he can readily give an account of the cost and profit of each hog or chicken he has raised and sold.

Since he began as a club member three years ago, Orth has been interested in winning prizes in hog-raising contests, and has succeeded in winning every year. The first year, he won the state championship in the ton litter contest. Last year and this his work as a hog producer won for him a high place among the winning club members of the state. One of the interesting facts is that he produces almost all of the feed on which his hogs are fed while growing and fattening. By producing the feed for his hogs, instead of buying it, he gets $200 or more every year for his labor in connection with his hog growing enterprise.

Orth is also taking a great interest in the production of poultry. He has more than a thousand hens and pullets which will likely lay many dollars worth of eggs during the winter, and he will perhaps set a large number of eggs next spring.

Under the supervision of Superintendent O. W. Myers, the Sunset High school pupils recently began the publication of The Tattler, a bimonthly school paper. The chief editor, Miss Joette Burleson, states that the paper will be enlarged as soon as time can be given to the study and preparation of suitable material. The paper is circulated in Sunset and vicinity by pupils of the school. Members of the staff are Joette Burleson, editor in chief; Opal Madoozie, Cora Brewer, Lucille Chambers and Evelyn Deel, associate editors; Margaret McFarling, art editor; Christine Yager, jokes editor, and Virgil McFarling, advertising manager.

STORMS STRIKE IN ARKANSAS

Damage and Torrential Rain Mark Disturbance

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 20. (AP)—High winds struck in two widely departed sections of South Arkansas early today and caused considerable property damage and injured five persons.

Pine Bluff was swept by a wind which dipped several times, damaging or wrecking several houses and demolishing a store at Reydel near Pine Bluff. Another Reydel store was left standing at a 45-degree angle.

Near the scene of a 1927 tornado which wrecked the town of Strong in Union county, several buildings were wrecked and a family of three were caught in the debris of their farm house. They were injured only slightly.

Apparently the same storm moved into Bradley county and blew down farm houses.

Rains which in some places amounted almost to cloudbursts and heavy rains were general over the state. More than four inches of rain fell in some places within a few hours.

A heavy windstorm struck Wilmar, unroofing several houses and blowing a large tree upon a house in which two youths were sleeping, injuring them slightly.

Everett Turbeville, his wife and their child were hurt slightly as the storm struck near Strong and razed their home.

Nine-year-old Opal Williams, who was seriously injured several years ago at West Frankfort, Ill., in a tornado which took her mother's life, managed to stay in bed when the wind hit her grandmother's two-story house at Pine Bluff and moved it 25 feet from its foundation.

Six other persons were in the house and none was hurt although their beds were shifted about as the house was lifted and set down again.

Opal came to live with her grandmother after her mother's death.

Oklahoma Solon to Seek Oil Tariff

ADA, Okla., Nov. 20. (AP)—A resolution for a compact to regulate domestic oil production and provide for an automatic tariff on oil imports will be introduced in congress next month by Representative Tom D. McKeown of Ada, he announced today.

McKeown, who will leave for Washington tomorrow, said his proposed resolution would be the first test of Governor Murray's plan for a league of oil states tied to the federal government by compact. Under the plan, the states would curb production and the government would limit imports.

"The oil producing states," McKeown said, "would agree to curtailment and a tariff on oil would be effective during the period of curtailment. I will support an embargo on oil, also."

Heuer and Barcume, who were arrested at Hawk Point, Mo., as two of the suspects in the $2,000 holdup of the Winfield, Mo., Banking company, were taken to Troy, Mo., where Omer Avery, prosecuting attorney of Lincoln county, identified them as the sought alleged kidnapers.

HI JOHNSON TO OPPOSE HOOVER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. (INS)—In perfect health and announcing himself a "bloc of one," Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican of California, returned to the capitol today and immediately made known that he would lead the movement in opposition to President Hoover's one-year moratorium on foreign debts.

Johnson declared he would fight every effort of the administration to supercede domestic problems by international matters.

He also is considering demanding a senatorial investigation in the foreign security holdings by Wall street bankers, to uncover how much they would gain by a suspension of payments by the foreign debtors to the American government.

Japanese Build to Overcome Quakes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. (AP)—Steel frame buildings, strongly braced and built on solid slab foundations, are being relied upon by Japan to prevent a repetition of Tokyo's 1,023 earthquake disasters.

The first detailed description of the new principles worked out to overcome the frequent ground shocks was given American engineers last night by Prof. Kyoji Suyehiro, director of the earthquake research institute of the Tokyo Imperial university.

The professor explained that earthquakes shake a building two different ways—free vibration and forced vibration. The first gives the structure a pendulum motion while the second snaps it like a whip so the top is moving in one direction while the ground slides in the other.

The slab foundation on soft ground, together with diagonal bracing of the steel frame, allows the buildings to move as a unit.

GOTHAM HOLDS DIXIE STARS

Celebrities From South Are Clannish

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. (AP)—The call of Broadway is stronger than the call of the Southland for scores of celebrities in the theatrical world who hail from Dixie.

They are a clannish group, these pilgrims from below the Mason and Dixon line, and once on Broadway more than several have found their Broadway destinies intertwined with those of others from the cotton belt.

When Tallulah Bankhead left her childhood homes in Huntsville and Montgomery, Ala., to seek a stage career, it was another Alabaman who gave her the first big opportunity. Arch Selwyn, producer from Birmingham, gave her one of her first parts, and then advised her to go to London and make a name for herself, instead of staying on Broadway. Last spring she returned home as a major stage star and then went into the movies.

Texas Guinan, once of Waco, Texas, became the first queen of New York's night life, and it was largely due to the efforts of another Wacoan that her reign ended.

That raucous merrymaking of stay-up-lates in Miss Guinan's clubs continually had her in trouble with the police. Most of her cases were prosecuted by former District Attorney Joab Banton, who began his law career in Waco.

Paul Green, college professor at the University of North Carolina, found his playwriting destiny cooperating with that of Lynn Riggs of Claremore, Okla.

Mrs. Pinchot Quits As G. O. P. Director

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 20. (AP)—Mrs. Gifford Pinchot retains her membership in the Pennsylvania council of Republican women but is no longer a director.

Her resignation was accepted last night and Mrs. William Anderson Aspinwall named to succeed her.

Mrs. Pinchot resigned yesterday for the second time within two days. Her first resignation as "a protest against overloading the board with organization members," was followed yesterday morning by her re-election.

The second resignation reiterated the charge of favoring organization as opposed to independent members for positions on the directorate. This, Mrs. Pinchot said, was clearly shown in the election of the board yesterday of Mrs. Clarence A. Beck, Easton.

Hoarding of Money Decreasing, Federal Reserve Report Shows

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. (INS)—Another decrease in money circulation amounting to $46,000,000 for the week ending Nov. 18, with an increase in the monetary gold stocks in the same period of $24,000,000 announced by the federal reserve board, gave further cheer to the financial outlook today.

In two weeks money in circulation has declined $72,000,000, and gold increased $59,000,000. Money circulation Nov. 18 was $5,471,000,000, an increase of $969,000,000 over the same period last year. This was the first time in several weeks that circulation has been less than a billion dollars under last year. Monetary gold stocks now are $4,370,000,000.

Officials see in the second successive week of decreased circulation a fairly strong indication that hoarding of money has been halted and that there has been a substantial increase in confidence in the banking structure.

DUNCAN GAS RATE REDUCED

Company Asks City to Help Cut Source Cost

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Nov. 20.—Domestic gas rates here have been cut to 50 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for at least six months, the Southwestern Light and Power company announced Thursday. The present rate is 54 cents.

At the same time, S. I. McElhoes, vice president and general manager of the Southwestern, asked cooperation of reduction in the gate rate paid the Consolidated Gas Service company by the Southwestern.

McElhoes said his company was paying 25 cents per 1,000 cubic feet at the gate and felt that this charge was excessive. He said any reduction made in this rate would be passed on to Duncan consumers.

Cooperation of the civic body was pledged, but President M. E. Culp said he did not consider the 50-cent rate satisfactory and that the cut did not meet recent demands of the chamber for "a fair and reasonable rate" here.

TILLMAN TAX CUT PREDICTED

Excise Board to Hold Final Session Today

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Nov. 20.—Final session of the Tillman county excise board is expected to be held Saturday, according to the members, Mark Anthony of Frederick, Ed M. Cason of Hollister and F. M. Rosebloom of Grandfield. These members have been busy for some time trying to make the budgets for the different units come within their financial limits.

Total assessed value of the county this year is $18,840,238 compared with $20,997,123 last year. It is divided as follows: Personal, $1,424,136; real estate, $14,872,038; corporations $2,544,064. Last year it was divided as follows: Personal, $1,824,730; real estate, $16,839,791; corporations $2,332,602.

It is expected the board will make the general tax levy less than the limit, 4 mills, for the first time in several years.

This reduction is made necessary because of the $2,000,000 valuation loss, mostly due to the 10 per cent blanket reduction in real estate. Failed banks and other business concerns and smaller stocks carried by concerns also contributed materially to this loss.

If plans of the excise board are finally approved it will mean a slash of $21,955.64 from the highway fund. Originally $121,955.64 was asked for including $10,000 for cooperating in the construction of the farm-to-market roads. This will leave about $90,000 for the county highways.

A .5 mill cut in township levies, as contemplated, means a total saving of $7,000 for the county.

REAGAN REDBIRDS SWAMP ZUNDY, 28-0, IN TITLE BATTLE

FLOCK PROVES TOO POWERFUL

Flashy Running Game Thrills 1,500 Fans

By FRED THOMPSON
Record News Sports Editor

A hard-plunging, heavier bunch of Redbirds from Reagan Junior High school regained junior schoolboy supremacy in Wichita Falls yesterday at Athletic park with a decisive 28 to 0 defeat of a plucky but light Zundelowitz Junior High school eleven. The Reagan victory in this city's annual classic between the two teams gave the Redbirds the championship of the Northwest Texas Junior High school conference, in addition to the city title.

The beating Reagan administered Zundy was the most decisive since 1928, when the Redbirds whipped Zundelowitz 38 to 0. In 1929 the teams tied, 7-all, and last year Zundy won by a single touchdown, 7 to 0.

At no time during yesterday's thrilling battle did the Zundy machine threaten the Reagan goal, never getting within their opponent's 20-yard stripe. Reagan piled up a grand total of 19 first downs to Zundy's five, and those figures reflect accurately the strength of the two combatants. A powerful Reagan backfield composed of Smith, Yeakley, Stengel and West, with Creecy operating splendidly on an end-around play ate up yard after yard as the Reagan line widened holes in the Zundy forward wall.

1,500 See Game

About 1,500 people, including enthusiastic bands and pep squads from both teams, saw the contest.

Both teams played raggedly the greater part of the game. Zundy gave up what few scoring chances came its way on fumbles, while Reagan passed up several opportunities to increase the margin of victory by fumbles while deep in Zundy's territory.

Though they were crowded and pushed about from the very start, the Zundy team at times showed surprising strength and time and again held the heavy Redbirds for downs within the shadow of their own goal line.

In the scoreless first period, Reagan passed up two chances to score. After an exchange of punts at the start, Rusk of Zundy recovered a bad fumble by West of Reagan. They made up for this loss a few plays later when a Reagan player pounced on a bad pass from the Zundy center and this was followed by a lateral pass, Smith to Creecy to Robinson that was good for 15 yards and a first down on the 41-yard line. West bucked through the line for five yards but again fumbled, Marshall of Zundy recovering on his 35-yard line. After two stabs at the line, the Zundy center again got off a bad pass but Weidman punted out of danger.

Zundy Stops Charge

Reagan then started a drive from the 50-yard line that was stopped only on the 10-yard line, where the Zundy team held Reagan for downs as the quarter ended.

Zundy was unable to gain, however, and again was forced to punt, Smith returning 10 yards to Zundy's 40-yard line. The Redbirds then proceeded to mark up the first touchdown of the game, with the aid of a 15-yard penalty inflicted on Zundy for interfering with a pass receiver. The penalty gave Reagan the ball on the 29-yard line. West, Stengel, Yeakley and Smith on successive plunges earned a first down on the five-yard line, and it took them four plays to net that distance, West finally taking it over. Smith drop kicked beautifully for the extra point.

Reagan followed through after the ensuing kickoff and promptly scored again. Three plays after Zundy had received the kickoff James fumbled and Stone of Reagan recovered on the 40-yard line. A triple lateral pass, Smith to Creecy to Yeakley gained about 10 yards and long gains by Robinson and West gave Reagan a first down on the 16-yard line. The combined efforts of Robinson, Yeakley and West on three plays took the leather to about the seven-yard line, and Zundy drew an offside penalty of five yards, pushing them back to about one yard of their goal. West again dove through the middle for the touchdown. Smith's drop kick failed, to make the score Reagan 13, Zundy 0.

Runner Called Back

When West of Reagan made the next kickoff Clements of Zundy received but made a backward pass to Maag as he was about to be smothered by a flock of Redbirds. His pass hit the ground before Maag received it and Smith of Reagan picked it up, racing 30 yards to Zundy's goal, but the ball was called back as the pass had been grounded. The half ended a short time later with the ball in Zundy's possession on their 25-yard line.

In the third period Zundy was again pushed steadily back toward their goal line, but when Reagan reached the 12-yard stripe Zundy held. Three line play failing to make the necessary yardage, Smith of Reagan dropped back to his 15-yard line and drop kicked a field goal to add three points to his team's score.

The Redbirds continued their scoring spree in the fourth period, ringing up their final two markers. The first came early after the kickoff opening the second half, with Creecy on end-around plays, and West on straight off-tackle bucks netting most of the yardage. Robinson went over for the first touchdown of the quarter after a sweeping end-around run of about 10 yards by Creecy had placed the ball in good scoring position. Smith's drop kick was no good, and the score stood Reagan 22, Zundy 0.

The Final Score

The final Reagan score came as the result of Maag's fumble of a Reagan punt on his own 20-yard line. Smith booted the ball from about midfield and when Maag failed to hold it Creecy recovered for Reagan. Yeakley, Creecy, Smith and West on four plays made a first down on the 11-yard line. After West had picked up three off his right tackle Reagan drew a five-yard penalty but Creecy's end-around run made up for the distance lost and West followed with a smash through the middle that netted a first down about an inch or so away from the goal. West took it over on the next play, Smith's drop kick failed and the final score was Reagan 28, Zundy 0. The ball was in midfield at the final gun.

BEARCATS MEET FIRST DEFEAT

Loss Erases Hope for State Title

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Nov. 20.—The powerful Grandfield, Okla., Bearcats, whose goal line until tonight had been uncrossed by state teams, and who had put in a serious bid for the mythical championship of the state, met a crushing defeat at the hands of an inspired Duncan eleven in a battle staged under the lights here tonight. The score was 20 to 6.

The defeat wipes out Grandfield's claim for the state title, as its rival for state-wide honors, Lawton, defeated Altus today by a top-heavy score.

The Duncan team, which has played erractically all season, losing out in its own conference by a 13-12 defeat recently administered by Yukon, happened to be "right" tonight, and a succession of power plays mixed with passes furnished an offense that matched their tough defense. Grandfield was held scoreless until the final quarter, although the Bearcats threatened seriously toward the last of the first half, the gun ending the period with the leather on Duncan's five-yard line.

Pendleton chalked up the first Duncan touchdown in the first quarter on a pass from Allison. Reasor kicked the extra point. Pendleton also made the second marker in the second period on an end run. Reasor missed the try for point. In the third quarter Reasor went over for the third touchdown and made the extra point.

Grandfield's sole touchdown came as the result of a brisk aerial attack, Gilger going over with a pass from Creighton. Creighton's try for extra point failed.

The Grandfield passing attack was excellent throughout the game and was a constant menace to the lead the Duncan boys had rolled up.

Tonight's defeat was the first of the season for Grandfield.

Shamrock Whips Mobeetie, 47 to 0

Special to The Record News.

SHAMROCK, Texas, Nov. 20.—The Shamrock Irish swamped the Mobeetie High school team under a 47 to 0 score here this afternoon in a practice game.

Neither team scored in the first quarter. However, the Irish started wearin' the green when the second period opened, and before the half closed had run over three touchdowns. A fourth scorer was chalked up in the third quarter, while the final period was marked with an added 21 points gained with three touchdowns and three extra points.

Shamrock used its entire squad of substitutes in the Mabeetie game, saving the regulars for the game with Wheeler Wednesday.

Bumpers did exceptionally attractive field running today, making numerous long gains by that method.

Graham Beats Bowie, 31-7, to Go Into Second Place District 4 Tie

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Nov. 20.—The Graham High school was one game closer to a district championship here this afternoon, after defeating the Bowie eleven with the decisive score of 31 to 7.

After getting away to a start that resulted in 19 points in the first quarter, Graham rested the regulars and ran in a string of substitutes, to conserve force with the Weatherford aggregation here Monday. A win over Weatherford will entitle the locals to play the Fort Worth Masonic home for the district championship.

The second string lineup battered away for the remainder of the game and obtained two more touchdowns to result in the overwhelming victory.

Four of the Graham markers were made with running plays, and the first came on a pass from Nicklas to Bigham. Bowie's passing attack failed to function against the Young county team.

Today's victory for the Steers put Graham in a tie with Weatherford for second place, necessitating a play-off.

Stamford Beats Haskell, 12 to 7

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Nov. 20.—The Stamford Bulldogs won the championship of the eastern half of district 9, here this afternoon by defeating the Haskell Indians, 12-7.

Stamford scored first in the second quarter, when Bounds plunged over after a series of power plays. The game remained without further scores until the final period, when a Haskell pass, Smith to Herren, was good for 45 yards and a touchdown. Herren kicked the extra point.

The Indians held the one-point lead only briefly. The Bulldogs took the ball and marched down the field, and with only four minutes to go, placed the ball across the Indian goal line, to win the struggle.

Neither team was greatly successful at the passing game. Stamford completed five passes out of a total of 17 tries.

Smith did exceptional punting for the Indians, and his work probably held the Bulldog score down. He averaged 37 yards.

Of the two passes completed by the visitors, one resulted in a touchdown, while the second placed the ball on the Bulldog 25-yard line. The Indian, however, could not put this one across.

The line-ups:

MEMPHIS, Texas, Nov. 20.—Memphis copped the last game of the season to the tune of 19 to 13 with the powerful Wellington Skyrockets today. Memphis played the hardest game of the season. Wellington tsarted scoring in the second quarter. Flannery, Cyclone end, gave the fans a thrill soon after when he ran 88 yards for touchdown. Sanders accounted for the extra point. Wellington also made the first touchdown of second half.

SEYMOUR BEATS MUNDAY, 32-0

Panthers Have Little to Worry About

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, Nov. 20.—Playing every man on the local squad at some time during the game, the Seymour High Panthers overpowered the Munday Moguls here Friday afternoon by a count of 32-0.

Second-string players comprised the local entry during the first two periods, and they compiled but one touchdown. Limbering up in the second half, the Panther regulars amassed a quartet of touchdowns before giving way again to the scrubs. During this period, Harrison took a fordward pass and added a run of 30 yards for one of the scores.

While the Seymour backfield functioned smoothly, Hardy and Harrison, ends, and Richman and Porter, guards, were effective in erasing the Munday defense.

Chilton, Hughes and Hoosier, local regulars who have been on the sidelines for several days with injured shoulders, got into the game for only a few minutes.

Seymour will engage the Burkburnett Bulldogs on the local gridiron in a Thanksgiving Day battle.

SARASOTA, Fla., Nov. 20. (US)—Gen. Smedley D. Butler, formerly of the marine corps, tonight was placed under the care of a physician here.

Butler first insisted upon making a scheduled speech, but his doctor warned that he was near a nervous breakdown, and ordered him to bed. The former marine general said:

"I must be about at the end of my string from what the doctor said, but I'll be all right."

General Butler is near the end of a speaking tour which took him to 43 cities in 48 days.

QUANAH WINS OVER CROWELL

But Wildcats Hold Score To 19-0

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Nov. 20.—Crowell High school's class B organization afforded the Quanah High Indians plenty of stiff opposition in their encounter here Friday afternoon, forcing the locals to their limit to win a 19-0 victory.

Marsalis, slender Indian halfback, appropriated the day to himself so far as scores were concerned, carrying the oval over for each and all of Quanah's three touchdowns. Jones, end, booted the extra point on Marsalis' first marker.

Faircloth, Indian quarterback, paved the way for the first two of Marsalis' touchdowns with long runs which placed the ball near the goal line. The third was the result of a steady advance down the field on spin plays through the line. Quanah's second quarter was scoreless, due primarily to numerous fumbles which wasted scoring opportunities. Fumbles also marred the winners' play in the fourth period.

Norman, left end for Quanah, retired after the first three minutes of play because of a leg injury sustained while galloping around end on a 40-yard jaunt. The injury is not expected to prove serious. Cox, regular halfback, also spent the afternono on the bench with a cauliflower ear.

Quanah will engage Childress next Thursday.

Albany Nears Title By Beating Moran

Special to The Record News.

ALBANY, Texas, Nov. 20.—After a scoreless first quarter Albany High put over five touchdowns on Moran High to remove the last but one team from their path to the class B championship of district 10. The score was 33 to 6. Moran was powerless except for a few minutes in the third quarter. Then a series of passes took the ball the length of the field for a touchdown. The accurate passing of Captain Todd and runs by Mitchell of Albany featured the game. If successful with Caddo High next Friday Albany will meet Comanche of district 5 in a bi-district contest.

Grovo Wins Mat Bout With Kopecky; Mantell, Injured, Fails to Appear

Whitey Grovo, the big Dallas idol of Wichita Falls fandom, added another victory to his credit Friday night at Bob Connor's wrestling show by throwing Joe Kopecky, of Hamilton, Ont., in the best two out of three falls in the main event on the card. Grovo finished the match with a leg seriously injured. Kopecky had worked hard on toe holds in the third fall, injuring the leg of the big Dallas grappler and had a head lock on Grovo when the victor reached down between his own legs to grab Kopecky's leg, jerk it out from under him, then pin him to the mat for the deciding fall. It was not until Grovo attempted to get to his feet after the fall that he discovered he had a seriously injured leg. In winning the match Grovo won the right to meet Hugh Nichols, world light-heavyweight champion here next Friday night in a battle for the championship.

Nichols won the world's championship in 1930 in the tournament held in Cincinnati. While the champion is on a tour of the South, Promotor Connor secured a match here.

Kopecky won the first fall of their match in 15 minutes and 11 seconds with a toe hold. After wrestling for 9 minutes and 44 seconds on the second fall, Grovo won the second fall with four flying headlocks in succession, then won the match by taking the third fall as well.

Dutch Mantell, the Panhandle bad man, was scheduled to meet Jack Gorman on the Friday card, but having been injured Thursday night while wrestling in Amarillo was unable to be on hand and in his place he sent his young protegee, Rob Roy. The little Amarillo grappler appeared to be a very able student and after a thrilling match came out the winner over Gorman.

Roy won the first fall in 12 minutes and 10 seconds with a Japanese toe hold. Gorman evened the match by winning the second fall in 11 minutes and 15 seconds with a body slam. Then Roy won the third fall in 12 minutes and 28 seconds with a rolling body pin.

Emmett Dishroon, popular local boy, continued to steal the show in his 15-minute draw with Bill Waggoner of Detroit, in one of the fastest bouts of the night. Mark Thomas won a one fall preliminary from Tommy Walton. About 1,000 fans witnessed the bouts.

At least two of the women were removed to a hospital, while 16 others applied for first-aid treatment.

BRIDGEPORT DOWNS TRIBE

Nocona Loses Its Last Battle, 24-0

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, Texas, Nov. 20.—Bridgeport High school football team demonstrated a high degree of superiority here this afternoon to defeat the Nocona team, 24 to 0.

Medley, visiting halfback, was an outstanding ground gainer and was responsible for three of the four touchdowns. In the first period he took the ball on a sweep around left end for 50 yards and a score. Again in the same period, Medley went over after a series of ground-gaining plays.

During the second quarter the locals held the Bridgeport outfit scoreless, but in the third period, Woodward, quarterback, transported the ball across the Nocona goal after laying down 35 yards around end.

Bridgeport accomplished the final marker in the fourth period when Hedley carried through after a series of plays which put the ball in scoring distance.

Friday's game was the last conference contest on the Nocona schedule. However, Nocona will tangle with Bowie at Bowie Thanksgiving.

Huff Resigns as Spudder Prexy; Browns' Manager Takes Over Post

William E. Huff, president of the Wichita Falls Baseball club for the past two years, resigned that position at the annual meeting of club stockholders and the board of directors yesterday morning, and was succeeded by L. C. McEvoy of St. Louis, vice president and business manager of the St. Louis Browns.

Mr. Huff, however, will remain in active charge of baseball affairs here in the capacity of vice president.

Mr. McEvoy stated the move was made in order to economize, since he would take over the presidency without salary.

Guy Airey, secretary of the club since 1926, was re-elected.

The board of directors, composed of nine members, was slashed to three—Mr. McEvoy, Mr. Huff and Phil Ball, owner of the St. Louis American League club and its subsidiaries.

Mr. McEvoy stated that in his new capacity as president of the club he would take a more active interest in the Spudder organization, and that his trips to Wichita Falls would be frequent.

Frogs and Baylor Play Today While Ponies Tackle Navy Crew

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 20.—While Southern Methodist, Southwest conference leader, is at Annapolis battling Navy tomorrow, Texas Christian and Baylor share the conference sportlight at Waco.

It is a crucial game for Texas Christian—a team with three wins and one conference defeat. Texas Christian must trounce Baylor to retain even a chance to tie undefeated and untied Southern Methodist for the current championship. A defeat for Texas Christian and Southern Methodist will automatically become conference champion regardless of the outcome of the final conference game Nov. 28 between Texas Christian and Southern Methodist.

While the Christians are sending their deceptive running attack against Baylor at Waco, the University of Arkansas will be closing its conference schedule against Rice at Houston in the only other conference game.

Texas defeated Centenary in a non-conference game today, 6 to 0. Texas A. & M. will remain idle until Thanksgiving day.

Texas Christian is due to open with a daring offense against Baylor since it is a make or break game for the Fort Worth school. Baylor is expected to rely on a sound overhead game. Both have all to win and nothing to lose. The Christians' attack will be centered around Oliver, Dennis and Spearman, coupled with a passing attack. Baylor will rely on the brilliance of Alford and Harris to score against the Christians.

Arkansas, without a conference victory this season will make a strong bid for its only win against Rice with Homer Ledbetter, conference scoring leader, in the feature role. Rice will feature Jack Frye from a Notre Dame running attack.

BULLDOG TEAM IS ROUTED

Victors Chalk Up Ninth Win of Season

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., Nov. 20.—The Lawton Wolverines won their ninth game this season today, defeating the Altus Bulldogs here Friday afternoon by a score of 48 to 0.

Altus played a tight game of football in the first half and held the Wolverines to two touchdowns, but at the beginning of the last half Lawton scored at will.

At the opening of the second half Lawton ran through the Bulldogs for a touchdown one minute after the kickoff and followed with five more counters in rapid succession.

Farrell scored the first counter for Lawton, Reese accounted for four of them, Short one and Fuqua one. Fuqua's toe was in excellent form and he kicked five goals. One was blocked and the other extra point was made through line scrimmage.

WALTERS DEFEATS HEALDTON, 12-6

Special to The Record News.

WALTERS, Okla., Nov. 20.—Power and speed enabled the Walters Blue Devils to defeat the speedy Healdton team here Friday afternoon by 12 to 6. The Walters team used only straight football, attempting to pass only twice and then without success.

Healdton's speedy backs made good use of trick plays and passes to mark up several sensational gains.

Benson, Healdton's fullback, was hard to stop in his line plays and was exceptionally accurate in tossing passes. Walters made 16 first downs to 10 for Healdton. Walters gained 225 yards from scrimmage to 95 for Healdton, Ballard, Oliver and Bommer, Walters backs, showed exceptional strength in line plunges and were the outstanding Walters players on defense. Walters will close the conference season at Temple Thursday.

OLNEY BEATS ARCHER CITY IN HARD-FOUGHT GAME, 9 TO 0

CUBS SCORE EARLY IN GAME

Field Goal Adds Other Three Points

By JACK WILLIAMS
Record News Correspondent

OLNEY, Texas, Nov. 20.—Olney High school marched one step nearer its fourth straight district 3 crown by defeating Archer City in a hard-fought game here today, 9 to 0. The home team lost no time in putting the ball across for a score. Archer City received and had to kick after three tries at the Cub line. Olney took the ball in midfield and by a series of runs, passes and reverses carried across for the only touchdown of the day. Graves raced around end for 15 yards to score standing up. Duckworth missed the try for point. From then on until late in the third quarter the Cub offense looked ragged. Fumbles by both teams interminglied with frequent penalties offered few thrills for the spectators though Graves and Rue did rip off a few long runs that kept the spectators awake.

Wildcats Rally

The Archer offense found the going too rough to make a great deal of headway and failed to register a first down in the first half which ended 6 to 0 for Olney. The visitors started the third period with a rush and reeled off three first downs in succession before the locals solved their attack. E. Hayes and Horany did the bulk of the ball carrying in this brief offensive gesture. When the Cubs finally got the ball the Archer line refused to give enough yardage to allow the local team a chance at the goal line. In this period the Olney passing attack fizzled largely because the receivers were never near the ball. Rough play by B. Hayes kept officials busy stepping off penalties during most of the third period and part of the fourth. Olney came back to life in the fourth period and kept the visitors deep into their own territory most of the time. Duckworth started the fireworks by returning a punt 15 yards to the Archer 40-yard line. Graves made nine more off tackle. Wright then made first down on the 28-yard line. Here the visitors said that was enough and Olney kicked. Horany and E. Hayes picked up two first downs before the Cubs called a halt. Elmore returned Strahan's punt 20 yards to the Archer 38-yard line. Rue made three at tackle. Graves picked up one. A pass was grounded. Then Graves picked up 20 yards around end to place the oval on the 14-yard stripe.

Makes Field Goal

Rue picked up two yards and Graves four. On an attempt at tackle Graves slipped an lost seven yards. Duckworth then kicked a perfect placement to add three points and make the game safe for Olney. In three tries Horany lacked a yard of first down and had to kick. A 14-yard run by Rue and another of 18 by Graves carried the ball deep into Archer territory but Captain Wright led the visitors' line through to stop the threat. The game ended with Olney in possession of the ball on the Archer 30-yard line.

Statistics on the game give Olney a decisive advantage which was offset by frequent fumbles. The local team gained 210 yards rushing the ball as compared to 91 for the visitors. Olney completed 6 of 15 passes for 47 yards and had one intercepted. Archer completed one of five for two yards. Olney punted eight times for an average of 34 yards. Archer punted 10 times for an average of 26 yards. Olney returned five punts for 50 yards. Archer returned one for five yards. Wright, Sloan, Brown, Graves, Rue, and Gilmore led the Cub defense. Vaughn and Elmore aided materially with their blocking.

Crawford Stars

Crawford gave a good account of himself after Captain O'Brien was removed from the game with a shoulder injury. Duckworth played a smart defensive game and handled punts nicely. Ellis showed occasional signs of the brilliance he showed against Crowell in the last half the visitors got good work out of Captain Wright. Fleming, Kinder, Brower, and Threet on defense, Horany and E. Hayes did most of the ball carrying.

The last quarter was played under protest because Archer used Strahan, an ineligible man.

The line-ups:

OLNEY (9)	Pos.	ARCH. CITY (0)
Wright	L.E.	Belvin
Sloan	L.T.	Fish
Vaughn	L.G.	Brewer
O'Brien	C.	B. Hagee
Brown	R.G.	Threet
Ellis	R.T.	Wright
Gilmore	R.E.	Fleming
Graves	Q.B.	Horany
Rue	L.H.	E. Hayes
Elmore	R.H.	Kinder
Duckworth	F.B.	Larkin

Officials—Sportsman (N. T. A. C.) referee; Daywault (Texas) umpire; Williams (Stanhall) headlinesman. First downs—Olney 13, Archer City 5.

Penalties—Olney drew five for 65 yards; Archer drew 9 for 140 yards.

'Rat' Ramsey Delivers Winning Point

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Nov. 20.—Several hundred people witnessed one of the most thrilling gridiron battles of the season here Friday afternoon when a stubborn Burkburnett High school Bulldog held the Chillicothe Eagles to a narrow 7-6 win under well-nigh perfect football weather conditions.

The visitors outplayed Burkburnet in the first period, the locals stiffening only as the quarter neared its end. While play was almost even in the second period, Chillicothe combined a steady attack with ability to play the breaks, and pushed Rat Ramsey over for a touchdown. The extra point was made by the same player via the place-kick route.

In the third period, Burkburnett took command of the ball, and outplayed the Eagles throughout that quarter. Climaxing a steady advance, Ragsdale, quarterback, circled end for 15 yards and a touchdown. The pass for extra point was knocked down by the watchful birds, preserving their narrow margin of one point.

Chillicothe scored 15 first downs to the locals' six, and completed six forward passes as compared with four successful flips by the Bulldogs. Briarly was a bulwark of strength in the Burkburnett defense, and aided the local cause mighty with hefty punts which sometimes netted 50 yards. Salyer and Ragsdale also played brilliantly. For Chillicothe, individual honors were captured by Cook, Ramsey, Wiginton and P. Hutchins.

Matador Downs Paducah, 6 to 0

Special to The Record News.

PADUCAH, Texas, Nov. 20.—Matador High school invaded this city successfully Friday afternoon, negotiating a 6 to 0 victory over the local high school eleven to decide a struggle which ended, 6 to 6, on Nov. 11.

Outweighing the Paducah team, the visitors finally battered down the local defense sufficiently to send Hipto across for the lone touchdown in the third quarter. Despite the discrepancy in comparative weights, the two teams battled almost evenly throughout the afternoon. Freeman of Paducah contributed the longest single run of the game, stepping 25 yards around end. Freeman and Cantrell shared honors for the locals with Freeman.

Matador brought a big pep squad and a large body of rooters. The Paducah pep squad and high school band also were on the sidelines.

Paducah played with only 12 man eligible, four of its stellar performers having been dropped from the list this week because of academic difficulties.

Paducah will play Crowell at Crowell next week.

Amarillo Beats Slaton, 25 to 0

Special to The Record News.

AMARILLO, Texas, Nov. 20—The Golden Sandies of Amarillo blanked the Slaton Tigers, 25 to 0 here today in their third district one football game. The contest was somewhat listless. The offense being held back by a heavy gridiron, muddy and wet from recent rains. Carroll trotted six yards for the Sandies first score in the second quarter. A few minutes later, Nard Cazzell passed to Lee, end, for 45 yards and a touchdown. In the middle of the third quarter, Les Cazzell intercepted one of Cannon's passes and raced 45 yards to score. Late in the fourth quarter seven Sandie regulars werer ushed in and a drive of 65 yards netted the final score. On this last touch, Nard Cazzell passed 20 yards to Lee who laterailed to Enochs and the Sandie flash raced the remaining 20 yards. The Sandies never once had their complete first string on the field, all members of the squad being given chances to get experience before the Lubbock game here Thanksgiving which will determine the final standing in the district.

Saint Jo Defeats Bellevue Team, 19-6

Special to The Record News.

SAINT JO, Texas, Nov. 20.—A masterful passing attack resulted in a 19-6 victory here this afternoon for the Saint Jo High football team in a spirited grid battle with the Bellevue eleven.

All of the local team's scores were made by the pass route, and all Thompson to Holland.

The Saint Jo gridsters got off to a big start by putting across two markers in the first quarter, and followed up with a third touchdown in the second quarter. At this point in the game Bellevue was scoreless.

With the introduction of the second half, however, the visitors surprised the locals when Faulkner snatched a Saint Jo pass from the air and raced 50 yards through a broken field for a touchdown. Taking heart at this turn of the game, the Bellevue team held their opponents scoreless for the remainder of the struggle.

The contest was one of the neatest exhibitions of football seen this season here. The passing of the locals was particularly exceptional. Of 23 attempted passes, 20 were completed.

Trojans and Notre Dame Clash Today in Thrilling Grid Battle

By WARREN BROWN
Universal Service Sports Writer

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 20.—The football game they have been awaiting and the weather they would just as soon do without occupied the final watchful waiting hours of both Notre Dame and Southern California today.

Tomorrow afternoon, the Trojans, who have been passing the day and a few footballs in and around Chicago, make their first visit in history to the Notre Dame stadium, and as many as 50,000 persons, somewhat less than the capacity of the enclosure will follow them in.

A dreary, rainy time was had by all today, and both Coach "Hunk" Anderson, of the undefeated Notre Dame team, and Coach Howard Jones, of the coast champion Trojans are perfectly willing to trade in all the rain that fell today in the state of Indiana for the use of 100 yards of dry turf in the stadium tomorrow afternoon.

The meeting of these two, promising to be a thrilling encounter, possibly for a while, possible for the whole route, is regarded by Notre Dame as the toughest struggle on its 1931 schedule.

Go to Limit

Past performances are being tossed out freely. Neither team, given workable conditions, is expected to go anywhere else but to the limit, offensively and defensively, and there is enough rivalry between these two teams to provide an automatic pep-up.

The Trojans, stronger, more experienced, and more versatile than they were last year, are coming to avenge, if possible, the showing up that was given them in Los Angeles last December.

Notre Dame, two games away from a record of having gone through three years without a defeat, can be expected to shoot the works in this one.

It was way back in 1928 that Notre Dame lost its last football game and it was Southern California that administered the defeat. It was Southern California, last year, that furnished the setting for the most brilliant exemplification of modern football that any team of the late Knute Rockne's teams ever displayed.

Sixth of Series

This game is the sixth of the series, Notre Dame having won all but one, but having won only one of them—the last—without a struggle that was in doubt to the very finish.

Southern California, dropping the first game of the season to St. Mary's, has gradually accumulated power and scoring prowess ever since. The Trojans come into this game at the very top of their season's form, and Notre Dame expects a terrific battle, whatever the opinion is held by others, and especially those who look upon a Notre Dame defeat as highly improbable.

Coach "Hunk" Anderson will start the same team that has begun most of the Notre Dame games this year, with the exception of a change at tackle and one at right end. Al Culver, who was a sort of unsung hero of the game with the Trojans last year, is back at left tackle, and Hugh Devore has displaced Dick Mahony at right end.

The injury of George Melinkovitch, regular fullback for Notre Dame, brings Steve Banas back to his old job.

The second team, no longer "shock troops," but, this year, a scoring organization in their own right, are to be held in readiness. So, for that matter, is a third team, though it is doubtful if many of these will see service. No less than 14 backs, all more or less skilled, are available for use.

French Cotton Deal Checked

PARIS, Nov. 20. (AP)—Efforts to arrange the sale of approximately 500,000 bales of American cotton to French spinners by means of a credit arrangement between American and French banks have struck a snag because the French banks are unwilling to guarantee the spinners' notes.

The plan was for the Chase National bank, backed by the federal reserve of New York, to discount up to $25,000,000 in six months cotton drafts on condition that the French banks, on delivery of the cotton, would take up new six-months drafts guaranteeing payment at the end of that period.

The Bank of France and the ministry of finance were favorable to the proposition but private banks were unwilling to participate.

CANZONERI KEEPS TITLE

Tony Wins Decision Over Kid Chocolate

By L. S. CAMERON
United Press Sports Editor

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, Nov. 20.—Tony Canzoneri, one-time New Orleans bootblack, made a successful defense of his lightweight championship in a 15-round bout with Kid Chocolate, bony-bodied Cuban Negro who used to sell papers on the streets of Havana, here tonight. The decision was greeted with a tumult of cheering and booing.

Canzoneri, 3 to 1 favorite in the pre-fight betting, was scored by the United Press with having won nine rounds, with four going to Chocolate and two having been even.

The crowd of more than 19,000, however, was split squarely in its belief as to the fairness of the decision and the boos had much the best of it, in the demonstration which included the throwing of fruit into the ring.

Both boys put on a magnificent show. For Canzoneri it was probably the best defense that he has made of his title. For the "Kid" it was unquestionably the prize bout of his meteoric career.

Canzoneri was credited with winning the first two rounds, having led most of the way. The tide then turned to Chocolate who peppered Tony repeatedly with left jabs to the face. Beginning at the eighth round, however, Canzoneri took the upper hand and from then on was not headed.

The champion gave the challenger everything he had and the kid was well able to take it. Unblocked rights to the body and left smashes full in the face sometimes jarred the negro but none had enough power to floor him. Neither fighter was in serious distress at any time although the Kid must have felt bad.

WHY DIDN'T THEY GET IN THE RING?

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. (US)—Boxing Commissioner, inspectors and James J. Johnston, general manager of the garden, interfered to avert a battle between managers of Tony Canzoneri and Kid Chocolate in the dressing rooms before tonight's bout.

Louie Guitterez, manager of Chocolate, threatened to call off the fight when he was handed the gloves. Guitterez charged that Sammy Goldman, Canzoneri's manager, had slipped in mitts especially made for Canzoneri's hands. Canzoneri has unusually small hands.

To make matters worse, the gloves had the trademark of one firm on the gloves, and the emblem of another back of the wrists.

Guitterez and Goldman were snarling at each other quite earnestly when officials stepped between them. Guitterez accepted the gloves under protest, but notified an agent of a firm furnishing the gloves that he would file suit for magnus opus or something.

Southwestern Pirates Maul Trinity, 20 to 7

GEORGETOWN, Texas, Nov. 20. (AP)—Southwestern university defeated Trinity university, 20 to 7, tonight.

The Pirates marched from their 15-yard line to a touchdown in the opening minutes of the first period, Weir going over.

Trinity scored in the second period. Southwestern drove to Trinity's one-yard line in the final minutes of the second quarter but was held for downs.

The third period was uneventful. Near the end of the fourth quarter Smith jogged around an end for a touchdown and added the extra point. An intercepted pass coupled with a series of line plays accounted for Southwestern's third touchdown.

SOONER QUAIL SEASON OPENS

Strict Limit Set Against Huntsmen

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Nov. 20.—Oklahoma's season for shooting quail opened Friday to continue until Jan. 2. The limit is 10 a day but no more than 50 for the season. Hunting can take place only on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays and holidays.

Chas. Hubbard, who is authorized to issue licenses at this place, says he is of the opinion there are no more quail here than there were a few years ago when preserves were established by the Isaac Walton league and stocked with quail. Since this community has been planted in such great part to cotton and wheat there is not enough protection or suitable feed for these shy birds. Hawks, owls, snakes and cats are usually the worst enemies of quail but in this country the transient cotton pickers kill more of these birds than any of the other enemies.

The season for hunting ducks and geese ended at sunset Nov. 19. Except for the first few days there were few of these migratory birds which stopped here on their flight from the north to the south.

Texas University's Aerial Attack Wins 6-0 Decision Over Centenary

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 20. (AP)—Fighting desperately to gain an even break in this season's games with Southwestern conference teams, the Centenary college Gentlemen weakened for a moment under Texas' aerial attack and lost 6 to 0 in one of the best fought games of their season.

Twice in the second quarter Centenary fought back the Longhorns as they tried to score through the line, once holding them on the six-yard line and again on the one-yard line. The Texans learned a lesson and the next time they got within scoring distance a pass, Koy to Price for 29 yards brought a touchdown. Blanton missed the kick for extra points.

Continuing to wage an even battle in the line, Centenary in the second half reversed the tables and threatened to score. The passing combination of Smith to Murff brought a 28-yard gain and took the ball to the Texas 27-yard line. With an end run, pass and fake pass, the Gentlemen took to the ball to the Texas five-yard line. There they lost a chance to score when Nolan fumbled for an eight-yard loss and a pass was incomplete.

Texas exhibited great power in its backfield but weak blocking enabled Centenary to stop most line plays for small gains.

Excellent punting by Cameron offset many Texas gains, one punt going 80 yards.

Attendance was estimated at 8,000.

The lineups:

GENTS (6)	Pos.	TEXAS (6)
Parrison	L.E.	Sparks

BALLOON GOLF BALL OUSTED

New Official Sphere to Appear Jan. 1

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. (AP)—The final chapter in the ill-fated career of the "balloon" golf ball was written today by the executive committee of the United States Golf association.

On Jan. 1, 1932, the overgrown and underweight sphere that has had the nation's linksmen running a fever for the last year will vanish officially from the fairways.

Replacing it will be a new creation that the golfing fathers fondly believe is everything a golf ball should be, combining as it does the best features of the old pellet and the "ballooner," the weight of the old and the size of the new.

Central High Of Fort Worth Wins Title

FORT WORTH, Nov. 20. (AP)—Central High school cinched the championship of district five today, defeating Polytechnic also of Fort Worth, 6-0. Doyce Griffin scored the winning touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Health and Diet Advice

Practicing Cleanliness

Many people think that dishes should be wiped. This is not true; dishes should never be wiped. Wiped dishes cannot be clean unless a frehs, sterile towell is used for each one. It is impossible to have clean dishes if they are all dried on the same towel as the bacteria from one dish are transferred onto the towel and then simply rubbed off on the others. Dishes should first be washed well with plenty of soapy suds and then shoud be sprayed by means of a small hose with very hot water and allowed to dry on a dish rack.

Do you wash your eggs before using? It is necessary that many foods brought into the kitchen should be washed and eggs are among them. If eggs are washed by the poultryman, this will remove certain substances on the egg which keep the air from entering. Eggs should not be washed on the farm as they do not keep well after washing. The best plan is to wash them yourself before breaking the shell.

Meat is another food which should be well washed. Meat is cut up on blocks and in a small butcher shop these blocks are not cleaned before every piece of meat is cut so that particles of decomposing meat remain on them. Meat may also be soiled by handling. To be sure of really clean meat, wash it before cooking. Such fruits as apples, prunes, grapes and berries should also be washed.

Since it is inadvisable to use soap on most foods for fear of the taste of the soap lingering, it is doubly necessary to use plenty of water. All vegetables should be washed repeatedly. You cannot wash potatoes, celery, carrots and squash too thoroughly. Washing vegetables will remove any infectious bacteria placed on them by handling or any poisons which may be left on them from sprays used to kill insects. By far the best way to clean vegetables is to use brushes and plenty of them. These brushes may be bought at the five and ten-cent store and every home should keep from half a dozen to a dozen at all times. The best plan is to use the brush while preparing the meal, then boil it and sterilize it and dry it out before reusing. A good scrubbing with a clean, fresh brush enables you to use the vegetable with the skin left on. Scraping and peeling remove important minerals just under the skin.

While on the subject of cleanliness I am going to tell you some recent tests made on soap. After many experiments it was found that there is no danger of germs being carried by a bar of soap. In fact, just the opposite is true; the soap kills the germs. In making these tests disease germs were planted on cakes of soap; the germs did not multiply, but were destroyed. Even in a public washing room it was found safe to use a bar of soap. One of the best ways to protect yourself from the germs all around you is to use plain everyday soap.

Many of the disease-producing germs are carried to the mouth on the hands. Therefore, a good way to protect yourself from infection is to make the hands germ free by washing with soap and water. This is the reason that you should always wash the hands before a meal, when the bacteria may easily reach the mouth. Children especially should be trained to wash the hands and face before eating. Good soap is plentiful and cheap. Find the soaps you like best, lay in a supply, and be prepared against all kinds of dirt carrying disease germs.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Purpura Rheumatica

Question—Max O. writes: "Our daughter, age 4½ years, has purpura rheumatica so we have been told by a reliable M. D. Her tonsils are also enlarged and the glands on the sides of her neck are enlarged and have been that way for some time."

Answer—Purpura rheumatica is a disease characterized by the formation of purple patches on the skin and mucous membranes, due to subcutaneous hemorrhages, and accompanied by severe pains and fever. In every case where rheumatic pain and fever exists the first thing to do is to get rid of the general toxicosis existing, which is the fundamental cause of the trouble. For this purpose I have never found any method to equal the fasting and diet cure, if used persistently and judiciously. If one fast is not sufficient, it may be necessary to take repeated short acid fruit fasts of about four days, at intervals of about one month, with a well-balanced diet in between. This fasting and dieting regimen should also be very beneficial in clearing up the glandular trouble with which she is suffering.

Ice Ttreatment for Broken Capillaries

Question—F. says: "My abdomen and hips and thighs were covered with 'veins.' I know it is not veins but small clusters of capillaries and my body is a sight with these unsightly areas. They are small in some spots but one-quarter of an inch wide in others."

Answer—It would be a good plan for you to use cold showers, or rub ice over the place where the capillaries are broken. Use the ice for 15 or 20 seconds on each place and move it to the next location and so on, using about a five-minute treatment in all. The cold of the ice will strengthen the capillaries and make them grow smaller. The cold showers if used frequently will tend to have the same effect.

Bible Baseball

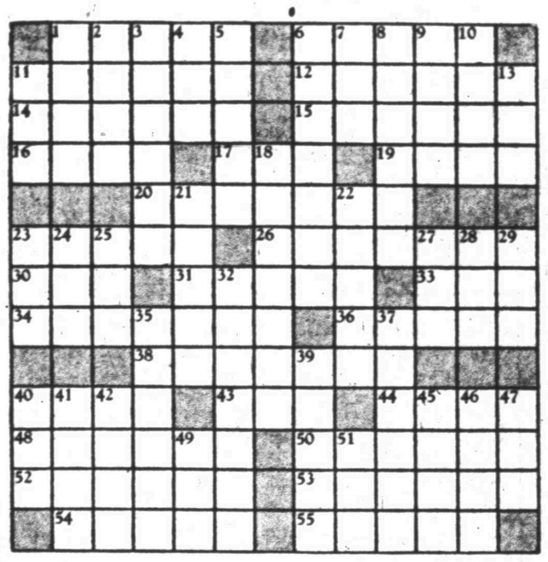

Members of the Presbyterian church met at the church Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock for a Bible Baseball game. Every one was told last Sunday to study the Book of Acts, and to be prepared to answer any questions taken from the book for the game. The questions were prepared by our pastor, Rev. E. S. Lowrance, but he took no part in the game.

Mrs. Gayle Park was appointed captain of team "A" and Gale Lowrance captain for team "B." The teams were chosen from the audience by the captains, there being six on either side, while the remainder of the audience were spectators. The score in the ninth inning was 6 to 9 in favor of team "A."

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. (AP)—A slight advance at the opening of cotton today in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables was followed by a renewal of the decline, which carried prices gradually off to 6.16 for January, or 12 points net lower.

January closed at 6.18, with the general market closing steady at net declines of 9 to 11 points.

The opening was steady 1 to 3 points higher on trade buying and covering, which was probably influenced by the relatively steady showing of Liverpool. December sold up to 6.20 and May to 6.66 on this early demand, or about 2 to 4 points net higher, but the market soon turned easier under southern hedging and a renewal of liquidation. There also appeared to be some commission house or local selling which probably was promoted by declines in the grain and stock markets together with the easier tone of silver.

In the late trading when December touched 6.06 and May 6.53. Closing quotations were a point or two up from the lowest on covering.

Reports that Japanese interests had been very heavy buyers of spot cotton so far this season were circulating in the trade, but were evidently without any particular effect on the immediate market. A private report was issued estimating the ginnings prior to Nov. 14, at 13,700,000 bales which was within the range of recent private reports, and very little interest was evidenced in the probably showing of the census ginning figures expected at the opening Saturday.

Liverpool cables attributed the steadiness of the market there to continental and Bombay buying and reported a fair cloth inquiry from India although many offers were said to be unworkable. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were 22 to 60 points higher. Exports today 40,710 making 2,484,748 so far this season. Port receipts 122,961. U. S. port stocks 4,730,258.

Futures closed steady, 9 to 11 lower; spot quiet; middling 6.20.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20. (AP)—Cotton again eased off moderately today with fairly active trading. After a steady start with gains of 2 to 3 points on good Liverpool cables the market turned easier. Depressing influences included considerable December liquidation and later weakness in stocks and grain. There was also more or less hedge selling which was absorbed by trade buying on the scale down. Prices eased off slowly all morning and by early afternoon showed losses from the early highs of 11 to 12 points. The market was active but weak all afternoon owing to continued December liquidation and weak stocks and grain and made new lows in late trading 13 to 16 points below the highs. The close was steady at or near the lows showing net losses for the day of 9 to 12 points. Liverpool is due tomorrow 4 penny points down on New Orleans.

Liverpool cables came in 3 to 5 penny points better than due. Private cables stated that the continent and Bombay bought owing to easier sterling. Manchester cabled that there was a fair cloth inquiry from India but many offers were unworkable.

The late new lows for the day were made at 6.03 for December, 6.14 for January and 6.34 for March. The close was at or near the bottom with active months 9 to 12 points net lower for the day.

Port receipts 133,239; for week 416,514; for season 4,714, last season 5,611,092. Exports 41,510; for week 264,522; for season 2,432,112; last season 2,855,641. Bad Case of Nerves Suffered By Stocks in Drastic Decline

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. (US)—Ignoring or misinterpreting completely news of the Sino-Japanese armistice and statistical evidence of improvement in certain domestic business barometers, the stock market suffered a bad case of nerves today. Prices plunged downward with scarcely any outward sign of concerted support although many pivotal industrials and virtually all the important rails broke under their old bear market lows reached on Oct. 5, last.

Heaviest volume since the current decline started 10 days ago accompanied the weakness, appearance of liquidation on such a scale took many traders by surprise and undoubtedly invited fresh short positions. Pressure converged on industrials which accounted for about 35 per cent of the total transactions with about 15 per cent of the ratio in U. S. Steel alone.

Sentiment was completely dominated by the vulnerable action of that pivotal leader which broke into new low ground for the depression at 60⅝. That price compared with the previous bottom of 62¼ during the major decline since 1929. During the war period in 1915 steel hit 38.

More important issues entered new low ground for the decline than thus far on the current downward movement which set in just 10 days ago, or simultaneously with the collapse of the late speculation in grain. A perpendicular drop of 5 cents a bushel in wheat with acute unsettlement in other commodity markets added to today's extreme nervousness.

As has been the case all along, the financial community emphasized only the unfavorable side of the international picture in capitalizing its bearish sentiment. Reports that Japan and China had agreed to a truce promising peaceful settlement of the Manchurian conflict, was seized upon as a pretext for selling because wheat prices broke simultaneously with publication of the news on the tickers.

Renewed fears over Germany also exerted a depressing influence. The federal reserve bank announced late in the day that Walter W. Stewart, chairman of Chase Pomeroy & Co., had been nominated to represent the American group to consider a modification of the Young plan on German reparations.

Whatever the causes for the disasults were none the less drastic. A turbed speculative mind, the retotal of 47 issues established new bottom levels, including in addition to U. S. Steel, such active leaders as Westinghouse, New York Central, Union Pacific, Western Union, Anaconda, Pennsylvania and several dozen others.

The grade of securities showing extreme weakness gave color to reports that investment trusts were disposing of some of their holdings. In addition reports were revived that banks were liquidating loans on a heavy scale wearied by the discouraging delay of the market in developing a worthwhile rallying tendency.

A report that another conference of bankers and business leaders had been called to gather at Washington over the week-end was interpreted as evidence that some invisible dangers had suddenly created the need for immediate attention. All these rumors lacked verification but they sufficed to work on the already jumpy nerves of the investing public.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 20. (AP)—Almost five cents a bushel violent fall in wheat prices today accompanied news of an armistice between Japan and China. Immense selling on the part of speculative interests that had been purchasing of late because of indications Russia might be openly drawn into Manchurian war moves went hand in hand with collapse of values. Adding to downward impetus of all grains was stock market weakness and conspicuous dearth of United States wheat export business, together with rain and snow in drouth sections of Kansas and also Nebraska.

Wheat closed unsteady at virtually the day's bottom figures, 3⅞@4⅝ cents lower than yesterday's finish, corn 2⅝@3⅛c down, oats 1⅛@1⅝ off, and provisions showing 17 to 30 cents setback.

In the storm of stop loss selling just before trading ended, brokers found themselves swamped. Word of at least temporary peace had been flashed into the crowd, and had left the market empty of buyers except foresighted bears who were in a position to realize profits by catching the holdings that were wildly thrown overboard.

The armistice bulletin capped the climax of an earlier unusual succession of announcements of a price breaking character from which at no time the market showed any decided power to rally.

Exporters said that not only today but throughout the last three weeks there had been little overseas demand for United States wheat. Coupled with this handicap were sharp downturns in Liverpool quotations, a circumstance associated with reports that despite frosts and reduced acreage Argentine wheat production this season promised to be only a little below last year and of better quality. There were also advices of increased offerings of Argentine wheat to Europe and of enlarged future delivery selling from Australia.

Corn, oats and rye gave way in sympathy with the acute weakness of wheat.

Provisions worked lower in response to setbacks of commodities and stocks.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—Dec. 54⅝ 54½c, 58½c; March 57½c bids; May 58½@63⅝c; July 58⅝c, 63⅝c. Corn—Dec. 43⅞@43½c; July 46⅛c, 50⅛c.

ATWELL HEARS GUILTY PLEAS

10 Admit Charges Before U. S. Court

Ten of the 56 persons against whom indictments were returned in a partial report by the federal grand jury Thursday entered pleas of guilty before Judge William H. Atwell Friday, six being sentenced and the court deferring action on the four remaining cases.

L. C. Dixon, alias J. C. Donal, charged with having transferred a stolen automobile from Kansas to Texas, and Clive Lankford, charged with having operated a radio broadcasting station at Seymour without a license, were the first two to enter pleas of guilty. Sentencing of these two defendants was deferred, and they were remanded to the county jail.

V. E. Ranson, indicted for alleged forgery of narcotic prescriptions, also pleaded guilty and was returned to the jail to await sentence.

Seven persons entered pleas of guilty to charges of having violated the national prohibition laws. They were as follows: Leonard Schenk, $1 fine, one day in jail; John Schenk, 30 days in jail, $100 fine, car forfeited; Joe H. Shaffer, 20 days in jail, dated back 20 days; Vernon Shaffer, 30 days in jail, dated back 30 days; Anna Kress, 75 days in jail, dated back 58 days; Len Kress, sentence deferred; and Alice Terrell, $25 fine and 10 days in jail. Vernon Shaffer, whose 30-day sentence was set back 30 days, already had been in jail 86 days awaiting trial, it was said.

An instructed verdict for the defendant was returned in the case of Mrs. Lee A. Fortner of Childress who sought $11,000 from the United States government, alleging that $10,000 war risk insurance plus $1,000 for attorneys' fees was due following the death of her husband, an ex-soldier, last March.

13 Convicted For Lottery

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 20. (AP)—Thirteen men who were charged by the government with operation of a counterfeit lottery scheme designed to "get the other fellow's money without giving him a ghost of a show to get it back" face punishment ranging up to two years imprisonment and a $1,500 fine.

The maximum sentence was passed by Federal Judge Colin Neblett yesterday on Jack Michelson of Albuquerque, N. M., reputed leader of the group accused of using the mails to defraud in the operation of a lottery on the Saratoga sweepstakes last Aug. 6.

The government charged the men collected $1,000,000 under the name of the International Sweepstakes association and that patrons received nothing. Nine were convicted by a jury, one pleaded nolo contendere and three pleaded guilty.

Curtis Cannon of Little Rock, Ark., a state legislator, was the only defendant to be acquitted. Charges against three others were dismissed before the trial began.

Justice of Peace C. L. Ritt and Pete Chavez, both of Albuquerque, were sentenced to one year each and fined $5,000. R. G. Dulin, Jack Cleary and Tommy Parmon, all of Albuquerque, were sentenced to the penitentiary for one year.

Joe Dunne of El Paso was fined $1,000 and placed on probation for two years. Harry Benjamin, Albuquerque, and E. N. Howard, Kansas City, were placed on probation for two years.

Charles Potter, Chicago; Charles H. Mayer, New York, and Hal Weissbaum, San Francisco, were fined $1,000 each, and Charles Snodgrass, Dillon, Mont., was fined $150.

Pep Squad Give Program

Reagan and Zundelowitz Junior High schools furnished a show of entertainment to the student body and faculty of the high school and college Friday morning at the regular assembly period.

Representatives of the 250 red and gray uniformed pep squad students and 35 band members of Zundy first staged their showing, with a regular pep rally program. Then the red and white Reagan pep boys and girls took the floor to put on an enthusiastic cheer display. The program was the annual Reagan-Zundy program for the high school, preceding the annual junior high football competition.

Preceding the program, Emil Hermann, local artist, presented Bob Vigus of the high school with a gift as a prize for having made the most artistic and best poster for the play, "A Successful Calamity." Mrs. Frank B. Creighton reminded the students of the mother-son banquet to be given at the Forum Tuesday night.

Here's Protest to Go With Gas Bill

The citizens committee appointed by Mayor Walter Nelson Jr., to advise with the city council in its efforts to obtain lower gas rates suggests that gas users fill out and sign the coupon herewith and mail or hand it in when paying gas bills:

Wichita Falls, Texas,

Nov. ....., 1931.

My bill for gas due Nov. .....1931, is paid under protest because rates charged are in excess of those authorized by ordinance No. 1067 of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, passed by the board of aldermen and approved by the mayor Aug. 24, 1931, and effective on Oct. 1, 1931. All amounts in excess of rates fixed by that ordinance are paid to prevent interruption of service and for no other reason.

HOLIDAY ATTIRE

Merchants to Decorate Downtown Area For Christmas

Decoration of downtown streets here for Christmas and the holiday season is expected to be completed by Thanksgiving, it was announced here Friday, following a meeting of the retail division of the chamber of commerce. The decision to decorate downtown streets was reached at the meeting, which was attended by representative merchants.

Small Christmas trees will be distributed in the business section. Streamers will be hung across streets and special colored light globes will be strung for an added holiday effect.

John W. Thomas was authorized to carry out plans for the decoration. Other plans were discussed by the group to make this Christmas season one of success, but as they were yet incomplete, were not announced.

M'EVOY GIVES SPUDDER PLANS

Hustling Ball Club Promised Next Year

The "ladies day" program of the junior chamber of commerce luncheon here Friday noon was marked with the prediction of L. C. McEvoy, vice president of the St. Louis Browns, that Wichita Falls will have an efficient team in the Spudder club here next season.

The speaker, who Friday was elected president of the ball club here, declared the 1932 team would be young and colorful. Wichita Falls, he said, is deserving of an efficient club.

Mr. McEvoy expressed the belief that Wichita Falls is baseball "minded" and commented on finding people here discussing baseball during a season when talk in other sections of the country has reverted to football.

"I am sure," he said, "that another season the team will not lack patronage, which in the past has made Wichita Falls an enviable position as a location for a Texas league franchise.

"There has never been any doubt in my mind as to the ability of Wichita Falls to support a class A ball club. I regret the rumors that the franchise was to be moved from here. They were started before the matter had been discussed."

Mr. McEvoy was the principal speaker on the program, which was dedicated to the wives and women friends of junior chamber members, in the second annual "ladies' day" luncheon.

The honor guests were welcomed by Mayor Walter Nelson Jr., with the response by Miss Marguerite Fisher. Mrs. H. T. Wood pronounced the invocation.

Sam B. Spence, district attorney, delivered a brief address in which he spoke of woman's place throughout history, and commended the part modern women are taking in the progress of civilization.

Entertainers from KGKO provided the musical program. Including Philip Small, who directed the entertainment, they were Hal Hoffer, Mrs. Philip Small and Miss Virginia Seay.

NEGRO GIVEN SIX-YEAR TERM

Jury Convicts Black on Theft Charge

Ernest Jones, negro, charged with theft over $50, and with receiving and concealing stolen property, was given six years in the state penitentiary by a jury which returned its verdict early Friday afternoon before Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court.

Jones was charged in connection with the alleged theft of an automobile and a cargo of drygoods from a wholesale mercantile establishment several months ago. In his first trial, he was charged under the habitual criminal act, but upon conviction was given only three years. That jury, in the 30th district court, was discharged by Judge Allan D. Montgomery after being roundly lectured by the court. The defendant obtained a new trial, which opened late Thursday afternoon. The jury was out only a short time.

W. E. Dolman, charged with child desertion, was acquitted by a jury which returned its verdict five minutes after receiving the case.

James Dawson was given a two-year suspended sentence upon his plea of guilty to a charge of forgery. He was one of a quartet of youths arrested several weeks ago after a score of spurious checks had been circulated at Burkburnett. He has served 80 days in the county jail. All moneys secured on the checks has been refunded, according to the district attorney's office.

C. R. Stout, charged with burglary of a filling station at Burkburnett about three weeks ago, will be tried Saturday morning. The jury was selected Friday afternoon, and will be sworn at 9 a. m. Saturday. The case against Stout is a companion case to that which resulted in a five-year sentence for Hubert Tuck Wednesday.

Robot Pilot Proves Power in Flight Over Transport Route

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. (AP)—The robot airplane pilot, who lives in a small metal box, was hailed today as a staunch pioneer that would help give the South a transportation system unequalled in history.

The man who did the hailing was Elmer A. Sperry Jr., inventive son of an inventor father, after the trip yesterday of the 18-passenger plane on its flight over an Eastern Air Transport route, which officially placed the automatic pilot in service.

Sperry's famous dad, who died in 1930, gave the world the gyro-compass, a device for detecting "cancer" in steel rails and many other inventions. Working by his side, the younger Sperry saw and helped him develop the automatic pilot down through the years from 1909 when the first one was installed on an airplane.

The automatic pilot was developed by the Sperry Gyroscope company, which, like E. A. T., is now a wholly owned division of North American Aviation, Inc. The younger Sperry is consulting engineer of the Gyroscope company.

A gyroscopic instrument, it is placed in control of the aircraft after the human pilot gets it into the air. It performs all the functions of keeping the plane on straight course, flying on an even keel and at proper altitude. The human pilot can relieve it at any time.

Wichitan Wins Loan Company Suit

Man Paid $84 Interest on Debt of $40

Judgment for $128 was given a Wichita Falls man against a local loan company by a jury before Judge Irvin J. Vogel in the county court at law Friday, the defendant company being charged in the trial with having imposed an usurious rate of interest upon the plaintiff.

According to the plaintiff, he borrowed $40 in February, 1930, giving his 30-day note for $48. At the expiration of that period, he paid the $8, but was unable to pay the principal. He gave another 30-day note for $48, the petition set out. That process was repeated, he alleged, until he had paid $84.20 in interest but had never been able to retire the principal.

The jury awarded him judgment for twice the amount of interest paid, less the original $40 which he borrowed.

A negro, pleading guilty to a charge of carrying a pistol, was sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail.

Big Attendance Expected for Appearance Here of Billie Burke

Tickets for the appearance of Billie Burke in "The Vinegar Tree" at the Memorial auditorium next Wednesday night, Nov. 25, will go on sale Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at the Renfro Drug store, according to H. C. Cheshire, local booking agent.

Those who have known Billie Burke only through the columns of newspapers and theatrical magazines will have New York brought to them in the local performance, for the famous comedienne will bring a Broadway cast and settings in support of her individual talents.

No other single actress from the present generation of Broadway celebrities has gained more of a favorable following throughout the country than Billie Burke. Her hold upon popular fancy has been gained largely through what has been said by those who have seen her New York performances. From the fact that she is Flo Ziegfeld's wife—and remains so—Miss Burke draws an added measure of prestige.

This tour will be her first of the South, and her appearances are being greeted by unusually large attendance. Advance reservations by mail have been heavy, Mr. Cheshire said. Low prices have been announced for the local showing of "The Vinegar Tree."

BANDIT ROBS GAS STATION

Lone Robber Secures $8 at 1701 Holliday

A single bandit held up the attendant of the Magnolia filling station, 1701 Holliday, here early Friday and escaped with about $8.

The hijacking is the second "lone wolf" robbery here within the past few days. Last Saturday at about the same hour an unmasked man appeared at the American station at Eighth and Travis and at the point of a gun forced the station operator to hand over $28.

Police were of the opinion that the two robberies were by the same bandit. Tactics employed on both "jobs" were practically the same. In each instance the hijacker appeared shortly after the station opened for business, and after obtaining the receipts of the cash register, forced the attendant into the wash room while the escape was made.

J. M. Crow, attendant at the Magnolia station, said that after the bandit forced him into the wash room he was told to stay there. The hijacker, he told police, attempted to lock him in the room but was unable to find the key. Crow said he heard the man run from the station and that he apparently ran for some distance.

CALIFORNIA OIL BOOST SEEN

$1 Price Expected in Short Time

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Nov. 20. (UP)—Attainment of oil conservation in California, diminishing of refinery runs and reduce storage of "bootleg" gasoline stocks led oil men today to expect within the near future a rise of crude oil prices to $1 a barrel and a jump of one or two cents in the price of gasoline.

Petroleum economists pointed out that the production problem had been solved and refining reduced below the level of demand, with only the marketing situation at present disturbed, and that nearly in hand.

Depletion of gasoline storage in the Los Angeles basin was expected to bring that area into line with San Francisco and San Joaquin valley markets. In the former independents have advanced their prices to the level maintained by the major factors in the industry, and in the latter marketing is expected to be in line within a few days.

The beginning of the new year was predicted as the date when the situation will be completely cleaned up. It was estimated independent storage in the Los Angeles basin is 90,000,000 gallons of gasoline of which 50,000,000 are held by the Rio Grande company, 30,000,000 by the Wilshire Oil company, and the remaining scattered.

It was reported that a recent judgment of several million dollars against the Rio Grande will lead that company to dispose of its stocks to the major companies. This would leave independents with but 40,000,000 gallons in stock, and as they use 39,000,000 gallons a month, this should be wiped out within 30 days.

Of the 38 independent refineries in the Los Angeles basin, 13 are shut down and 25 operating less than capacity due to lack of available crude. Production has been reduced from 325,000 barrels of crude daily a year ago to 229,000 barrels a day at present.

Youthful Slayer Gets Life Term in Oklahoma

ENID, Okla., Nov. 20. (AP)—Marion Nelson Sage, 17-year-old slayer, refused to choose between life or death when he pleaded guilty today to murder charges for the killing of Joe Goodrich, 72, a bachelor farmer with whom he lived.

"I don't know," the boy answered Judge J. W. Bird's question as to whether he thought he should be sentenced to life imprisonment or death in the electric chair.

Judge Bird imposed the life term.
