

Doucette purchases First National Bank in Lockney

James (Jim) Doucette has purchased the First National Bank in Lockney from the Ford Bank Group, Inc. The sale was effective Tuesday, January 17 after approval was received from the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

Doucette stated, "It will be business as usual at the bank. I do not have any changes in mind. Ronnie Hardin will participate in ownership and continue in the position of President and Chief Executive Officer. We anticipate no employee changes."

J. R. Belt and Claude Brown have accepted positions on the board of directors. They will join the current directors with the exception of Tom Nichols and Kim King who will be resigning from the board. Doucette will replace Nichols as Chairman of the Board. "More local involvement on the board will bring the bank closer to the community," Doucette said.

Hardin stated that "Doucette is making a long term investment in the community." To which Doucette added, "It is the communities bank and I am only investing in the community. My investment in the bank is minor compared to what the businessmen in Lockney have contributed to make the bank a success over the years."

"The bank is basically an agricultural bank. Our ability to stay in business is one hundred percent dependent on the local wage earner, retirees, businessmen, and farmers," stated Doucette.

The bank has over 100 years of experience in its officers and their resources are available to everyone.

Doucette and his wife Denise are both natives of New York. After buying the local cable TV system they decided to make Lockney their home. The couple moved to Lockney from New York City by way of Dallas. Doucette commented, "We have made this our home, this is where we intend to stay."

The customer is always right

By John Sloan

Back during the good old days, you could park in front of the bakery on Main Street, leisurely browse the display case, sample a few items, chat with the proprietor about the weather and haggle over the price of a "baker's dozen" of five cent doughnuts.

Nostalgia is wonderful, but it is human nature to remember the good things and forget the rest. Although some may long for the days of nickel doughnuts, they quickly change their minds when reminded that those were also the days before television, air conditioning and wrinkle-resistant clothes.

Yet, fundamentally, Main Street has changed little from the wonderful days of yore. Today the doughnuts are more expensive and parking at the door isn't always available, the cash register is computerized and the name on the door is in artsy acrylics, but American small businesses still do what they have always done best: take care of their customers.

The corner grocery is still there. The barbershop is easy to find. Dress shop bargains can be found. Blue plate specials continue to be quick and inexpensive. The auto repair shop still advertises tune-ups for a special price.

This is not to say American commerce has not undergone major changes, but they have been changes of growth, prosperity and opportunity. As our social fabric shifted and stretched, small business met the challenges. Today, millions more Americans are served by and employed by small and independent businesses.

for several years before selling it to Mission Cable. Doucette is also president of Doucette Enterprises and owns cable TV systems in several states.

Doucette related that his first job after returning home from the Navy was as an accountant with the Bank of New York. "Little did I think that further down the road I would again be involved in a bank."

The Lockney Bank was one of a string of private banks in this area established by Mr. L.T. Lester of Randall County and J.B. Posey, who lived four miles northwest of Floydada.

This Lockney Bank, which was established about 1900, was located about the middle of the buildings on the west side of the street in downtown Lockney. Walter Posey was the first cashier and L.T. Lester was the president.

In 1908 the First National Bank of Lockney was organized with the following directors: L.T. Lester, Ghent Carpenter, J.S. Baxter, J.D. Griffith, W.S. Miller, Homer Howard, W.S. McNeil, L.C. Lair, J.C. Pepkin, and R.G. Oldham.

This bank bought the assets of the Lockney Bank and received its Charter April 24, 1908. It opened with a capital of $25,000.00 and it was raised to $30,000.00 September 10, 1908.

The west side of Lockney burned in 1911 and destroyed the bank building. It was rebuilt on the corner of the block and later in 1913 the first brick building in Lockney was built on that corner. The bank remained in this building until 1960, when it moved to the new bank building at 201 North Main, its present location.

Edwards was able to apprehend one of the subjects. He was taken to the hospital where he was treated for a broken arm. The subject was arrested and transported to the county jail.

Board hears performance report

The Lockney Independent School District met for the regular monthly school board meeting on January 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the board room at the administration office.

Superintendent Dub Hallmark gave his report which included an update of the schedule of activities in January and February. He also presented the annual performance report which was approved by the board. Separate stories on the performance report will be seen in later editions of the paper.

Hallmark advised the directors that enrollment was still up at the high school, junior high and elementary schools. The third grade enrollment was above the state mandate of the student/teacher ration of 1:22, by two students. For this reason the board approved the hiring of another teacher to comply with the state mandate.

A report on the TEAMS Exit Level Test was given. According to Hallmark, 43 people took the test and two failed. Those two students will take the test over until they pass it.

A special board meeting was approved for January 18, at 6:30 p.m. for the purpose of updating the school board on school policies. A representative from Texas Association of School Boards, from Austin, will be present to update the directors on the policy manual.

The school board also approved a gifted and talented philosophy. According to state mandate, the schools have to have a gifted/talented program in place by 1990/91.

Zelda Zumwalt was hired as an aide to work with children over 16 years old in computer training. She will also work with children in areas where they have problems and bring them up to the level where they should be. This program is funded by federal program money and special education money.

The board also approved Level II and Level III Career Ladder dollar amount supplements. Level II will receive $1,500 above the state base and Level III will receive $3,000 above state base.

The career ladder is based on a mandated appraisal process by the school principal and an outside appraiser. If teachers are already on the career ladder they are appraised twice to maintain that level. If they have not been placed on the career ladder, then the individual is evaluated four times a year.

The school board also approved extending Superintendent Dub Hallmark's contract through June 30, 1993.

Floyd County Centennial Plates can still be purchased

The price per plate is $20.00. Upon their arrival the plates will be distributed by members of the Centennial Commission in Floydada and Lockney. The committee regrets that it will not be able to ship the plates by mail.

In order to insure their value and collectibility only 500 plates will be numbered (001 to 500). The first 100 orders received will be placed in a container and drawn one at a time to determine the recipients of the lower numbered plates.

Orders have been received but there are still a few of the first 100 numbers available. Send a check or money order in the amount of twenty dollars for each plate ordered to "Floyd County Plate", C/O Mrs. C.C. Whittle, Route 3, Box 147, Floydada, Texas, 79235. Annual Lockney ISD performance report

(Editors Note: The Lockney Beacon begins a series of articles focusing on the annual performance report of the Lockney Independent School District.)

1.1 STUDENT PERFORMANCE - LOCKNEY ISD 077-902

Student progress is monitored each school year by administering the norm-referenced Science Research Associates achievement test and criteria-referenced tests—TEAMS.

1. SRA - The SRA was administered to students in grades K-11. Our goal is to have all students performing at or above grade level in reading and math. The indicator will be the 50th percentile.

Results of the April 1989 testing with the SRA showed the district mean in reading to be 54.3% and the mean in math to be 63.4%. The level of performance also reflects student attitude and teacher expectations.

2. TEAMS - The criteria-referenced TEAMS test is administered annually to the first, third, fifth, seventh, ninth and eleventh grades. In the twelfth grade the EXIT test is given to those students who did not pass in the eleventh grade. The results of these tests show that students in Lockney are mastering most of the items tested.

Students in grades 3,5,7, and 9 showed and improved mastery rate of 12.5% for those mastering all tests. Writing scores increased by 16.9%. 93% of Lockney juniors passed both portions of the EXIT level test. In first grade, 72% of the students passed all tests for a 2% increase over the 1987-88 school year.

Based on the results of the TEAMS tests, students could show improvement in the following objectives:

- Math
 - 1. Proportion
 - 2. Measurement units
 - 3. Geometric properties
 - 4. Probability
- Reading
 - Distinguish fact from opinion
- Writing
 - 1. Punctuation
 - 2. Spelling

Student performance can best be described as a general trend toward mastery. A real effort will be made on the part of our faculty to encourage students to master not only the TEAMS objectives, but to develop reading, writing, math, and thinking skills which go beyond the TEAMS objectives.

3. AT-RISK SUMMER SCHOOL - Compensatory students in grades 2-8 were given the opportunity to attend an "At-Risk" summer school. The emphasis was on "hands-on" learning, basic skills, and goal setting. "Careers" was the theme for 1988-89, and students came into contact with careers through speakers, doing research, and relating careers to basic skills.

4. UPWARD BOUND - Special activities in leadership and science were made available to gifted students during a two week summer program. Students in grades 4-8 were identified.

1.2 CURRICULUM - LOCKNEY ISD 007-902

Students in grades K-12 enrolled in Lockney Public Schools are provided with a well-balanced curriculum. The programs offered meet or exceed the state requirements. Special emphasis is placed on mastery of the essential elements.

Curriculum guides are used in all subjects taught. They are updated and revised yearly. The curriculum guide is considered a useful document and a goal is to keep it as current as possible.

Lockney Public Schools provide a full day of instruction. Our school day begins at 8:30 a.m. and closes at 4:00 p.m. The 7 1/2 hour school day allows 7 periods for instruction and a period for in-school tutorial.

At the elementary level, the length of the school day allows us to exceed the state requirement in regard to time. Various instructional programs exist to enrich and extend the regular classroom.

1. Special Education - Lockney is part of a cooperative with two other schools in order to provide specialized assistance to the students identified with specific needs. Our program consists of an early childhood program, a speech therapist, and two resource rooms.

2. Libraries - The three campuses have their own library and media-resource centers. Each facility has adequate books, visual aids and other resource materials to meet the needs of students. Each campus has a full-time paraprofessional library aide. A half-time certified librarian serves the district in cooperation with Hale Center. An Apple II GS computer and software were purchased for the high school library in order to improve the card cataloging system. This system is available for use by the other libraries in the system as well.

3. Remedial - Students who are below the 50% are eligible to participate in Chapter I Reading Programs. Compensatory funds are used to remediate those students below 50% in mathematics. Eight Apple II GS were placed in the Chapter I programs in the elementary school.

4. Enrichment Programs - Enrichment programs are offered to challenge students beyond the basic requirements. The high school offers two years of computer courses, advanced mathematics and science. These courses are available to high achievers.

5. TI-IN Network - Courses are offered upon student request and will be expanded as the system grows.

6. Migrant and ESL (English as a Second Language) - Being an agriculture area, the school district has provided extra help with an aide at each grade level in elementary school for the identified migrant student. An aide and teacher is provided for those students having difficulty with English.

7. Music Program and Physical Education - We are fortunate to have a full-time music teacher and a full time physical education teacher at the elementary level.

8. Vocational Programs - The students are provided the opportunity to take Home Economics, Home and Family, Shop or Production Agriculture in addition to their required courses. This ensures a well-rounded offering of courses throughout their years in high school.

9. Computer Programs - Computer literacy is offered in the 8th grade. We have a network system of 16 Radio Shack TRS 80 computers. Apple II GS computers and appropriate reading and TEAMS software were purchased for the junior high and high school language arts classrooms. Apple II GS computers were also placed in the junior high math classes.

Classes offered at the high school level are enclosed. The daily schedules of both junior high and high school are enclosed.

Rotary hears talk on judicial system

David Cave, District Judge of the 110th Judicial District which consists of Floyd, Briscoe, Motley and Dickens counties, spoke to the Lockney Rotary Club Friday, January 12 on the judicial system in Texas. Cave was introduced by Terry Keltz.

He related that the main problem in the county is the unlawful narcotic and drug traffic. Cave stated that the local people must become involved and that there are two ways to deal with the problem. The first is to decide what the problem is and the second is to do something about it. He stated, "We hear that drugs are out of control and I do not think that is the case. We need to look where the roots are and do something about it."

Cave told the audience that "1913 was the first time in the history of the United States that the Congress had dealt with the regulation and control of opium and cocaine. Before that time use of drugs was legal. In the 1890's the use and addiction of drugs had become alarming. At that time they were mainly used for medicinal purposes. By 1913 there was a large outcry from the public and the congress passed laws to make the substances illegal.

From 1913 to approximately 1960 there was very little trouble in the United States resulting from the illegal use and sales of drugs. Two generations had virtually been clean."

When asked how the laws written by the congress had been able to stop the sale and use of drugs in 1913 the reply was that the shift in population had been mainly to blame for the reoccurrence. According to Cave in 1913 the population had been mostly rural and beginning in the 1960's the population had shifted so that the bulk of people lived in urban areas. Drugs were easier to get in the urban areas and there was money to be made.

Cave commented, "We in Texas have seen a rapid growth in population since 1970. The state census has increased 47 percent from 1970 to 1985. In 1970 there were eleven million people in Texas and in 1985 that number had jumped to sixteen million. Fifteen percent of the population from our area was been lost to urban areas during this time.

"In 1968 the cost of caring for a prisoner of the state was $3.00 a day, it jumped to $8.61 in 1980 and in 1989 it cost $32.60 per day. The prison system in the State of Texas is one of the most economical in the nation due to the fact that the state owns land that is used to grow food and fiber for the prison system and the prisoners provide the labor on the farms.

"There has been an increase of 160 percent in the Texas Department of Correction population. In the coming year we will have a capacity of 56,000 in the prisons. At the present there is room for only 43,000. The only way that we are going to lessen crime in our state is to make the time the criminals spend in prison long enough for them to not want to come back. The cost of building the prisons and outfitting them will be great but before we get too carried away with the cost we must consider what it will cost if we do not have these facilities available. We must keep the criminals in jail long enough for it to be meaningful. Long prison sentences are the best deterrent to crime. Legalization is not the answer, punishment to fit the crime is most necessary. We need to make the commitment to see that the time fits the crime."

According to Cave, "Time spent in prison depends on work done by the prisoner, the classes he takes and his attitude. If he passes all the criteria then one year of sentence can be spent in TDC in 21 days. We must let the criminals know that the time they are sentenced to by the juries will be the time that they spend in jail."

Lockney Womens Softball News

by Susie Smith

Lockney Women's Softball Association held an officers meeting Monday night, January 8, 1990.

Presiding over the meeting was the new 1989-1990 President, Isaia Lerma. Other new officers are: Lorena Lerma, vice-president; Toni Ibarra, secretary; Missy Minick, treasurer; and Bobby Pinner, field chairman.

Plans were made to improve the field. Since the bases have sunk over the years, they will be raised and the infield will be leveled. Decisions were made about repainting the fence poles and top rail, also mentioned is the possibility of building a raised scorekeepers box.

Since most of the work will be done by the L.W.S.A. officers, any help will be greatly appreciated.

Lockney Care Center News

By Jane Martinez

Hello! How has everybody been doing, as for us we are still trying to get back on our feet. The holidays just let me stay behind on my work. But, everything seems to be back to normal again. So maybe now I can get my news letter out on time now.

Well, as for news at the Care Center, we have had quite a bit going on. As I told you in the last newsletter we decided on employee and resident of the month.

Our employee for the month of January is Betty Jordan, an L.V.N. on the 3-11 shift. Betty has two children, and has been with the home for three years. She says she has enjoyed all the years she has worked with us. Our resident of the month is Grace Foster. Grace has three daughters, three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. She was born in Bonita, Texas. She enjoys reading, she used to crochet, but she is not able to do it now. Her comment was not to get old.

Well, as for our weekly doings, everything has been about the same. On the first Wednesday of this month, we had our residents birthday party. The Ladies of Methodist Church brought the birthday cakes. Residents that celebrate birthdays this month are: Roy Hunter, J.B. Lane and Maria Lopez. They have been with us for quite awhile. We have enjoyed having them with us.

We have also started doing different exercises, we have been doing toss the bean bag and also trying to play basketball. And, I have had a good turnout! Joining me with morning exercises, mostly everyday are Lorene King, Grace Foster, Faye Sams, Bonnie Julian, Eva Cresswell, Lasara Beltran, Dominga Morales, Mamie Ford, Jesse Browning, Roy Hunter, J.B. Lane, Beulah Stambough, Lorene Crass, and Adolfo Burrell.

Olga Applewhite has been with us also in our morning exercise.

Monday, for the bus ride our residents went to Floydada. They were treated at the Dairy Queen in Lockney by Myrtle Gibson. Thank you Mrs. Gibson for the treat. Thank you Linda Cumbie for going with the residents on the bus.

Tuesday, we had our morning exercises. After dinner, Mrs. Gibson treated our residents to an ice cream party. They had a good time with the ice cream, Crestina Mendoza helped with the party. She is a good volunteer. We would also like to thank Mary Gaskins for the 1990 table decorations. We would also like to give thanks to all the churches that come every morning to give devotional and singing. I would like to thank all the volunteers that come everyday.

I want to let Missy and Troy Minnick and Susie Smith and her boys that we did not forget you, I just had to much on my mind. Thank you for your treat to the residents. Thanks to anybody else that I might of forgot.

Well, I guess this will be all for now. Until next time! Be good to all.

RESIDENT OF THE MONTH-- Grace Foster was selected as Employee of the Month at the Lockney Care Center this month.

The club voted to donate $200.00 to the Hale County Crisis Center to purchase things needed for the shelter. The Bridge Tournament was discussed. Persons should be aware of signs of stroke Suffering a stroke can be a frightening experience, particularly for the person who is unaware of what is occurring.

A stroke is an instantaneous disruption of the blood flow to a certain portion of the brain. When fresh blood is not received by a section of the brain, the cells are deprived of needed oxygen, and damage results. The body function that is controlled by that particular part of the brain is then damaged either temporarily or permanently.

Some strokes result from blocked arteries that literally starve the brain of blood. The arteries are simply too clogged with fatty deposits to allow enough blood to reach the brain. Other types of strokes that are more serious in nature are like hemorrhages that leak into the brain tissue or small clots which break loose from the arterial wall and block the artery.

According to medical experts in Methodist Hospital's Rehabilitation Institute, the following are warning signs of a stroke:

- * Dizziness;
- * A temporary loss in memory or mental ability;

Neurological symptoms listed for ADD children

Attention Deficit Disorder, ADD as it is called is a neurological problem that becomes noticeable around the age of 2. It is like the terrible two's forever. A genetic chemical imbalance that affects over 5% of all boys, that one in 20. And nearly 1% of all girls. This they may never completely outgrow.

These children need closer supervision, due to their shorter attention span than other children their own age.

Nearly 60% of the criminals in the U.S. today, were misdiagnosed or overlooked ADD children, who had to have something to do. These are the children most likely to drop out of school.

The following is a list of symptoms common to ADD children with hyperactivity.

1. They have trouble concentrating on things for a long period of time.
2. They become easily distracted (visually/auditorily).
3. They have trouble following directions.

4. They do not finish what they start.
5. They act before they think.
6. They are usually disruptive in class.
7. Loses things.
8. Engage in risk taking behavior.
9. Signs of the disorder are evident before the age of 7.
10. Intrude on conversations.
11. May talk excessively.
12. Squirms or fidgets alot.
13. Answers questions before they are completed.

The disorder sometimes disappears by puberty. Other times some symptoms, such as excessive over activity, may disappear but attentional problems remain. Unfortunately, it is not uncommon for all the symptoms to continue throughout adult life. These children seem to have a high I.Q. They are smart but are unable to sit still long enough to finish a project.

OUT OF MY WAY--There was not enough room to maneuver but the shot did go in. The Lady Horns and their opponents, Hale Center, played a hard game and in the end the Hale Center girls led the scoring. The season record for the Lady Horns stands at 11-7 and the district record 0-1.
