ENTERTAINMENT—NUMBER 42

Le Purchasing Assumed in County

Restricted to Range Stock
Only, and the Quantity
Is Limited

Authorities received by Wheeler yesterday state government cattle purchases, restrictions and limitations, are in effect in this county. In the work started today, with inspector and appraiser in the time the buying is somewhat to the previous program, except that only range cattle will be used. In other words, according to the new regulations, no dairy cattle stock will be accepted from herds where the owner is engaged in agricultural pursuits and sustained relief under wheat, cotton-hog or other set-ups.

It is believed that the present quota will be completed in three or four days. Clara Finsterwald at the National bank, works up on the cattle purchases and limits them to the district headquarters, part of them going to Kandy and part to College Station. This program will afford relief to county livestock men, local officials and cattlemen. It is believed it is sufficient to meet the needs of the situation confronting them. Efforts are being made to obtain a purchasing plan that will be a much wider scope. Re- indicate many hundreds of cattle in the county for which feed now appears available, and prospects for the future are far from

NTY FEED AND SEED LOANS TOTAL LARGE SUM

According to a report furnished by C. R. Weatherly, in charge of the work, 105 county feed seed loans, totaling $6,068.00, made up to Oct. 1. Beginning Monday, Oct. 8, an indication will be made of all loans the county to determine the needs of farmers for feeds. Farmers now receiving feed loans will be asked to utilize all available home-grown feeds, such as stalk fields, etc. In some cases loans may be reduced or discontinued if pastures are available. Those having other feed sources requested to withhold applications for further loans until their own supply is exhausted. Applications for wheat, rye, barley and oats seed loans will be accepted the office until Oct. 15. Those having land suitable for sowing oats secure seed loans for the pur-

Officers Get Stolen Harness

As the result of a trip to Woodward, Okla., last week by Sheriff Porter and two or three farm-living northwest of Wheeler who had lost some harness in recent days, a part of the missing property was recovered. Harness belonging to Ben Morgan and D. J. Tubbs was found in possession of innocent purchasers who had bought the articles from two men, Fred Bowers and Clifford Frey, apprehended two weeks ago and charged with the crime.

On Monday of this week, Bowers and Frey appeared before County Judge McMurry and pleaded guilty to two counts. Bowers was assessed a fine of $25 and costs and a day in jail on each count. Frey was given a day in jail on each of two counts. According to Sheriff Porter, Gray county has requested that Bowers and Frey be held for that county, where felony charges will be placed against him for the alleged theft of considerable harness and several saddles.

SPECIAL SERVICES UNDER WAY AT BAPTIST CHURCH

A series of special services, begun last Thursday at the Baptist church, have been in progress throughout this week, with considerable interest manifest. No announcement has been made as to when the series will come to a close. Rev. D. D. Sumrall, district evangelist from Amarillo, has been the speaker, bringing inspirational sermons of devotion and power.

TIMES ADDS 29 NEW SUB- SCRIBERS IN SEPTEMBER

While this story is one that should be of more interest to present and potential advertisers in The Wheeler Times, than to the average reader, yet it is good enough for anyone to read.

The Wheeler Times added 29 NEW bona fide, paid-in-advance subscribers to its list during the month of September—just one short of a new subscriber for every day in the month.

This achievement is a source of gratification to the management, proving as it does, the appreciation and confidence in which the paper is held by the reading public of Wheeler and Wheeler county.

This steady and substantial circulation increase cannot help but compel the respect and patronage of advertisers who really wish to reach prospective buyers and who look upon the purchase of advertising space as a business proposition, uncolored by sentiment and uninfluenced by "flap-doodle." What with scores of so-called advertising schemes and stunts continually flaunted in their faces, the average advertiser is hard put to it to determine when he is getting his money's worth.

But there is one SURE way to settle the question. Put that publicity in the HOME NEWSPAPER, which goes into the homes—and not the postoffice waste basket or the gutter—and the message will be READ and REMEMBERED.

Perfect County Centennial Body

At a meeting of Wheeler county's centennial committee, held at the office of J. B. Clark in Shamrock, Tuesday night, the organization was perfected by election of officers and appointment of committees who will formulate preliminary plans for participation in the big celebration in 1936. Mrs. D. F. Spruill was elected chairman of the committee, and Mrs. Walter Pendleton was chosen as secretary. Both ladies live in Shamrock.

Three new members were added to the committee. They are: Guy Hill, Shamrock; Mrs. J. M. Porter, Wheeler; and Oliver Elliott, Mobeetie.

Several members expect to attend a banquet at Pampa next Tuesday night. Purpose of the gathering is set forth as follows in a communication received from that city recently.

"The opening gun of the pre-centennial celebration here in 1935 will be fired on Tuesday, Oct. 9, when members of the Centennial Advisory board of the 25 counties in the 31st senatorial district will be guests of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Gray County Advisory board and prominent Pampa citizens.

"The banquet will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the banquet hall of the First Methodist church.

"Letters containing invitations to 158 advisory board members in the Panhandle were mailed last week.

"The banquet will be held for the purpose of adding to the interest and enthusiasm already created in the Panhandle for the pre-centennial movement and the centennial. Last spring the Junior Chamber of Commerce produced the first pre-centennial celebration held in Texas with great success.

"Pre-centennial plans for 1935 and centennial plans for 1936 will be discussed at the meeting."

LOCAL CHURCH OF CHRIST ASKS ORPHANS HOME AID

The Church of Christ in Wheeler, wishing to do its part toward supporting the Tipton Orphans home, an institution sponsored by that denomination, advises that a special offering will be taken at the Sunday school hour Sunday morning, for the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ludie Martin, supervisors of the home, attended services at the local church Sunday night. They are asking aid with which to make repairs at the home before cold weather arrives.

'Way Down Low on Cotton Ginning

Inquiry at the local gins today reveals that cotton ginnings to date are far below that of last year. However, last season was exceptionally good for cotton production in the county and the five-year average is not so high as that of 1933.

Up to today, Oct. 4, a total of 117 bales had been ginned by the New Deal and the Farmers gins. Last year to this date, 353 bales had been turned out.

Brief calculation shows, from the above figures, that the 1934 crop thus far is almost exactly one-third that of last year. Nor do indications point to any material change from that ratio, assert gin operators.

However, the reduction is due to the government reduction program as well as to the drouth, which greatly curtailed this year's crop.

COUNTY AGENT ATTENDING DALLAS RELIEF HEARINGS

County Agent Jake Tarter left today for Dallas, where he will meet with the interstate commerce commission and the industrial review board. Phases of drouth relief are being investigated by those bodies. Efforts will be made to secure reduced freight rates on transportation of feed and livestock. It is hoped to obtain reductions amounting to one-third the regular rate on feedstuff, coming into the drouth region, and one-half the regular rate on livestock being shipped out.

Tarter will meet the boards Friday and Saturday. He expects to return home Monday, but may be back sooner, owing to the length of time required by the committees.

He said yesterday that if time would permit at all he planned to visit the state fair long enough to help arrange the Wheeler county exhibit. Tarter declared that fully 95 per cent of the exhibit this year was brought in by farmers trained in selecting exhibit items. He also stated that whatever credit may be due on the showing made should go to these men who have been pinch-hitters during a season when the agent's time has been fully occupied with a multitude of duties not heretofore prevailing.

CORN VALLEY SCHOOL IS MAKING NICE PROGRESS

A report from the Corn Valley school, a few miles west of Wheeler, indicates that the institution is making nice progress. Bryan Dixon, deputy state school superintendent, accompanied by County Superintendent O. B. Miller, visited the school Wednesday morning. They expressed satisfaction with their survey. The pupils were 100 per cent in attendance. Trustees present were Carroll McClennen, J. L. Bailey and George Lamb.

The first month of school shows a good attendance and a number of the students on the honor roll. Those making the honor roll were:

First grade—Arlene Red, Wylene Davis; 2nd—Wanda Megee, Leota Beck; 3rd—George Sides; 4th—Ollie Burton, Junior Calloway; 5th—Thelma Hunter, Myrtle Magee, Geraldine Walsh; 6th—Ralph Magee; 7th—Lucille Lester, Imogene Bailey, Alta Lesley, Willis Red, Joe Calloway.

The Misses Madge and Ruth Richardson are teachers at Corn Valley.

ROYAL DRUG IS STAGING 2 FOR 1 SPECIAL SALE

Beginning yesterday and continuing until Saturday night, the Royal Drug store in Wheeler is staging a Nyal 2-for-1 and special sale. Reference to the advertisement on another page of this paper will show a large list of timely items attractively priced. Melvin Howe, manager of the store, declares that this publicity material serves only a sample of what they are offering, and a visit to the store will prove his statement correct.

RUSHING NEW OIL MILL

Construction work on the new cotton oil mill in Wheeler is being pushed as rapidly as possible, in an effort to complete the plant as quickly as can be done. A crew of workmen is employed both day and night to hasten the job. The enterprise is a project of the Wheeler Cotton Oil Mill Co., Inc., a local organization headed by G. O. McCrohan.

County Gets Allotment of 8 In CCC Enrollment

New Local Recruits Must Be In Amarillo by Oct. 9,
States Veale

Plans for selecting 2,938 junior members of the Civilian Conservation corps in Texas between Oct. 1 and 15, were completed this week as Neal E. Guy, enrollment supervisor for the Texas Relief commission, issued instructions to the county administrators over the state who will actually pick the candidates.

Of the nearly 3,000 selected, it is expected that about half of them will go to camps outside the state in Oklahoma, New Mexico or Colorado. The remainder likely will be absorbed by camps in Texas.

As in past enrollments, unmarried men between the ages of 18 and 25 who are American citizens and who have dependents to whom they are willing to allot a substantial amount of their monthly allowance, are eligible to be selected. They are to be taken from relief rolls or from families on relief rolls.

No two boys from the same family are eligible.

Men with criminal records are not eligible and neither are those with any history of mental derangement.

A person previously discharged for any reason is not eligible to reenter a camp.

Each man will receive $30 per month, between $22 and $25 of which must be allotted to his dependents. Although the applicant agrees to enroll in the government service for six months, if unusual circumstances arise, he may be released from his contract and discharged.

Administrators were urged particularly to "select men able to perform ordinary labor without injury to themselves." Strict observance of the minimum age limit also was advised.

County Administrator W. Veale, who will select the boys from this county, stated Wednesday that he anticipated no difficulty in filling the quota promptly. The new recruits are expected in Amarillo by next Tuesday, Oct. 9.

YOUNG MAN FROM ALLISON DIED HERE SUNDAY NIGHT

Jacob Lloyd Hardy, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hardy of Allison, died Sunday night at the Wheeler hospital, following a ruptured appendix operation.

He was born Nov. 11, 1919, at Pocasset, Okla., and died Sept. 30, 1934, at Wheeler, Texas, at the age of 14 years, 11 months and 19 days. He is survived by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hardy, and two sisters, Mrs. Arthur Brown of Mullinville, Kans., and Miss Pauline Hardy and a number of near relatives and friends.

Funeral services were conducted Monday by Rev. Alamo Starkey, assisted by Rev. J. E. Kirby, at the Wheeler funeral home, with burial in the Wheeler cemetery.

Success Comes Only After Long and Persistent Effort, Says Miss Jones

Home Demonstration Agent Cites
Case of Mrs. J. B. Crowder, Nearby Club Member, as Illustration.

(By MISS VIOLA JONES)

When we look upon the success of others, we are sometimes prone to think: "How fortunate he is; he's the luckiest fellow I know!" It really sometimes looks like things are accomplished without trying; that lady luck favors some people; that fate deals more kindly with them than with us. But anything permanent, anything that will last, and stand close criticism, must be built step by step, steady, surely and carefully. It took years and years of hard labor, careful planning and sure construction to build the pyramids of Egypt, one of the greatest models of endurance that we have today.

Often before a feat is accomplished, one fails many times. The first steamboat, first airplane and first cable ever built were failures, but through perseverance later perfected. Every person who tries to accomplish anything meets just as great obstacles as confronted those inventors; though they might not seem so to the observer.

Many people failed on their crops

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Dickinson of Briscoe, are the parents of a baby girl, born Saturday, Sept. 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Cody Cowden, who live west of Wheeler, announce the arrival of a baby boy, Thursday, Oct. 4.

FORMER WHEELER TEACHER ACCEPTS STATE POSITION

Word was received here today by Mrs. J. M. Porter, a close friend, that Miss Esther Sorensen, a former teacher in the Wheeler schools, has accepted a position as district supervisor of home economics, with headquarters at Lubbock.

Miss Sorensen is well known in Wheeler, having first attended school here and later taught home economics in the high school. Since 1927, she has taught the same subject in the Shamrock high school, giving up that position to accept the new work.

Her many friends will be pleased to hear of the advancement and will wish for her a full measure of success in the position.

OKLAHOMAN BUYS PUREBRED HEREFORD IN THIS COUNTY

During the past week, W. L. Williams & Son, proprietors of Glendale farm, a short distance southwest of Wheeler, sold to Lloyd Flippin of Sentinel, Okla., a year old bull calf of the widely known Prince Domino strain of Herefords. Williams & Son make the breeding of fine Herefords a specialty and possess a herd that ranks with the best of that breed of cattle.

Mr. Flippin said that he had traveled more than 1,000 miles in search of an animal that met his requirements as a herd sire. He praised the quality of stock found at Glendale farm and easily found an individual to his complete liking.

DOUG SIMS IN MINERAL WELLS FOR TREATMENTS

The Times is in receipt of word that D. G. Sims, Wheeler county commissioner from precinct 2, is in Mineral Wells, where he is taking treatments. Sims suffered an injury to his back in an accident at a bridge near Mobeetie last week.

The commissioner believes that a few days treatment and rest will put him in good shape again. Mr. and Mrs. Sims went to Mineral Wells early this week.

RELIEF WORKERS CHANGE

Miss Vinita Creekmore, who has been manager of national re-employment service and certifying officer in the local relief office since February, this week turned over the former work to Miss Marie Bowers, retaining her other duties. Miss Bowers, case record worker for several months, will be succeeded by Miss Marie Orr of Mobeetie, who will continue to make her headquarters in that town.

County Wheat Cash Came in This Week

Total of $1,622.93 Is Received—
Corn-Hog Payments Are Expected Soon

County Agent Jake Tarter reported, early this week, receipt of government checks covering the second payment to Wheeler county wheat farmers who signed contracts under the reduction program. This payment, aggregating a total of $1,622.93, is complete to date with the exception of 15 contracts sent in late. Checks on these are expected soon.

A third installment of approximately $50,000 to the wheat men will be due in December. The first payment was received last December. It amounted to $6,500.

The county agent states that the checks are in his office here, ready for delivery to the owners, who may call for them at their convenience.

With determined efforts on the part of the county corn-hog controlled production committee during recent weeks, it is believed that all requirements have been met and that payments under that set-up may be expected by contract signers in the very near future. "We look for corn-hog checks in most any day now," declared Jim Trout, chairman of the county allotment committee, in a statement Wednesday.

BRISCOE CLUB GIRL WINS DALLAS FAIR CAMP TRIP

Mary Margaret McCarroll, co-operator in food preservation and clothing from the Briscoe 4-H club, will receive the trip to the Dallas fair 4-H club camp, given by the Board of City Development of Wheeler.

Mary Margaret has made eight cotton dresses, one nice dress, three aprons, two undergarments, two renovated garments and eight cup towels. This makes a total of 25, valued at $23.10. She has canned 10 quarts of kraut, three quarts of peas, 45 quarts peach pickle and nine quarts of plums. Total, 67; valued at $17.90.

This club member won the following prizes at the county fair: second place on peas, third on peaches, first on cucumber pickles, first on tomato juice, first on other preserves, fifth on recipe file and second on slip. During the Tri-State fair at Amarillo, she won second on other preserves and second on tomato juice.

B. & P. W. Club to Sponsor Play

The Business & Professional Women's club of Wheeler met Monday evening in their club room and enjoyed a very interesting program on Health, with Viola Jones, health chairman, in charge of the meeting. Hattie Womack made an instructive talk on Weight Control. Health Habits was the subject of a very interesting and educational talk by Vinita Creekmore.

Three new members were voted into the club: Mrs. Emalee Witt, Helen Houston and Thelma Gill. Several books were brought for the book drive which the club now is sponsoring for the city library. The club voted to have the first meeting of each month, the second Monday, as the business meeting and program; and the second meeting, the fourth Monday, as their social meeting.

"Oh, Professor" is the name of the play which the club will sponsor November 14-15 at the Rogue theatre. It is a very clever comedy and the club feels sure everyone will enjoy seeing it.

After the business meeting useful exercises were directed by Vinita Creekmore with all members and visitors participating. "The Virginia Reel" afforded much exercise and fun.

Members present were Emalee Witt, Blanche Adams, Willetta Templeton, Clara Finsterwald, Viola Jones, Mary Lee Wicker, Leetie Womack, Doris Forrester, Grayce Couch, Blanche Grainger, Hattie Womack, Kathryn Bowers, Doris Hooker, Vinita Creekmore, and Florence Merriman. Visitors present were Lois Hodges and Leona Crossland.

The next meeting will be Monday night, Oct. 8, at the club room at 7:00 p. m. The program will be on membership, under the direction of Mary Lee Wicker, membership chairman.

YOUR GREATEST PROTECTOR

The nation just recently observed "Constitution Week." It was sponsored by the American Legion, which carries on continuous work in the interest of better Americanism.

In these trying times, it will benefit every citizen if he looks backward into the nation's past. One hundred and fifty-eight years ago the Revolution came to an end. A handful of patriots, who had suffered great privations for long years of war to break the bonds of governmental oppression, marched home. Shortly afterwards they established the United States of America—and for the first time in world history, liberty and equality became the fundamental governmental principles of a great nation.

There is danger that, in our effort to obtain temporary benefits and favors, in order to meet a periodic depression ("casual embarrassment" in the life of nation, as Thomas Jefferson described it) we as a people will lose part of the great heritage that was handed down to us by our forefathers. Today the constitution is under attack—critics would have us believe that it has outlived its usefulness, and is only a scrap of paper. If the constitution is outmoded, so is liberty, so is the right to the pursuit of happiness, so is the right to ownership of property, and the privilege and duty of working and saving for one's self. The constitution deals with the basic principles of liberty, equality and freedom from oppression which are as timeless as the seas. Every American citizen should resolve to do all in his power to maintain constitutional liberty—liberty which was won with blood at Yorktown.

WATCH OUT FOR PEDESTRIANS!

Here is something that every automobile driver should keep constantly in mind: The pedestrian must always be given the right of way. He is, by comparison with the motorist, in a precarious position—when a crisis occurs, his only chance to escape unharmed often depends upon the driver of the car which is in danger of running him down.

The pedestrian accident toll constitutes one of the worst phases of our disgraceful automobile accident record. In 1933, 37.14 per cent of all motor accidents involved pedestrians. These accounted for 30.83 per cent of all injuries, and 44.95 per cent of all deaths—showing that when a pedestrian is in an accident, the chance of his being killed is greater than in any other type of automobile mishap.

This year the automobile fatality record is rising over the 1933 level, and if the present trend continues the death toll will reach a new high. And, as usual, the pedestrian continues to get the worst of it. There is a legion of motorists who believe that as soon as the "go" light flares they are entitled to dash across an intersection, whether or not people on foot are still in it. It is an interesting commentary on this that the courts have held that once a pedestrian has stepped into a street under traffic light protection, he is entitled to safe passage across, whether or not the light changes.

Every automobile driver should regard pedestrians as being his personal responsibility. You may save a fraction of a second by dashing across intersections thronged with pedestrians—but is it worth it in view of the fact that such "saving" may cost a life?

ARE YOUR CHILDREN SAFE?

T. Alfred Fleming, supervisor of the conservation department of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, tells of a conference he had with the president of the board of education of a large city on the subject of fire hazards in the schools. The president emphatically stated that all the schools under his jurisdiction attained the maximum in fire safety, and to prove his point invited Fleming to accompany him on a tour of inspection. He selected a school having over 2,800 students, which had been in service only two years, and was supposedly a model structure of its kind.

The inspection disclosed innumerable fire hazards, and resulted in an expert survey of all schools in the city. This completed, a bond issue to the tune of $1,800,000 had to be issued to eliminate the unnecessary dangers in supposedly "perfect" schools.

As Fleming says, "The trouble is so few people know just what are hazards in public building construction and what is necessary in proper maintenance of these buildings so as to avoid danger of a catastrophe." Thousands of existing schools which are believed safe by officials in charge, are the worst kind of fire traps. Only a person experienced in fire prevention can point to hazards and show how they may be eliminated.

Every American school, whether it houses five pupils or five thousand, should have proper inspections to safeguard the nation's invaluable young lives—thousands of which have been needlessly destroyed by fires in the past.

TOO MUCH TRIGGER WORK

The information evolved by the legislative investigation recently that relief work in Texas is costing from 19 to 80 per cent to administer will be an eye opener to a lot of people who will wonder how it can take one out of every five dollars appropriated to administer relief work.

No evidence has come to light of any serious misappropriation or misapplication of funds, no big graft. But the taxpayers certainly ought to have a right to expect the relief funds to be spent for relief instead of for so much trigger work. Not individuals but the system or plan on which the work is being carried out is the thing. Of course, somewhere up the line, is the man or set of men who evolved a plan that is costing so much more than it should. One dollar out of five is said to be about the cost of administering relief in the 120th legislative district. There are districts in which the bill is nearly four dollars out of five. Surely, such a condition should not be tolerated. —Floyd County Hesperian.

INCREASING JOBLESS ARMY

All along we have opposed a policy of reduction of food and clothing as a means of furthering recovery. Maintenance of any price level by reduced production means a reduction of labor demands in both field and factory. Foreign nations, for instance, have reduced the importation of cotton. Mills are operating on a part time basis because the demand for the manufactured products at an increased price cannot be met by purchasers whose incomes have not proportionately increased. As a consequence those depending upon the cotton industry for support, for instance, are hard pressed. This is largely true of all lines where curtailment experiments have been tried.

It is our candid opinion that all food, clothing and other commodities that enter into life's necessities must be produced on an extensive plan, but produced at the lowest possible cost before the needs of the people may be sanely met.—Donley County Leader.

WHEELER IS DEFEATED

BY ERICK, FRIDAY NIGHT

Meeting a heavier team and playing on a field new to them, the Mustangs were defeated by a score of 27 to 0 by Erick, Okla., Friday night.

During their passing attack with the Mustangs placed the ball in the end position several times during the game only to lose it on downs.

Wood Lewis turned in good play by his broken field runs. Fine play by the Mustang line was seen throughout the game.

The Mustangs play their second conference game of the year Friday night at 2 o'clock with the Mobeetie Mustangs at Mobeetie. Wheeler defeated Mobeetie 13 to 0 last year.

The starting lineup Friday night was: L. E. Shirley, L. T. Newkirk, G. Connor, C. Deering, R. G. Woodward, R. T. Tillman, R. E. Weeks, Q. B. Young, H. B. Lewis, H. B. Robinson, F. B. Tate.

DOUGHBOYS SEND COPY OF "BEAUTIFUL TEXAS"

Because only a few high school students knew the words to "Beautiful Texas," Ruth Faye Garrison wrote to the Light Crust Doughboys of the Burrus Mills, Fort Worth, and asked for a copy of the song.

W. Lee O'Daniels responded by sending a complimentary copy of this popular composition.

Permission must be obtained before this song may be sung in public.

GENERAL SCIENCE CLUB IS ORGANIZED BY CLARK

A meeting was held Monday at class time for the purpose of organizing a General Science club. Dawn Weatherly was elected president, Fannie Lewis, vice president and Irene Hunt, secretary-treasurer. A committee was appointed to get up an experiment and discuss it. The president appointed Imogene Jamison, Waylon Pollard and L. C. Calhoun on this committee.

The meetings will be held once a month on the second Wednesday. Plans were made for the meetings throughout the year.

Coach R. E. Clark is the sponsor of this club.

FRIDAY OF NEXT WEEK SET FOR EXAMINATIONS

First six weeks exams start Friday at 8:45, according to Supt. J. L. Gilmore. Only one period will be allowed for each examination. Last year proved to be more successful than previous years due to the fact that only one day was lost each six weeks for the test.

It is found that as much can be covered in one period as in two, says Mr. Gilmore. Students must be fully prepared to meet the test with the present system. There will be no change in the schedule for the six weeks examinations this year.

Exemptions will be given this year for mid-term and final tests. Those making B plus or better will be exempt. But if they do not make as much as B on department they are required to take an extra exam. If a person makes B on department and has a C average he can be exempt on that subject.

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY

Sunday Oct. 7, is the birthday of one of our most famous poets, James Whitcomb Riley. He was born in 1849 in the town of Greenfield, Indiana. Riley was the son of a well-to-do lawyer, but he did not like his father's business. To fill his desires he worked with a traveling show. Here he began writing poems for newspapers. His poems were so popular and well read that he became a national figure.

This day should be remembered for the sake of the poems he wrote for children. School children like his poems for their realistic touches. The most liked of his poems are: "The Ole Swamin' Hole" and "Out to Old Aunt Mary's." In the latter poem, the poet recalls the days of his childhood and tells his brother of the death of a beloved old aunt. This poem is so popular with grammar grade students, they very often select it to recite in declamation. So, students, why not remember this great American poet Sunday?—T. C.

CLUB INITIATIONS CAUSE GRIEF TO NEW MEMBERS

Did you see the first year Home Economics girls and the Spanish I senioritas the day following their initiations? Well, I did. In fact, I was one of the senioritas.

The Home Economics girls were initiated last Wednesday afternoon and to complete their initiation they were requested to wear their dresses backwards; they were not allowed to use cosmetics for one whole day; they wore huge bows in their hair; the shoes they wore were not mates; and they wore an anklet and a stocking. Besides all this, they had to carry a bar of laundry soap and a dish rag. Law! Mercy! I'm glad I already belong to that club. But I didn't belong to the Spanish club until Tuesday. We were initiated Monday night so Tuesday we were required to wear a long dress, a bright sash, plenty of jewelry, a wreath of sun-flowers, lots of rouge, and we had to bring a fishing pole and a bucket to school with us. Now that it is all over, I am glad I belong to that club so I can help initiate next year.

JOURNALISM STUDENTS GET TWELVE EXCHANGES

Through the courtesy of C. G. Miller, editor of The Wheeler Times, the journalism class has had access to papers from twelve colleges and high schools for the past two years. Mr. Miller has donated twelve copies of the Corral each week to be exchanged.

Papers which have already been received are: The War Whoop, from McMurtry college, the Austin Maroon, and the Prairie, from Canyon.

It is expected that exchanges can be arranged with The Treador, from Lubbock, and The Lasso, from Denton.

Loula Clarke, exchange editor, has requested exchange with the Oak Cliff High Acorn, Dallas; the Brackenridge High Times, Brackenridge high school, San Antonio; the Sandstorm, Amarillo, and The Pinion, Honolulu, Hawaii.

The class also hopes to add to its list two papers from high schools of other states.

NINE W. H. S. GRADUATES ENROLL AT TEXAS TECH

Nine Wheeler graduates enrolled at Texas Technological college this week. They are Billy and June McCarrill, Exie Creekmore, Wayland Merriman, Gladys Noah, Anna Mae Puett, Betty Finsterwald, Clyde Adams and Noel Bryant.

Two new dormitories, modern in every respect, have just been completed, one for the boys and one for girls. Registration was delayed until Oct. 1, because these buildings were still under construction.

IMPROVEMENTS ARE MADE FOR READING MAGAZINES

Several improvements have been made in arranging for students to read current magazines this year. These will not be checked out but are to be used in the library.

H. E. Cole has cut off the legs of the reading table one inch, which makes it more convenient for writing and reading.

With the library fund the following magazines have been added for the English and history students: Texas Outlook, Harpers, Forbes, Asia, Golden Book and Review of Reviews.

The high school library has also subscribed for the "Dallas Morning News" for the journalism class.

UNCLE TED LOOKS 'EM OVER

Boy, O, boy, what a game. That football game at Erick was shore a humdinger, no foolin'. Ef the boys had just a little more weight I believe the Bearcats (or whatever they styled themselves) wouldn't had a chance.

'course I don't know nothin' about the game of football, but I could tell the Hosess were sho bucking that line. And believe it or not "Tilley" got in a hurry. As you know he is just a bit big and lazy, but he shore perked up and covered the ball onct. According to my calcations, "Tilley" should get some praise for his act. That there red-headed tackle, Ford Newkirk, sho did make a lot of touchdowns (excuse it, tackles was meant.) He must have heard some Erick player say something about his face. Boys, you're doing fine but keeper up.

GRAMMAR GRADE NOTES

A new desk has been made by H. E. Cole for the grammar grade office. "Several shelves have been added to the library for class books," states Principal Bob Clark.

First grade students are studying Indian life. They are making beads, bows and arrows, war bonnets, two wigwags, cradles, clothes of gunny sacks, moccasins from felt hats and pottery. A health library has been ordered and will be here soon according to Kathryn Bowers.

Mrs. Lloyd Davidson has divided the third grade into five Indian tribes: Blackfoot, Pueblo, Navaho, Osage and Hopi. Each tribe has an Indian name. The Blackfoot chief is Rufus Speed. Kicking Bear; Glen Roberson, Crowfoot; Dorothy Sullivan. Minnehaha; Alice Hogan, Snow Flakes and Ouida Jo Norris, White Duck. Chief of the Pueblo tribe is Jack Murphy, Iagoo; Junior Roberson, Hole-in-the-Sky; Wilbur Basher, Blackfoot; F. A. Starkey, Red Eagle; Celeste Wiley, Yellow Wing and Peggie Nell Badley, Red Wing.

Clyde Guynes is Sitting Bull, and chief of the Navaho tribe; Jim Bob Shipman, Thunder Bird; Oscar Ragan, Dirty Face; Marie Clarke, Bright Eyes; Pauline Miller, Nokomis and Imogene Crowder, Blue Sky.

Chief of the Osage tribe is Joe Weatherly, Lightfoot; Jack Riley, Old Smoke; E. L. Gardner, Red Bird; Johnnie Floyd, Hiawatha; La Verne Gill, Sleepy Eyes and Lucille Balch, Little Bird.

W. C. Noah, Yellow Wolf, is chief of the Hopi tribe. Tommy Hyatt, Rain-in-the-face; Billie Hix, Yellow Fox; Vernie Brewer, Rainbow; Geraldine Williams, Flying Cloud; Mable Lamb, Ajawac; Arlie Ruth Waters, Pocahontas.

Monday morning Principal Bob Clark entertained the grammar grades with his magic tricks. Consisting of egg production, egg in bag, thimble, color changing, fan, coin disappearance and rope. The six boys that helped perform these were W. D. Tolbert, Junior Ahler, Willie Hiltbrunner and Morris Earl Ferguson from the first grade; Billie Hessman and Eugene Mathews of the fourth. "Beautiful Texas," "Springtime in the Rockies," "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," and "Jingle Bells" were sung.

The fourth grade captain of this week is Billie Hessman. Guards are Annie Trantham, S. D. Miller, Wilma Derryberry, L. B. Pendleton and Billie Wiley. "My Weekly Reader" has been subscribed for the use of the fourth grade.

Mrs. G. O. McCrohan states, "The fifth grade students have grown accustomed to the idea of being under different teachers. They come into the room after play more quietly than any other class."

"Seventh grade students have improved wonderfully in classes as well as on the play grounds," said Mr. Clark.

JOURNALISM COURSE RANKS HIGH IN STATE

According to a letter received from the State Department of Education last week, Wheeler is one of the thirteen schools in Texas that has an accredited course offered in journalism.

Other schools that have this affiliation are: Houston, Harris county; Lampasas, Lampasas county; Marshall, Harrison county; Port Arthur, Jefferson county; San Antonio, Bexar county; Abilene, Taylor county; Austin, Travis county; Amarillo, Potter county; Crane, Crane county; Dallas, Dallas county; El Paso, El Paso county; and Fort Worth, Tarrant county.

Wheeler has had affiliation for five years and meets all the state requirements. The state requires the school applying for credit in journalism to already be accredited in four units of English. Journalism courses are limited to the junior and senior years in high school. In addition to this, Wheeler high school requires the students to have a "B" average in English.

Regarding teacher preparation, most authorities believe that the minimum requirement should be six hours of professional preparation by the teacher in some standard college or university of the first class. Miss Bernie Addison, the instructor, has seventeen college hours in journalism and will receive a B. J. degree from the University of Missouri at Columbia next August.

The class in journalism must maintain some form of newspaper as a medium for laboratory work. Although the high school does not have a school paper, the journalism students publish "The Corral" in the local paper each week.

The state department suggests that students should have some metropolitan newspaper to gain first-hand knowledge of other printers feature stories, editorials and other writings and to read the current events. Wheeler high school has two daily papers, twelve outstanding college papers and six current magazines.

REV. SUMRALL LECTURES IN CHAPEL WEDNESDAY

Chapel opened Wednesday morning with a song, "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Then James Wylie of the sixth grade played a cornet solo with Mrs. G. O. McCrohan accompanying him.

The Rev. D. D. Sumrall of Amarillo, district missionary for the Baptist church, was introduced by Supt. J. L. Gilmore.

Basing his talk on the seventh chapter of Matthew, Rev. Sumrall spoke on "Building." First one must choose a good site to build, said the speaker; then he must lay a good foundation and last he must erect a strong building. He stated that since 28,000 criminals today are under 21 years of age, it is necessary to build our lives steadily, day by day.

"We are daily hanging pictures on the walls of our lives which we must later view from the shadows," he said in conclusion.

BRISCOE TOOTERS

THE FAITHFUL FEW

As sponsor of our Scribblers' club, I wish to express my appreciation to the "faithful few" who are writing this week. Due to the interruption which the cotton season always causes, many of our reporters are absent, and on the shoulders of the remaining few falls the task of "carrying on."

Four members of our club were present at the weekly club meeting held Oct. 2—Fay Wilson, Joy Bill Riley, Clyde Wadsworth and Bernard Wilson. Thank you, students, for playing the game! Let's make each week's contribution better than the last.—Mrs. A.I.S.

UNLUCKY FRIDAY

You have all heard that Friday is an unlucky day and it seems to have lived up to its title last Friday at Briscoe high school.

Mary Margaret McCarroll was playing when she fell and fractured her ankle.

Roy Waters started to open the door and his arm slipped through the glass door, cutting two deep gashes in his arm.

After all the other accidents were over, Tamsey V. Riley fainted and was taken to Gaines hospital, where she recovered rapidly.

And so this was Friday!!!

New Books

The Briscoe high school library has added a few books. Most of these books are source books for different subjects. They have added four Ancient Histories, three Social Problems, three Industry and Trade, one Africa and Australia, one Great Rivers of the World, one The Americas and one the Nations Beyond the Sea. The cost of these books amounted to about $25.

We thank Grady Dodd for contributing six Mentor magazines to the library.

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENTS

Mr. Russ has improved his General Science room by adding four large tables which are used for desks. Around these desks he built enough seats for all the science students. Mr. Russ thinks there is not enough "dough" in boll pulling, so he has been practicing carpentering. Perhaps during the rest of the vacations he can get a good position that will bring in lots of pay.

You may rest assured that this room is very nice looking and is much more convenient after he has moved the science equipment from the laboratory.

During the week's vacation Miss Scott and Mr. Graves have been having ideas and have come back to school full of plans.

Mr. Graves has been planning a Halloween carnival for the school. There will be booths, a minstrel, boxing matches, candy stands and other places of amusements. Further announcements will be made later.

Mrs. Allen I. Smith spent last week at her home south of Shamrock.

We wouldn't have thought of such a thing, but Mrs. Smith said, "I did everything from helping doctor a calf that had a broken leg to hanging wall paper." Mrs. Smith, that's awful, but wait until you have to go to pulling bolls; then you'll find there is nothing so bad that it can't be worse.

HONOR ROLL

The honor roll for the past six weeks isn't all we expected it to be, for we realize that our students are as well equipped mentally as any pupils in the state. Students we are expecting more of your names to appear on the honor list next six weeks. Don't disappoint us.

The roll for high school students is: English IV, Lois Aderholt; English II, Bessie Waters; English III, Imogene Hogue; English I, Lovena Evans; commercial geography, Marcell Tipps, Tamsey V. Riley; American history, Dottie Belle Cowan, Opal Morris, Joy Bill Riley, Clyde Wadsworth, Faye Wilson; history I, Geraldine Wadsworth, La Verna Evans.

The roll for grade pupils who have made A's in two or more subjects is: grade seven, Wilbur Roberts, Olaf Sivage; six, Dale Wilson, Betty Riley, Wilda Dixon, Armand Clepper; five, Bud McCarroll, Harley Vise; four, Leo Wood, Lavois Aderholt, Juanita McAdams, Leah Beth Reeves, Valarie Riley, Delma Lee Satterfield, Modene Wilson, Art Ridgeway, Janoise Ridgeway; three, Billie Candler, William Glenn, Thelma Hefley, Zane Grey Francis; two, R. L. Zybach.

The Value of Civics

In the High School

The study of civics in the secondary schools is most valuable, not only from the standpoint of being an interesting subject, but from the larger point of view of training our boys and girls of high school age in becoming intelligent, useful citizens of the future.

In a democratic form of government such as we have in this country, the reins of power lie directly in the hands of the people which they in turn confer upon their chosen representatives. However, it is trite to say that if the people do not perform their part well in voting wisely and in taking an active interest in political affairs, the whole governmental system is weakened, thereby leaving the way open for costly methods of government administration.

One of the chief aims of civics is to awaken the interest of the student in the affairs of the government; to explain the various functions of the government; to impress upon the student the responsibility that will be his when he becomes a full-fledged citizen, and to stress the importance of his participation in civic affairs.

As a typical example of the proper training in the fundamental principles of government, civics should hold an important place in the high school curriculum.

Both rooms are decorated with spooky and haunting figures, making preparation for the long ride with the witch on the broom about the last day of this month. Owls, cats, witches, gloomy gloops and bats are the feature of the decorations. By that it seems that Hallowe'en must be approaching.

The pupils in Mr. Brister's room are planning on a party celebrating the event of spooky Hallowe'en. Each must make a higher average this month, however, before definite arrangements will be made.

The primary room carries a feature of the farm on its sand table. A two-story house has been constructed and furniture made for it by the pupils. They also have a barn, barnyard, animals and also boys and girls to tend to the chores.

The witches are loose in the primary room, bats chasing them, and a grand time is expected by all, as they look forward to that ghostly night.

The geography classes in the upper grades are posting maps this week. Much improvement has been made, and a great deal of work is being done in that line.

Boy Scouts

A group of boys met Tuesday night and organized a troop of Scouts. There were 12 boys present. Eleven of them pledged as charter members.

After the organization, some of the first class scouts planted a confetti trail, after which the others had to follow.

The last feature was a camp-fire on the creek. Each boy was responsible for wood, and as each told a ghost story they were allowed to place their fuel on the fire.

Mr. Brown was present to assist in the organization.

The Booze Fighter

There He Is Boys—Look Him Over

He was at one time an outstanding member of society in this community, a man who did things, and was highly respected by all who knew him. He was pointed out as one of the men who helped hold the world together in our locality.

BUT—He was a man who could either drink or let it alone. He was boastful of this fact, and made frequent exhibitions of his will power, never considering the fact that he was a bad example for his less fortunate fellowman who did not possess this virtue. He did not ask himself the all important question: "AM I MY BROTHER'S KEEPER?"

AND—Through no fault of his own, his well established business began to slip as times changed. He had a spell of sickness which weakened his resistance; his nerves became jittery; he found himself unable to think things through as he had heretofore done; his head seemed kinda muddled.

BUT—He found that by taking a bracer every few hours he could carry on in the same old way. So he did it, assuring himself that as soon as he got back on his feet he could quit it. However, it didn't continue to work; he found that it took more and more to keep him going, and that by the time he got his head to working he was drunk, and could not work.

AND—As you see him today, moving about our streets, his friends who once admired him, pity him; men who once backed his judgment, now shun him when he approaches them with his business plans. They say he would have been in prosperous circumstances if he had let booze alone, but it got him.

BOYS: BOOZE GOT HIM! We have two men in our town today who have gone this road. We have three other good men who, if they do not watch their step, are going the same way. The latter three have a chance to regain themselves if they act at once, but it is not probable that they will all do so; their will power is broken.

PICK THEM OUT AND WATCH THEM. Notice their business associates who are beginning to shun them; notice the people who used to patronize them in the past who are not doing so now. Watch them as they gradually slip on down the social scale, and see their business gradually shrivel to nothing.

NOW! WE'RE ASKING YOU? Can you afford to go this route? Can you afford to mess with booze? It is a first class ticket to trouble; it is a first class ticket to the poorhouse. Stand at the door of our state prisons, stand at the door of our execution room—ask them how it happened. Nine times out of ten, they will tell you it started with booze. Nine out of ten of our murders are committed by men or women who are drunk, or who are heavy drinkers.

Boys, we plead with you, in behalf of your family, for our community, and for your better self, for the community and family you will help build tomorrow, in behalf of the man you should be 10, 20, 30 or 50 years from now—

Let Booze Alone!

Brown Stain

White or mottled teeth which are in some mouths has been a problem to the dental and medical professions for many years. However, years of study and research it has been solved. This condition is commonly known as "Brown Stain" is prevalent in some communities and not known in others. This feature has caused active minds to wonder.

The brown or brown color, which is a part of the tooth, is unbecoming to the patient and naturally a annoyance in the art of beauty. Even though a small percent of population of this country is afflicted with it, most everyone has it. It being a part of the tooth's structure it is an impossibility to remove it.

Recent discoveries have brought to the fact that it is caused by a substance in the water of certain localities. It has been proven beyond reasonable doubt that "fluorine," which is a gaseous substance in the air, is responsible for this discoloration. It is stated by authorities who made the most interesting experiments that three parts of fluorine to one million parts of water cause this condition.

The most convincing experiment was one made by examining school children and finding many or all of them affected with this condition. When living out of the jurisdiction of water these children were drink did not have it. Later the water was changed and every child born thereafter was free from it. In other words these children did not develop it while drinking the water and forming the permanent teeth. This happened at Oakley, Idaho. The experiment was made by Dr. F. S. McCay.

Much credit is due this man for his consistency in perfecting his efforts in this line. Even though it is valuable information to the interested professions as well as the public in general, it is impossible to avoid the formation of such teeth when it is necessary to drink water that contains too much fluorine. The only sane and sure way to avoid this unpleasant circumstance is for the authorities in towns and communities to test the water before it is used by the public.

While no serious effects have been known to come from this condition other than the unpleasant appearance of the teeth, this alone is sufficient grounds for preventive measures to be taken by those in control of water supplies. This condition which is brought about by fluorine is also sufficient grounds to convince the mother and father that water, food, and environment have to do with the formation of teeth.

It is not necessary that anyone be alarmed but it is necessary that all of us furnish the youth proper food and water that we may do our part in the formation of good teeth.

These necessities will be discussed more in detail from time to time in this column.

Next—Artificial Teeth.

METHODIST CHURCH

J. EDMUND KIRBY, Pastor
Sunday is Rally Day. We extend to those of you who have not been attending Sunday school of late to be present for this Rally Day service and help us swell our Sunday school attendance to 225.

At the 11 o'clock service there will be presented "The Road to God," with an appropriate worship service. After the drama the pastor will install the officers and teachers of the Sunday school for the coming year.

Young people meet for their services at 7:15 o'clock.

At 8 o'clock the pastor will preach on "Lip Service."

Why not worship with us Sunday, if you are not already a regular worshipper at some other church?

A Word to Parents

In this day of immoral moving pictures, sex literature, hero gangsters and other forces that are having a bad moral effect upon the lives of your children you need all the help you can get in bringing them up to be good citizens. The churches are organized to help you keep your boys and girls from being caught in the evils of our day. Why not avail yourself of this help? Instead of sending your children to church, bring them.

After you have seen to it that your children have the best moral instruction that it is possible for them to get; then, if they go wrong you are not totally responsible. But, if you do not make any effort to see that they have moral instruction then you are totally responsible if they go wrong.

The churches of Wheeler are willing to share with you the responsibility of the moral trainings of your children. Come and bring them to church and do all in your power to give them all the moral instruction available, then if they go wrong you can have the assurance that you did every thing you could.

We invite you to make the Methodist church of Wheeler your church home if you have no choice and if you are not already worshipping elsewhere.

Teachers College Plans 25th Anniversary Fete

Event Dated for October 20th
—Ruth Bryan Owen Will Deliver Address

The Times is indebted to B. T. Rucker for the following article, taken from a Canyon paper, concerning the home-coming celebration of W. T. S. T. C., where Rucker is now a student:

Plans for an elaborate program on Home-Coming Day for the celebration of the 25th anniversary of West Texas State Teachers college are being rounded out by officials. Five different entertainments have been scheduled, the feature being Ruth Bryan Owen's speech on Saturday morning, Oct. 20, the day set aside honoring fathers and mothers.

Other high points of the home-coming festival are: the football game between the Buffaloes and McMurry college; play-night; and the play, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," to be presented by members of the college faculty. Climaxing the two days of the return to Alma Mater and the reunion of old friends is a dance.

The football game in the afternoon of Oct. 20, will undoubtedly be another of those revenge games.

Play-Night will see the resumption of old quarrels between members of rival societies and clubs when they get together for a little gentle (?) competition in baseball, volley ball, table tennis, croquet, and horseshoe pitching.

If you're in the confidence of Miss Mary Morgan Brown, who is directing the faculty play, you're lucky for we believe she is not divulging the details but is saving up for the performance night. Anyway we do know that special properties have been constructed for the play.

Ex-students are being ably represented at the home-coming, for they have chosen a speaker, Guy Rogers, of Wichita Falls, for the principal ex-student address and representatives and alternates for each decade from 1910 to 1940.

Times Wantads are only 5c a line.

COUNTY COURT HAS QUIET WEEK; JURY CASES FRIDAY

Two or three demurrers were heard and disposed of by the judge early in the week.

Court will continue over into next week.

to have a better exhibit. She canned 68 containers of 41 varieties of choice products to be selected out of her club fair, then later sent to the county fair. As a reward for her labor she won 18 firsts, 11 seconds and one third in the county fair, and five firsts, five seconds and four thirds at the Amarillo Tri-State fair, and received $12.25 in cash prizes.

If every woman had tried five years like she has and had canned as much this year, they would have had a much better chance to have been high point woman, also. She did not do all of this in one year, neither did all of the things she canned this year go to the fair, but by doing her best and stopping not at the first difficulty, she accomplished something that demands the admiration and respect of every club member in the county.

It makes us realize the truth of the little poem by Longfellow: "Heights of great men reached and kept, Were not attained by sudden flight, But they, while their companions slept, Were toiling upward in the night."

Stingaree

There is magic in the name of Richard Dix. There is drama in the name of Irene Dunne. There is power in their latest picture, "Stingaree." It is the story of a bad, bold, gallant, mysterious bandit whose exploits chilled the entire male populace, but whose daring and chivalry thrilled the heart of every senorita in the land.

The leading role is portrayed by none other than Richard Dix, the hero of "Cimarron" fame. He is a sort of Pancho Villa type Mexican bandit who is both loved and feared. Dix is ably supported by the incomparable Irene Dunne, also of "Cimarron" fame. They, together, guarantee any audience a splendid evening of entertainment. Coming to the Rogue
