No Fatalities Are Reported; Spur In Path

More Than A Score Of Homes Are Damaged In Widespread Area But Occupants Escape Serious Injury

Spur School Hit

Children Are Terrified When Twister Strikes; Hail And Rain Follow; Jackrabbits Killed By Scores

(By The Associated Press)

ABILENE, May 3.—Cyclones, hail and rain struck in an extensive low pressure area of West Texas late today. Twisters in south Taylor county, at Sylvester and McCaulley, Fisher county, and Spur, Dickens county laid more than a score of homes low but resulted in no serious injury to residents.

A funnel shaped wind that swooped down on the Iberis community, ten miles south of Abilene, demolished the church, two homes and several barns, then traveling eastward, divided on a ridge to from two twisters that claimed five more homes in the Watsonville settlement eight and one half miles southeast of here.

Two Badly Bruised

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Watson, who stood watching the storm from a window of their home at Watsonville, were badly bruised when the second cloud, swoopng down suddenly, laid their house flat.

At Spur, where a cyclone struck the northwest edge of the town at 2 p. m. the storm raised and then dipped down in the southeast section, damaging the school building, dozens of windows being smashed.

Children Terrified

School children were terrified, but none was injured.

At 4 p. m. a cyclone that formed three miles south of Sylvester passed east of the town a quarter of a mile, destroyed a half dozen homes in a path 400 feet in width and struck McCauley, where four homes were demolished. Jackrabbits were reported killed by the scores. Damage to telephone, telegraph and electric

Two Texas Convicts Are Killed In Prison Break

Possibility Of A Wholesale Delivery Plot On Part Of Prisoners Is Being Investigated

(By The Associated Press)

SUGARLAND, Tex., May 3.—Convicts in the hoe squad in which E. A. "Jack" Bragg, San Antonio desperado, and C. A. Roby, El Paso robber, were slain today in a break for liberty were being questioned tonight by prison authorities in an effort to ascertain whether a wholesale delivery had been plotted on the farm.

Bragg and Roby, known on the prison farm as "bad men" were shot to death by Guards Frank Harris and B. E. Humphrey, who were guarding convict squads in the field, when the two prisoners dashed toward Harris and attempted to wrest his shotgun away, Captain A. N. Owen said.

Bragg died in the central state prison farm hospital here an hour after the shooting. Roby fell dead on the spot when the two guards opened fire. Several other convicts, believed by Captain Owen to have had previous knowledge of the break, did not attempt to aid their companions, the captain said. One convict, the captain reported, was known to have been a party to the attempted liberation but his identity was shielded by other prisoners.

Bragg, a partner of Frank Gill, San Antonio gunman who was slain by officers in a Houston hotel recently, was under sentence of five to 50 years from Bexar county for robbing the Plaza hotel and the South San Antonio bank. He was captured in Dallas as he hid under a bed.

Roby was sentenced to five years from El Paso for robbery. He had escaped once before but was recaptured after about two months' liberty. He had served about one year of his sentence.

No charge was filed against the guards in the death of the convicts. The case probably will be submitted directly to the Fort Bend county grand jury.

Senate Favors Submission Of Bond Proposal

Measure For A Constitutional Amendment To Authorize Issuance Of $20,000,000 In Bonds Goes To House

Relief Is Delayed

RFC Officials Declare Texas Will Receive No More Funds Until Question Is Put To Vote Of People

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 3.—The Texas senate today sent to the house a proposed constitutional amendment to authorize a $20,000,000 state bond issue for unemployment relief. Before the end of the day, the house constitutional amendments committee voted, 8 to 4, to give it a favorable report.

If 100 members of the house should favor the proposal, it would be submitted to the people on August 26. The senate adopted it, 22 to 6. One vote more than the majority necessary for submission. Only 18 senators had voted for it yesterday.

Relief funds Withheld

Officials of the reconstruction Finance corporation had said the federal agency would not make the May-June relief allotment to Texas unless the legislature voted to submit the bond issue proposal.

A recommendation of the senate committee of the whole that a house bill to create an oil and gas commission be defeated was read in the senate. Proponents did not seek to have the bill printed on a minority report, and senators said it was "definitely dead."

Senate Bill Passes

The house passed a senate bill to reappropriate one cent of the state gasoline tax for assumption of county and district bonds issued for state highway construction. Authors said the tax money would cover all the interest payments and about one-third of the maturing principal obligations. The county or road district would have to meet the remaining obligation on the principal.

A senate bill to authorize the railroad commission to permit lines to run less than one freight train daily was passed by the house. The purpose of this bill was to prevent abandonment of trackage.

The house spent all afternoon on a bill to reduce maximum fees al-

South Plains Sends Another Shipment Over To Nebraskans

Local Farmers Considering Asking For Payment With Dust Market On Rise

NEBRASKA, the South Plains of Texas is sending you another fortune in mineral fertilizer.

Prof. E. E. Schramm of the University of Nebraska geological department Tuesday estimated red dust blown into his state was worth $25,000,000 to farmers. Yesterday, County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson wrote Schramm:

More On The Way

"It is pleasing to know that certain sections of the country and particularly my own county has through an act of God been so beneficial to the state of Nebraska. This letter is to advise you that approximately 250,000 more tons of this fertilizing silt is on its way.

"At the rate of disturbances we have noticed in Lubbock county for the past three weeks you have doubtless received a large portion of the second shipment.

Must Keep It There

"We will be pleased to send an equal quantity at a later date under one condition; that is, that you will see to it that the silt is kept in Nebraska and is not permitted to return to Lubbock county, which from observance has been the usual case.

"Incidentally, if you see any cows, sows, or hens in your neighborhood bearing Texas brands please notify me by wire."

Unusually dry weather in the Panhandle-Plains area the past two months and exceptionally winds have put more dust than usual into the air this spring.

Schramm estimated dust settling in Nebraska from Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas was worth $10 a ton as mineral fertilizer.

While another dust storm was raging here yesterday, some Lubbock county farmers were considering sending bills to the fortunate Nebraskans.

Pawns Ring To Buy Poison At Pharmacy Here

Harold Hall, Unemployed And Estranged From Young Wife, Is Victim; Drinks Acid In Downtown Building

Dies In Hospital

Obtains 50 Cents From Friend And Spends Half For Ounce Bottle Of Liquid; Unable To Obtain Work

UNEMPLOYED and estranged from his 17-year-old wife, Harold Hall of Lubbock drank carbolic acid in a downtown building at about 6:40 o'clock last night.

He died a few minutes later in a hospital here. Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell, who began an inquest, said Hall, 20, "apparently committed suicide."

Outwardly Cheerful

Outwardly cheerful, the young man made arrangements for self-destruction within an hour. All scenes of the tragedy were in the 1200-block of Texas avenue. Step by step, his last movements were traced as follows:

At about 5:45 o'clock, Hall approached Orville Bernethy, 1626-B Ninth street, who operates a drink and candy stand. He asked for 50 cents, with which to go to a dance. His friend gave him two twenty-five cent pieces, and accepted a ring as security.

Buys Carbolic Acid

Fifteen minutes later, Hall was in a drug store nearby. He wanted to buy carbolic acid as a disinfectant, John W. Akers said. He paid for an ounce bottle of the poison with a quarter. The poison record showed Hall's name, his address, and the word "disinfectant."

R. E. McClain, 18, of 1509 Seventh street recounted the closing scene:

"I met Harold on the sidewalk, and we went to a restroom in the building. He went into one of the compartments, and I waited for him.

Asks For Handkerchief

"He walked out, his mouth was white. He asked me for a handkerchief, the only words I think he said. I didn't have one. I knew then what had happened, for the odor of carbolic acid was in the room.

"I ran downstairs to get help. I saw Mutt Walker, and sent him up. Then I got another boy, Louis, and we three carried Harold downstairs."

McClain said he didn't know

Secluded Wood Resounds With Tom-Tom Beat

(By The Associated Press)

VINITA, Okla., May 3.—A secluded wood in White Oak hills near here resounded until dawn today with the pounding of tom-toms and cries of Indian braves of a half dozen tribes gathered in their annual spring supplications for favorable growing weather for their crops.

The "Great Spirit" was beseeched in traditional manner to look with favor upon all growing things and bring to successful fruition in the fall the green things just approaching full leaf.

Farm Relief Slated For Approval By Congress Soon

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 3.—With a roaring chorus of ayes, piling up avote of 307 to 86, the house today approved the Roosevelt currency inflation plan and sent its parent, the big farm relief bill, to conference with prospects of a presidential signature by Saturday night.

The inflation rider which now has complete congressional approval will allow President Roosevelt among other things to expand currency and credit by as much as $6,000,000,000 in addition to altering the gold backing of the dollar by as much as fifty percent.

Seek Quick Agreement

Senate and house conferees will hold their first formal meeting tomorrow in an effort to agree upon several score of differences in the farm relief measure. Leaders hold hope of obtaining quick agreement in order that the legislation may be finally approved and sent to the White House by Saturday.

The administration is anxious that it be expedited so that it can be placed into immediate operation for the aid of farmers, hundreds of whom are threatened with the loss of their property.

Action came on the inflation amendment in the house today after it disagreed to all senate farm relief amendments and sent them to conference. Six hours of debate on the proposition was completed last night.

Demands Separate Vote

Representative Snell of New York, the Republican leader, chief opponent of the inflation proposition, demanded a separate vote on the expansion rider. Speaker Rainey

Temporary Relaxation Is Seen In Government Regulations; Trade Associations Favored To Solve Problems

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 3.—A broad campaign progressed today at the capital for immediate stimulation of business which President Roosevelt regards as the next imperative step for national recovery.

Tomorrow night the president will take command of forces which worked today at the capitol and at the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States will outline his policies for recovery to the business leaders.

Temporary Relaxation

All proposals today pointed toward a temporary relaxation in government regulations to permit agreements within industry on production, wages and hours of labor.

The president is considering a request to congress for authority to supervise such action during the period of the emergency. The necessary legislation is to be included in the two billion dollar public works bill now taking shape.

Organization of trade associations within each branch of industry to work out, with government sanction, agreements for control of production, minimum wages and hours of labor was suggested both at the chamber of commerce meeting and in a conference of political and economic leaders on Capitol Hill.

There is reason to believe the president also is looking in this direction.

Henry I. Harriman, president, and Gerard Swope told the chamber of commerce today that self-imposed regulation was the way out. These two national business chieftains pointed also to the trade association agreements.

Murray Vetoes Repeal Voting

Chance For Oklahomans To Get Vote On Repeal Is Blasted; Governor Says Measure Has Unconstitutional Flaws

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 3—The possibility of Oklahoma's holding a referendum to pass on repeal of the eighteenth amendment, until after further action is taken by the state legislature, was blasted late today when Governor Murray vetoed a joint house resolution providing for a repeal convention.

The governor said he had found "unconstitutional flaws" in the act passed by the recent legislature and could not approve it in its present form.

Changes Existing Laws

He said the resolution could not be approved by him as governor "in so far as it changes existing laws, for the reason of that portion that violates section 12, article 6 of the state constitution governing the issue of commissions."

"It also is a nullity in that the conventions called for were to be held before the law goes into effect, since it bears no emergency clause," the governor added.

Murray's action means the repeal question can make no further headway until the next legislature meets in January, 1935, unless the question is considered at a special session.

Texas Father Is Being Held For Kidnaping Of Daughter

TEXARKANA, Ark., May 3 (AP)—R. P. McClure of Dallas, charged in El Paso with kidnaping of his four-year old daughter, Margaret, was arrested here today by Miller county, Ark., officers. He made bond of $500. The child was in his company.

McClure said he would fight extradition and that he had taken the child out of Texas in order to get a "fair trial to win custody of my daughter."

McClure tried three times at El Paso district court to gain full custody of the child and failed. Custody was awarded to his former wife, Mrs. T. C. Turk, of Clint, Texas.

Readhimers Again Are Denied Bond

FLOYDADA, May 3. (AP)—J. R. Readhimer and V. A. Readhimer, father and son, indicted for the slaying of Stokes Campbell here, were denied bail a second time today.

The bill would repeal the provision of the statute requiring coupies to give three days notice of itention to wed. The provision requiring bridegrooms to pass a medical examination was retained.

Dallas Man Is Lured From His Hotel, Taken For A Ride And Shot To Death

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, May 3.—Lured from his hotel by a man who posed as a policeman Nick Hodges Raspaskey, 57, cafe owner, was taken for a ride and shot to death. His body was dumped in a Dallas street, where it was found today.

A battered pistol bullet and a description of the swarthy man who came for Raspaskey last night were the only clues police had in their search for the slayer.

In an effort to establish a motive for the affair, police questioned a number of persons, including Mrs. Laura Raspaskey, former wife of the victim.

Mrs. Raspaskey has made numerous attempts to establish her son as an heir to the estate of the late C. C. Cobb, wealthy Dallas lawyer. Raspaskey was to have been an important witness in this suit, police said.

Those who witnessed the actual abduction were his present wife, Mrs. Jessie Raspaskey; Charles Ladd and Mrs. Jean Cunningham.

When her husband failed to return in a short time, Mrs. Raspaskey became alarmed and notified police. It was then she learned the stranger was not a policeman.

Crumpled Envelope Is First Clue To Be Discovered In Kidnaping Of Girl

(By The Associated Press)

HARWICHPORT, Mass., May 3.—State police late tonight had in their possession a crumpled envelope addressed to Neil McMath and found in the road near the schoolhouse from which 10-year old Margaret McMath was kidnapped yesterday.

State Commissioner of Public Safety Daniel C. Needham attached great importance to the envelope and immediately ordered state detectives to examine it for fingerprints.

Neil McMath's name and address were printed and the contents of the envelope were missing. The envelope was crumpled and dirty and police were unable to determine how long it might have lain on the road before it was found.

Up to this time there had been no public indication as to whether the kidnapers had attempted to communicate with the parents.

Meantime, the family home stood unguarded as police declared a 48-hour truce to permit the abductors to make safe contact with the parents.

The father, Neil C. McMath, former Detroiter and son of Francis C. McMath, prominent engineer, banker and industrial-

First Baptist TEL And Alathean Classes Attend Parties Wednesday

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE BEAN WILSON
Avalanche Woman's Editor

SINCE this is child health week, perhaps it would be wise to print some of the admonitions that are sent out by the Home Economics Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture and the Children's Bureau, concerning food and clothing for children.

Contrary to the belief a generation ago that children should be swathed in petticoats and dresses, the tendency today is to clothe children in as few garments as is possible. Sunshine and proper diet have displaced the annual dose of sulphur and molasses—which was a popular spring tonic.

Public health officials advise putting children into sun suits as soon as it is warm enough in the spring, for they advise the sun that tans a child's skin also gives his body power to build straight bones, strong muscles and well formed teeth. A warning is issued too against too much sun for that is dangerous. To get this sun, modern children are clothed in the sketchiest of garments in place of the long ruffled petticoats and dresses that were worn thirty years ago or less.

The Home Economics Bureau recommends two types of food for children—foods that build the body and resist disease and foods that give fuel and aid the body to work.

The bureau suggests a list of these foods. In the first class are milk, dried beans and peas, lean meat, fish, poultry, eggs, cheese, tomatoes, raw cabbage and other green vegetables and fruits. In the second class are dark grain foods, potatoes, sweets at the end of the meals and foods rich in fat supply.

Every week should be child health week, of course, and is in many homes. But during this week an effort is being made to educate the public on what to feed children and when and how to surround them with the things that will promote their health and well-being.

ONE TO REMEMBER

SOME of those days when you are in the mood for handing palms to those you want to honor, set one aside with due ceremony for Christopher Latham Sholes—the man who sixty years ago wrote Woman's Declaration of Independence.

You may not be enjoying your independence to the full. You may wish that you had a loom to run all day long instead of a deck of cards to shuffle. You may wish that you were churning, washing and cooking for the family and hired man instead of getting your day's work done in about thirty minutes and then taking in a movie and a game of golf. You may wish you were baking bread instead of running a typewriter all day long. But just the same you might thank Mr. Sholes for what he did just sixty years ago.

For back in 1870 which was three years before the Remington fire-arms factory placed the first typewriter on the market, less than one-tenth of one per cent of the women employed in America were in the occupations of trade, commerce and salesmanship. By 1900 the percentage had grown to 8.1 and in 1920 to 20.6. Today the list of the working women, make up about half of the working population.

It was the typewriter that got women out of the home, principally because the men didn't want to run those "newfangled writing contraptions." At the same time men began expostulating that business was a man's world and that they would put up a "men only" sign if necessary. After sixty years some of them are still expostulating — to their stenographers.

But whether you are one of the 775,000 women stenographers and typists or not you can thank Christopher Sholes for your emancipation. If he hadn't invented his contraption women might still be at home and men might be still scratching out their voluminous reports with pens. When women went out to work they also left home for many other reasons. They had learned how by then.

In addition to the professional typists there are hordes more of us who find a typewriter an essential in business and many millions more who have found freedom because women had something to do outside the four walls of their homes. For all of that you can thank Christopher Sholes.

Township governments in Ohio spent more than $12,000,000 in 1931.

HOLLYWOOD has proved through years of daily use this soap actually keeps every type of skin younger looking.

MILLIONS of women (and men) everywhere confirm Hollywood's experience.

Won't YOU prove the beautifying effect this fragrant, white Lux Toilet Soap can have on your skin?

What 49 Days Without Food Did to 'Scientific Faster'

At the start — 20 days later — 49 days of fast

Alexander Boissy, an aviation engineer, has finished a "scientific fast" of 49 foodless days by taking a minute portion of weak tea and honey. Boissy undertook his rigorous experiment at the Battle Creek (Mich.) Sanitarium as the "only method by which the physical system can be completely cleansed." Boissy is pictured at the start of his fast, at the end of the 20th day, when he had lost 33 pounds and at the end of his fast, when he weighed 45 pounds less than at the start. Boissey suffered no ill effects other than memory haze.

Buffalo Coach Asks Relations Be Severed With Tech

Simmons Sends Track Team Here Tonight; Barton Wins Tourney Opener

Burton Would Cancel Track Meet May 20

But Tech Does Not Plan To Fire Her Coaches, As Asked By Sad Sam; Controversy Is Attempted Following Game

(By The Associated Press)

CANYON, May 3.—Coach S. D. Burton of West Texas State Teachers college has asked that athletic relations between his school and Texas Technological college be severed "so long as the schools retain their present coaching staffs."

The recommendation was made known in a letter to Coach Pete Cawthon of the Matadors, following the annual spring football game between the schools at Lubbock last Friday night which ended in a free-for-all fight between the two squads.

"The feeling among our students is so tense that I feel it is advisable to cancel the track meet scheduled between your team and ours at Canyon on May 20," Burton wrote. "I am recommending to our athletic council that athletic relations with Tech be severed, as long as the schools maintain their present coaching staff."

Tech won the game, 21 to 0

"Tech Didn't Carry Fight," Officials Say

Commenting on the request by Coach S. D. Burton of West Texas Teachers college that athletic relations between the Buffs and Texas Tech be severed, W. L. Stangel, chairman of the Tech athletic council, said last night that "the council has no intention whatever of releasing members of our coaching staff," and that "it is not our desire to enter into any controversy regarding last Friday night's football game."

P. W. Cawthon, Tech athletic director, although offering no voluntary statement, and asking that he be not quoted, said that "if anybody had a right to squawk, we certainly had. After Friday night's game four of our players were confined to a hospital where they underwent treatment for injuries sustained during and after the game.

Buffs "Started" It?

"To the best of my knowledge," Cawthon said, "our boys did not carry the fight to the Buffaloes. It was a nice, peaceful game until one of the West Texas players struck one of our linemen. After two or three times, the two players were ordered off the field. We thought little of it at the time, and didn't plan to enter any sort of argument. I'm very sorry it had to come up, as we would hate to have the athletic relations severed."

Joe Fortenberry, West Texas tackle, and Gaines Davis, Tech guard, were the two players removed from the game.

Tech players who underwent treatment at a hospital were Braxton Gilmore, Leonard Curfman, Aubrey Butts and Sam Jones.

Injured During Game

Most of the injuries were received during the game. The flare-up following the contest failed to result in any serious damage. What might have developed into a riot was quickly nipped by coaches and game officials.

Questioned regarding his slant on the "fight," Mr. Stangel said, "I do not desire to take any issue, although, of course, I have my own viewpoint. I further know that at least one of Tech's athletes (Aubrey Butts) probably will be scarred about the lips for the rest of his life."

Concerning the track meet scheduled at Canyon, Mr. Stangel said that, until further notice, the Matadors would prepare for the meet with the idea of sending the full track and field team to Canyon on May 20. "We don't want to sever relations with them," he said, "and we will take no active part in the controversy.

Was No Free For All

"As far as I could see, there was no 'free-for-all' fight after the game. I understand a Tech boy left the bench after the game and headed for a West Texas player, who promptly knocked the Matador down. The affair did not last over half a minute at the most, and the crowd was quickly dispersed."

Other members of the Texas Tech athletic council, Dr. W. A. Jackson, C. W. Ratliff and Walton Nixon, student representative on the council, seconded, "to the letter," all of Chairman Stangel's statements.

LEVINSKY IS WINNER

CHICAGO, May 3. (AP)—King Levinsky, the ex-fish peddler, at last found a spot tonight for a knockout wallop.

Charley Retzlaff, called the "Duluth dynamiter," and a knocker out himself, fell a victim to Levinsky's furious wallops in the first round of their scheduled 10 round battle in the Chicago Stadium. The fight was over just two minutes and fifteen seconds after it started.

A cat set off a burglar alarm from a store at Rogers, Ark., and aroused residents of the community.

The Sports Horn

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer.

SUSPENSIONS and fines that resulted from the free-for-all battle between Washington and New York players recalls the Texas League rule that allows players to engage in fights without penalties as long as they merely are personal combats with fists only.

• • •

With baseball struggling to keep fans coming through the turn-stiles, followers of the game may find it difficult to understand how President Will Harridge of the American League could assess fines and suspensions on players aggressive enough to put a bit more fight into the game.

• • •

President Gardner of the Texas League likes to see the players fight for their rights on the field. He got a thrill out of the Zeke Bonura and Henry Greenberg fight last season. He complimented the Galveston and Beaumont players for their recent free-for-all at Galveston.

Gardner will not interfere by suspending or fining players as long as they confine their clashes among themselves.

• • •

CONLEY AT TEXON

JAMES PATRICK "SNIPER" CONLEY, former Dallas manager and pitcher, and one of the most popular of all Texas League players, is again managing the Texon team in the West Texas league. Conley has been at Texon for several years where he works for an oil concern and manages the baseball team.

• • •

Members of the West Texas league are San Angelo, Abilene, Coleman, Ozona and Texon. It is a semi-pro circuit that offers fast baseball since a number of former professionals are on the rosters of the teams.

The Texon club, for the last three years, has won the West Texas championship. Conley plays the infield and outfield and sometimes takes a fling at his old job of pitching.

Eastern Derby Mounts Arrive

Ladysman, Pre-Race Favorite, Heads Cast Of Eastern Eligibles At Churchill Downs; All Starters Ready

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 3 (AP)—arrival today of the last five of the eleven eastern candidates for the Kentucky Derby completed the thoroughbred invasion of Churchill Downs for the 59th running of the $50,000 added classic here Saturday afternoon.

Headed by Ladysman, W. R. Coe's pre-race favorite, the eastern continent made the trip from Baltimore in fine shape. Accompanying the favorite were two stablemates, Pompoleon and Pomponius; the Audley farm's Trace Call, and W. S. Kilmer's Dark Winter.

All of the nineteen probable starters now are at the Downs, where they will be worked out during the few remaining days before the blue ribbon event is run.

Despite the sparkling performance yesterday in the Derby preparation purse of head play, Mrs. William Crump's Hopeful and leading Western candidate, Ladysman continued to rule the choice today, his odds being 5 to 2.

Publications Elections At Texas Tech To Open Today

Events Start At 8 O'Clock On Tech Field

Cowboys Doped To Win Tonight But Coach Lowrey Says His Team Will Make Track Hot

Although yesterday's weather prohibited any serious practice, coach Pinkey Lowrey believes his Texas Matador track and field squad is about ready to swap paces, leaps and tosses with the Simmons university Cowboys tonight in a dual meet.

The events start promptly at 8 o'clock. There will be a nominal admission charge, proceeds of which will be spent toward sending the Matadors to Albuquerque next week for the Border conference meet.

Coach Is Pleased

Coach Lowrey appeared pleased last night with the improvement shown this week in his athletes. Times on the track events have been lowered and cross bars raised, tapes extended and pits punished more severely than before.

Field events, led off by the pole vault, will start at 8 o'clock, the next event starting as soon as the vaulting is concluded.

The one-mile run starts the field events at 8:15 o'clock. This is followed in order by the 440, the 100-yard dash, the high hurdles, the 880, the 220, the two-mile run, low hurdles and mile relay.

Two relay teams will be entered, one representing the varsity and the other the freshmen.

Although previous records show the Cowboys to be favorites in tonight's meet, times set in practice by the Matadors compare favorably with those of former meets of the Cowboys. Such familiar Simmons names as Carl Pee, ace Cowboy backfield threat; Guy Creighton, Lee Vurle Andrus, Puny Wranosky and McCollum will be flung through megaphones tonight.

Head officials announced for tonight's game are: Starter, Lee Jones; judge, Ray Mowrey; clerks, Swede McMurry and Ed McKeever; announcer, Cy LaMaster; marshals, P. W. Cawthon and Woodrow Wilson; field events judges, Jess Lockhart and J. T. Carter.

Cards' Lowly Position Is Not Worrying 'Old Sarge'

Street Says Card Team Will Be In The Race Yet

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 3. — Gabby Street, the old sergeant of Sen Loo, can't get much excited about the superlative pitching that has swamped the major leagues this spring. Neither is he bothered by the seventh place position of his highly favored Cardinals.

"A little warm weather," he said today as rain prevented his athletes from leaping again at the Brooklyn Dodgers, "a little more practice for the hitters, and we'll not only get back where we belong, but those pitchers will take their lumps. If they're still pitching two hit games a couple of months from now we'll call them good, but not until then."

The fact the Cardinals haven't been hitting—they got a total of four runs over one stretch of seven games—isn't worrying Street. When his club doesn't look good, his job is to find the reason. This time the reason sticks right in Gabby's eye.

"It would be different," he said, "if I couldn't find what was wrong. That would be something to worry about. But I've got a lot of fellows on this team who have hit .300 anywhere from three to 12 years. They'll do it again, that's certain. And when they do we'll look natural again."

Just as Charley Grimm and the Cubs brought word east that the team to watch in the National League this year is Pittsburgh, so does Gabby sound that general warning against the Pirates.

"They looked great," he said. "Freddy Lindstrom has made them a grand outfield and they're strong in every position. The only question there is whether they will hold out. Cincinnati looks stronger, too. I guess we're in for another scramble right down to the wire. It's a cinch no one's going into any town this season and come out with four straight."

Gabby likes that kind of race, and if by any chance the pitchers continue to hold an edge over the hitters, he'll be for that, too.

"It's good for baseball," he insisted, "because it puts a premium on smart play. You'll have to earn every run you get. That means plenty of base running, bunting, stealing. Clubs will have to adjust themselves, forget about swinging for the fences, and the game will be better for it."

Morning Game Scheduled For Today At 10; Lubbock Squad Plays Monroe This Afternoon

Canyon And Liberty Meet This Morning; Idalou And County Line Start Afternoon Card At 1:30, Lubbock At 3:30

If, as the Nebraska professor reported, Texas sand and dust provides elements helpful to growth and development, the 75 or a hundred players and fourteen fans who attended yesterday's baseball game should be well on the way to health and giganic proportions.

The scheduled double-header was cut short when Umpire Jack Dalton called the first game in the sixth inning. The score at that time was about 24 to 9, but it reverted back to the end of the fifth inning and Barton's ball club won the Lubbock county tournament opener, 17 to 9.

PLAYER TICKETS

Baseball players participating in the tournament are advised by the tournament management that they will not be admitted to the park unless they show an official player pass. Managers are required to turn in player lists at the J. & J. Sporting goods store and receive passes for each player.

Teams must be at the park and in uniform, or ready to play, at least 30 minutes before game time. Failure to be ready to start at the designated time will result in forfeiture.

Three Games Today

The second game between Canyon and Liberty was postponed until this morning. The game will start at 10 o'clock, and admission will be 15 cents for everybody. Since the mornings are sometimes free of the worst part of sandstorms, a good crowd is expected this morning.

A double-header is scheduled this afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock. Idalou and County Line meet in the opener. They are said to be two of the stronger teams of the field, and, with anything like favorable weather, it should be a wow.

Local Team Plays Today

A Lubbock team, the Ramblers managed by Hollis Payne, will get in the big push this afternoon. They play Monroe, another strong team, at 3:30 o'clock, and the dope doesn't indicate a one-sided game. Lubbock tournament, the Ramblers, the 131st Field Artillery and Martin's Drug store nine, the latter composed of star college players.

First Round Schedule

The schedule for other first round games is as follows:

Friday—1:30: Grovesville vs. Martin's Drug; 3:30: Union vs. Woodrow.

Saturday—1:30: Slide vs. Bunker Hill; 3:30: 131st Field Artillery vs. Shallowater.

Sunday—1:30: Estacado vs. Acuff; 3:30 New Hope vs. Phillips 66 of Slaton.

Second round games will start Monday afternoon with Barton, victor over Becton yesterday, meeting the winner of the Idalou-County Line game and with the winner of the Liberty-Canyon battle meeting the winner of the Lubbock Ramblers-Monroe tussle.

Ball Is Lost

So dense was the sand at times yesterday that the ball was screened from sight in the outfield, lost in the air, and players were at a loss as to where to hunt for the horsehide.

The wind caught what otherwise should have been pop flies and carried them for two-baggers, triples and home runs. Pitchers and infielders were sometimes blinded, and batters had a great day.

The Becton team was off to a lead with five runs in the first inning. They got to Blackie Hoyle, pitching for Barton, for five hits and a walk, and hits meant runs in yesterday's game. Singles were two-baggers because players trotted unmolested from first to second, and sometimes from second to third.

Barton made one run in the first when Gillit tripled and scored on Marshall's single. Barton scored thrice in the second inning when big Alexander, Barton's centerfielder, hit a clean homer. It was his first of two. He also banged two doubles for a perfect day at bat, and drove in six runs.

Two Big Innings

Barton's big time came in the fourth when the lads pounced on Pitcher Sam Gray for six consecutive hits, topped off with a home run by Alexander, for seven runs. The bat went around and two over. The fifth was another wild one, as the storm increased in intensity.

The Barton nine scored six hits. Gray was relieved in the fourth and E. Bilsberry was knocked off the mound in the fifth.

Becton scored in the fourth and fifth. The sixth was wild, also. Marshall and Hindman got home runs, but they didn't count in the final score since the sixth was never finished. They called it off when Hindman hit his homer, which should have been a weak single.

BASEBALL'S BIG 6

Getting only one hit in four times at bat, Sam West yesterday again failed to capitalize on his opportunity to regain the batting leadership in the American League. Although the hit was a home run, the St. Louis Browns' outfielder's batting average dropped 17 points to .388. He was the only member of the Big Six to get into the action, all of the others being idle, because of rain or cold weather.

Red Sox Win Pitchers' Battle To Beat Browns In The Only American League Tilt Played Yesterday Afternoon

ST. LOUIS, May 3 (AP)—Ivy Paul Andrews out-pitched Irving Hadley and the Boston Red ox won from the St. Louis Browns today for their first victory after six straight defeats.

Andrews allowed only six hits while Hadley allowed eight, including three doubles and two triples. The most effective Boston hitting was by Jolley, who got a single, double and triple and batted in two runs, and by Alexander who doubled to bring in a run. Sam West of the Browns got his third home run of the season.

The sox got off to a three-run lead in the first.

Home Runs Spoil Day For Reds' Lucas

BOSTON, May 3 (AP)—Extra base hits off the bats of Walter Berger, Wes Schulmerich and Wilfred Knothe today conquered Red Lucas for the first time this season and gave the Boston Braves a 6-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in the only game played in the National League.

Going into the eighth, Lucas was well on his way to his fourth victory when Randy Moore, whose triple had led to the Braves first run in the fourth, cracked out a single. Berger followed with a triple and in rapid succession Knothe and Schulmerich hit home runs.

Ben Cantwell held the Reds at bay until the seventh inning when they scored twice without a hit.

Spur Host At Feeders' Day

Bankers Of Northwest Texas Are Being Urged To Attend Affair Friday; Reasons For Interest Listed

SPUR, May 3 (Special)—Walter B. Lee, local banker and chairman of the agricultural committee of the Texas Bankers association, has sent invitations to the bankers of northwest Texas to be present at the Feeders' day program here Friday.

In his letter Mr. Lee gives a few reasons why he believes the bankers and farmers will find the feeding program interesting.

Record Tests Close

Actual feeding for record closed Wednesday. On Thursday R. F. Dickson, superintendent and B. C. Langley, agronomist, will work over the figures so as to have totals ready for Friday.

Reports indicate a large crowd. The Spur Chamber of Commerce is working with the station force in entertaining the group.

Eighty-five steers, on feed for 168 days, will be inspected. Aims and objects of the feeding will be explained by Mr. Dickson and others. Animal husbandry experts from Texas A. and M., Texas Technological college, the experiment service and the extension service at College Station and others, are expected to be present.

Advantages Shown

Mr. Lee in his letter, pointed out advantages of farm feeding as follows:

1. From the farmers' viewpoint: furnishes a market for surplus feed; furnishes a market for certain classes of feed that have no commercial value; enables better distribution of labor throughout the year; reduces hired labor expense on basis of farm income; brings in funds at a time of the year when cash usually is lowest; reduces the risk in one-crop farming; increases demands for cotseed meal and seed; helps to maintain soil fertility; educational and inspirational value to farm children.

New Loan Source

2. From the bankers' viewpoint: source of new loans in the fall when money is usually plentiful; furinshes chattel mortgages that become more secure the longer the loan runs; returns to banks come at a time when money is most needed; workable means of reducing cotton acreage; livestock feeding loans relative liquid.

3. From merchants' viewpoint: increases purchasing power of farmer; assist in reducing store credit; give more equal distribution throughout the year of farmers' dollars; tends to create a more stable farm population; develops a better community in which to do business.

First Prisoner From Borden Is Sent To Prison

GAIL, May 3 (Special)—Bordens county's first prisoner for the state penitentiary was escorted from Snyder to Huntsville April 20 by "Uncle Bud" Russell's famous one-way truck. He was John Day, found guilty of the illegal manufacture of liquor and given a year and a day in prison.

Day was found guilty by a jury about two years ago. It was the second criminal trial for the county. Day appealed to the state court of criminal appeals and was released on bond. Recently the higher court affirmed the district court sentence and Day was rearrested.

Because Borden county does not have a suitable jail, Day was held in Scurry county's jail at Snyder until the penitentiary agent came for him.

The county's first criminal trial, on a charge of cattle theft, resulted in no conviction. It was held three years ago. Borden county was created and organized in 1876.

Lockney Claims Low Water Rate

LOCKNEY, May 3 (Special) — Lockney claims the cheapest water rate in Texas, says J. L. Suits, editor.

The city council recently set the rate at: $1 for a minimum of 3,000 gallons; 10 cents per thousand for the next 10,000 gallons and eight cents per thousand for all over that amount. This irrigation rate, effective May 1, will last until September 30.

The city's big water tower, holding 70,000 gallons, can be purchased full of water for $6.56, Suits added.

Soviet Russia still imports fertilizer for its agricultural program.

South Plains Hams Are Sent To Austin For Hotel Patrons

The chamber of commerce yesterday shipped 100 pounds of South Plains country cured hams to Stephen F. Austin hotel in Austin. The hotel ordered the ham to serve to its patrons.

The Crawford will serve the hams during the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention there this month.

Farmers having hams for sale are requested to see representatives of the chamber of commerce. Dozens of hams were sold during the Quality Mat show, and the demand for them has increased.

The test, 330 feet from the north and east lines of section 30, block 5, GH and H survey, was spudded in July 1, 1932. First showing of oil was 2,828 feet and the hole was bottomed at 2,948 feet. The hole was shot twice with nitro, at 2,820-44 feet with 100 quarts and at 2,910 feet with 60 quarts.

Turkish Government Becomes More Lenient Upon Moslems

ISTANBUL, Turkey, May 3 (AP)—A sentence of hanging which was generally expected for 19 Brusa clergymen and muezzins who revolted on February 4 against the government's program of nationalizing Moslem prayers, will instead be one or two years of hard labor in prison.

The government's new prayer form changes the name of Allah to Tanri.

The decision of the courts in this case, which included also the acquittal of four defendants, appears to indicate the Turkish government is becoming more lenient toward religious sentiment of the Moslems.

Wheat acreage increased 18 per cent in Great Britain during 1933.

Mr. Hoover's Feelings

OVER THE RADIO the other night Will Rogers quoted Harry Chandler as saying that former President Herbert Hoover is in excellent spirits and is "in accord with a surprisingly number of Mr. Roosevelt's ideas". Mr.Chandler, publisher of the Los Angeles Times and a close friend of Mr. Hoover's, further told Mr. Rogers that Mr. Hoover was taking a keen interest in the events of the day and, as Mr. Rogers added, was showing himself to be "an American first, a Republican second".

In a news reel, shown here in Lubbock a night or two ago, Mr. Hoover was shown speaking briefly to Boy Scouts of California. The old lines of worry, which marked his appearance during the last three years in the White House, were gone. He looked fresher, plumper and faced the talking camera with a resolute, although pleasant air.

Mr. Hoover, we may take it for granted, is happy in private life as well as being better off away from the tremendous task in which he labored hard but showed little aptitude.

* * *

It is the natural thing for us "run of the mill" Americans to contemplate upon the Hoover feeling as he sees his successor riding the wave of public acclaim, doing this, that and the other thing boldly and thus far succeeding in his efforts to boost the nation from the ruck into which it fell.

The Morning Avalanche never doubted that Mr. Hoover was giving anything less than his best efforts to the nation, which leads us to wonder how the late chief executive views the events which have thus far marked the Roosevelt administration.

For Mr. Hoover we have respect—the utmost respect which should always be tendered by citizens to those who have held the presidential office—but we cannot help but feel that a comparison of the Hoover and Roosevelt administrations to date effectively disproves Abraham Lincoln's statement that "all men are created equal".

DISTINCTIONS

Few people are born into the world with a perfection of form and feature. There are legs that insist upon being too short, eyes that squint or cross, noses far too large for their ordinary functional requirements, teeth that protrude and ears showing a growth out of proportion to that of the rest of the body.

Unfortunately, these variations have come to be generally known as peculiarities, and the term "peculiarity" is used in an uncomplimentary sense. As a result people who possess such characteristics attempt to conceal them. This is, of course, a hopeless task. Ugliness, like murder, will out.

What these persons strive to do is to destroy the emphasis with which nature has endowed them. They do not realize how distinguished a feature a big nose may be, provided the possessor discards self-consciousness for pride. An unusually large or unwieldy feature is something for other people to cling to, for it at once takes its owner out of the crowd. It is, in fact, an excellent advertisement. It cries out for recognition.

Where would Cyrano have been without his nose, where the Mad Hatter without his teeth, where Harry Lauder without his legs, where Sir John Falstaff without his rotundity, where Ben Turpin without his eyes?

People, however, will not let nature alone. They rush to beauty doctors, deny themselves pleasures and other wise endeavor to attain the normal, thereby losing what may well be turned into a great asset. All because they have not the wisdom to "distinction" instead of "peculiarity."

BORROWING TROUBLE

Despite the fact that most troubles never happen, man goes on fearing something that may not come to pass and which he, by no means within his power, could prevent, should it be destined to come about. Some Canadians are reported to be alarmed over predictions that there will be no summer this year. They may be relying for this foreboding on a fortune teller or a long-distance weather prophet, both equally without accurate knowledge of the future. They have harked back to 1816, which is said to have been a "year without a summer." What had happened once may happen again but there is no assurance that it will.

There is a difference between having forethought for that which man can control and worrying about that which is beyond his power to influence. Man is not responsible for what nature hands out, though he is responsible for the manner in which he does his part. The problem of the kind of a summer 1933 will have may be solved when it is reached. It is foolish to reckon losses now. It is more probable they will not happen.

The reason small groups get more government favors than the mass of people is because they know what they want.

Trouble Ahead For FDR

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

Titanic Memorial

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Unless President Roosevelt's luck is extraordinary, he is in for serious trouble over the issue of inflation.

What the ultra-inflationists desire was made abundantly clear by Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma in the course of debate the other day. It not only horrified anti-inflationists, but shocked even moderate inflationists.

The Oklahoman, it will be recalled, plainly stated it to be the purpose of the plan he introduced to transfer 200 billions in buying power from bank depositors and bondholders to the debtor class. That is to say, prices are to jump, by 200 billions. Bank accounts, of course, will remain stationary. Naturally this will be to the advantage of folk who own productive property—farms, factories, improved real estate in the cities. It will be at the expense of folk on fixed incomes.

Now, folk on fixed incomes do include, it is true, some few ruthless capitalists and hard-hearted mortgagees, for whom the general public is not likely to feel much sympathy, but there are vast numbers of small bank depositors who belong in no such classification. Urban labor and the white collar element likewise are dependent upon incomes which, though they may ultimately rise in the wake of increased living costs, probably will rise much more slowly than rentals, groceries and other necessities.

Senator Thomas, speaking for a state which is largely agricultural, undoubtedly had in mind the appeal his words would make to his farmer constituents. He rather cold-bloodedly, however, ignored the feeling of several groups at least as numerous as the yeomanry, and he did it in a fashion to arouse all the antagonism that they have in them.

President Not Directed

It is not certain, however, that President Roosevelt intends to take by any means all of the inflationary steps required to affect the 200-billion-dollar transfer of buying power mentioned by the senator. The legislation, under the terms of which the senator evidently expects him to act, to change the national class balance so radically, does, indeed, AUTHORIZE him to change it as completely as the Oklahoman suggests, but it does not DIRECT him to do so.

Moreover, the president has not the reputation of an ardent inflationist; somewhat the contrary. The presumption is that he favors infusion of a little additional currency and credit into the national circulatory system, to offset recent undesired deflations, but only enough to offset them.

What May Happen

It is merely a guess, but the theory is quite widely current in Washington that he himself inspired congress' move to EMPOWER HIM to inflate, as the simplest method of preventing congress from actually INFLATING—that having deftly steered inflation into a sack in his own custody, he will pull the strings tight and keep it there.

Ah, but supposing this to be really the case, what will the ultra-inflationists, like Senator Thomas and Representative John E. Rankin, say, after they have waited a reasonable length of time, and the bag stays still tied up in the White House?

Then the trouble will start.

FRENCH THEORY INTERESTING

From the moment he stepped off his train in Washington, former Premier Herriot of France did his best to "sell" this idea:

World prosperity cannot return while war threatens.

War will threaten while Germany believes a reasonable chance exists that the Fatherland would win next time. Germans would admit the hopelessness of such an attempt, and all would be serene, if they felt sure the United States once more would be against them. Their opinion, however, is that the American attitude is one of "never again", as to a share in European troubles.

That, argues ex-Premier Harriot, is what makes Hitlerism so "cocky".

International prosperity can readily be restored, as the ex-premier reads the situation, by an American pledge (backed by adequate guarantees) to defend France from Teutonic aggression—plus, of course, cancellation of the Gallic debt to the U. S. treasury.

* * *

CANADA'S EMISSARY

Prime Minister Bennett of Canada is referred to (strictly sotto voce) in official Washington as "hard-boiled Ben", by reason of his reputation as a wily bargainer.

* * *

POLITE, BUT STUBBORN

Experts accompanying the various foreign statesmen, who have been in Washington recently, spoke of Secretary of State Hull as one of the politest individuals they ever met; also as the stubbornest, and the keenest economist.

* * *

A JOLLY PERSON

Former Premier Herriot, whose Washington advent just preceded Prime Minister MacDonald's exit, is as unlike the soulful-eyed Scot as it would be easy to imagine—an effervescent, jovial, portly person, as addicted as ever Senator James A. Reed was to having an unlighted, half-chewed cigar in his mouth.

* * *

KEEPS 'EM MOVING

President Roosevelt has handled his recent economic visitors from abroad in the most approved style of a public man keeping his callers moving. That is, each new arrival's appearance has been timed a trifle ahead of the preceding guest's departure, to prevent the latter from lingering unduly.

What Other People Think

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

A SIGNAL WALKING RECORD:
Townsend completed the task of walking 1000 miles in 18 days (one half backwards) in Manchester, England on August 24, 1822. It was during the period inaugurated by Captain Barclay's 1000-mile walk in 1000 hours. The competition was then very keen to better his record, a feat accomplished by Townsend in 432 hours or less than half of Barclay's time.

AN OUTLAW GRAVEYARD:
Boothill Cemetery is a grim reminder of the days when the West was young, and Tombstone was a wild and wooly mining town of the Frontier. Mortality was high as a result of brawls, gun fights, and other violent forms of exercise. The graves occupied by the picturesque frontier characters who died "with their boots on," are mere mounds of earth, bare of any tombstones, in this curious outlaw graveyard.

Letters To The Editor From The People

Ex-Service Man Of Crosbyton Is In Favor Of Compensation For Veterans

Editor, The Avalanche: There are so many readers expressing their views that I wish to express mine on a few things in general, the soldiers' bonus and the use that it would likely be put to if it were paid off now, in particular.

I do not think President Roosevelt's plan of reforestation, erection of canals and dams will be as beneficial as it would seem at first thought. So far as the forests are concerned, it would take many years before any benefit would be derived from them. Building canals is expensive, and I know of at least one project where it has been mathematically proved that a canal would cost much more than the saving in freight rates would amount to for years to come.

The dams would put a lot of land under cultivation and supply a cheap source of power it is true, but would a profitable market be available for the products raised and the power produced? I know that in some instances power that is produced by the government is sold so cheap that the buyer resells it at a large profit. The relief of unemployment would be temporary and when the job played out the majority of the workers would not be much better off than they were when they started.

I think the adjusted compensation is just, that it should not be cut and should be paid now. These are my reasons for believing that:

Soldiers who actually took part in the great conflict did so at a personal sacrifice. After deducting the cost of war risk insurance the average soldier received less than $1 a day and his keep. For this sum he fought day and night, going 36 and 48 hours without rest or sleep, and when it was necessary on very little food and water. They were exposed to all kinds of weather without even so much as a fire to warm by in freezing weather. Going without food or water for two or three days at a time was common. Fifteen to 18 days of that kind of life was enough to make even strong men stagger as they walked.

If an individual should expect somebody to wait 25 years for his pay, after service had been rendered and expected him to take a cut of 25 per cent on the original amount he would be considered as an unreliable to deal with. It seems the ex-service man is expected to transact business in such manner.

After the war was over these men took up the threads of life where they left off. A few had some money saved up to start on but many did not. At best the start most of them had was small and very few with good health that were on the firing line. Now the most of these men are heads of families and I think that it is safe to say that the majority of them live in homes that belong to someone else. These men began anew too late to get the benefit of good prices during the war and it was almost impossible for one to get the kind of work they could pay for a home with the income.

Paying off the compensation now would enable many a man to buy a home that may otherwise be denied the privilege. In reality it would be an investment in citizenship of the soundest kind. An investment that would pay big dividends. Home ownership is the soundest foundation that a nation can rest on.

If somebody who had the opportunity and the ability to present this matter to President Roosevelt in the right light would bring it to his attention. I believe he could not help seeing that it is an honest debt instead of a fight and could see that it would be a just, wise, sound move. My object in writing this is to give the readers an ex-service man's views of the bonus question.

Don't think I over-estimate the discomforts of service on the field of honor. I touched only the high spots. Any ex-service man who served on the firing line will back me up in that.

E. O. Burrons,
Crosbyton.

Austin's Scots Have A Big Time But Telling Of Scotch Jokes Is Banned

AUSTIN, May 3 (AP) — Austin's Scots, an organization similar to the famous "London Scotch," have decided to devote their meetings to legends, history and songs but have banned Scotch jokes.

"In that case," remarked their president, Alan Fraser, Austin attorney, "I won't tell the one about my countryman who gave a bellboy a tip. The horse lost," he added.

In the new club are native Scots, Scots by descent and those whose closest claim to the country is an interest in things Scottish. First official business was to ban all dues.

Capt. William Stevenson, Salvation Army man and a native of Glasgow, was elected official piper. In fact, he is believed to be the only man in Austin who owns a set of bagpipes, M. H. Reed, cotton man, was ruled out of order when he tried to tell the one about the Scotchman who dropped a nickel out of an airplane and was waiting for it when the coin touched ground.

Mrs. Fraser, wife of the president, is a native of Dumferline, Scotland; several other members hail from Glasgow and others claim descent from Scottish heroes —close descent, of course.

Rep. T. H. McGregor in announcing he will join the club has paved the way for such solons as Rep. J. R. McDougald, Beaumont; H. L. McKee, Port Arthur; W. C. McClain, Groveton, and Henry Mackay, Algoa.

Rep. J. W McCullough, who lives in McKinney, will be issued a double invitation because of name and residence.

Free speech will be an important part of each program, members voted.

MARKET REPORTS

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

By JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—Stocks shifted position frequently today, but profit-taking uncovered a strong vein of resistance and net changes were of relatively minor importance, at least as measured by recent standards.

Acceptance by the house of the inflation program brought an afternoon upturn even though that news contained no element of surprise. Quotations reached when the demonstration had ended; however, this setback ran into a lively upturn by some commodity shares, principally copper and rubber issues.

Rails were sooky most of the day, for traders did not waste much time in accepting profits that had accrued from Tuesday's rally. Utilities again hardened at times. Oils weakened in further reflection of East Texas prices and production difficulties as well as latest dividend casualties. Steels appeared to have discounted the latest word on favorable trends in their industry.

Government bonds advanced which seemed a natural result of the house vote on inflation, since the federal reserve system is to be allowed to add $3,000,000,000 of these securities to its portfolio, thus providing a staunch backlog of support. Commodities were rather mixed, wheat losing virtually all of an advance to new highs.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 3 (AP)—Conflicting tides swept through an active cotton market today, altering profit taking and trade speculative buying causing wide fluctuations, but little progress was made in either direction and the close was steady, net one point up to one down compared with yesterday's close. On an 19-point bulge which followed house approval of inflation, futures touched new highs for the year and movement, although the gain was subsequently lost.

The opening was rather firmer as Liverpool cables were considerably better than due. First trades here showed gains of about 8 to 11 points with July at 8.33 and October at 8.83. The market then became erratic, fluctuating within a range of 10 points with considerable profit taking, hedge selling, ring scalping and general speculation.

The market ruled firmer after midsession in sympathy with stocks and advanced sharply in active trading on house approval of inflation. Prices made new highs for the movement and the year at 8.38 for July and 8.83 for October 16 to 18 points up from the lows and 17 to 18 points above the previous close. Profit taking and hedge selling then came on the market and prices broke to new lows for the day at 8.13 for July and 8.37 for October down 25 to 26 points from the highs and 9 points below the previous close. There was a rally of 7 to 9 points at the end on covering and July closed at 8.21, net unchanged and October at 8.44, 1 point net down.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow unchanged to 1 penny point up.

Port receipts 8,861, for week 58,454, for season 7,684,442, last season 9,997,923. Exports 44,114, for week 183,314, for season 8,946,814, last season 7,248,816. Port stock 1,126,486, last year 4,699,764. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 131,457, last year 116,000. Spot sales at southern markets 16,694, last year 3,701.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—An early advance which was widened sharply on the news of passage by the house of the inflation bill, was followed by an equally sharp reaction in cotton today.

July contracts which had sold up to 8.40, broke to 8.19 and closed at 8.25, with the general market closing barely steady net unchanged to 5 points higher.

Initial prices were 7 to 13 points higher on relatively steady Liverpool cables and a continued buying by commission house and other sources.

There was some southern and foreign selling but offerings were readily absorbed.

On the Washington news May sold up to 8.23, October to 8.68, while March advanced to the 9 cent mark.

The advance was checked by heavy realising and the market broke quite rapidly with the more active months selling about 4 to 6 points net lower. The close was a few points up from the lows.

Two Sentenced For Kidnaping

Charlie Jetit And Ralph Barrett Of Oklahoma City Get 10 Year Terms; Both Plead Guilty To Charge

DALLAS, May 3 (AP)—Charlie Petit, 28, and Ralph Barrett, 24, of Oklahoma City were sentenced to ten years in prison today for the kidnaping and robbery of Leslie White here ten days ago. They pleaded guilty and waived a jury.

Petit and Barrett, with Frank Frisby of Oklahoma City, were arrested the day after White was kidnaped. Part of the jewelry taken from White was found in Frisby's hotel room but officers learned it had been placed there without his knowledge and the indictment against him was dismissed.

White told of being hit over the head by one of two men as he stepped out of his car in downtown Dallas.

Twins Of South Plains Area Gather At Palace Theater Wednesday In Big "Twin Party"; Over 80 Sets Attend First Appearance Of Godino Siamese Twins In City

From babes in arms to near-adults, twins of Lubbock and vicinity—virtually all the more than 80 sets registered earlier—were guests Wednesday afternoon in the Palace theater at a first performance here by Simplicio and Lucio Godino, billed as the world's only man Siamese twins, and their doll-like wives.

The Godino brothers, the Palace theater, and the Avalanche-Journal newspapers were hosts. A compilation from complimentary ticket rolls showed 177 such admittances, a few of the smaller twins being accompanied by parents or older brothers or sisters. After the Godinos had presented their 25-minute vaudeville act, guest twins assembled on the Palace stage, which was packed by five or six graduating rows, and with the Siamese twins their picture was taken.

Did Roller Skating

After an introductory song by Miss Lillian Sims, who also is pianist in the act, the Godino brothers appeared, chattered, introduced and danced with their wives, and at intervals appeared through the rest of the act, playing a saxaphone duet, and climaxing their performance by roller skating. Miss Vivian Hannum played an accordion solo, assisted Miss Sims as an accompanist in some instances, and the two sang.

Mrs. Lucio Godino, in colorful costume, sang a Filipino song in her native tongue. She and her sister, Mrs. Simplicio Godino, clad in garments which Miss Sims described as of "the highest Filipino caste," gave a native dance.

Wide Variety of Twins

From lilting babes in arms to more sober near-adults, the assembly on the crowded stage presented a wide variety of twins, many of the pairs being dressed alike, even to two young brothers who wore similar glasses, and two chubby blonde little girls who rubbed their eyes severely before the glare of a white light directed from a side-balcony to assist a photographer in the balcony proper.

As many as three sets of twins in each of three families were registered. They were:

Earl and Carl, Robert and Ruth, and Garth and Gagle, children of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Green, 2008 Eighteenth street, the five boys composing the Green brothers orchestra;

Arlis and Orville, 19; Bill and Midget, boy and girl, 17, and Odie and Omer Bell, 11, of Anton route No. 1, and Lamar and Lavar, 13; Laroyce and Lavoyce, 11, and Weldon and Wandol, 19 months, children of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Moore of Wilson.

Being Siamese twins has its advantages and disadvantages but after all it's not such a bad life.

Take the word of the Godino Siamese twins who are here for appearances at the Palace theater.

Happy-go-lucky, good-natured and joking, the twins arrived in Lubbock Wednesday morning and immediately went to West Texas hospital where they subjected themselves to a medical examination by local physicians.

Lucio, Wise-Cracker

"Why if you guys had stuck together like us, this depression would have been licked long ago." Lucio (he's the smallest and the one who seems to do most of the talking) wise-cracked.

Twenty-five years old and having spent the majority of their lives traveling around the world, meeting all sorts of people and seeing all sorts of places, the twins are well schooled in experience. "We know all the cracks and the answers, too," Lucio said. They have been in practically every large hospital in the world where expert surgeons have made studies of their condition with the idea of a separation in view.

Speak Good English

"But, we say, what God had joined together, let no man put asunder," Lucio said. "And besides if we had any brains we wouldn't be in the show business, isn't that right, Mr. Lindsey? (winking at Cliff Lindsey, local theater man). "You see we're only half-wits and we're always together so that makes it ok." the other twin, Simplicio, joined in the conversation.

The boys speak excellent English and have had schooling including two years in college.

Smoke One Cigaret

During the course of the examination, Simplicio lit a cigaret and had drawn a few puffs from it when Lucio reached over and began smoking it himself.

"You see, that's the way things are," Simplicio said. "My biggest trouble is keeping brother out of my pockets. The next suit I have made is going to have zippers on the pockets."

The boys were born in the Phillipine islands. They weigh 250 pounds together and one is about an inch taller than the other.

Appear Not Handicapped

The twins appear to undergo no handicap whatsoever in getting around. They walk at about the same rate as average people and after the examination had been completed they found the hospital elevator busy and immediately proceeded to run down a flight of stairs.

The twins played to a full house of South Plains twins at the Palace Wednesday. They will also appear at the theater in three shows today along with their wives.

Business Over Area Picks Up

University Of Texas Business Survey Shows Conditions In March Improved; Failures Are On Decline

DALLAS, May 3 (AP)—The University of Texas bureau of business research report today revealed greatly improved business conditions in Texas during March.

The bureau pointed out that the Texas cotton textile industry made a much more impressive showing than was to be expected on the basis of unusual seasonal increases, with sales, production and unfilled orders gaining by much more than the usual seasonal proportions and showing substantial gains over last year.

"Unfilled orders at Texas mills jumped 24 per cent during March to the highest total for any month since October, 1929," the report said. "At the close of March, the reporting cotton mills had unfilled orders of 8,704,000 yards as compared with 7,049,000 yards at the end of February and were slightly more than double the total at the close of March a year ago, 4,219,000 yards.

Failures On Decrease

"Fewer Texas commercial failures were reported in March this year than in any other March since 1920. Only 32 Texas firms went into bankruptcy during the month; not since September, 1929, has the number of failures been so small. In March last year there were 79 failures."

The bureau reported that, according to present indications, the Texas wheat crop would be about 18,500,000 bushels as compared with the actual harvest of 29,500,000 bushels in 1932 and 56,000,000 bushels in 1931.
