Board begins search for Merket's successor

Buddy Compton

Colorado High School Principal Clinton "Buddy" Compton is expected to be appointed interim superintendent when the school board begins the process of replacing Supt. Russell Merket Wednesday night.

Supt. Merket resigned last Monday night after what he and board members said was a mutual decision.

Merket and the board have declined comment on the amount of the settlement he received on his contract, which would have run through June 30, 2001.

But the Record has learned that it was in the amount of a full year's salary, $64,800.

The full amount remaining on the contract, should it have been completed, was $162,000.

Merket said he has plans for what he will do after leaving the district at the end of this month but said he did not wish to reveal them at this time.

The first item of business in the 6 p.m. Wednesday meeting will be the appointment of an interim superintendent, which is expected to be Compton because he was already the assistant superintendent under the school district's management system.

It is not currently known if the board will give equal consideration to applications from within the district or look out-

Sports complex plan delayed until July

A glut of applications has persuaded the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce and County Board of Economic Development to postpone applying for a $500,000 state grant to build a 20-acre sports complex north of town.

Chamber Director Windi Fuller said Monday that the Local Park Planning Assistance Service of the Texas Department of Parks & Wildlife has received 45 applications when she had only expected about 30 by the Jan. 31 deadline.

Ms. Fuller, who is dividing time between the chamber and her new job in a Mitchell County Hospital youth sex education program, said a new round of grants will be opened with a July deadline.

She said probably no more than 12 or 13 applications will be funded from the January round.

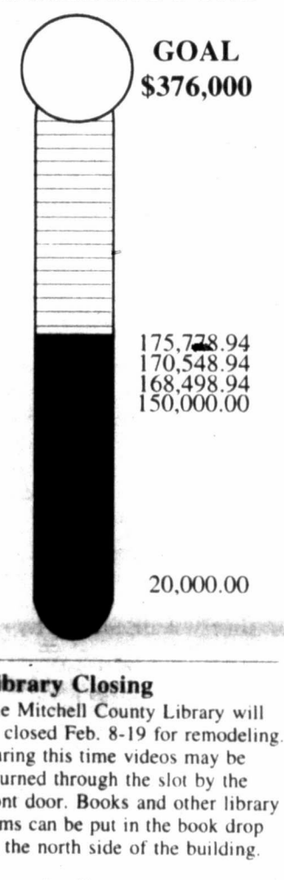

She said Texas Tech University architecture students in Lubbock will make drawings of the complex and its several parts -- three baseball fields, a soccer field and a running track -- to accompany the application.

Hospital awaits money

County hospital board members Tuesday night voted to dissolve the hospital's hospice program for terminally ill patients to be treated at home, primarily because it was losing so much money.

But they said the service will be continued for as long as its current two or three patients need it, noting that the program will be maintained after that in approximately the same form by the hospital's Home Health Agency.

Administrator Rick Rickard reported at the December board meeting that the hospice program would lose $13,000 that month and had cared for

Bones of huge buffalo shown

MUSEUM CONSULTANT Don Neumann of Austin shows the metatarsal, or ankle, bone of a "Bison Antiquitus" that is part of a new exhibit at the Heart of West Texas Museum at 340 E. Third St. The pre-historic buffalo was twice the size of its Old West descendants.

The massive, shaggy buffalo, with its distinctive outline and truculent attitude, is a symbol of the Old West that is particularly evocative in West Texas.

You've got the White Buffalo of Scurry County, the Buffaloes of West Texas A&M University, buffalo nickels and other constant reminders.

But now the Heart of West Texas Museum has a buffalo to top them all.

At least, it's the biggest.

The 340 E. Third St. museum has long needed a featured attraction to bring in more visitors.

But the Denver, Colo., Museum of Natural History was holding onto a landmark buffalo exhibit that Mitchell County has a rightful claim to.

Museum Director Shirley Bradley and her board of directors finally persuaded the Denver museum to let part of it be shown here: the jaw, ankle bones and hooves of a "Bison Antiquitus," one of the huge buffaloes that roamed this area an estimated 10,000 years ago.

Austin museum consultant Don Neumann last week put the bones into a case on the western ground floor where some mammoth bones are shown.

He also put a large drawing of what the creature looked like on the opposite wall.

Few people here understood the full significance of an archeologist's 1924 discovery of the fully intact skeleton about two miles west of Colorado City under the banks of the Colorado River.

"Articulated bones of an extinct bison were found overlain by seven feet of a solidly cemented mixture of sand, gravel and clay," says an archeological notation about the find that Neumann carried.

"Instead of clearing the skeleton in the field, large blocks of matrix containing the bones were removed and prepared for shipment to the laboratory by being encased in plaster-soaked burlap."

The "points" of the bones are primarily what date them, Neumann said, those and their size, indicating that buffalo stood nine feet tall at the hump, was 12 feet long and weighed 3,000 pounds -- twice the size of the Old West and contemporary buffalo.

"That makes this site one of the earliest documented evidences of extinct animals existing at the same time as people, and that was 10,000 years ago," he said.

Neumann said the buffalo was probably shaggier around the head and neck than modern buffalo, and it lived in a period when west central Texas was a coastal plains.

That was when what is now the Gulf of Mexico extended northwesterly into the Glen Rose and Stephenville area.

The consultant said the ancient buffaloes' natural enemies were equally out-sized big cats and wolves, huge bears and Indians who hunted them with flint-tipped spears.

He said the nomadic tribes' favorite hunting technique was to maneuver the buffaloes into the area of a cliff, make a half-moon formation and then leap up, shouting and waving animal hides to drive them over the cliff.

The exhibit will not be permanent, so you need to see it while you have the chance. The Denver museum, which displays the whole skeleton, will require it to be returned in November.

Neumann has been coming here to consult and put up exhibits since the early 1990's, when the museum's extensive pioneer and World War I and II gun collection was burglarized twice.

The police department recovered many of the firearms, which are now kept in a vault.

The only one that is on display here now is a frontier-era Spencer repeating rifle -- the gun with which cavalrymen subdued the Plains Comanches in the 1870's and '80's.

Neumann said he and Ms. Bradley would like to show a gun collection like the famous one at the Panhandle-Plains Museum at West Texas A&M in Canyon.

But the security problems would be almost unsurmountable, given the museum's limited finances.

Former C-City man gets the Silver Beaver Award

WILLS POINT -- A former Colorado City man has been awarded the Boys Scouts of America's highest honor for adult sponsors, the Silver Beaver Award, for his service to scouting.

Chuck Currie, son of Bernice Currie of 104 E. 11th St. and the late Allen Currie, has held scouting positions in C-City, Abilene, Dallas and Terrell.

He has been the Cherokee District's round table commissioner in Wills Point, near Tyler in East Texas, since 1987.

He was a member of the C-City Explorer Post and was a Cub Scout committee member and Webelo leader in Abilene.

Currie has made six trips to the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico, and he was scoutmaster for College Mound United Methodist Church near Terrell.

He is a 32nd degree Mason and Shriner and former chairman of trustees at Russell Memorial UMC in Wills Point.

He is a member of the Southwest Football Officials Association, having officiated elementary school, junior high, high school and college games for 38 years.

A graduate of McMurry University in Abilene, he is a retired accountant and a Korean War veteran.

Currie is a native of Scotsboro, Ala., where he earned his first Boy Scout rank of second class scout.

"No other person in my life has so lived the highest ideals of scouting," said one of his former scouts, the Rev. Joe Pool of Gainesville.

"His personal sacrifice of time and energy far exceeded my expectations. I have had the opportunity to observe Chuck in a variety of settings as a business person and church leader.

"His consistency of character and dedication to the scouting ideals permeate his entire life."

Water district discussed, appointments postponed

For the second time in two weeks, Mitchell County commissioners Monday postponed naming a five-member original board of directors for the county's proposed new underground water conservation district.

They met in a one-hour executive session with County Board of Economic Development members Bobby Lemons and Woody Anderson and then reconvened to say the appointments would be tabled again.

Pct. 1 Commissioner Ed Roach said after the meeting had adjourned that the Economic Development Board was still not ready to recommend the new directors.

Court members said the executive session was conducted to discuss possible litigation.

State Rep. Rob Junell of San Angelo has requested that an original board of directors be appointed so that he can file a local calendar bill to bring the water district to a vote here sometime later this year.

Other business in the 9 a.m. called meeting included Treasurer Ann Hallmark's report on a minor rearrangement of county employees' accrual of vacation time.

Ms. Hallmark said employees who have been with the county for less than 10 years were accruing vacation time at the rate of 3.6923 hours per pay period and that needed to be rounded off to 3.7 to give them a full 12 days a year.

She said employees who have worked for more than 10 years were accruing time at 4.6153 hours per pay period and that was rounded to 4.62 to give them 15 days.

Her report was advisory and did not require court approval.

County Judge Ray Mayo took part in the meeting after being from Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene last Friday, where he had been hospitalized all week with symptoms of an intestinal blockage.

Judge Mayo said the problem was dealt with successfully and he felt much better.

Pct. 3 Commissioner Wendy Inman usually passes around black licorice sticks at the start of meetings that Pct. 4 Commissioner Bill Preston of Loraine and Judge Mayo always decline.

Commissioner Inman joked with Judge Mayo that he should have one Monday morning, to which the judge replied, "I'm not that well. I might have a relapse."

only nine patients during 1998.

Board member Dale Geiger said Monday night that he would support the dissolution but would consider reviving the program at some point in the future if it appeared to be needed.

The action was unanimously approved by board members Tom Carlock, Kent Boyd, Larry DeBusk, Shirley Clifton and Geiger. Kenneth Beasley and Kenneth Rogers were absent.

Other action in the 6 p.m. meeting included Rickard's report that the $141,000 the hospital has been promised from the state's settlement with the tobacco industry had still not arrived.

"It's not free of strings," he said, explaining that he has been in communication with the Texas Department of Health about it. "This is not money that will just go into our account.

"We will have to put it into a separate account."

The state comptroller's office recently said the money is going to health care institutions that provide medical services to indigent, or poor, people.

Valley Fair Lodge staff member Elizabeth Ann DeLoera was approved for a one-year scholarship to become a licensed vocational nurse at Texas State Technical College at Sweetwater.

Rickard noted that Miss DeLoera was class valedictorian at Loraine High School, carrying above a 4.0 average.

He said the hospital district is already sponsoring the educations of three registered nurse candidates, a radiology student and a prospective physician's assistant, Bill Everett, at TSTC.

"I feel like we need one LVN in there, too," he said.

Maxine Welling of Colorado City was approved to join the Ladies Auxiliary, or "Pink Ladies," at the hospital.

Nursing supervisor Linda Mize's annual report was accepted, and action to approve manuals to establish policies and procedures for the use of swing beds, housekeeping and laundry operations and the operation of the radiology department were tabled until the February meeting because the medical staff had not had time to consider them.

The board ended a 40-minute executive, or closed, session at 7:45 and adjourned without taking any action.

Carlock said the session was conducted for a discussion of the legal parameters under which the hospital district may accept gifts and donations.

Rigs drop to record low, workers march in Austin

While oil industry supporters were staging the Texas Oil Workers March in Austin, the number of rigs drilling for oil and natural gas in the United States fell to an all-time low.

School boards, city councils, county commissioners courts and other concerned groups throughout West Central Texas passed resolutions supporting the Jan. 18 march down Congress Avenue to the State Capitol and governor's mansion.

Meanwhile, the number of rigs at work over the entire nation was reported Saturday to be only 588 -- fewer than the previous record of 597 in June 1992.

It is believed to be the lowest number since oil was first discovered in the early 1900's.

During the height of the last oil boom in December 1981, the total was 4,530.

Independent oilman John D. Bell of Kermit said the oil and gas industry is now "about as unhealthy as we can get."

Colorado School Board member Sally Neff, whose family has oil properties, took the Oil Workers March resolution to the local board and won approval for it and a letter to Gov. George W. Bush.

The letter said oil country school districts face a dire future if the industry continues to suffer because not only will they lose mineral property values, they will eventually lose students as well.

Of all the rigs running nationwide last week, only 122 were drilling for oil.

Among all states that produce oil and gas, only Texas added rigs during the week -- up eight to 206.

Counting rigs on land and those offshore, totals in other states included 144 in Louisiana, down two; 23 in New Mexico, down four; 29 in Wyoming, down one; 65 in Oklahoma, down one; five in Alaska, down two; and 13 in California, down five.

Waco, where he has also been working lately, is showing its gun collection in what amounts to a vault with steel-reinforced walls and ceiling, video cameras and one door that is the only way in or out.

But in a county with a history as rich as Mitchell's, he said, Ms. Bradley and the directors have still been able to create a museum that is underrated.

Its historical documents and reading materials are superlative, he said, with the story of Texas' first bus line being one of the more interesting.

Colorado Bus Co. opened a line between C-City and Snyder about 1900, leaving at 6 a.m. to arrive in Snyder by 10, and giving its passengers two hours to do business, shop and eat before heading back home at noon.

Texas' first license plate was issued for the C-City-Snyder bus.

"The information that's in this little museum is full of unique stories," the consultant said.

The building was the historic home of Dr. P. C. Coleman, who brought in the first oil well in the Permian Basin in northwestern Mitchell County, and was later Kiker-Seale Funeral Home before the mortuary company donated it to be used as a museum.

Featuring mostly frontier-related exhibits on two floors, the Heart of West Texas Museum is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday.

Ms. Bradley does guided tours upon request.

Neumann, 59, is a native of Corpus Christi who earned a bachelor's degree in art at the University of Texas in Austin and got his start in museum work at the UT Museum of Art.

He worked 16 years as chief of exhibits for the Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife and has been an independent consultant for the past 11 years.

He helped to create the Crosby County Pioneer Museum, near Lubbock, in 1990 and has recently been working at the First Cavalry Museum at Ft. Hood.

OBITUARIES

Ruth Allen
1922-1999

Mrs. Ruth Allen, age 76, of Rising Star, died Sunday, January 24, 1999 at the Rising Star Nursing Center. Funeral services were at 10 a.m. Wednesday, January 27, 1999 at the Higginbotham Funeral Chapel. Burial will be at 4 p.m. in the Trinity Park Cemetery in Big Spring under the direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home of Rising Star.

Mrs. Allen was born July 22, 1922, in Pioneer to John Urban Underwood and Mattie Wood Underwood. Mrs. Allen grew up in Pioneer and later moved to Lamesa. There she married Curtis Allen on March 26, 1942. She was a homemaker. They later resided in the Big Spring and Colorado City area until Curtis died in 1995. She was a Baptist.

She is survived by her son, Curtis Allen of Artesia, NM; a brother, Billy Paul Underwood of Rising Star; a sister, Norma Dean Condray of Holland; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her husband and several brothers and sisters.

Mary Lee Kling
1926-1999

Mary Lee Kling, age 72, of Murchison, Ark., died Saturday, January 23, 1999, at East Texas Medical Center in Tyler, Tx. Funeral services were at 2:30 p.m. Monday, January 25, 1999, at Carroll-Lehr Funeral Home Chapel, with Rev. Chris Harrison officiating. Interment followed at Aion Hill Cemetery in Van Zandt County, under the direction of Carroll-Lehr Funeral Home in Athens, Tx.

Mrs. Kling was born September 16, 1926, in Willis Point, Texas, to Casey Claude and Daisy Mae Hendon Shackelford. She married Vern H. Kling, January 2, 1945, in Colorado City, Texas.

Survivors include her husband of 54 years, Vern Kling of Murchison; sons and daughters-in-law, John and Cecila Kling, Harold and Vicki Kling, all of Athens; daughters and sons-in-law, Pat and O.G. King of Lumberton, Daisy and Michael Magee of Murchison; eight grandchildren; four great-grandchildren; brothers and sisters-in-law, Casey and June Shackelford of Athens, John and Pat Shackelford of Colorado City; sisters, Allene Matlock of Newberry, Michigan, Rose Tucker, Corpus Christi.

Pallbearers were: Foy Magee, Ben Kling, Kevin King, James Magee, Stephen Magee, and Adam Kling.

Lucy Barnett Bennight
1903-1999

Lucy Barnett Bennight, age 96, died Friday, January 22, 1999, at Cross Timbers Care Center in Flower Mound. A private family memorial service was held at Northwest Baptist Church, Monday, January 25, 1999, with the Rev. Kenneth Wells officiating. Burial followed on the Moore Ranch in Jeff Davis County.

She was born August 15, 1903, on the family ranch in Jeff Davis County, the 11th of 12 children born to John Cook Moore and Lucy Terry Moore, both pioneering Texas families.

Mrs. Bennight farmed in the community of Jarrell for over 40 years and worked in the Jarrell Independent School District. She was a member of the Methodist Church of Jarrell and was their pianist and Sunday School teacher for many years. She was preceded in death by her first husband, Harry Barnett, her second husband, Sidney Bennight and a daughter, Jody Barnett Pigmon.

Survivors include her granddaughters, Belinda Milligan of Lewisville, Rex Ann Holland of Flower Mound, Marilyn Meador of Ponder and Carolyn Redwine of Colorado City; grandchildren, Craig Copeland and Terri Black, both of Arizona; ten great-grandchildren; and one great-great-grandchild.

Neil Crosby
1907-1999

Neil Crosby, age 91, of Crane, died Monday, January 25, 1999, in the Crane County Care Center. Graveside services were held at 1 p.m. on Tuesday, January 26, 1999, in the Colorado City Cemetery with Rev. David Miracle officiating. All services are under the direction of Shaffer-Nichols Funeral Home of Crane.

Mr. Crosby was born on August 27, 1907 in Webster County, Iowa. He married Sue Bassham Crow in 1948 in New Mexico. He was a farmer and had farmed in Garza County for over 30 years. He was a WWII veteran, serving in the CB's in Alaska. He had been a resident of Crane for the past nine years, and was a member of the Church of Christ. He was preceded in death by his wife, Sue in September of 1979.

Survivors include his step-daughter, Sue Rodgers of Crane; a sister, Mildred Schwabbauer of Fort Dodge, Iowa; three step-children and several nieces and nephews.

Deregulation hits Austin

AUSTIN -- State Sen. Troy Fraser of Horseshoe Bay, near Llano, is co-sponsoring an electrical deregulation bill to give electric cooperatives and municipally owned companies the option of opening their markets to competition.

Sen. Fraser, a businessman who previously lived in Big Spring, is one of four senators sponsoring Senate Bill 7.

It's one of two major deregulation bills being considered in this biennial session of the Texas Legislature.

Mitchell County is in Fraser's 24th Senatorial District.

Acknowledging the apparent inevitability of deregulation, Fraser said his bill will guarantee lower rates "when market competition begins in 2002."

It is designed to deregulate electricity but to keep its transmission and distribution under the aegis of the Texas Public Utilities Commission (TPUC) in Austin.

State legislators have said they feel the urgency to pass a bill because the United States Congress appears likely to impose electrical deregulation next year on states that do not already have it.

"My chief concern over the past year was to make sure the rural and non-urban areas continue to have reliable service and receive the same benefits, in the form of lower rates, as urban areas," Fraser said.

"I'm confident our bill does that."

He is joined in sponsoring the measure by fellow Republican Sens. David Sibley of Waco, Ken Armbrister of Victoria and Jane Nelson of Flower Mound and Democrat David Cain of Dallas.

Sen. Sibley is chairman of the Senate Interim Committee on Electric Utility Restructuring and is considered the primary sponsor.

The other major bill has been filed by Democratic Rep. Steve Wolens of Dallas and Republican Rep. Warren Chisum of Pampa.

Rep. Wolens is chairman of the House State Affairs Committee.

"This is local control at its best," Fraser said of his bill. "Having the support of the rural cooperatives is essential to getting the bill passed.

"It was also paramount that we write a bill to ensure farmers and ranchers and other rural Texans receive the same treatment as people living in Dallas or Houston."

The bill calls for electric rates to be frozen on Sept. 1 for more than 70 percent of the state's 8.6 million electric customers whose power is provided by an investor-owned utility.

Those customers would get a five-percent rate reduction in 2002 whether they changed providers or not.

"Rates will be frozen at that level for five years or until 40 percent of the electricity in that market is provided by at least one other company," Fraser said.

"While rate cuts are not mandated for customers whose electricity is provided by municipally owned systems or electric co-ops, those providers will be free to make choices that give their customers the lowest possible rates.

"Co-ops are free to opt into the competitive market by a vote of their governing board."

However, Wolens' bill notes that a rate freeze would continue to allow companies an unusually high profit margin because current rates were authorized to help them recover high construction costs.

Wolens said he and Rep. Chisum filed their bill in early December because a similar bill was filed too late to be approved in the 1997 legislative session and they wanted to give legislators "plenty of time to study it."

The Texas Legislature meets every two years, so this is expected to be its last chance to pass a bill before Congress acts next year.

Wolens wants consumers to choose their electric company in the same way telephone customers pick their long-distance carriers.

"Competition in this critical household commodity should force electric rates down," he said.

"While our electric rates in Texas are below average, our electric bills are the third-highest in the nation."

He said the average annual electric bill statewide is $1,063 -- much higher than California's $729 and the national average of $859.

Wolens' bill gives electric companies two options to recover their costs for having built enough capacity to serve all the people in their areas.

Because the companies are currently earning more than would normally be allowed under state regulations, they could freeze their rates and use those "over-earnings" to recoup.

Or they could reduce rates by 12 percent for residential and small commercial customers, leaving it to the TPUC to decide how much they should receive from customers for the costs.

Eighteen states have already begun deregulating their electrical utilities, including Oklahoma, Illinois, Pennsylvania, New Hampshire and California.

The Association of Electric Companies of Texas (AECT) in Austin is one of the leading proponents of deregulation.

"Electric restructuring represents an opportunity for legislators to introduce real competition into the Texas electricity market and allow all Texans a choice in electric service," an AECT spokesman said.

The group includes TU Electric, the Central and South West Corp., El Paso Electric Co., Entergy Texas, Houston Industries Inc., Southwestern Public Service Co. and the Texas-New Mexico Power Co.

It is believed that some customers might have the option of buying power from neighboring states that deregulate.

Westbrook crossing cause for concern

WESTBROOK -- Westbrook Independent School District has been promised repairs of the rough Union Pacific Railroad crossing on the southwest side of town, but so far the promise has remained unfulfilled.

Supt. Tommy Hancock said Monday that the crossing is so rough "it just tears the front end out" of any vehicle that goes over it a little too fast.

Of course, he is most concerned about it as a schoolbus crossing, but he said many Westbrook citizens are also disgruntled.

"I have a fear that somebody is going to hit it and lose control of the bus," he said.

"You have to fight to keep control."

Hancock said he talked to a Union Pacific official in Midland two months ago after calling the national hotline number that is posted at the Big Spring cutoff crossing.

"He told me they had started some projects and ran out of funds before they got to ours," he said. "He said when they get some new appropriations they will come out and get it done, but apparently the appropriations haven't been made yet."

Hancock said Union Pacific has left some concrete slabs and asphalt at the site in readiness for the repairs but has not sent a crew to do the work.

Social Security reviewed

A presentation on Social Security will be made at the Wallace Senior Center on Tuesday, Feb. 9, 1999 at 11 a.m. by Glyn Hammons, retired Abilene Social Security District Manager and currently Volunteer Advisor for the National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare.

The presentation will focus on the present status of Social Security, projections for the future, and what individuals can do to influence any changes. There has never been a time more critical to the future of Social Security and positive changes can only be made if every person is well informed and lets lawmakers know what those changes should be.

In addition to his work with the National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare, Mr. Hammons is a member of the advisory board of the Area Agency on Aging, treasurer of the Abilene Meals on Wheels board, a member of the Taylor County Expo Center board, and is actively involved in Aldersgate United Methodist Church and the Abilene Kiwanis Club.

Pancake tickets offered

The Colorado City Kiwanis Club annual pancake supper will be held Friday, March 5 from 5:30-7:30 p.m. in the Colorado Middle School cafeteria.

This year the club will also serve fresh sausage along with traditional bacon for guests to enjoy with their delicious buttermilk pancakes. Coffee, tea and milk will also be served.

The annual pancake supper is a major fundraiser for the local civic club and all proceeds go to benefit many youth activities locally.

Tickets for the pancake supper may be purchased from any Kiwanis Club member or at First National Bank, City National Bank or First Bank of West Texas in Loraine. Prices are $4 for adults and $2.50 for children under 12 and it's all-you-can-eat.

Internist opens practice at new C-City clinic

Dr. Paul Guleria took a long road to Colorado City, but he's glad he finally arrived.

A native of New Delhi, India, he graduated from Maulana Azad Medical College there and took his residency and fellowship in internal medicine between 1993 and '98 at Robert Wood Johnson Medical School in New Brunswick, N. J.

Then he met Dr. G. M. Gollapudi, a diabetes specialist from Midland.

Dr. Gollapudi persuaded him to open a C-City practice as an extension of the staff of Diabetes Center of the Southwest in Midland, where Dr. Gollapudi and two other physicians work full-time.

Dr. Guleria, 35, works there all day on Mondays and on Tuesday afternoons, but the rest of his time is at his new Colorado City Health Care Center at 130 W. Fifth St.

He and his wife Honey are living in Midland, but he says they might eventually move here.

As the only doctor of internal medicine in Mitchell County, he wants to concentrate on diagnoses and the prevention and treatment of diseases.

He is on the medical staff at Mitchell County Hospital.

Internists usually do not perform surgery, and Dr. Guleria expects to limit his surgeries to minor procedures like suturing, or stitching, draining fluid from knee joints, cleaning ulcers and injecting steroids into shoulders, elbows and knees to relieve pain.

Although most of his practice is devoted to the diagnosis and treatment of diabetes, he is also qualified to treat glandular and hormonal disfunctions, osteoporosis, or bone-thinning, and the high content of cholesterol and triglycerides, or fats, in the blood.

He is board-certified to practice internal medicine with specialties in endocrinology, diabetes and metabolism.

Endocrinology is the science of the glands, pertaining in particular to their secretions into the bloodstream.

"Blood pressure and diabetes are strong risk factors for stroke and heart attacks," he said. "It's very easy to control blood pressure as long as the patient takes the medicine."

Dr. Guleria is also equipped to do blood-testing, EKG's, or heart function testing, foot-testing to help detect diabetes and prevent some of its most deleterious effects and stool-testing to detect colon cancer.

The fact that a person "may feel perfectly fine" is no indication that he or she is in good health, he said.

"By the time they have symptoms, the heart or kidneys may already be damaged," he said.

"All these risk factors act in unison. Risk factor modification is very important.

"Prevention, as we know all these past hundreds of years, is better than cure."

Doctors divide these factors into modifiable and non-modifiable risks.

A modifiable, or reducible, risk is one that can be affected by medication, exercise or a change in the diet while a non-modifiable one is usually defined by heredity or gender.

However, what appears to be a hereditary risk may be more attributable to a family's dietary habits, sometimes going back for generations, he said.

Dr. Guleria (pronounced Gu-LER-ia) said only about 30 percent of all diabetes cases are the juvenile onset, or more severe, type, requiring daily injections of insulin.

The rest are Type 2, or adult onset, diabetes, which is often controllable with diet, exercise and pills.

However, the doctor said many Type 2 patients are eventually forced onto insulin because they lack the discipline to control their diets and exercise regularly.

He said one good exercise session every three days is adequate for most Type 2 diabetics to help control their blood sugar, combined with a proper diet and pills.

Many stop exercising because it does not make them lose weight, he said, but exercise is still very beneficial even when it does not induce weight loss.

He said blood sugar levels should register at 60 to 125 when one wakes up in the morning and should not go above 200 at any time of day for a person who does not have diabetes.

Dr. Guleria's paternal grandfather was a physician, but he is the only one in his immediate family to become a doctor.

His father was an administrator and accountant with the Indian government in New Delhi, and he has a brother and two sisters who followed him to the United States.

The brother and one of the sisters are computer software consultants in New Jersey and California, and the other sister is an immunologist with a non-medical doctoral degree at Albert Einstein Hospital in New York City.

He and his wife, who is from California, have been married for a year.

Grand jury indicts burglary defendants

County grand jurors last Thursday approved a petition filed by County Atty. Mark Piland to have a determinate sentence of five to 10 years considered for a 15-year-old boy accused in the Nov. 11 shotgun shooting of a Union Pacific train engineer.

The panel also issued indictments against five adult criminal defendants.

A county juvenile official said 72nd District Judge Weldon Kirk of Sweetwater will now consider the boy's case.

If Judge Kirk rules that he is guilty of aggravated assault, as Piland alleges, a jury will decide his sentence, the county juvenile official said.

Piland seeks to have the Texas Youth Commission hold the boy until his 21st birthday, when the Texas Department of Criminal Justice will be called on to decide if he should continue to be incarcerated in a state prison.

The boy is currently being held at the TYC school in Gainesville, where he was sent on a parole violation for unlawfully carrying a weapon relative to the Nov. 11 shooting incident.

He was held at the Gainesville facility from August 1997 to last June on a charge of criminal mischief, not arson, as was previously reported.

Other grand jury action included a re-indictment for aggravated assault against Michael Mayes, 24, of 1451 College.

Mayes was charged by city police last year in connection with an assault on his girlfriend.

He has been released on a $10,000 bond.

David Arocha Jr., 23, and his 19-year-old brother Timothy, both of 129 W. Riverside, were true-billed for burglary of a building in connection with an Oct. 26 break-in at Burnett Conoco in Westbrook, where a large amount of cigarettes and beer was stolen.

They have been released on $2,000 bond each.

Enrique Hidalgo, 36, of Chaparral, N. M., was indicted for possession of more than a gram of cocaine, a third-degree felony, on Nov. 6. He has been released on a $3,000 bond.

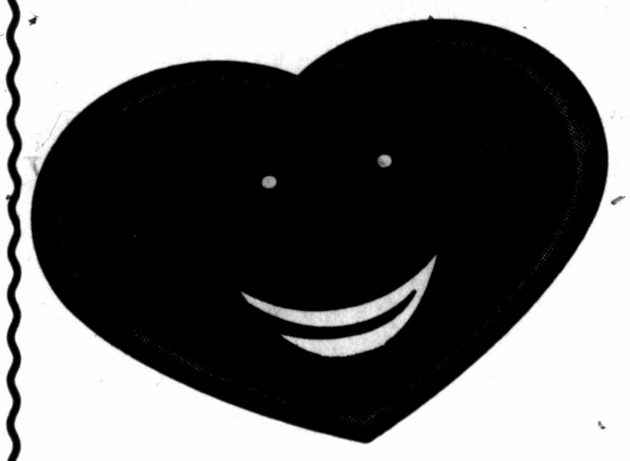

Kenneth Ray Green, 38, of 1201 College was true-billed for retaliation, threatening parole officer Philip Robinson of Abilene with his fist, on Dec. 22. Green is also being held on an alleged parole violation and remains in Mitchell County Jail in lieu of a $5,000 bond.

Retaliation is a third-degree felony.

Yvonne Larae Rodriquez, 20, of Lovington, N. M., was indicted for credit card abuse for attempting to use another woman's card on Dec. 9 at a local store.

She was released on a $1,500 bond.

RELIEF

the Americans.

Meanwhile, people who live in the impoverished colonias along the Rio Grande continue to suffer.

At least 11 of them were killed when a flood roared through the colonias, or colonies, last Aug. 23, and thousands more were left homeless, sick and starving.

It was obvious that something foul was in the air when the Salvation Army and other charitable organizations were turned away at the border by guards who cited bureaucratic regulations that had never been cited before.

About the only concerned person who seemed to know how to play the game was June McMillan of the Colorado City Noon Lions Club, who had attended Sul Ross State University at Alpine and ranched nearby in the 1950's.

While many would-be Good Samaritans were finally forced to leave their canned food, clothing and bedding in pathetic piles at the border stations, Ms. McMillan was able to deliver a stock trailerful of supplies in September and a large amount of food in the Santa Marta colonia on Nov. 22.

She complied with Mexican officials' demands for a complete inventory, in Spanish, of every one of the thousands of items taken there on Nov. 20-21 by C-City trucker Darrell Bonner.

After the most massive such drive in Mitchell County history, Bonner, Ms. McMillan, her husband Weldon and a couple of friends took the load to Del Rio in a 53-foot trailer that had been stacked to the roof by Wallace Unit trustees.

There are 691 boxes of clothing for women, men, children, toddlers and babies, 35 boxes of bathroom supplies, 42 boxes of bedding, 55 boxes of kitchen supplies, 53 boxes of food and, poignantly, 14 boxes of medical supplies that have gone unused through the winter so far.

There are also sinks, chairs, sofas, bedframes, box springs, mattresses, carpeting, crutches and toys, along with 93 pair of shoes.

And that's just getting started enumerating the generosity of Mitchell County for the flood victims of the colonias, mostly country people who have moved north to work in the factories created by the NAFTA economic linkage agreement with the United States.

Everything has been stored in three locked sheds at a boat dock nine miles west of Del Rio.

Ms. McMillan was at first encouraged by the cooperation and enthusaiasm of Ciudad de Acuna Mayor Francisco Saracho-Navarro and his attorney, Jose Faz.

While Gov. Montemayor claimed from the first that no help was needed, that Mexico could take care of its own people, Mayor Saracho admitted that the people of the colonias were in serious trouble.

But he has now stopped answering the telephone when Ms. McMillan calls.

"Either he's not there or somebody answers the phone and they try to push a button to another office and I get cut off," she said. "I've got a huge phone bill.

"The girls who answer the phone say, 'You just need to come on back down here,' and I'm going to do that. I'm going to sit in the middle of the bridge until they do something!

"It was only supposed to take 10 days to get the list approved."

Too many "mananas" from Mayor Saracho's office have left the drive leader in a "desperate" state.

"It's awful miserable having things on this side of the river when you know they could be used," she said.

"They're just little cardboard houses with no doors. They had five babies die of pneumonia in the last week or two before I was there the last time, and I don't know how many more since then."

Ms. McMillan has recently contacted the offices of Gov. George W. Bush and Congressman Charles Stenholm of Abilene.

Spokesmen for Gov. Bush and Congessman Stenholm told her that U. S. Sens. Phil Gramm and Kay Bailey Hutchinson should be contacted to urge the federal State Department to intervene.

She is in the process of contacting the two United States senators, along with Congressman Henry Bonilla of San Antonio, whose 23rd District includes Del Rio.

Ms. McMillan has been told that Gov. Montemayor is unimpressed with Texas state governmental officials and will only respond to those from the federal government.

Rep. Bonilla has a Midland office whose telephone number is 915-686-8833.

Producers must certify hog payment eligibility

Sign-up for the Small Hog Operation Payment will begin February 1 and run through February 12 at the Mitchell County FSA Office.

Producers that marketed fewer than 1,000 hogs during the last six months of 1998 and are still in operation may be eligible to earn a payment on the marketed hogs.

Two restrictions apply. If hogs were marketed under a fixed price contract or cost plus contract or the gross income of the operation was in excess of $2.5 million.

Producers may earn up to $5 per slaughter weight hog (or the equivalent for feeder pigs and other swine). The actual payment may be less than $5 given the limited amount of funding.

Producers will be required to certify that they meet the eligibility requirements of the program. The information that will be required is the name of the operation, persons involved, the number of slaughter hogs and feeder pigs marketed in the last six months of 1998, and the buyers of the hogs or pigs.

Also, the producer will have to sign a form that they are still in operation at the time of request. A statement that the hogs were not sold under a contract and a statement that the producer is aware that USDA will be conducting spot checks are also required.

Payments will be made about two to three weeks after the end of the sign-up period. For more information, please contact the Mitchell County FSA Office at 728-2651.

Disaster sign-ups to begin

Details of the Crop Loss Disaster Assistance Program are still sketchy at this time, however sign-up is still scheduled to begin February 1, 1999. The Mitchell County FSA office staff will not get training until about February 4 or 5.

Some of the details known at this time are that losses will be calculated on loss of 1998 and for a three year multi-year losses using crop insurance data on insurable crops. For uninsured and non-insurable crops producers must provide acceptable 1998 production evidence.

Payment yields for insured crops will be the higher of the Actual Production History or the county average. And for non-insurable crops and no APH data is available, the county average will be used.

Prices used to calculate benefits for insurable crops will be the insured market price used for crop insurance for that crop. For uninsured crops, this data will be calculated by the National FSA office and for NAP crops, the five year average price calculated by the National Agricultural Statistical Service will be used. Prices have been established for NAP areas or data accumulated at the national office.

Improved ag prices required

By Wes Sims, President,
Texas Farmers union

WACO -- The year of 1998 was filled with news of the struggle for producers to receive fair value for agricultural commodities.

As the struggle intensifies, it is inevitable to hear the call for more "harmony and unity" among farm organizations and commodity groups.

I believe this call is made, in part, to try and keep producers from questioning the methods and results of people who are supposed to represent farmers and ranchers.

I want to serve notice that the Texas Farmers Union is willing to work with any organization that promotes as its primary focus a fair, profitable price for farmers and ranchers, crops and livestock.

There can be no room for compromise on this issue.

Consequently, there may be even further separation between some organizations.

The failed policies of the past have one common thread -- cheap wholesale prices.

The encouragement to plant and expand without sound economic reward for producers has devastated our rural communities.

The drive to import grain and livestock in the name of "global trade" to replace the loss of domestic production caused by low prices and unstable and unfair markets is designed by companies that benefit from margins on the volume of trade -- regardless of the consequences to our producers.

Call these policies by any name you want, but they have added up to huge advantages for buyers of our commodities and tremendous losses for the sellers and producers of our crops and livestock.

We may never achieve total unity among ag organizations. We have, however, found the pulse of the producers.

A farm journal poll on the so-called "Freedom to Farm" Farm Bill last year provided an opportunity for news reporters honestly to hear the views of many farmers and ranchers.

The vast majority of producers know and believe the message that must be heard and addressed is the price of our production.

Those of us who lead state and national efforts to inform the consumers of our situation are tired of the media's treating as credible the few voices of producers who still cling to "trickle down economics" as if they were speaking for any significant portion of agriculture.

The unity that many call for already exists!

Go to the places where producers gather, and you can't help but hear their united voice calling for fair markets and fair trade.

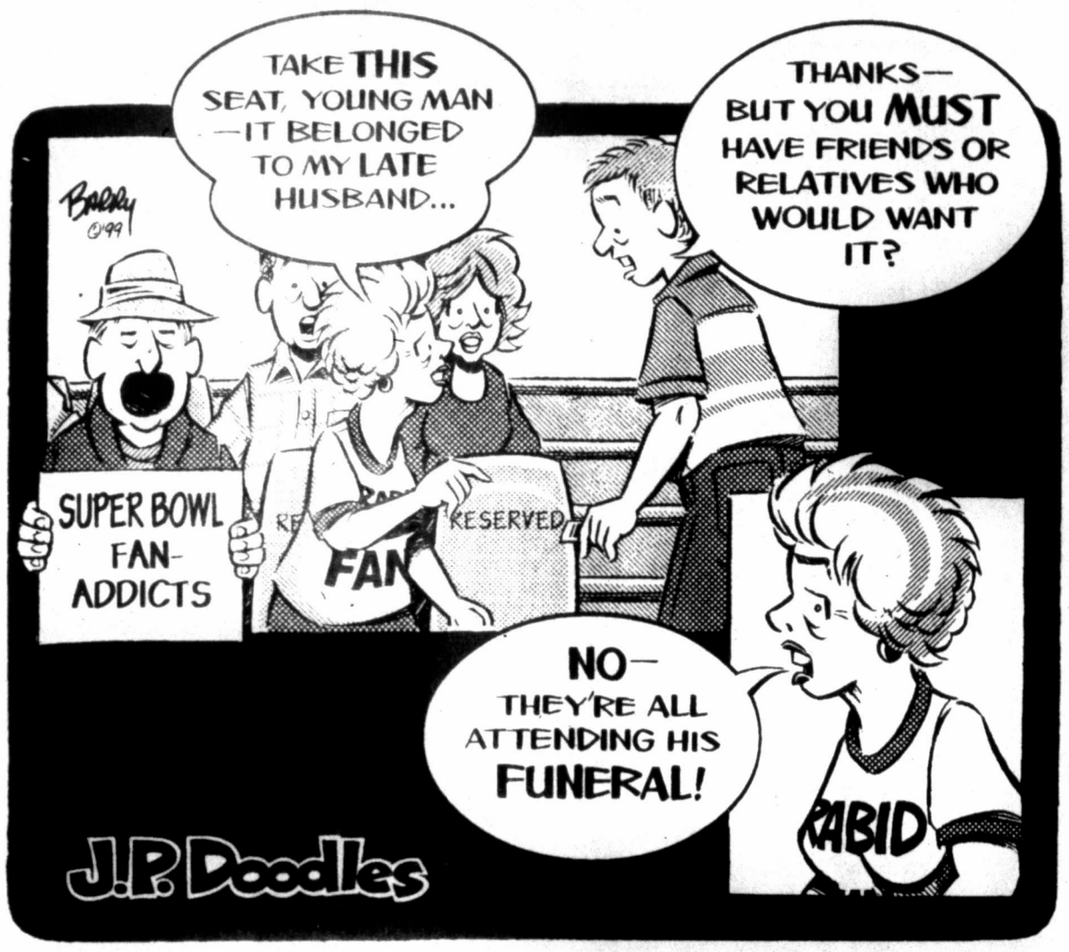

And I am calling for the fair reporting of that voice.

Producers have known all along what is needed, and it is my job as president of the Texas Farmers Union to be sure that they are heard.

We are in touch with producers and have no doubt as to the message.

Who will join our efforts?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Thanks!

Letter to the editor:

To unknown persons

Thank you for your gifts of clothing for "The Boys" at Christmas. Chubby, Cody and Aaron will enjoy them greatly.

It was a great kindness.

School happenings

Letter to the Editor:

I think the people of Colorado City need to know that the recent happenings in the school systems have been a planned action for about two years. My husband and family were a casualty of this plan last year.

I hope people will get involved and check into what their school leaders are doing and their hidden agendas. CISD has lost an important asset to their school system and with no just cause. Not only have they lost this asset to their school, they have cost their school district money that in no way was justified to spend.

I hope you, as the public, will ask questions and ask the teachers their feelings on the whole situation and I can bet you will have quite a different reaction than you had in last week's paper from your school board. I think people need to take note at all the pieces that will fall into place over the next few months and ask themselves if any of this seems ironic!?

CISD has come a long way in the past few years and I hate to see it all go to waste. Your students will be the ones to suffer in the long run while your administrators climb the ladder to success regardless of who they have to ruin in the process. Please make it you business what goes on in the schools because my family is proof that you can't always win by staying in the game.

Sincerely,
Lori Merket
Freona, Tx.

Sen. Fraser receives committee assignments

Texas Senate committee appointments were made on Thursday, January 21 in Austin. These include 13 standing committees, four subcommittees, and two special committees.

The Senate now has more committees with less members to consider legislation. Other changes include dividing the committee on Health and Human Services into two separate committees, making last session's Special Committee on Veteran Affairs and Military Installations a standing committee, and dissolving two other committees.

Senator Troy Fraser, who represents Mitchell County, is on the following committees: Economic Development, Economic Development: Subcommittee on Technology & Growth, Finance, Special Committee on Electric Utility Restructuring, and Veteran Affairs & Military Installations.

Digging for Diamonds

By Tumbleweed Smith

It was raining when I went to the Crater of Diamonds State Park in Arkansas. But there were plenty of people there, wearing slickers, rain hats and rubber boots. Some carried umbrellas. They were looking for diamonds. Diamond hunting is easier when the ground is moist.

The state park is home to what was once the only proven diamond mine in North America. Now another one has opened in Colorado, where a minor deposit was recently discovered.

Many remnants of old mining ventures remain at the park near Murphreesboro: the mine shaft building, the guard house, mining plant foundations, old mining equipment and artifacts. It is the only place in North America where diamond mining history is evident and preserved. The site is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

The diamond that people search for is found in an unusual rock type called lamproite (LAMP-row-ite), which has its origins some 70-150 miles beneath the surface of the earth. It is similar to the kimberlites of South Africa and contains genuine, carbon diamonds. Volcanic activity during the age of dinosaurs brought the precious stones to the surface.

You can go there and rent digging materials or you can wait for a sunny day after a rain and surface hunt. The diamonds seem to come to the surface after a rain and stand sparkling on little mounds of dirt. The park exhibit room shows what a diamond in the rough looks like.

The hunting area is in a 36 acre field with olive green soil. Among the larger diamonds found at the site are:

The Uncle Sam	(40 carats)
The Amarillo Starlight	(16 carats)
The Star of Arkansas	(15 carats)
The Kahn Canary	(4 carats)

Many of the diamonds found here rival the quality of the gem diamonds from any deposit in the world. More than twenty thousand diamonds have been weighed and certified at the park in the last 25 years. The number of diamonds removed from the site before it became a state park is estimated to be somewhere around seventy thousand.

The diamonds were first discovered in 1906 by John Huddleston on what was thought to be his worthless farm land. A diamond rush developed, much like the California gold rush. But it was short lvied and Huddleston sold his land for $36,000.

In 1952, another landowner on an adjacent farm started allowing tourists to come in and dig for diamonds on a finders-keepers basis (except for stones over 5 carats). In 1969 the Earth Minerals Company of Dallas bought the diamond-bearing land and sold it three years later to the state of Arkansas for $750,000. It became a state park in 1972. More than 70,000 tourists visit the park each year.

Jamesons honored in Austin

Agriculture Commissioner Susan Combs recognized 102 farm and ranch honorees - including a Reagan County family - during last Friday's annual Family Land Heritage ceremony in Austin.

Being recognized from Reagan County was the -E Ranch. The ranch has been in the Jameson family since 1898. Representatives of the -E Ranch includes Tooter Jameson of Colorado City, Mrs. Glenda Jameson Adams and Cecil Wayne Jameson.

Sponsored by the Texas Department of Agriculture, the ceremony began at 2 p.m. in Lyndon Baines Johnson Auditorium on the University of Texas campus.

The Friday ceremony marked the 24th year for the program with more than 3,300 farms and ranches throughout Texas already receiving the designation.

"Today's success in Texas agriculture is the result of years of hard-working families recognized by the Family Land Heritage Program," Combs said.

During the ceremony, farms and ranches from 68 counties will received Family Land Heritage certificates. Mason County and Reagan County have the most honorees this year with seven qualified applicants each.

The Ingram Ranch, founded in 1838, in Bastrop County, is the oldest property being recognized this year.

Cast members of the Fort Griffin Fandangle, a historic musical production from Albany, performed at the honors ceremony.

A RIBBON CUTTING was held Friday at La Frontera Mexican Grill, located at 2310 Hickory Street, formerly Villa Inn Restaurant. Michael Espinoza, owner, cuts the ribbon as the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors look on. Also picutred (l-r): Jimmy Espinoza Sr., Valerie Espinoza, and Vickie Ferdin.

Sweethearts send cards from Valentine

The post office in the tiny West Texas town of Valentine does a booming business in February, adding a unique postmark to an average of 20,000 Valentine cards sent all over the world. Here's how your sweetheart can receive a Valentine from Valentine.

1. Place your Valentine card inside a larger envelope (cards must be a standard size, addressed and stamped for first class mail) Send the envelope to:
   Postmaster
   Valentine Station
   Valentine, Texas
   79854-9998
   Phone: 915/467-2912
2. Each card will be hand-canceled with the postmark above, created by Valentine ninth grader Jennifer Williams, whose design was selected from those submitted by 7th-12th grade students in Valentine school.
3. Your cards must be received by the Postmaster in Valentine no later than February 7 to be mailed by Valentine's Day, February 14.

William "Bill" Hale

Hale named TxDOT district engineer

William L. "Bill" Hale has been named district engineer for the Abilene district, effective Jan. 1, 1999. Wes Heald, executive director of the Texas Department of Transportation made the announcement.

In his position of district engineer, Hale will be responsible for management and engineering oversight of all district activities to include transportation planning, operations, right of way, design, construction, inspection, maintenance, safety and environmental functions, as well as administrative and support activities for the 13-county district.

Counties in the Abilene district include Borden, Callahan, Fisher, Haskell, Howard, Jones, Kent, Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry, Shackelford, Stonewall and Taylor.

Hale began his TxDOT career in May 1983 as an engineer assistant in the Dallas district. Prior to being selected to his present position, he was the area engineer for Southeast Dallas County in Hutchins. There, he oversaw all transportation-related projects and activities. His office's average annual workload for the past three years has been $60 million in design projects, $70 million in construction and $4 million in maintenance.

In 1996, Hale received the prestigious Luther DeBerry Award for his work with local officials on several major projects in the Dallas area.

Before moving to his position of area engineer in 1992, Hale was assigned to the Ellis County area office in Waxahachie. While there, he worked in a variety of areas including planning, design construction and maintenance. He was the assistant area engineer in Ellis County before his promotion to the Hutchins office.

Hale earned a bachelor of science degree civil engineering from the University of Texas at Arlington. He also received a masters in civil engineering from UTA. For the past six years, Hale has been a senior lecturer at his alma mater, teaching a graduate class in pavement design.

A native of Dallas, Hale and his wife DD have three children, Chris, Tyler and Tori. In his spare time, Hale says he enjoys a good round of golf.

Church group's purposes reviewed

The Global Focus Group of Women on Mission of the First Baptist Church met Monday night, Jan. 19 in the Activities Building with Jean Hardee as hostess.

The purpose and work of an association, which is the first cooperative step in the Southern Baptist Convention, was the study for January.

Amy Thompson, director of the program, introduced the study using an illustration showing how difficult it is to describe the work and organization of associations by trying to describe jello to someone who had never seen it.

Metha Mahan discussed associations, organizations, their work, their staffing and their relationship to individual churches. They recently listed 140 activities accomplished by its members. These were such activities as a food pantry, prison ministries, a truck stop chapel and a strong world missions emphasis with members going to five overseas countries as missionaries.

By contrast and illustrating how much associations differ, Jean Edwards introduced Norman Ford, Director of Missions in a pioneer area of eastern Washington and northern Idaho where the churches are very small, there are very few of them, and the general population is not anti-God, they just don't know who He is, but they are open to the Gospel. The association's work is reaching the unchurched, discipling new converts and developing leaders. Norman Ford said Mission Service Corps volunteers and other volunteers to help train leaders will help this association develop. Texas Baptists will help this spring with a Sunday School growth emphasis.

To summarize, an association is people working together with other pelple by joining their churches to meet the needs of pelple they could not do alone.

Virginia Dearen led the Calendar of Prayer for missionaries with birthdays on this day. Prayers for local needs followed.

Those attending were Jean Edwards, Amy Thompson, Margaret Bodine, Catherine Morris, Earnestine O'Dell, Mae Dunn, Metha Mahan, Earline Sellier, Betsy Aycock, Virginia Dearen, and the hostess, Jean Hardee.

Reception honors Pauline Wood

Pauline Wood will be honored with a reception from 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday, January 20, 1999 at the Housing Authority Room in Colorado City in observance of her 80th birthday.

Hosts will be her children: Billy Wood of Long Beach, Mississippi; Mary Helen Wood of Colorado City; Ronnie Wood of Midland; and Jo Ann Dering of Colorado City.

Pauline was born in Limestone County, January 28, 1919 to George and Nancy Hulce. They moved to the Seven Wells Community in 1932. She married Odis Wood April 16, 1938, in Colorado City.

Pauline is a member of the VFW Ladies Auxiliary Post 9178. She worked as a nurses aide at Loraine Nursing Home and the Root Valley Fair Lodge until her retirement in 1978. She enjoys crocheting, yard work and her grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren.

Collum's burglarized

Police are investigating a late Monday or early Tuesday burglary at Collum's Restaurant at 989 S. Hwy. 208 in which an undisclosed amount of cash was taken.

Police Chief Pat Taylor said the break-in was reported by an employee at 5:44 a.m. Tuesday.

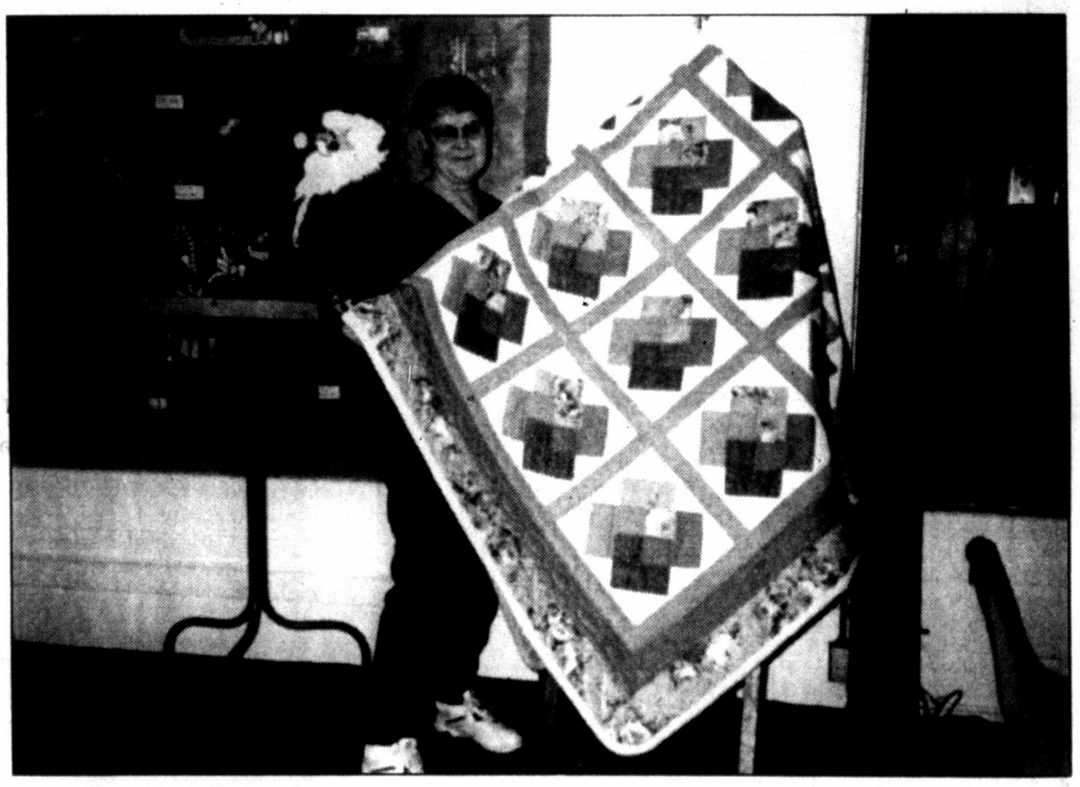

Entry was gained by breaking out a front glass window, and a lock was broken to get into the office, from which the cash was stolen.

"We got some latent fingerprints and some shoe tracks from the scene," Chief Taylor said.

He said a reward of up to $1,000 is being offered through the city and county Crimestoppers organization.

Anyone with information about this crime should call 728-TIPS.

You may remain anonymous.

Librarian speaks here

The Mitchell County Retired Teachers Association met at the Wallace Center for a dutch treat luncheon on Tuesday, Jan. 12.

After lunch, the business meeting was conducted in a classroom.

Earline Sellier, president, introduced Carole Parham from the Mitchell County Library. The program was about the uses of the new computers in the library. Three new computers have been installed in the library. They were purchased by grant money. The entire library is now on computer so that information is obtained much faster and is more complete. In addition, membership cards with the metal chip are being replaced by computerized cards.

Almost instant access to all materials in the Big Country Library Network is now available. Also, the library has materials for the visually and the aurally handicapped. Mrs. Parham stressed the fact that the staff will be available to help patrons who are not familiar with computers.

Earline Sellier presided over the business meeting. Reports of special legislative concerns were read. These concern the national policy enacted by Congress that unfairly impacts the 13 states which do not pay Social Security for their teachers. Texas is one of those.

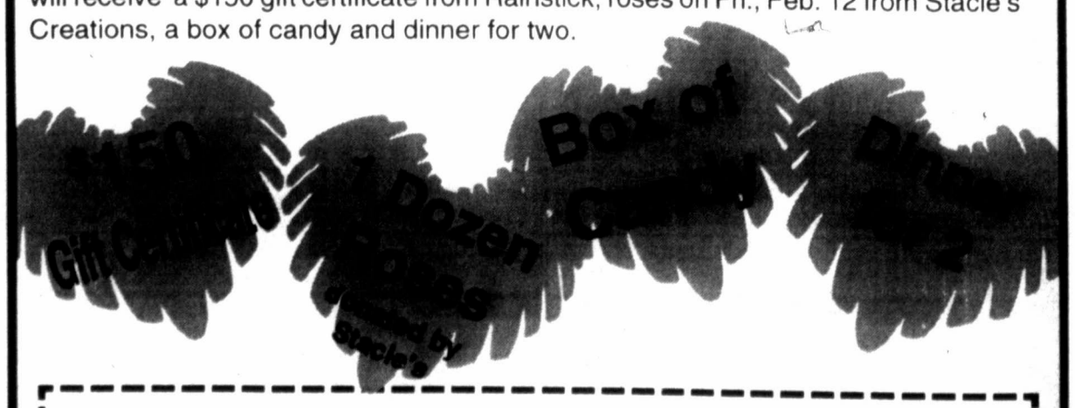

Another legislative need is improved funding for TRS healthcare. Retired teachers also urge the legislature to pass the last phase of the CPI Catch Up program.

Everyone who receives retiree benefits from the Teacher Retirement System of Texas should be aware of the way the actions of the legislature affects them and their future.

The next meeting will be February 9th at the Wallace Community Center. A musical program will be presented by Frank Bassham.

IT TAKES 344 PARTNERS TO BECOME YOUR ONE SOURCE FOR HEALTH CARE.

The new year brought a new name for both Methodist Hospital and St. Mary Hospital. It also signals the formation of the region's most comprehensive network of health care services for the more than 1 million people in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico--Covenant Health System. Behind the 'Covenant' name is much more than three Lubbock hospitals: Covenant Medical Center, Covenant Medical Center-Lakeside and Covenant Children's Hospital. The Covenant family now includes a regional network of partners working together:

- 25 regional hospitals
- 55 neighborhood centers
- 249 physicians
- 12 home health offices and
- AeroCare, our air ambulance service.

Together we represent one health care team dedicated to the idea of caring for the whole person--body, mind and spirit.

Your one choice for health care.

Jameson named to All Star Rodeo team

Rodeo goat-tying champion Margaret Ann Jameson of Colorado City has been named to the Wrangler Texas High School All Star Rodeo Team.

A National High School Rodeo Association (NHSRA) spokesman in Denver, Colo., made the announcement, saying the select groups are the first corporately sponsored youth rodeo teams in the history of the sport.

An all star team has been selected for each of the 38 states and four Canadian provinces in which the NHSRA sponsors rodeos.

"The Wrangler High School All Star Rodeo Team is fashioned after Wrangler's Champion Pro Rodeo Team, which includes superstars like Ty Murray, Joe Beaver, Dan Mortensen and Hall of Famer Jim Shoulders," said association spokesman Mitchel Miller.

"Margaret Ann earned a position on the team based on her leadership qualities, academic eligibility and athletic achievements."

Louis Russo, Wrangler's western wear marketing director at its Greensboro, N. C., headquarters, said the company's NHSRA sponsorship is a natural extension of our professional and collegiate rodeo programs.

"We are confident that the NHSRA partnership will reinforce Wrangler brand loyalty with the youth market."

The association provided a photo of Margaret Ann winning the goat tying at the NHSRA Rodeo last October in Del Rio, where she tied her goat in the very quick time of 7.3 seconds.

"The girl who held the goat said she had never seen one tied that fast," said Margaret Ann's mother Rosanne.

Ten seconds or less is considered competitive in the event.

The 17-year-old Colorado High School junior qualified for the honor by winning the NHSRA Region 2 reserve goat tying championship with her performances in 10 rodeos last year, including competitions in San Angelo, Odessa, Fort Stockton and Del Rio.

She was the runner-up in the 16-19 age division at the American Junior Rodeo Association National Finals Rodeo last July in Sweetwater, and she ranked 11th in the state in her specialty last year in the ninth through 12th grade division.

She also competes in breakaway roping and ribbon roping.

In goat tying, a girl holds the goat until the roper, starting 100 yards away, passes the flagman and he drops the flag.

Then the event becomes similar to calf roping with the goat being roped from the charging horse and the roper dismounting, throwing and tying the goat.

Breakway roping is the same as men's or boys' calf roping to the point when the calf is roped. Then the rope breaks away from the saddle horn, releasing a ribbon there and stopping the contestant's time.

Ribbon roping has the ribbon on the calf's tail and either a boy or a girl roping the running animal from horseback.

Either the boy ropes the calf and the girl dismounts and takes the ribbon off its tail or the girl ropes the calf for the boy to "mug," or hold it, while she takes the ribbon.

Margaret Ann will receive two Wrangler Twenty X shirts with company emblems on the backs and NHSRA All Star Team patches on the sleeves, along with two pair of Wrangler jeans, to wear whenever she competes.

The NHSRA has more than 13,000 members and sanctions 1,200 rodeos annually in the United States and Canada.

Ms. Jameson said Margaret Ann is interested in continuing her career as a member of a college rodeo team after she graduates from CHS, where she plays point guard on the Lady Wolves basketball team.

She also wants to play college basketball.

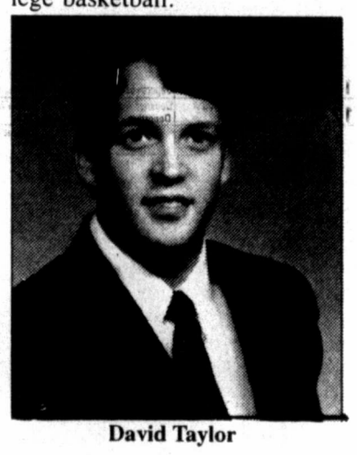

TOP COWGIRL Margaret Ann Jameson of Colorado City was tying her goat in record time last year at a high school rodeo in Del Rio. She has just been named to Wrangler's Texas High School All Star Rodeo Team.

KELLEY ELEMENTARY STUDENTS celebrated the 101st day of school Friday, Jan. 25, with an array of activities revolving around the number 101. Students and staff dressed as characters from 101 Dalmations, wearing black and white dots, and some even dressed as Cruella DeVil. At the end of the day, the newly created CMS stage band performed for the celebration party, complete with 101 cake. Pictured (l-r): Marion Bullock, Kitten Arthur, and Pam Walker.

News from the Colorado Independent School District

By Beau Rees, Hutchinson Elementary Principal

Have the long winter months got you down? Well, come shake off those winter blues and blahs at the second annual Hutchinson Elementary Winter Wonderland Festival. Next Saturday night, February 6th, from 5-8 p.m., the faculty, staff and friends of Hutchinson Elementary will say good-bye to Jack Frost and his cold north wind with a community-wide festival of food, fun and games.

From Cinderella carriage rides and air castles to basketball shoot outs and mystery mazes, there will be something for everyone at Winterfest '99. Additional attractions include snowball throws, bingo, cake walks, face painting, winter picture booth, cookie decorating booth, and ring toss. All types of food willl be served including burritos, chili dogs, nachos, frito pie, cotton candy, cookies and brownies.

Advanced ticket sales are going on now at the Hutchinson Elementary School Office. Prices are five tickets for one dollar or twenty-five cents per individual ticket. Please contact Anita Reyna or Beau Rees for additonal information.

Everyone is encouraged to attend and say adios to winter with a community-wide festival of food, fun and games. All proceeds from the Winter Wonderland Festival will go towards purchasing books, prizes and awards for the Hutchinson Elementary Accelerated Reader Program.

Bridgford named to honor's list

Texas A&M University has named its honor students for the 1998 fall semester, recognizing several thousand students for outstanding academic performance.

The Dean's Honor Roll recognizes students taking at least 15 semester hours who have maintained at least a 3.75 grade point ratio (GPR) out of a possible 4.0 during the most recent grading period.

A second designation, "Distinguished Student," recognizes students who earned a 3.25 to 3.75 GPR while taking at least 15 hours.

Among those recognized were Bettina Bridgford of Colorado City. She is the daughter of Billy Bruce and Judy Bridgford.

Sixth graders enter Children's Art Contest

Sixth grade art students at Colorado Middle School are learning how art relates to environment. They have designed posters for the Treasures of the Texas Coast 1999 Children's Art Contest.

The posters depict scenes of the Texas coast with an emphasis on keeping beaches litter free and ecologically safe. The winning poster will be used across the state to promote keeping our Texas coastline clean.

According to CMS assistant principal, Tom Kelly, who also teaches sixth grade art, "My kids approached me about the possibility of entering the contest. We all checked it out and decided to go for it. The middle school years are a time of discovery whether it be the arts or the environment. It was really exciting to see these students take the lead on this project. I am proud of them."

The posters will be mailed to Austin where winners will be announced in February.

Sixth grade artists entering the poster contest are: April Fox, Terah Lelek, Joe Jackson, Veronica Quiroz, Nicky Thomson, Leticia Reyes, Tommie Bocanegra, Megan Drummond, Joni Clay, Kali Powell, Anthony Matos, Nicole Aguilar and Jessica Garcia.

MILITARY NEWS

Marine graduates

Marine Pfc. Rodney E. Lane, whose wife, Bonnie, is the daughter of Charles M. and Ella V. Boon of Colorado City, Texas, recently graduated from the Unit Diary Clerk's Course at Personnel Administration School, Marine Corps Service Support Schools, Cam Lejeune, NC.

During the eight-week course, Lane gained a working knowledge of processing and preparing a unit diary, which is the basic document used in the Marine Corps Manpower Management System.

Lane learned to prepare personnel information for input into the computer-based system. Lane also studied procedures used for unit-level recording of pay and allowances.

The 1990 graduate of Crane High School of Crane, Texas, joined the Marine Corps in April 1998.

7th grade plays in tourney

The Colorado girls' junior high tourney began Thursday at Kelley gym for the seventh grade A and B teams.

The B girls' team played at 6:30 pm and lost a tough game to Sweetwater's B girls 29-6.

Bianca Godina scored four points in the first round matchup as Toni Pineda and Lori Davila made a freethrow apiece for the team.

The B girls will play Big Spring for third place in Wolf gym at 9 am Saturday morning as Big Spring lost to Seminole Thursday evening.

The seventh grade Lady Wolves' A team beat Sweetwater's A team 39-29 Thursday evening to advance to Saturday's championship match.

Ashley Wright and Hannah Bassham scored 10 points each in the victory.

Amanda Guerra put nine points in the bucket and Nicole Neff added five more.

Krystal Blankenship scored three points and Sandra Leija added two more for the team.

The seventh graders have struggled this season, but have an excellent opportunity to win their home tournament.

Big Spring's A girls beat Seminole Thursday evening and will play the Lady Wolves at the Pit at 3:15 pm Saturday.

Wolves lose close game to Cubs

The 1-2 Colorado Wolves traveled to Brownfield and lost 36-33 to the 1-2 Cubs last Friday night.

The Wolves shot 21 percent from the floor, but had an outstanding night at the stripe, making 10 of 16.

The Wolves are still in the hunt for a playoff spot with seven district games to go, as they cling to the Denver City win and hope for more home wins.

The Brownfield game was definitely 'Wolf-winnable' though, as the Cubs have struggled this season.

Justin Hill led the Wolves' scoring in Brownfield with 11 points.

Hill also had five rebounds for the team.

Brett Hoyle had eight points and 11 boards for the Wolves.

Justin Matthews and Ian Bassham both scored three points for the team.

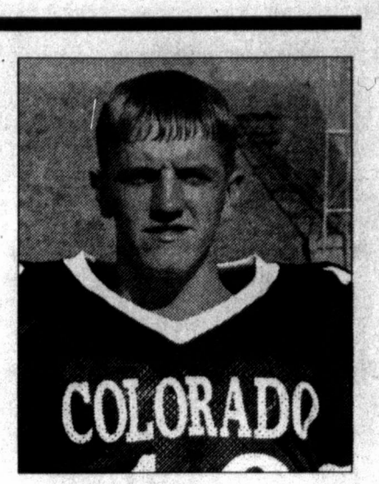

Bassham grabbed four boards and Matthews had two.

Will Bassham scored six points and Ty Wood scored two, both players taking two rebounds.

Defensively, the teams matched up well, as both the Wolves and the Cubs had five steals and 19 turnovers.

Neither team fared well from the floor, as Brownfield shot 33 percent.

The Wolves travel to Seminole Tuesday night to face a tough Indian team, ranked number one in the state.

Randy Byington

Lady Wolves lose to Brownfield

The Colorado Lady Wolves tripped up in Brownfield, losing to the Lady Cubs in overtime 50-44.

The Lady Wolves never got going offensively.

"We came out cold and were down by six at the half," said Coach Darrin Leverton.

The 26-20 halftime deficit was overcome by C-City, but not until a last second shot by Kendra Anderson sent the game into overtime tied at 42.

The Lady Wolves never got their 'stroke', shooting 21 percent from the floor.

However, the Wolves did shoot well from the foul line, hitting 15 of 21 freethrows, Anderson hitting 12 of 15 herself.

Anderson scored 27 points in the game and took 14 rebounds, leading the game in both categories.

Randi Redwine was all over the Lady Cubs, stealing the ball four times and grabbing four boards.

Margaret Ann Jameson scored six points and had four rebounds for the Lady Wolves.

Staci Turnbow had two defensive rebounds and three offensive boards in the tough district loss.

Senior Jamie Mason had three rebounds, three points and two steals for C-City as the 'small-school' team struggles to keep its ground in the district.

Ann Marie Scott had two points and two rebounds as the ladies prepare to head to Seminole Tuesday night.

Blaine Conner is still waiting on results from the doctor on the condition of her knee, which was injured in the Denver City loss.

The Lady Wolves are now tied with Seminole for second in district, but must play the Maidens Tuesday night at their home gym.

Byington makes new All-State team

Randy Byington was chosen as the Third-Team All-State Punter on the Texas Sports Writers Association's All-State team.

Byington was 3-3A's only player to be chosen for the state-wide sports writers' team.

Wildcat JV 3-0 in district

The Westbrook Wildcats JV boys are 3-0 in district play after defeating Borden County 52-43 last Friday evening.

The win gives the Wildcat JV unit a 7-4 overall record.

Borden County led 15-11 at the end of the first quarter, but Westbrook came back to own a 26-25 edge at halftime.

"Borden County is always tough," said Coach Jim Hill.

"We knew it was going to be a hard-fought game."

The Wildcats, clinging to a 37-35 lead at the end of three, ran up a 15-8 fourth quarter for the win.

"The kids played hard and came out on top. That's what counts," added Hill.

Trey Roemisch led all scoring with 16 points while teammates Chris Matlock and Ulalio Gutierrez both added 11.

Adam Roemisch put 10 points in the hoop as Jim Hale added four more.

Nowlain scored 11 for Borden County.

JV raises district mark

The Colorado Wolves JV raised their overall and district marks to (5-6) (1-1) after a 48-44 defeat of the Lamesa Tornadoes JV.

"We played a great game against a really good JV team," said Coach Dan Gainey.

The Wolves led at the end of all periods of play, but never by more than four points.

The score was Wolves 22, Tors 18 at the break, both teams scoring 26 in the second half for the final margin.

Brian Rivera led the Wolves with 22 points in the game.

"Our perimeter guys did a good job of getting Brian the ball at the low post."

But Coach Gainey's guys won the game at the stripe.

"The big difference was at the freethrow line. We made 13 of 26 and they were only 4 for 19," added Gainey.

Greg Green and Andrew Spear scored eight points apiece in the tough district win.

Anderson will speak at farmer's convention

Texas Farmers Union (TFU) members from throughout the state will meet February 5-6 at the Four Points Hotel in Lubbock for the organization's 95th annual convention. Key speakers will include National Farmers Union President Leland Swenson, Texas House of Representatives Pete Laney and Vice President of Rocky Mountain Farmers Union Kathleen Kelly.

Texan Larry Mitchell, who serves as the U.S. Department of Agriculture's deputy administrator for farm programs, will speak as well. Other speakers include USDA's State Director of Rural Development Steve Carriker, National Farmers Union Government Relations Director Tom Buis, retired entomologist Dr. Kennth R. "Rod" Summy of Weslaco, Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation's chairman of the board of directors Woody Anderson of Colorado City.

"1998 was a difficult year for production agriculture, and Farmers Union rose to the challenge by leading the charge that eventually resulted in Congress allocating $7 billion in aid and tax cuts for America's farmers and ranchers," said TFU President Wes Sims of Sweetwater.

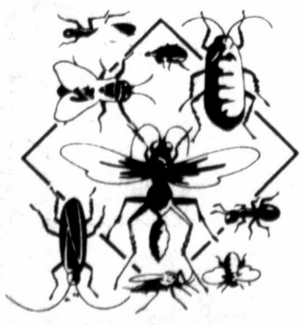

In addition to celebrating its successes, the Farmers Union members will have an opportunity to debate and adopt the state organization's policy program for the coming 12 months. Convention delegates also will elect district directors and delegates to the National Farmers Union's annual convention in Springfield, Ill., March 5-8.

Concentration in agricultural markets, commodity prices, risk management tools and trade policies are sure to be among the primary concerns of TFU members discussing amendments and additions to the 1999 TFU policy program.

Those elected district directors will have the responsibility of representing their region on the TFU board. Directors serve for two years. Those elected delegates to the national convention will be charged with taking the concerns of TFU members to the national level for consideration.

"I am very proud of Farmers Union's grassroots approach to developing policy and in electing its leadership. Anyone attending our convention has the opportunity to witness the democratic process at work," Sims said.

The convention will close Saturday night with a banquet keynoted by National Farmers Union President Leland Swenson.

Explore the roads of Oklahoma for $16.95

From dirt roads to interstate, The Roads of Oklahoma has more information on Oklahoma than any other road atlas. Shearer Publishing has worked diligently researching and adapting information from U.S. Geological Survey maps, U.S. Bureau of Land Management maps, U.S. Forest Service maps, and Oklahoma Department of Transportation maps. With a large format of 11 1/8 x 15 3/8 inches and a scale of one inch = 2.5 miles, the atlas has 108 full-color map pages that show township and range, latitude and longitude, topography, all watersheds, forests, grasslands, wildlife areas, state resort and park areas, roadside parks and picnic areas, power substations, gravel pits, and many more details. All communities are noted—whether there are three residents or 300,000. Cemeteries, schools, post offices, churches and other cultural features are shown in rural areas.

In addition to the detailed maps, The Roads of Oklahoma has information and illustrations that capture some of the unique qualities of the state. Specific listings offer a wealth of travel information that covers everything from Oklahoma's roadside attractions to its history to helpful phone numbers for travelers.

W'brook enjoys 1st district win

W'brook 79, Sands 62

The Westbrook Wildcats traveled to Sands and notched their first district 18-A win by a 79-62 margin over the 0-3 Mustangs.

The Wildcats' district mark stands at 1-2, while their overall record improved to 8-9.

Westbrook took a 41-28 halftime lead and never looked back.

"We played a complete game," said Coach Hill of his team's all-around effort.

"(We had) good intensity and it all paid off. Kept us in the running (for the playoffs)," added Hill.

Thadd Rich had 16 points and seven rebounds for the Wildcats.

Daniel Stearns got himself a 'double-double', scoring 15 points and grabbing 12 boards.

Five players scored in double figures for the 'Cats, including Brad Hale who had 14 points.

Chris Chambers had 13 points and six rebounds while James Matos scored 11 points and got three boards.

Sam Harless and Roland Matos both scored four points. Harless also grabbed four rebounds for the team.

W'brook 62, Borden 79

The Westbrook Wildcats hosted Borden County last Saturday and lost 79-62 to the Coyotes.

"We just played a top-notch ballclub," said Coach Jim Hill of the 5-0 Borden County team.

"We played good in spurts, but you have to play well and over your head against Borden County to have a chance."

The (8-10) (1-3) Wildcats, able to muster only 19 first-half points, reeled as the Coyotes had 43 points on the board at the break.

Daniel Stearns scored 17 points and grabbed 10 rebounds for the Wildcats.

Erick Roberson got 12 points and nine boards as Thadd Rich had eight points and eight boards.

The Wildcats' Brad Hale scored 10 points and grabbed four rebounds as teammate James Matos scored two points and took three boards.

Chris Chambers had seven points and four rebounds in the game.

Roland Matos had four points and Sam Harless added two more.

Borden County's Dennis led scoring with 23 points.

Lady Wildcats lose two games

'Cats 38, Sands 95

Turnovers and a strong Lady Mustang press declared a 95-38 victory over the Westbrook Lady Cats January 19 in Sands.

"We didn't do a very good job of taking care of the ball and handling their press," said coach Mark Chauveaux.

"They got a lot of easy points because of that."

Brook Dawson led Westbrook with 14 points as Jaci Hill scored 11.

Hill had 10 rebounds and Dawson grabbed six.

Amber Morris scored eight points and took four boards.

April Chambers scored two points and had two rebounds for the Lady Cats.

Jenny Wright wrapped up Lady Cat scoring with two points.

Wright and teammates Kristi Morton, Brynn Rich and Dallas Allen all had one rebound in the game.

The loss gives the Lady Cats an overall mark of 8-9, and a district record of 0-3.

'Cats 35, Borden 73

The Lady Cats met a bigger, quicker district opponent in Borden County and lost 73-35 last Friday night in Westbrook.

"Their size and quickness was tough to handle," said coach Chauveaux.

The Lady Cats did a better job in the second half, but turnovers still took their toll.

"I think we played pretty well in the second half, but we still have to learn how to take care of the ball."

Amber Morris led the Lady Cats with 13 points and also had three rebounds.

April Chambers and Kristi Morton both scored six points, Chambers had one board and Morton grabbed two.

Brook Dawson and Jaci Hill both scored four points as Dawson got four rebounds and Hill took three.

Dallas Allen scored two points and grabbed two boards Brynn Rich got a board in the tough district loss.

The Lady Cats' overall record is 8-10 and their district mark is 0-4, so far.

Eighth graders - boys & girls

S'water tourney

The Colorado Wolves eighth grade A team played in the Sweetwater tourney last weekend and lost three games.

Game one on Friday was against the host team, Sweetwater.

The Wolves lost 73-33 to the 4A school.

Derek Garcia led the Pack with 10 points as Kinji Johnson pulled down six in the loss.

Jon Spear, Landon Graham and Bo Williamson all scored five points for the Wolves as Anthony Munoz added two in the game.

The Wolves faced Ballinger in game two and lost by 16, 43-27.

Against Ballinger, the Pack tried to sneak back into it in the fourth period as they outscored the Bearcats 13-8, but it was too little, too late.

Kinji Johnson led the Wolves with eight points as teammate Jon Spear added six for the team.

Bo Williamson scored five and Derek Garcia added four more.

Tyrell Jones and Anthony Munoz both scored two against the Bearcats.

In game three, C-City played Sweetwater's B team and lost 46-36.

The Wolves were only down 20-18 at the break, but let the Mustangs pull away in the second half for the win.

Derek Garcia had eight points and Jon Spear scored seven for the 1-10 team.

Kinji Johnson had five points as teammates David Salazar, Landon Graham and Ryan Mason all scored four.

Bo Williamson added two points for the Wolves.

C-City tourney

The Colorado Lady Wolves B team played in the Colorado tourney last weekend.

The girls played Sweetwater first and lost 31-8.

Sara Ann Cox scored four points to lead the Lady Wolves as teammate Rockell Green added three.

Jessica Thompson got a freethrow to fall for the team.

The girls met Seminole in the consolation round Saturday and lost a tough 41-5 decision to the Maidens.

In that contest, Jacki Davila and Melissa Rivera both scored two points for C-City as Sara Ann Cox scored one.

"The girls played hard both games. They never stopped hustling," said Coach Graham, of a group of kids that proudly represent C-City every time they suit up.

Win tourney

The Colorado Lady Wolves eighth grade A team won the Colorado Junior High girls' tournament last weekend.

In game one, the Lady Wolves beat Sweetwater 47-16.

Coach Anita Graham was tickled with the girls' effort.

"All the girls played well. Good defense by Sam Guelker, Teresa Cobb and Rachel Arguijo," said Graham.

Terri Phariss scored 20 points to lead the Wolves as Alison Lopez added 12 in the opening game victory.

Kotia Russell pulled down seven points for C-City as Natalie Sharp scored six.

Brandi Turnbull put two points on the board.

The Lady Wolves met Big Spring in the championship game Saturday night and won 27-20.

"The game was close the entire game," said Graham.

"Big Spring came within two points in the third, but the girls picked it up on offense and defense."

Alison Lopez and Terri Phariss led the Wolves with 11 points each in the game.

Kotia Russell added four more and Teresa Cobb made a freethrow in the seven-point win.

"It was a great team effort by all the girls."

Lose to Denver City

The Colorado Wolves eighth grade A and B teams hosted Denver City's A and B teams and lost both games to the Mustangs.

The B boys lost 41-22 after a heart-breaking scoreless third quarter erased any hopes of winning the game.

Oscar Martinez scored nine points for the team.

Clint Shoemaker, Justin Russell and Eric Wooddell all scored four points for C-City.

Tony Hubbard scored one point for the 0-7 team.

The A team played the Mustangs a little closer as they were defeated 42-35.

The Wolves were only down16-15 at the half and, were it not for a 13-6 Mustang run in the third period, the Pack would have stayed within striking distance.

Mickey Green led the Wolves with 10 points as Derek Garcia added seven to the total.

Jon Spear scored five and Landon Graham put in four points for the team.

Bo Williamson scored three points as teammates Tyrell Jones, David Salazar and Kinji Johnson each added two points for the Pack.

Split games

The Colorado Lady Wolves eighth grade A and B teams traveled to Denver City and split games with the Fillies.

The B team lost a close game 24-15, after slipping up in the third quarter.

The Lady Wolves, down just 14-10 at the break, could not generate any offense in the third period.

Jessica Thompson led the ladies with six points and Sara Ann Cox put in four points.

Melissa Rivera added three points as Rockell Green put up two more.

"The girls are improving every game," said Coach Anita Graham.

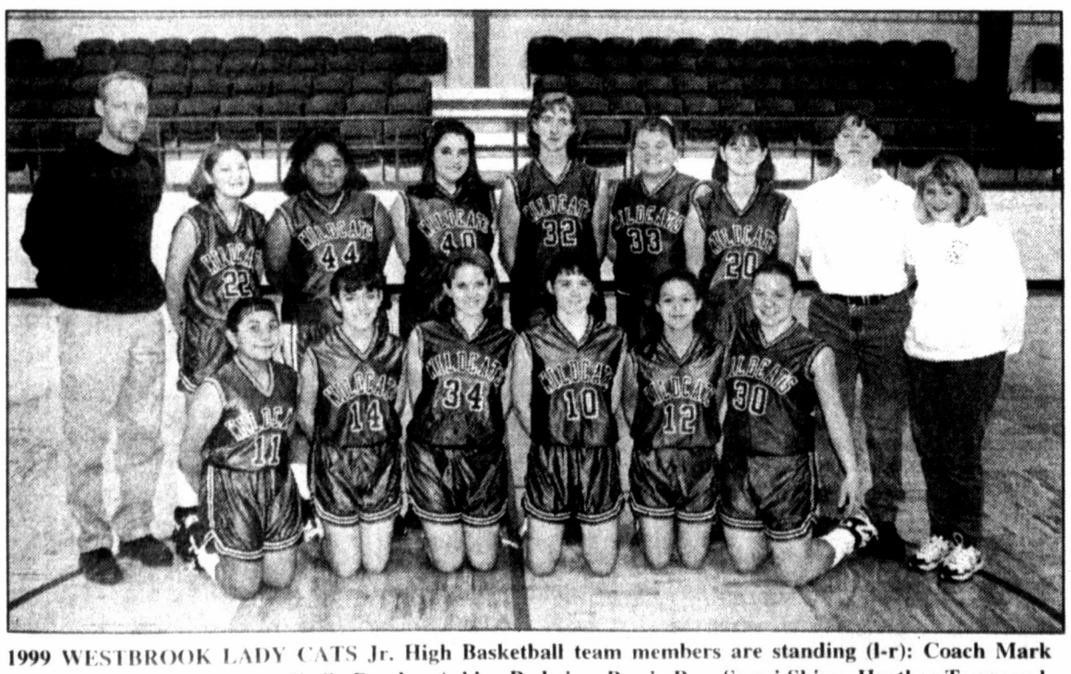

"They never stop trying or quit hustling."

The girls' 1-8 record does not tell the whole story about the team.

"They came close today... and had fun!"

W'brook jr. high boys drops record to 2 - 6

The Westbrook Junior High Wildcats dropped their record to 2-6 after a tough 47-37 loss to Grady last Thursday.

The Wildcats outscored Grady 35-26 in quarters two, three and four, but a 21-2 Grady run to start the game was never overcome by Westbrook.

Grady is an undefeated team with a couple of good players, Spluger and Tunnell, who scored 21 and 12 points respectively.

"We played hard after the first quarter," replied Coach Heath Dickson.

Jared Matlock led Westrook with 17 points.

Colt Rich put 14 points up and Jamie Ruth scored six for the Wildcats.

Girls lose to Sands

The Westbrook Lady Cats JV team traveled to Sands and lost 47-18 January 19.

The loss drops the girls' record to 3-6 on the year.

Rachel Parham scored nine points and Andrea Moore pulled down seven.

Veronica Matos added two more for the Lady Cats.

The Lady Cats JV hosted Borden County last Saturday and lost 66-12.

In that game, April Ginkinger led the Lady Cats with six points as teammates Matos, Parham and Moore each scored two for the team, whose record now stands at 3-7.

NOTICE OF RATE CHANGE REQUEST

Texas Utilities Electric Company ("TU Electric"), in accordance with the Public Utility Regulatory Act, Title 2, Texas Utilities Code, hereby publishes NOTICE of its Statement of Intent filed with each of the municipalities that exercises original jurisdiction over TU Electric's rates to implement the following optional time-of-use rates that would be applicable on a voluntary basis at the individual customer's option as follows: (1) Rate GTU-M – General Service Time-of-Use-Municipality, which would be available to any customer and typically useful to commercial and industrial customers receiving firm electric service; (2) Rate RTU1-M – Residential Time-of-Use Service-Municipality, which would be available to residential customers; and (3) Rate GTUC-M – General Service Time-of-Use Voluntary Curtailable-Municipality, which would be available to any customer and typically useful to commercial and industrial customers that are able to interrupt or significantly reduce their electric usage similarly to customers receiving interruptible electric service. TU Electric proposes to implement said optional rates on February 19, 1999, or as soon thereafter as permitted by law. The purpose of these optional time-of-use rates is to allow customers to manage their electric usage in a way to shift their loads from on-peak periods to off-peak periods and thereby save on their electric bills and allow TU Electric and all of its customers to benefit through a reduced need for additional resources to meet the peak load requirements of TU Electric's customers.

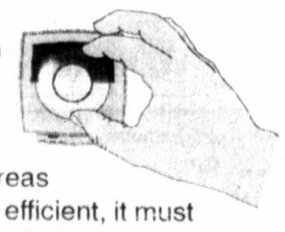

While these rates would be entirely voluntary at the individual customer's choice, all of TU Electric's retail customers and classes of retail customers within the corporate limits of each municipality that exercises original jurisdiction over TU Electric's rates would be affected by the proposed rates.

Since these proposed rate options are entirely voluntary, TU Electric is unable to estimate their effect on its revenues, although these optional time-of-use rates are designed to be revenue neutral to TU Electric.

Further information may be obtained by contacting TU Electric at Metro (972) 791-2888 or 1-800-242-9113.

7th grade ladies play hard

Tournament

The Colorado Lady Wolves seventh grade A team won second place in the Colorado Junior High girls' tournament last weekend.

"The A team met up with the Lady Mustangs from Sweetwater on Thursday and played an excellent game," said Coach Jeran Gatlin.

The Lady Wolves beat Sweetwater 39-29 to place them in Saturday's championship game.

Ashley Wright and Hannah Bassham both scored 10 points in the tourney-opening victory.

Amanda Guerra scored nine points and Nicole Neff had five.

Krystal Blankenship put three points in and Sandra Leija added two more for the Lady Wolves.

"The Lady Wolves met Big Spring on Saturday and played a hard game, never giving up," said Gatlin.

Colorado lost the game, 30-17, but successfully earned the second-place trophy.

Hannah Bassham led the Lady Wolves with seven points.

Amanda Guerra had five points while Nicole Neff scored three and Sandra Leija put in two more.

3 losses

The Colorado Lady Wolves seventh grade B team is scrambling to find some offense as they have suffered consecutive losses to Sweetwater, Big Spring and Denver City.

In the Sweetwater game, a 29-6 loss in game one of the Colorado JH tourney, Bianca Godina had four points as Lori Davila and Marissa Rangel each scored a freethrow.

In the tourney's consolation game on Saturday, the Lady Wolves met Big Spring and were downed 37-1 by the Lady Steers.

Godina scored the lone Wolf point, as the team struggles to put the biscuit in the basket.

On Monday night, the girls traveled to Denver City and were 'bucked' by the Fillies 56-9.

Amber Wyrosdick scored four points for the Lady Wolves.

Lisa Edmondson had three points and Bianca Godina put two in the hoop.

Wolves 32, Denver City 57

The Colorado Lady Wolves seventh grade A team, fresh off of a second place finish in the Colorado tourney, played a great game in Denver City.

The Lady Wolves lost 57-32 to the Fillies, but started the game 'hot'.

"This was the best first half I think this group of girls has ever played," said coach Jeran Gatlin.

"We were on fire shooting. If we put it up, it went in."

The Lady Wolves were led by Amanda Guerra with 16 points, Hannah Bassham with 13 and Ashley Wright had three points.

But the team cooled off in the second half as Denver City pulled away for the victory.

"In the second half, something happened," said Gatlin.

"Our shooting was cut in half."

PA program to be discussed Feb. 10

Shannon Health System invited anyone interested in becoming a physician assistant to a meeting Wednesday, February 10, at Shannon Women's & Children's Center, 201 East Harris in San Angelo.

Gene Jones, Ph.D., director of the Dallas-based University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center's physician assistant program will make a presentation at 3 p.m. in the first-floor auditorium. He will be available for individual consultation from 4-5 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Shannon and UT Southwestern signed an agreement in 1995 to support the physician assistant program and to encourage an affiliation with Shannon, which depends heavily on physician assistants to staff its rural health clinics. Dr. Jones said the upcoming program will give UT Southwestern the opportunity to get more students into rural areas and prepare them for that kind of practice.

Currently, Shannon employs physician assistants in Ballinger, Brady, Bronte, Eldorado, Menard, Ozona, Robert Lee and Sterling City. The physician assistants practicing in Ballinger, Brady, Menard and Robert Lee serve as adjunct faculty to UT Southwestern and supervise rotations through their respective clinics.

The Shannon/UT Southwestern agreement helps recruit more West Texas students who are attracted by opportunities to study close to home and who will want to return after graduation. As part of the agreement, UT Southwestern will "strongly consider" applications from qualified prospective students living within Shannon's service area of greater West Texas. The competition is notably rigorous; in a recent semester, 45 students were selected from 852 applicants.

Deadline for admission to the UTSW program is Nov. 15, 1999. Classes begin in May 2000.

For consultation appointments with Dr. Jones or for more information, call Joyce Duncan, Shannon Health System recruiter, at 915-659-7138 or 1-800-822-1773.

loraine news

Greetings from Loraine! I hope you had a good week and that you didn't come down with "trial-itis".

I overheard one woman say "I've been watching the president's trial night and day."

Her lady friend said "Not me, I could care less."

Then there was this short comment from a man, "Well, it's all over now, cut and dried."

Another man sitting across the table from him said "It ain't over till the stout lady sings." That pretty much sums up the picture, don't you think?

All kidding aside, I do believe most people here are concerned, but they just want the lady to start singing.

JUST IN FUN

A man was very cross with his wife because she expected their beloved canine friend to act like a human being. "I've scolded him time and again she replied, but he just doesn't respond. Surely we don't own a dumb dog."

"My dear," her husband said sweetly, "first, you have to know more than the dog."

JH Bulldogs play well

'Dogs 26, Roscoe 11

The Loraine Junior High Lady Bulldogs opened the Blackwell tourney with a 26-11 victory over Roscoe.

Good defense was the key to the victory which boosted Loraine's record to 9-2 on the year.

"The team played one of its best defensive games of the year," said Coach Victor Garcia.

Offensively, the team started off slow, but finished the game with some intensity.

"The offense struggled in the first half, but finished up strong in the second half."

The team opened the game with an 8-3 lead after one, but both teams went cold in period two, going in at the break holding at 8-4.

The fourth quarter was all Loraine though, as the Lady Bulldogs went on a 12-0 run for the win.

Eliza Martinez and Sonya Barrera led Loraine with eight points each.

Patricia Sanchez and Vanessa Jones both scored four for the Lady Bulldogs as Angela Wooddell dropped in two points.

Loraine 30, B'well 21

Saturday's semi-final game at the Blackwell junior high tourney featured the Loraine Lady Bulldogs and the Highland Lady Hornets.

Loraine won 30-21, and earned the right to play in the championship game later in the day.

It was an all-around 'good' game for the young Lady 'Dogs.

"All the girls did a good job on offense... all the girls did a good job on defense," summed up Coach Garcia in his post-game report.

Loraine led by nine at the break and held that margin through the final two periods in a steady game.

Eliza Martinez led the Lady 'Dogs with nine points.

Sonya Barrera and Christina Rico scored six points each in the semi-final victory.

Patricia Sanchez added five to the final tally as Rose Melendez and Vanessa Jones scored two apiece.

Miss winning tourney

The Loraine Junior High Lady Bulldogs just missed winning the Blackwell tourney last Saturday.

The Loraine girls met host-team Blackwell and lost 43-22 in a game which was a lot closer than the score might indicate.

The Lady Bulldogs put it on Blackwell in the first period, going up 12-6.

In the second quarter, Blackwell went on an 11-3 run, giving them a 17-15 halftime edge.

"The girls did a great job on breaking the full-court press," said Coach Victor Garcia.

"(The girls) played a great first half offensively and defensively."

"(The team) struggled in the second half, after getting in foul trouble," added Garcia.

The girls did struggle a bit as they were outscored 26-7 by the hometown team in the final two stanzas.

Patricia Sanchez led Loraine with eight points as Angela Wooddell put in five for the talented team.

Vanessa Jones added four more while Eliza Martinez and Christina Rico each put two points on the board.

Sonya Barrera added a freethrow for the 10-3 team.

Blackwell wins

The Loraine Junior High Lady Bulldogs got home from the Blackwell tourney, washed uniforms, turned around and went back.

And, if not for a tough second quarter, would have gotten revenge for the championship loss two days earlier.

"Played the best game against Blackwell all year," said Coach Victor Garcia.

The girls started out sizzling, leading 8-4 after the first period.

The second quarter was all Blackwell though, as the Lady Hornets went on a 15-0 run giving them a 19-8 halftime edge.

"They just happened to beat us in the second quarter," added Garcia.

"That proved to be the difference."

The teams locked horns with eight points each in period three and played a 12-11 fourth period.

Sonya Barrera led the Lady Bulldogs with six points.

Eliza Martinez and Angela Wooddell both scored five as Christina Rico and Patricia Sanchez each had four points.

Vanessa Jones added three points for the Lady 'Dogs, who are 10-4 overall, and 4-2 against district opponents.

Loraine girls lose one, win one

Bulldogs 52, Hornets 25

The Loraine Lady Bulldogs beat the Highland Lady Hornets 52-25 to win their first district game this season.

The (6-9) (1-2) Lady 'Dogs traveled to Highland January 19 and beat the (3-14) (0-3) Lady Hornets in their home gym.

Loraine's Leslie Garcia led all scoring with 18 points and also grabbed five rebounds.

Heather Lucas had a solid 13-point performance.

Amy Garcia scored eight points and three rebounds, as Jennifer Rich also had three boards.

Andi Chavez scored five points and collected five boards for the Lady 'Dogs.

Bea Lujan scored two points and had four rebounds as Rebecca Carrington got two points and two boards.

Sabrina Neel and Veronica Garcia both scored two in the team's first district win.

Loraine went seven of thirteen at the line while Highland was one of four.

Valdez led Highland with 11 points.

Bulldogs 40, Trent 70

The Loraine Lady Bulldogs dropped their district mark to 1-3 after a tough 70-40 loss to 4-0 Trent.

The Lady Gorillas shot 12 of 17 from the freethrow line, while Loraine was 11 of 32.

The Lady Bulldogs were only down 33-19 at the break, but Trent went on a 19-7 third quarter run to seal the victory.

Leslie Garcia led the Lady 'Dogs with 20 points, including a three-pointer.

Garcia and Bea Lujan each had four rebounds for Loraine.

Heather Lucas scored 11 points to go with her four boards and Amanda Kendall shot a freethrow and grabbed one rebound for the team.

Andi Chavez had three rebounds and two points.

Amy Garcia and Rebecca Carrington each got two rebounds and two points, while Jennifer Rich had one board and two points.

Loraine's Veronica Garcia also grabbed a rebound.

Trent's Ashley Brown led all scoring with 21 points.

Bulldogs chase Gorillas

The Loraine Bulldogs lost 73-61 to the Trent Gorillas last Friday night.

The game was tied at 33 at the half, and Loraine was only down by two at the end of the third quarter.

But a strong 23-13 fourth quarter run by the 3-1 Gorillas, and Kevin Boles' 39-point game-high performance did in the 1-3 'Dogs.

Josh Wooddell scored 18 points for Loraine while collecting four rebounds.

Edward Carrington had 17 points and nine boards in the hard-fought district loss.

Bubba Williams scored 15 points and got six rebounds.

Roman Martinez sank two three-pointers as he had eight points and five boards in the game.

Johnny Lopez scored three points for the 'Dogs, who were forty percent at the freethrow line.

JH Bulldogs have hard week

Bulldogs 32, Blackwell 41

The Loraine Junior High Bulldogs lost 41-32 to Blackwell in the championship game of the Hornets' tourney last Saturday.

It was a close game, but foul trouble doomed the 'Dogs' chances at the championship.

"The team played an outstanding game offensively and defensively, but got in foul trouble towards the second half," said Coach Victor Garcia.

Elias Barrera led Loraine with 13 points as Edward Lujan put nine up for the Bulldogs.

George Davila scored seven points, Elias Martinez had two and Ryan Lucas made one point to round out Bulldog scoring.

Bulldogs 41, Roscoe 26

The Loraine Junior High Bulldogs beat Roscoe 41-26 in the Blackwell tourney opener last weekend.

The old saying 'rebounds win championships', rang true for Coach Jay Smith's troops on this day.

"The team did a great job of rebounding..."

Loraine held a 14-4 lead at the end of the first period, and never lost that lead, going in at the break up 18-10.

George Davila led the Bulldogs with 16 points as teammate Ryan Lucas added 11 in the 15-point victory.

Elias Barrera put 10 points in the books and Edward Lujan added four more.

The win placed the 5-6 team in Saturday's semi-final match with Winters.

Bulldogs 36, Blackwell 36

The Loraine Junior High Bulldogs lost to Blackwell 41-36 last Monday, but the improving team certainly didn't 'give it away'.

"The guys played a great game, probably their best all year," said Coach Jay Smith.

"Blackwell won the game, but I really can't say we lost it."

The 'Dogs were only down 12-11 after one, and down by five at the half.

Both teams scored 19 in the second half though, which ended in a Loraine loss.

"We've come a long way and I'm really proud of the boys," added Smith.

Elias Barrera led Loraine with 14 points as Ryan Lucas scored eight.

Elias Martinez got six points to fall as Edward Lujan added five more.

George Davila rounded out Loraine's scoring with three points.

The Bulldogs' record is 6-8 overall and 3-3 in district competition.

Lady 'Cats lose close one

The Westbrook Junior High Lady Cats lost a close one to Grady 34-30 last Thursday in Grady.

The game was close throughout, with the Lady Cats winning the battle in the second half 18-15.

But Grady won the war in quarters one and two.

"We didn't play very aggressively in the first half," said Coach Mark Chauveaux.

"We did a better job of putting pressure on the ball in the second half, but we just came up short."

Krystal Loggins led the Lady Cats with 11 points as Kaci Moody pulled down seven.

Sheena Fernandez scored four as Kayla Rich and Sheila Perales both added three points.

Alison Barboza and Heather Townsend each had a one-point outing.

The 5-4 Junior High Lady Cats hit seven of thirteen from the freethrow line.
