HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

It can be said that the new Winters Community Center building probably is one of the most important additions to Winters in a long time.

Located on the north edge of town in the City Park, adjacent to the swimming pool, and near the school FFA stock show barns and the football stadium and track, the Community Center is readily accessible for most any type of activity, and yet near enough to the business area to lend support to most any type of commercial promotional idea.

The need for such a center has been known for a long time. In the past, when a new type of activity was planned where there would be crowds of people in attendance, it was necessary to use either the school cafeteria, the school auditorium or to even use facilities of the several churches in the city. These arrangements have proved satisfactory, to a degree, but there always has been the necessity of coordinating planning with school activities, especially during the school year. Too, there have been times when it was impossible to plan certain types of activity, especially if meetings or dinners were to be held during the day, because the school cafeteria, for example, would not be available. Many activities, such as conventions of certain groups, had to be planned for night only, or sent to another city, because of the restriction.

But this has all changed since the completion in the summer of the Community Center. Now, activities can be planned without thought of non-availability of facilities. For example, the fall convention of the West Central Texas Law Enforcement Association, which is to be held in the Community Center next Tuesday. Had it not been for the availability of the Center for an all-day meeting, the convention would have had to be sent to another city.

In past years, the annual membership barbecue sponsored by the Winters Livestock & Agricultural Association has been held in the stock show barn. There was a great deal of work connected with preparing the barn for the barbecue, and facilities available left much to be desired. This year, the barbecue was held in the Community Center, with a record crowd-770.

The Center also has been used for other types of activity, such as reunions and the like, since its completion. Prospects for the future are great. With so many different organizations and groups in Winters, and possibilities of large-crowd activities, the Center should become quite popular. With the right kind of planning it is quite possible that there could be an important large-crowd activity in progress at the Center almost every week. And the more it is used, the more it will help the whole community.

The Community Center is a great asset to the community, and the good that will come from it will more than offset the relatively small cost of its construction. Those men who saw the need, made the plans and saw them to completion are to be commended for their faith and judgment.

We're now having some of that weather we were longing for back in July and August. But during the weekend, when it was raining a bit, many of us were wishing for clearer weather so we could do some of the things we had planned to do. And on these brisk mornings, many of us seek out the sunny side of the house so chill aggravated bones won't ache so much.

We're never satisfied with things as they are, it seems, but continue to long for something which looks or feels just a bit better or different. West Central Texas is noted for its "difference," though, and if we aren't prepared for constant and sudden change, we may as well hitch up and move out. As we've heard it said many times, there have been few times in this section when it didn't start to do one of two things—start raining or stop raining!

Blizzards Host To Haskell Friday

The Winters Blizzards and the Haskell Indians, the cellar team and the top team in District 7-AA, will meet on Blizzards Field Friday night in what could be one of the most important games of the season for both teams.

Haskell, a tough and fast Class AA team under the tutelage of Sonny Everett, is leading the district with five wins and no losses for the season, and will be prepared to keep that status. The Blizzards, a hard-kick team thus far, with no wins and five losses behind them this season, are a "coming" squad, gaining in experience with each game, with an enthusiasm quotient even higher than at the start of the season. They will be out to take advantage of an opportunity to knock off the top team.

Coach Jerry Gibson, with high praise for the Blizzards' action against Hamlin last week, said the team would be working this week with just one thing in mind: To revenge last year's 22-21 squeaker defeat by the Indians.

Salvation Army Fund Drive On, Quota of $1200.00 Has Been Set

The annual drive for funds for the Salvation Army is now underway, with a quota of $1200 set for the Winters community, according to Manuel Esquivel, Jr., general chairman of the drive.

A dinner at the Fireside Restaurant last week opened the drive. Forty persons attended the dinner, and campaign plans were made.

Esquivel said attempts will be made to contact each individual in the community during this drive to raise funds for this worthy organization. In addition to the regular canvassing,

Billy Graham Movie Coming To Baptist Church

"The Restless Ones," considered the most successful motion picture yet produced by Evangelist Billy Graham, will be shown in Winters on October 27, at the First Baptist Church at 7:30 p. m.

With the accent on youth, this feature-length film deals imaginatively and dramatically with the teen-age crisis. With a background setting provided by the 1963 Billy Graham Los Angeles Crusade, and artfully woven into the story pattern, "The Restless Ones" is a hard-hitting, bold approach to our social problems.

Here is a film which dares to be different, a story which will stir the heart and mind. Having seen "The Restless Ones," you will never be the same.

As one reviewer said, "Here is a picture that tells the world the truth and comes up with an answer, not an easy answer, but an answer from beyond us." This answer will satisfy, challenge and inspire young and old alike and will appeal to churchgoers and non-churchgoers. The Christian message comes thru in the midst of a realistic teen-age situation, cleanly and without cloying. Swift-moving plot episodes highlight the opportunities facing the church.

Screen writer James Collier has skillfully brought into focus the contemporary plight of both teen-agers and parents. A sensitive script, produced by World Wide Pictures under the direction of Dick Ross, has resulted in a "break-through" in "The Restless Ones."

Case Field Day Scheduled For Wednesday, 22nd

Winters and Runnels County farmers and their families will get their first look at a completely new line of Case "Agri King" tractors Wednesday afternoon, October 22, at a "Premiere of the '70s" and Field Day sponsored by Farm Equipment of Winters.

Location for the Field Day will be on South Highway 83, across the highway from the Fireside Restaurant.

New Case tractors include four models that have been under development for the past five years and reflect the most modern technical and human comfort engineering accomplishments in the farm equipment industry.

They were announced at a mammoth North American Dealer Congress during August in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, attended by E. E. Thormeyer of Farm Equipment, and over 2,000 other J. I. Case dealers. It was the largest show sponsored by Case that included the display and operation of over 350 tractors and construction equipment.

To be shown and demonstrated at the local Case "Premiere" will be a 5-plow Model 870, 6-plow Model 970 and 7-plow 1070.

The new tractors have a new Case-designed open chamber engine that has been designed for highly responsive power reaction, fast smooth operation, and low fuel consumption. The first engine to be officially tested has established an all-time fuel economy record for any tractor manufactured over 39 HP.

The new machines have an all-new Case designed 12-speed power shift transmission shifts with a smoothness that has not been available before in farm tractor power shift units. An 8-speed standard transmission is also available.

They also have a unique 17 1/2 square foot platform module that is mounted on rubber to isolate noise, vibration and heat. There is a choice of three deluxe seats with hydraulic shock absorber suspension and a new custom cab that is regarded as one of the most sound-proof cabs ever developed.

The new Agri King line also has power brakes, hydrostatic steering, an exclusive 50-gallon nylon fuel tank, tilt and telescopic steering wheel, and quick change 540-1000 RPM PTO.

Guests to the local Premiere Field Day will have the opportunity to test ride the new tractors and an opportunity to participate for a door prize.

Lone Star Asks Rate Increase

Lone Star Gas has asked the City of Winters to increase local residential and commercial natural gas rates to enable the company to earn a reasonable rate of return on the fair value of properties used in rendering public service.

The application for rate increase, the first major request since 1953 based on an income deficiency in the Winters distribution system, listed increased cost of gas, higher property and equipment cost, increased wages and salaries, higher interest rates on borrowed money and increased taxes as primary reasons for the deficiency.

The company indicated that it had used every means available to avoid a request for rate increase, but inflationary pressures not under the company's control necessitated the application.

"Obviously our wish to keep gas rates now must be balanced with the economic pressures we face," Marshall Wharton, manager of the Winters distribution office, said. "These pressures can no longer be offset in any other way."

Approval of the company's application would increase the average monthly residential gas bill by approximately sixty-one cents.

Lone Star Gas serves approximately 1200 customers in Winters.

Chamber of Commerce Members To Elect Directors By Postcard Ballot

Members of the Winters Chamber of Commerce will, during the next two weeks, elect five new directors to succeed five whose terms expire January 1.

Postcard ballots, bearing the names of several candidates, will be sent to each member of the Chamber of Commerce within the next few days, according to Mrs. Emma Marks, secretary-manager of the organization. Members will be asked to vote for five persons; the five receiving the highest number of votes will be elected.

Chamber of Commerce members are asked to return the postcard ballots immediately so that the votes can be tabulated and the new directors announced at the next regular meeting of the board, November 4.

The list of candidates on the postcard ballot will include Carroll Tatom, Gayland Robinson, George R. Hill, M. D. (Doc) Johnston, Mrs. J. W. Bahlman, H. M. (Jiggs) Nichols, Walker Tatum, Doyle Pumphrey, and LaDell Davis.

These seminars are sponsored by the Abilene Research Unit, a division of the Abilene Chiropractic Association, which is the local branch of the Texas State Chiropractic Association. Dr. R. L. Hobbs of Abilene is the chairman.

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Communist China is now celebrating its 20th Anniversary under the totalitarian rule of Mao Tse-Tung.

China holds about one-fourth of all mankind or approximately 750 to 850 million people. It covers an area twice the size of the United States.

Throughout the centuries the potential of this vast land has been referred to as "the sleeping giant." During these same centuries China's neighbors have feared her awakening. In remote history the fear of marauding war-lords against their neighbors was well-founded. Genghis Khan set out to conquer all that remained in front of him.

Evidently the same mentality pervades the present Chinese rulers. It is made clear by their motto that "political power grows from the barrel of a gun." Lin Pao, the man who compares to our Secretary of Defense, has said that the way to Paris and the Western World is through Southeast Asia and Africa. This is the China which foments revolutions, threatens the territory of her neighbors, even that of its fellow communist, Soviet Russia, and who says its power shall some day dominate the world. She refuses all overtures of peace extended by other nations including fellow communists. (Reports during the past few days indicate some agreement for talks between China and Russia on their border dispute but just how significant it may be is not presently known.)

Although still a fragmented country by standards of the Western World, knowledgeable statesmen everywhere have for years viewed the Chinese as a dilemma without penetrable understanding. Some have been inclined to look at the country as barely civilized. Her handicaps can be counted by the score—the many clans and groupings who are strangers to one another; the 150 different dialects; numerous and varied religions; the untold multiplied thousands who have no idea of a national political system, including Communism; who have never been farther than an hour's walk from where they, their parents and grandparents were born; have never seen a doctor and whose main interest is where they can find food from day to day.

The Great Wall of China was to keep enemies out. The impenetrable wall around the ordinary people of this land is far more formidable against contact from people of other countries who might tell them what their nation could accomplish without the yoke of totalitarian communism around their neck. It is difficult enough to get any sort of convincing message of this kind to communist nations in Eastern Europe where, by comparison the opportunity is much greater. In such a diverse country as mainland China, with barriers in language and communications, it appears impossible. The refusal of the communist hierarchy to respond in any way except belligerently, completes the dilemma for people who hope for a future of peace. Teeming millions of Chinese people probably never heard of nuclear weapons but a hydrogen

HEALTH COLUMN

The week of October 19-25 is this year's date for "Cleaner Air Week."

Not too impressed with this fact? Perhaps not, since there are hundreds of special "weeks" being proclaimed over the country.

But this particular week should have more than a little significance to everyone who breathes. That doesn't miss many, does it?

Clean air, once regarded as a guaranteed part of our American heritage, is becoming a priceless possession as Texans move more and more into the cities and as industrial progress feeds its byproducts into our atmosphere.

Air pollution is a serious and difficult problem, affecting everybody every day. When air pollution becomes severe it triggers illness which may produce premature death for thousands of people, says the Texas State Department of Health.

In extreme circumstances, such as smogs which have crippled activity in such locales as New York City and London, choking death has come quickly to its victims—4,000 in four days alone in London in 1952, for instance!

This problem doesn't occur just in "other places." It's a peak, potentially deadly threat to the lives of us all. During the special week, Texas focuses on the problem of pollution. Air pollution causes, its consequences and cures will be brought before the public.

Pollution has been a part of our society from the very beginning, but it has become concentrated now to such a degree that we can no longer live with it.

It has become traced as a definite contributor to such health problems as emphysema, bronchitis, lung cancer, colds, pneumonia and bronchial asthma.

The economic loss from air pollution has been estimated at more the $60 per year for each man, woman and child. Crop damage, corrosion, cleaning bills, wasted fuel, accidents from reduced visibility—these known effects keep mounting.

Air pollution is a "mix" — compounded from exhausts of millions of automobile emissions from power plants and industries, effluent from incinerators and heating plants, smoke from backyard trash fires and municipal rubbish dumps.

Nor is all visible to the eye. Toxic fumes pour forth from other sources into the limited ribbon of air which surrounds the earth.

To meet our challenge, the Clean Air Act of Texas was passed by the Legislature in 1965. A Texas Air Control Board was created the following year.

The Air Control Board, in carrying out its air control program, has the authority to file law suits and seek injunctions against offenders of its regulations.

The easiest way to sell that "white elephant" of yours is to advertise it in The Winters Enterprise Classified Column.

CAPABLE

TIPS for OUTDOORSMEN

Accidental mixing of cartridges is the most common cause of gun blowups.

Usually, this happens when a hunter grabs a handful of hulls and crams them in his pocket without looking. If he is shooting a 12 or 16-gauge shotgun and slips in a 20-gauge shell, he's headed for trouble.

Some hunters who are affluent enough to own two guns of different gauges long have recognized this. They have been buying different brands or at least checking over their supply of cartridges before going afield.

If you load your gun slowly, you can tell by the feel whether it is a 12 or 20-gauge. But if you are on a pass, shooting doves or ducks, lots of times you'll reload without ever giving a thought to fingering the shell for size.

Although ammunition makers long have recognized this hazard and printed notices on their boxes, it remained for Federal to really pioneer in the field of coloring.

You can immediately distinguish the gauge of the shell by its color. For instance, the 12 gauge in all load now a deep purple. There is no mistaking it.

The 16 gauge is loaded in a bright yellow case; the 20 is a deep red.

Thus a shooter can tell at a glance whether his shells are mixed. Perhaps others in the industry will follow a similar plan.

Many reloaders have been doing this for a long time. Some of them swap among themselves getting all empties in the same color for each of the three gauges.

Reloading also has picked up immeasurably since the major manufacturers have started selling components.

For a long time reloading was practiced only by a few who did a lot of shooting. Now there are reloading clubs. Three or four men will get together and buy first class automatic equipment. None of the individuals may have the necessary cash to buy the more expensive equipment. But jointly they can.

With the automatic equipment they are assured of both speed and safety. When the reload is set up, it will decap, size, insert the new primer and add the uniform powder and shot charges according to the measuring bar and every shell then will be crimped with a uniform load.

Shooters feel, even with amortizing their equipment, they can save upwards of 50 percent on the price of a box of shells. This, of course, is provided they are able to get their empties without cost, or at a minimum of one cent each.

Getting empties today, however, isn't as easy as it used to be. So many shooters are saving them. This is especially true around the ranges.

Where shooters congregate in certain places, like the white wing hunt in the Lower Valley, there is competition for the empties. If a shooter doesn't want them himself, the man standing next to him probably will pick them up. And if not, small boys follow behind the shooters, gather up the empties and sell them for $1 per hundred.

It also is possible to buy empties from the manufacturers. However, this increases the price somewhat, and lowers the saving on reloading.

But at the same time, the major manufacturers are assisting in holding down the prices of other components.

For many years shot, powder and primers were not readily available in many places. They were produced by a few smaller companies, or perhaps bought wholesale from the majors and resold.

Now you not only can get components produced by the two big companies—Winchester and Remington—but from many others.

And there is a wide choice of reloading equipment available at prices ranging from $9 up.

One of the highlights of any hunting trip is eating the game after the kill. Yet much wild game goes to waste because it isn't prepared correctly.

Most people simply fry wild game. Actually, while frying is all right, it is one of the worst ways of preparation. Wild game is dry and frying only removes the natural juices.

Most wild game is best prepared where the otherwise lost juices are retained and used to best advantage. This certainly is true of small game like cottontail rabbits and squirrels.

Contrary to what you might have heard, cottontail rabbit is delicious. Some people are reluctant to eat rabbit because of the stories they've heard about various diseases that a rabbit may carry. But the danger is nil. Cooking removes germs. A cooked cottontail is as safe as any wild game.

HOLD EVERYTHING, and these inside-out rubber arms enveloping Judy Evans, Pittsburgh research engineer, look as if they might be able to. Normally, they extend into a decontaminated chamber to permit handling of liquid sodium.

A so-called "gypsy rabbit" is delicious. Here's the recipe:

Skin and clean a cottontail and cut into chunks. Place a kettle with an ordinary bouquet garni composed of one large bay leaf, three sprigs of thyme and two whole cloves, all tied together with kitchen thread, and five medium-sized onions minced, chicken fat the size of a small egg, six crushed peppercorns, and salt to taste.

Cover with equal parts of water and red wine, bring to a rapid boil, lower the flame and let simmer very gently for 2½ hours without disturbing. Then add 1½ cups diced carrots, 12 small white onions, 12 small fresh mushroom caps, peeled, and 18 small raw potato balls. Continue cooking, covered, until the vegetables are tender, or about 25 minutes longer. Remove the bouquet garni and thicken the mixture with two tablespoons kneaded butter (equal parts butter and flour kneaded together), adding one generous tablespoon finely minced parsley. Continue simmering for four or five minutes, then bring to a full boil and add dumplings.

One of the most popular recipe for squirrel in Brunswick stew. Take two or three squirrels and cut into quarters. Other ingredients are one quart tomatoes, one pint butter or lima beans, one pint corn, six potatoes parboiled and sliced, one-half pound butter, one-half pound fat salt pork, one-half teaspoon black pepper, one-half teaspoon Cayenne, one tablespoon salt, two tablespoons sugar, and one small onion minced.

Lone Star Gas Announces Deep Test in Hemphill Co.

Lone Star Producing Co., a subsidiary of Lone Star Gas Co., has announced plans to enter the deep portion of the Anadarko Basin as an operator with a 20,300 foot test of the Hunton limestone formation in Hemphill County. Designated the Puryear No. 1, the well will be located approximately three quarters of a mile south of Gulf Oil Company's recently completed Helton No. 1 which reportedly potentialized 2.75 billion cubic feet of gas per day. Lone Star owns 100 percent lease interest in the tract on which the well will be drilled.

Coral Drilling Co., contractor for the test, presently is rigging up to begin drilling operations. Lone Star Producing Co. has drilled and completed several oil and gas wells in the shallow parts of the basin to depths of 10,000 feet.

AUSTIN—More than 100 "fraternal organizations" are being requested by Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. to swear that they are in fact fraternal organizations and not just "private clubs."

He says applications are coming in from "fraternities" that evidently are "private clubs" and if they are approved it will make a mockery of the five cent per drink requirements set by the Legislature on private clubs.

Texas Law provides that fraternal organizations are exempt from franchise taxes.

Among the "fraternal organizations" presently being asked to confirm their status are the Benevolent Order of the Impala of Texas, Club L'Amour Fraternal Association, Inc., the Fraternal Order of Moon Maidens, the Fraternal Order of Dart Players and the Fraternal Order for the Preservation and Restoration of Burlesque.

If an organization refuses to answer the questionnaire within 30 days, it faces dissolution. Answering the questions falsely means possible perjury charges.

WELFARE BENEFITS According to Welfare Commissioner Burton Hackney, 509 Texas families may be affected by a San Antonio Federal Court ruling requiring the State Department of Public Welfare to pay retroactive welfare benefits not paid since March under the now defunct one-year residency requirement.

Hackney said that if the department had to pay off all the back benefits, it would average about $75 a recipient per month for that six month period. And, if all applicants on the list were qualified, this would exceed $250,000. However, he stressed that some of the applicants would be disqualified for other reasons. He said no appeal of the decision was being planned.

Also, Hackney has asked the Texas Medical Association to help his department settle questions of "misuse" or "overutilization" of Medicaid services and benefits.

USED CAR WARNING Texas automobile buyers have been warned against purchasing so-called "bargain" autos now being offered for sale in South and East Texas.

H. C. Pittman, executive vice-president of the Texas Automotive Dealers Association, says many of these cars were "severely damaged by salt water submergence during the frightful ravages of Hurricane Camille in Mississippi and neighboring states" in August.

"This same sort of fraud on the car-buying public occurs following almost every hurricane in the Gulf Coast area," he pointed out, urging used car buyers to check the bill of sale to determine the origin of the vehicles.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES An employee of a county or hospital district does not have to be a resident of the county, the district, or even the state, says Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin, in a new opinion.

In other recent expressions Martin held that: —Condemnor in a condemnation case should pay the initial court-cost-deposit when objections are filed by either party to a special commission award. He may recover if the county court judgment is for the same or a lesser amount of damages than offered before proceedings commenced.

—Valley cable TV company which sponsors a bingo-type game over its facilities is not engaged in a forbidden lottery. —Changes in an individual holding of a wine and beer "on premises" license must be reflected on the license or permit, showing name and photograph.

COURTS SPEAK A Supreme Court hearing has been set for November 26 on Mobil Oil Corporation's suit to get back $386,893 in gas production taxes paid under protest since 1966.

Same court has held that Wilson Radio Dispatch, with offices in McAllen, Brownsville, Harlingen and Rincon Camp, owes the state more than $10,000 in back taxes from its car-telephone service.

A decision by the Corpus Christi board of adjustment to allow radio station KCCT to build a transmitter in a residential area was upheld by the high court.

Post Office Urges Early Xmas Mailing

The Post Office is urging early mailing of parcels which are sent to Armed Force personnel overseas for Christmas, Winters Postmaster H. M. Nichols said this week. If Christmas parcels are sent later than deadline dates, they probably will not arrive in time for the holidays, he said.

The following periods have been designated for mailing Christmas parcels to members of the Armed Forces overseas: —Surface transportation, October 13 to November 8.

—SAM (Space Available Parcel Airlift), October 20 to November 22. SAM packages pay parcel post rate to the U. S. Port City, by rail or truck, then airlifted overseas as space is available. Parcels up to five pounds in weight and 60 inches in combined length and girth accepted.

—PAL, October 27 to November 29. Regular parcel post rate to the U. S. Port city plus a flat charge of $1.00 for air mail service from your city to overseas base. Packages up to 20 pounds in weight and 60 inches in combined length and girth accepted.

—Airmail, December 1 to December 13.

The term "Armed Forces Overseas" includes personnel of all the Armed Forces, members of their families, and U. S. civilians employed overseas who receive their mail through an APO or FPO.

Particular care should be taken in preparing parcels for shipment overseas, Postmaster

Nichols said. All articles should be packed in boxes of wood, metal, solid fiberboard, or strong double faced corrugated fiber board. Sufficient cushioning material should be used to prevent any rattling or loosening of articles in the package. Unless tightly filled, boxes are likely to be crushed, it was warned.

Postmaster Nichols also reminded that a slip showing list of contents and name and address of sender and addressee should be enclosed in the parcel. This is to make certain the parcel is delivered if the outside label should be lost, he said.

The postmaster also reminded mailers that packages cannot be mailed without ZIP codes. If the ZIP code is not known, a postal employee will be glad to assist the mailer in getting it, he said.

Crop Reports
Are Needed
From Farmers

During the last half of October, some 35,000 Texas farmers and ranchers will receive a crop questionnaire from Gary Palmer, State Statistician for the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin, according to Woodrow Hoffman, chairman of the Runnels County Technical Action Panel. This is a joint endeavor of the Texas Department of Agriculture and the Statistical Reporting Service, USDA, to provide a program of county estimates for Texas crops.

There are 254 counties in Texas and each farmer in each county is an important part of the State's agriculture. Reports are needed from farmers receiving questionnaires to provide accurate estimates for Texas crops.

We urge each farmer to fill out his questionnaire carefully and return it promptly in the self-addressed envelope to the Agricultural Statistician, Hoffman said. This will do much to provide the accurate data needed for the state.

Hoffman said, "County data bulletins for 1968 are now available by writing the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Box 70, Austin, or by writing John C. White, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, Post Office Drawer BB, Capital Station, Austin, Texas."

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

A CURRENT VIEW OF SILVER STOCKS

Wellesley Hills, Mass.—The downturn in the price of silver—which has declined sharply since mid-1968—appears to be flattening out. Although it is unlikely that quotes will move significantly higher over the near term (unless there are renewed upheavals in the international monetary scene and/or passage of the proposed bill to mint an Eisenhower silver dollar), future supply and demand factors strongly indicate that the price of silver could move considerably higher over the longer term.

Dwindling Stockpile

Because the amount of silver consumed for industrial usage far exceeds new production, there is an annual production-consumption gap. Domestically, this deficit amounted to more than 100 million ounces last year and was met primarily by the sale of U. S. Treasury silver stocks. This supply of silver, however, is limited and is expected to be exhausted by early 1971. Although there are other sources of above-ground silver (which include speculative holdings, sizeable quantities in India and the Near Eastern countries, and silver coins), it is probable that a substantially higher price level than that which currently exists will be necessary to disclose these supplies in any quantity.

Consequently, once the Treasury's stock is seen to be near depletion, it appears likely that silver prices will move significantly higher. Also, since silver is regarded as an attractive hedge commodity against possible currency devaluation, the metal's outlook is further enhanced.

Investment Opportunities

The Research Staff of Babson's Reports feels that both Sunshine Mining and Hecla Mining (two important domestic silver producers) offer investors an excellent opportunity to participate in the bright outlook for silver. Purchase of the common stocks of both companies is recommended for investors looking for longer-term capital gains. Investors seeking current income with the possibility of capital appreciation should consider Sunshine Mining Company's Convertible Deb. 6 1/2% 1989.

Sunshine Mining Company

One of the leading domestic silver producers, Sunshine Mining Company operates the largest U. S. silver mine and owns about 57 percent of output. Reserves at the beginning of this year amounted to about 1 million tons, of which the company's share was slightly over 600 thousand tons. Sunshine recently announced a substantial ore strike in the eastern portion of the mine. Although the company is now involved in a number of other activities, silver production is being expanded and still accounts for the greatest part of earnings. Both sales and earnings have grown substantially in recent year. While the upward trend in profits may be temporarily interrupted in the current year (due to the reduced first-half results), the future earnings outlook is good.

Hecla Mining Company

Hecla Mining is a major U. S. silver producer. Mine production also includes lead, some gold, zinc, and other base metals. The company has undertaken a rather substantial exploration program in the Western U. S. and Canada, and arrangements have been worked

LATEST TARGETS of muckraking articles in national magazines are Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., (left) and San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto. One national publication charges that Thurmond was paid more than twice as much as neighboring property owners by South Carolina for land condemned for highway construction. Another national magazine alleges that Alioto is involved with the Mafia. Thurmond called the charge against him "just another in a series of attempted liberal smears." Alioto called the allegations against him "a pack of lies."

Parks & Wildlife Commission Sets Quail Season

Austin—The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission in a regular quarterly meeting here last week set quail hunting seasons and bag limits for 207 counties under regulatory authority of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Basically, the hunting seasons and bag limits will remain the same as last year except in the 67 counties in the Permian Basin and Possum Kingdom Regulatory District where the season will continue an extra 15 days through February 15, 1970. Last year's season ended on January 31.

Quail seasons and bag limits by regulatory district are as follows:
Permian Basin Regulatory District: Andrews, Borden, Cochran, Coke, Crosby, Dawson, Ector, Fisher, Gaines, Garza, Glasscock, Haskell, Hockley, Howard, Irion, Jones, Kent, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Midland, Mitchell, Nolan, Reagan, Runnels, Scurry, Sterling, Stone-wall, Taylor, Terry, Tom Green, Upton, Ward and Yoakum Counties. Quail season will be Nov. 8 through February 15 with a daily bag limit of 12 and a possession limit of 36. Seasons and bag limits in Coke and Reagan counties will not become effective until approved by the County Commissioner's Court.

Possum Kingdom Regulatory District: Archer, Baylor, Bosque, Brown, Callahan, Clay, Coleman, Comanche, Cooke, Dallas, Denton, Eastland, Ellis, Erath, Hamilton, Hill, Hood, Jack, Johnson, Mills, Montague, Palo Pinto, Parker, Shackelford, Sumervell, Stephens, Tarrant, Throckmorton, Wichita, Wilbarger, Wise and Young Counties. Proposed quail season will be Nov. 8 through Feb. 15 with a bag limit of 12 per day and 36 in possession.

Hecla has a 35 percent equity interest in Granduc Mines. Copper property owned by Granduc is leased to American Smelting and Newmont Mining for development. Output of 42,500 tons of copper is planned by 1970. Looking still further ahead, the company is well positioned to benefit from the expected uptrend in silver prices over the longer term. The common stock, down considerably from its 1968 high, now appears to be an attractive commitment for investors seeking longer-term appreciation.

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

Thousands of times a day, in these United States, there is sure to be a meeting of some sort going on, and wherever there is a meeting, someone is likely taking or reading the "minutes."

Just what do we mean by the "minutes"? It surely does not apply to clocks or to time. In order to understand how this expression came about, we must look at the other pronunciation of "minute," which means very small or little.

When a secretary takes notes at a meeting, she must do it by writing in shorthand or by abbreviating words with little or very small writing.

This minute writing that is transcribed and read at the next meeting is the "minutes."

Mrs. Juanita O'Connor's Weekly Home Demonstration Agent's Column

Latin America's gift to the world table—the potato—had a hard time winning acceptance.

At various times it was thought to cause leprosy, tuberculosis and rickets. Since it wasn't mentioned in the Bible, the Scotch at first considered the potato sinful.

It took two determined potato champions to put it across in continental Europe. In Germany Frederick the Great used a hard-sell approach when he sent seed potatoes to farmers, accompanied by soldiers to force them to plant them. This vigorous campaign, aided by a food shortage during the Seven Years War, finally succeeded in popularizing the potato in Germany.

About the same time, a Frenchman named Parmentier tasted potatoes during a stint as a prisoner of war in Germany. He returned to France a confirmed potato eater, launching a more subtle public relations program. Parmentier persuaded the King of France that potatoes were worth sponsoring. Among the reported features of Parmentier's campaign were an all-potato dinner attended by celebrities and a potato-flower boutonniere worn by the King himself.

Baked potatoes are a fall favorite. They practically cook themselves. Just scrub well with a brush so that the vitamin-containing skins may be eaten too. Prick them a time or two with a fork so they won't explode in the oven. Pop them in a 425 degree oven and bake until they feel soft when pressed, about an hour for a medium-size potato. Or if you're cooking them along with other foods in the oven, using a lower temperature, allow extra time for the potatoes.

King Crab Potato Salad: 6 strips bacon, 1-2 cup chopped onion, 1 cup chopped celery, 1-2 chopped green pepper, 6 cups cooked white potatoes cut in small dice, 1 dill pickle, chopped 2 T. chopped parsley, 6 hard cooked eggs, sliced, 2 6 oz. pkg. frozen Alaska King crab meat, defrosted, drained, 1 cup of French dressing, 1-2 to 2 tsp.

curry powder, as desired, 1 T. tomato paste, 1 tsp. sugar, 1 cup sour cream.

Let bacon cook over low heat in a low heat in a large skillet until crisp. If done on the grill, place pan four inches from source of heat. Set bacon aside on paper towel to drain. Add onion, celery, green pepper to the hot fat in the pan, saute until onion is tender. Add potatoes, pickle, parsley and crab. Fork together carefully to mix without crushing. Mix French dressing with curry powder, tomato paste and sugar and fork into the vegetable mixture.

Just before serving, add sour cream and serve sprinkled with the crumbled crisp bacon and garnished with sliced, hard-cooked eggs. When desired, this may be made (up to the point of adding the sour cream) well ahead of time. Allow plenty of time for it to heat thoroughly at meal time. Mix in the sour cream and add garnishing just before serving. A sprinkle of cut up fresh tarragon also makes a nice addition.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

On the bulletin board in the office of a large Texas firm is a huge chart. It shows the vacation schedule of each employee. Also the route each will follow on his or her vacation.

In nearly every instance each employee had specified where he would be spending the night. In addition, each gave a description of his or her automobile, its color, make, model, year and license number.

"So far it has never been necessary to make an emergency contact with any of our vacationing employees," said the office manager. "However, if an emergency ever arises, we can easily get in touch with any person."

Isn't this a god practice for anyone to follow who travels? This, whether he is a salesman, hunter, a fisherman or just vacationing?

Much contacting trouble can be eliminated by the simple process of keeping your automobile description and license number on file in your office or with someone who may need to contact you.

A friend of mine, who travels a great deal, files what he calls his "flight plan." He makes three copies of his itinerary. One he leaves with his secretary, the other with his wife and the third with the girl at the office switchboard. Thus he has a three-way assurance of being reached in case of an emergency.

There are all kinds of safety precautions which may prevent a serious accident, either in your car on the water.

As a result of hurry, each year several hundred motorists fail to make it home in one piece. Tragedy is even greater when we start out for pleasure and end up with a serious accident. It mars forever the joy we might have had. All the precautions we take may never be enough. But if one life is spared . . . some misery is prevented . . . it's well worth the effort to exercise care.

These same practices should be employed by the boater.

Every person who goes out in a boat should have an efficient life preserver. It shouldn't be just a makeshift, something merely to comply with the law. It should be a life preserver that will work under the most difficult conditions.

Just a seat cushion is all right for the person who is a good swimmer . . . if he can take it with him when he goes overboard (which is seldom possible) . . . or there's someone to toss it to him when he hits the water. But a cushion is inadequate for most women and children and quite a few men. Few know how to use them.

Even a ski-belt would be better.

The standard, round-like-a-doughnut, life preserver, with rope attached, is much better. A body fitting life preserver is much, much safer, especially when going out over open waters.

In fact, such a preserver just could be the most important item aboard the boat.

Outdoors people also should take along a first-aid kit. There are many times when a small amount of antiseptic, a simple bandaid or a piece of gauze comes in mighty handy.

One of my friends always carries with him a pair of tweezers. In hunting and fishing he soon learned that it is easy to back into cacti and get a seat filled with thorns. His tweezers have paid off more than once, especially for some of his guests.

All of these things are important safety factors when going outdoors. It might be well for you to do a little checking and make some provisions for your own safety and convenience.

Provisions Of Gun Law Defined By IRS Official

"The Gun Control Act of 1968 was passed by Congress to help Federal, State and local law enforcement officials in their fight against crime and violence," Carl Booth, IRS Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Chief Special Investigator for Texas said in Dallas, adding that it was in no way intended to hinder the activities of hunters and sportsmen.

As an example, Booth said hunters and sportsmen can purchase ammunition in any state, and likewise can carry their own firearms across a state line as long as they are not convicted felons, or under indictment for a felony; fugitives from justice; unlawful users of drugs; or mental incompetents.

Further, Booth said hunters, sportsmen, competitive shooters, or anyone legally using a gun in a state other than his home state can acquire another firearm if his rifle or shotgun is lost, stolen, or becomes inoperative.

He said the law requires only that the buyer in these circumstances make out an affidavit for the dealer's records, and provide the dealer with the title of the chief law enforcement officer in the locality where he lives.

If this column upset you, it was entirely intentional. Just hope it makes you a bit more careful whether m'oring on the highway or boating on the water.

Tax Man Sam Sez: A CAREER IN TAX WORK

If you are one of the more than 100,000 freshmen or sophomores in college this fall—or even if you are one of the several hundred thousand seniors in high school—you probably have not chosen your career. You may want to consider the tax field. There are many interesting specialties. More than 450,000 professional accountants, including 13,000 in the Internal Revenue Service, work in the tax field. Many thousands of lawyers specialize in tax work exclusively. Other attorneys usually devote a part of their practice to the professionally qualified practitioners that spend their full time preparing tax work.

This group of an estimated one million people who spend full time in technical tax work are supported by a large group of stenographers, typists, bookkeepers and others that earn their living from determining how much tax their clients owe to the Federal, state and local governments.

Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue, often tells young men and women that he feels after 37 years of working in the tax field that there is no other work as interesting. He says, "When you become an Internal Revenue Agent, first you go to the IRS school, then you go out and call on the president of the company."

BILLS

Governor Smith has sent Sen. Mike McKool's voter registration bill to the Secretary of State without his signature, thereby allowing it to become law. It requires that all citizens registering to vote in person must fill out a written application containing the same information as the registration certificate in order to get a certificate.

Governor vetoed a bill that would have allowed legislators to have office space in their home county courthouses. He said office rental could be provided from legislators' expense allowance.

He also vetoed bills providing for insurance protection (through private, non-profit corporations) on bank deposits above $15,000.

Blizzards Lose Close Game To Hamlin, 3-2

The Winters Blizzards were booted out of their first district victory at Hamlin last Friday by a swift field goal in a game that was almost nil in scoring.

The Blizzards recovered a fumble on the Hamlin 17-yard line for their biggest offensive effort. Being unable to make a first down they gave the ball to the Pied Pipers on the 6-yard line.

With each team failing to move the ball against the other, there was a seessaw of four downs and a punt until the Blizzards pushed a Hamlin punter into the end zone for a safety in the second quarter.

This 2-point lead held until the fourth quarter when Pied Piper Leonard Johnson recovered a Winters fumble on the 34-yard line. Hamlin was unable to go past the 5 but Duane Stewart gave the Pied Pipers 3 points by kicking a field goal.

Even though the Blizzards showed great improvement all through the game they failed to overcome Hamlin's 1-point lead and went down 3-2 for their second district loss.

AROUND THE 7-AA FOOTBALL LOOP

District standings underwent only a slight change as a result of last Friday night's ball games over District 7-AA. Three teams wrapped up their second wins, Haskell, Ballinger and Hamlin, to stay in the undefeated column. One team, Stamford, entered the win column, and Anson dropped to the loss bracket for the 1-1 listing. Coleman, Merkel and Winters remained in the loss column.

One of the strangest scores to be seen on a football scoreboard and one which seldom shows up in schoolboy football was the 3-2 Hamlin win over Winters. In that game, which was a defensive contest to the wire, Winters chalked up a safety in the second quarter when a snap from center on a Hamlin punt attempt rolled out of the end zone. The scoreboard read 2-0 Winters until Hamlin kicked a 23-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter to win the contest.

Haskell did the expected Friday night, downing Merkel 47-6, at Haskell. This win kept the Indians in the 7-AA lead.

Ballinger also stayed in the win column with their 42-0 defeat of Anson. Nobody did anything in that game until the middle of the second, when the Bearcats crossed for 14. It was the same story during the third, with no scoring, then Ballinger went across and PAT'ed for 28.

Stamford outran Coleman easily Friday night, taking a 14-7 game at Coleman 44-7. According to stats, it was Stamford all the way, with the Bulldogs scoring in each period. Coleman got their lone TD and PAT in the second.

This week, Anson goes to Coleman, Ballinger hosts Hamlin, Haskell visits Winters, and Stamford hosts Merkel.

This is the last year, in all probability, the eight teams of District 7-AA will be in the same district. This is the year for the shuffles. Districts are being changed, with teams assigned to higher or lower classifications, and reassigned to other districts. The announcement of the changes and assignments probably will coincide with this publication, but information is not available at this writing.

Because of the many changes expected to be made in assignments, there is no guessing as to where any of the eight schools in District 7-AA will end up. Some may be assigned to a adjoining (present) district, while other schools in the area are elevated or lowered in classification and assigned to districts with present 7-AA members.
