New York School Boycott Grows

NEW YORK (AP) — White pupils again boycotted New York's public schools today, protesting a program of racially integrating classrooms by busing children away from their neighborhoods.

For the second and final day of the protest, parents returned to picket lines in greater numbers than before. Police said 2,352 persons marched at 194 schools.

Attendance figures were being compiled by school authorities with an anxious eye on possible loss in state aid exceeding $2 million.

OVER 250,000

Absenteeism Monday, the opening of a new academic year, was more than a quarter of a million children.

Isolated checks this morning indicated a substantial loss of attendance.

A Brooklyn school completely vacant Monday had only one pupil present today out of an enrollment of 398. At a Bronx school a milkman delivered only 75 cartons of milk for lunches, compared to the customary 480.

The demonstration against a pupil integration program was most effective in schools involved in the program and in schools that parents thought would be involved.

LAW VIOLATIONS

School board President James B. Donovan said he was in touch with law enforcement officials "to determine whether criminal violations of law have been committed."

Calvin E. Gross, superintendent of schools, warned that the city could lose $2.2 million in state aid if absenteeism today is the same as Monday.

"You've made your point," he told parents. "Let's get the students back to school."

Despite the boycott, the integration program was put into effect and many Negro children spent their first day in schools where whites were in the majority.

Many Negro mothers were enthusiastic. They spoke of their children "having a chance for a good education," or "learning to live with other people," or just "getting out of the slums for a while."

Absences in the million-pupil school system — largest in the nation — totaled 275,638. Normal absenteeism is 100,000.

Looking Ahead

Nine-months-old Stephen Szemcs lets his "Me Too" sign speak for him as he naps in his stroller on the picket line outside P.S. 149 in New York's Jackson Heights today. His sister, Susan, who is 3, displays her sign which explains she is picketing now so she won't have to be bused. The children are with their mother, Mrs. Robert Szemcs. (AP WIREPHOTO)

In schools directly affected, which have 13,000 pupils, absenteeism ranged from 18 to 65 per cent. Three schools not directly affected by the program reported that fewer than 10 per cent of the pupils showed up. One had no pupils.

Absenteeism was about 40 per cent at the eight elementary schools that were "paired" to achieve better racial balance. Nearby white and Negro schools have been merged into one school body using the two school buildings.

It was this part of the school board's integration program that drew the most fire from the virtually all-white parent groups sponsoring the boycott — the Parents and Taxpayers Coordinating Council and the Joint Council for Better Education.

Both say their objection is to anything that might damage the neighborhood-school concept. They are particularly opposed to the transporting of pupils by bus to schools outside their neighborhoods to improve racial balance in enrollments.

Mother Told Tots Drowned

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — "May God in heaven forgive him," Carolyn Adams, 20, murmured Monday on learning both her baby sons were drowned at the time she was maimed in a sex attack.

Because of her critical condition previously, word of the children's death had been withheld from the young mother.

Dist. Atty. Doug Crouch filed two complaints accusing Charles Roy Hefley Jr. of murder and one charging him with rape. The youth has given police signed statements that he raped Mrs. Adams and threw her children in the Trinity River last Thursday night.

A joint funeral service was held several hours earlier for the boys — Dickie, 2½, and David, 1.

Relatives were at the bedside of Mrs. Adams as a doctor told her about the children. One foot was nearly amputated and physicians report she lost vision in her left eye from a savage beating and knife attack. She was stabbed 14 times.

Crouch said young Hefley once told police he was 17, the minimum age at which a teenager can be tried for murder in Texas, and if that's the case the state will seek the death penalty.

If he was only 16 at the time and is tried after his 17th birthday, the maximum penalty is life in prison.

Charles R. Hefley Sr., father of the youth, visited him at the county jail Monday night and told a reporter his son is mentally ill. He said Hefley is 16.

The prisoner's mother and stepfather visited him earlier, along with a minister.

Oil Production Shows Increase

TULSA (AP) — U. S. oil production increased last week for the fifth straight week, with higher allowables in Texas and Louisiana contributing to the latest rise, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Another Dallas Bank Heisted

DALLAS (AP) — A curly-haired bandit held up the Lakewood State Bank here Monday, escaped with $15,000 and was nabbed by police with his loot a short time later.

Police filed bank robbery charges against John McCormick, 26, of Rochester, N.Y. He was armed and had $15,000 when caught, officers said.

James Berry, a bank customer, saw the robbery in progress as a man took money at gunpoint from Jim Rohrback, a teller.

Draft Study Begins; Could End System

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government plans to analyze Selective Service histories of possibly 290,000 men as part of a massive study that could lead to a halt in the military draft.

Officials told The Associated Press today that Pentagon experts conducting the draft studies for President Johnson have asked the Selective Service System to take a 1 per cent sample of the records of all men in the draft pool.

This involves men between 18½ and 35. Selective Service headquarters said there are about 29 million men in that pool.

WITHIN POOL

The purpose of the sample, authorities explained, will be to "get a more definitive view of the status of people within the pool," from which men are called for induction.

Among other things, the sample will seek to find out to what extent men have moved from one deferred classification to another, thus avoiding induction.

Men being drafted these days average about 22 years old. Roughly 100,000 men a year are inducted, all of them going into the Army.

A little-noticed request to Congress calls for $375,000 to finance the sampling job this fiscal year.

ATTITUDES

In another phase of the Johnson-ordered study, it was learned, the Census Bureau will make a special effort in its monthly survey of households to determine the attitude of young men toward military service.

This, too, is to be done at the request of authorities conducting the draft study.

About 300,000 households are likely to be touched by the Census Bureau survey, officials said today.

The draft study was ordered by Johnson last April. He said at the time it will consider alternatives, including "the possibility of meeting our requirements on an entirely voluntary basis in the next decade."

Greeks Lift Food Block

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — U.N. officials said today President Makarios has agreed to lift the economic blockade of Turkish Cypriot communities on Cyprus some time this week.

Makarios reportedly relented under heavy pressure from Galo Plaza, U.N. chief representative on Cyprus, and Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, commander of the peace force.

U.N. officials have warned Makarios ever since he imposed the blockade early last month that cutting food supplies to the Turkish Cypriots might bring armed action from Turkey.

Turkey announced last week it would break the blockade by using a naval-air convoy to ship food to the hard-pressed village of Kokkina, on the northwest coast. Makarios' regime demandos attacked a ship Sunday night could not be confirmed.

Vatican, Hungary Again At Peace

SUCCESS FOR CARDINAL MINDSZENTY
Agreement believed to pave way for transfer

Mindszenty Due To Be Released

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican and Communist Hungary signed an accord today giving the Vatican at least partial administrative authority over the Church in that country for the first time in 15 years. It paved the way also for the eventual transfer of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty to Rome.

Within minutes after the announcement, the Vatican Press Office said Pope Paul VI had named five new bishops and confirmed one selection by Pope John XXIII but never approved by Hungary.

NEW BISHOPS

Vatican officials said the timing indicated the appointment of the new bishops was part of the accord, and that Budapest had approved their nomination.

The Vatican has had no administrative direction over the Church in Hungary since the conviction of Cardinal Mindszenty on charges of treason 15 years ago.

But the status of the cardinal was left unsettled in the new accord, and Vatican sources stressed that he remained in refuge in the U.S. Legation in Budapest.

He took refuge there during the abortive Hungarian revolt of 1956.

The partial accord was regarded as a major step forward in relations between the church of Hungary, and could effect relations between the Church and other Communist countries, as well as between Washington and Budapest.

NEGOTIATIONS

The fate of the 72-year-old cardinal has figured in negotiations between the Church and the Communist regime, and also in talks between Washington and Budapest.

The trial of the cardinal in 1949 was a sensational one. He made a confession, but during his few days of freedom in 1956 he told an interviewer he had been tortured before the trial.

A fiercely proud man, the cardinal has shown no intention of obtaining freedom at the expense of either his dignity, or that of the Roman Catholic Church.

A communique in the Vatican's L'Osservatore Romano announced the accord. The statement said envoys of the Vatican and Hungary had discussed the entire question of Church-state relations.

It added that both sides agreed to a binding document spelling out results achieved thus far.

3 Ships Founder In Sea Disasters

By The Associated Press

Disasters on the high seas left three men dead, six injured, two freighters gutted by fire and another aground.

The three dead were from the Spanish freighter Sierra Aranzazu, last reported burning uncontrollably 50 miles off the eastern tip of Cuba.

Two of the sailors were dead when plucked from a life raft by the S.S. P.G. Thulin, a Netherlands vessel. The third died as the rescue ship raced for the Bahamas. Six other crewmen were injured.

There was some speculation the ship might have been sabotaged by Cuban exile groups fighting the Communist government of Fidel Castro.

Reports from exile sources in Panama that anti-Castro commandos attacked a ship Sunday night could not be confirmed.

Cause of the fire aboard the 1,600 ton Sierra Aranzazu, owned by the Companie Maritimo del Norte of Madrid, has not been determined. The ship reportedly was carrying a cargo of blankets, garlic and other produce from Spain to Havana.

The U.S. Coast Guard was attempting to remove nine men from the freighter Globe Explorer, disabled by a flash fire 360 miles southeast of New York.

Thirty-three crewmen were taken to New London, Conn., by the Coast Guard. Four crewmen and five Coast Guardmen remained aboard.

High seas caused by hurricane Dora hampered removal of the men, but they were reported in no immediate danger.

The Globe Explorer, out of Norfolk, Va., carried 20,000 tons of coal and was en route to Rotterdam. The fire occurred when fuel oil overflowed and ignited in the engine room. An attempt to tow the ship to port was to be made.

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — The commissioner's office at Mathew Town reported today the Spanish freighter Sierra Aranzazu "was supposedly machine-gunned by Cubans" before it burned Monday off the Cuban costs.

The report, from Commissioner Neville E. Bosfield, was received here by the chief out-island commissioner, D.H. Burrows.

The 20 crewmen of the freighter, two dead and another dying, were picked off a raft near the burning ship by the Dutch vessel S.S. P.G. Thulin and taken to Mathew Town on Inagua Island. Inagua is only 50 miles off Cuba.

Bosfield's report did not say whether the attackers were from the Cuban navy or were anti-Castro exiles on a raiding mission.

After the P.G. Thulin took the Spanish crewmen aboard, Bosfield said, the vessel was stopped by three of Fidel Castro's torpedo boats.

A boarding party demanded that the Spanish be taken to Cuba, Bosfield said, but the captain of the P.G. Thulin insisted upon carrying out the orders of the U.S. Coast Guard to proceed to Mathew Town.

Redistricting Voting Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate votes today on a legislative reapportionment compromise proposal.

Its acceptance would move the $3.3-billion foreign aid bill a step closer to passage and speed up the timetable for adjournment of Congress.

A battle over a proposal by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen — to force a delay of a year or more to Supreme Court-ordered reapportionment of seats in both houses of state legislatures on a population basis — has tied up the foreign aid bill for several weeks.

Dirksen offered the proposal as a rider to the foreign aid bill on the theory that President Johnson would not veto that measure. Dirksen's purpose is to gain time until Congress can submit and the states ratify a constitutional amendment nullifying the Supreme Court decision.

In an effort to break the stalemate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Johnson's vice presidential running mate, has moved into the picture by backing a "sense of the Congress" compromise first advanced by Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., and a group of senators supporting the Supreme Court decision have been conducting a talkathon against the Dirksen rider to prevent its adoption.

Up until Monday, the group was holding out against the "sense of the Congress" substitute until its sponsors agreed to accept modifying language the liberals proposed.

HCJC Signs 50 More

Registration at Howard County Junior College took a new spurt Monday with 50 signing for courses. This pushed the head count past the 800 mark.

Tuesday morning 803 had signed and paid for courses, which is 73 shy of the final head count for the fall semester last year. Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, was confident that there still would be a number more to sign before next Monday morning.

One interesting fact is that there are 47 more full-time students registered than a year ago, and the total semester load seems certain to be greater. The reason for a drop in head count is tightening regulations regarding pay for course work taken by men in service. However, many not now eligible for military assistance in college studies are signing on their own.

ARGENTINE PRESIDENT SAYS

Red Threat, Instability Decline In Latin America

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — President Arturo Illia, nearing his first anniversary in office, believes the threat of communism and political instability in Latin America is declining steadily.

"There is absolutely no doubt that communism has lost much of its appeal in this hemisphere," the president said in an interview.

Illia warned that some parts of Latin America remain "propitious ground" for insurrection, primarily because of the poor distribution of wealth.

RESOURCES

"We must seek to remove such threats by working for a better distribution of resources," he said.

Illia said the decision of all American republics except Mexico to break diplomatic relations with Cuba was a token of the increasing unity in the hemisphere.

The president said unity also has increased among the Argentine people, who have seen much political instability during the past 20 years.

ARTURO ILLIA
. . . better days ahead

TOGETHER

"The major purpose of my government has been to convince people of the necessity to work and live together," he added. "This program has been achieved in large measure."

In an apparent reference to reports that former dictator Juan D. Peron might try to return to Argentina from exile in Spain, Illia declared:

"Be assured that the basic principles on which the future of Argentina rests cannot be endangered by any man, whoever he may be."

Asked if Peron, who ruled Argentina from 1946 to 1955, could endanger the stability of the country, the president replied: "That is for him to say. My opinion is that he could not."

Illia declined to say whether Peron would be allowed to return.

SUFFERED LITTLE

Illia, 63, reportedly experienced several heart attacks prior to his inauguration last Oct. 12. He seems to have suffered little from the burdens of his office.

"My health is as good now as it was when I arrived," said Illia, who puffed an occasional cigarette.

Although Argentine officials have frequently criticized the Alliance for Progress, the president made no such complaint in discussing his hopes for economic development of Argentina.

A five-year plan embracing all aspects of the economy is nearing completion and will be submitted to alliance headquarters next month. It envisages economic aid of $400 million a year. A large share will come from the alliance, but Illia hopes many other nations will support the plan.

"We have fallen behind in economic development because we lacked in stability and continuity," the president said. "Now we are doing our best to make up for lost time."

Khanh's Unit Appears In Firm Control At Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Khanh and the generals who remained loyal to him appeared in firm control of Saigon today after failure of the weekend coup attempt.

Khanh's political future appeared to depend, however, on his acceding to demands of leading generals, including some leaders of the brief, bloodless rebellion.

The official Viet Nam news agency disclosed that 10 of these military leaders sent Khanh an ultimatum two days before Sunday's uprising. They demanded that the premier purge all "corrupt elements from the armed forces and civil administration" in the next two months.

The group also called for severe punishment of profiteers "who have exploited the people and strangled the national economy" rather than the usual government policy of sending such persons abroad. The generals insisted that Khanh crack down on persons in the government with Communist or neutralist leanings.

Among the signers was Maj. Gen. Duong Van Duc, who took over the coup attempt in its latter stage and then made peace with generals who remained loyal to Khanh.

There appeared to be only a hairline distinction in the thinking of the loyal and rebel groups who wound up uniting in support of Khanh.

The main bond of the rebel generals was that they had been shifted or expected to be in the shakeup Khanh ordered under pressure from Buddhists, the chief religious faction in South Viet Nam.

Khanh appeared to be avoiding public announcements that did not have approval of the leading generals. Several of them, including Duc, sat with the premier Monday when he told a news conference his government's chief goal was to destroy communism, colonialism and neutralism while building through democracy.

A splinter group of students distributed handbills today calling for an anti-American demonstration.

Movement of troops and armored vehicles around Saigon continued to spark rumors of still another coup, but they appeared unfounded.

PAIR ACCUSED OF INCITING PHILADELPHIA RIOTS

Negro Extremists Jailed For Inciting Philly Riot

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia police arrested two Negro men and sought a woman on charges of inciting the rioting and looting that burst on north Philadelphia's Negro area just over two weeks ago.

Arrested Monday night were Abbyssinia Hayes, 34, who is known as Shaykh Muhammad, and Raymond Hall, 25, also known as Yussuf Abdullah. Police described them as members of an extreme Negro separatist movement. They were charged with conspiracy to riot, inciting to riot, and rioting.

Also sought, on similar charges, was a woman identified as Florence Mobley.

All three are Philadelphians.

Deputy Police Commissioner Richard Edwards said there were no indications, at present, that the alleged riot instigators were representing any larger organization, or that they had anything to do with recent rioting in such other northern cities as New York, Brooklyn, Rochester, N.Y., and Paterson, N.J.

Hayes founder of the National Muslim Improvement Association of America, and Hall another of its leaders, were arrested outside their headquarters. It is only a block from the scene of an arrest on Aug. 28 that police say touched off two days of rioting and looting.

Edwards said the instigators created "mass excitement and hysteria, inducing people to do this terrible thing," for example, by the "spreading of falsehoods, that a woman was dead, or that a woman was beaten by the police . . . that sort of thing."

Asked whether only three persons could have incited riots on the scale seen in Philadelphia, Edwards said, "If the climate is right, yes."

Vote Today In Washington

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A record turnout of 810,000 voters was predicted in Washington State's primary election today, chiefly because of a contest for the Republican nomination for governor.

The race between Daniel J. Evans and Richard G. Christensen was considered so close that the outcome may not be known until an estimated 40,000 absentee ballots are counted.

Evans, 38, is a state representative and Republican House floor leader. Christensen, 34, a former Lutheran minister, entered politics two years ago and came within 45,000 votes of beating one of Washington's veteran Democratic senators, Warren Magnuson.

The winner of the Republican nomination will run against the incumbent Democratic governor, Albert D. Rosellini, 54, unless there is an unforeseen upset in the Democratic primary election. Rosellini is seeking his third term.

Other jobs at stake include one U.S. Senate seat, seven seats in the U.S. House, all nine state elective offices, 25 of the 49 seats in the state Senate, all 99 seats in the state House, four Supreme Court positions and all 76 Superior Court judgeships.

U.S. Sen. Henry Jackson is expected to win renomination easily in his race against two Democratic opponents.

Lloyd Andrews, former state school superintendent, has been most active among three Republicans seeking the senatorial nomination.

Clubber Tells Of 4-H Roundup

A Knott 4-H Club member, Linda Shaw, described her trip to the state 4-H Club roundup this summer to members of the Gay Hill 4-H Club Monday night. The roundup was at Texas A&M University.

Miss Shaw presented the monthly program for the Gay Hill Club, including directing songs and games. Refreshments were also served to the 22 persons present for the monthly meeting at Gay Hill school.

Cases Decline

HOUSTON (AP) — The number of suspected encephalitis cases dropped from 673 to 668 Monday. The dip came from elimination of 13 suspected cases and the addition of eight. There are 30 suspected deaths.

Clean Out Storage Areas For Winter

The approach of winter can provide home owners an opportunity to prevent possible fires while preparing heating equipment for seasonal use, Fire Marshal A. D. Meador pointed out this week.

"A thorough cleanout of old, unusable storage is especially needed in the fall, before the heating season starts," Meador reminded home owners. "One has to be a bit ruthless, but remember, a clean home seldom burns."

City fire department officials are preparing for the observance of fire prevention week, Oct. 4-10. Firemen will conduct business and some inspections and present special programs at city schools as part of the annual project.

Prime offenders as causes of fire are old newspapers and magazines, he said. These should be kept in paper cartons so they can be easily bundled for disposal.

The traditional spring housecleaning is also not enough to keep attics and other storage areas clear of fire causes.

"Even in the cleanest of homes, rubbish and trash will accumulate at times," he said. "It's a natural result of living."

"Rubbish and trash serve no useful purpose—they're merely fuel for a fire," Meador emphasized. "Since they are flammable, they should never be piled too close to a heated device such as a water heater or furnace. Fuel, air and heat are the three things needed to start a fire—remove any one of them and no fire can ever occur.

The best way to handle rubbish and trash is to remove them from the home at least weekly so they can be hauled away or otherwise disposed of. While accumulating during the week, they must be kept at a safe distance, at least several feet, from any heated device.

"Boxes, crates and old lumber are other offenders," Meador related. "Many home owners are 'do-it-yourselfers' in that they like to make things from wood. Yet this fine hobby should not be allowed to jeopardize the home."

"It takes little extra effort to keep this material in order, in neat piles or in boxes, away from heat," he said.

A tip to home owners was provided by Meador regarding winter heating.

"If you need quantities of kindling to start your solid-fuel furnace in cold weather, cut your kindling to usuable lengths in advance and store it neatly in a box, well away from the furnace," Meador pointed out. For one who is handy with tools, a good project is building adequate cupboard space where necessary storages can be neatly contained.

"It is a good plan to have a good-sized, covered metal drum to contain the trimmings, sawdust, cuttings and other waste that accumulates from workshop projects," Meador said. "Just be sure to empty it weekly."

Claims Import Controls Flop

FORT WORTH (AP) — The chief spokesman for 4,500 Texas independent oil operators said today the Interior Department's mandatory oil imports control program is an obvious failure.

E. Bruce Street of Graham, president of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association, said this failure and accompanying disillusionments, however, could be key ingredients to future successes.

"Failure of the program is so obvious almost no one can deny that unless the economic advantage of foreign oil is counteracted in some way, there will always be pressures strong enough to overwhelm all arguments in behalf of a strong domestic petroleum industry," he said.

Street made his remarks at the final session of the association's 18th meeting.

Also on the day's agenda was an imports policy committee report expected to call on President Lyndon B. Johnson for action to redesign the imports control program so it will meet its objectives.

29 PER CENT

The independents contend the program was designed to hold imports to a 12.2 per cent ratio to estimated domestic production but over-all imports in May were equivalent to 29 per cent of the United States' output.

"The central goal of the mandatory program, which by the decision of the Congress is to maintain the health of the domestic producing industry, has been repeatedly made subservient to other, far less vital considerations," Street said.

Minutes later Street relinquished the presidency of the association to another West Texas operator, Malcom Abel of Midland.

Abel accepted election to the office Monday, stating he will seek unity with other trade groups but will not permit flimsy side issues to divert the Texas group from its objectives.

"I am for unity and cooperation wherever possible but I do not intend to let periodic demands for industry unity or harmony prevent us from reaching our objectives," Abel said.

CRITICISM

This was an indirect reference to criticism the Texans have received from some members of the nationwide Independent Producers Association of America.

The Texans would prefer imports be controlled through use of a tariff or adoption of a quota-bidding system. The national group, with many Texans as members, prefers concentration of aggressive efforts to strengthen the mandatory controls program.

Street also said prospects for Congress approving a bill to remove wellhead prices of natural gas from federal control are not bright, but the association meanwhile should continue diligent efforts to assist the Federal Power Commission in developing the best possible system for such controls.

These remarks were in line with recommendations of the association's natural gas policy committee, whose report was adopted Monday. It also asked the Texas Railroad Commission to prorate production for all the state's gas fields. The committee proposed a prorating formula based on well depth, gas deliverability and acreage.

INTERSTATE

Most of the proposed price decontrol bills have been confined to gas sold wholesale to interstate pipelines. A pipeline executive told the independents Monday such decontrols also should apply to pipeline-owned production.

"I believe producer legislation acceptable to the pipelines could be drafted but the pipelines would expect to have remedial provisions included relating to many of their regulatory problems," said G. P. Garver of Chicago, president of the Natural Gas Pipelines of America.

Garver also is president of the Independent Natural Gas Association of America, which holds its annual meeting next week in New York City.

New area vice presidents of the Texas group include Robert Buschman of San Antonio, Robert Hamel of Victoria, Michel Halbouty of Houston, William Carl of Corpus Christi, Neville Penrose of Fort Worth, E. L. Anders of Abilene, Lester Clark of Breckenridge and Harvey Herd of Midland.

Britain Vote Date Chosen

LONDON (AP) — Britain's general election campaign moved into high gear today as Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home prepared to announce the voting date after an audience with Queen Elizabeth II.

The prime minister's supporters said he would announce that the election of a new House of Commons will be Oct. 15.

Douglas-Home flew Monday night to Balmoral Castle, in Scotland, to ask the queen to dissolve Parliament. Parliament already is in recess and will not meet again before the election.

Campaigning already is under way. Douglas-Home flew to Balmoral after a whistle-stop tour of Kent. In eight speeches he stressed his Conservative party's determination that Britain should keep an independent nuclear deterrent.

Harold Wilson, leader of the opposition Labor party, speaking in Lancashire, thumped away at the rise in land prices.

Returned Here

Lincoln Brummett, 31, of 602 State Street, has been returned to Howard County from Dallas to answer charges of forgery and passing. He was arrested in Dallas on a local warrant. Miller Harris, sheriff, and Bill Whitton, deputy, brought the man back here. Whitton said there is a hold order on Brummett out of Arizona which has been filed here.

MIDLOTHIAN, Tex. (AP) — James Williams, 36, of Cleburne was killed Monday night when his car overturned and burned in the north edge of Midlothian.

Ambassadors Spotlighted At Directors' Meeting

The Chamber of Commerce's red coats — the Ambassadors' Club—got the spotlight at the director's meeting Monday noon in the Settles.

"I doubt," said John Taylor, chamber president, "that anyone has done as much for good public relations for the chamber and the city in the past year or two as have the Ambassadors."

This group, which serves as a membership committee as well as official greeters, has been instrumental in boosting the chamber membership from 450 to 836 in less than three years. Each new membership reduces the prospects by one, but Elmo Phillips, Ambassador president, said his group is still aiming at an ultimate membership of 1,000.

Carroll Davidson, chamber manager, said he had been invited last week to address the Irving chamber to tell about the work of the Ambassadors, whose fame has spread over Texas. A distinct mark of the club members is their brilliant red coats which they wear while at civic functions or serving as welcomers.

Most of the business at Monday's meeting was in a report. Taylor reminded directors of the railroad commission hearing here Wednesday on proposed suspension of two passenger trains daily. Taylor reported on a local delegation having gone to Lubbock recently to a redistricting meeting and said indications were good that Howard would remain in the 19th congressional district. Progress is being made on signs to be erected along IS 20, he said, and Joe Pickle said that H. R. Weaver had called a meeting of the highway committee this week to firm final plans for dedication of the IS 20 loop on Oct. 5. when Hal Woodward, member of the Texas Highway Commission, will speak.

Announcement of the Texas Air Tour, which will make Big Spring an over-night stop, was made. Davidson also reported on several industrial contacts, and the board authorized his attendance of the Texas Industrial Commission meeting in College Station next week.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

The first good cool spell weatherwise certainly made Our Town see red . . . red dresses, red suits, red blazers for the boys, red jumpers for the girls and red, red cars for the young in heart. Not only do the cars have red finish, some are doubly blessed by having red upholstery.

Time was when red was meant only to be a hot or warm color but not so anymore. It still can mean warmth but it can also be the color for a true pickup for sagging spirits. It makes youngsters feel older, older people feel younger and the in betweeners feel daring. It's a good color for what ails us.

Bishops Map Plan To Share Papal Powers

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Given strong impetus by Pope Paul VI, the 2,500 Roman Catholic bishops of the Vatican Ecumenical Council start work today on a schema to define sharing of some Papal powers with the bishops.

The pontiff at the ceremonial opening of the council's third session Monday virtually commanded the prelates to clarify "the doctrine of the papacy which will place in its splendid light the role and mandate of the episcopate."

The schema, or topic, before the council at its working session today was titled "De Ecclesia" — on the nature of the church.

It has been considerably changed from the version that the council debated, through its first four chapters, at its second session last fall.

The council now must discuss the fifth and sixth chapters. It also will decide whether to accept or reject amendments offered for the first four chapters. Chapter five is on eschatology — the theology of death, judgment, heaven and hell — and chapter six on the place of the Virgin Mary in the Church.

The first four chapters are concerned chiefly with those who make up the Church — hierarchy and laymen.

Sources familiar with the schema say it puts collegiality — the sharing by all bishops with the Pope in governing the entire church — into precise terminology.

"De Ecclesia" goes into collegiality as a broad principle, almost a doctrinal basis, for further action in implementing new powers of the bishops. The 1869-70 Vatican Council had planned to make definitions on both papal primary and episcopal power as corollary themes. It ended, because the Italian nationalists seized the last papal states in Italy before the episcopal document was discussed.

The collegial concept is based on the idea that Christ founded the Church on St. Peter with the other apostles, not on St. Peter alone.

The issue brought a heated argument last November between Joseph Cardinal Frings of Germany, a leading progressive, and Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, the leader of the conservatives and the head of the Holy Office in the Roman Curia.

Texas Still Lacking Rain

AUSTIN (AP)— Despite light showers over much of the state last week, "more moisture is needed over the entire state along coastal areas and in the northeast," the U.S. Department of Agriculture says.

Its weekly report Monday said planting of small grains lags because of dry seedbeds.

Gathering of cotton, sorghum, corn, peanuts and rice continued.

The cotton harvest was 26 per cent finished at the end of the week, compared with 28 per cent a year ago. South central and southern areas are nearly finished and stripping is about half completed in the blacklands.

Sorghum combining reached 56 per cent, compared with 53 per cent at this time last year.

Corn harvest was at 83 per cent, peanuts 21 per cent and rice 81 per cent.

Planting of the 1965 wheat crop stayed behind last year's pace with only 8 per cent in the ground, compared with 19 per cent a year ago.

Study Finds Galveston Dockmen Work Too Hard

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department says that longshoremen at the port of Galveston, Tex., work too hard, but that they like it and don't want to change.

One of a series of department reports said Monday:

"It cannot be in the best interests of the health of the men to carry on hard physical labor at such a pace all day, much less day after day."

The report also disclosed that the men in Galveston resist any efforts to add more men or slow the pace of work.

The reason for the unique situation in Galveston, the department report said, is a unique pay incentive system in loading cotton.

"Men who are able to stand the pace can earn as much as $6 to $10 per hour," it said, adding: "The gang's speed is, presumably, dictated by its desire to make as much money as possible in the least amount of time."

• • •

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told an aviation award ceremony Monday that although "in times to come our machines may perform remarkable feats in space .... their success will rest upon the men involved."

Johnson presented three Harmon international aviation trophies in the White House rose garden.

He quoted from the words of the late Col. Clifford B. Harmon, founder of the annual awards for the outstanding aviator, aviatrix and aeronaut — balloonist — to the effect that a desire for peace alone is not enough, but must be sustained by power.

The awards cover 1962 and 1963. The assassination of President John F. Kennedy prevented a presentation ceremony last year. Recipients were:

— Aft Force Maj. L. Gordon Cooper, Jr., the first astronaut to receive an award, for his 22-orbit flight May 15-16, 1963.

— Betty Miller of Santa Monica, Calif., the first woman to fly alone across the Pacific Ocean from California to Australia, April 30 — May 12, 1963.

— Air Force Lt. Col. Fitzhugh L. Fulton Jr., pilot of a strategic Air Command B58 jet bomber which established a world altitude record on Sept. 14, 1962 of 85,360.8 feet with a payload of 11,000 pounds.

• • •

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., renewed his attack on the Johnson administration's Viet Nam policies in a Senate speech Monday.

He accused the administration of withholding from the people "the facts about the war" and said "if we don't stop this flagrant violation of international law, I am convinced we are heading straight for a third international war."

Morse called Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Khanh a "military tyrant dictator, kept in power by the United States" and described the weekend coup against Khanh and its quick collapse "a tragic comedy."

Headache can often be traced to an eye condition,

"Guard against eye disease, eyestrain and poor vision with an annual, professional eye examination by a Doctor of Optometry," advises Dr. S. J. Rogers of Texas State Optical.

Variances Are Approved

The zoning board of adjustment approved three requests by city property owners for variances to zoning ordinances in a session at city hall Monday.

The board okayed a variance from the maximum lot coverage requirement for R. O. Wanner, 617 Caylor Drive. Wanner told the board the request was for an enclosed breezeway which exceeded the maximum by about 475 square feet. He said the addition would be used for family and not commercial purposes. Voting for the request was four board members, J. D. Elliot, Carl Strom, Dick Collier and Daryle Hohertz, with one member, Jerry Mancill, voting against it.

A question was raised during the session whether the structure could be termed a breezeway, as applied under the building code, due to its size.

The board also approved a variance requested by Al Milch, 2701 Rebecca, for construction of a residence at 2500 Rebecca that will come to within six feet of the side property line. An eight-foot setback is required for the lot size involved by city ordinance.

Addition of a carport to a residence at 107 E. 16th St. was approved for Mrs. Sophie Corcoran, owner of the property. Mrs. Corcoran told the board she was planning a 10-foot by 20-foot enclosed carport. The carport was approved to come within two feet of the side property line. City ordinance requires a five-foot setback.

When a mechanic only has one model to worry about, he can worry a lot more efficiently.

You're looking at fourteen years' worth of Volkswagens.

Can you see much difference between them?

Neither can our mechanics. That's what makes their work so repetitious. And so good.

When you service the same car for years, you get to know a lot about the little thing. (The fact that most Volkswagen parts are interchangeable from year to year doesn't hurt any.)

So for VW mechanics, routine service is very routine indeed.

Of course, every time there's an improvement in the VW it throws them into ecstasy.

They give anything that's new in a VW so much attention that it gets old for them pretty fast.

Then it's back to dull perfectionism again.

It makes driving a Volkswagen dull too. Hardly anything ever happens.

Rail Hearing Set Here Wednesday

Second of three hearings on the petition of the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. to abolish two passenger train schedules between El Paso and Fort Worth will be held in Big Spring starting at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday. It is planned to have the hearings in the Howard County courtroom.

First of the hearings was in Fort Worth Monday. Gil Jones, district attorney, has been retained by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce and local businessmen, to represent them at the hearings and protest the proposed cancellation of the two trains.

He was at Fort Worth Monday and will be on the same assignment here Wednesday.

The third session on the proposal will be held in El Paso.

The T&P contends that it is entitled to abolish Trains No. 21 and 22 from service, pointing out in its testimony that it has lost $202,978 in operation of the trains from June, 1963, through May, 1964.

A representative of the Texas Railroad Commission will hear testimony of the railroad officials and of the protesting communities at the three hearings and then make a recommendation to the commission on whether to approve the railroad's petition.

Chief witnesses at Fort Worth for the railroad were E. E. Spencer, passenger traffic manager; E. C. Foster, formerly of Big Spring, now vice president and general manager of the T&P, and C. R. Pedigo, director of costs.

Witnesses against the petition included delegations from Fort Worth, Baird, Abilene, and the Brotherhood of Trainmen.

Jones said that at the hearing here Wednesday, in addition to the same witnesses heard in Fort Worth for the railroad, he plans to have witnesses from Big Spring, Midland, Odessa, Pecos and perhaps other cities west of here served by the railroad.

The two trains to be abolished would eliminate day runs between Big Spring and Fort Worth and would eliminate trains with sleepers and diners from Fort Worth to El Paso.

Train No. 21, originating in Fort Worth, leaves there at 10:35 a.m. arriving here at 4:50 p.m. It leaves here at 5 p.m. and reaches El Paso at 12:15 a.m.

Train No. 22, originates in El Paso, leaving there at 1:50 a.m., arriving here at 8:55 a.m., departing here at 9:10 a.m. and arriving at Fort Worth at 3:10 p.m.

The two trains which would be left in service are Nos. 26 and 27.

No. 26 leaves El Paso at 7:50 p.m. arrives here at 2:40 a.m., departing at 2:59 a.m. arriving in Fort Worth at 9 a.m.

No. 27 originates in Fort Worth leaving there at 5:35 a.m., reaching El Paso at 1:50 p.m.

Neither of these trains offer pullman service or dining car service.

Request New County Agent

A group of more than 20 farmers and ranchers from all parts of the county Monday afternoon asked that a new county farm agent be named for Howard County. They attended an afternoon meeting of the County Commissioners Court and said they felt that Herb Helbig, county farm agent, should be replaced.

Bill Gunter, district farm agent from Lubbock, suggested that six months be allowed to "see if things cannot be worked out satisfactorily for all concerned." Spokesmen for the group contended that since Helbig had been in the county three years, no substantial adjustments could be expected within six months.

The group asked that careful consideration be given its position.

The commissioners court sat as listeners at the meeting. No action was taken immediately.

The county agent is paid in part by the county, the state and federal government.

Goldwater Enters South With Attack On Court

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) —Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater charged into the South today with a drumbeat of criticism for the Supreme Court and he charged that some Democrats don't even think the South is part of the United States.

"This country wants a change," he said.

Goldwater said he senses a deep concern among Americans about "the drift of our government," and about foreign affairs and the way the administration deals with communism.

He said modern Democrats belie the heritage of Jefferson. He said some of them think the Supreme Court "can rule any way but down the path of the Constitution."

Goldwater said a Jeffersonian Democrat could not accept the court's decision ordering reapportionment of state legislatures.

Some people "don't think the South is a real part of the United States," he told some 500 people at a Republican breakfast.

"In fact," he said, "you're going to be visited by one most any day." Goldwater said he was talking about Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee.

Goldwater went from the breakfast to a hotel balcony and declared a real-two-party system is growing in the South. The crowd packed the streets for a block, but police officials would not estimate its size.

The Arizona senator ripped into President Johnson's handling of the crisis in Viet Nam.

Goldwater told an airport crowd at Winston-Salem he is working "for Republicans and disenfranchised Democrats."

In attacking Johnson's handling of the Viet Nam situation, Goldwater accused the administration of failure, mistakes and "unbelieveably bad judgment."

He said the Democrats haven't told the people what the United States is doing in the Southeast Asian nation—or "what we hope eventually to accomplish there."

The Republican nominee for the White House hurled this challenge at President Johnson: "Set this record straight. Tell us what is happening or whether we even know what is happening."

Plans Made For Air Tour

Around 175 pilots and passengers, scheduled to make the All-Texas Air Tour Oct. 3-10, will spend the first night in Big Spring. The aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce Monday made plans to welcome and entertain the visitors at the Cosden Country Club.

Dr. Fred Lurting, chairman of the committee, said five airplanes would carry up to 16 members of the Ambassadors Club to Temple Oct. 2, to mix with the tour members, and welcome them to Big Spring the next evening.

Transportation from the airport to the Settles Hotel will be by volunteers furnishing cars, and the same cars will carry flyers back to the airport Sunday morning for the flight to El Paso, which leaves at 9 a.m.

All those flying in will be taken to the Cosden Country Club for dinner and entertainment, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Plans will be completed for the entire program at an early date, following meetings of flying clubs.

Residents of Big Spring willing to provide cars for transportation from the airport to the hotel, and back Sunday morning, are requested to call Edith Gay at the Chamber of Commerce office.

AS HERALD PLAYERS OF WEEK

Don White, Tommy Dobbs Among Athletes Named

Five area schools saw action last Friday night with four coaches naming their nominees for the Lineman and Back of the Week in the Daily Herald's gridiron award system while the final mentor refrained from picking honorees because he thought no one deserved the award.

BIG SPRING

Line—Senior offensive center and defensive linebacker DON WHITE won the rave notices last Friday night against the Lamesa Tornadoes as his overall leadership led the Steers to a 20-0 win. In showing heads up defensive play, he was a standout throughout the contest as he "spent more time in Lamesa's backfield than on our side of the line," according to one viewer. His crisp and deadly blocking was something to marvel.

Back—BENNY KIRKLAND, a senior quarterback who was making his first varsity start of his gridiron career, made head coach Don Robbins look like one of the world's finest guessers as he took command after some early jitters and swept the Bovines to victory. In showing superb field generalship, he passed for one 23-yard touchdown and then got into the scoring act himself by going 11 yards on a belly fake.

SANDS

Line—OREN LANCASTER received the nod from head mentor Eddie Gill this week for the Lineman of the Week award after the 160-pound sophomore end scored twice in Sands 28-28 tie contest with Three Way. Besides taking two scoring strikes through the air of seven and 13 yards, he also showed sharp blocking and good defensive play.

BENNY KIRKLAND

Back—RICKY KEMP, a junior halfback, was an easy choice for Back of the Week as his two touchdowns on runs of 33 and 45 yards kept the Mustangs in the game. In gaining 161 yards in 12 carries, Kemp had one of the area's top performances. He stands 5'8" and weighs 145.

GARDEN CITY

Line—TOMMY DOBBS, starting his first game for the Bearkats after a year of ineligibility, made five unassisted tackles from his defensive left end post while displaying good downfield blocking from his offensive left guard position. The 180-pound junior was given much of the credit for Garden City's 38-6 victory over Flower Grove.

Back — Senior DENNIS SEIDENBERGER, a halfback with scatback proportions of 160 pounds and blazing speed, countered against the Dragons Friday night by racing to two touchdowns on runs of 16 and 20 yards and then showing good blocking when he wasn't on the carrying end of the pigskin. His spirit came in for a great deal of praise.

STANTON

Line—DAVID DUNN, a senior left end who tips the scales at 165 pounds, played both ways Friday night as the Big Lake Owls overwhelmed the Buffs, 32-0. In defeat, he continued to show heads up play and at many points, his timely tackles were the only things preventing the Owls from romping to huge gains. His blocking on offense set a good example for the Buffaloes.

Back — Senior linebacker JOHNNY SWANSON, who also goes the halfback route on offense for the Bisons, receives the plaudits this week from head coach Bill Milam as he was credited the most tackles by Stanton mentors. On offense, he found the Big Lake defense very sticky indeed, as did the rest of the Buffs, but he still managed several sizable gains before the final seconds ticked off.

FORSAN

On the advice of coach Oscar Boeker, the Daily Herald refrains from singling out a lineman or a back for the Buffaloes this week. Forsan lost its opening game to Dawson, 30-0. Boeker said he felt that no one showed the calibre of play to merit an award.

Bel Air Game Awaits Herd

Big Spring High School coaches Monday undertook the job of trying to make their charges forget the successes they achieved last weekend and look ahead to Ysleta Bel Air.

Their job isn't easy. The Steers' smashing success over Lamesa coupled with Bel Air's narrow win over Carlsbad, N. M., gave the Longhorns a complacent attitude that may be hard to improve by game time Friday. So says coach Don Robbins.

The fact that most all their supporters are saying the Steers will have a relatively easy time of it against Bel Air isn't helping either, says Robbins.

Such hasn't been the nature of the history of football between Big Spring and teams of the El Paso area. Invariably, the Border City clubs have given the Steers all they could handle. No matter the calibre of competition out that way, the El Paso schools always turn tough when playing Big Spring.

The Longhorns went through a spirited drill Monday, with a big assist from the weatherman. The elements took a turn for the better in last weekend's outing with Lamesa and the cooler temperatures hung on through Monday.

Bobby Griffin, the quick end who was injured on the opening play in the Lamesa bout, was held out of the rough work Monday. He appeared to have suffered no ill effects from the jolting he got in making the opening tackle but the coaches were taking no chances with him.

Two more days of rugged drills are in store for the Longhorns before they ease off their next game. They will not leave for Ysleta until Friday morning. They will make the trip by bus.

Phils Boost Lead With Houston Win

By The Associated Press

While the Philadelphia Phillies virtually are running away with the National League pennant, they are enjoying an intramural game of follow the leader.

Their latest game came Monday night as they defeated Houston 4-1 and increased their lead to 6½ games over the second-place St. Louis Cards, whose game at Milwaukee was rained out.

Chris Short posted his 17th victory against seven defeats with a four-hitter while Johnny Callison rapped three hits, drove in two and scored two.

One part of the Phillies' game features Short and fellow pitcher Jim Bunning while another includes Callison and rookie Richie Allen.

Short's 17th triumph came just one day after Bunning recorded his 17th victory. The aces of Philadelphia's pitching staff have followed that pattern recently.

Bunning won his 14th game Aug. 23, and Short followed suit three days later. Their 15th victories came Sept. 1 and 2, respectively, while the 16th plateau was reached Sept. 5 and 10.

Although Short, who will be 27 Saturday, has lost three more games than Bunning, his earned run average is lower — 1.85 to 2.23. In fact, only Sandy Koufax has a better ERA in the league, 1.74, and he's finished for the season.

Incidentally, if Short and Bunning each win 20 games, it will mark the first time since 1916 that the Phillies have had two winners in that category. Grover Cleveland Alexander won 33 games and Eppa Rixey won 22 for the second-place Phillies that year.

"Our main objective is to win. We're not going to open up just because some people thought our attack was a bit too modest, but we might open up more if they start crowding us."

CHARLEY McCABE, San Francisco writer:

"If you harbor any doubts about the quality of football that is to be served up to you this fall by that patron of sport, the 49er organization, let me be the first to lay them at rest. The 49ers will stink. As usual, only more so. They have many incentives for being awful, and they will not fail to act on any of them. If you are sucker enough to purchase a season ticket to suffer through the painful progress of this unfortunate organization, I wish you would send me your name and address, or postal box unmber. I have a good friend in the Gibraltar Gold Brick Investment Compnay who would like to have a word with you. He also sells bridges. Let's look at those incentives. The mighty heart of our offensive and defensive line will, as before, be composed of a group of dilletantes who dearly love good living. Warm bird and cold bottle chaps. In point of fact, they are among the most inept players in the NFL. So where else to stable them than in San Francisco, with the darling 49ers? This is, of coruse, in total accord with the established guiding management principle of the outfit: If you have a losing formula, stick with it . . . The . . . leading incentive for remaining lousy is the $1 million plus that the club will get from the telly for showing its games. This leaves the outfit in the astonishing fiscal position of being able to be as lousy as it wants and still meet the nut, and more."

Spokane Grad Most Helpful In Baltimore Flag Surge

By The Associated Press

It's been a fun year for Ken Rowe, the workingest pitcher in baseball, and because of him, the Baltimore Orioles are liable to laugh themselves right into the American League pennant.

Baltimore, shopping around for late-season help in their pennant push, picked up relief pitcher Rowe from the Los Angeles Dodgers' Spokane farm club in the Pacific Coast League last week. He pitched his first inning in relief for the Orioles Monday night and came up a winner when Baltimore pushed across a run in the bottom of the ninth to edge Minnesota 4-3.

Rowe, who seems to thrive on work, set an organized baseball record for appearances, coming in 88 times, before being purchased by the Orioles.

The big 30-year-old right-hander enjoyed all the assignments. "It's been a fun year and I've really been lucky," he said. "I consider it a challenge — a personal challenge — each time I'm called in from the bullpen."

Monday night the Twins challenged Rowe and came out second best. Shut out for six innings by Oriole starter Milt Pappas, Minnesota surged back on home runs by Don Mincher and Jimmie Hall for a 3-2 lead. Pappas left for a hitter in the eighth and Rowe came on to hurl the ninth, his 89th game of the year and first one in the AL.

The veteran pitcher got the Twins 1-2-3 and won it when Luis Aparicio's sacrifice fly delivered the winning run in the bottom of the ninth.

In the only other American League game scheduled, Kansas City edged Boston 7-6.

In the National League, Philadelphia stretched its lead to 6½ games, defeating Houston 4-1 for Chris Short's 17th victory.

Gate Of $5 Million Is Foreseen For Title Go

BOSTON (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, pardon, Muhammad Ali, was strangely subdued. Challenger Sonny Liston actually smiled. Gov. Endicott Peabody announced they'd meet in a Nov. 16 title fight at Boston Garden — to the surprise of no one.

The World Boxing Association quickly replied that everyone in the room was quarantined, as it were, by a sweeping suspension. Clay's title was lifted.

Clay, deep in thoughts of the Black Muslims and a 30 per cent slice of a predicted $5 million purse, looked as concerned as an elephant bitten by a gnat.

"Who are the WBA, they oughta be investigated," Liston said in scorn.

The WBA had threatened in advance to refuse to recognize a rematch.

The Massachusetts Boxing Commission, which has bounced in and out of that fistic forum faster than a man on a trampoline, as has Michigan, said it felt the safeguards it had undertaken would satisfy the WBA.

"This isn't really a return bout," said commissioner Ed Urbec. "We've arranged a fight between the champion and the top contender.

"We shouldn't have been allowed to vote in the last WBA meeting anyway. We didn't pay our dues last year or this year because of our financial condition.

"I can't visualize the public not accepting Clay as the champion. Titles are won or lost in the ring. This is the fight the public wants."

Gov. Peabody wasn't too concerned, either. "I look forward to a great fight," said the chief executive who did not win his party's renomination in the state primary.

The State Commission, in its statement, outlined stipulations for the 15-round bout. Chief among them is that the winner must post a $50,000 cash guarantee he'll meet one of the top four rated contenders as listed by the WBA within six months after the fight.

The next step the WBA is expected to take, having now declared "no recognition" of the fight and "no champion" is to set up a tournament to settle the title.

Wait To Sign Fight Agreement

Sonny Liston (left), and heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad (Cassius Clay) Ali sit at a table waiting for their lawyers and the Massachusetts Boxing Commission members to agree to terms for their title rematch before signing the final contract in Boston Monday. Dear Abby

Caught In A Squeeze Play

DEAR ABBY: About two years ago my sister told me that my husband never missed a chance to hug and squeeze a certain woman we both know. I asked my husband about this and he denied it. My sister has a habit of making a lot of nothing, so I let the matter drop. I had really forgotten all about it until I saw this woman at our church picnic. My husband did not know I was watching him and he came up behind this woman, placed both his hands on her bare arms and gave her a squeeze. She didn't seem surprised or angry, either. Since then I told my husband not to speak to me. I'd go to this woman's husband and tell him about it, but he's very jealous and might hurt my husband. Am I making something out of nothing, or do you think I have a problem? I've had men try stuff like that with me, but I've always given them such a dirty look they never tried it again. I'd appreciate your advice.

TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: Start talking to your husband and ask him to forgive your childish behavior. Your sister is a troublemaker. Avoid her. The woman probably knew your husband's "squeeze" was nothing more than an affectionate, innocent gesture. Grow up and thaw out or you'll create more problems than can be solved in one letter.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am blonde, five feet, three inches tall, weigh 110 pounds and have a fairly good shape. I live in a nice apartment which is beautifully furnished with my own things; in fact, I decorated it myself. I make a good living, do all kinds of art work as a hobby, and have even sold some of my oil paintings. I can put on wallpaper as good as any professional, also paint, lay tile and even repair my own car. I am my own cook, housekeeper and I make my own clothes. When I go out there isn't a dance I can't do. Do you think I need a man?

MISS INDEPENDENT

DEAR MISS: Obviously you do, or the question would never have occurred to you.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I still love this boy I went steady with. We broke up about two months ago. I have tried everything to forget him, but it is no use because I loved him too much from the start. I have called him up and all my girl friends have called him up, too, trying to get him to go back with me. They all say we are perfect for each other. He always says he has something important to do. How can I get him back?

STILL CARES

DEAR STILL: If you want to get this boy back, your technique could hardly be worse. You've probably wrecked your chances by now so you have nothing to lose by ignoring him entirely, which is what you should have done in the first place.

Leave Others Alone--Rusk

DETROIT (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk told Communist North Viet Nam and Red China Monday they "must come to the decision to leave their neighbors alone — and sooner rather than later."

Rusk voiced the warning in a prepared speech to the Economic Club of Detroit in which he told communism that its pursuit of world revolution by force and violence would be opposed by America and the free world "with whatever means are required."

Rusk invited communism to peaceful competition and said this country is ready to play a part in any effort to "broaden cooperation on matters of common interest of the human race."

Rusk's speech, delivered after he had conferred in neighboring Windsor, Ont., with the Canadian external affairs minister, Paul Martin, had a hopeful tone.

It Is, And Maybe It Isn't

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chrysler labor contract is inflationary —if you go by the government's guidelines. It isn't — if you go by the record auto industry profits and the unlikelihood of higher prices this fall on the new models.

But the effects of the big gains by auto workers may go beyond the auto plants where inflation can be contained. The terms could spur demands in other industries where prices might be forced up — and that would be inflationary for the economy in general.

On the monetary front there's another aspect of the Chrysler pact. The big gains were in the fringe benefits rather than in wage scales. And the fringes don't add much if any new spending money right away to workers' pockets, as a big increase in weekly pay checks would have.

In that sense, the pact can be viewed as adding to personal savings, or future security, rather than to consumer purchasing power. A big increase in spending money, if it spread to other industries, might lead to higher prices of many things.

By the government guidelines the pact does go beyond the general rule of thumb for avoiding new inflation. These guidelines call for wage increases to stay around 3.2 per cent, since that is the average annual increase in productivity — the gain in unit output per man hour of labor. Wages can go up that much without putting pressure on prices.

The Chrysler pact is variously figured as adding at least 4 per cent and maybe 5 per cent to production costs. Either extreme of the preliminary estimates is well above the government general guidelines.

Lake Outing By Kennedys Stirs Little

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy, who moved to New York City to get the privacy she couldn't find in Washington, went boating in the middle of town and caused hardly a ripple.

The president's widow, son John Jr., and daughter Caroline took out a row boat on the lake in Manhattan's Central Park Monday.

Mrs. Kennedy handled the oars. John sat in the stern and shouted encouragement. Caroline spent the cruise bouncing from bow to midships.

The Kennedys went virtually unnoticed. But Peter Rosenberg, an amateur photographer, saw the famous family, and hastily unlimbered his camera.

It was quite a triumph for Rosenberg. Earlier in the day he had enrolled in a school to become a professional lensman.

Rusk Feels Headway Made With Viet Nam's Stability

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk believes the United States is making some headway in persuading the divided leaders of South Viet Nam to declare a moratorium on their disputes and seek unity for the war against Communist guerrillas.

In the aftermath of Sunday's uprising in Saigon, Rusk told a news conference Monday that the U.S. government hopes the abortive rebellion against Premier Nguyen Khanh will have a stabilizing effect upon South Viet Nam.

Rusk reportedly believes that the danger of open fighting between anti-Communist elements on Sunday will now have a unifying effect in the South Vietnamese capital.

"It was important and gratifying" he said, "that these recent incidents did not lead to armed conflict and to violence among elements of the armed forces, and we hope that these incidents will have a stabilizing effect, and people, having now seen this prospect of violence which was avoided, will now recognize the importance of getting on with the thorough consultation and movement toward a stable and more permanent constitutional system."

As to what the United States is now doing about the situation, Rusk said that the differences among the leaders "are of secondary importance compared with the overriding necessity of saving the country, establishing its security, maintaining its independence."

He made it clear that U.S. diplomats in Saigon have been taking this line with all the Vietnamese leaders, urging them to work for political stability.

"And therefore we would hope," he continued, "that these lesser differences would be put on ice, that a moratorium would be declared on them, until the main job of building a secure and independent country has been accomplished.

"We have tried to make that clear. And I think that we have made some headway on that point."

Minnesota City Built On Medical Facilities

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Some towns are built on a mining industry, some on steel, some on lumber. Rochester is built on doctors.

If you walked the streets of this southern Minnesota city, and could count on meeting a cross-section of its population, every forty-fifth person would be a physician.

Rochester is the home of the Mayo Clinic, which this year will mark its 100th birthday.

The clinic has become a magnet for the famous — and for persons wanting top medical diagnoses or with ailments that have baffled their local doctors.

Kings and queens, heads of state, persons prominent in the entertainment, sports and business worlds are such frequent patients at Mayo's that their presence creates little stir in this town of 45,000.

UNCOMMON

So are people with uncommon troubles — malfunctioning hearts, rare eye disorders, torn limbs they hope to save from amputation.

The clinic takes them all — nearly 2,600,000 to date.

While it shuns publicity and protects its patients' privacy, the clinic is marking its centennial with more than 50 scientific meetings.

Wooded hills flank Rochester and give way to typical farming country nearby, but there is no mistaking that Rochester grew on and for the clinic.

It all began in 1864 when a native of Manchester, England, Dr. William Worrall Mayo, came to the then hamlet of 3,000 and began practice.

Two sons, William James and Charles Horace, became doctors and began to practice with their father. After he died, Dr. Will and Dr. Charlie, as they were known, took on three other doctors in what came to be known informally as the Mayo Clinic.

By 1914 they had their own building — a two-story red brick structure that still stands in contrast to the two Mayo skyscrapers, and serves as a laboratory.

REPUTATION

The clinic grew in scope and reputation. Its first large building, a 15-story structure of tan Italian marble, topped by a six-story bell tower, was completed in 1939. Two other buildings have since joined it. Clinic hospital patients are treated chiefly in two large Rochester hospitals, separately owned but working closely with the clinic.

Dr. Will and Dr. Charlie died within a few months of each other in 1939.

Dr. Charles W. Mayo, son of Charles H., formally retired from the clinic and as chairman of its board last October, at 65.

The Mayo name is carried on at the clinic by his son, an intern. Dr. Charles H. Mayo II, 33, represents the fourth generation of Mayos at the clinic.

The clinic has a professional staff of 400 doctors, and 600 more, including 50 from abroad, studying under its fellowship program.

Two Mayo doctors, Edward C. Kendall and Philip S. Hench, won a Nobel Prize in 1950 for their work with cortisone.

A special stamp, to go on sale in Rochester today, will honor these and other Mayo achievements in its centennial.

WHAT KIND OF HEADACHE?

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.

To many people, excitement or any emotional disturbance will cause a headache. Fear, worry, overwork, loss of sleep or any other condition that saps the patient's vitality may result in a headache. In such cases the victim's reserve of vital energy is usually below par and the least deviation from the sufferer's normal life results in a headache.

Headaches may be located in different parts of the head, its location usually indicates the part of the body from which the headache originates. Other symptoms may confirm this reflex condition and a thorough spinal examination will reveal abnormalities or displacement of the spinal bones.

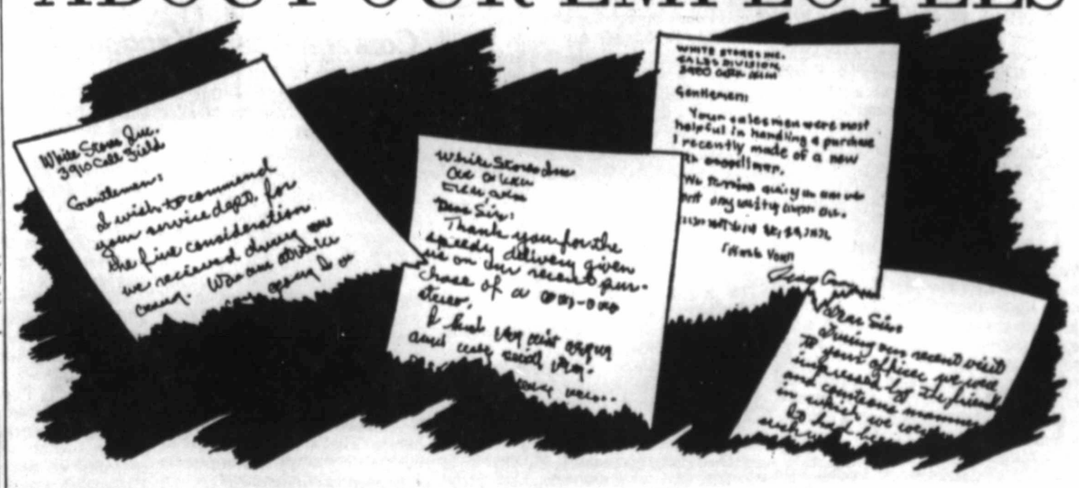

These displacements, by causing a pressure on the spinal nerves leading to the affected organs, interfere with the normal flow of vital energy necessary for their proper functioning, resulting in nerve root irritation and in turn, resulting in a headache. Irregularity of function must be traced to its source and corrected. Chiropractic adjustments correct the cause.

Take this case that came to our office over two years ago: This 41-year-old woman had repeatedly suffered from headaches—here today—gone tomorrow; never knowing just when her head was going to ache and to what degree the pain would be. She came at a time her head was hurting quite a bit. We examined and found the cause — and when she left the office the headache was gone. Each time she would push too hard in some manner, her headache would come back, but the headaches left as she learned how to live and as her spine strengthened. No. 1300.

You, too, can have your spine checked and the cause of your headaches removed. Call the Hansen Chiropractic Clinic, across from Piggly Wiggly, AM 3-3324, for an appointment.

Happy, Unusual Trend

The Howard County budget for 1965 has been approved, calling for expenditures of $952,000, and revenues of about $1,041,000.

By holding tight on the budget, the commissioners court was able to take advantage of a maturing bond obligation and thus cut the tax rate by five cents to an even $1 per $100 assessed valuation. A reduction in rate, plus a $12,481 actual cut in projected expenditures is almost unheard of these days by any governmental agency. It is a most delightful experience and one for which we can say thanks to the court.

The margin between budgeted expenses and anticipated revenue is more than ample, but should it turn out as estimated, it may have a softening effect on some of the demands which conceivable could come up in the next budget year. For instance, the Texas Highway Department is certain to deliver deeds to the county one of these days on the proposed FM 700 improvement program west from U. S. 87 to US 80. The county and community are on record having asked for this, and thus some sizeable immediate investment may need to be made although long-term borrowing is undoubtedly the long-range answer. The projected city-county health unit and rehabilitation center agreement could come into play during the year, and other needs could arise, so at this time a comfortable margin is not at all amiss.

Congratulations To Lubbock

The Board of State Hospitals and Special Schools has selected Lubbock as the site for a new special school for mentally retarded children.

In all candor, this comes as no particular surprise, for the criteria laid down in the beginning pretty well pointed to this. Big Spring, like a dozen other cities, made a spirited bid for the institution but if the criteria of proximity to a college were conceived to be a four year college, the logical point then was in the Lubbock vicinity if the facility were to be centrally located.

We would have been highly pleased and honored could the school have been located here, and we have no doubt that our record of compassion and concern demonstrated toward the patients at Big Spring State Hospital would have carried over to children in the new school.

Since we are not to have this privilege, we are confident that the same spirit of warm human concern will exist at Lubbock and that this school will flourish to bless unfortunate children in an effort to help them cope with an increasingly complex world. After all, the child is the important consideration, and we hope the choice of location will prove to be a helpful one in better serving the child.

'NOTHING BROKEN, BUT IT IMPRESSES VISITORS'

Around The Rim

Masterly Pleading

It began with the murder of a deputy sheriff—one of the most popular men in that part of the state. He was questioning three young hoodlums in a lonely oil field shack. One of the trio grabbed a pistol and shot the officer through the throat.

Another deputy arrested the gunman.

WHEN HE HAD been placed in jail and charged with murder, the matter of an attorney to represent him in the courts arose. The district judge contacted a number of members of the local bar. None would agree to appear for the sullen, snarling misfit. The judge was eager, if at all possible, to find some lawyer who would do a fair job of handling the case.

The attorneys of the community who were experienced in criminal trials, begged off when the judge approached them. The town seethed with resentment toward the young killer. No one questioned that he would be found guilty when tried, and most believed he would get the chair.

THE JUDGE finally called in a distinguished attorney of the town who had spent his entire life in civil practice. He had never tried a criminal case, disliked the procedures and practices of criminal trials, and had never been in the courtroom during a criminal trial.

The judge bluntly asked him to appear for the young killer. The lawyer protested his lack of experience, but the judge replied there was no one else he could ask. Finally, the attorney agreed to accept the unsavory assignment.

HE DIDN'T HAVE too much time to prepare the case. And he certainly had little enough to offer to mitigate the offense of his client. He got little cooperation from the ill-tempered young brute he was to defend.

The prosector was a brilliant veteran of many years. He was coldly impersonal in his handling of a case; he saw crime as something that was evil; the persons who committed crimes as offenders against all things decent. He had an impressive list of convictions to his credit, several of them death sentences in murder cases.

THE COURT-APPOINTED attorney spent days and nights preparing as best he could. He studied criminal trial procedure. He dug into all phases of the state's case and spent hours talking to all of the witnesses the prosecution would present.

The day the trial opened, the prospect was anything but reassuring. The jury was empanelled, with the defense attorney doing his best to seat fair-minded and unbiased men in the box. The state's case was fairly simple. The prosecutor piled evidence on top of evidence to show the maddog character of the young defendant.

THE DEFENSE attorney's only route was to cross examine each state witness. He did a masterful job. He worked tirelessly and patiently—striving to strip some of the veneer of viciousness that the testimony wrapped around his client.

As the trial dragged on you could sense a change in the attitude of the spectators. They began to manifest admiration for the desperate fight the defense attorney was waging.

FINALLY THE CASE came to an end. The prosecutor had made an impassioned appeal to the jurors to find the defendant guilty and condemn him to die for his crime. The defense attorney spoke briefly—outling the few shreds of contradictory evidence he had been able to develop, asking for no mercy but merely urging that the jurors be fair and just in their deliberations.

Although the change in sentiment was clear you could find no one willing to bet on less than a death sentence. But the jury did not return a death sentence; it fixed punishment at life.

IT WAS A VICTORY for the defense attorney. He had, to all purposes, won his one and only appearance as criminal defender. The community which had been so determined on a death sentence now felt that the defendant had been amply punished. And the attorney walked out of the court the most admired and respected man in town.

The Mighty Task Of Senator Keating

WASHINGTON—One morning recently Sen. Kenneth Keating left his office in the old Senate Office Building, hurried to Washington National Airport and boarded a shuttle plane to New York. An hour later he rushed from LaGuardia Airport to a luncheon in Manhattan, and two hours after that he was back at LaGuardia for a return shuttle to Washington.

He cast a vote in the Senate late that same afternoon, and left again for National Airport and one of Eastern Airline's sturdy but not so swift Constellations to New York. He attended a dinner in midtown, and late that night climbed aboard yet another airplane and returned to the capital. That day he traveled nearly 1,000 airline miles and had, so to speak, gone nowhere.

KEATING IS living at first-hand an experience that no man alive has survived with his career intact—he is contending with a Kennedy for a prize that the Kennedy wants mightily to win. He is, of course, running for re-election from New York. His determined opponent is Robert Kennedy, perhaps the only man on earth who could campaign in the accents of a brash Bostonian and be favored to carry Brighton Beach.

Keating, who is brisk and ruddy at 64 in spite of his savagely brutal schedule, does not allow himself the luxury of a single discernible illusion. He is juggling speaking engagements, strategy meetings, Senate votes, airline schedules—and the bleak financial realities of campaigning against one of the nation's greatest fortunes—with the sober aplomb of a professional who knows that the crockery he is tossing around is genuine Spode, and that the audience is loaded with tough kids armed with slingshots.

THE SENATOR cherishes his near-perfect record of answering roll-call votes in the Senate, and before that in the House ("Better than 98 per cent over the span of 18 years"), but he ruefully concedes that maintaining his average until the end of this session of Congress is going to impose yet another formidable handicap on him in his campaign for re-election.

Among other difficulties, his insistence on according the business of the Senate a higher priority than the business of campaigning creates harsh problems for a devoted staff that is trying to put him on as many platforms, soap boxes and tree stumps in New York State as they can between now and November 3.

WITH ALL THE cobblestone-sized dice that fate has cast against him in this campaign, Keating is not overawed by Robert Kennedy. It is clear that he places the celebrated Kennedy charisma well down in the scale of factors arrayed against him.

While he doesn't say so out loud, it is plain that he feels the Goldwater-Miller ticket is the biggest burden he will carry into the election. Next to that he doubtless ranks money as a key element that isn't in his favor this fall. ("Governor Rockefeller lends me his plane whenever he can, and so do two or three other friends. But we still have to charter campaign planes from time to time.")

MORE IMPORTANT than air charters, money in modern politics means TV spots, and a candidate who is loaded can preempt many prime spots while his not-so-fat opponent is still raising his war chest.

The possibility of defeat doesn't seem to shake Keating. But the casual visitor senses that defeat is a leering specter that will be perched on his bedpost—or in a shuttle airplane seat beside him—until November 3. ("Win, lose or draw, it's going to be rough from now until then. But it's worth it. Things like the Fire Island National Seashore will be here long after this election and the people in it are all forgotten.")

IT IS SOMEHOW typical that with as many triumphs as he might have cited, notable among which is the fact that he alone alerted the nation to the Cuban missile crisis, Keating chose to talk about a wild, wind-swept seaside that he more than any other man helped save for future generations.

No Indications Of Supreme Court Backing Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court, under increasing attack for 10 years by those who charged it was pushing too far, returns to work Oct. 5. Will the nine justices now be more reluctant to tackle cases which might bring more abuse?

There have been guesses they would. It seems like a better guess they will do nothing of the kind, and for several reasons, but one in particular.

This has been the strongest court in the 20th century and perhaps in American history. It has also been the most wildly attacked and criticized court in this century.

BUT THE JUSTICES have been undeterred. They have gone on handing down new decisions and moving into new fields, which got them fresh attacks.

On that evidence — and it's the only evidence available — there's no sound reason for thinking the justices now will suffer a chill even though other courts in the past backed up and played mouse when the going got tough.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, now 73 and going into his 11th year on the bench, has warned against self-satisfaction with law in its present form amidst a fast-changing world.

The court has been particularly accused of usurping the powers of the legislative branch of government.

BUT IN THE two most notable examples in this area—civil rights and reapportionment— the court acted only after Congress and state legislatures had long failed to act. In short, it filled a vacuum.

For more than half a century Congress failed to pass a single civil rights act to give Negroes the benefits and protections guaranteed all citizens under the Constitution.

On May 17, 1954 the court declared public school segregation — and the very principle of segregation — unconstitutional. The criticism poured on the court by white segregationists for this ruling hasn't ended yet.

But that decision opened the gates for a march by Negroes to greater freedom and more protection of their rights as citizens than they had ever had since the Emancipation Proclamation.

EARLIER THIS year 69 prominent Negroes named Warren the white man who has done the most for the American Negro. Since that 1954 decision, Congress has passed three civil rights laws.

Steadily the court broadened protections for individuals of all races in the succeeding years and the violence of the attacks multiplied as the court moved into other fields, like religion and politics.

Warren was the main target. His impeachment has been demanded. He has been hanged in effigy.

The court was denounced for banning the required reading in public schools of the Bible and the Lord's Prayer. Critics tried to push through a constitutional amendment to undo the decision. So far this has failed.

THIS YEAR the court hit another storm when it ordered state legislatures redistricted so that the representatives and senators in those legislatures would more truly represent equal numbers of their population.

But legislatures, some of them, had failed for half a century to provide this equal apportionment. This angered politicians. And now in Congress an effort is being made to delay the carrying out of this order.

Warren has indicated he often wished he could answer his critics. But he adheres to the policy of his predecessors that the Supreme Court should not engage in public debate or defend its decisions.

Courage Keeps Vaughn Meader High

NEW YORK (AP) — One act of courage put Vaughn Meader in the limelight. Another act of courage has kept him there.

It took a lot of courage back in 1960 for Vaughn to scrap his act. After all, it was paying him bread-and-butter money — $45 a week.

"I was playing comedy piano and telling old mother-in-law jokes in Greenwich Village spots," he recalled. "One night I faced up to the facts and decided what I was doing was junk.

"I HAD discovered topical humor. That's what I wanted to do. So I sat down and wrote an act based on what was going on in the news."

Within two years he became well-known as a night club performer and was beginning to hit the biotime television shows.

His hour-long act included a five-minute skit on the inauguration of the late President John F. Kennedy. It caught the attention of a recording company. The skit was expanded into "The First Family" album.

In a year, five million copies of the album were sold.

WHEN KENNEDY was assassinated last November, many in show business thought that the rifleman who killed him had also blasted the career of Meader. They figured his own image was too identified in the public mind with that of Kennedy.

Vaughn, who had never met the President or Mrs. Kennedy, was heartsick.

"We withdrew the album after the assassination, and I quit work for two months," he said. "I didn't want to make a dime out of such a situation.

"But finally I decided to go on doing what I had done before—and let time decide what would happen. After all, I am not basically an impressionist. I'm a topical humorist."

THAT WAS Meader's second act of courage—to prove that his success was no mere trick of mimicry.

And within a year he has made his point. He has made two more albums. His new night club act is a headliner, bringing him in anywhere from $4,000 to $12,500 a week. This Friday he'll present a 90-minute spectacular on television, broadly satirizing different segments of America.

Where Congress Has Failed

WASHINGTON—The 88th Congress has passed all the bills it wants to pass, and a couple that it clearly didn't want to pass, but none of this says that a heap of unfinished business isn't looming against the election year horizon.

Senator Dodd (D., Conn.) won't go home believing the Congress did right by him. His bill to deny gun sales to hopheads and hoodlums has been smothered by the gun lobby.

THE TWO SENATORS and two Representatives who served on the Warren Commission are pledged to official silence, but they wouldn't be human if they didn't grumble to their friends in the press. These are high-class men, Senators Russell and Cooper, Representatives Ford and Boggs. They take pride in doing good work, and it's been literally impossible for them to attend to their heavy Congressional schedules and to sit on the Commission as well. The result is twofold.

ONE, THE Warren Commission report will be almost entirely staff-written. Two, the Congressional members of the Commission are going to resist any effort to rule out the assumption that Lee Harvey Oswald was a lone killer. There is too much circumstantial evidence which shows that Oswald was part of a conspiracy. If the report is inconclusive, or contains a strong minority statement, the matter of the Kennedy assassination will end up before a Congressional Committee—where many believe it should have gone in the first place.

SENATOR WILLIAMS (R., Del.) won't be leaving the session with a satisfied feeling about the Bobby Baker investigation. Only recently has he been able to force the Senate Rules Committee to do its duty and call the witnesses whom the White House is protecting.

The House Judiciary Committee won't have done what it's paid to do until it looks into charges against the Justice Department. Robert Kennedy has fled, but lingering behind the one-time Attorney General are accusations that he used police state methods to get the evidence which convicted Jimmy Hoffa. While Hoffa isn't a sympathetic character, he deserves protection of his person and his papers as the Constitution requires. Congress will sin by omission if it fails to ventilate the charges against Justice.

THE SENATE Internal Security Subcommittee has fought a commendable but incomplete battle against the State Department in the matter of security.

How should a Congress be judged for merit and demerit? The tendency today is to give it good marks for doing whatever the President asks, and to grade it down for exerting its own judgments. But the Congress has duties beyond lawmaking, and it ought to hang its collective head over some of the work that was shirked.

The ADA—Then And Now

WASHINGTON—On the fourth floor of 1341 Connecticut Avenue, N.W., a modest office building in a converted residence, is a fire-breathing dragon with powers only recently revealed.

In his opening campaign speech vice presidential candidate William E. Miller made Americans for Democratic Action sound as conspiratorial and as pervasive as the Supreme Soviet in the heart of the Kremlin. He was attacking his opposite number, Hubert H. Humphrey, as vice-chairman of ADA.

WHAT IS ADA? In a House inquiry into lobbying a former ADA chairman, Francis Biddle, Attorney General in the war years, described it as a "liberal lobby." That is a short and perhaps as accurate a description as can be found.

With a claimed membership of 50,000 around the country, ADAers in recent years have spoken more and more to each other—the little band of liberals in Congress and their adherents in the labor movement and elsewhere on the fringes of the Democratic party. For regular Democrats it is a gadfly, a nuisance, and they would long since have swatted it if they could.

IN ITS ORIGINS in 1947 ADA was something else and the historical perspective is important. Averell Harriman, now Under Secretary of State, had returned from his wartime ambassadorship in Moscow deeply disturbed by certain attitudes here at home. Under the impact of wartime propaganda he found many Americans eager to believe that getting along with Russia simply meant being nice to Stalin.

BUT AT firsthand he had seen the dictator's determination to impose communism everywhere and particularly in Western Europe which lay stricken by war and Nazi occupation. As the Marshall Plan to restore a free Europe took shape it was vitally important that left-of-center elements understand its objectives and the threat of Communist imperialism. That is why many influential men and women such as Harriman helped to father ADA.

IT WAS OPPOSED and denounced by those who had, in effect, allowed themselves to become part of the Communist apparatus and who later fielded a third party aimed in 1948 at defeating Harry Truman. Harriman, one of America's richest men, was a member from 1947 through 1949 and contributed nearly $5,000. ADA supported the Marshall Plan which, with $20 billion of American aid, helped to restore Europe's flourishing free economy.

Other members were Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt; Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers; the Rt. Rev. William Scarlett, then Episcopal Bishop of St. Louis; James H. Rowe Jr., a Washington lawyer now one of President Johnson's close advisers; Rep. Chet Holifield of California; Barry Bingham, publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal. Many of these early members, Harriman being one, left when they felt the foreign policy objective was attained.

BUT OTHERS, such as the late Sen. Herbert Lehman of New York, long a generous contributor, and Senators Humphrey and Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania replaced them. ADA became an advocate for social legislation—civil rights, medical care for the aged, public housing.

As for ADA's reaction to Miller's fiery denunciation, the dragon of Connecticut Avenue is amazed and delighted. New subscriptions are pouring in. This was more notice than the organization has had in years.

Why did Jesus choose unlearned and ignorant men for His disciples? V.C.

The Bible says: "Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus."

These observers recognized (perceived) that Peter and John had no formal, theological training. But they perceived something more important: that they had been with Jesus. It has pleased God through the centuries to "choose the weak things of the world to confound the mighty." These disciples may not have qualified to sit in the Sanhedrin, but they had sat at the feet of Jesus, and because of that the multitude marvelled at them. They had shared His wisdom, they had been partakers of His power, and though "unlearned and ignorant" by the world's standards, they made a greater impact than the intellectuals of their day upon the world they lived in. With all of our getting of knowledge in these days of high educational standards, wouldn't it be wonderful if the world could look upon modern Christians and, "Take knowledge of us because we have been with Jesus."

Acne A Common Affliction Among Teenagers

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What causes pimples and blackheads? Will anything clear them up completely? Is external medication used?—MISS A. B.

Pimples and blackheads (depending on definitions, they may be the same thing) are what we lump together as "acne."

There is no more common affliction among young people than this—unless maybe being hungry, in love, or having colds. I'd make a guess that in your case you don't have a vast number of pimples and blackheads. If you did, you'd probably be calling it "acne."

It's just a question of degree. When there are a great many such eruptions on the skin, it's "acne." Relatively few, it's "pimples and blackheads." They are all the same, and are fought by exactly the same methods.

The skin is crowded with millions of small glands. Call them pores if you wish, for the sweat glands, and use other terms (such as "sebaceous glands") for the tiny ones which provide oil.

In the teens, the body is maturing. These glands go into a burst of activity. The oily secretions of the skin increase. If a tiny gland becomes plugged, it is a "pimple." If, however, the oily stuff reaches the surface—and then becomes plugged — it turns black from the action of the air upon it. And that's a "blackhead." If you squeeze a blackhead (I don't recommend that, unless you do it properly) some whitish material follows after the plug pops out. It's the same oil product of the little gland, but the whitish material hasn't been exposed to the air and hence hasn't changed color.

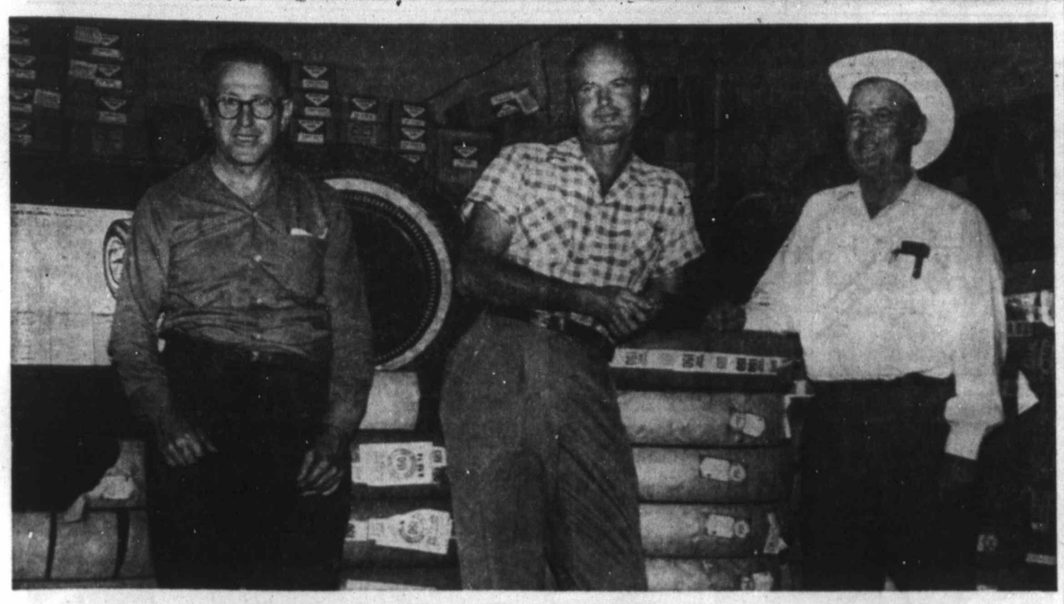

"Acne" or "pimples" or "blackheads" are glands which have become more or less clogged.

If the plugged gland becomes mildly infected, and hence red and swollen, the complexion looks worse. In a lot of cases, the infection is so severe that a small scar results, and enough of these can cause permanent pitting of the skin later.

For reasons as yet not fully understood, some of us have fewer pimples and blackheads than others; also, some of us are more likely to have small infections develop. But acne, in some form, whether mild or severe, plagues nearly all of us before we grow up. Only rarely do we encounter the "perfect skin," that never has at least a few of these blemishes.

Can we clear them up completely? Well, no, I don't suppose so, any more than human beings can ever be perfect. But we can do a good deal, often easily, to correct the condition. Tomorrow I'll continue with some of the ways you can subdue these pimples and blackheads.

Johnson Far Ahead With State Newspaper Backing

By The Associated Press

Texas daily newspapers have lined up overwhelmingly in support of Lyndon Johnson, a survey shows.

This is in sharp contrast to the last presidential election, when Texas dailies split almost evenly between the Republican and Democratic tickets although the home-state man, Johnson, even then was on the ticket as vice presidential candidate with John Kennedy.

The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal is one of those not yet endorsing either Johnson or Barry Goldwater. Editor Chas. A. Guy said, "It is conceivable that many things could happen between now and Nov. 3 to change the complexion of anyone's thinking."

The Avalanche - Journal is nominally independent - Democratic and supported the GOP's Richard Nixon in 1960, backed Johnson for the Senate. Johnson ran for both vice president and the Senate that year.

More than one fourth of the papers expected editorially to name a choice are supporting the Democrats. About 100 daily newspapers publish in Texas and about half endorse a party nominee.

Already some major switches from Republican to Democratic have occurred.

The Houston Post, listed as independent politically, has not supported a Democratic nominee since Franklin D. Roosevelt, but now is for Johnson, saying he "is the best qualified to lead this country." It called his record impressive. The Post supported Nixon in 1960.

The Dallas Times Herald, which supported the GOP ticket four years ago, called for the election of Johnson, saying, "in the crucial hours of history, nothing can replace leadership—built upon courage to make decisions born of wisdom and experience." The paper is independent-Democratic.

Publisher Carl Estes of the Longview News and Journal supported Nixon in 1960 but said in a page-one editorial that he believes Johnson to be the best qualified and likely to make the best president. The News and Journal are independent-Democratic.

The Corsicana Sun announced it will actively support Johnson. It has been a Democratic paper since it was founded in 1895.

Another long-time Democratic paper, The Temple Telegram, supports Johnson.

For the first time since 1924, the San Antonio Express and News have endorsed a Democratic presidential candidate. It has rarely endorsed a Democratic ticket for president in its 99 years. The Express and News have come under new ownership since 1960 and now are a part of the Harte-Hanks group.

The Harte-Hanks group has been favorable to Johnson's candidacy for many years. Among others of that group which have endorsed Johnson for president are The Corpus Christi Caller and Times, The Paris News and the San Angelo Standard-Times.

The papers in the Harte-Hanks group are either independent-Democratic or Democratic. The Caller and Times backed Dwight Eisenhower both times he ran, but backed the Democrats four years ago.

Five newspapers in the Fentress Newspapers group also have endorsed the Democratic ticket. They are the Austin American (independent), the Austin Statesman (Democratic), the Waco News-Tribune and Times-Herald (both independent-Democratic), and the Port Arthur News (independent).

The Sherman Democrat, politically independent-Democratic, has endorsed Johnson. It endorsed the Democratic ticket in 1960 also.

Hardesty Quits Race

Frank Hardesty, Howard County Democratic chairman, who left here with the announcement he would campaign at the Texas Democratic Convention in Dallas for district committeeman, withdrew from the race Monday.

As a result, Tom Gordon, candidate from Abilene for the post, was unanimously elected.

Mrs. James G. (Betty) Staton, Sweetwater, was re-elected district committeewoman.

Dispatches from Dallas indicated that Hardesty decided to step out of the race when it was learned that the governor had said he wanted Gordon as committeeman.

The action eliminated what had loomed as a probable bitter floor fight at the convention.

New Flight Is Popular

Trans-Texas Airways boardings for the first half of September from Howard County Airport totaled 122, Dean Berry, station manager, said this morning. This flight has averaged almost 10 boardings per day.

The beginning of the 6:03 a.m. flights to Dallas, in Convairs, has seen a steady increase in boardings, Berry said, and if the trend holds steady, the month's boardings will run close to 250 as compared to the former high for any month of 209 in July.

"The more people learn about the full day's stay in Dallas on the new schedules, the more boardings we will have," Berry said. "Connections to all parts of the nation can now be made in Dallas, and those going to Austin and Houston may make connections at Abilene and Dallas, permitting early arrivals in both places."

Businessmen may now leave on the east-bound flight, spend a day and return at 8:52 p.m., eliminating the necessity of an over-night stay.

Vacationing

Lee Porter, county judge, and Mrs. Porter left today for a two weeks vacation with their son, Lt. Louis Porter and his wife, in Savannah, Ga.

Mrs. Burrow's Funeral Today

Services for Mrs. Dora Estella Burrow, 76, 1206 W. 6th, who died suddenly at 4:45 a.m. Monday in a local hospital, were set for 3 p.m. today in the River-Welch Funeral Home chapel. The Rev. Kenneth Andres, pastor of the Westside Baptist Church, officiated, and burial was in Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of River-Welch Funeral Home.

Mrs. Burrow, born in Tennessee, came to Howard County in 1934 from Mitchell County.

Survivors include the husband, a son, two grandchildren, two great-grandchildren, and two sisters.

Pallbearers were Reuben Trantham, W. E. Holeman, Elvis Caudill, E. O. Sanderson, Pete Sanderson, Warren Miers.

Trailer Burns

Firemen answered one call Monday, when a rental trailer caught fire about 10 miles west of the city on US 80 about 11:40 p.m. The trailer was rented by Stanley Sylak, Odessa, who was driving on the highway pulling the trailer at the time the fire began. The trailer and contents were reported a total loss by firemen.

Cubs Meet With Mrs. Johnson

Den 1, Cub Scout Pack 48, met Monday afternoon in the home of the Den Mother, Mrs. Ben F. Johnson Jr. The meeting was opened with Kyle Stallings leading the Pledge of Allegiance. Jesse Armistead was given a welcome as a new member.

Following games of physical fitness the boys worked on their project in keeping with the theme of the month, "Come to the Fair." The Pack will hold its meeting Feb. 24 at the First Presbyterian Church. Seven boys attended.

No. 2162-A

Notice is hereby given to whom concerned that the application of COLORADO RIVER MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT, P.O. Box 869, Big Spring, Texas, was received on the 17th day of July, 1964, in the office of the Texas Water Commission. Applicant seeks to amend its Application No. 2162, granted June 20, 1960, as follows:

(1) To change the location of the dam from the point proposed in Application No. 2162 on the Colorado River in Mitchell County, to a point on the Colorado River in Coke County. The new location sought for the dam is approximately 2 miles west of Robert Lee, Texas, with station 74 plus 00 on the centerline of the proposed dam located S 1 degree 05 minutes E 10,645 feet from the southeast corner of Section 412, H&TC RR Co. Survey, Block 1-A, A-1676, Coke County, Texas;

(2) To increase the storage capacity of the dam and reservoir by a total of 85,060 acre-feet (from 403,700 acre-feet at the original Mitchell County dam site to 488,760 acre-feet at the proposed Coke County dam site);

(3) To divert the water to be appropriated at a point which bears S 15 degrees 10 minutes W 2011 feet from the southwest corner of H&TC RR Co. Survey, Block 1-A, A-1676, Coke County, Texas, on the left bank of the Colorado River, approximately 3.2 miles northwesterly from Robert Lee, Texas, and to increase the rate of diversion by 30,000 gallons per minutes (from 40,000 gallons per minute authorized under Application No. 2162 to 70,000 gallons per minute);

(4) To change the amount of water authorized to be appropriated under Application No. 2162 for industrial use from 5,000 acre-feet of water per annum to 2,000 acre-feet of water per annum, and for mining use from 5,000 acre-feet of water per annum to 8,000 acre-feet of water per annum, but not changing the amount of 40,000 acre-feet of water per annum authorized to be appropriated for municipal use nor the total amount of 50,000 acre-feet of water authorized to be appropriated annually under said Application No. 2162;

(5) To add as an additional authorized use, the use in place in the reservoir of the total amount of water impounded therein for the purpose of recreation.

The place of use of the waters used for municipal, industrial and mining purposes will be in the following counties in the Colorado River watershed, but only in those portions thereof within the watershed of the Colorado River: Coke, Ector, Glasscock, Howard, Martin, Midland, Mitchell, Nolan, Runnels, Scurry and Sterling counties. Notice of this fact is hereby given to record appropriators in the Colorado River watershed, both within the watershed as a whole and within those portions of said watershed in the above-described counties in which the water is to be introduced and used.

Water which is diverted for municipal use but not consumed as a result thereof will be returned to the Colorado River and its tributaries at sites of the sewage treatment plants of cities served by the District within the above-named counties. Water which is diverted for industrial use or mining use but not consumed as a result thereof will be returned to the Colorado River or its tributaries within the above-named counties.

Applicant further proposes to construct a system of low-flow pollution control diversion works in the channel of the Colorado River in Scurry and Mitchell counties, and to use as part of its appropriation for mining purposes polluted waters there occurring, consisting of the salt water, oil field brine and commingled salt and fresh water.

Said application was accepted for filing by the Texas Water Commission on the 17th day of August, 1964, as Application No. 2162-A, and a hearing thereon will be held by the Texas Water Commission, in the office of the Commission at Austin, Texas, on MONDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1964, beginning at ten o'clock a.m., at which time and place all parties interested may appear and be heard. Such hearing will be continued from time to time, and from place to place, if necessary, until such determination has been made relative to said application as the said Texas Water Commission may deem right, equitable and proper.

Given under and by virtue of an order of the Texas Water Commission, at the office of the said Commission at Austin, Texas, this the 17th day of August, 1964.

Demos Show United Front

DALLAS (AP)—Texas Democrats held their second 1964 state convention today with intraparty squabbles shushed to present a united front in support of President Lyndon Johnson.

Gov. John Connally appeared in full control of a session whose prime purpose was to write a state platform and name new state party officials.

Work on the platform draft continued in the wee hours today. Action on the final draft is expected to be one of the convention's last actions this afternoon.

Connally said earlier he wanted the party policy statement to be "a guideline for advancement of state governmental affairs" rather than a copy of the national platform.

The governor chose Marvin Watson, 40, steel company executive and political troubleshooter, as new head of the state Democratic executive committee. He succeeds Frank Erwin, the new national committeeman.

NO WALKOUT

The gathering of 5,669 delegates, plus about 1,800 guests, was unusual in Texas political history because there was no threat of a walkout.

The governor and U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., feuded sharply for party control before the first state convention at Houston in June. Connally's forces won a 2,137 to 664 test vote and part of the convention's largest delegation, from Harris County, walked out.

A telephone call Monday night ended any apparent chance the two leaders might clash in person today. A spokesman for Yarborough said the senator was rushing back to Washington to vote on reapportionment legislation and would not be able to attend.

Connally and Yarborough made separate appearances Monday night at two appreciation dinners held four miles apart in downtown Dallas. The convention was only casually mentioned but both crowds applauded enthusiastically when urged to support President Johnson's campaign drive.

FIRST TIME

"For the first time," said Connally, "we have the opportunity to elect a president of the United States who is a native Texan . . . we hope for a resounding victory."

There was a five-minute standing ovation from the estimated 1,900 persons attending the $12.50 a plate steak dinner, held in the Trade Mart.

Connally recalled that he and President Kennedy were en route to the Trade Mart last Nov. 22 when hit by an assassin's bullets.

Yarborough received applause from the estimated 2,400 persons at his $10 to $100 a plate chicken dinner as he read part of the speech Kennedy had prepared to deliver here Nov. 22.

U.S. Dist. Judge Sarah Hughes read a telegram from President Johnson urging Yarborough's re-election.

Nurses Here For Clinic

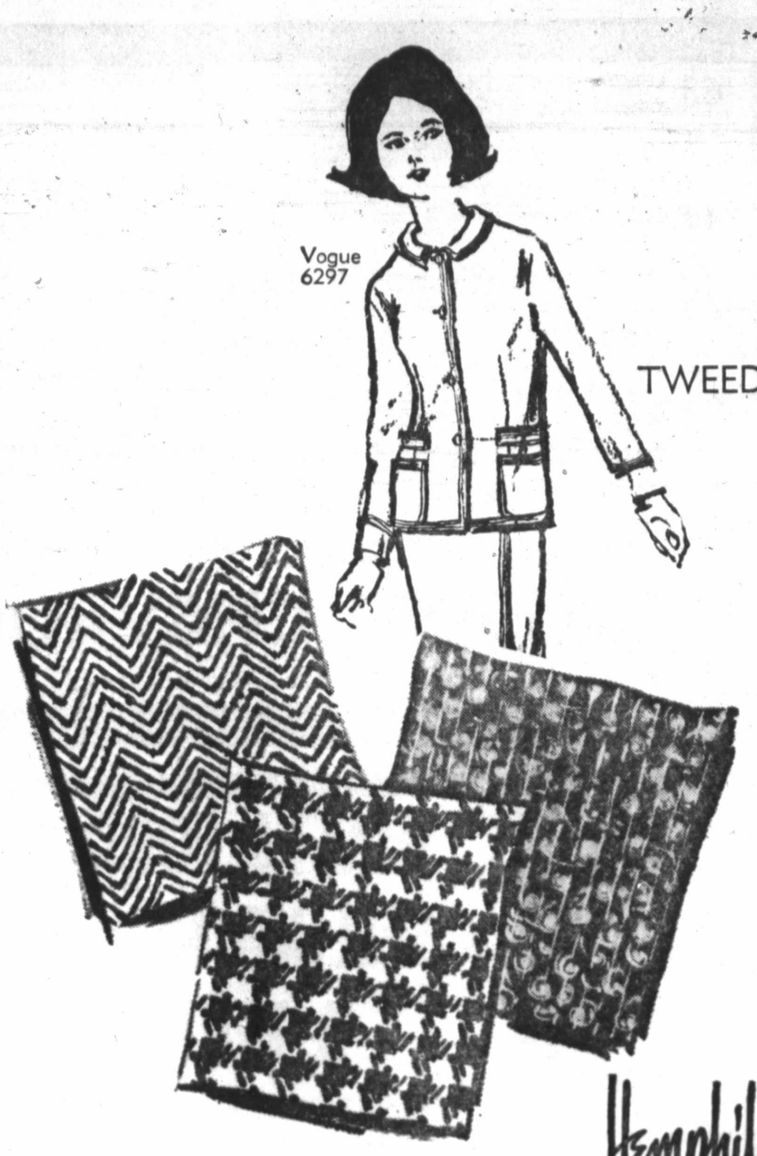

Twenty-one student nurses from Odessa Junior College arrived at the Big Spring State Hospital this morning at 9 o'clock and were welcomed by Supt. Preston E. Harrison as the annual nurses clinic began.

The clinic, which is in the third year of its origin, is held once a year for student nurses at the Odessa school, with the pupils coming to Big Spring every Tuesday and Thursday for nine weeks in order to get credits toward graduation as licensed vocational nurses.

Staff members, who will present various parts of the program during the day-wide meeting, will be: Walter Widger, chief of social service; Dr. Frankie Williams, clinical director; Mrs. Hila Weathers, coordinator of volunteer services; Dorothea Baldwin, director of occupational therapy; and Mrs. Otillie Jolley, director of nursing.

Others on the program include: Dr. Joan Wood, chief of psychiatric services; Harry Davis, psychologist in charge of the out-patient clinic; Dr. Charles Rich, chief of psychological therapies; Chaplain Max Maguire; Dr. Bertha Duncan, psychologist; Dr. Sam Pieper, chief of neurology and medicine; Robert Mabry, director of vocational rehabilitation; and Shelby Parnell, counselor for alcoholics.

The nurses will get much practical experience by working with Ward 7 patients.

Good Response To Meeting On Tourist Trade

George Jordan, representing the West Texas Chamber of Commerce's tourist development department, drew a good response Monday in his preview of a tourist school.

Twenty-five persons turned out for the discussion at First Federal Savings and Loan Community Room. Their questions and remarks indicated real interest in a special six-hour school. WTCC is booked up until after the first of the year, however.

Jordan pointed out the potential of tourist development. Studies have shown 3,500 cars moving between Fort Worth and El Paso come through here daily, he said. If only 10 per cent of these could be induced to make a stop, this would be the equivalent of an industry with $3,500,000 business, he said.

Auto Kills Lad

AUSTIN (AP) — His father's car ran over Ricky Dodd, 2, and killed him Monday in the driveway at their home in Liberty Hill, north of Austin. He was the son of Henry Dodd.

Texas GOP Ready To Light Waiting Goldwater Fires

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Republicans convened today to attend to party business and light the fires they have been laying for a year and a half for Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Goldwater is the man they want in the White House, and his running mate, Rep. William Miller of New York, was on hand to give the Texans a boost.

Several thousand delegates and spectators jammed municipal auditorium for the two jobs of platform writing and opening Texas campaigning with a rush.

The one-day meeting was crammed with the usual speeches by party leaders, a demonstration for gubernatorial nominee Jack Crichton of Dallas and adoption of a platform for Crichton's campaign.

In his keynote speech, Crichton urged the crowd to hustle votes for "our kind of people —conservatives, spokesmen for personal freedom and limited government."

"At long last, we have as candidates for every office for which we shall vote in Texas this year our kind of people," Crichton said.

"We have our kind of man as the Republican candidate for president of the United States — the man whose nomination drive we launched just a year and a half ago, the man whose victory in San Francisco we assured at the unforgettable June session of this great Republican convention."

Crichton pledged that in campaigning he will show Texans that "the present governor is not their kind of man any more than he is yours or mine."

He told delegates there is no retreat from present Republican commitments "because ours is a commitment to truth and to right which does not switch and change from age to age—which is extreme only in its soundness and wisdom—which arises not from hatred toward any man, but from profound respect for the dignity and the divine spark in every individual human being."

Much of Crichton's speech dealt with proposals he had presented Monday to the convention platform committee.

Some of these recommendations were for no state civil rights legislation, a crackdown on crime, no new taxes, reducing the size of government and election code reforms.

Other speakers were Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., and U.S. Senate candidate George Bush of Houston.

Opening lead: King of ♠ South landed an optimistic six heart contract when he induced a somewhat naive opponent to accept a "greek gift" that was offered to him.

North's jump raise to three hearts was eminently sound; however, he should have signed off on the next round by merely returning to four hearts inasmuch as he has the minimum 13 points required for his response. When North showed the diamond support as well as the spade ace, South could hardly be blamed for bidding the slam.

Altho a club opening would have greatly facilitated the defensive chores, West made the more natural lead of the spade king and North's ace won the trick. Declarer observed that he had not been blessed with an abundance of assets, and that a very favorable division in diamonds would be required to land his slam.

He tested the trump suit first by leading to the ace of hearts and then back to dummy's king, as all hands followed. The diamond queen was put thru next for a finesse in that suit. East's decision to cover with the king was questionable even tho he was assured of ultimately winning a trick in the suit with the ten, inasmuch as he can just as conveniently play the king on the next round if declarer continues with the jack.

South was in his hand with the ace of diamonds and he led back the suit — purposely refraining from drawing the last trump. He had little to lose by this maneuver for, if the diamonds do not divide evenly, the slam cannot be made. West, apparently under the assumption that his opponent had miscounted the hearts, hastened to ruff in with the ten of trumps. His satisfaction in scoring a heart trick that could have been denied him was short lived, for South promptly claimed the rest of the tricks. East's ten of diamonds must succumb to the jack on the next round, and declarer ultimately discards North's losing club on his long diamond and ruffs out dummy's spades with his two remaining trumps.

Had West discarded on the second diamond, declarer would have fallen short of his goal, for a diamond trick must still be conceded to East and, when South ultimately draws the last trump, he has only one heart left in his hand and is therefore able to ruff out only one of North's spades. A spade trick must be surrendered at the end.

McIntyre Said Slightly Better

ROME (AP) — The condition of James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, Roman Catholic archbishop of Los Angeles, was described as "slightly better" today.

The 78-year-old cardinal collapsed Monday during ceremonies opening the third session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council in St. Peter's.

Aides said he was over-tired from his trip from Los Angeles and suffered from the heat in the basilica.
