STRIKE CLOUD IS HOVERING

EMPLOYERS AND UNION LEADERS STICK TO THEIR GUNS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—On the eve of a peace conference called to prevent a strike from crippling the nation's textile industry, union leaders and employers stuck to their guns today.

As the national labor relations board threw all its influence behind the peace move, these storm clouds hovered:

Employers Accused

1. Francis J. Gorman, chairman of the United Textile Workers strike board, accused employers of trying to depict the workers as striking against the government.

2. Some cotton mill managers were reported ready to close their factories if the strike materializes next Tuesday as planned.

The union leaders have accepted the labor board's invitation to a "round table" talk tomorrow and the manufacturers, though reported to be making preparations for the strike, are expected to attend also. Chairman Lloyd Garrison, noted mediator, will preside.

Gorman accused George A. Sloan, head of the cotton textile institute, of trying to put strike leaders in the plight of striking against the cotton textile code, or the government. He said Sloan was trying to get code authority members to come to the peace conference.

Boy And Girl Held In Extortion Plot

HOLLIS, Okla., Aug. 29 (AP)—A boy and a girl were held here today for questioning in connection with a plot to extort $500 from E. M. Slaughter, president of the National Bank of Commerce, under threat of death to the banker's invalid daughter, 15-year-old Jane Ann Slaughter.

County Attorney Ryan Kerr declined to disclose the names of the suspects pending completion of his investigation. He said he had not decided whether to turn them over to federal authorities.

ASK CODE REVISION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Contending that workers in the oil industry were "much worse off" under the oil code than before it was put into operation, the International Association of Oil Field, Gas Well and Refinery workers today asked that the code be reopened and its labor provisions entirely rewritten.

UPTON SINCLAIR FAR AHEAD; WETS UP IN SOUTH CALIFORNIA

ELECTION RESULTS

The results of primary elections in three states yesterday follow:

California: For governor—Democrats apparently have named Upton Sinclair, Republicans picked acting Governor Frank E. Merriam; for U. S. senator—Hiram W. Johnson was named by both Democrats and Republicans.

South Carolina: Liquor referendum—wets have narrow lead; for Democratic gubernatorial nomination—Olin D. Johnston leads Cole L. Blease, with runoff primary necessary.

Mississippi: For Democratic senatorial nomination: Senator Hubert D. Stephens leads former Governor Bilbo, with runoff primary likely.

(By The Associated Press)

Unless incomplete figures from yesterday's primary election are overthrown by later returns, Upton Sinclair, Socialist, will be the Democratic party's candidate in November for the governorship of California.

The fiery-penned novelist-crusader rode to the nomination yesterday on an E-P-I-C platfor—"End Poverty In California."

"New Deal Victory"

In apparently defeating George Creel, who was President Wilson's propaganda chief during the World war, and two other candidates—Milton K. Young (the 1930 nominee) and Justus S. Wardell, conservative Democrat—Sinclair scored what he termed today a "victory for the new deal."

Senator Hiram W. Johnson, one time seeker of the Republican presidential nomination and before that a Bull Mooser, was nominated on both the Republican and Democratic tickets to succeed himself. An independent Republican, he had the support of President Roosevelt, whose policies he has supported.

Acting Governor Frank E. Merriam, who succeeded to the gubernatorial chair when James Rolph, jr., died several months ago, was

Reconciliation Of Stars Not Denied

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 29 (AP)—Answering a question about a reported reconciliation with Douglas Fairbanks, film star, Mary Pickford, screen actress, said today: "I won't deny it."

The question was asked the actress after reports became persistent that the couple would announce a reconciliation in several days. They have been seen together frequently since Fairbanks returned here 10 days ago from Europe, where he went some 14 months ago after separating from the actress. Later she sued for divorce but the case has not been brought to trial.

Mattress Factory Plans Incomplete

Plans have not been completed for the installation of the proposed relief mattress factory in Lubbock, according to W. E. Inmon, county administrator, who explained a building for the plant would probably not be available until about October 1.

More than 1,000 yards of mattress ticking is on hand for the plant, when and if it is started. It would be necessary for local men to make the necessary benches and tables, about the only equipment needed. Little machinery is used in mattress making, Inmon said.

The plant would employ between 20 and 25 persons. These would come from the county relief roll, which now includes about 1,200 persons.

PRAYER MEETING TONIGHT

"FULL, FRANK DISCUSSION" IS ASKED

ACCOUNTING OF TEXAS EXPENDITURES IS BEING SOUGHT

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 29—Immediate action in the Texas house of representatives on a bill to issue $9,500,000 in state relief bonds was delayed today by debate on resolutions to request the Texas Relief commission to give detailed information on past relief expenditures.

A bill to issue the bonds was approved yesterday by a house committee but a move was made today to recommit the bill to the house as a committee of the whole for a "full and frank discussion" of relief problems between Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, the relief commission and the legislature.

Accounting Asked

A resolution by Representatives Harold Kayton of San Antonio and J. C. Duvall of Fort Worth proposed that no further action be taken on the bill until a "full accounting has been made of expenditures of federal and state relief funds."

Representative R. J. Long of Wichita Falls, author and floor leader for the bill, said the commission hoped to have the information available today.

Representative Gordon Burns insisted that an accounting be made. "There are some members who would like to know why the Texas relief commission spent $48 000 for cod liver oil when the board of control spends a much smaller amount for all state institutions," Burns said.

Amendments Rejected

SLASH IN LIQUOR TAXES IS SOUGHT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29—Slashes in federal taxes and import duties to eliminate the bootlegger will be proposed in the next congress by a group of representatives who led the repeal fight.

The fact that the treasury has not reaped the harvest of revenue expected from liquor sales and the continuance of large-scale bootlegging prompted the move.

Proposals to restore the old domestic rate of $1.10 a gallon on 100 proof liquor and to slice the $5 a gallon tariff by 50 per cent are being considered by experts attached to the house ways and means committee.

Secretary Morgenthau has indicated he is opposed at present to any reduction in the existing $2 domestic tax. He is seeking to kill the illicit traffic by a large force of internal revenue agents.

DILLINGER GIVEN POST MORTEM BY BAR ASSOCIATION

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 29 (AP)—John Dillinger was given a hearing by the American Bar association today and, from the evidence leading lawyers were expected to evolve a plan for a concerted drive on felons.

The criminal law section of the association had the problem before it. The lawyers took up the study of the slain Indiana desperado with the expectation that public sympathy would be blamed in part for the difficulties of law enforcement agencies in coping with Dillinger and other outlaws.

Joseph B. Keenan, assistant United States attorney general, led the discussion. He was expected to refer in his address to the widely-publicized photograph of District Attorney Robert Estill, of Crown Point, Ind., with his arm around Dillinger's shoulder.

Estill had been censored by the association for allowing himself to be photographed with the criminal he was supposed to prosecute.

COSTS OF NEW DEAL GIVEN

MORGENTHAU SETS THE DEFICIT AT ABOUT HALF BILLION

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Secretary Morgenthau's view that the cost of the new deal in its first 16 months may run as low as $505,000,000 is expected to be a talking point in the fall campaigns.

There appeared no doubt that the figuring the treasury head did before a nation-wide radio audience last night would be acclaimed by friends and assailed by at least some foes. Estimates of new deal costs by the two camps have been billions of dollars apart.

Inflation Move Looms

Morgenthau's statement that the $2,800,000,000 "profit" the government reaped by its gold policy eventually would be applied to reducing the national debt also aroused much interest. Word from Wall Street was that this was regarded as reassuring and likely to bolster the government bond market.

Observers hold that when the treasury pays out gold certificates backed by this profit it will mean a currency inflation of $2,800,000,000. Many onlookers had predicted

AAA PAYMENTS INCLUDED IN ESTIMATES

RICHBERG SAYS LEVEL WITHIN 5 PER CENT OF PRE-WAR PARITY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29—Donald R. Richberg reported to President Roosevelt today that farm prices have risen to within five per cent of the famous "pre-war parity" which the administration has been striving to reach.

The head of the president's executive council made plain that his figures include benefit payments received by farmers through the AAA. He also stressed that the drouth slashed some major crops and "therefore the high prices do not mean a fully corresponding increase in farm income."

"Recovery Essential"

He warned that for complete farm recovery "it is essential that there be more of a revival in industrial production and more extension of re-employment." In his first report, last Sunday, Richberg claimed marked industrial gains and, in particular, the re-employment of 4,120,000 persons.

Pre-war parity—meaning the real price level of 1910 to 1914 as measured in terms of purchasing power—often has been cited as a goal of the Roosevelt agricultural program.

The report also declared:

1. Farm income for 1934 appears likely to exceed 1933 by about 19 per cent. While this was a "substantial gain," Richberg said, "it leaves farm income still far below the levels of 1923-29."

2. Rental and benefit payments made to farmers totaled $311,000,000 between August, 1933, and June, 1934.

3. Farm income aggregated $5,083,000,000 for 1933-34 as compared with $3,881,000,000 for 1932-33.

Surpluses Reduced

RANGE PROSPECTS IN TEXAS BETTER

(By The Associated Press)

Range prospects were definitely improved and the soil conditioned for fall planting by rains in far West Texas and in scattered sections of North and East Texas yesterday.

The drouth was broken in Dickens, Kent, Scurry, Mitchell and parts of Fisher counties, rainfall varying from a quarter of an inch to two inches.

Tyler, at the edge of the East Texas oil field, had slightly more than an inch of precipitation in an hour—the first rain of consequence there since last April. Austin reported "a sprinkle" and for the fifth consecutive day, showers cooled the air in Dallas, dropping the temperature from 93 at 4 p. m. to 85 at 6 p. m.

Break-Up Of Prison "Strike" Indicated

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29 (AP)—One hundred of the more than 1,100 convicts in Eastern penitentiary who have gone hungry almost 24 hours because they refused to work went back to their duties in the prison today after conferences between prison officials and delegations of inmates.

Authorities saw in the return of the men to the rag shop, remodeling kitchen and boiler room indications of a break-up of the "strike" of the convicts.

NEW OIL FIRE MENACE SEEN

CITIZENS OF CAMPANA FLEE IN TERROR AS FLAMES SPREAD

(By The Associated Press)

CAMPANA, Argentina, Aug. 29—Residents fled in terror today as a sea of flaming oil and gasoline flowed toward explosion-rocked Campana.

A change in wind early today sent the fire licking toward the city after giant oil tanks had gone up like firecrackers. Oil from more than a score of big tanks and numerous smaller ones was burning.

Five Known Dead

Five were known dead in the catastrophe, with others missing. The list of injured is in the hundreds and property damage runs into the millions of dollars.

A fire caused 12 tanks to blow up yesterday, shaking a wide area, and shortly after midnight 14 other huge containers exploded. More than 100,000,000 gallons of gasoline of the National Oil company, a Standard oil subsidiary, spread over the territory.

Marines and police speeded evacuation of Campana. Hardly a house in the city of several thousand was left undamaged.

The explosions were felt in Montevideo and other Uruguayan cities, some as far as 60 miles away.

F.D.R. Laughs Away Inflation Inquiries

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt emphasized today at his regular press conference here that it is only the ultimate intention of the government to use the gold profit from devaluation of the dollar and he laughed away inquiries of inflation by immediate use of this fund.

The president spoke in response to questions about the speeches last night by Secretary Morgenthau stating the purpose to employ the $2,800,000,000 gold profit eventually for retirement of the public debt.

NELSON HEADS CRIME LIST

"BABY FACE" SAID TO BE MOVING IN ON NORTHWEST AREA

(By The Associated Press)

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 29—Police authorities believed today that George "Baby Face" Nelson may be "moving in" to terrorize the northwest states, long the stamping grounds of his late chief, John Dillinger.

Their conclusion was based on the belief that Nelson, now known as the nation's No. 1 public enemy, had surrounded himself with a picked gang of criminals to prey on society.

As evidence of the organized gang, authorities point to a report that Homer Van Meter, Dillinger lieutenant, met his death from police bullets here last Thursday as the result of a tip by his own associates who feared Van Meter's associations with women would endanger plans for new raids.

Raids Planned

The report had it that Nelson and his gang had planned to stage a

Former Convict Is Billed For Kidnap

TYLER, Aug. 29 (AP)—John B. Willis, former Louisiana convict, today was under four indictments charging him with kidnaping Mr. and Mrs. Marshal Herring near Tyler last Saturday night, with armed robbery of the young couple and with criminal assault on Mrs. Herring, bride of a few weeks.

Judge Nat W. Brocks set Willis' trial for next Monday after the Smith county grand jury returned the indictments yesterday.

Officers refused to reveal where Willis is held, after he was taken from the jail at Palestine, but said he was in solitary confinement after they found in his pocket a letter he had written to relatives indicating that he contemplated suicide.

'SQUARE DEAL' FOR TEXAS IS ASKED

DIRECTORS SAY STATE WAS DISCRIMINATED AGAINST BY FERA

(By The Associated Press)

STAMFORD, Aug. 29—Town directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce are this week contacting their representatives in the state legislature with a plea to make issuance of $9,500,000 in relief bonds, unsold balance of the original $20,000,000 issue authorized by the people, contingent upon a better parity arrangement with the Federal Emergency Relief administration.

Recently the directorate gave overwhelmingly endorsement to a two-point program for Texas, submitted in referendum form by the WTCC's territorial development commission headed by Ray H. Nichols of Vernon, the two points being that (1) Federal allotments to Texas should be increased to a parity with other states, and (2) State supplementary funds should be reduced to a parity with other states.

Bonds Not Opposed

In a statement released today from the chamber's headquarters, Nichols said: "The West Texas chamber is not placing itself on record as opposing voting of the balance of the bonds, but is asking our West Texas senators and representatives to work out a better parity arrangement with the federal government before they vote to issue all of the remaining state bonds. We have submitted an analysis of this question of the Texas Relief commission and it is available to all members of the legislature. It will show that Texas has suffered marked discrimination in relief allotments from Washington."

The analysis prepared by the WTCC headquarters staff revealed that out of a total federal grant from May 23 through July 31 of $932,278,664 to the 48 states and District of Columbia, Texas received

PRICES MOVE UP IN ALL MARKETS

CHICAGO, Aug. 29 (AP)—The upward price movement, intense in the hog market since Aug. 3, spread to cattle and grain in Chicago today.

Hogs moved up again to a new top of $8.05 a hundredweight.

The hog producer, when the $2.25 processing tax is added, is getting close to $10 a hundredweight for his hogs, nearly $1 above the $8.80 (the 1909-1914 average) fixed by the AAA as its objective in the price raising campaign.

In the cattle alleys a new top of $10.90 was paid for prime weighty steers.

Grain prices rose sharply on reports of frost damage in Canada and strength in foreign markets. Wheat and corn futures showed gains at times of almost two cents a bushel.

WILL CHICAGO'S SCHOOL TEACHERS PLEASE COME AND GET THEIR CHECKS

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 29—Will Chicago's school teachers please come and get their pay checks?

The school board which they have importuned for months now has the money, and will be ever so much obliged if the teachers will come and get it.

That $22,300,000 loan from the R. F. C. put the schoolmarm's and schoolmaster's salary back at par this week for the first time in many months. When the paychecks started issuing from a special disbursement office Monday noon with great ceremony and to-do, there was a waiting line of teachers five deep along the sidewalk for a couple of blocks.

Now it's the school board that complains.

The waiting line is gone. The teachers have collected $14,463,000 of the long lamented salaries. There remains $11,386,000, and it's going begging. To the 8,000 school board employes who aren't showing much interest in the money they worked for a year or so back, Arthur Squeitzer, in charge of payrolls, said today:

"I wish they would hurry up. I'd like to get the job finished in a couple of days. We could do it easily if the teachers would only come and get their checks."

Give Yourself Rope And You Are Sure To Make Your Figure Firm

Jean Parker, the film star, keeps her figure and those of her contract, by rope skipping exercises.

By ALICE HART
NEA Service Writer

Games and sports appeal more strongly to would-be reducers than routine exercises that are done on the floor to the count of one-two-three. Knowing this, weight authorities have endorsed certain sports and various amusements that are fun to do and at the same time cause loss of weight.

First and foremost, there's swimming. It may not make you lose several pounds but it certainly will equalize your weight. Many a protruding stomach has become lean and hard after the twentieth daily swim. Overweight hips and legs have been known to flatten out into shapely lines as a result of vigorous swimming. And the good old breast stroke certainly helps to slenderize and harden fat shoulders.

If swimming is out of the picture for you, remember that tennis is an excellent exercise. Of course, it's pretty vigorous and you'd better ask your doctor for permission before you decide to do it. Golf is less apt to make you too tired, but if you play regularly, you're pretty sure to lose weight.

If golf, swimming and tennis aren't possible, there are simple exercises that anyone can do. Walk two miles a day and see if you don't lose a few pounds. Or walk upstairs instead of taking the elevator. Or skip rope.

Skipping rope, by the way, is good for the legs, hips and stomach. Don't do it for more than three minutes a day the first month. Then gradually increase the number of minutes per day to ten.

Relax Your Eyes

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

The greatest beauties of all time have been particularly noted for their calm, relaxed and almost placid expressions. And modern women will do well to realize that rested and restful-looking beauty is preferable to the variety that is tired, worn and slightly haggard.

Unless a girl gets the proper of sleep, she can't expect to be fresh and beautiful the following day. Remember that lack of sleep causes lines around the mouth and eyes.

In addition to enough sleep each night, everyone, if it is at all possible, should take a short rest period sometime during the day. A twenty minute nap after lunch makes the afternoon seem pleasanter and does wonders for your skin, eyes and general beauty. And don't forget about that short nap just before you go out in the evening.

When you've finished your bath and removed most of the nourishing cream from face and throat, lie flat on your back and cover your eyes with pads that have been dipped in a soothing eye lotion. You don't need to sleep but keep eyes closed and really relax. The eye lotion will make your eyes clear and sparkling — the short rest will make the corners of your mouth turn up instead of down.

Party At Ralls Is Courtesy To Bride

A shower and tea honoring Mrs. Oliver Travis, jr., whose marriage was announced last week, was given in Ralls Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. B. Ralls. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. M. A. McLaughlin, C. B. Hendricks, W. D. Watkins, and Miss Pauline Ralls, of Ralls, and Mrs. C. E. Dean of Lubbock.

The bride is the former Miss Anseth Jones.

A centerpiece of gladioli, rosebuds, lilies and fern was on the tea table, on which tapers burned. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the flowers and refreshments, Miss Pauline Ralls and Mrs. C. B. Hendricks poured tea and Miss Frances Moore and Miss Frances Cooper served. Mrs. M. A. McLaughlin presided at the bride's book. Many gifts were presented the bride.

Sixty-five guests attended the tea and shower. Those from Lubbock were Mesdames Bays B. Bryant, Cliff Dean, W. O. Daniels, C. A. Whitfield, George Herd, M. E. Ware, Suzanne Flannery, Ben Cole, jr., and Misses Marcella and Jean Ware.

STORM BLOWS OUT TO SEA

TEXAS COAST REMAINS JITTERY AS BLOW HOVERS NEARBY

FREEPORT, Aug. 29. (AP)—The vagaries of a tropical storm which has played hide-and-seek with Texas coast cities several days kept coast residents jittery today, while weather bureau observers attempted to determine the location and direction of the blow.

Lashing first at Galveston with a 40-mile wind Monday, which caused no appreciable damage, the storm next veered southward toward this sulphur shipping port, which suffered severely from a tropical hurricane in July, with a loss of 11 lives. The wind reached a velocity of 60 to 70 miles an hour here, then abated and the storm twisted back into the gulf, hovering off-shore last night.

Residents Move Out

Warned by weather bureau reports to seek safety inland or be prepared to flee quickly, most residents of summer beach resorts and coast fishing towns boarded up their homes and places of business and moved back to higher ground to wait for the storm to pass.

For a time last night, a rapidly increasing wind and falling barometer at Port O'Connor, 80 miles down the coast from Freeport, caused apprehension that a new section of the coast might feel the fury of the storm. The wind reached a velocity of 40 to 50 miles an hour, the tide increased to 3 feet above normal, the barometer dropped to 29.82, then the wind abated and the storm again veered out into the gulf. Residents of Port Lavaca, on Matagorda bay, 22 miles northwest of Port O'Connor, watched the barometer drop eight points there between noon and 8 p. m., but the wind failed to rise to a height which would cause alarm.

Before midnight, rising barometers at Corpus Christi and other points strengthened the opinion that the storm's center had veered sharply southward and was headed away from the coast.

Sanitation Program Is Resumed In Area

Work on pit-type toilets at rural schools, in rural communities and unsewered parts of towns in Lubbock county will be resumed according to J. D. McGuire, Lubbock area director for the United States public health service.

About 30 orders, or two weeks' work, had been scheduled, Olin Lee, supervisor in Lubbock county, said. Orders here should be left at City-County Welfare association offices, at 1312 Avenue G; at Shallowater with Joe Grimes at the lumber yard, and at Monroe with Mr. Gray at the lumber yard.

The Texas Relief commission gives the labor, and the individual owner pays for the materials, in building the sanitary toilets.

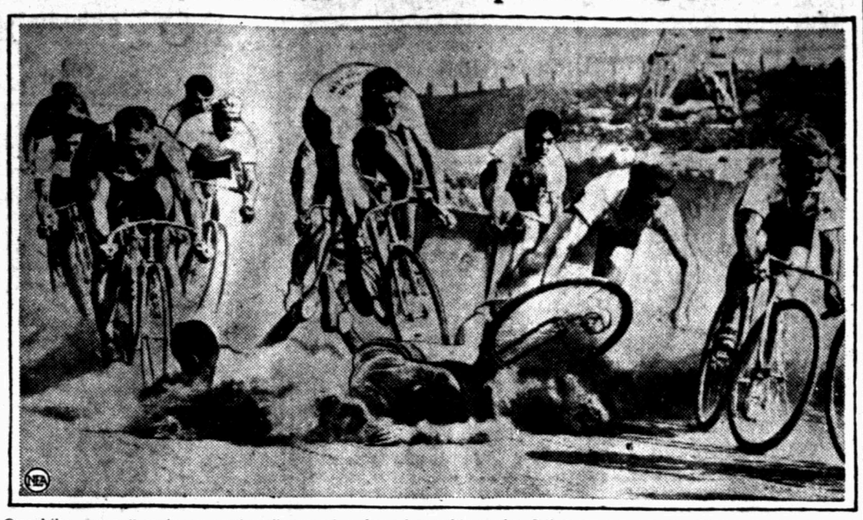

Multiple units have been built at all except three Lubbock county rural schools, Lee said.

The program, earlier under CWA supervision, was resumed about Aug. 1.

STAFF CHOSEN AT COLLEGE

DORMITORY HEADS AT TECH ANNOUNCED BY BRADFORD KNAPP

Appointment of Miss Mozelle Craddock as dietitian and manager of the dormitories at Texas Technological college was announced Tuesday by President Bradford Knapp.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Young of Fort Worth has been named housemother of the women's dormitory and Mrs. Fred S. Buford of Dallas housemother of the men's dormitory.

Heads Department

Miss Craddock, who holds bachelor's degrees from University of Texas and College of Industrial Arts and master's degree from University of Chicago, will serve also as head of a new department of institutional management in the division of home economics of the college.

"Miss Craddock has had a number of years of very successful experience as manager of boarding departments of dormitories at C. I. A. and elsewhere," Doctor Knapp said. "The college feels that it is very fortunate in securing Miss Craddock's services."

Others Have Experience

Mrs. Young, who was educated at Fort Worth, the University of Texas and Oberlin college, in Ohio, has had several years of experience as matron in dormitories. Mrs. Buford, a widow, has been president of the College Mothers' club and has had experience dealing with students in dormitories, said Doctor Knapp.

The three dormitory staff members will report for duty Sept. 15.

HOW STREET NAMED

ATLANTA, Ga., (AP)—Historians say Peachtree creek, which flows through Atlanta, and Peachtree street, the city's longest thoroughfare, derived their names from a gigantic tree used as a target by early Cherokee Indians in their game of throwing rocks. The tribesmen called it the "Pitch-tree" because they pitched stones at it.

EFFECT OF HEAT ON EVOLUTION TOLD BY WISCONSIN UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

WOODS HOLE, Mass., Aug. 29 (AP)—A traffic signal effect of 95 degree temperatures on the course of evolution is described to the Genetics Society of America here by Dr. Victor Jollos of the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Jollos studies appear to clarify the role of temperatures in the creation of new species, a role concerning which scientists are in much doubt. He shows that high temperatures can cause notable and permanent body mutations, some of them striking alterations in appearance.

Experiments With Flies

But also that these temperature effects do not always occur; that sometimes there is a traffic signal effect. This is not merely like a stop and go light, but like an intelligent traffic officer, who detours cars into various routes to clear up a jam.

His experiments were made on yeast flies, which are about the size of four pin heads together. Their larvae when a few days old were subjected to temperatures of 95 or a little more for about 24 hours. These larvae ordinarily develop best about 75 fahrenheit.

The heat treatment produced such body changes as curled wings, spread and unequal length wings, and various eye colors, and sooty colored backs. These changes all may occur naturally, but the heat stepped up their number by about eight-fold.

However, some of these "mutations" were much more likely to occur than others, showing that the heat was "selective," like a traffic officer.

Some Changes Permanent

Unlike the traffic jam situation, Dr. Jollos found the largest number of young flies in a colony was small. These traffic effects may explain some of the difficulties scientists have had in getting clear evidence of the effect of heat on evolution.

Some of the heat mutations on flies were permanent. After 100 generations they were still inherited by offspring of the original mutant fly. Other changes were only temporary.

Abels Have Narrow Escape In Arroyo

Sheriff Tom Abel and three members of his family narrowly escaped drowning or injury when their car stalled in a flooded arroyo a short distance east of Capitan, N. M., Sunday, the officer said Tuesday.

The family was returning from a vacation at Hot Springs. Before Mr. and Mrs. Abel, their son, T. J., and daughter, Bonnie, could get out of the car flood waters had covered the seats of the machine.

Rapidly-rising water soon covered the automobile. After the flood subsided, the car was removed, cleaned and dried, and the Abels completed their trip, arriving home Monday night.

Farmers Ready To Plant In Randall

CANYON, Aug. 29 (Special)—Farmers of Randall county already are in the fields preparing to plant wheat following rains extending over three days and totaling 2.25 inches. Wheat pasture will be generally used this winter to carry stock since the range grass will be scanty even if the rains received are sufficient to mature a fall growth of it.

The rains will help row crops, which are largely grain sorghum, to grow enough for rough feed but not to mature grain unless frost is much later than usual, it was said.

Mr. Clark, in failing health, had appointed Campbell H. Elkins to conduct the office. Elkins was unsuccessful candidate for election as justice of the peace.

Let's crack this subject of car buying WIDE OPEN

"again we urge you "DON'T BUY ANY CAR TOO HURRIEDLY"

You experienced car buyers know how well it pays to look around, drive several makes of cars and compare before you sign an order.

That's why Hudson and Terraplane dealers say to you: "Don't buy any car too hurriedly." We want you to be sure you're right, because then you're sure to be satisfied. And that's why the thousands of buyers of this year's Hudsons and Terraplanes are the most enthusiastic group of owners in Hudson's entire history. Can we prove that? Ask any one of them! They looked before they bought.

We will gladly give you facts about Hudson and Terraplane. Performance? We can show you the longest list of official AAA records held by any cars. Then you drive and judge for yourself. Ruggedness? Economy? Long life? You can see sworn affidavits of owners, and talk to as many as you like. Get facts like these, then get them about other cars—if you can.

Come in and let us help you get the facts you need before you decide.

LOOK AT THE PRICES—NOW DOWN WITH THE LOWEST

We selected the Hudson because of its additional size, better appearance and superior performance. We were also very favorably impressed with the luggage compartment built into the rear. The Hudson even exceeds our expectations.—MR. AND MRS. A. P. RODGERS, San Francisco, Calif.

Our Terraplane cruiser has just completed 16,000 miles in less than 5 months. It is on duty day and night and to date has been operating very satisfactorily.—JOHN S. HENDERSON, Chief, Longmeadow, Mass., Police Department.

We LOOKED at the Others Before We Bought

The beautiful streamlining of the Terraplane first appealed to me but I've discovered so many other good qualities that it's hard to say which is the most outstanding—appearance, economy or freedom from repairs.—FRANCES COOPER, Kansas City, Mo.

This new coupe is my seventh Hudson. On each purchase I have investigated other makes and have never found any other car that compared with Hudson in performance, comfort, beauty and superior engineering.—D. T. LOE, Montgomery, Ala.

GIANTS BOOST MARGIN AND TIGERS PROTECT THEIRS ON JAUNT

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The results of the western tour of the New York Giants and the eastern jaunt of the Detroit Tigers could be marked up as successful today regardless of the outcomes of the final contests of the trips.

Each team had a 4 1-2-game lead when it took the road and hoped for little more than to hold it until the final home stand after Labor day. Today the Giants, after turning back the Chicago threat 3 to 1 yesterday, were 5 1-2 games in the van. Detroit, rained out at Philadelphia, still had its 4 1-2-game margin going into the closing doubleheader in the east, one game of which was to provide the opportunity for Schoolboy Rowe to attempt to break the American league record for consecutive pitching victories.

Cards Push Cubs

The triumph of the Giants left the Cubs only one game ahead of the third place Cardinals, who defeated Brooklyn, 2 to 0. The last-place Cincinnati Reds ran their winning streak to four games, their longest of the season, by taking their second straight doubleheader from the Phillies, 8 to 6 and 2 to 1. The Braves knocked Burleigh Grimes out with three runs in the first and defeated Pittsburgh 5 to 3 in what started out to be a doubleheader but was cut to one game by rain.

With the Yankees and White Sox rained out as well as the Tigers and A's, developments in the American league were confined to the Browns' 4 to 0 triumph over Washington, which left the clubs tied for fifth place, and Boston's 8 to 2 decision over Cleveland, leaving them all square in their third-place struggle.

SCHOOLBOY ROWE IS ON THRESHOLD OF HALL OF FAME

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29 (AP)—A youth of 22 summers, "Schoolboy" they call him, stands today on the threshold of baseball's hall of immortals, knocking on the portals with a right hand filled with pitching magic.

If that hand holds steady, Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe will fling his Detroit Tiger teammates to victory over Connie Mack's Athletics and set a new American league twirling record of 17 straight wins.

Already sharing a pinnacle with three other moundsmen greats of the league—"Smoke Joe" Wood, of Boston; Walter Johnson of Washington, and "Lefty" Grove, of the Athletics—Rowe would be a man apart should he triumph today.

After that, "a few more good breaks" to use his words, and he'd be on his way to crash another gate of fame. The 19-game major league mark scored by two National leaguers, Timothy Keefe and Rube Marquard, both of the New York Giants.

"Worrying over ball games never kept me awake," he philosophises as he made ready to face Johnny Marcum on the mound. "You can't win if the boys don't get you some runs."

ROWE AND HUBBELL WARMING UP FOR WORLD SERIES

Vance Pitches Steers To Victory Over Buffaloes To Gain A Tie For Fourth

SPORTOGRAPHER by COLLIER PARRIS

Title Copyright 1933

Versatile Josephus H. Vance turned his fast ball loose last night and pitched the Dallas Steers to a 2 to 0 victory over the hustling Houston Buffaloes. Vance, who has played infield and outfield for the Steers, showed the Buffaloes an assortment of cross-fire pitching they could not handle. He limited them to three hits—all singles.

Vance, who is somewhat of a "barber" in the conversational league, shaved corners off the plate to make Manager Carey Selph's hitters almost helpless. Vance's masterful mound work stopped Houston's winning streak at seven straight. The walloping bats of Stanley Schino and Bit McCulloch, outfielders, accounted for Dallas' three runs. McCulloch got a double and home run. Schino connected for a triple and single.

Oilers, Missions Split

In their doubleheader at San Antonio, the Tulsa Oilers got away to a bad start when they dropped the first game, 17 to 7. The Missions went on a 23-hit batting spree that routed Jacobs and Davis from the mound and made Hubbell wish he was under a shower. The Oilers staged a comeback to take the second game, 2 to 1, to retain third place. Dallas pulled into a tie with Beaumont for fourth place when the Exporters' scheduled game against Fort Worth was washed out. The Galveston and Oklahoma City game also was rained out.

CHARLEY CARR will attempt to unravel Dory Detton in tonight's main go at the Auditorium.

Carr is the big, barrel-chested bozo from Indiana who swept through a middleweight tournament, undefeated, in Mississippi this summer thereby qualifying for a place in the Southwestern tournament handled by Dutch Mantell.

Last week at Amarillo, Carr lost a decision to Vic Webber, the leader in this tournament, but the Indiana husky challenged Webber and Dutch for another trial. All the others have had a second chance, so why not Carr? He gets it Thursday evening at Amarillo.

Now if Carr beats Detton—the match will have no definite bearing on the tournament standings—he will be established as somewhat of a favorite in his second bout with Webber. If he beats Webber, Mantell says the two will be tied for the lead. So they'll probably meet Saturday night in a "play-off" contest. Apparently, the other expected newcomer to the field, Martino Angelo, is being left out, because the tournament goes into its final week next week.

Carr has demonstrated here and at Amarillo that he's something of a somewhat when it comes to holding his own and dealing out punishment. He fought Jack Van Bebber to a draw here last Wednesday night, and Bebber looked pretty good. It looks like a very tough evening for Detton, who is in none too good condition anyway, considering that sinus trouble is bothering him no little.

We look for a fast, wide-open main event tonight. Detton will be trying to wind things up as quickly as possible. Although he's feeling much better this week, the longer he works the more painful his ills become. He won't be wasting any time with "straight" stuff, but will fly into Mr. Carr with lots of ambition and speed. In doing so, he will lay himself open to Mr. Carr's strategy, and the match, one way or the other, may be over in record time.

Danny McShain comes back tonight, and Jack Van Bebber hasn't been sleeping much of late for thinking about McShain's return. Last time he was here, McShain went away with cheers instead of razzberries ringing in his ears. After his marriage ceremony, he went in for a main event and for the first time in his local career put on an almost legal match. Rumor hath it, however, that he's reverted to his natural type since the honeymoon, and probably will be the recipient of loud boos tonight.

PETE CAWTHON writes us a card from Estes Park, Colo., where he is vacationing with his family. Lots of folks go to Estes Park to fish and play golf. Pete probably will tell you that he went there so his boys could fish and ride horseback. Anyway, his card carries a mournful message. He can't dismiss football from his mind, no matter where he goes nor how long he stays, and now he's worrying about replacements for the 12 good men and tried that are lost by graduation from the 1933 squad.

There's little point in weeping about what can't be helped, whether it applies to football or anything else. The thing for our friends Pete to do is forget those who have gone before and concentrate on the present talent, of which there is a goodly supply. One can't play college football for more than three seasons. Then he's gone. A new team must be built. Nor, to our way of thinking, should a coach try to compare, in actual practice, the merits of a 1934 halfback with those of a 1933 ball carrier. That should be left for the sports writers to worry about. It should be every man for himself, just as it is in any other form of pleasure and business.

THE GOLF season is not over. Alfred Holton has won the City open title in the last major tournament of these precincts for the season, but there are other tournaments to follow. Tournaments at Big Spring, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, San Angelo and Cloudcroft probably will draw attendance from local circles.

A letter from Ralph Wike, formerly of Lubbock, now manager of The Lodge at Cloudcroft, invites local golfers to enter the annual Labor Day tournament on the "highest golf course in the world." That qualification, so far as we know, has never been questioned, and the Cloudcroft folks have improved upon the situation. They have repaired greens and fairways on the interesting 9-hole course, and have it ready for what is expected to be the biggest and best tournament in the history of the course. In addition to golf at Cloudcroft, it is suggested that we announce the playing every Friday night at the Lodge of Ned Bradley and his Lubbock orchestra.

The Big Spring tournament, scene of the 1934 West Texas Golf association joust, is scheduled for Sept. 1 to 3. The Wichita Falls invitation tournament holds forth on the same dates. Amarillo's open starts September 3, and the San Angelo tournament opens September 12. Joe Bihl, runner up in the City open here, will enter the Wichita Falls tournament. He will accompany Clarence Fox, another Meadowbrook golfer, to the well-arranged Wichita Falls Country club layout.

ARIE WINS IN TRAPSHOOT

ILLINOIS BECOMES THE AMERICAN CHAMPION OF CHAMPIONS

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 29 (AP)—Mark Arie, of Champaign, Ill., an ace in the big-time trapshoot world for a quarter of a century, carved another notch Tuesday on the stock of the ancient shotgun which has been his constant companion for 25 years.

Arie, champion of Illinois, broke 197 out of 200 targets at the American Trapshooting association grounds, defeating 34 other state title-holders in the day's classic to become the champion of champions.

Uses Same Gun

It was just 25 years ago that Arie paid $50 for a shotgun and tramped off to fame and fortune at the traps. He still uses that same old gun—used it to capture his coveted new crown—and in the quarter century of campaigning he has won more than $50,000 in cash prizes and trophies valued at more than $150,000.

Rod Cooper, of Louisville, Ky., champion of the blue grass state, made a grand stab at the title but finished up with 196, just one target away.

W. A. Tabor of Union City, Okla., who admits he has been 72 years old for some time but refused to grow any older, broke 191 targets in 200 attempts, to capture the honors among the veterans, another fixture on the day's card.

John Jahn, Wins

John Jahn, of Spirit Lake, Ia., is the new professional champion of America, breaking 196 out of 200 to tie with Clyde Mitchell, of Milwaukee, and then breaking 25 straight in the shootoff as his opponent faltered.

The team of ten westerners proved too much for the easterners in the 2,000-target event and won by 1,920 to 1,893.

Scores in the east-west event include:

West: Forest McNeir, Houston, Tex., 189; H. A. Hausmann, LaGrange, Tex., 193; Tommy Lovett, Houston, Tex., 198.

ANNUAL TEXAS PRO TOURNEY UNDER WAY

McGONAGILL DEFENDS HIS TITLE IN 72 HOLE MARATHON

DALLAS, Aug. 29 (AP)—The seventh annual Texas Professional Golfers association 72-hole championship medal play tournament started today over the par 36-36—72 Walnut Hill Country club course. Francis McGonagill, Dallas Parkdale Country club pro, is the defending champion.

This is the first time in history of the association that the championship route has been more than 36 holes. McGonagill won last year over the Dallas Country club links with 78-70—148.

Jack Burke, Houston River Oaks Country club pro and four times winner of the title, and George Aulbach, Dallas Country club pro and former champion, were included in the starting field and listed among the outstanding favorites to lift McGonagill's crown. Jimmy Demaret, youthful professional from the Galveston municipal course, riddled the Walnut Hill course with cards of 69 and 71 in his two practice rounds.

MAGUIRE HEADS TEXAS GOLF PROS

BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Aug. 29 (AP)—Willie Maguire, sr., for 22 years professional at the Houston Country club, was elected president o fthe Texas Professional Golfers' association at a meeting here last night.

Maguire was a wise choice. Few professionals have contributed more to the promotion of Texas golf than Wee Willie. He ranks as one of the south's best teachers and never rejects a chance to aid dub shotmakers iron out the flaws of their swings.

Penick Retires

Harvey Penick, Austin Country club professional and a thorough gentleman of the links, retires from the president's office with a splendid record of achievements and it is good to know that his successor is a man who will carry on to bigger and better things for the association.

In his speech last night, Penick said:

"Gentlemen, I am indeed glad you elected Maguire. I have just returned from the east and while there I learned the high esteem national P. G. A. officials hold for Maguire I think it would have been foolish for you men to have elected any other person outside Maguire. Under Willie's leadership, I am definitely sure that the Texas P. G. A. will continue to grow and soon will be one of the most powerful sectional divisions of the national P. G. A."

Chosen As Captain

After electing Maguire president, he was chosen to captain this year's Texas P. G. A. team which will compete in singles and twosomes against Texas' first ten ranking amateurs in the second annual Texas cup matches over the Houston Country club links this fall.

As captain of the team, Maguire will appoint a committee to assist him in selecting the ten best Texas professional shot-makers. It was previously announced that the first ten low scorers in the 72-hole Texas P. G. A. tournament here today and tomorrow would constitute the team, but it was voted to reject this plan when it was learned that two of the best players in the association would not compete in the tournament because of being away on vacations. In last year's cup matches, the professionals overwhelmed the amateurs.

CARR TO MEET DORY DETTON ON THE MAT

INDIANA GRAPPLER IS SEEKING RIGHT TO BATTLE KALLIO

Charley Carr the swashbuckling grappler from Indiana has two important mat engagements this week.

Tonight he meets Dory Detton in a three-fall main event at Promoter Sled Allen's wrestling show.

Thursday night he opposes Vic Webber of New York City, the winner to get a shot at Gus Kallio's world middleweight title on September 6 at Amarillo.

Mighty Finn Trains

Kallio set-up training quarters near the "tree army" camp in Palo Duro canyon Tuesday. The mighty little Finn who prides himself so much in his perfect physical condition is drilling rigorously in the canyon for the title bout.

Kallio is middleweight champion about like Jim Londos, is king of the heavies. There are a lot of pretenders to the throne. Kallio is fast disposing of all his rivals though, and this is the principal reason of his present tour among the bush leagues—to clean house in the middle division.

McShain Vs. Van Bebber

So it is possible that Carr will be wrestling with Detton tonight with a faraway look in his eyes—at Gus Kallio's crown. And it is very possible that he shall be taken by the mangler from the Mormon country, although that would make no difference in his tournament standing at Amarillo.

Danny McShain will be directing his lethal drop-kicks in the direction of Jack Van Bebber in the semi-final embroglio on tonight's card.

CLARK LOSES OUT IN GOLF TOURNEY

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 29 (AP)—J. Ward (Babe) Fouts, Dallas youth, eliminated Barney Clark, Orange, six and four, to feature first and second round matches in the eighth annual state junior golf championship Tuesday over the Brackenridge Park course.

Fouts bested Clark, who holds the Abilene invitation, Houston midsummer invitation and Southwestern Louisiana titles, in the second round, and meets Al Escalante, Brownsville boy who holds the Rio Grande valley championship, in the 18-hole quarter finals today.

Lonnie Wendland, the medalist from San Antonio, moved into the quarter finals with but little opposition. He beat two Dallas youths, Earl Gray and Robert Rich, each by a count of six and four. Wendland meets Charles Reasor, jr., Oklahoma state amateur and high school champion, today.

Other quarter finalists and their matches today: Don Schumacher, Dallas, vs. Fred McFarren, Del Rio; and S. R. Mays, Dallas, vs. Halbert Grumbles, San Antonio.

BOND VOTE IS SET TODAY

LITTLEFIELD CITIZENS TO DECIDE ON CITY WATERWORKS PLAN

LITTLEFIELD, Aug. 29 (Special)—Littlefield's voters will go to the polls today to decide on the issuance of $39,000 revenue bonds to meet the requirements of a PWA appropriation of $48,000 for the extension of the city waterworks system.

J. O. Garlington is presiding judge with W. J. Aldredge as judge and Mrs. Ruby Blair and Mrs. L. W. Jordan as clerks. The election is to be held in the city hall.

City officials called the election when they were advised that the application for a loan had been approved. Money is to be used in hooking up one or more wells north of town, with the city mains, to insure adequate water supply throughout the year. Several wells with a depth of 150 to 160 feet or more and with sufficient supply to meet all demands, have been operating for several years. These wells have a capacity of 1,000 gallons or more per minute, compared with about one fourth that amount for the present wells.

During the past summer, owing to small reservoir space, it has been necessary to cut off the city water in order to build up a reserve. The city reservoir has 110,000 gallon storage and the tank 75,000 gallon storage, while the peak demand was in excess of 200,000 to 250,000 gallons daily.

WHEAT IS BEING PLANTED IN AREA

Wheat is being sown this week by numerous Lubbock county farmers following rains with the hope of having enough winter pasture to provide for their stock during the winter.

"Generally, over the county," County Agent P. T. Montfort said, "we have had enough rain to bring up the wheat, but we are going to need some more in a couple of weeks or less. The rains have helped feed already sown and up, but I think most of the feed that has not headed will need more rain to fill out the heads with grain.

Farmers can plant wheat for pasture, under their acreage reduction contracts, but not for harvest, Mr. Montfort said. He warned those planting wheat to be careful about harvesting the crop.

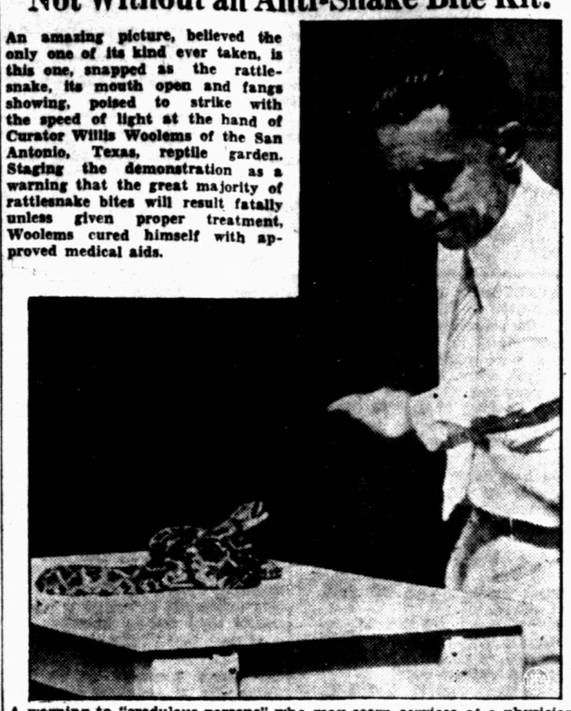

Under feed loans and other government relief, provisions are made for planting pastures.

Mr. Montfort estimated a minimum of five to 10 acres of wheat per farm, up to 25 and 50 acres, would be the pasture planting this fall.

Very little winter barley is sown in this county, the agent explained and almost no rye.

Farmers are planting grain sorghums for late fall pastures. Additional moisture will provide plenty of fall pastures and may curtail slightly the sale of cattle under the drouth relief program. Farmers are expected to have enough pasture for the winter, with probably enough feed, to carry the culled herds through the winter.

'Not Without an Anti-Snake Bite Kit!'

An amazing picture, believed the only one of its kind ever taken, is this one, snapped as the rattlesnake, its mouth open and fangs showing, poised to strike with the speed of light at the hand of Curator Willis Woolems of the San Antonio, Texas, reptile garden. Staging the demonstration as a warning that the great majority of rattlesnake bites will result fatally unless given proper treatment, Woolems cured himself with approved medical aids.

A warning to "credulous persons" who may scorn services of a physician after a rattlesnake bite, relying on faith alone for a cure, was given in heroic fashion by Willis Woolems, San Antonio, Texas, reptile garden curator, who, as pictured here, allowed a rattlesnake to bite him, then showed a horrified crowd the approved medical treatment for extracting the poison. Most cases will result fatally, Woolems declared, unless prompt treatment is given.

ANTAGONISM TOWARD LIBERTY LEAGUE BY FOREMOST REPUBLICANS THREATENS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Antagonism toward the American Liberty league among some foremost Republicans threatened today to set off political explosions.

Old-line Republicans have said little while new deal supporters sought to link the leaguers with the forces of "reaction." "conservatism" and "capital." Now, some adherents of "rugged individualism" appear intent on disavowing any sympathy for what they conceive to be the league's future course.

Cleavage Indicated

The situation is bolstering discussion about party realignments along conservative and liberal lines. Cleavage in Democracy already has been widely hinted because Alfred E. Smith and John W. Davis joined Republicans to assay Roosevelt policies. It is suggested differences among Republicans may follow.

Realignment, however, is not necessarily imminent or possible. Republicans objectors to the league emphasize in private conservation that they are not expressing affection for the new deal. Some say they fear the league might imperil party rejuvenation.

On the Democratic side, Chairman James A. Farley scotched realignment talk.

Leaders Confer

President Jouett Shouse of the league conferred briefly in New York yesterday with Al Smith and Irenee Du Pont, of the executive committee, on "mechanics" of the new "non-partisan, anti-radical" organization. He reported the public response "perfectly amazing" and "simply astounding."

For the league it will be a case of soft-pedalling until after Labor day, he said, but after that its voice will reverberate.

Oklahoma's Relief May Be Broadened

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, said today after a conference with the Oklahoma house delegation he would make an immediate inquiry to see whether relief activities could be broadened and speeded up in that state.

The delegation had asked that relief appropriations to Oklahoma be tripled and that the case worker be virtually supplanted by local voluntary committees.

Hopkins made it plain the requests would not be granted to the extent suggested, but did indicate it might be possible to afford at least more relief than now is available.

JAPS TO URGE LIMITATIONS

TOKYO IS DETERMINED TO OBTAIN CHANGE IN NAVY RATIO

TOKYO, Aug. 29 (AP)—Japan is determined that neither the Washington nor the London naval treaties shall bind her beyond Dec. 31, 1936, the date of their expiration, a foreign office spokesman said today.

She is prepared to join other powers in a scheme of naval limitation on a drastically changed basis which she intends to propose at preliminary conversations this autumn in London.

Withdrawal Hinted

If the pwers show a determination to extend essentials of present compacts, including Japan's position of inferiority to the United States and Great Britain, Tokyo is ready to withdraw from the entire naval limitations scheme, just as she withdrew from the League of Nations 18 months ago, the spokesman said.

If London talks do not satisfy her, she will notify other nations that she is abrogating the Washington treaty at the first possible date.

Details of the Japanese plan for limitation were not disclosed. Japanese newspapers and many observers said failure of the conference next year is inevitable unless the present 5-5-3 ratio system is abolished and more equality in armaments recognized.

The spokesman asserted "our proposals will be drafted in accordance with the spirit of disarmament and for the purpose of curtailment of armaments."

MORE TROUBLE FOR AUSTRIA

INTERNAL STRIFE SET OFF; HEIMWEHRMEN ARE ARRESTED

VIENNA, Aug. 29 (AP)—The threat of internal outbreaks hung once more over Austria today and this time it was in pro-government forces.

Busy for months in stamping out Nazis, the Fascist cabinet of Chancellor Schuschnigg suddenly found danger from another source—friction in the ranks of the Heimwehr, or Fascist home guard, headed by Vice Chancellor Ernst von Starhemberg.

Jealousy Blamed

A number of Heimwehrmen were arrested yesterday by police. Guards were placed about barracks of the organization in the Floridsdorf section.

Jealousy between Vienna Heimwehr detachments and their brothers in provinces of lower Austria, private sources said, led to the unexpected raid by emergency police. Reports spread that certain Heimwehrmen had been called "untrustworthy and traitors."

The situation brought speculation whether Vienna faced another putsch—this time by the Heimwehr.

Heimwehr forces are regarded as the right arm of Schuschnigg's government—so long as Prince von Starhemberg, their leader, is vice chancellor.

Irate Bathers Mask Their Feelings

Water warfare? Well, yes and no. You see, citizens of New York's Jamaica Bay have been pretty peeved ever since the Health Department declared bay waters were polluted. So when health officials came to nearby Coney Island to test the waters—which they found free from contamination—these resentful Bay bathers were on hand to bathe in gas masks. "If the waters of Jamaica Bay are polluted," said they, "the waters of Coney Island must be polluted as well."

ENGLAND WELCOMES NEWS THAT HER PRINCE GEORGE WILL WED PRINCESS

LONDON, Aug. 29. (AP)—England welcomed the news today that her Prince George would desert in bachelorhood his elder brother, the prince of Wales.

Announcement that George, 32-year-old fourth son of the king, would wed the beautiful Princess Marina of Greece caught London off-guard. But approval of the match, the first in the royal family in 11 years, was quickly forthcoming.

Speaks English

Marina, who is 27, has one qualification among others which will be welcomed by the British folk. She speaks English perfectly and has spent much time in this country.

A courtship in the romantic Alps of Yugoslavia, culminating five years of friendship, resulted in the match. George, who is visiting with Princess Marina at the summer home of Prince Paul of Yugoslavia, her cousin, wired his father for consent. It was speedily given.

The palace announcement said: "It is with the greatest pleasure that the king and queen announce the betrothal of their dearly beloved son, Prince George, to Princess Marina, daughter of Prince and Princess Nicolas of Greece, to which union the king has gladly given his consent."

No plans, it was understood, have been made for the wedding but a Belgrade dispatch said it was assumed it would be held in London this fall or winter. No important political significance was seen in the forthcoming union.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT IS INVESTIGATED

SHREVEPORT, La., Aug. 29 (AP)—Investigation of the attempted suicide of a young woman whose prized possessions included a scrap book filled with newspaper clippings relating the escapades of the late Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, slain desperadoes, led police to arrest three suspects in a "clean-up" campaign among Shreveport gunmen.

The woman was in critical condition in a hospital here after taking poison. One of the suspects arrested was her husband, who said he lived in Longview, Texas. One of the other men gave his home as San Angelo, Texas, and the third, as Mooringsport, La. No charges had been filed against the men. A shotgun and a revolver were found in their possession.

They were driving an automobile with a Texas license when taken into custody.

Officers said the woman's attempted suicide followed a drinking party.

BEAUTIFUL, engaging and intelligent Shirley Temple, the five-year old movie star who has been thrilling Lubbock people at the Broadway theater for the past several days, is the cinema's latest juvenile find. In fact, she probably is the greatest child star in all moviedom's history and when she comes again you mustn't miss her, for she is the most outstanding individual of the films since the passing of late great Marie Dressler.

Little Shirley and her dimple are blazing new trails across Hollywood lots and through theater turnstiles all over the country.

Daughter of a banker, she makes more money than her father makes and her next year's salary will total more dollars than most men earn in a lifetime.

Her name is on millions of lips every time a new picture is released and thus far she is unspoiled.

YET with all the benefits, financial and otherwise, brought to Shirley Temple by her ability to act and to please her audiences, she is missing something now which in later life will bring a dull, aching void to her heart.

She is missing every baby's heritage—the right to live a normal child's life.

All of which may seem rather unimportant at first blush and in view of her smashing success, yet all of which is true.

Composer Still Remembers His "Little Fiancee"; Franz Lehar Had Crush On Mady Christians Since She Was Four

By DAN THOMAS
NEA Service Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 29.—Practically every important person in Hollywood has scores of photographs of other important persons, all autographed with sweet nothings.

These are collections for which hosts of American movies fans gladly would plod across burning sands. Yet the stars themselves would trade their entire collections for one photo from a small group possessed by Mady Christians, noted European actress who arrived in Hollywood a short time ago.

Miss Christians' pictures are of Franz Lehar, famous composer of "The Merry Widow" and other operettas. And each is autographed "To my Little Fiancee."

Behind the photos, of course, is a story of great affection which sprang up between the famous composer and the now popular actress when she was only four years of age. Lehar visited her home to persuade her father, Rudolph Christians, then the leading European actor, to play the leading role in his new musical comedy, "The Man With Three Wives."

That was two years after "The Merry Widow" had swept the world.

"Lehar spoiled me thoroughly," Miss Christians relates. "So, naturally, I idolized him—fell madly in love. Later, after I learned to write, I used to write him letters and received answers and photographs autographed, "To my Little Fiancee."

"We never have stopped corresponding and never will, because I always shall be Franz Lehar's 'little fiancee'."

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

FEDERAL AID AND LOCAL SCHOOL SYSTEMS

Probably it was inevitable that diminished local support of American public schools should bring the question of federal aid for the school system sharply to the fore. Congress will be asked to grant aid to the public schools at its next session. The question divides educators as well as the public on the wisdom of such a step.

Federal aid to education is not a new proposal in principle, but heretofore such aid has been confined largely to grants for specified types of education, subsidies to agricultural education, home economics, education of government wards, vocational training, rehabilitation, and, more recently, to helping unemployed teachers and to emergency relief of schools which could not have continued without federal help when local support failed. Much emergency aid properly has been given, but nothing like such broad use of federal funds for general maintenance of the schools has ever been proposed before.

Proponents of federal aid argue that the situation has reached the proportions of a major national crisis, which the states are unable to meet. Education they say, is of vital national concern, and therefore a proper subject of national action and subsidy.

Opponents reply that such substantial federal aid as proposed would mark a complete break with the policy which has prevailed from the early days of the republic. Education is primarily a local responsibility. Federal aid would inevitably bring proportionate federal control and domination. It would have in it the seeds of waste, favoritism and allotments for political purposes. It would tend, they believe, to make the teachers of America a political bloc. Federal control and local autonomy do not go together.

These contentions raise serious fundamental questions. Advocates of federal aid have not satisfactorily answered the objections of its opponents that it would lead to federal control. Would the schools lose or gain in the long run through accepting federal appropriations, based not on the needs of schools in distress, but upon daily average pupil attendance in all schools? Moreover, is it wise to build a permanent educational policy on the basis of emergency conditions?

Many still will believe that the federal government can best aid education by granting only emergency relief for employment of teachers, for repairs and temporary subsidies to schools in certain sections where need is greatest, and by serving the schools through investigation, information, study and experimentation—but not through direct grants of money or administrative control.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 — All through this drouth and the attendant official worry, the administration's higher-ups are not forgetting what they consider their one biggest problem—"the 10,000,000 unemployed."

The drouth is a temporary natural catastrophe, serious enough as such, presenting grave political dangers and threatening to destroy popular support of the farm program. But when the big New Dealers go into a huddle, their most persistent question to one another is: "What are we going to do with the ten million?"

Winter and the drouth's effect on food prices and rural populations will intensify the problem, as the great drain of relief funds from the treasury increases and more doubt is expressed as to how long the nation can stand the strain.

The nearest the New Dealers have come to an answer is a general agreement that there is no other alternative than putting people back to work.

That would leave it up to employers to keep on paying billions for relief and let the government build up an extra-economic system for millions — such as the Federal Emergency Relief Administration has started with its self-help, production exchange enterprises—which means a permanent cut in national commercial buying power, or seriously take on the job of putting those millions back to work.

Pressure Put On F. R.

Roosevelt is being urged by some of his closest advisers to put this problem squarely up to the country. Because his recent cross-country trip convinced him of the tremendous popular support of his New Deal—influencing the leftward implications of his Green Bay speech—there is strong likelihood that he will.

Pressure from those advisers is becoming stronger for a plan which will stimulate existing factories to capacity production and maximum employment, based on the idea of volume distribution, low prices, and minimum unit profits. (The same idea the administration is trying in distribution of TVA electrical appliances and its pressure for cheap electricity.)

Guarantee Is Pondered

Industry won't engage in any such stunt for the fun of it, of course. It is timid and in no experimental mood. But more and more you hear suggestions here of a governmental guarantee against loss to manufacturers in return for capacity production.

This, incidentally, is a feature of the famous "plan" of Col. Malcolm Rorty, which receives renewed attention from economists here from time to time. Some persons very close to the White House are trying to figure out whether such guarantee wouldn't be much cheaper than the enormous relief bill.

Of course the proposal involves increased government planning and control, with certain definite requirements for industry. And administration leaders would be delighted if industrialists would get together and figure out a fair, feasible system for that control.

Between Two Fires

One of the most embarrassing situations Roosevelt must constantly confront—and don't think it doesn't annoy him a lot—is the conflict between the necessity of maintaining a strong Democratic party organization and his bid for support of the progressive, independent element which grimly sticks to ctrtain ideals.

The Wisconsin and New Mexico senatorial campaigns, where Roosevelt's friends LaFollette and Cutting are opposed by lusty old-line Democratic organizations which demand administration support, indicate one phase of the matter.

Dodge Spoils Issue

But another phase appeared when F. R. showed very definite irritation at a press conference as a correspondent sought to pin him down as to the conflict between Democratic spoilsmen and the friends of civil service and the merit system. The correspondent said there was fear about the future of civil service in some quarters as a result of recent developments and wouldn't the president comment?

Instead of laughing off the question—the way he handles most embarrassing queries — Roosevelt rather testily made his interrogator repeat it three times.

Then the president indicated he wouldn't speak in generalities.

"Unblanketing," which means removal of federal workers from civil service protection, is a political device based on the specious theory that employes covered into civil service by exeiutive order in previous administrations are necessarily Republican political employes and hence not entitled to consideration on their merits.

Murder at MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS: Sergeant Harper has proved to his own satisfaction that the policeman and the stranger found dead in Pierre Dufresne's house were murdered, and did not kill each other. He believes one of the guns used is in the house, but when he fails to find it, Dufresne ridicules him. Now he and Detective Lafferty are searching the room in which the Dufresne household was locked up while the remainder of the big house was searched.

WET STRING

"No luck, Steve," Lafferty reported, finished with his part of the search.

"What've you got there?"

"Just a length of twine," Lafferty answered. "I picked it off the door, near the window-seat."

"The window-seat? That's where Dufresne and Macklin were sitting. Let's have a look at it."

Lafferty handed it over, with a chuckle. "Big clue?" he chaffed.

But Harper was paying little attention to his assistant's joking. He roughly estimated the length of the twine at about twelve feet. "Dufresne has been wearing that lounging robe all morning," he mused. "It could have fallen from his pocket." He ran the tough cord through his fingers. "It feels wet here in the center, Jack."

Lafferty was still smiling. "You don't even know that any one dropped it. It might have been there before we came to this room at all."

"Then it would have been noticed and picked up before this," Harper argued. "Look at it this way. Assume that Dufresne took the gun and hid it. We know it's still in the house, for no one has gone out even as far as the garage. Whoever took it had to plant it, and quickly, in a place where it would be hidden not only from us, but from every one else in the house.

"Where could it be hidden so quickly and so safely? There was no time to prepare a special place nor to go out and bury it in the grounds."

"Well, one could open a window and heave it out as far as possible. Or, there may be a little sliding panel somewhere in good old melodrama style."

Harper nodded. "Laugh if you will but there's always the possibility of a secret cupboard somewhere. Four yards of twine—how was it used?"

"Well, I've heard of things being hung behind shutters and outside window sills and inside chimneys, but in that case we wouldn't have the string."

"Yes, and it's wet in the middle. That suggests contact with water—or snow!"

"We've looked around outside and we've been up in the little cupola. There's not a single mark in the snow on the roof."

Harper was deep in thought. "I'm sure the gun is hidden, not just thrown away to get rid of it. Suppose you call at the neighboring houses and find out if anything unusual was heard or seen last night. In the meantime I'll try to squeeze a little information from the servants."

The detective folded the piece of twine and put it away in his vest pocket. Lafferty set out on his quest. Harper going as far as the front door with him. Then, as he returned along the hall, he glanced into the drawing-room is passing and was surprised to see Dufresne, still wearing his lounging robe, pacing up and down, head bent, eyes on the floor, hands thrust deep into his pockets.

Harper moved on quietly, smiling to himself as he unlocked the door to the breakfast-room. He had no doubt but that the master of the house had missed the piece of twine and was searching for it.

It was getting on toward noon and Harper shut the door of the breakfast-room behind him and sat down at his work-table to re-arrange his plans in accordance with the vital changes the last few hours had made in the case.

The case had now been in Harper's hands for something like fourteen hours and he had no need to apologize for the progress made.

There was not the slightest doubt in his mind that some one still present in this house had planned and executed this whole scheme. The difficulty would arise in linking one of them to the facts so long as the identity of the masquerader remained unrevealed. It was impossible to assign a motive out of their slender knowledge.

At least four of the eight persons in the Dufresne household were under direct suspicion in Harper's mind. He was mulling over these various personalities, as they had revealed themselves to his observation under different phases, when he was interrupted by a sharp knock on the door.

A brisk young man wearing a gray overcoat and hat entered, and, behind him, a short, dark-skinned man bundled up in a heavy fur coat. "I'm Harris of the Central Bureau," said the young man, saluting. "Detective Lafferty sent me out to trace that disguise. This is Mr. Pagliotti, who has a theatrical supply house on Twelfth street. He can identity the beard and the man who bought it."

Harris handed over a tissue-wrapped package, inside of which were the beard and goatee as well as Jackshon's photographs of the dead man.

Harper turned to the plump Italian. "Can you identify these as having come from your stock?"

"Yes, sir. We make everything in our own workrooms and I'd know

FARMERS HEAR FEED TALK

GROUP AT LEVELLAND ADDRESSED BY W. L. STANGEL OF TECH

(By Staff Correspondent)

LEVELLAND, Aug. 29—Between 40 and 50 Hockley county farmers met here Tuesday night at the invitation of the Levelland Chamber of Commerce to discuss with W. L. Stangel, head of the department of animal husbandry of Texas Tech, what steps to take in meeting present drouth conditions.

Mr. Stangel advised his hearers to make sure and feed the dairy cattle, after culling their herds of "boarders," more than enough to get by. He urged them to "feed your dairy cattle and take care of them because they have been feeding you."

Elder Presides

C. M. Elder, secretary of chamber of commerce, presided over the meeting, which was held in the district courtroom. He explained the purpose of the meeting and told of some of the plans the civic group had in mind to aid in meeting the feed situation.

In these times, Mr. Stangel pointed out, it is advisable to "milk fewer cows, get more milk from them and then get more money for your milk." He stated that farmers should not attempt to feed milk-stock producing merely to get them by, but that they should be fed more than enough to keep them alive.

Census records for 1925 and 1930 were quoted, showing the increase in dairy cattle for Hockley county. In 1925 there were 380 head and in 1930 the number had increased 970 per cent, or to 3,193. Production that year was 1,450,551 gallons of milk, an increase of 670 per cent. The production was an average of 554 gallons or 4,764 pounds annually, an increase of 26 per cent from the 406 gallon average in 1925.

Silos Proposed

Cheapest feed for dairy stock, he said, was cottonseed meal or cake, in conjunction with bundles, at the ratio of 85 per cent for bundles and 15 per cent for meal or cake. A higher proportion of cake or meal would return more for the farmer in milk production.

Building of silos to conserve feed crops was also urged. Mr. Stangel told of the experiences of Texas Tech in use of silage for the feeding of livestock. A trench silo, if properly built and not too large, and filled properly, is as sure a way of conserving bundles of forage crops, he said.

Mr. Stangel, following the meeting, discussed with individual farmers and in small groups, particular problems of many of those present.

Mr. Stangel conferred with Mr. Elder, W. T. Magee, county agent, Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, cattle inspector and John Lemond, cattle appraiser.

FARM PRICES

been cut to about normal but the drouth has "laid the basis for new surpluses." Control of crops should continue.

5. Government agencies now hold more than 25 per cent of all farm debt as compared with 12.1 per cent at the beginning of 1930.

Richberg first noted that the AAA is "the agency charged with responsibility of restoring the equitable balance between the price of things the farmers sell and the price of things the farmer buys."

"Surpluses of agricultural commodities were among the principal price depressing influences," Richberg said. "In March 1933, prices of seven basic commodities were 51 per cent of their 1910-1914 level."

"Prices of seven commodities originally designated as basic have risen from 51 per cent of the 1910-1914 relationship to 95 per cent exclusive of benefit payments," he added.

The main penitentiary is located at Huntsville. The bill was offered to deter employes of the penitentiary from assisting in breaks such as that made July 22 by Raymond Hamilton, Blackie Thompson, and Joe Palmer who escaped from the death house with the aid of a guard.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady 2 to 4 higher on Secretary Morgenthau's statement which offset disappointing Liverpool cables. Oct. 13.24; Dec. 13.37; Jan. 13.40; March 13.47; May 13.56; July 13.63.

Trading was moderately active at the start but in the absence of overnight selling orders from the south offerings were comparatively light with December selling up to 13.40 and March to 13.57 right after the call, making net advances of about 5 to 6 points on the more active positions.

A little southern selling developed on the bulge, however, while there also was some selling here through houses with Liverpool connections and the market sagged to within 2 or 3 points of yesterday's closing quotations by the end of the first half hour.

Some early selling was attributed to expectation of bearish features in the weekly report of the weather bureau. Early cables from Liverpool reported an apathetic market there before the local opening with trade calling supplied by commission house selling at limits and hedging against outside growths.

The market firmed up after publication of the weekly weather report which spoke of less favorable conditions in the eastern belt and was also regarded as rather less favorable with reference to the recent rains in the western belt. December sold up to 13.44 and May to 13.61, with the market showing net advances of 9 to 10 points at midday. The action of the wheat market may have been a contributing factor on the advance.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29 (AP)—There was a little more accivity at the opening today in the cotton market and prices were firmer, although Liverpool cables showed little gain. There was trading in all the months except January at the opening call.

First trades showed gains of five to six points. Prices advanced a little further after the start, October trading at 13.27 and December at 13.37 and March at 13.48, or 7 to 8 points above yesterday's close.

The market became more active as the morning advanced and prices improved owing to a rather unfavorable weekly weather and crop report and a new storm warning for a disturbance threatening the Louisiana and East Texas coast.

Stocks and wheat also showed improvement which helped cotton. Late in the morning, October traded up to 13.33 and December to 13.44, or 9 points over the early lows and 13 to 14 points above yesterday's close.

Near mid-session, prices eased off 1 to 4 points on realizing leaving the net gain still 10 to 12 points compared with yesterday's close.

All months were traded in today.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—Some of the gloom was wiped off market sentiment today and the price structure showed signs of a much firmer undertone.

Secretary Morgenthau's explanation of the country's financial condition appeared to be helpful although there was some argument as to his estimates of the cost of the new deal. Stocks, while still relatively quiet, responded to selective buying. The alcohol, farm and packing issues gave the best performance, some of the latter getting into new high territory for the year.

Gains rallied a cent or more a bushel without any especial buoyancy. Cotton again moved higher. Scattered improvement came into the bond list. Moderate recoveries were registered by the majority of U. S. government securities with the exception of sterling, which dropped sharply in terms of the dollar. Foreign exchanges were generally higher.

Shares of both Armour of Illinois preferreds, Cudahy and California Packing got up a point or more each to new 1934 peaks. Similar gains were recorded by Snider Packing, Wilson, Chickasha Cotton Oil, Case, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, National Distillers, Allied Chemical, Liggett & Myers B, and Columbia Pictures. Most of the metals were a bit better although Homestake changed hands for the first time in several days at a decline of 4 1-2 points. Santa Fe, Union Pacific, N. Y. Central, General Motors, Chrysler, American Telephone, U. S. Steel, Goodyear, Loew's and many others were up fractionally.

Suspect Seriously Injured In Wreck

PLAINVIEW, Aug. 29 (Special)—While free on $1,500 bond awaiting federal grand jury action in the Melrose, N. M., postoffice burglary, Bill Cagle was injured seriously, perhaps critically, in an automobile upset precipitated by an attempt to escape from a peace oficer.

Cagle, who was injured early Sunday near Hale Center, still was under guard in Plainview sanitarium yesterday afternoon. One of his ears nearly had been severed and his neck possibly broken.

Constable A. M. Shook, accompanied by E. M. Adams, a Center Plains school teacher, arrested Cagle after a 5-mile chase, ended when Cagle's automobile overturned in a ditch. Shook and Adams had been searching for property taken from the school teacher's home. When they approached a Ford V-8 sedan parked at an Hale Center home, Cagle leaped into it and sped away, they said.

Two charges of burglary, of Hale Center residences, have been filed against Cagle.

NEW DEAL COSTS

that this would be the eventual decision of the government. But Morgenthau made clear that "for the present" the government would continue to keep the $2,800,000,000 "under lock and key."

Debt Increase Cited

Secretary Morgenthau said that from March 4, 1933, to June 30, 1934, the gross public debt increased about $6,000,000,000.

"Some observers," he said, "have concluded that it also represents the cost of the new deal during that period, in so far as such cost is reflected in a growth of the public debt.

"This assumption is easily made, but it ignores the all-important fact that, while we have increased our debt, we have also increased our assets, many of them in realizable form. By this I mean assets which in due time the government will turn into cash, thereby making them available for reduction of the national debt."

Assets Listed

Making an "inventory of assets" for his listeners, he said that "against this gross increase we can offset, either now or ultimately, the following assets:

"(1) An increase in the treasury's cash balance of $1,600,000,000;

"(2) The "profit" of $2,800,000,000 resulting from the reduction in the gold content of the dollar;

"(3) The increase in the net assets of the agencies wholly owned and financed by the government, amounting on June 30, 1934, to $1,095,000,000."

Although Morgenthau did not carry this exposition to its conclusion, it would leave a net deficit of $505,000,000. Thus, on the basis of Morgenthau's theory, this sum would be the cost of the new deal so far as it is reflected in the increase in debt.

RELIEF PARITY

$25,679,594 on its population of 5,824,715, or a total per capita allotment of $4.30, making it the 45th state in standing in that respect, against its No. 5 population ranking.

Dakotas Given Most

South Dakota in the same period received highest per capita allotment, $26. North Dakota was second with $17.15; Florida third with $15.10; Nevada fourth with $15; and Arizona fifth with $14.85. Only states getting lower per capita allotments than Texas were Kentucky, $4.25; Vermont, $4; Iowa, $3.75; and Virginia, $3.25. The District of Columbia received a $10.80 allotment.

Average allotments for all the states in the period was $7.59 per capita. On that basis Texas would have received $44,209,586 or $18,529,992 more than it received.

Nichols' statement said in conclusion: "Although our investigation is not complete, it appears from the figures we have that Texas is likewise putting up more state funds than any other state. A statement on this for 1933 shows that 18 states made no appropriation whatever. For the first quarter of 1934, twenty states made no appropriations; three contributed less than one per cent of federal allotments; seven between one and 10 per cent; five between 10 and 20 per cent; two between 20 and 30; four between 30 and 40; two between 40 and 50; two between 50 and 60; two between 60 and 70; and two states, including Texas, contributed between 70 and 80 in that first quarter."

NEEDS PEAT DIGGERS

MOSCOW (AP) — Russian industries in Moscow and Minsk are putting up a cry for more peat. They require 18,000,000 tons of that fuel annually but less than 3,000,000 were produced last year and at present rate about 13,000,000 will be dug this year.

ANTI-POVERTY

named by Republicans as their candidate to fight it out with Sinclair at the November elections.

Complete and incomplete returns from 6,370 precincts out of 10,703 in the state gave Sinclair 273,788 votes to 147,419 votes for George Creel. Merriam, in latest tabulations, had 197,521 votes. He was far ahead of former Governor C. C. Young who had 98,719.

Liquor Question Up

Sinclair's "EPIC" plan calls for the state to take over and operate defunct factories and businesses and farms acquired because of tax delinquencies as a means of placing the unemployed.

The liquor question centered national interest on the voting yesterday in South Carolina, and the result is still in doubt. Balloting in an advisory referendum on whether the sale of liquor should be permitted in the state, the "for" and "against" votes were almost equally divided. The latest returns, representing 982 out of 1,474 precincts, sent the pendulum of decision slightly toward the "wets", giving them 78,888 votes to 77,935 votes for the "drys."

Blease Trailing

In the same state, the veteran political figure, Cole L. Blease, who seeks the Democratic nomination for governor, ran second to a young Spartanburg lawyer, Olin D. Johnston, but won a place in the runoff primary to be held two weeks from yesterday. Blease's vote was 58,667 and Johnston's 73,640. Six incumbent members of the house of representatives—one of whom had no opposition— were renominated, on the basis of returns early today.

Mississippi's Democrats favored Senator Hubert D. Stephens for renomination (equivalent to re-election), but it appeared that he would not have a clear majority, and consequently would be thrown into a runoff primary with former Governor Theodore G. Bilbo.

With only about 300 precincts missing out of 1,611, Stephens polled 58,054 votes to 54,804 for Bilbo. Former Representative Ross A. Collins was third with 37,447 and State Senator Frank H. Harper last with 1,319.

sensational series of raids on northern Minnesota banks. Nelson was recently reported seen in a city in the northern section of the state "eyeing up" a bank at Virginia, Minn.

Other members of the gang reported to be connected with "Baby Face" include Alvin Karpis and Fred Barker, for whom authorities are searching in connection with the $200,000 kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker, and Arthur "Doc" Barker, a brother of Fred. There are six other members of the gang, federal agents believe.

DOLLS TO BE SHOWN

ANTWERP (AP)—Dolls belonging to royalty are to be among the featured pieces in an international exhibition of dolls to be staged here December 1-15. Little Princess Josephine Charlotte is lending several of her favorites, while the royal family has promised to send a few which belonged to Princess Maria-Jose, wife of the Italian throne heir.

STORY OF TECH'S YAQUI EXPEDITION TOLD AT LAMESA

LAMESA, Aug. 29.—(Special)—Children of Lamesa and members of the Lamesa Luncheon club and their wives heard the story of the Texas Technological college's expedition into the Yaqui Indian country of Sonora, Mexico, here yesterday and last night, good crowds being present at both occasions.

The children's meeting at the Dal-Paso hotel in the afternoon was under the auspices of the Lamesa Library association and the night meeting, following the luncheon club's barbeque on the Williams hotel lawn, was arranged by William A. Wilson, manager of the chamber of commerce.

The Yaqui programs featured display of trophies and talks by Dr. William Curry Holden, head of Tech's archaeological research; Dr. Richard A. Studhalter, head of the college department of biology, and Dr. Charles J. Wagner, surgeon, all of Lubbock and all members of the expedition. Chas. A. Guy, editor of the Lubbock Avalanche and Journal, another expedition member, acted as toastmaster.

EXPENDITURES

amendments, including one to require the relief commission to budget bond sale proceeds so funds would last through next April. Fear that without a budget requirement the relief money would be spent in three or four months was expressed by Representative Joe K. Wells of Corsicana. He warned another bond issue could not be effected before August 1935.

Opponents of the amendment predicted the federal government would advance sufficient amounts to provide relief after exhaustion of state funds.

Proceeds from the bonds will be matched by the federal government, making available $19,000,000 for relief, which Governor Miriam A. Ferguson predicted would be $16,000,000 short of the amount needed between Oct. 1 and May 1.

Rate To Be Set

The bill would make no change in the Texas Relief commission personnel, nor in the bond sales commission. Several changes from the current bond act were made to make the securities more attractive to buyers.

All state revenue, except that from ad valorem taxes and constitutional levies, would be pledged to retire the bonds and the bond commission would be permitted to fix any interest rate up to the constitutional maximum of four and one half per cent.

Losses from forgeries now total more than $250,000,000 annually.

A Thousand Yous

WHEN you pick up your newspaper and glance over the advertising you quite unconsciously multiply yourself a thousand times.

In half or three-quarters of an hour you can, figuratively speaking, visit every progressive store in town. You virtually poke your head into every department of every department store. You run into the florist's, the confectioners's, the oculist's, the leading groceries, banks, theaters, all the various places that supply the things that make this the twentieth century and life worth the living. Here is a greater choice in clothing, food, furniture, books, pictures, musical instruments, travel, entertainment, opportunities for investment, the service of public utility corporations than any monarch of old could command.

It would easily take a thousand yous, traveling hard all day, to find out for yourself what the advertisements tell you in a few minutes morning or evening.

Advertisements deserve your attention. They deserve your confidence. Without advertising, the prices you would have to pay for many of the necessities you now buy for small change would make a dollar look like a snowball on the kitchen range.

TRUCKS FREIGHT CARS

ROME (AP)—A truck with 16 wheels which can transport a loaded freight car over ordinary roads, was demonstrated in the square facing Mussolini's office as the premier looked on from a window. The truck is designed to do away with the necessity of spur tracks.

PROTECT THEM WITH A BODY OF STEEL AND HYDRAULIC BRAKES

Surely there is no need to stress the fact that a steel body is the safest possible kind. That's a self-evident truth. No one can deny the importance of this extra safeguard on today's crowded highways.

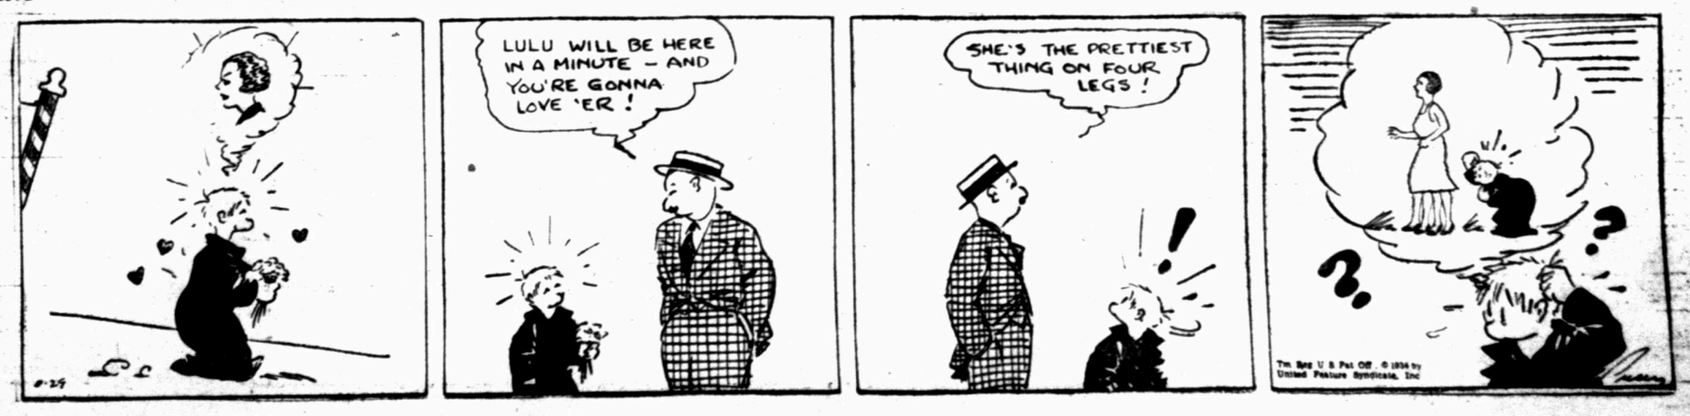

You don't swerve out of line with Plymouth Hydraulic Brakes. They stop you straight ahead because they're self-equalized. At a touch of the foot they take hold. And that means a lot.

FLASHES OF LIFE

As Brought Over Associated Press Wires Today

It's Only Dust

DENVER, Colo. — Persons passing St. Dominic's school saw what they thought were clouds of smoke pouring from the steeple and turned in fire alarms.

Fire apparatus came. Firemen dashed up ladders, ready to douse the flames. But they found no fire. The supposed smoke was dust, stirred up by the janitor's broom.

He yelled an explanation just in time to keep from getting soaked.

Sweet And Low

BOISE, Idaho—Ada county police have recorded what they believe is one of the world's "sweetest" accidents.

Dick Stevenson, mountain home apiarist, was driving to Boise when a tire on his truck blew out and his cargo — five tons of honey — was dumped onto the highway as the truck overturned.

Prosperity Recipe

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—To increase business, raise prices, is the recipe of one beer hall proprietor.

Beer at 10 cents a 32 ounce glass didn't go so well. So he got some 64 ounce glasses and raised the price to 25 cents. Now business is booming.

Honk! Honk!

BOSTON — An automobile horn has been arousing a Dorchester district ever morning at 4:30 a. m., but when the awakened sleepers stumbled to their windows, no automobile could they find.

At last the source has been discovered—in the bedroom of a man, hard of hearing, who uses the horn for an alarm clock.

And Sweet Music

ESTES PARK, Colo.—A deer that appeared out of the darkness while a party of hikers were singing about the campfire, showed himself to be something of a music cutie.

Each time the music stopped the animal started away, only to return when the singing was resumed. The deer finally strolled away after the singers became hoarse.

The Good New Days

ST. JOSEPH, Mo.—A veteran bartender has thrown up his job and asked for a place in a street gang.

"In the good old days," he told Mayor John Schuder, in applying for a city job, "we served men only. But now with the women bringing their sewing into the place and sipping highballs —well, it is too much for me."

Workers Unite!

PHILADELPHIA.—A shabbily dressed man held up George Dubois, motorman on a Philadelphia Rapid Transit street car, forced him to pour $10 in small coins from his fare changer, turned to the car's five passengers and said:

"I don't mind robbing the P. R. T., but all you people are working people, just like me. So you can keep whatever you have."

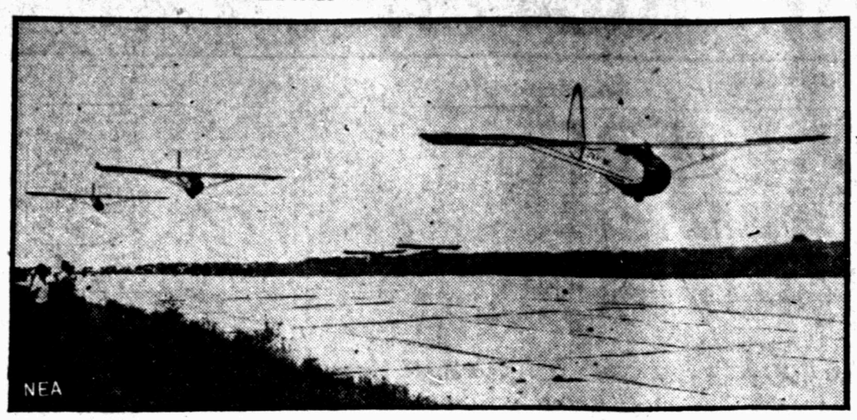

Brotherly Love

GREENSBURG, Pa.—If they could, a lot of Greensburg men would take a year's haircuts right now.

Two brothers, barbers with shops across the street from one another, started a price war. For a while both offered haircuts for a nickel. But due to the boom in business, the price is going up—now it's a dime.

Records compiled by the University of Kentucky show an average dairy cow will produce milk valued at $141.37 annually, while feed costs $87.87.

Train Leaves The Track

Advocates of the "air train" for the development of commercial aviation have proved their idea feasible, although bad weather halted the initial flight at Philadelphia. The three "cars", motorless gliders, loaded with 100 pounds of mail for Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, are shown as they took off from Floyd Bennett Field, New York, attached by thin steel cables to the airplane "locomotive". One glider was scheduled to land at each city on the route, the "locomotive plane" making a non-stop flight to Washington.

SON OF FAMOUS "SAGE OF POTATO HILL" REVEALS "SLIPS" IN SPARTAN PHILOSOPHY ED HOWE PREACHED FOR 50 YEARS

By HARRY MONTGOMERY

AMARILLO, Aug. 29 (AP) — The Spartan philosophy which Ed Howe, "sage of Potato Hill," has preached through newspaper and magazine columns for half a century is seen by his son, Gene Howe, Amarillo publisher, as reflecting only one side of the philosopher's nature.

"My father is sincere in his philosophy, all right," says the son, "but at the same time he is 100 per cent human and 1,000 per cent father.

"He started out to bring me up in his own profession—the newspaper business—as a Spartan would his son. He did his best to save me from myself. But he weakened terribly many times, as most fathers do."

The human, fatherly side of the man who wrote "The Story of a Country Town" came out as Gene Howe related incidents from his boyhood in Atchison, Kas.

$500 Duck Bonus

"When school was out each spring, even when I was in the grades," Howe recalled, "father would start me setting type the very next day. He would work me 10 hours a day, six days a week, lecturing me all the while on making something out of myself. But before the summer was over he would relent and send me on a fishing trip to Minnesota, Wisconsin or Colorado.

"I had a wild desire to hunt ducks and geese, and overdid the thing. One day father talked to me about it. He said he had observed that most persons who hunted all the time didn't amount to much, but since I liked it so well he would make me a sporting proposition. He then offered me $500 to give up hunting for five years, and I accepted.

"About two weeks later a big storm came sweeping in from the north, bringing a big flight of ducks with it. The Missouri river and nearby lakes were covered with them. I spent a miserable day pacing up and down our main street looking for news. Late in the day, when my spirits were lowest, father called me into his office.

The Spartan Relents

" 'Have you seen all those ducks flying down the river?' he asked me. I told him I had.

" 'Would you like to go hunting?' he continued. I told him I certainly would.

" 'All right,' he said. 'Take three or four days off and go on down the river.'

"My suffering was so apparent he could not endure it.

"When I was 16 he told me bluntly that I must make my own way, and not depend on him for anything else.

"But when I was 25 he gave me controlling interest in the Atchison Globe. So in spite of his determination to see that I made my own way during his lifetime, his heart was larger than his head, and he made the mistake of so many others. He did his best to ruin me."

In his newspaper work the elder Howe, now 81, adhered to his strict theories.

"Father believed in publishing all the news," Gene said, "even when his own family was involved. I once went with a group of other Atchison boys to a neighboring town where there was a saloon. The Globe the next day told of the party, concluding with: 'The drunkest of all was the son of the publisher of this newspaper.'

"As a father he still calls me on the carpet, but he has always been considerate. If he called me on long distance telephone this moment and told me to hop, I'd hop."

Ed Howe, "sage of Potato Hill," has expounded a Spartan philosophy publicly . . . but he "slipped" occasionally in laying down rules for his son. He paid him $500 to give up hunting, and then relented when the hunting was good. Here is the philosopher with is son, Gene Howe, Amarillo publisher.

Discount Allowed Canyon Water Users

CANYON, Aug. 28. (Special)—Canyon citizens will receive a 30 per cent discount on their August water bills, according to announcement of City Manager Harvey Cash. The discount was made so people can afford to water their trees, which are dying from the drouth.

In reading the meters it was found that in spite of a 20 per cent reduction announced the first of August, less water was being used than during July.

our goods anywhere. The finest workmanship, sir." Pagliotti spoke with very little accent, his bearing confident, his black eyes agleam with intelligent curiosity.

Harper held up one of the pictures. "Is this the man who made the purchase?"

"Yes, sir. I remember him distinctly."

"When was the purchase made?"

"Your man asked me that. I replied, early in October."

"October?" exclaimed Harper, half rising in his chair.

"October," Pagliotti repeated. "I recalled that it had been some time before our Hallowe'en rush. We keep a record of all cash sales, as this one was, so I looked up the original slip. Here it is."

The Italian proudly produced a cash sales voucher. The date was October tenth, just three months to the day before the masquerader met his death while wearing this purchase. Here was a vital fact that was at variance with all other known features of the case.

"Are you quite sure about all this?"

"I am positive," replied Pagliotti, promptly. "There is more to be told, an incident that fixed itself in my memory."

Cotton Is Opening Fast Near Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Cotton is opening fast in this section and the big end of the crop will be harvested within the next few weeks.

Thus far farmers have been unable to sell cotton because they have not received allotment blanks which are necessary under the Bankhead law. Farmers will get almost as much money for their cotton crop this year as they did last on account of the higher price.

SCHOOL DATE SET

CANYON, Aug. 28. (Special)—Canyon public schools will open Monday, September 3, according to an announcement by Superintendent Irby Carruth. All faculty members will be in Canyon by August 31. Superintendent Carruth attended Leland Stanford university at Palo Alto, California, during the summer.

VALUABLE NEW INFORMATION ON DEEP SEA LIFE REPORTED BY SCIENTISTS

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Aug. 29. (AP)—Valuable new data on deep sea life were reported today by Dr. William Beebe and Otis Barton, American scientists, as the result of their latest dives off this port.

Strange underwater creatures, thus far unidentified, were glimpsed through the quartz windows of the bathysphere, steel diving device invented by Barton, in two submersions yesterday. Tiny fish, angry at the invasion, hurled themselves against the ball, emitting flashes of light when they struck it.

Two accidents occurred yesterday. On the first descent a short circuit in a battery caused four flashlight bulbs to explode in Barton's face. He was blinded for a few minutes but remained below, unhurt.

Later a descent was made by Beebe and John Teevan, an assistant. They were being brought aboard ship by cable when a great wave rocked the little craft.

The ball slithered and rolled across the deck as the vessel pitched, giving Beebe and Teevan rough moments. They escaped injury and the bathysphere was undamaged except for a small break in an instrument connected with its oxygen supply.

No attempt was made to equal the depth record of 3,028 feet, set by Beebe and Barton two weeks ago.

"Listen, Stan . . . while I explain what Old Gold's throat-ease means" says Ollie Hardy to Stan Laurel

"Now, you take this cigarette, see?"

"Who—me?"

"Certainly—you! Now, that's an Old Gold cigarette—understand?"

"Uh huh."

"Be quiet and listen, will you? Now, Old Golds are made from pure tobacco, see? So naturally they not only taste better but they keep the throat free from irritation. Throat-ease is important to anybody!—especially to a celebrated screen artist such as . . . er . . ."

"Who—me?"

"Certainly not! But you will be a happier smoker when your throat gets the thrill of 'smooth as satin' Old Golds."

Mr. Hardy might have put it this way, Mr. Laurel:—No better tobacco grows than is used in Old Gold. And it's pure. (No artificial flavoring.) That's why Old Golds are easy on THROAT and NERVES.
