

Dedication of New National Guard Armory Will Be June 11

The formal opening and dedication of the new National Guard Armory at Marian Airpark will be Saturday, June 11, Major Dale Watkins, commanding officer, announced this week.

While events have been held in the building for the last month, this will be an opportunity for the public to the the entire armory and learn something of the National Guard operation.

Capt. Charles Allen, executive officer, said that the tentative program calls for activities to get under way about 10:00 a. m. It is probable that a band from some near-by military installation will be here to provide entertainment, and there will be an address by a distinguished speaker.

A big barbecue will be held on the Armory grounds from 12 noon to 2 p. m. Tickets are already on sale by members of the Guard unit. Capt. Allen explained that a charge is being made for the barbecue to raise money to furnish the armory, since this expense is not borne by the National Guard or the state.

Closing the day will be a public dance, with Peck White and his orchestra providing the music.

Detailed plans of the opening will be announced next week.

Wheat Marketing
Vote June 25

Collingsworth County wheat growers, along with others throughout the nation, will vote in the wheat marketing quota referendum Saturday, June 25.

This election, like the referendums of previous years, will determine if marketing quotas will be in effect next year, Millard Brown, ASC secretary, explained.

The polling places will be announced later.

If more than two-thirds of the growers in the United States favor marketing quotas, the program will become effective. If more than one-third voting disapprove quotas, the program will not operate.

"If quotas are approved, farmers who comply with their wheat acreage allotments may market all wheat produced on the farm, penalty free, and will be eligible for price support at 75 to 90 per cent of parity," Brown explained. "Farmers who do not comply will be required to pay or satisfy the marketing penalty on excess wheat before a marketing card can be issued to sell the farm's quota of wheat. Non-complying farmers will not be entitled to price support."

The price support will drop to 50 per cent of parity for co-operating farmers if quotas are disapproved, while non-complying farmers will not be eligible for price support, but can sell all wheat produced penalty free.

Those eligible to vote are any producer, and his wife, who will have an interest in the 1956 wheat crop on a farm which has a wheat acreage allotment of more than 15 acres, Brown said.

The awards were a handsome bronze medal, a pen which duplicated the obverse side of the medal, and certificates.

Damage at Lutie

Devastating Tornado
May Have Begun Here

What a number of county residents believe to have been the beginning of the devastating tornado that swept through western and northwestern Oklahoma Wednesday, May 25, was seen from several communities and dipped briefly to bring property damage at Lutie.

The twister, then in the sky, was first reported from the Crossroads community.

Zook Thomas of the Lutie area said he saw it in a shelterbelt on his farm, then it crossed an open field to Salt Fork. Here large cottonwood trees were uprooted and blown down.

The cyclonic shaped funnel was again seen in the sky between Salt Fork and the Lutie community, where it dipped to flatten the burned masonry walls of the Pain Grocery, damaged the roof of the Lutie Grocery and Station, destroyed a barn at the Everett Fain farm three-quarters of a mile northeast. In the same community the barns at the Lynn Sparlin and John Simpson farms were reported damaged.

The northeasterly direction this cyclone funnel was traveling in Collingsworth County would put it in line with the storm-damaged area of Cheyenne, Oklahoma, it has been pointed out.

Storm warnings were out for the entire area, and Jim Williams, weather bureau observer, did sentry duty at the City Hall until the alert was over.

Rain which came Monday night gave Wellington .42 inch, Williams reported. The fall was heavier north of Salt Fork, with as much as an inch and a half reported south of Dozier.

Still more rain fell Tuesday night. Fred Squires of the Soil Conservation Service, who was in the northeast part of the County Wednesday morning, estimated an inch. Sam White, mail carrier on the Shamrock-Childress route, said there was hail damage and more rain in the extreme north part of the county.

Wellington Storm Warning system is in effect this year with the same siren signal as in the past, Bura Handley, city manager, said.

Word of storm warnings or of cyclones seen in surrounding areas, is relayed to Jim Williams at the Fire Station and City Hall. Mr. Williams then keeps a lookout until the alert is past.

In case dangerous appearing clouds are seen, the fire department siren will sound two long, even blasts, and these will be repeated a few minutes later.

85 Years Ago Dallas Was a Little Place

Mrs. Flora Russell, Gay and Alert
Celebrates Ninethieth Birthday

Mrs. Flora Russell, who lived at Dallas, at Nocona and in Collingsworth County before the railroads reached any of those places, celebrated her ninetieth birthday Thursday, May 26, and enjoyed herself completely.

She entertained old friends who called during the afternoon, she crocheted a little, recalled some things of her early life, peeked into books that came as birthday presents, and she had with her seven of her nine children.

Mrs. Russell first came to Collingsworth County in 1898 and a year later moved to Shamrock. In 1914, she and her family moved to the Loco community and later to the Russell Ranch south of Childress. Three children live here, Robert Russell and Mrs. Vinnie Irwin, who are with their mother, and Mrs. John Bevers. The other children are Mrs. O. T. Clay (Norma) of Tucumcari, N. M.; Luther Russell of High River, Alberta, Canada, Pete Russell of Houston; Fate Russell of Wapnucka, Oklahoma; Mrs. Frank Taylor (Macie) of Clovis, N. WTU Will Start New Billing System Here on June 10

Reddy Kilowatt, West Texas Utilities Company's versatile service symbol, will greet customers on the monthly service statements in a new manner beginning this week — or handier more convenient post card statements. WTU's local office here in Wellington will mail out the new cards for the first time next Friday, instead of the long statement form used so many years.

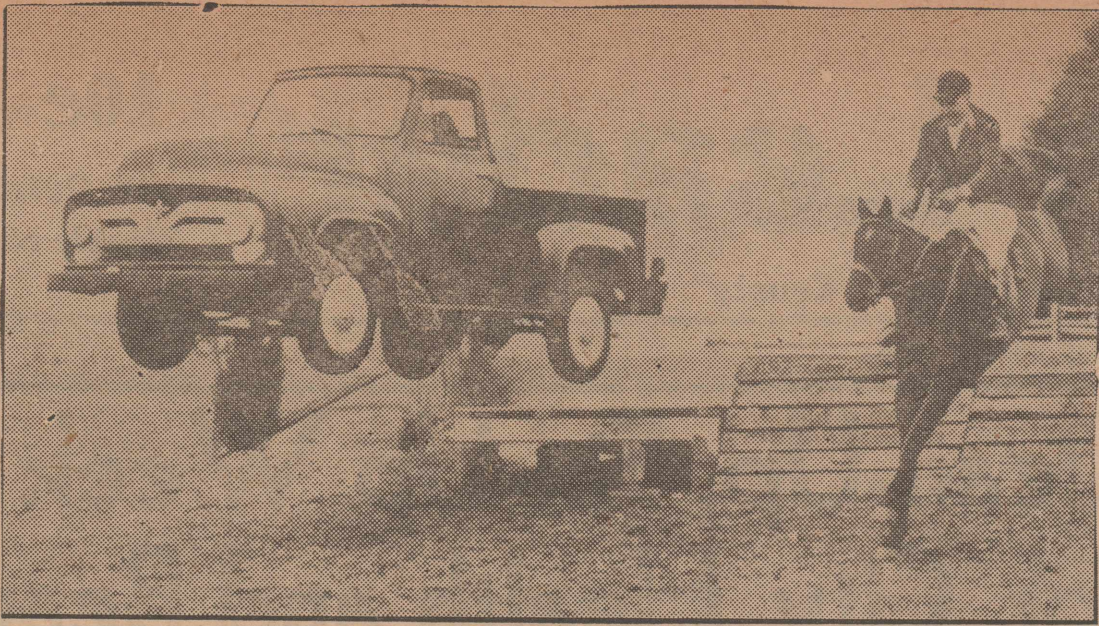

Inauguration of the new statement form was decided on after lengthy study and investigation which showed the new method would provide a more convenient statement for the customer and a more efficient system for the Company.

Cameron Beam, WTU's (Local Manager), said, "The new post card statements are prepared on long sheets of heavy paper that feed through machines in a continuous run much as newsprint runs through a printing press. The machines figure the statements, print them, and separate them for mailing automatically. The 2c postage is printed on each statement at the time the statement is figured and the information is printed on the statement. Use of a mailing permit eliminates the need for stamping the statements separately."

Mr. Beam said every effort has been made in preparing this new statement form to keep it as simple as possible and to present all the information the customer desires. He pointed out that the new statement interprets service charges in both kilowatts of electric power used and rours Reddy Kilowatt worked in the home; that is, kilowatt hours of electric service.

It was pointed out that the new statement is basically a simpler and modernized form of the old statement. There has been no change in rates or manner in calculating the statement. The due date and delivery date remain the same as before.

"This new billing system", Beam said, "is a result of one of the many studies and plans which the Company constantly has under consideration in their efforts to hold the line and keep electric rates at the pre-war level while the cost of everything else has gone up and up."

Home Lawns Need Complete Fertilizer

Home lawns receive an added "punch" if treated in the spring with a complete fertilizer, county agent J. W. Thomas recommends. A 2-1-1 or 1-1-1 ratio fertilizer is recommended. Use 17 pounds of 12-24-12 per 1000 sq. ft. of lawn. You need two pounds of actual nitrogen per 1000 sq. ft.

Improper mowing is responsible for deterioration of many lawns, Thema added. Close mowing will thin the turf and lower its resistance to drought. Keep the grass at a height of one and one-half to two inches.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kesler went to Olton Tuesday to see their niece Ruth Stansell graduate Tuesday night.

Tornado Safety Rules
Issued by Handley

If you know what to do when a electricity and fuel lines should be shut off. Windows on the north and east sides of the house may also be opened to help reduce damage to the building. (3) Standing against the inside wall of a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.

These rules are approved by the State of Texas Civil Defense and Disaster Relief.

There is no universal protection against tornadoes except storm cellars or underground excavations, Mr. Handley pointed out. When time permits, go to a storm cellar or underground cave or excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure. It should be kept fit for use, free from water, gas or debris; and preferably equipped with pick and shovel.

If you are in open country: (1) move at right angles to the tornado's path. Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour. (2) If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

If you are in a city or town: (1) seek inside shelter, preferably in a steel reinforced building. Stay away from windows! (2) In homes: the southwest corner of the lowest floor or in the basement offers greatest safety. People living in brick or stone houses should seek other shelter, preferably in a storm cellar or the basement of a frame house. It time permits, el-

Keep calm. It will not help to get excited. People have been killed by running out into streets and turning back into the path of a tornado. Even though a warning is issued, chances of a tornado striking one's home or location are slight. Tornadoes cover a small zone, as a rule, that relatively only a few places in a warned area are directly affected. You should know about tornadoes, though, 'just in case'.

Keep tuned to your radio station for latest tornado advisory information. Do not call the Weather Bureau except to report a tornado, as your individual request may tie up telephone lines urgently needed to relay special reports or other vital information.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY
CHECKERBOARD NEWS

BY CHARLES LITTLE JR.
Singley Mill & Elevator

The outlook is still rosey for those hog men following a Sound Feeding and Management program. It is true that hog prices won't be as high this year as last, but last year was one of those years that come once in a hog man's life. This year the experts look for the average hog price to be near the $20 mark. In fact some expect it to exceed this figure during some months of the year. Peak prices are expected to come in early or mid summer. This means that hog men must strive to hit this peak market by getting their pigs off to a fast start and continuing to push'em right on to market.

Stretch Corn Through Hogs

Feeding studies show that it takes 12 bushels of corn alone to make 100 pounds of pork. But, hundreds of feeders have learned it takes only 5 bushels of corn and 45 pounds of Purina Hog Chow to do the same job.

When fed on the Purina Program these Chows will help you market hogs as early as 5 months, and save you money, too.

Get Brood Sows Ready For Breeding

To avoid lost time and pigs, boars and brood sows should be in 'peak' condition during the breeding season. Good condition will help them make the greatest number of fertile matings.

Pick Good Boars

Naturally, it is wise to pick good boars. Do not let them self-feed. If boars are over-fed when not in service, they often become fat and lazy. If properly fed and handled while in service, they'll hold their weight or even gain a little. Hand feed boars 6 to 8 lbs. of Purina Sow and Pig Chow and grain once daily. Furnish the best possible pasture, shade and plenty of fresh water.

You May Lose Pigs You Never Even See!

You can see the quality of the ration fed a brood sow during gestation in the size, strength and condition of her litter. If she is not fed properly, small litters often result because, in an effort to maintain her body during pregnancy, a sow will actually resorb some of the tiny embryos . . . and the pigs farrowed may be undersized.

Watch the sow's weight and condition carefully. The average 300-400 lb. sow should gain from 100 to 115 during gestation. We recommend hand feeding Sow & Pig Chow and grain—1 to 4. Feed good quality legume hay when possible and provide plenty of fresh water. It's a good idea to feed Purina Livestock Mineral free-choice.

Health Hint

Bloody droppings in the litter? That's a strong indication that your chickens have Cecidiosis. If so, start treatment immediately with Purina Sulfa-Nox. Complete directions on label. Why not get a bottle of Sulfa-Nox and have it on hand?

A-L-L-L ABOARD FOR OBLIVION—Four-car train meanders down the lonely expanse of New York City's Third Avenue Elevated in closing days of service for the venerable line, last of the four elevated railroads which once provided New Yorkers with their principal transportation. Decline in revenues as riders switch to subways and surface transportation has caused transit authorities to order abandonment.

DOZIER

By MRS. ALEX COLEMAN

This community received nearly one inch of rain Monday night with just a little hail.

A good crowd came out for the cemetery working and memorial day celebration. There were several from surrounding towns. Mr. and Mrs. George Jones and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Tension of Wellington, and from Amarillo were Mr. and Mrs. Dud Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Tucker, their daughters Mrs. Bonnie Carlile, Mrs. Fay Seago, Mrs. Beula Moore from Pampa, Loy Harvey of Shamrock, Mrs. Lula Laycock, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Groves and John Groves of Woodward, and Mrs. Mildred Davis of Shamrock.

The Seniors of Samnorwood High School enjoyed their trip to Colorado Springs and Denver. They visited the Royal Gorge, Cave of the Winds, Seven Falls, Wild Animal Park in Denver, Broadmoor Hotel, Cheyenne Mountain, Mt. Manitou.

Teachers making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Tippie, and the parents going were Mr. and Mrs. Bart Martindale, and Mrs. Vera Amerson.

They were gone four days and ate in cafe only twice. They cooked in a park the other times. Their bus had a flat about 10 miles from Clayton, N. M. and the air brakes went out at the same time. They also went down the main street in Denver with no brakes. They had several horror incidents that made their hair stand on end. The bus finally quit running about 3 miles north of Dozier. They called a school bus and got home at 7:00 o'clock Monday morning. It took 6 and one-half hours to drive from Dalhart to Dozier.

Economy in the matter of time and money are the chief factors in reaching the pinnacle of success.

Wheat Producers Compete With Big Carryover in 1955

COLLEGE STATION — Wheat growers will heap their 1955 production on an estimated national carryover of some 1,000,000,000 bushels. And, as a result, the government's support program is expected to hold up the price.

Based on current prospects, carryover stocks probably will be reduced during the 1954-55 marketing year with further cuts due the following year.

John G. McHaney, extension farm economist, says total wheat supplies for the current marketing year will approach 1,884,000,000 bushels, the largest in history. exports to rise above last year.

The economist expects wheat exports to rise above last year.

He says domestic consumption and exports are expected to top the 850,000,000 bushel crop in prospect for '55, making possible the reduction in carryover stocks.

Under the present farm program, wheat grown must be supported by parity between 82.5 and 90 percent. The national support level for the 1954 crop was $2.24 a bushel. The support this year cannot go below $2.06 a bushel.

The building is of light brick with terra cotta trim on structural steel. The style as well as material were chosen to fit into its surroundings. The Hammond concert organ is the largest made by that firm.

Cool Pants Are the Fashion for Stylish Babies

BY EDNA MILES

IN warm weather, the most stylish babies wear the very least. A diaper, plus an undershirt if the doctor recommends it, is the minimum that means high style for the chopped-spinach set.

Mother looks yearningly at those old, waterproof pants when the heat-rash season comes on. She'd really love to pop them on baby, but she's unwilling to make her precious that warm.

A brand-new kind of baby apparel may solve her dilemma. They're of tissue-thin latex, stretchy as can be. But the remarkable news is the inside of these toddler style-setters. The inside is of a fleecy fabric that means real coolness for the household heir or heiress.

The maker of these pants ran some tests that may soothe mothers worried about the possible warmth inside. They found only a 1-degree difference in skin temperature between babies wearing these pants, plus diapers, and babies wearing diapers only.

These pants have scallops top and bottom to satisfy mothers who like their babies to look cute while dressed in their hot-weather minimum. No snaps, buttons or zippers for sitting or sleeping discomfort.

They can be bought by baby weight, an easier method for those whose babies won't adjust to age sizes.

Baby's all set for warm weather in these—waterproof latex pants, fabric lined to keep her cool. Who needs dusting powder? (Playtex)

Senator Andy Rogers Says:

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT SPENDS $275,000 IN COUNTY DURING 1954

Austin—A check on State Highway Department records has revealed that $275,200.17 was spent by the department on Collingsworth County highways during the fiscal year 1954, Senator Andy Rogers, 30th District, announced.

This was part of the whopping $3,531,666.01 allocated and spent in the 15 counties of District 30 during the period, he said. Of the amount spent in Collingsworth County, $206,538.34 was for construction of new highway and $68,661.83 for maintenance of existing road.

"And the benefit we get from this money in the 30th District is increased by the fact that ours is a rural area and the money goes for actual highway construction rather than for fancy and expensive traffic-routing devices," Sen. Rogers said. "While the effect of these tremendous expenditures is good and much needed, it is plain that highway appropriations for the state must be ever larger if Texas is to keep pace with other progressive states in the building and maintenance of good road systems."

The immediate future needs of Collingsworth County are taken into account in the $27,556.71 worth of contracts signed for jobs that are now underway or just finished, and the $71,400 planned for near-future construction.

The remaining books were adult fiction, including a number of best-sellers.

Sam Dick Morgan was admitted as an emergency patient to the Veterans hospital in Amarillo on Monday May 23. His condition is satisfactory at the time of this writing.

Editorial Comment — The Wellington Leader

Discontent Often Key to Progress

Contentment can be a marvelous state of mind. It is one of the basic ingredients of happiness. It is a state of mind in which one has no criticism to make of anything—everything is entirely satisfactory. But it is in this state of mind that a real danger exists.

The kind of contentment that is willing to accept things as they are means accepting the bad as well as the good. It is not the contented people who add to the sum of human knowledge or who explore the new paths of sciences, invention, medicine and the arts.

Human progress comes from the right kind of discontentment. We would not be a nation were it not for the people who were discontented with "Taxation without representation." The North American continent would never have been settled had it not been for people who were discontented with government restrictions, economic servitude, religious oppression in their home countries. To say nothing of those who were discontented at being where they were and just wanted to go some place else.

Somebody once said, "Discontent is the first step to the progress of a nation or of a man." There is a lot of truth in that. Education grew out of discontent with not knowing. Our standards of living, our labor saving devices had their start in the minds of the discontented. The washing machine from the very crude ones of fifty years ago came into being because someone discontented with washing clothes by hand. The automobile came about because someone was discontented with moving along at the slow pace of a horse. We can think of nothing that has added to the well-being of the human race that has not come about because someone was discontented with conditions as they were and decided to change them. Breaks for the Motorist

An amusing and significant commentary on the kind of service we expect from service stations is found in a sign a New England operator posted when he took a vacation. It read: "We are closing up for two weeks. The services we usually provide may be held at the following places: 1. General Information—from the cop on beat. 2. Cokes—at corner drugstore. 3. Rest Rooms—at home. 4. Change—at bank across the street. 5. Petty Loan—also at bank across the street. 6. Charity—at County farm. 7. Matches—from passerby. 8. Daily Newspapers—from newsboy. 9. Loafing—in the street."

Actually—all humorous exaggerations to one side—the typical American service station knows no superiors and few equals. It is symbolic of our highly competitive oil industry in particular—and of our free system of doing things in general. The contrast with the service stations in most other countries is striking. When the retired president of the Automobile Safety Foundation returned from a European motor trip last summer he was asked about the foreign stations, and he said: "Nobody wiped my windshield or checked my oil. They have simply never heard of such a thing as service over there. What do you mean, were the rest rooms clean? They never heard of rest rooms. As for the TBA as we call tires, batteries and accessories sales—they never heard of that either."

The American motorist really gets the breaks.

Use of Safety Belts Urged

Cuts about the head and face and chest injuries are common in car crashes. And they are the most frequent cause of death. Being thrown from a car is another way to suffer serious injury or death.

Safety experts and doctors who have observed the results of many car accidents say that as much as 80 percent of the deaths and serious injuries could be avoided. They suggest belts, which are already in use on many highway patrol cars, and in universal use on passenger planes.

Safety belts of various types are being manufactured. One is made of nylon, two inches wide and seven feet long. It fastens to the floor of the car at each end of the front of the rear seat, is comfortable, and will not wrinkle clothes. A sensible and simple precaution against injury—safety belts.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN —Right down to the wire, the Legislature fought out the battle of taxation.

Pay of the legislators—$25 per day—stopped May 10. So there was all the more reason, from their point of view, that the toughest, most complex and controversial problem of the session be solved as soon as possible.

First, the House passed a tax bill, increasing or putting new legislation on gasoline, cigarettes, snuff, tobacco, natural gas, trading stamps, uranium, and wine and beer dealers.

When this bill went to the Senate, amendments were introduced to tax auto storage and parking lots, jewelry, furs and clothing, storage warehouses, airlines, real estate brokers, chemical manufacturers, hotels, tourist lodges, department stores, and chain stores.

Committee Hearings
Sen. Dorsey Hardeman, chairman of the Senate State Affairs Committee, scheduled hearings almost as fast as amendments were introduced.

First witnesses was E. H. Thornton Jr., chairman of the State Highway Commission. He asked that the state tax on gasoline be set at six cents per gallon, instead of the present four cents. (The House bill increased the gasoline tax to five cents.)

Gov. Allan Shivers had advocated a two-cent increase in the gasoline tax to provide for the state's highway needs.

He continues to express the hope that there be no income or sales tax.

That the Legislators will complete the tax bill and adjourn within two weeks is Shivers' guess.

Big question is whether the House will accept what the Senate does—especially if it changes the gas levy.

Political Aspects
While they were discharging their legislative duties, some members were thinking seriously about the political campaigns of a year hence.

Mentioned often as potential candidates for Governor have been John Ben Shepperd, U. S. Sen. Price Daniel, Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and Sen. Jimmy Phillips.

But a new face entered the picture this week when Sen. Ottis Lock of Lufkin was approached by friends who urged him to give serious consideration to the race for Governor in 1956.

Shivers Returns

Gov. Allan Shivers brought much news back with him from Washington.

In a long press conference he made the flat assertion that the Democratic Party cannot nominate another left-wing candidate and win.

He repeated that he did not intend to support Adlai Stevenson as the nominee for President next year.

He praised the work of U. S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson as Senate majority leader.

He stated that he had started negotiations with U. S. Interior Secretary McKay, looking to the solution of technical problems involving control of tidelands oil and gas leasing—and he expressed the opinion that Texas' tideland problems were more technical than legal.

Shivers may ask the Legislature to set up state control over the distribution of polio vaccine. His decision will follow a conference with Dr. Henry Holle, state commissioner of health.

One of Shivers' first visitors on his return from Washington was 12-year-old Bernard Andrews. He is spelling champion of the Negro elementary schools of Houston.

Young Andrews told the Governor and Rep. Charles Murphy of Houston that the hardest word he had to spell in winning the championship and a trip to Austin by aeroplane was "zeephyr".

Park Bill Passes
Ready for Governor Shivers' signature is the long fought park bill.

Jointly sponsored by Rep. Charles Murphy of Houston and Sen. Carlos Ashley of Llano, the measure provides for $25,000,000 worth of bonds to build tourist accommodations in state parks.

It calls for the erection of lodges at Inks Lake in Central Texas, Eisenhower State Park on Lake Texhoma, and Atlanta State Park on Lake Texarkana.

Scheduled for construction first is a 101 unit resort hotel and lodges on Roy Inks Lake, to cost approximately $1,000,000.

Later construction would be at Possum Kingdom Lake, Lake Whitney, and Falcon Reservoir.

The entire program is self-liquidating.

Veterans Land Program
Loopholes in the veterans land program will be plugged if bills by Rep. Dolph Briscoe and Rep. Buckshot Lane meet with Senate approval.

These two House-passed measures would set up stiff requirements and regulations for land purchases and place full responsibility for administration of the program on the shoulders of the chairman of the Veterans Land Board.

Land Records
Land Commissioner J. Earl Rudder says there have been no changes in the minutes of the veterans land board.

At the April 27 meeting of the board, Governor Shivers and Attorney General Shepperd released affidavits saying that the minutes of 80 previous sessions contained gross mistakes—and Shepperd moved that negotiations be made showing that the minutes had been corrected.

"You can read the original minutes just as they were written in the record", Rudder told the House special investigating committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrell Kent, students in West Texas State College, Canyon, were here for the weekend with his grandparents, before going to Shamrock where he will be employed by the Shamrock Texan during vacation.

Austin Williams, who moved from here to Lometa in the fall, is here for a short time on business. Williams operated a tailor shop for several months after moving to Lometa, but he is now in the insurance business.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Austin last Friday was Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Austin of Clovis, New Mexico. J. M. Austin is a brother of G. T. Austin.

Legion Nine Meets Altus At Airpark Thursday

The American Legion baseball team will have the Mangum, Oklahoma team as its first opponent Thursday night, June 2, at Marian Airpark diamond. The game family moved on to a new frontier, Montague county, in the vicinity of where Nocona was later to be established. Mrs. Russell hasn't been back to Dallas since then. "I'd like to see it", she remarked.

Mrs. Russell—

She recalls the herds of cattle that passed through Montague county on the way up the trail.

"They stretched miles long, and would get all bawled up at Red River waiting to cross. The little calves would drop out along the road, and people who lived there would take them and raise them".

She remembers no Indians in the vicinity where the Drake family lived, but up in the St. Jo area, a woman and two children were captured. One child was killed, but the other later returned to the white people and became a friend of Mr. Russell.

Mrs. Russell went to school in a little log house and sat on split logs for benches. She remembers how her feet dangled, she was so tiny. She had already read through the first and second and third readers when she started to school "but I couldn't spell worth anything".

"That teacher whipped the children scandalously, except he didn't whip me because he boarded at our house, and he liked it. But he left without paying his board bill", she remembers.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell were married when she was 19. The ceremony was performed on a Sunday by a Rev. West, as the couple sat on horseback.

When they came to Collingsworth in 1898, Mr. and Mrs. Russell settled in the Aberdeen community, where other people from Montague county were living. But after a year they moved to the China Flat community east of Shamrock.

Mrs. Russell's hospitality has been known far and wide. She recalled an occasion at Nocona when two strangers came to the house, walked in without knocking, introduced themselves and said "We knew we'd get something to eat at Tom Russell's."

The home at Aberdeen was a two-room house, and there was the time a blizzard blew up and a family with several children, just arrived from Alabama, stopped to spend the night. This was in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Russell and their own family of children, and her sister who lived with them.

Her hospitality has not changed, and Mrs. Russell's home is the scene of many gatherings of family and friends.

She remains remarkably active and alert—as much as women many years younger than she. She crochets a great deal, large pieces of intricate design, and she reads lots, too. Until a few years ago she made hooked rugs.

Mrs. Russell has 21 grandchildren, including County Attorney Denzil Bevers and Douglas Bevers of Wellington. There are also numerous great grandchildren, and several great great grandchildren.

Clean-UP—

out to be picked up. These cannot be handled satisfactorily in the daily trash pick-up as it is planned for this special week.

Sirens will be heard from a city fire truck and Kelso Ambulance, each bearing large signs proclaiming the week, as they cover all streets of the town Monday morning.

Preceding this, Boy Scouts will deliver circulars to all house Friday, Shadid said.

"We urge every citizen to take part in this drive", he continued. "Clean out your attic, your closets, your basement, your garage, in fact any place that you store things that might create a fire hazard".

Elimination of breeding places for flies is another must for clean-up week, both Mr. Handley and the C-C committee urged.

"We feel the most important phase of this campaign is making Wellington safer from the health and fire standpoint.

"Another thing, polio season is here, and our clean-up work can mean the life or health of our boys and girls", Shadid pointed out.

Fix-up and Paint-up will be stressed during the week.

"A town is judged first by how it looks", Handley reminded. A little paint and a little lumber and a few nails can make Wellington look a lot better".

will be called at 8:00 p. m.

What was to have been the opener with Wheeler Sunday fell through when that team failed to arrive.

"Mangum has a good team," Manager Jack Ford declared. "Our boys will be playing practically the same team that Amarillo could defeat only four to three."

Duggie Jameson will be on the mound when the game opens, with Hubert Price catching.

Others due as starters are Jerry Elbert, first base; Joe Woods, second base; Gano Wilson, short stop; James Young, third base; Don Bevers of Hedley, right field; Darryl Morris center field; Burris Patchell, left field.

Ford has three other games scheduled.

June 11, Altus, Oklahoma there.

June 20, Altus here.

June 23, Mangum there.

All games begin at 8:00 p. m.

Mrs. Peeples—

ating. Burial will be in the family plot in the West Wellington Cemetery under the direction of the Kelso Funeral Home.

Her body will lie in state at the Kelso Chapel until the time of the service.

Mrs. Peeples was born at Prescott, Ark., February 10, 1882, and before her marriage she was Lennie Wynn, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Clarendon Wynn. She came to the Hollis area in youth, and after her marriage to Dr. Peeples, came to this county.

They lived for a number of years in the Lillie Community, then moved to Dodson, where Dr. Peeples practiced until his death. Mrs. Peeples later moved to Wellington.

During the 1930's, she was supervisor of the county sewing room, the government project which gave work to many unemployed women.

Several years ago she moved to Amarillo making that her home until she went to Salida.

Surviving Mrs. Peeples are two children, Mrs. L. A. Manzer of Lubbock and John William Peeples of Salida, Colo. There are three sisters and three brothers: Mrs. J. C. Long and Noble Wynn of Lubbock, Mrs. S. B. Bartlett of California, Miss Edith Wynn of Odessa, R. W. Wynn of Hollis and W. T. Wynn of Shallowater.

Oscar Peeples of the Lutie community is a nephew, and other relatives are Marvin Wynn and Elliott Wynn of Dodson and Alf Wynn of Childress.

Flood Control Meet Under Way

Representative of the State office of the Soil Conservation Service and the State Soil Conservation Board are meeting Wednesday afternoon June 1, with representatives of the local SCS office civic groups and the county government to determine the willingness and ability of local people to continue the Crow Creek Flood Control project, already approved for the county.

Word of this meeting did not reach the local office in time to call a general meeting, Fred Squyres, work unit conservationist of the SCS, pointed out.

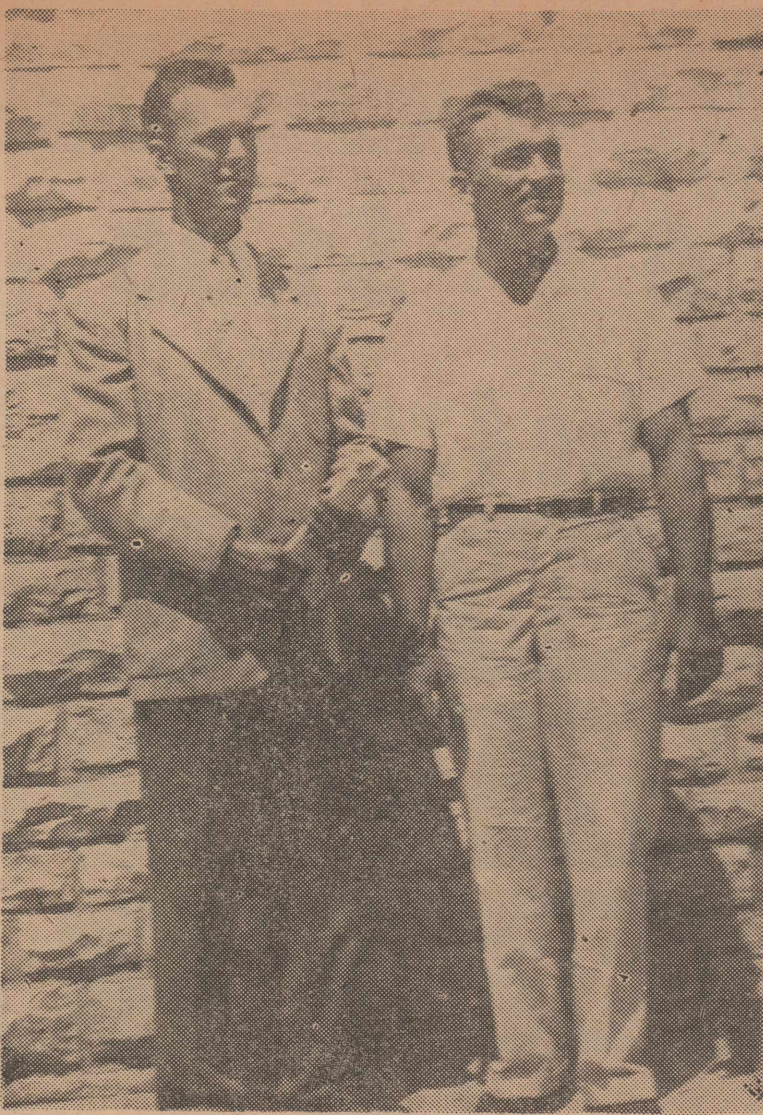

No definite steps have been taken to organize the flood control district, since landowners in the Crow Creek Area are waiting more information on what is required of them. This is due to be brought out in the meeting now under way.

It is expected there will be a discussion of the cost sharing policies as established by the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act. Plans for obtaining the needed funds will be taken up.

Wednesday morning was given over to a field study of the Crow Creek watershed.

Mrs. John Beavers accompanied Mrs. J. M. Tindall of Shamrock to Nocona one day last week to attend the funeral of Mrs. Tindall's uncle, L. A. Walker.

Others attending the Walker funeral were Fred Walker and Rufe Benton.

Tom Cleveland and Marion Baumgardner
Tom Cleveland Gets Help from Texas

RED TAPE, NOT SATIN RIBBON TIES UP WEDDING IN AFRICA

Getting married in the Belgian Congo is almost as difficult as getting security clearances in the United States for a job with the Atomic Energy Commission, Tom Cleveland, who spent a summer in Wellington several years ago, has learned.

The groom-to-be, a 1951 agronomy major at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, is teaching at a mission school in Kakinda, Belgian Congo, Africa. During his years in Tech, he was a close friend of Marion Baumgardner, and one summer was spent with the Joe Baumgardner family at their farm.

The Texas Tech Department of Public Information tells the story:

Cleveland recently wrote Dr. C. C. Schmidt, head of the Tech physics department, requesting the latter obtain for him: (1) a letter of permission to marry from the mayor of Lubbock, and (2) a certificate from the sheriff of Lubbock County affirming that Cleveland was "a man of good conduct and standing" and did not have a police record.

Since the Belgium government strongly believes in official documents and the power of the local mayor, Cleveland asked that the statements be furnished in four copies "with all possible seals, signatures and ribbons".

Mayor Murrell Tripp and Sheriff Grady Harris readily prepared the requested documents, complete with seals, bestowing official permission upon the forthcoming marriage.

Cleveland plans to marry Miss Mary Margaret Harris of Columbia, Mo., this fall when "all of the red tape has been cleared".

Following his graduation from Tech, Cleveland attended Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary for one year. He spent an additional year in Belgium studying French, Belgium history and government before continuing to Africa as a missionary.

Cleveland teaches at Morrison Institute, sponsored by the Presbyterian Church of the United States. His parents have been missionaries in the Congo for many years.

While a Tech student, Cleveland was vice-president of the senior class, president of the Cosmopolitan Club, an organization composed primarily of foreign exchange students, vice-president of the student Religious Council and president of the men's dormitory in which he resided.

Sam Gholson To Enter Business In Muleshoe

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gholson and their two daughters, Ann and Nell, moved late last week to Muleshoe, where they are establishing a White's Auto Store. Mr. Gholson recently sold his White's Store here to Buster Hughes, but he is retaining his interest in the Wellington Hardware and Furniture.

Mr. Gholson had established his store here in 1937, and had managed it continually except for three years with White's Auto Store at Quanah.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gholson have been leaders in the Wellington Methodist Church. He served on the board of stewards for a number of years and was chairman of the board when the extensive remodeling program of the church was carried out.

Mrs. Gholson, the former Virginia Curry, was reared in Wellington, graduating from high school and later attending Southern Methodist University. She has been a leader in the Women's Society of Christian Service, not only on a local level, but also in the district and conference.

She has been active in civic and study club work, as well as in the Band Mothers Club. Their daughters have also taken part in the youth activities of the church, and Ann has been one of the Skyrocket twirlers.

Creep Feeding Pays For Veteran Livestock Raiser

CRYSTAL CITY—Creep feeding of home-grown grain has earned a firm place in the farming practices of a veteran Zavala county livestock raiser.

W. R. Parsons recently sold 50 fat range calves and topped the market at 19 cents a pound for the heavier animals and 17 cents for the lighter ones.

"Had I not fed, the calves would have brought only 15 to 16 cents the day I sold", said Parsons, who has ranches near Crystal City since 1922. And, in addition, the calves on creep weighed about 150 pounds more than calves of similar age but not on extra feed.

Parsons' story of success began in late July. With the suggestion of County Agent Jack L. Adams, the rancher bought some milo and hegari from neighboring farmers who were harvesting at the time. The two grains were mixed and ground and feeding was started later in August. He put out the mixture at rates of five pounds of grain to one pound of cottonseed meal.

Parsons' has fed range calves in past years but 1954 was the first time for home grown grains, Adams explained. This mixture made the heaviest but one of the best rations he's ever used, he added.

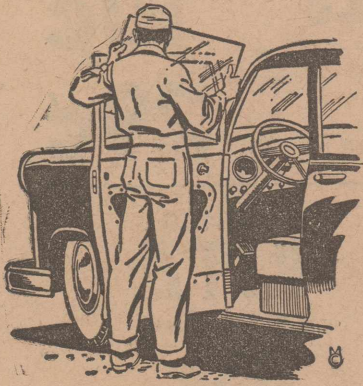

Each calf at about 300 pounds of the mixture. The rancher reported a feed cost of about $7.50 per head and a take-home profit of more than $20 per head.

Parson's only complaint, not enough space for grain storage. He is planning and will remedy that situation in the future, the county agent reported.

It is impossible for a fellow on a border to follow the straight and narrow.
