Korean influence probe

Ex-congressman indicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Rep. Richard T. Hanna was indicted today on federal charges of bribery, fraud and conspiracy stemming from alleged South Korean efforts to buy influence among members of Congress.

Hanna, a California Democrat who served in the House from 1953 through 1974, was the first ex-congressman to be indicted in the Justice Department probe of alleged attempts by South Koreans to ply members of Congress with cash and other favors in exchange for actions favorable to the South Korean government.

A federal grand jury in U.S. District Court in Washington returned the indictment charging Hanna with one count of conspiracy, three counts of bribery, one count of failing to register as a foreign agent, and 35 counts of mail fraud.

The indictment named Tongsun Park, the one-time Washington businessman who has now returned to Seoul, as an unindicted coconspirator. Park already has been indicted on similar charges and has so far refused to return to the United States to face trial.

Also named as unindicted co-conspirators were two former directors of the Korean Central Intelligence Agency, Kim Hyung Wook and Lee Hu Rak.

The indictment charged that Hanna used his position as a congressman "to encourage agencies of the government of the Republic of Korea to promote the designation" of Park as the intermediary for rice sales to Korea from U.S. companies.

Park received a substantial amount of money as commissions from the U.S. companies and passed along much of that money to Hanna "and various other congressmen and senators with intent to influence the decisions and actions of said congressmen and senators on questions and matters relating to the Republic of Korea," the indictment charged.

Specifically, Hanna and Park wanted to influence members of Congress to increase U.S. military aid to Korea, defeat proposals to reduce U.S. military forces there, increase rice sales to Korea and win more favorable terms for the financing of those sales, and make speeches and write statements praising the South Korean regime, the indictment said.

As part of the alleged scheme, Park gave cash and other gifts to House and Senate members he and Hanna believed "to be influential in matters affecting" South Korea, the indictment said.

"The payments would be given for political campaigns, for the personal use of said congressmen and senators and on occasion for the office petty cash or slush funds of said legislators," the grand jury charged.

Like the earlier indictment of Park, the Hanna indictment cited several instances when Hanna wrote letters to various executive branch officials promoting South Korean interests and urged some of his colleagues to take similar action.

ALL SMILES — President Carter and Panamanian leader Gen. Omar Torrijos smile as they pose for photographers prior to their meeting at the White House today. The two met for more than 90 minutes in an effort to put to rest some of the controversy around the proposed Panama Canal treaty.

Carter's charge said untrue, unfair

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas officials and oilmen say President Carter's charge oil companies want to "rip off" consumers is untrue and unfair.

Carter, defending his energy program from Senate attacks, suggested Thursday that oil companies might become war profiteers during the energy crisis.

Senator John Tower, R-Tex., said the Carter program is in trouble because it is an inept energy policy and not because of oil lobbying.

"The Carter energy plan was in shambles when it was sent to Congress," Tower said.

"The Senate will not be stampeded into putting its stamp of approval on an inept energy policy just for the sake of saying we now have one."

Senator Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., was among those offering the natural gas decontrol bill the Senate adopted, 50-46, after days of bitter debate.

"Up to now, I can't find anyone who is for some of the President's tax programs, except the President himself," Bentsen said.

Bentsen said Texas consumers would pay 37 per cent of the $14 billion oil and gas use tax that is in the Carter package and added that "I will continue to oppose it."

Bentsen said he thought Carter was acting in the nation's best interest when he advocated decontrol of natural gas prices last year while campaigning for president in Texas.

"I am acting in the nation's best interest now," Bentsen said. "Apparently Carter changed his mind but I haven't."

Robert Mosbacher, a Houston independent, said Carter sent a telegram to independents last year endorsing gas decontrol.

"What he previously said is diametrically opposite to where he now stands," Mosbacher said. "No wonder the country is worried."

John J. Christmann, Lubbock, president of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association, said Carter "hit below the belt" with his charges.

Senate kills energy tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee today approved an energy bill that contains billions of dollars worth of tax breaks but none of the tax increases recommended by President Carter.

Staff technicians estimated the bill would save 2.2 million barrels of oil per day by 1985, at a cost to the government of $32 billion.

The House version of the tax bill, which included watered-down versions of Carter's three proposed taxes, would save 1.7 million to 2.5 million barrels per day. Current consumption is about 18 million barrels daily.

Howard, Mitchell Counties studied

Cancer death rate low here

If you live in Howard and Mitchell Counties, your chances of dying with cancer are significantly less than those of the average American, government studies show.

This contrasts with the same government report released in Science magazine last week which indicated that a study of 39 petroleum industrial counties, including Howard and Mitchell, had a 6 per cent higher incidence of cancer than 39 similar nonpetroleum industrial counties.

The Big Spring Herald followed up the publication of the study by Dr. William Blot of the HEW's National Cancer Institute in Bethesda, Md., with inquiries about specific figures for Howard and Mitchell Counties.

What the newspaper found was a surprise contrast to the recently published data.

While the national average for a 20-year period for cancer was 174.04 deaths per 100,000 population, Howard County had only 143.5 deaths per 100,000 population, and Mitchell had only 136.9 per 100,000 when combined for all 35 types of cancer.

This was based on 370 deaths in Howard County and 151 deaths in Mitchell County from 1950 to 1969.

A spokesman said that while the combined numbers would reflect the chances of the average resident in Big Spring or Colorado City dying with cancer, it was not meaningful in determining if petroleum workers face a higher danger of cancer, as the recent Science magazine article suggested.

The most recent study was part of a whole series of "statistical" studies being done by the government to look for environmental factors in cancer, the spokesman said.

The base study, completed in late 1974, examined cancer deaths in every county of the U.S. for 20 years. Later reports have been a recompiling of this data by counties with specific kinds of industry.

The study was done by the National Cancer Institute, a part of the National Institute of Health, which is a part of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW).

The spokesman said that, taken in isolation, the figures may or may not show an increase in cancer for individual petroleum industrial counties.

A study is now under way in cooperation with the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union to examine death certificates of its members for a 20-year period to see if the nature of the refinery industry increases the chances of cancer.

The spokesman said that the outcome of this study would not be available until late next year, and it may remove some of the variables which the first statistical study could not.

The Science magazine article reported that the chances for leukemia in petroleum industrial counties was 3 per cent higher, but the base study shows Howard County lower than the national average, but Mitchell County almost double the national average.

The article said that there has been "no clear indication that petroleum refinery workers are exposed to excess risk."

Court asks opinion on salary settings

On a split vote, Howard County Commissioners Court today decided to seek an attorney general's opinion while conforming to salary increases ordered by Judge R.W. Caton of the 118th District Court.

The orders concerned salaries for employees of the district court, including the court reporter Jerry Spence and probation officers Guy Talbot, Jeanette Nichols, and Linda Graham.

After a brief discussion with the judge, the court voted 3-2 to request an opinion of the Attorney General, and to take no action to block the raises in the meantime. The raises are retroactive to October 1.

The vote came with Commissioners Jack Buchanan and Louis Brown voting against the request for an Attorney General's opinion. Both men said they were satisfied that the district judge was within his authority when he handed down the orders. County Judge Bill Tune cast the deciding vote in favor of an opinion.

The raises are: Jerry Spence, court reporter, $11,298 to $12,750; Guy Talbot, chief probation officer, $11,652 to $13,604; Jeanette Nichols, probation officer, $6,780 to $7,380; Linda Graham, part-time probation officer, $3,200 per hour.

In addition, the orders mandated a $300 increase in travel expenses for Talbot, increasing his budget to $1,800, and 18 cents per mile travel expenses for Graham.

In other action, the court agreed to pay $470 for the burial of Lloyd T. Minter. Minter's body was shipped to Big Spring where River-Welch Funeral Home performed an additional $225 service on top of the $245 done in embalming and transportation in Dallas. The body was sent to Big Spring by Dallas' Medical Center Hospital on the grounds that Minter had lived here until three years ago.

County Appraiser Earl Dean met with the court to discuss reappraisal and reorganization in the appraiser's office. Dean went over his program for cleaning up the county appraisal system, beginning with aerial photographs and mapping procedures.

Commissioner Ike Rupard told the court that the City of Coahoma had informed him that the Coahoma Fire Department will begin again fighting fires threatening property and houses in the county east to the county line for a subsidy of $2,000 per year. According to Rupard, the department will still not answer grass fire calls.

Ambulance contract eyed

Big Spring Councilmen and Howard County Commissioners met with a representative of the El Paso Ambulance Service today to discuss terms of their proposed contract in depth.

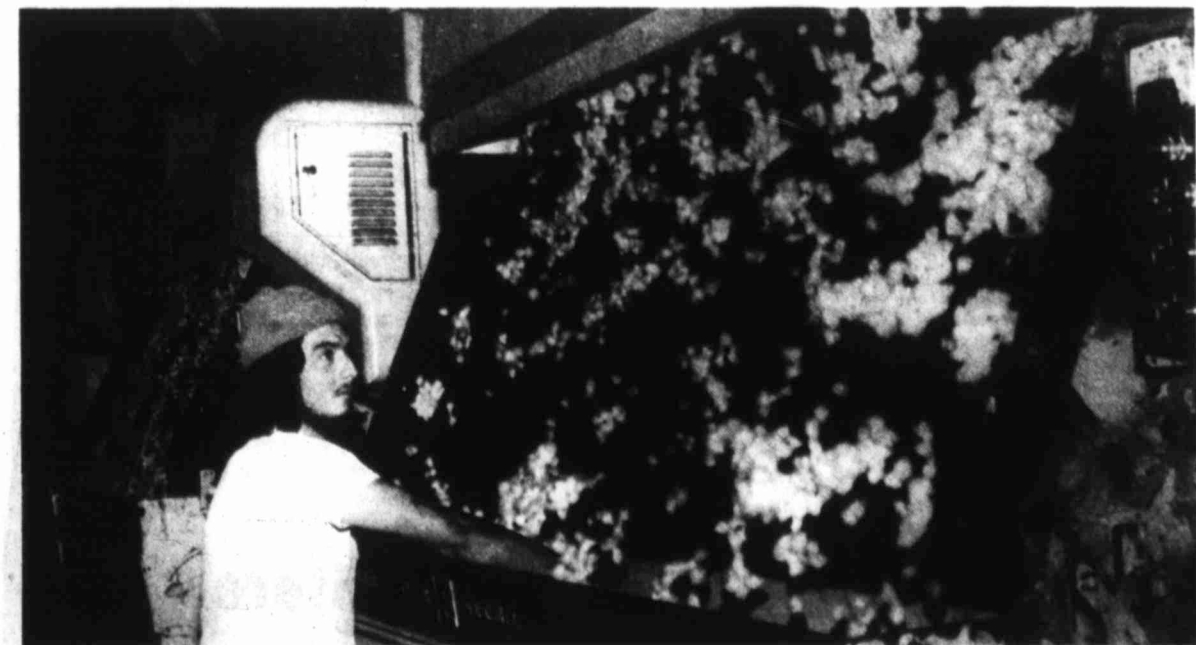

Among those things being considered were cost division for the service between county and city, the use of city facilities as a base of operations for the service, and technological advancement of the ambulances and training of personnel.

Councilmen discussed the use of the fire station located at 18th and Main as a base of operations for El Paso Ambulance Service. The facility would offer a central location in the city, and also sleeping, radio, and garage accommodations.

According to Diana Weir, head of Start Talking Ambulance Today, the ambulances have basic life support equipment at this time, and have great potential as the Emergency Medical Service vehicles which the STAT group has been pushing for.

The service would have an ambulance and two attendants trained in EMS on duty 24 hours a day, and another ambulance and two more attendants ready to go in 15 minutes. The service also incorporates two more ambulances which would be available from the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Action/reaction: Public figure

Q. In Monday's Herald there was an article about Joe Swinney being sued on a debt. What makes this worth a two-inch story when everybody else just gets in the public records?

A. Most routine civil suit filings are only carried in the Public Records, but this case is not routine. It involves a public figure. When he was elected mayor, Swinney became a public figure, subject to more detailed scrutiny than the private citizen. The citizens deserve to read any allegations made against officials in a court of law, although the filing of a civil suit is not at all a proof of guilt or wrongdoing, said Troy Bryant, news editor.

Calendar: Football action

TODAY

SATURDAY
Colorado School Board, Colorado City, plans an open house for its Administrative and Curriculum Center in conjunction with homecoming activities.

SUNDAY

Reception at the high school cafeteria honoring Lynn Hise, school superintendent and members of the school board. The public is invited, 2-4 p.m.

Offbeat: No more bulbs?

DETROIT (AP) — Service stations here don't give glasses away any more and the movie theaters don't give away plates.

Now Detroit Edison may stop its light bulb giveaway. They weren't exactly free — you paid for them in the form of a slightly higher bill — but Detroit Edison says the cost to close to 75 per cent of its customers who use the program has been no more than 12 or 13 cents a bulb compared to 40 cents or more in a store.

A merchant who complained the practice competed with his business filed suit against Edison in an attempt to get it halted.

Pulling the plug on the program will not mean lower rates, a spokesman said, "just that rates will go up a little slower than they otherwise would."

Good steel future

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of U.S. Steel predicted a good future for the American steel industry after President Carter's vow to keep foreign producers from dumping steel illegally on the U.S. market. "I'm very optimistic," Edgar Speer told reporters after meeting with the President and others on Thursday.

Hijackers set deadline

DUBAI, United Arab Emirates (AP) — Arab-speaking terrorists who took a West German jetliner on a journey across the Mediterranean and Middle East to Dubai have set an 8 a.m. EDT Sunday deadline for the release of 11 "comrades" in West German and Turkish jails. In Switzerland, meanwhile, the kidnappers of West German industrialist Hanns Martin Schleyer reportedly issued a communique setting a 4 a.m. EDT Sunday deadline for meeting their weeks-old demand for the release of 11 terrorists from West German jails. Their reported statement said the hijacked plane was "a direct link" with the Schleyer abduction.

Life machine unplugged

LONDON (AP) — Doctors switched off the life-support machine for a young woman "clinically dead" after a brutal sexual attack, and the action has raised a complicated legal issue of whether her assailant can be tried for murder. In a decision reminiscent of the Karen Anne Quinlan case, the victim's anguished parents and fiancé gave their permission for doctors to turn off a respirator and allow her to die, the local coroner in the northern city of Bradford reported Thursday. Some legal authorities said that, if and when apprehended, her assailant could charge that the physicians who disconnected her life support were responsible for her death.

Same gun killed both?

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — With their key bullets in evidence, prosecutors were poised today to show that the same gun killed two persons last year at Cullen Davis' Fort Worth mansion.

Fort Worth Crime Lab Director Frank Shiller will testify the bullet that killed Davis' stepdaughter, Andrea Wilborn, was fired from the same .38-caliber pistol used in the slaying of Stan Farr.

It is crucial to the state's case to show the bullets were fired from the same weapon because the gun was never recovered and their were no eyewitnesses to the shooting of the 12-year-old Miss Wilborn.

Davis, a millionaire industrialist, is on trial for his life in the slaying of Miss Wilborn, who was killed in a prelude to a midnight shooting spree that left Farr dead and two others gravely wounded.

The defendant's estranged wife Priscilla, 36, testified previously it was Davis, 44, who shot her and then fired four bullets into Farr, 30, her lover.

The fourth victim, Gus Gavrel Jr., 22, and his girlfriend Beverly Bass both have identified Davis as the "man in black" who triggered the Aug. 2, 1976, assault.

Police beat Home-business burglary loot includes even a dog

Big Spring burglars made a field day out of Wednesday and Thursday when they broke into two businesses, several homes and a car.

Sometime Wednesday night burglars broke the skylight on the southeastern section of the roof of Hoppe Auto Parts, 211 W. 4th, in order to burglarize two vending machines, and take an unknown number of auto parts.

The burglars did about $30 damage to the skylight, and once inside broke into a cigarette machine and Coke machine causing $50 damage. There was no report of tire loss.

On investigation, police found a pack of cigarettes across the street from the building which led them to believe the burglars got away made in a northerly direction. Identification officers were able to get finger prints off of both vending machines, but at this time no arrests have been made.

Burglars took over $70 of merchandise from Rockwell Brothers Lumber Company sometime between 5 p.m. Wednesday and 7 a.m. Thursday after breaking through a rest room window.

According to reports, entry was attempted through the west side door, but was unsuccessful. The burglars took a drill and a saw, and emptied the coin boxes of a peanut machine and a Coke machine.

Cost of replacement for the saw and drill was estimated at $78. Total amount of change taken from the machines is unknown.

Burglars prized out the window on the west side of a mobile home belonging to Phillip Edwards, 3506 Airport, and took his television set sometime between 2 p.m. Thursday and 3:45 a.m. today.

According to reports, the set was worth $100. Jennifer Stone, 1601 Bluebird, discovered burglars had ransacked her home sometime between 3 a.m. and 10:30 p.m., Thursday when she was away.

According to reports, the burglars entered the home through a back window, and took about $1,795 worth of clothing.

Burglars not only took tools belonging to Marvin Ennis Patterson, 811 E. 14th, but also his dog and all the meat in his freezer, sometime between Sept. 22, and Oct. 3. Tools taken included a screwdriver set, some socket wrenches, drill bits, and a saw. Total loss to Patterson, including his French poodle amounted to $229.

Someone broke into the pick-up belonging to Fred H. Williamson, Gail Rd. Box 46, and took his rifle while it was parked at the Cue and Triangle Pool Hall on Runnels, at about 10 p.m. Thursday.

According to reports the rifle was a 7 mm. magnum with a scope, and was worth about $525.

Miss Nina J. Bahan, Sunnyville, Calif. is in satisfactory condition at Malone-Hogan Hospital after the car she was driving went out of control and hit a light pole at the intersection of FM 700 and Goliad, at 9:24 p.m. Thursday.

Cars driven by Athal Ashley Porter, 1611 Indian Hills, and Jerry Rich Culbert, San Antonio, collided at the intersection of Sixth and Gregg at 4:52 p.m. Thursday.

At 6:48 p.m., cars driven by James E. Brigman, 1021 Stadium, and Tibascio A. Trevino, 607 N. San Antonio, collided at the intersection of 15th and Gregg.

Officers crack burglary cases

Sheriff's deputies have recovered items taken in one local burglary and have cleared three others, according to Sheriff A.N. Standard.

Deputies Robert Puente and Frank Corey answered a call at the Cabot Corp. parking lot Thursday night and found an employee holding three juveniles. The youths had allegedly been siphoning gas from cars, but under questioning by deputies, the lads were linked with more area burglaries and vandalism.

Formal statements taken today are expected to clear three burglaries and several cases of vandalism.

The youths are 17 and 16 years old and show Big Spring and Coahoma residences. They are not among the same five juveniles identified in an earlier investigation.

Deputy Eddie Owen recovered items taken from the recent burglary of David Hatch, 1510-A Wood. Owens recovered a Pioneer cassette deck and an eight-track tape player. The recovery came on a tip uncovered by investigation.

John Appleton, both of Big Spring; one sister, Mrs. Harold (Vivian) Harvey, Houston; and seven grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Jim Hodnett, Marvin Sewell, Clay Reid, Weldon Weaver, Rodney Tiller, Tom Harris, Bill Read, and Ted Thomas. Colorado River Municipal Water District employees and the men's Bible class will be honorary pallbearers. The family suggests memorials to favorite children's homes.

Deaths

Jim Layman

Jim Layman, 57, died at 12:50 p.m. Thursday in a Dallas hospital after a long illness.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with the Rev. Wm. F. Henning, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, officiating. Interment will be at Hermelegh Cemetery.

He was born May 20, 1920 at Hermlegh. He married Ollie Frazier Sept. 28, 1955 in Lovington, N.M. He had been a resident of Big Spring for 21 years. He was a carpenter. He was a deacon and then an elder at St. Paul Presbyterian Church and was a veteran of World War II, serving in the Air Force.

Survivors include the wife, Ollie of the home; one stepdaughter, Kay Kelly Dvorak, Tacoma, Wash. two stepsons, Julian N. Kelly, Uvalde and Robert M. Kelly, Kerrville; his mother, Mrs. Ross Williams Sr., Snyder; two brothers, D.R. Layman, San Diego, Calif. and Ira Layman, Dallas; two sisters, Mrs. Sally Burton, Arlington; and Mrs. Ann Jones, Quitque; and five grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Jimmie D. Jones, Jim Bill Little, Jim Watson, James Cape, Birt Allison, Roy Collins, Chap Coker, and Jimmie Hayworth.

The family suggests memorials to the First Presbyterian Church or a favorite charity.

Cag Appleton

F.C. (Cag) Appleton, 69, died at 6:15 p.m. Thursday in a Lubbock Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Services will be at 4 p.m. Saturday at the Coahoma Church of Christ with Oscar Batten, minister of the Ropesville Church of Christ officiating. John Snider, minister of the Coahoma Church of Christ and Monroe Teeters, pastor the First Baptist Church in Coahoma will assist. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park with Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home in charge.

Born Nov. 22, 1907 in Callahan County, he had been a resident of Howard County since 1925. He married Ruth Richards Dec. 26, 1930 in Big Spring. He was a farmer and a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include his wife, Ruth of the home; one son, Lt. Col. Forrest Weldon Appleton, San Antonio; two daughters, Mrs. James (Roselle) Coates, Big Spring, and Mrs. Frankie (Margie) Frenza of Lubbock; his mother, Mrs. Jennie Appleton, Houston; two brothers, Eldon and

Lloyd Minter

Graveside services for Lloyd T. Minter, 49, Dallas, were held at 2 p.m. today at Mount Olive Memorial Park, with Rev. W.D. Gilbert, pastor, Baker's Chapel AME Church, officiating. Minter was found dead at his home Friday in Dallas and was a former resident of Big Spring.

Jake Hayworth

Word has been received here of the death of Jacob Right Hayworth, 84, in Fort Worth, on Oct. 5. Services were held Oct. 8 in the First Baptist Church at Granbury.

Mr. Hayworth's forebearers were among those who came in 1882 from England as part of the William Penn colony. The tradition of religious freedom carried the family into Virginia, Tennessee, Indiana, and Missouri. His father, John Allen Hayworth came to Texas as one of the first settlers on the Upper Brazos River. Jake Hayworth was the last of his family.

O.G. Ballard

Orin Gilbert Ballard, 79, died this morning at 2:30 a.m. in Hobbs Hospital, Hobbs, N.M. Services will be Sunday at 2 p.m. in Cross Plains and burial will be in Cross Plains Cemetery.

Mr. Ballard was born March 11, 1898 in Vera. He lived in Big Spring from 1972 to 1977. Prior to that he resided in Bexar and Cross Plains. He was a retired truck driver.

He married Florence E. Meador in O'Donnel March 6, 1926, and she preceded him in death Nov. 5, 1963.

Mr. Ballard was a member of the Workmen of the World, P.W.P., the Senior Citizens, the Prospector's Club. He was a Baptist.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Ann Ellis, Hobbs, N.M.; two sons, Orin Ballard, Monahans, and Doris G. Ballard, Big Spring; nine grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be his grandsons.

Herald carrier is Regional Winner

Mark Jones, Herald carrier, is winner of the West Texas Region Carrier of the Year title, according to the Texas Daily Newspaper Association. Mark was one of the three state finalists.

The honor carries with a $500 cash scholarship. Mark intends to use it toward a degree in nuclear engineering at Texas A and M University. He already has the money at work in a savings institution.

The son of Clement and Dorothy Jones, 1900 Goliad, Mark is successor to his brothers on Route 344. Dana, who is studying biology at Texas Tech, and Brian, a chemical engineer major at Tech, serviced the route with Mark as "assistant" for over five years. For the past year and a half Mark has had it on his own.

Practically all his customers are his favorites, showing him repeated kindnesses. One man always has a cold drink ready when

Mark comes around in the summer.

Being a carrier hasn't slowed Mark, a junior, in his school and extracurricular activities for he is treasurer and deeply involved in the Big Spring High School Key Club, also the a capella choir, BASIC, and at his church (First Baptist) in the His Children youth choral group.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones said they have found that being a carrier for the Herald "has given our boys a practical lesson in responsibility, a certain financial independence, and helps them meet the public."

It has been good for the Herald, too, said Gene Kimble, circulation manager, for "Mark and his brothers have made us many friends while learning to succeed in business, as they and so many of our carriers, will be doing in just a few years."

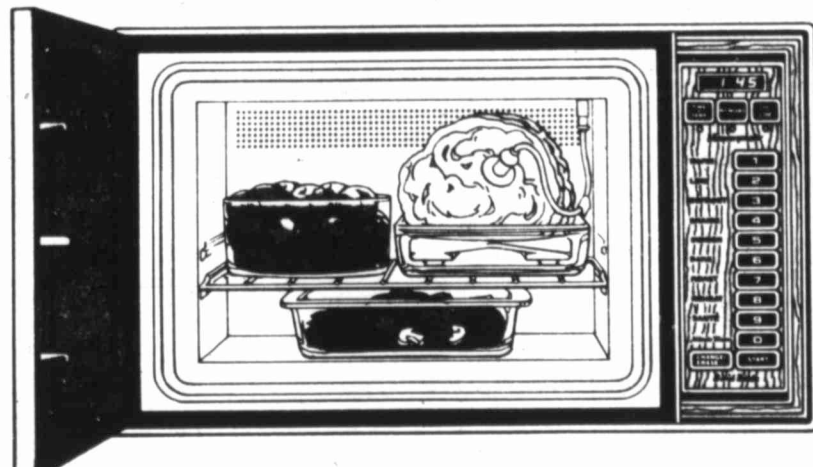

Grace declares regular dividend

Krueger wins clash with Eckhart

WASHINGTON (AP) — In their third clash of the year on a major issue, U.S. Rep. Bob Krueger of New Braunfels, Tex., has won Congressional favor over U.S. Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston.

The House decided Thursday that a consumer who believes a businessman or merchant has violated a Federal Trade Commission rule will continue to file his complaint with the FTC rather than bring suit himself or as part of a class action.

Eckhardt had submitted a provision to the FTC bill that would have allowed consumers to bring their own suits. But Krueger offered an amendment to strike the passage, and his measure passed by a 281-125 margin.

Eckhardt's defeated provision also allowed consumers to join in class action suits with an aggregate minimum of $25,000 in damages for identical alleged violations. It allowed the courts to distribute any cash damages awarded "for public purposes" since it would be difficult to discover all the parties who might have been damaged.

Previously this year, Krueger and Eckhardt, both Democrats, have been on opposite sides on air pollution legislation and the deregulation of natural gas prices.

Concerning air pollution legislation, Krueger wanted to make it easier for districts with air pollution problems to grow industrially. Eckhardt supported a measure more stringent in favor of the environment. That fight ended in a compromise.

Father charged with sex abuse of children

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — A father has been indicted on 61 charges stemming from the sexual abuse of his five children. Authorities say the abuse may have begun seven years ago.

John Starks Sr., 40, was indicted by a Kennebec County Grand Jury for acts alleged to have gone on from Christmas Day 1976 through last week, Dist. Atty. Joseph Jabar announced Thursday, adding that evidence indicated the abuse may date back much longer.

state welfare officials to provide counseling for the children, now in the custody of their mother and grandmother.

The state Human Services Department was asked to investigate whether the mother, whom Jabar said was sometimes at work when some of the acts took place, should retain custody of the children.

Starks was indicted on 25 counts of gross sexual misconduct, 20 counts of incest, 11 counts of sexual abuse of a minor and five counts of endangering the welfare of a child under 16 years of age, according to Jabar.

Jabar said Starks was also charged with endangering the health and mental welfare of his children by allegedly compelling them to engage in sex acts with him and with each other. He said Starks allegedly took pictures of the sex acts and compelled the children to take pictures as well.

and six Republicans voting with Eckhardt.

The FTC bill does not affect the consumer's right to sue a merchant or businessman for alleged violations of laws, but rather leaves in the hands of the FTC the responsibility of taking to court on the consumer's behalf, alleged violations of its own rules and regulations.

Krueger said if the bill had stood, and a class action suit had been brought to court and won by the consumers, persons who later suffered damages from the same item would "have been out in the cold."

School trustees fill new post

Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District Thursday discussed tax reappraisal, named a new secondary curriculum coordinator, and considered the fencing of the Airport campus.

The board approved the promotion of Mrs. Janice Rosson to the post of secondary curriculum coordinator. Mrs. Rosson has her ME from Texas Christian University, 15 years experience, and has been a high school counselor. Although her position is new, she will fill the slot vacated when Lynn Hise was appointed superintendent.

The board also agreed to accept bids for the erection of an eight-foot chain link fence around the Airport campus. According to Don Crockett, superintendent for business, the fence is necessary to prevent rising vandalism on the vacant building. The fence is designed to prevent the breaking of windows to gain entrance into classrooms. Estimates of the cost of the fence have run as high as $5,000.

In discussion of tax reappraisal, Crockett told the board that he believed County Tax Appraiser Earl Dean will apply for certification required by the state of all school district

Strain gets overpass job

The raising of three overpasses in Howard County was among the bids tabulated Thursday in Austin by the state highway department.

The overpasses at Cauble Road, Moore Field Road (near Stuckey's), and FM 2599 (Hartwell's Road) will each be raised three feet. The lowest of the three is now 14 feet two inches.

The bid went to J. H. Strain and son of Tye, the contractor who just completed the overpass bridge at Owens Street.

The bid was $380,654. Joe Smoot, resident engineer, said he did not know exactly when work on the structures and approaches will begin.

The TASB plan calls for a $90 per employee deposit with the TASB group account fund over a two-year period. The TASB will invest interest earned by the fund to pay for the contracted services of Reed Roberts Associates, who will handle investigation of claims and maintenance of payments.

The payments after the two-year period expires, will be adjusted according to the district's experience rating.

The school board decided that it will meet a second time this month only if an agenda warrants it.

Band to crown its queen

The Big Spring Band will crown the annual Band Queen tonight during the halftime festivities.

Nominees are Melody Dabney, Jennie Speegle, and Denise Young. The band queen will go on to be the Homecoming Queen nominee of the band for 1977-1978.

Miss Dabney is the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dabney, 2202 Alabama. She is a member of the symphonic band, plays the saxophone, and has been head of the annual band carnival two years.

Miss Speegle is the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Speegle, 616 Colgate. She plays flute in the Honors Band and is section leader. She is active in the Honor Society and was elected to Who's Who in 1976.

Miss Young is the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Young, 2313 Allendale. She is secretary for the band and plays flute in the Honors Band. She is also in the Honor Society and is a Key Club calendar girl.

Gourmet class scheduled

The Howard College Department of Continuing Education has scheduled a new short course "Gourmet Cooking."

Classes will be taught by Fred Davis, associated with KBYG, and author of a cookbook and will be held on Thursday from 6:30-8 p.m. beginning Oct. 20th. The course total nine hours.

Included are the basics concerning equipment, seasonings and methods of preparation. Complete instructions on preparation will be taught and the cooked dish will be available for evaluation. A recipe goes with each dish prepared.

Interested persons may pre-register with Dr. Bobby R. Wright, or Ms. Barbara Stroud, or obtain additional information by calling 267-6311, ext. 70.

New lake continues with foresight

We in Big Spring enjoy an ample supply of water today because of the foresight of a generation ago.

The reservoirs constructed by the Colorado River Municipal Water District (CRMWD), organized just after World War II, have made water bountiful in this moisture-scarce West Texas prairie.

Now the CRMWD is taking a big step to make certain that our children enjoy the same plenitude of water that we do.

The CRMWD announced this week that it was filing in Austin a permit request to build a 554,000 acre-foot lake near the Stacy Community southeast of Ballinger.

The reservoir will be slightly larger than the CRMWD's Lake Spence.

While there may be some protests from water authorities downstream on the Colorado River, and this is natural in an age of diminishing resources, CRMWD officials expect that the permit to build the reservoir will be readily approved.

The approval will come because of the growth that is occurring in the Midland-Odessa-San Angelo area which the reservoir will serve. And if Big Spring continues to bounce back from the closing of Webb Air Force Base in 1978 as it has in 1977, our town may be added to the boom list as well.

Timing is important, for while there is ample water now, the construction of a dam and the filling of a reservoir takes many years. When the dam is completed, the need for additional water in West Texas will clearly exist.

Also, the participation of Texas Utilities Services Inc. (the power source company for Texas Electric Service Co. which supplies Big Spring with power) gives the CRMWD an excellent opportunity to construct the dam with minimum cost to the water consumers of this area.

The proposed coal-burning electric generating plant at the new lake will be a giant undertaking which will also insure this region with adequate electrical supplies for years to come.

So there we have a dual announcement of major significances to this area: water and electricity in the same package.

Both are essential if the West Texas region is going to reach its full potential.

Both are necessary in Big Spring is to continue progressing, as we will and should.

— J. TOM GRAHAM

Panama: Round X

William F. Buckley, Jr.

The Panamanian hot-wire is overloaded with charges and countercharges stemming from the great Dole Interception. The events were as follows: a) Carlos Lopez Guevara, one of Panama's negotiators, told the political counselor of our embassy in Panama on September 30 that in his judgment the Neutrality Pact (the second of the proposed Panama Canal treaties) does not give the right after the year 2000 to the United States unilaterally to decide to intervene in order to protect the Panama Canal. Moreover, Mr. Lopez told our political counselor, we are wrong in interpreting the phrase "transit the canal expeditiously" as granting a preference to United States naval vessels in the event of a military emergency. b) That information was cabled by diplomatic line to Washington. But somewhere along the line, c) Senator Robert Dole intercepted the cable, and gave out its contents.

THE RESULT was to embarrass the friends of the treaty, and to confirm the suspicions of the critics of the treaty. They point out, moreover, that it isn't only Carlos Lopez Guevara, it is Romulo Escobar Bethancourt — the chief negotiator of the Panamanian government — who takes the identical position arguing before Panama's National Assembly in August. The episode is taken as a grave setback for backers of the treaty. But this would appear to be beside the point.

Because if Lopez Guevara's interpretation is correct, one thing is quite obvious: he will have been talking about a hypothetical treaty. Because the Senate of the United States isn't going to pass a treaty that does not acknowledge the right of the United States to intervene to keep the Canal open in the interest of national security. So that Lopez Guevara, and his boss Bethancourt, are serving inscrutable objectives by so constraining the treaty.

Meanwhile, General Torrijos is doing the grand tour of Europe and is apparently unavailable for comment. But he was not unavailable for comment when he came to Washington to sign the treaty. He was in Washington on the day that Ambassadors Bunker and Linowitz testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. When the point was reached, both of them advised the committee that under the Neutrality Pact we had both the right to intervene and the prerogative of expeditious passage. That testimony was translated for the benefit of General Torrijos that day, and he raised no objection to our representatives' understanding of it. Quite the contrary. When he made his own speech on signing the Treaty General Torrijos wrote, "With this Neutrality Pact, we are placing ourselves under the protective umbrella of the Pentagon. This Pact, if not administered judiciously by future generations, may become an instrument of permanent intervention."

What Lopez Guevara said is that the right to intervene without an invitation to do so by the host government goes counter to international law wherever you find that. The United States takes the position that the Neutrality Pact specifically acknowledges the security interests of the United States as requiring the Canal to stay open, from which it is readily deduced that any threat to close the Canal triggers a response based on security interests. And these override the question of an invitation by the host government.

THAT IS THE clear understanding of Bunker and Linowitz, of Carter and Vance and Ford and Kissinger. And of Torrijos, to judge from his references to the need for a judicious exercise by the Pentagon of an authority granted to it by the Treaty.

Gambling can spawn medical problems

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: If you think the subject of sufficient importance medically will you discuss compulsive gambling in your column? I have known of two cases and a suspected third, all of whom need help. When a person decides to stop gambling what are the common withdrawal symptoms, and does he suffer a regression. What is your opinion of Gamblers Anonymous? Your answers are so comprehensive that I'm sure that many can be helped with both physical and mental problems. — H.K.B.

The medical importance of such non-medical problems is evidenced day in and day out in doctor's offices, often as the family "spin-off" from the problems, often resulting in real physical ailments.

You are quite correct. The compulsive gambler is caught in a trap of his own making and cannot get out by himself. It is a disease like alcoholism or dope addiction. The gambler's family suffers. He resorts to embezzlement, lying and thievery. Many jail inmates are there because compulsive gambling paved the road.

Gamblers Anonymous is an excellent organization which has salvaged many victims. I've mentioned it before. Members have been through the mill and know how to handle newcomers. Arrangements are made with creditors for settlement of debts. There's an auxiliary organization called Gam Anon, which helps families of gamblers cope.

Because it is an emotional problem, one couldn't say there are actual withdrawal symptoms as with narcotics or alcohol. The gambler learns the folly of his ways and stops. No wagering, no cards for money, no lottery chances (the proliferation of state lotteries poses a real problem to the former gambler), no racehorse betting. Gamblers Anonymous chapters are located in most large cities, and can be located through telephone book listings.

I'm always happy to mention such organizations, which contribute so much to mental, and sometimes even to physical health in an indirect way.

I personally know of someone who gambled heavily for 15 years, got himself into a financial mess, and who was saved by Gamblers Anonymous.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: After a number of years I needed a sleeping preparation again. This time the doctor gave me Dalmiane (15 milligram pills) and said it was a safe sleeping pill. The ones I had before were barbiturates. Does this mean I don't have to worry about taking too many? — Mrs. P.M.

You certainly DO have to worry about overdosage. Stick to your doctor's prescribed dosage. In fact, the lower dosages are recommended where possible to prevent dizziness, and other side effects that can result.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My doctor has told me he can perform a tubal ligation. What exactly is this. How does it prevent a woman from getting pregnant anymore? I don't want my husband to know about the operation. We have six children and I don't want anymore. — K.P.

Quite simply, a tubal ligation is a tying off of the Fallopian tubes so that the egg (ovum) released from the ovary does not have a chance to meet the sperm for impregnation. I don't think it wise for you to try to have this done without your husband's knowing about it. No more than it would be for him to have a vasectomy without your knowledge.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What would cause the urethra at the outlet to recede? I mentioned this to my doctor. He examined me, but did not say anything wrong. I was embarrassed to explain just what I meant.

I have no trouble urinating, but would like to know if something should be done about it. It seems flat with no extension at the opening. — Mrs. S.D.

It's not entirely clear to me just exactly what you do mean. Since you have no trouble now I would let the matter rest. Vaginal membranes may recede a bit at menopause, which is to be expected.

Vaginitis can strike any woman at any time in her life. You can find out about the causes — and the cures — for this troublesome complaint in Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Vaginitis: The Hidden Ailment." To get your copy, write to him in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What does the word "floating" mean when used in connection with a hiatal hernia? — H.K.

Same as "sliding." A part of the stomach protrudes out of the gullet defect, then back into normal position.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 40 and having trouble with sore muscles in my legs. I have some varicose veins, but they are not prominent. I have been wearing support stockings. I've heard that deep veins can be causing this. Is this true, and if so, what can be done? — Mrs. W.W.B.

Varicose veins usually represent a generally poor circulation in the area where they are found. The leg soreness does indicate a problem with the deeper lying veins. The possibility of phlebitis should be investigated. Continue to wear the support hose.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual Readers' questions in his column.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Do you think we should always be completely honest in offering advice to other people, even if it means losing their friendship? I want friends, but I am afraid if I speak honestly with some of my friends at school, I will lose them. — H.F.

DEAR H. F.: Friendship is a wonderful thing that God has given us, and the Bible contains many examples of true friendships. Perhaps one of the best known was the friendship between David and Jonathan, which you can read about in I Samuel, especially chapters 18 through 20.

At its best, a true friendship is one in which there is complete freedom from hypocrisy and ulterior motives. In that kind of relationship, there may be loving criticism, but it is always to help the other person. The book of Proverbs says, "Iron sharpeneth iron; so a man sharpeneth the countenance of a friend" (Prov. 27:17).

Let me suggest three guidelines. First, are we sure we are not at fault in some things? Jesus warned us against criticizing people who had a speck in their eye, when we had a beam in our own eye (see Matthew 7:3-5).

Second, examine your own motives in wanting to correct someone else. Sometimes we want to correct other people just because it somehow makes us feel superior. However, if we really love them, we can speak to them about faults they may have because we honestly want the best for them.

Third, pray that God will give you wisdom about the right time to speak to others, or even whether you are the right person to speak to them. Paul talks about "speaking the truth in love" (Ephesians 4:15). We should try as much as possible to place ourselves in the other person's shoes. How would our words affect us if we were in their position?

Finally, remember that you too must be willing to receive criticism from others. You also have faults, and a true friend will tell you about them. Sometimes correction from friends is difficult to take, but God can use it to make us better people.

Personal problem

Around the rim

Bob Burton

It seems ironic, after all, that the big cities and their crime are mirrored in the country.

Howard County, West Texas, and all rural America looks on with either shock or a calculated hardness at the tough inhumanity of large cities, their crime, and their "senseless violence."

Come on, we say, that isn't true out here where the wind blows free, the family is still important, and everybody knows everybody else. If there is any common sense left in the nation, it is sure to be found with the country folk, not with the harried big city busters.

But there have been a rash of senseless violent crimes in this area, and they are the evidence that what goes on in the big city cannot be ignored in the rural regions.

Juvenile crime is rising in all cities — and in area cities — with vandalism and thefts increasing. In Coahoma, five juveniles were recently apprehended for a string of directionless thefts, burglaries, and vandalism. The quintet had destroyed over $2,000 worth of property.

Parents and teachers have continued the debate where discipline begins, in the home or at school. But the discussion went radically out of control last month when a teacher had seven stitches taken in her lip after an alleged assault by a parent.

The Martin County agent suffered pain and humiliation after being severely beaten for killing a dog which apparently was harassing livestock.

Each incident is dismaying, because each has an element of absurdity in it. Surely no one could think that these crimes were adequately provoked, or that anything was accomplished, any wrongs righted, by their commission.

Sounds pretty grim. But there are the people on the other side, for example, that 11-year-old who was sharp enough to notice his mother's purse in the hands of some felons leaving a robbery scene, and was sharp enough to memorize their license plates, and bold enough to report it to officers.

This is all just to point out that as crime rates go up, and they go up everywhere, not simply in the country or the city or the ghetto or the farm, it affects us all. The crime stories datelined Washington, New York or Los Angeles are as relevant to Big Spring as the ones datelined Lubbock, Hobbs, or Levelland.

The recent rash of absurd crime is not simply a local problem, nor a national problem. It is a personal problem each of us will have to face separately.

Advice on bugging

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — President Carter, who did his share of hand-wringing over the wiretapping of the Nixon era, has now found himself in possession of a government handbook on wiretapping.

This handy, easy-to-read manual could instruct any enterprising snoop with a set of tools how to eavesdrop on telephone conversations. The White House is embarrassed. The telephone company is horrified.

Still, the Carter disciples are caught in a dilemma. It seems the taxpayers coughed up $47,000 for the instructions on how to wiretap.

It is contrary to the president's spirit of candor and sense of economics to deprive the taxpayers of the information they paid for.

THE OFFICE of Telecommunications Policy, which paid for the handbook, was all set to release it for the enlightenment of those who might be interested in the refinements of eavesdropping. But the telephone company raised a howl. American Telephone & Telegraph, one source confided, "is scared to death about too many people finding out about this."

The aggrieved phone company, therefore, urgently alerted Vice President Walter Mondale to the danger. AT & T president Charles Brown warned Mondale in a confidential letter that the wiretap manual "tells how to intercept suburban residential telephones, business data communication, and the interstate long-distance network...It tells the reader how to locate, open, tap into, resal and rebury our cables for the purpose of intercepting customers' communications."

White House officials, putting discretion ahead of candor, have placed the 13-page, how-to-do-it handbook under lock and key. It is now being handled with the same delicate care as nitroglycerin.

Evans, Novak

SALT backfire

WASHINGTON — The tentative SALT agreement, virtually pinned down when Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko visited the White House, does not classify the Russian Backfire bomber as a strategic weapon despite a new U.S. intelligence report showing it able to reach North America with ease.

A top secret study puts the Backfire's range at over 10,000 kilometers (about 6,200 miles), nearly double some previous estimates. Yet, the strategic arms limitation (SALT) agreement relies on a Kremlin pledge — clearly unverifiable — not to use its impressive new bomber as a strategic weapon.

That alone would guarantee significant opposition to Senate ratification of the SALT II treaty. But briefings within the national security bureaucracy on the tentative agreement point to the all-too-familiar pattern of U.S.-Soviet negotiations: steady U.S. retreats with no significant Russian concessions.

Senior U.S. officials claim a major "concession" by the Soviets in agreeing to lower the overall limit of 2,400 strategic launchers (including long-range bombers) fixed at Vladivostok in 1975. But since the limit applies to each side, calling it a concession can be challenged.

More significantly, the new agreement abandons President Carter's demand of last spring that Moscow effectively limit the number of its fearsome heavy missiles. Without the limitation and in the absence of U.S. heavy missiles, the Russians gave up nothing by reducing the overall limit on strategic launchers.

Bank mystified over money loss

CHICAGO (AP) — Was it an embezzlement, a burglary or just an accounting error? Apparently no one knows for sure how exactly $1 million in cash disappeared from the underground vault of the country's ninth largest bank. But a spokesman for the First National Bank of Chicago said not one customer "is going to lose a penny."

Homer J. Holland, senior vice president in charge of administration, said the apparent loss has been charged against the bank's third-quarter earnings,

Area team first in sales effort

A group of 20 local Stanley Products sales persons, called the Foster Flyers Unit, was first in the entire Dallas area and received special recognition at the area rally at the Baker Hotel.

Dealers from here included Mrs. Wella Bledsoe, Mrs. Enedina Fierro, Mrs. Bea Miller and Mrs. Edith P. Foster, area winner. The new vice president-promotional manager of the company, Willard Broyles of Westfield, Mass. was guest of honor.

largest in Illinois, has insurance for such losses, but the deductible is greater than the amount missing.

When the bank closed Friday for the three-day Columbus Day weekend, the $1 million was in a locked cart inside a vault, officials said. But at the day's end accounting of cash on Tuesday, the bank's head teller found that the money was gone, Holland said.

The FBI thinks the money was stolen by a bank employee, either through embezzlement or a burglary, said George Mandich, spokesman for the FBI's Chicago office.

But bank officials said they have not ruled out the possibility of an accounting error, although a study by internal auditors on Wednesday found no such mistake.

LOOKING FOR A HOT MILLION — Homer J. Holland, above, senior vice president of administrative department, First National Bank of Chicago, talks to newsmen in Chicago, Thursday, about a missing $1 million. Holland said the disappearance occurred sometime between close of business on Friday and Tuesday evening, after the three-day Columbus Day holiday.

News story cited in civil mistrial

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Citing an article published in a local newspaper, State District Judge Jack Blackmon has declared a mistrial in a $4.7 million damage suit filed against South Texas evangelist Lester Roloff.

Bobby Grimsley, who became paralyzed from the waist down in a diving accident at the Roloff Lighthouse for Boys in July 1976, filed the suit.

The mistrial Thursday came on the heels of another mistrial motion filed Wednesday by Roloff's attorneys, who had complained about another Corpus Christi Caller story on the trial.

The story cited as reason for the mistrial dealt with Grimsley's father living in his car in the parking lot of Memorial Medical Center where his son is a patient.

Wednesday's story had referred to the cost of Grimsley's medical care.

"The court faced the same situation yesterday morning at the same time," the judge said. "The time of the article was the court's concern. Now the court's concern is the appeal to sympathy (the reference to the father living in a car) that could be highly prejudicial to the defendant's ability to get a fair trial in this case."

Attorneys for Roloff had argued that the stories on the medical cost "did not tell the whole story about where Mr. Grimsley resided after his son's accident."

They said Roloff "gave him money, food, clothes and transportation."

Crochet class beginning

Instruction in "Beginning Crochet" started Thursday. The course will meet the next five Thursday evenings from 7-9 o'clock in the Art Building. Tuition is $12, according to a Howard College Continuing Education notice.

The course covers the basic stitches, how to read crochet patterns, and how to design original articles in crochet. Special instructions will be given to left-handed persons.

The instructor is Ms. Susan King of the Howard College English Department who does needlework as a hobby. Her crochet classes in the past years have been popular.

"Crochet garments and articles for the home are very much in style now," said Ms. King. "My students enjoy making these for themselves and for gifts. Some students have sold crocheted shawls and purses, but most take the course for enjoyment and to learn a new hobby."

Interested persons may still register with Dr. Bobby Wright or Ms. Barbara Stroud; for additional information call 267-6311, ext. 70.

Craft Fair space bids now open

KERRVILLE — The Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair, held each Memorial Day weekend in Kerrville, is now taking exhibitor applications for the 1978 fair. Dates for the 1978 event are May 27-28-29.

Exhibitor applications will be taken until December 31 at Box 1527, Kerrville, Tex. 78028.

Mark Jones: Herald 'Super' Carrier

MARK JONES: HERALD

Faithful and courteous service has made Mark Jones a favorite of Herald subscribers on Route 344 for the past year and a half, and it has earned him the title of Carrier of the Year in the West Texas region. Texas Daily Newspaper Association has presented Mark with a $500 cash scholarship as one of the three best carriers in the state. As you might expect, a young man with Mark's enterprise excels in his studies, and doesn't miss a beat when it comes to Key Club, choir and other activities at school and the youth choir at his church. But then Mark has been understudying two brothers, Dana and Brian, on the route for 5½ years. The three brothers are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Clemon Jones, 1900 Goliad.

DAVID DOLAN is the sixteen-year-old son of Shirley Dolan. He is a sophomore at Big Spring High School and has been a Herald carrier for fifteen months. He enjoys woodworking, church, skateboarding, and bike riding and David plans to have a woodworking shop and sell the things he makes. Shirley Dolan writes, "David has made lots of friends on his paper route. Being a paper carrier has helped him learn how to talk to people and meet the public in a way that most kids should, but don't get the chance. I think that every young person should have a paper route for at least a little while. It really helps them to have confidence in themselves and they learn to take care of money and be responsible for paying a bill every month. It's hectic sometimes to get up at 5:30 on Sunday morning and help do a route, but believe me it's worth every minute of it. It's a joy to see a young person pleased at the thought of what he's done to help himself and others. I'm glad my son had the chance to be a carrier for the Big Spring Herald."

NOSTALGIA TRIP

A church steeple, spearing the sky! What does it do for you?
All across the country, slender church spires punctuate the landscape. To many of us, they are a part of the scenery, like autumn foliage, rolling hills and city streets.

To some of us, they bring back memories of childhood. Sunday. Going to church. Something many of us have gotten away from.

Yet with or without us the Church is still standing, the steeple is still there. But without any of us those spires would most certainly disappear. There would be a void. Do you really want this to happen? Something to think about, isn't it? It is certainly something to explore.

Farm College rodeo team scores heavily in three contests

The Howard College girls and boys rodeo teams are riding high in the district after the first three rodeos this school year.

At Eastern New Mexico's rodeo in Portales, the girls team from Howard College won first place and the boys won third. The girls brought home a team trophy, reported Skipper Driver, new coach of the college team.

In individual events, Mack Altizer, Del Rio roper in his second year at the college, got second in team roping and split sixth and seventh in calf roping. Joe Martinez was also second in team roping, along with Mack.

Jess Knight, freshman from Justiceburg, placed first in saddle bronc riding. Pam Mitchell collected first in goat tying and split fourth, fifth and sixth in breakaway.

Margo Powell was second in goat tying, and Tere Teague, Crane, split second and third in breakaway roping.

At the rodeo at New Mexico Military Institute, held at the end of September, the girls team won first and a trophy and the boys won second.

Margo Powell had third in goat tying; Pam Mitchell, first in the same event; and Tere Teague, second in breakaway for the girls points.

Mack Altizer had fifth in calf roping. Martinez and Ken Smith collected fourth in team roping and Guy Miller was fourth in steer wrestling. Once again, Knight was first in the saddle broncs.

At Sul Ross in Alpine Oct. 6-9, the girls team came in second and the boys team third.

The girls' points were collected by Pam with a first in the short-go in goat tying and second in the average. Tere was first in the breakaway roping in both go-rounds, thus also in the average.

Knight, in saddle bronc, split first and second in the long-go and was third in the average.

The team of Altizer and Martinez was third in the long-go in team roping, second in the short-go and second in the average.

Altizer and Smith were fourth in the short-go and fourth in the average. Kelly Marzette was second in the short-go and fourth in the average.

Local breeders sale consignees

The West Texas Hereford Association will hold its annual sale in Abilene Monday at the Livestock Yards.

Among the leading consignees of Hereford cattle at the sale will be Charlie Creighton and also Malcolm and Morris Patterson of Big Spring, well-known for many years for their top quality Herefords.

Food, research tabbed as major challenges

LUBBOCK — Two of the greatest challenges facing the world today are balancing the world population against the available food supply and wisely using and conserving natural resources.

Dean Anson R. Bertrand of Texas Tech University's College of Agricultural Sciences discussed these challenges in an address to the 37th annual meeting of the Texas Soil and Water Conservation district directors at the Lubbock Civic Center this week.

The United States will have to play a major part in solving these problems, he said.

Americans produce approximately 16 per cent of the world's food, according to Bertrand, and most of that is either eaten by Americans or stored, while a large part of the world starves.

MOD leaders learn of birth defect control

Mr. and Mrs. Barry Stephens and Mrs. Weldon Nuckolls have just returned from a two-day March of Dimes regional meeting in Dallas.

Stephens is the chairman of the Caprock chapter, and Mrs. Nuckolls is the executive director. More than 300 volunteers from three states discussed ways to expand programs to reach the public with more information about birth defects prevention.

"Protecting the unborn and the newborn from birth defects is the aim of the March of Dimes," says Mrs. Nuckolls. "Efforts by the voluntary health agency are targeted toward the day when all children can be born free from the threat of physical and mental handicaps."

The importance of the volunteer was highlighted at the conference.

Last year, the Caprock Chapter, led by Craig Fischer, was far ahead of other West Texas Districts in per capita giving. This was due to many special events held during the year by the local chapter. The first one of this year is the airlift at the county airport from 12:30-6 p.m. Sunday.

The March of Dimes supports medical service programs that improve the quality of maternal and infant health care, according to Mrs. Nuckolls.

Crop recommendations are solicited by USDA

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Department of Agriculture today asked for public recommendations concerning several 1978-crop upland and extra long staple (ELS) cotton program provisions.

One of these discussed is the national program acreage and program allocation factor for upland cotton. This includes land with no history and reduced planting patterns.

In Howard County, there were some farmers this year who put in new land without getting a crop on it yet that will be involved. Also farmers with four rows in a nine row area will also be seeing a reduction in allotment.

It was hoped by local Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service officials that local farmers involved would comment.

Other provisions which will be of concern include:

1. The target price for upland cotton.
2. The national program acreage and program allocation factor for upland cotton.

3. Whether there should be a set-aside requirement for upland cotton and if so, the extent of such a requirement.

4. Whether there should be a provision for additional diversion of upland cotton, and if so, the extent of such limitation.

5. Whether there should be a limitation on upland cotton planted acreage and, if so, the extent of such limitation.

6. The loan level for upland lint cotton.

7. Whether a seed cotton loan program should be offered and, if so, what the loan levels should be.

8. The specifications for bale packaging materials. Prior to making these determinations, consideration will be given to any recommendations received from the public. Written comments should be submitted to the Director, Production Adjustment Division, USDA, ASCS, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

Comments must be received no later than Oct. 21 and will be available for public inspection during normal business hours in the Office of the Director, Room 3630 of USDA's South Bldg.

Dear Abby

Don't Marry Just To Please Friends

DEAR ABBY: I have been divorced for eight years and have no desire to marry again. I've been keeping company with a fine gentleman for three years. He's also divorced. We have marvelous times together, going to the theater, dinner, playing backgammon and boating.

He would marry me if I wanted him to, but I believe that when two people live together, they grow tired of each other. We care for each other, but there are times when we like to go our separate ways.

I don't recommend this lifestyle for the young or for those with young children, but our children are grown, and we are both in our middle 50s and quite set in our ways.

Now the problem: Many of our friends and especially our children keep urging us to get married. Why should we marry just to please other people? I enjoy privacy and so does he, and there are times when you don't want anyone around. Not even the one you love. I would appreciate your opinion on this. Also anyone else's.

NO COMPLAINTS

DEAR NO. If you're satisfied, and he's satisfied, maintain the status quo. Of all the reasons to marry, because other people think you "ought to" is the poorest.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law is a kind, sweet lady and I love her dearly, but she is so superstitious she sometimes gets on my nerves. She is always telling me not to do this or that because it's "bad luck." She's constantly knocking on wood, biting her tongue, spitting three times and throwing salt over her shoulder.

I have never been superstitious, and I don't enjoy listening to that kind of junk. In my opinion, it's ridiculous and ignorant. I don't want my children taught superstitions, but if I tell them not to pay any attention to Grandma they might lose respect for her. They're still too young to know the difference between superstition and fact.

IRRITATED

DEAR IRRITATED: Tell Grandma (nicely) that you don't want your children to believe in superstitions and you'd appreciate her cooperation. Then YOU explain to your children that superstitions are stories based on fairy tales—not facts.

DEAR ABBY: A good friend of ours lost her husband suddenly three years ago at which time she moved into the home of her married daughter. She's been there ever since.

This friend is now over her mourning, is working part-time and is in good health. Several of us friends have observed that her presence in her daughter's home is detrimental to her marriage. The mother has convinced herself that she is "needed," but it's obvious to everyone (but her) that she's not.

How do you tell someone whom you don't want to offend that she should be moving on? Or should we just butt out?

TICKLISH SITUATION

DEAR TICKLISH: The word from here is to butt out. CONFIDENTIAL TO "DAILY READER OF DEXTER, MO., STATESMAN." When a man starts to tell you how much humility he has, count on it that he has none.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Cunninghams announce

Students to see Tut Exhibition

A group of Howard College students, accompanied by Ms. Katie Weber, art instructor, and Mrs. Susan King, English instructor, will be going to New Orleans to view the King Tut Exhibition at the New Orleans Museum.

The participants of this tour will leave from Midland Airport Nov. 17 to fly to Dallas. There they will change planes and fly to New Orleans.

The group will view the exhibition at 5 p.m. that day and will stay in the Abbott Hotel Warwick, which is within walking distance of the French Quarter.

The 18th will be a free day for the tour participants, and they will leave the 19th, arriving back in Midland in the early evening.

Skipper Travel is handling the arrangements.

Birthdays honored

Members of Rebekah Lodge No. 284 who have birthdays during October were honored with a salad supper at their meeting Tuesday evening.

Those members were Mrs. Sherri Wilson, Mrs. Pat Conley, Mrs. Jacqueline Wilson, Mrs. Lila Holland and Argie Majors.

Initiation ceremonies were held at the meeting, and candidates receiving the Rebekah Degree were Charlotte Gilbert and Malinda Blackburn.

The West Texas IOOF and Rebekah Assn. will have a meeting Saturday at the IOOF Hall, 9th and San Antonio. All lodge members in the West Texas area are invited to attend. Registration will begin at 9 a.m.

Argie Majors is president of the organization.

Vice-Grand Mrs. Norma Newton presided over the meeting, at which there were 32 members.

Soviet bombers testing U.S. defenses?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet reconnaissance bombers operating off the East Coast have tried for the first time to confuse the U.S. air defense radar watching their movements, Pentagon sources report.

The Russian effort to interfere with the radar apparently failed, the sources said.

In the incident four days ago, two Russian Tu-95 bombers flying out of Cuba inspected and apparently photographed one of the latest U.S. destroyers as it was sailing in international waters off Boston.

The Soviet planes reportedly dropped chaff — metallic strips that can interfere with radar beams and thus foil detection.

Alerted, American air defense officials sent up four F106 fighter-interceptors from Atlantic City, N.J., and Otis Air Force Base, Mass., as a precaution.

The Tu-95D Bears were intercepted and kept under surveillance by a Navy P3 antisubmarine patrol plane out of Bermuda.

"The Bears returned to Havana after making three passes within about 1,000 feet of the destroyer Spruance," the sources said.

The Russians obviously are interested in getting as much information as possible on the new Spruance class of destroyers, which could pose a major problem for Soviet submarines in the future.

The United States is building a fleet of 30 of the fast 7,600-ton destroyers, also designed to escort convoys, support amphibious landings and bombard shore targets.

U.S. reconnaissance planes take photographs and gather other forms of intelligence on Soviet fleet units in the Mediterranean and other waters.

Pentagon officials are uncertain whether the Tu-95s flew from Havana specifically to look at the Spruance or whether the Russian planes were out to photograph "targets of opportunity."

Some senior American officers are known to be concerned about the boldness of Soviet aircraft in maneuvering within the U.S. air defense zone.

Pentagon sources said there has been a flurry of Soviet air reconnaissance activity in the Atlantic recently. They reported that

Bentsen insists on conferees from majority

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen says that under Senate rules a majority of the Senate conferees on the natural gas bill should be chosen from among supporters of the Pearson-Bentsen deregulation bill.

The Senate last week approved Pearson-Bentsen 50-46 after a lengthy filibuster. The House has approved a substantially different measure.

"The appointment of conferees is not another

Tu-95s flew near a Navy task force headed by the carrier America east of Bermuda chance for the losers to win; it is the open selection by the Senate as a whole of advocates of the Senate position," Sen. Bentsen said.

"I recognize the continuing controversy over deregulation, and I ask for no unfair advantage in the debate to follow in conference. I only ask that the selection of the conferees reflect what happened on the Senate floor, not what someone wishes had happened."

early this month.

Last April, a Tu-95 evaded air defense radar and penetrated closer than ever before to the East Coast, reaching the vicinity of four U.S. warships engaged in training exercises from 60 to 75 miles off North Carolina.

In that incident, the Bears retreated after two American F4 Phantom jet fighters were scrambled after them.

Broome not swept away

with Marj Carpenter

All there is in Broome is the Broome store. You have passed it if you have ever driven from Big Spring to San Angelo.

After you pass Sterling City, you go a few more miles and there is Broome, off on the right between the highway and the Concho River.

It's the only settlement of any kind in Sterling County at this time besides Sterling City. Through the years there have been several others, including Montvale, Cummings, Camp Elizabeth and a few more.

The original little settlement at Broome was named when three ranchers — named Broome, Farr and Lee — bought that ranching area years ago near by Grape Creek, named for the wild grapes in that area. Roy (Red) McMahon, former Herald pressman, once punched cattle on the ranch.

At one time, there was a post office at that location. Mr. and Mrs. O.M. Grisett probably operated the first grocery store in the area. Broome also had a depot on the Santa Fe Railroad spur that ran from San Angelo to Sterling City.

Well, Donna McDonald operates it now. She runs that store because she likes it. She and her husband moved there from Stanton 16 years ago and took over the little store.

She recalls that they purchased it from a woman

Denton girl drowned, murder still ruling

DALLAS (AP) — A 12-year-old Denton girl whose body was found floating in a gravel pit here Oct. 4 died from drowning, according to the medical examiner's office.

A spokesman said they were unable to determine if the girl was subjected to either physical or sexual abuse.

The spokesman said the girl apparently died of drowning Sept. 25, the day she vanished from a fast food restaurant at Denton after her mother left her at a nearby laundromat to watch the family's laundry.

Dr. Wallace Graham called the death a homicide "by its circumstances. It's very suspicious."

"The situation is very suggestive of homicide. It couldn't be anything else, unless proven otherwise," Dr. Graham said.

named Mrs. Alva Morris.

Donna says, "I don't know the whole history of this place. I did hear that one man tried to hang himself out there on that windmill and the rope broke."

The McDonalds don't have a telephone because they would have to pay for their own line to the next one so they use the one across the way at an area ranch for any emergency. But they do have CB radios. "That's a good invention," Mrs. McDonald declared.

Up the highway a ways is also an old antique store, that has since been shut down.

Mrs. McDonald says that a long time back, one woman who lived at that store in Broome was responsible for naming goat's meat "chevon" in a contest. "She won, and the name is now a word in the dictionary. I think that's pretty good for somebody from Broome," she added emphatically.

In addition to regularly stocked groceries, she sells chow chow, peaches and homemade preserves and jellies and plants and whatever.

Getting back to the subject of goat's meat, she said, "We have lots of sheep and goats around here and there is a Chevre goat. I guess that's where she got the word for goat's meat. Of course, a lot of West Texans simply call goat's meat cabrito anyway," she laughed.

When asked if the days get long at Broome, Mrs. McDonald answered, "Oh no. It's beautiful out here. You can look at the hills on one side or down toward the river on the other."

So the Broome store remains — a part of Sterling County and an interesting place to stop — while out ridin' fence.

THAT'S ALL OF IT that's Broome

Veterans due burial allotments

The Veterans Administration today reminded former servicemen and women that their families should be made aware of the VA burial allowance available to eligible veterans.

VA provides up to $250 toward the burial expenses of eligible veterans and an additional $150 is available as a plot or interment allowance, if burial is not in a national cemetery or other government cemetery.

These VA payments will be reduced or eliminated in cases where the veteran's employer or a state agency has made such payments. In cases where a veteran's death is service connected, VA will pay an amount not to exceed $800 in lieu of the usual burial allowances.

'Low-scoring game'--F.A.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — With kicker extraordinaire Russell Erxleben in his corner, Texas Coach Fred Akers can permit himself a smug look as he analyzes the Arkansas-Texas football game.

"If I had to guess, I'd figure on a low-scoring game," Akers said. "I'd figure on a game in which the kicking could be decisive."

On the other hand, Arkansas Coach Lou Holtz is not conceding a thing to Erxleben, a junior. He has senior Steve Little.

One expert says Little will be the first kicker drafted by the pros this year. That expert says Erxleben will be the first kicker drafted next year.

Both will be on display when the second-ranked Longhorns take on eighth-ranked Arkansas Saturday in Fayetteville before a national television audience.

Erxleben, who led the nation in punting last year with an average of 46.6 yards per kick, is averaging 45.9 yards per try this year and kicked a major college record 67-yard field goal two weeks ago. In last week's 13-6 victory over Oklahoma, he punted twice out of his own end zone for 69 and 71 yards. He also kicked a 64-yard field goal that tied the game 3-3, and also contributed a 48-yarder. Little is averaging 43.5 yards per try on 19 punts and kicked a 61-yard field goal last year.

It's easy to see why Akers believes the game will be a low-scoring affair. "Texas is first in the nation in defense against scoring, giving up an average of 5.6 points per game. Arkansas is fourth, allowing an average of 6.2 points per game."

In another major game, top-ranked Michigan hosts No. 14 Wisconsin in a battle of Big Ten unbeaten. Wisconsin, one of the surprise teams in the country with a 5-0 record, has jumped into the Top Twenty with a vastly improved defense.

"Their defense resembles ours," says Michigan Coach Bo Schembechler. "They're not big but they have great mobility, good secondary

Coody leads

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Texan Charles Coody, a former Masters champ, takes a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the $150,000 Texas Open golf tournament at Oak Hills Country Club.

Coody fired a seven-under-par 63 — one stroke shy of the course record — Thursday. George Archer was a shot back with a 64.

Series resumes, Yanks yapping

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The New York Yankees, one big, unhappy family, arrived in the land of the gossip hound and continued to tell tales out of school.

"We have a chance to win the World Series and there's one guy out there second-guessing the manager," said Yankee captain Thurman Munson. Munson was talking about teammate Reggie Jackson, who criticized Billy Martin for using a rusty Catfish Hunter as his second-game pitcher.

"I wouldn't be second-guessing the manager," added Munson, who has been hinting broadly that he wants to be traded to Cleveland, the closest major league city to his native Canton, Ohio.

Martin, not on the trading block but close to losing his job all season long, also felt Jackson's loose lip could sink the Yankee ship.

"Reggie's having enough trouble in right field to keep him from second-guessing the manager," said Martin, who clashed with Jackson and Yankee owner George Steinbrenner throughout the season. "We're in this World Series as a team. None of our players should be talking against their teammate or the manager."

Fifty years after the Yankees' Murderer's Row team spoke softly and carried big sticks, the 1977 Yankees, "Murmurer's Row," was speaking loudly and carrying small sticks.

'Exr' returns

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — University of Texas kicking specialist Russell Erxleben has returned to practice after spending a day in the hospital with a virus.

Erxleben entered the hospital Wednesday, but was back at practice Thursday. He is expected to be fit for Saturday's nationally televised game against Arkansas.

Erxleben recently set a National Collegiate Athletic Association field goal record with a 67-yarder against Rice. He booted field goals of 58 and 64 yards last week in the Longhorns' 13-6 victory over Oklahoma.

Meanwhile, over on the other side of the field, the docile Dodgers were providing an interesting contrast, performing their version of "Love Story," an ongoing story of how 25 players and a rookie manager can actually win games without controversy.

The only thing similar about the Yankees and Dodgers is that they each have one victory going into Game 3 in the 1977 World Series tonight.

The Yankees will go with right-hander Mike Torrez, a 17-game winner during the regular season, while the Dodgers trot out medical exhibit No. 1, Tommy John, whose rebuilt left arm brought Los Angeles 20 victories this year.

"If I've got a good sinker, everything will be all right," said Torrez, who is playing out his option and could be making his final appearance as a Yankee.

John is also a sinkerball specialist, but he says the big factor in his game will be his curveball.

Steers vs Mojo, 8 p.m.

The Big Spring Steers host the undefeated Permian Panthers in Memorial Stadium tonight. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock.

The Longhorns will be challenging the state-recognized might of the visitors, as Don Robbins' charges go after their first District 5-4A win in 19 loop outings.

Temperature at gametime is expected to be in the low 60's, with the mercury hovering around the mid 50's at the sound of the final gun.

All Steer fans are urged to attend the contest, as Permian will be bringing beaucoups of supporters in their wake.

THE SERIES

Permian holds a 15-3 edge in past meetings between the two teams. The Panthers have won 12 in a row and beat the Steers 53-0 last year. Big Spring last beat Mojo in 1964 under Head Coach Don Robbins. The score was 7-6.

Coahoma faces Wolfpack tonight

By BOB BURTON
COAHOMA — Each fall football season is like a mountain. No two are the same, but they all start out uphill, and they all have a peak. For the Coahoma Bulldogs it has been a steep climb, and the top of the grade lies 40 miles east in the lair of the Colorado City Wolfpack.

Coahoma has been evening its questionable record where it counts, in district competition. The hapless Bulldogs started their season with losses to Tahoka, Wall, and Post, then came back with wins over Wylie and Crane.

The Bulldog defense is anchored at both ends with meat-eaters Randy Phillips and Steve Spears, and has a tough secondary in Gary Gee, Ronald Sundry, and Tim Greenfield. John Mulkey and Mike Ritchey are interior standouts.

But the Cee City club, which was picked to win district this year, has also been having its problems.

The Wolfpack record is 2-4, despite their wins over Merkel and Wylie and their unmarked district record. They are a team similar to Coahoma, according to Athletic Director Roy Winters.

"The similarities between our clubs are remarkable," said Winters. "They are about the same size, they have the same kind of experience, and they run a quarterback-based offense with a good fullback."

The quarterback, Frank

Sanchez, will be the Bulldog key. "If we can get Sanchez into the air," said Winters, "if we can stop their ground game, then we are sticking with our game plan, and we can beat them."

The Coahoma offense rotates around Tim Greenfield, the senior quarterback. In the supporting cast are standout fullback Tracy Frazier (the Coahoma lumberman), halfbacks Ronald Sundry, and Dusty Douglass, and clutch end Randy Phillips.

In an odd kind of irony, a mainstay of the Wolfpack defense is ex-Coahoman Gary Hulme, who holds down a linebacker slot in the Cee City 4-2 defense.

"We're going to take whatever they will give us," said Winters. "We know they've got to give us something."

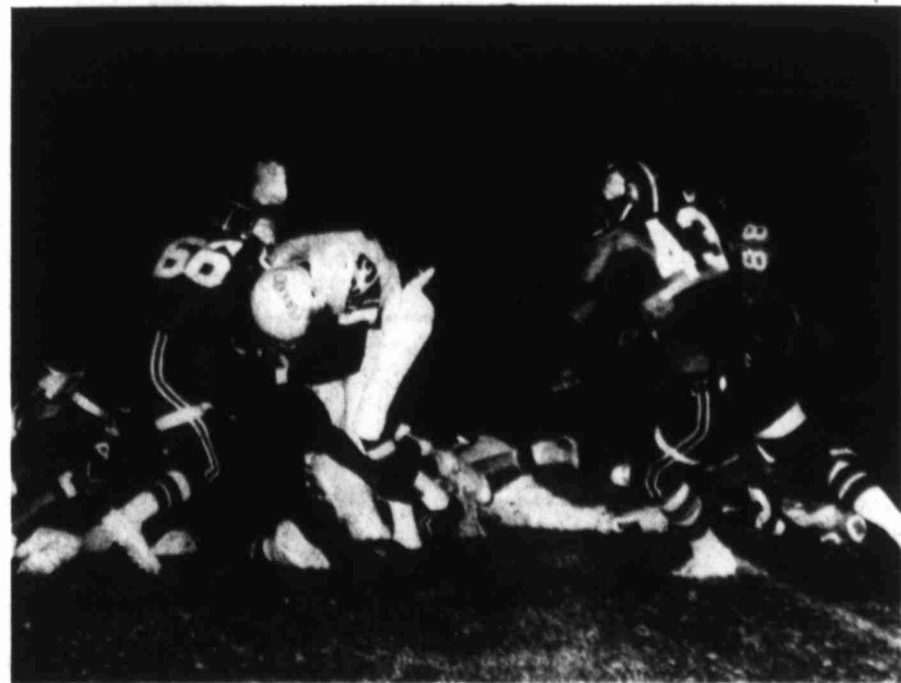

Both teams have defeated Wylie and both teams have lost to Post. The Wylie victories were by similar scores, 25-0 and 28-7, and the Post defeats were comparable, 21-14 and 24-0.

Winters said the Coahoma team is ready.

"They are full strength and ready to go," he said. "In the light of last week's performance, we had the defense working on tackling. I had 'em running into the high school building, but I'm a little bit worried. The building is still on its foundation."

Winters announced that a car caravan would leave the high school parking lot at 6 p.m. today.

The game will be carried live on local station KFNE-FM 95.

HIT AND STICK — The Big Red defense faces the most important challenge of the district year as it goes head to head with the Colorado City Wolfpack tonight. The Red defense will have to find the high-powered Wolves ground game with hits like this one by Cecil Walker (66), as Dusty Douglass (43) and Steve Spears (88) close in for the kill.

Aggies come back after Michigan joke

By the Associated Press

The Texas Aggies get a chance to stop all those jokes about the Michigan game this weekend.

The Aggies have had two weeks to ponder their humiliating 41-3 television loss to the Wolverines and now tackle the Baylor Bears Saturday afternoon in Waco with revenge on their minds.

Asked if anything "new"

had been installed to spring on the Bears, Coach Emory Ballard said mysteriously "preparations have been made that we think are sound and if properly executed I think they'll be effective."

Baylor Coach Grant Teaff figures the Aggies will be sky high.

"This is a typical A&M team of the last four or five years," said Teaff. "They have tremendous talent and play with great intensity. That is compounded by the fact they are coming off the Michigan loss. They will be out to redeem themselves at our expense."

"We haven't had much luck against the Aggies since I've been at Baylor. We won the first year 15-13 but they have won the last four in a row. They always play one of their best games against Baylor. We probably haven't had more than 200 yards in total offense against them in the last three games."

Teaff is still haunted by A&M's place kicking wonder, Tony Franklin, who kicked 64 and 65 yards field goals against Baylor last year.

"I don't sleep very good at night thinking about being on the same field with Tony Franklin," said Teaff. "He just takes the life out of your defense."

JV's fall to Mojo cubs

ODESSA — The Big Spring junior varsity Shorthorns were outscored 40-0 by the Odessa Permian JV's Thursday evening, but Coach Don Childs says that the locals "didn't play that badly at all."

"We fumbled the ball away inside our own 15-yard line three times during the first half," said Childs, "and that tended to build Permian up while deflating us a little, but defensively, we played pretty good football."

Ricky McKee, Steve Painter and Rusty Touchstone were names mentioned in the defensive effort. "Overall, the interior down people had a good night too," said Childs.

Jimmy Marquez, Dennis Morrison, Marty Terry, Gary Conway, Jack Odom, Keith Sheedy and Jerry Bennett were picked out on offense. Permian could not move the ball on the ground against Big Spring and had to rely on an air attack. Still, little Mojo could only manage 12 points the second half.

Steer 'fish' flounder late

PECOS — Up until the last three minutes of play, the Big Spring 9th grade led a tough Pecos freshman squad 15-14. A blocked punt returned for a touchdown and an intercepted pass turned the tables on the locals. Final score: Pecos 28, Big Spring 15.

Pecos got on the boards early by way of a 50-yard run and a Big Spring fumble on the 12-yard line. The hosts led 14-0 at halftime.

Big Spring came back in the third quarter, with Richard Brito carrying the bacon home from the five-yard line. Ben Watson threw to David Coffey for the PAT.

A little later, on the strength of runs by Tommy Madigan and Mark Law, Big Spring rammed the ball 70 yards, with Watson sneaking over for the score. Watson also kicked the PAT to give the locals the 15-14 lead.

But then the blocked punt, for TD and intercepted pass returned to Big Spring's two-yard line dropped the final curtain on the fish. Richard Brito, Mark Warren, Mark Law, Rudy Ortega, Israel Cooper and Ben Watson were spotlighted on defense, while Madigan, Watson, and Law were outstanding on offense.

Ricky Millaway, reserve quarterback, suffered a severe concussion during the game and is in Medical Arts Hospital today. The freshmen host Monahans next Thursday in Memorial Stadium.

Forsan Jrs. tie

FORSAN — Forsan Junior High won the statistical battle over Sterling City Thursday evening, but the score read 0-0 at the end of the game.

FJH led in first downs, 9-5 and total yardage, 135-96, and performed excellently at defense all night long, according to coach Ronnie Taylor.

Preston Daniels, Brad Robertson, Donald Pina and David Harrell were singled out on offense. FJH now sports a 2-2-1 season record and hosts Greenwood next Thursday in Forsan.

Volleyballers win games

DENVER CITY — The BSHS volleyball teams won two out of three matches on the road Thursday.

The freshmen, led by Linda Magers seven points, fell 15-12, 15-9, and now sport an 11-3 season record.

The JV's decisioned DC 15-9, 14-16, 15-8, as Penny Ray (14), Misty Balias (9), Missey Baker (5) and Becky Upton (5) led the scoring.

The varsity improved its season record to 20-4, as all nine players saw action in the 15-7, 15-12 victory.

Scoring for the locals were Kathy Birdwell (9), Karen Tibbs (7), Shanna Farmer (4), Rose Magers (4), Becky Ragan (3), Sherri Kelley (2) and Rhonda Metcalf (1).

"Denver City was kept guessing by the strong sets of Ragan, Kelley and Magers," said Coach Nancy Deason.

"They never knew where the attack was coming from. Casie Green and Suzanne Johnson were also named as players with fine offensive efforts."

RIGHT AT HOME — The street sign fits. Here's Ed Figueroa, Yankees right hander, shown Thursday on Figueroa Street in downtown Los Angeles. He was awaiting ride to Dodger Stadium for workout with the New Yorkers. The World Series between the Yankees and the Dodgers resumes today.

WTSU will host Drake

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Drake, winless in five games, will be at Canyon, Texas, Saturday to play a West Texas State team that surprised the football forecasters by winning its first game of the season just last week.

West Texas, the pre-season pick as Missouri Valley Conference champion, waited until its fifth game to rise up and knock off league leader New Mexico State.

"West Texas State's victory at New Mexico State was not all that surprising," said Drake Coach Chuck Shelton. "They have awfully good personnel."

In fact, Shelton has said the Buffaloes "have better personnel than we do. But the better team on paper doesn't always win."

Drake scored all its points within 10 minutes during the second half, but couldn't overtake Indiana State in a 23-20 loss last week.

TEXAS TECH RED RAIDERS

Owls flying in

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech will meet the Rice Owls in Jones Stadium in Lubbock Saturday. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m. (Dads Day game).

The Red Raiders whipped the Arizona Wildcats 32-26 last week in Tucson before 41,500 fans. The Owls were defeated 35-15 by TCU before more than 12,000 fans in Houston.

Rice leads 15-11-1 in rivalry begun with Rice win at Houston, 19-7, in 1942. Texas Tech leads the SWC rivalry with 10-6-1 mark, beginning in 1960 with a 30-6 Rice win in Houston. Texas Tech defeated Rice 37-13 last year in Houston.

Coaches are: Texas Tech — Steve Sloan (Alabama, '66), third season, and Rice — Homer Rice (Centre College, '50), second season. A crowd of more than 40,000 is expected.

The Red Raiders have won four, lost one; Rice has won one, lost four:

TT 17, Baylor 7
TT 49, New Mexico 14
TT 17, Texas A&M 33
TT 10, North Carolina 7
TT 32, Arizona 26

Next week, Texas Tech has an open date. Rice will meet Texas A&M in Houston.

Coach Steve Sloan's first words to the media after he emerged from the dressing room following the Raiders' wild 32-26 win over Arizona: "I don't think I ever want to come back to Tucson again. Two years ago they beat us out here on the final play of the game and this year we pulled it out right at the end."

It's a beautiful place, but I hope the next time I pass this way, I'm with my family, it's July and all I have to worry about is what time the golf course opens and the swimming pool closes."

The Texas Tech defense held the University of Arizona to only 20 net yards rushing in last week's Tech win. Arizona picked up the 20 yards on 35 rushing attempts.

The Raiders will be facing another dangerous passing attack this week against Rice as the Owls bring their Triple Pocket Combination offense into town. Freshman quarterback Randy Hertel has been improving each week for the Owls and the younger brother of USC quarterback Rob Hertel is regarded as one of the top young passers in the SWC.

Two former Tech athletes, including the school's first All-American performer, and a former athletic council chairman will be inducted into the Texas Tech Athletic Hall of Honor during halftime of the Texas Tech-Rice game.

E.J. Holub, a former Raider center and linebacker and the Raiders' first All-American; Del Ray Mounts, the SWC's leading scorer in basketball as a sophomore in the early 1960's; and T.L. Leach, a member of the Tech athletic council for 22 years and chairman for five years, all will be present for the induction Saturday.

O.J. likes acting career

BUFFALO (AP) — Like other famous athletes before him, O.J. Simpson answered when Hollywood beckoned. But Simpson is not planning to be just another jock cashing in on his big name.

Favorable reviews of his recent television movie, "A Killing Affair," in which he costarred with Elizabeth Montgomery, left him ecstatic, he says.

After playing several minor roles "as a learning experience" and working with such actors as Paul Newman, Richard Burton and Lee Marvin, Simpson tackled his first major role in "A Killing Affair."

"I said don't make me 'Superfly' or 'The Six Million Dollar Man,' give me a role where I can play a character and have some believability. Then we'll find out if I can act."

"Fortunately, the critics said I can act," he said. "The man who attained so many lofty goals in football has a very simple one in acting."

"I don't want to be another football player who became an actor. I want people to come up to me after seeing my movie and say, 'I couldn't believe that was you.'"

Simpson's sex appeal, deep, resonant voice and magnetism give him some natural acting talent, but he admits he has a long way to go.

"I'm still learning. I'm always learning new things when I work with different actors. Richard Burton, for example. It's amazing what he can do just with the right voice inflections," he said.

Simpson said he has also been told he could parlay his fame and image into political clout.

"Some people have approached me and told me that people listen to me, and that for my career I should look into politics. I've been reading up on a lot of things, but there's still a lot of things worldwide that I'm ignorant about."

"I read 'Animal Farm' (by George Orwell) and it says communism will make you crazy with power. Then I read Mao Tse-tung's book, and I respect the man for what he did."

"I'm not a Communist, though," he added, laughing. "Turning serious, Simpson said, 'From everything I know about politics, somewhere along the way you have to compromise yourself. I don't think I could handle that.'"

Simpson's popularity, demand and sexiness (named the nation's "Most Watchable Man" by one women's group) does have a drawback.

Stanton JV's lose to Crane

STANTON — The Stanton Junior Varsity dropped a close contest to the Crane subs Thursday night, 8-6. George Betterton scored the only points for the Buffs.

The JV's record now stands at 2-2, and the next contest for them will be in Seagraves next Thursday.

THROUGH the fieldglasses

By Donny Reagan

Tonight's results, here first

Twelve out of 14! That's the score from last Friday in this space on the area pigskin predictions. Computer says that is good enough for a stupefying .857 percentage.

Combine that with the previous week and you have 23 of 28 for a mind-boggling .821 percentage. Take that Jack and Art! Closest guess last week: The Abilene at Odessa Permian contest. Final score was 45-7. Prediction was 45-6.

The Steers have more than anyone's share of injuries going into tonight's contest with Permian. The locals have had depth problems all season long, and will be going without the services of three top players.

Add to that the fact that Permian is as deep as an artesian well, plus their quest for the top ranking in the state, and the black kitties come away as odds-on favorites.

The Steers have been known to get fired up for Permian, and if those logs keep burning throughout the contest, those in attendance tonight might have the fortune of being present at the upset of the century.

If Midland can hold Mojo to 26 points and score a touchdown, I know the Steers can do even better. The game should then be the closest for the black kitties all season. Heart says Steers, but mind says Permian 21, BIG SPRING 13. Gladly lose that pick again.

Would definitely like to be at the following game tonight. Roy Winters' pack of meaner-than-a-junkyard Dogs are heading east for a meeting with the Wolfpack coached by Mike Farda.

Both teams are undefeated in district play, and this game could very well decide who finishes on top of the heap later on down the line. It should be a wide open offensive shindig.

Colorado City is favored, mainly because they've been favored all year long, even though they dropped their first four contests. But it has to be rated a toss-up because of the mere fact that when Coahoma and Colorado City get together, it's always a toss-up.

The easy win by the Wolfpack last week, and a Crane-scare on the Bulldogs should give Coahoma a psychological edge. It will definitely be close...Colorado City 28, COAHOMA 27.

The boys out at Forsan have to be nailing mad, and I'm talking iron nails. They outplayed Jayton last week but lost anyway. The Buffs will be looking for revenge. Look out Loraine! In the only laughter of the night, FORSAN 50, Loraine 13.

The Sands Mustangs scratched last week, despite the lopsided loss. Even though Travis Mulanax's troop don't have enough people to scrimmage against each other (a decided disadvantage), they seem to be getting closer to that first win.

New Home won't be that first win, but it will be the closest the Ponies have come thus far in the season...New Home 26, SANDS 6.

The Bearkats of Garden City are in enviable position in 3-B East...tied for the lead with Jayton and this week's foe Sterling City. Sterling City may be favored in most polls, but Jesse Smalley's bunch is staying healthy and getting stronger every week...and result? GARDEN CITY 23, Sterling City 20.

I hesitate to call this an "Upset Special of the Week," even though the San Angelo Bobcats are picked by everyone but Odessa's quarterback's mother.

But of Bob doesn't play that well on the road. Most of his losses have come there. Add that to the near losses of past week's and a hungry Odessa crew, and you have Odessa 14, San Angelo 8.

Rounding out tonight's action: Roswell 42, Hobbs 6; Andrews 35, Seminole 0; Lakeview 45, Snyder 13; Abilene 24, Midland 14; Midland Lee 13, Cooper 10; Klondike 51, Dawson 29; Borden County 38, Wilson 14; and Hermleigh 61, Ira 30.

(And for you World Series fans...look for the Dodgers to win the rest, taking it in four straight after the opening night's loss.) No extra charge folks.

Bobby Orr sitting out

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Hockey League season has begun and what is Bobby Orr doing?

"Anything," said the living legend with the ravaged knee. Anything, that is, but playing the game which some say has seen no greater talent than his.

Those rink-long dashes that electrified crowds and exasperated opponents are things of the past — and maybe the future — but certainly not the present.

Sitting at a desk in the Chicago Black Hawks' office, he was dressed neatly in dark brown trousers and a silky, cream-colored shirt. His calmness was a grim contrast to the speeding, whirling machine that glided along the ice in a hockey uniform.

"I would much rather be on the ice sweating. But I'm not able to and I'm enjoying what I'm doing. What am I doing? Anything."

Heated rivalries highlight NFL action

By the Associated Press

It doesn't take much to arouse some football players.

Tell a Dallas Cowboy, for example, that the Washington Redskins are in town, then stand back.

Or tell a Minnesota Viking that the Chicago Bears are trying to grab first place, then duck.

Or suggest to an Oakland Raider that the Denver Broncos would like a division title for a change, then run and hide.

The Redskins-Cowboys, Bears-Vikings and Raiders-Broncos matchups, three heated rivalries, highlight Sunday's National Football League action.

The other games are New Orleans at Los Angeles, Atlanta at Buffalo, Baltimore at Kansas City, St. Louis at Philadelphia, San Francisco at the New York Giants, Cleveland at Houston, Green Bay at Detroit, New England at San Diego, the New York Jets at Miami and Tampa Bay at Seattle.

On Monday night, it's Cincinnati at Pittsburgh.

"If they beat us,"

Washington Coach George Allen said of the unbeaten Cowboys, "I imagine they will have a lock on the division."

A loss would drop the Redskins two games back of the Cowboys in the National Football Conference East Division.

"Dallas has played tough teams and beat them on the road. They're playing better football than we are right now, but that doesn't mean we can't beat them."

Cowboys Coach Tom Landry also sees it as a "must game," and not only because a loss would tie the teams at 4-1. "This is a very critical game for us because the next time we play them it's in Washington and nobody plays at home any better than they do," Landry said.

The biggest task for the Vikings, 3-1 and one game ahead of Chicago in the NFC Central, is cooling off quarterback Bob Avellini and running back Walter Payton. Avellini threw three touchdown passes, including bombs of 70 and 72 yards to James Scott, and Payton rushed for 126 yards (he has 462 for the season) in last Monday night's victory over Joe Namath and the Los Angeles Rams.

Denver and Oakland have won four in a row this year and share first place in the American Football Conference West. But the Raiders' complete winning streak — going back to the fourth regular-season game of 1976 — covers 17 games.

An 18th victory would tie them with the 1933-34 and 1941-42 Chicago Bears and the 1972-73 Miami Dolphins for the NFL record.

Pat Haden, bounced out of his role as the Rams' No. 1 quarterback at the start of the season.

LET ME AT 'EM — World Heavyweight Champion Muhammad Ali is held back from the crowd by his trainers during the exhibition bout in Atlanta on Thursday. Ali took on local celebrities, prior to the exhibition bout with Jimmy Ellis.

Runners-up meet Monday

By the Associated Press

It was supposed to be one of the great Monday night matchups of the season. But a few fractures and dislocations — plus some downright bad football — got in the way.

So the fifth Monday night of the National Football League season presents a couple of soso runner-up teams. That's Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. Each is 2-2, trailing surprising Houston and tied with equally surprising Cleveland in the American Football Conference's Central Division.

The Steelers, at least, have an excuse. They lost (not surprisingly) to Oakland, then they lost two quarterbacks during a loss to Houston.

But the Bengals have spent most of the season looking just plain bad. They managed three points against both Cleveland and San Diego, rolled over pitiful Seattle and sputtered past Green Bay.

Cincinnati's got the talent. It's just not being displayed. But having the talent is better than not having it. So look for the Bengals' defense to take advantage of Pittsburgh's wounded offense and defeat the Steelers.

By the way, if Terry Bradshaw shows up in Pittsburgh's huddle even once, forget you read this.

Brown-Oiler stats are weird

CLEVELAND (AP) — Although the Cleveland Browns have to be reasonably satisfied to have finished the most fearsome portion of their National Football League schedule with a 2-2 record, they can't be satisfied statistically.

The Browns rank ninth on offense and seventh on defense in the 14-team

American Football Conference as they prepare to play Central Division leader Houston Sunday in the Astrodome.

On offense, the Browns are eighth in the AFC in passing and 10th in rushing, while on defense they are an admirable fourth against the pass, but a dismal 12th against the rush.

Strangely, the results of their first four games — victories over Cincinnati and New England and losses to Pittsburgh and Oakland — belie the figures.

In winning the first two, the Browns outdid the opposition statistically, and in losing the last two they have suffered more from their own mistakes — such as fumbles and pass interceptions — than from the other team's performance.

In the Oilers, Cleveland finds another enigma. Houston is 3-1 and coming off an upset of Pittsburgh, yet the Oilers rank dead last in the division on offense and a lowly 12th on defense.

They are 14th in rushing and 10th in the air, while ranking 10th both in rushing and pass defense.

Martina beats

Evert, 6-0, 6-2

PHOENIX — Second-seeded Martina Navratilova eliminated Jeanne Evert 6-0, 6-2 in a second-round match of a $75,000 women's professional tennis tournament.

In another match, 14-year-old Tracy Austin defeated Mary Struthers 6-4, 6-1, sixth-seeded Billie Jean King ousted Laura DuPont 6-3, 6-3, No. 3 seed Rosie Casals beat Helen Gourlay Cawley of Australia 7-6, 6-3.

Kerry Reid, seeded fifth, ousted Australian Cynthia Doerner 6-3, 6-1 and No. 7 seeded Wendy Turnbull of Australia turned back Virginia Ruzici of Romania 6-0, 6-2.

Pee Wees playing 'Ketch the Cowboys'

Midway through the 1977 Pee Wee League football campaign, everybody is playing "Ketch the Cowboys."

After four weeks, Leo Williams' eleven remains undefeated at 3-0. This Saturday the Bulldogs have the distinction of trying to defeat the "Pokes."

A major scheduling change will be put into effect for Saturday's slate of games. The Bulldogs and Cowboys are pitted against each other in the opener at 1:30 p.m. Then, at 2:30 p.m., the Eagles are looking for their initial victory of the season when they take on the Packers. Rounding out Saturday's action is the Vikings against the Oilers at 3:30 p.m.

All Pee Wee League games are played on the football field behind Howard College. The public is encouraged to attend.

FORWARD TO DEATH — Evangelist Billy Graham says his family history indicates he'll die in the next 10 years but that he looks forward to it. "I'll be glad to get away from the pressures under which I live every day and get in the presence of Christ," he said in a recent interview with the Associated Press.

Billy Graham plans for death

NEW YORK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham says he doubts he'll ever retire but age probably will force him to give up his massive crusades in five or six years. He says his family history indicates he'll die in the next 10 years but that he looks forward to it.

"I'll be glad to get away from the pressures under which I live every day and get in the presence of Christ," he says. "And I hope He lets me rest a while and then gives me another job somewhere else because I really believe that I'm going to a literal heaven."

Graham, 58, made his remarks in a three-hour, taped interview at his mountaintop home near Montreat, N.C., with David Lawrence, editor of the Charlotte Observer. Following are question and answer excerpts:

A: "You must get physically and mentally exhausted. How do you keep up with this sort of pace?"

A: "This may sound strange in a way but I can only explain it through prayer. I believe because my work is known in many parts of the world that people pray for us every day. And I just feel sustained supernaturally. I'm not a strong person. I never have been a very strong person."

A: "Physically?"

A: "That's right. I do a lot of exercising and I have to work hard to keep myself physically up. I've had all kinds of little problems. I've had pneumonia four times since 1960, and I've had just little things like even my salivary gland removed on the right side due to stones. I've had two prostate operations. From phlebitis, I had a blood clot in the inner vein of the leg."

Q: "Will you ever retire?"

A: "I don't think that I can retire as long as there is a spiritual need, and there'll always be one. (I'll continue) as long as the Lord has given me the strength to communicate the Gospel. Then if I do retire from these big massive crusades — which I'm sure I will in the next five or six years because I won't have the physical strength to do them — I'll probably write. I love to write."

(Graham told of his beginnings in mass evangelism in 1949 at a time when he says it was in the "Elmer Gantry period" and associated with emotional, anti-intellectualism.)

"The Friday a few days before we were to close the place was crawling with reporters. And I said, 'What has happened?' And they said, 'You've just been kissed by William Randolph Hearst,' and the next day it was headlines in all his newspapers."

Q: "Did you ever meet Hearst?"

A: "I've never met him in my life. I didn't know what had happened until Bill Hearst, his son, later told me what he thought happened. He said he thought that his father was very interested in religion and that his father had come to the tent and had listened to me preach... that he and Marion Davies (the actress who was Hearst's long-time mistress) came."

Altar group holds meet

The Immaculate Heart of Mary Altar Society met at the pre-school building on October 3. Fourteen members attended. Miss Wanda Anderson, president, presided.

The program was on "Enthronement of the Sacred Heart, a gift of Bishop Leven to every family." The pastor explained that each family will be asked to dedicate their family to the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

Dedication will take place in masses conducted in homes of members of Immaculate Heart of Mary. After the consecration of the families each will receive a picture of the Sacred Heart as a gift of love from Bishop Leven.

The Enthronement of the Sacred Heart program is in honor of Bishop Leven's 50th Jubilee which will be celebrated in 1978.

Sand Springs Baptist feature

Glory Land Two

The First Baptist Church at Sand Springs is featuring the "Glory Land Two" in a revival at their church.

The meet begins Oct. 17 and lasts through Oct. 23. Services will be at 7:30 each day except Friday at 6 p.m. and Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.

The Rev. Gerald Langdon invites the public to come hear O.A. and Nila Kinneson of Lubbock provide the music and the preaching will be by the Rev. Monroe Teeters.

The evangelist is pastor at the Coahoma Baptist Church.

Ford named progress judge

BELFAST, Ireland (AP) — Former U.S. President Gerald R. Ford, an Episcopalian, has been named one of the judges in the annual $86,000 Templeton prize for contributing to progress in religion.

He will serve on a nine-member, international panel of judges. Ford succeeds the Rev. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, who retires as a judge under a rotation system after having served for three years.

The prize, seeking to do for religion what other major prizes have done in the fields of science and culture, aims to honor those whose ideas and actions have been instrumental in expanding humanity's spiritual knowledge and love of God.

DR. JOHN STEPP

Crestview schedules conference

Dr. John Stepp of Dallas along with the Rev. Pat Bullock of Alpine will head the annual Bible conference to be held at Crestview Baptist Church on Gatesville Street off Hilltop road.

The speakers will be at a 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. service from Sunday Oct. 16 through Oct. 21.

The Rev. Bullock was called to preach at the age of 11. He has pastored six churches. He is head of a Christian School in Alpine and pastor of the Second Baptist Church.

Dr. Stepp has pastored four churches and given of his service as a missionary in different parts of the world.

He is presently teaching New Testament Greek at Criswell Bible Institute in Dallas.

Catholics give

NEW YORK (AP) — Catholic Relief Services in the last year provided $240.3 million worth of aid, rehabilitation and development assistance benefiting 18 million persons in 85 countries.

The figures were contained in the agency's 1977 operational report, detailing aid projects in Africa, Latin America, the Middle East, Asia and the eastern Pacific islands.

Midway Baptist sets explosion

Midway Baptist Church will be holding a "Joy Explosion" Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 15 and 16.

The guest preacher will be Steve Lee, pastor of City View Baptist Church in Wichita Falls. Lee was youth director at Big Spring's Hillcrest Baptist Church during the summer of 1971.

Leading the music will be Jonathan and Linda Payne. Payne is the youth and music director at First Baptist Church in Crowley.

Lots of activities are scheduled for the weekend. On Saturday from 3-5 p.m., children in grades 1-6 will have a Creative Arts Fair in the fellowship hall of the church. At the same time, the young people will go bowling and the adults will play volleyball and participate in a "42" tournament at the church.

On Saturday, an evening meal will be served from 5:30-6:30 p.m. with the service at 7:30 p.m.

On Sunday, services are scheduled at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.

The church will host the Associational Singing at 8:45 p.m.

The public is invited to attend for a weekend of "fun fellowship", according to the pastor, the Rev. Sandy Sandlin.

Trinity Baptist hosts revival Oct. 17-23

Janet and Leonard Moody will be back to lead the music at Trinity Baptist Church for their big revival beginning Monday night, Oct. 17.

For six years, they worked in the local church with the music program and during the week-long revival until Oct. 23. Leonard will take over the choir and the entire music program.

Claude Craven, pastor, urges everyone to attend and renew their friendship with the Moody's. The evangelist for the revival will be David Strunk.

He is pastor of the Blending Boulevard Baptist Church in Jacksonville, Fla. Rev. Craven emphasizes that Strunk is a well-known evangelist and cordially invites the public to attend the services.

They will be held each night, Monday through Friday at 7 p.m. There will be a nursery provided during the revival.

Birdwell Lane revival slated

The Birdwell Lane Baptist Church will hold a revival starting Sunday.

The services will last from Oct. 16 through Friday, Oct. 21 at the Birdwell Lane Church.

Bob Ganote will be the speaker and he is a well-known evangelist. The public is invited to attend, according to the local pastor.

Services will be held twice each day from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. at Birdwell Baptist.

This is one of several fall revivals being held in the area this week.

Barbecue set

Baker's Chapel Methodist Church will sponsor a barbecue Saturday, Oct. 15.

The church is located at the corner of N. 10th and Lancaster. Charlie Merritt will do the barbecuing.

The menu includes barbecue beef, ribs, chicken, potato salad, pinto beans, pickles, onions and bread.

Plates will sell for $2.50 and $2.75 per pound. Serving time starts at 11 a.m. Telephone in orders by calling 7-2940.

Baptist students

listed for honors

Rev. Herb Shipp, minister of Activities-Youth at First Baptist Church, announced today that several of their young members have been inducted into the book of the Society of Distinguished American High School Students.

Students from First Baptist who were inducted include, Emily Boyd, Mary Jane Wright, Kyle Wheeler, David Trim, Melinda Priddy, Mark Jones, Craig Strong, and Larry Wheat. They were among 37 local seniors named.

The National Awards Program is sponsored by 21 of America's colleges. Scholarship funds from these colleges are made available to society members.

Shipp received a National Appreciation Award for his efforts on behalf of the students and stated that "I am extremely proud of these students and the honor that they have received."

Presbyterian women host district meet

The Women of the First Presbyterian Church will host a district meeting here on Oct. 18.

It will include Presbyterian women from all of the Midland churches, Andrews, Seminole, Coahoma and Big Spring.

In the spring, they plan to host the entire Women of Tres Rios Presbytery which extends all the way to El Paso.

Mrs. Albert Dale of Odessa will attend the meeting here Oct. 8 as president of the women of Tres Rios Presbytery.

Three major presentations will be made here on Tuesday when Mrs. Calvin Daniels of Big Spring presents a film on White Cross. Mrs. Roberta Johnson of Fort Stockton will present the new study guide, "Their souls did Magnify the Lord." Mrs. Rita Smith of Midland will present a book review.

A luncheon will be held at the conclusion of the program. The First Presbyterian Church is also preparing for a visit on Oct. 23, 24 and 25 with Dr. Jablonowski from Fort Worth to speak on "Why Presbyterian?"

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, OCT. 15, 1977

GENERAL TENDENCIES: After some obstacle you had not expected you are able to put a new plan of action into motion and get excellent results. A more positive attitude can bring fine benefits at this time.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Employ a more wise method for gaining the support of higher-ups who can help you expand in avenues important to your life.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Come to a finer understanding with those to whom you owe money and vice versa. Be careful of outsiders today.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Talk over with an associate why some deal is not panning out as you expected. Engage in favorite hobby.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Take time to do something about improving your health. Go to the right sources for important data you need.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Join congenials in activities you mutually enjoy. Forget past misunderstanding with mate. Be more optimistic about the future.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If there is something a friend is doing which you don't like, come out with it and you come to a better understanding.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) If something is not working out properly at home, get at the root cause of it and you can improve conditions there. Be wise.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Look into your financial status and know how much you can wisely invest. Make future plans with family members.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Analyze how far you have advanced in your personal goals and make improvements where necessary. Express your fine talent.

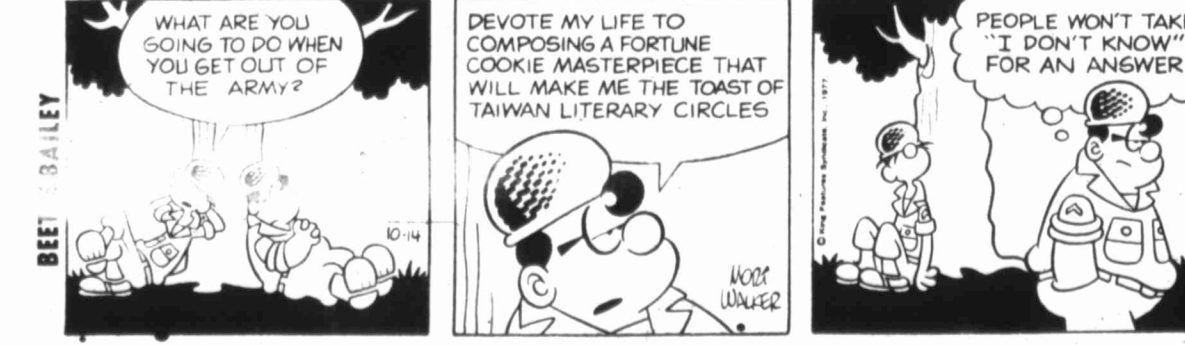

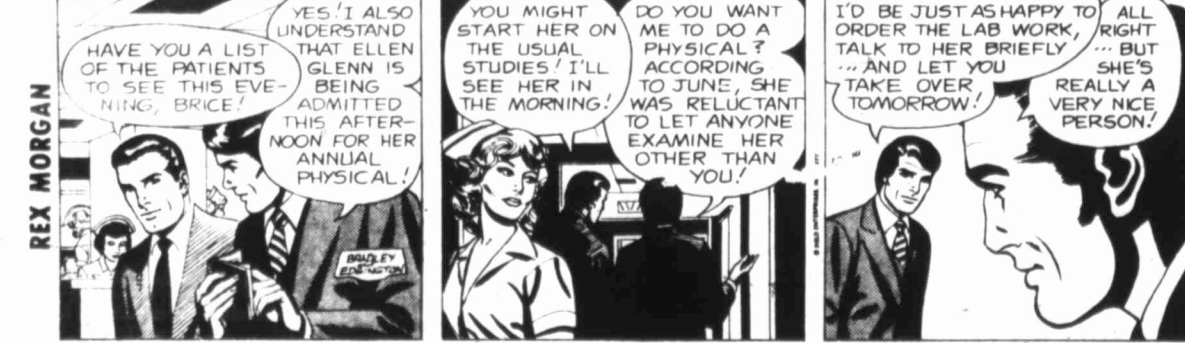

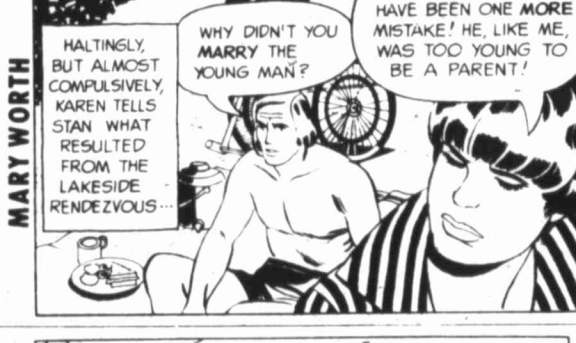

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 10) Make a good plan for gaining personal aims more readily and follow through on it. Try to please your mate more.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Contact regular associates and make long-range plans for the days ahead. Later engage in hobby that can be profitable.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Good day to engage in community affairs that can help you and others. Sidestep one who can bring trouble into your life.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have many talents, so be sure to give the right ethical training that can lead to a successful life. Teach not to be too blunt and hurt others, thus getting hurt in return. There could be much travel in this chart.

Government employees take windfall, rehired

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) —
Sen. Peyton McKnight of

Tyler comes on strong against government extravagance.

But he did a strange thing in August when he wanted his secretary and an aide to go off the state payroll while planning "Peyton McKnight Day."

He allowed secretary
Peggy Crow and committee
clerk Mark Rose to resign.
Each collected thousands of dollars in accrued sick leave and vacation time like many other employees who retired or quit in August.

There was a difference,
however. Both Mrs. Crow and Rose were restored to McKnight's Senate payroll
this month.

Mrs. Crow received $5,923, and Rose got a $3,384 lump sum payment when they
"quit" in late August.

Several other state employees or officials also are back on the payroll after leaving state service and collecting lump sum payments in August. State
Auditor George McNeil and Comptroller Bob Bullock believe there might be dozens more. The practice is perfectly legal. But McNeil and Bullock frown on it and are trying to stop it.

Hugh Yantis retired Aug.
31, the day before merger of state water agencies cost him his job as director of the Texas Water Quality Board.

He took $11,256, before taxes,
with him in lump sum payments. Two days later,
Gov. Dolph Briscoe appointed him chairman of the State Insurance Board, a position that pays $38,600 a year.

Yantis' public information officer at the water board,
Bill Berger, also quit on Aug.
31 and received $2,691.
Yantis hired him this month to do the same job for the insurance board.

After Aug. 31, a state employee could not collect cash for unused sick leave, and that evidently produced a rush of state employees to the exits.

More than 3,100 employees
the August "gold rush," collecting $2.5 million in lump sum payments.
Compare that with 1,115 who left with $511,000 in April — before anybody knew the legislature was going to stop converting sick leave to cash.

Mrs. Crow explained that McKnight felt it would be unethical for her and Rose to be drawing state paychecks
while planning "Peyton McKnight Day," an Oct. 4 event in Tyler that built up his campaign kitty.

"The senator didn't want us on the payroll, and it happened to be at this particular time," she said.

McKnight said the prospect of a cash windfall for the two employees didn't cross his mind.

"What I am saying to you is I am not thoroughly familiar with the provisions of the law. If it is something they are entitled to under the law, I am not going to quarrel with it. I am not going to sit in judgment," McKnight said.

Yet his signature appears on the two employees' applications for cash settlement of their accrued vacation and sick time.

Leaves of absence are available to senators' employees who want to avoid conflicts of interests while helping them campaign.

The Corpus Christi Call-
Times quoted McKnight
Aug. 24 as promising to come down hard on any administrators who allow employees to collect lump sum payments and then rehire them.

He has the ability to come down hard since he chairs
the committee that screens gubernatorial appointments to high state positions.

Two other Senate employees, committee clerks
Mario Trillanes Jr. and Paul Colbert, quit in August and took payments of $948 and $506 respectively. They were rehired by the same committees Oct. 1 at lower salaries.
