SAYS INFECTION SPREAD FROM CAPITAL OF SOUTH PLAINS

A banquet meeting of the membership of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce was held at the American Cafe there last night when plans for an expansion in all lines of business as mapped out at a recent meeting of the board of directors were given a great deal of attention and being looked upon as the largest single factor demanding wholehearted attention of the business men of that city.

Hon. Pink L. Parrish, representing the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, delivered the principal address, declaring that the highways of Texas are the states' biggest problem, and that the business men of Brownfield in planning the improvement of the highways serving their city are entering into the biggest job they have ever undertaken, but that they could do nothing for the general good of the community that would eclipse the proper maintenance of their roads and the opening of new roads into the territory surrounding their city.

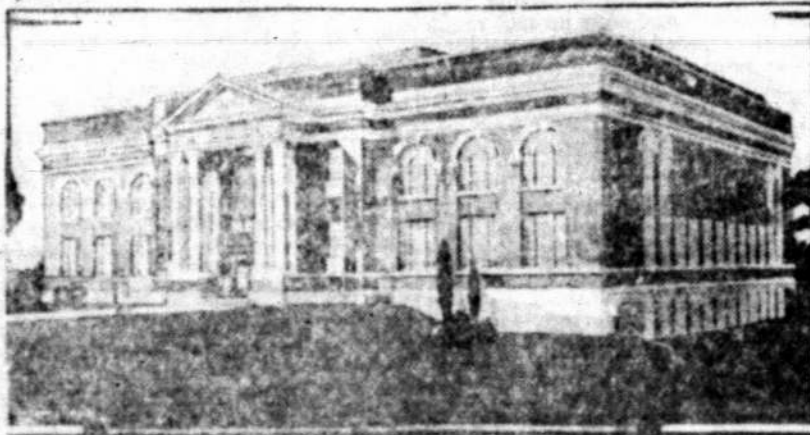

Judge Homer Winston, presiding over the meeting, which was arranged by J. F. Shelton, secretary of the chamber of commerce, who made a short talk outlining plans for the regular banquet meetings that will be held on the third Monday evening of each month.

Morgan Copeland, prominent Brownfield banker, talked of the building program that is being carried on there and declared that Brownfield has been exposed to the "buildinitis" which Lubbock has been affected for several years, and that the infection has spread to the new building improvements costing nearly $300,000 are being made or have just been completed.

Rev. Ball, Judge W. W. Price, Judge Graves, Judge Winston and others made brief talks in which they had been accomplished by the chamber of commerce was commended, and encouraging large attendance at the regular monthly meetings.

MORE SEATS TODAY AT COOKING SCHOOL

The Avalanche regrets that so many who came to attend the cooking school yesterday were unable to obtain seats after the 400 chairs were filled. Today more than 100 additional seats have been provided, by courtesy of the Church of Christ, and more than 500 can be seated. In view of the large crowd that attended yesterday, however, the Avalanche advises those who wish to be assured of seats to come early. The lectures begin at 2 p. m.

oust Brookhart, Recommendation of Sub-Committee

RECOUNT IN SENATE RACE SHOWS HIM DEFEATED

DEMOCRAT WINS

STECK WILL REPRESENT IOWA IF SOLONS ACCEPT REPORT

By United News

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Ousting of Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa and seating of Daniel F. Steck, who was his democratic opponent in the 1924 senatorial election has been recommended by a subcommittee of the senate privileges and elections committee.

The subcommittee after counting and examining the ballots, gave Steck a majority of 1,420 votes over Brookhart.

The subcommittee was unanimous in its report for ousting Brookhart. The report was explained in detail to the full committee Monday and will be taken up by the full committee for action Tuesday.

Senator Caraway, Arkansas, democrat, who wrote the report, said after the meeting that he expected its approval by the full committee. Other members of the subcommittee were Senators Watson of Indiana, and Ernst of Kentucky, republicans, and George of Georgia, democrat.

The case will be fought out on the senate floor after the full committee makes its report. Brookhart was elected nominally as a republican but after he denounced the Coolidge Dawes ticket, he was opposed by many republicans of Iowa. Monday he emphatically denied reports that he would resign. He is expected to enter the race against Senator Cummins this fall if the senate ousts him. Cummins barely won over Brookhart in the 1920 senatorial primaries.

The subcommittee took the intent of voters as the basis for judgment in giving Steck the majority of 1,420 votes, Caraway explained. But even using a strict legal basis, he said, Steck will still have a majority of 76.

Brookhart, Caraway said, told the committee that the returns of 67 precincts reached here with the seals broken, but it was found that they came in a mail sack which was intact and that the seals of only two precincts were broken, which probably happened on the way here.

When he fight comes on the senate floor many political complications are expected.

Many democrats will be urged to vote against their own party candidate in recognition of Brookhart's frequent support of the minority program but the main party strength probably will go to Steck.

ANDREWS PLANS TO COLLECT TEN MILLION TAXES PER YEAR FROM BOOTLEGGERS ON ALCOHOL DISTILLED

BY ROBERT D. LUSK

United News Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Assistant Secretary Andrews at last have agreed upon a campaign which bears promise of permitting prohibition to pay its own way as well as to add considerably to the dangers to the bootlegger industry.

The dry enforcement chief has announced that the government will begin in a large way the prosecution of violators of the Volstead law under section 35 which gives authority to collect an internal revenue tax from all manufacturers and dealers in illicit liquor.

Andrews said that this provision in the law has been tested in the courts and that everything now was ready for strenuous prosecution.

"If we find a moonshiner or distiller making 100 gallons of alcohol a week," Andrews explained, "he will be assessed the tax he didn't pay."

The government also will prosecute him for violation of the Volstead act and in addition may charge him with doing business without a federal license.

Although they recently have disagreed on several major points in the enforcement program, Mellon backed up his assistant to the fullest

Overflow Crowd Listens To First Cooking School Lecture from Mrs. Chase

PIE BAKING CONTEST

The Lubbock Fruit and Vegetable Company from whom the Morning Avalanche is securing fruits used in the cooking school is offering a large fancy basket of mixed fruits as a prize to the best apple pie baked and submitted to Mrs. Chase for judging on Friday afternoon of this week.

The same afternoon the Magnetic Housecleaner will be given away.

If those persons who view with alarm the state of the modern American home had caught a glimpse of the women who attended the first of Mrs. Florence Austin Chase's weekly series of home economics lectures, given Monday afternoon on the second floor of the Dyke Cullum building, they would have taken an optimistic lease on life.

As long as home makers are as interested as Lubbock women are in bettering their homes there is no chance of the institution disappearing from American life.

Mrs. Chase will lecture daily at 2 o'clock. Admission is free, and every woman interested in newest phases of cookery and interior decoration is invited to attend. The first day's domestic science lecture and demonstration was devoted to salads for many occasions with new and interesting salad dressings, and orange biscuits as a novelty—that is delicious and easily prepared.

Long before the hour for the lecture mothers, grandmothers and home makers from all sections of the city, could be seen hurrying to the first of the series of five lectures.

"I am certainly interested in today's program—every bit of it," a very musical voice said as other voices drowned out the speaker. But the tilt of this voice caught the air and continued:

"Salads are my hobby. And do you know, my husband is one man who is as keen about salads as I am about stocks. Think it is great, too, for it certainly does simplify things for me. Now, for lunch, we only have soup and a fruit salad—and George likes that—likes it so well that he comes home five days in the week to eat with me." The voice said with rather a triumphant note in it.

"Do you think she will demonstrate all the salads?" another voice whispered at the hands of the clock pointed nearer the hour of 2, when Mrs. Chase would appear in spotless white to begin this year's work as lecturer and instructor in all things pertaining to the home.

Rangers to Probe Somerville Killing

AUSTIN, Texas, March 15.—Two state rangers have been sent to Somerville, Baylor county, at the request of Sheriff C. D. Lewis, following the shooting of Constable Garrett A. White, there late Sunday night.

Feeling was running high in the community and at state ranger headquarters it was said that the killing of White was an echo of the slaying of Otto Lange, at Somerville, two years ago.

W. A. Houston, former constable of the Somerville precinct and who after twenty years service in the office, was defeated by White, surrendered to Sheriff Lewis at Caldwell.

Things began to break against the "trust" last June, when a carload of 68 fifty gallon drums of alcohol was seized in local freight yards. The alcohol was for Harry Volbe of Providence, R. I. and Chicago.

Ben Volbe, of Philadelphia, charged with being one of the heads of the conspiracy, told Volbe his money was lost, evidence showed, and cursed him roundly for demanding his alcohol or his money.

Volbe then went to the district attorney's office and revealed the secrets of the trust.

For the last ten months, government agents have been investigating the leads he gave them and for the last six weeks a federal grand jury listened to the evidence collected from all over the country.

Seventy-five of the alleged conspirators are under arrest and the other thirty seven are being sought in various parts of the country.

Volbe was the first arranged Monday; he pleaded guilty and was released on $10,000 bond.

Treasury agent George E. Golding said after the indictment was voted that the "gin trust" is just beginning to be uncovered, and that there will be other and more extensive investigations.

Colonel Coolidge Is Slightly Better

By United News

PLYMOUTH, Vt., March 15.—Colonel John C. Coolidge, the president's father, was maintaining early Monday night the slight improvement which had been evinced in his condition throughout the day.

His change for the better was but a "shade," however, according to Dr. Albert C. Cram and gave no hope of marked improvement. The condition of the president's father was such that Dr. Cram did not expect to visit the Coolidge homestead again before Tuesday morning. He was in telephone communication with the nurse, however, throughout the night.

U. S. INDICTS 112 IN BIGGEST BOOZE CONSPIRACY PROBE

REVELATION OF NATION WIDE RING IS MADE

$20,000,000 TRUST

SQUEALER OPENS WAY FOR WHOLESALE ARRESTS AND CHARGES

By United News

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 15.—Tales of a giant vat from which poured grain alcohol to bootleggers throughout the country, in the largest alcohol conspiracy since prohibition when what was probably the most extensive criminal indictment in the history of federal courts was returned.

One hundred and twelve defendants charged with violation of national prohibition laws were named by the grand jury. From distributing headquarters in Cleveland a $20,000,000 business was built, and for two years it carried on its operations like the largest public service in Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The indictment charges that the company was the center of a conspiracy to divert for beverage uses grain alcohol drawn on government permits for industrial purposes. Instead of denaturing the alcohol, the company is said to have transferred it from tank cars to drums which were shipped to the bootleg trade.

The history of the conspiracy as revealed by testimony before the federal judge is replete with murders, in trigues, and double crossings within the gang in various cities. Multimillions, professional gunmen, gamblers, city police, railway men, bootleggers—every kind and condition of men—rubbed shoulders within the fraternity of conspirators.

The cunning and intricate devices used by the conspirators to cover their illicit traffic were many. An elaborate telephone and telegraph code was used in messages from city to city, wherein the word "cousin" referred to a shipment.

The heads of the ring had often as many as six aliases each and some times all the members of a group would use the same aliases.

Imposing offices with such names as the "Sweet Grass Development Co." were maintained for "blinds" while the real business was transacted from another office in an obscure part of the city. Internal revenue officers, city and railroad police were bribed by the ring to conceal their activities.

Special Car May be Run To Tournament in Dallas

A special car to the Little Theatre tournament in Dallas was discussed at a meeting of the Executive Board of the Lubbock Little Theatre which Monday met after noon. The desirability of having a large number of interested Lubbock people present at the tournament was pointed out and the question has been referred to a committee composed of Mrs. J. E. Vickers, Rose McWhorter, and Clifton Lindsay. Whether the car is run or not will depend, of course on the number of people who wish to make the trip.

The tournament will be held the week of April 4 and the Lubbock play will be given the evening of the ninth. The play is "One Must Marry," directed by Pfeiffer. Miss Mayne Alexander has sent publicity for the Lubbock Little Theatre to the Dallas Times-Herald, and the article will appear in print soon.

The date the play will be produced in Lubbock has been changed from April 1 to April 5. The change was made because of the revival meetings which will be at three of the Lubbock churches the week before Easter, and because of the observance of Lent.

A meeting of the entire membership of the organization will be held at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of March 19. The board wishes to submit recommendations to the members and urges that every one attend the meeting which will be held in the Chamber of Commerce office.

County Librarian Will Begin Work Today

Miss Frances Hoyt Ford, county librarian, arrived in Lubbock Monday, and will immediately take up her duties in the libraries of Lubbock county. She spent Monday afternoon in driving over Lubbock with Miss Elizabeth H. West and several others.

Miss Ford comes to Lubbock from El Paso where she was assistant librarian for several years. She recently studied library administration in Chicago.

FRESHMAN CLASS PARTY AT COUNTY PARK FRIDAY

T. E. L. CLASS HEARS MRS. STUDEMAN

The T. E. L. Class met Sunday morning with fifty-eight in attendance. One new member was added to the roll and four visitors were present.

Mrs. Studeman brought the class a splendid lesson from the topic "Last Words of Jesus With His Disciples," placing emphasis upon the golden text, "I am the way, and the truth, and the life." John 14:6 also John 14:1, "Let not your heart be troubled; believe in God, believe also in me."

Any strangers or visitors in the city over Sunday are especially invited to meet with this class in their class room at the First Baptist church. We feel sure that you will enjoy the service.

METHODIST MISSIONARY

The Mary Helm organization met with the Woman's Missionary society Monday afternoon for a program on Social Service.

Devotional exercises were led by Mrs. J. H. Whiteside, whose subject was "If Jesus came today who would fail to recognize Him?" After a Bible reading from the seventh chapter of John, Mrs. Whiteside described the classes of people who would fail to recognize Him if he should come. Some are blinded by worldly wisdom; some by the petty details of living; others are satisfied with their own limited vision, some cannot see the divinity of the Saviour, asking, "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" None of these can see that He dwells in the hearts of people to walk with them all the day and all the way.

The program was led by Mrs. R. I. Tubbs, superintendent of Social Service. The first number was given by Mrs. H. T. Kimbro, who talked on "Work for the young people."

Mrs. Kimbro believes that we should work for "deeper and lower 'don'ts' in dealing with young people and that the attitude of adults should be one of sympathy and understanding."

Mrs. Joe Flaig played feeling a piano solo.

Mrs. R. W. Blair, chairman of the committee to look after the sick and strangers outlined the plans of the committee for carrying out the work.

Mrs. W. C. Rylands spoke on our "Work as it relates to the Mexicans and Negroes who are in our midst."

She told of the definite ways in which her committee had planned to be of help to these alien races.

P. T. A. ORGANIZED AT LAMESA SCHOOL

A meeting of the patrons of the Lamesa school was called for at 4:00 o'clock last Friday afternoon at the Grammar school building for the purpose of organizing a Parent Teacher association. The meeting was well attended and those present were very enthusiastic over the project.

Though women's clubs of Lamesa already organized and functioning in a lively way give the heartiest support to whatever programs the school desires to put over, and laudably many things for the benefit of the school in financial and other lines it is felt by those most interested in the school that co-operation of other organizations however warm and appreciated will not suffice to take the place of a P. T. A., whose sole reason for existence is for the betterment of our school.

MRS. BURLESON HOSTESS TO TUESDAY CLUB

On last Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, Mrs. Elzee Burleson was hostess to the Tuesday club.

Arrangements were made for three tables of progressive bridge. Following the hour spent at the game amidst much lively chat, witty repartee, and merry laughter, a refreshment of tuna fish salad with crackers, banana parfait, lady fingers, ripe olives, and hot tea was served to the following guests: Mesdames Roscoe Holton, Jack Phinley, D. Burns, J. H. Clark, Gordon McGuire Jr., L. Vaughan, W. H. Lamb, J. T. Little, Otis Little, Ollie O'Neil, Sam Cooper and Miss Aline Phillips.

Salad dressing as the most necessary accompaniment to the salad proper, was taken up and many new types of dressings featured.

Something new—something very Texan—is the orange biscuit featured as the special number in cookery. Since Texas has the most wonderful fruit in the world—the most luscious and delectable orange and grape fruit—why should they not be featured? Orange biscuits, made the Chase way are something to be emphasized the next time your cousin from California visits you, and your uncle and his family who rushed to Florida.

Mrs. Chase during the week will call attention to the wealth of Texas, as far as the housekeeper is concerned. The next thing you know, you will be rooting for Texas—if your ancestors did happen to build an empire in the East—or West or even North—that is not saying too much—really it isn't.

Tuesday's program will include: Art subject, "The Living Room Alive With Personality."

Domestic Science subject: "Some Unusual Dinner and Luncheon Dishes."

Don't miss this session, as you will receive some very helpful information that will guide you through many a tempestuous social storm of the spring and summer.

TECH-NICAL TOPICS

IMPORTANT CONCOCATION HELD YESTERDAY MORN

One of the most interesting concocations of the year was held yesterday at the Pavilion. The meeting opened with several popular orchestra numbers by the Tech Tondors. These boys are all students and made a wonderful hit in their first appearance at a concocation.

John Young, president of the Student association then called on President Horn for the invocation. Following this the question of raising the student activity fee was put before the students. The fee has been inadequate for the need of all activities this year and ten dollars was set as the amount to be paid in next year. The students were all in favor of the change. The election of the staffs for the two publications of the college was next discussed. It was passed by the students that the staffs run in teams and announce their candidacy for the students. They will be allowed only five dollars as campaign expenses. The students will go to the polls and vote next Monday and Tuesday. The next act was to officially adopt the name of the two school publications, and the names of and colors of the athletic teams. The students passed both and gave Mrs. E. F. Fessenden a rising vote of thanks for her suggestion of the name. Young also announced the coming style show to be given by Barrier Brothers and the election to be held among the students for models. President Horn and Dean Gordon made announcements concerning the routine matters of the college. Lieut. Killin announced the re-organization of the military band for the Spring term. He stated that he wanted a number of the students to join it. The Austin College Glee Club concert was also announced. It will be staged in the Pavilion next Tuesday night.

NOTICE STUDENTS—RECORD BOOK MUST BE IN THIS WEEK

Several of the students have not yet returned their record-books to the office of the Registrar. These books must be in the office before the final exams of each term. Several calls have been made by the Registrar for the books and this is the final one. Unless these books are in the office the students will be fined one dollar for a new one.

REGISTRATION FOR SPRING TERM THURSDAY, MARCH 25

The winter term will close March 24 and registration for the Spring term will be held on Thursday, Mar. 25. All students must register on this day. Classes will also begin for the Spring term on Thursday. The registration of the entire college will be held in room 305 of the Administration building.

PROF. MURDOCK TO ATTEND BROTHER'S FUNERAL

J. H. Murdock, professor of civil engineering, was notified yesterday of the death of his brother at Boston, Mass. Prof. Murdock left yesterday at noon for Boston. The body will be held until Prof. Murdock's arrival.

FIRST COLLEGE DAIRY BUTTER PRESENTED TO DR. HORN

F. I. Dahlberg, superintendent of the College farm presented the first pound of butter made in the Dairy to President Horn yesterday. The butter was of the finest quality and a good sample of the products that will be turned out in the dairy. The dairy will be in full operation soon and bottled milk will be sold to the public.

FIRST ANNUAL CATALOGS OF TECH ARE OUT

The first annual catalogs of the college were received yesterday and are ready for distribution. The books contain a detailed outline of the courses to be offered at the Tech next year. It contains also a number of cuts showing the grounds and buildings of the school. In the back of the catalog is a complete list of the students enrolled for the initial session of the college. The book contains 150 pages. They will be sent out to the high school graduates of the state soon.

DR. HORN GOES TO BOSTON

President Horn left last night for Houston where he will consult with William W. Watkins concerning further building extensions of the college. Watkins is a professor of Architecture in Rice Institute and was one of the architects of the Tech. He helped make all the floor plans of the different buildings. The legislature will be called on for appropriations to build more buildings next year and the officials are planning to be ready. Dr. Horn will be gone about three days.

The January grand jury of Jeff Davis Parish, Louisiana, was dismissed because there was not a criminal case to be tried.

MISSIONARY LADIES TO VISIT COLLEGE

All the delegates of the Northwest Texas Missionary conference will make a visit to the Tech. A committee of Lubbock ladies consulted with President Horn yesterday and plans will be made to conduct the entire conference through the college. They will visit the buildings on the afternoon of April 15. Light refreshments will be served them in the School of Home Economics.

BLOOD AND SAND FROM EL TORO

Time—Any hour today. Act I.—Scene by us. sentence with the word "with." Romantic Youth—"I was with 'er last night."

Giggles. Curtain. And so constitutes, according to one who knows, the average "jelly-bean's" philosophy of word study. People from time immemorial have lambasted the modern youth of their day and time. Fully four thousand years before Christ, archeologists and hieroglyphicists maintain, there was written a treatise against the practices of the "moderns" of that time. At intervals of one generation since, people have lamented the fact that youth is going to be free and modern. Back in Socrates' time, people said that the world was going to the dogs and we don't hear any voicing and barking as if the dogs had treed the world yet.

But then again, perhaps the reason why we don't hear such a sound is because we shut our ears to it. If our principles of square-dealing and upright character was brought to the fore, we believe that the consciousness of the misled youth could be assuaged a bit.

Our interest has been taken, recently, with the proposition of prohibition and anti-controversy over the abolition or modification of the Volstead act. Such a step would be a moral crime on the part of the people of the United States. A step backward in the progress of humanity which could not be overcome in a single day—not even in a decade.

"Why," one disinterested might say, "should that concern us?" We'll tell you why—it is because the college boy and girl, and the high school boy and girl of this land—the youth of our nation, who will determine just whether or not upright living and high-mindedness is to be lowered and degraded again.

To make the sale of an article a success, the public must be educated to use its use—and to make the sale of liquor successful, a taste must be cultivated among the people who will be in power within a short while—because the people of today are not going to stand for even the modification of the Volstead act. The vendors of the stuff know that if they can get the high school boy and college boys and girls from both classes to buy their "bottled hell" now, they will buy it later on. And later on is when they are planning for their education.

In the youth of our town—our college—our community—and so, our

MISS LETSCH LEAVES TO ENTER ARK. UNIVERSITY

Miss Alice Letsch, secretary to Dean Miller of the school of engineering left Sunday for Fayetteville, Arkansas, where she will enter the university there. Miss Letsch came to the Tech during the fall term and has been a very efficient worker in the office of Dean Miller. Her place will be filled by Miss Evelyn Knipp of Austin, Texas. Miss Knipp has been in the office of the business manager since coming to Tech.

BIOLOGY FIELD TRIP TO BE MADE NEXT WEEK

Prof. R. H. Studhalter, head of the department of Biology will take two boys of his class next week on a field trip. They will go either to the Colorado or Llana river. Material for class work will be brought back by the party.

A mountain boomer was brought to the department Saturday. He was just awakening from the hibernation period and is now alert. This animal is a native of the southwest and thought by many to be very poisonous. Prof. Studhalter stated that the animal is very harmless and can be handled with no danger whatsoever. He stated that he would be very glad to receive all specimen of plants and animals that were brought into the department and that he would be glad to give out all possible information and opinions concerning them.

CO-EDS WON'T ARGUE

LINCOLN, Neb., March 15—Once more the University of Nebraska debate teams will be without co-ed members.

Never in the history of the school's debate team has there been a female member. Despite continued efforts to arouse the interest of the female students in debate, the co-eds continue to evince no interest in the gentle art of argumentation.

CHOOSES DEATH RATHER THAN SCHOOL

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Okla., March 15.—Donald Kodasett, 14 years old, preferred death to the dull routine of the class room. When his father insisted that he join his classmates going to school in a bus, Donald ran into the house, seized a shot gun and killed himself.

SWASH-BUCKLING COMET, DUE TO APPEAR MONDAY, IS KIDNAPPED BY SUN AND FAILS TO SHOW UP

By EARL J. JOHNSON
United News Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Mar. 15.—On the eve of its Northern American debut, Encoms comet has mysteriously disappeared.

Known as the most dashing of the modern celestial swash-bucklers, the comet was due to glaze forth Monday night with a full tail and a red face. Astronomers all over the country had been sitting up nights waiting for its appearance.

At Yerks observatory here where the disappearance was revealed Professor E. B. Frost, director, has been trying his telescope in Encoms direction since February 15.

About the middle of last December the comet was discovered over South America, Prof. Frost said. It appeared to be a real astral marauder and promised to produce a set of fireworks that might have equalled those of Halley's comet.

When Yerks observatory "picked it up" through a powerful telescope the comet was about 30 millions of miles from the sun and about 60 millions of miles from the earth. All figures agreed that it would be visible over this country Monday night. Then the mysterious disappearance occurred. Although this strange caper on the part of the wayward comet is puzzling scientists in many parts of the world, Prof. Frost believes there may be an explanation: the sun may have kidnapped it.

When a comet gets too near the sun its head expands and it becomes so diffused and translucent that it cannot be seen from the earth. The peculiar combinations of heat and electrical forces convert it into a celestial jelly fish.

Prof. Frost believes that after a few years that the comet may liberate itself from the sun's power and become a full fledged rip-roaring comet again.

He said that those who really want to see the comet in action should wait until about the year 2026 when it will re-enter the sixth magnitude with a degree of brilliance visible to the naked eye.

HIS HOUSE FELL ON HIM AND KILLED HIM

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 15.—Charles Rodgers was killed when his house, two-story frame building fell on him. Rodgers was raising the house by means of jacks when they slipped.

Prof. Boyka, a Russian scientist, claims the invention of an apparatus which can destroy airplanes or dirigibles by projecting heat rays into the air.

DOES IT PAY TO ADVERTISE

Newspaper clippings, collected by a California man regarding the travels and adventures of a young woman whom he had known in his school days, led to a romance which has just culminated in the marriage of Miss Emily J. Wade, a Near East Relief worker from San Francisco, and Andrew Cushing of Gilroy, California.

Mr. Cushing for several years saved press dispatches which were published in California regarding the work of Miss Wade in Turkey and Palestine. This led to correspondence over the 8,000 miles which separated them, and after five years of letter-writing, the marriage has just been announced. Mr. Cushing is a descendant of Lieut. William Cushing, who blew up the Confederate cruiser Albemarle. Another ancestor, for whom he is named, was one of General Washington's staff during the Revolutionary War.

AN UNFIT GENERATION

Says the head of the physical education department of the University of California: "American men in general are unprepared to meet the common physical emergencies and requirements of life." It isn't only that we are losing the power of locomotion since we began to depend on the automobile. "The inability of most of our young men of today to use the power of their arms, shoulders and middle body is surprising, and the danger from this is greater to the race than from the disease of their legs from walking. Former generations naturally got the exercise they needed to keep them physically fit. The necessities of their life took care of that. This generation lacks wholesome chores and hardships. The race will continue using mechanical aids in ever increasing degree, no doubt of that. But if the race is to avoid losing its vigor and adaptability, and not turn decadent physically and mentally, it is evident that deliberate exercise must have a steadily increasing importance in American life. It may take form of 'setting up' exercises and other routine activities, or of sports, or both together, but exercise there must be, in some form other than watching baseball and football games.

RAPID DRIVING

There is one highway at least where there is no speed limit. It is a Texas thoroughfare near San Antonio, privately built and owned, with a ten stretch of pavement for 35 miles. The public is allowed to use the road for a consideration and all along it are such signs as "Flivvers, do your best!" and "Boys, let the girls drive!" This case, however, is not so unusual as some may imagine. There are whole states now where the old rules are being relaxed and drivers are urged, or even compelled to speed. Traffic experts are discovering that there is often more danger in low speed than high speed. Slow drivers tend to clog roads at ticklish spots, holding up traffic, causing cars to bump into each other and often resulting in serious collisions when drivers really in a hurry are forced to swing around sluggish road hogs. On the other hand pushing right along at a good rate of speed as uniformly as possible keeps traffic moving and thinned out giving everybody a better chance. Provided of course that the drivers are more alert and careful as they drive more rapidly.

PENNY BANKS

Toronto has had school savings banks for 20 years. Bankers and business men it is said believe firmly in the value of these penny banks in teaching thrift to school children. Yet a report indicates that only 68 per cent of the total number of children in attendance at Toronto schools have accounts in these banks. In this country, where school savings banks have been in operation in many communities for a number of years, there has recently been renewed effort to increase interest in them. In 27 American cities where the school enrollment ranges from 10,000 to 30,000 the percentage of pupils having accounts runs from 76 to 98. Those percentages are much better than the Toronto average, and seem to indicate that the school banks are reaching most of the children. Their usefulness requires large patronage. Children of well-to-do parents just as much as the youngsters of poor parents need to learn to save for a purpose and to spend wisely. It is to be hoped that the lessons taught by the penny banks include both those phases of thrift. It would teach little of value if children put a few pennies a week into such banks without understanding why they should do so and at the same time spent other pennies for cheap and harmful candies or silly, easily broken trinkets.

GREEK FRIENDSHIP.

Renewal of the Greek government's pledge of friendship to America and American institutions, which was voiced by General Pangalos, the Greek dictator, during his present visit to Salonika, is regarded as an event of international significance. Rulers come and go with startling rapidity in Greece, but one thing the Greek public insists upon from all of them—a whole souled continuance of the country's traditional friendship with America. General Pangalos said in his address: "We greatly appreciate the aid the American people have given to our refugees. We can bespeak our friendship for America with all sincerity, because we know that the near east relief and other American institutions are here for the sole purpose of educating our youth in ways that make for character and that they are not concerned with propaganda, either religious or political." The Greek government is ready to support them with moral assistance and material aid. I shall be glad to have them call upon me at any time that I can be of service." Probably in no country is politics so charged with drama as in Greece. Politicians rise and fall with startling suddenness. The entrance of a new prime minister into office resembles in public excitement and interest the crowning of a new heavyweight champion in America. Politics in short is Greece's national sport. For this reason the repeated unanimity of all parties in their declarations of friendship for America has an unusual significance.

EVERYTHING AHEAD

A current magazine quotes Luther Burbank as saying, "Everything is yet to be done. In the next five years I hope to produce plants with grains and fruits larger than any we have at present, with more varied flowers and colors, with better storing and shipping qualities, with more nutriment and less waste and with every poisonous or injurious element eliminated." Those are the hopes and plans of a man now 77 years old who has already done so many useful and marvelous things that he is known as the "plant wizard." He has achieved far more wonders than have ever been put on the market or made public. The new varieties of plants he has developed have not been freaks, fit only for exhibition purposes. They have given new simplicity, beauty, nutritive values, size or flavor to many varieties of flower or food plants and trees. What a grand thing it is to be so alive and so interested in one's work and so full of ideas and enthusiasm that one can say cheerfully at 77, "Everything is yet to be done!"

SMALL STOCKHOLDERS

Everyone who is familiar with corporations, big or little, knows what a task it is to get the owners to attend stockholders' meetings. Nearly all of the voting is done by proxy, and it is some times impossible to get enough proxies to transact business. But "when you sell stock to employees and customers," remarks a business reviewer, "you have to hire a hall for the stockholders' meetings." The employees and customers when they buy an interest in the business, no matter how small, take an active interest in it themselves. They want to know who is handling their money and want something to say about policies. That is very good for corporations and also for the stockholders. The more ownership of a big concern is spread the greater becomes the personal, human factors contributing to its success. It is very good too for wage earners and small salaried persons to realize that they have a stake in the success of the industry or business from which their living comes.

LAWYERS VS. ENGINEERS

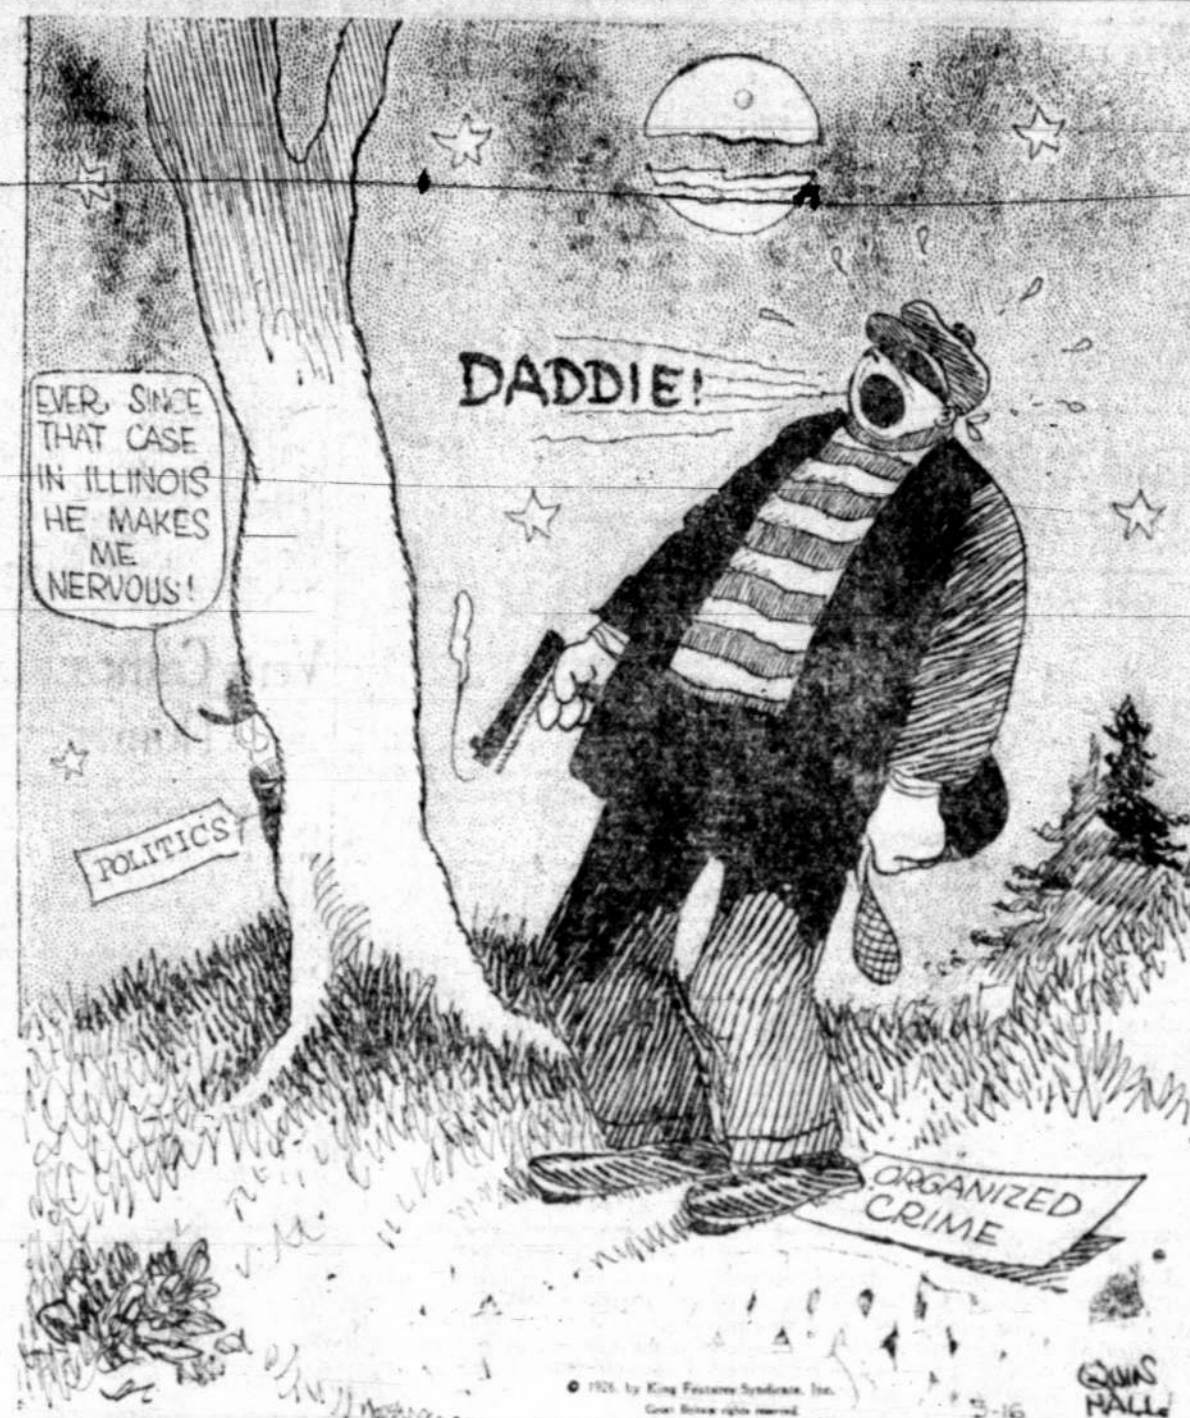

While the celebrated Chicago water diversion case was being taken by the United States supreme court, Herbert Hoover, without presuming to discuss the merits of that case laid a calm hand on the brows of about a dozen states interested in the Great Lakes. "Quarrels concerning water," he said, "get quickly from the realm of engineering into the realm of emotion." The Great Lakes, he observed, have sunk two or three feet in the last few years resulting in a loss to lake navigation of $19,000,000. Some authorities accuse Chicago of having poured nearly all of that from Lake Michigan into the Chicago drainage canal. Others say Chicago is responsible for only a few inches of it and the rest is due to the climatic cycle. "The real question," remarked Mr. Hoover "is to hold more water in the lakes. Lawyers and courts can not hold it there—but engineers can; and I ask all the lake region to consider that before the controversies go further, we had better spend our money on cement and steel rather than on lawyers." It goes without question that no community should take more than its fair share of such a vital public resource as water for whatever purpose. Presumably the supreme court will see to that in the present case. But if excessive leaks are stopped big problems will remain, the first of them being to impound the waters of navigable lakes and rivers and raise their levels, and the second to dig and maintain deeper channels wherever water borne transportation is possible. The big Mississippi and Great Lakes to the sea projects should both be practicable if the states come to agreement and get the engineers on the job.

Little Avalanches

Well, Germany thought she was going to boss the world, and here she becomes the sixty-fifth member of a league of nations.

Just as things were beginning to grow a bit dull every has a chance to argue about that prohibition poll.

March 16—He's Somebody's Wayward Boy.

SO THINK WE

We think that the main trouble with a lot of parents is that they give their boys too many don'ts and not enough do's.

We think that if you can get some real sermons mixed up with good hikes, good ball games, good swimming and fishing, and three meals a day out in the open that you can reach the heart of the boy quicker than any other way.

We think that if we will be real comrades to our boys that we will have better luck keeping them straight.

We think it merely a bunch of propaganda started out by the anti-prohibition forces to agitate the repeal of the modification of the prohibition laws in the United States when they started the recent "straw vote" on prohibition. It is a farce so far as expressing the sentiment of the people. We do not place any blame on the newspapers, but the source of the idea we believe originated from an anti-prohibition standpoint, and therefore does not reflect the true sentiment of the people of the United States.

We think that there is one thing that can not be done by proxy, and that is to be "dad" to a boy.

We think that many times arguments over large things are often continued over very small things.

We think we can already hear inklings of June brides.

We think that farmers should get together and stay together and work together if they expect to bring themselves prosperity.

We think if the Tech Athletic Association will take the material that is in the "mule barn," known as the city auditorium and convert it into a grand stand that it will be in better use than it possibly has ever been put to.

We think that the fence arounds should be straightened up or taken away. It looks rather dilapidated as it is now.

We think that after all that the public really likes to fall for bunkum.

We think the ladies of Lubbock certainly appreciate Mrs. Chase as a conductor of a cooking school from the large number who attended yesterday. There will be many more today.

We think there must be a real estate boom on at the north pole from the number of planes loaded with people who expect to make a prospecting trip to that section this summer.

We think the millennium can safely be said to be at hand when the wets and the dries both agree that prohibition can be enforced. It is possibly that far away too.

We think that the average politician is interested in the average man only to the extent that the average man can be interested in the said politician.

IT IS REPORTED

That there were more people attended the Morning Avalanche Home Exposition and Cooking School the first day than has ever been seen in a similar school in Lubbock.

That many people wanted to attend Mrs. Chase's lectures yesterday who could not get seats. More seats have been provided and we hope you will come again ladies.

That there are several places in Lubbock where several loads of rubbish might be gathered up and hauled to the dumping grounds.

That no man's land has not been cleaned out for several days and the trash is getting pretty deep.

That farmers are better advanced with their soil preparation this year than ever before. That is fine, and we believe means better crops.

That there will be several train loads of poultry and products shipped from the South Plains this year. That will mean a trainload of wealth to this section.

That a search has been made throughout the United States for a man who waked up and found himself famous who went to sleep on the job.

That six cars were seen running on the streets Sunday night that had but one front light burning.

That there were several smash-ups in Lubbock Sunday caused by cars running together.

That instead of buying more cars eight young people are riding small sized coupes, and get along very well too. We guess that is hooverizing on riding space.

EASY BAIL THE PASS-KEY TO FREEDOM
 Easy Bail is the pass key to freedom for the professional criminal. Through organizations the professional criminal can generally secure bail. If the organization does not provide it from funds set aside for that purpose, then it is not a hard matter to secure bail from a professional, or for that matter, in Texas, the lawyer will make arrangements for it. When free, the criminal can go out and steal enough to protect his bondsman, and to pay his attorney's fee also.

The right to secure bail should not be denied a person charged with crime whose previous record, in the eyes of the law, has been clean, except, of course, in cases of premeditated murder, rape or other violent or heinous crime. The public, however, has a right to protection against professional criminals, and bail should be denied such if it is at all possible to bring them to trial within a reasonable time after arrest. The ease with which criminals secure bail encourages crime. If a judge happens to deny bail, the writ of habeas corpus is issued and the prisoner goes free. The police and sheriff's squad spend the people's money in running down criminals and the courts turn them loose on writs of habeas corpus, and they go out to rob or kill, as the case may be.

Known criminals should be denied bail. The law never intended that they should be given freedom in order that they might go out and commit more crimes. Keep them in jail and give a speedy trial. Arresting criminals will then cease to be a joke.—Farm and Ranch.

Dr. Butler attacks the prohibition law once again. If Dr. Butler could be made aware of the probable practical results of his remarks upon the young people in his charge he would no doubt be amazed and horrified. If he cannot say something that will strengthen the United States in the affections and loyalty of these young people, he should keep his mouth closed.

A Little Talk on Thrift

By S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift

Not enough attention is paid to the better understanding of the value of thrift of time.

Ample effort is being given to the encouragement of money thrift. The American people are not lacking for guidance in the matter of saving money. But all too little thought is bestowed in the matter of developing greater economy in the use of time.

Idleness is sheer thriftlessness. It is just as definitely a form of waste as the habit of squandering money. And like financial prodigality it leads always away from peace, contentment and happiness.

The happiest persons in the world are those who work. How quickly time passes when we are in the midst of employment; how slowly it drags when we are idle!

This is not said with the view of discouraging rightful pleasure and recreation. There is a place in the world for relaxed effort, for laughter, for "a good time," along sensible and moderate lines.

But it is in our work that we should find our deepest and most satisfying joy because work is creative and uplifting.

Work, and work only, has placed civilization where it is today.

The idler has contributed nothing to human progress. He has, on the contrary, ever been a dead weight on society—a consumer but not a producer—a potential trouble maker—a breeder of immorality and crime.

No form of thrift is more essential than time thrift—no happiness more substantial than the happiness of industry.

MEMORY

Walking God's Acres on a summer's day
 I stopped before a shaft of marble
 "Rich men," thought I, "are favored after all,
 In splendor and in luxury sleeps their day.
 From earth their memory does not pass away,
 While round about the poor, 'neath
 markers small,
 Sleep in oblivion, seldom seen at all."

And then it seemed I heard the great man say:
 "Envy me not this monument of stone,
 Look to that modest grave across the way.
 His memory by those simple flowers
 is shown.
 Placed there by loving hands but yesterday,
 Still come the living to his humble
 plot,
 I sleep 'neath marble, but I am forgot."

VETERAN MTIGUE GOES DOWN FOR COUNT IN FOURTH ROUND OF FIGHT WITH JACK DELANEY OF BRIDGEPORT

By FRANK GETTY
United News Staff Correspondent
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, March 15.—Mike Mtigue succumbed to father time and the savage rushing attack of Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Monday night and heard himself counted out for the first time in a long and honorable career.

The old Irishman's finish came in the fourth round, when Patsy Haley, the referee stopped the bout with only a second to go.

McTigue was kneeling by the side of the ring, his head through the ropes practically out when Haley stepped in. Mike had staggered to his feet before the fatal 10 had been counted out but would have been knocked out completely in another round.

The Dublin boxer, who once held the world's light-weight championship went into the fight carrying too great a handicap of age. He is 34 on the record books and actually older. Delaney is 26. Mike was just in there to exhibit his defensive skill and stay the limit, if he could.

It looked for a time as though the ex-champion would succeed in lasting the limit but in the fourth Delaney's lucky round, the Bridgeport boxer caught Mike with that famous uppercut. Down went McTigue for the first time in his career to take the count of nine. He came up and Delaney flew at him like a tiger. Letting fly with everything at his command Delaney quickly had Mike crouching and practically out on the ropes. McTigue sank to his knees, his head outside the ring and the timekeeper beat out the count.

Before the word "ten" Mike was up, and Patsy Haley had stepped between them, just before the bell ended the round.

Mike was helped to his corner, a badly beaten boxer, knocked out for the first time in 16 years of fighting.

The ring trembled and shook beneath the weight of the semi-finalist as Jack Delaney of Hoboken, 187, and Johnny Grosse of Mount Vernon 186, went into action like a couple of bull rhinos.

It was slam bang, hammer and tons from the first bell.

There was more action in the fifth round than has been since the Dempsey-Firpo fight. Demase caught Grosse with a left hook and knocked him through the ropes so that the Mount Vernon boxer's body balanced on the middle zone teetering up and down like a scale.

In special uniforms, made for their special all-round competition, so that the spectators will be enabled to identify them easily, Charles Hoff, the vaulting viking, Harold Osborn, the speckled school teacher and Emerson Norton, the giant Georgetown star, will be the center of attention.

Hoff is to be dressed in a plain white uniform, with the flag of his native country on the breast of his sleeveless jersey and a star on the abbreviated trunks which are said to be at once the envy and despair of the Certrude Hoff girls. Osborn's uniform will be scarlet, with purple and yellow trimmings, with a red, white and blue flag—the Olympic tri-color—one the breast. Norton will wear blue grey of Georgetown, with a big G.

Seven times during the evening the trio will toe the mark in a different contest, to determine which of the three is the greatest all-round athlete in the world.

So long is the program arranged by the K. of C. officials that it is to start at 7:30 p. m. and will not be over until after 11 o'clock.

HELEN LOOKS FOR NEW WORLD TO CONQUER
CANNES, March 15.—Helen Wills is out after yet another tennis title, this time the championship of the Cote d'Azur. With Suzanne Lenglen away, there seems no one capable of stopping the American champion.

Miss Wills, Miss Ellene Bennett of England and Miss Isabella Lee Mumford of Boston have entered the singles and the Californian will play her first match Tuesday.

Meadows Shines Specs for Mound

By United News.
PASO ROBLES, Calif., March 15.—Lee Meadows, Pittsburgh's star moundman, probably will be used in the first game of the Pirates' first series against the San Francisco Seals.

The world champions will leave for the bay city Tuesday night, playing their first game Wednesday and staying in San Francisco until Sunday night.

The condition of Meadows, whose arm caused him some trouble during the winter, is the outstanding matter of speculation in the Pirate camp. During the last few days, Lee has been flinging them in a manner that would indicate a return to last season's form, but a session of competition is expected to give a better line on his possibilities for this year.

DUNDEE AND HARMON SIGN UP FOR FIGHT

By United News.
NEW YORK, March 15.—Joe Dundee of Baltimore, and Willie Harmon of New York, one of whom probably will be the next welter-weight champion, have signed to fight in Madison Square Garden, May 7. The winner is to be matched with Mickey Walker, provided the title holder defeats Pete Latzo of Ceranton in May.

The date of the Jimmy Slatery-Young Stribling bout has advanced to March 25.

McDonald, made provision in his will for $1,250,000 to be given to the University of Texas for the erection of a suitable observatory and the institution of a department of astrology.

Stubborn Coughs Quickly Stopped
This New Way

It is often surprising how the most persistent, hacking cough that not only robs you of strength and sleep, but often leads to more serious trouble, yields quickly to a simple but wonderfully effective treatment.

This treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful at bed time and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. So with the cause removed, coughing stops quickly, your sleep undisturbed, and the entire cough condition soon disappears.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

Home Demonstration Agent Arrives Here

Miss Hazel Hammer, of Hillsboro, arrived in Lubbock early Monday and immediately entered into work with Miss Lela DuBose, county home demonstration, preparatory to succeeding Miss DuBose whose resignation is effective Saturday.

Miss Hammer, who has had extensive experience in teaching and who is a graduate of the College in Industrial Arts at Denton, is prepared to take care of the work of the office here and is thoroughly conversant with the organization feature that will be valuable in continuing the club work that has been so advanced by Miss DuBose.

Miss Myrtle Murray, district home demonstration agent, is working with Miss Hammer and Miss DuBose. "I regret very much the loss of Miss DuBose, but am encouraged that we have secured the services of one so capable as Miss Hammer," Miss Murray said yesterday.

Vera Cathcart's Drama is Flop

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Vera, Countess of Cathcart, under the auspices of that inspired patron of the arts, Earl Carroll, opened in her own drama, "Ashes of Love," at the Shubert-Belasco theatre Monday night and Washington, which had come to scoff remained to bray.

It is obvious that the producer staged the piece simply to capitalize on the noble lady's detention at Ellis Island and on the frantic American cheers that went up when she was released.

As a general thing the nation or the man who loans money becomes unpopular with the borrower.

CHAPMAN, SUPER BANDIT, LOSES HIS APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT FROM SENTENCE TO DIE BY NOOSE

By FRANK GETTY
United News Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, March 15.—Although his lawyers still insist differ-ently, it seems that Gerald Chapman has been denied his last chance for life by the United States supreme court and must hang in Wetherfield Prison for the murder of a policeman.

Chief Justice Taft announced at noon Monday in Washington that the bandit's petition for a writ of certiorari, which if granted, would have again postponed the execution, was denied. Chapman's appeal to the supreme court of the land for a review of the lower court's decision refusing to free him from the custody of the state of Connecticut.

The state of Connecticut proposes to hang the bandit on April 6, for the murder of Policeman James Skel-ley during a robbery at New Britain on October 11, 1924. At the time of the murder, Chapman was a fugitive from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, and it has been the contention of his legal advisors that he should be returned to federal custody to serve out a 25 year sentence for robbery the mails.

District and appellate courts previously denied Chapman's appeal for a writ of habeas corpus to take him back to Atlanta but his execution has been twice postponed since he was sentenced, April 4, 1925.

"There are several steps yet to be taken," Joseph M. Freedman, one of the bandit's associate counsel maintained at Hartford after learning of the supreme court's decision.

"As a last resort, we can appeal to the board of pardons. Previous to that we can apply for a writ of habeas corpus to review the entire case.
The question of the power of the federal government to transfer a prisoner from state to state, and to individual states and the question of commutation of sentence, were not passed upon by the United States supreme court."

The slim, pale, almost ascetic criminal who once was styled the "superbandit" probably will continue to the eleventh hour his efforts to secure free from the impending noose.
The front pages of newspapers have been Campbell's playground since he directed the hold up of a mail train in New York on October 24, 1921,
and made away with registered mail pouches containing money, securities and jewels having a negotiable value of more than $1,000,000. About the only temporal punishment possible would be obscurity.

Much of the glamor that surrounded Chapman in the days when the headlines called him the "prince of bandits" has worn off during his incarceration. For a time, his record for audacity and native shrewdness led to the belief that he was certain to escape. He had perpetrated a sensational getaway from Atlanta and in some quarters was believed invincible.

A few more years and the undoubtedly had influence of Chapman on the youngsters of the nation will have reached an end. His hanging may lead to one last dramatic gesture. It might be better all around if he could be silently eliminated from further participation in the activities of the world which accrued him such notoriety.

CROWDS ATTEND AT DYKE CULLUM OPENING

The formal opening of the Auto Accessory Company, Lubbock's new sixty-five thousand dollar institution, was attended by a large number of local and south plains people last night, with an especially large number of automobile dealers present.

The beautiful new home of the company, in which no expense was spared in lending to its attractiveness, was splendidly lighted and all of the new stocks that have been received were well displayed, making the inspection of the entire building worth more than usual interest.

The Tech Band furnished good music throughout the evening.
Refreshments were served and souvenirs given the ladies.

Numerous friends of Dyke Cullum, the owner and manager of the new business, congratulated him upon his material expression of confidence in the future of Lubbock and they assured him that the investments automobile business on the Plains, he had made in making ready for the opening of the business were adequate to assure automobile men of the Plains that their most liberal patronage is deserved.

PRISONER ESCAPES FROM OFFICERS HERE

Jumping out of the window of the sheriff's office while his captors were in conference, Jack Britt, 27,
just arrested on a charge of adultery,
yesterday led a hue and cry of citizens and officers through Lubbock to a north bound freight train, and there threw them off his trail, by getting on the train and getting off on the other side. He is supposed to have fled through the canyon, while Deputy Sheriff Vernie Ford in an automobile followed the freight train to Ahermally, caught it, searched it,
and failed to find his quarry.

Britt, dodging in and out of alleys in avoidance of his pursuers, who included Chief May, and patrolmen Hardy and Ambrose, as well as the county officers, hid in an outhouse at one time, but was driven out by the owner of the place.

Financial Editor United News
NEW YORK, March 15.—Considerations of money possibilities and income tax payments failed to influence stock trading one way or the other Monday, mainly because the market had a new set of factors to use as trading bases. Rumors of pending trouble in the various Florida land development plans served as the foundation for a series of drives against roads serving Florida.

Atlantic. Consensus suffered sharply dropping 6 1/2 points while the Senate issues were also sold recklessly.
Other roads operating along the Atlantic coast were affected more or less while the general rank and file of rail stocks was affected adversely by the sharp breaks in the roads upon which the attack was concentrated.

Brokers' house wires reported that one of the major developments in Florida was shopping here for additional loans. Other reports were current to the effect that the loans had been secured but both sets of reports lacked confirmation.

Lacking such confirmation, only the actual market results can be accepted as tangible. On one hand it might be argued that the weakness displayed by the rail stocks under attack justified belief in the rumors while on the other it might be argued with reasonable logic that technical weakness in the market position of the rail stocks offered the attraction and that the reports but served to stir the machinery of selling in motion and to unsettle confidence sufficiently to eliminate support which might otherwise have been available.

While the rank and file of industrial stocks suffered in sympathy with the general list there was a strong show of support. Steel rallied well while there was a run of buying in the "generals," General Motors, General Electric, General Motors and General Asphalt all served as rallying points for their individual stock groups and went far to make a two-sized market out of it.

In addition to hints of domestic troubles, the foreign exchanges resisted an abrupt change which might have meant anything. Belgian francs, pegged for the last several months suddenly broke some 10 points. The "peg" was removed in London, and American bankers were apparently in the dark as to the actuating causes of the sharp decline. Inasmuch as the street had confidently expected that negotiations for a loan ranking upwards of $150,000,000 would probably be opened this week this sudden change in the financial barometer excited considerable comment and not a little nervousness.

In some quarters, not banking,
there was a disposition to link up the move in the exchanges with the shifting political base at Geneva. In others it was rumored that the possibility of failure to balance the budget on the part of the Belgians might have been made for a serious hitch. Private credits placed here and abroad by Belgium will mature this month and at that time, if not before, the question of new financing for the kingdom should be forecast to the fore.

It is not entirely illogical to assume that the possibility of a change of Belgian calculations regarding the probable re-valuation basis for the franc. It is generally known that one of the uses for the bond issue of $150,000,000 maximum recently authorized in Belgium was for the revaluation of the franc.

It was accepted that a new basis of about 4.50 was to be expected in view of the extreme steadiness of the Belgian rate at that figure. The rate was virtually pegged there, the peg being held in British hands in London but with the active support of Belgian interests.

What effect the whole crop will have upon other exchanges is a matter for time to develop. It is entirely possible that the Belgians may have decided that it would be more prudent at this time to re-value their franc at a lower basis than originally suggested. Rates of from five to one, to 4.20 for the new franc have been suggested as a result of Monday's break. The five for one ratio would mean five re-valued francs would equal one gold franc, pari-passu. Both the French and Italians have re-valuation programs under advisement although the Italian is such further advanced than the French.

RAILROAD MEN MUM AS TO LATEST DEVELOPMENT IN SOUTH PLAINS EXTENSION, WHILE RUMORS FLY

In the opinion of those close in touch with the developments concerning the application of the Fort Worth & Denver South Plains Railway Company for authority to construct a line from a point near Childress into Lubbock by way of Silverton, there is no need for any of the towns along the line being restless over the apparent inactivity that has marked the time since the close of the hearing at Plainview last July, and it is their guess that the officials of the several companies represented at the Plainview hearing have let slip no opportunity to advance their interests, which are mutually those of the section the Burlington seeks to serve insofar as the activities of the officials of that system are concerned.

It is the consensus of opinion here that obstacles which the Burlington has met in its efforts to secure authority to build the Plains line have compelled some changes in plans which necessitated trading with others interested, and unconfirmed rumors afloat here Saturday that the Burlington had bought the Quanah, Acoma & Pacific occur to the well known plans that were announced at the Plainview hearing.

All these suppositions are nothing more, however, than guesses that have been made with some consideration for the feasibility of extending the Q. A. & P., which would not be the only road involved, for some other line east of Lubbock is believed to have been bought by the Santa Fe in its efforts to have equal footing with the Burlington.

ing its proposed purchase of the Q. A. & P. Denial of these reports or rumors or information showing that these deals have been consummated is awaited by those interested.

At any rate, the long time that has intervened since the Plainview hearing is believed by practical railroad men to be sufficient for the completion of Examiner Boles' report, which he would have doubtless filed long before this time had not "the powers that be" in railroad circles had some hand in the matter, local observers point out.

Locally there is no criticism of Mr. Boles' dilatory action regarding the filing of his report, and whether or not influences from the several railroads represented at Plainview have entered into this delay, it is plain that had the Burlington wanted quicker action from Mr. Boles it would have brought more pressure to bear on that point. There is no questioning the sincerity on the part of the Burlington regarding the expressed eagerness of its officials to run a line to Lubbock and Plainview, but that some changes in what line to pursue are being mapped out is entirely likely.

Officials Silent

The silence encountered by newspaper men in their efforts to get information from railroad men about the situation was characterized by Sup. J. E. Anton, of the Santa Fe, who was here yesterday on business. "When is the Santa Fe going to start work on the line out of Fort City to Fort Worth, a member of the Avalanche force asked Mr. Anton. "That's a fine looking car going there," he replied, pointing to a rather dilapidated Detroit product that chugged by.

It is reported that vagrancy in the United States dropped 52 per cent from wet 1910 to dry 1923.

SWEDEN NOW OFFERS TO QUIT LEAGUE COUNCIL

By United News.

GENEVA, March 15.—Solution of the League of Nations dispute over enlargement of the league council appeared increasingly probable Monday night.

Concession of the two contesting groups seemed to be gaining thru the good offices of two groups, the non-permanent nations of Europe who had offered to resign in the one hand, and the Latin American countries, which may attempt to influence Brazil, on the other.

With the apparent willingness of the disputants to accept the resignations of Sweden and perhaps Czechoslovakia from the league council with the understanding that Poland and one other nation be elected to the vacancies, one serious stumbling block remained before the conciliators. This was the continued assertion of the Brazilian delegate, Mollo Franco, that he must veto Germany's entrance into the council, unless Brazil was given satisfaction.

The move to break the determination of Brazil on this point came during a caucus of Latin-American countries. Previous to the caucus had been suggested that an appeal would be made by the league to the president of Brazil against Brazilian instructions for a veto on Germany's entry into the council.

It was the opinion of the Latin American nations in caucus that they regard the proposed veto of Brazil as a personal question which they presented. The Latin-American nations gave it as their belief however, that the entrance of Germany into the league and council was not only highly desirable for the future of the league, but they further declared the question to be chiefly a European one wherein an American nation was not entitled to intervene for the purpose of preventing such entrance. The nations represented in the Latin-American caucus were Uruguay, Paraguay, Chile, Colombia, Venezuela, Cuba, Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, Guatemala and San Domingo.

The latest attempt toward solution is the best, provided the Swedish government would authorize such a course. Positive word from Stockholm was not forthcoming, but the Swedish delegate, Foreign Minister Unden led league members to believe that his country was willing to sign.

Opposition developed on the part of little entered nations to the resignation of Sweden in favor of Poland. It was proposed that Czechoslovakia would resign to make way for Poland, and that the place made vacant by Sweden would be filled by some other nation, in all probability Holland. Czechoslovakia was reported as ready to resign. Thus the original plan of one resignation was changed to one by which two nations would give up their seats. This latter plan was more satisfactory to the German delegates, as it permitted the entrance into the council not only of Poland, which they considered an ally of France, but another nation as well. Thus the solution as far as Europe is concerned took definite form. Then Mello Franco, of Brazil reiterated his assertion that he would veto Germany's entry into the league council unless Brazil's claims for admission were satisfied and it was understood a move would be started to appeal directly to Rio de Janeiro.

Following the session of the council, Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary said:

"I think the situation is looking more hopeful, but I can not yet hazard an opinion as to the definite solution of the crisis."

German spokesmen appeared willing to work along the lines that Germany should be elected to the council first. This election, if the present plan is carried out, will be followed by the resignations of Czechoslovakia and Eweden, and the election of Poland and probably Holland as non-permanent members of the council.

The German spokesmen pointed out that the double resignation was more satisfactory to Germany than the resignation of Sweden alone, as the substitution of Poland for Eweden would make the German's position in the league worse than if Poland were seated without any resignation. The meeting of the assembly scheduled for Tuesday was postponed until Wednesday in the desire to await word from Stockholm and Prague regarding their resignations.

In the evening the resignations are assured the meeting Wednesday will arrange the official procedure and will then elect Germany to the league and a permanent seat on the council.

Texas Farmers Drop Cotton
Gainesville, Texas—Col. Clarence Ousley, director of the Texas Safe Farming Association, urges farmers to revolt against cotton by planting sufficient acreage in food and feed crops.

Ponder this precious assertion by Selma Lagerloff, famous writer: "If we never cease to love those whom we love, we can never lose those whom we thus love."

SOUTH PLAINS PEOPLE WILL CELEBRATE BARRIER BROTHERS' DEPARTMENT STORE NINTH ANNIVERSARY

Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock the doors at Barrier Brothers department store will swing open for celebration of the Ninth Anniversary Sale when the people of the large Lubbock trade territory will have occasion to celebrate with the management the steady growth that has been made by that institution, and to give them a better conception of the bigness to which that institution has grown.

One hundred and fifty five thousand dollars' worth of stock, together with large and expensive shipments of new merchandise that will arrive daily throughout the sale, will be effected with material reductions throughout the celebration that will last over a period of 16 days.

Every department in the large store, which during the last year was enlarged to occupy all of the building owned by Barrier Brothers, including two floors and a balcony floor, will be reached by reductions, in fact there will be no "regular selling" price on any of the stock in the big store during the celebration.

Since the opening of their first store in Lubbock nine years ago Barrier Brothers have pursued a progressive policy with regard to the management of their business and the expansion of the territory served by Lubbock. That they have been responsible in a large measure for the development of Lubbock's reputation as being leader among the retail centers of West Texas is realized by those who have watched the workings of their organization, and when the anniversary celebration crowds have assembled at the store there will be among those attending old friends of the store who remember the formal opening of the store nine years ago and who since that time they have depended in a large way on the stocks of that institution to supply their dry goods needs.

Much Help Employed
Fifty sales people have been employed to assist the old members of the sales organization in looking after the patrons during the Ninth Anniversary Sale, all of whom have had experience in this work and who have been given special training during the past several days to better equip them in protecting the interest of the patrons who will visit the store during the celebration.

It has been for a long time the policy of the management of the store to conduct regular semi-monthly round-table sales organization meetings, and the effectiveness and value of these meetings have been so conspicuous that during this selling event these meetings will be held twice daily, immediately preceding the opening of the store at 9:30 o'clock a. m., and following the closing of the store at 5:30 o'clock p. m.

Free Auction Sale
Seldom is it the case that an auctioneer offers for sale articles for which no charge will be made, but this will be the case at 2 o'clock each afternoon at Barrier Brothers' Store, beginning Monday after the sale opens. A member of these sales organization will offer various articles for sale when the patrons will be asked to make their bids, and the one bidding highest will receive the article free of charge.

Free Auction money will be given with all purchases made from the opening of the sale until its close, and it is with this money that you bid and pay in this unique sale.

MANY CARLOADS OF TREES, SHRUBS AND FLOWERS BEING PLANTED ON CAMPUS OF TEXAS TECH; SPANISH SPECIMENS USED

Working with an appropriation of trees that has just been received is five thousand dollars that was set aside for exclusive use in the beautification of the campus of the Texas Technological College, Dean A. H. Leidigh, of the school of agriculture, and M. A. Mahoney, professor of horticulture, are making splendid progress in their program.

Already 326 baled evergreens have been planted about the campus and these are being given every attention to insure development of a maximum number of the plants.

The most remarkable work done in the furtherance of the program today was the transplanting of two Chinese Elm trees about 10 inches in diameter and 30 feet high, on the lawn of the home of President Paul W. Horn. These trees were taken from the Agricultural Experiment Station, east of Lubbock, and are at this time in excellent condition.

Bordering the campus and lining the driveway from Broadway to the college buildings, 458 small Chinese Elm trees, about eight feet in height, have been set out.

Lubbock County has co-operated with the college authorities in the beautification campaign by setting out along the east side of College Avenue 160 Chinese Elms matching those on the college side of the Avenue and lending uniformity to the street that could not be effected in any other way.

From the demonstration building to the engineering building, double avenues of Catalpa trees, in which 125 large plants have been used, have been set out, while around the various college buildings 163 flowering shrubs, including Spirea, Althea, Crapemyrtle, have been planted.

One hundred Red Cedars, five to six feet tall, have been the first of a number of trees that will form an arboretum between the Administration building and College Avenue. Work of unloading a mixed car of evergreens, shrubs and deciduous

Oldest Man Now Up to Date

An example of how Kemal Pasha is modernizing Turkey is evident in the appearance of Zaza Ago, oldest human being in the world. He is dressed out in modern clothes. Zaza is between 145 and 150 years of age.

In a debate participated in by members of the National Council of Jewish Women, held recently in Oakland, California, on the question of modification of the prohibition law, one of the speakers is reported to have said: "There is no hope whatever of a beer and wine amendment. Not only is public opinion against it, but this opinion tends to become stronger. A beer and wine amendment would make things worse."

Jane Addams says, "As for women drinking, there is not one little bit more of drinking among women at present than there was before prohibition." In regard to the modern girl she says, "As for all of this talk about immorality, there is nothing to it."

FATHER OF LOCAL STATE SENDS OUT MAN BURIED AT SHERMAN PAYMENT TO SCHOOL

TREATMENT OF INDIAN IS AMERICAN TRAGEDY—SAYS LONDON SCHOLAR

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 15.—"The greatest tragedy I have seen on my visit to America is the slow efforts of the people of the United States to force Indians into religion, education and citizenship," said Capt. J. R. C. Robinson, of London, world war hero and scholar here making a study of the American Indian.

"Indians in their native habits are much happier and much better satisfied," he said, "in removing them from their native element the primitive spirit of the Indians is being destroyed."

Captain Robinson believes that Indians of America, like those of the East, only seek religion because there is the offer of something in it. He says only the weaker Indians become Christianized and educated.

AUSTIN, Mar. 15.—The State department is today sending out state treasury warrants for five dollars per capita as a payment on the school apportionment for the year 1925-1926. This makes a total of ten dollars paid to this date. Of the remaining four dollars, two dollars will be paid on April 10 and the remaining two dollars by the first of August.

This large payment at this time has been made possible through the courtesy of Comptroller Terrell and State Treasurer Hatcher who, at request of the Superintendent of schools, made a special transfer of three million dollars on this date, in order that this payment may be made prior to the first of April.

The county administration and the school boards of independent districts are urged to make final payment of all transfer indebtedness out of this apportionment, as the schools to which such transfers are made need the funds for the payment of teachers' salaries. The boards of trustees of independent districts are urged to make final settlement for the assessment for county administration out of this payment.

A decided stand in opposition to attempts to repeal the Volstead Act was taken by the executive committee of the California State Federation of Women's Clubs, in recent session, according to the Union Signal. The resolution adopted said in part: "We regret any utterance or activity which tends to weaken the immediate enforcement of the Volstead Act or jeopardize its future."

DOUGHNUTS
your sons will fondly remember

I don't know why almost every man recalls his mother's cooking by the doughnuts she used to make—but he does. Doughnuts seem to be one sure way to the heart of every boy from six to sixty.

Here are three of my favorite recipes for doughnuts about which your sons will tell their sons with fond recollection. Deep fried in Crisco they are rich, yet digestible—never a bit greasy.

Doughnuts

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar 2 teaspoons baking powder
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk 1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 egg $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon clove
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon mace
2 cups flour $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt

Cream sugar and Crisco together. Add well beaten egg and milk and mix well. Mix and sift flour, baking powder, cinnamon, clove, mace and salt. Add to the first mixture and mix thoroughly. Turn out on slightly floured board and roll to $\frac{1}{2}$ inch thickness. Cut with a doughnut cutter and fry in deep hot Crisco (340 to 375 degrees F.) until a delicate brown. Drain on unglazed paper. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar before serving.

This recipe makes 24 doughnuts.

Raised Doughnuts

$\frac{3}{4}$ cup sugar 1 yeast cake
3 tablespoons 2 tablespoons lukewarm water
1 teaspoon salt 5 cups flour
1 cup scalded milk 2 eggs
1 teaspoon nutmeg

Add sugar, Crisco and salt to the scalded milk. When lukewarm add the yeast cake.

[All measurements level]

mixed with warm water. Add enough flour to make a sponge (about 2 cups). Set in a warm place to rise. When light add well beaten eggs, nutmeg and enough flour to make a soft dough. Cover and let rise until double in bulk. Knead until free from large air bubbles.

Roll out on a slightly floured board to $\frac{1}{2}$ inch thickness. Cut with a doughnut cutter, cover and set in a warm place to rise again until double in bulk. Pat them top side down in the deep hot Crisco (340 to 375 degrees F.). Fry on one side, turn and fry on the other side. When a delicate brown remove from fat and drain on unglazed paper. Just before serving sprinkle with confectioners' sugar.

This recipe makes 30 doughnuts.

Jelly Doughnuts

Follow recipe for Raised Doughnuts. After the second rising, roll out on a slightly floured board to $\frac{1}{2}$ inch thickness. Cut with a doughnut cutter. Put one teaspoon currant jelly in the center of one round, moisten edges with water and place another round on top. Press edges lightly together. Cover and set in a warm place to rise until double in bulk. Fry in the same way as Raised Doughnuts.

This recipe makes 24 doughnuts.

COOKERY BETTER THAN COQUETRY, CHICAGO WIDOWERS DECLARE, BUT WIDOWS DEFEND FEMININE WILES

By United News.
CHICAGO, March 15.—"This," said Mrs. Nora Kabaugh as she lifted the hem of her skirt enough to expose a pretty pink garter, "is far more alluring than lemon pie."

A row of applause swept through the audience. For a time it appeared that Mrs. Kabaugh, who is 60, but wears hood hair, rouge and short skirts, had won the argument.

Then old Sam Kosterman submitted his side of the case by painting a word picture of daintily turned steaks, pies, cakes and broiled fowl. Everybody's mouth began to water and another row of applause rolled through the crowd.

So neither side won the argument and the question of the way to a man's heart is still very much undecided.

The debate took place at the widows' and widowers' rose garden club with the widows deciding in behalf of sex appeal and the widowers supporting the old adage that the way to a man's heart through his stomach.

As it was formally placed before the meeting the question read like this:

"Resolved, that sex appeal has domesticity hanging on the ropes in the first round. The widows take the affirmative, the widowers the negative."

It was a right warm meeting, Mrs. Kabaugh styled herself "the flapper grandmother."

"This is the age of flaming youth," she said. "Sex appeal is everything. Without it there would be no attraction between men and women. The smart woman uses it. She paints and pets. I know, I've been through the mill. Men like women for what they are, not what they can do, how they can cook and so forth."

Then she flashed her garter. No one ever knew whether she blushed as she did this because she wore so much rouge. But several of the widowers seemed to think it wasn't quite proper. Half a dozen of them in the front row became deep crimson.

Sam Kosterman had his argument written down and tried to get one of the other boys to read it. This gave rise to reports that perhaps it contained something Sam didn't want to say. Finally, however, he read it himself.

"I've been a widower several times," Sam began. "I know what was wrong with my wives, all four of them. They simply couldn't cook. It's a good meal in his hands that a man wants. And a woman, too, for that matter. Have a date with one of these gals in the club and you'll see. The first thing they want is something to eat. Let a man or a woman get hungry and see how quick sex appeal passes off the scene."

Then Sam swung into a description of delicious viands. The talk lasted for more than an hour, resulting in the biggest attendance of the year at the club's weekly meeting and brought in a score of new members. But it didn't settle the argument.

RADIO SLANDER NEW FIND OF CRIME CAPITAL

CHICAGO, March 15.—A new crime was born in Chicago when State's Attorney E. Crowe had Philip Friedlander arrested for "radio slander."

Friedlander, announcer at station WBBM, is alleged to have broadcast the announcement that Crowe was taking a ringside seat in a cabaret for "a night life session."

The fiery prosecutor says he will demand a grand jury investigation of Friedlander's conduct and he may petition the department of commerce to have WBBM's license revoked. The station is a telephone hookup operated through the north side realty company.

Crowe says he was sitting in his home with his wife and four children when the startling announcement came in over his radio set.

"The animosity behind the attack is obvious," said Crowe. "Several officials of the realty company are under arrest for assaulting Mrs. Irene Sauri."

Mrs. Ivy Jane Wymore and Miss Grace Hazen are physicians in the government radio research laboratory in Washington.

Miss Gladys Dodsworth of London won first honors as an accountant in an examination against 228 male competitors.

FANNING WITH FARRELL

By HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK, March 15.—When Bill Tilden was defeated by Jean Borotra and Rene Lacoste, the young French stars, in the recent indoor games here, the mourner's bench ordered a shroud and chanted in chorus—"There goes another great champion."

Farrell, a little early to write the tennis obituary of Bill Tilden. Like all other athletes the day must come when he will have to retire or be beaten by a younger and more durable player but that day is not within a few sheets of the calendar. Human judgment is not infallible as was shown a week or so ago when Harry Greb, the world's middleweight champion, was succeeded by Tiger Flowers, the deacon of a negro Methodist church.

Greb, although his mode of living had warned that he would reach the end of his career before his natural time, was considered as a sure champion for another year but the end came sooner than was anticipated.

Tilden is a Broadway character but he does not follow the path that Greb did. Tilden does his stuff behind the footlights and Greb did his in front of them, but the wear and tear on the constitution is almost the same.

Tilden's strong physical powers were his greatest assets in two terrific matches against little Bill Johnston, the frail Californian, and his endurance as much as his marvelous tennis enabled him to save the international team championship for the United States in the recent match against France when he beat Borotra in a match that lasted almost three hours.

The world's champion had said before the indoor championships that the glare of the footlights had impaired his vision and his intimate friends knew that he was worried over the failure of a show in which he had invested nearly all his money.

Tilden was off his game when he was defeated by Borotra and Lacoste but Borotra said—"That was not the real Tilden. He'll beat me when he has to do it."

The Frenchman was right. When the prestige of the United States depended upon him in the deciding match of the international tournament, Tilden had to win and he won by exhibiting some of the most brilliant tennis that ever has been seen on any court.

"Shucks, what does this indoor thing amount to," Tilden remarked after he had been eliminated for the first time in six years in a national tournament. But when he was called upon to defend the national colors, he did it.

Tilden is not through. He likes the outdoor game better than board games and when the national tennis championship and the Davis-Cup challenge round come next summer the big champion will be worth all the money you can afford to wager.

SWIMMING

By CLARK B. KELSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CINCINNATI, O., March 15.—Just 18 years old, Walter Laufer, Cincinnati, threatens to cannonade into fame as one of the most successful "trust-busters" by smashing the world's records held by Johnny Weissmuller swimming trust.

Already Laufer has invaded the champion's field, lowering the Illinois Athletic Club superfish's marks for the 150 yard back stroke event, curving 1-5 of a second off the old time to find the distance in 1:41 2-5. He then snipped 2-5 of a second from Weiss' 200 yard free style swim record by negotiating the distance in 2:02.

Followers of swimming look for Laufer to ascend the throne addi-tioned by King Neptune when Weissmuller forced the merger of all records in his own name.

In the national outdoor championships at Seattle last August he added lustre to his scales and electrified the onlookers by lowering the world's one-door 220 yard backstroke record by nine full seconds.

In dual matches he has forced Weissmuller to set new records to defeat him.

The record price paid for the privilege of drilling for oil was $1,990,000 for 100 acres of Oange Indian land in Oklahoma, besides one-sixth of all oil produced.

Milton did not live in poverty as is often stated. He lived in financial ease on the profits of large real estate transactions conducted by his father and himself.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL REVIEW

Texarkana—The Chamber of Commerce, and the Rotary, Kiwanis, and Lions Clubs of this city will hold a joint meeting March 16 to be addressed by Martin J. Insull, president of the Middle West Utilities Company.

Victoria—Following completion of the big power plant at Victoria the Texas Central Power Company will hurry construction of the electric transmission line which is to connect Gonzalez, Cuero and other communities. The work is to be finished about April 1.

Childress—The new power plant of the Texas Central Power Company here has been completed. Service is supplied from this plant to five other towns in this section.

San Antonio—The first unit of the Comal Power Company's new plant at New Braunfels will be completed this year with capacity of 30,000 kilowatts. The plant is designed to have a maximum capacity of 120,000 kilowatts.

Marshall—The 1926 building program of the East Texas Public Service Company includes 125 miles of high tension transmission line. The whole program will involve investment of more than a quarter of a million dollars, according to the company management.

Winona—This town is now receiving electric service 24 hours a day from the lines of the East Texas Public Service Company.

El Paso—Construction of the electric transmission line of the El Paso Electric Company between this city and points in Hudspeth County is nearing completion.

Mission—The Valley Electric and Ice Company has started operation of its first two large irrigation pumping units in the Rio Grande Valley. It is expected that eventually more than seventy large pumps will be electrically driven in the irrigation work of the valley.

Truscott—The electric transmission line of the West Texas Utilities Company has been extended from Benjamin to this city.

Houston—Natural gas from the mains of the Houston Pipe Line Company has been made available at the deepwater plant of the Houston Lighting and Power Company for fuel. This company will soon be using eight million cubic feet of natural gas a day as fuel.

Vernon—A five story modern hotel of 100 rooms will be constructed here by Col. E. O. Thompson of Amarillo. The Vernon Chamber of Commerce supplied a building site as a bonus for the hotel. Cost of the structure will be $200,000.

Breckenridge—E. O. Goodwin for the past two years secretary of the local chamber of commerce has accepted the secretaryship of the Board of City Development at Amarillo at a salary of $5000 per year.

Silverton—Few Texans are aware of the scenic wonders of Schott's Cap near here. At this point the Cap Rock crops out in a manner as soon as you leave. Canyons seven hundred feet deep, mountain peaks and mountain scenery unsurpassed anywhere from a wonderful vista. Plans to give publicity to this wonderful Texas scenery and to improve high ways leading to the natural wonders are now being worked out.

Amarillo—Steering committee for the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held here in June have been appointed. Manager Porter A. Whaley and Assistant Homer D. Wade were here recently and held conferences with the local committees. Attendance of not less than forty thousand was predicted by the officials.

Littlefield—Announcement of the candidacy of Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield for the post of president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been made by his friends. Mr. Duggan has accepted their nomination of him for the place, and has formally announced.

Wichita Falls—A pipe line from this city to the oil field of the Texas Panhandle is assured. This line will greatly increase operations in northern fields.

Jacksboro—Construction of the beautiful highway system of Jack county is going forward rapidly. The county will have paved highways crossing it both directions and the highways will be of high type and perfect engineering. The Jacksboro Chamber of Commerce under the direction of J. Allen Loftin new secretary has taken on new life and a constructive program of city development has been mapped.

JAY E. GAY'S HUMOR

A lady went down town the other morning to buy a spool of thread to match a piece of cloth she carried over from pre-war days. She kept 26 clerks busy 30 minutes in 22 stores, and then raked out the merchants because they didn't carry a complete stock.

But merchants say that women are easier to please now than they used to be. Some women buy shoes these days and they don't go back and exchange them but five or six times.

EYES TESTED, glasses fitted, lenses ground. 1015 Broadway

before they become fairly well satisfied.

I sold shoes once. When a lady called for a number I took a lady's size of her foot and got down a five and sent her away rejoicing. Funny thing, ain't it, that all women crave small shoes... even tho their feet be large.

And then their dear spots, when they use to come into the store wanting to buy a pair of shoes, all picked up with bladders of shame and embarrassment and put off the evil moment to ask for it until nobody could hear or see her husky engaged.

But its different now. They don't wear corsets, but they wear other things just as private. They feel into the store and call for 'em in plain English and if they are not of the latest design and done in fancy silk you get balled out for carrying junk.

However, statistics say that one girl (today) out of every 500 knows how to cook a meal that two out of 425 can patch and three out of 742 can darn and 999 out of 1,000 know how to spread on the paint and touch those ruby lips up with lipstick.

And boys ain't boys no longer. They perambulate down the street bareheaded with bristles for hair, enough for laundry bags, with their socks hanging down over their shippers and their shirt tails out. They don't know any more about making a living than Aristotle knew about the chimney and the Charleston.

I understand from good authority that the owners of the Avalanche are threatening to take a pay of scissors and cut out any column in every issue going to a subscriber who is in arrears. That would certainly ruin the paper, so you fellows will have to pay up or you'll be taking a piece of stick until the shopkeeper be worth reading.

I ate dinner at a restaurant downtown today. I ordered a 4-bone steak, and found a cackle-burr in it. I then recalled that Mike Clark, who sold beef to that restaurant.

I did not know that the human race was possessed of so many different shaped knees until the recent style dresses became common.

Crown Prince and Princess to Tour U. S. Next Summer

By OLE CAVLING
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
STOCKHOLM, (United Press)

Crown Prince and Crown Princess of Sweden leave Stockholm on the 18th of May in the Swedish passenger liner Gripsholm for a two month's visit to the United States.

They are following an invitation to be present at the unveiling of the John Ericsson monument in Washington on the 29th of June and wish to use this opportunity to visit different parts of the country.

Both of them look forward to the journey in the States with the keenest interest. They have never before visited North America and appreciate greatly the possibility now offered them to make acquaintance with the land and people which is playing an ever greater part in the world and where so many Swedes have found a second home.

On the 29th day of May the Ericsson monument, a statue placed in the Potomac Park near the Lincoln monument, will be solemnly unveiled by the president with the Crown Prince and Crown Princess as chief guests.

From Washington, where the president will entertain them, their Royal Highness will return to New York for a few days stay and on visits to Philadelphia and Edison, and then they will start for a tour in motor car through the Eastern States—visiting West Point, New Haven, Yale, Newport, Worcester and Boston. From there they continue to Niagara, make a tour to Detroit, go to Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Their itinerary then takes them to Yellowstone Park, Phelps Lake, Rock Springs, Salt Lake City, Cedar Canyon, Zion National Park, Grand Canyon, Los Angeles and Sequoia National Park. Towards the end of July the Crown Prince and Crown Princess will arrive in San Francisco, from where they will leave for home by way to Japan, China and India.

The Crown Prince is now 44 years of age. He first married in 1905, Princess Margaretha of Connaught, cousin of the present King of England. After her death in 1920 he married the present Crown Princess, Louise, princess of Battenberg, also a cousin of George, in 1923.

Surprises Will Be Given at Meeting of Methodist Men

At 7:30 o'clock this evening at the basement of the First Methodist church will meet for a program that has been designed to offer the most possible entertainment and to create a better spirit of fellowship among them.

Parts of the program have not been announced and will be a surprise to all who attend excepting of course the participants. It was stated yesterday.

A large number of tickets have been sold and so keen has been the interest in the meeting that a majority of the male members of the church are expected.

Rev. E. E. White, who went to Amarillo yesterday to teach a class tonight in the Standard Training School for Sunday school and church workers, will return to Lubbock today to be in attendance at the meeting.

Dr. Paul W. Horn, teacher of the young men's Bible class Supr. James L. Dow of the Sunday school and numerous others of the gang of "older boys" at the church have promised to be in attendance and to show the youngest members of the congregation that they can enjoy such program as will be rendered to the fullest extent.

John Stroup of Atlanta is 108 years old and can prove it by the records. In his young days he never drank whisky, but says he bathed his feet in it and found it invigorating, liquor being plentiful and cheap in those days. Prohib and anti may construe Stroup's experience as best suits them.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

Strange Accidents Follow Destruction Javanese Holy Tree

SEMARANG Java, (United Press)—Superstitious Javanese have had a new proof of the power of the spirit which dwells in the Holy Waringen Tree, as result of the cutting down of one of the trees by servants of a European here.

The Waringen is a great, heavy trunked tree common through Java and the natives worship the spirit which dwells in and will not cut down or mutilate one for fear of death.

A European resident named Rees here, however, had no such superstitions and ordered two of his servants to chop down one of the trees which was weakening the foundations of his house as it put forth new roots. After many threats the servants finally felled the tree.

That night the rees house collapsed killing the European and wounding two others. Next day the two servants who had cut down the tree died mysteriously, despite the fact the yhad placed offerings of rice and fish before all the Waringen trees in the neighborhood in an effort to propitiate the angered god.

In another instance a European ordered a native up a tree to cut off an unsightly limb. The limb fell on the European's head and he was killed, while the man who had cut it from the trunk of the tree fell and suffered a broken leg.

In an official statement issued by the executive committee, the Episcopal women's Association of oston, has completely repudiated the stand of Dr. Empringham, of the Church Temperance Society. The Association vigorously upholds prohibition and condemns modification of the law or any step toward the return of the saloon.

Let's hear a little less about the revolt of youth, "flaming kids," etc. According to the Census bureau, the commitments to prison of persons under 18 years of age declined 43 per cent, not taking population into consideration, between 1910 and 1923. There was a substantial decrease in every age.

CONFERENCE LAY LEADER TO MEETINGS AT SHERMAN AND ABILENE

J. H. Moore, conference lay leader of the Northwest Texas Conference, Methodist church, will leave today for Haskell to be in attendance at a district lay meeting Thursday.

From Haskell Mr. Moore will go to Abilene to attend a similar meeting, and is scheduled to speak at each of the two places.
