Petitions Being Circulated For Dec. 4 Ballot

Critical Need For New Buildings Is Told By Leaders

Petitions calling for a school bond election, seeking issuance of $1,250,000 in bonds to ease crowded conditions in the Lubbock Independent School district, were being circulated today.

Plans are to hold the voting on Saturday, December 4.

Between 30 and 40 men and women — business, professional, civic and study club leaders—met at Hotel Hilton at 10 o'clock this morning to discuss the bond issue and its needs and members of the group were unanimous in supporting it.

The meeting, called by President Clyde G. Tatum, of the school board, heard School Supt. R. W. Matthews, Tatum and Trustee William H. Evans in explanations of new building needs and of the school board's plans to attempt to keep the schools in step with the growth of the city and environs.

Three Buildings Needed "Now"

Evans, Matthews and Tatum, who presided over the informal gathering in the hotel's Chimayo Room, traced the growth of the school system in recent years and told their listeners that "the schools need three new ward buildings this very day, and only through passage of a bond issue can they be gotten by the opening of the Fall term in 1950."

The three ward schools most desperately needed at the moment, they agreed, should be located on East Broadway, where a temporary building already is over-run; somewhere in the western sector of the north environs of Lubbock; and in Carver Heights, the negro section.

The school board disclosed plans to add to present temporary facilities to take care of the student load of the 1949-50 school, term, but warned that "we haven't even been able to get temporary facilities as yet." Such temporary structures, however, can be "almost kept on wheels" to be set up where needed as permanent structures are built, Evans and Matthews pointed out.

Bankers Approve Bonds

Walter S. Posey and C. E. Maedgen, sr., bank presidents and former school board members, told the group that "if the people are informed, they will vote for the

Thieves Steal Clothing Here

Police today were asked to investigate two thefts of clothing valued at $181.

Velma Key of 2108 Ave. U said a long list of clothing was taken from her residence.

J. M. Mecklin of Dallas reported $81 in clothing stolen from his car parked in 1000-block Main.

Mexican Is Held

Police said this morning they were holding Eliseo Padilla, 35, a Lubbock Mexican, for Big Spring authorities who had broadcast a pickup order, qualifying their investigation by saying he was wanted for questioning into assault with intent to murder.

No further details had been received by police.

Trouble Over Woman

Padilla, the district attorney's office said, had been charged with murder in connection with the Sept. 17, 1947, fatal shooting at a Mexican fiesta here of Moren G. Bitela, but was not indicted by a July term, 1947, grand jury of the 99th district court. Testimony, it was brought out by investigators, disclosed that Bitela had fired at Padilla first. The trouble, they said, was over a woman.

Police arrested the man in a small hotel after locating his car on a Lubbock street soon after picking up a broadcast from Big Spring relayed over the San Angelo police radio.

Cool Front Hits Plains

Sharp Dip In Mercury Due During Night

Temperatures Over Panhandle Likely To Hit Freezing

A cool mass of air from the Pacific went over Lubbock about 12:35 o'clock this afternoon and the temperature began dropping.

From a 12:30 reading of 70 degrees, temperature dropped to 63 degrees by 1:15 p. m. Wind had shifted from the northwest to the north.

A sand storm preceded arrival of the cold front in Lubbock vicinity. Visibility was cut to two miles at 10:28 o'clock this morning, but little sand was blowing and visibility was about 10 miles at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Freezing Is Possible

A slow drop in temperature is expected during the afternoon and night, going to a low of probably the middle to upper 30's Friday morning, the U. S. Weather bureau station near Lubbock reported. Temperature possibly will go to the freezing mark Saturday morning, the station reported.

The cool front, which had moved over the Rockies, passed over the Panhandle this morning, Amarillo's temperature was 51 degrees at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon, less than the 5:30 a. m. temperature of 56 degrees.

The United Press reported that minimum temperatures in the Panhandle tonight were expected to drop as low as the freezing mark in some spots, ranging up to 36 degrees in others.

Warnings Are Hoisted

The U. S. Weather bureau ordered small craft warning hoisted along the Gulf from Brownsville to Morgan City, La., the United Press reported.

Southerly winds from 25 to 35 miles an hour lashing the waters of the Gulf were expected to shift to northerly tonight, after the cool front has moved across the state.

The weather bureau explained the shifting weather, pointing to an intense low pressure area now centered in northern Oklahoma and moving across the central belt

Guard Hurt In Jail Break Death Victim

BUFFALO, Nov. 4 (AP)—A jail guard died today after he had been slugged with a broken mop handle by one of five prisoners who escaped. All the fugitives have been captured.

Joseph Wachowiak, 45, died in emergency hospital of a head injury.

Sheriff Arthur D. Britt said the guard was knocked unconscious and locked in a cell last night when the prisoners broke out of Erie county jail in downtown Buffalo.

GOP Candidate Wins Washington Election

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 4. (UP)—Gov. Mon C. Wallgren, close personal friend of President Truman, today conceded Washington's gubernatorial election to Republican Arthur B. Langlie.

Wallgren concede at 10 a. m. when late returns from Tuesday's voting indicated that Langlie, a former governor, would win by about 20,000 votes.

Man And Wife Lose Lives In Fire After Family Quarrel

(By The United Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 4—A Kansas City couple lost their lives in a fire in their front room of a southside rooming house here early today, shortly after police had been notified that they were arguing and "disturbing the peace."

The victims were identified as Chester A. Walters, about 63, and his wife, Mary, about 54.

Firemen found their charred bodies near a hall door. They were clasped in each other's arms, firemen said.

Robert Wadley, police dispatcher, said he received a call from a woman, who complained of the couple's arguing. As she was reporting the incident, Wadley said, she suddenly screamed: "My heavens, they've set the house on fire."

Michael Rafiel, a roomer in the same rooming house, reported to police that he heard the couple enter the house shortly after 1 o'clock. They were arguing, he said.

A short time later, Rafiel noticed smoke and went to MacDILL AIR FORCE BASE, Fla., Nov. 4.—An Air Force B-29 homeward bound from England crashed in the Azores late yesterday, killing 18 of the 20 crewmen and passengers aboard, Air Force officers disclosed here today.

One crewman was missing and another was injured critically.

The big bomber faltered and crashed into the sea a few seconds after taking off in early darkness from Lageen Air Force base in the Azores at 6 p. m. last night, according to word received here.

Partial List Revealed

MacDill has issued the following partial list of casualties:

Dead:

M/Sgt. Robert C. Wise, S/Sgt. William D. Branch, S/Sgt. Albert J. Snead, M/Sgt. J. E. Carriker, S/Sgt. William P. Stubblefield, S/Sgt. Raymond J. Chaplin, M/Sgt. Franklin E. Albright, 1st Lieut. William Jacobs and 1st Lieut. Leonard Post, pilot, all living at the base here or in Tampa.

S/Sgt. Henry B. Anderson, MacDill field, suffered "major injuries."

Other names will be released when next of kin have been notified.

The B-29 was one of 29 bombers from MacDill that flew to England three and a half months ago for maneuvers over Europe and in cooperation with the Royal Air Force. Twelve already have returned to MacDill.

Another Forced Down

MacDill said another bomber of the same flight was forced down in Bermuda early today by engine trouble. There was no damage to the plane or injury to its crew.

The bomber that crashed had halted briefly at Lageen field on its homeward flight. It took off in darkness and a light rain but crashed into the sea 500 yards off the Azores shore a minute later.

MacDill officers said they had no information as to the cause of the accident but an investigating board of flying officers already had started an inquiry on the scene.

LONG TRIAL OF TOJO NEARS END

Japs Found Guilty Of Provoking War

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Nov. 4—Japan today was convicted of waging aggressive wars against China, Russia, Britain, the United States and other western powers.

The conviction by the international military tribunal for the Far East came in the long trial of former Premier Hideki Tojo and 24 co-defendants on war crimes charges. They looked sleepy as reading of the judgment began.

The court narrowed down the issue to these questions: was Japan guilty of waging aggressive war in violation of international treaties? Were the 25 defendants responsible for making and carrying out these policies? Were the defendants responsible for crimes against humanity and violations of the laws of war?

Provoked War In 1931

Militarists and their supporters, the court held, seized control of Japan's government. They, the tribunal found, provoked war through the Manchurian conquest of 1931 and, the full scale war against China that began on July 7, 1937.

Earlier the tribunal cleared the 25 defendants of 38 of the 55 counts in their war crimes indictment. This, however, was only a means of expediting the trial and eliminating duplications of the charges, the court said.

The court found Japan began preparations for war against China, Russia, Britain, the United States and other western powers in the early 1930s.

Jap Army Blamed

The Japanese army was blamed for fomenting the Mukden incident in 1931. The war with China, it said, was a direct result of the foreign policy adopted in 1936 when the defendant Koki Hirota

Stock Market Slump Lifted

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—A fast rebound lifted the stock market today after yesterday's election slump.

Key stocks advanced a few cents to $2 or so a share. Blocks of 1,000 or more shares sold frequently.

Despite the gains, though, the price level was still substantially below Monday's pre-election figures.

Support Attracted

Among a wide variety of issues which attracted support were U. S. Steel, Inland Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodrich, International Harvester, Distillers Corp., Commonwealth & Southern, Radio Corp., Owens-Illinois Glass, Santa Fe, Standard Oil (NJ), and Eastern Air Lines.

Yesterday's crack-up in prices stirred up interest in the market all over the country. Buying orders today came from the public as well as the Wall street trader.

Steels Higher

U. S. Steel Corp. opened 50 cents a share higher at $79.75 on transfer of 1,500 shares. Bethlehem Steel advanced 37 cents to

Stunt At Texas U. Threatens To Embroil Prexy And WCTU

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 4—A college stunt designed to swell the coffers of the University of Texas campus chest threatened today to embroil the school's president and dean of women in a controversy with the Women's Christian Temperance union.

The W. C. T. U. was scheduled to meet today to pass a resolution condemning the action of President T. S. Painter and Miss Dorothy Gebauer, the school's dean of women, for appearing at a downtown tavern Tuesday night.

The stunt was in conjunction with the current campus chest drive, with proceeds going to the fund. Services of leading university personalities were "auctioned off."

Painter drew the assignment of going to a downtown tavern with Miss Gebauer. He was to act as chauffeur for a student couple as part of the stunt.

The calls began pouring in yesterday, most of them term-

Action Indicated On Building Amendment

DALLAS, Nov. 4. (AP)—A Dallas attorney predicted today action "within the next week or 10 days" on a motion for rehearing of the case against the college building amendment, approved in a special election Aug. 23, 1947.

The motion was filed Wednesday with the Court of Civil appeals in Austin, R. Guy Carter, Dallas attorney, said.

Carter represents a group of West Texans who are contesting the amendment on behalf of Texas Technological college in Lubbock. They asked that the court review again the case in which it sustained the amendment's validity on Oct. 20.

The Texas Tech supporters contend the building amendment is unfair to the West Texas college.

Oklahoma Night Club Fire Fatal To Owner

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 4. (UP)—Fire destroyed the Golden Dawn night club at dawn today, and four hours later the body of the owner, Mrs. Alice Boykin, was found in the smouldering ruins.

Mrs. Boykin was the divorced wife of "Chief Jim" Boykin, now serving time at McAlester for a stabbing at the club 10 years ago. She was about 50.

The fire broke out about 6 a. m., two hours after the often-noisy night spot just west of the city had closed. Mrs. Boykin lived in an apartment adjoining the barroom.

Cabinet Posts May Be Given Four New Men

Tobin And Brannan Certain To Remain On Democrat Ship

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—President Truman may begin his first elected term in the White House with four new faces among his nine cabinet advisers, associates said today.

Sources close to the White House said that among those missing from the new cabinet probably will be Secretary of State George C. Marshall, Defense Secretary James Forrestal, Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug, and Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer.

Reasons for their expected replacement range from personal desire to presidential displeasure with those who paid scant attention to his campaign.

No Final Decision

Mr. Truman is said to have made no final decisions as yet on whom he will put in their places But his opportunity will come sometime before inauguration day Jan. 20. It is traditional for cabinet members to submit their resignations prior to that date to give the President a freer hand in making his plans.

Certain to remain aboard the White House ship, intimates say, are Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin and Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan. Both campaigned mightily in Mr. Truman's behalf. In addition, Tobin passed up a good chance to become governor of Massachusetts when he agreed to take over the labor post during the darkest days of the political campaign. His sacrifice is not expected to be unrewarded.

Snyder Expected To Stay

Secretary of Treasury John W. Snyder, an old friend of the President, is expected to stay on, for awhile at least. He and his family contributed $8,000 to the election campaign.

Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson looks good to presidential intimates, too. A career man in the department, his appointment was seen as an indication that Mr. Truman meant to take post office activities out of the "political plum" division. There is no evidence that he has since changed his mind about it.

Three Clergymen In Plane Are Missing

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 4. (AP)—Civil Aeronautics administration officials said today a private plane with three persons aboard is unreported after leaving Cody, Wyo., yesterday morning.

The CAA said the plane carried three clergymen, their names unknown. The plane had the words "Voice of the Woods" painted in red letters on its wings.

CAA authorities said the plane listed Boise, Idaho, as its destination, with Pocatello, Idaho, as a possible intermediate stop.

Discovery Of Body Starts Police Hunt

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 4 (UP) Police in six states today searched for two youthful hitchhikers and the missing automobile of a New York man, whose bullet-pierced body was found in a ravine near here yesterday.

Identified as Carl Beach, 45, Corfu, N. Y., the victim had been shot four times in the back of the head and at close range. A garage check from Joplin, Mo., brought officers the information that Beach stopped there Tuesday with two 17-year-old hitchhikers.

HST Promises That Changes Will Be Made

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 — Republicans closed their shattered ranks today for a two-year fight in Congress against a certain effort by President Truman to modernize the New Deal.

Mr. Truman returns to Washington and a welcome-home celebration tomorrow the hottest article in American politics, as the result of his upset victory over Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

He will be off Sunday for a two-week breathing spell at Key West, Fla.

Based On Platform

When he comes back, it will be time to shape up the legislative program which he promised last night will be based on the Democratic party platform.

Mr. Truman told a home-town victory celebration in Independence, Mo., he wants every citizen to help him carry out his "tremendous responsibility for the peace and welfare of the world."

"I am going to do the very best I can to carry out that Democratic platform as I promised to do in my speeches around the country," he said.

Pledges Included

Besides efforts toward winning a lasting peace, the platform pledged such things at home as (1) curbs on "Republican inflation," (2) "comprehensive" housing legislation and (3) tax reduction "whenever it is possible to do so without unbalancing the nation's economy."

The platform also called for (1) repeal of the Taft-Hartley act, (2) a 75-cent an hour minimum wage to replace the present 40-cent figure, (3) extension of social security coverage, (4) a national health program, (5) federal aid to education (6) a farm price support program (7) repeal of the oleo taxes, and (8) strengthening of civil rights.

Election-chastened Republicans won't oppose all of those. In fact, Dewey was for some of them.

They Are Still Active

But if the Republicans were maimed by the one-man gang activities of Mr. Truman in Tuesday's voting, they weren't dismembered.

A lot of them won't be back in Congress. But the Republican leadership there will remain the same, with Rep. Joseph W. Martin, jr., (Mass) bossing the House minority and Senator Robert A. Taft (Ohio) continuing to run things pretty much on the Republican side in the Senate.

Taft shrugged off the election results with the observation that they proved it is almost impossible "to put an administration out of office at the very peak of a prosperity boom."

Opposition Is Promised

Martin and Taft will not have much trouble working up opposition to Mr. Truman's proposals. Most of the 42 Republicans left in the Senate and the 174 remaining in the House are used to voting against the Truman administration. And there aren't many new

U.S.-Born Britisher Nobel Prize Winner

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Swedish academy today voted the 1948 Nobel prize in literature to Thomas Stearns Eliot, American-born British poet, dramatist and essayist.

Eliot will receive the award, worth about $44,000 this year, at the Nobel prize ceremony in Stockholm Dec. 10.

The Nobel prizes are provided by the will of Alfred B. Nobel, Swedish scientist and industrialist who died in 1896. The prize in medicine was voted last week to Dr. Paul Mueller of Switzerland. The prizes in physics and chemistry and the peace prize have not yet been voted.

Eliot, who is 60, was born in St. Louis, Mo., but carved out his literary career in England and became a British subject in 1927.

HST Victory Seems Certain In 28 States

California, Idaho Conceivably Could Shift From Demos

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—With about 94 percent of the vote counted, President Truman had won or appeared assured of victory in 28 states with a total of 304 electoral votes.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey seemed certain to carry 16 states with 189 electoral votes, 77 short of the 266 needed to capture the presidency.

On the basis of incomplete returns at 8:30 a. m. CST, today, only two states — California and Idaho — conceivably could shift against the President. And in both states, Mr. Truman's lead appeared sufficient to give him their combined 29 electoral votes.

With 3,027 of California's 16,802 precincts unreported Mr. Truman had 1,533,153 votes to Dewey's 1,475,223. California has 25 electoral votes.

Truman Leads In Idaho

In Idaho, with 59 of the state's 834 precincts unreported Mr. Truman led 105,395, to 99,502.

The only state now in the Dewey column which conceivably could shift to Mr. Truman is Indiana with 13 electoral votes. With 967 of the State's 4,056 precincts still unreported Dewey held a lead of 773,260 to 765,963.

In popular vote returns from 122,349 of the country's 133,884 voting units gave Mr. Truman 22,288,519, Dewey 20,420,065. Henry A. Wallace, the Progressive party candidate, had 1,030,781 votes and J. Strom Thurmond, the state's rights candidate 864,303.

On the basis of incomplete returns Thurmond, the governor of South Carolina, carried four

More than a half million Texans voted for President Harry Truman and Lyndon Johnson in Tuesday's general election.

Latest figures from the balloting in which all Democratic candidates swept to victory showed:

President - Truman (Democrat) 578,085; Thomas E. Dewey (Republican) 213,962; J. Strom Thurmond (States' Rights) 76,233; Wallace (Progressive) 2,608.

Senator - Johnson (Democrat) 563,638; Jack Porter (Republican) 274,639; Sam Morris (Prohibition) 6,032.

Judges' Pension Favored

By the time of its 6 p. m. count Wednesday the Texas Election Bureau had dropped all tabulations except those on president, senator and the constitutional amendment providing for judges' retirement. The vote was 201,982 in favor of that amendment, and 188,188 against it.

Returns were from 253 of 254 counties, 70 complete. At that time there were enough votes out to change the result for the amendment, but the bureau said its margin for approval had been steadily maintained.

Seven other constitutional amendments were approved by comfortable majorities.

In the aftermath of the voting came a statement from Republican Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth that his party would set up per-

Saying Of Day: "Truman Slowed Dr. Gallup Down To Walk"

There's No Lagging Of The Gagging Today As Texans Continue Their Razzing Of Pollsters

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

There was no lagging of gagging as Texans continued to razz the public opinion experts who predicted President Truman would be beaten badly.

A saying of the day was: "Mr. Truman slowed Dr. Gallup down to a walk," and the Kilgore News Herald ran a free want ad: "Wanted: Nice, clean, dignified position, nothing to do with figures or percentages." Signed: George Gallup and Elmo Roper.

George P. Kuykendall, West Texas business and religious leader and board member of Texas Christian university, recalled the sad poll of a magazine in 1936 (which predicted Landon would beat Roosevelt and ceased publication soon afterward) in a phone call to the Lubbock Journal: "Is it true that Doc Gallup and Drew Pearson are joining the staff of the Literary Digest?"

When the bulletin came over the news wire in the Waco Times-Herald that Dewey had given up, editors shouted: "Dewey's conceded."

A printer back in the composing room shouted:

"What's he got to be conceited about?"

The Oak Cliff Lion's club was so sure several days ago that Dewey would win, its luncheon bulletin yesterday said: "In the 20 years existence of this club, this is the first time we have a program under a Republican administration."

At the meeting, 53 members of the club pleaded guilty to being Republicans and were

Key West Plans Celebration When Truman Arrives Sunday

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 4 — Plans were made today for a mammoth celebration when President Truman arrives at his favorite vacation retreat Sunday.

On his four previous visits to this southernmost city in the United States, Mr. Truman's request for "no celebration" has been respected. This time it will be different.

Mayor Maitland Adams has designated Sunday as "Harry S. Truman day in Key West."

Plans Hero's Welcome

The city plans to give its most famous tourist a hero's welcome. It plans to decorate the streets and turn out the Key West high school band.

Adams said he would request pastors of all churches to ask divine guidance for President Truman during the trying years ahead.

At the naval station, workmen meanwhile began putting final touches to the "Little White House", a rambling two story frame dwelling on the station grounds. All hurricane damage to the grounds has been repaired.

Capt. Cecil Adell, USN, commander of the Key West naval base, said full military honors would be accorded Mr. Truman when he enters the station grounds. The presidential yacht Williamsburg is due to arrive Friday.

The President's welcome will be sincere. He received a more than five to one majority of all votes for president cast in Monroe county Tuesday, getting 3,742 to only 740 for his three opponents.

United Nations Lures American Girls To Paris Despite Less Pay And Slim Living

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Nov. 4.—Sixteen young American girls who are convinced the United Nations is "the future of young people all over the world" have come to Paris, many of them at their own expense, to work for the UN for at least half the salary they could get back home.

The alertness of these girls, plus their tremendous interest in their jobs, singles them out from other feminine workers at the Palais de Chaillot.

For two of them, at least, it is a chance to learn how French people live. Babs Schieffelin, of Albuquerque, N. M., and Louise Burpee, of Bronxville, N. Y., share a room in the home of a French family.

It didn't take them long to find out that a salary of 1250 francs a day (about $4), which is the average salary for an experienced French secretary and what the UN pays them, doesn't go any further than rent, food and carfare.

Their room costs them $20 a month, but it includes kitchen facilities so they can have breakfast and dinner at home. Louise does the shopping three times a week when she gets through work at 6 p. m., and figures the daily food bill for both of them is about $2. Their lunch, at the UN canteen, costs 72 cents for appetizer, main dish and vegetable, dessert, and wine or coffee.

Some of the other girls, like Betty Hamnett, of New York, prefer to pay a flat rate of $90 a month for room, breakfast and dinner at a pension or club.

But all of them do their own laundry and skip the beauty parlors. There's no clothes-buying problems because they haven't enough left over to buy any, and they wonder how the French girls working with the UN manage to look so trim.

Babs Schieffelin gave up a job in the UN personnel department at Lake Success, where she was earning more than double her present salary, for the Paris job. Betty Hammett passed up a three-month vacation in Florida.

"My parents thought I was crazy to want to come to work for the UN in Paris, but I was determined," she explained.

Although they admit they have been in Paris too short a time to meet many young French people, all three are convinced they sense a certain apathy toward the work of the UN.

But they are equally convinced it is "our future, the future of young people all over the world, which is at stake right now."

Council Threatened With Bathing Suit

MONTEREY, Cal., Nov. 4 (U.P.)—A disgruntled Monterey woman threatened the city council with a suit—a bathing suit.

Elsie Luce, a swimming instructor, told the city fathers that if the storm sewer in front of her house was not fixed, she would appear at the next council meeting wearing a swim suit. Mayor Hugh Dormody promised speedy action.

Old Sculpture To Be Shown In U. S.

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Nov. 4 (U.P.)— Eight Egyptian miniature sculptures made four-thousand years ago left aboard the Queen Elizabeth recently for the National Gallery in Washington, D. C.

The miniatures from the British Museum will be exhibited in Washington. John Walker, curator of the National Gallery, who arranged the exhibit, accompanied the miniatures.

Young Controllers Boss Huge Budget

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4 (U.P.)—A couple of "youngsters" are custodians of Allegheny County's $30,000,000 annual budget.

Albert Lauf, only 25, a University of Pittsburgh graduate this year, recently was appointed deputy county controller. His salary is $7,272 a year.

Lauf was given the job by County Controller James W. Knox, 28.

Swedish Drys Hit New Cocktail Party

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 4 (AP) — Swedish temperance people had harsh words for a "new" social device—the cocktail party. In a recent resolution, the Swedish Temperance Union noted that "the so-called cocktail party, a new form of alcoholic consumption, threatens to take root in Sweden."

"Contrary to the practice at festive gatherings, guests at a cocktail party are not offered any non-alcoholic substitutes," the resolution stated.

Bob Hope Making Plans For Video While Bum Leg Keeps Him In One Spot Few Days

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 4.—Now that Bob Hope is immobile with a sprained leg, I figured, 'tis a good time to corral him on his television plans.

When I arrived at his San Fernando valley home, Hope was standing on crutches by the front door.

"I've been in bed for three days—longest I've been in one place in my life," he said. "This sort of thing has got to go."

He hobbled into a car and said he was going to take a treatment in the training room of the L. A. Rams pro football team. As we drove over, he explained that the lame leg was due to his over-acting. He had to scramble up a gangplank for a movie scene and on the seventh try his leg folded up. The film is wryly titled "Easy Does It."

Crosby Taught Lesson

"Crosby said my hurting my leg taught him a lesson," Hope snorted. "What a laugh! Crosby never moves that fast. The only time he really moves is when he goes to the bank."

"What about video?" I interjected having heard he had passed up an offer from General Motors for four videocasts at $50,000 per shot.

"I just didn't have time to do it," he explained. "But I'm free from Paramount any my air sponsors to do whatever I want on television—and it won't be long now."

When we arrived at the Rams H. Q., Hope was examined by the trainer and his ailing pin was dunked in a warm tub. A stream of water was directed at his calf.

"You'll be all right in no time," assured an onlooking Rams player. "You know what our coach says when we have an injury—it's just self-pity."

"This guy must think, I'm a quarterback," said Hope.

We got back on television and Bob said that Hope Enterprises would prepare a number of videoshows, along novelty lines. One would star rapid Robert himself.

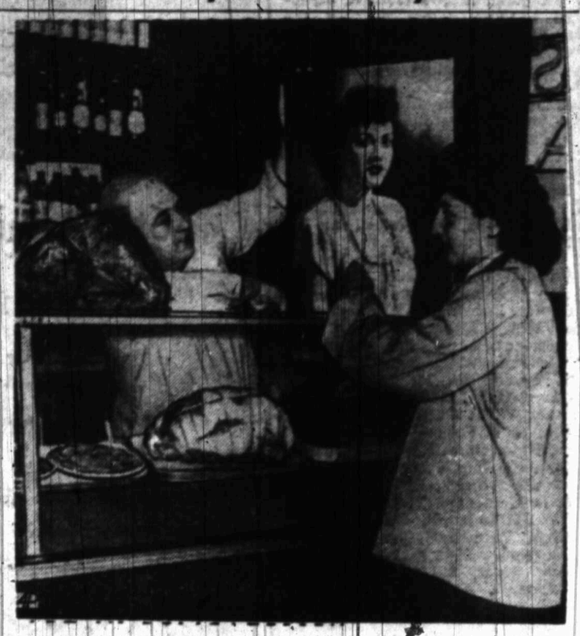

"I'd like to do a full hour. Imagine what you could do on television! On radio, people complain if you try to milk an audience with 'sight' stuff. (The trick of grimacing, etc., at the audience to get bigger laughs.)

Memory Important

"But on video, everything is 'sight.' I could throw the script out in the audience and have them throw it back."

As a matter of fact, the script would just be a prop, since videostars will have to memorize their lines. "And I'll be interested to see how some of the radio performers get along without a script," said Hope, who has an amazing memory.

Hope thinks that bigtime television will be coming next fall. "I believe it will be an easy transition—by doing a radio and television show at the same time," he said. "The air audience will have to picture how it looks."

Piano-Playing Star To Marry Architect

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 4 (U.P.) — Diana Lynn, 22 year old piano-playing film star, will marry Architect John Lindsay, 30, on Dec. 18, her parents revealed today.

In announcing the engagement Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Loehr said the couple will spend a Christmas honeymoon in Bermuda.

New Short Haircuts Tough On Scrawny Necks Of Movie Stars

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (U.P.)—M. Louis, the hair stylist, says that some of the Hollywood stars would have to keep pulling their hair down around their faces. Their necks are too scrawny for them to wear the new short styles.

He made the observation as he denied responsibility for what he called the new "sheep dog look" among certain Hollywood stars who have trimmed their braids, but not according to his ideas of beauty.

"I get phone calls all the time from Hollywood," he said. "The big producers say 'we have enough trouble with their faces—we're not going to do anything with their hair.' So I say for them just to pull it down. They say 'if they comb it up they'll look scrawny'."

He takes credit for setting the current trend but he says 80 per cent of the other Hollywood hair stylists are so bad they have developed the sheep dog look.

Scalped In 1922

"Back in 1922 the same group made them all look scalped. You know, the shingle. Practically shaved them."

Louis divides history into phases: the periods before wars and the periods after wars. Before wars women wear their hair long. After wars they wear it short.

"With the mood comes the mode," he explains.

"We barely mention the transitional stage," he said. "We call that the romantic period. The men come home tired of looking at nothing, but pants. They want glamor. They get it. But short hair is in the making."

Next year everybody will be wearing the Imperial or Directorie look, he said, exhibiting a drawing of Napoleon's Josephine.

"Unless there's a war, God forbid, then everything will be drastic again.

"But the stars in Hollywood are afraid to do anything at all to their hair. Lucille Ball came around, for instance, and wanted to cut it all off. I said to retain some softness and beware of looking like a sheep dog. She went off to think it over and I came to New York. I wonder what she did do."

All Look Alike

"But these stylists!" he exclaimed. "A grandmother, a mother and a daughter. They all go in and they all come out looking like sheep dogs.

"Then people hear I am responsible. They call up and say, 'Louis, I didn't know you made a mess of all those girls in Hollywood.'

"But no. I say to each his own. To say I make them all look alike is to give me too much credit. If I could patent a trend I could be as rich as Croesus. But no. The stylists copy, copy, copy. Then sheep dogs."

Pastor Dedicates Church In Germany

KARLSRUHE, Germany, Nov. 4. (U.P.) — A German-American church to serve both Catholics and Protestants has been dedicated here by Martin Niemoeller, evangelical pastor in Hesse.

Niemoeller, speaking in English said that the new church should serve as means of rising above national and religious differences.

Brig. Gen. Philip E. Gallagher, U. S. post commander of Karlsruhe, later received trusteeship of the new church from Lord Mayor Friedrich Toepper.

Most of the money for construction of the church was collected by U. S. occupation troops and American women's clubs here.

Attain Goal In W.M.U.

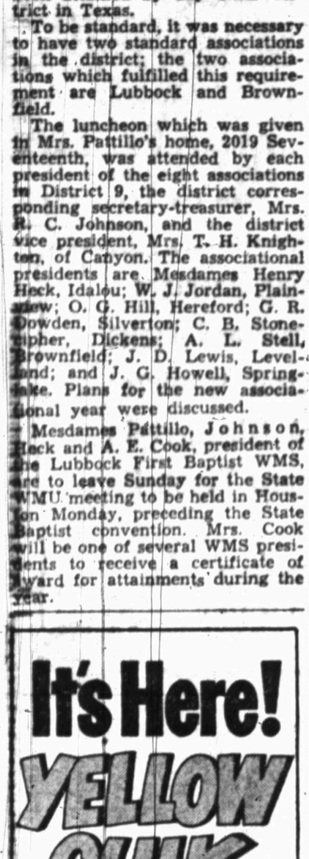

Mrs. R. E. L. Pattillo, president of Women's Missionary union of District 9, announced at a luncheon meeting of associational WMU presidents Wednesday that the District has reached the Standard of Excellence. This goal has never been attained by any other district in Texas.

To be standard, it was necessary to have two standard associations in the district; the two associations which fulfilled this requirement are Lubbock and Brownfield.

The luncheon which was given in Mrs. Pattillo's home, 2019 Seventeenth, was attended by each president of the eight associations in District 9, the district corresponding secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. C. Johnson, and the district vice president, Mrs. T. H. Knighten, of Canyon. The associational presidents are Mesdames Henry Hack, Idalou; W. J. Jordan, Plainview; O. G. Hill, Hereford; G. R. Dowden, Silverton; C. B. Stonecipher, Dickens; A. L. Stell, Brownfield; J. D. Lewis, Levelland; and J. G. Howell, Springlake. Plans for the new associational year were discussed.

Mesdames Pattillo, Johnson, Hack and A. E. Cook, president of the Lubbock First Baptist WMS, are to leave Sunday for the State WMU meeting to be held in Houston Monday, preceding the State Baptist convention. Mrs. Cook will be one of several WMS presidents to receive a certificate of award for attainments during the year.

Mary Haworth's Mail . . .

Parents Are Baffled By 3-Year-Old Son's Behavior Since Baby Brother's Birth

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Jim and I have two sons—Pat, who is three, and Rusty, one year old. The older boy, Pat, is our problem and frankly we are stumped.

When Rusty was born, Pat resented him a little, but when he found that he (Pat) received as much attention and love as the baby, he got over his resentment and now he seems really fond of the younger child; but the problem is that he wants to imitate him.

Pat was always a little slow. He didn't walk until he was about 20 months old and even now no one can understand him when he talks; but what puzzles us is that he has gone back to crawling, he wants bottle feedings, and instead of talking or trying to talk, he makes noises or jabbers like the baby.

IGNORES PARENTS' PATIENT APPEALS

HE is a bright boy and understands as much as any child his age, but in this matter he won't listen to us when we try to explain to him that he is a big boy, not a baby, etc. We haven't scolded him about his baby-actions; we have only tried to reason with him so far; but since this policy hasn't been effective, what else should we do, if anything?

I might add that Pat was sick when he was a baby and he was always petted, not entirely by us, for we were living with Jim's parents until Rusty was born, and consequently Pat got extra measure of loving attention. Now that Jim has finished his education, we have moved to a home of our own; and I may truthfully say we have always tried to treat the boys alike and are doing our best to rear them wisely; but we feel we must be at fault somehow with Pat. Can you help us?

(Signed) C. G.

CASE OF BONAFIDE SETBACK IN GROWTH

DEAR C. G.: Pat's behavior can't rightly be summed up as an attempt to imitate his baby brother; nor is it motivated, wholly, by unconscious rival competition for infant perquisites.

Rather, Pat has suffered a mild bonafide setback in growth. Bewildered and frightened by the new design-for-living ushered in by Rusty's birth and the family's move, soon after, to a home apart from the grandparents', Pat relapsed toward infancy, instinctively seeking the comfort and security associated with first experience.

The double measure of domestic upheaval—which isolated Pat from his customary extra dividend of round-the-clock "petting" from grandparents, just when he was in mid-crisis of learning to share his parents fifty-fifty with Rusty—was too much "change" for him to digest, inasmuch as he is slow on the uptake and had been ill as a baby and coddled accordingly. Consequently he succumbed to anxiety neurosis.

The characteristic motif of such neurosis is to retreat from the exigencies of life back to the coccoon of infantilism with indeed an instinct-yearning to return to the total receptive dependency of the pre-natal foetus, blindly reliant on mother-nurture.

NEEDS RELIEF FROM ANXIETY

HAPPILY, Pat hasn't regressed so drastically, and I portray the extreme merely to show that he hasn't. At most he has fallen only a year or so behind "norm" behavior for his age; and it is not uncommon for normal children to revert, from time to time, to transient dalliance with babyways, up to and for some years after school age. In so doing they are temporarily backing away from some seemingly cheerless aspect of growth; but they pick up again and go on, if loved and encouraged and not goaded.

For advice: Don't reproachfully "reason" with Pat about his relapse. Rather "accept" him just as he is, making no issue of his crawling, baby-talk and whim for a bottle. Snuggle him in your lap for reading or rocking, for perhaps 10 minutes after lunch and/or supper; and allow him a bit of milk or orange juice in a bottle as playful reward for "eating up" at least some portion of a 3-year-old's diet; but be patient and don't withhold the bottle if he rejects this deal at first.

Intermingled with this love-treatment of infant anxiety, tactfully re-educate him to interested, self-confident participation in 3-year-old social activities, by providing play equipment expertly designed to appeal to the 3-year-old boy and develop his manual skills and coordinative efficiency; also by casually introducing opportunity for quiet supervised play with children his age; by letting him shop with you and carry small packages, etc.; and by consistently praising his responses along this line, without ever criticizing "symptom" relapses.

Flower Arrangement To Be Demonstrated

Seventy women attended the first-day session of the Lubbock Garden club's judging school Wednesday at Hilton hotel, at which Mrs. Maude R. Jacobs of South Carrollton, Ky., was instructor.

Participating in the Wednesday session were women from Norman, Okla., Gainesville, Plainview, Hereford, Littlefield, Levelland, Morton, Big Spring, Midland, and Floydada, as well as from Lubbock.

Dorothy Biddle of Pleasantville, N. Y. will instruct at today's session, and will lecture at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the hotel on flower arrangements, color harmony, and related subjects. She will make demonstration flower arrangements as she talks. The lecture, which will last two hours, is open to the public. A fee of $1.50 will be charged.

Brownie Leaders Club Has Training Hour

A training session on nature activities was conducted by Virginia Butler for Brownie Leaders club at the Scout Little House Wednesday morning. Thirty members attended.

Miss Butler attended an Audubon Nature camp near Kerrville last Summer.

Area 2 FHA Will Meet

Frenship, Idalou, Slaton, Roosevelt and Lubbock Senior High schools of Lubbock county are participating in National Future Homemakers of America week which ends Saturday. A meeting in Graham Saturday will climax activities of the week for the 26 counties of Area 2.

The FHA which is composed of 196,688 members in 5,079 chapters is an organization of pupils studying homemaking in junior and senior high schools. A part of the organization's program is to offer opportunity for the further development of pupil initiative in planning and carrying out activities related to homemaking.

"Toward New Horizons" is motto of the national group. The colors of the club, red and white, are symbolic of home and of youth, youth which has courage and an unwavering determination to succeed.

Purposes Listed

Purposes of the FHA are: to promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking, to emphasize the importance of worthy home membership, to encourage democracy in home and community life, to work for good home and family life for all, to promote international good will, to foster the development of creative leadership in home and community life, to provide wholesome and individual group recreation and to further interest in home economics. For this year, the clubs are emphasizing the purpose, "to promote international good will."

Activities of the clubs for the week include attending church services, giving assembly programs, holding club meetings and county rallies, conducting membership drives, giving parties, making camp day funds and having special projects.

The Mary Emma FHA chapter of Lubbock Senior High school met at noon today in room 192 of the school for a talk, "Building Today for Tomorrow," given by Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of First Methodist church. Friday from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock, the chapter will have a coke party in the high school homemaking department. "Good Deed Day" will be observed by the chapter Saturday.

Joyce Hamilton is president of the Mary Emma chapter, Ruth Vinn Hendler of Temple is state FHA president and Frances Holloway of Spur is Area 2 president.

Joe Lon Teal Speaker For B-PW Luncheon

Joe Lon Teal, winner of the local Soap Box Derby, told about the National Derby held in Akron, Ohio, this summer for members of Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club at a Wednesday luncheon at Hilton hotel. Mrs. Mabel Chapman was in charge of the program.

The young guest displayed his trophies.

Next Wednesday, the club will have a dinner meeting at 7 p. m. at the Hilton. Thirty persons attended the luncheon.

Attending were Mesdames R. D. Barnett, Leon Cavaness, Stanley Cotton, Ray Chapman, R. B. Parkinson, Robert Stokes, W. H. Galloway, James Florence, H. C. Lewis, Ivan Mayfield, A. L. Rose, jr., and W. A. Wilbanks.

Tea Is In Drane Hall

A plaid taffetta cloth of blended autumn colors covered the tea table at Drane hall on Tech Campus Wednesday afternoon when Tech Faculty Woman's club entertained at tea. Arrangements of autumn fruits interspersed with yellow chrysanthemums and red leaves extended from a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums and sumac leaves which centered the table.

Mrs. Clifford B. Jones and Mrs. D. M. Wiggins presided at the two tea services.

Guests were met by Mrs. J. Wendell Day, hostess chairman, who presented them to the receiving line which was composed of Mrs. Wiggins, wife of Tech's president, and other hostesses, Mesdames W. H. Bledsoe, Vernon T. Clover, W. M. Craig, A. B. Cunningham, Mary W. Doak, Max Eikel, W. T. Gaston, R. C. Goodwin, R. E. Garlin, Howard Golden, Neva Gahring, W. C. Holden, John Harding, T. SMALL CROWD WELCOMES FAMILY

Dewey Goes Back To Governor Post

(By The Associated Press)

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 4—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey quietely went back about the business of being governor of New York today.

The defeated Republican presidential candidate returned to the state capital from New York last night just nine hours after he had conceded the election to President Truman.

Dewey and family got a warm welcome from a crowd of several hundred persons assembled at the rail station.

It was a crowd in sharp contrast to the yelling shouting throngs which greeted him on his campaign travels.

This one was a sympathetic gathering. There was applause and some cheers but there was a note of restraint in keeping with Dewey's disappointment over losing the election.

The first to greet him was Kenneth McAffer, Albany county Republican chairman.

Smiles Broadly

Grasping McAffer's hand, Dewey smiled broadly and said:

"How are you, Ken? It was nice of you to meet me down here."

With the governor on the trip from New York, where he voted and received the election returns, were Mrs. Dewey; their sons, Thomas, 16, and John, 13, and the governor's 70-year-old mother.

Aides said Dewey would take it easy at the executive mansion today, attending only to the most urgent state business.

He told a news conference in New York yesterday he hadn't made any plans yet for a vacation, but that he would like to get down to his farm home at Pawling, N. Y., for at least a weekend as soon as possible.

At the conference Dewey answered with a flat "no" a question as to whether he would run for the presidency a third time.

Resign Talk Fiction

And he said any talk that he planned to resign now as governor was "pure fiction." His term runs through 1950.

But he did say he had no plans to run for the governorship again. He was elected in 1942 and re-elected in 1946.

Dewey is known to have in mind a new career in private law practice. Long ago he told friends that if he missed the presidency this time, he would step out of politics as soon as feasible.

After he gets some rest, Dewey is going to analyze the election returns in an effort to find out just what wrecked his White House chances.

He said yesterday he was just as surprised as anybody else at the trimming Mr. Truman gave him.

LONDON, Nov. 4 (AP) — Queen Elizabeth is confined to her rooms at Buckingham palace with the grippe, it was reported today.

Pre-Bridal Courtesy Is For Fay Haynes

As a courtesy to Miss Fay Haynes, bride-elect of Joe V. Stubbs, Miss Ruth Crosby, 1917 Twenty-third, gave a luncheon at her home Wednesday afternoon.

A gift of silver marked the honoree's place and covers were laid for Mesdames Sumner Haynes and E. V. Stubbs, mothers of the affianced couple; Mrs. Bill Yeager, Misses Mayrene and Earlene and Texie Keeton, Anita and Juanita Reynolds and Junnita Ross.

Pink and white roses decorated the candle lighted table.

Music Teachers Meet For Business Hour

Twelve members of the South Plains Music Teachers association attended a dinner meeting and business session Tuesday night at the Tower cafe.

Mrs. Bailey Ireland presided. Date of theory examinations was set for April 2, 1949 and playing dates were set tentatively for April 27-29. It was announced that intermediate recitals and radio programs are to be continued through November.

Present were Mesdames Ireland, Leonard Cole, J. B. Joiner, Lillian Butler, Mamie I. Neal, Wayne Kelly, Carl Scoggin, Stuart Shafter, Bennie Wright; Misses Hallie Wall, Mary Dunn, Irene Fletcher.

Bridge Party Held By Country Club Women

Mrs. Wayne Henly made high score at a bridge party given Wednesday, Ladies Day, at Lubbock Country club. Second high score was made by Mrs. J. B. Malone and door prize went to Mrs. Orville Stewart.

Thirty-two women attended.

Funeral Scheduled For Levelland Man

LEVELLAND, Nov. 4. (Special)—Last rites for W. C. Cook, 81, of Levelland, were scheduled for 3 p. m. today at First Baptist church here, with Rev. J. H. Wright, pastor, officiating. Interment was to be in Levelland cemetery, under direction of Plains Funeral home of Levelland.

Mr. Cook, a carpenter who had resided in Hockley county since 1931, died Wednesday afternoon from injuries received Saturday when he fell from a ladder while building a house.

Survivors include the wife, three sons, Paul Cook and Fred Cook of Whitewright, and Aubrey Cook of Smyer; two daughters, Mrs. Eunice O'Niell of Abernathy and Mrs. Lela Hall of Denton; two step sons, whose names were not known here; two step daughters, Mrs. Cordelia Benton of Fort Worth and Mrs. Maude L. Stanley of Seminole; 11 grandchildren, and two great grandchildren.

Information About Firebug Worth $500

HOUSTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Information about a firebug that has destroyed some 1500 acres in Memorial park here was worth $500 today, following action taken by the city council yesterday.

The reward was offered in the hope citizens of Houston would aid police in apprehending the guilty person or persons. In the past two months dozens of fires have been extinguished in the park area, but not before they ruined trees, shrubbery and other foliage.

Home-made fire bombs and cans filled with what police called "a highly inflammable fluid" have been removed from the park several times.

OLDEST LIGHTHOUSE

Lubbock Youth Hurt In Car-Bike Mishap

Hamp Scruggs, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Scruggs of 708½ Thirteenth street, was injured about 5:45 p. m. Wednesday when his bicycle was struck by a car at Nineteenth street and Ave. M, police reports showed.

The car, a description of which was given to police, did not stop after hitting the boy on the bicycle. Driver of the vehicle was said to be a woman.

The boy was treated at West Texas hospital for a broken collar bone and minor bruises and lacerations, the family said last night. He had been carried to the hospital by Louie E. Wallace, an employee of Baldridge bakery. He was released after treatment.

Texan, New Mexican, Scotsman Offer Pointers On How To Win Success In Ranching Business

(By The Associated Press)

Want to be a successful rancher? Here are tips from three old-timers at the game — a Texan, a New Mexican and a Scotsman who insists there "is precious little difference between a Texan and a Scotsman.

George W. Evans, president of the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association, is a firm believer in large ranches for which his state is noted.

His four pointers are:

1. Have a large ranch of about 80 sections, so that some portions will receive rainfall even during dry years.

Keep Herd Liquid

2. Keep the herd "liquid" so that livestock may be sold at anytime.

3. Operate the ranch economically. When prices are high pay debts, make improvements, build up the calf crop, replace heifers and don't overstock.

4. Keep breeding herds intact.

"The good years will take care of themselves," he said. "It's the bad years we must guard against."

John P. Lee, 73-year-old rancher from Tankersly in Tom Green county, thinks ranching is a good business for Texas youths.

Offers Opportunity

"The livestock industry offers a wonderful opportunity for the boys of Texas," Lee said. "It looks like Texas must feed not only a lot of our own people, but also help feed the whole world."

Lee, who recalls shipping steers to Chicago in 1889 for $8.25 a head, said it is compartively easy to stay in the livestock business under present record high prices.

"Things have got to level off," he said. "Everything has been too high."

Scotsman Gives Advice

The advice from Scotland comes from James Wright, director of the Matador Land & Cattle Company, Ltd., a Scottish corporation that owns almost a million acres of ranchlands in eight West Texas counties.

The 65-year-old Scotsman spends three months out of every year in Texas, and feels right at home as indicated by this observation:

Policy Stated

"Our policy on meat production is to sell as many cattle as we can when the price is too high," Wright said in explaining his company's policy. "When the wholesale market is too weak, we hold back all the cattle we can so as to help the small rancher."

He mentioned that Matador now has its V-shaped brand on 50,000 head of cattle, grazing on about 1,800,000 acres of owned and leased land. The calf crops run to about 16,000 annually. About this number is sold each year.

"We've sent more than a million cattle to market since a bunch of Dundee merchants bought the Texas land in 1887," Wright said.

Report Shows Last Month Cool And Dry

The monthly climatological summary for October, released from the U. S. Weather Station north of Lubbock, shows that the mean maximum temperature for the month was 73.5 degrees, while the mean minimum temperature was 46.1 degrees.

The monthly summary, released through Harold L. Frost, official in charge of the weather bureau here, shows that the highest temperature for the month was 88 degrees, occurring Oct. 13 and again Oct. 15. Temperatures above 80 degrees were registered on Oct. 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, in addition to the two highest days.

The lowest minimum temperature for the month was 33 degrees, registered Oct. 7. Other minimum temperatures in the 30's were recorded on Oct. 8, 17, 22, 23, 24, and 25.

Mean temperature for October, 1947, was 66, with the highest temperature of 88 degrees occurring Oct. 13, and the lowest, 33 degrees, on Oct. 7.

Precipitation in this past month was recorded on Oct. 9, 20, 28, and 31, with a total of 0.98 inches for the entire month, against a 2.29 normal.

Number of days with precipitation was recorded as follows: trace, seven days; 0.01 inch or more, four days; and 0.25 inches or more, one day, that being on Oct. 9 when a total of .71 was recorded.

Highest wind velocity was recorded on Oct. 17, with a wind of 29 miles per hour. Winds of 28 miles per hour were recorded on Oct 4 and 16. The mean velocity was 29. Lowest wind velocity was eight miles an hour, recorded on Oct. 22.

Of the 31 days in October, 11 were reported as clear, 12 as partly cloudy, and eight as cloudy.

Light fog was rporttd on Oct. 9, 10, 22, and 28, with moderate fog on Oct. 22. Light frosts were recorded Oct. 7, 24, and 25, while thunderstorms were reported on Oct. 15, 28, and 31. Hail was reported on Oct. 31 only.

Purity Of American Bread Is Challenged

LONDON, Nov. 4 (AP) — Radio Moscow challenges the purity of America's white bread.

An English-speaking commentator, recalling that an American magazine recently said white bread was "a symbol of the United States' modern civilization," said:

"But 90 per cent of all flour produced in the United States is treated with nitrogen tri-chloride —that is what makes it white."

The broadcast said that an American physiologist, Dr. A. J. Carlson, found that the chemical is a poison which affects the nervous system.

The commentator then went on to extol the merits of Russia's bread, and claimed that Moscow bakeries were now making more than one hundred varieties of it.

Employes In India Use Initial Language

NEW DELHI, Nov. 4 (AP)—Employes in the Indian secretariat speak a queer language—the language of initials. Watch their work for a while. You will not make head or tail of their instructions unless you have been initiated into the mysteries of their expressions.

"Send this to H. M.", they will say. It means only the honorable minister. "Place this file on D. S. 2's table," they will harangue. It means only the deputy secretary number two of that particular ministry.

There are lots of such deputy secretaries. Joint secretaries, additional secretaries, under secretaries, assistant secretaries working under the secretaries of the various ministries.

Impurities in a metal, as little as one part in a million, now are detected and weighed by an electronic device. It does, in from five to 15 minutes, a job for which days are required by chemical methods.

Prof Makes Study Of Whistling Frogs

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Nov. 4 (AP) If a mama Whistling Frog has light brown stripes down her back and papa wears a dark brown shield, will their third son have stripes or a shield? Dr. C. J. Goin, assistant professor of biological sciences at the University of Florida cares so much he:

Spent over $1,000 on a 900-mile field trip to Jamaica; camped six weeks in the Jamaican Blue Mountains; and captured 2,500 frogs. Goin, now busy with an analysis of data gathered this summer on the American Academy of Arts and Sciences-sponsored trip, said the information had no economic value. "It is just an addition to the sum total of man's knowledge," he said.

He explained that the Whistling Frog (the Eleutherodactylus) is an unusual animal in that unlike other amphibs such as toads and salamanders its young is hatched on land; and instead of a croak it whistles, always on the same key.

As to any decision on the color or pattern, Goin said his trip substantiated what he already thought: the patterns are inherited in much the same manner that eye color is inherited in humans.

Man Seeks Refuge From Home Troubles

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4. (AP)—Roosevelt Buffert, 32, walked into a police station and announced he'd thrown a stone through a plate glass window.

Citing "family troubles," Buffert said he'd rather "be safe behind bars than at home."

Police obliged.

President Will Face Foreign Policy Issue In Extent Of Aid To Nations Against Reds

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—President Truman's post-election foreign policy appears certain to be dominated by this single great issue:

How much more money and goods is the United States willing and able to throw into the cold war against Russia?

Diplomatic authorities say that on Mr. Truman's answer to this question will largely depend the scope, perhaps even the effectiveness of the whole stop-Communism program during his second term in the White House.

Three Critical Areas

The question arises specifically in connection with three critical areas of the world:

Western Europe—the non-Communist countries in this sector of the cold war front want both a military alliance and lend-lease arms aid. The cost of this new lend-lease has been guessed by military experts at from $2,000,000,000 a year up and would make heavy demands on steel and other basic American industrial supplies.

China—the United States is confronted with an immediate crisis in China with the Nationalist government buckling under the impact of Communist army victories. The present U. S. civilian and military aid program amounts to $400,000,000 for the 12 months ending next April. Already the State department is reviewing its China policy to determine what, if anything, should be recommended to Congress in January to meet the crisis.

Party Control Factor

Greece—steadily mounting American expenditures in Greece have prevented the Communists from taking over the country but have not succeeded in wiping them out. A new and probably greater military aid program—compared with $175,000,000 this fiscal year—seems likely to be presented to Congress next session.

Hence the new problems of these critical areas raise the prospect of important spending quite apart from the multi-billion dollar European recovery program with its demands on both money and goods at a time when this nation's own production and consumption are at peak levels.

Democratic control of Congress is expected to ease somewhat President Truman's handling of these problems, especially where money is concerned. Administration officials who were confronted last session with the avowed "meat-axe" methods of Chairman Taber (R-NY) of the House Appropriations committee are jubilant at the switch in party control.

Barkley Is Asset

Yet in the Senate the Democratic administration still may have to rely to some extent on the expected support and obvious prestige of Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) in seeking approval for bipartisan foreign policy legislation. In that body, however, the leadership of vice-president elect Barkley, as president of the Senate, should prove a great new asset to the White House and State department.

In the department itself, Mr. Truman apparently will have to find a new team to replace the Marshall-Lovett combination which has carried through the revolutionary new foreign policies of his administration for the past 18 months.

Both General George C. Marshall, who took office as secretary in January, 1947, and Undersecretary Robert A. Lovett, who moved in six months later, are understood planning to resign on or before inauguration day, January 20.

Speculation as to a successor for Marshall presently is wide open. Names which may come before Mr. Truman for consideration, however, include former undersecretary of state Dean Acheson and former economic undersecretary Will Clayton.

Military Pact Slated

There has been some mention of the possibility that Vandenberg—who no longer will be chairman of the foreign relations committee—might be asked to move from the Senate into the cabinet.

The first big foreign matter which Mr. Truman is slated to take up well before his new term begins is that of negotiating the North Atlantic military alliance. Along with Canada and this country, that pact initially will embrace the key nations of western Europe—those forming the western European union. They are Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The outline of the proposed alliance already has been worked out.

As a preliminary step—now that the election is over—State department officials, assuming Mr. Truman approves, plan to consult congressional leaders on details of the proposed pact in a few days. These consultations seem likely to include Republican as well as Democratic leaders of the Senate and House.

No Time Lag

One issue which the Republican-controlled Congress did not handle to administration likely last session and which will be revived next year is the reciprocal trade program instituted by former secretary of state Cordell Hull. The administration will ask Congress to grant a full three-year extension and to remove restrictions on the administration's tariff-cutting powers which Congress wrote into the one-year extension bill passed last time.

Both American and foreign diplomats here said one notable result of Mr. Truman's victory is that the next developments in U. S. foreign policy are expected to occur without any major time lag.

Kremlin Doubt Erased

Another result of Mr. Truman's upset victory may be to remove any lingering doubts in the Kremlin as to the extent of American support for the stop-Russian program which has constituted the heart of Mr. Truman's major policies—the Truman doctrine (of aid for Greece and Turkey and other "free" peoples), the Marshall plan, aid to China and the like.

A sidelight was the dismal showing of Henry Wallace's Progressive party—loudly promoted in Soviet propaganda as the real hope for peace in the world. Wallace polled only about 1,000,000 votes.

The President himself insisted through the campaign and reaffirmed in his post-election statement his intention to work for real peace. But he also has committed himself by word and action to the policy of "peace with honor," meaning no appeasement of Russia.

Title Picture In Schoolboy Football Due To Be Cleared

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL
SPORTS

43 Games Are To Be Played

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Forty-three conference games this weekend will do much to clear the championship picture in Texas schoolboy football.

From the top of the state to the Gulf important battles dot a schedule that wil lestablish leaders in every area—determine virtual champions in at least four districts.

Winner Heavy Favorite

In the City conference, Jefferson and Alamo Heights battle for the top rung in the San Antonio district. The winner will be a heavy favorite to take home the title.

Highland Park of Dallas and McKinney, last unbeaten teams in district 6 class AA, get together at McKinney.

Austin and Kerrville, who occupy a similar status in district 13, clash at Kerrville.

Little trimming is expected in the list of unbeaten teams of which five are undefeated but have been tied.

Port Arthur plays South Park (Beaumont), Henderson tackles Kilgore and Amarillo engages Borger while Waco, the other undefeated, untied eleven, has an open date.

Among those undefeated but tied Alice takes on Robstown, Baytown engages Galena Park and Bilby meets its Houston neighbor, Stephen F. Austin. Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) and Lamar (Houston) have open dates.

Schedule For Week

The week's schedule by districts (conference games except where indicated otherwise):

CITY CONFERENCE

2—Friday: Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth) vs Paschall (Fort Worth).

3—Thursday: Jeff Davis (Houston) vs Reagan (Houston); Friday: Sam Houston (Houston) vs San Jacinto (Houston); Saturday: Austin (Houston) vs Milby (Houston).

4—Thursday: Burbank (San Antonio) vs Lanier (San Antonio); Friday: Harlandale (San Antonio) vs Brackenridge (San Antonio); Saturday: Jefferson (San Antonio) vs Alamo Heights (San Antonio).

CLASS AA

1—Friday: Amarillo at Borger. Brownfield at Plainview, Saturday: Lubbock at Pampa.

2—Friday: Electra at Childress, Graham at Quanah.

3—Friday: Sweetwater at Odessa, San Angelo at Big Spring, Lamesa at Abilene.

4—Friday: Ysleta at Austin (El Paso). El Paso High at Mesa, Ariz. (nonconference).

5—Friday: Denison at Gainesville, Sherman at Paris, Greenville at Bonham.

7—Friday: Stephenville at Mineral Wells.

9—Friday: Ennis at Cleburne, Corsicana at Waxahachie.

10—Friday: Nacogdoches at Palestine, Lufkin at Bryan, Jacksonville at Conroe.

11—Friday: South Park (Beaumont) at Port Arthur, Beaumont at Orange.

14—Friday: Robstown at Alice, Brownsville at Edinburg, McAllen at Kingsville, Harlingen at San Benito.

Northern Youth In South Wins Honors

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—A 21-year-old northern youth who went south to play football is this week's college football lineman of the week.

Al Derogatis, a 215-pound senior from Newark, N. J., who plays tackle for Duke university, won the honor yesterday and the weekly Associated Press poll.

Derogatis took the laurels for his play against Georgia Tech.

Although handicapped by a bad knee, the 6:03 youth blocked a Tech punt that set up Duke's only score. He was the fifth man in Tech's backfield virtually all afternoon.

Linemen nominated this week included Schwartzkopf, Texas, Blakely, Southern Methodist, Tinsley, Baylor, Lunney, Arkansas, and Eubank, Texas Christian.

Baseball League To Hold Fall Meeting

It may be the football season, but baseball will be the principal subject in Lubbock Sunday, when the annual fall meeting of the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball League will be held in the Hilton Hotel beginning at 10 a. m.

Milton E. Price, president, called the meeting and announced that the two most important points for discussion would be player rules and salary limits. He also announced that there would be no change in location of any present members and no shift in franchise from those presently held.

Club owners, presidents or managers, and in some cases all, will be in Lubbock for the meeting. The Lubbock Hubber Baseball club, champions in 1947, will be host for the meeting.

FABULOUS FREDDIE — The Flying heels of Fullback Fred Wendt have taken him to the top position in national rushing with an average of 9.29 yards on each of his carries in six games. An All-Conference back in the making, Wendt also is a punter with an average of better than 42 yards on each attempt. He'll be the chief threat to Texas Tech at Jones Stadium Saturday afternoon.

Freddie Wendt Rough On Foes

Figures released yesterday by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau ought not to make Texas Tech football coaches sleep any better tonight and Friday night.

The statistics on accomplishments of college players through games of last Saturday show Fred Wendt and the Texas Mines eleven at, or near, the top in practically everything offensive except passing. If past performance is any indication, Texas Tech's Red Raiders are in for a rough afternoon this Saturday.

Wendt, the flying fullback, is the top college rusher in the nation with a net of 929 yards on 100 rushes in six games. That's a 9.29 average each time he has carried the ball and puts him 243 yards ahead of Jensen, California Bear ace, who has played in seven games.

Holds Fourth Place

Wendt's rushing total, plus six other plays, has given him a total of 956 yards gained, net, for fourth place in the nation in total offense. Ahead of him are Stan Heath of Nevada, Lindy Berry of TCU and Charley Justice of North Carolina.

In addition to his rushing, Wendt also ranks 11th in the nation in punting with a 40.9 average on 19 boots. The top average is held by Boston of Montana State with an average of 44.7 on 19 kicks.

A teammate of Wendt's, Pug Gabrel, a slashing halfback, ranks 17th in the nation in rushing offense with 472 yards, net, on 61 carries. Between Wendt and Gabrel, Texas Mines has gained 1,401 yards on the work of two players in six games.

The Orediggers rank eighth in the nation on total offense, averaging 389 yards per game, 363 plays gaining a total of 2,334 yards. In rushing offense alone, the Miners rank second with an average of 350.7 yards per game. They have made a total of 2,104 yards on 341 plays. Only the Army, with an average of 354.2 yards per game, ranks higher.

Good Punting Average

The Miners also have broken into the national spotlight on punting with an average of 41.5 yards on 30 punts in six games.

The figures on the Miners are sobering to even the most optimistic, although there is no question that Tech will be the favorite to win. The Raiders probably will go into the game with a touchdown advantage on the cards and it appears to be a slim edge.

So far the Orediggers have played six games and five of them have been victories, two of them against Border Conference foes. They opened the season with a 33-14 victory over McMurry, then romped through Houston University 35-7. Their first Border loop game was against the Buffaloes of WTSTC, a team beaten by Tech 19-0, and the Miners won this one 21-7. Brigham Young fell before the Miners 34-20 in an offensive battle and their second Border loop game also was an offensive show, the Miners beating New Mexico University 27-13. Last week they led Hardin-Simmons until the final 14 minutes, when the Cowboys scored 14 points to gain a 27-27 tie.

Lone Star League Meeting Scheduled

KILGORE, Nov. 4 (AP) — The annual fall meeting of the Class C Lone Star league will be held here Friday, it was announced today by league president Fred Nicholson.

The league is expected to take action on the franchises of Henderson and Tyler.

Both the Henderson and Tyler baseball parks were destroyed by fire during the past season. It is the intention of Nicholson to get definite commitments from both cities as to whether the parks will be rebuilt.

Harvesters In Top Condition

PAMPA, Nov. 4 (Special) — Feature game of the Pampa High grid schedule will be unreeled here at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when the Harvesters battle their rivals from the South Plains—the Lubbock Westerners—in a crucial District 1-AA encounter. A near-capacity crowd of 5,000 persons is expected to jam Harvester park for the tilt.

The fate of the Harvesters in 1-AA competition this season could well lie in the outcome of the afternoon fracas, as they put their undefeated record on the line against the victory-hungry band of Westerners.

Thus far, the Harvesters have a record of six wins and only one setback. The loss, although not an upset, definitely was not in order as the Pampans mauled the Wichita Falls Coyotes all over Coyote stadium, but lost 6-0. They hold a 20-0 win over North Dallas, an 18-12 triumph over Ysleta and 19-7 wins over Vernon and Graham of District 2-AA.

Pampa In Top Shape

In conference play, the Pampans downed Plainview, 13-0, after fumbling seven times in the first half, and then trampled Brownfield, 33-0, last Friday night in Brownfield.

The Green and Gold schoolboys will be in near top physical condition for the Saturday tilt with the Westerners. Only regular who will not see action is Quarterback Lamar Lively, but a capable substitute, Carroll Smith, has been found to take his place. Smith tips the scales at 145 and is spending his first year on the varsity squad. His passing eye has improved, but the Harvester air attack is not expected to be as potent as it was with Lively under center.

The two big guns in the Harvester ground attack so far have been Halfbacks Wesley Kieth and Co-Captain Jack Williams. Kieth, a 145-pound scatback, turned in punt returns of 67, 72 and 48 yards against Brownfield last week. Williams has been outstanding on off-tackle slants and breakaway runs in the opponents' secondary. He is currently tied for the district scoring lead with 48 points.

Davis Outstanding

Harbord Cox, bruising 185-pound fullback, returned to his early season stride against Brownfield and ripped for consistent yardage. Cox was injured in the opening game with North Dallas and is just now returning to his top form. Sophomore Jimmy Hayes has been filling the vacancy very well and will probably see plenty of action against the Westerners.

On the line, co-captain and End Derral Davis has been the outstanding individual, scoring 38 points this year and turning in a brilliant job on defense. He got 21 points against Brownfield, scoring three touchdowns and getting the same number of extra points.

Guard Phillip Payne is another candidate for all-district and all-state honors. Payne weighs 185 pounds and is extremely fast and rugged. He has blocked five enemy punts this year and covered six fumbles.

Jack Steele Winner In Wrestling Event

Rex Mobley had too little and it was too late last night at Sled Allen's wrestling arena, as Jack Steele won two straight falls in the main event, after they were the last two men eliminated from the opening wrestle royal.

Rod Fenton and Sailor Parker managed to withstand the buffeting in the ring next to the longest and met in the semi-final event, with Fenton pinning Parker in two straight falls.

Pat O'Dowdy and Olan Boynton were eliminated in the initial wrestle royal, which took ten minutes to decide.

Steele had a lot of trouble with Mobley before he was able to pin him and, in the second fall, he was downright lucky to win. The former Masked Marvel, who wrestles exactly the same as he did when he hid his face, won the first grapple in 19 minutes using a full reverse crab. He halted a barrel roll to pin Mobley with a body smother in the second heat after 13 minutes.

In the semi-final, Fenton used up 31 minutes in downing Parker. The Canadian took the first fall in 17 minutes on a single leg reverse crab and added the second stanza in 14 minutes using a reverse crab.

Vick Weber, former Brooklyn resident and popular wrestler here in the '30s, was the referee. Next week Weber probably will make his return debut here.

Fenton challenged the winner of the Steele-Mobley match and will meet Steele in the feature next week.

Top Class A Games Scheduled

Full Card Slated In District 4-A

Two conference clashes in District 4-A will be unreeled tonight to open a full weekend of schoolboy grid games on the South Plains, but the area spotlight will be centered on six loop tussles and one non-title setto which will be played Friday night in 4-A and 5-A.

Levelland's Lobos, undefeated in the north half of 4-A, will invade Muleshoe at 8 o'clock tonight to battle the dangerous Yellow Jackets in a feature district tussle. The Lobos have lost two non-conference battles, including a 14-6 defeat by Post last weekend, but Coach Truett Rattan's crew is still heavily favored to cop the north 4-A crown. Muleshoe has lost three straight district games, but the Jackets have a stubborn defense and are given a slender chance to upset the defending regional champions.

The other title encounter tonight will be played at Tahoka, where the Bulldogs meet the Seagraves Eagles in a south half 4-A district clash. Both teams have been eliminated from the title chase by the undefeated Post Antelopes, but both elevens will be shooting for another triumph in their "games won" column.

North 4-A Tilts

Two north 4-A conference tilts are scheduled Friday night, with Sudan's Hornets invading Littlefield and Morton playing host to the powerful Sundown Roughnecks. The second place in the loop standings will be at stake in the two games, since Sundown, Littlefield and Sudan are now deadlocked in the runner-up post with two wins and one defeat each. Sundown will be an easy favorite over Morton, but the Littlefield - Sudan encounter may provide plenty of fireworks.

Only one game will be played in the south half of 4-A Friday night, with the undefeated, untied Post Antelopes playing host to the equally undefeated, untied Lubbock Cowhands. The Antelopes moved into the West Texas grid spotlight last week with a 14-6 triumph over Levelland, while the Cowhands were giving the Amarillo Yannigans a 20-0 drubbing. A wide-open scoring battle is predicted in the tilt, with Junior Malouf sparking the Post attack and Donnie Rawls, Tommy Fisher and Mack Taylor heading the Lubbock defensive.

One of the outstanding Class A grid battles of the entire state is slated Friday night at Monahans, when the undefeated Monahans Lobos tangle with the undefeated Seminole Indians for the District 5-A championship. Monahans has chalked up top-heavy victories over every opponent this year, while Seminole has compiled a perfect record in conference competition—although tied by Littlefield in a non-title setto.

Lobos Rate High

Monohans is rated as one of the most powerful Class A teams in the state, boasting a big, fast experienced eleven, and a really great halfback in Waldo Young. The Indians of Coach Gordon Wood are lighter and less-experienced, and are slated to lose the crucial game by two touchdowns. But since the game is a "grudge" event, many Seminole fans will make the trip to Monahans and most of them think the Indians have an excellent chance to surprise their highly-rated opponents.

Coach Gordon Wood reported Wednesday night that his squad is in near top shape for the game, and that he would probably start the following lineup against Monahans:

Jimmy Marcus, 156, left end; Clarence Smith, 180, left tackle; Wesley Patton, 150, left guard; Ernest Jordan, 170, center; L. C. Allen, 158, right guard; Eugene Agnew, 182, right tackle; Crowder Wharton, 160, right end; Guinn Hood, 138, quarterback; Ralph Jones, 160, right half; Jack McReynolds, 152, left half; and Ira Bobo, 148 fullback.

Other 5-A games will send Fort Stockton to Andrews, Pecos to Denver City and Kermit to McCamey.

Three Share Honors In Golf Tournament

Top honors in the regular Wednesday morning golf tourney at the Meadowbrook Publinx course were shared by Ileta Hitchcock, Johnnie Trammel and Ethyl Herriage, officials reported last night. The awards were made on "low putts."

The women of the club also held their regular luncheon at the party house at Mackenzie park.

Prison Bowl Battle Studied For Texas

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 4. (AP) There may be a new "bowl" added to the already crowded New Year's day football schedule.

The Texas prison system board is toying with the idea of staging the Prison bowl here, possibly in 1949 if a suitable opponent can be found.

The idea would be for each of the 11 Texas prison farms to have a team with the squad to represent the system in the bowl game to be chosen from all of them.

District 3-B Tilts Are Set

Everything points to a meeting of undefeated teams in Dimmitt Nov. 12, when the Bobcats play host to the Hale Center Owls. Both teams are undefeated in District 3-B conference play and neither appears in danger of losing this week.

Dimmitt entertains an in and out Friona Chief eleven, while Hale Center travels to Whitharral for a game that shouldn't cause the Owls any trouble. Each league-leader should win the sixth conference victory.

In other conference games, Olton visits Anton and Petersburg goes to Springlake, while Amherst invades Farwell for a non-conference tussle.

Dimmitt Should Win

Strictly oh the records, Dimmitt should breeze past Friona without any trouble. The Bobcats beat Amherst 53-0, while the Chiefs eked out a 20-12 victory. Dimmitt took Springlake 45-12, while the Wolverines licked Friona 7-0. The Bobcats and the Chiefs each beat Whitharral easily, 45-7 and 47-0 respectively.

Hale Center should barely pause in running over the hapless Whitharral eleven. The Owls beat Anton 27-7, while the Bulldogs won their game 14-6 from Whitharral. Hale Center beat Friona 13-6, while the Chiefs won 47-0. And Hale Center nosed out Springlake 20-19, a team that licked Whitharral 18-0.

Olton Slight Favorite

The Olton-Anton game is a toss up. Anton lost to Petersburg 18-6, but Olton beat the Golden Buffaloes 14-0. Olton rolled over Amherst 48-7, while Anton lost to the Bulldogs 6-0. Springlake beat Olton 20-7 and Anton 31-12 and both teams beat Whitharral, Olton by 20-0 and Anton by 14-6. Dimmitt also beat Olton and Anton by 32-13 and 40-6 respectively. Olton will be a slight favorite.

Springlake probably will have their hands full with Petersburg, but they should win handily. Springlake beat Olton 20-7, while the Mustangs beat the Buffs 14-0. Both teams beat Anton, Springlake by 31-12 and Petersburg by 18-6. The Wolverines edged Friona 7-0, but the Chiefs beat the Buffs 19-13. And Hale Center had no trouble romping over Petersburg 32-0, but had a hard time beating Springlake 20-19.

BOYS KILLED IN RUSH

TOKYO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Two boys were killed and 21 other persons were injured in a stampede today when the gates of a baseball stadium were opened for the first game between Tokyo's professional Giants and a group of all stars. There was no admission fee.

Lockney's Eleven Could Clinch Flag

The District 3-A conference championship might well be clinched by the Lockney Longhorns Friday night, while they are almost certain to make positive they will get no worse than a tie out of the season.

Matador, a weak eleven this year, plays host to the powerful Steers of Coach Curtis Kelley and they don't appear to have the ammunition to meet the challenge. While the Matadors have a poor record for the season, the Longhorns have gone along without one defeat and only a 13-13 tie with Kress mars their record.

Other games in the conference send Abernathy to Spur and Paducah to Ralls, while Crosbyton and Floydada draw a week off from the grid battles.

Everything indicates that Lockney will win its game from the Matadors by at least four touchdowns. Lockney beat Spur 13-0, while the Bulldogs tripped Matador 40-0. Lockney beat Ralls 20-0, while the Jackrabbits took Matador 13-0. Lockney edged Floydada 15-12, while the Whirlwinds swept over Matador 34-6. And Lockney slipped past Crosbyton 13-6, with the Chiefs trouncing Matador 20-0.

Abernathy's Antelopes travel to Spur for what appears to be another licking. But the Antelopes could scare the strong Bulldogs before it was over. Lockney beat both teams, Abernathy by 26-0 and Spur by 13-0. Crosbyton eked out a 14-7 win over Abernathy, but fell victim to Spur 13-8. Both elevens beat Paducah, Abernathy by 7-6 and Spur by 40-6. The last score is the most impressive, showing more offensive power.

Ralls Appears Weak

Ralls doesn't appear to have quite enough to beat Paducah this week, although an upset would hardly be in the making if the Jackrabbits won. The Dragons, on occasion, have not been impressive. On comparative scores, Paducah beat Floydada 20-19, while the Whirlwinds rolled over the Jackrabbits 39-6. And both teams lost to Abernathy on successive week ends, Paducah by 7-6 Oct. 22 and Ralls by 14-0 on Oct. 29.

Oklahoma City Will Seek New Manager

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 4 (AP) —The Oklahoma City club of the Texas baseball league announced today it would not renew the contract of Manager Pat Ankenman.

Jimmy Humphries, the Tribe's business manager, said they are going to make "wholesale personnel changes next year and we believe that we may as well wipe the whole slate clean except for a few holdovers and start from scratch with a new manager."

Idalou Will Seek First Grid Title In Tilt With Whiteface

The championship of District 4-B conference football is within the grasp of the Idalou Wildcats and tomorrow night's game against Whiteface will decide the issue.

Idalou brings its season to an end Friday night and a victory would give the school its first football title since it started the gridiron sport. In addition to wrapping up first place, Idalou could win its seventh victory of the year. The only blot on their record is a not discrediting 13-13 tie with Kress.

Whiteface's Antelopes, a good little team, don't seem to have enough power and depth for their invasion of Idalou. And comparative scores bring out the task that faces them. The Wildcats clawed New Deal 7-0 and the Lions beat Whiteface 12-0. Idalou romped to a 28-7 victory over Frenship; Whiteface beat them 13-0. And Idalou beat Meadow 33-0, while the Antelopes eked out a 19-13 win.

New Deal should have little trouble holding onto second place at the expense of an outmanned Frenship eleven and the score might run into minor astronomical figures. The Lions beat Whiteface 12-0, a team that beat Frenship 13-0. New Deal took Ropes 38-13, while the Eagles won its game 14-12. Both teams lost to Idalou, New Deal by 7-0, Frenship by 28-7. And both teams beat Cooper, New Deal by 45-7 and Frenship by 14-7.

Meadow goes to Ropesville Friday for the second meeting of the season between these two teams. The Bronco beat the Eagles in the first game of the season 13-0, but since then, the Eagles have grown stronger and it might be close. Both teams beat Cooper, Meadow by 26-0 and Ropes by 18-0, and both lost to Idalou, Meadow by 33-0 and Ropes by 33-6.

Cooper plays host to Tahoka B squad in an exhibition game and probably will have its hands full. The Tahoka Bulldog prospects have been rugged this year and, while going through the process of learning, have played some good ball. Copper doesn't have too much to recommend it, with six losses in as many games.

Winners Named In Golf Tourney Round

The quarter-final rounds in the Senior Golf tournament ended yesterday with four winners, two in the championship flight and two in the consolation bracket.

Ira Carpenter beat Wilkie Talbert 1 up, F. L. McRee won on default from Charles Whitacre, H. H. Holmes won from Cecil Horne 1 up and A. E. Miller beat Guy Brown 6 and 5.

Carpenter will meet McRee and Holmes will play Miller in the semi-final round.

In the consolation bracket, O. C. Gooden defeated O. C. Caldwell, Al Townsend beat O. L. Byrd, Chick Trout drew a bye and J. A. Raley triumphed over Don Jones.

Gooden will meet Townsend and Trout will play Raley in the semi-final round.

In the women's tournament held yesterday, Mrs. Olan Key won the 18-hole low net and Mrs. Bill Honey won the 9-hole low net. Mrs. John Markham won the 18-hole low putt prize and Mrs. Guy McAfee tied with Mrs. C. O. Caldwell for the 9-hole low putt prize.

Michigan To Romp Over Navy; Irish To Wallop Indiana

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

Two new events have taken place in the West Texas-New Mexico league virtually on the eve of the annual fall meeting here Sunday. It was announced this week that an El Paso businessman has bought the Clovis, N. M., franchise, which doesn't mean that it will be moved to El Paso. And Buck Fausett, the ever-youthful manager of the Amarillo Gold Sox, has bought into the Sox ownership to the extent of 48 per cent of the stock. The remaining 52 per cent remains in the hands of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Seeds, founders of the club.

And the announcement of the meeting here stated that there would be no franchise changes, which brought to an end speculation that Lamesa and Clovis might be on their way out. Indeed, there was considerable hope in many quarters that Odessa would replace the Loboes and that El Paso would replace Clovis. But that possibility is gone for the time being, possibly for a long time. Both proposed cities would have meant larger gates and better diamonds on which to play, as well as strengthening the league as a whole.

There's still plenty of talk about town that the Hubbers will change hands before another season rolls around, but nothing definite has taken shape yet. The asking price hasn't been met and isn't likely to be, even though the baseball park, property and grounds, as a long range investment, appear worth the price. Mrs. Sam Rosenthal, with the aid of Larry Larsen, made the Hubbers pay off better this year than ever, but the present owner would rather have the time to retire from all business and rear her family. And another problem faces Mrs. R.; she must make a connection with a good major league system before too long, or else the Hubbers will be in a sorry plight.

According to the SWC official statistics, Tech did a good job last week in checking the Rice offensive stars. Fullback Bobby Lantrip, before the Tech game, held an average of 4.65 yards per carry. Tech cut it for that single game to 3.17 yards. Quarterback Kyle Rote had averaged 11.10 yards per toss on his completions, but Tech held his average gain to 8.33 yards. End Froggy Williams had averaged 14.44 yards gained on each pass completion, but Tech held him to an even 12 yards, one of which was a touchdown. But Huey Keeney, having his best day of the year, surpassed his 36.1 punting average by booting for an average of 38.7 against Tech. And John Kelly, with an average of 14.2 yards on each punt return, didn't return a single punt against Tech. He wasn't given a chaunce.

It should be an interesting duel here Saturday between six Red Raiders backs and two Texas Mines backs. If you wonder why the ratio is three to one, the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau statistics explain it. Fullback Fred Wendt has averaged 9.29 yards per carry, while Halfback Pug Gabrel has averaged 7.7 yards per carry. The two Miners will stack their records against Cal Stevenson with an average of 5.2 per carry; Glenn Lewis, 5 yards; Bud Conley, 4.2 yards; J. W. Thompson, 5.9 yards; Earl Jackson, 5.4 yards; and Charley Reynolds, 6.7 yards. The total yardage for these six ball carriers is 1,131 yards; for Wendt and Gabrel, 1,401 yards.

Texas Tech's backs, in seven games, have gained a total of 1,393 yards, net, from scrimmage; Miner backs have gained 2,104 yards in six games. The average for Tech is 199 yards per game; for the Orediggers, 350.7 yards per game. Tech probably rates an edge in punt returns, Reynolds toting back three for 79 yards; Ernest Hawkins carrying seven times for 93 yards; and Walter Maloney getting 96 yards on four returns. That's an average of 26.3 yards, 13 yards and 24 yards respectively, better than par. On Kickoff returns, Reynolds has gained 268 yards on eight carries for an average of 33.5 yards, while Maloney has gained 61 yards on three returns for an average of 20.3 yards.

The Hardin-Simmons game with Texas Mines probably was one of the craziest ever played in the Border Conference. The Cowboys didn't punt once during the game. Only nine times in the game did the series of downs go to the fourth down. Only nine times did both teams fail to score while they held the ball. The Cowboys drew the only two penalties of the game, each for 15 yards. Hooks Davis outran Wendt, gaining 103 yards to 97. First downs were 22 to 19. And in the final 14 minutes, with the Miners leading 27-13, the Cowboys scored a point a minute to gain a 27-27 tie. It was almost as wild a game as Tech's 41-28 victory over Arizona here a year ago.

Penn State Slight Underdog To Penn

By DR. E. E. LITENHOUS

The duel between Michigan and Notre Dame for first place in the Litkenhous Difference by Score System will be thrown into sharp relief this week end.

Michigan follows up where Notre Dame took off—against Navy. The Irish submerged the Middies by a 34-point count and picked up some power points on the No. 1 rated Wolverines. The men of Bennie Oosterbaan should go Frank Leahy's charges one better—one point, that is. The Litkenhous System sees the contest as a 35-point romp for Michigan.

Notre Dame will let no fraternal feeling intervene in its battle with a fellow Hoosier eleven, Indiana. The Irish will take this one by 19.5 points.

Army, the third-ranking club, is a 21.2 point choice over Stanford in an intersectional battle. California will tighten its grasp on the West Coast Rose Bowl invitation by trimming U. C. L. A. by 27.4. Nevada, the nation's fifth ranking machine, will stop Santa Clara by 18 points, the System predicts.

Pennsylvania and Penn State will put on an intra-state skirmish which will be one of the high-lig-hts of the East. Make it Penn's Quakers by a 2.3 whisper. Dartmouth, Harvard and Yale will be winners; the Indians will down Columbia by 9.2, Harvard will eke out a 2.2 margin over Princeton and the Eli will slam King's Point by 54.9.

Northwestern and Minnesota both will keep Rose Bowl hopes alive with conference victories this week end. The Wildcats should get by Purdue by 23.6 and the Gophers will trip Purdue by 14.6.

S. M. U. will continue on toward another Southwest Conference title by whipping Texas A. and M. by 34.1. Georgia Tech will add another Southeastern Conference triumph besting Tennessee by 7.6 points. Villanova is favored by 2.4 over Kentucky.

Following is the week-end schedule of college football games with Litkenhous Difference by Score predictions. The figure after the name of each team is its power-point rating. The figure in the last column is the difference between the ratings and therefore the approximate probable difference between the scores they will make in the games. The names of the probable winners are set in boldface type. The N. R. in the tables means that a team has not played enough to have a rating. "Indicates last year's rating.

Fraley Picks The Winners Of The Week

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Mixing bunts and punts, Fraley's Follies and weekend football winners while welcoming Frankie Frisch and "Fat Freddie" Fitzsimmons back to the New York Giants.

NATIONAL

Pennsylvania over Penn State—This ranks even in the books and State makes a habit of knocking off the Quakers. Our hunch is that Penn will be geared higher than a kite for this one with a grim defense turning the tide in its favor.

THE EAST

Army over Stanford; Dartmouth over Columbia; Cornell over Colgate; Harvard over Princeton; Syracuse over Temple; Yale over Kings Point, Georgetown over N. Y. U., Brown over Western Reserve, Holy Cross over Duquesne, Boston U. over Fordham and Rutgers over LaFayette.

THE MIDWEST

Michigan over Navy, Northwestern over Wisconsin, Minnesota over Purdue, Missouri over Oklahoma, Illinois over Iowa, Michigan State over Marquette, Nebraska over Kansas State, Ohio State over Pittsburgh, and Iowa State over Drake.

THE SOUTH

Georgia Tech over Tennessee, N. C. over W. & M., Duke over Wake Forest, Kentucky over Villanova, Clemson over Furman, Georgia over Florida, Tulane over VMI, Mississippi State over Auburn, Mississippi over Chattanooga, Miami over Cincinnati, Maryland over South Carolina, W. and L. over VPI, North Carolina State over Virginia, George Washington over Citadel and Alabama over Mississippi Southern.

THE SOUTHWEST

Texas over Baylor, SMU over Texas Aggies, Arkansas over Rice, Oklahoma Aggies over Tulsa, Texas Tech over Texas Mines and Arizona over New Mexico.

THE WEST

California over UCLA, Oregon over Washington, Nevada over Santa Clara, Washington State over Oregon State, Idaho over Montana State, St. Mary's over Portland, Utah State over Colorado, Utah over Colorado Aggies, Detroit over Denver and Montana over C.O.P.

Hutchinson Rangers Gain 25-0 Victory

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 4 (Special) Brilliant running by Halfback Ronald Stephenson paced Lubbock's J. T. Hutchinson Rangers to a 25-0 victory over the Brownfield juniors in a South Plains Junior High grid tussle here last night.

Stephenson put the Lubbock eleven ahead in the second quarter with a 60-yard touchdown gallop, then injured Billy Presley came into the game early in the third period to add the second six-pointer on a 10-yard plunge. Donnie Dean cracked through the line for the extra point to give the Rangers a 13-0 margin.

On the following Lubbock kickoff, the ball bounced into the Brownfield end zone and Ranger Guard Billy Taylor recovered for a touchdown.

The Rangers chalked up their final tally in the fourth period, when Stephenson swept 35 yards around end for the touchdown.

In the game between the J. T. Hutchinson Ranchers — seventh and eighth graders—and the Brownfield junior "B", the Brownfield eleven notched a 6-0 triumph.

The Rangers, sparked by the brilliant defensive play of Center George Guy, Tackle Ralph Murphy and End Charles Moore, held the powerful Brownfield team scoreless in the first half, but a 15-yard sprint across the double stripe in the third period gave the home gridders their margin of victory.

Ranger Backs Bernard Price and Doug James turned in good jobs on offense, but the Lubbock representatives were unable to launch a sustained drive.

Few Upsets On Grid Forecast

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

Upsets should be few and far between this weekend with nine of the state's 10 undefeated teams —Waco doesn't play — coming through with victories.

On the 46-game card are 43 district contests, several of which have direct bearing on championships.

Our forecasting percentage held up fairly well last week as we picked 38 correctly and had three ties out of 50 games for a percentage of .790. Our percentage for the season stands at .780.

Can't Feel Too Badly

One of the ties we called as an upset (Reagan over Milby) and the other we warned was a possible upset (Paschal over Arlington Heights), so we can't feel too badly about them.

In the three games tonight we pick Woodrow Wilson over North Dallas, Reagan over Jeff Davis and Burbank over Lanier.

Tomorrow night's big ones look like this:

Sweetwater over Odessa, although the Bronco are due to give the undefeated Mustangs a rugged 48 minutes.

Merely On A Hunch

Jefferson over Alamo Heights (a Saturday game), merely on a hunch.

The rest of the schedule we think should find:

Amarillo over Borger, Plainview over Brownfield, Pampa over Lubbock, Quanah over Graham, Childress over Electra, Abilene over Lamesa, San Angelo over Big Spring, El Paso Austin over Ysleta, El Paso High over Mesa, Ariz.

Bonham over Greenville, Sherman over Paris, Denison over Gainesville, Grand Prairie over Sulphur Springs, Highland Park over McKinney, Stephenville over Mineral Wells, Henderson over Kilgore, Tyler over Longview, Texarkana over Marshall.

Cleburne over Ennis, Corsicana over Waxahachie, Conroe over Jacksonville, Lufkin over Bryan, Port Arthur over Beaumont South Park, Orange over Beaumont, Pasadena over Texas City, Baytown over Galena Park, Freeport over Galveston.

Edna over Victoria, Laredo over Texas Military Institute, Brownsville over Edinburg, Alice over Robstown, McAllen over Kingsville, San Benito over Harlingen.

Forest over Crozier Tech, Adamson over Sunset, San Jacinto over Sam Houston, Milby over S. F. Austin, Brackenridge over Harlandale.

Pro Baseball Boosts Attendance Record

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 4. (AP)—A total of 63,765,991 persons, an increase of 2,374,716 over 1947, saw America's 60 professional baseball leagues in action this year.

The major loops drew 20,943,345—the National 9,793,027 and the American 11,150,318—and today George M. Trautman, president of the minors, announced the 58 leagues under his jurisdiction attracted 42,822,646.

Paid admissions for the minor circuits totalled 40,949,028, but the overall mark was 1,305,910 above last year's record of 41,516,736.

Thus the minors shattered attendance records for the third straight year. Paid attendances included: Texas league 2,235,913; Big State 818,277; Arizona-Texas 431,803; Lone Star 484,068; West Texas-New Mexico 668,144.

New Deal Junior High Whips Lubbock Calfropers 21 To 6

New Deal's speedy junior high grid team, sparked by the touchdown sprints of R. W. Webb and Clifton Wilkins, chalked up an easy 21-6 triumph over Lubbock's Carroll Thompson Calfropers Wednesday afternoon at Chapman field.

The New Deal eleven went ahead in the first quarter when Webb climaxed a lengthy drive with an eight-yard sweep around left end, then Wilkins circled right end for the extra point.

Biggs Makes Score

The Calfropers surged back in the second stanza to push across a touchdown, with Back Billy Biggs sweeping left end for six yards on the scoring play, but a plunge for extra point failed and the New Deal crew held a 7-6 halftime lead.

The Cubs clinched the triumph in the third period, as Wilkins faked a handoff and went around end for a 40-yard touchdown jaunt. Webb went over right tackle for the extra point.

New Deal tallied again in the final quarter on a 20-yard sprint by Wilkins and an extra point smash by Back Allen Hood.

Junior Loop Games Set Today, Tonight

Chapman field will be monopolized by South Plains Junior High football league teams this afternoon and tonight, with two of three league clashes slated at the local gridiron.

Carroll Thompson's Cowboys of Lubbock, leading the loop with an undefeated, untied record, tangle with the powerful Plainview juniors at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the local field, then at 7:30 o'clock tonight the second-place O. L. Slaton Redskins of Lubbock meet the Seminole juniors here.

The Cowboys need only two more league wins to cop the area junior grid championship, but the Plainview eleven is one of the top teams in the loop and could throw the conference race into a deadlock. The Redskins, with only one defeat to mar their record, are pressing the Cowboys for the league title and will attempt to keep their championship hopes alive with a victory over the Seminole crew.

Cowboys Feature

The Cowboys feature a quick-breaking "T" formation attack, sparked by Backs Don Jones and Charles Hodges, but the Redskins will use both "T" and single wing formations against their foe. The Redskins' chief scoring threats will be Halfback Duane Rampy, fullback Johnny Tatum and Quarterback Charles Brewer.

One non-title junior game will be played at 6:30 o'clock tonight at Chapman field, when the O. L. Slaton Warriors — seventh and eighth graders—tangle with the Seminole Junior High "B" team.

BOWLING SCORES

Sears' keglers and the City Employes were the only teams to score a clean sweep in the Business Bowling league Wednesday night at Pismor Lanes. Sears took three games from the Hub Laundry, while the City Employes captured three tilts from West Texas Gas.

Carl Maxey's five took two of three games from Reeves Insurance and Cunnyngham's took two of three from Household Supply.

The standings:

Teams	Won	Lost
Cunnyngham's	16	8
Sears	13	11
City Employes	13	11
Carl Maxey	13	11
Reeves Insurance	12½	12
Hub Laundry	11	13
West Texas Gas	10	14
Household Supply	6	16

Unbeaten Sul Ross Desires Bowl Game

ALPINE, Nov. 4 (AP)—The word goes out from Sul Ross State Teachers college, the only undefeated, untied college football team in the Southwest, that it can be had on New Year's Day.

Sul Ross, one of the high-scoring outfits of the nation's hasn't been beaten or tied through ten games —three of them in late season last year.

The Lobos have rolled up 251 points while allowing the opposition only 77 in its seven games to date. That's better than 35 points per contest.

J. B. Speer, director of the publicity department, revealed today that the Salad Bowl at Phoenix, Ariz., and the Raisin Bowl at Fresno, Calif., asked Sul Ross if it would be interested in playing.

Critics had figured the Sul Ross bubble would burst when it met a strong team but last week the Lobos beat Texas A. and I., a pretty strong outfit, 33-19 after making a long trip from one tip of Texas to another—and any Texan will tell you that's plenty of miles.

Ted Scown is the star of the Lobo team. He has rolled up 84 points for the season, highlighting his performance against A. and I with a 93-yard touchdown jaunt.

Long Drivers Lead Tourney

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 4. (AP)—Two of golf's longest drivers remained in the forefront today as the 46th North and South open tournament was resumed after a day's interruption because of rain.

Off the first-round scores and their past records, Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., and Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., were the popular choices to fight it out for the title.

Three-Way Tie

Before yesterday's postponement Harbert had gained a three-way tie for the lead with a first-round 68. Snead was two strokes behind.

Sharing the top spot with Harbert were Glenn Teal of Charlotte, N. C., and amateur Julius Boros of Bridgeport, Conn. Clayton Heafner of Charlotte had a 69. Behind Snead five players were tied at 71—among them defending champion Jim Turesa of Elmsford, N. Y.

After a long rest from the tournament grind, Snead was hitting the ball exceptionally well Tuesday. But he blew himself to a big six on one long hole and dropped behind.

16th Money Winner

Harbert, who hits a ball just about as far as Snead, has been making the big-time pro circuit with considerable success since 1941. Although he wins comparatively few tournaments, he is 16th among the money winners in the pro field this season.

Tied with Turnesa in the 71 bracket today were Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., winner of the Augusta Masters tournament; Jackie Burke of White Plains, N. Y., who is considered one of the most promising young pros; Harry T. Nettlebladt of Avon, Conn., and Joe Zarhardt of Greensboro, N. C.

Raider Basketball Season To Open Against McMurry Indians

Three days after the Texas Tech football team has played its final game of 1948, Coach Polk Robinson's Red Raider basketball team will take the court here Nov. 30 against McMurry's Indians.

Practice started this week for the Raider cage hopefuls and Coach Robison found little difficulty in making the switch from football to basketball. The affable Tech mentor doubles as line coach for the football team, while also scouting future opponents on Saturdays.

Early work will be concentrated on perfecting the set game which carried the Raiders to the top spot among Texas members of the Border conference and to second place in the circuit in 1947-48. Coach Robison is expected to rely virtually entirely on returned lettermen, with Charles Pinnell, Andrews sophomore, apparently the only graduate of last year's freshman squad to make the grade.

Averages Over 6 Feet

The Tech team this season will be manipulated to use height and speed to advantage. One quintet, averaging 6 feet, 4 inches, would include: Don Grove, Monument, N.M.; Gene Gibson, Lakeview; Wayne Bowles, Lubbock; C. W. Dukes, Tyler; and Pinnell. Another, averaging just under 6 feet would have: Ardis Barton, Hart; James Hill, Amarillo; William Banks, Vernon; Chester Jackson, Monument, N.M.; and Bill Edins, Sudan. Durwood Patterson, Sudan, 6-6, if he continues to improve, may replace Pinnell among the tall boys. A third arrangement by the coach would mix the long and short men.

Tech this season will face a 22-game schedule, in addition to the annual Oklahoma City tournament during the Christmas holidays.

In Calcutta, India, a Moslim who killed his five-year-old son, said he was like Abraham; Allah appeared in a dream and commanded him to sacrifice the boy.

Policy Of U. S. Hit As Russia Rejects Atomic Control Plan

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Nov. 4—Russia rejected completely today a western plan for the control of atomic energy.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky told the United Nations general assembly the United States does not want international atomic control.

Vishinsky brought President Truman into the atomic debate again. He quoted the American President as saying recently in Milwaukee that the United States must continue to develop atomic weapons until the "correct" form of international control is in effect.

PLAN IS APPROVED

PARIS, Nov. 4 (AP) — The United Nations assembly approved today, over bitter Russian protests, the western plan for world atomic control.

The vote was 40 to 6, with four abstentions. The Russian bloc nations alone voted against the western plan.

Contradiction Charged

Gesturing with his arms as he spoke, Vishinsky told the assembly that this apparently meant the Americans would continue developing atom bombs until the western control plan is adopted.

Such an attitude expressed by Mr. Truman means, Vishinsky said, that "you are in a vicious circle of contradiction."

The Russian demanded that the delegates approve the Soviet plan for atomic control. He shouted that there is no basis for agreement now between the western and Russian plans.

He charged that the United States does not want atomic control and that the Baruch plan is a "cunning maneuver" designed to wreck any control.

Majority Favor Plan

The western plan, approved by a majority of the assembly's political committee, is based on proposals made June 14, 1946, by Bernard M. Baruch, then the U. S. delegate on the U. N. Atomic Energy Commission.

Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit, Indian delegate and ambassador to Moscow, told the delegates after Vishinsky spoke that India could not agree to international control of atomic materials while oil and similar materials remained in private hands.

Mrs. Pandit proposed an amendment to the western proposal. The majority of the 58 nations in committee has favored approving the western plan as drawn up by the majority of the 11-nation atomic commission.

Her amendment proposed that the assembly "approve in substance" the majority report. India has fought consistently in this assembly to tone down the differences between the East and West on the atomic problem.

Paul Ramadier, French minister of defense, told the assembly his delegation would vote for the majority plan.

Tojo Trial

was premier.

Hour after hour Sir William Webb of Australia, president of the tribunal, read the judgment, which runs 1,575 pages. It may be 10 days before the last defendant knows his fate.

Of the 28 indicted originally two years ago, two are dead, one is a mental patient. Three others are ill in a hospital.

At the outset the court eliminated separate acts of aggression and "conspiracy to murder." But that left the core of the indictments—that the Japanese leaders were responsible for the war.

Reactions Studied

The demeanor of the defendants was a study in contrasts. Tojo drummed his fingers on the bench in front of him, doodled on a scratch pad and gazed occasionally at the ceiling.

Hiroshi Oshima, former sabre rattling ambassador to Germany, wore his usual sardonic smile. Marquis Koichi Kido, once the empire's top civilian, looked like a mischievous schoolboy.

Japanese spectators crowded the gallery.

To the defendants the verdict may mean life or death for all or a part of them. But the sleepy attitude they displayed was part of the Japanese pattern of hiding their emotions in times of crisis.

PRICES IN RECOVERY

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—A decisive recovery move boosted stock prices today after the worst decline in two years yesterday.

Gains ran from fractions to around 3 points as the market tried to recoup some of the ground lost in Wednesday's post-election selling drive.

Volume tended to slow down a bit after fast morning trade, but at that an unusually large amount of business was done. Turnover was at the rate of around 1,500,000 shares for the full session, which would compare with 3,320,000 yesterday, a high for nearly half a year.

The rally was viewed in Wall street as a natural rebound. A substantial amount of yesterday's losses were recovered.

Demand appeared for a wide variety of issues, including steels, rails, oil, liquors, utilities, motors, and chemicals.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—Cotton futures were firm today on active short covering and commission house buying. Inflation ideas among traders based on the election results were dominant influence in the market.

Late afternoon prices were $1.20 to $2.40 a bale higher than the previous close. Dec. 31.35, March 31.36 and May 31.19.

Cotton closed strong.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 4 (AP)—Advances in wheat ran up to around 4 cents at times today as post-estimated sentiment expanded. The big gains were scored in July and September contracts and much of the buying came from individuals who had been short in these deliveries.

The short-covering movement hit deferred wheat contracts got underway yesterday, following the election upset. It was based on the belief the government price support level for 1948 wheat will be higher than present futures prices.

All other grains, as well as soybeans and lard, followed wheat higher.

Wheat closed ⅛-3 ⅜ higher, December $2.29 ¾-½; corn was ⅛-1 ⅜ higher, December $1.39 ½-⅝, oats were unchanged to ⅛ higher, December 79 ⅛, rye was 1 ¼ to 2 cents higher, December $1.82, soybeans were 2 ¾ to 3 cents higher, November $2.55-2.55 ½, and lard was 15 to 45 cents a hundred pounds higher, November $19.40.

Liquor Election In Hockley Just Rumor

LEVELLAND, Nov. 4 (Special)—No liquor election has been held in Hockley and none is contemplated, despite widespread rumors to the contrary over the South Plains, County Judge Z. O. Lincoln told The Evening Journal today.

Numerous calls requesting information on the outcome of such an election have been received by newsmen, but Judge Lincoln said that so far as he knows, no petitions have been circulated and certainly none has been presented to county authorities.

Lubbock ABC Group To Visit In Clovis

A delegation of approximately 35 Lubbock American Business club members and wives is expected to attend the charter banquet of the newly-established Clovis ABC club in Clovis tonight, Bob Rose, local extension chairman, said today.

T. H. Bachman, national ABC president from Champaign, Ill., is to present the charter. Douglas Orme, district governor from Big Spring, will also attend.

Former State Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock is to present the principal address.

The SPEBSQA of Lubbock will provide a program featuring the Plainsman quartet, the "Three Mugs and a Brush," and the "Golly Sisters." Mrs. G. P. Cunningham and Mrs. Robert Dennis.

B. Watkins of Lubbock will serve as master of ceremonies.

The new ABC club at Clovis was established under sponsorship of the local organization.

Rafiel said he was driven back by the flames and smoke. He went immediately to call the police and the fire departments.

Mrs. Minnie Levein, about 80, operator of the rooming house, refused to leave the burning building, police said, but she was carried to safety by James B. Cochran, 34, who noticed the flames from a restaurant across the street.

Three hose companies extinguished the fire. Damage was estimated by firemen at $1,500 to the building and $500 to the furnishings.

Texas Role Boosted

Two Texas labor leaders also commented. W. J. Harris, president of the AFL State Federation of Labor, said labor is "going to expect Congress to wipe the Taft-Hartley law off the books."

Texas CIO Director Robert Oliver called the results "a mandate for Congress to enact the whole new deal social program that President Truman campaigned for."

Former Missionary Claimed At Houston

HOUSTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Rites will be held tomorrow for Harry G. Romig, who for 40 years was a missionary in China.

Romig, 73, died at his home here late yesterday. He was a member of the Presbyterian church, and his missionary duties had been directed by the church.

Surviving are his wife, one daughter, and four sons, one of whom is now a minister in Kiangsu, China.

Mrs. Claude De Van Watts, state W. C. T. U. president, charged that "both the president of the University of Texas and the dean of women have broken faith with the parenthood of Texas." She said the "whole picture is a disgrace and most deplorable to the state of Texas."

The W. C. T. U. president said she had not talked to Dr. Painter about the incident.

"However," she said, "I'd like very much to talk to him—and may."

Dr. Painter said he did drink some beer but added that "it was just in fun and part of a charity stunt."

The fund, incidentally, was $20 richer.

New Deal

faces among the Republicans.

Taft and Martin are likely to figure that the battered GOP's best chance for a comeback in 1950 rests with making Mr. Truman look bad on his campaign promises.

The President made the Republican-controlled 80th Congress the top issue in his campaign, calling it that "awful," "second worst" and "idiot" Congress.

Now his party has control by an apparent 260 to 174 margin over the Republicans in the House (there is one minor party member) and a certain 54 to 42 edge in the Senate.

Whether Mr. Truman can get much more in the way of legislation out of such a Democratic-controlled Congress remains to be seen.

Southerners Are Back

Southern Democrats who have never been too enthusiastic about some of his policies will be back in the saddle as chairmen of many of the important committees.

They may have a new respect for Mr. Truman as a political windmill who can chop down the opposition at the ballot boxes. But a lot of them think the President carried southern states simply because he was the Democratic candidate and not because—for instance—he advocated repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

Mr. Truman won all but four Dixie states in the face of his proposals to legislate against race segregation and to strengthen other civil rights.

This probably won't stop at least 21 southern members from joining in a filibuster if any such proposals get to the floor of the Senate. Senator Pepper (D-Fla) is an in-and-outer in the filibuster camp.

Must Fight Labor Law

To satisfy the labor support which helped him carry some of the big industrial states, Mr. Truman is committed to proposing repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

But many Democrats who rode back into office with him would have to turn political hand springs to go along on that one.

And the Republicans who didn't have to run or who came back are not necessarily convinced that a vote for the Taft-Hartley act was fatal to those who didn't return.

The Republicans were more inclined to think they lost the election because midwestern and western farmers were afraid a change in administration might hurt their prospects for future government price supports, reclamation services and other benefits.

That may be reflected in the development of a more solid bipartisan farm bloc in Congress in the next two years.

Attention For Labor

Labor, too, will get more attention—if that is possible.

The AFL Labor's League for Political Education had an almost perfect record in calling its shots in the Senate races.

Nine Republicans it opposed, including seven incumbents, were flattened by the Truman-driven steam roller and only two of the league's endorsed candidates failed to make the grade. They are Frank Hook, Michigan Democrat, and Archibald S. Alexander, New Jersey Democrat.

President William Green of the AFL said the people had "repudiated the miserable record of the 80th Congress."

County Voting Returns Slow

All except three large election boxes—at Junior High school, K. Carter and Roscoe Wilson schools—had been accounted for by 2 p. m. in official returns of the general election.

But there was no definite indication at that time—43 hours after the polls closed Tuesday afternoon—when the unreported boxes would be "in."

Others apport Today

Two other large boxes reported today, No. 1, in the southwest corner of the courthouse, broke down its 1,060 votes at midmorning. No. 6-A, Senior High school, turned in results of its 787 votes early this afternoon.

Based upon a 2 p. m. tabulation of results of 23 precincts complete out of the 26 in Lubbock county, the following results for president and for U. S. senator show the trend:

For president: Truman (D) 8996; Dewey (R) 2008; Thurmond (SR) 885; Watson (Proh) 15; Wallace (Prog) 27; Thomas (S) 3.

Causing Windy Weather

The low pressure system was draining the air from the Gulf, causing mild, windy weather over all of Texas except the northwest portion.

A large high pressure system centered over Oregon, composed of cold, dry air, was responsible for the cooler temperatures and shift in wind direction in areas reached by the front.

The cool front was expected to move across the state during the day.

No rain was reported anywhere in the state today, and none had fallen during the last 24 hours.

Minimum overnight temperatures ranged from 49 at Amarillo to 72 at Brownsville, while Yesterday's maximum readings included the extremes of 70 at Amarillo and 89 at Dallas.

Showers Are Expected

The forecast called for partly cloudy skies today, with fair skies in West Texas tomorrow. A few showers were expected in the Panhandle this afternoon, with cooler temperatures over the entire western portion of the state tonight.

Showers were expected east of the Pecos river tonight.

Cooler temperatures and scattered showers were forecast for the extreme northwest part of East Texas this afternoon, the west and central portions tonight and the extreme east portion early Friday.

Weather has been usually warm for this time of year the last two days on the South Plains. Wednesday's maximum was 79 degrees, about 11 degrees above normal. At 9:30 o'clock this morning, temperature was 64 degrees, seven degrees higher than at the same time Wednesday.

NAVY PLANE WITH 12 ABOARD MISSING

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 4. (U.P.)—A four-engine Navy plane with 12 men aboard is missing off Port Moller on the northern coast of the Alaska peninsula, the Seattle Coast Guard said today.

The BY4Y-2 Privateer left Kodiak at 9:57 a. m. PST. yesterday on a navigation flight to St. Paul island in the Bering sea. The plane gave its position at 5:05 p. m. as in the Bristol bay area, approaching Port Moller.

$50,000 Blaze Hits Dry Cleaning Plant

ARLINGTON, Tex., Nov. 4 (U.P.)—Investigators searched for the origin of a fire today that caused an estimated $50,000 in damages to a laundry and dry cleaning establishment.

Fire Chief A. B. Cribbs said that the major part of the downtown business district was threatened yesterday until assistance arrived and extra units succeeded in holding the fire in the gutted building.

Cleaning solvent caught fire while the drier was whirling and the flames scattered over the entire building, Cribbs said.

Firemen from Grand Prairie and Handley assisted volunteer firemen in bringing the blaze under control.

Man Collides With Wife; Both Injured

Ralls Youth Injured In Auto-Bike Mishap

Tommie Dean Martin, 13, of Ralls, suffered a chest injury when the bicycle he was riding collided with an automobile at a street intersection at the Church of Christ in Ralls at 8:05 a. m. today.

The youth was taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital, where x-rays were taken to determine the extent of his injuries. His condition was not thought to be serious.

Young Martin's bicycle collided with a 1946 Ford coach driven by Callie Anderson Preston, 48, operator of a Ralls laundry, highway patrolmen reported. The car was going north on a paved street when it struck the bicycle, which was going east on an unimproved street.

Leland Hart of Floyd county a message from the state highway patrol at Big Spring to effect that patrolmen were holding an 18-year-old youth in connection with recovery of five typewriters taken from the schools system in Floydada about a week ago.

The suspect was quoted as saying he bought the machines from a man in another town.

Lubbock police want to question the youth in connection with the recent hijacking of Dink's cafe here, since his general description tallies with the gunman described by several witnesses.

Thefts At Plainview

Police arrested a 23-year-old negro woman for Big Spring, who want to question her in connection with theft of property there.

Plainview sheriff's department reported burglary and theft there of much property, including much clothing, pearls, silverware, tires and tubes, tools, motor oil, 16 boxes of shotgun shells and 15 boxes of rifle shells, and permanent type antifreeze.

The sheriff's department had been informed Wednesday of a burglary of Fair hardware, at 806 Main, and theft of $135 in money and other properties. V. E. Skains said a tool box, containing the money and a wrist watch, receipts and other papers was taken, as well as two wrist watches from the display window of the place.

Case Is Taken

A daring burglar last night removed a screen from a bedroom window at 1506-B Ave. T, took two purses from a bed inside and escaped with about $29 in cash—all while six persons were visiting in the next room with the connecting door open.

Police, informed of the burglary by A. A. Welch, found that the burglary was discovered as some of the persons visiting the home were ready to leave.

One of the purses, minus its money, was found in the alley behind the house, police said.

Lubbock Men Fined

L. D. Wall, about 42, and Fred Norton, 55, both Lubbock men, were fined $150 and county court costs Wednesday on guilty pleas of liquor law violation, after County Attorney John Steele had set up prior convictions on the two and asked for the enhanced penalty.

Easter Thompson, Lubbock negro woman, was fined $100 and costs on a charge of liquor law violation, Steele said.

Bond of $1,000 was posted by James Hayes, charged with theft by bailee of a typewriter. The complaint was sworn to by Margaret Bandy before Assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr.

A person listed on police reports as Mrs. West reported a burglary Wednesday afternoon of a house at 1011 Ave. L, in which a gold chain necklace and earrings, total value $10, were taken.

A butane bottle was stolen from the 2813 East Ave. G residence of Azzih Nichols, she informed police.

bonds, because the people of this community are for the schools and the school children." Both bankers said "we should be happy we are living in a community which is growing so fast that school expansions are continually required."

Mrs. T. F. Wiesen, president of the federation of Parent-Teacher associations here, said her organization already is on record as approving the bond issue. She said P-TA-ers have petitions and are circulating them. Other petitions are in circulation downtown and will be placed before all civic clubs next week.

Mrs. Allie M. Dyer said business and professional women of Lubbock are "100 per cent for the schools," and would push the bond issue and George P. Kuykendall said "just let the people know the needs and there will be no question of their voting the bonds."

That the school system is growing more rapidly now than ever before was brought out by Superintendent Matthews. "While the average growth of the school population whs about 300 per year for the eight years preceding 1947, last year and this year showed an increase of two and three times that many."

He said there are 900 more children enrolled in school today than there were a year ago.

Mrs. James Allen's Article Published

Mrs. James G. Allen, assistant professor of journalism at Texas Technological college, is author of an article on "Peanuts Brought Soil Blowing," in the November Texas edition of The Progressive Farmer, published at Dallas.

In the article, Mrs. Allen told how Hockley and Terry county farmers have worked to prevent soil blowing. Six years ago, Hockley county farmers planted about 10,000 acres of peanuts. The article quoted AAA Secretary J. W. Evans in the statement that the next spring "the land took off, and we're still wondering where it went."

Problem Of Public Health Is Discussed At Kiwanis Meeting

A long range public health program for Lubbock (city and county), which was described as "a problem possibly greater" than that of public school housing, was outlined briefly by Dr. R. C. Douglas, Lubbock physician and president of the Lubbock-Crosby County Medical Society, at the luncheon of the Kiwanis club today at Hotel Lubbock.

The doctor's reference to the school problem followed remarks by Geo. P. Kuykendall concerning petitions for a school bond election to provide more school housing.

Health Council Favored

Dr. Douglas said the medical profession favors a city-county health council that would be representative of various civic organizations and service clubs, and under the program he would segregate welfare and care of indigent people from the general public health program. The two, he said, represent two separate fields of effort.

The program would have "a first class man of stature" to direct the public health program through an adequate staff containing at least three nurses. And in the organization also would be one person responsible for the care of indigents.

Another step would be revision of health laws in the city and county, to meet changing needs, and a public health center that would invite cooperation, and correlate efforts of various agencies.

Public Has Problem

He said the medical profession will carry its part of such a program, but that "the problem is not one for the medical profession, but for John Q. Citizen."

A brief program was given by a group of Girl Scout Brownies under direction of Mrs. Robert L. Stewart, as a part of international friendship week.

Those attending the luncheon were given opportunity to sign a petition for $1,250,000 school bond election, following explanation of the school housing problem by Kuykendall.

Club President L. E. Davis announced that next week's meeting, on Armistice day, will be held at the O. L. Slaton Junior High school at Thirty-second and Ave. Q, when the school's choral club will render a program following lunch in the cafeteria there.

Dr. Allen T. Stewart was program chairman. Invocation was by Dr. Joseph J. Copeland, Denton Presbyterian minister, who is speaking here this week as part of religious emphasis week at Texas Tech college.

Federal Judge Allen B. Janney, trying a case at Corpus Christi, announced in court that Dewey had conceded the election and offered to buy coffee for attorneys and court attendants. But James V. Allred, a Democratic leader in Texas and one of the attorneys, insisted on paying for the coffee. "The election result made me love everybody," Allred said.

An FBI agent in Fort Worth heard laughter coming from a federal grand jury room and investigated. He found that Mabel Gouldy, Star-Telegram reporter, had been admitted into the room to announce that "Dewey's conceded."

After making her announcement, Mabel said: "I've told you what I know. Now, what are you gentlemen doing?" That's what started the laughter.

In Dallas, an attorney visited newspaper offices, carrying a lantern in one hand and a roll of money in another. "I'm looking for a Republican," said this modern Diogenes, "and I'm offering a reward."

In the same city, a little girl told her mother that at school, Wednesday, the two most important men in history were discussed. "And who were they, dear?" mother asked. "Doak Walker and Mr. Truman," the little girl replied.

Here are some of the sayings that went the rounds:

"Never Dewey today what you can put off four years."

"Gallup and Roper know all the wrong people."

"If all the polls were laid end to end, they would reach from here to a wrong conclusion."

Before the election people sang: "Don't sit on the grass, Harry, it's Dewey."

But there's a fellow in Parker county who probably didn't get a bang out of the election.

He showed up at a Weatherford polling place Tuesday and spent 10 minutes reading the king-sized ballot.

Then he handed the ballot back to the election judge.

"You can have this back," he said. "I don't see anyone I want to vote for."

Bad Weather Slows Flight Of Sick Girl

WESTOVER AIRFORCE BASE, Mass., Nov. 4 (AP)—Bad weather slowed the mercy flight carrying a four-year-old Texas girl to Boston in a life or death mission against leukemia.

The Air Force here reported that a C-47 which took off yesterday from San Antonio was forced to land at Greenville Air Force base in South Carolina and was still weathered in there this morning.

The girl, Brenda Joyce Perkins, was accompanied by her father, Staff Sgt. Austin L. Perkins. The plane carried plasma for any needed transfusions during the flight.

However, Clark has started several important anti-trust proceedings lately and may want to remain on the job to see them through, it is said.

Shape Up Given

This is the way the potential absentees shape up:

Marshall—As administrator of a bipartisan foreign policy, he refrained from political activity, and was out of the country during much of the campaign.

Forestal—He announced early in the campaign his desire to remain outside the contest because of the delicate nature of his job.

Krug—An able administrator, the Interior chief has made some enemies among presidential associates who accuse him of taking the campaign too lightly.

Sawyer—A former Democratic national committeeman from Ohio, Sawyer was named to the cabinet shortly before the campaign got underway. But his lack of campaign fervor was said to have disappointed Mr. Truman. It is believed that he will not be urged to stay on.

New Posts Possible

There is a possibility that two new cabinet posts will be created during the next four years—Secretary of Welfare and Secretary of Public Works. Mr. Truman suggested the welfare post in his state of the union message last January, but Congress did nothing about it. There was also much speculation, but no action, on the public works position.

Two Actions Of Republican Congress Are Blamed For Loss Of Farm Vote To Demos

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Two actions of the Republican-controlled 80th Congress stand out today as major factors in the surprising election support given President Truman by Mid-Western farmers.

These acts were:

1. Repeal of government's authority to provide emergency grain storage facilities under the price support program.

2. The Senate's refusal to ratify an international wheat agreement designed to assure growers an export market at favorable prices for the next five years.

The main opposition argument was that the government should get out of the storage and grain export business.

Stassen Made Statement

Apparently these acts went a long way toward arousing farmer doubts about what a Republican administration might or might not do to prevent another farm depression.

And this uneasiness developed despite the fact that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey had pledged support of New Deal and war-born programs to protect farmers against low prices.

Farm belt confidence in the GOP was not helped by an early campaign statement issued by former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota after a visit with Dewey. That statement was interpreted by many farmers as blaming the Truman administration's farm programs for high food costs.

With their prices already on a down-swing, many growers undoubtedly recalled the farm depression of the '20s and early '30s and what the Republicans and Democrats did about it then.

Farmers Left GOP

Republican presidents Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover vetoed farm-aid legislation. This led many traditionally Republican farmers to desert their party and vote for Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Democrats in 1932.

Reversing the Coolidge-Hoover stand, Roosevelt used the powers of government to aid farmers.

So in this hour of new concern over their future welfare, many farmers apparently decided to stick with the party which came to their rescue in their last depression.

Even before the votes were cast, Democratic leaders reported a sharp swing from Dewey to Mr. Truman in the Mid-Western farm belt during the last ten days of the campaign.

Brannan Campaigned

In any event, the Democrats must give some credit to President Truman's freshman secretary of agriculture—Charles F. Brannan—for their farm belt victory.

In a vigorous campaign tour that literally took him to the barnyards, Brannan told farmers that the GOP Congress had, in the storage matter, tied the government's hands in carrying out price guarantee programs.

How can you trust the Republicans, Brannan asked the farmers, to do right by you if they get in power?

Republicans made little effort to answer. They apparently felt confident of the farm vote. Since the congressional election of 1938 there had been a gradual but substantial return of farmers to the party.

GOP Missed Argument

Indeed, the Republicans failed to take advantage of one good argument at their disposal.

In its closing hours, the GOP Congress passed a long range farm bill continuing high wartime price supports for another year. The Truman administration had recommended lower support to become effective at the end of this year.

One Democratic farm leader said few farmers knew this and that the Republicans had done little to enlighten them.

Some farmers undoubtedly were influenced, too, by a fight made against farmer cooperatives by some Republican congressmen two years ago and again last session. The leader in that fight, Rep. Walter C. Ploeser of Missouri, had described the farm co-ops as "Communistic." The Democrats, in their campaign, cautioned that the fight might be re-opened if the Republicans got into control.

Ploeser bowed to his Democratic opponent Tuesday.

Leaning Tower Has New Counterpart

ONTARIO, Calif., Nov. 4 (AP) Downtown Ontario has its counterpart of the leaning tower, today. A construction crew worked through the night to prop up a leaning three-story building which threatened to collapse momentarily.

The 50 by 150 foot structure began to creak and settle to port yesterday, frightening clerks and shoppers in a dime store and residents of the upper stories. Amid a shower of plaster from walls and ceilings, all got out safely.

The cause, said police: enthusiastic workmen excavating for a new store next door dug a bit too deep and close to the foundation of the old building.

Officers, roping off the area as a precaution, hoped that no hayfever victim would cut loose with a sneeze.

Rites Are Set For Brownfield Veteran

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 4 (Spl.)—Reburial rites for Pvt. Gilbert C. Morris, who survived the Bataan "Death March," but died aboard ship shortly after his liberation from a Japanese prisoner of war camp, will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday at the First Baptist church.

Rev. A. J. Franks, pastor of the Northside Baptist church, will officiate, assisted by Rev. A. A. Brian, pastor of the First Baptist church, and Rev. Clifford Harris of Denver City. Burial will be in the Terry County Memorial cemetery under the direction of the Brownfield Funeral home.

Military honors will be accorded by members of Howard-Henson Post 269, American Legion, and Legionnaires will serve as pallbearers. Pvt. Morris, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Cardwell of Denver City, died Oct. 17, 1945 while en route home after his liberation from a Japanese prisoner of war camp. He was buried on Guam.

He was born March 18, 1920, and prior to his enlistment in the army had spent most of his life in Brownfield. He was a graduate of the Brownfield High school.

Besides his parents, he is survived by one sister, Mrs. Dalphine Benson of Moscow, Idaho; one brother, Wilbert Leo Morris of Kermit; two half-sisters, Mrs. Perla Renner of Salinas, Calif., and Georgia Ann Cardwell of Denver City, and one half-brother, Olen Cardwell, also of Denver City. The survivors also include two uncles, Leo Travis and Virgil Travis, both of Brownfield.

Children Burned As Mother Sang Prayer

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP) — While a negro woman was singing the Lord's prayer for neighbors downstairs, her three small children and their cousin died in a flash fire which destroyed a Harlem apartment last night.

Smelling smoke, Dolores Jones broke off her song and rushed upstairs to find flames had trapped the children.

Her three children and a child of her sister, Claire Rogers, were found dead after firemen extinguished the blaze.

The sisters had been marketing while the children — from three months to six years old — played in the apartment where the two families lived.

Small Prospect Seen For Flat Return To Wagner Labor Law

By HAROLD W. WARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—Whatever the fate of a Taft-Hartley act repeal drive in Congress, there appears little prospect of a flat return to the new deal Wagner Labor law.

Union leaders claiming—and receiving—credit for a major share in President Truman's upset election victory may not be completely happy over the final result.

For one thing, there is the real question of whether the new Democratic Congress will be in a mood to wipe out the Taft-Hartley act.

For another, it seems likely that Mr. Truman—despite his and the Democratic platform's pledge for outright repeal—will want some legal weapons for dealing with special labor-management fights, such as those that affect the public welfare.

Thus, while the President is certain to ask for repeal, he may accompany that request or follow it with another for less sweeping, and what he has described as nonpunitive, measures for dealing with certain labor situations.

The President on several occasions has made use of the strike-banning court injunction powers in the Taft-Hartley act. The most notable ones were aginst John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers.

Asks For Machinery

Nearly two years ago Mr. Truman asked Congress for "effective" machinery to control nationwide strikes involving the public interest. He called for a comprehensive study leading up to the assembly of that kind of machinery.

In order to get rid of some parts of the Taft-Hartley act which they particularly dislike, labor leaders conceivably might be willing to accept certain other sections — particularly if it looked like Congress would balk at outright repeal. That could lead to a compromise between Mr. Truman, congress leaders and the union chiefs who helped return him to the White House.

Within his own official family, one of the most tireless campaigners for Mr. Truman was his hard-hitting labor secretary, Maurice J. Tobin, former governor of Massachusetts.

Plan Is Reported

Among reported plans for packing more power into the stripped-down labor portfolio is one to bring the U. S. Employment service, the Children's bureau and the Conciliation Service under Labor department control.

A move also is being pressed to put the National Labor Relations board, the National Mediation board and related labor agencies under Tobin's supervision.

Mr. Truman likely will seek action too on his proposal to create a welfare department to handle the social security benefits system. He repeatedly asked Congress to increase old age payments and to extend coverage to more workers. If the new Congress grants this request it might call for creation of the separate welfare agency to handle the expansion.

If this plan goes through, the Children's bureau probably would be shifted from the Federal Security agency to a new welfare department rather than to the Labor department.

All such labor programs would require more funds than were granted by the 80th Congress. Labor department officials were cheered especially by the fact that in Tuesday's election sweep, the Democrats not only regained congress control but in so doing received the chairmanships of the fund-approving appropriations committees.

Work Is Planned On Building At Tech

Plans for the $25,000 conditioning job to be done on the building which will house the cotton research program at Texas Technological college are taking definite shape, though no contracts have been signed, Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president, said Wednesday.

The two story building, located west of the Textile Engineering building in the campus, was constructed of steel girders and sheet metal in 1946 with money from the cotton research commission, but there was insufficient funds to complete the building on the inside at that time. Present plans call for insulation, painting, repair of roofing and flooring, more extensive plumbing and heating, and the installation of a humidity control system.

The cotton research commission was established by the state legislature in 1946, under the direction of a committee composed of Dr. Wiggins, Dr. T. S. Painter, president of Texas University, and Dr. Gibb Gilchrest, president of Texas A. and M. A separate phase of the research is carried on by each of the three colleges. The ultimate goal of program is to discover and test ways of helping Texas produce cotton to compete more favorably with that grown in foreign markets.

Drew Pearson Explains How Truman Won Amazing Victory

People Again Sided With The Underdog

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—Harry Truman, it's now conceded, was his own best poll-taker. He made the faces of Dr. Gallup, Elmo Roper and the Crossley people look very red.

Talking to his friend Morris Ernst, a short time ago, Truman remarked that the political pollsters would blush on the day after election.

Ernst, though one of the few who really expected Truman to win, half jokingly asked the President what he would do after he was defeated.

"I'm not going to be defeated," replied Truman. "But if I should be, I would go into the poll business and put Dr. Gallup and the others out of business."

Here are this columnist's ideas on why Harry Truman won out over Thomas E. Dewey in the modern amazing version of the race between the tortoise and the hare:

1. The American people admire a man with courage even though they don't always agree with him. Truman didn't duck a single issue, though some of them were so tough they caused bitter rebellion inside his party. Dewey sidestepped most thorny issues, tried to please both wings of his party.

Truman Was Underdog

2. The American people side with the underdog, don't like to see the powerful guy kick the litle fellow around. Up until midnight, Nov. 2, Truman was the underdog in this race.

3. A man can win with labor against him, or the farmers, or the housewives. But he can't win with a large section of labor and the farmers and the housewives—all against him.

4. Dewey didn't alienate these three groups, but the 80th Congress did. The American public in 1946 had been honestly, hungrily wanting a change; so they voted the 80th Congress in. But a two-year glimpse of that GOP-controlled, lobby-ridden Congress made most people shudder.

In brief, the Republicans had their heaven-sent chance with the 80th Congress and they blithely threw it away.

The American people are smart. You can't fool 'em,' as Abraham Lincoln so historically noted. And here are some of the things about the 80th Congress that turned their stomachs:

The Lobbies Helped Truman

The big tax lobby—How Republicans on the Ways and Means committee put Wall street lawyers on a special committee to write the next tax laws—in favor of the big-bracket boys.

The big grain lobby—How three Argentine and European grain combines hired a Kansas City ex-Congressman to sabotage government grain storage and government grain purchases in the new farm bill.

The manufacturers lobby—How the reciprocal trade act, the teachers' pay act, and especially all attempts at price control were killed by the big-business boys. How Rep. Charley Halleck, GOP leader in the House, constantly consorted with the National Association of Manufacturers. Also how he drove around in two new Cadillac cars.

The real estate lobby — How, with millions of people pounding the pavement looking for homes, the lobby cleverly and repeatedly blocked public housing, but put across government subsidies for its own real estate ventures.

The Parnell Thomas grab bag —How the man who called on others to be good Americans stooped to the un-American practice of keeping soldiers out of combat for campaign contributions and required clerks and stenographers to kick back their salaries to his pocket.

Spare yourself and prove your enemies—How various GOP leaders, including Senators Jenner of Indiana and Ferguson of Michigan grabbed headlines probing others, but ran for cover when somebody put the bee on them.

Then there was the shameless tidelands oil lobby, the liquor lobby, and various lesser lobbies, all in a rush to "get theirs" and all brazenly welcomed to the bosom of the 80th Congress.

This writer has watched Washington for nearly a quarter of a century and never was a position of public trust more flagrantly flouted. The public knew this—and voted accordingly.

They Deserted The Ship

They probably won't be round the White House anymore:

Bernard Baruch — The elder statesman got an appeal from Truman to serve on a committee to help the Democratic party, but declined. Truman wrote back a stinging letter reminding Bernie that he had appointed his brother as ambassador, always listened to his advice and that friendship was a two-way street.

Kenneth Royall — The hulking Secretary of the Army, sometimes called "Dumbo," went out of his way in an interview to describe Truman's election as not necessary

Estate Willed To Pitt Up For Sale

LONDON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Burton Pynsent, the estate that 18th century statesman William Pitt inherited from a stranger, is up for sale.

Pitt was willed the Somerset county property by Sir William Pynsent, an eccentric who didn't know the statesman personally but also left Pitt 3,000 pounds ($12,000) a year.

ODD TWINS—These twins, Roger (left) and Mary Plunkett, were born six days apart at Sydney, Australia. Roger is the older. Their mother died two days after Mary's birth.

BUILDING PERMITS LEAD LIST

Lubbock Business Condition One Of Brightest In State

Business barometers for Lubbock made many significant gains in September, making Lubbock's business situation one of the brightest in the state, the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas reported Wednesday.

Heading the parade of gains was building permits, which more than doubled from August to September to total $2,023,504 for September. This total more than doubled year-earlier figures also.

Clothing Sales Climb

Retail sales of independent stores climbed five per cent in September, to stand nine per cent above September 1947.

Cooler weather brought about consumer interest in fall and winter merchandise, and this increase was felt especially by department and apparel stores throughout the state. Department and apparel store sales in Lubbock gained 44 per cent from August to September, bettering the statewide rise of 27 per cent. Lubbock's increase in sales also topped the seasonally-expected gain for September. Despite the excellent showing over the month, however, sales dipped fractionally in a year's time.

Postal receipts in Lubbock totaled $51,993—14 per cent above August levels and 17 per cent above September 1947 levels. Receipts in other parts of the state gained only eight per cent over the month, but 19 per cent during the year.

Bank debits to individual accounts in Lubbock scored a 11-per-cent gain in September to better September 1947 by seven per cent. Bank debits totaled

New Oil Field Indicated In Scurry Area

Standard Oil company of Texas appears to have opened a new oil field from the Pennsylvanian lime, in northwest Scurry county, nine miles northwest of the town of Snyder.

That concern's No. 1 Jessie Brown, located 1,880 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 440, block 97, H&TC survey, flowed 30 barrels of 42.5 gravity oil in 60 minutes during a drillstem test of the Canyon lime zone of the Pennsylvanian at 6,261-72 feet.

The drill pipe unloaded some oil while it was being pulled, and the last four sands and a double of the drill pipe was filled with oil when they were pulled out and racked.

Production Estimated

Some observers estimated that the well produced a total of approximately 60 barrels of oil during the one hour the tool was open. That included the fluid flowed out that which was unloaded and also that which was recovered on the final breakdown.

The tool was open a total of one hour and 50 minutes for the drillstem test. Gas showed at the surface in three minutes.

Oil started flowing out in 44 minutes. It was turned to tanks six minutes later, and in the last hour of the test produced the 30 barrels of oil through a five-eighth inch bottom hole choke.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 750 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure, after 20 minutes was 1,400 pounds.

Second Test Expected

Operator has now cut a core from 6,272 feet to 6,287 feet, and at the time this report was prepared was coming out with that specimen.

It is expected that another test will be run shortly.

Shell Oil company, Inc., No. 1 Hawkins, south-central Gaines county discovery for the Devonian, 15 miles south and west of Seminole, continues to show for more production.

In a drillstem test at 10,378-428 feet, the recovery was 210 barrels of 30-gravity oil during the 60 minutes the tester was open.

During the 21 minutes operator was trying to close the tool a total of two barrels of oil cut mud and three barrels of oil was sloshed out at the top of the drill pipe.

Drilling Continues

Total fluid recovered from the one hour of testing was 210 barrels of 30-gravity oil. There was

WAC Of Tomorrow Will Be A Beauty

Rare, Streamline Figures Promised As Army Launches New Training Program

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—The WAC of tomorrow will be a crea ture of rare, streamlined beauty.

Not that the lady soldiers aren't sylph-like now; they'll just b more so.

A new deal is in the shuffle for them, and one day soon you'll se 'em marching in review, with "graceful and coordinated bodies, com petent in athletics and blessed with a fine sense of rhythm." That' what the Army says.

The Army didn't take any chances in putting this program int effect at Camp Lee, Va. It placed 1st Lt. Margaret E. Brewster, chie of the physical training branch at the camp, in charge.

There is a young lady who can set a fine example. She's a beaut herself. A brunette in her early 30's, stands 5 feet three inches tall i her Army shoes and weights 115 pounds.

The WAC program comes in three parts.

The first is body conditioning, "which will impart a knowledge of body mechanics." The idea is to improve the body in symmetry, flexibility and grace and correct defects in posture. Special emphasis will be placed on abdominal and foot exercises.

Will Develop Skills

A regular program of sports will be encouraged to develop skill in athletics and point up the importance of teamwork and good sportsmanship. There'll be archery, badminton, basketball, softball, tennis, volleyball, table tennis, speedball and swimming, according to the weather.

The rhythmic activities, according to the Army, will be on the WAC's own time. There will be folk and square dancing and basic steps such as the waltz, the polka and two-step.

Lt. Brewster, a native of Beatrice, Neb., has been to more colleges than most professors. She holds a bachelor of science degree from the University of Missouri and a master of science from Michigan. She also attended Christian college at Columbia, Mo., and the University of California. She is a physical education instructor in her own right, and taught at Indiana university in Bloomington. After a long tour of duty during the war, at home and in India, she left military service to return to the quiet life of a civilian.

Recalled To Duty

But she was recalled to active duty again to handle the new program.

The lieutenant practices what she teaches. She is out there every day, showing the girls how to keep the figure trim, the complexion beautiful.

When the gals take part in athletic games, our heroine is the leader—and the participant, showing 'em how. And she knows how. She's a fine swimmer and could

New Canal Through Mexico To Conned Oceans Is Proposed

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 4 (U.P.)—A new canal, tunneling through Mexican mountains to connect the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, has been proposed by a veteran professor of geology.

The scientist behind the plan, Prof. Emeritus William H. Hobbs of the University of Michigan geology department, says his canal would have three major advantages over the Panama Canal.

One, it would reduce the distance between ports on the east and west coasts of the United States by some 3,000 miles.

Two, there would be no vulnerable locks to be smashed by enemy bombs, and half of its 126 miles would be covered by impenetrable layers of solid rock.

Three, double lanes on the open part and "sidings" in the tunnels would provide two-way traffic.

Congress Will Consider

Hobbs, a spry, white-bearded scholar at the age of 84, says the plan will be taken under consideration by a committee of the 81st Congress. He is more enthusiastic about it than any of the other 200 subjects on which he has written books and studies. He says it would be the first ocean ship tunnel in the world.

The Panama Canal, even converted from a lock canal to a sea-level canal, would be insecure under attack and studies have indicated that once blocked it would require weeks to reopen," Hobbs says.

According to his plans, the tunnel across the Tehuantepec Peninsula in south-central Mexico can be completed with less time and money than it would take to level the Panama.

Briefly, Hobbs' canal would run from Puerto Mexico on the Atlantic coast to the Tehuantepec lagoon directly south on the Pacific.

Wider Than Panama

That is a distance of 126 miles. A quarter of the way on each end is across level coastal plains. The remaining 63 miles would burrow through the central range of mountains across Mexico's "wasp waist."

Large constructional and ventilation shafts would chop the tunnel into eight small tunnels, the longest one 14 miles. The "ship subway" would be 185 feet wide—75 feet more than the Panama Canal — and 185 feet high at the center peak of its sloping ceiling.

"Anything except some of the ships with extensive radar-radio masts would get through that," Hobbs says. "The top parts of the masts could be reassembled on the other side with the money saved in fuel.

"And the width would be satisfactory. The trend is toward long, narrow ships rather than wide ones."

Mountains Are Firm

Hobbs, a student of the tropics as well as Antarctic regions — where 100 miles of coastline was named for him—says the Mexican mountains are very firm and ideal for construction of the tunnel.

He figures it would take less than the 10-year job and $3,500,000,000 estimated for the Panama overhauling.

"And besides, we'd have two canals then," he adds.

Other features of the Hobbs' plan:

Oil fields being developed at the north end of the proposed site would provide excellent refueling facilities.

Decree Livens Up Moscow Composers

MOSCOW, Nov. 4. (AP)—Tikhon Khrennikov, writing in "Evening Moscow," said that nine months after the decree on music the composers of Moscow have considerably livened up. Since that time, he said, many compositions have been written in which have been noted trend towards realism, melody and simplicity.

"The period of reorganization in the Union of Composers," said Khrennikov, "may be considered completed. The first steps on the new path have been taken. There can be no doubt that Soviet musicians deeply and sincerely recognize all the importance of the problem placed before them by the party and government as well as by the Soviet people. They are fulfilling their duties."

Thurmond Considers Himself Democrat

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 4. (AP) — Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina still considers himself "a member of the Democratic party."

The States Rights Democratic presidential candidate yesterday reaffirmed his allegiance to the South Carolina Democratic party which he said would not be "dictated to" by National Democratic Chairman J. Howard McGrath.

Thurmond, who won 38 presidential electoral votes in Tuesday's general election, declared: "The members of the Democratic party of South Carolina operate our own Democratic party . . . Our party is not directed by Mr. McGrath nor will it take dictation from him."

McGrath recently recognized a pro-Truman group of Democrats in the state as the "official Democratic party of South Carolina."

Plans To Sell Play Tickets Discussed

The Lubbock 20-30 club discussed plans for ticket sales for the Hollywood production, "Voice of the Turtle," at its meeting Wednesday night at Lubbock hotel.

The 30 members in attendance decided that advance ticket sales to the Nov. 17 production to be given in Lubbock Senior High school auditorium would be handled with each individual member of the organization acting as salesman. All advance sales tickets are of the exchange type and may be traded for reserved seats three days before the presentation date.

Aunt May's Boarding House In Mississippi Still Gives You All You Want For Two Bits

TUPELO, Miss., Nov. 4 (NEA) —At Mrs. May Dickerson's boarding house in Tupelo you can get breakfast, dinner or supper—all you can eat—for 25 cents, including meat.

That two-bit price isn't a 10-day special. That's been Aunt May's price for 40 years, and probably will be as long as the "rooms and board" sign stays outside her big frame house two blocks from the business district.

There isn't any doorbell. You just open the door and walk into an entrance hall. In the front of it are a few chairs and an old sofa. In the rear are two dining tables—one that seats eight, the other seven. And they just about fill that end of the hall. The kitchen is the adjoining room to the right.

We just walked on into the kitchen. Aunt May, a rather stout woman with a lot of iron-gray hair on top of her head, was standing at the stove in a cloud of steam ,stirring something in a big white pot.

We asked if it would be all right if we'd come back to dinner. She said certainly. She's open to everybody, transients as well as her regulars. But those who pop in have to wait till they can be seated .The regulars, the working people, have to eat and get back to their jobs.

At 11:45 we returned. Twenty minutes later her regular boarders came rushing up from all directions—clerks and shopkeepers, skilled workmen, girls and women from a nearby dress-manufacturing plant, truck drivers.

We waited for "second table," and were a bit apprehensive. All those eating at the first table looked well fed. There might not be much left for us. The food was

When our turn came, though, we found our fears were unfounded. Aunt May and Mrs. Carolyn Jones, a neighbor who helps serve, took the almost empty platters to the kitchen and came back with steaming refills. And here's what we had:

Pot roast and dressing, pinto beans, candied yams, Irish potatoes, lettuce, turnips, congealed fruit salad, spaghetti, pickles, coffee or iced tea, cornbread and white bread, rice pudding.

It was good old-fashioned country cooking, too, and we ate all we could hold. And still Aunt May and Mrs. Jones kept shoving those platters toward us.

All for two bits.

How does Aunt May do it?

She shrugged. "I just manage, that's all. I hire some help, but I do a lot of the work myself. I have a little garden and I buy everything except meat in wholesale quantities."

And then she laughed. "Besides, I'm not trying to get rich. I haven't anybody but myself (she is a widow without children), and I don't need a lot of money. As long as I make about $100 a month for my work, I'm satisfied."

INSECTS, NOT FIRE

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Firemen found the "smoke" but no fire when they reached St. Louis Church. A great cloud of insects, swarming about the steeple, appeared so much like smoke that a citizen had turned in an alarm.

Rites Set At Tahoka For Victim Of War

TAHOKA, Nov. 4 (Special) — Church and military rituals were to be read here this afternoon for the late Cpl. William B. Cook, former O'Donnell and Big Spring resident who died of wounds June 16, 1945, at Chaville, France.

He farmed 12 years at O'Donnell, moving to Big Spring in 1936.

Cpl. Cook was 38 when injured while serving with the Air Transport command in France, family members said. The body, buried in France, was disinterred and brought to New York aboard ship.

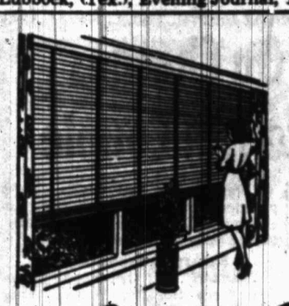

Funeral services were to be read at 3 p. m. by Rev. C. T. Aly, pastor, at Tahoka Baptist church, with Rev. Homer M. Sheats of the Lubbock Assembly of God church, assisting. Burial was to be in Tahoka cemetery, after a military service by O'Donnell and Tahoka Veterans of Foreign Wars posts.

Survivors are: The widow, formerly Miss Angie Simmons of Seagraves, the mother, Mrs. Ida Cook of O'Donnell; two sisters, Mrs. H. A. Dial of Meadow and Mrs. T. Ellis of Los Angeles; and five brothers, R. F. Cook of Lorenzo, V. E. Cook of Meadow, E. A. Cook of Tahoka, and H. L. and W. H. Cook, both of O'Donnell.

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there has been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Texas druggist for four ounces of Barcentrate. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonsful twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Barcentrate is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Barcentrate.

Ex-Convict Held On Charges Of Slaying Wisconsin Couple

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Nov. 4. (AP)—Marshall Johnson, a 32-year-old ex-convict, was held in jail without bond after his arraignment last night on two charges of first degrees murder in the slaying of a teen-age couple Oct. 23.

Before his arraignment Sheriff Lloyd Thompson said that Johnson had signed a statement admitting he fatally shot Raymond Smith, 18, and Gertrude Baumann, 17. Their bullet-ridden bodies were found Oct. 24 on a golf course. An autopsy disclosed the girl had been raped.

Johnson, an Eau Claire roofer, pleaded innocent to the two charges. His preliminary examination was set for Nov. 17.

Returned From Seattle

Sheriff Thompson said Johnson related in his statement that he shot the young couple when he encountered them as he returned from a hunting trip. He shot Smith, who was a bank clerk, during a scuffle and then shot Miss Baumann.

Thompson said Johnson had promised to take officers to a pool where he said he had thrown his gun.

Police said Johnson has been arrested several times since 1933 on counts of burglary and has served three times in Wisconsin state prison.

Ten Have Dates With Federal Grand Jury

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4. (AP)—Ten reluctant witnesses have new dates with a federal grand jury investigating Communist activities.

The 10 refused to answer certain questions last week, were cited for contempt of court by Federal Judge Peirson M. Hall and ordered to jail Oct. 26.

Eight were jailed until released on $500 bail each yesterday, pending determination of their appeal in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at San Francisco. Two women had remained at liberty while arranging for care of their children.

Of the 10, six men were subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury again today. The four women were ordered to appear Nov. 10.

Both Men Former Members Of U. S. Senate

Truman-Barkley Team Oldest Ever To Take Biggest Prize

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—By outrunning Republican rivals 31 years younger, the Truman-Barkley team became the oldest presidential sweep-stakes victors in U. S. history.

At 70, Alben W. Barkley will be the oldest of the nation's vice-presidents, while 64-year-old Harry S. Truman is the third oldest man elected chief executive—right behind William Henry Harrison, 68, and James Buchanan, 65.

Both From Senate

The Democratic triumph also marks the first time two former Senate colleagues teamed up to cop the White House prize. Back in 1888 the Republicans took the honors with a congressional combine when Senator Benjamin Harrison was elected president with Rep. Levi Morton as his running mate.

Two other senatorial graduates—James Garfield and Warren G. Harding—moved into the White House; but neither of their partners had served on Capitol Hill.

Despite Thomas E. Dewey's second consecutive defeat in the presidential contest, records show that a governorship — especially of New York—is the best springboard to the nation's top spot.

Several From New York

Of the 16 men named No. 1 citizen since the Civil war, half have been governors, and were from New York—Franklin D. Roosevelt; Theodore Roosevelt and Grover Cleveland.

Five other occupants of the New York state house won presidential nominations—Dewey, Alfred E. Smith, Charles Evans Hughes, Samuel Tilden and Horatio Seymour.

Two other gubernatorial contenders who lost out were James M. Cox of Ohio and Alfred M. Landon of Kansas.

Two Ohio governors, Rutherford B. Hayes and William McKinley, were elected to the presidency, as were these other gubernatorial candidates: Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts and Andrew Johnson of Tennessee.

Model Plane Builders Will Organize Today

A model airplane builder's club, sponsored by the Lubbock Jaycees, will be organized at 7 o'clock tonight at the Lubbock Boys club, Ave. K and Twenty-third.

Reagan Howell, chairman of the Jaycee aviation committee, is to be one of the chief instructors.

Wednesday night, Don Steele, "Shorty" Irvin, James Carpenter, Fred Salmon, and Howell demonstrated planes before 166 boys at the club house. A movie, "Below Zero," was shown, in addition to a sport short and an installment of a serial movie.

Nation's Poll Takers Still Pouring Over Statistics To Find Errors In Prediction

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—The poll-takers were still combing through statistics today—trying to find out why their figures misled them into forecasting the election defeat of President Truman.

Latest comment from one of the country's major public opinion researchers came last night from Elmo Roper, director of the Fortune magazine poll.

"I don't know why I was wrong," he said.

Roper predicted on Sept. 9 that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey would get 52.2 per cent of the vote compared to 37.3 for Truman. He said then that a Dewey victory was so clearly indicated that no further surveys would be made.

Possiblities Suggested

"I could not have been more wrong," said Roper. "The thing that bothers me most is that at this moment I don't know why I was wrong. But I certainly propose to find out."

He suggested several "possibilities" that might have caused the mistake.

"Perhaps," he said, "the abnormally hight 15 per cent 'don't know' vote we received last August did not distribute equally to both major candidates as it has in the past, but that this time it all went to Truman."

Or it could have been, he added, "that the labor vote, brought out to the polls more quietly but more efficiently this time, turned the tables."

People For New Deal

"Or it might be that, as we found out in a poll done late in the campaign, the people are strongly pro-new deal and perhaps they see the objectives of the Roosevelt program imperiled," he said.

"Perhaps, but I don't know."

Earlier, Dr. George Gallup, whose American Institute of Public Opinion, predicted Dewey would get 49.6 per cent of the vote and Mr. Truman 44.5 per cent, said he believed an analysis of voting statistics would reveal the reason for the error.

He said the answer may also come from a further survey among voters.

Archibald Crossley, director of the Crossley poll, said the election results "clearly show what happens when one party gets out its vote and the other does not."

Voters Believed Apathetic

He said the Crossley poll, which forecast 49.9 per cent of the vote for Dewey and 44.9 for Truman, found voters were apathetic toward both candidates shortly before the election.

The public opinion polls, he said, may have "served to redouble democratic efforts to bring out the vote and may have created overconfidence among Republicans."

"Polls can and do register the temper of public opinion," he said, "but cannot infallibly predict how opinion will be depressed at the last minute in terms of relative turnout."

Father, Sons Attend College

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 4 (U.P.) — Joseph Frank Oglesby, 49, Clarksville, Tenn., packed up and went along with his two sons to college this fall.

Already the professors are telling the boys their Dad is "quite a stimulating pupil."

When Oglesby decided to enroll at the University of Tennessee with his sons, Joseph, jr., and Milton, he took the family to Knoxville in a trailer so they would have living quarters.

Mrs. Oglesby does the cooking and "trailer-keeping" while Dad sits in classes as a freshman with 21-year-old Milton. Both are planning a five-year course leading to masters' degrees in agriculture.

Joseph, jr., 22, helps Dad with his home work occasionally. He is a sophomore, a year ahead of his father and working toward the same degree.

All Were GI's

All three are attending college under the GI bill of rights. They all served in the Navy.

Oglesby, sr., served during both World Wars. In 1918 he was an aviation rigger. Last time he was an engineering draftsman with the bureau of ordnance.

Joseph, sr., shows his boys the way in extra-curricular activities. He acts as the master of ceremonies for a show broadcast by the university's radio station WJZM. Joe, jr., and Milton make it a family affair by holding down minor roles in the show, "Meetin' at Uncle Will's."

After they all graduate, the Oglesbys hope to run a farm together in Montgomery County, Tennessee.

Famed Couple Tells How For Bartenders

LONDON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Want to be a bartender par excellence? Here's how to go about it, according to Parisians Jean Lupoiu and Louis Lousson, famous cocktail concoctors, visiting London as guests of the British Bartenders' Guild:

Begin by scrubbing floors, learn the whole business of hotel-keeping, bone up at least seven languages, add the training of a diplomat, the honesty of a policeman, sufficient restraint never to join in a conversation unless invited—and always be a gentleman.

College Art Professor Quits Co-Eds For Cage Of Wildcats

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., Nov. 4 (U.P.) —A college art professor is leaving his co-eds this term for a cage of wild cats because he feels much safer with the animals.

"You know a tiger hates you," explains George J. Keller, art director at Bloomsburg State Teachers College. "But you never know about a girl student."

Keller is the owner of a wild animal act and is taking a year's leave of absence from the college to take the animals on a tour of fairs, sportsmen's shows and circuses.

Started With Cats

The gray-haired professor began his show days with an alley-cat circus when he was a boy. He and his friends kept the cats in a chicken-wire cage. "We'd shoot off blank cartridges so fast," he says, "our audiences couldn't tell whether the cats were trained or just frightened to death."

After time out for a degree and a teaching assignment at Columbia University, Keller was back in Bloomsburg, his home town, showing off Mexican lizards as Chinese dragons. He made enough to buy a lion cub and trained it in his garage between classes.

From then on his animal acts were the real thing. Today his collection includes lions, tigers and leopards, and he handles them without the protection of a pistol, whip or chair.

For some years the professor has spent his summers with the big cats, returning to the college every fall. This year he wants to try running his show full-time.

But Keller doesn't regret his time in the classroom. In fact, teaching college students has helped him in handling his cats. Both have to have habit patterns drilled into them, he says. "And both are stubborn, headstrong and conceited."

Most Of Commanders In Nazi Regime Have Paid For Crimes

NURNBERG, Nov. 4 (U.P.)—Most of Hitler's district commanders who held life and death power in their local areas during the Nazi regime, have been brought to justice.

Figures released by Dr. Robert M. W. Kempner, of Philadelphia, American prosecutor here, account for 43 of the gauleiters, of whom, 58 per cent are now dead.

Ten committed suicide while awaiting trial, including Joseph Terboven of Norway, Jacob Sprenger of Frankfurt, Paul Giessler of Munich and Conrad Henlein of Czechoslovakia.

Nine Sentenced

Nine were tried and sentenced to death either in Nurnberg, Dachau or French, Polish or Jugoslavian trials. They include Julius Streicher and Fritz Sauckel, executed in Nurnberg; Robert Wagner, hanged in France; Albert Forster and Arthur Greiser, executed in Poland, and Erich Ueberreither, hanged at Landsberg.

Three were sentenced to prison terms ranging from nine to 20 years. They are Baldur von Schirach, Heinrich Lohse and Franz Schwede-Coburg, sentenced in the British zone.

Five are believed to be in the hands of the Russians and one, Hartmann Lauterbacher, gauleiter of Hanover, was acquitted and then disappeared.

Others Await Trial

Twelve former gauleiters are now awaiting trial in the western zones, most of whom will be tried by German denazification courts.

Under the weakening denazification structure in the American zone, Hans Wahl, gauleiter of Bayreuth, has been released from prison while awaiting trial. The maximum sentence any one of them can receive from German courts is ten years imprisonment.

The denazification trials, which have been speeded up lately and will end soon, have resulted in a number of surprising verdicts Kempner said. General Franz Halder, Hitler's army chief of staff, was acquitted recently in Munich; Eduard Jedamzcik, former gestapo chief in East Prussia has been cleared, and Gunther Reinecke, chief SS judge, was also acquitted.

Scurry Field

This development had produced a total of 206 barrels of oil in one hour of testing on the sections between 10,272 feet and 10,378 feet.

Operator is drilling ahead and probably will stop and run another drillstem test soon.

This exploration, is located 1,983 feet from north and 665 feet from east of section 8, block A-23, psl survey. It is two and one-half miles southwest of the Robertson field, which produces from the lower Permian above 7,500 feet.

Shell No. 1 Hawkins was originally started to go to at least 12,500 feet to explore into the Ellenburger.

Since the Devonian has been found to be productive operator representatives have not revealed whether the project will be continued to the deep horizon or will stop and complete from the shows which have already been developed.

Floyd Strike Sought

General American Oil company No. 2-B Carmickle, outpost to the Arick field, in southwest Floyd county, and 1,980 feet from north and and 660 feet from west lines of section 18, block K, TTRR survey, had reached 4,948 feet and was drilling ahead in lower Permian lime.

This exploration topped the Wolfcamp porosity at 4,790 feet, as compared with the top of that section being around 4,900 feet in the other wells so far drilled in the Arick area.

The No. 2-B Carmickle had a considerable section of soft drilling and logged some signs of oil and some fluorescence. However no drillstem tests were run on the formation. The venture is going on to around 6,000 feet to explore into the Pennsylvanian lime, the current producing formation in that area.

Forgotten Street Found Under Silt

CULVER CITY, Calif., Nov. 4 (AP)—The property owners on Purdue Ave. have their street back now. It wasn't lost, strayed or stolen. They just had forgotten about it.

Recently a resident suggested to neighbors it would be nice to have the avenue paved. One of them thought it had been once—back about 1921.

A query to the city hall evoked the answer: "What street?" The city had no record of it. Seems they were lost years ago.

But workers were sent out to dig around. At two and a half feet they hit pavement, a little the worse for wear—but there.

Older settlers then recalled how it happened. Rain water had flooded the area so often residents tired of shoveling silt off the street after each storm.

John L. Sullivan — The handsome Secretary of the Navy's chief contribution to the political campaign was largely playing golf at the Burning Tree Country club. While the "Chief" was making dozens of speeches daily, Sullivan, Royall, Symington and Forrestal basked in the October sunshine on the golf course.

James Forrestal—Some time ago Forrestal decided that Dewey was going to win, and from that point on lifted no finger to help Harry Truman. His high-sounding excuse: "Defense was more important than politics." Truman has always been under Forrestal's thumb. But it may not be the same way anymore.

MILWAUKEE. (U.P.)—The United Brewery Workers Union convention in Milwaukee was a distinct success from one viewpoint. Delegates were provided with beer from Milwaukee's famed breweries. Before the convention opened, the unionists had done away with 47 half barrels.

Disease Of Whites Scourge To Indians

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 4 (AP)—The Brazilian Indians are disappearing. "From two millions in 1910, they have been reduced now to 500,000," says Gen. Candido Randon, pioneer of the Indian protection service in Grazil.

"Father Randon," as the Indians call him, is himself a descendant of Indians. He has devoted his life to improve the living conditions of civilized natives and bring the man of the jungles to civilization.

"Civilized man is responsible for what is happening," says the general. "He is of the worst kind. Inferior, adventurous, selfish, he goes to the Indian settlements to seduce the Indian wife or daughter. In the beginning, the Indian resists. But the visiting civilized man tries agan and fnally conquers the poor Indian through alcohol. And with the Indian drunk, he gets what he pleases. When his lascivious desires are satisfied, he goes away leaving bebind him all sorts of moral and physical evils.

"Soon all the tribe is contaminated. Diseases spread and the tribe is helpless. It is quickly exterminated by a simple fever. When an Indian feels feverish, he does not take medicine. He runs to the river and jumps in. That's all that happens.

"Disease brought by the civilized man is the scourge we hold responsible for the present threat of extinction of the Brazilian Indian," Randon concludes.

Glass Fiber Used In Cigaret Paper

PRAGUE, Nov. 4 (AP) — A new cigaret paper with a glass fiber that may attract foreign purchasers" has been announced here. The newspaper "Mlada Fronta" (Youth Front) said the paper is the product of a paper mill at Vrane.

Besides reducing fire hazards, the newspaper says, the glass fiber enables the cigaret ash to remain in the "paper" net, thereby keeping ashes from falling on clothing, tablecloths, and rugs in a room. The Czechoslovak Tobacco monopoly has begun first experimental trials on mass production.

Salami-Like Fruit Produced By Tree

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4. (U.P.)—Squirrels love it, but you'd probably get a stomach ache if you ate the fruit of a sausage tree, according to University of California at Los Angeles botanists.

The long, green, salami-shaped fruit of the native African tree look like gourds and sometimes grow 18 inches long. But they only look like sausages and aren't good eating, said Dr. Mildred Mathkias of the UCLA botany department.

Dr. Mathias states, however, that squirrels in Africa cut down the fruit, nip off the end, and let the inside ferment before eating it.

Three UCLA specimens were brought from Hawaii and two are now covered with 40 or 50 "sausages." A sign is posted to caution students not to pick the fruit.

The botanical name for the sausage tree is Kigelia Pinnata, and in its native Africa and other tropical climates where it grows it bears large, brownish-red, bell-shaped flowers.

Elk's Ruler Finds Two Jobs Conflict

BISMARCK, N. D., Nov. 4 (U.P.)—A problem seldom encountered was tossed at Bill Kunz, prominent civic leader here.

As Exalted Ruler of the local Elks lodge he was entitled to present a $16,100 check for improvements at the municipal swimming pool — to himself as president of the city park board.

Rather than transfer the check from one hand to the other and whisper a speech of thanks, he prevailed upon the Elks' board of trustees chairman to present the check.

Truman's Meat And Potatoes Campaign Is Credited With Convincing Many Voters

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 — One man used bare knuckles. The other wouldn't get his hair mussed.

That was one of the chief differences between the campaigns of President Truman and Governor Dewey.

And it's one of the things that may have cost Dewey the election.

Dewey, with all the public opinion polls and the experts telling him he was a cinch to win, campaigned as if he believed it.

And if he was such a cinch why bother making specific promises, or at least very many of them?

He didn't act like a man in a fight. It was as if he already had the presidency home safe in the refrigerator.

Truman Took Stand

So he never gave off much heat. And he didn't come down off the mountain to slug it out with Mr. Truman.

He talked mostly in generalities. Mr. Truman derided him for talking about "home, mother, unity and efficiency."

True, Dewey might not have wanted to make too many promises for fear Congress, even though controlled by his own Republicans, might block him.

The President campaigned the other way. It was an uphill fight for him and, when he talked, he talked meat and potatoes.

He was for something, or against it. You might disagree with him but you never had to wonder where he stood or what he'd try to do if elected.

He stated the things he thinks need doing. He said he was kept from doing them by the 80th Congress, controlled by Republicans.

Reasons For Victory

He said he'd still do them if the people re-elected him, threw out the Republicans, and gave him a Democratic Congress.

The voters did just that.

There are lots of ways of looking at the election results and their causes. Trying to explain them will keep many people busy.

Maybe many voters felt there wasn't much to choose between the candidates and, out of a mass dislike for the cold Dewey, turned to the warmer Truman.

Organized labor—out for revenge on the Republicans for passing the Taft-Hartley act—had a big hand in helping Mr. Truman win.

And sympathy for the underdog, which Mr. Truman was, may have brought him some votes.

Democracy At Work

This election certainly can be considered as clear an expression of democracy at work—people independently making up their own minds and doing something about it—as any in American history.

For months it had been dinned into them, by the so-called experts and the pollsters, that Mr. Truman couldn't win.

Instead of accepting those opinions—even though individually they may have thought their vote was being wasted—they voted for Mr. Truman.

And they quickly undid something they had done two years ago.

After watching that Congress at work for two years blocking Mr. Truman's proposals, the people on Tuesday decided they'd "had enough." They threw out the Republicans and put the Democrats back in control of Congress.

One thing cannot be denied. The majority of the voters approve what Mr. Truman stands for and the promises he made.

If they disapproved, it would be absurd to elect him and so put him in a position to try to do what he said he'd do if elected.

The proof: They gave him the Democratic Congress he said he needed to carry out his promises.

$25,000 Suit Filed As Result Of Fall

C. W. Hudgens, who was injured Aug. 19 in a fall at the new Hemphill-Wells store building at Thirteenth and Ave. K, Wednesday filed suit in 99th district court against the company and Robert E. Maxey, contractor for the new store building.

The suit, filed through Hudgens' attorney, J. Orville Smith, asks for a judgement of $25,000 damages. Hudgens alleges that he suffered a fractured right hip and severe injuries to his back when he fell through an opening for a stairway into the basement of the building. He was allegedly delivering a package to the store for the Railway Express company for which he worked at that time. He further alleges that the injuries are of such a nature as to constitute permanent injuries, rendering him unable to work or earn a living, and rendering him unable to do manual labor.

The first ring-neck pheasants were imported in 1790 by an Englishman who married the daughter of Benjamin Franklin.

France Claims Red Sabotage

PARIS, Nov. 4. (AP) — The French government today accused the Communists of sabotage in the strike bound coal fields, as it pushed for new laws to curb labor violence.

The interior ministry charged strikers are trying to maintain a reign of terror in the coal fields to keep miners from going back to work.

Machines Wrecked

Coal digging machines have been wrecked, heavy dirt-laden carts have been thrown into the pits, mine elevators have been destroyed and administrative offices have been pillaged, the ministry said.

The automobiles of many non-Communist mine leaders have been burned, their homes attacked and the child of one badly hurt by acid, the statement said.

The government announced yesterday it was drafting harsh new laws to cope with these acts which Premier Henri Queuille called part of the Communists' "veritable attack against the country."

Some 30 per cent of the 145,000 miners on the morning shift were back on the job in mines heavily guarded by thousands of police and soldiers. The month-old tie-up has cost France nearly 5,000,000 tons of unmined coal.

Travel Regulations Handicap Students

GENEVA, Nov. 4 (U.P.)—A considerable number of European theological students awarded scholarships in the United States and Canada this year by the World Council of Churches had to withdraw because they could not get the necessary travel documents, the World Council says.

Dr. C. E. Josephson, secretary of the council's scholarship committee and a former president of Heidelberg College, Ohio, said the difficulties experienced by European students in obtaining travel papers were "almost impossible to imagine." Of the 72 students from Europe granted United States and Canadian scholarships this year, Dr. Josephson said, at least 14 failed to obtain the necessary papers, while another 15 withdrew voluntarily for various reasons, "principally because of the recent political and economic developments in Europe." The difficulties were best illustrated by th experience of one German student, Dr. Josephson said, who reported that before he was ready to sail for America he had to complete 387 pages of forms or applications and answer 1,994 questions.

A Quart of Medicine For One Dollar

Mertox goes to work quickly to overcome the torturing pains of rheumatism. It tones the bowels into a more rhythmic action. Expels waste matter that may have been in your system over a long period of time, causing many days, weeks and months of misery.

Gas and bloat, indigestion, sour stomach are quickly relieved.

Kidney and bladder troubles are helped so that the annoying broken rest from having to get up frequently at night is lessened.

Dizziness and run-down feeling is overcome quickly so that you feel, look and act like a different person. Mertox helps to build rich, red blood—creates a better appetite, so that you have a real zest for food.

Mertox may be taken by every member of the family. It contains no narcotics, opiates or calomel and will not make you sick, gripe, or nauseate you in the slightest degree.

Ask any druggist in Texas for a package of the new Mertox. Add to a quart of water and you have an excellent tonic medicine which will save you approximately $4.00. Adv

First Family May Have Housing Problem

Trumans Face Big Worry Of Setting Up Social Calendar

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP) — With countless thousands of handshakes behind him, President Truman faces hundreds more in the months ahead, as host at the traditional White House fetes.

Setting the dates for this social season will be a major task confronting the Trumans when they get settled again on Pennsylvania avenue after their campaign travels.

On this calendar are such glamorous affairs as the formal dinners honoring the diplomatic corps and receptions for Congress, the armed services and the judiciary.

Announcement Delayed

Although the first of the gala events is scheduled this month, the Trumans delayed the usual October announcement of the calendar until after the election.

Only once since pre-war 1939 has the full social schedule of four or five dinners and as many receptions been held. That was during the 1946-47 season.

Another housekeeping problem may arise in January if White House Architect Lorenzo Winslow goes through with plans to renovate the entire second floor of the 132-year-old residence.

Terming it a firetrap, Winslow has said he plans to ask Congress to approve a remodeling job costing between $750,000 and $1,250,000. If that goes through, Mr. Truman may not get much of a chance to use the balcony he had added to the second floor of the south portico.

But even if the Truman family has to move out for several months during the proposed remodeling job, they are assured of four more years' use under the lease renewed by the voters Tuesday.

CONVERSION HOUSING

CHICAGO. (U.P.)—A house that will almost pay for itself has been designed by a veteran's non-profit organization. The group plans to build 54 six-room ranch-style houses. Each contains two units, one for the owner and a second that can be rented to help pay construction costs. The houses will be built so that they can later be concerted to regular three bedroom, two bath residences.

Many Never Suspect Cause of Backaches

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. Adv

Take a tip from the school teacher. She really makes the little things count!

LAST Saturday was probably the busiest day Lubbock will see until the last couple of Saturdays preceding Christmas.

With cotton harvesters and Tech home-comers packing the streets and the sidewalks we really had a mob on hand. The two parades—the Tech homecoming march in the morning and the Hallowe'en parade at night—added to the downtown crowds and also to the traffic to and from town and the residential areas.

As a result of all this, Lubbock "broke out all over" with traffic jams and tie-ups.

As early as 11 a. m., the Nineteenth and College stack-up was bad and continued bad through most of the day.

The same thing was true at College and Broadway, Sixteenth and Avenue Q, Nineteenth and Avenue Q and, for all we know, at other spots.

On Saturday night, as people were taking their kids to the Hallowe'en parade, some busy downtown corners—such as the one at Broadway and Avenue J—were completely stacked, with everything halted minutes on end. Lights didn't mean anything and confusion reigned.

AS WE said in the beginning, Saturday was an unusually busy day. But the point is, there will be other "unusual" days and even on normal days there are frequent stack-ups of motor traffic at a number of points over town.

For instance: it is not at all unusual for Sixteenth and Q to be completely tied up as far as east-west traffic is concerned, nor is it unusual for northbound cars to be tied up, bumper-to-bumper, on College south of Nineteenth, for more than a block in length.

In short, Lubbock's traffic is increasing more and more, and is getting worse and worse from the control standpoint.

The City commission, perhaps wisely, has engaged the services of an "efficiency expert" to unsnarl the business operations of the municipality.

Fully as essential a move—and one which would please people no end—would be the employment, temporarily, of someone who knows something about traffic, to cut that Gordion knot, too.

Either the Police department doesn't know how; or nobody in authority has told the department to do the job; or there isn't sufficient manpower in the department to do it. Anyhow, nothing is being done rapidly, and just as rapidly conditions are getting worse.

WHETHER we like it or not, Lubbock has grown out of the village class and, at the same time, out of village traffic operations.

Everyone with eyes knows that we need to widen some more streets—east-west and north-south—to make driving in Lubbock easier, safer and less vexing. Our principal thoroughfares are carrying more traffic than they can carry efficiently and there are too many bottlenecks.

On especially busy days, the Police Traffic department should anticipate these troubles at stack-up points and have officers on the job to keep things moving. If there aren't enough men to do the job, there should be more employed. If the direction of the traffic squad isn't what it should be, it should be improved.

Looking back on the pre-election campaign, it appears that a lot of voters considered the ringing declarations of candidates to be wringing wet!

A professor says some of our profanity is 1,000 years old. We had no idea men had been playing golf that long!

THE Tech Homecoming parade was a dandy and probably was seen by more people than ever before in the history of college homecoming events in Lubbock.

Archie Underwood, however, puts forth an idea that the Tech Ex-Students association might do well to consider, since it offers a way whereby more people can view the floats and, at the same time, whereby the homecoming game can be spiced up, too.

Mr. Underwood thinks it would be swell if the floats — or, at least, the best ones, were paraded around the stadium track either just before the homecoming game starts, or at half-time. Even spectators who had seen the downtown parade would be glad to see the winning floats again, as well as some of the other outstanding ones.

In Lubbock one day last week an ex-convict named H. M. Duty was found guilty of murder and his punishment assessed at seven years in the penitentiary.

In Abilene, a day later, a man named Edgar R. Lumpkin, jr., was found guilty of forgery and his punishment was assessed at seven years in the penitentiary.

In the Duty case, a family man of fine reputation lost his life; was lost to his family and his co-workers of many years. In the Lumpkin case, $38,000, belonging to Lumpkin's employers, was lost to them.

Something definitely is wrong with a system of jurisprudence which permits equal punishments to be meted out in two such widely varying crimes against society. It doesn't make sense.

THE OTHER day we commented here about the desirability of checking upon the hearing of school children as a part of an expanded school health program.

We pointed out that there must be several score youngsters—or even more—in Lubbock schools who are handicapped by poor hearing; that in many cases parents, teachers, or even the kids themselves are unaware of the fact; and that hearing tests should be given in the schools, along with the checking of eyes, teeth and the possibility of tubercular infection. We said many a youngster classified as "slow" in his school work might be "slow" simply because of impaired hearing.

The comment got an immediate reaction.

Today, efforts are being made to contact and organize all parents of children with defective hearing, so whatever special arrangements necessary may be made for their schoolroom instruction.

One mother has offered to do the co-ordinating involved.

She is Mrs. J. K. Wiley, of 2512 Twentieth street. Telephone No. 8353.

If parents of school children who have defective hearing will contact Mrs. Wiley, she will be glad to give them the information involved and also outline the plan of action.

BY DREW PEARSON: WESTERN HEMISPHERE WOULD REQUIRE AMERICAN MILITARY AID

Will Latin America Back U.S. In Event Of War?

WASHINGTON.—With international relations at their most critical stage since the end of World War II, it is time to have a careful, realistic look at current condition in the Western Hemisphere and realize what support the U. S. A. could expect if war should come soom.

PEARSON

Argentina: In spite of conflicting reports, it is certain that Peron would try to maintain traditional Argentine neutrality. U. S. pressure might bring him in eventually as a nominal ally; but with no real help.

Peron & Co.'s one idea is that a new world war might give them the chance to become masters of South America, emerging as leaders of a world-dominating Latin-Catholic bloc when the "two imperialisms"—Russia and the U. S.—had reached an exhausted stalemate. All Argentine policies today are geared in this direction.

Brazil: Though Brazilian post-war inflation has been the Western Hemisphere's worst, and domestic political feuds are far from settled, Brazil again would be a prompt, staunch U. S. ally. However, Brazil would hesitate to send any considerable number of troops aboard, due to the threat of Argentina on her southern border.

Also, plenty of soldiers would be needed to police the country and control native Reds, driven underground by last year's outlawing of the Communist party but still about 200,000 strong. Brazil would gladly accept any request from Washington for permission to station U. S. forces in her territory.

Chile: The government and a majority of Chilieans are strongly pro-U.S., which was not the case in 1941; but there are some 30,000 local Commies, and the country's "string bean" geography makes adequate vigilance against sabotage almost impossible. Active U. S. intervention would be needed and accepted to protect vital mining areas and coastal installations.

Uruguay: World Communism counts on making its South American headquarters in Uruguay. However, it would be disappointed. The Uruguayan government has been careful to take no steps which would violate its proud tradition of full political freedom, but, once hostilities were declared, it would be among the first to take official sides and crack down hard on the Reds.

Peru: Here is one of the continent's two biggest question marks. With internal politics totally chaotic, and the nation's largest party, APRA, newly outlawed, anything could happen.

Peruvian Communists number only about 12,000 but are well organized and control key unions of transport and communications workers. Unlike Brazil and Chile, any suggestion of sending in U. S. troops would arouse strong resistance.

Peru is definitely a potential danger spot in case of war.

Colombia: This is the other unknown quantity. Columbia's whole political and social structure, as well as its economy, was shattered by the April uprising.

Despite overwhelming anti-Communist sentiment in Columbia, there is no great love for the United States. Agricultural and textile workers, particularly, continue to be sold on the "down with foreign imperialism" line of their late leader, Jorge Gaitan, whose assassination touched off the bloody riots six months ago.

Colombia will be a tricky problem for U. S. diplomacy, if war comes—and a vital one to solve, because of the Panama canal.

Ecuador: Firmly and unequivocally for the United States

Venezuela: Also pro-U. S. A.

Panama: There is still plenty of anti-U. S. sentiment here, due largely to U. S. labor policies in the Canal zone; but everything is once more under control.

The new president, Domingo Diaz Arosamena, has tentative approval of congressional leaders for new proposals to re-establish U. S. Air bases in Panama. Negotiations are now proceeding rapidly and should be satisfactorily concluded before December 1.

Central America Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Honduras, El Salvador, Guatemala): there is nothing to worry about here. Name-calling and belligerent noises among those governments will continue; but they are all solidly anti-Communist and would cooperate in wartime.

Caribbean (Cuba, Haiti, Dominican Republic): a small-time sideshow might develop in this area. Cuban Communists have a provisional plan, in case of world war, to send around 1,000 of their number of Haiti, where Communism has made some headway in recent years. The idea would be to pull off a Red revolution there and, if successful, try to mount an attack against Dictator Trujillo, on the other end of the island.

This wild-eyed scheme isn't apt to amount to much. Meanwhile, the three governments involved can be relied on to support the United States.

Mexico: Despite hard times for the poor, who blame the United States for most of their inflationary troubles, there would be no question of Mexico's place in a conflict against communism.

In fact, such a war would probably go a long way toward unifying the country—though that unification would be far to the right of the present administration. The upshot might well be a neo-fascist type government for Mexico in 1952.

Bolivia: More than any other nation in the hemisphere, Bolivia would have to walk a long tight-rope during another war. Land-locked and largely dependent on Argentina for vital foodstuffs, the country is nevertheless more democratic-minded today than ever before.

In case of an Argentine move menacing Brazil, Bolivia would be forced immediately to choose sides. As things now stand there, she would cross her fingers and throw in with the Brazilians.

Finland won ten track and field titles in the 1924 Olympics—highest number ever scored by other than a U. S. team.

Housing Problem Still Unsolved

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

HERE are some of the differences between a "perfect housekeeper" and a "good homemaker":

On an especially beautiful day the perfect housekeeper decides it is a perfect day to hang out all the winter woolens or clean the basement. The good homemaker decides to hurry through her work and take the kids to the park.

MILLETT

When the children bring home friends from school the perfect housekeeper starts right in with a list of do's and don'ts, the most important of which is "You can't let all those children in the house!" The good homemaker accepts the children in a friendly way, hunts up something for them to eat, and doesn't worry about crumbs.

KIND TO PAPA

WHEN Papa puts his feet on the davenport the perfect housekeeper asks him to take his shoes off or put a paper under his feet. The good homemaker leaves him alone.

When a repair or odd job needs to be done the perfect housekeeper decides it has to be done at once, whether the man of the house is in the mood to do it or not. The good homemaker realizes it isn't a life-or-death matter and lets him choose his time for doing it.

The perfect housekeeper enjoys few spur-of-the-moment pleasures. The good homemaker can usually change her schedule to join in a last-minute plan.

"Try And Stop Me"

THE summer home of the distinguished barrister, Randolph Guggenheimer, is named Barn Yesterday. Shortly after its completion, a pipe burst and a plumber had to be summoned late at night. Mr. Guggenheimer and his wife waited for the plumber at the entrance to the estate. "Before you begin," said Mr. Guggenheimer, "I want to acquaint you with the cause of the trouble."

The plumber bowed very low to Mrs. Guggenheimer, and said, "I am certainly pleased to meet you."

Fate Of Democrats Following Election Has Many Guessing

WASHINGTON — The fate of the Democratic party in the aftermath of the campaign and the election has a great many people guessing. The many-sided split within the party goes so deep that it hardly seems possible that Humpty-Dumpty can be put together again.

Determined and ambitious individuals will try to prevent the old, uneasy coalition between the agrarian south and northern labor from forming anew. Among them are the powerful men who have financed the Dixiecrat revolt in the south.

CHILDS

They are out to capture the Democratic party and make it over to suit their own ends. If they have their way, it will become the vehicle of those who use the States' Rights battle cry in an incessant campaign to curb the powers of the federal government. In this camp are the representatives of northern interests that have gone to the south seeking freedom from the social legislation of such advanced states as Massachusetts and New York.

At the same time the revolt against the Truman civil-rights program has been widespread and intense. This passionate revolt has given reaction a powerful lever throughout the south.

Two Are Opposites

How the same party can contain Hubert Humphrey of Minneapolis, who forced the extreme civil-rights plank in the Democratic platform at Philadelphia, and Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, it is hard to see. They are irreconcilable opposites.

The future of the Democratic party will be determined, in part at least, by what happens within the Republican organization. The Dewey team has its own strictly private plan for reshaping the grand party in such a way that four years from now it hardly will recognize itself.

It would become the party of moderate progressivism, attracting and holding a broad band of support including the moderate segment of organized labor. Outraged remnants of the tory old guard would then be free to join the States' Rights party and a new kind of north-south coalition would be formed.

Success along this line would assure the new style Republican party a long term in power. The oppositoin would be reduced to ineffectual splinters of reaction on the one hand and an extreme leftism on the other.

BUT this tidy vision of the future does not take into account the plans and ambitions of a group of men who may have considerable say about how the political parties are to be aligned. William Green of the A. F. of L. has already said that the convention of his unions in Cincinnati later this month will take up the question of labor in politics and the possibility of a new third party.

A great deal turns on the decision taken by Walter Reuther of the United Auto workers. Reuther, who was nearly assassinated some time ago, is the most politically conscious and knowledgeable of the leaders of labor. In his own union he licked the Communists and drove them out of office after a fierce battle.

Reports have persisted that Reuther means to have a principal part in forming a third party that would rest on the strength of organized labor. The UAW has virtually taken over the Democratic party in Michigan.

Would Work Together

Should labor leaders try to take over the Democratic party in the north, major elements of both CIO and A. F. of L. could be expected to work together in the Michigan pattern.

This would leave the Dixiecrat bosses hoping to function in the balance-of-power position. Some who know the south well believe the Dixiecrat movement will be forgotten by the next election. They think that inertia and indifference, if nothing else, will overwhelm the revolt. There is also the fact that the Republicans are pledged to a radical civil-rights program and if those pledges are carried out, opposition will center on the old enemy — the GOP.

Humpty-Dumpty has had several bad spills in the past and has been patched up again. Perhaps the break this time is not bad as it seems.

COULDN'T STAND PICTURE

TACOMA, Wash. (U.P.)—Ruth Paul reported to police that a burglar displayed signs of a guilty conscience even before he had completed his visit to her house. The prowler took his time, raiding the icebox, exchanging a clean pair of socks for his own and taking other items. When Ruth discovered the theft she also noticed a picture of her brother on the wall had been turned around. Her brother is a police officer.

SUCCESS FOR THE MUSEUM

The awarding of contracts this week for the completion of the West Texas Museum building on the Texas Tech campus starts the last chapter toward a happy ending of the long story, symbolized by the efforts to make provision for this important institution.

Space does not permit even a brief synopsis of the story nor does it allow mention of the many individuals and groups whose efforts finally are about to be crowned with success. But the contract-awarding stage was reached only after years of persisting efforts in the face of many discouragements by large numbers of men and women.

Thanks to these efforts, which were coordinated by the West Texas Museum association, the building now is to be completed on the basement foundation where the Museum has been housed for many years. It will be a building worthy of preserving for posterity the relics of an area which is one of the richest in history in this, or any, nation.

Swiss See Red About Mixing Their Wines

GENEVA, Nov. 4. (AP)—Switzerland's white wine fanciers are gurgling indignantly over their glasses these days. With the country's vineyards bulging with a new crop of grapes and wine cellars still crowded with previous vintages, the federal council decided to get wine moving by permitting wineries to make red wine out of white. This is done by adding a little red wine to a lot of white wine.

The difficulty is that Switzerland produces twice as much white as red wine, but the hardy Swiss drink twice as much red as white. Before what has become known as the famous "Wine Action", Swiss cellars were nearly filled with about 80,000,000 liters of white wine. As the harvest approached, the federal council decided to act.

"The mixing of the wines was the only means available to get the wine moving," Federal Councillor Rodolphe Rubattel explained recently to Parliament. "There was no reason to doubt that the mixture would be accepted." The Swiss Tourist Agency, which keeps a close eye on such things, reviewed the situation and said: "Whoever has the nose and taste to tell the difference between a vintage and a mixed wine still has a rich selection."

British Admiralty Develops New Paint

LONDON, Nov. 4. (AP) — The British Admiralty has developed a new grey paint which it claims largely does away with the use of scarce linseed oil as a binder. Synthetic oil is used instead.

The new paint, the Admiralty said, will last longer than the linseed oil-bound paint and is more impervious to seawater. It will have its first extensive use when the home fleet is repainted this winter.

Odd-Jobs Business Keeps Vets Busy With Many Queer Chores

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (U.P.)—People who say free enterprise is on its last legs haven't heard of John Fordon and Vincent Berg, a couple of young war veterans who'll do anything for a price so long as it's legal.

The two are parents of a thriving new business named "Beck 'n' Call," which takes on any job you can't or don't want to do yourself.

Their services range from walking dogs of city apartment dwellers to providing an "ear" for your troubles; from locating a fourth for bridge to finding a de-scented skunk as a birthday gift for a New York woman.

"In short," said the scholarly-looking Fordon, "we'll do just about anything so long as the clients pay and the assignment is legitimate."

Their enterprise, currently housed in the Fordon-Berg office-home apartment, was inspired five months ago during a penthouse party given by John's sister, Frances, his one-time partner in a successful modeling agency here.

Turned out the party was a painting session at which the guests sipped refreshments while they re-did the grillwork and furniture on the penthouse terrace.

Would Clean Up

"Berg and I decided right then that maybe there were a lot of people in the country who'd pay money to keep from getting dirty. That's how we started," said Fordon.

Beck 'n' Call began without even a telephone listing and has grown largely because clients tell prospective clients about it. Fordon and Berg also mailed out some 25,000 circulars outlining their services. They went to everyone in the Social Register, to such groups as ad agencies, large corporations and commercial photographers, and others living in the Fordon-Berg neighborhood on the East Side.

"Amazing thing," said Fordon. "We got several calls from social registerites. They didn't want us to do things for them. They were hunting part-time jobs.

Their circular promised among other things to "check your apartment while you're away for vacation, water plants, feed the dogs or cats, and send you a report each week. Fee—$1.50."

That service was the reason for their run-in with Luther and Lovejoy.

Cat Sitter

Luther and Lovejoy are a couple of uninhibited cats owned by a woman on the upper east side who wanted them visited and fed, just as many times as she requested, as it said in the circular. Turned out that meant a visit twice daily.

"And you know what Luther and Lovejoy ate," he said. "Imported Norwegian sardines. Best on the market. Better than most of us humans eat. I know, I tasted them."

There was the hectic day one of the cats choked on the fin of a fish. Fordon said before it was over he was down on his knees on the plush rug begging the cat to cough up the fin, or else Beck 'n' Call would go out of business. Well, the cat recovered and Beck 'n' Call went on, wiser thereafter.

Fordon said he recently received a desperate call from a woman in the Bronx who wailed:

"My husband is out of town and my baby is due any minute. Can you get me to a hospital?"

Fordon said he made it by a nose, but now he and Berg are thinking of getting a little training at a maternity hospital, just in case he ever has to go through that again.

WILLKIE'S SON WINS

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Nov. 4 (INS)—Philip L. Willkie's first bid for political office ended successfully today. The young son of the 1940 Republican presidential candidate, the late Wendell Willkie, was elected joint representative to the Indiana state House of Representatives from Rush and Henry counties. He beat Democrat Roy P. Whitton.

WORKS FOR REDS — Dr. Kurt Fisher, chief of the Interior Department in Germany's Soviet Zone, heads the drive to organize a huge Russian-trained "police force" in Eastern Germany. The force, estimated at up to 400,000 Germans, many of them recently released, Russian-trained prisoners of war, is seen as a "Trojan horse" army that would maintain Moscow's domination in the event of Big Four occupation troops are withdrawn.

Onions peeled under water will not bring tears to the eyes.

U. S. Bishop Heads Rebuilding Board

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Rt. Rev. J. I. Blair Larned, bishop of the American Episcopal church in Europe, was elected chairman of the board of managers of the department of reconstruction and inter-church aid of the World Council of Churches, at the first meeting of the board here.

The board was set up at the first assembly of the World Council of Churches held in Amsterdam in August. It is the channel through which Protestant and Orthodox churches in all parts of the world are to assist the rehabilitation and reconstruction of needy churches in war-devastated areas of Europe.

Hong Kong Has Good Pickpocket School

HONG KONG, Nov. 4 (U.P.) — Disciples of Fagin are still going strong in Hong Kong.

Detective Inspector J. R. Sykes, testifying in magistrate's court against an alleged pickpocket, said the suspect was a member of a local pickpocketing and snatching school. He said a number of such schools are operated in the colony.

BAGS PHEASANT

MILLBURY, Mass. (U.P.)—A hunting she did go without ever leaving home. Mrs. Frederick F. Fox snatched up a bag and captured a pheasant in it when children chased the bird into her backyard.
