Truman Hurls Nation Behind Peace Drive

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman late Saturday threw the whole weight of government behind America's rushing drive into the peace-time future.

Truman issued a directive which, rounding up and formalizing all he had said during the week, told his department and agency heads they must:

"Move as rapidly as possible without endangering the stability of the economy toward the removal of price, wage, production and other controls and toward the restoration of collective bargaining and the free market.

This directive came some hours after one of the highest officials in government said the sudden Japanese surrender found this nation caught "in the woods."

Outlines Plans

This, in effect, is what Truman said:

1. The whole government must do all it can to help the changeover to peace.

2. Prices must be controlled but, just as in wartime, they can be eased to adjust cases of hardship or inequalities.

3. The entire effort will be under the control of Reconversion Director John W. Snyder who earlier in the week said the problem ahead called for "no mincing of words." He'll coordinate all the efforts.

4. Bosses can give wage increases which do not involve price increases, and the War Labor Board will continue for a time to handle labor disputes which interfere with reconversion just as it handled those blocking the war.

Resigns

MacLeish Leaves State Department

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Archibald MacLeish and J. C. Holmes resigned Friday as assistant secretaries of state.

MacLeish and Holmes were appointed during the regime of Secretary Edward R. Stettinius, who was succeeded by James F. Byrnes.

Truman accepted the resignations with expressions of regret and in MacLeish's case he wrote that he was aware the former librarian of Congress wanted release from government service more than a year ago.

The President wrote that "all of us realize the wonderful work you did to bring about the adoption" of the United Nations Charter.

Texans Shoot Down Two Jap Planes In Attack Over Tokyo

By The Associated Press

Texans were credited with shooting down two Japanese fighter planes of 14 which attacked two unescorted B-32s on a reconnaissance mission over Tokyo Saturday.

An aerial photographer in one Sgt. J. S. Smart of Dallas, a turwere wounded, and both craft were damaged badly.

Sgt. J. S. Smart of Dallas, a turret gunner, and Sgt. John Houston of Fort Worth downed two of the attackers. Other gunners were credited with the probable downing of two more.

Lt. R. E. Thomas of Comanche was co-pilot on one of the planes.

It was the second attack on American reconnaissance planes in two days. Four unescorted B-32 photo planes were intercepted over Tokyo Bay by enemy fighters Friday. Sgt. Joseph Waller of Fort Worth, a top turret gunner on one of the B-32's said "I don't feel much like the war is over. If this is the Japs' idea of peace, then I got a few ideas about peace for them."

Truman Asks V-J Day Be Devoted To Work

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman asked Saturday that V-J Day, when it is prolaimed, be a day of work and not a holiday.

Secretary of Labor Schwellen- said in a statement that this was the President's desire because of the widespread observance of Aug. 15-16 as holidays and "in view of the urgency of reconversion."

Government Swings Axe On Controls

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON —(AP)— America raced into its peacetime future Saturday with the government swinging the axe on all sides to get out of "the woods."

Four days after the sudden ending of the war with Japan one of the highest government officials frankly said:

"We don't pretend to have any master blueprint charting every action for the future. That's impossible.

"Our job is to get out of the woods.

"The public has to do this job. The government can only help."

Here is the picture of what has been done in this historic week and what is expected:

UNEMPLOYMENT — John W. Snyder, reconversion director, thinks unemployment may be 5,000,000 in three months, may reach 8,000,000 by spring.

Employment Bill Would Help

The "Full Employment" Bill in Congress may take months to pass —if it ever does. Truman thinks it should. It wouldn't solve unemployment. It will enable the government to plan for full employment.

DEMOBILIZATION—The Army, Navy and Marines say they'll discharge 7 1/2 million men within the next 12 to 18 months.

MANPOWER — Almost immediately with the surrender of Japan, the government wiped out all controls over manpower.

DRAFT—No one 26 years old or older will be drafted now.

Wage Controls Lifted

LABOR—The government threw off wage controls to this extent, bosses can raise as much as they like now if it means no price increase.

FOOD — Agriculture Secretary Anderson said meat rationing may soon end, perhaps in September. OPA ended rationing of canned fruits, vegetables and fuel oil but said fats, oils, butter, and sugar still would be rationed awhile.

GASOLINE—Rationing of gasoline ended.

SUGAR—Still to be rationed for some time.

STOVES—Not rationed anymore.

More Tires But Rationed

TIRES—More of them but still to be rationed.

SHOES—Still to be rationed. May end by Christmas.

CONTRACTS — Army and Navy were canceling out about 30 billion dollars in war contracts.

MATERIALS—The War Production Board arranged to wipe out—probably by Monday—all but 40 of its 400 controls over materials.

Sailors In Pacific Call Riots Disgrace

ABOARD ADMIRAL McCAIN'S FLAGSHIP OFF JAPAN —(AP)— Sailors who took part in the brawling and pillage of the three-day "peace riots in San Francisco at the end of the war were termed a 'disgrace to the Navy,' Saturday by men of this ship.

An indignation meeting of chief petty officers of the flagship which expressed apparently the views of all enlisted men abroad, said additionally:

"The activities of those Market Street commandos does not represent the true Navy. They very likely waged little war outside port."

Thomas L Speed Killed In Blast In Shafter Field

Thomas L. Speed, 33, petroleum engineer, was killed instantly about 3 p. m. Saturday when a device he was using to run a temperature test on a gas well in the Shafter Lake gas field of Andrews County, slipped and the gas hurled him about 175 feet into the air.

The accident occurred, when Speed lost his balance, while running a test on a well being completed by the Empire Southern Gas Company on University of Texas lands, from the Yates sand around 3,000 feet. Some control instruments were dislocated and the well blew for a short time, but soon was under control again, witnesses said.

THOMAS L. SPEED

His body was brought to Midland to the Ellis Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements were not completed Saturday night.

Attended Midland High School

Speed was born in Andrews County, but had lived in Midland most of his life. He attended Midland High School. He also attended Texas A. and M. College, and for the last year and a half had been a partner in the West Texas Engineering Service Company with his brother, John M. Speed, Jr., and Ralph U. Fitting, Jr.

Thomas L. Speed was secretary-treasurer of the Permian Basin Engineers Association.

Survivors include his widow, a son, Anthony Lee Speed, 2; a daughter, Marian Kathleen Speed, 8; a sister, Mrs. Paul Drickey of Midland, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Speed, and his brother.

Mrs. Drickey left Midland by air Saturday afternoon for Denver, and efforts were being made to locate her.

Wartime Speed Limit Cancelled

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The government Sunday lifts its wartime request for a nationwide 35-mile an hour motoring speed limit. States which made that the legal top speed are expected to boost it quickly.

Incomplete reports from a survey by The Associated Press showed that:

Ten states already have dropped the 35-mile speed limit, five never had it, fourteen are cancelling it or will very soon, six had not reached a decision Saturday night.

The speed limit was never adopted in Texas.

Five Billions Expenditure In Texas Will Provide Thousands With Work

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Texas, with postwar plans drawn in advance of V-J Day, has jobs in sight for thousands of war plant employes released as a result of cancellation of contracts.

An analysis of figures and information worked out by various public and private bodies, and compiled by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reveals that an expenditure of $5,000,000,000, including both public and private industrial funds, will involve statewide projects of all types and require one to five years for completion.

The figures are based on carefully studied cut estimates compiled by chambers of commerce at various points in the state, the Texas Division of the War Manpower Commission and the Texas Post War Planning Commission. Start of projects hinges on release of materials.

Solution of the Texas housing program alone will call for an outlay of $1,000,000,000 for the shortage of residential units over the state is conservatively estimated at 200,000.

The State Highway Commission is prepared immediately to begin construction work on farm-to-market roads that will cost $60,000,000 during the next three years. About $200,000,000 will be expended during that same period on major or cardinal highways the commission has estimated.

Almost every city in Texas has definite plans for public works construction, with the list not yet complete. Included will be levees, waterworks, deepening and widening of canals, airports, paving, bridges, parks, storm sewers, buildings and sanitation.

Bonds have already been approved or will be voted on in many municipalities to pay for the vast program.

Canalization of the Trinity River, which calls for the spending of $51,000,000 to make the stream navigable, to Liberty, will be the start of a project that may total $100,000,000.

Privae Enterprises to Expand

Private enterprise is prepared to launch projects which will easily run to $2,000,000,000. These will include expenditures for prewar businesses and development of industries based on natural resources founded or expanded during the war.

Texas' share of the recently announced Bell Telephone System $2,000,000,000 improvement program will run to $20,000,000 or more.

Air line development and equipment, which will give Texas prominence in international aviation activities, will account for another $50,000,000.

Full expansion of Texas iron and steel industry, which was developed as a war necessity, it is estimated will call for $75,000,000.

The Texas oil industry is prepared to expend $50,000,000 to $100,000,000. Synthetic rubber plants are believed to be adequate.

Railroads of the state, in dire need of rolling stock, rails and better beds, will spend at least $50,000,000 while light and power companies, according to estimates made in New York, will spend in Texas alone $20,000,000.

President Terminates Lend Lease

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Allied nations receiving lend-lease assistance will get notice Monday or Tuesday that the gigantic aid program has been terminated, it was learned Saturday night.

The system which poured $39,000,000,000 of war goods and civilian necessities into countries fighting the Axis is being shut down on order of President Truman. The lend-lease law authorized the President to terminate the program at the war's end.

Chinese Troops Will Occupy Canton And Shanghai In Few Days

IE SHIMA—(AP)— Japan's surrender envoys arrived by air from Tokyo at this tiny island west of Okinawa Sunday afternoon and within 45 minutes were transferred to an American C-54 transport plane and took off for Manila to receive their orders from General MacArthur.

Associated Press War Editor

Japanese envoys left Tokyo—18 minutes behind schedule—at 7:18 a. m. Sunday Japanese time enroute to Manila to learn detailed Allied terms for the occupation of Japan, Japanese headquarters reported.

The two unarmed planes were expected to reach Ie Shima, in the Okinawa group, not later than 2 p. m. Japanese time.

On distant fronts meanwhile Japan's armies were surrendering or preparing to give up, but on the home grounds her anti-aircraft guns and fighter planes were still attacking American reconnaissance planes.

One American photographer was killed and two air crewmen were wounded Saturday when 14 Nipponese fighters jumped two B-32s while the Yanks were scouting 20,000 feet above Tokyo. Two of the attacking planes were shot down and two more probably were destroyed.

It was the second straight day of Japanese attacks on American planes reconnoitering over Japan.

Plans were made for Chinese occupation of Canton and Shanghai within a few days, and for a surrender meeting between Chinese and Japanese army leaders Tuesday. A Siberian radio report said a Russian commission had reached Harbin, Manchuria, to initiate preliminaries for the Nipponese Kwantung army surrender.

Rumors in Japan that American and Chinese occupation troops already had landed on Nippon were denied by Tokyo radio.

Domei, the Japanese news agency, put out an English language broadcast beamed to the United States, quoting Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu as frankly telling the Nipponese they "have to face the fact that we have been defeated," But there was no similar statement in Domei's alleged "full text" in Japanese of Shigemitsu's statement later beamed to the Orient.

Bowing to General MacArthur's suit order to snap into action, the Japanese government and military surrender party was to fly in two white planes marked with green crosses, to Ie Jima, near Okinawa, Sunday if the weather was right, and then proceed under American aerial escort to Manila.

MacArthur, with representatives of the British, China and Australian commands, was scheduled to Recommend Retention Of Pacific Bases

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Outright retention by the United States of a group of Pacific islands, including some now claimed by France, Australia and Great Britain, was recommended Saturday by a House Naval subcommittee.

They must be kept as Naval and Military bases if the United States is to assume responsibility for keeping peace in the Pacific, the committee asserted in a report made public by Chairman Vinson (D.-Ga).

The report, 300 pages long, was based on a 21,000-mile inspection trip made by a subcommittee.

It did not suggest how this nation should go about obtaining title to islands claimed by friendly nations, but emphasized that it is essential that the United Staes have free and unrestrained access to them.

Four Specific Recommendations

Specifically, the committe e recommended that:

1. For our own security, the security of the Western Hemisphere, and the peace of the Pacific, the United States should have at least dominating control over the former Japanese mandated islands of the Marshals, the Carolines, and the Marianas and over the outlying Japanese islands of the Izus, Bonins, and Ryukus.

2. The United States should be given specific and substantial rights to the sites where American bases have been constructed on island territories of Allied nations.

3. With respect to Manus, Noumea, Espiritu Santo, Guadalcanal and other sites of American bases on islands mandated to, or claimed by, other nations, full title to those bases should be given to the United States because "these other nations are not capable of defending such islands x x x" and "as these

AAA Is Replaced By Production and Marketing Agency

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The Agricultural Adjustment Agency early New Deal agency which paid billions of dollars to farmers for curtailment production—passed into history Saturday.

It was dropped from the lexicon of governmental agencies in a reoorganization of the Agriculture Department announced by Secretary Anderson.

During the war, the AAA had spearheaded the government's drive for increased food production to meet war needs.

A new super Agricultural agency —the Production and Marketing Administration—having broad powers to coordinate future governmental programs affecting the production, pricing and marketing of farm products, takes up where the AAA leaves off.

The thousands of local and state AAA farmer committees were retained and will act as agents of the new production and marketing administration.

Atoms And Men

They are saying now that the power of the atomic bomb is so terrible that men will no longer dare to wage war. That would be comforting to believe. But they were saying the same thing about the bomber airplane only seven years ago. They probably made the same prediction when gunpowder was first used in battle.

The fact remains that no weapon, however terrible, has ever curbed war-making. And some of the best human minds down through the centuries have devoted much of their talent and energy to creating more elaborate and efficient methods of bringing quick and widespread death.

Now the scientists of America, in a fantastic race with the scientists of their enemies, have perfected the most horrifying agent of death the world has ever known. In doing so they have probed another secret of the universe. They have taken the motivating energy of life upon this planet and, without being able to explain it, have harnessed and used it.

The explosion of the first atomic bomb was no more shattering than the announcement of its existence. The employment of atomic energy, surely one of the great scientific achievements of all time, promises incalculable changes in history and human life. Yet is man ready to be trusted with the fruit of his own scientific wisdom?

His record to date is not good. Too often the great scientific leader has been followed by stupid men and vicious men who have cheapened and perverted the gift of his discoveries. It might be better if men would devote their energies for a few years to raising their moral and ethical stature to the point where they could employ their present scientific advancement decently and wisely.

It may be right, by the rules of war, for us to visit this cataclysmic death upon a cruel and guilty enemy who has been offered a way out of a hopeless war and has refused to take it. But what is to be done with this new weapon in the future?

* * *

At present the weapon is a secret known only to a few persons in this country and Britain. It is a product of two nations which genuinely love and want peace—a fact for which the world may well thank God. It might be well if they kept that secret and guarded it with desperate vigilance until the rest of the world has shown itself fit to share it.

It is more important that the United Nations Organization prevent future war than that we run our ships and airplanes by atomic energy instead of steam and gasoline. It is more important that the world keep the peace through sincere desire and friendly effort than through fear of another war's destruction. For the effort, though never yet honestly made, is the world's only hope. And the fear has never prevented war, and never will.

More Fabric Allotted For Expensive Clothes

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The War Production Board Saturday announced revocation of its far-reaching order earmarking most civilian fabric for inexpensive clothing, effective October 1.

The agency said the order will be replaced by a program of considerably lesser scope.

The order revoked had set aside about 75 percent of civilian supplies of wool, cotton and rayon fabrics for 134 kinds of low and moderately priced garments.

"I lost our own baby in March 1944," Mrs. King said in an interview with the Rocky Mountain News. "The doctors said I would never be able to have another child. Then I read about a doctor in Denver who could help girls like me."

BUSINESS HAS NOTHING TO FEAR, SAYS BRITISH LABOR

LONDON —(AP)—Lord president of the Council Herbert Morrison said Friday night Britain's Labor government would accomplish as much as possible of its program with "the willing and informed cooperation of the businessman, who, if efficient, has nothing to fear from the program."

Mansfield was scheduled to appear at last year's calf roping, but was hurt shortly before Labor Day. His place was taken by Clyde Burk of Comanche, Okla., who won the match, Burk was killed later.

Missionary Says New Premier Can Halt Japs

PITTSFIELD, MASS. —(AP)— A Pittsfield missionary who spent 14 years in Nagoya believes that the new premier of Japan, Prince Naruhiko Hagashi-Kuni, "a hard-boiled and heavy drinking customer," will be able to handle the Japanese military situation and halt fighting on all fronts.

His confession to juvenile authorities admitted breaking into a number of establishments.

Police have been receiving numerous calls for weeks regarding thefts.

The case was broken when the theft of $5 in dimes was reported to police. Policeman Floyd Maxwell began searching for someone spending dimes in quantities. He discovered the boy riding at a horse rental place on Florida Street and paying off in dimes.

The boy now is being held in county jail awaiting the action of juvenile authorities.

Press Says Ban On Spain Will Cause Communism

MADRID —(AP)—Since announcement of the Potsdam decision to bar Generalissimo Francisco Franco's Spain from the United Nations, hundreds of editorials in the country's controlled press have asserted that ousting of the Falange and Franco would bring chaos and Communism to Spain.

The newspapers also declared that Franco's attitude during the war aided the United Nations more than it did he Axis.

Surrender --

tell the Nipponese the terms of capitulation Monday.

In the China war theater the plans called for a meeting between Gen. Ho Ying-Chin, Chinese field commander, and envoys of Lt. Gen. Yasuji Okamura, commander of Japanese forces in China, Tuesday at Chihking, U. S. air base in Western Hunan Province.

The meeting is expected to arrange the surrender of all Nipponese forces in China, with the Chinese armies to march into Cantin and Shanghai a few days later.

Domei, the Japanese news agency, said the Chinese Nationalist underground forces already had taken over in Shanghai.

Friction Eases

Friction between the Chinese Communist leader Gen. Mao Tze-Tung and the Central Government of Generalissimo Kai-Shek seemed to have eased with reports that the Red leader has agreed to send a representative to Chungking to discuss issues with Chiang.

Chungking announced that France has renounced rights to Kwangchowwan territory, 250 miles southwest of Hong Kong, leased from China in 1899 for 99 years.

In London, a foreign office spokesman said Hong Kong, British sea base captured by the Japanese early in the Pacific war, is still a part of the British empire. He said the British were not racing with the Chinese to get to the city first after Nipponese capitulation. It was reported Chiang had officially notified Londan that China intended to occupy Hong Kong, held by the British for 100 years, but the foreign office spokesman said he couldn't confirm this.

Reds Advance

Three Russian columns charging across Manchuria closed in on the industrial city of Harbin and the rail lines linking it with Shinking, puppet capital, and Mukden. Moscow said Japanese armies in Manchuria, Korea, Inner Mongolia and Southern Sakhalin Island fought on, but group surrenders have increased. The Soviet forces have taken 45,000 prisoners in two days, including a Japanese garrison of 5,000 men and the commander, Major General Namura.

Marshal Kirill A. Meretskov's First Far Eastern Army advancing eastward was within 145 miles of Harbin, and Gen. Maxim Purkaev's Second Far Eastern Army pushed down the Sungari River valley to capture Tangyuan, 165 miles northeast of Harbin. Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Trans-Baikil Army in Western Manchuria swept 67 miles from Kaitung to capture Changling, 70 miles northwest of Hsinking.

The radio at Khabarovsk, Siberia, said a Soviet commission flew to Harbin to pick up a Japanese surrender delegation which would be flown to Marshal Alexander M. Vasilevsky, Russian commander. Vasilevsky was reported to have told Gen. Otozo Yamada, commander of the Nipponese Kwantung Army, that he had given orders for the Red forces to cease military operations on all sectors after the Japanese quit fighting.

French Minister Georges Bidault said in Paris 60,000 French troops were waiting to enter French Indo-China. The entry of this force will discover whether there was any truth in the Tokyo broadcast that the Japanese puppet state of Viet Nam, formerly Annam in Indo-China, intended to fight for freedom from French control.

There was no fighting in Burma, but the Japanese were still trying to escape across the Sittang River into Thailand. It was believed that there were at least 50,000 Nipponese around Moulmein in Southeastern Burma.

Tokyo radio said Premier Maj. Luang Kovid Abhaiwong of Thailand and his cabinet Friday submitted their resignations to the president of the regency council. Only the day before, Domei said, the council anniunced King Ananda Mahidol had proclaimed Thailand's declaration of war on the United States and Great Britain "null and void."

4. The United States must not permit its Pacific bases to lapse back into a state of unpreparedness, as in the instances of Guam and Wake, prior to the present war.

Main fleet bases, the committee added, should be maintained at Pearl Harbor, Guam and Saipan in the Marianas, Iloilo in the Philippines, Manus in the Admiralties, and Noumea in New Caledonia.

Secondary bases, it said, should be maintained in the Midway islands, at Okinawa, at Subic Bay in the Philippines, and in the Palau Islands, with fleet anchorages at Majuro, Kwa-Jalein, and Eniwetok in the Marshalls, at Truk in the Palau Islands, and at Espiritu Santo in th eNew Hebrides.

It emphasized that the United States should "take outright" the Japanese mandated islands and "the outlying Japanese islands."

The United States' strategy of defense in the Pacific, the committee said, "should revolve about a center line running north of the equator, through the Hawaiian Islands, the Marshalls, the Carolines, the Marianas and the Philippines," with the northern flank protected by the Aleutians and the Kuriles and the southern by "a mixture of islands" held outright by, or under the mandate of, the British, the French, the Australians, the New Zealanders, the Dutch, the Portuguese and the Chileans.

The committee said all the islands "should ultimately be given their independence" or remain United States territory, perhaps as "the state of the American Pacific."

America's Destiny Is To Lead World To Peace, Connally Tells Democrats

AUSTIN —(AP)— Sen. Tom Connally (D-Texas) Saturday night, told a long-delayed Jefferson Day Dinner of Texas Democrats that the "sublime destiny" of the United States is to lead the world away from war.

In a speech prepared for delivery at 9. p. m. the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee called upon the United Nations to work "side by side to save millions of human lives and permit the peoples of the earth to rebuild their tortured lands and shattered homes."

"We leagued our armed might for war," Connally said. "Now let us league our moral and material might for peace. Let us be among the architects of a structure more marvelous than one built of steel and stone. Let us create a temple of law and reason and justice and peace to serve the peoples of the world."

Connally told the Texas Democrats they could best honor the memory of Thomas Jefferson by dedicating themselves to the principle of free government and constitutional institutions which he advocated and supported.

Connally said that Franklin D. Roosevelt had led the way in "creating the cohesive spirit of unity which has characterized the United Nations' battle for freedom" and conceived the plan for transforming that spirit into a "dynamic force for world peace."

He traced the development of the idea through the adoption of the Charter at San Francisco and its subsequent adoption by the Senate.

"I do not proclaim the Charter as embodying perfection," Connally said. "It will grow and develop in the light of experience. The Charter must be judged, not in its dissected parts x x x but it must be judged in its entirety. x x x

"Must Maintain National Defense"

"We must remember, however, that world peace will cost something. It is worth something. It will cost cooperation. It will cost the will to peace. It will cost our constant efforts and support of peace-loving people. x x x

"We must maintain adequate national defense. We must keep our powder dry. We now have the mightiest Navy that ever sailed the seas. x x x I shall not vote to sink it. Science has given us the atomic bomb—an instrument whose power astounds our intellect and leaps beyond reach of our imagination. Our national defense and interest in peace require that we preserve its secret and not divulge it where it might become the evil instrument of aggression."

N-W Gaines Wildcat Has Practically Assured Production From Devonian

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor

A new Devonian producing area in Northwest Gaines County has been practically assured; wildcat locations have been reported for Central Gaines County and for Southeast Irion County, and Midland County's petroleum prospector was swabbing after acid.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-A Jones, in section 3, block A-6, psl survey, in extreme Northwest Gaines County, flowed 369 barrels of fluid in 21 hours of a drillstem test in the Devonian at 11,438-444 feet.

During last hour of the period shakeout was 20 percent water. That fluid had not been analysed to determine its origin.

It was understood that remaining 80 percent of the recovery was oil.

Flowed After 73 Minutes

When testing tool was opened gas came to surface in 18 minutes, and free oil flowed at surface in 73 minutes. During first one and one-half hours of testing the drill-pipe flowed an estimated 40 barrels of fluid—mostly oil—to pits.

In six hours of flowing the well made 110 barrels of fluid, with shakeout ranging from two to 14 percent water, and from 14 to one percent basic sediment.

Operator was continuing to flow to test Saturday. The 11,438-444 foot section had been tested primarily to "feel" for water. The zone was said to be about the bottom of the Devonian horizon which had indicated possibilities of production, while drilling was in progress.

There are other zones in the Devonian, above current level of investigation which had shown for possible production, and it is expected that operator will test those horizons through casing perforations.

Top of Devonian was called at 11,181 feet, on an elevation of 2,699 feet.

Practically Assured

Informed sources indicate that the project is practically assured by making a commercial producer from the Devonian. If such should develop, it is probable that operator will not try to produce from the lower Permian zone between 9,085-9,224 feet, where considerable free oil was recovered on drillstem tests.

Union Oil Company of California No. 1-A Mrs. Gibson Rose Williams, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 7, block C-44, psl survey, is to be a 5,500-foot exploration to the San Andres-Permain, about three and one-half miles southeast of Seminole, in Central Gaines County.

Drilling is to start by Aug. 23. It is on a block of about 3,000 acres assembled by James A. Mascho, Midland, and turned to Union for a cash consideration and the test. The drillsite is about one and one-quarter miles northeast of a dry hole drilled by Case, Pomeroy and Company, Inc., which had some shows of oil.

To Investigate Show

Location was reported Saturday for Permain Royalty Company, No. 2, of Midland No. 1 W. M. Noelke estate, in Southeast Irion County.

The project will be 330 feet from south and west lines of east-half of west-half of section 1228, W. T. Collins survey, and is to drill to around 2,500 feet.

This wildcat is to be 990 feet north of John I. Moore, operator No. 1 Elta T. Murphey, in section 1227, GC&SF survey, slated 8,500-foot exploration to the lower Ordovician, which is now making hole below 3,735 feet in shale.

Moore's No. 1 Murphey reported a show of oil in sandy lime at 1,320-60 feet, but did not test it on account of is objective being for the lower horizons.

Unofficial reports indicate that the Permian Royalty development will test that possibility, and probably investigate other sections if the 1,320-60 foot zone fails to show for commercial production.

Buchanan Swabbing After Acid

Humble Oil and Refining Company No. 1 Buchanan, East Midland County exploration in Baldridge survey No. 32-692, about ten miles southeast of Midland, was swabbing about 4,000 feet from surface, on acid load and residue, after treating through perforations in casing at 12,130-230 feet, with 2,000 gallons of acid. No shows of oil or gas had been encountered.

Total depth is at 12,574 feet, with cement in 5 1/2-inch casing set at 12,569 feet drilled out to below present zone of testing.

Unofficial sources report the section given the acid is probably Ellenburger.

Hunt Oil Company No. 1 Graham, Northeast Yoakum County wildcat in section 328, block D, John H. Gibson survey, was to plug back to 5,342 feet, from total depth of 5,354 feet, to shut-off sulphur water which appeared at 5,350 feet.

When the plug is secure operator plans to shoot above 5,342 feet with 50 quarts of nitro-glycerin, to try to stimulate production. That section swabbed at rate of from 50 to 75 barrels per day, with no water, after treating with 500 and 1,500 gallons of acid, when the total depth was a 5,335 feet.

No Oil Yet

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 Frost, Northwest Yoakum County prospector in section 35, block D, John H. Gibson survey, was coring below 5,-165 feet. No indications of production had been reported so far.

The Texas Company No. 1 Phillips, in section 2, block 32, TP survey, T-3-N, swabbed nine hours on section at 3,110-3,210 feet after acid, and was still swabbing. Recovery during the period was 14 barrels of fluid, of which 75 percent was basic sediment and salt water, and the remainder was oil—some being load oil from acid injection.

Sinclair Prairie Oil Company No. 1 Williamson, West Ector County prospector to the lower Ordovician in section 40, block 45, TP survey, T-1-S, and two miles north of the initial Ellenburger producer in the TXL field, had reached 9,880 feet in lime.

No information was available from official sources in Midland as to the information. It was rumored that the project was possibly in top of the Ellenburger and it was also reported by unofficial sources that a drillstem test was slated. There was no confirmation on either point.

An Extender Completes

Woodley Petroleum Company No. 1-C Holt, an extension to the North Cowden-Deep field, in Woodley's lease in section 18, block A, psl survey, completed for a 24-hour pumping potential of 85.51 barrels of 36-gravity oil from pay section at 5,-137-75 feet, after treating with a total of 3,000 gallons of acid. The section is the Holt zone of the middle Permian.

J. R. Sharp and R. C. Barnes No. 1 Crum, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 7, block B-2, psl survey, on the southeast side of the Keystone-Ellenburger field, in North Winkler County, was bottomed at 9,660 feet, in Ellenburger dolomite, encountered at 9,622 feet, on an elevation of 2,970 feet, and was to run 7-inch casing to start completion. The project had indicated that it was an oil well.

Humble No. 1-B McCutcheon, in southwest quarter of section 15, block B-2, psl survey, and on south side of the Keystone-Ellenburger area, tried a drillstem test at 7,590-7,790 feet, and had no test on account of packer failure. Another attempt will be made to get a test. The section is probably Devonian.

Another Exploration

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1, W. T. Webb, 660 feet from north and west lines of west-half of northeast quarter of section 48, block M, EL survey, is to be a 6,000-foot test on northwest side of the Welch field in Northwest Dawson County.

It is to start at once. It is one location east of same operator's No. 1, J. P. Cole, a producer on northwest side of proven area in the district.

Continental Oil Company No. 1 May, Northeast Lynn County wildcat in section 10, block 7, EL survey, was making hole below 2,255 feet in anhydrite. Top of anhydrite was at 1,730 feet, on an elevation of 3,045 feet.

Skelly Oil Company No. 1 Sugg, in section 45, block 1, H&TC survey, in Irion County, had drilled below 8,335 feet, and was still going—likely still in the Ellenburger dolomite.

Several S-E Lea Prospects Soon To Determine Value Of Oil Shows

HOBBS, N. M.—Production tests on several discoveries, or prospective discoveries, in Southeast Lea County, were underway Saturday, or were due to start early in the week.

The most important investigation of possible production was at Neville G. Penrose, Inc., No. 1 Federal-Penrose, Ellenburger discovery in section 9-22s-37e, two miles southeast of Eunice.

Penrose To Perforate

After bottoming out at 8,370 feet in granite, this exploration set 7-inch casing a 8,224 feet, with 1,100 sacks of cement. At the end of the week operator was in the hole with tools to cleanout and perforate casing at 8,120-40 feet for first test of production from the Ellenburger section.

That zone had indicated that it would flow oil, when drillstemmed while drilling was in progress.

Stanolind Oil and Gas Company No. 1 Jones, in section 19-19s-39e, seven miles southeast of Hobbs, in East-Central Lea County, was cleaning out after shooting at 7,790-7,928 feet, with 310 quarts of nitro, in a lower Permian section which had developed some signs of oil in drilling samples.

Not Too Encouraging

Humble Oil and Refining Company No. 1 Penrose, in section 12-22s-37e, in the Penrose-Skelly shallow field, in Southeast Lea, and one and one-quarter miles south of the discovery for Holt-Permian production in the Drinkard field, was swabbing to cleanout and test after treating with 8,000 gallons of acid, hrough casing perforations at 5,-080-5,100 feet; at 5,135-80 feet, and at 5,200-25 feet. Those formations had shown some oil previously, but so far none of them have delivered 100 percent clean petroleum

Plugged-back total depth is at 5,-320 feet, backed-up from total depth reached of 6,592 feet, in lower Permian.

During the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. Saturday, operator reported recovery of 195 barrels of fluid—95 percent salt water. Swabbing was continuing.

In Drinkard Section

The Texas Company No. 2 Lockhart, in section 18-22s-38e, one and one-quarter miles southeast of initial producer from the Holt section of the Permian in the Drinkard district, was making hole below 5,-873 feet, in lime.

Some shows of oil and gas have been drilled through in this project and the operator is expecting new oil signs as the hole goes deeper.

Phillips No. 1 Sims, in section 24-22s-37e, on north side of the Drinkard area, was swabbing to test, above plugged-back total depth of 7,015 feet, backed-up from 7,360 feet, in granite. The pay section had been treated with 5,000 gallons of acid, and some oil was being developed.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 Pike, in section 6-13s-38e, about two miles south of initial producer from the Clear Fork-Permian in the Drinkard area, was still bottomed at 7,-243 feet in lime and bailing unreported quantities of oil and water trying to clean out and test.

Getting Deeper

Texaco No. 1 Eaves, in section 26-16s-38e, 14 miles north of Hobbs, in East-Central Lea, had progressed under 9,990 feet, in lime, and was continuing.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 4 Leamex, in section 17-17s-33e, West-Central Lea exploration, had penetrated below 13,873 feet, in unreported formation.

Through Dr. Niels Bohr, above, Denmark's Nobel Prize winner, first experiments on smashing the atoms of Uranium 235 were made possible on Columbia University's cyclotron. Through his son-in-law, Dr. R. Frisch, who had received results of Dr. Lise Meitner's experiments in Germany in 1939, Bohr learned of uranium's potentialities while conducting studies in New York. These led to development of the atomic bomb.

Vatican City Paper Predicts Weapon Race

VATICAN CITY —(AP)— L'Osservatore Romano predicted Saturday a "feverish race for secret weapons" in the postwar world and rebuked scientists who work on them.

The Vatican City newspaper said in an editorial that an armament race was an inevitable consequence of the "last atrocious episodes of the war."

Discussing postwar prospects, the newspaper also objected to the transfer of persons from one country to another to eliminate national minorities.

The Tool Pusher

By JAMES C. WATSON, Oil Editor

SURVEY INDICATES NO DROP IN DRILLING

—Apparently the West Texas-New Mexico Permian Basin is not due for two much of a drop in petroleum development operations now that the war with the Japs is over.

—It is in the cards for the production of the region to be cut-back, and that is likely to be beneficial, for it is possible that some fields in the basin would have been injured soon if they continued to produce at the rates they have been pulled for several months.

—Basis for "The Toolpusher" predicting that this territory is not to have too much drop in development operations is a forecast in the August 20 issue of THE OIL WEEKLY.

—That forecast, in summary, shows that drilling in the United States is scheduled to be at the rate of from 27,000 to 30,000 wells during the year fillowing the close of the war.

—That is at the same rate—or slightly above the rate maintained so far this year.

—During the portion of 1945 which already has gone, the Permian Basin was the most active area in the United States. It stands to reason, that if approximately the same rate of activity continues during the next 12 months, we are not due for too much of a drop in development operations.

—Summary of THE OIL WEEKLY forecast follows:

—A domestic drilling program of 27,000 to 30,000 oil and gas wells during the year following close of the war with Japan.

—This forecast is based upon work of The Oil Weekly staff and supplemented by opinions of 17 leading oil executives whose operations cover the United States and foreign areas.

—The drilling program forecast by The Oil Weekly would compare with 27,000 in 1945 and an average of 30,000 annually in the five years preceding the war. However, replies from the oil executives indicate that wells likely will be drilled deeper and in equipment cost be equivalent to a considerably larger number of prewar wells.

—Among other factors affecting operations of the oil industry advanced by the executives were probable substantial decrease in demand during the first postwar year; probable sharp reduction in income through crude oil production cut-back; effect of a changed tax set-up; higher drilling costs; the crude price situation and lack of high grade locations and prospects.

—The reserve situation came in for considerable comment and possible effect of heavy crude oil imports was mentioned.

—Although it is anticipated that exploratory work will be conducted on what prior to the war would have been considered a large scale, most of the oil men who contributed their opinions expressed the belief that during the post-war year the percentage of wildcat wells to the total number of wells drilled would be down substantially as compared with this year.

—The crude reserve position of the nation was seen by the majority as encouraging drilling, because of the need for finding more oil. In a synopsis sent to the 17 oil executives in connection with the survey of opinion. The Oil Weekly stated that unless important discoveries were made during the latter part of the year the nation's crude reserves would decline, and that this should encourage drilling. Most of the replies agreed with this view, commenting upon the poor quality of recent discoveries, and the need for finding more oil to maintain producing ability.

—The close of the war with Japan will see the beginning of a crude oil production cut-back of around a million barrels a day.

—First to feel the impact of the cut-back will be the heavy oil fields of the United States and those of Venezuela where the war demand has stimulated production to an even greater percentage gain than the United States. Texas, Louisiana and California will feel the impact most heavily.

—A study of the replies received appears to confirm the opinion of The Oil Weekly, expressed in its memorandum to the oil executives, that there will not be a price decrease after the war, despite the fact that a sudden drop in production usually is accompanied by market disturbances. None of the 17 oil company executives prophesied a price cut. Although some expressed the belief that there should be some increase, none of them predicted a price boost.

—The oil executives also pointed to postwar expansion of secondary recovery projects, gas conservation installation, enlarged drilling programs abroad and heavy purchases of pumping equipment.

WOOD-WARREN PARTY STAGED AT CLOVERDALE

—R. L. "Bob" Wood and J. E. "Ed" Warren were hosts Friday night at a "stag" party for more than 200 of their friends at Cloverdale Park.

—There was plenty of "Smilo" Mallison barbecue and other food items it takes to make such an event successful.

—The usual recreation activities developed. It was an enjoyable and interesting party.

—C. W. "Pete" Strance, of Austin, chief supervisor of the oil and gas division of the Railroad Commission was one of the guests—he just happened to be in Midland on a tour of the district office under his supervision.

—Strance has been in the oil business about 25 years and has been in most of the "hot" spots of the industry during that quarter of a century. He declared the Wood-Warren entertainment was very enjoyable to him for he met friends he had not seen for years and he said the guest list was very representative of all branches of the business and all of the important oil fields of the nation.

—A number of business and professional men from Midland and other Permian Basin towns were present and several Army men were also on hand.

—Wood, is a partner with H. E. "Eddie" Chiles, Jr., of Seagraves, in The Western Company, engineered acidizers, and Warren is a partner and general manager of Carl B. King Drilling Company.

—No speeches were made and apparently there was no motive in the minds of the hosts for giving the party, other than getting their friends together and having a good time.

SUCH A THING "MIGHT HAPPEN," SOMETIME

—Persons who have traveled the road between Big Lake, and the site of a drill hole recently completed by Union Oil Company of California, on the Scott land in South Reagan County, were perturbed when they observed two mounds on earth, closely resembling graves, near the road, and adjacent to the No. 1 Scott location.

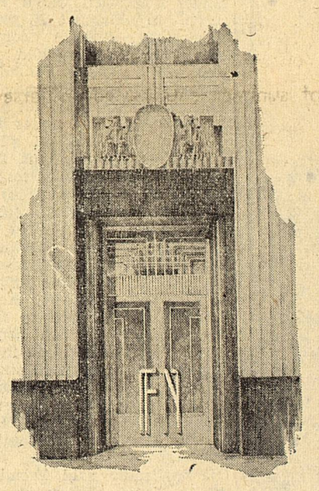

—Investigation revealed that one mound had a carved wooden headmarker, with the inscription,—"Here lies the last man who asked, 'how deep are you.'" On the headboard at the other mound was carved,—"Here lies the man who told him.

—Union drilled the Reagan wildcat "tight." Apparently the crews had trouble with injuiries from visitors regarding restricted information.

THROUGH JAPANESE EYES

Pearl Harbor—Dec. 7, 1941

"In the future, if we want to control China, we must first crush the United States. . . ."—Baron Tanaka, 1927.

THE PLAN OF WORLD CONQUEST

VI

THE Japanese plans for conquering the world are by no means of recent origin. They go back to the "divinely sponsored" exploits of the legendary Empress Jingo, who is credited with the first attempt to conquer Korea, the only world outside the Japanese islands known to Japanese mythology. And they were carried forward in the 16th century by Taikun Hideyoshi, who did invade Korea and planned to roll up China "like a map." But the really serious plans and preparations for it began when, prompted by Commodore Perry's "black ships," Japan emerged from her century-long seclusion and opened her gates to the outside world. The plans were formulated by Lord Hotta, premier to the last Taikun, in a memorial to the Emperor Meiji, then a boy. In this memorial, Hotta laid down the fundamental principles which have guided Japanese policy ever since, namely:

1. It is the will of Heaven that the Japanese Emperor should become the Emperor of the World, which is the first projection of the Hakko Ichiu principle.
2. Japan's foreign policy should always aim at establishing hegemony over all nations.
3. Japan must arm herself militarily and economically for that task.

How It Was Carried Out

This policy was put into practice by a swift modernization and industrialization of Japan which amazed the world, though the fact that it rested primarily on a large-scale armament industry sponsored by the state was often overlooked. It garnered its first fruits in the annexation of adjacent islands, which whetted the appetite for more. And it scored its first triumphs in the war against China in 1894-95, and especially in the war against Russia in 1904-05. In this war, Japan first matched her prowess against an Occidental world power and won not only victory but also Korea.

The next step aimed at establishing Japanese hegemony over China by stealth. While the rest of the world was busy with the first World War, Japan secretly presented to the Chinese government the notorious "Twenty-one Demands." They fell short of success because of Chinese and Western opposition, but they were the first concrete revelation of Japan's vast ambitions and the heralds of events to come.

These ambitions and detailed plans for their realization were laid down by Premier Baron Giichi Tanaka in another memorial to the throne submitted in 1927. When first published in 1931, this memorial was denounced by the Japanese as a forgery. Today, there is no reason to doubt its authenticity.

* * *

"FOR the sake of self-protection as well as protection of others, Japan cannot remove the difficulties in Eastern Asia unless she adopts a policy of 'blood and iron.' But in carrying out this policy we have to face the United States, which has been turned against us by China's policy of fighting poison with poison. In the future, if we want to control China, we must first crush the United States just as in the past we had to fight in the Russo-Japanese War. But in order to conquer China, we must first conquer Manchuria and Mongolia. In order to conquer the world, we must first conquer China. If we succeed in conquering China the rest of the Asiatic countries and the South Sea countries will fear us and surrender to us. Then the world will realize that Eastern Asia is ours and will not dare to violate our rights.

This is the plan left to us by Emperor Meiji, the success of which is essential to our national existence. The way to gain actual rights in Manchuria and Mongolia is to use this region as a base and under the pretense of trade and commerce penetrate the rest of China. Armed by the rights already secured we shall seize the resources all over the country. Having China's entire resources at our disposal we shall proceed to conquer India, the Archipelago, Asia Minor, Central Asia, and even Europe."—From The Tanaka Memorial, submitted to Emperor Hirohito by Premier Baron Giichi Tanaka, July 25, 1927.

Tomorrow the World

"In the Sino-Japanese and Russo-Japanese Wars we frustrated the treacherous schemes of England, checked the power of Russia, and struck a gigantic blow for the rebuilding of East Asia. Then in the Manchurian and China incidents, Japan's battles for a new Asia continued, and the movement expanded to all Asia. But this movement must progress to the concentrated union of all Asia with Japan as leader, and we must realize that for this Asia must return to her true self. But, based on the spirit of Hakko Ichiu which is the foundation of our country, this must not be restricted to Asia but spread over the whole world. Therefore the future history of Asia, and of the world, must be the history of Japan and nothing more."—Establishment of a Japanese Era, by Hikaru Hakamura, Tokyo, 1939.

"We should not look furtively to the right or to the left, but go South without hesitation. To go South is the solution of all our problems—in respect to the United States, the Soviet Union, China, Europe and the domestic situation; we can kill five birds with one stone."—Admiral Gumpei Sekine, in magazine Totai Riku, 1941.

"The Greater East Asia Coprosperity Sphere will not be isolated from other parts of the world but, on the contrary, will be the center of the new World Order."—Finance Minister Okinobu Kaya, Jan. 27, 1942.

Freedom Of News Now Reality In Fourteen Nations

LONDON—(AP)—Freedom of distribution and publication of news has become a reality in at least 14 nations, and in about 10 others censorship likely will be abolished shortly now that the war has ended, a world survey by the Associated Press disclosed Saturday.

The United States is the only one of the five major powers which has lifted entirely restrictions on press and radio. Britain and France plan to follow suit shortly. China also is considering censorship relaxation after a transition period from war to peace.

There has been no indication that Soviet censorship will be altered. The same is true of Finland, Rumania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Turkey.

British censorship—and this dispatch was censored—is expected to be removed within a fortnight.

Where News Flows Freely

The United States, Canada, Australia, Sweden, Switzerland, Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, Colombia, Peru, Uruguay, Panama, and Brazil permit news to flow freely into and out of the countries.

Spain, Portugal and Argentina permit correspondents to send their dispatches abroad without restrictions, although Argentina keeps intevenors in foreign communications offices. They actually are not interferring with the news.

Bolivian censorship officially has been declared non-existent, but actually the press is controlled by political pressures and other means.

In Italy Allied censorship has been limited to secret devices and intelligence methods and it appears certain it will be abolished altogether soon. In Germany and Austria Allied military censorship is imposed in outgoing dispatches along principles of security and maintenance of military secrets.

Nips Had Only 112 Ships When They Cried Quits

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Only a fourth of Japan's combat ships are left, and some of them are so badly damaged they can't be used.

That's the way an official Navy spokesman sizes up the situation. He said that when the Japanese cried, "Uncle!" they had no more than 112 hsips. This compares with 242 at Pearl Harbor, and a wartime peak of 445.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Does it bother you when people go into a trance in a bridge game over a bid or a play? If it does, you would enjoy playing with Mrs. Doris Fuller, one of New York's outstanding women players. She is one of the fastest players in the game—in fact, she plays so fast that her opponents sometimes become a little bewildered.

Mrs. Fuller lost no time in making five spades for an overtrick on today's hand, because her opponents never got down to leading diamonds. She won the first trick with dummy's nine and led a heart. When South played low, Mrs. Fuller went up with the king and led back another heart. North won with the jack and led another trump. All Mrs. Fuller lost was the king of spades and a heart.

On the first trump lead, South made the mistake of discarding the deuce of hearts, but I think you will find that as long as declarer is careful to cash all three clubs, four spades cannot be defeated.

UNRRA Overrides Reds To Grant Refugee Aid

LONDON —(AP)— Over-riding the dissent of Russia, Poland, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia, the Council of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration Saturday sanctioned aid for war refugees who wish to remain in exile.

The 28-to-4 vote in an open plenary session was taken after opponents charged the step would involve UNRRA in explosive European politics.

Delegates from Yugoslavia and Poland declared that if UNRRA cares for persons unwilling to be repatriated, the organization would be violating a rule against mixing in the policies of member countries.

Russia, Poland, and Yugoslavia declared they "reserved full rights," meaning they kept the right to consider the measure inoperative so far as they were concerned.

WPB 'Unfreezes' Steel, Copper And Aluminum

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The War Production Board Saturday "unfroze" vast quantities of steel, copper and aluminum for civilian production.

This was achieved by the cancellation of almost all allotments of these metals, along with preference ratings assigned by the Army, Navy and Maritime Commission.

The only ratings left on the books were MM (military) and AAA, used only for emergencies.

Cotton

NEW YORK—(AP)—Cotton futures sold off 5 to 35 cents a bale in quiet trading Saturday under light pressure of hedge selling against the new crop and liquidation, influenced by reconversion uncertainties. Oct. 22.57, Dec. 22.63, and March 22.60.

Man Shoots Wife He Mistakes For Thief

MIAMI, FLA. —(AP)— Pretty 19-year-old Mrs. Sallie Ann McBroome, critically wounded Friday when her husband mistook her for a burglar and fired a single 32-calibre shot into the darkness of their Miami home, clung to life in a hospital here Saturday.

Her husband, Frank, 25, who was exonerated by Mrs. McBroome in a statement dictated to sheriff's deputies, was released from county jail.

The young wife, an expectant mother, was shot early Friday as she returned from the back-porch bathroom. Physicians gave her only one chance in 10 to survive.

Mrs. McBroome came here from Houston, Texas.

Feller May Rejoin Cleveland In Week

GREAT LAKES, ILL.—(AP)—Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians, who pitched for Uncle Sam—literally and figuratively—since Pearl Harbor, will be whizzing his fast ball past American League batters any day now.

Commodore Robert R. M. Emmet of the Great Lakes Naval Training Station disclosed Saturday that Feller was eligible for release under the Navy's point discharge system and soon would be transferred to a demobilization center.

Feller declined comment on his current status, but said he had "more than" the 44 points required for release and that he hoped to be back in baseball uniform "in a week or two."

Warning Sent To Bulgarian Regime

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The United States Saturday warned the Bulgarian government—a regime set up after the Russian Army moved in—to free its forthcoming elections from fear and intimidation so that they may be truly democratic.

Otherwise, Secretary of State Byrnes made clear, this country will not consider signing a peace treaty with the former Axis satellite nation.

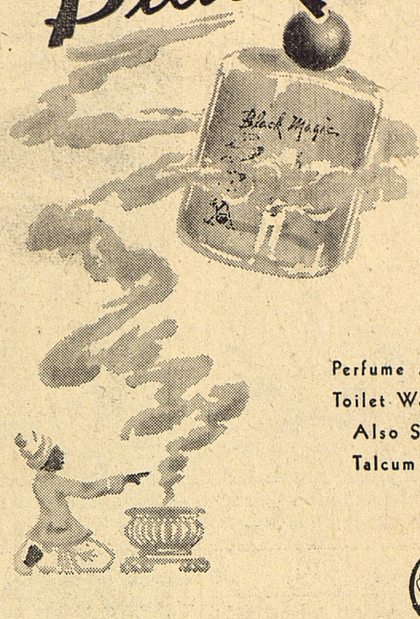

Bulgaria is one of the key nations in Russia's eastern European sphere, and a collision of policies appeared possible.

Britain backed up the American position.

The United States has insisted that the peoples of Eastern Europe must have free opportunity to elect their government. Moscow, while agreeing with this principle, has maintained in power governments on which it could count—that is Communist-dominated regimes.

Tense Situation In China Worries Nation's Leaders

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, —(AP)—"The United States has become Asiatic by virtue of this war. The boundaries of this country, by the inclusion of Iwo Jima and Okinawa, have in effect been extended to the shores of China."

These plain words by a Chinese were reinforced this week by a tense situation in China which threatened to throw that nation into civil war and could have aligned this country openly against Russia in Asia. It did not do so, presumably, because diplomatic breakwaters already have been built to ward off such dire tides of fate.

The situation in China was confusing to Americans, who were divided away by the groans of a Japanese militarism in its death agony.

Chinese Professor Explains

So another word from Dr. Lin Tung-Chi, visiting professor of political science at Mills College:

". . . The whole development of your history is the movement across the American continent, Asiaward. But mentally you are pulled back to Europe.

"The American people must once and for all get rid of the idea that some day, somehow, they will pull out of Asia. You were called into this conflict through Asia and if you dodge your responsibilities in Asia, you will be called in again.

Long Range Danger

The long range danger was that America would find itself partisan in a Chinese civil war. This would be immeasurably sharpened if Russia should throw her support to the Chinese Communists.

How the Chinese and Russians will distribute the occupation of Northern China, Inner Mangolia, Manchuria and Korea remains to be seen.

It appears now that the Russians will wind up occupying everything north of the great wall.

There is a bridge in Iraq which is lower 20 feet under the water so that ships may sail over the span.

Democratic Executive Committee Reprimands Texas Regulars At Meet

AUSTIN—(AP)—The State Democratic Executive Committee Saturday balked at adopting a resolution proposing to expel from any party office members of the now-defunct Texas Regulars, but it otherwise spoke its mind on departures from the party line.

The leaders of the party sent to a sub-committee for further study the resolution by Mrs. Vera Ford of Port Arthur, denying former Texas Regulars "any office of trust, confidence, responsibility or honor for a period of four years from the date of their apostasy."

This resolution was sent to subcommittee on a motion by former Governor James V Allred, who said that while he was in sympathy with the sentiments expressed, he did not feel the party had the legal right to so act.

The committee took an indirect slap at the Regulars in the adoption of another resolution, reiterating one passed in January declaring that no person should be considered or consulted about appointment to any position of honor or trust who either actively opposed the Democratic Party's nominees in 1944, or who remained silent when the fight was on." It did not mention the Regulars by name.

This resolution took on added significance in view of the current deadlock between Sen. Tom Connally and Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, each of whom has recommended a different man for the vacant Western Texas federal judgeship. O'Daniel campaigned against President Roosevelt in 1944. He has recommended Gov. Coke Stevenson for the judgeship, and Connally has recommended Judge Ben Rice of Marlin.

The committee also passed a formal resolution commending Connally—who will be up for re-election next year—to the people of Texas and to the nation. This resolution spoke warmly of his services in the Senate to the state, the nation, and to the world.

Seek to Prevent Split

Chairman Harry Seay of Dallas told the committee that the party organization was doing all in its power to halt any possible efforts to bring about a split such as the one last summer that led to the organization of the Texas Regulars.

Other committee actions included:

Passage of a resolution honoring the late Mrs. Clara Driscoll of Corpus Christi for her services to the party and to the state;

Passage of a resolution honoring and commending President Truman, Attorney General Tom Clark and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn;

Named Mrs. Arthur Hull of Lamesa to a committee vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Pattie Manion of Big Spring.

Legion Will Have Old Time Jamboree Labor Day Night

Plans for a big American Legion Labor Day Jamboree the night of September 3 were made Saturday at a meeting of a Legion committee. C. V. Grammer was named by Post Commander A. C. Hefner as general chairman for the event.

The Jamboree will be similar to the one given by the Legion in July which was an outstanding success. Grammer was general chairman for the July event.

With hundreds of visitors in town Labor Day for the matched calf roping in the afternoon, Hefner predicted many of them will attend the Jamboree at night.

Grammer said he will start immediately making arrangements for the games, music for dancing and refreshments. The event will be open to everyone, and there will be some form of entertainment which will appeal to everyone, Grammer said.

Convert Old Duds Into Campus Clothes

1. Teen-age designer Emily Wilkins took the prewar worsted suit at the right and re-made it into the smart schoolgirl lumberjacket suit. left

2. It was as easy as pie, says Emily Wilkins, to turn mother's eight-year-old pure silk moire dinner gown, shown right, into the youthful date dress at the left

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK — Re-make those good but hopelessly dated duds, stuffed away in attic trunk or closet, into smart campus togs for the daughter who is going back to school.

Thanks to Emily Wilkins, creator of high-style fashions for teenagers, who has designed two remakes to show mothers what they can do, here's proof that there need be no amateur's bungling on this job.

The junior lumberjack suit, top left, was made from the woman's suit of fine worsted at the right which, as you can see by the pleated skirt, is pre-war styled. The transformation was a cinch to do because the new is only a modernized version of the old—and her tip is to let well enough alone, if original lines can be preserved.

She took out a few pleats from the back of the skirt and whittled it down to junior size, ripped off the hip band from the jacket and used it to make the snug waistband belt for the lumberjack. Old-style buttons were replaced with fabric-covered buttons, and two were added to close the jacket up all the way ot the neck. That's all, but just see what was accomplished.

Another example of an outmoded garment, which can be ripped apart, cleaened and re-styled from scratch is shown next, in the woman's Empire evening gown, vintage 1937, made of good green silk moire too good to throw away. To the left of it you see its conversion into a smart junior date dress. There's a new bodice and a low-cut neckline edged with a bias fold, shoulder-building butterfly sleeves, a skirt with unpressed pleats and a crushed sash which ties in the back in a butterfly bow.

Col. F. Hartwick Speaks At MAAF Council Meeting

Col. Fred W. Hartwick, post surgeon at Midland Army Air Field, gave a talk at a meeting of the MAAF Camp and Hospital Council Tuesday at the station hospital. This council is composed of seven counties: Crain, Dawson, Ector, Gaines, Martin, Midland and Upton. Mrs. Ross Lee of Odessa, president, was in charge of the session.

Colonel Hartwick expressed his appreciation for the work being done by the council. He also spoke of several needs which would add to the cheerfulness of the hospital.

Caleb A. Jones, new Red Cross field dierctor, who was introduced to the group, spoke briefly on the importance of loyalty to the men still in the armed services. He also discussed plans to send Christmas boxes this year to all men on the high seas and those in the armies of occupation.

Lt. Sherman Gives Talk

A talk on the importance of the crafts room was presented by Lieutenant Sherman, convalescent training officer. He said a crafts room is important because it gives a discouraged patient a new interest in life, which is always one step toward recovery. Lieutenant Sherman displayed several hand-tooled leather belts, gun holsters, purses and other articles made by the patients. He made a request for weaving looms and any type of sewing machine.

The county chairman reported on articles contributed to the hospital this month which included books, magazines, crafts material and bingo prizes.

Report Heard

Mrs. S. H. Hudkins, council treasurer, gave a report from the Midland group in the absence of the regular chairman, Mrs. William L. Kerr.

An appeal for an electric phonograph and records for the use of the patients was made by Mrs. Vera Gartner, assistant to the Red Cross field director.

Curtains for the wards will be made by members of the Crane and Gaines counties' units. Mrs. Lillian M. Corbitt suggested that the blackout curtains in the sewing room in the courthouse, not in use at the present, be contributed to the hospital for darkening a ward where movies will be shown.

Contributions were made to a fund to renew subscriptions to magazines for the hospital.

MAAF Officer Weds Britisher While Overseas

A Midland Army Air Field officer, Lt. Charles Oran Ryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Ryan of Wichita Falls, was married to a British girl while serving overseas.

The wife of Lieutenant Ryan is the former Miss Faye Cheminais who was born in Bombay where her father was a captain in the Indian army. She was sent to England at the age of three to make her home with an aunt. When six, she entered a private school in Southern England and attended similar schools until she completed her education in Lausanne, Switzerland. With a fluent knowledge of several languages, she began work in the British Legation in Bern, Switzerland.

Met at Legation Dance

Lieutenant Ryan was shot down over Switzerland Aug. 17, 1943. He was interned for a few months, then released to work in the American Legation at the Swiss capital. The first night after his liberation from the camp, he attended a dance given by the American and British Legations. During a Paul Jones round, in which men and women dancers choose partners by forming concentric circles, Lieutenant Ryan met Miss Cheminais. They were married in June, 1944.

Mrs. Ryan left Switzerland before V-E day and managed to arrange passage from England to the United States with less difficulty than the 50.000 brides who are still awaiting transportation over. She made an interrupted trip from London to Fort Worth by plane. She was met by her husband who at that time was spending a leave with his parents in Wichita Falls.

Cool Suits For Hot Days Ahead

By EPSIE KINARD
NE AStaff Writer

NEW YORK—Lady-in-the-dark suits designed for the sizzle days ahead smash long-sleeved traditions, dispense with blouses, are tipped with color or splashed with print, and can be dressed to the teeth after the sun goes down with scene-shifting accessories.

Best bets for all of the well-known reasons are the perennial black. New York collections feature faille, shantung, polished alpaca and rayon spuns that masquerade as linen and somehow look less mussed.

Typical of this summer's brighter outlook are the two black suits shown. They are examples of the new bobbed-off sleeves and the uncluttered styling which asks for nothing but simple accessories for torrid hours, but begs for long gloves and fussy hats when the heat subsides.

The black rayon faille, left, is an open-necked, short-sleeved model with a self belt which tethers in front a big bow of black and white polka dotted crepe accessorized with matching hat and gloves. Tho bow can be removed to make way for color changes or a switch to an entirely different type of accessory.

The suit with the sheer black wool skirt, center, concedes fashion importance to the pure silk point which makes the jacket. A block motif of black, rose and blue mosaic squares is as richly colored and beautiful as a Persian ceramic, and the design is picked up by white bead embroidery. This model keynotes a collection of simple styles which change their type from the casual to the dressy, depending upon what accessories you have.

Just as versatile are suits in natural and vivid shades of shantung, faille and crepes which, if enlivened by splashy prints, can look as cool as a frosted drink. Styles in these range from strictly tailored to the softly feminine. Typical of softly-styled sizzle-day prints is the model, right, of pale background crepe printed with Valentine greeting card motif in black and violet. Sleeves are long and violet-trimmed collar is tailored. But as feminine as a fan are fluted pockets trimmed with violet crepe, set on

Atom Gun: One Of The Cyclotrons That Produced Victory Weapon

Hirohito named the atomic bomb as a principal reason for the Jap surrender. It was cyclotrons, or atom guns, like the one above that made the weapon possible. The cyclotron hurls atoms of heavy hydrogen around in a small circle in a vacuum until they are traveling thousands of miles a second and their speed gives them an electrical energy equal to as much as 5,000,000 volts. They emerge to strike a target, usually a piece of metal. Tearing particles from some of the atoms in this target, they release part of the energy of the damaged atoms in the form of rays. In the bomb the explosive substance has to be stabalized until the moment of detonation.

Diphtheria Cases Are Reduced Here

The flurry of diphtheria cases in the city apparently is subsiding, Dr. J. A. Olean, director of the Midland County Health Unit, said Saturday.

No new cases were reported to the unit during the week. Seventeen cases were reported during the flurry, one of which resulted in death.

Widespread immunization probably is the greatest factor in reducing the number of cases, the health unit director said.

About 350 children were given Schick tests or innoculations at the health unit during the last three weeks, the doctor said.

South Won Major Victory But Fight Just Beginning For Freight Equality

WASHINGTON—(AP)—They have a major victory under their belts, but the South and Midwest still have a long road to travel toward their goal of freight rate equality with the industrial East.

More than two months ago, the Interstate Commerce Commission made railroad history with its order for uniform freight classification from coast to coast and uniform class rates east of the Rocky Mountains.

No one, least of all the commission, expected instant, docile obedience. A year, maybe two, maybe more, would be needed to rearrange the nation's highly complex class rate and classification structure.

As for class rates, the order now is exactly where it was May 19 except for two thick files of objections, raised by railroads, governors and states north of the Mason-Dixon line from California to Maine.

Classification Fares Better

Classification fared better. Railroads in Northern, Southern and Western territories let the commission know they would undertake to call a spade a spade and a radio set a radio set from coast to coast—but it would take a long time.

The job, at least, is under way.

The commission ordered a 10 per cent raise in Eastern rates and 10 per cent reduction in Southern, Southwestern and Western rates (east of the Rocky Mountains)—by August 30. Final equality, it said, would come later.

ICC Postpones Effective Date

Railroads were quick to protest it couldn't be done. They asked postponement of the interim order until April 1, 1946. Southern governors object, but the ICC put off the effective date to November 30.

Eleven states beyond the Rockies want their class rates lowered, too. They plan to ask the commission to look more closely at their needs before the decision goes further.

Petitions from railroads, siding with the Northern states, are in the commission's voluminous files. Interested motor carriers would like to hear the arguments over again. A Southwestern steering committee has some slight changes it would like to see.

Petitions will be received until September 30. Sometime after that, the ICC will decide whether it will stick by its guns or go into extra innings.

Housing Is Needed For School Teachers

Twenty-four school teachers who will come to Midland to start their classes Sept. 4, need housing immediately, Frank Monroe, school superintendent, said Saturday.

Most of these need only rooms. Some seek apartments and a few need furnished houses for their families. Midland citizens again are urged by school officials to open their homes to teachers due to the critical housing situation here.

Persons who can provide rooms, apartments or houses for teachers are requested to call Monroe's office at the Midland High School.

Learn To Put People At Ease And You'll Be A Popular Hostess

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Putting shy people at their ease is the social obligation of a hostess, or of the chairman who presides over a small chatty group. Possessing and freely using this social technique gives many a woman her rating as a successful hostess and wins many a clubwoman the votes that makes her the chairman.

Because no one is more successful at this technique than a woman radio commentator, whose job is to "draw out" program guests, I asked Nancy Craig—one of the smoothest at this sort of thing—to tell her secrets.

"I ask short, encouraging questions," says Nancy, who insists that if you'll tactfully query people about what work they do, what their home interests are and what hobby they pursue, not even the shyest soul will falter for an answer.

Rallying to her subject and encouraged by your interest, a timid person is easily coaxed into objective conversation. At that point, says Nancy, someone else will join the talk and you are free to move on where you can put someone else at ease.

Filipino Guerrillas Win Praises Of Midland Marine Bomber Pilot

MIRAMAR, CALIF.—"A good bunch of fellows," is the description of the Filipino guerrillas given Marine First Lt. Harry R. Sindorf, 23, of Midland, Texas, returned to the United States for leave and reassignment.

Lieutenant Sindorf, a dive bomber pilot who participated in the Luzon and Mindanao campaigns, had high praise for the work done by guerrilla forces on Western Luzon.

"Poorly equipped though they were," he said, "they nevertheless drove the Japs back from the Lingayen gulf region across a small coastal range, enabling our ground forces to enter Baguio, summer capital of the Philippines."

The Midland Leatherneck went on to tell how he and his fellow-pilots worked in close cooperation with the guerrilla forces, bombing and strafing Jap installations from Soldic Bay to San Fernando.

"Did Fine Work"

"These guerrillas, under the supervision of American officers, did mighty fine work," he continued. "On a strike over San Fernando we realized the tremendous odds they were facing. We called for a smoke marker (phosphorous mortar shell) to designate our target and they replied, 'No smoke shells.' We then asked them to mark with a regular mortar shell—'No shells at all' they replied. It was amazing; those Filipinos were fighting with nothing more than only small arms and were driving the Japs back—hard."

On another strike over the same area, Lieutenant Sindorf witnessed an example of American ingenuity.

Lt. HARRY R. SINDORF

The fighter director, an Army officer, while directing the planes' activities from the ground lost radio contact with them. He borrowed a couple of shaving mirrors, and gave the pilots the Jap target locations by means of dot-and-dash heliography. According to Lieutenant Sindorf, though the means of communication was naturally slower than radio, the results were good.

Bombing Is Accurate

In addition to his work on Luzon, Lieutenant Sindorf bombed and strafed Jap positions barring the path of advancing Army troops in the Mindanao invasion, often working as close as 200 yards in advance of our front lines.

On one occasion, loaded with 1,000 pound bombs, the dive bombers laid them in only 100 yards from American lines.

Before his participation in the Philippines campaign, Lieutenant Sindorf was based on Munda and Bouganville where his squadron was formed.

Graduating from Midland High School in 1939, Lieutenant Sindorf completed two years of mechanical engineering at the University of Texas before enlisting in July, 1942. He took his flight training at Corpus Christi, Texas, and was commissioned there in August, 1943. The pilot's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Sindorf live in Midland.

Lieutenant Pate Arrives In States

MIAMI BEACH, FLA.—Lt. Clyde H. Pate has arrived at an Army redistribution center here for reassignment processing after having served as a B-17 pilot in the Mediterranean theater. His wife lives in Midland.

At 81 Woman Still Writes Novels And Composes Music

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Newsfeatures Writer

E. L. Voynich, who never went to school, just completed her fifth novel at 81 after a bout with double pneumonia.

In so doing she caps a fourway career as novelist, composer, musicologist and translator and clears the way for her next job—putting the finishing touches on her musical compositions—an oratorio and three big choral and orchestral cantatas.

Mrs. Voynich, English widow of a Polish book dealer and collector, began her writing career as a young wife in the gay nineties with a novel. "The Gadfly" which hit the best-seller lists. Her new book, "Put Off Thy Shoes" is third in the Gadfly series—a study of conflicting values and ideals of eighteenth century England.

In creating them all, she says, she never made a plot in her life. "I just get to know the people," she declared in her New York Chelsea apartment. "What concerns me is not what they do, but why they do it. They sort of tell me what happened to them and I try to figure why it happened."

Mrs. Voynich, a slender black-robed woman with white hair and blue eyes, would make a good novel herself. She was born in Cork, Ireland, daughter of George Boole, mathematics professor, and went with her family to England after his death. Her mother taught her ABC's and at 17 she went to Berlin to study music. When musicians cramp cut short her concert pianist ambitions, she went to Russia and taught English. Then she returned to England and married Wilfrid M. Voynich, a Pole who had escaped from political imprisonment in Russia.

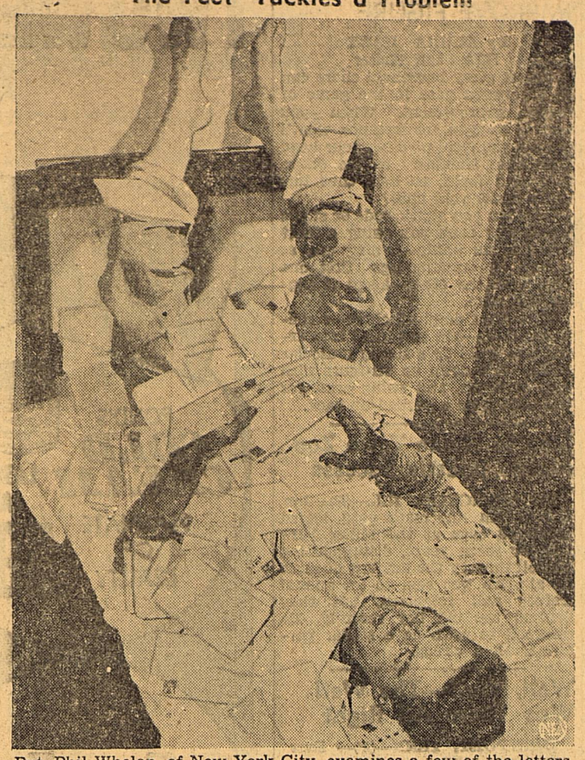

A few years later she plunged into writing novels and also did a number of outstanding Russian-English translations including "Six Lyrics" by the famous poet Taras Shevchenko. Then she stopped writing for 20 years and composed her oratorio choral and orchestral cantatas.

"Most of my musical work is unpublished," she said, "and will be till my death. But I have no grievance. I'll be perfectly happy if I can get my music revised and placed on microfilm before my death."

After Mrs. Voynich and her husband moved to New York, where he collected and sold rare books, she served as choral critic and lecturer on musicalogical subjects at Manhattanville College of the Sacred Heart.

Concerning the age-old battle for women's rights, she says: "I have always thought that the real enemy to attack was not unjust laws and customs, but the lack of respect in the majority of human beings for women as humans. People put up with and respect a lower standard of work from women. Any woman who does work of a quality which the expects in that particular work respect is really doing more for women than those who work for the reform of a bad law."

The Feet' Tackles a Problem

Josephine Elliott Worked On Atomic

Miss Josephine Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Elliott and a former secretary of the AAA office here, is working at the Las Alomos atomic bomb project near Santa Fe, N. M.

Work has been going on at the camp for about two years. There are 37 technical buildings at the project and about 200 others.

The camp is a self-sufficient community with about 6,000 workers. About two-thirds of the workers are civilians.

The workers at the camp knew only they were working on a dangerous project.

USE EVERY NOOK IN PACKING A BAG

Best formula for traveling light—if you have to take a trip—is to make shoes, hat and pocketbook that you wear serve all the clothes that you carry. Wearing instead of carrying, these three aggressive space-takers will make it easier for you to get by with one piece of luggage.

That's something to think about, when you remember that you may have to swing that piece of luggage with your own little hand.

Transfer from your bulky packages, jars and bottles of sojourner's measured supply of cosmetics into the smallest possible containers.

Stop thinking you have to go fancy with lingerie cases which give you a bag for stockings, another for handkerchiefs, and a third for gloves. Fold these items separately in tissue, and use them as stuffers for filling up all of the empty spaces.

THE SITUATION: A relative or friend sends you a photograph of herself and you do not think the picture does her justice.

WRONG WAY: Write and say you do not think it is a good likeness.

RIGHT WAY: Express your appreciation for being sent the picture, without criticizing it. (The person evidently liked the picture or she wouldn't have sent it.)

Mildred Heck Is Chief Hostess For Continental

The appointment of Miss Mildred "Tommie" Heck as chief hostess for Continental Air Lines has been announced by Lynn Dennis, Continental manager of flight service Miss Heck replaces Peggy Kellerman, who has resigned to be married.

In assuming the duties of chief hostess, Miss Heck is returning to a job which she left in September of 1944 on a leave of absence to work on a master's degree in fine arts. She was named chief hostess the first time in November of 1943.

Miss Heck is a native of Tulsa, Okla., and was reared in Kew City, midway between Tulsa and Wichita. She attended high school at Kew City, was a student at Northern Oklahoma Junior College at Tonkawa, Okla., and was graduated from Oklahoma A. and M.

A striking brunette, Miss Heck has served as a model for many of Continental's advertising pieces. She was the model for the desk calendars distributed by the airline one year and her photos have been used extensively in other of Continental's advertising literature.

The new chief hostess is now flying each one of Continental's schedules to become acquainted with the hostesses who joined the company during the past ten months and to study special hostess problems posed by the 21-passenger Douglas airliners which Continental Air Lines began using during Miss Heck's leave of absence.

HOUSEWORK CAN IMPROVE FIGURE

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Almost every household chore can be a forward pass in the game of figure improvement. When you squeeze oranges, for instance, what's to keep you from pivoting your head from one shoulder to the other, back and forth, to hold that line stable under your chin?

Or when you shuck pods or string beans, why can't you swing a foot? Rotating an ankle—freeing one at a time by crossing legs first one way, then the other—keeps it supple and trim.

That most despised chore—scrubbing a floor—can be turned into exercise to build up a strong muscular girdle. Get down on all-fours with mop or brush, and swing arms far and wide from a pushed-up back.

Lion In Home Town Zoo Makes Beastly Success

BLOOMINGTON, ILL.—(AP)—Jim, a local lion who made good, loafed around a cage at the Miller Park Zoo for seven years, distinguishing himself only by the amount of meat he ate. He was sold to an animal trainer and forgotten, but they lionized the old boy recently. He returned to town as a stellar performer in a circus.

Well, Well—The Well Was There All Right

NEWPORT, TENN—(AP)— Ever lose your well?

Edd Simmons bought a house supposed to have a well under it, but couldn't find it until a howling dog kept him awake one night. Simmons started searching under the house without a light. He found the dog—and the well. Neighbors pulled him out.

AIR CORPS, GET THE HECK UP WHERE YOU BELONG

NEWTON, MASS. —(AP)—Sgt. Benjamin M. Thomas came home from Patton's Third Army with this one:

From an infantryman operating in high terrain with a walkie-talkie came a message, "This is the Air Force coming in at 1,000 feet." Back went the answer: "This is the Infantry coming in at 3,000 feet. Get the hell up where you belong."

PAPER CARRIERS REMAIN ON STRIKE IN ST. LOUIS

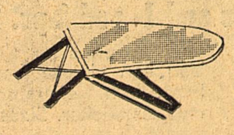

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—This metropolitan area of over 1,500,000 people remained without daily newspapers Saturday for the third consecutive day as a strike of 200 AFL paper carriers continued without any indication of early settlement.

There is more carotene in carrots that are in their prime than there is in young or old carrots.
