U.S.-flagged tanker strikes mine

KUWAIT (AP) — A Kuwaiti tanker flying the American flag under U.S. Navy escort hit a mine in the Persian Gulf today as it passed an island fortified by Iranian Revolutionary Guards.

No injuries were reported among the 26 people on board the giant tanker Bridgeton, but the vessel took on water. After a brief delay, it proceeded toward Kuwait, its destination.

In Tehran, Iranian Prime Minister Hussein Musavi called the incident an "irreparable blow to America's political and military prestige." He said the mine was planted by "invisible hands."

Iran's Islamic Republic News Agency, monitored in Nicosia, quoted Musavi as saying he hoped "the wise men in the United States have learned a lesson and (will now) put an end to their tension-creating adventures in the Persian Gulf."

Worshippers at Tehran University responded to news of the mine blast by chanting, "Death to the U.S.A.," and "Persian Gulf of Iran, the graveyard of Reagan" and "We will fight, we will die, but we won't compromise." The chants were carried by Tehran Radio, monitored in Nicosia.

In Washington, White House spokeswoman Leslye Arsht said President Reagan was awakened at 2 a.m. EDT by national security adviser Frank Carlucci and notified of the explosion. She declined to characterize Reagan's reaction to the report.

U.S. officials have not said how they would respond to an attack on a vessel flying the Stars and Stripes, but have hinted that military retaliation is a possibility.

The convoy was about 120 miles southeast of Kuwait's Mina al-Ahmadi oil terminal when the 401,382-ton Bridgeton, formerly al-Rekkah, hit the mine shortly before 7 a.m. (midnight EDT). It was about 18 miles west of Farsi Island, where the Revolutionary Guards have a marine base from which they have attacked ships in recent weeks.

The U.S. ambassador to Kuwait, Anthony Quainton, told The Associated Press that the damage to the Bridgeton will be inspected upon arrival in al-Ahmadi, Kuwait.

"There are no major dry docks here in Kuwait," he said.

Cogdell to pursue outside consultant on market strategy

The Cogdell Memorial Hospital Board of Managers Thursday night decided to pursue hiring a marketing consultant to find new directions and improved financial possibilities for the hospital.

Discussion items included the possibility of identifying some type of specialized medicine for Cogdell, one which would make it the only medical facility with such a service in the area.

Board members discussed four different consultants from various parts of the nation who sent written proposals, ranging in cost from about $19,000 to $40,000 for their help.

Hospital Administrator Cy Miller said he would contact other hospitals whom the consultants have helped to get a better idea of what Cogdell might expect from their services.

Miller was encouraged by board member Dan Cotton to ask a woman in Atlanta, Ga., who has worked with West Texas hospitals in the past, to come to Snyder and make a presentation before the board.

Board member Roy McQueen said he hopes Cogdell will be able to develop a special service to patients that no other area hospital is offering.

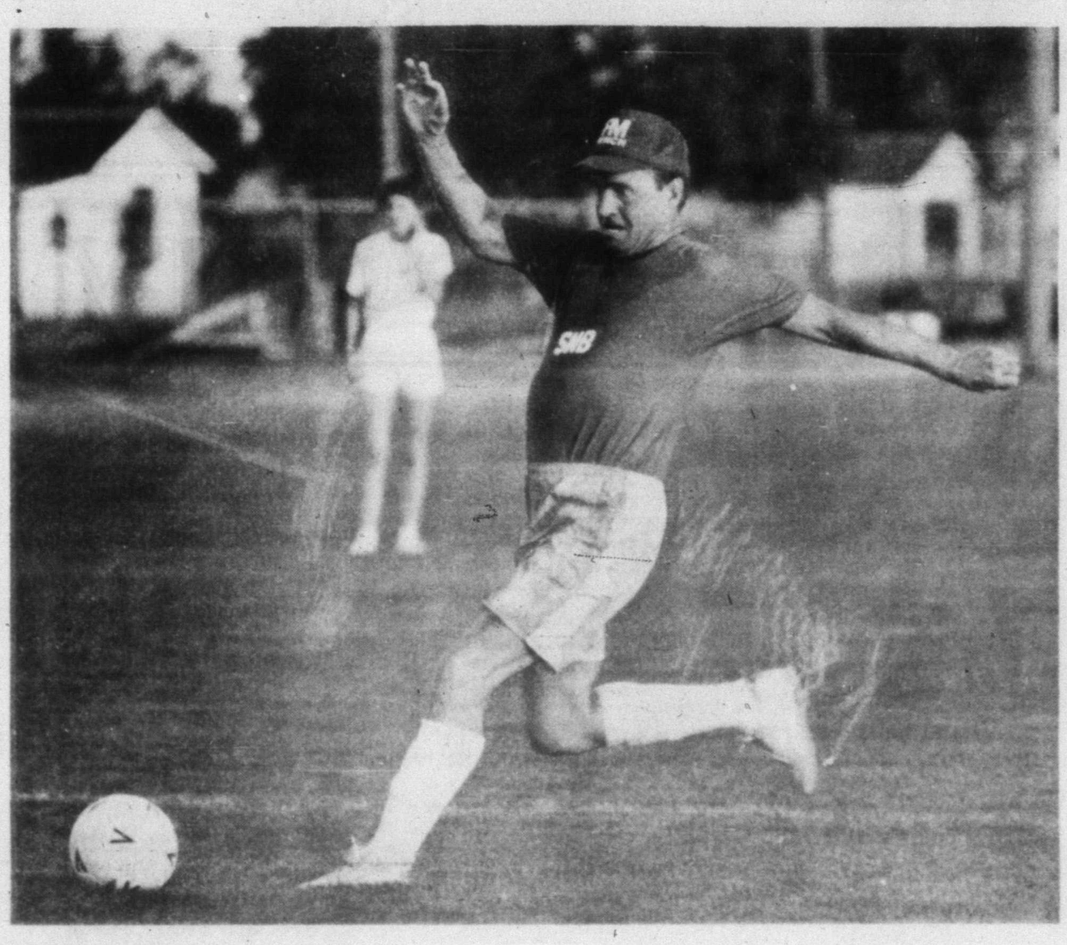

In other business, the board tabled for a month a request by Dr. Nelson Brice for a six-month leave of absence from the hospital staff.

Brice dated his written request Wednesday, and board members declined to act on it because they had not had time to put it on the agenda — a requirement of state law.

Miller said Brice has been working on weekends with a physician in Odessa and noted that he was allowed a 30-day leave earlier this year.

The board adjourned in executive session to discuss a personnel matter but took no action.

Members attending the meeting were Leon Autry, Janet Hall, Jackie Smith, McQueen, Cotton and ex-officio member Bobby Goodwin. Rex Robinson was absent.

Bankers end 4-3 for cause

Soccer teams from two Snyder banks clashed head on Thursday night at a benefit fund raiser for SCOOP, with the West Texas Bank Wheezers managing four goals in the second half of play for a 4-3 victory.

The challenge for the game was issued by WTSB President Bill Parker to SNB President Rex Robinson. Both were on the field Thursday with Parker serving as co-captain for his team along with Anita Clinkinbeard.

For the Snyder National Bank Bombers, team captains were Jack Gorman, Darryl Calley and Bart Tolleson.

The SNB Bombers led 2-0 at half with scores from Tolleson and Roy Idom. Tolleson also added the Bombers final point in the second period.

Tutoring classes planned

Snyder schools will offer a summer tutorial program for students who are behind in their studies beginning Aug. 3.

Those identified as eligible are students who are deemed to be "below grade level" in their studies or who scored low on the state-administered TEAMS test.

The district has mailed letters to parents whose children could benefit from the summer tutoring.

Also eligible are students in grades 5-12 who recently completed the six-week summer school. Those who were identified for summer school but who did

The feller on Deep Creek says, "You might preempt the soaps, but we've never seen a bulletin important enough to interrupt a commercial."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

Larry Crabtree, in the Vernon Daily Record recently had an article that supports the "I'm tired" excuse. It's needed during the hot days of summer.

"Yes, I'm tired. For several years I've been blaming it on middle-age, iron poor blood, lack of vitamins, air pollution, water pollution, saccharin, obesity, dieting, under-arm odor, yellow wax buildup, and dozen other maladies that make you wonder if life is really worth living.

"But now I find out, tain't that.

"I'm tired because I'm overworked. The population of this country is 200 million. Eighty-four million are retired. That leaves 116 million to do the work.

"There are 75 million in school, which leaves 41 million to do the work. Of this total, there are 22 million employed by the government. That leaves 19 million to do the work.

"Four million are in the Armed Forces, which leaves 15 million to do the work. Take from that total the 14,800 folks who work for state and local government, and that leaves 200,000 to do the work. There are 188,000 in hospitals, so only 12,000 remain to do the work.

"Now, there are 11,998 disabled, so that leaves just two people to do the work--you and me. And you're sitting there reading this. No wonder I'm tired."

O. G. Nieman, in the Hereford Brand, observed all those folks protesting in Austin. It caused Nieman to wonder how these protestors make a living.

Nieman, who was filling in for staffers who were on vacation, asked this question after an AP report said 3,000 demonstrators flocked to the Capital to tell lawmakers they prefer higher taxes to reduction in state services.

Those working don't have time to protest.

Museum to focus on homes

Reservations are now being accepted for a luncheon at the Scurry County Museum being planned in conjunction with the current photo exhibit at the facility detailing historic homes of the city and county.

Reservations for 25 individuals will be accepted for the July 30 event. It will begin at noon.

In addition to the meal, a slide show will be presented "Historic Homes: What They Tell Us."

"Photos of historic homes are more than just pictures of a house," notes Shirley Leftwich, museum director. "They have a statement to make about the people who lived in the house, and

In Brief

Hijacking over

GENEVA (AP) — A gunman hijacked an Air Afrique jetliner and killed one of its passengers today before Swiss police stormed the plane and captured him, Swiss and French authorities reported.

In Paris, the French government reported that Swiss police led an assault on the Air Afrique DC-10 after the gunman shot a passenger in the head.

Robert Ducret, head of the Swiss Crisis Unit at Geneva airport told reporters the victim was "probably a French national."

"He was executed with a bullet fired through his head," Ducret said.

He said the man, described as about 30 years old, said the hijacking was "linked to the problem of his brother held in Germany."

The plane had been carrying 163 people when it was hijacked today on a flight from Rome to Paris. The hijacker had demanded to be flown to the Middle East after landing here for fuel, authorities said.

GNP is up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. economy grew at a modest annual rate of 2.6 percent in the April-June quarter, the slowest performance in a year, the government reported today.

The Commerce Department said the second quarter change in the gross national product, the broadest measure of economic health, was down sharply from a 4.4 percent rate of increase in the first three months of the year.

Dog attack

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - A Sabinal woman was in the intensive care unit of a San Antonio hospital today after being attacked by one of her three pet Doberman pinschers, police say.

Alice Caskey, 65, underwent surgery and was in serious condition thursday night at Methodist Hospital, a hospital spokesman says.

Sabinal Police Chief Speck Nelson said the dog that attacked the woman earlier this week was shot and had to be destroyed.

Nelson said the woman was attempting to place her three dogs in separate rooms when she was attacked by one of them because "one of them got jealous."

Shultz is hailed as 'hero'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State George P. Shultz is being hailed by many lawmakers as a "real American hero" after spelling out in blunt detail his role in the secret fight inside the Reagan administration for control of U.S. foreign policy.

The Iran-Contra investigators who offered that description made clear they believe Shultz' private conduct and public defense of the Constitution stands in clear contrast with the actions of Lt. Col. Oliver L. North, widely hailed as a hero after his testimony earlier this month.

Shultz, one senator said, is taking America "inside the eye of the storm," providing a rare look at a policy power struggle fueled by lying, manipulation and deceit.

And others said he made a powerful defense of the Constitution in its bicentennial summer.

Shultz, who also has headed the Labor and Treasury departments in a long government career, is, like North, a Marine combat veteran.

After graduating with honors from Princeton University in 1942, he enlisted in the Marine Corps as a private, took part in fierce battles in the Pacific, and advanced to the rank of captain.

He still wears a scarlet Marine Corp dress cumberbund with his civilian tuxedo on dress occasions.

North was saluted as a hero even after he admitted he altered key documents, shredded many more and withheld information from Congress.

North testified he had hoped the secret private enterprise put together to sell arms to Iran and to divert the proceeds to Nicaragua's Contra rebels would survive as a permanent covert operations capability free of congressional supervision of government that we live and must live by."

Under the Constitution, Shultz said, the powers of government must be shared.

"And this is not sharing power," he said.

Dear Abby

Hesitation to Host Full House Tempts Card Cronies to Fold

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1987 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I love to play the card game Pan. In our game, one of the eight players has turned out to be a freeloader. The last eight times when it was her turn to host, she was either "sick," or her husband was "entertaining a relative," or her maid missed coming this week and her house was a mess. However, she has not missed a game in a year!

Now she says her hands hurt (arthritis) so she can't shuffle the cards, but she has no trouble reaching for the chips or reaching for the cards.

Abby, you once wrote: "Nobody can take advantage of you without your permission."

The other women in our group are just as fed up with this woman as I am, but nobody has the nerve to call her on it. I told the others that I was going to drop out. So since I am always quoting you, they said, "Write to Dear Abby and see what she has to say." So I am writing. Should I stay with the group and ignore this woman's faults, or drop out and try to organize another game without her? The other women said they would all go along with your decision.

E.G. IN L.A.

DEAR E.G.: Freeloading is inexcusable, but arthritic hands can be painful, so give the offending woman a break. Confront her and state your complaint, and if she doesn't have the game at her house in the very near future, you would be justified to "reorganize" — and deal her out.

DEAR ABBY: My very good friend (I'll call her Terry) just found out that she is expecting twins. She gave me a baby shower last year, so now I'm going to have one for her.

Do you think I should mention on the invitations that Terry is expecting twins? It will mean that the guests will have to buy two gifts instead of one, which may make it kind of expensive for those who are on a rather tight budget.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

DEAR DOUBLE: Of course you should mention the double blessing in your invitations. Obviously it will mean bringing two gifts instead of one, but everyone knows that one pair of booties will not cover four little feet.

DEAR ABBY: Here's a beef I don't recall seeing in your column: Why does every young twit in a medical/legal office, from the doctor/lawyer down to the receptionist, call me by my first name?

I always introduce myself as "Mrs. Smith." I'm 43, mother of five, a professional person with more life experience than any three of them put together. Yet they're always Dr. X or Mr. X. I find it disrespectful and an unwarranted familiarity. I'm sure every self-respecting woman has at some time resented this condescension.

What is a firm but polite response to nip this habit in the bud?

MRS. SMITH, VANCOUVER, B.C.

DEAR MRS. SMITH: I recommend that you firmly, but politely, ask the offending young twerps, doctors, lawyers, receptionists, etc. to address you as "Mrs. Smith." And should they fall back into their old first-name habits, firmly but politely repeat the request.

Your Birthday

Saturday, July 25, 1987

In the year ahead, you will make departures from your previous patterns and make important changes in your basic lifestyle. These alterations will provide you with more fun and contentment.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's best not to boast about things today that you have yet to accomplish. Do what you intend to do, and let the results speak for you. Major changes are ahead for Leos in the coming year. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) One who expounds his ideas in a bold, dramatic fashion may make you feel a bit inferior today. Analyzing the speaker's words will debunk this illusion.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It may prove unwise to enter into a joint venture today, where you are in a minority position. Don't be a participant if the roles aren't equal.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Underrating your competition today could have undesirable consequences. Realistically size up the caliber of those with whom you joust.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It's vitally important that you maintain a positive atttude toward your work today. If you inflate the size of your task, you may ignore it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be cautious in business today. Don't kid yourself into believing others will be looking out for anything other than their own survival.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Even if you are not in complete accord with your mate today, make it a point to support him or her in front of others, or it could prove embarrassing.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Instead of imposing your ideas on co-workers today, invite their views and opinions. It's possible their thoughts may compliment yours.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you are not financially disciplined today, you are likely to make serious dents in your budget. What you waste now you may really need later.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) In order to rid yourself of a problem today, you may handle it in a manner that won't resolve your dilemma, but merely put it out of sight.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) People with whom you'll associate today will not be impressed by tall tales. They will sit up and take notice, however, if you are forthright.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Avoid acquaintances today who are high rollers, or you may feel compelled to spend beyond your means just to keep up with the crowd.

Squeaking through

One aspect of modern competitive bridge that I cannot advocate is the tendency to bid pre-emptively on absurd values when the vulnerability is favorable. But since a journalist reports the bizarre as well as the mundane, we have the current offering. It is interesting from the point of view of correct play based upon declarer's impression of an opponent's distribution.

The two-diamond opening was weak, ostensibly 5-11 high-card points, but South fudged quite a bit because of the favorable vulnerability. His partner took him seriously and soon he found himself in six diamonds. Declarer won the ace of clubs and immediately played ace and a diamond. When he won the queen and West showed out, his work was cut out for him. He played the jack of spades, covered by the king and ace. Next came A-K of hearts and a heart ruff. He cashed the 10 and queen of spades and ruffed another heart, East following to all these tricks. A club to the king placed the lead in dummy with two tricks still to be played. East had the diamond K-10, but because South had the J-9, East could take only one trick.

Declarer would have failed in his contract had he tried earlier to ruff a third club in his hand, since that would have enabled East to discard a spade, effectively blocking declarer from coming to the winning position at the 12th trick.

A new book by James Jacoby and his father, the late Oswald Jacoby, is now available at bookstores. It is "Jacoby on Card Games," published by Pharos Books.

False alarm evacuates jet

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A United Airlines jetliner carrying 184 people was evacuated after a fire alarm sounded as the plane prepared for take off, and several passengers were slightly hurt, an airline official said today.

No fire was discovered aboard the Boeing 747 after the aborted takeoff Tuesday at Bangkok's international airport, said the airline's local manager, Malai Sakolviphak.

Phoenix, Dallas lead growth

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cities in the nation's Sun Belt are continuing to set the population pace, with Phoenix and Dallas the nation's fastest growing major metropolitan areas, the Census Bureau reports.

Phoenix grew to an estimated 1,900,200 people in 1986, up 25.9 percent since the 1980 Census of 1,509,227 to lead the nation's major communities in growth, the bureau reported Thursday.

Close behind with a 24.7 percent growth over the past six years was Dallas, which climbed to an estimated 3,655,300 people from 2,930,568 in 1980, the agency said. That moved Dallas past Houston and into 8th ranking in size among metropolitan areas. Phoenix ranks 21st.

Other fast growing communities of 1 million or more people were all located in the South or West.

They included Atlanta, up 20 percent; San Antonio, Texas, 19 percent; Tampa-St. Petersburg, Fla., 19 percent; San Diego, 18 percent; Sacramento, Calif., 17 percent and Houston, 17 percent.

The nation as a whole increased by 6.4 percent between 1980 and 1986.

Some northern "Rust Belt" cities that were losing population in the 1970s have turned around, while others continue to decline, the new list shows.

Three large metropolitan areas continued to lose population: Buffalo, N.Y., Pittsburgh and Cleveland. But two others, Detroit and Milwaukee, which have been losing people since 1980, showed slight gains between 1985 and 1986, the new Census study shows.

In the only change in the nation's largest 10 metropolitan areas, the Dallas-Fort Worth area moved up from 9th to 8th place, switching places with Houston. Dallas had a 1986 population estimate of 3,655,300, while Houston weighed in with 3,634,300. In 1985, Dallas had 3,535,800 while Houston had 3,605,500.

Nationally, the New York metropolitan area remains far and away the most populous in the country with an estimated 17,967,800 residents, a gain of 50,000, or 2.4 percent, since the 1980 census.

The study focuses on metropolitan areas, estimating the populations of residents living in regions that have close social and economic ties despite being divided into more than one political jurisdiction.

In most cases, metropolitan areas have a central city of 50,000 people or more, but can include several counties nearby and often extend across state lines. New York, for example, includes portions of New York state, New Jersey and Connecticut.

Some smaller metropolitan areas have faster rates of growth than the bigger communities, but to some extent the large percentage increases stem from the smaller populations of those communities to begin with.

Thus, between the 1980 census and 1986, Naples, Fla., was the fastest growing community, increasing by 41.2 percent, from 85,971 to 121,400, in the current estimates.

Ocala, Fla., was second with 40 percent growth, followed by Fort Myers and Fort Pierce, Fla., 36 percent each, and Austin, Texas, and Anchorage, Alaska, 35 percent apiece.

Nitric acid spills from truck

AZLE, Texas (AP) — A leaking truck spread about 3,000 gallons of nitric acid along a five-mile stretch of highway, but no serious injuries resulted from the corrosive chemical's fumes, officials said.

"It was a pretty sizeable spill, and we had some runoff into the creek. We're trying to determine the environmental damage, and we've got some reports that it might be running quite high," Fort Worth Fire Department Butch Hall said Thursday.

The truck driver noticed the leak at about 10:30 a.m. when he stopped at a convenience store on the west edge of Lake Worth. The truck was being driven on Texas Highway 199 from LIKA Southwest, an Azle-headquartered subsidiary of the Tandy Corp., Hall said.

"He immediately called the LIKA plant and said he was bringing the truck back," Hall said. "As the truck headed back north again on 199, it continued to spill the chemical, and then it got off on an access road in Azle and spilled more acid on the access road."

At least five people, including a police officer and a firefighter, required medical attention.

GOOD TEAMWORK -- After knocking a hit ball down and scooping it up from the infield, first baseman Grant Jordan flips it to an unseen Raymond House covering the bag. The action took place Thursday in Hamlin as Snyder won its best-of-three playoff series. (SDN Staff Photo)

All-Stars top Clyde; advance in playoffs

HAMLIN -- Andy Garza's one-out single pushed across the tying run and Grant Jordan followed with a sacrifice fly for the game-winner as Snyder's All-Stars came from behind to shut down Clyde in Little League action here Thursday night, 4-2.

The victory clinched the best-of-three series for Snyder, which will advance in post season play next week to meet Albany. That confrontation is set for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Dixie Field in Abilene.

Snyder's offensive attack Thursday was complimented by another good pitching effort from Steven Bollinger. Despite getting hit by a pitch in the third inning that caused swelling in his left arm, he pitched all six stanzas. The young right-hander struck out 11 batters while giving up four hits and five walks.

Snyder clubbed Clyde pitcher Brian Burleson for eight hits, including a single and a triple by Andy Garza and two singles by Tory Garza. Bollinger drilled a double and Jordan and Charles Richards added a single apiece.

Snyder took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Eric Braziel reached on an error and came home on Bollinger's two-out double. The advantage was wiped away in the second inning, as Clyde scored two runs on a single and a bases-loaded walk.

The All-Stars answered in the top of the third. Braziel singled and Bollinger was sent to first after being hit by a Burleson fastball. A wild pitch moved the runners up, and Braziel raced home moments later on Andy Garza's single. Next-up Jordan slapped a deep out to center field and Bollinger was able to tag up and sprint home with what would ultimately be the winning run.

Snyder added insurance in the fifth inning, again with the Bollinger-Andy Garza combination. This time, Bollinger was intentionally walked. The strategy backfired when Garza slammed a triple to left field.

The winner of Tuesday's Snyder-Albany contest will play again at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday against Abilene Dixie. The three-team tourney is a double-elimination affair, with the eventual champion meeting a representative from the Lubbock area.

Buffs ready for tourney

COLORADO CITY -- Snyder's Buffs begin Junior Teenage League play at 10 p.m. here Monday, July 27, as they start their bid for a state championship.

Merkel and Sweetwater open the three-day tournament at 4 p.m. The victor will advance to meet Snyder at 10 p.m.

In the other game scheduled for July 27, Eastland meets Colorado City at 7 p.m.

The tournament is double-elimination, and the championship game has been scheduled for July 29 at 7 p.m.

Parker brings in half dozen to lead Cincy past Montreal

by The Associated Press

Dave Parker drove in six runs with a homer, double and single in five at-bats as the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Montreal Expos 8-4 Thursday night at Olympic Stadium.

The six runs batted in tied Parker's career high for a game set against Los Angeles on May 9, 1975, while a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"I took a lot of batting practice on Monday and Tuesday and it paid off tonight," Parker said.

Elsewhere in the National League Thursday, Philadelphia beat Atlanta 5-1; San Diego edged Pittsburgh 2-1 and St. Louis defeated Los Angeles 9-6 in the only other games scheduled.

The Expos scored four runs off Ted Power, 8-5, in the first inning, but he settled down and pitched eight innings, allowing eight hits. John Franco pitched the ninth inning for the Reds.

The Expos sent nine men to the plate and scored four runs - three unearned - in the first inning on four hits. Tim Wallach's double accounted for two runs before Andres Galarraga and Mike Fitzgerald each drove in one with singles.

Montreal starter Bryn Smith, 6-4, allowed eight hits and six earned runs in 4 1-3 innings as the Expos lost their third straight.

Phillies 5, Braves 1

Don Carman pitched five-hit ball over seven innings and drove in a run with a single as Philadelphia beat Atlanta at Veterans Stadium.

Carman, 6-7, struck out six and walked five. Mike Jackson pitched the final two innings for the Phillies, allowing no hits.

Padres 2, Pirates 1

Eric Show pitched six-hit ball for 8 2-3 innings and Randy Ready hit a home run as host San Diego beat Pittsburgh.

Show, 5-11, struck out eight and walked two before leaving with two outs and two on in the ninth inning. Rich Gossage got the last out for his seventh save.

Ready led off the second with a homer off Doug Drabek, 2-9, and Tony Gwynn doubled in the other San Diego run in the third.

Cardinals 9, Dodgers 6

Vince Coleman snapped a 6-6 tie with a run-scoring single in the ninth inning and Ozzie Smith added a two-run double as St. Louis won its fourth straight, taking a 9½-game lead over second-place Montreal in the NL East.

Matt Young, 5-6, came on in the ninth in relief of starter Orel Hershiser and allowed a one-out single to Tony Pena and an infield hit by pinch-hitter Steve Lake. Coleman then singled to right to score Pena and Smith followed with his 200th career double.

The victory went to reliever Ken Dayley, 5-1. Todd Worrell pitched the ninth inning for his 21st save.

Orioles take ninth straight; Rangers fall 4-2 to Indians

by The Associated Press

The Baltimore Orioles got a strong performance from Eric Bell as they posted a 2-1 victory over the Kansas City Royals for their ninth straight win.

Bell pitched a five-hitter and struck out a career-high 12 for his first complete game in the major leagues as he improved his record to 8-7.

Cal Ripken, Jr. knocked in the Orioles' two runs with a fifth-inning single.

Danny Jackson, 4-12, suffered the loss.

In other American League games, it was Toronto 4, Minnesota 3; Cleveland 4, Texas 2, and Milwauke 12, Oakland 5 in the only games scheduled.

Indians 4, Rangers 2

Tom Candiotti pitched a four-hitter and Brook Jacoby and Pat Tabler homered as host Cleveland defeated Texas.

Candiotti, 3-10, walked one and struck out seven en route to his first win since June 5 and his second complete game of the season. The knuckleballer led the American League with 17 complete games in 1986.

The Indians took a 1-0 lead in the third against Jose Guzman, 8-9, when Brett Butler walked, took second on Tommy Hinzo's sacrifice and scored on Joe Carter's base hit.

Cleveland made it 3-0 in the fourth on Jacoby's 18th homer - one more than he had all of last season - after Cory Snyder led off the inning with a double. And, Pat Tabler accounted for the Indians' final run with a homer in the seventh.

Blue Jays 4, Twins 3

Garth Iorg singled with two outs in the ninth off reliever George Frazier, 5-5, moved to second on Tony Fernandez's single off Keith Atherton, and scored on Moseby's base hit.

Minnesota's Gary Gaetti hit a solo home run in the sixth, his 18th of the season, to tie the score 3-3 against Stieb.

Stieb, 9-5, struck out eight to win his third straight game.

Brewers 12, Athletics 5

Greg Brock and Paul Molitor homered to key consecutive four-run innings, leading Milwaukee over Oakland at County Stadium.

Joaquin Andujar, 3-3, balked with the bases loaded, forcing in Milwaukee's first run in the third. Brock then followed with a three-run homer, his 10th, to give the Brewers a 4-2 lead.

The Athletics got a run back in the fourth on Alfredo Griffin's RBI double off starter Chris Bosio, 6-2. But in the bottom half of the fourth, singles by Glenn Braggs, Bill Schroeder and Steve Keifer accounted for one run, another scored on Dale Sveum's grounder and Molitor's two-run homer made it 8-3 and chased Andujar.

Talented Dallas lineman...

'Kitchen' may deserve name change

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) - Offensive guard Nate "The Kitchen" Newton wants to cook up a reputation for more than size.

Last year, Newton gained fame as the Dallas Cowboys' answer to the Chicago Bears' William "Refrigerator" Perry, but the new offensive line coach says this year he hopes to remodel Newton's image.

"I think the nickname is demeaning," Jim Erkenbeck said. "'The Kitchen' gives him the image of a slovenly fat guy who only wants to eat. I want Nathaniel to be thought of differently."

Newton, who showed up at training camp at 309 pounds after reaching an off-season peak of 349 pounds, agreed that he didn't want to be compared with a carnival sideshow.

"I want people to stop looking at me as some fat guy and start looking at me as a competitor," said Newton, who at 6-3 can dunk a basketball and bench press 490 pounds.

He shrugged his shoulders when asked if he is ready for "The Kitchen" to be removed from his name.

"If Coach Erkenbeck doesn't want it, neither do I," said Newton, 26, who played at Florida A&M before signing a free-agent contract with the Cowboys a year ago.

Erkenbeck, an ex-Marine, hopes to drill Newton into a hard-nosed left guard, and says he has plenty to work with.

"I happen to think that Nate has the most talent of anybody in our offensive line," Erkenbeck said. "I'm not saying that he's the best player in the line. Yet. But he's the best athlete we've got in the offensive line."

"Last year, I didn't make a dent on this team, other than people saying I was the biggest guy to ever play for the Dallas Cowboys," Newton told the Dallas Times Herald.

Newton dropped fat during the off-season when at the behest of club Dr. James Zamarano, he didn't eat solid foot for six weeks.

Last August, Newton weighed 329 when he reported to Cowboys camp. Dallas Coach Tom Landry recalled his first impression.

"Gosh, he was overweight. And he didn't know what was going on."

But now, the Cowboys are looking at Newton as one of the keys in rebuilding their offensive line. Erkenbeck seems almost obsessed with converting Newton into a superstar and believes Newton will fit perfectly into the Cowboys' new blocking style.

Since being hired in February from the New Orleans Saints, Erkenbeck has been teaching a more aggressive blocking style. Instead of using finesse, Cowboys linemen will be trying to take defenders head-on.

Newton's eyes brighten when he talk about the new approach.

"The idea of jumping around and faking people out is not my style. I don't like to do a whole lot of thinking," he said. "I like to knock people down. I like to win battles."

Francis inks with Cowboys but Noonan still a holdout

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) - Ron Francis, the Dallas Cowboys' No. 2 draft pick, has settled his contract dispute and now must catch up on five days of missed workouts, Coach Tom Landry says.

Francis, a 5-foot-9, 201-pound defensive back from Baylor who was the 11th player selected in the draft's second round, signed a four-year package Thursday that is worth $935,000, the NFL Players Association says.

Francis' package is only $65,000 less than the contract signed by Nathaniel Odomes, taken by Buffalo as the first player selected in the second round, the association said.

Francis' $250,000 signing bonus was $25,000 more than what Odomes received. Francis' salaries for the next four seasons will be $135,000, $155,000, $185,000 and $210,000.

The signing leaves No. 1 choice Danny Noonan as the Cowboys' only hold-out today. The rookies camp began Sunday, but Landry said Francis should be able to catch up quickly.

"When you move away from the center of the ball, you can make adjustments much quicker. I'm talking about defensive backs, wide receivers, they can adjust much quicker than interior people," he said.

"So I think he (Francis) will be fine. He has missed some valuable work, but it's his job now to catch up."

One of Noonan's agents, Tony Agnone, said in early July he had mailed a counteroffer to the Cowboy's initial offer, which was believed to be for $1 million or less for four years.

CNFR to air Saturday

Portions of the College National Finals Rodeo will be aired Saturday from 2 p.m. until 3 p.m. on KTAB - channel 5 in the local viewing area - Western Texas College Rodeo Coach Bob Doty has noted.

Expected to be on the show are performances by Western Texas students Jessie Colburn, Keith Hudson and Mike Carrillo. Adam Brewster and Troy Budvarson may also be shown, said Coach Doty.

The show, which was held in Bozeman, Mont. in June, has been or will be aired on over 140 stations representing 50 percent of the U.S. market.

EARNEST KIKER

Kiker set as auctioneer

Earnest Kiker will be the auctioneer for the AJRA Alumni and Booster Club auction to be held Saturday afternoon, Aug. 15, at 5 p.m. in conjunction with the steak cookout. For the convenience of all who attend, the event will be held in the ag complex at the coliseum instead of Towle Park as originally planned.

Kiker, son of Earl and Betty Kiker, is a native of Rotan. He graduated from Texas Tech University with a bachelors and masters degrees in agriculture education.

Kiker has been with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service for 15 years and is currently serving as county extension agent in Midland.

He is married to the former Vickie Newton. They have one daughter, Jessica.

Sessions to head the FBI

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Judge William S. Sessions has accepted President Reagan's offer to become the new director of the FBI, an administration source said today.

The source, who spoke on condition he not be identified, said Sessions accepted the job during a meeting today with President Reagan.

An official White House announcement was expected later today.

Sessions' meeting with Reagan followed discussions earlier this morning with Attorney General Edwin Meese III.

Sessions, 57, flew to Washington Thursday night from San Antonio, Texas. His nomination follows a lengthy and politically embarrassing search by the Reagan administration for a new FBI director in which several candidates turned down the job.

Sessions, a Republican, is chief judge of the U.S. District Court for the western district of Texas.

He gained national attention in 1982-83 by presiding over two trials stemming from the killing of U.S. District Court Judge John H. Wood Jr.

Oil prices are in steep decline

NEW YORK (AP) — Oil futures prices declined sharply today on the New York Mercantile Exchange.

The fall came despite a new incident in the troubled Persian Gulf. Analysts said many investors were continuing to sell futures contracts and collect profits following last week's steep jump in oil prices.

Contracts for September delivery of West Texas Intermediate, the U.S. benchmark crude oil, were trading at $20.70 a barrel at late morning, down 53 cents from Thursday's close. A barrel is equivalent to 42 gallons.

According to reports from the Persian Gulf, one of the reflagged Kuwaiti tankers in the gulf hit an underwater mine and began taking on water this morning as it was being escorted by three U.S. Navy warships.

There were no injuries among the 26 people on board the Bridgeton and the tanker was able to proceed. The trip continued, although the convoy slowed.

Blood proteins aren't simple

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — There was too much protein in my blood so I was told to have a bone marrow test. It was OK. What does excess protein signify?

DEAR READER — Your question is deceptively simple; the subject of blood proteins is complex. I'll try to give you an overview.

The body's organs produce many types of proteins that circulate in the bloodstream. Each protein has a specific function. By subjecting a small sample of cell-free blood to a tiny electrical charge, scientists can separate the various blood proteins from one another. Because proteins vary in weight, light proteins will migrate further than heavy ones in an electrical field. This characteristic provides the basis for the medical test called serum electrophoresis, in which the blood proteins are separated, identified and quantitated.

Human blood usually contains five major forms of protein: albumin, alpha-1 globulin, alpha-2 globulin, beta globulin and gamma globulin. These proteins can be further divided into classes by more sophisticated tests, yielding the forms called immunoglobulins: IgA, IgD, IgE, IgG and IgM.

Depending on the protein characteristics of a blood sample, doctors can diagnose certain diseases. For example, low serum albumin is often the consequence of dietary deficiency or liver disease. Antibodies, the body's infection-neutralizing proteins, are usually included in the Ig (or gamma globulin) fraction. Patients sometimes show abnormal proteins (or too much of a particular protein) in their bloodstreams. The most common abnormality is an "M spike," an excess of IgM; this is seen in myeloma and other types of plasma (blood) cell cancer. The doctor performed a bone marrow test to make sure that your plasma cells, many of which are in the marrow, were normal.

Your excess proteins may represent a normal variation but, as I mentioned, the type of protein should be identified. Your doctor may choose to do this by further analysis using complex tests.

DEAR DR. GOTT — At age 6 months, my daughter, now 2, became very light-sensitive. Most days she will not open her eyes in the morning. When we go outside she buries her face against me so she won't have to look. Her eyelids are swollen (not crusty), and if you pry her eyes open, about 3/5 teaspoon of clear liquid will run out. Three specialists gave her drops, which only helped temporarily. What's the next step?

DEAR READER — Your daughter seems to have an eye irritation, such as conjunctivitis or corneal abrasions, that should be investigated by an ophthalmologist. If she has already seen eye specialists, request a referral to a pediatric ophthalmology clinic at a teaching hospital. Your daughter is obviously very uncomfortable and her sight is too precious to delay her visiting superspecialists who can diagnose and treat her affliction.

If you have questions about MENOPAUSE, you can get answers in Dr. Gott's new Health Report on the subject. Send $1 to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to ask for the Health Report on Menopause.

AIDS soldier is restricted

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - A Fort Sam Houston solider who has AIDS and is accused of having sex with a married woman without warning he carries the AIDS virus has had his movements on the post restricted, Army officials say.

The solider is also suspected of having sex with two other partners after being charged with assaulting the married woman.

The Army confirmed Thursday that Sgt. Richard Sargeant, a former instructor at the Academy of Health Sciences at Fort Sam Houston, was "restricted to limits" on July 10. The Army did not define exactly what restricted to limits means, other than to say his movement on the post is limited.

Sargeant, 27, accused in a case involving a married Fort Sam Houston soldier, not only carries the virus, but has AIDS, the Army confirmed Thursday.

Sargeant continues to live in a room by himself at a Fort Sam Houston barracks. However, other soldiers share lavatory and other facilities with him

Some soldiers in the barracks have said Sargeant should be moved out of the barracks to another location where he can be watched more closely, the San Antonio Express-News reported today.

Shultz continues to testify

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State George Shultz today brushed off gentle questions about whether he should leave the Reagan administration, and declared that the damage done to U.S. credibility by the Iran-Contra affair "has been remedied."

Testifying at nationally televised congressional hearings for the second day, Shultz said there was nothing more he could have done in January 1986 to persuade Reagan to abandon secret arms sales to Iran. He and Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger made their case "forcefully, fully," Shultz said.

"I don't think there are any more arguments I could have thought of," he said.

Shultz was asked several questions by Rep. William Broomfield, R-Mich., about whether he felt he could do an effective job as secretary of state and whether he felt comfortable remaining in the Cabinet in the aftermath of the Iran-Contra controversy.

"Are you a psychiatrist or something?" Shultz replied at one point.

Shultz disclosed Thursday that he submitted his resignation to the president on three occasions in the past, most recently in August 1986. This time, he gave no indication that he intends to resign.

Instead, he said, "by and large the president's foreign policy has gone forward with widespread support" both within the administration and with Congress.

"It's been a very strong, coherent set of policies," he said. Shultz added there always is debate before a policy is formulated, but said it would be "alarming" if that were not so.

As for his attempts in December 1985 to dissuade the president from approving any more arms sales to Iran, Shultz said he doubts Reagan "was in any doubt about my position."

"It galls me," Shultz said. "Our guys got taken to the cleaners" in the deal. "It's so lopsided it's crazy."

Tutoring classes planned here not attend are eligible also.

The tutoring program will be from Aug. 3-14. Classes will be from 8:30 until 11:30 a.m. Instruction will be in reading, math and computer assisted instruction.

Funding for the program is made possible through federal funds received by the Education Service Center, Region 14, of the Texas Education Agency.

The statewide goal of the tutoring programs is to help students overcome learning deficiencies identified through the Texas Education Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS) test.

Parents who have received letters related to their child's need for the program are encouraged to contact school administrators for more information. The telephone number is 573-5401.

the time period in which they lived."

The luncheon will consist of casserole, salad, coffee or tea. Its cost will be $4 and reservations may be made by calling the museum at 573-6107.

The current exhibit at the museum features photos made by local Jay Huckabee and former resident Dudley Cramer.

Also on display in the exhibit gallery are western movie posters and other memorabilia on loan from former resident Tom Rigsby.

Soccer clash scores given

The second half saw the WTSB team close the gap to 2-2, then take the lead with two more points. Scoring for the Wheezers were Shawn Ragland, Todd Sorrells and Mark Estes, who scored twice including the final winning point.

Donations from a crowd of more than 150 people were taken up and some $350 raised for SCOOP.

Honors bestowed on Amadeo Garza

2nd Lt. Amadeo B. Garza of Dyess AFB, son of Eleodoro V. Garza of Snyder, has been named both a distinguished graduate and the recipient of the Ira J. Husik Memorial Trophy.

This award culminates eight months of effort in which Garza competed with approximately 35 other officers in areas of academic theory, inflight navigation principles and officer qualities. He was selected for this award because his overall achievement placed him in the top ten percent of his class.

The Husik Memorial Trophy is given to the officer who compiles the most outstanding flying record as a specialized undergraduate navigator training student. He demonstrated more ability than anyone else in the class on four difficult flight mission checks.

CLOWNS FOR CHRIST--Clowns for Christ will appear at the Calvary Baptist Church this Sunday through Friday. R. E. (Bob) Kajn, Sr. and his wife, Alice live in Cleburne. (Church Photo)

Calvary Baptist planning crusade

Calvary Baptist Church will be hosting a family crusade Sunday, July 26, through Friday, July 31. The crusade, which is designed for the entire family, will feature Clowns for Christ. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. (Bob) Kahn, Sr., and his wife Alice have been in evangelism for 21 years. They live in Cleburne and perform in churches in an entertaining approach to the teachings of Christ.

Calvary Baptist Church is located at 2405 35th Street. Services will be at 9:45 a.m. and 10:50 a.m. Sunday and 6 p.m. Sunday evening. Monday through Friday services will begin at 7 p.m. each night.

Clowns for Christ was originated in Phoenix, Ariz. in 1969. It is the oldest full time Gospel clown ministry in America.

The ministry consists of professional clown tricks, skits, ventriloquist, and performances by Skipper, a real live monkey, and Princess, the super dog. They also feature action songs with Aunt Alice and her electric organ and vivid illustrated Bible messages.

Their motto is, "We Are fools for Christ's sake," taken from the New Testament.

Tax man to take bigger tax bite

AUSTIN (AP) — Thanks to a record $5.7 billion tax hike, the tax man will be taking a bigger bite out of Texans' incomes, but state residents will still be paying less than the national average.

Taxes will be higher for clothing, automobiles, cigarettes and hotel rooms, and there are brand new taxes on private club memberships, pest control services and yard work, among other items.

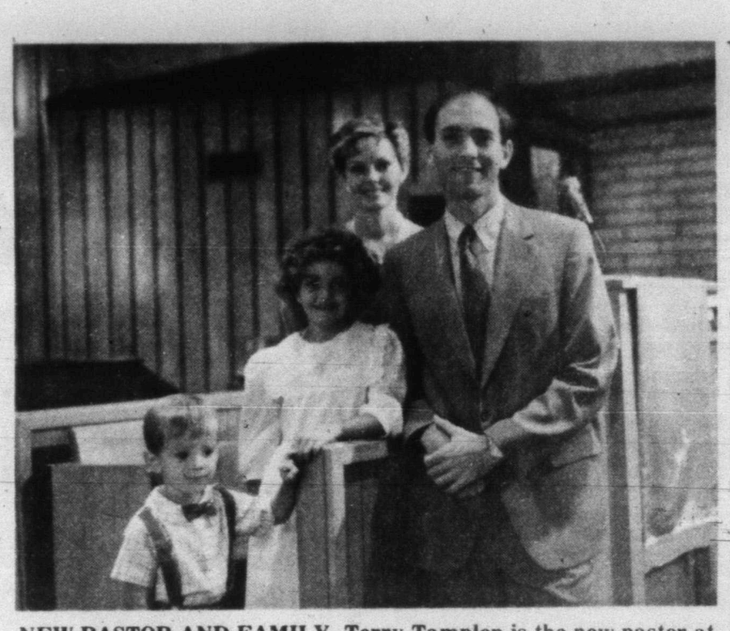

Come Sept. 1, the state tax bill on an average $12,500 car will go up $125. And Texans will pay $60 more for a $6,000 car.

The state sales tax rises three-quarters of a cent in October, but the motor vehicle sales tax goes up a full penny a month earlier. New license and occupational taxes for doctors, dentists and engineers go into effect Sept. 1, but lawyers don't have to pay them until January.

The new taxes are included in 72 pages of new laws passed earlier this week as the Legislature came within hours of the midnight deadline on a special session devoted to forging a budget for the next two fiscal years.

If the total tax burden were split equally among every man, woman and child in Texas, the bill would be $730 a person, up from $667 last year. The national average is $973.

While most Texans will be worrying about higher taxes, commercial anglers on the Gulf Coast may be delaying late September expeditions until early October to take advantage of a benefit of the new bill. After Oct. 1, any ice they buy will be tax-exempt.

NEW PASTOR AND FAMILY--Terry Tamplen is the new pastor at Union United Methodist Church. He is married to Vicki McDaniel and they have two children, Tarah, 7, and Greg, 3. They are natives of Crowell and were living in Follett before moving to Union. (Family Photo)

Tamplen new pastor at Union Methodist

Terry Tamplen is the new pastor at Union United Methodist Church. He and his wife, Vicki, have two children. Tarah is 7 and Greg is 3. They are natives of Crowell.

Tamplen graduated from Texas Tech University in 1978 with a degree in agriculture economics and finance. In 1985 he earned a master of divinity degree from Asbury Theological Seminary.

Before moving to Union, Tamplen served as pastor of the Follett United Methodist Church.

Methodists ponder future status of Oral Roberts

DALLAS (AP) — The United Methodist Church is reviewing Oral Roberts's status in the denomination after complaints about his assertions that he raised people from the dead and that God would kill him if he couldn't muster $8 million from his flock, officials say.

The Memphis Conference of the United Methodist Church in Tennessee has called for Roberts' censure, and the United Methodist University Senate has dropped the Oral Roberts University seminary in Tulsa, Okla., from the list of schools it regards as suitable for Methodist ministers.

In addition, the Oklahoma Conference has asked that the church's highest legal body issue a ruling on Roberts' status in the church, the Dallas Times Herald reported today.

Church officials said Thursday the ruling by the United Methodist Judicial Council could set the stage for future disciplinary action against Roberts, a member of Tulsa's Boston Avenue United Methodist Church.

Ira Baptists set VBS classes

Ira Baptist Church will have its Vacation Bible School Monday through Friday of next week from 9 a.m. to noon daily. The VBS is for children aged two years old through the sixth grade.

Rides are available and may be obtained by calling 573-6277. A family night is planned for 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Waistbands to stay

DALLAS (AP) — Diaper giant Kimberly-Clark Co. emerged the victor over rival Procter & Gamble after a jury ruled the elasticized waistband in Huggies disposables wasn't a patent infringement.

Procter & Gamble had asked for an injunction to stop Kimberly-Clark from making the elasticized Huggies, claiming that violated a patent held by P&G for a heat-shrinkable material used to form gathers in Huggies' waistbands.
