Successful Short Course Ends At Tech Thursday

Attendance Compares Favorably To Other Courses; Demonstrate Hog Killing

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche Staff Writer

DECLARED to have been the best program yet given at a Texas Tech short course, the third annual farmers' program came to a successful close late yesterday afternoon with a hog-killing demonstration in which two animals were killed and prepared for butchering, followed by a visit to the college barns and test grounds.

Attendance held up throughout Thursday, there being in fact a slightly larger attendance on the third day than on the second day. It was believed that the number in attendance would rank well with previous years. No check had been made of attendance reports but Dean A. H. Leidigh and other agricultural school officials declared they were "more than pleased with the course and the attendance."

The announced program went through without a hitch, only one of those named on the program being unable to make his engagement. He had been drafted but unexpected work prevented his coming.

"We had an unusually high class program this year and we did not have a single man to try any propaganda or high power stuff," Dean Leidigh said. "It is unusual too, for our type of a program. The speak-

President Hoover Honors Abraham Lincoln In Talk

Says Many Problems Faced By Lincoln Still Unsolved

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.— President Hoover declared in a Lincoln day address tonight that the dominant problem in the American form of government today revolves about the relationship of federal state and local governments.

Speaking over the radio from the White House study, frought with memories of the Civil war president because it was there he worked. President Hoover warned that increased federal powers "can lead but to the superstate where every man becomes the servant of the state and real liberty is lost."

Such a state, he said, was not the kind of government Abraham Lincoln sought to build.

"There is an entirely different avenue by which we may both resist this drift to centralized government and at the same time meet a multitude of problems," he said "That is to strengthen in the nation a sense and an organization of self-help and cooperation to solve as many problems as possible outside of government."

The situation arising out of the present economic depression was viewed by the president as a test of the American people's ability to solve great problems outside of government action.

"The degree of moral strength with which we emerge from this period," he said, "will be determined by whether individuals and local communities continue to meet their responsibilities.

"The country can take courage and pride in the manner in which organizations for relief and for the provision of employment have sprung up over the nation, he said, adding:

"Never before in a great depression has there been so systematic a protection against distress; never before has there been so little social disorder; never before has there been such an outpouring of the

Summer School Fund Approved

Appropriation Bill Passes Senate Despite Opposition; Measure Would Allow No Increase In Salaries

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 12.—The battle scarred summer schools appropriation bill was riddled again today in the senate by a small block of senators who, although opposing it, failed to halt it as the senate voted 26 to 3 for its final passage. The bill called for $422,700 for the operation of Texas summer schools in 1931.

The bill did not escape the amendment stage unscratched. As passed it carried an amendment signed by Senator Purl of Dallas Poage of Waco and Deberry of Bogota ordering no salary raises to summer school instructors in 1931. The senate voted down Purl's first amendment which asked that all money appropriated for summer schools in 1931 be used for paying salaries only, and that no salaries be supplemented out of local funds The amendment was killed, 19-10.

Senator Poage of Waco said this was not a case of appropriating, but a case of supplementing an amount already appropriated. He said, if the bill passed, the legislature would, in all, appropriate $759,700 for summer schools in 1931. He said the last legislature had appropriated $337,000 for summer schools.

"Just use the paring knife," Poage said. He also said the legislature was talking economy and there was no showing of the necessity for increased appropriations to summer schools.

Will Rogers Fund Totals $225,000

TEXARKANA, Ark., Feb. 12. (AP) Will Rogers prepared to hang up his lariat here tonight after roping in something like $225,000 for drouth relief, in what he pointed out as the three "hardest hit" states, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma.

"About all I've got to say is it's an unparalleled example of liberality in a section suffering as bad as any in the country," he said.

"Why, I played right in the midst of the worst hit places and they turned out to see me and put up their nickels.

"Nobody ever played so many towns in such a short time," he declared. During 18 days, he has appeared in 50 towns of Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, with only one day off.

Three Bank Robber Suspects Held Here

To Attempt to Identify Trio In Robberies

Armed Men Arrested By Local Officers At Midnight Wednesday At Lubbock County Farm House; Checks Found

Little Cash Found

Suspects Held In Connection With Looting Of Banks At Cyril, Okla., And Canyon; Wanted On Other Charges

EFFORTS probably will be made today to identify three men arrested at midnight Wednesday at a Lubbock county farm house in connection with the daylight holdup January 7 of a bank at Cyril, Okla., and the subsequent robbery of the First National bank at Canyon.

Approximately $200 worth of American Railway Express company travelers checks were found in the possession of the three suspects following their arrest, Sheriff Wade Hardy said.

Loot Included Checks

Loot from the bank of Cyril, Caddo county, Okla., included about $1,900 in such travelers checks, in addition to cash approximating $3,000. Five men executed the robbery, three entering the bank and two remaining outside as lookouts.

Employes of the Cyril bank and possibly of the Canyon bank were expected here today to view the three suspects, who are being held in the city jail.

Cash aggregating $13,379.61 was taken from vaults of the bank at Canyon by two masked men, who had awakened Levi Cole, cashier, and his wife and made the Coles accompany them to the bank. Waiting nearly five hours for the time lock to spring, the bandits held up those who entered the building, including the sheriff and two bank employes. Officers believe one or more confederates awaited the pair nearby.

Throw Away Arms

Menace of a sawedoff shotgun convinced the three suspects arrested Wednesday midnight that resistance was useless, they told officers after their arrest. The shotgun caused two of the mto throw away .38 calibre revolvers, the third suspect being unarmed at the mo-

Gas Bill Protests Made By Citizens

Complaints Made By Dozen Local Persons Before City Commission Here Thursday

COMPLAINTS of a dozen Lubbock citizens pertaining to current gas bills issued by the West Texas Gas company, as compared to statements issued for the same period a year ago, were heard by the Lubbock city commission Thursday morning.

The meeting which began at 9 a. m. and continued until noon was called by Mayor J. J. Clements to an effort to obtain facts in connection with a compilation of data relative to the gas controversy.

Bills Compared

Complaints entered referred to bills for December, 1930, and January, 1931, as compared to those of December, 1929, and January, 1930.

Approximately 50 gas consumers of Lubbock have furnished their bills for those periods for the use of the city commission in its investigation, which was asked in a petition signed by more than 450 consumers, according to City Manager J. Bryan Miller. Some were received after the meeting.

All members of the commission were present at Thursday's called session, as were City Manager Miller and City Secretary W. H. Rogers.

Records of the complaints were made by the latter two and will be compiled later with others which have been received.

One of the outstanding complaints was made by Mrs. Mary McComb, of the Johnson Hotel, Broadway and Avenue K. Her bill for January, 1931, was $75.50 as compared

Radio Brings Message From Pope Pius XI

Millions Of Listeners Hear First Papal Broadcast In History; Benediction Is Bestowed Upon World

BY ANDRUE BERDING

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 12 —(AP)— Radio, invention of the twentieth century, carried the age old Latin of Pope Pius XI to the four corners of the world today, and millions of listeners heard the first papal broadcast in history.

The Pope, nimself the most modern of all pontiffs in thought and action, blessed the new invention and, in a message marked by a fervent keynote of peace and cooperation, bestowed the apostolic benediction upon the world.

Speaks Twice

Twice during the day his holiness spoke to the microphone. His first address, in Latin, dedicated the new vatican radio station, presented him by Senator Guglielmo Marconi, "father" of wireless telephony.

In it he spoke to all classes, to the members of his hierarchy and to his followers, to dissidents, to workers and employers, to the rich and the poor, the persecuted and afflicted.

To millions of Catholics he became, through the medium of the ether waves, for the first time a living personage in a personal way. They heard his clear, earnest voice in their own room and offices, a voice to hear which uncounted pil-

Engineer Meets Death When Missouri Pacific Train Is Derailed; Fireman Injured In Wreck; Jumps From Cab

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 12.—An engineer was killed and a fireman injured late today when a Missouri Pacific passenger train from Mexico City to St. Louis was derailed two miles north of Encinal.

Jake R. Bain, of San Antonio, engineer, was killed instantly, his neck was broken as the engine cab rolled over on him.

F. C. Chevalier, fireman, also of San Antonio, sustained a broken left arm and a fracture of the hip when he jumped from the engine. He was taken to Cotulla for medical attention.

The engine and tender turned over and the three baggage cars left the rails, but none of the passenger coaches were derailed.

Chevalier said he saw the tender go off the track and yelled to Bain. The fireman leaped for the door of the cab as the engine rolled in the opposite direction.

Bain was believed to have jumped on the side on which the engine rolled and was caught under the cab and crushed.

Way Is Opened For Action On Disputed Bill

Administration Tells Senate $20,000,000 Fund Could Be Used By Farmer Borrowers For Food And Clothing

Predict Adoption

Interpretation Is Made By Secretary Of Agriculture Hyde; Borah Says Reply Is "Clear Enough"

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12—The administration informed the senate today that the pending $20,000,000 drouth loan fund could be used by the farmer borrowers for the purchase of food and clothing if necessary for agricultural rehabilitation.

With this word from Secretary Hyde the way was opened for adoption of the much disputed compromise and notice was served by Senator McNary, of Oregon, the assistant Republican leader, that he would ask the senate to stay in session tomorrow until it had voted.

Says Reply Clear

Senator Borah, of Idaho, a leader of the Republican independents who offered the resolution calling for the interpretation of Secretary Hyde, said the reply of the agriculture chief was "clear enough that there is no prohibition against food."

Nevertheless there was no fight tonight after another democratic outbreak that the opposition of some of the Democrats and Republican independents to the substitute for the $35,000,000 Red Cross relief appropriation had subsided.

Hyde's statement was sent to the senate from Louisville. It followed a series of conferences between President Hoover and senate Republican leaders.

Hyde reaffirmed the administration's contention that the purpose of the loan fund was not for the purchase of food and supplies for the farmers and that this relief was being left to the Red Cross.

"On the other hand," he continued, "It is my understanding that the major purpose of this aditional legislation is in effect to restore the weakened credit situation and that when loans under any part of the amendment are made to those who have the securities indicated for

Would Lighten Paving Burden Of Owner Here

Program To Aid Property Owner Recommended To City Commission; Charles Guy Named B.C.D. Member

Program designed to lighten for the property owner the burden of city paving costs was recommended by City Manager J. Bryan Miller at a meeting of the city commission Thursday afternoon at city hall.

Major points of the proposal include:

1. Bids would be taken on several different types of paving, including concrete, asphalt and brick, when a project of 30,000 to 50,000 square yards had been effected.

2. The city would pay 10 per cent of the cost of paving where the front of a lot abuts on the street, and at least 25 per cent of the cost where the side of a lot abuts on the street.

3. Property owners would pay 10 per cent of the assessment on paving certificates within a year from the date of completion and acceptance of the paving, and the balance in nine equal annual installments; all deferred payments would draw 6 per cent interest.

Would Cut Cost

Adoption of such a plan, according to the city manager, would make cost of paving to the property owner less an dallow hi ma longer period in which to pay the assessment.

The city could care for its part of the program out of general revenue without issuing bonds or warrants, or increasing the tax rate, City Manager Miller said.

An opinion was expressed by the city manager that adoption of the plan would be a major factor in expediting start of paving residential streets, annual cost to the property owner paying the assessment

Body Is Found In Garage By Victim's Wife

P. G. Stokes, Ford Dealer, Shot Through Temple; Pistol Found Near Body Now Owned By Victim

Inquest Conducted

Chief Of Police And Justice Of Peace Investigate Death; No Verdict Reached; Funeral Arrangements Not Yet Made

(Special To The Avalanche)

SLATON, Feb. 12.—P. G. Stokes, about 55, local Ford dealer, was found shot to death here tonight in the garage at his home. An automatic pistol was lying near the body.

Mrs. Stokes found her husband slumped near their car at about 7:30 o'clock after they had driven home from his place of business. Mr. Stokes let his wife out in the driveway and she went into the house. She said he was to have put the car in the garage and come on into the house. When he failed to come in, she went to investigate and found him dead. She stated tonight that she did not hear a shot.

Inquest Held.

An inquest was held tonight by Justice of the Peace Earnest Ward but no decision had been announced. Chief of Police Tom Abel also was investigating the death.

According to Mrs. Stokes and employes of Mr. Stokes, the gun found by his body did not belong to him although he had a gun at his home. The gun found in the garage was a .38 automatic army Colt, according to Chief Abel.

The bullet entered the right temple, coming out behind the ear on the opposite side of the head.

Mr. Stokes had been a resident of Slaton for eight or 10 years. Friends said tonight that he had been in the best of spirits lately. The Stokes home is on Garza street in the west part of Slaton near the county park.

The body was prepared for burial by the Foster Funeral home. No funeral arrangements had been announced tonight. Other than his wife, Mr. Stokes is survived by two sons, Govan of Slaton and Harry of Fort Worth, and a daughter whose name was not learned immediately. Harry Stokes was en route to Slaton tonight.

Hijackers Obtain Worthless Money

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (AP) — Thugs blundgeoned an armed mail clerk into unconsciousness here early today and escaped with three registered mail pouches, later found to contain exactly 216 pounds of mutilated and worthless currency.

The mail bags were en route from the federal reserve bank in New York to the treasury when the hold-up was staged shortly after 1 a. m., in the broad union station concourse.

It was only after a minute check that treasury officials announced the loot was a "gold brick." It would have been worth $807,000 had the currency been whole, but following the custom the bills had been cut in half, and the portions shipped separately.

The treasury tonight had half the bills and the thieves had the portions that matched them.

Beware Of Black Cats Today For It's Double Jinx Day--Friday Thirteenth

BY BERYL MILLER
NEA Service Writer.

SUPERSTITIOUS? No?

Then you'll not watch your step today because it is Friday the 13th.

Now, honest, will you not feel a wee bit nervous, if you are the 13th guest at dinner today of all days . . . Or cross your fingers if a black cat crosses your path. . . . Or cringe when you pass beneath a ladder?

No. 13 is the monarch of hoodoos. The superstition, some people believe, originated at the "Last Supper," attended by 13 persons, of which Judas, the traitor, was the 13th. However, it is pointed out that ancient Babylon astrologers held 13 to be unlucky.

Others seek to derive the belief from old Norse mythology, according to which Baldur, the sun god, had to die because there were 13 gods in the circle in Valhalla.

More Than Hundred And Fifty Women Attend Homemakers School

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

THE repetition of one note in the homemakers short course interested me. That note was simplicity.

In preparation of foods, dress, furnishing the home—whatever the topic—those who attended who attended were urged repeatedly to resort to the simple method of doing things. Ostentatious and pretentiousness were blamed in every line.

In her talk on styles in childen's clothing, Miss Mabel Erwin emphasized this point, particularly, and it seemed to me to be an appropriate one. It costs no more to dress a child properly and in many cases it is considerably more economical. Moreover, it gives to the child an essential ease and self-confidence.

We were interested recently in observing a group of little girls and their dress at play. Some of the children wore wash dresses and bloomers to match and were as comfortable at play as could be imagined. But the little girls who were "dressed up" in silks and ribbons were so conscious of their clothes that they did not have a moment of ease during the afternoon. There was another point in Miss Erwin's talk of interest. It concerned dressing boys.

"In considering a boy's clothing," she said, "we no longer regard with affection the Little Lord Fauntleroy type of outfit. Even Buster Brown had his sissy points. Some features which give a sissy effect and which are easily avoided are the use of figured prints, especially floral types, instead of plain materials or stripes for boy's shirts; the use of bias bindings instead of a tailored flat facing or band; the use of rompers when little boys are out of the crawling stage; the use of ribbon belts and ties; the use of feminine colors such as pink and lavender instead of green, peach, yellow, tan and blue. Plenty of pockets are necessary for the boy's happiness and maybe a belt, but we must be wary of their placing."

I don't suppose there is anything that insults boys more than to refer to them as being effeminate. They may be born with a desire to appear manly on every occasion and our social system probably develops this desire, but it seems to me that they show it sooner than almost any trait. And little boys who have to wear effeminate clothing always feel keen offense. No matter how poor the garment, or how dirty, it must be masculine in color and cut.

Plainer clothing is more easily laundered than fussy and is apt to be more sturdy.

THE FARE, ALSO

SIMPLE fare was advocated for young and old in this school. Milk, eggs, vegetables, fruit deserts—staple things were recommended in a program of health—and in giving the A. B. C's of nutrition, commonsense rules were advocated: Fruit at least once a day, potato and some leafy vegetable or tomatoes once a day. Milk totalling at least one pint for an adult and a quart for a child, an egg three or four times a week if not daily.

I'm not a fanatic on simplicity and won't advocate going back to nature and doing without all of the luxuries and pleasures of living. But I do believe that simplicity is a fundamental thing in food and dress and furnishing the home.

One who can put the individual note into her home furnishing; who realizes the value of color and harmony of style has an invaluable asset in furnishing a house. The woman who can make her staple foods parade as something appetizing and new and who can prepare tasty desserts and salads which appeal to the eye as well as the palate is going to be more successful in feeding her family, and the person who interprets styles in making or buying clothing is going to be able to dress better than the average.

Life should not be stripped to essentials, but there is such a thing as artificiality. Dress which is too fussy soon loses all trace of style; food which is always rich soon becomes stale and a house that is over-furnished is tiresome to those who have to live in it.

A short course such as Texas Technological college offered this week was designed to aid the homemaker in using the materials that she has at hand more efficiently and effectually and to help her eliminate some of the drudgery of routine housework. To do these things, the simplest possible program was suggested.

The value of "the higher things in life" trite though the term may be, is being stressed in every magazine and talk designed for the homemaker today. She is admonished to devote a part of her time to good reading, to recreation, to interests outside the routine of her housework, in order that she may approach her dish-washing, housecleaning and other mundane tasks with a lighter heart.

The day is past when women were supposed to look no further than their homes for anything in life.

Short Course Is Concluded

Two Tech Faculty Members Are Speakers Thursday At Homemakers Short Course; Reception Extended

A total of 153 women, 106 of whom had not attended a short course at Texas Technological college before, were enrolled in the school this week, the third annual one to be conducted at the college.

The school, which opened Tuesday morning, was concluded yesterday afternoon after a series of lectures and demonstrations had been given during the week. Some of the meetings were for men and women jointly, others were specifically for the homemakers division and were conducted, principally, in the home economics building.

Laboratory Opened

Following the last lecture Thursday, the home management house on the Tech campus was opened to women who attended the course. Home economics faculty members at the college were hostesses on this occasion with an informal reception. The guests were shown through the house which serves as a laboratory in the school of home economics.

Dean Margaret Weeks, of the home economics school, who was in charge of the homemakers division of the short course, lectured Thursday morning on ideals for the modern home and Miss Jean Dorrel, associate professor of applied arts, talked on color in the home.

Martindale Talks

The other speaker for the day was W. T. Martindale, , of Chicago, director of the American Farm Bureau Federation, who talked on "What the Women Can Do To Aid Agriculture."

An organization among the farm women of every state, which is so closely knit that information can be disseminated among the members readily, is needed today in order to keep farmers informed concerning the work and benefits of the farm bureau, he said, demonstrating with statistics the knowledge and activity of the farmers in this organization.

Woman's work is along social educational lines, which means that organized agriculture will stand because it will mean maintenance, he said.

Continuing a policy of the short course in presenting lectures concerning the problems of the average homemaker, Miss Dorrel's lecture Thursday concerned the application of color in the home.

Color Has Place

The three properties of color, hue, value and intensity, were discussed and she showed color harmonies to be applied in the living and bed rooms.

Color is a background for the inhabitants of a house and has a psychological effect on those whom it surrounds, she said, suggesting ways of harmonizing the colors throughout a house.

In her talk Thursday, Miss Weeks stressed factors which are considered essential in creating happiness and harmony in the home, placing the responsibility for these things on the wife and mother.

Lists 5 Principals

"While the material things of the home are very important, the spiritual things are even more so, yet they are attained largely through attention to the material things," Miss Weeks told her hearers. The spiritual ideals of happiness, development of character and making worthwhile citizens of those in the home were stressed by the speaker, who listed some basic principles for attaining these things.

A home based on the right principles will be simple, will oe clean and orderly, will stress health as an end to be achieved, will make use of as many of the inventions of modern science to lessen work as it is possible to procure on the family budget and will give to the children training and education in order that more efficient citizens may be given to the community, she said elaborating on each of the points.

Circle Meets For All-Day Session

Members of Circle 8 of the First Baptist Woman's Missionary society attended an all-day meeting Thursday with Mrs. L. J. Akers. The devotional lesson was given by Mrs. T. C. Lamb and Mrs. M. E. Clay gave the opening prayer.

A book on "Mission and Prayer" was taught by Mrs. Akers during the day. Ten members and one visitor were present.

NEW YORK, (AP)—New York has no outstanding Monsieur Worths or Madame Chanels to create style wants.

But it has a commercial system and analytical organizations which anticipate women's ideas about clothes and make it possible to supply articles before the rank and file of women are conscious that they long for just those things.

This spring, a survey shows, women are going to want lots of brown much black and white, some blue and white, a variety of pastel colors and gay things for evening.

Spring Is On Its Way

New York already is making those things, so when the first fine days come they'll be on the racks of department stores and specialty shops everywhere.

Wholesale manufacturers are making up coats, dresses and suits by the hundred thousands. Milliners and shoe manufacturers already know what American women will wear in May, June and July.

This season, for style's sake, hats and coats often go separate ways. Dresses and coats contrasting instead of matching. Shoes, hats and gloves are in a combination with dresses.

Day Coats Semi-Flared

Daytime coats for spring are to be of plain, dark color, and dull spongy surfaced fabrics. Most of them will follow semi-flared lines, be belted and have interesting collar and sleeve details. Many detatchable scarf ideas will be incorporated in coat and dress models.

Wood browns, green, blue, black and white dominate street costumes. Coats and dresses contrast more frequently than they match.

Hats and shoes tend to be the color of the dress rather than match the coat. Many coats will be seven-eights length, accenting the two-color costume idea.

Afternoon Coats Shorter

Coats with afternoon costumes are definitely shorter for early spring. Later in the season nearly every little short-sleeved silk dress will have its own short jacket.

Long sleeves, colored sandals and beautiful handbags have stuck up one of the newest style alliances. They not only share their color scheme but are made of the same suede or kid.

Simplicity is the keynote of day clothes—simplicity that is individual and personal. But elegance bordering on the romantic is essential to success in the evening.

Stress Alluring Lines

Soft feminine fabrics, unusual and stimulating colors and alluring lines are elements in the elegance of evening dresses.

Some of the new colors are mint and lime greens, lemon yellow, turquoise, blue, peach and golden brown. Tulle and chiffon dresses combine several shades in panel and tier effects.

Shoulder are smartest when covered with cap sleeves, collars or cape scarves, except for formal wear. Sleeveless or scarfless dresses usually have accompanying short coats.

SOAP-BUBBLES VS. SERVICE

TAKE this big package of soap-bubbles in your left hand. Take this smaller package of White King in your right. Which is the heavier? . . . Well, you see how it is!

The answer is that White King's granulated form permits it to pack closer in the carton, like sugar. So you really get more for your money from the smaller package. The suds are more significant than size. And when it comes to actual washing value, White King Granulated Soap admits no equal.

White King's economy will surprise you. A teaspoonful in a basin of water for fine lingerie—a cupful for the washing machine. And it's absolutely pure—anything water won't hurt, White King won't. At your grocer's.

Health Better Than Riches

"Before I was married, my mother and sister and I did all the farming work on a 64-acre farm for eleven years. I married a farmer and now in addition to my housework and the care of my children I help him with the outside work on our farm. After my last child was born, I began to suffer as many women do. Our family doctor gave me medicine but no results. One day he told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did and now I am a new woman and I know that good health is better than riches."—Mrs. Clyde I. Sherman, R. #1, Lickdale, Pennsylvania.

Former Deputy Is Convicted

Tom C. Johnson Sentenced To Five Years In Penitentiary On Charge Of Murder; Jury Deliberates 20 Hours

WHEELER, Feb. 12. (AP)—Having had the case in its hands about 20 hours, the jury in the trial of Tom C. Johnson, former Wheeler deputy in district court here on a charge of murder returned a verdict of guilty and assessed his punishment at five years in the penitentiary.

Johnson was accused of murder in connection with the slaying on last October 11 of George Brooks of Shamrock.

Motion for a new trial was being prepared by defense counsel, who stated that the case would be appealed in the event the new trial is denied.

Slain At Shamrock.

Brooks was slain in a Shamrock lunchroom where he and a friend were eating a noon meal. According to state witnesses, Johnson entered the place from the front and walked through the cafe to a club room in the rear. Returning to the partition door, it was testified, Johnson ordered Brooks to turn around. Brooks was shot as he turned.

Johnson claimed that when Brooks whirled on the stool he believed Brooks was reaching for a pistol.

The defense introduced witnesses to relate details of a fight between Johnson and Brooks about two months before the slaying in which Johnson is claimed to have received a fractured skull. Relatives and friends said he had not been "right" since that time.

Tour Is Made Of Drouth Territory

ABILENE, Feb. 12. (AP)—Major Oliver S. Wood and Capt. Lewis A. Pick, emissaries from the office of Patrick J. Hurley, secretary of war, now on a tour of the West Texas drouth areas, were told here today by D. A. Bandee, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce that his organization is using its influence to have congress make the disputed $20,000,000 appropriation for drouth relief a straight-out food loan measure, and not a gift to farmers and others who are temporarily in financial straits.

"We are asking Senator Connally to tell the senate that so far as the people of Texas are concerned, a gift or dole is not wanted in drouth areas, but only the extending of reasonable lending facilities to persons whose credit resources are exhausted for the time being," Bandeen told them.

"Farmers in defined drouth areas are not paupers, and they don't want to be considered as paupers."

Ohio Youngsters To Receive Bite To Eat In Place Of The Usual Valentine

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 12. (AP)—There will be more than one youngster in the dried up hills of southern Ohio whose valentine this week will be a bite to eat.

More fortunate helpmates in the elementary grades at Van Wert, Ohio, will see that they are remembered. Hwever, meaningless the day of paper lace and red hearts may have been in the past to some children in the state drouth area, they will receive a valentine.

To Give Money

The children of the Van Wert schools have agreed to dispense with the exchange of tokens and turn the money over to the Red Cross.

The cost of three nickel valentines more than pays for a meal. Fourteen hundred children in the schools at Ironton, far to the south of Van Wert, are being fed daily through relief funds. Each meal costs 12 cents. In the one room schools of Ross county the expense is hardly greater. The teachers prepare food at home, bring it to school and keep it hot on oil stoves.

In each of the 27 counties of the drouth area, singled out by the state relief committee because of the severity of conditions, the children are thus being cared for. Added to the unofficial and probably inadequate estimate that 75,000 persons are being fed daily, the total receiving relief reaches a staggering figure.

Many Being Fed

The average number of families being fed in the 27 counties is about 500. Meigs county in the mining area has 850 families, each averaging five members, on the list of the charitable agencies. From the figure the number is scaled down to 200 families.

Investigators sent out by the state health department to check water supplies that have gone dry in every region and to erect safeguards against communicable disease report every organization which has funds or can get them has joined the battle against privation.

How Doctors Treat Colds and Coughs

Medical writers agree that the important point in the treatment of a cold, or cough due to a cold, is to relieve the congestion in the nose and throat, thereby preventing serious complications which may follow a neglected cold. To stop this congestion calomel was the accepted and standard remedy until Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablet was introduced.

Now that science has robbed calomel of its nausea and danger, making it pleasant to take and perfectly safe for general use, over forty million Calotabs are consumed in the U. S. yearly with only the most pleasant and satisfactory results. In millions of homes Calotabs have proven their superiority in the prompt relief of colds and coughs due to colds.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a glass of sweet milk or water. No salts necessary. No nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning the congestion has subsided, your cold or cough is relieved, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish.—no danger.

Get a family package of Calotabs, containing full directions, only thirty-five cents. Trial size, ten cents. At any drug store. (adv.)

Insanity As Grounds For Divorce Opposed In House

AUSTIN, Feb. 12. (AP)—Argument that a bill to add insanity to the grounds for divorce in Texas would break down domestic morale and ruin many homes, was made before the house judiciary committee today by Representative Goodman of Franklin.

The committee deferred action on the bill, introduced by Representative Boyd of Decatur, and ordered it referred to a sub-committee. The bill would have permitted allegation of insanity if the insane person had been incarcerated for 10 years.

Goodman declared it would open the door to unscrupulous persons and would cause many violations of the sanctity of the marriage vow. "There is no reason why a husband or a wife should obtain a divorce because of insanity."

Form Textile Frat At Tech

Charter Granted And Eleven Members Initiated By A. R. Thompson, National President Of Phi Psi

Texas Technological college has been granted a chapter of the national honorary professional textile fraternity, Phi Psi, and 11 Tech students were initiated into the Tech chapter last night by A. R. Thompson, Jr., national president of the organization. Mr. Thompson left last night following the initiation ceremony, for his home in Charlotte, North Carolina.

The chapter, which is the first of its kind on the Tech campus, is of professional nature and not for social affairs. The Phi Psi fraternity was founded in 1903 by five students in the Philadelphia Textile school at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and now has chapters in the leading textile schools in the United States. More than 1,500 textile men now belong to the order which has for its purpose the promotion of the textile industry, higher scholastic standing and fellowship among its members. Texas Tech has been granted the Kappa chapter. The Alpha chapter is at the Philadelphia Textile school at Philadelphia.

"Tech has applied for a chapter for the past two or three years," Thompson said. "And now that we are assured of the substantial growth of the college and of the textile department, the chapter has been granted."

Members of the Kappa chapter at Tech are: Winnefred A. Wardell, Frank S. Maddox, Cary Lodal, Mark E. Wood, Curtis Sutphen, B. E. Needles, Jr., Ford C. Benham, Arphice Spikes, Lloyd Reeves, J. H. McWhorter and M. E. Heard.

Discover Way To Quickly Conquer Dangerous Cough

Those who are racked nightly with a miserable, persistent cough which, by robbing them of sleep, weakens their system and so lays them open to chronic bronchitis and other dangerous infections, can now end their trouble overnight, through a remarkable new remedy perfected by three specialists. People who have hardly been able to sleep a wink have found they can rest the whole night through undisturbed the first time they try it. And soon the entire cough is gone.

This wonderful new remedy, known as Mentodene, is based upon a new way of taking menthol internally in a pleasant-tasting liquid. Everybody knows how menthol, even when just inhaled, "clears out the pipes," soothes rawness, loosens phlegm and kills a cough quickly. When taken internally in this new combination with other healing ingredients—it is 10 times more effective.

Make this amazing overnight test yourself without risking a penny. Get a bottle of Mentodene today from your druggist and take as directed. No matter how severe your cough or how long you have had it, if you do not have a thoroughly comfortable and cough-free night, and if you don't feel 100% better in the morning, maker refunds your money. Don't let cough rack you. Start today. Adv.

Expert Killed In Radio Experiment

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 12. (AP)—The passion for delving into the mysteries of electricity which brought him the credit of developing the first practical alternating current radio tube, has cost William J. Kimmel, 25-year-old Westinghouse research expert, his life.

He was buried today. While testing a power transformer in the laboratories of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company here Monday, he came in contact with a wire carrying 4,000 volts, and fell dead.

Kimmel was an infant when the first practical radio tube was developed by Dr. Lee De Forest in 1906. A score of years later, Kimmel, then 21, devised the first alternating current tube to overcome the obstacles of quickly fluctuating voltages. This tube was known as the U. X. 26.

Claim Support Of President

Senate Sponsors State Hoover In Favor Of $90,000,000 Naval Construction Bill; Pleas Are Renewed

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (AP) — President Hoover's support for enactment of the naval construction program at this session was claimed today by the senate sponsors of the $90,000,000 construction bill. They renewed pleas to Republican leaders for privileged status for this legislation.

The bill was recommended by Secretary Adams to carry out in part the ship building required to bring America up to its strength under terms of the London naval limitations treaty.

Meet Opposition

House Republican leaders decided to sidetrack it for this session but met demands of navy advocates in the house for action on both the construction bill and the $30,000,000 battleship modernization measure which already has passed the senate overwhelmingly.

The Republican steering committee has refused to be judge in the dispute in the senate as to whether the naval construction bill or the Capper oil embargo legislation is to get the right of way. Chairman Hale of the senate naval committee, is going to the floor with a motion to take up the naval bill as soon as the pending relief dispute is settled. Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, author of the oil embargo bill is prepared to undertake a similar step. The issue probably will be thrashed out on the floor.

Session Nears End

With the session drawing nearer the March 4 adjournment, advocates of the oil embargo are opening a drive for action in the house, too. Aside from the drouth relief and veterans aid legislation, there is slight prospect for action on other general legislation in the remaining three weeks, leaders agree, unless it be on the naval construction bill. The administration virtually pledged itself to this last summer, in agreeing to the limitations upon all classes of naval ships embodied in the London treaty.

The Bishop's Influence

AS OUR esteemed contemporary, The Dallas Morning News, jocularly announced the other day, Bishop Cannon is getting 'not-guiltier' all the time". The enemies of the stormy petrel of Protestaintism appear on ever corner with charge after charge against him, but the Bishop, somehow, someway, meets and beats the charges as fast as they come up.

The Morning Avalanche cannot pass upon the numerous charges made against Bishop Cannon. We doubt seriously that any newspaper or, any organization of churchmen is qualified to pass upon them without lengthy investigation and drawn out, serious contemplation. The Virginian may be as unqualifiedly right as he and his friends claim he is—it is not the purpose of this editorial to attempt to prove him otherwise. But Bishop Cannon and his activites are not conducive to respect for the church from the public's standpoint, and whether he be right or wrong his influence is not generally furthering the cause of religon in this country.

There are too many people—many of them good, sober citizens—who decry the activity of the church and its leaders in the realm of politics. There are too many others who believe that "where there is smoke there must be fire." Then there is a third group to which militantism in religion is distasteful—and all in all the spectacle of a Bishop hopping out of the frying pan into the fire is not compatible with the beliefs of many who have vainly sought parallels in the life of the Man of Galilee.

The responsibility of Bishop Cannon, his trials and his tribulations, is no longer confined to the great denomination of which he is a member. The influence of the Bishop has spread until today he stands as a symbol of one wing of Protestanism, praised on one hand, blamed upon the other for every activity of the group which he typifies.

Those to whom the furtherance of the cause of Christ is a near, dear problem are seeing the Cannon quarrels offsetting some of the good work the church has done and is doing. Many who believe that the Bishop is being persecuted, likewise fear that the publicity given his troubles will react to the detriment of the program of Christianity, which must be continued regardless of all cost.

As we see it, the church and its teachings are paramount to everything else—greater than any person, any clique or any program which might be incidental to it. If Bishop Cannon wants to serve his church and his religion, he can best do so by retiring from the limelight—by putting his own shoulder to the wheel of that co-operation which is so sorely needed.

Even if he be innocent of all wrong doing all indiscretion, 'tis better that his pride be sacrificed than the influence of the church be weakened even for a moment.

Practical Health Problems

PROPER PRENATAL CARE IS VITAL TO BOTH MOTHER AND BABY

(This is the third of a series of four articles by Dr. Fishbein on child problems)

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN,
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

We must not proceed on the assumption that the human being as we know him today is the best possible human being that can ever be developeed.

We need only to look at some of the contributions that have already been made to realize that the application of scientific knowledge to the growth and development of the child may increase happiness, vigor and achievement for the future.

The girls who entered Vassar College 25 years ago were on the average for the same age three inches shorter and seven pounds less in weight than girls who enter Smith, Vassar and Wellesley colleges today.

The reasons for these differences lie in the application of modern knowledge of feeding, the use of exercise, changes in costume, and indeed a complete change in the social attitude toward the child.

A disease called chlorosis, formerly extremely prevalent in young girls because of lack of proper feeding, or sunshine and outdoor air, is now practically extinct.

Moreover, when an unreasoning fashion caused a craze for slenderness to sweep across the adolescent groups in this country, malnutrition developed. Associated with malnutrition comes a decrease in resistance against the germ of tuberculosis and today the tuberculosis rate for adolescent girls is increased, whereas the rates in tuberculosis for all other groups are steadily decreasing.

The adolescent girls of today are the mothers of the future. Bodies weakened by malnutrition give birth to children even less able to resist and to overcome the vicissitudes of life.

Fathers and mothers begin with the conception of the child to plan for its future. At such times they are likely to open a savings account not only to meet the expenses of childbirth but also in order that the child may have something to carry it through the adolescent years.

It is just as important that the mother began to open in her own body a physical savings account for the growth and development of the infant. She must watch her diet, she must scrutinize her activities in order that everything that she may contribute to the production of a sound infant will be contributed.

No longer should the physician or the obstetrical specialist be called only in the emergency of the moment. He should be consulted just as soon as the mother realizes that she is to have a child. All of this is covered by the subject of prenatal care. It is the means of preventing many deaths of mothers and infants.

Why Local Aid Insufficient

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—"Famine," said Senator Thaddeus H. Caraway of Arkansas, "is none too strong a word for it."

The senator was referring to conditions throughout the drought-stricken cotton belt, in which his own state is the most sorely afflicted. Even as he spoke with me, just outside the senate entrance, his Arkansas colleague, Senator Joseph T. Robinson, inside the chamber, was reading appeal after appeal for aid, from their hungry home folk.

Each appeal, as he read it to his fellow lawmakers, Senator Robinson supplemented with his hopeless answer to the sufferers.

"The calamity is the worst of its kind," continued Senator Caraway, "in our country's history."

"ARKANSAS," HE continued, "is hardest hit. Then, I think, Kentucky. After that, probably southern Missouri, and it may be part of Texas, though I do not know that area so well.

"Local relief!" scoffed the senator. "How can neighbor help neighbor where both are utterly destitute?

"In many districts the drought loss was 100 per cent.

"Not only was cotton destroyed. All crops were destroyed. I have seen great corn fields, parched to mere stubble. At the touch of a lighted match they would have flamed like tinder.

"The chickens died of starvation in the barnyards. The cows ceased to give milk and then they died or had to be slaughtered, wasted to skeletons. The people themselves must be fed, to give them strength for the spring's planting."

THOUGH THEY receive adequate aid for the present, can they re-establish themselves in a single season?

"They will be desperately poor, of course," agreed the senator.

"Still, they will pull through, if they can keep their homes and life in their bodies and harvest a little food in the fall. Starting handicapped, as they must, their current year's crop doubtless will be small, but they will manage somehow.

"The problem to be solved is:

"How shall they live meanwhile?"

SENATOR CARAWAY concurs with Senator Robinson that inadequacy of relief thus far is due to lack of an early investigation which he feels sure, would have disclosed the disaster's proportions, now very belatedly beginning to be appreciated.

AN OLD CUSTOM

Senator Nye's investigating committee, perhaps without malice aforethought or intent, has left the impression abroad, and it is erroneous, that the Smith, Vare and Davis cases invented the campaign fund of magnitude and that senate investigation of campaign expenditures was previously unheard of.

There's nothing new under the sun in politics and congress. Imitation is mistaken for originality and cleverness. Strategy is merely history repeating itself through the manipulations of some poltician who is read up on political biography and history.

The present-day slush fund is different from the war chests of old in degree only but there were fewer voters, cheaper votes and fewer ways to buy them in the old days.

In the presidential campaign of 1868 Simon Cameron, of Pennsylvania, levied heavily upon the rich who had asked favors from the government, or might during the next administration. The national Republican organization sent $50,000 into Indiana and $40,000 into Pennsylvania and milked such men as Jay Cooke, M. O. Roberts and A. T. Stewart for tens of thousands.

As so often happens today, the Republicans won that election by the superior weight of their gold, every other factor favoring their candidate's opponent. And the retiring president, Andrew Johnson, refused to ride in the inaugural procession with the victor.

THE NAVAL MANEUVERS

Two "All-American" teams are in Panaman waters for the most spectacular of all championship games. The teams were not chosen by sports experts and the game will not be played in a stadium before thousands of cheering spectators.

This game of games is the annual maneuvers of the United States navy, which this year take the form of an attack on and defense of the Panama canal. It will be a stirring sight.

Mobilized at both ends of the canal are battleships, cruisers, mine squadrons, aircraft carriers, submarines, airplanes, the dirigible Los Angeles and other instruments of destruction and defense.

For nine days the "battle" will rage in the waters of the Pacific. It will be real naval warfare without the slaughter and wreckage. Another item of difference between the sham and the real thing will be the fact that the victory will be decided by judges, not by a retreating navy.

The purpose of these maneuvers is to train the naval forbes, to test plans, strategy and units by actual experience in simulated battle conditons. And a by-product, of course, is the psychological effect on the nation for the defense of which that navy was built and upon the world at large, which it may awe into friendship and peace with the United States or frighton into competitive naval construction.

The department of agriculture says the American people are eating more fruits and sugar. The Wickersham commission amends that statement only by substituting "drinking" for "eating."

One cubic centimeter of gas is estimated to contain 27,050,000,000,000,000,000 (27 quintillion, 50 quardillions) of molecules. This number multiplied by the ratio of molecular density between liquid and gaseous matter, and by the cubic contents of a glass of water, converted into grains will easily yield a quantity sufficient to cover the earth.

TOMORROW: "THE LADY WHO INVENTED ICE CREAM

For GINGER'S SAKE

by ETHEL HUESTON

©1930 THE BOBBS-MERRILL CO

BEGIN HERE TODAY

GINGER ELLA TOLLIVER was bored. Ginger's father was a minister, and her stepmother a very wealthy woman, but life in the little town of Red Thrush, Iowa, ran too slowly to suit Ginger and her set. So she announced to her friends, EDDY JACKSON, PATTY SEARS and WESLEY MEEKER that she was going to start a Home for the Bored.

To JENKY BROOKS, wife of old BENNY BROOKS, an ally in whom she could trust implicity, she confided her intention of organizing a Junior Country Club. She asked Jenky to act as her agent in the purchase of the Mill Rush farm, a 10-acre tract with an old farm house, from JOPLIN WESTBURY. The rest of her plans were still in her head, unformulated.

"And," she told Jenky, "be sure and bring him down in his price. About half of what he asks will be right."

To Jenky, who, with her husband was to be chaperon, the venture promised a great many dollars saved, as a summer on the farm would mean a trimming of living expenses. The house on Mill Rush held interesting possibilities for an imagination as fertile as Ginger's. On the other hand, it was doing its present owner no good, and he was anxious to sell. Westbury finally got down to $2000, whereupon Jenky said she would have to ask Ginger's advice.

Within 24 hours the farm had been bought for $1500, and the organization of the Junior Country Club was under way.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER V

The Junior Country Club was something to do. But conservative parents who comfortably believed that an entire summer of hard work would go into the necessary renovation of the property were due for a great surprise. They had not figured on Ginger Ella.

It was upon a Monday, the day after Easter, that inspiration visited her upon the parsonage lawn. By Tuesday night she was the owner—to the extent of $250 down of the Mill Rush estate. At ten o'clock on Wednesday morning she was on the premises for a thorough inspection of her property. Dab Barnes, the carpenter, was making estimates on the cost of materials and labor for necessary repairs and Ginger Ella herself you may be sure, with notebook and pencil of her own, dogged his heels, hotly contesting every figure.

She was delighted to find the house in better condition than had appeared. It would require complete redecorating and new hardwood floors downstairs.

A few slight repairs would render the roof water-proof, and the foundations were firm, but the porches would require strong re-enforcement and general rebuilding where railings and stairs were broken. The chimneys were sound and after cleaning them out the fireplaces "drew" as well as ever. The plumbing had to be renewed throughout and new stoves and ice chests installed in the kitchen.

The partition between the two large rooms, the dining and sitting rooms they had been, was to be removed, making an ample ballroom with the old "parlor" converted into a cozy lounge.

Over the bedrooms on the second floor Ginger pondered a long time. The idea of small private dining and sitting rooms was very tempting, for there was something particularly, devilishly engaging in the mere sound of the words—a notion imbibed from novels and motion pictures, as she lacked all personal experience with them. But in the end her practical nature triumphed and she decided to retain them as sleeping apartments, looking forward to future week-end parties.

Ginger saw no reason to bother with the old attic, as it was a queer ungainly affair, jutting off into curiously shaped corners under the gables. But Dab had ideas of his own about it. For a mere trifle, he said, he being already at work on the place, the gables corners could be divided into separate rooms by the use of a cheap grade of artificial boarding.

"When you come into your money," he said firmly, "you'll want a lot of servants here, and that'll give accommodations for four."

"Yes," she said dryly, "when I do—and when I do."

On the other hand, the four unconventional attic sleeping rooms would allow for larger week-ends and as Dab promised to put in the partitions at half the regular price—being, as he said, right on the ground—she decided to indulge in the luxury.

The furniture of the house was an odd collection, ranging from very fine pieces of natural old English oak to the cheapest factory products, some of which had fallen into such complete collapse that it could only be burned.

Ginger immediately made plans for a huge festival conflagration on the following Saturday night, in return for which she would get a great many hours of enthusiastic guest labor. Mattresses, bedding, curtains and rugs also were slated for the flames. The English oak pieces were quite as good as new "better", crowed Ginger, "because the older the antiquer."

She immediately appointed a donation committee, headed by Patty Sears, whose gentleness was an instant recommendation to parents, to make the rounds of the town soliciting contributions for the Junior Country Club—donations of furniture, linens, bedding and, as an after-thought, food.

The grounds were badly grown up in brush and weeds, but she counted on the high-school boys to take

Mustangs May Have Tough Time With Frogs, Porkers

Rumor Hath It She'll Go To Courts

BY WILLIAM BRAUCHER
NEA Service Sports Editor

YEW YORK Feb 12.—One of these fine mornings Frederick J. Moody, Jr., is going to wake up and find that he has to boil his own eggs for breakfast. Mrs. F. J. Moody, Jr., will not be there.

Boiled eggs are really no trouble at all. And it's isn't much of a task to dump a little coffee into the top of a percolator and set the thing to cooking by pressing a button. If Mr. Moody likes his eggs medium, three minutes is the proper time.

Mr. Moody should first heat a pan of water to the boiling point, look at the clock, place the eggs gently in the water and then go to the ice box for an orange. There are many delightful ways to serve oranges. They can be sliced, squeezed, halved, peeled. But maybe Mr. Moody knows all about this. And he may prefer fried eggs and bacon. He can can have whatever he finds in the ice box.

If things go wrong, Mr. Moody shouldn't fret. Perhaps he will forget the coffee until it turns to mud. And he may leave the eggs in 15 minutes and find they are like pebbles. But there is philosophical consolation for him—for Mr. Moody will be giving back to the world of sports one of its greatest competitors when he tells Mrs. Moody she can go and play.

Mrs. Moody? You remember her—Helen Wills.

It came out the other day in a little story from California. The tale didnt tell much, merely being a statement that Helen Wills Moody was considering a return to Forest Hills during the coming season to find out if they still play the same kind of tennis in the national tournaments she used to win so easily.

The Mona Lisa of sports, the girl who seems always just about to smile but who never does, told the reporters in San Francisco that she wasn't certain she could stay away from home long enough to go abroad this year because such a trip would require four or five months. (Imagine the kitchen when she returned!) She would not decide anyway before April whether or not she would play at Wimbledon.

But the significance rests in the fact that Helen is all ready to play some more championship tennis. (Come now, Mr. Moody, you don't mind being alone for a little while, do you?

There is no one on the courts like her. She is the Jack Dempsey of the net game, asking no advantage and giving none. Just as the sports world hated to give up the Man Mauler after his defeat, so it felt keenly the absence of Mrs. Moody last year at Forest Hills, where she had dominated for years.

The sports world will welcome Helen back.

And if Mr. Moody doesn't like his own toast, he can always find a restaurant around the corner.

Methodists Do Well At Home; Leave On Trip

Texas Longhorns Throw Scare Into Ranks Of Conference Leaders; Aggie Bubble Bursts At Waco

BY GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Feb. 12. (AP)—Southern Methodist's fifth straight victory and the abrupt termination of the Texas Aggies sensational winning streak featured the opening contests in the second half of the Southwest Conference cage campaign this week.

The unbeaten Methodists, apparently title-bound, had their latest scrap Tuesday night, when they were forced to lick the University of Texas Longhorns, 41-33, at Austin. Five rapid field goals, t r e e of them by Rhea Williams, enabled the Mustangs to pull away in the extra period after the Longhorns had rallied to knot the score at 31-31 at the end of the regulation 40 minutes.

Aggie Bubble Bursts.

Texas A. and M.'s championship bubble, inflated through a pair of one-sided triumphs over Baylor and Texas last week, vanished Monday night. Back on their home court at Waco, the Baylor Bruins turned on the Aggies and administered a 27-18 beating, largely through some phenomenal free-goal shooting.

As a result of the Aggies' unexpected relapse, only two teams, the Texas Christian Horned Frogs and University of Arkansas Razorbacks, defending champions, remain to dispute with S. M. U. for the title. As the Methodists still have the tough end of their schedule ahead, including four bouts on the road, either the Frogs or Razorbacks might nose them out.

Although they received a scare at Austin, their first tilt on strange boards, the Mustangs maintained their great scoring average. In five games Coach St. Clair's speedy five has scored 219 points, an average of 44 per night.

Ponies Weak On Foul Route.

The greatest weakness so far apparent in the Mustangs' machinery is the continued loss of star performers by the foul route. No team has yet been able to hold the Ponies even close while the "Big Five" of Johnson and Williams, forwards; Reynolds, center, and Skeeters and McLaughlin, guards, remained in the game, but they have had two close scrapes in a row because the boys played with too great gusto.

Five games scheduled Friday and Saturday nights will send the seven entries well past the half-way mark. Two feature tussles are carded in North Texas. The Aggies engaging Texas Christian at Fort Worth and Southern Methodist here on successive nights. Though they had some of the wind taken out of their sails by Baylor, the Aggies are expected to give the leaders some stiff competition.

Arkansas will get back into the scramble after a three-day lapse, entertaining Baylor Friday and Saturday at Fayetteville. The five-time champs sharpened up their goaling sights in defeating St. Louis university, 33-30, last night at Fayetteville. Texas and Rice, cellar contenders, will supply the fifth attraction Saturday night at Houston.

Arthur Yates, Medalist, Wins Way To Semi-Finals In Palm Beach Sets With Goodwin, Porter And Langford

(By The Associated Press)

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 12.—A youngster and three veterans, one an Englishman, battled their way over the Palm Beach golf club course today to the semi-finals of the south Florida championship.

Arthur Yates, Rochester, N. Y., three times winner of the Lake Worth tournament and medalist in the present competition shot par golf to eliminate S. L. Reinhardt, Chicago, 4 and 3.

T. Philip Perkins, former British amateur champion, advanced his threat for the title with even more ease by chalking up a five and four victory over Ken Berry, Miami Beach.

Struggling along with the veterans, Young Tommy Goodwin, Monroe, N. Y., came from behind to nose out A. M. Porter, Wilmington, Del., 2 and 1, and William B. Langford, Chicago, veteran tournament player, took a five and four county from Roy Gussman, West Palm Beach.

Western League To Set New Schedule

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., Feb. 12. (AP)—Club owners and executives of Western League baseball clubs will meet here tomorrow to adopt formally a schedule for the 1931 season.

Although the schedule officially will not be announced for several weeks, Dale Gear, president of the league, announced 154 games would be played and that the season would start approximately two weeks later than the usual opening date of around April 20, in order to bring the opening date closer to warm weather needed for night baseball. This will bring the closing date into the last week of September, Gear said.

New York Star Wins Pair Of Matches In Brooklyn Net Tourney; Van Ryn Pairs With George Lott Today

By The Associated Press

BASKETBALL PLAYS and PLAYERS

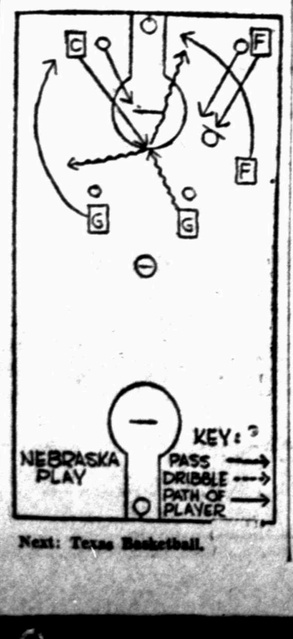

BY EVERETT S. DEAN
Basketball Coach, Indiana U.

Recently Nebraska defeated Brigham Young 55 to 44 which shows that Nebraska can play a lot of offense in a short time. Offense makes the game popular and if that is true Nebraskans should like their basketball. The Cornhuskers last year possessed the strongest offense of the Big Six conference, which is made up of Kansas, Missouri, Kansas Aggies, Oklahoma, Iowa State and Nebraska.

For 10 years the zone defense was the accepted defensive style in that section but last year and this year more than ever marked the coming of the man to man defense and the deliberate offense with set types of plays. Kansas has been the main advocate of the zone defense, while Missouri uses the man to man defense exclusively.

Basketball in the Big Six is of very high standing, as evidenced by comparative scores with other conferences. Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska all have had recent intersectional series and have held their own.

The chart demonstrates one of Nebraska's strong scoring plays which aided in its scoring record.

Gentlemen:

More and better health to you in your fight against the spitting evil. Your advertisements attacking spit-tipped cigars have my commendation.

You are fighting the battle of the health commissioners in striving for better sales of your non-spit-tipped cigars. I am not interested in your specific product. I am interested in public health. That is why I am writing you.

You can publish this letter if you care to.

Very sincerely,

Rushmore Lape

YOU MAY WELL ASK THIS QUESTION WHEN 56 IMPORTANT HEALTH OFFICIALS HAVE WRITTEN SO STRONGLY AGAINST THE EVILS OF SPIT OR SPIT-TIPPING.

Dr. Lape writes: "Your advertisements attacking spit-tipped cigars have my commendation."

The war against spit is a crusade of decency. Join it...Smoke Certified Cremo—a really wonderful smoke—mild—mellow—nut-sweet! Every leaf entering the clean, sunny Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

care of that, depending on a judicious application of flattery for payment in full. The mile and a half of wood lane leading in from the state road was almost impassable for motor travel, and Dab promised to have a couple of men get to work on it the very next day.

By eight o'clock on Saturday morning the road to Mill Rush was a stream of traffic, cars, delivery wagons, trucks, bicycles, two ponies and a saddleless old fire horse—all crowded to running board or handlebars with boys and girls from middle high-school age up to the early twenties. Each was armed with tools for labor—brooms and hammers, hoes and rakes—and ready to take orders. And waiting for them at Mill Rush was Ginger Ella, burning up with orders to give.

Walter Main, the schoolhouse janitor who had stayed up half the night to give the building its weekly cleaning according to his contract with the school board, in order that he might join the staff at Mill Rush bright and early on Saturday morning, was put in charge of the younger boys and girls to clean up the grounds.

The older boys organized what they called a "road gang" to hurry up work on the road, and the girls having discarded everything designed for the big fire, were noisily adjusting the furniture inside.

Carpenters, plasterers and plumbers were at work all over the place. A tennis court was being laid out under the supervision of Eddy Jackson in one of the choice garden plots, and Wesley Meeker, whose vacation was not yet over, was superintending the layout of hammocks and swings.

"Oh, Ginger!" cried Patty Sears. "It's just precious! How did you ever think of anything so nice?"

"Oh," explained Ginger lightly. "I always get bright ideas when I'm bored."

The Donation Committee had succeeded beyond her fondest hopes. Bedding and linens sufficient to supply the entire house had been secured, Joplin Westbury contributing a dozen brand-new sheets and six pillows from his big store—only slightly stained, they were, from window display.

Phil promised an old grand piano and a new radio. The "regular" Country Club donated a complete service of plated silver. The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church, in collaboration with the Ladies' Societies of the other two churches provided dishes.

Eddy Jackson gave a decrepit buggy and an old sorrel mare. An old favorite, that mare, in the family of Eddy Jackson, as her first errand in their household had been to bring the nurse who officiated at the arrival of Eddy himself, and it was in her honor that she was called. "Mrs. Carter" for ever after Wesley Meeker's father sent a large red-letter Bible.

Cellars and pantries of every home within miles were scoured for donations of food, vegetables, canned fruits and bottled drinks. All of these demands and countless others, met with a cheerful response. Many had children already of proper age for membership and wished to curry immediate favor. Those with ineligible "infants" were looking to the future, and as Ginger said, "nobody is quite without hope," which principle doubtless explained why the Donation Committee met with no refusals.

The formal organization of the club was extremely informal. It followed a private frankfurter roast on the last night of Wesley Meeker's vacation, and was attended by Ginger and Patty Sears, Ben and Jenky Brooks and Eddy Jackson, with Wesley as the guest of honor. Ginger Ella sat at the table with an immense notebook and a very fat fountain pen.

Every Stomach Sufferer Has It—Tanlac Corrects It

THAT disgusting "brown" morning taste in your mouth, a whitish or yellow coated tongue—these are sure signs your breath is bad.

The tongue and mouth is nothing more or less than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. When the condition below is upset and badly digested food is souring in these organs, your breath tells the story and all the mouth washes and antiseptics can't mask its offending odor for more than a few minutes. You need Tanlac to correct this condition.

Taken before meals Tanlac prevents formation of gas and acids so there is no sourness, bloating or distress. Tanlac helps regulate the bowels, too, and so with your system free of poisonous toxins and acids see how your breath is immediately sweetened. Get a bottle today at your druggist. Accept no substitute. Satisfaction or money back.

About Forty Head Of Cattle To Be Entered In Sale

Approximately 40 head of Hereford cattle will be entered in the registered Hereford sale which will be held here March 27, according to the chamber of commerce Hereford sale committee which met here Wednesday night.

Twenty-one entries already had been received by the Texas Hereford association, sponsor of the sale, and other breeders had assured the local committe that they would send cattle here to be sold.

Lose Fat
Safely and Quickly

Kruschen Salts—(a perfect combination of the six mineral salts your body should have to function properly) purify your blood of harmful acids, and aid the kidneys and bowels to throw off waste material—the continual formation of which is probably the cause of your fat.

In this modern age of living, it's impossible to get these salts from the fancy foods you eat—but don't worry just as long as you have Kruschen Salts.

Take a half teaspoon every morning before breakfast in a glass of hot water—little by little that ugly fat disappears, you'll feel better than ever before—years younger, more energy. You'll soon possess that enviable beauty, clear skin, sparkling eyes, superb figure which only perfect health can impart.

An 85c bottle (lasts 4 weeks) at Bowen's Drug, Bowen's Hilton Pharmacy, the City Drug Store, the Lubbock Drug Co., Mark Halsey Drug Store or any progressive druggist in America. Money back if Kruschen doesn't convince you that it is the safest, quickest, easiest way to lose fat.

A Hartford woman writes, "I'll tell the world Kruschen Salts is wonderful stuff to reduce." An Ohio woman lost 10 pounds with one bottle. Adv.

Drouth Planes Fail To Arrive

Representatives From Hoover Expected Thursday To Make Survey Of Drouth Section; Ships May Arrive Today

Poor visibility was believed to have caused postponement of a scheduled airplane trip to Lubbock by drouth relief representatives of President Hoover, said George E Benson, of the emergency relief committee of the Lubbock county Red Cross chapter.

Two planes carrying the president's representatives, who were to investigate drouth conditions on the South Plains, were reported enroute to Lubbock in a message received here Thursday morning by Carl Van Hoorebeke.

Mr. Van Hoorebeke is a special field representative of the American Red Cross and has established temporary headquarters here while conducting a survey of South Plains drouth conditions.

Information concerning identity of those in the planes appeared not available here, although it was presumed that the group included persons from Washington, D. C., who earlier in the week flew to Little Rock, Ark., on a similar errand.

Mr. Benson indicated Thursday night that the two planes were expected to arrive here today, the belief being that the hop had been postponed because of poor visibility and other weather conditions.

Robber Suspects

ment. A large quantity of cartridges also was found in the trio's possession, and one of the three had stuffed a pocket with the bullets, according to officers. The suspects were traveling in two automobiles, a light coupe and a light sedan.

The armed trio stopped at a farm house seven miles southeast of here at about 11:20 o'clock Wednesday night. One of them was acquainted with a man living there Lubbock county officers, who for several days had been working toward such a capture, arrested the three at about midnight.

Officers in the group were Sheriff Hardy, Chief of Police John Lemond, and Ed Sanders, Joe Rieger and Will Earnest, deputy sheriffs.

Little Cash Found.

Poorly clad and driving small cars, the trio bore no outward appearance of having money. Little cash was found on the suspects, although they admitted cashing a series of travelers checks at filling stations and elsewhere, officers said.

The trio had moved eastward from New Mexico, having been in vicinity of Lovington, officers indicated. A piece of paper which one of the suspects had used to tighten his hat band proved to be from a street edition of an Oklahoma City newspaper for January 8, the day following the Cyril bank holdup.

One of the trio is wanted at Pauls Valley, Okla., for jail breaking and at Sulphur Springs, Okla., for robbery with firearms, it was said at the sheriff's office.

One of the suspects was arrested here in November with another man and two women. The arrests led to discovery of three pistols, a rifle, ammunition, liquor manufacturing equipment and more than $100 wrapped in inner tubes, in a Lubbock house. One man was taken to Pauls Valley to face charges there.

that purpose and for making the next crop and for rehabilitation from the drouth, there could be no prohibition against the proceeds of such loans being used for food or other supplies if they were necessary to effect the purpose."

The reading of the statement was listened to attentively. The senate has stood against the president and the Republican house in its contention for federal funds for food purchases.

There were some sharp remarks immediately following the reading but it stilled the debate for the day. Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, suggested that the letter resembled the report of the Wickersham commission. Senator Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky, proposed that it be referred to the attorney general for an interpretation.

However, Senators Borah and Robinson, and Caraway of Arkansas accepted it as sanctioning the use of loans for the magic word "food."

Hoover Talk

spirit of self sacrifice and of service."

President Hoover said the "invisible presence" of Lincoln dominated the walls of the room from which he spoke.

From the windows of the study he said, Lincoln watched the construction of the Washington monument, and even the very chairs in which he sat while mediating upon his problems, were grouped about the room.

"Lincoln," President Hoover said "was a builder in an epoch of destruction. It was his assignment by providence to restore the national edifice so badly shattered in its social and economic structure that it had well-nigh failed.

He added that some of the present-day problems were equally vivid in Lincoln's day.

Broad Demand In Livestock Mart

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 12. (AP)—Cattle trade around the eleven market circuit was featured by a fairly broad demand for the better grades of steers with weight, but short fed steers found a rather indifferent outlet at values unevenly steady to 25 lower. Chicago had a top of 10.75 on heavy steers. Medium to good steers at the river markets cashed at from 8.50@9.00 with an especially liberal quota of medium short feds downward from 7.75. Receipts were estimated at 23,000.

Hogs found a slow demand at prices unevenly steady to 25 lower with most points showing losses of 10-25 on medium weight and heavy butchers. The top of 8.10 was paid at St. Louis for weight averages under 300 lbs. Offerings were around 113,000.

The supply of sheep approximated 64,000. Fat lambs were on a steady to 40 lower basis with a general decline of 25 at several centers. Outsiders in Chicago purchased choice lambs up to 9.15 while at Kansas City and Omaha 8.50 was realized on shipper accounts. Aged stock held fully steady.

FORT WORTH, Feb. 12. (AP)—Hogs—1,700; truck hogs mostly 30 lower; few rail hogs 25-30 lower; practical top 7.40 on both rail and truck hogs; bulk better grades 175-240 lb. truck hogs 7.30@7.40; good light weight rail hogs 7.40 packing sows 25 lower; mostly 5.75; few at 6.00.

Cattle—1,300, slaughter steers 5.50 to around 7.25; yearlings 6.25; good to choice grades held above 7.50; good stock steers 7.25, good fat cows up to 4.25; butcher cows 3.00@3.50; well bred stock steer calves 7.50; about steady; good fat calves 6.00@6.50; weighty averages of plainer grades around 5.75 down.

Commission

being lightened to a marked extent.

Charles A. Guy, editor and publisher of the Avalanche-Journal newspapers, was elected unanimously by the commission to fill the unexpired term of L. Herbert Quinn, late Lubbock publisher, as a member of the board of city development.

The city commission passed second reading of ordinance No. 483, requiring advance payment of a license fee of $5 a day for operation of a bowling or similar alley in Lubbock.

Development of a water well drilled for the city at the extreme edge of the county park is underway, casing having been set, and the well probably will be put on test early next week, it was reported to the commission.

The well has shown 38 feet of water-sand and is 97 feet in depth, according to the city manager.

A request that East Avenue E adjacent to block 67, Wheelock second addition, be opened across the Fort Worth & Denver City railroad right-of-way was declined by the commission, which held that opening of the avenue would increase railroad-crossing hazard and that there was no need for such an opening.

Cancellation of a $22,000 issue of electric plant six per cent warrants of 1924 was ordered by the commission, which instructed the city manager to request the state comptroller to cancel a like amount in refunding bonds and send them here. The electric plant warrants were purchased recently with interest in the city sinking fund account.

Bids for the annual audit of books and records of the city will be received by City Manager Miller through March 15, he announced after being advised to receive such bids.

Installation of concrete walks at the municipal airport was approved by the commission.

Presides at Ceremony

Later the pontiff presided at the ceremony at the ponitificial academy of sciences and welcomed Senator Marconi personally as a member. Then he conferred upon him the papal grand cross, one of the highest honors in his power to bestow.

Senator Marconi and Father Gianfrancheschi, director of the new radio station, spoke briefly. Then Monsignor Francis J. Spellman, of Boston, Mass., delivered the English translation.

The pope's second speech was in Italian and Monsignor Spellman's translation was made under high pressure since his holiness did not have the written speech ready until late in the morning.

"Padlocks" Ordered On Frat Houses Where Liquor Found

Five University Of Michigan Fraternities Must Remain Closed Until September 1; Put Under Probation

(By The Associated Press)

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 12.—University "padlocks" today were ordered placed on the doors of five fraternity houses at the University of Michigan in which quantities of liquor were found in the series of police raids yesterday morning.

Under an order issued this afternoon by the faculty committee on student affairs, the five houses must remain closed until September 1. They may then reopen, but the fraternities will be on "social probation" for the 1931-32 school year. That means the organizations involved may have no social functions during the year.

Warning Given

The committee also gave warning to the national officers of the fraternities that any future discoveries of liquor in their houses on the Michigan campus would result in cancellation of their charters at Ann Arbor.

The closing order is effective immediately and the 79 students involved in the raids must find other rooming houses at once. The fraternities involved are Theta Delta Chi, Phi Delta Theta, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Sigma and Sigma Alpha Epilon.

The 79 objects of this drastic disciplinary action still face the possibility of legal action, but they must wait for two weeks to learn definitely whether charges are to be preferred against them. County Prosecutor Albert Rapp and Police Chief Thomas O'Brien decided late today to ask a continuance for two weeks when the cases come up in justice court tomorrow morning, to allow the conclusion of inquiries by university authorities.

well as the crucifixion took place on Friday.

And so Friday the 13th has become a particularly ominous date in the minds of the superstitious.

Today will be a shivery one for superstitious notables, and there are many of them . . . Al Jolson, of stage and screen, has a mortal fear of walking under a ladder . . . Winston Churchill, the British statesman, and Aristide Briand, of France, will take care not to have 13 persons at their tables today . . . And, if Churchill makes a prophecy about trade prospects, you can rest assured he will touch wood . . . Pola Negri would rather face a holdup man than a black cat . . . And Jane Cowl always touches a doll given her by David Belasco before leaving her dressing room.

Capt. Frank Hawks, the aerial speed demon, rather likes old No. 13. He cruises in plane No. 13, his federal license is N. R. 1313 and he is completing his 13th year of flying.

Bobby Jones, the golf wizard, also thinks 13 is a luck number, having made some of his best shots on hole No. 13 with caddy No. 13 standing nearby.

Not so with another Georgian, a Macon business man, who on four consecutive Fridays the 13th broke an arm, lost an eye, broke his leg and smashed his fot.

Friday the 13th may be a day of ill omen for some people, but America, at least, ought to regard it as a lucky one. Friday, and the number 13, either together or separately, have played an important part in the country's history.

Gas Rates

steadily in almost all commodities, including labor, yet the retail price of gas—that to the home owner—has remained substantially unchanged for more than ten years.

"Believing that gas prices should come down with other commodities, I am inviting city officials of West Texas points served by the Lone Star company to meet in Abilene next Wednesday and consider a concerted campaign to bring a reduction.

"My information is that the Lone Star people are reasonable, and I believe they will meet us halfway."

The mayor would not venture a prediction as to what course might be taken in event the company refused to make a voluntary reduction.

Bills Compared

The West Texas Utilities company distributes Lone Star gas at two West Texas points, Abilene and Cisco. Yesterday the company made a check on comparative bills to 100 customers of Abilene, covering the latter part of December and early part of January, both for this year and last. One list of 50 was selected by the company and the other was submitted by the mayor, both being taken at random from the telephone directory. The mayor's list included some of the larger users of gas.

Results of the reading, submitted Wednesday to the mayor, showed the 1931 readings to be 51 per cent lower than for the same period of 1930, on the mayor's list; and 44 per cent lower on the company's list. This year's average bill on the mayor's list was $9.96 against $14.40 last year ;and on the company's list the comparative readings were $13.47 and $19.88.

Machine Gun Fire Fatal To Hoodlum

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 12. (AP) — Machine gun fire today was fatal for Jimmy Howard, known to police as a gangster and liquor runner.

A few hours after Howard was wounded by nearly a dozen bullets police, acting on a tip, arrested 17 men in the rear room of a flower shop in the east part of the city. They were questioned at police headquarters.

Howard fell before the bullets of a machine gunner who descended from a motor car, fired a round of shots through the plate glass window of the A. B. C. auto livery office, and then returned to the automobile to disappear with two or three companions. The marksman wore the gun strapped to his right shoulder.

Short Course

ers all commented favorably on the attendance and the interest shown. We all consider the course a very successful one and I want to take this occasion of thanking all those individuals and organizations who in any way contributed towards its success."

Thursday was "Livestock day" with the entire program given over to that subject. W. L. Stangel, head of the department of animal husbandry at the college, presided over both morning and afternoon sessions.

The killing demonstration was staged by F. G. Harbaugh, veterinarian of the college, assisted by a group of students. He arranged his materials in as near to actual farm conditions as possible and while demonstrating the work, explained to the 250 or 300 people present, his methods.

Preceding Mr. Stangel was L. D Howell, in a resume of the livestock outlook for livestock in 1931. "There is some recovery in the fall and early spring, economists believe," he pointed out. This, from the standpoint of those who are planning to enter long-time feeding program.

"During the period of declining prices it means that we must be more careful of our production costs," he pointed out. "Many economists believe we are in for a long cycle of declining prices." Mr. Howell used a chart to illustrate the trend and cycles in beef and dairy cattle and in hogs also.

Pointing out a "large supply of dairy cattle, at this time, Mr. Howell said that "with normal production the supply of dairy products is likely to be large.

Records Presented.

Dean L. E. Call of K. S. A. C made his closing address on the livestock feeding program of the Fort Hays experiment station. Dean Call had prepared the records of 10 expesiments at his station and several hundred copies were run off and distributed to those present.

Purpose of the experiments made was to show the Kansas farmerr the possible utilization of grass on rough farm land, provide a market for rough feed, to provide a market for grain and to stabilize farm business. Crops suitable for feeding include, corn, barley, wheat and sorghums, he said. How to use the poorer types of wheat also was explained.

"The greatest error in the poultry business is the use of infertile or dead eggs," Mr. Mowery said. "Your chickens must have green food if they cannot have exercise, and sanitary care. But the green food is most important. Don't get hatching ability and infertility mixed in your mind. A heavy forced pullet will probably yield a lower hatch ability than a slower growing or older hen will."

Depends On Market.

"Whether a man should produce sweet or sour cream depends upon the market," K. M. Renner of the department of dairy manufacturing, said in his address. "The manufacturer cannot afford to pay much for low grade sour cream. If people have the money, they may spend eight cents more for high grade sweet cream butter, when there is no money, there is little spread."

Suggestions on how to produce butterfat at low costs were given by Mr. Stangel in a short talk. He urged the watching close of all corners of expense in the feeding program.

Mr. Stangel explained that it was possible for South Plains farmers to produce butter fat at a relatively low cost.

Gas Hearing

to $58.70 for the same month in 1930, despite the fact that she was receiving a lower rate for some of the gas.

Got Lower Rate

Under the 1930 rates, Mrs. McComb stated, the gas company charged 67 1-2 cents for the first 50,000 cubic feet and 50 cents for the rest. In that month she said she used 170,000 cubic feet.

This year the rate was the same for the first 50,000 cubic feet, with a rate of 30 cents for the next 450,000 feet and 25 cents for each thousand above that figure. Consumption as recorded by the meter was 207,000 cubic feet..

Mrs. McComb stated she had asked the gas company last fall to examine her furnace and that she was told that it was not in need of adjustment.

Others Appearing

Other who appeared included: Mrs. J. L. Barber, 1920 Avenue J; Mrs. L. S. Mast, 1614 Avenue Q; K. F. Popplewell, 710 Main; Acme Seed company, 506 Broadway and Mrs. C. F. Stubbs, 3120 Avenue P; A. M. Ligon, 2106 9th; R. D. Williams, 1212 10th; W. M. Petticolas, jr., 1911 19th; J. W. Moore, 1413 Avenue G; J. C. Granbery, 1622 Avenue X; W. G. McMillan and M. E. Lawrence, 2021 9th.

A total of 37 complaints had been made to the city, it was said at the meeting. The city has a complete record of names, addresses and amounts of bills for December, 1929, and January, 1930, and also December, 1930, and January, 1931.

In only a few instances were there industrial concerns involved in the complaints, the greater majority being from home owners.

Session Here Friday

Mayors and city managers of 52 Northwest Texas cities have been invited to convene in Lubbock today for a discussion of plans to conduct the investigation on a more systematic and extensive scale. No less than 100 city officials are expected to arrive in this city early today for the conference.

The gathering will get under way at noon with a luncheon at Hotel Lubbock which will be followed immediately by a business session. Mayor J. J. Clements of this city, will preside.

Indicating that dissatisfaction regarding gas rates and statements is not confined to this territory alone, information was received here Thursday that a meeting of city mayors and other officials of West Texas cities and towns served by the Community Natural Gas company, distributing subsidiary of the Lone Star Gas company, has been called for next Wednesday, February 18, in Abilene.

Mayor Takes Stand

The call for the gathering was issued by Mayor Thos. E. Hayden, of Abilene. Mayor Hayden is said to be taking the stand that existing rates are too high.

Like the Lubbock situation, the meeting follows a wave of protests in a large number of cities served by the West Texas Gas company, the Lone Star company and other firms.

One public mass meeting has already been held by Breckenridge gas consumers and another is being planned.

In addition to the Oil Belt cities, complaints have been current from citizens in Midland, Slaton, Plainview, Childress, Hale Center, McLean, and a number of others.

Texas Railways Seeking To Cut Cotton Freight Rates

DALLAS, Feb. 12. (AP)—Following up recent slashes made in railroad passenger fares, to meet the competition of motor busses, the major railroad systems of Texas today presented to an interstate commerce commission examiner here their request for permission to reduce freight rates on cotton.

Reduced rates were asked on cotton moving interstate from Texas points through Texas Gulf ports, wherever motor truck competition may justify the railroad to lower its charges to the shipper to retain or regain cotton shipments.

Start Razing Of Jail Here

Preliminary Steps In Connection With Dismantlement Of County Jail Are Taken Thursday; Continue Work

Preliminary steps in connection with dismantlement of the county jail here were taken Thursday, connections being disjointed and the roof torn off. Actual razing of the structure is expected to be started this morning, most of the interior fixtures having been removed.

D. N. Leaverton has been employed as contractor for the work and county authorities said Thursday that no laborers who have been employed on the new high school building will be allowed to work on the jail. Several shifts will be used during the course of the dismantling process and employment probably will be furnished for a large number of men.

County Judge E. L. Pitts has announced that contract for construction of a new jail probably will be let within the next thirty days.

Twelve Lubbock county prisoners Thursday were placed in the Hale county jail. Others are in the city jail.
