Use Helium; Save Lives—
The Oldest Story—
Flowers for Fearless—

By H. N. F.

THIS IS THE ULTIMATUM given by the United States Labor Board to the railways of America: Obey the orders of the board or be branded publicly as violators of the laws of the United States. Why not? All men should obey the laws and all corporations should stay within the law.

CONGRESSMAN FRITZ LANham of the Fort Worth district has won his fight. The congress voted $400,000 for the development of helium at the Fort Worth plant. It was a long fight, a bitter fight but the son of his father landed. Lanham is a Democrat; Republicans control congress. Helium away down in Texas is worth the price. It is non-explosive, non-inflammable and there would be no Rome tragedies if helium were used.

PROSPERITY IS BEGINNING to return to the farms of America, according to a Washington correspondent but the prices came for the most part after the farmers had sold the bulk of their crops. It is the old old story. The man who works the hardest gets the least—speaking of the tiller of the soil and his returns.

A DEFICIT OF $500,000,000 for the fiscal year 1922 is predicted by Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon. Now how is the soldier bonus to be paid. Mellon sounded his warning to the congress long ago but the congress went ahead and made large appropriations just as it did in war time. This man of millions at the head of the Treasury department insists that appropriations should not be made until the revenue is in sight to pay the bills. He is a hard headed business man and believes that a nation, like a sane individual, should keep close to the shore.

GOVERNOR JOHN M. PARKER of Louisiana is about the hardest hitter that holds high office in the entire South. This is his latest, "We are a nation ruled by lawyers. In practically every political body you find members of the legal profession have a majority. In most cases they are men who have failed at their chosen profession. They are able speakers, smooth talkers and having failed, they enter politics and are elevated to places or power by the people. Failures are making the laws by which we are governed." Governor Parker said this to the Southern Hardware Jobbers in the city of New Orleans when he delivered a scathing arraingment of all law violators and declared in no uncertain terms that as long as he is governor he did not propose seeing Louisiana slip back into those days of barbarism where every man was his own ruler and the maker of his own laws. Flowers for the living. Flowers for the fearless. Flowers for those who are loyal to the written law of the land.

ORGANIZED LABOR FAVORS RECOGNITION: DODGES WET ISSUE

By Associated Press.

EL PASO, Texas, April 21.—Organized labor in Texas wants the present Mexican government recognized at once by the United States and is opposed to going on record as favoring modification of the Volstead law to permit the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer. These two issues were the most important to arise at the State Federation of Labor convention at its closing session here today.

RADIO CONCERT OLD STUFF

Fourteen-year-old John Pringle with his home-made radio plant.

Before the present radio "craze" swept the country, John Pringle, 14, Chicago school boy, was doing a rushing business giving his friends wireless concerts. Pringle charged admission fees of five and ten cents and didn't worry about war taxes. Uncle Sam did that.

Pringle has one of the best equipped radio plants in the country. And what is more he constructed it himself. The lad is a radio 'wizard." In addition to building a tower in his back yard from which to suspend his aerial, Pringle went so far as to construct the batteries which he uses in his set.

The spread of the radio "craze" has reduced Pringle's income to some extent, but nevertheless he continues to experiment and improve his apparatus now considered one of the best sets in Chicago.

Mother of Son Who'll Spend Twenty Years in Sing Sing Jumps From Roof Of Five-Story House and Ends Life

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Brooding over the fate of her son, facing a 20-year sentence in Sing Sing for robbery, Mrs. Hanah Donovan committed suicide today after frustrating efforts of her neighbors to prevent her taking her life.

First they found her with a razor in her hand, about to cut her throat.

They tore the blade from her grasp. A few minutes later she climbed to the roof of the five-story tenement house in which she lived. Persons in the streets saw her walk deliberately to the edge. "Don't," they shouted, but she jumped and was instantly killed.

Sleuths Trail Streak of Blood To Body of Nude Woman, Nab Two And Secure Confession of Murder

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 21.—A trail of blood stains leading from an empty wagon, where the body of an unidentified unclothed woman was found in, a wagon, to the porch of an apartment today led to the arrest of two men, one of whom is said to have confessed to the police that he killed the woman.

The men under arrest are Russell Mosby, negro, and Thomas Roach, a former soldier.

Roach, in his confession to the police, declared he had no motive for the killing. He said he had met the woman late last night, took her to his flat, and struck her with the butt of a revolver. Later he dragged her to the empty wagon.

Roach later made a written confession, according to the police, that he and Mosby had assaulted the woman and that Mosby had beaten her.

Dad of Triplets and 4 Pair Twins Lives in Country 'Cause City Folk Scrap in Home and Divorce Court

By Associated Press.

OMAHA, Nebr., April 21.—Mrs. Frank Golda, 35, of near La Platte, Nebraska, is the mother of triplets and four pairs of twins, all born since 1900.

The latest addition to her family came this morning with the arrival of twin girls, born at the home of a friend in Omaha. Their coming increased the number of children to 11, as Mrs. Golda has also had one single child, but one of the triplets had died.

The father, 36, at work here temporarily, said he lived on a farm because it was easier to rear a family in the country.

"Up in the city," he said, "people quarrel and fight and get divorces. Then what happens to the children?"

There's Plenty of Fish in Market Here That Never Have Been Bought According to Local Business Man

"One of the principal reasons, I am convinced, that people buy gods out of town is that they do not know what they can buy here," said R. E. Penick, local hardware wholesaler, in discussing the "Buy-at-home" problem before the Chamber of Commerce Business Council Friday.

"Just take an instance. The other day, I was driving down town with my family when Mrs. Penick remarked on the presence of a fish market:

"'As long as we have been in town I did not know that there was a fish market, here,' she said.

The fish market had not advertised their wares. Do people know what you have?

STATE'S HIGHER EDUCATION IS BEING PROBED

General Control of System Sought By Committee

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, April 21.—A definite program for looking into the affairs of the higher educational institution of Texas was mapped out today by the committee created at the last legislative session to investigate the state's educational institutions. Such action was taken at an all day meeting of the committee held at the capitol.

This committee was created by a resolution during the special session last summer when the educational appropriations bills were under fire by the retrenchers and anti-retrenchers. Today's meeting is their first since the members were appointed.

Cooper Is Chairman.

The fundamentals of the higher educational institutions were divided and given to sub-committees to look into. General control of the entire educational system, special functions of the higher educational institutions and the financial affairs of these institutions were the heads under which the work was divided.

Dr. O. H. Cooper of Abilene, chairman of the committee, presided today. Only six of the nine members were present.

To Improve System.

Tomorrow is expected to bring forth definite action on the action to better Texas' educational system and move the state's standing in the nation several points higher than where it is now rated—thirty eighth.

A comprehensive review of the educational system was made by today's speakers and a regular program to that end was carried out. It is expected that the results of the conference will be carried to the legislature in an effort to accomplish the purpose of the conference.

WESTERN BEER RATES FAIR RULES EXECUTIVE RAIL ORGANIZATION

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Memories of pre-Volstead era were aroused today when the interstate commerce commission in a belated opinion decided that former railroad rates on beer in western sections were fair.

Acting upon complaints of the Duluth Malt & Brewing company, which questioned the charges made against by railroads for the shipment many cars of the now legally non-existent fluid from the manufacturing point to the one time points of consumption in Illinois and Iowa, the commission said that the practice of the roads in considering a beer a commodity entitled to pay fifth class rates, fair and equitable.

CONGRESS WILL COMBAT FLOODS

$1,000,000 Resolution Rushed Through

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The sum of one million dollars for control of flood waters of the Mississippi river,, now at the highest stage in years, was made available immediately by a resolution rushed through the senate and house today within an hour after the proposal made by Southern members had been approved by Secretary Weeks and Director Dawes of the budget. The measure was then signed by President Harding.

The money made available by the resolution is a part of nearly $7,000,000 which the pending army appropriation bill carries to be used by the Mississippi river commission for flood control purposes.

The measure was adopted promptly in the house and there was just about a minute of debate on it in the senate. Senator Ransdell, democrat, Louisiana, one of its sonsors, told the senate it would "avert a great disaster and save more than was expended."

D. A. R. COMMITTEE WILL INVESTIGATE SCHOOL HISTORIES

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—An investigation of all history text books in use in the public schools of the United States will be made by the committee on patriotic education of the Daughters of the American Revolution under a resolution adopted unanimously at today's session of the Thirty-first continental congress. The resolution, introduced by the Indiana state delegation, pointed out "that the American Legion has brought to our attention the numerous assertions in later histories written for use in our public schools, that convey many misleading statements."

DAIRYWOMAN TEXAS SLAYS OIL WORKER

By Associated Press.

GALVESTON, April 21.—Miss Bertha Kableck, who operates a small dairy farm two miles north of Algoa in this county, shot and killed an oil field worker named Kanaski early today. Self defense is claimed by the woman who said that the dead man had threatened her life.

Eleven shots were fired and four took effect. Miss Kabanek, after the shooting, telephoned to a Galveston undertaker to send for the body, and to the authorities, telling of the killing. Both the woman and the man were brought to Galveston later in the day.

SAN ANTONIO FIRM SELLS 16-CENT GAS

SAN ANTONIO, April 21.—Price of gasoline was reduced to 16 cents here yesterday by the Grayburg Oil company. The Humble Oil and Refining company is still selling gasoline at 13 cents at the tank wagon. With some companies asking as high as 21 cents retail, the commodity is selling at the greatest variety of prices in many years.

BLAIR RETIRES

NEW YORK, April 21.—General Gregorie Semenoff, who dropped out of sight yesterday after his release from jail on $25,000 bail, is indisposed as a result of his confinement and is resting in seclusion his lawyers announced today.

The general was expected to visit his attorneys later in the day.

8 INJURED WHEN FREIGHTS CRASH NORTH OF TROUP

One to Die As Result Of Mistake in Signals

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Texas, April 21.—Eight persons were injured, four seriously, and two freight trains piled up like cord wood in a head-on collision three miles north of Troup this afternoon.

Of the injured slight hopes of recovery are held for one, with one other in an extremely serious condition.

The crash occurred at an isolated spot on the Northern division of the I. & G. N. railroad and is said to have resulted from confusion of orders.

Seriously Injured

E. E. Garner, conductor, broken arm, cut and bruises and sprained legs; W. L. Lockey, brakeman, internal injuries, paralyzed in the lower portion of his body and is not expected to live; A. B. Neale, fireman bruises on head, face and body; George Stewart, trainsman, dislocated shoulder and bruises.

Less Seriously Injured

L. W. Frazier, brakeman, bruises; Charles McDonald, engineer slight cuts and bruises; Ed O'Brien slightly hurt; T. G. Griffith, minor injuries.

Leaps From Cab

A miraculous escape was made by Engineer O'Brien, who jumped from his engine and huddled under a pile of cross ties laying beside the track, just in time to escape several cars which piled on the refuse. He made his way out of the wreckage by crawling through an opening left by the ties supporting the wrecked cars.

When the crash occurred the engines reared up in the middle of the track like rafters on a roof. The engines were of the larger and latez types and were bought just recently for this division.

An investigation is being made by railroad officials.

GAS EXPLOSION INJURES THIRTY

Blast in California Costs One Life

By Associated Press.

DOWNEY, Calif., April 21.—One man killed and 30 injured, three seriously, was the toll tonight of two explosions at an oil station here early in the day. Seventeen hundred gallons of gasoline blew up after the fire started, either from crossed electric wires, or from a blow torch which was being used by a workman near the building.

W. L. Henry, of Downey Grain Merchants, died in a hospital several hours after the accident. Roy Tompkins, a storekeeper; Lester Witherspoon, school boys and Walter Puey, druggist, were burned so badly that doctors said the chances were against recovery. Most of the others injured had gone to their homes tonight.

PRETTY SPOUSE SAYS HUBBY IS INNOCENT

Special to the Record News.

DALLAS, April 21.—Despite the fact that Sam Bell, alias Joe Smith, has admitted that he is under sentence in Arkansas for the murder of his wife, his brother-in-law and two other men, his pretty young bride here refuses to believe that he is guilty. Bell was arrested here upon information furnished by Arkansas officials. A sheriff from that state today called at the county jail here to take Bell into custody.

"I'll be praying for your release every day," sobbed the young wife as she told her husband good-bye, "and when you are freed you will find me waiting for you."

The jury failed to agree in the case of Frank Shelton, also charged with the crime. The cases were tried jointly here on a change of venue from Tulsa county.

VALUES OF CROPS DECREASED IN 1921

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The department of agriculture estimated today that the gross wealth produced by farmers in 1921 had a value of $12,366,000,000, or about two-thirds of the aggregate value of the farm products of 1920, and little more than one-half of the aggregate for 1919. During the same period 1919-1921 production of ten crops which represent about 95 per cent of the total crop acreage, fell 8 per cent.

The total value of crops, the department said, declined from $15,423,000,000 in 1919 to $10,909,000,000 in 1920, and to $7,028,000,000 in 1921. The decline of the total value of animal products on the farm was from $8,361,000,000 in 1919 to $7,354,000,000 in 1920 and to $5,339,000,000 in 1921.

REDS PASS UP DEMANDS THEY MADE AT START

Soviets Tone Down Answers and Talk Favorably

By Associated Press.

GENOA, April 21.—The economic conference today made a great stride forward.

The elimination of the Russo-German treaty from the controversy and soviet Russia's provisional acceptance of the allied conditions concerning foreign debts and confiscated property of foreigners, produced a very definite hope that the greatest congress that Europe statements ever held will accomplish some real and tangible for the construction of Europe, including Russia.

Reds Waive Claims.

The demands of the powers which have been accepted include the waiving by Russia of her counter-claims, based on military intervention; recognition of war debts to the governments, with the understanding that they will be considerably scaled down; resognition of financial obligations due to foreign nationals and the right of foreigners to have confiscated property returned to them or to be given proper compensation for it.

The conciliatory nature of the answer of the Soviet government contributed to the optimism that the Bolsheviki earnestly seek an arrangement with the powers by which Soviet Russia will be permitted to enter into the committee of nations. The clear and brief demands of the allies, which afford a concrete basis for discussion are compared here by the observers to the concrete American proposals for naval limitation which was indicated at the outset of the Washington conference and which gave the delegates to the Washington conclave an opportunity to discuss something tangible and constructive.

Turn To America.

The insistence of the Soviet on foreign financial aid as a necessary thing to Russia's salvation serves to turn all faces toward the United States for it seemed to be recognized that succor is impossible without the participation of American capital.

This conviction is so profound that the allied representatives are hinting that they would like to see Richard Washburn Child, the American ambassador to Italy, attend the discussions on Russian affairs.

The sentiment regarding American financial support was summed up today by Former Premier Motta of Switzerland, who said that without assistance from the United States, it would be very difficult for Europe to win out.

"We do not believe that America will forget the ties binding her to Europe," he declared.

BOND PRICES GOING HIGHER

More Money Is Ready For Improvements

(Authentic statement by Roger W. Babson to be quoted only by Wichita Falls Record News.)

WELLESLEY HILLS, April 21—Roger W. Babson in discussing the bond situation makes the following statement:

"Many inquiries are coming to me asking if bond prices have not yet reached their zenith. It is known that there has been a considerable increase during the past few months. The average of a group of standard investment bonds which stood at 75.1 a year ago now is 85.7. Moreover, the bond advertising in the newspapers shows the large number of offerings now being made. Everything indicates a "boiling" market. Usually boiling markets are followed by a slump. I do not believe, however, that the bond market will have a slump for some time to come.

Money Available.

"There are numerous factors which are helping the bond situation. First is the willingness on the part of the people to give more attention to the fundamentals of life. During the war-time boom people went crazy with spending, borrowing and waste. This inevitably led to extravagance, inefficiency and dishonesty.

"The people are now seeing the error of their ways. Thrift is today being substituted for extravagance, efficiency is taking the place of inefficiency, and integrity is again developing in place of dishonesty. All of this means that more money is continually available for permanent improvements, road building, school houses, factories and homes. This change for the better has just begun, and hence is liable to continue for some years. If so, there will be a good bond market for a long time to come.

Buyers Increase.

"Another factor helping the bond market is the great increase in the number of bond buyers. Before the war only a bloated gentleman with a silk hat and a six pound gold watch chain was supposed to be able to buy bonds. It is true that in those days the large proportion of bonds were bought by the idle rich whose principal occupation was clipping coupons. The war changed this entire situation."

TEXAS SOLDIERS IN WAR TO BE LISTED

By Associated Press.

Yoo-hoo, osteopaths, didn't you overlook a good bet in your search for a perfect back? Peggy Davis was snapped in the act of giving her husband, Donald Grafton, the muchly married young man, the icy shoulder. At any rate the picture was taken just after she had found out that two other women were claiming Grafton as their husband.

SMUDGE POTS SAVE NEW CROP POTATOES

By Associated Press.

SAN BENITO, Texas, April 21.—The first car of new crop potatoes rolled from the Rio Grande valley last week, reaching the market from two to three weeks in advance of yields by other growers, it was reported here.

The potatoes were grown by J. A. Hickman, near San Benito, who was able to place them on the market early as the result of having spent three nights, assisted by Mexican laborers, keeping smudge pots and bonfires burning to prevent freezing during the valley's unprecedented cold wave the first of March, which set back other fields a few weeks, cutting the yield considerably and in some cases causing such damage that farmers were forced to replant.

A Wife or a Profession?

BY CAROLYN BEECHER

(Copyright, 1922, by Carolyn Beecher)

Chapter LVII.

In May they sailed for Europe. If Annette had hoped Howard would shake off the lethargy, the lack of interest, the automaton manner in which he had fulfilled all his social duties, the quiet, unenthusiastic way in which he devoted himself to her, she was disappointed.

The battlefields of France and Belgium brought back too poignantly all the suffering he had seen, and even more poignantly did it recall the gratitude of the poor fellows he had helped bear their pain, or whom he had rehabilitated physically. Broken limbs, mended, horrible disfigurements, faces made over, had brought him such benediction for his skill in healing that he used to remark that it was he who was under the obligation, not the poor fellow he had helped to make whole again.

And Annette dragged him over these places again, now more than ever before a Gethsemane for him. It was not until he grew so thin, so distrait, that she noticed anything wrong? When she pressed him for a reason he blurted out in one or two fiery sentences all it meant to him of anguish and regret. But in the next moment he had apologized almost before he had time to see the look of horror at his language cross her face.

"We'll go back to Paris, dear," she said after a moment. "It is dull looking at these old fields and villages."

"You are quite sure you want to go there—not go home?"

"Of course! Did you ever know a woman who was not happy in Paris?"

"Yes—many."

"Oh, I didn't mean war women. We'll forget that."

"Very well, whatever pleases you."

"Do brace up, Howard and act like you used to, as if you had some life in you. I can't understand you nowadays. You never joke and scarcely ever laugh. When I married you you were the regular village cut-up, teasing me all the time."

"I'm sorry—"

"If we hadn't the things we have, if you had to work day and night for a living as so many men do, it would be different. I have money enough for you to do anything you want to, but you worry me, you are so different. You have brains and looks and I have money. We could be the leaders of a smart set if you liked to exert yourself."

"We'll hit the high spots all right when we get to Paris."

Annette clapped her hands.

"That's the way to talk! You have been too prosy for anything. It is my fault, dear. I shouldn't have brought you here. We should have stayed in Paris."

When a man sees the cherished plans of years slipping away from him, going wrong, he is apt to fight for them tooth and nail. But unless the man is inherently strong, and if he has also to fight the plans of the woman he loves, one or the other has to give way. He had made his struggle for his profession, Annette had made hers—and she had won. The hatred of his profession had crept into her blood, the desire for Howard's undivided attention had become an obsession. She thought that was what she wanted to make her completely happy. And what Annette Blake wanted she determined to have—and had it.

"I shall always try to make you happy, Annette, no matter where we are. Then: "You will understand that, won't you?"

"Why shouldn't I? That's what you married me for, wasn't it? To make me happy."

"Yes—that's what I married you for—yes—"

Something in his voice, his hesitating answer made her look sharply at him. She wished he would not be so awfully quiet and cold, or so spasmodically loving. She had understood him when he was as he was when they were first married, and for a long time afterward when he was always tender and loving and his passion the natural sequence. But this man he went along so quietly, seemingly indifferent to everything except doing her will, and who occasionally gave way to such wild gusts of passion he almost frightened her, seemed a stranger to her. That she had made him what he was she would not have believed. She gave him everything he had—money, travel, a home, good times, and herself, a young, beautiful woman. What else could a man desire?

In Paris he changed. Suddenly he seemed to wake up, to find the high spots amusing, to enjoy the night life of Paris. It was not quite what Annette had expected, not quite what she liked, but it was something for him to act interested, to show enthusiasm, so she accepted the hectic life of Paris, the life many of the rich Americans find so alluring, instead of the social life among the class they mingled with at home.

"Howard, don't you think it is time we went home?" November had arrived and Howard had not spoken of home, had seemed to think of nothing these last few months but "going the pace" as Annette had heard some one say.

"Aren't you happy here? I thought this was what you wanted?"

She did not answer at once. She searched his face and then seemed disappointed, as if she had desperately needed understanding and had not found it.

500 HANDLING ONION CROP IN STARR COUNTY

By Associated Press.

RIO GRANDE CITY, Texas, April 21.—Starr county is said to have the largest Bermuda onion yield in the lower Rio Grande valley. From the Radcliff brothers' farm, 14 miles east of here, there have been shipped to date 30 cars.

The season is at its height and more than 500 persons are employed daily to clip and pack the onions.

EDUCATION TO FACE SETBACK

Bizzell Tells Need of Finances

Special to the Record News.

WACO, Texas, April 21.—A more serious situation confronts the schools of Texas today than in either 1918 or 1919, Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of the A. & M. College of Texas, said in addressing the Kiwanias club here today.

He said that unless the people manifested an intelligent comprehension of our educational system and responded to the needs of the schools in the cause of education was certain to experience a great set back in the next few months. "The supreme need of the hour is for a manifestation of faith in the cause of education and a concerted and heroic effort to sustain the schools of Texas," he said.

That education should not be considered as a thing apart, but rather as an inter-related factor in the economic and industrial activity of the state and nation was the point emphasized by Dr. Bizzell. "I am convinced," he said, "that the cause of education has suffered on account of the fact that those who discuss its problems and aims look upon the educational process as a segregated aspect of social and economic life.

"Public finances required to support our public school system and state institutions of higher learning should not be regarded merely as a contribution of the public to a worthy cause, but as an investment in human values that are to yield to society an adequate return. There is a general impression in the public mind that the public support of our state institutions of higher learning is a great burden upon the tax-payers and a contribution to a benevolent cause. Neither of these viewpoints reflects an accurate statement of facts."

PASTOR MAKES OFFER OF CASH

"Dollar-a-Minute for Every Dull One"

"Sunday night, I am going to preach my annuad baseball sermon," said Rev. H. D. Kuickerbocker, pastor of the First Methodist Church, South, corner Tenth and Lamar.

"Brother Walter Salm and Secretary Gray have already accepted my invitation on behalf of the Spudders to be present in a body. We have invited also, the visiting team to occupy seats of honor at this service.

"Being a baseball fan myself and being a student of psychology and philosophy and symbolism of the game, I have found it a prolific source of great analogies and illustrations for a number of years. I have made it my custom for a long time to preach a sermon immediately after the opening of the season. 'The Baseball Game of Life' will be the specific subject, and I will use not only the historical happenings in the game and great analogies, but I have attended a special game here at home with my notebook in my hand and made the best part of my sermon out of local plays and players. I will forfeit a dollar to any fan who finds a dull minute during the playing of the game, which will be 40 minutes long.

"There will be a special musical program including a special baseball song composed by myself and sung by E. C. Huckabee.

"At 9:30 a. m. we are going to have 1,300 in Sunday school. We are having the largest, most enthusiastic time we ever did. We beat Amarillo and El Paso last Sunday, but only by a very few, and we have got to run like a scared rabbit to keep ahead of them.

"At the 11 o'clock hour, I am going to preach a short sermon on 'The Greatest Methodist in the World.' We expect to receive about 50 more members at this service. The sacrament of the Lord's supper will be administered to the largest number that ever partook of it in this church."

16 ACCESSIONS TO FACTORY METHODIST

The revival services at Factory Methodist church conducted by the Rev. Mr. Estes and his wife have accomplished much and lasting good in the community, according to W. A. Betts. Quite a number have been saved and many renewed their covenant with God. There have been 16 accessions by certificate and on profession of faith and likely others will join before the meeting closes on Sunday night. There will be held a service for children at 4 o'clock this afternoon and preaching at 7:30 tonight. On Sunday the Sunday School meets at 10 o'clock followed by preaching at 11 a. m. by Rev. Mr. Estes. In the afternoon on Sunday at 3 o'clock a children's service will be held. At 7:30 p. m. the last preaching service will be conducted. An offering will be taken for the minister and his excellent wife whose help has been so faithfully given.

NEW ORLEANS ALL READY FOR KNIGHTS

By Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, April 21.—With the city probably more profusely decorated than at any time in its history, New Orleans today began welcoming the incoming hordes of Knight Templars, who will open their 35th Triennial Conclave here next Monday. Approximately 35,000 visitors are expected.

Templars in the city are being entertained with dinner parties, automobile rides and steamer trips through the harbor.

BUYING CONFINED; PRICES CONTROLLED

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 21. — Duns tomorrow will say:

Not without accompanying irregularities, yet with unmistakable clearness, the trend toward better business continues. Uniformity of progress is prevented by strikes and other impediments, but the present unevenness of conditions is not surprising, as no other result was to be expected during the period of commercial revival. Gains that have occurred in recent months, if not extending in equal measure to all lines of enterprise have been such as to give encouragement.

Basic industries with few conspicuous exceptions disclose a steady renewal of activity and the countrywide expansion of building operations, evidenced by a special survey of the situation made by Duns, is highly significant.

Generally, buying is still confined within prudent limits and prices are kept under control, conservative interests recognizing the importance of maintaining stable conditions and a solid foundation for subsequent recovery.

GOOD BUYING SERVICE HERE

Trouble Is People Do Not Know It

Purchases made by Wichitans elsewhere are in a large measure due to lack of knowledge by the public of what can be obtained in local stores, R. E. Penick, wholesale hardware man, told members of the business council, chamber of commerce, Friday noon. He illustrated sales secured here and in many other places through mail order advertising which goes into the homes, besides giving illustrations of commodities and service to be obtained here, of which the public knows nothing.

The more wholesale hardware houses that are located in Wichita Falls, the better it will be for the Penick-Hughes Wholesale Hardware company, Mr. Penick said Friday—additional houses will aid in the establishing of the city as a wholesale hardware center. The same is true of any other wholesale and retail and manufacturing line—each broadens the trade territory of the city by aiding in establishing it as a center.

Mr. Penick approved the movement for the establishment of a bonded warehouse in Wichita Falls which Hubert Harrison, general manager, reported was near realization through the work of J. M. McFall and E. S. Goodner. The value of the house was indicated by Mr. Penick with battery dealers as an illustration—allowing battery jobbers throughout th territory to obtain advantage of car load rates to this point, and selling from the common stock stored here.

Lessons to be applied in efforts to bring conventions here were detailed by B. F. Johnson, who told the organization "how not to" go after a convention as illustrated by the city's last effort.

Lack of preliminary advertising, of preliminary work with all delegates to the convention, organization of the Wichita Falls delegation, and arrangements which will assure the members of the convention that it will be properly handled if brought to this city, were mentioned by Mr. Johnson in his talk.

ALL TESTIMONY IN ON BANK CASE HERE

All testimony in the case of the First National Bank of Electra vs. E. L. Gallagher et al., suit on a note for $13,000, was concluded Friday afternoon before Judge E. W. Napier in the 78th district court. The case will be submitted to the jury this morning at 9 o'clock.

FORT WORTH HAS ANTI KLAN LEAGUE

LEGION SHELLS WIDE TERRITORY

Advertising Matter Is Sent Far and Wide

"Bombing" of all points within 150 or 200 miles of Wichita Falls in all directions with literature descriptive of the big aerial circus to be staged by the American Legion post here next Saturday and Sunday will be concluded today, Errett Williams, stunt aviator, who has been the adviser of the legion committee in promoting the meet, and A. L. Taylor, member of the local post heading the committee which has had charge of the arrangements, have made tht trips—covering a territory from beyond Mineral Wells and Breckenridge for 200 miles west of Wichita Falls in the Wichita valley, up the Denver and up the Northwestern.

The rest of the territory will be covered today, following which the two will go to Fort Sill for a final conference in connection with military participation in the meet.

CRUDUP SAYS LAND OWNERS WILL REAP IRRIGATION PROFIT

R. L. Crudup of Durant, Oklahoma, who was here for a conference with officials of the irrigation district, Friday, and who donated the right of way through his land, expressed himself as believing that the benefits which would accrue to the property would fully repay any land owner for the right of way asked.

W. H. Chilson of Henrietta also donated the right of way through his land. Only one land owner has taken an attitude which lead to the filing of condemnation proceedings.

FRED WEIDMAN DIES

Special to the Record News.

CLARENDON, Texas, April 21.—The body of Fred Wiedman, who died yesterday morning, was interred this morning in the Citizens' cemetery following funeral services at 10 o'clock conducted by Rev. J. T. Griswold. Mr. Wiedman was 70 years of age.

Mr. Wiedman moved to Clarendon in March, 1890, and was for a long time employed by the Fort Worth & Denver railway, later moving to his present home and becoming interested in ranch properties.

He is survived by his widow and eight children: August, Rudolph, Phillip, Willie, Gertrude, Julia, Helen and Rhoda.

OUR WORLD.

"We want no Japanese clams monopolizing any part of Texas soil; we want no Buddhist temples under Texas skies." This is an extract from the speech delivered by Senator Morris Sheppard against the ratification of the four power pact. Senator Sheppard said that the Japanese had almost accomplished the economic control of Hawaii. He said 100,000 in California are receiving fresh and unlawful accessions daily from the homeland. He said that thousands of Japanese worked on both sides the American-Mexican border in the Imperial Valley. He said that in 1910 one Japanese was born in California to every 43 white children and in 1919 one Japanese to every 12 white children and he estimated that at the present rate of increase there will be more than a milion Japanese in California in 40 years. Senator Sheppard appeared in the role of an educator for his colleages. He told the venerable solons that no matter where they go the Japanese never lose touch with the home government and worship of the Japanese emperor. Obedience and loyalty to him are part of their religion. Moreover, that there has been but one imperial family throughout the long history of Japan; that it traces an unbroken descent for 25 centuries and the Japanese believe that the first emperor was the grandson of the Sun goddess. Senator Sheppard dreads the coming of the Japs. Cullen F. Thomas dreads the accumulation of the wealth of America and its passing into the hands of the few. Earle B. Mayfield dreads the final assassination of state rights notwithstanding that the aforesaid rights were shot to shreds on Appomatox's fated field. Sterling P. Strong dreads the comeback of John Barleycorn. Senator Charles A. Culberson dreads the invisible empire and calls for the throttling of the midnight masked riders. Clarence Ousley dreads the coming of price-fixing for farm products notwithstanding that the federal congress, when it enacted the Esch-Cummins bill, guaranteed the fixed earnings of the railroads of America on their own physical valuation. A wonderful world is this world of ours.

ARMOUR'S MESSAGE.

The world is recovering, says J. Ogden Armour. There is evidence of this on every hand, says J. Ogden Armour. Opportunity is more than optimism, says J. Ogden Armour. Opportunity is only for him who acts and its richest rewards are only for him who acts first, says J. Ogden Armour. Correct. The man who gets there first and nails it down is the man who stays there. Joking aside, J. Ogden says the deadlock in business has been broken; farm products have been advanced and healthy business growth may now go on unimpeded. Pass it along.

BLANTON'S LEAVE.

"On account of needing rest after five years continuous hard work" Congressman Thomas L. Blanton has been granted by congress an indefinite leave of absence. This noted Texan, who has been christened "Bleating Thomas" by Editor Harrison of the Baylor County Banner, has not disclosed his indefinite leave or where he will go. He has ordered from the government printing office a hundred thousand copies of the speech which he made in the house when he read into the record many letters of recommendation of himself. Of course "on account of needing rest after five years continuous hard work" it is all right.

MENACES OF TODAY

American wage workers and wealth producers are face to face with many menaces. Great Britain and Germany and France and Japan are manufacturing nations. Belgium is a manufacturing nation. Japan is of and for the Orient. As Senator Sheppard says for three thousand years the Japanese have been forced to cultivate small areas until today with the most exacting, tedious and monotonous toil they make a square mile support 2,000 persons. Their farms average less than 3 acres to a family and the income of the average farm family ranges from $75 to $150 per annum. Farm hands get about $27 per year with rice and shelter. A Japanese soldier gets about $5.50 per month. In 1917 the average wage in 33 Japanese industrial occupations was 30 cents a day. Skilled artisans received 40 cents, male textile workers 28 1-2 cents, female textile workers, 19 cents. Hours of labor for more than a million of these workers range from 11 to 14 per day. Japanese school teachers get $17.25 a month or about $207 per year. Multiplying at the rate of 600,000 or 700,000 ever year, the Japanese have about reached the point where the soil can no longer be made to furnish adequate subsistence, even with the dicipline, the labor, the training and study of twenty-five centuries. America bars the Jap. New Zealand bars the Jap. Australia Asia bars the Jap. They are not wanted in South Africa. The demand is made that they shall evacuate Siberia. Great Britain and France do not want the Jap in China and the United States insists that Shantung and other provinces shall be taken from Japan and restored to China. What is the surplus population of Japan to do? Starve to death at home or escape starvation by committing suicide?

THE NEW WORLD.

Temple is the home of James E. Ferguson. Ferguson is a candidate for United States senator. The Cincinnati Enquirer carries a story from Temple that the movement to put light wines and beer on the ballot in Texas is gaining speed and interest. A petition to the state committee is being signed by hundreds and it is expected there will be more than a hundred thousand signers in the next sixty days. S. P. Strong is opposed to light wines and beer; Cullen F. Thomas is opposed; Clarence Ousley is opposed; Earle B. Mayfield is opposed; Charles A. Culberson is opposed and Robert Lee Henry is opposed to the return of the so-called light throat moistures. James E. Ferguson has the field to himself. It would be some joke on the other candidates if the state committee placed the proposition on the ballot and it happened to carry. There are some men who are clamoring for hundred per cent Americanism and a lot of others who are clamoring for 3 per cent light wines and beer. This country of ours is a dry country. Manufacture and sale and importation of intoxicants are prohibited. There is a movement on for the control of the trade of the world. A half drunk nation cannot hold its own against an all sober nation. Prohibition will make America the all sober nation of the world and unless Great Britain adopts the dry movement then Great Britain must go down. She has held the trade of the world for almost three centuries. Her drink bill last year was $2,400,000,000. There is a new civilization; the old world and the old civilization were shot to death on Flanders field.

man he said judicial decision recall is not new; the first instance occurred when the rabble recalled the judicial decision of Pontius Pilate. This must have been a knockout for the judicial recallers who were in the audience. Liberty, said the speaker, in the same address, is said to have had its origin in France "but I am not for the French Revolution any more than I am for the Ku Klux Klan but you might as well understand that unless there is law and government France will have her revolution and America her Ku Klux Klan. You had better begin to understand now that there is law." The English of this is there must be impartial enforcement of the written law; that all lovers of law and liberty must place efficient and fearless men in office and when they are placed in office those who love law and liberty must get in behind them and support their efforts.

HOW ONE MAN ROSE

By H. ADDINGTON BRUCE

Here is a little story that I would narrate for the benefit of those numerous beginners in business who have no clear appreciation of fundamentals in business success, and may as a consequence miss success entirely. The story concerns a well-known present-day New York merchant.

This man began business life with far fewer advantages than are possessed by most beginners. He began it, indeed, with the serious disadvantage of being obliged to go to work long before he had anything like an adequate education.

At the age of thirteen he was tramping the streets of New York looking for a job. He found one in a department store, where he was assigned to the task of laying out manufacturers' dress samples for the store buyers to inspect after the day's regular work was done.

All that was required of him was to group the samples according to price. That' clearly, was not a difficult task. Many boys would have rejoiced in it as a "snap," affording them an abundance of idle time during working hours.

But this particular boy took a different view. He decided that his job was too easy, and of his own accord began to make it more difficult.

Besides grouping the samples according to price, he began so to arrange them that the ones which seemed to him to have the strongest "selling points" would immediately catch the buyer's eyes. To make sure that he would exercise sound judgment in choosing between samples, he began to make a study of textile goods.

Evening after evening he pored over books, often reading until late at night. Eagerly he questioned department heads, to add to his stock of textile knowledge. He studied customers, too, as attentively as he studied the goods they bought.

And with this result, that at the age of sixteen he was himself a buyer for the department store, at twenty-two was drawing a salary much higher than most men ever receive, and at thirty-three had saved enough to go into business on his own account. Every New Yorker is familiar with his store—the store of Franklin Simon.

Surely it is not hard to comprehend why he succeeded. As pointed out in a recent biographical study—to the author of which, O. D. Foster, I am indebted for my knowledge of Franklin Simon's career—diligence, fidelity, and the cultivation of a creative imagination of a creative imagination were the factors which counted for most in his evolution from a penniless boy to a prosperous man of affairs.

"No piece of work seemed to him so trivial tha tit was not worth doing well. * * * He made up his mind that if he was ever to get anywhere he must know something out of the ordinary about the work he was doing. * * * He had vision."

Words I commend to the thoughtful attention of all among my readers who are themselves on the threshold of business life, and perhaps uncertain as to what will most help them to progress in the work of their choice—or the work that circumstances have thrust upon them.

FIRE DESTROYS HOUSE

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the residence of Berry Williams, negro, living at 112 Sullivan, and damaged the roof of an adjacent structure at 110 1-2 Sullivan, Friday morning at 7 o'clock. A loss of $1,500 was entailed, no insurance being held on the property.

Although the fire department made a quick run to the vicinity and had the blaze soon under control, the Williams' dwelling was practically destroyed before an alarm had been turned in.

Both houses were the proverty of a Mrs. Jocline.

THE DAILY STORY

A CUP OF TEA

(Copyright, 1922, by W. Werner).

Leslie Sampson paused at the door as she was leaving the house to take a backward look across her little vista. Everything was free from dust, fresh, shining clean. And upstairs it was the same. "Nathan's mother can't help being pleased with my housekeeping," Leslie thought, as she softly closed the door and locked it behind her.

It was a rare spring afternoon with sky, tree, earth flaunting promise in the faces of the most skeptical. To the young, the hopeful and the joyous every sound was a song, every sunbeam a smile. Leslie's feet could hardly be made not to caper and her face was so glad that old Mrs. Ingles stopped to ask her what she was looking so happy over.

"Why, don't you know? Nathan's mother is coming!"

"Your mother-in-law?" Old Mrs. Ingles looked incredulous. She was the kind who couldn't believe it was spring even if a bluebird had hopped right on to her shoulder and sung his sweetest note in her ear.

"My mother-in-love," corrected Leslie gently.

Old Mrs. Ingles chuckled. "My dear, I've had three different mothers-in-law in my day, besides being mother-in-law myself to every one of my son's wives. I understand this mother-in-law business to a T. But you've got a lot to learn. Go ahead and learn it. First time Malvina Sampson ever visited you?" she asked.

"Yes. We've only been married a year," Leslie was all dignity the while she tried to maintain an attitude of neighborly forbearance.

"Well, you've got quite an experience coming your way," chuckled old Mrs. Ingles as she moved on.

Leslie's cheeks were as red as the tiny roses in the wreath on her small hat. She wished she had gone clear round the block, tired as she was, before she had met old Mrs. Ingles.

So disturbed was Leslie that she almost forgot to stop at Thompson's store to get the tea which was the last detail of her preparations for Nathan's mother. Mrs. Sampson, the elder, liked her tea and Leslie meant to have some of the best for her during her visit. She asked Thompson for the best tea he had.

"There," he said, "is something fine. I sent and got a few packages for Mrs. Scott Faulkner. This is one that she didn't take."

Leslie's eyes sparkled. Certainly Mrs. Scott Faulkner must know what the best of everything was. A woman who had been born with the proverbial gold spoon in her mouth would not be apt to put there anything that was of less account.

"How much is the tea?" she asked.

"Seeing that this is the last I've got you may have it for $1.50. It is supposed to retail at $2," replied Mr. Thompson generously.

Leslie sighed. A dollar-eighty was a lot of money to pay for a pound of black stuff which she could herself no more have swallowed than she could have drunk lye.

"It's a fine tea. Mrs. Faulkner must have thought so, you know, or she wouldn't have had me send for it," urged Mr. Thompson.

Leslie opened her purse slowly. She had just $2 left from her housekeeping allowance for that week, it had cost so much to make preparation for Nathan's mother. She had planned to take the old lady from the station to the house in a cab, but it wasn't far, and perhaps, as it was such a lovely day, she could persuade her to walk. And anyway such good tea must make up for everything. She took the tea.

Nathan's mother herself suggested walking from the station. She had been sitting so long the air would do her good, she said. This relieved the situation and Leslie went home quite happy to think she had purchased the tea.

She made some for supper and made it extra strong. There were cream and lump sugar to go with it. She and Nathan drank water. She waited rather anxiously, hoping that Mrs. Sampson would say something about the tea, but she drank it without a word. Of course, this did not allow of Leslie's saying anything.

Next morning Leslie made more tea, using every precaution in order to insure strength and flavor. Again Mrs. Sampson drank without a remark.

But at dinner she asked: "Where did you get this tea, my dear?"

"At Mr. Thompson's." Leslie was delighted. "Mrs. Scott Faulkner uses the same brand."

"I don't know her," said Mrs. Sampson.

"The Faulkners are our best people hereabouts, mother," exclaimed Nathan.

The conversation turned with animation in this direction and the subject of the tea was forgotten.

Next morning Mrs. Sampson complained of not feeling well. "I believe I'll go home, dear," she said at breakfast, which she scarcely touched.

"I'm afraid I'm to have one of my old bilious attacks, and that would be quite as unpleasant for me as for you." She did look ill. Being a thin, dark woman, illness turned her sallow.

Leslie was tenderly alarmed. Nathan urged her to stay. "We've got as good doctors here in Winwood as you have in Oldburg, mother," he said.

But Mrs. Sampson was firm. She went home on the noon train and then she wrote a lovely little bread-and-butter letter, full of tender assurances and love.

"We must have her visit us again soon," declared Leslie.

"Glad you like each other so well," said Nathan joyfully. "I was pretty sure you would. It's a dear mother and a first-class little wife."

Leslie put the tea away against another visit from Mother Sampson. But Mother Sampson did not come again. "Why doesn't she?" she asked Nathan. "We've been to Oldburg six times and she's only been to see us once. It troubles me, dear." It did trouble her very much. She could not understand why Mother Sampson who was always so beautifully hospitable when they went to her home, should find so many excuses for not coming to theirs. "There's something; I know there's something," Leslie told herself—"something we don't understand that is in the way of her coming."

She pondered, fretted, puzzled and made things out worse than they were to herself. She did love Nathan's mother, but she was afraid there was something about herself or her house that Nathan's mother did not like. She resolved suddenly to ask Mrs. Sampson what was the matter. She and Nathan had gone to Oldburg for the week-end. It was Sunday afternoon. Nathan had gone to walk with an old friend and she and Mother Sampson were looking over some of his baby books and pictures.

"Mother Sampson," Leslie asked, "if you had been going to pick out a wife for your son would you have chosen me?"

"I am very well pleased with you, my dear," replied the older woman.

"I'm not sure about that," Leslie shook her head. "I believe there is something about me you don't like."

"What makes you think that?"

"Because you won't come to visit me. And old Mrs. Ingles asks so many questions."

There was a silence during which Leslie looked sorrowful and Mrs. Sampson cornered. At last she said, "Leslie, you won't hate me if I tell you, will you? Well, then it's—Did you ever drink any of that tea you got for me?"

"Never!" All at once Leslie knew. "Did it make you sick?" she faltered.

"Horribly. I couldn't risk it again. You know you said you were going to keep it on purpose for me, and I knew if I went there I had to drink it. I've seen so much of this disagreeable mother-in-law business, Leslie—"

"Oh, you poor, timid dear!" Leslie cried, understanding. "And the fumes that had arisen from a cup of tea rolled away from between them.

METHODISTS TO TELL MEANING OF REVIVAL

The Sunday school of the Floral Heights Methodist church reached high water mark last Sunday. Six hundred, thirty-five were present. All classes will be in order at 9:30 a. m. today. Dr. Groseclose will preach at both services today. The choir will sing an anthem.

The evening service will be in the nature of an echo service from the recent revival. A number of gentlemen and ladies will speak on the theme, "What the Revival Meant to Me." Dr. Groseclose will deliver a short address on the subject, "Is It Too Late to Benefit by the Meeting?"

The leagues meet as follows: Junior at 4 p. m. Intermediate at 6:45 p. m. Senior at 6:45 p. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday night at 7:45 o'clock. The "Community Social" which Dr. Groseclose announced as an antidote to the common show, will be given Friday evening at 8 p. m., with Miss Ada Emily Sandel, Dean of Texas Guild of American Pipe Organists and Miss Hurt of Dallas, as reader.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. J. PHILLIPS

WAR ALONG THE CANADIAN BORDER.

War along the Canadian border is at hand. Prohibition enforcement agents have called for ex-service men "who can shoot straight," and have announced "war to the breath" on the bootleggers engaged in smuggling honest-to-goodness liquors into the Udryted States.

o o o

Rum-dum bullets will be used by both sides. Considerable shedding of blood and of liquor is expected.

o o o

The bootleggers are determined to fight to the last quart, and will recruit a standing army at once. The only difficulty is to get an army that will be able to stand after it has mixed with the bootlegging interests more than a couple of hours.

o o o

Both sides are very determined. The Bootleggers' Provisional Army of the North will enter into a period of intensive drinking at once. The Prohibition Expeditionary Force will take up, of course, a period of intensive thirsting.

o o o

Some time will be required to train the Prohibition forces to a point where they can be depended upon to refuse a drink from the enemy under all circumstances.

o o o

"The enemy will doubtless attempt to fraternize with you," reads General Order 3465 to the Dry Army of the Republic," and will display before you divers quarts, fifths and pints. He will guarantee you that each is '100 proof, bottled in bond stuff, pre-war, etc,' but as a good soldier you must be deaf to his arguments. You are particularly cautioned against believing in the labels you may see on the bottles."

o o o

Just when the Volsteadian Zouaves will swing into action is not known, but it is understood they will soon hit the trail and proceed from their respective bases by camel train.

o o o

The Bootleggers already have made strong defensive plans along the lines of the following general order:

o o o

1. UNIFORM AND EQUIPMENT—Cocktail-olive drab pants, coast and vest to match; white apron, straw hat, and regulation hair part; heavy alligator-leather wallet and billfolder, side arms consisting of sword and army pistol; what'll-you-have-on-the-SIDE arms consisting of one pint flask (filled), two regulation corkscrews, one test tube, four ounces of cloves, three days' supply of peppermint balls, one week's supply of free lunch and haversack well stocked with fake labels.

2. CAMP ROUTINE.—Reveille will be blown on empty bottles at sunrise daily. Any soldier unable to see the sun will report for eye-test and traces of wood-alcoholism.

Immediately at the sound of reveille all bootleggers and conscripts will fall into line to drinking formation (two abreast) and listen to the roll call. Each man will inspect his own roll and call the total profits for the preceding twenty-four hours.

Company sergeants will detail one man from each squad to pour morning "eye-openers," the drinking of which shall be obligatory.

Mess will be served at 6:30 or as soon thereafter as the company cooks sober up.

7:30 to 8:30: Drill. Units will proceed to the parade ground for instruction and practice in cocktail shaking, synthetic gin making, watering the stock, drilling false holes in bottle bottoms, plugging up same, affixing bogus labels, caps, etc., hooch testing, hiccough suppression, etc.

8:30 to 10:30: Instruction in throwing up defenses. Special attention will be paid to building breastworks of broken bottles, carboys, wooden cases, etc.

10:30 to 4 p. m.: Time out for business. During this long period all soldiers may take care of new orders for deliveries. Special radio service at division headquarters. On account of a state of war having been declared it will be advisable not to promise immediate deliveries, except at a bonus of $10 per quart. The Bootleggers' Army will not be responsible for case goods wounded or unaccounted for in action.

4 to 5 p. m.: Community singing. (Drinking songs only.)

5 to 6: Distribution of outposts, pickets, etc. All pickets will report at once the presence of any strange person in vicinity of camp. Any person observed near the camp for more than fifteen minutes without placing any orders shall be deemed a strang person.

6 to 9: Balancing of books and bank accounts.

9:15: Taps.

Note—The above routine shall be liable to interruption at any time by actual battle. During all battles our forces are reminded that it is more important to lose a life than a quart, and that every man is expected to protect the case goods to the death.

Note No. 2—Any atrocity by the prohibition forces should be reported to the commander in chief at once. The term atrocity is herein used to apply to any case where the enemy destroys a bottle of certified liquor.

Rippling Rhymes

FAREWELL, WINTER

It has been a weary season, this old winter that departs. Spring arrives, and with good reason we have gladness in our hearts. Always when the winter's ageing we grow weary of its curves, weary of its futile raging, and its presence jars our nerves. When the wind, in nook and cranny, howls through dark and bitter hours, how we yearn for Gentle Annie, with her apron full of flowers! When the winter first comes chasing, we pretend we like its play; "Ah, this cold" we say, "is bracing, it is good for any jay; it is fine to face the blizzard, and it makes us young again; heat may suit the clammy lizard, cold is for the sons of men." For a week we smile and chortle as we jog through drifted snow; but our mirth is frail and mortal, and a fortnight lays it low. Oh, the night wind is uncanny, and it has a ghostly sound, and we yearn for Gentle Annie with a yearning most profound. Snow will do for crazed explorers who would find some sort of pole, but the spring winds are restorers of the weary human soul. And I sit here with my granny, arm in arm, we twain abide, and we root for Gentle Annie, gladly letting winter slide.—Copyright, 1922, George Matthew Adams.)

FURS

By DR. FRANK CRANE

(Copyright, 1922, by Frank Crane.)

A news item from Olympia, Washington, this last winter, gave some interesting information about those animals which supply mankind with furs.

No human skill has ever been able to construct any sort of clothing that will keep out the cold, and at the same time have a minimum of weight, so well as the furs of animals.

I note the following points which the correspondent made. The greatest breadwinner for the Northwest trapper is the muskrat. The sale of its skin brings him more money than any other fur animal. During the past season there were dressed and dyed as Hudson seal in Ameriica some 5,000,000 muskrats.

Those caught within a hundred miles of the Columbia river are the largest and have the best fur, although the muskrat is found from the Yukon to the Gulf states. The Columbia region excels, perhaps, because there the rat has abundance of food all the year.

The skunk is a close second to the muskrat in fur value. The excellence of the skunk is that, whereas he thrives with civilization, the beaver, mink, raccoon, and the like may become extinct. It is entirely practical to raise skunks upon the farm at a profit. The glands which cause their disagreeable odor can easily be removed, as has been demonstrated by Ernest Seton Thompson.

The marten is found in all the forests of the Northwest. In Alaska he is called Hudson Bay sable. His skin is in such demand that Alaska has established a closed season in order to re-establish the market.

The mink furnishes one of the most durable and satisfactory of furs. Mink are easy to trap.

The best are now taken from the interior of Alaska on the Porcupine river.

The fisher is a large specimen of the marten family, whose black coat and long tail are very handsome.

The fur of the wolverine is said to be the only kind in existence that will repel the formation of frost; and so is used largely in cold countries to protect the neck and face.

The choicest ermine skins come from Northern Alaska and Siberia. The ermine is highly prized, as the black tip at the end of its tail is in striking contrast to its white coat.

The otter and beaver are the largest of the fur bearers, and both have been hard pressed for existence the last few years.

The constant war upon fur-bearing animals will in time extinguish them, unless some means are taken to domesticate them. They are of such importance to the comfort of the human race that every effort should be made by the government to conserve them.

CIVIC LEAGUE ASKS CORRECTION ABOUT DUES

A mistaken idea as to what the dollar membership dues were paid in for seems to have been gotten by some who joined the Civic league during the membership campaign launched in March. In some way it seems to have been understood by many of the new members that the dollar would entitle them to have their trash hauled away during the summer by the league and when Dr. Douglass, city health officer, has asked some to have their trash hauled, they have informed him that the Civic league was attending to that. This is entirely a mistake and Mrs. M. H. Glover, chairman of the sanitary department of the league, wishes to correct the idea and states that the dollar paid during the campaign was a membership due and has nothing whatever to do with the hauling of trash.

$2,000 SUIT TO BE DECIDED HERE TODAY

Testimony in the case of Kriss and Statland vs. the Universal Drilling company and J. L. Nelson, suit for $2,000 alleged commissions, was concluded in the 89th district court Friday afternoon, the jury being dismissed until 9 o'clock this morning, at which time the case will be submitted for consideration.

The plaintiffs allege that the $2,000 is due them for commissions resulting from the sale of oil leases July 30, 1920, in block 20 of the K. M. A. Fields. The case is being tried before Special Judge Akin.

A Bad Baby Spoils His Mother's Plans

"A poor lone widow with five little children," is what the widow squirrel was saying. That was the matter with her this time. (Did you ever see such a creature for troubles?) And she hung her face out of the duck's nesting-hole looking, oh, so meek and sorrowful and woe-begone.

Even Mammy Gay-wings began to feel a little bit ashamed of the recent ear-pulling. She didn't mean to give up, but she perched on the branch where Daddy Green-crest used to sit and sleeked her squirrel-clawed feathers while she tried to think. Folks always tell you it's wrong to fight. There might be a better way of getting her own tree back—though she couldn't quite see it. "It's very sad," she replied, in a softer note than she used to call names with. "Very. But they shouldn't be where they don't belong."

"Yurp!" piped Bobby Robin. (Of course he was there and of course he wished they'd go on fighting, 'cause he loves a row and hates a squirrel.) "Yurp! What's she doing with a family at all?" For a widow bird must leave her nest and let her eggs get cold. It's the proper thing if her babies are the pin-feather kind. One pair of wings can't be a feather blanket and go bug-hunting at the same time. They'd be either cold or hungry. So its kinder not to hatch them.

But the widow had an answer for that. "He ran away!" she sobbed. "He left me to raise them all by mlself."

"But Chatter's—" Chips Beaver began. Only nobody heard him. For Daddy Green-crest was spluttering. "Alone? Infamous! The scoundrel!"

"But listen," Chips began again. "He had to go. I'm leaving my mate for the very same reason. Two big grown-ups can't stay in the same nest with a clutter of little ones. It's not good for the babies. That's the difference between furry-folk and flutter-wings." But he only mumbled it into Tad's handy-paw.

"Hssh!" Tad warned. "Let them alone. The widow will manage them. They'll give her that tree—see if they don't. Isn't she smart?" If she could fool those soft-hearted ducks. Tad would have a lovely joke on them. And he didn't want it spoiled.

She nearly did, too. Daddy Green-crest was bending his politest bow toward her and murmuring, "There, there, don't fluster yourself, dear lady. I'm sure matters can be arranged—" when the sassy squirrel baby broke out with, "Ma-a! Who'th that funny-looking beatht? Why don't he comb hith hairth? You ficth them for him." (He meant the crest ducks are always so proud of.)

Temporary bond of $750 pending a hearing which will be held this morning at 10 o'clock before J. A. Lantz, United States commissioner, was granted J. W. Williams and Lee Green Friday morning.

Williams and Green are charged with manufacturing illicit whiskey.

The pair was placed under arrest Thursday afternoon, when police officers raided Williams' residence at 501 Holliday street and captured a 30-gallon moonshine still in operation.

COMPLETE 600 FEET OF CONCRETE ROAD

Concrete work for the distance of 600 feet was completed by the south mixer Friday morning at 11 o'clock on the Burkburnett highway, completion of this distance, which had measured a gap between the point where concrete work was begun this spring, brings a standstill in the work of the south mixer for the present.

When the north mixing machine has completed its present run, the south mixer will be moved to a site near Burkburnett to continue paving.

NEW FIGHT CHIEF

A. T. Bateman, representing the Missouri Pacific railway, was in Wichita Falls Friday, visiting local railroad circles. Mr. Bateman, who travels out of Fort Worth, has recently been appointed freight agent for the Missouri Pacific company for this division, succeeding A. M. Harris, who has been transferred to the San Antonio district.

CASE IS CONTINUED

The case of J. M. Johnson vs. the City National Bank of Commerce, which went to trial Thursday afternoon in the 89th district court before Special Judge W. E. Fitzgerald, was continued Friday morning, due to the absence of witnesses.

FASHIONS

Plain Linen and Flowered Cretonne Combine to Make a Smart Summer Costume.

Plain linen, either in white or color and flowered cretonne were employed for the summer frock shown in the sketch with parasol to match. The plain material is bound at the edge with a plain chambray, linen or braid matching the major tone in the cretonne. This is an especially effective arrangement if the frock proper is white.

Parasols are not particularly difficult to make. If an old frame is available the worn-out cover may be used as a pattern for cutting the new material. If it is found difficult to fit the two together at home, this can usually be done in an umbrella shop, or if one of the house-to-house umbrella menders can be located he can do the work without any trouble.

Tub frocks that are accompanied by matching parasols or hats take on a distinction entirely out of keeping with their actual cost. These are little points that should be borne in mind. Smart dressing is not a question of spending a great deal of money on one's clothes, but of putting thought into their planning, selecting things that are becoming to the individual woman, and, as far as possible, working out harmony in the color scheme. Many beautifully dressed women spend comparatively little on their clothes. They stick to one general color scheme, so that there will always be smart fresh accessories for every costume.

Another idea adopted by some well-dressed women is to find each season, one particular style that is distinctly becoming, and use this same style right through the season, no matter what the fabric, simply varying it a trifle in the matter of trimming, etc., but adhering to the original line throughout. One wealthy and socially prominent woman followed this plan a few years ago, selecting a style so simple as to line that it held good for an entire year. She used it for all of her gowns, whether for daytime or evening wear.

AWARD $750 DAMAGE

Judgment for $750 damages for the plaintiff was the decision of the jury in the 89th district court in the case of Homer Moore vs. the Wichita Valley and the Wichita Falls & Southern railway. The jury also held, in answering the questionnaire, that the plaintiff was negligent, and that the defendant organizations were not.

Testimony in the case showed that Moore and a friend were crossing the railway tracks at Holliday street in an automobile when they were struck by a train. Moore sued for personal damages and for damages to his car, a Ford, in the sum of $5,000.

FORD CRASH SETTLED

Judgment for the plaintiff for damages amounting to $300.80 was rendered by Judge Guy Rogers in the county court at law yesterday in the case of Schroeder vs Trice.

The plaintiff claimed that the defendant ran into him while he was driving in an automobile on the Electra road. Both parties drove Fords, which were damaged.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR EATING

Sleep More and Take Exercise A-Plenty

"I've only got a minute," said a business woman recently, dashing into a cafeteria and catching up the first thing she passed, which happened to be a slab of cream cake, still warm and not as featherly light as her own mother's cream cakes were apt to be.

Then followed some spiced rolls, well sugared, and a cup of inky coffee that had been made for hours and was simply poisonous looking as to strength.

She sought a table, hated it because the last diner had spilled pork and beans and tomato ketchup across the white enamelled top, and said, "I loathe cafeterias. I don't know why I ever eat in them." She scrowled at her friend as she bolted her food.

The friend, who had allowed herself time to eat her lunch in comfort, said candidly: "My dear, it's because you are always dashing out at your noon hour to try on a hat or match a piece of ribbon. You never have time to eat a self-respecting meal. Then you come into this perfectly proper cafeteria and blame it all on the person who spilled beans across the table.

Friend Gives Her Advice.

"As your life-long friend may I add that your selection of lunch is simply shocking. You deserve to be sick. Especially since you are bolting your food like a starved animal, and washing it down with that deadly fluid supposed to be coffee.

"Simply because you have been reading about food values, I don't see why—" began the business girl. And then she laughed good-naturedly.

"You're right," she admitted. "I am becoming a prey to nervous indigestion, and—"

"That's nonesense, more or less," snapped her friend.

"Indigestion of any kind is only a symptom of the actual trouble, frequently frayed nerves. What you need is rest and relaxation and a proper amount of sleep before midnight, and less cream cake with whipped cream and syrup, and a quart of milk a day instead of pints of unspeakable coffee. If tea or coffee is roperly made and served while fresh, that is an entirely different matter. Why didn't you have a plate of soup instead of all that starch and spice and sugar?"

"I suppose you are right again," conceded the other. "But I have so much to do and I never have time to relax."

More Exercise and Sleep.

"Why not give up a few of those engagements you don't have to accept unless you want to? Try staying at home a night or two, and practice the gentle art of relaxation. Do some exercises before an open window till your lungs are full of oxygen, and have a warm, relaxing bath and slip into bed in the dark about seven o'clock some night. Then get up early enough to do some more exercises, have a cold shower and walk a mile before breakfast. You'll have forgotten all about the 'nervous indigestion' before you realize it," said her companion.

Usefulness of the Genuine Thedford's Black-Draught Liver Medicine Has Long Been Known.

Yale, Okla.—The usefulness of Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine has long been known to Mrs. A. B. Leach, of Route 1, this place who says:

"About twenty-eight years ago, we were living near Belleville, Kans. I was in very poor health. I would eat, but it didn't seem to satisfy or do me any good. I was bloated; felt oppression at the stomach. The fullness in the right side was awful.

"I did not feel like doing a thing. Eating even made me tired. I sat around, feeling so miserable. One day I looked in the glass and my complexion scared me—not the color of blood in my face. My ears looked waxey; skin flabby, pale. I was in a bad fix.

"I had been taking medicine, as I was told it was inactivity of my liver that was causing this trouble. About this time—nothing having done me any good—I began to look for a cure.

"I read of Thedford's Black-Draught, and my husband went to the druggist for it . . . I began its use, and, my! how I began to improve. My appetitie became more normal. Gradually the bloating disappeared, and my skin cleared up. I began to see marked improvement, and from then till now I have praised Black-Draught as the best liver medicine made.

"I keep Black-Draught in the house and have used it ever since. Have lived here in Oklahoma on my farm for twenty years and regard Black-Draught as my family liver medicine, and expect to keep it for years to come."

Ask your druggist for Thedford's. —adv.

The other girl glanced at her watch, snatched up her purse, and started for the door.

"I'll think about it," she said over her shoulder.

And as she went out into the street she passed a mirror, glanced at her own tired face with its flush of delicately applied rouge, and sighed.

"Erma has such glowing skin," she mused. "And she does all those sensible things she is always telling me to do. I never realized before how idiotic I am about the way I eat by meals."

Spudders Freeze Out Shreveport for Fourth Straight

MILLER 'N MAC SEND SPUD STOCK UP

Foes Fail to Find Mokan for Eight Tight Rounds

By "Spike" Cooper

Tex McDonald singled to right, pilfered the middle sack and chased across the pan when faithful Jakie Miller smote one to left center in the last chapter of the tenth frame yesterday, copping another ball game and sweeping a series with the Shreveport Gassers after a four-day stay in Spudderville.

Steve Mokan sailed along through eight innings of the game with little danger, allowing the visitors but four hits, but when Hollahan opened the ninth with a double to left center, the entire Gasser nine seemed to take on like, and durned near took on a ball game. Six hits, three of which were doubles netted five counters. Five counters knotted the count. There was lots more baseball to be played, even though fans had already congratulated themselves on the win. Abe Bowman came to the rescue after four of the markers had been chalked up. He stopped the threatening rally.

It was a good, fast ball game, well worth while. Five fast double plays marked the play, two double killings by the home nine and three by the gassers. Only two errors were recorded, both by Red Bird, the southpaw hurler nominated by one Billy Smith, the bench-warmer.

The pitcher-killers limbered up their field pieces again and stormed the strongest point in the Shreveport defense and sent Byrd away, humbled by a five-run chagrin. The imaginary ghost attendant port-wheelers has completely disappeared. Spudder hitters are ramming everything that floats up to the plate. Tex McDonald correctly expressed the circumstance by saying that it matters not which hand or foot they came in from, and hitting left handers, as Octavius Cohen would express it, "They don't do nothing else but."

Jake Miller accounted for exactly half of the Spudder runs. A single in the first with the bags drunk sent two runners home and then that grand and glorious knock in the tenth stowing away another game. And that same Jake Miller is going to lead somebody a merry chase for hitting honors during the present season.

Hollahan led the hitting attack for the gassers with three hits, one of which was a double, the selfsame double which started all the fireworks in the ninth round. The remainder of the Shreveport total was distributed in units of one throughout their line-up.

The game opened with Felix taking a walk at the expense of Steve Mokan. Hartford fell victim to the hooks of the Spudder's delivery and walked back to the bench. Jake Miller chased over against the left field bleachers after Jackson's long foul for the second out. Hack Eibel got his second hit of the series, but Hollahan pooped an easy roller to Lex Sorey who forced Eibel at second.

Bob Bescher went back to center in place of Ray O'Brien, to hit from the right side of the plate, and greeted Byrd with a single to center. Homer Summa dumped a nice sacrifice in front of the plate and when the pitcher overran the ball, all hands were safe. Tex laid one down third base line, and when there was no one at third to take a throw from Byrd, it was too late to get the hitter and he had beaten out his first hit of the game, continuing his uninterrupted streak of hitting. Beck whiffed, but Jake Miller larruped one out to right and Bob and Summa came home. Adams was too faithful a waiter and was struck out. Sorey was thrown out, third to first.

Roy Storey flied out to Miller, O'Shaughnessy popped up to Adams. Cady looked a couple over and then picked out one he liked which he proceeded to hammer to the left wall for a couple of sacks, but died on second, when Byrd rolled out to Beck.

"Old Folks" Kitchens was right, and looked 'em over for a free pass. Steve Mokan grounded out to Eibel, advancing the backstopper to second. Bescher came through with knock No. 2 and Kitch went to third. Summa drove one straight into Hartford's glove who doubled Kitchens off third before he could turn. The drive would have been safe, had it been two feet further to the left.

Felix was out on a pop up to Sorey. Hartford again took three healthy swings and sat down and Jackson lifted a fly to Miller.

Tex was out, Hartford to Eibel, and Beck walked. Cady made a nice peg to the bag and caught Beck as he went down to steal a base. Miller was out, Hollahan to Eibel.

Beck made a nice stop of Eibel's drive down the base line. Adams threw out Hollahan from deep short and Storey was out, Mokan to Beck.

"Get-Two" Adams opened the third round with a smashing triple to left center and Lex Sorey beat out an infield hit, scoring the midget infielder. Kitchens attempted to lay one down twice, then busted one out to left, but Felix took it in. Mokan rolled out, Hollahan to Eibel, and Bescher walked. Summa forced Bob at second, when he drove one down to Hollahan.

O'Shaughnessy was out, Adams to Beck and Cady suffered a like fate. Byrd thumped one down the way for a knock, but it didn't mean anything, as Adams tossed him out a second when Felix hit his way.

Tex singled to right, but was out stealing. The third sacker has avowed his intention of purloining 50 bags this season and the lead he has accumulated looks like he will succeed. Beck sent one a mile high to third and was out, while Miller flied out to Jackson.

Hartford popped up a high foul to Kitchens. Tex threw out Jackson and Eibel again grounded out viciously to Beck. The Gasser half of the sixth was over.

Adams led off in the Spudders' half with a single to center. Lex Sorey hit one down between the pitcher and first, and when Byrd hesitated momentarily, Sorey beat it out. As the heaver threw to first, his throw was wild and Adams came all the way round, while Sorey drew up at third. Red wheeled one up to Kitch which was promptly shot out to center scoring Sorey. A double killing ended the round when Hartford threw to Hollahan forcing Kitchens at second, and Mokan was stopped at first.

Hollahan led off in the seventh with a rap to right. Storey humped one out to Bescher, but Kane, who had gone in for O'Shaughnessy, and Cady both walked, filling the house. Steve never looked back, and started right in to pitch to Pratt who hit for Byrd. The pinch hitter drove one down to Sorey who tagged out Cady and completed adual murder by tossing to first.

Burns went to the hill for the gassers, vice Byrd-Summa beat out a hit but was forced when Eibel came in fast on McDonald's easy roller. Tex was out stealing again just before Beck shot a high fly to Jackson.

Felix was out Adams to Beck and Hartford filed to center. Jackson was passed. Mokan put a little of everything he had on the pill and whiffed Eibel.

Jake Miller took the third one and was called out at the plate. Adams walked, but was out at second when he tried to steal, and Sorey started one to center that looked like a Texas leaguer, but Storey got to it and he was out.

Hollahan opened the bloody ninth with a double to left center. Roy Storey singled to right scoring the second baseman, but was out at third when he attempted to take two bases on Cady's single to center. Bob made a nice throw to the bag. Williams went in to for Burns and proceeded to shoot a double down the left field line, which was barely inside the bag as it left the infield. Cady stopped at third but came on in with the pinch-hitter when Felix doubled to the same territory, ending the regiem of Steve Mokan for the day. Abe Bowman went in for him. Hartford lifted a fly to center, but Jackson singled to left and Felix counted the tieing run. Eibel ended the frame by grounding out, Sorey to Beck.

Kitchens opened up the last of the ninth with a double to left. He was too slow on his start to advance on Bowman's sacrifice and was caught at third. Hollahan took Bescher's grounder, tagged out Abe and threw Bob out at first.

Hollahan again opened with a hit, this time to center, but a lightning like double play, Adams to Beck got him out of the way and Sorey went way over to take Kane's grounder and threw him out.

Summa shot one at the sky, but Kane camped under it for the first out in the Spudder's half of the tenth. Tex got his third knock of the game, and added another to his stolen bases bringing the season total up to seven. Then up strode Jake Miller, the most dangerous hitter in the leagues, especially in a pinch. He delivered one according to specifications, a line drive to left center and the ball game was over. The Spudders wended their way ahome, plus another game, an all the way series, and ever mindful of the morrow when "FUR WILL FLY."

CLARENDON SHRINE TO HAVE CLUB

Special to the Record News.

CLARENDON, Texas, April 21.—Following unanimous action of the Clarendon Shrine club, that body will again be represented on the diamond this season with a baseball team. Last year the club team finished the season with an average of .667, and as several players of ability have been added to the club membership during the winter and spring it is expected that the Clarendon fez wearers will boast of a much stronger aggregation this year.

Ample funds have been provided for a complete set of nifty uniforms bearing the Shrine emblem and for all other equipment that is needed to put the team on the field minus nothing except the victim. Noble H. H. Sitner is manager of the team and Noble Fred Buntin is field captain. Games are being arranged with Shrine teams from Amarillo, Memphis, Pampa, Panhandle, Childress and other nearby points.

HIGH SCHOOLS WILL MEET AT A. AND M.

Special to the Record News.

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, April 21.—By far the largest competition ever held at the A. & M. College of Texas for high school athletic is expected to be seen here next Saturday on the occasion of the Twelfth Annual Interscholastic Track and Field meet. This is indicated by the advance notifications of entries being received by James Sullivan, business manager of athletics.

The enlarged competition is made possible by the extension of eligibility rules, which this year permit official entries from all high schools and academies of the state without restrictions.

HOUSTON HI WINS

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, April 21.—Central High school here defeated the Austin high school in an air-tight baseball game this morning by the score of 2 to 0. The game was featured by good pitching and absence of errors on both sides.

GOOD SCORES SHOT IN MEET

Local Men Win All Places Friday

The most successful shoot in the history of the Wichita Falls Gun club was held yesterday morning. A large entry list shot off the three events scheduled under the program outlined by the American Trapshooters association, under the supervision of which the shoot was held. Out of town entries included: J. J. Gallagher, Graham, J. and E. Morrisons of Hastings, Okla., T. B. Grooms, Ranger, Gibbs of Mexia.

The first event of 25 birds was run off in rapid order. Nabb won the event with a score of 24. Gibbs was second with a 23 and Greenburg, Gallagher, Gotcher, Grooms and Deathreage tied for third with 22.

Deatherage won the second event of 25 targets easily with a score of 25 which he shot with machine-like precission. Paul Adams was second with 24 and Adrian, Woods, Nabb, J. Morrison, and Gibbs tied with 23.

In the 24 target doubles, Dempsey and Lyons tied with a score of 17 each.

For third place in the firs event, Gibbs won the money when he shot a 23 in a 25 target shoot-off.

Nabb won third money in the second event which was determined in a like manner.

In deciding the winner of the doubles event, Dempsey broke 19 targets against 19 by Lyons in a 24 rock event.

Several special squads were shot off, one of which proved very interesting, when Randell ran 25 birds in determining the winner of a tied place.

Paul Adams also ran the string in another card which was combined of those scoring 21 in the first event of the day.

Score for the first and second events of 25 targets each were: Adrian 19-23, Woods 16-23, Greenberg 22-16, Gallagher 22-22, Dempsey 21-21, Randell 13-21, Gotcher 22-22, Smith 13-18, Rhodes 21-22, Carter 19-19, Morrow 20-16, Grooms 22-22, Nabb 24-23, Morrison 21-23, E. Morrison 17-22, Gibbs 23-23, Winston 13-21, Leslie 21-22, Henson 16-15, Magee 17-18, Deatherage 22-22, Adams 21-24, Colburn 20-18, Tate 17-17, Thornburg 20-18 and Lyon 18-18.

One feature of the shoot was the work of E. Morrison, a youngster who with his father came from Hastings, Okla., for the shoot. Morrison will enter the junior state meet at Ardmore in the near future, and those who saw him shoot yesterday are of the opinion that he will win there.

High Breaks Up Well Regulated Vernon Machine and Wins 5-2

BOURLAND TOO MUCH FOR VISITORS

"Lefty" Baird Found For Ten Safeties By Locals

By "HANK" HAYES.

Playing with a spirit that was invisible, the Red and Black heartbreakers broke the powerful Vernon machine, with "Lefty" Baird on the mound, at the Electra diamond by a count of 5 to 2.

Four straight season the Wichita Hi balltossers have been going their limit to crush the Wilbarger nine, but until this year that ambition had never materialized.

The Vernonites were considerable off their usual form, and were slow and booted the sphere too much to hope to even beat a ward school, then what could they expect to do with Wichita Hi? "Lefty" Baird, the Vernon twirling ace, who claimed that he generally whiffed from thirteen to eighteen swatters, had to leave the mound with only eight strikeouts to his column.

Bourland of the Wichitas squad was rather wild at the start of the fray, realizing that he was again his Alma Mater's greatest rival, and was rather nervous, but when he steadied down, Walter Johnson or any of his associates would have doffed his lid to that fighting freckled faced slabster.

Three In a Row.

All the losers could bingle from his offering were two pretty singles by Snead, of the Vernon, and seven of the hard-hitting Vernonites were compelled to try batting practice on some other team, as the best they could get was the pure air. In the fourth canto, three suggers faced him and heard the ump call strike three and went to the field to let the Coach Henderson's future Northwest Champions come in and maul the ball all over the park.

Bashara, second sacker for the winners, won the ball game by his steady clipping hits from Baird. Bashara's double in the second frame trotted in Clark, who watched "Lefty" sling four wide ones; and in the sixth canto a single to the right pasture trotted in a pair of runners and enough to win the fray, and he later counted another when he ran across the counting station on Kizziar's single.

In the seventh another one-baser brought in another tally, so Bashara's hits plus Bourland's flinging plus errorless fielding by them won a contest they have been looking forward for a quartet of years.

There was not an inning throughout the game that one or more of the Red and Black men were parked on one of the bags, and by only hard and timely assistance of Baird's team mates, did he hold the score so low. Ten bingles, including a pair of doubles, were slammed from Baird's delivery, and at times he got too wild and issued six free trips to the initial sack.

FRED BEATS ROPER

By Associated Press.

DENVER, April 21.—Fred Fulton of Rochester, Minn., won from Bob Roper, Chicago, in the fourth round of a scheduled 12-round bout here last night. Fulton in the fourth landed two lefts then a short right to Roper's jaw and the latter went through the ropes. He was counted out by the referee, Young Corbett, before he could get up and return to the ring.

Pawing Panthers Put In for Trio of Games Here

"Hopes and fears of all the years" will be put to the test for Wichita Falls fandom this afternoon when Skipper Salm's assistants run in with the Panther Cats from the cowtown on the Trinity for the first test of strength this year.

The series, it is true, will determine the leader of the league standing to date—the Cats are only a single game in the wake of the Spudders—but this will be a secondary matter with the host of fans which will journey to Athletic park for the opener this afternoon. Possibility of anything from a fight to a half grown riot, and a true line on the strength of the club they have wished in perdition during the last two long years, and the club which they believe packs sufficient wallop to knock the hide off the rivals—that is the thing which will pack the stands in the Fort Worth series.

"Hopes and fears"—they are mostly hopes in Wichita Falls. Wichitans believe that the club is the strongest which has started in the Texas loop during the last three campaigns—and those who are on the edge of believing are only waiting to see what happens when the Cats come here to join in the general agreement.

The edge of the thing is dampened a little by the absence of Jakey Atz, crafty leader of the Panther crew, but the return of Clarence Craft, who has "enjoyed" so much attention from local fandom, giving the visitors their full field strength, will go a long way toward making things all right.

Anent Craft—it will be remembered that Spudder fans largely forgot the Miller-Craft unpleasantness of early last year, and at the end of the season let up on the unmerciful riding which bordered closely on unsportsmanship and confined themselves largely to the razzing of the star of a visiting club may expect on foreign soil.

Clancy, the classy southpaw, who made the most recent addition to the Spudder staff, will probably be seen for the first time on the firing line tomorrow, while the Panthers are likely to step out behind Moore, the flash recruit, or Whittaker or Wachtel of the old guard.

Although regarded as weak on the left side of their diamond this spring, the Cats have braced wonderfully and convinced all that, given normal pitching from their vets, will make a rocky road for many before the season ends. They must take two out of the three in the series to break away on even terms with the Spudders when the latter take the road—and all evidences point to the fact that the Spudders will have to step to keep them from doing it.

RIXEY DRIVEN OUT BY BATTERING CUBS

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 21.—Rixey of Cincinnati weakened in the seventh inning after holding Chicago to two hits, and was driven from the mound after being pounded for a single, a homer by Hack Miller and doubles by Krug and O'Farrell. Couch, who replaced him, walked two men and Kelleher followed with a triple, which gave the locals the game. The score was 8 to 3.

SPACE FOR TOURISTS

Auto tourists seeking camping sites in Wichita Falls, will be amply supplied with space. The recently acquired park on Jalonie street and space in the Scotland park have been provided for tourists.

Tentative plans for beautifying the Jalonie street included electric lights, water and gas for the travelers. Funds were insufficient to complete these plans. Many of these accommodations are afforded by the other.

WOMAN SAVES PUP

Refusal of a woman owner of a dog to allow police with orders to shoot it to end its career earned the pet a reprieve Friday. The police and owner settled the argument by taking the dog to Dr. Douglass, who decided that it was not suffering from rabies. It is being held under observation.

SHERIFF'S MEN KEEPING BUSY

41 Returns on As Many Indictments

Officers in the sheriff's department were busy Friday docketing charges against offenders of the law and entering arrests on the docket.

Seven arrests dating from midnight Thursday night, were entered on the docket, while attention was called to the fact that of the 41 indictments returned by the special grand jury of the 78th district court, 41 returns had been made by the department.

Charges of theft were placed against James Johnson and Herbert Patrick yesterday, the latter being charged with the theft of a bicycle. Patrick, who is 16 years old, was turned over to the juvenile officer and realesed on bond of $200.

T. B. Galloway, a negress, arrested by the department and charged with selling whiskey, was released on bond of $1,500. D. K. Reed and a woman who gave her name as Mrs. Sparks, were lodged in the county prison on charges of vagrancy, the former having been arrested early Thursday night while Mrs. Sparks was arrested on the streets late Thursday night, according to the officers.

Charges of disturbing the peace, brought against Les Carter, also caused his arrest by the sheriff's department.

LUNCH ROOM KEEPER GIVEN BOND ON BOOTLEGGER CHARGE

Arrested by city police on charges of having whisky in his possession for the purpose of selling it in his place of business on Ohio street, known as the Western Lunch Room, for a second time this year and within a very short period, Peter Bobrinis, 45-year-old Greek, waived examining trial before J. A. Lantz, United States commissioner, Friday morning and was granted bond of $1,000 pending the action of the federal grand jury which convenes here in May.

Bobrinis was arrested April 9 by federal authorities on a similar charge, and was released on bond of $1,000 in that case, according to the officials.

His place of business was raided Thursday night on a feedral warrant in the hands of Officers W. P. Belcher and R. L. Miller of the city police department.

'Saving of Soul' Dr. Smith's Topic

A series of meetings will begin at the Church of Christ Sunday with services in charge of the pastor, Rev. R. D. Smith. The regular bible classes will meet at 9:45 o'clock and parents and children who attend this service are requested to remain for the preaching at 11 o'clock.

Rev. Smith will take for his subject Sunday "The Saving of a Soul" for the evening service he will preach on "The Wonderful Book, the Bible." On Monday evening he will speak from the text "Lord, to Whom Shall We Go?" Other subjects will be announced later.

NAPIER TO TAKE UP CRIMINAL DOCKET

Judge E. W. Napier, magistrate of the 78th district court, will devote several weeks of his time to criminal cases when his present docket of civil matters is completed, it became known yesterday.

Since the 30th district court does not convene here until late in June and because quite a number of persons are now under indictment on criminal charges as the result of the special grand jury empanelled by Judge Napier, a number of which are confined to the county prison, the judge has decided to expedite the cases on docket as rapidly as possible.

CAR CUSHION GONE? CALL POLICE STATION

If the cushions are gone from your car, left parked downtown, ask the police—they probably have it. They have reinaugerated the practice of taking cushions from cars parked in violation of city ordinances, and are starting quite a collection at the city hall. The habit leads to many hot scenes at the police station, but police declare that it is the only effective way to get car owners to report to the station.

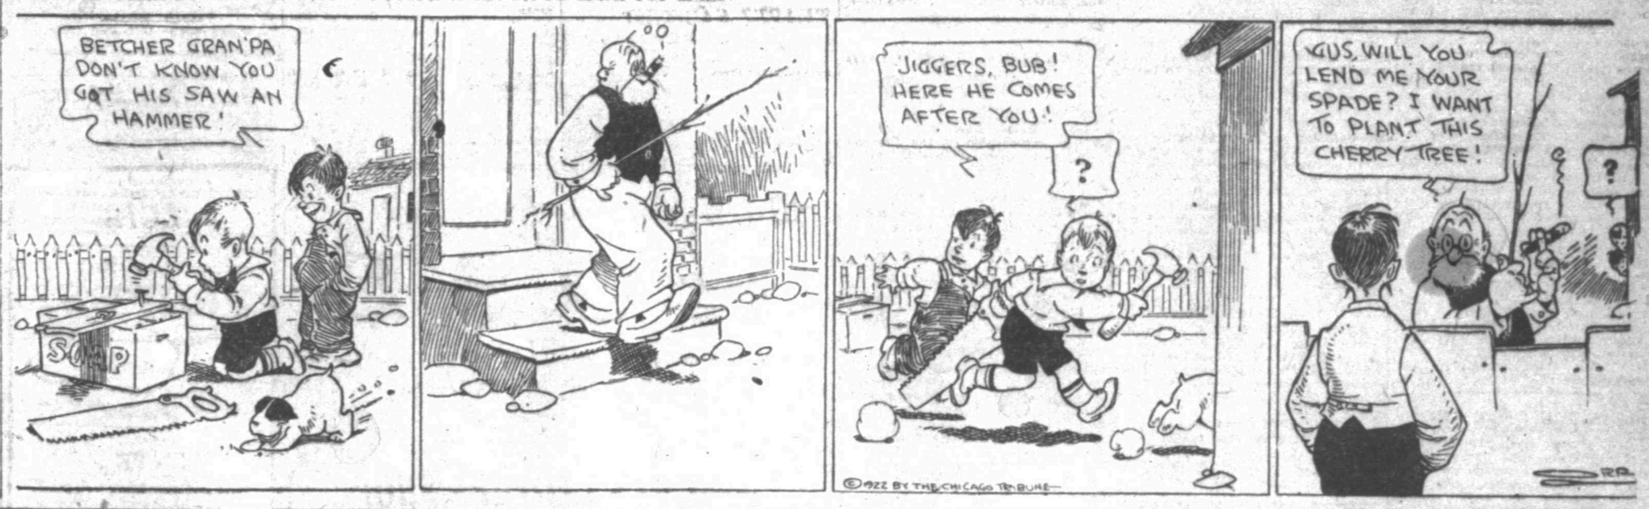

RABBIT BREEDERS FORM ORGANIZATION

Wichita county rabbit breeders perfected an organization at a meeting recently held at the Chamber of Commerce, William L. Smith being elected as president. The breeders are organized for the purpose of furthering the industry in this county.

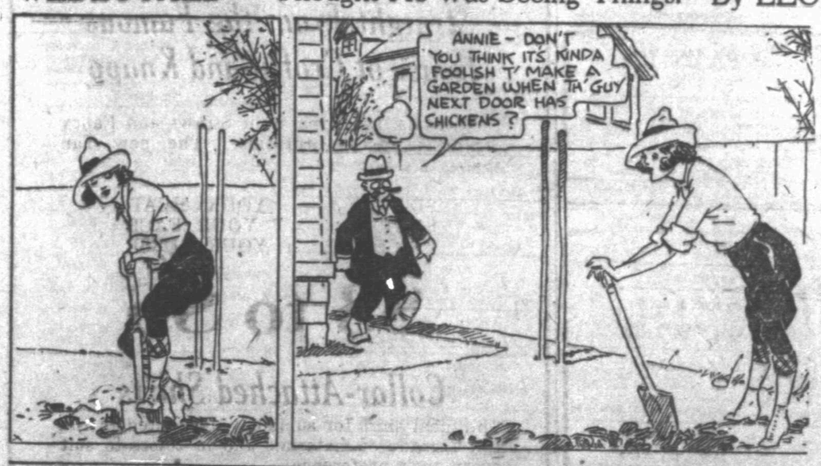

Other officers elected include the following:

R. N. Dewberry, vice president; W. H. Dumerall, second vice president; L. ("Mick") Millican, secretary-treasurer.

COTTON CLOSES WITH FIRMNESS

Exchange Will Move Offices Today

NEW YORK, April 21.—More favorable weather news caused some irregularity in the cotton market during today's early trading but prices were firm later on covering for over the two day adjournment and western buying promoted by favorable advices from the cotton good market. July contracts advanced from 17.35 to 17.61 and closed at 17.58 with the general market closing firm at an advance of 15 to 32 points.

In order to facilitate movement from the present building into the quarters which will be occupied until the new building is completed, the New York exchange will be closed tomorrow.

The market opened steady at an advance of four to seven points, but eased under realizing and scattered selling inspired by the favorable weather man. Old crop months sold a shade under yesterday's closing quotation, with May relatively weak under liquidation, but there was a better demand for new crop months, and the whole list soon turned easier.

Firmer late cables from Liverpool and a more optimistic feeling as to possible results from the Genoa conference, helped the rally and the best prices were made in the late trading. May sold up from 17.71 to 17.95 and October from 17.61 and the market closed within 3 or 4 points of the best. The detailed weather reports were considered very favorable, but failed to bring much selling and the presence of low barometer lines in the west led to some apprehension of renewed rain over Sunday. Another feature which tended to offset the better weather reported for the day, was the Washington appropriation of a million dollars to fight the flood situation in the lower Mississippi valley. Overflows were expected to make for late planting, but this move by congress will no doubt help to overcome this conditions.

Exports today 18,685, making a total 4,605,430 so far this season. Port receipts 14,365; U. S. port stocks 966,581.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, April 21.—Better accounts from domestic dry goods markets, the rumor that the Lancashire textile labor trouble had been settled and a more favorable construction in news from Genoa put the price of cotton higher after declines of 2 to 6 points around the opening on the active months. Highest levels were reported in the late trading when the list showed net gains of 17 to 30 points. The close was 11 to 13 points higher on the day.

May first fell off to 16.72, was carried up to 16.95 in the late trading and closed at 16.80. New crop months were again stronger than the old and went t on premium over May. October traded as high as 16.94 and closed at 16.91.

The initial declines were due to poor cables and the dry and somewhat warmer weather over the cotton region, with the promise of fair and warmer weather for practically all sections.

Cablegrams to local brokerage concerns from Liverpool carried the rumors that spinners had entered into new wage agreement with their help that would be in effect for the next twelve months. Later the market was steadied further bill mill taking for the week of 152,000 bales against 124,000 this week last year.

COFFEE GOES UP

NEW YORK, April 21.—The market for coffee futures opened at an advance of 5 to 8 points on fairly steady Brazilian cables, and some further covering by near months shorts. There was realizing around 10.42 for Mal and 9.96 for September, however, and the market eased off during the afternoon when there also appeared to be some selling for a reaction or a little pressure from importers. May reacted to 10.38 and September 9.80 with the market closing at a net decline of 5 to 12 points. Sales were about 37,000 bags. May 10.28; July 10.09; September 9.79; October 9.76; December 9.70; January and March 9.69.

Spot coffee, steady; rio 7s 11 to 11 1-4; Santos 4s 14 7-8 to 15.

MOST OF STOCK ISSUES SLOW UP

Depression Largely Due to Strike

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The most noteworthy feature of today's stock market was its dullness and restricted scope as compared with previous days of the week, sales barely exceeding 1,200,000 shares.

There were several additions to the progress list of new high records, but these were registered for the most part by relatively obscure issues of the more speculative variety.

Rails as a whole gave a good account of themselves, the strength of that group again embracing coalers as well as Pacifics, the Northwestern division and New Haven and Ann Arbor preferred.

Despite repeated assurances that the coal strike had made no material impression upon industrial activity, advices from Pittsburgh and other steel and iron centers reported further suspension of operations and closing down of non-union mines.

From other western points came intimations that the automobile trade and affiliated industries might also find it necessary to slow down from the recent high rate of production, because of the diminishing supplies of fuel.

The first and final hours were the only active periods in the market, later dealings being enlivened bby heavy buying of Studebaker and Gulf States Steel, those issues making net gains of 2⅞ and 2 points respectively.

White bread is the principal daily food for two-thirds of the people on earth.

WHEAT SCORES SHARP ADVANCE

European Messages Aid Market

CHICAGO, April 21.—Active general active buying based on higher prices at Liverpool and hopes of good news from the Genoa conference led to a big upturn today in wheat prices here. Reactions, however, followed. The close was unsettled 1-2 to 1 1-2c up. May 1.45 1-4 to 1.45 5-8 and July 1.27 1-8 to 1.27 1-4. Corn finished 1-8 to 1-4c off, to a like advance. Oats unchanged to 1-8 cents lower. Provisions varying from unchanged to 12 cents up.

Wheat for May delivered for the greatest strength, opinion apparently becoming more general that the principal holders of May contracts would prove equal to taking in and paying for wheat regardless of prospective enlarged shipment to Chicago from other nearby centers. In this connection, it was pointed out that bulls were being helped by the 35c keeping away Canadian wheat.

Highest prices of the day in the wheat market here accomplished estimates that 2,000,000 bushels of new crop domestic winter wheat had been purchased for export, and that there had also been European buying of Canadian buying. Declines from the day top prices were ascribed chiefly to profit taking on the part of the miscellaneous longs.

Corn and oats prices were responsive to the upturn of the wheat market, but reports of more favorable weather for field work had a good deal of counter effect later.

Provisions averaged higher in line with grain and hogs.

UTILITY ISSUES FEATURE DAY

Interest in Rails and Liberty's Replaced

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Public utility issues were the foremost feature of today's active and broad bond market, replacing an interest in government offerings and popular rails.

New York, West Chester and Boston 4 1-2s rose over 4 points Hudson and Manhattan 5s advanced 3 1-4 and the refunding 5s 1 1-2 points. Local tractions also improved, notably interborough and Third avenue issues. New York Central, Pennsylvania, New Haven, Rock Island, Southern Pacific, Central Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Missouri Kansas & Texas, and St. Louis & San Francisco issues were included among the rails, which issues gained from large fractions to 1-2 point.

Liberties were inclined to ease and the international war flotations were irregular, but Mexican 4s and 5s and Berne 8s strengthened with Argentine 7s. The day's largest new offerings of $20,000,000 Dutch East Indies external 6s was oversubscribed as were also the $7,000,000 Indiana Steel and $3,000,000 National Tube underwritings. Total sales, par value aggregated $21,396,000.

DRY GOODS STEADY

NEW YORK, April 21.—Cotton goods were steady today with a tendency to higher values as sales broadened to include more of the converting trades. Yarns were slightly higher. Broad silks moved more freely, but at very close prices. Wool markets were firm with prices unchanged, the best demand being for coarse grades. Burlaps showed little change.

HOPE CHAPTER INITIATES 42

Ceremony to Take Place at Call

With 42 candidates for the work in the first and second degrees, Hope Chapter, Order of De Molay for Boys will hold its first ceremonial "on its own" this afternoon at the Shrine auditorium at Call Field.

Following this, the work in the third or highest degree will be given to the entire membership of 125 boys by a team of Master Masons.

The ceremonial will be preceded by a parade of the order on the downtown streets, headed by the De Molay patrol. Members of the order will assemble at the Masonic temple at noon today for the parade.

The growth of the local chapter is considered remarkable as the chapter was only instituted March 1. It is expected that the membership will reach 500 within its first few months.

The local chapter is sponsored by the Wichita Falls Commandery, Knights Templar. It is composed of minor sons of Master Masons, or their chums, and Master Masons are admitted and invited to witness the work, particularly fathers of the members.

TURN TO RIGHT CUTS MISHAPS

Accidents Decrease 80 Per Cent Here

Accidents have fallen off 80 per cent since the installation of the much abused "turn to the right" posts presented to the city by the Wichita Falls Automotive Dealers' association, Police Commissioner Fitts through whom they were placed, told the dealers at their meeting at the Kemp Friday night. The heads of all departments at local agencies were guests on the occasion and about 80 were present.

Commissioner Fitts expressed the belief that poor lights on the fire truck damaged recently in a collision with one of the traffic posts, and which fanned opposition against them were more to blame for the accident than presence of the post. He announced, however, that the posts would be replaced with small signs over which a car might pass on streets which have street car tracks.

Announcement of the election of officers at the next meeting, the first Friday in June, and the adoption of a request that local newspapers reestablish the automobile sections, with a talk by Raymond Myers, assistent county attorney, on "What Service means from the stadpoint of the average auto owner?" were other features of the meeting.

Many of the visiting department heads participated in a round table discussion of dealers problems.

"Opening of the Record" Is Theme

Last night, Dr. Scarborough chose as his theme, "The Opening of the Records." The audience was the largest of this week, and the service resulted in eight additions to the church, most of this number being for baptism. The evangelist's messages are forceful and convincing, and the audience was deeply impressed as evidence by many requests for personal prayer.

Dr. Scarborough said: "Every living soul's biography is being written by God who will present it for the files of eternity. Every thought and deed, whether it be open or secret, is being recorded and will be revealed without hesitancy on the part of God. Not only is there no escape from this, but there is no system of erasing in the keeping of Heaven's books. What will be your record? Many of these biographies will specify a saved soul, but opposite will be in plain writing, a misspent life, gained by evil forces but lost to the cause of righteousness. I am striving during these meetings to not only save the soul, but encourage you to right living. If every church member were a true Christian, deeply spiritual in his prayer life and honest in his dealings with God, it would be much better in winning men to Christ. One of the best things which can be written in God's record of you is that you spend your efforts toward saving the lost."

Mrs. H. M. Young of Fort Worth, sang "The Old Rugged Cross."

Services will be held only at the evening hour today.

AFTER PRINCE OF WALES

(By Central Press)

LONDON, April 18.—Dignified members of the house of commons and more dignified members of the house of lords are scratching their collective heads and pondering over a very important question of state.

But it's not the outcome of the Genoa conference, nor the German reparations question that's worrying them.

They are now engaged in the ticklish task of aiding Cupid and the Prince of Wales to select a queen.

The list of eligibles has been cut down, logically, to four. The eight bridesmaids of Princess Mary were considered originally, but the betrothal of two of these has been announced and two others are cousins of the prince.

That leaves four for the men of state to ponder over: Lady Rachel Cavendish, Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, Lady Mary Thynne and Lady Doris Gordon-Lennox.

At present Lady Rachel appears to be the favorite. The prince will soon return from his Indian trip and his engagement is expected to follow.

Lady Rachel is nineteen, a beauty, and during the prince's trip to Canada they were together a great deal. She is the daughter of the Duke of Devonshire.

Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, twenty-one and pretty, daughter of Lord Strathmore, recently entertained the prince's mother and brother at Glamis castle, her parents famous Scots home.

There is a word of cheer for the American flappers in the fact that Lady Mary Thynne, bobbed hair and all, is being considered as a possibility. She is nineteen, daughter of the Marquis of Bath.

Last but not least, there is Lady Doris Gordon-Lennox, granddaughter of the Duke of Richmond who entertains the king every summer. She is twenty-four, clever horsewoman and an all-around sports enthusiast.

RAILMEN FEAR RISE OF RIVER

Inundated Trackage Is Menace to Roads

Another rise on the Mississippi river, which has already been predicted to railroad officials, will greatly hamper railway business, declared James F. Carlton and M. Lamon of Memphis, Tenn., Friday morning.

Mr. Carlton, who represents the Atlanta, Brimingham & Atlantic railway company, and Mr. Lamon, representing the freight department of the Gulf, Mobile & Northern railroad, were in Wichita Falls yesterday transacting business matters with M. K. & T. officials.

According to the visitors, over thirty miles of swamp lands through which portions of their railroads pass is inundated with water from the Mississippi, this section being located due west of Memphis.

Much trouble with inundated trackage has been encountered in Arkansas, the visitors stated, both agreeing that high water along the Mississippi river will conflict with railway transportation until May.

FONTAINE TO DALLAS

C. L. Fontaine, traffic manager for the Wichita Falls & Southern railway who recently returned from a vacation in California, bringing his father back to Wichita Falls with him, departed Thursday for Dallas, where he will be in conference with the general freight agent of the M., K. & T. railroad on matters pertaining to railway freight.

IN RAIL CIRCLES

G. Crank of the Pennsylvania line, with headquarters in Dallas, was here on business Friday.

T. S. Tabor, representing the International and Great Northern, visited local railway offices Friday. Mr. Tabor, who is in the freight department of the railroad, headquarters in Fort Worth.

A. G. Graham, traveling freight agent of the Santa Fe system, who lives in Fort Worth, was in Wichita Falls Friday on business.

H. G. Brower, representing the Missouri Pacific railroad, visited local offices yesterday.

C. B. Bradshaw of the Texas Pacific company was a business visitor in Wichita Falls railway circles yesterday.

C. E. Knowles of the Southern Pacific lines visited Wichita Falls railroad circles Friday. Mr. Knowles headquarters in Dallas.

G. F. Kay, representing the Southern Pacific, with headquarters in Dallas, was in Wichita Falls Friday.

E. J. Valentine of the Cotton Belt system visited Wichita Falls railroad officials Friday. Mr. Valentine's offices are located in Fort Worth.

SPRINGALL GOES TO CLEBURNE TO WED

W. A. Springall, traveling freight agent for the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway company with headquarters located in Wichita Falls, left Friday night for Cleburne, Texas, where Mr. Springall will be married to Miss Allelue Warren of Fort Worth today.

Mr. Springall, who has been in the freight department of the railway for a number of years, and who has lived in this city for over two years, was accompanied by H. G. Smith, division freight and passenger agent of the M. K. & T.

BEN JOHNSON COMING WITH HIS PET HORSE

Ben Johnson, of Foraker, Oklahoma, winner of the calf roping contest of the Rodeo, at Fort Worth, has entered for the Round-up to be staged at the ball park, here May 3, 4 and 5. Johnson won $600 on the loop, or for tieing his just calf at the Fort Worth contest and thinks it possible with the big purses offered to do even better here. He will ship his specially trained horse here from which he will try to snare the fleet-footed baby bovines in the contest which is expected to be one of the fastest ever seen in this part of the country.

Lee Robinson, of Tucumcari, New Mexico, arrived in the city Thursday shipping his calf roping horse by express. Lee, after unloading his horse, found a stable for the animal across the river from the city proper and is said to have purchased a couple of calves and to have gone into training in earnest in order to get plenty of practice and be in fine form for the Round-up.

Miss Nan J. Aspinwall, the cowgirl, who is riding from Laredo on the Mexican border here for the Round-up, was reported at Dilley, Texas, sixty-nine miles south of San Antonio at noon Friday, having covered ninety-four miles of the journey in two and a half days.

TWO DOLLAR MISTAKES

Four Wichitans who thought that meters at their homes were registering too fast, and have called for tests since the new meter testing ordinance went into effect, were mistaken and their mistake has cost them $2 per. Five others were right, and the $2 each were paid by the offending public utility in these cases.

Lee Clark Will Go To Normal Faculty

Lee Clark, superintendent of the city schools and Miss Chella Hendricks of the high school faculty will be members of the summer school faculty of the North Texas State Normal college at Denton this year according to a bulletin from the college. Miss Hendricks will teach English.

Other superintendents and prominent Texas school men added to the faculty to care for the large summer enrollment include: Superintendents M. H. Moore, Fort Worth; J. C. Pyle, Sherman; C. H. Dillehay, Olney; J. P. Glascow, Marshall; L. F. Connell, Honey Grove; G. G. Herren, Dawson; Donald McDonald, Crockett; W. T. Doggett, Denton; W. L. Willis, Sulphur Springs; C. A. Bridges, Myra; also J. N. Bigbee, Julius Dorsey, E. G. Grafton and J. F. Pecler all of the Dallas school system. H. O. McCain, principal of Gainesville high school, J. M. Smith, principal of El Campo high school, C. J. Denton, principal Sherman high school, A. O. Calhoun, principal Denton high school, Miss Minnie B. Graves, supervisor of penmanship at Waco and others.

The regular faculty with additions for the summer number more than 100. The enrollment of students last summer was more than 2,700 and indications are that when the school this summer opens June 8 the enrollment will be even larger.

$70,000 PAID TO OUTSIDE DAIRIES

Amarillo, Decatur and Others Get It

Enough money to buy 7,280 bales of cotton each year is spent by Wichitans on cream, butter and milk that is shipped into this territory, declared Guy R. Jones, county agent, in addressing the chamber of commerce council at luncheon Friday noon at the Kemp hotel.

The speaker declared that of a total of $85,238.70 spent in this city annually for dairy products, only $15,000 goes into the pockets of dairymen of this vicinity—the balance, he said, goes to Amarillo, Decatur, Fort Worth, Dallas and even as far away from Wichita Falls as California. Wichita county farmers, he said, should be urged to enter the dairy industry, and a creamery should be established to handle their market supply.

County Agent Jones said that 1,800 cows were tested in Wichita county in 1921 for signs of tuberculosis, which would indicate that there are approximately 2,200 milk cows in this county furnishing milk for the territory. This, he declared, is quite insufficient to handle the large demand. Some of the dairy products of Wichita county, the agent said, were shipped to other fields, however, this amount brought sales of not over $4,000.

He estimated that approximately 12,000 pounds of butter is consumed each week in Wichita Falls, about 11,800 pounds of which is creamery butter.

The speaker said that the dairy industry is the second largest in the United States, and that it should be fostered more among the farmers of this county. California made many more millions of dollars in 1921 from its dairy products than from its gold. Mr. Jones pointed out, declaring that while the farmers here are somewhat handicapped by the lack of feedstuffs to care for larger milk herds, that they could be induced to enter the dairy industry if a sufficiently adequate outlet for their produce could be obtained. The irrigation system will remove this handcap, he pointed out.

The dairy industry is the basis for a permanent, prosperous agriculture, and gives the farmer a means of obtaining ready cash throughout every month in the year, he pointed out.

D. J. Carithers of the Holliday Creamery, agreed with Mr. Jones in saying that there are not enough milk cows in Wichita county at the present time to warrant a larger creamery plant, but that if he could be guaranteed a supply of cream and milk, the Holliday plant would be increased to care for the supply.

No butter is made by the farmers in Wichita county, he said, for marketing purposes.

WICHITA TO HAVE HOTEL EXHIBIT

Chamber Decides to Send Boost Display

Wichita Falls will have an exhibit at the hotel men's convention in Chicago next month showing hotel buildings, accommodations and rates, as well as the business, industrial, oil and building activities in its territory, it was tentatively decided at the luncheon of the chamber of commerce business council Friday.

The exhibit is designed to counteract the adverse propoganda on Wichita Falls, reported from many outside points. The matter was suggested by N. H. Martin, following a talk in this connection with a Waco hotel man. Its value was endorsed by H. J. Foerster, cafe manager of the Kempt. Final decision is up to the organization's publicity committee. Hotel rates for the same class of accommodations here are on an equality with any point from El Paso to Florida, or from Kansas City to the Gulf. Mr. Foerster declared in discussing the hotel rate part of the propoganda.

KELL BUYS OFFICE ON WHEELS FOR ROAD

"It is a work car—a traveling office," declared Frank Kell when asked what service he intended for the special car recently purchased by the Wichita Falls & Southern from the Colorado Midland.

The car will make its maiden trip on the line today when the operating officials of the line will accompany Mr. Kell on a trip of inspection. The party will include R. W. Miller, superintendent, C. L. Fontaine, traffic manager and H. F. McFarland, engineer, who constructed the Graham-Breckenridge extension.

HOLIDAY IS QUIET

Neither schools, postoffice nor the general public indulged in any general observance of the anniversary of Texas Independence Friday—San Jacinto day, and commemorative of the victory of Texas troops under Sam Houston over the Mexican army of Santa Anna in 1836. Banker alone observed the day and many of them spent part of it in thinking of the between-holiday rush which will strike them this morning.

Let Kellogg's tell you the real Corn Flake Story

Of all the good things to eat, not one will afford you more delight than Kellogg's Corn Flakes! In flavor and crispness, Kellogg's are the most fascinating cereal food you ever put in your mouth!

Children insist upon Kellogg's, for Kellogg's are never tough or leathery—and Kellogg flavor appeals to the little folks just as it does to every member of your family!

Don't put off this wonder-treat! Order Kellogg's for tomorrow's breakfast! Serve heaping bowls—and get the pleasure of "hitting the nail on the head" with every big and little "breakfast guest"! It starts the day right!

Be certain you get KELLOGG'S in the RED and GREEN package. It bears the signature of W. K. Kellogg, originator of Toasted Corn Flakes! None are genuine without it!

Don't forget, KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes are made by the folks who gave you the JUNGLELAND Moving Pictures. Coupon inside every package of KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes explains how you can obtain another copy of JUNGLELAND.
