Texas Comes Back As Second State In Oil Production

Yields More Crude During March Than Any Other Month in History of the Country.

By B. N. TIMMONS
Record News Staff Bureau.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28. Texas and Oklahoma, after several months of restrictions ,came back in oil production in March, the geological survey announced today.

Texas, which in February had dropped down to 8,340,000 barrels ascended to 9,672,000 barrels in March. Oklahoma's increase was even more remarkable. In February she produced 7,919,000 barrels and in March its output was 9,602,000.

California continued the premier oil state with an output of 10,462,000 barrels in March, compared with 9,184,000 barrels in February.

The principal increase in Texas came from the central and northern fields, where a production of 5,774,000 barrels in February had ascended to 6,692,000 barrels in March. The coastal fields in Texas, which in February produced 2,566,000 barrels had an output in March of 2,980,000 barrels.

An increase also was shown in Kansas, while Louisiana,, Wyoming, Montana, Ohio, Indiana and Tennesee showed decreases.

Arkansas Joins Ranks.

Arkansas during March, for the first time, officially entered the ranks of oil producing states. Ten thousand barrels are reported as having been received at refineries in Arkansas during March, which constitutes the first commercial shipment of petroleum for that state.

For the nation at large the production in March was greater than in any single month in the history of American oil. Statistics show a production of 40,802,000 barrels. Consumption increased slightly, yet the stocks of crude oil at the end of the month were enhanced 8,000,000 barrels.

The first quarter of 1921 showed a production of 114,000,000 barrels or 11,000,000 barrels more than in the corresponding period of last year. Imports during March amounted to 12,303,114 barrels, which was a reduction of the daily average of 9,705 barrels, as compared with February, although imports for the first quarter of the year increased 19,000,000 barrels as compared with the first quarter of last year.

"PARDONS GRANTED" SHEET OF STATE IS WITHOUT NOTATIONS

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, April 28.—The "pardons granted" sheet of the prison commission report for March is conspicuous for its absence of notations. It bears merely the words "not any." The report shows that at the end of March there were 2,598 convicts on hand. There were 136 new ones received, 41 recaptured and 45 escaped. Three convicts died during March .

MARKET BUREAU URGED

Hoover Suggests Marketing Board Under Agricultural Department.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Creation of a national food marketing board under the jurisdiction of the secretary of agriculture and with the existing bureau of markets as its executive arm, was suggested today by Secretary Hoover as a means of relief to farmers and consumers.

In a letter to Senator Capper of Kansas, the commerce secretary outlined as one of the functions of such a board "the formation of regulations or voluntary agreements with the produce exchanges, so as not to undermine the very necessary process of hedging, but at the same time to control that type of speculation which is able through powerful drives upon the market to crush the weak holder of grain and force him upon the market."

This function, the secretary said, could be performed better through a board than by direct fixed legislation.

Other services to be performed, Secretary Hoover said, would be the determination and publication of facts as to distribution and prices of vegetables and fruits, and the development of warehousing practices with respect to grain and other less perishable agricultural products.

THOUSANDS AT THIRD RODEO OPENING DAY

Grandstand and Bleachers Filled and Police Forced to Turn Many Away Before Round-Up Starts.

Steer Roping, Bull Dogging and Range Stunts Thrill Spectators Throughout First Afternoon.

Seven thousand people passed the gate at the ball park Thursday afternoon for the initial day of the third annual round-up which opened with clear skies, interested crowds, clean riders, good music and cowboys and cowgirls in numbers never before seen at a similar attraction in Texas, according to publicity managers of the round-up. The crowd is a record for a Wichita Falls athletic event.

Every box is sold for the season and the grandstand overflowed yesterday's performance. The bleachers were crowded and wherever possible men were standing. The behavior of the crowd was most excellent ,automobile parking both inside and out at the park being handled in a highly efficient manner by Officers Eyerley and Peters, and other officers of the city police.

Long before time for the opening of the round-up which was scheduled for 2:30 o'clock, the stands were packed and throughout the performance people continually tried to gain admission, but when the seating capacity was exhausted they were given but scant encouragement by the men on the gates.

Parade Impressive.

The round-up officially opened with a parade of the downtown streets Thursday morning at 11 oclock. The presence of the Campbell show band and horses added impressiveness to the spectacle and this parade created great interest in the afternoon performance. There will be no parade today.

NAVY APPROPRIATION BILL CARRIES IN HOUSE BY OVERWHELMING VOTE: FIGHT EXPECTED ON ARMY BUDGET

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—With every amendment relating to disarmament thrown out, the naval appropriations bill carrying a total of $396,000,000 was passed today by the house, 212 to 15. There was not enough opposition to demand a record vote.

Immediately after the measure was made ready for the senate, the army appropriation bill carrying $331,000,000 past last session, but vetoed, was taken up. The navy bill went through the house in the same form as originally passed, but there were indications of a fight on the army budget because of an increase in the enlisted force from 156,000 to 168,000.

A parliamentary trick play, and a quick move by Representative Walsh, republican, Massachusetts, in the chair, cut off two hours of debate on an amendment by Representative Connolly, democrat, Texas, providing that no part of the appropriation for warship building should be expended until the president had called an international disarmament conference. Seeing the tangle over time for debate, the amendment was put to a vote and defeated in a veritable shout of noes.

But it did not stop the friends of armament limitation, who presented the same question in different textual form and almost as fast as presented, they were ruled out on points of order.

ALLIES TELL U. S. GERMAN OFFER TABOO

Proposals Unacceptable to France, Belgium and England, Except as Basis for Conference.

Hughes' Reply to Huns May Await Meeting Saturday in Paris of Council of Premiers.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Diplomatic representatives of three allied powers, Great Britain, France and Belgium, transmitted today to Secretary Hughes the views of their governments with respect to Germany's reparations proposal.

Official announcement was withheld ,but it was understood that the secretary of state was informed that the German offer in its present form was unacceptable. Whether any suggestions were made that Germany be asked to put forward new and more liberal terms was not disclosed.

It was emphasized officially, however, that the chief question at issue was not whether they could be regarded as the basis for renewed discussions from which satisfactory terms might eventuate.

Administration officers still maintained silence as to the form of reply that would be made to the German communication, but it was learned that none had been prepared tonight, Secretary Hughes had not yet heard from the Italian and Japanese governments. Whether a reply will be delayed until word comes from Rome and Tokio remains to be developed.

Since the German offer is to be considered at the meeting of the allied supreme council Saturday, there were suggestions that the American reply might be held up pending further decision by premiers. Others believed that the messages delivered to Mr. Hughes today had been of such a nature as to enable the American government to proceed with the next step in the exchanges with Berlin.

Statements today by Premiers Lloyd George of Great Britain and Briand of France that the German offer was unacceptable was received by officials with interest, but apparently no surprise.

Cards and letters in his pockets were taken by the police as identification.

HARDING SEES FLEET IN REVIEW

Mighty Armada of Atlantic Passes Before Commander in Chief.

By Associated Press.

OLD POINT COMFORT, Va., April 28.—Three score fighting ships of the Atlantic division of the United States fleet came home today from battle maneuvers in southern waters to receive their first greeting from President Harding, the new commander-in-chief of the navy.

From the bridge of the yacht Mayflower, anchored at Thimble Shoal light, Mr. Harding reviewed the long line of war craft as they steamed by, super-dreadnaughts in the lead, submarines bringing up the rear.

It was the first time the president had seen the full force under Admiral Henry B. Wilson, and he was deeply impressed.

The day was not ideal for this, the first naval pageant of its kind to be held since before the United States entered the World War. Coming into the roadstead from Washington soon after daybreak, the Mayflower was shrouded in mist and soon afterward a light rain began to fall. This was whipped away however, by a high wind before smoke clouds over the

RETURN OF PRINCE TO CHINA CAUSES DIPLOMATIC WORRY

By Associated Press.

President Tells Bronzed-Faced Members of Atlantic Fleet That U. S. Desires Peace With Honor.

By Associated Press.

ON BOARD U. S. S. PENNSYLVANIA, HAMPTON ROADS, Va., April 28.—America wants only that which is righteously her own, "and by the eternal we mean to have that" President Harding declared here in an address to the officers of the Atlantic fleet who gathered about him on the flagship Pennsylvania, after he had reviewed the powerful armada, which returned this morning from battle practice in southern waters.

The declaration of the new commander-in-chief of the army and navy brought ringing cheers from the thousand bronzed officers and the wall of blue clad enlisted men who formed a background.

The president had for his platform a spot directly beneath the muzzle of the three 14-inch rifles in the super-dreadnaughts after turret. His was a message of peace, delivered from almost the same spot where President Wilson made his much discussed war address to the fleet at nearby Yorktown soon after the United States entered the World War.

Desires Peace.

Declaring that it was his wish that the navy might never again fire a gun in war, Mr. Harding told the officers that he believed if all the nations on earth were impelled by the same motives as actuated the United States, "this world would be at peace forever."

"But I would not want a peace without honor," he said. "I would not want peace without the consciousness that America was doing right and protecting its citizenship in the most effective way."

When he boarded the Pennsylvania to return the call of Admiral Henry B. Wilson, the fleet commander was persuaded by the enthusiasm of the officers to address them informally.

THOUSANDS AT THIRD RODEO OPENING DAY

ett, sheriff of Oklahoma, did, except letting a pinto throw him.

This was after Mrs. Burnett raced a steer around the arena twice, put her rope on or about the beast twice and had difficulty in throwing him at the far end of the arena after he was tired out.

But when her horse did begin to co-operate with her efforts, the time it took to hog-tie the steer was less than nothing flat and the crowd greatly appreciated this event, though Mrs. Burnett or the horse one wasn't in the best condition possible, as poor foot work on the mount's part caused her to miss her first throw in front of the stand and slacking up at a critical time lost her a second cast.

A half-hitch came near gaining her the money, donated by her husband as a special incentive for good times at the round-up, but the throw which won, was made by a cast around all four feet and after the steer hit the ground, came the clever work.

Bull Dog Buffalo.

Guy Schults made a gallant effort to bull-dog a buffalo and came near making it after a hard tussle. He had the bison on its shoulders and had worn it to a finish. Losing his grip on one horn through a ripped glove, and excessive perspiration, the buffalo got loose and Jerry Wright, riding herd, dogged the animal. Wright made a clean showing, but Schults's work had undoubtedly tired the animal to a great degree.

The Grand Entry—First Event

Clad in garments of silvery bangles, mounted on a pure white horse, whose nostrils showed the delicate tinge of pink declared by experts to betray good breeding, Rene Hafley sounded a peal from a silver trumpet at 2:10 o'clock at the ball park and this started the grand entry to the Round-Up, the third to be held in Wichita Falls.

Next to Miss Hafley came Red Sublette, one of the clever slap stick comedians of the Round-Up followed by a goose, Tom Burnett, Lucile Mulhall Burnett, Colonel Mulhall, Pawnee Bill, famous riders and pretty girls followed as did the cowboys with Sheriff Buck Garrett of Ardmore at the helm, Jim Malone of local fame with the "bunch" and tried and untried riders of every class following.

The signal from Fog Horn Clancy caused the ensemble to face the stand after they had made two rounds of the ball grounds.

Making good his nick-name Fog Horn began introductions. The judges, Tommie Grimes, Tom Hickman and Verne Elliott were presented.

Then Bryan Roach, assistant manager and arena director was made known to the crowd, following which Lucille Mulhall Burnett saluted the gathering.

Colonel Goodnight Presented.

Colonel Goodnight was introduced and made his bow from the box right back of the judges stand in the center of the grandstand.

Pawnee Bill (Major Gordon W. Lillie) was presented and made a brief speech, commending the efforts of the city to make this an annual event and stating that he believed it was one of the fastest companies of riders and ropers ever assembled.

Buck Garrett, sheriff of Carter county, Oklahoma, who returned Clara Smith Hamon from Mexico to Oklahoma for trial in the murder of Jake Hamon, was next presented. With him was Bud Bellew, his under sheriff.

Tom L. Burnett, wealthy rancher, made his bow next and was introduced as the man who made it possible for Wichita Falls to put on a round-up second only to, if to any, the famous Cheyenne ocension. Colonel Zach Mulhall rode to the front after Burnett's introduction and presented a striking feature with his nice mount, grey moustache, and soldierly bearing.

Three jumps was all it took the wild bull to dislodge the rider in the second event, but he'll yet be tamed, according to round-up officials.

Fancy Roping Good.

With Tommie Kinan on the right, Chester Byers in the center, and Bob Calen on the left and Fred M. Clancy, Jr., on the extreme right, cutting up all over the arena, this event of fancy roping was easily one of the most popular of the day.

Byers' stunt of twirling two ropes at a time one over his head and one beneath his feet and keeping time to music as he twirled his loops met with universal applause. Fred Clancy, Jr., while not attempting the more difficult stunts made good in every one attempted.

He's but a fifteen-year-old chap and is a chip off the old block meaning of Fog Horn Clancy and his clever wife, who is handling concessions at the Round-Up.

Lucile Mulhall Burnett also came in on this "stunt" though she was not scheduled for the event. Tom Burnett wanted to show the people some real roping, the announcer said and so Mrs. Burnett or Lucile, as she is affectionately known by the "bunch," first roped one horse and rider, then brought two in her loop, following this with three and finally placed the quint around four.

In this event she used a wide loop and a long rope, throwing from the top with the loop on the ground.

Three Riders Ditched

The fourth event was one of the most thrilling and most advertised. This was the cowboy bronc riding contest. This event carries through out the meet and no definite announcements were made though three good riders were ditched. Yakima Canutt on Panther Pete made a spectacular ride and seems almost sure to be in the money. Jack Brown on Morning Glory is rated as about the second best ride of the afternoon and Guy Shults on Chinese is said to have made the third best showing.

Leonard Stroud who drew a hard horse, K. C. Roan, made a good ride. Dave White furnished much speculations as to the prospects of living after his saddle slipped while attempting to make Red Wolfe step out a little higher. Dave stuck the mount and made a good ride, though it wasn't graceful. Burnett's sorrell was ridden by C. B. Williams in a passable exhibit. Lloyd Saunders showed well but Rodeo didn't exert himself.

Yakima Canutt on Panter Peter furnished the thrills for this event, and Pathfinder ridden by Roy Mayes showed a few tricks.

Searchlight ditched Tom Henderson without a great deal of trouble though the boy almost recovered at one time.

Hugh Strickling disqualified by pulling leather and came almost being thrown. He was riding Longtime.

Gets Hand.

One Chimes Guy Shults made a spectacular ride and won a great deal of applause. He is said by officials to have made some of the cleanest rides of the day though his riding was not so spectacular as some others.

Deerfoot, who John Henry drew, was rather mild though Henry did a nice ride; Dunn Gone lived up to his name, made a few futile attempts to dislocate Jesse Coats and threw up her tail.

O'er the Top, ridden by Ike Armstrong, furnished but few thrills though he has a wicked specialty of trying to scrape his rider off on fences.

Blue Devil ridden by Nowata Slim made good his appelation and pitched like blue blazes—one of the few bellowing horses at the show. Kelso's mount was Boxer and he proved a trifle treacherous though was handled nicely.

Ed McCarty's Kaiser, touted as a real mean horse, absolutely fell down and after a few tame jumps Angelo Hughes quit the mount in disgust.

He'd been expecting a devilish, man devouring steed and drew a lamb in comparison to some of the others.

Morning Glory proved to be an early bloomer, starting from the time the corall gates swung open and stayed at it with twists and twines until Jack Brown had to take his hat from his hand with which he had been fanning the shoulders of the mount, set it firmly on his head and get down to riding. Brown's ride was good. He had a hard horse and rode it like a horseman should, clean, above board, was troubled but once or twice, but at all times maintained a good seat and looks like championship stuff.

Tiny Proves True.

Lucile Mulhall Burnett's Tiny lived up to her press notices by ditching five or six newsboys who were after the $10 purse put up for the boy who rides her.

"Just What I Said—"

Slim Caskey easily defeated the field in the steer bulldogging contests. He made a spectacular leap from his pony before the steer had gone a hundred yards, with a quick wrench on the horns had the steer's shoulders on the ground almost as soon as his feet hit the turf and after but little work had the animal on its back. His time was 16 1-5.

Caskey is a Wichita Falls cowboy and rodeo artist and this time is much below some of the records he has hung up in the past. Though the track was not fast the animals were above the average size and proved troublesome to all doggers. Easily the best by half was the verdict of the grandstand in this event.

Yakima Canutt's 21 flat was the next best score and after him E. L. Herian made 29 3-5. Other results: Delbert Bledsoe, 32; Jim Wilkes, no time; Jim Massey, 30 1-5; Frank McCarroll, 1:10 1-5; Rube Roberts, 50; Shorty Kelso, 38 2-5; Oklahoma Curley, 36 5-10; Mike Hastings, 35; Dave White, 56 2-5; Roy Quick, 23 1-8; Booger Red Rodgers, no time.

Sleek, speedy little six and eight months old calves gave the boys all they could handle in the seventh event and while it might have been their fleetness of feet it might also have been that the mounts used by the cowboys were tired, troubled or did not have their heart in their work for no good scores were hung up in this event.

Hugh Strickland roped and tied his "choice" in 34 1-4 seconds, the best time. E. L. Herian made next best score by putting it over in 39 4-5 seconds. Jack Brown was but one second behind Herian in this contest.

Other scores: Roy Quick, 49 2-5; Tommy Grimes, 1.16 2-5; Leonard Stroud, no score; Jerry Wright, no score; Chester Byers, 58 2-5; Lloyd Saunders, no time; Yakima Canutt, no time; Hugh Strickland, 34 1-5; Fred Beeson, no time—hard luck here for he made a nice throw but let his knot slip; Ed Burgess, 51 3-5; Tom Henderson, 43 1-5; Guy Shults, 52 2-5; Charlie Stalling, no time; E. L. Herian, 39 3-5; Jim Massey, 1 and 2-5ths.

California Frank's Appollo made good by leaping an automobile filled with actors at the Round-Up. This is a thrilling feat and was rendered no less attractive by the work of Little Joe, one of the clowns. A really thrilling stunt.

Cowgirls Kick 'Em.

Mildred Hinkle, Mayme Stroud, Maude Tarr, Mable Strickland, made some nice rides, and excited much applause. These riders are considered the best in the United States and while they drew no really bad mounts these they did draw were of the educated variety and acted worse than some given by ballot to the bronc busters. This is an event worth watching closely.

Trick and Fancy Riding.

Leonard Stroud, by turning somersaults on and off his mount, crawling under its neck and under its belly, proved the sensation in the trick and fancy riding event and the riding of Dick Griffith was another attraction that proved thrilling.

High School Horses.

Three high school horses, one ridden by Mrs. Lucile Mulhall Burnett, another by Verne Keele and a third by Miss Bea Kirnan, proved a favorite with the women specially. The horses waltzed, two-stepped, fox-trotted and went through all sorts of stunts of the parlor variety.

Napoleon was adjudged the winner in the event and awarded the ribbon with Mrs. Burnett's mount, a popular entry, and Keele's riding and horse won applause.

Five Gaited Horses

Though Joe Bailey, one of Fred Weeks' entries in the High School Horse class was easily the grand stand favorite, judges awarded his black mare, Susan Francis, ridden by Virgil Keel, first place and Gretta Tims, a gray mare ridden by the owner, second place. The bay stallion was fretted from some reason but was an easy favdrite in certain sections of the grand stand, though the award to Susan Francis was in keeping with the Fort Worth stock show award which gave her first place. Jack Avis rode Joe Bailey and did a nice job of it. These horses are entered for tomorrow's events. All are owned by Weeks, a Wichita Falls lawyer and all are the same age, nine years.

Night Show Not Good

Indians, fancy riding and trick roping, with Little Joe and Red Sublette pulling stunts every other second featured the night's performance which was not very well attended.

Rev. W. L. Tittle, pastor of Floral Heights Methodist church, and W. T. Harris, county clerk, will return today from Henrietta, where they attended the conference Tuesday. Mr. Tittle has recently returned from a short visit to Bentonville, Ark.

Routine matters are expected to be the only things to come before the weekly luncheon and meeting of the business council of the Chamber of Commerce Friday noon at the Kemp hotel.

Unavoidable circumstances have compelled the postponement of the banquet for the Knickerbocker class, which was announced last Sunday for Friday night, April 29, according to an announcement. Those who have tickets will retain them and the banquet will be pulled off at a future date.

Mrs. T. A. Norwood, recently operated on at the Methodist hospital, is reported much improved and has been removed home.

HARDING SEES FLEET IN REVIEW

horizon announced the approach of the fleet.

Mayflower Steams Out.

With this signal, the Mayflower, carrying the president and his guests and Secretary Denby and a party from Washington on the naval yatch Sylph, steamed into position and anchored on Thimble shoal with the president's flag flying. Small crafts loaded with pleasure seekers swarmed around the presidential yacht while naval patrol vessels policed the course set for the fleet. A fleet of seaplanes from the naval base and a number of army planes from Langley Field dipped and swooped overhead while four dirigibles that hung lazily over the inner harbor until the Mayflower had taken station, headed out to escort Admiral Wilson's force to its anchorage.

Pennsylvania Appears

A few minutes after 9 o'clock, the Pennsylvania, flying at the main-mast the flag of Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt and at the foremast that of Admiral Wilson, came abreast of the Mayflower and thundred out the presidential salute. On her quarter deck the marine squad snapped to "present arms" and the band crashed into the opening bars of the Star Spangled Banner.

As the music and reverberation of the saluting guns died away, the Mayflower replied with 17 guns to Admiral Wilson and the national air to the flag.

Ship after ship swung by the crashing guns and blaring bands. It was the navy on parade in its pride before the commander-in-chief.

The action speeded up a bit when the ponderous battleships had passed and the sleek destroyers came sliding by. No bands played on their decks and they seemed to say "strictly business" as they went their way. Astern of the destroyer divisions the submarines wallowed and rolled in the choppy seas, running on the surface with crews standing at attention on deck.

"Dress Ship"

Long before the submarines had passed the reviewing party, the battleships and destroyers were at anchor in the roads, "dressing ship" for the president's visit to the Pennsylvania. As soon as the last submersible had paid its tribute to the chief executive the Mayflower steamed up between the double line of ships at anchor.

Again the president received full naval honors and again the Mayflower returned each salute until the whole harbor resounded to the crashing of cannon. As soon as the Mayflower was again at anchor, Admiral Wilson went aboard to pay his respects for the first time to President Harding and to assure him that the Atlantic fleet had come north fit for any duty.

After the fleet commander returned to his flagship, the president left the Mayflower for the Pennsylvania and again he received a 21-gun salute. On the quarter deck of the flagship he greeted more than 1,000 officers of the fleet and complimented them upon the splendid appearance of their ships.

AMERICA WANTS ONLY WHAT IS HER OWN—HARDING

"I am especially happy to come and speak to you of America and those who stand for its naval defense," President Harding said. "I want to tell you men how deeply interested and thoroughly confident America is in you. I have no thought in my mind except that I can say with all the sincerity of my heart that America will never ask anything of you not in perfect accord with the best conscience of the freest people on earth, but when we do ask, we will expect of you the best defense that human beings can give.

"I am very confident that you live and breathe the spirit of this republic. The United States of America does not want anything on earth that does not belong to it, it does not want anything that is not rightfully our own, no territory, no payment, no tribute. We do want that which is righteously our own, and by the eternal, we will have that.

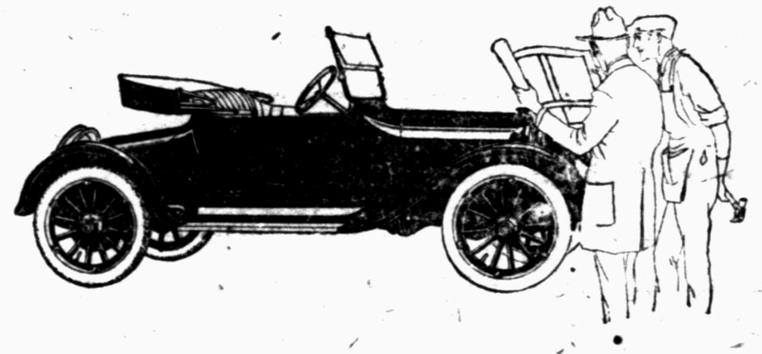

"You of the navy are in first line of defense. I wish you might never be compelled to fire a gun in war, and I believe if all the governments on earth were impelled by the same motives as our own, this world would be at peace for ever, starting from today.

"But I would not want peace without honor—I would not want peace without a consciousness that America was doing right and protecting her citizenship in her most effective way.

"Officers of the navy, I bid you make ours the most efficient, conscientious and effective navy in the world and I pledge you in return the conscience and confidence of 110,000,000 citizens. I want to join with you in providing for our country a righteous, just and unfailing defense and to that program every patriotic American unfailingly subscribes."

Woman Admits Knowledge of Stolen Trunk

The mystery surrounding a trunk full of clothing valued at over $1,000 was cleared Thursday afternoon with the departure to Oklahoma City of Winnie Phillips, proprietor of a rooming house on Indiana street, accompanied by two detectives from that city.

Mrs. Phillips waived extradition papers after having made a statement to officers in which she is alleged to have confessed that she had held the trunk of clothing in her possession knowing that it had been stolen at Oklahoma City.

The alleged confession of Mrs. Phillips followed two days of investigation by Constable Frank Morgan and the two officers from Oklahoma City. The constable's department first knew of the case when a local service car driver reported that he had been hired by Mrs. Phillips to haul a trunk out to the edge of the city where he had dumped it near a woods. After he had returned here, he said he became suspicious that the trunk might contain a body and reported it to the officers.

On the way out to the trunk, officers met a man and woman with the trunk, the two declaring that they had found it along the road. Opened at the constable's office, the trunk was found to contain a large amount of valuable clothing.

Investigation according to officers, later showed that Mrs. Phillips had ordered the trunk taken to the woods after the two Oklahoma City detectives had visited her rooming house in search of the goods. She satisfied the officers at that time that she did not have the goods in her possession and it was not until Wednesday morning that they were made aware of the fact that the goods and trunk had been recovered.

According to information secured later, officers state that the trunk belongs to a resident of Florida who shipped it to Oklahoma City.

Through a shift of checks the trunk was secured by a former railroad engineer at that point and diverted here, where it was taken to the Phillips rooming house.

The engineer has not as yet been arrested.

Oklahoma City officers spoke highly of the work of the constable's department here in clearing up one of nine trunk thefts and giving the officers clues which will probably result in the arrest of the persons responsible for the original thefts of the trunks.

Japs Decide On Siberian Evacuation

By Associated Press.

TOKIO, April 28.—The Japanese government, according to the Nichi Nichi Shimbun, has decided in principle upon the evacuation of Siberia, but dissension exists, it says, between the war office and the foreign office, as to the proper time for withdrawal. The foreign office advocates retirement by the Japanese as soon as possiblee because of the tendency of America and other powers to inaugurate commercial intercourse with Siberian government Chita.

The foreign office today published without comment, the official decisions of the peace conference at Paris and of the league of nations at Genevia concerning the mandates for the Pacific islands, including the Island of Yap.

(The decisions referred to are those under which the mandate for the former German islands in the Pacific north of the equator was given to Japan by the supreme council of the allies and the council of the league of nations.)

Students Will Give Low Brow Concert Friday

"A low brow concert, rendered by hi-brows" by music students of senior high school under the direction of Miss Genevieve Goff of the music faculty, will feature the Friday morning chapel exercises, it was announced Thursday.

Snappy music, "not so awful" as the title sounds, interspersed with songs and dialogues together with a black face interpretation of the "jubilee singers" will make up the program.

Students announce that an entrance fee of 15 cents will be charged for the program, the money to be used in helping to defray the publishing expenses of the school annual.

Mrs. Phebe K. Warner of Claude, woman writer and lecturer, addressed the students Thursday, stressing the importance of grasping the many opportunities that lay before the youth of today.

Mrs. Warner was introduced by Mrs. R. T. Evans.

Indians Here Join "Tepees" In Matrimony

"No round-up for me," declared Henry Pohoesucut, member of the Comanche tribe near Lawton, Okla., as he stood beside his Indian bride in the office of Judge J. P. Jones of the county court a few minutes after the pair had been married by the judge.

"I used to be in this round-up business and quit when a young cowboy was killed in this city several years ago when he was thrown from his pony," he said.

"I had traveled with different shows and took part in several round-ups for four years previous to that accident, but right then I stopped."

Pohoesucut and his bride, whose maiden name was Sarah Suahrah, also a member of the Comanche tribe, arrived here Thursday morning and started on their return trip Lawton immediately after the marriage ceremony.

The husband declared that he has no desire to see the local rodeo exhibition. Both the bride and groom were said to be well known members of the Comanche tribe.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S MESSAGE.

Taken by and all President Harding's long message to Congress is good. In respect of several cardinal issues, national and international, it is particularly good, notably his complete rejection of the League of Nations, his demand for national economy and rational taxation, his treatment of the railroad, and shipping questions, and his commitment to early treaties with the Central Powers.

When the President says that the national expenditures are unbearable it ought to mean that if Congress does not cut out all squander and waste that can be reached by the appropriating power his veto knife will. When he says that the Treasury should be kept in funds with tax schedules that will provide the needed revenue without strangling industry and harassing business it ought to mean that the Congress leaders who have discussed these serious matters with him are prepared to hasten the legislation he urged.

When the President says that railroad operating costs must come down so that the transportation rates can come down and the country's products move to market, it ought to mean that this very thing will soon happen, for the whole matter really lies with the United States Railroad Labor Bureau, certainly under his influence and guidance if not under his absolute power. And when he says that American shipping should compete in maritime commerce the world over if to achieve this end it becomes necessary to change our straitjacket laws and eliminate other restrictions against a live and successful merchant marine, it ought to mean that Congress is going to back him up with the repeal or amendment of the notorious La Follette statutes, for as long as they are in existence American overseas shipping can be bound only for the junk heap.

If it seems to economic students and other careful thinkers that the President hopes for too much when he expects industry and business to revive merely by a lightening of the nation's tax burdens, they can agree that this will be a great help when the fundamental trouble is corrected—inflated production costs, caused by inflated labor costs. If he seems to lay stress too much on various minor points in his steering away from this fundamental issue of hard work and honest work for a day's wages at a reasonable rate of pay to permit the public to buy its necessaries of life with a 100 cent dollar rather than a 60 or 70 or 80 cent dollar, he is to be warmly indorsed for his great common sense which sometimes indicates more than he is willing to say in so many words.

President Harding will make a very strong impression on Congress and the nation with his message.—New York Herald. (Ind.)

OUR DROPPING TRADE BALANCE.

Exports of American products in the month of March totalled only $384,000,000 the smallest of any month since the beginning of the war. Imports, though larger than in January and February by a few millions, were worth only $252,000,000. The excess of exports was $132,000,000, or about one-third the size of our excess exports in the months during the war. How the bottom is falling out of our foreign trade may be judged by the fact that the total trade of $636,000,000 for March has been exceeded several times in the last twelve months and many times since 1914 by exports alone.

Part of this drastic cut has resulted from reduced prices, while there is still a further reduction in our trade revenues, not reflected in the commerce figures, which has resulted from our reduced invisible income due to the lower freight rates paid on goods carried in our ships.

But the third and most important factor in the reduction is the frozen buying power the world over, because neither buyers nor sellers could get credit.

Our trade figures should have reflected the business depression months ago and would have done so had the records been kept up to date. But the reports for previous months covered shipments made several months before but not recorded earlier because the Department of Commerce was far behind with its work.

The March figures are only a forerunner of what may be expected in the future. America has large commercial credits and large holdings of European bonds on which remittances will have to be made to this country. They can be made only in goods, which we must accept either for home consumption or resale. This does not mean that our markets are to be flooded. It means that we are to receive goods from Europe and also the cash to pay for those goods. Our buying power should be increased by the return of capital lent to Europe.

This country's trade balance will some time, soon or late, reflect an excess of imports. There will be no way to stop it if we are to get paid. Before the war this state of affairs would have been unfortunate. We were then a debtor and we needed an excess of exports to pay our obligations. We are now a creditor and we will have to take the imports to get payment from our debtors.—New York Herald. (Ind.)

ARBITRATION WITH TEETH.

"Labor has both rights and duties" is apparently to be the maxim of the Department of Labor, says the Cincinnati Times Star (Rep.) in commenting upon Secretary Davis' speech in which he calls upon Congress for legislation that will make the unions responsible for carrying out agreements reached by arbitration. The Secretary's suggested policy meets with wide approval among the newspapers and even those who feel it is a little too much to hope that it can be carried out at present feel that it is a step in the right direction. The labor papers themselves, however, look upon the "teeth" that Mr. Davis wants implanted in his "arbitration" as intended primarily to bite the workingman.

The principle of arbitration "in practically all disputes," the Canton News (Dem.) declares, "is so manifestly just" that it seems strange that either side "should be unwilling to have an impartial consideration of its demands" and "having given consent to such mediation, the common honesty of contracts would demand that the agreement be carried out in good faith." That both sides "be compelled to live up to these reciprocal agreements" is "properly" urged by Secretary Davis says the Norfolk Virginian Pilot (Ind. Dem.) which continues:

"Justice in industry differs none from the justice in the courthouse or anywhere else. A settlement out of court, or in the case of industry without strikes or lockouts, is infinitely the better way—provided the settlement is recognized as binding. Otherwise it is simply a farce that adds to the industrial question only another problem."

The Buffalo Times (Dem.) thinks the Secretary "makes a good point" in his recommendations and the Commercial (Ind.) of the same city suggests the means of bringing about the results he wishes:

"Federal incorporation for the American Federation of Labor," it says, "and all international and national labor bodies, and state incorporation for local councils seems to be the only feasible plan whereby state and federal governments can enforce decisions of arbitrators. Public opinion can do much but it has never been able to make a labor union keep its word against its interests not to do so."

As "suggestions" the Chicago Tribune (Ind. Rep.) considers the Secretary's remarks "encouraging" but sounds the warning that if they are "to be translated into accomplishment it must be by specific changes in laws and customs." These changes it declares, "will meet with violent opposition." However, it is upon "labor's acceptance of responsibility" that "advantages of justice and peace" depend, and "if the labor organization is made responsible for the carrying out of its agreements, just as the employer is now responsible under civil law, one of the greatest evils of the entire labor situation will be reduced." The Detroit Free Press (Ind.) also sees opposition ahead of the Secretary's plan on the part of "thoughtless and radical elements" but, it feels, "the more enlightened and the sober-minded workers can scarcely fail to see the point and they will appreciate the wisdom and fairness" of a plan which contemplates "no paternalistic coddling and intrusive meddling."

Eighty-five per cent of his American fellow citizens, the San Antonio Express (Ind. Dem.) believes, share the Secretary's beliefs and this includes "every laborer and every employer of labor who can meet the test of common sense, let alone conscientious scruples as to the integrity of contractual obligation." The Mobile Register (Dem.) seems to feel that the way is open for the successful accomplishment of Mr. Davis' plan, for submission "to arbitration is, in effect an agreement to accept the decision and, while there are many who are not yet ready to deny labor the right to strike, yet the tendency for severity toward those who abuse their right is daily becoming more pronounced."

Out of the world of baseball the Providence Journal (Ind.) takes an illustration of the soundness of the Secretary's theory. It says:

"In organized baseball when an umpire's decision is questioned so fiercely that a manager takes his team from the field, the laws of the game provide a fine large enough to make such a course of action expensive. And if the facts warrant suspension of the manager may follow. This fine and this suspension have the effect of a deterrent on hotheads so that forfeited games in the big leagues are now rare. Labor needs similar penalties to make it live up to its agreements."

DINNER STORIES

When the once wealthy Mrs. Blank parted from her husband and decided to work for her living, she became a housemaid. Her first employer was a woman who, in other days, had been one of her servants. It seemed a queer thing to do, but "the wretch always worried me by giving me notice," said the lady in reduced circumstances piteously; "she must have done it half a dozen times. So I took the position—to give her notice, the wretch. And I did it, too, after the first week."

A prominent New York debutante recently ordered "four seats on the aisle," at the theater. When her party arrived at the performance they were surprised to find themselves arranged in a column instead of a row. Nothing daunted, the debutante turned to a bored, middle-aged man next to her. Surely he would not mind changing with her friend in front.

"I beg your pardon," she said politely.

No reply. He must be deaf. She repeated louder.

Still no reply.

"I beg your pardon," she said, bumping his elbow.

He took a pencil and wrote on his program:

"That's my wife on the other side of me. Safety first."

Oh, what do they care what the dry-workers say?
The dandelions are blooming today—
All over, or nearly.
So, ho! to the bibulous friends of the spring
Who gather gold blooms, 'n' everything
That makes a bottle disquieting,
Yet is medicine merely.

Alas, I'm too busy to garner and brew,
My affairs are all stewing, and I am too,
But not in that manner;
And yet when those blossoms enrapture my eye,
My heart skips a beat—I'm the sort of a Dry
Unvolsteady ready to drink on the sly,
'Neath the temperance banner.

IGNORANT ESSAYS

A Secret Engagement.

O, I have a secret.
Tell me.
I promised not to tell a soul.
Well I won't tell anybody.
Well, listen. Madge is engaged.
No! I never thought she'd get a man.
Accidents will happen, my dear. She's engaged. I saw the ring.
Oh, did you? Tell me all about it. How big is it?
About so big.
What kind of a setting did she get?
Platinum.
No!
Yes, my dear. Oh, it's swell. He must think a lot of her.
Well it's about time somebody does. Who is he?
His name is Ryan—Quin Ryan. Surely you have heard her talk about Quin. Why that's all she has talked about for the last six months—Quin this and Quin that, Quin says and Quin thinks—
What kind of a fellow is he? Have you ever seen him?
Oh yes. I wouldn't pin any medals on him. But he's good enough for her.
How long has she known him? Where did she meet him? Who does he look like? How old is he? When are they going to get married?
One at a time. She's known him about six months, I guess. I don't know what he sees in her. Gladys is much cuter.
Well, she has got lovely eyes.
But, my dear, a girl must have something.
Well, now, Madge is not so worse. I guess she's good enough for Quin Ryan, whoever he is.
She is a kind-hearted girl, and she means well, although she is not what you would call brainy, and not so particularly good looking.
I wish I knew how she met him.
So do I. Gee! some girls have all the luck.
Ain't it the truth. Although I wouldn't hang him on a Christmas tree. But a diamond ring set in platinum! Gosh, I feel I will never get a platinum ring. These days, if a fellow takes you to the movie he thinks he is doing you a big favor.
How do you suppose she met him?
I don't know. You can't get much out of Madge. She's one of those quiet little mouse-like creatures.
That's just the kind the fellows fall for. I wonder what she did to him. He must see something in her.
I guess he must, but I don't know what it could be, do you?
Well, she means well. I wonder when they are going to get married.
Yes, they had better make it soon. He may change his mind.
Kitty, kitty.
Well, you know what I mean. You can't be too sure of them until you are married to them, and then you are not sure of them.
Isn't it the truth? Well, I must be going. Remember, now, not a word. It's a secret. I won't tell it to a soul.
Can you keep a secret?
I'll tell the world.

JOHNNY STEEL TAKES THE FIRST PLUNGE IN THE "OLE SWIMMIN' HOLE"

NOSING 'ROUND WASHINGTON

BY ROBERT CORTES HOLLIDAY Author of "Walking-Stick Papers," "Broome Street Straws," "Men and Books and Cities,"

SIXTH INSTALLMENT.

It's a big old building, dark inside, the Washington postoffice. He looked like some sort of a guard about the premises who was too tired to stand up and so did his guarding sitting in a chair. My friend had got so accustomed to inquiring our way to the office of Secretary Hughes, and of Secretary Weeks, and so on, that he asked where we would find Secretary Hays.

The man looked at us very contemptuously. "The postmaster general?" at length he boomed. Well, he was on the fifth floor. As we stepped from the car my friend remarked on the practice universal in Washington of men removing their hats when in the presence of the women in elevators.

Our appointment was for ten o'clock. We had got quite used, however, to waiting an hour or so for the gentleman we sought to see. Several other callers were ahead of us here, and we sat down in the outer office when we had presented cards to a very kind and attentive young man who appeared to be in charge.

Within a very few minutes, however, we were ushered round into a secluded inner office. "The general," the young man said, "will be in in a moment. He seems them in two different rooms at the same time." This large room was entirely bare of painting or other decorations.

Speaking of decorations reminds me of the striking handsomeness of the cabinet officers we had so far been seeing. Beginning with the president himself (prize winner of the lot in this respect) the spectacle of this administration had up to this moment been a regular beauty show.

The physiognomy of Mr. Hays, of course, strikes a somewhat different note in the picture. Though he is not, I should say, as funny looking as some of his pictures suggest.

He fairly leaped into the room Spidery figure. Very, very earnest in effect. No questions necessary to get him started. He begun at once to talk. Poured forth a steady stream of rapid utterance. Denounced the idea of labor as a "commodity." Said: "We have a big job here. Three hundred thousand employes. Millions of customers. I think we can do all right though. But our people in the department all over the country everywhere must be made to feel that a human spirit is behind them. It's in the heart that the battle's won. It's because of the spirit behind them whether our men throw a letter on the floor before a door or put it through a door. Made a gesture with his hand illustrating putting a letter through a door. Looked very hard at the very clean top of his desk much of the time as he talked. Now and then looked very straight indeed at us. Gave us a generous amount of his time. At length arose very briskly.

Routed us out around through some side way. Had a private elevator concealed somewhere in a dark corner. Turned us over to the colored man in charge of it with the request, "Won't you please take my friends down?"

As we were crossing the street we ran into our old friend from New York, who edits a very flourishing women's magazine. Down here, he said, to get an article from Mrs. Harding. Had found her altogether willing to supply him with an article, but in so much of a flutter wtih her new activities that she didn't see her way to finding time soon to write it. What, we asked, was the article to be about? Well, Mrs. Harding's idea was to revive all the old traditions of the White House. And what were those traditions? Mrs. Harding hadn't said beyond the custom of Easter egg-rolling.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

THE NEW HOME

"Our house is just the other side of that hill," said Jane to her new sister-in-law. "And although it's not the grandest place in the world, specially to anyone who has been raised in the city, I'm sure you'll like it, Cherry."

"I'm sure that I shall, Jane," Cherry answered cheerily, "and I think this country is awfully pretty. Mm! Neddy, look at that lovely apple orchard, do," pointing to an orchard, riotous with pink-white blossoms, which scented the air for miles around. "And, oh, that cunning little cottage, right on the edge of it. What a perfect spot to live in."

"Betty Hopkins and her husband live there," Jane explained. "They have been married about two months now and are still honeymooning. Jerry couldn't take off time to go on a truly honeymoon, you see, for the crops had to be tended to and all that, but I think they have been very happy right in their little cottage. And the orchard has been a constant bridal bouquet at their doorstep."

"There's Betty now, over there, in a pink dress and sunbonnet," called Ned. "Oh, Betty bride," he shouted in greeting to the slip of a girl, who was bending over a rose bush solicitously. "Here we are; come and meet Cherry."

The girl straightened up, and wiping her hands on her gingham apron, she came runing down the path to where the auto stood puffing and panting.

She gave Cherry a quick smile of welcome and squeezed her two hands warmly, as she told her how glad she was to have her come to live with them in Wellsburg.

"I know that you'll love it here, with us and you won't need to wear those any more, either," she said laughingly and pointing to Cherry's gloves. "My it seems ages since I had a pair of them. Never could get used to wearing gloves again, I know," spreading out two sun-kissed paws ruefully, then with a low laugh of happiness, she assured them that she didn't care a little bit, even if the sun had up and changed her hands from white to brown. They felt better so, and Jerry kissed them every night and told her they were the dearest hands in all the world. Wasn't that enough for any bride?

Then with a last greeting to Cherry, she ran back to her gardening and the car once more sped on toward the Randell home.

The big white house stood on the outskirts of the little town, a very big house, it seemed to Cherry, with bright green shutters, the kind she had always loved most, and a large garden, which at that moment was full of old-fashioned flowers and flaming plants.

The car drew up with a flourish, and a little lady in lavender arrived at the front gate, just as Edward swung his bride down to the ground, then with a tender look in his eyes, bent over and took his mother in his arms.

Mrs. Randell reached up on tiptoe and kissed her tall boy many times, a tear trembled in her eye as she turned and held out her arms to Cherry and bid her long life and happiness in their midst. Such was the home-coming of Edward and his bride.

RECIPES FOR A DAY.

Casserole of Lamb and Vegetables.—Slice a small onion and cook it in two or three tablespoons of cooking fat (margarine or bacon fat or both) Remove onion to casserole and brown in the fat two or three pounds of lamb shoulder which has been seasoned and floured.

Put meat in casserole and pour boiling water into frying pan, so as to rinse fat and flavor into casserole. Cover and cook in a slow oven an hour. Then add a bunch of carrots, six small potatoes and half a can or more of peas. Cook an hour longer. Add salt with vegetables.

Marshmallow Caramel Pudding.—One slice of bread an inch thick (stale), one-half cup sugar, one pint scalded milk, two eggs, one tablespoon butter, one teaspoon vanilla, halved marshmallows.

Soak bread in water to cover until very soft. In the meantime melt two tablespoons of the sugar until caramelized. Add milk and butter and cook gently until caramel dissolves. Press the water from the bread and squeeze as dry as possible. Add it to the milk and beat well. Stir in the eggs, well beaten, the rest of the sugar and vanilla. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a very slow oven three-quarters of an hour. When done, cover the top with halved marshmallows and brown slightly under a quick heat. Serve hot or cold with cream.

SUGGESTIONS FOR HOUSEWIVES.

Bait the mousetrap with sunflower seed.

Keep ferns away from gas and out of draughts.

To remove stains from sink lay wet cloth evenly over stains and empty one-half of chloride of lime on cloth. Allow this to stand four hours without added moisture. If not satisfactory, repeat.

To make an old leather handbag look like new take a good shoe polish and polish the leather handbag just like you were polishing shoes and you will notice the result.

To Wash Tarnished Brass.—Save the water in which the potatoes have been boiled, and use it to wash tarnished brass; it will come out as bright as new.

Cleaning the Paint and Varnish Brushes.—Many housekeepers have bee nannoyed by finding their paint and varnish brushes hard and dry. To soften them, heat to a boiling point some good cider vinegar, immerse your brushes and allow them to stand a few minutes, then wash out in strong soap suds and your brushes will be soft and pliable.

Children's clothing can be made non-inflammable by rinsing in alum water, two ounces of alum dissolved in a gallon of water.

When the rollers of a clothes wringer become darkened through use, rub them with kerosene and wash thoroughly.

Special to The Record News.

SHREVEPORT, April 28.—The old adage that a game is never won until the last man has been retired was brought home quite forcibly this afternoon here when the Spudders dropped the second game of the series with Shreveport by the score of 3 to 2. The visitors had been leading all during the fray from the second inning on, pushing two runs across in that frame. Bowman had relieved Hollingsworth in the second and although he was touched now and then for a hit or a pass, was never in danger. The last half of the ninth opened with Henry batting for Verbout. He got to first when McDonald fumbled his grounder. Bowman struck out Storey and threw out E. Bowman who batted for Massey, at first. Ewoldt, with three and two, walloped the pill to deep right for a triple scoring Henry, tying the count, and won the contest for the Gassers when he bumped into McDonald at third causing the visiting thirdbaseman to allow the ball, relayed from McElwee, to go through him. Ewoldt scoring.

Salm Raises Howl

Salm raised an awful howl but the umpire opined that McDonald was blocking the bag when Ewoldt was coming in to it and the score was allowed. While not official, it is understood that Salm will protest the game.

Verbout, was Billy Smith's choice to hurl the game, while the visiting manager picked the new acquisition from Pittsburgh, Hollingsworth, to start for the Spudders. The new twirler got off wrong, for after Storey went out to McDonald, Massey and Ewoldt both drew passes and Jackson singled filling the bags. Hollingsworth put on a little more smoke, fanning Eibel and Hollahan for the outs retiring the side. The Spudders went out in order in their half.

Spudders Score First.

Salm's outfit broke the ice in the second when Clark walked, Miller got on bunting to Verbout who fumbled the ball, McElwee walked and after Works had forced Clark at the plate, Kitchens singled to left scoring Miller and McElwee.

Bowman took up the Spudder's burden in the second frame after Hollingsworth had two on the bags and with but one out, stopping the Gassers from scoring.

The Spudders failed to add to their total during the remaining innings. The Gassers pushed over a run in the sixth on two singles and a walk after two were out.

The grand finale came in the last half of the ninth as told above.

McDonald had an off day on the defense making one error, but managed to contribute a single in the [illegible] that went to waste. Rothfuss kept up his hitting streak making a single in the sixth that also wasn't anything insofar as a score was concerned. Rothfuss has now hit at least once in every league game so far this season. His total numbers 21 times at bat for an average of [illegible]

Kitchens Almost a Hero.

Kitchens, the only other Spudder who connected safely with the ball during the afternoon came near being the hero of the game for his timely single with the bases full in the second scored the two Spudder runs that loomed mighty big until the very last inning.

The third game of the series will be played here tomorrow afternoon starting at the usual hour.

LEONARDO II EQUALS MAN O' WAR'S RECORD

By Associated Press.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 28.—Leonardo II, E. F. Simms' unbeaten son of Sweep and Ethel Pace and a Kentucky derby candidate, Monday ran the fastest mile and one-sixteenth ever seen on a Kentucky race track. This time was 1:42 4-5, afraction of a second slower than the world's record of 1:42 3-5 set by Celeste in 1914 at Syracuse.

The mile was run in 1:35 4-5, equaling Man O' War's American race record.

JACK DEMPSEY WILL BEAT CARPENTIER SAYS SMITH WHO BATTLED WITH BOTH

Jack Dempsey will put Georges Carpentier away in from one to six rounds when they clash July 2 at Jersey City.

Why?

Because Dempsey is physically stronger than Carpentier.

Because Dempsey has youth and poundage in his favor.

These are the opinions of Gunboat Smith one of the leading "white hopes" in his day and considered one of the brainiest of the heavy men in the ring, although he failed to land near the title.

Smith isn't talking from a chimney top. He knows both men. Ought to. He fought Dempsey twice and Carpentier once when the gunner was in his prime.

What were the results of these encounters? Dempsey outpointed and then knocked him out. Smith lost to Carpentier on a foul. Smith makes it clear that his disqualification in his bout with the Frenchman has not made him peeved at Georges.

On the other hand Smith has respect for Georges. "The Frenchman snaps at you like lightning with a deadly straight punch," says the gunner. "He is a more deadly puncher than Jack.

"Carpentier has a peculiar style of ducking," continues Smith. "He ducks from his hips instead of with head only. This system makes him appear to drop almost to the floor as he ducks. He comes up apparently off his balance. It is at this time that he is set to hit and hit hard, bouncing up and striking with the same motion.

"Carpentier will be facing, however, a human tiger of the boring in type who can assimilate punishment without backing up. Dempsey will have to fight Carpentier differently than he did Willard, but ought to be able to change this style without handicapping himself."

Smith points out that Carpentier aged in the five years of war service, during which time he did little real work in the ring, and is not in the condition that he was when he first won fame. He lacks the stamina needed to fight a man like Dempsey until one or the other drops. The longer the fight with Dempsey goes the less chance Carpentier will have of laying Dempsey low, Smith believes.

"Carpentier isn't beaten before he starts into his fight with Dempsey, but is nearly so,' 'opines Smith.

There is this to be added about Smith. He picked Dempsey to knock out Willard. Which gives the Gunboat the right to guess again.

THE UMPS.

An umpire from the Texas League
stood grimly on the field—
He stood by his decisions—not an atom would he yield—
The bricks flew by in hundreds, the bottles whanged and crashed,
Long bowie-knives were brandished,
and a thousand pistols flashed!
Said the umpire, cold, defiant, "Not

For my father was a Blackburn and my mother was a Lee—
One-half of you would slay me, since they think my verdict wrong,
But the other half are with me, and that helps the fun along!
Go to it, then, you Texans—when the slain are heaped upon
The field by tens and twenties, then we'll let this game go on!"
So the Texans bravely battled, and the whizzing bullets fled,
Till by 4 P. M.—fourth inning—all the audience was dead!
Said the umpire: "Count the slaughtered!
Are they dead, yes, one and all?
No one left to hoot decisions? Then get busy, boys—play ball!"

PADDOCK MAY RUN AT HARVARD MEET

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, April 28.—Charles W. Paddock, Olympic sprint champion, who at recent meets at Berkeley and Redlands, California, was credited by timers with establishing five new records, announced today he would compete in the invitational meet at the Harvard stadium, June 15 and in the American Inter-collegiate track and field meet at Chicago, June 18.

Jim Minnick to Play on Cowboy Polo Team Here

Arrangements have been made by the Wichita Falls Polo club to have auto busses on Sunday afternoon, May 1, at the Call Field street car station to carry passengers from there to the polo field, free of cost. These busses will go on duty at 2:30 o'clock and transport the polo fans who take the street car line, right up to the polo field.

The Cowboy team think they have cinched their opportunity to win the series with the Wichita Falls Polo club. The well known cowboy player, Jim Minnick of Foard City, Texas, will be here to play with the Cowboys. Minnick just returned to his ranch Sunday from two months' polo playing in California, where his team was second largest winners and Minnick was an individual star of the different tournaments he attended.

The competing teams have decided on Warren Jennings as referee. Dr. Fletcher, captain of Wichita Falls team, will announce the line for the opening game on Sunday. The Wichita team will play in red and black jerseys and the Cowboys will play in white shirts. The opposing teams can easily be identified by these colors.

BOSTON, April 28.—Perry weakened in the fourth inning today, Boston making three runs and eventually winning from Philadelphia 6 to 2. Bush started in the box for Boston but was expelled in the first when he claimed that Witt, who had walked, did not score on Dugan's double to the left field score board. Myers capably pitched the rest of the game and held Philadelphia safe. He received flawless support. Score:

RICKARD DECIDES ON TIME CARPENTIER AND DEMPSEY WILL START CHAMP BATTLE

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Arrangements for the Dempsey-Carpentier heavyweight championship battle in Jersey City July 2 are rapidly taking form.

At a conference today it was decided to send the principals to the center of the ring at 3 p. m. daylight savings time. Under these conditions reports of the battle will be available in the east shortly after 2 p. m. eastern standard time; one hour earlier in the central time section of the United States and as early as 11 a. m. on the Pacific coast.

Sport Writers Galore.

Whether the battle is decided by a knockout or continues the 12 rounds permitted under the New Jersey boxing law, every movement of the pugilists will be recorded by what will be the largest assembly of newspaper and press association reporters that ever gathered for a ring battle.

Rickard stated today that, large as was the number of writers assembled at Reno in 1910, and at Toledo in 1919, there was every indication that the Jersey City bout would surpass both the Johnson-Jeffries, Dempsey-Willard contests in this respect.

Demand for Press Seats.

So great is the early demand for press seats that tentative provision has been made to divide the reporting section into ten divisions. Approximately 140 ring seats will be assigned the press and these will be awarded to those who will operate together, telephone and cable wires. Directly back of this section will come the arena boxes and other high priced seats for spectators, while a second section of press seats will follow for writers who will require wire connections.

In place of the numerous bouts which preceded the Dempsey-Willard match at Toledo, there will be not more than three preliminary bouts.

Tickets will be placed on sale in the larger cities of the country probably next week.

With the exception of a few of the cheaper sections, every seat will be reserved. Prices will range from $5 to $50 ,according to location.

ELECTRA, April 28.—What is believed to be a new county record for single shipments of fuel oil was set here this week when the Beaver Refining company shipped 29 car loads of oil to the United States Oil company of Florence, Colo.

Salm finally gave Hollingsworth a chance and the youngster from the Pirates, with a queer delivery, showed that he was cool under fire even though it was a lot of trouble for him to control the gate. He had the bases loaded in the first and only full inning he pitched, but struck out Eibel and Hollohan, retiring the side.

McDonald was not credited with an error in the ninth when Ewoldt spilled him rounding third. According to the telegraph operator at the Gassers' park, Mac would have had Ewoldt by several feet at third, McElwee making a sure throw from right field, but just as he was ready to receive the ball the Gasser third baseman slammed into him and the ball rolled to the stands. No one was backing Mac up and Ewoldt was across the plate with the winning run before Mac could recover the ball.

The Spudders and Gassers have now played six games, each winning three and losing three. In the six games the Spudders have made 45 runs and 49 hits, while the Gassers have collected 22 runs and 46 hits. With the exception of two contests that the Spudders won by a 13 to 5 score, and an 11 to 1 count, the rest of the battles have been close and hard fought.

Dallas and Shreveport played the first 50-50 game of the 1921 Texas league several days ago, the Gassers coming from behind and tying the score at eight all in the ninth inning. Dallas protested to Doak Roberts, wanting to know why the game shouldn't have been called at the end of the eighth inning when the Marines were leading, 7 to 4, basing their argument on the fact that at that time it was less than an hour before the Shreveport players were due to entrain for their home city. Roberts failed to allow the protest, saying that if the Dallas team had made a move to discontinue play within the hour limit before train time the protest would have been allowed but as Patterson's Pets had failed to take such action the game stands as a tie.

The action of the University club in giving the splendid amateur talent show to further the financial end of local high school athletics has met with splendid success, according to those who made the performance possible. The club should be congratulated for not only putting on a real show, but in realizing that the youth of Wichita Falls needed more money to carry on school sports. The realization and the execution of it in a manner that will give the local high school athletes a chance to compete with the best in Texas is more than commendable. It is now up to faculty to put out real teams.

When the White Sox opened their season in Chicago on Thursday last the noisiest demonstration ever noted on a ball field was accorded them, especially Collins, Schalk and Kerr. The fans expressed their feeling because of the honesty and loyalty of these three players while performing on the same team with the 'eight Black Sox" now legislated out of baseball. The demonstration made us feel very happy because Charles Comiskey, the owner of the Sox. At the same time it made us wonder what sort of a reception the Sox will receive from the fans if they should chance to finish in the ruck of the race. Fans are fickle and in spite of their loyalty to the home team in May, desert it absolutely in October unless the aggregation is a winner. The fans all sympathize with the loser, but go home with the winner, and this holds good in baseball as well as fighting and other sports.

Writes a Book for Cancer Patients

A book which should be read by every person suffering from cancer has been published by Dr. O. A. Johnson, eminent cancer specialist. This remarkable book tells the truth about cancer and its treatment without cutting.

Dr. Johnson is today one of the foremost in the study of cancer. He conducts in Kansas City, Mo., a large, fully equipped Research Laboratory, and has treated many sufferers in the past 20 years. This treatment is entirely non-surgical, as the knife is not used at any stage. Purely medicinal measures only are employed; that is, external applications to destroy the cancer and internal medication to purify the blood. Hundreds of patients testify to the success of the Johnson Laboratory.

"Cancer Truths," Dr. Johnson's book, will be sent free to any sufferer or friend. Delay should be avoided. Address Dr. O. A. Johnson, Suite 500, 1324 Main street, Kansas City, Mo.—Adv.

BETHLEHEM STEEL CUTS DIVIDENDS

NEW YORK, April 28.—Directors of the Bethlehem Steel corporation today declared the regulary quarterly dividends on both classes of preferred and common stocks. President E. G. Grace stated that the dividend on the common stock had been more than earned during the quarter.

He added that the value of orders on the company's books as of March 31 amounted to $110,000,000 as against $145,000,000 in the final quarter of 1920. The decrease, he explained, is accounted for by the progress toward completion of ship building contracts, no new business in ship construction having been booked.

Commenting on general trade conditions, President Grace said:

"It is quite evident that the stabilizing of steel prices has had a wholesome effect on the trade. For the steel industry to obtain a fair and reasonable profit from the business schedule of prices will require a substantial revival in business as well as further reduction in costs."

The two men are alleged to have stolen a small amount of merchandise from a merchant in that city.

Preliminary hearings in connection with the arrests will be held today.

U. S. MAIL WILL BE HAULED IN MOTOR TRUCKS

Effective May 1, the United States mail which is now hauled from the Union station to the postoffice by hand carts will be carried by trucks of the Clisbee Auto Service, according to an announcement from the office of the Fort Worth & Denver railroad.

The contract for the hauling of the mail has been presented to the railroad authorities and has received official sanction.

Reasons for this move, railroad officials say, are that the mail can be handled much quicker with automobiles and with less danger from loss between the two places and from the economic point of view of a money saving.

NEW YORK COFFEE.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The market for coffee futures was easier today. Trades found no special incentive in the Brazilian cables, but the European news was considered less favorable, while there was some further May liquidation and after opening 2 to 4 points lower, active months sold some 12 to 15 points below last night's closing figures in the late trading. A good part of the pressure seemed to come from Wall street sources and supposed to represent liquidation.

Spot coffee quiet, Rio 7s 5 7-8 and 6 cents; Santos 4s 8 3-4 to 9½ cents.

NEW YORK SUGAR.

NEW YORK, April 28.—There was renewed weakness in the local raw sugar market today and prices for uncontrolled sugars declined 1-8 cent to the basis of 4.77 for centrifugal. The committee's price was unchanged at 3 7-8 cents for Cuban cost and freight, equal to 4.89 for centrifugal.

The weakness in raws led to another decline of 25 points in refined prices by two local refiners to the basis of 6.50 for fine granulated, the lowest level recorded for the past four years. Other refiners made no change from the 7-cent level and business was again of a hand to mouth character.

South futures were steady and a little higher at the start on covering, but weakness in both raw and refined led to increased selling by trade and commission houses and prices eased off, closing at net declines of 1 to 5 points. May closed at 3.80; July, 4.00; September, 4.04; December, 3.94.

STOCKS SHOW ACTIVITY IN DAY TRADING

NEW YORK, April 28.—Most of the occasional irregularity which characterized today's active stock market was ascribed to a feeling of disappointment arising from the cut in the Pennsylvania railroad dividend rate.

This episode, it was popularly believed, foreshadowed similar action on the part of other leading transportation systems.

The most hopeful news of the day was the reduction of the Bank of England discount, indicatve of an early settlement of British labor disturbances.

Foreign exchange reflected easier money conditions.

Rails were subjected to moderate pressurte at the outset. After midday prices rallied under lead of Studebaker, General Asphalt and International Paper, but an irregular setback ensued before the close when call money rose from 6½ to 7 percent.

The sudden jump in call loans was attributed to withdrawals of funds made during the day for federal account.

Trading in bonds was more active and a firm tone prevailing in most of the important domestic issues, including liberty bonds.

Total gold reserves, $2,317,569.

Total reserves, $2,504763.

Total bills on hand, $2,167,348.

URGES DEPORTATION.

PHILADELPHIA, April 26.—Speedy deportation of foreigners arrested here Monday night and early Tuesday charged with distributing literature advocating the overthrow of the United States government was declared to be the most effective method to combat the effects of radicalism at the conference held today between city and federal authorities. Some of the prisoners, the mayor was informed, have been in the country only two weeks.

STRENGTH SHOWN IN WHEAT PIT

CHICAGO, April 28.—Wheat developed strength today after word was received that the emergency tariff bill had been reported favorably to the senate. The close was firm at the same as yesterday's finish to 1 3-4c higher with May 1.27 to 1.27½ and July 1.05 to 1.05 1-4. Corn closed 5-8 to 1 5-8c net lower, oats off 1-4 to 3-4c and provisions varying from 25c decline to an advance of 2½c. It was a wavering market for wheat until news came of the progress of the emergency tariff measure.

The weakness of the market earlier was ascribed in a general way to bearish weather and crop reports and to unsettled conditions existing between Germany and the allies. Corn and oats were depressed. Iowa advices told of corn planting ten days earlier than usual. In addition, Kansas figures on farm reserves of corn were construed as bearish.

Provisions averaged lower in sympathy with corn.

COTTON UP 7 POINTS ON CABLE NEWS

NEW ORLEANS, April 28.—Small advances were again the rule in the cotton market today but there were periods when little strength was displayed and at one stage the most active months were one to two points under the close of yesterday. Last prices were at net gains for the session from 2 to 7 points with May at 11.77. At the highest of the day the listwas 10 to 12 points over final prices of yesterday. May traded as high as 11.82.

Early steadiness was due to better cables than expected and the better Liverpool market was due to the report that the British coal strike was all but settled and the lowering of the Bank of England rate to 6½ percent. After the first upward movement, the market sagged and toward mid-session reached its lowest levels on the better weather over the belt and the forecast of generally fair weather, for practically the entire cotton region.

In the late trading, there was renewed buying for a while on the report that the threatened seamen's strike in this country had been compromised.

NEW YORK COTTON.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 28.—More favorable Liverpool advices led to an opening advance in the cotton market today but failed to stimulate any general buying owing to better weather conditions in the south and less encouraging reports of prospects for an agreement on war reparations.

After selling at 12.74 early July eased off to 12.62 and closed at 12.67. The general market closed quiet and steady, net five points to four points lower.

The market opened steady at an advance of 7 to 10 points. In response to firmer English cables and reports of better prospects for a settlement of the British coal strike.

Private cables from Liverpool reported increased southern offerings, on the advance there, which checked the local advance, with prices later easily off under small offerings in absence of any important support.

May eased off from 12.22 to 12.12 and October from 13.37 to 13.22 with some positions showing slight rallies at the close on covering. General business was quiet during the day with the market correspondingly sensitive to small orders. A local report points to an average reduction of 30.8 percent in acreage and of 30 percent in the use of fertilizers but was without any special influence.

LIVERPOOL SPOTS.

LIVERPOOL, April 28.—Cotton, spot, in moderate inquiry; prices firm; good middling 8.83; fully middling 8.38; middling 7.63; low middling 6.50; good ordinary 5.33; ordinary 4.58. Sales 5,000 bales, including 3,900 American. Receipts 1,000 bales, no American. Futures closed quiet; April 7.97; May 8.01; July 8.28; October 8.52; December 8.64; January 8.68; March 8.78.

BOY KILLED BY REVOLVER AT ELECTRA

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, April 28—Shot through the head by a .32 calibre pistol, the bullet entering at the left eye and coming out at the back of his head, Conrad Harvey, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Harvey was killed almost instantly this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock while playing with his father's pistol in the home of a playmate, Arthur Toll, about the same age.

The bullet was found on the floor of the next room. Neighbors, who rushed to the scene of the tragedy, were of the opinion that the bullet passed through an open door into the room, as no mark could be found where it had penetrated a wall.

Will Drill in Powell Well At Early Date

Tools were run today in the Powell and Long well, on the J. L. Powell farm, west of Fowlkes, and the hole is now being cleaned out, preparatory to drilling deeper into the sand. The well was flowing by heads Wednesday night, according to reports brought to the city by J. L. Powell, one of the owners.

The well is still in the top of the sand at 1,864 feet, not having been drilled any deeper since the sand was first struck.

This is the hard sand which was drilled at approximately this depth in the first test, several years ago.

The old log shows eight or ten feet of soft sand below the hard sand, it is said, and if the hard sand does not prove as productive as is hoped when this hard sand is drilled in, the drill will be sent down to this second sand.

ATTACK IRISH SHOPS.

Rotary Club Will Install Its Officers

Officers for the year will be installed by the Rotary club at their annual meeting, to be held at the Kemp hotel tonight.

The identity of the officers recently elected by the board of directors, is being held a profound secret until tonight's meeting. Other features of the program are also being held somewhat in the nature of a surprise, it seems, for Harry Bray, who is in charge, has so far divulged none of the plans for the occasion.

Wives and friends of the members of the club will be present at this annual meeting, a variation from the usual rule of "men only."

The club is working for a 100 percent attendance.

COMMUNISTS CALL ON AMERICANS TO START REVOLUTION

By Associated Press.

AURORA, Ill., April 28.—As women went to the doors of their homes today to get the morning mail they found circulars calling upon working men to "overthrow the government of the United tSates by force." The circulars said: "The government of the United States was established by force; it is maintained by force; it will be destroyed by force." Attached was the printed signature, "Central Executive Committee of the Communist Party of America."

ASK REMOVAL OF FEDERAL PRISONERS

To remedy the crowded condition in the county jail a request will be made to Judge James C. Wilson of the northern federal district to have all federal prisoners removed, according to information from District Attorney Jones, Thursday.

The trial of criminal cases for the federal term has been completed and there are still severa prisoners remaining in the jail.

It is expected that some of the prisoners will be released on bond to await trial at the next term of court.

NO. 1 PARKER SHOWING FOR 35 BARRELS

The first new well in the Temple and White pool on the Parker, for several months was reported this week, the S. L. McDowell et al, No. 1 Parker, in Block 18, 35-barrel well at 1337 feet. This well offsets the producers on the Cline 50-acre lease in the east.

Tentative prepartions are being lined out by officials of the local Chamber of Commerce for the expected visit of the Graham people, returning the call made by Wichitans and residents of intermediate places.

Adoption of more definite plans at this time are impossible, the officials say, as it is not definitely known when the Graham people will make the trip, but the local authorities are planning way ahead for the event, as they declare that Wichitans will have to "hump" themselves to measure up to the reception accorded by by the people of Graham.

APPOINT CITY ATTORNEY AND CUT SALARIES

Unanimous election of E. M. Mann as city attorney, and reduction of the salaries of Mayor Walter D. Cline and City Tax Collector Anderson were announced as the only cuts in city salaries definitely reached at the executive session of the city council, held Thursday morning at the office of Judge W. N. Bonner.

The cut in the mayor's salary, in the face of objection by councilmen, was carried at the suggestion of Mayor Cline, himself. Mr. Cline was quoted as saying that he would prefer serving without pay, but felt such a precedent, might, in the future elections, keep good men from entering the race. His salary was reduced from $300 to $200 per month and the tax collector's salary was cut from $4,000 to $3,600 per year.

Salaries in the street, cemetery, sanitary and city attorney's departments will remain unchanged, councilmen said.

The suggestion of City Alderman Shepherd that the salaries of aldermen be cut from $100 to $75 per month was vigorously opposed by Mayor Cline, because of its possible effect on the future. Mr. Cline pointed out that their duties required considerable time and that such action would have a tendency to limit the office, largely to men of means, thus creating a condition incompatible with the desires of democratic government and undesirable to all.

Consideration of the police, fire and water departments was not reached at the meeting, but will be taken up at an early date, according to the announcement of aldermen.

A possible reduction in the force, employed in the city engineer's office, and removal of his offices to rooms at the city hall, soon to become vacant, were included among other economic measures brought up for discussion at the meeting.

Reed Resigns As Collector

The resignation of Scott Reed, internal revenue collector for the second district of Texas with headquarters at Dallas, was forwarded to Washington Thursday according to a communication from the collector received Thursday afternoon by Henry Wampler, chief of the Wichita Falls division. The resignation is to take effect as soon as a successor can be appointed, the communication said.

Mr. Reed announced that he was retiring from the revenue service to enter the practice of law and that he will become a member of the firm of Love & Rutledge, with offices in the Western Indemnity building of Dallas.

No successor for Mr. Reed has been designated and it is believed that some of the present force will be appointed to serve as acting collector until the president appoints a successor, Mr. Reed said.

Mr. Reed was appointed by President Wilson on April 30, 1920, at the time the state of Texas was divided into two internal revenue districts and organized, the offices at Dallas.

Chanters Being Organized Here By Shrine Club

Steps toward the organization of a group of singers to be known as the "Chanters" are being taken by several musically inclined members of Maskat temple. So far, the members of the "Chanters" consists of Ben Neal Grover Bullington, Paul Von Allmen and R. V. Ray. This quartette is seeking to secure enough voices to make this a live organization.

In other cities, the "Chanters" are parts of the Shrine activities just as are the patrol and the band is used very extensively in ceremonies and on trips. The Shriners of Wichita Falls have an unusually large membership of good voices, according to the organizers and they are seeking to interest others to make this a permanent branch of Shrine work.

Meaning of Words Expand With Study

We sometimes speak of a "kind" person, things of the same "kind" and again of "man-kind" but do we ever reflect that the three words come from the same root? That wonderful genius, Shakespare, meant more than a mere play on words, when he put into Hamlet's mouth—who was alluding to his father's brother—"A little more than kin, and less than kind."

A "kind" person is one who treats other people as his kindred, and by his words or actions confesses his kinship. Things of the "same kind" are of the same family. "Man-kind" includes the whole human race. The meaning that gradually unfolds itself as a flower develops, leaf by leaf, is therefore significant and beautiful. Words we use today meant other things centuries ago. But there is always a reason for it. Language is not a mere haphazard growth but a logical development interwoven with the historic development and growth of a people.

Federal Petit Jury Dismissed Friday Morning

With part of the federal petit jury already excused, it is expected that the remainder of the jury will be dismissed for the term this morning with the completion of a law case now on trial before Judge James C. Wilson. Officials stated Thursday that no more cases requiring a jury have been set for trial.

Part of the jury was dismissed Thursday by Judge Wilson with the announcement that no additional criminal cases would come up for trial during the present term.

The criminal settings for the present term have been exceptional in that no pleas of not guilty have been made by those indicted by the grand jury. A total of 11 pleas of guilty were made.

It is not expected that Judge Wilson will adjourn the court until some time Saturday. Cases not requiring a jury will be heard today and Saturday.

R. E. Taylor, federal district attorney, W. C. Austin, assistant district attorney, L. C. Maynard, clerk of the court, have already left for Fort Worth.

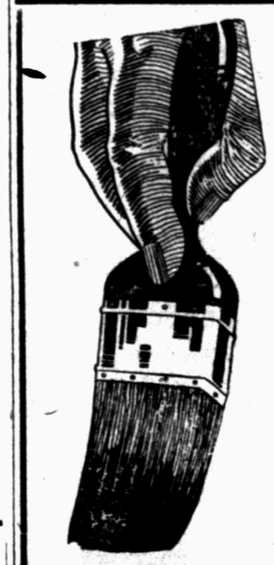

TWO BONDS SET IN AUTO THEFT CASE

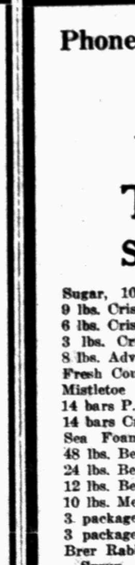

The bond of Leonard Helm and Fred Key, charged with theft of over $50, was placed at $1,000 each by Justice of the Peace Maxwell following a preliminary hearing Wednesday afternoon. The two men are alleged to have stolen automobile casings from the car of C. F. Carter of this city.
