SNOWBIRD ENTRANT

Owen Jones, of Bartlesville, Oklahoma, has gotten caught up in the Bike-A-Thon interest for this weekend. He is staying at the Palo Alto Trailer Park, and plans to try to get most of the residents there to help sponsor him in the event. He has been riding and getting in shape and says he shouldn't have any trouble making the whole circuit. Mr. Jones, who bills himself as the 'Snowbird' entrant, encouraged folks from other parks to join in the fundraising effort. Here, Jones, on his bicycle, talks to Joe T. Bennett.

Aransas County Democratic Women Install New Officers

The Aransas County Democratic Women held their first meeting of 1980, on Thursday, January 10 at 7:30 p.m., in the First National Bank Community Building.

New officers were installed as follows: President, Mrs. Molly Freeborn;

First Vice President, Mrs. H. F. (Billie) Elliot; Second Vice President, Mrs. Mavis Loyd; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Philip (Penny) Baldwin; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Virginia Shivers; Treasurer, Ms. Freddie Lingner; Historian, Mrs. L.E. (Zora) Casterline; and Parliamentarian, Ms. Lola L. Bonner.

The officers were installed by attorney, Lola L. Bonner.

Newly elected President,

Molly Freeborn, outlined some of the goals of the Democratic Women for the coming year. 1980 is an election year, and the organization will meet every second Thursday of the month at the First National Bank Community Building. The women will hold their "Stump Night", an introduction to the candidates for the people of Aransas County, in early April, 1980.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Is Under Way

What has become an annual American tradition continues in our community ... the 1980 Girl Scout cookie sale began Monday, January 14 and extends through January 26.

Scouts will be taking orders door-to-door and over the phone from friends and neighbors. Cookies will then be delivered by the Girl Scouts February 29 through March 15.

Cookies will also be sold at fixed points around town. This year, for the first time, Brownie troops will be selling cookies.

Since 1936, cookie sale funds have helped neighborhood girls participate in national and international Girl Scout events; to purchase equipment and property for the council; to earn camperships, which help finance attendance at the council's established summer camp, and for individual troop activities.

Girl Scouts will be selling six varieties of cookies and a cheddarette cracker. All sell for $1.50 a package.

Ambulances Answer 1 Call Every 8 Hours

Paramedics with the Aransas County Emergency Medical Service responded to 1,012 calls in 1979—an average of one call every eight and one-half hours.

Figures were announced in a report by Bill Aston, paramedic director for the ACMSI and Dr. J. Martin Shaw, operations manager for the service.

Of special note in the 1979 report, they said is that no patients died in an Aransas County ambulance enroute to a hospital.

What makes this figure remarkable, the report noted, is that the service handles only emergency patients, and almost all of the critical or seriously injured patients are transported to hospitals in Corpus Christi.

The ambulance service logged 36,068 miles during the year answering calls, a distance equivalent to 22-1/2 trips from Rockport to New York City, the report noted.

Some 238 of the calls during the year were listed as "miscellaneous." Another 201 calls were to auto accidents and 20 to motorcycle accidents—221 calls resulting from vehicular accidents.

Heart attack calls during the year totalled 180, a decrease of 246 from the year before. Eighty-three calls were the result of falls.

Paramedics responded to 55 calls resulting from recreational accidents—down from 94 such calls in 1978. Part of the reason, they said, was the summer oil scare; there were fewer people engaged in recreational activities.

Other calls answered during the 12 months of 1979 were for: assaults, 42; strokes, 41; industrial accidents, 38; drug overdose, 26; emergency childbirth, 17; drunk calls, 16; drownings, nine; diabetic complications, nine; water rescues, eight; burns eight.

Stabbings, gunshots, nuisance calls and false alarms resulted in five calls each, and paramedics were called to the scene of a plane crash which resulted in injuries to one person.

More than half of the calls—576—originated in Aransas County but outside Rockport. Another 431 were from inside Rockport and five originated outside the county.

Enrollees Sought For CPR Course

Persons interested in a course in cardiopulmonary-resuscitation (CPR) — instruction in how to recognize early symptoms of a heart attack and what to do — are asked to call Roy Olbrich at 729-0385.

The Aransas County division of the American Heart Association is seeking enrollees for such a course, Olbrich said.

Classes can be scheduled during daytime or in the evening. The course involves approximately six hours of lectures and practice on a mannequin.

Persons who complete the course will receive certificates that are good for

Rites Held For Ida Smith

Mrs. Ida E. Smith, 86, died Sunday in a Corpus Christi hospital. She was a Rockport resident for 44 years.

Ms. Smith is survived by one daughter, Romaine Ammons, Rockport; one grandson, Mitchel Ammons, Wharton; four sisters, Billie Petrus, Odem; Daisy Faktor, Tynan; Anna Belle Thiele, Skidmore; Lola Lockard, Skidmore; one brother, Richard Priour, Skidmore.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday, January 15 at the Marshall Chapel in Rockport with Rev. Leslie Crawford, officiating. Interment followed in the Aransas Memorial Park. Marshall Funeral home of Rockport was in charge of arrangements.

one year, Olbrich said, adding that classes can also be arranged for persons wishing to recertify.

The courses are one of the public services provided to Aransas County residents by the local AHA division.

Student News

Two students from Rockport were named to CCSU's Dean's List for the fall semester.

They are Brenda Kay Clark and Annette Reine Boney of Star Rt. 1, an elementary education major.

The Dean's List honors students enrolled for 12 or more semester hours who consistently maintain a grade average of 3.65 or better. A straight "A" average is 4.0 points and a "B" average is 3.0 points.

A total of 578 patients were transported; 434 were not transported. The Life Pak Heart Machine was used 302 times. Some 155 patients were given IVs, 87 were given drugs and 13 required defibrillation (electric shock to heart).

Lyman-Roberts Hospital in Aransas Pass received 155 patients from the ambulance service. Spohn Hospital in Corpus Christi received 135 patients and another 117 went to Memorial Hospital in Corpus Christi.

Fifty-one patients were taken to Enterprise Medical Center in Rockport, and 30 to Aransas Hospital in Aransas Pass. Sixteen were taken to Medical Arts Clinic in Aransas Pass.

Eighteen patients were transported to Driscoll Children's Hospital in Corpus Christi, to the Naval Air Station Hospital, nine to Taft Hospital and 34 to "other" hospitals.

The service placed two new Modular Ambulance Mobile Intensive Care Units into service during 1979, the first in January and the second in November. Both units were out on calls simultaneously 139 times during the year.

Twenty new paramedics were trained in Rockport during the year by the service. Most of these went to work for EMS systems in other areas.

The Rockport system currently employs three full time paramedics and a paid bookkeeper. Volunteer paramedics, emergency medical technicians and emergency care attendants help out with the work schedule.

According to Aston, there are no current plans to request additional paid personnel or more ambulances.

Kathleen Carlson and David Harris Wed

Kathleen Suzanne Carlson and David Sidney Harris, both of Austin, exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony on December 9, 1979 at the Chapel of the First United Methodist Church in Austin. The Reverend Boyd Harris, father of the groom, and pastor of First United Methodist Church of Rockport officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bryan Lane of Austin. The groom is the son of Reverend and Mrs. Boyd Harris of Rockport.

Pam Lane, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and Paul Harris, brother of the groom was best man.

Ushers were, the brides brother, Bryan Lane, and Christopher D. Portmann of Dallas, the grooms brother-in-law.

The bride wore a long gown of white lace. She carried a bouquet of white and deep red roses, with white satin streamers.

The maid of honor wore a two piece formal of blue silk and lace. She carried a bouquet of deep red roses with satin streamers.

The wedding was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Fields of Austin.

Out of town guests included Barbara Portmann, of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. John Minor, Sr. of San Benito, and Laura Ogle of Rockport. The bride and groom both graduated from William B. Travis High School in Austin.

The bride attended Concordia Lutheran College. The groom is a graduate of the University of Texas in Austin.

The couple will make their home in Austin.

Lloyd Heffels Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Heffel, 1505 Dana Drive, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Saturday, January 12.

50 friends joined them at a dinner in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church hosted by the Jack Heffels.

Their only grandchild, Jean Clardy, and her husband, Craig, from Texas City attended the celebration.

A Christogram topping for the tiered anniversary cake was created by two friends and symbolized the presence of Christ at the wedding and during their sixty years together.

Helen and Lloyd Heffel were married in Evansville,

Wisconsin on January 11,

1920, and spent most of their lives in Wisconsin and Florida before moving to Rockport in 1977.

J.E.L. Class Has Luncheon

The T. E. L. Sunday School Class of Rockport's First Baptist Church met January 8 for a covered dish luncheon meeting in the Fellowship Hall.

Sheila Roach asked the blessing before the luncheon.

Polly Rogers, Social Chairman, carried out a "Gems of the Sea" theme in table decorations and dining area, with driftwood, shells and coral, combined with green place mats and napkins.

The program and meeting, presided over by President Mary Godde, opened with the songs "Jesus Never Fails" and "How Great Thou Art", accompanied by Winnie Keith at the piano.

Clara Morse led the group in prayer, followed by a devotional given by Mrs. Godde.

Gladise Thomson won the prize, a sandollar charm bracelet given by Polly Rogers, in a traveling gift game during the meeting. Evelyn Townsend presented the Secretary Treasurer's report.

Those present were Polly Rogers, Viola Ferguson, Mary Godde, Evelyn Townsend, Mamie Schuster, Leone Wagstaff, Clara

Dervage, Tiney Gayle, Clara Morse, Flora Davis, Gladise Thomson, Winnie Keith, Sheila Roach, Evelyn Champion, Fay Henderson, Ruby Clinkscales, and guests were Pam Shenk and Charlotte J. Urban.

The next meeting will be at noon February 12 in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

15th Celebration

Mr. and Mrs. Juan Aleman extend an invitation to the 15th celebration of their daughter, Juanita Aleman, on January 19. The celebration of her Mass will be at 3 p.m., followed by a dance at 8 p.m. at the Paws and Taws Building, Fulton Beach Road.

The Legal Way

Q. My aunt lives in Wisconsin and is 80 years old. She is my godmother. She has no children or a husband. My mother, a sister, and two brothers are her only relatives. If she dies without a will, would I as her godson have a legal right to her estate?

A. A godchild is not listed as an heir of an estate of a Wisconsin decedent who dies without a will. That state's descent and Distribution Statute in an no-will estate (Section 652.01-58.13) lists, in order shown, the following heirs: surviving spouse, children, parents of deceased, brothers and sisters, grandparents, next of kin (blood relatives of equal degree).

Your mother and the two brothers would share equally in your aunt's estate if she dies without a will.

Technology Employed In Meat Processing

The Pilot

Combining the manned assembly-line technique under stringent health and safeguard controls with the technology of the computer-space age has created one of the most efficient operations at the San Antonio H.E.B. Distribution Center.

The Meat Plant is staffed by 109 employees who handle the administration, receiving, production, shipping, maintenance and sanitation that enables the H.E.B. customer to purchase the highest quality selections of choice meat and grade A poultry.

Since its opening November 4, 1978, the Meat Plant has served as a central receiving area for all beef, lamb, pork and varieties of poultry that are distributed to the H.E.B. stores.

Initially, these products were shipped directly to the markets in the individual stores where, for example, butchers broke down sides of beef into the smallest cuts. This gave less consistent quality store-to-store.

Quality control is a major priority of the Meat Plant and by centralizing its operation, H.E.B. now has the highest standards and regulations for the selection and preparation of meat.

All the production area staff first worked in H.E.B. stores, so they are familiar with customer needs and preferences.

Coordinating the needs of all of the H.E.B. stores is the job of a computerized system that links the central offices in Corpus Christi to the mini computer in the Meat Plant.

The computer contains all the information necessary to instruct shipping to fill the proper orders for each store, which receives a delivery from the plant three times a week.

This innovative mini-system is one of the most advanced computers in any meat plant in the country and features "in motion" scales which feed the computer the exact weight of every portion of meat received and shipped.

H.E.B. Truckers Keep Products Moving -- Safely

The H.E.B. Transportation Department is proud of the fact that it has one of the lowest employee turnover rates within the company and in the nation.

Ninety-six of the 250 drivers have been with the company for more than 10 years; 23 have more than 25 years of service to H.E.B.

It is no wonder that H.E.B. has extremely competent, dependable, safe-drivers—each person must complete a thorough and sophisticated safety and training program before becoming a full-time driver.

All the drivers are encouraged to enter Truck Roados which are held within the company as well as regionally, statewide and nationally.

Truck Roados are held to promote safety and to recognize the excellent safety record and driving skills of drivers. Within the past few years, H.E.B. truck drivers have won numerous awards, including 1978 National Truck Roados Winner Augustin Guajardo of La Coste.

In 1977 and 1978, Joe Gonzales, of San Antonio received the Vehicle Condition Award at the State Roados.

Texas Motor Transportation Association selected Ernest Fernandez, of San Antonio the 1979 State

Driver of the year.

Since H.E.B. Food Stores are located all over South and Central Texas, individual drivers log over 50,000 miles each year. Each day, H.E.B. trucks and drivers travel the equivalent of one and one-half times around the world.

There are five truck terminals out of which the drivers work: San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Harlingen, Waco and Wharton.

Acid test for gardeners

By PHYLLIS WEAVER
Copley News Service

Did you know that it's a good idea to give your soil the "acid test?"

Most plants grow best in an acidic soil. This is a soil from about 5.5 to just under 7.0 on the pH (percentage hydrogen) scale.

It takes nature around 500 years of physical, chemical and biological processes to make one inch of soil. Modern farming practices can destroy this one inch in just a few years.

If your soil withstands the acid test, you've got a winner.

Your Community Promotion

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO HAVE A PROMOTION THAT WILL PROVIDE ALL OF THE FOLLOWING BENEFITS?

(A promotion that has proved successful for retail merchants in more than 800 markets! Now available in Rockport-Fulton)

1. Guarantees Increase of your Store Traffic! (Increased traffic means new faces — new customers — a must for all retail merchants. National retail statistics show that each retail business loses an average of 15% of its Regular customers each year. Some move away, some die, some are lured away by competitors. If a retail merchant doesn't do something continually to get new customers, he is on his way out of business!)
2. Guarantees Readership of your Advertisements!
3. Guarantees More People will Read Your Advertisements!
4. Traffic increases (new Customers) are Brought to you Week after Week!
5. Provides the Opportunity to Route Traffic Within your Place of Business!
6. Measures Traffic Count (New Customer Results) Down to Individual Persons!
7. Provides an Ideal Advertisement that Will Be Kept and Read!
8. Provides Powerful "Tie-In" Merchandising Opportunities (Promotions within a Promotion)!
9. Increases Traffic for the Normally Slower Days of the Week (Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday) as well as for the Last Days of the Week!
10. Provides Three (3) Impact Areas for Identification and Advertising Power!
11. Adds immeasurable Strength to Any Other Promotion and Assures its Greater Success!

WHAT OTHER PROMOTION OFFERS SO MANY PROFIT-INCREASING BENEFITS YET THE INVESTMENT IS SO SMALL?

H.E.B Bakeries Keep Stores In Bread

Stepping into the H.E.B. Bakeries in Corpus Christi and San Antonio is like moving from the diminutive to gigantic.

A batch of dough normally one to two pounds in the family's kitchen turns into a batch of 250 pounds of donut dough or 1400 pounds of sandwich bread dough.

The Corpus Christi Bakery produces 62 products, predominately bread, buns and rolls and deals in massive volumes of flour.

Seven hundred thousand pounds of baked bread products, enough for a family of three for more than 2,200 years, is produced weekly by 120 employees in a highly automated bakery.

San Antonio's H.E.B. Bakery works with smaller volumes in producing more than 141 varieties of pastry.

One hundred ten employees work staggered shifts around the clock in preparing the doughs, baking, decorating and packaging Royal Maid and Mary Ellen cookies, cakes, pies, rolls and cupcakes that are shipped to the stores ready to eat.

In addition, dough for approximately 60 pastries is prepared, frozen and shipped to other stores for baking and decorating in the stores that have "Home Style" Bakeries.

Special ordered cakes are prepared here, too, and are hand decorated by skilled craftsmen who have prepared cakes in the past for governors, presidents and visiting foreign dignitaries.

as well as birthdays, weddings and anniversaries of H.E.B. customers.

Four mammoth ovens handle the baking needs of 141 varieties of pastry. The cookie oven, for instance, is 180 feet in length, has 160 burners and a tachometer measuring r.p.m.'s of the belt on which the cookies move through the oven.

More than 170,000 pounds of pastry, including Hearth House breads, is produced by the San Antonio H.E.B. Bakery during a normal week.

Taxes Reduced By Bell

On January 1, reduced federal excise taxes on telephone service will result in an estimated $22.9 million savings during 1980 for customers in Texas, according to Glenda Gould, manager for Southwestern Bell.

"The tax will drop from its present rate of three percent to two percent," she said.

This is a further step in the gradual phase-out of the telephone service excise tax instituted by Congress in 1973. The tax is scheduled to expire after 1981.

Congress first imposed the excise tax on a limited basis during World War I. Although repealed briefly after the war, it was reinstated during the Depression and has continued since then on a more extensive basis.

During the 1940s and 1950s, the rate was as high as 15 percent on local service and 25 percent on Long Distance service. From the mid-1950s until 1972, it was 10 percent on most local and Long Distance services. Since 1973, the tax rate has been reduced by one percentage point per year.

"Fire" At Local Residence False Alarm

Smoke pouring off the roof of her residence behind Suttles' Feed Store on FM 1781 prompted Bobbie Suttles to call the fire department about 9:53 a.m. Monday, January 14.

It proved to be a false alarm, however, the "smoke" being caused by steam rising from the damp roof.

Mrs. Suttles praised the quick response to the alarm by units from Rockport's Volunteer Fire Department and the attention shown by an employee of CP&L who, she said, checked the wiring in the house "just to be sure."

Coin toss led to tragedy

By PHYLLIS WEAVER
Copley News Service

Did you know that actress Carole Lombard's death may be attributed to the toss of a coin?

When Lombard went to Indiana on a war bond selling tour she took her mother and her publicist with her.

Both mother and daughter believed in numerology, and Jan. 16, 1942, was the date set for the flight to Hollywood. Lombard's mother felt that 16 was a dangerous number and that three was unlucky too. Lombard was 33 years old, the airplane a DC-3, and Lombard, her mother and the publicist made three.

Mrs. Peters begged her daughter to delay the trip or take a train. But Lombard was tired and in a hurry to get back to her husband, actor Clark Gable.

It was decided to flip a coin — heads a train, tails, the plane. The coin landed tails up. The trio boarded the plane and all three were killed that night when it crashed into a Nevada mountainside.

Now you know.

Rockport Rotarians View Newest Communications System From Bell

A telephone you don't have to dial, a satellite communications system and a conversable television set are among innovations viewed by members of Rockport's Rotary Club in a meeting Wednesday, January 2.

These newest technological innovations by Southwestern Bell Telephone were demonstrated by Bill Haehnel, Southwestern Bell science demonstrator, during a program at noon Wednesday at Rockport's Racquet & Yacht Club.

The program, "An Adventure in Communications," highlights key technological developments in the communications industry during the past 100 years.

"Americans," said

Haehnel, "take all forms of communications somewhat for granted. We have the most dependable and affordable telephone service in the world, but building today's modern telecommunications system has not been easy or inexpensive. The story has been and continues to be a real life adventure as we strive to anticipate and respond to the needs of our customers."

The 25-minute program illustrated how today's sophisticated communications products and services have evolved.

Using a variety of props and demonstrations, Haehnel offered a glimpse of the communications marvels of the future. For example, a typical home communications service projected for the near future is a telephone that, through verbal instructions, operates a household appliance or rings a neighbor's phone.

The program included a miniature satellite communications system like the one used by the Bell System in processing 44 million long distance calls a day.

Haehnel illustrated how the Bell Telephone Laboratories invention of the transistor in 1947 revolutionized American life and set today's accelerated pace of technological innovations in communications.

He explained how Custom Calling Features, now available to many Southwestern Bell customers, is made possible by an Electronic Switching System (ESS).

"ESS, the most advanced method of transferring calls from one location to another, saves the Bell System about a billion dollars in reduced maintenance expenses each year and is capable of handling a tremendous volume of calls at blinding speed," said Haehnel.

Southwestern Bell plans to offer exciting new services and products designed to make the home and office even more efficient, Haehnel said. "We are dedicated to answering tomorrow's communications questions today."

Haehnel began and ended the demonstration by talking with Sparky, a glassy-eyed television set.

The program offered a historical perspective and appreciation of how basic scientific research and development have improved and expanded the standard of living in America.

HAEHNEL DEMONSTRATES DIAL-LESS

Southwestern Bell Telephone science demonstrator Bill Haehnel displays a telephone that doesn't have to be dialed. The device responds instead to verbal commands. It's one of the technological developments Haehnel explained to members of Rockport's Rotary Club during a meeting of the Rotarians Wednesday.

CORPUS CHRISTI—The hazards of a fireplace to the careless have been well advertised, but those of the woodpile are not so well known.

But, they do exist, says Roy D. Parker, area Extension entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Your woodpile may harbor any number of pests, ranging from those which can be a nuisance, to others which cause severe structural damage to your home," the entomologist said.

If the homeowner doesn't proceed with caution, he could be in for a surprise the first time cool weather sends him happily to the woodpile in anticipation of the pungent odor and cheery sound of burning logs in the living room.

"Critters of various kinds and sizes from tiny spider mites to large black-snakes may use the stack as cover during the winter months, just when the unwary homeowner will likely want those same logs for a different purpose," he explained.

Rodents, skunks and rabbits also find the woodpile a fine place to nest, he continued, "as well as insects, spiders, scorpions and other unwanted guests."

Sawdust around the wood is a good sign of boring insects, which may be carried into the house with the logs.

"If wood is stacked on the ground, termites usually infest those logs closest to the soil. Ants—and other insects—find a home around the wood and serve as a food source for spiders and scorpions."

Wasps, looking for a place to spend the winter, may seek refuge in the teeming woodpile, Parker added.

Wood boring insects will usually be consumed by the fire and likely will not infest the home unless the wood is left inside for several days. In that event adults may emerge and fly around inside the home.

Termites can easily infest wood structures if firewood is stacked adjacent to the home in such a fashion to allow a bridge between the ground and the house for the insects.

Logs held over from one season to another should be placed well away from any building "and certainly never in the house," Parker said.

"Bites or stings from insects overwintering in the logs are an ever-present problem. If they are brought into the house with the wood and it isn't burned immediately, these pests may warm up and become active."

To lessen that chance,

Work On Water May Need Permit

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has been delegated authority by Congress to regulate construction activities in waters and wetlands.

The Corps has jurisdiction under two laws: The River and Harbor Act of 1899 and the Clean Water Act of 1977. The River and Harbor Act was enacted to protect navigation and the navigable capacity of the country's waters. The Clean Water Act was passed by Congress for the purpose of restoring and maintaining the quality of the nation's waters.

It is always prudent to request the Corps to make a determination before commencing work in areas that may be considered wetlands.

Wetlands perform numerous functions of value to man, such as flood control, erosion and storm damage prevention, water purification and in particular, the production of large quantities of food necessary to support juvenile shrimp, sportfish, and migratory water fowl.

The Corps of Engineers regulations define navigable waters as those subject to the ebb and flow of the time tide, including all bays, estuaries, tidal creeks and wetlands inundated up to the mean high water line. In nontidal waters, such as many rivers, streams and bayous, Corps jurisdiction extends to the ordinary high water mark.

Most Corps of Engineers permits are issued under Section 10 (33 U.S.C. 403) of the River and Harbor Act of 1899, which requires a permit for structures and work in navigable waters. Examples of activities requiring a permit are: piers, bulkheads, breakwaters, pipelines, dredging, filling, stream excavation, channelization, and similar works.

Before beginning any work in waters or wetlands, it is advisable to contact the Permit Branch in the Galveston District Corps of Engineers Office to obtain a written determination as to the necessity for an individual permit.

With very little effort, a gardener can add 10 to 15 days to the vegetable growing season.

Planting cold susceptible crops early and protecting them from late cold snaps using hot caps, plastic jugs, jars, cardboard boxes or plastic coverings will help extend the gardening season somewhat. But perhaps the best method is to use a cold frame.

Cold frames have been called a poor man's greenhouse. A cold frame can be simply defined as box which gives plants protection from wind, rain and cold and is not artificially heated. If artificial heat is supplied, then the cold frame becomes a hot bed.

Using a cold frame allows you to get an early start on the spring gardening season.

Although you can start tomatoes, cucumbers and other seedlings in a sunny area in the house, these seedlings often become leggy and weak from growing too fast. If moved outside, these plants may not be able to make the sudden adjustment to fluctuating day and night temperatures and poor growth results.

The best solution is to germinate the seeds inside and as soon as the seedlings have formed a set of true leaves, move the plants to a protected area outdoors where they can gradually become acclimated to outside conditions.

Although cold frames are usually used to get an early start on the spring gardening season, during winter they can be used to protect crops such as lettuce, radishes, beets and carrots from possibly damaging cold weather.

The cold frame should be located on a well-drained site and oriented to the south to take advantage of the warming rays of the sun. Some type of protection on the north side such as a fence or wall will help protect the cold frame from northerly winds and can also be utilized to reflect heat and light back to the cold frame.

Cold frames can be built in many different shapes and sizes. A convenient size is 3-6 feet wide with a 12 inch front and an 18 inch back. The sides can be made of plywood and the top constructed of light lumber or old window or glass door frames.

The wood should be treated to prevent rot with a preservative of some type which is non-toxic to plants. It is also a good idea to paint the inside either white or silver to reflect more light to the plants.

The top should be attached to the high side of the cold frame with hinges to allow it to be opened and closed.

Cold frames are usually sunk 4 to 6 inches into the soil to provide adequate protection from extremes in weather conditions. Soil can also be banked up around the cold frame to provide added insulation.

Although not absolutely necessary, it is often advantageous to remove 4 to 6 inches of soil from beneath the cold frame and replace it with a layer of gravel or sand. If seedlings are to be grown directly in the cold frame rather than in some type of planting flat or container, 2 inches of gravel and 4 inches of a good, fertile topsoil or soil mix should be applied to the bottom of the cold frame.

Operation of the cold frame is relatively simple. To help maintain optimum growing temperatures, equip the cold frame with a thermometer to determine whether or not the top or "sash" of the cold frame should be opened to allow ventilation.

When the temperature reads above optimum growing conditions, open the sash and permit air circulation to reduce the temperature. When the sun goes down or when temperatures start to drop, close the sash to retain the heat absorbed from the sun by the soil.

The secret to successful plant growing in a cold frame is to be sure to give the plants plenty of ventilation, but do not open the cold frame directly into a gusty wind.

Optimum growing temperatures for seedlings of most cold hardy plants range from 50 to 70 degrees F. for most tender plants from 60 to 75 degrees F. When the temperature is cold outside and the sun is shining, you might have to raise the top to keep the plant from overheating. It can get over 90 F. in a cold frame in full sun when the temperature is 20 to 25 F. outside.

On extremely cold nights or during extended cold periods, the cold frame may need some extra protection by covering it with a quilt or blanket. By the same token, if the sun is bright and temperatures are high you may need some shading to keep the plants from burning.

Give some thought to building a cold frame to extend your garden season. You may find that a sheet of plywood and an old window frame may be your best garden investment ever.

Food allergies are prominent

One-half of all allergic diseases, of which an estimated 25 percent of the population suffer, are due to food allergy.

This half concerns at least 30 million people in the United States. — CNS
