Former Air Force Officer Says Radar Material Slipped Out On Fifth Attempt

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Former Air Force Major George Racey Jordan told today of ripping secret radar equipment out of four planes bound for Russia in the war but said a fifth with the same material reached the Soviet union.

Jordan told a news conference he snatched the equipment from four planes at the Great Falls, Mont., air base. But another plane made it to Russia from Washington without stopping at Great Falls and balked him, he added.

The former air force officer touched off a new investigation of secret material allegedly obtained by the Soviets in a broadcast last Friday.

Phoned Superior Officer

He charged that the Soviets obtained uranium products in the war and repeated the accusation before a congressional committee yesterday. Uranium is used in making atomic bombs.

Jordan was an expediting officer for lend-lease supplies to Russia at the Great Falls base in the war.

He told the news conference he found the radar equipment, which he never had seen before, in a C-47 transport destined for the Russians.

Jordan said he telephoned his superior officer, a Colonel Gitzinger, at Wright field, Dayton, Ohio, and asked him about the equipment.

"Good God," Jordan quoted Gitzinger as replying. "Don't tell

Youths Readily Admit Staging Armed Holdups

Bonds Of $25,000 Each Are Set For Two Of Defendants

(By The Associated Press)

CORSICANA, Dec. 6 — Two of four Bonham youths accused of armed robberies over Texas were placed under $25,000 bond each here today. Later they were returned to Dallas.

They were James Scrivner, 21, and William Robert Leeman, 22, who waived examining trial when they were arraigned before Justice of the Peace W. H. Johnson on a charge of robbing a Corsicana drive-in grocery.

Scrivner and Leeman were captured by Dallas patrolmen early yesterday after a running gun fight in Corsicana. Others of the quartet include Billy Mann who was arrested at Dallas last night and Talmadge Bonham, a halfback on the Bonham high school football team, who was arrested at school.

Charged In Plains Jobs

Scrivner, Leeman and Bonham are charged with the armed robbery of a Crosbyton dry goods store on Nov. 26 in which the store owner was shot. Leeman, Bonham and Mann are charged with armed robbery in Lubbock and Leeman and Scrivner with the $1,000 armed robbery of a grocery store in Houston.

Dallas Chief of Detectives Will Fritz said he believed Scrivner, Leeman and Bonham first would be tried in Crosby county for the Crosbyton robbery.

Corsicana officers returned Scrivner and Leeman to Dallas this afternoon.

Don Morrissey of the Corsicana Sun interviewed Scrivner and Leeman today in the presence of Police Chief Bruce Nutt and Sheriff David Castles.

Needed More Money

He said Scrivner told him: "We needed more money for the kind of life we wanted to lead and we thought stealing it was the easiest way to get it."

Morrissey said both Scrivner and Leeman readily admitted participation in the holdups over the state. Scrivner signed a statement but Leeman refused to make or sign a formal statement.

B. B. Cowart, assistant manager of a Cabell's drive-in grocery here identified Leeman and Scrivner as the two men, both armed, who had robbed him Sunday night. The prisoners readily admitted the Corsicana robbery and gave de-

Girl Killed, Escort Shot

MEXIA, Dec. 6 (AP)—A 19-year-old girl was shot to death and her companion was wounded in front of her home in Mexia early today.

Six hours later a man called City Marshal Raymond David at Teague from Fairfield and said:

"I've done something I want to tell you about."

Officers from Mexia went to Fairfield, about 25 miles away, and brought back John L. Rudasill, about 26. He was charged with murder and assault to murder and theft of an automobile.

Annie McDonald died instantly with three bullet holes in her body. Her companion, Melvin Dempsey, about 30, was shot once. Sheriff Bill Green said the bullet hit his nose and lodged in the back of his head. He was in serious condition.

Chief of Police A. B. McKenzie said the girl had gotten off work at 1 a. m. and

West Accused Of Looking For Cannon Fodder

Rearming Rumors Persistent Despite Officials' Denials

(By The Associated Press)

FRANKFURT, Germany, Dec. 6 The West German press accused the western powers today of trying to revive German militarism with a "cannon fodder" army.

The newspapers claimed the West wants an army of German "mercenaries" as a bulwark against the Russians.

But nobody has asked the Germans whether they want an army, the newspapers said, contending that the German people are overwhelmingly opposed to German rearmament.

No Present Plans

Although western Allied officials have announced publicly there are no present plans for rebuilding a German army, persistent reports have circulated that western military leaders favor such a step.

Yesterday a spokesman for West German Chancellor (Premier) Konrad Adenauer said the Bonn government would agree under certain circumstance to form an army. But the spokesman declared the West German republic was not taking the initiative in proposing such a military move.

The spokesman said Adenauer was "fundamentally" against German rearmament because she needs her whole power for civilian reconstruction. He added that if the western Allies insisted, however, western Germany would be willing to raise an army—equipped by the United States—to serve as part of a European army under a combined European command.

A "Sad Conclusion"

Commenting on recent German press reactions, the U. S. high commission's press branch reported:

"The German press comes to the sad conclusion that while Prussian militarism has died, world militarism is growing and flourishing . . .

"Despite all official denials, the discussions of possible military participation of Germany in defense of western Europe will not down. The paradoxical situation is that the Allies, who have charged Germany's past military spirit with prime responsibility for the troubles of the last century, are now being reproached, with themselves adding fuel to the military flames."

Displeasure Displayed

"The newspapers display sharp displeasure over what they call the nonchalance with which the

NATIONALISTS UPHOLD BLOCKADE

Chinese To Ignore Protest From U.S.

(By The United Press)

HONG KONG, Dec. 6—Chinese Nationalist Foreign Minister George Yeh today rejected an American protest against Nationalist gunboats firing on American ships trying to trade with the Communist port of Shanghai.

Yeh informed U. S. Charge D'Affairs Robert Strong that the Chinese Nationalist foreign office does not intend to make a formal written reply to the American protest.

Two Ships Hit

The U. S. protest was made by Secretary of State Dean Acheson last Wednesday after a Nationalist gunboat fired on the freighter Sir John Franklin of the Isbrandtsen line.

Another of the line's ships, the Flying Cloud, was hit by shell fire from a Nationalist destroyer on Nov. 15. The State department also protested that incident.

(In New York, the Isbandtsen company, in a full page advertisement in morning newspapers, addressed an open letter to Secretary of State Dean Acheson in which it asked for protection of their ships.

Firm Given Warning

("Another American ship carrying an American crew and cargo is leaving Shanghai tomorrow, Wednesday," the advertisement said. "How will you insure their safety?")

Although Yeh reiterated the Nationalist government's right to blockade Shanghai, he promised the Franklin, now in Shanghai, would be given a safe conduct to clear the port without interference. The Franklin was hit when she tried to enter Shanghai but no one aboard was injured.

Yeh warned that any Isbrandtsen ships trying to enter Shanghai in the future would have "rough going."

Called Violation

Acheson in his protest said that the firing on American ships was a violation of the legal rights of the U. S. But at the same time he warned that vessels trying to enter blockaded Chinese ports did so at their own risk.

Panamanian Consul Bernardo Veroara disclosed meanwhile that a number of Chinese-owned ships had applied for Panamanian registry to avoid confiscation by the Nationalists. Five applications have been approved and 17 others are on file, he said.

Singing Imbibers Pain To Barkeeps

DAVENPORT, Ia., Dec. 6 (U.P.)—When happy customers sing, barkeepers and tavern operators here weep.

It's because of the federal cabaret tax.

In the last few weeks, several tavern operators paid taxes of $300 to $1,000 to the federal government because investigators for the Internal Revenue Department decided the men actually were operating "cabarets."

One tavern operator said he had to pay the tax because a group of spirited customers were singing as they stood at the bar. However, he said he did employ a piano player to "liven up" the place on Friday and Saturday nights.

Woman Rejects Yule Freedom

SHAWANO, Wis., Dec. 6 (U.P.)—A young farm wife, convicted of slaying her husband, today turned down a judge's offer to let her spend Christmas with her children.

Mrs. Annabelle Rades said she would rather start serving her two to four year sentence in Taycheedah state women's prison immediately.

Couldn't Face Children

"I couldn't bear to face my children again," she said. "What sort of a Christmas would it be if I went home to see them and then went off to jail?"

In passing sentence upon her for the third degree manslaughter of her husband, Levi, Circuit Judge M. G. Eberlein had offered to let her begin her term in January so she could spend the holidays with her family.

Taken To Prison

Mrs. Rades was taken to the prison immediately after she turned down the judge's offer yesterday.

Eberlein, in handing down the sentence, told Mrs. Rades that she

Mercury Drop Due For Area

(By The United Press)

A mass of dry cold air began sweeping toward the Panhandle and South Plains today but it lacked the icy punch of a norther.

The U. S. weather bureau at Dallas said temperatures would drop in West Texas during the afternoon and in the extreme northwest portion of East Texas.

Showers were expected to fall in the northeast and extreme east sections tonight.

Dalhart Is Coldest

Alice and Brownsville reported the warmest weather Monday with a reading of 74 degrees. Dalhart was the coldest spot in Texas overnight with a sub-freezing 28.

Brownsville reported the high minimum, 63 degrees, yesterday.

The weather bureau said Salt Flat recorded 32 degree weather early this morning. Other cold sponts were Amarillo, 34 degrees; Wink, 36 degrees; El Paso, 37 degrees, and Lubbock and Lufkin, 39 degrees.

Brownsville had .68 inch of rain during the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a. m. today. Austin and Victoria reported slight rainfall.

Escaped Prisoners Sought At Memphis

MEMPHIS, Dec. 6 (U.P.)—Two escaped prisoners from the Hall county jail at Memphis were sought today by West Texas officers.

The pair escaped Sunday night after knocking a small hole in their second floor cell and leaping to a nearby roof.

Labor Surplus Is Found Here

More persons are now seeking jobs in Lubbock than there are jobs open, and while the situation is not "alarming" yet, it is definitely a matter of concern for the next two to three months, the Texas Employment commission said today.

Following an acute shortage of farm laborers in the early fall, a point of balance in labor supply and demand was reached about Nov. 11 and the surplus of labor has been gradually increasing in nine counties around Lubbock since that time.

Applications Increase

By way of example, B. T. O'Connell, manager of the Lubbock office, explained that on Nov. 7 there were 190 applications for work here, with 60 so-called "new" applications, and a month later, on Dec. 5, the number of applicants had increased to 395, with 60 new applications.

This widespread unemployment is partly seasonal and will unquestionably resolve itself in the early spring. However, there may be some discomfort or distress between now and early 1949, the experts believe.

Immediate relief in the nonagricultural labor field is seen in additional hiring of Christmas sales personnel by local firms. This hiring has not yet reached its peak.

Post Office To Help

Similarly ,the Lubbock Post Office will help considerably by hiring large numbers of workers

POST, Dec. 6. (Special) — George W. Owen, jr., 21, of Post, suffered a broken leg this morning when his motorcycle collided with an automobile on a dirt road eight miles west of here.

Owen, an employe of the Ragtown Gin nine miles west of Post, was en route home from work when the accident occurred. The car was driven by Spencer Kuykendall of Post, who was on his way to work at the gin.

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL ENDS IT ALL

Man Kills Ex-Wife, Suitor And Himself

(By The United Press)

MT. VERNON, Wash., Dec. 6— An insanely jealous grade school principal shot and killed his ex-wife and a handsome pilot, then wounded himself fatally while his three-year-old son lay crying in his crib.

John W. Trout, 32, principal of the Rockport, Wash., elementary school died last night, five hours after he shot Mrs. Betty Trout, 27, and William O'Lane, 24, a local flying instructor and veteran war pilot .

Reconciliation Sought

The Trouts' son, Terry, was unharmed.

Police said Trout, divorced a year, had visited a Catholic priest earlier in the day in an attempt to bring about a reconciliation with his former wife.

The shooting took place in Mrs. Trout's small white cottage on Blackburn road. Her parents lived next door.

Mrs. Trout's father, L. F. Buchanan, called police when he heard the shots and found the bodies. Police said both Mrs. Trout and O'Lane were fully clothed, and apparently had been drinking coffee together.

Grandparents Take Child

Police Chief Don J. Landreth said the shooting apparently was motivated by jealousy.

Landreth said Trout used the next-to-last bullet in his nine-shot .32-caliber revolver on himself.

Ship "Mutiny" Only A Brawl

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (U.P.) — City police took over today after deciding a "mutiny" aboard an inbound sugar ship was only a drunken brawl.

Answering a ship-to-shore call for aid from the captain, 50 policemen, four FBI agents, and Coast Guard officials charged aboard the freighter Nathaniel B. Palmer when it docked last night. They were prepared to quell a "riot."

Instead, they found one slightly wounded seaman, shot accidentally in a scuffle with his captain, and a much disarranged crew's quarters.

Four Charged

Police charged four seamen with assault after harbor forces decided the matter was one for a magistrate's court since the fray occurred in the east river and was far from "mutiny on the high seas."

Capt. George Diez, angry and red-faced from his exertion, said he tried to break up a fight in the crew's mess after supper. Because several of the men had been ashore visiting Staten Island bars while the 7,200-ton vessel was anchored in the harbor awaiting favorable tides, he prepared for trouble by arming himself with a revolver and handcuffs.

Gun Went Off

Diez tried to put the cuffs on one of the belligerent men and in the general scuffle that followed

Old St. Nick's Christmas bag will be filled to capacity when he arrives on the South Plains this Christmas, but most of its contents won't be paid for at the time, a survey of Lubbock business establishments indicated today.

A sharp increase in credit buying and a tendency of consumers to spend money before they get it, are straws in the wind that show money isn't quite so plentiful even though 1949 will be close to a record-breaking Christmas on the South Plains.

Credit Buying Soars

Credit managers of Lubbock department stores report noticeable increases in credit buying. This is confirmed by Mrs. Gladys Workman, manager of Retail Merchants associaton, who says a gradual increase in credit investigations to the point where her office is handling 30 to 40 per cent more volume than last year at this time.

With the larger volume of credit business is coming a larger number of credit defaults, "bad" checks and even counterfeit money.

Bankers say they are talking to more people about small loans in the $50 to $100 category, but banks are cautious about making "unsecured perconal loans" and it is doubtful that the dollar volume of loans has been affected by the pre-Christmas season.

Few More Notes Taken

A few more co-signed notes are being taken for Christmas shopping purposes, but scarcely anyone is mortgaging property or automobiles to get Christmas shopping funds, bankers say.

B. Watkins, credit manager of Dunlap's department store, is one of numerous Lubbock executives who closely observe buying trends. He has noticed that even in "soft goods," meaning suits, dresses and the like, there has been a marked increase in long-term installment buying..

Some stores, for example, will take one-third down on ready-to-wear and other soft goods, and ac-

Lubbock Woman Dies Of Accident Injuries

Mrs. Luther Champion, 38, of Forty-seventh and the Tahoka highway, died at 4:55 a. m. today at St. Mary's hospital of injuries suffered in a car-truck collision at 6:15 p. m. Saturday two miles southeast of Shallowater on the Lubbock highway.

Three other persons received minor injuries in the accident.

They were her husband, 40, and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McGraw of Littlefield Star Route 2, passengers of the car. Earl McMurray, 26, of Shallowater, driver of the truck, was not injured.

State police who investigated the mishap said McMurray's truck skidded into the path of Champion's 1947 model car when McMurray tried to stop his vehicle from plowing into the rear of another car, which had stopped without warning.

Her death brought to five the number of fatalities resulting from weekend accidents in the area and increased the year's casualty list to 97.

Survivors include her husband; a son, Carl Garner of Dallas; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McGraw of Long Branch; five sisters, Mrs. Fay Alexander of Butler, Mo.; Mrs. Norris Keeling, Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. Clyde Heartless of Timpson, Miss Ida Belle McGraw of Long Branck and Mrs. Johnnie Floyd of Tatum; four brothers, Preston of Baton Rouge, La.; Grover of Mesquite, Sid of Dallas and L. Bright Farm Picture Hiked Job Openings

November Employment Figures At Year's Peak, Report Says

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The job situation appeared to be looking up in November—even before the lift that the Christmas sales season usually gives to employment.

New figures from the Census Bureau were welcomed by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer as showing that "the job picture in November was perhaps more favorable than at any previous time this year."

The figures, released by Sawyer late yesterday, showed in brief:

60,954,000 Americans, counting 1,436,000 in the armed forces, had jobs good for one hour a week or more in November, even if some of them weren't actually working because of illness, strikes, vacations, etc.

The 59,518,000 civilian jobs in November represented a gain of 517,000 over October, although the total was 375,000 below November, 1948, when the boom was at its peak.

Furthermore, non-farm employment, up 350,000 in November to a 51,540,000 total,

Missing Child Is Found Safe

DALLAS, Dec. 6 (AP)—A two-and-one-half year-old girl, missing from her home at Lisbon, Tex., since noon yesterday, was found alive and apparently unharmed today in an automobile parked two blocks from her residence.

The child, Becky Ann McClung, was found by a man who lives in Lisbon, Frank Debettencourt.

Screams With Joy

The mother, Mrs. Truman McClung, at the sight of her daughter, screamed joyfully: "Oh my God, my baby, my baby."

Hundreds of persons had taken part in a 24-hour search for the little red-haired girl who had last been seen strolling down a Lisbon street, pulling a red wagon.

Debettencourt said the tot was asleep when he spotted her in the parked automobile.

She did not appear to be harmed, officers said.

Combed Wide Area

Lisbon is south of Dallas. Searchers had combed a three-mile radius around the McClung home.

By 10 a. m. today the search party had dwindled to 31 persons, including 12 policemen, two deputy sheriffs and 11 civilian vol-

AMA DISCUSSES FUND PROSPECTS

Doctors Face Assessment To Fight "Socialized Medicine"

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—Most of the nation's doctors today faced the prospect of a regular "dues" payment—just like a union or fraternal organization—to fight what the American Medical association terms "socialized medicine."

The house of delegates, policy-making body of the AMA, arranged hearings on a proposal for the "mechanics" of such a system. Under it, some 150,000 of the country's treasury. The house of delegates is having a meeting here this week.

Funds Claimed Limited

Up to now, AMA officials say, the organization's funds have been limited. Its revenue came from subscriptions to its various publications, from advertising therein, and from payments of a $25 assessment leveled on the member ship to back an "educational" program among the American people against federalized compulsory sickness insurance.

At last June's annual meeting of the AMA, the house of delegates approved a proposal to introduce a system of dues-payment, and referred it to the board of trustees to work out a proposal for details.

Dr. Francis Borzell, of Philadelphia, speaker of the house of delegates, told a reporter such a system would provide "funds to carry on an educational campaign to acquaint the American people with our concept of good medical practice."

Fishbein Absent

He added:

"It would provide defense against the threats of a system of practice which we believe would break down the quality of medicine that the American people have enjoyed and would tend to either delay or hamstring forward medical progress."

Borzell said he was referring to "threats" of "federalized compulsory sickness insurance."

Conspicuous by his absence at the luncheon yesterday for the press covering the forthcoming AMA meeting was Dr. Morris Fishbein who last week announced his withdrawal as editor of the AMA's journal.

For many years, Fishbein has given reporters information on what they might expect in the way of news at AMA sessions.

Last June, at the AMA's annual meeting, Fishbein was muzzled by the organization and forbidden to speak out on controversial subjects.

Interviewed at a social gathering on the eve of the present meeting, Fishbein said he had quit his journal job because "it was impossible to publish the type of periodical of which I can be proud."

1950 Farm Program Studied At Meeting

SHALLOWATER, Dec. 6 (Special) — More than 250 Lubbock county farmers met here at the Shallowater clubhouse Monday night for the first of eight meetings planned for the familiarizing of area farmers with the 1950 farm program.

The meeting, sponsored by the Lubbock County Production and Marketing association and the Texas Extension service, was under the direction of D. W. Sherrill, county agent; Glen Hackney, president of the Lubbock County Farm bureau; and Walter Y. Wells, administrative officer of the Production and Marketing association.

Training Film Shown

Sherrill showed educational films on livestock management and soil conservation during the meeting.

Hackney explained how the Farm bureau helps area farmers and what its advantages are.

Wells explained the cotton acreage allotment program and marketing quotas for 1950 to those at the meeting and urged that every cotton farmer vote in the referendum to be held throughout the state on Dec. 15.

The farmers' general reaction to county quotas as displayed at the meeting, Wells stated, was favorable. "Of course, it is natural that some were opposed to the quotas but no dissension was voiced at the meeting," he said.

Refreshments Served

Refreshments were served at the meeting by the Homemaking class of the Shallowater High school. The refreshments were furnished by the Farm bureau.

Other meetings will be held at the Idalou clubhouse Tuesday, Cooper school in Woodrow Wednesday, Tech stock judging pavilion in Lubbock Thursday, New Deal school Saturday, Frenship school at Wolfforth Dec. 12, Slaton school Dec. 13, and Roosevelt school in the Acuff community Dec. 14. All of the meetings will start at 7:30 p. m.

Yugoslav Spy Verdicts Due

SARAJEVO, Yugoslavia, Dec. 6 (AP)—Yugoslavia's trial of 10 White Russians charged with spying for the Soviet Union reached its final stage today, with verdicts expected by tomorrow or Thursday.

All 10 defendants had pleaded at least partially guilty to joint charges they collaborated with the Nazis in Yugoslavia during the war. Most of them admitted furnishing information to the Soviet embassy after the war, but some of them denied it was spying.

The prosecution completed its case yesterday against the 10 on trial before the three-man district court here in Bosnia's capital city—scene of the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand of Austria which touched off World War I. Closing arguments will be made next before the court hands down verdicts.

Russia Charges Terrorising

The White Russians are refugees from the Russian revolution who have become Soviet citizens. Their trial highlighted Yugoslavia's charges that Russia had set up a spy network inside its borders to assist in a plot by the Cominform to overthrow the independent Communist regime of Marshal Tito.

In bitter diplomatic exchanges of notes Russia has charged Tito's government with terrorizing Soviet citizens. Yugoslavia replied that those arrested not only were spying but had worked for the German occupation forces during the war.

The last four defendants appeared rapidly in succession before the court yesterday to testify they felt "guilty" of aiding the Soviet Union. They said they had tried to stir up unrest in the Sarajevo colony of White Russians and had been urged to send reports on conditions in their area to the Soviet Union.

Elsewhere on the Cominform Tito feud front the Yugoslav Communist party newspaper Borba announced the release of 500 more persons who previously had been arrested for siding with the Cominform against Tito. They were the second large group to be released by Minister of the Interior Alexander Rankovich. However, they still must work for three months in the Yugoslav work brigade to prove they are now on Tito's side.

Gunlock and Spangler were standing beside a road, waiting for a bus, when two trucks, one driven by Coleman, collided.

Police said the trucks skidded across the road and knocked Gunlock and Spangler into a ditch. Lumber loaded on one truck fell on the two men

Chinese Nationalist Position Worsening As Reds Advance

CHENGTU, Dec. 6. (AP)—Clamor for Chiang Kai-shek to resume presidency of Nationalist China became noiser today as the Reds pushed within 90 miles of Chengtu.

(From Hong Kong, Associated Press Correspondent Wayne Richardson radioed that President Li Tsung-jen ordered Nationalist officials in Chengtu to carry on—under his orders. Li, flying to the United States for treatment of a stomach ailment, said he would "telegraph" instruction and would return with a month.)

Meantime, the war situation was worsening. One Red force, striking along the main highway from recently deserted Chungking, approached Neichiang, a ferry crossing 90 miles southeast of Chengtu.

Another thrust along a more northerly highway towards Suining, 90 miles east of Chengtu.

Meeting Reported

(A broadcast from the Communists' Pieping radio said the Reds captured Yungning, a stronghold in southern Kwangsi province. Yungning is only 90 miles from the Indochina border. It was the provicional capital and headquarters of Nationalist Gen. Pai Chong-shi.

(Hong Kong newspapers said provincial army units mutinied at Yuki, 30 miles south of Kunming. The mutineers could threaten Kunming's rear. Their strength was not given.)

Travelers said inhabitants of towns and villages in the path of the Red drive were in a ferment of excitement and fear. They elaborated:

Residents were moving in every direction for safety.

Some were fleeing into the counryside from towns.

Others were rushing into towns from the countryside.

In Chengtu, nearly all schools closed because students fled to their own homes.

University Shut Down

Among institutions shut down was the famed West China Union university, operated mainly by American missionaries.

The student world was filled with unverifiable reports of a tragedy rumored to have befallen students at Chungking. The rumor:

A number of students, carrying banners welcoming the Communists and denouncing the Nationalists went out to hail the Reds last Wednesday. Through a mistake, they entered the Nationalist lines. Troops, angered by the banners, opened fire. Rumors of the number killed ranged from 20 to 200.

An official dispatch said Nationalist planes Sunday bombed Peishiyi airfield on the outskirts of Chungking, setting oil tanks afire.

Red troops crossing the Yangtze from the south bank bombed and strafed a railway station.

On the political front, all assemply delegates on the mainland and at Formosa urged Chiang to resume the presidency. A group that saw him Sunday reported he promised to consider that.

Li Claims Authority

Chinese quarters interpreted this as meaning Chiang would actively take up his old post, but they had no idea when.

(In Hong Kong, Richardson said the English language newspaper, the Standard, reported:

(Just before leaving Hong Kong, Li radioed Chengtu politicians that he is still president, and instructed Premier Yen Ssi-shan "at any time telegraph me for consultations. Please handle national affairs within the authority of your position and from time to time telegraph me the political and military conditions of the central government."

(Li and Chiang differ widely on conduct of the civil war. Chiang had been expected by many observers to assume the presidency when Li departed.)

(A Communist broadcast from Peiping reported the Reds have taken over 534 Nationalist properties and 34,000 personnel since October in Canton. The properties included government institutions, banks, radio stations, plants, schools and universites).

Opera Recital Will Be Presented Here

Arias from famous operas will be presented at the Lubbock High school auditorium at 8 p. m. today as the Texas Tech Artists course presents Licia Albanese, Metropolitan soprano, in recital.

Tickets for the recital may be purchased at the door only for $1.80. Tech students holding even numbered activity receipts will be admitted, in accordance with a system followed this year whereby half the students are admitted to one Artists course presentation and the other half the next time.

Mme. Albanese joined the Metropolitan Opera company in 1940, after coming to America from her native Italy. She has since made numerous tours in connection with her career and became a United States citizen in 1945.

Able to speak French, Italian, Spanish and English, the singer is expected to sing in all four languages on tonight's program. Such operas as Pagliacci, Carmen, Faust, Othello, Don Giovanni and La Traviata are among her repertoire.

Louie Howe Gets Credit For FDR's Career, Son Says

CHICAGO, Dec. 6 (AP) — Elliott Roosevelt thinks Jim Farley — generally credited with master-minding Franklin D. Roosevelt's political career — 'was usually the errand boy for Louie Howe."

In a radio interview, young Roosevelt said:

"The one person who stands out in my mind as having played a far greater part than most people give him credit for in my father's career is Louie Howe.

"He is what might be termed a president maker. He did the master-minding and all the intensive work that went into the years of building my father's political career.

Was Demo Chairman

"While Jim Farley gets most of the credit today, he was usually the errand boy for Louie Howe."

Farley formerly was chairman of the Democratic party and was postmaster general under the late president. Howe was one of the Roosevelt's secretaries.

Young Roosevelt made his observatons on Bob Elson's 20th Century Limited transcribed interview over ABC.

"CLOAK AND DAGGER" CAR IN ARIZONA

WHAT'S GOING ON AT FORD

1. DESTINATION—THE ARIZONA DESERT. Ford ace test driver, Roy Bannister, makes last-minute preparations. His test car, masquerading as a '49 Ford, carries new secret parts and features developed by Ford. He'll drive halfway across the nation to test those features in the Arizona desert. Object of trip: to bring back performance facts that will help build better Fords.

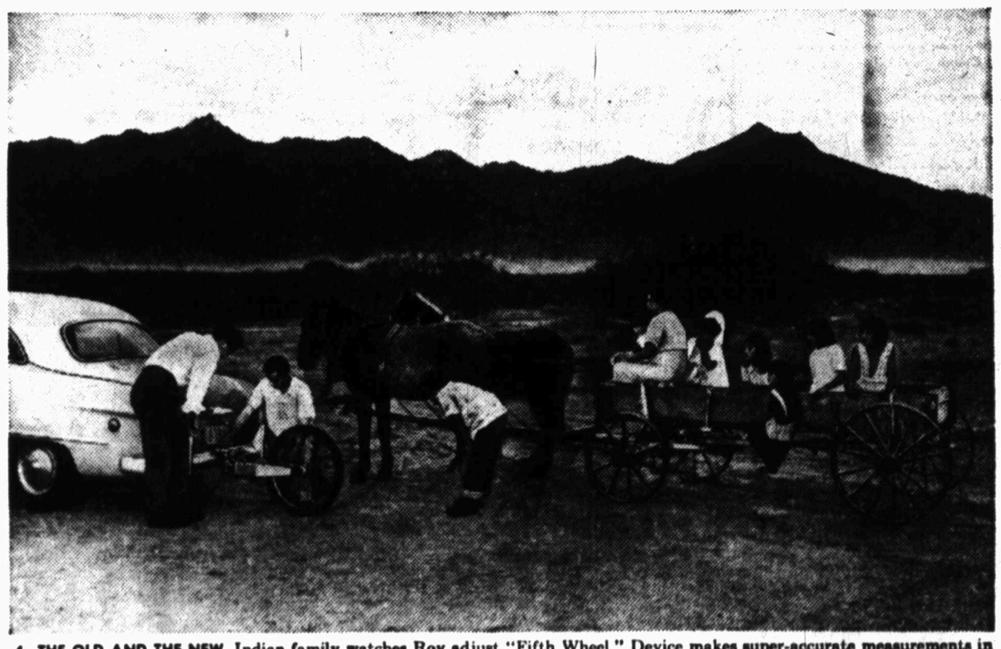

RIGHT NOW, somewhere on the sands near the Estrella Mountains in Arizona, an innocent-looking car is secretly testing a whole collection of new automotive features.

Why? Unusually high temperature there, plus primitive road conditions and corrosive alkali dust can be counted on to duplicate in just a few weeks, the effect of years of ordinary driving.

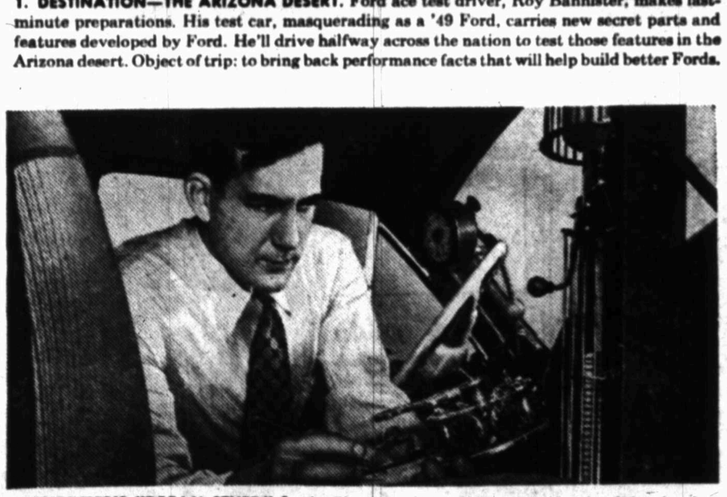

This research brings better Ford products, and it goes on continually, not only in Arizona but everywhere else in the U.S.A.—in the city, in the mountains, in the depths of man-made "blizzards"—with Lincolns and Mercurys as well as Fords.

For almost half a century, Ford, Mercury and Lincoln cars and Ford trucks and tractors have been giving outstanding service all over the world—from Alaska to Zanzibar. They have won a world-wide reputation for dependability. Continual testing helped create that good reputation, and is helping to increase it today. Ford experience, skill, and ingenuity build better products. Ford testing proves them.

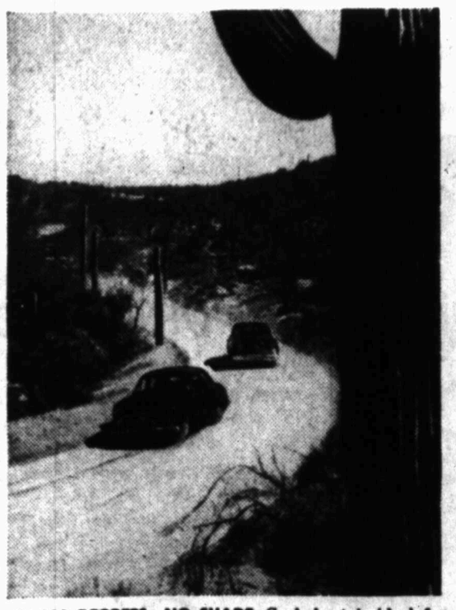

It's part of the Ford way of doing business . . . making the best possible products in the best possible way . . . to benefit producer, consumer, and the nation as a whole.

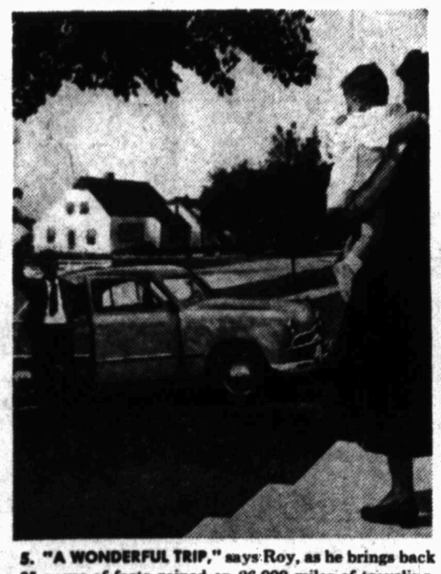

4. THE OLD AND THE NEW. Indian family watches Roy adjust "Fifth Wheel." Device makes super-accurate measurements in fuel economy and speed tests. Estrella Mountains challenge new engine with really tough climbing. Ford will find out how engine climbs—to benefit a million new Ford owners. They may never drive in such mountains, but if they want to, they can.

2. ENGINEER'S "DREAM STUFF." Looks like enough instruments to fly the Atlantic—but they're all necessary to Roy's report. Every feature must be "road-tested" under severest conditions before it can go into new model Fords. Ford wants—and gets—the facts. Ford knowledge, skill, and imagination produce new features. Ford testing proves their worth.

3. 120 DEGREES—NO SHADE. Such heat is ideal for testing carburetor and radiator. Sand and alkali dust quickly put years of wear on vital parts. Fords, Mercurys and Lincolns are punished to improve new models.

5. "A WONDERFUL TRIP," says Roy, as he brings back 35 pages of facts gained on 26,000 miles of traveling. Results show up in Ford cars for 1950, '51 and years to come. Ford testing pays off in better cars for millions.

6. 55 BELOW ZERO. At test track, Roy's car gets "Arctic Test," goes through water-bath tests, races for hours over all kinds of roads, brakes hundreds of times. Result: only proven features go into new models. That's the Ford way of doing business.

Boston Grand Opera Performances Set

Soprano Leonora Corona Will Fill Title Role In "Carmen"

LEONORA CORONA

Surprise announcement that Leonora Corona, dramatic soprano and leading star of the Boston Opera company, would fill the title role in "Carmen" in Lubbock Thursday night was made today by officials of Allen Bros. post of the American Legion.

The manager of the Boston Grand opera had notified Floyd Lebow, finance officer of the Legion, from Amarillo that Miss Corona, a native of Dallas, would make her first Texas appearance with grand opera in Lubbock.

She has appeared with the Metropolitan opera and was billed as the most beautiful star on the operatic stage, the manager told Lebow. She was the youngest singer from Texas to become a star of the Metropolitan and also the La Scala in Milan.

The opera company is to arrive in Lubbock today and will appear in "La Traviata" at 8:15 o'clock Wednesday night and in "Carmen" at the same time Thursday night in Senior High school auditorium, under auspices of Allen Bros. post.

Elvira Helal is to fill the role of Violetta in "La Traviata," as previously announced.

Lilli Valli originally had been scheduled to fill the role of Carmen.

Costs Are Varied

With three singers prepared for the leading roles, the casts vary during the southwestern tour of the opera company. Miss Corona did not appear in New Mexico engagements last week but rested for appearances in Texas, the manager said.

Miss Corona gives a different impression of Carmen to that given by many singers appearing in the role. Believing Carmen to be traditionally accepted as a "low-class" heroine, she seeks to capture loyalty and true love of Carmen for the Toreador in her portrayal of the role. Referring to her portrayal of Carmen, she once said, "I will die with Escamillo's name on my lips."

Role of Escamillo, the Toreador, will be filled by John De Merchant.

Cast Is Listed

The cast for "La Traviata," in addition to Elvira Helal, is to include: Alfredo, Frederick Eckart; Germont, John De Merchant; Flora, Laureen Butlar; Dr. Grenville, Frank Ferrero; Baron Dauphol, Ricco Froelich; Gastone, Ross Hunt; Marquis, Paul Farber, and Annina, Jeanne Comfort.

Lebow said approximately 500 tickets have been sold for each of the two operas. He predicted a "near sell-out crowd" for each performance. He asked that persons who made reservations and have not received tickets call at the Legion hall to pick up tickets. Delivery of tickets has been attempted, he said, but in some cases Legion representatives were unable to find persons at home.

The box office at the high school is to open at 6 p. m. both nights, with tickets remaining on sale until that time at a booth being operated in Hilton hotel and at the Legion hall.

Girls Plan Yule Tea

The J. E. Winder home, 3009 Nineteenth, will be scene of a Christmas tea to be given by Mary-Emma club, home making organization at Lubbock High school, Thursday night from 7:30 until 9 o'clock.

A holiday scene will center the tea table and yule decorations will be featured throughout the home.

The house party will be made up of the FHT chapter: Johnnie Sue Corcorran, Joan Cornelius, June Franklin, Audrey Light, Marilyn Ewing, Mildred Caudle, Janet Mauldin, Carol Jean Sandlin and Faustina Haynes; the sponsors, Misses Gertrude Watson and Mary Frances Temple and Mrs. Carrie Lee Bishop and the hostess, Mrs. Winder and daughter, Sylvia.

Guests will be parents of the hostess group, faculty members of Senior High school and several special guests.

Miss Winterrowd And Mr. Haliburton Wed

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Winterrowd of Southland are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Betty, to Robert L. Haliburton, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Haliburton of Southland which took place recently at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. I. J. Duff of Southland performed the ceremony before an improvised altar of white and pink carnations and greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a pink gabardine suit with a white mum corsage. Miss Lawana Winterrowd, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a blue dress with a corsage of pink carnations.

Bryan Clay Johnston of Southland served as best man.

After the ceremony, a reception was given for the couple.

Postal Clerks, Wives Have Holiday Dinner

Postal clerks and their wives had a covered dish turkey dinner Monday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Inmon, 2524 Twentieth. Following the dinner, Christmas carols were sung.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Ideal, Hardworking Man, Is Worried By His Wife's Pastime Of Flirting With Wolves

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: A prompt reply may be the means of saving our home. I have been married for 12 years, and to quote my wife, I have been an ideal, devoted and hardworking husband; and I may say that she too has been a faithful, industrious spouse.

We have never had much money, and now that we have three children she works only to give them the best. Almost every day she takes the children for an outing, and very often meets male flirts who are on the prowl for dissatisfied matrons.

Our trouble lies in the conversations Josie has with strange men. They sympathize with her for working hard and wind up by asking her out for an evening. She has never accepted; but to my dismay she returns to the same meeting place and permits the man to continue asking for a date. Lately we have had almost daily arguments over this situation.

HER CONTRITE AIR TURNS TO DEFIANCE

JOSIE contends that since she doesn't go out with these flirts, it is merely a form of diversion to accept compliments from them. I contend she is showing a lamentable change in her attitude towards cheating on husbands. To explain, she once cried and confessed that one man had her on the verge of believing it wasn't wrong. But today she says I'm old fashioned and narrow minded, that there is no harm in these flirtatious conversations.

Many times Josie and I have been pointed out as a model couple; but the way things have been going lately; I am afraid our marriage is threatened. There is only one girl on this earth for me, and if she goes back on me—. Well, words fail me. Please tell me what is right or wrong.

(Signed) A. B.

TREAT THE FACTORS THAT FUEL FOLLY

DEAR A. B.: The truth is, Josie doesn't know what she is doing or why, in having playful conversations with male flirts on the prowl. And you may take some consolation from her habit of duly confiding the substance of these talks to you, because it means that she identifies herself with you, is basically attached to you, wants no secrets from you, etc.

Both of you need to understand that these pick-up exchanges aren't the crux of the trouble that threatens the marriage. Rather they are symptoms of a growing log-jam of frustration in Josie's feelings, caused by defects within the relationship, or in the domestic routine, or possibly in Josie's make-up, that you and she must search out and correct.

To illustrate factors that may be fueling Josie's foolish friendliness in the streets, here are a few suggestions: 1. Social isolation due to poverty. 2. Emotional loneliness—often felt by the matron whose husband fails to be a companion in spirit, erroneously thinking it's enough to be her lover and provider. 3. Arrested development within her "psychology," in the sense that she may cling unconsciously to a teen-ager's dreams of perfect bliss with the ideal man—hence would unconsciously resent the "ordinary" portion of reality she has.

NEGATIVE CHARACTER IS DIFFICULT, TOO

YOU describe yourself as an ideal, devoted and hardworking spouse, then speak of Josie as the only girl on earth for you, without whose allegiance you couldn't go on,—all of which, when combined with your anxious sufferance of Josie's problem-behavior, and your need to be told right from wrong, suggests that you may be a pretty limp character in double harness, instead of a mature partner and positive force for good in the family relationship.

It is a common fallacy to imagine that anxious dependency (in association) is the same thing as real devotion, or that passivity of temperament and reclusive habits—negative reactions to life—are the equivalent of moral strength and resolutely fine behavior. This I mention to give you the pitch of honest self-study, because I think it's important to "know thyself" in order to improve your influence on Josie.

Now for Josie's protection I wish to point out that prowling flirts when diagnosed almost invariably are found to be morons or mentally sick, often with a police record of disorderly conduct, which means (1) their overtures are no compliment and (2) the woman who encourages their approach is courting danger, and in her naivete may become a victim of criminal violence. So quite aside from considerations of manners and morals, let her beware! Finally, as further guidance to both of you, study Dr. Edmund Bergler's latest books "Divorce Won't Help" and "Conflict in Marriage," which expound in conversational style some inside causes and possible correctives of problems like yours.

"My dishes and glassware gleam without wiping!"

Mothers and housewives are telling us just how great this new Colgate-Palmolive-Peet product is! Mrs. Robert Coburn, mother of two boys, writes: "What a work-saver! Vel cuts my dishwashing time in half! Now, I just wash my dishes in Vel . . . and rinse! Even my glassware dries really sparkling clear—without wiping!

"Vel saves up to half my dishwashing time...cleans my dishes cleaner than soap! There's no soap scum to polish away—no dishpan ring!"

Milder to hands than any leading product made for washing dishes and fine fabrics!

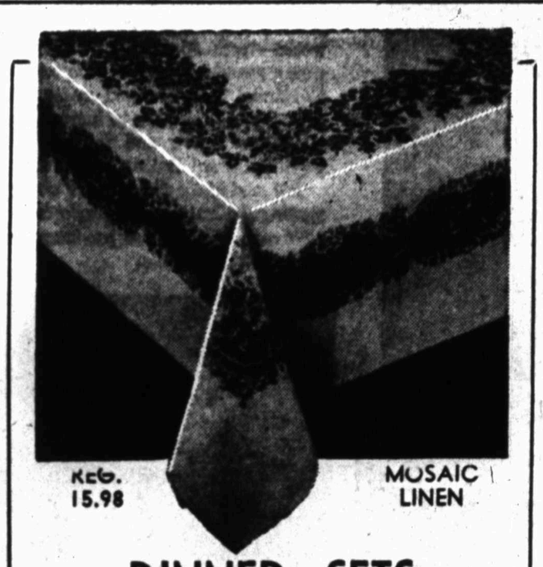

Actual skin tests made by an independent laboratory—name on request—prove Vel milder to hands than any other leading product made for washing dishes, fine fabrics.

*VEL is the trade-mark of the Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co.

"It's hard to believe...but my pots and pans get shiny-clean without hard scouring!"

You'll echo Mrs. Coburn's raves when you try this Vel method. Just soak your pots and pans with Vel suds while you do the other dishes.

Then pour off the suds and you can wash them so shiny clean . . . no hard scouring is needed! Vel cuts grease faster and more completely than soap—yet dishwater never feels greasy!

Discharged Official Will Be Heard

Officers Of WTCC Will Hold Meet In Lubbock Wednesday

Officers of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce are to hold a special meeting of explosive possibilities in the director's room of the Lubbock chamber at 10 a. m. Wednesday.

One announced purpose of the meeting is to hear L. A. Wilke, who was discharged recently as the WTCC service director, and Max Bentley, who resigned as organization director in protest of what he described the "unfair treatment" of Wilke by D. A. Bandeen, WTCC manager.

Bandeen announced the discharge of Wilke and the "acceptance" of Bentley's resignation.

Bentley promptly retorted that his resignation was submitted to directors of the organization and not to Bandeen.

Bandeen's reply to that was the claim that he has blanket authority to hire and fire as he sees fit within the WTCC.

J. M. Willson, of Floydada, president of the organization, announced the meeting to be held in Lubbock to investigate and, presumably, to hear Wilke and Bentley.

Those in position to know said that Bandeen's handling of the matter had resulted in a flood of criticisms and protests, many demanding the removal of the present manager.

Actions Under Fire

Bandeen's direction of the WTCC has been under fire increasingly during recent years.

Officials of the Lubbock chamber said they have not been supplied with a list of those invited or expected to attend.

Wilke was manager of the Sweetwater board of city development prior to his employment on the WTCC staff in 1947. Bentley, a former editor and radio station manager, has been a member of the paid executive staff many years.

Headquarters of the WTCC are in Abilene.

Third Person Held In Lamesa Burglary

LAMESA, Dec. 6 (Special) — County Attorney Vernon D. Adcock today announced a third Latin American, a woman, was being held in the Seminole jail in connection with the theft of $1,000 worth of merchandise from the Collins Dry Goods store here early Saturday morning.

Charged are David Gonzales, 22, of Beeville, and Mr. and Mrs. Vincente Vargas of San Antonio.

Bond for Vargas has been set at $2,000 and bond for his wife at $1,500. Neither had posted bond this morning. Bond for Gonzales was to be set sometime today, according to Adcock.

Adcock said Gonzales has signed a statement confessing to the burglary. Gonzales revealed entry was made through the store's skylight. All the stolen goods, mostly clothing, has been recovered from a hiding place under a culvert 13 miles south of Lamesa.

The men were arrested Saturday afternoon in a rooming house here.

Service For Borger Man Set Wednesday

Services will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in Rix Chapel for E. S. (Jack) Burks, 58, Borger railroad man and brother of Burton S. Burks, Lubbock attorney, who died of a heart attack at his home there Sunday night. Burial will be in the Lubbock cemetery.

Burks, Santa Fe yardmaster at Borger, had lived at Lubbock, Slaton and other points on the Santa Fe line before he moved to Borger.

Survivors include his wife; a son, Robert S. Burks, a student at Texas Tech; two other brothers, O. B. of Austin and C. B. Burks of Sweetwater, and two sisters, Mrs. Hunter Scott of Prescott, Ark., and Mrs. Ray Wylie of Dallas.

Postal Receipts For Month Hit New High

Postal receipts in Lubbock during November totaled $59,331.62 and set an all-time record for November in the city, Postmaster Amos H. Howard said this afternoon.

The figure compared with $49,655.97 in November last year and $43,704.44 in November of 1947.

Postal receipts for the first 11 months of this year have totaled $603,611.11, compared to $523,820.80 in the corresponding period last year.

Receipts for November were not the largest of any month of the year. Receipts in October totaled $67,190.76.

December is the heaviest mailing period of the year and the postoffice is preparing for the Christmas mailing rush.

The record during November was in keeping with a new record set in the state for November receipts. The increase in Lubbock over the corresponding period of the previous year is normal, since Lubbock's receipts increase from year to year. That has been attributed to increase in population and also to the fact Lubbock is a "white spot" on the business maps and receives a large amount of mail for that reason.

Jamaica is seeking from the United Kingdom guaranted markets for its sugar and banana crops, and negotiated prices.

Commanding Officer Of RAFB Is Speaker For Lions Luncheon

"Our relations with the community have been excellent and our people are very happy in Lubbock," Col. Geo. W. Pardy, commanding officer of Reese Air Force Base, declared in an informal talk, preceding the showing of an Air Force motion picture at the luncheon of the Lubbock Lions club at the Hilton hotel today noon.

"I was a little afraid some of our people would be unhappy here after serving at Barksdale, a fine permanent base," Col. Pardy said, "but everything seems to be going along fine. You've come across handsomely in the matter of housing.

Auxiliary Field Problem

"Our only problem is this one regarding use of your municipal airport as an auxiliary field," the commanding officer said. He declared that unless some sort of plan can be worked out for use of the field, training capacity of the base would be appreciably reduced.

He extended an invitation to the Lions to attend the open house scheduled for Jan. 22.

"Send your children out to see us," he said. "One of these days in the future we're going to stage a kids' day and we want them all to come out and see us," Col. Pardy said.

He was introduced by Jim Crook. Two new Lions, Ray Burkhardt and Jack Whitley, were introduced. Out-of-town visitors at the luncheon included: M. Hubter, Dallas; E. A. Deering, Wolfforth; Wm. H. Stern, Gary, Ind., Eddie Edwards, Los Angeles; and Tom Crooks, San Antonio.

The suit, styled Patsy Evelyn Goen and others against Owosso Manufacturing company and others, grew out of the death of Mrs. Goen's husband, Kenneth Lee, 24, in a Feb. 3 collision five miles west of Lubbock.

Goen's car struck the rear of a truck driven by an employe of the defendant company, which is organized under the laws of Delaware. Mrs. Goen was 19 at the time, and the child was only two days old.

Winston Brummett was attorney for Mrs. Goen and others.

SUIT UNCONTESTED BY HUSBAND

Shirley Temple Wins Divorce After Revealing Rough Times

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6 (AP) — Shirley Temple won a divorce by testifying that John Agar drank too much, played around with other women and almost drove her to suicide. But the handsome actor declines to discuss the case publicly.

The famous child star, now 21, won an interlocutory decree yesterday. It became final in a year.

The 28-year-old former air force sergeant did not contest the divorce. Reached backstage at a Buffalo, N. Y., theater where he is appearing in a show, Agar said last night:

"As usual, there are two sides to a controversy. Shirley's testimony, as reported to me, reflects incorrectly our real differences. There is much I might have said and might say now. However, as I see it, no constructive purpose could be served by recriminations or airing our respective sides in public."

Support Pay Ordered

The court ordered Agar to pay $100 a month support for their child, Linda Susan, 22 month sold, and awarded her custody to the actress. Under a settlement, Agar agreed to invest his half of community property in a trust fund for their child.

Miss Temple testified that their marital troubles started five months after their marriage Sept. 19, 1945. Agar began coming home later and later, she said, "often very intoxicated."

She was about two months pregnant, she added, when he came home at 4 a. m., intoxicated and with lipstick on his face.

"When I was about five months pregnant," she testified, "at 1:30 a. m. he brought a girl into our bedroom . . . and said 'let's all go out to a party.' Of course, I didn't get up. He left and returned about 4 a. m.

Other Incidents Recalled

"One night Jack came home drunk again, very belligerent, and called me names. After dinner I jumped in my car. I was going to drive over a cliff, or something, but instead drove to the doctor."

Miss Temple said that once he left a party, whispering to a friend, 'I've got to see my girl,' and another time at a party he became enamored of an unmarried girl. "We ended up at our house and he danced a couple of hours with this girl in the playroom. He was kissing her. It was pretty sickening," she said.

Her corroborating witness, Mrs. Sidney Franklin, told the court that on one occasion Agar said to Shirley: "You're repulsive. You're horrible. Why don't you let your hair grow long?"

In Buffalo, Agar said:

"I am naturally greatly concerned with the welfare of our child and trust that what has happened will ultimately result for the best of all of us concerned."

$6,000 Damage Award Is Ordered By Judge

A 99th district court judgment against Francis Lee Jackson, 21, of Dimmitt, was on file Monday, calling for payment of $6,000 and court costs in connection with a suit filed after the August death of Rex Melton, 36, of Plainview, in a traffic collision north of Lubbock.

The suit was filed by Mrs. Zanita Melton, widow of Melton, on behalf of herself and her two minor children, Milton Dion and Sharon Deanne Melton.

Melton died in a Lubbock hospital on Aug. 13, the day after he was injured. Jackson was named as driver of the car which collided with the Melton car.

The judgment filed by Judge G. V. Pardue awarded $5,000 and court costs to Mrs. Melton, and an additional $1,000 and court costs to be divided between the two children.

Leonard Passmore was attorney for Mrs. Melton. Jackson was represented by Ray Cowsert.

Amputation Decision Slated Next Week

Last Try Set Today To Save Hand Of Tennessee Girl, 10

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 6 (AP)—Medical science today makes its last try for a while to save the hand of Betty Lou Marbury, whose faith is in the Lord.

The 10-year-old girl gets one more X-ray treatment here. Then, with Christmas ahead, she returns to her farm home until early next week. That's when a Memphis surgeon wil answer the question:

Must her right hand be amputated? Or will science and the prayers of a nation save it—and preserve the simple faith of Betty?

From a medical standpoint there isn't much hope—a malignant infection such as Betty's isn't easy to cure, or stop.

And many of the ministers who have offered prayers have expressed faith that the hand will be saved but have added that sometimes it isn't "God's will" that a certain prayer be granted.

Betty and her parents drove here yesterday from their home near Brownsville, Tenn., 60 miles away, for an X-ray treatment.

They were met by Chaplain Frederick P. Loman of Baptist hospital, who said a prayer for Betty and then gave her a Bible.

In the hospital the Memphis and Shelby county Baptist Pastors conference offered a special plea for the frail little blonde.

It was six days ago that Betty wrote a letter to the Commercial Appeal. She said she had been told her hand might have to be removed.

She asked the paper's readers to pray that her halth might be restored. She knew, she said, that God would answer their prayers.

Forage Crop To Aid Soil Is Advocated

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 6 (U.P.)—A legume new in this area, lespedeza, is being recommended highly by the University of Nebraska farm department.

The plant adds nitrogen and organic matter to the soil, according to the department's manager, James Dunlap, and appears a promising substitute for alfalfa or red clover or low fertility ground. It is about equal in nutritional value to the two legumes, he said, but does not bloat cattle as they do and seems to have less trouble with insects and diseases.

POLITICIANS TALK OVER FUTURES

New Senators With Political Possibilities Due In January

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—Two freshmen who may be heard from in the future are coming here in January to sit on opposite sides of the political dividing line in the Senate.

They are William Benton of Connecticut and Harry Darby of Kansas.

Benton, a political independent, said he will sit with and vote with the Democrats. He replaces Republican Senator Raymond Baldwin, who resigned to take a state court post.

Darby, Republican national committeeman for Kansas, succeeds the late Republican Senator Clyde Reed.

Ahead of their arrival, Benton and Darby appointments have started politicians talking about the political futures of the comparatively young men who will be sitting in Congress for the first time. Benton is 49 and Darby 54.

Politics Not New

Neither has ever been elected to public office, but both have been in the political turmoil to the point where some of their friends think they may have a future in national service.

For instance, Senator Butler (R-Neb) told a reporter it wouldn't be too difficult for him to visualize Darby as a vice presidential possibility in 1952.

As Kansas national committeeman, Drby has made a lot of friends among Republicans. Although he supported former National Chairman Hugh D. Scott, jr., in first a winning and then a losing battle by Scott to retain his job, Darby came out friends with the opposition.

In fact, he might have been GOP national chairman if he hadn't refused to become a compromise candidate. Refusing, he said he had to stick to his job as head of a steel plate manufacturing firm in Kansas City, Kan.

Darby To Step Out

Darby has indicated he won't run for the Senate in 1950, leaving that slot open for Gov. Frank Carlson, who appointed him. But friends say there isn't any reason why Darby can't remain in the national picture as GOP committeeman.

Benton, well known around Congress, is stepping into a hot political race in Connecticut. He and Senator McMahon (D-Conn) are expected to team up as the Democratic candidates for the two senatorial posts open in that state next year.

Former Rep. Clare Boothe Luce and Rep. John Davis Lodge are among Republicans who have been mentioned as possible candidates.

Benton's appointment by his old friend Gov. Chester Bowles was hailed by Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle, jr., as one that will serve "the best interests of the liberal, progressive policies of the Democratic administration."

Benton already has met some of his new senatorial colleagues from across the table, when he served as assistant secretary of state for public affairs from September, 1945, until September, 1947.

Some of these same colleagues took him over the jumps for his sponsorship of the State department's "Voice of America" radio broadcasts to foreign countries.

Despite the controversy in Congress, however, Benton won approval of the "voice" as a part of the State department's permanent program.

He learned at first hand something about how Congress works—information likely to prove valuable to him in his new role.

A course in totem pole carving is offered at Squamish Life College, British Columbia's all-Indian school in North Vancouver.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY ILL

SNYDER, Dec. 6. (AP)—Proceedings in the 32nd district court have been postponed until Thursday because of illness of District Attorney Eldon Mahon.

Killer Guarded Against Self

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Dec. 6. (AP)—Franklin Thomas Slay, 22, confessed killer of his 16-year-old high school sweetheart, was placed under close observation today for fear he would try to carry out his part in what he termed a double suicide pact.

His shirt, tie, belt and glasses were taken from him at Christian county jail, where he is held on a murder charge. Officers who brought him to Kentucky from Evansville, Ind., suggested that he be watched closely.

Slay, a Florida State college student accused of the hammer slaying of Mary Ellen Harmon, Evansville, was scheduled to have an examining trial today but he said he would waive it. He plans to plead guilty.

Mothers Advised

In an interview in his cell, Slay said he is ready to take "whatever the law demands" in punishment.

He is mainly concerned, he said, in passing along this advice to mothers:

"Be more particular about letting your boys and girls be together at night."

The troubles that beset him and Mary Ellen, he said, started when the girl was baby-sitting. He said he visited her 20 or 30 times and often stayed with her as late as 2 o'clock in the morning.

The girl became pregnant, he said, and "our trouble multiplied."

The body of the girl was found Sunday night in a deep sinkhole near here. Her head had been crushed with a mechanic's hammer.

Raiders Test Rice Tonight

Houston Site Of Encounter

HOUSTON, Dec. 6 (Special) — Texas Tech and Rice Institute clash here tonight in a non-conference basketball game, third court appearance of the season for both teams.

Coach Polk Robison's 12-man Red Raider squad left Lubbock yesterday morning by private bus, spent the night in Temple and were due in here late this afternoon. The game tonight is the first of four road games for the sophomore-packed Raider squad.

Raiders Play Trinity

The Radiers will meet Trinity in San Antonio tomorrow night, Baylor in Waco Thursday night and conclude their junket with an appearance against Howard Payne in Brownwood Friday night.

Making the trip from Lubbock are four forwards, four centers and four guards. Forwards include Chester Jackson, Charles Pinnell, J. R. McAnally and Doral Sandlin. Centers are Gene Gibson, Jim Eddins, Verdell Turner and Irl Brown. Guards are Jack Alderson, Ted O'Neil, Weldon McClure and Jim Sharp.

Tech will be running into another sophomore-laden team in Rice. The Owls have two transfer junior college players, one three-letter senior, one senior with one letter and a non-letterman senior. Two juniors are lettermen and there are five sophomores on the squad.

Principal figure the Raiders will have to watch will be Capt. Warren Switzer, a six foot two senior from Houston who is the most experienced player the Owls have and one of the better players in the Southwest Conference.

Other Owl players the Raiders will face are Tommy Hudgins, Ray Hilton, Joe McDermott, Jim Gerhardt, J. D. White, Charlie Tighe, Ralph Grawunder, Leonard Childs, Marion Froelich, Tom Whatron and Hal DeMoss.

Hudgins, McDermott, Gerhardt and Tighe each have earned one letter at Rice. White is a transfer student from North Texas Agricultural college. Hilton is a squadman who didn't letter and Grawunder, Childs, Froelich, Wharton and DeMoss are all sophomores.

Probable Tech Lineup

Rice has played two games so far, beating Sam Houston State, but losing to Southwestern Louisiana Institute. Tech also has an even break in two games, losing an exhibition to West Texas State and beating McMurry.

The Raiders have been going through scrimmage sessions since their game with McMurry last Wednesday night with Coach Robison attempting to find a combination that clicks with consistency. His probable starting lineup tonight and for the other three games will be Jackson and Pinnell, forwards: Gibson, center; and Alderson and O'Neil, guards.

MAN GETS POST

WICHITA, KANS., Dec. 6. (AP) C. M. Brown of Cotulla has been appointed district commissioner to supervise a national semi-pro baseball qualifying tournament at Cotulla next July 1.

GRID HABIT—Coach Earl Blaik smiles in the background as Army end and captain, John Trent, accepts congratulations and August V. Lambert Memorial trophy from Henry L. Lambert in New York. For the fifth time in six years, Red Blaik's Cadets won the trophy emblematic of eastern football supremacy.

San Jose Boasts 22 Lettermen On Squad

Red Raider Eleven To Face Veteran Team In Bowl Tilt

Texas Tech will face an all-veteran San Jose State college football team in the Raisin Bowl at Fresno, Calif., Dec. 31.

Coach Wilbur V. (Bill) Hubbard, a 1930 Stanford graduate, had 22 lettermen returning to greet him in the fall of this year. The majority of the squad members, including lettermen, are juniors and seniors. There are 15 seniors, 15 juniors and 24 sophomores on the Spartan squad, which also is known as the Golden Raiders.

From this nucleus of 22 lettermen on a 54-man squad, Coach Hubbard was able to build an eleven that won its second consecutive California Collegiate Athletic Association championship. That championship also was its fifth since entering the circuit in 1939.

Members of the CCAA are San Jose, Fresno State, San Diego State, Santa Barbara college, California Poly and Pepperdine. The Spartans won the grid championships in 1939, 1940, 1946, 1948 and this year.

From the champion 1948 eleven Hubbard lost Center Bob Pifferini, who played on the West team in the Shrine Bowl game, and nine other topnotch veterans. Included in this group was the top quarterback the Spartans possessed.

But this year's eleven is almost as strong as the 1948 crew that scored 373 points while holding the opposition to 168. And while the 1948 team won nine games and lost three, this year's team won eight and lost four.

A glance at the San Jose roster shows that the Spartans have a husky team. The starting line averages 201 pounds and the backfield tips in at an average of 181 for a team average of 194 pounds. That gives the Golden Raiders a weight edge over the Techsans.

Line Is Heavy

San Jose has only one end who hits the 200-pound mark, but the rest are mainly six footers weighing 185 to 190 pounds. The tackles all weigh over 200 pounds, scaling up from 210 to 230. Four of the guards weigh over 190, while the other six weigh-in from 200 to 215 pounds.

Three of the four centers weigh over 200 pounds, while the other ball snapper weighs 190. The three quarterbacks are all light, weighing from 145 to 165 pounds. The heaviest halfback is 180-pound John Steele, while the lightest are 155-pounders Buddy Traina and Al Cementina, two of the stars. The fullbacks tip the beam from 178 to 200 pounds.

Outside of two players, the entire squad is made up of Californians. Halfback Harry Russell, top rusher on the squad and second highest scorer, comes from Pittsburgh, Pa. Fullback Max Coley, a third stringer, comes from Miami, Okla.

The Golden Raiders operate from the explosive T formation and under Coach Hubbard's direction, it is explosive. It was good this year for 457 points, an average of 38 a game. In no victory did they score less than 40 points. And the only time this year they were blanked was when Stanford beat them 49-0.

It shapes up as an offensive battle in the Raisin Bowl, with the offense-minded Spartans playing the defense-minded Red Raiders. It might be, in all probability, a repetition of the Tech-Hardin-Simmons game, except that each school knows little about the other.

Five Games Carded At Boys Club Today

A busy five-game basketball schedule is on tap today at Boys club, with the Golden Gophers meeting the Dirty Demons in the Senior game.

In other games, the Basketeers go against the Sorry Lot in Junior league competition. Two Midget contests send Galloping Ghosts against the Raiders and Palominos against Alley Rats. The other game is between the Roughies and Buffaloes in the Pee Wee game.

Monday the Fancy Five came from behind to edge the Five Fools, 32-31, in the top contest of the day.

Paced by Mikey Brady, who scored 18 points during the basketball contest, the Fancy Five poured 20 points through the hoop to overcome a 12-21 deficit. Preston Wolf with nine and Gene Seward with eight topped scoring for the losers.

In the other Junior league game the Sorry Lot outpointed the Hornets, 27-25, with Bobby Tollison scoring nine points for the winners. High game scorer was Don Washington with 13 points.

The Seventh Street Thugs stunned the Unconscious Five, 47-33, as J. R. Bradford made 12 points. For the losers Billy Presley also counted 12 in the Senior contest.

The Midget Eagles trampled the Palominos, 36-20.

High scorer for the Eagles was Jerry Shipp with 16 makers, and he was closely pressed by Wesley Houston with 15 points. Dale Ball's 13 was tops for the losing team.

In Pee Wee competition the Maulers stomped the Stampeders 18-4, with Paul Sikes continuing to lead his teammates and scoring eight points. Pacing the Stampeders was Kenneth Marmaduke with all four points.

Playoff Game Slated Friday

ODESSA, Dec. 6 (Special) — At least 5,000 West Texas football fans are expected to turn out here Friday afternoon to witness the state quarter final Class A playoff game pitting Littlefield's Wildcats against Ballinger's Bearcats.

Kickoff time for the game, which matches two of the state's most powerful running attacks, will be 2 p. m.

Ballinger crashed into the quarterfinals Saturday with a resounding 33-7 triumph over favored Wink. Trailing by 7-6 at halftime, the hard-hitting Bearcats put on an amazing last-half rally that turned the game into a rout. During the final two periods, Wink invaded Ballinger territory only one time.

Ballinger Unbeaten

Littlefield had moved into the quarterfinals Friday with a convincing 26-6 win over the Lefors Pirates at Amarillo. The Wildcats punched over two quick touchdowns in the closing minute of the first half, and were never seriously threatened as they completely outclassed the scrappy Lefors eleven.

Ballinger is unbeaten in 12 games this year, but was tied by Coleman, 13-13. Littlefield lost its first game to Dalhart, 14-0, then started its current 11-game winning streak. One of the Wildcat wins, however, was via the penetration route. It came against Sudan, which held Littlefield to a 7-7 scoring tie.

Complete season records of the two quarterfinal teams are:

LITTLEFIELD — Littlefield 0, Dalhart 14; Littlefield 34, Roscoe 0; Littlefield 39, Morton 6; Littlefield 53, O'Donnell 0; Littlefield 47, Brownfield 7; Littlefield 48, Muleshoe 0; Littlefield 66, Sundown 0; Littlefield 7, Sudan 7; Littlefield 20, Levelland 13; Littlefield 47, Slaton 0; Littlefield 47, Spur 14; Littlefield 26, Lefors 6.

BALLINGER — Ballinger 27, Seymour 7; Ballinger 46, Roscoe 13; Ballinger 34, Dublin 13; Ballinger 46, Stamford 12; Ballinger 13, Rotan 7; Ballinger 34, Haskell 6; Ballinger 14, Brady 7; Ballinger 35, Lake View 14; Ballinger 13, Coleman 13; Ballinger 58, Winters 0; Ballinger 6, Ranger 2; Ballinger 33, Wink 7.

City Cage Leagues Open 1949-50 Slate

Major and Commercial Leagues got the independent team basketball schedule, sponsored by the City Recreation Department off to a fast start last night with two games being played in each loop.

Texas Tech's freshmen, Thomas Tinkers, Westerner Drive-In and Anton American Legion led the assault, all winning their opening games handily.

The Picadors beat the Mason Ramblers of Levelland 67-46; Tinkers beat Reese Air Force Base 70-12; Westerner Drive-In beat Rigney Auto 52-31; and Anton Legion licked the Mims Ranglers 83-6. The first two games were in the Major loop.

Virgil Johnson, former independent team star and Lubbock High school ex, paced the Tech freshmen to their victory with 24 points. Grady Cooper had 16 for the losers.

Jake Broyles, tennis star, led the Tinkers to their walloping of the airmen with 22 points. J. L. Houser had 16 for Tinkers. Lt. R. E. Englebretson had four points for the losers, who were held to three field goals.

W. C. Self scored 24 points in leading the Drive-In to its victory over Rigney Auto, which was led by B. J. Godwin and Gene Taylor, each of whom had eight points.

Horace Baines pitched in 20 points and Bill Wood collected 18 to pace the Anton Legion five. Elrdige Freeman had four points on two field goals for the Ranglers.

Lubbock Boys club turned back the Crawford Electric basketball team in a City Recreation department game, 54-50, last night, with Jackie Cook's 14 points pacing the winners.

Stan Barkowsky pitched in 17 points for the losers for scoring honors.

Lubbock Barber college won a forfeit victory from the Lubbock Cowhands, in what was to have been a curtain-raiser league game, when the Cowhands failed to appear.

Little SMU Player Finds Hart Tough

DALLAS, Dec. 6 (AP)—Little Johnny Champion, star halfback and squad jester of Southern Methodist football, had the crowd attending the team's annual dinner in stitches last night.

He was the star of the show, as usual.

He told about his relations with Leon Hart, Notre Dame's huge All-America wingman, in the SMU-Notre Dame game last Saturday.

Champion, 5 feet 4 and weighing 165, was supposed to block Hart, (6 feet 4 and weighing 255 pounds).

"You know, all I could do was grab Hart's foot as he came by," said Johnny, admitting that it was holding. "That guy really took a tumble. Then he came up to me—I reached about to his knee. He looked down very sternly and said: 'If you don't quit that I'm going to tell the referee on you.' I just looked surprised and said: 'Oh, no, you wouldn't do that surely'."

Champion said "One time I got tangled up in Hart's shoe laces." But he denied that he called Hart "Leon, the peon."

"Call that guy that?" he asked. "Wow!"

Lubbock Faces Plainview Five

Lubbock High school cage teams meet two Plainview quintets there tonight, with the Westerners and Bulldogs squaring off at 8 o'clock.

The Westerners will be seeking their fourth victory of the year and the second at the expense of the Bulldogs, who were defeated at Chapman fieldhouse last week by a 54-24 margin.

Lubbock's "B" team will play at 6:30 o'clock, also having a victory over the Bullpups on its record.

Turner, Reeves Back

Coach David Cook sent his regulars through a shorter workout than usual Monday, and the boys seemed ready for tonight's conflict.

Several additional prospects reported for training from the football squad. Back from last year's cage team are Morris Turner and Garnet Reeves, two boys who saw lots of action on that Westerner quintet. Also suited out for basketball now are Bobby Day, Wayne Noland, Jerry Van Pelt and Dean White.

Probable starters for the Westerners are Jimmy Sexton and Tom Cheatham at forwards, Jim Wilson at center, and Carl Ince and Richard Allen at guards.

Gridders on Team

Completing the Westerners squad making the trip by bus from Chapman field at 4:30 p. m. are Bill Williams, Bob Wassom, Jimmy Hamilton, Charles Rand, Williard Newton and Bobby Sexton.

The "B" team squad, under Coach Dee Alexander, is holding daily workouts at the high school gym, and approximately 50 boys are working out. Starters for the "B" team game have not been selected.

Planiview's squad is composed largely of players off the football team. Expected to start are Lee Dye and Wayne Taylor, forwards; Otis Ratliff and Jock Howard, guards, and D. Harris center.

'Bonus Rule' Backed

Battle Looms At Big Meet

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE, Dec. 6. — Just about the time a lot of big deals seemed to be cooking at the minor league meetings, somebody put the fire out.

So instead of the expected frenzy of trading involving major league teams, the magnates turned their attention today to the squabble on the controversial "bonus rule" which comes up for repeal tomorrow.

Whereas at first it had appeared that Commissioner A. B. Chandler, with backing from the major league executive council, would have enough support to wipe out the regulation, it looked as if it would stay on the books.

Group Opposes Move

The rule makes it mandatory that a player signed with a bonus be brought to the majors within a year or be forfeited to the draft.

A bloc of big league club owners, headed by Hank Greenberg, new general manager of the Cleveland Indians; Fred Saigh, president of the St. Louis Cardinals, Bill Dewitt, president of the St. Louis Browns and Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, have mustered among their farm clubs considerable opposition to repeal of the rule. Along with small, independent club owners, they may have enough strength to prevent such action.

A super-duper deal between the Boston Braves and New York Giants, whereby Boston General Manager John Quinn was expected to start unloading the 11 dissenters who made life miserable for Manager Billy Southworth last summer, apparently had hit a road block.

"We're not any closer to doing business than we were a week ago," said Mel Ott, who is one of the Giants' chief negotiators.

Deal Is Reported

The deal, which could start a chain-reaction of transactions involving other teams, was supposed to involve Infielder Eddie Stanky, Pitcher Johnny Sain, and possibly even young Shortstop Alvin Dark of the Braves, with Shortstop Buddy Kerr, Outfielder Will Marshall and a couple of lesserlight pitchers of the Giants, was at a stalemate stage.

So was the budding transaction between Saigh of the Cardinals and his arch-rival, Branch Rickey, of the Dodgers. They have negotiated for more than a week and Saigh said he was ready to call the whole thing off.

"It isn't often that a first and second place club can close a major deal anyway," he said. "And as far as Brooklyn is concerned, I'm not trading a first line player unless we get one in return. Apparently, that isn't the way Mr. Rickey had it figured out."

The Dodgers had been seeking relief pitcher Ted Wilks and the Cardinals wanted Outfielder Carl Furillo.

The Browns still were sticking to their announced policy of being ready to peddle anybody of the club over 28, since that includes both Second Baseman Jerry Priddy and Third Baseman Bob Dillinger, it looked as if they might eventually work a deal with Cleveland.

INDIVIDUALS HOLD SPOTLIGHT

Rote, Berry Gain Top Spots In SWC

DALLAS, Dec. 6. (AP)—The class of Southwest conference football this year, best evidenced in its great intersectional record, highlighted by Southern Methodist's showing against Notre Dame, is accentuated strongly by individual performances.

Three backs gained over 700 yards each carrying the ball, four passers rolled up more than 1,000 yards, three punters averaged 40 yards or better and two pass-receivers gathered in more than 40 throws.

Also, three teams averaged above 330 yards on offense.

Rote Leads Rushing

Kyle Rote, the Southern Methodist powerman, led the ball-carriers with 777 yards on 142 runs. Geno Mazzanti of Arkansas was second with 743 on 123 and Gordon Wyatt of Rice got 704 on 137 carries.

Lindy Berry of Texas Christian topped the passers with 106 completions out of 200 throws for 1445 yards. Adrian Burk of Baylor gained 1428 yards on 110 connections, Paul Campbell of Texas whipped up 1372 yards on 91 completions and Tobin Rote of Rice made 1020 yards on 66 such throws.

Ben Procter of Texas caught 43 passes for 724 yards and J. D. Ison of Baylor snared 42 throws for 457.

Rote Top Punter

Kyle Rote punted for an average of 44.4 yards, Doak Walker of SMU kicked for 41.7 and Yale Lary of Texas A. and M. punted for 40.0.

Berry led in total offense with 1702 yards on 350 plays. Burk was second with 1347 on 221.

Bobby Dillon of Texas ran back 11 punts for an average of 19.0 yards to lead in that department. Berry was second with 17.6 on 19.

In team offense Texas averaged 362.4 yards in 10 games, Rice 353.5 and Southern Methodist 338.5. Defensively, Texas led, giving up 206 yards per game. Baylor was second with 226.7 and Texas Christian was third with 257.8.

AGGIE TEAM ARRIVES

Sooners Beat Texas Cagers

(By The United Press)

The University of Texas and Texas Wesleyan college, both victims of opening game losses, will be trying for initial seasonal victories tonight when their basketball teams meet in Austin.

The Longhorns will bank on the shooting of Tom Hamilton, the aggressive game of Tom Womack and an overall height advantage over two. Texas Wesleyan lost to Sam Houston State 53-50 in its 1949 debut, while the Longhorns were defeated 65-48 by Oklahoma.

TCU Beats Howard Payne

In games played last night, Texas Christian crushed Howard Payne college 61-31, while Baylor eased over North Texas 59-37.

Sophomore Center George McLeod paced TCU to its third victory without a loss. He scored 14 points, one more than his teammate, Tommy Taylor. The Frogs led 31-15 at the half and played every man on the bench during the evening.

Howard Payne's high-pointer was Herman Moore. His 11 points included one free throw completion as Howard Payne lost its third straight start.

Bears Take Lead

The game drew 1,000 spectators to the TCU field house.

In the Baylor-North Texas match, the Bears took an early lead which was never threatened in their year's opener before 3,000 fans at Waco. With eight minutes left to play, Coach Bill Henderson sent in four sophomores and one junior to finish the tilt. The score then was 47-29 in Baylor's favor.

Four men tied for high point honors with 11 points each. Bill Hickman and Gerald Cobb scored for the Bruins, while Benny Rutherford and Ed Kelly paced the visitors.

Famous "Redheads" Lose To Petersburg

PETERSBURG, Dec. 6 (Special) The famed Olson Redheads take their act to Levelland tonight after stopping off here long enough to lose a 23-22 game to the Petersburg All-Stars last night.

Harold Rhodes was the top Petersburg scorer with six points, while Thurber had nine for the girls team. A crowd of 600 entertained fans watched the game.

The Redheads had a 19-11 lead at the half and Petersburg barely won in the closing moments of the game. It was an entertaining exhibition by the clever girls, who clowned through most of the game to the delight of the crowd.

Between the Lines by Joe Kelly

We have at hand a lengthy, but sincere, letter from a football fan who is dissatisfied with the coaching staff at Texas Tech and who thinks there should be changes made.

Far above the average as a fan, our correspondent signs his name to his letter. But we hesitate to use it here since he is a College avenue businessman and might be putting himself in for considerable criticism as the result of his letter.

Were we to print the entire letter, its contents would exhaust two full columns of type. Since what the letter says isn't anything new—and space being valuable—we can't print it all. But, boiled down, the letter suggests:

1. Getting a new coaching staff at Texas Tech;
2. "Getting the alumni on the ball" so such local and neighboring athletes as Hubert Bechtol, Byron Townsend, George Brewer, Darrell Murphy, et al, "will choose Texas Tech,' 'instead of going to college far away from home; and,
3. Getting Tech out of the Border conference and letting it go "independent," because Notre Dame does well as an independent.

The businessman-fan offers to contribute $100 to a fund to "buy Coach Morgan's contract," and further offers to be responsible for collecting still another $500 to apply on the same fund. But he doesn't say anything about where the money would come from to hire "somebody like Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson," who makes more salary than the president of Texas Tech and the head football coach combined. Neither does he say anything about where the money is coming from to permit Tech to bid against Texas, Oklahoma, SMU, et al, in "influencing" star athletes to come to Texas Tech.

As for letting Texas Tech "go independent," like Notre Dame, our businessman-fan overlooks the fact that Texas Tech prefers to be in a conference, because being in a conference is essential to its standing in the Southern Association of Colleges and Universities. Peculiarly, perhaps, the directors and administrative officers at Texas Tech feel that the academic side of the institution is important, too, along with football.

If and when Texas decides to go in for big-time football, it will have to do as all other big-time football factories do: Get a whale of a war-chest, hire not only a large and expensive coaching staff, but also hire large and expensive squads of athletes every year.

This Texas Tech cannot do — even if it chooses—unless an army of interested friends and alumni get well over $150,000 together to begin the program, and then continues to ante-up until the program can carry itself at the gate, if, indeed, that time should ever come.

Texas Tech's football hasn't been sensational for a good many years. It never has been sensation, save on one or two seasons no more than a decade ago.

We agree with the businessman-fan that a football offense in the Morgan manner, "plunge, plunge and punt," is monotonous, even though it has been winning games.

But we think our businessman-fan, and others who may be dissatisfied, should know that exchanging the Tech coaching staff for another that the same money can buy cannot, in itself, give us a Rice team, an Oklahoma team, or even a TCU team. As a matter of fact, the coaching staff we have, with perhaps an addition or two, could, itself, give us much better football is dissatisfied fans would supplant crying with some hard cash donations to he Matador club with which could be bought some razzle-dazzle boys.

And speaking of razzle-dazzle boys; here it is Tuesday already and no mention yet in this heah column about that tremendous Notre Dame-SMU game Saturday. So far as we are concerned, it was the game of the year in Texas. Who would have dreamed that a down-trodden Mustang eleven, shorn of Doak Walker's services, would rise to heights seldom accomplished on the gridiron. They had to be 200 percent good Saturday to hold what even Coach Frank Leahy calls the greatest team he ever coached. And they almost beat the Irish at that. Football fans, those who saw it, those who heard it and those who read about it, will discuss that game for months to come. And the prime question in everyone's mind will be: Could SMU have won the game with The Doaker in the lineup?

We're in no position to say. We wouldn't take a thing away from the man we consider the finest all-around player we have seen — ever. Our only regret is that Texas Tech didn't play SMU each of the past three years so that we could have seen Doak in action three times. We saw him once and his performance then convinced us that he belongs with the all-time immortals of the gridiron. But would he have spelled the difference Saturday? Frankly, we don't know. We do know that he could do everything Kyle Rote did and do it better. We have an idea that he would have scored when Johnny Champion was caught shy of the goal. We think he'd have kicked the extra point that would have put the Ponies in the lead. And he might have made it over the goal when Rote was stopped.

But whether Walker on the field could have inspired the entire SMU team to play the inspirational ball it played is a moot question. This may have been one of the times a non-combatant was a greater inspiration than an active participant. No one will ever know the answer to that. We do know that Walker is a great leader of men. We do know that he could have fired up the Ponies by not being in uniform. But what we'll always wonder is—if Walker had been in the game, would Notre Dame have had its first defeat?

Ike Williams Retains Title

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6 (U.P.)—Lightweight Champion Ike Williams looked toward England today for his sixth defense of the 135-pound crown, which remained firmly on his head despite last night's "betting scare" and Freddie Dawson's determined challenge.

Williams, who won the unanimous 15-round decision over Dawson, was considering an offer to defend against the winner of a British elimination tournament at London in February, according to Manager Frank (Blinky) Palermo.

Fight Is Dull

The 10,389 fans who paid a gross gate of $45,652 and a net gate of $33,223, witnessed a dull bout. There wasn't a knockdown, and neither negro was in serious trouble at any time.

Williams caused much excitement before the bout by calling reporters into his dressing room and telling them that one of his closest friends had been informed a "betting fix" had been arranged so he would lose the title if the bout lasted its scheduled 15 rounds.

After the scrap Williams somewhat shamefacedly said his friend's information "must have been wrong."

Bout Is Close

Spindle-legged, broad-shouldered Williams of Trenton, N. J., won the close contest because he was aggressive, in nearly every round. But stock Dawson of Chicago made it a close fight because he took advantage of Williams' wildness and slid under Ike's arms to close quarters, where he was superior in the in-fighting.

Referee Charley Daggert voted nine for Williams and six for Dawson, Judges Harry Lasky and Frank Knorsborough voted in unison; eight for Williams and seven for Dawson. The United Press scored seven for the champion, six for Dawson and two even.

Williams, 26 years old, weighed 135 pounds—exactly the lightweight limit. Dawson, 25, scaled 134.

Wayland Frosh Lose To Hardin-Simmons

ABILENE, Dec. 6 (Special) — The Hardin-Simmons freshmen basketball team nosed out the Wayland college first year men here last night 47-39.

The first half was slow with Wayland missing many crip shots. The Cowboy freshmen went into a 27-14 lead at the intermission and had to stave off a last half rally by the Pioneer yearlings.

Ed Aragan led the winners with 12 points, while Stanley Maness, former Amarillo High school star, led the Wayland basketmen with 14.

A return game will be played in Plainview Friday night.

GIL BEATS RILEY

AUSTIN, Dec. 6. (AP)—Pete Gil of Austin last night scored a technical knockout over Mike Riley of Omaha, Neb., for his 13th straight victory as a professional fighter. Riley was unable to answer the bell for the third round.

Revisions In Cage Rules Given Tests

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 6—If the National Basketball association hasn't done anything else for the game, it has, as prexy Maurice Podoloff points out, provided a medium for experimenting with proposed rules changes . . . for instance, they're widening the foul lane from six to 12 feet for a one-month experimental period—which is just picking up a change which the international federation adopted for a four-year stretch . . . If it doesn't work, Podoloff can pick up the phone and order a change within a few minutes . . . "With 17 teams playing as many as 30 games a week, we can tell in a very short time whether there's anything wrong," Podoloff explains . . . Ned Irish, picking up the explanation of the various NBA changes that will go into effect Dec. 15, says the whole idea is to keep teams from "trading fouls" in the closing minutes, by eliminating some of the incentive to foul and by telling the referees not to toot their whistles unless there's a real foul. Sounds good from here.

Kentucky Is Favored

Harry Rabenhorst, Louisiana State basketball coach: "Kentucky is the No. 1 basketball team in the Southeastern conference. Don't anybody feel sorry for Adolph Rupp. We had a conference meeting the other day and Adolph was making concessions to all of us."

Ohio State will be the first team to fly to the Rose bowl . . . And the worst gag is that the Buckeyes will get off to a cloudy start . . . Former lightweight champion Sammy Angott, who's attempting a comeback, hopes to make a movie based on his career. Sammy, okayed yesterday by N. Y. commission doctors, takes on Tony Riccio in Newark next week . . . Oregon State's Slats Gill puts in a plug for Gene Connolly as the lad who may lead Washington State to the northern division basketball title in the Pacific Coast conference. Then Slats adds: "He also will be heard from when he goes into professional baseball, which I hope will be very soon." . . . A "neutral" who usually knows the pitch says that neither of the big pro football leagues has made a move toward getting together with the other—but that doesn't mean that they won't.

Awards Are Confusing

The Norfolk, Va., sports club, which last year picked Charley Justice as the most valuable player in the Southern conference, passed him up this year to honor Buddy Shoaf of Virginia's non-conference team . . . And in Roanoke, Va., Shoaf's home town, the quarterbacks honored Johnny Papi . . . The hoss experts who gathered for the Thoroughbred Racing associations meeting last week picked Tom Gray's Oil Capitol as the horse most likely to be the favorite when the Derby winter book comes out . . . No doubt there'll be a lot of oil (and other) capital invested on his chances.

Wisconsin Is Voted "Surprise" Of Year

NEW YORK, Dec. 6. (AP)—Wisconsin, which rallied from a disastrous '48 season to make a valiant fight for the Big Ten title this year has been voted the "surprise" college football team of 1949 in a nationwide Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters.

Under a new coach, Ivy Williamson, the Badgers won three of their first five conference games, tied another, and were not eliminated from Rose Bowl contention until their final contest, in which they bowed to Minnesota by 14-6.

In all, 23 teams were nominated for the distinction of having most greatly upset pre-season calculations. Louisiana State, which won a Sugar Bowl assignment by walloping such home-conference luminaries as Rice, Tulane and North Carolina, proved a strong second choice.

Henly's Hornets Top Lorenzo VFW, 54-49

LORENZO, Dec. 6 (Special) — Lorenzo's VFW dropped a close, 54-49 basketball decision here Monday night to Henly's Hornets after leading, 31-28, at halftime.

With Pat Clepper leading the way with 17 points for scoring honors for the night, the Hornets came to the front in the final period. Charles McNally had 15 points and Buster Wiley 13 for Henly's, and T. Smith paced Lorenzo with 16.

NEW YORKER LEADS

CHICAGO, Dec. 6. (AP)—Tony Sparando, Woodside, N. Y., veteran, took the lead in the national all-star bowling tournament last night with an 18 game total of 3,742 after six of the seven 24 man squads had competed in the third block. Sparando had games of 205, 264, 184, 215, 223 and 203.

Credit Buying Soars In City

cept payment for the balance on three-months installments without carrying charges, or up to six months with carrying charges.

For a number of years there had been little if any demand for that type of credit on soft goods.

In the appliance field, refrigerators, radios, kitchen ranges and automatic washing machines may be hung on the Christmas tree with smaller down payments than at any time since the mid-30's.

Many dealers are offering those appliances — and others — at $5 down for anything costing up to $200, for $10 down on anything above $200; last year at this season 20 per cent down was required.

One leading department store has tried a new merchandising tactic which executives say is paying off in a satisfactory manner.

Service For Veterans

The store has advertised that veterans due to get insurance rebates from National Service Life Insurance may make purchases against it now, and pay when the check comes, without carrying charges or penalties. The usual good-credit risk requirements are made, of course.

It is believed that there are 200,000 veterans in 79 West Texas counties who will receive insurance rebate checks averaging $175, although the checks will range from 94 cents to $500.

That would indicate that Uncle Sam is going to pass out $35,000,000 in insurance rebates in West Texas, a sum that should be of considerable help to those veterans in clearing their Christmas indebtedness.

At Hemphill-Wells company, W. T. Fain, manager, has noticed several interesting trends in this year's Christmas shopping.

Proportion Is Reversed

Last year the buying was 45 per cent credit-buying as compared with 55 per cent cash sales. This year the proportion has reversed, with 55 per cent credit sales as against 45 per cent cash sales.

Stores that employ the 30 or 60-day open charge account system report increasing numbers of applications for accounts.

Here's an interesting trend which many Lubbock merchants have observed: While the year in general has been 5 to 10 per cent under last year in retail sales, the first few days of December have shown at least a 10 per cent increase over the corresponding period last year.

W. C. O'Mara, manager of Sears, Roebuck and company, says October and November were also heavier than last year.

Get More For Money

He points out that while the year's dollar volume of sales may be off it doesn't necessarily mean people are buying less. They are getting more for their money. There is a wider selection, and even Christmas shoppers have a choice between qualities and prices on similar items.

Last year's inventories were generally recovered from wartime shortages, and are even more complete this year, but a few last-minute shortages are expected, particularly in nylon products and steel products, even this year, merchants say.

Last Saturday was the largest day from the standpoint of dollar volume of sales in the history of the Sears store here, even including the shopping days during last year's record Christmas season.

Many merchants said Monday, Dollar Day, was the largest from the standpoint of dollar volume, they've experienced in recent years.

Jewelry Moves Rapidly

Jewelry in the under-$50 bracket is moving rapidly in Lubbock stores, despite the continued 20 per cent luxury tax. Furs and other expensive goods are also moving well although many of these items, too, are being purchased via the credit method.

Several merchants have noticed an increasing tendency of Lubbock shoppers to make Christmas purchases by mail or telephone, probably to avoid the downtown traffic jams. In connection with these and also with over-the-counter shopping, Lubbockites are taking advantage more and more of free wrapping and delivery services. Most stores like to do it that way, for it gives an air of finality to the sale and takes some of the pressure off gift-wrapping departments when the customer isn't standing on first one foot, then the other, waiting for the wrapped package.

Traffic Is Heavier

Downtown traffic has been heavier than in previous years, and parking is at more of a premium than ever before, partly due to the introduction of parallel parking generally since last Christmas.

Stores that have parking space are wishing they had four times as much. For several days Sears' huge 360-car parking lot has been filled to capacity from morning to night. Commercial parking lots find they are turning cars away increasingly from 9 a. m. on during the day. City bus traffic is heavy.

The Retail Merchants association has been swamped most of the year on credit investigations, particularly since large numbers of Reese Air Force base people have been purchasing all types of goods on credit. The rush has been intensified as hundreds of shoppers open new accounts to tide them over the holiday spending period.

Daily MARKETS

Stock Market

HIGH AVERAGE HELD

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP) — Stock prices just about held their ground — at the year's average high—in an uneven market today.

Selective demand for railroad issues aided in maintaining the level of quotations, although some carriers and others shares finished below the day's best. Changes generally were measured in fractions.

Total transactions dropped to around 1,400,000 shares. Well under Monday's pace.

Holding to slight gains were Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Nickel Plate, American Smelting, McIntyre Porcupine, Dow Chemical, Westinghouse Electric, Zenith Radio, and Johns-Manville.

Depressed were Anaconda Copper, U. S. Rubber, American & Foreign Power second preferred, International Nickel and Warner Brothers.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular in moderately active trading today. Short covering, along with export and mill buying supported early deliveries. The balance of the market sagged on scattered hedging and profit taking.

A leading spot sold about 5,000 bales of nearby March delivery in early trading which was attributed to hedging. There were considerable switching operations.

Futures closed 80 a bale lower to 30 cents higher than the previous close.

Toward the close there appeared to be some mill buying in wheat, in expectation of sales of flour overnight to the Production and Marketing administration.

Some of the selling was traced to a statement by Ralph Trigg, president of the Commodity Credit corporation, that the agency is nearing its borrowing limit.

At the close wheat was ⅝ to 1⅝ lower than yesterday's close. Dec. $2.20⅝-1⅞. Corn was ⅛ to 1¼ lower, December $1.29-29⅛. Oats were unchanged to 1½ lower, December 75½. Appointment To Atom Post To Be Delayed

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 6 (U.P.)—The White House announced today that President Truman will wait until Congress convenes before appointing a successor to David E. Lillienthal as chairman of the atomic energy commission.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said that because so little time remains before Congress comes back in January, President Truman has decided against making a recess appointment to the AEC job.

The City of Dundee's first Scottish country dance attracted 1,500 people to Caird Hall, many of whom waited an hour for the doors to open.

Rites Set For Tech Student

SHAMROCK, Dec. 6. (Special)—Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the First Baptist church here for Edward Lee Briggs, 19, a Texas Technological freshman who was found shot to death about 11 a. m. Monday in the basement of the Shamrock First Methodist church.

Rev. S. N. Dunham will officiate. Burial will take place in the Shamrock cemtery under direction of the Clay Funeral home.

Briggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Briggs of Shamrock, was shot by a .22 caliber bullet over his right temple.

Verdict Withheld

Justice of the Peace John Templeton said a .22 caliber pistol was found near his body. He said the pistol had been purchased Monday morning at a Shamrock store, where Briggs left $40 to pay for a Christmas gift for his mother. At the same time, he reportedly told a salesman he was leaving town.

However, Templeton said he was withholding a verdict for several days at the request of the 270-pound youth's father to see "if there might not be additional evidence which is not yet before us."

Briggs, a tackle on the Tech freshman football team this year, attended a movie Sunday afternoon with two friends, Bryan Close and Clifford Johnson. They said Briggs told them he was going home to Shamrock after the movie and left on the 5:45 p. m. bus from Lubbock.

It has been learned Briggs took approximately $200 from his account from a Shamrock bank an hour before he bought the gun. Bank employes said they believed he left the bank alone.

His father said approximately $100 hasn't been accounted for. He had $10 in his pockets when found.

The youth was graduated last June from Shamrock High school, where he was an all-district tackle. He lettered in football and baseball three years.

Survivors besides his parents are a brother, Donald, a student at West Texas State at Canyon, and a sister, Cora Frances of Shamrock.

temporarily to help with the huge volume of Christmas mail.

In the agricultural field, the main relief will come from the departure of transient workers, many of whom have already begun their exodus, according to Vernon L. O'Ferrell, farm placement manager of the TEC.

Workers from the Rio Grande Valley and Laredo are being sent back to that area, where a shortage of workers exists during the harvest of the citrus, radish, tomato, green bean and spinach crops. It is estimated that the 79,000 farm workers who have been in the nine counties around Lubbock this harvest season, 66 per cent of them are from the valley, Central and South Texas.

Twenty-five per cent of the 79,000 were estimated to be native Texans who work seasonably in Minnesota, Michigan, Nebraska, Montana, Ohio, Colorado and Washington state. These are the persons who will be likely to want to reman on the South Plains during the winter unless they are referred to other areas for work.

Another 12 per cent of the total farm labor supply consisted of local persons who unquestionably will remain in the area. Four per cent are Mexican nationals who are being returned to Mexico and the remaining 3 per cent are natives of California, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Minnesota and New Mexico who may also return to their respective homes.

The farm unemployment problem will be relieved to some extent this month as farmers hire their year-around labor for the coming season, O'Ferrell believes.

In the non-agricultural labor market, the unemployment is most acute in common labor and unskilled workers.

There is an adequate supply of salespersons and clerical help also, however. The construction trades are well employed, mainly to heavy volume of work on several large building projects which may expect to continue for several months.

Eddie Sawyer, placement manager of the TEC, has had "open orders" for non-agricultural workers which he has been unable to fill for months. "And now, suddenly, we have people to fill all our vacancies," he comments.

The TEC is more cautious and pessimistic in its labor market forecasts because of extremely bad weather during last January and February which caused considerable suffering and taxed relief agencies to the limit. If similar prolonged bad weather is experienced this year, the situation could become alarming, it is believed.

The Lubbock office of TEC oversees Lubbock, Hockley, Crosby, Cochran, Dickens, Garza, Kent, King and Stonewall counties.

Young Gunman

tails, Morrissey stated.

During the robbery Police Sgt. W. D. Thedford and his wife drove up to the grocery. She went inside to get groceries. The robbers came out and walked to their car. Informed of what had happened, Thedford sped off in pursuit. Thedford drove up alongside and he said they fired at him. He exchanged shots with them. They hit the radiator of his car and put it out of commission. Early the next morning they were arrested in Dallas.

Leeman told Morrissey he had served a year with the army and "purchased" his discharge from an officer at Sheppard field, Wichita Falls, for $300 in 1945.

Commenting on the gun fight with Thedford Sunday night, Scrivner said: "We didn't intend to kill him, we just wanted to escape. That was the first time we had ever been fired on and we were plenty excited." We shot several holes in our own car."

Planned Robberies Here

Scrivner said he had helped plan an armed robbery in Lubbock but did not participate in that one, saying he "backed out" before the robbery was pulled.

In the Lubbock robbery, Economy Department Store was robbed of $714, and Archie Skibell, store official, was abducted.

Officers said one or more of the youths had made oral statements about robberies in Dallas, Denton, Sherman, Commerce and Houston.

Denison and Greenville officers said they believed some of the youths would be charged with robberies in their cities.

Addison Asks Custody

Scrivner and Leeman were taken to Corsicana last night and put in the county jail. They were to be taken before Justice of the Peace W. H. Johnson today on an armed robbery charge, then returned to Dallas after bond was set.

Addison asked first custody of the trio charged in the holdup there.

"We know how to give them a speedy and fair trial out in my country," he said. "It won't take us all winter long and besides they shot a man out there. In fact, they shot him twice."

A. W. Wallace, the owner of the store at Crosbyton, was shot in the arm when he at first refused to open his safe. About 10 persons watched three swaggering young men stage the robbery. They took Wallace with them when they left. Wallace was shot in the head after he was released from their car on a side road about a mile from Crosbyton.

Croslin Files Charges

Dallas Patrolmen E. J. Coulon and H. D. Thomas captured Leeman and Scrivner early yesterday. Ranger Selwyn Denson picked up young Bonham.

Police Sgt. W. D. Thedford had a running gun fight with two men just after a Corsicana drive-in store was held up.

The Dallas patrolmen arrested the men in a bullet-riddled automobile after chasing the speeding car.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin last night in Lubbock filed the charge against Leeman, Bonham and Mann. Mann was named in the charge as Orville Wayne Mann, alias Billy Mann. Mike Wicks, jr., Crosby county attorney, filed the charges at Crosbyton.

unteers and six soldiers.

The child's mother said earlier today: "I never thought this would happen to us."

Becky's stepfather, Truman McClung, said: "The only thing I can figure is that somebody picked her up."

The search party centered its interest on the Lisbon area after a woman who lives near the McClung's said her dog came home wet last night. The child often played with the dog, she said.

me they got radar equipment. Rip it out."

Fifth Plane Gets Through

The former officer said he complied. Three other planes arrived en route to Russia with the same equipment, he said, adding in each case, "I ripped out the radar."

"General Arnold (Gen. H. H. Arnold, then chief of the army air force) would just as soon have given away his right arm as that radar," Jordan declared.

However, a fifth plane took off from Washington with Maj. Gen. A. I. Velyaev, chief of the Russian purchasing mission, aboard, Jordan said.

"He got into the plane," the former officer said, "and I heard later that he dumped out in the grass at the end of the runway all the other unnecessary equipment and baggage and took off. Instead of landing at Great Falls, he went on to Russia and that's how I missed him."

Jordan said the Soviet general's departure from Washington was reported in newspaper stories and pictures.

German Army

western world takes into its calculations the use of young German manhood," said the press report. "Such a 'cannon fodder' army is rejected as out of the question."

The newspaper Frankfurter Allgemeine was reported as saying:

"Despite official denials, all the world knows that the coolly-working brains of the western generals and experts are weighing the problem of re-erecting the age-old 'bulwark against the east.' The fact must be stressed that this idea was born in Washington, London and Paris and not in Frankfurt or Bonn."

The Deutsche Zeitung of Stuttgart said:

Statements Are Bitter

"All suggestions to include West Germany in the Atlantic pact were not made by a clique of German militarists but by foreign politicians and professional soldiers. We do not aim at remilitarization or recruiting of a West German army of mercenaries which, in case of war, would have to sacrifice itself."

The Mannheimer Morgen said: "The majority of Germans neither wants to wear uniforms again nor to be valued as mercenaries."

The Hamburger Freie Presse said in the next war the "poor continental armies would have to meet Russian super-forces and most probably be smashed by them. Such an honor would be most willingly transferred to the Germans."

Optimists Hear Band Members' Selections

Six members of the Lubbock High school band today presented a musical program at the Optimist club luncheon in Hotel Lubbock.

Chuck Wilson played a trombone solo to the piano accompaniment of Ned Hardin. Richard McCollum, Milton Herring, John Austin and Don Wortham composed a saxophone quartet.

Paul Branom, the band's director, introduced the bandsmen. Billy Davis was program chairman.

The club also was requested to support the coming city bond election by J. Ray Dickey, former city commissioner and a member of the American Business club.

Members gave a unanimous approval of an amendment to the club's constitution to permit a change of policy in the election of officers.

It was also announced the club will aid the Salvation Army solicit contributions to the Christmas fund next Monday.

G. C. Stewart presided and H. B. Watkins gave the invocation.

Employment

was "back to the 1949 high recorded in the late summer months," the Census Bureau said. It added that November "recivered the losses" caused bu the October steel and coal strikes.

Unemployment dropped 167,000 in November to a total of 3,409,000, although it was fairly near double the 1,831,000 total of boomtime November, 1948.

The reason that the expanding job opportunities didn't put a much bigger crimp in unployment, said the bureau, was that people turning out to hunt seasonal work swelled the figures for joblessness.

The farm picture gave an unusual boost to the November employment total by showing a 168,000 climb in November, usually a month when farm work is declining.

The cause: good weather in many areas permitted completion of harvesting operations which had been delayed in October by heavy rains.

On the general scene, not every jobholder who wanted to work full-time—35 hours or more weekly, as the bureau reckons it—was able to get on the payroll for that long.

The bureau estimated that 1,000,000 persons with part-time jobs would have preferred and "could have accepted" full-time employment in November.

Also, it said, about 1,500,000 persons with full-time jobs were forced on part time because of "slack work, material shortages, job turnover and similar factors."

News Briefs

Dr. G. C. Boysen won the president's cup for having made the best talk at the Toastmasters' club dinner at the Hilton hotel Monday night, which featured talk subjects ranging from the importance of cotton to the South Plains to preference for bow ties. Other speakers on the program included: C. W. Ratliff, Kenneth Moore, and Bob Rose. Waggoner Carr was toastmaster and Wm. R. Sewell topicmaster. Lonnie Langston, Joe Torrence, Hugh Anderson, Lou Walker and Dr. M. H. Benson were critics.

Mrs. L. J. Adams of 2800 N. Eighth street and her two-month-old daughter, Sheryl Ann, were released after treatment at Lubbock Memorial hospital Monday night following a two-car collision at 5:50 p. m. at the intersection of North College avenue and the Shallowater highway. They were passengers in a car driven by L. J. Adams, 29. Dueyon McGuire, 20, of Comanche, Tex., driver of the other car, received slight lacerations on the head.

J. J. Van Pelt of 2623 Twenty-third was reported as improved and satisfactory in condition today at West Texas hospital, where he has been a patient since Sunday for treatment of pneumonia.

City firemen had not returned at 2 p. m. from answering an alarm in 500-block Ave. H, but officials at Swift & Co. plant nearby said a two- or three-room residence had been damaged by the blaze.

Two sacks containing numerous dresses, coats and other apparel for women—approximately 61 articles—were found discarded in a bar ditch near the Monrow community this morning. The sheriff's department here and Amarillo police announced that the property had been stolen Monday night from the car of a Lubbock traveling salesman, Phillip Krepps of 2322 Seventh, in Amarillo.

Police were informed this after-noon that the Pleasure garden, a dine and dance place in the negro section of Lubbock, had been burglarized. They sent investigators to the address.

Hoover Report Passage Urged

County Attorney Waggoner Carr today urged members of the Hub City Kiwanis club to push passage of the Hoover Commission report, in an informative speech during their noon luncheon at the Lubbock hotel.

"The two-million word report now before the Congress is not designed to cut any of the services we are getting from the federal government," explained Carr, "but will eliminate only waste and duplication."

Taxes Are High

He said the government could save three billion dollars a year by cutting red tape with the methods prescribed in the report.

"Approximately a third of our salary goes for taxes throughout the year," he said, pointing out that Lubbockites pay hidden taxes on almost everything they buy, from automobiles and homes to cigarets and bread.

For example, Carr said that the Department of Agriculture could lop off 80 million dollars per year from its budget and lose nothing but some red tape. "Government waste makes a five-cent pencil cost the taxpayer $10, by the time it is purchased through requisition and red tape," he revealed.

Report Available

He said that the library of Texas Technological college had pamphlets explaining the report for those who care to study its provisions.

Carr urged members to let their congressmen know that they are behind passage of the commission report. Members had an informal discussion after the talk.

Jason O. Gordon, president of the club, was back from a Kiwanis Midwinter conference at Fort Worth. George Wilson introduced Carr. Prof. Howard Golden offered the invocation.

Miss Amelia Anthony, founder of Girl's oTwn, who was scheduled on the program today, could not be present because one of her girls is suffering from poliomyelitis in a Fort Worth hospital.

Ring Of Baby-Sellers Broken Up By New York Authorities

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (INS)—New York authorities announced today the smashing of an international ring of baby-sellers who used airplane couriers in a widespread black-market "baby-lift."

Assistant District Attorney Ernest A. Mitler charged that two lawyers and a woman arrested today cleaned up over $100,000 during the past 12 months when they "sold children like pieces of real estate."

The trio, which allegedly operated out of Miami and Cuba, and sold their babies to couples all along the east coast as far north as Boston, pleaded innocent when arraigned in special sessions court.

Face Stiff Penalties

They are Irwin Slater, 38, and Harry Wolfson, 37, both of Brooklyn, and Mrs. Bess Bernard, 44, of New York. They were released in $1,000 bail each until Dec. 12 when a trial date will be set.

The three were cited in a six count grand jury information handed down after a seven-week investigation into their purported activities.

Slater, Wolfson and Mrs. Bernard are charged with entering into a conspiracy to sell babies and unlawfully placing children for profit.

They face possible jail terms of six to 18 years and $3,000 fines each if convicted on all counts.

Mitler asserted the group operated on a "systematic assembly line basis" and even delivered one baby to adopting parents in a railroad station.

He called Slater the "kingpin" of the group and described Wolfson as the "office manager" and Mrs. Bernard as "the contact-woman in charge of transporta-

The average cash price for each baby, according to Mitler ,was between $2,000 and $2,500. He said the group "sold at least a baby a week" in New York during the last nine months.

Mitler declared that detectives trailing Mrs. Bernard watched her bring six infants into the New York area from Miami "in two weeks."

He charged that none of the parents who adopted children from Slater ever got court decrees making the adoptions legal and that Slater gave receipts "for adoption services" as a coverup for the illegal sale of babies.

The assistant district attorney said the trial of the three will represent the first prosecution in New York state under a law which went into effect on April 18, 1949. This makes it a crime for those other than authorized agencies to accept money for placing a child.

According to the district attorney the group advertised in Miami papers for children for adoption, where it is not against the law for individuals to engage in adoption transactions.

When women—married and unmarried—answered the ads, the group, it was alleged, agreed to pay expenses of hospitalization if the mother signed away all rights to the child.

Murder Charge Is Filed Here

Zeno Green, 35, Slaton negro, was charged Monday in Lubbock with murder with malice in connection with the death of another negro who died at Bryan on Nov. 25 after being stabbed twice on Nov. 13 at Slaton.

Lubbock county officers were informed Monday of the death of Emmett McPherson, 49, who had been released from a Slaton hospital on Nov. 22, apparently out of danger.

The complaint against Green was sworn by Charles D. Yates, Slaton constable, before E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, and filed in the court of C. E. Lynn, justice of the peace.

Bond was set at $2,500.

In a signed statement before officers, Green said he stabbed McPherson twice with a knife after an argument over about $12. Green said McPherson had been playing cards with him and took the money when Green left the table for a moment.

"After he wouldn't give me my money that's when I stuck him with my knife. I stuck him up on the left side of his face and again on his left side along about the ribs," Green said in the statement.

Was Under Sentence

Green said that he was under a five-year suspended sentence for firing a gun into a house in 1943.

McPherson's home was at Wellborn, near Bryan. He was working on a farm near Slaton prior to the Nov. 13 stabbing.

Elsewhere on the crime front, a series of thefts were reported to local law enforcement officers.

A 1941 Pontiac sedan, AR 3497, was reported by L. T. Stone of Lubbock route 3 as stolen from the Sears parking lot about 6:20 p. m. Monday. Stone told police that the keys were left in the car.

Groceries Are Stolen

Mrs. Albert Owens, of 2422 Twenty-eighth street told police that $3 in groceries had been taken from her car, parked in the 2700 block Twenty-sixth street, about 9:25 p. m. Monday. The car had been opened with a wire.

Theft of a watch valued at $85 was reported by Mike Dooley of 1922 Thirty-second street. He said the watch was taken from a dressing room in Wilkison Radiator Shop, 915 Ave. H, about 6:30 p. m.

Theft of a box camera valued at $12.50 was reported to police by Jim Key of 406 Ave. X. He said the camera was taken about 4 p. m. Monday from a car parked at Main street and College avenue.

Freddie Lee Anderson, a negro, told police that fender skirts valued at $25 had been stolen from his car. A further complaint was that the windshield of the car had been broken to gain entrance.

J. P. Steele of 2519 Twenty-sixth said a generator was stolen over the weekend from an irrigation well on a farm four miles northeast of Lubbock.

Earl Horn of Shallowater route 1 said three trailer wheels, tires and tubes were stolen there.

Roy S. Graves, 42, of Brownwood, was being held in county jail last night in lieu of $100 bond set in county court after he entered a plea of not guilty of a charge of theft.

He was charged with the theft of an electric clock valued at $9.95 and cologne valued at $4 from the Mark Halsey Drug No. 5 at Nineteenth street and Ave. Q. City police made the arrest Sunday night.

Skin Expert Claims Mild Cases Of Acne Should Be Ignored

CHICAGO, Dec. 6. (INS)—A skin specialist advised today that the best way to treat mild cases of acne (pimples)—the bane of the adolescent's life—is to ignore it.

Dr. Willard O. Thompson, president of the Chicago Medical society, told 1,000 specialists attending the eighth annual meeting of the American Academy of Dermatology and Syphilology in Chicago:

"Severe attacks of acne, of course, demand treatment.

"But most teen-agers grow out of the disease in a relatively short period of time.

TB From Abrasions

"Medication and attempted treatment often create new conditions that are more dangerous than the acne."

A Swedish physician told the meeting that tuberculosis of the skin—known as lupus vulgaris—can start from a slight abrasion.

He is Dr. Sven Hellerstrom of Stockholm, who said he has studied six cases within the past 10 years which support his theory.

Dr. Hellerstrom said that in one of the six cases, the tuberculosis followed an abrasion of the nose. He said the abrasion was produced by an accident and added:

"Within an area of a couple of centimeters or more on the bridge of the nose, an eruption developed. . . This was followed by soft papules ranging in size from pinhead to pea.

"All other cases followed the same clinical pattern."

The Swedish expert said that within eight weeks a tuberculosis ulcer appeared.

Dr. Hellerstrom said that in his opinion the tuberculosis developed because of a high-degree allergy in the body tissue of the patient.

He added that all patients recovered within three to nine months after treatment with a finsen lamp, which filters out ultra and violent rays, and administration of vitamin D.

German Measles Are Dangerous To Adult

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 6. (U.P.)—If your young daughter has never had German measles, take her out and let her catch it before she grows up, says Dr. Mitchell I. Rubin.

Dr. Rubin, pediatrician in charge of children's hospital at Buffalo, N. Y., said the disease is usually harmless to children but can be very dangerous to a woman during pregnancy, sometimes causing a deformity in the child.

"If my young daughter had not had German measles and the neighbor's child had it," the doctor said here, "I would send her next door to catch the disease."

Young Ex-Texas Girl Wins Beauty Contest

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 6 (AP) — About the most excited teen-ager in the country today is Jackie Lee Barnes, a junior high school student here.

She was chosen "America's most beautiful 15-year-old" in a national contest sponsored by the Lux Theater of the Air (CBS). Screen stars June Haver and Mark Stevens made the choice from 160 contestants, it was announced last night.

"I've never been so thrilled before in my life," Jackie said when she heard the news.

Jackie is the red-headed, blue-eyed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barnes. Her dad is with the H. A. Marr wholesale grocer firm here. The family moved to Albuquerque from Pampa, Tex., early this year.

Jackie and her mother will leave during the holidays for a 10-day expenses-paid trip to Hollywood. She will receive film and television screen tests while there.

1950 Census Is Expected To Show A Transformed Texas

Main Interest On Population

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The 1950 census is expected to show a transformed Texas. This is the first of a series of five reports on a pre-census survey by the Associated Press).

By TIM PARKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

Uncle Sam will step in next year and settle a lot of arguments in Texas. He's going to count noses.

The 1950 census workers—enumerators, they're called—will also count everything else, from goats to television sets. But in growing Texas cities the big question is: how much have we grown?

Not only how much, but: has the population doubled since the 1940 census? Has the city edged into the "10,000 and above" bracket? Or maybe into that magic "100,000 and above" bracket which is supposed to attract industries. Is the old home town, by any chance, the afstest growing city in Texas?

Are Making Guesses

The cities are not waiting until the army of federal bellringers go to work next April. To get some sort of an answer, most of them are making "educated guesses."

One way is to go back to the 1940 census figures and calculate the proportion then of light meters to population. For example, in Marshall in 1940 there were 18,410 persons—and 4.67 persons per light meter. Multiplying the present number of light meters by 4.67 indicates the East Texas oil town has grown to 30,882.

"Educated guesses" also can be based on dwelling units. Denton, figuring 3.5 persons per dwelling unit, believes its population has climbed from 1940's 11,192 to 18,000.

They Will Make Sure

Denton, by the way, is one of several cities which does not plan to put wholehearted trust in the federal census takers. Just to make sure no noses go uncounted, members of a paid committee from the chamber of commerce will accompany the official enumerator.

In 1940, the people of Denton recall, such a committee was able to call attention to several citizens who might otherwise have been overlooked.

Water connections also can be used in estimating population. Tyler, figuring 4.6 persons per water connection, calculates it has grown from 28,279 in 1940 to 48,800 in 1949. "Scholastics"—the number of students attending school—also are used as a base for estimates.

Not Always Accurate

Such "educated guesses" usually are accepted as fairly accurate. But not always is this so.

Those who don't accept them argue:

The number of scholastics varies. A growing city has a larger proportion of young and middle-aged families—such as have children—and fewer retired and elder-

THE QUESTION
When do you think that tipping in a restaurant is justified?

THE ANSWERS

MRS. MADELYN MORRIS, 2513 Ruby, employe of Russel Hardin Cleaners: "When you get courteous service. I think that you should always tip when the waitress is courteous and gives you good service."

STANLEY COMBS, 2513 Maple, boilermaker: "I think that you should tip when the service is good, when the food is good nd when the waitresses are courteous. If you don't get these things, then I don't think that you should leave a tip."

MRS. W. M. RANKIN, Petersburg, housewife: "I think that locality has a lot to do with tipping. Some territories tip more than others. There are some places where waitresses make no salary; they get only what they get in tips. In this case, I think that you should always tip them."

JOHN SMILEY, 2407 Tenth, salesman for R. C. Taylor Tobacco Co.: "When you get good service and the waitresses attitude is good, I think that you should tip. If not, then don't leave a tip, for after all it is more or less a reward for good service."

MRS. JUANITA KERR, 2006 Ninth, bookkeeper: "I don't think that a waitress deserves a tip unless she gives courteous service and serves the food in a good manner."

G. C. VAUGHT, Route 3, contractor: "When prices are better than they are now. In some places the food is so high that you can't afford to leave a tip. If the waitress is courteous and the food prices are not too high, then I think that you should leave a tip."

100-Degree Weather Strikes Argentinans

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 6. (AP)—Suffering from chilblains? Pity the poor Argentinians. Forty of them were treated here for sunstroke yesterday.

It was hot for December in the Argentine capital, even though summertime has started. Temperatures got up to 100.76 degrees fahrenheit.

Fines Assessed In Cases Here

It was a busy Monday in the county court of Judge Walter Davies as 23 cases came before him—all but one involving intoxicating beverages in one form or another.

Five persons pleaded guilty of drunk driving. Each was fined $75, court costs and deprived of his driver's license for six months.

Defendants were Henry Lemons, 42, of Shallowater, Helen McLendon, 30, of Levelland, Raymond Winfred Thompson, 21, of Lubbock route 7, Patricia M. Valquez, 29, of Floresville, and Ernest Rogers, 28, of Fort Worth.

Bonds Set In Cases

Bonds of $500 each were set by Judge Davies for seven persons charged with liquor law violation.

Five of those charged were Slaton negroes. They were Callie Fisher, 44, Hattie Mae Wilborn, 21, Willie Hardwick, 39, Winnie Wynn, 54, and Mattie Eva Shedrick, 23. Others were Bernice Fantroy, 29, and Jimmie Hawkins, 36.

Eight persons were fined $5 and court costs in connection with charges of violating the liquor curfew law.

They were Harry LeMaire, jr., 23, Lawrence Ward, 41, a negro, and Johnnie Payne, 24, all of Lubbock; Manuel Hernandez, 19, Max Martinez, 17, Max Vargas, 32, and John Corona, 42, all of slaton; and Duke Howard, 46, Corsicana negro.

Alonzo Bradley, 37, a negro, was fined $200 and court costs and entering a plea of guilty to a charge of liquor law violation. Another negro, Reuben Williams, 20, was released on bond after being charged with liquor law violation.

The only non-liquor case was that against Freddie Melvin Barnes, 28, Lubbock negro, fined $10 and court costs for failure to leave information at the scene of an accident.

BRIDEGROOM IS SUICIDE

HOUSTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—Justice of the Peace Thomas I. Decker returned an inquest verdict of suicide in the fatal shooting of a bridegroom of three weeks. Glen McAlister, 18, was shot at his home. His bride witnessed the shooting yesterday.

Child Dies In Fire At Home

(Special To The Journal)

POST, Dec. 6—A two-and-one-half year old negro girl burned to death shortly before 3 p. m. Monday when flames swept through her home on the Hardy Smith farm, six miles north and four miles west of here.

Three other children, ranging in age from 4 to 8 years, fled to safety as flames whipped through the five-room frame house and took the life of Mary Louise Whitley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie James Smith.

The parents were pulling cotton in a field a mile from the house when the fire began, and were unable to reach their home before the flames, whipped by a strong southwest wind, had taken over.

Playmates of the dead child, a brother and two cousins, said one of them had given a match to Mary Louise, who struck it and set fire to a window curtain.

J. D. King, justice of the peace at Post, made an investigation at the scene and ruled "accidental death by burning."

The charred body of the child was found near one window, and by the remains of a bed. Attendants from Mason Funeral home in Post removed the body.

The Smith farm where the Whitley's lived is located one and one half miles south of the Pleasant Valley community in Garza county.

Sheriff E. M. Bass of Post, who also went to the fire scene, said the house burned to the ground, destroying clothing and household articles owned by the family.

Bass said the Post volunteer fire department was called to the fire, but it was far out of control before they received the alarm and arrived at the scene.

The nearest house to the Whitley home was more than half a mile away, Bass estimated. The other children playing with Mary Louise apparently were too frightened to aid her when the fire began, and seconds later, when the fire raged through the house, were powerless to help.

Rites Planned For Victim Of Accident

BAYTOWN, Dec. 6. (U.P.)—Funeral services were planned today for Max O. Anderson, 64, crushed to death under a car yesterday at the home of a son.

Anderson, a retired blacksmith, was working under the jacked-up car when it slipped off the blocks. A part of the springs struck his head.

Highest Scouting Awards Are Presented At Annual Banquet

Silver Beaver awards—the highest award that can be given to Boy Scout workers in the South Plains Council of the Boy Scouts of America, last night were presented to L. B. Hagerman of Slaton and Tom A. Everheart of Lubbock at the twenty-fourth annual banquet of the South Plains council.

The awards were presented by K. N. Clapp, council commissioner of Lubbock, who holds the Silver Antelope award, highest honor in regional scouting.

Both Hagerman and Everheart have long been active in scout work of the South Plains council. Hagerman has served as a scoutmaster, troop commissioner, district commissioner, and district chairman, and has been a member of the Executive board of the council for seven years.

Everheart began Boy Scout work in Lubbock in 1926 in a troop of which Clapp was scoutmaster. He holds 86 merit badges.

Clapp also presented roses to wives of the two awardees, and to Mrs. F. B. Malone, wife of the council president.

Toastmaster for the banquet was Dr. E. N. Jones, vice-president of Texas Tech. Invocation was asked by Rev. David L. Zacharias, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church of Lubbock.

Principal speaker at the dinner was Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State college, Canyon, who declared that "we Americans, in our attempt to see that our young people get the best of everything, have overlooked the fact that strength of character frequently comes as a result of hard work and earnest endeavor.

"Boy Scouting," he declared, "is a ready-made antidote for this."

In line with that idea, Dr. Cornette said that democracy as we in America know it will face the gravest test it has ever been faced with in the next quarter century.

"We must develop within our boys (and girls) the concept of responsibility which living in a democracy entails," he said.

Officers of the South Plains council for the coming year, who were elected by acclamation Monday afternoon by the nominating committee of the council, were installed by L. A. Wicks, sr., of Ralls.

Officers are as follows:

Dr. F. B. Malone, Lubbock, president; J. M. Willson, sr., Floydada, first vice president; Joe T. Salem, Sudan, second vice president; R. B. Shahan, Denver City, third vice president; John Hughes, Lubbock, treasurer and trust officer.

Second Symphony Performance Is Held

Violinist And Pianist Take Spotlight In Local Program

Violinist Robert Pipkin and Pianist Mary Lou Colvin spotlighted the Lubbock Symphony orchestra's second performance of the season last night as they thrilled approximately 900 persons gathered in the Lubbock Senior High school auditorium.

Also featured was guest conductor Dr. George Morey, director of the North Texas State college orchestra and composer of "Music for Brass Choir and Tympani, Chorale and Fanfare."

Conducted Brass Section

He conducted the brass sections of the orchestra in playing his composition, which was completed in April, 1948.

But it was the music of Pipkin and Miss Colvin that evoked the greatest applause from the audience Pipkin led off with "Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso" by Saint-Saens, who was a friend of and influenced in his music by Paga inni-Liszt, composer of "La Campanella," which Miss Colvin gave as her second encore.

Pipkin, who is concert master for the symphony, saved his best until last, playing as an encore Svendsen's "Romance."

Miss Colvin, a scholarship student at NTSC from Tulia, masterfully played the first movement "Moderato" of Rachmaninoff's "Concerto No. 2 in C Minor" and the audience demanded more. Her first encore, "Rondo Capriccioso" by Mendelsshon wasn't enough for

STATE DEPARTMENT AWAITS WORD

Deadline For Consul General To Leave China Drawing Near

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—The deadline for the departure of Consul General Angus Ward and his staff from Mukden drew near today.

The passing hours found the State department keyed up for word whether the Chinese Communists have at last let them start home.

The group of 13 American officials and their families were under Communist orders to quit the Manchurian capital by 7 p. m. EST tonight (8 a. m. Wednesday Mukden time). All have been virtual prisoners for more than a year. Ward and four of his aides were recently jailed for a month.

Ship Standing By

U. S. Army circles in Tokyo reported that a partially garbled message from Ward yesterday said he himself did not know whether he would leave Mukden last night or today. Communication lines to Mukden are roundabout and undependable, an dthere were no details.

Lacking a specific schedule, State department officials had expected Ward to put off the departure for the north China port of Tientsin until the last available train. They figured he would need all the time he could get to wind up the affairs of the consulate general.

Ward was handed the expulsion order only last Friday and since has had to dispose of final chores under difficulties, including paying off his Chinese staff. From Tientsin the U. S. merchant ship Lakeland Victory is expected to take out the entire consulate group.

Meantime Li Chung-Jen, the Chinese Nationalists' acting president, is en route to the United States on a visit which may have a direct bearing on future American relations with the tottering Nationalist regime.

Acheson Okays Trip

Coming here ostensibly for treatment for a serious stomach ailment, Li left Hong Kong by plane yesterday and is due in San Francisco tonight.

The State department was advised that he plans to go immediately to New York City for hospital treatment, arriving at noon (EST) Wednesday.

Li's trip was sanctioned by Secretary of State Acheson and he is traveling on a diplomatic visa with the status of a chief of state.

However, officials have continued to insist that the purpose of his visit is personal as far as is known here. They said he took the initiative in making the trip and that no arrangements have been made for a meeting with Acheson or any other U. S. policy spokesman. Such a conference might be set up later, if Li requests it.

The Nationalist leader presumably is eager to submit a plea for renewed American aid, unless he has given up hope that it would be effective. President Truman has a $75,000,000 fund at his disposal for expenditure in the "general area of China," as part of the new $1,314,000,000 arms aid legislation.

RELIGIOUS SCENES, CAROLS EMPHASIZED—Religious scenes, similar to those shown at top may be seen in large numbers in Lubbock greeting card displays. Scenes of carolers or portions of carols as shown in the bottom row also are plentiful. Those cards have increased in number this year, while cards decorated with holly, poinsettias, bells, candles and other traditional symbols remain available in large numbers.

Estimated 300 Million Greetings To Be Exchanged This Year

Religious Themes Emphasized On Christmas Cards To Greater Extent Than Ever Before

The manger scene, churches, angels, shepherds and other religious scenes decorate Christmas cards this year to greater extent than ever before.

Checks with five greeting card salesmen in Lubbock indicated that greetings in the religious theme, which are leading nationally, are available in greater numbers and are being sold in greater numbers and that fewer modernistic cards are available even in cards that do not emphasize the religious theme.

The survey indicated cards in the religious theme still represent a small part of the total cards sold.

Floral Cards Second

Religious Christmas cards have been gaining steadily in public favor since early in World war II and this year are on top for the first time in greeting card history, the Associated Press reported. National estimates place at 300,000,000 the number of religious greetings that will be exchanged this Christmas.

Nationally, floral cords are rated second; outdoor winter scenes, third, and cards decorated with dren and candles, runners-up.

One Lubbock resident who sells numerous cards expressed disappointment that she received fewer orders for cards in the religious theme than other cards, but said she had sold more religious cards than in previous years and had particularly noted choice of such cards by persons who had not previously chosen them.

She said red and green cards bearing a variety of symbols seem to attract interest. She had noted that green and red are emphasized, but not blue, yellow, pink or brown as in some years when more modernistic cards have been available.

In one book store, it was said that cards decorated with poinsettias, Santa Claus, bells, reindeer and sleds have led.

One greeting card salesman said, "So many like bright cards" and that cards with music across the front are popular. "Anything that has a carol on it is popular," she said. Numerous cards decorated with portions of carols or with choir boys are being shown.

Such cards emphasize the religious theme in varying degrees. One folder showing choir boys singing contained the following verse: "May He for whom the angels sing, And wise men journeyed long, Bless your Christmastide with joy, And fill your heart with song."

Buyers Watch Prices

Salesmen said they have little success in selling humorous cards, except in children's greeting cards.

One salesman from whose counter thousands of cards have been sold said, "One day, we have a run on religious cards. The next day you couldn't sell a religious card." She said more elderly persons than young persons have chosen cards in the religious theme at that counter.

She added that the biggest selling group of cards is the lower priced group and that she finds customers "more price conscious this year than last."

One clerk said assorted religious cards are available by boxes this year for the first time in that store and that more religious cards have been sold this year than last year.

Rule For Keeping Young Is Offered

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (INS) — Miss Mary M. Ryan, 89-years-old, offered this formula today for keeping young:

Miss Ryan, co-founder of the Katharine Gibbs Secretarial schools, made the statement on arriving from Paris by air in New York. Asked if she followed her own formula, Miss Ryan said:

"Yes. I'm mad at the Russians."

Major Oil Strike Is Reported In Borden

SNYDER, Dec. 6 (Special) — Amerada has marked up a major strike in Southeast Borden county with 90 feet of pay at the No. 1 N. C. Von Roeder in the strawn.

Operators entered the pay at 7,100 feet. The well, according to field reports, flowed at the rate of 60 barrels of pipeline oil hourly. Total depth is given at 7,190 feet. No. 1 Von Roeder topped the Canyon reef at 6,835 feet, 228 feet high to same operators No. 1 Canning, a nearby dry hole.

Amerada No. 1 Von Roeder is located in section 103, block 25, Houston and Texas Central Railroad company survey, and five miles west of the Thomas W. Doswell et al, Henry Ford II and others wells on the C. W. Addison property.

Flier Found Shot In Apartment Of Sister

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 6 (AP) — The bullet-riddled body of a 28-year-old airman last night was found in a shower in his sister's apartment.

Justice of the Peace M. D. Jones said Tech Sgt. O. C. McNiel had been shot five times, three times in the head and twice near the heart. The body was found about 8:30 p. m. Jones estimated the man had been dead from six to ten hours.

Mrs. Gertie Bailey said she and a neighbor discovered the body. A .22 caliber bolt action rifle was found nearby.

Six pages of incoherent scrawling were found on a dresser. Detectives said the note was signed by McNiel, but that they could attach no particular significance to the note.

Large crowds are attending the Lindsey Theatre to see Alano Dass, master mentalist and psychologist who is appearing in person on the stage. Mr. Dass completely captivatees and mystifies his audiences with his amazing mental tests and his psychic ability to answer questions correctly. Tomorrow will positively be his last day at the Lindsey Theatre and tomorrow afternoon he will present his sensational show for ladies only. Every lady attending this special matinee may submit a question, and the ladies who have very personal and delicate questions will have the opportunity of consulting Mr. Dass privately.
Below are more question submitted to Alano Dass at the Lindsey Theatre and his answers:
W. F.—When will I see R. D.?
A.—I realize that you had hoped to see him this month, but he won't be able to get off in time to come here for the holidays. It is my impression that you will see him during the first week in February.
C. C.—When will I get a position?
A.—It appears to me that you made a trip to San Antonio about three weeks ago to see about a position. I feel that your brother will help you and that you will get the desired position, but there will be just a little delay.
I. R.—Will I get the promotion I have been expecting?
A.—Yes, Irwin, you will be made manager about the 15th of January. The present manager will be transferred to Eastern Texas.
Mrs. T. H.—Mr. Dass, you answered a question for me at the Lindsey Theatre and it came true today. I received a letter and a check from my brother this morning and he wrote that he will send more money soon. I'm so happy and want to ask you another question. Will my son get work soon and will he be able to help me?
A.—I'm very happy to help you again and I have more good news for you. Your son, who is in California, will be working before the end of this week and he will be sending money to you very soon. You will also get help from several sources this month.
J. P.—Will there be a marriage for me to E. or C.?
A.—I have to say no to this question. E. isn't free to marry you and C. isn't sincere.
A. C.—Mr. Dass, what should I do about E.? I'm terribly worried and I wonder if I should leave Lubbock.
A.—This question is entirely too personal and too complicated to be answered before a mixed audience. If you will attend my special matinee for ladies only tomorrow afternoon at the Lindsey Theatre, I shall be happy to discuss this problem with you personally and I believe I can give you some helpful suggestions.
V. L.—Did C. tell me the truth about the trip last month?
A.—I think you know the answer as well as I, but I'm going to say that he did not. He had planned everything in advance, and I suggest that you not become too serious with him.
K. B.—Will I ever marry H. J.? If so, will there be happiness for us?
A.—As I see it, H. will never give up his wife for you, and I think you are making a mistake by seeing him. If I were you, I would discontinue this friendship at once. Your sister has given you good advice about this affair.
Remember you have only tonight and tomorrow to see Alano Dass at the Lindsey Theater. Don't fail to see this talented man and let him help you with your problems, and remember, ladies, tomorrow afternoon is the big show presented especially for you at the Lindsey Theatre.

Toughest Question Is "Where Did You Leave Your Reindeer?"

Actor Makes Business Of Playing Santa Claus For People Who Dislike Doing Job Themselves

By LEO TURNER
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (U.P.)—Parents are more afraid of Santa Claus than children are, Robert Strauss, chief chimney climber of Santa's Helpers, Inc., said today.

Strauss, one of the actors from the Broadway hit "Detective Story" makes a business of recruiting and training fellow actors to be Santa Claus for people who don't want to be Santa Claus.

He gave three suggestions for people who do want to be Santa Claus, based on his own experiences in the business.

Don't Enter Uninvited

"Don't enter a house until the child you are visiting invites you in," he said. "Then he isn't afraid of you.

"Don't touch a child until he has touched you first.

"And then begin talking about the little personal things in his life. This gives him the idea that Santa Claus does see all and knows all. He decides that he believes in Santa Claus and you're his friend."

Helping parents out of a hole when their children announced that they didn't believe in Santa Claus was a scheme Strauss hit on to get himself out of a hole.

Moved To New York

"I was unemployed in Hollywood in December of 1947, he said. "Being broke at Christmas is tough. Someone suggested that I get a job as Santa Claus and I put my imagination to work. I recruited a group of Santa Clauses and advertised our services."

Strauss moved his business to New York last year and called on 300 children.

The toughest question children ask Santa is "Where did you leave your reindeer?"

And the best answer, Strauss said, is "Prancer hurt his right front leg this morning and the other reindeer are taking care of him. A friend loaned me his airplane, or car, or bicycle, whichever is appropriate.

Has 50 Employes

Strauss, who lives in the Bronx, has an office on 58th street complete with a fireplace and all of Santa's environment. He is Mr. Santa to the thousands of children who telephone him, and his secretary is Mrs. Santa Claus.

This year he has 50 actors, recruited from actor's equity and screened for mental and physical adaptibility.

"Our rates run from $15 for a visit to a home to $50 for club appearances anywhere in the metropolitan area," he said. "Any place else, we add transportation to those charges."

Strauss' dream is to have a nationwide chain of Santa's on call ready to go any place.

MENU PROBLEM SOLVED

GARDNER Mass. (U.P.)—Robert Wetmore solved a temporary eating problem cheaply when he shot a 150-pound black bear. Not only did he get his meat for nothing but he was eligible for a bounty paid in New Hampshire, where the bear was killed.

Court Hears Negro's Suit Against School

HOUSTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—Hearing is underway in federal court on an injunction suit charging racial discrimination in the La Grange, Tex., public schools.

The suit was brought by Julius Brown, 52. Yesterday he testified his family had to move to Fort Worth temporarily because of lack of facilities for his daughters to study chemistry and biology.

He asked Judge T. M. Kennerly to restrain trustees of the La Grange Independent School district from pursuing a policy of providing negro school facilities inferior to those of white students.

Douglas McGregor, attorney for the school board, said he will show that facilities provided for negro students are equal or better than those of the district as a whole.

McGregor moved for a dismissal of the suit on grounds the plaintiff had moved out of the district and has been away over two years.

Brown testified he is a property owner and a taxpayer in the La Grange district and that his permanent home is there although he now works in Port Lavaca.

Kennerly said he would consider McGregor's motion with the school board's case records.

Texas Phone Workers Taking Walkout Vote

DALLAS, Dec. 6 (AP) — Strike votes went out today to 23,000 Southwest Bell Telephone company workers in Texas.

R. W. Staley, Texas secretary of the CIO Communications Workers of America, said the Texas results will be tabulated by Dec. 20 and forwarded to union headquarters at St. Louis.

The union and company have been negotiating for about a month, Staley said.

The strike ballot states that a "yes" vote pledges the membership to support the negotiating committee if "they find no other way of concluding a favorable contract."

RAFB Officers Will Attend Air School

Ten officers at Reese Air Force Base have been chosen to attend an air tactical school at Tyndall Air Force Base at Panama City, Florida, to be held January 5.

The school prepares officers for command positions and staff duties appropriate of higher grades. The 16 week class gives the officers an opportunity to study the organization and function of Air Force Commands and of other services.

Officers who have been named to attend the school from RAFB are Maj. Albert H. Schneider Captains Harry A. L. Jones, James T. McElroy, George V. Welding, Donald F. Karschner, Gordon E. Jonas, John H. Slinde and Walter R. H. Berger and First Lts. Theodore B. Goff and William W. Overton.

IT SEEMS that the president of one of Central America's banana republics was visiting in New England and received a letter from the secretary of the local Rotary club, inviting him to speak before that group. The visiting presidente replied, through his bi-lingual secretary, that he must decline, due to the fact that he knew very little English, in fact, only so much as he had picked up during his visit.

The Rotary secretary, however, was adamant. That would be all right. Let el presidente speak, poor English and all. The club would be honored.

So at the conclusion of the club's next luncheon—and following a glowing introduction, el presidente arose and delivered himself as follows:

"Hi, guys! How you'all?

"I am pleased to meet you. Gimme cigaret. Bourbon with branch water. We got more bombs than Russia—and bigger guns.

"Oklahoma might beat Notre Dame, but I doubt it. The Republicans had better get Eisenhower, or expect to lose again in '52. There is nothing worse than a left-wing liberal unless it's a conservative reactionary. We've bought the British empire, why don't they let us run it?

"I thank you!"

THE OLD Farmer's Almanac, which is dang nigh near a bible to some folks, by cracky, is out for 1950—its 158th annual edition.

Most important thing we've found in it thus far is the almanac's statistics covering a woman's chances to marry. Here they are:

At age 50 to 60: one-fourth of one percent.

At age 45 to 50: three-eighths of one per cent.

At age 40 to 45: two and one-half per cent.

At age 35 to 40: three and three-fourths per cent.

At age 30 to 35: fifteen and one-half per cent.

At age 25 to 30: eighteen per cent.

At age 20 to 25: fifty-two per cent.

FELLOW NAME of Shakespeare, when knocking out a piece called "Romeo and Juliet," penned as follows:

"What's in a name? That which we call a rose
By any other name would smell as sweet."

Taken literally, those words of the Bard of Avon, Stratford-on-Avon that is, hold water.

But applied generally, as Old Bill was doing in "Romeo and Juliet," they're no good.

A name means a lot, whether it is good or bad. And sometimes a good name is almost as hard to insure as a bad name is to improve.

A recent radio program is a case in point; one of many.

The program found Bing Crosby guest-starring on Bob Hope's time and those two gentlemen threw their scripts to the wind, they became so interested in their own repartee.

The result, to the listener, was as to be expected under such circumstances. The program got to where it didn't make sense. The studio audience, seeing Crosby and Hope mugging, motioning and otherwise disporting themselves in the flesh, evidently thought the performance pretty funny. But the people on the far end of the line were left floundering.

It took minutes to get things back to normal; for Crosby and Hope to finally get back on the track—and minutes, we're told, are quite valuable on a nationwide radio hookup.

THE POINT of this, of course: Crosby and Hope have "names"—big names. They have earned them by producing what the public wants in the way of song and comedy. So deeply impressed on the public mind is the belief that Crosby and Hope are always good, no matter how they sing, no matter what humor they trot out, that with this advantage over others in their fields, they can get away with almost anything, as they did on the radio the other night.

But suppose a couple of relatively unknown performers had done the same thing Bing and Robert did?

Suppose they had thrown their scripts out of the window, gotten lost, ad-libbed themselves out of the running plot, etc?

Their careers, if not ruined, would have been badly wrecked. Critics would have relegated them to the ashheaps.

Anyone who remembers the New York Yankees during their "salad days" of Ruth, Gehrig & Co., also remember how much there is in a "name."

Many a time Ruth would come up to bat, send out a towering fly to a waiting outfielder, then return to the bench as the crowd roared; then plain, colorless Gehrig would follow, smash a line drive homer out of the park and barely get a hand from the crowd.

What's in a "name?"

Lou Gehrig could tell you.

THERE IS, certainly, justice in the indisputable fact that the possessor of a big "name" gains some degree of protection from it.

After all, people don't get big "names" easily, or without unusual talents in the fields in which they operate. Most men who gain them in business, the professions, politics, sports, or entertainment have to put in years of backbreaking, heartbreaking effort before their "names" become bywords of success. So, like Crosby and Hope, they deserve whatever they get in exchange for their long, hard work and the application of their unusual talents.

Mr. Shakespeare was right in his remark that a rose would smell as sweet if called an onion, or a cabbage. But, fortunately, his philosophy does not extend to the realm of human endeavor.

That's why all people, "big," or "little," and regardless of their field of activity, should strive for a good "name."

There's nothing quite so valuable when the going gets tough.

BY DREW PEARSON: GOOD NEIGHBOR POLICY MUST BE CARRIED OUT EVERY DAY

U.S. Losing Out To Fascism At Own Front Door

WASHINGTON — Recent revolution and rioting in Latin America has pointed up what the American public has long dimly realized, namely that while we are fighting Communism in Europe, we are losing out to Fascism at our own front door.

PEARSON

Panama, which surrounds the most important waterway in the world so far as the United States is concerned, is now in the hands of a dictator, Arnulfo Arias, who had roots in Germany and Italy during the days of Hitler and Mussolini. Just before Pearl Harbor, we considered him such a menace the United States helped to euchre him out of the presidency.

In Colombia, a country equally vital to the strategic waterway which links east-west shipping, the bloodiest riots in history have been taking place. Approximately 1,000 people have been killed, and a Fascist party, deliberately aided and abetted by Dictator Franco of Spain, has instituted such terror that it was impossible to hold two-way elections.

While U. S. senators have been guzzling Dictator Franco's lush wines in Madrid, Franco has been pulling the rug right out from under U. S. policy in one of the most important countries in the Pan American Union.

Months ago Laureano Gomez, now the Colombian strong man, went to Madrid and arranged with Franco to have his shock falange forces smuggled into Colombia disguised in the robes of priests. Bloodshed and rioting has followed ever since.

Truman's Pan Americanism

In the White House, Harry Truman speaks glowingly of his visits to Mexico and Brazil. He is also delighted at the prospect of making a trip to Chile. He considers Pan-American relations one of his most important policies, and if anyone walked in and told him the good-neighbor policy had bogged down, he just wouldn't believe it.

But the trouble with President Truman is that he thinks of Pan-American friendship in terms of getting out a lot of flags and the brass bands to greet President Dutra of Brazil. He doesn't realize that the good-neighbor policy must be closely coordinated and carefully carried out every day of the year.

Over in the State department, meanwhile, one of the best young men in some years, Edward Miller, is assistant secretary for Latin America. Miller was born in Puerto Rico, speaks Spanish, knows Latin America intimately, works hard at his job.

Over in the Export-Import bank, also, far more loans have been advanced in Latin America than most people realize.

But a successful good-neighbor policy isn't built up merely by dumping money into Latin America, or giving rousing welcomes to visiting Pan-American potentates.

Today we have a lot of well-meaning cogs in our diplomatic machinery, but sometimes they seem to be turning separately and in different directions. In brief, the gears do not mesh.

IT looks like Jesse Jones, long considered the financial czar of Texas, now has a real rival. He is Texas oil tycoon Glenn McCarthy of Houston, who recently helped mastermind "Sam Rayburn day."

McCarthy has already built a swank 18-story hotel in Houston, the Shamrock, and now aspires to build a new business center on the outskirts of Houston. To finance it, McCarthy is reported in the market for an RFC loan, and it was considered significant that he sent his plush stratoliner private airplane to Washington to fly some RFC officials to Houston for "Sam Rayburn day."

Taking the free ride to Texas for the big Democratic jamboree were James Consodine, RFC controller, and Allen Freeze, his assistant, with their two wives. Neither are Texans.

Another RFC official, Narvin Weaver, assistant loan manager, declined an invitation because, he admitted afterward, "it might not look right."

Of course, Jesse Jones, when head of the powerful RFC, did not hesitate to accept trips in a private car on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at a time when he was lending RFC money to that road. And it will be interesting to see whether Jesse's rival will now get a loan from the RFC.

Note—Democratic political factions in Houston were split over the Sam Rayburn celebration. While Sam is personally popular with all ranks of Democrats, political control of the city has been taken over by the Truman-Labor group, and they organized the demonstration for Sam. Old guard Democrats did not cooperate. In fact, old guards were privately pleased when only 1,500 people showed up in the auditorium which holds 15,000.

He Couldn't Escape

Capitol Cop Bill Carter hot footed over to the House un-American activities committee the other day to investigate a commotion. The clerks were in a dither about a mysterious stranger who had blubbered incoherently at them and fled down the hall. The flustered clerks suspected he was out of his head, suggested he ought to be locked up. So Carter took after him in hot pursuit.

In a moment, the cop caught up with the stranger and demanded sternly: "What is it you want?"

Futilely the stranger made noises and gestured. Then in disgust, he took out some paper and scribbled a note.

Harsh Words, Blows Featured Early Day Newspaper Battles

THE NEWPAPER Wars—Dailies still engage in an occasional skirmish, but it's mere shadow-boxing compared with the no-holds-barred slugfests of the past. During journalism's slam-bang era, newspapermen not only tossed around brass knuckle opinions but were also handy with their dukes—and sometimes they were prepared to settle an argument by being quicker on the trigger. . . as one historian noted: "It was a time when newsmen entered the Hall of Fame by breaking down the door."

King's free-swinging career ended when he was fatally shot.

William Allen White could make words march like soldiers when blasting publishers who were more concerned with hustling a fast buck than turning out an honest newspaper.

His deep contempt for such newsmen is strikingly illustrated by his epitaph for publisher Frank Munsey. It is a masterpiece of mordant eloquence: "He contributed to the journalism of his day the talent of a meatpacker, the morals of a money-changer and the manners of an undertaker. He and his kind have about succeeded in transforming a once-noble profession into an eight percent security. May he rest in trust."

DURING THE early 1800s New York journals maintained a pony express for relaying news. The rival horsemen frequently took shots at each other. . . Why did the dauntless riders gallop over hill and dale? They were carrying the latest speeches of Congressmen. Methods of communication changed, but not tactics. Years later, Big Town gazettes chartered special trains for carrying the news from Washington. One newsboy (whose paper couldn't afford a train) merely hijacked a competitor's locomotive and choo-choo'd to New York with his scoop.

And when carrier-pigeons were used—one newspaper hired sharpshooters to shoot down a rival's winged messengers. Some fun!

DURING THE Civil War some New York journals took part in their own civil war: The Herald's abusive campaign against the Tribune roused citizens to take mob action. . . They stormed the Tribune offices and caused great damage. However, the Tribune prevented a second attack by swift and decisive action: The Trib's edifice was transformed into a fortress. Every reporter was armed, guns protruded from its windows and plans were made to drop shells on any attacking party.

There was vituperation galore among warring gazettes in the 1790s. Have a sample of the barbed-wire opinions: A N. Y. editor named James Cheetham lashed another editor with: "He is a contemptible scamp, a liar, blackmailer, swindler, filth-merchant. A vampire full of innate diabolism. He has the face of a rodent and the mind of a reptile. May death be his ally!"

That was the 18th century equivalent to today's "Drop dead!"

Today's Thought

But let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.—I Peter 3:4.

Meekness is the grace which, from beneath God's footstool, lifts up a candid and confiding eye, accepting God's smile of Fatherly affection, and adoring those perfections which it cannot comprehend.—James Hamilton.

Sure, Why Not? Santa Doesn't Pay The Bill!

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Enthusiastic Henry Kaiser Thrives On Major Problems

OAKLAND, Calif., Dec. 6—Henry Kaiser's offices are done in lime green and coral red and are roughly as big as Yankee stadium.

There is nothing office-like about the blond woods and light carpets and the tremendous view of Oakland's skyline throught the huge windows. The layout looks much more like Hollywood than industry.

RUARK

When the urge for chow comes upon the great man, he gets into the elevator and rides down to a cheery, special dining room, where his top executives are busy munching at three or four tables. By slightly raising his voice, Mr. Kaiser can get an answer regarding any phase of his industries—cars, steel, aluminum, housing. The executives are mostly youngish and prone to downhold the enthusiasm of their big boss.

I do not believe I ever saw anyone who could touch Kaiser for enthusiasm. He works, roughly, about 10 years ahead of his freshest project — if he is building a car now of aluminum, say, he is already mulling over the prospect of constructing one of spun glass or moonbeams.

Charges Are Denied

The old gentleman of the moment is very touchy over the accusations that he has used the United States government largely to finance and expand his interlocking industries, at little risk of other than federal capital. His luncheon conversation is full of facts and figures and millions roll off his tongue like peas off a knife.

Kaiser's claim is that, despite his vast borrowings from Uncle Sam, he has effected equally vast savings on the production of wartime necessities over competitive industrialists; that he has ploughed back huge sums of personal profits, and that he has been most shy about buying back government defense plants at a few cents on the invested buck. He cites one sworn figure of $465,924,000 that he claims was saved the government in the production of ships, yards, magnesium, steel and cement over the prices of competing firms.

THIS I couldn't pass on, not being able to add an expense account, but boom or bust, ride or fall, the old man is a miracle worker and a great, if sometimes impractical, visionary. He is a chain-reaction provider of necessities in construction as the need for necessities arrive, and has worked a dozen impossible feats to bring off successful coups.

Kaiser's mass-production of Liberty ships and later, of the jeep carriers which performed so potently, was surely one of the heaviest materiel factors in winning the last war, yet he practically had to flim-flam his right to build them. Our government wouldn't touch his Liberty project until after he had constructed 30 ships for the British.

Plan Is Rebuffed

The maritime commission and the navy hooted down his suggestion that he could mass-produce small carriers, with Admiral Emory Land almost booting him out of the commission offices after Kaiser loudly assailed his patriotism. He finally sold the little carriers on the strength of a picture-postcard painting of the carrier — 'full of blue-sky and blue water, very pretty"—and a four-paragraph description of his idea, which found its way to President Roosevelt's desk.

This project got started over the protests of 16 admirals, and when the carriers finally hit satisfactory production, a step-up demand caused Kaiser to go into the steel business, with which he also was unfamiliar. The exigencies of producing steel drove him into a dozen sidebar industries, which he generally mastered as the occasion demanded.

Kaiser is a man who thrives on insurmountable difficulties, losing interest as he conquers them, and some say he is going to thrive on the automobile business as he never throve before. Of the new Kaiser surprise entry in the automobile field, more tomorrow.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

NEVER ask a woman—

If she made the dress she is wearing. If she did she'll want to tell you and let you admit you'd never have guessed it. If she didn't she'll think you are hinting that it looks homemade.

MILLETT

If she'll help you pick out a dress you want to look your best in. Take a man along instead. A woman will judge the dress by whether or not it is the type of dress she likes or thinks is smart or even whether or not it is a "good buy." A man will judge it by one standard, what it does for you.

Why she has never married. Single girls complain that everyone seems to feel free to ask that embarrassing question.

How she likes being a grandmother. A woman may like it fine, yet still resent the question because it may seem to imply "How does it feel to have to admit you are old enough to be a grandmother?"

FOR HUSBANDS

WHAT she has been doing all day if you are her husband. You're supposed to know she has been working every minute, naturally.

To give your wife a recipe. The woman asked will be pleased, but make no mistake about it, your wife won't be.

How old she is. If you do that you deserve any kind of answer you get.

Where she bought a dress or hat. If it's from a shop she thinks will impress you she'll let you know and if it isn't she'll resent having to tell you.

If she is invited to a party you are going to. If she is you'll see her there. If she isn't she may not like to admit she wasn't invited.

For sympathy, unless you're prepared to have her feel sorry for you long after you stop feeling sorry for yourself.

If she's on a diet. That's an admission that you think she should be.

"Well, another minute and we'll find out if that little old nerve is still alive and kicking!"

By Bennett Cerf

"Try And Stop Me"

WHEN Toots Shor, the New York restaurant owner, made his first visit to California, his good friend Pat O'Brien, for a laugh, sent East for a handful of Toots's own menus. O'Brien then steered Toots into a famous Beverly Hills establishment, and thrust one of the menus into his hands.

Toots didn't recognize it for a moment. He glanced over the list of ready dishes, and murmured in a shocked voice, "Holy mackerel! What prices!"

WHEN a life insurance company staged a picnic on a Connecticut farm for the office personnel, one blonde phone operator, recently hired, actually saw a bull for the first time. "That bull is glaring at me," she announced, "and I don't like it." "I guess he doesn't like that red dress you're wearing," said her escort. "It's way out of style, all right," the blonde admitted, "but just think of an old country bull noticing it!"

Today's Journal Editorial

IT'S "GOODFELLOW TIME" AGAIN!

Probably no group has contributed more to the Christmas happiness of the needy children of Lubbock during the last 15 years than the Goodfellows.

Most Lubbock residents are familiar with their work. For that matter, thousands of Lubbock people have become Goodfellows themselves through contributions or other assistance to the movement each year.

But, for the benefit of anyone who may lack this information, it may be pertinent to explain that every penny given to the Goodfellows will be used to bring Christmas happiness to some needy child—and never will be used for any other purpose.

Contributions to this year's fund now are being received at the Avalanche-Journal, 1211 Texas avenue. The first list of contributors will be published tomorrow.

This, therefore, is a rallying call for all Goodfellows. They never have failed to respond in the past—nor do we have any uneasiness that they will fail this year.

OCEAN FREIGHT COSTS BIG ISSUE

Failure To Use U. S. Shipping For ECA Aid May Cost Europe

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—Failure to ship at least 50 per cent of certain Marshall plan goods on American-owned ships may cost seven western European countries as much as $30,000,000.

This was revealed following two days of conferences between top officials of the Economic Cooperation administration (ECA) and representatives of the nations concerned.

Involved are Great Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium-Luxembourg, Sweden, Ireland and Denmark.

It appeared that the countries might have to dig into their dollar reserves to make heavy refunds to the United States for ocean freight costs on recovery shipments.

ECA officials maintained an official silence on the dollar amount and total tonnage of shipping involved.

The agency previously announced, however, that it had "disallowed" financing of 48,395 tons of so-called liner cargo shipped largely from his country to Europe during the second quarter—April through June—of this year.

Merchant marine experts and shipping officials familiar with the situation reported that the figure might reach 150,000 tons, including shipments made during the July-September quarter and in October and November.

"If this is the case," one high-ranking shipping executive said, "the figure will run at least $30,000,000."

Refunds claimed by ECA result from provisions of the European recovery program, as passed by Congress, which requires that American-owned ships carry at least half of all Marshall plan shipments. In cases where this requirement is not obeyed, the receiving country must pay not only the freight charges involved but also the cost of the goods.

Faith Breach Not Issue

Under the act, this 50-50 breakdown applies to all types of ocean cargoes—those carried on liners, bulk carriers and tankers.

ECA stated that the seven countries—and all others receiving Marshall plan aid—have more than met their required commitments for shipping bulk and tanker cargoes.

Refunds are being asked, the agency said, solely for liner cargo shipments—such commodities as industrial machinery and automobiles, high-valued packaged goods, foodstuffs and similar processed or manufactured items.

Officials of the agency emphasized that no question of unlawful dealings or "breach of faith" are involved. They stressed the belief that the situation arose more through misunderstandings of the 50-50 shipping requirement.

Arthur G. Syran, director of ECA's transportation division, reported complete cooperation on the part of European officials to find a solution.

The basis for the refunds is on the difference between 50 per cent of the cargoes shipped and those actually carried by American vessels, Syran said.

W. R. Postma, council scout executive, made the annual scout executive's report, announcin, that membership in the South Plains council stood at over 5,000. Following, he introduced his staff, including Mrs. Kirby Hobgood, registrar; Miss Jean Goodloe, secretary and financial clerk; Frank Runkles, camp ranger at Camp Post; and these field Scout executives: J. B. Johnston, Lamesa; Ray L. Howard, Plainview; Raymond Lupfer, Lubbock; Coke Tolliver, Brownfield; and A. M. Standefer, Floydada.

Dr. Malone presented training certificates and awards to Postma, Johnston, Howard, Lupfer and Standefer.

Bond Award Presented

Cecil Cale of Lubbock presented the Haynes Bond award to Scout Troop 66, sponsored by the citizens of Grassland, and Troop 74 of Brownfield, sponsored by the Brownfield American Legion Post.

Luther Kindall is scoutmaster of the Grassland troop and Cecil Hill of the Brownfield troop.

The bond award is given annually to the two troops in the council which have shown greatest advancement during the past year. Each of the troops will keep the bond, which is given by John Haynes of Silverton, for a six-months period.

Other troops which also have shown superior advancement and endeavor during the past year, each of which received a photostatic copy of the bond, are:

Gene Quest of Lubbock received the first commissioner's key ever given in the South Plains council. Training awards went to E. B. Gaither of Tahoka, John Lott of Post, Mrs. B. E. Young and Mrs. John Lott, both of Post, A. L. Kirk of Seminole and M. L. Kenley of Grassland.

A 15-year award was presented to J. M. Willson, jr., of Floydada; while O. C. Arthur of Spur received a 20-year award.

Benediction was offered by Rev. J. Preston Murphy, pastor of the Brownfield Presbyterian church.

ly residents.

Water connections and light meters are outside as well as inside the city limits. But only the population inside the limits should be counted. And using dwellings as a basis does not take into account housing shortages—and consequent "doubling up" with more than one family in one structure.

This uncertainty results in a wide range of guesses in some cities, and emphasizes that "educated guesses" are not authoritative.

Varied At Plainview

At Plainview, for instance, the range was from 14,000 to 18,000. Mart Pool, manager of the Southwestern Public Service company, made the 18,000 estimate. John W. Scott, manager of the West Texas Gas company, said 14,000. Postmaster J. Oliver Bier hazarded 17,000 and Paul Bryan, of the city water system, 15,200. President R. V. Payne of the chamber of commerce chose a middle-ground estimate of 15,000.

El Paso also has its disputants. Mayor Dan Duke: "Not over 137,000." City Tax Assessor J. B. Graves: "149,000 or close to that in the 1950 census." Chamber of Commerce Manager Chris P. Fox: "125,000 to 127,000 with a possibility of 130,000. No more."

But such wide disagreement is the exception. The "educated guesses" are ordinarily accepted for what they are represented to be: the most nearly accurate estimate can be made without marshalling the army and spending the millions which Uncle Sam will marshal and spend next year.

Estimates Are Given

Here is a table showing estimated growth of Texas cities:

	1940 Census	1949 Estimate
Abilene	26,612	45,000
Amarillo	51,686	96,272
Austin	87,930	150,000
Athens	4,768	10,500
Beaumont	59,061	100,000
Big Spring	12,604	18,500
Borger	10,018	18,000
Brownsville	22,083	44,310

the group either.

Most outstanding number by the orchestra was Tschaikowsky's "The Enchanted Lake Ballet Suite," his first attempt at ballet being the second part of that number, "Dance of the Swans."

Short Numbers Offered

Among the short numbers of the group was "Ave Maria" by Schubert. Bobby Robbins, member of the Texas Tech band, gave the trumpet solo part of the composition.

Other numbers on program included Overture from "Italians in Algeria" (Rossini); Symphony No. 3 in E Flat, first movement Allegro Con Brio (Beethoven); "Orientale" (Cui); "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" (Jessel) and "Sleigh Ride" (Leroy Anderson).

Before the second part of the program Dr. Allen T. Stewart commended the work of William A. Harrod, conductor and the members of the only voluntary symphony in the state and issued a plea for contributions to keep the orchestra operating.

The group will suffer a $3,350 deficit if it presents all programs scheduled for this year, unless contributions are received, he said.

Atom Plant Workers On Protest Walkout

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., Dec. 6 (AP)—A walkout of about 250 AFL steamfitters, truck drivers and operational engineers continued today at the new $66,000,000 gaseous diffusion plant project.

The big plant is being built to increase production of uranium-235 for atomic bombs.

It was understood the workers, employes of Maxon Construction Co., protested the use of non-union labor on a short natural gas pipeline being run into the K-29 area by the Oman Construction Co., of Nashville.

A superintendent for Oman, A. A. Corrigan of Harriman, said he knew of no previous difficulties from use of non-union workers.

Top officials of the company including Edward Quicksilver of St. Louis, president; Howard M. Smith, Amarillo, vice president; Sam Wilenzick, Enid, Okla., secretary-treasurer; and Charles W. Smith, Odessa, member of the board of directors, are to be here for the formal opening.

Shah Of Iran Passes Up Tour Of Film Studio In Hollywood

By HOWARD C. HEYN
Associated Press Staff Writer

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6—Perhaps a cat can look at a king, but Hollywood got no such chance with the shah of Iran.

The shah declined to visit a movie studio yesterday.

Instead he eagerly inspected nuts, bolts and crankshafts at an aircraft factory.

His failure to watch Hollywood at work was unique. Even the great among visitors usually want to see a set or meet the stars. Studios continually are fighting off lesser guests.

Now, for once, fildom knows what it's like to be passed by.

Advisers to the 30-year-old Mohammad Reza Shah Pahlavi, explained, with diplomatic care, that his imperial majesty's regretful refusal doesn't mean he isn't interested in motion pictures. On the contrary.

Spurns Benny Show

But, they said, throughout his current American tour the shah has consistently declined all unscheduled invitations. He has had scores of these and to accept an invitation to a studio the spokesman said, might offend some of those he had disappointed.

State department attaches accompanying the monarch said he had received quite a few such invitations here, although he had not been "overwhelmed."

Among these, it was understood, was one from Jack Benny, who wanted him to appear on his broadcast Sunday.

Another reportedly came from Carl Brisson who asked the shah to a gathering at his home. And a women's press club is said to have sought the ruler for a luncheon honoring Dorothy Lamour also.

Inspect Jet Planes

The shah lunched yesterday with Robert E. Gross, president of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., and then toured portions of the plant. He walked along the Constellation final assembly line, setting a pace so brisk that newsmen had to trot to keep up and he peppered Gross with questions.

The roar of riveting guns drowned their conversation.

The athletic young king, an enthusiastic sportsman pilot, inspected the assembly of F-80 Shooting Stars, jet fighter craft, saw a fuselage being lowered onto a wing, and visited Lockheed's million dollar research laboratory.

To Enter Hospital

Today the shah will say goodbye to most of his Iranian entourage, which is returning to New York. The king leaves here Wednesday for Sun Valley and this part of his tirp is private. His official visit ends upon his arrival there, a State department spokesman said.

Later, in the east, the shah will rejoin his party and before heading homeward he hopes to enter an eastern hospital for a medical checkup. Attaches said this may be Johns Hopkins at Baltimore, but choice has not been determined. The shah is said to be troubled by a sinus condition but nothing official was forthcoming on any specific ailment.

TEXAN SAYS LAW MISINTERPRETED

Solon Asks PMA For Revision Of Cotton Acreage Allotments

WACO, Dec. 6. (AP)—Congressman W. R. Poage (D-Texas) has asked the top man of the Production and Marketing administration to either revise the 1950 cotton acreage allotments or "interpret the law as intended by Congress."

Poage charged yesterday that "the very livelihood of Texas farmers" is being taken away "because of a terrible injustice" in the present interpretation of the cotton acreage allotment law.

Texas' 1950 cotton allotment acreage is about one-sixth less than 1949's planting.

He went into details of the cotton allotment law and what he said was the present interpretation in a lettef to Ralph Trigg, head of the PMA.

War Crops Credited

Poage said the law provides for the allotment of cotton to the states on a basis of 1945, 1946, 1947, and 1948 plantings, with provisions that states, counties and farms get full credit for war crops. He named these crops as grain sorghums, flax or other crops which were planted during the war at the request of the government instead of cotton.

He told Trigg that the government promised farmers that war crops would be considered as cotton for allotment provisions.

The Texas congressman said there was another provision of the law limiting the allotment of a state to no less than 95 per cent of allotments for 1947 and 1948. He called this the "California gadget."

Texas Not Included

Poage said the "California gadget" was intended for the states of California, New Mexico, Arizona and Missouri.

"No one ever intended for Texas to come under this provision," he wrote Trigg.

The congressman said Texas was given its allotment under the 95 percent provision because it received 93 acres more in the total allotment than it would under the four-year figures.

However, under the present interpretation, when the state allotment was divided among counties, the county PMA officials were told by the U. S. Department of Agriculture that they must give credit to the farmers who planted war crops in place of cotton.

Doesn't Need Rewriting

"The California gadget provision does not provide additional acreage to the county allotment to cover war crops," Poage said. "Therefore, counties must give credits of other farmers to those who planted war crops."

Poage said there was no need to rewrite the war crop credits section of the law.

"There are other provisions of the law that doubtless need amendment, but it is not amendment to the law that we need in regard to war crops," Poage told Trigg. "All we need in this respect is for the department to give this subsection as it is written."

Completion Of New Producer Scheduled

The Honolulu Paul Cobb No. 1 in Eastern Yoakum county is set to complete as a new producer to open an entirely new horizon for the territory lying between Slaughter field and the Wassom pool.

Present depth is 7,745 feet and the well is scheduled to bottom, set pipe and perforate to producing levels. When completed it will be a two horizon producer from the Upper Clear Fork between 6,144-6,169 feet and the Lower Clear Fork between 7,702-7,745 feet.

In drilling, the Honolulu Oil corporation found traces of oil in the San Andres. However it went below this level and tapped oil in the Upper and Lower Clear Fork stratas.

Most easterly point in North America is Cape Charles, Labrador.

Insurance Men End Meeting In Lubbock

Four top members of the insurance profession spoke at the first in a series of four sales congresses, held in the Hilton hotel Monday. The series is sponsored by the Texas Accident and Health Underwriters association.

Forty members engaged in this field of the insurance business heard E. F. Gregory, state manager of the Business Men's Assurance Company of Denver, Colo., speak on "Those First Fateful Seconds." He was followed by William D. Bacon, general agent of the Occidental Life Insurance company of California from San Antonio, who spoke on "Underwritten or Underrotten."

Carl A. Ernst, branch manager of North American Life and Casualty company of St. Paul, Minn., gave an address on "The 4 S's," after which the meeting was closed at 4:30 p. m. by Clifford McDonald, agency supervisor of Insur-O-Medic Life Insurance company of Dallas, speaking on "How I Sell Accident and Life Insurance."

The meeting was opened with a brief introduction setting forth the purposes of the series by Emerson Davis of Dallas. Davis is serving as generr' chairman of the series.

The three remaining meetings in the series are to be held in Dallas on Dec. 6, San Antonio Dec. 7, and Houston Dec. 8.

The local sales congress was sponsored by the Lubbock Accident and Health association of which H. D. Woods is president; Troy Price, vice-president; and Mrs. O. P. Harlan, secretary, treasurer.

Meeting Of Mental Hygiene Group Set

Mrs. Elizabeth Gardner of Austin, executive secretary of the Texas Society of Mental hygiene, will speak at a meeting of the Lubbock County Society for Mental hygiene at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night in the parlor of First Christian church, Dr. Travis White, acting chairman of the society, said.

The meeting will be open to anyone wishing to attend.

Dr. White said plans have been completed for a six weeks' series of lectures to be given in January and February by Dr. R. K O'Laughlin, psychiatrist at Lubbock memorial hospital.

Yugoslav Loan Request Is Cut

LONDON, Dec. 5 (AP)—Because of her economic troubles, Britain has scaled down Yugoslavia's request for about 18,000,000 pounds ($50,400,000) in British commercial credits, official sources said today.

British Ambassador Sir Charles Peake is expected to fly back today to his post from conferences with Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin to give the bad news to Tito.

The cabinet has decided, the sources said, that it cannot offer Yugoslavia much more than 8,000,000 pounds ($22,400,000) even though Britain wants to help Tito in his economic fight against the Russian-led Cominform.

Request Increased

Britain earlier had agreed to extend 8,000,000 pounds in credits. But Yugoslavia raised her original request several weeks ago, the sources said, during negotiations going on between the two countries for a five-year 200,000,000 pounds ($560,000,000) trade agreement. These negotiations have been going on for more than a year.

Tito's trade negotiators are said to have raised the amount of credit Yugoslavia wanted under terms of the pact because of high prices for British goods coupled with Yugoslavia's own difficult economic position.

Traveling with Peake will be Noel Patterson, board of trade expert who has done most of the spade work in the trade talks.

The two, informants said, are expected to reiterate to Tito Britain's willingness to help his government in the economic war with the east but that they cannot go much above the amount offered.

The sources said if Yugoslavia turns down this offer the two countries may concentrate on short-term trading arrangements.

Britain wants especially Yugoslav corn, metals and other raw materials in exchange for her machinery and manufactured consumer goods.

Reading Sunday Paper Good Method Of Building Muscle

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK—If you are trying to lose weight, don't overlook reading a good big Sunday newspaper.

This is the cheapest and best form of exercise available to modern man.

It not only tones your mind. It takes away sloppy fat and replaces it with firm, solid muscle.

Lifting barbells can be dangerous. If one slips and falls it can bury your toes an inch deep in the flooring. Tennis, handball, and bowling are sometimes too strenuous for the middle-age frame. And they are forms of exercise that require taking a journey.

For the home-loving man who wants to keep fit, however, nothing beats reading a king-size Sunday newspaper. It'll tune you up like a tiger, and you'll wake up Monday morning refreshed and eager for the week's work.

I learned this lesson some 13 years ago. I was feeling weak and run-down. Anything that required energy was anathema.

It chances that I complained of this lassitude to an elderly acquaintance I met in the New York public library.

"Feel my muscles," he said, curling his arm. I did. They were like coiled springs.

"Now feel my stomach." It was like a brick wall.

"How do you keep in such fine shape at your age?" I inquired.

"Very simple. I read all the Sunday newspapers. That is the finest kind of workout for the muscles."

List Is Given

Then he gave a list of exercises and cautioned:

"Don't overdo it by trying to lift the paper all at once."

This was unnecessary advice. When I tried to bring in the newspapers the following Sunday, I found I couldn't budge them. I tied a rope round them and dragged them in—with the help of my wife.

At first I could only lift one section at a time. As my biceps thickened I found I could muscle a tabloid paper overhead with one hand. Still working with tabloids I started building up my stomach muscles. My wife, Frances, would pile section after section on my abdomen. At the end of a year I could lie there and take the whole weight of a new Sunday New York Times on my tensed stomach—and still breathe.

Two years after I began this systematic exercise I had slimmed down 20 pounds and could hold a Sunday newspaper overhead in each hand.

Brazil's unions, in convention, demanded greater union freedom, better operaton of the labor courts and increased social benefits for workers.

The Store of Better Values . . . . . COMPARE

S. & Q. Clothiers Started Back In 1915 With Store At Ada, Okla.

In the year of 1915 when cotton was selling for five cent per pound, when a national movement towards helping the South was instituted, and the "Buy a Bale" slogan was adopted, a young man who had the confidence of youth and the vision of economic strength and the future prosperity of the Southwest took over a half interest in the management of a clothing store in Ada, Oklahoma on February 22, 1915, and planted the seed of which todayis the largest and finest groups of men's and boys' apparel stores in the Southwest.

Edward Quicksilver, who is president of Quicksilver-Smith Company owners of S and Q Clothiers, was the original manager of the first S & Q store.

The business at that time was operated under the firm name of Schienberg & Quicksilver. Ben Schienberg, one of the original partners, died in 1923. The surviving founder of this business, Edward Quicksilver, demonstrated from the inception of this first store that he had a clear understanding of the necessary fundamentals to operate the kind of a store that would create confidence and good-will.

It was more than just an idea, it was a policy of service and quality that entered into every detail in the conduct of his business. He w s a pioneer, man of vision, a creator. Evidence of his soundness of judgment and character is represented by the group of splendid stores in Texas and Oklahoma, and the policy of putting these principles into practice. These stores represent the largest distributors at retail of men's and boys' apparel in the entire Southwest.

Style Is Featured

Deeply rooted in the policy of this business is it's stock of high-grade merchandise of style and quality. Style has been one of the hobbies of Edward Quicksilver, as it is the contention that style is one of the essentials of our modern civilization and its' creative origin is not in any one center in particular. The boy and his daddy are today as style conscious as the girl and her mother.

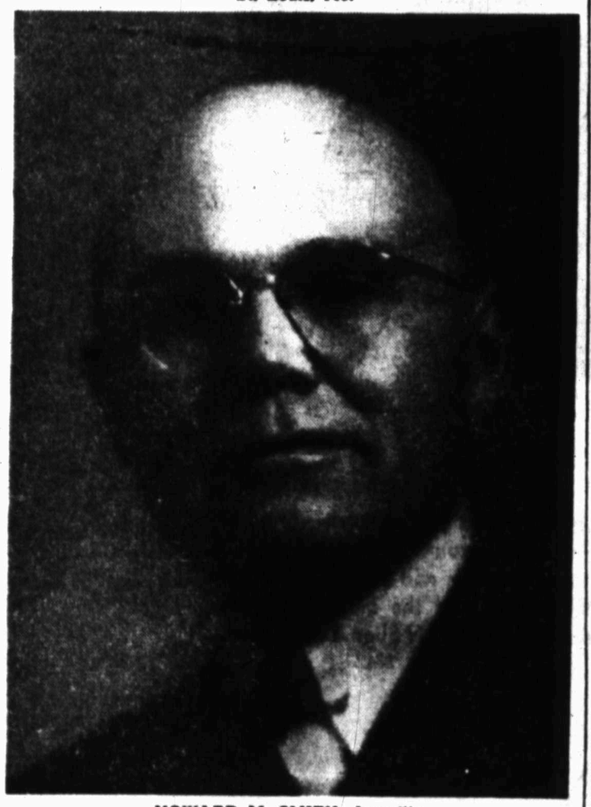

As to quality, this has been one of the principles upon which the founder has built his foundation. It is his belief that quality has no substitute and he insists upon its strict observance.

Quicksilver, when questioned as to the success of his S & Q Clothiers and his idea for successful merchandising, gave this as his formula—"Through about 30 years of service the S & Q Clothiers have stood for integrity and fair dealings, perpetuating the ideals of its' founders. Even in confused times our course is clearly marked. No magic is available to successful modern merchandising that will serve as a substitute for integrity. That precious ingredient underlying our operations and traditions, earns us the confidence and respect of our public."

LIKE A CONSTRUCTION MIRACLE

Around-The-Clock Work Used In Completing New S. & Q. Clothiers

Completion of S and Q Clothiers' gleaming new building in just 90 days' time sounds like a construction miracle—and that's just what it is, although a lot of planning and around-the-clock work helped it along.

When Robert E. Maxey's workmen arrived at the S and Q location the first day of September, the task looked difficult. A 50-by 125 foot basement had to be dug without removing the roof of the building.

Front And Floor Removed

The first thing the contractor did was to remove the front of the building and take up the floor. With the timbers out of the floor, huge A-shaped frames were built, with the legs braced against the foundation and the apex end supporting the longitudinal roof beam.

Then came the bulldozer and the power shovel, right into the building, and the basement rapidly took shape. Soon the power shovel was in a hold the depth of the basement where it could remove the dirt and caliche, load it into trucks and speed it away. With the roof still intact over the pit, rain did not interfere with the work and the job progressed rapidly.

As soon as the excavating was finished the steel arrived on a Saturday morning and by Sunday at 6 p. m. the steel erectors had set steel beams, stanchions and floor joints firmly set in place.

From that point the work really hummed. In six week's time the excavation, steel and concrete floor work were being completed and the store was taking shape. Then the ceiling over the balcony was raised and the balcony floor was strengthened.

In his effort to have the store done in 90 days, the contractor put on the steam and workmen did plenty of overtime, nights and Sundays.

But the result, as visitors may now see for themselves, is one of the largest, most beautiful, convenient and up-to-date men's and boy's stores in Texas.

Window Displays Are Featured In New Store; Designs Are Latest

MRS. LOUISE JACKSON
Credit Manager in charge of main office.

The S and Q Clothiers company has always appreciated the part that window displays and honest advertising played in their successful operation.

When the new store was planned for Lubbock, the architects were asked to lay out the store windows so they could be the most outstanding in town and the greatest help to the prospective customer.

Four Large Windows

The result of that request provided the new store with four large display windows and one smaller one. One of the four large ones is original in design, being more like a patio, with floor on sidewalk level, a beautiful "honed flagstone" floor and no back, which permits window-shoppers to see right through it into the store.

In all the windows the ceilings are covered with an "egg crating" that completely hides the source of light. Painted a dark gray, ceiling does not distract the attention of shoppers from the window displays.

Workshop Is Complete

Along with these spacious and beautiful windows, the store has provided the display man with one of the finest and most complete display and advertising workshops in the country.

Some display men are said to work in a basement or a hot and dirty attic, but in the new S and Q the display man has a room all to himself—33 feet long and 18 feet wide, air conditioned, insulated, heated, equipped with running water, telephone, buzzer for window calls, a modern card printing machine and a stage window where displays can be developed far in advance.

Display Room Above

The display room is over the windows and a private stairway leads down to a "window well" where the windows can be reached without anyone from the main floor being aware that a new display is being installed.

Good work cannot be accomplished without the proper tools and suitable working conditions. the management realizes, and that is why they have provided the display man with this modern and up-to-date department.

CHARLEY DYE
Men's Clothing Department

Charley is one of the familiar faces at S and Q. He really needs no introduction. . . Charley has been in Lubbock a long time and is looking forward to serving you in the Clothing Dept. of this new S and Q.

S. & Q. Features Its Boys' Shop

In planning the new S. & Q. Clothiers for Lubbock and surrounding trade territory, special emphasis was placed on the Boys' Shop.

"We like to get the boys early (at two years of age) and sell them the type of merchandise that will interest them and bring S. and Q. customers years later," Alvin Goldstucker, S. & Q. manager, said.

Merchandise Displayed Prominent

Not only will the Boys' Shop be roomy and conveniently arranged, but it will be air-conditioned and centrally heated, with open clothing racks where merchandise can be easily inspected. Modern glass top tables, making the pleasure of selection a pleasure; the sport jacket racks, the modern shirts, pajamas, socks and underwear tables where all merchandise is out in the open and can be found easily will make shopping in the boys shop a pleasure.

"Another important factor of more than usual interest, due to our affiliation with a large group of stores operating successful boys' shops in practically every section of the country, we are in a position to buy the outstanding lines in fine quality, high style merchandise that usually is to be found in much larger cities, and at prices that bring real savings to S. & Q. customers," Goldstucker continued.

"You will find many nationally advertised brands represented here, which is your assurance that you can always shop here with confidence as to style, quality and correct prices.

"With our courteous and efficient salesmen who know best where and how to sell and fit boys, we feel that you will enjoy shopping in our new modern and efficient S& Q Q. Boys' Shop," Goldstucker added.

Scientists At Texas U. Seek New Super-Power Insecticide

AUSTIN, Dec. 6 (INS)—University of Texas scientists are helping pave the way for possible new insecticides combining in one molecule both instantaneous killing action and the lingering effects of DDT.

The new insecticides, if developed, will be more powerful than "bug killers" of pyrethrum—DDT mixtures now on the market.

Dr. Lewis F. Hatch, chemistry professor, is directing graduate researchers David William McDonald, Houston, and Virgil L. Tweddle, Austin, in allylic chlorides research toward seeking that goal.

The two graduate researchers are on $3,400 fellowships given by the Research Corporation of New York. The grants are the third renewal by the corporation of such work here.

Allylic chloride research at the university prior to the latest fellowship extensions provided means for the U.S. Department of Agriculture scientists to discover the molecular structure of cinerin I. The material is one active ingredient of pyrethrum, a poisonous substance taken from an African flower bearing the same name, and considered by many scientists to be the best known insecticide.

Texas U. Resumes Service With Booklet On Mohair Industry

AUSTIN, Dec. 6 (INS) — A brochure on the Texas mohair industry marks resumption by the University of Texas Bureau of Business research of its series of publications intended to assist the state's industries.

The monograph, "Production and Marketing of Mohair in Texas," is by Dr. Stella Traweek, assistant professor of business services and a native of the West Texas goat country.

The brochure recounts the history of the industry, deals with its marketing problems and mechanism, and discusses the industry's future with its attendant problems. It is the first new booklet since 1940 in the bureau's monograph series.

Copies of the new publication may be obtained for $2 each from the Bureau of Business research, University of Texas, Austin 12, Texas.

Rattlesnakes Mar Day For Peanut Farmer In Alabama

COLUMBIA, Ala., Dec. 6. (U.P.)—Willis Cochran, peanut farmer, saw snakes and got them both.

While pulling weeds from among his peanuts, Cochran saw a rattlesnake near his hand, poised ready for the strike. Cochran was too quick and smashed its head with a rock.

Slightly unnerved, Cochran went home for a rest. When he suddenly looked up from his bed, he saw a rat snake dangling from a rafter above him. He called for a rifle and picked the reptile from its perch.

Years Of Planning, Experience Go Into New S. & Q. Clothiers

The man who goes into a store for a suit or a pair of sox would be amazed to know how much planning has gone into designing a store to make shopping easy and pleasant for him. The new S & Q store is an excellent illustration of the years of planning and experience that go into a pleasing store arrangement.

When the heads of S & Q Clothiers signed the lease for their new location four years ago, they immediately got busy with the architects and store planner with one purpose and intention in mind: To give shoppers of Lubbock and the surrounding area the most up-to-date and enjoyable store for men and boys that money could buy.

Shelves Behind Fixtures

For those who visit the new S & Q store and wonder why certain new ideas have been employed, this explanation should give an answer. Many of the new arrangements took days and weeks of planning before a decision was reached and plans drawn.

In the new store the wall fixtures are set out from the walls with the shelving behind them. This was done to make room for extra stock close to the selling area, thus making it posible to serve the customer more quickly with goods not in the front stock.

Allows More Aisle Space

The show cases all slope inward from top to bottom, to allow the customer to stand closer to the merchandise under consideration and to allow more aisle space for other patrons.

Two 15-ton air conditioning units were installed rather than one 30-ton unit. This was done so that one unit could cool the front of the building and the other the rear of the building, thus giving a more even distribution of temperature control and better comfort for the shopper.

One question that will come to the minds of some who look at the beautiful show windows is, "why are the show window ceilings painted dark gray?"

This was done to avoid distracting from the merchandise on display and to make the source of lighting in the windows less obvious.

Lighting Is Combination

Ceiling lighting is both fluorescent and incandescent, in order to blend the lighting to give a truer picture of colors.

The store will feature a Lamson tube system to carry change and sales tickets to a central cashier. This was done to enable wrapping to be scattered out to four or five spots rather than use the old sytem of having one central wrapping counter and cash register. It also eliminates long waits at the wrapping stand.

Solid Glass Doors

Other S & Q stores use solid glass doors, but the management decided on glass doors in aluminum frames for the Lubbock store to make the doors lighter and easier for women and children to open.

The traditional place for the hat department—near the front door—has been avoided in the new store. The architect reasoned that men like a little privacy when selecting a hat, and with the hat sales area away from the front of the store, the hat customer can select his headgear without interruptions.

The men's clothing department in the new store is a huge semi-circle with every garment showing, to enable the customer to see every garment in stock. There will be no backing out of the way while a salesman turns an old-fashioned clothing rack around, the management says. Everything is right in front of the customer for his selection.

Departments On Balcony

The boys' department and children's shoe department are on the balcony, and this influenced the selection of a solid wall along the front of the balcony rather than an ornamental one, for safety's sake.

Rubber tile was chosen for the floor covering of the new store main floor because of the beauty and comfort it affords. The salespersons, too, will enjoy the comfort of rubber tile because it is restful for those who stand for long periods of time.

Noise Is Reduced

In the clothing department, with the ceiling covered with acoustical tile and the floor with rubber tile, a double combination for eliminating noise has been made. The management says many different groups can shop in the spacious clothing department and not be conscious of the others.

This is one example of the engineering that was employed to make S & Q Clotheirs a nice place to shop.

Store Departmentalized

The floor plan of the store makes it 100 per cent departmentalized. The luggage department is conveniently located in the front of the store in rubber-covered bins that protect the luggage from becoming shopworn.

The sportswear department is convenient to the front door, and unified in one department, thus eliminating going from place to place to examine kindred merchandise.

Boys' Department Complete Store

The boys' department, large and spacious, is really a complete store within itself just for boys. Mothers can take their boys to this new and larger department and shop with leisure and comfort.

The men's shoe department is greatly enlarged and located on the balcony for more privacy and space.

Modern merchandising calls for plenty of merchandise on tables where the customer can examine it at his leisure or see enough merchandise to make an intelligent selection.

Has Four Aisles

The main floor of this store has four aisles from front to back, eliminating traffic congestion. Between these aisles are plenty of tables loaded with seasonable goods where shoppers can browse around and find what they are searching for. In fact, every piece of merchandise is out in plain sight.

These and many other design innovations will be open for public inspection and the new and greater S & Q Clotheirs formal opening at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night.
