"This is what dreams are made of", Chris Kyker, former representative with the West Texas Council of Governments in Abilene, now of Austin, told a large gathering Wednesday at the 10th anniversary celebration of the Loraine Senior Citizens Center.

Mrs. Kyker is credited with helping organize the Loraine group and she was a special guest at Wednesday's celebration.

"When people like you set your minds and hearts to build something, this is the result," she said as she gazed across the audience. "From very small beginnings, great things happened because some people said 'yes'."

Other special guests at Wednesday's birthday celebration included Jerome Wright of Comanche and Delbert Downing of Snyder, representatives to the Silver-Haired Legislature from this area. Elaine Allred with the Area Agency on Aging in Abilene also was present.

A history of the organization was prepared by Effie Wheeler and read by Estha Coffee.

"Today we have gathered for a birthday celebration and who among us does not enjoy celebrations?" asked Mrs. Coffee. "The celebration is in honor of the Loraine Senior Citizens Inc., 10th birthday. At times our membership has exceeded the 200 mark, but at this time our membership is 187."

She said the original meeting of those interested in forming a Senior Citizens group in Loraine was on Nov. 16, 1976 at 7 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church. The meeting was called by Rev. Fred Witta, pastor of the church, and 23 people attended.

Ray Preston was appointed to act as chairman and Fred Witta as co-chairman.

On Jan. 12, 1977, a pie-coffee social took place at the Lion's Building with 52 people present.

It was announced at that time that the senior citizens would meet on Jan. 20, 1977 for a program and refreshments. Fifty one people were present and various committees were appointed.

"It was following this that Chris Kyker, a representative from West Texas Council of Governments in Abilene, told the group that $1,000 was available to this group through West Texas Council of Governments from the state, but the local group would be required to match the $1,000 to be eligible for these funds," said Mrs. Coffee. "When Mrs. Kyker saw the enthusiasm of the group, she asked 'Why not undertake a nutrition program?'"

She said the group incorporated before the county barn was selected as the meeting place. On Feb. 24, 1977, the group was officially incorporated as Loraine Senior Citizens, Inc. and received the contract from the West Texas Council of Governments to serve meals. Ten percent of the cost of the meals was to be their share, and the balance would be government money.

She said hundreds of hours of volunteer time was spent to partition off an area in the county barn to prepare and

CHS juniors fare well on TEAMS test

The percentage of Colorado High School juniors passing the TEAMS (Texas Assessment of Minimal Skills) test is better than the state average, CHS counselor Al Sheldon said.

Sheldon said juniors took the test last October and are required to pass it before they can graduate.

"This year 92 percent of the Colorado High School juniors passed the math test," said Sheldon. "The language arts test was passed by 91 percent of the students."

The state average of the math test is 89 percent and for the language arts test, 87 percent.

"In comparing this year's 91 percent in language arts and 92 percent in math with last year's 86 percent in math and 88 percent in language arts, we are well pleased," said Sheldon. "We will not be satisfied though, until every student passes both exams."

Sheldon said the CISD will be administering the TEAMS test to the third, fifth, seventh and ninth grades during the week of Feb. 9-11. The testing will be conducted over a three-day period starting with the mathematics portion on Tuesday, Feb. 10. The reading part of the test will be administered on Wednesday, Feb. 11 and the final portion, the writing test, will be offered on Thursday, Feb. 12.

Parents of third, fifth, seventh and ninth grade students should encourage them to avoid being absent during this time and to get plenty of sleep the night preceding each testing session, said Sheldon.

Election set

Loraine voters will get the opportunity to decide on four places on the city council in the April 4 election.

The terms of Mayor Roy Price and council members Jackie Walker, Catarino Martinez and Stanley Moore are expiring this year.

Price has announced he will not seek re-election.

As of Friday, city hall reported that no one had filed for election to the two-year terms. Filing deadline is Feb. 18.

Students win championships

The Westbrook High School calculator application and number sense teams came away with championship honors at the Stamford UIL Academic Meet last Saturday.

The Westbrook teams, coached by Dan Truelove, competed against class A, AA and AAA schools.

Charles Hines placed first in number sense and first in calculator application in the ninth grade division while Scott Jaco took third place honors in calculator application in the 11th grade division.

Sophomores Guy Campbell, Marty Browne and Mikki Sullivan took second, third and fourth, respectively, in calculator application while Luis Aquinogg took sixth. Campbell also placed third in number sense.

Senior Hollis Browne placed first in number sense and fifth in calculator application while Dale Browne was second in calculator application and Stephany Pierce took third in both number sense and calculator application.

Commodities to be distributed

Commodities of butter, cheese, flour, honey and dry milk will be distributed Wednesday, Feb. 11 from 1-4 p.m. at the ag barn (new applications 9:30-3 p.m.): in Loraine from 9:30-11:30 a.m.; and in Westbrook from 9:30 a.m.-4 p.m. They will be distributed at the Wallace Center on Thursday from 9:30-11:30 a.m.

Persons getting home delivery are asked to keep dogs restrained so the volunteers can make deliveries.

New applicants must bring a utility bill to certify residence. A bill is required, not a canceled check or receipt.

A sturdy container is needed as the commodities will be heavy.

serve the meals. The first meal was served on Sept. 27, 1977. She said the original contract was for 75 meals twice weekly and the donation price per meal was set at 35 cents. There were 92 present for the first meal, and the overflow crowd that day ate in the outer barn.

"An immediate request was made for more space," she said. Mitchell County allocated $1,800 in revenue sharing funds which was used to insulate the entire barn.

"We appreciate all the influence Judge Carter has had in our program," she said. "Many other improvements continued to be made from donations and money raised by the group through garage sales, bake sales, box suppers, chili suppers, etc."

In June, 1978, the state funding was up-dated and a contract issued to serve 85 meals three times weekly. There presently is funding for 92 meals three times weekly.

"Due to increase in food costs and labor, the meal donations have escalated from the original 35 cents to $1.25 at the present time," she said. "As the government funds were cut back, larger donations had to close the gap."

In 1980, the group received a $350,000 loan from the Farmers Home Administration for construction of 16 apartments for the elderly.

The housing project was named in honor of Willie Taylor and Fred Witta who "traveled many miles and gave hours and hours of their time throughout the project."

"In our organization, the board of directors are over the housing project and the nutrition program," she said, adding that the past presidents include Ray Preston, Willie Taylor, Rudy Bauman, Roy Wells and Herbert Mearse. Margaret Brame is the new president.

Edith Wilkerson has served as the general treasurer since the beginning of the nutrition program. The two on-site managers are Adeline Witta and Darlene Hamrick.

Entertainment was provided by a quartet consisting of Homer Richburg, Lela Lucas, Willie Taylor and Luther Ray Wright. Mrs. Corene Taylor accompanied on the piano. Willie Taylor was master of ceremonies for the event.

Appointment pleases Stenholm

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Congressman Charles W. Stenholm says he is pleased and honored to be in a position to better serve the veterans of the 17th District and Texas.

The Stamford Democrat recently began an appointment as a member of the U.S. House Committee on Veterans Affairs. Congressman Stenholm accepted the duties of his new committee citing the needs of the 17th District, especially the Veterans Administration Medical Center in Big Spring.

"Veterans have made many sacrifices to preserve the American way of life that we all enjoy today," said Congressman Stenholm. "By serving on Veterans Affairs, I will strive to insure that America meets its responsibility to those who made the ultimate sacrifices for the benefit of the nation."

"I am looking forward to the opportunity to work with one of the most distinguished and respected Chairmen in the House, my dear friend and colleague, Congressman Sonny Montgomery," said Stenholm, who is one of only two Texas Democrats on this all-important committee.

Each congressman may serve on two committees. Stenholm has served on the Agriculture and Small Business Committees in the past. He will remain on the Ag Committee. He said he left the Small Business Committee with regrets, but this was a vital opportunity to help address urgent rural health care problems via the Veterans' Health Subcommittee. As part of a comprehensive examination of rural health care issues, Stenholm believes that health care for rural veterans plays a significant role.

"I welcome the monumental task of serving on this committee. I believe I can help and that's what I intend to do," said contribute to this committee and the fifth-term representative.

It wasn't the smoothest courtship - this thing between John and Janet.

He'd watched his brothers and sisters go to the altar, then to the courthouse. Or at best, into a kind of bondage that frightened him. Walking down the aisle was like walking barefooted to the electric chair.

Being a Catholic, he knew he'd never escape matrimony with his soul intact. It was something to think about, so John thought, and then he thought some more.

Fortunately, John's mother-in-law to be was more decisive. "I don't care if you get divorced in three weeks," is the way he remembers her putting it. "But so help me God, you are going to get married tomorrow."

The humiliation of returning shower gifts from a previous 11th hour bailout was still fresh on her mind. A repeat performance promised to end in a homicide.

John got married the next day. He cried through the ceremony, as grooms sometimes will. Unfortunately, it was for all the wrong reasons.

"I hope you're happy," he remembers saying to his new bride as they drove away from the church, cans still attached to the bumper of the car.

The first post-marital argument ensued as the car moved toward the $250-a-night hotel they'd reserved. Even after they got there, John was only going to stop long enough to call the bus station.

The way he figured it, she could bunk in the hotel while he went back to beg the priest for an annulment.

John and Janet met in the Catskills. Both were at the "discovery" age of their lives. A Transcendental Meditation school promised answers.

Neither were rich, so they paid their tuition by working in the kitchen making vegetables and whatever else gurus and people with long stringy hair make.

They hated one another on sight. Janet was a trendy kid from Colorado, John a Vietnam vet whose experiences in Southeast Asia paled in comparisons to his experiences in parochial schools of Kentucky.

Except for choosing the right God at the right time and then not bothering Him with stupid questions like, "What am I doing here?" he says decision-making was not encouraged.

When the priests and nuns stopped making his decisions, Uncle Sam came on in relief.

So trying to figure out if he should, or should not, marry Janet was a difficult experience. John needed time to reflect - years of it, in fact.

"Janet's a saint," he says now. "She's attractive, intelligent, the girl next door type. If somebody had done me the way I did her, I couldn't have taken it."

Nobody questions this, least of all, Janet. John didn't really decide to stay over that night at the hotel. He just sort of vacillated himself to sleep. Janet vacillated too - between tears and rage. Like most former brides, she describes her wedding night as memorable.

In the weeks to come John wrestled over whether to damn his soul, or to gut it out for the next forty years until the pallbearers could pick up his corpse. Then they moved to California and shared a house with another couple.

John hated it. California was relatively commitless, though. It gave him time to think. He got into television and figured out he was pretty good at it. It was a contradiction because he was always having to make split-second decisions as a producer. But again, John was in California where contradictions can be passed off as wisdom.

He admits now the woman he "hoped was happy" as they drove away from the church has made him happier than anyone he's ever known. And Ashley has joined this unlikely pair, too.

She weighed in at eight pounds and some change a couple of months ago. John confesses she's perfect.

Ashley wasn't planned, of course. They'd talked about it, but John had come from a large and noisy family of children. The whys and wherefores were in the seventh year of evaluation when she showed up.

When my wife and I visited their house the other night John was holding Ashley in his arms, more or less worshipping her. Janet was smiling at them both. A kind of triumphant smile, it seemed to me.

John's mother-in-law never doubted it would turn out this way.

Positive self-concept aids in school work

By Debbie Christian County Extension Agent

A strong self-concept helps a child believe in and rely upon himself. Researchers have noted that positive self-concept is related to doing well in school. Studies also indicate that children who have a good view of themselves are more likely to have a low level of anxiety, be less fearful, and more comfortable in groups. A self-concept is the mental image a person has of him or herself. Parents play an important role in the development of self-concept. It is within the family situation that children become aware of their personal abilities and weaknesses and the attitudes of family members toward them.

Developing a guide for personal conduct is a primary task for teenagers. Without a guide, they are confused about how to behave and find decision-making difficult.

Teenagers will be confronted by many examples of different values and standards. Yet they must stand up for what they believe while taking responsibility for their own actions.

Here are some areas in which teenagers need to establish a personal code of behavior based on their values.

- Do they value honesty?
- Do they value themselves?
- Do they value a healthy body?
- Do they value their family?
- Do they value people?
- Do they value education?
- Do they value money?

-Do they value a solid reputation?
Parents and youth leaders can help youngsters understand and clarify their values by talking with them about these important questions. This is a significant task, since research indicates that teens who have developed an understanding of their personal values are better able to meet daily challenges and make wise decisions.

Market hosts club

The Susan Evermon Baptist Women of First Baptist Church met Feb. 2 in the home of Jessie Mae Merket. Co-hostess was Mary Lloyd.

The meeting began with Catharine Morris presenting names of missionaries with birthdays on Valentine hearts to each member. After prayer for the missionaries, a business session was conducted with various reports and plans.

A book study "Unexpected Voices" on home missions lifestyle evangelism will be presented on Feb. 26 at 7 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the church. All Baptist churches in Mitchell County will be invited.

March 15 is the deadline for handkerchiefs and disposable razors to be brought for the Good News Packets to be used in the Seaman's Ministry in Houston.

Jo Ann Staley presented the program, "Evangelism with No Pulpit" and explained that evangelism is not confined to the walls of a building. She said any committed Christian with a heart open to God's power can be an effective witness.

Refreshments of dips, desserts and snacks were served to Catharine Morris, Earline Sellier, Mary Lloyd, Billie Roenfeldt, Billie Harrison, Louree Upton, Jo Ann Staley, Margaret Bodine, Betsy Aycock, Francis Cooper, Jessie Mae Merket, Anna Staats and Joy Piland.

Glenn Roenfeldt - Pastor First Baptist Church

Have you heard the old Danish fable of the spider that slid down, spinning a single filament, from the roof of a barn? His web went down to the place where the living was easy. There he spread his web and grew fat and sleek on the hundreds of flies he caught. One day, having nothing else to do, he noticed a single thread reaching up into the darkness above. He thought, "Well, that's useless", so he snapped it. His entire web collapsed and the spider was trodden underfoot.

So ends the old Danish fable. But the lesson for us is unmistakable. Form many the thread people had reaching up into the mystery of God has been snapped. Then people wonder why their home life, their working life, their moral life collapse around them. You can't live severed from God and expect everything to flourish. The thread of faith are the relationships which hold men and their world in shape.

But, wait a minute, the good news of the Christian message is that Christ came down to reunite severed ties. He offers to do this absolutely free...as a gift. He offers it to you and all you have to do is accept His offer. "For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord". (Romans 6:23 ASV).

Uselton, Bridgford discuss House Bill 72

House Bill 72, its many ramifications and the state of Colorado Independent School District were discussed by Supt. Charlie Uselton and CISD board president Dr. Billy Bruce Bridgford Tuesday at the Delta Kappa Gamma meeting at the C. C. Thompson Room.

Bo Merket, high school math teacher, presented teachers' concerns. Karan Johns was moderator.

Uselton recently attended a meeting in Austin to gain insight into HB 72 and possible future changes.

Bridgford presented the financial status of CISD and the cost of programs now paid for by the state which HB 72 would pass to school districts.

"Many small districts are going broke," Bridgford said. "Changes," Uselton said, "will take place."

Merket expressed appreciation for the many benefits CISD affords its teachers. He inquired about continuation.

Hostesses for the meeting were Fanny Fay Feaster, Barbara Girvin, Linda Mathis, Mamie Lou New and Clara Shoemaker who invited guests, panel and members to the refreshment table laid with a lace bordered red linen cloth.

Red carnations with graduated candles across the arrangement centered the table.

Janet Mayo and Linda Mathis presided at the silver tea and coffee service. Sandwiches and cookies were served.

After a short social period, Mrs. Mayo, president, called the business meeting to order.

Members were urged to write members of the state legislature about House Bill 72.

Mrs. Mayo thanked the members for fruit they brought for the rest home patients. This project has been on-going for three years.

Present were Janet Mayo, Mamie Lou New, Linda Mathis, Clara Shoemaker, Fanny Fay Feaster, Barbara Girvin, Nadine Gordon, Ethelyn Lancaster, Bo Merket, Patty Pharis, Frances Godwin, Billie Roenfeldt, Carolyn Weaver, Jean Robinson, Mabel Merritt, Dale Geer, Judy Merrell, Betsy Aycock, Debbie Denson, Marian Craddock, Earline Seiler, Margaret Latimer, Margaret Trulock, Erna Lou Burt, Kitten Arthur and Karan Johns.

Garden Club to plant fruit trees

Colorado City Garden Club members voted to plant fruit trees at the Heritage House Wednesday.

President Margaret Trulock said that that would be the club's Arbor Day project.

This is the time for pruning and Mrs. Trulock's program was on that subject.

"Proper tools are a necessity. One needs clippers, shears, loppers and a saw," she said. "Pruning shears are versatile. This scissor-like tool can prune and harvest grapes, snip flowers, clip twigs, thin and prune shrubs and cut live or dead wood up to one-half inch in diameter."

"Perhaps of all handy and needed tools, that is the most needed by a gardener, novice or pro," Mrs. Trulock said.

Tree pruning was reviewed with direction given to protect the collar. "One does not need to coat the tree wound after pruning," she said.

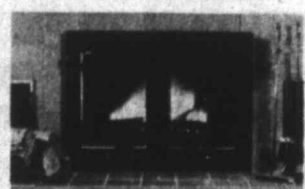

A gardener can solve many problems with raised flower beds. Visual interest is one aspect for flowers or vegetables. The down growth makes for beauty and good drainage.

A question and answer session followed.

Dovie Brownfield and Mrs. Trulock served cookies and candies with a Valentine theme and soft drinks.

Present were Betsy Aycock, Dovie Brownfield, Alice Coles, Billie Faye Conard, Nadine Gordon, Frances Myers, Clara Shoemaker and Margaret Trulock.

Texas Ranger exhibit to open at WTC museum

SNYDER—The Scurry County Museum at Western Texas College will open an exhibit on the legendary Texas Rangers on Feb. 15.

The exhibit is on loan from the Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio and uses more than 40 historic photographs and illustrations to trace the history of the lawmen from 1823. Local residents have been invited to loan photographs and other items relating to the Rangers for display at the same time.

The Diamond M Museum of Fine Art, located at 909 25th Street, invites visitors to see a special exhibit paying tribute to the birthdate of C. T. McLaughlin. McLaughlin and his wife, Claire, founded the museum. Included in the exhibit are works by artists for whom the McLaughlins held special shows: Wayne Baize, Jodie Boren, Glenna Goodacre, Emily Guthrie Smith, George Phippen and Ray Vinella.

McLaughlin's awards over the years included being named an Honorary Texas Ranger and a certificate presented to him on that occasion will be displayed in the Scurry County Museum.

Information about the Scurry County Museum can be obtained by calling the museum at 915 573-6107. The Diamond M Museum can be reached at 915 573-6311.

On-The-Job Injury

Don't let it
keep you off the job a day longer than necessary

"I want to get rid of the pain and get back to work." We hear this a lot.

Temporary pain killers may be okay for temporary pain. But when the pain stays . . . or keeps coming back . . . it's time to try something else. The chiropractic approach to pain is to locate the CAUSE of the pain and correct it. When the cause is corrected, the pain usually goes away in short order. Why not try chiropractic FIRST for on-the-job injuries?

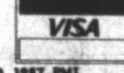

A consultation and preliminary examination can help determine whether chiropractic might help. If treatment, x-rays or other lab tests are indicated, they are covered by most Workers' Compensation insurance plans. CALL US TODAY.

Rangers sweep Wolves

The Colorado City Wolves took a break from district 5AAA basketball action to take on district 4AAA Midland Greenwood Tuesday night but the Rangers offered no respite-averaging a winning margin of 30 points in sweeping all four contests.

While the Wolf boys unsuccessfully attempted to work the ball inside to take advantage of an edge in height the Rangers came out with a hot shooting performance that carried them to a 59-37 win.

The loss dropped the Wolves to 3-18 on the year. Colorado City, 0-1 in the second half of district 5AAA play after a 1-5 first half, was to have resumed district play Friday at Merkel and hosts Wylie Tuesday.

Randy Donnell, Glen Teal and Tommy Lawson led Greenwood Tuesday with 12, 10 and 10 points, respectively, and did most, if not all, of their damage with perimeter shooting.

Lawson hit for eight first quarter points to carry the Rangers to a 16-6 lead. Teal scored 6 in the second period to lead Greenwood to a 32-19 half-time lead.

Colorado City came out with a much better showing early in the third quarter until Teal scored 4 to lead Greenwood to a late third quarter surge and a 45-27 lead. Brian Morgan scored 4 points for the Rangers in both the third and fourth periods.

Ken Woods led Colorado City with 12 points including 6 in the first period and four early in the third. Bubba Bailey scored all 6 of his points in the final period. Also scoring 6 points were Terry Jackson and Dane Hoover.

Completing the scoring were Larry Mayes 2, Pat Ridge 1, Darwin Jackson 2 and Guy Compton 2.

The Wolves made 9 of 20 free throws and got perfect charity line shooting from Woods and Hoover. From the field, the Wolves were 14 of 48 while Greenwood made 7 of 10 free throws.

Colorado City committed 27 turnovers. Woods, Compton, Clackler, Hoover and D. Jackson made 6, 6, 4, 4 and 4 rebounds, respectively.

The Greenwood Rangerettes won the varsity girls contest 70-15.

Scoring for the Lady Wolves were Jennifer Monroe 6, Denise Lowrance 4, Holly Tarter and Jodi Mitchell 1.

S. Smith, P. McMullan, K. Wallace and C. Martin led the Rangerettes with 19, 12, 10 and 10 points, respectively.

Colorado City made 3 of 13 free throws and 6 of 34 shots while Greenwood made 6 of 12 free throws and 32 of 76 shots.

The Lady Wolves committed 38 turnovers against a tough Greenwood defense and were outrebounded 40-20. Mitchell, Tarter and Lowrance had 7, 6 and 6 rebounds for Colorado City.

Greenwood took a 51-9 victory.

in the junior varsity girls game.

Stacy Miles' 2 points were all of the Lady Wolves first quarter points. Mandi Farris' point was Colorado City's only score of the second period. Melissa Rivera and JoAnn Ornelas scored a goal for the Wolves' third quarter points. Christabel Molina got Colorado City's two fourth period points on two of three free throws.

T. Long with 21 and S. Mackey with 18 led Greenwood. The Wolves made 7 of 23 free throws and 1 of 35 shots while Greenwood made 9 of 13 free throws and 21 of 58 shots.

Molina added 2 steals. The Wolves committed 21 turnovers and were outrebounded 25-19. Brittany Bridgford, Molina and Miles had 7, 4 and 3 rebounds, respectively.

The closest contest of the night was a 35-32 overtime win by Greenwood in the junior varsity boys game.

Duane Jones made a reverse layup with seconds left to tie regulation play at 32-32 but the Wolves were unable to score in the overtime.

The Wolves were called for 17 fouls to 5 for the home-standing

Rangers.

Scoring for the Wolves, 10-6, were Dennis Smith 4, George Rivera 8, Mark Alvidrez 2, Mark Russell 2, Ismael Silva 4, Jones 6, Tracy Ausbie 4 and Hal Morren 2.

Hermleigh stops Westbrook Wildcat streak

The Westbrook Wildcats hosted Hermleigh Tuesday needing a win to clinch at least a share of the district 17A boys championship but had any celebrations postponed as the visitors claimed a 45-42 win.

The loss was Westbrook's first in four district ballgames while Hermleigh moved to 2-2 along with Loraine. Westbrook was scheduled to take on Ira Friday.

A Westbrook win would have clinched a first place tie and eliminated Ira from post season contention.

Westbrook already is assured of a second place tie.

The loss to Hermleigh Tuesday evened the score between the clubs as Westbrook won at Hermleigh in the first district ballgame 52-50.

Westbrook and Hermleigh

both made 18 goals Tuesday but Hermleigh made 9 free throws to Westbrook's 6 for the margin of victory. Neither team was especially hot at the free throw line. Westbrook made 6 of 17 while Hermleigh made 9 of 27.

Still, the Wildcats control their destiny.

"If we just play well we can make it happen for ourselves," said coach Jim Hill. "One game might do it. It would at least clinch a tie."

"We missed some easy baskets. We got offensive rebounds then shot way over the goal. The kids played extremely hard but just didn't do things well."

"We got within two points in the last minute but we just couldn't get it. Four or five of our players fouled out."

Hermleigh led 12-11 after one period but was caught at 21-21 at halftime before taking a 34-27 lead into the final period. Westbrook outscored Hermleigh 15-11 the final period but came up short.

Scoring for the Wildcats were Frankie Fuentes 26, Ramiro Fuentes 11, David Blauvelt 3 and Jessie Gossett 2. Foster with 15 and Roemisch with 11 led Hermleigh.

Hermleigh won the girls game 63-50 after posting a 70-36 win in first round play.

Scoring for Westbrook were Stephany Pierce 16, Veronica Lopez 10, Lisa Putman 12, Rachael Simon 2, Jeran Ware 2, Mikki Sullivan 2 and Katie Walls 2.

Jill Roemisch, who had been averaging over 40 a game, scored 33 for Hermleigh.

Loraine stays alive in 17A race

A 63-58 win over Ira at home Tuesday rekindled the Loraine boys' playoff hopes.

Loraine and Hermleigh are both 2-2 and trailed 3-1 Westbrook going into Friday's contests. Ira is 1-3.

Loraine and Hermleigh were to have hooked up Friday. The winner of the contest stands the best chance of catching Westbrook or taking second place. With a second win over Hermleigh, Loraine could still take first place by beating Westbrook twice.

If Ira wins in the last two games, it would keep that team alive also.

Loraine's win Tuesday avenged an almost identical 63-59 overtime loss at Ira in first round play.

"We converted most of our free throws in the fourth quarter," said coach Tommy Meredith. The Bulldogs made only 9 of 20 for the game but made 8 of 14 in the final period.

"We kept pushing the ball. They got tired and had two foul out in the fourth quarter. It got us a little more even in height and our free throw shooting came through for us."

"We pressed late in the game and it got us back into the game. I don't like to press early because it gets us into foul trouble."

Ira led 13-10 after one period, 25-22 at halftime and 39-35 after three quarters before Loraine outscored the visitors 28-19 in the final period.

Scoring for Loraine were Joe Vasquez 19, Eddie Benitez 12, Shawn Finley 12, Freddie Benitez 10, Luis Leija 7, Quentin Merket 2 and Charlie Alvarez 1.

Vasquez added 15 rebounds. E. Benitez had 4 steals and 13 assists to up his season total to 178. The Bulldogs made 27 of 62 shots, got 24 offensive rebounds and 31 defensive rebounds.

Ira won the girls game 34-32 for a sweep of the teams matches. Ira won at home earlier 48-37.

Scoring for Loraine were Cheryl Alvarez 10, Beverly Griffin 9, Michelle Williams 8, Jolinda Trout 3 and Terry Munoz 2.

Dana Pennington and Cathy Crowder scored 16 and 15 points, respectively for the visitors.

Small Business Center opened

ABILENE—A Small Business Development Center servicing a 19-county area, including Mitchell County, has been established in the College of Business Administration at Abilene Christian University.

The purpose of the center is to provide counseling and training to assist in the development of small businesses throughout the Big Country.

The SBDC is a cooperative effort between ACU and the U.S. Small Business Administration, said Dr. J. William Petty, dean of ACU's College of Business Administration. A matching grant from the SBA helped raise an initial operating budget of $137,000 for the center, said Petty.

Don Altman, assistant professor of business administration at ACU, has been named director of the center, with Judy Wilhelm as administrative assistant.

The SBDC will operate from ACU's Mabey Business Building, located near the intersection of Judge Ely Boulevard and E. N. 16 Street. The center will be open year-round from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays.

An extensive small business resource library will be established in the SBDC facilities that will be available to anyone involved in small business, said Altman.

Counseling services will be provided by the SBDC staff and faculty members from ACU, Hardin-Simmons University and McMurry College, he said. Area business and professional people also have volunteered to work with the center, as well as members of the Service Corps of Retired Executive-Active Corps of Executives.

Training programs, seminars and workshops will be scheduled as needed throughout the 19-county area serviced by the SBDC. The programs will address such topics as developing and preparing business plans, handling payroll taxes, improving inventory control, advertising, and production management.

"The SBDC concept, which operates as a partnership combining the resources of Abilene's universities, the government and private business, can make a significant contribution to economic development," said Petty.

"It is hoped that, in the long run, our combined efforts will be instrumental in helping develop stronger, better managed companies and a more diversified economy in this area," he said.

Counseling services are free. There will be a minimal charge for various training programs.

For more information about services offered by the center, call (915) 674-2776, or write to: Small Business Development Center, ACU Station, Box 8307, Abilene, Texas, 79699.

Students hear drug program

During the week of Feb. 2-6, Crime Prevention Officer Vince Ariaz of the Colorado City Police Department and School Nurse Mary Petty presented a program on drug abuse to third, fourth and fifth grade students at Hutchinson Elementary.

The main topic discussed was the power of "No". The film viewed by the students convinces kids to say "No" to things they don't agree with and that saying no is always the right thing to do.

The film speaks directly to kids about self-esteem, tobacco, drug and alcohol abuse. Students were given life saver tags, poison control phone number tags, booklets on strangers, lists of emergency phone numbers to call and information on certain drugs. Ariaz told the students that possibly next month, he will be bringing the McGruff puppet for a visit.
