SPRING ARRIVAL

A basket intended for a spring fish catch became the improvised cage for this 4'4" coon tail rattle snake on a warm day last week. Heavy Sanchez, who works for Carthel Lewis, caught the snake on the Lewis farm, and that ended his fishing trip. It had 11 rattles, and several had been broken off. Sanchez used his fishing rod, in background, to help him with the catch.

Boy Critically Burned Saturday

Ten-year-old Richard Harris, who was critically burned Saturday, April 17, while playing with other children around a burning tree stump, was due to be transferred Wednesday from Northwest Texas Hospital, Amarillo, to the Shrine Burns Institute in Galveston.

The boy's life was saved when Mrs. Cleo Messer, crossing the street from a neighbor's house to her own home, became aware of the boy running toward her, his clothes and hair in flames. He dropped to the ground in the edge of her yard, and using her hands, she grabbed off his shirt and put out his burning hair.

Mrs. Ralph Tension, who was driving by, took the child to Collingsworth General Hospital.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Knight, 1403 El Paso. The family has lived here about a year, and Knight works in the oil field at Elk City.

The youth was transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital by Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service.

Although his condition was listed as critical Tuesday, plans were still under way to take him by air ambulance to the burns institute in Galveston, according to his sister, Kim Vernona, who came from Santa Ana, Calif.

She said Richard had third degree burns on his back, arms and sides of his legs; second degree burns on his face and back; and first degree burns on his hands.

Arrangements for his treatment at the Shrine Burns Institute were made locally by J.D. Sheer, who was notified of the child's need by Dennis Cudd. Sheer, who is with the Soil Conservation Service office, contacted Kiva Shrine Temple in Amarillo for help.

The accident occurred at the yard of Mrs. Ann Fires, but it is unclear how the boy's clothing caught on fire.

Mrs. Messer, although she pulled off the burning shirt, said she suffered burns only to the knuckles of her hands.

Three Men Die Saturday In Fiery One Car Accident

Three Wellington men died and three were injured about 2:30 a.m. Saturday, April 17, when their car went through the Hollis Y intersection, over a pasture fence and crashed into a creek embankment.

The car apparently exploded trapping the three victims inside.

The accident occurred 12 miles south of Wellington in Childress County.

The three who died have been identified as Mauro Mazcorro Alva, sometimes spelled Alba, about 24.

Jesus (Jesse) Alva or Alba Guerrero, 23; Jose (Joey) Luis Arellano Martinez, 17.

The local address of the three men was given as 103 East Avenue.

Injured were listed as Milleramo Perez, 24, and his brother, Onoria Perez, 22, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Humberto Galan Perez. Both men are married and have children; and Jimmy Ariola. The Jose Ariola family lives at 8th and Floydada Streets. All six worked as laborers.

DPS Trooper Randy Rister of Paducah, who headed the investigation, said that as nearly as officers can determine the car was traveling west on Highway US 62 at a high rate of speed when it came to the Highway 83 intersection, continued west through a pasture fence, traveled on for 400 yards and hit a creek embankment where the car, a 1973 Oldsmobile 4-door exploded and burned.

"We figure the car was going over 100 miles per hour when it went through the intersection," Trooper Rister said.

The trooper also said alcohol was believed to be a factor. The six were reported to have been returning to Wellington from Hollis.

Assisting Rister were DPS Sgt. Ted Poling of Childress and Deputy Sheriff Gene Denton, Wellington.

A friend of Ariola said he reported he got out of the car first and pulled the Perez brothers out, but the car exploded before he could get to the other three men. Milleramo Perez was identified as owner and driver of the car. The three injured men were taken to Childress General Hospital, then the Perez brothers were transferred by Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service to Jackson County Hospital, Altus, and Ariola was taken by Childress ambulance to an Amarillo hospital. He has been released. The Perez men are reported in stable condition with broken legs and other injuries.

Bodies of the three who died in the fire were first taken to Schooler-Gordon Funeral Home in Childress and later transferred to Guy Owens Funeral Home.

The three dead men, whose original homes were in Mexico, had lived in Wellington for a year or longer.

Arellano Martinez is survived by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Santos Arellano of Toluca, beyond Mexico City.

Mauro Alva is survived by his mother, Ofelia Alva, and 7 brothers and sisters, all of

Middlebrook Campaigns for State Representative Friday

Shallowater farmer Doyce Middlebrook, candidate for 84th District State Representative on the Democratic ticket, campaigned in Wellington Friday, April 16, saying that he thinks soil and water conservation and education are the two most important issues facing the state.

Middlebrook, 39, and his wife, Paula, spent the day campaigning in Wellington. "My main interest is small, rural communities,"

Middlebrook said. "I feel like I identify with farmers and ranchers and their problems."

"Lots of issues in education are going to come up this next term."

Whaley Brings Campaign Here in Friday Meeting

Foster Whaley who brought his campaign for re-election as 84th District representative to Wellington Friday night, April 16, told Collingsworth supporters that two issues that will come up in the next session of the legislature will concern parimutual gambling on horses and an effort to do away with the Homestead Law.

He called the latter "the worst thing that could happen."

There will be a big push on both issues, he said as he discussed them informally with the crowd.

The issues would be submitted to the voters as constitutional amendments.

Board Reviews Applicants for Hospital Admn.

Collingsworth General Hospital Board reviewed resumes of applicants for hospital administrator but took no action on the matter at regular board meeting Tuesday, April 20.

The board also postponed a formal decision on a proposal by St. Anthony's hospital to provide consulting services because the item was not listed on the agenda.

Four recently elected board members were sworn in at the meeting, including Robert Owens, Bill Patrick and Buddy Carter, all of whom were re-elected and Loretta Wright, who is serving her first term.

The board re-elected Robert Owens as president, and Corky Bowen as secretary and elected Dr. J.M. Orr as vice-president.

The board approved replacing kitchen cabinet counter tops and authorized acting administrator Perry Foster to look over equipment being auctioned next week by Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo and make bids on equipment useful to Collingsworth General.

The board also approved paying mileage for professional people on the night shift (11 p.m. to 7 a.m.) who live more than 10 miles from the hospital.

At an earlier special board meeting on April 14, the board accepted the resigna-

6 Escape Injury In 2-Car Crash

Six persons escaped serious injury in a two-car collision in the middle of Highway US 83 a mile south of the Hollis Y about 9:15 p.m. Sunday, April 18.

Drivers of the two vehicles were identified as Dan Anguiano, 22, listed as being from Hollis, and Ygnacio Navarro, Jr., 28, of Childress.

DPS Trooper George Sisneros of Quanah, who headed the investigation, said Anguiano's car, a 1977 Pontiac, was headed north of Highway US 83, while Navarro's 1976 Oldsmobile was traveling south en route to Childress.

Sisneros reported the Anguiano car crossed the center stripe to the wrong side of the road, Navarro tried to avoid a collision but couldn't and the cars hit right front to right front in the center of the road.

With Anguiano at the time were two passengers, Benny Mata and Albert Anguiano, both listed as being from Paducah.

Navarro also had two passengers, Frankie Navarro, 17, of Crosbyton, his brother, and Edie McPhillips, 19 of Childress.

Albert Anguiano was taken to Childress Hospital for treatments on his face and for a possible back injury.

tion of Charles Harvey, effective May 14, from his position as lab and x-ray technician.

Dan Anguiano, driver of the Pontiac, was charged with driving while intoxicated and remained in Childress County Jail Tuesday.

This accident, in Childress County, was only .9 of a miles from the one-car accident early Saturday in which three men died and three were injured.

Texas governors have recognized her leadership abilities in selecting her as a delegate to the 1970 Governor's Conference of Children and Youth, as the only delegate from Legislative District 66 to the 1973 Lieutenant Governor's Conference on Code of Ethics, as the only woman member of the 1973 Lieutenant Governor's Conference of Water Resources, member of the West Texas Council on Water Resources.

She was chosen to author the county pageant for the Collingsworth County Historical Commission. She also attended the Texas premieres of "Texas Women - A Celebration of History" exhibit as a member of the Panhandle Committee on Women's Resources.

and he urged that they inform themselves of the dangers of both.

If the homestead law is repealed pressure will be especially heavy on people who have their homes paid for, Whaley said.

He gave this example:

If a man owns both a farm and a home in town, if he should go broke on the farm, his home would also be lost.

Whaley believes the people are not aware of the dangers of his bill which is due to come up. "The only people who have contacted me are the out of state savings and loan people," he said.

"I am strongly opposed to it and I'm going to scrap it all the way," Whaley declared.

Another issue to come up will be a renewal of efforts to secure some kind of water program, another issue of major importance to West Texans.

Whaley said one of the things that killed the proposed water amendment last November was the erroneous belief of south and east Texans that West Texas wanted to take water from the down-state areas to be used on the Plains and in Blood Pressure, Glaucoma Tests Free at Health Fair Wed.

Collingsworth County residents can be tested for tuberculosis, diabetes, high blood pressure and glaucoma, all at no charge, at the community Health Fair scheduled from 1 to 6 p.m. Wednesday, April 28, at the Community Building.

Many health agencies and associations will have displays, booths, informative programs and printed material at the Health Fair, Nancy Bigby, County Extension Agent, said.

"We encourage everyone to attend," Miss Bigby said. "Any problems that show up will be referred to the doctor of your preference."

"Last year those who attended saved a total of $154 through the free screenings," she said.

The Fair is sponsored by the Collingsworth County Family Living Committee, Extension Homemakers Clubs and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Information will be available on emergency medical

MIDDLEBROOK--

Middlebrook said. "Some school districts have all kinds of money and some don't have enough to do anything and these problems are going to have to be addressed at the state level."

On soil and water conservation, Middlebrook said, "I would support consolidating the SCS and ASCS services in order to cut down administrative costs, but I think we ought to continue to push those programs so that the programs themselves are not cut."

"I strongly favor continued development of a water plan for Texas including importation and conservation," Middlebrook said, "but I think that we're going to have to come up with something that's feasible for the entire state. We'll have to be persuasive, perceptive and persistent in working with people in other parts of the state."

"I'm running for office because it's something I feel that I've trained to do," Middlebrook said. "I was a government major in college and have farmed for 22 years. We have 12 counties in the district and I think that it's important that we offer people a choice in the election."

"People are going to make the issues," he said. "I'm willing to work with the issues that the people bring up and represent the view of the people of my services and on veterinary public health.

The Family Living Committee and Extension Homemakers Clubs sponsored a Nutrition Poster Contest for Wellington and Samnorwood Schools and 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winners will be announced at the Fair. All entries will be displayed at the Fair.

Wellington Lions Club will sponsor the glaucoma testing, High Plains Baptist Hospital will conduct the blood pressure checks, and the Texas Department of Health will conduct tuberculosis and diabetes screening.

Lone Star Adds Service Charge in Rural Areas

AUSTIN--The Railroad Commission has approved increases in some service charges for customers of Lone Star Gas Co., in unincorporated areas near 216 Texas cities. Customers in the rural areas around both Wellington and Dodson are affected.

However, the Commission ruled that appliance service, gas light service, air conditioning service, and replacement of yard lines could also be performed by others in addition to the gas company. Therefore, charges for these services should be determined by the competitive market.

The new environs charges allowed by the Commission are identical to those already approved by the respective nearby cities for customers inside their corporate limits.

With the changes, charges for reconnects will be $20 and charges for returned checks will be $5 in all but one of the environs areas. In the unincorporated areas near McKinney, the charge for returned checks will be $3--the same as that allowed by the City of McKinney for customers inside its corporate limits.

Approximately 15,000 customers in the environs of these cities will be affected by the service changes.

The Railroad Commission has the authority to approve rates for gas service in unincorporated areas of Texas. Proposed gas rates for these areas are examined in light of the company's operating efficiency and the rates that have been approved by the nearby city governments.

At General Telephone... We're Not Simply Talking About Service Improvements We're Making Them In Wellington

At General Telephone, better service isn't just a goal, it's a solid commitment. General Telephone spent over 354 million dollars in 1981 on capital expenditure projects (i.e. new electronic switches, expanded cable projects, modernization), and GTE will spend over 410 million dollars in 1982 to provide you the best telecommunications available.

For Wellington this investment in service improvement is working as shown below. General Telephone is working hard to continually provide you with the best of service.

The Texas Public Utilities Commission (PUC) has established certain standards in public hearings, and our service results are listed against those standards.

Lane Denton

Probably the spiciest race of the season is the contest for State Treasurer on the Democratic ticket.

The incumbent, Warren Harding, has been indicted in Travis County for allegedly forcing staff members to work on his campaign.

And one challenger, former Travis County commissioner Ann Richards, has been accused of having "an alcohol problem" by a former fellow commissioner.

The candidate I like is Lane Denton.

Denton is a former State Representative who has shown an interest in farmers and rural Texas. While he was in the legislature he received a Distinguished Service Award from Texas Farmers Union, and he's now parliamentarian of the Texas Democratic Party's agriculture caucus.

Denton authored the 1973 Open Records Law. He's received a commendation from the Texas Senior Citizens Association and was named Outstanding Veteran Legislator in 1973.

Denton owns a 100-acre farm near his home town of Axtell in Central Texas and he now operates a rural health program, owns two small businesses and is a licensed real estate and insurance agent.

His background seems to indicate that he could relate to problems of a community like Wellington, and that he would be a good choice for State Treasurer.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

AUSTIN — Drunk drivers on Texas streets and highways could find police officers and the courts considerably less understanding if a West Texas lawmaker gets his way.

State Sen. Bill Sarpalus, who sponsored the bill raising the legal drinking age to 19, has proposed legislation that would automatically suspend the driver's license of any drunk driving suspect who refuses to take a sobriety test.

The Hereford Democrat has presented his bill to the Governor's Task Force on Traffic Safety, and says the proposal has the support of the San Antonio and Dallas chapters of Mothers Against Drunken Driving.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby also has voiced his support for the bill, under which a first offender convicted of driving while intoxicated could be fined up to $2,000 and sentenced to from 72 hours to one year in jail. A second-time offender would face a jail term of from 72 hours to two years, without chance for probation.

Any motorist stopped on suspicion of drunk driving who refuses to take a sobriety test could automatically lose his license for up to 90 days.

Sarpalus describes the bill as "stern but reasonable." The one-term senator also has proposed bills to prohibit any open liquor containers in moving vehicles, to strengthen laws against false driver's licenses and to tighten laws on occupational driving licenses.

Harding Indictments

State Treasurer Warren G. Harding has been re-indicted by a Travis County grand jury on the charges that he used state employees to perform tasks for his reelection campaign.

The new indictments were handed down only a few hours after Harding's attorneys asked a state district judge to dismiss the original indictments because they failed to charge the state official with any specific crime.

Harding's attorneys contended that the original indictments accused the treasurer of using two secretaries to work in his campaign but did not say how that is a violation of state law.

The new indictments allege that the services and labor of the two secretaries belonged to the state.

The grand jury move came just three weeks before the May 1 Democratic primary, in which Harding is facing stiff opposition from former Travis County Commissioner Ann Richards and two other Democrats.

Harding has claimed the charges against him are part of an attempt by the "court-house clique" to clear the way for their former colleague Richards.

Agriculture Task Force

Gov. Bill Clements has put another task force to work examining possible solutions to the state's problems, this time in the area of agriculture.

The Governor's Task Force of Agricultural Development began its work recently with Clements recommending that the panel look into new markets for Texas agricultural products in foreign countries, particularly Mexico.

Because of the state's proximity to Mexico and its access to that country's transportation systems, Texas has an edge over other parts of the country in developing Mexican markets for its farm products, Clements said.

"We'd be very, very foolish if we didn't exploit our advantage and develop that market in all its aspects," the governor said.

Clements predicted that Texas soon would replace Iowa as the second largest agricultural producer in the country.

Clements also recommended that the task force explore ways for banks to develop "friendly relationships" with farmers and ranchers in much the same way as some banks have aided home builders with low interest loans.

The task force will make recommendations on solving farm problems to the Legislature and the governor in 1983.

General Telephone

The state's second largest telephone company has begun its case before the Public Utility Commission seeking its third rate hike in as many years.

General Telephone Co. of the Southwest, which serves customers in dozens of counties across the state, is seeking an additional $110 million in revenue.

That company was granted a $31 million increase in 1980 and a $6 million hike in 1981, but both increases were accompanied by a $4 million annual penalty for poor service.

That penalty now has been lifted, but the PUC staff says the company only needs about half the amount requested. The staff has recommended only a $48.7 million increase and intervenors in the case believe the utility only deserves $24 million.

Parking Woes

While most candidates for statewide office worry about campaign financing or name identification, GOP gubernatorial contender Lowell "Duke" Embs apparently is finding parking a big problem.

Embs, who traveled to Austin recently to file his campaign spending report, had a hard time finding a parking space near the State Capitol grounds for his 1967 Lincoln Continental.

Through the loudspeaker on his car Embs blared, "Getting a parking space is harder than getting elected."

Samnorwood Girls In 2-A Track Meet

Samnorwood High School and Junior High girls track teams participated in the District 2-A meet at Groom Tuesday, April 6.

Discus: Glenda Bonner 3rd with 186 ft. 9 inches.

Other team members are Shanda Bruton, Lorri Baker, Stephanie McWhorter and Stacey Brandvik.

Junior High:

Shot Put: Trudy Baker 6th with 23 ft. 9 inches. Trudy also placed 3rd in the Lefors Junior High meet earlier in the season.

Other junior high teams members are Sandy Hendard, Stephanie Brandvik, Leslie Brandvik, Stacey Knoll, Trina Baker, Betty Sue Kincannon and Linda Garza.

TML Rate Experts Challenge GTE Hike

In testimony filed this week with the State Public Utility Commission, Texas Municipal League rate experts challenged the request of General Telephone Co. of the Southwest for a $110 million rate hike.

The League's testimony was filed in advance of utility commission hearings, that begin April 15, on General Telephone's application for rate increases that would raise the monthly charges for some customers by as much as 71 percent.

Wellington is one of the municipalities participating in General Telephone rate case Docket No. 4300. Altogether, 90 towns and cities are participating.

The Municipal League's analysis concluded that General Telephone's request for $110 million was far in excess of the amount justified to keep the company financially sound. The cities' study of the company's books indicated that General Telephone was legitimately entitled to a rate hike of just $23.3 million—about 21 percent of the amount asked.

The increase recommended by TML would give General Telephone a rate of return of about 16 percent, compared to the 18 percent that the full amount requested by the company would provide.

TML also was critical of the company's proposal to charge far higher rates to some of its customers than those in neighboring exchanges. Under the company's plan, a given telephone customer could be charged nearly double what his neighbor pays, simply because of a slight difference in location.

Additionally, TML urged the utility commission to properly measure—and regulate—the profits that flow from General Telephone of the Southwest to its parent corporation, General Telephone & Electronics, in Connecticut. Under the rate application now pending before the commission, profits paid out of the pockets of Texas consumers would be passed along to the national headquarters of the company, with no benefit to in-state telephone users.

Earlier this year, in February, the Austin Court of Civil Appeals upheld contentions by Texas Municipal League lawyers that the amount of Texas-based profits channelled to General Telephone's national parent should be limited. The decision resulted in savings of $10 million to General Telephone's Texas customers.

General's recent rate increase request, which was filed January 29, is its third in three years. In 1980, the company asked for a $58 million increase and received $31 million. In 1981, the company asked for $45.3 million, but the utility commission approved just $2 million.

The Texas Municipal League is representing 90 cities that are inter-venors in the GTE rate case now before the state utility commission. Utility experts hired by the TML cities have scrutinized GTE's books to determine the proper balance between the company's justifiable revenue needs versus the needs of telephone customers for quality service at equitable rates.

WHAT TO DO IF YOUR LIGHTS GO OUT

We'll do our best to keep it from happening, but let's face it. Even with the miracles of modern technology, it sometimes occurs in the best of systems.

So, if your power goes off, we hope you'll help us get it back on as quickly as possible.

HERE'S WHAT YOU SHOULD DO:

1. Check your neighbors. Call them or go outside and see how widespread the outage is.
2. If your house is the only one affected, check your breaker box.
3. If the trouble is not on your side of the meter, call us — your local WTU office — and give us the following information:

- Your name and address
- Time of the outage
- The area affected (as many addresses as possible)

We'll take it from there. Please don't prolong the call with questions that can't be answered. We'll be getting many other calls, depending on how widespread the outage is. And, if you're answered by a recorded message, it means that the dispatcher already has been swamped with calls and that we're working on the problem.

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES COMPANY

Remember, our goal, as always, is to provide reliable electric service at the lowest practical cost. And if an outage does occur, we aim to restore service without delay. We appreciate your help.

What Others Say About

State Representative FOSTER WHALEY

Democrat

THE WELLINGTON (Texas) LEADER
Thursday, April 1, 1982

Foster Whaley
State Representative Foster Whaley deserves re-election to another term.

Whaley has served four years in the legislature and now has appointments on the important appropriations committee and is vice chairman of the constitutional amendments committee.

He's also one of only a handful of representatives that finances his campaign without donations from special interest groups outside his home district.

And Whaley and his wife both work full time at the job. (We're getting a bargain for our money.)

But perhaps Whaley has served his constituents best in helping them with day-to-day problems involving state government.

An example: A couple of years ago four Wellington women, whose ages were 72 to 85, had been denied eligibility for continued nursing assistance. They were about to be forced to leave the nursing home because they could not make payments. The nursing home contacted Whaley and he drove to Wellington and interviewed the four women. Then he got on the phone and talked to Jack Blanton, executive director of the Texas Department of Human Resources. Whaley explained the situation and the ruling was reversed.

That kind of interest in matters small and large makes Whaley a good representative for our district.

Parents Asked to Nominate Students for GATE Program

The Wellington Schools Gifted and Talented Enrichment (GATE) program is asking parents to help in identifying students who should participate in the program of activities outside regular classroom work.

Parents who think their child should be considered for the program may nominate their child. To nominate a child, a parent should pick up a Parent Information Form from the principal of the school the child attends. They should complete the information form and give a brief summary of the reasons they think their child should be considered.

Deadline to return the form and summary to the principal is Wednesday, April 28. Parents of students already in the GATE program do not need to fill out the form.

"We're asking parents to help because parents know their children better than anyone else," Deanna Van Pelt, GATE coordinator, said. "Any parent who believes his or her child should be screened to determine if they meet the criteria the state sets for inclusion in the program is asked to nominate that child."

Mrs. Van Pelt said a meeting for all parents interested in learning more about the GATE program is being planned for the near future.

The Parent Information Form includes questions such as: Was the child reading before he started school? Does he have special talents or hobbies? Is he independent and self-sufficient in looking after himself?

The ladies trio, Mrs. Vela Tisdale, Mrs. Ila Orr and Mrs. Bill Holder, sang at the Church of the Nazarene Sunday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Rodney Heflin.

Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cole and their family of Wheeler were special guests. They showed slides they had made in France when they were there on a "Work and Witness" team trip. They were in Paris, France, and in Germany last January. In France they helped remodel an old theatre building which the Church of the Nazarene had bought for a church building.

Rev. Walter Crow was the host for the group. He and his wife were former members of the Church of the Nazarene in Shamrock.

The Coles also displayed a scrap book and souvenirs of France and Germany.

Mr. Cole especially enjoyed the visit to Germany, since he spent a year there as a foreign exchange student.

They visited the Nazarene Bible College in Germany, where Rev. Crow is the newly assigned president. Mrs. Cole is Mrs. Mayme Lewis' granddaughter.

Harold Rhoades, minister, preached at the Church of Christ Sunday. Howard Hunt and Roy Ginn directed the congregational singing. Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Howell, Jennifer, Janet and Mrs. and Mrs. Rhoades and family were visitors.

The Dodson American Legion Auxiliary will meet Thursday, April 22, at 7 p.m. The members will prepare the poppies to sell in May.

A large crowd attended the piano recital of Miss Kloette Camp Sunday, April 18, in Canyon. Several were from Dodson, including Rev. and Mrs. Howard Smith and Chris Collier, now of Olton. Kloette did an outstanding job as always.

Sunday, May 2, a singing group, "Highest Praise" will present a musical program at the Church of the Nazarene at 10:45 a.m. This group is from West Texas State University. Kloette Camp is their accompanist. "Highest Praise" has sung in several states.

Rev. and Mrs. Dennis Hayes were in Lubbock last week on church business.

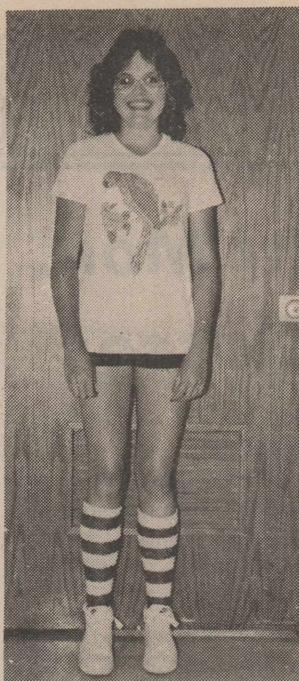

Lucyane Hayes was the second runner-up in the Miss Wellington contest Saturday. Donna Holt and Ada Sain were also contestants.

The Church of the Nazarene elected the members of the board of Christian Life last month. Those elected were Mrs. Arnice Lewis, Mrs. Garland Hightower, Miss Ebb Orr, Mrs. John Green, Mrs. Doug Mead, Mrs. Melvin Cardwell and Mrs. Walter Camp. The board will meet Wednesday, April 21 after prayer meeting.

Grover Graham's mother, Mrs. Cleve Graham of Wellington, died last week.

Pipeline Work To Start Soon

Families of employees of a pipe line construction company who will be working in the northwest part of the county, were in Wellington Tuesday hunting houses or apartments or trailer houses to rent.

They had already hunted without success for places to live in towns nearer to the work-McLean and Shamrock.

Henkels and McCoy Construction Co., with headquarters in Oklahoma City, is the contractor on a 106-mile spread of the Red River Pipeline.

A spokesman for the company, Keith Wright, said Tuesday that as soon as work gets rolling, approximately 250 men will be employed on the project.

Work in Collingsworth County at present includes clearing operations along the right of way.

Construction work should begin the last of this week at the north end, the compressor station north of Briscoe and should get to Collingsworth County in about two weeks.

This is a 24" natural gas pipe line which will be buried from 3 1/2 to four feet deep.
