Parade Calls Attention To UF Campaign

A parade through the downtown area was to herald the opening of the annual United Fund campaign today, with many agencies that benefit from the drive participating.

The parade, with Police Capt. Stanley Bogard, as chairman, was set for 4 p.m., with some 16 vehicles expected to be in the line-up. A Webb AFB color guard and a police department escort was to act as guides.

Although some divisions of the effort have already started making contacts, the campaign kickoff is set for next Monday toward a goal of $109,225.

Units in the parade will include five floats from the Boy Scouts of America, one float and 100 marchers from the Girl Scouts, three vehicles from the Salvation Army, and floats from the YMCA, American Red Cross, West Side Recreation Center, Summer Recreation Program, Air Force Aid Society, Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, and USO.

Soviets Launch 243rd

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched the 243rd satellite in its Cosmos series today.

Tass said it carried equipment for space study and all instruments were working normally.

It was the fourth Cosmos satellite launched in the last 10 days.

VAST MAJORITY

Favor Primary Nationwide

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — A vast majority of Americans would like to see presidential candidates chosen in a nationwide primary instead of at conventions, the Gallup Poll says.

The poll organization reported Sunday that a nationwide sampling taken in the first week of September found that 76 per cent of those polled favored the primary method. Only 13 per cent favored keeping the present convention system, and 11 per cent had no opinion.

The same poll also showed that 66 per cent of those questioned favored doing away with the electoral college and selecting the president by popular vote. Only 19 per cent disapproved of that idea.

Last Ditch Stand

OWERRI, Nigeria (AP) — Rebel Biafrans prepared today for a last-ditch stand in Umuahia — the only major town left in Biafran hands — as federal troops closed in.

A federal spokesman said no assault was immediately planned on the Biafran headquarters because federal troops were waiting for armored cars and had to rebuild a blown-up bridge north of Aba and fill in a 70-foot crater dug in the main road north of Owerri.

But the federals were fighting toward Umuahia, and the Biafrans, crammed into a 3,000-square-mile triangle, showed no signs of giving up.

Official Biafran sources said their government had ordered a total mobilization of men and materials for an all-out resistance against the encircling troops.

The Biafran airstrip of Obilago, 25 miles north of Umuahia, was seized by federal troops. It was once an entry point for Red Cross supplies.

Salazar In Coma

LISBON (AP) — Prime Minister Antonio Salazar remained in a coma today, breathing with the aid of a machine on the seventh day after a massive stroke.

In Portugal's ancient churches masses were said for the 79-year-old Salazar's recovery, and Portuguese filed into Red Cross Hospital to sign a guest book while members of the government conferred near Salazar's sixth floor room.

It was rumored the government would name Marcello Caetano, 62-year-old law professor, successor to Salazar before the day was over. Meanwhile, the army and police remained on the alert.

Russian Space Feat Poses New Threat

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russians forged ahead in the space race again over the weekend by recovering an unmanned spaceship that splashed down in the Indian Ocean after circling the moon.

Sir Bernard Lovell, Britain's top space expert, predicted that the Soviets within months will make a manned shot around the moon. James E. Webb, outgoing head of the U.S. space program, said the latest Russian feat "shows a capability that could change the basic structure and balance of power in the world."

CIRCLES MOON

The spaceship, Zond 5, was launched on Sept. 14. It went into a holding orbit around the earth, then took off for the moon. It circled the moon on Wednesday, landed in the Indian Ocean Saturday night, and was picked up by a Russian recovery ship Sunday.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said scientific instruments aboard the space ship had been recovered with "a vast body of scientific information."

Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank Observatory and an authority on the Soviet space program, called the Soviet shot "a considerable achievement . . . It probably means that a manned round-the-moon flight will occur in the coming months as a direct challenge to America's Apollo project."

U.S. NEXT

Webb, who a week ago predicted the United States would remain second in the space race for years because of heavy cuts in its space budget, said the Zond 5 flight demonstrated that the Russians have "an able-bodied rocket" bigger than any operational U.S. rocket.

Webb said the flight was "the most significant demonstration of its time," comparable to Sputnik I, the first satellite to orbit the earth.

He also predicted that the next Soviet feat would be a manned flight around the moon.

West Germany's Bochum Institute for Satellites and Space Exploration predicted that such a flight would be accomplished with a three-man spacecraft "this year or at latest in the first quarter of 1969."

"With his fantastic success, the U.S.S.R. is on the way to being the victor and being the first to reach the moon," said the institute's director, Heinz Kaminsky.

Western sources speculated that the scientific equipment aboard Zond 5 included cameras and that pictures were made of the moon's surface. If so, it would be the first time film was used to take pictures of the moon at such a close distance. Such pictures should be of better quality than the pictures transmitted from space by U.S. or Soviet mooncraft.

TOP DATA

Other valuable information from the flight included tests of control equipment and of temperature and air-pressure controls needed for later manned flights. Tass said Friday that flight information on the working of this equipment was frequently radioed back to earth.

Soviet scientist Leonid Sedov told Tass that Zond 5 had a special heat shield, that its speed was slowed down on re-entry by "air resistance" and that "at a comparatively small height" it was further slowed by parachute. No mention was made of retrorockets being fired to brake its descent.

Physicist Vladimir Kessnikh told Tass that plans for moon flights already drawn up by the Soviets would be changed "by the information contained in capsules of this spacecraft."

Zond 5 was also the first Soviet space capsule to be recovered at sea. All previous Soviet spaceships that returned to earth came down on land, in Soviet territory.

Double Skyjackings Part Of Red Plot?

HAVANA (AP) — Two Colombian airliners that took off two hours apart from the same airport in Colombia were hijacked Sunday and flown to Cuba with 139 persons aboard.

A Boeing 727 jet with 72 passengers and a crew of six landed in Camaguey, 300 miles southeast of Havana, shortly after noon. No one was injured and the plane was released Sunday night and returned to Barranquilla, Colombia.

The Swiss Embassy, which handles Colombian affairs in Cuba, said the other plane, a DC4, left Santiago at 9:24 a.m. bound for Barranquilla, Colombia. The embassy said all 57 passengers and the crew of four, were aboard except for the lone gunman who hijacked the plane.

Cuban officials would not say, and Colombian officials had not determined yet if the twin hijackings were coincidental or part of a plot. Both hijackers apparently were Colombians, and both presumably were given asylum in Cuba.

Colombian Defense Minister Gerardo Ayerbe Chaux said he believed the double piracy was a Castroite plot directed from Havana. He said it seemed improbable that the two incidents could have been a coincidence. But the pilot of the jetliner said he thought his hijacker might have been a smuggler in trouble with the government, which is cracking down on illegal imports.

The planes, both owned by Avianca Airlines, had taken off from Barranquilla, the country's main port on the Caribbean, for hops to other towns in Colombia.

Capt. Alfonso Lopez of the 727 jet said a short man in his 30s, armed with a knife and grenade, entered the cabin of his plane and "said we had to go to Cuba." The airline said all the passengers were Colombians except Roy Haag and Peter Vuska, whose nationality was not known.

DODGE VIET DUTY

Reservists Win Second Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second time in two weeks, Justice William O. Douglas has ordered the Army not to send groups of reservists to Vietnam until the Supreme Court considers whether to hear their objections to being called up for active duty.

In issuing the order Sunday, Douglas told the Army he was staying until at least Oct. 7 any orders to send the 448th Postal Unit and the 1018th Service Supply Company to Vietnam.

Douglas, who acted one day after Chief Justice Earl Warren refused to intervene, issued a similar order Sept. 12 for the 1002nd Combat Supply Company. Warren and Justice Hugo Black also had declined to act in the earlier case.

ORDERS OUT

The postal unit is from New York City, while the supply company is from Schenectady, N.Y. Both units are stationed at Ft. Lee, Va. The 1002nd is from Ohio and Stationed at Ft. Meade, Md.

Thirteen members of the postal unit and 83 members of the supply company asked for the stay. Their case, as in the one from 113 members of the 1002nd company, is based on the contention that it is unconstitutional for the President to activate the reserves for extended duty without the declaration of war or a national emergency.

The units involved were among several reserve groups called to active duty by President Johnson under a 1966 law which provided he could take such action if it were in the national interest.

Although only individuals asked for the Supreme Court hearing, Douglas' action applies to each unit as a whole. Actually, officials at Ft. Lee said orders had already gone out to keep the units on base indefinitely.

QUESTIONS

In issuing the Sept. 12 stay, Douglas said only that the case brought up several substantial questions. As reported by court officials Sunday, Douglas made no comment on his latest order.

Several things could result from the court's Oct. 7 session. It could refuse to hear the cases, thus automatically dissolving the stays and making the units eligible for immediate shipment overseas.

Or the court could agree to put the matter on its docket for a hearing, which would mean extending the stays until a decision is reached.

At least four justices would have to vote to hear the reservists' cases before they would be put on the docket, which would be unusual in view of the reluctance by the court to hearing challenges involving the Vietnam war.

Johnson, Rep. Mahon Discuss Money Bills

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson met Sunday with Rep. George Mahon, chairman of the powerful House Appropriations Committee, on the eve of final congressional action on several key money bills.

Mahon, a Texas Democrat, was not an announced ranch visitor, but he showed up in the President's church-going party on Sunday.

His visit came at a time when Congress is winding up action on defense and foreign aid spending, with Johnson's appropriation requests facing cuts of some $12 billion.

GOOD ODDS

Presidential press spokesmen confirmed Mahon's presence at the ranch over the weekend as "a personal guest", but had nothing to report on what was discussed.

However, with the money bills at the crucial turn and Johnson facing up to making Congress-imposed spending cuts, Mahon's presence seemed to be a bit more than coincidental.

The President, meanwhile, decided to continue his Texas ranch stay at least into today, with indications that he may remain even a day or two more.

Joined by his wife, Lady Bird; daughter, Mrs. Patrick Nugent, and 15-month-old grandson, Lyn, the President was enjoying warm, sunny weather and touring the countryside.

AGGRESSION

He stepped up his church-going Sunday, taking in Roman Catholic and Lutheran services near his ranch and attending the dedication of a new parish house for his friend, the Rev. Wunibald Schneider, pastor of St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic church in neighboring Stonewall.

At the parsonage dedication, 77-year-old Archbishop Robert Lucey of San Antonio gave strong endorsement of the President's Vietnam policy, with Johnson standing on the steps behind him and grandson Lyn occasionally tugging at the priest's knee.

The archbishop told the crowd of about 200 that the purpose of the Vietnam war was "to teach unjust aggressors that unjust aggression does not pay."

In this, he said, Johnson followed a papal peace program enunciated in 1917, which stated "when unjust aggression begins in this world of ours, the peace-loving nations must do something about it."

FARMERS BIT UNHAPPY

Showers Splashing In Howard County

Fall made its first full day of existence evident by brisk early morning showers which seemed to have covered the county.

The volume varied from half an inch, which was the general report, to as much as an inch in the Coahoma area.

Farmers were not too pleased with the rains because of the time of year and the need for final warm dry days to take care of the cotton.

Ranchers, on the other hand, welcomed it.

Residents of the towns, where efforts to keep shrubbery and flowers growing have been vigorous, hailed the precipitation as a welcome respite from the battle with water bills.

LIGHTNING

Brisk lightning accompanied the rains which began at 4 a.m. in town. They ceased about 9 a.m. Here in Big Spring, the U.S. Experiment Station gauged only .37 inch but elsewhere in town most gauges showed half an inch or better.

The rain came on the heels of a mild, cloudy Sunday. Fall officially arrived at 6:26 p.m. Sunday bringing a finale to the reign of summer.

The shower of this morning brought the total rain for September to 1.05 inch with only two occasions on which really measurable moisture was recorded.

On Sept. 14, the rain gauged at the station was .64 inch. In the time between that date and this, .04 inch additional had been reported and today's .37 brought the total for the first 22 days of the month to 1.05.

NO AT KNOTT

No report on rain in the Knott-Ackerly area was available as phone service seemed to be out of order in that district.

Vealmoor had an estimated .50 inch. No report was available from Elbow but Lomax had .75 inch and it is likely about the same amount fell at Elbow. Wilkinson ranch west of town had half an inch as did Moss Creek. Forsan had .60 inch and Coahoma reported an inch. No report was available from either Gay Hill or Luther but Vincent had .30 inch.

Moss Creek Lake had half an inch and it was reported by Texas Electric Service Company that about the same amount fell in Chalk.

The Texas Electric Service Co. had .48 inch at its switch station. The area around the VA Hospital had up to .60 inch and half an inch was reported in the Howard County Junior College district.

Lamesa had .15 inch.

Lake J. B. Thomas dam measured .35 inch and the Big Spring-Odessa Intake .40. The Big Spring station, north of town, reported .40. On the Martin-Howard line, .80 inch fell and Martin County pump station had .6 inch.

Storms Pop West Texas

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms continued to rumble across West Texas early today after battering sections of Southwest Texas and middle and upper portions of the lower Rio Grande Valley late Sunday.

Showers were reported over westerns sections of the state and in the Panhandle. Light rains also fell in the San Antonio area. The remainder of the state enjoyed fair weather.

A heavy downpour 70 miles east of El Paso Sunday night forced the Texas Highway Department to erect barricades across Interstate 10.

Locally heavy rains also drenched sections of the Valley. The downpours were accompanied by locally gusty surface winds.

HUGE STOCKS OF MUNITIONS NEAR DMZ

Marines Find Two Bases

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines over the weekend found two heavily fortified camps just below the North Vietnamese frontier. The bases evidently were intended to sustain the Communist thrust through the center of the demilitarized zone that intelligence reports indicate is planned in the next six weeks.

While the Marines were uncovering hundreds of bunkers and huge stocks of munitions, South Vietnamese soldiers reported killing 98 North Vietnamese in a pitched battle on the eastern flank of the DMZ.

LULL

Most of the significant action reported today occurred in the northern provinces. Elsewhere another lull in the war appeared to be lengthening, with enemy forces avoiding contact and making a few attacks.

Upwards of 2,000 American Marines were probing the wooded foothills north of their Rockpile base, sitting athwart the central infiltration route from the 17th parallel.

Inside the demilitarized zone above the Rockpile the Marines on Saturday found a complex of 350 log bunkers, some reinforced with steel beams, and a huge stockpile of shells, rockets, rifle and machine-gun ammunition, mines and grenades and rice.

On Sunday, men of the 26th Marine Regiment a few miles to the south located a second underground fortress of some 300 bunkers, along with 1,200 mortar shells and other ammunition.

CAPTIVES

Each camp could have supported and sheltered an enemy regiment of about 2,500 men.

Officers at Marine headquarters said results of the DMZ operation have already exceeded intelligence estimates and more is expected. In the past three weeks the leathernecks have rounded up about 35 tons of supplies, including 16,000 rocket and mortar shells.

Two prison camps figured in the war news over the weekend.

South Vietnamese headquarters said the Viet Cong overran a prisoner of war camp at Binh Son, 325 miles north of Saigon, and killed 20 of the prisoners who refused to let their "rescuers" take them away.

The camp was defended by militiamen, one of whom was killed and 10 of whom were wounded. A spokesman said before the ground attack the town and the camp were hit by 100 rockets and mortar rounds which wounded 70 civilians.

At the other end of the country, deep in the Mekong Delta, South Vietnamese militiamen found a Viet Cong prison camp near the U Minh Forest and freed 11 men, nine women and five children. Some of the prisoners said they had been captives for more than three years.

In the delta province of An Xuyen, the southernmost in the nation, a battalion of South Vietnamese troops swooped down on a marshy, paddyland area this morning. Within two hours the South Vietnamese had killed 40 fleeing guerrillas and swept up 19 weapons, including several heavy machine guns, plus a stock of mortar and rocket ammunition.

BUS BLASTED

Northwest of the capital, on the Communist infiltration route from Cambodia, U.S. 25th Infantry Division soldiers fought a series of skirmishes and reported killing 29 of the enemy.

Fifty miles east of Saigon, in Long Khanh province, a bus was mined and 10 civilian passengers were killed and 32 were wounded.

U.S. headquarters reported enemy gunners brought down two more American helicopters, one on Friday lost with no casualties and another down on Sunday in the northern provinces with one man wounded.

SEVEN PERSONS SHOT TO DEATH IN TEXAS

Crashes Kite Violent Death Count To Tragic Heights

By The Associated Press

A rash of automobile collisions Sunday catapulted the Texas weekend violent death count to tragic heights.

At least 35 persons died violently. Traffic accidents killed 24 persons, seven were shot to death and miscellaneous violence killed four others, including two stabbing victims.

FOUR DIE

Four persons were killed and four injured in a shattering head on crash near Refugio in South Texas early Sunday morning. A similar accident near Saginaw in North Texas killed three persons and critically injured six.

The Associated Press began its tabulation at 6 p.m. Friday and continued it until midnight Sunday.

The toll:

Ruben Garza, 19, a Pharr soldier home on leave from Ft. Ord, Calif.; Consuelo Garza of Pharr, Sirilido Chapa, 72, of Pharr, and Hortencia Garza, 15, of Pharr died in the US 77 crash 15 miles north of Refugio. Three of the four persons injured in the two-car crash were in serious condition in a Refugio hospital.

The three persons killed later Sunday in the Saginaw crash on US 287 were Eleza Sanchez of Bridgeport; Daenne Jo Denham, 11, of Fort Worth, and the Denham girls grandmother, Mrs. Ruby Eddleman, 66, of Fort Worth. Three other occupants of the Sanchez auto and three in the Denham car were in John Peter Smith Hospital at Fort Worth in critical condition.

James C. Ellison, 33, of Waco was killed Sunday when his motorcycle was in collision with an automobile at a Waco street intersection. Occupants of the auto were uninjured.

STABBED

Estabislando Guadarama, 27, of Del Rio was killed Saturday night in a headon collision of two cars on the western edge of Hondo in Southwest Texas.

Artis Biggs, 40, of Midland was stabbed to death Saturday night on a parking lot in Midland. Police said a 44-year-old woman would be charged with murder.

In Fort Worth, murder charges were filed Sunday against Lonnie Moore Jr., 45, after his estranged wife, Bonnie, 31, was shot to death Saturday. Mrs. Moore was killed as she waited at a bus stop with her young daughter.

Keith Wayne Eaves, 20, of Beaumont was shot to death Sunday morning outside a Beaumont lounge as he and his older brother scuffled with two agents of the Texas Liquor Control Board. Police said an investigation into the killing continued Sunday.

CHARGED

Fernando Esparza, a 5-year-old boy, was killed Saturday he attempted to cross a heavily traveled El Paso street. Police charged the driver, Guadalupe A. Zamora, 21, with negligent homicide.

A collision of two cars at the intersection of Texas 31 and Farm Road 2767 west of Kilgore early Saturday killed Michael Cameron Pittman, 29, of Miltonfreewater, Oregon.

A four-vehicle collision near Crosby Saturday killed Mrs. Juanita Jewel Moody of Houston.

A Beaumont infant died of apparent strangulation from the bed linen in her crib Saturday. Michele Denise Vaughn, daughter of Mrs. Dolores Vaughn, was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Cheryl Ann Davis, 22, a student from Texas Southern University in Houston died late Friday in a car-truck collision two miles east of Columbus on US 90.

CRUSHED

Joe Alders, 60, of near Nacogdoches in East Texas was crushed to death Saturday when he fell under a tractor and disc plow he was operating. The accident was discovered about noon. Workers labored four hours in disentangling the body.

Frank Galvan, about 32 of Brownfield, was killed and 10 persons injured when Galvan's travel-all carrying nine persons collided with a car at a Brownfield street intersection Sunday. Seven of the injured were children.

Aged Sailor Believed Lost

MOSCOW (AP) — William Willis, the 75-year-old American who floated across the Pacific Ocean alone on a raft four years ago, is believed lost on his third attempt to cross the Atlantic.

A Soviet fishery ship came upon a de-masted, deserted sailboat on which Willis' passport, medical card, other documents and a diary were found, Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported Sunday.

The boat was found in the Atlantic about 400 miles east of Ireland by a fisheries ship from the Latvian town of Leipaja. Tass said it was hoisted aboard the Soviet ship after a futile search for Willis. But the report did not indicate where the boat and the papers would be taken.

Tass said the passport was numbered 22757 and had been issued in New York City on March 18, 1968. It gave Willis' birth place, Germany, and his date of birth, Aug. 19, 1893.

The diary indicated Willis had set out on a round-the-world voyage alone May 3, 1968. Tass said the last entry in the diary was July 18.

In New York, Willis's wife said, "I still have hopes until the Coast Guard lets me know officially."

The Coast Guard in New York said it had not been informed by the Russians. It added it was difficult to check the passport number given by Tass since it contained five instead of the usual six digits and did not have a letter preceding it.

Pileup Hurts 12

TODDINGTON, England (AP) — At least 20 automobiles were involved Sunday night in a multiple pileup on Britain's leading highway, the M1. Reports said 12 persons were seriously injured, two critically.

Mexican Educator Quits In Protest

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The rector of the University of Mexico resigned Sunday night in protest against army occupation of his campus. He was the first major political casualty of more than two months of student unrest.

Javier Barros Sierra is the second rector of the 85,000-student university to resign in less than three years. His predecessor was forced out in May, 1966, after a two-month student strike against his administration.

ATTACKS

Barros Sierra, a well known Mexican educator, was the personal choice of President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz. He announced his resignation after repeated public attacks against him by congressmen and leaders of the ruling Institutional Revolutionary Party.

"The inescapable conclusion is that those who don't understand the conflict nor have been able to solve it decided at any cost to show supposed persons guilty of what has happened and among them they have selected me," the rector said.

DEATH SIGN

There were reports of scattered violence Sunday in Mexico City but nothing like the fighting Saturday night in which one policeman was killed and dozens of people injured. The policeman was shot by an army officer as the policeman tried to arrest the officer's mother.

Barros Sierra declared the university to be in mourning and led a huge student protest march on July 30 after federal paratroopers invaded a university high school to chase out rioters. He said the invasion signified the death of university autonomy in Mexico.

JUST BARE FACTS, MA'AM

TUJUNGA, Calif. (AP) — Two young women clad only in bikini bottoms were arrested as they swept the driveway in front of a house Sunday.

Police booked Gayle Ann Bell, 21, who lives there, and Carole Coréne Rose, 24, on suspicion of indecent exposure. The two are topless waitresses.

"Our boss told us it's legal," one of them told police.

Real Art Lover

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Artist Herman Higger's works went out on a one night stand in an exhibition he never got to see.

Higger said he returned to his apartment Saturday night to find the door ajar and three of his own watercolors and a lithographed Picasso missing.

Sunday the unframed pieces were returned, rolled up and left at the door beside the morning paper.

Daffy Draft Bid

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "Boy, that's something . . . I'm drafted," wrote Lance Cpl. Donald M. Morcom from Vietnam.

That's where the 19-year-old Jermyn, Pa., Marine was when he received an induction notice recently from his local draft board, forwarded by his parents.

"I called the draft board in Carbondale," Mrs. Morcom said, "and told the woman who answered the phone that my son would be happy to report for induction if the board would pay his fare back home from Vietnam."

Big Help From A Friend

DEAR ABBY: Last month my husband was arrested and fined for drunken driving. (His first offense.) He HAD BEEN drinking and he WAS driving, so technically he was guilty, although the write-up in the newspaper made it sound much worse than it really was.

We were so ashamed and embarrassed when it appeared in print.

Well, worse yet, the following weekend we drove to our former home town, which is 300 miles from here, to visit friends. When we got there, we learned that a "friend" who lives in the city where we presently live had mailed copies of that write-up to practically everybody we knew in our old home town. She excused it by attaching a note saying she knew they would want to know so they could pray for us.

What is your opinion of this deal? HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: It smells of mischief. Your holier-than-thou friend is, in my opinion, far more in need of prayers than you.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: The other morning while taking the groceries out of the car, I noticed several loose beads on the front seat.

Naturally I became upset because they were not my beads and no one besides my husband and I ever drive our car. When I showed the beads to my husband and asked him how they got there, he said he didn't know.

Since I am the only woman who has ridden in that car other than his mother, I cannot help but wonder.

I told my husband that since he didn't know how they got there, he should try to find out in order to ease my mind.

He said, "Look, kid, I am not on trial, and I am not going to bother."

I love him and I want to believe him, but the doubts are still there. What would you do in this situation?

SICK AT HEART

DEAR SICK: I'd make a mental list of all the ways those beads could have gotten into the car. (a) Someone could have thrown them through an open window. (2) A parking attendant could have invited his girl friend to go for a spin around the block, or to sit with him while they listened to your radio and wore down your battery. But whatever you do, DON'T mention this to your husband again.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: This probably sounds dumb, but it bothers me. When you go to a movie with a guy and a love scene comes on the screen, what should you do? I mean, I hate to just sit there and act bored.

Sometimes, though, the guy I'm with figures we're supposed to follow suit, and a lot of times I don't want to kiss him. I loathe the method of pretending to "drop" something — it's so childish, but what ARE you supposed to do? WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Kissing is (or should be) a spontaneous expression of honest affection. Let your own emotional barometer dictate your behavior. If you don't want to kiss your date, don't "drop" anything, except the unquestionable impression that you don't want to be kissed.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a medication with the ability, in most cases — to promptly stop itching, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids.

Tests by doctors proved that in case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction of the inflamed hemorrhoids took place.

The secret is Preparation H®. There's no other formula like it! Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

With Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics, you can increase your reading speed, comprehension and retention many times and thus make time for all the newspapers, magazines, trade journals, reports, memos, novels and other printed materials you need to read today to stay ahead.

HOW CAN YOU READ FASTER?

Simply by reading for meaning, not for words. In other words, with Reading Dynamics, you see and comprehend words and groups of words without actually pronouncing them in your mind — a skill that can boost your reading speed, 3, 5, even 10 times, and boost your comprehension and retention at the same time.

Nixon's Script Emphasizes Television, Set HHH Taunts

By WALTER MEARS
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, confident but cautious, is campaigning for the White House from a script which emphasizes television and devotes little public attention to his two presidential opponents.

Nixon's standard campaign speech includes a set series of taunts at Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee.

IN TROUBLE

Nixon tells the crowds—generally big ones—that a nation in trouble should not turn for leadership to a member of the administration that got it there.

George C. Wallace, the third party candidate, gets not a word from Nixon on the campaign platform. The Republican nominee contends that would only build up Wallace, so he never mentions the man.

Nevertheless, Wallace is a matter of real concern to Nixon's strategists. They believe Nixon can maintain his current lead in the opinion polls, and translate it into victory over Humphrey. But they share a fear that Wallace might win enough electoral votes to deny a majority to either of the major party candidates, thus sending the election to the House of Representatives.

Robert Ellsworth, Nixon's national political director, charged in an interview that the Democrats have a conscious strategy designed to do just that.

"The Democrats are doing everything they can to build up Wallace," Ellsworth said. He said they see in a House decision their best chance of denying Nixon the presidency.

Nixon's campaign pace is generally a leisurely one, with two or three speeches a day, each virtually identical. The schedule is shaped around television, and the question-and-answer programs Nixon is staging in the major states.

FOUR SO FAR

There have been four so far: Ohio, Illinois, California and Pennsylvania.

There will be at least a half-dozen more. Nixon's travels are frequently structured around the campaign television shows. So is his schedule. Each of them is preceded by a day of relaxation and preparation.

Nixon's campaign speech features an appeal to the people the candidate calls forgotten Americans. "You are Republicans, you are Democrats, you are independents," Nixon says. "You have been quiet. You have been going to work and you have been paying your taxes and supporting your schools."

But now, says Nixon, these quiet, forgotten Americans are aroused and ready to speak out with votes on Nov. 5.

MORE TV

The set speech's main assault on Humphrey links the vice president to that administration.

Leading in the public opinion polls, Nixon has passed to his campaign staff a word of warning against overconfidence.

His schedule is being kept flexible, made up 10 days to two weeks in advance, so that the nominee can devote his time to states in which his advisors believe a campaign nudge is needed.

That could include extra television appearances in some key states.

While the word is out against overconfidence, the word also is out that if the polls continue to run as they have, Nixon will feel free in the weeks ahead to campaign in some states with few electoral votes but with Republicans running for Senate or House seats or governorships.

"You may see more of that," one Nixon advisor said.

Bore Wounds Of Crucified

SAN GIOVANNI ROTONDO, Italy (AP) — Padre Pio, the Roman Catholic monk who bore the stigmatic bloodstains recalling the wounds of the crucified Christ, died at his monastery here today. He was 81.

Last Friday, gravely ill and confined to a wheelchair, he celebrated the 50th anniversary of the first appearance of the stigma on his hands, feet and the left side of his chest.

The Vatican never gave an official pronouncement itself on the case of Padre Pio, born Francesco Forgione, son of a poor peasant in Southern Italy. He became a monk in 1903 and was ordained a priest in 1910.

He never left his monastery of St. Mary of Mercy after the stigma appeared on Sept. 20, 1918.

As the story of Padre Pio spread, prosperity came to little San Giovanni Rotondo, in Italy's poor southland. Tourists, visitors and seekers of miracle cures came to his little town, at first by the thousands, finally at the rate of more than one million a year.

Toastmasters To Meet Tuesday

The Flying Tumbleweed Toastmasters Club will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Reddy Room of Texas Electric Service to finalize plans for the annual Humerous Speech Contest slated Oct. 8.

Jerry Peacock will be toastmaster for the evening and speakers will be Joe Matthews, Cliff Chapman and Bob Dunson. All persons interested are invited to attend.

Hubert's Biggest Problem, And He Knows It, Is Vietnam

By HARRY KELLY
Associated Press Writer

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey's campaign is showing smoke if not fire. With his quest for the presidency in its second week, the vice president drew in Toledo what appeared to be the biggest crowds of his campaign—and he was as obviously delighted as a boy with a double dip ice cream cone.

"Thank you, thank you very much," he said beamingly, pumping hands as a hundred or more persons crowded around his car Sunday outside an ice cream parlor.

MONEY WOES

Humphrey is behind and knows it. He started late and slow. Even the money, he says, is in short supply, thus his television advertising was late. He also feels the turbulence surrounding the Chicago convention hurt him in the polls.

But Humphrey, the cheerful exponent of the politics of hope, still manages to sound confident.

Wait until the middle of October, he says, then go out and cover all the Nixon money available. "We're going to win," he says.

Although Humphrey was the frontrunner, he came out of the convention without much treasury or organization. And Humphrey was disappointed in the first week of his campaign.

He sprinted from coast to coast and back—with a tailwind of disappointing crowds, hecklers and snubs from Texas Gov. John Connally and California's Jesse Unruh, as well as some well-publicized oratorical miscues over the party's Vietnam plank and the withdrawal of troops from Vietnam.

Humphrey was tired—trying to cover too much ground, talking too long without guarding his tongue closely enough and campaigning past midnight.

The first postconvention poll results came in and Richard M. Nixon, his Republican opponent, was still far ahead.

Even then, Humphrey saw a bright side—that now antiwar dissidents could see that their next president would be Nixon if they didn't do something for Humphrey.

More advance men then were added to his campaign to bring out the crowds. The scheduling crew was shaken up. Enough money was collected so that Humphrey could go ahead with his advertising.

In addition, Humphrey was endorsed by President Johnson. And from the other side of the Vietnam issue, he won public embraces from Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, George S. McGovern and Wayne Morse. He also made a pilgrimage to see the Democrat who pulled off one of history's best-known political upsets, Harry S. Truman.

PRESSURE

Would all this activity be enough? Humphrey thinks he can win by taking the offense against Nixon on issues of personality, prosperity, by calling for civil justice as well as law and order and by trying to paint Nixon as more of a hawk or foreign policy hardliner than Humphrey.

Nor is Humphrey reluctant to portray himself as, if not the best presidential candidate possible, at least a better alternative than Nixon or George C. Wallace.

His biggest problem, and he knows it, is Vietnam. He is said to be under strong pressure to make some dramatic gesture or statement that would divorce him from the Johnson administration's Vietnam policy.

Hope For War End Growing

SAIGON (AP) — The man who heads U.S. participation in the pacification program in South Vietnam said today he sees "growing hope for an end to this war—perhaps sooner than many dare to think."

Robert W. Komer, the boss of all U.S. efforts to swing the allegiance of the South Vietnamese people to the Saigon government, told the Saigon Lions Club that most indications are "that a viable and independent South Vietnam is emerging from the crucible of strife."

The Communist offensives in February, May and June had a major psychological effect both in Vietnam and in the United States, Komer said. But he said enemy losses were greater.

Komer said Hanoi hoped for the collapse of the Saigon government, but "they instead provided it with a challenge it rose to meet." Today, Komer said, the Saigon regime "is stronger and more stable than in years, while the Viet Cong are kept propped up only by a massive infusion of regular North Vietnamese troops."

Komer said Hanoi had hoped to spark a general antigovernment uprising but "instead created greater hatred of their terror tactics."

Wallace Says He Did Not Anticipate Giant Support

By JULES LOH
Associated Press Writer

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — "My campaign," said a grinning George C. Wallace to an audience in Dallas the other day, "reminds me of the old joke that begins, 'They laughed when I sat down to play. . .'

"Well," he said to the boom of applause and the scream of rebel yells, "not many Democrats or Republicans are laughing now."

GEORGE WALLACE

Wallace has said that even he, whose political antennae are probably as sensitive as anybody's, did not anticipate when he announced his third-party candidacy in January the degree of success it would achieve by late September.

EXAMPLE

Wallace, for example, expected his "mission impossible" task force of Alabama lawyers to win for him a place on the ballots of 40 states at most.

Last week, when he met the qualifications of the 50th state —although Ohio remains in doubt—he began referring to the Democrats and Republicans as "the other two national parties."

He says his campaign treasury is in good condition, "but don't get the idea we're swimming in money," and he plans to eliminate many of the fund-raising dinners that have been a staple of his campaign appearances. There also is a rumor that he soon will replace his prop-driven DC7 airplane with a speedier prop-jet model.

He also plans to slow the pace of his campaign. Last Friday he completed a fatiguing swing through the Southwest, Midwest and South, and will not resume again until next Friday, when he will embark on a trip through the Northeast, Midwest and Far West.

SECRET

The secret of Wallace's success has become clear as his traveling road show—complete with a country band and two blonde vocalists—the Taylor Sisters, Mona and Lisa—has wound its way through 31 states. Wallace has demonstrated an acute sense of the fundamental fears and irritations that gnaw at a great many bewildered Americans, and an ability to speak of them in simple, colorful terms.

Concerning law and order, for example, the visceral issue of his campaign, Wallace says the Democratic and Republican candidates promised to enforce the law but that both of them, by past policies, had helped to bring about "today's anarchy."

"I reply to them," Wallace said the other night in Florida, "in the words of an old hillbilly song: 'It's too late to ask for forgiveness.'"

"Tell it like it is, George!" has become a slogan shrieked at rallies from Milwaukee to Montgomery, Lowell to Long Beach.

His appeal is pitched to men who attend his rallies in shirts with open collars, women in toreador pants, though suits and ties are well-represented, and lately, a growing number of young people have been on hand.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1 — Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠4 3 ♡A K J 7 6 5 ◇A 8 4 2 ♣A
Your right hand opponent opens with one diamond.
What do you bid?

A.—Double. While it is true that you are interested in only one suit, there is no overcall in hearts that will adequately describe the full strength of your hand. A bid of just one heart is apt to be passed out, while a jump bid of two hearts is now employed as a preemptive measure.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠Q J 5 ♡Q J 7 4 ◇A 2 ♣J 10 6 4
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 ♣	Dble.	Pass
1 ♡	Pass	4 ♡	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Five diamonds. So far you have promised absolutely nothing but the holding of four hearts, on the basis of which partner has undertaken to score 10 tricks. The fact that you have the queen-jack of hearts, the spade holding which surely must fit well with partner's hand, and the ace of diamonds, should make it certain that an 11-trick contract would be safe. You should make one try for slam by showing the ace of diamonds.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠K Q 10 7 6 ♡9 7 ◇A Q 3 ♣K 9 7
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♡	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—While all the suits are stopped a rebid of two no trump is not recommended. Very little over a minimum is held and a rebid of two spades does justice to the holding. To qualify as a sound rebid of two no trump, the opening hand must have at least 15 high card points.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠K J 10 ♡Q J 10 6 ◇A 10 5 ♣A 7 4
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1 ♡	Pass	2 ♡	?

What do you bid?

A.—Nothing. You might as well accept a short profit. You have no reason to feel confident that you can make three of anything with this unattractive distribution and a double by you would obligate partner to bid.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠K J 9 6 4 ◇K 3 ♣A Q 7 4 3 2
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♡	Pass
1 ♠	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. You have already done your full duty by this hand and should not be unduly influenced by the distributional features which you have already described. Your hand is quite minimum as to high cards.

Q. 6—East-West vulnerable. You are South and have 60 part score.
♠7 4 2 ♡2 ◇Q 10 6 3 2 ♣J 6 5 3
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1 ♡	Pass	?

What do you bid?

A.—It is my practice to go to great limits to keep the bidding open when an advanced part score is held, but this is going too far. Too frequently have complications set in by virtue of South's "sporting" bids of one on trump in situations such as this. Partner has received no warning, and carries on the fight against the expected competition to his great disaster. One cannot expect always to be right in these situations, but I am persuaded that the pass will be wiser in most cases.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠7 2 ♡K J 9 7 5 3 ◇K 4 ♣7 4 2
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
2 NT	Pass	?

What do you bid?

A.—This hand stands a very good chance of producing five or six tricks for partner and consequently is on the verge of a slam. The best way to indicate such a holding is by a big jump in hearts. Our own preference is for five hearts.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
♠Q 10 8 6 ♡6 5 ◇A K 4 3 ♣7 5 2
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT	Pass
2 ♡	Pass	4 ♡	Pass
Pass	Pass

What is your opening lead?

A.—A trump. This is better than first taking a look with the king of diamonds. You must start getting dummy's trumps out so that declarer will have less opportunity to ruff spades. When you get in with a diamond, as is very likely, you will be able to lead another trump in an effort to complete your sabotage.

Leaders To Talk Over Sabah Crisis

MANILA (AP) — Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos and Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman probably will meet soon to thrash out their dispute over Sabah. But there is no indication that either is prepared to give any ground.

Meanwhile, some 2,000 students angry over what they consider U.S. support of Malaysia demonstrated for the second day in front of the U.S. Embassy, and burned an effigy of President Johnson.

In Kuala Lumpur, a government spokesman said Rahman is "quite prepared" to meet with Marcos to discuss the Philippine claim to the Malaysian state in North Borneo and Malaysia's suspension of diplomatic relations with the Philippines last week.

The long dispute came to a head Wednesday when Marcos signed a bill declaring Sabah to be Philippine territory. Marcos said the Philippine claim would be pursued peacefully before the United Nations.

The claim is based on former ownership of the North Borneo territory by a 19th century sultan of Sulu whose descendants are now Philippine citizens. The sultan ceded it to a group of British traders, it eventually became the colony of British North Borneo, and in 1963 it was merged into Malaysia along with the other British territories in Southeast Asia. At that time it was recognized by the United States as part of Malaysia.

Fast Reading Demonstration Set Tonight

A third demonstration on techniques for learning to at least treble reading speed will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at the Texas Electric Service Reddy Room. There is no charge or obligation and everyone is welcome.

Larry Hill, representing Reading Dynamics, will explain the system developed by Mrs. Evelyn Wood, a Utah school teacher. She got the idea when she witnessed a professor wade through a term paper at 6,000 words per minute, marking it unerringly. From this she located other fast readers and discovered that they had many traits in common.

Thus she developed a plan for overcoming obstacles to reading. In the process, it was found that as speed increased, so did comprehension.

Some graduates of the course have kicked speeds up to several thousand words per minute—some up to 15,000 or more. These, however, may be the prodigies, but Reading Dynamics makes the guarantee that those who complete the course and practice as required will at least multiply present reading skills by three times, otherwise, money is refunded. Most will make it five or six times faster.

School Trustees To Meet Tuesday

The Big Spring Independent School District board of trustees will hold its second meeting for September at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the board meeting room.

While no formal items for action are on the agenda, a 28-minute color film of the Governor's Committee of Public Education on its recommendations to the Legislature will be shown.

Rail Union Okays Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — Members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen have voted to authorize a strike which a union spokesman said could tie up all major railroads in the nation.

C. J. Chamberlain, international union president, said today that more than 90 per cent of the ballots were in favor of authorizing a strike.

He said a federal mediator will enter the negotiations Wednesday and that if after a reasonable time no progress is made a strike date then would be set.

The 13,000 - member union is seeking a 25 per cent wage increase over three years, retroactive to July 1. Chamberlain said the carriers have offered wage hikes amounting to about 9 per cent over 18 months.

Earnings presently average $3.27 an hour.

Humphrey Repeats Stand On U.S. Troop Reduction

By The Associated Press

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, saying that if his Vietnam views conflict with President Johnson's "Then so be it," has repeated his stand that some U.S. troop withdrawals should be possible in the near future.

The Democratic presidential candidate, drawing the biggest crowds of his campaign in Ohio Sunday, also said he hopes if elected to work out "de-Americanization of the war" with Saigon leaders.

Humphrey repeated in Columbus his prediction that "systematic reduction of American forces" should be possible soon, when and if South Vietnam becomes able to take over more of its own self defense.

'PITFALLS'

"Now that's my position," he said. "What's the President's position, that's his business."

But Humphrey said he sees no conflict in Johnson's statement that no one can predict timing of troop withdrawals. He said Johnson was referring to "when this war will be over, when you can withdraw all your troops."

Humphrey declined, however, to repeat his earlier prediction that withdrawals could begin by early 1969. He called such specific forecasts "pitfalls" for public officials.

Third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace, meanwhile, said briefings from military friends convince him the Vietnam war can be won with conventional weapons and no increase in American troops.

The war has not been won, Wallace said, "because they (government leaders) have considered political and diplomatic considerations ahead of military considerations in Southeast Asia and it has not worked."

Wallace also said he will name his vice presidential running mate next week.

He was interviewed on a special CBS "Face the Nation" broadcast from Atlanta.

Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon took a day off from campaigning Sunday but his national political director issued a statement saying Humphrey's presidential bid is in "desperate straits."

"With Mr. Humphrey that desperate," said Robert Ellsworth, "the American people can look for almost any demogogic maneuver from his camp."

PATH TO PEACE

Nixon's communications director, Herbert G. Klein, said a Republican truth squad will follow Humphrey as he campaigns. Klein said two of the squad members will be Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., and Rep. Donald Rumsfeld, R-Ill.

Nixon's running mate, Spiro T. Agnew, said in Honolulu Sunday night Vietnam "will not fade because we blow retreat, it will not vanish in the wishes of a flower child, it will not suffocate in the smoke of a burning draft card.

"Richard Nixon's answer is the only one," Agnew said. "The path to peace is one of strong defenses and strong principles. It's dealing more nations into the peace-keeping responsibilities of the free world. It's getting them off the bench and into the ball game."

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, was in Washington today. He planned to resume campaigning Tuesday with stops in Charleston, W. Va., and Pittsburgh, Pa.

Israelis Say Egyptians Stage Hit-And-Run Raid

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — A band of Egyptian commandos crossed the Suez Canal and laid an ambush for an Israeli patrol, the Israeli army charged today. The raiders hit an Israeli truck with bazooka fire and light arms and injured an Israeli soldier, a spokesman asserted.

The ambush was laid on a waterside road in occupied Sinai, about three miles south of Little Bitter Lake and 10 miles north of the city of Suez on the southern neck of the canal. Firing began a half hour before midnight.

After the fight, "clear signs were found of a few people who came from the direction of the canal . . . and retreated to the canal," said the spokesman.

U.N. ceasefire observers were notified and visited the scene.

The situation along the canal border between Israel and Egypt has been tense since Aug. 26, when Israel claimed Egyptian raiders crossed the waterway, ambushed Israeli troops and carried a soldier off into Egypt. The Egyptians denied the charge.

COPS GRAB ESCAPEE

There was a scratching noise at her window, and the hour was just past midnight.

The woman summoned the police who came to her aid.

They caught the culprit — an escapee.

The culprit was her young son's prize grasshopper which had escaped its cage and gotten trapped between the window and the screen.

Female Moose Ties Up Planes

WATERVILLE, Maine (AP) — A moose tied up air traffic Sunday at Waterville Airport, which serves a city of 20,000 in central Maine.

Airport officials said the female moose ambled onto the runway and sat down, delaying landings and takeoffs until she meandered into nearby woods.

A plane circled the airport waiting for the moose to leave, but finally landed at the other end of the 5,000 foot-long runway.

Giant Of Auto Industry Announces Price Boosts

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors, giant of the auto industry, today announced price increases which averaged $49, or nearly 50 per cent under figures announced by Chrysler last week.

GM Board Chairman James M. Roche denied there had been any pressure from Washington sources to get General Motors to come in with a smaller figure than Chrysler had done as the 1969 cars headed toward the market.

"There were frank discussions in Washington, but I assure you General Motors' decision as usual was made by General Motors people before we even went to Washington," Roche told a news conference.

LIST PRICE

General Motors, in figuring out its $49, or 1.6 per cent per car price boost, used list price figures, those which the companies charge its dealers. Chrysler, which was the first of the auto companies to post its new list prices had figured the increases at $84, or 2.9 per cent over its 1968 list prices.

The prices as announced by General Motors did not include federal excise tax and dealer handling and preparation charges. Those items are included on the so-called sticker price which a buyer would find on a car in his dealer's showroom.

Working from that sticker price, GM's average increase would be $52 or 1.6 per cent, contrasted with an $89 or 2.5 per cent increase which Chrysler used on its sticker prices this year.

CONFUSION

Roche, in explaining GM's decision to use list prices in its formal announcement to the press, said "confusion sometimes results from the various elements that are combined when one is figuring out different types of auto prices."

In a surprise move, GM reversed its decision to have federally required headrests included in its price tags on announcement day Thursday.

"We had announced that the headrests would be on all the cars and would be included in the price, but for competitive reasons we have had to make them an option until Jan. 1, 1969," Roche said.

This referred to Chrysler's marketing strategy in making the new safety headrests an optional price item at $26 until the date the federal government says they have to be installed.

General Motors undercut Chrysler's price as it said they would be installed for an average of $16 per car.

SAFETY ITEMS

Conceding that many people may not like the headrests, which some consider to be unsightly, Roche said GM would do its best through its dealers to convince all buyers to take the new safety item.

Roche explained that the headrests have been installed on all 1969 GM cars built to date but he said that if a customer absolutely refuses to accept them before the federally required date, they will be removed and the customer will be credited for that amount on his bill.

GM's new price schedule marked the third year in a row it had come in with smaller price increases than did Chrysler, first of the auto firms to lead off the price parade in all three years.

Chrysler came under heavy criticism last week from the White House, United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther and other sources for its new price tags, and the big question in the wake of GM's new figures was—Will Chrysler roll back its prices again?

Ford and American Motors have not announced their 1969 prices as yet.

City To Seek Permit Change

The Texas Water Quality Board in Austin has told city officials to submit the city's request for an amendment to the grant under which Big Spring operates its two sewer disposal plants. Action will be taken by the board after the request is received, said Earnest Lillard, city engineer, upon his return from Austin.

The amendment to the present grant is necessary because the water being turned out by the local plants does not meet the requirements set forth by the last session of the Texas legislature. If the amendment is granted, the city will not have to make changes in the plants and will be allowed to continue its operation as is.

The original permit to operate a sewer plant here was granted in 1930 and revised in 1943 to cover modification in the Hayes treatment system. The second plant, which was added in 1963, features the trickling filter method of treating the waste.

Lillard said the city's request for the amendment will be submitted within the next 30 days.

More Defense Cuts Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The $71.9 billion defense-spending bill, already trimmed $5 billion below President Johnson's requests, is facing attempts for even more cuts in the Seante.

New cuts were proposed in a series of amendments, before the Senate for action today, offered by Sen. Joseph Clark, D-Pa., who argues that domestic programs have suffered because the Defense Department gets too big a share of the budget.

About a third of the appropriation is earmarked for Vietnam.

Efforts to cut the defense appropriations below committee recommendations have failed in the past. Key members of the military appropriations subcommittee argue further reductions could jeopardize national security.

Johnson asked for $77.1 billion, the House approved $72.2 billion and the Senate Appropriations Committee cut nearly $353 million more.

Differences between the Senate and House versions will be resolved in conference.

Sullivan To Get Corrective Surgery

Parents of Navy hospital corpsman second class John Sullivan received word that he was to undergo leg surgery Monday morning at Glynco Naval Air Station, Ga.

Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Sullivan, 100 NE 9th, was injured during action in Vietnam in January, 1967. The operation at Glynco is to help correct some of the injury.

He has received word that he is to be awarded the Navy Commendation Medal in connection with the incident. Sullivan has already been awarded the Silver Star.

His mother is to fly to Glynco, Oct. 7, and accompany her son back to Big Spring, when he will spend a recuperation leave.

Springer Visits With City Officials

Springer is in Big Spring to gather information for a second master plan for the city. Members of the city commission met with him at a noon luncheon today.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police in Philadelphia are wearing blinker lights for night traffic duty. Commissioner Frank L. Rizzo ordered 50 belts, visible for a block, which flash green lights. They replace the white capes and caps traditionally worn by traffic policemen.

Court-Martial Of Balky Soldiers Is Postponed

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — The court - martial of six enlisted men scheduled for today on charges growing out of a demonstration over riot duty has been postponed.

The civilian lawyer for the six was ill and the trial was rescheduled for Tuesday, Col. William McNally said.

The six were among 42 Negroes charged with failure to obey an order after they were ordered to disperse.

The men had assembled on the eve of the Democratic National Convention at a Ft. Hood intersection to demonstrate against possible riot duty in Chicago.

Eight soldiers have been tried. Two were acquitted, four sentenced to six months in the stockade, and two got three month sentences.

Up for trial Tuesday are Pfc. Walter Beckon, 22, of Newark, N.J.; Pfc. Arthur Smith, 20, of Montgomery, Ala.; Sgt. Joseph Coger, 21, of Baltimore: Spec. 4 Jesse Richardson of Waco: and Sgt. Gregory Ward, 29, of Philadelphia.

School Teachers' Strike Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiations to end the strike by public school teachers have been recessed until Tuesday because the 900 schools with 1.1 million pupils would have closed today anyway because of Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year.

Meetings Sunday between the Board of Education and representatives of the 55,000-member AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers broke off in the afternoon. The teachers said the strike would continue Tuesday.

The teachers struck Sept. 9, opening day of the fall term. Since then, classes in all schools have been held only two days.

The dispute stems from the dismissal last spring of 10 teachers by the local governing board of the Ocean Hill-Brownsville experimental project, in a predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican neighborhood. Another 100 teachers walked out in sympathy with the 10, who later were exonerated by a judge's ruling.

The Brooklyn district claimed the teachers were attempting to sabotage neighborhood control, or decentralization, of the schools, scheduled to become citywide next year.

The teachers union charges violation of the job security provisions of its contract and has demanded the restoration of the 110 teachers to their classroom assignments.

As a settlement, the Board of Education ordered that the teachers be reinstated, with the teachers hired by the governing board also remaining in the district's eight schools.

The proposal was termed "totally unfair" by the Rev. C. Herbert Oliver, chairman of the Brooklyn board.

Oliver noted that the Ocean Hill-Brownsville schools have been operating smoothly despite the strike, using replacement teachers.

About a third of the public schools have been open during the walkout, handled by skeleton staffs. Attendance by pupils has been minimal.

The UFT, in addition to demanding full restoration of rights to the 110 teachers, also wants "neutral" observers in each of the teachers' classrooms as a safety precaution.

Walter Degnan, president of the Council of Supervisory Associations, which has been backing the teachers' strike, said Sunday that elimination of the Ocean Hill-Brownsville district is the "one step necessary to prevent the death knell of decentralization."

Czechs Watching For Signs Of Kremlin Withdrawal

PRAGUE (AP) — Hopes for early withdrawal of most of the Soviet Bloc troops who occupied Czechoslovakia last month were strengthened today by a report in the newspaper of the ruling Communist party, Rude Pravo.

The paper, silent Sunday on the subject, told its readers today that Premier Oldrich Cernik announced in Ostrava on Saturday, that "the withdrawal of troops will begin in the next few days. The majority of them will withdraw and it will not take a long time. But certain troops will remain. How many and for how long we will tell our public in due time."

NOT SURE

So far, however, there were no definite signs of the partial troop withdrawal.

Troop movements were reported in southern Bohemia, but some military observers said they believed the Soviets were reinforcing the border with Austria. The Russians concentrated a large contingent of their forces on the border with West Germany shortly after they moved into Czechoslovakia on the night of Aug. 20-21.

Numerous Soviet troop transport planes took off from Prague's military airport Sunday, and airport sources said they carried troops. But it could not be established whether the troops were being rotated or being flown home to stay. The Soviets have been flying in supplies for their forces since the start of the invasion.

COME HOME

Few troops were seen on the roads Sunday, and the Czechoslovaks, trying to carry on with life as they best could, jammed the roads for outings in the country.

The Prague race track did a booming business in its third Sunday racing session since the invasion. But the track in the Slovak capital, Bratislava, announced it could not reopen yet because of technical reasons "due to recent events."

With officials trying to get thousands of citizens to return home from Western Europe, Rude Pravo carried statements by three of the country's best known film directors saying they did not plan to emigrate. The directors were Jiri Menzel, Jan Kadar and Jan Nemec. All are on assignment abroad but plan to return, the paper said.

First Girl Named To Reporting Staff

Miss Hoffmeister, 20, of Carleton College in Northfield, Minn., is one of a dozen girls spending a year at all-male Princeton under a special language program.

First Woman Cantor

Mrs. Rita Shore, in her high lyric soprano voice, sang the prayers of the High Holy Days in the Temple Judea at Coral Gables, Fla., at the start of the Jewish New Year which began Sunday night. Rabbi Morris A. Kipper asked Mrs. Shore to sing the prayers for the High Holy Days after which the congregation voted on making her the regular cantor.

A LOVELIER YOU

Wrist Measure To Tell Of Ideal Waist

By MARY SUE MILLER

A Lovely writes: It seems to me that with belts wrapping up the waistline, a slim middle is one of the best assets a girl can have. Well, I'm a have-not and am doing reducing exercises. What I would like to know is the measurement of an ideal waistline.

The Answer: A quick bit of arithmetic will answer the question for you. Here's how to figure:

Measure your wrist around the boniest area and jot down the result. Then judge your bone size as big to medium to small.

If your bones are small, multiply your wrist measurement by 4. Multiply by 4½, if wrist bones are medium or large. The answer cues your ideal waist measurement.

Example A: wrist measurement 6 inch (small bones) x 4 equals a 24 inch waist. Example B: Wrist measure of 6 inches (medium to large bones) x 4½ equals a 27 inch waist. If medium boned, subtract one inch for ideal waist of 26 inches.

Once you ascertain your ideal waist measurement, you know just how much work you have to do in the exercise department. Do add a diet to exercise if you are generally overweight. The double dose pays double dividends.

A trim measurement gives the silhouette the balanced, lithe look of youth. Actually the waist is the figure's center of gravity. When it's off center, the whole figure is thrown off.

MIDRIFF SLIMMERS

To solve the riddle of extra inches around your middle, send today for my leaflet, "Midriff Slimmers." It contains quick, easy reducing exercises for slimming diaphragm, waist and abdomen. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin.

DKG Hears Convention Highlights

Miss Virginia Grove of Snyder, area director of Delta Kappa Gamma, gave highlights from the international convention held in New York City in August, at Saturday's meeting of Beta Kappa Chapter, DKG. The group met in the Caprock Electric Co-operative in Stanton.

Miss Grove reported that during the past biennium Delta Dappa Gamma has added 127 new chapters and has given one-half million dollars in scholarships, grants and aid to foreign students.

The new officer's slate was introduced. It includes Mrs. B. F. Yandell, president; Miss Velma Blagrave, first vice president; Mrs. John Coffee, second vice president; Mrs. Jack Denson, recording secretary; Miss Elzada Herring, corresponding secretary; Miss Eulalia Mitchell, treasurer; and Mrs. Rogers Hefley, parliamentarian.

Hostesses were Mrs. M. B. McFall, Miss Herring, Mrs. Harold Heaton, Mrs. Cass Hill, Mrs. J. A. Westmoreland and Mrs. A. J. Beckmeyer.

United States' Change Noted

Mrs. W. T. Barber brought the program, "Is This Really Where We Live?" in conjunction with the study theme, "Philosophy of Change," at Thursday's meeting of the 1905 Hyperion Club. Mrs. J. D. Elliott was hostess in her home at 201 E. 6th.

"Tuesday, Sept. 17, was Constitution Day," said Mrs. Barber, "and it was 181 years ago the constitution was given to the states for ratification." She spoke on the changes in the United States during the past 181 years, emphasizing the founding fathers made provision for a growing country.

She traced the growth of the United States from a frontier country to a leading world power. She described the tremendous scientific and technical advances made in the last few years and warned against "too much materialism and a lapse in moral and spiritual values."

Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr. presided and reported on the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs seminar which she attended at St. Mary's University, Aug. 12-15 in San Antonio. Mrs. Stripling was named conservation committee chairman for the Western District and will serve as general chairman at the annual convention of the Western District, TFWC, slated March 28-29 in Big Spring.

Other convention committee members from the club are Mrs. R. J. Ream, Mrs. Horace Reagan, Mrs. J. C. Pickle and Mrs. Miller Harris. Mrs. Pickle reported on three books given to the Howard County Library in memory of Shine Philips, Donald Van Meter and Mrs. Daisy Smyth.

The club contributed $10 to the Bible fund.

Wins Prize For Original Story

STANTON (SC) — Mrs. Margaret Stovall was awarded a prize for the most original story about her costume at Thursday's rush party and salad supper held by the Rho Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Tom Angel was hostess at the "shipwreck" party. Mrs. Bill Terry gave a program on the sorority.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Daily Milk Delivery Solves Her Problem

Dear Heloise:

My family drinks at least four quarts of milk a day and our milkman came by only every other day.

I hated having eight quarts in the refrigerator one day and none the next, so I solved the problem this way.

HELOISE

I now buy milk from two different companies.

They leave me milk on alternate days and now I'm never overstocked one day and out the next. Also I can always be sure of delivery every day in case I need extra milk because of special desserts, or the children's company.

It costs no more to have two milkmen make deliveries than it does for one and the milk I have on hand is fresher. . . . Anna

• • •

Dear Heloise:

When baby outgrows the crib, what do you do with those nice crib sheets?

Simply sew two of them end to end and you have sheets for the hard-to-fit 30 inch folding cots or bunks. . . . Gena L. Geedy

• • •

Dear Heloise:

We gals who have small children usually stay up after getting hubby off to work.

But if you are like myself and find it hard to start housework at such an early hour — don't. Take up a hobby that you've always wanted to do and can never find the time for away from your children and household chores.

I like to crochet but with three small angels I've not had time to sit down quietly and alone to do it.

Recently I've started crocheting during that peaceful hour or two before the gang rises.

I've accomplished something decorative, stayed up, relaxed and am ready to start my day of work . . . Norma J. Lippke.

• • •

Dear Heloise:

Have you ever wondered what to do with a can of carbonated beverage when you only use half a can?

If you buy the frozen orange juice with the plastic cover, this cover fits perfectly on the beverage can and helps keep the fizz in. . . . Gail George

• • •

Dear Heloise:

Here is a suggestion that has lightened my ironing basket.

When school was out, I dyed my boys' T-shirts various bright colors for summer fun — which also means no ironing sports shirts for me. . . . Mrs. Carole Jolovich

• • •

Dear Heloise:

I had tried without success at three different stores to find some three-inch plastic flower pots in which to plant African violets.

As I was passing the picnic supplies, I saw a package of plastic foam beverage cups just the right size and bought some.

I cut a drainage hole in the bottom with a sharp knife and planted the violets as usual.

One nice thing about these "flower pots" is that the rims don't make scars on the underside of African violets as the rims of some plastic and unglazed clay pots often do. . . . Mrs. William R. Betts.

• • •

Dear Heloise:

I am a pen pal and collect view cards.

After long experimenting, I found the answer to preserving them to be small plastic sandwich bags.

After inserting the cards, I trim the flap ends of the bags and tape them down. Presto, I can see both sides of the cards and the plastic also keeps them nice and clean. They can be removed and reinserted whenever I wish.

I keep my cards by States in my scrap book and they look very nice this way. . . . Mrs. Eleanor Chamberlain

• • •

Dear Heloise:

I have a suggestion for gardeners who wear short sleeves.

Cut the toes off your husband's old socks and pull them on your arms. The elbows fit nicely in the heel. They make a longer gauntlet than your gloves and protect your arms from the sun and bushes. . . . Ray Willard.

BUYING TIPS

Remember Raincoats In School Wardrobes

By GENEVIEVE S. WOOD

In buying school wardrobes no matter what the age, you'll need to consider raincoats. They fall into two classifications: The water-repellent, often called the all-weather coat, and the waterproof coat.

The water-repellent coat now has a most important service feature added — durable press. This means that it can be washed in a machine with water at moderate temperature then tumble dried. It comes out fresh and clean and requires no ironing . . . it's ready to wear. Think what this means in children's and young peoples' coats. Not only better looks but a sizable saving in dry cleaning costs.

Water repellent finishes such as Scotchgard and Zepel also are repellent to stains oil base substances. The other type of finish referred to as a silicone finish is not repellent to oil but it can be depended on to reject water. Both types will last through many launderings.

Durable press is one of the really great advances in water-repellent coats. It has led not only to the greater serviceability just noted, but also to more attractive fabrics. These are twills, poplins, muted plaids of great beauty. Since they are a blend of polyesters and cotton — 65 and 35 per cent respectively as a rule — they give good wear. The colors are clear and clean looking.

Waterproof coats admit no moisture through the fabric. Fabrics such as cotton sheeting are coated with vinyl or synthetic rubber. Waterproof coats become uncomfortably warm when worn for any length of time. Any fabric that is waterproof also is airtight. Hence the water-repellent fabric is more comfortable as a coat. However, ventilation under the armholes makes waterproof coats more comfortable, so check this point if you are considering one.

SEPARATE LININGS

Generally these coats may be bought with separate linings that can be zipped in and out to provide cold weather protection. Usually this is a warm lining of orlon fleece. Sleeve linings mostly are woven of long wearing man-made fibers, and are quilted. This combination, plus the addition of a parka or other type of hood, adds up to a wonderfully warm coat.

If you have a raincoat on hand that still has a lot of service in it, but has lost its water repellency, you can buy and apply a water repellent that has been on the market for some time and is well known for its efficacy. You also can have this same finish applied by a cleaning establishment.

Regardless of whom you are buying a raincoat for, there are a number of quality features that are easily recognizable . . . and that are very important to the serviceability of the garment.

A Devotional For The Day

"Now come along to some quiet place by yourselves, and rest for a little while," said Jesus. (Mark 6:31, Phillips)

PRAYER: Our Father, our lives are full of restlessness, of hustling and bustling. Teach us the value of rest for the refreshment of ourselves so that with more strength and gladness we may continue in our daily labors. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

More Than Money Can Buy

In Texas, a governor's committee has called for doubling state-local spending on public schools for an education-improvement decade. And popular and legislative support are expected.

The state's teachers are demanding a series of big pay increases. And in time they will probably get most of what they are asking.

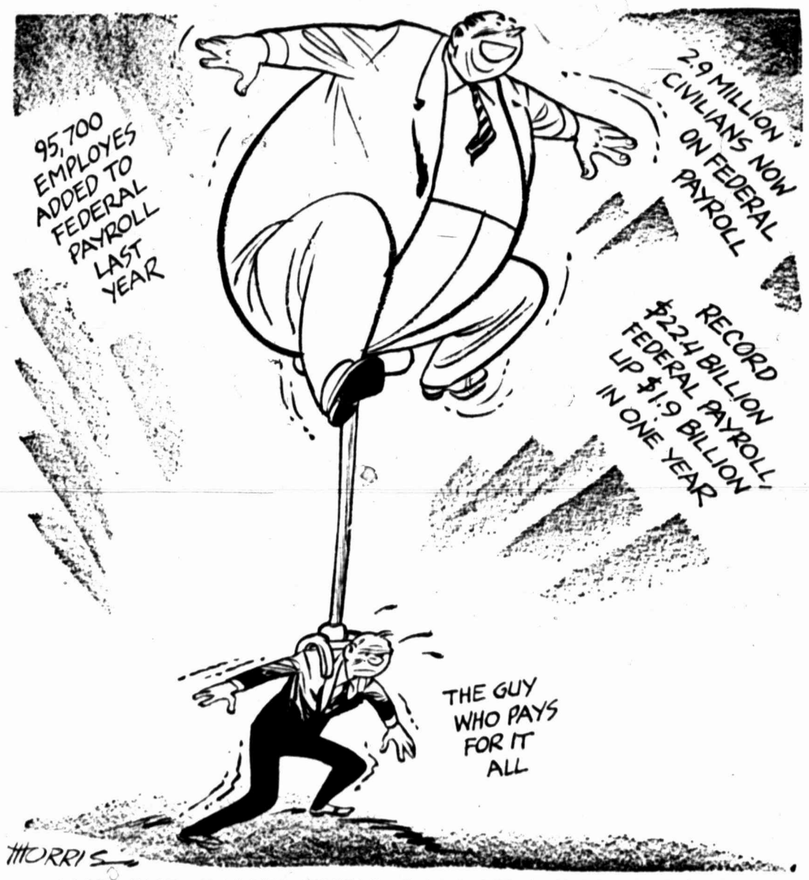

The prospect is for better-paid teachers in better-built schools with better equipment and all of that better distributed over the state. But somehow that prospect does not make for complacency.

Close observers, particularly many parents, may be pardoned the uneasy feeling that money alone is not going to solve all the public school problems of the 1970s. They may be pardoned the doubt that conventional thinking on educational improvement can fully adapt school administration, teaching methods, curricula and youth behavior or the massive, accelerating, often chaotic changes in society which graduates will face.

And there is another gnawing concern in all this planning. Is enough serious attention being paid to what kind of life your people want to prepare themselves for, to what they expect to get out of schooling, to what they feel is wrong with the present system and its processes? And adults should not kid themselves that what today's prematuring younger generation thinks and wants is irrelevant to whether the now planned school improvements will be successful or not.

Today's secondary school students see public school teachers striking all over the country for the higher pay they will probably get. Is it likely that will contribute to unquestioning discipline on their part? They see their older brothers and sisters among the college student activists protesting and demonstrating for (among less defensible things) a voice in the nature of their own education. How long will it be before emulation sets in at the lower levels? They see the poor rioting for better conditions, and they may wonder if griping among themselves is outlet enough for dissatisfactions in their own school experiences.

The New York Times' education editor, Fred M. Hechinger, has taken a worried look at the strained tempers of many secondary school students — who are keenly sensitive and seriously searching for new values — and concludes that "some very sophisticated, persuasive teaching will be called for." And a further word of caution is in order: Student respect cannot be commanded — not any more — it must be won and earned, and without that the best schools that money can buy won't be worth much.

AND WE CAN'T EVEN CALL IT A BALANCING ACT

Help In Transition

It should be newsworthy that President Johnson has taken action for which hardly anyone could find reason to criticize him. He has advanced to the pre-election period consideration to the problems of transition of presidential powers.

He did this by offering all three candidates who will be on the ballot nationwide — Hubert Humphrey, Richard Nixon and George Wallace — expert consultation on advance planning for orderly transfer of the world's highest and most complex office.

This is a vitally important matter virtually neglected until the Eisenhower-Kennedy transfer in 1960-61. Then Congress, waking up to the critical problem, in 1963 passed a law authorizing $900,000 in preparation expenses for the president-elect and otherwise helping to smooth such transitions.

Johnson selected Charles S. Murphy as his representative in such discussions, and the candidates should be as serious in their choices for representation. A special counsel to Johnson and a top aide to President Truman, Murphy has had high governmental administrative experience as undersecretary of agriculture and chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Furthermore, Murphy was a member of the Brookings Institution's Advisory Commission on Presidential Transition in 1960, which helped initiate the concern and forms for orderly transfer to presidential power. And he has moved promptly to get departments and agencies to prepare briefing materials for both pre-election and post-elections cooperation.

If the presidential election should be thrown into the House of Representatives, and particularly if a drawn-out wrangle should result there, a disorderly transition would be unavoidable. But even then, the consultations Johnson is offering should help as they should also contribute to responsibility during the campaign.

Economic Slowdown Lost?

NEW YORK (AP) — Somehow an economic slowdown has been lost. Most analysts still feel it has only been delayed en route. Others aren't sure. Maybe it will never come, they say.

In this age of computers you'd think it couldn't happen, but it has. The American economy was supposed to be turning sluggish by now, the result of spending cutbacks and an income tax surcharge. But it's roaring.

"I DON'T KNOW what's happened," said an economist looking at his charts. "Industrial production is high and capital spending plans look good. Lots of jobs and little unemployment. Lots of houses being built, retail sales strong, cars selling like candybars."

"What bothers me," said his partner, "is that the government takes 10 per cent more taxes from people and the people just don't seem to mind. They're spending like mad. And when people don't complain about taxes something's wrong."

"Search me," said the other. "When I forecast a slowdown I was as certain it would appear by now as the movie projectionist is certain his picture will reach the screen. What could have happened?"

A LOT OF PEOPLE are asking that question. The Review of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis headlined an article in its September issue, "Excessive Demand Slowing?" Note the question mark.

Business Week magazine in a mid-September editorial said, "These are times that try decision makers' souls. A large majority of economists is warning of a business slowdown. But the economy itself continues to point upward."

Several consultants and economic advisers to business continue to tell their clients to look for a strong 1969, and some of them have all but ruled out fears of a recession during mid-winter.

Arthur Okun, the president's chief economic adviser, said last week that he still expects the slowdown to develop but conceded that so far the signs of it haven't been so pronounced as he had expected.

Heart Attacks Bulletin

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Even among men who consider themselves healthy, the chances are one in five that they'll have a heart attack before their 60th birthday.

ONE OF America's most colorful battlefield commanders, the late Gen. George S. Patton Jr., also renowned for his deep knowledge of military history, never learned to read and write until he was 12.

Add the picturesque windmills of Holland to the victims of progress. They still look fine on post cards, but their task of removing excess water from the Netherlands has been taken over by electric pumps.

Here's why you need regular exercise: about half of your body weight is made up of 10 million muscle cells. Unless you flex the muscles, they weaken into flab.

A student's intelligence quotient can be affected by the outlook of his teacher. Studies by a Harvard psychologist found that teachers with positive attitudes could increase the I.Q. of students by as much as four points within a single school year. Negative-minded teacners held the students back.

NUTRITION experts believe most Americans probably eat too little in the morning and too much at night. Their recommendation: eat two-fifths of your daily caloric intake for breakfast, two-fifths at lunch, and only one-fifth during your evening meal.

Quotable notables: "My grandfather, Frank Lloyd Wright, wore a red sash on his wedding night. That is glamor!" —Actress Anne Baxter.

Safety in age: Some medical authorities question the wisdom of the mandatory rule retiring commercial pilots at 60. Tests have shown that they respond better to stress situations than younger pilots. And government studies reveal that the accident rate among nearly 10,000 licensed flyers aged 60 and over is lower than for any other age group except those in the 45-49 bracket, whose safety record is only slightly superior.

Drinking problems: Schools and colleges today need to have alcohol education programs, says the National Institute of Mental Health. It points out that 80 per cent of teenagers now drink before leaving high school, drinking is no longer taboo at many colleges, and more than half a dozen even serve beer on campus.

BOTANICAL MYTH: Did you think, as most people do, that sunflowers always turn their petals toward the sun? Well, they don't. Prevailing winds often determine the direction in which the blossom head faces.

Worth remembering: "Juvenile delinquency is the result of parents trying to train children without starting at the bottom."

History lesson: Can you identify the U.S. presidents who bore the following nicknames: "Old Fox," "Sectional President," "Veto President," and "Boss"? They were, in order, George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Grover Cleveland, and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

DISENFRANCHISED: Millions of Americans may lose their voting rights, come November, because one out of six persons in our nomadic population will have moved to another state during the year. A residence of six months to a year is required of voters by most states. In New York the period is only three months—in Mississippi it is two years.

Prosperity note: More Americans should eat high on the turkey this Thanksgiving. In 1940 the United States had 35 million turkeys, one for every four persons. This year the supply is more plentiful—about one for every two persons, theoretically allowing a drumstick for nearly everybody.

It was E.W. Howe who observed, "I think I am better than the people who are trying to reform me."

Around The Rim

She Likes School

One thing and another:

Recently, on the editorial page of your family newspaper, I read a review of an autobiography of Holmes Alexander, a writer obviously born to the wrong generation, wherein his white pony once startled him by talking to him.

Judging from what Mr. Alexander has written down through the years, I gather now only God talks to him.

MY NO. TWO daughter, who has now arrived at the ninth year in her voyage through life, remarked shortly before school started for the fall term that she would be glad when classes began.

I had been of the opinion that she was one who enjoyed the three months' respite between spring and fall semesters they refer to as "vacation time," and asked her to give her reasons.

"Because I like all those holidays we have," she replied — meaning Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's and Easter.

THOSE OF us who subscribe and practice the philosophy preached by the Greek Epicurus probably can identify with that Winston-Salem College basketball player who has offered himself to professional ranks.

His coach was asked if the boy had any weaknesses of note, to which the mentor threw up his hands and replied:

"He sure does. Three — potato chips, soda water and pickles."

THEY SAID the one thing that distinguished us from Hitler's Master Race during the great war was our sense of humor, that we retained the ability to laugh at ourselves in times of travail. May that trait long endure.

Consider then the people who recently put on display in the Naval Ordnance Station in Louisville, Ky., a seven 5-inch, 54-caliber gun — the kind used on warships.

THE BARRELS were so long they extended out into the aisle space. For that reason, red flags were hung from the muzzles to alert passers-by.

Someone was thoughtful enough to hang a sign on the end of one of the big guns which said in big, bold letters "BANG."

Roots Of Wallace Support

WASHINGTON — Just why is former Gov. Wallace of Alabama making such a good showing in the polls, as well as in various surveys by newspapers and press services, which indicate that the election may result in Nixon being first, Wallace second, and Humphrey third in electoral votes?

THE ANSWER is not difficult to obtain. For there are plenty of citizens — even including many who support Nixon — who say privately they agree with Wallace because he expresses exactly how they feel on most major issues. Wallace has won support because he speaks out plainly and unequivocally and reflects the mood of protest of millions of voters — not a majority but enough to split the whole vote into three substantial segments.

It is very unusual, for example, to find that the leaders of the AFL-CIO are worried that they cannot deliver the labor vote this time to the Democratic nominee because much of it is lined up behind Wallace. On the surface it might seem incredible that labor - union members would be siding with a candidate who certainly cannot be classed as a modern liberal. But behind it all is a widespread apprehension among workers that the federal government may use its power to coerce employers as well as labor unions into an acceptance of enforced preference of Negroes for jobs which white workers would thereby lose.

THE THEORY that the government will control employment opportunities and that labor and business groups in many cities will be pressured by the federal government into accepting unfair methods in hiring or giving promotions to Negro workers may not turn out to have as much effect on the jobs of labor-union members as has been represented to them. But they have been frightened, and word-of-mouth communication on the subject has been extensive in recent months.

There is another issue, too, which has attracted votes to Wallace. It's the belief of many families that the streets would be safe and that criminals would be relentlessly prosecuted if Wallace were at the head of the federal government.

LOTS OF the discontented voters have accepted the promises made by Wallace as far more conducive to a solution of the crime problem than what has been offered by Nixon and Humphrey. The latter two candidates are accused of dealing delicately with the subject and employing generalities in their speeches about the problem.

It may be that in the last few weeks of the campaign both Nixon and Humphrey, recognizing the trend of public opinion, will themselves begin to take a more determined stand on the issue of law and order. The phenomenon which is causing so much surprise all over the country, as Wallace's strength rises, could turn out to be more helpful to Nixon than to Humphrey.

MANY A REPUBLICAN nominee, of course, in the last 100 years has won election without carrying a single state in the South — where Wallace will undoubtedly get a large number of electoral votes this time. It is the Wallace vote in the northern and Western States which is really the crucial factor.

He's Moving Fast

Wallace Pros Sniff Victory

By JULES LOH

DALLAS (AP) — Campaign strategists for George C. Wallace, encouraged by his gains in recent nationwide polls and a gathering momentum in his third-party race, have come to believe he has a reasonable chance to win the presidency.

In the manner of political hopefuls everywhere, they have always put on the public face of a winner, not that of a spoiler; now they seem actually to believe it.

"He's moving up, and moving up fast," said one strategist. "He could win this thing in a walk." Wallace also believes he can win, and while he admits that being president "is an awesome thing to contemplate," the possibility does not dismay him.

"WHEN I WAS governor of Alabama I met Nelson Rockefeller and George Romney and some of those others who wanted to be president," he said in an interview, "and they didn't impress me as being better qualified than I."

His strategists said they intend to concentrate on 25 states with 357 electoral votes, 87 more than the 270 needed to win.

In a speech here he told 7,000 cheering Texans — who hope to deliver their state's 25 electoral votes to Wallace — that his "base" was the Southern Governor's Conference, an association of 17 states with 177 electoral votes.

IN ADDITION to Texas these include Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

The other eight states, where rousing crowds or relative ease in getting the required signatures to place his name on the ballot have given Wallace workers hope, are Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Connecticut, New Jersey and California.

These are the states Wallace will concentrate on, but, as Bill Jones, one of his top aides, said, "We're not going to slight any state — we could carry some others that might surprise you, too."

WALLACE continually points out that, with three candidates in the presidential race, he only needs 34 per cent of the popular vote in any state, a plurality, to win all its electoral votes.

Jones said Wallace's mail has doubled from its 5,000 letters-a-day average of a few weeks ago to a 10,000-a-day average, with many of the letters containing campaign contributions. Cash from all over the country is flowing into the Montgomery, Ala., headquarters at a greater rate than ever.

The entire Wallace campaign has taken on a gayer, more optimistic tone in the past two weeks than it had before the Democratic and Republican conventions. His staff seems to sense that he is not on a quixotic crusade but a legitimate quest for the presidency.

Billy Graham

I read that the Yale student body gave William Sloan Coffin a great ovation when he came to the podium during the commencement exercises to lead in prayer. Does this mean that the students there favor his complicity with Dr. Spock in helping young men avoid the draft?
D.A.E.

Not necessarily. Dr. Coffin responded to the applause on that occasion with these words: "I thank you, and I appreciate this, but you are letting your generosity exceed your judgment." This remark emphasizes the fact that there is a difference in liking a man, personally, and approving his policies or actions. The Yale students who applauded Dr. Coffin on that occasion were no doubt applauding an affable, likeable man, rather than approving his policies. They were, indeed, probably letting their generosity exceed their judgment.

I know men, for example, who are winsome personalities, but with whom I drastically disagree. I can applaud them as likeable men, but at the same time dissent with their views. Some people feel that if we detest a man's views or policies we must hate the man also. This, of course, is a judgment motivated by emotion and not reason. Jesus said, "Pray for those who despitefully use you and say all manner of evil against you." He intimated that we were to love men, even though their views were diametrically opposed to ours. In other words, as a Christian, it is possible to despise a man's philosophy, but at the same time, love the man.

What To Do About Low Blood Pressure

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: When my blood pressure was taken a week ago it was 100 over 62. The doctor claims there is no medication to raise blood pressure and that at my age (62) I am lucky it is low.

I believe it drops below 100 at times. In the morning I often experience some nausea and dizziness. I become very tired but after a short nap I seem to revive. Would appreciate your comments. — Mrs. C.G.

The 100-62 reading is in the low normal range, and while it may, as you say, cause some difficulties, your doctor is right in what he told you. There are vastly more people your age who are worried (with good reason) about high blood pressure than who merely have to cope with low blood pressure.

I also concur that it is not easy to raise blood pressure. Low pressures for the most part seem to be part of the individual's constitutional make-up.

As to your specific problems, it is quite usual for the blood pressure to go a bit lower during a night's sleep. Therefore don't try to hop out of bed too quickly. Sit on the edge of the bed for a minute or so, feet on the floor, moving your arms about (as in scratching your head or stretching). That will allow your pressure to adjust a bit higher, and you will have less tendency to nausea or giddiness.

During the day, as you know from experience, a short nap, or even lying down or sitting down to rest, will counterbalance your weariness. Best you learn to follow such a pattern.

In some instances low pressure accompanies such disorders as anemia, low thyroid activity, adrenal insufficiency. Such conditions, however, should cause symptoms other than just the low pressure.

Dear Dr. Molner: After a checkup the gynecologist told me my uterus was backwards. To me this sounded serious but he brushed it off like it was an every-day thing. Is this normal for many women? Will I encounter difficulty in having children? — Mrs. J.C.

The uterus isn't exactly "backwards." It normally tilts forward, but in about 15 per cent of women there is a backward tilt, called retroversion of the uterus.

It is not a serious situation, ordinarily requires no treatment. If the tilt is extreme enough to cause symptoms of any kind, the uterus can be tilted forward surgically. Only rarely is it a cause of infertility; if you become pregnant you should have no difficulty.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

The Really Interesting Ones

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The national capital, like every other city, is more populated with nonentities than celebrities, and I wonder why we only write about this minority group. I never met anybody who wasn't worth a story.

I sometimes pass a man, name unknown, with whom I used to ride the B&O commuter trains. He is thin and bent, shabby and unshorn, but I know he has a profitable business in patent law, a lucrative specialty in this town.

THIS MAN ALWAYS walked the two miles between Union Station and his office, and the three miles between Baltimore's Mount Royal Station and his home. After several years of commuting in silence, I ventured to ask him why he always walked, fair weather and foul.

He gave me a none-of-your-business reply, "People say I'm wrong in the head, but there's nothing wrong with my feet." I suppose he regretted the rudeness, for afterwards he let me know that his doctor had told him he had an incurable circulatory disease in his lower limbs. "That was in 1925," he added.

ANOTHER MAN, name forgotten, was a lobbyist for the bakery industry, and years ago I broke a story of how his employers had artificially inflated the price of bread. He received scores of abusive letters because of my yarn. The correspondents called him "pig," a cheater of the poor and much worse. He wasn't at all the lobbyist-type that you see pictured in cartoons and that you read about in angry editorials. He was small, shy, sensitive, and I was sorry when I heard about the vituperation I'd caused. I decided to tell him so the next time we met. When I didn't see him around the usual places for a while, I began to worry that I'd cost him his job, so I asked a friend of his who told me the lobbyist had sat down in a chair and died of heart failure. It's one story I wish had got lost in the mail.

ONE DAY IN rush hour I raced for a taxi but somebody beat me to it. I turned away but an instant later noticed that the cab was still vacant so I got in. "What happened to your other passenger?" I asked. "As soon as he saw I was colored, he got out," the hacker said. I thought it might make a story so I asked around. Yes, there were a number of white persons who refused to give a Negro any business.

Then, this morning at breakfast I heard a white reporter say that he'd entered a cab and was told to get out. "What's the matter?" he asked the driver. "I can't take you," the Negro driver said. "I won't haul any honkies."

A WRITER I know never made much money, but that seemed not to bother him. Money was a burden, he added. It was the curse of the creative classes. He was glad he'd never acquired wealth, he contended, because its possession would cause him to lose the discipline of competition, and cause him to lose the will to write.

Last spring he inherited a small fortune, the income of which was more than he earned. He'd always been robust, but now he turned nervous and went in for a physical examination. The doctor told him he was working too hard and asked him why he did so since he no longer had to. The man reverted to his favorite subject, Money was a curse, he said. He felt impelled to work harder than ever to prove that the wealth hadn't spoiled him.

A MAN WITH whom I share a luncheon table several times a week suggested another story about money. He used to be a law clerk under John W. Davis when Davis was solicitor general under President Wilson.

I knew Mr. Davis, for he was the first citizen of Clarksburg, W. Va., when I lived there as a boy, and I was surprised to hear that he had once turned down an appointment to the Supreme Court. To double-check on this I got some aid from the Library of Congress and matched it up with some Davis material in my own library. The law clerk was quite right, but the story had a twist to it.

Davis was Ambassador to Great Britain, 1918-1921, and when he returned was offered a Supreme Court appointment, but he was stone broke, and had to decline. He went to Wall Street, became a corporation lawyer, with such clients as J. P. Morgan and the Standard Oil Company.

IN THE 1939'S Davis again was offered a Supreme Court appointment, and once more he declined, this time because he'd lost the desire to be anything except a big-fee lawyer. And yet it wasn't the money he cared for. Davis lived simply. It was the small-town lawyer's satisfaction and excitement at being a big-city success.

Turning The Tables

Gerald Pulver, 11, is surrounded by a group of New York's East Village hippies yesterday at 181st Street and Union Turnpike in the Queens borough of New York.

Hippies Book Bus To Study Squares

NEW YORK (AP) — Tired of being gawked at by camera-toting tourists from the wilds of suburbia, a group of hippies from the Lower East Side turned the tables Sunday.

They took their own tour and stared at the suburbanites.

About 50 hippies, clad in their best beads and bells, paid $5 each, then boarded a bus at St. Mark's Place, in the heart of the East Village, and set off for a day in Queens, a predominantly middle class borough of New York City.

TURNED ON

The tour was the brainchild of Joe Skaggs, 23, an artist, who described the expedition as "a put-on of middle class values .... a sort of cultural exchange."

The turned-on tourists got glimpses of such nonhippie strongholds as housing developments, bowling alleys, neatly manicured lawns and other middle class symbols which many of the hippies left behind when they fled to the Village.

Included in the tour were several stops. During one of them —at a restaurant for ice cream —eight "straight" patrons fled through a side door when the hippies walked in.

Other Queens residents greeted the expedition with a mixture of surprise, skepticism and amusement.

INVASION?

"We're being invaded," cried one housewife, as the hippies de-bussed near her house. "It must be some kind of underground movie stunt," added her husband.

During a stop in Jamaica Estates, the hippies wandered around, snapping pictures of suburbanites watering their lawns and reading the Sunday papers.

"Hey what do you do at night around here?" one of the tour group asked a woman.

"Not much," she said. "We go to sleep early."

The tour ended with a happening in the Nirvana Headshop—a touch of hippiedom in Hillside, Queens—where four men and three women danced, nude, while an artist painted their bodies.

Bob Lake, who usually runs regular bus tours around Manhattan, acted as tour guide.

Comedian Picked

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedian Jim Backus will open Tuesday in the play "Captain Brassbound's Conversion" in place of actor Paul Ford, who collapsed during a preview performance.

Ford, 66, was ordered Saturday by his doctor to leave the play for at least two weeks.

Mom Gunned At Bus Stop

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Lonnie Moore Jr., 45, remained in county jail today without bond after arraignment Sunday on a charge of murder in the bus-stop shooting death of his estranged wife.

Heeding a state request, Justice of the Peace Jim Boorman refused to set bond for the accused man in an arraignment Sunday.

Percy Foreman, famed defense attorney from Houston who is representing Moore, said he would seek a habeas corpus writ if bond is not made quickly.

Police arrested Moore Saturday in Decatur after a high speed chase following Mrs. Moore's death.

The 31-year-old mother was shot and killed by a gunman in a passing car as she waited at a Fort Worth bus stop. Her 11-year-old daughter and a Tarrant County court-at-law judge, Drew Clifton, witnessed the shooting.

Last July a Tarrant County grand jury failed to indict Moore after his wife was stabbed. They reconciled at the time, but later separated and Moore had hired Foreman to handle a divorce.

Red Danny Nabbed

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Daniel Cohn-Bendit, who as Danny the Red was a leader in the French student rioting, was arrested Sunday as he led a demonstration.

Cohn-Bendit was seized as he tried to enter St. Paul's Church where President Leopold Senghor of Senegal was receiving a peace prize awarded by the German book trade. About 3,000 demonstrators chanted protests against award of the prize to Senghor, calling him a "murderer of students" and an oppressor in his country.

Tovar Takes Grand Tour

By The Associated Press

Cesar Tovar took the grand tour of Minnesota's Metropolitan Stadium . . . position-by-position.

And for a tantalizing few innings, it looked like the Twins' chief handyman might own a tiny piece of a no-hitter as well as the distinction of being only the second man in major league history to play all nine positions in a single game.

But Oakland eventually managed three hits against young Tom Hall, who relieved in the second inning Sunday after Tovar started his tour by pitching a hitless first inning.

Tovar moved behind the plate in the second and around the infield and outfield inning by inning as the Twins nipped the A's 2-1.

In other American League action Sunday, Baltimore shut out Chicago 3-0, Washington blanked Detroit 6-0, Boston tripped New York 5-1 and Cleveland squeezed by California 2-1.

Tovar scored Minnesota's first run in the third when he singled and scored on Bob Allison's triple. Rod Carew drove in the Twins' other run with a fifth inning single.

Dave McNally scattered eight hits and became the winningest pitcher in modern Baltimore history by shutting out Chicago 3-0. McNally, 21-10 for the season, is 13-2 since the All Star break.

Chicago's Wilbur Wood tied a major league record with his 84th appearance of the year. Ted Abernathy, then with the Chicago Cubs, established the mark in 1965.

Archer-Nichols Team Win By Two Strokes

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — "It beats packing bags," said a beaming George Archer, who along with Bobby Nichols had just fired a blistering seven-under-par 65 Sunday to win the PGA team championship by two strokes.

Archer and Nichols divided the top prize of $40,000 in the best-ball tourney, which had a total purse of $200,000.

Nichols announced Sunday he would participate in no more tourneys this year.

"Stick a fork in me," he said, "I'm done. This is a good way to end the year."

The two veteran partners toured the rough 7,173-yard par-72 Quail Creek Country Club course in a 22-under-par 265 to win the tourney.

They bogeyed only one hole, the 12th hole at Twin Hills Country Club across town, where players put in one round.

They both three-putted that hole.

Rives McBee and Monty Kaser shot a three-under-par 69 Sunday to win second place and $24,000 in the tournament, two strokes behind Nichols and Archer.

Tom Weiskopf and R. H. Sikes also had a 69 Sunday for a tournament total of 268, good enough for third place and a cash prize of $15,000.

Nichols was red hot Sunday, as he birdied the first three holes and saved a par on the 18th to pull the team from a third-place tie after 54 holes to the championship.

McBee and Kaser held the lead after 54 holes with Dale Douglass and Hale Irwin at 198, 17-under-par.

McBee and Kaser ended the tournament at 20-under-par 267, while Douglass and Irwin remained at even par Sunday for 17 under and a sixth-place tournament finish.

The teams of Sam Snead and Gardner Dickinson and Tommy Aaron and Charles Coody finished with an 18-under-par 269 for fourth place.

Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, the defending champions, finished with a 68 for a 273 and a five-way tie for 15th place. Dave and Mike Hill, the pacesetters for the first 54 holes, wound up in a three-way tie for 12th place with 272.

Vikings Grab Momentum To Dump Packers, 26-13

By The Associated Press

Give the Minnesota Vikings two inches and they'll take 74 yards—and the Green Bay Packers.

The Packers got a taste of such ingratitude Sunday when the improving Vikings used those inches to spring the biggest upset of the young National Football League season by upending the world champions 26-13.

The Vikings decided they'd like those two inches in the third quarter after Green Bay had scored and cut Minnesota's lead to 16-6. The Packers, their momentum growing, had Minnesota stopped, fourth down and two inches needed for a first down on the Vikings' 26 yard line.

But Coach Bud Grant decided to try for it and quarterback Joe Kapp crept two inches for a first down, and then drove Minnesota 74 yards for the back-breaking touchdown.

In more minor surprises, the Detroit Lions, bouncing back after being shellacked 59-13 by Dallas last week, turned on the favored Chicago Bears 42-0, and the New Orleans Saints piled past the Washington Redskins 37-17.

Baltimore subdued Atlanta 28-20, Los Angeles leveled Pittsburgh 45-10, and Dallas squashed Cleveland 28-7 as the other NFL powerhouses rolled on. In other games, San Francisco beat St. Louis 35-17 and the New York Giants outlasted Philadelphia 34-25.

Cards Show Scouts Little

By The Associated Press

Detroit's World Series dossier on the St. Louis Cardinals might be a trifle thin today . . . through no fault of the Tiger scouts.

For the past week the National League champs have shown the Bird-dogs practically nothing.

Los Angeles' late-streaking Dodgers beat St. Louis ace Bob Gibson 3-2 Sunday, completing a three-game sweep of the Cardinals for a 15-4 mark over the last three weeks.

The Cards have won one of six starts since they locked up the flag at Houston one week ago. The victory was Ray Washburn's no-hit gem at San Francisco . . . the day after the Giants' Gaylord Perry nipped Gibson 1-0 with a no-hitter.

Sunday's loss killed the Cards' last hope for a 100-victory season. They're 94-63 with five games remaining.

Second place San Francisco belted Atlanta 10-2, Pittsburgh trimmed the Chicago Cubs 5-1, Houston topped Cincinnati 6-1 and the New York Mets downed Philadelphia 5-2 in other NL games.

Right-hander Don Sutton blanked the Cardinals on one hit until the eighth inning, when he balked home the second of two St. Louis runs for a 2-2 deadlock.

Four Rated Squads Fall

By The Associated Press

A full-scale reshuffling was likely in the Class AAAA schoolboy football top 10 today, after four rated teams fell during the second weekend of Texas high school football.

Abilene Cooper's No. 2 ranking was in jeopardy after dropping a 6-0 decision to Odessa Permian. It was a comeback victory for the 10th-ranked Odessans, who lost to Amarillo Tascosa in their opener.

Tascosa, the top-ranked Class AAAA team in the Dallas Morning News schoolboy poll, had more trouble than expected in downing Borger 14-0.

Third ranked Pasadena lost 7-6 to unrated Galena Park. South Houston scored a 21-7 victory over Houston Jones, tied for fifth with Galveston Ball and Brazosport blanked ninth-ranked Spring Branch Memorial, 14-0.

The top ranked teams in the other classifications also protected their title hopes. Class AAA leader Perryton scored a 38-9 victory over Woodward, Okla.; Class AA's top ranked Iowa Park smeared Decatur, 31-7; and Poth in Class A downed Shiner 23-12.

Perryton and Iowa Park are stepping up a notch in classification for competition this week. Perryton takes on Pampa, a Class AAAA team, and Iowa Park plays Wichita Falls Hirchi of Class AAA. Dumas is at Tascosa and Poth travels to Judson.

Boston Draws Double Disappointment

By The Associated Press

The Boston Patriots had their home opener in Birmingham, Ala., the Patriots looking for sole control of the top spot in the Eastern Division and Birmingham looking for a franchise in the American Football League.

The Patriots suffered a complete disappointment and Birmingham at least a mild one. Boston is having difficulty finding a suitable playing site, and the game was billed as a test to see how the AFL would draw in Birmingham.

A crowd of 29,129 turned out at Legion Field, which seats about 70,000, Sunday to watch the New York Jets and Boston, sharing the lead in the East with 1-0 records.

New York won it 47-31 on Joe Namath's passing and an alert defense, the Jets taking sole possession of the No. 1 position.

Cincinnati beat Buffalo 34-23 and Kansas City whipped Denver 34-2 in the other Sunday games. San Diego topped Houston 20-14 and Oakland stopped Miami 47-21 Saturday night.

The heavily favored Chiefs couldn't get started against Denver, managed only a 6-2 halftime lead and coach Hank Stram made some changes.

He sent in second-string quarterback Jackie Lee, who hit on seven of eight passes for 99 yards and two touchdowns, and third string running back Robert Holmes, who scored twice on runs of 17 and six yards as the Chiefs made a rout of it.

Toy Cannon Hits 2 More

HOUSTON (AP) — Fans of left fielder Jim Wynn of the Houston Astros call him "Toy Cannon" and for good reason.

Wynn exploded for two homers Sunday as Houston defeated the Cincinnati Reds 6-1 in the Astrodome.

"I'm expected to hit home runs," said Wynn after his 24th and 25th of the season. "I let myself down if I don't hit them."

Wynn got his first homer in the sixth off starter Gerry Arrigo. The 5-foot-9, 165-pound slugger then smashed the ball over 420 feet in the seventh, sending home Hector Torres.

Statistics Compare Well With Foes

If all things were equal, Big Spring Steers statistics add up to good comparison against competitors, but with two games lost in a row, it's not equal.

In the case of the Steers, the column that's most out of balance is in fumbles lost, with Big Spring giving up 10 to their opponents' four. Other than that, the Steers are almost on an even keel with the competition.

The Steers lead in first downs over the two games, and are behind in total yardage gained by only 114 yards. Rushing yardage for the Steers is 354 to 424 for foes, and passing is 207 yards with 15 completions in 45 attempts. Big Spring opponents have gained 251 yards with 10 completions in 30 tries.

Big Spring also leads in pass interceptions, 4-3, and in punting, with nine boots for a 38.1 average, compared to their opponents' 10 for a 28.1 average.

It's the fumbles lost that puts the Steers way out on the range, however.

Roy Lee Warren leads in total yardage gained with 190 in 41 carries for a 4.6 average, while Rocky Wooley has 101 yards in 31 carries.

Gary Hinds tops Steer passing with 114 yards on 17 attempts and five receptions for two touchdowns. Snake Tucker leads in receptions with three catches for 65 yards and on touchdowns.

ACKERLY — The Loraine Bulldogs scored four touchdowns after the half time intermission to defeat the Sands Mustangs, 37-16, in the Ponies' annual Homecoming game here Saturday night.

The outcome evened both teams' record at 1-1. Sands returns to play next Friday in Forsan.

Stanley Hackfield counted four times in the final two periods for Loraine on runs of 50, 35, 10 and 15 yards. Quarterback Tim Hamilton kicked the PAT after each of Hackfield's TD's.

Sands made it close as Ned's hatband during the first two quarters and led at one time, 16-6. Injuries hurt the Ponies as the game wore on, however.

Kynn Maxwell counted Sands first touchdown on a two-yard plunge in the opening period. Quarterback Steve Herm passed to Ron Taylor for the two extra points.

Terry Brewer put Loraine back in contention on the ensuing kickoff when he ran 50 yards to pay dirt. Loraine failed to convert, however.

In the second, Lance Hopper passed five yards to Taylor for Sands' second touchdown. Maxwell carried the ball in for the two extra points.

Hamilton kicked a field goal for Loraine before the second period ended.

Jim Fryar made 10 tackles, Maxwell nine and Hopper seven for Sands. Maxwell led his team's ground gainers with 44 yards net.

Texas Loop Near Halfway Mark

By The Associated Press

The Texas Football League race pushes to the half-way mark this week with San Antonio and Texarkana leading the respective divisions but with Fort Worth figuring strongly in championship calculations.

The Braves, losers only to San Antonio and tightly in second place of the Western Division when they clash with Texarkana.

Texarkana leads the Eastern Division by two full games over Tulsa.

Fort Worth was idle and only three games were played over the weekend but in one of them San Antonio found Dallas tough. The Toros used the toe of Jerry Moritz to pull it out.

Each team got three touchdowns and Johnny Antonisse kicked a 21-yard field goal for Dallas while Moritz booted two for San Antonio and the Toros won 27-23 to remain undefeated.

Russell To Sign Richest Contract

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Russell, a 12-year National Basketball Association veteran, is ready to sign one of the richest contracts in NBA history to continue as player-coach of the Boston Celtics for another couple of years.

A source told The Associated Press Sunday night that Russell has agreed to terms in a two-year contract calling for slightly more than $200,000 a season.

Although a club spokesman said he had no knowledge of the signing, there was speculation the announcement might be made at a noon luncheon for Russell and his teammates.

The agreement, which reportedly includes salary and fringe benefits, was worked out by Celtics' General Manager Red Auerbach and Russell's attorney, Morris Krisner of Boston, during the past few weeks.

Kathy Closes In On Cash

KINGSBURG, Calif. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth of Dallas is closing in on Carol Mann—financially.

Miss Whitworth shot a final round 69 Sunday and finished 10 strokes ahead of second place Sandra Haynie in the $15,000 Kings River Open Golf Tournament. And she won $2,071 more than Miss Mann.

Her 54-hole score of 208 was 20 shots better than Miss Mann, the leading money-winner on the ladies tour with $47,381. But Miss Whitworth is in second and driving.

After winning $2,250 Sunday, Miss Whitworth had rung up $46,144 and she could surpass Miss Mann with a victory in the Fallbrook, Calif., Open next weekend.

Miss Whitworth went into the final round of the Kings River tourney with a seven-stroke lead and built it to eight after a cautious front nine.

"You never know," she said. "Sometimes even a seven-stroke lead isn't enough.

"But after nine holes, when I realized I was still far ahead, I went for broke and tried to break 70," she added.

Miss Haynie, of Fort Worth, Tex., wound up at 218 and at 220 were Candy Phillips of Tampa, Fla., and Marilynn Smith, Runaway Bay, Jamaica.

Good For 20 Yards

Dallas Cowboys halfback Dan Reeves (30) cuts past Cleveland Browns linebacker Bob Matheson (56) to gain 20 yards and a first down during second half action of Sunday's game in Dallas. The Cowboys beat the Browns 28-7.

Townes Gives Cowboys Impetus To Win, 28-7

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Massive Willie Townes, the 260-pound defensive end of the Dallas Cowboys, believes he has stopped forever jokes about his ability to run with the football.

Townes rumbled 20 yards with a fumble by Cleveland quarterback Frank Ryan Sunday to give Dallas the impetus for a 28-7 National Football League victory.

"I intended to score no matter what," said Townes. "They've been ribbing me since the Baltimore game last year about being the only man ever tackled by (quarterback) Johnny Unitas. I had to stop that stuff."

Townes plucked the ball off the ground after Bob Lilly had smashed into Ryan. Then linebacker Chuck Howley applied a crunching block to clear Townes who staggered into the end zone.

"The same thing happened last year against Baltimore and Unitas made the tackle—probably the only tackle he's made in 12 years. You think I didn't hear about that?"

Townes' first professional touchdown gave Dallas a 14-0 lead late in the second quarter. Only moments later Ryan hit Paul Warfield with a 55-yard bomb to narrow the score 14-7 at halftime.

Townes said "It came when we needed it. I knew I was going in after Howley threw that great block around the 10. I dove the last couple of yards to make sure I got in. Man, I wanted this one bad.

"That not only got us a touchdown, but it also let the defense rest. We were pretty fresh in the fourth quarter."

Ryan said "I was trying to throw the ball and I thought it was just an incomplete pass. However, it's a judgment call and it's just one of those things."

Dallas stuck mostly to the ground with Dan Reeves scoring twice on touchdown runs of four and one yards. Craig Baynham punched across from the two yard line for the other Cowboy touchdown.

The Cowboys rolled up 203 yards on the ground and held Cleveland to but 87.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry said "We stopped them outside, that's where they hurt you. Offensively, we just ran at them."

Quarterback Don Meredith of Dallas, who completed 10 of 17 passes for 156 yards, said the Cowboy offensive line deserved a lot of credit.

"The way they were moving people out we could afford to stay on the ground. We didn't have to pass."

The game left Dallas (2-0) tied with New York for the lead in the Capitol Division. The Century Division Browns are 1-1.

Paving Pact Award Listed On Agenda

Big Spring City Commissioners are expected to award a $262,090.11 street paving contract and set the time for public hearings for the paving assessment program at their meeting Tuesday night. W. D. Caldwell, Inc., of Big Spring was the apparent low bidder for the job.

Sixty-five city blocks are to be paved along with curb and gutter installation under the contract.

The public hearing will be held for property owners, affected by the paving program, to be heard before assessments are levied.

In other action the commission will hear a plea to change the property located on the northeast corner of Nolan and Eleventh Place from two-family-residence zoning to multiple-family zoning.

The commission will also consider appointments to the planning and zoning board, parks and recreation board, traffic commission and zoning board of adjustment. It will hear a complaint from George Rice concerning the parking of a garbage truck.

Local Vandals Remain Busy

Big Spring police investigated a rash of vandalism Sunday.

Francis Cormier, 618 Goliad, reported mud smeared on her car.

J. R. Farmer, 114 Cedar, had his car antenna broken and pellet damage to his windshield.

S. L. Simmons, 2402 Morrison, reported that something had been poured on his pickup that stained the paint.

Some electrical switches were turned off at the Ponderosa Motor Inn.

Lou Ann Mauldin, 204 W. 12th, reported her house burglarized with dishes broken and tables overturned. She also reported a radio taken.

Roger Hielsburg, Webb AFB, had a tape player, tapes and a tachometer taken from his car while it was parked in the Ritz Theater parking lot.

Surfers Paddle Pilot To Shore

SALISBURY, Mass. (AP) — The pilot of a downed plane was rescued by surfers Sunday.

Police said Paul Lamson, 44, of Hampton, N.H., ditched his disabled single engine plane in the Atlantic about 900 feet from shore to avoid hitting persons in a crowded beach area.

He clung to the wing of the craft until it began to sink, then attempted to swim to shore.

Lee Knapp, 17, a senior at Amesbury High School, and another unidentified surfer, paddled out on their boards to Lamson and supported him between them while they paddled to shore, police said.

Lamson was treated for facial cuts and a broken nose at the Exeter, N.H., hospital and released.

Four Fresh Tube Series Won't Set World On Fire

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Four television series made their debuts over the weekend. None, unhappily, seems destined to set the TV world on fire.

They were NBC's "The Name of the Game" on Friday, "Adam 12" and "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir" on Saturday and ABC's "Land of the Giants" on Sunday night.

"The Name of the Game" is an outsize action series built around a magazine publishing empire—that's the excuse to have reporters and editors making like private eyes.

STRETCHED

The first show starred Tony Franciosa, who played a star reporter stumbling into a homicide which led him to an international spy case. The action was larded with pseudo-sophisticated dialogue that didn't come off as smartly as it was supposed to. The thin story was stretched almost to the snapping point to fill the 90 minutes.

"Adam 12" carried the unmistakable brand marks of "Dragnet" in its first show—logically since Jack Webb of "Dragnet" is producing the new police series. This time, the viewer finds what it's like to ride a patrol car in Los Angeles.

In one hectic night on the job, the two officers—Martin Milner as the veteran cop and Kent McCord as the rookie—chased a pair of holdup men until they caught them in a flaming car crash, revived a suffocating baby and rounded up a gang of young thugs who were shooting up a neighborhood.

FANTASY

"The Ghost and Mrs. Muir" is comedy that depends on the viewer's acceptance of labored fantasy if the humor is to work at all.

This series has Hope Lange, playing a widow with two children, moving into a seaside house built generations before by a sea captain. The sea captain, played by Edward Mulhare, is a lively 100-year-old ghost, full of pranks like tossing buckets of water at people, and constantly appearing and disappearing. It all seemed pretty strained.

"Land of Giants" takes place in 1983 when passengers and crew of a plane are pulled onto a distant planet where everything is 12 times the size of earth's flora and fauna, including its people.

'THE OUTCASTS'

The earth people had one horrendous experience after another: their plane was rocked by a curious giant housecat; two were captured by a scientist who strapped them to his desk with mending tape for further study, and finally the whole party took refuge in a giant drain pipe.

CBS's contribution to the weekend's entertainment was an hour-long piano recital by Vladimir Horowitz. The program, uninterrupted by commercials, showed the pianist playing to a crowded Carnegie Hall.

His choice of music included Chopin, Schumann Bizet and Scarlatti, and the cameras focused most of the time on his face and his fingers. There was no commentary—everything was concentrated on the musician's magic.

Recommended tonight: "Here's Lucy," CBS, 8:30-9 EDT, Lucille Ball returns with a new title and new format for her show; "The Outcasts," ABC, premiere, 9-10, Don Murray and Otia Young as a former Confederate officer and an ex-slave in the Old West; "Mayberry R. F. D.," CBS, 9-9:30, with Andy Griffith bowing out of his series and Ken Berry bowing in.

Police Jail Church Mob

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Antiwar demonstrators invaded a Roman Catholic church while Mass was being celebrated Sunday. Eight were taken into custody by police after the church rector was pushed to the sanctuary floor.

Msgr. James E. Kelly, rector of St. John's Cathedral, called the incident "blasphemy—close to sacrilege and bordering on desecration of the church."

About 40 demonstrators, some of them school teachers and many of them students at Roman Catholic Marquette University, had gathered at the church. They asked permission to read a statement from the pulpit urging the church to "actively resist war and racism."

Kelly, 73, said he was pushed to the floor by a bearded youth. Five policemen, called to the church by reports there would be a demonstration, moved into the sanctuary as worshipers stood and shouted for the protesters to leave.

The Rev. Peter Moch, celebrant of the Mass, canceled the remaining portion of the service after a few demonstrators crowded around the pulpit.

Part of the congregation at yesterday's 12:30 p.m. mass in St. Matthews Roman Catholic Cathedral, walks out as Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle reads his pastoral letter urging priests and laity to accept his ruling forbidding the use of artificial birth control devices. Many of those who walked out returned for the balance of the mass. Cardinal O'Boyle is at the left side of the altar in the background.

Fuss Over Birth Controls Growing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bitter dispute within the Washington Roman Catholic archdiocese has intensified in the wake of an unprecedented walkout protest against Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle, archbishop of the diocese.

About 200 persons walked out of St. Matthew's cathedral during masses Sunday as the cardinal rose to urge obedience to Pope Paul VI's latest edict banning use of artificial birth controls.

The cardinal, who has been challenged on his interpretation of the Pope's encyclical by 44 area priests, had ordered a pastoral letter criticizing the dissenters read in all Roman Catholic churches in his jurisdiction.

Cardinal O'Boyle himself read the letter at three masses at St. Matthew's, and watched without apparent emotion as the people walked from the crowded cathedral. Most returned after he finished reading the message.

It was estimated that at least another 200 persons left other churches when the letter was read.

The protest had been urged by two lay organizations supporting the dissident priest.

The cardinal said after the services that it was the first time he had encountered such a protest in his 20 years as archbishop of Washington. "It is a very emotional matter," he said. Other church officials said it was probably the first time parishioners had taken such action in any Catholic church.

CURSE

The dispute arose following issuance of the Pope's edict July 29 prohibiting the use of all forms of artificial contraceptive devices, leaving only the rhythm method acceptable for Catholics.
