

County Spellers Compete in Bee Thurs. Morning

The best spellers in Collingsworth county will put their skill on the line Thursday, April 2, in the annual Spelling Bee. B. W. Beard, director, reminded this week. It will be held in the county courtroom beginning at 10 a.m.

Although the school winners have not been announced, it is believed that all four schools will participate in the county Bee.

There will be two divisions, according to Mrs. Harold Scott, deputy superintendent. The senior event is for children 14 years of age and over, and the winner will participate in the District Spelling Bee in Amarillo Saturday, May 2.

It is the champion of this event who will receive a trip to the National Spelling Bee in the nation's capital.

The winner of the junior event will receive a trip to Amarillo, but does not compete there.

Miss Hattie D. Wells, former English teacher in Wellington high school, will pronounce the words. The judges will be Mrs. L. E. Ward, John Coleman and John Forbis.

The Spelling Bee is open to the public and all those interested are urged to attend.

Demo Women Hear District Committeewoman

Miss Claudia Brummett, committeewoman from the 31st Senatorial District, League of Democratic Women, was speaker at a meeting of the Collingsworth county league Saturday, March 28.

The intense security measures now being taken to guard the President were described by Miss Brummett, as was her visit to the White House.

Mrs. John Coleman presided at the Saturday meeting and Mrs. Edd Henard introduced the speaker.

Dodson HS Slates Comedy for April 10

Dodson high school will present a three-act comedy, "Just Ducky," Friday, April 10 in the school auditorium. Curtain time is 7:45 p.m.

The fast-moving, laugh-packed play poses the question: What makes teen-age girls do the things they do? and the problem, "What should be done about them?"

Betty Lou Maxwell, played by Shirley Motesbocker, and Bernadine Smith, by Linda Ford, are a couple of questions and problems rolled into two—especially when Papa Maxwell (Larry Ellis) has been chosen new head of the citizen's committee because he is one of the finest and most upstanding men of the community.

But that is the day the girls write a letter to the local love-lorn column—and it was a sender! It brought a reporter, played by Mike Gulley, and the chairman of the citizens committee (Dale Derrick) to call on Betty's father.

The girls, believing one is a marshal—they are not sure what kind—fake insanity, little brother Wilbur (Cody Crosnoe) helps the plot along, and from then on the play is a complete free-for-all, with the trimmings added.

"It's a farce-comedy that is all new—all different, and all characters have many, many funny situations" the sponsors say.

In addition to the roles above the cast includes Mrs. Maxwell (also head of the house), played by Linda Watson; Hercules, Wilbur's bosom friend, Bobby Tabor; Connie Maxwell, another daughter, Mary Buch-

Wellington-Quail

Work Starts April 1 in Cancer Crusade

Solicitation in the county-wide Cancer Crusade got under way Wednesday, April 1, under the direction of Billy Moseley, chairman.

Seven women have been named to head the work in Wellington. Working in the residential areas are Mrs. Harold Watkins, Mrs. Byron Duncan, Mrs. Truman Estes, Mrs. Gorman Owens and Mrs. C. T. Hubbard.

Working the outlying area around Wellington are Mrs. Horace Holliman and Mrs. G. L. Jones.

The Young Farmers Chapter took over solicitation in the Quail area.

Moseley said that Cancer Crusade officials will meet with representatives from Samnorwood and Dodson Saturday, April 4 to work out plans for the crusade in those communities.

There is no quota, but the Collingsworth Crusade goal is set as "the most we've ever given."

The survival rate in cancer is one in three, Moseley pointed out.

"In the early 1900's few cancer patients had any hope of cure. In the late 1930's fewer than one in five was being saved—that is, alive five years after first being treated. A few years ago one in four was being saved. Today one cancer patient in three is being saved. The gain in lives saved amounts to some 48,000 patients each year," Moseley said.

"Of every six persons who get cancer today, two will be saved and four will die. Two will be saved because of early detection and treatment; the third will die but could have been saved if the proper treatment had been received in time. The other three will die because their cancer yet cannot be controlled; only the results of research can save these patients. This means that today half of those who get cancer could and should be saved—by early diagnosis and prompt

NOW ALL TOGETHER AND OVER THE HURDLES

Over the Hurdles was something real for these four, competing in the Junior High Invitation Track Meet held here Friday, March 27, and with only a split second's time between them. From left are three Wellington students, George Leathers who placed third; Andy Bell, first, and Larry Henard, fourth. At right is Tribble of Memphis who came in second. These boys were competing in the 9th grade division of the tournament. Boys competed from Wellington, Memphis, Clarendon and Hollis.

Century Old Guns in Collection of City Man

One hundred and twenty-five years of firearms history are seen in the guns that hang on the wall in a Wellington office, part of a collection started in recent months by Jerry Nix, owner of Jerry's Studio. Among them are a pistol of the type used for dueling, a rifle with bayonet brought from England to be used in the Civil War, and another rifle of the type that rode West with the homesteaders.

Oldest of the guns is a flintlock pistol with its walnut Model Remington 6-shot cap and ball pistol.

Just over 100 years ago the Confederate government ordered guns with which to arm its soldiers. The Nix gun is an 1862 Tower cap and ball rifle stock and beautifully engraved brass fitting. There is no model number to indicate its age but this type pistol was not made after 1840. It is of a type handmade in Belgium and France.

More than a hundred years old is another piece which Nix acquired from Les White only last week. It is an 1860 "New with a bayonet.

Next oldest is the 1873 Springfield "trap door" rifle, so called from the way the chamber opens.

"I used a .45-70 cartridge, and I believe it was the first issue cartridge gun of the United States Army. It was used until about 1890," Nix says.

These guns are collectors' items. Although not considered scarce, they are seldom seen in this part of the country except in museums or private collections.

Nix is learning about his hobby as he goes along, he admits.

A good rule of thumb is that any gun made before 1900 can be considered an antique, and any cap and ball gun is a collectors' item.

ANTIQUE GUNS

These guns are owned by a young Wellington collector, Jerry Nix, and two of the three are more than 100 years old. At top is an English-made rifle ordered by the Confederacy during the Civil War, while at center is a Springfield Rifle first used in 1783. The cap and ball pistol below was made prior to 1840, probably in France or Belgium.

There will be two divisions: seniors, who are 14 years old before Jan. 1 of this year, and

O. H. Tinney Dies in Okla.

Olan H. Tinney, Sulphur, Oklahoma dairy farmer, died of a heart attack Wednesday, the junior group. Two senior and two junior contestants will compete in the district contest at Canyon Saturday, April 25.

There will be four food groups featured in the show: milk and cheese; meat, fish and eggs; bread and cereals; and fruits and vegetables.

Only senior winners in the district contest will be eligible to compete in the state contest at the 4-H Roundup in June.

March 18 at the age of 56.

A resident here for a number of years, he moved to Ryan, Okla., about 1940 and later to Sulphur.

He was married to the former Adelle Rudy.

Funeral services were conducted at Central Baptist Church March 21 and burial was in Drake cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, a son, Kenneth, 16, and two sisters. Relatives going from here were Mrs. O. B. Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bradley of Samnorwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Rudy and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Slay and son, Joel, joined other members of his family for a week end visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Temple Slay in Amarillo.

Supper Honors Norwood Junior Cage Teams

Parents of the Samnorwood junior high basketball teams honored the boys and girls with a supper in the school cafeteria Saturday, March 21.

Loyd Stephens, boys' coach, praised the youths for their hard work and good sportsmanship. Reminding them of the bleak outlook at the beginning of the season, he pointed out that by putting everything they had into play, they came out of the season with three first place trophies.

Orville Cunningham, girls

coach, then praised the girls for their good work and for winning two first place trophies and one consolation trophy.

Billy Purkey was master of ceremonies; Karon Cunningham gave the invocation and Betty Coleman the benediction.

Karen Waters was presented in two piano numbers and three Beatles records were pantomimed by Doug Darrow, Gary Oldham, Melvin Kincannon and Eugene Glazner.

Fifty-two attended the supper.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Carter during Easter were their daughter, Andrea, student at West Texas State University at Canyon, and John H. Woods Jr. of Pine Bluff, Ark.

Langdon Seeks Post of Railroad Commissioner

AUSTIN.—Texas crude oil currently is selling for more dollars than any year since the Suez crisis in 1957, Railroad Commissioner Jim Langdon reports.

Langdon said this should be welcome news to the people of Texas because the Texas oil and gas dollar pays for 42% of the state's cost of public education, and almost 60% of the state's cost of teacher retirement, old-age assistance, blind assistance, and aid to dependent children.

He stated that oil production is up 8% over the previous year, and "an even more encouraging jump" is expected for 1964.

Langdon said the fact that the Texas petroleum industry was in such a healthy state after more than half a century of intensive development could be laid to two factors: (1) There was a lot of oil to begin with; and (2) it has not been wasted promiscuously.

Critics of the way the Railroad Commission has regulated the oil and gas industries disregard the Commissioners' duty to guard the public interest. When they talked about allowables and production, they ignored the fact that natural gas has in recent years become an important energy source replacing to some extent oil; and that Texas was more dominant in gas production than in crude oil production.

Langdon is the newest member of the Railroad Commission, having been appointed last spring. Now he is seeking the voters' approval to serve the remaining four years of a six-year term. He resigned as chief justice of the El Paso Court of

Before moving to El Paso, Langdon was district judge for five West Texas counties. And while on the bench and as a practicing attorney in a large oil producing area, he gained vast knowledge of the oil and gas industries, as well as transportation matters, which the Commission regulates.

Speaking of the last point, she urged the girls to have faith and self confidence.

to question their convictions and be unafraid of change.

Mrs. John Coleman, club president, welcomed the guests and Mrs. William Barjenbruch gave as a musical selection "I Know Who Holds Tomorrow."

Mrs. Byron Duncan was program chairman.

The tea table was covered with a yellow net cloth, while the centerpiece was an arrangement of daffodils, forsythia and pussy willow. Tall green tapers in crystal holders were at the sides, and appointments were crystal.

More Exotic Birds Due

TYLER. — The Parks and Wildlife Department has announced that more exotic game birds, both gray francolins and red-legged partridges, will be released in March and April.

Both species have been released previously in McCulloch and Lavaca counties. Winter checks of the birds on both release areas show a good carryover. Biologists hope that the spring release, made at a time when there is sufficient insect population for food supply, will mix adult birds of each species and produce some wild broods this year.

We, Too, Take Note of Texas Industrial Week

This is Texas Industrial Week, April 1 through 7, and mention of it is not altogether far-fetched in this primarily agricultural county.

Just organized here is the Builders Club, with the stated purpose of trying to get industry for Collingsworth county.

This organization needs and deserves the backing of everyone who has the interest of Collingsworth at heart—backing in the form of your time and thought and work and ideas and the small monthly dues that will be charged. These dues are the only financial support the club will have.

The men in it are for the most part our younger business leaders. They want to stay in Wellington and not follow their brothers and cousins to some city to make a living.

Everyone in it is going to have to work, but no one is going to be pressured to join.

As one member said, "If you get your feelings hurt easy, then it's not for you. If you are given a job to do and you don't do it, you can expect to be replaced by somebody who will."

This week, also, we should remember that Wellington does have several industries, home grown by our own men . . . as well as those other businesses such as cotton gins which are considered industrial and are a part of our life.

Rummel Advises Treatment for Fruit Trees

LUBBOCK. — Scale insects comprise some of the most important pests of fruit trees, shade trees, shrubs and greenhouse plants.

These insects do not resemble ordinary insects, reports Don Rummel, area extension entomologist. Their bodies are covered with a waxy or resinous type scale. The immature forms (or nymphs) are fairly active insects and are known as crawlers.

Scales are most often found on the leaves, stems or fruit of plants, although some species infest the roots. Injury results from the scales sucking juices from the plant tissues. Heavy scale infestation may result in the death of large branches or entire trees.

A number of scale insects are known to occur in Texas, says Rummel. The most common are San Jose, white peach, oyster shell, pin-needle, obscure, euonymus and brown soft scale. Adult scales are difficult to control with insecticides. However, insecticides may be applied during the growing season to control the crawlers and prevent infestation buildups.

Diazinon 25% emulsifiable concentrate, melathion 50% emulsifiable concentrate or 25% wettable powder, and Dimethoate 43.5% emulsifiable concentrate will give good control during the growing season. Two or more applications should be made at two-week intervals, according to manufacturers' directions. A miscible oil (1 1/4% for summer sprays) at the rate of 1/2 pint per five gallons of water may be used as a carrier for any of the recommended insecticides and will usually improve control.

Miscible oils can also be applied during the winter when plants are in complete dormancy. The recommended application rate is 3 1/2 gallons oil per 100 gallons water. For a smaller mix, use 1 1/2 pints oil in five gallons water.

A granular systemic insecticide, Di-Syston, has given good control of sucking insects on plants, including some species of scales. The chemical is applied to the soil, absorbed by the plants, and kills sucking insects feeding on the plant juices.

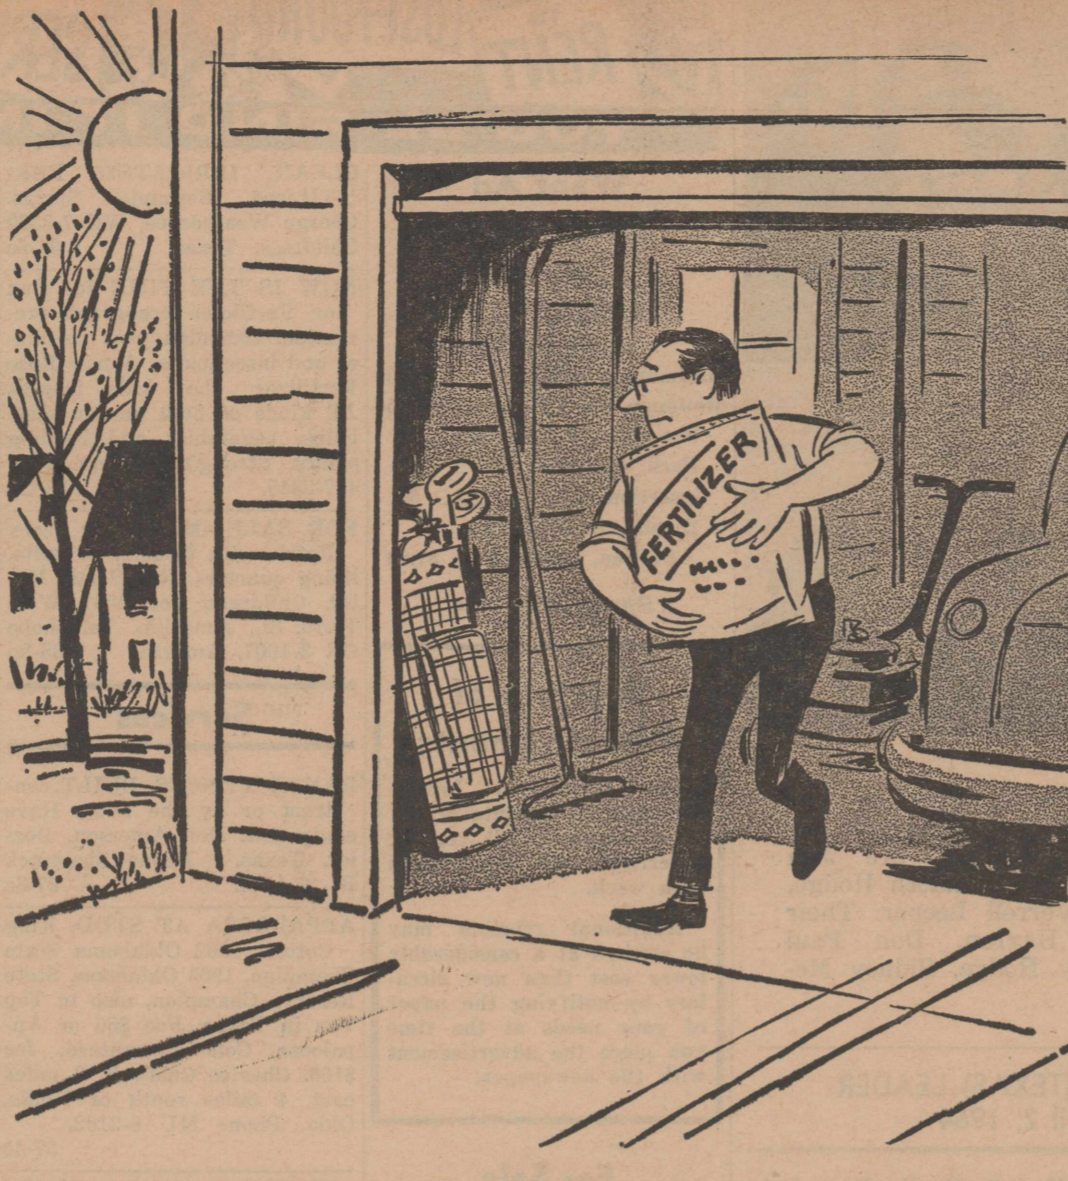

To avoid injury to humans and to plants, insecticides should be mixed and applied according to the manufacturer's directions and applied only at the recommended dosage, the entomologist cautions. Contact your county agricultural agents office for additional information and Extension leaflets on scale control.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where our people in charge of self-sabotage have offered to burn 480 of our big bombers, if the Russians will play-like they are going to burn some of theirs.

Now my over-smart neighbor says this is a proper move, because the U.S. is now so over-armed that all the other countries in the world are getting to feel over-inferior.

But it looks like destroying our own planes is a lot of unnecessary trouble, because we can just wait a while and the Reds will have enough of them shot down to keep us from getting over-powerful.

Anyhow, the Russians keep on shooting down our fliers, and swapping them back to us for grovels, and wheat, and other benefits.

Time was, of course, when this kind of prank would have made us mad, and we would have quit doing business with the perpetrator nation, but that was back before we got sophisticated and the world got so brother-lovely.

My sucker-seeker neighbor says the Reds have got a paying racket here, and he is thinking about trying out this tactic, by capturing some of his neighbor's wandering kids, and trading them back to him for an armload of TV dimers.

I see where Mr. Henry Cabot Lodge whipped all of the other candidates for President in the New Hampshire primary, while living in Saigon and keeping his personal mouth shut.

If we're lucky, Mr. Lodge's success story might lead to an all-new and improved style of political campaigning that would revolutionize the business.

Might even establish a custom that would require all candidates to high-tail it for some far-away country and hide out until after the elections, and then only the winners could come back.

I see where Spring weather or something is bringing on threats and samples of violence which it's said will be used if Congress dallies much more about passing the Civil Rights Eradication bill.

My modernist neighbor says threatening to throw violence fits is the 20th Century way to get laws passed, and is more forwardish than the old 19th Century method, where Statesmen just messed around arguing about the merits of a measure.

He says the advantage to this system of legislating is mainly that with a mob threat

STERILE FRUIT FLIES FROM MEXICO

Agriculture Commissioner of Texas, John White, said Rio Grande Valley citrus farmers are being "invaded" by sterilized fruit flies from Mexico, for a scientific study of their traveling habits.

135 Quail Ex-Students Gather for Reunion

Approximately 135 former students of Quail schools and their guests came home for the annual Ex-Students banquet Saturday night, March 28.

There was a short program, followed by a business meeting, but most of the evening was given over to visiting and reminiscing.

This sum sets a new record for the fifth consecutive year in the total amount earned in a single year.

Every Officer, Director and Employee of the gin is grateful for the splendid co-operation our customers have given us during this record breaking year which will enable us to return more money to our members. During the season 14,970,960 pounds of cottonseed were purchased by the gin and 734,910 pounds were caught by the customers.

In this connection, we would like to point out that the grower who sold his seed will receive a slightly larger check than the grower who caught his seed as will the grower who sold his cotton through the Farmers Co-op Gin.

A. W. Atkinson Quail Pioneer Dies in Texarkana

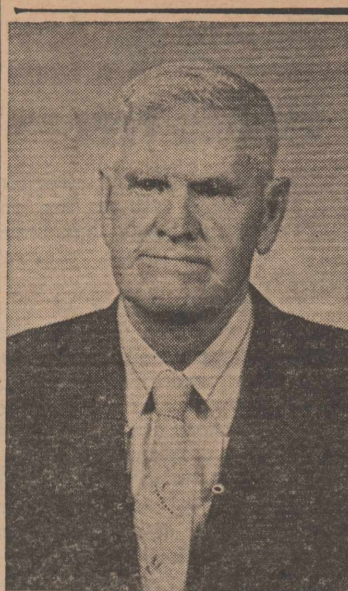

A. W. Atkinson, who came to Quail 70 years ago and 10 years later taught the first school that community had, died in Texarkana Thursday, March 26. He would have been 90 years of age July 16.

Mr. Atkinson was a member of a family responsible for many "firsts" in the Quail area and in Collingsworth county. He remained active in the community as long as he lived at Quail.

Thirteen years ago, when he retired from farming, he moved to Hedley where he lived ten years. For the last three years, he has made his home with his children.

Born July 16, 1873, in Gnatville, Ala., Alvin Washington Atkinson was the son of Dr. T. C. Atkinson and Rose Johnson Atkinson. His father was one of the early doctors of this area. Coming in 1839, the family was one of the first to settle in the Quail area.

FORT WORTH AND DENVER RAILWAY

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Although the toll continues to mount, it is amazing to note the small amount of deaths resulting from the Alaska earthquake considering the severity of the shocks. Seismograph people estimate the amount of energy released by the quake was 10 million times that of the bomb that destroyed Hiroshima.

A few years ago I spent two nights in the officers' quarters at Elmendorf Airfield and two days in Anchorage and its environs. It is a city of about 100,000 people, the largest in Alaska. Considering that the property damage in that one city is estimated to be over 300 million dollars, it is hard to conceive of loss of life being so small.

Kodiak, a town of about 3500 on the famed Kodiak Island in the Gulf of Alaska, was the hardest hit of all. Reports indicate that 72 are dead or presumed dead as the result of the tidal wave that followed the earthquake. There are a good many fairly high mountains on the island, but the town of Kodiak is not much higher than sea level. It was a picturesque little city surrounded by magnificent scenery and I am loathe to think about what it must look like today. It has one of the oldest churches in the western part of the North American continent — a Greek Orthodox church founded by the Russians when Kodiak was a trading post used for collecting furs, ivory and precious stones. It is also the home of the Kodiak bear, which is the same species as the brown bear of the mainland but much larger. This is attributed to volcanic ash that covered the island years ago making the soil extremely rich in minerals. The other native animals are also larger than the same species on the mainland.

John Coleman is going to show his pictures of wildlife taken in Africa on his trip to the dark continent and on through the Orient at the Kiwanis Club this Friday. Mrs. Mish Dukeminier, who was also in the party making the trip, says that they spent three days in the vast game preserve and that they saw all kinds of animals. John will also show pictures taken in the Orient.

Pete Nipper, the Dodson combine expert, stopped to ask about the expected moisture in the next thirty days. I explained that it was my standing policy not to start predicting the weather until May; but that didn't mean that it might not start by April 20.

There is cause for concern over the wheat. With the exception of the wheat that was grazed heavily, the growth is too rank for this time of the year. We are way ahead on moisture as compared to the first three months of 1963; but the fact remains that we have had subnormal rainfall for three years. We produced a bumper cotton crop last year due to a fortunate combination of circumstances. We will make wheat in 64 and maybe a bumper.

People have been asking if the peach crop was safe since they learned it had been destroyed in Alabama and Georgia. Since Charlie Bearden passed away I may have to consult my old friend Jake Tarter. Jake carries around a tremendous store of animal and plant lore in that cranium of his. Lucille Baird says the fruit crop has not been damaged. I am thinking of appointing her as official peach forecaster for the county.

Shades of that ancient feud that Harry Koch of Quanah and L. E. Haskett of Childress carried on from the nineties well into the twenties! Here is a clipping from Ed Eakin's column in the Quanah Tribune-Chief:

Our friend, Morris Higley, of the Childress Index has gone completely off his rock.

We first suspected this might have happened when we opened the Index this week and read in a two-column editorial that the Index had endorsed for Governor Don Yarborough, who has been bought lock, stock and barrel by South Texas liberals.

Then when we read Morris describe Don as a "progressive" even intimating that he is a "conservative," we knew he had flipped his wig. Even Don hasn't denied his kinship with the Ralph Yarborough, Mrs. Randolph Seventh grader Joe Brock was alone at the finish mark in the junior high invitational track meet Friday, March 27. His opponents in the 669-yard-run had not even rounded the curve in the back-ground.

Fertilizer Manufactured

Scope Puts Dodson on the Industrial Map

An industry keeping pace with the fast changing agriculture of the 1960's, Scope Chemicals of Texas, operates its area branch in one of Texas' smallest incorporated cities — Dodson.

And the area it serves extends through three states — Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

A manufacturer of fertilizer under the brand name Tri-40, Scope of Dodson is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. (Duard) Luck, who live across the state line in the Arnett community, where they have farmed many years.

They decided to build their fertilizer plant in Dodson because it's their "hometown."

Scope is not the usual type commercial fertilizer plant — in fact the Lucks say there's nothing like it this side of Houston. Tri-40 is a spray fertilizer that nourishes the plant through its foliage, instead of the root system as do conventional fertilizers. The basic ingredients are the conventional 10-20-10, with additional minor and "trace" elements to give it special adaptation to this area.

The Lucks got into the fertilizer business in 1961 after he heard of a revolutionary new foliar spray developed by a Houston chemist from a formula brought back from Germany after World War II. He tried it on his own cotton and was sold.

As a next step, he obtained the franchise for its manufacture. Scope operates in a 30x50 ft. air conditioned masonry building on Dodson's main street.

crowd, but Morris pictured this young political opportunist in bright glowing terms as a good prospect for the highest office in the state.

Well, when we got over the shock of this Yarborough-Higley marriage, we realized that by the tenure of the editorial, the Childress Index was beyond any help.

All we hope, is that the people of Childress County read more about Mr. Yarborough, the people he is obligated to, and the crowd he runs with and then decide if he is the caliber of man they want to occupy the Governor's Mansion in Austin.

Fortunately for Childress, Quanah and the state, all indications are that John Connally is favored 7-3 in the state and that he will be elected for a second term as Governor of Texas.

Morris Higley says "Connally has made one of 'Texas' worst governors." We think he has made one of the best and has as clear a picture of the needs of Texas, such as in the realm of education and industry, as any governor within our memory.

We hope Hardeman, Childress and all north Texas counties give Governor Connally the overwhelming support he deserves.

Texas needs a man of John Connally's stature. We certainly do not need—or even deserve—a Don Yarborough.

Quail Teachers Elected for 1964-65 Year

Re-election of the teachers of the Quail school for the 1964-65 year was announced this week by Supt. Herman Moseley.

With the beginning of next school year, the Quail home-making department will go on half time and Mrs. Monty Mitchell, instructor, will do academic teaching for one half of each day. This is due to a decrease in the number of girls in high school who can take homemaking, the superintendent explained.

Other teachers include Frank Kennedy, vocational agriculture, Mrs. Lewis Morris, principal, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Lowell Wells, W. F. Howard, Don Lacy, coach and teacher, Mrs. Herman Moseley, and Mrs. Jim Lowe.

Supt. Moseley has one more year left on his three-year contract.

Moseley named cancer's seven danger signals:

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. A sore throat that does not heal.
4. Change in bowel or bladder habits.
5. Hoarseness or cough.
6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
7. Change in wart or mole.

If your signal lasts longer than two weeks, go to your doctor to learn if it means cancer.

Inexperienced This Year

Eagles Open Baseball Season Tues. April 7

Samnorwood's Eagle baseball team, one of the stronger class B teams in this area for several years, starts this season with an inexperienced team, Coach Loyd Stephens reported as practice started.

"We will have five freshmen but only two seniors. Pitching and catching are our biggest problems," the coach added.

The Eagles participate in a four-team Class B conference with Quail, Hedley and Mobeetie. Conference games will be played each Tuesday beginning April 7. Non-conference games will be played on a match-game basis depending on the weather.

The conference schedule includes:

April 7: Mobeetie there.
April 14: Hedley at Norwood.
April 21: Quail at Quail.
April 28: Mobeetie at Norwood.

May 5: Hedley there.
May 12: Quail at Norwood.
All games will be played at 4 p.m.

In a game played Tuesday, March 24 with Arnett, Okla., Samnorwood came out loser by 11-1. Each team had only three hits, but errors and walks cost the Eagles the victory.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lockhart visited in Bethany, Okla., recently with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Brown. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Wilgman and Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Brown.
