Nixon Is Welcomed To Siberian City

By JOHN SCALI

NOVOSIBIRSK, Soviet Union (AP) — About 20,000 friendly, applauding Russians gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon the warmest welcome of his Soviet tour when he arrived in this Siberian city today for a goodwill visit.

Nixon arrived amid solid signs he was considering more and more favorably a recommendation that President Eisenhower invite Premier Nikita Khrushchev to the United States for a visit.

Persons close to Nixon were understood to be making some impact on him with arguments that Khrushchev must see for himself the strength and vigor of the American economy and the unity of its people to rid him of misconceptions.

Thousands of men and women lined the streets here, in some places four and five deep, to wave greetings to Nixon and his wife.

Communist leaders of this developing Siberian industrial area rode through town with the Nixons.

A bus carrying American correspondents traveling with Nixon was nearly mobbed by several thousand excited Russians, hands outstretched in greeting, when they arrived in Stalin Square.

Soviet authorities were understood to have agreed finally to allow Nixon to tour the Siberian branch of the Academy of Sciences. This will be a big scientific research center for the entire Siberian-Ural area.

Nixon insisted on this visit during his 4½-hour one-stop flight to Leningrad.

Meanwhile, authorities familiar with Nixon's views reported he believed his tour thus far has surpassed his expectations after a slow, rather cool welcome in Moscow.

The crowds who welcomed him in Leningrad were about three times as large as those in Moscow. The turnout at Novosibirsk surpassed the fondest hopes of American aides, accompanying him on the visit.

When he arrived, Nixon found many of the women wearing babushkas, or handkerchiefs over their heads and men with blue tams and work clothes applauding him.

Several times he stopped to shake hands with youngsters, including some girls.

Among Nixon's advisers meanwhile, Quebec was being mentioned as a possible site for a Summit Conference, if and when one is agreed to.

Their reasoning was that Khrushchev might go on to the United States for a visit afterwards. President Charles de Gaulle of France, who has opposed San Francisco as a site, would likely accept the French-speaking Canadian city as an alternative, it was believed. It was stressed that President Eisenhower would of course make the final decision.

Nixon in a talk to the throng of airport wellwishers noted that Novosibirsk has always been one of the cities closed to foreigners.

"As we know, some cities in the Soviet Union are called 'closed cities'. There are some 'closed cities' in the United States but we feel that all cities should be open cities so that we should get to know each other," he said.

This is a big machine manufacturing center 1,750 miles east of Moscow. It has a population of 887,000.

On the visit to Leningrad, Nixon intervened to help Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover, the Naval export in his party, get a close look at the heart of a new Russian atomic icebreaker. Soviet officials had balked at first.

In a farewell speech at the airport, Nixon said the United States is aware that the differences between it and the Soviet Union are not easy to eliminate.

"It is necessary to have discussions at the conference table so that we may achieve an agreed solution," he said.

Aluminum Strike Appears Certain

NEW YORK (AP) — A major strike in the aluminum industry was threatened today as negotiations in the two-week-old steel strike remained deadlocked.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, said he expected no agreement in the aluminum industry before contracts with major firms expire at midnight Friday.

McDonald, whose union represents workers in aluminum as well as steel, said the same "no contract, no work" policy covers both industries.

The copper industry also faced a possible strike threat.

Officials of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union were reported considering a strike against the nation's copper plants and mines next month. The union's contracts expired June 30, but its members are working while negotiations continue.

Steel industry and union representatives met jointly Monday for the first time since the nationwide steel strike began.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, met newsmen after the two-hour session.

"There was an exchange of viewpoints by the parties, but I can't say anything beyond that," Finnegan said. "I don't think there was any substantial change in the position of either party."

Finnegan conferred with steel industry leaders this morning at the Park Lane Hotel.

The mediator was to meet this afternoon with McDonald.

There was no immediate plan for joint talks between management and industry representatives.

The situation "doesn't look good," Finnegan said.

The strike threat in the aluminum industry is against the Big Three — the Aluminum Co. of America, the Reynolds Metals Co. and the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp.

Contract negotiations in the aluminum industry are continuing here with the help of federal mediators, but no progress has been reported.

The Big Three aluminum producers—like the major steel companies — have rejected a United Steelworkers' demand for a wage increase of 15 cents an hour in each year of the new contract. The aluminum companies, like the steel companies, have proposed a one-year wage freeze.

The Ormet Corp., the fourth big aluminum producer with a contract with the Steelworkers Union expiring Friday, has not answered the union's demand formally. But Ormet, which is owned jointly by the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. and Revere Copper and Brass Inc., is expected to go along with the Big Three in turning down the union's proposals.

A strike against the Big Three and Ormet would affect 30,000 workers and close about 57 per cent of the nation's primary aluminum production.

McDonald said he had given orders to his union for an orderly shutdown of the aluminum mills if negotiations fail.

An aluminum industry spokesman said an orderly shutdown requires 48 to 72 hours to tap and cool the hot lines in the production plants.

Alcoa and Reynolds are negotiating with the aluminum Workers International Union as well as with the United Steelworkers of America.

Grand Jury Returns 16 Indictments

Sixteen indictments against six persons were returned yesterday after a session of the June-July Scurry County grand jury.

Seven of the indictments were against 18-year-old Clarence C. Price, Jr., of Snyder, five against Eddie McCorkle, 17 of Littlefield, formerly of Snyder. Both involved burglaries and thefts.

Another is against Ben Wilson, Jr., Negro construction worker, for forgery and passing. The other three indictments are against persons not in custody or under bond, including one for felony theft, one for driving while intoxicated as a repeated offense and one for forgery and passing.

Six of the seven indictments against Price were for burglary, the other for theft. Price was already under two burglary and one theft indictments from a previous session of the same grand jury. He was recently given a seven-year prison sentence on a burglary trial at Del Rio, according to Sheriff Earl Abercrombie, whose office has returned Price to Snyder. He is in custody in the county jail.

Price's indictments yesterday alleged theft of three water pumps from Ben Dennis about Feb. 18 and burglary of the Pick & Pay Grocery about Feb 25, Boss Electric about May 8, H. P Wellborn about May 18, the high school about May 8, Mike Wolf residence about May 10 and junior high about May 11.

McCorkle's indictments alleged burglary of the junior high about May 11, theft of three water pumps from Ben Dennis about Feb. 18, burglary of Pick & Pay about Feb. 25 and accomplice to burglaries of the high school about May 8 and Boss Electric the same date. He is under bond.

Wilson's forgery and passing indictment involved an instrument in the amount of $18.69 drawn on the Citizens State Bank of Slaton and passed June 14 to Steve's Fina Service Station here. He is being held in Lubbock on another charge.

More Rains Due Today Over State

By The Associated Press

South Central Texas, which had a tornado scare Monday with the spotting of a pair of funnel clouds in the Austin area, saw thunderheads build up again Tuesday.

Thundershower activity was reported in Southwest and West Texas also.

Forecasts called for more showers in East, South Central and North Central Texas through Wednesday. Northwest and Southwest Texas can expect occasional thunderstorms through the same period, the Weather Bureau said.

The funnel clouds sighted at Jolleyville, 14 miles north of Austin, vanished without touching the ground or causing any damage.

Heavy rains fell in some sections as the thundershower activity rolled across Central Texas. Falls County reported up to six inches of rainfall with Marlin, the county seat, catching 3.53 inches in less than three hours.

The six-inch totals came from the Carter-Munsche and Thomason Hill areas.

Thunderheads also built up in the Austin, Beaumont, Junction and Mineral Wells sections, and Corpus Christi, Lufkin, Galveston, Houston, Palacios and Mineral Wells reported rain.

Deaf Youth Is Back Home

DALLAS (AP)—Johnny Smokey will remain with his parents.

This decision came Monday after consultation about the partially deaf and partially blind teen-ager found wandering last fall in Orange.

Johnny, who couldn't tell Orange authorities where he lived, was taken under the wing of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ridings of Port Arthur. He was sent to a school for handicapped children. His intelligence is good.

The Ridings brought him to Dallas during the weekend on a business trip. He recognized landmarks, made the Ridings understand that he was home. Police found his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Reyes.

His real name is Simon Reyes Jr.

Talks took place between his parents, the Ridings and Sam Davis, Dallas juvenile officer.

Road-Bridge Items Sold To Precincts

Equipment of the county road and bridge special maintenance department, which is being abolished Aug. 1, were sold by the commissioners court here yesterday in a closed auction to individual commissioner precincts.

The court also scheduled receipt of bids on three road paving jobs in Precincts 2, 3, and 4 for Aug. 17 and formally set the annual county budget hearing for 10 a.m. Aug. 17.

All the moveable assets of the county road and bridge department, the county's "fifth precinct," were sold, with commissioners paying for the equipment they bought out of their individual budgets. The total income from the sale of the equipment was then divided four equal ways to the precincts.

The sale brought in a total of $20,564, giving each precinct $5,141 from the sale. In the sale, T. B. Knight, commissioner of Precinct 1, had bought $960 worth of equipment, while Bill Herring of Precinct 2 bought $2,055 worth. Pat Moore of Precinct 3 $11,189 worth and J. C. Massingill of Precinct 4, $6,360 worth.

The equipment had been used by the road and bridge crew to maintain county paved roads, while the individual precincts had been taking care of maintenance of unpaved roads. Under the new organization after the road and bridge department is abolished, each precinct will care for all roads, paved and unpaved, which are not maintained by the state in its farm-to-market road system or in the highway program.

Going to Precinct 1 in the sale were a pickup and a 4,000-gallon trailer tank, while Precinct 2 bought a pickup and hand tools. Precinct 3 purchased two motor graders, a broom, two two-ton trucks, two tanks, a tractor with mower and shredder, cement mixer, four-wheel tractor, moveable building and a small flatwheel roller. Precinct 4 bought a roller, tractor with front-end loader and shredder, crawler tractor, a motor grader and a spreader box.

J. Ray Martin, county judge, was authorized by the court to advertise for bids on the three paving projects.

That in Precinct 2 will be the Old Post Road, from the Clairemont Highway parallel to the Santa Fe Railway tracks to Huffman Avenue.

The Precinct 3 project will be on Houston Avenue from Thirty-seventh Street to Fortieth Street.

In Precinct 4 the paving will be 1.7 miles of streets in Hermleigh. The paving will be on James, Wills Lowe, Fourth, Reid, Pyron, Hermleigh, Wheat and Harlan streets and avenues.

Cross Rites Set Thursday

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday for William Ambrose Cross, 78, of Route 2, Hermleigh, who died at 1 a.m. today in Simmons Memorial Hospital in Sweetwater.

Mr. Cross had been in the hospital about three weeks.

He had been a Scurry County resident 72 years, moving to Hermleigh in 1887. He was a retired farmer.

Born April 9, 1881, in Bosque County, he was married to Addie Miller Dec. 9, 1953. He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Hermleigh.

Services will be at the First Baptist Church in Hermleigh, with the Rev. Bob Creswell, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Pyron Cemetery under direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Survivors include the widow and several nieces and nephews.

Things Go To Pieces In Home At Denver

DENVER (AP) — Things really went to pieces Monday for Phyllis Hickman, who was doing chores on the second floor of her home when the north wall of the 50-year-old brick structure collapsed.

Mrs. Hickman, 46, fled the trembling home through a broken window. Minutes later, the house collapsed.

Foreign Aid Bill Debated By Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Otto E. Passman (D-La) told the House today that some nations receiving U.S. military and economic aid "would likely shoot at us, and not with us, if war should come."

Passman made the statement in debate on a $3,186,500,000 foreign-aid appropriations bill cut $1,243,495,000 below the amount requested by President Eisenhower.

An appropriations subcommittee headed by Passman drafted the bill. He urged the House to uphold the subcommittee's actions despite objections by the President.

On the other side of the argument, Rep. Silvio Conte (R-Mass), a member of Passman's committee, protested a cut of $300,000,000 from the $1,600,000,000 the President asked for direct military assistance to Allies.

The military aid program, Conte said, has made available to the United States abroad some 250 operating bases, supports ground forces of more than 5,000,000 men and maintains 30,000 aircraft and 2,500 naval vessels.

This program, he said, "is now endangered by our arbitrary, unwarranted slash of nearly 20 per cent."

Passman, saying "we cannot buy friends,' named Yugoslavia, Poland and Indonesia as countries receiving aid but which "would likely shoot at us" in event of war.

Passman said "substantial windfalls" have been reaped from the aid program by the printing and publishing industry, the motion picture industry, the shipping industry, bankers, manufacturing interests and colleges and universities.

Search For Child Halted

HOUSTON (AP)— Police today abandoned dragging Buffalo Bayou for little Linda Kay O'Pry, whom a 15-year-old mentally retarded boy maintains he strangled and threw into the bayou.

Capt. Leo Horton, head of the juvenile bureau, said officers feel the child's body is in the murky waters of the stream.

"But we dragged the bayou from Memorial Drive bridge to below 80th Street, and found no trace of her," said Horton.

Horton said he felt police have enough evidence to corroborate the youth's story that he killed the child.

The boy told officers Sunday that he lured Linda Kay, 3-year-old daughter of Mrs. Delbert Hendricks, beneath the bridge with the idea of molesting her. When the child resisted his attack, the boy said he strangled her and threw her into the bayou.

Urrutia To Face Charge

HAVANA (AP) — A charge of treason brought by a private citizen against former President Manuel Urrutia was referred to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cabinet Monday night. Supreme Court Judge Julio Garceran de Val signed an order transferring the case from the court to the Cabinet.

The ruling puts Castro in the position of sitting as judge on the man he put in as the first president of the revolutionary government and then crushed.

Urrutia quit on July 17 after Castro had accused him of near treason in a TV speech.

Castro himself resigned as prime minister before launching his assault on Urrutia but was shouted back into office on Sunday at a giant celebration in Havana.

Four In Family Perish In Blaze

NEW YORK (AP)-Four members of one family, ranging from 7 to 24 years old, died today in a fire that swept through two Brooklyn tenements. Reports that a baby girl also perished later proved erroneous.

The dead were Mary Winningham, 7; Delores, 10; Barbara, 20; and Earl, 24.

Nation's Newest State Has Its First Election Today

HONOLULU (AP)—The nation's newest state votes today in its first election.

From Hilo to Honolulu, the melting pot of people who live on this 300-mile island chain, cast ballots for two U.S. senators, one representative, a governor and a 76-member state Legislature. The polls close at 10:30 p.m. EST.

It appeared certain — for the first time in U.S. history—that a person of Japanese or Chinese ancestry would be sent to Congress.

Republicans conceded their underdog role but hoped to upset predictions of a Democratic sweep by grabbing several major offices.

Democrats made a strong showing in the June primary and have won Hawaii elections since 1954.

Election officials predicted a record vote, perhaps 90 per cent of the 183,099 registrants.

Most Hawaii attention was focused on the race for governor, pitting Democrat John A. Burns against Eisenhower - appointed Gov. William F. Quinn.

Burns, 50, serving a second term as elected delegate to Congress, piled up 69,152 votes in winning the Democratic nomination June 27 from a comparatively unknown opponent.

Quinn, 40, got 49,531 votes in running unopposed for the Republican candidacy.

Burns is backed by Harry Bridges' Longshoremens' Union which claims 24,000 sugar, pineapple and dock workers here.

Quinn has endorsement of AFL-CIO unions, with a claimed membership of 15,000.

Democrats believe they have a sure winner in Japanese-American Daniel K. Inouye, 34, running for Hawaii's lone House seat.

Inouye, youngest nominee in the major races, is a lawyer and territorial senator. He served in World War II in Europe with the "Go for Broke" regimental combat team, made up entirely of Americans of Japanese ancestry. Inouye lost his right arm in combat.

Opposing him is Dr. Charles K. Silva, 55, a dentist who is director of public institutions.

Two oldtimers in island politics are contesting for one of the Senate seats.

They are Oren E. Long, 70, former appointed governor and longtime territorial legislator, and Wilfred C. Tsukiyama, 62, territorial senator and elder statesman of island politicians of Japanese ancestry.

Antonio Rodriques was dead on arrival at a hospital. His companion, Domingo Ramos, 70, was admitted for observation.

James Mosley told police he was backing into a driveway and did not see the men.

Senators May Go Along On Natural Gas Pipeline Tax

AUSTIN (AP)— Senate leaders apparently will go along with the House to include natural gas tax on pipeline companies.

Sen. Wardlow Lane, Center, laid out a Senate substitute for the House omnibus tax bill which included a 1½ per cent tax on the first taker of gas, called a severance beneficiary tax.

Lane's substitute, considered by the State Affairs Committee along with the House bill, will raise an estimated $18,373,800 and gets most of the added revenue by adding another penny to the proposed two cent increase on cigarette taxes.

The Lane natural gas tax is a break from the Senate's past stand for an increase in the production tax. The production boost from seven to eight per cent has been utilized by all joint conference committees on taxes.

The substitute also adds a three per cent occupancy tax on hotels and motels to raise $6,600,000 and knocks out the sulphur tax reduction and the gasoline refund for city transit lines.

House members had agreed to cut the sulphur tax from $1.40 to $1.03 a long ton and to refund the gasoline tax to transit lines which operate solely inside city limits.

"The bill that came over from the House is short. It will raise about 160 million dollars. This is almost the same thing we've been using in the joint conference and will raise the money we need," Lane said.

The substitute also eliminates sales taxes on jewelry and furs.

Witnesses testified before the committee took final action. There is some possibility the Senate may pass its tax bill later today.

The bill, approved by two thirds of the House, is estimated to bring in from 168 to 180 million dollars. Some legislators say it is a little short of clearing the 34 million dollar deficit and financing state services the next two years.

Tax sources in the bill are strikingly similar to a joint conference tax report passed four times previously by the Senate and rejected the same number of times by the House.

It is loaded with selective sales tax but also has a tax on the first taker of gas, called a severance beneficiary tax or a tax aimed at natural gas pipeline companies. Others call it a sales tax on gas.

Members of the State Affairs Committee, reflecting earlier votes on the Senate floor, may knock out a house-approved reduction of the sulphur tax from $1.40 to $1.03 and the three-fourths refund on the gasoline tax paid by buses operating within city limits.

It could add another penny to the cigarette tax of seven cents a package as approved by the House. This would add about 20 million dollars to the bill. It has been included in former joint, conference reports on taxes. Another possibility is an increase in driver's licenses fees.

Taxpayers who haven't had a chance to squawk in previous hearings will be heard by the committee. These include groups which will feel the new sales taxes on furs, jewelry, air conditioners, radio and television parts.

West Plans Firm Stand

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP) — The Western Allies today were reported determined to remain in West Berlin as long as Germany remains divided.

Diplomatic informants said a revised Western proposal being drawn up for the Big Four foreign ministers conference would demand once again that the Soviets pledge not to take unilateral action against West Berlin at any time in the future.

Over the weekend British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd had been reported pressuring his allies to accept a Soviet pledge for a limited time. But Lloyd was said today to have agreed with U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter that Western policy on the issue of protection for West Berlin should stand unchanged.

Both the Soviet Union and the Western powers were rewriting their rival proposals for breaking the Berlin crisis. Each side obviously hoped the other would come up with new concessions.

The Big Four ministers planned no meeting today. But the three Western ministers met and were reported to have sought some new formula for resuming stalled East-West disarmament negotiations.

Diplomatic sources said this problem probably would be taken up with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko before the Geneva Conference ends. Gromyko is said to have indicated an interest in the disarmament question in private talks.

There have been no disarmament negotiations since 1957 when the Soviet Union denounced the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee on the grounds that it was one-sided. It was composed of the United States, Britain, France, Canada and the Soviet Union.

Some Western diplomats are now thinking in terms of a larger group made up of three members each from the East and the West with a neutral chairman.

The Big Four Conference on Germany may be entering its final phase. If neither side gives ground on the Berlin issue the conference may end by the middle of next week or sooner.

Some Western diplomats said chances are the new plans will differ enough from the earlier ones to indicate the possibility of a compromise agreement which would lift the Soviet threat to Berlin and clear the way for a summit meeting.

Reports circulated that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in recasting his Berlin proposal might omit direct reference to his previous demand for creation of a committee of East and West Germans to negotiate on German reunification during a truce in the Berlin crisis.

Western officials said this could mean Gromyko was cutting his price for a Berlin truce. It also could mean he had decided against pressing his point for the moment in hopes of prolonging negotiations on other aspects of the Berlin dispute.

Deputies of the Western ministers were reported working out still another formula calling for continuation of the Allied position in West Berlin and access to that city for an indefinite period. Their aim is to get the Soviet Union to agree to refrain from unilateral action against West Berlin, at the same time putting no time limit on the pledge.

One proposal discussed—and attributed by some officials to U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and British Foreign secretary Selwyn Lloyd—would ask Gromyko to accept the principle that present arrangements for West Berlin be changed only by consent of the Big Four.

Such hope as there was in the Western camp still stemmed from speculation that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev might be ready to soft-pedal the Red campaign against Berlin for a while to realize his often expressed desire for a summit conference. But there was little confidence in Western circles that Khrushchev wants summit talks badly enough to pay a real price for them.

Top Western leaders now believe Khrushchev wants to squeeze some kind of recognition of Communist East Germany out of the Western powers in return for putting the Berlin crisis on ice for a time. Eventually, they think, he would whip up a new crisis with another effort to force the West out of Berlin.

Increase On Gasoline Tax Voted Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee today voted down proposals to increase gasoline taxes to keep construction of the Federal Interstate Highway System on schedule.

The committee action was not final, however, and could be reversed at any time.

The committee continued to meet behind closed doors in an effort to agree on some highway financing plan as an alternative to President Eisenhower's demand for a 1½ cent raise in the federal gasoline tax.

A deficit in the highway construction trust fund, estimated to reach a half billion dollars next spring, threatens an immediate nine-months work stoppage on the 41,000 mile network and a slowup in the program thereafter.

Proposals for various increases in the 3-cent federal gas tax received no more than half a dozen votes from the 25-member committee.

By the margin of a single vote, the committee also defeated 12-11 a proposal by Rep. Burr Harrison (D-Va) to suspend construction of the interstate system for one year until revenues would make up the deficit.

The highway law states that funds may not be apportioned to the states for highway building if revenues are not sufficient to cover outlays.

Congress last year suspended the pay-as-you-go requirement for one year to permit a speedup in the program as an anti-recession move.

Robert Sulivan Brown was charged with murder in the slaying of Mitchell Johnson, 61.

Brown told officers he and Johnson were having an argument over Brown's handling of the estate of a 70-year-old man who died Friday.

Senate Takes Up Bill On 'Equal Time'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate takes up today a bill its sponsors contend is needed to prevent a virtual blackout of radio-TV coverage of the 1960 election campaign.

The measure, approved by the Senate Commerce Committee, would set aside the Federal Communications Commission ruling in the Lar (America First) Daly case.

The FCC ruled that Daly, a third party candidate for mayor of Chicago, was entitled to as much time as the Democratic and Republican candidates received on newscasts.

The networks and individual stations protested in long hearings before the committee that if the ruling stood they might be forced to turn their cameras away from the entire political campaign next year, including the big national conventions.

They argued they would run great risks in covering the Democratic and Republican presidential candidates because they might have to give matching time to a score or more fringe candidates.

The law requires that all legally qualified candidates for a public office be given equal access to radio-TV time. The FCC ruling applied it for the first time to newscasts and similar programs.

The ruling still does not apply to mere mention of a candidate's name in a broadcast, but does make the equal time requirement apply to use of his picture or his voice, recorded or live.

The bill would exempt from the equal time requirement any newscast, news interview, documentary, on-the-spot news coverage of panel discussion.

It also would provide for a re-examination of the question by Congress within three years and annual reports from the FCC on progress under the changed provisions.

Integration Delay Asked

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Each day's delay in integrating Dallas schools lessens the likelihood of violence when segregation does end, the Dallas School Board said Monday.

"General tensions of the citizens on both sides of the segregation problem have been and are lessening and mellowing, and the likelihood of strife is becoming less by the day," the board said in a brief prepared by its attorney, Henry W. Strasburger.

The board directed Strasburger to file the brief in U.S. District Court in answer to requests by Negroes seeking integration of the city's schools this fall.

Judge T. Whitfield Davidson will hear the Negroes' plea Thursday.

The petition said until the conflict between state and federal laws has been decided, desegregation is impractical. Texas law requires an end to state aid for local schools when a district is integrated without approval of a majority of its voters.

Dallas would lose an estimated $2,300,000 per year if allocation of state funds was stopped.

Court Frees Texas Youth

CHICAGO (AP) — An Army private from Texas who led police in a wild chase through Evanston Sunday was freed in boys court today and turned over to military police.

Judge Irving Landesman dismissed charges of larceny of an auto and tampering with an auto against Pvt. Edwin D. Julian, 17, of Midland, Tex., so military authorities could take jurisdiction.

Police said Julian, en route to Aberdeen, Md., stole the car to go to a swimming area. Police took after him when they noticed him speeding.

The soldier abandoned the car at a street corner and raced away on foot. He climbed a fence, leaving the seat of his trousers waving behind, dashed through the home of a Northwestern University professor just as the family was sitting down to dinner and finally was apprehended a few doors away.

Fifth Army authorities are handling the case.

Forecasting Is Defended

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Stephen Lichtblau, chief forecaster of the Weather Bureau here, today defended the bureau's forecasting of hurricane Debra. "We were fortunate to get out a warning," he said.

Lichtblau's comments were made in answer to criticism by the Houston Chronicle for not getting out earlier warnings on the approach of the hurricane which struck the Texas coast Friday, causing damage estimated at several million dollars.

"I don't see how we can ever do any better," Lichtblau said. "I don't know what they are squawking about," he said. "There were very few injuries. Apparently people were adequately warned."

Argentina Hoping Crisis Has Passed

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Authorities were hopeful today that a military crisis plaguing President Arturo Frondizi for two months was ended with the appointment of Gaston Clement, a retired rear admiral and anti-Peronist, as navy secretary.

Clement, 56, a respected career officer, promised to work toward restoring discipline in the navy.

Navy commanders, echoing army charges that Frondizi's government was riddled with followers of ousted dictator Juan D. Peron, forced the resignation of Vice Adm. Adolfo Estevez as navy secretary.

SWAGGER LOOK. . . The art of wearing the most fabulous fabric cut on the simplest tailored lines is the newest talent of fashionable women, says designer Adele Simpson. Shown here are two examples: at left, simple full-skirted dress and matching coat of silver, gold and black brocade, for important evenings; at right, dinner or theater suit consisting of simply cut dress and matching mink—collared jacket of copper brocade—both to be worn with rakish aplomb.

'Three Faces Of Fashion' Shown

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Fashion has three faces this fall, says designer Adele Simpson.

Previewing her new collection, the petite but supercharged Mrs. Simpson says women should have many moods, with clothes to match.

"This fall women will want to be tailored by day," she says. "Simplicity and neatness are the watchwords. Suits are stripped of non-essentials, with small lapels and trim shoulders, with easy fit and simple lines.

"Women also will like the 'swagger' look for evening. This is vastly different from the long-abused 'casual' look. It's a new rakish, daring air that expresses itself by wearing the most luxurious fabrics cut on the simplest lines — like a gold brocade trench coat and shirtwaist dress.

"Women also want to look 'precious' at all times — not 'darling' or 'pretty', but valuable and cherished. This is a new refinement in the art of being a woman. It consists of wearing graceful, beautiful clothes with dignity and the pride of possession.

"These are the three faces of fashion for the coming season."

Mrs. Simpson shows simply cut suits with longer jackets and a great deal of fur trimming. Untrimmed suits and dresses are worn with fur hats.

For evening she shows a brilliant group of metallic brocades cut on the simplest lines, in tailored coats and suits, illustrating her new "swagger" look. Says she:

"This is the season when a woman should achieve neatness without strictness, when she should be confidently and beautifully dressed for any occasion, when she leaves nothing to chance."

PRECIOUS LOOK. . .This sophisticated town suit by Adele Simpson is brown textured wool with longer jacket, rope belt and luxurious collar of 'golden glow' fox.

Marathon Mermaid Hardly Has Time To Grab Breath

By EDWARD KITCH

CHICAGO (AP) — Greta Anderson, the marathon distance swimmer, has already covered more water than a dozen persons do in a lifetime. But she is making this summer one of her busiest. Before it is out, she will have:

Entered the 26-mile Atlantic City, N. J., race.

Tried the 21-mile Naples to Capri race in Italy.

Entered the English Channel race.

Miss Anderson won the woman's gold medal in the 100-meter free style and the silver medal in the 400-meter relay in London in 1948 Olympics.

"Swimming offers a challenge to everyone," she says. "As a recreational activity, swimming provides a lifetime of good, wholesome exercise that is not limited to the earlier years of one's life."

Greta won the English Channel race in 1957, the first woman to do so. The next year she became the first American to win it because she was a naturalized American by that time.

Born in Copenhagen, Denmark, 30 years ago, she gained fame as a swimmer soon after her father started her at the sport when she was 15.

Within five years she had won 35 Copenhagen city championships 24 Danish national championships, eight Scandinavian championships, and four European championships.

She came to the United States in 1950.

When she became a distance swimmer she met John Sonnichsen, a fellow instructor at the Glendale, Calif., pool where she was teaching swimming, and later married him. He now coaches football at San Pedro, Calif., High School.

Miss Anderson entered her first distance race at Atlantic City, N.J. in 1956 and won, swimming 25 miles in 10 hours and 17 minutes.

Another "first" was her two-way crossing of California's Catalina Channel. She swam the 42-mile distance last October in 26 hours and 53 minutes.

This year she'll try a two-way swimming of the English Channel something that has never been accomplished before.

Flank Steak

INGREDIENTS: 1 pound flank steak, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 5 teaspoons soy sauce, 1 tablespoon sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate, 2 tablespoons corn or peanut oil, 1 can (6 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms, 1 can (5 ounces) water chestnuts, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 teaspoon soy sauce.

METHOD: Have steak partly frozen; cut across grain with knife held rather flat into 2 by 1 by ⅛-inch pieces. Mix together on a plate the 2 tablespoons cornstrach, 5 teaspoons soy sauce, sugar, salt and monosodium glutamate; coat meat with mixture. Heat oil in a heavy hot 10-inch iron skillet until sizzling. Add marinated meat and cook rapidly, turning to brown on both sides. Remove meat with slotted spoon. Drain mushrooms and water chestnuts; add enough water to their liquid to make 1 cup. Gradually stir into 1 tablespoon cornstarch until smooth; add 1 teaspoon soy sauce. Add to drippings in skillet; cook and stir constantly until thickened. Stir in mushrooms and sliced water chestnuts; top with meat; heat. Makes 4 servings.

Lotus Line Joins Fashion Parade

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP)—The lotus line featuring busts in bloom joined the fall and winter fashion parade in Paris today with the showing of Pierre Balmain's collection.

Stem-slim skirts were a little longer and jackets a lot longer. Many were tubular, hardly fitted at the waist but snug on the hips, with broader shoulders and classic collars.

Balmain describes part of his show as "relaxed, half-full skirts with supple bodices. Cape-sleeved Sherlock Holmes greatcoats in big bold plaids added a dashing and gallant note.

Balmain brings back a longer waisted look. His skirts are several inches below the knee and his sleeves seven-eighth length. Beige and brown are his favorite colors for daytime, black for night.

Sophistication is the swelling note in Paris fashion this season, less prettiness and more elegance.

Diagonal drapes are going strong, but most other trimmings have been trimmed off the new "plucked" silhouette with a slimmer line and slightly longer skirts.

Pierre Cardin's show Monday night brought new shapes and shaded colors.

Cardin's promised suit revolution turned out to be long-jacketed tunic suits, mostly slim but unwaisted tubes. Jackets strike halfway between waist and knee. Tunic dresses have sheath underskirts showing just about an inch at the bottom.

Cardin refuses to be pinned to one hemline. Some are short, barely covering the kneecap. Others come down to midcalf, as long as anything likely to be seen.

Colors of his coats shade subtly to a deeper tone at the hem. A coat trio called Oxford, Cambridge and Harvard was in wide-shaded chalk stripes—one blue, one brown, one green.

Big smuggler collars turn down to become small capes. Coats range from shapely barrels with curving stave seams to flaring trumpet shapes. Some have braid buttons and big flapped pockets.

Black and brown are the stars of the season, but sage, greens, white, carrot, eggplant purple, orange pink and rosy reds all are present in the Cardin collection.

The small belted waist is out; the wide variety ranges from bloused-over tops giving the illusion of a longer waist to slightly waisted effects.

Save Steps And Live Longer Life

TOKYO (AP) — Save steps and live longer, is the advice of Dr. John Armstrong, medical director of the Heart Foundation of Canada.

This can be applied directly to housewives, who often waste steps beating a path back and forth across their kitchens.

"Not only by saving steps, but by using slightly different methods, you can accomplish the same amount of work with less energy, and be less tired," he says.

In 1948, a "heart" kitchen was constructed by the New York Heart Assn. committee on cardiovascular diseases in industry. Dr. Lillian Gilbreth of "Cheaper by the Dozen" fame, headed the committee.

Methods applied in industry are equally helpful in housework. Although the booklet was written primarily for women with heart disease, it has suggestions for every busy housewife who would like to enjoy extra time and extra energy.

Some of them:

Pre-positioning equipment and supplies can save hundreds of steps. Store articles where they are most often used and group things that are used together near a work area.

Seasoning, canned goods, serving dishes and platters should all be stored near the stove where they are to be used.

Soaps, knives and strainers and vegetables that don't need refrigeration should be kept near the sink where they are first used.

Baking ingredients are natural companions for rolling pins, measuring cups, mixing bowls and baking pans.

If lunches are to be prepared, assemble the wax paper, bread and other necessities near the perishable foods used in the lunch.

To save stair climbing, store small things in a box or basket along with the broom, mop and sweeper.

Work simplification can become a game for everyone in the household—and can save up to 60 per cent of the time once spent on a job.

The best way to start is to unclutter the kitchen. Good advice from the Heart Foundation is that "with a bit of drawer searching and soul searching you can gather together a box full of gadgets you never use. Throw them away."

Prepare Now For School Next Fall

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D.
AP NEWSFEATURES

THE LONG SUMMER lies ahead, school seems far off, but now is the time to make sure your child will be in the best of condition when school begins.

You will have time during the summer to do whatever needs to be done.

Make an appointment with your doctor and have a complete physical examination for each one of your children. Talk over with your doctor any and all problems you have with the children.

Johnny has had a lot of sore throats this last winter and a few times he has had infected ears. Is his hearing normal now? Maybe his tonsils are badly infected and should come out. Your doctor will not advise this operation unless it is necessary. We don't any longer drag out tonsils just because they are big. But if they really are in bad shape, spring is the ideal time to have them removed.

Do It Now

How about weight and nutrition? Has your youngster gained enough and not too much? Maybe you need to look into his diet more carefully —too many snacks and not enough muscle building staples. Maybe it is a little extra sleep he needs.

How about eyes? Every child should have an eye test once a year. If your child has had trouble in school, make very sure you get both his vision and his hearing checked. No child can learn well if he cannot see the blackboard or hear the teacher clearly.

Is this posture good, are his muscles firm and strong? Is his color good?

Ask the Doctor

Talk over with your doctor your plans for the summer. Try to see that whatever your plans, there is plenty of time and opportunity for good play outdoors.

For some children some weeks at camp are wonderful —but not for all children. And if you are planning to send a child to camp, make sure that the camp will give your child what he needs. A timid, shy child has quite different needs from a camp than an overly aggressive headstrong child.

Does your child suck his thumb, wet his bed, dawdle over his food? Talk these problems over with your doctor. Maybe that invitation from grandma would be exactly the right thing. Andy has been in the shadow of his older brother all winter. He can't call his soul his own. You just can't find the time to let him get out his slow halting little stories. You are always hurrying him up, though you know you shouldn't. A month with easy going, leisurely grandma may do wonders for him. On the other hand if grandma is a rigid person who is going to make Andy tow the line or else, for heaven's sake find a polite excuse and keep him away from there.

Plan the summer for the children to correct as many of their drawbacks as possible both physical and emotional ones.

A few children may need some tutoring in the summer. If you are going to be in the city all summer a youngster maybe a lot better off in school than with too much free time to lie around and watch television.

And one more thing—don't forget the child's teeth. Plan a visit to the dentist in the spring and get any needed dental work attended to before fall.

OUR VIEW

No Time To Move Backward

The running battle between the Texas Senate and the House of Representatives over the State Insurance board, which has spilled over into the special sessions, has ired several legislators.

There are some who feel that the senate is trying to maneuver the situation so that politics will again be a dominating factor in the insurance board. This, of course, would amount to backtracking into a setup similar to that which existed when the insurance scandals developed during the dying days of the Shivers administration.

It is no secret that senators are miffed over an attorney general's opinion which held that the senate had no authority under the insurance reorganization act of 1957 to pass on the governors' appointment of an insurance commissioner under the act.

This has made Commissioner William A. Harrison the chief target of barbs from the senate, as the battle has centered on a senate plan to put the service of Insurance Board members on a part-time basis. In case the senators have forgotten, recent experiences in this field indicate that state regulations must be maintained, and it appears highly unlikely that anything less than a full-time board would be able to perform the task as it should be done.

And, in case the senators have forgotten U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co., the ICT, etc., they should be reminded that some legislators, particularly in their branch, figured prominently in these spectacular scandals.

Admiral Rickover Opens Some Doors

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—An American's life in the Soviet Union seemed simple to U.S. Vice Admiral Hyman G. Rickover—until the Soviets told him "nyet," which is long for nix.

But he blew up such a storm that the Soviets, who probably never met anyone like the cocky, peppery Rickover before, finally said "da," which is short for yes.

What Rickover had seemed to forget or not understand was that, as a member of Vice President could do things an American stationed in Moscow wouldn't or couldn't do.

Right after his arrival with Nixon, Rickover, in civilian clothes, strode into the American Embassy, called together all the American naval officers assigned to the embassy, and said: "Let's take a walk."

The parade started. He spotted an apartment house, darted in, knocked on the doors, had a Russian-speaking naval aide explain who he was, asked the tenants how they lived, what they did, how much they earned.

Once outside Rickover, a pioneer in the atomic field, must have felt he had just blazed a new trail in door-knocking. He asked an aide: "Did you ever do this?" When the man said no, Rickover replied: "Why not? It's the only way to find out things."

The story from Moscow didn't say what Rickover's naval aides said. They could have told him that Americans attached to the Embassy in Moscow are not as free to skip around and poke their noses into things as a member of the Nixon party. Many official Soviet doors have been opened—up to a point—for the official visitors.

One American government employe, who spent years in Moscow, explained to this writer: "There are some apartment houses in Moscow where an American attached to the embassy in Moscow could walk in, knock on doors, ask questions, and try to get to know the people.

"But Americans in the embassy are always very careful about making contacts with Soviet citizens—for their sake. They don't want to do anything to make the Soviet police suspicious of the Soviet people.

"This is particularly true with American military men attached to the embassy."

The implication there is that they might be suspected of trying to learn military secrets or make spy contacts.

Further, while Rickover was able to go to Leningrad with Nixon to see the new Soviet atomic-powered icebreaker, Lenin, Americans assigned to their embassy are free to travel only within 25 miles of Moscow.

They can go farther than that only after filing notice with the Soviet government 48 hours beforehand—and then only with special permission. Many areas they can't visit at all.

The Soviets allowed Nixon and Rickover only a superficial examination of their icebreaker. This infuriated Rickover who has been accustomed to getting his own way in atomic doings in this country.

"We are getting the runaround," he said. "I want to see the inside."

He wanted to see the ship's atomic reactors. Nixon, who wanted to look at other things in Leningrad, backed him up but left Rickover on the ship, fuming.

The admiral reminded his Soviet hosts that when Deputy Premier Frol Koziov visited the United States recently he was permitted to see the reactors of the new American atomic-powered merchant ship, Savannah.

The Soviets, after long consultations, let Rickover have his way. He spent two hours climbing around the reactors.

"A fine job, a good job for the purpose for which it was planned," he commented, but added the Lenin does "not represent an advance in the reactor art."

John Hopkins University produced the bolometer, a device which can detect such a small object as a burning candle 25 miles away.

Swedish Actress Beckoning Fame

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A young Swedish girl with Civil War eyes—they're blue-gray, sonny—hopes to springboard to fame in the same role that made Marlene Dietrich an international star.

"I only hope it will do for me what it did for her," said May Britt.

She wasn't even born when Dietrich broke grandpa's heart 30 years ago with a pair of enticing gams and a throaty voice singing "Falling in Love Again." The film: "The Blue Angel."

The same song is retained in the new version of the picture.

"It has an even more interesting title in German," said May. "It is called, 'I am from head to foot made for love.'"

This seems like a pretty fair description of May herself. She is vibrantly slim, and her saucy freckled face is half-draped by long hair the color of August wheat.

May made her American debut in a few memorial scenes opposite Marlon Brando in "The Young Lions." But before that she made 11 films in Rome, where she stacked up well against the competition of such native daughters as Sophia Loren and Gina Lollobrigida.

A girl of startling beauty, she says she doesn't mind sexy roles—at least at this stage of her career.

But May has a strong distaste for bust-and-hip publicity — she doesn't like to give her personal measurements, dislikes being asked to compare European and American men.

"I don't actually know my own weight," she said. "I find it a great bore to speak about weight. Weight is very much an American preoccupation. I am not worried if friends gain or lose a few pounds. I still think the same of them.

"As to what men are most attractive, I married an American. That should settle that."

Her husband, Edwin Gregson, is a student at Stanford University.

May—it's pronounced My—was born Maybritt Wilkens in a suburb of Stockholm. Her father is a Swedish postal employe. She had worked as a baby sitter and waitress and was studying photography when Carlos Ponti, an Italian producer, discovered her.

She admires Ingrid Bergman, Greta Garbo, and Dietrich but takes pains not to imitate them.

"I like movement — hustle and bustle—people coming and going. I like to hear the telephone ring, and I love to come home and find a pile of messages waiting for me.

"But I hate to go to parties. Crowds make me shy. Too many people I can't stand around me all at once."

Eventually May hopes to have five or six children, but her career is of top interest now. She disciplines herself strictly.

"I take one drink a year and smoke one cigaret a week," she said. "I have no minor vices.

"What do I like to do? I like to do exactly what I want. You have to be in this business strong-willed."

TB Hospital Faces Loss Of Program

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—The East Texas Tuberculosis Hospital is threatened with loss of its only anaesthesiologist and the end of its entire surgical program unless special action is taken to keep Dr. Wen Jung Chiu, a native of Formosa, in this country, Dr. Samuel Topperman, hospital superintendent, has reported.

"If we lose Dr. Chiu, our whole thoracic (chest) surgery program will collapse," stated the superintendent of the hospital seven miles from here.

Dr. Chiu, his wife, also a doctor, and two United States born children, have been asked to leave the country three times because of a requirement of the Exchange Student Program. Regulations state that anyone who enters the United States under that program must leave the country for two years before returning for permanent residence.

Dr. Chiu is now in the country on borrowed time—an extension of his visa until some decision is reached on his situation.

Surgery is important in the fure of tuberculosis, according to B. L. McGee, personnel officer with the hospital.

In the fiscal year 1955-56 before Dr. Chiu's arrival, there were only 157 surgical cases at the hospital. After his arrival, figures show that 259 operations were performed in 1957-58. Already in 1959 some 206 operations have been performed.

Prior to Dr. Chiu's arrival at the hospital, the services of Tyler anaesthesiologists were depended upon in operations. Since there are only three such specialists in Tyler and they have demanding practices, the operating schedule was undependable.

Since his arrival, operations are performed at the state hospital each morning, Monday through Friday; various chest examinations requiring his services take place in the afternoons and since Dr. Chiu and his family live on the grounds, he is always available for emergencies.

Letters were written to Washington officials by the Chamber of Commerce public health committee, the Ministerial Alliance, the Smith County Medical Society, Dr. Chiu's Sunday school class, and Dr. Jesse Goldféder, Tyler-Smith County health officer.

Red Concrete Crumbling

MOSCOW (AP) — The harried director of the U.S. exhibition in Moscow made ready today to lay a coating of asphalt over 30,000 square feet of concrete floor being ground to powder by thousands of Russian boots.

Harold C. McClellan, general director of the exhibit, said it might be a good idea if some U.S. firm agreed to ship in crew and material to install a durable flooring.

The dust storm is blamed on the poor quality of the concrete floor the Soviets laid.

The floor beneath the great gold dome became a dust bowl after an estimated 70,000 visitors trudged past the exhibits Sunday. Since then cleaning crews have been trying with only partial success to keep down the dust.

Snyder Students Dominate Industrial Arts Competition

A total of $860 in cash awards, including one of the nation's 32 outstanding achievement awards, are being made to Snyder industrial arts students in the 13th annual Industrial Arts Awards Contest of Ford Motor Co.

Snyder junior high and high school students continued to dominate the industrial arts competition in Texas as they took 20 of the 39 Industrial Arts Awards handed down to Texas students.

The outstanding achievement award, which includes a $100 first place in woodworking and a trip to Dearborn, Mich., Oct. 1-3, went to John Boyd, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Abner M. Boyd, 1306 Twenty-fourth Street, for the violin with case and bow he built as a shop class project. Going with him to Dearborn will be Joe T. Harwell, his shop instructor last year in the junior high. This will be the second expense-paid trip to Deaborn for Harwell, who went there last year with James McCormick, another outstanding achievement winner.

Rob Hall, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hall, 2708 Thirty-fifth Street, was one of four first place winners in Texas, along with Boyd, Jimmy Holleman of Harlingen and Charles Paul of Harlingen. Hall's first place came for a model table and chairs made in one of Crawford's classes.

Texas was fifth highest state in the nation in the awards. Winners were selected from more than 4,000 projects submitted from 39 states, the District of Columbia, Canada, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. Winners will share about $50,000 in prizes.

The 671 winners were selected by a panel of judges, including vocational teachers, skilled craftsmen and engineers. The contest is open annually to students in junior high and high schools and students at vocational and trade schools.

Other Snyder winners:

Annie Lee Parrish, 14, 1208 Nineteenth Street, junior high student of Harwell, $80 second award for Spanish electric guitar in open divisjon.

Alp Crossing Is Foiled

LE PLANEY, France (AP) — Jumbo the traveling elephant headed slowly back home today, her handlers' attempts to re-enact Hannibal's historic crossing of the Alps foiled by a landslide everybody overlooked.

British historian John Hoyte started climbing with Jumbo a week ago to prove that Hannibal could have taken the 7,300-foot high Clapier Pass in his elephant-assisted invasion of Italy in 219 B.C. Other historians believe the Carthaginian used lower passes near the Mediterranean.

After covering 72 miles and climbing from 726 feet to 7,150, Hoyte discovered on arrival here Monday that the pass had been blocked for some time by a slide.

The historian said he hoped to find another route through which to maneuver Jumbo back to her home in the Turin, Italy, zoo.

Brazil Will Expel Birrell

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Brazil intends to expel Lowell M. Birrell on charges the New York lawyer-financier entered the country on a false passport, a police official said Monday.

But Birrell's counsel indicated to newsmen Birrell would fight being sent back to the United States, where he faces charges of stealing stock worth 14 million dollars.

Birrell's attorney, Jorge Chaloupe Sobrinho, told newsmen the New York is willing to go back to the United States only if U.S. authorities can prove to Brazilian officials that his client stole the stocks.

Dating Town Girls Taboo

MALVERN, England (AP) — Boys at one of England's swankier schools have been advised discreetly: "Dating town girls just isn't done."

Young gentlemen at Malvern College instead should choose their girl friends from three or four expensive private schools nestling in the surrounding hills.

Wolf whistles are out and local belles are asked to look the other way as the boys in black jackets pass.

"Call it advice," said 49-year-old Headmaster Donald Lindsay, 49, "discreet advice."

"It is not snobbery, you know," the headmaster added. "It is a question of manners. Boys will be boys—if you let them."

Jacquelin Hart Decides To Delay Her Wedding Plans

SHORT HILLS, N.J. (AP) — Socialite Jacquelin Gay Hart, 21, who says she fled to Chicago to escape the strain of elaborate wedding plans, has decided to postpone her marriage.

Publicity over her case caused the postponement, says Gay's father, Ralph A. Hart.

Hart, executive vice president of the Colgate Palmolive Co., told of his daughter's decision Monday. He said she eventually would marry Stanley Gaines, 25, of Fayetteville, W.Va., as planned, but gave no date. They were to be wed Aug. 29.

Newsmen sought Gaines' reaction. He said he and Gay would have a "quiet wedding with as little publicity as we could possibly hope for."

Gaines plans to get away for a vacation with Gay and her mother "as soon as we possibly can."

A nationwide alarm went out for Gay last week. The honey-blonde vanished without a trace from Newark Airport after seeing Gaines off to Pittsburgh.

She turned up Friday in Chicago, 50 hours after her disappearance, and told police that she had been kidnaped. She admitted later the story was false.

Gay told authorities that she was unable to stand the pressure of wedding preparations and decided to leave New Jersey to get away from her responsibilities.

Police in both Chicago and New Jersey questioned Gay closely about her flight. The most recent investigation was conducted Monday in Hart's big, ranch-style home here.

After the session, Essex County Prosecutor Brendan Byrne announced no charges would be filed against Gay.

When Gay was found police noted she had what appeared to be arm bruises and a discolored lip.

The "bruises" were actually skin discolorations she has had since birth and the discolored lips resulted from nervously biting them during police questioning, Byrne said.

Hart said his daughter was feeling much better but declined to let her speak to newsmen.

Cartoon Features U. S. Ambassador

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The News paper Ultimas Noticas carried an editorial cartoon Monday on U. S. Ambassador Robert C. Hill in reference to his speech in Albuquerque, N. M., last week.

The ambassador said the Organization of American States (OAS) should do something to halt the spread of Communism in Latin America.

The cartoon shows Hill trying to take his wife, labeled 'OAS' while he hands her the telephone and says, "wake up dear, it is a call from the Caribbean."

German Nazi leader Hermann Goering was secretly named by his staff officers as "Ruben trop," which means "steal too much."

Score Still 'If' Man On Tribe Staff

By ED WILKS
Associatede Press Sports Writer

Herb Score still is the "if" man for Cleveland, but now the young left-hander coould be the difference between the pennant and a near-miss by the Indians, not just a first or second division finish.

In each of the last two springs the lightly regarded Indians had been figured to be only as good as Score. Last season it was "if Score can come back from that tragic injury." This spring it was "if Score can shake that arm trouble."

Now, with the Injuns shooting for all the marbles, he has been the tough-luck disappointment of their surprising staff.

Score lost his fourth in a row Monday night, a loser to a shutout for the second time in a three-week span. This one was a three-hitter by Jerry Casale that ended Boston's slump at six games with a 4-0 victory, clipped the Injuns' winning streak at five and dropped them into a tie for the American League lead with Chicago's idle White Sox.

It was only the sixth time Cleveland has been blanked this season, but Score (9-9) has been the loser in half of them.

In the only other AL games, Kansas City matched the longest winning streak in the majors this season, making it eight in a row with a 7-6 decision over Washington that hoisted the A's past Detroit into fifth place. Baltimore dropped the Tigers 5-2, with Gene Woodling driving in all the Oriole runs.

In the National League, Milwaukee put away a five-game sweep over Pittsburgh, 5-2, and regained second place, closing within 1½ games of idle San Franciaco. Cincinnati rapped St. Louis 8-3 in the only other game.

The Indians managed nothing but singles off Casale, 25, a right-handed rookie whose only other shutout was a three-hit job on the White Sox last month. He walked five and struck out three in gaining a 7-6 record.

The last place Red Sox, only 4-10 against Cleveland for the season, put it away with a run in the second on Dick Gernert's single, two walks and an infield out. Jackie Jensen and Frank Malzone added solo homers. Jensen hitting his 22nd, off Score, and Malzone his 12th off Al Cicotte.

Score, without a victory since July 3 and beaten in seven of his last 11 decisions over two months, gave up four hits, walked five and fanned five in his five innings. He now has an 11-12 record since almost losing an eye when struck by a line drive in '57.

Two runs in the eighth on singles by pinchhitter Frank House and Joe DeMaestri won it for the A's, matching the White Sox's mid-May winning streak. The Senators, losing their ninth in a row, set a Washington record with 123 home runs for a season on Harmon Killebrew's 33rd and a grand-slam by Faye Throneberry, which was matched by the A's Roger Maris. Harry Chiti also homered for Kansas City. Murry Dickson (1-0) won it, with Hal Woodeshick (0-3) the loser.

It was Washington's 98th game, putting Killebrew three games behind Babe Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927. The Babe hit his 33rd in game No. 95 and collected his 34th in game No. 98.

Woodling, driving in the Orioles' last nine runs, cracked a grand-slam, his 13th homer, off loser Jim Bunning (9-9) in the third inning, then added an RBI single in the seventh. Hec Brown (7-6) won it with Billy Loes' three innings of hitless relief.

Promoter Is Sure Ingo Will Appear

GOTEBORG, Sweden, (AP) — Promoter Bill Rosensohn is sure Ingemar Johansson will defend his heavyweight title against Floyd Patterson as per agreement in the United States in September.

Edwin Ahlquist, the champion's advisor, says there will be no negotiations until all questions about Ingemar's purse for the first fight, June 26, are fully settled.

Johansson said he surely is going to the United States. He added henceforth he would only sign contracts "where I can see the signature of my challenger on the opposite side."

Ahlquist and Rosensohn held conferences all day Monday. Then Ahlquist called a press conference to explain that the promoter was going back to New York today to get a complete financial statement on the first fight.

Rosensohn had nothing to say at the conference. Monday night in a telephone interview he said emphatically he had an ironclad contract for the return fight. He said he was confident things would be straightened out.

"It is only natural that he wants to see that he gets what he has coming to him," said Rosensohn. Much of the champ's purse was tied up in escrow to assure he would go through with the rematch and in legal proceedings by heavyweight Eddie Machen who claimed damages for a run-out on an alleged rematch.

When a reporter asked Rosensohn to confirm or deny rumors that he might become Ingemar's manager, the promoter laughed it off. "I am a promoter, not a manager," he said.

Rosensohn repeated that he would handle all the television and radio arrangements for the rematch.

Continental League Plans To Begin Operation In '61

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The five founding cities of the third major baseball league — the Continental League—plan to operate in 1961 with at least eight clubs.

Where will they get the players? Will they work with the other majors? Or outside the present structure?

These questions will be batted around when the founders meet Aug. 18 with Commissioner Ford Frick's seven-man committee from the existing majors.

New York is one of the five founders. The names and backers of the others were announced Monday at a news conference by Bill Shea, chairman of Mayor Wagner's baseball committee.

Toronto, Houston, Denver and Minneapolis-St. Paul round out the group of founders. Shea listed 11 cities that have voiced interest in joining. They are Buffalo, Montreal, Atlanta, New Orleans, Miami, Indianapolis, Dallas-Fort Worth, Seattle, Portland, Ore., San Diego and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Shea said he hoped to have two or three more cities lined up with the founders before his group meets with Frick's committee. He declined to reveal details of his plans for securing players from existing major league teams and their minor league farms.

The new league said it expected full cooperation from the American and National leagues, who voted in May to favorably consider applications for major league status by "an acceptable group of eight clubs which could qualify."

Shea said the league would have a minimum of eight clubs, perhaps 10 and more than 12 when fully organized. It will play a 154-game schedule.

"We are proceeding on the basis of complete and unqualified cooperation of the two existing major leagues," Shea said in a statement.

Shea also disclosed the league had arranged to comply with a request from Seanator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) to appear July 31 in Washington before an antitrust subcommittee.

Such matters as the league presidency, the additional cities, television, bonus payments and major-minor relations are still to be determined.

Each owner has put up $50,000 and is prepared to dig down for $2,500,000, exclusive of park facilities, to finance the promotion.

Jack Kent Cooke, owner of the Toronto franchise in the International League, backs the Toronto franchise with $2,500,000 of his own money.

Houston's effort is backed by the Houston Sports Assn., under the chairmanship of Craig Cullinan Jr., an oil executive.

The Minneapolis-St. Paul franchise is backed by a group of citizens, headed by Wheelock Whitney Jr.

In Denver it is Robert L. Howsam, owner of the Denver club of the American Association. His father-in-law, Edwin C. Johnson, a former Colorado governor, U.S. senator and president of the defunct Western League, has been working with Shea in the formation of the league. There is some talk that he might be the president.

The New York backers were identified several weeks ago. There are three groups headed by Joan W. Payson, sister of John Hay Whitney, American ambassador to Great Britain; Dorothy Killam of Montreal and Dwight F. Davis Jr., son of the donor of tennis' Davis Cup. Mrs. Payson is a stockholder in the San Francisco Giants.

Red Sox Get Big Shake-Up

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey, challenging his players to get going or get out, has ordered the cellar club's infield shaken up.

Yawkey and General Manager Bucky Harris Monday called the shots as shortstop Jim Mahoney and Negro pitcher Earl Wilson were summoned from the Minneapolis farm.

After a phone conversation with field boss Billy Jurges in Cleveland, it was announced that Mahoney, batting .211 in the American Assn., would start for the Sox at short in tonight's doubleheader with the Indians. Pumpsie Green, recently called up as the first Negro to play for the parent club, takes over second base while Pete Runnels moves to first.

Benched until further notice are shortstop Don Buddin and previously platooned first basemen Dick Gernert and Vic Wertz.

Jurges said in Cleveland he would work Wilson (10-2) in relief at first, then perhaps move him to a starting job later.

Aparicio Is Top 'Bandit'

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Luis Aparicio, the little bandit of the basepaths, from Maraciabo, Venezuela, has Chicago White Sox rivals cursing with admiration.

The 25-year-old shortstop, the solid center of Chicago's well knit defense, is keeping the Sox in contention for the American League pennant not only with his fielding but also his superb base-running.

Luis has been the American League's top base stealer since breaking in the majors in 1956. As a rookie had had 21 stolen bases. Two years ago he led the league with 28, last year he was tops with 29 and this year he already has 31.

The minute Luis gets on base, White Sox fans begin their hammering chant of "go, go, go." He has been caught stealing only eight times and three of these involved the tough attempts at third base or home plate.

In the field, Luis has no peer in either league. There are those who claim he is the greatest shortstop of all time. Many who won't go this far refuse to name anyone greater and add "he's as good as any" they've seen.

Baltimore Manager Paul Richards recently called Aparicio "the greatest living shortstop of all time."

Four of West Virginia's football defeats in 1958 came by a total of 17 points.

Braves' Mound Staff Gets Back Into Winning Form

By ED WILKS

The Milwaukee Braves, who only a few days ago looked as they had had it, now have it again—and the "it" is pitching.

With Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette, Juan Pizarro, Bob Buhl and Joey Jay back in form, the Braves have reclaimed second place, closing within 1½ games of idle San Francisco in the National League race as Pal Joey put away a five-game sweep over Pittsburgh Monday, 5-2.

That five-man staff gave up only three runs in the five games, blanking the Bucs through the first 30 2-3 innings and not allowing an earned run for 38 frames until Pittsburgh finally got one home in the third inning Monday.

Cincinnati rapped St. Louis 8-3 in the only other NL game.

In the American League, Cleveland dropped into a first-place tie with idle Chicago, losing 4-0 to Boston and the three-hit pitching of rookie Jersey Casale. Kansas City matched the longest winning string in the majors this season, making it eight straight with a 7-6 victory over Washington. Baltimore defeated Detroit 5-2, with Gene Woodling driving in all the Oriole runs, in the only other game.

Despite a five-hitter by Jay (4-7), who hadn't won in a month, the Braves didn't bag it until the seventh. Blanked on three hits until then by Ron Kline (7-10), they broke loose for all five runs, scoring on Del Crandall's tying, two-run single and Bobby Avila's clinching, two-run triple.

With Jay gaining only his third complete game in more than a year, the Braves now have won six of seven since dropping seven straight and skidding to fourth place. They trailed by 4½ just five days ago.

Now they're even with the Giants in the lost column and have a two-percentage point edge over the Dodgers.

The Reds scored twice in the first inning, then nailed Vinegar Bend Mizell (11-6) with Johnny Temple's fifth homer, a three-run shot in the fourth. Bob Purkey (9-10) went all the way, giving up five of the Cards' nine hits when they scored all three runs in the fifth.

Indians Rap Yankees, 16-4

The Indians began to creep out of last place last night as they downed the Yankees 16-4 in the American Farm League.

This gave the Indians a 7-8 record, which tied that held by the Athletics.

The Athletics fell to the White Sox 22-9 in a five-inning game called on a 10-run rule, but it was played under protest.

Present standings, if that game stands, put the White Sox on top with 11-4, Yankees second with 9-7, Indians third with 7-8 and Athletics last with 7-9.

The league has two regularly scheduled games per team to go to finish the season, plus one makeup if it means a difference in standings. Play is expected to be finished this week.

Tonight it will be the White Sox vs. Yankees in the 6 p.m. game and Indians vs. Athletics in the second game.

Escapee Is Caught In Waco Search

WACO (AP)—Police said today a barefoot man arrested during a search for three prowlers in North Waco last night has identified himself as a prisoner who escaped from the stockade at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The man was picked up after a Waco couple reported they surprised three men, one of them barefoot, in the couple's home last night.

One of the trio was carrying a hatchet and a second man had a rifle. The men fled.

Policemen searching the area said they discovered a barefoot man wearing a pair of pants over a red bathing suit walking down the street shortly after the couple reported the prowlers.

When police stopped him he fainted. Taken to the police station and revived, he was jailed for investigation of burglary.

Officers said he told them he had two companions, still sought by police, broke out of the Marine stockade at Camp Pendleton "some time ago," stole an auto and drove to Waco, where they sold the auto to a used car dealer.

The man identified himself as Rupert Dowler, 23, Rockdale, Colo.

Sirens May Spur Rockets

NEW YORK (AP)—A New York firm has been awarded a government contract to study the possibility of using a siren to speed up rockets of the future.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration awarded the $85,000 contract to Acoustica Associates.

The problem concerns solid-fuel rockets. At present such rockets contain a mixture of gases trapped in tiny pockets of a rubbery material molded to the inside of the rocket chamber.

When an electric spark touches off the rocket, the gases mix and burn. The siren's sound waves would speed up the mixing of the gases as they seep from the rubbery base.

Thus the higher the power of the siren, the faster the rate of burning and the faster the speed of the rocket.

Crude Flow Levels Off

TULSA (AP) — Oil production leveled off last week with a decline in Oklahoma balancing small increases in most other states, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Production totaled 6,859,405 barrels a day, 295 barrels a day less than the previous week. But the figure was 352,905 barrels per day above the same period in 1958.

Production for the year totals 1,470,545,025 barrels compared with 1,333,941,920 for the same period last year.

The biggest decline was Oklahoma's 15,700 barrel dip to 524,000 barrels a day.

Other increases included Arkansas up 250 to 81,275, and Louisiana up 300 to 981,200.

Unchanged were New Mexico, 291,800, and Texas, 2,478,675.

Quick-Thinking Cop Prevents Disaster

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When a truck loaded with 12 tons of gravel started to roll down an embankment onto the Harbor Freeway, policeman Norman Judd leaped—not to safety, but into his patrol car parked in the path of the truck. He slammed on his brakes. The truck smashed into the car's grill. It shoved the car seven feet. Both stopped short of the busy freeway.

Officials credited Judd's action with preventing a possible major smashup in the five traffic-jammed lanes. He had stopped to question the disabled truck's driver.

Boy's Body Found At Base Of Glacier

IDAHO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—A boy's cap at the base of a rocky ledge led searchers to the body of Larry Corkran, 12, Monday.

The youngster apparently slipped unnoticed from a narrow mountain trail while on an outing with a teen-age group Sunday.

Searchers found his body 200 feet from the trail. It lay at the base of St. Mary's Glacier northwest of here, at 11,000 foot elevation.

Teen-Aged Gunman Attacked By Bear

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — A teen-aged sharpshooter fired at a charging bear Monday, but the animal knocked his rifle aside and clawed him so severely a doctor said he would be blind.

Lee Hagmeier, 17, of Auke Bay, Alaska, was reported in fair condition at a Juneau hospital after two hours of surgery.

Junior Editors Quiz on INVENTIONS

QUESTION: Who invented scales?

• • •

ANSWER: Like many things in common use, scales for weighing were not invented by a single person. But some scientists believe that the first people to use scales were the Egyptians, hundreds of years before the Christian Era.

The scale basically is a machine which can show the weight of any substance. It can be big enough to weigh an elephant or sensitive enough to weigh a mosquito.

All scales are based on the idea of balance. There are platform scales, such as the ones commonly found in bathrooms, and open balance scales, which have two pans hung from a central point. In the use of the open balance scale, a weight of known value—such as a five pound measure—is placed in one pan and the things to be weighted in the other pan. When they balance equally, they are of the same weight.

In the platform scale, a hinged platform is set above a fixed one. An object placed on the hinged platform causes it to press on a mechanism which then shows the weight.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: You can make a simple scale by balancing a small board or even a ruler from a central point and then hanging things on the opposite ends until they balance. Or you can put something of known weight on one end and then other things on the other end until you have weighed the right amount.

Texas Youth Is Rescued From Ledge

IDAHO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Johnny Fowler, 16, of Seagraves, Tex., was rescued early today from a ledge at the 11,000-foot elevation on Mount Shavona in Central Colorado.

He was with a church group when he became lost Monday night. A member of the party spotted the boy on the ledge and called officers.

Two men were lowered by rope 120 feet down the face of the canyon to remove the boy. His ankles were injured when he attempted to climb the canyon wall and fell about 20 feet to the ledge.

Deputy Sheriff Jim Jelinek said the Seagraves youth was with a Methodist Church group.

Salida Fire Chief Tom Bergman and game warden Marvin Smith were lowered down the canyon to assist the boy.

The youth was carried by stretcher to an ambulance and was admitted to a Salida hospital. His ankles were to be X-rayed today.

Sheriff Harold Thonoff said the group, 31 boys and girls and 9 adult leaders from Methodist churches in the Texas Panhandle, had climbed to the summit of 14,239-foot Mount Shavano Monday afternoon and were descending the mountain when the boy became lost.

Hugh Daniels of Lubbock is group leader.

One Dead In Police Chase

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP)—Police surprised four persons leaving an Arlington pharmacy early today with a supply of stolen narcotics.

One of the quartet died from wounds received in the bullet-punctuated chase that followed through Arlington and Fort Worth. His three companions, one of them his wife, were jailed in Arlington.

The dead man was Wesley Bentley, 35, identified by the Dallas County sheriff's department as a Dallas police character.

Bentley died of wounds apparently suffered when a shotgun blast hit the car as it sped from more than a dozen Fort Worth and Arlington squad cars.

He was discovered in the car after it struck a tree in Fort Worth's Sycamore Park after running through a police road block.

Bentley's wife, Lila Jo, 33; a Dallas woman identified as Myrtle C. Smith, 27, and a man identified as Carl M. Bentley, 29, were arrested after the car struck the tree.

Police said they believe Carl is the brother of Paul.

The Bentley men and Mrs. Bentley have lengthy police records, officers said.

The trio was booked for investigation of burglary.

Iceland Bids For U. S. Market

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Iceland has fish for sale. If it has its way, the United States will buy a lot of it and thereby help this nation, a link in the North Atlantic defense system, build its economy and diminish any dependency on the Soviet Union.

A group of frozen food experts here from the United States agreed that the Icelandic fish is fine tasting food.

"We'll buy all we can get, just freeze it right, package it right and make the price right," said Walter Meier, frozen food broker from Milwaukee.

Meier indicated the flow of Icelandic fish to the United States may be stepped up considerably. The government invited Stokely Dave Elggren of Salt Lake City, Brock Steel of Orlando, Fla. and others to investigate the possibilities.

As it stands now, the United States seems to have won the battle for Iceland's political support but the need is to cement the thing from an economic viewpoint. The fishing industry, representing 97 per cent of Iceland's exports, is the key.

Government people say the foreign reserves accruing from work on the NATO airbase are useful but they want American support for the island's principal economy and the one it will have to live on under all circumstances, cold war or peace.

Says the Foreign Office though its varying officialdom:

"Back up the fishing export market, help us build roads, power plants, industry that will go forward eternally." Officially the government cannot say these things. Icelanders being too proud to hold out their hands, but this is what they believe.

American State Department people here take the view also that the ups-and-downs of military spending at the air base disrupt the economy in the sense that one year 15 million dollars may be spent and the next year only 7 million. That is because military planning has to be what it is.

Ambassador John J. Muccio, here almost five years, has tapped Icelandic thinking. Muccio and his energetic staff have captured the respect of Icelandic officials.

Today one-third of Iceland's fish are going eastward to the Soviet Union, East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia. The United States is taking about 13 per cent, West Germany and Scandinavia about 10 per cent each. From the Western nations, Iceland gets something it can use. From Poland it is receiving Polish vodka and the Icelander doesn't much need anything more to drink. Czech light bulbs arrive and explode when inserted. Soviet gasoline is still the only valuble import from the East. Americans on duty to protect Iceland buy for their cars gasoline that comes from Baku, U.S.S.R.

A battle with Britain over the cod, haddock and herring catch exploited last September when Iceland imposed a 12-mile fishing limit off its shores.

At stake was a revenue of almost nine million dollars a year to Britain for fish caught within that limit. The British refused to bow to the order and sent in 12 warships, a task force of 5,000 naval men, to protect its trawlers.

The British patrol was enough to keep West Germany, Belgium and the Soviet Union out of the waters. Five Icelandic motor vessels badger any British trawlers they run into in so-called "poaching pockets."

An icelandic government authority commented sardonically: "We didn't plan it that way but the British are now patrolling 90 per cent of our waters at no cost to us by keeping the Russians, Belgians and Germans out. We can take care of the remainder."

The nation is leaning for a final solution on an international fishing conference in Genoa, Italy, next spring. Ice authorities here believe the conference will vote for the 12-mile limit but if not, at least a compromise of nine miles would be reached, a far cry from the British demand for four miles.

The issue has struck hard at every man on the street in Iceland because he knows fish are it. When he threw rocks at the British Embassy last fall over this issue, he wasn't fooling.

Since the fishing dispute, the Icelander has been looking at his friends. He has noted that England took 90 per cent of Iceland exports only 15 years ago and now takes a fraction less than 10 per cent. Deals which were reckoned in pounds not long ago are now discussed in dollars and German marks. The automobiles on the streets are American. Youngsters wear blue jeans and the candy shops display chewing gum. Ginger beer has disappeared, Coca-Cola has arrived.

Mt. Kenya in Africa rises 17,000 feet abouve the tropical area it overlooks. It is only 10 miles from the equator.

Finger Printing School Underway

A finger printing school is being taught by a special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation for members of the Snyder police department.

The instructor is Doyle Williams of the Dallas office of the FBI.

Six members of the Snyder police force are taking the classes. Classes are held two hours each morning and two hours each afternoon this week and officers will end with 20 hours of instruction in finger printing.

Williams said the school is designed to teach finger print taking, lifting of latent finger prints at scenes of crimes, identification and classification of finger prints, and organization of a finger print file as part of the police department's identification division.

"The school will also stress the importance of finger prints as a positive means of legal identification usable in prosecution of criminals," Williams said.

"This school is another example of the close cooperation between the FBI and local police departments in a unified effort to bring about better, more effective law enforcement throughout the country," he added.

He complimented T. L. Steele, Snyder police chief, for taking advantage of the FBI's school program and bringing the school here. The school is free to Snyder.

Williams also said that special finger print experts with the FBI will be made available to Snyder if they are needed to give documentary evidence and informed testimony in trials involving finger print evidence.

A part of the school will also be setting up in the Snyder police department a finger print division in which finger prints of all persons arrested here in the future will be kept on record.

Members of the Snyder police department taking the course are Leonard White, J. H. Kimmel, Alfred Kohl, C. E. Patton, Dan Callaway, and Robert Clemons.

Rockefeller Romance Seen

KRISTIANSAND, Norway (AP) —There's a hot rumor here that Steven Rockefeller, son of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, and a former maid in the Rockefeller household are in love.

Steven, however, says he and pretty Anne Marie Rasmussen are "just good friends. That's that."

Anne Marie, 21, daughter of a grocer here, says there has been no talk of a wedding.

The romance rumors were sparked by a long leisurely motorbike trip they took together. Newspapers here are making a big thing of it.

Steven, 23, said Monday: "I'm just on vacation and just visiting Annie Marie."

The girl went to the United States in 1956 to do domestic work, as do many young Norwegian girls. While working in the Rockefeller home she is reported to have had several dates with Steven.

Later she returned to Norway. Steven went into military service in January for a six-month tour.

Murchison Allowed To Buy Into Firm

NASHVILLE (AP) — Texas Millionaire Clint Murchison has the Tennessee Supreme Court's permission to buy a controlling interest in Life and Casualty Insurance Co. for $2.5 million dollars.

The court refused to review an appeals court ruling which upheld the sale.

The case was taken to the supreme court to eliminate the possibility of legal bars to the transaction.

Two Children Swept To Death In Creek

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — A normally shallow creek, swollen by a heavy rain, swept two children to their deaths Monday.

The victims, both Negroes, were Diane Williams, 11, of Greensboro and Doris Jean Head, 10, of Akron, Ohio.

Authorities said the girls were wading when the flash flood swept them off their feet. Their bodies were recovered three-quarters of a mile downstream.

Negro Drive Draws Fire

NEW YORK (AP)—An NAACP drive to get Negro liquor salesmen a larger share of the Harlem market has touched off allegations that this may constitute discrimination against whites.

The Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, a national Jewish organization, said Monday it was investigating such allegations.

The league said the problem was extremely delicate, because of the long and close association the groups have had in fighting discrimination against both Negroes and Jews.

The campaign was begun by the New York branch of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. The national organization was not consulted in advance. So far it has taken no stand on the issue.

Long Rides With Divorcee

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana ditched a bunch of trailing newsmen and his police escort Monday night and took an automobile ride with a pretty divorcee. After a midnight chat with her, he returned to his hotel room.

Today he planned to take one of the thermal baths for which this resort city is famous and visit the "Jet-Em-Down" store at Pine Ridge, Ark., made famous by radio's Lum and Abner comedy team.

After their drive, Ann Billings, about 35, auburn-haired, divorcee from Memphis, Tenn., said their talk was delightful.

"We talked about politics," she told newsmen. "He's got a brilliant mind; I don't care what they say."

Air-Liquor Measure Is Up For Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question of mixing air and liquor arises in a House Commerce subcommittee today.

Specifically, the group opens hearings on eight bills to prohibit the serving of alcoholic beverages to airline passengers while the plane is in flight between points in the United States.

Some airlines don't serve drinks at all, some limit drinks to two per person. Some offer drinks free some sell them. One serves only champagne.
