Texas voters due vote on gambling

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas voters will decide next year whether the state should legalize gambling on horse and dog racing for the first time in half a century.

Gov. Mark White on Wednesday allowed the bill, which could OK pari-mutuel wagering, to become law without his signature. The measure puts the question on the November 1987 election ballot.

White said the issue has been too hotly debated for a single public official to decide it.

"I believe other Texans should have the right to make up their own minds just as I have, because we are all equally entitled to our own beliefs," White said.

"I will vote against pari-mutuel wagering, but each one of us will have one vote to cast — a very important vote — as equal citizens of Texas," he said.

Rep. Hugo Berlanga, D-Corpus Christi, said White's decision was a good one.

Debate underway...

Tax plan vote due

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supporters predicted approval by a comfortable margin today, but lobbying continued down to the wire, as the House began debate on the most sweeping tax code revision in four decades.

"We're plodding toward victory," said House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass.

Rep. Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash., the assistant majority leader, said, "We're getting more and more votes all the time, a steady increase."

O'Neill added that Republican leaders had told him a majority of GOP members would vote to approve the package.

Earlier, Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee and a chief architect of the plan, said, "I think we could comfortably win this by 30 to 40 to 50 votes."

The last major threat to passage of the measure evaporated Wednesday when House Republican Leader Robert H. Michel of Illinois told his GOP colleagues he would exercise his prerogative as leader to offer a motion to send the legislation back to the House-Senate negotiators.

Only one such motion is allowed on the bill. Thus, Michel's action ended an effort led by Rep. Bill Archer, R-Texas, to make a more detailed motion to force specific changes in the bill.

The idea was to piece together proposals that together might have drawn enough votes to force new negotiations on the bill. Michel's action to offer a motion without instructions took away any incentive to vote for it.

After the closed session of Republicans, which several participants described as strained and tense, Michel issued a statement saying Archer's motion presented "a risk that the entire (tax-overhaul) effort could be scuttled."

Right-of-way requirement...

Appraisal to begin for 1611 extension

Commissioners hired an appraiser and set the location for a public hearing on the proposed extension of FM 1611 during a special session Thursday.

After unanimously accepting field notes from the state highway department, court members approved a motion to hire J.N. "Joe" Montgomery of Abilene to conduct a preliminary appraisal of the 26.2 acres of property needed for the project.

As proposed, the 3.7 mile extension would link FM 1611 (where it now intersects at FM 1607 west of the city) to the Big Spring Highway (Texas Hwy. 350). The intersection at 350 would be across from FM 2763, which fronts Western Texas College.

In this way, truck traffic could bypass Snyder with connections to every major highway running into the city.

To complete the route, county officials must purchase right-of-way for approximately 2 miles of property belonging to the Winston Brothers estate. Helen Hatter, a member of the Winston family, attended Thursday's session.

Regarding the appraisal work, Montgomery set his fee at $50 per hour or $400 per day with an additional 30 cents per mile to cover travel expenses. The county will also pay any expenses incurred

Donation to effort 'same day'

The first donation from the national division of this year's United Way camapign was received Wednesday--the same day letters sent to the out-of-county firms were received.

Making the $400 donation was the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company, which serves Scurry and Nolan Counties through its Lubbock-based regional office.

Regional Manager Sam T. Phillips Jr. received his donor request card Wednesday morning and traveled to Snyder that afternoon to make the donation in person.

Girl's European visit is 'dream come true'

By Shirley A. Gorman
SDN News Editor

Dee Butler, daughter of Dr. Leslie and Bekky Butler of Snyder, experienced a "dream come true" this summer when she spent several weeks visiting in Austria.

First stop was Vienna with a population of 2 million people. Next came Badgastien in the Alps and finally Spittal/Drau. Each stay was for two weeks and each time Butler was joined by other American girls who were also participating in the International Youth Exchange program.

She was there from June 2-Aug. 1. The time change with her trip was so great, of the 16 hours spent in flight to Austria, only three of them were in darkness, she said.

Butler said she greatly enjoyed her first two week visit which she shared with a girl from Amarillo. Her Austrian "sisters" were aged 20 and 22 and her "brother" was 18.

"We went to the opera and a debutante ball in a palace. I didn't have anything to wear so I borrowed an oversized pair of shoes and dress," she said with a laugh.

"I had to walk about nine blocks in those shoes to get there."

While at the ball, Butler met Dukes and barons. "It was like stepping out of a storybook," she said.

They spent an afternoon biking down the Danube River, about 20 miles in all. Her family lived in a flat in Vienna, but they also

Cogdell employs new laboratory supervisor

Cogdell Memorial Hospital officials have hired Robert LaCoe as chief laboratory technician to replace Kevin Barfield, who resigned to continue his education.

As laboratory chief, LaCoe will oversee all laboratory functions.

Originally from Pennsylvania, he received a bachelor of science degree from East Stroudsberg College in that state. He pursued further training in cytotechnology from the University of Ohio, and computer training at the University of Illinois. He also attended Cook County College in Gainesville to study business administration and management.

LaCoe began his career in laboratory technology in 1959 with the U.S. Air Force. He retired as a major in 1979 after 21 years service — the last 18 years as a laboratory officer.

Prior to his appointment here, he held a similar position in Muenster, a town of some 1,400 people about 60 miles north of Fort Worth. "We only had 33 beds in the hospital," he said. "But it was interesting because it served as the orthopedic hospital for the Dallas Cowboys."

LaCoe noted that his family was attracted to Snyder "because of the cleanliness of the town and the friendliness of the people."

He added, "We understand the school has a fine reputation and we are impressed with the school. That was a determining factor in us coming here."

LaCoe and his wife Annette have three daughters, Leigh, Linda and Lissa.

Session tonight aimed at high school parent

How the parents of high school age students can assist their children with "study skills and...home reinforcement of these skills" plus other school-related information will be profiled Thursday at the final "parent training workshop" scheduled this week by Snyder school officials.

Similar workshops were conducted Monday for elementary parents and Tuesday for those with children in junior high.

The high school workshop will begin at 7 p.m. in Worsham Auditorium.

In charge of it is Principal Ray Courtney, assisted by Ned Underwood and Lee Presswood, assistant principals, and SHS counselors Janet Wesson and John Short.

The counselors will provide parents with information regarding home study skills. The district's discipline management plan, curriculum objectives and grading requirements will be discussed by administrators.

School officials say parents will find the workshop helpful in planning ways to work with their high school children during the school year. Handouts will be provided

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Everybody wants to eat at the government's table, but nobody wants to do the dishes."

A recent article in a newspaper trade publication said that newspaper folks are in a high-stress occupation. The article was based on research done at a British university.

A team of occupational stress researchers from Manchester University's Institute of Science and Technology ranked 150 occupations on a scale of 10 to 0.

At a rating of 7.5, journalists shared the third highest level of stress with prison guards, civil aviation pilots and construction workers.

Only miners, rated at 8.3, and police officers, rated at 7.7, endured higher on-the-job stress.

News people, the research concluded, face more stress than even such seemingly high-risk jobs as doctors and tax collectors, 6.8; bus drivers, 5.4; actors, 7.2; and diplomats, 4.8.

It makes us wonder just how relaxed SDN staffer Noble Young would look if it wasn't for the job-induced stress.

It's been a stressful situation in Austin, with legislators trying to figure out how to balance the state budget, and how to find new long-term sources of revenue.

The legislature called on the Rev. Gerald Mann, a Baptist minister, to open the second special session. His prayer was timely:

"Our Father, here we are again, and we sure hope you are, too. Amen."

Progress is wonderful, but wouldn't the horse have a good laugh today if he could see all the motorists adjusting their shoulder harnesses?"

Q. — When are the changes for Daylight Savings Time going into effect?

A. — Next spring. The U.S. Congress voted to extend Daylight Savings Time from the last Sunday in April to the first. This means it will begin in 1987 on April 5 rather than April 26. It will continue to end on the last Sunday in October, this coming Oct. 26.

In Brief

Transfer ok'd

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate has approved a bill that would help make up a $40 million shortfall in projected college tuition.

Some state-supported colleges lost money when enrollments dropped after the 1985 Legislature raised tuition.

The Senate voted Wednesday to transfer more than $42.5 million from the state highway fund. Nearly $18 million is earmarked for a special college tuition fund, if lawmakers enact a gasoline tax increase.

Local

Buff displays

Again this year, local merchants will compete for plaques in a display contest held in conjunction with the White Buffalo Days celebration.

Judges Ann Brunson and June McGlaun will view entries during the first week in October. First, second and third place plaques will be awarded. Interested merchants can contact Myra Martin at 573-6512 for more information.

Martin noted that some 70 merchants are participating in the window painting promotion also sponsored by the White Buffalo Days committee.

Board agenda

The Cogdell Memorial Hospital board will discuss space availability for proposed mammography equipment when it meets in regular session Thursday.

Members of the hospital's auxiliary are spearheading the effort to raise funds for the equipment. It is designed to detect the early signs of breast cancers.

In other action, Kathy Minemier will offer an update on current community relations projects.

Thursday's session begins at 6:30 p.m. in the hospital's conference room.

Ira tax rate

Ira School trustees set the 1986-87 tax rate Wednesday night during a special called meeting. The total tax rate for the new school year is .7190 per $100 of valuation. A breakdown of that figure is as follows: .6239 for maintenance and operations and .0951 for debt service.

The 1985-86 tax rate was .5320.

Snyder Temperatures: High Wednesday, 91 degrees; low, 64 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. Thursday, 64 degrees; no precipitation; total precipitation for 1986 to date, 21.02 inches.

Snyder Area Forecast: Tonight 20 percent chance of evening thunderstorms, otherwise fair with a low in the upper 60s. South wind 5 to 15 mph. Friday fair morning. Partly cloudy with isolated late afternoon thunderstorms and a high near 90. South wind 10 to 20 mph.

Highway bill may be scuttled

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House committee chairman is warning that a Senate-passed increase in the top speed limit to 65 mph represents a potential anchor that could sink a $52.3 billion highway program in the final days before Congress adjourns.

"I don't know how anyone can vote for legislation that would result in so many deaths, paralyzing injuries and other injuries," Rep. Jim Howard, D-N.J., said Wednesday after overwhelming Senate approval of the bill.

The House Public Works and Transportation Committee chairman said he was unsure "whether we're going to go to conference on this as long as that is in the bill."

Refusal to convene a conference committee to resolve differences between House and Senate versions of the plan would leave work on the measure, which envisions $12.35 billion in federal highway aid annually, unfinished by the Oct. 3 target date for congressional adjournment.

It also would prevent the plan, which would allow state legislatures to raise the speed limit from 55 mph to 65 mph on interstate highways outside areas of 50,000 or more in population, from reaching President Reagan's desk.

Westerners are the major advocates of raising the 55 mph speed limit, saying it makes no sense in the vast spaces of their region. Defenders, chiefly from the Northeast and Midwest, say lives are being saved by the 1974 restriction imposed to save energy at the time of a severe gasoline shortage.

The speed limit increase was adopted 56-36 on Tuesday night and the Senate then approved the bill itself 99-0 on Wednesday.

But the House on Aug. 8 rejected a five-year trial increase in the speed limit by a 218-198 vote.

Despite attention riveted to the speed-limit issue, a number of other thorny matters would have to be resolved by a conference committee.

The Senate approved its version after deleting, 65-32, a provision by Sen. Daniel P. Moynihan, D-N.Y., that, in effect, would have denied federal highway funds to local governments that awarded contracts to companies doing business with South Africa.

An expected push on the floor to knock out a Senate plan to spur the removal of billboards from the nation's roadsides never materialized.

Dismissal shakes Voice of America

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — The unexplained firing of a part-time correspondent in politically sensitive Honduras has shaken the news staff of the Voice of America, the overseas broadcasting arm of the U.S. government.

The decision to dismiss the relatively obscure reporter was made at the highest levels of the VOA without prior consultation with the correspondent's newsroom or field supervisors and without subsequent explanation.

Ed DeFontaine, director of news and English programming for the VOA in Washington, said in a telephone interview that neither he, News Director Don Henry nor Joseph Chapman, chief assignments editor, were consulted about the decision to fire Laura Brooks, 27.

"It came from higher up," DeFontaine said. "I don't support it."

The reason for her dismissal was not disclosed to Ms. Brooks, a native of Alfred, N.Y., who had worked for the VOA in Tegucigalpa for six months. She also reports part-time for several other news organizations, including the British Broadcasting Corp., National Public Radio and Mutual Radio.

Handgun charges pending

OAK PARK, Ill. (AP) — A gas-station owner charged with violating the town's handgun ban after he pursued and shot at two armed robbers has been honored with a bravery award by a police organization.

Don Bennett was robbed of $1,200 in cash and jewelry in March when two armed robbers came to his Oak Park station and put a gun to his head.

Bennett followed them through a dark alley and fired at their car with a .45-caliber handgun, but they escaped.

Two days after Bennett reported the crime, he was arrested for breaking the village handgun ordinance that prohibits private citizens from owning or carrying handguns.

If convicted, he could be imprisoned six months and fined $2,000.

Oak Park's handgun ban was approved by trustees in April 1984 and took effect six months later. Voters defeated a November referendum to repeal the ordinance.

"This is incredible, a tremendous award," said Bennett, 46, who lives in nearby Hanover Park and faces a court hearing Monday. "It means a lot knowing the law-enforcement community is behind me."

The American Federation of Police on Wednesday presented Bennett with its highest civilian honor.

A Year in Jail for Son Is Life of Agony for Parents

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1986 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR READERS: From a Florida reader came the enclosed item, originally published in my column in 1972. Please read it and pay special attention to the last paragraphs.

DEAR ABBY: Recently a 17-year-old Florida boy pleaded guilty to possessing hallucinogenic drugs. He had also been charged with violence toward a Miami Beach police officer.

Judge Alfonso Sepe sentenced the youth to one year in the county stockade and four years' probation. The comments of the judge so impressed me that I ordered the transcript from the court reporter so that I may read it to my own children.

Your column is so widely read I am sending you the "lecture" Judge Sepe gave that boy in the presence of the grieving parents. I hope you will publish it and give it the national forum I think it deserves.

MRS. A.A. CATES, MIAMI

DEAR MRS. CATES: Rarely do I devote an entire column to one letter, but I agree, this is worth it. Here it is:

Judge Sepe spoke directly to the youth and said: "Do you know who is going to serve that year? Not you; your mother and father will serve that year. That is what's wrong. They get sentenced. They get sentenced for a lifetime. You serve a year. Your body is in the stockade for a year, but their souls are tormented for a lifetime. Why? Because you are a selfish, spoiled boy, that's why.

"There is no punishment in the world that I could inflict upon you that could in any way compensate for what you are doing to your mother and father. I have not spent 5 cents raising you. I don't know you from Adam. But your mother and father have put their lives, their hearts, their sweat, their money and everything else they have into bringing you up. And now they have to sit in this courtroom and listen to a total stranger who had nothing to do with your upbringing scold you and put you in jail.

"This is at a time when phony kids your age are yelling, 'You adults have your alcohol, we want our drugs; you have polluted our water and our air, you have polluted this and that,' and all the rest of the garbage that comes out of your mouths. Meanwhile, you put yourselves above everybody else. I feel sorry for you.

"I want you to think of this for one year, and the reason why I say it: If you are sick, a doctor will treat you and he won't be on drugs. The lawyer who represents you won't be high on drugs, and the people in whose custody you'll be won't be on drugs. Your astronauts are not on drugs, and your president is not. And your engineers who build the bridges that you drive across and the tunnels that you drive through are not on drugs, and those who build the planes that you fly in and the cars that you drive are not. Neither are those who build the bathrooms that you stink up with your lousy, rotten drugs. None of them have been on drugs, and this is because of people like your mother and father.

"But in the world of the future the same may not be true. Teachers, doctors, lawyers, legislators — products of the new drug-oriented generation — may well be high as kites. You won't know whom to send your child to, or whom to trust your life to."

Sepe sighed and closed the case file. "Let's see what kind of world you leave to your children before you talk about the world that we left to ours."

Well, readers, did Judge Sepe have a crystal ball? Because recreational drugs are illegal, there are not accurate statistics. But it would appear that this country is facing a major drug problem of unprecedented proportions and that the judge's worst prophecies have been fulfilled.

The solution: If everyone swept his own doorstep, the whole world would be clean.

SCS Notes

BY SAM BUCHANAN
District Conservationist

Bids on 827,991 acres of land in Texas were accepted by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's latest Conservation Reserve Program signup for 1987. Bids were accepted from 2,953 farmers.

In Scurry County, 27 bids were accepted from 22 producers on 5900 acres.

The state was divided into seven bidding pools. The highest bid accepted from pools 1 and 2 was $40 per acre on 769,656 acres. These two pools make up the western one-third of the state.

Bids of up to $40 per acre were accepted on 33,025 acres in pools 4, 5 and 6. This area includes the Texas Blacklands, East Texas and part of Southwest Texas.

Bids up to $55 per acre were accepted from pool 7 on 20,923 acres; this pool covers the Coastal Prairie and the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Bids have now been accepted on a total of 4,086 farms totaling 1,137,454 acres. The latest signup period, August 4-15, followed earlier ones held in March and May.

Cropland that is in Land Capability Class VI, VII and VIII or land that appeared to be eroding at greater than 3.5 times the tolerance level at sign-up time is automatically accepted. Land that appeared to be eroding between 2.5 to 3.5 times the tolerance level was declared questionable; Soil Conservation Service personnel will determine final estimated erosion rates on a field by field visit to this land.

Any questionable land that is determined to be eroding at an estimated rate of more than three times the tolerance level with an acceptable bid will be placed in the reserve.

In determining estimated erosion, SCS personnel use the Universal Soil Loss Equation for water erosion and the Wind Erosion Equation for wind erosion.

SCS conservationists have now completed preparing conservation plans on land accepted in CRP. Cropland will be planted to grasses and wildlife plantings.

For land accepted into CRP, farmers will receive their per acre bid annually for ten years. They will also receive 50 percent cost-share assistance for establishing permanent vegetation or trees.

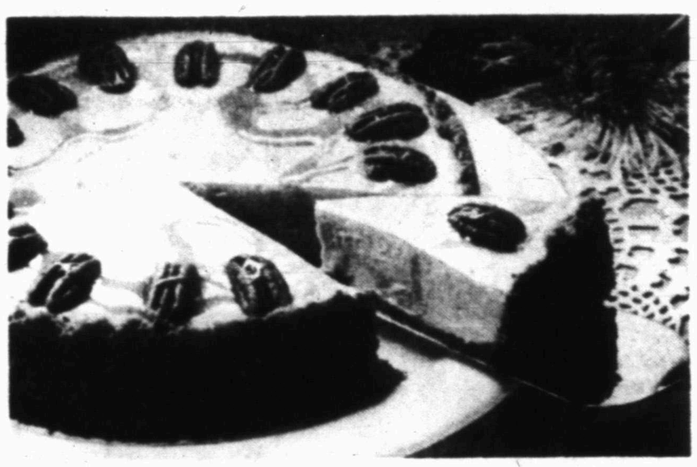
Praline cheese-cake is irresistible



By NANCY BYAL
Better Homes and Gardens
Food Editor

This splendiferous cheesecake recipe first appeared on our cover in 1978. Since then readers have requested it again and again. The pecan-praline flavor combined with rich creamy cheesecake is irresistible. As you mix the cheesecake, beat the cream cheese and eggs just until blended. Overbeating causes the cheesecake to rise high, then fall, making a less attractive top.

PRALINE CHEESECAKE

1¼ cups crushed graham crackers (about 17 crackers)
¼ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup finely chopped pecans, toasted
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
Three 8-ounce packages cream cheese, softened
1 cup brown sugar
One 5⅓-ounce can (⅔ cup) evaporated milk
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons vanilla
3 eggs
½ cup pecan halves, toasted
1 cup dark corn syrup
¼ cup cornstarch
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine cracker crumbs, granulated sugar and chopped pecans. Stir in butter; press mixture over the bottom and 1½ inches up the sides of a 9-inch spring-form pan. Bake in a 350-degree oven for 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, in a large mixer bowl beat together cream cheese and the 1 cup brown sugar until well combined. Add milk, flour and the 1½ teaspoon vanilla; beat well. Add eggs; beat just until blended. Pour into baked crust. Bake in 350-degree oven 50 minutes or until set. Cool in pan 30 minutes; loosen sides and remove rim from pan. Cool completely. Arrange nut halves over cheesecake.

To serve, combine corn syrup, cornstarch and remaining brown sugar in saucepan. Cook and stir until thickened and bubbly. Cook and stir 2 minutes more. Remove from heat; stir in remaining vanilla. Cool slightly. Stir sauce before serving. Spoon some warm sauce over nuts on cheesecake; pass remaining sauce. Makes 16 servings.

The right time to think small

By James Jacoby

Have you ever held too many high cards for your own good?

Cover the East-West cards with your thumbs and plan the play after the jack of diamonds lead. The actual declarer won the diamond ace, drew trumps with the A-K and then took a club finesse. East won and returned a club. Eventually declarer had to start playing the spade suit on his own, with the unfortunate result that he lost three spade tricks and his contract.

The right play is apparent. Declarer should draw trumps, play two more high diamonds and then, disregarding the tempting club finesse, should play ace and another. And where does that leave the crestfallen defenders? On lead, with nothing to do but to lead spades — thus guaranteeing South a spade trick — or to give declarer a sluff and a ruff for his 10th trick.

You can now see the relevance of the opening question. If North's club queen were changed to a small card, wouldn't every last one of us easily make the right play of ace and a club after eliminating the red suits? Here the club queen tempts fate, and the declarer who succumbs to its lure will regret it.

SWBT supports program that addresses school dropout problem

Texas' most precious resource is not oil or gas, but rather the young men and women of the state. Unfortunately, a large proportion of these youths will never reach their fullest potential because of their decision to drop out of school. They end up cheating themselves, and society, out of the contributions that only they and their unique talents can make.

Recently published statistics reinforce the severity of this problem: The dropout rate in Texas hovers around 30 percent. Last spring alone, one out of every three potential high school seniors in the state — about 80,000 — failed to graduate.

This problem affects all of us, since young people with little education often turn to crime when they are unable to find a job. In 1985, more than 100,000 people under the age of 17 were arrested in Texas. And, this is not a new phenomenon — 85 percent of the 30,000 inmates in Texas prisons are high school dropouts.

Although these numbers paint a grim picture, a group of concerned citizens have approached this age-old problem with a new and promising solution — it's called Communities in Schools (CIS). We, at Southwestern Bell Telephone, feel that CIS will pay future dividends to the people of Texas because it addresses the individual needs of our state's troubled youths.

A highly focused program, CIS coordinates efforts of many social service organizations into a centralized, efficient, yet humanized, unit. It works closely with public education personnel to encourage students — who run a risk of dropping out — to complete their education.

CIS treats students as individuals

CIS counselors work one-on-one with these students to solve problems that often cause them to drop out. It takes a "whole child" approach, recognizing that many factors — including family, financial and psychological concerns — affect a youngster's decision to leave school.

Southwestern Bell Telephone has been an enthusiastic supporter of CIS since it began as a pilot program in 1979. Through the past seven years, we have provided direction, money, equipment and manpower to give floundering students in Texas another chance at a good education.

SWBT believes in the program because it works: Since its inception, CIS has helped more than 5,000 students. Even more impressive, over the last two years, 87 percent of the youngsters in the CIS summer program are still in public school, or have gone on to college, additional training or unsubsidized jobs.

We are happy to report that under the leadership of SWBT's Texas Division President Jim Adams, the program is spreading into additional school districts across the state.

Although CIS is not available in all Texas communities, SWBT is committed to building a better state, through its participation in organizations like CIS. We feel it's our obligation — and privilege — to enhance the quality of life for all Texans, through state-of-the-art telephone service, as well as worthwhile community programs.

Tigers try to beat Pecos for first time

When the Ragin' Tigers board the bus for Pecos tomorrow afternoon, they'll be setting out to do something no other Snyder varsity football team before them has done - beat the Eagles.

And the Tigers may have to attempt it without their leading rusher and safety.

Pecos is the only team in District 2-4A which Snyder has never beaten. The Eagles have won all eight previous meetings, including the first in 1978, 28-15.

The ninth meeting between the two teams occurs Friday at 8 p.m. in Pecos.

"We're aware of that fact, that we've never beaten them, and our goal is to change that," said Snyder Coach Dennis Tomlin. "It's a challenge and we want to be the team that gets that mark off our backs."

Elsewhere in the district Friday, Sweetwater is at Big Spring, Lake View is at Lamesa, Andrews is at Fort Stockton, and, in a non-conference outing, Monahans is at Crane.

Pecos is 2-1 but goes into Friday's game following a 32-6 loss to Monahans. The Eagles are not an offensive powerhouse, averaging just 176.3 yards per outing. They do boast a good defense, however, which has allowed only 218 yards per opponent.

In comparison, Snyder is averaging 235 offensively, but giving up 253.6 on defense.

The Eagles are led by sophomore quarterback Bobby Ray Smith, a 5-8, 150-pounder who has passed for 59 yards and run for another 184. Javier Estrella, a 5-5, 145-senior, has rushed for 81 yards on 26 carries. Ricky Evaro, the Eagles' biggest back at 5-8, 175, has 69 yards on 23 tries.

"Their quarterback is one of those guys who makes things happen," said Tomlin. " He's fast. He's shifty. We feel like we've got to control him or they'll be able to move the ball on us. He's not the only back in the backfield but he makes things work for them."

One of the smaller teams size-wise in the district, Pecos averages only 177 pounds offensively from tackle to tackle, and 175 along the defensive front. In contrast, Snyder averages 204 offensively and 201 in the defensive line.

The size advantage may be negligible, however, because Pecos has an edge in quickness.

"First of all, I think they are probably bigger than what the program indicates. But we've been bigger than them the past two years and they still won the ballgame," Tomlin pointed out. "They do have tremendous quickness. Another thing about Pecos is they are real sound. They don't make many mistakes. You have to play your best game to beat them."

Two of the top players are defensive tackles Jesse Chacon (5-9, 180) and Lucius Flores (5-7, 185).

"They are the best down linemen we've faced so far. That number 72 (Chacon), he hasn't been blocked well by anybody yet," said the coach.

The Rage has been hitting opponents with a diversified attack. Snyder has four backs among the

Young Tigers vie again this evening

It's a full house here tonight as Snyder's underclassman football teams throw out the welcome mat.

Snyder seventh graders are the only local team playing on the road. They vie in Lamesa at 4 and 5:30 p.m.

At home, action will be going on at two sites - Tiger Stadium and Travis Field.

Play begins at Travis when Snyder eighth grade B-team welcomes Lamesa at 4. An A-team game follows at 5:30. The Tiger freshman bunch, undefeated on the season, goes to work against the Tors at 7 p.m.

Snyder junior varsity, 1-1 for the season, has the distinction of playing at Tiger Stadium this evening. The young Tigers will entertain Lubbock Coronado at 7 p.m.

The games are a prelude to Friday's contest, which pits Snyder against the Pecos Eagles, 8 p.m. in Pecos.

Tickets for tonight's action are $2 for adults and $1 for students.

LA Rams sign Everett today

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) - It took two teams and more than two months to do it, but quarterback Jim Everett will finally become a professional football player.

At a press conference today, Everett will sign a four-year contract with the Los Angeles Rams and then practice with the NFL club, Rams spokesman Pete Donavan said Wednesday.

Everett reached a tentative agreement with the Rams on Wednesday night, the club announced.

Everett, who was acquired by the Rams in a trade with the Houston Oilers last week, is expected to sign the four-year contract Thursday before practicing with Rams in the afternoon, said Rams spokesman Pete Donavan.

The agreement was reached Wednesday evening after three days of negotiating between Rams executive vice president John Shaw and Everett's agent, Los Angeles attorney Marvin Demoff.

Everett has already taken a physical with the Rams, which clears the way for his being in uniform at the team's practice this afternoon, Donavan said.

The Rams acquired the 6-foot-5 quarterback out of Purdue from the Oilers in exchange for guard Kent Hill, defensive lineman William Fuller, their first-and fifth-round draft picks in 1987 and a No. 1 round pick in 1988.

Everett had been unable to reach an agreement with the Oilers, who made him their first-round selection in the 1986 college draft. It was reported that he had been seeking $2.7 million over four years. Everet the first quarterback taken in the 1986 college draft, completed 572 of 965 passes for 7,411 yards and 43 touchdowns while at Purdue University.

Thurman tries to cut old ties with Cowboys

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Dennis Thurman can't call home.

He is afraid he won't know what to say. He is afraid someone will say something that might spark memories of the good times.

Dennis Thurman, who at 5-11 and 179 pounds earns his living as a defensive back in the NFL, is afraid the pain might be too great.

Thurman, who after eight seasons as a Dallas Cowboy was told in August that his services were no longer required, has not talked to buddies Everson Walls, Michael Downs, Ron Fellows, Bill Bates or Victor Scott since he received the word from Tom Landry.

Too bad. Once they were as thick as thieves.

Thurman does talk to Dextor Clinkscale. But they share a common pain. Neither any longer enjoys the camaraderie they once shared with the rest of the Cowboys' secondary.

Thurman did try to call Tony Dorsett the day after seeing his old roommate limp off the field with an ankle injury in the Monday night opener against the New York Giants.

No one answered.

Thurman never tried to call back.

"I'm just trying to sever that part of my life as quickly as possible," Thurman said earlier this week, seated on a chair in an office in his new home at Busch Stadium. "Don't get me wrong; I'm not trying to sever the friendships, just the old ties that binded us."

Time, however, appears to be running out on Dennis Thurman's resolve.

Monday night, Thurman, who now plays for St. Louis, will see his old friends face to face when the Cowboys visit the Cardinals. There is always time during pregame warmups for some friendly chitchat.

"There will be a game to be played and I will have a job to do," Thurman said. "Very seldom do I talk to players on the other team before a game. I wouldn't want to do anything different just because we are playing the Cowboys. Maybe we'll talk after the game.

DENNIS THURMAN

"But the best time would be after the season."

Dennis Thurman, who is 30 years old, says he was not hurt when Landry called him into his office after practice on the last Monday in August and told him he was being replaced by younger, faster legs.

"He must have had his reasons. Coach Landry is a very logical man," said Thurman, who adds he doesn't understand Landry's logic in this situation.

Thurman is quick to point out that although he had been relegated to second-string status after the 1984 season and had received most of his playing time only when the Cowboys went to their seven-back, 4-0 pass defense, he still intercepted 10 passes over the past two seasons.

He is quick to point out that the defensive backfield adopted its "Thurman's Thieves" nickname in his honor because he was the on-field and off-field spiritual leader of the group.

He is quick to point out that he had been told in the past that he was too small and too slow to play football and always has proven those prophets of doom incorrect.

"If the Cowboys made a mistake in releasing me, they will be the first to know it," Thurman said. "But whether they admit it will be another story."

Thurman says he is preparing for the Cowboys just as he has prepared for other opponents in his nine seasons in the league.

Thurman's role with the Cardinals has been similar to his role with the Cowboys. He is the second-string free safety, who plays almost exclusively when the Cardinals bring in extra backs in passing situations.

"I'm not climbing the walls or anything because of nervous energy in anticipation of the game," Thurman said. "I can't be going out there trying too hard because that's the easiest way to get burned. I just have to play within my capabilities."

It was the role Gene Stallings assigned him when he was the Cowboys' assistant in charge of the secondary. It is the role Gene Stallings, who left the Cowboys after last season to become head coach of the Cardinals, assigned him when St. Louis claimed Thurman on waivers.

Not starting in St. Louis, however, has been more difficult than not starting in Dallas. The Cardinals, after all, are 0-3.

"I know there are plays I could have made to help the team, if I was out there, but that is not a new feeling," Thurman said. "I felt the same way in Dallas."

The Cardinals have yet to intercept a pass this season, but it was Thurman, always a big-play specialist, who jarred the ball loose from Los Angeles Rams running back Eric Dickerson, forcing a fumble that set the Cardinals up for a potential winning touchdown drive.

Thurman knows exactly how many passes the Cowboys have intercepted this season.

"They've got only got one," he said. "The Thieves had nine after three games last season."

Coincidentally, Thurman and his Thieves may have achieved their greatest off-field notoriety before last season's Monday night meeting in St. Louis.

Sideline glances...

Standing in the corner again

By BILL McCLELLAN
SDN Sports Editor

Okay, I'm ready. All you coffee shop pickers ready, too? Here we go. One, two three, stick your head in the sand. Clean the erasers. Stand in the corner. Do something. At least be a little ashamed.

Boy, last week was terrible. Let me rephrase that. It was TERRIBLE.

This prognosticator (use the term loosely) was 20-20 last week. Nope, that's not my vision; that's how many I got right, and wrong.

For the season, it's, ahem, 75 of 116 for .646.

It was exciting, I'll admit, those close games between the Cowboys and Falcons, the Dolphins and Jets, Seattle and New England and USC and Baylor.

But I missed them all.

You can't help notice a comparison of the Baylor-USC contest and last Friday's game between Snyder and Fort Stockton. Like Baylor did against USC, Snyder whipped the Panthers up and down the field, only to lose - in part, because of a costly turnover.

Might do to compare the Southwest Conference to District 2-4A, too. After Lake View's loss to Big Spring and Andrews' narrow win over Lamesa, it would appear that the league is fairly competitive, top-to-bottom, again. Sure, Sweetwater looks like its deserves its state-ranking, but Big Spring may have something to say about that. And Monahans seems tough, but the Loboes have yet to play a worthy opponent. They probably won't be tested this weekend, either.

Their opponent, Crane, was thought to be a stalwart in Class 3A, but hasn't started out that way.

For history's sake, Scurry County football teams are now 0-8. Now, on with the picks...

Snyder at Pecos: Had a couple of breaks gone the Tigers' way, they would be 2-1 right now instead of looking for their first victory. Hopefully, this will be the week everything clicks...RAGIN' TIGERS 21, PECOS 7.

Andrews at Fort Stockton: Andrews hasn't shown it, but I expected them to be tough this season. Give 'em one more week...MUSTANGS 28, PANTHERS 14.

Lake View at Lamesa: Woodberry has broken a couple of long runs for touchdowns this season and if he does it once or twice Friday, Lake View will pay. On the other hand, the Chiefs have the better all-around talent, and more experience, too...LAKE VIEW 21, LAMESA 7.

Sweetwater at Big Spring: Estacado aside (way aside, please), Big Spring survived its first test last week. The Steers step up in competition this week, but step down as a result...SWEETWATER 35, BIG SPRING 14.

Monahans at Crane: Shouldn't be a contest for the Loboes...MONAHANS 29, Crane 7.

Highland at Hermleigh: The Cardinals are going to surprise some people this season, but Highland isn't easily fooled. The Hornets have been all the way to the top...HIGHLAND 45, HERMLEIGH 21.

Ira at Trent: I repeat, the Bulldogs will win some ballgames and could vie for the playoffs. But I'll also admit, I'm still waiting for it to happen...TRENT 34, IRA 31.

Klondike at Borden County: Borden has had a week to rest, while Klondike struggled to nip Ira...BORDEN COUNTY 31, KLONDIKE 27.

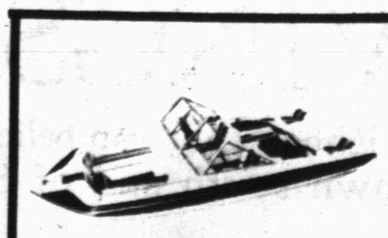
As for the college games...

The Texas Tech Red Raiders will have to wait for their third win of the season because an angry Baylor Bear team is coming to town. Call it Baylor 35, Tech 14. In other games, the Aggies will rebound against Southern Mississippi, 31-6; Arkansas will humble New Mexico State, 28-14; Houston will top Tulsa, 27-13; SMU will nip TCU, 21-18; and Rice will overcome Southwest Texas State, 28-7.

In top 20 action, pick this way: Michigan 31, Florida State 24; Penn State 19, East Carolina 6; Nebraska 45, Oregon 9; Washington 27, USC 14; Auburn 14, Tennessee 7; Brigham Young 35, Temple 7; Florida 21, Mississippi State 0; Georgia 14, South Carolina 10; Arizona 31, Colorado 6; Arizona State 27, Washington State 17; UCLA 45, Long Beach State 12; Notre Dame 23, Purdue 14; and, in a small upset, Miami, Fla. 35, Oklahoma 28.

For the pros...

Go with Atlanta over Tampa Bay, 27-23; Chicago over Cincinnati 19-17; Cleveland over Detroit, 27-7; Minnesota to nip Green Bay, 21-20; Kansas City to shock Buffalo, 23-20; the Rams to rough up Philadelphia, 24-12; Denver to beat New England in a tough one, 31-27; the Giants to nix New Orleans, 23-14; the Jets to escape from Indianapolis in a low scoring affair, 12-9; Houston to punch Pittsburgh, 23-18; the LA Raiders to rebound and beat San Diego, 24-21; Miami to regroup and sack San Francisco, 31-14; and, in a game featuring unbeaten teams, Seattle to walk on Washington, 26-16.



Ryan blanks SF Giants, 6-0 as Astros clinch tie for title

by The Associated Press

The Houston Astros have been limiting the number of pitches Nolan Ryan throws ever since he returned from the disabled because of a sore elbow.

But there are times for exceptions - like during no-hitters and the National League playoffs.

Ryan, who has been held to 100 pitches by Manager Hal Lanier since June 24, pitched no-hit ball for 6 1-3 innings Wednesday night as the Astros clinched a tie for the NL West championship by beating the San Francisco Giants 6-0.

One more Houston victory or one more loss by runnerup Cincinnati will give the Astros their second division title, the first since 1980.

Ryan, who holds the major-league record of five no-hitters, had another one going until rookie Mike Aldrete grounded a clean single to left in the seventh inning. That was the only hit Ryan allowed in his eight innings.

Ryan, 11-8, struck out 12 and finished his night by striking out the side in the eighth. He walked three.

"He threw 108 pitches toinght and we wanted to see him stretch it out a little," Lanier said. "When you get into the playoffs, you can throw that 100 pitch figure out the window, unless he's tired."

Said Ryan: "I was ready for tonight. I wasn't planning on having an off ight. This is probably the best I've had since I came off the disabled list."

In other games, Chicago beat New York 8-2, Pittsburgh defeated Montreal 2-1 and St. Louis downed Philadelphia 7-1. The San Diego at Los Angeles game was rained out, the first postponement at Dodger Stadium since Aug. 18, 1983.

Reds 4, Braves 1

Max Venable connected for his first home run in two seasons, a three-run shot, and Ted Power shut out Atlanta on four hits for 7 2-3 innings as Cincinnati beat the Braves.

Power, 8-6, won his fourth straight game and is 4-1 in eight starts after 229 consecutive relief appearances since 1983. John Franco allowed a run in the ninth, but still got his 25th save.

Venable homered in the third inning against Rick Mahler, 13-17. It was Venable's first home run since Aug. 16, 1984, while with Montreal, and his first in 264 at-bats for Cincinnati.

Cubs 8, Mets 2

Drew Hall pitched a six-hitter and won his first major-league game and Ryne Sandberg drove in three runs, leading Chicago over New York.

Hall struck out eight and walked two. He is 1-1 since being promoted from Class AA. Hall also got his first major-league hit in the seventh and Chico Walker followed with a two-run single.

Sandberg had an RBI single in the fifth and a two-run single in the seventh. Rick Aguilera, 8-7, took the loss.

Shawon Dunston hit his 17th homer for the host Cubs, and Gary Carter hit a two-run homer, his 22nd, for the Mets. It was the Mets' 139th homer this season, tying the team mark set in 1962, when they went 40-120.

Cardinals 7, Phillies 1

Danny Cox scattered seven hits and John Morris and Andy Van Slyke homered as St. Louis beat visiting Philadelphia.

Cox, 11-12 struck out five and walked one in his seventh complete game of the season.

Morris led off the second inning with his first major-league homer, off Kevin Gross, 11-12. Van Slyke opened the third with his 11th home run.

Pirates 2, Expos 1

U.L. Washington's RBI single with two outs broke an eighth-inning tie and gave Pittsburgh its victory over Montreal.

Barry Bonds drew a walk from Bob McClure, 2-4, and reliever Jeff Reardon got Tony Pena on a force play. Jim Morrison and Washington followed with singles.

Don Robinson, 3-4, got the win with two innings of scoreless relief.

The start of the game in Pittsburgh was delayed 43 minutes by rain, and most of the game was played in a drizzle.

Mattingly eases out in front in race for AL batting title

by The Associated Press

Don Mattingly, locked in a torrid race for the American League batting title, says he isn't losing any sleep over the nightly news on Boston's Wade Boggs.

"I just have to keep getting hits," Mattingly said Wednesday night after going 2-for-4 to reclaim the lead as he led the New York Yankees to a 4-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Mattingly, the 1984 batting champion, started the game in a tie with Boggs at .350, and finished at .351. He singled in the first inning to extend his hitting streak to 23 games, the longest in the major leagues this season and longest of his career.

Boston's game at Milwaukee was rained out and won't be made up unless it has a bearing on the pennant race.

Mattingly said he wasn't concerned when he learned that Boggs had gone 4-for-5 Tuesday night to move into the lead.

"You know Boggs is going to get his," Mattingly said. "I can't worry about what he does every day ... that's crazy. It's fun anytime you go out and try to get two hits a day, knowing you've got to keep pace, or whatever."

Royals 2, Twins 1

Minnesota's Bert Blyleven didn't have a word to say afterward. That in itself gave mute testimony to the frustration he must be feeling.

Blyleven, 15-14, struck out 14 batters and walked none. But he came out a loser because Kansas City's Frank White hit a solo homer in the top of the ninth inning — the 46th surrendered this season by Blyleven, tying a record set in 1956 by Hall-of-Famer Robin Roberts.

A's 4, White Sox 2

The wind was blowing out in Oakland, and Joe Cowley, coming off a no-hitter against California in his last start, was the victim because all three hits he allowed left the park.

"On a normal day, all of those are routine outs," said Cowley, who pitched 6 2-3 innings as Oakland completed a three-game sweep of Chicago. "But other than that, I have no excuses. I pitched well."

The A's went ahead in the seventh when Alfredo Griffin hit the right field foul pole with his fourth homer, a two-run shot. Consecutive home runs by Carney Lansford and Dave Kingman pulled the A's into a 2-2 tie in the fourth. Kingman's was his 34th, tying him with Toronto's Jesse Barfield for the league lead.

Mariners 5, Rangers 4

Pete Ladd understands the nature of the beast even though there are times he'd rather not be one — a relief pitcher that is.

With the bases loaded in the eighth inning, Ladd induced pinch hitter Pete Incaviglia to pop up and then struck out Scott Fletcher to end a Texas threat. "No one really wants to come into a bases-loaded situation, but someone has to," Ladd said.

Ken Phelps drove in two runs with 24th homer and a sacrifice fly as Seattle halted a three-game winning streak by Texas.

The Mariner victory reduced rained-out California's magic number to three. Texas begins a three-game series with Angels on Friday and also plays the final three games of the season at home against California.

RAGIN' TIGERS READY

top 25 in the district, led by Troy Burton's 210 yards on 45 carries. Burton ranks sixth among 2-4A ballcarriers.

But Burton, who doubles as safety, suffered a back sprain during workouts Wednesday. He had to be helped off the field, and is doubtful for Friday's ballgame.

If he is unable to play, Toby Ubando will fill in at fullback while Dennis Martinez will take over at safety.

The Tigers regularly use about six rushers during a game, including quarterback Brad Gartman, who has also passed for 114 yards. The top receivers have been ends Chris Garrett and Steven Mack, who both have five receptions on the season.

The kicking game shapes up in slight favor of Snyder, despite having a less yards-per-average punting statistic. Gartman averages 32.6, although he kicked for a more characteristic 40 yard average last week, while Pecos' Tony Urquidi is averaging 35 yards a boot. The Tigers, however, have outside scoring strength in Randy Townsend, who is three-for-three in the field goal department.

Orville Moody, the winner of the 1969 U.S. Open Golf championship, served in the Army for 14 years before becoming a pro.

Bowlers needed for league play

Men or women interested in bowling on a Thursday night league should be at Snyder Lanes tonight at 9:15.

The league needs bowlers immediately.

THURMAN

them occupied while waiting around to play, bought hats that looked as if they belonged on gangsters' heads and wore them during a televised interview on the evening news.

After losing to St. Louis, 21-10, in a game in which the secondary played poorly, some teammates suggested the Thieves had not been prepared. It took a meeting of the team's captains before the next game in Washington to iron out the dissension.

On his first night as an ex-Cowboy, Thurman wrote notes to several teammates telling them what an honor it had been to play with them.

Several of the notes went to the most vocal critics of the "hat incident," including Randy White.

"I just wanted them to know that despite our differences, no one was prouder to have been their teammate and no one wanted to win any harder for them and with them than me," Thurman said.

"I just could never bring myself to tell them that face to face."

Westerners enter Levelland tourney

LEVELLAND – Barring a second postponement, Western Texas College will play in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference golf tournament here Friday.

Practice rounds were to be held today on a wet Levelland Country Club Course.

Originally scheduled for last weekend, the 27-hole tournament had to be rescheduled for Friday because of heavy rains.

Playing for Western Texas will be Joel Fults, Clint Adams, Brent Wilson, Matt Smith, Todd Neal and either Mike Harrison or Mark Gonzales.

After playing in the single-day tournament, the Westerners will leave for the Del Lago Intercollegiate, to be held in Conroe. The non-conference tournament will be held Monday and Tuesday.

Junior colleges competing will be Paris, Midland, Odessa, Bossier City, Jacksonville, San Jacinto, Grayson, Lon Morris and Temple. Teams from the senior college bracket will include Baylor, Southern Methodist, Stephen F. Austin, Southwest Texas State, Houston Baptist and Abilene Christian.

'Cochran Convent's' veterans reunite

SWEETWATER, Texas (AP) — The only all-female Army Air Base in American history, located in Sweetwater during World War II, will again buzz with the activities of WASPs at their reunion beginning here today.

From 1942 to 1945, 2,000 Women Air Service Pilot trainees left their civilian lives to converge on Avenger Field under the leadership of a famous American flier, the late Jacqueline Cochran. The colonel in charge of the WASP made her mark in aviation history before the war as a racing pilot with a number of air records to her credit before and after the war.

Known during World War II as Cochran's Convent because it was off-limits to nearby male flying cadets, Avenger Field is located three miles northwest of downtown Sweetwater, and is now the home of Texas State Technical Institute and the City's Municipal Airport.

About 400 WASPs who earned their silver wings in this central West Texas town are expected to attend the reunion, to relive and reminisce on the days of their grand experiment.

WASP pilots flew 60 million miles in every airplane operated by the Army Air Force and 38 WASPs gave their lives in service for their country, says Vicki Christianson, Sweetwater Chamber of Commerce coordinator of local reunion publicity. Ms. Christianson says WASP trainees paid their way to Sweetwater, and if they "washed out," they paid their way home.

Another famous WASP was champion golfer Helen Dettweiler, one of 25,000 who sent applications to Ms. Cochran and one of the 1,830 who were accepted.

Over the next four days WASP veterans, guests and families will tour Dyess Air Force Base near Abilene, 38 miles of here, and be honored with a day at Sweetwater's Nolan County Museum, where an entire room is dedicated to WASP memorabilia.

Perched in the foyer center of the Nolan County Courthouse, downtown, is a statue of Fifinella, ready to greet the WASP vets for which she served as mascot. Designed in the fall of 1942 by Walt Disney, Fifi is a shapely female gremlin wearing a short red dress and red boots, gold tights and helmet and blue goggles with two bright blue wings spread behind her.

Trip enjoyed by local girl

stayed in a castle for a week near Altenheim.

Butler and the 24 other Americans who were also visiting Austria gathered together for a bus tour of Upper and Lower Austria. They saw castles, museums and went on a seven hour hike. "We went on lots of hikes. They wore us out walking," she said.

She also saw the Hungarian-Czech border on a 12-mile bike ride. Here, the Americans were cautioned not to get closer than 150 yards because of the fear of the armed guards.

At Badgastein, Butler said, her trip had a temporary lull.

She and a girl from South Carolina were guests of a divorced man who put them up in a hotel owned by a Rotarian friend of his. "We saw him five times in 12 days and it rained nine of the 12 days," she explained. On July 18, it snowed.

"But the countryside was beautiful," Butler said. They walked 4½ miles to get to the thermal baths and natural radiation caves which Austrians believe have healing powers. A doctor's prescription is needed to be able to use the caves, Butler explained.

She also visited an ice cave which at 42 kilometers is considered the largest in the world. The cave consists of walls of thick ice which constantly replenish themselves.

The host "dad" then took Butler and the other American girl to Salzburg and across the border to Germany.

The final two weeks of her visit had a storybook finish, she said.

In Spittal/Drau, she said she stayed with "a great family" which consisted of "two brothers and two sisters," including an 18-year-old who owned his own club, something Butler said was considered a "big deal" in Austria.

He is tentatively planning a trip to the United States and may visit in Snyder.

Butler lived only five minutes away from Lake Seeboden where they water skied and sailed every day. They also saw more castles. This part of the trip was shared with two other girls from America.

They also traveled to Italy where they spent the day shopping.

Butler said she had always wanted to be an exchange student. Australia was her first choice, but she would have had to spend a full year there. While Denmark was her second choice, Rotary International guaranteed her she could go wherever she wanted in Europe.

Butler could speak a little German and the Austrians could speak a little English. Now, she said she can speak German better and counts that as one of the benefits of the trip.

I enjoyed it very much and I would recommend it to anyone," she said. "I would like to go back next summer."

Driver examined folloing mishap

A 72-year-old Snyder woman was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital for examination following a two-vehicle collision in the 1100 Block of 25th St. just before 11 a.m. Wednesday.

According to police reports, Gaylean Harrison of 4006 Ave. U was driving her 1978 Buick westbound on 25th when it was struck from the rear by a 1979 Chevrolet Corvette driven by Sharon Gray of Rt. 3, Snyder.

Police said Harrison noted neck pains at the scene and was taken to the local hospital for examination for possible injuries.

She was released from the hospital emergency room following that examination.

Also Wednesday, a Snyder overpass was struck by a truck. Involved in the mishap was a 1980 International truck-tractor rig driven by Christopher Chapin of Clovis, N.M. It struck the underside of the Ave. E overpass at U.S. Hwy. 84 in north Snyder.

No injuries and only minor damage was reported from the mishap.

Two types of meningitis

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Last year I had viral meningitis, and many people stayed away from me because they heard that it was contagious. Will you explain the disease and any long-term effects that the fluid on the brain might have?

DEAR READER — Viral (aseptic) meningitis is an infection of the membrane that covers the brain. It can be differentiated from bacterial meningitis by analysis of the spinal fluid. In the acute phase, it is contagious, but it usually clears up by itself and produces no long-lasting consequences. Antibiotics are ineffective in treating viral meningitis because the medicines do not affect viruses. Once the infection disappears, the spinal fluid and brain tissue return to normal.

DEAR DR. GOTT — In terms of building muscle, how do those Nautilus machines compare to home workouts with barbells?

DEAR READER — It's a matter of preference. Exercise machines can give a good workout by toning up muscles — sometimes large groups of muscles in all parts of the body.

On the other hand, the use of free weights will enable the user to progress beyond simple conditioning. Weightlifting will increase muscle bulk and size to a degree that the Nautilus machines cannot.

If you want a little exercise and are not interested in bodybuilding, the Nautilus system is fine. If you want to build up your muscles, I believe that free weights do a better job.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have been told that the pain and weakness in my legs comes from calcium deposits. What can be done for this?

DEAR READER — It depends on where the calcium deposits are. If they are pinching or compressing a nerve — for instance, in your back — the deposits may have to be surgically removed, or serious damage may result.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Why is it easier for me to get erections in the morning than at night? I've been told these aren't "real" erections. Will you explain this?

DEAR READER — An erection is an erection — morning, noon or night. Early morning erections are common to most men, probably because a full bladder stimulates an erectile response. Also, erections are almost universal during certain stages of sleep.

Quake recorded off the coast

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) — An earthquake measuring 5.8 on the Richter scale was recorded early today off the west coast of central Mexico, seismologists for the U.S. Geological Survey said.

The epicenter was 130 miles southwest of Mazatlan in the north Pacific Ocean, said John Minsch of the National Earthquake Information Center, a branch of USGS.

There were no immediate reports of the quake being felt, Minsch said.

The Richter scale is a measure of ground motion as recorded on seismographs. Every increase of one number means a tenfold increase in magnitude. Thus a reading of 7.5 reflects an earthquake 10 times stronger than one of 6.5.

An earthquake of 3.5 on the Richter scale can cause slight damage in the local area, 4 moderate damage, 5 considerable damage, 6 severe damage. A 7 reading is a "major" earthquake, capable of widespread heavy damage; 8 is a "great" quake, capable of tremendous damage.

The San Francisco earthquake of 1906, which occurred before the Richter scale was devised, has been estimated at 8.3.

On April 26, 1607, Capt. John Smith landed at Cape Henry, Va., with the colonists who would establish the first permanent settlement in North America.

During World War II, the German city of Bremen fell to the British Second Army in 1945.

The African nations of Tanganyika and Zanzibar announced in 1964 that they had joined together to form Tanzania.

Woman wins reprieve for aging cafe

PINE SPRINGS, Texas (AP) — A 71-year-old woman has won a federal reprieve for her Pine Springs Cafe, a nine-stool campers' oasis that her parents opened in the West Texas wilderness nearly 60 years ago.

Mary Glover Hinson's cafe, which is on Guadalupe Mountains National Park land, was to be closed Nov. 1 because park officials said it and other aging structures once used to link New Mexico-Texas oil operations no longer fit in with the park.

On Wednesday, Interior Secretary Donald Hodel ordered the National Park Service to let Mrs. Hinson keep her 58-year-old cafe for another five years, Hodel spokesman David Prosperi said.

"I can't believe people can be so good to me," Mrs. Hinson said from her home outside the tidy, white-washed cafe Wednesday night. "There's so many people I want to thank — like Secretary Hodel."

The pine-paneled cafe on U.S. Highway 180 stands in the shadow of 8,751-foot Guadalupe Peak, Texas' tallest mountain and part of a rugged chain that millions of years ago formed a barrier reef to a huge sea. In front of the cafe are a few gas pumps and nearby are the rock-walled ruins of an old Butterfield stage line stop.

The sand-colored mountains, dotted with patches of green, are at the edge of a gigantic plain that forms one of the largest oil fields in the world.

"My father built these buildings in 1928 to accommodate the Standard Oil pipeline from New Mexico to El Paso," Mrs. Hinson said. "There wasn't a service station between El Paso and Carlsbad, N.M., and they asked my father if he would run one. My mother said, 'Yes, and we'll feed you, too.'"

Walter Glover died in 1973, and his wife, Bertha, nine years later, Mrs. Hinson said. She came in 1972 to help them out and ended up staying with her disabled daughter.

"People can come in and kick off their shoes," she said, her voice rasping from more than 15 media interviews. "They can feel comfortable because I keep it a homey atmosphere like the one my mother created."

Hodel first read of Mrs. Hinson's dilemma Tuesday and was worried about what appeared to be "callousness and lack of fairness" on the part of park superintendent Richard B. Smith, Prosperi said.

He told his staff to see if there was any reason to close the home-cooking cafe, which offers up steaming coffee, pies and chicken-fried steak.

None found, Hodel then told Park Service Director William Mott to overrule the superintendent and issue another permit.
