U. S. Rejects Soviet Air Corridor Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has rejected a Soviet claim that it has a right to limit American Air Force flights to West Berlin to altitudes of 10,000 feet or less.

American planes will fly as high as they need to whenever they want to, the United States said in a formal note delivered Monday to the Soviet foreign office in Moscow.

The Soviet Union has no right at all to set ceilings on plane flights along the 110-mile corridor from West Germany to West Berlin, the note said.

The Soviets had complained that a U.S. Air Force C130 jet-prop plane violated the 10,000 foot ceiling on March 27. It charged the United States with deliberately staging the high altitude flight in an attempt to wreck the scheduled Big Four foreign ministers meeting set for May 11 at Geneva.

The U.S. note denied this. "On the contrary," it said, "it is the Soviet Union which is creating doubt as to its intentions by attempting unilaterally to assert a 'right' never recognized by the Western powers."

The C130 flew at about 25,000 feet both to and from West Berlin. It was buzzed by Soviet fighters on both legs of the trip.

The American note pointed out that jet planes operate more efficiently at high altitudes.

While American planes will operate at high altitudes whenever necessary, the U.S. note added, "for some time to come the majority of corridor flights will under normal circumstances be made below 10,000 feet."

The note also said the Soviet fighters which buzzed the C130 "intentionally created the very hazard to flight safety about which the Soviet representatives have professed concern."

Verbal Protest Lodged

BONN, Germany (AP) — Soviet planes have buzzed an American Air Force transport in another incident in an air corridor to Berlin, the U.S. Embassy disclosed today.

An embassy spokesman said two Soviet jet fighters harassed an Air Force double-decker propeller transport on its way back from a routine cargo delivery flight to Berlin April 10.

The embassy spokesman gave this account of the April 3 incident.

The big military version of the Boeing Stratocruiser was flying at about 12,000 feet when two Soviet jets came up from behind and began cruising, each about 100 feet from a wingtip of the American plane.

The Soviet fliers then swapped positions, one going over and the other going under the transport. The American pilot reduced altitude a little. This seemed to satisfy the Soviets, for they flew away. The whole encounter lasted only a few minutes.

The spokesman charged the Soviet jets with "very dangerous maneuvers." He said American and Soviet officers at the four-power air safety center in Berlin had exchanged verbal protests, each accusing the other's fliers of dangerous air tactics.

J. W. Beburov, chief spokesman of the Soviet Embassy in East Berlin, commenting on the incident, indicated the Soviet Union is standing by its demands that American planes fly below 10,000 feet in the corridors.

"The Soviet standpoint is known and has not changed," Beburov told a reporter.

The United States Monday rejected the limit the Soviets are trying to put on the corridors and said U.S. planes will fly as high as they need to whenever they want to. A formal American note was delivered to the Soviet Foreign Office in Moscow.

The Soviet Union has warned the United States that it cannot be responsible for the safety of American planes flying above 10,000 feet.

AF Will Try To Recover Space Capsule

By RALPH DIGHTON

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Discoverer II, a 1,600-pound satellite, was in polar orbit today, carrying in its nose cone a space capsule the Air Force hopes to catch in the air near Hawaii.

The recovery experiment may be attempted later today.

The capsule was described as a miniature of the type that someday may be used to return men from space stations.

Discoverer II was launched from this missile base Monday, while across the nation fellow scientists were experiencing a disappointment.

At Cape Canaveral, Fla., the Air Force tried unsuccessfully to put three satellites into orbit from a single launching vehicle, Vanguard III. The Vanguard's second stage failed to ignite on schedule. Officials at the Cape said cause of the trouble was not known.

If Discoverer II achieves proper satbility, its instrumented nose cone is scheduled to be kicked loose on command from ground tracking stations and float earthward beneath a parachute.

Eight Hawaii-based C119 Flying Boxcars are awaiting orders to swoop on the descending parachute and try to drape it across a 30-foot-long trapeze bar suspended beneath each plane. The parachute and capsule would then be reeled into the plane.

The parachute would come into range of the Air Force C119s at about 20,000 feet. The planes would have 10 minutes to snatch the parachute from the air. If they failed, the buoyant capsule would be fished from the ocean by Navy vessels patrolling the recovery area.

At least one official was pessimistic that the capsule would be recovered. William H. Godel, director of planning for the Advanced Research Projects Agency, estimated the chance of success at 1 in 1,000. He said a number of things could go wrong before the capsule even is ejected.

The capsule contains instruments to supply oxygen and control heat and atmospheric pressure. Other instruments will check how effective these environmental systems are. They are designed to keep small animals alive in future satellites. There is no animal in Discoverer II.

Regardless of the outcome of the recovery attempt, spokesmen said they were elated by the second successful orbit in the Discoverer series. Discoverer I, fired Feb. 28, circled the earth 17 days before falling back into the atmosphere and burning up.

'Freeze' Proposed For Steel Prices

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Steelworkers of America have proposed to the steel industry that it freeze its prices for the term of the next contract with the union to help "economic stability."

Even if the industry agreed to do so, the union says it would insist on higher wages and other benefits for its half-million members.

Industry spokesmen had no immediate formal reply to the union's proposal, made Monday night in a letter to 12 big steel-producing companies.

Prompt rejection of the union's suggestion was expected. The union last week turned down an industry proposal that wages and other contract benefits be frozen for a one-year contract period.

U.S. Steel, the industry's leading producer, declined comment. A U.S. Steel spokesman said the company was waiting to see the text of the union proposal.

The industry's call for a one-year wage freeze and the union's proposal for a price freeze are part of the sparring prior to negotiations on a new contract to replace the one that expires June 30.

The union's price freeze proposal was drawn up by the executive board after it affirmed President David J. McDonald's rejection of the industry's proposal that present contract benefits terms be continued for another year.

The union executive board also suggested that negotiations for a new contract begin May 4, instead of May 18 as now scheduled. The union's 170-member wage policy committee is scheduled this month to draft contract demands.

The letter to the 12 companies, endorsed by the union executive board and signed by McDonald, said in part:

"Since there can be no inflation without price increases, the first principle which we propose is that there be no increase in the price of steel during the term of any agreement which we may reach.

"By adopting this approach we can make a substantial contribution to economic stability and economic progress."

The letter said that wage increases without price increases are justified by the industry's profits and the rising productivity of its workers.

One Hurt In 4-Car Crash

One person was slightly injured but was released after emergency treatment at Cogdell Memorial Hospital yesterday morning following a four-car wreck on the west side of the Snyder square.

The slightly injured person was Cletis Frith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Frith, 1808 Thirty-eighth Street. She was driver of a 1955 Plymouth car which was almost totally demolished in the accident.

Police said the accident occurred when one car struck the rear of another, knocking it forward into the rear of a third, which in turn was jammed into the rear of a fourth car. The latter three cars were stopped on Avenue S for the traffic light at Twenty-sixth Street.

The car which started the chain reaction was a 1958 Chevrolet driven by Charles Ray Howard, 2803 Thirty-eighth Street. Police estimated damages to it at about $200.

Damages to the Frith car were estimated at $750.

The other cars involved were a 1957 Chevrolet driven by Herman C. Luther, 2606 Fortieth Street, damaged about $25, and a 1957 Ford driven by Billy Edwin Line, 2609 Thirty-seventh Street, damaged about $150 worth.

Frost Again Chills State

By The Associated Press

Frost covered scattered low spots early Tuesday in North Central and northeast Texas.

A warming trend spread eastward over the state after a night in which temperatures slipped to 32 degrees, even freezing, at Dalhart in the Panhandle.

Low readings during the night included Amarillo 34, Lubbock 35, Abilene and Midland 36, San Angelo 38, Wichita Falls 43, Waco 35, Austin 37, San Antonio 44 and Corpus Christi 55—high for the state.

High clouds covered most of South Texas and the El Paso area while skies over the west and north portions were almost clear.

'Innocent' False Alarm Turned In

Snyder firemen were called on an innocent false alarm about 10:15 o'clock last night.

Firemen said that someone turned in an oilwell flare as an oilwell fire about one miles east of Snyder Cemetery.

'Selective' Sales Tax Bill Studied

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas House members studied today a "broad-based selective sales tax" bill.

Speaker Waggoner Carr said he hoped the House would pass the 300 million dollar revenue-producing measure for 1960-61 this week. Gov. Daniel said he hadn't had time to read it, but "it was too low on natural gas."

The 1960-61 tax bill would levy numerous new taxes on select items, raise many old taxes and pop Texas with a 10 per cent luxury tax on some 50 items.

Rep. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock said the luxury tax item would be the big money maker. It would pump about 27 million dollars a year into the depleted state treasury.

The House Revenue and Taxation Committee quickly approved the bill yesterday. There were no questions by members. Blanchard gave a brief description of the bill which reduces a few taxes and eliminates others, while making the collection of some more effective.

"This is not a general sales tax," Blanchard said, explaining the five-man subcommittee rewrote the bill using sections from measures already introduced.

A special 30 million dollar Texas education, health and welfare fund would be set up by the measure, he said. Most of the revenue would go for $396 a year pay raise for public school teachers.

Blanchard said the bill also would produce enough money to retire the expected 65 million dollar deficit and pay for the state's general spending bill the next two years.

No committee member saw the two pound copies which Blanchard said was the bulky bill. He talked briefly two minutes after the tax committee began its meeting. The bill was approved on voice vote. Reps. Stanley Boysen of Lubbock and James Cotton of Weatherford voted "no" on the bill.

"It excludes almost any item you would buy in a grocery store," Blanchard told newsmen. "It won't tax clothing, tools, food, fertilizer, airplanes, drugs, insurance policies, soft drinks, candies, furniture, hardware, home appliances, air conditions, and other items."

Blanchard said the new taxes included luxury items—furs, jewelry, cosmetics, phonograph records, sporting goods, boats, luggage, cameras, film, and other items to be taxed 10 per cent and paid by the consumer on the retail level. It would raise about 27 million dollars.

Prosecutors May Be Told To Take Dormant Bank Funds

AUSTIN (AP) — Prosecutors over the state will be asked to collect dormant bank funds if the Legislature fails to pass his bill on the subject, says Gov. Price Daniel.

Daniel told newsmen the escheat law now on the books provides for such collections, but that his proposal seeks to make it mandatory for banks and other business holding unclaimed money to give it to the state after seven years.

This is a part of the governor's deficit erasing program which has run into opposition in the House. The governor said that further opposition could create a major political issue.

He was questioned on a television program after the House Revenue and Taxation Committee made public a summary of its proposed revenue raising measure. The governor gave every indication that there was a lot in it he did not like, although he was reluctant to comment on all of it specifically.

Neither the governor, legislators, nor newsmen have seen the complete bill. The committee released an abbreviated breakdown of its main provisions. Daniel said that he was disappointed that the bill did not include his recommendation for revision of the franchise tax formula.

The governor said he was glad to have a tax bill out of committee and commented pointedly that he was sure it could be changed on the floor of the House by amendment.

"I have had just one look at it," Daniel said. "It does look like some of my program is in it, but certainly at a much reduced rate."

Daniel noted that the bill called for a natural gas levy at one per cent. He had suggested three per cent.

"If my recommendations were in the bill, it would not be necessary to have some of the other items," Daniel said.

Newsmen told the governor that they figured the bill was about 95 per cent sales tax and asked if he would veto such a bill.

Daniel refused to say what he would do because, he said he had not read the bill thoroughly enough to be that specific. He said that he still did not favor a general sales tax.

He said the bill appeared to have inequitable distribution of the tax load, and repeated that natural gas should have been given a bigger proportion.

"If this summary is correct, you will see that the increase on cigarettes was twice as much as that on natural gas. I think it would be all right to raise cigarettes one cent," Daniel said.

Daniel was asked if he was going to definitely recommend a one-cent increase in the gasoline tax to help pay for improved public schools. He replied it depends on two things.

"First, if we are able to beat the proposed one and one half cent increase in the federal tax. I have fought this proposal so that Texas could have it.

Taft Memorial Is Dedicated Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower dedicated a towering memorial today to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft. He praised Taft as a man who gave generously and unstintingly of himself "for the good of all America."

Eisenhower honored a former political rival and ally at ceremonies at the base of a 100-foot bell tower erected at the foot of Capitol Hill in memory of the Ohio senator.

Taft, Eisenhower said, was a liberal in championing individual rights and the symbol of conservatism in everything affecting the national economy.

Former President Herbert Hoover and high government officials also participated with Eisenhower in the dedication.

Hoover depicted Taft as a man who chose to die with his boots on rather than to desert his post. He called Taft "an official with a social conscience" and said: "He not only would not desert his post, he never deserted his people."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) arranged to accept the marble tower on behalf of Congress.

Eisenhower, in a brief prepared address, voiced his personal gratitude to Taft for "the priceless gift of friendship" and the wisdom and experience offered by the senator "whenever I needed him most."

To Eisenhower, Taft was the rival over whom the former general strode to the Republican presidential nomination in 1952. Taft also was the Republican leader in the Senate in the Eisenhower administration's infancy.

"All knew him as a commanding figure on Capitol Hill," Eisenhower said.

"To the people of the United States he was a liberal in his championship of individual rights and opportunity, but he was also the very symbol of informed and responsible conservatism in everything affecting the nation's economy. He was, by his own definition, a politician. An admiring nation now acknowledges that he was infinitely more."

In tracing Taft's contribution to the nation, Hoover told of an unsuccessful visit he made to Washington July 1, 1953, in an effort to convince the Ohio senator he ought to return to New York Hospital for treatment of his illness. Taft died on July 31 that year of cancer.

The former president quoted Taft as telling him:

"My friend, you know what is the matter with me. I know what is the matter with me. I am going to die with my boots on."

Nicholas Jury To Get Instructions

By DON REEDER

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Six lawyers and a judge hammer out final instructions today for a jury that will decide the fate of Connie Nicholas.

The murder trial of the trim divorcee stood adjourned until Wednesday when the panel of 12 married men will hear final arguments in the killing of handsome drug firm executive Forrest Teel.

After receiving instructions from Judge Thomas J. Faulconer, the jury will retire to a small, plainly furnished room in the basement of the Marion County courthouse to debate which version of the July 1 shooting is the true one.

Did the 45-year-old divorcee ruthlessly plan to kill Teel, 54, because he was breaking up their 15-year romance to pursue a young secretary?

Or did a pearl-handled French pistol go off accidentally in a struggle after Mrs. Nicholas threatened to commit suicide in Teel's car?

One of the key issues in today's conference on jury instructions was a defense request that the jury be allowed to return any verdict down to simple assault. Judge Faulconer has said he will give the jury only three choices if they find the brunette defendant guilty.

The choices are first-degree murder (electrocution or life imprisonment), second-degree murder (life) or manslaughter (2-21 years).

Another defense request was that the judge's instructions put more weight on the option of ruling accidental death or self-defense. The prosecution opposes it.

"I'm still hopeful that the jury will acquit me," Mrs. Nicholas said Monday after testimony was completed in the month-old trial.

County Authorized To Ask Lease Bids

The county has been authorized by the commissioners court to advertise for bids for an oil and gas lease on county-owned land at Hermleigh.

The action came after offers were made to the county for a lease there. Numerous city lots in Hermleigh and much of the area around Hermleigh have new oil and gas leases.

The county owns five acres of land at Hermleigh, used for a county maintenance yard.

The commissioners court, in other action yesterday afternoon, authorized the purchase of a mowing machine for the road and bridge department, to be used in maintenance of right-of-way of the county's paved roads.

'Musical Revue' Set Tonight

Advanced sale of tickets for tonight's annual "Musical Revue" by the combined choral and band departments of Snyder High School are going good, but tickets will be on sale at the auditorium door tonight.

Melvin Montgomery, band director, and Robert Clinton, choral director, said that a large number of tickets had been sold, but that admission will be available tonight.

Admission price is $1 per person. Proceeds are to be used to help pay cost of this year's trip by the band and choral students to the Buccaneer Music Festival at Corpus Christi.

The approximately two-hour program tonight will be opened by the concert band directed by Montgomery, assisted by Bill Green. The "Coat of Arms March," and "Sea Portrait," will be the opening numbers. They will be followed by "Beguine Festival," a medley of tunes in the Latin American setting.

The second portion of the program will feature the "Psycopathic Seven, accompanied by the concert band, in "Dixie Land Concerto," "Voodoo," and closing its portion of the program with "Children's Marching Song."

Then the A Capella Choir will take the stage and perform a varied program of sacred and secular numbers. The first number for double chorus, by Heinrich Schutz, will be "Lord, Who is My Guide But Thee?" For this number the choir will be divided into two groups. Known as antiphonal singing, this technique was used in olden times when choirs were placed on opposite sides of the cathedral.

The choirs second number will be from the Russian Church School of music. It will be "Heavenly Light," by Peter J. Wilhousky. Ending the group of sacred numbers will be one of the great anthems of the church by Will James, "Jesus, Our Lord, We Adore Thee."

The start of the second group will be spiritual written by Houston Bright, choral director of West Texas State College, "Walk-A With Peter and Paul." Tony Anger will be the preacher.

For a complete change of pace the choir will go to the American musical comedy and sing "The Wells Fargo Wagon," from the Music Man by Meredith Willson. For the completion of the second section the choir will sing a new Fred Waring arrangement of an old song, "If I Had My Way."

One of the feature numbers of the choir will be a spiritual made famous in the last few months by Harry Belofonte, and also recorded by the Voices of Walter Schumann, "In Dat Great Gittin Up Mornin." Soloist will be Vondell Sumruld, and Tim Dennis, junior high school band director and arranger for the high school bands, will help on the drums for this number.

The final number by the A Capella Choir will be "The Tarantella," arranged by Harry Simeone, with piano accompainment by Barbara Josepheson, aided by Jerry Roe on the bass. In ancient times the Tarantella was known as the "dance of death." As the story goes the dancer was bitten by a large spider known as Tarantula, and would dance until she fell dead. As the years passed and less violent means were used the Tarantella became a lively and gay dance.

Following the choir the Snyder High School Stage Band will perform the final portion of the program. The Stage Band's theme, "You Took Advantage of Me," will be its opening number, followed by "Somewhere Over the Rainbow."

An original tune "Patty Cakes," will follow by the Stage Band.

Miss Romona Locke will be featured as vocalist with the Stage Band in two numbers, "Almost Like Being In Love," and "Chances Are."

A Latin American tune, "Speak Low," then another original "Cool Winds," will follow by the Stage Band. A Latin American arrangement of "The Lady and The Tramp," will also be done by the Stage Band.

The Musical Revue will be concluded by a combined effort of the Stage Band and the choir doing "The Best Things in Life Are Free."

Mrs. Luce To Appear Before Senate Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clare Boothe Luce will testify before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday on her nomination as ambassador to Brazil.

The hearing was scheduled after two delays since her nomination in February.

Staff Utilization Program Praised

A special evaluation team highly recommended methods of teaching practiced in the staff utilization experimental program in the Snyder schools after spending a day here yesterday.

The team, which came here from Colorado Springs, Colo., is one of three such teams which will help evaluate the program before the end of the school year.

The staff utilization experiment conducted here during the past four years in a cooperative program of the Snyder schools and the Fund for the Advancement of Education, which is supported by the Ford Foundation, will end at the close of this school year.

In the staff utilization program, experiments included use of larger classes for lectures and smaller groups for special work, use of secretarial help to give teachers more time to prepare their work, and use of special audio-visual equipment in teaching.

Coming here to evaluate the program was a four-member team, two members former Snyder residents. The former residents were Dr. and Mrs. DWain Collins, now of Colorado Springs, where Collins is director of the counselling center and professor of education at Colorado College and Mrs. Collins is dean of girls and English teacher at West Junior High. Collins is former coordinator of pupil personnel services for the schools here. Other members of the team were also from Colorado College. They were Dr. Lewis Pino, professor of chemistry and director of special studies, and Hervine Madruga, professor of foreign languages.

Collins said the team talked to teachers and students both those involved in the staff utilization program and those not in the program as well as talking to administrators and a number of citizens here concerning the program.

"We had never seen [illegible] all the experienced teachers and students as excited about the learning process as we have seen here today," Collins said yesterday afternoon after the team's study here. "One of the most difficult things to develop is enthusiasm in education in students," Collins said, "but that is prevalent in the program here," he added. Of the larger proportion of students actively participating in the staff utilization program, there is less need for teachers' telling them [illegible] he said.

"I would say definitely that every person I talked to is interested in seeing this kind of thing continued and expanded," Collins said. He added that he believes there is hesitancy on the part of some, however, who are anxious about saying this kind of program should continue because of costs involved, "and I am quite sure that Snyder is not going to deny its children the best kind of instruction it can buy. I think Snyder will and can afford this type program," he said.

"No school of its quality is going to make an appreciable reduction in expenditures for the very simple reason that personnel, buildings and basic equipment cannot be reduced as long as [illegible] serve. Therefore the only thing they can do is whittle away at such things as instructional costs. To me that is like unto taking a scalpel away from a surgeon," Collins said.

While the program here has included larger classes at times and work with special equipment including closed circuit television, one of the major things was use of secretarial help to relieve teachers so they could do the professional things they are trained to do, Collins said.

C. Daughtry Service Set

Clem Daughtry, 63, of Midland, brother of Mrs. Ida Davis of Snyder, died Sunday in McKnight State Hospital near San Angelo, where he had been for the past four months.

Mr. Daughtry, retired farmer and packing company employe, was born Aug. 16, 1894, in Limestone County. He moved to Midland 35 years ago from Colorado City.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Calvary Baptist Church in Midland, with burial in Fairview Cemetery under direction of Ellis Funeral Home. Midland Oddfellows will conduct graveside services.

Survivors include his widow; one daughter, Mrs. Marie Daughtry of Raton, N. M.; three sons, T. J. Daughtry of Odessa, Calvin C. Daughtry of Lubbock, and Darrel Daughtry of San Diego, Cal.; one brother, Tom Daughtry of Colorado City; three other sisters, Mrs. Emma Franklin of Abilene, Mrs. Bessie Robertson of South, and Mrs. Elva Powell of Austin, and five grandchildren.

Work Of Students To Be Published

Fifty-six essays and poems of Snyder High School students have been accepted by the National High School Association for publication in the Texas units of "Young America Speaks" and "Young America Sings."

The annual publications display outstanding essay and poetry work of high school students. "Young America Speaks" includes essays, while poetry is published in "Young America Sings."

The students did their work in English classes under four high school teachers here.

Those who will have essays published include nine seniors, 13 juniors, and seven sophomores. Of the 25 poems to be published, 12 were by juniors and 13 by seniors.

Two of the juniors in the class of Mrs. M. M. O'Rear, Carol Strom and Roger Fields, qualified for special merit awards for their poetry. Two other juniors in that class, Fred Reynolds and Betty Longbotham, will have two poems each published.

The essay writers, listed after teachers' names:

Mrs. Margaret Miller — Nancy Lee Cannon, Mike Moffett, and Brenda Pitts, sophomores; Pauline Rieger, Lanada Holmes, Bill Murphy, Jerry Walker, and Phillip Smartt, juniors.

Virgil Joines — Carolyn Goodlett, Charlene Johnston, Sharon Poole, Carolyn Lloyd, Marsha Hurst, and Linda Page, juniors.

Mrs. Virgil Joines — Cecil Vaught, Judy Lockhart, Ramona Hewitt, and Jerry Guthrie, sophomores; Sharon Morgan, Carolyn Smith, Marty Davis, Kay Shelburne, Glenda Greene, and Donna Neal, seniors.

Mrs. M. M. O'Rear — Sherene Gladson, Darlene Gray, Danny Callaway, and Gwen Beckham, juniors; Tommy Horton, Jimmy Guy, and Carolyn Linville, seniors.

Those whose poetry will be published, listed after their teachers' names:

Mrs. Virgil Joines — Jane Shaw, Janice White, Janice Young, Adalene Abercrombie, Sharon Morgan, Kay Shelburne, Patsy Heiger, and Nancy Wiman, seniors.

Mrs. M. M. O'Rear — Bob Fields, Carroll Leech, Barbara McMennamy, Beth McClatchy, and Loretta Evans Prince, seniors; Fred Reynolds, Susan Cockrell, Betty Longbotham, Linda Shaw, Carol Strom, Roger Fields, Roy Lashaway, Carla Gladson, Pat Cary, and Gretchen Short.

There are about 800 coffee houses now in Vienna which serve both Viennese and American coffee. With the American coffee you get "cream and sugar."

Snyder FHA Girls To Attend State Convention

Delegates to this years State Convention of Future Homemakers of America to be held in Dallas April 23-25, have been selected by the Snyder High School FHA Club.

The list is headed by Sherrell Bell, president this year, and the fourth Snyder FHA Club girl to win the highest honor bestowed in Texas FHA work, the FHA state Degree.

The other two delegates will be Ginny Sims, who was elected president of the Snyder club for next year to succeed Sherrell in a meeting last week; and Mary Frances Stephens, who had the longest chain of successfully completed FHA activities.

The convention will be held in the State Fair Music Hall on the State Fair Grounds in Dallas.

In addition to the honor of being selected one of Snyder's three state delegates, Ginny Sims has been selected to sing in the state choir. The choir will be composed of 100 voices, with 10 voices selected from each of the states 10 districts. She is one of four altos selected from this district. Each district chose four altos and six sopranos for the choir.

Miss Bell is the latest in a succession of four Snyder girls to win the coveted State FHA Degree. Others earlier were Janice Springer, Carolyn Murphy, and Beth Wiman.

In addition to the selection of state convention delegates, the Snyder FHA Club last week elected part of its slate of officers for 1959-60 school year. Some of the offices were left open, however, to be filled after the beginning of next school term from the incoming freshman class.

Ginny Sims was elected president for the coming year to succeed Sherrell Bell.

Other new officers so far elected are: Carolyn Engler, vice president; Betty Snider, secretary; Barbara Armstrong, treasurer; and Sandra Stephens, reporter.

Accompanying the Snyder delegates to the state convention will be Miss Vera Periman, high school homemaking teacher, and Mrs. M. F. Bell, mother of Sherrell Bell.

If you are left-handed, it is a good idea to reverse the usual position of the washer and clothes dryer when you get new appliances. Working from left to right may reduce accidents and speed up the job of transferring laundry from the washer to the clothes dryer.

Steam and dry irons are now available for left-handers. The cord attaches directly to the back of the iron which permits a more comfortable position and full view of the ironing board.

Former Snyderites To Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bradbury, former Snyder residents, now living in Abilene will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary with an open house and reception, at their home in Abilene, 533 Peach St., Sunday, April 19.

Married in Snyder, April 18, 1909, they made their home here until 1949 when they moved to Abilene, except for a brief period when they lived in Weatherford, Texas. Mr. Bradbury worked for the RS&P and Santa Fe railroads for several years and Fuller Cotton Oil Company. He was in the grocery business here briefly and then became city secretary-treasurer, which position he held until he retired in 1949.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bradbury were active in church and civic affairs in Snyder for many years, and will be remembered by their many friends here.

Their three children, all born in Snyder, will be present at the celebration. They are, Violet Bradbury of Abilene, Mrs. Billy Moore of Warren, Arizona and E. J. Bradbury of San Antonio. There are five grand-children, but not all of them will be able to attend. They are Billy Sam Moore, Baylor University, Waco; Ginger Moore, Warren, Arizona; Wayne Bradbury, Port Arthur; Mrs. Dan Rogers, Warren, Arizona; and E. J. Bradbury Jr., San Antonio; also one great grandchild, Penny Lynn Rogers, Warren, Arizona.

Their many friends in Snyder, Abilene and west Texas are cordially invited to attend their golden wedding anniversary reception.

Why Electric Cooking is FAST

Flat-surfaced cooking elements on today's electric ranges start heating instantly, reach full high heat in seconds. Heat is transferred to utensils by direct metal-to-metal contact, with no intervening air space, so you get maximum efficiency and cooking speed.
A fully-insulated electric oven reaches baking or roasting temperature quickly. Since it is insulated all around, including the bottom, it keeps the heat inside the oven. And because electric heat is instant, the broiler requires no preheating. This means that your meals can be prepared in a minimum of time.
LIVE BETTER ELECTRICALLY
Electric cooking is also cool, clean, accurate and economical. Select your new electric range now and enjoy all these benefits . . . at an average cost of only about 3c a meal for electricity.

ROBERT E. STRIPLING

Stripling Named Rotary Speaker

Robert E. Stripling, oil operator and attorney, will be speaker at the annual ladies night banquet of the Snyder Rotary Club April 24.

Stripling is well known for his investigations in connection with the Alger Hiss case. Hiss several years ago was convicted of perjury after lying about supplying secret documents to Russia from his high state department office.

Now of Midland, Stripling moved there and entered the oil business following the Alger Hiss case, at which time he wrote "The Red Plot Against America."

A native Texan, he spent 18 years on Capitol Hill in Washington, and for 10 of those years he was counsel and chief investigator for the Committee on Un-American Activities for the House of Representatives.

During World War II, Stripling set up and taught a course on subversive activities to agents of the Counter-Intelligence Corps, and in 1948 and 1949 he lectured at the Army War College in Washington on subversive activities.

Here he will speak on Communism in the U. S. and abroad.

The Rotary Club banquet will be held at 7:30 p.m. April 24 at the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

At the banquet, outgoing and incoming officers and directors will be introduced. They take office July 1. Clint Wise is outgoing president, being succeeded by James Rosser. Wise will become vice president, succeeding Roy Dunlap. Grady Elder will continue as secretary of the club.

New directors are Rosser, Dr. Robert Hargrove and Scott Casey. Holdover directors are Bill Elland, Marvin Stevenson, Wise, and Bill Wilson.

Outgoing directors are Dunlap, Marshall Erwin, and Lyle Alexander.

Egan Goes Back Home

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Lean but lively William A. Egan, given only a 50-50 chance to live when flown to Seattle for emergency surgery 12 weeks ago, returned to Alaska Monday and was cheered by the Legislature.

About 32 pounds under his normal weight but speaking strongly and walking with a quick step, the 44-year-old Democratic governor told a joint session and packed gallery: "I can't begin to express how wonderful it is to be back in Alaska."

In a 10-minute speech, interrupted three times by standing ovations, Egan told the lawmakers he would be able to devote only a few hours a day to office work and Secretary of State Hugh J. Wade would continue as acting governor.

He said he would have to return to Seattle for relatively minor gallstone surgery.

Egan entered a Juneau hospital just two hours after being sworn in as Alaska's first elected governor Jan. 3. Complications followed a Jan. 6 operation here and he was flown to Seattle for abdominal surgery.

Lost Skiers Are Unhurt

LONGMIRE, Wash. (AP) — Three lost skiers who huddled in a snow cave, slapping each other to keep warm and singing to keep up spirits, survived a frigid night high on Mt. Rainier.

Ulla Samvik, 31, Bo Ryfelt, 35, and Eiler Storakers, 30, all of Seattle, had worked their way down to the 6,500-foot level before they were found Monday afternoon. They were hungry but unhurt.

Storakers, member of a mountain rescue team at Jamtland Fjalls, Sweden, before coming to the United States two years ago, was credited with devising the survival shelter.

"We think his experience is what saved our lives," said Miss Samvik. "He showed us how to dig a cave with our skis in the snow, where we crawled in and spent the night."

Child Kept From School

SHEPHERDSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A man who maintained school officials had no right to paddle his son won court permission to keep the boy out of classes.

C. L. Troutwine Sr. conducted his own defense Monday on a charge of permitting 15-year-old Billy Troutwine to stay away from school.

A former truancy officer told the Bullitt County Court jury Billy came to school the first day of the term in September and didn't return.

Troutwine said he kept Billy home because a principal paddled him last year. "I don't want the flesh of my son whipped," he said.

Kentucky law requires school attendance until age 16.

Willis Wills, principal of Shepherdsville High School, testified he paddled Billy, a ninth-grader, along with nine other boys after they ignored repeated warnings to bring books to class.

Holle Asked To Return Funds

By FRANK N. MANJTZAS

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Board of Health says it will ask the resigned state health commissioner, Henry A. Holle, to return $468 in what it calls "state money."

The board made public last night a special audit of a $6,047 expense fund. Board Chairman J. B. Copeland of San Antonio said the fund played a part in the resignation of Holle last Tuesday.

Most of the money requested to be reimbursed was spent for a dedication party at the department's new building last November, the audit showed.

Holle resigned under pressure on request of Dr. Copeland. Holle claimed the House Appropriations Bill would hamper the operations of his department. He said the audit had nothing to do with his resignation.

"It was on the basis of this information (the audit) and other policies of Dr. Holle that were not compatible with the policy of the board that Dr. Holle's resignation was accepted," Copeland said.

Holle complained of restrictions and elimination of a training and personnel programs in the House bill. The Senate bill gave the department slightly more money, allowed continued operation of the programs and did not restrict how the money should be spent.

House Appropriations Committee Chairman William S. Heatly of Paducah had requested the audit. It covered $6,406 in receipts from Feb. 12, 1958, to April 4, 1959. Expenditures totaled $4,096 for that period.

Rep. Heatly and Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene, who wrote the Health Department's appropriations in the big spending bill, presented the audit to Copeland.

"Contrary to recent statements," Copeland said, "the State Board of Health has received fine cooperation from the Appropriations Committee and the members of the Legislature generally, and we have found that members of the Legislature were receptive to the needs of the Health Department in order that a good program can be maintained for the people of Texas."

State Auditor C. H. Cavness' report said money funds such as the Health Department's contingent fund were not uncommon among state departments. He said such flower funds are "at least semi-state funds, the records of which we have looked into but have not included in the departmental audit report."

Copeland said the total Holle would be asked to return included these expenditures: Three fifths of whisky $20.90, other liquor $90.60, catering service for a cocktail buffet at Holle's home for the guests $222.50, and tuition at an Austin business college for a Health Department employe's shorthand course, $125.

The audit report said Holle furnished a letter Thursday stating:

"The funds in this account do not originate from state appropriations, but from such sources as the coffee bar, the soft drink vending machine and leases from the caterer operating the cafeteria service for staff employes in the building. [illegible] advice of legal counsel, we have always considered these funds as being non-state funds.

"We have utilized them for the good of the department in a number of ways, usually for items which were not eligible for expenditure from regular appropriated funds."

Holle said expenditures were for flowers for deceased employes, their families or persons [illegible].

"A sizeable expenditure was made for costs related to the dedication ceremonies of our new building [illegible] November. [illegible]

"None of these expenditures could have been paid for with state funds."

Cavness said the fund's records were not up to date at all times but all recorded cash items had been accounted for.

"We found that personal checks had been cashed from it for convenience," Cavness said. "In some instances, such checks were held for a period of time—no indication that this was deliberate, but it is not good administrative practice."

The report included expenditures for donations to a heart fund, and purchases from dairies, coffee firms, sporting good houses and florists.

Cancer Drive To Open Here

H. A. JOHNSON, JR.

Scurry County's 1959 Cancer Crusade will open tomorrow with the beginning of work by the general business division.

H. A. Johnson, Jr., superintendent here for Sun Pipe Line Co., is chairman of the division and is also head of the advance gifts section of the crusade.

The general business drive will continue through May 4. On April 21, the house-to-house campaign, headed by Mrs. Frank LeFeuvre, will be held.

Johnson and Mrs. LeFeuvre have been recruiting workers for the crusade during the past several days and have asked that any persons desiring to work in the crusade contact them.

Workers in the crusade, as they solicit funds for the $4,900 goal here, will also be distributing literature on the work of the American Cancer Society and on cancer facts. That is the reason, Johnson said, for the separate drive here of the American Cancer Society. A major part of its program is education.

The education chairman for the local unit of the cancer society, Buford Browning, will be showing cancer films to service clubs here throughout the week.

A meeting was held last night by the local unit's board, with 14 persons attending, to make further plans for the crusade here.

The American Cancer Society operates a three-part program in research, education, and service.

The research goal is to find what causes cancer, to find new ways to cure it, to find ways to prevent it, and to alleviate pain and suffering. Its program attack is a national program of cancer research support through program grants, project grants, institutional research grants, and other research grants. It trains and supports cancer research personnel. In the last 13 years the ACS has devoted about $76,380,000 to cancer research.

The education goal is to help people understand the nature of cancer, stress that the best protection against cancer and a way to maintain good health is an annual checkup by a reputable physician, and a prompt examination if any of cancer's danger signals appear, and to inform about the only known cures for cancer and warn against frauds and quacks who prey on people in connection with cancer. In the latest year for which figures are available, 1957, more than 425 million pieces of cancer educational material were distributed, more than 65,000 articles about cancer placed in local news media, nearly 15,000 five minute radio and television programs originated, the cancer message taken to 37,000 industrial establishments with employe programs and cancer education was carried out in 600 colleges and 9,000 secondary schools. There is also professional education to bring to the medical profession new information on cancer and the latest developments in diagnosis and treatment of the disease, and to train nurses and technicians for their roles in diagnosis and treatment, convalescence and recovery from cancer.

The service goal is to aid in saving lives from cancer by supporting physicians' efforts to provide earlier and improved treatment of cancer and to bring greater comfort to cancer patients. The service program includes early finding of cancer, improved diagnostic facilities, adequate treatment facilities, expanded information services and availability of medical social work skills. In providing comfort, the service program includes nursing services, loans of sick supplies, provision of cancer dressings, transportation services, housekeeping services, rehabilitation activities, hospital needs and medication. The local unit has an active service committee headed by Mrs. Norman Spencer.

Mount Etna, off the coast of Italy, is the highest volcano in Europe. Among its 200 cones is one that is 10,750 feet high.

Aside from its major products of vegetables and citrus fruits Florida is becoming an increasingly important cattle-raising state.

AIME Sets April Meet

The April meeting of the Snyder section of the Society of Petroleum Engineers of the AIME will be held Thursday night at 6:30 o'clock at Carlos' El Rancho restaurant.

A social period starting at 6:30 will precede the dinner scheduled for 7:30 o'clock.

The speaker for the program that evening will be Dwight K. Smith, group leader of cement section of the Chemical Research Laboratories of Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Co.

Smith will present a paper on "Improvements in Cements and Cementing Methods."

He received a B. S. Degree in chemistry in 1943, and later served in the U. S. Air Force for three years during World War II.

During his 12 years of employment with Halliburton, he has worked with drilling fluids, hydraulic fracturing and oil well cementing materials. For the past five years he has held the position of group leader of the cement section of Halliburton's Chemical Research Laboratories.

Smith is a well-known authority on oil well cementing. He is the author of several papers on cementing materials that have appeared in technical literature.

All members of the Society of Petroleum Engineers of the AIME are urged to attend, and any nonmembers are welcomed, and invited to the meeting.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THE TIGER TRACKSTERS will be battling all of New Mexico Saturday when they take part in the Hobbs Relays.

At the latest count, Snyder was the only Texas entry in the meet. Main reason no other Texas schools are entered is that district meets are being held in most of the other 4A and 3A districts in West Texas.

The District 3-AAA meet was held a week earlier than most district meets and Tiger coach Jim Stehley, not wanting his charges to grow stale, accepted an invitation from Hobbs.

It's highly possible that the other 3-AAA schools will send teams to Hobbs, especially the boys who have qualified for regional competition.

The Tigers qualified 8 boys plus one relay team for the regional meet; Sweetwater 5 boys plus one relay team; Lake View 2 boys and one relay team; Lamesa [illegible] boys and one relay team; and Colorado City 2 boys.

Rules Changed

Except for the relays, the boys going to regional must compete in the same events of which he qualified in the district meet.

In the past, if a boy qualified in one running event in district he could compete in three running events in regional if he so chose.

In relays, however, a coach is allowed to substitute from one level of competition to another.

The Tigers who have qualified for regional are Mickey McGrew, Perry Culwell, Stanley Wooleyer, Wayne Berry, Jesse Crawford, Jimmy Maroney, Tommy Minton, Ronnie Giles and Bill Dubose in individual events and Larry Patterson, Richard Mahan, Crawford and Maroney in the 440-yard relay.

Job Well Done

Officials running off the Little Olympics yesterday did a tremendous job.

No less than 54 races were run plus the field events and all this was accomplished in the matter of only two hours.

That's running 'em off at about a race every two minutes. When you can line up a bunch a kids for races in that rapid fire order it takes some doing.

Ace Amos served as the starter and he and his helpers are to be commended for a job well done.

John Conley, of course, kept the kids informed as to what was going on via the mike.

Members of the Tiger football and track squads handled all the field events in fine style plus helping with the running events.

Track coach Jim Stehley had quite a job in taking down all the winners in most of the running events.

The coaches of the competing teams also helped immensely by keeping their kids together and getting them to their respective places of competition without much loss of time.

All in all it was strictly good team work on the part of those helping run off the meet.

Munoz New Feather Champion In Texas

ODESSA (AP)—Ruben Munoz of Odessa, who has a record of 12 victories in 14 fights, is the new Texas featherweight boxing champion.

Munoz won the crown last night as he took a split decision in a 12-round battle with Henry Luera of Houston.

They were fighting for the title vacated by Paul Jorgensen of Port Arthur, who won the two fights Munoz lost.

Munoz weighed 124, Luera 125.

Tigers Meet Midland Nine Here Today

The Tiger baseballers opened a busy week today when they were scheduled to go against the Midland Bulldogs at Towle Park at 4.

Norman Gladson or Tim Roberts were slated to open on the mound for the Tiger nine.

The Tigers carried a 6-6 record into the game.

Today's Tiger foe, Midland, only last week knocked off Abilene by 14-1 in a District 2-AAAA game. The Bulldogs, however, absorbed a 1-0 loss to Odessa Saturday to drop into a two-way tie for third place in the 2-AAAA standings.

The Tigers will go to San Angelo tomorrow for a makeup game and then complete the week's activities with a doubleheader against Abilene here Saturday.

Port Arthur Hosts $4,000 Pro-Amateur

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP)—Half of the 100 touring professionals are expected to compete here April 20 in the $4,000 Port Arthur pro-amateur golf tournament.

Since there is no competition elsewhere in the area and the players will be leaving Houston after playing in the Houston Classic, officials expect more of the stars than ever before.

TEXARKANA DAILY NEWS

The harassment which Soviet Premier Khrushchev said many times would not occur in the Berlin corridor has begun.

Russian authorities in Germany suddenly have discovered that a 10,000-foot ceiling exists in the authorized airlanes between West German soil and Berlin and that Western planes are not supposed to fly above that limit.

[illegible] U. S. and British officials quickly made clear nothing has ever been said about any ceilings applying in the [illegible] corridors.

This is just one of those technical devices the Soviet Union employs to harass its adversaries. They cleverly choose some point which to the world's millions untutored in the details of the Berlin agreements, may have a color of plausibility.

Blunter techniques are hard for the Russians to set aside, however, and it was perhaps inevitable that their phony argument over a nonexistant ceiling should be accompanied by the buzzing of an unarmed U. S. transport. The Soviet fighters passed within 10 feet of our plane.

Wisely and properly, we are declining to dignify Soviet bunk or to knuckle under to either verbal or physical threats. Our aircraft are continuing to fly at [illegible] Our C-130 turboprop, now coming into heavy use, does best at 20,000 or more.

The Russians know these words and acts do not improve East-West feeling. That is not their concern. In diplomacy they are crude line-buckers. They think they'll do better at the coming foreign ministers' and summit meetings if they show their muscle in advance. They imagine that a flexed bicep is pretty persuasive stuff.

Time Is Working Against Dulles

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

John Foster Dulles once remarked: "Time is the most valuable thing in life, and I don't want to waste it."

Time works against him now. While he battles cancer in the hospital, the hour is swiftly approaching when the policies on which he based America's prosecution of the cold war will face momentous trials.

In less than a month, the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union are scheduled to meet to prepare the way for a summit meeting of government heads. It is possible the United States will be represented in Geneva by a new secretary of state.

But the influence of John Foster Dulles will be present in any case. The past six years demonstrated the tremendous impact a single personality can have upon a nation's policy and the course of history.

Basically, perhaps, American policy in a time of cold war would have been pretty much the same under any secretary of state. But it makes a great deal of difference how those policies are interpreted and carried out.

Dulles' solemn, almost evangelistic approach and his stubborn defense of moral principles have left little room for compromise on any fundamental issue of what he considered right or wrong.

Perhaps U.S. policy might have done better if its architect had been more deliberately cynical in dealing with a cynical enemy. Dulles seems to have denied himself that weapon out of conviction that a civilized Western nation's diplomacy should rely on the moral force of Christian principles. Possibly this was a little naive in today's world. But in the matter of assessing his antagonists Dulles has displayed little naivete.

"We are devoting billions in money and our highest talents to preparation for a fighting war, a war that may never come," Dulles wrote long before he became secretary. "The strength of our society is being undermined by the cold war that is here and which could finally defeat us."

Dulles has never lost sight of that possibility. Apparently he still believes the Kremlin is intent upon world domination through Communist expansion. The cornerstone of his policy has been a determination to convince the Kremlin it can never succeed.

The post of secretary of state always has been an easy and popular target for criticism, and Dulles has aroused many storms. Educated opinion both at home and abroad attributes U.S. policy not to President Eisenhower — as it had to presidents before him — but directly to Dulles. He bore the full brunt of criticism when he solemnly issued such verbal thunderbolts as "agonizing reappraisal" and "massive retaliation."

Only time will tell whether he will be vindicated. But time will not wait for him. Important cold war contests are ahead. Will the United States be represented by a man equal in rank to the other foreign ministers?

Dulles and President Eisenhower face another agonizing reappraisal. Dulles' influence surely will be felt at Geneva, but perhaps he and the President will decide the time has come to give the reins of U. S. policy into other hands.

Vienna, home for one-quarter of Austria's population, is now planning to build a subway system to relieve transportation difficulties.

Open House Set In Historic Building

GALVESTON (AP) — One of the most historic buildings in Texas — the Samuel May Williams home — now restored to its former beauty by The Galveston Historical Foundation, will observe open house tomorrow.

Prominent persons from the state and nation will pay tribute, not only to the durability of the home Williams built 121 years ago and occupied for more than 20 years, but to the service Williams rendered to the city of his adoption and his state.

The foundation will hold its annual dinner meeting with Dr. Richard Howland of Washington, president of the National Trust for Historic Preservation, as speaker.

Numerous antiques will be placed at vantage points which they occupied 121 years ago.

Williams came to Texas in 1822, a young man of 27. He spoke both Spanish and French so fluently the Mexican government employed him as an interpreter even before Stephen F. Austin arrived to start [illegible]

He and his wife Sarah and their children made their home in the structure which he built. He imported rare brick and other materials to Galveston by steamer from New England.

In the colonization of Texas, Austin appointed Williams secretary of the colonization movement. He placed him in charge of the land office at San Felipe on the Brazos.

But there was no money with which to operate the office, and Williams bought his own record ledger, paid $1.50 each for two chairs, used the top of a whisky barrel for a desk and opened his office in 1824.

There are significant reasons why the Williams-Tucker house, as it is commonly called, is considered one of the most historic in the state.

Williams was one of the founders of the City of Galveston.

He built his home here in 1838 and kept all of the records of the colonization of Texas under Austin within its confines.

He built the first wharf and warehouse in Galveston, and began Texas' domestic and foreign trade through Galveston.

He was the organizer of the first incorporated bank in Texas.

Ships owned by Williams were part of the first and second navies which rendered vital service during the Texas Revolution against Mexico.

Williams paid personally one-tenth of the total cost of the revolution against Mexico, totaling $150,000, of which ultimately $40,000 was repaid.

Williams died in his historic home here in 1858.

After Williams' death, the home was acquired by Philip Tucker, a family friend. Members of his family and his descendants continued to reside the old home for 85 years.

Daily Crude Flow Increases Slightly

TULSA (AP) — An increase in Oklahoma contributed to a 2,225-barrel rise in daily average crude production to 7,146,750 barrels the week ended April 11, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Oklahoma rose 20,600 barrels to 571,100. This helped offset a 41,725-barrel decline in Texas to 2,772,100 barrels.

The Journal estimated 1959 production at 727,241,380 barrels compared to 666,973,640 a year ago.

Louisiana rose 3,825 barrels to 965,700; New Mexico 1,425 to 294,600; and Arkansas 50 to 80,450.

Hamlet Role Eyed By Frankie Laine

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Singer Frankie Laine, who quit show business five times before he became a star, has been bitten by the acting bug. So when'll he play Hamlet?

"Not right now," said the song belter. "I'm not ready for Shakespeare yet. That's a rough school.

"But in another five years I might be crazy enough to try it."

Acting is not without its perils, he has found. He wasn't so lucky practicing drawing his six shooter for a part in a television piece.

"The first time I skinned my finger," he said. "And the second time I dropped the gun and nearly broke a toe."

Frankie has sold more than 30 million records in the last dozen years.

Why, since his voice brings down money in a golden shower, waste it on straight acting?

"The fear of trying something new is often what defeats people," said Laine. "There is no standing still in this business. The day you aren't willing to take a step forward is the day you've already started going backward."

Frankie, the son of a Chicago barber, isn't frightened by the possibility of failure. It took him 16 years to reach the top as a singer. During that period he slept at times on park benches, worked as an office boy, dancing teacher, shipping clerk, auto salesman and machinist.

"The first lesson I had to learn was to be myself," he recalled. "I did what everybody else was doing. And I was a dud.

"In 1936, I decided I'd quit imitating others."

It took another decade before his big-voice style caught on. Five times he quit in disgust. Five times he came back and tried again.

"The last time, I quit a $150-a-week factory job, because I couldn't see spending my life looking at the same four walls," he said. "I figured that it would take me 20 years to work up to an executive job."

Soon after taking a job in a Hollywood night spot, Frankie clicked with a recording. His first royalty check was for $36,000.

"I often wonder what would have happened to me if I hadn't been willing to make that one last try," he said.

"But it doesn't worry me. I can lie down 20 minutes before going on the air and take a nap. My wife, Nan, and I both have faith. We believe there's a reason for everything that happens in life."

The Laines and their two teenage daughters, Pam and Jan, are very close.

"When you boil it down," said Frankie, "the family is the most important unity in your life."

Father Beats His Daughter To Death

HOUSTON (AP) — A father beat his [illegible]-month-old daughter to death yesterday "to keep my wife from going crazy."

Rich[illegible] Hinson, [illegible], a shipyard worker, gave that explanation for clubbing his child Barbara [illegible] with a wrench.

Sheriff's deputies said Hinson "apparently went out of his mind" and appeared to be dazed.

The blonde, curly-haired girl died at a hospital where she was taken by a neighbor at the request of Hinson's wife, Jessie, 28.

The Hinsons have two other children, Lary Don, 8, who was at school, and Kathy, 10 months. The family moved here two months ago from Orange, Tex.

Hinson first told newsmen: "I don't know why I killed her unless I just went crazy."

Later he said in a written statement that he stayed away from work and "I started to plan it." He continued:

"I got started to thinking if I didn't kill the baby my wife will go crazy and kill both [illegible] of them . . . Then I saw my baby come out on the porch and I went over and got her and sat her down on the ground near the house.

"Then I picked up my wrench and struck her on the head three times with it. I went to my wife and told her I had killed my baby and she said: 'Oh, no, no, no!'"

A neighbor, James Turner, said he heard Mrs. Hinson's screams. She handed him the unconscious child across a fence and asked him to get her to a hospital.

"When I got back to my house, I saw Mr. Hinson in his driveway and he asked me if the child was dead," James said. "He told me he meant to kill the child."

Deputy [illegible] K. Prathon, who arrested Hinson, said the father told him: "I just killed my daughter. I did it to keep my wife from going crazy."

Later Hinson told newsmen: "I got some reasons. But I've got to think things out and get everything [illegible]."

Mrs. Hinson told police that for about two months, her husband "seemed to be getting more fanatical all the time [illegible]."

"During the past three weeks he has been reading the Bible constantly and having me read it with him," she said.

Church Collection Plate Gets Boost

CAMPBELLSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Nature has blessed the rural Pleasant Ridge Baptist Church with a supplement to the collection plate.

An oil well on the church property produces 300 barrels daily. The church received $8,500 for the lease and gets one-eighth of the production.

35 Persons Drown

NEW DELHI (AP) — Thirty-five persons were drowned while crossing the Sarda River in a small boat on the India-Nepal border, reports reaching here today said.

Only five bodies have been recovered.

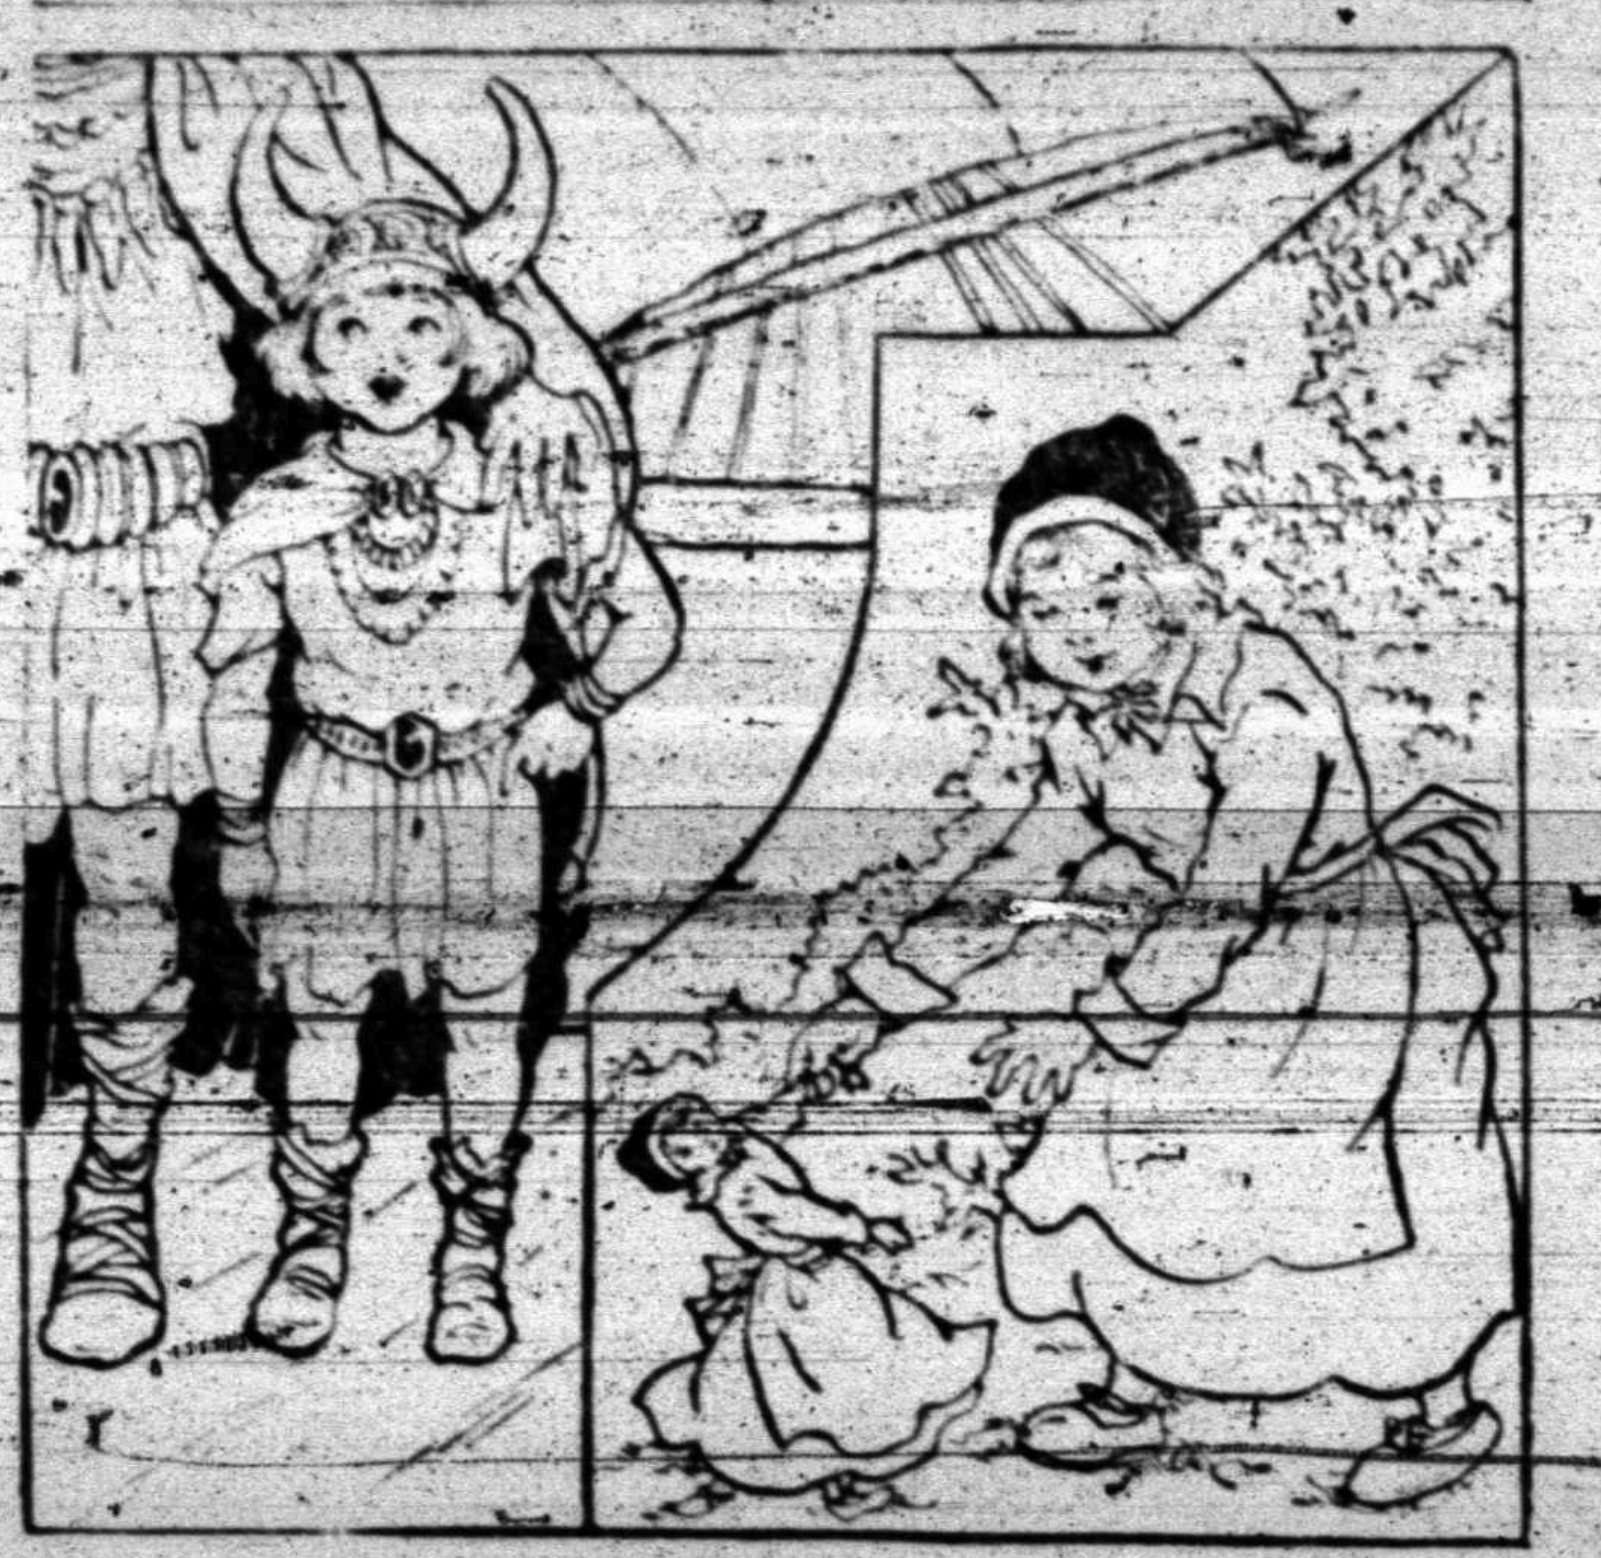
HISTORY



QUESTION: Who was the first white child born in America?

* * *

ANSWER: Less than 100 years after Columbus discovered America, an Englishman named John White tried to establish a colony in what is now North Carolina. About three months after the colonists landed, on Aug. 18, 1587, a little girl was born to White's daughter. She was named Virginia Dare.

Still later, White returned to England for supplies leaving little Virginia and the other colonists behind. His return was delayed for nearly three years and, when he arrived back in North Carolina, the colonists had disappeared without a trace.

But Virginia Dare may not have been the first white child born in America.

Almost 600 years before, the Norsemen or Vikings attempted to settle in a land they called Vinland, which may have been New England. Possibly in the autumn of the year 1013, a son named Snorri was born to one of the Norse chieftains. Snorri later became an important man in Greenland.

* * *

Traffic Cops In Space Predicted

By CLAYTON HICKERSON

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Space traffic cops and flights to other planets, say the experts, are possibly just a decade away.

These were the major predictions today as the Space Forum of the Southwest got underway with some of the nation's top space scientists participating.

Dr. Hubertus Strughold predicted interplanetary flights within a decade "if the Einstein-based theory of time-curvature holds true."

Dr. Andrew G. Haley said space traffic cops would be necessary in the age of interplanetary travel and are becoming increasingly needed each day.

Strughold, advisor for research at the School of Aviation Medicine, Randolph Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., said that if time actually stands still in the long journey to the stars we may be on the treshold of space travel.

Dr. Haley, president of the International Astronautical Federation and a Washington, D.C., attorney, said traffic cops of space even are needed now.

Haley and Strughold made their statements in separate press conferences Monday as a prelude to the Space Age Forum, sponsored by the University of Texas.

Haley said lawyers already are worrying over who owns space. He said it is an immediate problem between nations throwing missiles and satellites into the heavens.

"Earth-orbiting missiles," he said, "do not atomize and they could drop chunks of steel onto Dallas or Buckingham Palace—big chunks of steel."

The United Nations, he said, should set up a traffic control system now to control the path of such missiles.

"Furthermore," he said, "radio-television channels, which control the path of the missiles and satellites need international allocating."

He said the Soviet Union recently had used television channel 8 to control missile and satellite flights. "This already is a case of trespass on United States TV stations," he said.

Strughold was asked, "If the theory that time stands still in space is correct, will it be possible for man to make interplanetary flights within 10 years?"

He answered, "Ja," in his native German. But, he added, not just anybody can make even an orbital flight around the earth.

Training and the proper amount of stability, emotional and mental, is necessary, he said.

Strughold said the United States could have men ready for earth orbital flights with a few weeks, for moon flights within a few months, and for interplanetary travel within 10 years.

C-C Panels Set Sessions This Week

Two Chamber of Commerce committees have scheduled planning meetings for this week.

The industrial committee, headed by Bill Brown, will meet at 3 p.m. tomorrow at the chamber office.

The education committee has set its meeting for 3 p.m. Thursday. Pat Falls is chairman of that committee.

This will be the first meeting for the year of the education committee, which will make plans for its program of work.

Members of that committee are Falls, Charles Blakey, Dr. Robert Hargrove, Dr. Jack Nesbitt, Buford Browning, T. E. McCollum, M. E. Stanfield, Frank Weaver, and H. L. Wren.

The industrial committee will discuss industrial prospects and make plans for contact with prospects.

On a recent 1,500-mile tour, chamber representatives visited 10 clothing manufacturers, two of which are definite prospects for location in Snyder.

Members of that committee are Brown, Roy Dunlap, Claude McCormick, C. L. Callaway, Bob McAlister, J. R. Green, Stanford Land, Maurice Brownfield, G. W. Hicks, W. W. Greif, E. V. Schulz, Roland Bell, Burney Dunnam, Turner Beard, W. F. McMennamy, Vernon Rannefeld, Harry Reed, N. C. Hillhouse, S. P. Hulen, and C. F. Dugus.

Draft Age Lowered

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Nationalist Chinese government decided today to lower the draft age from 20 to 19.

Army draftees will serve two years; navy and air force conscripts three years.

If some honeybees produce no honey, they are still valuable for pollination services.

Why are you so sure that trading stamp stores give greater total value?

The U.S. Government says so! And don't forget, Sue, you get low prices plus S&H Green Stamps at D & H

A survey conducted by the Agricultural Marketing Service said that buyers who take the time and trouble to save the stamps save money. They said they realize a 1.4% profit. Another survey released by the Sperry & Hutchinson Co. showed that SEVEN OUT OF EVERY TEN U.S. FAMILIES now save trading stamps and in past years have received some $500 million worth of premiums.

We invite you to take advantage of these savings too by saving S&H Green Stamps while you shop our everyday low prices. Double stamps every Wednesday, with $2.50 purchase or more.

Baptist Churches To Open Revivals

Three churches will begin revival meetings tomorrow night and another Friday night as a part of the Baptist Simultaneous Revivals of Southern Baptist Churches here.

All will end their revival meetings on April 26.

Beginning tomorrow night will be revival meetings at the Avenue D Baptist Church, Colonial Hill Baptist Church, and Green Hill Baptist Church. The Bethel Baptist Church will begin its revival meeting Friday night with A. W. Bruce as evangelist. The First Baptist Church began its meeting Sunday with Dr. Charles McKay, secretary-treasurer of the Arizona Baptist Convention, as evangelist.

Services in each of the meetings are at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. weekdays and at their regular times on Sundays. [illegible] provided.

The Rev. Clifford Jett, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Donalsonville, Cal., will be evangelist at the meeting at the Green Hill Baptist Church.

Rev. Jett, a graduate of Baylor University and the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky. He has pastored churches in Texas, Indiana, and Kentucky.

Freddy Franks, minister of music at the church, will lead music. The Rev. Bill McCrary is pastor.

At the Avenue D Baptist Church, the Rev. Tommy Watson, pastor of the Waddill Baptist Church of McKinney, will be evangelist. Rev. Watson is a graduate of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth and has been pastoring churches about eight years. Music will be led by a local member. The Rev. A. J. Martin is pastor.

The Rev. Bob Hammons, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Clinton, Okla., will lead the meeting at the Colonial Hill Baptist Church. A graduate of Oklahoma Baptist University and Southwestern Seminary, he was here with the Colonial Hill Church in a revival meeting in the fall of 1956.

Leading music will be Dewayne Beaty, 1958 graduate of Hardin-Simmons University in religious education. Beaty is being discharged from the Army, in which he has been an officer, this week, and plans to attend the seminary next fall. He is former music education director at the First Baptist Church at Ozona and Immanuel Baptist Church at Abilene. The choir will meet for practice at 7 p.m. each day.

Ike Stresses Three Words

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has singled out three words which he says Republicans are proud of—thrift, frugality and efficiency.

"Whenever you apply these words to federal activities and spending, Americans will listen to you attentively, because today everybody knows that everybody pays additional taxes for political extravagance," the President told an audience of Republican women Monday night.

He also had some political advice for the seventh annual Republican Women's Conference, holding a four-day meeting here.

Noting that the nation has more registered Democrats than Republicans, Eisenhower said: "We Republicans need simply to work twice as hard."

Eisenhower said jokingly that he has never been accused of being a master politician. But he said he has learned that women voters outnumber men and if the GOP women get out the vote as they did for him in 1952 and 1956 "the results again will be victory."

Eisenhower said federal spending should be determined by necessity, not political opportunism.

ASKS HELP FOR ACTORS

Tallulah Stars At Panel Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tallulah Bankhead returned to Congress and asked the precious dahlings there to help her fellow actors.

"I don't know why y'all make me so nervous," she told the House Ways and Means Committee Monday. "I've been sitting on everybody's knee up here since I was two."

Tallulah, wearing her mink just off her shoulder and not appearing a bit nervous, reminded the congressmen her uncle, granddaddy and daddy all had served in Congress. Her daddy, the late William B. Bankhead, had been speaker of the House.

Testifying for Actors Equity Assn., she asked that unemployment compensation be given to actors out of work, as so many of them often are.

Perhaps, she admitted, they ought not be actors, but she added: "Maybe you shouldn't be elected to Congress, who knows?"

Tallulah made certain the congressmen knew she wasn't asking jobless payments for herself.

"It's all new to me," she said. "I didn't know such a thing existed."

Nevertheless, the actress, who had flown to Washington from New York, was convinced Congress should approve legislation for jobless actors.

"I had to get up at 5 a.m. this morning," she explained, "so for that reason alone I think this bill should be passed."

Tallulah did not have the whole show for herself. Actors Equity also had asked redheaded Peggy Cass, a Broadway and television star, to read a statement.

When Tallulah said the unemployment compensation program was new to her, Miss Cass assured her:

"I know the answers, honey."

"You always do, dahling," Tallulah retorted.

As Miss Cass stepped to the witness chair to read her statement, she said: "I feel like Bugs Bunny following mighty Joe Young."

Japanese Volcano Erupts Violently

NAGANO, Japan (AP) — Mt. Asama, one of few active volcanoes in Japan, erupted violently today, sending smoke and ashes 22,000 feet high. Wind-blown ashes sifted down on Tokyo and Yokohama, 85 miles to the southeast.

The observatory at Karuizawa said the eruption rumbled and shook the earth for about eight minutes.

Timberman Sentenced

BUTLER, Ala. (AP)—A wealthy timberman was sentenced to life imprisonment Monday night for the rifle slaying of his wife.

Attorneys for John L. McPhearson, 36, filed notice of appeal of the first-degree murder conviction.

The state had asked for the death penalty.

The defendant had pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity.

McPhearson was charged with shooting his wife of 14 years in woods near Silas Jan. 29. Her body was recovered from an abandoned well to which, officers said, McPhearson led them.

McPhearson testified he and his 35-year-old wife had argued bitterly over terms of a divorce both were considering. He said his wife was shot accidentally when he fought with her for possession of a rifle.

Leprosy Vaccine May Be Developed

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A possible lead towards developing a long-sought vaccine against leprosy — one of man's oldest scourges—was reported today.

A government researcher announced successful growth in test tube tissue culture of bacteria which causes leprosy in rats. He indicated that this might open one way to:

1. Producing a vaccine against the rat disease.

2. Perhaps ultimately developing a vaccine against the human malady.

Dr. Y. T. Chang of the National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases and the American Leprosy Foundation, gave this outline in a report to the 43rd annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

The bacillus that causes human leprosy is one of the wiliest and most elusive organisms of the germ world.

For many years, he said, researchers have attempted to maintain growth of the organism outside its natural host, the human body. Though it grows vigorously inside the body, it stops multiplying and soon dies if placed in an artificial environment.

Researchers would like to coax the bug into outside growth because, aside from possibly helping towards such an ultimate objective as producing a vaccine, such laboratory culturing of the germ would allow a more detailed study of the bacteria and would provide a means for rapid testing of possible new antileprosy drugs.

Attempts to grow rat leprosy germs outside the living animal body have, until now, been almost equally tough.

Some investigators have coaxed some growth in cell cultures, but the amount of bacterial multiplication was very limited.

Chang has come up with one culture in which the number of germs has increased seven times in seven weeks.

This is still not as fast as the germ multiplies inside the body, so attempts are being made to step up the rate.

If these attempts are successful, said Chang, it may be possible to produce a vaccine against rat leprosy, just as the polio vaccine is produced from large cultures of polio virus. Such a vaccine might point the way to a similar preventive for the human disease.

Vanguard In New Fizzle At Blastoff

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The second stage brain failed to function and another Vanguard satellite rocket plopped into the Atlantic Ocean Monday night, soon after blastoff.

This failure spoiled the first double feature satellite launching attempt. Earlier in the day, a 1,600-pound Discoverer satellite was hurled into orbit from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California.

No reason was given for the Vanguard's seventh snafu in nine tries. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it didn't know what happened.

When the second stage, which contains the guidance system of the 72-foot rocket, failed to function, the vehicle soared upward for a short time, then keeled over and plunged into the sea.

If it had worked properly, the Vanguard would have placed two satellites in orbit. One, Vanguard IIIA, carried a magnometer to study the earth's magnetic field. The other, Vanguard IIIB, was an inflatable balloon to measure atmospheric drag. Each could have provided data essential to space travel by man.

The first stage hurled the assembly through the densest part of the earth's atmosphere to a height of about 38 miles. Then the second stage took over.

Robert H. Gray, chief of Vanguard operations at Cape Canaveral, said the second stage, which was to have boosted the satellite payload up to a speed of 9,000 miles an hour, apparently fizzled at an altitude of about 200 miles.

Crude Bids Are Higher

AUSTIN (AP)—Nominations by the major oil buying companies for Texas crude oil next month are 49,687 barrels higher than in April.

The companies submitted nominations yesterday totaling 2,793,569 barrels a day compared with 2,743,882 barrels for April.

Earlier the U.S. Bureau of Mines forecast an increase of 150,000 barrels daily in the market demand.

Thursday the Railroad Commission will set the May allowable.

These increases were noted: 1,065 barrels in District 1, Southwest Texas; 4,836 barrels in District 3, Gulf Coast; 17 barrels in District 5, East Central Texas; 1,907 barrels in District 6, East Texas (outside); 31 barrels in District 6, East Texas Field; 751 barrels, District 7-B, west central Texas; 1,795 barrels in District 7-C, west central Texas; 25,809 barrels in District 8, west Texas; 11,932 barrels in District 9, north Texas; and 5,415 barrels in District 10, Panhandle.

Airmen Take Ride On 10-Ton Sweeper

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — Two airmen of Selfridge Air Force Base, Darrell P. Tavernier and William B. Fish, both 21, zipped through town on a 10-ton street sweeper.

Police said both had been drinking before taking off.

Municipal Judge Malcolm Trombley fined each $35 yesterday for disorderly conduct.

The standard of the world in Character

The moment a Cadillac comes into view it begins to say wonderful things about the man at the wheel. It tells of his fine taste . . . his good and practical judgment . . . his achievements in his chosen field. And the reasons for this are found in the character of the car itself. For longer than fifty years, goodness has been the watchword; craftsmanship the creed. In the lexicon of motordom —Cadillac is the world's best synonym for quality!
