New tape revealed

NEW YORK (AP) — One thousand days after his resignation, Richard M. Nixon, Watergate and secret tapes are before the American public again for a revival of yesterday's scandals.

Transcripts of unpublished tapes, showing Nixon's involvement in the scandal and in hush money payments earlier than was known before, blossomed Sunday in two leading newspapers and two weekly news magazines.

The interview, paid-for and conducted by television personality David Frost, airs Wednesday over 145 stations. Nixon reportedly received $600,000 plus a share of the profits for his participation.

The same tape transcripts that surfaced in the New York Times, the Washington Post, Time and Newsweek magazines were used by Frost when the interviews were taped last month in California. Nixon expressed surprise that Frost had them.

"It hasn't been published yet?" Nixon asked whn Frost quoted from one taped conversation.

"No," Frost replies. "I think it's available to anybody who consults the records."

Time magazine, in a lengthy account of the nearly 29 hours Nixon answered Frost's questions, quotes the former President as saying his immediate actions after the burglary June 17, 1972, at the Watergate offices of the Democratic party were designed "not to try to cover up a criminal action" but to contain the scandal for political reasons.

Restructing federal law

Crime victims reimbursed?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Possession of small amounts of marijuana would not be a federal offense and innocent victims of violent crimes could be eligible for compensation up to $50,000 under a comprehensive restructuring of federal criminal laws.

In addition, the far-reaching revision in federal law would provide for federal prosecution of Watergate-type dirty tricks and would make it less traumatic for women to testify in court against rapists.

The proposed changes in federal criminal laws are contained in legislation being offered today by Sens. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., and Edward F. Kennedy, D-Mass., with the support of Atty. Gen. Griffin B. Bell.

The bill would consolidate federal criminal laws into a simplified code for the first time and is designed to adapt federal laws to current conditions while eliminating inconsistency and duplication.

The measure is a compromise of earlier versions that stalled in the last two congresses. As such, it appears to stand a better chance of passage. The most controversial provisions of the previous bills, which were known as S1, have been dropped.

Among deleted sections were provisions to restore the death penalty on a limited basis and to tighten laws against the disclosure of information the government considers classified.

McClellan, a conservative who has labored on the project for 10 years, and Kennedy, a leading liberal, reached agreement on the measure after failing in efforts last year to reconcile their differences.

Although a large part of the proposed legislation is of a technical nature, many major substantive changes would be made.

Eliminated as a federal offense, but still subject to prosecution on the state or local level, would be the possession of 10 grams or less of marijuana. This amount is equivalent to a pack of cigarettes.

And under the bill the maximum penalty for possession of more than 10 grams would be 30 days and a $500 fine, compared to up to seven years in prison and a $15,000 fine under present law.

The program for compensating innocent victims of crimes of violence punishable under federal law would be financed out of criminal fines. The compensation program was previously approved by the Senate in separate legislation, but was never accepted by the House.

The measure also sets out mandatory minimum sentences for trafficking in heroin and other hard drugs and establishes minimum sentences, too, for using a weapon in the commission of a crime.

The bill also has provisions aimed at reducing wide disparities in sentences meted out by federal judges for persons convicted of similar crimes. A commission would be created to establish guidelines for sentencing for certain classes of offenses.

Crimes committed for the purpose of influencing the outcome of federal elections, such as the "dirty tricks" exposed during Watergate investigations, would be subject to federal prosecution.

In rape cases, the requirement for corroboration of a victim's testimony would be eliminated and inquiry into the victim's past sexual conduct would be sharply curtailed. Also, the offense is redefined to cover homosexual rape.

Two important meetings are on the calendar for the Webb steering committee this week. Wednesday, representatives from Mineral Wells and Laredo, both of which survived base closings, will address the committee on possible problems they may encounter in the closing procedure.

Bill Rivers, city manager of Mineral Wells at the time of the base closing, and Col. Gail Peck, (ret.), former wing commander and present-manager of the closed Laredo base will address the committee in Room 4, 'Withycombe Hall, Building 350.

Thursday, two representatives of the Office of Economic Adjustment (O.E.A.) will meet with the five subcommittees of the steering committee to formulate the beginnings of a base re-use plan.

Eldon Erickson and Lt. Col. Jerry Pearring will discuss the groundwork of the re-use plan beginning at 9 a.m. through the entire day. The subcommittees, each headed by a steering committee member, are intended to provide expert local information to the O.E.A. to assist in the plan preparation.

The meeting agenda reads as follows: 9 to 10:30 a.m. the full steering commitee meets; 10:30 to 11:15 a.m. the city staff meets; 11:15 to 12 the Employment, Unemployment and Housing Committee, John Curry, chairman, meets; 1 to 1:45 p.m. the Aviation Committee, Clyde McMahon, chairman, meets; 1:45 to 3:15 p.m. Health and Education Committee, Jimmy Taylor, chairman, meets; 3:15 to 4 p.m. the Industrial and Tourism Development Committee, Bill Crooker, chairman, Bill Albright, vice-chairman, meets; 4 to 5 p.m. the Community Development for Public works, Harold Hall, chairman, meets.

According to City Manager Harry Nagel, the re-use plan should be finished by August 15, and no later than Sept. 1.

600 more troops sent to Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — The British government was flying 600 more combat troops to Northern Ireland today in preparation for a general strike called by militant Protestants for midnight tonight.

The new reinforcements raised the number of troops in Northern Ireland to 15,500, the largest number in more than three years. Officials said at least 3,000 more were on standby in England, and the government also had 17,850 militiamen, police and police reservists in the war-torn province.

The Ulster Unionist Action Committee led by the Rev. Ian Paisley and former legislator Ernest Baird called the strike to support their demands for a military offensive against the Irish Republican Army guerrillas fighting to end British rule and Protestant domination in Northern Ireland. The committee also demanded restoration of the provincial parliament, which the Protestant majority controlled and which the British government suspended in March, 1972.

The British government's secretary of state for Northern Ireland, Roy Mason, rejected the demands. But the committee hoped to duplicate the success of a Protestant general strike in May, 1974, which paralyzed the province and wrecked the first Protestant-Catholic coalition government in Northern Ireland's history.

The government failed to oppose that strike when it began, and Mason made clear that this time he would take decisive action from the start.

Union bosses opposing the walkout reported that the hardliners had begun intimidating workers who rejected the strike call. Army spokesmen said the military would try to prevent the large-scale intimidation that made the 1974 strike a success.

Mason was scheduled to meet with Paisley and Baird today, but informed sources said there was little or no chance of either side backing down. Markets began rationing bread and other essential foods after a wave of panic buying over the weekend.

Informed sources said the strike leaders established several headquarters around Belfast and had a backup group of leaders ready to take over if the committee's top echelon was arrested.

Action/reaction: Graduation conflict

Q. Why are the Coahoma and Big Spring High School graduations scheduled the same night?

A. Dr. Emmett McKenzie, superintendent of the Big Spring Schools said, "It is just a coincidence in that both schools complete their final day of school on the same day. As a matter of fact, Forsan, Coahoma and Big Spring tried to make their schedules similar so that holidays within the county would be similar. We never thought about there being a problem with graduations but, of course, it is toolate to change as invitations are already printed."

Offbeat: Surprise guest

DERBY, Conn. (AP) — Janet Kraemer of Shelton got the shock of her life when her husband rushed her to Griffin Hospital in Derby suffering from what she thought was a bad case of stomach cramps.

Those cramps turned out to be labor pains and she gave birth Thursday to a five pound, 13 ounce boy. She said had no idea she was pregnant.

Doctors for the 43-year-old housewife say it is possible to go through a pregnancy and have regular menstrual cycles, as she did. And Mrs. Kraemer said she had gained only about 15 pounds in recent months.

"I really didn't know I was pregnant," Mrs. Kraemer, whose only other child is a 19-year-old daughter, said Saturday. "I kept thinking that when I went to sleep, I would wake up and think, 'Gee, I had the funniest dream last night.'"

Hot winds and a chance of thundershowers tonight are forecast by weather officials today. High today is expected near 90, low tonight in the upper 60s, and high Tuesday in the upper 80s. Chance of precipitation tonight is 20 per cent. Winds will be southerly at 10 to 15 miles-per-hour.

Fogging won't help much in war with mosquitoes

The city will take arms against the swarms of mosquitoes that hit Big Spring recently, according to City Manager Harry Nagel.

"We will start foggint today, but it won't do much good. There will be no lasting results," said Nagel.

The city manager claimed that the kill-power of chemicals now being used to fight the pests is not so effective as that of DDT. But under current regulations set by the Environmental Protection Agency, the harsher chemicals are not allowed.

"The fog we use will kill the mosquitoes it comes in contact with, but there will be no residual chemicals to keep killing them," said Nagel.

Officials believe that the heavy rainfall within the last few weeks is responsible for the mosquitoes.

"They're breeding anywhere they can find standing water," said Jerry Foresyth, assistant city manager.

Nagel also reminds citizens not to look for the familiar smoke-like insecticide fog from city vehicles. The fog used will be clear.

"The smoky fog is just the result of chemicals being thinned with diesel fuel. This has a good psychological effect on people, but it also present a real traffic hazard. The stuff we use is just as effective even though it isn't so visible," said Nagel.

CHARLES PARAMORE TOUCHES UP PHOTOGRAPHS
Interest picks up in Heritage Museum

Rainfall tops norm

Rainfall thus far in 1977 is 2.2 inches above the 75-year average at this time of year in Big Spring.

The total for the year, according to the official measurements at Big Spring Experiment Station is 5.96 inches. The average for this time of year is 3.76.

It rained more than the average just during the month of April when measurements totaled 3.8 inches. The first three months of the year, the rainfall totaled 2.16 inches.

The beauty of the April rain in this part of the state is that it is perfect for dryland cotton planting. County Agent Bruce Griffith said "the soil is in great condition for planting throughout the county."

Owen Ivie at Colorado River Municipal Water District said that both Lake Thomas and Lake Spence have a little more water in them at this time than at the same time last year.

Big week for local museum

Membership awaits party

By MARJ CARPENTER

The Heritage Museum really has something to celebrate at their annual Membership Chuck Wagon Party on Thursday night.

Not only is their membership continuing to climb, they are also in the process of placing permanent exhibits in the museum, expanding the floor space and remodeling the inside and outside of the building.

Charles Paramore of Dallas is in charge of the improvements, which include a giant-sized 1908 photograph of the courthouse, jail and a street scene in Big Spring on the outside of the building.

The portion of the outside walls which will include the title of Heritage Museum will feature a windmill scene. Inside the building, Mrs. Gerri Atwell, curator, says that one entire storeroom has been opened up and turned into a special railroad display room.

Another room is early ranch heritage. The railroad room includes a wall mural of a steam engine complete with sound. The ranch room includes saddles, actually used by early ranchers up on the wall, along with some of the earliest brands in Howard County.

In the center of the main room, is a typical early bedroom of a pioneer Big Spring home, with local pioneers donating the furniture for this display.

There is a corner of the room that displays bones from the early dinosaur find in one part of the county, along with a skull of an early steer.

The permanent exhibit has been chaired by Joe Pickle, local historic authority and longtime member of the museum board.

Mrs. Atwell is assisted part of each day by Miss Edith Gay. Mrs. Toots Mansfield is current president of the museum board with John Taylor as vice president; Dan Allen, treasurer; Mrs. Walter Wheat, secretary and R.H. Weaver, legal advisor.

The trustees at the present time, in addition to the officers, are Mrs. Harold Davis, Dr. H.K. Butler Jr., Mrs. W.H. Reed, Mrs. Garner McAdams, M.A. Snell, Lorin McDowell III, Craig Fischer, Mrs. Gary Turner, Mrs. G.R. Robinson, Mrs. Oliver Nichols Jr., Chrles Beil, Adrian Randle, Mrs. R.V. Middleton, Mrs. Clyde Thomas, K.H. McGibbon and Marj Carpenter.

The advisory committee includes Bill Read, Daryl Hohertz, Joe Pickle, Mrs. Clyde Angel and Jerry Worthy.

Mrs. McAdams heads the chuckwagon supper which will be held at 7 p.m. at the Dora Roberts Community Center for members.

The association has over 300 members at this time, with 20 of them being Big Spring natives who have moved out of town but are still backing the museum. A few of these usually return for the barbecue.

The program this year will include a talk by "Tumbleweed Smith" and selections of country music.

NO GAS STOPS — Nancy Malan rides her bicycle past a display on an outdoor billboard in Washington Saturday. President Carter sent his written proposals for energy conservation to Congress for consideration on Friday.

Dissidents reject offer

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) — Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto's political opponents have rejected his peace offer and say their civil disobedience campaign will continue until he resigns. Sources in the opposition Pakistan National Alliance said Bhutto agreed to hold new national and provincial elections, appoint a new election commissioner and form an interim government divided equally between his Pakistan People's Party and the PNA. But the 49-year-old prime minister refused to resign, saying his position was "non-negotiable."

Welfare reform bared

WASHINGTON (AP) — One day after his original deadline for announcing a program to overhaul the nation's welfare system, President Carter is unveiling the outline of a still uncompleted reform plan. The President's usual Monday meeting with his Cabinet was expanded today to include congressional leaders who were invited to the State Dining Room for a special budget meeting with Thomas B. Lance, the director of the Office of Management and Budget.

Carter gets first bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter will get to sign the first piece of his economic legislation this week when Congress sends him a $4-billion jobs bill for his approval. The Senate passed the compromise bill on Friday, and the House is expected to vote its approval on Tuesday. Carter then is nearly certain to sign the measure, which backers say could create from 150,000 to 400,000 jobs. The Senate scheduled discussion of an appropriations bill today. The measure will pay for the jobs package and other projects.

Nuclear protesters jailed

SEABROOK, N.H. (AP) — At least 800 demonstrators, most of them in their 20s, were being held in jails and armories in this seacoast area today after they were arrested for refusing to end a peaceful sit-in at a nuclear power plant. Most of those who were taken into custody in arrests that began Sunday and stretched into early today at the site of the $2 billion Seabrook nuclear plant were booked for investigation of criminal trespass.

Tax threat enough?

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Majority Leader Jim Wright says the threat of higher gasoline taxes may be more effective in curtailing consumption than actually adding the taxes now.

"I think it is like the Damoclean sword — that it may be a more effective disincentive not applied than if it were applied," Wright said in an interview.

Wright said he hopes the very threat of a five-cent-a-gallon tax will be the incentive needed to cut gasoline consumption habits and that the tax itself won't ever have to be applied.

Under President Carter's energy proposal, the federal gasoline tax — now four cents a gallon — would be raised five cents a year to a maximum of 54 cents unless conservation goals are met. The goals have not been set and Wright said the overall formula may be changed by Congress.

Wright said professional polls and his own informal soundings of his colleagues and constituents show a receptivity to Carter's challenge.

Wright said he thinks Congress will have the energy package — with probable revisions — on Carter's desk by September.

May Day violence kills 33

By The Associated Press

Thirty-three persons were reported killed in a gunfight between rival leftist groups at a May Day rally in Istanbul, Turkey, and hundreds of others were injured in clashes around the world on the international workers' holiday.

European Communist capitals had their usual massive and peaceful parades of marching workers. The Chinese celebrated at garden parties in Peking. More than 7 million Japanese celebrated at more than 1,000 rallies, and no violence was reported.

Although U.S. workers celebrate Labor Day in September, a rally in support of Soviet Jews drew more than 200,000 persons in New York. Speaking within sight of the Statue of Liberty, presidential assistant Margaret Costanza pledged the Carter administration would work for international peace and international justice.

"We don't see how the two can be separated," she said.

In Sunday's bloodiest clash, shots were fired from the rooftop of a government building into a crowd of 100,000 persons gathered for a trade union rally on a hill overlooking the Bosporus. Armed men in the crowd returned the fire, triggering a series of battles through the side streets in the ancient city.

The Turkish government radio said there were 33 dead, 126 persons wounded and more than 200 arrested. The Anatolia news agency said the first shots were fired by "Maoist armed gangs" that had been excluded from the rally by the Confederation of Revolutionary Trade Unions.

Although it legalized trade unions last week, the Spanish government banned May Day demonstrations, and riot police in several cities used tear gas, rubber bullets and clubs to break up crowds of unionists defying the ban. Scores were injured, and 50 persons were arrested in a Madrid suburb. The Spanish news agency Cifra said demonstrators hurled fire bombs at police in Madrid, Barcelona and Valladolid.

In Paris, some 200 anarchists carrying black flags threw stink bombs at thousands of Communist marchers. No injuries were reported. But in Compiegne, 50 miles northeast of Paris, 400 demonstrators disrupted a beauty contest, and police clubs injured several persons.

Police and Maoist demonstrators clashed in Athens after some 100 banner-carrying youths defied a government ban against street marches. Twelve policemen and 22 others were injured and 15 persons were arrested.

In the Philippines, police turned high-powered water hoses on about 1,000 anti-government demonstrators led by Roman Catholic priests and nuns. The demonstrators were protesting curbs on civil liberties under the martial law regime of President Ferdinand E. Marcos.

A general strike called by the Palestine Liberation Organization failed to materialize in the Occupied West Bank of the Jordan. The only reported incidents involved the stoning of a few cars by Arab youths in two villages.

Pope Paul VI told some 10,000 persons in Vatican City to pray for the world's unemployed. The pontiff said he hoped May Day would become not "a means for the conquest of temporal economic welfare ... but a means of social progress."

Police beat

Knife-wielder nabbed

Christina Schryver, 1504 Bluebird, was assaulted by a knife-wielding woman in the Recreational Hall at Webb AFB, 1:15 a.m. Sunday.

According to reports, the two women argued, and the assailant pulled a knife. Trying to ward off the shiv, Ms. Schryver sustained a cut on the hand.

She was taken to Webb AFB Hospital where she was treated and released. The suspect was detained by Webb Security officers, and later transferred to the Howard County Jail Sunday. Her bond was set by JP Bob West at $1,000, and she was released this morning.

Burglars hit the home of Elpidio Ortega, 1207 Mobile, sometime between 4 p.m. Saturday and 1 a.m. today.

The intruders entered through a south window in the home, and made off with a multiple band radio, a tape recorder, 24 eight-track tapes and 24 LP records. Including damage, total loss was estimated at $264.

Thieves ripped off a 1972 Gran Torino belonging to Johnny Talamantez, 212 N.E. 10th, while he visited a friend at 1105 N. San Antonio, Sunday. The car was later recovered, but it was missing several items.

Stolen were a CB radio, an eight-track tape player and a radio antenna. Loss was estimated at $360.

Burglars also broke into the home of the City Park Ranger in Comanche Trail Park, sometime between 6:30 and 8:45 p.m. Saturday. Stolen was a turquoise bracelet valued at $300. Including two broken windows and a hole in the wall, total loss was estimated at $365.

Two men walked into the Chute No. 1 Western-wear Store, IS 20 and Highway 80, and tried to rip off pairs of boots. One of the men got away with a $70 pair of Justins, while his companion was arrested in the act.

Five mishaps were reported Sunday.

Vehicles driven by Willey Willey Willey, 805 Johnson, and John Dean Jr., 205 E. 23rd, collided at Fourth and Birdwell, 10:51 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Domongo Hernandez, 212 N.E. 10th, and Guy C. Talamantez, 212 N.E. 10th, collided at 200 N.E. 10th, 1:15 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Charles N. Smallwood, 704 E. 3rd, and Joseph Molina, 207 N.W. 12th, collided at 805 N. Scurry, 3:26 p.m.

Then, at 6:12 p.m., a car driven by Sam Williams Jr., Midland, collided with a parked car belonging to the unfortunate Molina, at 800 N. Scurry.

Lisa I. Hartmann, 3012 Cherokee, was unhurt when an unidentified motorist collided with the bicycle she was riding in front of her home, 6:06 p.m.

According to reports, the motorist drove past Ms. Hartmann, and made a comment to her. She ignored the driver, and he backed up and struck the front wheel of her bike with his car. He then laughed and drove off.

Officers are investigating the incident.

Man, woman charged with aiding flight

HOUSTON (AP) — A man and a woman have been charged with aiding the flight of Vernon E. McManus, who disappeared on the eve of his capital murder trial.

McManus was arrested Saturday in Jacksonville Beach, Fla., and returned to Houston.

Arrested Sunday in Baytown were Mrs. Betty Jean Bodiford Plaskett, 46, who was released on a $10,000 bond, and Lester Beckworth, 43, who is being held on a $10,000 bond.

The charges against Mrs. Plaskett and Beckworth allege that an unidentified source had provided information they had furnished McManus with a 1976 Monte Carlo automobile on April 23 and then reported it stolen on April 26.

Investigators said 1976 Monte Carlo was found near the Jacksonville Beach motel where McManus was arrested Saturday.

McManus had been scheduled to go on trial last Monday on charges of killing a prominent Baytown couple, Paul and Mary Cantrell, in an alleged scheme with their daughter, Paula Cantrell Derese.

Mrs. Derese entered a plea of guilty to a lesser charge of murder in February and is awaiting sentencing.

A bloodsmeared automobile belonging to McManus was found abandoned in northeast Harris County the day before he was to go on trial.

Last Monday, State Dist. Court Judge I. D. McMaster forfeited the $50,000 Bond and rescheduled the trial for next Monday.

NEWEST LUXURY BATH: COFFEE — Misae Kawai, a 21-year-old Tokyo office worker, is buried in coffee powder recently, for what the owner of this bath house calls a good way to refresh. The bath, despite the high cost of the beans throughout the world, holds 12 tons of coffee powder, kept at more than 100 degrees. The coffee is changed every three to six months. The proprietor suggests his bath for the overweight, for those with stomach disorders, or sufferers from neuralgia or rheumatism. Cost is $5 per bath.

Joey Lucas gets award

Joey Lucas, special education teacher in the Big Spring Independent School District, was recently presented a Certificate of Appreciation plaque from the Kennedy Foundation for his dedicated effort in giving many retarded children a chance to play, compete and be like other children. The plaque was signed by Ms. Eunice Kennedy Shriver.

Lucas has been in charge of the Special Olympics Program in Big Spring for the Howard County Association for Retarded Citizens for the past four years. He has given many hours of his own time to help these children prepare for competition on the district and state level.

In addition, he has accompanied the students to Austin the past three years, as he will again this year. He works with the program on a volunteer basis.

Drownings take heavy toll over weekend

By the Associated Press

Drownings and an increasing number of traffic fatalities are appearing on the weekend violent death rolls in Texas as summerlike temperatures arrive.

Early today The Associated Press violent death count totaled 21, including 13 traffic fatalities, four drownings and four shootings from 6 p.m. to midnight Sunday.

The victims included:

Gary Sheppherd, 27, of Abilene was shot to death Saturday night outside a night club. Three other men were wounded.

Two Ft. Hood soldiers were killed early Sunday when a car carrying five men collided with a pickup truck on Farm Road 2410 in Killeen. The dead were identified as Pfc. Dennis M. Johnson, 22, of Nascoutah, Ill., and Spec.4 Frank Baldwin, 20, of Whittier, Calif.

Judges pick AC pump

A highly successful Big Spring Art Association annual show saw Gregory Price of Midland win best in show with "Air Conditioner Pump."

The favorite of the people, however, which did not even place in its division was "Time to Dream" painted by Dan Brown. It featured a young boy by a stream.

Nina Reed won the door prize and selected a painting by Arlys Scott called "Country Barn."

First place winners included James Campbell's "Maypole" in acrylics; Price's "Portrait" in graphics; Carolyn Walker of Colorado City, "Wicker Table" in mixed media; Price's "The Dance" in oils; Vicky Clark of Seminole's "Thinking of the Good Ol' Days" in pastels; and Robert Gartland's "Forsaken" in watercolor. This was in the professional artist division.

Under non-professional, Brooksie Stevens' "Fishing Pond" was top acrylic winner; Austin Sherrill's "Jimi Hendrix" in graphics; Bessie Bigony's "The Barge" in mixed media; Carol Strong's "Blues' Retreat" in oils; and Helen Bass's "Nature Brushstroke" in pastels.

Others included Joan Stokes' "Woman Weaving" in watercolor; Mary Posey's "Woman and Child" in sculpture; and Danny Valdes "Running in the Rain" in photography.

Stephen Pearce won first in student elementary with "Indian Battle;" Tammy Aguillon, Colorado City, had first in junior high with "Bygone Era;" and Ann Holbert of Colorado City placed first in senior high with "Girls and Flowers."

Purchase awards totaled $950. Myrtle Joiner, Snyder won the Cosden $150 award with "304 Delgado, Santa Fe."

Those winning $100 purchase awards were Virginia Whitten's "Deserted," purchased by Dr. and Mrs. M.A. Porter; Roberta Ross's "Still Roaming Around" purchased by Big Spring Savings and Loan; Gregory Price of Midland's "The Dance" purchased by Christie Perrew; and Carol Strong's "Threats But No Rain," purchased by AAA Rentals.

The $75 purchase awards went to "Hondao Valley" by Virginia Whitten bought by the Hobby Center. Roberta Ross's "Motherhood," McCutcheon Oil and Barbara Merworth's "Early Morn" bought by Gray Jewelers. Lee Jackson Bowers "Nothing For The Pot" won a $65 purhcase award from First Federal Savings and Loan; Tish Stevens of Abilene's "Mesquite Country" won a $50 award from Big Spring Herald and Charlene Brasher, Ackerly, "Moon of the Blowing Snow" won a $50 award from Lusk Paint and Frame Shop.

Deaths

JOHN MASTERS

John Masters

John T. Masters, 83, died at 6 a.m. today in a local hospital.

Services will be 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel.

Burial will be in Mount Olive Memorial Park.

Masters was one of the most colorful ranch workers in the entire Big Spring area. Because of his appearance, he was selected for a role in "Midnight Cowboy" and said later he wished "he'd skipped that honor."

The longtime cattle and mule buyer had a cattle and mule barn in the west part of town for many years and was known as "a good, honest mule trader."

He at one time ranched on the Gail Road and later ranched on the Wasson Place for many years. He also did some farming, but considered ranching and cattle trading as his main interests.

He served in a cavalry unit in World War I, stationed at Fort Bliss and fighting in France.

He was born June 12, 1893 in Wills Point, and came to Howard County in 1905 with his parents.

He married Helen Stutes March 22, 1924 in Stanton.

Mrs. Masters preceded him in death Aug. 3, 1975.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. W.H. (Lanora) Smith, Big Spring, and Eula Mae Vollmer, Highland, Ind.; two sons, John W. Masters and Marion Masters, Odessa; a brother, Col. Ervin Masters, San Diego, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Eula Eubanks, Stanton; eight grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren.

The family suggests that memorials be sent to the American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Tom Boyd

Mrs. Tom Boyd, 59, of Borger, died at 1:45 a.m. Sunday in the High Plains Hospital in Amarillo after an illness of a week.

She was the sister of two Big Spring residents, Doris R. Fleener and Mrs. Gene Madry.

Arrangements for services are being completed at Smith Funeral Home in Panhandle. Mrs. Boyd had been a resident of Texas since 1920. She lived in Eastland before moving to Borger.

They can sleep together, but can't vote together

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — A South Carolina election commission says just because a husband and wife sleep together doesn't give them the right to vote together.

The state's legislature decided last year that married couples should be allowed to occupy the voting booth together because, as one state lawmaker put it: "If they sleep together they ought to be able to vote together."

No, said the election commission in Greenville County.

And on election day last Nov. 2, the commission instructed poll managers to prohibit husbands and wives from entering voting booths together.

Last month, the election commission made the order official when it passed a resolution prohibiting spouses from voting together.

It was at this point that the state attorney general's office entered. It filed suit to force the county to comply with the four-line statute that allows couples to enter voting booths together and consult each other while they vote.

A hearing is scheduled for May 10 before a state circuit judge on the dispute. The next election in the county will be held May 17.

Joe Earle, Greenvile County attorney, said the election commission believes the voting-together statute contradicts the secret ballot principle of the state constitution.

Before the statue was passed, husbands and wives were allowed to enter booths together only in certain cases.

"By reason of custom in some areas of the state, husbands and wives in the past would vote together. But it was by no means legal," said James Ellisor, state election commission chairman.

He said that only a voter who was illiterate or disabled and who could not vote without assistance was allowed to have his spouse accompany him in the voting booth. In those cases, the voter would have to explain the circumstances to the poll manager.

Ellisor said the statute is in effect for state and federal elections because voting qualifications are still within the jurisdiction of the state.

He said that the statute does not require that a couple present proof they are narried.

"If they (pollworkers) have some question, they have the implied authority to request them (voters) to present some proof," he said.

The state recognizes common law marriages but the voting together provision makes no reference to such marriages.

Tax breaks spur interest in solar energy

By LOUISE COOK
(AP Writer)

President Carter's proposed income tax breaks for homeowners who use solar energy have prompted new interest in the sun as a source of power. But consumers will find the field full of complications and potentially expensive risks.

There are three basic uses for a residential solar energy system: Providing hot water, heating a swimming pool and heating the home. (Solar energy also can be used for air conditioning, but government experts say that such systems generally are very expensive compared to conventional operations.)

All solar systems include a collector to capture the sun's energy, a storage device, a distribution system and controls. Heat from the storage system is distributed in two basic ways: Through hot water which circulates in radiators or baseboard units and through a forced air duct system.

The logical starting place for owners of existing houses, however, is with a solar hot water heater. It is cheaper than a complete solar heating system and usually can be installed without major remodeling.

Total costs vary from unit to unit, with many systems ranging from $1,500 to $2,000. According to the Federal Energy Administration, a solar system can cut water heating costs by 50 to 80 per cent, depending on the unit and location.

The solar hot water heater must be used in conjunction with a conventional system to serve as a back-up when the sun does not shine. The regular heater also is used to boost water temperatures higher than the 90 or 100 degrees provided by the solar system.

The federal government has several publications available on solar energy. "Solar Energy and Your Home," by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, answers basic questions about solar energy and is available, free, from the Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colo., 81009. A more complete booklet, "Buying Solar," prepared by Office of Consumer Affairs and published by the Federal Energy Administration, costs $1.85. Make checks payable to the Superintendent of Documents and write to the Pueblo address, marking the envelope, "Dept. 122E."

Because of the complexity of solar systems, the goverment recommends that an expert install the devices, although there are some do-it-yourself kits available for hot water heaters. To find a solar engineer, try calling a local university and asking to speak to one of the professors about solar energy. He or she may be able to put you in touch with a reliable workman.

Airport guide for handicapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — An airport guide for handicapped and elderly travelers, "Access Travel: A Guide to Accessibility of Airport Terminals," was released recently by the Aiprot Operators Council International and the Federal Archtectural and Transportation Barriers Compliance Board.

The guide covers 118 aiports in the United States, Canada, New Zealand, Germany, Denmark, England, Australia and Switzerland. It lists 71 special features, from lowered telephones and drinking fountains to raised lettering on vending machines and telephones, and indicates which airports have these features.

There are about 41 million permanently disabled Americans and another 62 million who suffer temporary incapacities each year.

Cockroaches galore

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Bruce Hammock has a lot of cockroaches around him; some 500 Madagascar and Panamanian cockroaches measuring up to three inches.

Hammock, 27, an insect endocrinologist at the University of California here, has been studying cockroaches for the past eight years.

He is working with juvenile hormones of cockroaches, and is trying to come up with a synthetic material that would replace insecticides like DDT.

The synthetic hormone would be something like a birth control pill for cockroaches and other insects, he said.

"These giant roaches are permitted to be imported into the United States solely for research purposes," Hammock adds.

Trans-Regional isn't quitting

The question that follows Trans-Regional Airlines suspension of regular passenger service out of Big Spring is this:

Will Trans-Regional reopen in a year, or is this the end of the commuter airline's scheduled service here?

McClure's response was that the firm absolutely, definitely and assuredly will resume regular air passenger service once it is able to move to the new city-operated airport which will be established at Webb Air Force Base.

AS IF TO prove his point, McClure made mention of plans to operate a much bigger airplane to Dallas and back twice daily once service resumes.

He said that he did not want to go into details for publication, but he claimed the firm has made a financial commitment along these lines.

In fact, he claimed the Trans-Regional financial commitment already is so great that the firm cannot afford to leave town. He said the company lost $180,000 last year, and this amount would have been higher except for fixed-base revenue.

Meanwhile, the airline will probably continue to hold the passenger rights to Big Spring, even in suspension. The Texas Aeronautics Commission will likely grant what amounts to a leave-of-absence for Trans-Regional, which would mean no other airline could come in — not that any would want to with Big Spring's current record.

McCLURE SAID Trans-Regional was promised community backing when it opened two years ago, but it has not always been forthcoming.

Aside from the running battle the company has had with the Howard County Commissioners Court, McClure said bookings for this summer have fallen off rather drastically.

But McClure appears convinced that the airlines can make a go of it once Webb is reopened as a municipal airport. He promises that the company is going to give it another try.

Arthur at Camelot

William F. Buckley, Jr.

The boys who gave us the Freedom of Information Act have showered us with unexpected blessings. For instance, we begin to get a real feel for how the knights of the round table addressed King John, back in Camelot. Truly King John was a fine and graceful man, who inspired copious draughts of homage from his knights. Here, for instance, is a secret memorandum from Sir Arthur Schlesinger, addressed to the king, on the subject of how to handle p-r during and after their impending engagement against Cuba in 1961. It shows that the courtly style of communications has not changed substantially since the days when Sir Lancelot addressed King Arthur.

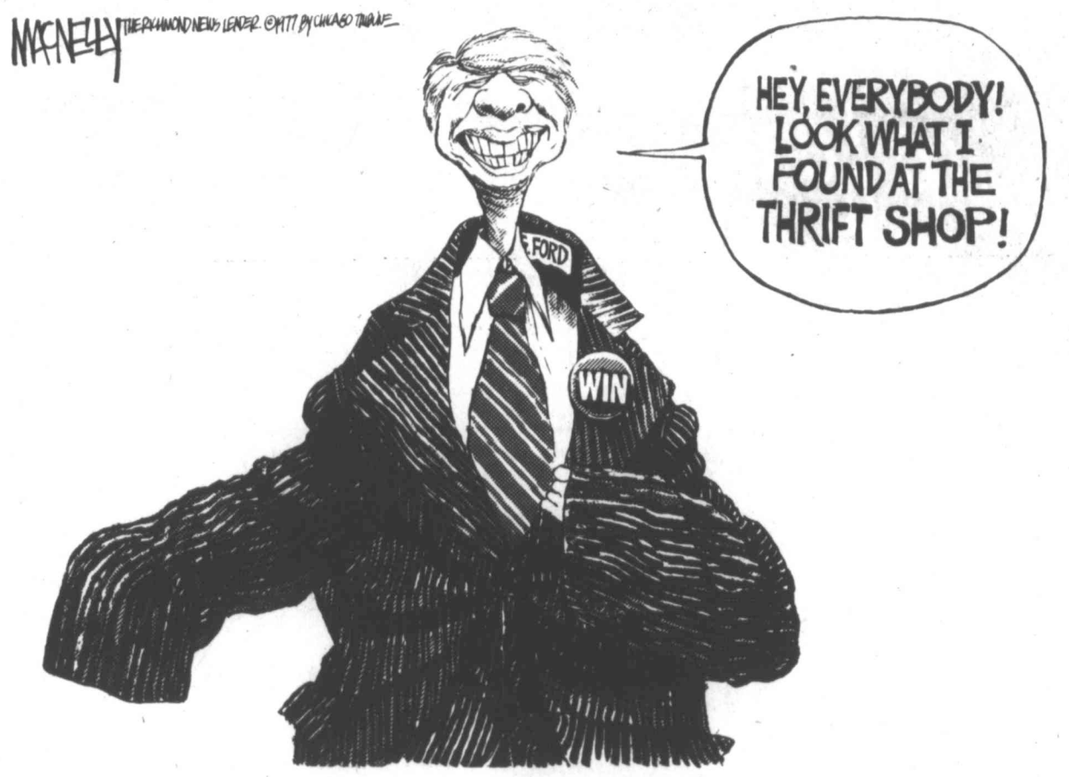

"In the days since January 20," wrote Sir Arthur to his sire, "your administration has changed the face of American foreign policy. The soberness of style, the absence of cold war cliches, the lack of self-righteousness and sermonizing, the impressive combination of reasonableness and firmness, the generosity to new ideas, the dedication to social progress, the tough-minded idealism of purpose ("Fill Sir Arthur's glass," I can hear the gentle King saying to the steward) — all these factors have transformed the 'image' of the United States before the world.

SINCE THIS memorandum was written on April 10, ten weeks after taking power, you would think the new court would have got over the awful monster Eisenhower who preceded them. But Sir Arthur would make sure, even though there were pressing matters to discuss — the Bay of Pigs was only one week away — that King John should know how happy was the contrast. "People around the world have forgotten the muddling and moralizing conservatism of the Eisenhower period with surprising speed." Indeed. And with surprising speed the world was soon to forget what it was like, under Ike, not to be fighting wars.

Eventually Sir Arthur got down to business. The Bay of Pigs was planned, and Sir Arthur feared it might boomerang. Very important to prepare the p-r. "If Castro (wins the engagement and) flies a group of captured Cubans to New York to testify that they were organized and trained by CIA, we will have to be prepared to show that the alleged CIA personnel were errant idealists or soldiers-of-fortune working on their own." In later years, a successor courtier would call that stonewalling. And the very same errant idealists, a decade later, pried their way into Watergate.

Sir Arthur suggested the need for diversionary action on some other theater. "Could not something be done against the Dominican Republic in the next few days? — some new call for action against the Trujillo tyrany?" Why not? Wish we had thought of that.

KING JOHN WAS not himself to be caught out lying. "When lies must be told," Sir Arthur wrote, "They should be told by subordinate officials." That's chivalry, if ever we saw it! In fact, maybe King John should arrange to be out at Chevy Chase playing golf when the invasion actually began? "There seems to be merit in (the) suggestion that someone other than the President make the final decision and do so in his absence — someone whose head can later be placed on the block if things go terribly wrong." King John, feeling his throat tenderly, must have been especially grateful for the solicitude and loyalty and fraternity of his humble servant, Sir Arthur.

Depression can have physical causes

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Five years ago my daughter was in a serious car accident. She is 24 now. Since the accident she has been very nervous and often depressed. Mostly in the mornings she feels tired and has no energy.

She went to a psychiatrist, who told her that the problem is not mental. He said her condition is due to some type of deficiency in her system.

I thought depression was a mental problem. The psychiatrist prescribed Norpramin. Is that a tranquilizer? If not, what purpose does it serve? — J.N.

Depression IS a mental problem, but that doesn't mean the causes cannot be physical. A serious accident might cause a situational depression, especially if someone was killed or seriously maimed. However, your daughter's morning fatigue points to a physical cause — faulty nutrition, low thyroid activity, anemia, possibly low blood sugar (hypoglycemia).

She has had her stint with the psychiatrist, who sensibly suggested she investigate physical causes. Often it is difficult to sort out the mental from the physical in these situations.

Norpramin is an anti-depressant drug. It if hasn't helped, its use should be reevaluated.

She needs a complete physical investigation to rule out ailments that can cause mental symptoms, such as the ones mentioned above. That would include a look at her eating habits.

I would put the accident idea aside in the search for an answer to her malaise.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you please tell me something about ringworm? My daughter, 7, has had it for a year and she's been treated with various ointments, and now with griseofulvin.

This seems to be working, but my son, 5, and myself also have gotten it from time to time. I am still concerned as to whether it will ever be completely cleared up. I have another son and all three kids are in school. — Mrs. R.R.

A year is a long time for ringworm to last. I have never heard of an "incurable" case, although some can be stubborn.

Your daughter is either being reinfected or the ointments used are not effective against the specific culprit fungus. No worm is involved.

Ringworm is a common problem among children. If the griseofulvin seems to be working now, your suffering days may be near an end, assuming there are no other outside contacts. I assume that you are being treated yourself as well as the other children who show symptoms.

One reason parents might welcome the coming of the summer and the outdoor season is that youngsters seem more free of these pesky problems at that time.

You need to take care during the "recovery" period. Pets can be involved. If the children continue in school during this time they should be warned to avoid contacts with others, because it can spread rapidly.

Athlete's foot is a form of ringworm. There are many other varieties depending on the area of the body affected.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can bad teeth affect hearing? — Mrs. W.D.

Yes, they can. Dr. Norton Canfield in a book on hearing cites the close physical relationship between the jaw joint and the ear. Some folks notice a clicking sound when the jaw is opened. This can be a symptom of malocclusion (where the jaw joint is not properly aligned). An irritation here can cause swelling and pain around the ear.

Hearing can sometimes be aided by correction of teeth and jaw problems such as these.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Will fat turn to muscle if you exercise? I am dieting to lose weight. I want to exercise too, but if the fat turns to muscle wouldn't that make it harder to lose weight because it would then be muscle? — K.L.

That's a strange concept. No, the fat is utilized for the energy needed to do the exercising and does not turn to muscle.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Thosteson, in care of the Big Spring Herald, for his booklet, "Ear Noises — Their Causes and Cures." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Joan Hackett capitulates

Liz Smith

San Andreas fault: Joan Hackett, one of our best, has long resisted the lure of a TV series, but she capitulated to co-star with "Rhoda's" David Groh could be a winner, with its two compelling stars under the aegis of James Komack who gave us "Welcome Back, Kotter" and "Chico and the Man." Shirley Jones and Marty Ingels, the ex-comic who now induces stars to do commercials, will get married this summer. Marty's raking in $500,000 monthly in his new career; also booking talent for the White House.

Pieces of bits: The cast of the new hit, "I Love My Wife" (you've heard Frank Sinatra's hit record of the title song), was at Joe's Pier 52 when bottles of champagne suddenly appeared on the tables with a note reading "I love you, too!" Owner Joe Kipness had "sprung" again — that old softie.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Our pastor's wife teaches our Sunday school class, and she always criticizes her teenage sons and tells us about the arguments she has with them. We are all embarrassed by this but don't know what to do. — MRS. S.C.

DEAR MRS. C.: I think you are right to be concerned. Not only is this teacher diverting the class from the study of the Bible, but constant criticism of her children will make them feel that she does not love them, and this will deeply affect their personalities. "Don't overcorrect your children, or they will grow up feeling inferior and frustrated" (Colossians 3:21, Phillips Translation). When we love our children we must occasionally discipline them. However, they need to know — by our actions and our words — that we love them deeply. I like the way the Living Bible paraphrases Ephesians 6:4: "Don't keep on scolding and nagging your children, making them angry and resentful. Rather, bring them up with the loving discipline the Lord himself approves, with suggestions and godly advice."

I know the situation is delicate, but I believe one or two of you should prayerfully go to the pastor and his wife and tell them of your concern. We are told to "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ" (Galatians 6:2). You may find they are burdened about their children, and want to know from others how to handle the practical problems that arise in a family. Perhaps instead of directly speaking of your distaste of her comments in class, you could instead say that you have noticed she speaks frequently of her children and wonder if there is a way you can help them as parents.

Be nice to plants

Around the rim

Danny Reagan

I suppose you've heard by now of the ex-CIA polygraph expert who started the whole ball of wax rolling on plant experimentation when he discovered that plants demonstrate emotional responses similar to those found in humans.

CLEVE BACKSTER stumbled onto his find quite accidentally. He was trying to use the polygraph to measure the rate at which water rose in a plant from the root into the leaf. He assumed that when the water reached the leaf, the resistance in the leaf would drop and the tracings on his machine would go up accordingly.

But the opposite actually occurred. A study of the chart revealed a tracing typical of a human emotionally aroused.

And then he wondered, "How can a plant have emotional responses?" So he began performing numerous experiments which has led, you all know, to everyone talking to their plants, playing soothing music for them, and more or less treating them like another member of the family.

Some of his more intriguing experiments included the "threat-to-well-being" principle — burning the leaf of a plant with a match.

At the instant he thought of lighting the match, there was a dramatic change in the PGR (psycholgalvanic reflex) tracing on the polygraph.

He was several feet away from the plant and had not even lighted the match, and yet the tracing pen was jumping all over the place.

Backster then dropped some live brine shrimp into boiling water. Once again the plant showed great agitation. He theorized that living cells are able to broadcast some kind of distress signal to other living cells. Weird.

Therefore, as any good scientist would do, he decided to avoid the possibility of human error by automating his experiments. He constructed machinery that was programmed to kill the shrimp on a random basis, with the timing precisely recorded by the machines.

No human remained on the premises, and top scientists agreed that the system could not be faulted.

ELECTRODES WERE attached to three separate plants in separate rooms and away from the area where the shrimp would be killed by automatically being dumped in scalding water.

The polygraph readings revealed that the emotional response from the plants occured at the exact instant of the shrimps' death. This experiment has been repeated numerous times by Backster and many others, and the results have always been the same.

And distance is apparently no barrier to this type of "cell communication." A friend's house plant was left with Backster and he discovered that the plant became highly excited when its owner was placed under stress during the landing of her plane in Cincinnati, hundreds of miles away.

In short, Backster's experiments have provided evidence that plants, though believed to be without nerves, register fear, apprehension, relief, and pleasure.

I guess this means you better be nice to your plants; or like humans, they may turn on you when they learn how to do so.

(Next week: plants and pyramids).

No more flights

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — President Carter, in an effort to show Fidel Castro that the United States is serious about resuming full relations, has secretly called off reconnaissance flights over Cuba.

From the earliest days of the Castro regime until September 1974, the United States regularly snapped aerial photographs from U-2 planes flying high over Cuba. From then until this January 11th, the sophisticated SR-71 reconnaissance plane was used to gather photographic intelligence about activities on the island.

That was the final flight. Shortly after assuming office, President Carter ordered an end to the SR-71 Cuban forays.

THIS, OF COURSE, is but one of the signs that the official U.S. attitude toward Cuba has begun to soften. Assistant Secretary of State Terence Todman has been in Havana as head of an American delegation that is negotiating with Cuba over fishing rights in the straits between Cuba and Florida. And the State Department officially blessed a series of basketball games between Cuban and U.S. teams.

However, federal investigators have received disturbing new allegations about Cuba that could quickly chill the recent thaw in the diplomatic climate.

The allegations come from an informant inside Panama, where top government officials have been trafficking in international narcotics for years. The shadowy underworld informant charges that Latin American narcotics flowing into the United States are actually transshipped through Cuba.

Congressional investigators, we previously reported, have established that the brother of Panamanian dictator Omar Torrijos, Moises, has been funneling heroin into the United States. But the State Department, fearful of upsetting the delicate negotiations over the Panama Canal, has looked the other way.

The informant also maintains that an automobile dealership in Panama has been used as a front to sell narcotics to American soldiers in the Canal Zone.

Federal investigators are trying to determine if the informant is entirely credible. They say he appeared cool and professional and that 90 per cent of his information appears accurate.

FOOTNOTE: THE State Department vehemently denies it has ignored any evidence of drug smuggling. Federal narcotic officials told us they have found absolutely no evidence of drugs being smuggled into the United States thorugh Cuba. Attempts are being made to have the Panamanian informant, who must remain anonymous for his own safety, repeat his allegations in secret testimony on Capitol Hill.

FOOD STAMPS GLADLY ACCEPTED!

Donors can report each Monday

More blood is needed

The Big Spring Community Blood Center will be accepting donations from noon until 6 p.m. Monday of each week in the classroom at Malone-Hogan Hospital.

On a few Mondays during each month, the blood center mobile drawing station will be located at various business and civic organizations to give those unable to donate at the center a chance to participate.

"Blood donations in Big Spring last year amounted to only 72 per cent of the amount of blood transfused to patients in the Big Spring hospitals," said Darryl Howard, executive director of the West Texas Blood Service. "For the first three months of this year, the amount transfused has been 364 units of blood or blood components, and the number of units drawn has been 224. I know that Big Spring wants to be self-sufficient in its blood needs, and that as the public is made aware of the facts, it will respond to meeting daily blood needs," he added.

Patient blood needs in 49 West Texas hospitals are met by the West Texas Blood Service. Between 1,200 and 1,300 units of blood each month are required to meet this need.

These hospitals serve the blood needs of over 500,000 people in a land area larger than the states of Main, Massachusetts and the District of Columbia combined.

Due to the fact that whole blood lasts only 21 days, the need for the blood must be a daily activity; it can't be stockpiled. West Texas Blood Service personnel also point out that blood has to be available when an emergency occurs.

Tests required by the federal government must be performed on every unit of blood used, and they take over four hours to complete.

Generally any healthy person between 17 and 66 years of age may donate, provided they weigh at least 110 pounds, and at least eight weeks have elapsed since their last donation. Unfortunately, only three out of 100 persons donate on a regular basis, according to Blood Service officials.

Seventeen-year-olds must have a "Minor Donor Permit" card signed by a parent or guardian in order to donate.

Since the good health of any community depends on an adequate supply of safe blood, and since there is no synthetic blood or a substitute for blood, it is vital that healthy people accept this opportunity to give "the gift of life," according to officials.

Last year, portable bloodmobile equipment was set up at various local schools and businesses to make it more convenient for persons to donate.

These locations included: Big Spring High School, Cabot Corporation, Howard College, Suez Shrine, Texas National Guard and Webb AFB.

Newcomers to the bloodmobile program this year include: Big Spring Dress Company, Big Spring State Hospital and the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Other newcomers scheduled for later in the year are: Cosden Refinery Company, Fiberglass Systems, Sid Richardson Company and Walls Industries.

Business, civic and church groups interested in a program, or interested in a bloodmobile visit are urged to contact the Rev. Carroll Kohl, chairman of the Big Spring Area Blood Donor Center Advisory Council, at 267-7163 or 263-2764.

Two residents gain diplomas

Among those were Mikical McCormick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irland F. McCormick, Gail Rte., Big Spring; and Michael Dorman, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.K Dorman, Big Spring.

McCormick received a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration. He was a 1972 graduate of Big Spring High School.

Dorman, a 1971 graduate of Moon Valley High School in Phoenix, Ari., received a BS Degree in Accounting.

Proposed changes to be discussed

Proposals to change the retirement system will be the subject of a briefing Tuesday at 5 p.m. in the NCO Club at Webb AFB.

CMSgt. William N. Starnes (USAF retired), Southwest regional director, Air Force Sergeants Association, will tell about the proposals being presented in Washington, D.C., by Rep. Les Aspin (D.-Wisc.), the Manpower Commission and the Department of Defense.

The briefing is open to all personnel whether or not they are members of AFSA. "These proposals vitally affect every active duty person as well as the Air Guard, Air Reserve, retirees and their families," said MSgt. Joseph J.E. Ouelette of personnel administration.

"Everyone should find out all they can about retirement changes and what the AFSA is doing about it with their lobby in Congress," Sergeant Ouelette said.

At the same meeting, officers will be selected for the new AFSA chapter proposed for the Webb-Big Spring area. Membership is open to all enlisted grades, E-1 thru E-9, active, Air Guard, Air Reserves, retired or former members of the Air Force.

Arrangements have been made with the American Legion, 355 San Angelo Highway, Big Spring, for AFSA to meet there after Webb closes.

Refreshments will be served starting at 4 p.m. Tuesday before the meeting begins. The briefing is sponsored by CMSgt. Sam Earl, wing senior enlisted advisor, along wth Sergeant Ouelette.

Weather

Thunderstorms rakeparts of nation

By the Associated Press

Locally heavy thunderstorms were reported early today through portions of eastern Colorado, western Kansas and western Oklahoma, with extremely heavy rains recorded in some areas.

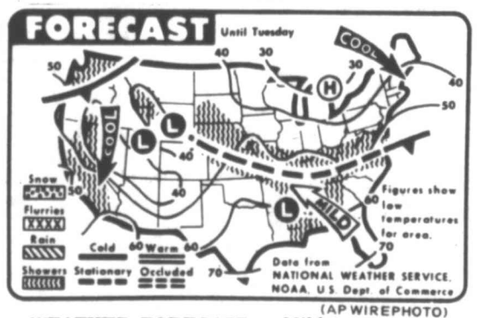

Flagler, Colo., reported six inches of rainfall while nearly 3.5 inches fell in a 40-minute period at Ault, Colo. overnight.

Rainshowers and occasional thundershowers were forecast today for much of the nation. A belt of showers extending from the north and central Pacific Coast, across the northern half of the intermountain region, through the central Rockies and the central half of the Great Plains was forecast. The lower portion of the Mississippi Valley, which had occasional twister touchdowns and periods of heavy rain during the night, was also expected to get rainshowers today.

Another stretch of showers was forecast through the Ohio and Tennessee Valleys to the Gulf of Mexico coast areas, eastward to the the Atlantic Coast and into New England.

WEATHER FORECAST — Mild temperatures are forecast today for the Gulf states and half of the Atlantic coast. But most of the country is expected to be cool. Showers are forecast in the West and from the Plains to the mid-Atlantic region and central Gulf.

Lifeguard jobs are available

Anyone interested in a temporary job as lifeguard at Webb AFB is asked to go to the Webb civilian personnel office for details.

Applicants must possess a current Senior Life Saver's Certificate or Water Safety Instructor's Certificate. Air Training Command also requires lifeguards to have cardio-pulmonary resuscitation training, which will be offered to those who do not have it.

'Cinco de Mayo' program is set

A Dutch treat luncheon is planned by the Spanish-speaking program committee at the NCO club, Webb AFB, 11:30 - 12:30 Thursday in observance of "Cinco de Mayo," literally the Fifth of May."

Amado Molina, chairperson of Big Spring's Mexican-American Service Council, will be the guest speaker. All military and civilian personnel are invited to attend.

On the menu is a buffet style roast beef and Mexican plate, at $1.75.

"Cinco de Mayo" has great significance for the Mexican people. In the 1860s the French invaded Mexico and chased President Benito Juarez from the capital. Archduke Maximillian of Austria was appointed as emperor of Mexico by Napoleon II.

Later, in 1967, President Juarez reinforced his armies from volunteers and, with his untrained Mexican forces, defeated the French. "Cinco de Mayo' commemorates Mexico regaining its independence.

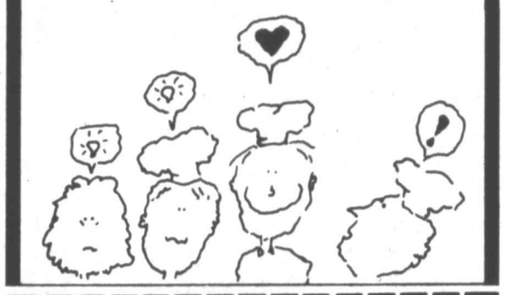

Show due here

"Tops In Blue," the Air Force's top performers, are tentatively scheduled to appear in Big Spring Aug. 24. Time and place of the show is to be announced later.

Comment from capitol

'Zoo' has its animals

By MARK BROWNING
Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — One of the most frenzied parts of a legislative session is floor debate over the appropriations bill, which stirs the emotions of legislators trying to bring in state money for their districts.

Things get particularly hectic when debate runs overtime, such as last week when House Speaker Bill Clayton kept representatives working till 11 p.m. after beginning a session at 9 a.m.

As the House recessed for a short supper break, one member told the capitol press corps, "Ya'll be sure to come back tonight. This place will be a zoo."

He wasn't kidding. The "zoo" came complete with animals.

Rep. Ben Reyes of Houston temporarily broke up the House with laughter when he poked fun at fellow Houstonian Mickey Leland. Leland was more than upset over losing $7 million in state money for a mental science research institute in his home city.

Leland wasn't on the House floor when Reyes set a toy monkey on Leland's vacant chair and grabbed the microphone. The battery-powered monkey began banging a tiny pair of cymbals together and emitting a piercing screech as Reyes announced, "Mr. Speaker, is the chair informed that Mr. Leland is so upset over losing his $7 million . . . that he has reverted to his natural self?"

One of the fastest animals in the zoo was Rep. Senfronia Thompson of Houston. Several times on close votes she was observed running quickly down the aisle in front of the press table and deftly punching the voting button of Rep. Leonard Briscoe of Fort Worth, who was ill.

Palette club slates show

The Midland Palette Club is having its annual Spring Arts and Crafts Show Saturday.

The location is at Midkiff and Andrews Highway, in the building formerly occupied by Safeway.

There will be paintings in all media — oil, acrylics and watercolor, pen and ink drawings, as well as a variety of craft items.

No imported or mass-produced items will be sold. For gifts that are different and prices that are reasonable, come by and browse and meet the artists.

Documentary is set May 22

An ABC-TV documentary on work with the adult mentally retarded being done at Serra Residential Center, a facility of the National Benevolent Association in Fremont, Calif., will be broadcast by Channel 4 TV Sunday, May 22 at 12:00 noon on Directions, an ABC-TV series.

The Rev. William H. Smythe of the First Christian Church, Big Spring stated that the National Benevolent Association, the Division of Social and Health Services of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), has gained national recognition for its modern caring programs in work with children, older persons and mentally retarded, and is one of the many social and health programs supported by the congregation of the First Christian Church.

Arthur Zegart, who produced Directions for ABC Television Network Department of News and Public Affairs, has produced, directed and written more than 125 public affairs documentary films.

Ridin' fence

Too high for weevil?

with Marj Carpenter

Those April showers are either supposed to bring May flowers or hopes for a good cotton crop. And most of the county agents running around the area seem to think the soil is in the best shape for planting that it's been in many years.

We all know that the May flowers came in April. If you drove down 15th between Goliad and Birdwell and saw the bluebonnets or drove by Charlene Kees at 8th and Main or any number of places and saw the beautiful roses, and irises like you haven't seen in years — you know that the May flowers have already blossomed out.

But speaking of cotton, I ran across an article the other day in a 1908 newspaper. This is a rare thing because all of the Big Spring Herald records earlier than 1922 are missing.

The picture in it wasn't too clear, but I quote the rest of the article intact.

"It's wonderful that in Big Spring we can market cotton in February. Can a man doubt that Howard County is all that is claimed for it as a cotton country? The writer has never seen cotton brought into town by single bales since being a resident here, and the "bale and a basket" crop expression of eastern sections is unknown here. One man cultivates three times as much land here and produces three times as much cotton for a year's crop as does the eastern cotton farmer, which is cause of his prosperous condition. One hundred acres of land to one man and one team is the common apportionment, and less effort is required in cultivation than is experienced by the one working 35 acres in the heavy black lands of Central Texas or the stumps and grubs of East Texas and Louisiana. No noxious weeds and grasses to contend with, and less hoeing to be done than in any other portion of the state. This fact alone should appeal to the man whose boys and girls as well as wife and self are called to the field to wield a hoe in the very hottest part of the year. No boll weevils, no boll worms — two more good features. The pesky pest can't live at this altitude is the cause.

Farming lands with no waste places are selling low now, and if you want a good home in a good country, where the crop yield is sufficient for the support of a family in comfort — and then some — grasp the opportunity and come to Howard County at once."

I heard a discussion out at Ackerly the other day about what will happen if we run out of fuel for tractors. This farmer said, "We won't be able to produce cotton like we are doing now. I sure would hate to go back to the horsedrawn plow to feed the nation. I don't know whether we'll have nuclear powered tractors or what. But I sure hate to think about stoking them with coal or sitting around waiting for enough sun to shine to get them going."

This is only one thing that has changed since that 1908 article. The large farms now plowed and planted by massive production could not even be dreamed of in those days.

But I love the statement that the pesky boll weevil cannot live at this altitude. That turned out to be a pipe dream.

But's all very interesting, when you run across a farm article written 69 years ago. Somebody will probably laugh reading ours 69 years hence.

But the land is still there. And I love to look at it when the wind isn't blowing it around — out where I'm ridin' fence.

Application may be approved

STANTON — The Stanton city council will discuss and possibly take action on a resoultion approving the Stanton Housing Authority's application for a preliminary loan for low-rent public housing when it convenes at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday.

The council will also appoint members to the board of directors of the Stanton Housing Authority, authorize the city manager to advertise for bids for construction of a tennis court in city park, discuss the city's water system and talk about the disposition of several lots in Block 24 of the Original Addition.

Look at whole picture

By Bill Albright
Executive Vice President, Big Spring Area Ch. of Commerce

A great deal has been said about Industrial Development lately and from what I've heard it's a pretty universally misunderstood subject. So in an attempt to clarify some of those clouded issues let's take a look at the whole picture.

Industrial Development is defined as the activity which promotes economic growth of a community. Principally, this occurs by bringing new money or dollars into town and is usually accomplished thru the increase in the number of jobs. An important point here is that on the average, eighty per cent of the new jobs in a community are the result of the growth and expansion of businesses and industries already established in that town; while the remaining twenty per cent come from new industries or business moving into the town.

Over the years, we've had some rather significant expansions of our existing industries. And yet, in comparison, our success at attracting new industry has been limited. The question is frequently asked — why? Why don't we get more new industries in town? Are we doing anything to bring new industry in? Why do other communities get new industries and we get only a few?

Let's take a look at some of the answers to these and other well intentioned, but often poorly understood questions. First of all if you were an owner of a manufacturing plant and looking for a location, what single motive outweighs all others? In other words why are you in business? Why, to make a profit, of course! You might be seeking a friendly, quiet place with all the elements that compliment a good life and all the factors that are essential to the operation of your business; such as a good labor supply, adequate housing, a source of readily available raw materials, transportation arteries, necessary utilities and of course a physical plant in which to manufacture your goods. But still the basic requirement is to make a profit. There is a great deal of risk involved in setting up a new business in a new location and of course a very large expense, so everything must be carefully considered. Let's assume that we're interested in someplace in West Texas and we want to move our operation into a town between 25 and 50 thousand population. The prospect looks at each of these communities rather carefully.

Most places have friendly people, good schools, reasonable taxes, adequate shopping facilities, clean air and all the other things that we so often take for granted. Of course exceptions exist, but most West Texas towns meet these basic requirements — what then makes the difference — most other things being equal? What would you look for? — Wouldn't it be that location which would provide you the best opportunity to make a profit? Wouldn't it be the community that showed they really wanted your company to come to town and were willing to invest some of their resources to help your business succeed?

You bet it would! And that's exactly how it happens these days — industrial development is a highly competitive business and the community that gets the new industry is the one that offers the best advantage to the company. That's essentially the way it is and from the looks of it there's little likelihood that it will change — communities that want industry — get industry.

Your Chamber Industrial Team is working every day to satisfy industrial prospects and to match their requirements with our local advantages. Normally these proceedings will never be known till the signature is on the dotted line and the official announcement is made. Of course, this is to protect the prospect and the Industrial Foundation and our community.

We can attract industry to Big Spring — you bet we can — all it takes is an enthusiastic investment in our community and some of our special brand of Hustle Hustle Hustle.

Howell, Burroughs win BSGA

Tired warriors and conquering heroes scrambled over the Comanche Trail Golf Course in Sunday's final round of the Big Spring Men's Golf Association Spring Partnership Tournament.

The big event was a 2-man low ball tournament with over $2,000 in gift certificates to the victorious golfers.

The father-son team of Jack White and Terry White, who led Saturday's round with a super card of 64, succumbed to the vitality of youth in the team of Gary Howell and John Burroughs.

Howell and Burroughs carded a 67 on Saturday and rallied on Sunday with a 65 which gave them first place with an outstanding total of 132.

Second place winners Pat Campbell and J.D. Glace from Odessa performed a real comeback on Sunday after shooting 70 on Saturday.

On Sunday, with a mediocre front nine of 36, they blasted the back nine in 28 which included eagles on Holes 12, 15 and 16 for a fantastic 64, bringing them within two shots of first place.

In Scratch Division, the team of Mike Weaver and Bobby Menchaca pulled off two very consistent rounds of 66 & 67 for a fine two-day total of 133, leaving them very comfortably in first place.

Local members Jimmy Newsom and Robert Caffey carded a 70 on Saturday and tightened their belts for a fine comeback on Sunday of 67.

Caffey, who took time out from his tournament co-chairman duties to buzz around the course on Saturday, found his pace dwindling some on Sunday but managed to maintain the grueling pace.

The BSGA and Pro Bobby Howell wish to express their appreciation to tournament directors Tom Mills and Robert Caffey and all of the other tireless workers who made the first tournament of the season such an outstanding success.

'WHERE'D IT GO?' — Steer centerfielder Billy Hayes races to the first bag in time to beat out a low throw from third base to John Grissom, Abilene Cooper first sacker. Action took place in the fifth inning of Saturday's 3-2 loss by the locals in Steer Park to the first half champions. The Steers will be back at home Tuesday in their last home stand of the season, against Odessa at 4 p.m. before ending the 1977 campaign Saturday in San Angelo against the Bobcats. The Bovines must win their last two games to keep hopes alive for a second half crown and eventual district championship.

Cards sweep Hobbs

The Big Spring Cardinals remained undefeated at home, and improved their season record to 5-1 Sunday, by virtue on an 8-4 and 5-3 heading of the visiting Hobbs Conquistadores in a Steer Park double-header.

Dick Battle was back in Big Spring for the weekend and pitched all but a half an inning for the Cards, giving up three runs, six hits and walking four batters. Pacheco was the losing hurler.

The Cards began their push in the third inning. Ernie Garcia doubled to lead off the frame, Felix Martinez then walked, and Orlando "Boy" Olague followed with a three-run homer.

Billy Pineda was then given a safety, stole second, and finally scored on an error by the visiting third sacker.

In the fourth inning the home team scored two more runs when Martinez walked on, stole second, and scored on another error by the third baseman that left Olague on first. Pineda then drove in Olague with a single.

The final runs were garnered in the sixth, when Garcia walked, Martinez sacrificed him to second and then Olague doubled him home. Pineda then doubled Olague in for the final run.

In the second game, Olague relieved Mike Treadaway on the mound and posted the win, giving up three runs on 11 hits. The Cards managed eight hits in that game. Pina was the losing pitcher.

The scoring started in the first frame when Martinez walked and then was doubled in by Jody Flores. Flores was eventually thrown out on a squeeze play, but Treadaway singled in Sammy Rodriquez for the second run.

In the fifth, Martinez walked, stole second, was sacrificed to third by Flores and then was singled in by Rodriquez. Pineda then sacrificed Rodriquez home.

Tony Fierro got the last RBI of the game, when in the sixth frame, he belted a single to drive in Martinez.

The toughest test of the season will face the Cards when they host the Kermit Merchants Sunday again in Steer Park. Manager Billy Pineda indicated that Kermit's pitcher once was associated with the Cincinnati Reds organization and threw a no-hitter in his first showing last week. Kermit is undefeated.

Pineda also wished to thank the many fans who have attended the games thus far.

Rockets advance to East playoff

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — Before the start of the sixth Houston-Washington playoff game, the Rockets' Calvin Murphy was telling newsmen that he wanted to end the series immediately.

"I've been saying I wanted to win it in the Summit (in Houston)," he shouted to newsmen sitting at the press table. "But I don't want to go back today. I want to finish it here in the Capital Centre."

Murphy's wish came true Sunday, although there were some shaky moments before the Rockets won the deciding contest of the seven-game series 108-103 to qualify for the Eastern Conference championship against the Philadelphia 76ers.

Mike Newlin and Rudy Tomjanovich added the fire power in the fourth period. Newlin scored 15 of his 21 points and Tomjanovich eight of his 26 in that period.

Team captain Tomjanovich credited the 76.5 shooting percentage by the Rockets in the fourth period. It was "just what we needed. We've got great shooters. We got into something a little different and that threw them (the Bullets) off."

The Bullets held leads of 11 points during the first period, 12 in the second and 10 in the third before entering the fourth with a 77-76 edge.

Houston Coach Tom Nissalke said, "We weren't too good in the first half. We let them control the game. And we would come down and take terrible shots. We didn't play with any great spark.

"At the half we said, 'We're playing one of our worst games and we're only down by eight (58-50),'" he said. "So, when you play that poorly in the playoffs and still are in the game, we had some cause for optimism. We said, 'Go out and just pick it up.'

"In the fourth period, we really did some good things on defense. We made it tough for them to score from the inside," Nissalke said. "Moses (Malone) was just tremendous on the boards."

Washington's Elvin Hayes, who had 20 points in the game, made a layup to tie the score at 89-89 with 5:24 remaining. But Newlin hit a 22-foot jump shot, Tomjanovich scored on a 23-footer and Newlin added a 16-footer to put the Rockets up by six points—all but sealing the Bullets' fate.

Washington edged within two points three more times in the contest—the last on a stuff by Hayes with 1:16 remaining—but could not overcome the Rockets' lead.

"I don't think about pressure," Newlin said. "I feel more relaxed when the game is intense. I'm not lost in the heat of the game. After all, whether you win or lose, the one thing you know is that there is going to be a final result.

"During the fourth quarter, I kept thinking, 'If we win, we were supposed to win. It's all part of the Big Plan. God knows how it's going to end up.'"

Ball cries uncle a lot

By the Associated Press

The ball cried "uncle" when El Paso and San Antonio got finished with their slugfest.

The Diablos beat San Antonio 17-12 in a Texas League game Sunday, collecting 23 hits, including four each by Gil Kubski, Bob Slater and Carney Lansford. Ken Landreaux added three hits and four runs batted in for the winners, including a two-run homer.

The other two league games saw Amarillo edge Midland 3-2 and Tulsa nip Shreveport 2-1.

Karl Pagel got a solo homer and a run-producing groundout to account for all of Midland's runs, but they weren't enough against Amarillo. The Gold Sox got two runs in the first inning on Paul O'Neill's RBI single and a double play and one more in the fourth frame on H.P. Drake's run-producing single.

IT HURTS! — To be tagged out at home plate, but that's exactly what Joe Martinez, Big Spring Cardinals catcher, is doing to Hobbs Conquistadores baserunner. The grimacing visitor was trying to score from second base on a hit to left field. Cardinal Albert Alvarez made the peg to home. Action was in the first game of a double-header in Steer Park Sunday afternoon. The Big Spring team won both games, the first contest 8-4 and the second 5-3.

Littler breezes to Houston win

GENE LITTLER

HOUSTON (AP) — Gene Littler leaned back with a contented sigh.

"It's great feeling," he said. "When you haven't won in two years, and things are going bad, it's almost like winning that first one all over again.

"At this stage, if you go two years without winning and you're not playing too good, you start to wondering if you're ever going to win again."

Littler, at 46, answered the questions that had been bothering him and reversed the youth movement that has dominated the pro golf tour this year with a relatively-easy, front-running, three-stroke victory in the Houston Open Sunday. He led by margins that ranged from four to seven strokes most of the gray, cloudy day.

The slightly-built Littler acquired the 29th victory of a career that stretches back to the early '50s with a conservative, final-round 74 and a 276 total, 12 under par on the wet and heavy Woodlands Country Club course.

It ended a two-year victory drought for the courageous veteran who, in the early 1970s, conquered cancer and returned to winning golf after rebuilding his picture swing despite an operation that damaged muscles on his left side.

"I love the guy," said little Chi Chi Rodriguez, who lost a fight for second place — the only race there was in the face of Littler's huge lead. "He made the most amazing comeback in the history of golf. God bless him. I just hope he keeps on winning."

Littler started the day with a five-stroke lead and no one challenged. The final margin, three strokes, was as close as anyone came. And it was never in doubt. He led by seven at the turn and by five with three holes to play.

Second eluded Rodriguez when he three-putted for bogey on the final hole and Lanny Wadkins holed two birdie putts in the 10-12 foot range on the last three.

Tanner psyches Pirates

By the Associated Press

Manager Chuck Tanner goes around telling everyone on the Pittsburgh Pirates how great they are, and you know what? They believe him.

"Tanner's got everybody on this club psyched up," says Al Oliver.

Which explains why Oliver, normally a placid player, raised his arms in jubilation Sunday after delivering the winning hit in a 4-3, 10-inning victory over the Houston Astros.

Which also explains why Oliver nearly killed himself crashing into the left field wall at Three Rivers Stadium in a vain attempt to grab Cliff Johnson's double.

"Everything I do is Tanner's fault," Oliver said, grinning. "That's why I crashed through the wall out there like I had wings."

Oliver had much better luck with his hitting, belting a game-tying home run in the ninth inning and then a gamewinning single in the 10th.

His game-breaking hit preceeded Houston strategy that backfired, making Oliver look all the more heroic.

With one out in the 10th, Omar Moreno beat out an infield hit and stole second.

"You're going to get caught sometime, but that doesn't stop you from running," said the ebullient Tanner, whose go-go Pirates lead the National League with 35 stolen bases.

After Ed Ott popped out, the Astros chose to walk Dave Parker and pitch instead to Oliver.

In the other National League games, the Montreal Expos beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-2; the Chicago Cubs turned back the Cincinnati Reds 4-1; the New York Mets trimmed the San Diego Padres 8-2; the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the San Francisco Giants 7-2 and the St. Louis Cardinals blanked the Atlanta Braves 8-0.

Willie Stargell was also an imposing force for the hot Pirates, who earned their seventh victory in the last eight games. Stargell blasted two solo home runs to straightaway center.

Expos 6, Dodgers 2

Gary Carter blasted two solo home runs and Del Unser slammed a three-run homer in the sixth inning to break a 2-2 tie as Montreal ended Los Angeles' eight-game winning streak.

Hiller feels lousy

By the Associated Press

Detroit Tiger reliever John Hiller made a perfect pitch — and lost a game.

"I made good pitches and wind up getting beat when a good curve ball goes off the end of Smalley's bat," Hiller said.

Minnesota's switch-hitting Roy Smalley got his first hit of the season batting right-handed with two outs in the bottom of the ninth. His bloop single scored Jerry Terrell with the inning's fourth run and lifted the Twins to a 6-5 victory over Detroit Sunday.

Then there was Craig Kusick, whose two-run pinch hit double tied the game at 5-5.

"It was the same pitch he (Hiller) had struck me out on Friday night. I'm not kidding myself. Anytime you're facing Hiller a little luck helps," Kusick said.

"Let's face it," Hiller said. "The life of a relief pitcher is lousy."

In other AL games Sunday, Baltimore nipped California 3-2 in 10 innings, New York topped Seattle 5-2, Boston downed Oakland 6-4, Chicago clobbered Texas 12-4, Kansas City defeated Toronto 8-2 and Milwaukee and Cleveland split a doubleheader, Milwaukee winning the opener 7-3 and Cleveland taking the nightcap 8-5.

Rookie Jeff Holly came on to stop the Tigers on only two hits in the final seven innings to pick up the victory in his first major league appearance. The victory kept the Twins in first place in the AL West, one-half game ahead of Kansas City.

Bears bop Texas 3-2

WACO (AP) — Baylor captured third place in the Southwest Conference baseball standings Sunday by defeating second place Texas.

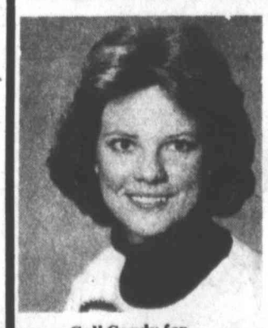

Bears left fielder Leonard Woods slugged a two-out solo h in the bottom of the 14th inning to give Baylor a 3-2 victory over the Longhorns in the final regular-season game for both teams.

The victory gave Baylor a 15-9 SWC record, good enough for third place ahead of Arkansas' 14-10. Texas finished 17-7 and-4.

The Bears will play Texas in the first round of the SWC postseason tournament starting May 19 in Austin, while Arkansas will meet A&M.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FOR RELEASE TUESDAY, MAY 3, 1977

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Take a good look at whatever obligations face you and then devise a sensible plan of action for attending to them. You make headway in an important matter.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Mix some business with pleasure. New contacts could prove exciting. Don't waste time on time-wasters.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Under present planetary conditions, you are able to understand associates better. Stop being so fearful and proceed with your good ideas.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) It's possible for you to get much done now and to make big headway that has been difficult before this. Stick to good health resolutions.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Plan some time to see good friends you've been neglecting. Be more considerate of mate or loved one also.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Giving more attention to home affairs brings more harmony and comfort now. A new project you have in mind requires more complete study before you go any further with it.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Good friends could be helpful in settling problems, so gain their cooperation. Give a wise answer to those who want to argue with you and drop the matter.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have a new plan in mind but it needs more study before you proceed with it. Make repairs to property that will add to its value.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are determined to have your own way, but be tactful if you are to get good results. Avoid social functions where you are unknown.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Do that necessary research work, but keep it confidential for good results. Have a blunt talk with a loved one and clear the air.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't be so demanding with good friends if you want their cooperation. Use diplomacy instead. You can advance a long-range plan.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study your position in your community and do something to improve it. Be careful you do nothing that jeopardizes your credit.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have new ideas that should be studied for practicality and then put in operation to your gain. Cultivate new associates who can be helpful.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will like to dig into facts and figures, the truth behind anything, so be sure to slant education along lines of teaching, law, medicine in particular: Prepare now for a fine college education. Willpower here is great.

Dear Abby

Tell Unlikely Suitor He's Out of Bounds

DEAR ABBY: I am a 52-year-old widow who is being pestered by a bachelor in whom I have no interest. But HE is interested in ME.

I work from 8 to 5, and when I come home I find him puttering around in my garden, or sweeping my garage or driveway.

I told him I am not interested in marriage, sex, love or a live-in companion. He said HE was.

I don't want to have him arrested for trespassing on my property or harassing me, because I don't think he's dangerous.

How can I get this man to leave me alone without going to the law?

NOT THAT LONESOME

DEAR NOT: TELL him you will have him arrested if he doesn't stay off your property and quit bothering you. And if that doesn't work, you may have to call the police. He may not be dangerous, but you have a right to be left alone.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I gave our married son (who lives near us) a key to our home so he can come here to check up on things when we're out of town.

Well, it seems that while we're away, he and his wife come in and borrow whatever they want. We don't even know what they've borrowed until we look for something and can't find it. (I refer to serving trays, linen, card tables, garden tools and bottles from our bar!)

We've always been on good terms with our children and want to stay that way, but we think they have their nerve helping themselves to our things and not returning them.

Is there any way we can get our key back and put a stop to this without demanding it and hurting their feelings?

PHILADELPHIA PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: What's wrong with the direct approach? Simply ask them to return: [a] everything they've borrowed; [b] the key. And don't be bashful about telling them why.

DEAR ABBY: As a professional musician, I know I speak for all pianists and organists who have performed at parties and have wanted to tell the guests the following:

Please do not:

1. Sit on the bench with me and engage me in conversation. It makes it impossible for me to perform.
2. Place drinks on the organ or piano. (I've had whole drinks fall on the keyboard and saturate the organ.)
3. Decide that you can play, too, and then proceed to fiddle with the keys while I am playing.
4. Sing loudly into my ear.

Abby, you would be doing all musicians a trememdous favor if you'd publish this.

R.G.R., THIBODAUX, LA.

DEAR R.G.R.: Consider it done.

Spring city chapter conducts bosses night

The Spring City Chapter of ABWA held it's eighth annual bosses night banquet at the Brass Nail Tuesday evening.

Fred Davis, of KBYG radio, was master of ceremonies. Invocation was given by Miss Ramona Molina. Mrs. Debbie Wegman, president, gave the welcome.

Ms. Lynda Faulkner read the ABWA creed. Davis recognized the past bosses of the year, and past women of the year.

Bill Albright, Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker. He showed slides pertaining to the Big Spring area showing schools, churches, businesses and industrial areas. He discussed what the Chamber does to better Big Spring. "The goal of the Chamber is to make the Big Spring area a better place to live and work," Albright said.

Ms. Peggy McDonald, current Woman of the Year, gave the vocational. She is a teacher at St. Mary's Episcopal School, and works in the open space class teaching math and science.

Jim Gray, 1976-77 Boss of the Year, read a letter nominating Bill Etchison, executive director of the Big Spring YMCA, as the 1977-78 Boss of the Year.

Mrs. Louise Fletcher gave the benediction.

Marcy PTA convenes, elects new officers

The Marcy Parent-Teacher Association met Tuesday evening in the school cafetorium.

Presentation of the colors and the Pledge of Allegiance were lead by Albert Valencia, Teretta Peters and Russell Brown, members of the Marcy Honor Society. The devotional was given by Gordon Jackson.

The nominating committee proposed the following slate of officers for the 1977-78 school year. Nominated for president was Mrs. James Kinman. Nominated for first vice-presidents were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dawes; for secretary, Mrs. David Draper, treasurer Mrs. Bill Lloyd.

These people were accepted by acclamation.

The program for the meeting was introduced by William Crall, physical education teacher at Marcy. Students from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades performed gymnastics under Crall's supervision.

Mrs. virginia Chappell's first grade class and George Griffin's sixth grade class won the room count.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Norma Chumley, hospitality chairman. The meeting was adjourned.

Food prices rose at higher pace

By the Associated Press

Supermarket shoppers found familiar, but unpleasant news at the grocery store last month. An Associated Press marketbasket survey shows prices went up again during April, rising slightly more than they did during the previous month.

The AP drew up a random list of commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked prices at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973, and has rechecked on or about the start of each succeeding month.

Among the highlights of the latest survey:

—The marketbasket bill increased during April at the checklist store in eight cities and decreased in five. The average rise was 3 per cent and the average drop was 1.1 per cent, for an overall increase of 1.4 per cent.

The boost compared with an average increase of 1 per cent during March, when the marketbasket total also rose at the checklist store in eight cities and decreased in five.

—The price of a pound of chopped chuck went up at the checklist store in six cities and declined in only two. The American National Cattlemen's Association has warned that beef prices will rise during the late spring and summer because ranchers, complaining that they were losing money last year, cut back the size of their herds.

—Comparing prices at the end of April with those at the start of the year, the AP found the marketbasket bill for the food and nonfood items increased at the checklist store in every city, up an average of just under 6 per cent. Current marketbasket totals are an average of 15 per cent higher than they were 12 months earlier.

—The rising price of coffee is the major reason for most of the increase. Coffee prices in many areas have almost doubled in the past year alone. By the beginning of May, prices topped the $3-a-pound level and there was little relief in sight since wholesale prices are nearing $5 a pound.

During April, the price of a pound of coffee went up at the checklist store in 10 of the cities surveyed. Increases ranged from 6 per cent in Philadelphia to 33 per cent in Los Angeles. The price remained unchanged in two cities and the requested size and brand of coffee was unavailable at the checklist store in the 13th city.

—Eggs and pork chops presented shoppers with an opportunity to bast wereUNT. The price of a dozen eggs declined at the checklist store in 11 cities, continuing a recent trend, and pork chops went down at the checklist store in eight cities.

The items on the AP checklist were: Chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice concentrate, coffee, paper towels, butter, Grade-A medium white eggs, creamy peanut butter, laundry detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, frankfurters and granulated sugar.

The cities checked were: Albuquerque, N.M., Atlanta, Ga., Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, Salt Lake City and Seattle.

OSHA standard said bad

LUBBOCK — Nothing in recent history, and certainly nothing since the boll weevil invasion of the early 1960's, has aroused the concern of High Plains cotton people like the "cotton dust" standard proposed by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA).

"And every bit of that concern and more is justified," says Lloyd Cline of Lamesa, Prisident of Lubbock-based Plains Connton Growers, Inc.

Effects of the proposed standard, Cline states, "would so severely cripple our industry that every individual and every organization even remotely connected with cotton should do everything possible to prevent its adoption."

Because of complaints that exposure to cotton dust in textile mills has caused byssinosis or "brown lung" disease in some workers, OSHA proposes to require that dust levels in all cotton processing operations by reduced to 200 milligrams per cubic meter. The standard would apply to gins, warehouses, oil mills, compresses, cotton waste processing facilities, textile mills and other cotton handling facilities.

"This extremely low dust standard, if not impossible to achieve from an engineering standpoint, is unmistakably impractical from an economic view," the PCG official asserts.

Hearings on the issue are scheduled by OSHA to begin at 9:30 a.m. May 10 in the Southpark Inn, Lubbock, with something over 120 witnesses registered to testify. The proceedings are expected to last at least two days.

Attendance at the hearings, from beginning to end, is one of the things PCG is urging on its members and all other High Plains people whose livelihood comes all or in part from cotton.

"An overflow crowd throughout the hearings," Cline believes, "will help to impress on OSHA officials just how grave will be the consequences in the Cotton Belt if the proposal becomes law."

PCG also suggests that OSHA, Congressmen, Senators and President Carter be deluged with letters of protest and appeals for help.

"The alternatives to beating back this unreasonable proposal," the PCG President says, "are padlocks on the door of many gins, greatly increased ginning and other processing costs, and a rapidly shrinking demand for cotton because of its inability to compete, pricewise, with synthetic fibers."

The list of witnesses registered to testify at the hearing, in addition to PCG, contains representatives of 23 other cotton-related organizations, 32 individual gins, five oil mills and nine area Chambers of Commerce with from 1 to 14 witnesses each. Coming from Texas, California, Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma, the lineup includes cotton producers, bankers, realtors, doctors, retailers and others.

Sheep industry could experience good year

The President's energy conservation plans will undoubtedly mean hardships for some, but this could be a banner year for the sheep industry and, more specifically, the Make It Yourself With Wool contest.

"The contest is certainly not a new thing, but it's so timely," says Mrs. Jack Groff, Kerrville. "Next winter we can turn our thermostats down and wear wool."

Mrs. Groff, first vice president of the National Wool Growers' Women's Auxiliary, is also the current national coordinator of the Make It Yourself With Wool program.

Headquarters for the national program has recently been moved from Roswell, N.M. to Kerrville, where it will remain for the next two years under Mrs. Groff's leadership.

Begun in Utah in 1960, the Make It Yourself With Wool program became an annual affair, based in Denver until the move to New Mexico two years ago. It is sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to the National Wool Growers Association and is open to girls from all the 48 contiguous states.

Don't just take his word for it

Taxpayers should ask for the credentials of all persons identifying themselves as Internal Revenue Service Employes.

In advising taxpayers to exercise this caution, the IRS explained that from time to time, unscrupulous individuals have posed as employes of the IRS to extort money for what these imposters refer to as unpaid taxes.

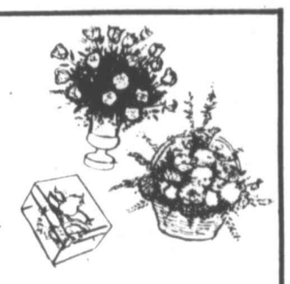

Taxpayers should bear in mind that every public contact IRS employe carries distinctive identification and is required to produce identification when conducting official business.

If, after seeing an employe's identification, a taxpayer still doubts his or her authenticity, the taxpayer should immediately contact his or her nearest IRS office.
