Roach voted new commissioner

By TOM JAY GOSS II

The Democratic Executive Committee met Tuesday afternoon to check the arithmetic on Saturday's election. The Executive Committee is Tom Rees, Democratic County Chairman and his four precinct chairmen.

As of press time Tuesday, Rees had not heard from the Secretary of State as to a recount of the ballots. The recount will be ordered and become necessary, when Kent Hance and Lloyd Doggett finished the race for the U.S. Senate less than 500 votes apart.

More decisive percentage-wise was the victory by farmer Ed Roach over his precinct 1 opponent, Warren Anderson, 398 to 269. Both men are respected members of the agribusiness community; both have contributed to the Mitchell County Community.

Roach says, "The people did it and I appreciate it."

He added that he planned to work for the welfare of the whole county as well as his precinct.

He said that he realized that he had another stiff hurdle in the November election when he faces Republican Jackie Joiner but said, "I won't take him for granted."

He said, chuckling, "I've sort of enjoyed the campaign. I met some people I didn't know and had a good excuse for visiting and talking with a lot that I did know."

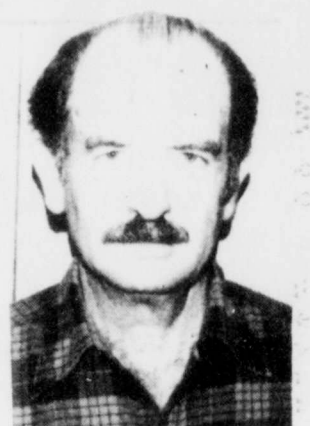

He added, "There are a lot of fine folks in Mitchell County."

Warren Anderson, who lost, said that he thought that the two had run a good race. "Now, I've got to get back to trying to farm some mighty dry acres."

"I surely appreciate the help I received," he added.

Figurewise, here are the results of voting in Mitchell County in statewide races: For U.S. Senate, Kent Hance 1,085, Lloyd Doggett 128; for Judge, place 2, Court of Criminal Appeals, Roy Greenwood 310, W. C. Davis 595; for

THE FIBERGLASS GREENHOUSE being constructed at Neff's Nursery, burned quickly last Friday. Estimated damage to the building is between $30,000-$40,000.

Friday fire damages new greenhouses at Neff's

A Friday afternoon fire partly destroyed three new greenhouses being constructed at Neff's Nursery located on Hwy. 208 North.

The fire department was called to the scene last Friday afternoon at 4:30 p.m.

According to Walter Hearin, who was at the scene, the fire was believed to have started from a reflection of sunlight off a broken bottle. The reflection ignited trash located close to the building and gusty winds probably blew the fire onto the fiberglass building.

Hearin estimated that 40 to 50 percent of the three buildings were destroyed and would amount to about $30,000-$40,000 in damages.

Little League Action

Because of two consecutive losses by the previously unbeaten Astros over the weekend, the standings in the Little League's Freshman League division became much tighter.

Monday night the Indians defeated the Astros 14-3 behind the pitching of Stanley Bradbury and Spencer Taylor.

The Indians scored all their runs before the Astros finally put their three scores on the board in the bottom of the fifth inning.

The loss coupled with a 9-8 loss to the Dodgers last Friday night, dropped the Astros to 5-2 one loss more than the 4-1 Rangers, who defeated the last place Pirates 26-12 in the Friday night late game.

Set up now is a Friday night showdown for the league lead between the Astros and Rangers at 8 p.m. In the previous meeting of the two teams, the Astros defeated the Rangers 13-1.

C-City girls lose home games

Colorado City girls softball teams dropped all three home games last Monday night. The only winners for the night were the Division I Bears, who travelled to Sweetwater for a victory but whose complete results were not available.

In the first home game, the Division I Gray Socks tasted defeat for the first time losing to the Rosebuds 13-6. The Gray Socks pitchers walked a total of 13 batters, nine of which scored. Taking the loss for Gray Socks, now 2-1, was Heather.

In the second game, Snyder's West Texas Wildcats handed the Division II Angels their third loss without a win.

The Wildcats quickly jumped on losing pitcher Lisa Ornelas for 10 runs the first two innings enroute to their 25-6 victory. The Angels now stand at 0-3.

In the late game, the division III Knightriders lost to the Big Thrillers 18-10.

The game was much closer than the score indicates as the Thrillers erupted for eight runs in their next to last at bat. Taking the loss for the Knightriders, which included a home-run by Christabel Molina, was Denise Jackson.

Dodie Zant

Peterson, Zant united in evening ceremony

Miss Dodie Peterson became the bride of Max Zant, Saturday, May 26 in the Bethel Primitive Baptist Church in Colorado City.

Elder Edward Kirkpatrick of Midland officiated in the 7:30 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Peterson of Colorado City and the parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Warren Zant of Westbrook.

The church was decorated with a brass archway accented with greenery and rainbow colored flowers and lavender bows. There were two-seven branch candelabras accented with greenery, bows and ivory colored candles. Pews were accented with greenery and lavender bows.

Wedding music included "Twelfth of Never," and "Endless Love." "Twelfth of Never" was sung while candles were being lit. Leslie Anderson of Colorado City sang "The Lord's Prayer." "We've Only Just Begun" was played for the Recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory on ivory tulle organza designed by Bridal Originals. The molded bodice was trimmed in re-embroidered, chantilly lace and sprinkled with tiny seed pearls. A wide band of lace and rows of pearls framed the sculptured neckline above a double ruffle of sheer organza that framed the shoulders. The A-line skirt was floor length. Tiny bows of satin and lace were attached to a wide band of lace and a double sheer ruffle that encircled the hemline and flowed into the train. She wore a diamond and gold pendant—a gift from the groom.

She carried a round nosegay made of white roses, a touch of lavender roses, babies breath, stephanotis and English ivy.

Janet Peterson, sister of the bride from Colorado City, was maid of honor. She wore a formal length sleeveless gown with a scooped neckline, self-ruffled with a touch of lace, slightly flared gathered skirt with self-ruffle and attached self-sash. She carried a single silk lavender rose.

Serving as bridesmaids were Shanna Inman of Westbrook, Kellie Smith of Westbrook and Debra Boen of Colorado City.

They wore dresses identical to the maid of honor except for the color. They each carried a single silk rose matching their dresses.

Flower girl was Elizabeth Burt of Colorado City. Regina Burt of Colorado City was candlelighter.

Don Zant, brother of the groom of Westbrook, was best man.

Groomsmen were Steve Cook, cousin of the bride of Westbrook, Seott Zant, cousin of the groom from Ackerly and Kevin Boen of Colorado City. Joe Bass, cousin of the bride of Westbrook and Billy Swank of Westbrook were ushers.

The groom and his attendants wore ivory colored tuxedos with boutonnieres coordinating other attendants' flowers.

A reception was held in honor of the couple following the ceremony at the church. The bride's rainbow color scheme was carried out.

Sharon Barnes of Midland, cousin of the bride, registered guests.

Serving at the bride's table were Joy Feist, cousin of the bride and Dede Campbell.

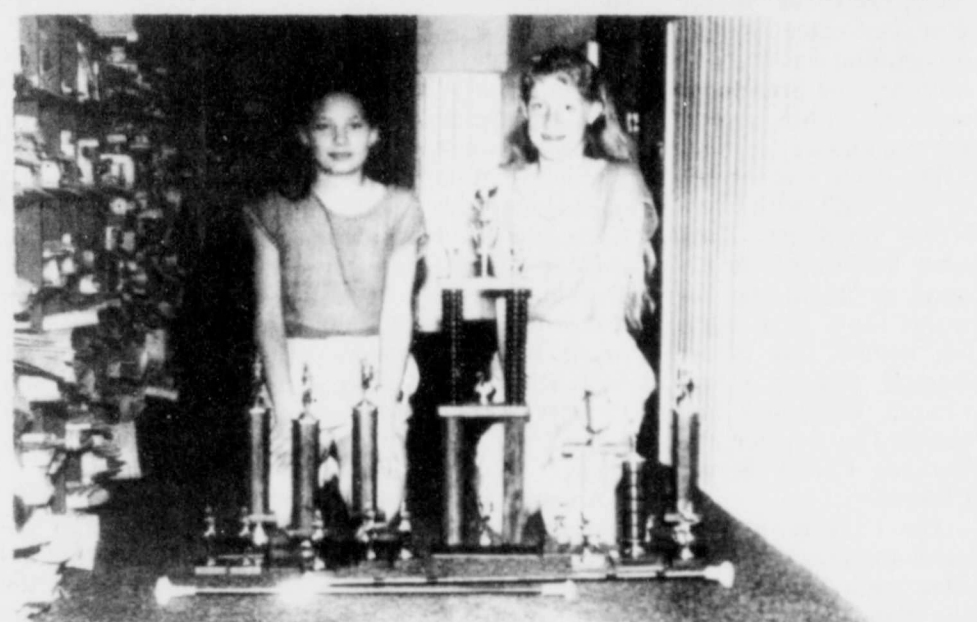

Amy Harrison served at the groom's table.

For a wedding trip to Galveston, the bride wore a lavender sweater and slacks with white orchid corsage.

The couple lives in Westbrook where the groom is employed with his father.

Out of town guests were Donie Weldon, Crosbyton; Mr. and Mrs. Doug Davis, Popular Bluff, Missouri; Mrs. H. N. Zant, Mrs. Joe Don Zant, both of Vealmore; Gloria, Karen and Kathy Kirkpatrick of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Weldon, San Angelo; Michele Herm, Ackerly; Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, Sweetwater; Mrs. W. E. Let's talk.

Information about your changing telephone service from Jim West, Manager-Community Relations

Strength is vital

A strong Bell is good for Texas. It has a nice ring, and it's true.

When I meet with many of you at meetings and on the street, I usually talk about how important it is for Texas to have a strong and financially sound Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

My message is simple: The strength of Southwestern Bell Telephone is vital to the strength of a growing Texas.

Texas always has been a leader in telecommunications—and Texas must remain a leader. Top quality communications service is imperative to attract and hold the high technology, "clean" industry which is an integral part of the state's economic future.

And Texas must have a strong framework to assure that the state draws those high-tech firms. Education and transportation, for instance, are essential aspects. Telecommunications, a must in that framework, cannot be a second-class partner in the future of the Lone Star State.

Our state's high-tech companies thrive on communications. We know we must be able to meet their needs, and the needs of every Texas customer, efficiently and quickly. However, our ability to take care of the needs of every Texan we serve is in direct relationship to the revenues we have available.

Our partnership

We are in partnership with this state, and all Texans. We must have the dollars necessary to keep up and keep Texas in the forefront of telecommunications.

The demands of Texas as a high-growth area put intense pressures on our resources. That's why every one of the company's employees has to take on the personal responsibility of assuring that our revenues stretch as far as possible. Why am I telling you all this? Because we feel our message of service and financial strength is one for all Texans.

Texans for Texans. It's what Southwestern Bell Telephone is all about.

A good value

Your service. Take a closer look—it's a value!

Even though your rates for local telephone service will be going up a few cents, compare your monthly bill in relation to many other items. I think you'll find that it's a bargain.

Just think about some of the items you buy every month. The average cost of cable television is about $33 (basic package and two movie channels) and the cost of a fast-food meal for a family of four once a week for a month is about $40. Even a carton of cigarettes a week will run you about $32. And if you are like most Texans, you probably purchase about 800 gallons of gas a year. That's about $75 a month—just for one car.

Residential customers in Texas with basic, one-party service now pay an average of $10.35 per month for telephone service. When you think about it—and compare—it's so little for 24-hour, 7-day-a-week service that gives you access to your friends across town, across Texas and to any of the world's 450 million telephones.

Selling of house touches former visitor's heart

The following article was written by Elizabeth Christian for the Mendocino Grapevine, in Mendocino, California, where she is a writer. The article explains her feelings for the old house at 532 Elm, which is now owned by Dee and Randy Phillips, who are in the process of restoring it.

"We call our maternal grandmother Numnah. Numnah was born in 1890 in the tiny town of Cuthbert in West Texas. She moved to Colorado City, Texas, when she was a teenager and has lived there ever since.

"My sister and I spent every summer of our childhoods at Numnah's big old gray frame house in Colorado City. We were always surrounded by a horde of first cousins, all about our ages, and a group of the most loving aunts and uncles two little girls could have asked for.

"In Numnah's side yard, there is a cement house with a tank on top that used to be used as storage for water pumped from a windmill. The bottom two rooms of the cement house were where we imagined ghosts and spooks must certainly live. They were full of boxes of decaying books and cobwebs and broken furniture. We'd cautiously enter the cement house, which was always cool even on the hottest of days, look around, and invariably run from it shrieking, the hair on our necks standing on end.

"Those hot and long summer weeks, weeks spent playing Monopoly and catching horned toads and eating good food and picking heel burrs out of our feet, were some of the best times of my life. And they molded me forever, gave me a feeling of roots and belonging.

"Smells are memory triggers for me. Numnah's house smelled the same year after year; of cookies and ironing and red West Texas dust. Sometimes there was the wonderful smell of a thunderstorm on the way, often there was the odor of the oil refinery across town that kept diving Colorado City alive as long as it could.

"And there was the smell of the cement house—damp earth, mold, age.

"Numnah lived alone in her home at 532 Elm Street until she had a stroke a year-and-a-half ago. She's been in a coma since. The doctors aren't doing anything heroic, just feeding her through a tube, but "her little pioneer heart just won't give up," my Aunt Myra likes to say.

"Last week, I walked into the back storage room of a winery at which we were doing a story, and there was the smell of the cement house, dank and earthy and rich. I found myself remembering those days as if they were yesterday, and I felt sad because I know they're gone.

"Then, coincidentally, we sold Numnah's house this week, to a couple who wants to restore it and live in it. "I hope they take care of it and appreciate it. That house is our home."

Ms. Christian is the granddaughter of Mrs. John Brown from whom the house was purchased. As the house was the Brown home, the Phillips say, "It will be our home as well."

Upon completion of the repairs now being done on the home, the Phillips family welcomes you to come by and see where they plan to live, love and laugh as the Browns have done for the past 50 years.

Westbrook VFW answers 4 calls

Fire calls answered by the Westbrook Volunteer Fire Department during the month of May included:

Saturday, May 5 at 1:30 p.m., firemen responded to a pickup fire located on the south surface road at the east overpass at Westbrook. The red and white two-tone Ford pickup owned by Warren Zant was totally destroyed by fire in the cab area and motor. The pickup bed and rear tires were not hurt.

Sunday, May 6 at 1:15 p.m., firemen responded to a house fire at the J. W. Schlee residence. The fire started by a pan of grease on the stove was put out by J. W. with a fire extinguisher that he had. Schlee contacted the fire department fearing that the fire had possibly got into the attic area. Firemen ventilated the attic letting the heavy smoke out and no fire was found in the attic. The cabinets over the stove were slightly burnt and the entire inside of the house suffered heavy smoke damage.

Tuesday, May 22 at 11:30 Firemen put out a grass fire at Spang Street in Westbrook that was started by burning trash barrels.

Sunday, May 27 at 8:30 p.m., firemen fought six different grass fires along the railroad tracks from the Dorn road to the Iatan road area. These many spread out fires started by a train kept the volunteer firemen pretty busy Sunday night.

Note: A handy fire extinguisher and smoke detector is not that expensive to have at your home compared to your house possibly being destroyed and also lives lost in a fire; don't think about it, do something to make your home safer.

Some people don't know their electric bills can be about the same all year round.

Some do.

The Average Payment Plan will put you in the know; and just in time to take the heat off your hot weather bills. You'll still pay for all the electricity you use. But under the Average Payment Plan, your bills will be more even all year round. The plan is based on a 12-month average that's refigured each month. So you can pay less during the months you use the most electricity, by paying more during the months you use less. The Average Payment Plan is available to Texas Electric residential customers. So look into it today. It's definitely worth knowing about.

Drought gives ranchers time to update herds

While a drought is both stressful and traumatic for livestock producers, it also gives ranchers an opportunity to evaluate and update their managerial practices.

"Once the drought has set in and cow numbers are considerably cut, a rancher can reappraise his entire ranch operation," says Dr. Tom R. Troxel, livestock specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, headquartered at Uvalde. "The rancher can then ask himself, 'What can be done to improve the overall efficiency of the ranch and provide some flexibility to reduce the effect of the next dry period.'"

Many ranchers have already sold 25 to 75 percent of their herds since the dry weather started last fall. Ranchers have also indicated that they will want to see if it will rain in May and June before selling more of the herd.

Troxel reminds that lactating cows have high nutritional requirements, and if the nutrition is not present due to drought, both the cow and calf will suffer. One option is to wean and sell the calf early in an attempt to maintain the condition of the cow. He points out that many 200-pound calves are now going to market.

With the culling of cows, a rancher could very easily move from a year-round calving season to a spring and/or fall calving season. "A ranch could keep cows that calve at a certain time of year or when it rains again buy replacements that will calve at the same time of year," said Troxel.

Many times it is very difficult to control a breeding season due to the large size of some pastures. Once livestock have been removed from a large pasture, the rancher may want to consider cross-fencing the large pasture into three or four smaller pastures. Therefore, a rotational grazing system could be initiated which may help during the next dry period.

"Eliminating non-breeding and late calving cows through pregnancy determination can increase profitability regardless of rainfall level," adds Troxel.

Lightweight calves are those generally born late in the season or are those born from poor milking cows. Pregnancy determination can also eliminate the late calves, and ranchers can then eliminate the cows with poor milk production.

Another management practice which should be included is a good herd health plan. Troxel recommends. This includes all the necessary vaccinations, including calfhood vaccination against brucellosis. Heifer calves should be vaccinated with reduced Strain 19 vaccine between 4-12 months of age, with accredited state or federal veterinarians required to vaccinate the heifers.

The certified free herd program is another consideration for ranchers, particularly those who sell breeding stock. The number of certified free herds in Texas has increased from 675 in 1983 to 1,300 or more so far this year. To be classified as certified brucellosis free, a herd (all cattle older than six months) must successfully pass two negative blood tests 10 to 14 months apart. In addition, the herds must be recertified annually, Troxel reminds.

"In the semi-arid Southwest, six out of 10 years have below normal rainfall," adds Troxel. "Cattlemen need to stock their ranches with those six years in mind." Generally, according to long-standing statistics, only two "normal" years fall within the 10-year span, while two other years are usually high rainfall years resulting from hurricanes.

Flexibility is a key word during the extra high rainfall years as well as times of drought. When high rainfall results in an overabundance of grass, ranchers may want to consider keeping their own stockers or buying some to utilize the extra grass, the specialist adds.

Flexibility has become important as cow-calf operators face rising feed costs and dwindling income. A rancher must consider all possible alternatives for making the ranch as economically efficient as possible. "Although drought is extremely difficult to predict, it does provide an opportunity for ranchers to regroup their thoughts and consider changes in managerial practices," adds Troxel. "This regrouping of managerial practices will serve the rancher to this advantage when the next dry cycle occurs."

News from....

ASCS Office

Here are some reminders from Don Stewart with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Mitchell County has been approved for having and grazing ACR, due to current pasture conditions. This land may be used for the remainder of the six-month nongrazing period.

Producers must sign up in the local ASCS office prior to carrying out these practices. The following rules apply to having or grazing ACR: only livestock owned by April 22, 1984, may be grazed on ACR; only ACR operated by the applicant may be hayed or grazed; and, producers must maintain a cover on the ACR, for weed control, and to prevent wind and water erosion.

Secretary of Agriculture John Block asked all Texas ASCS offices to keep a list of available hay until October. This list is a state-wide compilation of producers having hay and other roughage for sale, and is available to the public. Any producer with hay for sale should contact the ASCS office.

ASCS now provides power of attorney forms that permit either spouse to sign commodity program documents. Previously, only owners or operators on record at the county office could uld sign ASCS papers.

Producers must file acreage reports for cotton and grain sorghum by July 15, 1984.

ASCS uses certification reports to determine program compliance and to establish future crop acreage bases. Program participants become eligible for price support loans, target prices, and other program benefits.

Farmers not enrolled in any 1984 programs should certify planted acres, because this will be used in establishing 1985 crop acreage bases. Those who did not plant need to certify zero acres to try and hold their base.

Cotton producers must plant in order to collect claims from FCIC, and to receive possible deficiency payments for 1984.

Eligibility to participate in all programs administered by ASCS is established by law without regard to race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

Rickard presents program on art

The VIL (Very Important Literary Society) met recently in Lorraine amidst a Spring setting of roses and honeysuckle, as noted by those attending.

Marsha Rickard was the speaker and she brought her program on the "Chokin Art of Japan." She stated that in generations past only the Samari, the Emporer of Japan and the members of the Royal Family were privileged enough to possess objects created by Chokin-the traditional art of hand engraving metal and gilding it with precious gold and silver.

TSTI offers course in cabinetmaking

TSTI is offering a non-credit cabinetmaking course designed for the do-it-yourselfer of any age.

The 40 hour course meets on eight consecutive Monday nights, beginning June 11. Each class meets from 5:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Dwight Willborn, an experienced carpenter and cabinetmaker, will teach the class in which students will have the opportunity to construct all types of cabinets, bookcases and similar furniture.

Class will be held in TSTI's fully equipped building construction lab and students will have creative control over their own projects.

Anyone 16 years of age or older is eligible to take the class and no previous experience is required. The cost is $60 and interested persons should call the Office of Special Projects at TSTI at 235-8441, ext. 287 for more information.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Lone Star Gas Company, in accordance with the Gas Utility Regulatory Act, hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new main line extension rate to be charged to residential and commercial consumers for main line extensions in the following cities, effective July 5, 1984.

COLORADO CITY AND LORRAINE

The rate schedule is not expected to directly increase or decrease the Company's revenues from residential and commercial customers in these cities.

A Statement of Intent has been filed with each City listed above and is available for inspection at the Company's business office located at 257 East 2nd, Colorado City, Texas.

Lone Star Gas Company

Ms. Rickard continued the original masters of Chokin were commissioned to decorate their nations arms and armaments, embellishing them with a variety of motifs in a rainbow of metals, turning implements of war into art works as precious as jewels.

So exquisite was their craftsmanship they also created masterpieces for the aristocracy-luxurious emblems of status as well as beauty. Ms. Rickard then showed some pictures of the Chokin technique to those attending.

B. N. Gross commented that the Oriental symbols of "Friendship" are bamboo, pine and plum.

Ann Rowell noted that the lotus and fish are symbols of "Purity and Perfection."

R. R. Linebaugh contributed her thought that the unicorn is the symbol for Illustrious Offspring.

E. M. Burleson recalled the peacock in a garden of peonies is the symbol for "Love."
