Eleven Convicts Escape; Five Captured

Five Persons Dead, Four Hurt In Crash

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 — Five men were killed and four injured today when an Eastern Airlines plane smashed into a wooded slope on the Maryland side of the Potomac river near here.

An exchange of communications between the plane and the control tower at National airport, recorded by the Civil Aeronautics administration, indicated that the pilot and passengers had no warning of the impending crash. The cause of the accident was undetermined.

Death Victims Listed

The fuselage broke in two when the two-engined DC-3 hit the ground, but the craft did not burn. The pilot and co-pilot were among the dead.

The death list: Capt. Paul Saltanis, pilot, Atlanta; Ralph B. Sanborne, jr., co-pilot, Atlanta; William A. Moorhead, vice president and general manager of the Joanna Textile mills, Glodville, S. C.; S. M. Warner, Clinton S. C.; L. A. Brandt, Wilton, Conn.

The injured included Navy Captain Lucian Moebus, Maxwell field, Ala., head of the naval section of the Air university there and wartime commander of the aircraft carrier Saratoga; Eugene G. Stone, Pensacola, Fla.; Morris Maple, Princeton, N. J., and Peter I. Philos, flight attendant on the plane.

Light Rain Falling

The 21-passenger airliner was enroute from Houston, Tex., to Boston, carrying the three crewmen and six passengers.

The accident occurred shortly after 3:35 a. m. (CST) while a light rain was falling. The ceiling was 1,400 feet and the forward visibility four miles, compared with the minimum permissible operating conditions here of 400 feet and one mile.

According to the CAA's transcription of conversations between the plane and the control tower, the airliner at 3:26 a. m. was over Doncaster, a check point in Maryland a few miles south of National airport. The tower instructed Saltanis to proceed to Mount Vernon and fly at 2,500 feet.

Radio Response Heard

About one minute later another EAL plane flying at 3,000 feet was cleared to the airport tower and Saltanis was instructed to rise to 3,500 feet. He pointed out that he was able to see the ground and asked why he should go higher. The tower told him about the STRANGE PLACE TO LAND—Deputy Sheriff Herman Nolte of Lake County, Illinois, said that Kenneth C. Thomas, 29, of Elgin, Ill., was being held under charges of reckless flying, intoxication and carrying a passenger without a pilot's license, after the light plane above, with which Thomas attempted a take-off from ice on a lake, hit a tree and crashed into the roof of a cottage. Both Thomas and his passenger, Herschel Short, 50, escaped with minor bruises. (AP Wirephoto).

Ruhr Rubble Heaps Show War's Fallacy

(NOTE TO READERS: This is No. 15 in a series of articles on conditions in the British and American Occupation zones in Germany, and in the Free State of Trieste. The Avalanche-Journal's editor gathered information for this series during a recent inspection trip in Europe as the guest of the Army and Gen. Lucius D. Clay, chief of the U. S. European Command).

BY CHAS. A. GUY, EDITOR
The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal

AS part of our inspection tour of Germany, our party of 14 U. S. editors spent three days in the Ruhr as the guests of the British. In the years before VE-Day, the Ruhr was the great industrial belt of Germany, comparable to our own "Steel Valley," which extends eastward from Gary, Ind. to Pittsburgh. Today, the Ruhr is one great rubble pile, battered to pieces by the night bombers of England's RAF and the day bombers of our own AAF.

Nowhere in Germany are there sights like the Ruhr to impress the Germans with the fallacy of war. Or, for that matter, to impress anyone with the fact that war, like lesser crime, does not and cannot pay.

Throughout the British Occupation zone stand the remnants of steel mills and other heavy industries, looking like giants, driving giant bulldozers, had plowed through them and knocked them down.

Two of the Ruhr's principal cities, Dusseldorf and Essen, are among the worst battered of German metropoli.

Grim Sermon For Peace

Especially in Essen, home of what once was the world's greatest armaments works, the sermon for peace is impressive.

On the outskirts of Essen lies what is left of the Krupp plant, now seven square miles of destruction. Several times larger than Ford's River Rouge plant, in Dearborn, near Detroit, the Krupp layout is slightly more than a mile wide and seven miles long.

Throughout its length and breadth are roofless buildings with bulging walls, from which has been removed everything that can be reclaimed. All that is left is rubble and desolation.

WE of our party couldn't possibly inspect the whole thing on foot. We looked it over from a tower replaced by the British, and we walked through what is left of several buildings.

Climbing over rubble piles, jumping ditches and keeping a wary eye out for falling brick and stone, we gave most of our attention to one pile of wreckage where drop-forging was done for armor plate. Standing in the center of this building, which must have had an area equal to a square block, stands the old "Big Bertha," of World War I days—the "wonder gun" with which the Germans bombarded Paris from more than 80 miles away.

The old "Big Bertha," like a defiant sentry guarding all that is left of German imperialism and militarism, recalls to mind its namesake, mean, old Bertha Krupp. Complaining and still imperious, the old crone lives today in Austria.

Old Bertha Krupp, the matriarch of a clan whose members through six wars were the world's outstanding merchants of death, may not have seen the Krupp Works at Essen after our bombers, and those of the British, laid it low.

But if she hasn't seen it as it is now—acre upon acre of wreckage and dirty water—I hope she will see it, even if she has to be dragged to Essen for the view. The fact that her 77-year old husband is conveniently insane, and her eldest son is standing trial as a top war criminal in Nurnberg, isn't enough punishment for old Bertha. For she was as bloodthirsty as any of the Krupps in her heydey.

She should see what the avarice of herself and her family has wrought.

She should have the opportunity of comparing the Krupp Works of today with what they were when she lived in the 200-room Villa Huegel on the other side of Essen. She then was in "high cotton," as her stooges at the Works forced 13,000 slave laborers to toil on

HST To Send Program To Solons Today

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—President Truman today readied for submission to Congress tomorrow an economic blueprint for 1948 which is expected to include a renewed demand for enactment of his 10-point anti-inflation program and a call for increased productivity.

Meanwhile administration leaders pressed their months-long campaign to win congressional approval of a compulsion-backed program to curb the rising cost of living.

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach told the Senate Banking committee today he believes that if Congress acts now to hold down prices labor unions will ease their demands for wage increases.

Meat Rationing Seen

Tomorrow the same group will hear testimony by Secretary of Interior Krug and Secretary of Commerce Harriman (1:30 p. m. CST). Harriman has already set up preliminary machinery for putting into effect the voluntary industry-wide agreements program approved by the special session last December.

The cabinet members are appearing before the Senate group to testify on three proposed rationing and wage-price control bills. Senator Flanders (R-VT) expects to introduce a meat rationing bill this week.

In tomorrow's message — the second annual economic report-President Truman is expected to plead urgently for the "standby" anti-inflation powers which the Republican-controlled Congress has refused so far to grant him. Despite the fact that national production is currently at the rate of $235,000,000,000 billion a year, physical output is believed to be short of the goal he announced last year.

Officials predicted several days ago that tomorrow's message would contain specific recommendations for improving health and social welfare of the nation's millions. They indicated privately that it would be patterned along Franklin D. Roosevelt's "New Deal" program in that respect.

Schwellenbach appeared before the Senate Banking committee to ask passage of wage-price legislation he previously submitted to Congress last December.

Schwellenbach asserted that the "selective" wage-price control legislation he advocates "can prevent

Many Students Boycott School

Classes were conducted as usual in Chris Harwell school Tuesday, although only 131 students of the 395 enrolled were present after a group of parents had signed a petition alleging "danger in the present heating system."

The petition, drafted Monday night, was signed by 134 parents who expressed their intention of keeping their children away from the school until the alleged danger was corrected.

Meanwhile, Supt. R. W. Matthews said Tuesday "there is no safer boiler in Lubbock than the one in the Harwell school due to the fact that it has a double control on it now."

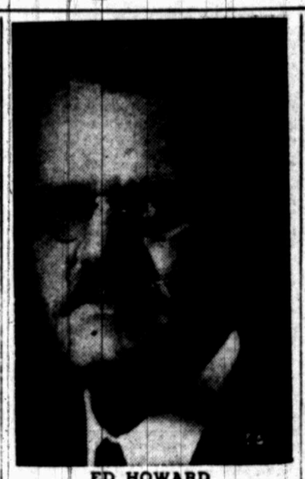

"If the pressure reaches five pounds, the fuel oil is automatically cut off and remains off until lighted by hand by the man who is constantly on duty in the boiler room. Should, as some argue, the man go to sleep on the job nothing could happen except that the building would begin to get cold. Should the automatic fuel cut-off fail to work, the pop-off valve on the boiler would release the steam. The boiler now has a double control."

"As this week is the end of the semester, tests will be conducted and reports made as usual for those in attendance," Matthews said. "We're proceeding with classes on regular schedule."

A majority of the absent students were informed by adults standing near the school that there would be no classes Tuesday, a large number of parents informed Principal Howard Day by telephone. Spokesmen for the parents' group said the boycott was an outgrowth of an explosion which caused slight damage in the school boiler room Jan. 6.

GANDHI STARTS FAST

NEW DELHI, Jan. 13 (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi who has fasted many times to advance the cause of Indian independence, began a fast for peace among Moslems, Sikhs and Hindus today. His followers feared the 78-year-old "father of Indian freedom" still frail from an illness last fall, was jeopardizing his life. He spurned a last-minute appeal from several Moslem, Hindu and Sikh delegations to postpone the fast for 15 days to give the people a chance to restore peace.

Wichita Falls Publisher Dies

By The Associated Press)

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 13—Ed Howard, publisher of the Wichita Falls Times and Record News, one of the top figures in Texas journalism, died tonight. He was 81 years old.

He had been in failing health for several months. He died at 9:20 p. m. in the Wichita Falls hospital where he went for the final time just two weeks ago.

In an adjoining hospital room at the time of his death was Mrs. Howard, who entered the hospital Christmas day. Her condition has been grave for several days.

Pioneer In Business

He is survived by the widow, two sons, Rhea Howard, secretary-treasurer of the Times Publishing Co., and Leslie Howard, classified manager of the firm, a granddaughter, Mrs. James B. Barnett, and three great-grandchildren, Jettie Ann Barnett, Howard Barnett, and Kay Barnett, all of Wichita Falls.

The death of the Wichita Falls civic leader brought to a close a newspaper career covering six decades as a publisher, four decades as a daily newspaper publisher.

Under his leadership and direction, the Daily Times grew from a slender daily with a 500-word "pony" Associated Press report to one with four daily leased wires; from a flat-bed press to a 20 page perfecting press; from one typesetting machine to a dozen; from more than half a dozen employes to more than a hundred.

Worked Way Up

Howard was born Sept. 30, 1866, at Chattanooga, Tenn. His family's fortunes had been impaired by the war between the states and suffered further under the reconstruction regime. He was able to attend public school for only three years, the extent of his formal education.

At the age of 13 he was a printer's apprentice in Chattanooga, where he worked for several years and became a journeyman printer. Later he worked at Memphis and Nashville. He came to Texas in 1887 to assist his brother in publication of the Wolfe City Chronicle, in Hunt county.

He became owner of the Wolfe City paper, remaining there four years. There he met Miss Jettie Maloney, member of a pioneer Texas family. She became his wife Nov. 4, 1891.

Shortly afterward the couple moved to Wichita Falls.

Papers Were Combined

At Wichita Falls Howard bought an interest in The Wichita Herald. In 1898 he sold his interest in the Herald and purchased The Wichita Weekly Times.

In the spring of 1907, Howard organized the publishing company which he has headed for half a century. The Wichita Daily Times, an afternoon paper, began

WTCC Urges Mexican Consulate In Area

ABILENE, Jan. 13 (AP)—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce would like to see a Mexican consulate established in the heart of the West Texas cotton area, its manager, D. A. Bandeen of Abilene, said tonight.

Also, said Bandeen, "West Texas is a large area and we want another member on the (Texas) Good Neighbor commission."

Bandeen made his comment as goals of the organization's Latin-American commission were announced. He said establishment of such a consulate would "improve the labor situation in the cotton country of West Texas."

A Mexican consulate general for West Texas is established at El Paso, and Dorrance Roderick of El Paso is a member of the governor's Good Neighbor commission.

C. W. Meadows, sr., of San Angelo, president of the WTCC Latin-American commission, said today that among its goals would be extension of the teaching of Spanish as a required subject in public schools and state-owned colleges.

Pauley Says He Will Quit Office Soon

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—Edwin W. Pauley, whose commodity speculation has been under fire, announced tonight that he expects to resign as assistant to Secretary of the Army Royall "some time this month."

"As I have stated," Pauley said in a prepared statement, "when my job is finished I plan to leave the Department of the Army, not before. I expect this to be some time this month."

Aides in the office of the Secretary of the Army said Pauley has been working on matters of procurement policy, which would cover purchase of all sorts of Army equipment and supplies.

Solons Say Profits Made

That normally is the function of the undersecretary, but that post in the Army department has not been filled.

Earlier in the day, senators investigating market trading of government employes calculated that Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, personal physician to President Truman, more than doubled his money in a four-month flier in wheat, oats and corn last fall.

Through testimony and broker's records, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) figured Graham invested $5,700. Graham acknowledged a $6,165.26 profit.

But the physician testified he has only his broker to thank for this. He said he didn't have and didn't use any inside government information. He took the broker's advice, he said, after having dropped $11,012.86 in stocks. So he ended with a net $4,847.61 loss.

Pauley Scores Stassen

Pauley also has denied using any inside information. In tonight's statement he took occasion to defend his operations as "completely legal and ethical."

He fired back at Harold E. Stassen, candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, who yesterday challenged Pauley's right to hold his government post after profiting nearly a million dollars in trading in commodities.

Pauley's statement said:

"Someone has just called my attention to a new 'disclosure' by Mr. Harold Stassen. It appears that his 'research staff' of which he hints from time to time has finally found out that I told a Washington newspaper last Sept. 16 that I planned to stay in the Department of the Army for only

Girl Killed In Trailer Mishap

BROWNFIELD, Jan. 13 (Special)—Ruby Alice Neal, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Neal of near Wellman, was killed about 4 o'clock this afternoon when she suffered a fractured skull in a fall from a trailer in which her family was moving household goods from east of Wellman to three miles west of Wellman. Wellman is southwest of Brownfield.

The girl was riding in the trailer behind the car driven by her father when swerving of the trailer apparently caused her to fall and strike her head on the roadway, Sheriff O. C. Murray and Farley Funeral home of Brownfield reported. The accident occurred about three miles east of Wellman.

Services Not Set

Although services have not been definitely set, the funeral will probably be held Wednesday afternoon in First Baptist church of Brownfield with Rev. A. A. Brian officiating. Farley Funeral home said. Burial will be in Terry County Memorial cemetery.

Survivors include the parents; two sisters, Mrs. Reta Bell Chrestman of Wellman and Mrs. Effie

Three From Area In Break At Darrington

Desperate Felons Overpower Guard; Five Are Caught At Nacogdoches

(By The Associated Press)

NACOGDOCHES, Jan. 13—Five of 11 convicts who made a break for freedom today at the Darrington prison farm were captured here tonight.

The prisoners, who were armed, were seized near a small cafe here by city police, county and state officers.

They were riding in a car which had been reported stolen earlier in the day at Shepherd.

Authorities said that the convicts did not offer any resistance.

Sweetwater Man Captured

The prisoners were captured at 10:25 p.m. The cafe is situated on the Lufkin highway.

Nacogdoches is almost 200 miles northeast of the scene of the break, which occurred at 2:30 p.m.

Captured were:

Debs Crawford, 25, of Sweetwater, 15 years, robbery by assault in Harris county.

Louis Coleman, 26, Orange, two to 10 years, auto theft.

Jack Cuzick, 25, Midland, seven years, forgery.

Waymond Boyd Reid, 27, Lamar and Dallas counties, six years, theft.

William Thomas Ryter, 23, Dallas, 35 years, robbery.

Taking part in the capture of the escaped convicts were:

A. L. Ferrell, state highway patrolman; Bennett Spradley, city policeman; M. C. Roebuck, city policeman; Travis Helpinstill, constable of precinct one in Nacogdoches, and G. W. Copeland, deputy constable.

The six other convicts remained at large.

Officers Recognize Car

The officers were patrolling near the city limits of Nacogdoches when they recognized the car as the one reported occupied by the escapees. They gave chase and stopped the car near the cafe.

The five were held in Nacogdoches late tonight until word was received from the Texas Prison system as to when they would be returned to Darrington.

The 11 convicts escaped while on a wood-cutting detail on the prison farm when the "water boy" of the working party yanked an armed guard from his horse and, with the aid of the others, took his

Three Men Known In Area Join In Escape

Convicted Slayer Of Terry Man In Group

THREE of the desperate convicts who escaped from Darrington prison farm Tuesday are well-known to officers of the South Plains area.

They are Harold Romeo Dove, Debs Crawford and Eldon Lewis Newton.

Dove, former Vermonter, who was 18 years old at the time of his arrest early in 1947 at Enid, Okla., for the slaying of W. H. (Bill) Culver, about 50, of Odessa, formerly of Brownfield, was convicted April 23, 1947 in 104th District court at Brownfield and a 50 year sentence set.

Found Near Highway

Culver's body, the head battered, was discovered on snow-covered ground between the Brownfield-Seagraves highway and the Santa Fe railroad right-of-way, just inside Terry county, on Jan. 1, 1947, and Sheriff Ocie H. Murry was handed the case barely four hours after he took the oath of office. Culver's automobile was found abandoned the next day in Amarillo.

Approximately $300 was missing when the body was found. Culver was enroute to Brownfield at the time of the slaying, and apparently picked up Dove on the way.

The arrest climaxed weeks of investigation by Murry, Dep. Sheriff B. W. Powell, Texas rangers, Texas Highway patrolmen and officers of several West Texas counties.

Dove was lodged in Lubbock county jail several days after he was brought here from Enid and then was transferred to Terry county jail to await trial.

Tried In Brownfield

Judge Louis B. Reed presided at the trial, and Calloway Huffaker, district attorney, and H. B. Virgil Crawford, county attorney, represented the state. A jury of which J. D. Akers was foreman returned the guilty verdict.

Officers identified Debs Crawford as a brother of Lil Crawford who presently is under indictment here charging theft of an automobile from O. P. Wells on June 16, 1947. Debs Crawford last showed on sheriff's department records here Feb. 20, 1945 when he was jailed for investigation of car

Arabs And Jews In New Clashes

By EDWARD CURTIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

JERUSALEM, Jan. 13—Arabs slashed again at a Jewish settlement in northern Galilee and Jewish dynamite squads blasted Arab sniping posts on the outskirts of Jerusalem today in unabated Holy Land warfare.

A Jewish agency spokesman hinted that if the Arabs persist in their siege of 1,500 Jews in the Jewish quarter of the old city the ancient walls surrounding the city would be blown up "with plenty of innocent people killed."

Death Toll Mounts

New deaths today brought to 708 the unofficial death toll since the United Nations decision on Nov. 29 in favor of partitioning Palestine.

An official announcement said about 30 Arabs fired upon the Lahavoth settlement in the Lake Hula district of northern Galilee, in the same area where Arab

Josephus Daniels Unimproved From Attack Of Pneumonia

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 13 (AP)—Josephus Daniels continued to hold on grimly to life tonight although his doctors and members of his family have given up nearly all hope of his rallying from an attack of pneumonia.

A member of the family said tonight that Daniels, 85-year-old editor and former cabinet member, continued "just the same as he has been" and that his physicians are not encouraged by the fight that he has waged against his illness.

Mrs. Bessie Jones, About 50, Death Victim Here Early Today

Mrs. Bessie Jones, about 50, of 1408 Ave. M was pronounced dead by a physician at Lubbock Memorial hospital, about 12:30 o'clock this morning upon arrival there in a Rix ambulance.

Cause of death was not determined at 7 o'clock this morning, it was said. Relatives told authorities that Mrs. Jones, who operates a rooming house, had eaten a late supper, including sardines, and later had become violently ill.

A Rix ambulance was summoned and she was rushed to the hospital, where she was pronounced dead. The body was at Rix Funeral home, where funeral arrangements had not been made early this morning.

Information relative to an inquest was being compiled this morning.

Survivors include a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Smith of 2428 Thirty-second.

Plane Arrives In States From Canal Zone On Mercy Mission

(By The Associated Press)

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 13—An ATC air evacuation plane arrived here tonight from the Panama canal zone carrying a 36-day old infant who is being taken to Texas for diagnosis and treatment of a threatening stomach condition.

The child, eight-pound Steve E. Slawson, was accompanied by its weary young mother, Mrs. Bettye L. Slawson of Ft. Worth, who hovered nearby as medical corpsmen tenderly lifted the cradle occupied by the infant from the plane to a waiting ambulance.

Mrs. Slawson, a graduate nurse, who gave up her career to go to the Canal zone with her husband, Staff Sergeant Fred H. Slawson, now an officer candidate in the states, said Canal zone doctors feared her son had a thickening of the muscular walls of the stomach [illegible] and infrequently among infants.

If doctors [illegible] Joseph's hospital in Ft. Worth, to which she is taking the boy for treatment, confirm the diagnosis, they will perform an operation to relieve the condition.

GREATER COMBAT POWER URGED

Billions More For Air Force Recommended By Policy Board

By JAMES J. STREBIG
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14—President Truman's Air Policy commission said today the government should add billions of dollars to air power spending estimates to create a force "capable of dealing with a possible atomic attack on this country" by Jan. 1, 1953.

A report by the five-man board declared the Air Force presently planned would be "inadequate" even for the intervening five years.

It would be "hopelessly wanting," the report said, for the later period when it should be assumed that "other nations will have atomic weapons in quantity and the equipment to deliver them in a sustained attack on the United States mainland."

The commission said plans should be expanded all along the line to call for:

1. An air force of 70 groups instead of the 55 groups now blueprinted.

2. Doubling the present total of 3,500 first line combat aircraft by the end of 1949.

3. A $1,300,000,000 increase to bring air force spending to $4,150,000,000 for the 1948 calendar year and to $5,450,000,000 for next year.

4. An additional $192,000,000 above budget estimates to modernize the navy's air arm this year and $310,000,000 more for the

French Assembly Clashes Over Communists' Fight For Post

PARIS, Jan. 13 (AP)—Fist fights among the deputies threw a session of the National Assembly into an uproar tonight and the Communists, fighting for a key legislative office, broke up the meeting in a maneuver temporarily paralyzing France's law-making.

The non-Communist majority in the chamber appealed immediately to President Vincent Auriol for aid in getting the Assembly operating again. Another session was set for tomorrow.

A Communist decision to insist on the re-election of their legislative leader, Jacques Duclos, as first vice-president threw the session into an uproar as deputies shouted and fought in the aisles.

Tradition Broken

As first vice-president, Duclos would be in line to succeed the presiding officer of the Assembly if anything happened to ailing, 76-year-old Edouard Herriot, radical Socialist former premier, who was re-elected assembly president earlier in the same session.

Fighting also preceded the vote on the presidency which Herriot won by receiving 317 votes to 124 for Communist Raoul Calas.

Non-Communist deputies offered Duclos the third vice-presidency. This was a departure from French parliamentary tradition which in the past assured the election to the first vice-presidency of the representative of the largest party—the Communists, at present.

Meeting Declared Adjourned

Duclos replied that the Communists would accept no Assembly offices—a maneuver which raised doubts among parliamentarians over the right of the Assembly to function if the various parties were not represented proportionately in Assembly offices as provided for in the constitution.

During the heated debate, the session unexpectedly was declared adjourned by Communist Marcel Cachin, the temporary presiding officer.

Rightist and centrist deputies objected so violently to the adjournment that they began scuffling with ushers who blocked passage to the Communist benches.

During the turmoil most of the lights were turned off and the deputies continued to mill about the chamber and the corridors in semi-darkness for several hours.

Herriot said Cachin was within his rights in adjourning the session.

Says Man Has Strange Powers That Work While He Sleeps

A strange man in Los Angeles, known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," reveals the story of a remarkable system that often leads to improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Many report improvement in health. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

The man, a well-known explorer and geographer, tells how he found these strange methods in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

He maintains that man, instead of being limited by a one-man-power mind, has within him the mind-power of a thousand men or more as well as the energy-power of the universe which can be used in his daily affairs. He states that this sleeping giant of mind-power, when awakened, can make man capable of surprising accomplishments, from the prolonging of youth to success in many fields. Strangely, he says that this power works best while we sleep, when proper methods are used.

The author states the time has come for this long hidden system to be disclosed to the Western world, and offers to send his amazing 9,000-word treatise which reveals many startling results—to readers of this paper, free of cost or obligation. For your free copy, address the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. 587-E, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free treatises have been printed. Adv.

U. S. Stands Firm On Hint To Quit Berlin

BERLIN, Jan. 13 (U.P.) — The United States in a tacit reply to Russian hints that the Western allies get out of Berlin declared today that it would not even discuss any changes in four-power control of the German capital.

The American statement was made by Maj. Gen. George P. Hays, deputy governor. Hays did not mention the broad Soviet hints but said that American Military government would not even discuss the possibility of any change in Berlin's status.

The Russians today followed up their suggestions that the United States and Britain get out of Berlin with a proposal that the two countries liquidate "Bizonia" as a contribution to four-power harmony.

TCU ALUMNI TO MEET

FORT WORTH, Jan. 13 (UP)—Texas Christian university's oldest alumni will get together on the campus here tomorrow in connection with the school's 75th anniversary celebration. The "Gay 90's Club of TCU," made up of former students of Add-Ran college at Thorp Spring, will meet for a luncheon and business meeting. Add-Ran college, founded at Thorp Spring, later became TCU.

Move Against Wallace Set

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—President Truman's support was claimed today for a move to combat Henry A. Wallace's independent presidential candidacy in New York by cooperation between the Democrat and Liberal party forces.

Chairman A. A. Berle, jr., of the Empire state's Liberal party, discussed the proposal at the White House and said afterward he found the President "very anxious to cooperate."

He added the conference "paved the way" for a basis of cooperation between the LP and the Democratic state and national committees for the 1948 presidential election.

Conferences Suggested

Berle later conferred with Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island, Democratic national chairman, who then announced he had asked two top New York Democrats to meet with the Liberal party chairman also.

McGrath said Berle "expressed his personal admiration of the President and suggested conferences to explore methods by which he and his associates could support the Democratic national ticket."

As a result, McGrath said, he was asking Democratic national committeeman Edward J. Flynn and New York Democratic chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick to meet with Berle "because the problem is primarily one for their action."

Berle's White House call followed a conference between Mr. Truman and Fitzpatrick.

Berle predicted Wallace will not prevent the President from carrying New York.

He predicted Wallace would win some votes from the Republicans, too, and would "bring back to the Democratic party many people who had been misled by Republican propaganda as to Democratic objectives."

Pharmacist Positions Said Open In Civil Service Work

The Civil Service commission has announced an examination to fill pharmacist positions at $4,902 a year in the Veterans administration in Washington, D. C. and throughout the U. S.

To qualify applicants must have completed a four-year course in pharmacy and must have a bachelor's degree, or they must have a master's degree, a doctor of philosophy, or a doctor of Science degree with a major in pharmacy from an approved school. They must also be registered as a pharmacist in one of the states or territories of the U. S. or District of Columbia, and in addition must have had three years of professional experience in pharmacy.

No written test is required. Information is available at the office of Elmer Potts, local secretary, Room 217, Federal building, or from most first-and second-class postoffices. Feb. 3 has been set as deadline for receipt of applications.

New Funds Granted For Wool Research

ABILENE, Jan. 13—Additional money for use in exploring the possibilities of wool and mohair in West Texas has been made available through $5,000 fund authorized by the Santa Fe railroad, it has been announced by President C. P. Dodson of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. This augments a similar amount provided by the WTCC for research work now being done by the Texas Technological College.

This research will cover both the resources and liabilities of the cotton and wool industry in West Texas for its possible use in the development of the textile industry, according to WTCC Manager D. A. Bandeen. The organization hopes through an analytical study to determine whether there are economic possibilities for such a textile industry in its area, on the basis of the production of raw materials, consumption, freight rates and manufacture.

Announcement of the $5,000 from the Santa Fe came from San Angelo where E. L. Buelow, WTCC director and chairman of the Santa Fe industrial committee and H. C. Custard, WTCC past president, met with a group of Santa Fe officials, headed by General Manager R. B. Ball. It was announced that results of the study will be made available to industry and shippers of the area served by the road, and by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Men Injured In Refinery Fire Near Levelland Said Recovering

LEVELLAND, Jan. 13. (Special)—Two of the three men injured in the slush-pit fire at the Consumers Co-Operative Refinery near Levelland late Monday night and early Tuesday morning were reported tonight as doing well in Philip-Dupre hospital.

Justin D. Henderson, plant employe who suffered third-degree burns on the legs and severe burns on the hands and neck, was reported resting well. Melvin Ray, Levelland fireman who was overcome by fumes while fighting the fire, was recovering and hospital authorities said that he would probably leave the hospital tonight or Thursday morning.

Leroy Garganas, another plant employee, was only slightly hurt and did not require hospitalization.

Expansion Of Red Cross Work At Texas Tech Recommended

Several recommendations for increased activity of the Red Cross on the Texas Technological college campus were made at a luncheon held at the college cafeteria Monday, according to Floyd Camp, co-chairman of the Red Cross committee at the college.

A plan for setting up first aid stations at different points on the campus was proposed and it was decided they should be placed in the Administration building, the Agriculture building, and in each one of the dormitories. The infirmary is the only place where first aid is available at the present time and this condition was considered inadequate by the committee.

The enrollment of students for instruction in Red Cross courses was discussed and a desire was expressed that some of these courses be made available sometime in the near future.

An advisory committee, composed of the vice-presidents of several of the clubs on the campus was recommended, for the purpose of conducting the drive for funds and other Red Cross matters.

Those attending the luncheon included Mrs. J. H. Stiles, Dean J. G. Allen, Francis Beardon, F. B. Widmoyer, F. C. Rector, Camp and a representative from the state Red Cross headquarters.

The average American in 1947 used human food at the rate of 3,400 calories daily.

Miss Copeland And Mr. Wyly Marry

Miss Glaytus Aleha Copeland, daughter of Mrs. N. S. Copeland of 1907 Eighth, and Elton Clark Wyly, son of Mrs. J. Alta Wyly of Friona, were married in a single ring ceremony read by Ira Odell Purdy of Seagraves, Church of Christ minister, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. McCullough.

Pink and white carnations, fern and tapers lighted by Mrs. Purdy, sister of the bridegroom, decorated the altar. Wedding marches and "I Love You Truly" were played by Mrs. L. L. Ware, sister of the bride.

The bride wore a pink crepe dress with black accessories and carried a white carnation bouquet. Miss Leona Copeland, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore a blue crepe dress with black accessories and a white rosebud corsage.

Duane Wyly, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

A reception was given following the ceremony for close friends and family members. Mrs. McCullough and Mrs. Buster Pharr served a three tiered wedding cake and tea. Mrs. Pharr presided at the bride's book, also.

The couple is on a wedding trip to South Dakota.

Musical Tea Is Given By Club

Chimayo room of Hilton hotel was scene of a musical tea given by Kappa Gamma sorority Monday night.

Piano numbers were given by Varner Peticolas and Mrs. Clarence Wilpitz and Mrs. Gordon Treadaway sang three numbers, accompanied by Mr. Peticolas.

The tea table was centered with an arrangement of white and red carnations. Mrs. Lottie Hilton presided at the silver service.

Hostesses were Mrs. Rex Greer, Mrs. Norma Caldwell and Miss Reuby Tom Rhodes.

Guests at the program-tea were Mrs. J. T. Medlin of Temple, Mrs. W. E. McKenzie, Mrs. W. H. Bledsoe and Mrs. Reuby S. Rhodes. Members were Mesdames Virgie Mae Beard, Rex Brown, H. G. Burchett, J. Election Of Officers And Varied Programs Are Conducted By Women's Clubs Tuesday

Members and guests presented programs on varied topics for a number of women's clubs Tuesday afternoon. Officers were elected by Clement-Sorosis Study club.

The Athenaeum club program which was presented in the home of Mrs. Russell Denison, 2504 Twenty-fourth, was on the national government. Mrs. Milton Smith who discussed pressure groups stated that "pressure groups are harmful only as they are influential in bringing about legislation for their own private interests."

Mrs. F. A. Kleinschmidt spoke on pending legislation, discussing especially Senate Bill 472, which has to do with federal aid for education. She asked the club members to study the bill and to write their views to their senators.

Mrs. A. W. Young presided over the meeting which was attended by 18 persons.

CHILDREN ARE DISCUSSED

At a meeting of Progressive Child Study club in the home of Mrs. R. H. Garner, 2220 Twenty-fifth, Mrs. Harold Biffle discussed "Leisure Time for Pre-School Children."

Co-hostess was Mrs. June Roberts and others attending were Mesdames Leo Healer, Melvin Havis, Ralph Robinson, Roy D. Heath, Gordon Sanders, Johnny Goldwater, Arch Harper, Hall McCrummen, Edwin L. Niell, Maurice Cowan, Cloyes Tune, Pete Bynum, Richard Walter, Donald Robertson, J. J. Tipps, Lester H. Johnson, G. C. Stewart, B. C. Spratt, J. R. Cone and Jack Markham. Mrs. Lloyd Swann was a guest.

DECORATING HINTS GIVEN

"Home should be a self-portrait of you and your family," stated Miss Anne Birkman of the Decorator's studio when she met with Lubbock Woman's Forum Tuesday afternoon. She told the women, also, that it is possible to reduce the infinitely complex home decoration rules to one formula since each room in a house must be guided by the personality of its occupant. "The main thing in decorating a home," said Miss Birkman, "is to fill the requirements of the entire family."

Mrs. Gradie Bownds read "Home" by Edgar A. Guest and presented a musical reading, "Hats," by Litton Cox, accompanied by Miss Gypsy Cooper and assisted by Mesdames A. E. Dietering, Robert Prothro and Lewis Kerr.

Fifty-five members and guests attended the meeting which was held in the home of Mrs. Walter Clark 2711 Twenty-first, with Mesdames L. J. Powers, W. M. Lowrimore, jr., H. E. Archer and G. V. Fulton as assisting hostesses. Mrs. Garland Newsom presided for business and Mrs. J. B. McCauley directed the program.

PROGRAM IS ON PIONEER WOMEN

Following a talk on "Texas Ranches and Pioneer Women" given by Mrs. T. R. Prideaux for Twentieth Century club, Mrs. Asher Thompson, accompanied by Mrs. C. M. Trout, sang "Home on the Range" and "Bless This House."

The meeting which was held at First Presbyterian Fellowship hall was attended by 20 members.

ARCHITECT IS CLUB SPEAKER

"Trends in Architecture" was the subject discussed by James Atcheson for Junior Twentieth Century club at St. John's Methodist church.

Mrs. Harry Holcomb presided for a business session in the absence of Mrs. W. A. Black.

Tea hour hostesses were Mesdames Groves Denman, R. T. Canon and M. H. Benson.

MRS. STEWART IS HOSTESS

When Sorosis club members met with Mrs. A. T. Stewart, 3120 Twenty-first, Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. C. R. Hurmence discussed "current Activities and Aims of State and National Federation."

Seventeen persons were present.

COOL RECEPTION

UNDER the glass covered desk of one of the editors in our office is the suggestion, "After you've climbed about so high, the world is more interested in your possible tumble than in your further accent."

You may agree with that or not, but granting it's truth we might say that certain people in high positions sometimes contribute toward the blocks that get in their way, causing them to tumble.

The writer is thinking of the cool reception the veteran American baritone, John Charles Thomas, gave the press in Amarillo last Saturday and of some of the things he said that night following his concert in Municipal auditorium. We know that Thomas is tops, that he was voted the most popular classical singer in radio in 1944 and in 1945 and that he is on the home stretch of an international tour which began in March 1947 and which has taken a terrific toll of his energies.

BUT truly great people are kind and when they have off days and do not feel up to meeting the press they are gracious about their refusals and they are forgiven, because most writers know that artists live in a world of their own and cannot become too greatly bothered about petty little things such as newspaper assignments crowding deadlines and lines of eager autograph seekers.

According to stories in Amarillo newspapers, John Charles Thomas, who used to sing so lustily over the early afternoon radio on Sundays about "I-Love-Life," gave a cold shoulder to press members who had stood for over an hour in the bitter cold, awaiting the Denver train to which his special car was attached. Expecting, from having heard him over the radio and reading of his jovial nature, that they were in for an exciting hour in the presence of a rollicking person, the reporters were baffled at the treatment.

A "dour-faced" manager explained curtly that Thomas had been misquoted so many times and readers had gained a wrong impression of the "great" man and thus he refused to see the press. We wonder if he will refuse to see John Rosenfield (if he gets back from the East) in Dallas or Clyde Whitlock in Fort Worth when he sings his concerts in those cities this week?

IF you recall, Baritone Thomas walked out on a Dallas audience years ago because the management had been unable to sell enough tickets to fill the house. Perhaps he considered doing that Saturday night in Amarillo because the barny auditorium was just about two-thirds full. One reporter suggested that the singer closed his eyes during his numbers in order that he might concentrate on the depth of the numbers. We think that it was in order to keep from seeing those seats yawning up at him. The numbers, after all, were from the "Songs You Love to Hear" collection, such as "Lindy Lou," "Danny Deever," "Drink To Me Only," etc., and we are sure the baritone had sung them so many hundreds of times he did not have to concentrate too deeply to present them to an audience to which the booking agents in the East jocularly refer to as the "bush league."

Long rounds of applause greeted most of the numbers. After his final encore, Thomas returned to the stage, stepped to the footlights, and thanked his audience for the reception, explaining that applause means a lot to a singer.

"I may sing here again some day," he added, "and if I do I hope you will come back—and bring a friend with you."

Perhaps Mr. Thomas sings from the heart when he acclaims "I Love Life," but does he love the little people who go to make up such a great part of life?

HOLLYWOOD'S DUTY

FILM STAR DANA ANDREWS, son of a protestant minister and former Texan, chides Hollywood because most of its movies are unfit for children to see.

He points out that a large percentage of the people who go to the movies are under 20 years of age and suggests that what is said on the screen had more influence over these youngsters than the words of their own parents. At the same time, he writes in a current magazine, he does not mean that every film must parallel Elsie Dinsmore.

According to Andrews, every motion picture should have one of two basic themes. Every story should be artistic and inspiring or should show conclusively that an immoral life leads to disaster.

MR. AND MRS. McGAUGHY

Foye Bomers Are Making Their Home In Lubbock

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Shirley of Guthrie are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Charlene La Rue Shirley, and Foye Bomer of Lubbock, son of Jim Bomer of Houston, which took place in December at the Guthrie Community church. Rev. Leslie E. Fooks of Abilene read the marriage vows before an altar decorated with pink gladioli and greenery.

Miss Bessie Foller of Haskell was maid of honor; Gloria Jean Shirley was her sister's flower girl and Sammie Kay Shirley carried the rings on a heart-shaped satin cushion.

James Bomer of Lubbock served his brother as best man.

The bride wore slipper satin, fashioned with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her veil was caught with a band of brilliants and she wore a strand of pearls which belonged to the bridegroom's mother and carried a white Bible topped with an orchid and white rosebuds.

The bride, a graduate of Cross Plains High school and former Tech student, is a graduate of Lubbock Memorial School of Nursing.

Mr. Bomer is a graduate of Idalou High school, served three years in the Navy and is a student at Tech college.

The couple is at home in Lubbock.

CHANGE IN ATTITUDE IS URGED

Rising Death Toll Is Problem Of Individual, Patrolman Says

Sgt. E. L. Stroud of the Lubbock office of the Texas Highway patrol declared in a talk on traffic safety problems at the Optimist club luncheon at Lubbock hotel Tuesday noon that "we must make the driving of a motor vehicle a full-time job; it's nothing to play with, it's serious business."

"Unless we have a change of attitude on the part of individuals, this slaughter on our streets and highways will continue until it won't be long until there will be from 5,000 to 6,000 people killed in Texas every year instead of the 2,000 killed during the past year.

"This problem is an individual problem and it lies with the individual who has control of the automobile or the pedestrian on the streets," Sgt. Stroud declared. "Ninety-five per cent of all highway collisions lies with the operator and the other five per cent with faulty mechanism.

"While one died on the fighting front in the recent world war, four were killed on the highways at home," Stroud said. "Where one was wounded at the front, ten were wounded on our highways.

"But the majority of us take the attitude that it is happening somewhere else and to somebody else. . . . Gentlemen, it's a local problem."

Sgt. Stroud cited the fact that during 1947, a total of 100 persons died in highway collisions in the 21 counties of this area compared to 73 during 1946.

Stroud cited statistics which show that 40 per cent of fatalities on highways in Texas in 1946 involved intoxicated drivers. He said 60 per cent of the smashups occur when one vehicle is attempting to pass another.

"We should ask ourselves the question: 'Have I as an individual conducted myself toward my fellow man as I would have him conduct himself toward me?'," Sgt. Stroud said. "Let us discipline ourselves to such a degree that we will not become involved in these smashups on the highways."

Sgt. Stroud said institution of state-approved drivers' training courses in high schools is one effective method toward eliminating smashups, especially among the younger age groups. He said efforts have been made for the past two years to get such a course started in Lubbock High school.

Sgt. Stroud was introduced by Winston Clark, program chairman.

During the luncheon, the club voted to discontinue its paper drive and turn over the project to the Lubbock Boy Scouts. Tom Gordon invited Optimists to attend the world premiere of W. G. McMillan's African hunt pictures at Senior High school auditorium, Jan. 23.

Jerry Holleman was introduced as a new member.

Conservation Of Fuel Oil Urged By Official

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (UP)—Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug says it is "imperative" that consumers reduce fuel oil use by as much as 10 to 15 per cent.

Krug said the Interior department is backing an industry campaign to get consumers to make such a curtailment in light of present shortages and reports that a new cold wave is settling over the northeastern U. S.

"I believe that a reduction of demand by consumer conservation in the use of fuel oil is imperative," Krug wrote Sen. Charles W. Tobey, R., N. H., chairman of a Senate commerce subcommittee investigating the fuel oil shortage.

Krug said there is no longer an "idle tanker fleet" and that, oil fields in all states now are producing at capacity to meet the highest demand in history.

Meanwhile there were these other developments:

1. The navy loaned 40,000,000 gallons of reserve industrial fuel oil to six New England states for "extreme emergencies." The oil cannot be used in household heating and amounts only to a small part of consumption in that area. It is slated for emergency use in hospitals and other essential institutions.

2. W. W. Smith, chairman of the U. S. Maritime commission also wrote Tobey that tankers recently withdrawn from the laid-up fleet should "greatly relieve" the transportation shortage by the end of February.

3. The National Petroleum council prepared a system of voluntary industry agreements to allocate remaining supplies this winter.

TEXAN IS OKAYED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13. (AP)—The nomination of Mark Edwin Andrews of Texas to be assistant secretary of the navy was approved today by the Senate armed services committee. It now goes to the senate.

Liberty County Off Wagon After Week In Dry Column

LIBERTY, Tex., Jan. 13 (AP) — Liberty county, after one week in the dry column, today is officially wet again, following the commissioner's court canvass of last week's local option election.

The official tabulation was 2105 wet and 2049 dry.

An unofficial count, compiled primarily by telephone from the county's 17 precincts on the night of the election, gave 2082 votes for the dry forces and 2072 wet.

Reservations For African Hunt Pictures Being Taken By Club

Checks have already been received through the mails for more than 200 tickets to the world premier showing of W. G. McMillan's African hunt pictures, which will be shown at Senior High school auditorium, Friday Night, Jan. 23, L. E. Davis, Kiwanis club president, said Tuesday.

The showing of the films at the premiere and at matinees Saturday and Sunday afternoons and subsequent showings at night during the next week is being sponsored by the Kiwanis club. The club's proceeds will go into the boys and girls fund with one project—the expansion of the headquarters for Lubbock Girl Scouts—already planned.

Reservations for the premiere showing of the films will be taken by the club through the mails until Monday when counter sale of the tickets will start at Adair Music company's store. Mail reservations will be filled by priority and may be sent to the Lubbock Kiwanis club, Box 3, Lubbock, Texas.

Seats are $2.40 including tax for the premiere and the matinees for boys and girls will be 60 cents.

ACQUIRES INSTITUTIONS

MOSCOW, Jan. 13 (AP)—Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, said today the Russian Soviet Federated Socialist republic has acquired during the past two years a new network of cancer institutions staffed by 1,500 doctors.

"ON AN ISLAND WITH YOU"

Del Monte Reporter: "What counts in a good caricature, Mr. Cugat?"

Xavier Cugat: "It takes skill and humor, plus many other special qualities."

"You need a quick eye for character, and plenty of drawing ability. Get the feel of the personality, catch the prominent features, reduce the drawing to its simplest line terms.

"All those qualities must be expressed in making a good caricature."

Now see what counts in a good coffee, Mr. Cugat—

7 world-famous coffees make Del Monte's richer flavor!

Ordinary blends of just three or four coffees can't deliver the deep-down, satisfying flavor you'll find in Del Monte — not by our standards anyway.

Flavor like that takes seven choice coffees. Each one picked from the famous coffee markets of the world. Each one carefully selected for a special characteristic of flavor.

Blend these qualities together and you've got the richer, fuller, coffee flavor folks praise in Del Monte.

Yes, one sip of Del Monte Coffee and you'll know how completely enjoyable a truly good cup of coffee can be.

Oklahoma Law School May Seek To Avoid Showdown On Negroes

NORMAN, Okla., Jan. 13 (U.P.)—A source close to the attorney general's office said today there was "a definite possibility" that Oklahoma University might not admit any new students to its law school next semester.

For the time being, this would relieve the university of complying with a U. S. Supreme Court order to admit Ada Sipuel Fisher, a 23-year-old negress.

The court, in an unanimous decision yesterday, ruled that Oklahoma must provide equal facilities for both negro and white students.

Regents Meeting Set

University and state officials refused to concede that the Supreme Court had upset Oklahoma's segregation system. But they refused to comment for publication, pending a meeting of the university board of regents tomorrow. The regents will meet with Attorney General Mac Q. Williamson Thursday to discuss the decision.

One regent, who didn't want his name used, said the state still has a law against negroes and whites attending the same schools.

"The court did not, so far as I know, declare the law unconstitutional," he said.

Mrs. Fisher, who was turned down two years ago when she applied for admission to the university, planned to enroll for the spring semester beginning Feb. 19, her mother, Mrs. T. P. Sipuel, said. Mrs. Fisher was reported flying here from Providence, R. I., to enroll.

Student Opinion Split

Roscoe Dunjee, Oklahoma City negro newspaper editor and a leader of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, also said Mrs. Fisher planned to enroll.

"She will be here in time to enroll for the second semester," Dunjee said. "I also know of an Atlanta, Ga., negro student who would like to enter the Oklahoma University medical school but had his application rejected this year. He'll probably apply again also."

Student opinion on the campus was about evenly divided on the Fisher case. But a poll conducted by the student newspaper showed opinion predominantly against a complete breakdown of racial restrictions.

Quinton Peters, editor of the Oklahoma Daily, said he believed university and state officials could not escape the Supreme Court decision.

College Head Indifferent

"It's a great day for the races," he said. "It looks like the NAACP had perfect timing. You can't throw up enough quonset huts and recruit enough third-rate law professors in two weeks to satisfy the requirements of the ruling to provide equal educational facilities for negroes."

Two state boards share administration of the university. Direct supervision is in the hands of the board of regents, but state regents for higher education hold the purse strings.

Dr. M. A. Nash, chancellor of the state board regents, declared that negroes could not be barred from the university unless the state spent millions to provide equal professional training facilities for them.

"The regents believe Oklahoma's problem now is one to be settled by the citizens through their legislature," he said.

Dr. George L. Cross, university president, declined to comment on the decision. He made it clear previously that he had no personal objections to admitting negroes to the university.

School Aid On Basis Of Need Advocated By Governor Jester

AUSTIN, Jan. 13 (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester today reiterated his belief that the only equitable and workable method of state support for public schools should follow the route of aid on the basis of the individual school's need.

Jester made the statement when asked for comment on a resolution passed at a meeting of school administrators last week, directing his attention to what they called the "impending deficit in equalization aid."

The governor noted that the condition will not actually be a deficit, since the general fund has the money, but that the appropriation will not be enough to enable so-called rural aid schools to pay the minimum salaries prescribed now by law.

Increases Favored

Jester had urged the Legislature that the best route was through increased rural or equalization aid on the basis of need, rather than a flat increase in the per capita. The per capita forces won the argument before the 50th Legislature.

Asked for comment on another resolution passed by the school administrators, in which they voiced a desire to see teachers' salaries raised to a point where their income would be comparable with that of doctors, lawyers and engineers, Jester said he believed there should be further increases.

He added he would not go "all the way" on the resolution. The governor said he considered teachers in the same spiritual and intellectual realm with ministers, and that their compensation should not be put on a strictly commercial basis.

"A wise state will make ample provision for its school teachers," Jester said.

He anticipated that the crisis in the rural aid school's financial condition would come toward the end of the current school year. This will occur when added expenditures for salaries will have drained away available local resources, plus equalization aid from the state.

STOCKS IN SHARP DROP

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—Oils led a downswing in today's stock market that put sizable dents in virtually all departments.

The petroleum group exhibited early weakness as talk was heard of new financing for some important companies in this field. The necessity of Gulf Oil Monday, on word that additional stock would be offered shareholders, was a case in point.

Many issues closed at or near the lows of the day. Transfers amounted to 950,000 shares against 1,000,000 the day before.

Professional and brokerage customers again trimmed accounts because of pessimism over the tax outlook, long-term business prospects, European relief, uncertainty of Congressional action on the budget, rising money rates and corporation costs and the possibility that further anti-inflation steps would be taken by the administration.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was off .9 of a point at 84.5, widest sag since last Dec. 5. Of 1,650 issues, 676 fell and only 155 rose.

Among the day's exceptions were Pacific Western Oil, which rallied at the last for a net gain of 1⅝ at 40⅛, and Copperweld Steel, up 1 at 16⅝. Modest improvement was retained by American Tobacco "B", Packard Motors and International Nickel.

Amerada Petroleum dropped 3¾ at 99¼. Down 1 to 2 or so were Standard Oil (NJ) at 74¾, Phillips Petroleum 58⅛, Ohio Oil 30⅝, Texas Gulf Producing 20⅛, Pure Oil 27⅞, Douglas Aircraft 82, Boeing 23¾, Schenley 28⅛, American Smelting 53¾, Phillip Morris 47⅞, American Woolen 42½, Santa Fe 83, Northern Pacific 46⅜, Southern Railway 27, Union Pacific 138½, Illinois Central 89¾ and Nickel Plate Railroad 49¼.

Most bonds slipped.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP) — Cotton futures were easier in slow dealings today. Uncertainty over the Washington developments of foreign aid, continued dullness in the textile market, and weakness in grains stimulated liquidation through commission houses in New Orleans. Hedging was light while mill buying appeared mostly on the scale down.

The new cotton exchange service estimated December cotton consumption at 755,000 bales against 760,000 in November and 776,000 in December a year ago.

Late afternoon prices were 25 to 70 cents a bale lower than the previous close. March 35.84; May 35.81, July 34.64.

Futures closed 10 to 78 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

Crude Production In Nation Is Boosted By Texas Output

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 13 (AP) — The nation's crude oil production during the week ended January 10 showed an average of 5,329,145 barrels daily, 26,785 above the previous week's output and a new all time high, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

The increase was 10,730 barrels above the previous highest figure set during the week ended Oct. 25, 1947.

It was accounted for largely by Texas' production, which gained 21,200 barrels to 2,385,700 barrels, and increases in the following other states:

Louisiana, up 5,875 barrels to 474,950; Mississippi, 3,250 to 113,600; Illinois, 2,000 to 175,800, and the Eastern area, 4,600 to 62,000.

Other states with gains were Indiana, Alabama, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Montana, Wyoming and California.

Decreases were recorded in Kansas, down 14,500 barrels to 271,750; Michigan, off 1,220 barrels to 46,580; Kentucky, 800 to 27,100, and Colorado, 1,260 to 45,690.

Production in Nebraska and Florida was unchanged.

Weak, Watery Blood Blamed for Making Men and Women Look and Feel Older THAN THEIR YEARS

How do you feel at the end of a day? Is that old time pep and drive lacking? Have you checked up on your blood strength lately? Thousands now regaining glowing good looks and vitality through the release of vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a general run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that S.S.S. Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the S.S.S. Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, S.S.S. Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on S.S.S. Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your druggist store. S.S.S. Tonic Helps Build Sturdy Health. Adv

PETRILLO'S ACTIONS PROBED

Musicians' Boss Assailed As 'Economic Pirate' In Hearing

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—James C. Petrillo was assailed as an "economic pirate" today by a radio leader who expressed "pessimism" about the chances of reaching an agreement with Petrillo by Jan. 31 on the use of "live musicians" for the nation's networks.

The testimony was given to the House Labor committee by Justin Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Petrillo's contract with the networks for the use of members of his American Federation of Musicians members expires January 31 in the second phase of a series of bans laid down by Petrillo which have already halted record making.

Veto Plea Bared

Miller also testified that Petrillo's union asked him to intercede with President Truman to bring about a veto of the so-called Lea "anti-Petrillo" bill. The Lea bill, passed by Congress in 1946, forbade any one to force radio stations to hire musicians they do not need.

Miller said the late Joseph A. Padway, general counsel for Petrillo's union, called him at the height of negotiations between the union and the networks, and told him: "We want to make a test of your good faith. We want you to get President Truman to veto the Lea bill."

Miller, who served for eight years as a judge in the U. S. circuit court of appeals, said he refused to intercede.

Small Stations Hit By Ban

"That apparently was the basis for the breakdown of all negotiations with Petrillo," Miller said.

The witness said the "major impact of Petrillo's actions" has fallen on the smaller radio stations, because they can stand no extra burden. Testifying that 54 per cent of the country's radio stations depended entirely on recordings, which have been banned by Petrillo, he continued.

"Petrillo said to me he thought it would be a good thing if a lot of those small stations went out of business and if they couldn't hire live musicians, they had better get out."

Collusion Is Denied

Rep. Lesinski (D-Mich) asked Miller if there is not "collusion" between the major broadcasting companies and Petrillo "to prevent the small stations from getting music."

Miller replied, under oath, that he has "no knowledge of anything to lead me to suspect there is collusion."

Miller said that Petrillo defied Congress to break up his alleged monopoly over "live" music, saying "you can do what you like about legislating against strikes but you can't make my boys work."

"Bootleg" Records Appear

Rep. Gwinn (R-NY) asked whether the same situation is not true in the coal industry under John L. Lewis, inquiring: "Where a monopoly exists you have to bargain on the take it or leave it basis, don't you?"

"Exactly," Miller answered.

Gwinn asked whether Petrillo exercises a "total monopoly." Miller replied:

"I think Petrillo would be proud to tell you that it is."

Miller said a "black market" in music records for America's 10,000,000 phonographs has already sprung up as a result of Petrillo's order prohibiting union musicians from cutting any more records.

Miller said that although the industry piled up a two or three year back log of recordings before the ban went into effect Dec. 31, "bootleg" records are beginning to appear.

Federation Of States In Indonesia Planned

BATAVIA, Java, Jan. 13 (AP)—The Netherlands government took a preliminary step today toward formation of a federated United States of Indonesia with the installation of an interim government made up of seven representatives of Dutch-controlled areas.

The new government contained no representatives from the Indonesian republic headed by Premier Amir Sjarifoeddin. The United Nations is attempting to bring about a settlement of Dutch-Indonesian differences which have caused prolonged and costly warfare in the rich Dutch colonial possession since the end of the war with Japan.

The Dutch and Indonesians have failed for many months to agree on terms for Indonesian participation in a federated Indonesia.

PREMIER APPEALS TO REPUBLIC FOR UNITY

THE HAGUE, Jan. 13 (AP)—Premier Dr. L. J. M. Beel told the Dutch parliament today that it is now up to the Indonesian republic to "collaborate and effect the cease-fire, to contribute to building up a federation that will result in a Netherlands-Indonesian union."

Premier Beel, who returned here from Java last week after consultations with U. N. officials and republican leaders, termed his declaration a "last appeal" to the republic.

Three Persons Found Dead From Asphyxiation At Austin Home

AUSTIN, Jan. 13 (AP)—Three persons were found dead in their home a short distance outside Austin's city limits today, and Justice of the Peace Tom Johnson returned a verdict of accidental death due to asphyxiation.

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Brown and Mrs. Maymee T. Smith, mother of Mrs. Brown.

Bodies of the two women were found in bed and that of Brown, dressed in pajamas, in a chair in his bedroom. A small butane gas heater was burning in the women's bedroom.

The trio had bought the house and moved into it only last Thursday. Mrs. Smith, an employee of the State Highway department for 29 years, reportedly had been ill at home for two days.

Deputy Sheriff L. T. Gunn, who investigated, said he believed the victims of the gas fumes had died sometime Monday night.

Brown was a former manager of two Austin funeral homes. He had retired recently.

Mrs. Smith was born in Galveston in 1880.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Range Condition Said Improved

AUSTIN, Jan. 13 (AP)—Early December rains followed by mild temperatures later in the month brought an improvement in Texas' winter range feed, the United States Department of Agriculture reported today.

Stimulated growth of winter weed, grass and clover was reported.

The new green feed was said to be grazed closely because of the generally short supply of dry grass on many ranges.

Winter wheat in the Northwest made fair growth after the late seeding, but is supplying only a very limited amount of grazing, USDA said.

Cattle Condition Fair

Even with the improved range feed supply, supplemental feeding of roughage and grain continued on most ranches. All range feed was reported at 74 per cent of condition, a contra-seasonal improvement of two per cent during the past 30 days. Usually range feed conditions deteriorate about one point during this season of the year.

With the mild December weather permitting maximum utilization of the limited amount of green winter weeds, grass and clover, cattle and calves were reported going through the winter in fair flesh.

Calf Marketing Slashed

The trend of culling and marketing mature cattle and holding calves and young stock was very pronounced during 1947, USDA reported. Cattle marketing during the first 11 months of 1947 were at the record high level of 1,985,000 head, while calf marketing at 678,000 head was the smallest marketing during this same period since 1936, except during 1943 when about 645,000 head were marketed in the 11-month period.

Condition of cattle and calves was reported at 79 per cent on Jan. 1, a one-point contra-seasonal improvement during the past month. The 10-year average condition Jan. 1 is 80 per cent.

Sheep and lambs made only a very slight recovery of lost flesh during December, USDA reported. Losses have been light but many ewes are poor and cannot withstand severe weather without heavy feeding. Condition of sheep was reported as 78 per cent of normal, a one-point improvement during the past month.

Most young animals separated from their parents show no fear of snakes.

Officers Installed For KP Lodge Here

Approximately 125 Knights of Pythias and their guests from Lamesa, Tahoka, Spur and other South Plains points attended an oyster supper and installation ceremony Tuesday night at the lodge hall, 1107 Ave. K.

John T. Agee of Lamesa, district deputy, was installing officer for the ceremony, at which J. B. Patterson was installed as chancellor commander, succeeding Milton Hartman.

Other officers installed were Tom Moore, vice chancellor; Robert Porter, prelate; Sherman Anderson, master-at-arms; Acle Cope, secretary; O. R. Sadler, financial secretary; S. M. Mitchell, master of exchequer; Frank French, inner guard; K. Moore, outer guard and Hub Lee, trustee.

Governor Jester Considers Bonus For Vets 'Un-Texan'

AUSTIN, Jan. 13 (AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester today said he considers it "un-Texan" for veterans to expect a state bonus.

The governor said he wished to commend University of Texas veterans who have voiced their opposition to bonus proposals.

"I think that expresses the attitude of most Texas veterans," Jester said.

It is estimated that rats destroy about four per cent of the U. S. grain and cereal crop.

Lions Club Origin, Purpose Explained At Luncheon Here

At the Lions club luncheon Tuesday noon at Hilton hotel, K. L. Riggs, chairman of the Lubbock club's inter-club relations committee, gave a brief talk on the origin and purposes of the Lions club, and an announcement was made that next week's luncheon will be a joint session on Monday with the Jaycees.

Riggs, introduced by Geo. R. Bean, chairman of the committee on Lions education, stresses that Lions was organized as a "service" club, not a "civic" club. He pointed up "ways to be a good Lion."

Club President J. Wm. Davis announced that no meeting will be held next Tuesday, regular date, but that the club will meet jointly with Jaycees to hear Harold E. Stassen, Republican candidate for President. He emphasized that no visitors can be accommodated at the meeting.

Stress was laid on payment of poll taxes in an announcement by J. B. Johnston, county tax collector, who said Jan. 31 is the last day in which poll taxes can be paid, and that various organizations plan booths in several localities in the city for convenience of the public in paying the polls.

Reginald Russell was introduced as a new member. Invocation was by Paul Sherrod.

RAILROAD OFFICIAL CLAIMED

HOUSTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—The body of John P. Bullington, 48, general counsel for the Texas and New Orleans railroad, is to be returned here tonight from New Orleans, where he died after a heart attack. He died last night. Houston associates said Bullington had tried a case in the New Orleans court of appeals and had planned to return here last night.

Some important George Washington memorabilia is in England at the Washington museum, home of the Washington family.

Abernathy, Levelland Win District Games

Westerners Set For 1-AA Drive

Offense held the spotlight at Lubbock Senior High gym Tuesday afternoon as Coach Harvey Dunn, well aware of the "adding machine" scores piled up by Amarillo's Golden Sandies in games this season, speeded up preparations for the opening tussle of the 1-AA cage season here Friday night.

Coach Dunn sent his Westerner charges through one of the stiffest drills of the year, but the squad members met the challenge with probably the most impressive practice scoring exhibition seen on the Senior High floor this season. Six of the top players battling for a starting assignment, including Jack Alderson, Virgil Johnson, Billy Max Henry, Jim Wilson, Charles Galey and Richard Herchenroeder, alternated at all positions during the session and hit the basket with remarkable consistency.

Sandies Are Veterans

Amarillo's Golden Sandies will bring a veteran crew to town Friday night for the district lid-blaster. Six lettermen compete for starting berths on the Panhandle quint, with a large number of top reserves available for duty. Heading the list of Sandie scorers is Doyle Watson, rangy veteran who has tallied 130 points in 14 games this year.

Other Sandstorm starters include chunky Slick Ellis, Bobby Wilson, Jimmy Sharp and Bill Bybee. Bybee, stellar center, is the tallest player on the Amarillo quint at 6-2". Bobby Farmer, brilliant end of the Sandie grid eleven, is called the "sixth regular" on the Panhandle quint. Farmer doesn't start every game, but he plays almost as much as any player on the squad.

The Sandies are rated as slight favorites of the Westerners, since the Amarilloans defeated the El Paso High Tigers twice. The Tigers, defending state AA champions, trounced the Westerners and the Sandies in the invasion of El Paso last weekend.

Doak Walker Given Club Grid Trophy

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13 (AP)—Doak Walker, Southern Methodist's sophomore All-America halfback, tonight was given the Maxwell Memorial Football Club award as the outstanding college player of 1947.

About 300 diners at the Hotel Warwick saw the sparkplug of the unbeaten Mustang eleven become the first sophomore to receive the award. The 1946 winner was Charley Trippi of Georgia.

Charley Bednarik, the University of Pennsylvania's All-America center, also was honored as the outstanding lineman of 1947. This was the first time the club had made this award.

Frank Akers Is Named Coach Of McMurry College Indians

ABILENE, Jan. 13 (AP)—Frank Akers 27-year-old McMurry college senior from Lebanon, Ind., today was named head basketball coach and baseball coach at McMurry college, succeeding Jerome Vannoy, who recently was elevated to the position of registrar.

Mel Jowell, 1947 All-Texas conference guard from Plainview, was named as line coach under Football Coach Wilford Moore.

Akers, who will take over his coaching duties at the beginning of baseball season in the spring, played professional baseball with Abilene in the West Texas-New Mexico league and Sweetwater in the Longhorn league last year.

YELLOW CAB FIVE WINS

The Yellow Cab basketball team won a 57-41 victory over the strong Hoyt Furniture quintet in a game played last night in the Texas Tech gym.

The Cabbies, taking an early lead, never were headed and went off the court at intermission with a 32-24 lead. The game remained close, but never was in doubt, as the Hoyt team went down to one of its rare defeats.

Forward Thornton Hopper, of Yellow Cab topped all scorers with 17 points, while Guard Haskins topped the Hoyt team with 16 tallies.

Most passes ever caught in a Bowl game was eight by Hub Bechtol of Texas in the 1946 Cotton Bowl.

Lobos, Antelopes Are Easy Winners

MULESHOE, Jan. 13 (Special)—Levelland high's Lobo basketball machine manufactured points in championship style here tonight, downing the Muleshoe five, 56-22, in a District 4-A conference clash.

W. A. Wise was high point man of the evening with 21 while Sanders checked in nine for Muleshoe.

The Lobos, defending regional cage champions, and who have been beaten only by the Sudan high Hornets jumped into an early lead and had run the advantage to 20-7 at the close of the first period.

The combination of Hart-Wise-Warren-Roberts was too much for the smaller Muleshoe players.

In a B game the Levellanders won 20-12 with Humphrey of Levelland scoring seven points for high while Wallace of Muleshoe counted six.

ANTELOPES GOALERS BURY SUNDOWN FIVE, 58-36

SUNDOWN, Jan. 13 (Special)—Abernathy's goal-happy Antelopes set a blistering scoring pace here tonight to drub the Sundown quint, 58-36, in a District 4-A conference clash.

Big Eugene Shuey chalked up 24 points for the Antelope five, while D. Ethridge tallied 14 for the Sundown crew.

In the girls' tussle the Abernathy sextet gained an easy 40-16 triumph as Rhetta McMaster hit the basket for 18 points.

TAHOKA DEFEATS POST IN 4-A GAME, 37-16

POST, Jan. 13 (Special)—Finis Botkin salted away 12 points here tonight to lead the Tahoka high Bulldogs to a 37-16 District 4-A cage victory over the Post high Antelopes.

Post made a ball game of it during the first half, the tally standing 15-12 Tahoka at the midway point. But Post's sharpshooting in the last half accounted for only four points while Botkin and his mates were having a fair degree of success.

Hays scored 10 of Post's 16 points.

DAVIS SCORES 24 POINTS AS LITTLEFIELD WINS

OLTON, Jan. 13 (Special)—The Littlefield high Wildcats, with Davis, Sisson and McCanlies putting on a consistent sharpshooting exhibition, beat the Olton high five, 56-16, in a District 4-A cage game here tonight.

Davis of Littlefield was high with 24 points. Sisson pumped in 14 and McCanlies 12.

Only Sudan and Levelland have beaten the rapidly improving Wildcat five.

They will enter the Abernathy tournament this weekend.

Littlefield jumped into an early lead and had piled up a 23-7 advantage at the half.

10,000 Bowlers To Vie In Dallas Meet

DALLAS, Jan. 13 (AP)—This city is preparing for the greatest woman's sports event in its history—10,000 bowlers who will pound the maples in some 60,000 games over a period of five weeks.

It is the Woman's International Bowling congress due to attract 2,000 teams of five members each, 5,000 teams of two and 5,000 singles competitors. The dates are April 8 to May 15—and longer if necessary.

Miss Gerry Henderson, president of the Texas Woman's Bowling association, awed by the figures she herself compiled, said Texas ten-pinners certainly bit off a big chew.

It all came from the flowery pictures Texas women drew when they bid for the 1948 Congress two years ago. They told about the romantic history and the picturesqueness of their state and how much fun the women of the nation could have down here.

"Now they all want to come to Texas," said Miss Henderson. "They like the western atmosphere and glamorous history we promised them."

Anyway, it will be the first time this state ever got the big bowling meet and the second time it ever has been in the south. Oklahoma City put it on in 1939.

Miss Henderson said it was anticipated that this would be the biggest tournament of them all, even surpassing the 1900 teams that turned out in 1942 at Milwaukee.

And the gals won't be playing for fun, either. There will be approximately $75,000 in cash prizes.

TINKERS QUINT LOSES

BROWNFIELD, Jan. 13 (Special)—Jake Geron, former Texas Tech basketball star and center for the independent Prim Drug company quintet, paced his team to a 50-25 victory over the Thomas Tinkers of Lubbock here tonight. Geron pitched 21 points through the hoops to insure victory.

Rex Volo, a 19-year-old trotting horse, recently won a race in Boston.

Lorenzo Edges Roosevelt Five

LORENZO, Jan. 13 (Special)—Forward Ted Medals led the Lorenzo High school Hornets to a 40-31 victory over the visiting Roosevelt High school cagers tonight in a District 7-B basketball game.

Medals scored 14 points in the up-hill win, the Hornet team taking their most decisive lead in the third quarter and following through to victory. The game, deadlocked several times during the evening, was close throughout, with the two quintets tied twice at the end of periods.

The first period ended in a 10-10 deadlock and the half also found the teams even at 20 points apiece. Lorenzo went ahead in the third period, taking the short rest spell with a 27-22 margin. After that they never were headed.

In a preliminary game, the Roosevelt girl cagers turned in a lopsided 46-25 win over the Hornet girls. Forward Jones led the invaders with 20 points, while Helen Flowers had 18 points for the home team.

IDALOU, SHALLOWATER TEAMS SPLIT HONORS

SHALLOWATER, Jan. 13 (Special)—The Idalou and Shallowater High school basketball teams split victories in four exhibition games here tonight, with the Shallowater Mustangs' boys team taking the feature court game, 37-23.

Jim Clark and Darrell Murphy of Shallowater were tied for scoring honors with 12 points each, while Center Heinrick of the Wildcats had nine points.

The Shallowater junior boys turned in the second home team win, with the final score reading 14-7.

The Idalou junior girls brought some satisfaction to Wildcat rooters with a 22-14 victory and the senior girls from Idalou turned in a 30-25 victory. Bobbie Lawson paced the Wildcat senior girls with 23 points, while Yvonne Rucker led the Mustang girls with eight.

The boys team won over Union, 34-24, and the girls took their game, 25-19.

ANTON TEAMS DEFEAT BOTH BULA BOYS, GIRLS

BULA, Jan. 13 (Special)—Anton high's boys and girls basketball teams swept their district series with the Bula High school teams tonight, the boys winning 26 to 17 and the girls taking their game, 25 to 16.

McKAY BROTHERS LEAD WHITEFACE TO VICTORY

SMYER, Jan. 13 (Special)—The Whiteface High school basketball team, spearheaded again by the McKay brothers, Joe and Jack, trounced the Smyer High school cagers tonight, 41-22, after coming from behind an early deficit to win a District 9-B conference game.

The home team jumped into an 11-5 advantage at the end of the first period, but Whiteface rallied to go off the court at intermission with a 19-12 margin. During the second period Smyer was held to a lone free throw conversion, while Whiteface poured 14 points through the hoops.

After the start of the second half it was no contest, with Whiteface easing up behind a big lead. Joe McKay tossed 18 points through the netting to lead his team, while brother Jack scored nine points. Center Pair of Smyer was high point man for his quintet with eight points.

In a preliminary game, the Whiteface girls went off the court with a 30-21 victory over the Smyer girls. Bonnie Mae Lewis, with 18 points, paced the visiting girls, while Forward Johnson of Smyer had 13 points.

GLOVES REGULATIONS CITED

Tournament Fighting Rules Are Emphasized By Officials Here

Importance of rules and regulations governing Golden Gloves competition was emphasized by local Gloves officials here with the release Tuesday of an explanatory guidesheet for use by prospective entries.

The chief problem arising in every tourney is the question of eligibility of the fighters, officials said, and it is hoped that a careful study of the rules explanation, compiled by the state Gloves organization in Fort Worth, will eliminate any disputed issues before the 12th annual regional tournament here Feb. 2-5 at Texas Tech gymnasium.

Regulations directing Golden Gloves competition fall into two categories, according to the official guidesheet, including general rules of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States and the special requirements of the Gloves setup. Generally speaking, any male 16 years of age or older in good physical condition, of good character, who qualifies as an amateur under the rules of the A. A. U., is eligible to participate as a contestant in Golden Gloves tournaments.

The official boxing rules of the Amateur Athletic Union will govern all amateur contests and all persons having any connection with amateur boxing is required to be familiar with the spirit, as well as the letter, of the amateur rules. Any person or persons who in any manner breaks, or causes to be broken, the amateur code is liable to permanent suspension from all activities, the officials emphasized.

Clear cases of ineligibility, under Gloves rules, include any contestant who has ever been issued a professional boxing or wrestling license in any state; any fighter who has ever been a professional or a licensed referee, second or promoter; any entry that has competed in more than one regional tourney this year; or any fighter who has competed in five or more annual Golden Gloves programs.

In addition, special Gloves rules stipulate that boxers must compete in the regional tournament nearest their legal residence. Legal residence has been interpreted as the post office address of an individual for the period of 60 days preceding the date of any regional tourney.

Officials also warned that the regulation, "Golden Gloves competition is limited to five years," will be rigidly enforced. No contestant may compete more than a total of five years, whether consecutive or not, anywhere in Gloves tournaments.

Abernathy's Cage Tournament Set

ABERNATHY, Jan. 13 (Special)—One of the largest basketball tournaments to be staged on the South Plains will be unreeled in Antelope gym starting Wednesday night, with 22 top area cage squads competing for eight trophies.

The late entry of the Sudan Hornets into the boys' division has thrown pre-tourney predictions into confusion, but several strong quints—Floydada, Littlefield, Hale Center, New Deal and Abernathy—are expected to give the high-scoring Hornets a bitter tussle for the championship.

In the girls' division the New Deal sextet is the seeded favorite, with Littlefield, Sudan, Spade, Hale Center and Whitharral expected to furnish the toughest competition.

Curtain raising tussles Wednesday night bracket the Littlefield girls against Hale Center and the Spade sextet against Lockney. In the boys' slate Lockney will battle Anton and Whitharral tangles with Abernathy.

Oklahoma City To Open Spring Training At Marshall In March

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 13 (AP)—The Oklahoma City Indian baseball team of the Texas league will open spring training March 14 at a camp at Marshall in East Texas.

Manager Pat Ankenman will try his charges for the first time in a two-game practice session at Dallas March 20-21. A twelve-game spring exhibition schedule has been announced for the Indians.

Cooper, Frenship Teams Divide Honors In Cage Doubleheader

COOPER, Jan. 13 (Special)—Cooper and Frenship High school cage teams divided honors here tonight with the Cooper girls trimming the Frenship six, 33-14, and the Frenship boys team edging the Cooper five, 19-15.

Ray Gillett was high for Frenship with seven and Marvin Kitten tossed in five points for Cooper.

The annual Masters golf tournament will be held April 8-11 at Augusta, Ga.

Balch Stars In Frosh Victory

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 13 (Special)—Lonnie Balch's long shot in the last 10 seconds of the game gave the Texas Tech freshmen cagers a hard-earned 53-52 triumph over Wayland college here tonight.

The Tech freshmen took the lead in the early minutes of the tussle and stayed in front until late in the final period, when the Wayland five started a torrid scoring offensive. The Tech quint still led by five points, 51-46, when the clock showed only sixty seconds remaining in the clash, but the determined Wayland crew looped in three field goals to go ahead, 52-51, just 10 seconds before the final whistle.

The Raider five took time out to rally its shattered offense, then moved the ball across the middle court line. Balch, although well-covered by a Wayland defensive man, dropped in a long shot just before time ran out to insure the win for the visitors.

Lanky Verdell Turner, Tech center, topped the winning five with a 17 point tally on seven field goals and three charity tosses. Leon Burch, Wayland center, gained high point honors for the tilt by dropping in 10 field goals and three free tosses for a total of 23.

Walcott Winner In Sports Poll

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott, who almost dethroned heavyweight champion Joe Louis, Dec. 5, staged the outstanding comeback of 1947 in the opinion of the sports editors participating in the annual Associated Press year-end poll.

Is Foremost Contender

So rank an outsider that there was virtually no betting on the outcome of his fight with the Brown Bomber, Walcott established himself as the foremost contender by his surprising effort. The veteran of some 130 fights since 1931 now is in line for a slice of a probable $2,000,000 gate in June although he fought six rounds for $100 as recently as 1945.

Walcott overshadowed the fine comebacks by the New York Yankees, Joe DiMaggio, George McQuinn and the California football team.

The Yankees and Manager Bucky Harris finished second to Jersey Joe in the poll with 48 points to 97 for the heavyweight fighter. The points were divided five for first, three for second and one for third with each editor asked to name three choices. Fifteen firsts went to Walcott and six to the Yankees and Harris.

DiMaggio, voted most valuable in the American league, earned third place with 43 points and five firsts on his 1947 play. The Yankee, hobbled by a heel operation in early spring, led the New York club to a pennant and world series victory over Brooklyn.

Allen Arena Opened To Gloves Trainees

Ring To Be Open To Boxers Daily

Sled Allen's wrestling arena, one of the most spacious training arenas in the Lubbock area, has been thrown open for the use of all Golden Grove aspirants.

This was announced last night at a meeting of the Golden Gloves' executive committee, as the group met in the Texas Tech athletic offices.

The arena will be open from 2 until 6 p. m. daily, with the exception of Wednesday and Sunday, and Allen will be on hand to assist the boxers. Boxing and punching bags probably will be insfalled and all facilities for boxers will be available.

Must Provide Equipment

Boxers must bring their own trunks, shoes, mouthpieces and other pertinent equipment, but boxing gloves will be furnished. Towels also should be brought and showers will be available.

The arena is not being restricted to Lubbock boxers, but is open, during the four-hour period, for any aspiring fighter.

The Golden Glove committee also agreed to pay one meal per day to any boxer from outside Lubbock who remains in the running in any weight division. Any boxer from out of town will be given an evening meal on the opening night, but any fighter eliminated will be on his own.

Entries in the Golden Glove tournament are coming in slowly at the present time and fighters are warned that the entry lists will close sharply at 5 p. m. on Feb. 2. All prospective entrants are urged to get their application blanks to the Avalanche-Journal sports department as much before that time as possible.

Application blanks, such as appear on today's sports page, are also available at the Avalanche-Journal sports department.

Physical examination and weighing-in ceremonies will be conducted from 1 to 5 p. m. on Feb. 2 in the Texas Tech gym, with representatives of the Amateur Athletic Union and registered physicians on hand.

The price of tickets for the fights has been scaled from 60 cents, with three classes of tickets available. The general admission ducats will cost 60 cents, the grandstand seats will go for $1.20 and ringside seats, which will be less numerous, will sell for $1.80 a seat.

Conference Is Held

These prices include federal tax and will be in effect for each night of the fights. Although this is a slight increase over previous years, it is not as high as several other communities are charging this year and represents the increased cost of living.

Meeting last night to discuss various committees, none of which is certain yet, were Morley Jennings, Parker Prouty, DeWitt Landis, Stumpy Hamilton, Joe Holmes, Wes Youngblood and Joe Kelly.

Youngblood will serve as announcer for the fights, Jennings and Holmes are on the awards committee, Kelly is in charge of publicity and will serve as clerk, Holmes, Landis and Mule Dowell will be in charge of pairings and Jennings is in charge of tickets.

Other committees will be announced as soon as acceptance by individuals concerned has been made.

Twenty New York A. C. athletes have won national senior individual titles within the last five years.

Tech Cagers To Open Series In Arizona

The Texas Tech basketball team opens a three-night road trip with Arizona university providing the opposition tonight in Tucson, Ariz., and the visitors are heavy favorites on the basis of their 65-38 victory over the Wildcats on Friday night.

Coach Polk Robison's 12-man cage squad is making the trip by chartered bus, spending Tuesday night in Lordsburg, N. M., and planning to enter Tucson about noon today. They will limber up during the afternoon for their fifth Border Conference tilt tonight.

The Red Raiders, showing signs that they might be more than just a little troublesome in the Border loop, still regard the defending conference champions with respect. Despite the lopsided defeat here Friday night, the squad knows that Arizona is a well-coached team and will be hard to beat on its home hardwood.

Tomorrow night the Raiders traipse to Tempe, Ariz., where they have a date with the Sun Devils and Friday night they wind up their Arizona invasion with a contest at Flagstaff.

Experts Plan Efficiency For Executive Government Branch

By JAMES C. AUSTIN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (UP)—Former president Herbert Hoover asked and got the best expert help for his commission when it took up the task of planning greater efficiency in the Executive department of government.

Mr. Hoover needs that help. For his 12-man commission must find ways and means, before January 1949, of improving the efficiency of 2,309 units which comprise the government establishment under direction of the White House. These include 10 executive departments, 31 independent offices, seven emergency agencies, and 18 others classified as miscellaneous.

Postal Service Studied

Mr. Hoover has 15 months and $750,000 to do the job. He called in industrial engineers and efficiency experts to aid the commission. Some are paid, others volunteered their services.

The first meeting was held last Sept. 29. Today, just a year before the commission must make its report and recommendations to the 81st Congress, this is the status of the survey:

1. Robert Heller and associates, Cleveland, O., are surveying the Post Office department to see whether they can turn it into a break-even venture. The post office has lost money for years. That survey will cost an estimated $135,000, but may show where millions can be saved:

2. The Brookings Institution is doing a transportation survey for a reported $35,800 fee. It will check the Maritime commission, the Interstate Commerce commission, and the Civil Aeronautics board to see whether their direction of shipping, railroad and bus transportation, and air travel, conflict or overlap in any way.

Competition Scrutinized

3. The Brookings Institution also is preparing a report on the health, education and social security functions of the federal government.

4. Maj. Gen. Arthur H. Carter, a public accountant, will make a study of government experience in competitive business, and report on the form under which such businesses should be conducted.

5. Former undersecretary of treasury Thomas Jefferson Coolidge heads a committee which will report on administrative overlapping and duplication in taxation and grants in aid between federal and state governments.

All this is just a starter. These appointments, the commissioners say, are just a drop in the bucket before the big job is done a year hence. But most are confident that the commission will meet its deadline.

"It will take at least six months to study the Post Office department alone," Rep. Carter Manasco, D., Ala., a commissioner, said. "Of course, our overall goal is to get increased efficiency, and if possible, to save on both personnel and money."

Former Negro Slave, 108 Years Old, Dies At Louisiana Home

NATCHITOCHES, La., Jan. 13 (AP)—Wallace Elkins, negro, 108 years old, probably the oldest resident of the parish, died near Provencal and was buried at Robeline Monday.

Born as a slave in Claiborne county, Miss., on April 15, 1839, with his "white folks," he went to Texas at the fall of Vicksburg.

At the close of the war between the states Elkins joined a railroad construction company, and later worked on the Texas & Pacific railroad, being built from Marshall to New Orleans. His crew finished their part of the road at Derry, twenty miles below Natchitoches.

He then helped build the Victoria Lumber mill near Provencal in Natchitoches parish, and remained there until Victoria became a ghost town after the mill finished its cut.

Elkins last years were spent near Provencal. Until he reached his hundredth year, he was self-sustaining. In his later years he was helped by welfare organizations and white friends.

"Uncle Wallace" had no near relatives.

Employes Retirement Plan Established At Tech For First Time

A new retirement plan officially known as the Employes Retirement System of Texas, has been established at Texas Technological college this year for the first time. The plan, for employes not covered by teacher-retirement, was authorized by the recent state legislature and extends benefits to laborers, janitors and others not previously covered.

Under the plan, employes had 90 days from Sept. 1, 1947 to make up their minds whether to become members of the system or not and if they decided against it they had to sign waivers. After the 90-day period all new employees automatically become members after working nine months.

Five per cent of the salary of each member is deducted up to a maximum of $180 annually. Upon retirement, the state matches the employe's contribution, dollar for dollar.

Conditions Are Stated

The retirement benefits go to the employe under the following conditions: (1) At the age of 60 if he has worked 10 years, (2) employes who may have quit work before the age of 60 if he has worked 20 years (3) at any age under 60 if he has worked 30 years.

Disability benefits go to anyone disabled who has 10 years of service and who has a certification by the medical board that he is incapacitated.

If at any time a member decides to quit work before he is eligible for retirement benefits, he may with draw the money he has paid in plus interest. Those people who were working for the state on Sept. 1, receive credit for prior service.

Three Plans Available

There are three different ways of receiving retirement allowances from which the employe may choose. He may receive the regular maximum service allowance through the rest of his life, a reduced allowance during his life and the life of a beneficiary or a reduced allowance through his life and one half of this amount through the life of a beneficiary.

If the employe should die before retiring, his contribution to the system plus interest go to his beneficiaries or heirs.

So far slightly under half of the employes eligible for membership have signed up for participation in the plan, according to Mrs. Virginia Snelling, who is in charge of its administration at the college. All those who were employed on Sept. 1, will receive a certification of prior service following examination of their record by state officials.

There will ultimately be 100 per cent participation due to the turn over in employment and the mandatory membership after nine months of service. There are approximately 100 positions at Texas Tech which are eligible for the system. State employes, as a whole, will benefit a great deal from this plan and when it reaches full development, and college employees may look forward to security in their old age heretofore unavailable, Mrs. Snelling stated.

A poisonous snake normally loses and replaces its fangs at regular intervals, usually from three to six weeks.

Jaycees Make Plans To Set Up Poll Tax Booths At Schools

A Junior Chamber of Commerce committee of which Ed Smith is chairman announced Tuesday afternoon that Jaycees, assisted by Jaycee-ettes, would operate three poll tax booths the last week of this month at McWhorter school, 2711 First; Senior High school, at Nineteenth and Ave. T; and Chris Harwell school, Forth-second and East Ave. A.

They will be operated Jan. 26 through 31, it was announced, as a convenience to the public, which is commencing to swamp the Lubbock courthouse office of J. B. Johnston, county tax assessor-collector.

Deadline for purchase of poll taxes is Jan. 31.

Conditional Pardon For Former Lubbock Negro Is Announced

A conditional pardon for Robert Clayton, 39-year-old Lubbock negro who was serving a 25-year sentence for murder, was among 10 clemency actions announced by Gov. Beauford H. Jester Tuesday, according to an Associated Press release from Austin.

Clayton was indicted Dec. 19, 1943, on a charge of murder with malice of Cliff Spears, another Lubbock negro, records of the sheriff's office showed.

He was convicted by a 72nd district jury March 2, 1944, and appealed. A mandate from the court of criminal appeals affirming the lower court's judgment was dated Jan. 5, 1945, according to records of District Clerk Royal Furgeson.

Initial clemency for Clayton was granted Aug. 18 and he has been at liberty since then in Austin, the sheriff's office had been informed.

Stablehand Recovering From Gun Wound Inflicted By Setter Dog

PONTIAC, Mich., Jan. 13 (AP)—Bernard Blay, 25, a stablehand, was recovering today from a bullet wound inflicted by a dog.

It wasn't even his dog.

He told sheriff's officers he laid his gun on a table. An English setter, thinking it was about to be fed, became excited and its paws dislodged the gun.

The revolver discharged as it struck the floor and Blay was shot in the arm.

He had been caring for the dog, which is owned by Earl W. Parsons of Birmingham, Mich., the officers said.

Convict Killed In Attempted Prison Break In Carolina

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 13 (U.P.)—One convict fell from the wall of North Carolina's central prison today and died of a broken neck and another was caught 50 yards away in an abortive prison break.

Warden Hugh Wilson said Elmer C. Turner, 38, was killed as he tried to scale the red brick wall of the prison. Turner was serving three sentences including life imprisonment for murder, kidnaping and highway robbery.

Wilson said Hosea Parker, 32-year-old negro serving 65 years for arson and larceny, successfully climbed the wall in a cold rain but was caught when he ran into a prison employe on the other side.

Five Convicts In Break Captured

gun, bound him and fled.

The search at first centered tonight in the Brazos river bottoms, where bloodhounds were turned loose to pick up a trail, and at Houston, to the north, where other escapees had sought refuge in the past.

Some of the state's most desperate criminals are held at the Darrington prison farm, scene of a pre-Christmas hunger strike.

Soon after the mid-afternoon break, the wife of a negro minister at nearby Sandy Point said eight or nine men, armed with a pistol, entered her home and demanded keys for a car outside the house.

When she said she did not have the keys, the men started the car by tampering with the ignition switch and drove away.

One other car was reported stolen at Richmond, 20 miles away.

Lubbock Men Listed

The escape began when the "water boy" approached Guard Luther Dowell on the pretext of offering him a drink of water. He was not hurt and soon freed himself to spread the alarm.

The prisoners still at large serving from two to 60 years, were listed by Capt. J. C. Bourland, assistant warden at the farm, as:

Eldon Lewis Newton, 21, Lubbock, 60 years, from McLennan county, burglary.

Harold Romeo Dove, 18, Terry county, 50 years, murder.

Marion Fowler, 25, Harris county, 20 years, robbery.

Jim Reed, 23, Harris county, 10 years, forgery.

Raymond Glenn Thurmond, 26, Goliad and Bexar counties, 6 burglary.

Albert Yarber, jr., 24, Hill county, seven years, theft.

Area Is Patrolled

Immediately after the break the entire coastal region in South Texas was alerted.

An airplane was put into play at Houston in hopes of spotting the escape cars from the air.

City, county and state police began an intensive patrol of the area in squad cars.

O. B. Ellis, Texas Prison system general manager, who announced the escape from his Huntsville office, went to Darrington to investigate the break and join in directing the search.

Farm Warden David Coers, who only last month was confronted with a three day pre-Christmas "hunger strike" by approximately 250 inmates of the farm, tonight said he had no other definite information on the course of action taken by the prisoners after their escape.

Two Autos Stolen

In Houston, however, police reported two automobiles being stolen, one at Richmond, 20 miles from the Darrington farm, and the other at Sandy Point, near the Brazoria unit of the prison system.

Guard Said Tied Up

Houston police, sheriff's deputies and state highway patrolmen denied a report that an automobile that had been used by three of the men had been found abandoned on a street there.

An unidentified doctor earlier had told police of seeing three men dressed in prison clothing turn at an intersection and head their vehicle toward Galveston.

Coers, tonight, however, said he had received an unconfirmed report that the doctor had mistaken three painters for the convicts.

Coers said the seven prisoners overpowered guard Luther Dowell.

"They bound the guard, took his pistol and horse and fled across a field," the warden said.

"Dowell was not harmed and had no trouble in freeing himself," Coers continued, "but realizing the men had his pistol, he had to give them time to get some distance from him before he attempted to run to the farm office about a mile away."

All available guards were alerted immediately, Coers said, and several took after the prisoners with bloodhounds.

Coers said there had been no trouble at the farm following settlement of the hunger strike, which came to an end when prison officials withheld delivery of Christmas packages and mail.

Houston Makes Plans For Start Of World's Biggest Steer Sale

HOUSTON, Jan. 13 (U.P.)—Houston Fat Stock Show officials, predicting the 1948 edition would see "the world's biggest steer auction," moved swiftly today to complete plans for opening day on Jan. 31.

"We have 939 fat steers registered now," said Ralph Johnston, assistant chairman of the steer auction," "and that means history's biggest steer auction for the 1948 show."

Johnston added that all animals would be adequately housed and there would be no tent exhibits this year.

Police Seek Negro In Auto Incident

Only a four-sided oil hone was believed taken in a burglary of Cathey Packing company at 1507 Avenue A, the sheriff's office was informed Tuesday.

Entrance was gained, sometime between Saturday night and Tuesday morning, through a window in the slaughter room of the plant, it was reported.

Police were still seeking a negro man who fled after an automobile, reportedly stolen, was overturned in a brush with a heavy truck and semi-trailer at Fifteenth and Ave. E at 6:38 a. m. Tuesday.

The car sped along Fifteenth eastward and overturned after brushing the truck-trailer, being driven south on Ave. E, police said. The negro then reportedly fled. The car is owned by Willie Coleman and John Kirby, Lubbock negroes.

A relative, Roberta Coleman and her husband Sam had borrowed the car Monday night, Roberta said in reporting the theft.

Identity of the thief had not been established, police said.

Police were asked to investigate theft of clothing from a car parked at 2418 Nineteenth.

A negro who grabbed the clothing fled eastward down an alley, police were informed.

The sheriff's department said E. B. Barnes, 19, a negro who has been in numerous investigations here, had posted $5,000 bail in connection with a charge that he burglarized the residence of Mrs. Edna Steele on the Slaton highway about two weeks ago.

Pauley To Resign

'three or four months.' The 'research staff' seems to have found out also that I said very much the same thing in a public statement Dec. 15."

Stassen Said "In Retreat"

"Evidently Stassen has decided to make a new 'new discovery.'

"It is obvious he would like to claim credit for bringing about my resignation and again mislead the public."

Pauley and Stassen have engaged in a series of bitter exchanges since Stassen prompted the investigation by a speech last month in which he charged that government "insiders" had made money by trading in foodstuffs.

Pauley's statement tonight added:

"Meanwhile the significant point to Stassen's latest display of fraudulence is the obvious evidence that he is in retreat.

Question Is Hurled

"When I first accused him of uttering, under oath, a series of false statements concerning me, he pointedly evaded the issue.

"So, since he has declined to return before the Senate committee until Jan. 23—and since I doubt that he will return even then—I think I may ask him some more questions from time to time during the interim.

"The first one is this:

"'Do you still pretend, Mr. Stassen, that you have disclosed, or are able to disclose, anything about my commodity transactions—all of which have been completely legal and ethical—that has not already been made known by me to the Senate committee'?"

The Senate committee recessed the investigation after hearing Graham testify today.

Physician Has "Rugged" Day

Graham remarked that he was "sorry" he had said, when his commodity dealings were first disclosed, that he had "lost my socks." He explained that he was thinking of the loss he suffered in stocks.

Graham said he got out of the commodity markets Dec. 18 and then told President Truman about it. He didn't relate his words with the President, but, he added in a low voice:

"It was pretty rugged that day."

The handsome, black-haired physician appeared before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee, headed by Ferguson, which is inquiring into speculation in foodstuffs to see whether those inside the government were using secret knowledge of government commodity purchases in order to profiteer.

Turned To Cotton

Graham testified that he turned to speculation in cotton after President Truman had denounced "gamblers in grain" in a speech Oct. 6 and said they shouldn't be allowed to kick living costs about.

And he acknowledged to the committee that he had been incorrect in stating publicly that he had instructed his broker Oct. 7 to sell his holdings because he "did not wish to have any commodity transactions."

The youthful officer said he did not know that cotton was a commodity, and he thought he was right in a public statement that he had quit the commodity markets. He added he assumed that the President's criticism concerned grains only.

Graham testified he got out of the wheat market right away except for a small holding which was "closed out by the end of October."

Knowledge Of Market Denied

Graham's broker, Harry Brisker, customer's man for the firm of Bache & Co., told the senators that Graham's wheat trading account was held open until Nov. 25, or seven weeks after Mr. Truman's blast, on the basis of a letter authorizing the company to keep contracts open.

Brisker said he can't recall that Graham told him on Oct. 7 to sell his wheat holdings, as Graham says he did. Neither did he recall that the general ever called him and told him to get out of wheat, he said.

Graham painted for the committee a picture of a young man wanting to make some money but worried over his investment in stocks. He turned to his broker for advice on "how to get me out of this hole" and the latter recommended commodities.

He said repeatedly that he knows nothing about the commodity markets even now.

publication May 19, 1907. The paper has been a member of The Associated Press from its start. In 1928 The Times Publishing company acquired The Wichita Falls Record News and continued publication of that morning paper.

The company added a frequency modulation broadcasting station, KTRN, to its service Dec. 23, 1946.

Politically, Howard was a lifelong Democrat. As a boy he had seen his family's fortunes swept away by carpet-baggers in the years following the Civil War. That was the beginning of his uncompromising loyalty to the Democratic party. He actively fought the Ku Klux Klan. In later years he opposed just as vigorously the faction of Democrats in Texas known as the "Texas Regulars."

Active In Demo Party

The Times was the first paper in the United States to advocate the nomination of Woodrow Wilson as the Democratic nominee for President. It was one of the first to advocate the nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Howard was a delegate to the Democratic National conventions which nominated Al Smith in 1928, Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932 and Roosevelt and John Nance Garner in 1934.

President Wilson appointed him postmaster for Wichita Falls, in which position he served for eight years.

The boy who had three years of schooling served four years as a regent of the University of Texas, leading the fight that recovered millions of dollars in oil funds for the university.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Wichita Falls.

One of Howard's employers when he was a printer in Chattanooga, was the then young Adolph Ochs, who was struggling to make good with his shoestring purchase of the Chattanooga Times. Years later after Ochs became publisher of the New York Times the two met in New York and recalled this early day association.

same purpose in 1949.

"We believe," the commission said, "that the United States will be secure in an absolute sense only if the institution of war itself is abolished under a regime of law."

Meanwhile its final 145-page study urged a "double-barreled policy" of attempting to achieve world peace through the United Nations while preparing to defend ourselves if war should come.

The commission urged an immediate start on expansion of the Air Force with modern equipment. The ready-to-fight 70-group air force recommended by the commission would have 6,869 first line aircraft in a total of 12,400 modern planes by Dec. 31, 1949.

There also would be 22 special squadrons, 27 national guard air groups and 34 groups of air reserve. In reserve would be 8,100 modern warplanes by the "target date"—dubbed "A-day"—of Jan. 1, 1953.

The naval arm was described as adequate in size, but needing modern aircraft replacements.

The commission noted that its proposed groups would mean only 700 very heavy bombers for strategic operations, compared with 14,000 bombers employed by the American and British forces in the European theater.

Editor Is Speaker At Post, Seagraves

SEAGRAVES, Jan. 13 (Special)—A discussion of policies and problems in Occupied Germany as given by Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal publications, was attended by approximately 400 persons at the Seagraves High school auditorium here tonight.

Mr. Guy recently returned from a tour of the Occupied Zone of Germany, visits to Trieste, Vienna and Paris.

The talk followed a Rotary club Ladies night banquet in the Seagraves High school cafeteria, attended by approximately 100 persons. Mark Allen, ginner from Loop, was master of ceremonies at this function, at which Mr. Guy also appeared.

Area towns were represented at the gathering in the auditorium. Mr. Guy was introduced by Claude Hearne, Seagraves business man. Also appearing on the program were the 'Westernaires, popular Lubbock quartet composed of R. S. Roberson, bass, Jack Hall, baritone, Bob Hufstedler and Robert Dennis, who alternate as lead and tenor. The quartet presented several numbers before Mr. Guy's talk, numbers during the intermission and one number to close the program.

LUBBOCK EDITOR SPEAKER AT MEETINGS IN POST

POST, Jan. 13 (Special)—Postwar occupation conditions in Germany were described by Chas. A. Guy, editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal publications, to a meeting of Post Rotary club members, a gathering of citizens of the town and high school students and faculty members today.

Mr. Guy was principal speaker at a meeting of the Post Rotary club in the basement of Post Methodist church at noon. Following that meeting, Mr. Guy spoke to members of the club, their wives and others in the auditorium of the church. And at 2 o'clock, the Lubbock editor addressed Post High school students and faculty members at the high school auditorium.

The Labor secretary's plan would provide for a maximum price ceiling only if the commodity is found to be in short supply and its price had risen unreasonably beyond that prevailing in June, 1947. Also, price ceilings could not be lower than the highest price prevailing between June 11, and June 18, 1947, except in cases where there have been decreased costs or market declines.

As for wage controls, in general they would be imposed only over industries where price controls may be established, and a provision would permit correction of any inequities in wage levels that might result between industries and segments of an industry.

The measure would establish a temporary Wage Stabilization board for determination of wage ceilings after negotiation and consultation with labor and management in a given industry had failed of agreement.

Anderson Backs Plan

no beef, pork or lamb would be sent abroad during the first two years of the program.

"Do you mean," asked Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich), "that if we have to have meat rationing, the export program would have no effect?"

"Yes. It has no relationship to this (foreign aid) program," Anderson replied. He said a meat scarcity will result from a "very large slaughter" and a short, high-priced corn crop.

Details Of Plan Explained

While Anderson, who himself has asked for rationing and price control powers, talked to the senators, background details relating to the Marshall plan were given to the House Foreign Affairs committee by Lewis W. Douglas, ambassador to Great Britain.

Marshall, originator of the program which calls for a $6,800,000,000 expenditure in the first 15 months, took a day off and underwent a periodic physical checkup at the Army's Walter Reed hospital.

The Secretary of State plans to leave tomorrow night for Pittsburgh where he will address the chamber of commerce on Thursday.

Senator Ball (R-Minn) said, meanwhile, that a group of about 20 Republican senators has planned a series of meetings to discuss the Marshall plan proposal and possibly to agree on amendments which may be offered when the bill clears the Foreign Relations committee.

Ball said that "a wide variety of views" was expressed by the group when they met informally last night in the apartment of Senator Reed (R-Kas).

Justice Department Seeks Help To Break Up Aluminum Monopoly

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—The Justice department today asked the Supreme Court to help it enforce a 1945 Circuit Court of Appeals ruling that the Aluminum Company of America is a monopoly.

The 1945 ruling directed Federal District court in New York to find that a monopoly existed but instructed the court to wait until the government had disposed of its wartime aluminum plants before determining whether ALCOA should be dissolved.

The company contends this judgment grew out of a government investigation in the 1930's and is now out of date. It has asked the New York district court to rule that no aluminum monopoly exists under present-day conditions, citing spread of the aluminum industry during the war and postwar years.

The government is opposing this move.

Willard Peacock, 2220 Fifteenth, flew to Berkeley, Calif., Tuesday where he will receive medical treatment at the University of California hospital.

Funeral services for J. B. Patterson, 22, will be conducted in Broadway Church of Christ at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, rather than in Sanders Funeral home chapel as originally announced, the funeral home said Tuesday night. Patterson was killed almost instantly in the crash of a truck and a pickup-truck seven and a half miles north of Lubbock on the Plainview highway about 10 o'clock Monday morning. Dr. M. Norvel Young of the church will officiate. Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery.

Arabs, Jews Clash

raiders crossed the Syrian border for a similar assault last week.

The Arabs fled when British troops arrived from the Lebanese border post of Metuliah. No casualties were reported.

Four heavy and four light armored cars and a platoon of paratroopers are "standing by in the area," officials said.

The Jewish squads launched their attack upon the Arab sniping posts on the Sheikh Jarrar area on the outskirts of Jerusalem after midnight and 26 separate explosions reverberated through the city.

New Attacks Reported

Sixteen small houses were damaged and a three-story house was set ablaze by Jews who threw grenades and "Molotov cocktails," informants said. No casualties occurred.

Arab riflemen in the area have throttled traffic between Jerusalem and Jewish institutions on Mount Scopus and the attack was launched in an effort to reopen the route.

The Jews in the old city have been isolated for about three weeks and the agency spokesman said the British army has been requested either to blast open a new gate or reopen one of several Arab-held gates in the wall to enable supplies to reach the Jews.

He said that if the Arabs persist in maintaining road blocks near the old city and posting guards at the gates "a big bang would be the logical outcome."

Developments outside Palestine included the arrival in Beirut of Sobni Khadra, the assistant to the Mufti of Jerusalem, who was under order to visit the capitals of the Arab states in connection with the fighting in Palestine.

At 3:31 a. m., Saltanis was told he could descend to 2,500 feet, and two minutes later he was cleared to the tower. The tower received no acknowledgement when it asked him to report when he descended below 2,500 feet and when he left Mount Vernon.

But the pilot's voice came in again "loud and clear" when the tower asked him at 3:35 for a "one-two-three-four" tuning count so it could tune him in on another receiver.

Then the tower asked Saltanis for the height of the cloud base.

"Stand by," he answered, and that was the last heard on the radio.

A farm couple heard the crash and guided rescuers to the broken airplane.

Collision Of Pullman Train With Trucks Derails Cars

ATLANTA, Jan. 13 (AP)—A heavily-loaded, all-pullman Southern train No. 40, New York to Atlanta, struck two trucks at the suburban Chamblee crossing tonight and "four or five" of the eleven cars were derailed, a dispatcher reported.

Night chief dispatcher R. W. Edwards said first reports indicated there might have been injuries but later information was to the contrary.

"Cooper said some of the passengers in the diner might have been shaken up considerably," Edwards reported. "He did not believe anyone was seriously injured."

An unidentified spokesman at the Atlanta naval air station at Chamblee said the trucks struck by the train belonged to the station and none of the occupants was hurt. He added that one of the trucks had stalled on the crossing and the other was trying to pull it off

British Doing The Best They Can

Handicapped by lack of cash, crippled, economically, by a war in which she bore much of the brunt, Britain has done what she can to revitalize her zone in Germany.

She has some of the coal mines operating and her representatives in the Ruhr can take some satisfaction in the figures which show coal production on the upswing.

Slowly and painfully, Britain has tried to reclaim some of the wrecked plants, so they may go into production of items divorced from war-making but essential to restoration of the German economy.

But Britain doesn't have the strength left to do today all she should do, or wants to do, in the rebuilding of Western Germany. On American shoulders, then, falls added responsibility, so steps are being taken to weld British and American zones together into an integrated Bi-Zonal authority.

It is not Britain's fault that this added responsibility is ours. She is like a man, up from a long illness, who simply can't do a day's work chopping down trees.

We, over here, may not like it—but there is nothing we can do about it.

NO one can spend three days and nights with the British in Germany hear their story and view their problems "on the ground," without coming away with added respect for the "bulldogs of the Tight Little Isle."

They haven't got much to work with in England today. In their occupation, they have even less.

But they aren't crying. Their heads are up. Their chins are firm.

One night while we were in the Ruhr, the British commander gave our group a dinner party. Present were the members of his staff and their ladies.

The food was simple and sparse.

British uniforms, regardless of rank, showed wear.

The ladies were coiffed and prettied up—even as our ladies are under such circumstances—but their evening gowns showed unmistable signs of useage.

Yet, withal, they were merry and they asked no quarter. They were "muddling through," as the British always have done.

I have always been right smart of an Anglo-phobe. I can get as mad as any American over British patronizing airs and the way they slick us up, diplomatically.

Don't Forget The British!

But I saw enough in Europe to convince me that we must stick with England and that England must stick with us. Despite the atom bomb and other new weapons of war, the British Navy continues to be an important line in our own defense; the RAF a worthy ally in the clouds; the British Tommy a staunch backer-upper on the ground.

These conditions, plus the fact that they were our valuable allies in two world wars are what lead me to say to West Texans:

"Help the suffering everywhere in the world, if you will with food and clothing and medicine. But don't forget the British. Until England wins the Battle of Austerity, Britons should be at the top—or close to it—on our list of those to whom we extend a friendly, helping hand."

THE Gods of Fate must be chuckling these days as they look down upon the old Krupp Villa in Essen and see British uniforms passing under the great painting of the Krupp family, which still hangs in the Grand Hall of one of the most expensive residences on the face of the earth. For the British are using the longtime home of the Krupps as their GHQ in the Ruhr and as living quarters, too, for part of their general staff.

No longer do the great drawingrooms, the formal diningroom which could seat 150 guests, or the sprawling suites upstairs ring to "Seig Heil," or to folksongs celebrating the House of Krupp von Bohlen und Halmach. Instead, softer voices call "Gentlemen, the King!," or "Wot sy, old chap, we have a cup of tea?"

There is, there must be, justice in the world—even though it sometimes is slow in raising its head!

(TOMORROW: The powder keg of Europe is beautiful and graceful Trieste, on the blue Adriatic, where American and British troops face the Yugoslavs in a new "Free State." Tomorrow Mr. Guy will describe conditions there, where West meets East, politically, in the closest contact the U. S. and England have with a stooge of Joe Stalin.)

Train Smashup Near Greenville Severs Man's Leg Below Knee

HUGHES SPRINGS, Tex., Jan. 13 (AP)—A Louisiana and Arkansas railroad work train smashed into the rear of an extra freight on a siding near Hughes Springs early tonight, injuring one man seriously.

J. D. Nix of Greenville, Tex., conductor on the freight, had a leg severed below the knee. He was taken by ambulance to Greenville.

L. A. Bray, jr., of Greenville, engineer on the work train, suffered a minor leg hurt.

The caboose of the freight was demolished, the engine of the work train badly damaged, and two cars of the freight were derailed.

Railroad men here estimated about six hours would be required to clear the track.

Principal speaker of the evening was Rev. William H. Shropshire, pastor of the First Christian church at Sweetwater.

Installation ceremonies were presided over by W. C. Rylander, secretary of Lubbock Kiwanis club. Garnet Reeves, member of the Lubbock club also attended the banquet.

Millions, Billions Slightly Confuse Aid Program Experts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—The men who are threshing over the Marshall plan for European recovery are having trouble keeping their billions and millions straight. For instance:

Lewis Douglas, ambassador to Britain, testified to the House Foreign Affairs committee that the National Research council estimates a semi-starvation diet is "a million six-hundred and fifty thousand calories a day. No, sixteen-hundred and fifty thousand." He finally settled for 1,650.

A few minutes later, Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) talked about the 16 countries that would get American aid:

"These 16,000,000 countries," he began.

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTION 23 OF ORDINANCE NO. 564, ENTITLED "AN ORDINANCE CREATING AND DEFINING PARKING METER ZONES IN THE CITY OF LUBBOCK, TEXAS; PROVIDING FOR THE INSTALLATION, OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE OF MECHANICAL DEVICES TO REGULATE PARKING IN SAID PARKING METER ZONES; PROVIDING FOR THE COLLECTION OF REGULATORY AND INSPECTION FEES FOR THE USE OF SUCH DEVICES; PROVIDING FOR THE DEPOSIT OF SUCH FEES BY THE TREASURER IN A SPECIAL FUND; PROVIDING FOR THE METHOD AND PURPOSE OF DISBURSEMENT OF SAID FUND; MARKING IT UNLAWFUL TO USE THE STREETS OR PORTIONS OF THE STREETS SO DESIGNATED FOR PARKING EXCEPT THROUGH USE OF PARKING METERS; DEFINING WHAT ACTS SHALL BE UNLAWFUL AND FIXING PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF THE PROVISIONS OF THIS ORDINANCE, AND REPEALING ORDINANCE NO. 558, AND ALL ORDINANCES AND PARTS OF ORDINANCES IN CONFLICT HEREWITH," SO THAT AN ADDITIONAL PARKING METER ZONE IS BY THIS AMENDMENT HEREBY DESIGNATED AND ESTABLISHED TO EMBRACE THE SOUTH SIDE OF MAIN STREET BETWEEN AVENUE "G" AND TEXAS AVENUE AND THE EAST SIDE OF TEXAS AVENUE BETWEEN MAIN STREET AND BROADWAY AND THE NORTH SIDE OF BROADWAY FROM AVENUE "H" TO TEXAS AVENUE.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF LUBBOCK, TEXAS:

Section 1. That an additional one hour parking meter zone, BE, and the same is hereby designated and established in the City of Lubbock, Texas. Said parking meter zone shall embrace the following streets in the City of Lubbock, Texas, to wit:

(a) South side of Main Street from Avenue "G" to Texas Avenue.

(b) East side of Texas Avenue between Main Street and Broadway.

(c) North side of Broadway between Avenue "H" and Texas Avenue.

Section 2. That each of the said streets and avenues and particularly that part of said streets and avenues referred to herein and set out in Section 1 above, are shown and outlined on the map and plat of the Original Town of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, which map and plat is of record in the Deed Records of Lubbock County, Texas, and reference is here made to the map and plat for all purposes.

Section 3. All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith and applying to that portion of the streets and avenues named in Section 1 of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Section 4. It is not intended by this amendment to change or amend Ordinance No. 564, except as herein expressly provided as to establishing and creating an additional parking meter zone under Section 23 and all of the provisions of Ordinance No. 564, including penalties, shall apply to this amendment.

Section 5. That any person, firm or corporation who shall violate, or aid or abet another to violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall upon conviction be deemed guilty of an offense and shall be fined in any sum not to exceed ONE HUNDRED ($100.00) DOLLARS.

AND IT IS SO ORDERED.

Passed and approved first reading this 11 day of December, 1947.

AN unpleasant fact in connection with the President's estimate of government income during the fiscal year beginning next July 1, is that his figures are unworthy of credence. His estimate last year was so far from accurate that the more recent one is under suspicion.

His first estimate last year was that the government's income would approximate $32,900,000,000. This, he insisted, would be just enough to get by. It was credited with being the most decisive argument in Mr. Truman's successful effort to prevent tax reductions.

Income actually has exceeded the estimate by an almost fantastic margin. A recent Treasury report placed the figure at $45,200,000,000 with a strong prospect that this would have to be revised upward. In other words, Mr. Truman was low by more than $12,000,000,000—about 37 per cent. Nothing can explain an error of that magnitude except that Mr. Truman deliberately made his estimate as low as possible so as to discourage tax reductions. Instead of presenting a factual forecast, he used his message for high-tax propaganda purposes.

Now, in proposing the most gigantic peacetime budget in the history of any nation in the world, he estimates receipts at about $44,477,000,000 based on present taxation. This certainly looks more reasonable than his first estimate last year. Probably he would not have dared to risk a forecast too low this year in the light of his absurd miss for 1948.

But, if confidence can be placed in the probable accuracy of the figure, Mr. Truman can claim little of the credit. His record as to last year simply does not permit confidence that he would supply an expected estimate if a distortion might help the administration to maintain taxes at their present astronomical levels.

Little Hope Here

HOPES for the worst for Josef Stalin always are widespread when reports get around, as they did recently, that he is dead or critically sick with cancer. The rumors started when Dr. Elis Berven, Swedish cancer specialist, was called suddenly to Moscow. But Dr. Berven says his patient was not Stalin, and there seems little reason to doubt him.

But such rumors, recurrent for years, always cause speculation as to what would happen in Russia if Stalin should die. Would a bloody struggle for leadership precipitate internal chaos? Could anyone other than Stalin hold the Soviet together? Would Russia be less of a menace?

Unhappily, observers agree almost unanimously none of the things would be likely to happen, at least immediately. The Communist organization is knit so closely they believe the old regime would continue without apparent surface interruption, regardless of the identity of the titular head of the party and the government.

Similar speculations occurred in the early 1920's when Lenin, founder and head of the present Soviet, was known to be incurably ill. Doubt as to whether his government could survive his death was much more serious than now. The Soviet was not as strong as now by a great deal. Hatred between Trotzky, regarded as Lenin's heir apparent, and Stalin, was intense. When Lenin died in 1924, Stalin moved first and seized power. Trotzky, regarded as the abler man of the two, became an exile and eventually was assassinated in Mexico.

So, despite wishful hoping, Stalin's death, or incapacitation, probably wouldn't make much difference. Informed opinion is that, regardless of the identity of his successor, the Soviet probably would continue as just as much a menace to world security as it is now.

If a person says, "I'm as patriotic as anybody, but . . ."—he isn't.

This Is Happy

BY PEGGY DERN
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

XXVI

THE white azaleas were gone, but the petunias were flourishing, and yellow calendulas now made a bright, soft border around them. Happy, to whom the terrace was still a favorite spot, half lay, half sat in a big wicker chair, her eyes on the sweep of lawn that dropped to the edge of the stream.

It was late afternoon, and she had begged off from a round of calls with Joyce and Madelaine. Save for the servants, she was alone in the house; or thought she was, until she heard a footstep and looked up to see George coming toward her, smiling.

"Hello! My word, but you look comfortable—and prettier than ever. Mind if I sit down? Or would you rather be alone?"

Happy smiled at him.

"Don't be a goof. Of course I don't want to be alone; I'm just lazy!" She forced herself to sound pleasant and gay, though as a matter of fact she did want very much to be alone, as she had every hour since Steve went away. But she couldn't very well tell George that.

He dropped into a chair beside her and stretched out his long legs and heaved a vast sigh.

"Boy, am I tired!" he said contentedly. "It's been a swell day and we got a lot of work accomplished—hello, what's that?"

It came again, a peculiar dry, whirring sort of noise, a little like the noise of a brisk wind rattling the palmettos, and yet oddly different. There was in it, despite her ignorance of what caused the sound, a chilling premonition for Happy.

They heard it again, and now George was on his feet, moving swiftly across the grass toward the creek. Happy followed him, puzzled and oddly uneasy.

George stopped so short, with a hand flung out behind him, that Happy trod on his heels. His hand held her still and signaled her sharply to silence. Again that ominous, whirring sound came, and Happy, following the direction of George's eyes, caught her breath in a soundless gasp.

FOR Timmy was poised as though carved from stone, his amber eyes fixed on a clump of palmettos just out of Happy's range of vision. Soundlessly, George moved a step and Happy followed him—and a sick horror bubbled in her throat. For lifted just above the thick underbrush that stood not more than two or three inches high, she saw the flat, ugly head, the flickering tongue, of a rattlesnake!

The hair at the back of her neck crawled.

"Oh, no George—no! He'll be killed!" Happy tried to move but George's arms caught her and held her close.

The cat and the snake were oblivious to them. The whirring noise now had a queer sound of desperation, but Timmy did not so much as flicker a whisker. He was rigid, poised, waiting— Suddenly the snake swayed and Timmy, a flash of golden fur, struck with lightning-like speed. Happy gave a deep groan and hid her face against George's shoulder as blackness swept over her . . .

When she came to, she was back in the wicker chair, and George was kneeling beside her, forcing brandy between her clenched teeth, and looking—her clearing senses told her with a feeling of shock—a little annoyed, almost disgusted.

Memory came over her and she struggled elect, crying out wildly, "Timmy—where is he? What happened?"

"Timmy's fine; highly pleased with himself. And why not? He made his kill, and has won his hunter's right!" George said sharply.

But Happy shuddered and hid her face in her hands and fought down nausea that threatened her.

GEORGE stood up at last and looked down at her, his hands in his pockets, a little frown on his brow. "Happy, aren't you being pretty silly about this?" he said curtly. "Timmy's only a cat, after all."

Happy flung up her head, her eyes blazing.

"Oh, of course, he's only a cat to you! But to me, he's—he's my family; the only thing I've got to love and that gives me love in return," she flashed.

"That's not quite true, Happy. Oh, perhaps it was true once," George added swiftly. "But not since you came to Sundown. You know perfectly well that I love you; I think if you'd let yourself, you could love me. I'm asking you to marry me, Happy."

Happy looked out over the lovely scene, and for the second time felt something dark and evil and mysterious stirring ever so faintly beneath the surface of beauty.

"No, thanks," she said, far more curtly than she had meant, to speak. And realized, too late, how rude and ungracious she had been. She flushed miserably. "I'm sorry."

George stood straight and tall, his eyes cold.

"Why should you be sorry? It's my privilege to ask you, yours to refuse; so what occasion is there for regret?" His voice was as curt as hers had been. "Perhaps, though, this was scarcely the time or the place for me to present my question." His manner softened. "I am very much in earnest, Happy. I want to marry you; I believe that I can make you happy; I'd try very hard. I am leaving in the morning, very early, and I shan't be back for a day or two. Just think it over and have an answer ready for me when I get back. Will you do that?"

"I—yes, George, of course," she said, and tried not to shrink as he bent his head and kissed her cheek lightly.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

THERE was a very clever cartoon in my newspaper this morning.

It was a picture of an office, and a little man was sitting by the desk, waiting for the man he had come to see to return from wherever he had gone.

On the wall hung a framed motto. In large letters there was one word—"THINK."

BRANDEIS

The visitor looked quite indignant, and said to himself (according to the balloon): "Uh-er—but it doesn't say WHAT I'm to think about! Weather? Politics? Russia? Cost of living.

I wonder how many of us really THINK.

When you look at the shape the world is in, it seems that there is very little real thinking going on.

Don't imagine that just sitting, staring into space and thinking that you are thinking is really thinking.

What is thinking?

Let me give you a little idea of what thinking really means—because you will need to do a whole lot of it during the coming months.

One of my favorite dictionary definitions of the word is "to reflect for the purpose of reaching a conclusion."

The trouble with most conclusions, however, is that they are formed without thinking.

Thinking has made America what it is today.

Lack of thinking can unmake it tomorrow.

BUT what can my little thoughts contribute to the weal or the woe of the world?" you may ask.

This is a democracy, dear friend, and your own thoughts multiplied by the many millions of others' will either preserve and advance, or retard and destroy, this democracy.

It is your thoughts expressed in your vote that create our government.

It is your thoughts expressed in your communications to him that will make your Congressman and your Senator toe the mark.

High taxes and high prices are caused by your lack of thinking, multiplied again by the lack of thinking of millions of others.

Our foreign policy is shaped not by those in the State Department but by you.

If there is to be another war it will come because you have failed to think properly and to put your thoughts into action.

You are the master of your fate, as the poet said, but you must first be the captain of your soul—and of your thoughts.

Do you want peace and happiness?

Then THINK and ACT according to your thoughts!

SOLONS SAID ON SPOT

Voters Up In Arms

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—President Truman has a moody, worried and restless pack of legislators on his hands at a result of their holiday sojourn among the home folks. They report that never before have they found their constituents so excited and angry over such practical problems as groceries, rents, taxes, prices and veterans.

TUCKER

These bread-and-butter realities have shoved such questions as the Marshall Plan, the United Nations, the atom bomb and our unhappy relations with Russia into the background. While they deplore the way the world wags, and wonder whether it is heading into another global conflict—and when—they are far more troubled by domestic concerns.

Many forecast their own defeat next fall unless the current session can do something to reduce living costs, produce more and cheaper homes, lower taxes, broaden the social security program, provide more health, educational and general welfare services.

APPEAL: The politicos also discovered, to their amazement, that Henry A. Wallace's candidacy commands more interest and curiosity than they had supposed at the time of his announcement. Although there is a general inclination to regard him as an "eccentric," he serves as a voice for their own discontent.

He seems to make an appeal to groups in the lower income brackets who have no ready way of expressing themselves. He has aroused their latent but definite feeling that their leaders at Washington are falling down on the major postwar tasks.

Even though the former Vice-President may not be able to throw a Congressional ticket into the field, incumbents have an uneasy feeling that his entry may damage them.

In their opinion, people inclined to cast their ballot for him may not bother to vote for candidates lower down on the list. Such neglect could be disastrous in more than a hundred marginal districts, and especially to the Democrats.

MOOD: This querulous state of mind among the electorate has had the effect of loosening up the legislators in an attempt to "appease" it, President Truman recognized the need for meeting and alleviating the grievances in his message on the state of the union, while the Republicans will present their own measures of relief as their legislation program unfolds.

The White House reaction to this mood was largely responsible for Mr. Truman's belated acceptance of an abbreviation of the Marshall Plan for aid to Europe, both as to the time and the amount. It also accounts for the report that he may look more kindly on 1948 tax generosity to lowpaid workers, even if it necessitates a hike in the upper corporation rates.

REMEDIES: Mr. Truman's attitude toward enactment of expanded social and economic legislation has also become more earnest and energetic. While he had proposed these remedies in the past, he had not thrown his influence behind them as whole-heartedly as he has now. The same consideration applies to Republican Senate Leader Taft, although he favors milder and more limited measures in these fields.

Under the pressure of these domestic burdens, and with Mr. Wallace acting as a volunteer gadfly-at-large to both major parties, including Congressional and presidential candidates, the session may develop into a race to see which side can do more for Mr. Wallace's "common man" who has not yet found the twentieth century to be the millennium it had been promised to be.

UNEASINESS: The M.C.'s report that they also discovered another form of uneasiness which may hamper the Eisenhower and MacArthur candidates, as well as prevent action at this session on President Truman's demand for universal military training. The people back home fear, somewhat vaguely and indefinitely, that the army state of mind is too prevalent and powerful in both our foreign and domestic policies.

Our demand for retention of permanent bases in Panama, for instance, surprised and upset them. They were even more amazed when the plan to increase the Marine complement on warships in the Mediterranean disclosed that the United States maintains such a large fleet in those far waters.

Neither move marks a new policy, but only recently have they come to realize the potentially disturbing implications and responsibilities of our broad, postwar, foreign policy.

While they do not question the peaceful intentions of the top men at Washington, they have taken note of the number of West Pointers and Naval Academy figures who occupy policy-making posts in the executive and diplomatic families. It has led them to wonder whether their presence in high places and our military excursions in various parts of the world are mere coincidence.

MARGARINE: "I have seen many newspaper editorials demanding repeal of margarine taxes and restrictions since the appearance of your and other articles on the subject," writes A.F.S. of Brooklyn. "Is there any sign that they may be rescinded so that we may obtain a cheaper table spread?"

Answer: I do not want to appear too optimistic, but I note evidence that public sentiment, as expressed in newspaper articles, editorials and letters to the editor, is being awakened. Capitol Hill mail also complains heavily about artificial, man-made burdens on butter's rival.

Several states have indicated that they may lift their own penalties, although that would still leave the federal restrictions operative. I note, too, that some states are talking of eliminating laws or regulations which prevent the use of margarine in their institutions.

Since hospitals, schools and similar establishments cannot afford butter because of their budget and the high prices, the original reason for imposing these barriers has disappeared. That is the argument for the change.

But, as I wrote, the really effective factor for possible repeal is the rapidly increasing production of soy beans—its oil is now a chief ingredient of margarine—in the farm areas. It will be hard for members to resist demands that they increase the market for the profitable bean.

A woman is seldom satisfied with the last word. She takes the last few hundred of them.

You can tell when things level off. There will be more consumer goods than consumers.

Maybe it's a good thing we have political years. It enables the manufacturers to dispose of their worst brand of cigars.

Many a man enjoys relative prosperity by living off his relatives.

Robinson Crusoe should have been happy on that island. His man Friday didn't expect a tip everytime he did something.

ATTACK ON BUDGET SCORED

Defense Spending Proves Costly

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, — Sometimes cold figures can tell a story or point up a situation far more vividly than can the most gifted artist of pen or brush.

President Truman gave a few such simple figures in his budget message to Congress when he said:

"The expenditures of the federal government are still inescapably dominated by war and its aftermath. In the fiscal year 1949, 79 per cent of our expenditures directly reflect the costs of war, the effects of war, and our efforts to prevent a future war: national defense, international affairs, veterans' benefits, interest on the public debt, tax refunds."

STOKES

Then he stated the moral:

"This should be a sobering thought to all of us as we strive for the creation of lasting peace among the nations of the world."

Costs Of Wars Noted

Then he added this to the moral:

"Only 21 per cent of our expenditures finance the government's programs in the broad area of: Social welfare, housing, education, research, agriculture, natural resources, transportation, finance, commerce, industry, labor, general administration."

In other words, 79 cents out of every tax dollar goes for past wars and protection against possible future wars, and 21 cents for the other things that the government does to help improve conditions among our people.

We are, as the President points out, "inescapably" committed to this burden of past wars, and, as things are in the world just now, equally committed to protect ourselves from a future war. But we are now "inescapably" bound to go into another war if, as the President suggests, we take time out to ponder the situation that his figures tell so graphically and then go on to do, and demand that our leaders do, the things necessary to prevent another war.

This is a matter for the head more than for the heart. This calculation for our survival and the survival of our children can be, and should be, just as cold as the cold and grim figures the President submitted, cold enough to cool off the emotions which lead to wars.

For only a small part every year of the 11-odd billions that the budget provides for national defense alone for the 1949 fiscal year beginning next July 1, for instance, we could do some of the things that need to be done which were outlined by the President as a 10-year program of social welfare in his message to Congress a few days ago.

Changes Are Scored

The budget analysis puts a somewhat different light on the storm of criticism heaped on that program to the effect that it would "bankrupt" the nation. If there's going to be any bankruptcy, it looks like we'll have to charge it to war. It makes one suspect that the "bankruptcy" cry had other than the purest of motives. Could it be that some people just didn't like the social welfare measures that the President proposed?

As a matter of cold fact, as the budget shows, the total recommended for additional social-welfare measures, what might be called "new" projects—measures other than those long established and approved by Congress—is only a tiny part of the $40 billion total budget, $468 million or about one-ninety-fifth.

These "new" projects break down as follows: For a national system of health insurance, $15 million; for increased subsistence payments for the aged and other groups, $100 million; for a long-range housing program, $27 million; for federal aid to the states to improve educational facilities, now terribly inadequate, $300 million; for a national science foundation, $15 million, and for radio propagation facilities for bureau of standards research, $1 million.

That hardly looks like "bankruptcy."

Our nation could do even better every year.

Unmanned Rail Rocket-Powered Sleds Surpass Speed Of Sound

MUROC AIR BASE, Calif., Jan. 13 (AP)—Cracking of the wall of sound by unmanned rocket-powered sleds which streaked over railroad tracks at more than 1,000 miles an hour has been disclosed by Northrop aircraft engineers.

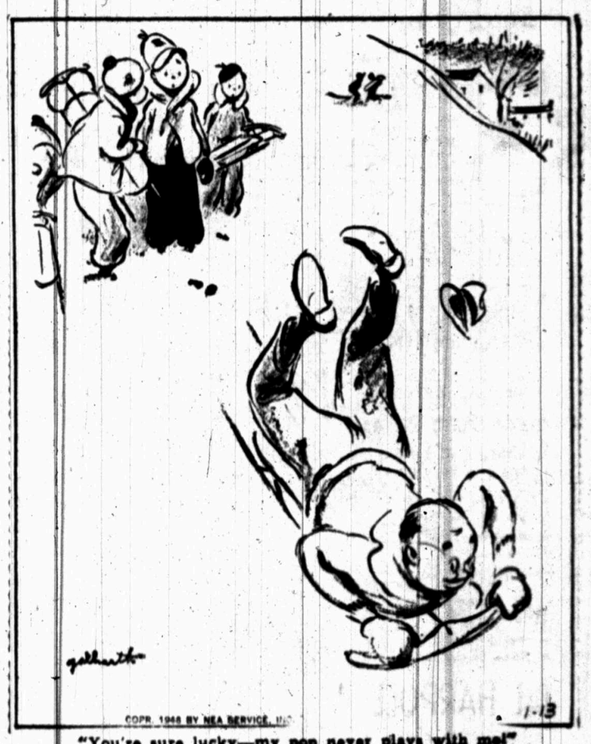

The sleds were propelled in secret experimental runs over 2,000 feet of standard-gauge track in less than two seconds to break through the 763 M. P. H. (sea level) sonic barrier. Tests were started 15 months ago.

The 1,500-pound sleds were powered by five solid-fuel rockets, each developing 10,000 pounds of thrust for 1.8 seconds.

Northrop engineers said the rocket sled reached a speed of 1,012 M. P. H. in the first test Sept. 20, 1946. The fastest run of 1,019 M. P. H. was recorded last March 7.

The vehicles slide on magnesium "slippers," flanged to fit over the rails.

Many Voters Now Favor Proposal To Cut Nation's Income Taxes

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 13—In reversing his last year's stand against tax relief, President Truman is reflecting a changed attitude on the part of the nation's voters toward income taxes.

Last June, when the President twice turned thumbs down on Republican tax slashing proposals, 53 per cent of the nation's voters polled by the Institute felt that the public debt should be reduced before the taxes were lowered. Only 38 per cent voted for tax cuts.

GALLUP

Today, with the tax question destined to be a hot issue in the presidential campaign, the situation is almost exactly reversed. Now slightly more than half the voters feel individual citizens should receive "cost of living" cuts in tax loads despite the urgent need to aid Europe and reduce the public debt. However the preponderence of sentiment for tax cuts is still not overwhelming.

A nationwide survey of representative voters just completed by the Institute asked this question:

"Some people say we should reduce income taxes now because of the high cost of living. Others say we should not reduce taxes now because we must give food and other aid to Europe and reduce our national debt first. What is your opinion on this—do you think income taxes should or should not be reduced now?"

Should	51%
Should not	36
No opinion	13

A similar question asked last spring brought this response:

Should Reduce Taxes	38%
Should Not	53
No Opinion	9

Taxpayers are feeling the pinch of payments to the government, as living costs rise weekly to new heights. An Institute poll reported earlier this month showed more than half now think their income taxes are too high.

In recent years — particularly the war years—the majority of Americans showed a willingness to pay high taxes when the need was clearly demnostrated. The price squeeze evidently has helped change the majority outlook; at any rate the argument most respondents give for tax reduction is that high living costs make it necessary for individuals to have relief.

Politically speaking, the desire for tax reduction is proportionately greater among Republicans than Democrats. Of the former, 57 per cent want taxes lowered, while only 46 per cent of Democrats vote that way.

The public debt today is around 256 billion dollars, or three billion less than a year ago. The peak was reached at the end of February last year when it hit 278 billion dollars. Last year individuals paid 18.7 billion dollars in taxes to the Federal government and corporations 31.2 billion.

Under President Truman's proposal individual taxes on 1948 incomes would be cut $40 across the board plus a $40 credit for each dependent. The resulting reduction in government revenues of 3.2 billion dollars, he said, might be raised by higher levies on corporations.

Harold Knutson, Republican congressman from Minnesota, and chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, has introduced a bill to reduce taxes by 5.6 billion dollars.

Plans To Enlarge Methodist School Here Is Announced

Dr. C. A. Bickley, pastor of Asbury Methodist church at Twentieth and Ave. T, has announced that the church has plans to enlarge a church school which is already in operation as part of the plan of Bishop Charles C. Selecman for operation of Protestant parochial schools in Methodist church plants throughout the Northwest Texas conference.

A kindergarten class has been in operation at Asbury for several months, under direction of Mrs. Leo Weaver, the announcement said. The pastor said he and other church leaders are working with the education committee on a plan to enlarge the classes to meet suggestions made by Bishop Selecman last fall and again recently at the conference school of evangelism here.

The bishop had suggested use of annexes and educational plant facilities at the various churches for courses on three levels that would supplement public school work, with emphasis on religious education. He suggested classes three afternoons each week on primary, junior and senior levels.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

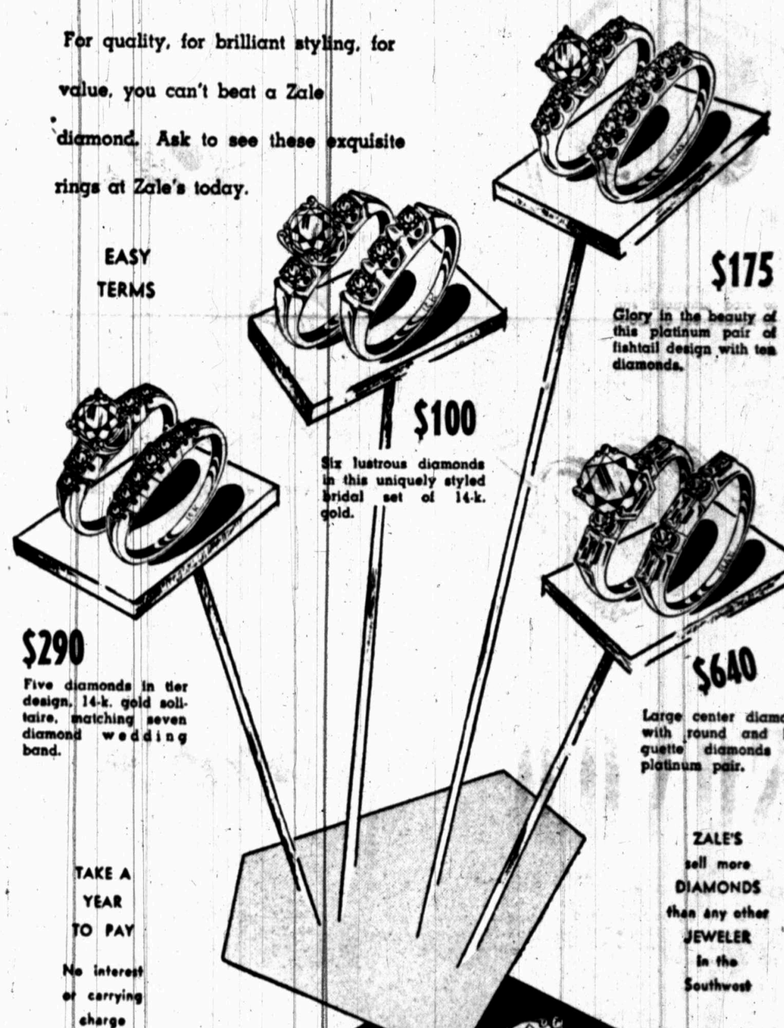

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Tech Student Council Will Not Join National Association

At a regular meeting, Monday, the student council of Texas Technological college voted not to join the United States National Student Association, Bill Nugent, president of the council announced Tuesday.

The reason given, for voting against membership was the vagueness of the objectives of the national organization. In a letter to Leo S. Goodman, regional president, Nugent stated, however, that "The student council at Texas Tech is very much interested in the potentialities of NSA and would like to be informed of its activities and progress."

"We will probably continue to send observers to the annual NSA conventions and after watching the progress made by the organization we may decide to join it," he said.

Texas Tech sent a group of delegates and observers to the 1947 annual convention of the NSA which was held in Dallas on the campus of Southern Methodist University Dec. 6-7. Delegates were all members of the student council.

Contract For Tech Bookstore Building Given Lubbock Firm

A contract for construction of additional storage and office space for the Texas Technolgoical college bookstore involving the expenditure of $27,215 has been awarded to the Sampson Brothers Construction company of Lubbock, W. T. Gaston, business manager at the college revealed Tuesday.

The addition to the present building structures will be built onto the east and south sides and will increase the floor space in the building by about 30 per cent. Office space will be added on the south side to the right of the main entrance, and the present office space will be used for storage purposes.

Not only will the addition create more storage space for books, but will make a larger display system possible and increase the counter length, thus facilitating the handling of students buying books at registration time Gaston said.

Construction is expected to begin about Feb. 15, but that is merely a tentative date and may be subject to change, Gaston stated.

Jury Answers Special Issues In Divorce Action In City

A 99th district court jury answered 11 special issues when it reported shortly before 6 p. m. Tuesday to Judge G. V. Pardue in the divorce and property settlement action of Margie Best against Jimmie Best.

The jury had been selected Monday morning. It was composed of Charles L. Smith, A. E. Hindman, Floyd Edwards, E. C. Westerman, foreman, H. Y. Rhodes, W. M. Kimbrell, R. M. Shepard, Clifford Youngblood, Virgil F. Young, John C. Fowler, Douglas Wilson, and C. S. Wales.

Mrs. Best was represented by the law firm of Croslin and Pharr, the defendant by the firm of Anderson and Howard. Mrs. Best lives in Lubbock, the defendant in Haskell county.

RECIPE FOR SUCCESS

NEW YORK (UP)—J. Wilbur Lewis, 55, who started his banking career as a $500-a-year office boy in 1911, took office Jan. 1 as the president of the Union Dime Savings Bank, an institution with 143,000 depositors. He attributed his success to a habit of "always learning something more than my job required."

SPEEDBOAT PLAYFUL

CHICAGO (UP)—A speedboat swerved and threw Miss Georgia Brooks into Lake Geneva, Wis., the National Safety Council reports. Then it veered again, tossed her 10 feet into the air and caught her neatly on its prow.
