Hal Collins Threatens Preacher With "Bust In the Nose"

Hal Collins, candidate for governor, in a speech on the courthouse square in San Marcos Tuesday at noon, before a crowd estimated at about 250 people was challenged during his speech by Rev. Charles E. Marshall, pastor of the San Marcos Methodist church, when he made the statement, in substance, that "Governor Coke Stevenson, when he was speaker of the House of Representatives, was directly responsible for bringing back to Texas horse racing and gambling."

Mr. Marshall, a member of the audience, challenged the statement after it had been made the second time and said in a tone loud enough to be heard by the speaker, "He didn't do it." Collins paused and asked him to repeat his statement which the Rev. Marshall did.

Collins, angrily replied, "You dirty-shirted bum, I'll come down there and smash your nose," and added "You just wait around here until I get through my speech and I'll meet you anywhere."

The exchange of words brought out several members of Collins' cowboy band who rushed toward Mr. Marshall, who stood his ground and a number of friends of the minister threw a protecting cordon around him and turned the group back with a few low-spoken but firm words.

Although the minister remained in the audience until after Collins finished his address, the speaker showed no evidence of carrying out his promise to "meet him somewhere."

In commenting on the occurrence afterward, Rev. Marshall said he regretted the incident, but added that he could not stand by and hear a speaker vilify anyone, more especially the governor of Texas, who he considered his friend.

Collins was followed by Senator O'Daniel who made a short address. Part of their speeches were broadcast over a Texas radio hookup from San Marcos.

Cemetery Ass'n Meet Held June 25

PRESIDENT RESIGNS; DAUGHTER APPOINTED

The Sonora Cemetery Association held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Jane Hamilton's last Thursday evening, June 25th. All members of the board were present: Mrs. Hamilton, president, Mrs. Mae Sawyer, Mrs. Dona Stites, Mrs. Lula Karnes, Joe Berger and H. V. Stokes, secretary.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved which included paying all current accounts and at which Mr. Kisselberg, the caretaker, was given a raise in salary.

A general discussion of the problems of the Cemetery was held and it was found that the Cemetery is in excellent condition, that improvements are steadily being made and that all parts of it are being taken care of in a good manner.

It developed in the discussion that for the first time in our history a Negro has been buried in the local Cemetery. Joe Berger and H. V. Stokes were appointed to work toward setting aside land for a Negro burial plot.

After many years of service as a member of the Sonora Cemetery Association, Mrs. Lula Karnes tendered her resignation. With regrets Mrs. Karnes' resignation was accepted and her daughter, Mrs.

Naval Plan for Young Men Is Explained

GRADUATES TO BE GIVEN CHANCE AT COLLEGE

New Orleans—With registration of all young men from 18 to 20 years of age imminent under the Selective Service Act, attention was focused today on the Navy's V-1 program which enables young men to continue in school and prepare themselves to serve their country at the same time.

Recruiting officers pointed out that the V-1 plan of enlistment is the Navy's long-range officer procurement program. Under amendments to the original Selective Service Act, the Army may call in those in the 20-year group for service at once.

Young men, who recently graduated from high school and who intend to enter college, may enlist in the V-1 program and continue their studies. At the end of two years of college, the Navy will determine if the student should remain in school working toward a degree or go on active duty in the Navy. Upon enlistment and entering college, youths are given an opportunity to choose a branch of the service, such as assignment with the fleet or to the air service.

The point was stressed that the V-1 plan is "an opportunity of a life time for young men," and recruiting officers urged them and their parents to make an investigation about the manner in which it operates. Many accredited colleges in the South are co-operating with the Navy in this long-range setup. Full information may be obtained from the college deans or at any recruiting station.

STATE AND COUNTY OFFICIALS WARNED OF UNOFFICIAL USE OF TIRES

State and county officials whose duties make them eligible to apply for tire purchase or recapping certificates were reminded today by Mark McGee, Texas OPA administrator, that they become ineligible if their tires are used for non-official purposes.

"Reports are coming to this office from many sections of the state that the cars of sheriffs, deputies, constables, and other eligible cars have been seen at political rallies, loaded with passengers who obviously were not on official business," Mr. McGee said.

"Under a strict and patriotic interpretation of tire rationing rules, we must ask for the co-operation of all such public officials, and request them not to take advantage of public and official eligibility for tires by using those tires for such a purpose."

Mr. McGee already has appealed to political candidates in the five most heavily populated counties of Texas to forego political rallies this year, in order to conserve tires. In at least three of these counties—Tarrant, Dallas and Travis counties—the candidates have agreed.

Nan Karnes Shelton was appointed to succeed.

The Sonora Cemetery is maintained by taxation and is administered by the above named board. It is operated under a very strict budget and has steadfastly been maintained and improved with less than one half the tax rate provided for it.

CONDEMNNS MISSIONS—Writer Praises Texas Indians

TRUSTS INDIANS ABOVE SPANIARDS

Although some writers seem to have thought the Indians of Texas as unusually savage, at least one traveler during the period of the American Revolution considered their behavior "very decent."

During the course of a five-year trip around the world, a Monsieur De Pages, captain in the French Navy and corresponding member of the Paris Academy of Science, visited Texas, and traveled to San Antonio and then across the Rio Grande into Mexico. A copy of his account of this trip, "Travels 'Round the World," written in the years 1761-1771, is contained in the Texas collection in the University of Texas Library.

The Indians, De Pages wrote, made a display of horsemanship for the benefit of the party in which he was traveling, which was headed by a Spanish governor.

"It is but doing them justice to say that the most noble and graceful object I have ever seen, was one of those savages mounted and running at full speed," he wrote. "The broad Herculean trunk of his body, his gun leaning over the left arm, and his plaid or blanket thrown carelessly across his naked shoulders and streaming in the wind, was such an appearance as I could only compare to some of the finest equestrian statues of antiquity."

The Indian women, the traveler declared, were very modest and resented "our too inquisitive regard."

Has Little Praise for Missions. De Pages found little to praise in the enterprises of four mission stations which he found near San Antonio. He described the missions as each containing two or three Franciscan monks and a group of Indians, captured in war, on whom the missionaries had conferred marriage and baptism.

The Indians received some education and maintenance in the mission, but De Pages regarded the rules of conduct set down by the monks, and particularly their method of enforcement, as unduly harsh.

The Frenchman further described the way in which the savages were induced to live in the missions. In battles with Indians still using bows and arrows as weapons, the better-armed Spaniards would capture prisoners, bind them hand and foot, and carry them to one of the missions.

"The missionary makes it his business by threats, persuasion, severe fasting, gentleness, and last of all by marriage, to tame and civilize the manners of his prisoner," De Pages continued.

Indians To Be Trusted. It was perhaps typical of a French traveler to regard Spanish colonial administration particularly of a province once claimed by Frances—with suspicion and criticism.

MORALE BOOSTER—Brady Holds 17th Annual July Jubilee

FIVE HORSE RACES; $200 PURSE OFFERED

Bedecked in flags symbolic of the occasion, Brady is marking time for the opening of the 17th annual July Jubilee, recognized as one of the major July Fourth celebrations in the Southwest. The affair got under way Thursday and will continue through Sunday afternoon.

G. C. Kirk, general chairman of the Jubilee, is anticipating one of the greatest attendances in history. "In this time of war," he says, "we should not forget that the morale of the people must be kept at its highest. Our four-day celebration is a booster of 'morale for victory.'"

There will be entertainment for all, young and old, at the 17th annual festival at Richards Park. The program will consist of the opening patriotic parade, featuring high school bands from this section, decorated floats, headed by Mrs. Tom Gaines, mother of Flying Tiger Matthew W. Kuykendall of AVG fame, and Mrs. J. T. Price of Rochelle, McCulloch County Gold Star Mother of World War I.

Speaking by political leaders will be featured at Richards Park picnic grounds, each morning and evening of the celebration, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with horse races to be the main attraction of each afternoon of the above days, and rodeo events each night, and on Sunday afternoon.

The races should be the best and fastest ever run here, in the opinion of G. R. White, Brady banker, rancher and race horse fancier, who produces some of the best on his ranches in this section. With a field of 200 horses from the Southwest, there should be no trouble in getting plenty of good blood for each of the five running races daily, it was pointed out. No purse will be under $100, and the climax icism. De Page's account of his sojourn in Texas is full of references to the cruelty and unfairness of the Spaniards. In San Antonio, he relates, he lived in the home of an Indian and became close friends with him, even seriously considered settling down and marrying one of the Indian's daughters.

The Frenchman concluded that he had in his Texas travels found proof of his contention that a man's honesty was in direct proportion to his birth, education, and environment. "Innocent and ingenuous manners diminish progressively from the native of the woods to the villager, Indian, Creole, Spaniard; the last of whom is the least friendly and sociable of the whole," De Pages declared.

DRAGS WOOL OVER THEIR EYES—

Congressman C. L. South of Coleman Is Credited With Saving U. S. Millions

FIGHTS REPEAL OF LAND-GRANT AGREEMENT

Washington—The opposition of a single but influential Congressman is being pointed out now as having saved the taxpayers an estimated $25,000,000. The Congressman is Charles L. South of Coleman, member of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, one of the most important and influential of the Nation's legislative committees. The saving was effected in connection with freight rates over land-grant railroads.

During the 20 years between 1850 and 1870, the Government made 75 grants of land to railroads to promote their construction and to develop the West. Altogether, the Government conveyed to the railroads title to about 134,000,000 acres of land, equivalent to an area twice that of Missouri. With the aid of this public land, the railroads built about 21,500 miles of track, or enough to build seven lines from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Agreements a Modified.

In return for these land grants, the railroads agreed to haul Government freight free. As the years passed, these agreements were modified in favor of the railroads, but even today the Government still benefits from land-grant rates to the extent of some $7,000,000 a year in peacetime and $25,000,000 or more in wartime.

Mr. South would have repealed the land-grant rate agreements on the ground that they had served their original purpose and that Government freight had increased to an extent that could not be foreseen when the agreements were made between the Government and the land-grant railroads.

Chairman Lea of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee opened the discussion with the statement that all members of the committee were in favor of the repeal measure. It looked as though it would pass with little or no opposition. Then South unwrapped his six feet, three and one-half inches from around the chair in which he was sitting and obtained recognition. He had not attended any of the hearings on the measure, he said, but he had read every bit of the testimony developed at them and he was one member of the committee at least who was not in favor of repeal.

Land Still Held.

He pointed out that the railroads still retained much of the land

Time Set For Sugar Rationing

Any one desiring information about sugar or desiring to sign up for sugar should come to the rationing office between 2:30 and 4:30 on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. No sugar rationing business will be handled at any other time.

TIN SALVAGED FROM SEWERS

Several hundred pounds of salvage tin in the form of discarded tooth paste tubes have been recovered from New Orleans sewers by cleaning crews. The search for tin and other metal scrap will be continued, and the collection turned over to the civilian defense salvage committee.

COSMETICS ORDER EXPECTED

Reduction in the number of permitted shades and odors of a wide variety of items ranging from lipstick to "cosmetic stockings" will be a feature of a forthcoming WPB order limiting production of cosmetics. Limitations on container sizes and production of less-essential items also may be included in the order.

Mrs. Preston C. Lightfoot and Marjorie Ann returned Monday from a visit with Mrs. Lightfoot's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Gray of Gorman, and her sisters, Mrs. James R. Mathews of Corpus Christi and Mrs. Arthur Maddocks of Denton, who were also visiting with their parents.

Canal Zone Workers Needed

Skilled workers, are needed for employment at the Panamal Canal. Boatbuilders, Marine Boilermakers, Instrument Repairmen, Machinists (Marine and General), Riveters, Shipfitters, and Shipwrights are paid $1.48 an hour, and Copper-smiths (Marine), $1.52 an hour. Appointees will be paid on the basis of 40 hours per week, plus time and one-half for all time over 40 hours.

The maximum age limit for all positions is 55 years. Applicants must be citizens of the United States and must be able to furnish proof of such citizenship, with proof of date of birth, before appointment.

Appointees will be furnished free transportation to the Canal from the point of embarkation and will be furnished free first-class railroad transportation and Pullman accommodations from their homes to the point of embarkation. Salaries start on the date of embarkation. The total cost of room and board should not exceed $50.00 or $60.00 a month. No dependents may go with appointees.

Persons qualified for any of the positions listed above should contact the Secretary of the Local Civil Service Board at any first or second class Post Office, or the Manager, Tenth U. S. Civil Service District, Customhouse, New Orleans, Louisiana.

granted them by the Government and that they should not be relieved from their land-grant-rate obligations unless they returned this land. He thought this dule of reason was particularly applicable at a time when the railroads were more prosperous than ever due largely to increased business stimulated by Government activity.

The result was that the bill was recommitted to the committee as he recommended. It was as effective and neat a piece of work as veteran observers had ever seen done on the floor of Congress.

Cites Record

Will D. Pace, Tyler attorney, points to his service as chairman of two important committees while serving eight years in the Texas Senate as major planks in his platform as a candidate for the Texas Railroad Commission to succeed Jerry Sadler. Pace served four years as chairman of the highly responsible state affairs committee which handles oil conservation and general transportation, and he served two years as chairman of the senate oil, gas and mineral committee. Pace, a native East Texan, served as county judge of Smith County for six years prior to his election as state senator, during which time he set a record for efficiency in the equalization of taxes and the reduction of the tax rate to the citizens. He was president of the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association in 1927. Pace served as an officer of the field artillery in World War I.

RUBBER CHALLENGE ACCEPTED

Private industry is attacking the rubber problem with full vigor today. And, according to authorities, production in 1943 may be greater than we expected even a short time ago.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey alone is building 34 plants with a total capacity of 578,000 tons, and they will be in operation in less than a year. Other oil companies are pursuing similar programs. On top of that, great progress is being made in the development of other kinds of synthetic rubbers, such as those which are produced from coal and coke.

American industry regards the rubber problem as a challenge. It is determined to produce a rubber substitute which, in time, will be as good and perhaps better than the natural product. It is determined to produce such a substitute in sufficient quantity to meet essential civilian no less than military needs. It is likely that some day we may regard the loss of our sources of natural rubber as a blessing in disguise. American invention, American ingenuity and American capital are starting to build a great new synthetic rubber industry which will play a vital role in peace as well as in war.

PART OF THE SYSTEM

When this war is over, America will have the most gigantic mass production machine in the world. We will have the world's largest army of skilled workmen. Technical development will be at a new peak. Machines and men that are now producing weapons of destruction in incredible quantity, can supply the goods of peace in an equally incredible quantity. In all probability we will be the only large nation left on earth whose industries will not have been smashed by war.

It will be up to these industries, to free American enterprise, to rebuild a shattered and starved world. And they can do it if private capital and the organization genius of the common American are released from the bear hug of the inevitable wartime bureaucracy. As Paul Cadman, economist of the American Bankers Association, has pointed out, we have no other choice. We will either release the productive capacity and the capital of this country for the task of rebuilding the world, or we face bankruptcy and collapse at home.

Free enterprise has got to produce as it never produced before if a national debt of two or three hundred billion dollars is to be serviced. In short, the world will tragically need the products of our industries and our country will need the sources of financial strength which those industries can give. That truth should be brought home to every man and woman at home and in the factory. Free enterprise is the key to the maintenance of representative government. This has always been true, but never more so than now. Our mines, our factories, our natural resource industries such as coal and oil and timber; our service industries, including electricity and transportation, as well as our credit institutions and our banks, are all part of the American system. Keeping them operating under the management of private citizens is the surest guarantee to the men on the battlefield that we intend to save here in our own country the liberties that they are giving their lives to restore to the rest of the world.

FIRE IS THE ENEMY OF PRODUCTION

Over the years, great progress has been made in fire prevention and protection. According to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, had it not been for this progress, our annual fire loss would now be more than $200,000,000 a year greater than it actually is.

That is a real achievement. But we should not take it as an indication that aggressive fire prevention activities are no longer vitally necessary. Instead, we should take it as a challenge. If this much progress was possible, far greater progress is also possible.

The war has created new fire hazards and intensified old ones. The rapid building of factories is a potential danger. Millions of untrained or little-trained men are going to work in war industry, and unless they are schooled in safe practices, they will unwittingly cause fire. Congestion in the residential areas of industrial communities is also a major hazard. All over the country, civic organizations and businesses are gathering and salvaging paper and other scrap. Unless these materials are properly stored and handled, they may be the cause of serious and far-reaching fires.

The solution lies in education—education of workers, education of foremen, education of homeowners; in short, education of everyone. It should be everlastingly emphasized that only a small proportion of fires are actually unpreventable. The overwhelming majority of all fires are caused by ignorance and carelessness—which simply means that they are caused by human failure.

Let all start now on a new campaign to fight fire to a finish. If fire prevention work has cut losses by $200,000,000 a year, the same kind of work, on a still greater scale, can cut losses as much again. Fire is the enemy of production—and production is the secret of victory in war. When we fight war, we fight an ally of the Axis.

WOOL AND WOOL GOODS

Wool goods production continues at a high level. The War Production Board's conservation order limiting the amount of new wool which may be used in the manufacture of civilian fabrics has been extended on substantially the same basis as was in effect in the second quarter. During the month of July, worsted mills may not put into process for non-military fabrics more than 6 per cent as much new wool as they used, on a quarterly average basis, during the first half of 1941. Wool goods mills are limited to 3 per cent of the basic quarterly poundage. An order covering the subsequent six months is expected to be issued before the first of August.

Over 70 per cent of the business booked by men's wear manufacturers during the first four months of 1942 was for government account. In this circumstance, trade interest has been centered on the matter of price ceilings for government fabrics. Under present rulings, ceilings on wool apparel items sold or delivered to war procurement agencies after July 1 shall be based on the highest pre-April sale price, plus an allowance for increases in specified raw material and labor costs.

Retail sales of men's clothing are reported to have declined during May. The reduction was natural following the unusually large sales of the first quarter and the establishment of price ceilings in April.

Control of wool imports is now in the hands of the government. After July 2, permits will be required for the purchase, importation and sale of all foreign apparel wools.

FEEDING PRAIRIE CHICKENS

Fourteen feeding stations have been completed on the prairie chicken range in Hemphill County by Game Department biologists. They were stocked with shocks of grain and the chickens, instead of straying, stayed on the breeding range and as a result a better breeding season resulted.

From inland sea and island,
From forests dark and wide,
From lone lakes deep and silent,
Where peace and beauty bide;
From mines that pour out treasure,
From wheat-fields golden red—
We come with marching measure,
Till earth trembles with our tread.

From the hanging hillside village,
From the mesas high and clean,
From the Valleys rich with tillage,
And meadows neat and green—
We come with hearts impassioned
With love of Liberty,
And free souls forged and fashioned
By faith and loyalty.

From streets where tower and steeple
Swim dimly in the sky;
From marts where busy people,
Their tasks and labors ply;
From shops where forges glimmer
And great trip-hammers jar—
We come, both saint and sinner,
Prepared for Freedom's war.

We come from hills and prairies,
From canyon, shore and street,
And this our common prayer is,
That God will guide our feet;
And temper mind and spirit
And sanctify each heart,
That each might haply merit
The grace to play his part.

The stirring lines above were written by R. F. Shand of Kerrville, whose son was one of the first Texas heroes to give his life in the present war.

"When picking up the papers that record the happenings in the little towns, one gains renewed faith in life," someone has written. "Here are set forth that which uplifts a community—the activities of the business men, the church items, ranch news, and all the thousand and one happy social gatherings, as well as the marriages, births, deaths and daily occurrences that make up the simple annals of the great common people who are really the foundation of this broad country of ours."

A favorite story (one that William Jennings Bryan used to tell on himself): When Bryan was a young lawyer, he took an active part in a campaign against the Governor of Nebraska but in spite of the fiery speeches of denunciation which Bryan delivered, the Governor was re-elected. Some time later, there was a celebration in Bryan's home town and the Governor was to be master of ceremonies. What made it embarrassing to Bryan was that he was on the program, too.

As the time approached for him to be introduced, the Governor smiled and motioned to him. Bryan thought, "What a magnanimous man; he has forgiven me for all

None of the statements which the Lord Jesus made of Himself is more emphatic than this, "I am the Light of the world." No assurance which He gives to man is more positive than this, "He that followeth me shall not walk in darkness."

He is Light and the Author of light, by Him were all things made. His hands lighted starry tapers and at His word were born the blazing suns of the universe. In Him there is no darkness at all—no darkness of ignorance, for He knows the end from the beginning; no darkness of death, for He is the Light of Life; no darkness of sin; for He is the Sun of Righteousness; no darkness of error, for He is Truth incarnate. Heaven itself finds in Him the source of its light. John on the isle of Patmos, catching a glimpse of the beauty and effulgent glory of the New Jerusalem, wrote, "And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof. And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it" (Revelation 21:23-24).

The man who follows Christ never walks in darkness. He may walk in the midst of darkness but his steps are lighted by the presence of the Saviour whom he follows, just as a man who walks on a dark night behind a guide with a lantern finds in the midst of the darkness light in the spot where he walks. The man who follows Christ has the light of divine wisdom cast upon the problems which confront him and in this light he is able to solve them. He may not be able to see the future or view the long way stretching ahead, but there is light where he needs it, when he needs it, in the very spot where he finds himself. In the night of great sorrow the man who follows Christ finds the light of hope to cheer his way. Christ proves Himself the true light to all who follow Him. Horatius Bonar spoke not only for himself but also for all who follow Christ when he wrote, "I looked to Jesus, and I found in Him my star, my sun; and in that light of life I'll walk, till traveling days are done."

Vestal Askew and Fred Earwood left last week for Washington where they will attempt to get some action on short wool, mohair, mandatory blending, and shearing equipment for 1943. There is no equipment available now, but enough metal will be released to the only two companies represented in Texas to meet 1943 requirements. The short wool and mohair problem is pressing, although it was announced that some mohair will be released for civilian use. The government does not use short wool for military manufacture. Askew and Earwood will try to get the officials to either use it themselves or release it for civilians. The mandatory blending has also gone into effect since the TSGRA men left.

Through June 3, over 78,000 pounds of scrap rubber has been turned in by three companies. There are 10 more days to go since the president extended the drive. Although everyone has co-operated exceedingly well, one man should get much credit for his hustling ability. Matt Adams collected around 40,000 pounds.

B. M. Halbert, Jr., will make a speech pertaining to mohair Friday at A. & M. College. Halbert is president of the Texas Angora Breeder's Association.

GARDENING YEAR NOT OVER—

Winter Gardens Being Planned To Help Bolster Vegetable Supply

From the grower's point of view, says J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist of the A. and M. College Extension Service, this year's garden program was a "life saver." Increased food prices caused many families to lean heavily upon the home supply of fresh vegetables. But this gardening year is not over "by any means," he adds.

The south half of the state usually grows its best gardens in the winter months.

For fall gardens, prepare the soil by (1) Removing all weeds before plowing (don't plow them under); (2) Applying summer manure or barn-lot fertilizer, broadcast over the area to be planted; (3) Plowing three to four inches deep, pulverizing the soil thoroughly, and (4) Applying three to four pounds of commercial fertilizer per hundred feet of row, in addition to the manure. Inoculate, or treat, such seed as beans, peas, and cabbage before planting.

A simple method of eliminating cabbage blackleg disease (drying up of the roots) is to immerse the seed in water of 122 degrees F. for 25 minutes, Rosborough suggests. Hard-coated seed, such as spinach, should be soaked in warm water over night before planting. It is helpful also to press the soil around the seed by tamping with a hot or walking on the row after the seeds are covered.

As spinach will not tolerate the heat of late summer, don't plant until October or early November. The home gardener can well afford to use the Noble variety, which is more upright in growth and less likely to be drowned out.

Rosborough suggests these vegetables to mature before frost: Beans, stringless green pods; Mustard, New York or Los Angeles; Potatoes, Bliss triumph. English peas, Thomas Laxton. Radishes, scarlet globe. These semi-hardy vegetables will withstand light frost. Carrots, Danvers half long; Cabbage, Copenhagen, all-head, flat dutch; Turnips, shogoin, purple top; Broccoli, green sprouting; Beets, Detroit dark red; Swiss chard, Lucullus, kohlrabi.

PARACHUTIST'S AGE LIMIT CHANGED

The maximum age limit for enlistment of parachutists has been raised from 30 to 32, according to an announcement made today by Sergeant John W. Mazingo, Army recruiting officer in San Angelo.

Sergeant Mazingo added that the physical requirements were unchanged. Visual acuity must be very good and an applicant must not weigh more than 185 pounds, he must be capable of undergoing tests of endurance and should be alert, active, supple, sound of limb and possessing qualifications to assure aggressiveness.

JUNCTION SALE STARTING JULY 7

With the livestock selling season approaching and in response to many inquiries about the reopening of the auction sale, Omer Wright announces that the Junction Livestock Auction Sale will reopen at the Hill Country Fair Ground on Tuesday, July 7, 1942, at one o'clock.

Ranchmen with livestock for sale are asked to bring them in early and have them ready for the opening at one o'clock on Tuesday, July 7. Buyers will be present looking for good stock.

Sec'y Wickard To Visit College

Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard will spend 24 hours on the Texas A. and M. College campus, from noon, July 3 to noon, July 4.

According to Director H. H. Williamson of the Extension Service of A. and M. College, the secretary accepted an institutional invitation from President T. O. Walton to be the guest of the college, and agreed to address a mass meeting in Kyle Stadium at 8 p. m. on July 3. He will dine with the cadets in the mess hall at 6 p. m.

Secretary Wickard will be the third man holding his cabinet office to visit the College campus in its 67 year history. Others were James Wilson who was here nearly 40 years ago, and Henry C. Wallace, father of the vice president, who visited the college about 20 years ago.

The mass meeting will be timed to allow for visitors to arrive at College Station from Dallas and north Texas by rail. Arrangements will be made to have the through trains from Dallas and Houston in the late afternoon to stop at several points along the line to pick up those wishing to hear the cabinet member's talk.

The secretary will tour the campus and inspect the college buildings on the morning of July 4. It is expected that he also will hold information conferences with various farming and livestock groups, as well as with representatives of all the governmental agencies operating under direction of his department.

Since Mr. Wickard's visit will be of an official nature, the usual military ceremonies accorded a cabinet member will be observed in his honor. A mounted troop of cavalry will meet him at the main entrance to the campus and a salute will be fired by the R. O. T. C. artillery unit.

"Parachutists receive $50.00 per month in addition to the regular pay of their grade," the Sergeant stated.

Applicants seeking further information or desiring to enlist in this exciting branch of the service should visit the Army recruiting office in the Post Office Building in San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Vicars, Mrs. Joel Shelton, and W. C. Gilmore met Captain Joel Shelton in Del Rio Sunday. He was passing through Del Rio en route to the West Coast.

Fish Seined From Llano

SUMMER DROUTH CAUSE OF TRANSFER

The North Llano River from the Junction bridge to the junction of the river with the South Llano is beginning to dry up due to the summer drouths, and Game Warden J. T. Swanson and officials from the Fish Hatchery at Mountain Home are seining the shallow holes in order to save the fish that are trapped in them with the drying up of the stream.

Only one hole had been seined up until Tuesday of this week, but the number of fish removed from this hole is ample evidence that there are still many fish in the Llanos. Swanson states that there were nearly 1,900 fish removed from this one hole and placed in live water. This number included only the edible fish and did not count the large number of sucker, shad and gar that were left to die.

Twenty-two brood fish were taken from the hole to the hatchery at Mountain Home. There were bass that ranged in size from two and one quarter pounds to five and one half pounds.

If anyone thinks that we no longer have fish in the Llanos they should be present when one of these holes is seined and see the large number of fish that is taken out and placed in other parts of the rivers.

'LOST' ANTELOPE HERD

The antelope range in Texas is generally thought to be only in Western Texas, but actually there is an excellent range in Brooks, Jim Hogg, La Salle and Dimmit Counties, deep in the Brush Country of South Texas. This range was occupied by about 5,000 antelope 50 years ago. Today only about 75 of this original herd are left on a ranch in central Jim Hogg County.

NATIVE TEXAS DUCKS

Not all ducks fly farther southward than Texas for the winter. Thousands spend the cold months on East Texas lakes. A Game Department biologist recently counted 7,570 ducks that wintered on nine East Texas lakes.

Gen. U. S. Grant Good Housekeeper Says B. M. Halbert In Letter

J. W. Hutt, Editor
Rocksprings, Texas,
Dear Mr. Hutt:

I get a lot of good things out of your "Mohair Weekly," sometimes mail them to friends in other states. Your last copy of June 19th is before me. "That's June-teenth" and you never mentioned that, but had plenty to say about the Sadler-Kilday play and our Governor Coke Stevenson, and the governor did the right thing, as you say, in not accepting Sadler's resignation.

Coke Stevenson is the RIGHT man in the RIGHT place, and we should keep him there.

I named a fine Angora Buck for Stevenson at Uvalde that I bought last year, at the very hour he was being sworn in as Governor; had his picture taken and enlarged, and it is hanging in the Governor's office in Austin.

Well, you know our mutual friend, General U. S. Grant of Oregon, "nothing suits us better than batching." On his last visit here we were at my ranch and I was the cook, he the housekeeper. We

1. Loses Glasses 2. Catches Fish 3. Fish Has Glasses

Take a deep breath, relax and hold onto your hat—this is a fish story and a good one.

It seems that a year ago Ed Rowlett of the R&R Theaters went fishing on a lake in Mexico with Paul Poag and during the outing lost his bifocal glasses.

Tuesday morning Poag and James Scheuren were fishing on the same lake about 7 o'clock and—but listen to the way Poag tells it in a letter written to Rowlett Wednesday:

"After getting the boat in the water, we made a little run to get the motor warmed up and when all set, I threw in my plug at what was a very likely looking spot and so help me I had a strike that all but jerked me out of the boat. As luck would have it, I had just put on a new 24-pound test line and it held.

"Well sir, I tussled with this fellow for about 15 minutes and then when I brought him up along side of the boat, so help me you could have knocked me over with a feather, there before my very eyes, and I was sober, was the granddaddy of the lake. This is what floored me (did you guess it?) the darn big fellow had on a pair of glasses, one of the ear hooks over his main dorsal fin and the other over his pectoral fin and the bifocal part fit snug over his eyes.

"I knew after thinking about this and planning to tell you about it that you would just say 'He's nuts,' and so to prove my story, as I had no camera to take pictures with, I am mailing under separate cover the pair of glasses that I removed from the head of that bass and wondering if they are yours.

"If so, who's nuts now? Well, anyway, that's my story and I am stick to it until someone gives me away."

QUAIL RANGES RESTOCKED

Game Department trappers early this year trapped 1,227 bob white quail in South Texas and released them on 12 depleted game management areas in five counties.

checked out, and when I got home my silver watch was gone, also my clothes brush. I hunted them for two months—then on Father's Day I found them in my grip; my brush wrapped up in my old winter vest with watch in pocket, packed in bottom of the big grip (where Grant put them). Grant is the only man I ever knew that could undress, take a clothes brush and clean his pants, fold them up a put them under his pillow, and morning they would look like had just come from the steam press of a tailor shop.

Just had a letter from the General, saying he would be back to see us this winter—"go-ner keep coming until he reaches 100 years young."

I'll soon be 75 years old—or young—ready to check out, but I add a P. S. to my prayers asking to be left here until we win the war."

Your old goat friend,
B. M. HALBERT.

ANSWERS TO MILITARY I. Q.

Tomatoes Can Be Served Different Way Every Day

TOMATOES RICH IN VITAMINS

One of the loveliest foods from your Victory Garden and on your local market is the tomato. The supply is larger than usual the quality is good; the price is reasonable. It's a good food. It will give you lots of Vitamin C which will make strong teeth, firm gums, strong blood vessel walls, so that jars and bumps won't make you black and blue. It has Vitamin A which makes strong eyes, keen sight, strong mucous membrane lining of the nose, throat, and lungs. It has some Vitamin B1 which makes for steady nerves, good appetite, good digestion. It has some Vitamin C and some niacin which helps prevent pellagra. It is rich in iron and has some other minerals. It is lovely in color, of delicate acidity, tasty in flavor, juicy and refreshing. It lends itself to a variety of uses in the menu. It can be used a different way every day at every meal, if you like.

On summer Monday morning, won't you try sliced, ripe-red, dew covered tomatoes. They're cold when they come from the garden or the refrigerator. They'll help you start Monday right. Of course, if it is winter, you'll take tomato juice, which is almost as good.

Tuesday is a good day for lamb chops for dinner. And broiled tomatoes, baked stuffed squash, parsley potatoes are good to serve with them.

On summer Wednesdays — especially if that happens to be wash day—why not let the tomato dish be of sliced, deep red, only unpeeled on a blue plate. It will revive your doused spirits and take the perspiration from your brow and the soap suds from your hands. If it is winter, open a can of tomatoes into a sauce pan, add salt, pepper, butter, heat and serve piping hot.

Thursday's dinner in summer is likely to be a little bit of a dressed-up affair. If so, serve cocktails made from tomato juice, a dash of tabasco sauce, salt, pepper and serve finely chopped onion, celery, parsley—just a bit of each. If it's a winter Thursday, try cream of tomato soup, real hot with crisp, whole wheat crackers.

Friday is house cleaning day. Let's have fresh or salad pack canned tomatoes, stuffed with chicken salad, with green beans (canned or fresh) and potatoes baked brown.

On Saturday night, a good rich salad—halves of hard cooked eggs, quartered tomatoes, a small box of sardines with all the oil in which they are packed, a dash of Fresh dressing, if you like.

And now comes Sunday—with roast beef, baked tomatoes, garden asparagus, new potatoes. Or tomato crown, which is made by arranging tomatoes with a slice of onions and a pork sausage under it, a slice of onion and a pork sausage on top of it, all baked in a moderate oven about 4 minutes.

The season's first heavy supply of tomatoes is being featured in all local stores this week—as a Victory Food Special. H. C. Atchison, County Agent, announced today.

Tomatoes now found in local stores are being shipped in from Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia and South Carolina farms and represent one of the finest crops grown in recent years.

"Local merchants are co-operating with the Agricultural Marketing Administration and their trade associations in promoting Victory Food Specials. Because farmers are on an "all-out" war basis, they are producing more food than they ever grew before. Due to super-abundant harvests, or other factors, unusually large supplies become available. These foods must be marketed promptly or be wasted, and in this time of national emergency no food should go to waste. Therefore, such foods are designated as Victory Food Specials, and local homemakers are urged to do their bit in seeing

Washtday In Wartime

And now chlorine has gone to war! It is needed for explosives and airplane windshields among other things and there will be considerably less for household use. But cheer up, the government predicts that our clothing will no doubt last much longer once we learn all over again to depend on sunshine and good washing methods as a whitener. In brushing up on my own washing methods, I find that keeping my laundry equipment in good running condition helps to take the blues out of washtday.

An electric washer should be drained immediately after washing in it. Rinse the tub thoroughly and remove the agitator and suction cups and rinse. Remove any soap curd or lint that sticks to the tub, agitator or suction cups with a soft cloth. If you have an automatic type washer, clean the lint trap after each week's washing.

Remember, wringer rolls are rubber and should be treated accordingly. Release the pressure when through using, then wipe them dry and cover them up. That saves the rubber and the spring.

Clean the bottom of your iron with a damp cloth after each using. Wait until it is cool, and be quite sure it is cold before putting it away. Don't let the iron cord touch the hot iron and don't drop the iron. Once a month or so, rub the sole plate with a good grade of paraffin or beeswax and wipe it off on paper or cloth. If it is very soiled, or starch has stuck to it, sprinkle some salt on a newspaper and run the iron over it. If it's scratched, wipe with a damp cloth when cool, or if necessary use a mild abrasive or fine steel wool.

*Pot Roast with Potatoes and Carrots Recipe
4 pounds beef (this 2-inch cube sale can be a chuck, pork shoulder, or cled 1/2 cup hot water cut of beef) Carrots, potatoes, onions
Salt, pepper and flour

Rub meat with flour into which has been mixed salt and pepper. In a skillet fry out the salt pork which has been cut into small cubes. That means to heat the skillet, add small cubes of salt pork, and the grease from pork will melt out. Don't let the pork scorch, so turn down heat. Better use Medium heat on electric range. When there is sufficient grease in the skillet, place meat in hot grease and brown on all sides. If using electric range, place meat in Economy Cooker, add 1/2 cup water, with Switch set on High. Just as soon as steam escapes, turn switch to Low. For any other type range, the meat may be placed in a large kettle, and cooked on the surface, or placed in a covered casserole and cooked in the oven at 250°.

One hour before ready to serve, add vegetables, and it is advisable to add additional salt to the vegetables. In the electric range, turn switch to High as soon as vegetables are added, and when steaming again turn switch to Low to finish cooking. When cooking on any range other than electric, it may be necessary to add more water to prevent burning.

A Week In The War . . .

The Armed Forces

The President signed legislation granting pay increases to members of the Armed Forces retroactive to June 1, with a minimum base pay of $50 a month—the first general pay increase in 20 years. Congress also completed action on a bill to provide financial aid for dependents of men in the four lowest grades of the Armed Forces and authorizing deferment of married men with legitimate home ties. The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to provide men who entered the Armed Forces since passage of the Selective Service Act with $5,000 insurance in event of injury or disease contracted while on active duty.

The War Department directed "no military personnel on duty in any foreign country or possession may marry without the approval of the Commanding Officer of the United States Army Forces stationed in such foreign country or possession."

The House passed and sent to the Senate the $8 1-2 billion Naval Expansion Appropriation Bill to provide 500,000 tons of aircraft carriers, 500,000 tons of cruisers and 900,000 tons of destroyers and destroyer escorts. The President signed a bill permitting the Navy to increase the number of its lighter-than-aircraft from an authorized strength of 48 to 72.

The War Front

The White House announced British Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt are conferring in the U. S. on "the war, conduct of the war, and the winning of the war."

The Western Defense Command announced a submarine presumed to be Japanese on June 21 fired six to nine shells into a sandy waste on the Oregon coast line near Astoria, in the second attack on the North American Pacific shore in 24 hours. Earlier, shells were fired at Estevan Point, Vancouver Island. The Navy said two ships previously announced sunk by submarine fire off the Virginia coast were sunk by enemy mines, the first authenticated instances of mines in American waters in this war.

The Navy said U. S. Air Forces engaged in "restricted air operations against Kiska," Aleutian Islands, where enemy "tents and minor temporary structures were observed to have been set up on land." A small force of Japanese ships in the Harbor was bombed by Army aircraft, with hits scored on one cruiser and one transport sunk. Earlier, U. S. bombers sank an enemy cruiser, damaged an aircraft carrier, three enemy cruisers, one destroyer, a gunboat and a transport, and shot down four enemy planes. On the Australian Northeastern front, Allied Forces lost 11 planes compared with 26 Japanese shot down and several destroyed on the ground. U. S. Bombers based in North Africa scored several direct hits on two Italian battleships, and shot down one German plane. All U. S. planes returned safely to their base. During the week 16 Allied merchant vessels were sunk, including eight of U. S. registry.

50 Counties Fail to Meet USO Quotas

Fifty Texas counties have completely failed to do their share of the USO campaign, Harry C. Wiess, state chairman, reported today.

Ninety-one counties have made their quotas, and reports have been made of partial completions in 114 other counties, bringing Texas within $175,000 of its $1,110,000 quota in the war fund campaign which will provide recreation and comforts for the men in Uncle Sam's fighting forces.

"We can make this a Glorious Fourth of July by completing this campaign by that date," Mr. Wiess declared. "Then we civilians can truly say that we have made our soldiers, sailors and marines independent of want for a home away from home."

The drive opened May 11 in every state, seeking a national fund of $32,000,000, and is scheduled to close July 4.

In telegrams to county chairmen, Mr. Wiess called for unceasing effort until the quota is attained.

"We in Texas have an unusual responsibility in this matter because Texas is host to more soldiers than any other state and the USO is spending much more money here than we are being asked to contribute," Mr. Wiess pointed out.

"You realize the important work USO will do to maintain the morale of our soldiers, sailors and marines at the high standard necessary for America to win this war. Knowing that everyone in your county wants the hundreds of men who have gone into the war from your county to be given the best care within the power of the USO, we feel confident that your county will make a good showing."

Mr. Wiess also announced that 700 USO centers are now in operation at home and abroad.

Electric Plant Survey Completed

Austin, Texas—Municipal electric plants originated in Texas in 1886, a recent survey of municipally owned electric utilities, conducted by the Bureau of Municipal Research at the University of Texas, shows.

During the 55-year period since that time, the report reveals, the number of municipal utilities has steadily increased, although the total in 1937—date of the latest Bureau of Census report—represented only about 5 per cent of the entire electric industry of Texas.

Reasons for cities entering the electric service field vary considerably, but no instance was found of an electric system being set up because the concept of city government included public ownership of utilities. Leading the list of reasons for establishment of municipal plants was poor service by existing plants, and excessive rates. First plants were established because no private electric plant was in existence.

Financed Under Title VI This FHA Home Can be Paid for at Less than $19 a Month

This attractive five-room frame house is but one of thousands of small, low-cost homes now being built in defense areas by private capital and industry to meet the housing needs of war industry workers and their families. The valuation placed by the FHA on this property is $3,200 including the land. This particular property is located in a defense area of a South Atlantic State. In other localities the cost may vary slightly. It should be noted that the floor plans pictured here call for location of plumbing equipment to conform with the Emergency Plumbing Standards for Defense Housing. This home was purchased with a down payment of $350 and an insured mortgage of $2,850. Financed under Title VI over a period of 20 years, the monthly payments on an FHA-insured mortgage of this amount would be approximately $19, exclusive of taxes and hazard insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ezell of Garden City, were visiting friends and relatives here over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Van Dyke and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Noble Van Dyke of San Antonio have been visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Rouche. Mrs. Ivan Van Dyke is Mrs. Rouche's sister.

Hot Weather

Our complete line of thermos jugs and bottles now on display in our front window are certainly signs of the times. What better treat on a fishing or camping trip or on a long, hot, auto ride, than a cool drink from one of these containers.

Nor are these containers strictly a hot weather proposition. They'll keep a liquid just as hot in the winter as they will cool in summer. Ideal for football games.

CONGRESSMAN SOUTH—

Two years ago South was accused on the floor of the House of pulling the wool over the eyes of the entire Congress. The Twenty-first Texas District, which he represents, is one of the great wool-producing areas of the United States, and South is so concerned about the wool situation that he knits his brows when he thinks about it. He piloted through the House the wool-labeling bill, which, to protect consumers, requires manufacturers to show the amount of virgin and reclaimed wool in their products.

Praised in Debate.

During the debate, Representative Lyle Boren of Oklahoma, himself a native of Texas, told the House that the wool-labeling bill wouldn't have a ghost of a chance of becoming law were it not for the ability, industry, leadership and personality of Charlie South.

South has voted for all appropriations for the army, navy and air corps since the war broke out in Europe. He voted for the fortification of Guam in 1939 and 1940, when even some of his own leaders were fearful that such a step would be interpreted by Japan as an overt act. He also supported all lend-lease measures and the appropriations to carry them out. He voted for the farm program, WPA, PWA, social security and many other Administration policies involving the expenditure of large sums of money on the theory that the emergency required these expenditures. But he has been consistently a stickler for true economy in government. Personally frugal and thrifty, he believes that the people's money should be spent where it will do them the greatest good.
