83RD YEAR | RANGER, TEXAS, TUESDAY, APRIL 1, 1952 | PRICE FIVE CENTS | No. 250

SEEN OR HEARD

We noticed in the Monday morning edition of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram where Denton switched over to dial phones.

The most amazing thing about this was their rates. Rates are: business phones, $7 per month; one party residence, $3.75; two party homes, $3.10; and four party residences, $2.75.

We can imagine how happy those people in Denton must be with their new dial system and their reasonable rates the get their service for with the Texas Telephone Co.

Not long ago they were paying $4.50 per month for a business phone, but the City of Denton allowed them a raise of $5.50 and will now allow them to enjoy their new dial system while paying what should be termed reasonable rates.

While in Ranger they want to charge $9.00 per month for one party business service; $4.75 for one party residence service; $4.00 for two party residence service; $3.25 for four party residence service; $1.50 for a business extension; $1.00 for a residence extension; $1.00 for a residence extation presented to the various members of the city commission.

It would seem if the Denton can have the newer more modern type dail service that we here in Ranger are paying enough for what we are getting. We have to admit that it is reassuring to hear the confident and couteous voice of the operator responding to the lift of the telephone, but not at the price they are asking us to pay.

As far as we could determine from a check of the Ranger Insurance agencies most likely to handle that type of business insurance the telephone company doesn't do business with them in Ranger.

We asked Mr. W. H. McAnally of Cisco the other day how much they had their local installations insured for, and he didn't know, he mentioned something about them having their own insurance.

As we happen to be one of the people here that get a telephone bill every month we decided to find out where they got them. We checked with the only other commercial printing house in town and they confirmed our statement in the matter, that they had never done any printing work for the telephone company that they could remember. In fact they stated that the telephone company "looks like a mighty poor business prospect."

Taking those two instances into consideration you might say that the telephone company has an exchange here and that they are mainly interested in the telephone company and the profits they can reap from it—not the economy of the people and town they are serving.

Some people just might come to the logical conclusion that they are mainly interested in how the telephone company prospers in Ranger.

Mr. J. C. Kelley said he thought everyone in town should just take their telephone out if they were granted the raise in court.

Other people who rely on a salary for their bread and beans have asked what are we going to do if everything but their wages keep going up? We can't answer that. Maybe there will be a sudden rush to buy tiddly winks and pocket knives so they can sit home and play games and whittle away their time.

We've been callin gthe AT&TC the Atlantic Telephone & Telegraph. That is one of the many mistakes we make, we should give due credit to the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., which is the parent company of Southwestern Bell, not the "Atlantic".

Exhibits And Attendance This Year, Very Satisfactory, Say Sponsors, Following The Show

The County Livestock show held at the old Airport at Eastland last Friday and Saturday was up to expectation both in exhibits and attendance, Sutton Crofts, Cisco, president of the Livestock Raisers Association who sponsored the show, said today.

Crofts, breeder of registered Angus cattle and his son, has several of their cattle on exhibit from their ranch north of Cisco.

"We barely had enough room to house everything. The rain on Thursday prevented some exhibitors from getting their cattle in so we are told," said C. M. McCain, Eastland, general superintendent of the show.

"We want to take this opportunity to thank everyone that helped to make the show a success, especially to the boys who helped on the grounds and buildings, to the superintendents of the various divisions of livestock and to the ladies for their help in running the food concession stand," McCain concluded.

Hundreds of people from Eastland and adjoining counties saw the better than 150 animals from virtually every section of the county during the two day show.

Plans are already being discussed to enlarge the show especially a building or a shed for the hogs it was said.

Johnny Aaron, vice president of the organization and also chairman of the grounds committee was receiving many compliments on the work of his group of volunteer laborers from different sections of the county in readying the buildings and grounds for the show.

T. D. Wheat, Eastland, secretary of the group said that people were commenting upon the quality of the animals shown especially in dairy cattle.

The Eastland Chamber of Commerce was complimentary of the organization and of its work in the county as per the resolution shown below recently sent to Crofts:

"Whereas: The Eastland County Livestock Association has been a great force for the advancement of the quality of livestock in Eastland County.

And whereas: The unselfish work and efforts of the officers and members of this organization has made it a vital factor in the economy of Eastland County now therefore be it resolved that the board of directors of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce extend to the Eastland County Livestock Association its sincere appreciation for the unselfish efforts and accomplishments of its officers and members and wish for them continued success in all of their undertakings in the future. Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Eastland County Livestock Association and a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce. H. J. Tanner, Manager.

Politics Center In Two Primaries; Wyoming, Neb.

Nearly one-million voters are expected to cast ballots in Wisconsin's state presidential primary today. They have a large Republican field to pick from, Senator Taft of Ohio, Harold Stassin, Governor Earl Warren of California, and Grant Ritter, a stand-in for General MacArthur. On the Democratic slate, Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee opposes two pro-Truman candidates who are left, for the time being at least, with no one to support. The weather forecast in Wisconsin today is cloudy.

Some 290-thousand voters are expected to turn out for a presidential primary today in Nebraska. The Democratic race features Senator Kevauver against Senator Robert Kerr. On the Republican slate, Harold Stassen is the only big name. But vigorous write-in campaigns have been waged for General Eisenhower and Senator Taft, neither of whom appear on the ballot.

Supporters of Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois have opened a national Stevenson-For-President headquarters in Chicago. Stevenson is reported to be President Truman's personal choice as party standard bearer this year. But Stevenson has declared: "Illinois looks even better to me after that battle royal in Washington."

Second Class Postal Rates Raised Today

WASHINGTON, April 1 (UP)—The first of three progressive 10 per cent increases in second-class postal rates went into effect today.

The increase affects most newspapers, magazines and other periodicals. The hike will boost Post Office Department revenues about four-million dollars a year.

The newspapers exempted from the increase are those enjoying free mailing privileges for distribution within one county, on copies delivered by other than village or city carriers.

FBI Loses Van; New York Police Come To Rescue

NE WYORK, April 1 (UP)—A New York policeman gave the FBI a helping hand in what had proved an embarassing case for the federal men.

The FBI got a tip that a trailer truck carrying a $14,000 cargo of meat from Sioux City, Iowa, to New York was going to be hijacked. So the FBI escorted the truck across the country in relays.

When driver Emmett Borden got to New York Saturday he found the company he was to deliver to was closed. So he parked the truck on a lot.

When he returned Sunday morning, the truck, trailer and meat were gone.

Last night while patrolman Wilford Calkins was pounding his beat, he snotted the van in another lot. The load of meat was intact.

Slaughter School Pupils Win Honors At Brownwood Contest

The Slaughter Ward School pupils walked off with top honors at the Interscholastic League meet at Brownwood held Saturday, March 29.

Although the school did not have enough pupils to be classified as a "C" Division school they entered that division as there was no smaller group and came home with a beautiful ivory and gold trophy as winners of the most number of points in their division.

First in the piano solo class went to Nadine Lewis; first in vocal solo, Sarah Richardson, first in story telling, Louis Johnson; second in oratorical speaking was won by Dorothy Dunn; and a quartet composed of Sarah Richardson, Archie Mae Giles, Dorothy Dunn and Frances Woodruff won third in the quartet singing.

Mrs. Bertha Lyons is the Slaughter school instructor and she took her pupils to the meet.

Her pupils also won second place in the exhibit division. They exhibited articles that they had made themselves in the classrooms such as pot holders, animals and fruit from paper, animals to be used as pin holders, puppets, baskets, book covers, and many other handcraft articles.

As we were there getting information on their conquest at Brownwood, Mrs. Lyons had her daughter demonstrate the piano playing that won her first in the solo division, and we were shown many of the fine works they entered in the exhibit.

Mrs. Lyons stated that she has hopes of taking a group from the school to the state meet at Prarie View College on April 12, and enter their handiwork and skills there.

The local school was the smallest of the 12 entered in their division at Brownwood as has been the case each year, and in preceeding years they have also given good account of themselves.

Drivers Under 24 Will Pay Higher Insurance Costs

AUSTIN, April 1 (UP)—Texas drivers 24 years old and under are going to have to pay more for automobile insurance this year than older persons.

However, under rate increases announced yesterday by State Casualty Insurance Commissioner J. P. Gibbs, all operators are going to pay more insurance after May 1st. The biggest increase, though, will hit drivers who are 24 or under.

Gibbs said the general rate increases will amount to an average eight per cent boost on comprehensive insurance, and four per cent on deductible policies.

George Fox To Make Race For County Clerk

George A. Fox, Jr., has authorized this paper to announce his candidacy for the office of County Clerk of Eastland county. George was elected treasurer in the 1946 primaries by a large majority. Later he had to give up that position and take a leave of absence, due to the fact that the 37 pieces of shrapnel he carries in his body were injuring his health. For over a year he was under close observation of the Veteran's Administration, and was released in 1951, with a clean bill of health, as George puts it.

The V.A. has told him he could do any kind of inside work, that his physical condition will permit.

He said a formal announcement will appear in this paper at a later date. He wishes to thank everyone for their consideration, and promises faithful and efficient service if elected as your county clerk.

Gulf Coast Gets Rain; Temperature Drops Over State

By United Press

Temperatures fell eight to 10 degrees below yesterday's steamy levels in North Texas today as a cool front covered the state to its waistline. Weathermen say the formation will have little other effect. In West Texas this morning, skies are clear, but it is cloudy to partly cloudy over the remainder of the state.

Yesterday, a violent squall line swept the Gulf Coast, triggering thunderstorms over several cities. Downpours of rain measured up to 3.77 inches at Galveston. The squall dumped damaging hail at Three Rivers, in Live Oak County. Half stones up to two inches in diameter knocked out hundreds of window panes in that city and flattened a flax field near town. There also was extensive roof damage. Besides Galveston's deluge, rain elsewhere measured 2.27 at Victoria; .88 at Palacios; .86 at Houston; .68 at Beaumont, and there were light falls at Austin and Corpus Christi. Texarkana reported a .13 inch shower.

Foreign Aid Would Be Twice That Spent On Public School

WASHINGTON—The proposal to jump foreign aid spending to $10.5 billion next fiscal year means that the United States would shovel out for that aid twice as much as is spent for public school education during the year.

The Administration is asking for a $7.9 billion appropriation for foreign aid, in fiscal 1953, although when the new fiscal year begins July 1 about $7.9 billion will still be unspent from earlier appropriations.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which has been leading the fight for government economy, asks that foreign aid spending be held to $5 billion in the coming fiscal year. It gives its reasons for that stand as follows: "If the new sum of $7.9 billion is appropriated, a total of $15.8 billion would be available.

"The President actually intends spending about $10.5 billion of that total during the year, leaving $5.3 billion available for spending in future years.

"The Chamber has supported the principle of foreign aid. But it recognizes that such assistance cannot be unlimited. The build-up for foreign aid has been extremely rapid, jumping from $4.5 billion last year to $6.5 billion this year, and with another jump of $10.5 billion planned for next year.

"No one knows how long the cold war will last. But it appears likely that we are in for a long pull. Therefore, like a long-distance runner, we must conserve our economic breath for what may lie ahead. Rather than strain our resources to the utmost now, we should spread our foreign aid over a longer period of lower expenditures.

FLASHBACK

Sometimes it's a fleeting moment, sometimes weeks, months and years in the limelight—

Then they fade from sight—

For instance, whatever happened to Alan Valentine?

The former president of the University of Rochester came into national prominence as a leader of the Democrats for Wilkie movement. Later he served the Truman administration briefly as economic stabilizer.

Where is Alan Valentine now?

He has an office in Washington and is serving as president of the Committee for Free Asia, which is collecting funds to send agricultural seeds and other help to the Asian countries that are resisting Communism.

Flashback, a United Press spot-check on the people who made yesterday's headlines.

Crabgrass May Be Destroyed

Crabgrass—the toughest and most persistent of all lawn weeds—has finally met its match in the form of weed killers whose basic ingredient is potassium cyanate.

The chemical, which is sold under a variety of trade names, offers from 95 to 100 per cent controll over crabgrass.

Although potassium cyanate is effective on crabgrass at any time of the year, best results are obtained by using it during the late spring, when the ugly weed first begins to sprout.

Safe and economical to use, potassium cyanate is mixed with water. A rule of thumb formula is to use two and one half teaspoons of the chemical with one gallon of water to cover 135 square feet of lawn. If crabgrass is particularly heavy, use five teaspoons of the chemical.

Oftentimes it isn't necessary to use a pressure sprayer. If the area to be covered is relatively small, prepare the solution in a galvanized steel sprinkling can and spray it from the same container.

A potassium cyanate solution may temporarily discolor turf and lawn grasses but no permanent damage is done. Generally it is best to delay artificial watering of lawns until 24 hours after the solution has been applied.

Even though potassium cyanate is quick acting, more than one application of it is needed during the year on lawns where crabgrass is well entrenched.

Citizens Urged To Listen To Elks Choir Apr. 6

Mr. Arthur H. Henderson, formerly of Olden, and now of Belen, New Mexico, has a very special reason for urging his friends to listen to the boys' choir, sponsored by the Albuquerque Elks No. 461, who will sing on Palm Sunday, April 6, over the National Broadcasting Network at one o'clock until 1:30 p.m.

His grandson, Donald K. Wier, son of Dr. and Mrs. Truett Wier of Belen, is a member of this choir and has practiced with them regularly twice each week for sometime.

In a letter to this paper, he stated that this choir ranks sixth best in the United States and is well worth hearing.

RED CROSS ADOPTS NEW ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION METHOD

Correct positions for the back pressure-arm lift method of artificial respiration, adopted by the American National Red Cross upon recommendation of the National Research Council, are here illustrated. In this method the victim is placed prone with the elbows bent and with one hand upon the other. The cheek is placed on the hand with the face turned slightly to one side. The operator kneels on one knee at the head of the victim.

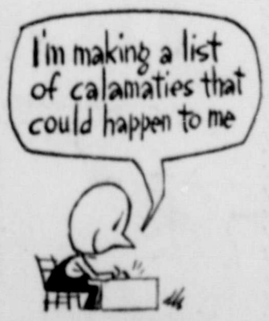

FIRST STEP:
To start the cycle the operator places his hands on the victim's back so that the thumbs just touch and the heels of the hands are just below a line running between the armpits.

SECOND STEP:
He then rocks forward slowly, keeping the elbows straight, until his arms are approximately vertical, exerting steady pressure upon the chest.

THIRD STEP:
Then he rocks backward, slowly sliding his hands to the victim's arms just above the elbow. Continuing to rock backward, he raises the arms until resistance and tension are felt at the victim's shoulder. Then he drops the arms and thus completes a full cycle. The cycles are repeated 12 times per minute, the expansion and compression phases being of equal length, and the release periods of minimum duration.

Gloomy, maybe, but SMART

It's better to be gloomy like this for an hour than sorry for a lifetime that you didn't have complete insurance protection against possible disasters.

List 'em now and do something about insurance — then forget your fears and BE HAPPY.

Might your car be stolen or burn up? Might you kill or injure somebody with it? Might your house or business burn or be blown away? Might your valuables be lost or stolen? Might an employee or tradesman sue you for injury on your premises? Might your dog bite a neighbor? Might you hit somebody with a golf ball? Might an employee embezzle from you?

Worry hard about these things for a while. Then let us protect you against 'em with America Fore policies.

Ice Capades To Be In Ft. Worth On April 18-22

FORT WORTH, April 1 (Spl.) —The 12th annual edition of Ice Capades, the greatest show on ice, will be presented April 18-22 in Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum in Fort Worth.

In addition to such stars as lovely Donna Atwood, Bobby Specht and the "Old Smoothies", the Fort Worth show will present the new world's Figure Skating Champion, Jacqueline du Bief of Paris, France, who is successor of Sonja Henie and Barbara Ann Scott.

A show designed for the entire family, the ice extravaganza combines beauty, color, daring skill, and comedy. The result is a production dazzingly beautiful, technically brilliant.

Featured with the 1952 show will be an elaborate staging of Walt Disney's "Cinderella", starring the imcomparable Miss Atwood as the rage-to-riches princess. In this production, four mechanical, full-size horses, as well as the famous pumpkin carriage, are seen.

To delight children of all ages, a "Jingles Belles" number features that merry old gentleman popular in all seasons, Santa Claus, as well as skating Christmas trees.

New comedy acts with the poker-face comics, the Maxwells, and after an eight years absence from the show, the lovable tramp, Joe Jackson and his bicycle, will be seen in the Fort Worth production. Jackson and Lynam are featured in such comedy numbers as Charleston Champs in a "Juke Box" production. For additional novelty there is Trixie, back for her second consecutive year doing new juggling tricks.

Ice Capades will be presented nightly April 18 through April 22 with matinee performances on Saturday, April 19, and Sunday, April 20. Tickets priced at $2, $2.50 and $3 may be ordered by writing to Texas Ice Events, Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum, Fort Worth.

The Hole in the Doughnut—
. . . may serve no useful purpose yet it is always there as is the parasite on the tree or the thorn on the rose. The person investing in real estate may act quickly, oftentimes unwisely thereby overlooking the hole in the deal which in this case is a bad title. By spending a few dollars for an abstract at the right time you who buy real estate may save your lifetime earnings as well as much trouble and inconvenience later on.

Sermon Topic For Tonight

The revival services that are in progress at the First Baptist Church continue tonight with Rev. Ralph Perkins preaching. The first five services of the revival have been extremely spiritual in nature. The sermons have been very timely for the Christian and the non-Christian, states an official.

Bill Pullock, educational director of the church stated this morning that a number of the long time church members have told him that the spirit of the church both from a spiritual standpoint as well as the fellowship was the best that they had ever known in the church.

Services are being held twice daily. The early morning service begins at seven o'clock with the serving of breakfast by the Brotherhood organization of the church. Lem Rushing, Brotherhood President, assures the working men that the breakfast is sufficient for them, he further stated that it did not consist of coffee and doughnuts, but bacon and eggs, toast, coffee and jelly. He invites all the membership of the church to be present for these early morning breakfast hours and to remain for the devotional service that begins at 7:15. The morning messages are so arranged that working people will be able to get to work by eight o'clock.

Tonight at 7:30 p.m. the third evening service of the meeting will begin with a gospel song service, there will be special music preceeding the sermon. The pastor will continue the theme "Christ is the Answer for the Lost." This sermon will be centered around the rich man and his barns, the man that God called a fool.

"If you have not been attending the revival services you are missing an oppertunity to enjoy the fellowship of the many persons attending, you are missing an opportunity to hear the gospel according to the New Testament. You are missing an opportunity to renew your spiritual fountain. You are missing an opportunity to serve the Lord. Come and be with others in these great services," states Rev. Perkins. Everyone is welcome and urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bullock of Graham were here Sunday for a visit with their new grandson, Andrew Lloyd Bullock and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bullock. Andrew also had visitors from Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Newman and children. Mrs. Newman is Andrew Lloyd's auntie.
