Oil Refinery

Company Files For Construction Permit

The Rocking R Refining Company Inc. has filed an application for a permit to construct a crude oil refinery between Rockport and Aransas Pass.

The company will be located on the east side of Highway 35 near the intersection of 35 and Moore Avenue, according to a spokesman for the Texas Air Control Board office in Corpus Christi where the application was filed.

The spokesman said the refinery will be a small one according to its application which shows a capacity of 1500 barrels a day.

According to the Air Control Board spokesman, the refinery will have emissions of 92 tons per year — "which is a small refinery" — and will do only the first step in refining.

President of the company, Richard McClendon of Houston, could not be reached for additional comments as of press time Thursday.

According to the application, the refinery, which will be located approximately one mile south of FM 1069, will emit particulates, non-methane hydrocarbons, sulfur dioxide, nitrogen oxides and carbon monoxide.

A copy of all materials submitted by the applicant is available for public inspection at the Texas Air Control Board's Region 5 office at 5602 Old Brownsville Road in Corpus Christi.

Materials will be available for public inspection until March 9 which is also the deadline for submission of questions or comments to the Texas Air Control Board.

MAKING A SPLASH

Drivers along Fulton Beach Road — and elsewhere in Aransas County — sometimes weren't too sure if they were driving or floating Wednesday and Thursday as the rains came practically nonstop. This photo was taken on Fulton Beach Road between Charlotte Plummer's Seafare Restaurant and Marion Packing Company Wednesday afternoon. The official rainfall for the area as of Wednesday afternoon was 1.21 inches. The Thursday measure wasn't available when the Pilot went to press.

School Board To Open Bids For Administration Building

The Aransas County School Board plans to open bids Monday night for the new administration building — the next phase of the extensive renovation of the High School campus.

The new building, designed by J.S. Chenault and Dick White of San Antonio, will be located near the school tax office.

Funding for the work will be covered in part from interest on the $3.5 million in bonds approved last September for the campus building project. Plans include a new auditorium to be located on the site of the present administration building.

Part of the bond money has already been spent in re-roofing the high school. The building of the new administration office will take approximately four or five months.

Plans for the new auditorium will be finalized and bids will have been opened for the construction by the time the new administration office is completed.

County Receives Refuge Payment

Aransas County has received $197,342 payment in lieu of 1980 taxes from the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, presented by refuge manager Frank Johnson to County Treasurer Etoile Eller on Wednesday, February 4.

The payment represents the county's share of funds as provided under the Refuge Revenue Sharing Act, passed in the 1960s. Since refuges do not pay property taxes, this act authorizes the yearly payment of monies totaling 1/4 of 1 percent of the adjusted land value of refuge property to counties in which the preserves are located.

The $197,342 figure is an increase from prior payments, which were approximately $50,000 per fiscal year. The rise is due to the 1980 reappraisal of the 52,461 acres of county-owned lands in the 55,000-acre refuge.

The funds will be divided between the County, the School District and the Navigation District to be used in the same manner as regular property taxes.

These yearly payments are authorized by law and future payments are not, at this time, subject to any of the pending federal budget cuts.

Choirs Selected To Sing At Convention

Rockport-Fulton's High School and Junior High choirs, under the direction of Martha Luigi, have been honored with an invitation to perform at the state convention of the Texas Music Educators' Association in San Antonio on February 12.

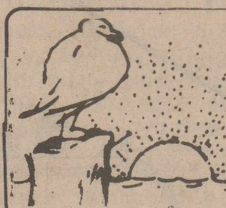

Beginning at 3:15 Thursday, the two choirs will present separate programs and will appear in one combined number, "Resonant in Laudibus" by Jacob Handel.

The Junior High program includes two special numbers never before performed publicly by any group — Dr. C.M. Sheerer's "Children's Letters to God", and by Ray High School Choral director Aurelia Scoggin, an arrangement of "Be Thou My Vision" dedicated to Mrs. Luigi and the choir.

The Junior High group will end their program with a rousing choreographed number — "Charleston Flappers and Razzamatuzz" by Chester Harrison.

The program presented by the High School choir will include music by Brahms, Jannequin, Paul Settler, Abe Kaplan and others and will feature a Chuck Mangione song entitled "Lullaby for Nancy Carol."

The Rockport-Fulton choirs are among a number of groups appearing at the convention. The choirs selected represent both large and small schools and range in age from the elementary level to college level. Groups appearing were selected on the basis of audition tapes submitted to a committee headed by the TMEA vocal director.

Anti-Crime Package

'Material Harmful To Minors' Bill To Strengthen Existing Laws

Editor's note: This is the third article in a series of analyses of Governor Clements' "Anti-Crime" package set to go before the 67th legislative session. The Pilot is supporting these measures and is publishing the following analysis for the benefit of our readers:

Background Information
This bill is intended to strengthen Texas' existing laws on the sale or distribution of pornographic material to minors. As pornographic and obscene material continues to become more explicit, it becomes increasingly important to protect the children of Texas from its influence. The bill provides authority for cities and counties to supplement the provisions of Article 43.24, Vernon's Penal Code, through local ordinances and regulations governing the manner in which materials harmful to minors may be promoted, advertised, sold, displayed and distributed. This local option is vital because local law enforcement officials are in the best possible position to monitor local conditions and will be the first parties aware of the location and actions of establishments which deal in materials harmful to minors.

The bill is similar in design to the bill passed last session which gives local authorities the ability to regulate massage parlors through local ordinances and regulations.

It should perhaps be noted that decisions of the United States Supreme Court have upheld statutes intended to hold the purveyors of sexually oriented materials to a less permissive standard of conduct in dealing with children than is applied when such materials are distributed to adults.

Purpose
To provide authority, on a local option basis, for cities and counties to enact ordinances and regulations which will supplement existing state penal law governing dissemination of harmful material to minors.

Section 1. Enacts Article 2372y, Revised Civil Statutes, to provide authority for cities and counties to regulate on a local option basis the manner in which materials harmful to minors as defined in Section 43.24, Vernon's Penal Code, may be disseminated in the local jurisdiction and provides for enforcement authority including inspections, licenses, license fees, fines, injunctions, seizures, and forfeitures and for the regulation or ordinance to be classified as a Class B misdemeanor or, if a comprehensive zoning ordinance is in effect, for the local jurisdiction to apply the penalties provided for violation of the zoning ordinance.

Section 2. Emergency clause.

Live Oak Peninsula Philosopher

Editor's note: The Live Oak Peninsula Philosopher on his grassburr ranch makes a few final remarks on the hostage ordeal this week.

Dear editor:
I guess about everything that can be said has been said about Iran and the freed hostages, but a couple of remarks by an Iranian leader have stuck in my mind.

When I say leader I mean whoever claimed to be the leader that week, because not only did Washington not know who was in charge from one week to the next, neither did the Iranians.

Anyway, the leader bragged about defying the United States by holding the hostages a year and two months. "We have rubbed the nose of the United States in the dust," he said.

This is like an underworld character, on sticking up a bank and holding some customers in the vault for ransom, saying "I sure rubbed that bank's nose in the dust."

The other remark by a leader, following the release of the Americans, was "There is no proof that we mistreated them."

I believe something must have been lost in the translation. If somebody locked me up for a week, not to mention a year and two months, I'd sure calculate I'd been mistreated.

With such mysterious thinking as that, I won't be surprised if Iran sends us a bill for food and lodging for the hostages, wear and tear on their handcuffs, damage to boots used in kicking shinbones, replacements for blindfolds, time lost from work while demonstrating before TV cameras, and janitorial costs for sweeping up the ashes of burned American flags. The bill will probably come with postage due.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

Bills to reduce the cost of government appear to be conspicuous by their absence.

What congressman can refuse to add the cost of hearing aids, dentures, orthopedic shoes, services of chiropractors and psychologists to the costs of medicare and Social Security. Do we hear any objections?

Austin at Wharf

"WITHOUT FEAR OR favor," Harrison E. Salisbury's book which sometimes has a tendency to deify the New York Times is important to anyone interested in assessing the historical and social significance of events, especially those of the past 40 or so years.

I might add that the book deserves to be "must" reading for the alert newspaperman. In any event I was well along, nearly 400 pages, when the long dramatic week began.

It was a good book to be reading at the time. While there is no mention of our new former hostages, Salisbury does treat another group that is very much akin to the Iranian students who kidnapped the people in our embassy in Tehran. I refer of course to the American student protestors of the 1960s. Considering the two groups I find myself at almost total loss to find differences.

At best, if there is or was a best, it must be that both were motivated by what they conceived to be high moral purpose, a sort of purpose that was never defined. Whatever the motivation, all decent and moral values were lost by the appearance and conduct of each lot of students. There are those who may jeer that charge. But who would deny the frenzied hysteria, the flaunting of foul language?

Here the argument may be made that such things, such conduct, was a necessary tool, needed to gain attention. Perhaps, but if true it must stand as a sign that the American public has indeed become decadent, depraved and ignorant as so many conceive to be the case of the Iranian masses. I don't believe this holds in either instance.

I am naturally closer to the American students than those in Iran. Yet at least in Iran as I perceive events, the students did not desecrate their national flag, incite riot and destruction on campuses, force the shutdown of such important national defense institutions as the ROTC.

Was there ever a cheer, a "Welcome Home" for the lad who did make it back, often broken in body or mind? Yes. Viet Nam was a 1960s. The degree of insurrection in Iran in the past 14 months I cannot outline so well, although it does appear that the Iranians were motivated by a spirit of patriotism, however misguided.

Here in the 1960s the disruption was instigated by subtle and sophisticated infiltration into our society by alien influences. The consequence lingers even to this day to the extent that so many agree that the Viet Nam War was "a mistake." That of course it was. Has there ever been a war that wasn't?

On the other hand that war was not a mistake just because we were wrong but because we attempted halfheartedly to abide by a treaty which we should perhaps have never been party to, but because we tried to do what no nation has ever before attempted: fight a war without intent to win.

YOU MAY ASK, WHY open old wounds? I feel there is good reason, and here I take nothing from our former hostages when I write that thousands of young Americans suffered and still suffer from the Viet Nam War. In the past few days we have begun to hear from them. Too often those youths went off to war their uniforms covered with the spittle of madding mobs and they came home, often enough, to not much better. More than 50,000 didn't make it home at all.

Was there ever a cheer, a "Welcome Home" for the lad who did make it back, often broken in body or mind? Yes. Viet Nam was a shame all right, a burden I feel that we have never accepted. And the shame is deeper because—and let's be honest—the men who went to the jungles and rice paddies were scarcely a representative cross-section of American youth as is supposed to be the case in an army coming from a great democracy.

Instead, to an overwhelming extent, we sent the lads from our poorest homes, the least privileged, the least educated, those least able intellectually to "know what it was all about." Yes, I know that it is painful to open old wounds, but I'd like to be on record with having said to those who did come home: "It was well done, you are heroes in our best tradition."

ON SUNDAY JIM Davis, chief of the Harte-Hanks News Bureau in Austin and an old friend, had some interesting observations of a recent Dick Cavett program on which appeared four Texans who discussed "Texas chic and myths." I happened to have watched the show myself and agree with the conclusion that people back East are copying our way of life because they are finally realizing how good it is. Ah shucks fellows!

For all of this I couldn't help remember and laugh at a news shot of a Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, football crowd wearing a lot of Stetsons. I am not a native Texan but came here of my own choice over 30 years ago. I'm danged proud to be a Texan, but I've never owned a Stetson nor a pair of cowboy boots and am unlikely to because I don't own a ranch, much less a single heifer. In boots I'd feel like one of those fellows from Philly.

In the same piece Davis has some interesting observations concerning George Bush, referring to him as a "good example of an Easterner who came to conquer Texas and became absorbed by it."

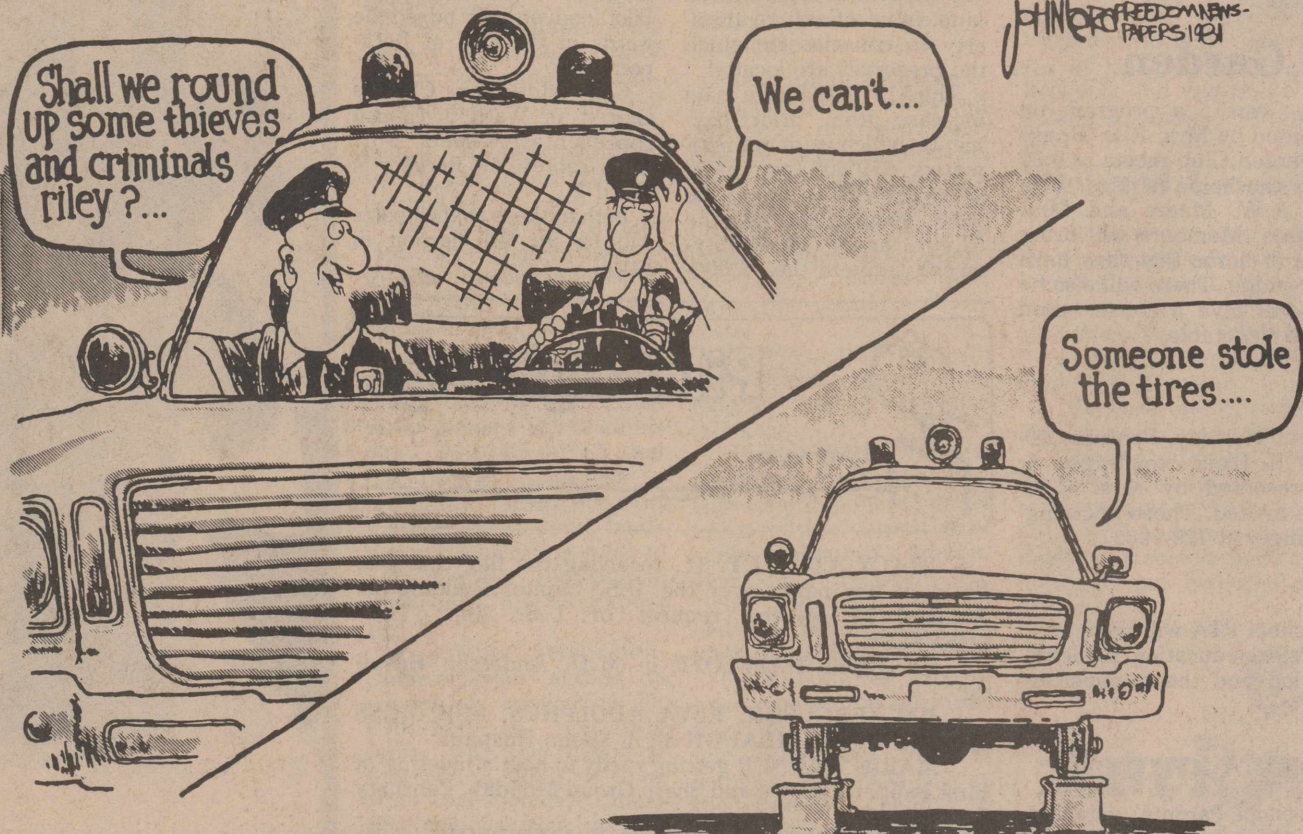

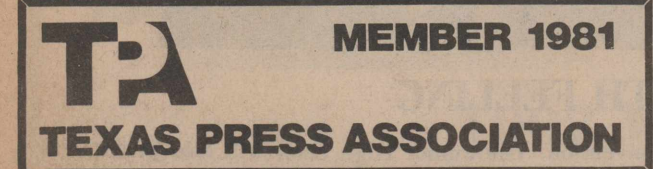

For a second I sort of resented that. Conquer is a pretty big word. But it is true. Bush has been successful, because of his brains, initiative and willingness to work.

One of his opponents of nearly 20 years ago delighted in referring to Bush as a "Yankee carpet-bagger." That may have carried a bit of weight then, but no more. Today just about everyone who comes to Texas, stays around for a couple of years and says he likes Texas is accepted as a Texas in just about all circles — well almost all..--ahab

Bentsen Urges Cost Effective Requirement On Regulations

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Senator Lloyd Bentsen has urged President Reagan to be prepared, once his temporary freeze on government regulations ends, to require that all federal regulations be cost effective.

Bentsen made his suggestion in a letter to the President, who announced Thursday a 60 day moratorium on all pending regulations.

"During the 96th Congress the Joint Economic Committee, under my chairmanship, developed a comprehensive program for reducing inflation. An important part of this program includes measures to reduce the private sector cost of excessive and unnecessary government regulations," Bentsen said.

"I am pleased by the numerous indications that a reduction in regulatory costs will also be a main part of your anti-inflation program."

"I would suggest that during the 60 day freeze you have ordered on federal regulations you prepare an order that, once this temporary moratorium ends, all regulations issued by the federal government be cost effective," Bentsen said.

"Your order should, if necessary, be supplemented by proposed legislation."

Bentsen added that a cost effective requirement "would be one of the strongest actions that could be taken immediately to rein in the growing costs of government regulations."

He said the core of such a requirement "would be straightforward and understandable by even the most recalcitrant bureaucrat: All government regulations should achieve their statutory objectives in the most cost effective manner. When alternatives exist, each of which clearly would accomplish a particular regulatory goal, the least costly alternative should be adopted. This rule should apply unequivocally to all federal regulations, unless an overriding statutory goal requires the adoption of a less cost effective alternative."

Bentsen added, "Many of our regulatory programs, particularly those affecting health, safety and the environment, have contributed significantly to the well-being of the vast majority of American consumers and workers, and they should not be abandoned."

Brown Backs Retirement Increase

AUSTIN — In Senate Floor action, Senator J.E. "Buster" Brown spoke out in favor of passing a 5.1 percent increase in benefits for state employees.

"There are currently 14,000 people who collectively represent more than 380,000 years in service to the State of Texas and who receive an average of 336 dollars in monthly payments from our State retirement system," Senator Brown said.

"This 5.1 percent increase is needed to compensate these fine and dedicated former employees of the people of Texas from the impact of inflation on their monthly checks."

Senator Brown added,

"Many of these people have seen no adjustment to their benefits made since 1976. In all fairness they deserve one now."

The senator was the sponsor of Senate Bill 212 which requested the Texas Legislature to increase the benefits of retired employees who fell under the Employees Retirement System of Texas.

This system covers all employees in more than 160 State Agencies, from the State Senate to the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

The increase in benefits for state retirees was passed unanimously by the Senate and is expected to pass easily in the House.

Worship in Church This Week

Looking DOWN
at the
lately ?

There is a very sound reason for this fellow to look down at the mouth. He's a hippopotamus — and that's exactly how a hippo is supposed to look.

But what accounts for people looking down-at-the-mouth . . . sometimes?

It's usually because they aren't satisfied with being what they are. They wish life could have given them a different break. If only circumstances hadn't conspired . . .

That's no reason at all for looking hippo-like. Man has resources that can overcome his discontent. He has spiritual potential that can alter his life, make him a different person, conquer every conspiracy of circumstance.

Now is an ideal time to start looking up-from-the-heart. At church you'll experience a different approach to life. The cheerfulness that can brighten life flourishes on faith.

The Shepherd's Staff

By Barrett Renfro, Pastor,
First United Methodist Church

I commend the shrimpers of this community both American and Vietnamese in efforts to come to an understanding regarding their disagreements and problems. It is not easy to air these matters publicly and run the risks of being misunderstood, misquoted and prejudged.

I believe in the right of all to their beliefs, opinions and grievances and the right to make them known. I commend the shrimpers as they sit down around a table and negotiate for an equitable settlement.

All parties in the situation have their own self-interests at stake and that's the way it should be. It must be frustrating as these self-interests clash and as settlement seems so illusive. It must be discouraging to meet and talk again and again and not feel the satisfaction of completion.

I commend the shrimpers' ability to continue this process until a satisfactory solution is reached. I hope that the possibility still exists that each side of this polarity will be able to receive a fair measure of what it wants. I also know that this means each side must be willing to give up a fair measure of what it wants.

I fell certain the community of Rockport-Fulton will stand by them for as long as they need to struggle with their differences. It might be painful but we in the community are pleased that things are in the open and being discussed in an orderly manner. We trust the shrimpers to arrive at a good conclusion. We admire all resistance to the possible use of force and violence as a strategy.

The churches of this community stand ready to help in anyway we can. As pastor of one of the churches I ask both the shrimpers and the rest of the community to persevere and continue to seek a reasonable solution and that all of us act in love and understanding toward one another.

From the TAP Kitchen

Spinach Stir Fry is a light supper dish that will help keep you warm on cold evenings, notes the Texas Department of Agriculture's home economist. Texas led the nation in 1980 in spinach production with over 6,300 harvested acres of the crop valued at $9.7 million.

SPINACH STIR FRY

- 10 slices crisply fried bacon
- 2 C. sliced zucchini
- 6 quartered cherry tomatoes
- 4 sliced green onions
- 1 C. sliced mushrooms
- 2 C. spinach, torn in bite size pieces
- 4 T. sugar
- 2 T. cornstarch
- 2 T. vinegar
- 1 C. water

Fry bacon until crisp, remove from pan. Stir fry zucchini until tender crisp. Add to skillet tomatoes, onions, and mushrooms. When these are done, add spinach and only stir fry momentarily, until spinach is wilted. Cut bacon in pieces and return to skillet. Dissolve sugar, salt, cornstarch in vinegar and water. Pour sauce over vegetables and ingredients while sauce thickens.

FEBRUARY ARTIST

Virginia Hansen straightens one of her paintings on display this month at Rockport's First National Bank where Virginia is the February Artist of the Month. Originally from Illinois where she taught high school English, Virginia came to Texas for the winter five years ago — and stayed. She has lived in Rockport the past year and a half and is employed in sales at Rockport Realty. Her painting, which she took up right after she moved to Texas, is a hobby. "I paint all sorts of things," she said, but her favorite subject "seems to be animals." She's been taking lessons from artist/instructor Frances Crane of Corpus Christi. "Painting brings such total enjoyment and is so absorbing," Virginia said, "that I recommend it to anyone who wants to add new dimensions to his or her life."

Kansas Day In Rockport A Success

The "Kansas Day Brunch" held on January 29 at the R.F.T.A. building was a rousing success, with 194 Kansas natives attending.

Mr. J.H. "Doc" Geiger was emcee for the occasion. Opening prayer was given by Mrs. Clinton Knop.

Accompanying herself on guitar, Ann Haile presented a medley of songs, some of which she had composed herself. Mrs. Ruth Fales gave a humorous reading, "A Few Sobering Thoughts."

Honored guest introduced to the assembly were Brig. General and Mrs. W. Keith Weltmer of Topeka, Kansas. Mrs. Weltmer will be remembered as Elwill Shanahan, our former Secretary of State.

A Kansas flag was presented to Mr. George Zimmer of Larned for being a resident of Kansas for 88 years.

Group singing of familiar songs was led by Mrs. Kathryn Winkleman, accompanied by Mr. Sal Espe on guitar. Since the 29th was National Thanksgiving Day in honor of the returned hostages, the closing song was "God Bless America."

Benediction was given by Mr. Dave Brothen.

The Kansans extend a special thanks to the sponsors for making "their" day one to be long-remembered.

A lunch break of finger sandwiches, chips, cookies and coffee was enjoyed and the group voted to bring sack lunches to future Tuesday meetings.

New members are always welcome and may call 729-7443 for information.

"But why do they call you that?" exclaimed the principal. "Not a curve in sight!" said the girl sadly.

Pirates Skin Wildcats

By Bob Crawford

After losing by one point in Gregory-Portland in the first round of district play, the Rockport-Fulton Pirates skinned the Wildcats this go-round 58-50 before a home crowd in Rockport.

The Pirates came out on the court ready to play, and promptly took a lead of 10-0 before they let down and let the Wildcats get on the board.

The Pirates kept the big lead until less than a minute was remaining in the first period, and then the Wildcats trimmed the lead to only six points at 20-14.

The Wildcats pulled to within three points in the second quarter at 20-17, but then Rockport reeled off eight straight points to get a big lead once again. At the half, the Pirates were up by eight points, 32-24.

During that 32-point first half, Donnie Frels poured in 12 points and Micheal Simmons dumped in 11 including the first six points of the game.

The Pirates played cat-and-mouse with the Wildcats for the rest of the game, giving them the chance to get close, and then sprinting away. At the end of three quarters, the Cats narrowed the lead to 44-41.

The game was close until James Walls came to life and stole the ball and drove all the way for a score. With 3:43 remaining, the Pirates had taken a lead of 11 points on their way to their 14th victory.

Simmons finished the night with 17 points, and Frels had 16.

Rockport's JV did not play very well in Portland, and the score reflected that as they lost 57-42 to GP. In the important first quarter, the Pirates fell behind 17-9, and that margin could never be erased.

The slow start gave the Wildcats a running start in the game. Tim Redden hit for 11 points, and Zachary Green put in 11 markers. Only two other Pirates put points on the scoreboard.

Also at GP, the Freshmen from Rockport took it on the chin in a 52-26 loss. Three Pirates — Jeffrey Dickerson, Bobby Dingenary and Dwayne Walls — were the leading point makers, but they managed only six each.

The real difference came in the first period when Eddie Bechtol's two buckets were all of the scoring for the Pirates as they fell behind 19-4. From that point on, the game was out of reach.

GET THAT BALL!

Prune Trees, Shrubs Properly

A long-handled pole pruner or saw is necessary for cutting higher branches.

I recommend making cuts flush with the trunk since stubs do not heal properly. As years pass stubs decay and the deterioration spreads down the trunk until the tree falls over.

Seal cuts more than two inches in diameter with a pruning paint sealer. The sealer will dry hard and protect the wound from insect and disease invasion and moisture loss.

As important as seasonal pruning is, it's even more important to prune only when needed. Prune and repair damaged plants as soon as possible.

And always prune after transplanting, particularly with balled and bare rooted plants. Pruning will compensate for roots the plant lost in the digging.

Pruning is perhaps the least understood and most absurd of all the many chores a gardener may tackle. When pruning, have a purpose in mind and do the job right.

Vet Attends Brucellosis Conference

Dr. Charles Crusier of Rockport Veterinary Clinic has returned from a two-day brucellosis seminar in Austin and is now certified to work with livestock producers in accordance with the fee-base regulations of the Texas brucellosis program.

The seminar was co-sponsored by the Texas Animal Health Commission, Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Veterinary Medical Association.

Brucellosis is a highly contagious disease of livestock that centers in the reproductive organs and causes abortions, weakens calves, loss of milk and sterility in cattle.

Revised regulations for combating brucellosis in Texas have been in effect since July. Elements of the Texas program include a multi-area plan, reduced dose of Strain 19 vaccine, improved laboratory systems, increased surveillance, producer participation committees and emphasis on prevention.

The program was taught to veterinarians during the recent two-day short course.

"Veterinarians such as Dr. Crusier are now quite knowledgeable about the Texas brucellosis program and are qualified to assist livestock producers with this disease," said Dr. Frank Mann, TVMA president, of Wharton.

Says Bob Bullock

Decontrol On Crude Oil May Mean More State Revenue

AUSTIN — State Comptroller Bob Bullock Wednesday said President Reagan's early decontrol of crude oil prices could mean up to $150 million more in state tax revenue this year.

Bullock said Reagan's decision to speed up the decontrol of crude oil prices instead of waiting until October 1, to allow existing law to take off controls, will immediately hike up the price of domestic oil.

The state collects a 4.6 percent tax on the market value of oil produced in the state and Bullock said the crude oil production tax will produce about $3.1 billion in revenue during the state's 1982-82 budget period.

Bullock estimated that most of the money the state will earn from early decontrol will be taken in this fiscal year and that amount will push up the state's $568 million surplus by whatever is collected before August 31.

He said he would not formally revise his revenue estimate to the Legislature until more precise data becomes available.

Federal decontrols of propane and gasoline will not earn the state extra income, Bullock said. He added that the easing of controls on these petroleum products is likely to be met with consumer resistance because prices can be expected to go up.

If Texans use fewer gallons of gasoline or propane, the state will collect less in taxes on these products, he said.

He said the decontrol impact on propane and gasoline would probably be minimal.

FLU ALERT

On Feb. 19, 1979, the Center for Disease Control alerted all state health departments and the World Health Organization to watch for flu virus that might be related to the virus that caused the great flu pandemic in 1918-19.

Gregory-Portland Sinks Lady Pirates

By Bob Crawford

If you add up six plus six plus two, the total is 14, and that is the total of points the Lady Pirates scored through the first three quarters of the game with Gregory-Portland Tuesday night in the 52-27 loss for the Pirates.

The Lady Pirates were unable to get the ball down the court to set up a good shot, and the girls from GP kept pouring the pressure on.

Finally, in the fourth period, Sundi Price bombed the nets for 10 of her 12 points for the night.

Rockport had fallen behind early, and because of the poor scoring, they were never in the game.

The JV team won their 12th game in a 33-30 win over the Wildcats. In that game, the Lady Pirates started off with a quick lead and led 12-4 after a quarter.

The Wildcats came back and tied the score at the half 20-20. Then the Lady Pirates, behind the 20 point performance of Diana Herman, managed to pull away at the end of the game by three points.

GP downed the Freshmen girls 37-18. Laurie Coggins was the leading scorer with eight points, as the Wild Kittens stopped the leading scorers for the Pirates, Lee Anna Cassel and Mona Cowen, who combined for a total of nine points.

The Freshmen were never in the game and were buried in the first quarter 16-2.

Lady Bucs End Season

In the final game of the season, the Rockport-Fulton Junior High School seventh grade Lady Bucs fell to Callallen 43-8 in Callallen on Thursday, January 29.

The defeat closed the seventh grade Ladies' regular season with a 3-8 record — which put them in fifth place as they went to the District tournament in Robstown Thursday, February 5.

Rogena Gatlin was high scorer for the January 29 game, putting four points on the board in the game with Callallen.

Michell Dingenary scored two points during the game and Denise Moore and Kim Meyer added one point each.

Guidelines Change For Lunch Program

Recent federal legislation has changed income eligibility standards for schools participating in the National School Lunch and Breakfast programs — including the Aransas County

Independent School District. The new Income Poverty Guidelines also remove the hardship provisions previously allowed and place a standard deduction into the new scale, officials have announced.

The Income Poverty Guidelines are used to determine if a child is eligible for free or reduced-price meals under the national lunch and breakfast programs.

All applications which are now approved by the local school district will be reviewed and eligibility determined under the new guidelines which are effective January 1 through September 30, 1981.

Any family whose eligibility status has changed under the new guidelines will be notified by mail, officials said.

The reduced price will continue to be 10 cents per meal for breakfasts and 20 cents per meal for lunches.

Fulton Fishing Pier Awaits Corps Of Engineers Approval

Construction of Fulton's 1,000-foot public fishing pier is awaiting approval by the Army Corps of Engineers. Mayor L.E. Casterline said Thursday morning.

However, he added, "everything is going according to plan" on the pier, funds for which were awarded through the Coastal Energy Impact program.

Fulton received a $217,000 grant through the program to construct the 1000-foot-long pier which will extend from Navigation District property out to Thompson's Reef.

The City of Fulton has already secured a lease from the Navigation District for the pier site. The city's engineering firm for the project, Ogletree, Gunn & Associates of Corpus Christi, have drawn up preliminary plans.

The pier will end in a T-head and will be covered and lighted.

The City of Rockport and the Aransas County Navigation District also received grants last year from the Coastal Energy Impact Program — which is a 100 percent federal funding program.

Rockport received $40,000 to purchase 5.85 acres of additional park land for the city. The Navigation District was awarded $200,000 for restroom facilities and beach improvements at Rockport Beach.

The War of 1812 was Britain formally ended Feb. 17, 1815.

SHOOTING

Craigmile said the incident, which began about 4 p.m., was still under investigation Thursday evening but that "a lot of people" appeared to be involved.

Craigmile said it appeared to be "some kind of vendetta."

The incident apparently started on Rockport Beach but the shooting occurred at a residence on Bay Street.

As of the Pilot's press time Thursday night, police had not made any arrests and were still trying to determine the identity of the person who shot Zamudio.

HARBOR

provide for needed harbor improvements. "There is no way we can improve the harbor without more money," Dominguez said.

Commissioners agreed not to take any action on the matter Wednesday night but to give more study to the matter.

Also tabled until a later time was the review of Coastal Properties' lease in Cove Harbor. The lease will expire in October, 1981.

Several members of the Aransas County Recreational Planning Association were present at Wednesday's meeting to ask that the District apply for a matching fund grant through the federal land/water conservation fund to help pay for recreational facilities on Rockport Beach.

Following discussion, commissioners agreed to submit an application for $100,000 in matching funds, with the remaining $100,000 in funds to come from local sources, primarily donations from the private sector. However, under a motion by Commissioner Dominguez, the application was to be signed only if approved following Friday's special meeting of the Navigation District.

Phase I improvements to Rockport Beach, including dredging, restroom facilities and beach restoration, are to be funded through a $200,000 grant from the Coastal Energy Impact Program. Under this grant, the federal government pays 100 percent of the costs.

However, this program was written out of the federal budget effective this year.

In other action Wednesday night, Navigation District commissioners agreed to extend the current slip/stall rental rates for another year, until February 28, 1982, and approved renewal of insurance for the Shell Shoppe.

Commissioner Dominguez reported on his meeting with Shoreline Dredging. Dominguez said the company agreed to dredge the entrance channel to Rockport — with the spoil to go on Rockport Beach — for $82,000.
